Hansford County Will Send Men To Lubbock For Pre-Induction Medical Exam

This publication is not in a position to give very much official information regarding the drafting of Hansford county men.

From the information picked up on the streets, it seems that something between 21 and 25 men reported for pre-induction medical examination last month. Of this number four were disqualified because of physical defects. As best we can learn something like five or six of this number will report for duty somewhere between the 20th and 25th of this month. Two, it is alleged will report to the Navy, and three or four will report to the Army. This does not fill the quota called for from Hansford county, according to current gossip, but because of deferment appeals, others that would be reporting for training, will not report until their appeal for deferment is acted upon. If all appeals for deferment are granted, it is logical to suppose that Hansford county will call for larger groups for pre induction physical examination, so that the quota's assigned this county can be filled, if there is a shortage of those who are not reporting at this time.

It is a known fact that the quota's all over the nation are falling short. The program of the army is far behind the plans outlined, according to comments that are current over the radio. It seems that the problem came to the point where the Army decided it would take men, even at the sacrifice of materials and production.

From the current gossip that is prevalent on the streets of Spearman, something like 26 men will report to Lubbock along about March 29 for the March pre-induction medical examination.

Man Arrested In Oregon For Murder Of Martin

The following story tells of an arrest that may clear up the murder of Willard Martin, a former Hansford county man. Martin is a brother of William Martin, owner-manager of the Martin Shoe shop in Spearman.

TACOMA, Feb. 25—Pierce county sheriff's officers revealed Friday that a 22-year-old Tacoma girl told them of a murder she witnessed nearly 12 years ago in Colorado and thus led to the arrest this week of T. B. Winbern in Grants Pass, Ore., where he was known as John Richardson.

She said her uncle, Winbern, and a man named Millard Martin became involved in a fight at a Hallowe'en dance in Pueblo one night and Winbern fatally stabbed the other man. She said her uncle then gave her some money "not to tell."

The girl, whose name was withheld for her own protection, recently missed the last bus to her suburban home and called the sheriff's office for assistance. Two deputies drove her home.

En route, the girl confessed she was afraid of law enforcement officers because she had seen her uncle kill a man in Pueblo, Colo., when she was 10 years old and that she never had told anyone.

The girl gave the officers her uncles address in Grants Pass, where he had been living. A check with Colorado authorities led to Winbern's arrest in Oregon a few days later.

Roy C. Chase Announces For Commissioner

The Spearman Reporter is authorized to announce the candidacy of Roy C. Chase for Commissioner Precinct No. 2.

Mr. Chase is a wheat farmer and cattleman who has lived in Hansford county and Precinct No. 2 for the past fourteen years. He is familier with the problems confronting land owners and farmers of this section of the county, and declares he is anxious to serve the people of Precinct No. 2, with partiality to no one and fairness to all. This is the first time Mr. Chase has ever asked for a public office, he declares, and he is doing so after many of his neighbors have asked him to enter the race. Chase says he is familiar with machinery, and believes he can conduct the office of commissioner with economy and efficiency.

The present city administration has been responsible for many beneficial changes, and the comments heard on the streets are to the effect that the general public appreciates the sacrifices made by these busy men in staying with their official positions for at least another 2 years.

With only two new subscripers and ten renewals recorded this week, which represents a loss of six from last week's record, the management of The Reporter has resolved to go to church and pay the preacher next Sunday.

New subscribers and renewals have been coming in so regular during the past five weeks, that any loss from a previous weeks standard makes the staff of The Reporter feel like they are slipping. However, the subscriptions this week one year ago were 8, which gives the paper the atmosphere of being appreciated during this war times.

Local people are kind enough to say they enjoy reading the paper, and getting the Hansford county news. The present manager has specific instructions to devote the best efforts of the staff towards gathering and presenting the news in an interesting way. If there is a question of getting all the news and leaving out some advertisement, the policy of this paper is to neglect the advtrisers and use the news. It gives more satisfaction, and in the long run gains so many friends that it pays advertisers dividends when they do get their advertisements in The Reporter.

So many people who have relatives in the service realize the importance of sending The Reporter to service men. It is a fact that you can write a letter taking care of the personal items, and rely on The Reporter to carry the service men the news of their buddies and of the folk they love back in good old Hansford county.

If your subscription to The Reporter is out, or is about to expire, please attend to the renewal without delay. The Reporter cannot afford to send the paper to those who cannot take the time to attend to their renewals.

The Reporter costs only $2 a year in Hansford and adjoining counties: $2.50 a year elsewhere.

R. L., who has been away from Hansford county for nearly two years is enjoying the first furlough he has been granted since entering the service.

The seaman has had all the basic training offered by the navy and has made the New Georgia campaign and a tour of duty in the Solomons. He has had quite thrilling experiences, but is very reluctant to talk about his foreign service.

At the present time young McClellan is enroute to Columbia university, where he will enter a midshipman's school.

R. L. was scheduled to appear with other boys of the service, on the regular Lion club program, Tuesday noon, but was sick Tuesday, threatened with malaria fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Vernon of Los Angeles, California, are here visiting with friends and relatives. Mrs. Lora Vernon who has been visiting in California the past month returned with them.

Additional Moisture Of Past Week Brightens 1944 Wheat Prospects

Rain and frozen mist was responsible for .30 inches of moisture during four days of the past week. While the moisture was welcomed, the unpleasant weather was not. Catlemen, had visions of blizzards that would bring back the hardships of last December.

A check of the high and low temperature compared with that of this week one year ago indicates much more pleasant weather. The low for this week ranged from 19 to 41 degrees. The low of this week one year ago ranged from 13 to 31 degrees, with freezing weather every day of the week.

At this time last year the newspaper recorded the fact that dry weather, freezes and greenbugs had just about killed the barley, and some of the wheat damaged. At this time we are enjoying excellent sub soil moisture, the wheat is growing every day, and so far as we know there has not been any complaint about greenbugs. Even volunteer wheat is doing mighty fine ,and many wheat growers who planned to leave out acreage for summer fallow, are deciding to harvest the volunteer acreage.

Temperature readings were:

Half Hundred Attend Lions Ladies Night

A half hundred Lions and wives braved the bad weather Tuesday March 14th to stage one of the best "Ladies Night" programs the club has enjoyed in years. Chairman Clay Gibner was toastmaster, and grilled the absent members of the various ration and draft board. The party was in honor of the ration board members and their wives and most of them were absent. The toastmaster declared the higher up's had rationed the ration board for attendance.

Deputy Sheriff J. B. Cooke made a very interesting report on the juvenile delinquency situation in Hansford county. The report brought to the attention of Lion members and their ladies, the situation relative to providing an interesting program for teen age children. This has become a national problem, perhaps more serious in manufacturing centers, where parents are engaged in war work. The local Lion club is considering sponsoring a supervised program of entertainment for teen age children, and Lion Cooke heads the committee presenting facts. No action was taken at the meeting Tuesday evening.

Fred J. Hoskins read an original peom praising the ladies of Lions — in reverse.

Mrs. Eldridge gave a rebuttal poem with just as much reverse English in praise for Lions.

Lloyd Stavlo, one of Hansford county war hero's, who has been discharged from the army after a strenious army career, was a guest at the party.

Lt. Robert W. Skinner is visiting in Hansford and Ochiltree county this week, enjoying a 15 days leave of absence from Camp White, Oregon. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Skinner. Mrs. Skinner is a teacher in the Spearman school system.

Navy Takes Over For Lion Club Program Tuesday

Two naval airmen, one seaman and an aviation lieutenant were guest speakers at the regular meeting of the Lions club held at the Methodist church annex Tuesday noon.

Seaman James McNulty was the first speaker. He was followed by Naval Ensign Curley Parson and Ensign L. M. Womble. Lieut. Arnold Richardson completed the program.

Lions were given the low down on basic training in the navy, primary operational and advance training in the navy and army air service.

Lion Bill Miller was responsible for the program.

Change In The Validity Of Basic A Ration Coupons

"The folowing changes in mileage rationing regulations will be effective as of 12:01 a. m., March 22, 1944. Validity period of the "A-11" and each subsequent series "A" coupons extended from two to three months. Value of "A" coupon remains the same."

This means that the "A" coupon will still be good for 3 gallons of gasoline, but that each strip of numbered coupons will have to last three months instead of two months. This will figure that that motorist will have one coupon for every twelve days if he only has an "A" book.

Near $5000.00 Collected Thus Far In Campaign

Out Of County Property Owners May Swell The Fund To $6900.00

Hansford county had raised $4,926.23 for the 1944 War fund drive of the American Red Cross, Bruce Sheets, campaign chairman announced Monday. There is a possibility that this years quota, double that of last year, may be trippled before the final count is made. Already Hansford county has passed the record drive of last year, which netted the Red Cross just shy of $4,000.00 and brought three times the sum asked for by the national committee.

This year's quota was for $2,300.00 the sum was more than doubled Monday with checks coming into the office every hour of the day, and with reports from workers at Gruver, Morse, Oslo, and other communities several days behind the present check-up.

Chairman Sheets repeated the statement he made last year when the quota was tripled. "This is the easiest campaign to raise such a large sum of money I have ever had anything to do with." Sheets says the people do not give him time to solicit funds, but bring them into the drug store continually. He has praise for the other workers of the county. All community workers have made promp reports, and have brought in more than their share of the quota, according to chairman Sheets.

It is difficult to predict that the quota will be tripled this year, but Chairman Sheets says he has not had time to hear from the many out of county property owners, who normally contribute about 30 per cent of the entire quota. If this source should prove as large as in the past, the possibility of making another outstanding nation-wide record would be more pronounced.

Chairman Sheets received a telegram March 15th from Robert F. Shea of the national committee, with headquarters at St. Louis, Mo.

The telegram stated.

St. Louis, Mo. 12:01 p. m. March 15 1944
Bruce Sheets
Hansford County Chapter ARC
Spearman was the 23rd chapter in state to reach goal. This is an achievement of which you and your workers can be justly proud. It represents outstanding support of our fighting men. We know your workers will carry on until every adult individual has an opportunity to give.
Robert F. Shea

Sheets learned Monday of this week that only 40 chapters of the 249 in Texas had exceeded their quota. Among the first to report excess of their quota was Carson County, the 5th in th estate to exceed the sum asked by the national committee. While the Hansford committee did not make an attempt to establish a record in the matter of being first in the present campaing, it is revealed that this county could have wired in a report two hours after the campaign started, showing that we had exceeded our quota. Chairman Sheets knew we had the sum raised, but could not afford to telegraph in this result until after the reports from Gruver, Morse and other communities came in at the end of the first week of the campaign.

Chairman Sheets expects many more contributions. He states that the large individual contributions from parents who have sons in the service is the cause of of the doubled quota at this time. AS A MATTER OF FACT, we are slightly behind last years record in the number of contributions made.

Judge Broadhurst Visits Friends In City Enroute Home

An all time old timer, Judge J. H. Broadhurst was a visitor in Spearman Thursday of last week. Judge Broadhurst is located at Maxwell, N. M., and has reentered the practice of law as a side line to his ranching business. The judge has lost about 30 pounds, right where he could best afford to lose it. He looks swell, ruddy faced, pleasant smile, and trim figure. Declares he got back his youthful complexion herding sheep. Incidentally the judge lives just seven miles from the direct route between Raton, N. M. and Cimmeron, N. M. He has invited any Hansford county citizen who can get to Eagle Nest lake to visit in his home enroute on their trip.

Donors To 1944 War Fund Hansford County Red Cross

Some 258 Hansford county citizens have contributed $4926.23 to the 1944 Red Cross War fund as of Monday noon of this week. Listed below are the names of those contributing, but not the amount each individual contributed. Chairman Sheets is respecting the request of many local people that the amount not be published. Mr. Sheets stated that he could account for only $4877.50 with names of those contributing. A sum of $48.73 in cash perhaps represents contributions made at the Spearman school building the evening Lieut Cluck gave a public address and made an appeal for Red Cross funds. Sheets says he will gladly correct the list next week if they will inform him of errors made.

OT INTERESTED IN "RECOVERING" 1942 TAX

Letter of Transmittal

March 14, 1944

Collector of Internal Revenue
Dallas, Texas

Sir and Gentlemen:

(That's not what I have been calling the guys that made ut Form 1040.)

In explanation of this feeble attempt to do the right thing . . I explain that I have been an officer in the United States Army, officially released to civilian life March 10, 1944. I had nticipated a nice friendly visit with my wife and friends, but when I brought all my figures up for my income tax to Mattie Ruth (you don't know Mattie Ruth), she makes out these forms for farmers and such like in my hown town . . . Well, he was rude to me for the first time during our life long acquaintance. However she looked at my last year income tax blank and swore that I should recover all of that and sent me o our county attorney, who is supposed to be a whizzer at uch things. Our county attorney who has been helping me out with civilian blanks said that he was sure I could recover fifty per cent of last year's tax if I would just consult his friend, an accountant from Amarillo, who was right then in he District Court room.

I hustled down to find out his friend had left, but learned hat a man at Perryton, Texas, Max Boyer could really do gymnastics with figures, and thought it worth my while to risk the two tires the ration board had marked "scraps," in order to recover some of the last year's taxes. I got to Perryton and back without a puncture, and without any satisfaction. Max Boyer, whom I have known many years was cordial until I got around to asking him to fix up my income tax report. He begged off and suggested that I go over to Canadian and consult Judge He Hoover, who is suposed to know all there is to know about such things. I phoned good old Judge Hoover, and he swore (literally) over the phone that there was not a man alive that could make a correct tax return for a man who had been in the military service . . . so here at the last minute of the last hour I faced the ordel myself. My banker, D. D. Moore was sympathetic, and gave me "Accountant's weekly News Letter for February 21, 1944. The little pink paper read real intelligent like for about two paragraphs, but I got plumb lost when I got over to "Recomputation." I ain't sure I got this thing computated, much less recomputationed. And that paragraph that says "if the unadjusted tax for 1943 is zero and the recomputed tax for 1942 is zero, there is not tax for 1943." That's the verse and chapter I'm depending on to pull me out of this difficulty . . . so I am not sending you any check with this return.

I want to inform you that I ain't in any way interested in recovering the tax I paid the government in 1942. I already spent more time and nervous energy thinking about it than I paid . . . and I wana forget 1942.

I recon this 1943 return will bounce back at me, but I aims to fight to the last ditch before I go to prison, cause I can prove I have done all that was possible to do.

If I ever get this durn tax business straightened out, I aims to write my old hard boiled Colonel at Fort Custer, Michigan and apologize for the things I said about him and the army and MP's. I shore wish I was back where a man didn't have anything to do but march 30 miles, run the obstacle course and mabe do 3 or 4 hours manuel of arms.

Them were really happy days. These tax returns, gas rations, food rations, and tire rationing is all Dutch to me.

If you got any influence with my old Boss Franklin D., tell him I might uv been too old and too fat to fight last month when he turned me back o civilian life, but that I weigh a lot less now, since I been wrestling with this income tax return and that I am so DAM MAD, I could fight a circle saw. Maybe he will ship me back to the life of ease I used to live when I was in the army for 2 years.

WILLIAM J. MILLER.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

Internal Revenue Service
Dallas, Texas

Mr. Wiliam J. Miller
Spearman, Texas

Dear Mr. Miller:

I enjoyed reading your letter of transmittal for your income tax return, and thoroughly sympathize with you in the many difficulties encountered. I sincerely hope that less difficulties will be encountered in returns for 1944 We do not audit these returns at the time they are received, but your letter caused me to be interested in yours; a careful check indicates that you will be due 77c, which is much better than $77.00. I suggest that you do not send the amount in now, but wait until you get a letter from our auditing department and it may be that you being a good soldier who would be willing to go back, might cause them to overlook sending you a letter for the balance. At any rate, in case you hear from us send the 77c along and it will be applied to balance your account.

I wish you would tell Max Boyer that I knew all along that he did not know how to file an income tax return. When a man serves in the legislature he is forever thereafter disqualified for doing anything. I do not know Mr. D. D. Moore, but I am sure he was troubled so much that he will be glad when income tax time is passed. Judge Hoover of Canadian is a very close friend of mine and I seldom find him wrong on anything, and when he states that not a man alive could make a correct tax return for a man who had been in the military service, he is not very far from wrong. Give Max and Judge Hoover my best regards, and tell them if they have any trouble with their own returns to drive over to Dallas and we will try to straighten them out.

Assuring you of my highest regards, I am,

Respectfully,

W. A. THOMAS,
Collector of Internal Revenue

Thanks to Mrs. B. J. Lomax the country editor had the opportunity to read the "Guinea Gold" a military publication, published in the field in New Guina. It is most interesting, especially the comment written on the margin of the paper by B. J. the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lomax. He writes "These natives have saved many soldiers lives in New Guinea and the Island." He is referring to a picture of a native in the paper with plenty of war paint and ornaments. The native has metal ear rings and o nose ornament that looks like horns spreading out like an extremely long handled mustache. Under the picture is the following comment "In some parts of New Guinea natives are helping to build military roads. He is one of the star workers, who does splendidly, despite the decorative impediments, which does not seem to get in his way." Ask the Lomaxe's to see their papar. It is interesting. I started to put the paper in the window at the Reporter office, but decided it might get lost, and I know they would always treasure this prize keep sake of this war.

Incidentally Mr. Lomax asked me a few questions about the Red Cross helping him to locate just where his other boy H. M. was located in North Africa. Seems that the boy had been in a hospital for some time. He had been wounded one time and shell shocked one time and Mr. Lomax was more than usually uneasy because he could not hear from him However, he did get a letter this week that was dated 7 of February, or 7th of January, Mr. Lomax did not remember. The point this writer wants to make is the fact that we MUST use the Red Cross anytime we feel the slightest inclination. That is why we are oversubscribing here. You might feel a bit timid about having the Red Cross trace up the location of your boy in the service. But I can tell you now that they had rather hunt down a thousand service men that were not really lost, than to have one Father or mother fail to hear from their boy who is really misplaced, taken prisoner, or missing in action. Normally if a service man is missing in action the war department will send notification to the family. The same is true when he is wounded. However, we have known of instances where soldiers were wounded and the parents did not know of the tragedy until after the soldier had recovered and wrote to his parents telling them the facts. This is not the rule — but such things happen often enough for each of us to ask the aid of the Red Cross when we have the inclination.

TWO LETTERS RECEIVED THIS WEEK

Dear "Honest Bill" (more quotes)

Enclosed you will find our check for another years payment for the Spearman Reporter. WE REALLY DO enjoy that paper every Monday morning. Keep the good news coming to all of us away from Spearman. We are anxious to know how things are going there. It is interesting to read about the boys in the service, and your paper is about all the news we get from them, and we are especially interested in the boys who have worked at the wholesale station for Milton. We find thru the service column that two of them (Floyd Close and Cliff Douglas) are in the 8th Air force in England).

We are glad you folks are back in Spearman, and the way you got the News Globe reporter TOLD was plenty good.

Best regards
Milton and Lucile Strickland

R. V. Converse Says . . .

Editors Note. This publication does not in any way take responsibility for the opinions expressed by the writer R. V. Converse. If this weekly publication maintained an editorial policy, much of the comments being printed currently by Mr. Converse would be in direct opposition to our own opinion. The editor of this newspaper believes that Russia and Great Britain are our allies and not our enemy. We confess we are not concerned about the Alantic charter at this time, but we do not place the same interpretation on this great human instrument that Mr. Converse places on it. We do not believe that our natinoal leaders are stupid, and that they are cat's paws for the English to the extent that they would send our boys to death and destruction to hand Great Britain back the posessions of the Pacific and carve out a map of Europe for the benefit of Russia and the English.

We do believe that we entered this war because we were threatened with the destruction of our freedom and national way of living. Most everyone knows that America could not exist as it has in the past, with German and Japan war lords dominating the earth. We began this fight for freedom and national existance, and when it is won, that is all we ever expect to gain. But let no one fool you that our greatest enemy is the English or the Russians.

Unconditional surrender is not out. It is th eonly solution of this war, and Mr. Converse is placing his opinion over the statements of all United Nation leaders. He is wrong. He needs to study a bit more, before he bucks the best minds of many nations.

The Atlantic Charter was a great thing in the eyes of Great Brittin. In the early days of their war when everything was being done to induce us to join in the defense of the British Empire which was in a small way showing signs of defeat some of the posessions were talking of Independance and withdrawl from British rule. Now as we are in the war up to our ears and the Russians have developed such a wollop that the best German divisions go down for the count in every contest, and we have committed ourselves to the preservation of territorial boundries, things are different. Un-conditional surrender is out. Russia and Britain are figuring out ways so that central Europe that bounds Russia will after the war have a group of small countries governed by men favorable to Russia, and Germany will be left intact with a group of men governing her that are friendly to Great Britain with France re-established under British guidance. Then we will commence to see that Britain and Russia have divided Europe to the best advantage to themselves. Italy will not count much so King Peter will be tried out as leader. As for us we will re-take all of the former British territory in the Pacific and hand it back to them in tact, and will probably put all of the Islands we take from Japan into a group to be held and looked after by us and Austraiia.

The Atlantic Charter was a nice declaration anyway. Which brings us square up-against the fact that "It takes a strong box to keep the mice from eating the cheese."

It was the American army that put the skids under the Japs in Burma. They were so frightened when they saw the Americans were in Burma that whole groups killed themselves. If this practise holds true when our army lands in Japan we may find ourselves with just another Island in the Pacific and no one t ogive it to.

The political situation is getting whetted up to the point where it is not the Democrats against the Republicans but Roosevelt against the field, and as political straws fall the indications are that the Republicans have just a little edge for deligates to the Electrorial College., provided the solid south sticks to the old tradition and the Northen States get back in their old ruts. Some of the states that have made a habit of changing often have in the last few internal elections shown a marked swing to the Republicans, of course this can all be changed over night if the right thing happens, but at the moment the moment the betting is even money for Roosevelt to win.

In the Republican Ranks Senator Downey of California is mentioned as a running mate for Dewey, and if the Republicans should nominate these two men they certainely would be playing both ends against the middle, California has 25 electorial votes and New York has 47 and with the middle so upset over the Bureau orders, the Rationing of sugar with warehouses full, the rationing of meat with the country covered with cattle, the scorcity of baby clothes with the country staggering under the load of surplus cotton, and a lot of other things that are just as hard to understand as the Income tax blank it might give a tremendous heave and upset the Roosevelt gravy train.

Yours
R. V. Converse

What The Folks In Service Are Doing

Mr. and Mrs. Harlin Wilson Parsons, (Curley) to most of the folk of Hansford county who have known him as student in the Spearman school and bank employee, are here on a viist with relatives and friends. Curley is the son of Mrs. Hattie O. Windom of Spearman, and he has just won his navy "Wings of Gold," and was commissioned as ensign in the naval reserve last week following flight training course at the Naval Air Training Center, Pensacola, Fla.

Curley has a sneaking idea that he might get duty on the famous Shangri La, the largest carrier ever launched in the world.

Next week's paper will carry a picture of the new ensign, together with the record he has made in the navy.

Seaman Second Class James McNulty, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McNulty, Hansford wheat farmers near Morse is here on a fifteen day furlough. James was in Spearman Sunday meeting old friends and some of his service men buddies who are at home on furlough. James has made an enviable record in the navy, and is getting some of the finest training in mechanics that can be gained. He is an expert on Deisel engines, and his rating is in the mechanical department. James has had training in the amphibious department as well as in mechanical training. Several months ago he drove a large Deisel tractor onto an amphibious landing craft and the ramp gave way sending the tractor and James down to the depth of the sea in terribly rough sea. James came near drowning, and says the life belt he was wearing saved his life. However, he suffered a slight injury and was in the hospital for several weeks as result of the accident. James is another Hansford county boy who expects to land a berth on the famous Shangri La, largest carrier ever launched. James reports back to the navy at Norfolk, Va., after March 27.

Tech. Sgt. Merl Bason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bacon of Gruver, arrived home Friday of last week to spend a few weeks furlough with his parents, and visiting his friends and relatives. Sgt. Bacon has spent nearly two years in the Aleutian islands, and late from Attu. Merl will not talk much about his experiences, but when he does cut loose, he talks about Hansford county being the most beautiful spot on God's green earth.

Tillie Postom, former Hansford county service man that received a medical discharge several months ago, is back visiting friends in the Oslo community. Tillie worked for Emel Knutson, and was the man that operated the large Deisel equipment over the northwest section of the county. He was a sergeant in the finance department of the army before he was given his medical discharge. He has recovered his health and is moving around trying to get back into the army.

A phone call from Mrs. W. S. McNabb informs us her grandson, Lieut. Crag Davidson has been transferred to the Lubbock, Texas, air field, and will serve as an instructor. His many friends will be glad to learn Craig is nearer homefolk, and to know that he plans a viist to Spearman, when Uncle Sam will give him a few days leave of absence.

Another visitor with Spearman folk this week is Lieut. Arnold Richardson, who is here on a ten day delay in travel. Lieut. Richardson has been transferred from Pampa air field to army air base at San Angelo, Texas. He is tickled pink, because he says he is getting out of instructing, and has hopes of pilot duty on a ship of his choice.

A letter received this week by Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Robertson informs them their son Cadet Lowell Robertson has completed his pre-flight training and enters his primary training in the army air corp station at Ryan Field, Hermet, Calif.

Lowell writes his parents that he wil solo prety soon. He is well pleased with the weather and his location in California except that he declares he can fly down in the valleys and get hot as peanuts, and soar up above the snow clad mountain tops and get cold as cucumbers.

Pvt. Howardeen Kelly, who has been furnishing homefolk with so much wholesome humor about army life, writes letters to friends and relatives, will be prepared to give us a lot of first hand information about California. Howardeen has been transferred from Sheppard Field, Texas, to Gardner Field, California. He is under quarantine at this time, and his latest letter to his mother, Mrs. Elmo Kellly, was a bit on the blue side.

A new recruit at the U. S. Naval Training Sation, Great Lakes, Illinois is Bennie Bert Briley, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Earl Briley, Spearman, Texas.

Now undergoing "boot" training he is being indoctrinated into Navy Life, and is being instructed in Seamanship, military drill, and naval procedure. Soon, he will be given a series of aptitude tests to determine whether he will be selected to attend one of the Navy's service schools, or will be assigned to active duty at sea.

Upon completion of his recruit training, he will be granted a nine-day leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Becker are here this week visiting with relatives and friends. Grant is enjoying a fifteen day delay in travel from his former station at the ground radio school, Buckley Field, Colorado, to a new assignment, to be determined when he reports to the commanding officer Salt Lake City, Utah. Grant believes he will do a bit more in radio at his new assignment. He is a member of the ground forces, aviation.

An official announcement from the United States Marine headquarters at San Diego, California informs us that the one and only First Sergeant Edgar D. (Hap) McMurray, has returned to the good old United States after 21 months oversea duty with the Marines. Sergeant McMurray was one of the original Carlson Raiders and has fought at Makin and Gudalcanal and Bougainville. Surely Hap will be around Spearman way as soon as it is possible to make it. We hope he gets here before his old side kick and friend Thug Jenkins takes off on a new assignment — probably a Marine unit.

Fred Brandt received a letter from Billy Brandt, stating he had just met Homer Sanders, somewhere over there. Seems Billy had gotten on a bus and some one yelled at him. It was Homer and the two Hansford lads had a wonderful time visiting. It is not official but Mr. Brandt believes this meeting took place in Hawaiian islands.

* * *

A letter addressed to Pal Lyons asked for the first Don't Name It column after the country editor came back out of the service. The letter was from Emmett Sanders who is doing duty on a mine sweeper somewhere. Emmett worked for the country editor during the time he (the country editor) was campaign manager for Max Boyer.

The way we handle news from boys whom the government sends pictures, is to save all the choicest bits of information until we have received the cuts back from our engravers. We have a bit of information coming up next week about H. W. Killian and good old Dennis Edward Kern. Both boys are REALLY making good in the armed forces. We will have their pictures and stories in next week's paper.

• LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Lamar, Colo.,
March 17, 1944
Spearman, Texas

Dear Mr. Miller:

You were not looking for this little note from me I know but here is a line.

You don't even remember me and what I say may not interest you at all but I read your editorial in the March 2 issue (Don't bite the hand that's feeding you) and I can't keep from complimenting you on it.

I was a citizen of Hansford county from 1927 to 1940 and have many friends there.

I am always glad to get The Reporter.

I followed you through The Reporter all the time you and your family were doing your bit in the war and it's too bad there is not more people like you.

I remember the many things you were always doing for the betterment of every one in Hansford county and are still doing.

I can't see how people can forget the many things our commander has done for the good of the people in general through some of the trying years when he first took over.

I could name many things and we all could if we would only stop and think a little.

I feel he is the one to stay on the job till this war is over. Now I didn't know how you would know how I felt about this so that's why I am writing you.

And like you, I say (don't bite the hand that's feeding you.)

I am located in Lamar, Colo. now and like it very well.

Respectfully yours,
R. C. or BOB BENNETT,
Lamar, Colo.
Box 487.

This requires no answer, it's between me and you or you and I.

Grass Fire Causes First March Alarm

March grass fires caused the first official fire alarm Wednesday of last week, when boys playing around the government wheat bin east of the city area, started a grass fire. The fire department made the run, but citizens had the fire under control before they arrived.

Judge A. F .Barkley and County Agent Joe Hatton has warned boys to spend their play hours away from the government property.

OFFICIAL WARNING

Investigation reveals that boys have broken the government seal on the wheat bins. This is official warning that seals will be placed on these bins and anyone caught tampering with these seals will be subject to full penalty of the law. Joe Hatton, county agent.

SPEARMAN HARDWARE

Lakeview Tattler

Looking out across the prarie tho neighbors homes this morn- every thing looks grey and mal, even the stock do not m to be enjoying the bits of ss or wheat they nibble from e earth.

The clouds are rolling across e sky defy'ng the Sun to shine d there seems to be a blus'ery orning in the wind blowing from e north, that gives you a creepy ling this time of the year as ough mother nature was an a ike defying and holding back e warming of the good old earth at she might bring forth the een of the field and the song the birds.

The men of the fields have tight- buttoned an extra jacket and lled low their caps as they stle with their spring plowing d planting.

The many black birds are fly- here and there from one feed ck to another eating and wat- ing mother nature for the day ust fly from the Panhandle to other section of the country for e summer months.

Alone on the cold side of a hill dear old Bess and Tom side side they once were young and y, one of them had lived in one te and one in another they meet ny other young colts as they ew to the days when they were rralled there to be taught to ar a halter and be lead around, tted and fed, farmers placed tle children on their backs while ey gently petted their necks bbed their hand along their cks, saying whoa and kindly lking, at first they were very y and would walk close to their thers side, with occasionally a sh to break away. Then the ildren would be told to go to e house, but they usually stay- just inside the yard and peak- through the cracks of the boards ghing with glee as they watch- the pranks these two young es tried, not be conquered by n.

To their way of thinking man s a beast, but all this time ey were growing, but never re they touched by human hand at they didn't run, and as the ey thought, that was cruel and creeping feeling went up and wn their back bone as the cur- comb and brush went all over eir mothers bodies, they wand- ed why the mothers did not ck the men as they brushed eir long tails, one day after they d learned to lead they were d by their mothers side and otted along to town and when dog would run from a house to rk they almost died with fright. t when they saw their mothers d in a blacksmith shop by a re and a red hot anville, a an with a big leather apron pick their mothers back foot place mething on the bottom of the of, and drive nails into her ot, they tried every way they uld think of to break loose and n home.

The next spring they had an- her dreadfull surprise. They re weaned, now they just knew ey would starve to death and e farmer was going to work their others to death. They would th die about the same time but them they thought deah would a grea relief for the old farmer d all his work — time moved they didn't die but were shak- ed with leather and chains hit- ed to a wagon and taught to be- me briddle wise. They chewed the bits, shook their heads, ood on their hind feet, ran side ays, kicked at the traces, they eathed deep trying to bust the lly band but it seemed to grow ghter, they switched their tails ying to get he crupper from ound their tails, but the old rse they were hitched up with id no heed to their frantic ef- rts to break loose. He just plod- ed along down the road drag- g them along. Finally they re- embered how they had seen eir mothers caught, feed in a ugh with a manger full of y behind a barred door with way of escape, unless the farm- saw fit to turn them loose. ey had run here and there om stall to stall as the farm-er ackeled their mothers in leath- and chains and led her by a ough of water then to a field. s they peeked through the acks of the barn yard fence d neighed and ran trying to ake through to walk by their others side and get tangled in e traces — They watched their other as she walked shoulder to oulder with another horse, retched the traces and slowly arted down the long turn rows lling a plow with mother earth lling over and over and all ter noon they were restless, and ngry each time their mother me to the end of the field near- t the lot they could call in eir neighing way to say I am ngrey, I want out of here. The other would answer back, then e whip cracked and the mothers ain went their way.

They saw their mothers all wet with sweat, bodies quivering, nos- trels were spread, their bodies were dirty from the dust of the earth.

They saw them lay down and roll in the dust to dry their backs, then rise by putting their front feet out in front and slowly drag- their hind feet to a position to get up.

They had seen their mothers hitched to a house one time while they were shut in the lot and the house slowly began to move away as their mothers, with every mucle taunt, heaved forth will all her might as the whips were the sound of a rifle.They saw their swung in the air and cracked like mothers on Sunday when every thing was quiet. They were hitched to a carriarge and made to trot off to church or a neighbors while they were shut up in the lot.

Bess and Tom wanted none of this way of life. They wanted their mothers and green pastures, they cared nothing for man. The farm- cracked the whip in the air, and, expecting to feel or hear the whip they straitened up and tried to trot for a while. After several trips hitched with the old horse they too could walk along or trot, turn, or stop as the lines were pulled or loosened, then they were put in the field and they learned to love the farmer and the barn with its trough of corn and manger of hay. And, they learned to love having little children riding on their backs and they didn't mind trotting off on a Sunday morning curried up with their Sunday harness shining on their bodies, pulling a carrage, meeting the neighbors horses, communing with them in horse fashion while the farmer and his family sat in church and sang songs of praise or visited with a neighbor, this they loved best of all was getting a Sunday dinner away from home. They liked to bow their necks while troting to show the neighbor horses how they could strut their stuff.

Time moved on, the old farmer died there were lots of other carriages and farmers at their house. Everyone looked sad. They watched toward the house but a neighbor man come to feed them. Another neighbor came and hitched them to the carriage. They were driven close to the door where many people stood silently with bowed heads as a long black box was carried out and placed in a long black carriage, not like their carriage or the neighbors carriage. Then there came the farmer's wife all dressed in black. They wandered why she was crying. She had always been so kind and she had such a soft sweet voice. They had always loved. They saw the children, with people guiding them along as they to were steped in grief — They were assisted in the carriage and all the people went slowly to their carriages wiping their eyes, there were no smiles and no talking. Bess and Tom looked every where for the farmer but he was no where to be seen — Then a man drew on the lines as the big black closed-in carriage moved away. They two stretched their traces and followed along. They were stopped at a place where great white or grey stones stood up from the earth. It was a cloudy day and the place looked dismal and goastly to Bess and Tom. changed. The farmer came no more to feed them oats and hay. Several days later there was another large crowd all about the farm, but this crowd was going about nosing into everything that had been carefuly placed here and there about the premises. Bess and Tom had been especially groomed that morning until their hair was soft and shiny. They were led out wit hanother horse. They looked oll over the crowd for the farmer. They neighed for him, they held their heads high but he never came within their view. A man with a cain came close, rubbed their shinning coat of hair. He opened their mouths, and looked at their teeth. He then began to shout in a mumbling loud voice, punched them with his cain and kept them moving around. This man they disliked, for what right had he to be there where the farmer should be. Another man took them by the halter and led them off, looked them over, patted them, grinned and talked with other men. Late in the evening when all the people had gone, the farmers wife and children came out, patted them, laid their heads against their necks and acted as they did when they were comming from the house behind the long black box. Bess and Tom could not understand the farmers wife and children went to the house wiping their eyes and dissapeared as a strange man led them to a wagon, tied them and troted off. From that time on they were always being taken from ane home to another, never a home like the home of their youth. For ever home there was a different farmer. Then one day they were hitched to a wagon with a white top like they had never seen before. The farmer and his family climbed in and they traveled and traveled growing very tired, for Bess and Tom were not so young, and longing for their first home. As they ploded along through rocks and hills, paries, fording rivers, they began to look longingly for a place to stop and call home. One day the farmer that now owned them drove up through hills and gullies onto a beautiful pararie land. There he stopped unhitched and moved their belongings into a small house and lead Bess to an old shed. The next morning about noon there was a wagon stopped about a mile distance. Bess looking, thinking it might be the old farmer of her childhood, but instead she saw Tom. She perked up her ears. She had never in her life saw so handsome a horse. He looked her way and there was love at first sight and so they lived for years just over the fence — The horses on the farms died and were draged away. There were engines brought in roaring and popping. They put their heads over the fence to converse with each other as the engines began going around and ploying up the earth they grined from ear to ear and rubbed noses. They were sure that smart thing would brake down and they again would be working as they had seen their mothers and as they had worked but never again were they took to the field after Mr. Simes and Ed Hoper bought them. They became lonesome. No one seemed to care about them. They were never curried or rubbed down just left to shift for them selfs in the fields of green.

Bess went through the fence to live with Tom. They saw a pickup go by with a young, good looking filly riding high and dry As she went by she saw old Tom. Even though he was old the filly knew he had been a hansome young horse so she winked at Tom. Bess shook her head and in horse talk said "The young whipper snapper, riding around and flirting with every Tom Dick and Harry", I'll bet I could out work her this very day.

This winter was just one of many winters they had shivered and gone without a barn and a trough of oats and a manger of hay. One morning Bess awoke all cold and stiff to find Tom stiff in death, she slowly arose then rubed his nose, ran to the house and nickered back and forth. She would run from Tom to the house. Then one night all worn out discouraged and steped in grief she passed on to be in horse Heaven with Tom. Her master drug her down on the side of the hill by the side of Tom, there they lay side by side while the wild cyotes howl on the lone pararie, and the buzzards soar in the air, Bess and Tom do not know to care.

THE WAR TODAY

Henry Ford's prediction in a copyrighted interview for the Atlantic Constitution, that the war will be over in two months will attract a lot of attention.

Mr. Ford, however, withholds the reasoning back of his prophesy. What circumstances within the realm of possibilitymightbring peace in eight weeks? It's a good thing to check up on the general war picture frequently, and here's a chance to do it by trying to read the motor magnate's mind. Let's have it understood, though, that we are merely mind-reading and not prophesying ourselves.

We start from the premise that Hitler's defeat already is a certainty and that it only remains to be seen how long he can hang on by his teeth.

The consensus among observers is, too, that the Fuehrer is reduced to such straits that his resistance might blow up most any time. We must hasten to add that there's no sign of immediate collapse and that there are plenty of indications of his intention to make a bloody fight of it.

When the Nazi gangster does decide to quit, the end likely will be quick. He doesn't intend to battle until the last dog is dead — not if he's the last dog.

We must remember that Hitler's strongest weapon is his army, and the bulk of that is on the Russian front. This once terrifying Wehrmacht has been woefully reduced in strength by slaughter and he no longer has reserves to meet the Muscovite onslaught.

The once all-powerful Luftwaffe is but a shadow of the mighty arm that almost crushed England. Daily the American and British airforces are destroying many Nazi warplanes which no longer can be fully replaced because German plane factories also are being demolished. The same is true of Hitler's general war industries, and his vital communications.

The resources which he stole from occupied countries have been used, and Europe is as bare as old Mother Hubbards cupboard. There are no new resources which he can tap.

It's important to note that the cumulative effects of the Allied air onslaught, especially the bombing of war industries, are just now making themselves felt in a big way. Each day finds the momentum of disaster increasing.

All this the Nazi dictator has recognized. That's why he has adopted his strategy of playing for time in hope of a lucky break, such as a split among the allies. He plans to fight a delaying action and finally defend himself on his own frontiers. There's widespread belief, however, that he will surrender when allied invasion of the Reich is imminent so as to save the country from manhandling.

With this background we ask ourselves what happens when the Red Armies have stormed their way to the Reich frontier — or when an American-British-French invasion force is on Germany's western border. It would be o of the seven wonders of the if any allied army stood on Hitl boundary in two months. St the way the Muscovites are g ing, most anything can happ

The Communist Organ Prav says the Germans are on t verge of chaos and that the ti is ripe for decisive blows "f the east, west and south."

That's a call for quick inva of western Europe, to coordin with the Red onslaught. As p viously remarked in this colu we must know when the invasi of western Europe is to come

20 Years Ago In Spearman

March 14, 1924

Spearman's public utilities have begun to deliver the goods. Everything is working fine. You'll find Leo Dacus around the water and light plant on the job day and and a crew of workmen who are putting the finishing touches to Spearman's electric light, water and ice plant.

Mrs. J. A. Ward was taken from her home 10 miles west of Spearman, to the Dalhart sanitarium for an operation. Mrs. Bob Hays accompanied Mrs. Ward as nurse. L. S. Cator went along also, for an examination and possible treatment.

Ernest Newcomb returned to Goodwell Friday to resume his work in the P. A. & M. C.

To honor heroes of Adobe Walls, who helped make the Panhandle a safe place for civilization is to be marked. When the Adobe Walls celebration is held June 27, a concrete monument about 20 feet high will be unveiled to mark the place of the famous fight. A big picnic and barbecue will be held on the Turkey tract ranch about 10 miles from Plemons on the site of the white men's fight with the Indians.

Woodville Jarvis, Russell Marable and John Lackey, prominent citizens of the Lieb community, were in Saturday, purchasing supplies.

Two big stores were completely destroyed Tuesday night in Spearman, which were the Hillhouse Drug Company and the Blake Dry Goods Company. The fire evidently originated in the ceiling of the drug company and soon spread to the Blake building immediately north. Both businesses were completely destroyed. The city fire fighting apparatus was brought into play, and worked to perfection, but owing to the fact that the water had not yet been turned into the mains and the hose had not been properly arranged, so much time was lost in getting the water on the flames that the buildings were quickly destroyed. The loss in this fire was estimated roughly between $25,000 and $30,000.

A. P. Wallin and Jake Shapley were in from the McBryde community Wednesday ,trading and atttnding to business matters.

The ditches cut from the water mains about town are good' traps to catch a loaded wagon or car when a wheel drops into one of these ditches, it is next to impossible to pull it out.

Last Friday morning, March 21, C. W. Carson, jr, cashier of the First National Bank of Spearman. paid the economics class at the high school a visit, and gave a very interesting lecture on banking.

Miss Hazel Lowe, post office clerk, is taking a vacation this week and Mrs. Chas. McCarter is working in her place.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Winder "mulled" in from their fine farm up the Palo Duro Tuesday.

Miss Robbie Dale Gay and Mr. Dwight Moody Womble were united in marriage, March 16, by Rev. Wheeler of Spearman. The young couple has lived from childhood in the Lieb community, and enjoy a deserved popularity there.

Miss Betsy Dahl returned last week from Amarillo where she has been visiting with friends recently.

Gruver News

Two more of Uncle Sam's heroes are visiting in Gruver this week. Sergeant Merle Bacon is home on furlough, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bacon. Sergeant Bacon has been in the Aleutians for a very ling time. Merle's parents had not heard from him in many weeks and were naturally much concerned, and then he walked in unannounced. It was almost too much for his parents. The other visitor is Pfc. Noble Bunt, who is a brother to Mrs. Kelly Garret. He has been up on the Alaska highway. Neither of these boys have been troubled with the heat lately.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Bennett were both taken back to hispitals in Amarillo Monday. Mrs. Bennet is in Northwest, and Kelly in the Veterans hospital. Kelly is suffering from a heart ailment and will have to rest for some time. Mrs. Bennett fortunately is not as sick as was thought at first. Mrs. Bennet's two brothers Clarence and Cecil Winder took them to Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Winder of El Paso are viisting in the home of Mrs. Winder's mother, Mrs. W. N. Fletcher. They are both formerly of Gruver.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Womble visited Mrs. Womble's father in the McBride clinic in Oklahoma City last week. Mr. Mackie who was recently injured in an accident is doing as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Gay Fletcher and son Richard returned from Amarillo last Saturday. Gay and Richard had their tonsils removed.

Kelly Garret has bought a building just north of his present location, and is remodeling it, to install a modern beauty shop.

Miss Anna Mae Shapley and Mr. Dean Cluck were united in marriage in the parsonage of the Gruver Methodist church on Sunday afternoon. The wedding was a private one, with only the two attendants present. Arnold Bayliss and Miss Opal Miller were the attendants. Rev. Biggs, pastor of the Methodist church read the vows. The young couple left immediately on a short trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Woodall left Gruver Wednesday morning for their new home in Charlestown, W. V. Buck is well known in these parts and their many friends are sorry to see them leave. They have one son, James Woodall who is in the U. S. Army Engineers. His wife is the former Nadine Hardin of Spearman.

A wedding shower honoring Mrs. Grady Martin was held at the home of Mrs. W. N. Fletcher recently. Mrs. D. L. McClellan was the hostess of the occasion. Mrs. Martin received many nice gifts from her Gruver friends. Mr. and Mrs. Martin are now living in Borger.

Red Cross business has slowed down a little in Gruver. To date Brother Hughes has received $2,236.00. This does not include the gifts from the Gruver schools. That will be reported next week. If Gruver is to give $2500, we still must have about $220. Please see Brother Hughes this week, or leave your gift at the post office.

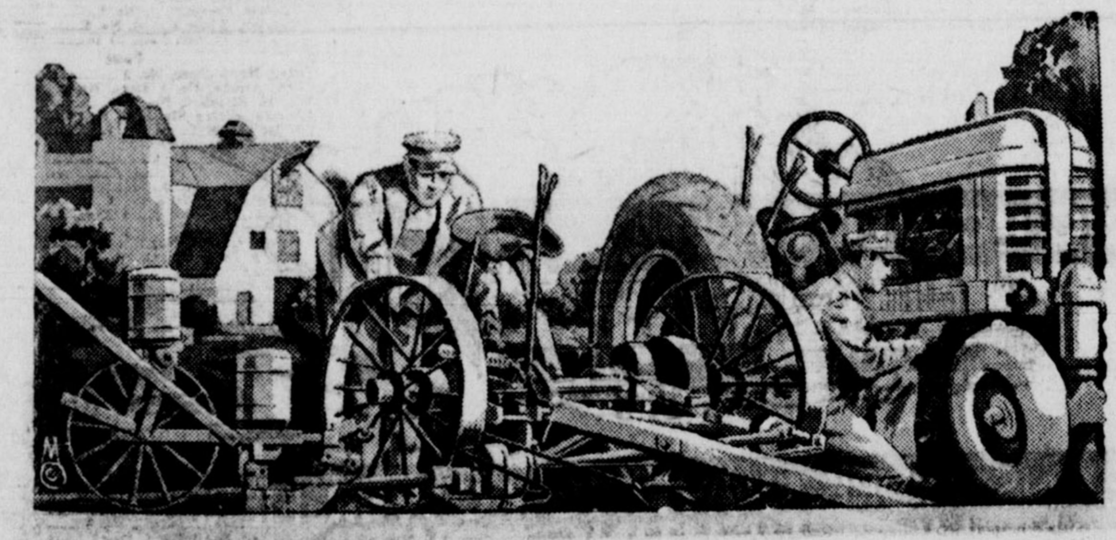
EVERY FARM MACHINE MUST FIGHT IN THIS WAR FOR VICTORY

An idle machine is as much a saboteur as a fighter who'd lay down his gun! Make every piece of machinery on your farm fit to take part in the fight—producing food for freedom. Expert repair is your answer. Of course you can get the parts you need—right here! Uncle Sam equips his front line soldiers—so he's equipping his farm front soldiers too! Without your farm production there can be no victory!

- If you have farm equipment that is beyond repair—turn it in for scrap. And apply to your county USDA board for the new machinery you need.



EXPERIENCE OF THE PAST FEW YEARS HAS TAUGHT

Power farming equipment owners that this is the season of the year to check their equipment and place their orders for replacement parts . . . while we have time to make factory requisitions for any repairs that we might not have in our supply shelves. We urge you to come in today and check up on your needs even for the 1944 HARVEST. During the season, we may have time to take on additional repair work in our shops. If you wait until a few weeks before harvest, the RUSH may cause you needless delay and COST YOU REAL MONEY in loss of equipment when you most need it.

These little high school road- ers are getting to be a habit, en't they W. C., Arlan, and Jim- ie C.?

Home economics parties, or din- ers, prove pretty interesting n't they Betty Jean C and Bodil .? Especially when the old eadies (???? are guests. Are you ure that has anything to do with ome Ec. grades?

Betty Lee D. was seen with an d flame over the week-end. New terest?

Billy Joe D. was missed Friday nd Saturday nights. The old ex- use was—Canadian, but a certain lond seems to have her doubts as she cute, Billy Joe.

Georgia B. and Dorothy H. eem to have been little home girls ver the week-end. Girls, don't ive us that old line—"just too old!" Ah!!

Several girls seem terribly in- rested in Olando's relatives (rel- tive.) Too bad he lives so far way girls. But, maybe he'll be ack soon. You hope?!!? Well!

The soldiers sudden leaving eemed quite a shock. Relieved, oys? Hmmmm........!

The St. Patrick's Day dance at anadian was quite an event, we ear. Can anyone furnish any first and information? Arlys? Billy oe?

The approaching end of Senior lay practice seems to be disappointing. It must have been fun hile it lasted.

Rosemary M. must have had an xciting letter last week. She's een walking on clouds the last w days.

Bill K. seems to have been on he good behavior list the past few eeks as far as Snooper is con- erned. However, overlooking eyes ke THAT rather puts a check ark by your name, Bill.

Some people are beginning to onder where A. L. spends all is time. Is she a blond, brunette, r red-head, A. L.?

Winifred H., why the sudden in- erest in boys? And, how about hat mysterious phone call? Wow!

It seems strange that Sammie M. should suddenly decide on her areer to be that of a soda-jerk. We had heard that she was going o be a private secretary.

Dear! Dear! Just what is this eenration coming to? Some of our oung people are certainly using hese study halls to their best ad- antage. How about that, Gwendolyn D.?

See "SPECIAL DELIVERY," Senior class play. Date: Friday March 24. Time: Orchestra 8:15. Curtain 8:30.

Senior News

The Seniors are glad to have heir sponsor, Mr. Cheeves, back with them this week. Mr. Cheeves was called away by the death of his father. The class wishes to express its sympathy to him.

Most of the Seniors are working hard on their play, "Special Delivery," to be given Friday night. Come early and hear the orchestra which will start at 8:15. The play will start promptly at 8:30.

Sophomore News
Geneva Ford

We Sophomores now have a sponsor? She is Mrs. Delon Kirk. We are real happy to have her as we haven't had a sponsor for our class since last January.

Mr. Cheves is back again. He is our English teacher. Mrs. Castleman taught our class last week while he was away and we fairly earned personal pronouns.

MISS CHAPMAN: Two exercises have made her figure famous.

BY ALICIA HART

Spring's nipped-in fashions calls for lean waistlines. If yours isn't slim enough to qualify, why not whittle it down with exercise?

"To take up a reef in your waistline, exercise is better than dieting because it also builds a muscular girdle," says figure-famous Marguerite Chapman. "And when you have muscular support through the midriff, your posture benefits, too," says this Columbia film starlet.

So, with that extra incentive, get set for these two exercises, taken lying down on your back, which Marguerite passes on to you:

For No. 1, extend arms beyond your head and keep them raised to about face level. Stiffen legs and hoist to a 45 degree angle to your body. Now, slowly lower legs to the count of 10. After each count give your abdominal muscles a squeeze play— contracting and relaxing as your legs go to the floor.

For No. 2, begin with legs in same hoisted position, but this time held close toether. Swing as far as possible to one side of body and lower to floor. Then reverse the swing to the other side and lower legs to the floor. Repeat 10 times.

Out of her war correspondent's uniform and into the New York shops rushed Rosette Hargrove, here shown considering a dress worn by a model.

Bobbie Jean gave a reading, "Johnny's Got the Measles."

Christian Church

Sunday school and church will begin Sunday morning promptly at 10:30. Let us all make an effort to be on time. Sermon subject: "The Last Words of Jesus."

7:00 p. m. C. Y .F. will meet for regular worship. The young people are working on an Easter program. We are asking every class to have a part. Our young people are asking all young people of other churches to meet together after church services each Sunday evening to have a get together and sing. One evening they plan to meet in one of the churches and the next some other church, thus visiting around among all the churches. We think this is a grand idea to promote Christian fellowship.

8 p. m. worship in song and Bible study. Sermon by minister. C. F. Bastion, minister.

Union Church

Radio Revival each Monday over KPDN Pampa at 2 p. m.

Services are being conducted each night this week at Union Church by Evangelist and Mrs. Sherman Sutton of Uvalde, Texas. Both of these workers of the Lord are talented singers and God is blessing in our midst. We invite the public to attend each of these services this week and to enjoy the preaching of the word of the Lord and the good songs.

On Thursday night and for the rest of the week Evangelist and Mrs. Gail W. Schultz of Laverne, Oklahoma will be with us in addition to Brother and Sister Sutton. We are living in critical times and one of the best ways to serve your country and loved ones is to serve the Lord. God remembers those who serve Him and He is able to keep all we commit into His hands, if we do His will.

Mrs. Georgia Horry visited in the home of her son, Booker, in Perryton this week.

Old Longhorn Aids Red Cross

A rare giant Texas Longhorn steer did its bit for the Red Cross at Lubbock, adding a total of $582.80 to the Lubbock county quota. Donated by Tobe Foster, Lubbock oil man and rancher, the hig steer brought 28 cents for each of its 1,880 pounds. It was purchased by M. G. McCreight and Dan Misenhimer of Tempe, Ariz., for $526.40 in original bidding. Misenhimer in turn put the steer up for resale and donated an additional 25 per cent of the 12 cents paid for it by a packing company to the Red Cross. Above (left to right) are Mrs. Morley Jennings, chairman of the women's division of the Red Cross; Foster and McCreight. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Lakeview Tattler

Zella Flowers was absent from school several days due to illness.

Mrs. Barton, whom I think is a sister to Mrs. Gilman Flower is teaching at The Lake View School for the remainder of the term as Mrs. Dolph Daniels has moved to her new home near Houston, Texas.

The Pipkin family have been having their share of company recently. I must be getting myself down Pipkin way to, for Mr. Pipkin and J. W. motored to Pampa and bought 679 little chicks that soon will be ready for the frying pan. Its nice knowing about the chicks, one can call, shake hands, spend the day, maybe a night so when all those fryers ara ready all will be on the good side of the cooks, those who are now in line are Mrs. Austin Cotter and childrne. Mrs. Kenneth Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fullbright, Ethel and Wilber Fullbright, Mrs. John Pipkin, Yvonda and Pauline. Mrs. Orville Fullbright and daughter Orlene, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Sutton, Rev. and Mrs. Rees, pastor the Union church in Spearman even spent the night in the Pipkin home. Now just because all these folk are on their way to and fro, where all those baby chicks are, don't for once think I wont be in on the eaten — I'm a meal or two ahead down there as it is.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. King and son Woods King went shopping in Perryton last week. The first time Mr. and Mrs. J. A. had been to town for two months. John King motored his parents to Shattuck, Okla., on business last week. Knox Pipkin and son J. W. were in the J. A. King home recently. Mr. and Mrs. John King and children Anita and Willis and Hollis Gossett spent Saturday in the J. A. King home.

Betty Jo Pipkin spent Sunady with her girl friend, Ruth Yancy near Spearman. Sena Bell spent last week visiting with relatives and friends in Spearman. The youngsters of all these folk who have been showering the Pipkin family with their presence had a big time playing base ball on a warm afternoon but oh my the aches and pains the morning after the day before.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hooper were back in the community last week where they had so long lived, the community that has been so dear to them. The community they have helped to build from a lone pararie to a well populated district, A community to which they moved about 1902. Then they were young, bubling over with life and faith in the good earth of the Panhandle and humanity. Their sky was shining bright with not a cloud on the horizen, and as they made their camp for the night the stars came out in the heavenly blue and twinkled and winked a lulybye as they closed their eyes in sleep, and dreamed of a lovely home for each of their children when they grew to manhood and womanhood. They dug a small dugout for shelter until lumber could be hauled many miles to build a house with windows, clean walls, doors and locks. Many nights Mrs. Hooper spent alone with her small children in the dug out and listened to the moaning of the wind, the howl of the wvates and hte scream of the panther, and wandered if Mr. Hooper were still driving along a winding twisting trail across the paraie with his load of wheat to market (some times as far as Dodge City, Kansas) again hearing the scream of the panther, a cold chill would incompass her body for fear some harm would befall Mr. Hooper as he camped in a lonely spot for the night with no protection from preying animals, or the elements. They built their home and the door was always opened to the passer by', and many cow boys, there found hospitality, warmth and comfort. They educated their children in Whichita, Kansas, so that they might have an easier way through lifes journey they.

Spring Fever Origin?

It once was the custom to drain off a part of the blood in the springtime, with the idea that a new disease-free supply would be developed to take its place, thereby making a person more healthy.

BUY WAR BONDS

DETAIL FOR TODAY
G-Man

To give his duty more dignity, the unfortunate member of the KP detail who is designated as chief disposer of all garbage is known as a G-MAN. He has little rest while on the job because the Army kitchen is a notorious collector of the stuff in question. A KP isn't a member in good standing of the G-MAN club until he trips on his way to the incinerator and displays his wares all over the company area. This calls for loud and lusty cheers from all spectators. It's the same cheer that goes up in the mess hall when a KP drops a dish. It is more essential for the G.MAN to have his bath after the day's work than for any other member of the KP detail.

Plea Is Made For Diversification In This County

A plea that small farmers abondon diversified farming favor of the old, dangerous, crop system was voiced here week by Arthur R. Turner, Ha ford County Supervisor for Farm Security Administration

"Some farmers are being tem ted by especially high prices certain crops and livestock ite to specialize in those products the expense of their other far ing enterprises," Mr. Turner poi ed out. "Diversified farmi which means a well-rounded pr gram of many small farming e terprises, is the only safe way f SFA Supervisor emphasized.

FSA since its inception has a vocated diversification. It char the one-crop system with respo sibility for many of the ills southern agriculture in depress and pre-depression years. F families, according to Mr. Turn are shown the advantages of ha ing many, rather than one ent prise. Cows, poultry, hogs, fe cash crops and vegetable garde are part of every FSA family inventory.

"The only way the small far er, the family-type farmer who the true backbone of our d mocracy, will survive and ma a contribution to the natio food needs is through divers cation," the supervisor said. "I the big industrialized farm do t specializing. By diversifying, t little farmer has protection sho one or two of his crops fail in certain year."

Must Sign Letters If They Are To Be Published In Paper

Most everyone is familiar w the fact that local people who e pect their letters published, m sign same. This week the edi received a letter from some . . . evidently a lady, judging fr the handwriting, which cove the draft situation from A to Am go. For this paper to have pu lished the letter would have be expressing an opinion that was i dividual. If we care to express opinion on any of these proble it will be carried in the edito columns of the paper. Of cou the fact that a letter is signed, do not of necessity mean that it w be published. Some ideas are such nature that they might te to stir up a community and gain any good for anyone, w perhaps the exception of satisfy an individual to get something their chest.

MORE ELECTRIC POWER HERE . . . .
MEANS MORE FIGHTING POWER HERE

One Kilowatt-hour Out of Every Two We Deliver Helps Back the Attack

REFLECTING the stepped-up production tempo of a nation geared for war, 52% of all the electricity distributed by this company goes to industries essential to the war effort and to military establishments.

Since June, 1940, when the national defense program got underway, our industrial power sales have more than doubled. Today, we are supplying almost as much electricity for wartime industrial and military use alone as we supplied for all purposes as recently as 1938.

And although this tremendous increase in the use of electricity for war purposes has been piled on top of record residential consumption, the demand has been met with a minimum use of vital war materials for additional facilities and despite a heavy loss of skilled employees to the armed services. There has been no loss of production by any industry on our lines due to shortage of electricity, and there has been no curtailment of essential electric service on the home front.
