Illness Of Fall Threatens To Halt Bribery Hearing

Abrupt Ending Of Albert Fall Trial Being Threatened

Precarious Health Of Aged Defendant Appears To Be Failing As Argument In Bribery Hearing Starts

Ask Shorter Hours

Former Secretary Of The Interior Is Accompanied By El Paso Physician In Washington Courtroom

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Abrupt ending of Albert B. Fall's trial on bribery charges is being threatened by his precarious health.

During opening arguments in the case arising from the notorious Elk Mills, Calif., oil lease, he was excused from the courtroom today because of rising temperature, increased pulse and coughing of blood. The former interior secretary who is 68 years old, and suffered a bronchial attack last week, was helped home by his family and the trial continued under agreement of counsel.

Testimony Started

Testimony was begun intending to show that he accepted a $100,000 bribe from Edward L. Doheny, for the oil lease. Owen J. Roberts, government prosecutor, obtained a favorable ruling for introduction of evidence hearing on the Fall-Sinclair Teapot Dome scandal. He said he did not expect to go into that phase "until just before we reach the end of the trial."

"I do not expect that we will reach the end of the trial," commented Justice Hills.

Ask Shorter Sessions

Dr. H. T. Stafford of El Paso, Texas, asked today that the hours of court tomorrow be made shorter and counsel for both sides expressed the opinion that the former cabinet officer would not be able to continue the trial more than a few days at the best. Fall has insisted that he would go through with the trial.

Warlick Is Named Athletic Manager

Former Lubbock County Commissioner Will Be In Charge Of Finances For Tech College Athletics

The Texas Tech athletic council, in a meeting held last night, appointed Marvin T. Warlick as business manager of athletics. Warlick was formerly county commissioner of Lubbock county and supervisor of the Tech buildings and grounds.

Effective at once, Warlick will have complete charge of handling all finances of Tech athletics, as well as being directly responsible for the maintenance and development of the Tech athletic field. He will have charge of all equipment and paraphernalia used in athletics.

Practically the sole support of the department of physical education at Texas Tech, which includes the intercollegiate athletics as its major division, depends upon receipts from various events. It will require full time and attention of one man to look after the details incident to the handling of crowds at all athletic events.

The sale of tickets, publicity and advertising in Lubbock and other towns of this section, will be handled from the office of the business manager of athletics, instead of from the office of the Tech business manager, whose time is otherwise fully occupied with his regular duties.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Oct. 8.—(AP)—D. W. Stevich, publisher of two papers here and one in Champagn, Illinois, was named defendant in an $10,000 breach of promise suit filed here today by Zetta Kirker of Hot Springs, Ark.

The plaintiff alleges in her suit that the defendant obtained her promise to marry and agreed to marry her and that he "craftily, subtly, deceitfully and maliciously deceived and defrauded" her. She alleges that she has discovered that he was a married man and that the discovery caused her "great mental anguish" and that she was "deprived of her reasonable expectations, money, value and worldly advantages."

Mystery Woman Hinted In Pantages Statutory Case

Defense Attempts To Combat Testimony Of State Witness

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Intimation of a mysterious woman in the case was made by the defense late today in the statutory trial of Alexander Pantages, theatrical manager, as it sought to break down the corroborative testimony of Frederick T. Wise, state witness.

W. L. Gordon, the first of the state's eye witnesses to the aftermath of the alleged attack by Pantages on Eunice Pringle, 17 year old co-ed dancer, brought the unidentified woman into the case during his testimony.

Thought In Office She was presumed to have been in the cubbyhole office, scene of the alleged assault, as Miss Pringle tried to flee and was asserted to have made an effort to hold the girl captive.

During an attack on Wise's mental state in which it was shown that he once was a psychopathic ward patient, the defense inquired: "Did you see this woman?" "Yes," Ward answered.

"Can you describe her?" "About 25 to 28 years old. She was about five feet five. She had dark curly hair and wore no hat."

"You are positive then that there was some one else besides a man and woman (Pantages and Miss Pringle) there?" "There was Pantages, Miss Pringle, Gordon and another lady."

"Well, Miss Pringle started to get by."

Damage Suit Will Go To Jury Today

The case of Mrs. Will H. Lamb versus Red Star Coaches in which the plaintiff seeks $20,000 for alleged damages, trial of which opened Monday afternoon in 99th district court, probably will go to the jury at noon today.

The defendant still is introducing testimony which is expected to be concluded early this morning. Following this charge of the court will be given and arguments of attorneys started.

In the suit Mrs. Lamb of Lamesa alleges that she sustained injuries when a bus of the Red Star Coaches ran into a ditch between Big Spring and Lamesa, December 10, 1928.

Nowatny Is Freed Of Murder Charge In Hempstead Case

Former Fort Bend County Commissioner Found Not Guilty Of Murder After Killing Farmer

Tells Of Shooting

Explanation Of Defendant That He Shot In Defense Of His Own Life Accepted By Jurors

(By Associated Press) HEMPSTEAD, Oct. 8.—Accepting explanation of Emil Nowatny that he killed William Hockstedt, farmer, in defense of his own life, a jury today acquitted the former Fort Bend county commissioner of a charge of murder.

As the verdict was announced, Nowatny for a moment held a handkerchief over his eyes. He got up then and thanked every juror.

Nowatny shot Hockstedt to death in front of a store at Needville, Texas, it was said, had been active against Nowatny's son Herbert, 23, in the youth's race for a post on the county commission.

Describes Shooting. The high point of Nowatny's defense was his description of the shooting.

"After you shot twice and he then ran out of the store, what did Hockstedt say to you, if anything?" a prosecutor asked.

"He ran up to me and said 'damn it, I'm going to die with my shoes on.'"

"At that time did you know you had fatally shot him?" "I did not."

"Did you make any offer to shoot him again?" "Why did you pull your gun?" "I thought when he stepped back he was going to kill me."

Witnesses Oppose Rate Elimination

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Railroads fighting the proposal of the Texas Industrial Traffic League for the elimination of freight rate differentials in West and South Texas, Tuesday called their first witness when J. A. Wietzel, auditor of the Uvalde and Northern railroad, an interstate line owned by E. T. Eldridge of Sugarland, testified that for several years the operations of that road had resulted in a deficit.

Wietzel was placed on the stand just before Tuesday's session, recessed after attorneys for the carriers asked for time to study statistics filed by J. W. McCullough of Houston, statistician employed by shippers' counsel, before cross-examining that witness.

McCullough followed U. S. Pawke, traffic manager of the freight bureau of the San Antonio chamber of commerce, intervenors in behalf of the abolition of the differential. The substance of Pawke's testimony was a story of the general development of the fruit and vegetable industry in South Texas, which he indicated is burdened by high freight rates.

Civil Court Move Made To Release Borger Prisoners

Habeas Corpus Proceedings Threaten To Gain Freedom Of Ones Held Without Hearing

(By Associated Press) BORGER, Oct. 8.—While District Attorney Clem Calhoun prepared to combat a move in the civil courts outside of the militarized zone, to gain freedom for prisoners held here without a hearing under the broad discretion of martial law, four groups of law enforcers continued to make arrests here today.

Word to remain in jail until the martial law zone said that attorneys had obtained habeas corpus hearings for seven prisoners held here indefinitely under General Order No. 6. This general order simply states that anyone so held is to remain in jail until the "entrenched criminal ring" which investigators charge exists here, is broken up. The hearing, set for Thursday, will offer an interesting test of the police power of officers under martial law. There seemed no doubt among lawyers that the edict which established martial law suspended civil law in the county. The effort to invoke the aid of courts outside of the area will offer a unique legal experience.

Face Pro Charges. Those who are applying for habeas corpus are Larry Dempsey, John Harkness, Louis Grim, Ed and John Ware, Carrie Dempsey and Lora Crim. All are charged with violation of the liquor laws. Texas rangers, federal agents, state highway department investigators and national guardsmen continued to pack the two available jails today. The rangers concentrated their efforts on locating wholesale bootleggers and made two arrests.

County Judge Robert H. Bean and W. L. Brashear returned yesterday afternoon from a trip to Austin where they were in conference Monday with Gil Gilchrist, state highway engineer.

"Our visit to Austin was for the purpose of discussing with Mr. Gilchrist the proposed road bond issue for Lubbock county of $1,025,000. Flames Can Be Seen For 40 Miles After Blast

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Visible for more than 40 miles, flames leaped high in the air tonight as the Sinclair Oil and Gas company's No. 3 Stamper well, ignited early today following an explosion at the well, continued to burn.

Mack and F. T. Kemley, oil well fire fighters from Tulsa, arrived in Oklahoma City early tonight and immediately began plans to extinguish the first disastrous fire in the new Oklahoma City oil field.

The well was balled in less than an hour before the fire, and was estimated at 100 barrels of oil an hour, with a pressure of between 40,000,000 and 50,000,000 feet of gas.

Rally In World Series Is Fatal

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The strain of a Cub ninth-inning rally which failed today proved fatal to Ralph A. Wertheim, worshipful master of the Hyde Park Masonic lodge. Several friends had gathered at his home to listen to the radio description of the first game of the World's series, and just before Tolson's strike-out to end the game Wertheim toppled from his chair.

He was dead when a physician arrived.

Record For Long Distance Flight Set By Frenchmen

Coste And Bellonte Soar Successfully Across Two Continents To Establish New World's Mark

(By Associated Press) TRISTAR, Manchuria Oct. 8.—With a new world's record for long distance non-stop flights safely made across two continents, Deudonne Le Coste and Maurice Bellonte explained today that only terrific gales and snowstorms in the region of Lake Baikal, Siberia, prevented their reaching Tokyo from Paris.

The brilliant French skydiver declared the snowstorms nearly made their flight end in disaster. They lost their way in the blinding snowfall, which also interfered with the proper functioning of their motor.

"During the worst of the storm, I believe that human life would be practically intolerable, in this rapid age of ours, without the physician. In fact, I believe the physician has made our intense age of living tolerable."

"I find the doctors peculiarly conscientious in their work. They see DOCTORS' MEET, Page 11"

Ehmke's Pitching Proves Too Much For Chicago Cubs

Angular Right Hander Sets World Series Strike-Out Record By Fanning 13 In Twirling Masterpiece

Attendance 50,740 National League Champions Defeated By Score Of 3 To 1 In Sensational Game At Wrigley Field

BY ALAN J. GOULD Associated Press Sports Editor. WIRGLY FIELD, CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—(AP)—With a twirling masterpiece that astonished the baseball world in general and the Chicago Cubs in particular, Howard Ehmke, long, lean right-hander, slow balled the Philadelphia Athletics to victory over the National League champions today, 3 to 1, in the opening game of the World's series.

At the age of 35, when he was supposed to be well on the downward path and a second string man at best in the A's cast of stars, Ehmke baffled the battling Bruins, justified the unexpected faith of the veteran Connie Mack and brought his triumph to a climax by smashing the World's series records for strike-outs.

Fans Finch Hitter. When the towering, angular Ehmke, in an exciting ninth inning finish, fanned pinch hitter Charley Tolson for the third out with two men on base, he choked off the last of those Cubs thrashers, dramatic fashion with his thirteenth strikeout victim of the game.

This surpassed the former World's series record of 13 strike outs, made in 1906 by Big Ed Walsh, the famous White Sox iron man who also had the Cubs as victims on that occasion.

Demo Leaders Are Given Support In Tariff Bill Row

Possibility Of Dictating Entire Measure With Aid Of Republican Independents Looms In Senate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—Hopes of leaders of the democratic and independent republican groups to dictate the entire tariff bill had fresh support today as debate approached on the crucial rate schedules.

Continuance of the coalition's power — three times victorious in contests with the administration — was seen by its leaders in certain instances to resort to an estimated value in levying ad valorem rates.

Consider Changes. Regular republican leaders insisted, however, that the vote on this issue, 44-37, did not sustain the claim that the coalition would hold intact through consideration of the numerous changes proposed in the bill, expected to start tomorrow or Thursday.

Confronting the last of the amendments proposed to the administrative clauses of the bill, the senate today turned to the republican proposal to give labor as well as manufacturers and importers representation in customs litigation.

A move to prevent nullification of the coalition's victory over the administration in taking the flexible tariff powers away from the president, meanwhile, has been initiated by Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee.

Group Confident. His proposal is that the senate itself, instead of the vice-president, designate the chamber's committee, when the time comes, to confer on differences in the measure with representatives of the house, which voted to continue the flexible tariff policy favored by the president.

Confident the group will hold power at that time, the Tennessee believes it could put an independent republican on the senate conference committee in place of a regular republican who under long precedent would be appointed.

4-H Club Boys To Visit State Fair

Four Lubbock county 4-H club boys have been named as representatives from this section and will leave here next Monday for Dallas where they will unite with other club boys in an encampment to be held in that city October 15-17, during the Texas state fair.

Perry Lee Adams, who lives four miles east of Lubbock; Lawrence Sides of Canyon community; Glen Wages of Grovesville, and Hugh Pettit of the County Line club, are those who will represent the county.

This quartet of boys has been selected because of outstanding work during the last year, and by virtue of quality of their exhibits during the Panhandle South Plains fair, said D. P. Eason, Lubbock county agricultural agent. Their expenses to the encampment will be financed by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and the fair association.

Affairs Of Weird Cult Probed

Finding Of Body Of Sixteen-Year-Old Girl Buried In Home Starts Investigation Into Strange Order

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8. (AP)—Weird affairs involving "The Divine Order of the Royal Arm of the Great Seal," which came to light with the finding of the body of 16-year-old Willie Rhoads buried at the home of her foster parents here, were further complicated today by civil suits against members of the cult filed by Clifford R. Dabney, oil operator.

The filing of five suits against Mrs. May Otis Blackburn and other members of the cult, seeking the return of $44,000, as well as an oil lease and 164 acres of Ventura county land, was disclosed yesterday while police investigated the death of the Rhoads girl and ran down reports many members of the religious order had disappeared.

Followers Named. Officers said several followers of the cult who had been named as among the missing had been located. Criminal charges of the bezzlement, sworn to by Dabney and Mrs. Nellie R. Banks of Indianapolis, previously caused the arrest of Mrs. Blackburn and her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Welland Rizzo, priestesses of the organization.

Dabney stated he and other cult members advanced money to Mrs. Blackburn pending completion of her book, "The Sixth Seal," which was to reveal, by use of "the lost measurements," mineral wealth beneath the earth's surface.

Guard Placed. Police placed a guard at the home of Dabney as a result of death threats reported received by him.

The body of Willie Rhoads was held by the county chemist pending an examination to determine the cause of death. Her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Rhoads, said the girl died in 1923 of diphtheria. Tests to determine the cause of death of seven dogs buried beside the girl also are being made.

Fire Prevention Discussed At Weekly Luncheon Here Tuesday; Fire Loss For Year Pictured Small

Mayor Harley D. Woods and Fire Chief W. E. Twitty were the principal speakers on the regular weekly luncheon program of the Lubbock Lions club Tuesday, making talks on fire prevention.

Mayor Woods declared that the entire nation was cooperating in the work of spreading information on fire prevention this week and told of fire loss in the United States for this year, up to now being more, by several million dollars, than for the year of 1928.

Fire Loss Small. "Lubbock, this year," the mayor said, "is particularly fortunate, as we have had only about $22,000 total fire loss, with a taxable valuation of approximately $22,000,000. Too much tribute cannot be paid to our city fire marshal, our fire department and its personnel."

"Every person helps to pay all fire insurance," declared Chief Twitty. "Fire loss in the United States runs $4.76 per capita each year, while in European countries the loss per capita is from 17 cents to $1.35. More than $500,000,000 was lost in this country by fire last year, of which $20,000,000 was in Texas. There were 10,000 lives lost because of fires last year. In this country, 300 of them being in Texas."

Conley In Charge. O. B. Conley was in charge of the program.

Two new members were taken into the club, Roy Riddle, formerly of Aspermont, cashier of the First National bank, and Sam H. Reed, organist for the Lindsey Theatre Enterprises.

Reorganization Period Indicated

BY FRANCES CLYNE
Fashion Writer for Central Press.

A fascinating period is before us—a period of reorganization in everything that makes for feminine attire. The fall and winter season of 1929-1930 has brought to the fore a new silhouette, less boyish than for almost two years, a silhouette that is based on feminine elegance and charm.

In keeping with this trend in dresses, wraps and evening attire, the modern hat takes into itself new lines, and is expressed in materials of many different characters.

Of one thing is certain. The all serviceable felt hat, while still a part of every woman's wardrobe, cannot be worn indiscriminately. It will not serve for dress and sports wear alike. The woman who plays a round of golf or tennis in the morning, must replace her sport-felt for a dressier model if she is to have afternoon tea in town. Reversible chambray felt, or soiled cut and finished along dressy lines are very popular, and many of the finer felt hats are finished with a soft velvet draping.

The fabric that is very much in demand this autumn. Velvet and soft broadcloth, to match the frock or ensemble, are executed in many fascinating ways. Whether the hat be of the turban or bonnet variety, the trend is to have the costume, with a lifted feeling in front and a flowing, downward line in back.

It is not smart to have the hat shade the eyes this season, as it has done for so many years, but to reveal the eyes, brows—and even part of the forehead. Crowns are quite shallow, but must fit the head; furthermore, they allow for a good deal of workmanship and detail. Brims are soft, offering a flattering line to the contour.

Two types of semi-dress hats are shown in the accompanying sketch. The one to the left is a black silk velvet hat, bonnet-like in shape, with a trimming of ermine tails to match the costume it accompanies. The other hat, of the draped turban variety, is of brown silk. This is worn with a dressy brown ensemble.

The velvet ribbon turban and close fitted evening caps of colored velvet hats are finished with a soft velvet draping. The fabric that is very much in demand this autumn. Velvet and soft broadcloth, to match the frock or ensemble, are executed in many fascinating ways.

Secrets Of Real Magic Of Cooking To Be Revealed By Mrs. Myra Oliver Dougan At Annual Cooking School

Famous Culinary Expert To Explain How Methods Of Seasoning Have Changed With Modern Times

Scattered through the recipes of grandmother's time were those little directions like a 'dash of salt' or a 'sprinkle of pepper.'

A "dash" too much from a loose shaker and that delicious flavor secured by our housewife is lost entirely by another.

The modern housewife, not wishing to trust to luck, measures the ingredients for her dishes with the precision of a chemist. In her cupboard there's a group of clinking spoons by which she measures a teaspoon of this and a fourth of a teaspoon of that, never having to worry about whether the flavor of her speciality was to be ruined by too much or too little seasoning.

In this essential field of culinary arts, Mrs. Myra Oliver Dougan, whose research work in cookery has made her nationally famous, is an outstanding figure. With the appearance of Mrs. Dougan in Lubbock from October 21 to 23, during which time she will conduct the Lubbock Avantage-Journal cooking school at Uptown Dance Palace, many housewives will find a solution of minor problems that have been bothering them.

A mere peep into the secret of cooking in the various climes, reveals that seasonings vary with nationalities, with each contributing its share of savory dishes. The lowly garlic, so long identified with the Italians, can add much to the delicious taste of a dish when used with the greatest discretion. The housewife today is starting nothing new with her use of that seasoning for some enterprising advocate of the seasoning has brought to light that in 450 B. C. If you should lift the body of every car in Buick's field — and compare the chassis — then you too would choose

The New BUICK

If you were to lift the body from the chassis of any one of a hundred cars—and compare the vitally important details of chassis design and construction—you would find Buick so outstandingly superior in all phases of fine car engineering that you would almost inevitably make Buick your choice. Here is what you would see in this famous chassis:

- Lojroy Duralumin Shock Absorbers—front and rear. Combining to check both bound and rebound, and providing a degree of riding ease without parallel anywhere.
- And, finally, such established Buick superiorities as the famous double-drop frame of toughest steel... the massive side and cross members reinforced at points of stress to insure greatest long life... the celebrated torque tube drive, Buick multiple-disc clutch, self-lubricating differential, and numerous other features.

When the list of Buick's chassis features—entirely aside from the irresistible appeal of Buick's new Fisher Bodies—reads like a roll-call of all that is soundest and best in fine car engineering... and when, in addition, you can buy a Buick for as little as $1225, f.o.b. factory... what wonder that all comparisons lead to Buick! What wonder that more than 2,000,000 people have invested their money in Buicks—and that from two to five times as many are purchasing this new Buick as any other automobile priced above $1200!

Chicago's Big Guns Silenced By Ehmke's Slow Teasers

Colorful Opening Day Crowd Sees National League Champs Bow Before Masterful Hurling Of Veteran Star

Jimmy Foxx Gives A's Lead In Seventh With Homer Into Bleachers; Two Errors By English Contribute To Ninth Inning Splurge

Ehmke, hit hard in the side by a line drive from Mack Wilson's bat, had fallen to the ground, seemingly hurt at a moment when he had victory and the record in his grasp. There was a dramatic pause until he was pumped up, and a hurried substitution, before resumed pitching. His hopes of a shutout were blasted when the Cubs scored their only run on a two-base wild throw by Dykes on Cuyler's grounder, and a single by Stephenson, but the tall moundman finished the game in a blaze of glory.

A colorful opening day crowd of 30,749 fans, who contributed to a near-record "gate" of $219,738, saw Ehmke's slow curves turn back their favorites and beat the best that Charley Root, leading flinger of the National League, had to offer. For six innings Root easily held his own in a scoreless duel, but he retired in the seventh for a pinch hitter, after yielding a home run to Jimmy Foxx, young first sacker of the Athletics. This mighty drive into the center field bleachers, started the downfall of the Cubs, but the blushing blow of the game was a rousing single to center by Elwood English, young Cub shortstop, had contributed two successive errors to the final splurge of the A's at bat.

Triumph For Ehmke.
Otherwise the game was all a triumph for the towering Ehmke, who celebrated his debut in World's series competition in his thirteenth major league season with one of the finest pitching performances on record. The Cubs were game. They fought hard and they thrashed out on three separate occasions to break through the barrier of slow curves, fasters and a change of side-arm pace but except in the ninth, when they had a three-run disadvantage to overcome, they failed to show anything like a punch in the pinch.

The biggest guns in the attack, Rogers Hornsby and Hack Wilson, were spiked more effectively than any others. Twice these two sluggers were fanned in succession by Ehmke's tantalizing delivery, once in the third inning with runners on second and third, again in the sixth, when the A's star retired the whole Cub side on strikes. These three victims made it five in a row for Ehmke, at the time. All he needed was one more to tie Hod Eller's record of six, made against the White Sox in 1912, but the next batter, Riggs Stephenson, singled.

This seventh inning marked the second of Ehmke's great stands in which he pulled himself out, each time by the strike-out route. The A's had gathered their first run on Foxx's home pucker in the sixth before Ehmke was in a bad hole when Hornsby's sacrifice put Cuyler on third and Stephenson on second.

From the dugout reinforcements were rushed up by General Joe McCarthy, Cliff Heathcote batter for catcher Zack Taylor, but Simmons grabbed his short fly to left on the run and kept the fleet Cuyler from an attempt to score. Gaby Hartnett, the big catcher who has been out with a bad arm all season, batted for Root but he joined the rapidly growing list of Ehmke's strike out victims.

Root, who had twirled masterful ball himself, yielded only three safe hits in seven innings before giving way to Bush. Outside of the second, when they bunched two singles to no avail, and Foxx's homer, the A's were themselves far from potent at bat. Root had splendid control and fine support, but his successor, Guy Bush, was treated harshly by his own defense as well as the A's bats in the ninth. Mickey Cochrane shot a single through Hornsby to start the ninth, then English booted Simmons on his grounder in his haste to start a double play. The short stop's nerves were still upset and after grabbing Foxx's rap he juggled the ball so long that all runners were safe and the bases full. Miller brought Cochrane and Simmons across with a drive to center but Bush personally checked further threats by grabbing two short bouncers by Dykes and Boley for put-outs at the plate.

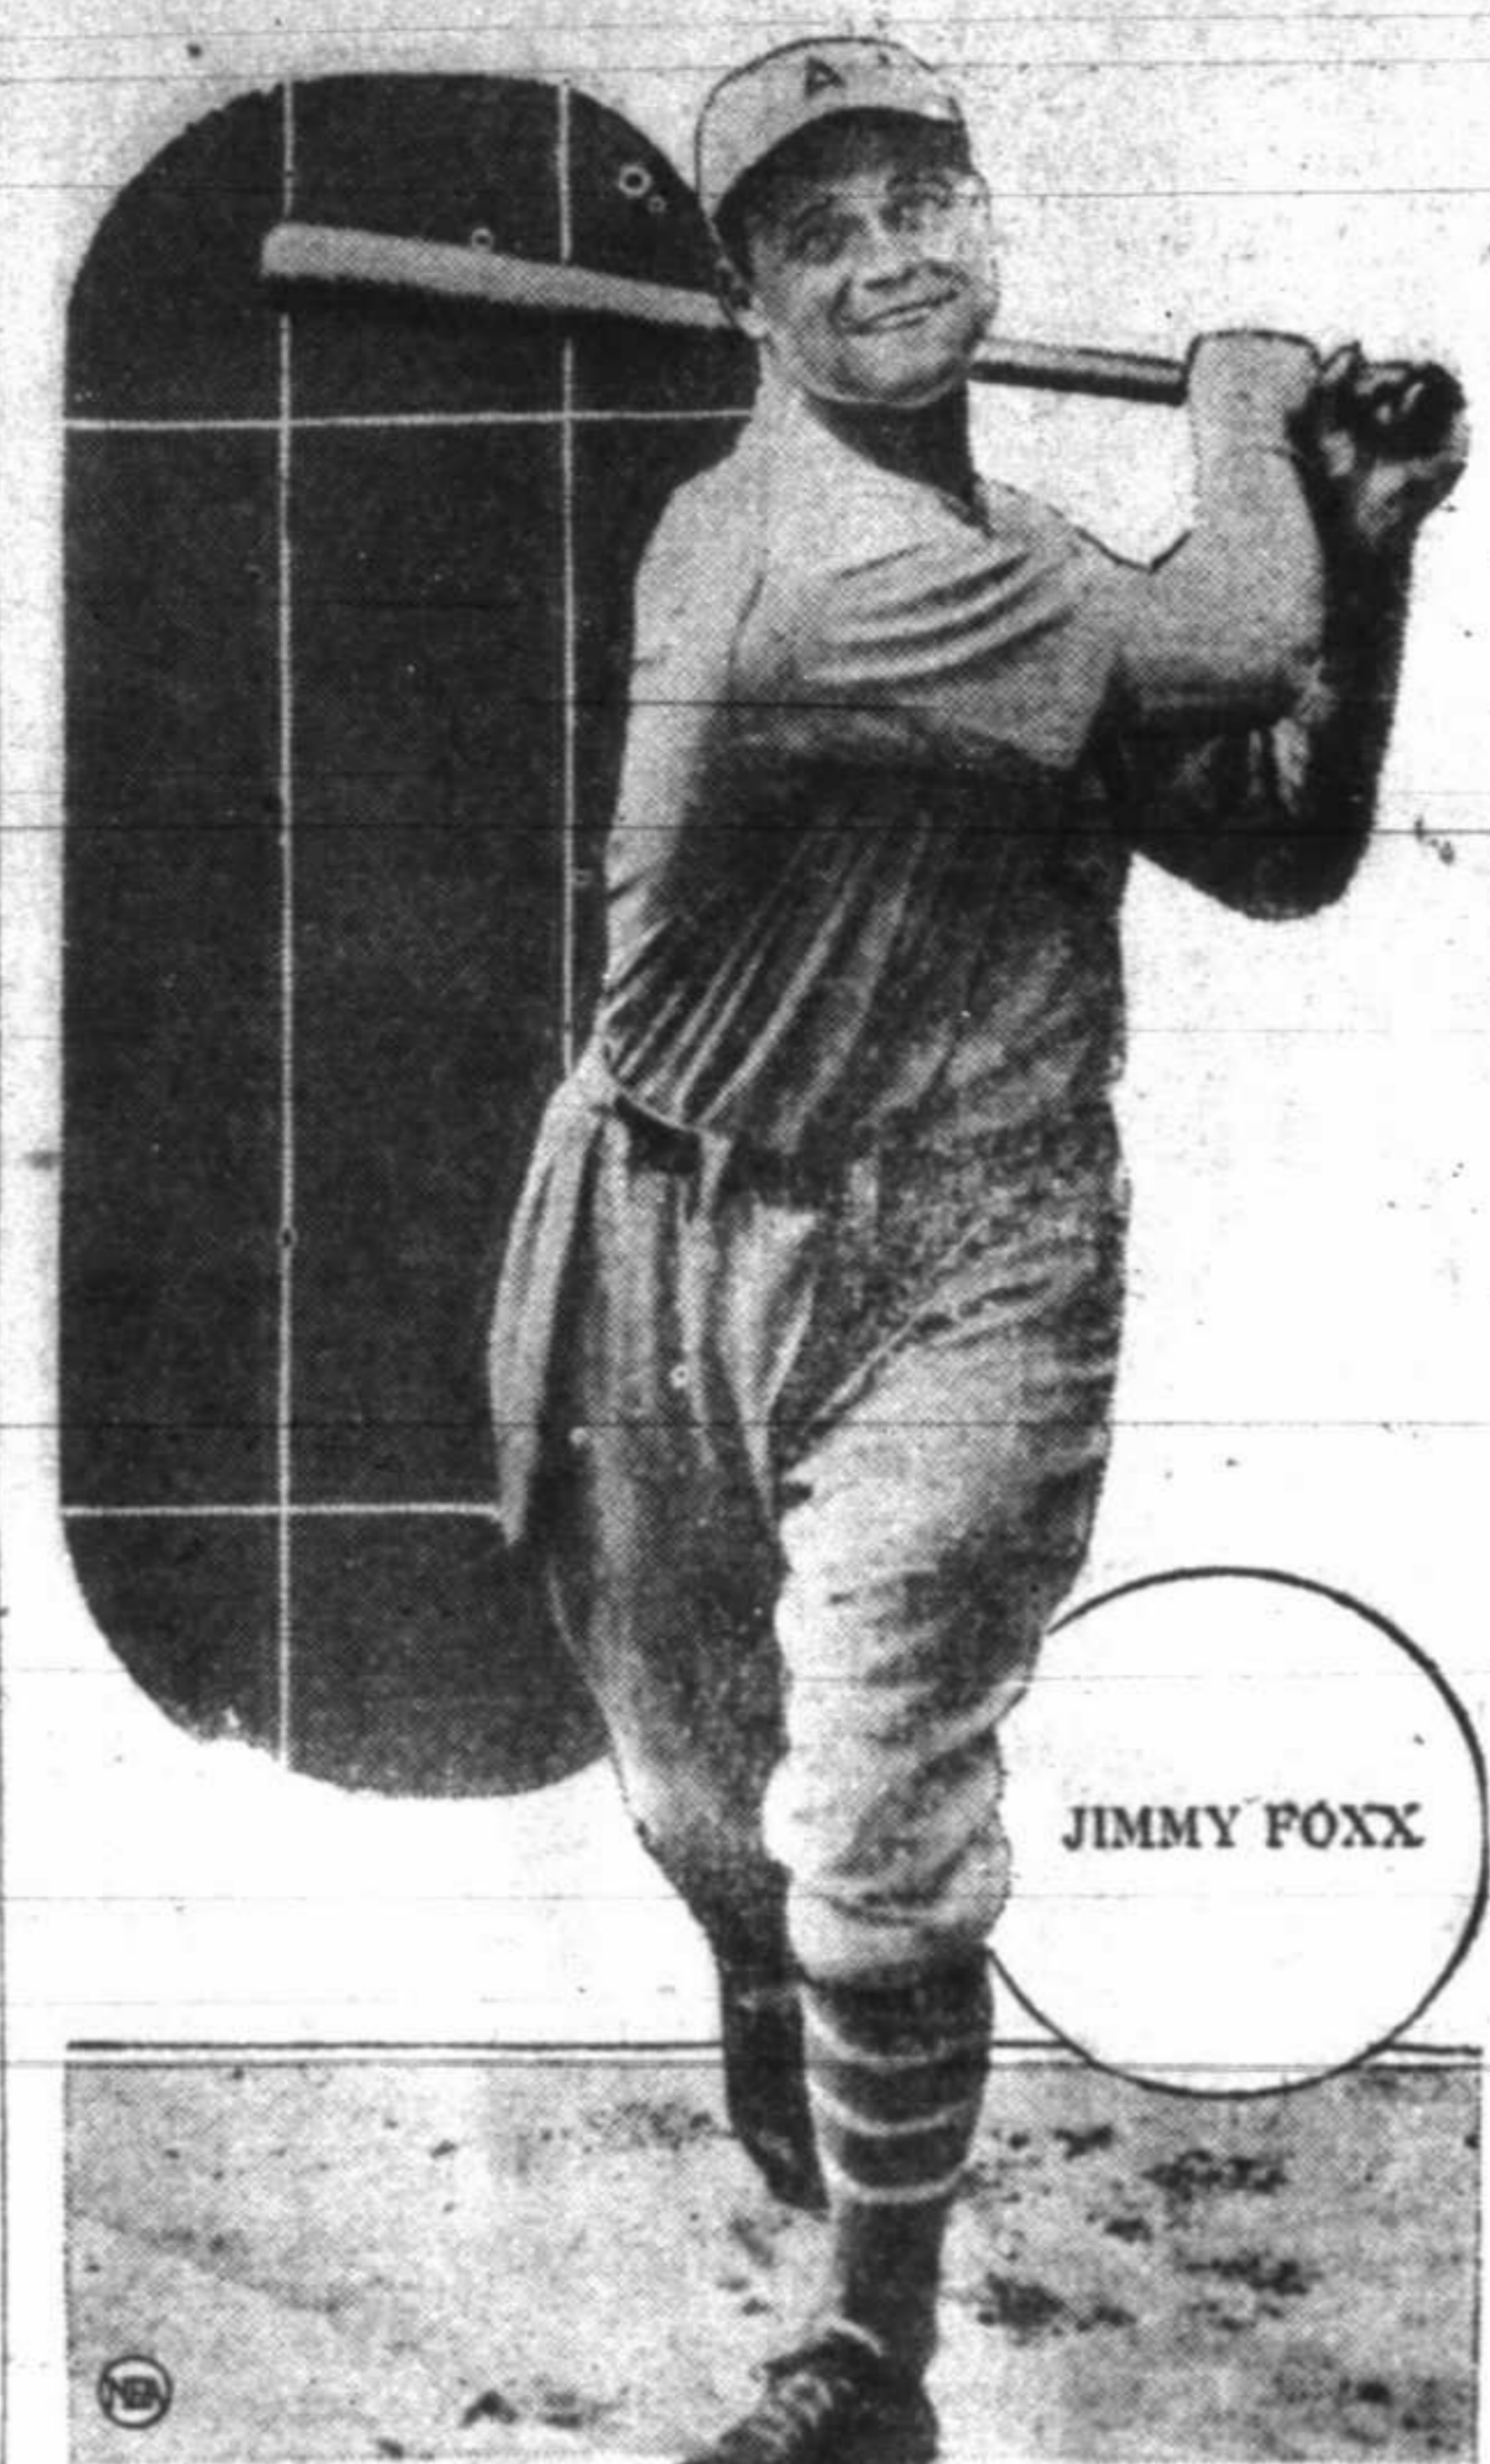

The Cub attack finally broke through in its last chance after Wilson had laid Ehmke low temporarily at the start of the ninth. The A's pitcher tossed out Hack at first but Jimmy Dykes then uncorked a wild throw on Cuyler's grounder, the ball sailing into the Philadelphia dugout. Kiki went to second under the ground rules and scored on Stephenson's single to center. The crowd was in an uproar when Grimm followed with a safe blow to right, but Dykes took pinch-hitter Blair's rap to force Grimm at second, as Stephenson went to third, and Tolson, pinch hitting for Bush, struck out.

It was a great victory for Connie Mack and his strategy in selecting Ehmke, instead of one of his more famous pitchers, such as George Earnshaw or Lefty Grove. Ehmke demonstrated so conclusively that the Cubs have no fondness whatever for low balls and a puzzling change of pace that it would not surprise the experts if old Jack Quinn drew the assignment for the second game tomorrow.

The Athletics gave Ehmke fine support. Dykes offset his last inning error by the most spectacular play of the game in the fourth inning, when he dove and appeared a

Ehmke Most Surprised At Choice

Veteran Hurler Enters Wrigley Field Dejectedly And Strides Out A Hero; Football Weather Prevails

By PAUL MICKELSON, Associated Press Sports Writer
WRIGLEY FIELD, CHICAGO, Oct. 8. (AP)—Howard Ehmke entered Wrigley Field dejectedly today and strode out a hero.

Of all the hurlers on Connie Mack's staff, howie was the most surprised when the tall Athletic straggler chose him to hurl the world series opener. Moose "Lefty" Wrigley gazed intently at Mack as he dugout, making up his mind, expecting himself to be selected. Ehmke was dejected as he thought another world series chance was to pass him by.

"Ehmke, you will pitch," Connie said, hesitatingly, "and Walberg I want you to warm up and keep warm."

Ehmke jumped out of the dugout, apparently worried his manager would change his mind, warmed up and then stalked the haughty Cubs with his fading, slow ball. As he left, the crowd gave him a tumultuous ovation.

Packed to its rafters, Wrigley Field resembled a typical football stadium with a typical football crowd and typical football "weather"—breezy and chilly. The extended bleachers holding 8,000 were packed six hours before game time. Those who were not lucky enough to wedge into them paid three dollars for the right to stand up behind the grand stand seats. Residents in homes about the park, who were unable to see the field from their windows because of the bleacher extension packed the roofs and had a good view, anyway. Scores of boys saw the game from tree tops. Seven hundred police and 371 ushers handled the crowd without a hitch.

The great and near great were on hand. Several governors, screen and stage actresses, baseball magnates from major and minor leagues watched the game. Babe Ruth was on the scene looking young and healthy in a dark brown suit. Ty Cobb was in the press box, along with George Von Elm, the golfer, and Cy Young, the old pitcher.

Nick Altock and Al Schacht, baseball's comedians, strutted their specialties. They are understood to receive $2,000 each for their foolishness during the series.

Spectacular catches by Jimmy Dykes, Al Simmons and Hack Wilson were cheered alike by Cub and Athletic fans, while Ehmke received a college cheer of "E-H-M-K-E" when he faced Wilson and Cuyler to churn the air and when he finished by whiffing "Blitz" Tolson in the ninth inning.

The most photographed player of the day was Al Simmons. Hack Wilson was runner up. Scores of cameras flashed before the game, and Simmons didn't like it.

Tom Shibe, president of the Athletics and Mrs. Shibe sat behind the A's dugout and cheered lustily. Owner William Wrigley of the Cubs sat near the brand dugout. He and Shibe shook hands before the clash. So did manager Joe McCarthy and Connie Mack, in the A's dugout.

Bing Miller yelled a request to Owner Wrigley for some gum, but the chewing gum magnate didn't have a stick with him, he admitted. Bing also called Connie Mack's attention to the fact he didn't have a score card when he entered the dugout and Mack sent the bat boy after one hurriedly.

The first ball hurled in the first game was a strike, tossed by Charlie Root to Max Bishop. The last was a strike, a third, by "Blitz" Tolson. Mike Haas was the first strike out victim. Calif. Heathcote of the Cubs was the first pinch hitter.

Mack's Pitching Hero Not Among Club's Regulars

Howard Ehmke Made First Start Since July Tuesday In Turning Back Chicago Sluggers

CHICAGO, Oct. 8. (AP)—The first time in the memory of the oldest world's series fan, a pitcher not numbered among the regular season's workers triumphed today when Howard Ehmke beat the Cubs in record breaking style.

In fact it was his first start on the mound since July.

All season, while Earnshaw, Grove, Walberg, and Quinn composed the main twirling quartet of the Athletics, Ehmke warmed the bench or worked in the bullpen. He pitched only five times in 1928, for 56 innings, but showed a record of 7 victories and two defeats. He came within one strikeout today of equalling his total for the whole season, fanning 13 Cubs as against his season mark of only 14.

Born in Silver Creek, N. Y., 35 years ago last April, Ehmke began his professional baseball career with the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast League in 1914. He jumped to the Federal League with Buffalo in 1915 after being bought by Washington but returned to the American League with Detroit in 1916 and remained.

The lanky right hander, who is six feet three inches tall, spent six years with Detroit before he was traded in 1922 to Boston by Manager Ty Cobb, who sat in the press box today. Ehmke's record with the Red Sox was featured by a no hit no run game in September, 1923, against the club he pitched to victory to-day. It was three years later, in June, 1926, that he shifted to the Athletics. His best winning percentage in the big leagues was in 1919 when he won 17 and lost 10 games with Detroit. He has a 2-0 year mark of 166 victories and 163 defeats, barely over the 500 mark.

Match play was scheduled to start tomorrow in four flights of 32 players each. Gus Moreland, whose 77 placed high in the running today, is defending champion.

Tech Varsity Gridders Pile Up Six Touchdowns Against First Year Crew In Practice Session On College Grid

Crites, Woodridge, Waller And Brothers Perform In Impressive Style; Frosh Have Strong Line

An ambitious freshman aggregation tackled Tech's varsity gridders in scrimmage practice Tuesday afternoon and were given a dose of the medicine the Matadors hope to hand to the Hill Billies from Daniel Baker when the T. I. A. eleven comes here Saturday to battle the third game of the season.

A quartet of backfield reserves started the tussle with the Picadors and were held on even terms by the Ingerton huskies, but when Coach Higginbotham sent his first stringers into the lineup, the frosh began to give ground and a half-dozen touchdowns were scored.

Depending upon the speed of their backs, the Matadors looked the part of a powerful scoring machine yesterday, and gave indications that they will offset the poor showing made against the Sul Ross Lobos last week. Long runs by Woodridge and Crites featured the running attack staged by the varsity against the scrappy freshman crew. Brothers and Bergfelt also came in for their share of the honors in the backfield.

Brothers spearheaded a beautiful pass in the closing minutes of play and dodged through the entire freshman crew for a touchdown.

Coach Ingerton's first year crew displayed a strong forward wall that threw the Matadors back repeatedly on live plays, but the speedy varsity backs found their way around the flanks for long gains.

A large practice day crowd was on hand to see the Matadors and Picadors do their stuff.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, OCTOBER 6TH. TO 12TH.

Do Your Part - Help Prevent Fires - Be Careful

Fire Prevention is a subject that had its beginning with the progress of man. When man began to build, his first and most serious problem was that of how to prevent fire from destroying that which he had built. There is no problem of more importance to the American people at this time than the one which has been created by our extremely heavy fire loss.

Fire is a destroyer of life as well as of property, and is surpassed only by automobiles in the number of people killed each year. Fire is classed as a careless accident by some people. An accident is the result of doing something in the wrong way. The remedies for all kinds of accidents, including fire, have been aptly grouped under the three E's—engineering, education and enforcement, and the greatest of these is education.

On the Firing Line at the Nation's Capital

NEW JOURNAL DOESN'T HELP RIPT IN RANKS OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY
By CHARLES F. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

ASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The less said (in a family newspaper) the better, concerning the feelings of Chairman J. J. Shouse, of the Democratic national committee's executive sub-committee, toward a new publication known as The Challenge, which recently began making its appearance in Washington.

The challenge is a smallish journalistic product of only eight 12x18-inch pages, issued monthly (twice thus far), "but, as a symptom," to quote the St. Louis Post Dispatch, "it cannot be disregarded."

"We are not," the Post Dispatch continues to editorialize, "impressed with the tone of the paper"—however, "it seems to us to record psychological progress toward a conflict—and, viewed in that light, 'it is a portent.'"

Just so. The Challenge is not much of a monthly magazine—but if it had no more significance than its own inherent quality and general get-up indicate, it is likely that so big and far-away a daily as the St. Louis Post Dispatch would have noticed it—or ever, have heard of it?

The fact is, it is getting plenty of editorial mention—mostly uncomplimentary, to be sure—but, "not to be ignored," as President Albert Walmsey, of the National Publicity association, its publishers, expresses it, "is the main thing."

Briefly, The Challenge—dollar—was on all church influences in politics—especially Democratic politics. Indeed, Editor Walmsey, a vehement Al Smith Democrat, states frankly that he does not care a cent for any other party's.

Bearing in mind Editor Walmsey's three interlocking complexes—his anti-clerical complex, his Democratic complex and his Al Smith complex, bearing in mind also Chairman J. J. Shouse's one overwhelming complaint—the northern and southern, wet and dry, Al Smith and anti-Al Smith factions of the Democratic party—

Does it become apparent why Editor Walmsey's activities drive Chairman Shouse to the verge of language which would not look well in any family newspaper?

And, believe me, the anti-Al Smith Democrats are making the most of Editor Walmsey's utterances through The Challenge columns.

"What of it?" demands Editor Walmsey, beligerently.

"Last November the south gave a grudging three million votes to the Democratic ticket. The north gave an enthusiastic twelve million.

"Which group is best worth keeping?"

"Reunite them? Poo! As well try to mix oil and water."

"The Challenge's motto," continued the editor, "is undying hostility to intolerance in all its forms. We ask no quarter and we will give none."

"I oppose no man's religion."

"Though affiliated with no church or creed myself, I believe in the excellence of religious influences—outside politics."

"But church and state must be divorced absolutely."

"The Challenge never will attack a man for his religious faith, but it certainly will attack him if he attempts to make it political."

As folk may have heard, even at considerable distances, bitter strife is raging at present between rival Democratic elements in Virginia.

Chairman Shouse is working long hours as a would-be peacemaker.

How much good Editor Walmsey's ebullitions do him may be imagined. Some folk go so far as to say that Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the irreconcilable anti-Smith and anti-Raskob forces, furnished the editor with his inspiration, to keep the rift between the ranks wide open.

TROUBLED NERVES CAN HAVE BAD EFFECT ON STATE OF HEALTH
By DR. MORRIS FISHER

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Almost 10 years ago Professor W. B. Cannon of Harvard University published a book on bodily changes in love, hunger and rage, in which he emphasized the evidence that has been developed in various places indicating that emotions have definite effects on the physical actions of the body.

In 1896 it was known that the movements of the intestines would be stopped if a person showed signs of anxiety, distress or anger. Since that time Cannon has studied the subject intensively, particularly with a view to finding the mechanism by which such action takes place.

The public realizes that the mental state of the individual does have a definite effect on his activities, and for this reason far too often people resort to faith healers or quacks to change the mental state when it seems likely that the physical condition cannot otherwise be controlled.

The scientific side of medicine has for almost a century emphasized the actual changes that may be observed in the body after death and medical diagnosis demands scientific recognition of such changes.

The human being differs from the animal in the development of his brain, hence the behavior of the human being is not always the simple mechanical response that takes place in the animal following a definite stimulation. Whenever a human being expresses fear, joy or grief, certain physical responses occur. If a person feels happy, he is likely to smile or laugh, and, in smiling or laughing, certain muscles of his face will take certain positions. In some forms of paralysis affecting one-half the brain, the patient is unable to move the face on the paralyzed side.

There are, however, certain movements which are involuntary; that is, they are controlled from the nerve centers without the patient's wish. In case such a patient has an emotional reaction, the side of the face which is usually without expression will reveal emotion. This indicates that the nerves responsible for these activities are not cut off by the process which injures the brain.

Professor Cannon points out that an evening's meal may remain undigested all night in the stomach if there is persistent worry. The saliva, the gastric and the pancreatic juices responsible for digestion do not flow when a person is worried or frightened.

Eminent clinicians estimate that anywhere from one-third to one-half of all the people who suffer with digestive disturbances have disordered emotional states and, the digestive disturbance is relieved when the emotional condition is restored to normal. These facts should not be taken as a warrant for disregarding physical causes or for neglecting physical measures in treatment. The assumption that emotional agencies are causing the disturbances, Professor Cannon believes, should always be held as a last resort.

An open mind is all right if you know when to close your mind.

A hick town is a place where $50,000 can cause a severe case of swell head.

Anniversary Notes

CHICAGO'S GREAT FIRE
On October 8, 1871, Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over the kerosene lamp that started Chicago's great fire.

The cow barn in which the fire originated was on De Koven street, near the corner of Jefferson, on the west side of the river.

This region was composed largely of shanties and the fire spread rapidly, very soon crossing the river to the south side and fastening on that part of the city which contained nearly all the leading business houses.

Fanned by a gale, the fire raged uncontrolled for two days and nights sweeping over 2,100 acres, destroying 17,450 buildings and causing 200 deaths.

The amount of the total property loss was estimated at $200,000,000. Of this vast sum, about half was covered by insurance, but under the tremendous losses many of the insurance companies were forced to the wall, and the victims of the conflagration recovered only about one-fifth of their aggregate losses.

Today's Poem

ENVOY
Go, songs, for ended is our brief, sweet play;
Go, children of swift joy and tardy sorrow;
And some are sung and that was yesterday,
And some unsung and that may be tomorrow.

Go forth, and if it be o'er stony way,
Old joy can lend what newer grief must borrow;
And it was sweet, and that was yesterday,
And sweet is best, though purchased with sorrow.

Go, songs, and come not back from your far way,
And if men ask you why ye smile and sorrow,
Tell them ye grieve, for your hearts know Today,
Tell them ye smile, for your eyes know Tomorrow.

—Francis Thompson.

Ginning Total At Slaton Is 2,250

(Special To The Avalanche)
SLATON, Oct. 8.— Cotton ginnings at the six Slaton gins totalled 2,250 bales for this season when a checkup was made Saturday. This revealed daily receipts during the past week to have been 146 bales.

The season is now as far advanced here as it was last year on November 25, records show.

Weather has been favorable for harvesting, and hot sunshine has caused bolls to open fast. Farmers have also been busy harvesting feed crops.

Letters Cause Of Trial Dismissal

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 8 (AP)—Two letters, both requests for money today resulted in the dismissal of the $50,000 breach of promise suit brought by the Rev. H. H. Clark against Mrs. Minnie E. Kennedy, mother of Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist.

Superior Judge J. T. Ronald granted a defense motion, by name suit, throwing the case out of court. The former minister had sought damages from Mrs. Kennedy, charging she failed to marry him as promised and that it left him "desperate" and "morally unfit" to carry on his work.

Clark was the only material witness during the entire trial.

Referring to the letter to Miss Kay Burbeck, Mrs. Kennedy's companion, the court said:

Rum Runner Slain By Pro Officers

DANVILLE, Ky., Oct. 8 (AP)—Three Federal prohibition officers today engaged in a gun battle with alleged rum runners on a highway near here, resulting in the death of an alleged rum runner and serious wounding of one of his companions.

The officers, headed by E. B. Henson, reported three negroes in a powerful automobile deliberately wrecked a smaller car in which Henson and his companions were riding and then opened fire.

In the volley what followed one negro was killed, another wounded, and the third escaped. The officers escaped unscathed, and used the negro's machine to haul the wounded prisoner and tow the wrecked car to this place.

The Innocent Cheat
By Ruth Dewey Groves
AUTHOR OF 'RICH GIRL,' 'POOR GIRL,' ETC.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
HELEN FACE falls in love with her handsome guardian, LEONARD BRENT. A chance meeting with a dying beggar, CHARLES NELLIN, causes Brent to change his plans for Helen's future. Shortly afterward he tells the girl that in accordance with a promise given her parents, he is to reveal her identity and she is the only grandchild of a millionaire, CYRIL K. CUNNINGHAM. Brent takes her to Cunningham and offers as proof a locket containing a picture which he had taken from the dying Nellin. Pending investigations, Helen remains with Cunningham who gives her a new car. She drives everywhere until she accidentally hits EVA ENNIS, who has to be taken to the hospital. Helen meets Eva's brother ROBERT, who falls in love with her.

Cunningham gives a party and announces that Helen is his dead daughter's child and his heiress. Brent finds a locket which exactly matches the one he had taken from Nellin. To avoid discovery he asks Helen not to wear her locket in public. A few days later Eva and Helen overturn a canoe on the lake and Robert rescues them. While changing clothes, Eva tells Helen that she had lost an old-fashioned locket the night of her party.

Fearing Robert's attentions to Helen and annoyed by the demands on him for money by CARMEL SEGRE, Brent plots to secure the girl and her inheritance for himself. The doctor has said that a shock would kill the old man and so Brent carries out a plan to make Cunningham believe that Helen has been killed.

The plan worked and when the attendant returns he is dead. Then Brent appears as the friend and guardian of Helen and she changes her name to Helen. One painful duty is to break an affair with Eva without making Helen suspicious. Meanwhile, Bob is too proud to speak his love until a chance meeting breaks his reserve.

He paused and laughed shortly. "Well, you are the magnet, dear." Helen's hands had grown chill as ice in his grasp. His words frightened her—for in her heart she knew the answer. She loved him.

"Love! Love! Love!" She wanted to shriek it, but her throat was tight with pain. "Love!" She had called her school girl infatuation for Brent by that sacred name. She felt herself shaking with hysterical laughter, knew that in a moment it would peel out mockingly to betray her complete emotional upset.

Bob's arms offered her a haven. He paused and laughed shortly. "Well, you are the magnet, dear." Helen's hands had grown chill as ice in his grasp. His words frightened her—for in her heart she knew the answer. She loved him.

MILLIONS more each year follow the trend of modern medicine, and treat colds without "dosing."

Twenty-five years ago Vicks originated the modern external method of treating colds. Today, Vicks is sold in more than 60 countries, and over 26 million jars are used yearly in the United States alone.

Just rubbed on, it acts through the skin like a plaster, and also releases medicated vapors which are inhaled direct to the air passages.

Innocent Cheat

It was impossible to stare off her mounting hysteria and fight the temptation to have him hold her close at the same time.

And she wanted to be there, her head on his shoulder, forgetting her mistakes. Surrender was too sweet to be resisted.

The instant she lost her battle, her arms slipped about her. But he did not kiss her now and she lay passive until the soft, broken sob gave way to a gasping breathing and the beating of her heart was lost in the pounding of a trip-hammer.

Then she lifted her hands, placed the palms against his cheeks and raised her head to press her lips to his. Bob needed no words from her to interpret that kiss for him. It said the message of her love to him more convincingly than anything else could have done.

And yet he knew that it was a farewell caress. The bitter-sweet anguish that filled Helen's heart flowed somehow into his own.

When she drew away from him he did not seek to hold her. The old knowledge that he could not possess her had caught him in its grip again and he was helpless against the inevitableness of their parting.

"I love you. I love you. I love you." The words poured over and over again; Helen's quivering lips but she refused them utterance.

Bob would know — it would be easier if she did not say it.

"Helen," he pleaded in a rush of despair, "you aren't going through with it? You aren't going to marry anyone else?"

"I must, if he still wants me," Helen told him.

"Of course he will want you! But can't you see what a beast that would make him if you tell him you don't love him? How can you think of marrying such a man?" Helen could not restrain a faint smile. "Perhaps you misjudge him," she said, "and he may not care so much as you think."

"You know in your heart that he does," Bob retorted.

"But I mean to tell him about it," Helen appeased him, "and ask him to break our engagement."

Bob looked deep into her eyes before answering. "You kissed me goodby a moment ago," he said.

quietly. "We both knew that Helen. Why do you try to deceive me with false hopes now?"

"Oh, I'm not, I'm not," Helen cried. "I'm telling you all the truth. But I'm afraid. You have, in a way, called all men beasts, for you say any man could seek to hold me — hold the girl he loved — whether she cared for him or not."

"You knew you would have to refuse me before I said that," Bob answered.

Helen swung against him and he fought with himself to keep from crushing her to his breast.

"Yes," she admitted, scarcely above a whisper. "Yes, I knew that, Bob."

"How?"

"I don't know. It was just a feeling, but I'm daring to hope that I am wrong — that we will be allowed to take our happiness."

"That's up to you," Bob retorted rather harshly. "This isn't the day for foolish mistakes about love, Helen. If you are sure about yourself — if you know that you do not love this man — it is unorgivable of you to marry him."

Helen tried to answer his honest gaze with one as equally frank, but she knew that the complexity of her situation was worlds removed from the direct path he pointed out to her.

"There was, for instance, the debt she owed to Leonard Brent."

ROUND THREE HAS JUST STARTED—THE FIGHT HAS BEEN ALL IN FAVOR OF LARRY SO FAR.

JERRY LANDED A LIGHT RIGHT ON THE FACE—THEY CLINCHED—ON THE BREAK AWAY LARRY LASHED A MEAN TAIL BLOW TO JERRY'S FACE.

THIS SEEMED TO PUT FIGHT IN HIM.....SOMETHING HE HAS LACKED SO FAR—

LARRY KEPT ON RUNNING IN HOPES JERRY WOULD GET WINDED.....BUT JERRY IS NOT SO DUMB—

AFTER A CLEVER BIT OF FOOT WORK JERRY BROUGHT LARRY TO A FULL STOP!!

AND LANDED THE HARDEST BLOWS OF THE FIGHT—LARRY WAS HANGING ON AT THE BELL.

Cotton Drops On Government Report

Government Crop Forecast Causes Sharp Decreases

Estimate Is Much Larger Than Expected; Decline In Cotton Price Is As Much As $2.50 Per Bale

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8. (AP)—A larger government crop forecast than looked for was responsible for a slump of $2.50 a bale in cotton today. The report showing an increase of 90,000 bales over the previous estimate was followed by rather heavy selling which carried December contracts off from 18.72 to 18.22. There was some covering in final trading and the option closed at 18.36 or 36 points net lower. The general market closed steady at net declines of 23 to 36 points.

Although Liverpool cables were relatively steady the market here opened unchanged at 37 points down. Following a slight rally after the start the market weakened. December reached 18.63, and January 18.74 or 7 to 7 points below the previous close. The estimated production of 14,915,000 bales was larger than expected and resulted in active selling. The first effect of the report on the market was a decline of 33 points on active positions. The break was soon broadened to 18.22 for December 18.33 for January and 18.50 for March, or 47 to 50 points below yesterday's close. Prices recovered 2 to 7 points but the market showed small recuperative powers. In final trading shorts covered freely and December contracts recovered 17 points from the lowest. Other months rallied moderately. January closed at 18.47 and March 18.74.

Receipts, 182,781; for week 770,919 for year, 2,394,820; last year 2,252,321. Exports, 20,649; for week 82,597; for year, 1,188,897; last year, 1,232,851. Stock, 1,460,558; last year, 1,400,190. Stock on shipboard at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston, 136,772; last year, 163,092. Port sales, 71,641; last year, 59,122.

Selling Movement Caused in Cotton

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (AP)—The government report on the condition of the cotton crop on October 4, making the percentage condition 58, and the indicated yield 14,915,000 bales, caused a heavy selling movement in cotton today. Prices experienced a sharp downward revision. At one time the market was 44 to 50 points under the previous close with the December position selling at 18.41 a decline of 48 points from the previous close and, while there was a late rally of 7 to 12 points from the lowest for the active positions, the close was 34 to 39 net lower with the tone steady.

Opening Steady

The market opened steady at unchanged to 3 points lower but seemed to meet with some active selling before the bureau report was published, prompted by a continuation of fair weather over the entire cotton belt which seemed to give rise to some misgivings relative to the accuracy of some of crop compilations recently received from the south.

Trading ceased as usual for 20 minutes from 10:35 to 11:15 during which interim the government figures were posted.

It is just what we have to offer any of them. Lubbock has been particularly fortunate. It seems to me and from records, is not having to put up with any such criminals and the like. We intend that it shall stay so. No Increase in Crime

Records in both the county and city departments show that since the Mayor's campaign began, no noticeable increase in crime has been seen here. Hijacking and robbery are unusual in this city, though at times some petty thefts have been experienced.

A meeting last week of all law enforcement officers was held for discussion of the "drift" problem and every officer was given strict orders to pick up any undesirable or suspicious character.

ABILENE, Oct. 8. (AP)—The Hidaigo county district judgeship case wherein Gordon Griffin is claiming election over Judge J. E. Leslie, incumbent, will be argued before the third court of civil appeals tomorrow.

The case was appealed from the Travis county district court, where Judge J. D. Moore decided in favor of Griffin, who sought to force the Hidaigo county commissioners court to include the votes cast at Westaco in the totals certified to Mrs. Jane Y. McCullum, secretary of state.

Griffin had brought suit to enjoin Mrs. McCullum from opening the returns sent her by the commissioners court, claiming they did not represent the law.

Stocks In Sharp Rally From Drop Of Values Friday

Vigorous Increases Show Signs Of Petering Out In Stock Market Session Tuesday; Rails Sag

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (AP)—The amazing vigorous rally from the low levels of last Friday showed signs of petering out in today's session of the stock market. Although operations for the advance were pressed forward in the chemicals, and some of the food shares, and specialties with marked success, such important groups as the oils, rails and motors were inclined to sag, and gains and losses about cancelled out at the close. Trading turned comparatively dull, with only 3,768,000 shares changing hands.

Call Money Cheap

Call money was as cheap as it has been at any time this year, renewing at 6 1-2 per cent, but quickly dropping to 6. There was little demand, and late in the day funds were being offered in the "outside market" as low as 5 per cent. Time money rates were nominally quoted at 3-4 to 9 per cent.

U. S. Steel fluctuated uncertainly, and closed unchanged. Such issues as General Motors, Radio, Andersons, Atchison, Pennsylvania, standard of New Jersey and Texas Corp. lost 3 to 5 points.

without telling you about Miss Pringle because her actions were directed at Miss Pringle.

"Well, what did this woman do?" "She reached out and touched Miss Pringle."

"Now as a matter of fact, Mr. Wise, didn't this woman have a red cloak on?" "I am certain she did not have a red cloak on. I would have noticed it if she had had a bright color on."

"And are you certain that she was around 25 instead of about 45 years old?" "My best judgment is she was about 23 to 25 years of age."

"And as a matter of fact, wasn't her hair tinged with gray instead of being dark as you say?" "To my best recollection her hair was dark."

Borders On Insanity

The defense introduced hospital records showing Wise in 1926 had been confined to a mental ward with the observations that he was "mentally sick, bordering on insanity but not dangerous."

Under state examination, Wise told of passing the theatre building and hearing screams. Running to the mezzanine floor, he said he saw the girl's hand clutching at the door of the small office, then saw Gordon push the door open and the girl run out, screaming "help, help, save me. He's ruining me!"

Later Wise testified he brought the girl back to the office. As she approached, Pantages pointed his finger at her telling her to "shut up; keep quiet." The witness then asserted Pantages accused her of blackmail and said "Pantages shouted 'She's trying to frame me'."

The witness added that the girl replied: "Don't let him say that; don't let him lie about me; don't let him touch me."

America Expected To Attend Parley

Government Is Likely To Accept Invitation For Limitations Conference Before McDonald Leaves

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. — The American government is expected to accept the invitation of the British government to the London naval limitation conference before Prime Minister MacDonald departs from the United States next Tuesday.

Simultaneously with the making public of the text of the invitation state department officials tonight began preparing the draft of the reply which will be submitted to President Hoover for his final approval.

Acceptance Expected

Since the chief executive had been acquainted in advance with the text of the invitation, it was approved by his substance, it was a foregone conclusion that the acceptance would be without reservations.

The text discloses the United States and Great Britain are in accord not only for Anglo-American naval parity by 1936, but also for continuing the ten years' holiday in capital ship construction from 1931 to 1936—when another general naval conference would be planned.

Pleas Of Guilty Entered By Four For Mail Fraud

Penitentiary Sentences In Federal Court At Fort Worth Range From Year To Eighteen Months

FORT WORTH, Oct. 8. (AP)—Four penitentiary sentences ranging from a year and a day to 18 months, with suspended sentences of five years in each case, were imposed by Federal Judge William B. Sheppard after four defendants had pleaded guilty to mail fraud charges in United States court here today.

Virgil T. Bolin, charged with having fraudulently obtained more than $50,000 through use of the mails in promotion of an oil development scheme, was sentenced to 18 months in Leavenworth penitentiary on one count. A five year sentence, to run concurrently with the first prison term, was suspended during good behavior.

Pleas Guilty
A sentence of a year and a day in Leavenworth penitentiary, with a suspended sentence of five years was imposed on Paul Edgell, who entered a plea of guilty charges of mail fraud in connection with a scheme to sell royalties on oil lands in West Texas. The indictment charged that at the time the mails were used to perpetrate the scheme he had no royalties to sell.

A plea of guilty to a charge of fraudulent use of the mails to secure funds for development of an oil lease in which he represented that the cost of the property was to be paid from the oil production brought a sentence of a year and a day to W. C. Holliday. A five year sentence was suspended.

Withdraws Plea
Withdrawing a plea of not guilty entered at the time of his arraignment on a charge of mail fraud,

Paul A. Diggs entered a second plea of guilty and was given a suspended sentence of five years. He was paroled to the custody of the United States marshal. He was alleged to have represented through the mails that an oil lease he was developing would pay dividends he was later unable to pay.

A general demurrer to the allegations in an indictment charging Fred Strang with using the mails to defraud in connection with an oil development scheme in Carter county, Oklahoma, was overruled by Judge Sheppard.

Brothers To Face Charge Of Murder

Sons Of Late Oklahoma and Kansas Peace Officer Are Implicated In Holdup Of Dice Game And Slaying

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 8. (AP)—Two sons of the late Bill Tilghman, pioneer peace officer of Kansas and Oklahoma, today faced possible murder charges as the outgrowth of the holdup of a dice game near Mineo, Grady county, in which James Chitwood, 50, a farmer, was killed, and Richard Tilghman, 23, was critically wounded.

Richard Tilghman was in an Oklahoma City hospital, shot through the kidney, and his brother, Woodrow Wilson Tilghman, 16, and uncle, Alfred Stratton, 57, were held.

To File Charges
B. F. Holding, county attorney of Grady county, said murder charges would be filed against five men, including the Tilghman brothers and their uncle, who were alleged to have raided the game and escaped with approximately $500, early yesterday.

The younger Tilghman, who served last year as a page in the United States Senate, admitted the part in the holdup by himself, his brother and his uncle, but refused to name the other two men implicated.

"Only Thing That Ever Helped Me"
Amarillo Man Had Suffered For Six Years And Spent Hundreds Of Dollars—Orgatone Brings Relief

"I found Orgatone after I had suffered for six years and it was the first thing that gave me relief from my troubles," said M. I. Huddleston, in telling of his restoration to health. Mr. Huddleston, who lives at 1209 E. Sixth St., is an employee of the Amarillo Gas Company and is well known in Amarillo.

"Yes," continued Mr. Huddleston. "I suffered for six years with a combination of stomach trouble, constipation and indigestion and general run down condition and you can just imagine how all those troubles simply made life miserable for me. I felt weak and worn out all the time and the bloating and gas spells bothered me so bad I could hardly ever get a good night's sleep. It just seemed as if I couldn't digest anything, even the lightest kinds of food would sour on my stomach and form gas until I would bloat up and my heart would flutter and make me short of breath. I lost my appetite and hardly even felt like going to the table and, naturally going without food as much as I did, I failed to get enough nourishment to keep up my strength. I had constipation, mighty bad, too, and it just simply worried me awfully all the time. I tried every kind of treatment and medicine that I had ever heard of and spent hundreds of dollars right here in Amarillo for same, and nothing seemed to do me any good."

"After reading a good deal about Orgatone in the papers and hearing what people were saying everywhere about the good it had done for them, I finally decided to give Orgatone a trial and that certainly was the luckiest thing I ever did for myself. I have never taken or even heard of any medicine that would give you results so quickly. I have used three bottles in all and I now feel better in every way. I rest well at night and I don't suffer at all from nervousness. I digest my food ever so much better, everything seems to agree with me and those spells of having gas on my stomach are a thing of the past. Constipation don't bother me any now and I feel ever so much stronger and better. Orgatone certainly is the best medicine that I know anything about and I am always glad to say anything I can in its favor and I take great pleasure in giving this statement so that others may learn of the benefits I have derived from it."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Lubbock at Bowers Drug Store. Adv.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8. (AP)—The bulk of the estate of Thomas E. Mitten, Philadelphia traction magnate, who drowned at his mountain estate last Tuesday, will be used to further the cause of friendly relations between capital and labor.

The value of Mitten's personal property is estimated at $2,000,000 and the real estate at $600,000. There have been estimates that the total estate may be worth as high as $10,000,000.

The will was filed today. It was signed on September 25, six days before Mr. Mitten's body was taken from the big Log Tavern Lake near Millford, Pa.

IMPRESSION WRONG

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—Carl Williams of Oklahoma, action representative on the Federal Farm Board, said today he had no idea of conveying the impression in his testimony before the senate agriculture committee last week that a fair price for cotton would be a cent and a quarter more than at present.

"Only Thing That Ever Helped Me"

Amarillo Man Had Suffered For Six Years And Spent Hundreds Of Dollars—Orgatone Brings Relief

"I found Orgatone after I had suffered for six years and it was the first thing that gave me relief from my troubles," said M. I. Huddleston, in telling of his restoration to health. Mr. Huddleston, who lives at 1209 E. Sixth St., is an employee of the Amarillo Gas Company and is well known in Amarillo.

"Yes," continued Mr. Huddleston. "I suffered for six years with a combination of stomach trouble, constipation and indigestion and general run down condition and you can just imagine how all those troubles simply made life miserable for me. I felt weak and worn out all the time and the bloating and gas spells bothered me so bad I could hardly ever get a good night's sleep. It just seemed as if I couldn't digest anything, even the lightest kinds of food would sour on my stomach and form gas until I would bloat up and my heart would flutter and make me short of breath. I lost my appetite and hardly even felt like going to the table and, naturally going without food as much as I did, I failed to get enough nourishment to keep up my strength. I had constipation, mighty bad, too, and it just simply worried me awfully all the time. I tried every kind of treatment and medicine that I had ever heard of and spent hundreds of dollars right here in Amarillo for same, and nothing seemed to do me any good."

"After reading a good deal about Orgatone in the papers and hearing what people were saying everywhere about the good it had done for them, I finally decided to give Orgatone a trial and that certainly was the luckiest thing I ever did for myself. I have never taken or even heard of any medicine that would give you results so quickly. I have used three bottles in all and I now feel better in every way. I rest well at night and I don't suffer at all from nervousness. I digest my food ever so much better, everything seems to agree with me and those spells of having gas on my stomach are a thing of the past. Constipation don't bother me any now and I feel ever so much stronger and better. Orgatone certainly is the best medicine that I know anything about and I am always glad to say anything I can in its favor and I take great pleasure in giving this statement so that others may learn of the benefits I have derived from it."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Lubbock at Bowers Drug Store. Adv.

The Sunset Company is opening a Large Department Store in Lubbock, Carter-Houston

The name Carter-Houston is one to be reckoned with in this section of the state. It brings to the mind a picture of dependability, honesty, progressiveness, and straight-forward merchandising.

The Sunset Company, who operates the Grissom Stores, the Grissom-Robertson Stores, the Wadley-Wilson Stores, the Carter-Houston Company, all of Texas, and the Joyce-Pruit Company of New Mexico, will own and operate Carter-Houston of Lubbock.

The Sunset Company is made up of old, well established concerns who have been doing business in this section of the country for over thirty-five years and are the leading merchants in their respective towns.

They are distributors of well known and nationally advertised goods of proven worth. They also have a special brand of their own which is called "Sunset," and with which you will become familiar in the coming years.

The officers of the company are Hardy Grissom, J. E. Grissom and E. H. Robertson, all of Abilene; C. E. Carter of Plainview, Addison Wadley of Midland, and A. H. Pruit of Roswell, N. M.

The Sunset Company is financially stable and economically sound. By operating a large number of stores they are able to buy under the market and hence to sell under the market.

They are an organization of live, honest, capable men, familiar with the new trend in merchandising which is sweeping the country. And they are "dead bent" on giving you what you want in the way of a fine, beautiful, complete department store.
