THE JUNCTION EAGLE

Volume XL.

Junction, Kimble County, Texas, Friday, October 17, 1924.

Number 26.

Now Heads Legion

James A. Drain, of Washington, D. C., is the new National Commander of the American Legion. He served in the Spanish-American and World wars. He was a Brigadier-General in the Tank Corps during the latter.

AT SUNSET.

It's good to look behind us at setting of the sun, while passing hours remind us of the useful things we've done; we've been of some assistance to pilgrims here and there, we've packed some little distance, the loads they had to bear. When one is old and jaded it's comforting to view the road he once paraded, when he was good as new; to know that yon and hither he pulled some useful trick, he made some evil wither, he helped some luckless hick. I have some silver pieces, some chunks of golden ore; they're packed in large valises and piled upon the floor; but riches count for little when one is old and stale; and all his bones are brittle, and he is bent and frail. Far better the recalling of some good action done, when evening shades are falling and rest is nearly won.

I glorified in success in divers marts of trade, but now my soul confesses that all their glories fade. There is but little pleasure, and little use, in sooth, in counting up the treasure that one acquired in youth. For where we all are going, where shining angels flit, that sort of sordid showing will never make a hit. But if we have the figure to show we did our best to ease this old world's rigors, we'll line up with the blest.—Walt Mason.

YATES YARNS.

Mrs. T. J. Lange and two sons Reuben and Marvin, went to Menard last Saturday to do some trading.

Mrs. T. S. Jones and children of Junction spent Saturday at their ranch near Yates.

Will Hight was bitten by one of S. H. McCaleb's dogs last Saturday. Mr. Hight said a dog bite is very painful.

There were a number of friends and relatives met at the Dan Gephart home Saturday night in honor of his sister, Mrs. J. D. Summers.

Miss Elsie Gephart has gone back to Mercury and from there she and her sister, Mrs. Hettie Stevenson, will go to Ft. Worth to visit friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Lange and Jake Lange and family of Mason spent Sunday with T. J. Lange and family.

Ernest Jessie and Davie Summers of Talpa were down on a short visit to their mother, Mrs. J. D. Summers, who has been visiting here for the past two weeks, returned with them.

RED CREEK "RALLY."

London-Red Creek High School has, up to the present date, enrolled 105 pupils: School work is moving along nicely and the prospects for a successful term of school is very apparent.

Otis Bowers and wife of Red Creek have recently moved to London, where Mr. Bowers has secured work.

Everett Stewart assumed his duties as teacher of the Little Saline school Monday.

The London-Red Creek school is badly in need of some playground equipment, most especially for the smaller children. In view of this fact, the teachers and patrons of the school have arranged for a box supper to be given Saturday night at the Community Hall at London, the proceeds of which will be used for the above mentioned purpose. Everyone is cordially invited to be present, and help to make this a successful sale.

Bro. J. S. Kelly, evangelist of the Church of Christ, and whose home is at Palestine, preached at London Sunday at eleven o'clock, and also at night. Bro. Kelly will preach at London on the second Sunday of each month during this winter.

Cotton picking is almost over for this year on Red Creek, but those people who have land near the river will be employed for a while gathering pecans.

Reese School opened Monday. Jno. Robbins and family who live near Yates, attended church at London Sunday.

T. J. Lange and family visited at the Gephart home Saturday evening.

NEW CHRISTIAN CHURCH FOR ROCK SPRINGS.

While there has been steady building construction in Rock Springs for several months as the town grows and reaches out, yet the church buildings have been neglected, and these, with the exception of the Presbyterian church, are old, weather beaten buildings. But this state of affairs is not to continue.

There is to be a new Christian church. John Braley and Ed Draper are now drawing plans for it. The building will be reinforced concrete. The cost will be between $7,000 and $8,000, and the money has already been subscribed, and work on this new church will start before long.

And the Methodists are still planning for a fine new church.—Edwards County Leader.

Mac Henderson and Merle Murchison of Menard were married by Rev. Parker at the Methodist Parsonage Sunday night about 9:30. These young people live at or near Menard.

Heyman Drug Store has just installed a new refrigerator candy case at a cost of around $200. It is made of genuine plate glass and is an added attraction to the interior of the store as well as being a very necessary part of the store's display equipment.

The First National Bank has just had both large front windows beautified with large gold leaf signs. The word, beautified, is used because the lettering is of a most attractive character and adds much to the appearance of the bank building. One of the large plate glasses that was broken some time ago, has been replaced.

Junction Hardware Company has just replaced two large plate glass windows on the west side of the front of their store.

EARLY SETTLER CELEBRATES 74TH BIRTHDAY.

Uncle John Kountz, one of the few surviving residents, who were living here in 1876, when the county was organized, celebrated his 74th birthday Tuesday of this week. His daughter, Mrs. W. P. Riley, had prepared him a fine dinner and he spent the day in town, as Mrs. Kountz is in Dallas with a sister who is ill.

Mr. Kountz was born in Russell County, Virginia, and came to this county with his father's family in July, 1875. The first piece of land acquired by the family was that just west of the cemetery. Later, they purchased some more land farther west, embracing what is now Mr. Kountz's home place.

This land was purchased from some Galveston parties at $1.00 acre and the deeds call for the payment to be made in gold. His father built one of the first houses in what is now the town of Junction, and his mother was the first postmaster of old Junction City. Before the town was established here his father was elected county clerk and court was held just below the junction of the rivers, at what was known as Kimbleville.

The Indians made frequent raids on the settlers for several years after he came here and his brother, Isaac, was killed by the Indians at the point of the hill just west of Price's Camp. Isaac and Sebastian, who now lives near the Cemetery, were heading sheep on the side of the hill. The story of the attempt to capture these Indians, by local citizens, was told recently in this paper by Uncle John Miller, who was one of the members of the party.

When Mr. Kountz first moved here people here had to go to old Fort Mason for their mail. Later, when the post office was established here the mail was brought on horseback from Ft. McKavitt, which was then a Government Post and a regiment of soldiers were stationed there.

N. Q. Patterson, father of N. C. Patterson, local jeweler, built the first lumber house in Junction, on the site now used by the local gin. This was in 1876. A year later Mr. Kountz's father built a house about where the Hodges Hotel is and opened a store.

Mr. Kountz knew the Dubin and Potter families, the former living on Kyac Creek, near the C. W. Henderson ranch, and the latter just east of Dr. Wright's ranch home.

One of the elder Potter men was the first County Judge of the county. Two of his nephews and two of the Dubin boys were sent to the penitentiary for a mail robbery at the Peg Leg crossing below Menard.

J. E. Deats was in town Monday from his ranch on the head of South Llano and says conditions up that way are very satisfactory. He says there are two or three crossings on the river that are badly in need of attention.

The Ladies of the Missionary Society will meet Friday, October 24, at the home of Mrs. Roy Blackburn, to sew for the bazaar that the Methodist ladies will put on some time before Christmas.

A 6½-pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Smith at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Foley, on Monday of last week.

Mrs. S. Corkill from San Antonio, is visiting Lee J. Corkill and Mrs. Hankins this week.

SOUTH LLANO NEWS.

The neighbors of this vicinity got together in a farewell party the 4th at the J. J. Richardson home as they were to leave the following week. Sandwiches and coffee were served to about sixty guests. All enjoyed the evening immensely. Mr. Richardson left last Wednesday for Canyon. He took his household goods, cattle and chickens by truck to Menard and shipped to his new home at Canyon. Mrs. Richardson and the children visited friends on the river until Saturday and left for Junction and spent the night with the J. W. Boone family and left Sunday morning for Ballinger where they take the train for Canyon. We hope they will be pleased with their new home, and our loss will be Canyon's gain in getting this good family.

We are having fine weather now, and cotton gathering and sheep hearing is the order of the day.

Lane Hodges' crew are shearing at the M. Huffman ranch this week.

Joe White of Abilene made a flying trip to the company ranch Monday.

Mrs. Tuffie Taylor spent the week-end in town with her parents.

Mrs. Turk Kendrick is visiting her parents in Goliad.

Jack Hubble and family moved last week to the J. J. Richardson place which they had purchased recently. We are glad to welcome in our midst.

Our school is progressing nicely under the management of Prof. E. Calender.

JOHN M. MCKEAN.

John M. McKean was born at Prairie Lea, November 4, 1856, and died at the Lockhart Sanitarium Wednesday morning, October 1, 1924, at 12:10 o'clock. His body was laid to rest in the Masonic cemetery at Prairie Lea at 10 o'clock Thursday morning under the auspices of Hardeman Masonic Lodge of Lu Ling, of which he was a member the service being led by Dr. A. A. Ross of Lockhart, past master of the Grand Lodge of Texas.

He is survived by one brother, Hon. A. J. McKean, two nephews, E. B. and A. J. McKean Jr., and two nieces, Mrs. Leon Smith and Miss Lucile McKean. The large concourse of friends from San Antonio, Junction, Austin, Gonzales, San Marcos, and all nearby towns attested the esteem in which he was held by his fellow man.—Lockhart Post-Register.

Both the deceased and his brother, A. J. (Jack) McKean, are well known to many local people, who will regret to learn of his death.—Editor's Note.

KILL KARE KARNIVAL

The ways and means committee of the Parent-Teachers' Association, composed of Mrs. W. Z. Miller as chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Miller, Mrs. Oren C. Reid, Mrs. Livingston and Miss Modelle Jobs, met Monday and made plans for a Halloween carnival to be held Friday night, October 31st. There will be a Parcel Post sale, fish pond, fat man's race, etc., in fact a good time for all is assured. A chicken supper will be served.

Watch for ad in next week's paper.

T. M. Hodges, in renewing the subscription of his daughter, this week, tells us that Mrs. McKean of Fort Worth recently married a Mr. Horton, a merchant of that city.

HAVE PASSED THE SHOALS

Muscle Shoals is a past and gone proposition as far as Henry Ford is concerned. "That is not a live issue with us any longer," he says.

We are not in politics and we are in business. We do not intend to be drawn into politics. More than two years ago we made the best bid we know how to make. No definite action has been taken on it. A simple affair of business which should have been decided by anyone within a week, has become a complicated political affair.

"We are moving so fast, and the settlement of Muscle Shoals' future seems so far away, that we had to find other means to do the things we could have accomplished at Muscle Shoals. In fact, we have passed Muscle Shoals."

NOXVILLE NEWS.

C. A. Stapp Jr. is building 2 miles of new fence on the Ward ranch which he has recently purchased.

There will be a box supper given at the school house here on October 31st for the benefit of the school.

The Misses Agnes and Susie Coates leave today for their home at Edna, Texas, after a month's visit with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Stapp Sr., and other relatives.

Henry Bierschwald sold 100 shorn ewes to Oliver Roberts of Harper at $7 per head recently.

Mrs. T. M. Whetstone is visiting relatives in Kerrville this week.

Miss Jessie Cowsett had the misfortune recently of being thrown from a horse, causing painful injuries about the face and arms, which confined her to her bed for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Stapp are the proud parents of a fine bouncing baby boy born October 10th.

Rev. Rector, Presiding Elder of the Kerrville District held quarterly conference at the school house here October 14th.

Rev. J. H. E. Willman will fill his monthly appointment here Sunday, the 19th, preaching at the school house.

Mrs. M. E. Summers of Talpa, Mrs. Dan Gephart of Yates and Miss Henrietta Gephart, of Yates, were in town Saturday and called at The Eagle office and were shown through the plant. This was their first visit to the plant when the machinery was in operation. Mrs. Gephart recently returned from Mercury where she had visited her daughter, Mrs. Hettie Stevens. A fine baby girl was born recently to Mrs. Stevens and was given the name, Marion.

Sallie's Temptations

ENTERS MR. WARREN
FISHER OF WALL STREET

I had not meant to accept Ellie Mitchell's house-party invitation, and yet when I arrived at "Daisy Dordona," the Mitchell's luxurious estate on the Bay shore of historic Old Pensacola, I was glad that I had used a woman's prerogative and stung my mind to come at the last minute.

In keeping with the formality of the Mitchell's entertaining, the chauffeur had been sent to meet me and I had really enjoyed my solitary drive through the autumn-scented twilight. Entering the grounds, the atmosphere of the place gave me that rare feeling of exaltation that comes from viewing some perfect scene or painting that satisfies the senses.

"Daisy Dordona—Garden Delight," I mused. The name was truly chosen. I drew deep breaths of the wondrous fragrance and alighting from the car, sped up the steps, two at a time, triumphantly expectant.

The crowd inside was in excellent spirits. Great big fires glowed at either end of the immense living room with its casement doors and windows, overlooking a picturesque river. At the piano, a girl with copper-colored hair and a shimmering gown was strumming a minor accompaniment to one of Service's poems.

"And women in a blither world must do the best they can," she sang in a husky voice, oblivious to everything, but the youth with the patent-leather hair who was bending over her.

A great game of some kind was being played by all others in the room. I edged over to see what was going on and, realizing my presence, the engrossed players glanced up to bid me welcome. It was a crap game.

"Please don't," I begged, motioning them back to their places. "Only let me get in the game. I'm all gamped up with seven."

I flung my gloves in one chair, my platinum-fur in another and taking my turn was soon easily the winner.

"Snake-eyes" winked at him—inspired him and, some eleven—sweet dynamite," I cooed.

"It's the way Sallie talks to him," someone good naturedly complained. "Even the dice are not attracted."

"Yes, you make the rest of us look like an Undertakers' Convention," declared a voice behind, and leaning back on my heels, I turned and faced a stranger, whom I noticed was alert in his manner.

"We're 'way ahead of you, too," he continued. "Here's something that might give you a little shove in the right direction." He smiled engagingly and offered me a tall, frosted glass from which I took one exaggerated swallow.

"That hits the spot, all right," I murmured, "and I haven't the excuse of a hot and dusty journey either, because the trip over was cool and pleasant; but it needed just this little delicate attention to complete my heavenly impression of Pensacola."

We chatted unnoticed, the circle having widened.

"So you're Sallie, the Sallie, whose face has peered from society columns all the way from San Francisco to Cuba. I have followed with interest your butterfly career and I agree with your press agents. The minute you came into the room it was like another candle lighted."

"Hey there, you two. Come to the party. Sallie it's up to you," some one yelled.

"All right, referee; I heard you the first time," I responded, "but I pass the dice. Give me a rain check. I'm going up and associate with some soap-suds and water."

Then to my gallant companion. "See you later." In the meantime I must locate my negligent hostess. She doesn't seem to be properly impressed over my arrival. Thanks, tons, for everything." I flung over my shoulder.

I liked this new person. After the indifferent treatment I had received from Curlies on the eve of my departure from Jacksonville, his attention was reassuring. A maid showed me my rooms and while she was unpacking my things, I rushed my belated hostess.

"Sallie, you angel," making a dive for me "I'm so glad you decided to come. I started to call the whole thing off when I thought you had fallen down on us. You see you're the life of the party and everything's flat without you. We're going to a hop at Ft. Barrancas tonight and it's going to be the most elaborate affair of the season. What are you wearing?" all in one breath, as I continued my disrobing.

"Oh I tell you what," she went on, not waiting for an answer, "do put on that purple velvet with the bustle back and red roses. You know the Jenny model you wore at the Yacht Club cotillion. Gosh—I hope you brought it. You did, didn't you?" again breathless.

"Didn't leave it," I answered shortly, in the act of drawing off a stocking.

"What kind of slippers do you wear with it? Oh yes, I remember the paper said purple ones with red heels. How absolutely adorable! You can get away with extreme things, Sallie, but they're not for me. I'm the pink and blue type. Baby blue at that, and believe me, it takes something more than colors that are sweet and girlish to make a hit nowadays. By the way," she added as an afterthought. Have you met Warren Fisher?"

"Sounds like a movie actor. Nope, don't believe I have, unless—" and I described the good-looking stranger who had given me his Tom and Jerry."

"That's Warren, all over," announced Ellie, "owns half of Wall Street, has a gorgeous yacht and er—"

"Yes, yes, go on," I encouraged, walking towards the bath room where I could smell spicy aroma of dainty bath crystals in the warm vapor.

"Shh," she put her finger to lips and looked about in a mysterious manner. "I must have your 'full and undivided' to tell you about Warren. I will tell you THIS though."

YOUR POCKET BOOK AND YOUR FUTURE!

Man's best friend is his pocketbook, but a pocketbook without money is a sort of poor relation. Have you ever stopped to consider that money spent in a distant city is lost to you forever while money spent at home is an investment that comes back to you in many ways? By spending your money at home you not only strengthen business and help it to expand but you actually improve your own standing and aid in the development of your own community.

Your town is just what you make it. Civic pride and loyalty have built the great cities of the country just as you can help to build yours. Money spent at home goes into Junction Banks where it is loaned to Junction interests and reinvested in Junction projects. Money spent elsewhere simply goes to build other communities at the expense of your own.

Look over the town. Is there any article of merchandise you need that is not sold here? Comparison of prices at home with those in other cities will convince you that it is always cheaper to buy right here where you can examine the article and return it if it is not up to specifications.

It is a fallacy to think the best goods must be purchased in the larger cities. The goods sold at home come from the same manufacturers, bring the same prices and are just as fully guaranteed as merchandise purchased in the larger towns.

But there is one outstanding difference: The money you spend with the big city house is gone, never to return, while the money spent here stays here and helps promote home town industries and interests. This money will open new avenues of progress and advancement for you and your fellow townsmen.

The one sure way to strengthen your own position and insure increased property valuations at home is to keep your money here. By patronizing home industries and buying from your home town merchants, a bigger and better Junction will result. For your own sake and the future of your home town, patronize your home town institutions.

A WONDERFUL NEW EYE TESTING MACHINE

Walter Buck has installed, in connection with his watch and jewelry repair shop, a Shore Self Fitting machine. It is a new and wonderful instrument made for testing eyes and fitting glasses.

With the Shore Self Fitting machine you do not have to take the word of any one else, but you do your own fitting.

Simply turn a knob on the Self Fitting machine until a lense is brought before your eyes, through which you can see clearly and distinctly.

If a test shows you do need glasses or a change of lenses (if you already wear glasses) I have the glasses in stock that fit you in four different kinds of frames. And my prices are less than half what you would have to pay for glasses that are not as good.

It costs you nothing to try this machine.

AN ASTOUNDING STATE-MENT FROM A KU KLUX.

William Joseph Simmons, founder and former emperor of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and now organizing another order to be known as the Knights of the Flaming Sword, made the statement in Columbus, Ohio, recently that three years ago he could have sold out the Klan for a million dollars in cash, been made president of the United States and had $250,000 a year expenses. He refused this chance, however, as he would rather have been a supreme monarch than the President of the United States.

How is that for loyalty, for patriotism, for 100 per cent Americanism?

Without asking the sovereign voters a thing about the matter, or in any way considering their wishes, he could have copped the presidency of the United States. Without asking the members of the Ku Klux Klan or in any way considering their wishes, he could have sold them like slaves on a block for a cool million, and quarter million dollars yearly expense money on the side. This same man, who arrogated to himself the wisdom and power to define just exactly what a 100 percent American might consist of, now says he would rather have been a "supreme monarch" than President of the United States.

It would have been a sorry day when Simmons became President of the United States, but he would have to possess something of the supernatural to have been able to put this sort of wizardry over the sovereign people of these United States.—Brady Standard.

BRADY PROSPERITY EVI-DENCED BY HOTEL "BIZ."

That Brady and the entire McCulloch County section is enjoying the greatest of prosperity and prospects of the biggest fall business in history, is no better evidenced than in the rushing business enjoyed these days by the local hotels. The traveling men are the first to scent prosperity from afar off, and naturally they immediately swarm to the prosperous centers where large and juicy orders are to be had. Thus hotels are sure criterions as to the prosperity of a town or community.

According to Sid Bolding, manager of the Hotel Brady, so great has been the rush at this popular hostelry become that four additions have been made to the hotel force. Paul Jackson is the new night clerk, and Miss Ruby Turner is the new day clerk. The hotel is running to full capacity now, with prospects of more business to come.—Brady Standard.

METHODIST CHURCH.

Sunday, October 19, 1924.

Sunday School 10:00 a.m.; preaching by the pastor, 11:00 a.m. and 7:30 p. m.; morning subject, "Walking Unafraid;" evening subject, "The Harvest is Past and the Summer is Ended."

Junior League at 4:00 in the afternoon. Senior League at 6:30.

Next Sunday is the last Sunday of the present Conference year, and it is desired that every member of the church be present. The pastor hopes to be able to make his report of the year's work to the congregation, but this cannot be done unless every member does his or her part in meeting their individual obligations. We hope that this will be done by next Sunday, and that the pastor will be able to send his report to the Presiding Elder on Monday morning's mail.

Remember that visitors are welcome to all of our services.

R. E. Parker, Pastor.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT
COLDS AND THE FLU

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the nausealess Calomet tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Those who have tried it say that it acts like magic, by far more effective and certain than the old style calomet, heretofore recommended by physicians.

One or two Calotabs at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price ten cents for the vest-pocket size; thirty-five cents for the large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. Your money back if you are not delighted.—adr.

Making GOOD COFFEE starts with Buying GOOD COFFEE

Coffee excellence is coffee flavor. Coffee flavor is in the blend and the roasting. Cost is no criterion of quality. The real test is the flavor—the flavor in the cup.

That is where Sunset has made its thousands of friends. Sunset flavor is complete coffee satisfaction to most folks.

Unlike most things that are completely satisfying, Sunset costs no more than ordinary high grade coffees that are less pleasing to the taste.

Use care in measuring and making, but be sure you use good coffee. Sunset is the favorite of thousands of housewives who are convinced it is the most satisfying coffee they can buy at any price.

The Sunset Plan is a sure and easy way of raising money for societies, religious, civic or fraternal. Nothing to sell or buy. Full particulars in every can.

Valuable advertising coupons are packed in every can of Sunset. They may be used with small sums of money to purchase at wholesale cost, useful household articles.

For instance, the genuine, one gallon Aladdin Thermalware Jar, will be sent for 7 coupons and $3.50. Dozens of similar bargains are offered.

School Notes.

Due to the fact that the six week examinations will be given Thursday and Friday every one is study very hard so as to be able to make a very satisfactory grade.

Mr. Felton Wright, football coach, Spanish and math, teacher, doctor, and some times janitor reported to Mr. Miller, that his students are doing excellent work. Mr. Wright received his degree from Howard Payne, and judging from Mr. Wright, Howard Payne must be real school. The coach is claimed to be one of the busiest men between the Llanos. There is a rumor on the campus that Mr. Wright has secured him a barrel stove to use in his algebra one class.

Miss Merchant's History classes are working hard for the coming examinations. Miss Merchant is a former Texas University student, and declares that she enjoys teaching in Junction very much. Besides teaching history and several seventh grade subjects, she is coaching the basket ball and tennis teams.

Sonora rang the Junction basket ball girls Friday for a game, but our girls have not had sufficient practice to play a game.

The Senior Class met Monday afternoon and elected their staff for their Annual this year. The following are members of the staff: Verena Lawlew, Editor in Chief; Clara Fritz, Society Editor; Bill Wran, Athletic Editor; Vic Urban, Joke Editor; Albert Mayfield, Business Manager, Elizabeth Murr, Assistant Business Manager. Earl Huffman and Sidney Rank were absent from school Monday.

The new song books have arrived for the High School, and we have singing every morning. We surely do appreciate it as it seems to start the day off right.

Clara Fritz and Josephine Urban were absent from school Monday.

Lyonnice and Ida Baugh started back to school this week after an absence of two weeks.

Arthur Deats, Arthur Dunbar's and Wade Ogle's names were omitted from the names of the Junior Class last week.

Miss Effie Roy Blackburn, English teacher, dropped a table on her foot last week, and she has been unable to wear her shoe since, but her English pupils realize that this didn't dampen her zeal for giving themes. She is a graduate of Southwestern.

Ned Maddox and Dillard Motley have been crowned chief chewing gum chewers of the school.

Mr. Miller's pupils realize that he hasn't forgotten how to give pop quizzes. He is a graduate of A. & M.

Everybody was glad to see the smiling faces of Don Maddox and Arthur Dunbar back in school this week.

The Schreiner High School football team played their second game of the season Saturday afternoon. They played with the Junction all-stars. The High School squad won by a score of 6 to 3. The "old men" were unable to score a touchdown but finally Pete Richardson kicked goal from the thirty-five yard line. The High School made their touch down in the third quarter. The Stars were Ruddle Richardson, Charlie Fairchild, and Bill Wright.

Reporters for this week: Vic Urban and Verena Lawlew.

Reporters for next week Irah Fleming and Clara Fritz.

NEWS ITEMS FROM THE MASON COUNTY NEWS.

All phones of the Central Texas Telephone Company were discontinued Tuesday, and were connected up with the exchange of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. In fact it is no longer the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, as the exchange has been sold, but we have not learned the name of the new company which took charge here last week.

It is stated the system will be greatly improved within the next year or so, and thereby greatly improving the service.

The explosion of an acetylene tank at Eckert's garage one day last week almost proved fatal to Herman Ellebracht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ellebracht. Herman noticed the tank was leaking and picked up a wrench to tighten a nut to stop the leak. When he started to tighten the nut the explosion occurred and his face was painfully injured by the shock and the gas. He was taken to the local sanitarium and it was thought for a time his eyesight might be injured, but on Wednesday it was reported he was able to leave the sanitarium, and that his eyes would be alright.
