Boom For Ike Moving Along

General Avoids Issue After Experts Predict He Would Be "Smoked Out"

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 — The Ike-for-President boom looks today like the fastest moving thing in American politics.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower just about took the brakes off the movement yesterday. He avoided the direct issue raised by entry of a slate of delegates in his behalf in the March 9 New Hampshire preferential primary.

Unless the general takes himself out shortly in no uncertain language, he will be in the pre-convention campaign for the Republican presidential nomination to stay and to win or take a licking. He won't be able to control it himself.

Announcement that an Eisenhower delegates slate had been entered in New Hampshire was followed promptly by endorsement of Ike by Sen. Charles W. Tobey, (R., N. H.).

With the issue raised so directly a number of Washington political experts believed Ike would be smoked out on some definite statement, perhaps removing himself from politics beyond recall.

But Ike passed it over with a statement through army public relations that he would not comment on New Hampshire developments. His spokesman said Ike previously had said he wanted nothing to do with politics and had not changed his mind.

By the time Ike's New Hampshire backers get through with that statement it will sound like a 100 per cent endorsement of their efforts in his behalf. It certainly was a long way from a repudiation.

Washington newspapers headlined the story of Ike's statement this way:

"Eisenhower candidate, silence indicates."

"Fails to call off New Hampshire race."

"Ike again declines to decline."

"Eisenhower keeps mum, gives push to candidacy."

Other Republican hopefuls doubtless wish Ike would hurry up to New York and busy himself being president of Columbia

Prosperity Of U.S. Farmers Said At Stake

Smaller Shipments To Europe Under Plan Promised

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 — Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson urged Congress today to approve the European recovery program to help insure peace for the world and prevent a depression for the U. S. farmer.

At the same time, he told the Senate foreign relations committee that food exports under the Marshall plan would be smaller than shipments in recent years and would have "less noticeable" effect on American consumers.

Export No Meat

He promised there would be decreasing emphasis on scarce foods and greater emphasis on export of the more abundant types. No meat would be exported the first two years, he said. After that it would depend on "conditions."

Anderson said U. S. farmers now are producing one third more food and fiber products than they were before the war and that they will continue to need European markets.

Anderson did not use the word depression directly, but left little doubt as to his meaning. He said the prospect of a collapsing European economy, providing little outlet for U. S. farm products, "Would not be pleasant to contemplate."

Plan Flank Attack

Anderson testified as a group of about 20 Republican senators lined up for a flank attack on the multi-billion dollar European recovery program. Their goal was a sharp cut in the $6,800,000,000 sought by the administration as a first installment.

The Republican bloc made its economy plans at an unannounced meeting last night. The members decided to fight for a slash in the belief that an outright attempt to kill the program would fail.

Anderson told the Senate committee that wheat would continue to be the most important agricultural commodity exported. He said the U. S. could safely export 1,100,000,000 bushels of wheat during operation of the four-year Marshall plan. He estimated wheat exports at 300,000,000 bushels a year in fiscal 1949 and 1950 and 250,000,000 bushels a year in fiscal

Mother Admits Killing Baby

Child Is Slain To Get $1,000 As Insurance

Woman Says She Was Hounded By "Loan Sharks"

(By The United Press)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 13.—An attractive young mother confessed today she strangled her three-year-old son to death with a diaper in order to obtain $1,000 from the child's insurance policy to meet loan shark payments.

Mrs. Alec E. Fitzhugh, 21, wife of an electrician, showed Solicitor Emmett Perry how she squeezed the diaper around her blond, blue-eyed son Johnny while he slept in his crib.

Sought To Solve Worries

The mother said she thought she could solve her financial worries by collecting her child's insurance policy.

She told the solicitor that she wrapped the diaper around his neck and twisted it "for I don't know how long."

"I then released it and saw that I had left red marks on his neck," Perry quoted her as saying. "He did not cry."

"I became frightened because of the marks. I then placed the diaper around his neck again and twisted it much longer."

Perry said her only tears during the questioning came when she told of garrotting the child.

Father Was At Work

"I then pulled things from several dresser drawers to make it look like a burglar killed Johnny," she related.

Mrs. Fitzhugh, who lives in a garage apartment behind her mother-in-law's home, said the slaying occurred about 12:30 a. m. Her husband had gone to work at the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Co., an hour and one half earlier.

The couple's other child, a three-months old daughter, was asleep in the mother's bed at the time.

She told officers that about 1 a. m. she picked up the child's lifeless body and carried it to her

CLASSES AT SCHOOL AS USUAL—Less than 50 per cent of students enrolled in Chris Harwell school reported for classes this morning as the result of a parents' boycott of the school, but classroom work was being conducted as usual this morning. The boycott is being staged in protest to what some of the parents say is a "dangerous boiler." School officials, however, say the boiler is "as safe as any boiler anywhere." In the picture above, Mrs. Garmer Shaffer, fourth grade teacher in the school, is teaching a class with only eight of 34 students of the class attending. See story at bottom of page. Airliner Falls At Washington During Storm

Four Others Are Injured As Ship Is Demolished

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 — An Eastern Airlines plane with nine persons aboard crashed on the outskirts of Washington during a rainstorm early today, killing five and injuring four.

The plane, enroute from Houston, Tex., to Boston, plowed into a grove of trees on the Maryland side of the Potomac river a few miles from the National airport shortly after reporting it was coming in for a landing.

Plane Is Demolished

The twin-engine DC-3 was demolished, but there was no fire. Eastern Airlines said the cause had not been determined, adding that the pilot checked in with EAL by radio at 4:27 a. m. EST but failed to make contact with the airport control tower later as scheduled.

The dead were three passengers, the pilot and co-pilot. Three injured passengers and the flight attendant were taken to Casualty hospital in Washington.

Rain, slush, and muddy roads in the area hampered police and others in rescue work.

Dead Are Identified

The five dead were identified by the airlines as:

S. M. Warner of Clinton, S. C., who boarded at Greenville, S. C., for Washington.

W. A. Moorehead of Clinton, Greenville for Boston.

L. A. Brandt (no address), Atlanta for Newark.

Capt. Paul Saltanis, pilot and Ralph B. Sandorne, jr., co-pilot.

The injured were identified at the hospital as:

Navy Capt. Lucian Moebus, 47, Maxwell field, Ala., head injuries.

Peter L. Philos, 22, identified by EAL as flight attendant, Astoria, N. Y., head and leg injuries.

Eugene G. Stone, 24, Navy Point, Pensacola, Fla., head injuries.

Morris Maple, 24, 2nd and 3rd degree burns.

The twin-engined DC-3, enroute from Houston, Tex., to Boston smashed into undergrowth about 4,000 yards from the Potomac river, shortly after making radio contact with the Washington National airport at 4:27 a. m., EST.

Rain and muddy roads hampered rescue operations.

TRUMAN'S PHYSICIAN TESTIFIES—

Admits $6,165.25 Commodity Profit

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham testified today that he bought cotton—but no wheat—after President Truman's October 7, 1947, criticism of commodity market speculators.

The President personal physician told the Senate appropriations committee that he had made a profit of $6,165.25 trading in commodities. He said he lost $11,012.86 trading in stocks. So he had a net loss of $4,847.61 on his trading of all kinds.

During a previous appearance before the committee Graham told it he sold out after the President publicly condemned commodity market "gamblers." This testimony later was challenged by former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, who said Graham did not get out of the market until after Stassen had inquired whether any White House personnel was engaging in such trading.

Explains Actions

In a prepared statement he read to the committee today, Graham said that he "assumed that the criticism the President made was of the buying of wheat or grain and I though of that as commodities."

"I did not think he criticized the buying of cotton, for instance, and when the broker recommended cotton, I, of course, said to go ahead," Graham said.

Speculative trading in commodities is entirely local, but Mr. Truman contended that "gambling" was running up the price of grain. Some grain exchange men dispute that contention.

Trades Revealed

A compilation submitted by Graham showed that he had sold 100 bales of July cotton on Dec. 18. Another notation said "closed out against pur 11-29," indicating that the purchase in question may have been made on Nov. 29.

Graham conceded today that his broker, Harry Brisker, had acted under his orders in making purchases. He said he (Graham), assumed "full responsibility" for the trading that had been done. Previously he had said he told the broker to make purchases and sales when the latter thought advisable and did not know of all of his holdings.

Three Vehicles Are Lost In Icy Water

BAY CITY, Mich., Jan. 13 (AP)—The automobile of John Sanborn of Midland, Mich., broke through the ice of Saginaw bay while he was fishing nearby.

So a Pinconning, Mich., firm sent a wrecker to retrieve it. That broke through and sank too.

A pilot, attracted by the crowd on the ice, landed to see what was going on. His plane broke through also.

The problem now is to retrieve all three vehicles.

GOP Aims At Budget Slash

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP) — Republicans set out today to chop some $5,000,000,000 out of President Truman's $39,669,000,000 budget for the year starting July 1.

The foreign aid program appeared likely to be the main target of the money saving drive.

Foreign Aid Too Much

A $5,000,000,000 slash was the tentative goal set by Chairman Taber (R.,NY) pending a meeting of the Senate-House Budget committee to go over details of the unprecedented peacetime spending estimate Mr. Truman sent to Congress yesterday.

While Taber declined to specify just what items most likely would be singled out for cuts, he noted that the President's estimate of actual foreign aid outlays during the year and his requests for funds to finance other projects not yet authorized by law run well over $5,000,000,000.

For example, he said, the President wants half a billion dollars to finance universal military training legislation, which Congress has not enacted and which some of its top leaders expect it to put aside for at least another year.

Taber pointed out that while the Marshall plan for European recovery contemplates a $6,800,000,000 appropriation for the first 15

Three Hurt In Levelland Fire

LEVELLAND, Jan. 13 (Special)—Injuries suffered by three men, one a Levelland fireman, in a slush pit fire that for a time last night and early today threatened destruction of a part of the Consumers Co-Operative Refinery three miles west of here, were pronounced this morning as not serious.

Justin D. Henderson, 24, and Leroy Garganas, both plant employes, and Melvin Ray, Levelland fireman, were the injured. Henderson, worst hurt of the trio, was told at the hospital he could go home today, according to plant officials. Ray suffered slight injury from smoke and heat, and Garganas was only slightly hurt, the plant official said.

Brought Under Control

The fire, which broke out in a slush pit near a huge tank of oil at about 8:15 o'clock last night, was brought under control shortly after midnight through the combined efforts of the Levelland fire department and one truck from the Lubbock department. V. J. Ille,

Cold Weather Covers State

(By The Associated Press)

Somebody left a gap in that famous barbed wire fence between the north pole and the Texas Panhandle and cold weather was moving over the state today.

Low clouds were hanging around the coastline this morning but colder weather still moving southeastward was expected to push the clouds along.

The cold front moved in from the Canadian northwest to the Panhandle yesterday on the heels of an earlier one which tumbled temperatures 15 degrees in seven hours.

Lubbock Has 21

Lubbock had a low of 21 degrees this morning and temperatures 20 to 28 degrees were predicted for the Panhandle and South Plains tonight. East Texas was in for 24-32 degrees in the north and interior of the central portion tonight.

Maximum temperatures yesterday ranged from 81 at Brownsville to 45 at Amarillo. This morning Brownsville had a low of 55.

Rain fell in the Beaumont area with Beaumont itself registering 1.26 inches. Other rainfall was less than one-quarter an inch.

The forecast for tomorrow was for fair and continued cold in East Texas and fair and not quite so cold in West Texas.

THREE DAYS IN BRITISH ZONE—

Blasted Ruhr Grim Sermon For Peace

(NOTE TO READERS: This is No. 15 in a series of articles on conditions in the British and American Occupation zones in Germany, and in the Free State of Trieste. The Avalanche-Journal's editor gathered information for this series during a recent inspection trip in Europe as the guest of the Army and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, chief of the U. S. European command).

BY CHAS. A. GUY, EDITOR
The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal

AS part of our inspection tour of Germany, our party of 14 U. S. editors spent three days in the Ruhr as the guests of the British. In the years before VE-Day, the Ruhr was the great industrial belt of Germany, comparable to our own "Steel Valley," which extends eastward from Gary, Ind. to Pittsburgh. Today, the Ruhr is one great rubble pile, battered to pieces by the night bombers of England's RAF and the day bombers of our own AAF.

Nowhere in Germany are there sights like the Ruhr to impress the Germans with the fallacy of war. Or, for that matter, to impress anyone with the fact that war, like lesser crime, does not and cannot pay.

Throughout the British Occupation zone stand the remnants of steel mills and other heavy industries, looking like giants, driving giant bulldozers, had plowed through them and knocked them down.

Two of the Ruhr's principal cities, Dusseldorf and Essen, are among the worst battered of German metropoli.

Grim Sermon For Peace

Especially in Essen, home of what once was the world's greatest armaments works, the sermon for peace is impressive.

On the outskirts of Essen lies what is left of the Krupp plant, now seven square miles of destruction. Several times larger than Ford's River Rouge plant, in Dearborn, near Detroit, the Krupp layout is slightly more than a mile wide and seven miles long.

Throughout its length and breadth are roofless buildings with bulging walls, from which has been removed everything that can be reclaimed. All that is left is rubble and desolation.

WE of our party couldn't possibly inspect the whole thing on foot. We looked it over from a tower replaced by the British, and we walked through what is left of several buildings.

Climbing over rubble piles, jumping ditches and keeping a wary eye out for falling brick and stone, we gave most of our attention to one pile of wreckage where drop-forging was done for armor plate. Standing in the center of this building, which must have had an area equal to a square block, stands the old "Big Bertha," of World War 1 days—the "wonder gun" with which the Germans bombarded Paris from more than 80 miles away.

The old "Big Bertha," like a defiant sentry guarding all that is left of German imperialism and militarism, recalls to mind its namesake, mean, old Bertha Krupp. Complaining and still imperious, the old crone lives today in Austria.

Old Bertha Krupp, the matriarch of a clan whose members through six wars were the world's outstanding merchants of death, may not have seen the Krupp Works at Essen after our bombers, and those of the British, laid it low.

But if she hasn't seen it as it is now—acre upon acre of wreckage and dirty water—I hope she will see it, even if she has to be dragged to Essen for the view. The fact that her 77-year old husband is conveniently insane, and her eldest son is standing trial as a top war criminal in Nurnberg, isn't enough punishment for old Bertha. For she was as bloodthirsty as any of the Krupps in her heydey.

She should see what the avarice of herself and her family has wrought.

She should have the opportunity of comparing the Krupp Works of today with what they were when she lived in the 200-room Villa Huegel on the other side of Essen. She then was in "high cotton," as her stooges at the Works forced 13,000 slave laborers to toil on

Car Recovered After Mishap

Police this afternoon sought a negro man who fled after a stolen automobile was overturned in a 6:38 a. m. brush with a heavy truck and semi-trailer at Fifteenth and Ave. E.

Police said Samuel Edgar West, 46, of Fort Worth, driver of the truck, was going southward on Ave. E and that, after he was well into the intersection, the car came speeding eastward along Fifteenth.

Was Traveling Fast

"The negro was traveling fast and apparently tried to swerve the car, but turned over," West said, adding that he felt no collision impact.

A study of the two cars, however showed that a bumper of the truck had struck the rear of the negro's car, which spun around and overturned.

West leaped out of his truck to question the black, who didn't answer, but ran.

One minute after the car was reported stolen police received a shortwave message from a radio car that the machine had been recovered.

Identity Is Unknown

Owners are Willie Coleman and John Kirby, Lubbock negroes. A relative, Roberta Coleman and her husband Sam, had borrowed the car Monday night, Roberta said in reporting the theft.

Identity of the thief had not been established, police said.

Police were asked to investigate theft of clothing from a car parked at 2418 Nineteenth.

A negro who grabbed the clothing fled eastward down an alley, police were informed.

The sheriff's department said E. B. Barnes, 19, a negro who has been in numerous investigations here, had posted $5,000 bail in

Rising Death Toll On Texas Highways Is Explained By Patrolman In Talk To Club

"We must make the driving of a motor vehicle a full-time job; it's nothing to play with it's serious business," Sgt. E. L. Stroud of the Lubbock office of the Texas Highway Patrol declared in a talk on traffic safety problems at the Optimist club luncheon in Hotel Lubbock today noon.

"Unless we have a change of attitude on the part of individuals, this slaughter on our streets and highways will continue until it won't be long until there will be from 5,000 to 6,000 people killed in Texas every year instead of the 2,000 killed during the past year.

"This problem is an individual problem and it lies with the individual who has control of the automobile or the pedestrian on the streets," Sgt. Stroud declared. "Ninety-five per cent of all highway collisions lies with the operator and the other five per cent with faulty mechanism.

"While one died on the fighting front in the recent world war, four were killed on the highways at home," Stroud said. "Where one was wounded at the front, ten were wounded on our highways.

"But the majority of us take the attitude that it is happening somewhere else and to somebody else.

Attendance Of About 50 Percent Reported

Chris Harwell School Holds Classes As Usual Today Despite Boycott By Parents

With about 50 per cent of enrolled students attending, classes went on as usual in Chris Harwell school in southeast Lubbock this morning despite a parents' boycott which was organized in a meeting Monday night.

"As this week is the end of the semester, tests will be conducted and reports made as usual for those in attendance," Supt. R. W. Matthews said this morning. "We're proceeding with classes on regular schedule."

A majority of the absent students were informed by adults standing near the school that there would be no classes today, a large number of parents informed Principal Howard Day by telephone, declaring that they would send the children to school this atefrnoon.

Spokesmen for the parents' group said the boycott was an outgrowth of an explosion which caused slight damage in the school boiler room Jan. 6.

"There is no safer boiler in Lubbock than the one in the Harwell school due to the fact that it has a double control on it now," Supt. R. W. Matthews of the Lubbock public schools, said this morning.

Former Emperor Hirohito Still A Power In Japanese Affairs

(By The Associated Press)

HIROSHIMA, Jan. 13—The little man stands alone and lonely on the platform while below him thousands of Japanese roar "banzai."

The little man might have been a Japanese shopkeeper or a railway conductor. He is stumpy, stocky, unharrisome. There is nothing regal in his bearing.

Yet the "banzais" are for him alone. He is Hirohito, emperor of Japan.

In the hearts of these thronging subjects there is no resentment for this little man who has come to see the ruin left by the first atomic bomb ever detonated.

Their city might have been spared had not Japan answered his imperial summons to war. But there is no resentment, only joy at his being among them.

The emperor is in Hiroshima on another of his post-surrender tours among his people.

By constitutional decree, he no longer is "The Son of Heaven" but there is worship here.

Some say this enthsuiasm for the emperor—and one who hears the "banzais" cannot doubt it is genuine—is comparable to the emotion among Roman Catholics at the public appearance of the Pope.

Others believe the enthusiasm is more mundane, more like the feeling the Germans had for old Von Hindenburg after the first world war.

The Germans perhaps knew the aging warrior was not astute in statecraft. "Conquered but not defeated" they saw in him a magnet which they hoped could pull their country together.

The Japanese are equally reluctant to admit defeat and so, in somewhat the Von Hindenburg fashion, the emperor may be a repository for Japanese hopes.

Actually, the feeling is probably some of both—veneration and patriotism.

In any case, Hirohito's influence is unsurpassed. This feeling for the emperor has incalculable potential for good or evil.

If he assimilates democratic ideas and is able to convey them to his people he can help immeasurably in bringing about in Japan the kind of state the United States hopes to fashion.

If he once more becomes little more than a front for the forces that led Japan along the ways of conquest—well, many now living know too well the frightful crimes committed in his name.

How much of man's hopes for peace is carried on the shoulders of the lonely little man there on the platform—the little man who still is first in the hearts of his Japanese countrymen.

Says Man Has Strange Powers That Work While He Sleeps

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," reveals the story of a remarkable system that often leads to improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Many report improvement in health. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

The man, a well-known explorer and geographer, tells how he found these strange methods in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

He maintains that man, instead of being limited by a one-man-power-mind, has within him the mind-power of a thousand men or more as well as the energy-power of the universe which can be used in his daily affairs. He states that this sleeping giant of mind-power, when awakened, can make man capable of surprising accomplishments, from the prolonging of youth to success in many fields. Strangely, he says that this power works best while we sleep, when proper methods are used.

The author states the time has come for this long hidden system to be disclosed to the Western world, and offers to send his amazing 9,000-word treatise which reveals many startling results—to readers of this paper, free of cost or obligation. For your free copy, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. 587-E, Los Angeles 4, Calif. CARNIVAL By Dick Turner

Strike Law Violator Receives Acquittal

WACO, Jan. 13 (AP) — Mrs. Mary Adams was acquitted by a jury in 54th District court last night in the first case tried in McLennan county under provisions of the O'Daniel anti-strike violence law.

Mrs. Adams, an employe at the Southern Maid bakery, was accused of using force and violence in an attempt to prevent Miss Myrtle Arnett from engaging in a lawful occupation during a strike here.

The defendant said Miss Arnett threatened to kill her.

"Then I slapped her," Mrs. Adams related.

Miss Arnett, formerly of Palestine, Tex., testified she was slapped without provocation as she prepared to sit down in the cafe. A few minutes earlier, she said, she had refused to discuss the strike with Mrs. Adams.

Testimony in the trial began after Judge D. W. Bartlett upheld the constitutionality of the O'Daniel law.

Expulsion Of Boys Upheld

AUSTIN, Jan. 13 (AP)—Expulsion of two students from the Dallas public schools for failure to meet vaccination requirements was upheld yesterday by the state board of education.

The board also approved teacher's pay schedules for Texarkana and Fort Davis after State Supt. L. A. Woods said the schedules had been adjusted to meet requirements of the minimum pay law.

Had Made Appeal

William Walker of Dallas had appealed to the state board for reinstatement of his two sons, age 13 and 8, who have been out of school since Dec. 1. The boys were vaccinated at infancy, he stated in a letter to the board. The Dallas trustees' order, he objected, violates his "right to religious freedom."

The state board took action without comment. Woods noted court decisions have always upheld school districts in such matters.

Municipal and school bond purchases for the permanent school fund totalled $1,847,500. Largest purchase was $1,600,000 bonds at 2.75 per cent interest issued by the Pasadena independent school district, Harris county.

Criticism Answered

Charles W. Carroll, president of the Universal Bookbindery Inc., of San Antonio, briefly answered criticisms made at the December meeting against the practice of rebinding state textbooks. Carroll said the state has saved approximately $1,336,000 during the 20-year period it has had books reconditioned. It is an economical proposition for the taxpayers, he said and has been studied with favorable results by the legislature on two occasions.

Since the December board meeting, Carroll said, the Universal Bookbinding company has signed a $50,000 contract with the state board of control fo rrebinding textbooks this year.

Representatives of the Investment Bankers association asked the board for consideration of an agreement to facilitate negotiation of school bonds.

Problem Explained

W. C. Jackson, jr., of Dallas, member of the municipal securities committee of the association, explained the problem presented in delay of bond purchases while the issues are submitted for purchase by the permanent school fund. Investment companies "make the market" through their investigations and bid, often undergo expenses of legal services and printing of bonds, and then must stand by with a low bid committment while the bonds are submitted to the state board. The risk of a fluctuating market during the interval, he explained, has resulted in many Texas and out-of-state investors declining to bid on school bonds.

Jackson asked for a formal contract guaranteeing investment companies a fee to cover extra expenses in bidding on bonds.

Spoiled Child Needs Care, Expert Says

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 13 (AP)—Here's a new slant on why Junior punts his white-haired old grandmother in the shin, or strangles the neighbor's cat.

Miss Rene Wilson, director of the Newcomb Nursery school, said today that the "spoiled child" is not one who has received too much attention from his parents.

"Actually, it's just the opposite," Miss Wilson said. "The spoiled child is generally one which has had too little sympathy, and too little attention."

Well?

That's what the lady said.

Ills Befall Arkansas Couples Divorced Under Invalid Rule

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 13 (AP) —Nearly 1,500 couples divorced in Arkansas' pulaski (Little Rock) county during the last 10 months learned with shocked surprise today that they are still married.

Many of them, since remarried, feared that they may unwittingly have become bigamists and the expectant parents of possibly illegitimate children.

Supreme Court Rule

It all came about yesterday when the Arkansas supreme court ruled that an auxiliary chancery court was created under an unconstitutional act of the 1947 state legislature.

The decision said that the court "does not exist" and in effect voided all the divorces passed on by its chancellor, trim, red-haired Mrs. Ruth F. Hale.

Includes Out-Of-Staters

In her 10 months as chancellor, Mrs. Hale granted between 40 and 50 divorces a day in this most populous area of Arkansas where out-of-staters can obtain separations even more quickly than in Nevada.

The total divorces granted during that period by Mrs. Hale were estimated at from 1,200 to 1,500.

The supreme court ruled specifically on just two divorces, those of Mr. and Mrs. George Howell and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Stevens.

But Chief Justice Griffith Smith, who wrote the decision, said "I presume all such decrees would be affected—we held that there is no court."

The supreme court's decision held that the legislative act creating the auxiliary court is unconstitutional because in it the lawmakers assumed powers normally invested in the governor.

Mrs. Hale's appointment was for a 20-month period until a constitutionally chosen chancellor could be elected next November.

The supreme court recognized the fact that many of those divorced in the woman judge's court may have remarried and might be expecting children. It would have been simpler, the court said for "the court to close its eyes until November and let the legislature's usurpation take its course."

30-Day Residence Law

But, the decision said, "unfortunately the entire fabric of constitutional government is involved."

Many of the couples who obtained divorces in Mrs. Hale's court were out-of-staters who have since scattered all over the country.

Arkansas divorce laws require the shortest residence period of any state in the union—30 days. Nevada has a six weeks residence law. Arkansas residents may obtain divorces without any delay.

Bus Line Dispute Hearing Recessed

FORT WORTH, Jan. 13 (AP) — New attempts to settle a wage dispute between the Southwestern Greyhound Bus lines and its employes unioh will start Jan. 21 it was announced after discussion was broken off yesterday.

The company and representatives of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America (AFL) met with two federal conciliators yesterday in an attempt to settle differences.

The union has requested an increase of 8.5 cents a mile for drivers and a 20 percent hike for terminal employes.

T. R. McGovern, secretary-treasurer of Local division 1313 of the union, said "we couldn't get together on the wage scale."

Paul W. Tibbetts, president of the Southwestern Greyhound lines, said "meetings with the conciliators were recessed on the request of the union. The company was willing to continue the meeting."

Man Is Killed In Texas City Mishap

TEXAS CITY, Jan. 13 (AP) — H. C. Freeman, 57, was killed here yesterday when a hoist chain bolt broke and released a heavy condenser at an ice and cold storage plant.

Freeman was crushed by the condenser.

The Waynesboro, Penn., resident was an employe of the Frick Co., of Pennsylvania, and had been sent here with other workers to install additional machinery at the plant.

Another effort toward the perfect cotton-picking machine is represented in a recent patent. It sucks up the staple by an air current, like a vacuum cleaner.

Something New Is Added To Letter Fad

Inflation has even hit the old chain letter fad—and apparently it was contributing to instead of holding down the popularity of a revival of the 'get something for nothing' scheme which has popped up over the past several years.

The new twist, with a $20,470 pot of gold awaiting each and every paritcipant, came to light in Lubbock Monday. And apparently a lot of people were getting on the bandwagon in a big way.

Here's the way the latest deal works:

Someone with four letters, each containing an identical list of eleven names, sells two letters for $5. The buyer then puts $5 (but no letter) in an envelope and sends it to the man whose name is listed at the top of the letter. Then the buyer crosses that man's name off on both sheets and adds his own name to the bottom of the sheet. Then the buyer makes two copies of the letter and with the two letters he then has four letters. He then sells two letters together to two different persons for $5 who in turn send $5 more to the top man listed.

When the process works its 'magic,' everyone should wind up with a net total of $20,470.

Previous chain letter systems have been cracked down on by Postal department officials but what attitude would be taken on this scheme remained to be seen.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Girl Loses Sleep Because Her Best Beau Won't Give Her Diamond Watch He Found On Street

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am in a quandry and will be very grateful for your advice. There is a young man who is madly in love with me and I am afraid the feeling is mutual.

He is a clever and brilliant student, now a senior in college; and in the matter of dates and gifts he is of necessity frugal, because he has to manage on a student's budget. I take a realistic view of the situation and have no fault to find on that score.

However, the following matter has been keeping me awake nights: A few weeks ago, while we were walking, John found a lady's diamond encrusted watch. He placed an advertisement in the newspapers and waited for the owner to put in a claim; but so far, none has been made.

HE EVADES HER COVETOUS HINTS

NOW my girl friends think it's disgraceful that he hasn't given the watch to me. When I finally got up nerve enough to ask him what had become of it, he passively replied that no claim had been made and that the watch is in his bureau drawer. Then he changed the subject.

If his love for me is really sincere, don't you think I should get the watch? I am looking forward to your opinion, for then I'm sure I'll know what to do; so an early reply will be appreciated.

(Signed) E. F.

GIRL'S THEORIES ARE INDEFENSIBLE

DEAR E. F.: Your line of reasoning is in the worst taste, and so is your vexed preoccupation with consuming desire to get possession of the watch.

I doubt that your girl friends initiated the whispering campaign that John ought to give it to you. More than likely you've been busy drumming up sotto voce comment to that effect.

Here is my slant: If you were invested with sound sentimental values, fastidious self regard and some degree of sensitivity to others' feelings, the idea of John's proffering a "found" bauble in gift-guise or as a love-offering would never occur to you. And you would shrink with a sense of offense and disappointment in him, if he were to make such a gesture.

MAN'S ATTITUDE ABOVE REPROACH

WHATEVER John's motives for passively ignoring your covetous designs and brassy hinting, on the record his attitude is eminently correct, not disgraceful.

And speaking of his motives, they may be quite as mercenary as yours. It may be his silent intent to sell the watch eventually for the best price he can get, if it isn't claimed, within a reasonable time, by the person who lost it. But if that's his purpose, it is entirely his business; and the fact that you happen to be his sweetheart doesn't give you a shred of claim to presumptive-right to it, in the form of a gift.

So, for advice: Get the watch off your mind. Don't lose any more sleep over it. And if you value John's respect and would have him think you love him for himself, don't badger him again with meanly speculative questions on the subject.—M. H.

Church Edict Called Biased

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP) — John E. Swift, supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus, predicts that a new Protestant organization announced Sunday in Washington "will fall of its own weight because . . . it is loaded with an intolerance generally unacceptable to the American people as a whole."

The new organization, named the Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State, issued a manifesto calling for abolition of the post of envoy to the Vatican and the banning of the use of public funds for parochial school students.

Patriotism Questioned

Swift issued a statement last night in which he said that the President of the United States probably will maintain a diplomatic representative at the Vatican "as long as the United States government may profit from this arrangement," and defended Catholic policies toward public aid for schools.

"The manifesto brazenly charges," Swift said, "that any American who holds the commonsense political opinion that a parochial school child, like any other American school child, has a right to ride in a public school bus is disloyal to the American tradition of separation of church and state."

The new group, Swift continued, questions the patriotism of "any citizen, Catholic, Jew, Protestant or non-believer who dares to disagree with the organization's biased and inaccurate interpretation of the first amendment."

The signers of the manifesto issued by the new group were Dr. John A. Mackay, president of Princeton Theological seminary; Dr. Edwin McNeill Poteat, president of Colgate-Rochester Divinity school; the Rev. G. Bromley Oxnam, bishop of the Methodist church, New York area; Dr. Louie B. Newton, president of the Southern Baptist convention, and Dr. Charles Clayton Morrison, former editor of the Christian Century.

American And British Sectors Of Berlin Described As Island Surrounded By Reds

BY RICHARD HOLLANDER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—"If it should happen some night, I know where I'll be. I'll be on my way to Moscow—under escort — by morning. Then it will be up to General Huebner to do what he can."

The speaker was Gen. Lucius Clay, commanding general of the American forces in Europe. He was discussing the possibility of a Russian move to push us out of Berlin.

Russian Moves Obvious

"General Huebner," he added significantly, "has his headquarters in Frankfurt."

Lt. Gen. Clarence Huebner is General Clay's deputy.)

General Clay's sober words, spoken to me shortly before Christmas in Germany, are underscored today in the light of the Russian newspaper warning to Americans and British in Berlin that "there is no space in Berlin for the supporters of Germany's partition." Not to mention the firing of an American army car and the detention by Russian border guards of Dr. Herman Wells, president of Indiana university and an adviser to General Clay.

For months General Clay has seen as a possibility a Russian attempt to discredit us in Europe by throwing us out of Berlin.

The fact is that the Russians could throw us out of Berlin any day they choose. Us and the British. The American and British sectors of Berlin are nothing more than tiny islands surrounded by Russians. Our supplies get into Berlin only by the leave of the Russians. They could cut us off any hour, any day.

Outcome Not In Doubt

And as for the total of our effective troops—well, it would be a bitter skirmish for a little while but the outcome would never be in doubt.

"Our troops are merely a thin screen," General Clay said. "But represent a token of the strength so long as they are in Berlin they of the United States. If we are forced to leave Berlin it will represent an incalculably damaging defeat."

It was then that General Clay made the dismal forecast of his own immediate arrest in the event of a Russian move to throw us out of Berlin.

She announced a similar gift, of 1,000,000 francs ($8,395), to the poor of Paris, through that city's mayor, Pierre De Gaulle.

Hunt Continues For Men In Lost Plane

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 13 (U.P.) — Civil Air patrol planes were continuing their search today for two men missing since they refueled their plane here Jan. 4.

The planes were searching the Gallup, N. M., area in the treacherous western section of the state. Aboard the maroon-colored Porterfield sports ship were William Bohannon, Los Angeles, and his cousin Roy Howlett, Richland, Mo. The men were on their way from Richland to Los Angeles.

The plane was last sighted buzzing the Acomita air field and heading in the direction of Gallup, CAP Commander Maj. Charles Huff said. He said that the rough terrain would be thoroughly searched for the plane which was expected to arrive in Los Angeles on Jan. 6.

Poultrymen Failed To Carry Out Pledge To Trim Laying Flocks

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 — The poultry industry missed by nearly 20 million chickens on its pledge to the government to trim laying flocks to 400 million hens and pullets by Jan. 1, Agriculture department statistics revealed today.

The pledge was made early in November to get the government to call off poultryless Thursdays and announce a purchase program which put a floor under chicken prices which had been dropping since poultryless Thursdays began. They have been above support levels on a nationwide average since, and the government has not had to buy.

Exceeds Goal

The 427,860,000 chickens reported by the Agriculture department on farms as of Jan. 1 is, in fact, nearly eight million more than the goal fixed by the department in September, before poultryless Thursdays were instituted.

W. D. Termohlen, head of the poultry branch of the Agriculture department, said he thought the poultry industry had done "pretty well, considering the circumstances."

Chief obstacle to the pledged heavy culling of chickens was high egg prices. Farmers have been averaging nearly a nickel apiece for their eggs and thus have been unwilling to reduce their flocks, despite high feed prices.

Situation Discouraging

The culling pledged by the poultry industry, from the September government goal of 420 million layers down to 400 million, was supposed to save 30 million bushels of grain in nine months.

Mr. Termohlen said he was not discouraged at the failure of the voluntary program. He predicted poultry farmers would come close to meeting the department's Feb. 1 goal of only 380 million layers.

He said falling egg prices and mounting feed costs would make it imperative for poultrymen to get rid of all poor layers.

Poultry leaders are continuing their efforts to bring about a heavy reduction in flocks, and next week a nation-wide campaign is being started by grocery chains to encourage the eating of stewing chickens.

Highest Price Reached

Mr. Termohlen said under normal operations about 440 million laying hens would be on farms now —so the culling program actually has had some effect, reducing flocks by 12 million.

He was hopeful the Agriculture department could get by this year without having to buy to support egg prices to farmers. He said further heavy culling of flocks plus increased consumption of eggs as meat becomes scarcer would tend to keep egg prices nationally above the 90 per cent of parity mark at which they must be maintained by law.

Farmers received an average of 58.7 cents a dozen for eggs last month, the highest price received at any time since December, 1920 —just before farm prices tumbled at the end of the boom after World War I.

Most department officials, however, think that under the law, the department will have to buy some eggs to support prices this spring. The support price is expected to be about 50 cents a dozen.

Gary Cooper Denies He Is Most Uncooperative Actor Of 1947

BY BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 13 — Gary Cooper denies he is an "Uncooperative actor."

The lanky Montanan breezed back to town from a skiing sojourn in Sun Valley and made his comment on his selection as "The Most Uncooperative Actor of 1947," as selected by the Hollywood Women's Press club. His comment:

AA Thrives In Filmland

"It's amazing."

Coop, who is not noted for being a chatterbox, remarked freely on the women's choice.

"I don't think I'm uncooperative," he said. "I think they're wrong. I've followed the same policy for 20 years now: if they have an idea for a story, I'll go through with it."

Gary claimed he turned down only a couple of interviews last year, "because the story ideas were so silly."

Alcoholics Anonymous is thriving in Hollywood these days. The organization, which provides spiritual and recreational substitutes for liquor, has 17 groups meeting weekly in this area and membership includes many movie names. Size of the meetings ranges from a handful to 500.

A former leading man, who drank himself out of pictures and is now coming back in character roles, holds a meeting at his house each week to introduce film tipplers to A.A. Local members include a well-known producer, a formerly successful director and a number of character actors.

A Confession

This information comes from a comedian who was once a prominent movie personality.

"I was an alcoholic for 20 years," he told me, "and many a time I woke up in (sheriff) Biscailuz' bastille. I found myself locked out of the studios for four years because I was considered 'unreliable'."

He is now on the comeback trail and doing all right, as A.A.

Florida Man Keeps On Digging In Search For Pirate Gold Said Worth $4,000,000

GREEN COVE SPRINGS, Fla., Jan. 13. (AP) — Eighty-year-old G. B. Mobley started digging in the middle of town today for $4,000,000 in gold he said pirates buried many years ago.

Using a dragline, he dug a 25-feet deep hole between the sidewalk and the street, about 50 feet from the nearest building.

Mobley got grudging permission from city officials in February, 1945 to dig for the gold, location of which he said was given him 20 years ago by pioneer residents.

He signed a contract then to pay the city ten per cent or $500,000 of whatever he found. The contract still holds. Mobley ran out of operating funds in 1945 after getting down nine feet. Reports today were that two Jacksonville doctors are financing his new burrowing job.

Mayor E. L. Bradley estimated the city debt at $350,0000. He said he understood Mobley shortly would put down steel pilings but that he didn't believe traffic would be disrupted.

"If we have a heavy rain, though," the mayor said ruefully, "we'll probably have a lake."

Ring And Watch Belonging To Dead Woman Reported Located

MRS. LONNIE A. ROBBINS

LONNIE A. ROBBINS

CLINTON, Ark., Jan. 13. (AP)—Van Buren County Sheriff Boyce Casinger revealed that a ring and watch which belonged to the woman Lonnie Ambrose Robbins is accused of murdering were found in a secret pocket in his underwear yesterday.

Cassinger said the jewelry and $500 in cash were discovered as Robbins was searched following his removal from Russellville to the county jail at Clinton.

Robbins, a 49-year-old farmer, was charged with murder yesterday in the New Year's eve death of Mrs. Sadie Sue Dudley Robbins. The couple were married at Abilene, Texas, Christmas day. Mrs. Robbins died four hours after arriving at Robbins' farm and an autopsy revealed poison in her stomach.

Claims Money His

Mrs. Robbins had been reported to have owned two rings, the watch and $1,850. Police found one of the rings in possession of a Dardanelle, Ark., woman shortly before Robbins was arrested.

Cassinger quoted Robbins as saying after the search:

"I wanted to give you the ring and watch but I did not want to give up the money because it's mine."

Prosecutor R. E. Rush said Robbins will be arraigned in circuit court here next month.

Russian Broadcasts Attack Aid Program

LONDON, Jan. 13. (AP)—Congressional consideration of the Marshall plan has resulted in a "tremendous" increase in Moscow radio attacks on America, both in bitterness and in number, listeners say.

Broadcasts generally criticising the United States, with special attention to "American monopolists" and "American imperialists," have swelled in number during the past three weeks, reported one radio listener who hears a majority of west-beamed Russian broadcasts.

At least two commentators have discussed the Marshall plan as "a plan of extortionist speculation of the difficulties in European countries," and one said the United States is attempting to "preserve" the Franco regime in Spain.

Another Russian commentator, V. Linetsky, worked over the Marshall plan, an dthen in a separate broadcast on Italy said key positions in Italian life "are in danger of being seized by American monopolies."

Linetsky also said American policy in Italy "in essence" is to "paralyze heavy industry and make the country a colonial market for American monopolists."

Tile has long been considered so essential in Spanish homes that "to have a house without tiles" has become a proverb expressing poverty.

Toughest Test Due For Roach Friday

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—Lavern Roach, a clear-eyed kid from Plainview, Texas, is one ex-serviceman with a real chance in the greedy boxing business. Hailed as "rookie of the year" and "pride of the Marines," Roach now has been engineered into a main bout at Madison Square Garden. The real test for the 159-pounder is ahead.

The sprawling Plains of the Lone Star state haven't developed a champion since Lew Jenkins undertook the round trip from oblivion to fame. Roach could be the next to succeed.

Young Roach, who says he will be 22 next month, has lost only once in a little over two years of pro battling. But the only "names" on his record were added in 1947 when he won 11 straight, three by knockouts.

The one loss was to Artie Towns in New York, Jan. 28, 1946. Since then he has copped 17 in a row. He knocked out Indian Gomez, Vic Amato and Sal Richie last year and also decisioned Billy Arnold and Herbie Kronowitz.

It was the Kronowitz win that put him in the Garden against Tony Janiro of Youngstown, Ohio, in Friday's 10-round star bout.

When he outpointed the veteran Norm Rubio at Eobets field last summer he donated his entire purse of $1,200 to the Damon Runyon cancer relief fund. The Garden shot will be his biggest payday. At 17½ per cent he figures to come away with around $2,500 for his end.

Back home in Plainview, they know more about Lavern as a high school football player and a golfer who shoots in the high 70s. He was an amteur boxer around home but never took it up seriously until he bumped into Johnny Abood, his co-manager, at the Cherry Point (N.C.) Marine base.

Abood, who used to box around New York as Johnny Lamar, coached the Cherry Point team to numerous amateur victories. They swept many of the Golden Glove prizes in 1945 with Roach, Hal Anspath of Williamsport, Pa.; Howie Brodt of Oneida, N. Y., Al Highers of Sherill N. Y., Ray Klingmyer of Baltimore and Leon LeBlond of Lisbon, Me.

It was during those days that Nat Fleischer, noted boxing authority, saw Roach and tabbed him "most likely to succeed." Nat had forgotten but years before, he had watched the same kid, then a 114-pounder, in an amateur tourney at Albuquerque.

Roach is a two-fisted battler who seldom wastes a punch. He prefers to stand in the center of the ring and let the opponent dance around while he jabs and shoots a straight right hand to the body.

Chris Dundee, who knows all angles, handles his business and Abood attends to the other details. So far Roach has picked up enough to buy a tire repairing shop for his father back in Texas. Abood says he turned down two offered apopintments to Annapolis while in the Marines because he had made up his mind to become a fighter.

Roach and Anspach, his tablemate, live together at their own home in Millburn, N. J. They both are middleweights but naturally they never have fought, except for sparring sessions. Anspach probably will be on Friday's card as he has a tentative date with Joe Governale in the semi-final.

College Teams In Ring Debut

ABILENE, Jan. 13. (U.P.)—Hardin-Simmons university and West Texas State Teachers college introduced intercollegiate boxing to Texas last night, but neither could claim a victory.

Tom Adams, H-SU heavyweight, outpointed Clinton Williams of West Texas in the final bout to give Hardin-Simmons a 5-5 draw on the 10-fight card.

1,500 Attend

An estimated 1,500 who jammed Rose fieldhouse saw John London, West Texas middleweight, blaster Bill Hardwick in the scrappiest and quickest fight of the night. London scored a technical knockout over Covington in one minute and 50 seconds.

Two other TKO's were scored, one by Joe Williams of H-SU over Joe Stevens and the other by Hugh Higgins of Hardin-Simmons over J. D. Covington.

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

The Evening Journal today carries a story saying that the conditions under which the Lubbock High school basketball team made the trip to El Paso last were due to "unforeseen circumstances." The story goes on to say that there was no attempt at penny-pinching by athletic board officials, that Lubbock high school teams always have traveled in the manner in which they should be accustomed and that it was too bad the incident occurred.

It certainly was too bad, it so much so that we hope it never occurs again and that Westerner coaches henceforth will be given enough expense money so that they do not have to scrape and squeeze to get a nickel's worth of change out of a fifty-cent piece. Exhibition game or conference, there is no reason why the person in charge should not be given money enough to guard against any unforeseen circumstance.

In this case the Amarillo team took one look at the quarters given them, termed them unfit and marched to the Hilton Hotel, where they were cared for immediately. Would that Lubbock had had a little more foresight and greater regard for the sensibilities of Coach Harvey Dunn and his players. The Amarillo baseball team traveled under conditions similar to Lubbock High school last year, while the Lubbock Hubbers always went as gentlemen, with nothing too good for them. Whether a moral might be drawn from the fact that the Hubbers won the pennant and the Blue Sox were filled with dissension we'll leave to the imagination.

The Tech basketball team left Lubbock today for Arizona on a mission as important to them as the search for the Holy Grail was to the Knights of the Round Table. The simile may be stretched a trifle thin, but three victories for the Red Raiders would come close to putting them over the top in quest of the Border Conference title. We wish Coach Polk Robison luck (he's had some already) on his trip, as well as the Raiders.

The dinner for Bill Henderson in the Hilton Hotel Friday was a nice gesture on the part of Bert Kahn, who is a firm believer in two rules for a good life: 1, to live cleanly; and 2, to be a good sport. He presented Bill, promising featherweight boxer, with a trophy and his words of praise for boxing, Lubbock, Texas Tech and good sportsmanship were worth hearing. Bert wants to form a boxing team from the regional meet in Lubbock that will go as a unit to the Golden Glove bouts in Ft. Worth. If the team wins there, they would bring back the trophy symbolic of the state champions.

Henderson, of course, would be the backbone of the team, with Middleweight Lonnie Balch, Light Heavyweight Jim Witt and Heavyweight Gene James probably filling out the team. From what we have read and seen, they would come pretty close to winning the title. Lubbock rapidly is becoming the fight center of West Texas and it is the only logical site. Amarillo is on the fringe of civilization, while Lubbock has truly earned the title "Hub of the Plains."

The principal magnetic poles of the earth are about 1,200 miles from the geographic poles.

Cage Battles Due Tonight

Three cage teams got the jump on the usual Tuesday night basketball jamboree on the South Plains, with Spur topping Matador, 41-23, Whitharral easing past Pettit, 23-11, and Springlake grabbing a game from Muleshoe, 35-23, Monday night.

Tonight other cagers will take to the hardwood surface in their search of victories in their respective conferences, with more than usual attention focused on Sundown. There the high school quintet will play host to an Abernathy Antelope five that promises all kind of rough going before the game ends. This game highlights District 4-A play.

Game Rated Toss-Up

On the basis of comparative scores, never ironclad in basketball, the outcome of the game is a toss-up. Sundown beat Post 29-22, while Abernathy beat Post 40-32 three nights later. This would make the Antelopes one-point favorites, but when two conference teams clash, you can throw the book out the window.

Both teams are undefeated in their division of 4-A and both have imposing records. Sundown has played nine games and has won eight, scoring 359 points to their opponents' 237.

The Abernathy record is not quite so clean, but is good enough to be impressive and they have been winning more consistently since the Christmas holidays.

Three lettermen, two of them brothers, sparkle on the Sundown offensive, John and Douglas Ethridge and Jim Hogue, Doug Ethridge has scored 90 points, his brother, 87, and Jim Clark has notched 48. Thus these three players have scored 225 of the team's 359 total.

Two girls games will be played before the varsity event, one game starting at 6 p.m., the other following at 7 p.m. and the main feature at 8 p.m.

Sundown presently is enlarging its 500-seat gym by 500 seats and when finished, the 1,000-seat gym will be one of the best on the South Plains.

Other top attractions in the south half of District 4-A are O'Donnell at Slaton and Tahoka at Post, while the three games in the north division of District 4-A are Littlefield at Olton, Levelland at Muleshoe and Sudan at Morton.

Spur took a 41-23 victory from Matador to open District 3-A play last night and Paducah goes to Lockney, while Floydada visits Crosbyton in other games tonight.

Denver City invades Andrews tonight and Meadow goes to Union in other South Plain cage features.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13. (AP)—Rutgers university isn't exactly bidding for the proposed football of fame, but if anyone wants to put in a plug for the hall's establishment on the site of the first intercollegiate game (which still is available) Rutgers authorities would be very happy . . . From this corner, it appears to be the most logical spot . . . If Columbia Bill Swiacki can carry his pass-catching technique into pro football, the Giants should be a title threat again next year. They have Paul Governali and expect a few newcomers who can pitch.

You Bet

Bill Sansing, U. of Texas tub-thumper, reports that the only bad feature of the Sugar bowl trip was a visit to the fair grounds races before the game . . . One nag entered was "Texas Score" carrying orange and white (Texas color) silks . . . The crowd backed him down from 75-1 to 6-1 . . . "'Texas Score' turned out to be a refugee from Sunnyside Dairies," Bill says. "She ran into the fence at the start of the home stretch (while running 14th in a field of 14) and came loping happily home three minutes later" . . . Alabama's Rea Schuessler topped that with the information that after the 1946 Rose bowl game, the 'Bama boys went to Santa Anita and put the wad on a horse named "Crimson Tide." It fell in the backstretch and had to be shot.

Sing It

Carl Hogendorn of North English, Iowa, claims one of his townsmen saw the Rose bowl game and came back with the news that every time Michigan's Bob Chappuis took the ball, a Trojan would yell: "You can have him, I don't want him, he's too fast for me."

End Of The Line

First applicant for the Colorado U. football coaching job was Chauncey Simpson, Missouri assistant, who heard of Jim Yeager's resignation on the air and had an application in two hours later . . . Bill Cook, who played hockey against such speed kings as Howie Morenz and Hurricane Hec Kilrea, must be trying to start an argument when he says the fastest skater of all is his own Minneapolis wingman, Ants Atanas.

Brown-Wight Team In Ragtime Bowling Win

The Ragtime Doubles bowling match, rolled on the Lubbock Bowling club alleys Saturday and Sunday, ended up with split honors, Ben Brown of Lubbock teaming with Peck Wight of Abilene to take first-place awards with a combined total of 1,282 pins.

This was three more pins than Ben Brown and Leroy Behrens were able to split teamed together. Brown and Wight teamed with 622 and 660 respectively, while Brown came back with Behrens to roll a 1,279 total on 653 and 626 respectively. Third place in the tourney went to Behrens and George Tate of Lubbock with a 1,274 total on 592 and 682 respectively.

Brown High Roller

Ben Brown rolled the high single game in the tournament, splitting the maples for a 279, although Tate pressed him closely with a 277.

High three-game series was rolled by Wight, who had the scintillating tally of 698 on single games of 213-255-228.

The out of town bowlers competing included George Luce, O. D. Busby, Marcus Welch and Roy Tolley, San Angelo; E. B. Dozier, C. G. Runyan and Jake Douglas, Big Spring; Wight of Abilene; and Paul Braden, Austin.

Local bowlers were Ben and T. I. Brown, Tate, Behrens, Tubby Reed, Sam Carter, A. E. Christensen, Dale Vannoy, Ken Kimble, Si Barkley, Al Glassman, G. Young, J. K. Giles and J. A. Peels.

The defending Ragtime Doubles champions were Barkley and Young.

Tech Fencers In Win Over John Tarleton

The Texas Tech fencing team, making its initial start of the season, downed the John Tarleton college fencers Saturday night in Stephenville by the narrow margin of one-point, 14-13.

Tech dropped the foils and epee events by the identical scores of 5-4, then won the match-concluding saber event, 6-3, to hand former Tech coach George Beakley the defeat.

Surprisingly enough Beakley, whose favorite weapon is the epee, lost bouts to both Keith Wells, present Tech coach, and Sammy Self in the epee. But, Beakley came back to defeat Wells in the saber, the Tech coach's favorite weapon.

In the initial novice class matches, Robert Shannon of Houston finished first in the epee, C. R. Barton of Lubbock finished second in the saber and Cooper Slay of Mission ended up in third place in the saber.

Mark Smith, Self and Wells were entered in the foils, the same three fought in the epee and Wells, Slay and Barton fought in the saber.

Locals Go Through Heavy Cage Drill

Lubbock High's Westerner cage squad, fresh from a weekend invasion of El Paso, returned to the Senior High gym Monday afternoon for a lengthy offensive drill.

The Westerners, slated to tangle with Amarillo's Golden Sandies in the lid-blaster of the 1948 District 1-AA basketball season here Friday night, were back in top condition with the return of veteran Jack Alderson to the squad. Alderson missed the Border city tussles because of a mild case of influenza, but appeared to be entirely recovered at yesterday afternoon's session. Richard Herchenroeder, hampered by an ankle injury for the last three weeks, ran through the drill without any sign of a limp.

Coach Harvey Dunn revealed that he was entirely pleased with the showing of the Westerner quint against three strong El Paso teams and said he believed the Lubbock quint would be able to make a strong bid for the district title. Plainview and Amarillo still hold the favored positions in the loop race, but the Westerners have made steady improvement since the opening of the season.

Black Demons Down Cowhands, 35 To 12

The Black Demons, hitting on all five, defeated the Junior Cowhands 35-12 at the Boys club yesterday afternoon, with Keith White poking 17 points through the hoops, while Jim Washington topped the losers with seven tallies.

Gene Tollison scored 12 points to lead the Juniors to an 18-9 win over the Frenship Juniors, and Billy Bohner's 10 points led the Seniors to a 23-14 victory over the Frenship Seniors, paced by Roy Gillit with six points.

Wednesday afternoon the Boys club Midgets and Juniors will play host to similar teams from Sudan in games beginning at 4 p. m.

Unforeseen Circumstances Are Blamed In Housing Of Cagers

Officials of Lubbock High school, emphasizing that it has always been the objective of the school to furnish the best of equipment and accommodations for the athletic teams, Monday night blamed "unforeseen circumstances" for the unsatisfactory housing situation faced by the Westerner basketball squad on a trip to El Paso last weekend.

The "unsatisfactory situation" resulted from the placement of the Lubbock High basketball squad in a Y.M.C.A. dormitory for the three-night stay in the border city. The boys were housed in a large barracks-type room with approximately 100 soldiers and were inconvenienced and disturbed by noise at all hours of the night.

Not Pinch Pennies

E. J. (Pinkey) Lowrey, High school athletic director, said last night that the director of Interscholastic league activities for the city of El Paso had made all room arrangements for the team and that he had no reason to believe that the accommodations would not be entirely satisfactory.

Lowrey denied that any "pinch-penny" attitude of school officials had influenced arrangements. Lowrey pointed out that the football team last fall stayed in the best hotels in the towns where games were played and that the players were furnished the best meals that could be obtained, regardless of the cost. All athletic teams have been furnished new equipment at frequent intervals, Lowrey pointed out, and he said this was the first case where good rooms were not available.

Superintendent of Schools R. W. Matthews revealed that basketball trips out of the South Plains area were expected to "pay their own way," but said that it had always been the policy of the school to furnish the best meals and housing to athletic teams.

Would Pay For Itself

"When the trip first came up," Matthews said, "I was told that the boys wanted to go and that it would provide good experience for them. It was understood that it would more or less pay its own way from expense money received. Since it was not a conference game, and out of this area, it was not considered that the school would pay a large amount for expenses," Supt. Matthews said that a definite budget was followed by the athletic department and that the officials tried to conduct financial matters in a businesslike manner.

It was reported that the High school athletic department received $300 from El Paso for expenses, but only $150 remained after payment of bus charter fare for food and hotel expenses for the squad.

Dexter, N. M., one of the other cage squads playing in El Paso last weekend, stayed in private rooms at the Y. M. C. A., but the Amarillo squad stayed at the Hilton hotel, it was reported.

Crack Heavyweights Will Enter Tourney

There's an old saying that you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink and the simile might hold true for some people.

J. D. Kirkpatrick, the good-looking heavyweight fighter from Petersburg, certainly doesn't fall into that category. He tried to avoid his return to the ring, but the love for the fight game was too strong in his heart.

So Monday he, despite the protests of his family, returned to the grind of getting in shape for the punching he looked forward to exchanging in the sqared circle. He will make his title defense in the Golden Gloves at the Texas Tech gym between Feb. 2 and Feb. 5.

At the same time another heavyweight, John W. Stevens, 23, of Paris Junior college, told his father, M. D. Stevens of Lubbock, that he probably would enter the Lubbock regional.

He, too, has an impressive record. In 123 fights he has lost but five, and, for the past two years, has been defending heavyweight in the East Texas area.

"He's a fighter," the father, M. D. Stevens, said. "Young M. D. fights, too, at the Boys club. I'm proud of my boys. They know how to fight and have the hearts of fighters."

Orange is the color most likely to attract attention, color experts say.

Irish Given Grid Championship Trophy

Notre Dame Declares Titles Should Be Won On The Field

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 13 (AP)—Notre Dame, although defeated by Michigan in a post-season Associated Press poll of sports writers, says that "championships should be won on the field."

A Notre Dame official made that statement last night before about 1,200 persons at the annual football banquet at which Notre Dame was awarded the Dr. Henry L. Williams trophy, symbolic of the national football championship, presented by the University of Minnesota "M" club.

Awarded After Poll

The Williams trophy was awarded Notre Dame on the basis of the Associated Press poll of sports writers at the close of the regular season Dec. 6. The post-season poll was taken after Michigan's stunning 49-0 victory over Southern California in the Rose Bowl game Jan. 1.

The Rev. John H. Murphy, Notre Dame vice president and chairman of the faculty board of control of athletics, took cognizance of both polls in a speech in which he declared:

No Reason To Disagree

"I am sure that you and I and millions of other football fans — as well as the University of Minnesota 'M' club — have no reason to disagree with the voices of the nation's sports writers in the Associated Press poll at the end of the regular season, which has come to be accepted as the final word on this subject; and that we also heartily concur with the logical assurance of the AP that a post season poll was not intended to supersede the votes at the end of the regular season.

"And I am sure that all of us, including the coaches and players of the very fine Michigan squad of this year, believe that, whenever possible, championships should be won on the field."

In mid-season, Irish Coach Frank Leahy said publicly at a Chicago luncheon that "we're ready to play Michigan anytime, anyplace."

13 Former Soldiers Get Clemency Awards

DALLAS, Jan. 13. (AP)—Thirteen former U. S. soldiers, inmates of the Seagoville Federal Correctional institution, today had received certificates of recognition and awards of clemency for having volunteered as "human guinea pigs" in malarid control tests

The 13 received the awards in a ceremony in the institution's auditorium yesterday.

Each of the inmates, who were convicted by courts martial and given federal prison sentences, received clemency awards.

Mrs. Louise W. Anderson, prison record clerk, said several 20-year sentences were reduced to 12 years; a 30-year sentence was cut to 22½, and one life term was shortened to 22½ years.

The men were the first of 133 prisoners to volunteer and had submitted themselves to tests for 18 months.

Federal Judge W. H. Atwell, Harry Withers, Dallas newspaper editor, and Dr. W. Clark Cooper of the National Institute of Health at Washington, were speakers.

Tech Raiders Leave For Arizona Games

Coach Polk Robison and a 12-man basketball squad from Texas Tech left this morning for a three-day invasion of Arizona during which time they faced an excellent chance of making or breaking their record in Border Conference play.

The first game will be in Tucson, Ariz., Wednesday night, when the Red Raiders will oppose the same defending Border loop champions they defeated in Lubbock Friday night, 65-38. Neither team is expected to be changed at all, but the Wildcats will have the advantage of playing at home.

Thursday night the Raiders will invade Tempe for a clash with an Arizona State quintet that appears to be strong, but not as strong as the university five. Tempe has had rough going on its early schedule, faring only fairly well against conference teams.

The following night the Raiders enter Flagstaff for the final game of the trip and not too much is known of the Flagstaff group, except that they perenially have strong teams.

Bowling Scores

Clint's Fountaineers remained in first place in the Commercial Bowling league last night by taking a clean sweep of three matches from the Glassman Scouts, while Arthur Lay and Company dropped two of three to the Lubbock Bowling club five.

Lester's Jewelers won two of three from Rix Insurance company, while S & Q Clothiers climbed into a tie with Glassman's by winning two of three from the Lubbock Battery and Electric company.

Bess Brown captured high series honors with a 234-595 and was pressed for top place by Ken Kimble with a 216-586 and Leroy Behrens with a 221-575.

Navy Shopping For A Civilian Coach

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 13 (AP)—The Navy, hoping an injection of outside blood will help give it a winning football team, went shopping today for a civilian coach.

Rear Adm. James L. Holloway, jr., academy superintendent, disclosed yesterday the Navy had abandoned the graduate coaching system in effect here for the last 14 years and that Capt. Tom Hamilton, who coached the Middies in 1946 and 1947, had been appointed director of athletics.

Navy's change of course came after two seasons during which it dropped 15 games, tied one and won only two.

Leftwich Five Loses To Gassers, 76-57

The Plains Gassers, displaying their greatest form of the season, poured it on the Leftwich Lumber quintet in the Texas Tech gym last night for a 76-57 victory.

Bob Galey, versatile Gassers' forward, pitched 34 points through the hoops for high scoring honors, while Bowley scored 26 points for the losing team. The Gassers took an early lead and never were headed.

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 13 (U.P.)—George (Red) Forehand, coach of the Brackenridge high school Eagles, state schoolboy football champions, today was the proud owner of a 1948 model automobile. The car was given Forehand last night by professional and business men at a banquet honoring the coaching staff and team.

TEXAS FIGHTER SCORES

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 13 (AP)—A fast finish in the last two rounds earned a decision for Bert Linam, Austin, Tex., over Cosby Linson, New Orleans middleweight, here last night.

Commissioners Court Okays Road Projects

A Monday afternoon routine business meeting of county commissioners court authorized expenditure of a total of $3,004.12 for road construction, engineering services on roads, right of way, and machinery and machinery repairs.

It also authorized Ben Mansker, commissioner of county precinct 2, to sell at public sale a small tract of land next to Lubbock cemetery. Mexicans had indicated they would like to purchase it for cemetery purposes.

Expenditures authorized were:

To C. A. Tubbs for engineering services, $85.94; to West Texas Equipment company for machinery parts and repairs, $753.38; to Paul Wilson for right of way on a lateral road between Slaton and Idalou, $255; to J. R. Fanning for estimate No. 1 on road construction on Thirty-fourth street and on the Slide highway, $1,909.80.

Other commissioners are R. Q. Short, Ottis Isom and Pat Corley. County Judge Walter Davies presided.

Use Of A Toothpick Good Dental Hygiene

DALLAS, Jan. 13 (U.P.)—It may be unsightly, but it sure is healthy. The using of a toothpick to clean the teeth, that is

That's the opinion of Dr. Edward L. Ball of Cincinnati, here for the three-day Dallas Midwinter Dental clinic which ends Wednesday.

Biggest loss of teeth is caused by pyorrhea, Dr. Ball said, and pyorrhea can be warded off by keeping the mouth clean. And using the toothpick is one of the most important ways to keep the mouth neat and tidy.

Yep, it may be unsightly, but it's sure healthy.

Colt Brings $70,000 In Inglewood Sale

INGLEWOOD, Calif., Jan. 13. (U.P.)—The highest price ever paid in modern times for a two-year-old colt was the tag carried today by Imperial Rock who brought $70,000 last night at the Louis B. Mayer dispersal sale.

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.
Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.
No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Burglary Ring Is Broken Up

SILVER CITY, N. M., Jan. 13 (U.P.)—Police here today said they had broken up a burglary gang with the arrest of a Silver City woman, her 19-year-old son, and six juveniles ranging in age from 12 to 16.

The arrests end a mysterious series of burglaries that have plagued Silver City residents for the past four weeks, Police Chief Denver Littlefield said.

Littlefield said that many of the stolen items were found concealed under the living room floor of Mrs. Anna Todd's home. A full length rug had been tacked back over the floor, hiding the entrance to the cache.

Most Of Lost Found

Practically all of the loot has been recovered and identified by the owners. But police are still searching for 1,400 dynamite caps which were said to have been stolen and were still missing.

The stolen goods ranged from a mink coat and $300 opal ring to western boots, cigarets and liquor.

Littlefield and State Patrolman Joe Roach uncovered a chain of clues which led to the arrests.

Mrs. Todd has her 11-month-old infant in the Grant county jail with her.

Parents' Boycott

pounds, the fuel oil is automatically cut off and remains off until lighted by hand by the man who is constantly on duty in the boiler room. Should, as some argue, the man go to sleep on the job nothing could happen except that the building would begin to get cold. Should the automatic fuel cut-off fail to work, the pop-off valve on the boiler would release the steam. The boiler now has a double control."

To Meet With Officials

Claude Brown, named chairman of a committee to consult with school board members regarding the boilers, declined to estimate how many children will be kept away by parents, beginning today, but expressed belief it will be "a majority."

Other members named to the committee included Gus J. Beevers, Home H. Brady, T. C. Scott and W. L. Simmons.

Brown said he called H. L. Allen, president of the board of trustees of Lubbock Independent school district, after the meeting and advised him of the action.

After last Tuesday's explosion the school was closed for the remainder of the week and all automatic features of the boiler were removed, since a pilot light mechanism could not be obtained, Allen told an Avalanche-Journal reporter. An extra man was hired with the specific duty of watching the furnace at all times while the school heating system was on.

As it now operates, Allen explained, the boiler fire is turned off and lighted manually, by the attendant. The danger of fuel oil leakage into the boiler before it ignites was eliminated by this means.

Allen indicated he would call a school board meeting in the near future.

The text of the petition was as follows:

"We, the undersigned, are hereby expressing our intention to withhold our children from Chris Harwell school until measures are taken to correct the danger in the present heating system."

Boom For Ike

university especially New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. There will be a Dewey slate of delegates in the New Hampshire primary and a slate pledged to former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota.

The feeling around Washington is that Ike would be a glamorous political figure with vote appeal beyond that of others mentioned for the GOP nomination. Dewey's strategy has been to let the nomination come and get him, as it did in 1944 after primary triumphs in various states. If Ike sweeps the New Hampshire primary the polling will not have done Dewey's chances any good, or Stassen's either.

The big drums are also beginning to beat for Ike in Pennsylvania, one of the fat and dominant states. His supporters there announced last night that his name would be placed on the ballot in Pennsylvania's April 27 primary. There is a lot of prairie states sentiment for Ike, too.

Classes At Asbury Will Be Expanded

As part of the plan of Bishop Charles C. Selecman for operation of Protestant parochial schools in Methodist church plants throughout the Northwest Texas conference, Dr. C. A. Bickley, pastor at Asbury Methodist, Twentieth and Ave. T, said the church has plans to enlarge a school already operating.

A kindergarten class has been in operation at Asbury for several months, under direction of Mrs. Leo Weaver, the announcement said. The pastor said he and other church leaders are working with the education committee on a plan to enlarge the classes to meet suggestions made by Bishop Selecman last fall and again recently at the conference school of evangelism here.

The bishop had suggested use of annexes and educational plant facilities at the various churches for courses on three levels that would supplement public school work, with emphasis on religious education. He suggested classes three afternoons each week on primary, junior and senior levels.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

DECLINE IS RESUMED

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP) — Softness of oils had a deteriorating influence on other sections of today's stock market.

While dealings were fairly active at intervals when prices wavered, the ticker tape frequently was idle. Slowdowns appeared at the start of the final hour as extreme losses running to 2 or more points were reduced in a number of cases but the slide was resumed toward the last. Declines were widespread at the close. Transfers for the full proceedings were in the neighborhood of 1,000,000 shares.

The Monday nose-dive of Gulf Oil, on word additional stock would be offered shareholders, was followed by an early dip today in such issues as Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Co., Gulf Oil, Mission Corp., Standard Oil of Ohio, Ohio Oil, Pure Oil and Socony. Weakness was blamed partly on talk of new financing for important companies in this field.

In arrears most of the time were Southern Railway, Atlantic Coast Line, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Deere, Caterpillar Tractor, American Smelting, U. S. Gypsum and American Woolen. Loew's and Twentieth Century-Fox touched bottom for the past year.

Wall street pessimism was attributed partly to apprehension regarding business, taxes, European relief, firming money rates and mounting corporation costs.

Bonds eased with rails in supply.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP) — Cotton futures were easier in slow dealings today. Uncertainty over the Washington developments of foreign aid, continued dullness in the textile market, and weakness in grains stimulated liquidation through commission houses in New Orleans. Hedging was light while mill buying appeared mostly on the scale down.

The new cotton exchange service estimated December cotton consumption at 755,000 bales against 760,000 in November and 776,000 in December a year ago.

Late afternoon prices were 25 to 70 cents a bale lower than the previous close. March 35.84, May 35.81, July 34.64.

Greek War Minister Stratos Under Fire

ATHENS, Jan. 13. (U.P.)—American and Greek officials met today to try to get together on basic disagreements over the direction of the campaign against the Greek guerrillas, with War Minister George Stratos under fire.

Reliable sources said Stratos failed to keep American aid officials informed of his plans, increased the national defense corps without authorization, and refused to cooperate in the American-sponsored program to reduce the rolls of government employes.

British Doing The Best They Can

Handicapped by lack of cash, crippled, economically, by a war in which she bore much of the brunt, Britain has done what she can to revitalize her zone in Germany.

She has some of the coal mines operating and her representatives in the Ruhr can take some satisfaction in the figures which show coal production on the upswing.

Slowly and painfully, Britain has tried to reclaim some of the wrecked plants, so they may go into production of items divorced from war-making but essential to restoration of the German economy.

But Britain doesn't have the strength left to do today all she should do, or wants to do, in the rebuilding of Western Germany. On American shoulders, then, falls added responsibility, so steps are being taken to weld British and American zones together into an integrated Bi-Zonal authority.

It is not Britain's fault that this added responsibility is ours. She is like a man, up from a long illness, who simply can't do a day's work chopping down trees.

We, over here, may not like it—but there's nothing we can do about it.

NO one can spend three days and nights with the British in Germany hear their story and view their problems "on the ground," without coming away with added respect for the "bulldogs of the Tight Little Isle."

They haven't got much to work with in England today. In their occupation, they have even less.

But they aren't crying. Their heads are up. Their chins are firm.

One night while we were in the Ruhr, the British commander gave our group a dinner party. Present were the members of his staff and their ladies.

The food was simple and sparse.

British uniforms, regardless of rank, showed wear.

The ladies were coiffed and prettied up—even as our ladies are under such circumstances—but their evening gowns showed unmistable signs of useage.

Yet, withal, they were merry and they asked no quarter. They were "muddling through," as the British always have done.

I have always been right smart of an Anglo-phobe. I can get as mad as any American over British patronizing airs and the way they slick us up, diplomatically.

Don't Forget The British!

But I saw enough in Europe to convince me that we must stick with England and that England must stick with us. Despite the atom bomb and other new weapons of war, the British Navy continues to be an important line in our own defense; the RAF a worthy ally in the clouds; the British Tommy a staunch backer-upper on the ground.

These conditions, plus the fact that they were our valuable allies in two world wars are what lead me to say to West Texans:

"Help the suffering everywhere in the world, if you will with food and clothing and medicine. But don't forget the British. Until England wins the Battle of Austerity, Britons should be at the top—or close to it—on our list of those to whom we extend a friendly, helping hand."

THE Gods of Fate must be chuckling these days as they look down upon the old Krupp Villa in Essen and see British uniforms passing under the great painting of the Krupp family, which still hangs in the Grand Hall of one of the most expensive residences on the face of the earth. For the British are using the longtime home of the Krupps as their GHQ in the Ruhr and as living quarters, too, for part of their general staff.

No longer do the great drawingrooms, the formal diningroom which could seat 150 guests, or the sprawling suites upstairs ring to "Seig Heil," or to folksongs celebrating the House of Krupp von Bohlen und Halmach. Instead, softer voices call "Gentlemen, the King!," or "Wot sy, old chap, we have a cup of tea?"

There is, there must be, justice in the world—even though it sometimes is slow in raising its head!

(TOMORROW: The powder keg of Europe is beautiful and graceful Trieste, on the blue Adriatic, where American and British troops face the Yugoslavs in a new "Free State." Tomorrow Mr. Guy will describe conditions there, where West meets East, politically, in the closest contact the U. S. and England have with a stooge of Joe Stalin.)

Highway Deaths

. . . Gentlemen, it's a local problem."

Sgt. Stroud cited the fact that during 1947, a total of 100 persons died in highway collisions in the 21 counties of this area compared to 73 during 1946.

Stroud cited statistics which show that 40 per cent of fatalities on highways in Texas in 1946 involved intoxicated drivers. He said 60 per cent of the smashups occur when one vehicle is attempting to pass another.

"We should ask ourselves the question: 'Have I as an individual conducted myself toward my fellow man as I would have him conduct himself toward me?'," Sgt. Stroud said. "Let us discipline ourselves to such a degree that we will not become involved in these smashups on the highways."

Sgt. Stroud said institution of state-approved drivers' training courses in high schools is one effective method toward eliminating smashups, especially among the younger age groups. He said efforts have been made for the past two years to get such a course started in Lubbock High school.

Sgt. Stroud was introduced by Winston Clark, program chairman.

During the luncheon, the club voted to discontinue its paper drive and turn over the project to the Lubbock Boy Scouts. Tom Gordon invited Optimists to attend the world premiere of W. G. McMillan's African hunt pictures at Senior High school auditorium, Jan. 23.

Jerry Holleman was introduced as a new member.

Lions Club Origin, Purpose Explained

A brief talk on the origin and purposes of the Lions club, by K. L. Riggs, chairman of the Lubbock club's inter-club relations committee, and an announcement that next week's luncheon will be a joint session on Monday with the Jaycees, featured the Lions luncheon today at the Hilton hotel.

Riggs, introduced by Geo. R. Bean, chairman of the committee on Lions education, stresses that Lions was organized as a "service" club, not a "civic" club. He pointed up "ways to be a good Lion."

Club President J. Wm. Davis announced that no meeting will be held next Tuesday, regular date, but that the club will meet jointly with Jaycees to hear Harold E. Stassen, Republican candidate for President. He emphasized that no visitors can be accommodated at the meeting.

Stress was laid on payment of poll taxes in an announcement by J. B. Johnston, county tax collector, who said Jan. 31 is the last day in which poll taxes can be paid, and that various organizations plan booths in several localities in the city for convenience of the public in paying the polls.

Reginald Russell was introduced as a new member. Invocation was by Paul Sherrod.

Joseph V. Connolly Survivors Are Safe

Crew Members Rescued After 12-Hour Ordeal In Rough Seas Of Mid-Atlantic

(By The United Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 13—The 46 survivors of the fire-gutted army coffin ship Joseph V. Connolly were reported in good condition today aboard two rescue ships that picked them from lifeboats in the rough seas of the mid-Atlantic where they had drifted helplessly for 12 hours.

All aboard the Antwerp-bound Connolly—which left here Thursday to pick up 6,300 bodies of World war II dead in Europe—were saved yesterday in a dramatic rescue operation in which planes and ships of the army, navy, coast guard and merchant marine cooperated.

Three of the 27 survivors taken aboard the Union Victory were in need of hospitalization, although none was critically hurt. The 19 saved by the army transport Gen. R. E. Callan were reported in good shape except for minor burns and bruises.

The ship represented a $2,225,000 loss, army officials said. Although it was still afloat and burning with decks awash, it was expected the navy would sink it.

Army officials said the 5,400 empty caskets aboard the ship were worth $1,250,000 and that $1,100,000 was spent on construction and conversion of the 7,176-ton Connolly.

The army transport was abandoned yesterday when an engine room fire raged out of control. Ships and planes were dispatched to the position 900 miles east of New York but the planes were unable to find the lifeboats until nine hours later.

Capt. Donald Davidson, of Cleveland, O., pilot of a B-17 from Bermuda sighted flares from the lifeboats shortly before 2 p. m. The plane dropped medical supplies to the survivors and circled the boats until the Union Victory and the General Callon arrived at the scene about 4:30 p. m.

This compares with an estimated 450,000,000 bushels this year. Anderson released figures showing that the wheat export figures assumed four more billion-bushel wheat crops.

Anderson said the program would also help provide sizable export markets, also for cotton, tobacco, lard, rice and certain fruits and vegetables.

He urged Congress to use the machinery of the Agriculture department and Commodity Credit corporation in carrying out the European recovery program.

The economy-minded Republican senators agreed at their closed meeting last night that a slash in the administration's Marshall plan estimates was necessary to prevent "too heavy a drain on the U. S. economy."

Excepted from the increase will be shipments of pulpwood in carloads, asphalt in tank car carloads, cement, silica sand in open cars or in box or hopper cars, in carloads; or in connection with rates on crude petroleum oil, the following runs: from McCamey to Baytown; from Midland to Baytown and Houston; from Midland to Fort Worth; and from Midland to Camps and Longview junction, as established by certain railroad freight circulars.

Bonus For Veterans Is Called Un-Texan

AUSTIN, Jan. 13. (U.P.)—A state bonus for veterans of World war II was branded today as "un-Texan" by Gov. Beauford H. Jester, who commended University of Texan veterans for their reported opposition to a bonus.

The governor pointed to a recent campus meeting at which opposition was expressed by students to a veterans bonus.

"I believe their attitude expresses the attitude of the veteran in Texas," Jester said. "There might be some states whose veterans want them to pay a bonus, but I agree that it's un-Texan."

A spokesman for the National Association of Attorneys General said the new legislation, "to clarify the ownership" of submerged coastal lands will be presented to Congress by the association which regards the question as "a fundamental issue of states rights."

Budget Slash

months, the budget says only $4,000,000,000 of that sum will be spent during the 12 months starting July 1.

The New Yorker termed even that "too much."

And, Taber added, "the President's proposals for huge outlays for education, social welfare and housing, just to mention a few, seem way out of line even if Congress does authorize these programs."

Whatever the decision on his $5,000,000,000 goal, Taber said he "wouldn't be satisfied with anything less" than a cut of $4,500,000,000.

Republican leaders are determined to ram through an income tax reduction bill this year that may trim by more than $5,000,000,000 the $44,477,000,000 in revenues estimated by Mr. Truman for the next fiscal year.

THE N. Y. Herald Trib's audieulogy for talented magazine editor Frank Crowninshield pointed out that he published the first works of many scriveners including ours. The same piece recalls that he was so kind to authors that his rejections sometimes required a second reading to discover it was not an acceptance.

Plans Made For New Presbyterian Church

Establishment of a new Presbyterian church in southwest Lubbock was announced Monday.

The new church was approved by the Deacons and Elders, official bodies of the First Presbyterian church, in a joint session Sunday afternoon. Some of the members of the First Presbyterian church who live in the vicinity of the building site at Thirty-third and Tyler, will form the nucleus of the new church to be organized in the near future.

A tract of land at Thirty-third and Tyler was made available for site of the new church.

The church will be the second new church to be sponsored by the First Presbyterian church of which Dr. J. M. Lewis is pastor. The chapel Presbyterian church in the Arnett-Benson addition was begun as a chapel of the First church in 1940, and was organized as a Presbyterian church in February, 1947.

Name of the new southwest Lubbock church will be selected when the church is organized, it was said.

BY DREW PEARSON: THIS COUNTRY'S GOOD DEEDS OUGHT TO BE PUBLICIZED

Italy Learns Indirectly Of $60,000,000 Favor

BOLOGNA, Italy. (By Wireless) —When I left the United States I promised various editors in cities which had contributed to the friendship train that I would give them a careful report on the distribution of the food and whether the people of France and Italy fully realized that it came from the American people. So far, I can conscientiously say that the over-all reaction has been excellent and the food is being distributed efficiently.

However, there was one development in Paris which indicates the difficulty of getting American aid identified for what it is—American. It was agreed by American church and relief groups in France that after the first Friendship Train ran to Marseilles, at least one American would ride on each of the nine subsequent friendship trains to other French cities, in order to stage appropriate ceremonies with the local mayors and the French press explaining how the food had been collected and how it truly came from the American people.

Geoffrey Parsons, editor of the Paris edition of the New York Herald Tribune, did a fine job of this on the first train and Henry Cassidy of the National Broadcasting company together with Harry Hill, president of the American club in Paris, agreed to get either an American newsman or an American businessman to accompany each train. The American relief agencies also agreed to send a man on ahead to each town, in order to organize appropriate receptions and to give the story of the friendship train to local newspapers. In addition, relief agencies agreed to print a booklet with pictures of the food being distributed in order further to impress the French people with the way the food was being used and where it had come from.

Inept Public Relations

Following my departure for Italy, however, Donald Lowery, head of the Y.M.C.A. in Paris, called a meeting of American church and relief groups and urged that what he called the "Pearson Ballyhoo" be dropped. He proposed that the food be distributed on schedule, but without the previously agreed-upon program to identify it with the American givers. With the exception of one American agency—the joint Jewish distribution committee—the relief groups agreed with him. It was voted to cut out the so-called Pearson publicity.

Hearing of this action, the American embassy discreetly intervened. Officially, the embassy has nothing to do with the Friendship food though unofficially its staff has been of tremendous help. Now, upon urging of the embassy, the previously planned ceremonies for each Friendship have been reinstated.

The New York Herald Tribune's William Attwood has just published an interesting report from Arsoli, Italy, entitled "No one knows who sent the foods." In it he tells how, thanks to American aid, 2,000 people in one Italian village are eating better and are warmer than at any time since the war but the local mayor is a Communist and he tells the people that the American food which he distributes is from Stalin, while the people think the food distributed by the church groups is from the Vatican. Nobody gives any credit to the United States.

SINCE last July, Italy has received 200 shiploads of gift food from the United States and Ambassador James C. Dunn has religiously met many of these ships in order to impress upon the people the fact that the food comes from the United States. However, it is Attwood's conclusion that they still realize this only vaguely and that, in the smaller towns at least, the Vatican and Stalin are still getting the major credit.

Part of this misunderstanding is due to the fact that the U. S. wheat is turned over to the Italian government for distribution, which is probably the only machinery possible for bulk handling, but part is due also to the nickel-nursing of Congressman John Taber and his GOP colleagues who cut the heart out of the State department's propaganda program. And finally it's due to some of the most inept public relations imaginable.

For instance, when the United States recently turned over to Italy 22 Italian warships given the United States by terms of the peace treaty, it was big news back in the United States but got scant notice in the Italian press because no one took the trouble to dig up the names of the vessels or the fascinating background relating to them. Later, John Secondari, then editor of the Rome American, managed to unearth the fact that the Conte Grande, one of Italy's prize passenger vessels, actually had been allocated to Brazil and that the U. S. government paid $60,000,000 to Brazil to get the ship back and give it to Italy. The Italian people, however, knew nothing about this. No one in the American government took the trouble to inform them.

Italians Print Posters

One hundred and fifty big trucks, draped with Italian and American flags, left the Rome railroad station during my last day in Rome to drive slowly up the historic Campidoglio. In the trucks were bags of flour, some marked with greetings from Fort Worth; some with greetings from Buffalo, N. Y.; Richmond, Va., and from Jackson county, Missouri — President Truman's home—and from scores of other cities and towns in the U. S.

On the sides of the trucks were big posters, showing a picture of the Friendship Train in the United States with a message in the Italian language. We had these posters especially printed in the United States and even brought along brushes, varnish, paste and adhesive tape to guarantee their use. However, the Italians went our brushes, varnish, paste and adhesive tape one better and printed some excellent posters of their own. The trucks had been loaded from the first Friendship Train arriving at Naples and Rome and the long line of them parading through the city attracted throngs in the streets.

LATER, at Campidoglio square, beside the statue of Marcus Aurelius, the mayor of Rome thanked the American people for their generosity while Premier Alcide De Gasperi and Foreign Minister Carlos Sforza applauded. But due to diplomatic niceties, Premier De Gasperi could not speak at the Campidoglio, since this is Rome's city hall and the sanctuary of the mayor. Later, however, De Gasperi entertained all those connected with the Friendship Train at his official home, where he spoke eloquently.

Referring to the spontaneous gesture of the American people in organizing the Friendship Train, the Italian premier said: "Hitler and Mussolini committed a grave error when they attributed the possibility of American intervention to economic considerations alone . . .

"During a parade up Broadway to the city hall in New York I was struck by the view of a little old church set, with its churchyard, just off Wall street, the financial center of the world. In this narrow space, that little church had resisted and stemmed the onrush of business. This contrast is symbolical of American civilization and still has within it the ideals of its founders. Those ideals restrain the material elements of economic life today.

"The Friendship Train shows that Democracy and liberty can bring to the surface what is best in man and, for supplying us with this evidence, we thank you. I ask you to convey back to your people the very warmest expressions of our lasting gratitude. You, Mr. Pearson, are best qualified to tell them simply and sincerely how deep these feelings are."

The population of Egypt under the Ptolemys has been estimated at 7,000,000 compared with 18,000,000 today.

Wallace Has Dealt Forceful Blow To Demo Party Chances

WASHINGTON — The force of the blow that Henry Wallace has dealt to President Truman's chances for reelection will become increasingly evident as time goes by. It may well be a mortal blow.

CHILDS

That is why the old guard of the Republican party is so overjoyed. They are getting the feeling that they can sit tight and win without making any concessions to the independent voter. They feel that the prize will at long last fall to them no matter who the candidate or what the platform.

This is the profound disservice that Wallace has done to his country at a moment when the whole world is watching to see what America's course will be. He has done his best to make sure that there will be no real contest in the fall.

It is not that he wasn't warned, and well in advance, of the effect of a third-party move in 1948. A little behind-scenes history is revealing of Wallace's determination to go through with the gesture even though, like Samson, he might pull down the pillars of the very structure he professed to defend.

Wallace Plan Clear

Several months ago a prominent New Deal Democrat was approached by Wallace and his followers with an interesting offer. They wanted this man, who has real grass-roots connections and influence, to become Wallace's political manager. What is more, they offered him a salary so large that at first he did not believe he had heard correctly.

In the discussion it became clear that Wallace intended to go through with the third-party bid. The offer was refused by the New Dealer who phrased his refusal more or less as follows:

"If you go through with this, you will make reaction more or less inevitable. And in the process you will destroy yourself.

"I am going to stay in the Democratic Party and I am going to support Truman in 1948. I strongly urge you to do the same. In that way you will be able to influence the policies of the administration and the nature of the campaign.

"THEN IF you still feel after the election that the President has let you down, you will have two courses ahead of you. You can start a third party with a clear conscience that, you have paid a debt of loyalty. Or you can work for a liberalization of the Democratic Party and for your own nomination in 1952."

Wallace did not care for this advice. It went against the decision that had been taking shape in his mind. That decision has been constantly seconded by a little group of Communists and ardent fellow-travelers who see in Wallace, with his cloudy idealism and his ready emotionalism, a heaven-sent opportunity.

Throughout his career this has been Wallace's chief weakness. He has let himself be guided by some very curious people. That was true even when he was vice-president. In his character is a kind of passivity this makes him willing to follow those who are aggressively sure of the direction in which they want to go and who say so in loud, determined voices.

Wallace is not so much a politician as a scientist and philosopher. His contribution to science is not small. That is perhaps why, when he forces himself to become the stump orator, as he did in announcing his candidacy, the result is painful demogaguery.

It was significant that at least some of Wallace's friends wanted to hire a manager with practical political knowledge. There is no one who comes close to that description in his camp today.

Today Wallace is the captive of nimble-minded men who know the exact measure of his usefulness to them. During the past month he has been deserted by many former camp-followers who came to a sudden realization of where the road was leading. They declined to follow their one-time hero to that dead end.

THIS is not intended to minimize Wallace's influence. I think that influence is considerable. In a following column I want to analyze why that should be so.

A realist long familiar with the failures and successes of the Democratic Party put it this way: "We Democrats cannot win without the lunatic fringe, and Wallace will take it with him." In that statement there is an element of brutal truth. But it is more than that. It is the appeal of a man who seems to voice the hopes and fears of many people who are troubled and confused.

Legion Post Hears Talk On Communism

Belief that the United States faces real danger from Communism and that war is likely was expressed in a talk by Bob N. Massengale, legal adviser and chief clerk in the Department of Public Safety at Austin, before 125 members of the Allen Bros. post of the American Legion in a talk Monday night.

Massengale recently attended a seminar in Washington sponsored by the American Legion for the purpose of discussing Russia and Communism.

He was invited to speak before the Lubbock post and made a special trip to Lubbock to speak.

Members of the post also voted to revive and sponsor a drum and bugle corps within the next four weeks. They discussed decline in membership of the post from 921 last year to 738 Monday, and formation of a drill team to act as firing squad at military funerals.

Judgment Is Asked

Judgment in damages in $14,023.80 was asked in a suit filed Monday afternoon against the City of Lubbock and William Purvin Stephenson.

It was brought by John Francis Brown, a minor, by and through L. E. Brown, individually and as next friend of the minor, and alleged young Brown, then 15 and a newspaper carrier boy, was injured the afternoon of July 22 when his motor scooter and a truck allegedly driven by Stephenson for the city were in collision at Twenty-sixth and Washington Ave.

The petition was filed by the law firm of Burks & McNeil.

Hear Ye, Congress Is Now In Session

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

A HUSBAND in California is attempting to get a divorce from his wife on the grounds that he was "shoved into marriage."

MILLETT

If the divorce is granted, women had better hope that the judge in the case clearly defines the term "shoved into marriage."

If "shoved into marriage" is allowed to become confused with "led into marriage," the great majority of marriages would fall into that classification.

Few men, however attractive they find a girl, ever wind up at the altar without being led there, gently but firmly.

"After all, it's not as though we were engaged," a girl says sweetly when a young man objects to having competition.

"Let's window shop," a girl suggests after a movie with the young man she has marked for her own.

"Instead of going out to dinner Saturday night, why don't you come over to our house? Mother and Dad are going out and I'll cook your dinner," she says.

THERE ARE MORE

THOSE are only a few of the more usual ways by which girls gently lead men up to the idea of marriage, and the altar.

Those girls aren't shoving, mind you—just leading. But let's keep the distinction clear, Judge. It wouldn't do for men who have been "led" to the altar to get it into their heads that they were shoved.

Today's Thought

For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich.—II Corinthians 8:9.

But chiefly Thou,
Whom soft-eyed Pity once
led down from Heaven
To bleed for man, to teach
him how to live,
And, oh! still harder lesson!
how to die.

—Bishop Porteus.

"Try And Stop Me"

A MAN'S cigaret lighter failed to work. (What? One of those stories again?) and he took it to his tobacconist to have it repaired. "Maybe you just need new fluid," suggested the tobacconist. "No, I've tested it," reported the owner of the gadget. "The spirit is willing, but the flash is weak."

That reminds me of the comedian who sent a wire to a lifelong rival on the latter's opening night, reading, "I can't be there in spirit so I'm coming in person."

FRANKLIN P. ADAMS reports a fabulous conversation with his local garageman. He quoted Byron and Bryant while his car was being serviced. "Who are they?" asked the garageman. "Poets," said Adams. "I see," said the garageman. "So there's two of them!" There are five or six poets," said Adams coldly. "Well, I'll be durned," said the garageman.

Lubbock Lodge To Install Officers

New officers of the Knights of Pythias lodge will be installed at a dinner meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the lodge hall, 1107 Ave. K.

Installing officers will be John T. Agee, district deputy of Lamesa, it was announced.

New officers to be installed are J. B. Patterson, chancellor commander, Tom Moore, vice chancellor, Robert Porter, prelate, Sherman Anderson, master-at-arms, Acle Cope, secretary, O. R. Sadler, financial secretary, S. M. Mitchell, master of exchequer, Frank French, inner guard, K. Moore, outer guard, and Hub Lee, trustee.

Milton Hartman is retiring chancellor commander.

Visitors from Tahoka, Lamesa and Spur will attend the meeting and John Lee Smith, past supreme chancellor, also is expected to attend, lodge officials said.

Today's Journal Editorial

MR. TRUMAN'S "TAX RELIEF"

An unfavorable aspect of the tax "relief" program proposed by President Truman which may have escaped the attention of many people has been suggested by John T. Flynn, writer on economic subjects. It is a suggestion which, definitely, makes sense.

As will be recalled, Mr. Truman proposed that reductions in taxes on lower income groups be offset by increased levies on corporations so that the government's total take would remain unchanged.

Mr. Flynn charges that this pretense of providing relief for people of low income is "dishonest." His argument seemingly is irrefutable that corporations would pass any increase in their taxes right back to the consumers who, overwhelmingly, are low income people. This always has happened. There is no reason to suppose it would not happen again.

Perhaps indirect taxes in this manner might be a little less painful to John Q. Taxpayer than when he hands cold cash to Uncle Sam. But the President's plan probably would cost the little fellows just as much as at present. The only change would be in the method of payment.

Moral Re-Armament Idea Has Some Startling Possibilities

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 — The Moral Re-Armament idea, that all the world's troubles would vanish if everybody would just loving everybody else, has some alarming possibilities.

Think what it would be like if this love business caught on in Congress, where at least 16 of the statesmen have signed up as sponsors of the lately revived "Movement."

EDSON

Wouldn't you be surprised to pick up your paper today and read that Speaker Joe Martin and Republican Chairman Brazilla Carroll Reece had been invited over to the White House to sing carols with Margaret, while the President accompanied them on the piano.

Or think what your reaction would be if that big-hearted and generous man, Chairman John Taber of the House Appropriations Committee, should announce over the radio that—filled with remorse and pity over the hunger and starvation of Europe's millions of war victims, he was going to raise expenditures for stop-gap aid. Instead of cutting the $597 million to $540 million, he would up it to $640 million just to show how he loved his fellow man. Could you stand a shock like that?

Would you be able to take a statement from that universally admired friend of labor, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, announcing that he was going to campaign for the presidency on a platform of repealing the Taft-Hartley Act and restoring the Wagner Act?

Charlie And Jess 'Fess Up!

Fancy how you would feel if Republican Floor Leader Charlie Halleck of Indiana and House Banking and Currency Committee Chairman Jesse Wolcott of Michigan should come right out and say:

"That anti-inflation bill which we put over just before going home for the holidays was a phony and it stinks. When the boys get back in January we're going to turn over a new leaf and pass a bill that will really cut prices and hold down rents. Truman's proposals didn't go nearly far enough."

"Rankin Backs FEPC" might be the headline if this spirit of loving your neighbor as yourself should burst forth from the bosom of that great champion of tolerance, the gentleman from Mississippi.

Then ponder what a great event it would be if the Hon. Tom Dewey, governor of New York and "head" of the Republican Party, would come right out with a hard-hitting, straight-forward unequivocal statement that he stood four-square in favor of changing the flavor of the stickum on postage stamps from cold tea to skim milk — mentioning both "tea" and "milk" by name!

Wouldn't it be wonderful to report that Morris Sayre, new president of the National Association of Manufacturers, had come to Washington, called in Phil Murray, Bill Green and John L. Lewis, and issued a joint handout announcing an 18½ per cent cut in profits and prices, with no more wage increases in 1948! All in the spirit of love.

TO match that one, there might be a letter from Rep. J. Parnell Thomas of New Jersey, chairman of the House un-American Activities Committee, endorsing the new report of the President's Committee on Civil Rights.

Sen. Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, wishing Atomic Energy Commission Chairman David Lilienthal a Happy New Year, would be just as hard to believe. It would be like Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine spending a weekend with Howard Hughes in Hollywood.

What a world of love it would be if Ed Pauley should apologize to President Truman and offer to give the profits of his grain-trading deals to reducing the national debt.

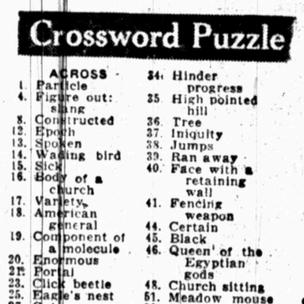

What a great day it would be if you should find in your mail a card reading, "I shall not be a candidate for re-election. I do not think I am worthy of the high office of U. S. senator from Texas." Signed, Pappy O'Daniel.

Why, if this thing was carried to the extreme, you might even be hearing Radio Moscow broadcasting a message to Marshall from Molotov: "You were right. I was wrong. I should apologize."

There must be a catch in all this world-love stuff, too. But it's a pleasant dream.

The longest stretch of railroad without a curve in the United States is the 79 miles of the Seaboard Air Line between Wilmington and Hamlet, N. C.

Reciprocal Agreements Under Marshall Plan To Be Urged

BY JIM G. LUCAS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—Chairman Charles A. Eaton (R., N.J.) of the House Foreign Affairs committee says it will insist that western Europe deliver strategic materials to Uncle Sam's stockpiles under the Marshall plan.

"It will be written into any bill reported by this committee, make no mistake about that," Mr. Eaton said. "We will insist that we get stockpile materials from these countries and their colonies. I favor a 'quid pro quo' arrangement; 'quid pro quo' is my motto."

Stockpiling Needed

Mr. Eaton's statement came after Secretary of State George C. Marshall spent the day testifying before the Foreign Affairs committee. Earlier, Secretary Marshall told Rep. Lawrence Smith (R., Wis.) the State department's plan for European economic recovery would "provide the procedures for stockpiling, if the materials are available." Mr. Smith warned that stockpiling is "a very serious national defense matter" and urged that the State department expedite it. Mr. Marshall said he, too, hoped "we will achieve results."

Douglas Disagrees

In the Senate Foreign Relations committee, Lewis W. Douglas, American ambassador to Great Britain, told Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, jr., (R., Mass.) that transfer of strategic materials to the United States under the Marshall plan would retard recovery of the 16 participating countries because it would reduce their dollar balances.

Senator Lodge demanded that the State department make known plans to insure a supply of materials we need and can't find in this country. Mr. Douglas said the State department's proposal would facilitate stockpiling by:

1. Increasing world production of minerals we need for national defense and

2. Giving the United States a No. 1 priority on the purchase of that expanded production.

Such materials must be bought, however, with additional appropriations over and above the $17 billion Marshall plan, Mr. Douglas said. (In his budget message, President Truman recommended $285 million expenditures for stockpiling in 1949).

Mr. Douglas said requirements that Europe repay us in stockpile materials would defeat the purposes of European economic recovery because the participating countries expect to realize $40 billion from exports in the next five years. He said Europe's recovery will require $57 billion between now and 1952, of which only 17 billion will come from the United States under the Marshall plan.

Suspect Arrested In Stockton Slaying

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13 (AP)—Search for a suspect in the slaying of Lulu Mae Easley, Stockton waitress, ended in Miami, Fla., today where the FBI announced the arrest of Charles Edwin Thomasson, former bartender and army deserter. He had been sought for more than a month.

Miss Easley disappeared when she left her Stockton home early in November for San Francisco, was traced briefly to Klamath Falls, Ore., and was found dead in a field near Roseville, Calif., Dec. 9—shot through the head and her fingertips mutilated to prevent identification.

Thomasson, alias Kenneth L. Miller, was arrested by Miami FBI agents—supposedly while visiting relatives.

The FBI said Thomasson deserted from the army at Fort Bliss, Texas, on Oct. 6, 1944, and had worked in California under the name of Kenneth Miller.

Testimony Due Today In Assault Trial

FORT WORTH, Jan. 13 (AP) — The trial of Constable O. M. Myer on an indictment of assault with intent to rape reaches the testimony stage today.

Selection of a jury was completed late yesterday in Criminal District court No. 1, Judge Willis McGregor is presiding.

Rosa Lee Hart, 32-year-old waitress, was named as the complainant in the indictment, one of six returned against Myer by the Tarrant county grand jury last Dec. 9. Miss Hart is the complainant in three of the cases. The other counts allege false imprisonment and aggravated assault.

Celina Caldwell, 19, is listed as the complainant in an aggravated assault charge and a false imprisonment indictment. The companion cases were alleged to have occurred Dec. 5.

Methodist Clergymen Begin Conference

DALLAS, Jan. 13 (AP) — More than 100 Methodist ministers yesterday opened a four-day conference here and heard two of their number describe personal work and personalized preaching as the key to a successful revival.

The conference is designed to help Methodist ministers in this region plan their evangelistic campaigns.

Dr. Harry Denman of Nashville, Tenn., and Dr. Dawson C. Bryan, of Houston, emphasized the personal touch in evangelistic campaigns.

Pleasant Recollections—
You can't buy them!

They are all too precious for any appraisal on a monetary basis . . . but you can do things today that will seal and keep for lifetimes the inspiring and comforting influence of those who now understand us; those who share our thoughts, our sorrows and joys.
