"Fate Of The World At Stake," Roosevelt Tells Hitler

Dramatic Plea Again Is Sent To Nazi Chief

Second Appeal For Peace Is Addressed To Hitler Alone; Conference Is Suggested

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27—President Roosevelt made a dramatic second appeal for peace in Europe tonight, addressing it to Adolf Hitler alone.

"Present negotiations still stand open," he said. "They can be continued if you will give the word."

Conference Suggested

Emphasizing that only by avoiding a halt in the discussions could war be averted, Mr. Roosevelt suggested that if direct discussions failed to break the present ominous deadlock, a conference of all nations directly interested might be held "in some neutral spot in Europe."

For these negotiations, he made it plain, the United States would "assume no obligations." Later officials close to the chief executive said they wished to make it most emphatic that the United States was committing itself in no way "past, present or future."

Atmosphere Of Tension

The president's appeal was issued in an atmosphere of tension, to reporters summoned at 9 p. m. (Central standard time) to the state department. Mr. Roosevelt had been in consultation throughout the evening with Secretary of State Hull and Undersecretary Welles.

Michael McDermott, chief of the department's division of information read the communciation to the eager newsgatherers.

He refrained from adding any comment and answered all inquiries by reading the related passages from the president's cablegram. He did, however, volunteer the remark that it was sent only to Hitler.

First Appeal Monday

Mr. Roosevelt issued his first peace appeal yesterday. It, like the sec- negotiations to avert a resort to negotiations to avert a resort to force. It went to Germany, Czechoslovakia, France and Great Britain.

All but Germany responded enthusiastically with a pledge to WANT to go to college a lifetime?

You could study 91 years at Texas Technological college without repeating a course.

That point was brought out by Dr. James M. Gordon, chairman of the executive committee, in a convocation of students and faculty Tuesday morning in the gymnasium.

Biggest Day In Fair's History Said Possible

Children Of South Plains To Be Guests; Attendance Of 50,000 Being Predicted

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

THIS is the Big Day of the Silver Jubilee Panhandle-South Plains fair.

Chances are at least even that it may be the biggest day from stand-

DROPS FROM 1937

Attendance at the Panhandle-South Plains fair Tuesday, Lubbock day, was 17,718, 2,604 less than the attendance on Lubbock day last year. The 1937 attendance on Lubbock day of 20,322 set an all-time high for that day. The opening day this year, with an attendance of 11,612, was an all-time high. Total attendance for the first two days of this year was 29,330 as compared with 31,057 for the first two days of last year.

point of attendance in the entire 25 years' history of the fair.

It is to be Kid's day and they will be here from the remotest spots of the South Plains.

May Reach 50,000

Should ideal weather continue, the attendance likely will range between 40,000 and 50,000—may even exceed the 50,000 mark for the first time on any day in the history of the fair. The present record stands at 47,390, set on Children's day in 1935. Last year's Kid's day turnout was 44,540 for second place. Not in five years has the figure fallen below 40,000.

Thousands of them will be here in their school buses, more than 100 of which were in parking spaces last year. Many schools of the area have declared a whole or half holiday and most of the others will dismiss from classes those pupils planning to attend. Lubbock schools will dismiss at noon.

Bands Are To Be Here

Several groups likely will be accompanied by their bands and will play at various times and places on the grounds. Some will broadcast from KFYO's fairgrounds studio. One band which definitely will be here is the brilliantly costumed assembly from Slaton High school. Expectation is that Lamesa High school bandsmen will be here also, wearing for the first time their new-

Relief Problem Is Discussed By Governors

(By The Associated Press)

TULSA, Sept. 27—Relief problems entered the agenda of the thirtieth annual governor's conference today and Governor Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina recommended cooperation between federal and state governments in carrying out the relief works program.

The conference was transferred here today after a motor trip from Oklahoma City.

Of Great Importance

Governor Johnston declared that "cooperation between the state and federal governments was of great importance in working out successful and beneficial projects, but there is, however, a serious question in my mind as to whether or not the federal government could or should continue this works program which was begun as an emergency activity."

He said state planning in works programs was necessary in order to conserve or wisely develop the resources of the state in which they operate.

To Safeguard Resources

Governor Henry Horner of Illinois made known that in that state where important discoveries of crude oil have held the attention of the oil business during the past year, the legislature will be asked at the session beginning in January to pass legislation safeguarding the state's resources in oil.

Governor Walter Huxman of Kansas declared that present production methods are "ruinous" to many small producers of crude oil and he declared that the national requirements for crude should be allocated among the various producing states just as at present the production of a state is allocated among its various pools.

Tonight the governors were guests at an elaborate state banquet.

Party Factions Find Harmony

(By The Associated Press)

SANTA FE, N. M., Sept. 27—State Democratic Chairman John E. Miles was nominated for governor by acclamation by the Democratic state convention tonight.

Rep. J. J. Dempsey similarly was nominated for reelection to congress.

A thunderous ovation greeted the nomination of the state chairman who never had announced his candidacy and whose bid until tonight was opposed by a group led by Gov. Clyde Tingley.

Way Is Cleared

A declaration by Tingley that he would never join the Republicans or any other party restored harmony to New Mexico Democratic ranks and cleared the way for the state nominating convention to select State Chairman Miles.

Tingley spoke before more than 2,000 delegates after the state central committee had completed action on nine contests by seating both delegations from Bernavillo

School Tax Rate Is Set For 95 Cents

The tax rate for the Lubbock Independent school district was reset at 95 cents per $100 valuation at a meeting of the school board of trustees Tuesday night.

Members of the board met in the office of Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, president, in the Lubbock sanitarium.

The rate was set after the valuations were estimated to be $24,500,000, school authorities said. The tax roll, however, has not been completed.

The rate is the same as for 1937, it was explained.

Plan To Settle Truck Drivers Strike In New York Rejected

NEW YORK, Sept. 27. (AP)—Employers for the second time rejected today Mayor La Guardia's compromise agreement to settle the citywide strike of 15,000 truck drivers and helpers. The truckmen's union has accepted the mayor's plan.

Piecemeal settlement of the strike continued, however, as several individual operators—most of them small—signed contracts with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs (AFL) on the mayor's terms.

BOND ISSUE APPROVED

BIG SPRING, Sept. 27. (AP)—A $275,000 municipal bond issue for water plant improvements was approved here today by a vot of 483 to 116. The sum matches an approved federal grant of $225,000.

President Acts To Halt Strike

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27—President Roosevelt asked two veteran arbiters and a former administration executive today to find a solution for the current wage dispute between major railroads and 19 employee unions.

Invoking a seldom-used section of the railway labor act in an attempt to avoid a nation-wide strike, Mr. Roosevelt created this commission to study the controversy and report to him by Oct. 27.

Commission Appointed

Chief Justice Walter P. Tracy of the North Carolina supreme court, chairman; Professor Harry A. Millis of the University of Chicago; Dean James M. Landis of the Harvard law school, former securities commission chairman.

President Roosevelt acted less than 24 hours after the unions announced in Chicago they would call a strike if the railroads put a 15 per cent wage cut into effect Saturday.

Invocation of the railway labor act postpones at least until Nov. 26 both the pay reduction and the strike. The law requires the emergency board to "report respecting such dispute" 30 days after its appointment. The status quo is maintained during that period and for 30 days after the report is made.

Vain Search For The Body Of Woman Made By Officers

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 27 (AP)—Police officers dug vainly for nine hours into a sand dune on the beach near Ingleside today for the body of a woman Clifford Wheeler, a negro, said he saw slain and buried.

Wheeler led officers to the spot where he said Joe D. Ball, suicide tavern operator of Elmendorf, killed a woman believed to be Minnie Gebhardt, missing for 18 months. The negro said he was forced to help bury the nude body after the woman was shot through the head.

Twenty Years After

Garrison To Be New Head Of State Police

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 27. — A tall East Texan who was a law enforcement officer while in his 'teens—Homer Garrison, jr.—today became director of the state police.

The public commission announced Garrison's promotion from assistant director to director of the public safety department, succeeding the late Col. H. H. Carmichael.

Command All Divisions

He will command the Texas rangers, highway patrol, anti-narcotics bureau, identification division, driver's license bureau and other divisions of the extensive police force.

Born in Lufkin, Garrison became an Angelina county deputy sheriff at the age of 19. He joined the state organization in 1929 as a license and weight inspector, entered the highway patrol upon its organization in 1930 and soon won the rank of captain. He was made assistant director of the safety department in 1935.

No Assistant Chosen

William H. Richardson, jr. of Austin, chairman of the commission, said no consideration had been given to selection of a new assistant.

Garrison has won national recognition in law enforcement work and is a colonel on Governor James V. Allred's staff.

Richardson said Garrison's appointment would insure continuation of department policies set up by Carmichael who died of a heart attack last week.

Reports Say Nazis To Strike Today

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Reports circulated in diplomatic quarters tonight that Adolf Hitler had made a new threat that Czechoslovakia must accept his demands by Wednesday at 2 p. m. (7 a. m. C.S.T.) or he would act.

The reports could not be confirmed.

(Informed sources with official connections in Berlin denied foreign news agency reports that there was any intention to mobilize by that time if a favorable Czechoslovak answer was not received. It also was denied in Berlin that the German radio had announced Prague must accept Hitler's terms by tomorrow or Germany would mobilize Thursday.

Opposite Report Denied

(Previously official spokesmen in Berlin denied an opposite report that Hitler had extended the deadline beyond Oct. 1 as "pure speculation".)

(The French foreign office, also hearing the report of an advanced deadline, cautioned that they had no confirmation of it.)

The reports circulating in London diplomatic quarters were that Hitler had given his warning to Sir Nevile Henderson, the British ambassador, in Berlin.

Proposals Said Rejected

Connected with the report was that Prime Minister Chamberlain's personal emissary, Sir Horace Wilson, had taken two proposals to Hitler—to speed up cession of the Sudeteland by negotiation to the reich, or to call a European con-

Students Name New Officials

After attending a general convocation at which they heard a welcome address by Dr. James M. Gordon, students of Texas Technological college elected class officials and nominated a business manager Tuesday morning.

Congressman George Mahon made a short address at the general convocation. Dean of Men James G. Allen, chairman of the convocation committee, presided. Dr. Gordon chairman of the executive committee, discussed history of Tech and desirable qualities of a college, repeatedly rousing applause of students.

Huffman Is Nominated

Harold Huffman of Meadow was the only student nominated for position of business manager, a new office created by the revised student constitution adopted last spring. James Huffman, president of the student body, said Harold Huffman would be declared officially the business manager probably at the first meeting of the council.

After the general meeting students met in class groups and elected the following:

Crosbyton Voters Today Will Decide On School Bonds

(By Staff Correspondent)

CROSBYTON, Sept. 27.—A bond election to vote $12,500 for rebuilding an old grade school building here has been called by the school board for Sept. 28, J. D. Tussy, president, announced. The election was called on the petition of a group of taxpayers.

A PWA grant amounting to $10,225 would be added to take care of the expense of rebuilding the grade structure, erected about a decade ago.

Enrollment this year was so far ahead of recent years that the old structure, condemned as unfit for use, had to have several rooms set aside for classwork. The board decided to raze it, salvage as much material as possible for the new building and attempt to get a bond issue approved.

The district has $127,000 in bonds outstanding at present.

Hitler's Concern For Sudeten Germans Called Camouflage

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27. (AP)—Vladimir Hurban, Czechoslovak minister, who has just returned from Europe, said tonight that Chancellor Hitler's concern for Sudeten Germans was "sheer camouflage."

"It just happens that we are standing in his way to expansion through central Europe to eastern Europe," the diplomat said at a press conference.

Man Wanted For Forgery At Snyder Emits A Disgusted "Aw, Hell!" After Spending Night In Jail And Finding Cell Locked

(By The Associated Press)

FLOYDADA Sept. 27—"I'm broke and would like to have a place to spend the night," said a man yesterday to Fred Clark, Floyd county sheriff.

"Yeah, I'll fix you up," was the sheriff's reply and a cell was found for him.

A long-distance telephone call to the sheriff at Snyder revealed the man was wanted in Scurry county on a forgery charge.

"Say, you like to forgot me! I want out!" the man greeted Clark who did not go to his cell until late this morning.

Clark informed him he would be released—to officers from Snyder.

"Aw, hell!" was the man's comment as he returned to the bunk in his cell to await officers from Scurry county who accepted custody of him later today.

Predictions On War Outcome

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27—Experts here predicted today that if Europe plunged into a general war, no nation would emerge a victor.

Based on the assumption that Germany, Italy and perhaps other nations would battle England, France, Russia, Czechoslovakia, and some smaller countries, a survey of highly informed opinion showed virtually unanimous agreement on the following predictions:

Czechs Would Be Battered

Czechoslovakia would be battered into submission long before effective aid could be offered by England, France and Russia.

Germany, with Italy and any other allies, would succumb eventually to superior resources in a war of attrition like that of 1914-18.

The nominal victors, however, then would face economic and social chaos.

TRIBUTE TO LEGION

EXCERPT from an address delivered by Harry M. Warner, president of Warner Bros., Pictures, Inc., at a studio luncheon tendered to American Legion officers and other guests during the recent convention in Los Angeles:

"Within the industry I am known as a man who calls a spade a spade. I tell you Catholic, Protestant, Jew or whatever faith you may observe, that we must all be Americans first, last and always. Don't just say you are an American. Act like an American. Be proud of America!

"If this be flag waving I, for one, am proud of it. We need more flag waving. We need a renewed consciousness of our national life, of the blessings we enjoy under our flag, of the security we feel in our homes, figuratively and actually, about everything and place that we hold dear."

These are the days when we Americans should consider how much peace means to us. How can anyone dare think of our country going to war when he has only to look back a brief 20 years to remember the struggle that set a world in turmoil and that stirred hates and prejudices that are still rampant.

AT THE FAIR

WHAT'S in a name? Mrs. Mattie Luster won first in the translucent china division; William Rust of Slaton won the old firearms display and Joe Anne Crabtree of Levelland was winner in plum jelly exhibit.

Things to see in the woman's building at the fair: Blue ribboned fancy divinity drops that will make your mouth water . . . display of angel food roll and other sponge cakes that are tea rings, but don't look if you're hungry . . . extremely pleasing portrait of a young woman painted by Mrs. Sam Newman . . . the interesting deep-eyed portrait that won first place over Mrs. Newman's painting and a hammered silver plate by Agatha Turner and prize winning art work of Agatha's little sister, Elfleda.

Practical work, play and house costumes, scrapbooks, bedroom decorations, bedspreads and quilts made by 4-H club girls . . . the huge display of crocheted bedspreads and tablecloths, knitted apparel, colorful afghans and quilts in the textile division . . . the very clever booths arranged by home demonstration clubs of 14 counties.

One is an old-fashioned school room scene depicting new-fashioned ways of packing and preparing children's school lunches . . . one tells what can be done if someone in your family doesn't like milk . . . One tells how to diet and 11 others likewise tell interesting stories at a glance . . . the cape cod weather glass in the antiques division, as well as an 1876 plate celebrating the 100th anniversary of the birth of the nation, the ancient firearms including a Philadelphia Derringer of the type used in the assassination of Lincoln.

The efficiency and good nature with which Miss Delia Wilkinson looks after everything and the Lubbock Garden club and South Plains Dahlia society women keep the flower division looking fresh . . . the "pampas grass" which Prof. O. B. Howell Monday said wasn't pampas grass but which is beautiful anyway . . . the many, many people whom you don't know or whom you haven't seen in a long time . . . and, if you'll pardon our modesty, the blue ribboned crosses you've given yours truly from time to time.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

TECH and high school students might be more interested in some of these questions on social usage than the rest of us.

1. Is it all right for a girl to invite a boy with whom she has had only a few dates, to be her guest at a club dance?

2. Should a stag dance only with one or two of the most popular girls?

3. When a man takes a girl to a dance, is he responsible for seeing that all her dances are taken?

4. Is it customary for a man to have as his supper partner the girl he took to the dance?

5. Who says "I'm sorry" for a misstep while dancing, the girl or the man—or the one whose fault it was?

What would you do if—

You are a girl who has a date for a dance with a man who is a very poor dancer—

(a) Dance at least the first and last dances, and the ones before and after intermission—or supper—with him?

(b) Dance just the first dance with him?

(c) Sit out all the dances you have with him?

ANSWERS

1. Yes.
2. No.
3. Yes.
4. Yes.
5. Always the man.

Film Industry Will Be Hurt

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 27. (AP)—The financial fate of America's billion-dollar motion picture industry, trade experts fear, lies hidden in the war clouds over Europe.

Movies, of all United States exports, are among the most vulnerable if a foreign explosion occurs.

One studio trade authority estimated today that the international market is now relied on for 50 per cent of a picture's earnings. And that this market might be slashed in half by the outbreak of hostilities.

Now It Is Grown

He pointed out that the infant film industry of 1914-1918 had so many opportunities for expansion that it was hardly crippled by those war years. Now it is grown up, jarred by the slightest disturbance of the world economic balance.

Hollywood's foreign revenues actually improved as the 1937-38 recession cut theater attendance here by as much as 25 per cent, statistics show.

In lands where the scarcity of gold made it difficult for Hollywood to get its money out, companies traded their celluloid products for wheat, oil, or other commodities—almost like primitive barter.

The British empire has been Hollywood's best movie customer, but even Italy, whose entire resources have been mobilized to build the fascist state, continues to pay to see American screen entertainment.

Final Touches On Summer's Paving Will Start Friday

Final touches on Lubbock's summer paving campaign, which will have extended 119 blocks or approximately 11 miles, will begin Friday with hot-topping of 21 blocks.

Work Friday will be from Avenue M to Avenue Q on Eighteenth street, from M to Q on Ninth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth, and from T to College on Seventh street, said the office of Marlin R. Smith, jr., city engineer.

The distance of approximately 11 miles is arrived at as an estimate by considering an average of 11 blocks to equal one mile.

The summer's work has made for one of the most progressive paving programs in the history of Lubbock, and has provided a great amount of employment. WPA labor, working approximately 100 men in each of two shifts, 105 hours a month for each individual, has been employed.

Club Attendances Smaller Tuesday

A result of Lubbock Day at the fair probably was the smaller than usual attendances at women's study club meetings Tuesday afternoon. Seven organizations met in regular session.

The former Sunshine circle of the Child Conservation league, meeting with Mrs. D. K. Pepper of 1631-A Ninth street, voted to change its name to the Sunshine Child Study club. The change was made because the club no longer is affiliated with the conservation league. The program consisted of two talks, "Mothers Need To Get Together" by Mrs. Clyde Tatum and "Keeping Our Children Fit" by Mrs. Ben Eskridge.

The hostess served refreshments to those on the program and Mesdames Clay Anderson, Joe Baldridge, Charles Bartlett, C. H. Fortune, A. D. Montgomery, C. C. Perryman, D. R. Patterson, W. M. Ryan, and C. V. Sandlin.

The youngsters are to be admitted to the grounds without charge and the day's program is designed particularly for them. That will be true of the Sheesley carnival attractions, the management announced, and will be true also of the grandstand rodeo and fireworks program.

The Ramsey Flying Clouds, a featured and special grandstand attraction presented by two boys and three girls, will present a roping and fancy riding act which has proved the most popular of their repertoire.

Special reminder was given by fair association officials, however, that the grandstand admission of 25 cents must continue to apply to all. The cost of the rodeo, it was explained, will not permit the waiving of the admission charge even for the kids.

Special guests of honor along with the youngsters will be the residents of 15 towns of the area.

Rodeo Is Great Attraction

The rodeo further established itself as an even greater fair feature than had been anticipated when it high-lighted Tuesday's program, which was dedicated to residents of Lubbock, Idalou Shallowater.

ubbock participated in the day's gram in a big way. Most of the ness district was under lock key through the afternoon. ools likewise were recessed. The it was a grandstand crowd which approached capacity, and a jammed carnival midway.

horty Matlock of Clovis and Jack on of Tularosa, N. M., stole a rous share of the individual rs in the night's rodeo events, lock placing first in calf roping he fast time of 15 seconds, and itson taking top money in bulldogging in the relatively faster time of 21.3 seconds. Hitson's time was 3.7 seconds faster than the best on opening night.

Jack Young Is Second

Jack Young of Crane was second in calf roping and Brown Todd of Water Valley was third.

In bulldogging, Hobart Flowers of Duncan, Okla., was second and Adolph Abner of Beaumont was third.

Johnny Williams of Fort Worth, Dude Colbert of Jumbo, Okla., and Eddie Cane, address not given, were one-two-three in bronc riding.

Roman Riding Jump

Marvin and Ray Ramsey appeared in a spectacular Roman riding jump. Ray Ramsey and his mount, White Cloud, then appeared in their dramatic tableaux, "Tragedy of the Plains." Both acts went over big with the crowd.

A loser who won in the rodeo was Charles Brodnax, only casualty of the contests thus far. His shoulder was injured, not seriously, when thrown from a bronc Monday night. He was announced Tuesday night as the winner of a cowboy hat offered by Leslie B. Lynch to the performer experiencing the worst luck.

The rodeo performance, taken as a whole, was considerably faster than on Monday night, and M. B. Fanning, secretary, said that it should be even better tonight. The grounds were thoroughly sprinkled, laying the dust which was an objectionable feature opening night.

Tuseday was marked by the virtual completion of judging in the agricultural department. Awards remain to be decided in some of the individual exhibit classes.

Lubbock High school received first place in the vocational agricultural division of the education department.

Competing in the department were 21 schools, more than in any other in the fair. O. T. Ryan, assistant professor of agriculture and teacher trainer at Texas Technological college, is department superintendent and R. L. Burdette instructor of the winning group.

Win $30 Cash Prize

The victory carried with it a $30 cash prize.

Second place and $25 went to Idalou, of which Coleman Cowan is vocational agriculture teacher. Third and fourth places and $20 each were won respectively by Floydada, with W. A. King as instructor, and Frenship, where L. M Hargrave as teacher.

The following schools, with their instructors, won $15 each: Crosbyton, R. C. Mitchell; McAdoo, Walter Grist; Fluvanna, Buford Browning, New Deal, Lawrence Shipman; Tahoka, Leslie Browning; Spring Lake, Lawrence Hicks; Roosevelt, Roy nk; Wilson, Stillwell Russell; rnathy, M. O. Hood; Ropesville, H. Davis; and Lorenzo, J. D. ickland.

rize of $10 each went to: Whitrral, C. B. Bentley; Spur, Cecil Ayres; Cooper, Jesse Johnson; Seagraves, Walker P. Todd; Littlefield, W. H. Brazier; and Plainview, M. C. Brandon.

Lamb county's booth was placed first by judges in the agricultural division to win a $75 award.

Other county rankings, in order, included:

Crosby, $60; Lynn, $40; and with $25 each, Swisher, Collingsworth, Terry, Haskell, Childress, Briscoe, Hockley, Castro, Maverick and Garza.

Frenship rural high school of Wolfforth won $25 in the county community booth contest. Lubbock county does not compete in the general contest.

Other community contest results, in order of finishing, were:

Shallowater, $20; New Deal, $15; and, $10 each, Cooper, Slaton and Roosevelt.

C. C. Jobson is general superintendent of the agricultural department and John Palmore of individual exhibits. Judges in the county and community events were Earl Duke, Texas Technological college, and George (Scotty) Samson of Post.

The exhibits must remain in place until 8 o'clock Saturday night to be eligible for prize money.

Municipal Airport Manager Reflects At The Changes Brought By The Years

MARY LOUISE BREEDLOVE

Clent Breedlove was not prepared for what he found when he became manager of Municipal airport at Lubbock eight years ago.

A product of the army flying service, Breedlove had flown everything from pursuits — SE-5s, Sopwith Camels, Le Peres, Hisso Jennies, Le Rhone Thomas Morris scouts and the like—to D-H 4-B's and Liberty Handley-Pages in the bombardment section.

At Lubbock he found an ugly unlicensed duckling compounded of a Stearman fuselage, Sikorsky wing, J-5 motor and Hisso prop!

The old ship belonged to A. B. Brown, who used the crate in travels up and down the southwest.

Trained Under Billy Mitchell

To a flier used to "laying eggs" at Hampton Roads on and near the San Marcos, the German ship destroyer G-102 and other craft designated for wrecking by the fiery chief of the air service Col. Billy Mitchell, it must have been a bit rough standing around shading his eyes and looking at the flying contraption marking Lubbock's contribution to man's victory over heavier-than-air problems.

When one goes to the port now he will find 13 planes hangard in the big shed, ranging from the light but airworthy Cubs to a trimotored sky liner. Ships drop in at odd moments from the various compass points.

Revolving beacon and marginal lights burn at night and plans for constructing hard-surfaced runways and making other improvements are being talked.

The field is classified by the government as AIB, without waivers.

Fifty-seven student fliers have been soloed there in the last 18 months.

Quite a transition from 1930.

Breedlove "joined up" at Taliaferro (pronounced Tolliver) field in Fort Worth, May 30, 1918, and flew with the army flying school detachment. He was transferred to the advanced flying class at Kelly, then went successively to March field, back to Kelly, to Langley, and again to Kelly, where he completed his service.

How'd You Like It?

Colonel Mitchell, then and later, had ideas about an independent air service and a perfected aerial offensive. He sent up the pursuit pilots to drop live bombs down the smoke stacks of condemned ships off Hampton Roads and the bombardment section to drop heavier bombs weighing from 100 to 4,000 pounds on the sea, so seams would be started and less-heavily-armored ship sides would be caved in near the water level.

Dates marked by the government (the service kept the logs in those days) show Breedlove went aloft in a Liberty 420 DeHaviland June 15, 1921, for what possibly constituted his greatest flying thrills.

Anti-aircraft gunners potted away at him, the idea being to have their shells explode 40 seconds behind him and on his level.

Tricky business, that!

Three shells were unleashed when the airman was blasting along at 3,000 feet, three at 6,000 and three at 9,000 feet.

"Only one was close enough to cause much realization of the concussion," he said. "At that, it was good to be back on the ground."

They flew Handley-Pages, Martins, Liberty Capronis and D-H's June 30, 1921, when they bombed ships in the roads.

Of significance was the finding that delayed bombs did more damage than instantaneous ones and that the six layers of armor plate on the top of German vessels had been put there by a nation that had foreseen aerial bombings in advance of the World war.

He Knows 'Em All

As is the case with all army fliers, Breedlove was associated in his time with various nationally-known airmen. There were H. H. Gallup, now with the eastern division of the TWA; Jimmy James, president of WAE, who gave Breedlove his check flight on scouts; Joe Glass, the best weather pilot of American airways; George Holmes of Randolph field, and Jimmie Doolittle, his squadron commander at Kelly.

Breedlove has flown thousands of miles more than the 3,500 he has logged.

He doesn't get so much kick out of remembering the past only by comparison with the present improvement of aeronautics and possibilities for the future. He hadn't opened his log book in months, but he has ready information on those who have planes at the field—W. C. Alder, L. D. Thomas, M. F. Dagley, Emmett Morris, Reid Townes, Lubbock Aero club, a negro doctor, Truman Meinecke, Al Duby, J. B. Cole and Ray Shifflett. Ships are Monocoupes, Cessnas, Cubs, Taylor Crafts Wacos, Travelairs, and Doak and Deeds. Breedlove also has a plane and a new 50 hp Craft will be ferried in soon.

Quite a change in the picture.

Largest Electric Allotment Is Made To Texas Project

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27. (AP) — The Rural Electrification administration today allotted $1,332,000 to the Tedernales Electric cooperative of Johnson City, Texas.

This, the biggest allotment ever made by REA, will be used to construct 1,718 miles of line to serve 3,459 customers in 15 Texas counties. The project will center in Blanco county.

Girl, 13, Is Good Pilot, Say Airmen

The controls of an airplane were turned over to Mary Louise Breedlove four years ago and today this 13-year-old, Lubbock's youngest flyer, has between 15 and 20 hours at the controls to her credit.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clent Broodlove, who live at Municipal airport. Breedlove is manager of the port.

When she was 8 months old, she reached her arms toward an airplane and cried. Her mother placed her in the cockpit and she hushed. When she rode in airplane as a baby, she was not afraid.

Dances, Sings, Plays

A slender blonde with blue eyes and olive complexion, this young miss is not a tomboy in the accepted sense. She is equally at home in an evening dress or a frilly dancing costume as she is in the overalls she done before she goes out to "help" overhaul a motor.

Flying is not the sole interest of Lubbock's youngest flier.

She is the same little blonde you used to see with the Tech band. She served as mascot of the band along with Mary Frances Robertson and accompanied the musicians on two trips to California.

She danced and sang in the Blossom room in Hollywood on Texas night and danced in Streets of Paris at the World fair.

She also plays the piano and accordion.

She has a throaty, blues voice and singing is her favorite entertainment when she is alone.

At present, she is attending a school in Nashville, Tenn., at which Mrs. Breedlove's mother, Mrs. Jesse King, is dean of girls. She is drum major at the school.

Knows Famous Airmen

Often she goes to an airport in Nashville and surprises aviators with her knowledge of flying terminology.

One of the girl's prized possessions is a flying coat on which are dozens of autographs. Aviators of several nationalities, army officers of various ranks, and others including Gov. James V. Allred have autographed the coat.

Only two persons who have autographed the coat have since died. Their names are under one another near the collar. When an aviator starts to sign his name, Mary Louise instructs him not to sign near those two.

Mrs. Breedlove and her daughter are the only feminine flyers in Lubbock, aviators at the airport said. Mrs. Breedlove plans sometime to obtain her student's license so that she may solo. Mary Louise is not eligible for a license until she is 16, unless she should obtain special permission.

Aviators wonderingly watch the 13-year-old at the controls and some have said, "You could put a glass of water on the instrument board and she could land without spilling a drop".

Britain's Navy Is Mobilized

Saturday deadline for peaceful surrender of Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland.

2. Persuade Czechoslovakia to yield on Hitler's latest terms which would mean virtual dissection of the 20-year-old republic.

3. Make final preparations for another European war.

On the last point the job was nearly done. British naval mobilization went far toward completion of the Anglo-French armed front on behalf of Czechoslovakia with France already in a progressive mobilization.

German Army Ready

The German army has been ready for some time.

Belgium, buffer between the Germans and the French in the World war, called 270,000 additional men to the colors to "reinforce the state of peace."

On the possibility of persuading Hitler to extend his ultimatum to Czechoslovakia, Sir Horace Wilson, adviser to Prime Minister Chamberlain, had a half-hour consultation with Hitler in Berlin and then flew back to London apparently to get clarification of Britain's stand.

Feeling Is Expressed

Chamberlain, in an unprecedented open statement of policy early yesterday, expressed Britain's feeling of moral responsibility for seeing that Czechoslovakia carries out the original Anglo-French plan to cede Sudetenland if Hitler would refrain from force.

Czechoslovakia, while not repudiating the original proposal, accepted last week in Prague, has flatly rejected the surrender-by-Saturday ultimatum which Hitler transmitted through Chamberlain.

German government sources while charging Czechoslovakia in effect had repudiated the original Anglo-French plan said Chamberlain's guarantee of moral responsibility for the proposal was being studied with interest.

Request Sent To London

It was understood Sir Horace Wilson carried Hitler's request for further clarification of this guarantee when he flew back to London.

Chamberlain, addressing the far-flung British empire, said he would try for peace "until the last moment" —but "if I were convinced any nation had made up its mind to dominate the world by fear of its armed force, I should feel that it must be resisted."

The latter hinged on a declaration the British government, however much it might sympathize with a small nation confronted by a powerful neighbor, could not "involve the empire in war simply on her account."

Fight On Larger Issues

Chamberlain added:

"If we have to fight, it must be on larger issues."

Sources close to the French foreign ministry said the pressure of the world's democracies had created a definite impression in France that Germany would hesitate before taking the pivotal, aggressive step toward Czechoslovakia.

President Roosevelt's appeal for further peaceful attempts toward settlement fitted into this part of the international patch-work, but Hitler's note of reply yesterday was regarded by some persons in Washington as disturbing.

"It does not rest with the German government," the Hitler note said, "but with the Czechoslovak government alone, to decide whether" it wants peace or war."

The Czechoslovak cabinet met last night and decided Premier General Jan Syrovy would make a radio address today. There was no hint of wavering from the flat rejection of the Hitler ultimatum.

Reports from Asch, Czechoslovakia, said Sudeten Germans were digging in to await expiration of the Saturday deadline, clinging to a belief Prague would give in five minutes before the advent of the day.

An official German news agency dispatch to Berlin said Germany, upon occupation of Sudetenland, would find it a "dead land." The report said Czechoslovak troops had been removing commodities into the interior.

At Glasgow, Queen Elizabeth of England christened a new British liner with her own name, spoke of the "fabric of friendship" between Britain and the United States and conveyed a plea of King George for "cool heads and brave hearts."

There was a gas mask parade in Moscow while Soviet newspapers displayed President Roosevelt's appeal for peace and ignored Hitler's Monday night speech.

National Day Of Prayer For World Peace To Be Asked

FORT WORTH, Sept. 27. (AP)—President Roosevelt will receive a telegraphic appeal from two Baptist organizations of Texas urging that he designate a "national day of prayer" for world peace.

Members of the state Baptist laymen's conference voted at their closing session here tonight to join the Woman's Missionary union in sending the telegram. The two groups represent 350,000 church members. Mrs. B. M. Copass of Fort Worth, president of the missionary union, sent a telegram from her executive board meeting in Corpus Christi tonight to the laymen asking their cooperation.

League Punitive Powers Are Said Applicable To Japan

GENEVA, Sept. 27. (AP)—The Czechoslovak-German crisis helped Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, China's League of Nations delegate, win an agreement today from Britain and French representatives that league punitive powers were applicable against Japan.

The Chinese delegate won a favorable vote of the league council by making China's appeal the precedent for a possible appeal by Czechoslovakia against threatened German aggression.

Dramatic Plea Made By FDR

keep the negotiations going. Finally, today, came word from Hitler that with submissions of his latest terms, now rejected by the Czechs, the possibility of a solution by agreement was "exhausted."

Mr. Roosevelt addressed his next appeal to Hitler only. He acknowledged receipt of the fuehrer's reply and said he had been confident Hitler would agree with him that an "incalculable disaster" would result from an outbreak of hostilities.

Question Of World's Fate

"The question before the world today, Mr. Chancellor, is not the question of errors of judgment or of injustices committed in the past," he said. "It is the question of the fate of the world today and tomorrow. The world asks of us who at this moment are heads of nations the supreme capacity to achieve the destiny of nations without forcing upon them, as a price, the mutilation and death of millions of citizens.

"Resort to force in the great war failed to bring tranquility. Victory and defeat were alike sterile. That lesson the world should have learned."

Reviewing his first peace appeal in a single paragraph: that the German-Czech row should be settled by negotiation and that the "threatened alternative of the use of force . . . is as unnecessary as it is unjustifiable," Mr. Roosevelt continued:

Agreement In Principle

"My conviction on these two points is deepened because responsible statesmen have officially stated that an agreement in principle has already been reached between the government of the German reich and the government of Czechoslovakia, although the precise time, method and detail of carrying out that agreement remain at issue."

(This statement was made today by Neville Chamberlain, prime minister of Great Britain, in an international radio speech.)

"Whatever existing differences may be, and whatever their merits may be—and upon them I do not and need not undertake to pass—my appeal was solely that negotiations be continued until a peaceful settlement is found, and that thereby a resort to force be avoided," Mr. Roosevelt added.

Hitler Holds Power

After saying that Hitler held the power to keep negotiations open and suggesting an international conference, if necessary, the president went on to say:

"In my considered judgment, and in the light of the experience of this century, continued negotiations remain the only way by which the immediate problem can be disposed of upon any lasting basis.

"Should you agree to a solution in this peaceful manner I am convinced that hundreds of millions throughout the world would recognize your action as an outstanding service to humanity.

"Allow me to state my unqualified conviction that history, and the souls of every man, woman and child whose lives will be lost in the threatened war will hold us and all of us accountable should we omit any appeal for its prevention."

No Obligation Recognized

Declaring that the United States recognized no obligation in connection with the negotiations, Mr. Roosevelt said in conclusion:

"Yet in our own right we recognize our responsibilities as a part of a world of neighbors.

"The conscience and the impelling desire of the people of my country demand that the voice of their government be raised again and yet again to avert and avoid war."

Earlier in the day Hitler had replied to Mr. Roosevelt's first appeal in language which disturbed many of those who still hoped war might be averted.

The German fuehrer asserted the possibility of an adjustment of the Sudeten question by agreement had been "exhausted" with submission of his now-rejected terms of settlement, that further postponement of a solution was not to be tolerated and said:

Rests With Czechs

"It does not rest with the German government, but with the Czechoslovakian government alone, to decide whether it wants peace or war."

Washington studied Hitler's communciation throughout a day which saw two American warships dispatched to European waters, for service in returning refugees or other duties, and the gathering of the cabinet for a discussion of the American implications of Europe's crisis.

Senator Borah of Idaho, of the senate foreign relations committee, said in an interview Great Britain could take "no moral offense" at Hitler's Sudeten claims. He said "all that is German in Czechoslovakia should be returned to Germany," and "all that is Hungarian in both Czechoslovakia and Rumania should be returned to Hungary."

The day also brought forth a demand at the capitol, voiced by Senator Logan (D-Ky), for the repeal of the neutrality act, so that, in case of war in Europe, Great Britain and France might have available here "all the materials they need except manpower."

Senator Dennis Chavez, who won against attempts to split the county's vote 60-40, described Tingley as "the best governor we ever had."

Tingley's statement came suddenly after months of friction between his faction and that headed by Miles, Dempsey and Chavez. Tingley is blocked by a constitutional provision from seeking again the governorship he has held four years. Tingley supporters had fought the nomination of Miles as the Democratic gubernatorial candidate.

Albert K. Mitchell Selected GOP Nominee In New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 27 (AP)—Albert K. Mitchell, president of the American National Livestock association and wealthy New Mexico cattleman, was nominated by the Republican state convention tonight as the Republican candidate for governor in the November elections.

The remainder of the ticket, including Mitchell's running mate as lieutenant governor, was left over until tomorrow.

The convention earlier had adopted without dissent a party platform high-lighted by planks favoring a "maximum" old age pension and the direct primary.

U. S. Treasury Is Prepared

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27, (AP) — Secretary Morgenthau assured the nation today that the treasury was prepared for any eventualities from the European crisis.

He did not say what preparations have been made, but he implied that, for the protection of American business and finance, the administration's financial leaders have drafted a program dealing with these questions which would arise in case of war abroad:

1. Should the stock markets be closed?

2. What should be done to protect the dollar in foreign markets?

3. What should be done about all the foreign money which has come here in recent weeks in search of safety?

Question Is Answered

The stock market question was answered on high authority last week in the negative. An official said that the United States had undertaken to act as "the financial center of the world" and that it must keep its market open to prevent paralysis of finance and commerce.

Officials about the secretary are thinking of these things:

If Europe goes to war, the United States will be the market place of the world. Non-belligerent nations may turn many orders here that would otherwise go to the fighting countries.

Essential to wartime trade will be the status of the dollar. The demand for dollars to pay for American goods probably would be enormous. To police the currency markets, therefore, the treasury will look to its $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund.

The foreign deposits already here would figure importantly in the buying plans of warring governments. These governments might immediately requisition the funds deposited here by their nationals, as well as securities.

In the last three weeks alone, foreign investments in the United States amount to more than $7,000,000,000.

ference to consider the whole problem. This report said Hitler had rejected both proposals.

Meanwhile in Czechoslovakia President Eduard Benes and the cabinet ministers studied Chamberlain's address, and also scanned reports on large-scale war preparations as troop trains continued to rattle toward Czechoslovakia's twisting borders.

Anti-aircraft batteries studded the hills surrounding the capital. Swift pursuit planes, tuned for take-offs at a moment's notice, waited at nearby air fields.

Physicians Are Mobilized

All physicians and medical students were mobilized.

And yet through the whole night-marish structure people were keeping perfect discipline.

Scattered fighting still rolled along the borders, but a sense of impending disaster had forged other pre-crisis political dissenters into a firm defense phalanx.

Soldiers were served coffee and bread at stations enroute to the border by Red Cross nurses. Railway cars were chalked with signs reading:

"Long live Benes, Syrovy and the army! We won't cede an inch of our territory! Soviet Russia will help us!"

Attorneys Tuesday night said Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court had dismissed the jury and continued the case of L. E. Box of Lufkin for his wife against the South Plains Coaches, inc., for $25,000 damages.

E. L. Klett, one of the counsel for the bus company, quickly motioned for a mistrial after Mrs. Box, when on the witness stand asked, "Did Judge Walker find out whether these people (bus company) were insured or not?"

The damage action is based on allegations that Mrs. Box was insulted and bodily injury was inflicted when she was riding to Benjamin with a man after a bus had stalled between Guthrie and Benjamin in May, 1935.

Czechs Face Ultimatum Of War Or Peace; German Terms Are Flatly Rejected

Repudiation Is Nazis' Charge

By EDWIN SANKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Sept. 27.—German government quarters declared tonight Czechoslovakia's rejection of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's demands for surrender of Sudetenland next Saturday was in actuality a renunciation of the original Anglo-French plan, accepted by Prague last week.

These quarters said the rejection, made public today in London, "proves again that the Czechs declare themselves theoretically ready for any agreement, but in practice are unwilling to keep their promises."

Demands Unacceptable

(The Czechoslovak reply to Hitler's final demands was announced by Prague's minister to London, Jan Masaryk, who said the demands "in their present form are absolutely and unconditionally unacceptable to my government.")

German government circles expressed eagerness to know "how England and France would react to this de facto renunciation of their plan accepted by Prague just a few days ago."

They saw in it "not only a repudiation of the German standpoint, but also a disavowal of the Anglo-French plan on the part of Prague."

Negotiations Still Sought

These comments were forthcoming after British Prime Minister Chamberlain, through an emissary, Sir Horace Wilson, still sought to negotiate a peaceful solution in a brief talk with Hitler.

Hitler, meanwhile—in so far as was indicated by Wilhelmstrasse spokesmen and the German press—showed no sign of relenting from his demands for surrender of Sudetenland four days hence.

To reports the fuehrer had extended the deadline, a government spokesman said, "that is pure speculation."

Hitler, in a message to President Roosevelt, answering an appeal for continued negotiations, declared the question of war or peace rested solely with Prague.

From the nature of the note to Roosevelt and Hitler's speech last night, the impression prevailed Hitler was leaving the door open to negotiation.

Many were inclined to hopefulness as a result of Chamberlain's statement early today—an expression, among other things, of moral responsibility for execution of the original cession plan if Germany would promise to abstain from force.

Sir Horace, a close adviser of the British prime minister, was believed to have pleaded eloquently with Hitler to trust Chamberlain and his "way out."

Flies Back To London

Sir Horace flew back to London this afternoon.

It was believed that Sir Horace's greatest difficulty was to overcome Hitler's distrust of Czechoslovakia and it was thought that Britain's guarantee might swing the tide toward a peaceful settlement.

In such a case it was conceivable that Hitler might more or less gloss over his Oct. 1 time limit for the actual occupation of Sudetenland.

One Of The Original Texas Rangers Is Death Victim

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27. (AP)—P. J. Taylor, 81, one of the original Texas rangers, died in a hospital here today of injuries suffered Sept. 12 in a bus accident near Pauls Valley.

Taylor, born near Thorp, Tex., was successively a cowboy, ranger, rancher and preacher. He was pastor of the Church of Christ in Allen, Tex., for 12 years. He came here a year ago from Gainesville, Tex., with his wife.

Country Fears Big Calamity

By ALVIN J. STEINKOPF
Associated Press Staff Writer

PRAGUE, Sept. 27.—(Via N.B.C.)—Czechoslovakia figuratively is holding her breath until Saturday night, knowing that no week-end in her 20-year history has held greater possibilities of calamity.

As it seems now, it must be war or peace. The war-born republic faces an ultimatum by Reichsfuehrer Hitler to surrender her extensive borderlands by October 1 or suffer the consequences.

Grave Fears Are Felt

Even Czechoslovaks, who have been optimists through the weeks of negotiating the Sudeten German issue, fear now there is grave possibility of war—that artillery will be roaring along the Bohemian border next Sunday, warplanes swarming over industrial centers, their nation in the midst of a life and death struggle.

With troops on the frontier and with fortifications fully manned, Czechoslovakia gave no indication she was considering capitulations to the German demand.

(In London, the Czechoslovak minister, Jan Masaryk, disclosed his government flatly had rejected the German terms.)

Agreed To Sacrifice

The government, under French-British pressure, had agreed to sacrifice its Sudeten German borderlands to Germany.

But Czechoslovakia contends now that Adolf Hitler in his "final demands" on Prague and his speech in Berlin last night has demanded much more than Czechoslovakia originally conceded.

Hitler declared he insisted merely that the British-French plan be carried out immediately. The Prague reply was that Hitler's memorandum had presented a new situation.

Prague was dark again tonight. The situation gave a precarious breathing spell until Saturday, but the government was taking no chances. Air raiders would have trouble finding this capital.

Trenches Being Dug

In many parts of the city workmen dug long, zig-zag trenches as havens for citizens who might not have time to reach gas-proof and bomb-proof shelters.

Additional steps were taken to place the country on a defensive basis.

A card system for rationing gasoline was introduced. Owners of private automobiles were allowed enough for about 40 miles of travel a day.

Most automobiles and trucks were being used by soldiers and officials on government business.

Storing Up Gasoline

Czechoslovakia was storing up a gasoline reserve much of which came from Rumania, an ally of Czechoslovakia in the Little Entente.

Another government measure placed many categories of workers on a national defense basis—somewhat the status of soldiers.

Another border prohibited issuance of visas for travel abroad by male citizens between the ages of 17 and 60.

Newspaper stories instructing citizens how to act in case of air or gas raids stressed keeping calm and getting under cover quickly.

Two Men Dead In Automobile Crash

WOODVILLE, Sept. 27. (AP)—W. H. Craft, 41, of Leesville, La., and James David Cobb, 21, of Woodville, were killed today when the truck in which they were riding and a coupe collided head-on.

A charge of negligent homicide was filed against Albert Harvey, 23, of San Augustine county by Sheriff T. A. Nicholson in connection with the accident.

The automobile and the truck were destroyed by fire after the crash, and the men who were killed were trapped in the cab of the truck. Two men riding in the coupe, allegedly driven by Harvey, were only slightly injured.

More than 180 parts used in automobiles, in addition to tires, are manufactured by the rubber industry. Engine mountings, hose, floor and running-board covers, and upholstery materials, are included.

Americans Are Hurrying Home

LONDON, Sept. 27. (AP)—A peaceful army of Americans—business men, tourists, naturalized immigrants, just ordinary Americans—looked homeward longingly today from all over Europe.

Most of them set out to do something about it. They wanted no truck with the war clouds hanging over the German-Czechoslovak border.

From the British Isles, France, Italy, Germany, European Russia and intermediate points came applications for return passages to the United States.

All Space Booked

Steamship agencies were besieged. In London and Paris, lines reported every available space in all classes had been reserved up to October 15.

United States lines officials said they planned to increase the passenger-carrying capacity of their ships by setting up army cots in the salons if necessary to aid the repartriation of Americans abroad.

Preference was being shown women, children and the aged. The possibility appeared that families might be separated to speed the return of the frailer members.

With all this haste to get back to the United States, however, there were no indications of hysteria. With typical American curiosity thousands of Americans, particularly in London, gave every indication of intending to stay in Europe to see what would happen. These were having a good time in the midst of the preparations for possible war.

Mrs. Roosevelt Adds Warning To Appeals For Peace

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt added this warning today to international appeals for peace:

"There is no safety anywhere in a modern war."

The first lady, speaking gravely to her press conference, expressed hope there "might never be a war for any reason."

Asked if she had seen evidences of war propaganda in this country, Mrs. Roosevelt said she thought all things which tended to arouse people's fears were, in a sense, war propaganda—whether so intended or not.

Spectacular Farewell Is Paid To Chief Of Army Air Corps

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27. (AP)—The army paid a spectacular farewell tribute today to Major General Oscar Westover.

Some three-score planes roared a mile overhead during the funeral of the chief of the air corps who died last Wednesday in a plane crash at Burbank, Calif.

At a lower level, there was a five-plane formation with one blank file. Interment with full military honors in Arlington national cemetery followed the funeral service in the Fort Myer, Va., chapel.

Cubs Narrow Senior Loop Lead To Half Game; Greenberg Hits No. 57 And 58

Lee Nips Bucs' Rally; Chicago Prevails, 2-1

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Ol' Dizzy Dean pitched his great heart out and the Chicago Cubs smack into the thick of the National league pennant battle today.

With little else on the ball but its cover, Dean hurled the Cubs to a thrill-packed, 2 to 1 victory over the league leading Pittsburgh Pirates for a triumph that left the Cubs trailing the Bucs by only half a game, with two more games between the clubs scheduled tomorrow and Thursday.

Bill Lee Finishes

Diz wasn't in there at the finish. Big Bill Lee, taking the mound with two out in the ninth, retired the final Pittsburgh batsman as Diz trudged slowly to the showers. But it was Dean's victory all the way, a victory he called "the greatest of my life" and one that won him the acclaim of the 42,238 hysterical fans who jammed Wrigley field.

Dean, in recapturing for an afternoon the glory that once was his in his St. Louis Cardinal hey-day, allowed the Pirate sluggers just seven hits, their only run coming with Diz in the club house. In the ninth inning, Woody Jensen scored on Lee's wild pitch, with the game ending seconds later as Lee fanned Al Todd for the final out.

Starting his first game since Aug. 20 and called on to test his ailing, sore arm in a duel all-important to the Cubs' flag hopes, Dean proved his courage. He showed little "stuff," but his change of pace, mixed with the cunning of years of experience, gave the Pirates few openings.

Galan Is Injured

The Cubs scored in the third on Lip Collins' triple to right and Bill Jurges' single. The other run came in the sixth. With one out, Frank Demaree bounced a single off pitcher Jim Tobin's bare hand and went to third as Phil Cavarretta singled. Demaree then scored as Carl Reynolds forced Cavarretta at second.

The victory, Dean's seventh as against one loss this year, cost the Cubs the services of outfield Augie Galan, possibly for the remainder of their five game schedule. Sliding into second in the second inning, Galan twisted his left knee so badly he had to be carried from the field.

Girl Jockey Kicks Winner Over In Tuesday Feature

Miss Wantha Bangs steadied House Warmer, five-year-old entry of Mrs. C. L. Stevens, down the stretch and across the finish line Tuesday afternoon to take the fourth feature of the Panhandle-South Plains fair race meet.

Pulling into the lead after the first turn the little fem jockey gave the big horse plenty of rein to finish three lengths ahead of Covolile, ridden by W. Root. Black Castle was third.

D. Fulcher, like Miss Bangs a holdover from jockeys of the 1937 meet, was only double winner of the day.

Fulcher brought Billy Necktar, J. Ramjue's heavily favored gelding in for first money in the four and one half furlong second race and repeated aboard Thrasher in the fast fifth race of the same length.

Blossom, with Miss Bangs up, won place money in the second, Jesse up, to the tape. Driftwood was third.

Zengo placed and Woodway took show place in the fifth.

Sky Hawk surprised with a fast finish to capture the opening race by a close margin over Skipper. The Sam Christie gelding, with W. Ricord, another seasoned rider, barely beat Skipper, with C. Warren up, to the tape. Driftwooo was third.

Sam Snead Wins Westchester Open To Run His Winnings For Year To $17,572.83

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 27. (AP)—Hitting the biggest jackpot professional golf has had in recent years, Sluggin' Sam Snead today took down top money of $5,000 in the $13,500 Westchester 108-hole Open golf tournament with a score of 430 and set a new record for one-year prize winning.

The check brought his earning since January 1 to $17,572.83. It was more than $2,000 better than the previous mark set by Horton Smith in 1929.

Sam Shows Stout Heart

In the last two rounds Sam showed he had everything when the pressure was on and the prize worth-while. Tied for fourth place, four shots off the pace, at the start of the morning round, he climbed into a tie for the lead with a 71 and went around the last 18 holes in 69, one under par.

His finish and Billy Burke's start on this final day proved too much for the popular Cleveland veteran. Billy, who had slid from first place to fifth when he fizzled to a 78 this morning, closed with a 68. That was good enough only for second place at 432 and $2,000.

Runyan Misses 18-Footer

P. G. A. Champion Paul Runyan missed an 18-foot putt on the home green for a 70 and Byron Nelson missed a 1 footer at the same spot for the same score, so they wound up in a third-place tie at 434 and split $1,800. Ben Hogan, ex-Texan from Purchase, N. Y., shot a 71 and 436 for $700. Chandler Harper, Virginia, fell off to a closing 75 for 437 and $600. U. S. Open Champion Ralph Guldahl, Metropolitan Open Champion Jimmy Hines and Veteran Mike Turnesa, brother of the U. S. Amateur title holder, tied at 439 and split $1,350.

Jug McSpaden blew up to a closing 79 for 440, $350 and tenth place.

The letter boxes of San Antonio, Tex., contained hundreds of unstamped letters, which puzzled the postal authorities until they found that the stamps had been eaten off by ants attracted by the gum.

Lobos Lose Three Players; Prepare For Cooper Game

LEVELLAND, Sept. 27. (Special)—Coach Fred Rich brings a strong Cooper High team here Friday night to battle the Levelland Lobos, who have been weakened by loss of three players.

Millard Bradley, deadly passing all-district halfback, has been removed from the game pending establishment of his birth date. H. B. Wright, fullback, and Larson Crawford, tackle, suffered injuries in a recent motorcycle accident and will not play.

Despite loss of these players, the Lobos appear confident enough after their 32-13 conquest of West High school Friday night.

Cooper has a stout line, fast backfield, and individual performers worthy of Lobo apprehension. Coach Rich depends heavily on Wayne Richardson, C. T. Potts, Phillips, Grawunder, Barrett, and Terry.

Jack Doyle Knocks Himself Out As He Misses Swing

LONDON, Sept. 27 (AP) — Jack Doyle, handsome Irish heavyweight, knocked himself out tonight in the second round of his fight with Eddie Phillips.

Letting go with a round-house right, "the Irish thrush" missed his opponent, fell between the ropes, and struck his head on the edge of the ring. He still was prone on the floor outside the ropes when the referee finished the count of ten.

Doyle weighed 224 pounds, Phillips 191 1-2.

Coach R. Gammenthaler of Klondike is chairman of the district, with Coaches Davis of Seminole, Smith of Andrews, and Baggett of Ackerly, composing the executive committee.

Tech Gridders Entrain For Buffalo And Duquesne Game; Westerners Put Plenty Into Workouts For Friday Night Game

Thirty husky Red Raiders, their three coaches, team physician, trainer, and a sports writer early Tuesday afternoon waved farewell to Lubbock for six days as they pulled out from the Santa Fe station bound for Buffalo, N. Y.

Accompanying the team were Coaches Pete Cawthon, Dutchy Smith and Ed McKeever, Dr. Steve Marshall, team physician, and Collier Parris, sports editor of the Avalanche-Journal publications.

The Raider train will go through Amarillo, thence to St. Louis where the team will take a six-hour layover to practice on the Washington university field, Wednesday afternoon.

Arrive On Thursday

Thursday afternoon they will arrive at Buffalo and that night will work out on the field where Friday night they will battle Duquesne university in their first out of town game of the season and probably their hardest test of the campaign.

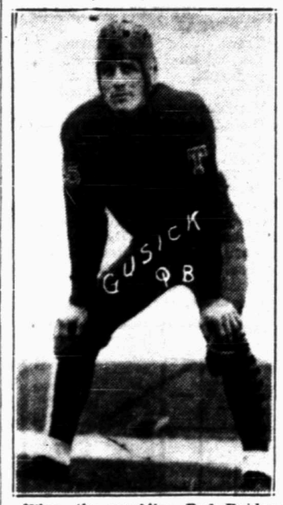

Victors over the Dukes in 1937 the Raiders are anxious to make it two-straight and impress more fully the import of last year's win. The Duquesnes have one triumph to their credit so far this season.

Absent from the traveling squad was Frank Guzick, captain and quarterback extraordinary, whose injured leg will not permit him to get into action for another week. Coaches said before their departure, however, that the steady Yiddish team pilot's game leg was not so seriously injured as was first thought.

Others In Good Shape

Others who sustained slight hurts in the Wyoming game were announced as ready. Bobby Holmes, Bill Davis, and Johnny Sims had been less seriously bruised Saturday night than Guzick.

The team will entrain for home Saturday and likely will arrive here Monday.

When the rambling Red Raiders set sail for Buffalo Tuesday afternoon most conspicuous absentee was Capt. Frank Guzick, whose injured knee kept him from making the trip and likely putting in most of the time at his newly acquired quarterback post. His loss is considered a big blow to Tech chances.

Tahoka Plans A Gala Dedication Night

TAHOKA, Sept. 27 (Special) — A weak sister in Class B football longer than local residents like to remember, Tahoka High school is making a bid this year to shake the doormat title for greener fields.

Through cooperation of the Rotary club, business men and residents, a free feed Oct. 6 will herald dedication of a new lighting plant on the Tahoka grid. Coach Bob Harlow will send his charges against Coach John Dibrell's Post Antelopes that night in first conference game for both teams.

Bands, coaches, school board members, and students from the entire District 5 will be on hand to take part in dedication ceremonies. Sen. G. Hobart Nelson and members of the Texas Tech coaching staff will speak.

Tahoka lost to Lamesa in the season's opener and defeated Cooper last week.

Injuries And Sickness Strike University Of Tulsa Squad

TULSA, Sept. 27 (AP)—Injuries and sickness hit the University of Tulsa football team hard today.

Out of practice, with the possibility they might be lost for the Rose Festival game Saturday with Texas A. and M. at Tyler, were tailback Morris White; George Farmer and Elmer Lee Gentry, backs; Othel Turner, Corporal Jones and Hercel Hickman, linemen.

White, one of T. U.'s best ground gainers, was in bed with a cold; Hickman and Turner were laid up with bad knees.

University Of Texas Now In Market For Good Tenors

AUSTIN, Sept. 27. (AP)—The University of Texas men's glee club sent out a call today for tenors.

The club, organized for the school year last night, listed many deep-throated Texans but there were not enough tenors to raise a peep higher than a newly hatched setting of eggs.

The earth's only satellite is the moon which is about 238,000 miles away.

Kopecky Tangles With Johnson In Main Go

TONIGHT'S CARD

Main event—Joe Kopecky vs. Gus Johnson, best two of three falls or two-hour time limit.

Semifinal — Walter Stratton vs. Sheik Ben Ali Mar Allah, one fall or 30 minutes.

Curtain raiser — Scotty Williams vs. John Nemanic, one fall or 20 minutes.

Time and place—8:30 o'clock, the Auditorium.

Innocent old Joe Kopecky, whose stalking antics in the squared circle are commonly comical and irritating, takes the top spot with Gus Johnson in the weekly wrestling program tonight at the Auditorium.

Returning to the local ring last week after a lengthy absence, Kopecky "wrestled" with the crowd more than he wrestled with his opponent. But he knows what the paying gentry comes to see and he tries to give 'em that.

The big Swede is not the colorful type rassler, although he has been able to hold his own with other boys here. For several weeks he rated the main event successively.

Sheik Takes On Stratton

A 'tanglement' between these two fellows should just about be what the doctor ordered.

Down in the semifinal there is going to be quite a scrap. The Persian gift to the tin ear trade, Sheik Ben Ali Mar Allah, is going to tangle with Walter Stratton in the match that may overshadow the main go.

Bewhiskered Mar Allah is on one's pansy—at least the opposing wrestlers think not—and Stratton is a workhouse of the first order.

They'll probably add more than their part to the show.

John Nemanic doffs his refereeing togs and climbs into shorts again to take on Scotty Williams in the curtain raiser.

A third hard blow was struck against the Westerners this week when Walter Daniel was ordered by a physician to quit football for the season.

Daniel, considered by Lubbock coaches a good prospect for more backfield work later in the season, has been running with the second team, but an old shoulder injury will be responsible for his forsaking the game.

With Paul Sparkman, No. 1 center, out with a broken leg and Howard Martin favoring an injured shoulder, Westerner reserve strength hit a new low with the loss of Daniel.

Practice Hard Tuesday

The skeletoned squad went through its paces again Tuesday afternoon with the vigor of a bunch of younger kids, putting everything into their workout with their eyes turned to Oklahoma City where they will battle Capitol Hill High of that city Friday night.

Coaches Weldon Chapman and Goober Keyes, not quite pleased with work of some departments in Friday night's defeat of Abilene, were determined to smooth out flaws developing in that game. Capt. Jumbo Webster, Rusty Johnston, and James Privitt worked overtime at punting as they did Monday.

Pass defense, dummy scrimmage and a bit of contact scrimmage took most of the remaining time.

Expect Strong Competition

Expecting better than ordinary competition in the Sooner City Friday night, the Westerners are intent on continuing fine showings of two previous games. Oklahoma teams are not restricted by age as closely as Texas teams, therefore have more mature players.

However, Lubbock journeyed there last season and stalemated a big Capitol Hill eleven. The Sooners were fortunate that night to gain an even break.

The Westerners will leave by special bus early Thursday morning, arriving in Oklahoma City late that afternoon with expectations of a short workout. They will return here Saturday.

Buffaloes Expect Hard Mill With East Texans Friday

CANYON, Sept. 27. (Special)—A migration to the greener pastures of East Texas will carry the West Texas State Teachers college Buffaloes to one of their hardest battles of the season Friday night.

In defeating Louisiana Normal last week 19 to 6, East Texas Teachers flashed much of the championship form of the previous season. The Buffaloes, after a slow start, romped over the Daniel Baker Hill Billies, 40 to 7. Both the Panhandle and the East Texas state school ardently desire to win this week's game, which marks a resumption of competition between them.

Antelopes Are Hosts Friday Of Lubbock Cowhand Crew

POST, Sept. 27 (Special)—Idle since the lidblaster Sept. 16, Coach John Dibrell's Post Antelopes are preparing this week for an invasion of Coach Walker Nichols' Lubbock Cowhands Friday.

Post is making a bid this year under a new coaching regime to rise from the bottom spot in District 5.

MAY MISS OPENER

HOUSTON, Sept. 27 (AP) — Paul Hancock, Rice blocking back, may miss the opening game of the season with Oklahoma university Saturday afternoon. Hancock suffered a shoulder injury in Monday's scrimmage before the game.

Schoolboy Rowe To Oppose Tom Sunkel In Dixie Game

ATLANTA, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Atlanta Crackers returned home today with all Southern association honors available, ready to attempt a 1938 sweep in the Dixie series starting tomorrow night with Beaumont's Texas league champions.

The Texas Exporters with Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe scheduled to start pitching, are due to reach Atlanta tomorrow morning.

Atlanta's pennant winners, victors over the Southern association's all-star team and winners in the Shaughnessy playoff series, probably will rely upon the trusty left army of "Silent" Tom Sunkel in starting their third Dixie series (8 p. m. Central standard time).

Texas Expects Hard Battle With LSU On Saturday

AUSTIN, Sept. 27 (AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns drilled hard on defensive play today in preparation for Saturday's game against L. S. U.

The Tigers from Baton Rouge, defeated last week by Mississippi, were reported by Texas scouts to have been caught napping by Ole Miss and they warned Steer coaches the Texans would meet a better team perhaps than the one that defeated Texas last year.

TOUGH SCRIMMAGE

WACO, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Baylor Bears engaged in tough scrimmage today as Coach Morley Jennings began mapping offensive and defensive plays to be used against the Oklahoma Aggies at Wichita Falls Friday night.

Results In Livestock Judging At Fair Announced; To Be Continued Today

Minor Wrecks Seen Tuesday

Four minor traffic accidents in Lubbock's city limits Tuesday caused no injuries to occupants of the vehicles, but damaged automobiles involved, according to reports from police headquarters.

First one was at 11:45 o'clock that morning in the 2200-block, Nineteenth street. W. E. Lowery, 61, of Lubbock, was driving west on Nineteenth street and Dudley Brummett, 19, of 2422 Twenty-second street was going east. The accident happened when Brummett was passing a car which was pulling away from the curb after having been parked, officers said. Bill Mabray and Aubrey Fawver of the police department investigated.

At 12:35 o'clock Tuesday afternoon Fawver investigated an accident at Broadway and Avenue Q. According to reports at the police headquarters, Bill Craig, 18, of 415 Avenue L was driving north on Avenue Q and W. J. Pilant, 70, of Denver, Colo., was going west on Broadway. Officers said both drivers claimed to be crossing the intersection on green lights.

College avenue and Broadway at 3 o'clock that afternoon was the scene of a minor crash, Fawver said. A machine driven by R. D. Martin, 23, of 2418 Avenue J, was parked on College avenue when a vehicle driven by Bulk Fulton, 22, of 2320 Seventh street, was in collision with it. Damage to both vehicles was slight. Fawver investigated.

Cars driven west on Sixteenth street by Harry Elliott, 21, of 1909 Avenue J and north on Avenue J by W. C. Crawford, 56, of 1019 Seventeenth street were in collision at Sixteenth street and Avenue J at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, Fawver said. There was slight damage to fenders and wheels of the cars involved, it was reported.

Slaton Delegation To Bring A Band To The Fair Today

Slaton will take its day at the fair seriously.

Accompanied by a band from the high school, 75 persons will arrive today "bright and early," Raymond Lee Johns, manager of the chamber of commerce and board of city development there, advised Alex McDonald, fair president.

The piano was invented early in the eighteenth centry.

Judges Praise Fine Exhibits

Livestock judging for the 25th annual Panhandle-South Plains fair got under way Tuesday morning and by nightfall two divisions of hogs and one of cattle had been completed and winners announced, said Dr. I. E. Barr, general superintendent. More judging will follow today and Thursday.

Winners in three agricultural contests also were announced by C. C. Jobson, superintendent.

Quality Is Praised

Jack Turner judged the Herefords and complimented the show on the high quality of stock exhibited. Superintendent W. L. Stangel, who announced winners, praised the quality shown this year.

Today Is Deadline On Registrations

Although Tuesday was a more significant registration day, today will offer the final opportunity for students to register for the fall semester at Texas Technological college.

By close of the business office Tuesday afternoon, 3,453 students had paid fees, said W. T. Gaston, business manager.

That number was significant in that it will be one of the three figures for the semester used in determining the official enrollment. The legislature bases its appropriation largely upon the official enrollment. Regisration figures on the sixth day of classes, on Nov. 1 and at conclusion of the semester are considered in determining the official enrollment.

For each full-time student in the lower level (freshman and sophomore), the college receives $175 and for each in the upper level (junior and senior), $225, according to a policy adopted by the legislature.

Several score have obtained permits to register who have not paid fees.

Former Resident Of Lubbock Is Buried Here On Tuesday

Mrs. E. E. Glass, 26, teacher in the public schools of Meadow and a former resident of Lubbock, was buried in a cemetery here late Tuesday afternoon after funeral rites were read at the high school auditorium at Meadow at 5 o'clock that afternoon.

Mrs. Glass became ill when teaching school Monday afternoon and was admitted to a sanitarium here for treatment. She died at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning. She had suffered severe headaches several months. Her headache Monday was more than ordinarily severe. Death was believed due to a brain tumor, said a physician.

Sanders Funeral home officiated at the graveside.

Mrs. Glass, the former Miss Opal Montgomery, was a graduate of Lubbock High school and of Texas Technological college. She taught last school year in Wilson. She had been married only a few months.

Mrs. Glass is survived by her husband; her father, J. A. Montgomery of Tahoka; three brothers, T. W. Montgomery, teacher in Roosevelt High school, J. R. Montgomery of Tahoka, and Woodrow Montgomery of Spring Lake; two sisters, Mrs. A. M. Bradley of Canadian and Mrs. Leo Hawkins of Tahoka.

Large Scale Farming Project Conducted In Hockley County

(By Staff Correspondent)

MEADOW, Sept. 27—Aubrey L. Lockett of Vernon, prominent in Texas cotton ginners groups, is conducting a large scale farming project on the old Beasley Bros., farms northeast of here in Hockley county. The Beasleys, the year of the famous cotton plowup in 1933, received one of the largest checks of any given Texas cotton producers, for plowing under about 2,500 acres.

There is between 6,000 and 7,000 acres on the project. Some of the land, with sets of improvements on it, has been leased to tenants. Lockett is operating the remainder, growing cotton and feed.

E. L. Harris, who managed the Lockett gin near the farms, is the farm manager.

Crosby Fair Exhibits Carving In Soap Of David Aynes

(By Staff Correspondent)

CROSBYTON, Sept. 27—David Aynes has a unique avocation, that of carving objects out of soap cakes.

At the Crosby County fair here he displayed soap statues of the famous Seven Dwarfs by Walt Disney.

He also has carved out likenesses of President Roosevelt, John Nance Garner and W. Lee O'Daniel.

The sign of the three golden balls first was used by the Lombards, the forerunners of the modern pawnbroking "uncle."

Grand Jury At Crosbyton Is To Continue Investigations

CROSBYTON, Sept. 27. (Special) A 72nd district court grand jury failed to complete its investigations here today, but court authorities indicated it possibly would report to Judge Daniel A. Blair Wednesday.

Judge Blair called his appearance docket at 10 o'clock this morning after calling other dockets Monday morning at the opening of the four-weeks term here.

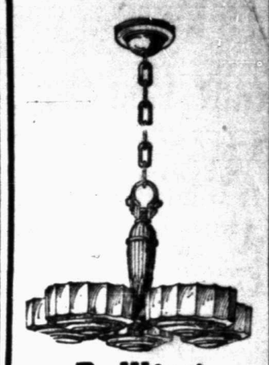

Burton S. Burks, district attorney, who, with Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney, is working with the grand jurors, said he had been informed a man assessed a two-year suspended sentence in March on a forgery by false indorsement indictment had been convicted in Hale county on a charge of swindling. He said he was making application to the court to have suspension of the sentence set aside and have the man formally sentenced the week of Oct. 10, criminal week.

A Gratifying Improvement

AMONG the numerous improvements at the Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds this year, none seems to be more keenly appreciated than the new system of caliche sidewalks leading from entrance and parking areas to exhibit buildings and other frequented sections of the area.

The sidewalks, incidentally, were one of the least expensive of the improvements, yet officials of the fair association report that more persons have expressed appreciation for that particular work than probably for all other innovations combined.

Sidewalks long have been an irritant at the fair. The grounds at the entrance overlie a caliche bed. Caliche admittedly makes one of the finest of road or sidewalk materials when it is dug, crushed, spread and rolled. But in its natural state it is a sore trial to feet, ankles and patience.

When traffic — foot or vehicular — moves over native caliche, the material tends to come out in lumps. The lumps form an obstacle on which a person may trip or turn his ankle, and the hole it leaves also is a minor menace. In the past, one nightly job at the fair has been to rake up and crush the lumps and to attempt to spread them smoothly. So never-ending was the job that the expression became current at the fair grounds that a crop of caliche lumps grew there each day.

Now, however, this wearisome material has been processed and used as the base for excellent sidewalks upon which chat—very fine crushed stone—has been spread and rolled. The walks have sufficient elevation in time of rain and contribute to pedestrian comfort at all times. They also have durability and will serve excellently until such time when cement walks will become a permanent solution of the problem. That time perhaps is not so far distant as might be imagined.

Meanwhile, consideration might wisely be given to daily sprinklings of the grounds to lay dust, and to the start of a long-range landscaping program which would include extensive plantings of trees, shrubbery and grass. That, of course, will be a difficult job and will necessitate the placement of considerable top soil here and there. But the beautifying of the grounds never can be considered complete until such a program of beautification is carried out.

Among The Minor Martyrs

ALERT students of social history who follow the news must certainly have noted as something of a milestone a little story of domestic tiffing that appeared the other day in The Morning Avalanche.

The story concerned a couple whose differences had led them to divorce court. The husband brought suit against the wife because, he told the judge, "My wife continually praised the New Deal . . . and I can no longer remain with anyone who will approve of that doctrine."

The judge dismissed the suit, but the story cannot be dismissed as just another oddity. When married couples become so aroused over political issues that their homes start to go to pieces, it's a tragedy for them but it ought to be a source of sneaking gratification for the men who have feared for the national weal because of the citizen's lack of interest in public affairs.

The husband in this case, as a citizen of a democracy, ought to have become used to living at peace with ideas antagonistic to his own, of course, but the important thing is that exceeding liveliness of interest. The wife, in her resolute alliance with the political concept to which she was attached, could serve as a symbol of the feminist movement come of age, and might yet find a place among the footnotes on minor martyrs in some future history.

With Our Contemporaries

"And now the government proposes to see that hogs live cleaner lives," E. I. Hill points out in the Lynn County News. "This is all right with us, Mr. Wallace, if it doesn't take millions of dollars of government money to do it, but we're wondering if you and your boys could not use your time to better advantage."

The One-Minute Sermon

Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ.

Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father:

To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.—Galatians 1: 3-5.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

THE TIGON

One of nature's strangest hybrids, a 4-year-old cub of an African lioness and a Siberian tiger, is the latest resident of the Central Park Zoo in New York City. The animal, known as a tigon resembles a lion with the exception of the head but its ears are striped like a tiger's, and in wintertime, when the pelt is in its prime, the body shows the tiger's stripes. The animal had been bred in the Hamburg, Germany, zoo, and is the gift of an anonymous donor. The head keeper of the zoo explains that when the tigon resembles a lion more than it does a tiger it is known as a liger.

THE CHARACTERS

Hugo Stern, handsome author, living on the French Riviera.

Archie Lumsden, myself, Hugo's friend.

Rene Geiss, a singularly unpleasant cartoonist.

Yesterday: Summoned to Palm Beach by O'Donnell, an American Detective, Hugo and I see Eve Monet murdered while she is taking part in a mannequin show.

Chapter Five

Death Of A Red-Haired Man

The Chief of Police pulled out a notebook, and scribbled while Hugo was speaking. Hugo told him that the blonde girl had approached us at the Carlton Bar, also that Geiss had spoken to us about her and mentioned the names of her friends.

"Venner, the banker?" Thiers pondered. "Now, where have I heard that name before? No matter. It will come to me. Baron Stahl I know, of course—the great financier. I fancy that he is staying now at Cap d'Antibes. Vladimir Rakovsky—no, that one is unknown to me. But one or other of them can doubtless tell us something about the girl."

He paused again, surveying us. "There is nothing else?"

Hugo shook his head, but I sat up in my chair. "There's one point," I said. "You say the girl was murdered, which I presume means shot, and in that case the pistol must have been fitted with a silencer, otherwise everyone would have heard the explosion. I know the noise a silencer makes, and just before the thing happened I heard such a sound, that might very well have been the shot, behind my back."

"And that is all, Monsieur?"

"No," I said bluntly, "it isn't. As my friend has told you, I called for a doctor, and while I was doing so I saw two men leave the room hurriedly, one after the other. In fact," I added thoughtfully, "it looked to me as if one was pursuing the other."

"That is most interesting," said the fat man, but with a certain lack of enthusiasm. "These men — how were they dressed?"

I shrugged. "In black trousers and white mess-jackets. They might have been waiters or guests, for all I could tell."

"But their faces?" he insisted. "You could identify them again?"

"No," I said. "I couldn't. They had their backs to me, and beyond the fact that one was medium-sized and black-haired, and the other shorter and ginger-colored, I saw nothing to spot them by." I paused, racking my brains for some detail that might have escaped me, and a sudden memory came. "Hold on a minute," said I, "I did notice a ginger-haired fellow, before the thing happened, standing behind the tables across the dance-floor, signaling to someone on our side of the room."

He pursed his lips, frowning thoughtfully. "And you think it might have been the same man? Well, we can discover if anyone left the building before orders were given to shut the doors. But meantime we will have Madame in."

He opened the outer door and gave a sharp order, and next moment a tall, handsome, middle-aged woman, a trifle mannish-looking in her tailored black satin suit, entered the room. She was pale and her mouth was grimly set, but otherwise she showed no sign of emotion.

Thiers bowed. "You are Madame Lilli Stefan?" he inquired. The woman inclined her head silently. "And this poor girl who has met so tragic an end—she was one of your assistants?"

A Holocaust?

"She was one of my assistants—for this affair only," she said in a deep, rich contralto. "It will be best, I think, if I explain exactly how it happened. The girl Eve was not one of my regular mannequins. She was suggested to me last spring by Baron Stahl. I had, unfortunately, no opening at the time, but I took her address with the promise to employ her when the occasion offered. Two days ago, when I was on the point of leaving for Cannes, one of my girls fell ill and I telephoned to this girl's apartment, 3 bis, rue President Doumergue, near the Parc Monceau, and finding that she was free, engaged her. Beyond that—I know nothing!"

"The Parc Monceau!" said the chief of police, pondering finger on lip. "An expensive address, that! And her real name, madame?"

Mme. Stefan shrugged. "I know no more than you," she retorted. "Eve Monet was what she called herself."

The fat man got ponderously to his feet. "Madame," he said, with dignity, "I thank you."

A uniformed gendarme stood in the doorway, the same that had departed on his errand a short time before. His sallow face was pearled with sweat, his beady eyes sparkled with the pleasurable enticipation of one who bears startling news, the points of his moustache quivered.

Monsieur le Commissaire!" he said excitedly, and stopped at sight of us. "One speaks?" he demanded dubiously.

"Yes, yes!" said his superior testily, and he went on with a rush.

"I have demanded at the doors if any person was seen to leave the building just after the tragedy, and one has said to me that yes, two men had been seen, one black haired, the other red. They left hastily, one on the heels of the other, but there are many cars ranged outside, and the night is dark. It was not seen in what direction they went. I then demanded of the chauffeurs if any car had been taken from the ranks and was told no. No taxi had been engaged from among those waiting." He stopped and wiped his forehead with a gaudy cotton handkerchief. "But as I returned, by chance I observed something in the shrubbery—protruding from under a bush. I looked. It was a man's shoe. I looked farther, and behold, the body of a man! The red, Monsieur le Chef—he lies there, shot through the heart!"

He paused dramatically, looking from one to the other of us, an actor seeking applause, and he was not disappointed in his audience. Hugo whistled, I gasped, and the fat man swore, sharply and viciously, like the spit of a cat. "Sacre bleu!" he said. "But this ceases to be amusing. What have we here—a holocaust?"

"I should rather say the murderer escaping, finding himself pursued, and making short work of his pursuer," suggested Hugo mildly. "Archie"—he turned to me—"that must have been the ginger-headed bloke you spotted."

The chief of police gave him a quick stare. "That is possible," he agreed. "Messieurs, I must ask you to accompany me to view the corpse—the second corpse!"

The casino opened on a square, the far end of which touched the sea-front. The building was edged by a thick fringe of shrubbery, bordered by a grass verge, and halfway along it I saw dimly, by the light flittering through curtained windows, two motionless, uniformed figures standing in guard, with a second group of onlookers halted inquisitively a little way off.

'Very Interesting'

We made our way towards them with a majestic, official slowness that I found profoundly irritating for every nerve in my body was tingling with the desire to see if I recognized the dead man, but at last we halted the dim, uniformed shapes melted to right and left, and the gendarme who had brought the tidings flashed a powerful torch on something that lay on the dry earth.

The chief of police bent over it. Then he crooked a finger at me, and I, in turn, stepped forward, bent down, and looked.

The man lay face-upward on the ground. His sandy hair was tumbled, so that a lock fell across his forehead; his small, humorous face was pinched and drawn, his eyes were open, staring with a startled look at the night sky above him.

"Yes," I said, straightening up. "That's the fellow, poor devil, who was signaling across the room, and, for all I know he may be the one who skipped out after the shooting."

A curious muffled exclamation broke from Hugo. "As God's above," he said softly, "it's O'Donnell!"

There was a moment's startled silence, then: "Sacre bleu!" said the fat man, "he is known to you then, this unfortunate?"

Hugo was a long time replying. He stood there looking down at the dead face with something inscrutable, something menacing in his expression. "He is known t me," he agreed at last. "His name is O'Donnell. He is an American citizen, and I saw him last in the Ritz-Savoy Hotel in New York. I believe he was working as a bond-salesman. I know nothing of his family or connections, but he was a nice fellow, and I asked him, if he was ever on this side, to look me up. Only this morning I heard that he had called at my villa while I was out, but what he's doing over here I can't tell you."

I noted with some surprise that he had omitted to mention O'Donnell's real profession or the note that he had left, giving a rendezvous at Palm Beach. But, as I pondered his possible reason for the omission, another thing was forced on my notice. The chief of police was regarding him with a very curious expression.

"So?" he said slowly. "This man was a friend of yours? He called on you this morning? And the girl, too—she also spoke with you today? Now, that is strange. That is—" he hesitated for a word—"very interesting."

I agree with you," said Hugo dryly. "Though interesting's hardly the word I would have chosen. Now,

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

A VERY private canvass of United States Senators discloses that the dominant house of Congress would vote against war unless foreign battleships bombarded seacoast cities and landed troops on our shores. The survey, incidentally, was conducted since the Czechoslovakian seliout.

Whirligig's list shows 45 Senators voting against American participation in a foreign conflict, but for accuracy's sake five anti-war members are omitted, leaving a total of 40 against. Ordinarily that constitutes a majority. Here's the list of war-for-protection-only Senators, and if they have been wrongly listed, they can deny it:

Bailey, Bone, Borah, Bridges, Brown of Michigan, Bulow, Byrd, Capper, Caraway, Clark of Missouri, Lehman (New York's prospective Senator), Lucas (probable Illinois winner), Duffy, Frazier, George, Gerry, Gillette, Hatch, Holt, Hughes, Johnson (Colorado), Johnson (California), LaFollette, Lundeen, McCarran, Neely, Norris, Nye, O'Mahoney, Schwellenbach, Shipstead, Thomas of Utah, Truman, Vandenberg, Van Nuys, Wagner, Wheeler, Adams of Colorado, McNary (Republican Senate Leader) and Lodge of Massachusetts. If that number oppose war, they will swing over enough to make it a majority. So go to sleep and forget the bugle calls!

OPPOSITION: G.O.P. political experts have boosted earlier predictions of Senate seat gains from a paltry three to 10, which would give them the sizable membership of 25 in the upper house. With conservative Democrats (the Harrison-Glass-Clark type) opposed to the President, that would furnish a formadable fighting force for F.D.R.'s last two years.

Don't take these Republican predictions too seriously, for they are based on the belief that farm prices will continue to drop and that A. F. of L.-C.I.O. conflicts at the polls will redound to the Repuolicans benefit. But here are the states where they expect to pick up a Republican Senator and to oust a sitting Democrat: New Hampshire, New Jersey, Iowa, Kansas, South Dakota, California, Oregon, Nevada, Illinois. They are especially confident of the first six states listed, not so sure of the other three.

Twenty-five senatorial swallows will hardly herald a political summer for the Republicans. But if they sing in tune, they can give an unexpected earache to the opposition.

FUNDS: Unpurged members of House and Senate have staged secret meetings at Washington and elsewhere since the failure of the White House move to unseat them. Naturally, they're bitter, and they have determined to retaliate at the next session of Congress.

After considering ways and means of spiking the President, accepting and discarding various outlandish proposals, they hit on the central scheme of stripping Mr. Roosevelt and his aides, especially Messrs. Hopkins and Ickes, of their control of public funds. Last session they gave three billion dollars to Harry, and almost a billion dollars to Harold. In many primary contests these funds for which they voted were used against them. W.P.A. and P.W.A. monies and men, as the Sheppard committee has revealed, were enlisted against anti-Roosevelt Democrats.

So, if and when any new money is appropriated by Congress for presidential agencies, the boys and girls will make sure that it's spent and not (politically) misspent. It will be one of the major issues on Capitol Hill next winter.

NOTES: Thorough public overhauling of radio broadcasting system begins next month by Communications Commission committee. . . . Ten years would be required at present rate of output to equip Army with new semi-automatic rifle—two years required to get into mass production. . . . Mexican agrarians fail to keep up former food production—cost of living rising as food imports increase. . . . British agent on way here to discuss method of restoring British oil interests in Mexico to owners under urgent war-preparedness program. . . . Export of crude petroleum and gasoline nearly doubled this year. . . . Administration shocked by Anglo-French attitude toward Czechoslovakia.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

NEW YORKERS with excellent administration contacts get a clear impression that President Roosevelt will continue to press unanimous failure of his "purge" campaigns. They can find no indications of prospective retreat or compromise.

The first big battle will probably develop over the reorganization bill, slated to be reintroduced early in the session. F.D.R. is still determined to force through a revamping of the executive branch of the government.

This will promptly revive the "dictator" issue in a big way. Democrats in both houses will be smoked out into taking a definite stand for or against the White House. This fits in beautifully with the President's idea of dividing "liberal" sheep from "conservative" goats, but it will be rough on the kiss-and-make-up school that wants to salve the wounds of heated primary campaigns in the interest of Democratic party harmony.

OHIO: Republican prospects for November victory in Ohio look steadily brighter to New Yorkers. A number of straws-in-the-wind are blowing in their direction.

President William R. Green of the A. F. of L. recently declared himself in favor of the Democratic nominee Charles Sawyer for governor. State leaders of the Federation promptly made it clear that he wasn't speaking for them. Robert A. Taft and John W. Bricker—G.O.P. candidates for senator and governor—both have good labor records so far as the A. F. of L. is concerned, and the fact that the C.I.O. is going all out for the Democrats will tend to drive the Federationists into the Republican camp.

Agricultural discontent is another factor. Evidence is mounting that a large proportion of Ohio farmers are in revolt against the New Deal. The still potent personal machine of Governor Martin L. Davey is giving covert but effective aid to the Republican candidates. Ex-Governor George White, defeated by Robert J. Bulkley in the Democratic senatorial primary, is doing what he can to help Taft. His campaign manager is now an active worker in Taft's organization. Much can happen before November, but at present Messrs. Taft and Bricker appear to have at least an even chance of bringing Ohio back to the Republican column.

CAUTION: The tension in Europe, should it continue, is bound to slow up American recovery. It has already had some effect. Business executives are nervous about making commitments for the future. Merchants and jobbers are stalling off or cutting down their fall and winter orders. Manufacturers in turn are slowing up production schedules.

Automobile makers are watching Europe anxiously. Not only would a war upset their export markets, it might also raise havoc with their optimistic estimates of domestic demand for their 1939 models. Caution is the keynote—which means smaller orders for materials, parts and accessories than they had originally planned.

Wealthy investors established strong cash positions. This was a factor in weakening the stock market. They feared getting caught loaded up with securities in case the Stock Exchange were closed for an indefinite period. Inner financial circles are unanimously convinced that the Securities and Exchange Commission would probably suspend trading in all securities markets immediately upon the outbreak of war. The S.E.C. is known to have discussed this possibility.

LATE: Informed New Yorkers get word that Senate Majority Leader Alben Barkley has kindly volunteered, now that the primary fight is over, to aid Senator Walter F. George's campaign for reelection.

This would be a sublimely superfluous gesture, considering that George's victory in November is safe without even an argument.

Texas Topics---By Howard Marshall

AUSTIN, Sept. 27. (AP) — Police training schools held occasionally at Camp Mabry, headquarters for the state police, may become a continuous activity there.

Col. H. H. Carmichael, director of the Public Safety department which embraces all divisions of the state police force, is laying plans for reopening a peace officers' school in early October.

Training courses for county and city peace officers and "refresher" courses for highway patrolmen and rangers, the field men of the state police, have been held at intervals, but Col. Carmichael plans a continuing school this year with a new group immediately replacing one that has completed training.

Broad Courses Offered

The courses will be open to sheriffs and their deputies, constables and city officers. Instructors will be recruited from leaders in their ranks and also from the state and federal fields. The training would touch all phases of police work, including the most recently developed methods of crime detection and prevention which the state police are well equipped to demonstrate.

STARTING from scratch a few years ago the safety department now has laboratories for scientific analysis of all types of evidence ranging from bullets to handwriting. There are rifle and pistol ranges, classrooms, dormitories, a commissary, shops, radio, telephone and teletype communications systems, recreational areas and other facilities for trainees.

The schools will be modeled after the National Police academy conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for officers who want training in the methods used by G-men. FBI men have served on the faculties of previous Texas schools which have drawn the commendation of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI.

Crime Experts Wanted

Reopening of the training courses might bring about a long anticipated meeting of Texas rangers and Canadian Mounted police. Carmichael, who returned recently from a tour which included a visit with Canadian police officials, invited them to send several mounties to Camp Mabry, preferably during a training period when they could exchange information on their methods with rangers, highway patrolmen and local Texas officers.

Carmichael also asked members of the Michigan State police, which he regards as one of the outstanding state police organizations, to visit the camp.

A POSSIBLE innovation supplementing existing facilities when the training school reopens will be a typical "Hogan's Alley." The term is police vernacular for a facsimile street lined with targets placed at difficult angles to simulate the actual condition under which gun fights sometimes occur. The trainees would be required to dash from house to house firing at the targets as they bob up in various locations—as in a running gun fight.

Golden School Days!

Incidentally, renewal of the police schools will bolster the figures of an Austin statistician who presents evidence that nearly half the capital city will attend school this fall.

The chamber of commerce estimated Austin population to be approximately 74,000 now.

The statistician figures a minimum of 30,000 persons will register in various schools, including 11,000 at the University of Texas, 14,000 at public schools and the remainder at St. Edwards university, Lutheran Concordia college, St. Mary's High school, Tillotson and Samuel Huston colleges for negroes, at the police schools, the State Deaf and Blind schools and at various beauty, fine arts and businesss colleges.

The fat man hesitated, looking from one to the other of us with a considering expression in his small, observant eyes. "No," he agreed at last. "It is true, there is no object in detaining you now, Monsieur Stern. I have much to do here."

"Monsieur Geiss will be informed of the murder?" asked Hugo.

"Certainly," said the other, surprised. "He was acquainted with the poor girl. I depend on him for information — and for the rest, he knows how to keep his mouth shut, that one."

"Then," said Hugo casually, as we turned away, "there will be no harm in my mentioning it to him if we chance to meet . . ."

Roscoe Turner Is Planning New Attacks Upon Speed

CLEVELAND, Sept. 27. (AP)—Colonel Roscoe Turner announced today he will design a new airplane for the sole purpose of attacking existing speed records—at a cost of about $100,000.

Cleveland's aviation industry, through a syndicate formed of 70 firms, will finance the venture, he said. The plane will be of an entirely new design and may require the development of a power unit completely different from any now in use, the former army speed merchant disclosed.

Turner, twice winner of the Thompson trophy race, said he hoped to achieve a speed of 500 miles an hour in the new ship.

TARZAN THE FEARLESS No. 39 By E. R. Burroughs

As the terrified Nkima fled screaming into the trees, the patrol of warriors warily entered the cave. For a long time they had been searching for the emaciated white man who had been snatched from their clutches by Tarzan, the Tree-Demon. And now, there he was!

Their first elation gave way to fear when they realized that the powerful demon might be lurking in the shadows, ready to pounce upon them. Timidly they stepped forward, jabbing their spears into the darkness. At last they were satisfied the demon had gone.

Chattering with delight, they marched Dr. Brooks down the hillside. Their joy was two-fold. First, they had re-taken their captive. But, more important, they had won a victory over Tarzan, the Tree-Demon. "Huh!" grunted a proud warrior; "we are mightier than he!"

Dr. Brooks was resigned to his fate, for Tarzan was not here to save him again. Death he did not fear, but one desire obsessed him—to see his daughter Mary before he died. Little did he dream that he was soon to see her—under the most dreadful circumstances.

MAKES VALIANT EFFORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP) — The stock market made a valiant effort to shake off war alarms today but, generally, was unsuccessful.

Gains of fractions to 2 or more points, held during the greater part of the session, were wiped out or replaced with losses in the final hour following the world broadcast of Prime Minister Chamberlain in which few if any hopes were held out for peace in the German-Czech controversy.

Traders nibbled at steels, motors, rubbers and an assortment of specialties in the forenoon, but volume was exceptionally small as many inclined to restrict commitments pending the Chamberlain speech.

The talk of the British government chieftain left the market cold and a brief selling wave toppled prices. Offerings then dried up and a mild recovery set in. There was a last-minute let-down and quotations ended around the day's bottom.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .2 of a point at 44, or 6 points under the year's peak. Transfers totalled 771,210 shares compared with 1,226,090 the day before.

General Motors and Chrysler, strong in the morning fell back quickly, the former ending off 1 point at 40½ and the latter down 1¼ to 64¾. Announcement of a cut in prices of some General Motors passenger car models was thought to have been only a minor influence.

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem in the forefront until the last, were unchanged at 51⅞ and 52¼ respectively.

Under water fractions to a point or so at the finish were U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, American Telephone, Western Union, Anaconda, Westinghouse, Eastman Kodak, J. C. Penney, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Texas Corp., Woolworth and United Aircraft.

Retaining portions of the day's advances were Kennecott, Standard Oil of N. J., International Harvester, Santa Fe, Allied Chemical, Philip Morris, Coca-Cola, Union Carbide, American Can and Johns-Manville.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 27 (AP)—A pacific interpretation of Prime Minister Chamberlain's speech and higher outside markets supported local cotton prices during most of today's session but hedging and transferring depressed distant positions in late trading and the close was very steady, net 9 points higher to 2 lower.

The close was at or near the best with Oct. contracts at 7.94, Dec. at 7.93, Jan. at 7.92, March at 7.90, May at 7.84@7.85, July at 7.83 and Oct. (new) at 7.75 bid.

Spot sales were comparatively large despite mediocre offerings and the turnover there totaled 8,081 bales. Middling closed 5 points higher at 7.93.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP)—Covering in October lent steadiness to cotton today. The spot month advanced from 7.74@7.90, closing 14 points net higher, while other months were 1 to 4 points net higher. December recovered from 7.74@7.85 and closed at 7.83.

The market opened 1 to 4 points lower influenced by the issuance of notices against 437 October contracts and continued nervousness over European conditions. Near month covering soon developed through spot houses and New Orleans and toward the close selling developed following Prime Minister Chamberlain's address in London, but after prices reacted to net losses of 5 to 11 points rerecord covering in October appeared.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 27 (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 8 points higher at 8.05 cents a pound, average for the past thirty market days 8.20 cents a pound.

Few Voters Of That First Election In Lubbock Living

Few of the approximately 60 persons who cast votes in the March 10, 1892, special election to organize Lubbock county are alive, say oldtimers.

Only six of them live in this section: W. D. Crump of Shallowater and Isham Tubbs, G. C. Wolffarth, R. C. Burns, George M. Boles and J. D. Caldwell, all of Lubbock.

"Even the saddle horses that voted are dead," said one oldtimer, referring to a sometimes denied report the names of horses were placed on the petition for election in order to get the required number of names.

Two Office Holders Survive

Caldwell and Wolffarth are the only survivors of the first office holders, Caldwell being commissioner of precinct 1 and justice of peace of Lubbock and attached counties of Lynn, Hockley and Cochran, Wolffarth winning the county-district clerk's office, after a special election 30 days after organization was necessary to break a tie vote with William L. McCauley.

"He won only by a vote or two, then," said Caldwell. "At that, Wolffarth was not the first clerk. Somebody had to serve a month before the special election, and Wolffarth said he didn't want the office until he was elected to it."

Burns lost a cigar on "guessing" at the first clerk the other day, Caldwell said.

Lubbock, Borden and Dickens counties were organized the same day, Caldwell recalls.

In that first election, G. W. Shannon was elected county judge over W. C. Henderson and H. M. Bandy; Jeff S. King was another candidate for county-district clerk; William M. Lay was elected over W. F. Cobb, H. F. Welborn, J. B. Mobley and Tang Martin; U. G. Moore was elected treasurer over T. S. Bromley; T. B. Jones county surveyor over C. E. Lewis; G. W. Singer and G. W. Lee were candidates for commissioner of precinct 1; F. E. Wheelock was elected commissioner of precinct 2; L. D. Hunt was successful in the race for commissioner of precinct 3, over Henry C. Hiatt, and Van Sanders won precinct 4 commissioner place. No county attorney was elected.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27 (AP)—Collapsing almost 2 cents late today and then wildly shooting upward 1⅞ cents, Chicago wheat values reflected alternate fast changes in war and peace prospects.

A radio address by Prime Minister Chamberlain of Great Britain that came just before trading here was at end, gave a shock to hopes of peace, and kited the market instanter, but without fully overcoming previous losses.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ⅛ to ⅜ of a cent down compared with yesterday's finish. Dec. 66⅞@67, May 67⅜@67¾, corn ⅝ to 1 cent lower, Dec. 50⅞@50¾, May 53¼@53⅜, oats ¼ to ⅜ off, rye ⅝ to ¾ up, and provisions showing

Johnny Mullens, Rodeo Director, Tells Funny Incidents Of Years Of Troupin

Johnny Mullens is putting on a rodeo at the fair.

There's no news in his association with such shows—he's been to all and staged most of them—the stampede at Calgary, Canada, Pendleton, Cheyenne, Prescott, Tucson, Salinas, Madison Square, Chicago and the Sesqui-Centennial at Philadelphia among them.

Cowpuncher All His Life

A cowpuncher all his life, he has been associated with Tom Mix and Hoot Gibson and Neal Hart and the Miller brothers and Ringling Bros. show, a ranch owned by which providing him employment several years.

The Brahma bulls interest Mullens most. He tells lots of funny yarns about them.

Once he left a drunken man out in the rain all night near Slaton, when on a trail drive from Stockton to Mobeetie, he said. "We had 1,600 steers and that was enough with having to ride herd on a drunk and his jug."

Went Out To Trade

On that drive they passed Slaton, about 1898, and he was detailed, since he was "a kid," to take a quarter of beef and trade it for eggs and chickens. He helped chase "seven old hens 90 times around the house," got them and several dozen eggs into sacks and tried to get his horse to walk. "But he lit a shuck, the critter did, down a canyon. I got there with all the eggs, but some of 'em weren't in the same shape they used to be."

Mullens saw Dave Peters, whom he hadn't seen since Mullens was 8 years old, but recognized him last week in Lubbock.

How do they get all those names for their horses? One, called Broken Bones, was named after a puncher had picked himself up gingerly after the outlaw had tossed him. The puncher indulged in some rather "scenic lingo" and out of it came the name.

Threw Pretty Cowgirl

Pretty Bloomers is another outlaw. "He's a he, all right" but he once threw a pretty cowgirl—"and the rest can be imagined."

Women's relay riding is the most thrilling, calf roping the least exciting of the rodeo ring, said Mullens. He saw a puncher "nailed" to the race track at Rock Rapids, Ia., when he tried to bulldog a short-horn steer, the shell of one horn coming off and holding the man's hand to the ground.

The public is bloodthirsty, especially in the east, he said. "They want to be close enough to hear 'em hit the ground, as well as see 'em fall."

No Conception Of Danger

In the big cities, especially New York, people have no conception of the danger of a prowling, "or even sleeping," Brahma bull. He said the humane society officials would climb into a pen of the wild cattle, "carrying white gloves in one hand and a can in the other," and would pat their flanks and poke them with their sticks. "The Lord sure was with them," he said.

Another time a humane official wanted a bull destroyed because the animal had skinned his face slightly. Mullens protested there was nothing wrong, except that the bull had sulled and wouldn't get up from the ground. The officials pressed demands and one went into the pen and took a pot shot. That set off a rush like an express train. Had it not been for Ranger Tom Hickman and the officer's big .45 "no telling what might have happened. Anyway, we didn't have no more trouble with the humane society."

Got Loose In New York

He said a bunch of Brahmas got loose in New York at the Madison Square show, scattering all the way from Sixtieth and West End to Seventy-ninth and Broadway.

"We were scared to death the New York innocents would try to pat them on the head and get killed," he said. "One of our boys found a policeman who once had worked on a ranch. The cop had all other cops he could get ahold of to rustle all the rope they could find. "Slim" and the copper who knew something about cattle would rope a cow and tie it to the nearest place that would hold.

"We came up on a crowd of about 500 persons and, sure enough, there was a Brahma tied to a light post, trying to get at the innocents standing around wondering at the spectacle. Two bulls had escaped from either side of a rose bush in a magnificent yard."

Ran Into Restaurant

One ran up the ramp at the "garden" one night and through a great plate glass window into a Greek restaurant, scattering tables and diners impartially. A cook with a cleaver was the only one who stood his ground—and he was the nearest one killed.

The punchers at the rodeos may resort to impractical jokes. A new hand was sent into the Brahma pen to "curry them tame steers."

A Detroit spectator was killed when a Brahma leaped a seven foot wall and rushed for him. Cries to run up the ramps did not help the man. He was knocked about 50 feet.

At the Sesqui show a Brahma got loose and ran onto the stage of Freedom show, where 2,500 girls were rehearsing. "I spurred my horse onto the stage after him, yelling for the girls to run. They thought it was part of the act. The steer dodged in and out, miraculously never goring anyone, and the director wanted to whip me for riding on the stage after him.

"At Cheyenne, a Brahma cut back and headed for a boy and a girl standing beside a model T. The boy was cranking the machine and the girl had her back turned. Just before the steer got to the boy the girl saw him and yelled, taking a dive in the meantime for the back of the Ford. She got half in and half out and the boy, getting to the other side of the car, looked around to see her upside down in the car, the bull hooking the car off the ground each time he made a razoo at it."

A Brahma jumped in a taxi at Fort Worth one time and the driver left it and the car and the bull ran through a drug store window.

M. D. Fanning, arena secretary, also has been around. He has been with Mullens on numerous occasions, at most of the big shows. He is employed in Lubbock by an oil refinery.

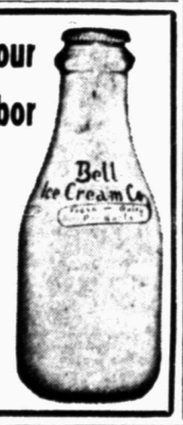

"It was not so easy to get out of (rodeo business) and was even easier to get back into when I heard Johnny was to be here," he said.

JOHNNY MULLENS

The builders of the famous leaning tower of Pisa, Italy, intended it to be vertical, but one side sank when it was only 36 feet high, and they finished it in the slanting position.

McAdoo Will Resign Post

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27. (AP)—Emory S. Land, chairman of the maritime commission, said today Senator William G. McAdoo of California had accepted an offer to become chairman of the board of the Dollar Steamship Lines, inc.

Land said he understood McAdoo would resign his senate seat immediately to accept the position.

Joseph R. Sheehan, executive director of the commission, has accepted the post of president of the Dollar corporation. He will resign from his government job.

Operation Criticized

In announcing new plans for the company, Land criticized severely its operation in the past. He said that the major problem the company had faced "is not attributable to lack of business."

The chairman asserted large salaries had been paid executive officers of the company and said that R. Stanley Dollar drew a total of $2,526,501 from the company between 1923 and the middle of 1934.

Land also criticized the payment of management fees to affiliated companies.

Shirley Has A Grand Time At The Fair

No need to ask Shirly Q. tiny curly-haired daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Marion, 2218 Eighteenth street, whether she enjoyed herself at the Panhandle-South Plains fair Monday afternoon. Her big smile for The Morning Avalanche photographer from one of the "kiddie rides" answered that question. Winston Reeves made the picture.

DIES OF INJURIES

LAREDO, Sept. 27. (AP)—Claude R. Hayward, 32, oil company pumper, died in a Bruni hospital today of injuries received in an automobile accident near Bruni.

Amazed With The Gly-Cas Action

Attacks of Indigestion and Gas Have Been Eliminated, Every Ache and Pain Has Left His Body Now

"Gly-Cas had an action that was entirely different from all other medicine I ever tried," said Mr. J. B. Pumphrey, 1340 North 2nd St., Abilene, Texas. "For over ten years I had suffered with attacks of indigestion, gas and bloating after most every meal I ate, regardless of my diet. I was often bothered with dizzy spells. But to make my condition more miserable, pains settled across my shoulders and in my arms, limbs and ankles until what I endured was almost unbearable. Then too, I was badly constipated and my bladder was disordered. Medicine after medicine failed to have any effect on my stubborn case until I finally gave Gly-Cas the opportunity to help me."

"Gly-Cas was actually amazing in its quick action in restoring me to good health," continued Mr. Pumphrey. "My stomach is now regulated until I can eat the foods I wish, enjoy my meals and never suffer any distress after eating. Those attacks of indigestion are in the past and dizzy spells gone. My strength and energy has been renewed, sleep and rest well at night and feel almost like a different person since Gly-Cas came to my rescue."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns.—Adv.

Scattered Bits Of News Gathered At The Fairgrounds

Proudest exhibitor at the fair this year is Oscar Stansell, Floydada Jersey breeder, or is it Red Johnson, his herdsman. A fine looking Jersey heifer was dropped by one of Oscar's registered cows Monday. "She's a grand daughter of one of those famous twins," said Red as he proudly displayed the newest member of the herd. The heifer has not been named as yet. But she attracts a lot of attention. Another heifer dropped a calf in Amarillo last week, so that Oscar will go back to Floydada with 18 animals instead of the 16 he started with.

FRANZ IS HERE

Big jolly Charlie Franz, herdsman for Tierra Blanca stock farms at Canyon, is here with three herds, Jersey cattle, Holstein cattle and hogs. Charlie has been with the McSpadden brothers of Amarillo for many years. He makes all of the big shows and is among Texas' best known show herdsmen.

CHARLIE IS WALKING

The old South Plains fair "ain't what she used to be"—Charlie Pierce is walking around the grounds this year—not riding as formerly.

GEORGE IS JUDGING

George Samson, the ever popular agricultural show judge from Post, is judging the exhibits as usual. George rates as Texas' best grain sorghum judge and he is always followed by a class of county agents and vocational agriculture teachers who like to get his ideas on what are the best points in the selection of heads.

THEY RATE FANS

The Hereford breeders have a little over the boys in the livestock barn. They rate some big circulating fans that are kept going to blow fresh air over the stock.

IN CHARGE OF TICKETS

Main ticket office at the entrance to the grouds is presided over by J. B. Shannon, with L. C. Ellis and other bankers, dishing out the proper change. L. C., as county Democratic chairman, was able to borrow some election ballot boxes for use at the fair and they come in handy. At the pedestrian's gate, on Broadway, other groups are working.

FRANK REEVES HERE

Frank Reeves, Star-Telegram photographer, who probably knows more cattlemen and agricultural leaders than any other Texas newspaperman, is here to cover the fair for his paper. Frank is a fixture of the fair and his camera is his badge of authority.

DUST AT MINIMUM

A coating of cotton hulls on the aisles of the agricultural building this year has made for better looking displays, says C. C. Jobson, superintendent. Dust is cut down to a minimum in the big building and both displays and individual exhibits look brighter.

LARGENT HAS HERD

W. J. Largent of Merkel, better known as Willie Joe, has his herd of Herefords here. The Largent herd is Texas' best known show herd and their fame extends to the Chicago International, the Kansas City American Royal and other national and international expositions. Largent takes pride in his personal supervision of the herd and he keeps them in perfect condition at all times.

VETERAN IS PRESENT

Veteran swine man here is A. C. Prewitt of Quemado, Maverick county, who for 25 years or more was a resident of the Panhandle and is still secretary of the Panhandle Swine Breeders association. Ever since moving to the valley four or five years ago, he has made the Amarillo and Lubbock fairs regularly.

AMBULANCE ON GROUNDS

Local funeral homes have taken turns with keeping an ambulance for emergency runs at the temporary hospital on the grounds. Hospitals are furnishing the nurses.

The worst earthquake in recent years occurred in Japan in 1923 when nearly 100,000 lives were lost.

AUSTIN, Sept. 27. (AP)—A stay of execution until October 28 today was granted Selanes Canedo, given the death penalty in Bexar county on conviction of slaying Joseph W. Daly, a railroad machinist.

Canedo would have died in the electric chair shortly after midnight Thursday.

Transfer Of Superintendents On Santa Fe Is Announced

Transfer of superintendents of the New Mexico division of Santa Fe western lines and the Slaton division of the Panhandle and Santa Fe railway was announced Tuesday by H. B. Lautz, general manager.

The change will move H. R. McKee, veteran of the New Mexico division to Slaton and J. R. Skillen from the latter point to headquarters at Las Vegas, N. M. Both officials have been prominently identified with railway operations in these territories for many years.

The appointments are effective October 1.

The average life span of the common housefly is 62 days.
