Hoarded Treasure Is Found

NEW YORK (AP) — A frail little woman of 90, who lived in a fire-damaged apartment and dined on 15-cent hotdogs, turned out today to have a fortune of nearly $500,000 — and kept more than half of it under her bed.

The woman, Mrs. Emma Buhl De Hart, died three weeks ago after being found almost helpless from malnutrition and kidney and heart diseases.

Her astonishing wealth was suspected by no one although she had been a prominent business woman in Staten Island, where she lived, and was the widow of a tugboat owner.

A search for a will turned up the startling hoard of $274,980 in cash in her apartment yesterday. Further investigation revealed she had another $205,000 in banks and 740 shares of stock. Relatives could hardly believe it.

Mrs. de Hart had lived alone in a second-floor flat above a store on Staten Island.

The bedroom in which the money was found was one of the few rooms in the apartment that could be occupied after a fire eight years ago.

Mrs. de Hart was stricken at home May 23 and died the same day in a hospital. She had no children. Her nearest relatives, who had no idea that she had so much money, could find no will. They got a court order for search of the apartment.

SAYS HUMPHREY

Tax Cut Hopes Dim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told Congress today a tax cut this year is "absolutely out of the question," and said it was "perfectly idle" to speculate on prospects for 1958.

Until government income and spending is adjusted to provide a Treasury surplus for the forseeable future, Humphrey indicated that he foresaw no prospect of tax reduction before 1959.

Humphrey, soon to step out of the administration, presented his fiscal views to a Senate-House Economic subcommittee.

Asked by Chairman Mills (D-Ark) to state "in all candor" whether the administration proposes to recommend a tax reduction to Congress next year, Humphrey replied: "There are no such plans that I know of. My view is that a tax cut is absolutely out of the question this year and would be a great mistake."

As for next year, Humphrey said he did not know but declared that it would be "perfectly idle to make plans for any tax reduction at this time until we know how much more about what next year is going to produce."

Humphrey was asked whether Congress would be asked to raise the debt limit again. The statutory ceiling on the debt is 275 billion dollars but there is now a "Temporary" ceiling of 278 billions.

"We're still hoping we're not going to have to ask for an increase, but it's a very tight thing. We're on very narrow ground," he replied.

On economic prospects, Humphrey said the nation can look forward "to a continuing period of high prosperity" if government spending is controlled and "runaway inflation" is prevented.

As he has before, Humphrey said again he believes present tax rates are too high, but that "no general tax reduction should be considered at the present time."

Humprey warned against what he called ill-considered "meat-ax slashing of the budget."

Humphrey went on to say that the biggest budget problem is one of obtaining long-term savings, and noted that with the end of the 1957 fiscal year this month the government has in prospect a balanced budget for three consecutive years "for the first time in more than 25 years."

"If we are successful in properly controlling the size and spending of government, we can look forward to a continuing period of high prosperity for our country," he said.

Strategy On Foreign Aid Cut Changed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Advocates of sharp cuts in the $3,637,000,000 foreign aid bill shifted strategy today as the Senate neared its first vote.

In the hope of picking up additional strength, Sen. Long (D-La) said he would call up first an amendment to cut 90 million dollars from a proposed authorization of 800 millions for defense support.

His original plan had been to seek first a vote on a move to cut 300 million dollars from the $1,800,000,000 the Foreign Relations Committee had voted for direct military assistance.

Long and his backers apparently felt they had a better chance to carry the smaller cut and that if they could put it over, they might have better prospects for the bigger slash.

The Senate leadership of both parties remained outwardly confident of keeping the sums in the bill substantially intact. Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex) predicted final action by nightfall.

Johnson and Republican Leader Knowland (Calif) urged their colleagues to apply their trimming efforts to a later bill on providnig funds for foreign aid. The current bill only sets the terms and ceilings for spending.

The Foreign Relations Committee cut administration requests by 227 millions. Sen. Morse (D-Ore) yesterday called that "but a spit in the ocean of foreign aid waste."

Opponents also were primed with amendments aimed at stripping longer range authority from the bill and at retaining the present system of year-to-year authorizations.

Advocates of cuts conceded the odds were against them. But they flailed away at the bill most of yesterday.

Morse said "a senseless waste of millions" has contributed to what he called "a rising tide of anti-Americanism throughout the world."

Sen. Talmadge (D-Ga) said economic aid has been used for everything from "bathing facilities for Egyptian camel drivers" to "collapsible toothpaste tubes to Cambodia."

State River Rises Above Flood Stage

By The Associated Press

Gusty winds stirred up dust in Northwest Texas Friday while the Trinity River continued rising above flood stage at the opposite corner of the state.

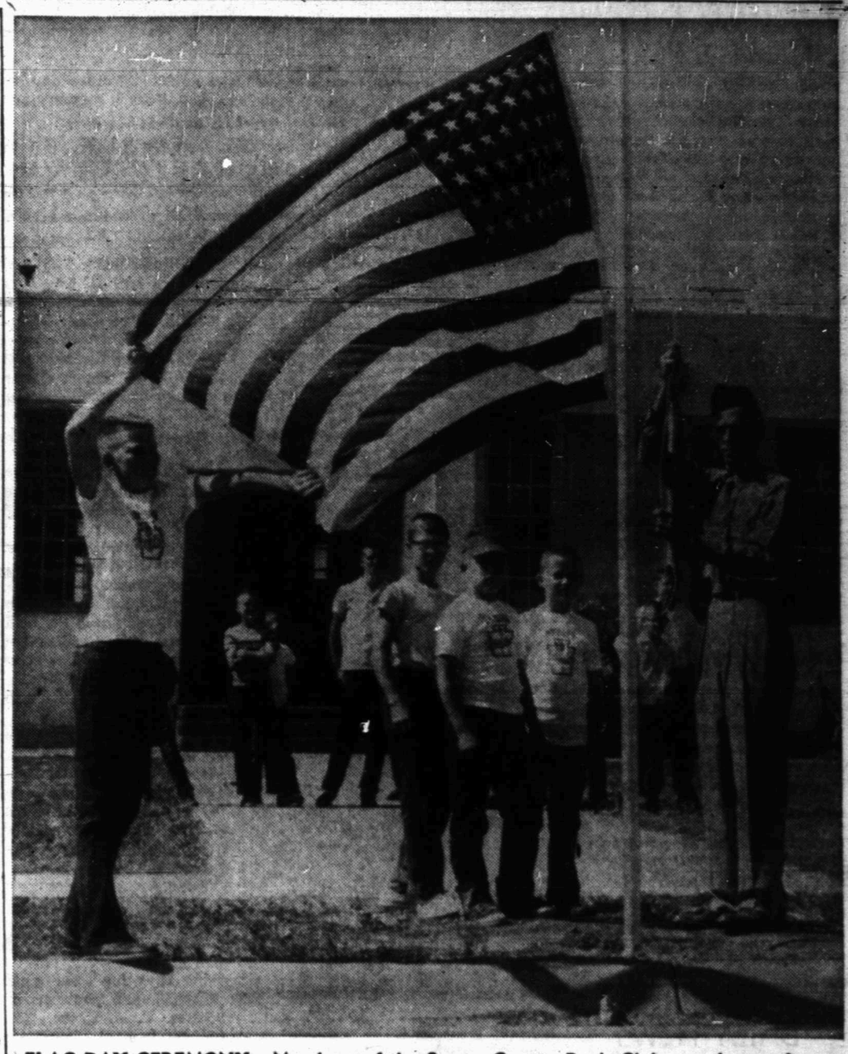

The Trinity was at 42.33 feet, 2.33 above flood stage, at Riverside, 7 miles south of Trinity, Tex., on U.S. 45. Heavy damage to croplands was reported at Trinity and at Midway, between Riverside and Madisonville.

For a second time this year the ranch home of Mrs. Louise Bell, a widow, was surrounded by water near Riverside. She and a young son commuted by boat.

The winds rode into Northwest Texas on a weak cool front.

The front was expected to move eastward instead of to the south. The Weather Bureau said readings may be slightly lower in North Texas but the front will have little effect on temperatures generally.

Dust cut visibility to a mile at Amarillo, Childress and Dalhart for a time but cleared after dawn. By 7:30 a.m. it was 8 miles at Childress as the winds died.

Heras Denies Bragging About Reproducing Parr's Signature

HOUSTON (AP)—Diego Heras denied repeatedly today that he frequently had bragged that he could reproduce the signature of George B. Parr.

The former deputy tax collector of the Benavides Independent School District also testified in Parr's fourth mail fraud trial that he had never said he could reproduce the signatures of three other defendants—D. C. Chapa, Oscar Carrillo Sr. and Octavio Saenz.

Chapa is a former tax collector for the district, Carrillo a former school board secretary and Saenz a former school board president.

Heras, in his seventh day on the witness stand in a trial that began May 6, also told Percy Foreman, chief defense counsel, he had no idea who was responsible for transferring the school district's tax office from Benavides to Parr's office at San Diego in 1938.

"Have you not three different times testified that George Parr ordered the books transferred to San Diego so he could control and dominate the school district?" Foreman asked.

"I don't recall," said the government's chief witness.

"At whose suggestion was it that the books were moved to San Diego in 1938?"

"I don't recall who gave the instructions."

"Have you ever sworn under oath that it was George Parr?"

"I may have. I'm inclined to believe it was."

"His idea or that of someone else?"

"I don't know."

"Isn't it true that William Marvin Benson (former auditor for Parr and the school district) was responsible?"

"I don't know."

Heras also denied that he gave instructions that a long-standing practice of keeping a cash book for recording daily tax payments received be abolished after the tax office was moved back to Benavides in 1951.

"Didn't you tell other employes 'We will no longer keep the book'?"

"No, sir."

"Wasn't one of the reasons for keeping the book was to make a check against the tax roll so as to prevent errors and stealing?"

"Yes, sir, it would."

Foreman indicated he would complete his cross-examination of Heras today. Heras denied yesterday that he had invented new testimony for the fourth trial.

Justice Of Peace Is Appointed By Court

Clark Lumber Co. was awarded the job at a price of $203.49.

Soviets Like Dulles' Idea

MOSCOW (AP)—Two of the Soviet Union's leaders say they like Secretary of State Dulles' idea of trading U.S. and Russian TV programs.

First Deputy Premiers A. I. Mikoyan and V. M. Molotov talked to American reporters at a British Embassy party for Queen Elizabeth's birthday.

Buoyed by what Molotov called the "success" of Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev's appearance recently before U.S. television, Mikoyan and Molotov said they welcomed Dulles' suggestion this week for a regular exchange of TV and radio programs. Dulles said the United States proposed such an exchange at the Geneva summit conference in 1955 but the Russians were cold to it then.

LAKE IS NEARING RECORD ELEVATION

Lake J. B. Thomas lacks only slightly more than two inches reaching a record water elevation.

By late this morning, elevation of the lake stood at 2,255.55 feet, and water was still running in but at a very slow pace.

The previous record elevation was 2,255.75 set in October, 1955. The lake lacks only about two and a half feet being full, since elevation at the service spillway is 2,258.

The lake's catch from Tuesday night rains so far has been .59 of a foot.

Eight Are Killed In London Bus Accident

LONDON (AP)—The death toll in London's shopping crowd bus accident reached eight today. A Canadian woman, Mrs. Nina Murray, died in a hospiatl.

Seven others, four men and three women, died earlier when the big doubledecker bus jumped a curb yesterday and smashed into a crowd waiting at a bus stop on busy Oxford Street.

Cleanup Campaign Plans Made Here

Plans were made for a meeting yesterday at the Chamber of Commerace office here for the annual Snyder cleanup campaign.

The campaign is scheduled each year by the health and sanitation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, through its health and sanitation committee.

Bob Littlefield, chairman of the Jaycee committee, presided at yesterday's meeting.

The cleanup campaign will be held here June 24-29, only a week away.

Special days will be designated for various parts of the campaign, including three days of weed mowing at small rates, taking calls from residents on large loads of trash, and picking up trash cleaned up. One day during the latter part of the week will be "paint-up, fix-up" day.

Full campaign plans were to be made today at the weekly meeting of the Jaycees.

Decision On Canyon Dam Is Delayed

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Board of Water Engineers today was slowed to near inactivity as one member left on a private business trip.

Board member Otha Dent, who took a 6-hour coffee break Wednesday to break up a special meeting, said he would be in Galvestion until Monday. He said the trip had been planned for sometime.

Asked if it was official state business, Dent said: "No. It's just business."

Board Chairman R. M. Dixon said Dent's departure would delay any decisions on authority to construct the multimillion-dollar Canyon Dam and whether the board would fire its chief legal counsel.

Dent said he still hoped "something could be worked out" on board lawyer Joe Carter. Dent has supported Carter while Dixon has wanted Carter fired.

Dixon said he and the other member, H. A. Beckwith, would continue "closed conferences" but no decision would be made until Dent returned.

Sales In Department Stores Are Increased

DALLAS (AP)—Department store sales in the 11th district brightened with the weather and gained 6 per cent for the week ending June 8, a report from the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas indicated today.

Gains over the preceding week included: Houston 18 per cent, Fort Worth 8, El Paso 7, San Antonio and Dallas 3.

Government Of Haiti Is Overthrown Again

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—The army ousted Daniel Fignole as provisional president of Haiti today. A three-man military junta headed by Brig. Gen. Antonio Kebreau, army chief of staff, seized power and proclaimed a "state of emergency" throughout the country.

Troops and police were ready to start shooting at the sign of any violence from the thousands of Haitians who idolize Fignole, a 43-year-old mathematics professor.

Kebreau addressed the nation by radio. At his side were the other two members of the junta—Col. Emile Zamor and Col. Adrian Valville.

Kebreau read a letter of resignation from Fignole whose whereabouts was not officially disclosed. One report said he and his family had already been put on a ship bound for exile.

Fignole headed the sixth government which has tried to rule this troubled Negro republic of four million since last December. He took over after street clashes erupted into a brief civil war May 25.

Fignole and his entire Cabinet were dismissed, a police announcement said.

Crowds immediately started mushrooming in an ugly mood around police headquarters, the presidential palace and army headquarters. Police and troops stood by ready to cope with any outbreak.

Only last Sunday, Fignole had ordered Kebreau to run a loyalty check on every army officer from captain to colonel—apparently in an effort to forestall just what happened today. Former Police Chief Col. Pierre Armand, whose effort to seize control of the army set off the bloodshed of May 25, took refuge in the Spanish Embassy here Monday rather than be questioned.

Haiti's six months of troubles stemmed mainly from rivalry among 10 candidates for the presidency in election originally scheduled to be held next Sunday. Rumors had been circulating here for days that Fignole intended to seize the post without holding elections.

Five Men Marooned In Raging Blizzard

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—A raging blizzard marooned five men in the Pike's Peak Summit House today as foot-deep snow blocked the highway.

Highway officials said the road, which has been closed by snow 14 times since its 1957 opening on May 1, would be cleared today.

Don Lawrie, Colorado Springs street superintendent and former Pikes Peak highway superintendent, said the spring snows are the worst in his memory. He has been connected with the highway since 1922.

Sylvester Woman In Critical Condition

Mrs. Eugene S. Williams, Sylvester woman injured in an automobile accident here yesterday morning, was reported still in critical condition at Cogdell Memorial Hospital today.

Mrs. Williams was injured when her car struck a bridge abutment about three miles east of Snyder on U. S. Highway 180.

Sen. George Better Today

ATLANTA (AP) — Former Sen. Walter F. George seems to be responding well to treatment for heart disease, said an optimistic report on his condition today from Emory University Hospital.

The hospital bulletin, while not discounting the seriousness of the 79-year-old patient's condition, indicated an encouraging turn for the better.

"Sen. George had one of the best nights he has had in some time," it said. "He is now having less chest discomfort and shortness of breath. There is some evidence that he is responding to the drug used to correct the congestion in his lung due to heart disease."

New Ambassador Is Nominated By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today nominated Val Peterson to be ambassador to Denmark. Leo A. Hoegh, former Republican governor of Iowa, was picked to succeed Peterson as Federal Civil Defense administrator.

Both nominations are subject to Senate confirmation.

Peterson, former GOP governor of Nebraska, has been chief of the Civil Defense Administration since February 1953. For a few weeks prior to that, he served as an administrative assistant to Eisenhower.

Hoegh, 49, was governor of Iowa from 1954 through 1956. He was defeated in a bid for re-election.

Before his election as governor, he served as Iowa's attorney general from 1953 to 1954.

Lately he has been engaged in private law practice.

Asked about any background, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Hoegh "organized the Civil Defense program in Iowa."

2 Missionaries Are Released

By JOHN RODERICK

HONG KONG (AP) — Communist China today released two American Jesuit missionaries after four years of imprisonment and house arrest.

Father Charles J. McCarthy, 42, San Francisco, and Father John Alexander Houle, 42, Glendale, Calif., left the Shanghai house where they had been kept in recent months and went to the Jesuit mission headquarters in the Chinese metropolis.

Contacted by telephone from Hong Kong, Father McCarthy said he and Father Houle expected to leave Shanghai for Hong Kong in about 10 days, depending on travel facilities available.

Freeing of the two priests left six Americans still confined in Communist China, three under house arrest in Shanghai and three others believed imprisoned in the Peiping-Tientsin area. The number of Americans in Communist Chinese custody has dropped gradually from a high of 55 in 1951.

Father McCarthy reported that he and Father Houle were both in fair health. He said he couldn't tell if he had lost weight because he hadn't weighed in four years. He added that Father Houle was suffering from a back ailment "but is in much better health than before."

"We are very happy to be free again," Father McCarthy said in a halting voice. He said he wanted to tell friends and relatives "how much we appreciate all their thoughts, all their prayers and their sacrifices."

Asked to comment on his treatment while imprisoned, he replied: "We are still in Shanghai and I would rather not say too much."

The release of the two priests had been expected since their sentences were to be completed tomorrow. They were arrested June 15, 1953, presumably on the usual charge of "counterrevolutionary activities and spying."

Father McCarthy said the three Americans held under house arrest in Shanghai were two other priests, the Revs. John P. Wagner of Pittsburgh and Joseph P. McCormack of Ossining, N.Y.; and a businessman, Hugh F. Redmond of Yonkers, N.Y. The two priests presumably are the next Americans scheduled for release since they have served four years of their five-year sentences. Redmond is held under a life sentence.

Father McCarthy said Father Wagner had been hospitalized since September for treatment of asthma.

Growing Pains Are Often Forerunners Of Disease

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE
AP Newsfeatures

TIME WAS, when children complained of pains in the muscles and joints of the legs their complaints were called growing pains and brushed aside as inconsequential.

It doesn't hurt to grow and probably there is no such thing as a growing pain. It is, of course, quite true that there are many vague and some severe pains in the legs that have no serious significance and CAN be more or less ignored.

However, there is one serious disease in which joint pain is often the first warning. A good mother needs to be aware of this fact so that she can give her child the care he needs to pervent serious illness. At the same time a mother needs to be sensible and not make a mountain over every one of the many minor complaints of a child.

Rheumatic fever is the disease that lurks in the back of the mind when a child complains about his legs. This is a serious disease that may attack the heart, where it does its real damage.

Rheumatic Fever

The pains of rheumatic fever are always in the joints; they are not in the fleshy part of the arms or legs. They may occur in almost any joint—ankle, knee, hip, shoulder, elbow or in the small joints of the hands. The pains are likely to move about from joint to joint. If the joint is red, swollen and tender, it's pretty sure you have trouble, but sometimes there is not a thing to see when you look at the joint, and yet the child complains that it hurts to touch it.

If the pains are slight and the child is otherwise quite well there is probably nothing to worry about. But if, along with vague joint pains, the child is tired, listless, pale and irritable, you had better take him to your doctor right away. If he should be running a little low grade of fever in the late afternoon, hurry up and get him to the doctor.

Leg Pains

Pains in the calf of the leg or in the thigh are much less likely to be related to rheumatic fever. Flat feet or weak ankles will make the legs tired and the child will complain especially at the end of the day after he has been playing hard.

Sometimes a child wakes up at night crying with a sharp pain in the calf of one leg, or he may even have the pain before he goes to bed. These are most often muscle cramps. They may mean the child's diet is deficient in calcium or in vitamins.

Regardless of why your child complains you want to have whatever is the matter taken care of so it is desirable to take him to your doctor.

Don't jump to the conclusion that every vague pain is rheumatic fever, but at the same time don't ignore pains especially if the child's general health is not up to par. Take the child to the doctor and let him make the necessary tests and decide what the matter is.

Over-Concern

If you become over-concerned and especially if you let your child become aware of your worry about every ache and pain he may have, your smart little fellow may use real pains or imagined ones as a means of getting special attention from you. A child loves to be the center of the stage and if he discovers that you get all hot and bothered every time he mentions a leg ache he may well use this device just to get you excited.

So as a parent you are between the devil and the deep blue sea. You musn't ignore pains in the joints even if mild and at the same time you don't want to make an undue fuss over something that had better be ignored. Your best bet is to go to the doctor, get the matter accurately diagnosed. Then you can ignore the symptom with a clear conscience if that's what the doctor tells you to do.

Grandmother Is Proud Of Her Figure

SUDBURY, Ont. (AP) — Mrs. Augustine Piquette, 90, says, "A woman might as well be dead as out of fashion."

She is proud of her slim figure and when interviewed on her 90th birthday was wearing a frock of fine wool fabric in "The very latest style."

"Why, that's simple," she said, when asked how to live to be 90. "You just eat lots of good red steak, lots of meat for protein, lots of vegetables and leave the sweets alone."

Mrs. Piquette, a resident of Sudbury since she came here in 1909 with her late husband, is a chic 95 pounds. She is called "Mamere" Piquette by her friends, her son and daughter, her 10 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

She loves to dance and sing. She told guests that she enjoys a good party, and executed a tricky little clog dance and a waltz to prove it.

Candlelight Ceremonies Conducted

Candlelight ceremonies for Jewel Pin members and pledges were conducted when members of Gamma Upsilon Chapter, ESA, met Thursday evening at the Village.

Members receiving the ritual of the jewels were Mrs. W. W. Springer, Mrs. Horrace Bostick, Mrs. R. E. Minor and Mrs. Gene Thompson. The pledge ceremony was conducted for Mrs. Don Ritchie, Mrs. Charlie Sparks and Mrs. Darrell Black.

Officiating at the ceremony were Mrs. Bob Boren, Mrs. Raymond Boydstun and Mrs. Joe Williamson.

Mrs. W. W. Springer was installed to serve as president of the chapter for the ensuing year. Other officers are Mrs. Bill Watson, vice president; Mrs. Minor, recording secretary; Mrs. C. A. Butler, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Bostick, treasurer.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Mrs. Rufus Hart of Iota Psi Chapter, who told members of the state convention held in Odessa in May.

Individual awards were made by Mrs. Boren, outgoing president. Awards for the outstanding program of the year went to Mrs. Springer and Mrs. Bostick, who presented the April program titled "Self Expression In Hobbies." The awards for the outstanding social event went to Mrs. Williamson and Mrs. Minor, who were hostesses for the St. Patrick's party in March.

A salad plate was served. Decoration included a centerpiece of lillies and Bells of Ireland, while place favors were miniature bottles of hand cream tied with blue and yellow ribbons.

Eleven members and one guest attended.

Demonstration Given On Buttonhole Making

A demonstration on buttonhole making was given by Mrs. H. W. Rogers here this week in a meeting of Plainview 4-H club.

Those attending were Linda and Betty Staton, Ruby Marsh, Joyce and Karen Rogers and Mrs. Barbara Thornburg. Visitors were Connie and Jo Ann Rogers, Gayle Thornburg and Janie Macbeth.

Parrots, in speaking, can imitate women easier than men. Any comment?

YOU AND YOUR TEEN-AGER

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

One of the most perplexing parts of adolescence is that the boy or girl who has been so close to you through all the years of growing up, now suddenly isn't so close anymore.

Instead of seeking advice as much as before, he now begins to make independent decisions. Instead of confiding each thought with an urgency, sharing them no longer seems so necessary.

Much as the adolescent talks, he no longer seems to say anything. You are still pretty much in the dark about what went on at the party, whether their current lack of dating means a fight with the girl friends or boy friend or a new resolution to bear down on the homework. You can talk to him an hour and still be as unenlightened as before about what makes him look so glum lately.

At times when you ask too many plain questions he pulls a Garbo on you and informs you he "wants to be alone."

It's normal. As he grows older he is entitled to more personal privacy.

As a child he had none. You bathed him, supervised his eating habits, took him to the bathroom. Then he grew older and was able to look after many of his own needs and his dependence upon you become more for moral support and was mainly psychological rather than physical.

As the transition from an "older child" to a "young adult" takes place, he will become increasingly independent.

This is as it should be. Every adult should be capable of standing on his own two feet. No one admires a wishy-washy, uncertain adult.

Yet one cannot change from the dependent child to the competent adult overnight. It is a gradual process beginning in childhood and accelerated in adolescence.

It is not secrecy that asks that drawers not be pilfered or diaries not be read. It is not secrecy that asks to have some memories of a date that are unshared.

No, it is a normal need for privacy. Parents should respect this need and not take offense. It is normal as the cutting of teeth. You knew when that child was born that he was yours to love and to quied, but not to own. You've known all along that he belongs first to God and next to himself.

Your role is not to possess him, but to help him possess himself. If a certain amount of privacy is what it takes, let's not grumble or feel shut out. Feel the glow of parenthood, for yours is a ringside seat in watching the bud of a beloved life come into blossom.

ACE PITCHERS OF THE Abilene High Eagles for the past two seasons would have posted unbeaten seasons had it not b for the Tigers.

Altus Scott, ace of the 1956 Eagle staff, enjoyed a 13-1 season with the lone loss coming at the hands of Alan Snead and the Tigers by 3-2.

Then this past year, Kenny Schmidt lost only one game against 12 victories. Once again the Tigers were the spoilers of an unbeaten season for the Eagle ace. The Tigers pinned a 2-1 defeat on Schmidt behind Ronnie Baker's two-hitter.

Lady Fan Raises Question

A lady reader called coupla days ago wanting to know why we criticized the state tournament for picking Abilene's Jimmy Carpenter on the all-tournament team for his lack of hitting when, she said, we did the same thing on another player.

The lady asked:

"Did Ronnie Baker get any hits?"

If there be any others wondering about this, pitchers are not judged at all on their hitting ability, just pitching ability alone.

It helps, of course, if a pitcher can hit but if he's a good pitcher, he is a valuable player to a team whether he ever gets a hit or not.

Both Prince, Baker Deserving

The lady caller agreed that Baker is one of the finest pitchers in the state but then she said she believed another Tiger, pitcher Dwayne Prince, should have been picked on the all-tournament team too because of his no-hit pitching in relief and that he got a double.

Actually, we came close to voting for both Baker and Prince for all-tournament honors but with only two pitchers being picked, we figured it would look a little too biased.

Baker and Prince were both on equal with any of the pitchers we saw in action in the state tournament.

Well, we appreciated the call from the lady fan and we hope she understands why we voted for Baker even though he didn't get any hits.

The lady, we might add, heartily agreed with us in that Abilene's Carpenter certainly didn't deserve being named on the all-tournament team as one hit in six trips for an outfielder isn't what you would call an "all star."

Hot Pennant Races Bring On Brawls In Major Leagues

The Associated Press

How hot can the pennant races get in September, what with first place resting on percentage-point leads and player brawls bustin' out all over in June?

The Milwaukee Braves, following Manager Fred Haney's spring time directive to the letter, hustled and scrapped back into the National League lead, by eight percentage points, with a riotous victory over the Dodgers yesterday.

They made it with the help of Pittsburgh's Pirates as Manager Bobby Bragan's kids swept a four-game set from Cincinnati, skidding the Redlegs from first to third with a 3-2 victory. Philadelphia surged back into second place, six points ahead of the Redlegs, with an 8-1 victory that ended St. Louis' winning streak at eight games and plunked the Cardinals back to fifth—only 1½ games away from first and nine points back of fourth-place Brooklyn.

The American League had its moments too. Chicago and New York had a rip-roaring, 28-minute melee before the second-place Yankees trimmed the White Sox lead to four games with a 4-3 decision.

And Ted Williams tied a major league record, unloading three home runs in one game for the second time this season as the Boston Red Sox hammered Cleveland knocking the Indians back to fourth place. Detroit regained third, nipping Baltimore 2-1.

Kansas City smacked Washington 6-2 and the New York Giants clipped the Chicago Cubs 7-4 in the other games.

The Braves, who were last in the lead May 15, hustled back after blowing a 4-0 lead, built mainly on Billy Bruton's two home runs —and after a second-inning blowup triggered by a Don Drysdale pitch that caught Milwaukee shortstop Johnny Logan in the side. Both Drysdale and Logan were thrown out of the game after the free-for-all was put down.

Milwaukee finally won the series 3-1 with a four-run eighth inning against Dodger relief ace Clem Labine. Carl Sawatski's three-run homer bagged it. Bob Trowbridge won it with relief help.

Right-hander Jack Sanford chopped down the Cardinals with a nine-hitter. The Cardinal run, in the third, was the first off the 27-year-old rookie in 26 innings.

Bob Friend kept the Redlegs in a spin with a six-hitter, giving up two home runs by Don Hoak, to win his fourth while the Pirates were nailing Hal Jeffcoat. Gene Baker's sacrifice fly in the ninth did it.

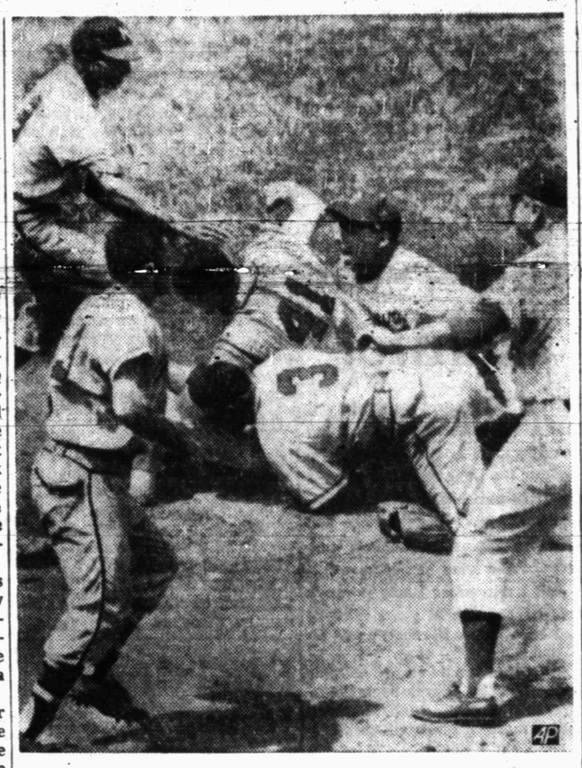

Chicago's Larry Doby and Walt Dropo and New York's Enos Slaughter and Billy Martin got the heave-ho at Chicago, after Doby downed Art Ditmar with a sweet left hook to the chin following a wild pitch by the Yankee right-hander that almost nicked the Sox owner, fielder A League President Will Harridge sat in on the fuss and said he'd release his findings today.

Jim Rivera homered for a 2-0 White Sox lead, but the Yankees then won the rubber game of the series with a three-run fifth on doubles by Gil McDougald and Mickey Mantle and singles by Bill Skowron and Andy Carey. Billy Pierce lost it.

Williams tagged loser Early Wynn for his first two homers, then got No. 17 off Bob Lemon. Tom Brewer, also supported by Frank Malzone's three RBIs, won his seventh.

Charlie Maxwell's sixth home run in six days and J. W. Porter's RBI double gave the Tigers two sixth-inning runs as right-hander John Tsitouris won in his first major league game.

Jack Urban, part of that multi-player deal with the Yankees last February, won his first major league start for the A's, who backed up his five-hitter with four home runs, all off Pete Ramos.

Several Fines Due On Yank, Chisox Fight

CHICAGO (AP)—It was Will Harridge's turn to swing today in the free-for-all fight between the Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees.

Harridge, president of the American League, planned to announce his verdict and pronounce the penalties during the morning.

He was a spectator at yesterday's battle royal between the belligerent Sox and the brawling Yankees — some of whose stars were fined $1,000 by their club for a recent New York night club altercation.

A wild pitch by Yank pitcher Art Ditmar in the first inning rang the gong for one of baseball's wildest fights. Larry Doby, who was at bat with mates on first and second base, threw himself to the ground to dodge the ball.

Ditmar moved in to protect the plate as catcher Elston Howard retrieved the ball. Doby and Ditmar exchanged words and Doby landed a left hook that sent Ditmar to a sitting position on the turf.

Bill Skowron, husky Yankee first baseman, grabbed Doby and threw him to the ground. Walt Dropo, towering White Sox first baseman, tried to pull Skowron from Doby. Enos Slaughter of the Yanks went after Dropo. Dropo drove a loping right to Slaughter's balding head.

Players of both teams, keyed up by their pennant contention, swarmed on the field and milled in a melee.

Peace was close at hand when Billy Martin, Yankee firebrand, said something to Doby and they had to be separated.

The punching — Slaughter said it was the sharpest he has seen in many years in the business—and the wrestling, arguing and confusion lasted 28 minutes.

Dropo, Doby, Martin and Slaughter were ejected from the game. Whitey Ford of the Yankees was banished later for riding Umpire John Stevens from the bench.

New York won the game 4-3 and cut the league lead of the White Sox to four games.

Four of the umpires in the Southern Assn., come from the so-called northern states and one is from Canada.

Crucial Game In City Loop On Tap

A crucial game is on tap in the City League tomorrow night when the leading Snyder Furniture takes on Sun Oil at Towle Memorial Park.

Game time will be 8 p.m.

The Furnituremen are leading the league with a 4-1 record but Sun can throw the race into a turmoil with a victory tomorrow night. Sun has a 3-2 record in third place and could pull even with the Furnituremen by winning tomorrow night's contest.

Hermleigh is in second place with 4-2 and if Sun defeats Snyder Furniture, a three-way tie for the lead will result.

Lee Gatewood or Ed Maguire will start on the mound for the Furnituremen tomorrow night while it will be either Wayne Whiteside or Don Ballard for Sun.

Sun holds the only victory over Snyder Furniture in league play. Whiteside blanked the Furnituremen earlier in the season, 6-0.

Bill Houston of Hermleigh is the City League's leading hitter among players who have been at bat officially 10 or more times. Houston has rapped out 10 hits in 19 trips for a healthy .526 mark.

Ralph Carpenter of Snyder Furniture is second with .438 while Carl Young of Sun and Snyder Furniture's Gatewood are next with .412 percentages.

Only 10 players in the league are hitting .300 or better.

Two players who haven't been at bat 10 times own terrific batting averages, Tommy Prichard and Neil Boyd of Snyder Furniture. Prichard, in his only start since joining the Furnituremen after duites with the Tigers, is batting 1.000 with four-for-four.

Boyd, another Tiger, has hit safely six times in eight trips for a .750 mark.

Dodgers Remain Unbeaten In Pony

In a battle of unbeatens, the Scurry Butane Dodgers tripped the Von Roeder Red Sox in Pony League action last night, 8-1.

The win was the fifth against no losses for the Dodgers while the Red Sox went down for the first time after three wins.

In the other league game last night, the Lions Club Phillies rolled to an 18-1 win over the Line and Line Yankees of Ira.

John Weaver went all the way in pitching the Dodger win over the Red Sox. Weaver gave up four hits and struck out 12.

Red Scarborough led the Dodger's 10-hit attack off four Red Sox pitchers with three-for-four.

The Dodgers scored all the runs necessary for Weaver in the second inning when they tallied three times to open the night's scoring. The Red Sox came back in the bottom of the second to score their only run as Weaver shut the door on the Sox the remaining distance.

In the nightcap, it was strictly no contest from the start as the Phillies pushed across five runs in the first and then added six runs in each the second and third innings.

Weldon Ware, Roland Key and Bob Pena each got two hits apiece to lead the Phillies at the plate.

SWC, TIL In Huddle

AUSTIN (AP)—The Southwest Conference and the Texas Interscholastic League tomorrow discuss athletic recruiting and the possibility of the league waiving its amateur rule to allow schoolboys to sign letters of intent without loss of eligibility.

The league will be represented by five members of its advisory council, who will merely listen and have no authority to act. They will report to the council.

The confidence asked for the meeting and the letter of intent is the major topic, league officials said.

The league now holds that a boy signing a letter of intent is receiving "valuable consideration" and thus loses his high school eligibility because it violates the amateur rule.

Little Brown Church Plans Celebration

NASHUA, Iowa (AP)—The centennial of a sweet old song and the love story behind it are being celebrated this weekend at the Little Brown Church in the Vale.

It was 100 years ago today—June 14, 1857—that Dr. William S. Pitts sat down and dashed off the song for which the little country church near here is named.

Since its first public performance at the dedication of the Church in the Vale" has been sung countless thousands of times by Protestant congregations and music groups throughout the world.

Its universal appeal, says the Rev. Glenn Utterback, present minister of the small country church near this northeast Iowa community, lies in its warmth, suggestive of serene and solid religious faith.

"It makes us think of our church and our God, and draws us a little closer to the things that are real and eternal," the Rev. Mr. Utterback says.

The centennial observance will be held Sunday—a daylong series of religious services, prayer and music.

Dr. Pitts might never have written the song if a girl he met in Madison, Wis., hadn't moved to the tinty frontier settlement of Fredericksburg, 15 miles east of here, with her family.

Pitts, then a music teacher, was on the way to visit the girl, Ann Elize Warren, and ask her parents' permission to wed when he first saw the place where the church now stands.

"The spot . . . was a setting of rare beauty." Dr. Pitts wrote in later life. "There was no church there but the spot was there waiting for it.

"When back in my home I wrote the song . . . This was June 14, 1857. I put the manuscript away. In the spring of 1862 I returned to Iowa and settled at Fredericksburg."

At that time the site which inspired Dr. Pitts was in the settlement of Bradford, which has now largely disappeared. Dr. Pitts conducted a singing school at Bradford Academy.

When the church was completed in 1864, Pitts sang "The Little Brown Church in the Vale" at its dedication. Soon afterward the song was published by H. M. Higgins in Chicago.

Tradition says Pitts received only $25 for the song and that he used the money to help pay for his entrance to a Chicago medical school. While he was in school his wife stayed home in Fredericksburg, scraping and saving to make ends meet. On his graduation he returned to Fredericksburg where he practiced medicine until 1906.

Mrs. Pitts died in 1886 at the age of 50. Dr. Pitts lived until 1918, when he died at the home of his son William Stanley Pitts in Brooklyn, N.Y. His body now lies in a cemetery at Fredericksbrug near wheree his wife is bured.

ALL MIXED-UP

Judith Anderson To Play Hamlet

By INEZ ROBB

Are men necessary?

Think twice before you answer this, in an age in which babies come in test tubes as well as cabbages.

As one who is just crazy about men, it saddens me to see my sex moving in and taking over preserves once sacred to man. As men retreat further and further into the twilight zone, abandoning without a struggle the fields they once monopolized, it alarms me to read that les girls are putting their brand on one of the greatest stage roles in Thespain history, that of Hamlet.

No wonder the Dane is melancholy!

Now it is Judith Adnerson, probably the greatest dramatic actress of our day, who has announced her intention to climb into doublet and hose and play Hamlet during the coming theatrical season. Modern phychiatry is agreed, after much posthumous analyzing, that Hamlet was a crazy, mixed-up kid. But surely not THAT mixed-up!

If Miss Anderson's plans come to fruition, hers will be the second all-girl Hamlet to thread the boards within a twelve-month, which, in the unsolicited opion of this curmudgeon, is two too many.

Earlier this year, the Irish actress, Sioban McKenna, essayed 'Hamlet" in an off-Broadway production. The general concensus was that it was not sufficiently far off.

A spectator at the McKenna assault on the Dane reports that when the Irish mavournin cried to poor, addled Ophelia, "Get thee to a nunnery!" a disgruntled customer muttered, "And keep her company!"

And I remember Uncle Horace's trenchant comment years after he had seen Sarah Bernhardt as "L'Aiglon."

"In tights and as Napoleon's heir," he said, "Sarah packed considerably more in her knapsack than a marshal's baton."

Well, sir, I would dearly love to see Sir Laurence Olivier in "Romeo and Juliet," but not as Juliet. And when I go to see him in "Macbeth," I want my money back if he appears as Mrs.

I am crazy about Clark Gable, but the moment he plays Camille, I quit. Ray Bolger as "Charley's Aunt" is just dandy. And for my money, Bert Lahr is a greater Queen Victoria than Helen Hayes. But fun is fun, and my idea of it doesn't include Burt Lancaster as Desdemona. T. C. Jones is sensational as Talu. But spare me from Frankie Sinatra as Cleopatra!

But if the girls insist on getting their mitts and their teeth into the fattest theatrical roles ever written for men, it will serve them jolly well right if Rex Harrison turns up one day as Rosalind or Candida. Or if Tom Ewell decides to appear as Lear's three daughters.

In opera, which truly the art of the impossible wedded to the impossible, mezzp-sopranos are always masquerading as gay blades in hot water, where I would leave them.

People expect that sort of impersonation in opera. But in the theatre, No. Granted there is nothing like a dame. But not as Hamlet.

If I were permitted one short phrase of advice to great ladies of the theatre determined to get into doublet and hose, it would be: Lay off, Mrs. MacDuff!

Many States Are Lashed By Twisters

By The Associated Press

Rain clouds stretched across most of the nation today and more severe weather appeared possible for some central and eastern sections.

The severe weather which continued to pound areas in the midcontinent spread eastward into the Ohio Valley and the lower Great Lakes region last night.

Tornadoes, funnel clouds and severe windstorms were reported in several states, including Kansas, Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia, Tennessee, Arkansas, Nebraska, New York and Pennsylvania. No casualties were reported in the violent weather but damage was extensive.

Tornado and severe thunderstorm warnings were posted during the early morning hours for parts of Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa. A twister was reported at Great Bend, Kan.

The Weather Bureau reported tornadoes during the night in the Charleston, W.Va., area, across the southern outskirts of Damascus, in central Arkansas, and in the rural sections of Monroe, Neb. Funnel clouds were spotted near Pontiac and Ann Arbor, Mich.

Three Are Killed In Headon Crash

GUTHRIE (AP) — Three persons were killed and four others injured yesterday in a headon collision just west of here.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Louis Warren of Portland, Ark., and Mrs. Leora Ballad Bachman, 40, of Dumont, Tex.

Joe and Emily Warren, children of the dead couple, were seriously injured. Mickey and Ronnie Bachman, children of Mrs. Bachman, were listed in critical condition.

Report On Bombs

LONDON (AP) — The Daily Telegraph today said Britain now can produce one megaton H-Bomb per month. A megaton is equivalent to a million tons of TNT. In addition, the newspaper said, the British can turn out "at least one, and probably several" ordinary atomic bombs in a week.

Agreement Reached On AP Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press and the AFL-CIO Commercial Telegraphers Union reached agreement today on terms of a new contract.

The settlement came after 14 hours of continuous negotiations conducted by Commissioner Walter A. Maggiolo of the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service.

CTU members operate and maintain Teletype and Wirephoto equipment in the offices of The Associated Press, worldwide news cooperative. Approximately 650 employes are in the union. The contract with them expired last Monday but had been twice extended to last midnight.

The new agreement provides for a one-year contract with a money package averaging $4.62 weekly per employe. Other contract provisions were agreed upon previously.

Harry S. Leimbach, general chairman of AP Division 14 of the CTU, said that "although the members had authorized a strike, a union committee agreed to the settlement in the interest of continued good labor relations with The Associated Press."

Maggiolo said the settlement was reached "subject to ratification by members of the union."

Road Group Holds Meet

HOUSTON (AP)— The Western Assn. of State Highway Officials yesterday warned Congress that expansion of the interstate highway system might slow up the current construction program.

A resolution passed at the final session of the group's 36th annual meeting, urged Congress to hold the system to 41,000 miles until available funds for the project are spent.

Another resolution asked Congress to prohibit use of federal funds to pay for removal of utility facilities from highway rights-of-way.

William E. Willey, Arizona State Highway engineer, was elected president of the association. He succeeds D. C. Greer of the Texas Highway Department.

Storekeepers Taking Wooden Nickels Now

WELLSVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Storekeepers are taking wooden nickels here these days.

Centennial observance officials have distributed wooden souvenirs in five-cent denominations to business places. They sell for a nickel and will be accepted in trade.

Anyone who doesn't want the wooden nickels may redeem them at a bank. Proceeds from sale of the souvenirs will help promote the centennial celebration.

Lands In Hospital

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Louis Ater, 50, an elevator repairman, thought he was in the basement when he jumped into an elevator shaft. He wasn't. He was on the first floor. Now he's in the hospital with a fractured hip.

Classes will be from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. daily, according to Mrs. Inez Brown, general chairman. Registration will be held in Sunday School classes this weekend.

Workers include Mrs. John Boren, three-year-olds; Mrs. Dave Harlin, kindergarten; Mrs. Bob Dawson, primary; and Mrs. W. D. McNair, juniors.

Church Has Branch Sunday School Here

The Colonial Hill Baptist Church Sunday will open a branch Sunday school in the W. W. Terry Store building at 2701 Twenty-fifth Street, the Lamesa highway.

The Rev. Jimmie Nelson, pastor, said the branch Sunday school is being established with special emphasis on serving an area north of the Lamesa highway and west of Deep Creek to the area around radio station KSNY. A survey of the area shows about 100 prospects, he said.

G. C. Coleman will be superintendent of the branch school, and there will be seven or eight workers.

Brooks Named To Church Committee

C. Dale Brooks, minister at the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ here, has been named to a steering committee of the Christian Chronicle Crusade, a world-wide newspaper for churches of Christ published in Abilene.

The newspaper is on a national subscription campaign during June for the Christian Chronicle, which reports work of churches of Christ in the U. S. and throughout the world.

Graham Ruining Tavern Business

NEW YORK (AP)—Saloons around Madison Square Garden are having a slack season. Whatever Billy Graham is reviving, it's not the tavern trade.

"He's killing it," said bartender Joseph Crotty, jerking his thumb toward the arena where Graham is preaching nightly. "Things are dead. It's the same all up and down the avenue."

Before and after the evangelist's meetings, the streets swarm thick with crowds, but behind the neon-lit plate glass of the bars, stools go empty.

"We're getting nothing at all these days," said Victor Scimeca, manager of another tavern. "When there's a fight or hockey game or anything else at the Garden, we're packed. But this. . . ."

He shook his head, frowning.

Some of the bar help in the establishments lining 8th Avenue and sidestreets have been laid off, particularly table waitresses.

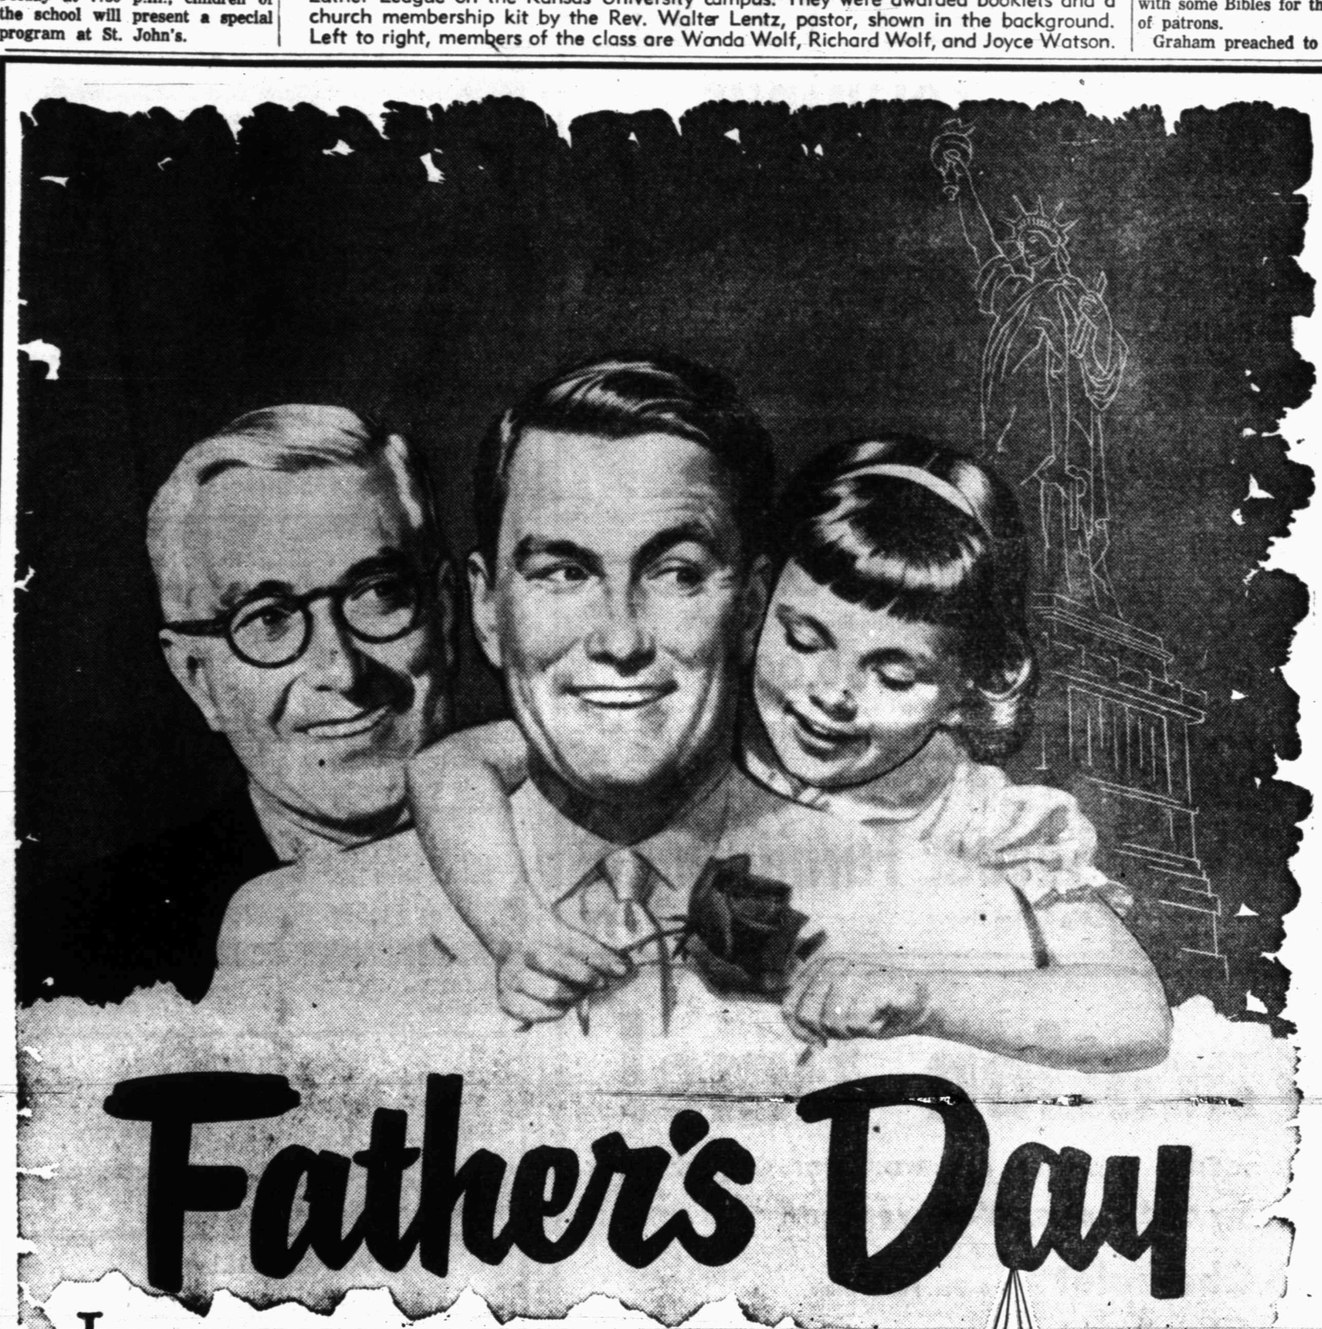

At a corner cigar store, Frank Goldner, the operator, said they "don't smoke much either. Most of them just buy candy, mints or books." Goldner has stocked up with some Bibles for the new kind of patrons.

Graham preached to 17,000 people last night, taking his text from Acts 16:12-34, and dwelling on this passage: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved. . . ."

What is necessary, he said, is not just an intellectual assent, or a recitation of platitudes, or a mere emotion, but a definite, clear-cut "act of the will" in accepting Christ as "Lord of your life and savior."

Father's Day

In the memory of every child is enshrined the thoughtful and devoted, self-sacrificing, happy comradeship of a GOOD FATHER. It doesn't make any difference what your trade is, you are all the FATHER your child knows. Dad doesn't ask for a special day but let's give him one . . . pour on the attention and season it with tenderness. Surprise him! Catch him with the guards of age and dignity down.

Let him be the center of all your plans on this one big day . . . Father's Day. He may be gruff, and steady, and firm but he is an easy victim of love's attack. An x-ray picture of his heart would reveal true concern you never dreamed could be there.

Take him to church this Father's Day. Gladden his heart this one day by making all your plans his plans.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCHGOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

CHURCH NEWS

New Birth? Water Baptism?

ARE THE NEW BIRTH AND WATER BAPTISM RELATED? Jesus said, "Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God." (Jno.3:5). It is readily seen that there is one birth but two elements—water and Spirit. The new birth is similar to that in the physical realm—a begettal and a delivery. In the spiritual realm there is a begettal, "Being born (begotten, A.S.V.) again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth forever . . . And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you." (1Pet.1:23-25). In the spiritual realm there is the delivery, "He that believeth (the begettal) and is baptized (the delivery) shall be saved; but he that believeth not (absence of a begettal) shall be damned." (Mk.16:16). ". . . but he that believeth not is condemned already, . . . " (Jno.3:18b). This clearly shows that baptism is not the new birth but it is one of the elements of the new birth. Hence, the new birth and baptism in water are related.

DOES THIS MAKE BAPTISM ESSENTIAL TO SALVATION? Jesus said, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." (Mk.16:15,16). "He that believeth on him is not condemned: . . . " (Jno.3:18a). Does the Lord contradict Himself in the above two statements? Again, "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: . . . " (Jno. 3:36). There is no contradiction; the word "believeth" in the last two passages is used in a broad sense—including repentance and baptism. A good illustration of this is seen in the conversion of the jailor (Acts 16:30-34). His question, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" received the reply, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house. And they spake unto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house." Why preach the "word of the Lord"? Faith comes by hearing the word of God (Rom.10:17). After the jailor "washed their stripes" (showing his repentance) he "was baptized." He brought the preachers into his house and set food before them, "and rejoiced, believing in God with all his house." The term, "believing in God" is a broad useage, including repentance and baptism. In short, he was "born of water and of the Spirit"; there was the begettal and the delivery. He was then in the "kingdom of God." Baptism is not a church ordinance; it is a command of the Lord's ... Spirit (Acts 2:38).
