PEACE RESTORED IN RAIL YARD WAR

POLITICS TAME COMPARED TO GOOD OLD DAYS

State Democratic Convention Is Mild Affair

BY H. N. F.

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 9.—It was a tame affair—the Dallas meeting of Chairman Frank C. Davis and his state committee.

Gone are the good old days. There wasn't a contest, a row, a fist fight or a drink of hard stuff. All was harmony. Really, prohibition has taken the atmosphere out of politics, the kick out of the fighters of the state committee, the life out of the 'wah hosses' and the sting out of the morning after.

There isn't even a demand for ice water now between sessions.

Farmer Jim Ferguson's name remains on the ticket. Railroad Commissioner Earle B. Mayfield remains on the ticket.

They are the runners off—and the democratic voters of Texas will make their choice August 20. Chairman Davis is a mild mannered individual. He doesn't look like the typical politician. In appearance he is a cross between a well-groomed missionary and a sanctified country lawyer. But he is suave as well as pious and a man of positive convictions as well as a Sunny Jimmer when it comes to smiles.

There wan't a chance to take Farmer Jim's name off the ticket. He had friends on the committee. Those who are not his friends were opposed to deleting his name. It was a unanimous affair. Judge John W. Gaines had filed his protest. He came all the way from San Antonio to Dallas to back up his protest. He couldn't find a committeeman who was willing to offer a motion to ditch Farmer Jim. This being the case, it was useless to hunt a second committeeman to second the motion if one happened to be offered. It is

PRIMARY RACES SETTLED EARLY

Commanding Leads Piled Up

By Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 9.—With the races for the gubernatorial and senatorial nominations on both the republican and democratic tickets definitely settled, interest today turned towards the attitude of Ohio voters on prohibition as shown by their ballots in yesterday's state primary election.

Returns from approximately four-fifths of the precincts of the state gave Carmi A. Thompson, administration candidate for the republican nomination for governor and recipient of anti-saloon league endorsement, a plurality of almost 100,000 votes over the closest of his opponents, among whom were advocates of progressiveism and the return of beer and light wines. Congressman C. L. Knight of Akron characterized as a "Roosevelt progressive," was running second and C. Homer Durand, who made his race on light wines and beer platform, was third. Harvey C. Smith, another liberal candidate was running fourth.

M'RAE SURE OF ARANSAS OFFICE

By Associated Press.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 9.—Governor Thomas C. McRae, nominated as the democratic gubernatorial standard bearer in the November election,—equivalent to election in Arkansas—tonight had piled up a majority of almost 60,000 votes over Judge E. P. Toney of Lake Village as belated unofficial returns from yesterday's statewide primary drifted in from rural districts.

Returns tabulated tonight gave McRae 100,042 votes and Toney 40,531.

Representative William A. Oldfield was virtually assured of the nomination for re-election to congress from the second Arkansas district.

Cotton Belt Drought Continues Unabated

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—With rain falling only in a few northern sections of Texas and northern and eastern parts of Oklahoma, the drought in the western division of the cotton belt was intensified during the week ending yesterday, according to the weekly review of weather and crop conditions issued today by the department of agriculture.

Temperatures were generally somewhat above normal in the central and eastern cotton states, but were much above normal in Oklahoma and Texas, the statement reported.

Tourist Averts Bad Wreck in Colorado

By Associated Press.

BRANDON, Colo., Aug. 9.—Lives of many passengers on a Missouri Pacific passenger train six miles east of here were saved last Monday night by W. H. Jones, an automobile tourist of Towner, Colorado, it became known today. A cloud burst had washed out the Missouri Pacific tracks for a distance of 100 feet on a high grade. The motorist was stalled in the mud nearby in the dark when he saw the passenger train approaching. He quickly removed his shirt, soaked it in gasoline, touched a match to it and using it as a flaming torch, waved the train to a stop a short distance from the washout.

First Wichita Radio Station to Put On Big Concert Monday Night

H. N. F's. Mainly About People

Hearst, the Powerful—Seeks More Power—
He Had No Chance—
Now He Tries Again—

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST is a man of boundless ambition as well as a man of huge fortune and a chain of newspapers and a flock of magazines. There is only one William Randolph Hearst in America.

His newspapers are in many states. He owns farms and ranches in California and Mexico. He owns newspaper syndicates and feature services. He owns a moving picture-making concern and has large investments in other concerns. He speaks to more people daily than any other American publisher. He speaks to more people monthly than any other American magazine owner. His newspapers speak to the 87 per cent. His magazines to the 13 per cent.

HEARST TALKS TO THE HIGH brows as well as the low brows. He was born in California and his father was born in Missouri. George R. Hearst was one of the builders of California and the Rocky Mountain country. He was a rugged old multi-millionaire with all the simplicity of a forty-niner and all the rugged courage and generosity of an early bonanza king.

California sent him to the United States senate as a democrat. He bought the San Francisco Examiner for William Randolph when William Randolph broke out of an eastern college ahead of commencement day.

William R. has been doing things with newspapers ever since. Now he wants to be governor of New York. He wanted to be governor years ago and his political enemies in the democratic party robbed him of his ambition on election day by voting for the republican nominee.

HE MISSED HIS GOAL BY A few thousand ballots. He wanted to be mayor of New York. He ran for the office. He polled a tremendous vote and he scared the life out of the Tammany Tiger. Now his friends are in the saddle once more.

Mayor John F. Hylan is one of his friends. Hylan was re-elected mayor by 450,000. Hearst's newspapers backed him. All the other daily newspapers of New York denounced Hylan and fought him to a finish.

Early in September the New York democrats will hold their state convention. Charles Frances Murphy of Tammany is silent. He is the democratic boss of greater New York. Mayor John F. Hylan is not silent. He is for Hearst and he controls all the juicy plums of official patronage which makes the trainers of the Tammany Tiger fat and sleek and happy. When Hylan cracks his whip Boss Murphy may jump on the Hearst band wagon. Should he refuse to jump, all the juicy plums may be taken from the Tammany Tiger.

HYLAN HAS THREE YEARS TO serve as mayor of the city of New York. He controls more official patronage than 10 governors have to bestow. He says that Hearst is a man of the people, that he has ever been loyal to the people, that he has ever championed the rights of the people and that he is needed as governor of New York to keep Wall Street and those who control the public utilities from plundering the people of their hard-earned dollars and who make a mockery of justice and dominate the halls of legislation by sending their puppets to the high places to make laws which will further fasten their vice-like grip upon the throat of the public.

Mayor Hylan is the possessor of a very large and expressive vocabulary. He divides the public into two classes; the few who are modern pirates and the many who are being trimmed by the few. Hylan says if Hearst is nominated he will be elected by the people governor of the great state of New York. Of course the September convention will tell the story. If Hearst wins the nomination and then the election he will the democratic governor of the richest and most populous of all American states. There is a presidential election coming in 1924.

IF HEARST WINS THE GOVernorship of New York there will be nothing to prevent him from

ILLINOIS MINES READY TO OPEN

Believe Settlement of Strike Near

By Associated Press.

HERRON, Ill., Aug. 9.—All superintendents of the coal mines in southern Illinois, who have been on vacations since the coal miners' strike became effective last April 1, have been telegraphed to report for duty immediately, according to information received here tonight.

Work of cleaning up collieries in preparation for resumption of work went forward today in many pits of the coal belt. Fires of some mines, which were extinguished when the strike began, were rekindled; mules, which have been in pasture, were lowered into the shafts; and coal companies employed several hundred men to clean and inspect the mines.

Many striking miners tonight expressed the belief that settlement of the nation-wide coal strike was near.

Young Man, Clad in Coat of Tar And Feathers, Dropped in Street

By Associated Press

LEESVILLE, La., Aug. 9.—With a shirt and a coat of tar and feathers instead of his usual raiment, Travis Barnhill, well known young man of Leesville was dumped from an automobile at the Balk corner here by a group of masked men after he had been seized at a restaurant earlier in the evening and taken to the woods.

It is alleged that he had been guilty of whipping his wife to whom he has been married only a short while.

A few weeks ago Barnhill was seized and taken to a lonely spot in the woods by a group of masked men who gave him a severe lecture and warned him never to repeat his alleged mistreatment of his wife.

In addition to the tar and feathers it is stated Barnhill was promised a whipping should he again mistreat Mrs. Barnhill.

G. O. P. PUTS OUT FULL TICKET TO OPPOSE DEMOS

Platform Plank Scores Ku Klux Klan Heavily

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 9.—Adoption of a comprehensive platform, one plank of which condemned the ku klux klan and endorsement of a complete list of candidates to oppose democratic nominees in the November election constituted the chief work of the closing session of the Texas republican biennial convention today.

The vote in both instances was unanimous, resulting in party leaders expressing the belief that the convention was one of the most harmonious on record.

E. P. Wilmot, Austin banker, was nominated for United States senator and W. H. Atwell, former federal district attorney of North Texas, for governor.

Klan Plank

The platform, aside from denouncing the ku klux klan and accusing the democratic party of being dominated by it, reaffirmed the republican party's traditional stand on the tariff question, endorsed the policies and accomplishments of the Harding administration, characterized as "disgraceful to our state," the present prison system, demanded ablolishment of the fee system and repeal of the primary election law. Good roads, flood control, and agricultural and mechanical college for west Texas as efficiency and economy in state government, a square deal for former service men; improved educational advantages and a board for arbitrating disputes between capital and labor, were among the things advocated.

The platform against the ku klux klan sets forth that the republican party "stands committed unreservedly for pure undefiled 100 per cent Americanism as established by the founders of the republic, but we condemn the ku klux klan or any similar organization whose purpose is to Hunter of New York, national indoor champion. He defeated the Japanese stars Zenzo Shimizu and S. Kashio in three brilliant sets. The score of the match, which was played in the round before the semi-finals of the Meadow clubs invitation men's tournament was 7-0, 6-3, 6-0.

Extra Guards Protect Negro

By Associated Press.

VINITA, Okla., Aug. 9.—Additional guards tonight were thrown around the Craig county court house here following rumors of a fresh attempt to storm the jail on the fourth floor and seize Eliass Ridge, negro, held for the murder of Mrs. George Adair, white woman, yesterday in the adjoining county. An attempt last night by a mob of 800 to take the prisoner was frustrated by the sheriff and armed deputies after the court house had been invaded. It was said early tonight that the negro still is in the Vinita jail and that no effort at least for the present would be made to take him elsewhere.

Reserve Board Without Head

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The governorship of the Federal Reserve Bank became vacant tonight, for the first time since the inauguration of the reserve system in August, 1914, with the expiration of the term of W. P. G. Harding of Birmingham, Alabama.

E. P. Platt, vice-governor of the board, will assume the duties of governor pending the confirmation by the senate of a nominee for the post or the designation of one of the present board members as governor by President Harding.

Morgan's Millions Worth Nothing

By Associated Press.

Morgan, who was passing from Austria to Italy at the Brenner Pass, was asked by customs officials to deposit the equivalent of the Italian import duty on his car. The officials explained that the duty would be returned to him on his leaving Italy. The dispatch said that Mr. Morgan was without money. He offered a check on his bank, but this was refused. He was forced to return to Innsbruck to obtain the necessary cash, the newspapers say.

MINERS WAIT ON TARDY BROTHERS

Coal Conference Is Delayed Again

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—W. K. Kavanaugh, president of the coal operators association of the fifth and ninth districts, announced following a two day conference of Illinois operators today that they will not go to Cleveland to confer with John L. Lewis, leader of the striking miners. The meeting of the Illinois operators will be resumed tomorrow.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 9.—For a second time, the joint interstate conference of coal miners and operators delayed action today to permit the hold-out Illinois operators to decide whether they would participate in negotiations that may end the soft coal strike. Adjournment was taken until tomorrow, though virtual decision had been made by union leaders to negotiate a contract with the operators already enrolled in the conference, and who control only part of the coal production of the central competitive field.

Policy Sessions.

As a forerunner to the conference session tomorrow afternoon, the union's policy commmittee will meet in the morning to pass finally on the question of a prospective system which would affect most Ohio mines as also scattered ones in western Pensylvania, Indiana and Illinois, these four states forming the central

"I Want to See a Kleagle," Girl Sobs at Trial of Klansmen

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 9.—The story of the raid at Inglewood last April, when one man was killed, was told by the owners of the raided place in the trial today of ku klux klansmen, who are alleged to have taken part in the affairs. Fidel and Matias Elduayen, brothers, testified they were dragged from their house partly clothed late at night, carried about in an automobile for two hours, threatened, and eventually set free six miles from their home.

The testimony given through an interpreter, was interrupted when a young woman spectator began to sob violently. As a bailiff was leading her from the room she became hysterical and screamed "I want to see a kleagle!"

She said her name was Margaret Sullivan. She was sent to the psychopathic ward of the county hospital for observation.

The young woman who became hysterical had in her possession a letter which the police said might prove her true name is Mary Morrison and that she came from Texas. A hotel room key found in her handbag led the police to believe that she is from Springfield, Mo., and it is the same woman who made a complaint to the police early this morning that she had been attacked last night by two men, who she said, had offered to take her to her hotel.

She will be held in the psychopathic ward until a hearing is held on insanity complaint which has been filed against her.

TROOPS QUELL FLARE-UPS IN JOILET YARDS

"Big 4" Union Men Refuse to Work Under Guard

By Associated Press.

JOILET, Ill., Aug. 9.—First efforts to restore peace here after several days of war, including the killing of two men and wounding another, the arrival of sstate rtoops, the arrest of a half dozen men for carrying concealed weapons near the Elgin, Joilet and Eastern railroad yards strike zone, and the burial of two victims this afternoon, each attended by nearly 2,000 people, were followed late this afternoon by the announcement that a formal conference has been called between officials and leaders of the "Big Four' tomorrow.

Although the strikers and railroad executives withheld information, they admitted that a meeting had been called for tomorrow.

Operation of the yards was practically at a standstill as a result of the walkout of engineers, firemen, conductors, maintenance of way men and other workers last night in protest of the stationing of troops at the yard here.

WORK UNDER GUARD NOT COMPULSORY

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 9.—Railroad brotherhoods chiefs here today practically served notice that their members might decide for themselves whether objectionable working conditions at terminals in connection with the strike of shopmen justify their remaining away from their jobs.

"We are not going to have our men shot up or beaten up or threatened by arm guards at railroad shop yards."

Warren S. Stone, president of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers, said when told that several hundred members of the "Big Four" brotherhoods had gone on strike at Joilet, Illinois, last midnight. "When the men cannot go to work without having irresponsible armed guards endangering their lives, they may go home and stay there until the condition is removed," he said.

"There will be one hundred more similar cases soon if conditions are not changed," he added.

STRIKERS MARKING TIME UNTIL FRIDAY

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Heads of striking railroad unions marked time here today while awaiting the arrival of executives of other transportation labor organizations who have been invited to the general conference Friday to consider the shopmen's reply to President Harding's latest proposed basis for settlement.

Congressional leaders meantime were considering the possibility that President Harding in the event of his failure, might seek a legislative remedy for the country's industrial ailment.

Congress May Act

Republican leaders at the capitol believed that the president had no definite legislative program in mind when he suggested to them the desirability of maintaining full membership attendance when the house reassembled Tuesday. The view today was that congress would be called upon by a presidential message to enact necessary remedial legislation.

President Harding, according to union spokesmen, took cognizance of the developments at Joliet, Ill., where train service employes walked out today because of conditions arising from the shopmen's strike, by calling H. E. Wills, W. N. Doak and Arthur J. Lovell, Washington agent of three of the four brotherhood unions, to discuss the new situation with Secretary of Labor Davis.

Lawton Attorney Tarred and Feathered

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., Aug. 9.—C. R. Reeves, well-known local attorney, is recovering from wounds inflicted by masked men in soldier uniform, who attacked, tarred and feathered him after he had been decoyed from his home on a fake telephone call at 2 o'clock Monday morning. Mr. Reeves received a call that some soldiers were in jail and wanted him to get them out. While passing a street corner in a car a man jumped on the running board and slugged Mr. Reeves, it is said. He was then taken by nine men to the military reservation, where, according to his story, he was beaten, tarred, feathered and sent on his way.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 9.—William S. (Bill) Hart, motion picture star, late today issued a signed statement that he and his wife, Winifred Westover, film actress, had separated about three months ago, that a property settlement had been effected providing for her maintenance and that of their unborn child and that he had no knowledge of any plans of Mrs. Hart for instituting divorce proceedings.

$50,000 SPENT ON ROAD WORK

$320,000 Remains in Treasury

Fifty thousand dollars from the Wichita county special road building fund have been expendid since Aug. 1, according to assertions made yesterday by Tom McHam, county treasurer, who furnished figures indicating that $320,000 still remains in the fund to be used on county roads and highway projects.

The expenditure since the first of the month has gone partially into the work which has been finished on the Burk-Clay county road and on the Burkburnett road between Wichita Falls and Burkburnett.

The county is still due funds from state and federal aid, it is explained, which will boost the fund considerably, possibly leaving a large amount when all of the projects still under way have been completed.

POLITICS—

said a short horse is soon curried. Chairman Davis and his committeemen held a short morning session, they recessed for luncheon until 2 o'clock and after they had fed their mouths and returned to the caucus chamber they arranged a few preliminaries and then adjourned to meet in San Antonio September 5 at which time the state convention will be held and the action of the people at the primary and the run-off will be ratified.

Politics Growing Dull

Politics is getting to be a dull game. And the old timers say that the direct primary has taken all the joy out of living. Frank Davi will be a candidate for re-election. Two years ago in Fort Worth, he was the choice of Governor Neff and the convention ratified Neff's choice. Despite the fact that he has been for a long time a citizen of San Antonio, Davis is a dry and the Saharah desert hasn't anything on him when it comes to arid wastes. He is just a pro through and through, a Wilson democrat, a follower of William Jennings Bryan and he votes the ticket straight, no matter whether there is a skunk or a yellow dog or any other varmint on the ticket labeled 'democrat.'

At the end of the dull day Farmer Jim returned to Temple to resume his campaign. Railrail Commissioner Mayfield conferred with his friends and started out on his speaking tour. Ferguson says his election is a cinch. Mayfield says his election is a cinch. Ferguson said it and smiled; Mayfield said it and smiled.

Along in the shank end of dog-day season some of the voters will say it with smiles, others will say it with grunts and some few will say it with lamentations. There was only one juicy item connected with the day's proceedings. Former State Senator Bascom Thomas who doesn't care what he says about Mayfield, was discussing the senatorial campaign on the sidewalk in front of the main entrance of the Oriental hotel.

"Who is that bird?" querried a police officer. "Bascom Thomas," replied a bystander. "I thought so," said the cop "and I will run him in." And the cop called the hoodlum wagon and the well known lawyer and democratic politican was hustled off to the police station where he quickly made bond and Judge Barry Miller announced as his attorney. This created the only real sensation of the day and Thomas and his friends made the most of it. He declared that he had been insulted by the cop, that he was engaged in a quiet discussion with Rockwall democrats when the cop interrupted him, placed him under arrest, called for the hoodlum wagon and rode him to jail as if he had been a murderous hijacker, an outlaw fleeing from justice, a wild rum runner or an escaped convict for whom a large reward had been offered.

Thomas a Veteran

Thomas has had an interesting career. He was a member of the state senate from Hopkins and adjoining counties when he instituted a reform campaign. His associates including Railroad Commissioner Mayfield declared his seat vacant. Thomas returned to his district, made an appeal to the voters and was re-elected by an overwhelming majority. They let him alone after that. A year later he announced for lieutenant governor against the late A. B. Davidson and the vote was so close that it required three days for the state machine to demonstrate that Thomas had been defeated at the polls by the distinguished lawyer and jurist who for three terms served as lieutenant governor of Texas.

This was a bit of a sensation and it was the only peppery thing that happened unless the fiery remarks of Judge Gaines to the effect that he had been steam rolled, could be considered sensational. Really, the Gaines affair was only an incident and a flat one at that. There was no great gathering of politicians. E. R. Wilcoxson of Collin county, the king bee of the farm labor union, was a looker on.

Cullen F. Thomas was a spectator, the best groomed individual present and with a heavenly smile running from his curly locks to his chin. Major Patricio O'Keefe was present. He did not dance a jig. He merely remarked to a committeeman when Thomas bowed himself in, "There's a great little man. He lit on his feet and will get there yet."

Former State Senator W. Scott Woodward of Erath county was everywhere in evidence Wherever Farmer Jim appears, Scott Woodward is in the immediate vicinity. He broke into politics in 1916 when he was the peanut king of Texas. He made the race for state senator and walloped a dignified banker and prosy talker of Brown county out of the job. He became a follower of Farmer Jim. He voted against the impeachment of Farmer Jim and he has been for Farmer Jim ever since. He is said to have taken two thousand dollars away from two distinguished followers of Culberson after the July primary. He is said to have bet them a thousand each that Culberson would not be in the run-off and that Farmer Jim would be in the run-off. He gum-shoed over the state before the July primary; he has been gum-shoeing over the state since the July primary. He is a youngster yet and his faith in Farmer Jim is something wonderful. He isn't a peanut king now. When the oil boom hit the west he waded in. He has been playing petroleum ever since. He says that he has traced the history of his family as far back as three hundred years and he is the only one that ever dabbled in politics, played politics or had any luck with politics. It seems that the original Woodwards came to America three centuries ago and the family tree has never ceased to sprout new shoots. All the newspaper correspondents present welcomed the Thomas incident saying that it would add a little color to what might have been a colorless tale. Thomas accepted arrest with all the fortitude of an early christian martyr going to the stake. He is a wise citizen and he knows how to make the most of it as well as the best of an arrest of this sort. He is going out now on the road to tell of the suppression of free speech, in a free city, by a cop paid for protecting the people against the rapacity of malefactors and the rum-runners "and sich."

Seymour Man, Back From Germany, Says People Are Hustling Lot

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Aug. 9.—Germany has a busy, prosperous look, although "everybody is broke" as far as real money is concerned; sentiment among the rank and file of the business and better working people is noticeably in favor of a limited monarchy, but a monarchy at any rate, it appears to the visitor; the present government is extremely weak, and it is doubtful if it is sufficiently strong at home to raise the money to meet the reparations demands should it agree to hold to its schedule.

These are the high lights of observations in Germany as given by J. Lee Bussell, Seymour cotton man, who has just returned from a business trip to Germany and other European countries.

Among Mr. Russell's recollections of the trip is that of a fine meal or two on one of the crack German trains, where the check for the pair came to the equivalent of 30 cents in American money; and of being shaved in a first class shop for a mark—a fraction of a cent in this country.

Much of Mr. Russell's time in Germany was spent in Bremen, which he says is buying a lot of American cotton for German mills again, although he says he does not see how they ever get "enough of those mark things" together to ever pay for a bale of cotton.

Other points visited include Cologne and Coblenz where the numbers of French troops are noticeable in the centers where the British and the Americans, respectively, once held sway. Mr. Russell's trip, in addition to carrying him to German's cotton port, of course carried him to Liverpool and Le Havre.

He also visited London and reports an enjoyable experience. He likewise visited Paris, but at this point his recital becomes non-committal.

And another odd thing that we now discover is that "Blondy" Cross, Fort Worth boxing idol, was one time a Sunday school teacher in Wichita Falls. Page Mr. Cross next Sunday, please.

Investigations made by county and city officers from Wichita finally resulted in three charges being filed in Clay county, we learn.

And since Lee Morrissey claimed "Blondy's" scalp, he's after a "Country Boy's" now.

$25 Tax Levied for Meeting In Some Other Girl's Arms Here

Nestled in the arms of a girl to whom he was not married—just "spooning"—cost a young man in corporate court $25 yesterday morning.

The defendant did not tell the court he was so conducting himself; he only pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy. But officers who made the arrest informed the court that he was married, has a wife living elsewhere from whom he is not divorced, and that he had been seen on several occasions recently with the girl that brought about his arrest.

The defendant told Judge John Marrs that he was separated from his wife some time ago, and that she is not living in Wichita Falls. The girl to which the officers referred, he declared, did not know that he was a married man.

"I think that makes matter still worse," Judge Marrs remarked as he wrote the judgment on the docket.

aspiring to the presidency. As govgovernor of New York with Mayor Hylan looking after Tamany it will be easy for William Randolph Hearst to go to the national convention with a solid delegation behind him.

Hearst has an army of employes and they are well paid and loyal; he has many powerful newspapers and magazines; he has a great fortune and if he is ambitious to fight the battles of the people of New York, there is an open road for him to travel.

He has as bitter enemies as any man in the public life of America but like Henry Ford he has a vast following in the ranks of those who are not coupon clippers and who earn their bread by the sweat of their face. Hearst is an unbossed democrat. He is a wild and wooly democrat. He isn't a Wilson democrat. He is a light wine and beer democrat. He has no use for the saloon or for hard liquor. There is only one of his kind. He came alone and unattended. His father was a multi-millionaire and the son has made and spent more millions in a single year than the father made in a life-time. When he invaded New York many years ago all the Manhattan Islanders who were in the publishing game and all the Wall Street shearers of lambs and lambkins predicted that the wild youth from the far west would lose his bank account and go back to California in a freight car in a year at the most.

Only a short session marked the conference today, adjournment being followed with the announcement that the delay was to "permit certain important operating interests" to decide whether they would join in the negotiations. Word had not been received at that time of the refusal of the Illinois operators association to participate unless the union acede to arbitration. Mr. Lewis had informed the Illinois operators that he would not agree to their demand.

which have developed in the senate during the tariff fight disappeared on this vote, but about the only surprise was that a majority of the republicans voted against making hides dutiable.

Not only was there a split among the majority leadership on the question, but also in the finance committee majority and even in the republican-agricultural-tariff-bloc, which through its chairman, Senator Gooding of Idaho, had asked for 2 cents on green hides and 6 cents on dried hides.

Without roll calls the senate then cut from 40 to 30 percent the proposed duty on bags, baskets, belts, satchels, card cases, pocket books, jewel boxes, portfolios and other boxes and cases wholly or in chief value of leather. On such articles permanently fitted and furnished with travelling bottle, drinking, dining or luncheon, sewing, manicure or similar sets, the duty was made 45 percent ad valorem in place of the 60 per cent originally proposed.

RAIN HELPS THROCKMORTON

Special to The Record News.

THROCKMORTON, Texas, Aug. 9—Throckmorton county was partly covered by showers Monday, doing much good to the cotton crop and range. The range had been getting pretty dry, causing many prairie fires. The Hash Knife ranch lost about 2,000 acres of grass about ten days ago by fire. E. S. Cook and neighbors lost about 1,000 acres last Friday.

FIREMEN WILL HELP STRIKERS

4 Days Pay to Be Contributed

Members of the local chapter of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen voted in meeting last night that each regular fireman would donate four days pay each month to be used as relief for striking craftmen. Extra men will give two days pay toward the cause.

This announcement was made last night by J. S. Scarborough, secretary of Wichita Lodge No. 652.

FIRE DAMAGES CAR

A Marmon car, owned by John Wall was damaged to the extent of $500 by fire last night while it was parked at Monroe and Avenue H. The fire originated presumably from a short circuit.

An alarm was turned in and the department responded.

Bar Association Convention Starts

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 9.—A need for the better understanding of the law as the peoples' guardian and defender was the keynote of addresses at the opening of the annual American Bar ossaciotion convention here today.

From President Harding came a message emphasizing the part to be played by the legal fraternity in solving the problems of the day; from Cordenio A. Severance of St. Paul, president of the association, a discussion of the increasingly close touch of the law with human institutions, and from Fred Dumolt Smith of Kansas an explanation of the attempt of the Kansas industrial court to settle controversies between labor and capital.

Two Producers Are Added to Amerada

Special to The Record News.

ARDMORE, Aug. 9.—Two good producers were added to Amerada pool list following the bringing in of the Amerada Pertoleum company's No. 2, Sallie Marris, southeast of southeast quarter of 20-55-1e, wells are on the south edge of the field. The Marris No. 2 topped a second sand at 1,308 feet and with the drill still in it at 1,357 feet, flowed 140 barrels during the first twenty-four hour guage. A first sand was drilled through in this well at 1,254, 70 feet which swabbed a good quality of oil before the well was deepened. Sammy Baptists No. 7 swabbed seventy barrels from sand found at 1,436-48 feet with the drill still in it. It will be drilled deeper.

A recent study of the Hewitt pool reveals that there are 2,625 acres in the producing area, containing 643 wells, and showing 4.1 acre to the well. Average daily production for the field during the month of June registered 28,134 barrels, with the average daily production an acre during June at 10.7 barrels. These figures were compiled by operators who are discussing the question of well spacing, a topic which is creating considerable interest in local oil circles, with the chief argument based on the advisability of drilling one well to each ten acres.

Location for a new wildcat in Marshall county has been taken by the Boston Oil company, (T. J. Spikes) on the Chowing farm, southwest of the southwest quarter of 25-5s-4s, six miles west of Madill. The rig is now building. Cable tools will be used and drilling will be carried to 3,000 feet if necessary.

An analysis of the crude now being produced in small quantity in the 1s-2w country of Carter county reveals some interesting data. The report states that the oil is of an exceptionally good quality for making lubricating oils this being particularly the case on account of the fact that it is practically free from wax and lubricans may be made from it without the use of a wax plant or refrigerator. In a practical plant, the operators might expect to obtain at least 60 per cent of good lubricating oils. With an abundance of steam and without cracking, this yield can be increased.

ACTIVITY IN SALE OF DUNCAN LEASES

Special to the Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Aug. 9.—Considerable activity in the sale and transfer of oil and gas leases in the Duncan field has been shown in the past few days. There were 26 sales or transfers of leases Aug. 4 and 5, and continue at the same rate daily. The gas well brought in by Stella Shpptaw i nsection 4, 1 south, 7 west, virtually an extension of the west field, has caused a great deal of activity. This is true of the field east of Comanche, where dvelopment is steady. Thirty-four car loads of oil field machinery and supplies were unloaded by the Rock Island railway her one day last wek, these supplies going to the west and east Duncan fields and some to the Robberson field and the new territory in Grady county, opened by the Nichlos gas well. Despite the cut in the peice of crude oil activity generally continues in the Duncan field.

SHAMROCK WELL IS COMPLETED

185 Barrels Made in First Run

The Shamrock Oil corporation's No. 7 Waggoner, Gibson survey, has been completed in the 1,500-foot sand and made 185 barrels on the initial 24-hour run.

South and east of this lease the Cline Oil company's No. 2 Waggoner is rigging up a standard rig to drill into the 1,900-foot sand. Casing was set and cemented on the sand at 1,902 feet.

RAY COLCORD NEAR HERRON CITY IN

The Ray Colcord No. 1 Kissinger, a mile north of Herron City, and north of the Herron pool, is reported good for 400 barrels, in the sand at 2,350 feet.

The No. 1 Riddle of the Tyrell Oil corpordtion on the 2,400-foot sand, south and east of the present producers in the Hrron pool, is reported showing for a nice producer, between 300 and 500 barrels.

AMARILLO, Texas, Aug. 9.—An oil pipe line with a capital stock of $250,000 is to be organized here right away, it is said, to run oil from the Amarillo-Panhandle fields to the Reece S. Allen refineries in this city.

Mr. Allen, head of the refinery, is said to be arranging details now and will be in this city in a few days to complete organization and have work started on the pipe line. It is understood that 500 barrels per day has been guaranteed to the pipe line company.

BURK MAY DRILL IN RIVER WILDCAT

Special to the Record News.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 9.—Drilling on a test well in the northeast of the northwest of 6-6n-5e, will be started Wednesday, according to H. E. Ozman, Oklahoma City operator, who is putting the well down with O. C. Ewing of Burkburnett. Formations found in the Beebe field, northwest of Ada, are expected to be encountered deeper at this location, since it is 5 miles due north of that field.

This test is known as the "river-bed wildcat," since it is on a block of 2,000 acres in a horseshoe bend of the South Canadian river. Geological reports on the structure are good. It is expected to go to 2,700 feet if necessary, but higher producing sands are expected. The location is two and a half miles southwest of Konawa, in Seminole county, near the Pottawatomie county line.

Ozmun, who is a "native son" of Oklahoma City, may be remembered as one of the men who helped to drill what was known as the "Northwest Lake" test well several years ago, near Oklahoma City.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord

Discounting the "Discount" in Advance

You don't have to be a shrewd bargainer to get the bottom price on the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord.

Instead of listing it at a high price, to enable the dealer to attract you with a so-called "long discount," we list it as low as we profitably can.

You can see from the figures below that its advertised price is lower than the net price you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown value.

We believe the average man would rather buy tires on this frank and open basis, and assure himself a product of recognized worth.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord is made of high-grade long-staple cotton, and it embodies the patented Goodyear method of group-ply construction.

In design, materials and manufacture it is a representative Goodyear product, built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation.

It has a different tread from the famous All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and it sells for substantially less.

LOOK AT KANSAS

PRESIDENT HARDING has failed to settle the rail strike. Rail executives turned him down. Rail strikers accepted his proposal. President Harding has failed to settle the coal strike. His proposal was neither acceptable to the operators or the miners. This reminds the writer that Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas is happy. He is the author of the industrial court law of his state which provides for compulsory arbitration. William Allen White, the famous writer of Kansas, does not believe in the industrial court law. Governor Allen backed W. Y. Morgan as his successor. William Allen White backed W. R. Stubbs for the republican gubernatorial nomination. Morgan stood for the Allen idea of retention of the industrial court law. Stubbs stood for the William Allen White or the repeal of the industrial court law. Morgan won the nomination by a safe but not a large majority. Morgan is an editor and the publisher of a weekly newspaper.

Governor Allen and William Allen White have been "pals" for many years. They became nationally known in the long ago. They began life as printers and reporters in country towns. They have been leaders of the Kansas procession ever since. White says the industrial court is the assassin of free speech, freedom of action and a free press, all guaranteed to the American people by the constitution of the United States. Governor Allen says the law is as fair to labor as it is to capital and of the 69 decisions made by the court 67 have been accepted by both sides to the controversies. And this is what is the matter with Kansas.

President Harding has been unable to settle the rail strike. He has been unable to settle the coal strike. Why not send a message to congress reminding that slow-going body that away out on the western plains the lawmakers have found a way to avoid strikes and lockouts, to hobble radicals and to compel avaricious employers to pay a living wage to those who serve them. Just now the American people demand peace. They demand a return of the prosperity pledged them. They demand that antiquated industrial machinery shall be relegated to the barbarous past. There is a coal famine coming. Its ugly face is in sight. Herbert C. Hoover, acting for the government, may be able to ration the supply of fuel and to fix the price but Hoover isn't a coal digger and production is going to be the thing.

YOUNG MEN, READ THIS!

R. H. THOMPSON, chief engineer of the Wichita Valley irrigation project, told Governor Neff and scores of engineers from all over the state who gathered in Austin Monday, about the great project here.

Mr. Thompson was praised by Dean Taylor of the University of Texas, engineering department, for what he is going and also for what he has done. Dean Taylor mentioned that Mr. Thompson worked his way through the University of Texas to get his engineering education and has been chosen for some of the most important work in the country.

The case of Mr. Thompson is only another which proves that young men who have ambition and are determined to make a mark in the world can do so. It has been said many times that the man who works his way through college is, in most cases, the most efficient in his line because he wanted to do what he did, which proved his interest in his work.

Mr. Thompson is one of the big men in engineering. It should be a great source of pride to him when he looks back over his career of work well done and many things accomplished to think that he did it all himself, because he worked for his education.

HAVE THEY CHANGED?

WHO would ever have thought that Germany is ready for prohibition? The startling announcement from Biefield that a vote taken in the police district as in favor of prohibition as exists in the United States showed that 12,626 voted for the prohibition and only 416 against, means just one of two things: Either the German people have changed completely or else they think that prohibition in the United States is a joke.

A REAL OIL PROBE

NOW there is to be a senate investigation of the oil industry and it will include crude oil, gasoline and other oil products. This investigation is to be widespread, not only as to development or whether monopoly exists in oil operations, but whether price agreements are in effect among oil operators of the west and southwest as well as whether a price agreement exists between producing companies and sales organizations.

There may be wise men on the roster of the senate but there are wise men among the higher-ups of the oil industry. They work within the law. They know the game. They never leave their tracks uncovered.

They employ brainy legal representatives. They have no secrets. Their books never betray them. When titans are investigated by tom-tits, the tom-tits chatter and that is all. There are no tom-tits in the senate. Hence there will be no chattering done while the investigation is on. There is no price fixing in America. All the big operators say so. There is no understanding between the producing companies and the selling organizations. All the minor officials say so. Now why an investigation? Isn't the word of one man as good as another? If not, why not?

This reminds the writer that Congressman Phillip P. Campbell of Kansas has been relegated by his constituents. A Kansas barrister who is an oil operator as well, took his seat away from Campbell on primary election day. Campbell had held it 20 years. He is the chairman of the committee on rules. He thought he was fixed for life. Now a greezy individual, Sproule by name, who must be some goer, will be the successor of Campbell in the lower house of the American congress. Sproule is an independent operator. He speaks for the independents. He is for a tariff on Mexican crude. He would place a heavy tariff tax on all oil importations. All the people who have the money to buy it, use petroleum products. All the people who have money to buy autos or credit, which is a substitute for money, step on gas. This was the reason given last spring by President Harding for keeping Mexican crude on the free list. Now Sproule is going to Washington next winter to ask for another reason for keeping Mexican crude on the free list. He will speak as a congressman and not as an independent oil producer or the legal adviser of independents. Life is a great old game if you know how to play it.

WHAT'S THE ANSWER?

CONGRESSMAN PHILLIP P. CAMPBELL of Kansas, a republican who has held a seat in the lower house for twenty-two years, went down in defeat on primary election day. He was chairman of the house committee on rules, he was one of the old guard, he basked in the sunshine of administration favor, his fences were in first-class condition, his machine was well oiled and easy running and yet after the primary ballots had been counted, Campbell had been defeated by an unknown by a majority of 2,000. There must have been a farm-labor drive in at least one Kansas district.

Many of the old guard have been relegated to lame duck alley this year. There is a new political civilization in the making and the old guarders would do well to come out of their trance. Wealth makers of the country and wage earners of the cities and towns are combining their forces. Two years ago the prophets said that gross materialism was in the saddle and that Wilson idealism had passed away. Mighty men of mammon accepted the verdict and rubbed their hands gleefully. Now there has been a swing in another direction and the man with the hoe and the man with the dinner bucket are trotting down the political pike. What is the answer? President Harding has the floor.

THEY ELECTED A DEAD MAN

TENNESSEE democrats elected a dead man to a seat in congress and some of the newspapers of the country are making a great noise about it. Why, the people of every state in the union elect dead men to congress, dead from the chin up. They have been electing them for decades and will continue to elect dead men to congress. Texas is like the balance of the country. Texas has some few congressmen who are dead from the chin up. It is useless to name them. Their friends wouldn't like it, although they know it.

Rippling Rhymes

BE PATIENT

Last evening, as I drove my car along the thoroughfare, a tire blew out with frightful jar, at which I tore my hair. To me it is a punishment to change a rubber tire, for I'm a wide and portly gent, I fluently perspire. And so when I had stopped the bus, and it had ceased to choo, I roundly started in to cuss as Flanders troopers do. "Be patient, said my stately aunt, who on the back seat sat; "it makes me tired to hear you rant and see you smash your hat. Just wait till some one comes along and sees your damaged cart, some youngster who is hale and strong, with kindness in his heart. He'll note that you are too obese to ply an iron tool, that when you toil the melted grease forms round you in a pool. And he'll observe your martyr looks as you survey the wreck, and he will say to you, 'Gadzooks! I'll change your tire, by heck!' For human kindness is a star that glows with changeless fire, and when men see how fat you are, they'll gladly change your tire." My aunt, she wears Elijah's robe, her visions all come true; and soon arrived a youth named Job, who made things good as new. And when I paid him half a buck, and gave him blessings nine, I said, while cranking up my truck, "This patience graft is fine!"

LESSON NO. 39
Review
Receiving Circuits

By the use of conventional symbols, representing various pieces of radio equipment, drawings may be developed in which the pieces of apparatus are assembled and joined by connecting lines, representing wires, with the result that the proper relation of each piece to the other is clearly shoown. For example, by means of connecting a few of these symbols, simple receiving circuits, both inductively and coonductively related, containing a crystal or vacuum tube detector may be easily portrayed.

Reactance and Impedance

When an alternating current flows in a coil of wire, it encounters an opposing force due to self-induction. This retarding factor due to inductance is known as inductance reactance and when combined with the ohmic resistance of the circuit the resultant effect is known as impedance. A condenser placed in the circuit develops a counter electromotive force and this opposition to the flow of current is termed capacity reactance. Impedance in a circuit, therefore, is the resultant effect of combining either inductance reactance or capacity reactance or both with the ohmic resistance of the circuit. Inductance reactance and capacity reactance have opposite effects and if their values are so adjusted as to neutralize each other, the condition existing is known as electrical resonance which is a very important feature in radio transmitting and receiving circuits.

The Single Slide Tuner

A single coil of wire with an adjustable contact used in conjunction with a naerial, detector and receiving telephones is one of the simplest radio receiving circuits. By regulating the contact to include a greater or smaller number of turns, the set maay be "tuned" to electromagnetic waves of various lengths. The ease with which this form of apparatus may be constructed and its simplicity of operation explains, in a measure, its widespread use.

The Detector

The detector in the circuit of a radio receiver performs the important function of converting the energy of the radio frequent oscillations, intercepted by the antenna, into unidirectional pulsating currents which may be rendered audible by the receiving telephones.

Certain types of minerals, such as gadena, carborundum, silicon, and others, possess the valuable property of rectification. These crystal detectors are more or less difficult to maintain in sensative adjustment. The vacuum tube possesses valuable properties not only in the detection, but also in the generation and amplification of radio currents.

Tuning

Tuning is the process of obtaining electrical resonance. An electromagnetic wave, radiated from a transmitter aerial, will induce radio-frequent oscillations of maximum amplitude in a receiving circuit provided that the receiving aerial is electrically tuned to the frequency of the radiated wave. Tuning to a radiated wave is accomplished by adjusting the variable elements of inductance and capacity in the inductively, conductively, or capacitively coupled circuits of the radio receiver.

In order to receive signals of maximum intensity, the open and closed circuits must be accurately tuned to each other and to the frequency of the radiated wave.

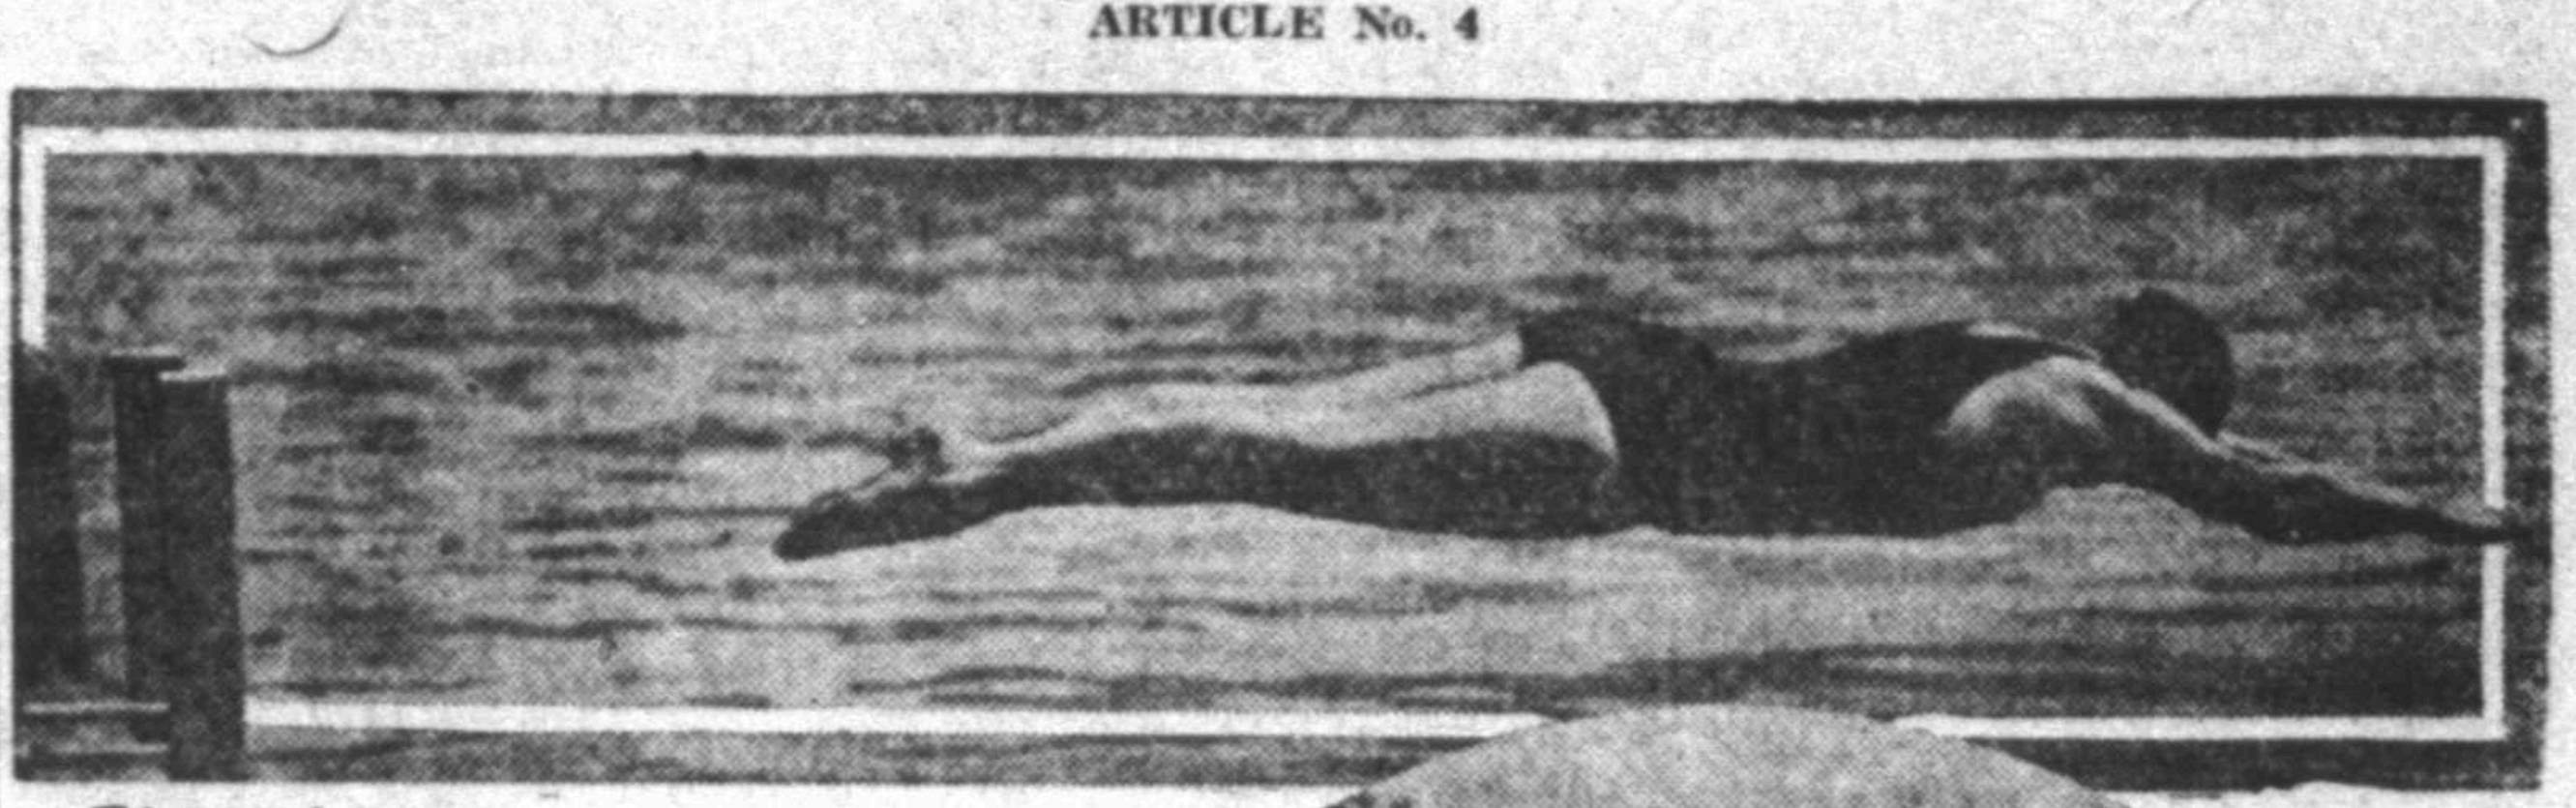
Avoid Fats and Liquids on Day of Race—Ten Hours' Sleep, Light Breakfast, Dinner at Noon and Mental Diversion Constitute Schedule Before Competition

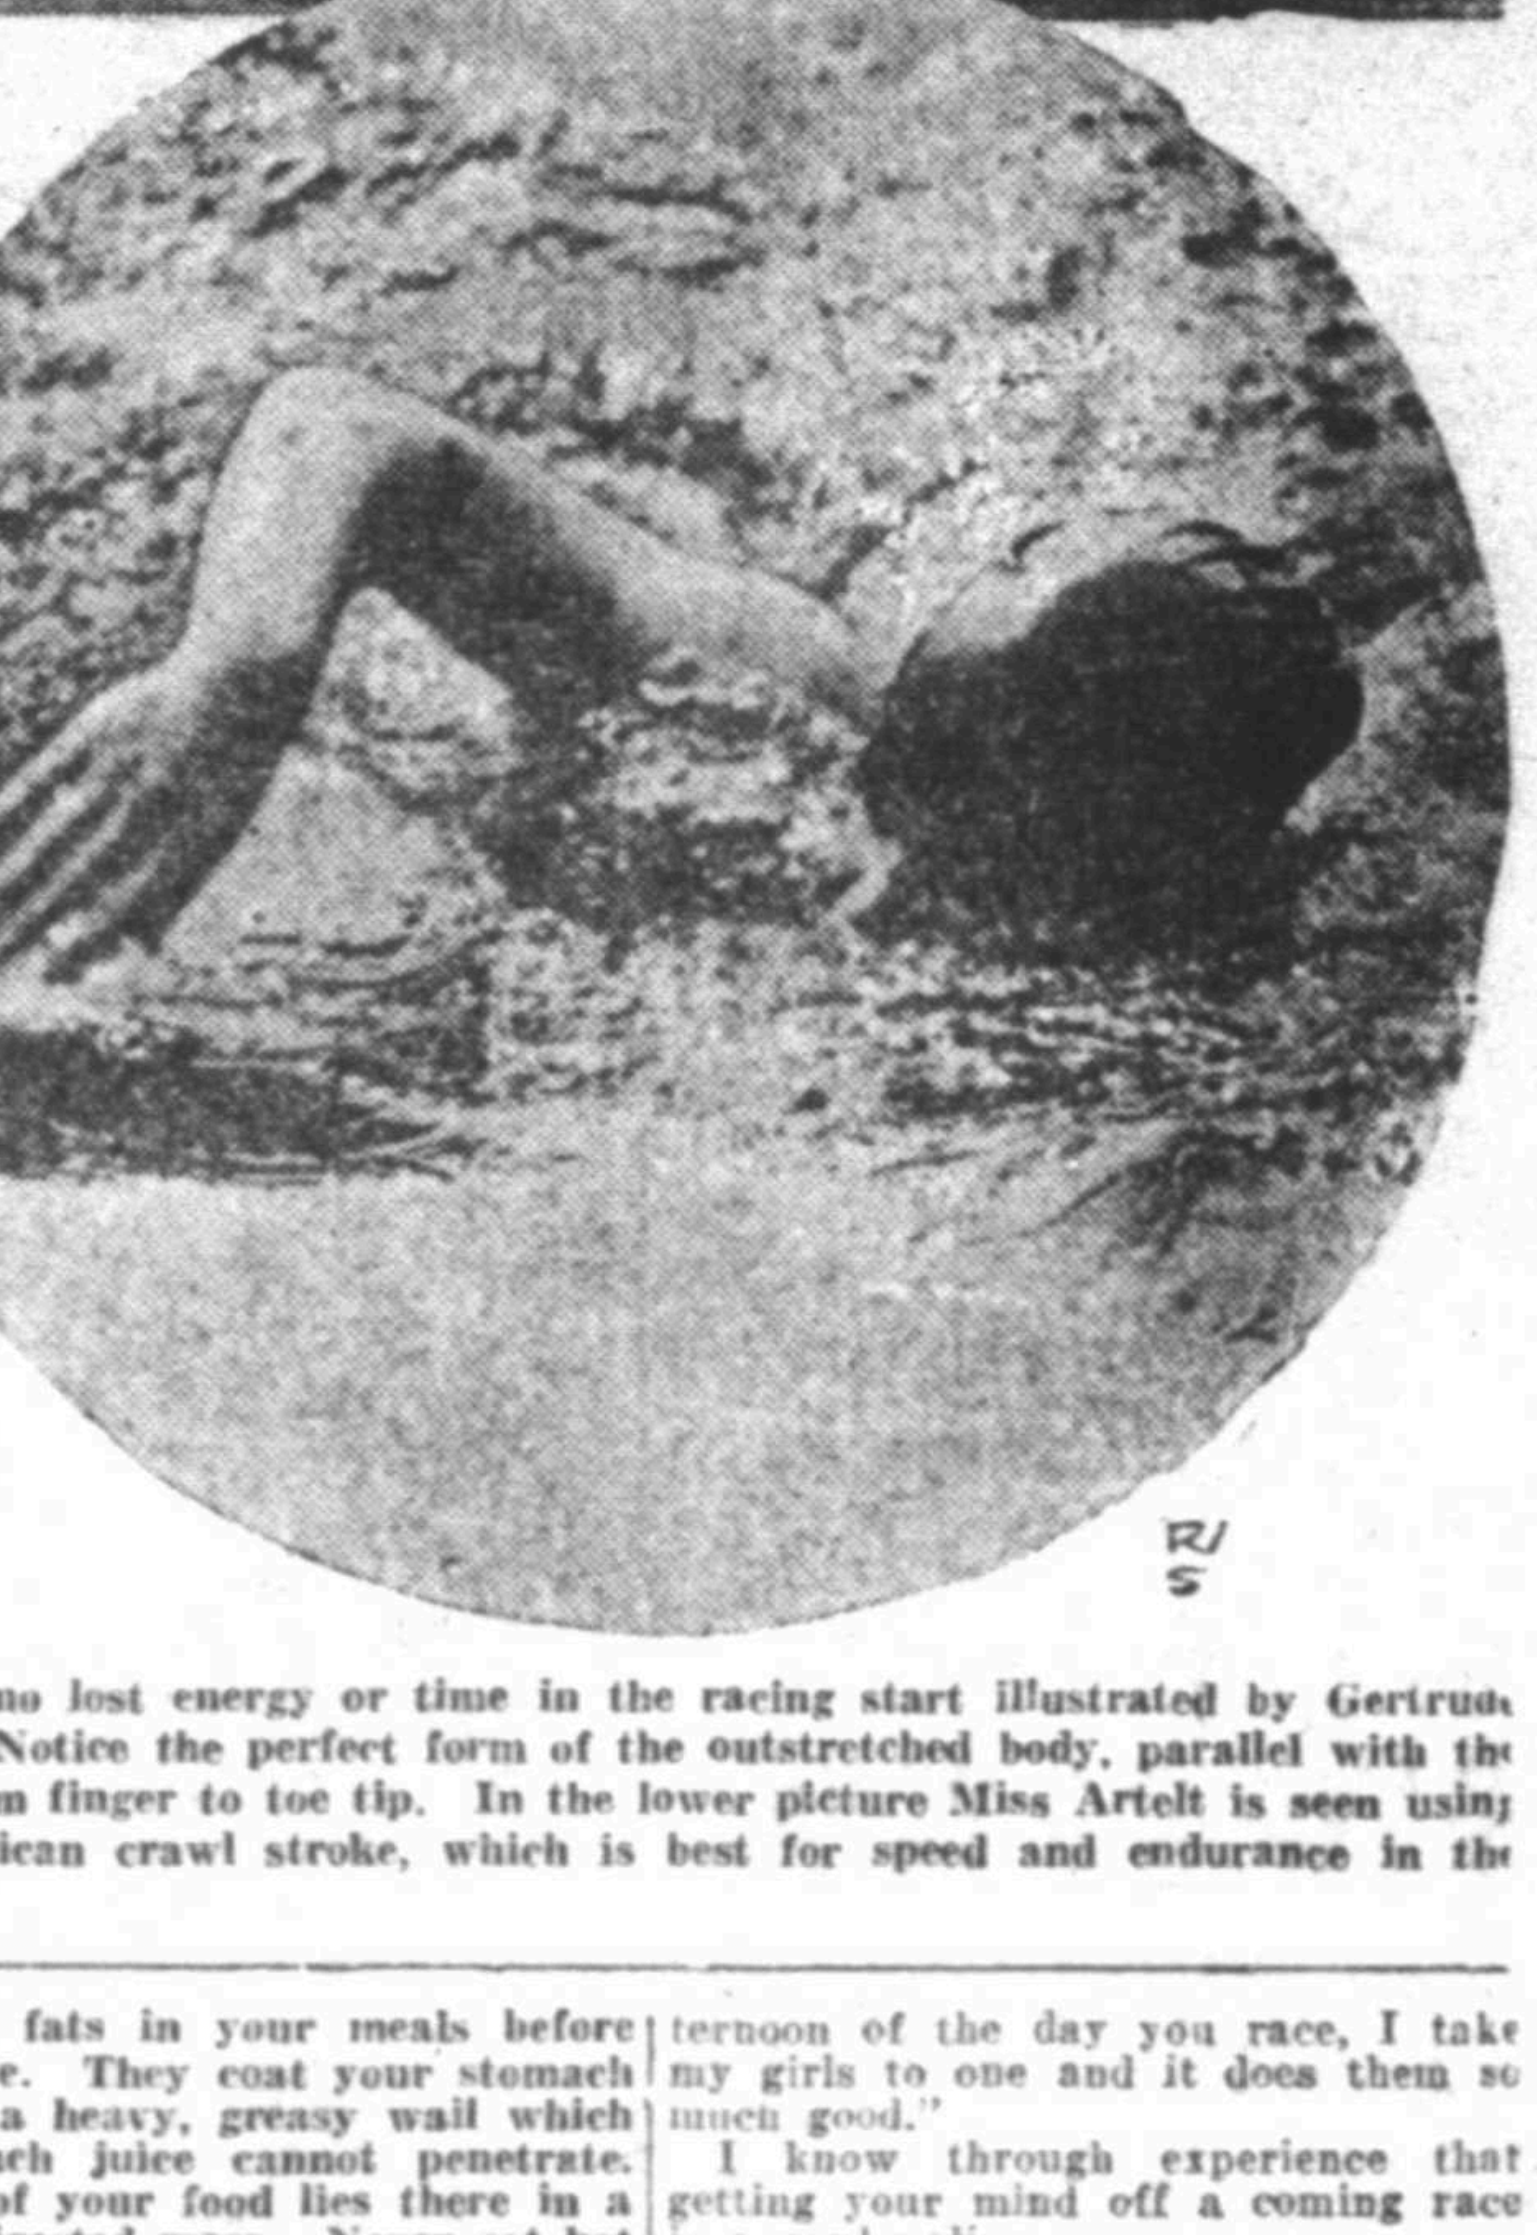
BY GERTRUDE ARTELT, NATIONAL CHAMPION AND RECORD HOLDER

THE BEST START AND STROKE IN SWIMMING

ARTICLE No. 4



RACING START ....



There is no lost energy or time in the racing start illustrated by Gertrude Artelt. Notice the perfect form of the outstretched body, parallel with the water from finger to toe tip. In the lower picture Miss Artelt is seen using the American crawl stroke, which is best for speed and endurance in the water.

YOU race today? What should you do? It's all very simple. Don't think you have to lock yourself in a room and sleep from morning until the time of your race in order to conserve strength.

Last night you should have been in bed at 10 o'clock and slept until 8 this morning.

You might say you tried to go to sleep, but tossed and tossed for hours. That shows the nervousness of a beginner.

Remember this, though, while you were in bed you were resting. The longer you are in the game the less you will worry about what is going to happen in the race.

If you have practiced faithfully and conscientiously you have done your part. Let the best swimmer win. If you can say that and mean it your sportsmanship will help you in avoiding a lot of your nervousness.

Get up at the usual time. Wash in cold water and have a good breakfast. Fruit, soft-boiled eggs, toast; just eat the regular meal.

AVOID an excess of liquids. I never drink coffee and seldom drink tea, whether I'm training or not, but I do consume just gobs of water and that is what I try to avoid the day of my race.

FOLLOW USUAL ROUTINE.

AFTER you have your breakfast, follow your regular morning routine. Have your dinner at 12 or 1 o'clock. The menu should consist of meat, a medium or well done steak, baked or boiled potato and a light vegetable if you want one.

I always have a dessert because no meal seems complete without one and on competition day I satisfy myself with a plain pudding.

When I race in the evening I try to have my dinner at noon and give my stomach a rest until 6 o'clock and then I eat a light supper.

When I first started racing, I always used to have my dinner at noon and rest all day. At 6 p. m. I would drink a milk punch. Of all the fool things that one is the worst. Milk and egg curdle in the stomach. I did this twice before I learned my lesson.

Never eat a heavy meal within an hour of racing. Just recently I went to Atlantic City to swim. I didn't reach there until late and couldn't eat until 2:30. I raced at 3:15. Consequently, the strain made me sick and I deserved to be sick. But it is only through experience that we learn.

AVOID fats in your meals before a race. They coat your stomach with a heavy, greasy wall which the stomach juice cannot penetrate. The rest of your food lies there in a hard, undigested mass. Never eat hot bread rolls or anything doughy the day you race.

DIVERT MIND.

IN THE afternoon of competition day, always go to the theatre or some place where your mind can be diverted from the race. I usually go to the movies. Only recently I swam the 50-yard national in Baltimore. I didn't reach my hotel until about 5:30 in the afternoon and there I met some of the New York girls.

The chaperon, who has been a swimming manager for years, told me they had just returned from the movies.

"We have just been to the movies," she told me. "Ever since I read an interview of yours in which you said you always go to the movies the afternoon of the day you race, I take my girls to one and it does them so much good."

I have found through experience that getting your mind off a coming race is a good policy.

Not very long ago I congratulated a lady on the success of her daughter in winning a plunging contest. The girl is young and has fine possibilities and after I told the mother I thought her daughter did splendidly, she said:

"She would have done better, but we were visiting this afternoon and she didn't get any rest."

THAT is the wrong idea. The visiting did her more good than sleep would have. It took her mind off the competition.

In her next article Miss Artelt will tell of many thrilling races during her athletic career.

The Once Over

THE war for the world is over, but the war for the expenses is still raging. Hardly a day passes on the battlefront that the allied bill collectors are not thrown back for serious losses.

o o o

Smashing attacks on the I O U sectors are being reported by all combatants. Reserves, strongly equipped with thousands of reasons why they shouldn't pay another dime, are being rushed up from all quarters. An armistice may be asked in order to give time for all hands to compare notes and submit new figures.

o o o

On the London-Washington front there has been heavy shelling by the British. The Balfour Bomb Squad made a perfect hit with a long-distance note proposing that America cancel the British war debt. America replied with a volley of horse-laughs and an offer guaranteeing Arthur Balfour and Lloyd George 40 weeks in American vaudeville.

o o o

On the German front all is quiet, save for the noise made by German marks and German diplomats struggling to reach new low levels.

o o o

Debts don't worry Germany. Germany lost the war, but the allies lost the peace.

o o o

As Shakespeare said, "All the world's a collection agency and all the people merely stallers." The war has been over four years now without the various players agreeing on a settlement. It may be necessary to fight a new war to decide how to split the expenses.

o o o

All of which serves the nations right. They should have demanded an entrance fee from each contestant at the start, charged substantial monthly dues and pooled the gross income to settle accounts when the tournament closed. The idea of fighting a war for four years without knowing who was to pay for it!

o o o

During the war when America was lending Europe millions and sending her best young men overseas Uncle Sam was praised a sthe champion of liberty and savior of the world. Today he's being called a tight-fisted Shylock. Balfour issues a statement to the world and way stations declaring the only thing to do about allied debts is to forget them, and saying America is the only country that isn't willing to forget.

o o o

Intimating that the war was fought to make the world unsafe for For-get-me-nots and safe for bill dodgers.

o o o

And forgetting that, though England got quite a bit of additional territory for the British son to sit on, all Uncle Sam got was near-beer, poison gin, the income tax, trench feet, Dardanella and the Memoirs of Joseph Tumulty.

o o o

One thing is certain: America will never go into another war and not take the congress and the reformers along. She left 'em home last time, and look at the country today!

o o o

No answer has been made to Balfour's offer to give us a wet sponge if we'll wipe the slate. When it comes it probably will be, "In reply to yours of the 1d inst., please remit."

o o o

After all, England needs all the money she can get to pay the traveling expenses of the Prince of Wales.

o o o

Just what attitude America will take on the German indemnity remains to be seen. Our opinion is that the only way to make Germany pay an indemnity is to send Sergeant York over in the capacity of collector.

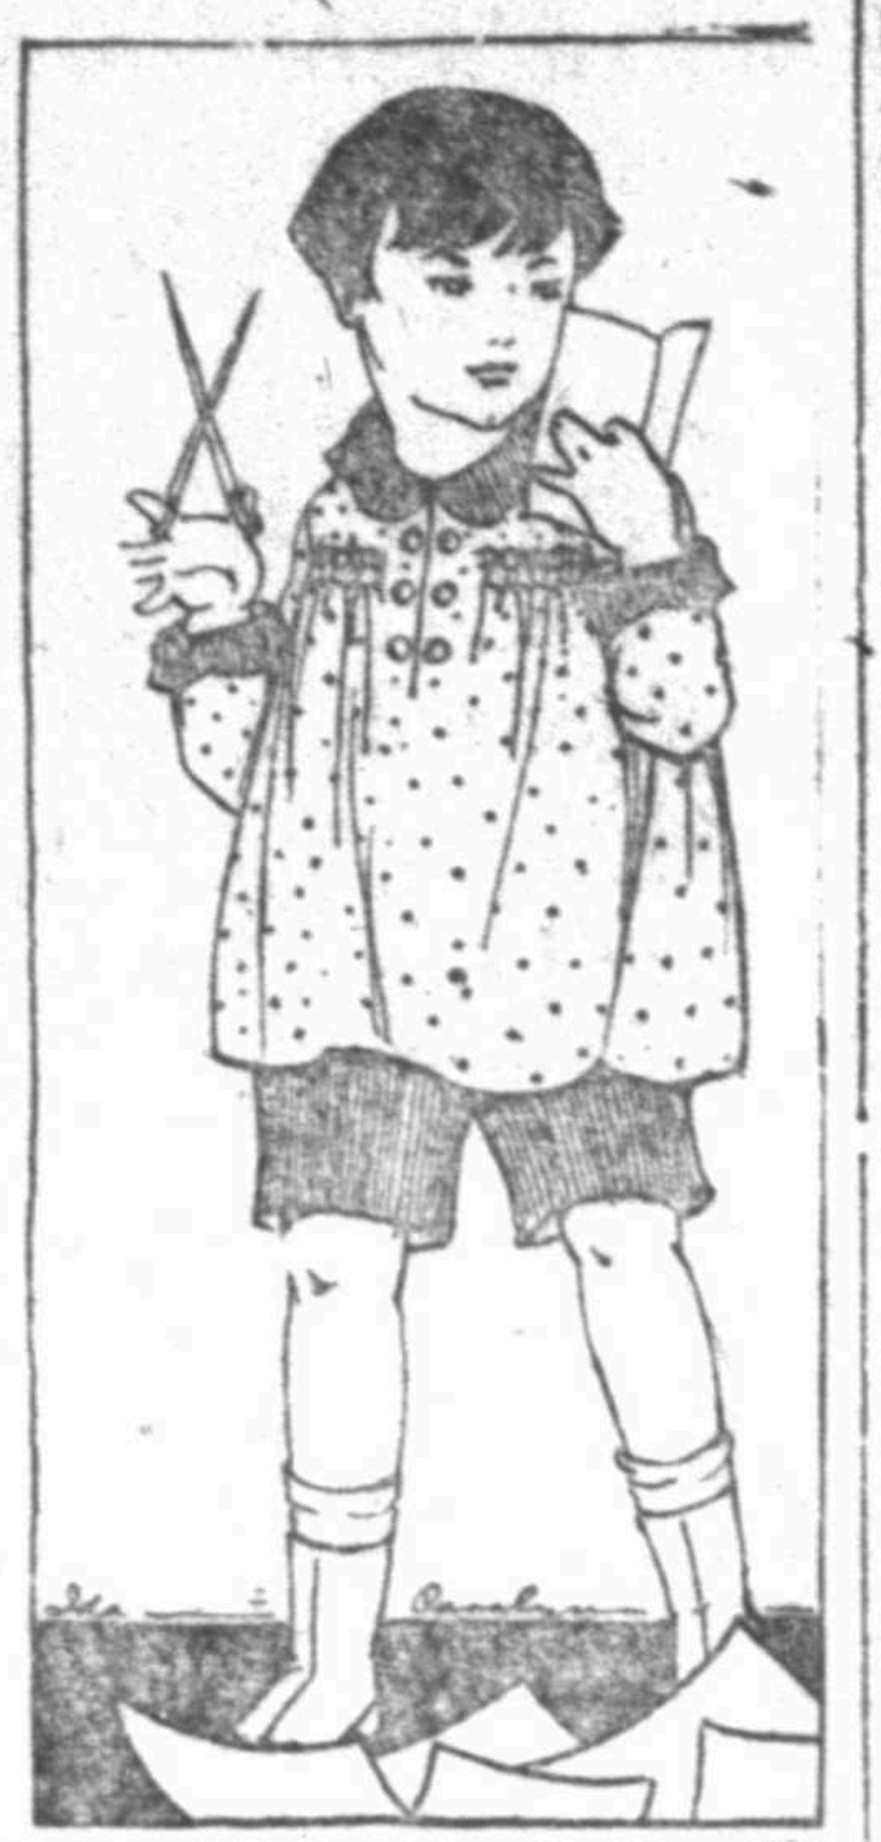
FASHIONS



Plain and Dotted Linen Fashions This Smock Suit

Plain yellow and yellow and white dotted linen are combined in the suit, for a boy of two to four years, shown in the sketch. The smock was shown unbelted, as in the illustration, and also with a plain yellow belt. For the very small boy the straight hanging smock is undoubtedly smarter, but the older youngster might prefer the smock belted. This fabric combination was very effective. Naturally the color selection is one of individual preference.

Wool jersey cloth is one of the most favored fabrics in the development of cold weather suits for boys of four to six years, this material also being used to some extent for boys of two or three. One particularly smart little suit recently seen featured straight knee trousers and a little blouse that had very scant gathers at the waist, shoulders and neck fitting the figure smoothly. The suit was of navy, with bright red vest let in the front of the blouse which fastened at the side of the vest, and the vest in turn was strapped with three rows of navy braid. The collar was a rounded turn-down one of red jersey, and novelty buttons trimmed the little suit.

Another little wool jersey suit of the middy type featured straight knee trousers and middy of navy wool jersey, with rounded vest of gray self fabric, a red four-in-hand or Windsor tie finishing the wide, turned-back collar.

Suspender rompers are quite indispensable garments for the very small boy, and the most practical ones are of dark sateen. The newest of these rompers have pockets that are real pictures. All sorts of kindergarten motifs appear, one cunning little suit showing pockets in the shape of bright colored Japanese lanterns. White sateen was used for the pockets, bright embridary covering them.

INSANE CRIMINALS TREATED IN PARIS

(By International News Service)

PARIS, August 6.—A dispensary and hospital for the criminally insane who might otherwise serve jail sentences or be committed to insane asylums has been established in Paris.

This instittuion, established under municipal control in the Sainte Anne Ayslum is to be known as the "Service of Mental Prophylaxis." Its foundation is directly due to agitation for preventive measures against the ever-increasing crime wave, of which, for France, Paris is the center.

"The mental hygiene dispensary is being planned along the same lines as tuberculosis dispensaries," one of the specialists in neurosis in charge of the institution told a visitor "we give nature a chance to do most of the healing. When we believe a patient has improved sufficiently we get him a job. We continue surveillance, however, and at the least sign of a relapse into a mental condition dangerous to society we bring him back here."

The new dispensary offers treatment for backward children, organic psychopathy, epilepsy, state of delirium, anti-social degeneracy and delinquency.

BULLY IS PERSISTENT

Persist, persist, and still persist
And then persist some more;
And when it seems no use at all
Persist just as before.

That seems to be the motto that Bully the English Sparrow believes in and tried to live up to. It is a good motto. Yes, indeed, it is a very good motto, when it is rightly used. You know that persist means to keep always trying and trying over and over again. So it is always perfectly splendid to persist in things that you are right. But always be sure that you are right before you persist, because if you don't you may fare no better than did Bully.

When Farmer Brown's boy pulled Bully's nest out of the hole in the apple tree in the Old Orchard and tore it to pieces and carried away the six eggs that were in it he thought that Bully and his wife would surely leave the Old Orchard. That is why he did what seemed like such a dreadful thing. He wanted them to leave the Old Orchard, because he knew if they didn't the other birds would, and thta would be truly dreadful. He knew that other little feathered people simply couldn't live with such noisy, quarrelsome neighbors as Bully and his wife, and wouldn't live there. He knew that unless something was done the Bullys wouold have the Old Orchard to themselves the next spring, and then how the worms and the insects would thrive on the trees! But he couldn't quite make up his mind to kill or really hurt Bully and Mrs. Bully, sso he thought that if he took their eggs and destroyed their nest there couldn't be any baby sparrows to grow up and make more trouble, and then perhaps Bully and his wife would go away from the Old Orchard.

But Farmer Brown's boy didn't know Bully. No, indeed! He didn't know how persistent Bully can be. The next day he visited the Old Orchard to see if Bully had left. What do you think he found? Why he found that Bully and his wife had a new nest half built in the very same hole that the old one had been in!

He tore this to pieces only to find another on the next day. And so it was on the following day and the day after that Farmer Browns boy just had to admire the spunk and persistence of Bully and Mrs. Bully.

"You certainly deserve to be left alone," said he, "but I can't do it. You are a nuisance, and so you have got to go if I have to come here and break up your nest every day all summer."

A day or two after that Farmer Brown's boy found no nest when he put his hand in the hollow of the tree. "At last they've given up" though he. "I hope they have left the Old Orchard for good." He was almost out of the Old Orchard on the other side when his sharp eyes caught sight of a little bird just disappearing in a hole in the very last tree. He walked up and whom do you think. Why, Mrs. Bully to be sure! She and Bully were building a nest there. It took Farmer Brown's boy three days to make Bully and his wife understand that they couldn't build there or anywhere else in the Old Orchard. Finally they gave up and flew away. And where do you think they went? Why, straight to Farmer Brown's barn, and there way up under the eaves, where only the longest ladder could reach them, they built a nest and raised their young. Farmer Brown's boy said that such boldness and impudence deserved a reward and so as long as they were out of the Old Orchard and not bothering other birds he would leave them alone.

And in the Old Orchard there was great rejoicing, for now no one wanted to move away, and for the first time every one there looked on Farmer Brown's boy as their friend.

Mother-To-Be, Read This—

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers. From this moment on, cast from your mind all dread and fear, and feel every day as the months roll by that great freedom from much of the suffering which thousands of expectant mothers undergo, unnecessarily. And when the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally to the abdomen, back and hips. It aids the muscles and tissues to expand easily. It penetrates quickly. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. There is no substitute. Avoid useless greases sometimes recommended by the unknowing. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists.

NOTE—Write for valuable free illustrated book, "Motherhood and the Baby," containing important authoritative information which every expectant mother should have, and all about "Mother's Friend," to Bradfield Regulator Company, BA-46, Atlanta, Ga.

Intimate Bits

THE DAY NURSERY

IN STORES and cafes, near the cashier, are small banks for the Day Nursery fund. People drop in their pennies for the kiddies and forget it.

In Wichita Falls much credit is due the citizens who founded the nursery. Soon there will be a nursery home, with a yard, trees, flowers and a sand pile.

About 30 children are daily bathed put in rompers, given a glass of milk between meals, amused and given an afternoon nap.

No danger of the street, or worse still, the foul-mouthed alley environmen for the working woman's child. Mothers, shopping, may also leave their child there for an hour or two.

Motherhood is a profession not an incident of the flesh. Only a trained worker can attend to the needs of a young child.

According to child psychology, in the first seven years of life more is learned ,than ever again in the same period of time.

Early years are the most impressionable, for good or evil, which shall it be?

The proper place for child training is the Day Nursery or coming baby garten, which precedes the kindergarten.

The baby garten where all children over two years of age are to be taken mornings, amid flowers, swimming pools, trees and music.

When the innocent child naturally asks a sex question, he is told the truth, in its logical connection with all nature. Truth is never vulgar.

Baby gartens would save state and nation, millions now spent on sanitariums, penitentaries reformatories. Long live the Day Nursery movement and may it ever grow for the good of all children.

YOUNG MOTHER NOW STRONG

Her Mother's Faith in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound led Her to Try it

Kenosha, Wisconsin.—"I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My mother had great faith in it as she had taken so much of it and when I had trouble after my baby was born she gave it to me. It helped me so much more than anything else had done that I advise all women with female trouble to give it a fair trial and I am sure they will feel as I do about it.—Mrs. FRED. P. HANSEN, 562 Symmonds St., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

A medicine that has been in use nearly fifty years and that receives the praise and commendation of mothers and grandmothers is worth your consideration.

If you are suffering from troubles that sometimes follow child-birth bear in mind that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's medicine. It is especially adapted to correct such troubles.

The letters we publish ought to convince you; ask some of your women friends or neighbors — they know its worth. You will, too, if you give it a fair trial.

Keene Makes Change for Dallas' Million Dollar Bill

LEFTY SWARTZ PAYS PRICE OF SPUDDER WIN; CHASED TO SHOWERS IN FIFTH INNING

Perfect Play Behind "Vic" Plucks Feathers Of Proud "Peacocks" in Opener; Dallas Fights to Stave Off Defeat, but Hitters Triumph; Keene Whiffs 9; Visitors Get 2

By "SPIKE" COOPER

"Lefty" Swartz started strong against the Spudders yesterday, but somebody threw a right-handed baseball into the game and it was "all night Isom." Before he could get out, three cleat marks scarred the "holy of holies," enough to put Victor Keene far in front, enough to win 4-2, enough to cop the opener, and enough to make 22 straight games.

Time after time did Skipper Jim pull down the bars of the "prize pen," but the Peacocks refused to parade. The "cool million dollars" clanked like so much counterfeit cash and barely created a riffle in the "financial world."

After doing a daily machine-like drill for the last three weeks, the Spudders became an animated automation yesterday. Fighting with determination, and hustling every inch of the way, they balanced the scales with the visitors in one of the most perfectly played anu interesting games of the season. Each club showed that winning determination, but Lefty Swartz was not equal to the task presented him, and the Spudders hied themselves unto another sweet victory at his expense.

Keene Headed 'Em

Keene unloosed one of his best games of the season as he waded straight through the Dallas order. Nine of the visitors tasted the twang of his mysterious delivery, two of which were pinch hitters sent in by Skipper Jim. But Keene had his customary bad inning and the Giants sent a pair of markers across. Hardly that, either, for Vic sent one of them across himself when he passed Donohue with the bags loaded. But to Keene goes abundant credit for the win.

The first five rounds of the contest were a pitchers battle. Each team chalked up one safety in that period. Don Rader, Beaumont's contribution to the pennant race, smote the second ball for a knock into left, but that was all until the seventh when Galloway flogged one, lining a base hit into right. The Spudders got their knock when Vic Keene came through with a Texas leaguer into right after Bischoff was safe on Massey's error. The lick sent Bisch to third and he counted a moment later when Bescher flied to deep left.

Peacocks Rally

The Spudders' one run looked like enough to win until the eighth when a short lived rally, equally divided between Keene and the Visitors. Lingle singled over third. Reid swung on a third strike, but Don Rader messed things up when he doubled against the left fence. Massey drew a walk and was forced at second when DeMaggio grounded to Adams. Galloway walked, filling the bases and Donohue worked Keene for a pass and the Dallas horde accepted half their runs, a contribution by Keene himself.

Good-By Swartz

The Spudders covered themselves with glory in the fifth when they chased Swartz from the game under a bombardment which netted a trio of markers and a ball game. Bischoff led off with a double to left, but was out at third on a neat throw by Lovelace from center when Lingle chunked high over Raders head in an attempt to catch George off the bag. Keene then walked on four wide ones. Bescher singled through Raders field and Keene went to second. Buddy Tanner created a near riot when he doubled to left center, scoring Keene and Bescher and took third on the play to the plate, a monstrous heave by Lovelace, but too late. Adams put on a squeeze, but Galloway came in fast and caught Tanner between third and home. Buddy kept the infield throwing the ball until Adams reached third, but was finally out. Summa thumped a double into right center and Shorty tagged the pay station. Tex finished the inning with a grounder to Massey.

The fifth was enough and too much for Swartz. Jackie Reid went to the gunners position and bayed the Spudders from there on out. He gave up but two bingles in the three rounds he occupied the firing point and sent a couple of hitters back from the plate via strikes.

The Spudders showed their fight in the first inning when after Rader singled to left, Massey fired a blistering grounder to Fred Beck. "Caruso" snatched the agate and heaved to "Shorty" at the middle bag. Scooping the ball from the dirt, Adams forced Rader and completed the double play with a snap throw back to first. The play dampened the Dallas spirits perceptibly and they never rallied completely.

A crowd of Dallas rooters started with much noise in the first part of the game, but were subdued by the loyal Spudder supporters who came to life after a "Rip Van Winkle" of a couple of weeks. They got in there and fought for the Spudders mushly, a change new to the team. During the recent games, a lifeless mass has filled the stands, and excellent plays were casually noted, but from the jump yesterday, they applauded, encouraged and fought with every pitched ball. And that's a goodly part of the win too.

Dallas did not arrive with the cock-sure mood of some of the recent guests in Athletic park and even accompanying scribes, champions of the "alley" club, are wont to pray for possibly two games of the series.

Summa Grabs Another

Homer Summa furnished the champion thrill of the afternoon performance when he chased into right center and took Donohue's three-base drive. Homer was running full tilt with his back to the ball, but snatched it from the "etherial" with his accustomed grace and precision.

The visitors turned in a couple of double plays, one of which was more or less a present. In the eighth round with runners on first and second, Fred grounded to Segrist who forced Adams at third and threw the hitter out at first. Many thought Fred loafed on the play, but they are not aware of his right ambulator. He's not taking any chances with a leg that would almost justify asking for a relief.

By virtue of yesterday's win, the Spudders continue in undisputed possession of the honor peg of the loop. Some of the younger members of the team are now beginning to wonder if they will like Memphis water, or if steamboat whistles will keep them awake nights.

Does it look like the Dixie series? Yea, Bo!

34 ROUNDS OF BOXING AT BURK

Morrissey to Face "Country Boy" Lance

Thirty-four rounds of exciting mix-ups have been scheduled for the American Legion boxing tournament which will be staged under the auspices of the Burkburnett post at the Liberty summer garden next Tuesday night, according to an announcement made here yesterday afternoon by Lee Morrissey, hero of several dozen fights, and who is placed on the card at Burkburnett in the main go.

Morrissey will face "County Boy" Lance, who hails from Oklahoma, but whose fighting fame reaches through the state of Texas as a tough boy.

"Country Boy" has gone on in Fort Worth a number of times, and claims to his credit but few defeats. It is rumored here by several who have seen him mix it that he will be hard for Morrissey to beat.

When the gong is sounded Tuesday night, Morrissey and Lance will start into a 12-round melee. However, Morrissey says confidently that he still has his punching apparatus working for knockouts, and it is his confident expression that he will floor the lad from Oklahoma before the end of the final frame.

A special eight-round event between "Kid" Gleason and "Young" Tunney, the latter of Washington, has also been scheduled on the card, Morrissey said here yesterday, fight fans expecting this bout to be an exciting event itself, as both men are classy young lightweights with good records.

The semi-wind-up will be fought between "Schoolboy" Smith and "Buddy" Brown, both husky negroes of the middle section, who will stage a six-round battle.

The legionnaires, according to Morrissey, have signed up two other fast four-round prelims to precede the main go, and are anticipating a packed audience for the occasion in view of the fact that a number of classy scrappers appear on the schedule for the evening. Arrangements to that end are under way, and seating capacity for an overflow house has been arranged for the bouts, Morrissey said.

SUNDAY LAWS

Editor Record News;

The defeat of the Hon. Noah Cooper for the democratic nomination for United States senator in the Tennessee primaries, as noted in your daily of yesterday, would seem to indicate a lack of confidence on the part of the people in the church and state principles for which Mr. Cooper stood.

The historian Neander well says: "The state that seeks to advance christianity by the worldly means at its command, may be the occasion of more injury to this holy cause than the earthly power opposes it with whatever virulence." This same writer informs us that Sunday laws were the chief means through which church and state were united in the fourth century; and these, instead of preserving the Roman empire, contributed largely to its downfall."

Speaking of a law enacted in the latter part of the fourth century, Neander says: "By a law of the year 386, those older changes effected by Constantine were more vigorously enforced; and, in general, civil transactions of every kind on Sunday were strictly forbidden." A church convention of bishops, in A. D., 401, petitioned the emperor, "that the public shows might be transferred from the christian Sunday and from the feast-days to some other days of the week." The desired law was secured in 425 A. D.

The object of this law, as stated by the bishops who requested it, was "that the day might be devoted with less interruption to the purposes of devotion," and "that the devotion of the faithful might be free from all disturbance." The disturbing element is thus referred to by the historian: "Christian teachers .... were, truth, often forced to complain that in such competitions the theater was vastly more frequented than the church." And then Neander adds: "In this way the church received help from the state for the furtherence of her ends." In this way, more perhaps than in any other, church and state were united. In this way the church gained control of the civil power, which she later used as a means of carrying out her purposes.

The citizens of Tennessee well know that Sunday, as a day of rest, originated with the church, and is a religious institution. And legislation in reference to a religious institution is religious legislation; and the passage of such laws, therefore, is a long step toward the union of church and state. James Madison well said: "There is not a shadow of right in the general government to intermeddle with religion. Its least interference with it would be a most flagrant usurpation." And the German princes, in the celebrated protest which gave rise to Protestantism, expressed Madison's sentiment when they said: "In matters of conscience the majority have no power."

It is the very genius of christianity to grant to every man the right to believe in the gospel or not to believe in it, to obey the divine law or not to obey it. And what the author of christianity has granted, no authority has the right to abridge or to take away. Sunday laws, moreover, are a violation of the just principle and inhibition of our national constitution against the passage of any law that establishes religion or prohibits the free exercise thereof.

It is a well-established American principle that the taking of money from an individual by way of taxation for the support of an established religion, is a denial of religious liberty. Exactly the same principle is involved in the taking of a portion of time from the weekly calendar of every man's time for the support, maintenance, or preservation of an established religious rest day. One is a tax in money, the other is a tax in time. The principle is the same in either case. Sunday legislation, therefore, is in conflict with constitutional and inalienable rights, and is no more defensible than is any other form of taxation for the support of religion.

HURSDAY: AT MRS. DE SPARE'S RECEPTION, I WAS HAVING A TÊTE À TÊTE WITH MRS. SIMPLON WHEN OUR CONVERSATION TURNED ON KEEPING A SECRET.
"A WOMAN CAN'T KEEP A SECRET," SAID I. "OH I DON'T KNOW," SAID SHE. "I'VE KEPT MY AGE A SECRET EVER SINCE I WAS TWENTY FIVE."
"AH, BUT ONE OF THESE DAYS YOU WILL GIVE IT AWAY," I INSISTED. "YOU'LL SIMPLY HAVE TO TELL IT." "IS THAT SO!" SAID SHE. "WELL, I THINK THAT WHEN A WOMAN HAS KEPT A SECRET FO 26 YEARS, SHE COMES PRETTY NEAR KNOWING HOW TO KEEP IT."

Stocks Dull, Prices Confused, Limits Narrow

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Confused price movements took place in today's relatively dull stock market session but the undertone continued strong and most important price changes were within narrow limits.

Uncertainty regarding the rail strike situation was more than offset by the government's report of bumper crop condition. Grangers which will benefit by this increased crop movement, such as Northern, Union and Canadian Pacifics, Great Northern, Chicago and Northwestern and Pere Marquette, closed generally at gains of 1 to nearly 2 points after an early display of weakness.

Cuban sugar stocks were reactionary as a result of the senate's fixing the tariff on Cuban sugar at 1.84 cents a pound, but American beet sugar, which will benefit by the increased rate was up 2 1-4 points.

Motor and shipping shares were again under pressure today, Chandler and Studebaker dropping nearly a point with International Mercatnile marine preferred, Atlantic Gulf and West Indies and American International corporation.

Leathers and shoes were in good demand, in response to improved trade conditions, material gains being recorded by central leather common and preferred, Brown shoe, Endicott Johnson and American hide and leather. There was a good inquiry also for public utilities, peoples gas, North American and Philadelphia companies reaching new high records, while the various preferred issues of market street railways were up two to more than four points.

NEW FROCK

By ELOISE

What to wear when traveling is the big problem for the vacationer, particularly in the summer season. The dark tailored is, of course, the usual costume worn for traveling but in the warm weather something cooler is wanted. The silk suit used to be the solution but it has not found favor for several seasons.

There is, however, a smart substitute offered this year. It is the dark creep de chine or canton crepe frock. Here is a black poshanara crepe interwoven with stripes of white. This is a slimline model with the waitsline marked by a black and white wooden belt of unusual design. The white felt hat which is worn with the frock is better for sports wear than for traveling.

STRONG RALLY OPENS MARKET

Prices Recede On Later Trading

By Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 9.—While the cotton market was nervous and unsteady today, it had a strong rally in the first half of the session on what most brokers and leaders accepted as good evidence that the Texas drouth had been broken only in spots. At the highest of the session, prices were 35 to 43 points over the close of yesterday with October up to 20.10.

The close was at net advances of but two to fourteen points, October closing at 19.81.

Around the opening the market was at its lowest, two to ten points net, down under the influence of a poor Liverpool and an unfavorable strike and foreign news. From then on, until about mid-session the demand increased.

At the advance it was a very active market.

Cotton closed steady at net advances of 2 to 14 points.

NEW YORK COTTON

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—A further decline during today's early trading was followed by rallies in the cotton market today but after selling up from 20.05 to 20.52 for December, prices eased off again, closing at 20.18 for that delivery. The general market closed steady, net one point lower to 10 points higher.

Other months were unchanged to 3 points lower, however, and the general market was weak right after the call owing to poor Liverpool cables, reports of further rains in the southwest and continued complaints of a poor trade demand. Active months soon showed net losses of eight to ten points with October selling off to 20.00 and January to 19.98.

Last prices showed reactions of 30 to 34 points from the best.

Rheumatism at 60

How glorious you will feel, mother, when your rheumatism is all gone. Let S. S. S. do it. It will build you up, too!

S. S. S. Thoroughly Rids the Body of Rheumatism Impurities.

Somebody's mother is suffering tonight! The scourge of rheumatism has wrecked her body; limping and suffering, bent forward, she sees but the common ground, but her aged heart still belongs to the stars! Does anybody care? S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-purifiers known, and it helps build more blood cells. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable. It never disarranges the stomach. It is, in fact, a splendid tonic, a blood maker, a blood enricher. It banishes rheumatism from joints, muscles and the entire body. It builds firm flesh. It is what somebody's mother needs tonight! Mother, if you can not go out to get a bottle of S. S. S. yourself, surely somebody in your family will. Somebody, get a bottle of S. S. S. now! Let somebody's mother begin to feel joyful again tonight. Maybe, maybe it's your mother! S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

FLOOD WATERS MAY BE USED

Irrigation Solution Is Outlined

R. A. Thompson, chief engineer of the Wichita valley irrigation project, has returned from Austin, where he attended the conference of engineers called by Governor Pat Neff and was appointed one of the advisory committee to get up data and submit a report which can be used by the governor in putting something tangible before the legislature in the matter of preventing floods and conserving flood waters for irrigation purposes.

Some of the best known engineers in the United States and Mexico were present at the convention and Mr. Thompson said Wednesday he thinks that a good start has been made toward working out some method of flood control and water conservation.

The committee will try and get together data on the various scattered projects in the state so that something definite may be submitted toward a general project. Mr. Thompson said that as the state becomes more densely populated the flood control problems become more important.

The west Texas chamber of commerce, to meet in Waco Aug. 16, will discuss the control of floods and conservation of water from an economic standpoint. Members of the advisory committee of engineers will be present also to discuss the engineering side of the question.

The general problem is that there is enough flood water now sweeping down the streams of the state each year doing hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of damage when it should be utilized for irrigation purposes by diverting it into reservoirs and storing it to be released on farms. This can be accomplished just as the Wichita valley project and others are being accomplished, it is said. The work, however, will take a large amount of money, but, according to engineers and economists will pay for itself many fold in a few years by the saving in loss of property and life and by growing crops from irrigation.

What could be simpler than a frock of tucks? Here is a white crepe de chine frock with not another feature to relieve it save rows upon rows of tucks. It is tucked from neck to hem. Narrow tucvks are use on the bodice while those on the skirt grow wider as they near the bottom. The short sleeves are plain and rather wide.

Such a frock is ideal for most figures and is an excellent style for summer materials. The tucks on the skirt make a petticoat almost unnecessary and the simple lines make laundering an easy matter. It is effective in white and is equally smart in other solid colors. A navy blue or brown cvrepe or voile is a most practical material to fashion on these lines.

TOM NILES HELD AFTER KILLING

Charges Filed In Jolly Shooting

Information in the form of a magistrate's warrant charging Tom Niles with having committed murder in Clay county in connection with the killing of Ed Phelan has been filed, according to an announcement made in the 30th district court attorney, Holliday, assistant district attorney, yesterday during an attempted habeas corpus procedure instituted in Niles' behalf.

In view of the statement of the assistant district attorney, Special Judge John Kilgore dismissed the habeas corpus for want of jurisdiction.

The murder charge is the first to be filed in connection with the fatal shooting of Phelan near Jolly recently. Several persons had been jailed for investigation, however, no official charges had been filed until the magistrate's warrant was made known yesterday.

Special Judge Kilgore announced that "Niles will be in the custody of the sheriff until the authorities from Clay county arrive" when the information had been given him.

Phelan's lifeless body, riddled with bullets, and showing signs that the youthful man had made a bitter struggle for his life was found by tourists after Mrs. G. A. Fuller, beaten and badly cut, had been found on the roadside not far from Jolly, Mrs. Fuller informed the tourists that she had been attacked by a hold-up man, and that the robber had shot and killed Phelan.

Mrs. Fuller was rushed to the Call Field hospital, where she received medical attention, and later underwent a minor operation. She was questioned numerous times by officers, but on each occasion she narrated the same story of the affair, telling them that a man wearing a green suit of clothing and a white straw hat had done the shooting, and had robbed both she and Phelan.

Mrs. Fuller said that she was attacked by the robber as she and Phelan were en route from the camp to Jolly, to visit a store. She said the robber held them up, robbed them of their money, and then in a rage shot Phelan down, later attacking her.

Many investigations into the affair have been conducted by the local officials, as well as by the officials in Clay county, it is understood, the first formal charge having been filed yesterday, according to Mr. Holliday, when Niles was held here on a magistrate's warrant accusing him of murder.

The complaint received by local authorities yesterday names Mrs. Niles and G .A. Fuller, husband of the injured woman, in connection with the mysterious killing of Phelan.

Niles was carried back to prison yesterday afternoon following the attempted habeas corpus hearing, and he, together with the other two named in the information, will be held by the sheriff awaiting the disposition of the Clay county officials.

Ferguson Scored By Mayfield

SULPHUR SPRINGS, Hopkins County, Texas, Aug. 9.—Earle B. Mayfield, Texas railroad commissioner, and leader in the race for the United States senate by 32,000 votes over James E. Ferguson, his nearest opponent in the first primary, delivered a ringing address here tonight before an audience of enthusiastic Hopkins county men and women.

"Efforts of my opponent to obscure the great national issues at stake in this contest, through bitter personalities, will not draw me aside," Mr. Mayfield declared.

"I am unalterably opposed to any steps which will break down enforcement of national and state prohibition laws," Mr. Mayfield declared.

Mr. Mayfield reiterated his demand for the repeal of the Esch-Cummins ing powers, declaring the only relief law and restoration of state rate-makte farmer, stockman and shipper would come through ratess lowered by the states in sympathy with their producers.

When Viola Dana, the fascinating Metro star, comes to the Strand theater on Thursday in her new picture called "Seeing's Believing," she will appear in a role that exactly suits her piquant, charming personality. It is just the type of part that Miss Dana plays so well, and her many friends will be delighted with her acting in this new comedy-drama.

Miss Dana enacts the role of Diana Webster, a millionaire orphan. Diana and her aunt's suitor are obliged to pose as married when, on their way back to the city, they are obliged to put up at the town's only hotel. A few days later, when she returns to her home she finds a friend of her brother who had been a guest at the hotel when she had stopped there. She informs him that she is not married, but before she has a chance to explain further, he tells her that he will safeguard her "secret." As far as he is concerned, "seing's believing."

How Diana plans to involve him in an equally compromising situation and how she is brought into a serious predicament when the actors she employs prove to be professional blackmailers, forms a highly exciting play of laughter, love and thrills.

"Seeing's Believing," a Harry Beaumont production released by Metro, was adapted by Edith Kennedy from a story by Rex Taylor. It was photographed by John Arnold. A. F. Mantz was art and technical director.

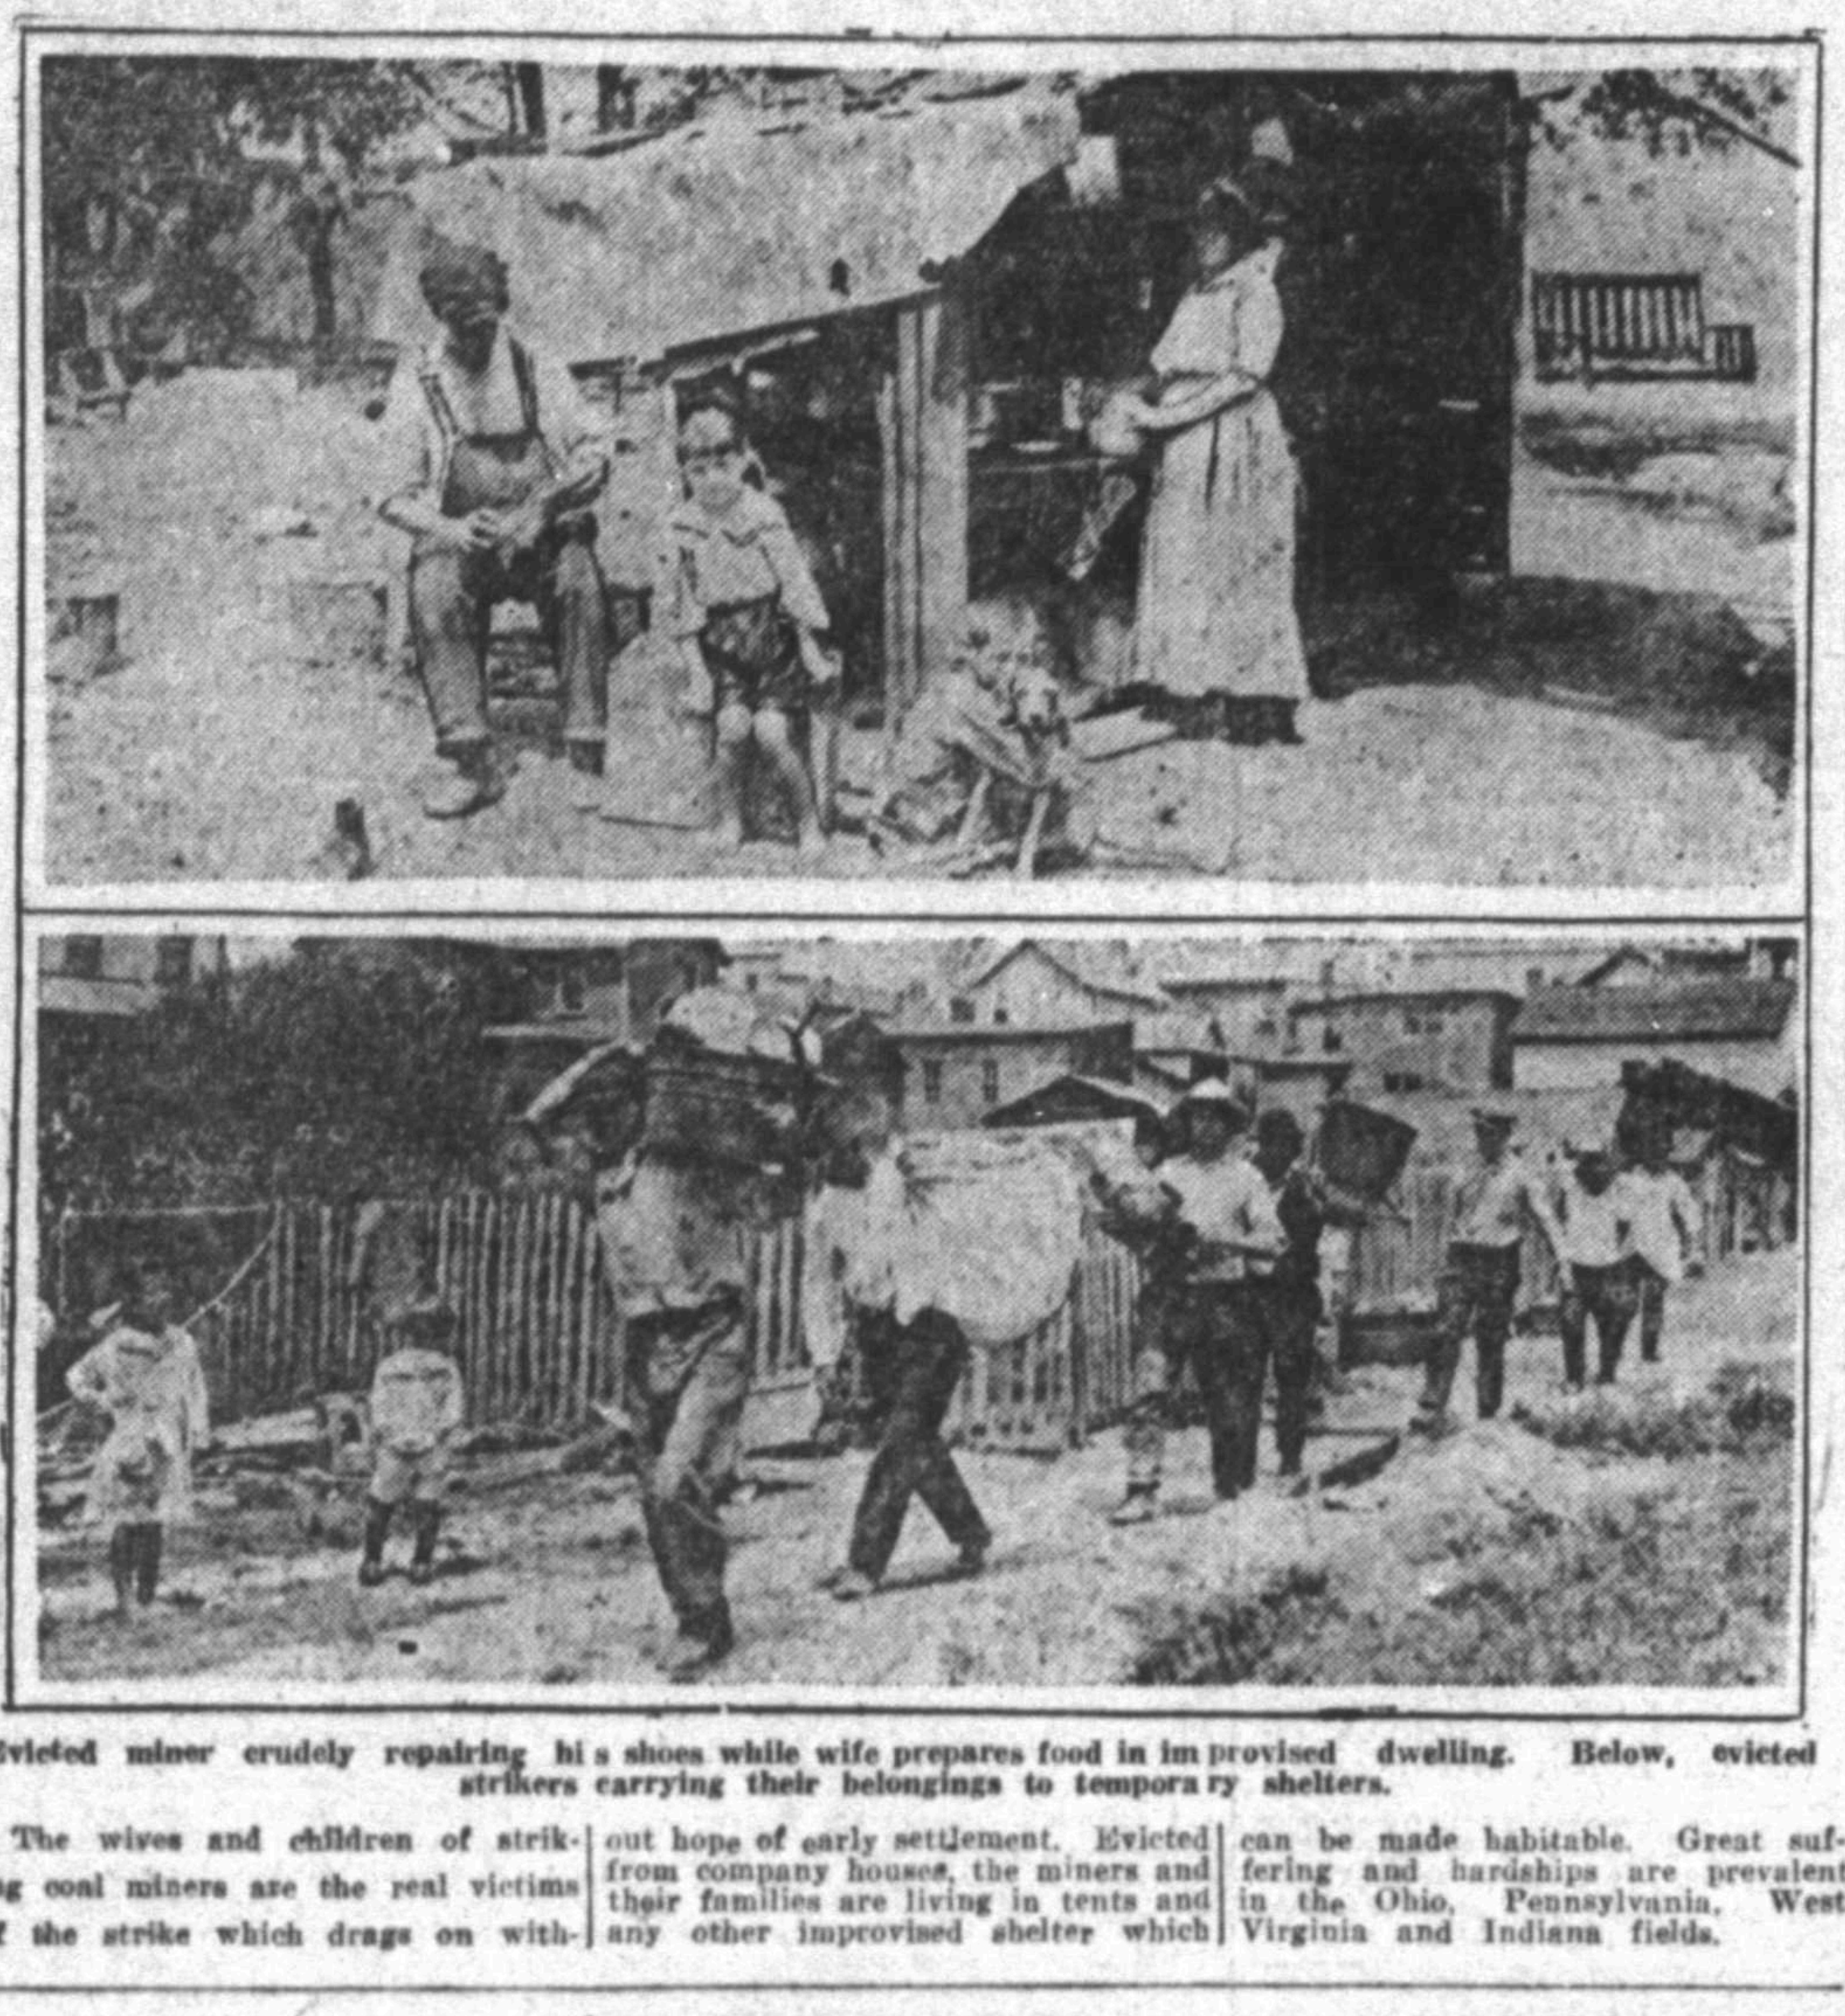
HELD FOR TAR THEFT

Willis Hinton, charged with automobile theft, had his bond fixed at $1,500 in the 30th district court yesterday afternoon when he was brought before Special Judge John Kilgore during a habeas corpus procedure.

Hinton denied on the stand that he is called "Whitey," and said that his name is Willis Hinton.

He told the court that for the past six months he has been living with his mother in Arkansas, and that he has also been living in Kansas.

MINERS SUFFER AS COAL STRIKE DRAGS ON



Evicted miner crudely repairing his shoes while wife prepares food in improvised dwelling. Below, evicted strikers carrying their belongings to temporary shelters.

The wives and children of striking coal miners are the real victims of the strike which drags on without hope of early settlement. Evicted from company houses, the miners and their families are living in tents and any other improvised shelter which can be made habitable. Great suffering and hardships are prevalent in the Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Indiana fields.

Mrs. Helen Long Rodgers of Hammondtown, N. J., has been chosen to preside over the now famous cupid's court to convene August 15. Mrs. Rodgers will be attired as cupid, that is, of course, she will have a bow and arrow and more clothes than the proverbial love god. The court is being held under the direction of the Lovers' Co-operative union and maybe some matches will result.

SCHOOLS FACE BIG PROBLEM

Housing of Pupils Difficult

Superintendent Lee Clark returned from Denton, where he has been teaching in summer school and is busily engaged in arranging for the opening of schools early in September. Among the many problems to be met is the housing of pupils until the new school buildings are completed which, it is said will be some time in October.

Two buildings are under construction, one in the north side and one in the south side of the city, each of which is to cost $45,000.

Mr. Clark has not yet chosen all the teachers for the schools during the coming term but the list is expected to be completed, it is said, fully two weeks before school opens if not sooner.

Complete descriptions of two characters believed to have fled toward Wichita Falls with a stolen vehicle in their possession were received by Chief J. W. McCormick at the police station yesterday morning.

The car, a 1922 model Ford roadster, was stolen at Duncan, Okla., the names of the suspected parties being wired here soon after the theft.

A reward of $50 is offered for the recovery of the car.

Wichita Soldiers Wash Own Clothes While Training at Fort Sill

Word from Fort Sill indicates that the Wichita Falls boys in training there are having a big time as well as learning military tactics and drill. Many letters have been received by relatives at home telling of the camp life at the post.

Many of the boys, it is said, wash their own clothes because they are away out on the reservation and unhandy to any kind of a laundry. They do their washing at night and by morning the clothes are dry. They have their own barbers in some of the companies and the company barber, though not always an expert at his business, is making big money, it is said.

Record News and Olympic Will Show Inside of Famed Hollywood

A trip through the Paramount studios.

"It can't be done, this isn't Los Angeles," is the first thing that enters the ordinary person's mind.

And yet the Record News and the Olympic theater are bringing the studios to Wichita Falls, in order that local movie fans may have that rarest of opportunities, a glimpse behind the scenes.

The picture which has been prepared for The Record News and the Olympic theater is in three reels, and will show at the Olympic, in addition to the regular program, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

"It's just like a trip through the studios," said Manager Robert Sparks, of the Olympic, after witnesing the advance showing of the picture.

And it is. For in addition to showing the Paramount studios, the immense stages, the batteries of lights, and the mountains of scenery that are daily used on the Paramount lot, the picture shows late releases, actually in the making, with real stars before the camera.

In addition to these scenes, a part of the picture is devoted to the home life of such stars as Gloria Swanson, Wallace Reid, Thomas Meighan, Rodolph Valentino, Agnes Ayres, Betty Compson and the other well known Paramount players.

It's just like meeting them personnally, seeing them off the screen this way, in their own homes, and you will be disappointed if you fail to attend The Record News-Olympic theater party at the Olympic next week.
