31 WICHITA FALLS MERCHANTS JOIN WITH RECORD NEWS IN BIG OFFER OF PRIZES TO SHOPPERS

Whatever Number Appears in Sign Printed Above Means Money to Readers of Today's Record News; Read Rules

This is Treasure Hunt Day in Wichita Falls.

Back to the time of the Pirate Chieftains, and their chests of gold went the Record News and those who are co-operating with this newspaper today to get the idea of a Treasure Hunt for Wichita Falls shoppers.

So heave ho; starboard your ear for the details of riches and things of wealth which are yours for the asking, if you are lucky, as were the Pirate Chieftains.

Just above where you are reading there is printed today a Signboard. In the center of the Signboard which the Pirate Chieftain is surveying is pasted a number. Each copy of the Record News in Wichita Falls this morning bears a different number—no two are alike, for that would be contrary to the Treasure Hunt idea, handed down by Pirate Chieftains, and not fair to all who will participate.

Each number entitles the holder to participate in this, the greatest Treasure Hunt in the city's history. Over 30 leading merchants here are co-operating with the Record News to make the Treasure Hunt long remembered in Wichita Falls.

These merchants have contributed valuable gifts, which include dresses, hats, shoes, hosiery, jewelry—in fact, prizes of all kinds and for every member of the family. The prizes will be scattered through the various stores of the participating merchants in full view, however, and will be designated by big yellow cards bearing numbers.

The object of the hunt is to find the card on the merchandise bearing a number corresponding to the one appearing on this page of your Record News today, on the signboard above where the Pirate Chieftain is standing.

Below is given a complete list of merchants participating in the Treasure Hunt. And remember, only papers delivered by carrier and those sold on the streets will bear a number.

Names and addresses of all firms connected with the Treasure Hunt are listed in a full page advertisement on page 11 of this issue. If you find a card in a store numbered the same as the number appearing in your Record News this morning, come to the Record News office and have with you the entire front page of the Record News with the number on it corresponding to the one in the store. Tell the man at the Record News in whose store you saw the number and tell him what article was by the number and offered as a prize. A voucher will be issued which will be exchanged for the prize today by the merchant in whose store you saw the number and prize.

He Amassed a Million or So But Court Holds He Is Incompetent; Someone Else to Manage Estate

Man Who Conceived Idea of Serving Public and Garnered $2,000,000 in Town of 5,000 People Is Confined in Sanitarium

NYACK, N. Y., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Ekiel O. Rose of Stony Point, now in a sanitarium at Cornwall, was declared incompetent to handle his estate of $2,000,000 by a commission which reported here today to surrogate Mortimer B. Patterson.

On Saturday of this week Supreme Court Justice Taylor will select a committee to handle Rose's affairs.

The story of Rose's business career is that of a man who held the theory that he could become by honest means a millionaire in a township of 5,000 population by catering to every need of the residents and set out to prove it. Rose came to Stony Point in the Civil War days to serve as a licensed druggist at $200 a month in the Penny Drug Store, which he later acquired.

He stocked the store with foodstuffs, clothing, grain, farming implements and sundry other goods. He guaranteed metropolitan quality, prices and service.

The result was that the Rose store gave its proprietor an estate valued a few years ago at $1,500,000. A few weeks ago, he entered the Cornwall sanitarium.

Dallas Threatened By Downtown Blaze

THREE STORES DESTROYED IN SERIOUS FIRE

Paint, Hardware and Furniture Firms Are Losers

DAMAGE IS $200,000

Three Firemen Injured In Fighting Stubborn Flames

DALLAS, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Fire which broke out early tonight in the second story of the paint store of Devoe and Raynold company in the heart of the downtown business district resulted in injury to three firemen and property losses estimated an hour later at approximately $200,000. The entire stock of the paint company was destroyed, besides stocks of the Hooker Hardware company valued at $75,000 and stock of the Howell company furniture dealers, valued at around $50,000.

The fire raged in two three-story buildings, where the stores were housed, for an hour and a half before it was brought under control. Starting in the paint store, supposedly from spontaneous ignition of varnishes, the flames soon ate into the adjoining structures housing the furniture and hardware stores.

Nerviest Yet In Thieves Is County Find

THOSE of the outraged citizenry who have been amazed in successive degree by the audacity and daring of the modern thief have probably found the world's most ambitious burglar.

Stories from the big cities telling of safe's cracked next door to the police station; of hi-jackings across the street from the city hall and murders just around the corner from the city hall and murders just around the corner from the sleepy policeman met their match in Wichita Falls yesterday when a man tried to steal the bed sheets in the county jail.

He had been a prisoner there for some time and was arraigned in district court in the morning to face a forgery charge. He entered a plea of guilty and asked for a suspended sentence of two years. The jury allowed it.

As he was being "dressed out" of the bastil, however. Juiler Robinson became suspicious for some reason or other and ordered him too pen his suit case. A search revealed three sheets taken from the cell stores, several towels belonging to the jail and a pair of dungarees owned by the county. All the merchandise together was worth perhaps $10 or $12.

He didn't get away with it, of course, and it so happened he is facing another forgery charge.

THE WEATHER

LYRICS OF LIFE.
By Douglas Malloch.
A Friend to Trust.

I have a lot of friends, I know;
Have they not often told me so!
God knows I would not do them wrong;
I bless them for their smile and song;
But there are moments I have known,
With all my friends, I felt alone;
When days are dark, when dreams are dust,
Give me one friend that I can trust.

Man does not need so many friends:
He whom a retinue attends
Hears much applause. Around a court
Are many friendships, of a sort.
And yet I know some moment brings,
Yes, even to the breasts of kings,
A hunger and a longing just
To have one friend that they can trust.

A hundred men a man may hire
To turn his wheel, to stir his fire,
To add up figures in his books,
Yet there are many times he looks
And longs for something seldom bought—
One loyal friend in act and thought.
Yes, there are times the mighty must
Want most a friend that they can trust.

Not all of us achieve acclaim,
Not all of us win wealth and fame,
Yet solemnly I say to you
A greater thing a man may do;
However placed, however high
Or low your duty seems to lie,
Be this at least—contented just
To be a friend some friend can trust.

Father, Convicted On Daughter's Testimony, Is Sentenced To Die

GRAY, Ga., Oct. 21.—AP—Largely on the testimony of his own small daughter, John D. Batchelor, 43, must go to the electric chair Nov. 27, for the murder of Mrs. Fannie Anderson, his mother-in-law. A verdict was returned by a jury in superior court today that read:

"Guilty without recommendation to mercy," and sentence was passed by Judge James B. Park.

Motion for a new trial will be heard Nov. 23.

Mytrle, 9-year-old daughter of Batchelor, was the state's star witness. She was the only eye witness to the struggle that ended in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Anderson at her home April 28. The little girl, calm throughout, sat in the witness chair for more than an hour and told of the scene in the Anderson home—a story of an enraged man with a pistol, struggling with her mother after having shot her grandmother and then over his wife's shoulder firing another shot into the prostrate body of the aged woman.

BRIDE'S "OBEY" AND GROOM'S PLEDGE TO "ENDOW" WIFE ARE NO LONGER IN MARRIAGE VOWS

Episcopal Bishops Relieve Prospective Wives of Customary Ceremonial Promise to Adhere To All of Their Master's Wishes

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21—(AP)—Rights of women and enforcement of laws were prominently before the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church here today. Both subjects claimed conspicuous places in the two houses.

Women taking marriage vows under the Episcopal marriage ceremony were definitely relieved from promising to "obey" their husbands when the bishops concurred with the deputies in eliminating the word from the service.

The elimination was not accomplished without a contest, however, and the victory was won without a vote to spare. The test ballot showed 66 to 22, 66 being the necessary constitutionality majority. With "obey" went the bridegroom's announcement to the bride "with all my worldy goods, I thee endow."

Bar Women Lay Readers

The deputies refused to declare women eligible for membership in the general convention and almost at the same time the bishops refused to authorize bishops to license women as lay readers.

Law and order was suggested in two resolutions. In the house of bishops the Right Rev. John C. Ward, bishop of Erie, offered a resolution, unanimously adopted, providing:

"That facing the danger of the spirit of lawlessness in American life, we welcome the renewed efforts of the government of the United States to enforce strictly and impartially the prohibition law and the anti-narcotic laws, which are so widely and cyncially disregarded, and we call upon the people of our church to set a good example of obedience to law without which no democracy can endure."

Omit 39 Articles

Omission of the 39 articles of religion, together with the title page now printed at the end of the prayer book, was approved by the deputies, after debate.

Deputies defeated a motion to declare that the scripture contains, rather than is, the word of God."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(AP) The old practice of "putting up the pastor for the night" is being enlarged upon this week at the White House where seven Congregational ministers, two of them with their wives, are house guests.

When the Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the president's church, requested the membership to "take in" their quota of delegates to the congregationalist convention the president and Mrs. Coolidge declined to be left out, announcing they had room for nine persons. The nine include two former pastors, and a present pastor of the Edwards church, of Northampton, Mass., Mrs. Coolidge's home town.

Murchison and Fain's No. 1, Halsell, in western Clay county, not far from Windthorst, is drilling below a last reported depth of 1,000 feet. The test, a cable tools affair, will go to a depth of 3,500 feet.

Texhoma, Oldham

Texhoma Oil and Refining company's No. 1, Oldham, located in the Eliza Hubble survey, southeast of the Comae pool, southwest Archer county, was pulling casing yesterday to drill deeper after taking another core at 1,305 feet and getting salt water.

Bowie County

There is one wildcat test drilling in Bowie county, Northeast Texas. It is Thorpe Davis and Guess et al No. 1 D. E. Dycus, C. Watson survey, ten miles west of Texarkansas, which was 2,160 feet and drilling at last reports.

Callum et al, Brazina

Cullum et al. No. 1, Brazina, in the center of the south line of the southeast quarter of block 2410, west of the old Muse Brazina dry hole was drilling below 1,300 feet yesterday and should have been on the sand some time during the day or early today.

Darilek Area

Magnolia.

Magnolia Petroleum company's No. 1, Cowden-Portwood, variously reported as a 600-barrel producer around town Monday and Tuesday produced 32 barrels in seven hours on the pump early yesterday from sand at 1,393-1,411 feet, with the 6 5-8 inch casing set at 1,375 feet. The well looks like a good 100-barrel pumper. It is standing 1,100 to 1,200 fet in oil.

No. 2, located 300 feet west has been spudded and was last reported down 50 feet. No. 3 is a location 300 feet north of No. 1.

Magnolia No. 1, Darilek, a south offset to the Jones et al. discovery well, and in the northwest corner of the southwest quarter of block 1582, T. & L. Co. survey, is trying to swedge out a collapsed shoe, with the bottom hole at 1,420 feet.

Jones Et Al.

The discovery well, Jones et al. No. 1, Darilek, in the southwest corner of the northwest quarter of block 1582, is a rotary rig and is attempting to pull the casing and reseat to shut off considerable water. It has not been pumping in some time. The No. 2, just east looks like a dry hole, although it has a rotary sitting over it and is still trying to make a well.

American Refining Company.

American Refining company's No. 1, Portwood, in the northeast of the southeast of the block 1581 is still a stake, waiting for further development on the offsets.

Danger Signals Of Indigestion

The Disease That Strikes Like Lightning

Beware of indigestion—the disease that kills more people and kills them quicker than any other. This warning, by physicians, is particularly applicable this season of the year, when your system needs all of its healthy vigor to withstand colds, flu and other winter ills.

What are the warnings that nature gives you of the approach of indigestion? The medical books tells us: 1. Gas, which means that your food is fermenting instead of digesting. 2. A feeling of fullness or oppression in the region of the stomach after eating. This means that the gas has ballooned your stomach and is pressing up against your heart and lungs. 3. A dull lazy feeling, which means that you are not getting nourishment from what you are eating. 4. Restlessness, unrefreshing sleep, which means that the poisons of indigestion are disturbing your brain and nerves. 5. Sometmes, pain and fluttering around the heart, though this symptom may come later.

Don't take chances with indigestion—you are too apt to lose. If you have had any of the symptoms mentioned above, get your digestive organs to work at once with Ferraline. Nature's great stomach treatment that has given relief to thousands. Ferraline immediately aids and assists every one of your digestive organs, including your stomach, liver and bowels. Ferraline makes your digestion "perfect and complete." You feel its helpful effect from the very first dose. Get a bottle of Ferraline today at any drug store. NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21.—(AP)—While there was slightly more trading today in the cotton market than yesterday it was comparatively quiet owing to the near approach of the next government report. The weekly weather and crop report was interpreted as disappointing mainly because it failed to mention the recent killing frost. After opening 11 to 13 points down mainly on less favorable cables than due the market eased off further on the weekly weather report until prices showed losses compared with yesterday's close of 19 to 20 points.

After a rally of 10 to 12 points on firm spot advices, prices eased off again in the final trading and closed near the lows showing showing net loss for the day of 15 to 19 points.

The early loss was soon widened to 19 to 20 points net lower compared with the previous close. Towards noon there was a rally of 10 to 12 points which carried December up to 20.88, January to 20.83 and March to 20.78. These were the highs. The market, after ruling steady and near the highs most of the afternoon weakened near the end, dropping almost to the low points.

Exports for the day totalled 19,193 bales.

NEW YORK FUTURES.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The cotton market was quiet again today. Prices moved within a range of 10 or 15 points. After selling off to 21.45 early, December rallied to 21.55 but lost the improvement, closing at 21.45 compared with 21.64 at the close the day before. The general market closed easy at net declines of 13 to 24 points.

The opening was easy at a decline of 5 to 18 points on prospects of better weather in the south. Active months showed net losses of 17 to 24 points in early trading, October declining to 21.70 and January to 20.70. A private crop report estimating the yield at 14,832,000 bales compared with an end-September indication of only 13,830,000 was a factor on the decline while there was considerable southern hedging and liquidation on long account.

Trade buying helped to absorb early offerings and the market rallied several points from the lowest at mid-day on comparatively light private ginning figures and the unfavorable showing of the weekly report of the weather bureau, January sold up to 20.82, or 12 points from the lowest, and the market generally rallied within eight or 10 points of yesterday's closing quotations.

Demand failed to broaden on the advance, however, and prices sold back to about the early low levels in late trading under renewed liquidation and southern hedging.

This morning's crop estimate was accompanied by an estimate of 9,296,000 bales ginned to October 18. The midday rally was prompted by reports of a good spot demand in the south, but trade buying here appeared to be a little less active than recently and considerable southern selling was reported in late trading. The tendency of private authorities to increase their estimates of the crop in spite of unfavorable weather conditions since the end of September has come in for much comment and has probably led to some buying on the bulges.

Exports today 19,193 bales, making 1,927,213 so far this season.

Port receipts 51,242, bales. U. S. port stocks 1,133,753 bales.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Speculation for the advance gained increased momentum as trading broadened in today's stock market, both the rail and industrial averages attaining new record high levels. Total sales ran just about two and one-half million shares, being exceeded this year only by the wild markets of Friday and Monday.

Bullish sentiment was created by a variety of factors, including the publication of additional favorable railroad and oil company earnings statements, lower call money rates, hardening steel and non-ferrous metal prices and by the orderly manner of the advance. Brokers reported an increase in public participation.

Buying of the oils was given impetus by rumors of increased dividends and another sharp drop in crude oil production last week. Marland crossed 55 to another new 1925 peak price and net gains of two points or more were recorded by Associated Oil, Houston, Maracaibo, the Pan-American issues Phillips and Standard Oil of California.

Profit taking interrupted but failed to halt the advance in the railroad shares. Baltimore and Ohio, which expected to go on a $6 dividend basis before the end of the year, crossed 86 to a new high and New York Central which is said to be contemplating raising the rate from $7 to $8 and Western Pacific also bettered their previous 1925 high prices.

A brisk demand again developed for the copper shares. Utah Copper sold above $100 a share for the first time since 1917; Cerro de Pasco was run up over four points to a new year's high at 61¼ and American Smelting advanced over three points to 113⅛.

Trading in the Armour packing issues assumed enormous proportions. Armour "B," the first sale of which was a block of 11,000 shares at 19⅝ later advanced to 20½, a new high, in speculative expectation of an early inauguration of dividends at the rate of $2 annually.

Spirited bidding also took place for United States Rubber common which crossed 80 to a new peak for an extreme gain of over four points. Among the other two score issues to reach new high ground for the year were American Safety Razor, Columbia Gas and Electric, Continental Insurance, Cushman's Bakery, International Business Machines, Ned York Canners, Paige Detroit, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Union Bag and Paper, U. S. Realty and Yellow Truck preferred.

Call money renewed at 4½ per cent and then dropped to 4. Time money continued to rule firm with 4¾ to 5 per cent the prevailing rates. Commercial paper rates were unchanged. In the foreign exchange market. Demand sterling climbed above $4.84 despite additional gold shipments from England to the United States, but several of the continental rates were heavy, French francs hovering around 4.41 cents or just above the year's low, and Italian lire again sank below 4.00 cents. Danish kroner broke over 50 points to 24.50 cents and Norwegian kroner dropped about 35 points to around 20.28 cents.

GERMANS ARE THRIFTY.

German banking concerns extended a $25,000,000 credit extension to the soviet Russian government for the purchase of German farming machinery for Russian farmers. It is said that the soviets agreed to pay the German bankers 15 per cent annually.

German bankers borrow money in America at 7 per cent. They extend credit to the Russian buyers of farm machinery at a rate of 15 per cent. Soviet Russia agents in America purchased $68,000,000 worth of goods in this country last year. They purchased 9,000 farm tractors. They said they had $160,000,000 to place for implements and machinery this year if they secured a long time credit from American bankers and business men.

Now these agents of soviet Russia are communists. They are aliens. They may be deported in the near future. Then all they will have to do is go to Germany and open an office. German bankers will furnish them long time credit at 15 per cent on the money borrowed in America at 7 per cent, and the manufacturers of Germany will supply the needed implements and farming machinery.

Are the Germans thrifty? Are they good financiers? Are they sharp traders? If you doubt it, ask the American bankers who loaned the money and the soviet Russians who reborrow that money from the aforesaid German bankers.

LYING SILENCE.

Among the sayings that have a wide currency in spite of being wholly false, one of the grossest conveys the proposition that it is easy to tell the truth and hard to tell a lie.

Most of us know this is idealism.

The truth always is the hardest to tell.

All of us tell many little lies every day, most of them unspoken.

The cruelest lies often are told in silence.

Stevenson observes that a man may have sat in a room for hours and not opened his teeth, and yet come out of that room a disloyal friend or a vile calumniator.

"A lie may be told by the truth, or a truth conveyed through a lie," he says.

"Truth to facts is not always truth to sentiment; and part of the truth, as often happens in answer to a question, may be the foulest calumny.

A fact may be an exception; but the feeling is the law, and it is that which must neither be garbled nor belied.

The whole tenor of a conversation is part of the meaning of each separate statement; the beginning and the end define and travesty the intermediate conversation.

To tell the truth, rightly understood, is not to state the true facts, but to convey a true impression; "truth in spirit, not truth to letter," is the true veracity.

"It takes two to speak truth—one to speak and another to hear," rightly opines Thoreau.

STEEL HOLDING ITS OWN.

Steel has been the business barometer for many years. According to the Weekly Review of Journals of the Ironland Steel Trade, the industry is now close to a production schedule of 80 per cent of capacity, and producers are making earnest efforts to lift the prices. Mill bookings are said to be gaining. Railway companies are in the market ready to place heavy orders.

Calvin Coolidge is a lucky mortal. Will luck stay with him in 1926, when the congressional elections take place? Will luck stay with him in 1928, when he will be a candidate for re-election?

Arthur Brisbane, who is the editor of the Hearst newspapers recently conceded the re-election of Coolidge three years in advance of election day. The highest salaried hired man in the world must have the ear of the All Wise. Many things may happen in three years. There is ever in evidence death, the boss scene shifter, who cuts them down regardless.

Hugh Nugent Fiizgerald

Mr. Fitzgerald is writing a series of articles for The Record News on Port Arthur, Texas, popularly known as the place toward which all the oil flows.

Record News Staff.

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, Oct. 21.—In territorial dimensions Texas is the empire state of America. In coast line, Texas has the greatest number of miles. In proximity to the Panama canal, Texas is the most favored of all American states. In fertility of soil and vastness of products as well as in mineral wealth, Texas is the wonder of the age.

Fitzgerald

In romance of history and rapidity of growth in recent years, Texas has amazed the American world. In the days of the pioneer the live stock industry was the chief wealth producing occupation of man. Then came cotton with amazing strides until the Lone Star commonwealth became the greatest producer of the fleecy staple of any commonwealth or country. Then came petroleum, and today Texas is famed the world over for its output of the crude black gold and its finished products which are carried everywhere on the seven seas to the markets of the world.

There is a romance written into the history of every gulf port of Texas and every industrial center close to tide water or fringing on the mad cape waves of the Gulf of Mexico. All this reminds the writer that the Kansas City Southern railway has purchased the Cotton Belt railroad, the last prized possession of the Gould family, and plans have been outlined for the creation of a new southwestern railroad system combining the Kansas City Southern, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas and the St. Louis Southwestern railways with other possible additions, with L. F. Loree, the originator of what will be known in future as the premier southwestern railway, a system which will have total assets of almost one billion dollars, more than eleven thousands of trackage and a combined capitalization and funded debt exceeding $750,000,000.00.

This is staggering to the mind of the average man, but not to a real executive of the calibre of Loree. All this was the dream of Arthur E. Stilwell, the builder of the Kansas City Southern railway, known as the Port Arthur route. Stilwell had the soul of a seer and the vision of a prophet. On the day the Loree announcement was made of the proposed premier southwestern railway system, the census bureau at Washington announced that Port Arthur proper had a population of 31,000, but it did not announce that the greater industrial district of Port Arthur, which covers an area of 10 square miles and is the largest of any industrial center in the south, has an estimated population of 55,000,of whom 17,000 are employed in industries having a monthly payroll of $2,500,000.00.

It did not announce that in 1900 Port Arthur had a population of 765, with a scholastic population of 210. Fifteen years ago the writer visited Port Arthur. He was called there on a newspaper mission and he did not tarry very long. He knew that Arthur Stilwell was the first man to decide that there should be a Port Arthur. He knew that Stilwell had first conceived the idea of a great railroad running north and south and loading its cargo on ships at a gulf port, thus reducing the cost of freight from the grain fields of the middle west to the markets of all nations.

He knew that John W. Gates, who had the mind of a midas and the daring of a buckaneer on the Spanish Main, began where Stilwell left off and with his millions had announced to the American world that he would make Port Arthur one of the great industrial and shipping ports of America. Do dreams come true? If a man has the vision of a prophet of the old, does it fructify and produce results as time rolls on. If a man has the magic wand of a midas and the building capacity of a Caesar, is it possible for him to turn a waste land into a modern city and with his brains and his money build monuments of his genius and pluck which will live on forever.

If there is a doubter then he is advised that the dream of Arthur E. Stilwell has come true and the building genius of John W. Gates has been crowned with successful achievements far beyond his anticipation of what the future had in store less than a quarter of a century ago.

It is well to have a close-up view of an individual or a collection of individuals before one dares to write upon the past and the present and the future of a community. This is one of the reasons why the writer returned to Port Arthur after an absence of 15 years for a close-up view of the industrial port which he saw in 1910 and the industrial port of today which Richard Scillane has proclaimed to be the wonder city of the southwest, a world port ranking among the first ten of the United States in volumn of commerce and perhaps the greatest oil refining equipment of any city in the world.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

By MARY BLAKE

Libra—October 22.

Today's planetary aspects are very discouraging, and denote for the greater part of the time, adverse conditions which must militate against the successful accomplishment of any special or new task. Be warned by the signs and stick to routine duties or obligations. The influences that are at work today will not engender harmony or equanimity. On the contrary, they will give birth to a sense of disappointment and a feeling of petulant worry. Nothing, of course, will be gained by yielding to these temepramental forces. Everything will be gained by rising superior to them. Speculation and risk must be eschewed and all incentive to act on impulse curbed and restrained.

Children born today will enjoy practical immunity to sickness during the early days of infancy, but will probably be subject to one or more serious ailment prior to reaching the age of adolescence. The recuperative powers they will then possess will be measured by the degree of healthful nutrition they will have received in their babyhood. In disposition, they will be winsome and attractive, but lacking in will power. They will have the right idea about what they should do but the execution will be faulty. These children must have instilled into their minds the faculty or saying "no." One of the best ways to do this is for their parents to never break their word or their faith with them.

If today is your birthday, you possess excellent judgment, combined with a strong will and a keen mind. Unfortunately, your will is just as strong in avenging imaginary wrong as in promoting demonstrated right. You are intense as a friend, and equally intense as an enemy—extreme in both cases. You are touchy and easily take offense and are, of course, without much sense of humor. If you had this last named gift more properly developed you would often laugh as others do at you own excitability.

You are an indefatigable worker and capable of doing much under stress. It is within the realm of probability that you will receive the earnest and steadfast love of your family and you seem destined to lead a happy, although uneventful life.

Successful people born on this date are:

HOW IT STARTED

"To Lie in the Bed of Procustes."

The ingenuity of tyrants of the Middle Ages and the Inquistion days is not the only source of unique methods of torture. In the phase, "To lie in the bed of Procrustes," which we use in modern writing or speech of a rhetorical nature to signify having one's viewpoint, plans or opinions changed and reshaped by force, we find a conception of cruelty which goes back to very ancient times.

We have the expression from the legends of the ancient Greeks in which Procrusets was a celebrated robber who lived near Eleusis in Attica in ancient Greece. According to the legend which has come down through the centuries, he had two beds—one short and the other long. When a short traveler fell into his hands he placed him on the long bed and stretched or hammered him out to fit its proportions. Tall travelers were placed on the short bed and cut down to the right length. In the end, however, he got his just deserts, being killed by Theseus on the latter's journey from Treezen to Attica, just as he had slain his own victims.

SYNOPSIS

Connemara Moore was to announce her engagement tonight—either to Bingham Carrington or Saltonstall Cabot Adams—or be disinherited by her aunt. But instead of being in auntie's Connecticut home Connemara is now at the edge of the sound about to board a ferry for Long Island with David Lacy, whom she saw for the first time only an hour or so ago. It's a foggy, stormy night—"a great night for bootleggers"—as the ferryman has just observed. Back home, auntie, Bing and Salt are all worrying.

Bing would have died rather than let his eyes follow Miss Celimena's to the slow-moving hands of the old clock, but all the same he knew at the precise instant she did when they pointed, after centuries had passed, to five minutes of twelve.

Whether the entire, queerly garbed assemblage had been watching the clock also, there are, of course, no means of knowing, but the fact remains that there was a sudden, concerted halt of the dancers, and —after a straggling diminuendo wail from the blaring saxophone, and an uncertain thump or two from the drums—the orchestra followed their example and fell into abrupt and motionless silence.

A hundred pairs of eyes were turned expectedly from one entrance of the ballroom to the other, in search of a slim, straight little figure in the white robes of a Dominican Sister, minus the veil and head covering, coming to end the evening's play with the all-important announcement.

Poppy Glenn in particular, seemed unusually nervous, twisting her pretty neck to crane inquisitively over first one plump bare shoulder and then the other in her efforts to keep both doors in sight at the same time.

"If Connemara bobbed her hair it meant she was engaged to me?"

A full minute ticked itself away laboriously, and the strain grew. There were stifled giggles here and there in the room, and an impatient tapping of high heels that had the restless, staccato tempo of castanets.

Then, suddenly, as if in response to his cue, in the right-hand doorway appeared the stately figure of Judson, Miss Celimena's white-headed butler, carrying a small tissue-paper package in his hands.

And with the eyes of the room upon him, straight up to Saltonstall Cabot Adams went Judson, as unhurried and matter-of-course as though about to announce that dinner was served, and laid the package in Salt's astonished hand.

"Miss Connemara told me early this evening I was to deliver it at midnight, sir," quoth Judson, and his part played, departed discreetly.

Bing with his face as white as Saltonstall's was scarlet, held his chin high by sheer instinct of pride, for, like the other man, he was past conscious analysis of his actions.

Poppy, who happened to be beside Salt, leaned forward with impertinent assurance and read aloud the clear black handwriting of the package's superscription:

"Saltonstall Cabot Adams, Esq.
According to Agreement,
Constance Mary Moore,
June 30th, 12 p. m.

"My gracious, but she's being legal and exact. Congratulations, Salt, old top! Now hurry and open it up!"

It is probable, so great was Miss Glenn's curiosity and eagerness, that if her suggestion had not been promptly acted upon by the successful suitor, she would have snatched the little package out of his hand and opened it then and there herself.

But, recovering somewhat from his astonishment at the girl's energetic command, Salt ripped off the silver ribbon tied about the small, limp white bundle, and rather cautiously began to unroll the paper covering.

A little gasp of released breaths went up about him as a long, silky something, sinuous as if actually alive, warmly red—no, auburn, excuse us, Connemara—with surface sheen of gold where the light touched it, lay across his open palm, the discarded tissue-paper wrapping slipping to the floor at his feet. A thick, deliciously curling lock of Connemara's famous hair, clipped off by vandal shears, and then romantically and daintily tied up in tissue paper and silver ribbons and sent to her lover, for all the world like the heroines of picturesque but out-of-date days when Knighthood was in Flower.

And Connemara the most up-to-the-minute and rebellious of moderns too! Still, it undoubtedly was a dramatic touch and went rather well with the fantastic costumes of the audience.

They broke into a storm of applause that was almost hysterical in its relief at the ending of the strain. And Salt, carried out of his usual grave pomposity of manner by this proof of his triumph, forgot that he hated the limelight, and actually had made a stiff little speech before he could stop himself.

"Ladies and Gentlemen," he said seriously—"Ladies and Gentlemen, it has been, very fittingly, left to me by Miss Connemara Moore to make the evening's anticipated and happy announcement."

After which he went on and made it, formally, correctly, as one who was at once a Saltonstall, a Cabot, and an Adams might be expected to do, and it was neither a bad enough nor good enough speech to be remembered ten minutes after he made it by anyone present, if it had not been for the unforeseen denouement just before the next to the last sentence as he had it outlined in his mind.

Somebody's very muscular hand closed unexpectedly on Salt's arm, and spun him right about face with a suddenness that jarred his teeth together violently.

The voice of Bing Carrington, entirely shorn of its lazy Virginian drawl, fell in furious accents upon the close and startled air of the packed ballroom.

"How in thunder," it inquired with ominous restraint, "do you get that way? Didn't you take in the very plainly expressed agreement that if Connemara bobbed her hair it meant she was engaged to me?"

With a quick gesture he snatched the auburn lock from the other's hand, and held it aloft before all the eyes.

"Well?" demanded young Mr. Bingham Carrington, his chin up at least an inch and a half as he faced the room with his challenge.

"Why—why—" It was Poppy Glenn, on the verge of hysterics from sheer excitement. "That was the agreement. Of course it was, Bing!"

Stunned silence—broken giggles—a circle of staring eyes——

"I," said Bing, in his most magnificent manner, which could be very magnificent indeed when he had an occasion to rise to, "have the honor of announcing, for Miss Moore and myself, our engagement." His eyes gleamed with reckless laughter that picked up answering smiles, warm and friendly, from those nearest him. "I'm waiting for congratulations, everybody, and it'll take a darn lot of them to make up for what I went through when old Judson marched over and handed Salt that package," he wound up in an ingenuously youthful outburst.

"Perhaps you can explain why, in that remarkable eventuality," Salt asked icily, "Connemara sent the package to me?"

"To let you know you were out of it, of course," Bing Carrington said, with easy assurance, still holding on to Connemara's disputed curl. "And possibly, too, because she's a generous, warm-hearted child who's sorry to hurt anyone, she sent it to you for a little keepsake to remember her by. Perfectly natural and simple thing to reason out for any one who understands Connie Moore." He shrugged, as if finished with the subject forever.

county jail at Archer City. No effort has as yet been made, it is understood, to provide bond for him. In case bail is offered, District Attorney Ben Allred has announced his intention of opposing it.

That a full investigation and jurisdiction in the case will be left to the Archer county grand jury became apparent yesterday afternoon when the grand jury of the 30th district court of Wichita county, which was in session, submitted a final report to Judge H. R. Wilson and was discharged. It was considered possible this body might undertake an investigation, they having jurisdiction by reason of Griffin's dying in the general hospital of this city.

The Archer county grand jury convenes for the November term of court on Nov. 2, which is a week from next Monday.

Late last night Mrs. Griffin, widow of the slain Dundee rancher, asked that the Elks lodge conduct services at the grave. Accordingly, members of the Elks lodge will meet at the club rooms at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon and from there attend the church services in a body, going afterward to conduct the lodge services at the grave.

Read this Remarkable Testimony Regarding Results from Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Norfolk, Virginia. — "If you only knew how many women and girls have taken your medicine by hearing my testimony, it would seem wonderful to you. Every day and every chance I have I advise some one to try it. It was in June, 1904, when I had given up ever getting well, that I wrote to you. My husband went to the drug-store and brought the Vegetable Compound home to me. In a few days I began to improve and I have often taken it since. I am now passing through the Change of Life and still stick by it and am enjoying wonderful health. When I first started with your medicines I was a mere shadow. My health seemed to be gone. The last doctor I had said he would give me no more local treatments unless I went to the hospital and was operated on. That was when I gave the doctors up. Now I am a healthy robust woman. I wish I could tell the world what a wonderful medicine Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is."—Mrs. J. A. JONES, 317 Colley Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia.

A WONDERFUL SCHOOL WORK

Junior High Mothers Club Enthusiastic In Programs

By PEGGY PIEDMONT.

IT WAS well said by somebody the other day, "If you want an education badly enough you will get it sooner or later. You will study at home nights if you can't go to college. You will deny yourself luxuries to buy books. You will walk, if necessary, 44 miles, as Lincoln did, to get a book.

If you want a home badly enough you will save your pennies until you get it. If you want to amount to anything in the world so much you are willing to pay the price, you will achieve something in the end."

IF THE above theory be correct, the Junior High Mothers' club which is headed by some of the most enthusiastic women of Wichita Falls, will certainly in the near future rank high among the local Parent-Teachers' associations. For according to the president, Mrs. John C. Kay, the women who are officers of this club certainly want the organization to prosper and grow and are not leaving much undone that will be of benefit to the club.

Officers of the P-T-A aer earnestly inviting every woman's support who has a child attending the Junior high, admitting that the Mother's club of this particular school, even with tireless work on the part of the leaders, is not up to the standard they would have it. One thousand and six homes is given as the number from which the club should draw membership, with probably only 600 that may be reached by phones. And while the first meeting of the year which was held at the school Tuesday afternoon, was rather well attended, still only about a third of the women were there who should have been interested in this organization.

IN HIS talk, Dr. Cantwell told the club that the public school is the greatest institution on the earth today for all the people, and Mrs. R. E. Suther told them that the barrier between the teachers and parents comes through the lack of personal contact. She urged the mothers to "know your schools" and to visit them often.

The goal to be striven for at present with the Junior High Mother's club is the installation of a library which is much needed, and on this line of work Mrs. P. P. Langford is acting as chairman of the library committee. Nov. 6, the mothers will give an entertainment in the auditorium at 9 o'clock for the benefit of the library fund.

ANOTHER observation by the Mother's club of the Junior High, was that the auditorium walls are bare of pictures. Miss Irma Pendergast, supervisor of art at this school suggested that she is planning ways and means of collecting pictures for the auditorium and probably an art exhibit will be arranged for the school now soon.

Officers of the Junior High Mother's club are: Mrs. John C. Kay, president; Mrs. Walter D. Cline, first vice president; Mrs. Claude Woods, second vice president; Mrs. W. T. Williams, third vice president; Miss Ruth Wilson, recording secretary; Mrs. W. A. McGee, corresponding secretary and Mrs. O. W. Smith, treasurer.

The club slogan is, "The love of childhood is the common tie which should unite us in holiest purpose."

Pain and Worry

MANY WOMEN put up with distressing, painful suffering and worry, brought on by certain common female ailments, because they have lost hope to ever obtain relief. Do not make this mistake. Thousands have obtained relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? Read the account, by Mrs. Abe Canary, Route 6, Owensboro, Ky., of how she obtained relief from just such troubles.

"I got down in health," says Mrs. Canary, whose picture is printed above. "I was suffering from womanly troubles, which caused me much pain and worry. I remembered that, when I was a girl, my stepmother had taken Cardui when she was in my same condition, so I inquired around among my friends about it and found several women who were taking it at that time. They all told me how good it was, so I told my husband to get me a bottle to try. That night he came home with a bottle of Cardui.

"I was in a very serious condition. I had been in bed eight weeks and was unable to move in bed without help. By the time I had taken half a bottle of Cardui, I was able to sit up in bed. I finished that bottle and by that time I was able to walk across the floor.

"I continued taking Cardui several months and I got well. Since that time I have taken Cardui to build me up. It is a wonderful tonic.

"I am glad to tell about the wonderful way Cardui helped me so that it may help other women."

Ask your druggist about Cardui; he knows.

DOROTHY DIX ADVICE

Should a Wife Show Her Love or Keep Her Husband Guessing?—How Can a Husband Secure Peace at Home Between Wife and Children? Remedy for Boys Who Want to Travel

Dear Dorothy Dix—Will you give me some advice as to holding my husband's love? Is it the best policy to keep him guessing, or just to let him know how much I think of him?

MRS. G.

Answer:

No man wants to do any "guessing" about his wife's love. He wants to feel sure of it. He wants to believe in it as implicitly as he does in the love of God, and she makes the mistake of her life when she shakes his faith in her.

The way to handle a man before marriage is entirely different from the way to deal with him after marriage. In the days of courtship a girl is wise if she keeps a man guessing; if she blows hot and cold, and keeps him uncertain as to whether she is going to say "yes" or "no" when he pops the question.

Many a woman loses the husband she wants by letting him know that he is sure of her. He does not want the over-ripe peach that is ready to drop into his mouth. The one that allures him is the one that dangles just out of his reach on the topmost bough, and that he has to risk his neck to get.

But, after marriage, all of that is changed. The chase is over, and he wants to settle down into undisturbed enjoyment of his domestic bliss. He wants to feel that his wife is wholly his, that she has given him her heart, and that he can trust her absolutely and entirely. He doesn't want to be tormented with jealousies and uncertainties. He doesn't want to have to watch her. He doesn't want to have his life embittered with suspicions of her. He doesn't want to be kept guessing. He wants to know.

The strongest hold that any woman has upon her husband is her love for him. The thing that binds him to her after youth and beauty have vanished, and the allure of romance is gone, is just the knowledge that she is the one human being on earth whose love for him he knows will never fail.

Many a man who has outgrown the wife of his youth stays faithful to her and drags through the years the burden of an uncongenial marriage because his wife's love for him makes an irrestible appeal to all that is fine in his nature. He can't be brute enough to tear away the hands that cling to him.

Don't be afraid, Mrs. G, to let your husband know how much you love him. Men are just as hungry-hearted and crave affection just as much as women do, and you will find that your husband never gets tired of listening to you when you tell him how much you admire him and how fond you are of him.

We all naturally love those who love us, and the best way in the world to retain a husband's affection is just to love him.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix:

Isn't a man entitled to a little rest and peace at home after a hard day's work at his office? When I walk in the door my wife greets me with a list of all the unpleasant things that have happened to her during the day, and a bulletin of all the children's misdemeanors. She demands that I punish the youngsters, and tries to goad me into thrashing my boy of 15 and my girl of 16. Every night there is a row between my daughter and my wife about something the girl wants to do, or doesn't do, and if I refuse to take any part in the squabble, I am accused of not doing my duty in helping raise the family. What's the answer?

NO PEACE.

Answer:

Evidently your wife is a shrewish woman who takes her temper and her nerves out on you and the children, and there is small hope of ever doing anything with her, because that type of woman is always filled with self-righteousness and thinks she is the only one in the family who does her duty.

You might try having a serious, quiet talk with her and attempt to make her see how unjust she is in trying to lay all of her own burdens upon you, and how it takes every bit of the soul and heart out of you to have to listen to her ceaseless whines and complaints. Perhaps you could appeal to her cupidity by telling her that she lowers your efficiency by depriving you of all the peace and rest you should get at home.

But one thing you can do, and that is you can salvage some happiness out of your children by taking their part and showing them that you sympathize with them and are on their side. Also you may save them, for no boy of 15 or girl of 16 is going to stand being beaten. It is an outrage on their personal dignity and if they can escape it in no other way they will run away from home.

The next time your wife tries to make you thrash the children refuse to do it. Say to them that you do not believe in whipping them, but that you want to talk things over and be their guide and friend. In this way you can win their confidence and their gratitude and be able to help them.

Certainly children who have a mother who beats them needs a father who loves them.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I married a widower with two children. The oldest is a boy of 16, and has run away from home. He has written back to his father that he has always wanted to roam the world. We are much distressed over it and don't know what to do. What do you think? He is a good boy except for this.

STEPMOTHER.

Answer:

The best thing to do with the boy who has the wanderlust in his blood is to get him to enlist in the navy. In that way he has the chance to see the world under favorable conditions, and also not only to acquire an education but to be taught any one of a great number of trades by which he can earn a living after his time is up, if he is tired of wandering and wants to settle down on shore.

I have known enlisting in the navy to be the making of a number of boys, who, but for the training and the discipline they got in the service, would have become tramps and hobos.

Childres, a brother, and C. A. Crow discovered the body when they were called by Mrs. Childers and told that her husband had not returned from a hunt on which he had started early Tuesday morning. NO SHORTAGE OF WHEAT FOR EXPORT, CLAIM

Jardin Says U. S. Would Meet Keen Competition Abroad

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Pointing to increasing foreign competition in the wheat market Secretary Jardine in a statement today told American farmers that they "may wisely look beyond this year while seeding or preparing to seed for next year's wheat harvest."

"From intentions expressed by the farmers it appears that the prices for wheat at the beginning of the season were causing them to plant to increase the area seeded," the secretary said. "It is mainly, however, a partial crop failure which has reduced the production of many classes of wheat below domestic needs, and which together with the tariff has caused farmers to receive prices somewhat better than at the beginning of the season last year.

"It seems probable that the market has already completely discounted all the bearish factors in the wheat situation for this year.

"As stated in the outlook report issued by the department in September, if farmers carry out expressed intentions to plant more wheat and realize normal yields all wheat next year may be upon an export basis and have to meet competition in foreign markets without tariff protection.

"Foreign competition is increasing. In Europe the countries that were affected by the war are recovering. The area sown to all grains in all Russia is estimated to be 104,000,000 acres compared with 135,000,000 acres last year and 126,000,000 acres in 1921. This shows a marked recovery since 1921. The area in wheat is not separately reported but it is apparent that it must be recovering rapidly and that large Russian exports may soon have to be reckoned with. In the meantime competition in other exporting countries has increased enormously. The wheat area of Australia, Argentina and Canada is now more than 50 per cent above the pre-war average. These facts should be carefully considered by farmers in planning for wheat production in this country."

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Increased selling on the part of houses with northwest connections led to a set back in wheat values today after an early advance. Reports current indicated that threshing was general in Canada and there was considerable notice taken of the heavy acreage of wheat in the chief exporting countries. Closing quotations on wheat were ¼ to 1⅝c net lower, December $1.44½ to $1.44¾ and May $1.43¼ to $1.43¾, with corn ⅛ to ¾c off, oats ¼@¾c down and provisions varying from 5c decline to a rise of 12c.

Corn and oats with wheat. Receipts of new corn are being gradually enlarged, and the market today went under any low price record heretofore touched by the May delivery this season. For the most part, the provision market held about steady.

LIVESTOCK.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 21.—Desirable cattle were available in small lots only on the Wednesday market at the Fort Worth stock yards. However, regardless of the lack of quality to the receipts, buyers were good bidders, and the trade displayed activity. No advances were quoted, but prices were fully steady with Tuesday's levels. The estimate was for 4,200 head of cattle and 1,300 calves.

The showing of beef steers was the smallest of the three-day period, and the plainest. Nothing overly desirable was here. Trading was slow, but p rices remained about steady.

Consignments in the butcher stock division were cashed in readily at satisfactory prices. The market was at least steady with rates that prevailed Tuesday. A few cars of fleshy cows sold at $4 to $4.25, and some individuals reached $5.00. Cutters brought $3.25 and canners sold up to $2.50. Very few sales were as low as $2.25.

Heifer and yearling receipts were comparatively liberal, several carloads being shown in addition to a large number of mixed shipment. A few small lots reached $8 to $8.50, and loads went at a general range of $6 to $7.25.

Only a few bulls were available. The supply was cashed in at unchanged rates. Most deals were around $3 to $3.75, with a few head reaching $4 to $4.25.

Calf trading was brisk, the market showing a good, steady trend. Heavy calves of the best quality sold around $7 to $7.50, and a few lots in the vealer classification made $8 to $8.50. Common to medium grades were taken at $3 to $5.50.

Steady prices were received for the small supply of stocker cattle offered. The market was fairly active, all kinds meeting with a ready call.

Hog receipts were estimated at 250 head, but the early supply was limited to about 15 head in the truck division. Three hogs went at $13.50 and 13 pigs brought $11. Two loads were reported back. Other markets again quoted a decline, the loss at most centers being around 10 to 15c.

Shorn wethers made up practivally the entire receipts i nthe sheep house. Twelve decks brought $8, the market being steady and very active. A small lot of lambs cleared at $12.50. Total receipts were close to 2,000 head, including about 285 head that came direct to a packer.

SCOTTISH RITE HONORS COME TO TEXAS MEN

Supreme Council Bestows Degrees on 23 From This State

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The supreme council of the Scottish Rite Free Masonry, southern jurisdiction, in biennial session here, late today announced its list of honors of those chosen for the thirty-second degree and for Knight Commander of the Court of Honor, conferred on Masons in the thirty-three states and foreign countries comprising the jurisdiction, for meritorious services to the order.

Those receiving the degree have been knights commander four years and were picked from nominations submitted by the deputy for the supreme council in their respective states or countries. Texas led with 23; Kansas followed with 21 and Missouri was next with 19. Again Texas led with 55; Kansas was second with 49; Oklahoma followed with 43 and California had 42, while two from the Canal zone, two from China, two from the Philippine Islands, one from Porto Rico, also were chosen.

Alvarado Men Get Threat Letters

CLEBURNE, Oct. 21.—Threatening letters demanding large sums of money from at least three citizens of the Alvarado section have been received there in the last few days. The letters, written with pen and ink were sent through the mails.

Recipients of the letters have refused to make any statement regarding them. It is known, however, that a well known Alvarado merchant was threatened and also a citizen near Truelove east of Alvarado.

According to those who have seen the letters, they direct that large sums be placed in a sack and deposited at a lonely spot at a designated time. Writers of the letters say in the missives that each was written with the protection of a rubber glove and that efforts at detection will be fruitless. Death is the threatened penalty for non-compliance.

Spaghetti Never Is Grafton Menu Now

Tracing his journey from Italy to Egypt, giving points of chief interest on the route, Dr. Nat F. Grafton spoke to members of the Lions club Wednesday in the regular noon luncheon at the Kemp hotel.

"Two things impressed me in the visit to Naples," he said. "One was that I shall never care for spaghetti again after looking at a spaghetti factory. The other was the roughest road I have ever seen, a caravan road where sheep, camels, dromedaries and goats walked in the dust hoof deep.

Dr. W. P. Bolding was in charge of the entertainment and H. J. Bruce, president of the club, presided.

Minister-Policeman In Oklahoma Oil Town Is Acquitted In Assault

NEWKIRK, Okla., Oct. 21.—(AP)—The Rev. I. L. Manning, minister-policeman at Braman, oil boom town near here, was found not guilty by a district court jury today on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Mr. Manning, who used his Bible Sunday and a gun on week days, was arrested last April after he shot Arthur Farril, whom he was attempting to arrest. The minister testified that he found Farril driving his car up and down the main street of the town at a furious rate, apparently intoxicated. He said he called on Farril to stop and that the latter deliberately ran him down with the car. After that the minister said he arose and fired two shots at the machine, one of which struck Farril in the shoulder. Farril denied that he was speeding or intoxicated and said he did not hear the command to stop.

The jury was out less than an hour.

CAPTAIN SAYS DRUNK CHARGE IS NOT TRUE

Comanche's Skipper Denies His Crew Unruly During Fire

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Statements made in criticism of the crew of the Clyde liner Comanche when she was burned off Mayport, Fla., last Saturday night, as published in the New York World and the New York Times were declared "positively untrue," by Captain Edward E. Curry of Montclair, N. J., master of the Comanche, today.

The denial was made before George W. Harney of Norfolk, Va., supervising inspector of the United States steamboat inspection service, who interrogated Captain Curry. The statements attributed by the two New York newspapers to passengers arriving there were made a party of investigation into the burning ship which resulted in one passenger, Willaim T. Lawler, of Winthrop, Mass., being missing.

Captain Curry denied charges that the negro crew was drunk, saying only one person was intoxicated and that was a negro waiter. He added: "The steward reported to me on the bridge that there were no others so affected."

The white haired captain also denied charges that the crew deported itself in unseamanlike manner.

Now Playing at the Olympic

Long Beach, Calif., was thrilled by its first beauty parade held at the beach city on the occasion of the filming of scenes for Viola Dana's newest Metrodinema picture, "The Beauty Prize," the screen version of Nina Wilcox Putnam's story, which opens at the Olympic theatre today.

Fifty girls attired in bathing suits of various degrees of scarcity of material, representing each of the 48 states of the Union and in addition Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands, participated in the parade, which was far more elaborate than a majority of reel parades held at intervals at various Pacific and Atlantic coast resorts.

Girls Ride in Chairs.

Each girl rode in a flower-bedecked rolling chair. The capacity of several large trucks was taxed by the load of flowers used in decorating the chairs.

A few hundred players were taken along for atmosphere shots, but they might as well have been left in Hollywood. Thousands of citizens and tourists, having read in the papers that Miss Dana and her company was to film scenes there, were on hand early in the morning. Because of their eagerness to get a close view of the action it was necessary to press police into service.

Crowd Applauds Beauties.

As the 50 entrants in the beauty contest approached and passed the camera, each in an original and beautiful bathing suit, the crowd applauded vigorously for the girls they favored, and in all ways acted just as director Lloyd Ingraham wanted them to.

In addition to Miss Dana, the cast of "The Beauty Prize" included Pat O'Malley, Edith Yorke, Edward Phillips, Joan Standing, Edward Connelly, Eunice Moore and Fred Truesdale.

"The Beauty Prize" was adapted by Winifred Dunn and was photographed by John Arnold.

VAUDEVILLE SHOWING AT OLYMPIC THEATRE

The headline attraction on the current Olympic vaudeville bill is Flora Allison's Golden Visions. This artistic creation is a lightweight review of the most famous works of the old masters. Miss Allisone has taken for her subjects some of the best known masterpieces now on exhibition in New York and Paris. This company of four clever artists should round out a well balanced bill of entertaining vaudeville.

"Two Lads From Kokomo," the comedy vehicle offered by La Tour and Flagg, should prove a solid laughing hit with the vaudeville fans, as the present offering has been built for laughing purposes only. La Tour and Flagg, two clever young chaps, should garnish much laughter with their clever foolishness.

Van and York in "A Fat Chance and a Slim Excuse" is a laughing vehicle of speedy singing, dancing and comedy. Mr. Van proves a capable laugh gatherer while his clever dancing partner is an able foil for his fun making.

Billie Van, the well known newspaper cartoonist, has invaded vaudeville with a novel comedy offering in chalk. His chalk talks have become famous in the west and his present tour over the Keit Looey circuit is his first invasion of the east. The same wit that made him a well known newspaper figure on the Pacific coast will make him a hit on the current vaudeville bill.

Hernando and company in a magic act of high class. Miguel Angel De Hernandez, the Mexican magician and vaudeville entertainer, comes to us highly recommended and is sure to please. He has been associated with the celebrated magician, Howard Thurston, whom you all know. Hernando is ably assisted by a pretty little miss. It is surprising the amount of entertainment these two clever all-around artists manage to furnish during the action of their offering.

"THE TEXAS TRAIN," IS OFFERED AT MISSION

A dashing hero, a pretty heroine, a desperate bad man, a couple of other characters thrown in to take sides with or against the hero, and some fine riding is all that most picture audiences require to vote a "western" a success. But let it be said to the credit of Hunt Stromberg, the producer, and Scott Dunlap, the director, that they were not satisfied to rely on this formula when they made "The Texas Trail," the latest Harry Carey picture.

There is a dashing hero—yes—and there is a pretty heroine and a desperate villian and all the other requisites, but in addition to all these there are a really human, plausible story, exquisite scenery, breath-taking rides, thrilling chases and blood-tingling fights that make the picture opening at the Mission theatre today far and away the finest western we have ever seen.

It is the story of a daring hold-up resulting in the robbery of ten thousand dollars intended to pay off a mortgage due the next day, and the clever recapture of the money through the scheming and daring of the young heroine with the aid of the hero. The little twists of plot are all subtle and always unexpected, which adds measurably to the excitement of the picture.

It is small wonder that the audience found itself on the edge of its chairs for they were witnessing action thrilling enough and sufficiently suspense inspiring to cause the most unemotional person a great many moments of emotional disquietude. Personally, we almost fainted from suspense during the terrific battle between the hero and villian staged on the very brink of a high cliff with the possibility of a single misstep meaning death to one or both of the two men.

An admirable story and a very capable cast are backed by natural and photographic beauty it would be hard to excel. To the director must go credit for selecting those glorious scenic backgrounds against which the story was filmed, but credit for capturing their rare loveliness goes to George Benoit, the cameraman.

SPLENDID BILL GETS HAND AT THE MAJECTIC

Singing, Dancing, Wit And Jazz, on Week's Program

Another splendid bill played to a capacity audience at the Majestic Theater last night. This week's offering has an entertaining mingling of singing, dancing, clever chatter and jazz music.

Irving Newhoff and Dode Phelps as an act billed as a "Musical Cross Word Puzzle," prove to be only the principals in a company which comprises a red hot jazz orchestra and a clever dancer. There is something new in an orchestra act. A snappy and highly entertaining comedy skit serves to introduce them and when it finally turns out to be a jazz orchestra and dancing act, the audience is both pleased and surprised. Chatter and singing is kept up and at the end they take several curtains and an encore.

Song Act Popular.

Vaughn Goudort assisted by Harriet Lou has an offering of crossfire chatter and singing. Harriet Lou is the target for Vaughn's jokes. A collection of good songs and a good voice put their act over in good shape. An "Old Fashioned Irish Rose," "I Hear You Calling Me," and "When I Was a Dany and You Were a Belle," were especially well received.

Sim Moore and Frank Mitchell are a versatile pair who have a little of everything to offer. Their act comprises dancing, a little singing, some chatter, and acrobatics. However, they set about the acrobatic part of their act in a different way. Instead of taking this part seriously, they burlesque it. They receive a good hand.

Mary Gets the Laugh.

Mary Enves, the Piccadilly girl, has her own line of foolishness to dish out to her audience. She does mostly talking with here and there a song. There isn't much to it, but yet she puts it over and proves to be a good laugh getter.

Earnest Mack and Margie Laurie are artists on roller skates. They dance and do a series of whirls. Their swivel neck twist gets plenty of applause.

The regular bill was preceded by the Sportlights of Grantland Rice and Aesop's Fables. There will be afternoon and evening performances today and Friday.

Quanah Man Fined For Killing Boy In Melon Patch

QUANAH, Oct. 21.—R. F. Doty, charged with the murder of a Hilton boy, was fined $250 and given 10 days in jail. He has paid his fine and has until December to serve his jail sentence.

The Hilton boy was killed, it was claimed, when he was stealing watermelons from Doty's patch, and Doty plead guilty to a charge of negligent homicide.

This case has been tried twice before, the first time it being thrown out because of faulty indictment which named a brother of the Hilton boy as being the one killed and which brother was at the time of the trial in jail here for shooting at the defendant on the court house lawn during the trial. The second indictment and trial resulted in a hung jury.

Betty may fancy that Harold B. Wright
Is a marvelous master of diction,
Tessie may take a terrific delight
In "The Sob Story Magazine" fiction.
Mabel may have not a thought in her head
To dazzle an erudite guy with,
But though, from the neck up, all three may be dead
Their faces will serve to get by with.

Teach a girl all of the wisdom in books,
But unless she possess a bunch of good looks
She never will cuddle in sheltering nooks
While lovers in legions come wooing.
She may have a great and Minerva-like brain,
And never say anything dull or inane,
But we know and she knows that if she is plain—
There'll never be anything doing.

A lover's illusion is never destroyed
When a maiden observes to him coyly;
"Say Cyril, I think you're a regular bold
Because you show up here so oily."
Whatever she says, while she looks in his eyes
He thinks is delightfully witty,
He don't care a rap if his charmer is wise—
As long as he's sure she is pretty.

Wit is an accident, wisdom is rare;
But why should a girl fall a prey to despair
When a pair of bright eyes and a shock of bobbed hair
Will win her a free-spending steady?
Why should she toil at expanding her ken
Or read all the tomes that the wiseacres pen
To get what she wants most of all; namely men—
When she knows she has got them already!

THOSE PROPHETS.

The one touchdown victory of Dana's Aggies over S. M. U., originally touted as the conference champions-to-be of 1926, the past week-end caused somewhat an upheaval among the prognosticating boys. They now, of course, are picking the Farmers to wade through.

Defensive play, however, is still the Aggie style with the punting of Wilson, admittedly the conference's greatest booter, mortifying the Bible outfit there. But with Hunt, Berry and Maguire in the backfield the Aggie offensive strength is more potent than would appear at first glance. That the Aggies are powerful title contenders is assured, but that Bible's men will "wade through," puts an entirely different angle to the situation.

VARSITY? NOT YET.

A select few of the dopesters have it following the showing of Stewart's Longhorns in 33 to 0 victory over Auburn Saturday that Texas stands out more formidably than any club in the organization. The varsity, more or less a makeshift aggregation at the start, has come along with rapid strides, and may develop into a contender providing in the meantime the Stewart detachments hurdle the Rice institute barrier this week-end. But it is more than likely if pitted against either S. M. U. or A. and M. say today or tomorrow, the Steers would be forced to come up on the shorter end of the count. In other words, as they stand at this moment there are two, possibly more elevens in the conference who can take the number of the varsity machine.

AUBURN OVERRATED.

In Auburn, Texas found an overrated eleven, a team ineffective in several departments, erratic in tackling, hardly the fighting eleven expected, and weak in fundamentals. That Texas' offense was versatile is true, and the defense exceeded all hopes of Stewart and his staff of assistants for this stage of the season.

But, repeating, if Texas gets over in the Owl conflict and can improve in the days following in ratio to the advance already registered on the stadium grid, which doesn't seem possible, then on Saturday, Oct. 31, at Dallas the Orange and White may turn back the S. M. U. attack and pull through for a victory, but it is under these conditions only. And in defeating the Mustangs there can be little argument left that Texas will be just as formidable a contender as the Aggies.

* * *

Barring poor breaks in the Longhorn camp between now and then it begins to appear, early as it is, the championship will be decided Thanksgiving day at College Station. No more colorful a culmination to the conference drive could be imagined.

* * *

S. M. U., tentatively, is out of it. Baylor is neither in nor out as yet. Bridges will have his say. The Golden Bears may not win the gonfalon, but it is quite possible the aspirations of one or possibly two elevens will crumble in contact with the green jersied Waco aggregation, early season performances of the Bears notwithstanding. First of interest will be that Aggie-Farmer clash Oct. 31 on Carrol field. This contest carries all the earmarks of a possible dope upsetter.

* * *

Bear in mind, S. M. U. played very sluggishly in the Aggie skirmish, waged a poorer brand of ball than probably will be seen in its other conference tilts. Texas will find the Mustangs far more difficult to rate than did the Farmers, and should Texas succeed in breaking to romping Cayuse, draw your own conclusions—

Vernon Mentor Forced To Make Last Minute Changes

LIONS STILL HANDICAPPED BY INJURIES TO CROUCH AND HOLLAR AS TIGER TILT NEARS

Electra Moleskin Followers Enthusiastic Over Game, Plan Demonstration For Saturday

With his club still handicapped by injuries to Crouch and Hollar, Coach Baggett is still making last minute changes in an effort to display a well-balanced machine against the Electra Tigers. He stated yesterday that Saturday would see as many changes in the Lions' line-up as did the last week-end, when the line was practically rearranged.

It is definitely settled that Crouch, flashy back who has not been in moleskins since receiving a wrenched knee in the game with Sayre two weeks ago, will not be in the game Saturday with the Tigers. Indeed, it is doubtful if he will play again this year. It is very unlikely that Hollar, one of Baggett's mainstays in the wing positions, will play against Electra. Hollar has been out for some time with an injured back. Baggett refuses to make a statement as to what changes he intends to make in his line-up this week-end.

Roy Key, who was shifted from right guard to left end in last Saturday's fray, and who played a good game at end, has been shifted back to the guard position. Newt, who started in the game at end against the Indians, is still being worked in that position. C. Key is being given a try-out on the first string as right half this week. Baggett is constantly shifting the remainder of his line-up.

Baggett Holds to Close Formation

As the Lions mentor is making his last minute changes for the Tiger contest, he is confining his training to close formation plays. No new plays have been given the squad this week, and little but off-tackle plays have been used in scrimmage. Early in the season the Lion backfield showed good form on off-tackle plays, and with the speedy Crouch out of the line-up, the coach has dropped back to the plunging plays.

The Lions are showing a greater determination to fight, following the poor showing made in the game against the Indians. In the practice sessions now, each member of the squad is urging the other to fight, and they are hitting hard. Baggett is drilling it into his squad that the Tigers are strong and that the Lions will win only after a hard battle.

The Electra Tigers are still plugging away at a mean clip in preparation for the Vernon affair which is scheduled for the Electra grid with a dogged determination which bodes nothing easy for the vaunted Lion crew.

Only One of Reese's Men Crippled

The Tuesday workout was exceptionally hard ... ough scrimmage did not receive the call. One point of interest was noted at this session—all the Electra cripples are back in uniform again with exception of Willis Carnahan, center, who is still on crutches as result of the Coyote conflict here the past week-end.

Electra moleskin enthusiasts are keyed to even a higher pitch over the impending battle than was the case prior to the Coyote-Tiger fest, it is said. If the Tigers beat the Lions, they can break that tie with the Coyotes and grab the championship of this section, is belief expressed by Electra followers.

It is planned to start a mammoth parade including followers of both teams in the downtown section of Electra immediately before the game and march to the gridiron situated by the high school building.

Work on bleachers to seat more than 1,000 people was started Tuesday morning by the manuel training students. Bleachers to hold at least 500 persons will be placed on each side of the playing field.

Student tickets are going on sale in both Vernon and Electra today. Students purchasing tickets before Saturday will be admitted for 50 cents, announces E. E. Rogers, business manager of the Electra team. Tickets sold at the gate will cost a dollar each. Students of rural schools will be admitted at the gate for 50 cents, however.

Quite a bit of Electra's hopes will be pinned on the plunging ability of big Dell Coolidge who is learning more and more each day to hit the line hard and low. Electra, a strong defensive team, expects to surprise with a driving offensive.

LION QUARTER DOWN WITH FLU.

Benton Ryan, quarterback of the Lions is down with an attack of the flu, according to physicians reports. He failed to appear for practice Tuesday afternoon, but little was thought of it then. Gloom invaded the Lions stronghold Wednesday morning when the report got out that the Lion quarter would be out of the game Saturday. Lion will be missed in the Vernon backfield more than any one man. It was his kicking and passing that enabled the Lions to win over the Indians last Saturday, and with him out of the line-up, open play formations will be entirely eliminated from the Lions' threat.

BROWN HIMSELF AGAIN; IF WRESTLERS GET THAT WAY

Jim Brown, Chicago's Greek grappling welterweight, who accomplished an exceedingly spectacular nose dive Tuesday night from a ring on the stage into the orchestra pit of the Majestic Theater at behest of one Matty Matsuda, Nipponese exponent of the art of massaging the canvas with the shoulder blades, was little worse for wear Wednesday.

James landed partially on his cranium and partially the back of his neck, also managing in some way to get one foot damaged in entanglement with a music stand, came up cold to the world and at a later hour limping.

Wednesday he appeared his usual slef, if wrestlers ever get that way. There was a slight halt in his walk, however, and a luge knot in the rear portion of his anatomy which connects the head with the trunk.

James still uttered his daily deft of the past week or so: "I can beat that Jap! I'll wrestle him for his belt. Don't want any money!"

The latest move on Jack's part to lend a color of genuineness to the thing is rather comical. It seems that Jack appears worried over the prospect of Wills meeting ancient, battered Floyd Johnson. He sent Wills a telegram informing him that he should not take on Johnson. Dempsey explained that he thought Johnson might possibly ruin the match for which Dempsey and Wills had both signed.

AUGIE SAXE HURT

BEAUMONT, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Beaumont's high schools' football championship aspirations suffered a severe blow today when Augie Saxe, brilliant quarterback, was carried from the practice field with a wrenched knee that will keep him from the field beyond the grid season's end. Saxe was the most reliable passer in the squad and was ranked as a great runner in an open field. His speed and peculiar shifting stride were a great advantage to him.

Corsairs' Series Coin $142,650.56

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, today attached his signature to the checks that made the Pirates glad they won the baseball championship of the universe.

The victorious Pittsburghers were mailed checks totaling $142,650.56, 60 per cent of the players' pot of gold, divided into 35 shares. Twenty-six players, including Manager McKechnie, each received checks for $5,332.72, while Fred Clark, vice president and assistant manager, Chick Frazer and William Hinchman, scouts, received $1,000 each. J. J. Onslow, coach, and Sammy Watters, secretary of the club, received the same amount as the players.

The sum of $500 went to J. Fogarty, the ground keeper, $250 to Billy McCary, the club house boy, and another $250 to J. Devine, a scout.

"BAYLOR TWELFTH MAN" WILL BE THERE WHEN BEARS LOCK WITH AGGIES, AVERS BROOKS

WACO, Oct. 21.—Baylor isn't beaten until the last whistle is blown! Baylor can and will beat A. and M.!

That was the spirit of a giant celebration that took place on Carroll Field Tuesday afternoon when President S. P. Brooks, Dean W. S. Allen and Dean A. G. Plowers, led the 1,500 students of the Green and Gold institution out on the athletic field where they surrounded the Baylor football squad and there held a pep rally, working up the pep for the coming game with the Texas Aggies on October 31st.

The Baylor Twelfth Man.

With the Baylor band playing "That Good Old Baylor Line" the students held a yell drill, the yells and cries drifting across Carroll Field and for blocks away. The student body and faculty soon let the team know that they were behind the Bruins win or lose.

President Brooks made a short address to the team and coaches, declaring:

"We believe you can and will beat A. and M. and we want you to know that the old Baylor Twelfth Man will be in there until the last whistle. We can't expect you to win always for only professionals could do that and these are honorable, upright students and it is mighty hard for a Texan to beat a Texan. You can't do it always and the old Baylor Twelfth Man is behind the Bears to the limit, win or lose."

Prepping Hard.

That the Baylor team and their supporters are pointing for the Aggie game, there is no doubt. However, they are not only pointing for the Aggies, but also for the Texas Longhorns and S. M. U. Mustangs who follow immediately after on the Baylor schedule.

Meanwhile, Coaches Bridges and Crow are putting their squad through a stiff pace to get them in better shape for the Howard Payne game which comes on the opening day of the Cotton Palace exposition Saturday.

Old Folks Must Not Use "Physics"

DR. CALDWELL AT AGE 83
While Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, knew that constipation was the curse of advancing age, he did not believe that a "purge" or "physic" every little while was necessary.
To him, it seemed cruel that so many had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oil every day or two.
In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which regulates the bowels of old folks. A single dose will establish natural, healthy bowel movement for weeks at a time, even for those chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement, but, best of all, it is often months before another dose is necessary. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.
If past fifty, buy a large 60c cent bottle at any store that sells medicine and just see for yourself.—Adv.

Indians Vs. Indians At Park Saturday

STATISTICS WOULD GIVE HIGH SCHOOL CLUB EDGE BUT BUBS' TEAM HAS IMPROVED RAPIDLY

Junior College Squad Good in Clarendon Game, Better Against Cameron and Now—

Indian meets Indian when the Junior college eleven clashes with Quanah at Spudder park Saturday. A first-class contest is expected in this, the last of the practice matches before the opening of the conference season. Comparative scores on the basis of games with Vernon slightly favor Quanah, who held the powerful Wilbarger Lions to a 29-0 score last week as against the early season 30-0 game of the college. There is no comparison between the early season team of the college and the present one, however, with the improvement in play and in personnel of the college squad manifested during the last few weeks.

Observers of the team are gratified with the constant development shown by the college squad. The team that held the fast charging Cameron Aggies to a desperately contested tie battle last Friday was a smoother playing one in both line and backfield than the team that gave such a good account of itself in the game with the Clarendon Bulldogs. With the return of Stevenson to the backfield Coach Mosley has the services of another of those who showed much promise at the beginning of the season but who were prevented for various reasons from playing. Stevenson is a fast and heady ball carrier. Timmons is also rapidly regaining his former strength and skill in backfield and wing performance. He was lost on account of serious illness at the beginnig of school, but should be ready to play this week-end. Injuries will keep Rawls, Deems, and probably Beaty out of the contest.

Barnette No Slouch As Grid Athlete

Coach Barnette in his bow to Northwest Texas gridirons has made a splendid fighting machine out of his lightweights at Quanah, one that for two years has had few teams to fear, last year easily winning the class B honors of the district. As a star on Southwestern university teams, as a winning coach for Commerce, and as an official in many T. I. A. A. conference games, Barnette is well-known in football circles.

Since the Coyotes play out of town this week a good crowd should see the game, which will be played Saturday at 3 o'clock in Spudder Park.

The line-up probably will find Clary at center, Hirschi and Karns at guards, Burks and Weeth at tackles, Harris and Crites at ends, Thurman at quarter, Datson and Timmons at halves and West at fullback.

Coyotes Work Lightly for Grandfield

The Tribe put in a hard workout Wednesday afternoon and engaged in a brisk scrimmage which took up a greater part of the session. Ground gaining by Crites and Thurman featured the performance.

Datson waged a hard all-around game. West rattled off a number of good advances through the line.

Coach Bud McCallum must intend taking it more or less easily for a period prior to the contest of Oct. 31, Saturday after next, with Vernon, the Coyotes' second conference game.

Wichita Falls plays Grandfield at Grandfield this week-end, and the Oklahomans if you would judge by their lopsided triumph over Brewster's Iowa Park Hawks Monday, boast a formidable aggregation. Nevertheless, McCallum gave his squad what constituted almost a day off Wednesday. The Coyotes worked no longer than a half hour. Only a few minutes of signal practice and sprinting received the call.

Quarterback Ed Powell donned the moleskins following a short absence because of a sprained wrist. Coyal Francis, fullback, injured in scrimmage Tuesday, was on hand but did not suit out. Rowdy Curtin, captain and halfback who is on the crippled list from hurts received in scrimmage, is not expected to start the Grandfield game, it was said.

Henrietta Beats Bellevue 8 to 0

Coach Sullivant's Henrietta eleven defeated the Bellevue club by score of 8 to 0 on the Henrietta gridiron Wednesday. The game was hard fought by both clubs, but Bellevue lacked the necessary punch to score.

Reed Allgood, Jim Ludiker and Tim Chadwick starred in the line for Henriettat while Herb Brown played a great game in the backfield.

MARVIN GOODWIN SUCCUMBS AS RESULT OF AIRPLANE FALL

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Marvin Goodwin, 32, pitcher on the Cincinnati Reds and last season's manager of the Houston Buffaloes, died at 5 o'clock this morning, the result of injuries received in an airplane wreck Sunday.

Goodwin succumbed after a 52-hour fight.

Goodwin, a first lieutenant in the air service, was manager-pitcher of the Houston Buffs most of the past season, being sold to the Cincinnati Reds at the tail end of the season.

In his accident he had both legs broken, one in three places, and his skull was crushed. Death resulted from the fracture at the base of the skull, attending physicians said.

Goodwin's condition showed improvement at the outset and up until noon Monday it seemed certain that he would recover. At 3 o'clock Monday afternoon attendants noted a change for the worse, and at 6 o'clock the same afternoon Goodwin lost consciousness. He was unconscious from then until the end.

H. A. Goodwin, a brother, was with him when death came.

A military funeral will be held at 11 a. m. Thursday and then the body will be sent to Gordonville, Va., Goodwin's old home, for burial.

Surviving are his father, P. M. Goodwin of Gordonville, Va., two brothers, Peyton and H. A. Goodwin, and three sisters, Miss Elizabeth Goodwin, Gordonville, Va., Mrs. R. A. Perkins, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. R. S. Gillespie of Waynesboro, Va.

PITTSBURGH U. QUITS BASEBALL.

Baseball has been dropped from the athletic curriculum of the University of Pittsburgh. Inability to complete a schedule and the fact that the weather is usually unfavorable in Pittsburgh during the period in which the games must be played, was given as the reason for dropping the sport.

Bulldogs Exceedingly Busy Next 10 Days

BELLEVUE TO SCRAP HAWK CLUB FRIDAY

Montgomery's Coyote Pups Prep for Devol Game

All of the Iowa Park Hawks came out of the game Monday with Grandfield with no serious injuries with exception of Donald Penn, who sustained a wrenched neck. This, however, is not likely to keep him from the game at Iowa Park Friday with Bellevue. Burney, husky fullback, bruised a shoulder, but this injury is not expected to force him onto the sidelines for long.

Coach R. E. Brewster is sending his men through daily workouts and making them as hard as possible in preparing for the game. The Hawk mentors have worked wonders with the squad the past few days. A week or ten days ago the Hawks were considered the underdogs due to the showing against Graham, but the squad rose to the heights by holding the strong machine of Grandfield within bounds of a decent score at Iowa Park Monday. The coach expressed himself as well pleased with the showing of the team. With Captain Beasley going good the Hawks are doped to win Friday.

Donald Penn made himself a name Monday as end. Denny played a nice game at tackle and much is expected of him in the Friday clash.

The Hawks have three games in succession at home. October 30 the Junior high of Wichita Falls meets them on the Park gridiron. These teams are old enemies. The best game of the season is expected to be seen between these ancint foes.

On November 6 Devol, Okla., is to meet the Hawk machine on the Hawk's gridiron. The week following the squad is to return a game to Archer City. The Hawks played the Archer City eleven a 12 to 0 victory at home, but the game is expected to be a different one there.

FLY FLASHES WITH JUNIORS.

The Junior high gridsters continued to condition themselves for the coming clash with Devol at Spudder park Friday. The greatest fear of the squad is the way flunking grades will cut into their ranks. With the reports coming out it was found that several of the stars of the club had become ineligible for the time being.

Goal post were erected on the Austin school grounds and everything was placed in readiness for coming games should the club have to use that field for a play.

The Pups have been closely watching the improvement in the punting of Clyde Fly. The new find of the club is also a nice passer and good ground gainer. Among the new men Fly stands out as the best backfield prospect of the year.

Coach Montgomery has three men who have been looking great in the line, Powell, Bains and Berry. Powell, a guard, and the other two are tackles. They have been making the best showings all year.

BURK TO PLAY THREE, MAYBE.

Coach Herb Ludgate's Burkburnett Bulldogs have lined themselves up an impressive schedule of work for the next few days.

The Bulldogs play Coach Sullivant's Henrietta gridsters at Henrietta Saturday, it was announced Wednesday evening, and then next Wednesday are slated to invade Seymour for a return engagement.

The Bulldogs on the face of comparative showing of the two clubs are doped to win from Henrietta, but the game should prove a fairly tough encounter with a great possibility of the dope being upset by Sullivant's crew.

The eySmour contest may prove entirely another story. This club already has displayed that it is nobody's setup, and last Friday held Burk to a scoreless tie on the Bulldog grid.

On the following Saturday the winner of the Burk-Seymour tiff is to play the powerful Graham outfit. Graham is rated as the strongest class B contender in the section.

Burk will enter the first two games of the three without its full strength for Buckner, quarter; McDonald, fullback, and Patterson, center, are still out because of injuries.

Penney Shifts To Varsity Terminal

AUSTIN, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Basil Penney, regular guard, was shifted to end today and likely will play that position Saturday for the Texas Longhorns against the Rice Owls. Penney was substitute end last season. He is powerful and fairly fast.

Penney will be able to hold down end almost as capably as Matt Nowell, regular end who was injured Saturday in the Auburn game. However, Coach Stewart does not have a player of Penny's caliber to take the guard post Penney has vacated for the time being.

Moore, Gooch or Homan will get the call to take Denney's place. All are larger than Penney, but they lack the speed and aggressiveness of the lighter man.

Braves Pay Tribute To Matty by Voting His Son Vice Pres.

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The Boston National league baseball club paid double tribute to its president, Christy Mathewson, at its annual meeting today. It elected his son, Christopher, Jr., as a director and adopted resolutions offered by Mayor James M. Curley, a director of the club, which eulogized "Matty" as the "incomparable leader and exemplar of the national game."

Judge Emil B. Fuchs of New York was elected president and Albert H. Powell vice president and treasurer.

Young Mathewson is a sophomore at Bucknell college of which his father was a graduate.

It was announced that all the Braves' players has signed their contracts for next season except Jim Welch, outfielder, and Dick Burrus, first baseman.

The resolutions said that Mathewson "by his exceptional intellectual and physical attributes, indomitable perseverance and clean sportsmanship, elevated the game to a higher standard than ever before attained, won the admiration and confidence of an exacting though generous public and gained for himself an imperishable name in the annals of American sports."

GRID SEAT SALES HEAVY.

Only box seats and comparatively few of themh, are left for the Army-Navy game in New York. The Harvard stadium has been sold out for the Harvard-Dartmouth contest. All Yale bowl seats for the Army-Yale contest have been disposed of. Football needs more room.

FOOTBALL INSIDE OUT

THE WHY AND HOW OF THE RULES

THE UMPIRE'S DUTIES.

The position of the officials at the beginning of scrimmage will indicate clearly which is the referee and which is the umpire, because it is the accepted thing—suggested by the rules committee—that the referee remain behind the side in possession of the ball and the umpire remain behind the defensive side.

We gave, in yesterday's article, a condensed list of the activities over which the referee has jurisdiction.

The rules, however, give the umpire concurrent—or equal—jurisdiction with the referee in matters pertaining to unfair play, conduct of persons other than the players, and infractions of the rules regulating the attendance by his mates of an injured player.

The referee must report to the umpire infractions of the rules pertaining to sideline coaching, persons admitted to the field inclosure, persons admitted to the field of play, and regarding the enforcement of penalties.

The umpire must assist the referee in decisions involving "possession of the ball, interference in connection with the catching, securing or possession of the ball when it has been kicked or passed down the field."

That confusion may be minimized the rules specify that the umpire shall use a horn (and not a whistle such as referees use) to signal all fouls.

GREB WANTS WALKER.

Harry Greb of Pittsburgh, middleweight boxing champion, is reported eager to lock with the welter champion, Mickey Walker. The bout, if any, will be staged in the new Madison Square Garden this winter.

It is reported Jones was injured at the scene of some construction work, his right leg being mashed and the pelvis crushed.

13-Year-Old Flees Chicago For Texas When Parents Ban Football

YOUNGSTER IN STATE CAPITAL NOW TRAINING

Weak Heart Cause of Bar From His Home Gridiron

AUSTIN, Oct. 21.—An immature heart, wrecked the hope of Louis Webb, 13, to continue playing football with his team in Chicago, and tonight he arrived in Austin, where he fled when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Webb of Chicago and the family forbid further work on the gridiron. For several days Webb was missing from his home in Chicago. He was found in Texarkana. He is now the guest of his aunt, Mrs. A. L. Green here. From here he will go to Laredo to visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Anderson, where he expects to build his heart to supply his overgrown body. Webb said his inability to play football caused his "disappearance."

PLAN RUMMAGE SALE.

W. M. U. of Floral Baptist Church To Give Benefit.

The Woman's Missionary Union of Floral Heights Baptist church will hold a rummage sale October 31 at the corner of Eighth and Ohio. The funds derived from the sale will go to the building fund of the new church which is soon to be erected.

The Joy of Motherhood

JUST how to make motherhood a joy is one of the most important things in the world for you to know, right now, mother-to-be! Learn the great truth: use the simple method of an eminent physician who dedicated his life's work to this great accomplishment for your benefit!

"I was in labor only 25 minutes with my last child, but suffered agonies with three previous children," writes an enthusiastic mother who used Mother's Friend. Great has been the praise of Mother's Friend for over three generations!

Mother's Friend possesses the qualities to penetrate beyond the skin and soothe the network of ligaments across the abdomen, hips and back and lubricate the skin, nerves and muscles as month follows month. Finally, it makes motherhood a joy! Mother's Friend is safe—it contains no harmful drugs. Right now, from this day on, and right up to the day of childbirth Mother's Friend should be used!

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 32, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

ADVICE

If in headlines you would see
For the public's praise, your name,
Take this simple tip from me,
Dodge the lineman's ground-hog game;
Do not learn to charge and block
Husky giants who are tricking—
Learn with your front foot to sock
In the noble art of kicking.

Do not learn the play of guards,
Shun the tactics guiding duties,
All the lineman's world awards
Are bruises, cuts and contusions,
Along with privilege to read
In the next morn's daily papers,
How the halfback sowed his speed
And on the grensward cut up capers!

IF the law regulating price and distribution of huge prize fight gates by the tax route is really designed by the New York State Boxing commission as reported, the benefit might be large to the Empire state. It would be larger to other legalized fight eras.

Just now, New York hogs the big championships because it is the region of the important money. The battlers can make dollars there where they make dimes elsewhere. Hence the world laughs when Dempsey stalls offer in the west.

But if the new tariff is to be so regulated that the big brawlers can not make apartment house profits, there will be a greater distribution of prize fight attractions.

If the million dollar gate is gone, the fighters are likely to go in search of whither it went.

Rumored that Dreyfuss has sold the Pittsburgh club. Rumor mongers are probably confusing scalpers' series prices with a sale consideration.

Explorer to study Madagascar races.—News item. Is the parimutel legal there?

THE GUILLOTINE WORKS.

HEADS have been falling rapidly in Texas league circles of late. When the Lone Star clubs get under way next spring, only two of the managers who started the 1925 campaign will be at work—Yakol Atz or the Cats, Mr. Derrill Pratt of Waco. Snipe Conley, who relieved Larry Gardner at Dallas in mid-season will be the only other hold-over. Old man Atz, who has been doing business at the same stand since 1919 and earlier, is the only Texas league leader with experience antedating 1925.

Tanner has quit at Wichita Falls Syd Smith, who got Luderus' job at Shreveport, is not likely to try again. There will be a new skipper at Beaumont. Houston would use Marvin Goodwin, if they could, but his return is doubtful. Bob Cannon has given place to Karl Mitzi. It's a shaky job—the manager's job.

Chicago good folk plan to fight sing their ball clubs to world championships but they haven't been able to raise a tune in several years.

Dawes is going to preach reform in Georgia. Georgia is one with Texas now. It doesn't want reform but a ball club that can lick Fort Worth.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

"WILL you love me in December as you used to in May," was the burden of a popular song hit of the sob order. Baseball has its odd variety of the sentiment.

Joe Vila, the Evening Sun's rule adopted last year by the caustic critic, points out that the majors prohibiting an exchange of players between clubs in the league after June 15 except at the waiver price of $4,000 has resulted in eliminating the practice aimed at the buying of pennants.

The point that is obscure to any mere layman is—what is wrong with the practice

When you consider that professional baseball is composed of hired teams, what difference odes it make whether you hire them in December or July?

Fort Worth scribes beefed heartily when Texas league teams set out in August to buy what proved to be helpless assistance in the effort to beat the Cats.

But if LaGrave gets Mullen, Kontechy, Windle, Smith, and Davis in January, what is wrong with Dallas getting McDonald and Tate in August?

Million dollar New York fight is gone forever.—Headline. They never had a million dollar fight—only a million dollar gate.

Such is the experience of anybody that it is a safe guess the new secretary will be remembered longer for the Davis cup than the portfolio of war.

For one thing, he has Bill Tilden to do publicity in tennis and there is no George Creel in the war department.

Did you ever hear of a deal like this? A new six-room, modern home with oak floors, built-in features, nicely arranged for two families, two kitchens, paving already contracted for, to be sold on terms that are actually less than half the average rent. LARGE NUMBER OF 6,51-2 AND 5 PCT BONDS WILL BE CALLED IN, ONE BLOCK TOTALLING $219,000

Sufficient Money on Hand In Sinking Fund to Pay "Bills Due"

The bonded debt standing against the city of Wichita Falls will be reduced $241,000 within the next 60 days, it has been decided by municipal officials who by the end of that time will have called in and taken up a large number of six, five and one-half and five per cent bonds.

The biggest block to be retired is one of $210,000 in six per cent bonds outstanding against the general hospital. Sufficient money is on hand in the sinking fund to handle all these. The interest saving to be effected by retirement of these securities will amount to considerable.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, for only 75 cents. It is improved by the addition of other ingredients, and is called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—Adv.
