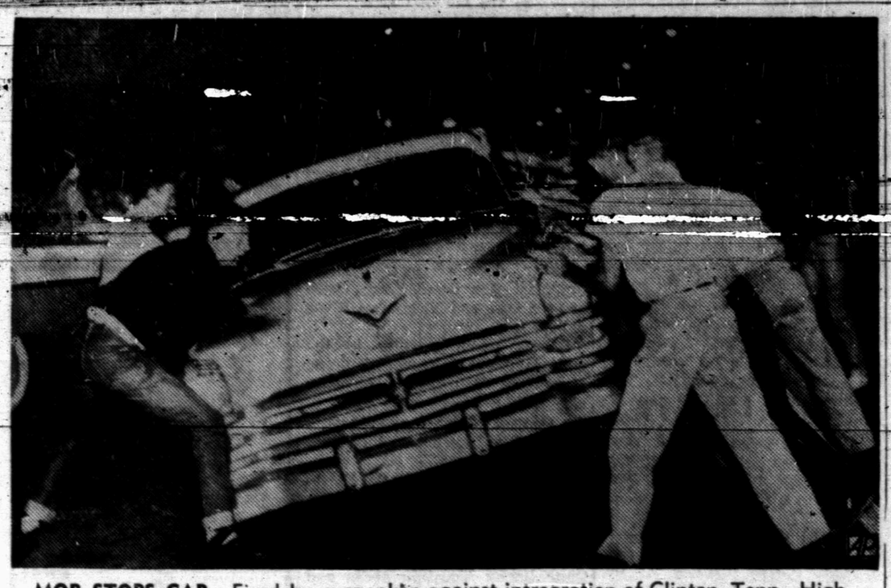
Death Toll Rises To 29 In State During Holiday



MOB STOPS CAR—Fired by a speaker against intregration of Clinton, Tenn., High School, an unruly mob stopped this carload of Negroes and others passing through Clinton on U. S. Highway 25-W. The speaker, White Citizens Council Leader Asa E. Carter of Birmingham, Ala., declared the NAACP is trying "to take over our land." The driver sped away before the car doors were opened.

Militiamen Break Up Large Tennessee Mob

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP)—Tennessee militiamen with fixed bayonets overawed a new mob heavily loaded with teen-agers late last night, dissolving threats of renewed anti-integration riots here—for the time being at least.

Last remnants of the boisterous mob straggled home early today after defiantly gathering in the face of a force of 633 guardsmen who had rolled into town with 10 tanks and a helicopter yesterday morning.

The crowd quickly rose to 1,500 around the Anderson County Courthouse in the evening. For a while a full-fledged riot threatened.

The tension reached its highest pitch when the appearance of a Negro sailor on the street brought a third of the crowd surging after him with hoots and threats.

They followed him to a service station a block from the courthouse square, where a lone military policeman stood off the mob until fellow militiamen came to his aid.

The Negro, James Chandler of Knoxville, was recused by five jeeploads of guardsmen. Shortly afterward 300 men—half the National Guard force here—were deployed in two lines flanking the crowd on the square.

Sensing that the troops meant business, the crowd — definitely much younger than those of previous nights—began thinning out.

At the peak of the cat-calling, fire-cracker-throwing melee on the square, somebody set fire to a cross in the passageway connecting Clinton High School with its gymnasium. It went out before firemen arrived.

It was the admission of a dozen Negroes among the 796 white pupils at Clinton High a week ago that set off the week of growing lawlessness climaxed by violent mob scenes Friday and Saturday nights.

Petition To Delay Racial Move Signed

MANSFIELD, Tex., (AP)—A petition by the Mansfield School board for delay in enforcement of a Federal Court order to integrate its high school was enroute to Washington today.

J. Aubrey Gooch of Fort Worth, attorney for the school district, said the petition should be in the hands of Supreme Court Justice Hugh Black by tomorrow. Black handles cases involving the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals of New Orleans.

Gooch said Supreme Court Justice Sherman Minton granted him permission to file the petition.

Stories of the Mansfield controversy over integration of Negro and white pupils in the high school there accompanied the petition, Gooch said.

The New Orleans court denied Friday a postponement of the integration order.

The Supreme Court petition was one of the last legal means left open to officials of the school in their efforts to block integration. Gooch said the school trustees also could file a petition with the Supreme Court for a writ of certiorari, or review of the rulings, handed down by the federal district and circuit courts.

Labor Day Explained

DETROIT (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said today as far as he has been able to find out the idea of Labor Day originated in 1882 with Peter McGuire, a leader of the Carpenter's Brotherhood.

But it was not until 1894 that Congress passed a law making it a legal holiday, Stevenson said, and presiding over the Senate that day was his grandfather, then the vice president of the United States.

"I don't like taking credit for something that I had nothing to do with," Stevenson said in an address prepared for a Labor Day meeting in Cadillac Square here.

"But when I hear these Republicans claiming they invented things like peace and prosperity," he said, "well, if they did, then Labor Day is something my grandfather thought up all by himself and we Stevenson's are mighty glad you could all get the day off to come to our family picnic."

Stevenson's grandfather was Adlai E. Stevenson, vice president under President Grover Cleveland.

Burning Cross Found In Fort Worth Area

FORT WORTH (AP)—A burning cross, apparently part of the pattern of anti-Negro demonstrations which have burst out in the Fort Worth area the past week, was found late Sunday in a city park here.

Roughly-made and wrapped in fuel-soaked rags to start a good fire, the cross was knocked down by officers sent to the scene.

School Bells To Ring

School will begin tomorrow for hundreds of students living in the Snyder school district.

Tomorrow's session will last only half a day, and Wednesday will be the first full day of school. In the junior high school, however, the schedule will be slightly different, with some students reporting to school during the afternoon.

School will be held at the high school and all elementary schools, including the new Northeast Elementary, and will be out at noon, when buses will run.

Junior high students have not registered yet and will register tomorrow, with bus students registering at 8:30 a.m. in the junior high auditorium. Student of the junior high who do not ride buses will register later, with those whose last names begin with the letters. A through M reporting at 11 a.m. and those whose names start with the letters N through Z registering at 1:30 p.m.

Close to 4,000 students are expected in all the Snyder schools.

Other schools in this area started classes today and will continue tomorrow.

In the high school and elementary schools, registration has already been held, however those who did not register will do so tomorrow.

At the Northeast Elementary, construction is still underway. One classroom wing is complete, and school will be started in that wing, with half-day classes scheduled until more of the building is completed.

Additions and improvements have also been under construction at other schools in the city, but all those projects are complete. New classrooms were constructed at three of the elementary schools, and the junior high school has a new band-shop building.

The entire Central Elementary School is now in the plant which was previously known as the Central Primary School. That building gained addition of several classrooms, and the classrooms on the old central campus formerly used by the Central Elementary have been turned over to the rapidly-growing junior high, which will have about 600 students this year.

Russians Set Off New Nuclear Blast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced today that the Russians have set off the third explosion in their series of nuclear tests in Siberia.

A brief announcement by AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said:

"The third explosion in the current test series occurred yesterday. It was in the same region and in the same range of size as the two previous bursts."

President Eisenhower announced last week the first two tests and the Russians confirmed this—saying they were held Aug. 24 and 30 "to perfect nuclear weapons" suitable "for arming of different kinds of troop formations."

Neither Eisenhower's announcement nor the Moscow radio broadcast tied down whether the tests involved hydrogen or atomic weapons.

However, in announcing the first test, while he was in California, on Aug. 25, Eisenhower said the Russians had detonated "a nuclear device with a yield less than a megaton." A megaton blast would have the force equivalent to one million tons of TNT.

At a news conference last Friday, Eisenhower said the second test was more powerful than the first one.

An AEC spokesman, in answer to a question today, said Strauss' statement that yesterday's explosion was "in the same range of size" meant it was no larger nor no smaller than the previous explosions. Beyond that, the spokesman said he couldn't amplify.

In announcing the first test in the current series, Eisenhower made public officially for the first time that the site of the Russian proving grounds was in southwest Siberia, north of India, Afghanistan and Pakistan and west of China.

He said the Soviets also have utilized the area of the Barents Sea (part of the Arctic Ocean) for nuclear testing.

The announcement by the Russians Friday that they were conducting nuclear tests was unprecedented in its scope and promptness. Thirteen previous nuclear blasts in the Soviet Union have been first announced by the United States.

The Soviet announcement that they had detonated a new and different nuclear weapon "applicable to the arming of various kinds of troops" seemed to imply an effort to harness nuclear power for tactical use by ground and air forces as well as for strategic bombing. The United States has developed atomic artillery and rocket squadrons armed with atomic warheads.

U. S. policy on announcing Soviet nuclear tests indicated there was something significant about the latest tests, but Strauss' terse announcement today did not indicate what. Nor did announcements of the previous two blasts clarify this.

In describing the first explosion in the current series, Strauss noted that while it was the 13th U. S. announcement about the Russian nuclear tests the actual number of Soviet "detonations is significantly higher." He said the United States "limits itself to statements about explosions of special interest because of their large isze, their series character or some other unusual fact."

SNYDER IS HAVING QUIET LABOR DAY

Snyder was enjoying a quiet Labor Day observance this morning.

Most firms in and around the main business district were closed for the holiday. They will reopen tomorrow and begin their week with the September Dollar Day.

The major holiday event for the Snyder area is scheduled for 2 p.m. at Lake J. B. Thomas, when the Lions Club boat races get underway.

At mid-morning, local law enforcement agencies reported no traffic accidents during Sunday and today. City firemen had logged no alarms over the weekend.

Speedy Navy Jet Fighter Makes Debut

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A streaking Navy jet fighter plane which has reportedly flown over 1,000 miles an hour and another new jet which the Air Force claims is as fast or faster are making their public debut at the National Aircraft Show here.

The Navy plane is the Chance Vought F8U Crusader, which last month sped over the Mojave Desert in California at a speed of "over 1,000" miles an hour.

"It's the fastest plane the Navy has, and it's performing for the first time for the public," said a naval spokesman today.

The new Air Force plane is the Lockheed F104 Starfighter, described as "a missile with a man in it."

"Ladies and gentlemen, we believe this is the fastest plane anywhere," says the public address announcer as the Starfighter flits over air show spectators at Will Rogers Field.

Holiday Traffic Deaths Now 314

By The Associated Press

The dangerous "going home" hours of the Labor Day weekend were expected today to bring a steady rise in the nation's traffic death toll, possibly eclipsing the 461 record set in 1951.

As the 78-hour holiday period drew to a close, Associated Press figures showed at least 314 traffic death, 47 drownings and 44 miscellaneous fatalities for an over-all total of 405.

Compilation of the fatality figures began at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday and ends at midnight today.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, said, "I think unquestionably the toll will beat the 1951 record." The council predicted traffic deaths during this year's observance would be 480, 19 more than in the record year of 1951.

Dearborn warned that "unless drivers exercise extreme care on their homeward journeys in the remaining hours of the weekend; we are headed for an all-time Labor Day holiday traffic record."

Dearborn had urged drivers to team with enforcement officers in an effort to hold the toll down to Labor Day holiday traffic record."

Dearborn had urged drivers to team with enforcement officers in an effort to hold the toll down to no more than 350. He said this would be a normal traffic death toll for a nonholiday Saturday, Sunday and Monday at this time of the year.

Labor Day is normally second only to Christmas as the deadliest holiday period of the year. Highways bulge with motorists seeking to enjoy the last summer holiday. Other seasonal factors such as school openings, the end of vacations and the closing of summer cottages, make the holiday one of heavy travel.

Dearborn described the final hours of the weekend as the "most dangerous." He said the death rate always rises more rapidly as tired motorists hurry homeward over traffic-clogged roads.

In one of the most tragic traffic accidents of this Labor Day period, five members of the Ernest Barnes family of Toboso, Ohio, were killed yesterday when their car and a milk truck collided near Newark, Ohio.

During a nonholiday test period, Aug. 17 to Aug. 20, the Associated Press reported 366 traffic fatatilites 77 drownings and 69 deaths from miscellaneous causes for a total of 512.

Nasser Presented Proposal On Suez

CAIRO (AP)—The five-nation mission to Cairo handed the Dulles plan for international operation of the Suez Canal to President Nasser today during a half-hour meeting.

The fateful talks opened in an air of relaxed good humor, though Nasser has said he will never agree to the international control that is the heart of the plan proposed by U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and backed by 18 maritime nations.

The Egyptian executive only last night threatened to fight and seek Soviet aid "if attacked." And his commander in chief, Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer, was quoted by the newspaper Al Akbar today as saying the Egyptian army mobilization is completed and "our forces are strategically deployed to meet any situation."

Nasser was smiling as he welcomed the mission, headed by Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies. Chiefs of delegations and aides made up a party of 15. With Nasser were Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi and Wing Cmdr. Ali Sabry, a foreign affairs adviser who was Egypt's observer at the 22-nation Suez Conference in London last month.

The Dulles plan gained backing of the 18 nations at that conference. A minority proposal introduced by India was that Egypt keep running the canal she took over July 26, with backseat advice from an international group.

Menzies told newsmen outside the presidential office the mission had presented the Dulles plan.

"We had talks about procedure," he said. "It was agreed that we should meet again as soon as possible and President Nasser has set aside this afternoon for this purpose. At that time we will resume our talks.

Negro Family In White Area Of Fort Worth Is Protested

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Police last night dispersed an angry, yelling mob of 150 whites who threatened a Negro family that had just moved into a previously all-white residential block in the Riverside section of Fort Worth.

The crowd, yelling "Get those niggers," hung the effigy of a Negro in front of the North Judkins Avenue home of Lloyd G. Austin, who, sitting with a rifle at his front window, had kept the mob at bay most of the afternoon and night.

Shortly after the effigy was hung into place, a shot rang from the Austin home. When a youth claimed that the bullet had struck the hood of his car the crowd became a howling mob. Pop bottles were thrown at the house, but the crowd moved back when Police Chief Cato Hightower and a dozen officers arrived.

Hightower ordered all people and cars cleared from the area. The mob quickly dwindled to a small group of about 35 persons that moved more than a block away beyond the police barricade.

The demonstrations started yesterday afternoon after a called meeting of residents of the neighborhood at the Riverside Elementary School. There E. G. Brown said the presence of the Negro family was part of an "insidious plot" by the NAACP to get Negroes into the school district.

"The time has come for everybody to stick together and not let them come any further," Brown said. He cautioned against violence but said a peaceful demonstration would be all right to show the sentiment of the people.

Brown then went to the Austin home to talk to the Negro and the demonstrators followed. While Brown and Austin conferred, the crowd of about 200 carrying signs "Stay away Negro and stay alive" and "Put me down as no nigger lover" paraded in front of the house.

Brown said later he offered to purchase the house from Austin but that the Negro refused.

Most of the mob of 150 were teen-agers. A group of about 15 identified themselves as living in an area about a mile away. One of them said he hated Negroes "because they are black." One woman said she was protesting because Negroes were ruining property values. She said her house, which was worth $10,000 a couple of months ago, was now worth only $8,000.

Officers said they expected no immediate trouble but expressed fair they might be further disturbances later.

Austin told reporters he was "trying to buy a home and live in peace. I don't want any trouble."

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Discovery Finals In South Borden

W. D. Wrather, Jr., and Republic Natural Gas Co. No. 2-16 T. J. Good, South Borden County discovery from the Fusselman, has been completed for a daily potential of 205 barrels of 41-gravity oil, flowing through an 18/64th inch choke.

The production is from perforated section at 9,805-15 feet. That interval had been washed with 250 gallons of mud acid. Gas-oil ratio was 821-1.

This field opener is two and one-half miles northeast of Vealmoor and 662.32 feet from north and 657.98 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 16, block 32, T-3-S, T&P survey.

It is one and one-half miles north of the Vealmoor (Canyon Reef) field.

The well is now shutin to move off rotary and to empty tanks. After that has been done operators probably will give the pay section a 1,000-gallon acid injection.

That would be for the purpose of further cleaning the well. The pay section apparently is tighter than had been anticipated — or the perforations may be partially plugged.

Robert S. Brennand, Jr., of Midland No. 1 J. R. Roper, wildcat [illegible] production from the Pennsylvanian lime reef in Central Bordon County, is drilling ahead after a 45 minute drillstem test to total depth of 8,344 feet. Packer point was not reported.

Earlier, a test from 7,992-8,200 feet surfaced gas in 25 minutes. Recovery was 1,190 feet of oil and gas-cut drilling mud, which was 50 per cent oil. There was no water.

This exploration is five miles southwest of Gail, 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 9, block 31, T-4-N, T&P survey.

Moran Brothers Drilling Co., Inc. of Wichita Falls No. 1-B Swanson Land & Cattle Co., wildcat in southeast Stonewall County, is drilling deeper after a one-hour drillstem test of the Swastika.

Interval tested was from 3,166 to 3,172 feet. Gas surfaced in 26 minutes. Recovery was 120 feet of oil plus 500 feet of salt water.

Flowing pressure ranged from 35 to 320 pounds and 30-minute shutin pressure was 1,235 pounds.

Location is 330 feet from north and 90 feet from east lines of section 122, BBB&C survey and three miles northeast of Pastura. Contract depth is 3,400 feet.

Canada Counts Toll On Holiday Weekend

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP)—Police blotters across Canada today showed 41 persons dead in accidents, 36 of them in traffic mishaps, as the Labor Day weekend entered its last day.

In last year's Labor Day weekend, traffic accidents claimed 55 victims out of a total of 81.

British Columbia and Manitoba recorded two traffic deaths each.

Officers Hunt For Clues In Kidnap Case

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP)—Police officials pored over detail after detail of the kidnaping of 6-week-old Cynthia Ruotolo, but they admitted frankly today: "We have nothing solid."

State's Atty. Abraham S. Ullman said investigators pinned their hopes on the conscience of the woman they believe snatched the baby from her carriage outside a crowded department store Saturday.

The FBI made its official step into the case yesterday afternoon, exactly 24 hours after the kidnaping.

For six hours, 600 volunteer searchers—from off-duty milkmen to Boy Scouts—plodded through swamps, fields and gullys in a fine rain. Small ponds were drained, rivers dragged. Police reported no clues from the search.

The parents of the baby, meanwhile, sat close to a telephone after going to Mass at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Roman Catholic church. They continued to make television and radio appeals for the safe return of their baby.

Their two other children, an 8-year-old boy and a 19-month-old child, stayed in the house with them.

Two previous children of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ruotolo—he's an $80-a-week salesman — had died. One infant was dropped by a neighbor boy and died of a head injury. The other died of pneumonia.

Police ran down leads of all kinds. One came from Pittsburgh, where a baby girl about 4 to 6 weeks old was found dead on the banks of the river. The infant's fingerprints and foot prints were rushed here and matched with Cynthia's. Police said they didn't jibe.

One official source said the case has reached a point of checking leads and eliminating them.

"Frankly, there isn't anything I can tell you. We don't have anything," he said.

State's Attv. Ullman said he was convinced more than ever this was not a kidnaping for ransom. He said that left two possibilities:

"One, that the baby was kidnaped by a frustrated woman who had a deep need for a baby; two, that the baby was stolen for sale, a possibility which was remote, and one I wouldn't stress."

Ullman said he was urging that appeals to the abductor be continued in the hope that it will stir her conscience.

Two Convicts Captured In Colorado City

GARDEN CITY, Tex. (AP)—Two convicts who slugged a deputy sheriff and escaped from the Glasscock County jail Saturday night were caught yesterday in Colorado City by the sheriff of Mitchell County.

The prisoners, William Jones, 26, and William Carey, were brought here on a bench warrant to face burglary charges. They were captured after the sheriff had received a report that a farm home near Colorado City had been broken into and guns and clothing taken.

Jones had been in prison since May 2, 1955, on a four-year theft sentence from Grayson County. Carey had been in prison since May 3, 1955, on a 15-year armed robbery conviction in Willacy County.

Officers said the bench warrant was issued after the two wrote to Garden City saying that they had committed a burglary here and wanted to enter pleas of guilty to "clear" their records.

Glasscock County deputy sheriffs brought the pair here from Huntsville Wednesday.

When Deputy Sheriff Otto Dozier took their supper to the second floor of the jail, the two prisoners knocked him out, took his clothes, and escaped in his car. The deputy was unconscious for about 30 minutes. When he recovered, he notified Sheriff Sam Cox and a West Texas-wide search was launched.

Nixon's Dad Gets Weaker

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Nixon's ailing father grew weaker yesterday but the family physician said he still was "alert and sharp as a tack."

Dr. I. N. Kraushaar said 77-year-old Frank A. Nixon's respiration was labored and shallow. Oxygen was administered almost continuously, the physician reported.

The elderly man has been critically ill since Aug. 22 from the effects of a ruptured abdominal artery, a hemorrhaging stomach ulcer, severe arthritis and arteriosclerosis.

After a visit last night, Dr. Kraushaar declined to predict whether his patient would live through the night.

The doctor said Nixon suffers from severe spasms of pain that have weakened his heart.

Members of the family were at the bedside most of yesterday. The vice president left the house briefly in the afternoon to work with aides on a speech he is preparing for delivery at the American Legion's national convention in Los Angeles this week.

French Units Expected To Land Today

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—A new spate of bomb-planting and Greek Cypriot defiance of British rule set the stage for the expected landing today of the main ontingent of French forces coming here to await developments in the Suez crisis.

Several French ships were anchored off the island's coast. They were reported carrying 5,000 troops. An advance force already had landed.

Yesterday a time bomb wrecked the British colonial government's printing plant, blowing the roof off the press room and setting fire to the building. No one was hurt.

The plant is inside the same closely guarded compound as the government secretariat and the office of the chief of staff to Gov. Sir John Harding. The compound is the nerve center for British security operations throughout the island.

Like a similar blast in the Episkopi cantonment of Britain's joint Middle East headquarters Saturday, the explosion was blamed on EOKA, the underground of Greek-speaking Cypriots waging a campaign to join Greece.

A Cypriot police sergeant was shot dead by the underground gunmen as he rode a bicycle 30 miles east of Nicosia yesterday.

Train Derailed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The engine of a San Diego-bound Santa Fe streamliner train derailed and a baggage car being switched in the yard was overturned last night in a collision at Union Station.

There were no injuries.

Reds Admit They Downed US Plane

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China today admitted shooting down a U.S. Navy Mercator plane and its 16 crewmen off the China coast last month, but declared the attack was justified because it occurred in a "combat area."

A Foreign Ministry statement broadcast from Peiping dismissed as "groundless and unjustified" a U.S. demand for compensation for the loss of the four-engine patrol plane and its men and demanded that the United States halt "provocative activities" off China's coast.

American officials announced the plane was lost early Aug. 23 while engaged in a routine patrol over international waters. In a subsequent search, wreckage was sighted 100 miles southeast of Shanghai. Only two bodies, and no survivors, were recovered.

Three days ago the U. S. State and Defense Departments announced they were demanding damages for the attack, which they said was made without warning.

The Mercator radioed early Aug. 23 that it was under attack and that was the last heard from it. Less than 24 hours later, Peiping broadcasts reported an attack on a "Chiang Kai-shek" plane.

The U. S. Navy has said that Nationalist Chinese forces have no planes of the Mercator type.

Red China's statement asserted the plane flew over China's coastal islands for "scores of minutes."

"China's territory . . . is not to be violated," it declared. "The Chinese government demands that the United States stop its provocative activities."

In the reply to demands for damages, relayed through Britain by the United States, the Red Chinese ministry replied: "Before this military aircraft was damaged by our air force it had already carried out activities for scores of minutes over the coastal islands of China."

"It is well known," it said, "that this area is a combat area to which the Chiang Kai-shek clique has incessantly dispatched its military aircraft to carry out war acts of harrassment and destruction.

"Therefore the Chinese air force has to fight air battles constantly against them and shoot them down, damage them or drive them away.

"It goes without saying that the Chiang military aircraft are all aircraft of the U. S. type.

"Under such circumstances it is entirely justified that the military aircraft of the U. S. type which intruded . . . over this area and carried out activities for a long time should have been taken as a Chiang military aircraft and attacked."

The statement expressed "great regret" that the down plane turned out to be an American craft. But it called the massive search for survivors by the U. S. 7th Fleet a "planned provocation."

Train Wreck Death Toll Is Climbing

BOMBAY, India (AP)—The official count of dead climbed to 112 in yesterday's train wreck in central India. Officials said the toll may be even higher.

The engine and two passenger cars of the train crashed through a bridge into a flooded river, hurling passengers from sleep to sudden death.

The train crew and 22 passengers in the two cars escaped alive, but were injured.

It was the second rail disaster in Hyderabad state in two years. The first wreck, on Sept. 28, 1954, killed 137 persons. It was the worst in the history of Indian railroads.

Yesterday's wreck, like the one two years ago, apparently was caused by floods weakening a bridge.

The first cars of the train plunged from a single span 120-foot bridge five miles from Mahbubnager, 55 miles southwest of the capital city of Hyderabad. A third car, carrying second and third class passengers, and a postal coach hung precariously on the broken bridge.

Youths Set Up Their Cot On Subway Car

NEW YORK (AP)—Three young men were bedded down in jail last night after allegedly setting up a cot in a subway car to catch a few winks.

Charged with annoying and interfering with passengers in a public conveyance were Sgt. Nelson Vasquez, 27, Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, Goldsboro, N. C.; and William Cruz, 18, and Felipe P. Rivera, 27, both of Manhattan.

A subway conductor told police the three unfolded their impromptu accommodations on his train Saturday night. Each was held in $500 bail for a hearing Thursday.

Services Slated

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—Funeral services are scheduled Tuesday in San Anselmo for Leo Ihle, 56, former publisher of the San Francisco Call-Bulletin. Ihle died yesterday of a heart attack.

Youngster To Leave On Mission Of Hope

AIKEN, S.C. (AP) — Eighteen-month-old Craig Wooten leaves tonight on a mission of hope arranged by Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower.

Craig is stricken with cystic fibrosis — a disease that physicians fear may cut short his life.

Craig and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wooten of nearby Edgefield, will leave from Columbia tonight for Washington. The child will then be placed under a specialist's care in Bethesda, Md.

The arrangements were made by the President's wife, who read news stories of Craig and his parents' efforts to finance such a trip.

Four Persons Killed From Gas Poisoning

TOKYO (AP)—Four persons were killed today by gas poisoning in an abandoned coal pit in Hanakawa, 80 miles northeast of here.

Police said a farmer and his friend broke into the pit, which had been closed, and collapsed 50 feet from the entrance. The others, waiting outside, became alarmed by the delay and crawled in. They too were soon overcome by the gas.

Fair Skies Expected In Most Of US

By The Associated Press

Rain marred Labor Day observances in only a few areas today as most of the nation enjoyed generally fair weather.

Scattered showers fell over the Southeast section of the country and in isolated areas along the Atlantic Coast. Some moisture also was reported in the northern and central plains.

Clear skies extended from the Rocky Mountains westward and throughout the Southwest. Fair weather prevailed over most of the East, the Great Lakes area and the Ohio and Mississippi River valleys.

It was much warmer in the western Great Lakes section and Mississippi Valley. The mercury also took a considerable jump in the Central Plains overnight with increases as much as 22 degrees reported.

Cooler air moved into the Northern Plains and the Rockies. Temperatures in those areas dipped into the low 40s overnight.

Strong winds were reported in some Rocky Mountain areas and snow fell in the mountains of Montana.

Thundershowers were the outlook for Florida and the Gulf Coast.

Typhoon Is Raging

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Typhoon Dinah sideswiped Taipei, raged through southern Formosa and headed toward the Red China mainland today. Dinah was expected to strike the Foochow area of Fukien Province tonight.

Bride Gets Whopping Present From Chef

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Television's culinary expert, chef Joe Milani, had a very special present for his bride after their marriage in St. Charles Catholic Church — a one-ton wedding cake.

Milani and the former June Oblad Siriann, Miss Utah of 1936, were married yesterday. She has been the chef's business manager for the past year.

Milani earlier had promised to bake his bride the largest wedding cake in history. He said he used 40 crates of eggs alone in whipping up the Italian rum cake. His labor of love took a week.

Cream Puffs:

1 cup boiling water
½ cup butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup corn meal
¾ cup flour
4 eggs

Barbecued Beef:

½ cup chopped onion
1½ pounds ground beef
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
Two 8-ounce cans tomato sauce

For cream puffs, heat water and butter to boiling in saucepan. Stir in salt, corn meal and four. Stir over medium heat about 2 minutes or until mixture leaves sides of pan and forms a ball. Remove from heat; cool slightly. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition.

Spoon dough into 6 football shapes on greased cooky sheet. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 45 to 50 minutes or until firm and brown. Remove from cooky sheet; cool on wire rack. To serve, cut off tops; fill with barbecued beef filling. Replace tops and decorate with pimiento lacing. Makes 6 servings.

For barbecued beef filling, cook onion and ground meat in a little shortening until browned. Add remaining ingredients simmer 20 to 25 minutes.

Here's Method For Family Clean-Up

One young mother of a large family "invited" a really workable method of getting her own children, and her children's guests, to wash their hands before meals with a minimum of reluctance and confusion.

She chooses one child on each occasion to be first at the bathroom basin. Then that child is allowed to choose his successor—and so on down the line until all hands are clean, with no traffic or over - crowding problems in the bathroom. Why not give this method a try?

Sarsaparilla Used For Jellied Dessert

Everyone remember "Sarsaparilla?" Let's use that old time favorite in a jellied dessert to serve at a card game.

Dissolve a package of cherry-flavored gelatin in 1 cup of hot Sarsaparilla; add 1 cup of cold Sarsaparilla. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in 1 cup of diced banana and ¼ cup of chopped pecans. Pour into individual molds and chill until firm. Top with whipped cream and a maraschino cherry before serving.

Here's A Different Meat Loaf Recipe

Every cook has her favorite meat loaf recipe. Here's one that's different and so delicious it may become your favorite.

Combine 2 pounds ground beef, ½ cup chopped celery, ½ cup chopped green pepper, ½ chopped onion; salt, pepper, ground dill seed to taste, 1 cup fine bread crumbs, 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup.

Bake in a loaf pan at 350 degrees F. for an hour and a quarter.

New Laundry Space

In olden homes owners are converting back porches, pantries and even breakfast rooms to laundries. With ample space, they can add to the laundry equipment for hand-laundering, wall cupboards for laundry supplies and a comfortable chair for "sit-down" work.

MERMAID FASHIONS—Here are two new bathing cap styles for summer, showing the current more hat trend.

Colored Covers

Zippered vinyl plastic mattress and pillow covers now come in colors, as well as in clear see-through sets. And they lighten the family laundry considerable. Just wipe them clean with a sudsy cloth or sponge while they're right on the beds, and they'll stay fresh and new looking.

Protect Your Sink

To protect the surface of an enameled cast iron sink, wash it immediately after use. The safest cleaning "agent" is a hot solution of soap or detergent suds.

Falltime Salad

Falltime is always salad time and a favorite combination for those who are watching the diet is: Add to cottage cheese plenty of chopped cucumber and minced parsley. Serve on pear halves, sliced pineapple or apples without dressing.

Glamor Flunks Out

What Variety, the entertainment trade paper, calls "TV's $17,000,000 Goof"—meaning the coverage of the two national conventions—has in retrospect lifted a good many eyebrows and changed some political plans. Republican strategists, who planned to rely strongly on television, are reported busily revisinig their plans to call for more personal appearance by the President and other party bigwigs, convincced that the glamor gal of politics, TV, can't get the job done.

Since the conventions there has been a spate of reports, including some from firms which specialize in reporting of televiewer reactions, indicating that the two conventions drew smaller "audiences" than many of the regular TV features, including dramatic productions which ordinarily play a poor second fiddle to give-away shows. One outfit reports that while the politicians were drawing a maximum of 33 million viewers at any one time, the occasion when Ed Sullivan had Elvis Presley on his Sunday night show drew 54 million viewers. The Sullivan show, of course, is confined to single network; the figure of 33 million as tops for the conventions included three networks.

When the two conventions planned their programs TV was undisputed king. It got all the breaks, and the "show" was rigged to wring the last possible benefit out of those "hundred million" Americans who were supposed to sit with their eyes glued to the screen for hours on end. (There was a big upsurge in radio listening during the convention weeks)

You can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink. There were long stretches of both conventions when nothing of interest to anyone was going on. Both parties at times must have wished even fewer people were watching. That was especially true at San Francisco when Chairman Joe Martin pulled the prize boner of telling "Terrible Tery" Carpenter to get out of the hall and take "Joe Smith" with him.

At another time when a GOP orator was telling how successfully the Eisenhower administration had taken in and adopted so many New Deal measures the cameras "panned" out into the front row of delegates and showed the chairman-of-the-board types looking down their noses. It was the most eloquent shot of the evening, unrehearsad and piognant.

Doubtless the Democratic bigwigs would like to erase the spectacle of Paul Butler, their national chairman, ranting because a network had not carried the full footage of a Democratic propaganda film. They couldn't erase the Butler performance, but they did sideline Butler for the 1956 campaign.

TV as a power in politics had to be measured sooner or later. It got the acid test in the '56 conventions and it flunked—a "$17,000,000 goof." Maybe hereafter the hard-bitten political entrepreneurs will quit raiding the Hollywood glamor market for talent.

What's In A Name?

For years now when some fired-up Republican orator wanted to say something nasty about the Democratic Party he simply dropped the final "ic" and made "Democrat Party" somehow seem like an expletive.

But so far as we know this is the first time the opposite party has made what seems to be a serious effort to change the name of their enemy and frequent nemesis by a simple surgical operation on the word.

It is "going some" when one party tries to make another ochange its official name — and "Democratic Party" happens to be the official name of that outfit.

As George Stempson pointed out in his book, "A Book About American Politics," the "two distinct major parties did not begin to devedlop until Jefferson became Secretary of State on March 22, 1790." At that time Alexander Hamilton was leader of the Federalists and Jefferson of the Republicans. After several decades of name-calling and name-hanging the Federalists became the Republicans (1856) and the Republicans became the Democrats (1828 under Jackson). Washington had remained aloof in the squabbles among his cabinet members over party labels, considering himself a member of neither party, but a "neutralist."

From the pen of Thomas Jefferson himself, in a litter to Henry Lee in 1824 came these observations:

"Men in their constiutions are naturally divided into two parties," he wrote. "1. Those who fear and distrust the people, and wish to draw all powers from them into the hands of the higher classes. 2. Those who identify themselves with the people, have confidence in them, cherish and consider them as the most honest and safe, although not the most wise depository of the public interests. In every country these two parties exist and in every one where they are free to think, speak, and write, they will declare themselves."

His Silent Backer

Desert-Mountain States Still Harbor Some Traditional Bits Of Americana

By HOLMES ALEXANDER

AIRBORNE, EASTBOUND — Deserts and mountains have always been that last refuge of tribal warriors and ancient customs, driven before the conquering armies of progress. In the desert-mountain States, I found such fugitive Americana as:

A little girl whose family duty is to raise and lower the American flag on the terrance of her home. She knows how to catch its folds as the flag descends of an evening. Her parents have taught her that the Stars and Stripes must never touch the ground.

A newspaper editor, forced to spend the night in the pokey because of divorce suit difficulties, printed the embarrassing story on his front page. On the masthead of his paper are the words of Daniel Webster: "There is nothing so powerful as the truth."

A candidate for public office who declined to give this reporter anything to write against his opponent. "He's been a friend of mine for thirty years," said the candidate of his rival. The reason seemed sufficient...A candidate, urged by his backers to quit a hopeless race, refused. "The reason was insufficient...A candidate, whose rich friends raised funds to buy out one of his primary election foes, would not consent. The only reason offered him was that the buy-out would insure his election. But the putative beneficiary firmly declined. Again, the reason wasn't good enough...A touring journalist became infected with the air of shirt-sleeve honesty of the desert-mountain land. Instead of toting his typewriter aboard the airliners to avoid any possible overweight charge, he started putting the machine on the scales with the rest of his luggage. It cost him money, but it also made him feel more at home in the honest-Injun West.

A real-life example (almost extinct in its sort) where Big Business in the USA still presses a crown of thorns upon the brow of Labor. The hotel operators in the gaudier gambling joints will fire an employee if an important guest-gambler complains that the worker brings "bad luck" in dice or cards.

More shameful still, the union leaders allow the hotel operators to get away with this and often will not help a jinxed waiter or bartender to find work at another hotel. In many hotels the maitre d'hotel is the czar of all the waiters and busmen he surveys. They are automatically fired if they so much as go to the rest room without his permission. No foreman in the industrial shops has so much arbitrary power. The union leaders again are habitually slack in backing up their fellow-members.

The reason for "weak" or company-dominated unionism is said to be the seasonal unemployment. In November-December when tourists stay home for Thanksgiving and Christmas, the waiters, bartenders, busmen, cooks, and housemaids, are out of work by the thousands. The gambling business is boom-and-bust. Strong unions, like good businesses, thrive best in steady prosperity.

A new but typical Wild West story in the desire of communities law, order and respectablitity. The State of Nevada takes 26 per cent of its revenue from legalized gambling which is conducted under a local option law. The big gambling operators have long regarded the State as a captive ally which couldn't get along without this form of income. But this assumption did not take into account the traditional desire of the American frontier to make life safe and wholesome for the family. The tendency today in Nevada gambling towns is toward moderation, if not abolition.

Las Vegas, wildest town of all, recently had a sobering experience. For several years Las Vegas had been expecting the Howard Hughes enterprises to put up a 7,000-job plant on a 40,000 acre site which Mr. Hughes purchased for that purpose. But in 1955 Mr. Hughes decided to put his plant in Florida instead. The reason given was that a gambling town is not a good payroll town.

It was the sort of practical experience which back up the moral arguments. Nothing is more American than the eventual triumph of the housewife, the school marm, the preacher and the "High Noon" sheriff over the boys who run the barroom.

Moths Constitute Major Source Of Destruction

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)— Many a man is bothered by butterflies in his stomach, but if you wear a toupee you have to worry more about moths.

"Moths love to eat animal fur or human wigs and hairpieces," said Don Ott, the nation's largest professional moth rancher.

"But so far as I know they never ate a man bald. They're not adapted to attacking living organisms."

Ott, known as "the moth detective," raised about half a million clothes moths and carpet beetles a year in the research laboratory of Geigy Chemical Corp. at Bayonne, N.J. It manufactures a chemical used to mothproof about 80 million garments a year, including the woolen underwear worn by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Moths and carpet beetles cause an estimated billion-dollar-a-year damage to fabrics and furniture in America, but Ott says at that we're lucky.

"Of the 800,000 kinds of insects in the world, the United States has some 80,000 identified varieties," he observed, "but only 13 are important fabric pests—six moths and seven beetles.

"The worst are the webbing clothes moth and the black carpet moth. If undisturbed, a lady clothes moth could raise a million progeny in a year and they'd eat 92 pounds of wool."

Ott, a tall, slender, 35-year-old entomologist from the University of Iowa, is full of odd lore about his insect herds, such as:

"It costs $6.50 to reweave the average moth-damaged cloth.

"Moths eat more on rainy days because they like a high humidity.

"Insects, like people, have a greater longevity, if they don't eat too much. A moth will live only three months under ideal food conditions, but up to a year if food is scarce.

"Birds are plagued in their nests by moths and beetles just as people are in their homes.

"Crickets like wool, too. One cricket can ruin a suit of clothes overnight."

Clothes moths and carpet beetles originally were scavengers, feeding on the hair, feathers, fur and horns of dead animals.

"As a matter of fact, I raise my moths in fishmeal, and my beetles in dogfood," said Ott.

Adult moths are harmless. They do their feeding in the larval, or wormlike, stage.

"If you swat a grown moth, the chances are that it is male," said Ott. "The females are usually too heavy with eggs to fly much."

"If a man or woman had only one suit and wore it every day," said Ott, "he'd never have to worry about moths."

But just try to tell that to your wife the next time she wants money for a new wool dress!

Commercial Carriers Keep Their Planes Aloft While Air Force Bigwigs Fidgit

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

EN ROUTE. — I'm on my way and also arriving, and further than that I cannot say, except that it sure is nice to have the U. S. Air Force worrying about my safety.

Those good generals are more concerned about my welfare than my own mother even, and I'm bowing low, though sleepily, in their direction.

The original idea was simple enough. I'd fly to New York City by commercial airlines and then take a special Air Force plane to Columbus, Ohio, for the big bombing contest — which seems to be a kind of world series for the aerial bombardiers — and then soar on to Oklahoma City for the National Air Show.

This was to combine business and pleasure — pleasure mostly — and I was pleased to rise at 5 p.m., when it still was dark in Washington, D. C., and grab an American Airlines plane for La Guardia. A military plane, it says here, was to be waiting for me.

Only it turned out to be foggy today. The American Airlines' flying machine purred up to New York in one hour flat — and spent another hour circling in the murk waiting for a chance to drop down. This it eventually did, about an hour after the generals were to have taken off for the West.

This was a worrisome thing and I hastened to their hangar only to discover that I might as well have strolled leisurely. The military still was sitting on its handkerchiefs; the machine which should have been on the way to Ohio remained in Westover Air Force Base, Mass.

And then those gents in the blue suits with the wings on their chests told me an amazing thing: They said that under the rules the commercial airlines, such as the one in which I arrived, could land at La Guardia with a ceiling of 400 feet. This, they said, is not safe enough for the Air Force. The clouds have to be at least 500 feet high before one of its machines ventures forth.

So I waited, along with perhaps a dozen other newspaper reporters, for the sun to come out. It never did.

The clouds did lift a little by noon; by then flying machines from all directions were stacked up over New York. The management in the control tower said absolutely not; no Air Force ship would be allowed until some of the mess cleared up.

This worried the Air Force something awful. I never did see citizens in uniform gnaw their finger nails so deeply. I told 'em to take it easy; I was having a fine time at La Guardia, watching all varieties of flying machines take off and land in the haze. All varieties, that is, except the Air Force's. These unfortunate officers, who shall be nameless, kept on feeling bad.

So then, for the first time, I made use of a card which says I am an admiral in American Airline's fleet. You get to be an admiral when you've done a whopping lot of flying, and once you achieve this distinction, you're welcome in Admirals Clubs widely scattered around the nation.

This club at LaGuardia is lush, with soft seats, deep rugs, beautiful stewardesses, free coffee, magazines, television, and a first-class bar; the man serves the refreshments on coffee tables with pink marble tops.

I invited my friends to this resort and there we talked with ease for nearly three hours. Some of the Air Force officers came along, but somehow they couldn't relax. We then repaired leisurely to the Sky Room restaurant of the airport and had a first-class meal; I had what the waitress insisted were Dublin lobster tails. These were good, but I doubt that they ever saw Ireland.

Then, late in the afternoon, we strolled back to the military landing strip. Still no airplane. Our uniformed hosts got on the long distance telephone, trying to exert pressure on no telling who and begging for a flying machine to get us out of here.

I hate even to mention this to these bedeviled officers, but I phoned Trans World Airlines. They said, certainly, they were flying on regular schedule to Columbus. They, I think, are for me.

Industries Eye Research As New Goods Are Developed

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Curiosity about what goes on inside a solid hunk of matter is costing some corporations plenty. It's likely to cost them more because expensive research facilities are being expanded.

The reason: What scientists call solid state physics has been rewarding many companies with profitable products they couldn't make 10 years ago. One example is the transitor, the little rod that can replace some radio tubes.

Industrialists freely predict that within the next 10 years the major share of many businesses will come from products not now in production.

National Carbon next month will open a multimillion - dollar laboratory in Parma, Ohio, to concentrate on chemical and solid state physics.

Bell Telephone Laboratories' work in that field brought about the solar battery operated by the rays of the sun.

U.S. Steel opened a research center a few months ago in the Pittsburgh area, where such solid state physics is applied particularly to metals. Other steel companies' research scientists work on specific problems in the same field. They learn, for example, about the strength and fatigue of metals, how to improve the one and forestall the other.

Solid state physics studies the ties that bind atoms together in solid matter and the movement of the electrons surrounding the nucleus of the atom. Nuclear physics, on the other hand, studies the core of the atom and from this study comes those loud bangs in the Pacific Ocean and the Siberian wastes.

The study of solids, however, is concerned more with development of materials and processes for the metal, electronic, power, chemical and electro-chemical industries.

By learning how some electrons can move in the solid matter under the influence of electric or magnetic fields or under the influence of light of certain energy or wave lengths, scientists have developed such things as: Nonmetallic magnets used in computors of advanced design; nonmetallic powders used in modern tape recorders; solid state rectifiers to transform alternating current to direct current.

They are now seeking to perfect: Intermetallics, which they describe as completely new materials with properties not found in materials used by industry today; new catalysts to speed up chemical and physical reactions in industrial processes; new types of TV receiving and transmitting tubes; and a host of new electronic marvels.

Dr. W. R. G. Baker, vice president of General Eelectric in Syracuse, says, "our research and development engineers are busy constantly developing new products."

Reds Seek New Economic Base In Siberia Section

By STANLEY JOHNSON

NOVOSIBIRSK, Siberia (AP) — Siberia, long considered a frozen wilderness, is in a vast upheaval, moving at break-neck speed into the modern industrial age.

Its 20 million old settlers and countless new immigrants display the typical traits of persons rushing ahead into a new era — including nostalgia for the old and eagerness for the new.

The fact that this industrial and agricultural surge is directed from above by party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev and other top Communists along strictly party lines contrasts sharply with a similar development of the United States a half century ago.

But it does not lessen the pioneering aspect of those taking part.

This central Siberian city of about 800,000, long forbidden territory for Westerners, is the heart of an effort to create a huge new economic base for the Soviet Union.

Its inhabitants proudly call it "The Chicago of the Soviet Union." It is a microcism of the Soviet Union's vast interior.

It has a rich agricultural hinterland, grain elevators, slaughterhouses. It is a big railway junction and river port. It is an administrative center. It supports many publishing hours and educational institutions.

All the pulls and tugs currently assailing the Soviet people may be studied here as though a cross sampling had been gathered specially.

The downgrading of Joseph Stalin, for instance, made a profound impact on these people 2,000 miles from Moscow.

"The people were a little hurt in their feelings," a high woman party functionary told this reporter while driving out to a collective farm the other day. "The criticism of the cult of personality was a little unexpected, but the people realized it was ust. In general, it has been met very favorably."

The visiting reporters saw a new Novosibirsk television station under construction. The "contingents" were still being used there. But we were told they were in the minority and getting fewer every day.

The majority of people this reporter talked with from the Ural Mountains to the Ob River, declared determinedly they were thrilled to be here and taking part in the building of Siberia.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Tourist Traffic Still Heavy In Capitol Area

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Myrtle Cheney Murdock, a Capitol building guide, says taking visitors around the historic domed-building amounts to a "physical endurance contest," this summer even after Congress has closed up shop and not a lawmaker's in sight.

"It's a strange thing," she told me. "The influx of visitors hasn't let up this year. The 24 guides are still on duty, with most of us making about five tours a day — only three or four less than in the heaviest tourist season in the spring. The main thing folks want to see are the Senate and House chambers whether anybody's there or not."

There are some 20 to 25 children in each group and 30 to 40 adults, according to Mrs. Murdock. All are fascinated with the historical facts and explanations given them by the guides.

Probably no one is more devoted to the nation's capital city, or so ably equipped to interpret its historical development thann Mrs. Murdock. The wife of John J. Murdock, former Democratic congressman from Arizona, for whom she worked as a clerk on Capitol Hill for 12 years, the indefatigable Mrs. Murdock has been boning up on Washington's history ever since coming here in 1936.

She's written three highly interesting and popular books on the subject. The first, "Your Uncle Sam in Washington," published in 1948, is used in schools and libraries. She wrote a book about Constantino Brumidi, the fresco artist who decorated the walls and dome of the capitol, and another, "National Statuary Hall," whih brings to life the 86 bronze and marble statues in the building.

When Murdock decided to stay on in Washington to research for a book of his own after his defeat for re-election in 1952, his wife got herself a job as a capitol guide. "I decided I knew enough to make a good guide," she said. "I don't know how many steps I take a day. I'd just rather not know, I might get tired thinking about it."

The guides take people through the capitol every day from 9 a.m. until about 4 or 4:30 p.m., with every other Sunday off. The capitol is 757 feet long, and the 35 to 45-minute tours cover this distance twice, in addition to climbing up and down steps. The tours start with the President's Room in the first unit of the capitol built.

"I like to make something of the building's growth and to talk of the works of art it houses," Mrs. Murdock said.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

ALPS AND ELEPHANTS: HANNIBAL'S MARCH. By Sir Gavin de Beer. Dutton.

With two score elephants and 50,000 men, Hannibal set out on his 1,500-mile march, in the Second Punic War, in 218 B. C. Rome controlled the Mediterranean, he was in Spain, so he plotted an overland march to reach his enemy's rear and surprise him. The actual climb up through a pass and down into Italy was a distance of 135 miles and took 15 days.

It was known that they went to Aigues-Mortes, crossed the Rhone somewhere; but just where, and what pass they chose from the Little St. Bernard to the Col de Larche remained mysteries. Sir Gavin claims they crossed at Arles, followed the east bank to the Drome and then via the Col de Grinone to the Durance, which they followed to come out at the Col de la Traversette above Turin. He expects his findings will be questioned but it can be only by someone who has done a vast amount of research. His sources, besides Polybius and Livy, are etymology, astronomy, geography, weather, climate, rates of flow of rivers, church records, and many commentators and historians.

The author is no master of English. His comparisons with modern war become tedious. His "Mrs. Hannibal" is questionable. And it is easy to dispose of him and his book facetiously: Did he take peanuts? Or why didn't somebody ask the elephants — they never forget? Yet it is an excellent, example of aggressive scholarship, and though Sir Gavin is his worst enemy, he has the Carthaginian host and the elephants on his side.

Braves Jump Ahead By 3½

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

The front-running Milwaukee Braves, enjoying their biggest lead (3½ games) more than a month today, have hit upon a sure-fire formula for pennant success—a different star each day.

It was Bill Bruton's turn yesterday. The fleet-footed centerfielder smashed a two-run single to highlight a five-run first inning, got another single later, stole a base and threw out a base runner as the Braves defeated St. Louis 6-3 for a sweep of the four-game series.

While Milwaukee extended its winning streak to five straight, the New York Giants dealt Brooklyn a severe jolt by sweeping both ends of their double-header 2-1 and 4-1, dropping the Dodgers into a second-place tie with Cincinnati. Cincinnati made it three in a row over Chicago with a 3-2 victory.

Pittsburgh walloped Philadelphia twice 10-6 and 5-1 to round out the activities in the National League.

Washington handed New York its second straight 4-3 licking but the Yankees maintained their 7½-game lead over Cleveland, which bowed to the third-place Chicago White Sox by the same 4-3 margin. Baltimore, trailing 8-0 after two innings, fought back to finally nip the Boston Red Sox 11-10. Detroit made it three in a row over Kansas City with a 3-1 triumph.

During the past two weeks, the Braves have won 10, lost 4 and tied 1. During that stretch, eight different players delivered the key blow in support of brilliant pitching by Milwaukee's mound staff.

Strong pitching by three Giant pitchers—Johnny Antonelli, Allen Worthington and Dick Littlefield—stopped the Dodgers with 13 hits in the double-header, three in the second game. Antonelli won a mound duel from Carl Erskine in the opener when Don Mueller drove in Foster Castleman with his third hit, a ninth-inning single.

Castleman was the batting star of the second game with a home run and bases-loaded double, good for three runs, to give Worthington his first victory since he beat the Dodgers on July 2. Littlefield relieved Worthington with two on and nobody out in the seventh and disposed of the last nine men in order to preserve the Giant victory.

Roberto Clemente rapped six of the Pirates' 30 hits, 15 in each game and Pittsburgh handed defeats to Philadelphia's two best pitchers, Curt Simmons and Robin Roberts. Vernon Law and Gonzalo Natanjo were the winners.

Ted Kluszewski, out of the starting lineup because of a pulled muscle, drove in two runs with a pinch hit single to climax Cincinnati's three-run winning rally against rookie Moe Drabowsky. Joe Nuxhall spaced seven hits for his 11th triumph.

Jose Valdievielso drove in three Washington runs with a triple but the Senators scored the winning run in the ninth when Yankee shortstop Jerry Coleman threw wildly in an attempt to nip Whitey Herzog at the plate.

Jack Harshman, helped by Minnie Minoso's three-run homer, pitched his 12th victory, his third over Cleveland as the White Sox climbed to within three games of the second-place Indians.

Al Kaline, for the third straight day, led the Tigers to victory over Kansas City, with a two-run single in the eighth that snapped a 1-1 tie. He drove in five runs Friday and two Saturday.

Bob Nieman followed Grady Hatton's two-run homer in the ninth with a run-producing single to break a 10-10 tie and give the Orioles their uphill victory over Boston.

Antonelli Has Dodgers' Number

NEW YORK (AP)—Never again will Johnny Antonelli be bypassed in a series between the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers. You have the word of Bill Rigney, Giant manager, on that.

Rigney made up his mind yesterday after the southpaw ace defeated the Dodgers for the second straight time 2-1. It was Antonelli's second brilliantly pitched game against the predominantly right-handed-hitting Brooks in less than three weeks. On Aug. 15 he blanked them 1-0 in Jersey City.

The Giants also won the second game 4-1 as Allan Worthington and Dick Littlefield, a pair of right-handers, combined for a three-hit pitching job and dropped the Dodgers 3½ games back of Milwaukee.

"I certainly will start him against Brooklyn at every opportunity from now on," promised Rigney. "John has wonderful confidence against their right-handed hitters."

Manager Walt Alston of the Dodgers stacked his lineup with nine right-handed hitters against the 26-year-old left-hander, even, benching Duke Snider. The Brooks managed to collect 10 hits but Antonelli was strong in the pinches, keeping the Dodger sluggers from crossing the plate except in the eighth when Junior Gilliam stroked his seventh home run of the season.

When Leo Durocher was manager of the Giants, he made it a rule to keep Antonelli away from the awesome right-handed punch of the Dodgers. As a result, Johnny, in two previous seasons with the Giants, had only one decision against Brooklyn—a defeat. His lifetime mark, including three seasons with the Braves, was 2-4 up to this year.

Gal Shot Putter After 60 Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Earlene Brown, the new American women's record holder in both the shotput and the discus, blandly predicted today that she will toss the shot 60 feet.

This, to the gals, is akin to a 70-footer for men. It has been called impossible and even the Moscow musclewomen haven't dared dream of it. One Galina Zybina, pride and joy of the Kremlin, has a record throw of 54-8½ pending.

"Oh, I don't say I'll do it this year," said Mrs. Brown, a 226-pound mother of a 9-month-old son. "But give me a year or two, and I think I can get off a 60-footer."

The women's shot, incidentally, weighs 8 pounds, 15 ounces compared to the standard men's iron ball of 16 pounds.

That doesn't detract from Mrs. Brown's new American record of 46-9½, which she set in the Olympic Trials here Saturday, though. Only four girls have done better than 50 feet and they all are Russians. To be exact, Mrs. Brown's toss was the 15th best ever in women's competition.

Rosburg Wins Detroit Title In Playoff

DETROIT (AP)—Nearsighted Bob Rosburg, who made golf take a back seat to baseball during his collegiate days, had his second major golf victory today but he needed a sudden-death playoff to beat off the challenge of Ed Furgol for the Motor City Open title.

Rosburg pocketed $4,000 and the former National Open champion $2,200 after the bespectacled San Franciscan whipped Furgol on the first extra hole of the $20,000 tournament.

It took Rosburg, 29, just a par to do it. Furgol failed to sink a six-foot putt and took a bogey.

Rosburg and the 37-year-old Furgol, one of the nation's top money winners despite an illness at an early age that left one of his arms shorter than the other, finished the 72-hole tournament deadlocked with 284s.

The top-prize money boosted Rosburg's earnings this year to $14,611. Furgol, who went into the tourney as the nation's 10th leading money winner, ran his tournament golf income to $19,053.

Jack Fleck, the 1955 Open titlist, missed a chance to make it a three-way playoff on the 18th hole by flubbing a short putt and finished in third place with a 285 score. He won $1,700.

In fourth place with 286 was Bo Wininger, the stubby golfer from Odessa, Tex., who won $1,200. Deadlocked with 287 were four professionals, Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Dave Douglas of Newark, Del.; Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., and rookie Bill Trombley of Dallas, Tex. Each earned $950.

When the Pittsburgh Pirates called up Bill Mazeroski, a second baseman with Hollywood, he was batting .305 in the Pacific Coast League.

Charley Peete, rookie outfielder with the St. Louis Cardinals, earned his chance in the major leagues by hitting .351 in 95 games with Omaha during the early part of 1956.

PA, CC Lead BS Playoffs

By The Associated Press

Port Arthur and Corpus Christi were poised to put the finishing touches of their Big State League playoff series Monday, having only to beat Waco and Wichita Falls one game to end the first round.

Port Arthur made it three games to one by edging Waco, 4-3, Sunday night. Wichita Falls, however, prolonged its series with Corpus Christi by downing the Clippers 7-5. Corpus Christi also holds a 3-1 margin.

The clubs wind up their stands at Waco and Wichita Falls and if more games are needed they shift back to Port Arthur and Corpus Christi.

Port Arthur used six hits to perfection in beating Waco Sunday night. George Zackey, who had to have relief in the last inning although winning the game, helped his own cause with a 2-run homer. Claude St. Vincent also homered for the Chieftains.

Jack Wilson drove in all the Waco runs.

Backs Kyle Rote and Pat Knight, boht former SMU stars from San Antonio, Tex., are with the New York Football Giants.

Fast Field To Vie In Labor Day Races Here

The fastest field ever assembled for the annual Lions Club boat races at Lake J. B. Thomas will bid for $1,000 in prize money.

Snyder Downtown Lions Club is sponsoring the affair for the third straight year.

The Labor Day affair will get underway at 1 p.m. with preliminary racing and at 2 p.m. for the finals.

State champions from seven states will be entered in the races.

Winners of the races here will qualify for the World Championship races to be held in Elmira, N. Y.

Entries already received are Dick Burton, Austin; Billy Thomas, Lubbock; Stephen Turpin, Sweetwater; C. B. Norton, Jal, N. M.; E. A. Grimmer, Austin; and Ben McCullough, Big Spring.

Woody Park of the local Lions club is the boat race chairman.

Roland Bell is handling the entry list.

Chuck Wolfe is the Lions president.

Wolfe directs all racing fans to drive directly to the dam at Lake Thomas for directions to the site of the racing.

"Scene of the races will depend on the weather," Wolfe said. "The direction of the wind will determine where to stage the races," Wolfe said.

There will be plenty of road signs directing the fans to the scene of the races, Wolfe said.

Several members of the police department will be on hand to direct the traffic.

Wolfe also pointed out that there will be plenty of concessions available at the races.

The Grimmett Brothers are donating a truck to carry the time clock for the races.

Proceeds taken in at the races will be used for sight conservation. The Lions Club each year purchases eye glasses for our needy youngsters here.

Last year the club bought between 50 and 75 pair of glasses for Snyder school children.

Admission for the races will be 90 cents for adults and 50 cents for high school students. Students under high school age accompanied by an adult will be admitted free.

49ers, Bears, Packers Stay Undefeated

By The Associated Press

The strength of the National Football League lies in the Western Conference on the basis of exhibition games played against each other by the 12 members of the play-for-pay circuit.

With the opening of the regular season still four weeks away, the only unbeaten teams are the San Francisco 49ers, Green Bay Packers and the Chicago Bears, all members of the Western Conference. Each has won three games.

Two other members of the same division, the Baltimore Colts and the Detroit Lions, are next in line along with the New York Giants of the Eastern Conference. They each have 2-1 records. Los Angeles, Washington and the Chicago Cardinals have dropped two of three games while the champion Cleveland Browns are 0-3 and the Philadelphia Eagles 0-4.

Over the weekend the Bears, Packers and 49ers each came up with their third victories. The Bears downed Washington 17-3 Saturday while the 49ers edged the Cards 14-13 yesterday when defensive halfback George Maderos blocked Pat Summerall's conversion attempt with 80 seconds remaining.

The Packers turned back the Browns 21-20 while the Giants came through with a 21-10 decision over the Rams.

SWEEPSTAKES AT SNYDER CC TODAY

The Snyder Country Club is holding a "Sweepstakes" today, according to pro Shanty Hogan.

The Sweepstakes operates on the same basis as a pro-am except that there will be no pros, Hogan said.

Entry fee for the sweepstakes will be $1. Prizes will be in the form of merchandise.

Anyone is eligible to compete, Hogan said, and they can tee off at anytime today.

Matty Bell Raps OU's Recruiting

DALLAS (AP)—Matty Bell, Southern Methodist University athletic director, took a crack at Oklahoma today for enticing star schoolboy athlete Bobby Boyd away from his school.

Bell charged that Oklahoma coaches "worked on" Boyd all summer although the Garland, signed a letter of intent to attend Southern Methodist.

"I think its a shame for a school to bother boys who have signed an agreement to attend another school," the former Texas Christian, Texas A&M and Southern Methodist coach declared. "I always have believed in standing up to an agreement."

Bell said Oklahoma did not violate any rule in contacting Boyd and getting him to change his mind and go to Oklahoma because the letter of intent is a Southwest Conference instrument only and no school outside the conference is bound by it. But he said he did question the ethics involved.

At the same time he said there was only one way to solve this problem and prevent hard feelings between colleges over one getting the other's athletes. "The coachs themselves have to come to an agreement," he explained.

Boyd, who announced himself over the weekend that he was going to Oklahoma, is the second Texas athlete lost by SMU to Oklahoma this year after signing a letter of intent. Sam Caudle, all-state guard from Abilene, was grabbed by the Sooners several weeks ago.

"They have a whale of a system of going after them," Bell said. "They really hound them, stay on them. And there's quite a lot of suspicion that sometimes they offer them beyond what's allowed. The alumni do that, though; I don't think the coaches do it. The coaches stay after them though."

For those who demand the best in hotel accommodations. Famed for friendly service and excellent cuisine.

Each hotel is located on a main highway in the center of activity in its respective city. Prompt Garage Service at door of each hotel.

Outdoor Art Exhibit Vanishes In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—An outdoor art exhibit of 25,000 paintings vanished in less than five minutes in Bohemian Greenwich Village yesterday.

A sudden shower sent 500 artists scrambling to lift their paintings off walls, fences, lampposts, stoops and easels and stow them away in the backs of cars and station wagons.

Five minutes later there wasn't a painting to be seen. But the artists and their wares will be back today in their Washington Square exhibit area, weather permitting.

Bandleader Afrested

WOMAN ON WARPATH

Burial Ground Sale Opposed

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—The last of the Conley sisters talked today of taking up arms again to save a two-acre Indian burial ground in the heart of the business district.

Twice before, Miss Helena Conley has fought the battle of Huron Park. But Miss Helena is quite feeble now. (Her age is her secret). And sisters Ida and Lyda aren't here to help. They lie in the cemetery beneath a stone inscribed:

"Cursed be the villain that molests their graves."

The story goes back to 1855 when the Wyandotte Indians moved to Oklahoma and ceded the burial ground to the United States by treaty.

Kansas City, Kan., has grown to 140,000 and all around the cemetery since then. As far back as 1906 the Wyandottes were after it back. The object? Wampum! Lawrence E. Zane, present day chief of the tribe, estimates with the graves moved elsewhere it can be sold for a million and a half for commercial development.

Congress in July did indeed pass a bill restoring the plot to the Wyandottes. President Eisenhower signed it.

Rep. Errett P. Scrivner, who lives here and has blocked such legislation several times in the past, was flabbergasted when he found out Saturday. The bill had cleared both houses of Congress without his even knowing there was such a bill.

"It was a sleeper," he complained.

"We did it by keeping it quiet," acknowledged Chief Zane, janitor at the Miami, Okla., post office.

"I'm going to put a curse on him," said Miss Helena. "I'm one-sixteenth Wyandotte."

After Congress approved sale of the cemetery in 1905, the Conley sisters built a 6x8-foot building over their mother's grave, put an iron fence around it, and stood guard with a shotgun.

They defied U. S. marshals and local police. They went to jail. Lyda, an attorney, argued the case before the Supreme Court. She was upheld in her contention Congress could not change the treaty of 1855.

It provides the burial ground shall remain a burial ground "as long as the rivers flow and the grassing grow."

Miss Helena rummaged around her house yesterday and found the legal briefs Miss Lyda used. They were relied on in 1940 when the conflict flared again.

"No white man," said Miss Helena, "has ever kept his word."

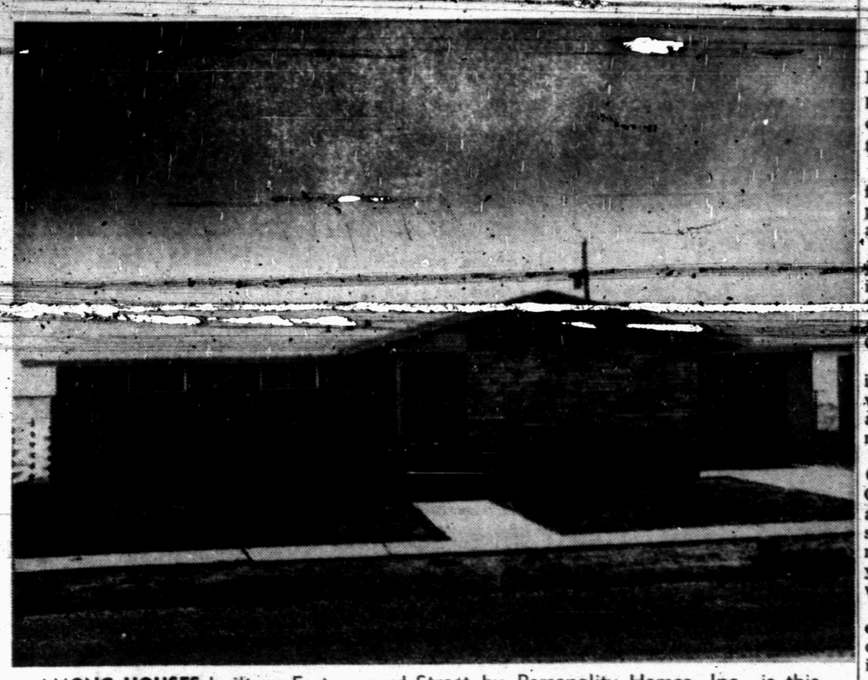
SNYDER BUSINESS NEWS



AMONG HOUSES built on Forty-second Street by Personality Homes, Inc., is this one, with rock trim. This is one of six constructed in the first phase of an 18-house development on that street. The firm is now making plans for the second phase. (Lee Watson photograph)

Personality Homes Finishes Part Of New Housing Program

The first six-house phase of an 18-house development on Forty-second Street are now in the hands of their new owners, and Personality Homes, Inc., builder of the houses, is making plans for another phase.

"We are in the process now of planning those houses," L. A. McClanahan, a partner in the firm, said this week, adding that the new houses will have three bedrooms and 1,000 to 1,300 feet of floor space.

McClanahan said the care and detail which went into planning and construction of the first six houses created a big demand, and the firm will get the next group of houses ready to go as soon as possible.

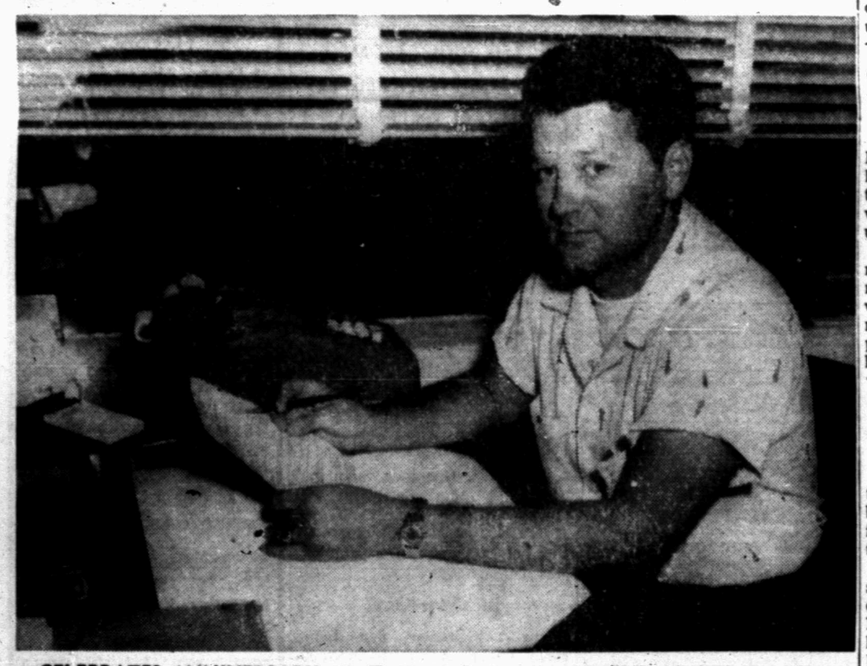
He added that many persons now like to plan and build their own houses but put them in neighborhoods which are suitable because of the appearance of other houses. This can be done on Forty-second Street. Jack & Jack Realty, operated by Mr. and Mrs. McClanahan at 1921 Twenty-sixth Street, is exclusive agent for Personality Homes and will also discuss the sale of lots in the neighborhood with persons interested in doing their own building.

The houses built by Personality Homes are financed by either GI or FHA loans. Like the first phase of houses built by the firm, the next group will have masonry trim.

The Forty-second Street location is convenient to schools, the park, and to shopping centers. The street is paved, and paved streets are accessible throughout the neighborhood.

The area has medium building restrictions, with no houses to be built with less than 1,000 feet of floor space.

McClanahan said Jack & Jack also has other lots available in several parts of town for persons who wish to do their own building. These lots are located in various neighborhoods with varying building restrictions.



CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY—R. T. (Buz) Buzbee, owner of Snyder Finance Co. located one block north of the square at the corner of Avenue S and Twenty-fourth Street, is shown above at the desk of the firm which has made more than 600 customer loans in the first year of operation. Snyder Finance Co. lends money to anyone who has worked at his current job for six months or more and who has a fair credit rating (Lee Waston photograph)

Snyder Finance Makes More Than 600 Loans First Year

In its first year of operation here Snyder Finance Co., owned and operated by R. T. (Buz) Buzbee, has made more than 600 customer loans.

The loan firm which specializes in salary signature loans of from $5 to $50 was originated by Buzbee Sept. 1, 1955, and this week begins its second year of loan service to persons of this area.

"One of the main factors contributing to a successful first year of operation in which we made an average of about two loans per business day has been the ease and lack of red tape with which we make loans," Buzbee said.

"Usually it takes less that 15 minutes for a customer to secure a loan, and there is no complicated precedure for the customer to go through," he said.

In fact, many of the firms customer loans have been made simply by the applicant telephoning Snyder Finance Co. to apply, and his money was waiting when he got there a few minutes later.

The firm makes loans of from $5 to $50 for any purpose, and no security other than the customer's signature is required.

Loans can be secured for any purpose. If a few extra dollars are needed to get Junior back in school properly, or if you just need some extra cash to go to a football game, the money can be quickly obtained at Snyder Finance Co.

One of the important features of a Snyder Finance Co. loan is that each loan is insured for $100, so that if the borrower is hospitalized or dies his payments are made by the insurance company during his hospitalization, or the loan is completely paid off in case of death.

"If a man becomes hospitalized the insurance not only pays his payments as long as he is hospitalized, but if the loan is completely paid off while he is still hospitalized, the payments go directly to him until the full $100 is paid jointly to him and the finance company if he is hospitalized that long," Buzbee said.

Snyder Finance Co. is operated by Buzbee in conjunction with ownership and operation of the Yellow Cab Co. here, and both have the same headquarters and telephone number, 3-6335.

Church Unity Is Goal Of Large Group

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — The Evangelical and Reformed Church pushes closer toward an unprecedented chapter in church unity today.

It votes on final ratification for a meeting next year to blueprint union with the Congregational Christian Church.

Consolidation of these two major Protestant denominations, joining totally different families of [illegible] member United Church of Christ.

A proposal to authorize the uniting session in Cleveland next June was placed before 400 delegates attending the church's 10th triennial meeting.

Two months ago, meeting at Omaha, Neb., the Congregational Christian Church voted 1,310-179 to authorize the uniting general synod. The 16-year union movement was halted once for four years by a New York court suit, which was eventually dismissed.

The union would be unprecedented in American church history because two denominations differing in origin and cultural history would be combined.

Pertinent facts about the two churches:

Evangelical and Reformed — 785,000 members and 2,750 congregations in 34 synods spread throughout 36 states. Major concentrations in Pennsylvania, Ohio and the Middle West. An outgrowth of distinctive German and Swiss theologial and national heritage.

Congregational Christian Church —1,342,000 members and 5,561 congregations in all 48 states. Spiritual descendants of the Pilgrims coming, originally, from the Anglican Church of England.

Both churches are the result of previous mergers. In 1931, the Christian Church and the Congregational Churches combined and, three years later, the Evangelical Synod of North America united with the Reformed Church in the United States.

Also placed before the delegates were seven similar requests from the synods dealing with the proposed union. All asked that the present organization of both denominations be continued as is until the constitution and by-laws of the new church are submitted and approved finally. All the requests expressed approval of the union.

Christmas Records Played On Labor Day

KINSTON, N.C. (AP)—Disc jockey Nick Royes of radio station WFTC here is playing Christmas records throughout the long Labor Day weekend as a traffic safety measure.

Royes says he is playing the records for "those of you who will not be with us next Christmas. I want you to enjoy some Christmas music in case you're one of those people who think accidents can't happen to you."

Skipper Does His Shooting On Ship

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—It was the opening day of dove season but Pete Peters, skipper of a sport fishing boat, didn't expect to participate.

Peters said he was 40 miles at sea Saturday when a dove landed on a rail of his boat, Fisherman II. Peters shot it with a gun he keeps in the cabin, picked up the bird from the deck and brought it home.

Last year the skipper shot a rabbit about 15 miles at sea. The rabbit was on a kelp bed that apparently had floated away from shore.

Mrs. Rogers Moved

Mrs. E. R. Rogers of Kamay, was carried from the Cogdell Memorial Hospital to a hospital in Wichita Falls Saturday by Bell Ambulance.

Mrs. Rogers was one of the victims in an automobile accident on the Roby Highway recently.

War Crimes Action Is Sought By Korea

SEOUL (AP)—The Korean Republic, semiofficial organ of the South Korean government, today called on the United States to take the initiative in bringing to trial Communists who committed war crimes druing the Korean War.

Citing a war crimes report published by the U.S. 8th Army in October 1953, the newspaper urged the United States to bring the matter before the U.N. General Assembly and demanded that Russia aid in the arrest and trial of the accused.

The Republic cited the Army report as describing "unbelievable mass murders and death marches."
