New Effort To Settle Bus Walkout Fails

Union And Company Reject Proposals For Talks; Court Hearing Underway

By BILL HAMS
Avalanche Staff Writer

NEW efforts to arbitrate the strike of Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches Inc. union drivers failed Wednesday afternoon and the company went into 99th district court to ask that the temporary order restraining the union from violence and interference with service in the walkout be made permanent.

Management and labor, through their attorneys, requested District Judge G. V. Pardue at 10 a. m. Wednesday, when the hearing opened, to delay court action until new efforts to reach an agreement could be made. Judge Pardue agreed to the proposal and recessed the hearing until 3:30 p. m.

Both Reject Offers

The talks, which began immediately after the recess, were brought about through the efforts of District Attorney Lloyd Croslin who Tuesday contacted company and driver union representatives with the request that efforts to reach an agreement be resumed.

Croslin, who took no part in the talks, said his main objective in reviving the conferences was to "settle the strike" and by that means prevent any other act of violence which might occur. He said he felt "considerable responsibility" in the matter, and decided to request the parties to meet again.

Shortly before the hearing was resumed at 3:30 p. m., Defense Attorney Gordon Treadaway reported that the discussions had again proven a failure. He said that the union's offer had been rejected by the company, and the company's counter-offer in turn was unanimously turned down by the local union greviance committee of which Tom Armstrong is chairman.

Union's Offer Given

Armstrong outlined the union's offer as follows:

1. Rates of pay of all drivers shall be increased by one-quarter of one cent a mile.

2. That if net profits of the company in 1948 shall equal the net profits of in 1947, a bonus of five per cent of each operator's salary shall be paid. That if the net profits of the company in 1948 are higher than in 1947, the bonus shall be porportionately increased. That if the net profits in 1948 are less than 1947, the bonus shall be proportionately less.

3. That such increases in pay as proposed shall be retroactive to February 1, 1948.

4. That all striking employes are to be allowed to come back to work with full seniority rights of

UAW Lowers Wage Goal

(By The Associated Press)

STRIKING Chrysler workers cut their hourly wage increase demand back to 17 cents Wednesday as negotiations were opened in an effort to settle the 15-day work stoppage.

The CIO United Auto Workers union originally asked 30 cents, later scaling it down to 17. The union went back to 30 cents when Chrysler withdrew its rejected offer of six cents.

Negotiations to end the strike of 75,000 Chrysler workers were opened in Detroit at the behest of Gov. Kim Sigler. They started a day after General Motors and the union agreed on a 11 cents an hour increase, geared to the cost of living. There was no indication whether Chrysler would follow this pattern.

Plan Opposed

Talks were recessed last night and will be resumed at 11 a. m. (CST) today.

Elsewhere, labor developments included:

Legislative: The National Association of Manufacturers asked Congress to outlaw industry-wide bargaining. This suggestion was opposed by Joseph A. Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America (independent) in testimony before the Senate-House watchdog committee on the Taft Hartley law.

Railroads: A proposal of 20 railroad labor unions that the government buy the railroads seemed to have little prospect of being taken seriously in official Washington. Railroad management officials made light of the suggestion. The rail unions asked that the government take control of revenues and bargain with them on wages and working conditions.

Maritime: The government may seek a Taft-Hartley court order to block an all-coast maritime strike set for June 15.

Phone Talks Resumed

Communications: A presidential fact-finding board stepped out of the long distance telephone workers wage dispute temporarily as direct contract negotiations were resumed. The American Telephone and Telegraph company and the CIO American Union of Telephone Workers, representing 25,000 long distance operators, have agreed to

Fate Of Draft Bill In Doubt

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The fate of the draft bill was thrown more than ever into doubt today when Senator Langer (R-ND) announced he would try to attach a civil rights program to it.

Langer said his proposed amendment would, among other things, bar all forms of racial discrimination under selective service.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb), acting Republican leader of the Senate, told reporters such a move would inevitably mean a filibuster by southerners.

Fight Pledged

The defense program faced difficulties on another front, too. In the House, about 60 members want to speak against the House draft bill even before it clears the Rules committee and reaches the floor.

Langer said that Congress is about to adjourn without acting on any phase of President Truman's civil rights program calling for anti-lynching, anti-poll tax, anti-Jim Crow and other provisions. Moreover, he said, the President "has failed to issue an executive order abolishing Army Jim Crow."

Consequently, he said in a statement, "I shall introduce an amendment to bar all forms of racial segregation under any draft and I shall fight vigorously for

Shivers Declines To State Plans On Governor's Race

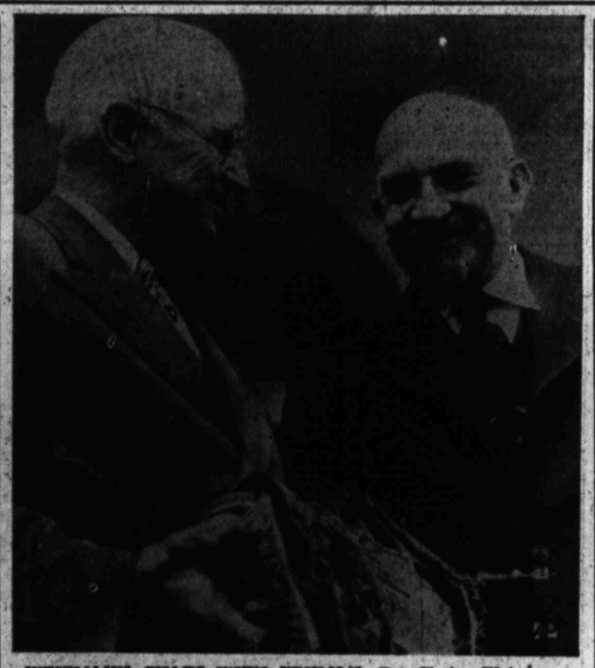

MISSION Texas, May 26 (AP)—Lt. Gov. Allan Shivers declined today to say that he would run for governor—or that he would not run.

He told newsmen he is "listening and watching developments." Asked if he wants to remove himself from the gubernatorial picture, he replied, "No, I don't want to do that, either."

He said he had no other statement to make.

Rain Continues To Fall Over Parts Of State

Area Crop Outlook Boosted By Rains

RAINS averaging more than two inches over Lubbock and the South Plains this week have created what is considered ideal crop conditions. The precipitation appeared to be ended, temporarily at least, as the rain turned to mist Wednesday and the thundershowers moved eastward, according to the Weather Bureau station.

Meanwhile, the heavier rains had moved downstate and good falls were reported in the San Angelo area as well as the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Approximately 35 to 40 percent of the cotton crop had been planted in Lubbock county prior to Sunday when the rains commenced, County Agent D. W. Sherrill reported. The weather station north of the city had recorded 1.92 inches of moisture this week up until Wednesday night, bringing the total for the month to 2.33 inches.

Outlook Now Bright

Although many farmers were in the process of planting when the rains came, most of that planted was on irrigated farms.

In those areas where the rain fell heavily during a short period of time, replanting may be necessary, Sherrill said. Hurlwood, Woltforth and between Idalou and Lorenzo were mentioned as areas receiving rather heavy rainfall as well as those north of Monroe and Acuff.

Sherrill stated that in general 'ideal conditions' had been created for the cotton crop in most of the area.

The Santa Fe railroad dispatcher at Slaton said last night that points along the railroad had reported light mist yesterday. These extended from Sweetwater to Amarillo and Clovis, N. M., and included Littlefield and towns northwest of Lubbock. About .02 of an inch of moisture was measured by the Lubbock weather station from 6 a. m. Wednesday to midnight.

Lamesa Has Good Rain

A notable exception to these conditions was a report from Bill Warren of Lamesa that about one-half inch of moisture had fallen there Wednesday, and about three inches in southwest Dawson county during the 24-hour period up to 5 p. m.

Heavy rains were reported to the dispatcher from Crowell,

Man On Car Bumper Carried To Death By Runaway Auto

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, May 26.—Jack Hargrove, 33, climbed the front bumper of his car and tried to start it.

The car started—and carried Hargrove two blocks and crushed him against a tourist cabin wall. He died of a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Police, in reporting the accident today, said a baby in the tourist cabin was jarred from his crib by the impact.

Jester Hit For Stand On HST

AUSTIN, May 26. (AP) — Caso March of Waco today came out strongly for President Truman and declared he would make the "Truman fight one of the fundamental issues" in his campaign for governor of Texas.

March denounced the victory of Gov. Beauford H. Jester's forces at the state Democratic convention in Brownwood as evidence that "Roosevelt haters, Texas regulars and half-breed Republicans are running Texas."

This was the first loud repercussion following the convention's end.

Jester Scored

"I'm going to take this Truman fight to the people of Texas," the fiery law professor at Baylor university declared. "I'm going to make it one of the most fundamental issues of my campaign whether Beauford Jester and his protege, Wright Morrow—a well known Texas regular—can run Texas."

"There can be no question now but that Mr. Jester and the Texas regulars are sleeping in the same bed," March told the Associated Press.

March said that Roy Sanderford of Belton had "kicked off" persons chosen by the county delegates as representatives of the 11th congressional district to the na-

Deadlock On Western Germany Is Broken

LONDON, Thursday, May 27 (AP)—A six-country conference broke a major deadlock late last night on the political and economic future of western Germany.

The conference agreed upon broad powers for an international control board over the iron ore, coal and coke of the Ruhr valley, industrial heart of western Europe.

Responsible diplomatic officials said the agreement was hammered out in yesterday's sessions. It broke an impasse which had threatened failure of the talks among the United States, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Lyndon Johnson III In Dallas Hospital

DALLAS, May 26 (AP) — Rep. Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas) was hospitalized here today with a kidney stone only a few days after he had begun a campaign for the U. S. Senate nomination.

Attendants at Medical Arts hospital said he was brought to the hospital in a wheel chair in mid-afternoon. A representative of his campaign headquarters at Austin said the congressman had a temperature of 104 at 3:30 p. m. Efforts to reach his physician, Dr. R. E. VanDuzen were unavailing.

Johnson's illness apparently interrupted his plans to carry his campaign tonight to Wichita Falls, where he was scheduled to speak.

Hospital attendants said it was too early to judge Johnson's condition or say what treatment would be necessary.

At Austin Claude C. Wild, chairman of the Johnson for senator committee, said Johnson's illness began last Saturday, a few hours before he made the speech opening his campaign for senator. X-rays revealed the kidney stone, but Johnson decided to follow his campaign schedule.

TWENTY PERSONS HURT

HOLDENVILLE, Okla., May 26. (AP)—Eight persons remained in hospitals here tonight—victims of yesterday's collision of a Greyhound bus and gasoline tank truck. Of the 20 originally hurt, 12 have been released. Five are at St. Francis hospital and three at physicians and surgeons hospital. Most seriously hurt are Dazah Green, 30, Lyle, Texas, and Christine Farmer, 30, of Denison. Both are at St. Francis.

TEXAS 'FOUNDED BY SIN'

Irate Solons Score 'Voice Of America' For 'Libelous' Script

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 26—Astonished and angry, the Senate heard today that the Voice of America has been broadcasting such information as: "New England was founded by hypocrisy and Texas by sin."

The reaction was terrific.

"This stuff!" deplored New England Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass).

"Drivel, nonsense and downright falsehoods!" shouted western Senator Hatch (D-NM).

Senator Connally (D-Tex) said the authors were "saboteurs" who had "libeled and slandered Texas."

The outburst was touched off by the reading of excerpts from scripts broadcast last December and January to South and Central America.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind), who read the excerpts, said he will introduce a resolution tomorrow for an investigation to "get all of the facts."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) told the Senate it should "revoke immediately this (Voice of America) appropriation until we know that every word is supervised."

Congress has voted to appropriate $27,000,000 for the State department to use for the Voice of

Arabs Reject UN Plea; Fierce Battles Raging

UN Stop-Fight Order Fails

LAKE SUCCESS, May 26 (AP)—The Arabs rejected tonight a United Nations cease-fire order for Palestine.

But they asked the Security Council to state promptly whether it could offer any acceptable terms for a political settlement that might stop their war with Jewish Israel in the Holy Land.

The result tonight of long conferences here and at Arab league headquarters in Amman, Trans-Jordan, is that the fighting goes on and the Jews have declared unacceptable the conditions laid down by Arabs for a truce.

Jews Score Rejection

Israel replied—through the Jewish agency for Palestine—that the Arab answers were a flagrant rejection of the council's appeal.

The Jews said if the Arab states want peace with Israel they can have it and if they want war they can have it.

The Arab countries individually said they could not stop fighting as long as Israel claimed existence as a nation.

They demanded also that the UN ban imports of Arms to the Jews and limit Jewish immigration in Palestine.

Arabs Name Committee

The individual replies were considerably sharper than the note to the Security Council from the Arab league chiefs meeting in Amman. The league did not specifically accept or reject the cease-fire order.

Dr. Naji Al-Asil of Iraq read the Arab league reply to the council. He said the Arabs have no guarantee that the cease-fire would stop Zionist violence.

The league made these decisions:

1. It notified the council it had appointed a committee to negotiate with the council's truce commission in Palestine.

2. It called on the council to give to the league the specific terms on which the council would settle the Palestine political differences.

The league told the council its political committee was prepared to consider within 48 hours the terms of a settlement on which the council might eventually agree. Apparently the 48 hours would run from the time the council made its decision.

As the league's answer was dis-

Flood Threatens Portland Area

PORTLAND, Ore., May 26 (INS)—The worst spring flood since 1894 on the middle Columbia river was forecast tonight by weather experts at Portland as the stream outstripped earlier forecasts.

The Columbia at Vancouver, Wash., rose to 23.7 feet today, more than eight feet above its banks. The bigger stream backed up water in the Willamette at Portland to 23.2 feet, flooding lowlands and low wharves and drowning several cows near the city.

Elmer Fisher, river forecaster for the weather bureau, said the Columbia will rise to 23.2 feet at Vancouver tomorrow, 23.9 feet Friday, 24.7 Saturday and 25.7 Sunday. The 1894 crest is estimated at 34.4 feet.

Body Sought

Fisher also forecast a Sunday reading of 25.7 feet in Portland, 7" feet above the banks. Both marks would be the highest in the spring since 1894, when the Willamette rose to 33 feet. In 1933 it reached 24.8.

Meanwhile, Coast Guardsmen and Washington state police scanned the swollen Columbia 50 miles east of Vancouver for the body of Roger Viramontes, 33-year-old Portland truck driver. He drowned early today when his truck and trailer, laden with apples, hit a

Former State Official, Three Others Hurt In Auto Collision

SAN ANGELO, May 26 (AP)—A. B. Knickerbocker, 52, former state adjutant general, and E. R. Osborn of Houston were injured in a head-on auto collision between San Angelo and Sterling City this afternoon.

Knickerbocker's condition was reported good; the condition of Osborn serious. Mr. and Mrs. George McIntire of the U ranch at Sterling City, occupants of the other car, suffered lighter injuries.

Osborn is assistant general manager of the Texas Pipeline company at Houston. He suffered fractures of the leg and elbow, shock, and multiple lacerations. He and Knickerbocker were in a San Angelo hospital.

Knickerbocker, whose home is at Austin, is an oil field construction contractor.

GOP Tramples Democratic Opposition

House Approves Bill To Extend Trade Act

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 26—House Republicans trampled Democratic opposition today and passed a bill continuing the reciprocal trade agreements act until June 30, 1949 in a form the administration declared would "cripple" the program.

The vote was 234 to 149, twenty-two votes short of the two-thirds majority required to override a presidential veto. It has been reported that President Truman will veto the measure if passed by the Senate and sent to the White House in its present form.

Senate GOP leaders have announced they will study the House measure immediately and rush action on the extension before the present law expires June 12.

The House bill curbs the President's tariff-cutting power. It takes from an administration inter-departmental committee and gives to the two-party tariff commission power to outline the limits within which tariffs may be cut in new trade pacts with foreign countries.

Secretary of State Marshall and former Secretary Cordell Hull who fathered the present 14-year-old act, have both declared the GOP measure would seriously "cripple" the reciprocal trade program.

1,200 PERSONS ATTEND OPENING

Methodists Meet Here In Annual Conference Session

By CHARLES STONE
Avalanche Staff Writer

THE 39th annual meeting of the Northwest Texas conference of the Methodist church opened last night at the First Methodist church here, with a crowd estimated at 1,200 persons filling the main auditorium and balconies and overflowing into the halls of the church.

Bishop Charles C. Selecman, who plans to retire soon after holding the position for ten years, opened the initial session. He introduced Bishop Paul Martin of Little Rock, Ark., who presented the sermon for the evening.

Bishop Martin based his sermon upon the words of the Apostle Paul in his First Letter To the Corinthian Church, "A great door is opened unto me and there are many adversaries."

Opportunity Stressed

He pointed out that a similar door has been opened to the church in our time. "Never before has there been such an opportunity for the church to administer to the wounds of a world that has come to destruction and bankruptcy through the last war," he said. "The world is filled at the present with starved and cynical people who are hungering for someone to show them the way."

He indicated that great moral and spiritual values are necessary in the United States if we are to do our part in lifting the world out of chaos. A responsibility for personal character must be instilled in the people of the country, particularly in the children, if democracy is to live. "The church can live without democracy," he stated, "but democracy cannot live without the church."

Circuit-Riders Cited

The problem faced by the church today is not an easy one, he said. "Great religion has never promised its followers that they might live easily, but it does promise that they may live gloriously," he added.

Bishop Martin related the history of the old-time circuit riders who blazed the trail for religion in West Texas in the days when privations were many and comforts few. "About one-third of these circuit riders lived for only five years in this rough country at that time, and the other two-third had an average life expectancy of about 12 years," he said. The driving force which actuated these early American carriers of the gospel, and the perseverance which made them continue in the

14 Bidders Answer Blonde Divorcee's 'Wife For Sale' Ad

(By The Associated Press)

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., May 26—Mrs. Dorothy Lawlor, comely 26-year-old divorcee, today got 14 quick offers from prospective husbands willing to pay her $10,000 and support her and her two children.

She announced she would interview the bidders at the Long Island night club where she works as a hatcheck girl, and make her decision within a week.

"I have just enough money to last me that long," she said.

Advertises In Paper

The offers came within a few hours after her "wife for sale" story appeared in the Hempstead Newsday. The paper published the story after she had submitted this ad for "situation wanted, female" column:

"Wife for sale. Divorcee, blonde, attractive wants man to marry and support her and two children. Must be willing and able to make immediate $10,000 cash settlement."

She said the man must be "of a decent type" and "not too old," as well as the possessor of $10,000.

Married at 15 and divorced five years later, Mrs. Lawlor said she wanted the money to guarantee security for herself and the children, Dorothy, 11, and Tommy, 10. She said she was tired of the eight-year struggle to provide for them.

"I just don't believe in love," she said. "But surely somewhere, there must be a man who wants a wife and two fine children. Perhaps we could learn to love each other after a time."

Cotton Price Rises After ECA Report

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Cotton futures closed $1.75 to $2.55 a bale higher today. Commission house buying and short covering were stimulated by an ECA announcement authorizing the shipment of $27,871,000 of American cotton to four European countries. Traders believed this would develop export buying.

In early dealings new crop months sagged on more beneficial rains in Texas and Oklahoma on Tuesday which considerably brightened cotton crops there.

Marshall Renews Efforts For Unhindered Traffic On Danube

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 26—Secretary of State Marshall revealed today the beginning of a new effort to open Europe's important Danube river to unhindered navigation.

The U. S. hope is to break down a major barrier to the free flow of trade between eastern and western Europe by getting Russia and its satellite countries to agree to unrestricted Danube shipping.

Marshall announced at a news conference that the United States had proposed a Danube conference of the big four powers plus central and eastern European nations. It would be held in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, beginning July 30.

The meeting, if the Russian bloc countries accept, could provide a test of the Soviet government's expressed desire for better relations with the United States.

In another statement, Marshall reported that big four negotiations on an Austrian independence treaty in London have been temporarily suspended. He blamed Soviet "delaying tactics" for this latest failure of the big powers to agree on a pact, which would end the occupation of Austria and restore its freedom.

American officials said the ques-

Ultimatum Is Handed Jews

By MAX BOYD
Associated Press Staff Writer

CAIRO, May 26—The battle of Jerusalem raged on today and the Security Council's deadline for a cease-fire in the Holy Land passed almost unnoticed.

As UN truce efforts collapsed at Lake Success, Arab legion armor and dynamiters pressed closer on a 200-yard square of Jewish-held rubble in Jerusalem's old city.

The British-controlled Near East radio said the defenders had been split and that an Arab ultimatum had been given to Jewish Irgunists entrenched in the great Hulva synagogue to surrender or die by being blown up.

Collapse Expected

An Associated Press dispatch from inside the old city said Arab officers expected a collapse of the Jewish defense "momentarily."

The Near East radio station said Jewish residents of old Jerusalem were under almost continuous shellfire. It said modern Jewish-held buildings in modern Jerusalem had been bombed by Arab planes for the first time.

The broadcast said the biggest Egyptian bombers yet, with fighter escort, had bombarded Jewish Tel Aviv.

Jewish Defeat Claimed

Reports from Jerusalem said a second hard fight was raging west of the city along the road to Tel Aviv.

An Arab legion communique said 800 Jewish casualties had been inflicted in a battle at Latrun, and that Jews had suffered a "crushing defeat" there, at Beit Jiz and Khulda in the fight for control of the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv road.

The communique said Abu Ghosh, a Jewish strong point dominating the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv road, had been captured.

The communique said only that Arab operations in Jerusalem were going "according to plan."

A Syrian communique said Syrian patrols had pushed the Jews back in a night scouting expedition south of Shaar Hakolan, below the Sea of Galilee and

Planes Sent To Aid Americans

WASHINGTON, May 26. (INS)—The State department announced today that approximately two dozen Air Force transport planes have been sent to the eastern Mediterranean to evacuate American citizens from the strife-torn area should the necessity arise.

The Air Force announced that 16 C-47 transports and six B-17 bombers converted to transport use have landed at Cyprus, an island in the eastern Mediterranean. The USAF said the planes would be based there until the State department says they are no longer required.

The Washington announcements came after dispatches from Nicosia, Cyprus, reported the arrival of the planes.

Planes Reach Cyprus

In a formal statement, the State department said:

"Approximately two dozen C-47 transport planes of the Army Air Forces have arrived in Cyprus from Europe. In view of the unsettled conditions in the Near East these planes are being held at the Nicosia airport should they be required to evacuate American citizens in the area."

It was learned that the planes were dispatched from Frankfurt, Germany.

Personnel on the planes are confined to flight crews and a small security guard.

State department estimated that there were approximately 12,300 Americans in the general Middle East area. They were divided as follows:

Palestine, 4,200; Lebanon, 1,400; Syria, 200; Iraq, 150; Saudi Arabia

NAVY HOLDS TARGET PRACTICE

Famous Cruiser Goes Down In Pacific After Bombardment

WITH THE U. S. FIRST TASK FLEET, May 26 (AP)—Two swift, clean torpedo hits sank the U. S. cruiser Salt Lake City after bombs, shells and rockets had battered her sturdy hulk for hours.

The end came at 1:52 p. m. (Pacific Daylight Time yesterday after five hours of intermittent bombardment with everything 15 ships and scores of planes had to offer.

The famous old swaybacked fighting ship went down without protest—almost gracefully—as if she welcomed death under fire to desecration in a junk yard.

She rolled over and hid her grotesquely twisted masts and other wounds in the kindly sea. Her stern rose and then she slid beneath the waves, bow first.

Torpedo Does Job

Her grave is in the great depths, 130 miles off the southern California coast. She went down in 2,000 fathoms, more than two miles, of water. There no diver can ever disturb her.

Adm. C. D. Ramsey, commander of the Pacific fleet, who witnessed the sinking, said: "In general the functioning of material was excellent. The Salt Lake City, a grand veteran of war and peace, has completed her last service. A final well done."

The early stages of the bombardment were limited in order to prolong the practice.

Machinegun bursts and rockets stripped the cruiser of her frills.

Five, six and eight-inch shells were hurled—some missing but many scoring hits. One-hundred, 500 and 1,000-pound bombs tore chunks from her sides and superstructure.

She was still riding the waves, with only a slight list to port, until the first torpedo struck at approximately 1:30 p. m. It tore a hole in her port bow and she gradually keeled over. Fires broke out fore and aft.

Her main deck was almost awash when the second "fish" hit amidships—fired by Cmdr E. P. Madley of the Bronx, New York, from the submarine Blenny.

Committal Services Held

As the Salt Lake City went down, Navy committal services were held on the submarine tender Nereus, standing off a couple of miles.

Rear Adm. Bertram J. Rodgers, who was captain of the cruiser at the battle of the Kommandorskies, off Attu, said:

"Today the Navy is doing what the Japs could not do—we are sinking our own ship. She has fulfilled her destiny."

Chaplain Prescott B. Wintersteen, whose father is pastor of the Roxbury, Mass., Unitarian church, paid tribute to the cruiser whose spirit he said "will endure, through the lives of her crews," and in history.

Four auxiliary ships, three cruisers, six destroyers, two submarines and a hundred or more planes took part in the actual target practice.

The Salt Lake City was built at Camden, N. J., 19 years ago.

She took part in 31 Pacific war engagements. Probably her narrowest escape was in the Kommandorskies fight—the longest surface engagement of the war. Her engines went dead in the running battle with a Japanese force.

She was one of the targets in the Bikini atom tests of two years ago and was still radioactive. A tug towed her out from San Pedro for her final day at sea.

The Cam fire Girl was founded in 1912 by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Gulick.

Reds May Face Trouble If Move Made To Take Peasants' Land

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Yugoslav peasants are reported to be the latest victims of Communist double-dealing in connection with so-called land reform.

When the Reds swept into Europe behind the retreating Germans they brought with them great promises of land ownership for the tenant-farming peasants. The great estates which grew up under the feudal social systems of eastern Europe and the Balkans were broken up and allotted to the little farmers. The program probably was the greatest single pulling power exerted by the Communists as they gradually took over the governments in Poland, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia. Refugee Czechs attribute the 38 per cent Communist vote in their country almost entirely to this one factor.

Then word began to spread through Europe that small farming was not all beer and skittles. The Communist governments exacted heavy quotas from production, and began to put on pressure for collectivization. The Kolkhozes (collective farms were established first in the Baltic states which had been taken over during the war. Men once again were forced to pool their land and work on shares.

But Tito can afford to take his time, secure in the knowledge that when the screws are finally tightened the peasants will have no alternative. He is reported to have disposed of cabinet ministers who wanted to drive ahead too quickly, but that seems to be a matter of the moment rather than a long-term hope for the small landowners.

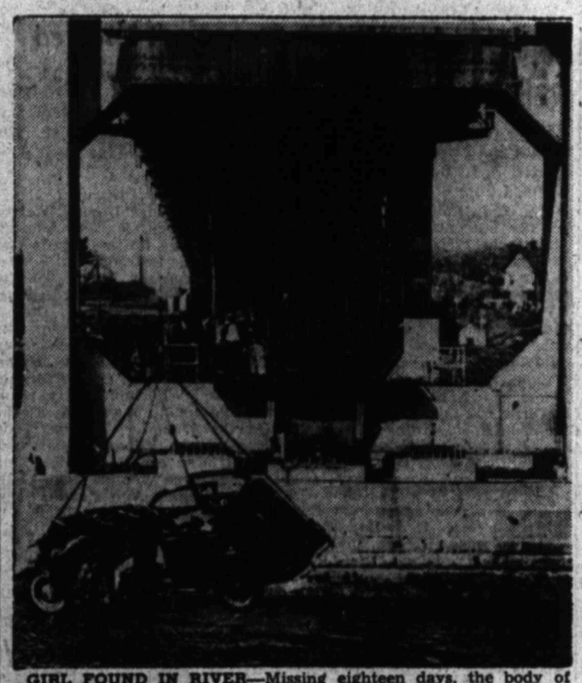

This hoax that is being played on the little people of Russianized Europe is bound to lead to an eventual reaction. Russia is creating a whole class of people who, never having had anything, have been given a brief taste of ownership only to have it snatched away as soon as the Communist hold on their countries is complete and their support, or passive acceptance, no longer important. This, more than any other ingredient in the brew, may one day blow the lid off all Communist Europe.

Registration Is Delayed By Students Without Grade Cards

Principal Floyd Honey announced that with the opening of summer school registration in his office Wednesday, many students were being delayed in signing for classes because they had failed to bring their grade cards, and requested those planning to enroll today or Friday to bring grade reports along to facilitate orderly registration.

The office will be open to registrants from 9 to 12 and 1 to 3 o'clock today and Friday.

The only two groups of students required to pay for summer courses will be those trying to hasten their graduation through summer classes, and those students whose parents reside outside the Lubbock Independent School district. In such cases a charge of $9 for each credit course has been scheduled. There is no charge for non-credit courses.

Honey announced that all those who are unable to register during the three days will be required to register at 7:30 a. m. Monday, just prior to the opening of classes.

Summer registrants not falling in the 9 through 12 grade class will register at 8 a. m. Monday morning at their respective schools. Included in this group are pre-school and elementary students. Those signing for grades 7 and 8 will report to the senior high school for registration on Monday morning.

It pays to provide fattening hogs with plenty of shade in warm weather. The shed should be high enough and open enough to permit a good draft of air during the summer months.

SIXTY years ago, Dr. Horne, a German scientist, discovered the source of GEO-MINERAL. In a remote spot in Mississippi, he found that in several small areas, about fifteen feet below the ground surface, was a layer of mineral bearing clay. He also learned that for years, first the Indians and then the people living in this section had been using minerals extracted from this clay for many medicinal purposes. He heard many stories from people who had been relieved of various ailments by drinking a solution of minerals extracted from this clay. The scientist opened a mine there, and ever since, the fame of this natural mineral medicine has spread throughout the wide continent.

Drugless Health!

REGARDLESS of how long you have been sick, and how many medicines you tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL. Your trouble may be mineral-iron deficiency. Lack of minerals makes your blood weak, your resistance low — run down. Simple anemia, headaches, nervousness, gas, toxins, indigestion, and other symptoms may be present. Arthritis and rheumatic pains also may develop. GEO-MINERAL helps to enrich your blood, and make you strong, full of pep, life and energy.

HIPOCRATES was the father of medicine. Ever since his time, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. Doctors today use minerals as basic material in many of their prescriptions. GEO-MINERAL contains minerals found in the world's best springs. Watch the results a day or two after using it. The housecleaning it will do in your body, the poisons it will bring out. When you see this, do not get alarmed—thank Nature who created GEO-MINERAL as a sign that the medicine is working on you, and realize its priceless value.

Wonder Minerals

RHEUMATISM, arthritis, are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The most important of our people, including doctors, go to mineral springs. They would not patronize these springs without any benefit.

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronien in ancient Greece where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal youth and strength, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

Rich Red Blood

MEDICAL records show 68% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, feel blue, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and when life seems not worth living — it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. Geo-Mineral then is what you need.

GEO-MINERAL is not a physic, and does not interfere with the foods in your stomach. It is a mineral-iron supplement and adds rich red blood, helps to build you up and assists your system to throw away poisons. When the poisons are out of your system, you begin to feel a new life, as Nature starts to complete the recovery.

100% Guaranteed!

WE urge everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not satisfied, your money will be refunded in full.

TRY it today—it may do wonders for you, and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

SHOW Geo-Mineral to your doctor and let him tell you, after he reads the formula on the label, about its merit. GEO-MINERAL contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil. NO harmful drugs, NO dope—is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Natural mineral ingredients highly recommended by the medical profession.

Read What They Say!

Pharmacists, like doctors, know medicine best. Thousands of druggists of high reputation, who now sell Geo-Mineral, report amazing results by its users.

"We not only sell Geo-Mineral"—says G. A. Littlefield, Manager of Smith's Drug Store, Gastonia, N. C.—"but as pharmacists, we know good medicine, and we believe there is none better than Geo-Mineral as a supplement for mineral deficiency. Doctors, hospitals, sanatoriums know the value of natural minerals. We are not surprised at the many users who came back to buy more and told us stories of amazing benefit. We recommend it to our friends, relatives, and beloved ones, and to every one wishing for better health."

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds made."

"We have sold Geo-Mineral for the last six months and it has been one of the best selling drug items we have ever handled"—say Porter Bros., pharmacists of Concord, N. C. "Users report amazing results in many instances, and we personally believe Geo-Mineral is a good medicine for purposes as indicated, and recommend it to sufferers who have tried other medicines with little if any results. They may discover that Geo-Mineral is what they have probably been needing and looking for — we unhesitatingly recommend it."

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

DID you hear about the girl who wanted a pair of "Eisenhower stockings," that is the kind that won't run?

LOST AFGHAN

WHEN Ted Simon, 15, was on his way to the tailor shop with a bundle of clothing Wednesday morning, he lost a woolen afghan which he prized greatly because it had belonged to his mother. It fell from his motor scooter somewhere between the 2400-block on Thirty-fourth and 2400-block on Nineteenth.

If the finder will telephone 2-2808 and report it, Ted will greatly appreciate it.

TIME AT LAST

AFTER our column last week wherein we spoke about the so-called "forgotten woman" we received several telephone calls and notes from readers within the age limits we described. If you didn't happen to read it, we'll repeat that we expressed an opinion that middle-aged women and those slightly older who are left without husbands, or whose husbands are absorbed in their business or whose children have grown up and moved away are often lonely and depressed. They long for an outlet of expression.

We thought they should be given a break of some sort, whether it be in work that would be genuinely active or just for the sake of doing something.

ONE of our callers said she had been so busy in recent years in war service and in being a grandmother and in a multitude of household jobs that she had never had a chance to do the thing that has absorbed her attention for the last six months. And this opportunity wouldn't have presented itself if the leaders had not become ill from too much responsibility and taxed her strength.

Finding that arthritis was creeping into her fingers, the woman began painting pastels, discovering it to be a fascinating occupation. She has been so successful in that she has sold a number and plans to go into oils and to take up china painting next. From there she will take up repairing frames and making other novelties.

"I certainly agree with Mrs. George Pierce that the ability for creative work goes with the desire to create and everyone has the ability to do something creative," she remarked.

INEXPENSIVE DISH

IT is a thrill for a person to take an inexpensive pound of ham burger, combine it with a few other ingredients, and make a main dish to serve four at less than 20 cents a serving.

How can this be done in times of high prices? First, take one pound of hamburger meat; mix in two small chopped onions, 1 well beaten egg; 1 cup moistened Frito crumbs, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup catsup or tomatoes and pepper to taste. Form in a loaf; roll in Frito crumbs and bake in a moderate oven, basting frequently. Just before serving, toast under the toaster to brown the Frito crumbs. This will serve four.

Serve with baked beans, a green salad, French bread and fresh fruit for dessert.

ONE BRIGHT SIDE

THERE'S at least one bright side to the high price of food situation. The American homemaker is becoming a better, more ingenious cook.

This cheering opinion comes from Edouard Panchard, editor of "Culinary Review," national chef's magazine.

Home cooks are at last learning one of the great principles of professional chef training, "avoid waste," according to Panchard.

Left overs challenge the imagination and skill of a cook, as anyone who spends much time in the kitchen can tell you. Actually using left overs is one of the best ways of avoiding monotony in a family menu, says the famed chef, and points out that many restaurant specialties were created by cooks to use up ends of roast beef or left-over chicken.

Housewives who used to buy chops, steaks and a chicken every week are now budgeting a single roast for Sunday and using the left overs for the rest of the week. Many of the by-product dishes can be tastier than the original roast.

OF CHILDREN

CHILDREN need not be perfect; one of the chemist's problems in copying jewels is to preserve the imperfections embedded in them.

One advantage the child psychologist has over a parent is that he doesn't live with the subject.

It is possible for a psychologist to watch a child play for one hour and tell quite accurately the kind of home he comes from.

LOOK OUT FOR PIN-WORMS
Recent medical reports revealed that an amazing number of children (and grown-ups too) may be victims of Pin-Worms—often without suspecting what is wrong! And these pests, living inside the human body, can cause real distress. So watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms—that annoying rectal itch. Get JAYNE'S P-W and follow the directions. Research developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, after years of patient research. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms. Ask your druggist: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Square Dance Group Host At Inter-City Get-Together Here

The first inter-city get-together sponsored by the Lubbock Square Dance federation was held Tuesday night at Playmor Skating rink, Slaton highway, and was attended by 400 Lubbockites and people from the surrounding area.

Kenneth Cox and A. D. Montgomery, caller members of the host group, shared honors as masters of ceremonies. Bill Carroll's string band from Paducah played for the exhibitions and for general dancing from 7:30 o'clock until midnight.

Callers from out-of-town who kept up a lively pace throughout the evening were H. Grady Wilson of Amarillo; Hubert Lee, Earl Thomas and A. C. Green of Paducah, Ray Watson of Hobbs, N. M., and M. Harper of the local federation who is temporarily located in Amarillo.

Messrs. Montgomery, Cox and Howard Hampton represented the Lubbock callers.

Following the grand march led by Mr. and Mrs. T. Teal and Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery and a brief session of general dancing, exhibition sets from Lamesa, Tahoka, Paducah, Amarillo and Lubbock were presented.

Young People Perform

The Tuesday night program was in contradiction of the general opinion that square dancing is for older people, since most of the performing sets were school children, high school young people or the young married set.

Both sets from Amarillo were high school students. Rupert A. Taylor, high school teacher, is sponsor of one set.

The "Highland Hottentots," trained by H. Grady Wilson, superintendent of Potter county schools, were from one of the rural high schools.

"Saturday Night Ramblers," from Paducah, danced the figure with which they recently won a district contest, with Hubert Lee as caller.

Children Are Presented

The two groups of "Prairi Promenaders," from Lamesa, were children taught by Mrs. L. M. Pratt. The girls performing the "Oxford Minuet" in ballet adaption were of junior high school age and the set doing the "Texas Star" were eleven year olds.

A group of grade school children performed under the direction of Mrs. Clyde C. Lindsey.

The "Sashaway" club of Lubbock danced the "Ocean Wave," called by Joe Young and the Tahoka "Docey-Do," club danced "Sashay to the Right," with C. L. Tomlinson calling.

Marriage Proves To Be A Big Business, Statistics Prove

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 26.—Marriage, among other things, is a big business. Cutting like a cad through the orange-blossoms, tulle and weeping mothers-in-law, as the tender month of June approaches, let me heave a handful of statistics instead of rice.

It may come as a surprise to outlying districts, but people in New York get married, too. This is a report on what it costs, on the average, after the original two bucks are invested in a license.

The 9,981 June grooms of New York City—poor devils—spent an average of $265 on the engagement ring and $72 on the wedding ring. They'll spend $42 for a wedding gift to the bride; $14 for her bouquet, $34 for additional flowers, including her going-away corsage; $10 for the minister; $50 for gifts to best men and ushers; $10 for a car to get to the scene of surrender; $200 for new clothes; $140 for the honeymoon, and $695 for new furniture.

It's A Costly Affair

It averages up to $1,342 per groom, plus, of course, the deuce for the permit.

The damozels will brush the dew from their eyes long enough to buy (or have the family buy) a $65 wedding ensemble; spend $270 for other clothes; buy $200 worth of household goods; $20 worth of invitations and announcements; blow $50 on gifts for the bride's attendants; $100 for flowers and music; $100 for the reception; $50 for cars and $20 for wedding photographs.

The bride's old man and lady spend about $75 between them for clothes, and $100 for a wedding gift. Friends of the loving couple race out to buy new clothes and those inevitable darling little shell-shaped ash trays. The average New York couple receives 17 gifts, which average $7 each. In turn, 62 per cent of all wedding gifts are exchanged.

It all adds up, my exhausted statisticians report, to $2,443. Multiply that by 9,981 marriages—scheduled in New York for the month of June—and it levels off to an imposing $24,383,583. Multiply that by the 96,754 marriages to be committed in greater New York City this year and you get something in the dizzy neighborhood of a quarter of a billion dollars. Yes, billion.

Many Face Divorce

Of the 9,981 marriages scheduled for next month in New York 3,094—or 31 per cent—will involve survivors of previous matrimonial crashes. Depressingly, if the average holds up, 32 per cent of the first timers will find their way to Reno, Las Vegas, Miami or other renowned separation centers.

The marriages will range in splendor from the stunning affairs at St. Patrick's or St. Bartholomew's—with rugs leading directly to Sherry's—to the quickies at City Hall, where it is not unusual to see a bride arrive in a rented veil and have her gum-chewing mate hold her half-finished popsicle during the ceremony.

Some of the weddings will run into tens of thousands of dollars; some will go for the minimum $2—with a promise to take care of the disgruntled City Hall man soon as the bride gets a job. It is interesting to note, however, that New York brides average out to a $16 veil and a $49 gown.

I don't know how this compares with Tobacco Road, or Peru, but the average New York bride is 23½ years old. Her ever-loving mate is a beaten-up old bum who is four years and seven months older. He therewith ages rapidly.

Please don't get the idea that I look with a dour stare on the estate of matrimony. I am not given to rash predictions, but I'd bet it's here to stay. And the gal with the half-finished popsicle has just as much of a chance for happiness as the regal miss with a nosefull of bubbles from thaf Tiffany juice, as the late great Yussel Jacobs called champagne.

My dear wife and I had a five-cent wedding breakfast in a Greek lunchroom in Annapolis, Io, these blissful 16 years, 10 months, six days, four hours and 13 minutes ago. It was a glass of milk, complete with drowned fly. But we've been very happy . . . And I just want to add that she's the finest little woman in the world.

Okay, dearie, you can take that knife out of my ribs now.

To peel ripe tomatoes dip them in boiling water for one minute or until their skins will come off easily. Rinse under cold water and chill in refrigerator before using in salads.

Bond Is Posted In Cow Theft Charge

TAHOKA, May 27. (Special)—Sheriff Sam Floyd announced Wednesday that bond of $1,000 was posted Tuesday night by D. R. Adamson, jr., 22, Lynn county man, in connection with a cow theft charge.

The charge, he said, alleged theft from Robert Draper, also of Lynn county. It was sworn to by Razz Renfrow, a Texas ranger of Lubbock, and filed by County Attorney B. P. Maddox in the justice court of P. D. Server for action June 28 of a 106th district grand jury.

Sold In Lubbock

The cow, recovered by Sheriff Floyd and Renfrow, had been sold through a livestock commission company ring in Lubbock, it was said.

Two Slaton young men, arrested Monday night by Sheriff Floyd when in possession of 156 pints of whisky, left town upon payment of fines, but left their 1947 heavy five-passenger coupe, it was announced in the county court by Judge Tom Garrard.

John W. Brown, about 23, was fined $250 and costs for liquor law violation and $100 and costs for abusive language, officials said. His brother, Clifford Brown, about 32, was fined $150 and costs for liquor law violation, they announced.

Judge Garrard ordered that the car be confiscated and sold under

SOLON IS DARKHORSE CANDIDATE

Speaker Martin Says GOP May Wind Up Convention Quickly

CHICAGO, May 26 (INS) — Speaker of t House Joseph Martin predicted today a short GOP national convention of five days duration amid reports by political observers that the Massachusetts Republican himself feels sure he will be the party's dark horse nominee.

This alleged feeling on Martin's part was coupled with reports that supporters of presidential aspirant Robert A. Taft would switch to Martin in the event the Ohioan's cause appeared lost.

Not Seeking Office

Officially Martin reiterated to newsmen that:

"I'm not a candidate."

Talk of the Taft-Martin deal developed when Dudley White, a strong Taft supporter, met with Martin.

Martin is in Chicago to address the spring meeting of the inland Daily Press association.

Martin, who will serve as permanent chairman of the GOP convention which opens June 21 in Philadelphia, said "there is no question about the Republican ticket winning in November. I don't know of a single northern state the Republicans won't carry.

"In addition they should carry Missouri, West Virginia, Tennessee and Maryland."

In his luncheon speech before the Inland Press association group, Martin stressed government economy both at home and abroad and removal of Communists from government posts.

SALT LAKE CITY, May 26 (INS)—A place on the Utah ballot today was assured third party presidential candidate Henry Wallace and his running mate, Sen. Glen Taylor, of Idaho.

A petition carrying the names of 1,688 supporters of the Wallace-Taylor ticket was filed with the secretary of state. Sen. Taylor has scheduled several speeches in Utah Friday and Saturday, following a Thursday appearance of Wallace and Taylor at Pocatello, Idaho.

Dionne Quints To Observe Fourteenth Birthday Friday

NORTH BAY, Ont., May 26 (INS)—The Dionne quintuplets will observe their 14th birthday Friday, probably with a piece of cake in one hand and a book in the other.

Their father, Oliva Dionne, explained that the girls must do a lot of extra studying because they took two grades in one this year and on their birthday will be cramming for high school entrance exams.

As a result, he added, they haven't had time to prepare their usual birthday concert.

The quints will get a day off from school on Friday. They'll hear high mass in their private chapel, and cut their birthday cake at a family party in the evening.

Father Dionne said that the teenagers' five brothers and sisters are in boarding school and won't get home for the party.

Mrs. W. T. Bell of 1911 Ave. K has returned to Lubbock from San Antonio where she was called by the death of her father, William Daehnert, 92.

The "Kiwanis Hotshots" held their "53rd public rehearsal" before members of the Lubbock Exchange club meeting Wednesday for luncheon at Hotel Lubbock. The "Hotshots," a five-piece musical organization of Kiwanians, is composed of Harry Delaney, Jack Hall, Raymond Hamilton, Ralph Stroup and Roy Bass. Members also voted to increase dues from $5 to $6 a month because of the increased price of weekly luncheons. President Warlick Carr announced that the board of directors will meet the first Tuesday rather than the second Tuesday in June, with time and place to be announced later. Guests were Charles R. Meinecke, Billy Cathey, James M. Cathey, W. G. Streicher and R. E. Hamilton.

Funeral services for James Edward Howery, 27, of Lubbock route 2, who died Monday in the Veterans' Administration hospital at McKinney, were conducted Wednesday afternoon in Plains Funeral home chapel, with Rev. C. J. McCarty officiating. Burial was in Memorial Park cemetery here.

Limestone Excluded As Mineral By Court

AUSTIN, May 26. (U.P.)—The Third Court of Civil Appeals ruled today that limestone is not a mineral and is not included within "mineral rights" in a will.

Therefore, the court reversed the judgment of 126th district court at Austin in the case of R. K. Allen versus Marvin Heinatz.

The suit was brought by Heinatz to gain recovery from a will made on Sept. 29, 1922 by Mrs. Emilie Heinatz. She died in 1935.

She willed to her daughter, Dora, her homestead in Bagdad, Williamson county, and the surface rights to 400 acres of land. In the same codicil Mrs. Heinatz provided that the mineral rights should go to trustees for the benefit of all her children.

Judgment was rendered in district court here for Heinatz, with damages of $15,888 for the manufacturing value of the limestone removed and $500 exemplary damages.

The question hinged on whether limestone was included in a definition of "mineral rights."

The court said, first, that the existence of a definite chemical composition furnishes no particular criterion for its classification as a mineral.

And, the court added, there is no essential difference between the amount or value of sand and gravel and limestone.

"We agree with appellees' statement," said the court, "that the meaning of the language employed is: 'certainly not (to be arrived at) by a Gallop poll nor equally under the rules of such parlor games as animal, vegetable, mineral.'"

Finnish Cabinet Replaces Red Official With Social Democrat

HELSINKI, May 26 (INS) — The Finnish cabinet risked Russian Communist wrath tonight by appointing a former Social Democrat, Eino Kilpi, to the key interior ministry post which had been held by Communist leader Yrjoe Leino.

Hertta Kuusinen, leading woman Communist and Leino's wife, was appointed to the cabinet as minister without portfolio.

This is the first time since the war that a Communist has been ousted from the cabinet of the Russian-dominated country.

Situation Under Control

(Finnish foreign minister Carl Enckell in a personal message to Kingsbury Smith, European general manager of International News Service, said:

("The government has the situation completely under control and maintains legal order and Democratic freedom. The strike movement will cease Wednesday. The filling of the two vacancies in the government maintains the previous balance of the parties represented therein.").

Americans and Finnish rightists and conservatives are jubilant at President Juho Paasikivi's compromise handling of the difficult situation.

Communist Strike Fails

The Communists had tried to paralyze the country with a general strike that failed to materialize and then threatened an armed revolt.

It was a compromise, and Communist "face-saving" move by the President.

Kilpi, who has been education minister and former assistant to Leino, was expelled from the Social Democratic party yesterday because he decided to stand as a "people's Democratic alliance" candidate in the July general elections.

The "people's Democratic" group is dominated by the Communists, but Kilpi himself is not an outright Communist.

An end to the political crisis was evident when Communist workers began returning to work. The government estimated that only ten per cent had quit in response to the Communist call for a general strike.

Leino was dismissed last week after being censured by parliament on charges of using his post to Communize the police and also extraditing a score of persons to Russia.

Gas Company Plans Expansion In West Texas, New Mexico

DALLAS, May 26 (AP)—President C. H. Zachry of Southern Union Gas co., outlined at a stockholders meeting here today plans for a $5,000,000 expansion to West Texas and New Mexico properties.

This program includes drilling of additional wells in northeastern New Mexic and construction of a million dollar gasoline plant in San Juan county, N. M.

Zachry said the company plans to issue an additional $2,500,000 in preferred stock.

The directors declared the regular quarterly on the 4½ per cent preferred stock and a dividend of 17½ cents on the common stock.

Officers and directors were re-elected.

The company, a natural gas utility, serves 29 towns in West Texas and New Mexico.

Sam Rayburn Still Opposed To Federal Aid For Education

SHERMAN, May 26. (AP)—Rep. Sam Rayburn said here today that he favored a higher minimum wage but did not believe that the bill would come up before adjournment of Congress this session.

He said that he had not decided how much higher the minimum should be. He also said that he is opposed "as always" to federal aid for education.

The Texas minority leader of the House arrived here with Air Secretary Stuart Symington this morning. He will go to his home in Bonham for a rest before returning to Washington.

Tech Student Speaks At Rotary Luncheon

Richard M. Ehrlich, student in Texas Technological college and member of the state council of United World Federalists, said in an address at the Rotary club luncheon Wednesday noon at Hilton hotel that the road to world peace is through a world government brought about by an effective organization which would be empowered to act in event of need.

Ehrlich said the plan could be accomplished through an effective United Nations organization, but he said changes would have to be made. The UN now, he said, has no power other than to make requests, due to the veto provision.

He said such an organization need not, and should not, infringe on the rights of individual nations, but would rule only on matters involving the peace of the world.

Ehrlich was introduced by Freelan Groce, program chairman. Club President Rex Webster was in the chair, with invocation by J. M. Willson of Floydada.

Visiting Rotarians included Willson, A. D. Herring of Tahoka, Van B. Clark of Littlefield, Fred McGinty of Tahoka, Herschel Nix of Fort Worth, Oscar McGinty of Spur, Dr. Harold G. Cooke of Abilene, Lloyd H. Jones of Floydada, R. E. Wertz of Amarillo, R. L. Perkins of Abilene, H. B. Coggins of Seminole, Rev. O. W. Carrer of Abilene, R. N. Huckabee of Borger, Jimm Potts of Floydada, and Al Cooper of Ralls.

Dizzy Trout Chalks Up Fourth Win Of Season; Shea Gets Loss

DETROIT, May 26 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers capitalized on the wildness of New York Yankee pitchers to beat the world champions 7 to 3 here today before a crowd of 18,915 fans.

The losers outhit Detroit 12 to 8, but Paul "Dizzy" Trout bore down in the clutches to register his fourth win of the season as against an equal number of defeats. Yankee starting pitcher Frank Shea was the loser.

Yankee Hurlers Wild

Shea and relief hurlers Joe Page and Tommy Byrnes gave up 10 walks and four of the Tigers who got on via walks scored. Karl Drews, the fourth Yankee pitcher, did not pass a man in his 1 1-3 innings workout.

Evidences of the wildness of the Yankee pitchers was seen in the record of Tiger leadoff man Neil Berry who was walked on four of his five appearances at the plate. In four of the eight innings the Tigers went to bat, their first man up drew a walk.

BOSOX BEAT BROWNS

ST. LOUIS, May 26 (INS)—A double, an error, two sacrifices and an outfield fly produced two runs for Boston in the top of the tenth today and enabled the Red Sox to end their four-game losing string with a 5 to 3 victory over the Browns.

Joe Dobson, whose wild pitch let in the winning run for Chicago the last time he pitched, tossed another wild one to let St. Louis tie the game up at 3 to 3 in the last of the eighth today. But he stayed on to collect his fourth victory of the season.

A's TROUNCE CHISOX

CHICAGO, May 26 (INS) — Timely hits, equally timely opposition errors and the five-hit pitching of Joe Coleman gave the high-flying Philadelphia Athletics a 7-1 conquest of the White Sox today for a sweep of the bobtailed series between the clubs.

In losing, the tail-end White Sox turned in an error in the fourth when Philadelphia scored twice and three more miscues in the seventh when the A's scored five more times. The big blow of this inning, which insured Coleman's fifth victory, was Elmer Valo's two-run triple. Orval Grove was the loser.

Miss Hummel died last night. She was 53.

Physicians attributed her death to heart attack.

Miss Hummel first was employed by the American league by the late Ban Johnson in 1915, and then served for two other league presidents—E. S. Barnard and then Harridge.

Citation Faces Tough Opponent

MacBeth Bests Track Record In Workout

CAMDEN, N. J., May 26 (AP)—Citation, the three-year-old crown prince of horse racing, was welcomed to Garden State park today by a record-smashing performance.

And the horse that cracked the track record in a workout, J. M. Roebling's MacBeth, is one that Citation will face in the $50,000 added Jersey Stakes Saturday.

MacBeth travelled a mile and a quarter—the Jersey Stakes distance—in 2:04, three-fifths of a second off the track standard set last year by Shamrock stable's Lion Rampant.

Assigned Light Weight

To set Citation's princely crown wavering a little more, MacBeth has been assigned only 114 pounds for the Jersey Stakes. Citation was topweighted with Salamagundi at 126.

In his sizzling workout, the Jersey-bred son of Mahmoud and Twin Lakes sped the first five-eighths of a mile in 1:01. He went the mile and one-eighth in 1:51.

But Citation did not arrive unnoticed. A large crowd of horsemen assembled in the stable area to inspect the Calumet thoroughbred, handy winner of both the Kentucky Derby and Preakness.

Five Entries Certain

The state's richest stakes race shaped up today with five and possibly more three-year-olds listed to oppose Citation, who will go for racing's triple crown at Belmont park June 12.

Salamagundi, the William G. Helis thoroughbred who won the $100,000 added Santa Anita Derby is a definite starter. Salamagundi dropped out of the Preakness when heavy rains fell at Baltimore.

The track here is expected to be fast Saturday when Johnny Longden, who has booted home more winners than any other American rider, takes Salamagundi to the starting post.

Joining Citation, MacBeth and Salamagundi as definite starters are A. J. Sackett's Gasparilla, Sylvester W. Labrot, jr.'s Bovard and Glen Riddle farm's Faraway.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

Several days of murky weather over the South Plains have washed out most of the scheduled sports events, including Hubber and Westerner baseball games and softball tilts in three leagues, but the welcome moisture will set the stage for better hunting conditions this fall. As one Lubbock sportsman said Tuesday, "Ducks would feel right at home here now."

Since the rains have extended through the San Angelo-Abilene area, and even into northern Mexico, fishing prospects will not be very bright for at least a week. All the lakes and streams are muddy from the rains and river rises and it doubtful that many anglers will even attempt an expedition until the water has cleared. The additional water should improve conditions for later trips, however.

* * *

For many years the Lubbock Westerner and Amarillo Golden Sandie athletic teams have had probably the hottest rivalry in state schoolboy circles, and many times games between the Westerners and the Sandies have determined district championships. The same situation is set up Friday night when the Amarillo baseball team invades Rosenthal field for the final tussle of the District 1-AA diamond championship race. The Westerners, although dropped from the top of the standings by the "ineligibility" ruling Saturday by the district executive committee, still hold the key to the loop title since Borger has a mathematical chance to tie the Sandies. Borger has two defeats, while the Sandies have a single loss and—of course—still must play Lubbock. A victory for the Westerners would throw Borger and Amarillo into a deadlock.

Just how the tie for the crown would be played off, or otherwise determined, has not been settled, but is apparent that a playoff game between the two nines would be the only practical way to settle the issue. Borger is not likely to concede the Sandies the right to represent the district in the state high school baseball tournament at Dallas, but since the tourney opens May 31 there will be little time for any action.

* * *

Action of a Lubbock group headed by Glenn Ivy to organize a Lubbock tennis club is, from the standpoint of local sports activities, most encouraging. Construction of four first-class clay courts would give Lubbock netters facilities available at only two other points in the entire West Texas area—Fort Worth and El Paso—and would provide a welcome addition to Lubbock's limited number of courts. Annual dues for the club will be very moderate, according to reports from officials, and would include the advantages of a clubhouse, locker rooms and competent instruction.

Giants Trounce Cardinals, 10-7

NEW YORK, May 26. (INS)—Giant hitting erupted for an eight run eighth inning against Howie Pollet, George Munger and Ken Burkhart tonight and buried the league-leading Cardinals under a 10-7 defeat.

The side batted around, with several to spare, during the eighth inning splurge. Bobby Thomson started the excitement with a double and later drove in the seventh run with a single.

Boynton, Clements Gain Mat Decision

Olan Boynton and Ray "Big Train" Clements proved superior at Sled Allen's wrestling arena last night in the featured Australian tag team event, gaining the decision over the Eddie Gideon-Gil Knutson duo in two out of three falls.

In the semi-final, Yaqui Joe won the final two falls from Sammy Kohen to emerge the winner.

The main event ended in a glorious rhubarb, in which all four wrestlers were in the ring, along with Referee Billy Sandow. At that time, each team had one fall. Clements, during the melee, grabbed Knutson and applied a crab, Sandow recognizing the Boynton-Clements team as the winner.

Gideon and Knutson were outraged and immediately shouted a challenge to the victors. The rematch will be held Wednesday night with two referees in attendance and promises to supply one of the most interesting cards seen in a long time.

In the semi-final, Kohen grabbed the first mat tumble in 16 minutes with a surfboard hold, only to lose the next two. Yaqui Joe won the second in six minutes with a drop toehold and returned in the deciding fall to win in seven minutes with the same grab.

The Boynton-Clements team took their first fall in 13 minutes, using a series of body slams and a body pin to get Knutson.

Gideon and Knutson returned to take the second in 10 minutes, Knutson pinning Boynton with a cat toehold. The final fall then went to Boynton-Clements in nine minutes, when Clements sprung his crab on Knutson.

Louis Favored In Title Bout

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP) — Sports Writers who saw the first Joe Louis-Jersey Joe Walcott fight believe the Jersey veteran has a better chance to reverse the verdict than their brethren who weren't present.

In both cases Louis is favored to retain his title when the two Negro battlers meet again at Yankee stadium, June 23. But close to one-third of the writers—11 of 34—who saw the first bout and who participated in a nation-wide Associated Press poll figure Jersey Joe will lift the crown.

Writers Favor Louis

The overall voting showed 230 writers lining up behind the champion with only 52 stringing along with Walcott.

The 23 first bout observers picking Louis all predict the champion will win by a knockout. The Brown Bomber won a much disputed 15 round decision last Dec. 5 in Madison Square Garden. Seven of them like the fifth round as the finisher, five favor the third and four the seventh. None expects it to go beyond the ninth.

Most of Walcott's supporters, on the other hand, figure the Camden, N. J., campaigner will outpoint Louis over the 15-round route. Eight of the 11 see a finish fight. Two pick Walcott to refrigerate Louis in the eighth and another thinks it'll be the second.

Pick Decisive Rounds

Of the 282 writers who made a choice—including those who did and did not witness the Dec. 5 scrap—a total of 228 predict the champion will store Walcott away somewhere along the route. The fourth and fifth are the most popular rounds.

Three New York writers—Jimmy Powers of the Daily News, Wilbur Wood of the New York Sun and Max Kase of the Journal American—favor Walcott.

Jinx Tucker of the Waco, Tex., News-Tribune and Times-Herald put in a stroke for Louis. "In any competition between a has-been and a never-wasser," he said, "you can't go far wrong in taking the has-been."

Four Americans In Fourth Round Of British Play

SANDWICH, England, May 28 (AP)—Defending champion Willie Turnesa and three other crack United States amateurs advanced to the fourth round of the British amateur golf championship today with twin conquests of strong opposition and English channel squalls.

They were accompanied into the select band of 32 survivors by Mario Gonzalez, the Brazilian star, who performed wonders with his irons to tie a 34-year-old record with an outgoing 31 strokes.

Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio; Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N. C., and Bob Sweeny, Jr., part-time Englishman from New York, all kept their title hopes intact.

Yanks May Repeat

The U. S. top-notchers were spread through three of the four quarters of the draw—opening the possibility of the second successive all-American final in the 63-year history of the championship.

Three other Americans, Air Forces Sergeant Charles (Chuck) Jennings, of Medford, New Jersey; Chris Dunphy, Westbury, Long Island, and Frank Tatum, Jr., Oxford university Rhodes scholar from Los Angeles, were eliminated.

Turnesa played two matches today, after two days' idleness. He defeated Tatum, 5 and 3, with a morning round flow of pars, despite the 27-year-old student's fighting finish.

Sweeney Trounces Scot

In the afternoon the defending champion, playing through recurrent rain and hail storms, dispatched the veteran English star, Cyril Tolley, 5 and 4. Tolley won the amateur title in 1920 and 1929.

Chapman, who lost to Turnesa in last year's thrilling final match, scored a 2 and 1 victory over Joe Carr, British Walker Cup player from Dublin.

Stranahan reached the fourth round by eliminating another British cup star, Gerald Micklem of London, 4 and 3. It was sweet revenge for the Todelo "strong boy," as Micklem bounced him out of the same championship two years ago.

Sweeney, like Turnesa, scored two victories to catch up with the field. He first disposed of Gordon Dewar of Carnoustie, Scotland, 3 and 1, and then trounced Viscount Coke of England, 7 and 6.

Dunphy, one of the lesser American hopes, bowed in the third round to Frank Pennink, a former English champion, 5 and 4.

Brownfield-Lubbock Schoolboy Baseball Game Is Cancelled

A scheduled District 1-AA baseball game between Lubbock and Brownfield High school nines was cancelled Wednesday when wet grounds at the Cub diamond prevented play.

The Lubbock officials suggested that the game be postponed until Saturday, but Brownfield reported that the Cub team would not be at full strength at that time. Officials of both schools then agreed to cancel the contest.

The Westerners' only remaining conference game is slated Friday night at Rosenthal field when the Amarillo Golden Sandies will attempt to clinch first place in the loop race.

Hubbers Scheduled To Meet Dukes In Twin Bill Tonight

Continued rain, along with water standing on the diamond at Rosenthal Field, for the second consecutive day caused postponement of baseball for the Lubbock Hubbers.

A scheduled doubleheader with the Albuquerque Dukes was washed out, but Hubber officials immediately re-scheduled the twin bill for tonight. The first game, weather permitting, will start at 7:30 p. m.

Manager Jackie Sullivan again handed the starting assignment to Cotton Russell in the first tilt and to Lefty Frank Cobo in the second.

To offset lethargy caused by the dual postponement, Sullivan called the Hubbers together for a brief workout at Rosenthal Field yesterday afternoon. Particularly coming under attention were the pitchers who, while profitting from the rest of the past two days, could go stale without some practice.

The rain, extending south to Lamesa, also washed out the Lamesa-Clovis tilt, which has been re-scheduled for a double-header tonight.

Both other games, Borger at Abilene and Amarillo at Pampa, also were soaked out, leaving the standings unaffected. Pampa continues to lead the loop with a three-game advantage over the Hubbers, who have a game and a half margin over Borger. The Gassers, in turn, have the same edge over the Dukes, with the other teams strung out behind.

Fishermen Have Good Time As Closed Lake Opened To Anglers

KANSAS CITY, Kans., May 26 (INS)—A shotgun blast at sunrise today opened Wyandotte county lake to fishermen for the first time since t' lake was closed for restocking 11 years ago.

The gun went off and the place looked like Grand Central at the rush hour.

More than 200 boats came out of nowhere and more than 3,000 fishermen dropped their lines.

It was a fish story with a happy ending, too. Almost everybody caught a shiny bass. The fish averaged about four pounds.

Seven Qualify For Auto Race

INDIANAPOLIS, May 26. (INS)—Seven more cars qualified today for Monday's 32nd running of the 500-mile auto speedway classic, bringing to 30 the number of qualifiers with three starting spots technically yet to be filled.

One more afternoon of time trials remains. It will be held this Saturday, but of course more than three racers may qualify, since starting spots are decided by the fastest times, not by the order of qualification.

Fast Time Clocked

Today's fastest time for the 10-mile trial run at Indianapolis speedway was turned in by the first qualifier, Mac Hellings of Glendale, Cal., who piloted one of the Don Lee cars, the bright red Offenhauser, for an average of 127.908. The fastest of his four laps was his first at 128.787 m.p.h.

Veteran Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., throttled the Belanger motor special home in the above-average clocking 126.806 m.p.h. while another old hand, Tommy Hinnershitz of Reading, Pa., drove the Kurtis Kraft special around the two-and-one-half mile oval the four requisite times at an average speed of 125.122 m.p.h.

Bill Sheffler, one of whose cars has already been qualified by Jack McGrath, drove the other Sheffler Offy himself today and qualified at 124.529 m.p.h., while able Paul Russo of Kenosha, Wis., at the wheel of the Federal engineering special, was clocked at 122.595 m.p.h.

Sunbeamers Meet Thomas Jewelers

Four teams are scheduled to tangle in two games tonight at Jumbo Webster Field, as the South Plains Softball league resumes play, weather permitting.

The Bluebonnet-Sunbeam nine, leading the league, meets the strong Thomas Jewelers in the first tilt beginning at 8 and the Cloverlake Dairy tangles with the Golden Light Coffee nine in the nightcap.

Neal Is Favored

Both games are rated by observers as potentially brilliant pitching duels, with Jackie Neal, ace of the Sunbeamers, rated a nod above either G. W. Warden or Willie Holder, one of whom will oppose him on the mound.

In the second game, Whistle Banks rates a slight edge over either Bobby Jones or Dewey Carr, one of whom will go to the mound for the coffeemen.

If the rain permits, the games probably will be played to a large crowd. Softball officials said last night that the diamond was in good shape, despite the moisture, and if the weather were at all good today, the games would go off as scheduled.

Hardin-Simmons To Lose 10 Athletes

ABILENE, May 26 (Special)—Ten Hardin-Simmons athletes will hang up their collegiate athletic togs for good Monday, May 31, when Hardin-Simmons university's 80th commencement exercises are held in the university's Behren's chapel. Nine football players and one basketball star will be among the 145 candidates for bachelor degrees in the exercises. Most of the athletes will pursue an athletic career.

Among the nine football players who are candidates for degrees are five three-year lettermen, a pair of two-year lettermen, one first year letterman and one freshman. The three-year lettermen, all of whom lettered on two Border Conference championship teams, in 1942 and 1946, are John (Red) Cleveland of Corpus Christi, center; Al Johnson of Dublin, twice an All-Border Conference quarterback; J. C. (Bullet) Cook of Baird, halfback, Jack Ellison, All-Border Conference and little All-American guard from Hamlin, and Herman Raphelt, tackle.

The other footballers who will be lost by graduation are B. N. Taylor of Levelland, tackle; Joe England of Alvarado, guard; Raymond Cook of Baird, halfback; and Bill Sorrell of Breckenridge, end.

The Wabash Valley high school basketball tournament is the largest prep tourney in the nation outside of state tournaments sponsored by state associations.

Colonial Meet To Open Today

FORT WORTH, May 26 (AP)—The field was complete today for th third annual Colonial national invitation golf tournament with the arrival of National PGA Champion Ben Hogan, who will be defending his title.

The first 18 holes of the tournament will be played tomorrow with 29 professionals and three amateurs.

Course Is Cut

Heavy rain yesterday put Colonial Country club's 6,636-yard course into excellent shape. There was no rain today and prospects were that tomorrow would be clear and sunshiny.

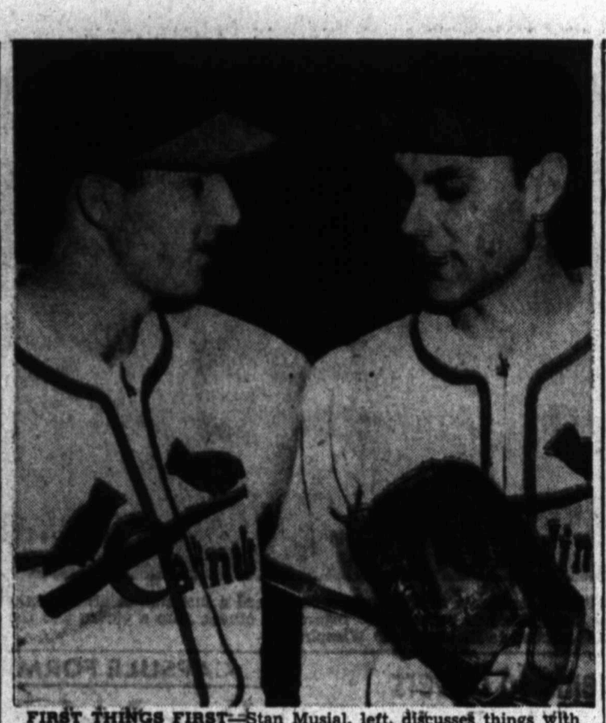

Hogan, who won the previous two tournaments with a one-under-par 279, will find the course considerably easier this time. It has been cut from 6,800 yards with the idea of giving the players better scoring opportunities.

The tournament committee forecast the largest gallerie, in the history of the event. All season tickets were sold without being put on public sale. Club members gobbled them up.

Nelson To Play

Byron Nelson, once golf's greatest money-winner, has come out of semi-retirement to play in this tournament and although complaining that he is off his game, is figured as one of the favorites.

The 72-hole tournament closes Sunday and Tuesday a number of the players will remain over to get qualifying scores for the National Open at River Crest's 6,900-yard, 70-par course. Texas will have 13 places for the Open, nine places having been added because of the arrangement for visitors to qualify.

FIRST THINGS FIRST—Stan Musial, left, discusses things with Nippy Jones, who relieved the Donora Danny at first base for the high-flying Cardinals and enabled him to return to the outfield, where he can concentrate to a further extent on his remarkable hitting.

Paul Hinrichs Posts Brilliant Record As Hurler For Dallas Rebs After Slow Start

DALLAS, May 26. (Special)—The pitching parson has caught the fancy of Dallas baseball fancy—and rightly so.

Paul Hinrichs, the quiet workmanlike young divinity student who last year turned in 18 victories for the Lubbock Hubbers, has posted three wins against no losses for the Dallas Rebels.

And while doing that, Pitchin' Paul has posted an earned run average of less than one counter per game.

During 17 consecutive innings he toiled after getting back into his Rebel suit following an injury, Hinrichs pitched runless ball. He has turned in good hurling since then, as a starter and in relief.

Hinrichs was hit on the pitching arm by a batted ball before the season opened and was out of uniform for a couple of weeks during the regular campaign. When he started back on the hill, he was jittery, something probably hard for Lubbock fans to believe.

Poise was one of the nicknames that fit alliteratively with his first name. But he has regained his confidence and bids fair to make a star hurler in this and higher company.

Stymie Two Lengths Winner In Ballot Purse At Belmont

NEW YORK, May 26 (INS)—Stymie, the world's top money-winning race horse who has been an in-and-outer this year, was "in" at Belmont today with a two-length triumph in the $7500 mile-and-an-eighth ballot purse.

The crack seven-year-old came through with a characteristic stretch drive over the sloppy turf to catch Vertigo II and Tide Rips, the only other entries in the event.

Stymie paid $2.70. There was no place or show betting.

Today's race, which added $4875 to Stymie's $844,760 grand total, was a "prep" for the Memorial day $30,000 suburban handicap.

PGA Rules Against Overall Supervisor

ST. LOUIS, May 26 (INS)—The Professional Golfers' association won't have a "czar."

The P.G.A. executive committee said as much today in announcing it has voted against appointing a one-man overall tournament supervisor.

The committee also sanctioned tournament chairman George Schneiter's participation in tournaments at his own discretion. Questions involving the rules of golf in tournaments in which Schneiter competes will be passed upon by a rules committee appointed for that purpose at each event.

At a meeting held yesterday in St. Louis as Ben Hogan was winning the PGA title, the executive committee decided to hold its annual meeting this year at Dunedin, Fla., December 1-3. Previously the meeting was held in Chicago, headquarters of the association.

Sites for the 1949 and 1950 PGA championships, it was said, will be announced within a few weeks. The executive committee declared that three bids have been received for the 1949 PGA and two for the 1950 event, but declined to identify the cities making the bids.

A new addition was made to PGA tournament regulations which provides that an amateur who wishes to become a professional and an approved tournament player must make application to the PGA, certifying his intention, and wait for a period of six months before competing for prizes in PGA co-sponsored tournaments.

Another resolution adopted provides that the following shall not be considered in computing scoring averages for the Vardon trophy, Ryder cup points and prize money winnings:

1. All pro-amateur events.
2. Invitational events with fewer than 30 invited players.
3. Any tournament which is not medal play, except the PGA championship.
4. All events which are not played in the continental United States.
5. Sectional or local events which do not carry the minimum purse requirements of the PGA.

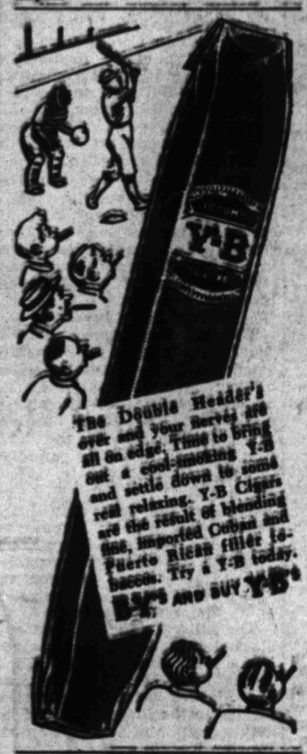

TRACK MEET SLATED

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Michigan State and Penn State loom as leading threats to New York university's title in the Intercollegiate A.A.A. track and field championships this weekend at Randalls Island stadium.

REISER IS INJURED

NEW YORK, May 26 (INS)—Pete Reiser, baseball's most celebrated invalid, was lost to the Brooklyn Dodgers for an indefinite period today, through the recurrence of an old leg injury.

Effort To Settle Bus Walkout Fails; Court Hearing Underway

all employes as of May 21, 1948 at 10:30 p. m.

5. That all provisions of the 1947 contract shall remain in full force and effect.

6. That the request for reinstatement of operator, Harold Stotts, be submitted to a board of arbitration.

7. That all members who went on strike are to be restored to work, but if any of them are subsequently convicted of violations of law growing out of, or in connection with the strike, that then the company upon such conviction becoming final shall have the right to discharge such employes.

8. That a new contract be entered into between the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the company, wtih a provision included for the arbitration of any differences arising between the company and union or its members.

Company Gives Reply

The bus line officials made the following reply to the union proposal:

1.The company will continue to bargain collectively with the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in good faith in a sincere effort to reach a mutually satisfactory agreement covering rates of pay, wages, hours, and other conditions of employment of its bus operators so long as that organization represents employes.

2. Nothwithstanding the strike and the consequent loss and damage suffered, the company is still willing to carry out the terms of its last offer made to the union immediately prior to the strike in settlement of current contract negotiations.

To Keep Present Drivers

3. The persons, who went on strike, or who quit work in consequence of the strike, and who have not been engaged in unlawful or improper conduct may return to work subject to the following limitations: No person, who has gone on strike, or who had ceased to work because of the strike, and who has engaged, or participated in acts of violence toward employes of the company, or who have by threats or verbal abuse coerced, or attempted of coerce, or intomidate employes of the company from the performance of their duty, or who have by violence, threats, or verbal abuse, interferred, or attempted to interfere with the employes of the company in the performance of the duties of their employment, or to the company's property will be allowed to return to work.

And no person presently employed by the company and now working for the company shall be displaced in order to make room for returning strikers. In the event there are not sufficient vacant positions to permit all of the eligible returning strikers to return to work, then the company proposes that eligible employes, who so offer, shall be returned to work in the order of their seniority, and eligible persons, who aren't returned to work shall be placed on a preferential list to be recalled to work when and if work for which they are qualified is available.

By the term "eligible persons" as used in the above proposal, are meant those persons who have not engaged or participated in acts of violence, threats, verbal abuse, intimidation, vandalism and damage to the company's property.

4. With reference to the proposal that the discharge of operator Harold Stotts be submitted to arbitration, the company points out that the discharge was for good and sufficient cause; that the discharge was made the subject of a grievance and handled to conclusion in compliance with the grievance procedure of the 1947 contract.

5. As to a request for the provision in the contract for arbitration of all differences, the company is willing to accept the arbitration clause, as contained in the 1947 contract.

The company proposal was rejected by the drivers' grievance committee, Armstrong said.

Attack Is Described

Chas. C. Crenshaw, attorney for the company, opened the hearing with a reading of the petition for a temporary restraining order which was filed Saturday.

Holly Graves, Guthrie filling station operator, was the first witness for the company. Through questioning by Crenshaw, Graves described how on the morning of May 22 he saw two men attempt to drag a driver from the front of a TNM&O coach.

Graves told the court the men had the driver by his legs, and that the man was hanging to controls in the front of the bus. The driver finally was brought to the ground, and was ordered by the men to "pull the badge off your cap and throw it away and start walking."

Graves said the man was struck on the neck and pushed by the men when he walked north toward Lubbock. The filling station man described how a car was parked at an angle in front of the bus so that it could not move forward. He said 15 or more persons were aboard the bus at the time of the incident, and they were forced to catch another bus or hitch-hike to their destinations after a considerable delay.

Upon further questioning by Crenshaw, Graves, who said he had worked at the station for two years, said he had become acquainted with the regular drivers of the line and knew them "on sight." He said the two men who attacked the driver were J. H. Pace and Glenn Harris, men he had known as drivers for the company.

Men Said Recognized

Pete Hensley, Guthrie filling station worker, and R. S. Denison, 73, Guthrie resident, told substantially the same story of the attack upon the bus driver, identified as Virgil N. Stovall, a substitute. Hensley said one of the men slapped Stovall on the side of the head.

Hensley also said during the two years or more that he had worked at the station he had become acquainted with the regular drivers, and told the court the two assailants were Harris and Pace, whom he recognized as drivers for the line at other times.

Denison said he recognized Harris as one of the attackers because he had ridden the bus many times and knew the driver "by sight." He said he did not know the second man involved in the attack upon Stovall.

King county Sheriff George Humphreys of Guthrie, the fourth witness presented by the company, told how he learned of the incident and started an investigation. He described how car tracks marked the ground at the front of the bus.

Hurley Carpenter, operations manager for the line, identified the 1947 company and union contract and letters from J. W. Thompson, representative of the grand lodge Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. These were offered as exhibits by the plaintiff's attorney.

Would Cost Company

Carpenter said that before the strike the firm operating 90 to 94 schedules daily to South Plains and Southwestern points, and that approximately 65 buses were kept in operation to service the runs. He said that the line accommodated from 4,000 to 5,000 passengers each day as well as carrying express and U. S. mail.

Carpenter declared interruption of service would cost the company in excess of $1,000 each day in passenger, express and mail revenue.

Turning to the night of the walkout, Carpenter described the large crowd at the terminal and in the street near the terminal. He said he saw striking drivers at the rear of the bus driven by Hubert McElroy as he prepared to start his run to Amarillo. Carpenter said he recognized several of the union drivers behind the vehicle.

The operations manager said he heard nothing that was said, but saw the men give way as the bus was backed into the street.

Two pictures of the terminal incident were presented as exhibits by the plaintiffs. Carpenter told how sugar was found in the fuel tank of a bus when it was brought back from Amarillo on Saturday night. Over objections of the defense, he said sugar in the fuel tank would cause damage to the motor after a short run.

Arabs Reject Order

closed, Arab delegates insisted that these conditions must be met before they would accept a truce:

1. Abolition of the Jewish state.

2. Stoppage of arms for Haganah, the Jewish army.

3. Limitation of Jewish immigration to Palestine.

One Arab here summed it up this way:

Deadline Passes

"The Arab league regards the very existence of Israel as an act of aggression. This is the view of the Arab league, the Arab countries and every Arab everywhere."

The 11 a.m. (CST) deadline laid down by the Security Council Monday passed without a formal reply to the UN from the Arabs and without a let-up in the fighting in Palestine.

Shortly before the deadline, Arab delegates began receiving instructions for their answers to the UN but 11 a. m. passed without the UN announcing receipt of any Arab answer.

The Jews, however, informed Trygve Lie, UN secretary-general, that the provisional government of Irael had ordered its forces to stop shooting on all fronts at 11 a m. (CST) if the other side did likewise.

French Concerned

One big power delegate said there is a growing opinion that the council must order a world-wide break in diplomatic relations with countries failing to observe its stop-fighting order.

To this, an Arab delegate replied with considerable heat: "And what will that do?"

It was said that the French delegation is particularly anxious for action against any country which destroys any French property in Jerusalem. France also is deeply concerned with the safety of the holy places in old Jerusalem.

Secretary-General Lie said at his weekly news conference that one UN staff worker in Jerusalem was slightly wounded Monday. He said the employe was George J. Burns, of Brooklyn, described as a typist. Lie said he did not know the extent of Burns' wounds.

The Air Force said that the 22 planes were capable of carrying approximately 400 persons in one flight.

The USAF added that no plans for evacuation to any specific point had been made but that it would be safe to assume that in the event of evacuation American nationals would be flown to the nearest point of safety which might be Cyprus, a European field, or Wheeles air base in Tripoli.

Official Claims Payments To Drivers Higher Than Those For Other Bus Lines

Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches Inc. bus drivers Wednesday night were declared to be among the best paid, if not the best paid, operators in the southwestern area by Jess Levens, vice-president and manager of the lines.

Levens, in an official statement of the company's policies in regard to wages and hours and relations with employes, said that the average wage of TNM&O drivers was $372 a month gross ($363 a month when the five per cent cost of living bonus granted in 1947 was not counted).

Drive More Miles

He declared the average wage of drivers on seven other major lines connecting with TNM&O was $288 per month. Levens said numerous TNM&O drivers receive over $400 a month, some as high as $440 a month. Levens attributed the reason local drivers wages averaged higher than those of other lines in the southwestern area to the fact that traffic conditions, and other driving factors enabled the operators to drive more miles in less working time.

Levens pointed out that all prewar equipment had been replaced with new, and the most modern equipment available. He said that a 37 passenger vehicle cost the company $20,000; a 33 passenger bus $18,000, and a 25 passenger bus $8,500.

The company manager pointed out that he was unalterably opposed to a general hike in rates and hoped to continue the present wage policies if the company without any increase in rates.

Operating At Loss

He said in regard to the local chapter's demand that the Lubbock-Eastland run, now a class B schedule, be raised to a Class A operation, that there is now no reason for raising the classification as the schedule is operating at a loss of $200 a day. Levens declared that he had proposed to raise the run to Class A when revenues permit. He pointed out the offer had been made before the strike.

Regarding negotiations with the drivers union, Levens said three points, wages, discharge case and classification of lines, were involved in the talks.

The company, he said, offered to extend the 1947 contract through 1948 with certain provisions and concessions which would be beneficial to the operators, such as paying expenses of operators when making trips to the factories for new equipment, allowing a lay-over guarantee while away from home on charter trips, and providing for formal hearing on all discipline cases where the operator in question so desires.

In addition to those points, Levens declared, the line offered to pay the operators a five per cent bonus of their 1948 pay provided the net revenue equalled the net revenue for 1947, and in the event net revenue is greater in 1948 than 1947 the bonus to be paid would be correspondingly higher, and further, in the event the net revenue is less in 1948 than 1947, the bonus would be decreased correspondingly.

Bonus Plan Rejected

The company official said the union refused to accept the offer, and the line made a counter offer that the company would pay the five per cent living cost bonus each month beginning on May 1, 1948 and then if 1948 net revenues fell below the 1947 figure the drivers would already have their bonus and would face no risk.

This offer was also declined by the union, he said.

In what was termed a final statement of company policy, Levens said:

"The company is thoroughly aware of its obligation to its employes and to the traveling public. We have always recognized the right of our employes to organize and to bargain collectively, through the labor organization of their choice. We have bargained with the BRT in good faith and are willing to continue to do so as long as it represents our employes. We recognize the employes' right to strike. We regret that they saw fit to exercise that right. We can not compel them to continue to work and we would not contend for that right.

"The company's obligation to the traveling public is such that if its employes declined to work for any reason it is obliged to find other persons to man its operations and it has a legal right to do so. That fact was called to the attention of the employes before they walked off the job. They were told that their places would be filled permanently.

"We simply cannot and will not now agree to discharge the persons who are presently operating our buses in order to make room for the men who walked out.

"As to any striking driver who may have participated in acts of violence, threats, or attempted coercion of the company's employes in the performance of their duties the company is opposed to putting such back at work, and expects to continue that opposition."

barely inside the Palestine frontier. The area is east of previous areas of Syrian operations. The Syrian artillery shelled Jewish fortifications at Degania, at the tip of the sea.

A pooled dispatch from American correspondents in Jerusalem said the heaviest fighting now in progress in the Holy Land was at Latrun, vital road junction on the Tel Aviv highway west of Jerusalem.

The Near East radio broadcast said a Jewish convoy on the Jaffa-Jerusalem road had been wiped out despite the intervention of 3,000 Jews.

The Arab legion had announced the capture of Latrun yesterday, and said it had "completely exterminated" a Jewish force of 600 in a 24-hour battle. Today, Jewish sources in Jerusalem said the fighting was raging where the valley widens between the Trappist monastery and the former British internment camp. Both sides are commiting heavier forces, this Jewish source said.

The Jewish agency listed nine churches and holy places in Jerusalem which it said have been desecrated by the Arabs.

A Cairo newspaper said 1,500 Jewish prisoners had been taken by the Egyptian army when it seized Deir Suneid, 23 miles southwest of Tel Aviv. The Egyptians announced capture of this settlement Monday.

Poland told Egypt she would not recognize a naval blockade of Palestine. The United States yesterday protested to Syria and Egypt and said she would not recognize a blockade.

The two-man crew of a tugboat presumably was drowned Sunday when the craft sank in the Columbia. Spokesmen for the owners expressed belief that it had struck a floating log, one of many which the flood has loosed.

Fisher blamed both recent rains and melting snow in the mountains for the Columbia flood.

face of almost unbelievable hardships would be good standards for the present church to imitate, he pointed out.

Survey Figures Given

Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the host church, gave a short address of welcome to the delegates to the conference. In explaining why he believed that Lubbock is an ideal site for the conference, he pointed out facts and figures of a recent survey made by the First Methodist church and the Avalanche-Journal on the status of churches in the city.

"With a population estimated at close to 60,000 persons, Lubbock has about 60 churches," Dr Robinson said. Some 30 churches represented in the survey have a total of about 22,000 members, he stated, 4,183 of these members being received into the church during the last year. These figures, he said, would seem to indicate that at least 30 per cent of the population of the city has church membership. And the total church membership of these 30 churches represents only adult membership, he indicated, pointing out that the number of children in the churches would bring the percentage of church affiliation to a much higher figure.

In a business session which followed the service, the conference elected Rev. Cecil R. Matthews to serve as conference secretary. Rev. Matthews' first official act was to compile a roll call of delegates to the conference.

Other official action taken during the business session included the reading of nominees for positions on the various boards and committees of the conference. All nominees were elected simultaneously by acclamation.

Today's conference program is as follows: 8 a. m., prayer service in the chapel; 9 a. m., devotional; 9:30 a. m., conference session; 9:45 a. m., talk by Harry N. Holmes of New York, leader in several national and international organizations; 10:30 a. m., memorial service; 11 a. m., conference session, call of the second and fourth year classes; 11:40 a. m., sermon by Bishop Martin; 12:30 p. m., adjournment; 2:30 p. m., meeting of boards and committees; 8 p. m., sermon by Bishop Martin; and 9:30 p. m., meeting of conference board of trustees.

The conference will continue through Sunday.

At the Wednesday session in New York City A T & T offered a three-year contract extension with provision for reopening the wage clause twice within that period. The proposal is similar to one which settled disputes between the company and 54,000 other workers in recent weeks. It was taken under consideration by the union.

Electrical appliances: The General Electric company and the CIO United Electrical Workers union arranged to resume wage talks Thursday. Talks involving some 125,000 workers were broken off three weeks ago.

Coal: The first contract talks in two years between John L. Lewis and the hard coal operators start in Philadelphia Thursday. Lewis gave notice that he wants a new contract for his 80,000 anthracite diggers by June 10. The United Mine Workers chief did not disclose any demands.

More Than One-Third Of City's Residents Church Members; Building Plans Pushed

An average of more than one of every three persons who live in Lubbock belong to a church.

The chances are that they belong to a church which has completed a new church plant or addition or is planning a construction program because the majority of churches in the city either have completed such building programs, are in the midst of them, or are making plans.

The present value of church property as given by approximately 30 churches of various denominations in the city is $2,705,226. The same churches expect to spend $3,525,000 in building programs for new buildings or additions to present structures. Churches giving figures were either already in the midst of construction or far enough along in the planning stage to give an estimate.

The churches have annual budgets amounting to a total of approximately $1,000,000 annually.

The figures were obtained in a survey by the First Methodist church and the Avalanche-Journal. Reference to the figures was given by Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church, in his welcome address to the Northwest Texas conference Wednesday night.

The total membership figure is 22,416 in the 30 churches. In view of fact many of the city's residents are children who have not joined a church, the figure was considered impressive.

Of the 22,416 persons, 4,183 have joined churches in the last year.

The average per church is 747 in membership, 139 additions to membership in the last year, church property valued at $90,174 and an annual budget, $33,333.

The budget figures were above normal in some instances because of building fund campaigns.

Exclusive of churches which have recently completed building programs, 15 are planning new buildings or additions and the average anticipated expenditure is $234,333.

Heavy At San Angelo

Meanwhile, the Associated Press reported heavy rains in the San Angelo area and in the lower Rio Grande valley area.

Rains reached as far up the river on the Rio Grande as Laredo, the Associated Press reported. In the lower valley they ranged from one to two inches.

An early morning downpour of more than an inch sent streams on rises in the San Angelo area. Lake Nasworthy on the South Concho rose three feet. The Middle Concho went on a 12-foot rampage at 12-mile bridge, west of San Angelo. Spring Creek went up 10 feet.

A thunderstorm dumped 1.01 inches on Laredo within an hour. The fall was general in that area, definitely breaking a drouth, and extending well into Mexico.

Additional rain at Midland brought the total fall there to more than 1.28 inches. It was heavier to the south and southwest of Midland. Ranges were greatly benefitted. Galveston's rainfall in a 24 hour period totaled 1.28.

Broadcast Scored

America broadcasts.

Capehart said the series from which he read purported to deal with life and history in the 48 states as seen through the eyes of two travelers.

One script, dealing with Utah and Nevada, noted that Nevada's two principal cities are "in competition." It said that "people get married in Las Vegas and divorced in Reno."

Capehart said this was "enlightening." The American people, he added, are spending money "to send that sort of trash over the radio."

The same script referred to Brigham Young, leader of the Mormans, as "carrying a bottle of whiskey in one pocket and a cud of chewing tobacco in the other," but not using either.

"Some fool broadcast that sort of information throughout the world," Capehart shouted. He also said that the script tried to represent Utah as a "Communist or socialistic state."

Senator Elbert Thomas (D-Utah), ordinarily one of the most soft-spoken men in the Senate, shouted denunciation of the broadcasts.

He said that in view of them, "how in the wide world can anyone fail to be a Communist and have anything to do with Democracy."

Thomas said he wondered how the people of the United States can have any faith in what the State department says about other countries, if it sends out "stuff like this."

Texas Claimed Libeled

He also wanted to know whether there is not somebody in NBC "with some responsibility for carrying out a contract" instead of "wasting time and money blackmailing millions and millions of people." He added:

"You just can't believe any agency of the American government would allow such a thing to happen."

Senator Connally (D-Tex) was not in the Senate chamber when Capehart first quoted the broadcast saying "New England was founded by hypocrisy and Texas by sin."

Capehart repeated it when Connally came in and the tall Texan blasted the programs. He said the authors had "libeled and slandered" Texas and "dug up filthy falsehoods." He added:

"This whole thing is saturated with malice. They are saboteurs. They are traitors to their country."

"Our worst fears have been realized. It would be better not to send anything. They had better close up their doors and keep quiet."

As for the script writer, "he has my utter contempt," Connally shouted.

Turning to Alabama, Capehart said the script referred to the city of Birmingham as being "poorly made." He quoted the script as saying the city "was constructed in a hurry and they have not had time to improve it."

The same broadcast referred to Alabama as the "darkest" of all states, with this explanation:

"In no other part of the United States have the colored people suffered and struggled so much as here."

Senator Eastland (D-Miss), noting the absence of an Alabama senator, took the floor to denounce the broadcast as a "contemptible, damnable lie."

BROADCASTING FIRM SAYS SCRIPT WRITER FIRED

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—The National Broadcasting company said tonight it had fired the writer of a "Voice of America" script that aroused Senate ire today.

NBC also announced that the supervisor who reviewed the script had been "relieved of his post."

The script was prepared under contract by NBC for a Voice of America broadcast to South and Central America.

William F. Brooks, vice president of NBC, gave this explanation:

"The scripts referred to in the Senate were broadcast several months ago in the Spanish language beamed to South America.

"At that time changes were being made in the operational set-up of the Voice of America and as a result personnel was not available to provide English translations so that the scripts could be checked in English. NBC could only review the Spanish texts.

"The supervisor who was employed to review the Spanish tests unfortunately permitted these scripts to go on the air in Spanish.

"As soon as this matter came to NBC's attention the writer of the scripts was dismissed and the supervisor responsible for the broadcasts was relieved of his post."

Denver Sheriff Moves Swiftly

The action of Sheriff Robert J. Kirschwing, of Denver, Colo., is as positive as that of his pistol. He came here Wednesday afternoon, accepted custody of a prisoner and presumably was back in Denver last night.

The sheriff stepped off an airliner, shook hands with Deputy Sheriff George Eubank of Lubbock county, accepted custody of Raymond Ulrich, 35, his prisoner, and boarded another plane shortly afterwards. He was due back in Denver at 9 p. m., having departed at 11 a. m.

Ulrich was to face a charge of deserting three minors.

Local Activity Quiet

Meanwhile, offenses reported to law enforcement officers Wednesday hit a record low.

H. W. Sanders, of Wolfforth, reported theft of a .38 caliber S. & W. pistol from his residence, records at the sheriff's office showed.

Police learned that a shot fired through the house of Mrs. T. E. Lawson, of 1601 Twenty-first, came from the .22 rifle of a neighbor who had been cleaning the gun.

A prowler who ransacked the 2105 Twentieth residence of Mrs. R. C. Seaver and swapped a pair of saddle oxfords for a pair of moccasins also appropriated a slack suit, blouses, a bag and underclothing, police were informed.

Trade Bill Approved

tariff commission limits, any new treaty would be subject to congressional veto.

Before passing the bill, the House rejected 211 to 169 a motion by Rep. Cooper (D.-Tenn.), a ranking minority member of the Ways and Means committee, to send the bill back to the committee with instructions to substitute the three-year extension of an unchanged act which the administration requested.

Marshall has said it would be better to let the act die than to pass the Republican bill. He contends the new bill would destroy U. S. economic leadership in the non-Communist world and strike a blow at the European recovery program.

"Gag" Rule Invoked

The bill was passed under a "gag" rule barring all opposition amendments. Democrats inveighed bitterly against the rule, but were defeated in two attempts to prevent it. The House balloted 212 to 156 to take up the "gag" rule question and then approved the rule limiting debate, 196 to 166.

Passage followed four hours debate, in which Republicans called their bill "a happy compromise" which would continue the reciprocal trade program and also protect domestic industry.

Major Changes Made

The bill calls for the first substantial change in the trade agreements act, under which U. S. tariffs have been reduced from the highest point in American history to the lowest. The act left only a vestige of the 1930 Smoot-Hawley Tariffs act.

At present, tariff-cutting trade agreements are in effect with 31 foreign countries.

The act permits tariffs to be cut a maximum of 75 per cent below the Smoot-Hawley level.

The administration argument is that, with an extension of only little more than a year, there would not be time to negotiate any more trade agreements since experience has shown that it takes more than a year to negotiate an agreement.

its adoption.

"These amendments will include protection for men in uniform against mob attacks and lynching, against segregation in interstate travel, and against discrimination of any kind in public places and facilities.

Chairman Leo E. Allen (R-Ill) of the House Rules committee said only about 10 of the 60 congressmen who want to testify against the House draft bill will be heard.

His committee opened hearings last week on the draft bill approved by the House Armed Services committee. He said his group will continue hearings probably through this week.

Allen predicted the draft measure will not reach the House floor before June 1.

Meanwhile, the House approved and sent to the White House legislation making the Civil Air patrol a permanent civilian auxiliary of the Air Force.

DAUGHTER WORKS FOR RED AGENCY

Official To Keep Post After Receiving Letter From Truman

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 26 — A key Commerce department aide, who quit to save the government "embarrassment" because his daughter works for the Russian news agency Tass, withdrew his resignation today after President Truman wrote "my faith in your loyalty is unshaken."

Commerce Secretary Sawyer announced that John C. Virden, director of the department's industry cooperation office, has agreed to stay at his post despite publicity given 22-year-old Euphemia Virden's Soviet job.

Solon Makes Demand

Father and daughter have been separated since Miss Virden took the Tass position last January, and she has been living away from his comfortable home in a little room in Washington's student quarter. Virden nanded in his resignation last week after Rep. Crawford (R-Mich.) demanded that he be fired because of Miss Virden's connection with Tass as a teletypist.

Crawford, informed today of Virden's decision to stay, reiterated his stand that appointed federal officials should not continue to hold office if close relatives are affiliated with Communist agencies.

Crawford said:

"Mr. Virden will have to deal with public opinion and the department will have to deal with public opinion and it is up to them to decide."

Official Backs Action

Sawyer, who has described Virden as "violently anti-Communist" and the "iron curtain" between him and his daughter as "tragic," expressed pleasure that Virden is going to remain at his desk. Sawyer declared:

"I am pleased to say that Mr. John C. Virden has withdrawn his letter of resignation and will continue to carry on the work of the Office of Industry cooperation as he has in the past."

Virden's decision followed receipt of a personal letter from the President in which Mr. Truman indicated that Crawford's demand, which touched off the incident, was inspired by politics. The President told Virden, in private life a Cleveland, Ohio, manufacturer:

"I cannot allow an unfortunate controversy to go further without associating myself with those who have already commended you for the way in which you have discharged important duties under trying circumstances.

"It is regrettable that the services of a faithful and efficient public servant should be sacrificed to political expediency.

"I believe in you. My faith in your loyalty is unshaken."

In his letter of resignation last week, Virden told of his "complete break" with his daughter, attractive graduate of fashionable eastern schools, who became interested in Marxism through social welfare work.

Virden, describing his daughter as a girl of "high ideals," charged that she is being "exploited" by the Communists.

Laurence Todd, head of the Washington Tass bureau, said that whether Miss Virden chose to work for the Russian agency or not is a matter of her own choice.

INS Staff Correspondent

ABOARD THE CHIEF, May 26. —When I read James Duncan's story in a national magazine, it gave me the shivers, but that doesn't mean I don't think Howard Emmett Rogers has grabbed himself a prize by getting the screen rights.

Duncan is the former New Jersey state penitentiary inmate who offered himself as a "human guinea pig" for experiments with the dread dengue fever. He was once thought to be dead when his fever reached 106!

A one-time pro-golfer who got in trouble during prohibition and was sentenced to prison, Duncan offered himself for all types of fever tests when he heard how vitally the Army needed them. It is said he is responsible for helping save the lives of thousands of soldiers.

Released From Prison

Decorated for his wonderful contribution and released from prison, he obtained a job on a magazine in Alaska. There Rogers nailed him for his screen story. The movie follows "Chicago Episode" for the Rogers and Lee Brooks independent set up.

Alexis Smith is so much fun and was such a good scout when she made me honorary "Miss World Trade" a couple of weeks ago, I think it's high time people stopped thinking of her as Miss Iceberg of the movies.

Whether or not she'll get a chance to trot out her sense of humor with Joel McCrea in "South of St. Louis," I don't know—but at least we'll get a chance to see her in her true colors. Milton Sperling is making this Warner opus in technicolor.

I'd like to see Alexis get a really gay role—something in which she can use that devastating laugh of hers. I haven't known a girl to laugh like she does since Carole Lombard.

There will be no more talk about Helen Hayes playing Marmee in "Little Women." Mary Astor gets the part and Mary is a good choice, if you ask me. Personally, I don't think anything will lure Helen Hayes back to the screen again now she has turned this down. For a little while I think she was really tempted.

Mervyn Leroy is really getting along, now that this vital role is filled. Another definite is Elizabeth Taylor as Amy, the little woman who marries Peter Lawford, in the story, of course. That makes it June Allyson as Jo, and Janet Leigh as Meg—and they're off and running next week.

Actors Going To Europe

Snapshots of Hollywood and points east:

Joan Barton and Madman Muntz are feudin', fussin' and fighting about the engagement ring he gave her. She won't give it back.

Oh, now really! When Walter Florel puts on his hat show on the coast he'll model six hats! That was cute stuff only when a guy like Tom Breneman did it.

Kurt Kruger sailed for Europe with two of his ex-girl friends on the same boat—Vivi Stokes Taylor and Ann Hunter. Should make for an interesting trip.

Hear Lena Horne's clothes for her Slapsy Maxie stint are out of this world.

Some more Hollywooders Europe bound! Bonita Granville and Jack Wrather leave for France in about two months—as soon as he has "Strike It Rich" finished and in the bag.

Greg Peck and Martha Scott are going to do "The Willow And I" at La Jolla in July. This is the play in which they co-starred on Broadway before Peck came to Hollywood.

I think the whole world is weight conscious. After I printed that Sonny Tufts had lost 35 pounds in four months, he received letters from all over the country, Mexico and England asking him for the how-do.

Top News Pictures Of Past Year On Exhibit At Tech

The ten photographs which won the National Associated Press contest, and 100 of the top spot news, feature, and sports pictures submitted in the Texas Associated Press contest are on exhibit in the reading room of the Journalism building on Texas Technological college campus.

"Everyone who is interested in seeing this showing of superior news photography may do so today though Friday, from 9 a. m. to 12 noon, and from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m.," Cecil Horne, head of the Tech Journalism department announced Wednesday.

The photographs were sent to the Journalism department at Tech by Frank King, Bureau Chief of AP at Dallas. The Texas exhibit contains over 100 pictures, chosen from the 337 which were submitted by member papers of AP in Texas.

Shown in the ten pictures which won the national contest are: an aerial view of the Texas City fire; the Higgins tornado of April 9; the unveiling of the life-size statute of Humorist-Philosopher Will Rogers by General Dwight D. Eisenhower at the Will Rogers memorial coliseum in Fort Worth; Jockey William Harvey falling from his mount, Sandymore, as he goes over an open ditch hurdle at the Sandown Open Handicap Steeple-chase at Sandown Park, England; Steve Belloise knocking down Georgie Abrams in their middleweight bout at Madison Square Garden, New York City, July 11; an emergency crew of electricity workers tackling the job of repairing high voltage power lines after a hurricane at Revere Beach, Fla.; Lou Worsham, National Open golf champion, applying body english to a crucial putt on the 34th green at the Plum Hollow course, Detroit, Michigan; Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, chief of Naval operations, participating in a tribal dance in Washington as he was made honorary chief of the Ottawa Indian Tribe of Michigan; Mrs. Agnes Thomas as she walked away from the limp body of her seven-year-old daughter, Patricia, on the beach beside the Hansen Dam Reservoir in Rosco, Calif., where Patiricia was drowned; Truman acting as coach for the Truman Athletic Club and conducting calisthenics; and a 15-year-old youth, identified by police as Edward Bancroft, holding a revolver against the back of William Ronan, during a gun fight with police in Boston, Massachusetts.

Death Sentence Is Affirmed In Shooting Of Texarkana Officer

AUSTIN, May 26. (AP) — The Court of Criminal appeals today affirmed the death sentence assessed Andrew Hill, negro, convicted in the pistol shooting of officer R. F. Talley near Texarkana Nov. 3, 1947.

Records showed Talley was killed by two shots from his own pistol after he had taken Hill and three other negroes into custody in his automobile on highway 82 west of Texarkana in Bowie county.

Hill's attorneys argued the trial court erred in not granting a motion for continuance of the trial, refusing to allow a change of venue, and allowing introduction of the pistol in evidence. They said the officer who arrested Hill in connection with the murder entered the house without a search warrant.

Judge Tob Beauchamp overruled all three bills of exception. He noted that Hill testified in his own behalf and admitted possession of the pistol. This nullified the possibility of error by the trial court in letting the state introduce the pistol in evidence, the appeals court judge ruled.

First Female Child In 122 Years Born To Texas Family

ORANGE, May 26. (AP)—A five-day-old, blue-eyed, auburn-haired baby is the first female child born into the Mussina family of Texas in 122 years, her father said today.

The baby is Beverly Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren E. Mussina of Orange.

The father said that the child's great great grandfather, Jacob Mussina, and his brother Simon founded the cities of Port Isabel and Brownsville and once had large land holdings in south Texas.

He said that descendants of Jacob and Simon are scattered throughout Texas but until the birth of Beverly Ann last Friday, the descendants were to his knowledge all male.

Southerners Block Bill To Give Control Of Washington, D. C., Back To Residents

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Congressmen are mighty busy fellows, they say.

Too busy, according to some of them, to sit down and give laws to the District of Columbia. Things like the district needing new manhole covers or street lamps or uniforms for garbage collectors.

The hair-graying jog of legislating was aired on the House floor yesterday. The boys were gathered as a committee of the whole to consider what is known as the District of Columbia charter act. It's a bill that would in effect give Washington back to the people who live here but can't vote and haven't in 74 years. A shameful thing, some say. The folks could vote, under the bill, which also would take administration of the district off the achin' back of your overworked Congress.

Trivialities Nuisance

There wrs no vote on the bill yesterday, thanks to the Democratic gentlemen from Dixie. The Southerners are against home rule for the district. So they insisted on having all 108 pages of the bill read, word for word. And tossed in a couple of quorum calls for good measure.

About midafternoon, the House gave up. The bill was put over until later, probably some time next week. More than half the 108 pages still have to be read for amendments.

One congressman who spoke up for the measure was Fran Walter of Pennsylvania. He said he, for one, was getting doggone tired of debating trivial district matters.

Mr. Walter said it seemed a little silly, to his way of thinking, to be arguing over whether district drugstores ought to be required to jacket soda straws with cellophane.

Or whether a barber ought to be made to sterilize his clippers as well as his comb and snippers to protect the health of the men of the district. And how about those poor folks who grow up to be big peve and can't vote?

"Bosh," popped Cong. Sam Hobbs of Alamaba, "They knew they couldn't vote when they moved here, didn't they?"

Cong. Charlie Deane of North Carolina said that when the so-called home rule business first came up, he wasn't exactly convinced it was a good idea. Then, he said, he got to looking around and discovered things were in a gosh-awful mess in the district.

Bill Too Complicated

"Here," he boomed, "we have a city with a population bigger than any one of 13 states I could name, and only three commissioners to run things."

Mr. Deane added that he realized that the bill under consideration is a little complicated, but "that's because of the topsy-turvy which exists."

"Complicated is right," spoke up half-bald Cong. John Jennings of Tennessee.

Mr. J. said he wanted his colleagues to know, for the record, that lad and man he has been a student of the law for 25 years. Since 1903, an attorney down there in Tennessee.

"I don't think there's a lawyer in these United States, including Philadelphia," he said, side-glancing at his fellow congressmen from Pennsylvania, "who can understand this bill."

"Look," he bellowed, whipping through H. R. 6227. One hundred and 80 pages. Over 45,000 words. And unconstitutional at that!

"As we say in my part of the country, let's take it layin' down rest and think this thing over. Maybe we need home rule in our capital city. But the way it is in this here bill now, it's like trying to hatch chickens out of scrambled eggs. It's too complicated."

The gentleman from Tennessee sat down.

Every living person has had 16,777,216 ancestors, according to figures of a prominent clergyman.

Papers In Damages Action Refiled In District Court

Original papers in the $4,300 damages action of L. T. Pate of Gaines county against Lawrence Cannon of Hale county were received here Wednesday from the district court of Gaines county and refiled in the 99th district court of Judge G. V. Pardue.

A removal order had been signed by 106th District Judge Louis B. Reed, who Dec. 4 had sustained a plea of privilege filed by the defendant.

The cause was outgrowth of a Nov. 10, 1946, collision of Pate's truck and portable steamer and a car of the defendant, two and a half miles southeast of Denver City, pleadings said.

It was filed by J. B. Cotten of Seagraves and the Abilene law firm of Scarborough, Yates, Scarborough and Black. Wm. H. Evans, member of the Lubbock law firm of Klett, Bean, Evans and Justice, represents Cannon.

Jester Approves Deficiency Funds For Negro Students

AUSTIN, May 26. (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester today approved a deficiency appropriation of $10,192 for aid to negro students attending universities outside Texas.

The governor said he had been advised by the board of directors of the Texas State university for negroes that a fund of $25,000 set up by the 50th Legislature for the present fiscal year had been exhausted.

The fund was set aside to aid negro students attending out-of-state universities where similar facilities are not available in Texas.

Jester said the board told him that the number of students qualifying for the aid this year was larger than anticipated and that individual amounts have increased.

Texan Holds Cotton For 23 Years Until Right Price Quoted

PALESTINE, May 26. (AP)—Twenty-three years ago John Caldwell stored 25 bales of cotton on his farm near Neches. He didn't think the 18 cents a pound offered then was enough.

Through 23 years of depression, inflation, recession and the war, Caldwell saw prices fluctuate from five to 28 cents. He still wasn't ready to sell.

The other day he took a look at the current market picture and sold 14 bales—for more than 30 cents a pound.

He's keeping the other 11 bales—just in case.

Brownwood Man Is Elected Head Of Texas Bankers Association

Tom E. Acker, chairman of the board of the Texas State bank, Jacksonville, was elected vice president and G. W. Baines, vice president of the First National bank of Alpine, was elected treasurer.

Election of the nominees submitted by the nominating committee was unanimous.

Ray B. Johnston, president of the San Angelo National bank, was nominated for councilman of District VI, and Harry T. Wiegel, president of the Texarkana National bank, of District V.

Appeals Court Affirms Ruling

The court of civil appeals for the seventh supreme judicial district, in Amarillo, has affirmed judgment of the 99th district court of Lubbock county, Judge G. V. Pardue presiding, in the case of Walter C. Fulford and others, appellants, against E. D. Heath, appellee.

A copy of the decision, written by Chief Justice E. L. Pitts, has been received by District Clerk Royal Furgeson and by counsel: Vickers and Vickers for Fulford and others, Nelson and McCleskey for Heath.

Suit Is Explained

The suit, in nature of a trespass to try title, in reality resolved itself into a boundary suit filed by Heath against Fulford and others to establish a common boundary line between lots 4 and 5, block 60, of the Crestlawn addition to Lubbock.

Fulford and others answered with a plea of not guilty and claimed title by limitation to a strip of land 5.7 feet wide by 121 feet long adjacent to both lots, with a common boundary line separating them.

The case was tried Sept. 5 without a jury and judgment was rendered establishing a boundary and awarding the strip to Heath. Fulford and others appealed.

Crestlawn is a subdivision of the McCrummen second addition to Lubbock. It is composed of 80 lots averaging 50 feet wide and 130 feet deep. Lying within its bounds are Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets, and Aves. T, U, and V, each 50 feet wide, the trial court found.

City Had Marked Area

Judge Pardue found that residents of the addition purchased lots there without reference to plat, relying upon location of the lots as they lay on the ground.

Before filing of a plat of the addition Dec. 16, 1944, for recording, the city of Lubbock had laid out, marked and graded streets and avenues of the addition, the court found.

Also, the court found, there were no markers other than the streets and avenues, so the appellants were bound by markers, lines and corners that existed upon the ground. The lots in question, it was held, must be

Lubbock Man Claims He Knew James Boys

Jesse James Claimed 'Branded'

By GORDON TOMPKINS
Avalanche Staff Writer

"Jesse James is dead—I know he is. That feller up there in Lawton that's claimin' to be Jesse is just lookin' for some free publicity. If I could get up there and talk with him about two minutes I could prove he ain't Jesse, too.

"You know back in outlaw days when a feller was wounded, he generally didn't go to any doctor. Most likely, he just had one of his sidekicks brand his wounds with a hot poker, and it worked a whole lot bettern' most folks 'ud think.

"Wellsir, back when I was only nine years old, the James boys was in the Gallatin, Mo., jail—they'd been caught after they robbed the Gallatin bank, and Jesse had been shot twice. Well, jails didn't feed folks like they do nowadays, and my grandma used to fix up a pot of food, and the jailer 'ud let me in and give it to the James boys.

"Well, one of the first times I went to the jail with the food Jesse asked me to bring back a hot poker and brand those two wounds of his. He couldn't get anybody in the jail to do it, so I did it for him. I burned him deep, and I know Jesse James carried those scars with him till he was killed. I ain't saying where they are, but if I could see that Dalton feller up there in Oklahoma I could show folks mighty fast that he ain't Jesse.

So said D. J. "Jack" Terrell, a resident of the Hub courts on South H, yesterday, when asked about the stories that The Lawton Constitution had printed claiming indisuptable proof that Jesse James is still alive, that a man named J. Frank Dalton of Lawton, 100 years old and bedfast with a broken hip, is the famous outlaw and "most assuredly quite alive."

Bandit Is Described

Terrell continued. "I knew the James boys and the Dalton boys, and I knew the Shelley gang that came in after the Cherokee strip came into settlement, but folks ain't heard of them as much as the Daltons and the James boys. Jesse was a dark, long, ganglin sort of a guy—he'd sat in the saddle so much by the time he was 20 years old that he was right stoop-shouldered. Frank was a little short guy . . . nuthin' like Jesse.

"I knew their daddy too—he was a big, rawboned man, and never shaved in his life so far as I know—had long black whiskers. As I recall, he was the second husband of Jesse and Frank's mother. I knew all them folks, and this stuff this feller up there's putting out makes me boilin' mad.

Terrell, who said he was "past 71" and out of work at the present time, spat tobacco juice in a coffee can and continued, "Son, I'll tell you who I really am so's you'll know I'm not lying. I started not to say anything about this because folks will say that I'm lookin' for publicity just like this Oklahoma feller, but I hate to see these frauds pulled on folks.

Says He's Kin To James

"I'm the orignial Oklahoma Kid—you mighta seen that movie they made about me. I was an outlaw by force and not by choice. When I was young some outlaws pulled a holdup and it got blamed on me. You see, I had a special horseshoe on my pony, and the blacksmith thought so much of it he made one like it and hung it in his shop. Well, when this holdup was pulled off, the prints along the road were like that'n on my horse. They'd used the one in the shop, see, and put it back afore anyone knew anything about it.

BOYD TO HEAD COMMITTEE

Lubbock County Advisory Group On Education Named At Meeting

Organization of a Lubbock Advisory committee on Education, in connection with the Gilmer-Aiken committee's statewide study of education in Texas, was completed Wednesday afternoon at the courthouse here, and Roy Boyd, county school superintendent, was elected chairman.

Boyd then outlined phases of study to be undertaken by the committee and set the next meeting for the third week in September. At that time reports on the studies are expected.

Work Outlined

The Gilmer-Aiken committee, under chairmanship of State Sen. James E. Taylor of Kerens, is making a study of education in Texas for the purpose of submitting recommendations for improvement to the 51st Texas legislature, Boyd explained. The committee was authorized by the last legislature.

Other Lubbock county members and duties include: A. B. Reese, teaching qualifications; W. C. Watts, teacher tenure law; R. W. Matthews, per capita appropriations; Lee Vardy of Slaton, school bonds and school buildings; Marvin Williams of Roosevelt, transportation; Floyd Honey, records and reports; Mrs. Ivy Savage and Mrs. Reuby Rhodes, curriculum; E. A. Deering of Frenship, rural aid; H. J. McCabe, student activities program.

A. F. Rasor, textbooks and census; Elmer East, finances; John Wilson, school attendance; George Leftwich, of Shallowater, Fred Worsham, W. T. Lemon of Slaton, and C. H. Brown of Shallowater, county administration; A. L. Faubion of New Deal and W. O. Fortenberry, Monroe, building sites and equipment; Merle Walker of Idalou, state organization; and H. H. Nicholas of Cooper, salaries.

State Rep. Preston Smith was present and answered questions regarding phases of the study.

Purpose Given

The "look at our local schools" is being pushed by the committee because "all of us realize we are living in a changed world, and that education is the very essence of change," Boyd said. "Therefore, it is time to take a look at our public school system in each community in Texas in order that we may become thoroughly familiar with what we have now, to decide what we ought to have, and to plan together how we can get what we want in the way of an educational program for our children."

The local study, Boyd added, is expected to result in valuable information for local use, as well as to contribute materially to statewide information on which future legislatures may base action for improvement of Texas' public school system.

Bargaining Seen In New Lineup

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

BROWNWOOD May 26—Top Texas Democratic leaders believe they now have a fighting chance at the Philadelphia convention to regain some of this state's lost voice in national party affairs.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester and national committeeman-elect Wright Morrow of Houston joined here today in saying that will be the chief net effects of actions taken at yesterday's state Democratic convention.

"President Truman as a person or a political personality, does not enter into it. It is a matter of the principles we are fighting for," Jester said in an interview. "I believe we will have a hopeful situation in Philadelphia to give a real voice to Texas influence and thought," Morrow told this correspondent.

Purge Is Charged

In the closing hours of the hectic convention, workmen of the sessions winning coalition chopped unfriendly names from the lists of delegates and alternates. Some leaders of the Woodville Rogers pro-Truman faction called it a purge. It was reliably reported that Rogers himself vetoed a plan to fight the committee's recommendations.

Some of Jester's close political associates had gone so far as to say that the convention flatly repudiated Truman. The governor's own interpretation was that the convention had only served notice of a fight against policies that Jester believes encroach on state's rights.

"We will try to reclaim the right of Texas and the southern states under the nominating rule, and assert our opposition to the philosophy that the Washington government can over-ride all rights and views of individual citizens," Morrow said.

Truman Disliked

He said the delegation would press for restoration of the two-thirds rule in nominating presidential candidates. When this rule was dropped, southern Democrats lost much of their convention power.

There could be no doubt that the temper of the convention was in effect this: We do not want Truman for our party's presidential candidate if a man more in line with our beliefs can be found, but we will support him if we have to.

Two facts bear this out.

1. The convention voted to send a delegation to Philadelphia uninstructed as to candidates. By inference, if not by specific resolution, it instructed them to oppose

Reception To Honor Whyburns Sunday

A portrait of Dr. Wm. M. Whyburn, president of Texas Technological college, will be displayed to the public at a formal reception in his and Mrs. Whyburn's honor at 4 p. m. Sunday in the Recreation Hall at Tech, Bill Reid of Clarendon, chairman of the presidential portrait committee announced last night.

The portrait was painted by John Young-Hunter, world famous portrait painter in his home at Taos, N. M. President Whyburn went there for the sitting immediately after the concert dedicated to him by the Texas Tech band in the Lubbock Senior high school auditorium Sunday, May 16.

In the reception line will be all student council officers and President and Mrs. Whyburn, Reid stated.

The portrait will be brought here from Taos Sunday morning by Dean W. C. Holden, of Tech's division of graduate studies, who, with his wife, is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Young-Hunter in Taos now.

"The student council extends an invitation to all friends of President and Mrs. Whyburn to attend the reception," Reid said.

PARADE OPENS PROGRAM FRIDAY

Crosbyton To Play Host During Weekend For Three-Day Rodeo

CROSBYTON, May 26 (Special)—West Texas' newest rodeo, sponsored by the Crosbyton Rodeo Association, Inc., will stage its initial performances this weekend, Friday through Sunday. Night performances are scheduled for Friday and Saturday, starting at 8:00 p. m., and a matinee Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m.

The Crosbyton association has just completed a $25,000 rodeo plant, which embodies the best features of every plant in this section. Starting construction after other towns and cities had completed theirs, directors of the local show first made a thorough study of all nearby arenas and grounds.

Will Seat 3,500

With a seating capacity of 3,500, the grandstand is sufficiently large to take care of the expected crowds. Chutes, pens, judging stand and arena all incorporate the most modern designs.

Being a professional show approved by the Rodeo Cowboys association, some of the top performers of this area are expected to enter in the five events, which include bareback riding, calf roping, saddle bronc riding, bull dogging and bull riding. Prizes totaling approximately $3,000 will be awarded.

In addition to the regular events, a cowgirl sponsors contest is slated, with prizes and special recognition planned for the visiting young ladies. A parade Friday at 6 p. m. will begin the festivities.

Entertainers On Program

Several prominent rodeo entertainers, including Ted and Betty Lamb, trick riders and ropers, Weaver and Juanita Gray and their trained horses and dog, and Homer Rumsey and his trained monkey, will appear daily, along with the usual rodeo clown. Jones Bros. of Amarillo will furnish the stock and be in charge of the performances. Dances, with music by Charles Edwards and his West Texas Playboys, will follow the rodeo performances Friday and Saturday nights.

Entries in the various events will be accepted until 2:30 p. m. Friday, and both professional and amateur contestants of this area are invited to take part.

The Crosbyton association was formed 18 months ago, with the original intention of staging the first rodeo last summer. But because of shortage of materials and the desire of the directors to build the best plant possible, the initial performance was postponed until this spring.

R. C. Wood, Crosbyton business man and rancher, is serving as the organization's first president. G. C. Brunson is vice-president and Tillman Reeves, secretary-treasurer. Other directors include H. E. Marsh, B. L. Anderson, E. E. Claborn and J. C. Reed.

Nation's Top Air Force Leader In State To Boost Reserve Setup

DALLAS, May 26 (AP) — The nation's top Air Force man came to Texas today to boost the Lone Star state's campaign to recruit men for the Air Force reserves.

Tall, ruddy Secretary for Air W. Stuart Symington made several announcements. They included:

1. Henley field near Dallas will become the center for reserve Air Force and air National Guard training in an area including practically all of Texas and part of New Mexico.

2. Perrin field, wartime training base near Sherman, will be reactivated July 1 for the fiscal year 1948-49. It will have a personnel compliment of 3,000 and an annual payroll of more than $5,000,000.

Symington's visit was part of the observance of Air Reserve week, proclaimed by Gov. Beauford H. Jester for May 23-29. He will visit San Antonio and Austin tomorrow and the Letourneau Technical Institute at Longview Friday.

The air secretary did not elaborate on his announcement regarding Hensley field except to say the field, now a base of operations for several National Guard air units, will assume greater importance in the Air Force expansion program.

Symington was met at Dallas by Lt. Gen. John K. Cannon of Barksdale Field, La.; Maj. J. P. Hodges of Randolph Field, and Col. Chester Gilger, commanding officer of Perrin field.

The genial secretary arrived at Dallas shortly before noon from Perrin Field, Grayson county, where he made his first Texas stop. He was accompanied by Rep. Sam Rayburn of Bonham, J. Frank Wilson of Dallas, John E. Lyle of Corpus Christi and Paul Kilday of San Antonio.

Associate in Arts diplomas will be presented to the graduates by the Rev. F. G. Roesener, Austin, chairman of the board of regents.

Included among the graduates is Robert Becker of Slaton.

OFFICIAL CLAIMS

Racetracks Guiding 'Lambs' To Shears

LOS ANGELES, May 26 (INS)—The Los Angeles police commission launched an investigation today after a councilman charged that race tracks could put up directional signs but that similar markers were denied churches.

Said Councilman Don A. Allen:

"Why are racetrack signs allowed to point like a beacon in the night . . . guiding poor little lambs to the shearing pens in that great palace of joy and the sport of kings?

"It hurts my conscience when I must tell church groups and civic bodies that they cannot direct persons to their meetings. They must stagger along the wayside like crippled ducks in a hail storm."

Legend has it that the root of the mandrake plant was used by God to put Adam to sleep when He made Eve out of one of Adam's ribs.

Jacksonville Man Winner Of Florida Race For Governor

MIAMI, Fla., May 26 (INS) — Fuller Warren, 42-year-old Jacksonville attorney, will realize a life-long ambition when he takes over the Florida governor's office next January.

The Democratic runoff primary which ended in victory for Warren today climaxed a campaign which actually began when he was a 12-year-old page in the Florida legislature.

Warren decided then that he would someday be elected governor.

His struggle paid off today.

Unofficial but virtually complete returns gave Warren an 18,000-vote lead over his opponent, Dan McCarty. Warren polled 291,856 votes to McCarty's 273,231.

It is said children gain weight faster in autumn and winter, and height chiefly in spring and early summer.

Colorado Student Abandons Plan To Seek Regents Post

BOULDER, Colo., May 26 (INS) —A 21-year-old student at the University of Colorado announced today that he had abandoned plans to run for election to the State Board of Regents.

William Eaton, an arts and science student, said he learned that he was ineligible because, according to state law, a candidate must be a member of a political party at least one year prior to the nominating convention.

"I was too young to have been a member of any party," Eaton said sadly.

The student had planned to run despite the warning of the student newspaper that he would have little time left for study if he won a regents seat. But his idea was backed by the associated students of the university, who believe it would be a good idea if the board were composed of students as well as political appointees.

Bevin Under Fire For Britain's Military Pact With Arab Forces

LONDON, May 26 (INS)—Foreign Secretary Bevin firmly upheld military treaty commitments with Trans-Jordan today despite mounting parliamentary criticism of Britain's role in the Palestine war.

The heckled foreign secretary told the house of commons several Britons involved on the Arab side in the attack on Jerusalem had been withdrawn from the Holy City area.

Bevin added, however, that Britain will continue supplying officers to Trans-Jordan under treaty provisions that "will only cease if their fulfilment became inconsistent with our obligations to the United Nations."

Bevin Is Blamed

This apparently means the Arab invaders must be branded aggressors against Israel, a state Britain has not recognized.

Laborite Samuel Silverman asked Bevin "whether it is fitting that a force paid by British money and wearing uniforms and carrying equipment provided by us should shell Holy places?"

Laborite Richard Stokes retorted "what is the extent of American support of the Jews?"

William Gallacher, a Communist, declared Bevin is responsible for the Holy Land war

British Aiding Arabs

A foreign office spokesman earlier said President Truman's reported loan to Israel, if true, is "ill-timed, especially as we are using our best endeavors with the Arab states to cease fire, and we do deprecate anything likely to upset that situation."

The spokesman confirmed that Britain has asked France and approached other Brussels pact nations about not recognizing Israel while the cease-fire negotiations were under consideration.

Bevin said 37 British officers are serving with the Trans-Jordan legion—the group which is spearheading the invasion of Palestine.

These included three men "seconded," or on loan, from the former Palestine government, and 13 civilians under contract with the Trans-Jordan government. The others are on loan from the regular British army.

Bevin said there was no British officer in Jerusalem today.

Bitter Cold Weather, Snow Delay Climbers In Search For Three Airmen On Mountain

WARD, Colo., May 26 (INS)—Intense cold and steadily falling snow held back the veteran mountaineers who renewed their hazardous ascension of Navajo peak this morning before dawn, in the hope of reclaiming the bodies of three airmen.

The climbers reported to headquarters, southwest of Ward, that the attempt to reach what is believed to be the wreckage of a C-47 plane missing since Jan. 21, was almost "stalemated" by weather conditions and rugged terrain.

Snow Falls In Area

Three inches of snow fell last night, and the fall continued today, limiting visibility to about 100 feet. Even when the mountaineers reach the wreckage site, they must climb a "chimney" to reach the plane.

Airplanes flew over the 13,406-foot peak again today in an effort to determine the exact location of the orange-colored wing tip spotted last week by CAA officials and National Guard airmen.

The mountain climbers are from Lowry Air Base in Denver, the Boulder Rocky mountain rescue group and the Colorado Ski patrol.

Yesterday, the men were unable to use skiis or snow shoes because the seemingly firm crust of the snow gave way. Two Air Force weasels were taken to within two and one-half miles of the wreckage site, after crews spent hours digging them out of snow drifts, and worked to free one machine that bogged down in a creek.

On board the ill-fated plane were Pilot Fred Snavely of Kansas City; Warren Lungstrom, co-pilot of Leavenworth, Kansas, and Ross Brown, CAA inspector from Denver.

CRIME UP HERE

Something's Wrong

THE reported loss of more than $5,000 in burglaries last week-end adds to previous evidences that the whole subject of proper policing for Lubbock demands immediate attention by the City commission.

This suggestion is not offered in a critical spirit of specific individuals or agencies. The Morning Avalanche does not know where the fault may lie. It does not know what the best remedies might be.

But something clearly is in need of correction. Possibly the need is for more policemen. Perhaps lack of efficiency in the Police department, or among some individuals in that department, is at fault. Probably several factors combine to explain the failure to cope properly with a crime problem so serious that reported losses in one week-end exceed $5,000.

The City commission obviously is the proper agency to try to get at the bottom of whatever trouble may exist and then to adopt whatever remedial measures may seem best. Members of that body can expect public support if they act swiftly and with decision in tackling the problem—criticism if they delay.

To Dr. J. A. Hill

TONIGHT, at Canyon, the senior class of West Texas State Teachers college will do something more than just go through the routine of graduating exercises. They, with their friends, relatives and the faculty of the college, will say a formal farewell to a fine educator and an outstanding citizen who begins a well-earned retirement after a long and fruitful career in Northwest Texas.

Completing 30 years at the helm of West Texas State Teachers college tonight is Dr. Joe Hill, the institution's president. The 1948 class is dedicating to Doctor Hill their graduation ceremonies and, its invitations print his picture with the accompanying message: "The Senior class pays tribute to Dr. J. A. Hill for 30 years of devoted service as president of West Texas State college and takes pride in graduating with him in 1948."

More than a fine educator and college administrator, Doctor Hill is a fine citizen. The inspiration of his life and work extends past the thousands of West Texas State Teachers college students who have studied under him. It permeates a vast area and will go on and on, as the waves of the sea.

The Morning Avalanche congratulates Doctor Hill as he finishes his course; takes pride in wishing long life, health and happiness to a great West Texan and a great American.

Word To The Wise

FIGURES released by the National Safety council recently emphasize that the automobile driver takes one of his biggest gambles with life and limb when he overtakes and passes other cars.

Last year, according to the council's report, 49,000 accidents in which persons were killed, or injured, occurred under such conditions. In the majority of cases, the car responsible for the crash was attempting to pass while rounding a curve, or approaching the brow of a hill. It is a characteristic of these accidents that they are worse, in terms of life loss and horrifying injuries, than almost any other kind.

Another characteristic is, as a rule, there is the least excuse for their occurrence. Few risks the driver can take are so deliberate in their carelessness.

The most the driver can hope to gain by such practices is a very little time. Time gained at the risk of death or crippling injury, not to mention property damage, simply isn't worth that much.

Modern education may be an improvement over the old days, but high schools certainly turn out a bum bunch of spellers.

Grandpa had rheumatic pains but he didn't encourage them by sitting in a concrete stadium in flu-perfect weather.

You can tell when a man begins to talk about fair play. He is usually the one out-tricked.

The New Arrival—In Siberia

The Innocent Impostor

By RENEE SHANN
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Patience Mond goes to London three times a week to attend dressmaking school. It is the only freedom allowed her by the two old-fashioned aunts who have brought her up and with whom she lives in the country. She always returns home on the six-thirty. Paul Taylor takes the same train and for some time now has been trying to pick her up. But Patience is too proper to talk to a strange young man. One evening, an accident halts the train about a mile from her station. Paul offers to walk her there, so she won't be too late getting home, and she accepts. He asks her to meet him at nearby Stortford the following Saturday for tea and movies. She tells him her aunts would never allow it. Fate intervenes, however, when Aunt Helen asks Patience to go into Stortford that very Saturday to change a library book. As her train pulls in, Patience sees Paul waiting for her on the platform.)

III

PAUL, watching her come toward him, wondered what she'd think if she were to know how anxiously he'd been waiting for her train, fearful lest she might not to be on it. He took her hands and smiled down at her.

"Gosh, I'm glad you managed to make it."

"It was the purest chance. Aunt Helen wanted her library book changed."

"God bless Aunt Helen," he said reverently. Then, "Listen, what shall we do first. Get that library book out of the way?"

"I think it would be wiser."

There was nothing available on her aunt's list so Patience had to choose a book for her. She decided on one she thought her aunt might enjoy, and the girl at the desk said it was a "very pleasant little story."

"Sounds awful," said Paul.

Patience smiled.

"Aunt Helen will like it all right. Mind you, Aunt Alice reads thrillers."

"The devil she does! I'd like to meet Aunt Alice."

"She's really the gay one of the two. At least I always feel she'd like to be, only of course she's never had much chance. Aunt Helen is a much stronger character. She's older than Aunt Alice."

"I see. Are there only just the two of them?"

"That's all. There was another sister. My mother. She was very much younger. She died when I was seven."

"Poor little mouse!" he said softly. "You can't remember her, I suppose?"

"Oh yes, I can. Only not very clearly. But she was absolutely lovely. And always very gay and full of fun."

* * *

"LIKE you could be if only the opportunity offered. Look, let's have an early tea and go to the flicks after." He led her into a tea-shop as he spoke and over to a little table in a far corner. And when the waitress had taken their order: "Tell me more about yourself, and your maiden aunts, and your mother who was so lovely and so gay."

Patience drew off her gloves and laid them beside her bag on the table.

"It's really because of my mother that my aunts have brought me up so strictly. She ran away when she was twenty and married an acrobat." Her eyes hardened. "My grandparents cut her off completely."

"My goodness!"

"My father deserted my mother. She died in the South of France. Someone wrote to the family lawyer. By that time my grandparents had both died. My aunts went down to Cannes at once. You see, they knew my mother had had twins—she sent them a little photograph one Christmas without a word. Just a photograph of herself and her babies."

He stared at her.

"Good Lord, there aren't two of you?"

She shook her head.

"No," she said wistfully. "I often wish there were. My aunts arrived expecting to find me and my sister, and found I was there by myself. There was some Frenchwoman looking after me."

"But didn't she know what had become of your sister?"

"No. And there wasn't anyone who could tell my aunts anything. They did all they could to trace her. Without any luck. In the end they came back to England bringing me with them."

"And you've been with them ever since?"

"Yes," her voice warmed with affection. "They've been absolutely wonderful to me!"

HE looked at her and saw that she meant it. There was a candid simplicity in her hazel eyes. She lived in her own little world and was unaware that it was bounded by high walls.

"Don't you ever feel you want to be really gay? Go to a wild party? Chase up to town with some young man—me, for instance—and dance till the small hours?"

She frowned.

"I don't think I'd like a wild party. And I did once dance till the small hours."

"Once! And you're twenty years old! Listen, will you come to a dance with me one night? They have them here at the Town Hall every Saturday. I'll drive you

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

APPARENTLY there is some trouble about getting that sixty-five million from Congress to build those elegant headquarters for the United Nations.

It seems some of our Congressmen think that perhaps sixty-five million dollars could be used to better advantage than for marble chambers, cocktail lounges, paneled libraries and terraced gardens for an organization that so far has not even merited its existence in one of Chic Sale's famous establishments.

BRANDEIS

I do not prfoess to be a statesman.

I make no claim to social or economic authority.

I wear no decorations, red ribbons across my chest, and I do not even possess a frock coat and striped trousers.

But I do know that I see eye to eye with the great mass of Americans, and with them I believe that the United Nations so far has been one of the most colossal flops in world history.

Mind you, all of us are willing and ready to be convinced that we are wrong.

All of us plain, every-day Americans would like to know that the United Nations is a success and should have that sixty-five million and all those elegant trappings planned for it.

But what have they done?

Where is the slightest evidence that they could have accomplished more if their surroundings, as one of the delegates put it, had been more in keeping with the noble and majectic purpose of the organization?

Under proper conditions the United Nations could function and be fully effective in my garage.

Under proper conditions I would be perfectly willing to clean out my garage, put chairs and tables in it and let the delegates go to work.

My garage is only a little more than an hour from New York and there are plenty of hotels and inns and rooming houses in Connecticut where they could stay while putting the world in order.

AND that could be done in a jiffy—if they really wanted to do it.

Of course, they would have to stop being stuffed shirts and become human beings. They and their rulers would have to be willing to give as well as take. They would have to stop strutting and being full of false pride and of greed and lust for power.

They would have to stop lying and cheating and breaking promises and kidding one another and they would have to start using the same decency toward each other that individuals use in business or in their social affairs.

They would have to forget themselves and their own majestic little interests and act in the interests of the millions and millions of their citizens who want peace and food and a little happiness just as you and I. It makes no difference whether those citizens are Russians, Arabs, Jews, Koreans, Indians or what-have-you. A hungry Russian is no different from a hungry American.

Does it take sixty-five million dollars worth of buildings to make those strutting peacocks understand and practice the Golden Rule?

No, sir, all that could be done in my garage.

But, as things look now, I am afraid there won't be any gorgeous United Nations headquarters, and the name Lake Success will be changed to Lake Failure.

GOP LEADERS ON SPOT

HST Regains Backing

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Republican politicians have now reached the healthy conclusion that Harry S. Truman may not be the presidential pushover they had anticipated only a few weeks ago. Even allowing for the possible Southern revolt and the Wallace threat to the Democrats, they recognize that the President's recent, self-designed strategy is calculated to make him a formidable opponent.

TUCKER

They regard his quickie recognition of the new state in Israel as a stroke of political genius insofar as winning back the tremendously influential Jewish vote is concerned.

If he follows through by embargoing arms to the strife-torn Holy Land, possibly permitting sale to the new nation, and also by persuading Britain to withdraw her support of the Arabs, he will undoubtedly win back the elements which can be so decisive in a half a dozen electorally important commonwealths.

CHANGED: Anyway, the G.O.P.'s scouts report that Jewish sentiment toward the man in the White House has changed completely since the United States extended recognition, even though it caused dismay in London and Paris, and was given at the very moment when American representatives to the United Nations were arguing agains such a move.

Although certain diplomats and military experts regard the White House action as premature, Capitol Hill Republicans have offered only minor criticism for the reason that they dare not antagonize the affected racial groups. Among the first to express their approval were Senate Foreign Relations Chairman Vandenberg and Governor Dewey of New York. Even if they had disagreed, it would not be politically discreet for them to say so.

FRIEND: President Truman's aides also inform him that he has stemmed the earlier stampede of the colored vote to the Republicans or to Henry A. Wallace. With this group supposed to possess the balance of voting power in sixteen states having almost 200 electoral ballots, it has become a primary political objective to hold it in the fold for at least one more presidential election.

The Civil Rights program alone was not sufficient to satisfy the colored people, chiefly because Mr. Truman has made no determined effort to enact his proposals into law. But two other developments have apparently convinced them that the Chief Executive will be a better friend than any prospective Republican rival or Mr. Wallace.

STRATEGY: The first was the bitter reaction in Dixie and the politicians' threat of a bolt. The natural conclusion was that, if the White House suggestions were so distasteful to the Byrds, Rankins, Wrights and other Southern bigwigs, they must mean a gain for the Negroes in that section and elsewhere.

But the most satisfactory gesture in the direction of this element of the electorate was the Supreme Court's anti-segregation decision. For the interested groups, which include other powerful racial and religious minorities, it had the same sentimental appeal and significance as the nominal end of the age-old struggle for the deliverance of Israel.

Regardless of sociological, biological and historical disputes over the wisdom of these White House policies, the cold political fact remains that they can reelect Mr. Truman if any election eve strategy can have that effect.

LABOR: In further pursuance of the Roosevelt formula of mobilizing the three most powerful voting element in the country, President Truman has lately turned a loving eye on labor, especially on the embittered John L. Lewis faction.

Attorney General Clark's requests for dismissal of the civil contempt indictment and injunction against the United Mine Workers has not softened John L. But it has tended to appease the miners themselves, according to all reports from the anthracite and bituminous countryside

Still another smaller but influential faction may respond to this new outburst of White House wooing. Although negotiations of a settlement of our difficulties with Russia are still in the air, the White House can say that it made an attempt to lay a basis for understanding. In fact, the desire to build up a campaign alibi against Mr. Wallace in this field partially accounts for the initiation of the Smith-Molotov conversations.

REPERCUSSIONS: President Truman's potential comeback may have repercussions upon the Republicans' choice of a presidential ticket and framing of a platform.

Until recently the G.O.P. had been proceeding on the theory that they could win New York's forty-seven electoral count with almost anybody as their standard-bearer. Counting on a tremendous Wallace cut-in vote, they applied the same theory to such decisive states as New Jersey, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, etc. It was the principal argument raised by his enemies against Governor Dewey's renomination.

Now the Republicans will want to take another look at the field before they assemble at Philadelphia on June 21. The days when they discounted "poor Harry Truman" have vanished.

LEFTISH: The oversuspicious John Taber, chairman of the House Appropriations committee, thought that he had caught Paul Hoffman and Roving European Ambassador W. Averell Harriman "playing footie" with the leftists when they selected a Washington Post reporter, Al Friendly, as Mr. Harriman's publicity agent in Paris

As a Washington Post man covering national affairs, Mr. Friendly's stories usually had a so-called "liberal slant." Although the newspaper is owned by Eugene Meyer, Herbert Hoover's chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, it has been so leftish that Capitol Hill Republicans refer to it as "the Washington edition of the Daily Worker."

Mr. Taber has learned since that he should have saved his breath. Mr. Friendly is an extremely wealthy person, a believer in the capitalistic system that helped to build his inheritance, and is on terms of economic and social intimacy with multi-millionaire Harriman. In fact, there are more millionaires—Hoffman, Harriman, Ambassador Douglas, etc.—in E.R.C. than in any other agency of the government.

A small estate is one where there is not enough involved to make the heirs fall out in the final settlement.

There is nothing new under the sun. The same thing can be said for Christmas cards.

What the average woman wants is a reducing diet that wil permit her to continue eating all the things she likes.

ACTION NEEDED ON MANY BILLS

GOPs Facing Jam On Legislation

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Republicans in Congress suddenly have waked up, at the eleventh hour, to a political fact of life that disturbs some of them.

With less than a month before their National convention at Philadelphia, where they must pronounce in due course on their accomplishments, they still have not put on the books their modified social-welfare program which they offered to attract progressive and independent voters.

STOKES

Nor has any of their civil-rights program—anti-poll tax anti-lynching, FEPC—been pressed toward a conclusion These, of course, would meet a filibuster in the Senate from Southern Democrats, and this offers an excuse in the last-minute jam now faced. But these measures could have been pushed forward earlier and an effort at least could have been made to break a filibuster, as some Republicans urged.

Party Pledged Changes

Embarrassment arises for Republicans on both the social-welfare and civil-rights programs because the party pledged itself to both in their 1944 platform. For two sessions they have controlled Congress and have had both the time and opportunity to do something. Unless something is done in the remaining days before the convention, their only recourse is to repeat the platform pledges of four years ago. They won't be able to point to a record of achievement.

The obstacle now is that there are so many essential matters waiting for action—10 appropriation bills, the draft, the reciprocal-trade-program extension, a displaced-persons measure, a farm bill, the oleomargarine bill, and others, most of them controversial as well as pressing.

Broadly, the Republicans' social-welfare program embraces housing, health and education measures, extension of social security coverage, increase in the 40-cents-an-hour minimum wage. Health and education bills have passed the Senate under the direction of Senator Taft, but the House has done nothing. Social security expansion still is being studied in the House Ways and Means committee, with no prospect of action now. Meanwhile, to the contrary, the House has passed a measure to remove several hundred thousand persons from social security coverage, and also has slashed appropriations for the administrative agency to an extent that not only cripples the present program but impedes the necessary groundwork if the program is expanded at some future date.

Republicans are sponsoring measures to boost the minimum wage, but the tendency has been to include also provisions that would remove many persons now covered by that law and would otherwise restrict its operation.

Housing Plan Delayed

Of all needs at this time involved in the social-welfare program, that of housing is perhaps the most acute and also the most demanding, it would seem, from the political standpoint because of the failure to provide adequate and decent homes for war veterans. Again, for the third time, the Senate has passed the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill to relieve the deplorable situation. But the House leadership is balking because of the bill's provision for $500,000,000 over a period of five years for grant to local communities for public housing for low-income groups—which is only a minor feature in a measure designed principally to encourage home building by private real-estate interests. Speaker Martin (Mass.) and Republican floor leader Halleck (Ind.) and Chairman Wolcott (Mich.) of the Banking and Currency committee tried to get Senator Taft to drop the public-housing provisions as a price for passing the bill, but he refused flatly.

The obstinacy of the House leadership is hard to understand unless you know the power of the real-estate lobby here.

Chairman Wolcott is conducting what looks very much like a filibuster in his committee by dragging out public hearings on the measure. Only 17 witnesses out of 67 scheduled have been heard in two weeks. Many proponents of the bill have refrained from testifying in order to hurry a decision by the committee which, it is now reported, would be favorable if a vote were taken. An attempt by Rep. Monroney (D., Okla.) to get afternoon and night hearings failed.

Supporters of the bill have taken the extraordinary procedure of a petition to force Chairman Wolcott to bring the measures before the House for a vote. Already 130 signatures have been secured. It requires 218.

This and other Republican failures in matters so close to the public interest offer ammunition to Democrats, but the latter, unfortunately, are so hopelessly split and so spiritless that they offer little competition. The public is helplessly caught between.

MARKET SHOWS GAINS

NEW YORK, May 26. (AP)—The stock market got a strong push from its automobile shares today. Average prices lifted to just a shade below their 21-month highs. Several of the motor issues climbed to new tops for the year or longer.

The rally included selected steels, aircrafts, farm implements and electrical equipments. Prices steadied for a time at higher levels only to renew their rise in a last-hour flurry of buying.

With 856,000 shares changing hands in the final hour, total transfers were 1,840,000 shares, compared with 1,820,000 Tuesday.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .8 of a point to 21.2, its best gain since the hectic rally of May 14. The industrial average attained its highest point since Aug. 26, 1946.

Demand for automobile stocks appeared to stem from belief the two-year settlement of the General Motors wage question foreshadows an extended period of stability in the industry.

Even Chrysler, still strikebound, had a gain of 1¾ points to close at 63½. Hitting new 1948 highs were General Motors, which finished ahead 1⅞ at 63⅝; Studebaker, up 1; Hudson, up 1⅛; White Motor, up ⅞ on a divided increase, and Nash-Kelvinator, ahead ⅛.

Bonds were steady.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP) — Cotton futures advanced sharply today on an announcement by the ECA authorizing the shipment of $27,871,000 worth of cotton to four European countries. Expectations that early foreign cotton buying will follow, induced considerable short covering in the nearby July delivery, with the balance of the market moving up in sympathy.

In early dealings new crop deliveries were under light liquidating pressure, following additional good rains on Tuesday in Texas and Oklahoma which were considered highly beneficial to the cotton crop.

Lubbock Man

Well, folks didn't ask many questions in those days, so from then on I was an outlaw.

"I was a second cousin of Jesse's, and I lived when both the James boys and the Dalton boys had their gangs, but I didn't belong to either one of them. Farther along, I decided that business was no good for me, and I was a U. S. Marshall in Texas and Oklahoma. I don't know who made that movie about me, but my wife and I saw it, and I sure would like to see whoever did it. I'd tell 'em a few things.

"That picture of that Dalton feller that's been in all the papers don't look no more like Jesse than I do. And what's more, I can write back to my relatives and get a reproduction of a tintype that was the last picture of Jesse and Frank taken together while they were still living. I don't know which one of my relatives has the picture now, but I'll get it down here so folks can learn the truth about these fellers that keep poppin' up and sayin' they're Jesse James.

Shooting Is Related

"Folks are right in sayin' that Jesse is dead, but they're dead wrong in sayin' that he was shot in St. Jo, Mo.—Jesse was shot by Ford, all right, but he was killed in Kansas City. I wasn't there, but some of relatives was, and I've heard enough about it from them to know.

"Jesse was fixin' to move to Californey, and was takin' down a picture of his mother-in-law that was hangin' there on the wall. Robert Ford shot Jesse in the back through one of the windows in the livin' room. Wellsir, Ford never got out of that yard before the law killed him. Ford saw he was surrounded, and tossed his pistol in a rosebush there, but they shot him, anyway. My relatives told me all about it."

Terrell opened the door of the one-room cab in where he and his wife live and stepped out in the fresh air a few minutes. "Gets damp in here sometimes, you know, and it's awful hard on a man's arthritis." He bit off another chunk of tobacco, and continued.

"Yessir, there's lotsa folks around here that can tell you I ain't lyin' or fakin' any of this. If Stud Miller or Mr. Mitchell was here, they could tell you. I was raised down around Terrell, Texas, and some of the old-timers there can tell you that the town was named for my granddaddy.

Was Reported Killed

"Last time I saw Frank James was back in 1932, I think it was. Frank was runnin' a sort of novelty and gun shop there in Kansas City on Minnesota avenue down towards the river, and Frank himself would have told you that Jesse was killed back there in Kansas City in 1882.

"Folks'll believe anything these days. Why, back in outlaw days I was reported to have been killed and buried twice in Oklahoma. Some of my relatives still think I'm buried up thataway somewhere. The folks that are fallin' for this stuff are the younguns that don't know nuthin' about it—none of the oldtimers that were around then are givin' any mind to this feller.

"Jesse and Frank and a couple other fellers named Tom Tannel and Ed Cole was in that Gallatin jail for three and a half months, and then finally one of 'em blowed the corner outa the jail, and they all got away. But Jesse left carryin' them two poker burns on him, and he carried 'em on him till he died. That feller up there in Lawton could no more show me them two marks than he could answer a bunch of questions I'd like to ask him."

Terrell, who says he was also known during outlaw days as Jack Reese, popped the last bit of tobacco into his mouth. "I don't care whether folks believe what I'm sayin' or not. There's some knows it to be the truth, and those that want to believe this Dalton can just go right ahead as far as I'm concerned."

home after. I'll borrow my father's car."

She looked at him and though she longed to say she would—that there was nothing she'd like better—she knew it was impossible. Her aunts would never allow it.

"Truly, I can't, though I would like to."

He decided that it was a subject to which he could return later. Some other Saturday afternoon perhaps. Because somehow or other he was going to see to it that this meeting was repeated. But for the time being—

He glanced at his watch.

"The big film starts in a quarter-of-an-hour. If you drink down that cup of tea right away we'll just about make it."

located upon the ground from the position of streets and avenues located there in 1922 or 1923 and later named in a dedication map.

The trial court also declined to recognize claims of Fulford and others under claims of a 10-year statute of limitation.

The appeals court found no reversible error.

GROWING OLD TOGETHER

BROCKTON, Mass. (U.P.)—When Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Wentworth celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary, their guests included Dr. and and Mrs. Eugene E. Covell, their attendants in 1888.

The Rural Electrification Administration in North Dakota distributed more than 21,167,000 kilowatt hours of electricity to consumers during the 1946 fiscal year, compared to 2,693,000 kilowatt hours in fiscal 1941.

inclusion of the Truman civil rights program in the national platform. The convention recorded its "unalterable opposition" to the program and put the Truman label plainly on these proposals.

Eisenhower Praised

2. The convention, both by a standing vote and by formal resolution, took a clear, firm pledge of party loyalty. It bound itself, its national convention delegates and presidential electors to vote for the party nominee.

Also plain is the fact that the convention's majority did not want to send a delegation to Philadelphia instructed for Truman's nomination. It said so on two test votes. One was close and not directly on the issue. The other was not close and on an issue that was first cousin if not brother to the question of Truman support.

Adoption of a resolution praising Gen. Dwight Eisenhower may have considerable significance. The resolution lauded him for his military leadership. It said nothing about politics, but it was a friendly gesture perhaps just in case something might come of the Eisenhower movement at Philadelphia.

Party leaders believed that the national convention delegation would pack considerable political weight.

It included former speaker Sam Rayburn—who will also be permanent convention chairman—and Sen. Tom Connally and many others who are prominent in national party affairs. It did not include Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel.

There is growing belief that the powers-that-be in the national Democratic organization realize that Truman can not be re-elected without the electoral votes of Texas and the other southern states.

Texas Democratic chieftains think the naming of Rayburn and Sen. Alben Barkley to key posts in the national convention is an invitation to talk things over and maybe tame down the civil rights proposals.

The Texas party has now flatly refused to enlist in the southern revolt, it has pledged its support of the nominees, and put itself thereby in a very good trading position. The next chapters will be written at Philadelphia.
