MUST MAKE LAST STAND AT INNER FORTIFICATIONS

RUSSIANS HAVE LOST ALL ON THE OUTSIDE

NO DISPOSITION AT ST. PETERSBURG TO DOUBT CORRECTNESS OF THE NEWS OF REVERSES

TAKE SATISFACTION IN THE THOUGHT THAT DEFENSE MUST HAVE BEEN DESPERATE

ST. PETERSBURG, May 28, 3 p. m.—There is no attempt here to disguise the fact that the successful forcing of the neck of Kwan Tung peninsula proper puts a practical end to resistance to the enemy until he reaches the actual fortifications around Port Arthur. Although there are many strong positions in the twenty-five miles before the perimeter of the fortress is reached, the authorities admit that the Russians can offer little resistance and must now retire within the fortress and undertake to defend themselves against the siege.

Neither the admiralty nor general staff has any direct information. Like the outside world, the admiralty and general staff are dependent entirely upon the enemy for news. Native reports, which may be of some value, are, however, expected shortly.

While there is no disposition to question the main facts sent out officially from Tokio, some unofficial reports from Japanese sources are being received with caution. The impossibility of heading the advance to positions around Kin Chou in the fact of overwhelming odds has all along been admitted, but on account of the character of the position, as well as its defenses, the general staff can not but believe that the defense must have been heroic.

The earlier news was received in a calm spirit by both public and newspapers, but if the latest report that the Japanese captured fifty guns is confirmed its sure effect will be much deeper and it is certain to be considered a severe blow. Until that report arrived the feeling was that the Russians had resisted to the limit of human endurance and had retired in good order, but if this number of guns was taken it will put a different complexion on things, though it is conceivable that if the Japanese operating a fleet landed forces at San Shi Li Hu and Taiehwan and got in the rear of the Russian positions, abandonment might have been necessary. This view, however, will hardly diminish the extent of the disfavor.

THINK SUPREMACY IN KOREA CAN BE HELD

TOKIO, May 28, 10 a. m.—The Japanese are not seriously disturbed by the Russian operations in eastern Korea. The movements of the Cossacks cavalry and battery of guns that accompanies them is being closely watched by the Japanese who are confident in their ability to protect the railroad communications and maintain the military supremacy of Japan in Korea.

The Yalu victory, which opened the Yalu estuary to water communication, diminishes the importance of the line of land communications from Chinampho to Wiju. The loss of their naval power compels the Russians to avoid the sea along the eastern coast of Korea and limits their operations to the land where transportation difficulties prevent the concentration and operation of a large land force.

LOSSES OF JAPS IN SINKING OF WARSHIPS

TOKIO, May 28, 10 a. m.—Revised figures show that sixty-one non-commissioned officers and 378 blue jackets were killed and drowned, seven officers, thirteen non-commissioned officers and fifty blue jackets slightly wounded and twelve blue jackets seriously wounded in the sinking of the Japanese battleship Hatsuse by a mine off Port Arthur on May 15.

Two hundred and fifty non-commissioned officers and men lost their lives on the cruiser Yoshino, which was rammed and sunk by the cruiser Kasuga on the same day that the Hatsuse was blown up. The navy department has not received a detailed report of the two disasters.

REPORT OF VICTORY RECEIVED FROM TOKIO

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The following cablegram from the foreign office at Tokio was received at the Japanese legation today:

"Tokio, May 28.—The commander of the army attacking Kin Chou reports a detachment of our troops, consisting of infantry, artillery and engineers, occupied Nanshan Ling on the morning of May 27. The enemy fled in the direction of Port Arthur, after burning the railway station at Shan Shi Li Tao, northwest of Dalny.

"On the 26th our troops captured fifty guns, besides many other things. The number of the enemy's dead alone left on the field amounted to four hundred. Our casualties, including killed and wounded, are estimated at 300."

PRECISION OF THE JAPS SURPRISES THE ENEMY

NEW CHWANG, May 28, morning.—A staff officer just from Mukden says the deliberation and precision of the enemy has surprised General Kuropatkin, who at first believed the Japanese campaign would be one of dashing recklessness, with more theatrical display about the maneuvers than strategy.

A Chinese merchant just arrived, which left Dalny five days ago, says the Russians have vacated the town, which at the time of his departure, had not been occupied by the Japanese forces. The latter were still engaged in landing troops at Kin Chou bay.

It is said upon excellent authority that the Japanese plan is to use a force of 100,000 men in their operations against Port Arthur and take it by storm in a fortnight. They realize that their losses in the execution of this plan will be severe, but it is considered better to risk that than to keep a large army idle for three months. They do not propose, it is further said, to penetrate into the interior of the country any further than Mukden.

The Russian authorities have secured two million pounds in coin by French steamers.

JAPS ATTACK THE TOWN OF TALIENWAN

ROME, May 28.—According to a dispatch from Tokio received here the Japanese have attacked the town of Talienwan. Their occupation of the junction of the Dalny railroad with the main Port Arthur line, it added, isolates Port Dalny.

SAME STORY OF JAP SUCCESS FROM LONDON

LONDON, May 28.—The Japanese legation here received a dispatch from Tokio practically the same as reported by the Associated Press, which was cabled yesterday, giving the time of the occupation of Nanshau Ling on the morning of May 27, after which the enemy were driven toward Port Arthur, after they had burned the railway station at Shi Li Tao, northwest of Port Dalny. Fifty guns and many other things were captured by the Japanese on May 26.

FUGITIVES HAVE NOT BEEN SURRENDERED

HONG KONG, May 28.—The Chinese warships, four gun boats and two torpedo boat destroyers, which arrived at Macao, the Portugese settlement in the Kwan Tung province, May 25, to support the demand of the viceroy of Canton for the extradition of a fugitive from the Chinese justice, have left Macao. The fugitive has not been surrendered.

CHURCH COMMITTEE INCREASED BY SEVEN

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 28.—The membership committee on church co-operation and union of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States has been increased from eight to fifteen members. Drs. Moffatt, Johnson and Coyle were appointed a committee to reply to the protest signed by Dr. John Fox of New York and six other members of the general assembly against the action of the assembly in adopting the report on church union.

The assembly convened today with the intention possibly of finishing its business session, even if a night session is necessary.

JAPS USE POWDER OF SECRET MANUFACTURE

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Reports received here from the Far East dwell at length on the terrific power of the Japanese Shimose powder, the nature of which is an absolute secret. It is not used to propel shot, but for bursting the charge of the army and navy explosive shell. The result of the explosion has astounded the United States army observers. The heaviest armor-piercing shell, with its small cavity, is rent into countless thousands of sharp fragments, which are hurled through the air with such force that they tear through the sides of an iron ship as would a projectile from a machine gun. The Russian warships Variag and Korietz were found to be riddled in the deck and sides by fragments of these shells. It is not known that any other nation possesses such a terrific explosive.

SONS OF ERIN ARE CARICATURED AT FAIR

ST. LOUIS, May 28.—Irish actors imported from Dublin refused today to give their performance in the Irish theater at the World's Fair because the management permits caricatures of their race. The capers of performers upon the vaudeville boards, grotesquing the doings of the sons of old Erin, are looked upon by the genuine Irish actors as an insult to their country. Their positive refusal to appear compelled the dismissal of the audience assembled to see them.

RUSSIAN DECLARES IT WILL REQUIRE 150,000 MEN, WITH ARTILLERY, TO TAKE PT. ARTHUR

ST. PETERSBURG, May 28.—Captain Jakovleff, former commander of the Russian battleship Petropavlovsk, who was wounded when his ship was destroyed at Port Arthur, April 13, in an interview regarding the possibility of the Japanese capturing Port Arthur, declared that it would take 150,000 men with magnificent artillery to accomplish the task.

Asked the number of men in Port Arthur garrison, Captain Jakovleff said it was much larger than was stated in the telegraphic reports—much over 25,000—but he declined to state what would be the exact number when the defenders of the Kin Chou positions retired within the fortress.

He discussed with some detail the difficulties of the approach. After the outer line of the fortifications is reached, he said, a number of detached positions must be captured by the enemy. The landing of each position would necessitate a bloody battle and their capture would leave the citadel untouched and to his mind impregnable. A great deal, of course, would depend upon the relative merits of the artillery of the opposing forces. The Russian guns could not be judged by the results on the Yalu, where the Russians had only light advance guards artillery against the heavy siege guns which the Japanese were bringing up for use in Manchuria.

Port Arthur, Captain Jakovleff said, had mounted numerous large guns landwards, while Makaroff's system of range finding is so nearly perfect that the Japanese never ventured within reach of the shore batteries.

As illustrating the fact that Japanese artillery is not necessarily invincible, the captain said the battleship Petropavlovsk was struck by a twelve-inch shell at a distance of two and three-quarters miles and her armor was penetrated to a depth of only two inches. He declared that Port Arthur was provisioned for a year and said all the damaged ships there had been repaired except the Retvizan and the Czarevitch. The latter, he asserted, ought to be ready today and the former within a week.

RUSSIANS LOSE 400 DEAD AND 50 CANNON

TOKIO, May 28, 8 a. m.—The Russians have abandoned Nanshan Ling and have been driven from San Chilipo, retreating towards Port Arthur. The Japanese have captured fifty cannon. The Russians left 400 dead in the Kin Chou-Nanshan fight. On the Japanese side the killed and wounded numbered 3,000.

A HEAVY PENALTY FOR THE VICTORY

TOKIO, May 28, 12:30 p. m.—Japan paid heavily for her victories at Kin Chou, Nanshan and Talienwan, losing 3,000 men killed and wounded in the repeated assaults against these positions, but she scored a sweeping and valuable victory over the Russians.

MUST SET WATCHES TO SUIT HARRIMAN

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, May 28.—As the result of an order just issued by E. H. Harriman, through his representatives in Salt Lake City, thousands of residents in Nevada, representing nearly 600 miles of the inhabited railroad district between Ogden, Utah and Reno., Nev., must readjust their habits and watches to conform with mountain time.

Heretofore, Pacific time has succeeded mountain standard time in Ogden, but Harriman has shoved the dividing line 590 miles westward.

RARE MORSELS FOR CHICAGO'S "400"

CHICAGO, May 28.—Two sensational divorces in the ranks of Chicago's "400," in which midnight revels, automobile trips and other escapades are hinted at, have supplied the social circles of three cities—Chicago, New York and San Francisco—with delectable morsels.

Charges of misconduct at summer resorts contiguous to Chicago, unchaperoned jaunts, cigarette smoking and a love for Bacchanalian revels, are publicly charged to Edith L. Howard by her husband, Louis A. Howard, a prominent banker, who was injured in an automobile accident in Indianapolis last Tuesday. Charles Albert Sweet, secretary of the Burlington Coal and Coke Company, is named in Howard's petition.

The bill filed in the circuit court by Howard, following his suit for $100,000 damages against Charles Albert Sweet for alleged alienation of his wife's affections two months ago, was amended today. All the charges of the first bill are repeated in the amended bill, with an additional one of habitual drunkenness.

The amendments, filed just previous to his departure on his automobile trip to New York, aver that:

For two years Mrs. Howard has been almost constantly on sprees, and remained intoxicated for a long time.

During her period of revelry used certain language in a boisterous manner.

Would slip from their residence, and with other women go to dances, in violation of his express orders as her husband.

In her cross bill for divorce, on statutory grounds, Mrs. Howard makes denial of the charges contained in the bills of her husband, and asks for a restoration of her maiden name.

Mystery and utmost secrecy surrounds the divorce granted to Francis P. McColl, president of the American Key Can Company and vice president of the "sardine trust," from Florence McColl. She was charged with desertion, but the secrecy which attaches to the divorce, which was granted in fifteen minutes last Friday, has led society to gossiping as to what indiscretions may be covered up by the suit and whether the granting of the decree was not a cut and dried affair, the defendant merely filing an appearance to secure $3,000 annual income ordered paid by Judge Chetlain.

MOB PURSUING NEGRO CRIES "LYNCH HIM"

FOLLOWING AN ATTEMPTED ASSAULT ON TWO GIRLS IN NEW YORK'S FINEST PARK, CROWD ASSEMBLES AND ACTS ACCORDING TO SOUTHERN PRECEDENT—OFFICERS RESCUE VICTIM

NEW YORK, May 28.—A serious demonstration against Charles Green, a negro who attacked two girls in Central Park, has been checked by several policemen only after threats had been made by the latter to use revolvers. The mob consisted of 300 or 400 men, who aided in running down the negro in Fifty-ninth street.

When they learned the charge against him stones and clubs were hurled at his head, but he was not seriously hurt. Threats of lynching then broke out and the crowd began to close in upon the police, who managed to drag their prisoner to the station, after threatening to shoot.

The negro attacked the girls, who were sisters, while they were taking photographs in a much frequented section of the park. In endeavoring to drive him off one of the sisters beat him over the head with a camera and her screams quickly brought aid. The negro took to his heels, and when he reached Fifty-ninth street the crowd had grown to a howling mob. Several policemen ran up and headed the chase. Green was soon overhauled and when the crowd began to cry "lynch him" he cowered before the police in terror. He was identified immediately by the sisters, both of whom suffered severely from the shock, but were not injured otherwise.

POLICEMAN ARRESTS MAYOR'S CHAUFFEUR

NEW YORK, May 28.—A bicycle policeman with no regard for the majesty of the mayor's chauffeur has arrested that individual for exceeding the speed limit. The policeman was given a pretty chase before he overhauled the automobile.

The chauffeur was on his way to meet the mayor at a Fifth avenue restaurant. He was late and dashed at high speed past the guardian of the law, who gave chase for several blocks with the dust flying in his face. When the chauffeur attempted to explain that the chief executive of Greater New York was to be seriously inconvenienced by his adventure the policeman scented a plea to escape and refusing to be drawn into it, hauled his prisoner off to the station house. When the alleged law breaker had about come to the conclusion that he was to be locked up for the night a friend of the mayor appeared and bailed him out.

DEDICATE MONUMENT AT ANDERSONVILLE

DETROIT, Mich., May 28.—Governor Bliss and Mrs. Bliss, accompanied by the members of the governor's staff and a number of prominent war veterans and others, left Detroit in a special train today for the south. Their objective point is Andersonville, Ga., where, on Memorial Day, there will be dedicated a monument to the Michigan soldiers who died or suffered in Andersonville prison during the war. En route to Andersonville the party will visit a number of the famous battlefields of Tennessee and Georgia.

NUMBERS GET READY FOR BIG LAND RUSH

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 28.—Outward signs are abundant that a second Oklahoma rush will be witnessed at the coming opening of the Rosebud Indian reservation, in the southern part of South Dakota. Although the date of opening to settlers is more than a month distant, preparations are already making to provide transportation for the large crowds expected to take up the 282,000 acres. The people of Bonesteel, Platte, Fairfax and other towns adjacent to the reservation are getting together horses and wagons of all sorts to take care of the people who will start from those places. The officials of the railroads running nearest the reservation are in receipt of hundreds of letters daily asking information from prospective settlers and they are counting upon carrying at least 25,000 people on the day of opening.

PICTURE AGENT GETS GAY AND IS FINED

SHERMAN, Texas, May 28.—A few days ago a lady complained to the officers that a picture agent calling at her home in the absence of her husband had acted in a very unbecoming manner, offering insults and finally catching hold of her. The lady, who was very excited and indignant, filed a complaint and the officers the same afternoon located and arrested W. H. Allen, who yesterday entered a plea of guilty before Judge Webb and was fined $50 and cost, amounting to $72.85 in full.

SHERMAN LOSES DISPATCHER'S OFFICE

SHERMAN, Texas, May 28.—The existence of the chief dispatchers' office for the Frisco in Sherman passed into history and yesterday as the last operator left his trick to allow the wire tapped, the joint telegraph office, located at the intersection of the Central and Frisco track, opened with C. H. Daffin, formerly night operater at the down town Central office, in charge, while the chief dispatcher's office began doing business at the new stand in Sapulpa, I. T.

"Duke of Wellington," the old-time battleship which led the British Baltic fleet in the Russian war in 1854-6, is to be sold at auction. She is built of wood, has three decks and 240 feet long. She has been used as a depot ship at Portsmouth for many years. In war times she carried 104 guns and had a crew of over one thousand men.

WILL SAVE BIG SUM TO TEXAS SHIPPERS

DENVER, Colo., May 28.—The Nation Livestock Association has issued a circular letter to its members upon the subject of railway transportation. In part the letter says:

"Good service at the hands of the railroad companies is a thing most to be desired by all shippers, but the return pass is not an insignificant item, as it has been termed by some. It means the annual saving of $50,000 to Texas and $40,000 to Montana cattlemen and a sum almost as large to the sheep growers of Wyoming, Idaho and Utah.

"It takes time for the railroad companies to inaugurate entirely new methods of transportation over thousands of miles of line. However, their promise made to a committee of the National Livestock Association to abrogate the tonnage system of hauling live stock is being realized.

"If it is possible to get the interstate commerce act amended, as provided for in the Quarles-Cooper bill, the troubles of the shippers of live stock will be minimized. The attention of traffic managers has been called to the inequality in live stock rates from several localities. They agreed to a hearing on this subject and it will be taken up by this association as early as data can be gathered and the case maintained."

DECISION IN CASE OF FANCY COTTON CLOTHS

NEW YORK, May 28.—Judge Townsend in the United States circuit court has announced his decision reversing the board of United States general appraisers in a test case brought by importers of fancy cotton cloths.

The question involved was whether cloths containing threads other than ordinary warp and filing introduced to form a design or for the purpose of ornamentation, and dutiable as countable cottons under the advalorem clause of the Dingley law are subject to an additional specific duty beside the extra threads. Judge Townsend holds that they are not, and between $300,000 and $400,000 in excess of duties will have to be refunded to the importers if the decision is sustained by the circuit court of appeals.

POPE WAITS FOR RESULT OF DEBATE

ROME, May 28.—The pope up until 1 o'clock this morning was awaiting telegrams about the result of the debate in the French chamber of deputies on the policy of the Combes committee towards the vatican. Notwithstanding the strong anti-papal statement of Premier Combes, the pontiff expressed his satisfaction at the fact that the chamber did not adopt the proposition of the extreme parties, rendering a Franco-Vatican rupture definite, as he believes with time and reciprocal explanations all will be satisfactorily settled.

The pontiff reserved a definite decision as to further attitude until he consulted the leading cardinals and received the report of the papal nuncia at Paris and the minutes of the sitting of the chamber.

FRIENDS SHOCKED BY MRS. MAKEEL'S ACTIONS

CHICAGO, May 28.—Mrs. Frank Makeel left her home, 3918 Lake avenue, Monday, with the avowed intention of visiting the World's Fair, but dropped the remark, not deemed significant by her husband, that "if she met 'Jim' she would bring him back with her." Jim was Prather, the butler, who had been employed by the Makeel's for five years.

Mrs. Makeel has written twice since her departure, once to her housekeeper and once to her little daughter, but gave no address. "Dear little girl," the postal card to the daughter ran, "I hope you will be good while I am gone. I am sorry I can not see you today. I will write more tomorrow.—Mamma."

Makeel was crushed by the news he received from St. Louis today, and for a time refused to believe it. Prather is said to have been of the "swell" colored set and to have dressed stylishly. Neighbors of the Makeels were shocked at the report from the World's Fair city. Mr. Makeel was well known in All Souls' church circles and Mrs. Makeel had the reputation of being devoted to her husband.

SENATOR QUAY IN STUPOR OF DEATH

SENATOR M. S. QUAY

CHANGE FOR THE WORSE COMES AT 8 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING AND END IS MOMENTARILY EXPECTED

RELATIVES AND FRIENDS ARE AT THE BEDSIDE—HIS AMAZING CAREER IN AMERICAN POLITICS

BEAVER, Pa., May 28.—Senator Quay's condition is alarming. A change for the worse came about 8 o'clock today and he may not live through the day. Dr. Litchfield, one of his physicians, who is in constant attendance at the bedside, stated to an Associated Press reporter that the senator is slowly sinking. His pulse is gradually growing weaker and the worst is feared.

At 10 o'clock Senator Quay was in a stupor, from which he could not be aroused. His relatives and friends believe it is a question of only a few hours.

Oxygen is being administered constantly in the hope that it may revive him, but Dr. Wilson said he did not think the senator would regain consciousness. The immediate cause of Senator Quay's condition is exhaustion due to inability to assimilate nourishment. He has taken no food since 3 a. m. Chronic gastritis and inflammation of the stomach is the foundation of the trouble.

The foregoing statement was given out by Dr. Wilson under the authority of the Quay family. It is the first communication given to the press from the direct source since the senator's illness. Messages have been sent to the more distant relatives, saying that the senator is very low and is not likely to recover.

HIS AMAZING CAREER

With the last great political masterstroke, the nomination of John P. Elkin for the supreme court bench, still unfathomed by his closest lieutenants, Matthew Stanley Quay, called the Warwick of American politics, is fighting his last battle. His life had been a campaign for political aggrandizement that began with his election as prothonotary of Beaver county in 1856 and which has continually kept him in public office down to the present.

For over twenty years, since Don Cameron gave up his last grip on the republican organization of the state, this man has worked and wrought at the great political machine, which was never so powerful as now as it hesitates before the brink of dissolution. Defeated often, beaten a score of times, baffled by factional warfare and betrayed by men whom he trusted, if he could be said to trust anybody, Quay has risen with added laurels from every reverse, until he stands at last the unquestioned master of patronage and power and all things political in this great commonwealth.

The men he has trained have waited, recruiting their strength and learning, only to turn on him in the end, and yet one and all they have gone down in defeat and disaster. Unlike Simon Cameron he leaves no son who will take up the fight where he left it, no subordinate in favor whose abilities would give the initial foothold in the realm of the great bosses. He dies without a political heir, and with him dies Quayism and all that the term has come to mean to Pennsylvania. Like Warwick, he is "The Last of the Barons."

COLLEAGUES WHO WERE DEFEATED

One by one the men who trained with him in the United States senate have been dragged down to defeat, Gorman of Maryland, Platt of New York and others, excepting alone that giant of the Buckeye state, "Uncle Mark" Hanna, to whom death came in the zenith of his power, even as the hand of death seems to be stealing over the "matchless leader of a hundred fights," whose last great stroke of policy was to fence in, perhaps forever, from the rage and swirl of active political life the greatest of all his lieutenants, the man who gave him the hardest battle of his history.

If Senator Quay should live until September 15 he will have reached the scriptural span of life, for he will be 70 years old on that day. The congressional directory contains but one sketch longer than that of Quay, and this is devoted to Chauncey M. Depew. And yet the sketch of Quay's life is but the merest skeleton—a record of the offices he has held. Since his first step into public life on the Fremont wave of '56 he has never been without a certificate of election or an appointment. Ofter he has held several offices at the same time. He was military secretary to the governor of Pennsylvania from 1861 to 1865, and during that same period was a lieutenant in the field with the Tenth Pennsylvania Reserves, colonel of the One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Pennsylvania volunteers, assistant commissary general, state military agent at Washington, private secretary to the governor, major on his staff and chief of transportation and telegraph service.

FIRST MANIFESTATION OF GENIUS

While his first step in public life was his election as prothonotary of Beaver county, his political genius first began to manifest itself when he was elected to the legislature from his home county in 1865. His devotion to the war governor, Curtin, had forced him into political enmity with the Cameron forces, which dominated state politics. At this juncture he left Curtin and went over bag and baggage to the Camerons, and was elected secretary of the commonwealth in 1872, when his old chief, Curtin, went down in the wreckage of the liberal republican movement.

NEARING THE ZENITH OF RENOWN

In 1887 when he was chosen senator, Mr. Quay was approaching his zenith of renown as a political leader. He had sat in every republican national convention since 1872, but he had never been on the winning side. In 1880 he was one of the 306 who went down in defeat with Grant. In 1884 he supported Sherman, refusing to cast his fortune with either Arthur or Blane. In 1888 he stood loyally by Sherman and refused to join the stampede which made Harrison the nominee. But Qauy's record in the past did not prevent Harison from listening with favor to the suggestion that Quay should be the republican national chairman and

MAY SUBSTITUTE CHAIR FOR DEATH BY HANGING

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., May 28.—Following the discussion of the speech of President Capen at the opening of the annual meeting of the Illinois State Bar Association, in which he declared that there were too many judges in Illinois and too few terms of court, the attention of those at the convention has been claimed by a resolution which is due to be presented tomorrow calling for the substitution of the electric chair for hanging in the state.

The resolution has been prepared by Elmer E. Rogers. It sets forth that electrocution is preferable to hanging, having less revolting features.

TESTS OF ARTILLERY WRECK SCHOOL BUILDING

NEW YORK, May 28.—Detonations from the tests of heavy artillery at the government proving grounds at Sandy Hook, besides causing minor damage, has wrecked a portion of a public school building in Coney Island, seven miles distant. Two of the boy pupils weer injured by the falling of a part of the ceiling in one of the rooms and the other children were throw into a panic. One boy sustained a fracture of the skull, which may cause his death.

CONDUCTORS AND TRAINMEN MAY STRIKE

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 28.—It is believed that a strike of the conductors and trainmen on the Rochester and Buffalo division of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg Railroad will be called unless concessions asked by the men are granted. The exact nature of the difficulty can not be learned, but it is known to involve an increase in wages and a shift of the working forces on the two divisions that was made a few weeks ago.

A. B. Garrettson, assistant grand chief of the Order of Railroad Conductors, and Fitzpatrick of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen have returned to Cedar Rapids after having failed to reach an agreement with the company.

TROUBLE FOR THE PUSH CART MEN

NEW YORK, May 28.—Hereafter all the push cart peddlers doing business in New York will be required to display the photographs on the sides of their carts. Notice to this effect has been served on the president of the Peddlers' association by Mayor McClellan. This is the mayor's own plan for solving the license problem and preventing one cart from being used as a family affair.

News of the order today spread among the east side peddlers and they loudly denounced it as an oppression. They immediately planned to march upon the city hall with their wives and offspring and protest to the mayor. Twenty thousand peddlers are expected to be in line with their families. The peddlers boast of an average of ten to each family, and they expect to present an impressive appearance.

CROKER'S CLONMEL MAY NOT START

NEW YORK, May 28.—Richard Croker's horse, Clonmel, for which it is said he paid $15,000, with its derby engagement, is now put down as a doubtful starter for the classic race, says a World dispatch from London. There are no reports of his training published and he is not mentioned in the betting.

M. Blanc's Gouvernant is first favorite for the race this year and the prospect of its being won for the first time in forty years by a Frenchman is giving the contest unusual interest. Gouvernant will be ridden by Cannon, the crack English jockey. The last three derby winners were ridden by Americans.

Gouvernant will cross the channel today and will be sent in special train direct to Epsom, to be prepared for the race next Wednesday.

Everything is being done to counteract the possible evil effects of the change. The horse is being accompanied by all its stablemen and chantilly water of sufficient quantity for its stay in England is being brought in huge tanks.

Several gold and silver objects of historical interest, valued at £1,930, were recently stolen from the Archaelogical Museum at Grosswardein in Hungary.

conduct his campaign in 1888. Quay elected Harrison by his own sagacity and cunning. That was what Governor Hastings meant when he nominated Quay for president at St. Louis in 1896 and said: "Nominate Quay and he will elect himself."

Harrison's administration was being fought by Quay while it was yet in its infancy. Quay arrayed himself against those in power on the force bill and aided the democrats in accomplishing its defeat. He joined with a coterie of republican senators to prevent the renomination of Harrison, and with Platt and others sought to nominate Blaine in 1892. The factional fight in the republican party was unfavorable to republican success. Harrison was renominated and Quay declined the chairmanship. Cleveland was elected president.

In the meantime Quay had kept his eye on his seat in the senate and was elected in 1893. His power by this time had become so great in the senate that he was able to dictate the textile and iron schedules in the Wilson tariff law which the democrats passed in 1894.

IN MOVEMENT AGAINST McKINLEY

Quay joined the movement in 1898 against McKinley, following up his record of always being on the losing side in presidential fights. When McKinley was elected Quay broke away from him. He objected to the appointment of Charles Emory Smith as postmaster general because Mr. Smith was at that time one of his chief opponents in Pennsylvania.

In 1899 John Wanamaker of Philadelphia announced himself for the senate to fill the place of Quay, whose term was expiring. When the legislature met a deadlock was brought about and there was a vacancy in the senate when the legislature adjourned. In the meantime a new state treasury scandal had broken out. After the failure of the Keystone Bank of Philadelphia the People' Bank of Philadelphia had become the political bank of the state. Here were deposited enormous sums of the state money from which various men borrowed. The bank failed in the early days of Quay's fight to succeed himself, and the cashier committed suicide. Of the state funds $600,000 had been lost.

James McManes, an old time politician whom Quay had fought through many a year, and whom he had finally driven out of the leadership of the Philadelphia wing of the republican party, wrote his own check for the amount and made good the deficit. When the authorities took charge of the bank's affairs they found in the desk of the dead cashier letters and telegrams which indicated that Quay and others had influenced the deposit of large sums of the state's money in the bank and in turn had borrowed money from the bank for speculative purposes. One of these telegrams read: "Buy me one thousand Met. and I will shake the plum tree."

WHAT THE TELEGRAM MEANT

"Met." meant Metropolitan Traction stock.

Quay was indicted and tried. He was acquitted, his attorneys making no defense whatever. Quay showed the utmost coolness during his trial, and even read for the court certain letters in his handwriting which were difficult to decipher. On the very day of his acquittal Governor Stone appointed him to the vacancy in the senate, for which the legislature had failed to elect him.

The legality of his appointment was questioned by the senate, and Quay was denied his seat by one vote. That vote was cast by the late Senator Hanna of Ohio. The next day the republican state convention met at Harrisburg, and Quay was nominated for the United States senate to be voted for by the legislature that was to be elected that fall. This was one of the bitterest fights of his life, but he won, as usual. The test came on the election of speaker the day the house convened.

HAD NO ANIMOSITIES

Generally he had to meet opposition from the cities. His strength was in the country, where the farmers believed in him to a man. He had given his state what it wanted and had looked after it thoroughly.

He ran the gamut of men and influences, making slate after slate with wonderful rapidity, but with almost unvarying success. No public career has been compared to his in its constantly shifting scenes.

Animosities he hod none, because they did not pay. He would fight a man one day and the next be lined up with him fighting some one else. Few persons liked Quay, but, enemies or friends, everyone who came in contact with him admired and respected him for his ability.

SENATOR SLOWLY SINKING

At 1 o'clock this afternoon Senator Quay was slowly sinking. His temperature was 104½, pulse 120 and respiration 42.

A New York business house near White street and Broadway reckons its yearly entertainment fund about one hundred thousand dollars. It does an annual business of over twenty million dollars. Its salesmen are bright fellows who control trade. One who works altogether on a commission basis makes $25,000 a year, but of that spends $15,000 in entertaining his customers.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT

TO PROVE WHAT SWAMP-ROOT, THE GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY, WILL DO FOR YOU, EVERY READER OF THE TELEGRAM MAY HAVE A SAMPLE BOTTLE SENT FREE BY MAIL.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and need attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root will set your whole system right, and the best proof of this is a trial.

53 Cottage St., Melrose, Mass.
Dear Sir: Jan. 11, 1904.

"Ever since I was in the Army, I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the past year it became so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed—my strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-Root and wrote asking for advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time.

I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this, I had a doctor examine some of my water today and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition.

I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers I am."

Very truly yours,
I. C. RICHARDSON.

You may have a sample bottle of this famous kidney remedy, Swamp-Root, sent free by mail, postpaid, by which you may test its virtues for such disorders as kidney, bladder and uric acid diseases, poor digestion, being obliged to pass your water frequently night and day, smarting or irritation in passing, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, headache, backache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, heart disturbance due to bad kidney trouble, skin eruptions from bad blood, neuralgia, rheumatism, diabetes, bloating, irritability, wornout feeling, lack of ambition, loss of flesh, sallow complexion, or Bright's disease.

If your water, when allowed to remain undisturbed in a glass or bottle for twenty-four hours, forms a sediment or settling or has a cloudy appearance, it is evidence that your kidneys and bladder need immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is the great discovery of Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist. Hospitals use it with wonderful success in both slight and severe cases. Doctors recommend it to their patients and use it in their own families, because they recognize in Swamp-Root the greatest and most successful remedy.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is for sale at drug stores the world over in bottles of two sizes and two prices—fifty cents and one dollar. Remember the name, Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

EDITORIAL NOTE.—So successful is Swamp-Root in promptly curing even the most distressing cases of kidney, liver or bladder troubles, that to prove its wonderful merits, you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root is so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in The Fort Worth Daily Telegram. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

CLOSING SERMON OF UNIVERSITY

WACO, Texas, May 28.—The baccalaureate sermon of Texas Christian University will be preached tomorrow morning at 11:30 o'clock in the chapel of the university by President E. V. Zollars of the institution. The commencement exercises are well under way and the actual graduating day will be June 2. The various meetings intervening will be interesting, and many persons are attending from outside points. There will be art receptions, music and oratory, competitive drills, literary society meetings and other gatherings in the next three days. The Granville Jones oratorical contest will occur Monday, May 30, and the annual meeting of the board of trustees will take place the same day. The class address on June 2 will be delivered by Hon. Granville Jones. The school has had a very successful year.

The commencement exercises at Baylor will begin June 5, Sunday week, and last several days. Eugene Wood, registrar of this institution, has just resigned his position, owing to the fact that his health has not been good for the past two years, and will go to the west part of the state. He has been succeeded by Professor Frank Allen, long connected with Hill's Business College.

The closing exercises of the public schools will take place June 2, and the Douglas-Schuler school has already closed. The academy of the Sacred Heart will have its closing exercises June 22. All in all, there is quite a good deal of activity at hand and just ahead in the way of school exercises and programs.

TRAINMEN KILLED IN WRECK FROM WASHOUT

EAGLE PASS, Texas, May 28.—A washout near Palla was run into yesterday morning by a freight train. The engineer, fireman and head brakeman were killed, and the conductor and rear brakeman seriously injured. The eastbound passenger train is now eight hours late on account of the wreck.

DESERTS THE ARMY IN SOUTH DAKOTA

Soldier Has Liberty for a Year and Is Finally Captured in Weatherford

This morning R. J. Dogget, deputy sheriff of Weatherford, passed through the city on his way home from Fort Sill, where he has just placed a deserter, J. R. Hill, behind the bars.

Hill deserted at Fort Meade, S. D., about a year ago, but he did not fully realize the perseverance of Uncle Sam. He did not know that distance meant nothing to the government authorities, and after nearly a year of liberty he was caught in Texas.

Beside being a deserter, Hill was convicted for assault and paid the penalty by remaining in jail in Weatherford. He was only released to be taken to the government prison at Fort Sill, Okla.

WANT PARTY TO MAKE VISIT TO WACO

WACO, Texas, May 28.—A committee of prominent citizens and business men headed by James B. Baker, left early this afternoon for Houston to meet Congressman Burgess of Gonzales at the Rice hotel, in Houston, tonight for a conference relative to inducing Chairman Burton of the rivers and harbors committee to include Waco in the itinerary of the coming visit to Texas. The Hon. Scott Field joined the party at Calvert.

We have the finest hotels in the world and more of them than any other country. There are altogether 44,000 hotels in the United States, according to a New York manager, representing an invested capital of over six billion dollars. These establishments employ 3,500,000 persons. The hotel population is enormous and steadily increasing. Some of the finest houses cost as much as $4,500,000.

PASSES ARE USED IN THIS STATE IN CAMPAIGNS

Correspondent of San Antonio Express Comments on Free Transportation Evil, Which Is Growing

Hon. J. W. Stephens, state comptroller, and Hon. John W. Robbins, state treasurer, are the only state officers who are candidates for re-election having active opposition. W. D. Hornady, the Austin correspondent of the San Antonio Express, in a letter published in the San Antonio Express, over his signature on Monday, May 23, wherein he discusses politics in general and Texas state politics in particular, has the following to say about the practice of state officials making their canvasses on free passes:

"Some of the candidates for state office are beginning to complain with some vehemence of the heavy expense to which they are put in making their campaign. It was thought that under the blanket primary and other provisions of the Terrell election law, the expenses of a candidate for state office would be practically nothing. It has been urged that one of the chief merits of the new law was that it afforded an opportunity for a poor man to 'run for office.' According to the statements of these complaining candidates they will have spent as much as the first year's salary of the office for which they are striving by the time the primaries are held on July 9. They point out that the fact that all of the primaries are held on one and the same day, makes the result so uncertain that they and their friends have to keep up the campaign work throughout the state until the day of the primaries, whereas under the old system of holding scattered primaries, the candidates could tell just how they stand early in the campaign, and if they saw there was no chance of winning, they could pull out of the race without inqurring any additional unnecessary expense. The candidates are also required to put up a considerable sum of money in the aggregate to get their names placed on the tickets in the different countits.

"Most of the candidates now in the race for state office are traveling on annual passes given them by railroads while they held official positions in the state government. They are thus enabled to save that feature of their traveling expenses, which otherwise would amount to a large sum. A candidate for one of the most prominent and responsible positions of trust in the state made the remark a few days ago, that he has 'been on the road,' for the past four months in the interest of his candidacy and that he has traveled on an average of 1,000 miles per week, or a total of 16,000 miles on Texas railroads during that time without having paid a cent of railroad fare. He said that he expected to travel 5,000 miles more before the primaries are held on July 9. He has annual passes on every railroad in the state and is also said to have a Pullman annual, by the use of which he is enabled to save the expense of nights' lodging. This candidate is doing no complaining of heavy expenses, further than to object to paying 50 cents for his meals at some of the hotels at which he has happened to stop. To what extent he feels under obligations to the railroads for the favors which they are rendering him in making his canvass is not known."

The above statement regarding the use of free passes, is written by a staff correspondent who has spent years at the capitol, and who knows the system under which the free transportation is issued. It has been watched by him as a newspaper man from year to year and he has seen the practice grow from a mere courtesy at first to an evil which spreads over the whole state today.

Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles has accepted the invitation of Hannibal Hamlin Post, Grand Army of the Republic, of Bangor, Me., to deliver the oration before the union veterans of that city on Memorial Day.

GOOD RAINS FALL IN THE PANHANDLE

Reports received by the general offices of the Fort Worth and Denver City Railroad last night show that good rains fell over a greater portion of the Panhandle between Texline and Childress, a territory of about 216 miles. The fall was not heavy generally, although the precipitation was large enough to result in doing much good. It rained during most of the day up to 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The fall was over the principal cattle country, which will be welcome news to the stockmen who are interested in that section of the state.

NEGRO MADE BLIND FROM UNUSUAL CAUSE

WACO, Texas, May 28.—A negro of this city, who was formerly a bootblack, is now to be seen occasionally walking the streets, totally blind from a rather unusual cause, though a cause which suggests that the use of Paris green in killing insects has its dangerous phases. The negro went out to pick cotton last year, and the planters for whom he picked had used Paris green to kill boll weevils and other insects which had been depredating on the cotton. The result was that the negro got a lot of it on his face and in his eyes, losing his sight. He is now almost helpless and can be seen feeling his way from place to place about the city.

A German who has been a student of chemistry at the University of Giessen for sixty-six semesters without being able to pass the examinations, died there last month, aged 51 years. The cause of his inability to remember what he had learned was an injury to the membrane of the brain which he received in a duel. His name was Christian Busch; his death also caused comment because he had left his possessions, valued at $25,000, to the town of Giessen. But as he had neglected to sign the document, the money will go to distant relatives.

A WELCOME TO REV. J. F. BOEYE

Congregation of St. Paul's Church Makes Glad Because He Returns

Several hundred members of Rev. J. F. Boeye's congregation and their friends welcomed him home last night and gave him a hearty handshake at St. Paul's Methodist church.

From Dr. Boeye's remarks, however, it was evident that this personal greeting of friends was not needed to make him glad to get back to Texas, for Fort Worth, he said, never looked so pretty and inviting as when he stepped off the train and ended his three months' trip.

An address of welcome to the pastor was delivered by Frank Jensen, Dr. MacAdam, who was to have extended the welcome, being exhausted with the strain of commencement week at the university of which he is the head, his place, however, being admirably taken by Mr. Jensen, whose brief remarks showed a real joy at the pastor's safe return. Dr. Boeye responded with expressions of appreciation and gratification and related a few of the incidents of his trip to Jerusalem and other places. Musical selections were rendered by Mrs. Minnie Smith, Mrs. Gardner and Messrs. Johnson and Lunbery, following which the reception was held.

MASONIC MEMBERSHIP BEARS DATE OF 1832

WACO, Texas, May 28.—While running through some old papers the other day Allan P. Vick of this city found one which interested him greatly. It was a certificate of his membership in the Masonic lodge at his former home in Tennessee, and bore date 1832, or more than seventy years ago. The certificate was written on linen parchment and appears to be good for another hundred years. Some of the names attached to the document were familiar to parties here and will doubtless be recalled by old-timers in Texas and at other points. They were: R. S. Moore, W. B. Johnson, Samuel Lyner, I. L. Watkins and Sam P. McFall.

Canada is an Indian name, meaning "collection of huts."

Under Suspicion

[Original.]

"Mother," said Bessie Childers as she threw off her wraps excitedly, "something 's wrong at the store."

"What is it, child?"

"Today at noon I went to the cloakroom to get my handkerchief, which I had left by mistake, and found the large inside pocket of my cloak filled with laces."

"Good gracious! What did you do?"

"I didn't do anything. I knew that I was in a dangerous position and wanted to take the right course. I went back to my counter to think it over and concluded during the afternoon to take the things to the office and state the case, but when I went back to the cloakroom the laces were gone."

"Taken out by some one who put them there?"

"I don't know. They may have been taken by one of the store detectives."

"What are you going to do about it?"

"Nothing. If they were taken away by the thief there's no need to say anything; if by a detective, he will either accuse me at once or watch me."

Elizabeth Childers was the daughter of Archibald Childers, who had lived rich and died poor. Her mother taught music, and Bessie sold fancy articles in the dry goods store of Banning & Co. The next day Bertram Banning, son of the head of the firm, walked past her counter, looking at her with an expression that might mean anything, but surely meant something. Bessie naturally ascribed it to the fact that she was a suspected thief. That night she renewed her plaint to her mother, and the two were in an agony of distress, expecting that an arrest would soon follow.

But the arrest did not follow, and the mother and daughter agreed that the firm was waiting further evidence of her guilt. Mr. Bertram Banning whenever he passed Bessie's counter gave her the same interested glance. She made every effort to appear composed, and she succeeded admirably. Then one day Mr. Banning stopped at her counter and had a little chat with her. She had no doubt that he was intending to draw from her some evidence to criminate her, but he confined himself to very ordinary topics that could not possibly bear on the subject of stolen goods. A few days later he spoke to her again, this time intimating that he had made the discovery that she was the daughter of the once wealthy banker, Archibald Childers.

That he had been making inquiries about her was apparent, though his detectives had doubtless gathered the information. The poor girl was in dreadful suspense. She wished that it might end even if by her arrest. Bertram Banning was evidently managing the case, and she wondered that so affable a young man with so much wealth at his command or in prospect did not leave such unpleasant matters to some one else.

One day Bessie was notified that she was promoted to a higher position at a very largely increased salary. The first flash of pleasure in this advance was dashed by the suspicion that it was intended to get her where she could be the more easily entrapped. She talked the matter over with her mother, and they agreed that possibly the thief of the laces was at the bottom of it all. At any rate, influences were at work to get positive evidence. To find stolen goods on her clothing might not be sufficient. She must be caught in the act. As she did not intend to steal anything she had no fear of being caught, but she did fear being made to stand in the place of a thief. Her suspicions were confirmed when she found that she was placed in charge of a stock of goods kept in a room by themselves and where she would be a great deal of the time alone. That there was a peephole through which she would be watched she did not doubt.

The day of her entry on her new duties Bertram Banning came in and congratulated her on her advance, especially as she would not have to sell the goods, only to be responsible for them. She received him in her usual constrained manner, and the more interested he appeared in her welfare the more confirmed she became that he was trying to decoy her off her guard.

Weeks went by, and as there was no denouement of the plot Bessie concluded that some one had been foiled.

One day Bertram Banning came into her room with an expression on his face that convinced her the bomb was about to explode. He did not at once explode it. He beat about the bush with embarrassment. Finally, bracing himself for an effort, he said:

"Miss Childers, I have something"—

"Oh, don't!" cried Bessie, covering her face with her hands.

"You know, then. You have looked beyond"—

"Oh, Mr. Banning, that you should"—She could not go on.

"And why not? Is there anything dishonorable in"—

"No, not dishonorable, but if you only knew how unjust."

"Unjust?"

"Yes. I am absolutely innocent."

"Is it innocent to steal"—

"I did not."

"Miss Childers, you are a thief of the worst kind. True, you have stolen an article of little value, only my poor heart."

Bessie Childers looked at him as one awakened from a dream.

"Your heart?"

"Yes. What did you suppose"—

"I thought you meant the laces."

Then it came out that the real thief had been caught long ago, but it was the incident that first turned Bertram Banning's attention to Bessie Childers.

Market Quotations

NORTH FORT WORTH, May 28.—The usual light Saturday supply of cattle arrived for trading today, and, with a fair demand and no change in values, the run sold early at Friday's quotations.

A few bunches of medium weight and quality steers sold at $3@3.35, the light common kinds going at $2@3. On the late market Friday one load of choice heavy 1,150-pound steers sold to Armour & Co. at $4.15, with a lighter bunch of 1,024-pounds average at $3.90.

The range in quality of cows and calves today was medium to fair, and the few sales made went at prices ranging between $1.75@2.35, two head of heavy fat cows selling at $3.

Hogs showed a good gain in receipts over the usual Saturday runs, and, with a good general quality offered, the market closed early with trading strong to 5c higher over Friday's best time. One load of choice medium weight hogs sold at $4.60, and averaged 205 pounds. Medium mixed packers and butchers sold at $4.50@4.57, while a few sales of light common quality pigs went at $3.50@4.37½.

—o—

Joe Pribyl, calf buyer for Armour & Co., and Robert Applegate of the provision department of the same plant, will leave tonight over the Rock Island for Kansas City. Mr. Pribyl will go from Kansas City to Chicago, his old home, where he will spend a vacation of three weeks.

The "Pikers' Club" will meet at the Delaware hotel at 8 o'clock, and in a body they will escort Messrs. Pribyl and Applegate in the station, where appropriate bon voyages will be made.

MARKET REVIEW

The past week brought in a moderate supply of cattle; however, the run did not exceed the demand and, with Saturday's close, all classes of choice butcher cattle, both in steers and cows, showed a gain of 15c to 20c. The general quality has, as a whole, ranked around a fair average with a fairly good sprinkling of good heavy steers towards the end of the week.

The best steers for the week were offered on Friday's market, and sold to an outside buyer at $4.15, the bulk of good fed kinds going around $3.50@3.90, and occasional sales at $4.

While salesmen give the market full credit for a fair advance in values this week, they do not think that prices have advanced any over a justinable line with St. Louis, where Texas steers are quoted at $3.15@5.

Trading in good cows for the last three days of the week has been at the same advance as has characterized trading in steer stuff, and all good quality she stuff has found a good outlet at strong, active prices, with a small daily advance since Thursday's market. Choice fat cows of 900 to 1,100 pounds are quoted at $2.75@3.25; medium butcher cows, 750 to 850 pounds, $2.40@2.75; common killing kinds at cutters at $1.65@2, and canners at $1.25@1.75.

Calves, while a little uneven in prices during the early part of the week closed about steady, with no perceptable change in current quotations. Best light veal calves are selling at $3.25@3.50; medium quality at $2@3, and the common stuff and yearling grades at $1.50@2.

Bulls and stags have been in light supply and, with the demand firm, have sold at unchanged prices.

Hogs have advanced 10c to 15c during the past three or four days, the market being stimulated largely by higher markets in the north and light receipts here. Since Thursday there has been a gain each each day of 5c to 10c, with the result that top hogs sold Saturday at $4.60, with a good general bulk at $4.50@4.52½.

Salesmen are loath to put any confidence in predictions sent out from Chicago that the heavy run of hogs this summer will pound values around $4 before August, but instead believe that with conservative marketing values will hover around the present quotations until the fall supply influences prices otherwise.

The supply of mutton has been equal to the demand, and all good heavy stuff has sold on a steady market, while the common thin kinds in many instances have found hard sale and have been forwarded out.

Choice wool lambs are quoted at $4@5; weighty wethers at $4.20@4.50, and ewes at $3.25@3.75.

MAKE EXAMINATION OF BRAIN OF A DOG

WACO, Texas, May 28.—The brain of the dog which was killed in Robinsonville a few miles south of Waco several days ago, and thought to have been mad, has been examined carefully at the scientific department of Baylor University, with the result that it has been determined that the canine was not suffering from rabies. The dog bit a little son of Mr. Daughtrey and fastened its fangs in several dogs and cows before it was dispatched, and the dogs bitten were killed. It has been decided that the animal was not mad, however, and this will allay a good deal of uneasiness in the Robinson community.

PRESIDENT AT GETTYSBURG

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The president has arranged to leave Washington tomorrow night for Gettysburg, where he is to deliver the Memorial Day oration on Monday.

ADDITIONAL WAR NEWS

TOKIO, May 28, 12:30 p. m.—The Japanese captured fifty guns, clearing the way to Port Arthur and inflicting losses on the Russians which in the end are expected to total 2,000 men. It is doubted if the Russians make another stand north of Port Arthur. They retired from the field beaten, and they failed to rally at Nan Quan Ling, where it was anticipated that the second stand would be made.

The desperate onslaught of the Japanese on the heights at Nanshan was telling, for the Russias left 300 dead in the trenches there. Complete search of this field is expected to show a greater number of dead.

Nan Quan Ling was occupied yesterday morning by a force of infantry, artillery and engineers under the command of General Nankamura. The main Japanese force spent Friday night in the villages around Nanshan. The soldiers are greatly fatigued as a result of the constant fighting, but they entered with much spirit upon new operations.

JAP SHIPS AID IN ATTACK

TOKIO, May 28, 12 p. m.—The Japanese squadron, which was assigned to cooperate in the attack of the second army on Kin Chou and Nanshan hill, is composed of the gun boats Thukishi, Amigi, Peyien and Chokai. The first torpedo boat flotilla entered the Kin Chou bay on Wednesday. A heavy sea prevented its participating in the fighting of that day.

The weather cleared on Thursday morning, and, in spite of the shallowness of the water, the squadron steamed close to the shore and bombarded the Russian batteries.

Early in the action a shell passed over the forward deck of the Chokai, killing a lieutenant and two petty officers and wounding two men.

The torpedo boat flotilla shelled the railroad near Shaos river. The torpedo boats took soundings and guided the larger ships. The squadron advanced with the Japanese right flank and aided in covering it. Later in the day the falling tide compelled the withdrawal of the larger warships.

Captain Hayashi, the commander of the Chokai, was killed by the explosion of a shell near one of the ship's guns. Four other men were wounded. The vessels themselves were not damaged.

A. W. SPENCER, OLD SOLDIER, IS DEAD

EL PASO, Texas, May 28.—A. W. Spencer, justice of the peace, died here this morning of erysipelas, aged 65. The deceased was a Confederate soldier during the civil war, and was in service on the only railroad out of Galveston for his government.

When the Houston and Texas Central was built he was on the construction train working out of Houston to Denison and Fort Worth. He was one of the oldest railroad men in Texas.

ASSAULT BY NEGRO ON LITTLE CHILD

TAMPA, Fla., May 28.—A little white girl, aged 7 years, was the victim last night of an attempt at criminal assault by a negro. He is now in custody, but the community is greatly excited, and violence is feared tonight.

The palace of Damascus, an edifice so old that its builder, its occupants and its history are lost in the obscurity of the past, is the latest attraction that has been secured for the World's Fair. The structure is not to be a replica imitation of staff, but the actual building, which was brought piece by piece from Syria and rebuilt in St. Louis. On the inside of the building will be seen the rarest and most beautiful collection of Greek and Oriental art work in the world.

NEW PRESIDENT OF FEDERATED CLUBS

Mrs. Sarah P. Decker

ST. LOUIS, May 28.—The election of Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker to the presidency of the General Federation of Women's Clubs was not unexpected. From the first her influence and ability were felt by the convention. Three times has Mrs. Decker been importuned to become a candidate. In 1898 the biennial was held in Denver, where her ability was recognized by the women of the convention. She wears a diamond monogram medal, presented to her at that time by the women of her state in appreciation of her efforts to better the condition of the women of Colorado. Mrs. Decker is a widow and has few family duties to prevent her from devoting her energies to club work. She is an ardent suffragist, which is regretted by the most conservative clubs, and which was the one point against her election.

THE KINDERGARTEN.

The San Francisco Bulletin comes out as a strong advocate of the public kindergarten, and urges the board of education of that city to include the expenses of such teachings in the budget for next year.

That same proposition will sooner or later be up to the cities of Texas, and just now the women of the state are pushing the matter with such force that a strong public sentiment is being created in favor of the kindergarten. It is but a grade lower than the primary grades which are taught, and it requires but a change in the school law to allow the little ones of tenderest years to be taught as the kindergarten provides. The Bulletin says:

Although a large number of American cities have adopted the kindergarten into their public school system, and conduct kindergartens just as they conduct high schools, at the public expense, San Francisco has never supported public kindergartens. The few kindergartens in this city are all on private foundations. But there seems no good reason why the public school system should not commence, at the bottom, with the kindergarten, rather than with the lowest grade in the primary school; indeed, there are many sound reasons for the maintenance of public kindergartens; and it is hoped that the supervisors will see their way clear, or make their way clear, to appropriating the necessary sum for the establishment of three or more. There is need of a kindergarten in conjunction with every primary school.

While there are people that still scoff at kindergartens, enlightened opinion is almost unanimous in advocacy of them. The kindergarten, like the primary, the grammar and the high school and the university, too, for that matter, has been a theater for the display of pedagogical fads, and thus has been exposed to ridicule on some aspects. And there are intelligent advocates of the kindergarten that will not claim for it all the merits and perfections which some devout disciples of Pestalozzi and Froebel attribute to the kindergarten idea put into practice. But there are two or three results accomplished by the kindergarten that not only justify its existence but prove the kindergarten necessary in every well ordered public school system.

In Fort Worth the energetic women of the association are conducting the kindergarten and bright young women are being trained for teaching. The kindergarten, in the first place, emphasizes the worth and dignity of the individual pupil. Kindergarten training is individual training. The teacher has few pupils, or, if she has many, she is helped by assistants. Care and thought are given to each individual mind and character. In the primary and grammar schools children are treated more as members of a class than as individual minds and characters, each possessing idiosyncrasies, no two being exactly alike or requiring exactly the same pedagogical treatment. Primary and grammar classes are instructed as bodies. One explanation or demonstration serves all the pupils at once. There is no fathoming of the twisted ways of the individual intellect. The superiority of individualistic instruction has become a commonplace and the universities have taken the idea from the kindergartens. Pestalozzi and Froebel have revolutionized methods of teaching in the great universities as well as the foot of the educational system. In the last fifty years the most notable development in university teaching has been the employment of the assistant, and the encouragement given the pupil to do original work in his own way; to experiment in the laboratory, to explore the library and dig his own matter out of sourcebooks rather than accept the results of commentators. Fifty years ago chemistry was taught at universities by a professor who delivered a lecture, quizzed out of a text, and performed a few illustrative experiments on a table. The student never handled a tube, never performed an analysis, never pottered about a laboratory, never got really into touch with chemistry. Nowadays chemistry is — according to the method of Dr. [illegible] when a student is told how [illegible]ng he is then required to go and do it. But this is a deviation from the theme.

A second but not a less important result of kindergarten training is the habit of concentrating the attention which it develops in the child. This is the chief object of education—to so train and discipline the mind that in obedience to the will it can mass its entire force on a single point; can focus its attention exclusively on a given task, shutting out all distracting sounds and sights and thoughts. The kindergarten prepares the child for the primary school and puts him in condition to profit from the start by the instruction there given. True, there are kindergarten methods that tend to [illegible]

[illegible]

The kindergarten association of this city has done a good work and each year the scheme is growing. The children are taught free, they are given the same advantages and there is good results, whether it be the teaching of the idea of gentility as shown by "white caps" on the finger nails or the forming of objects from a model shown by the teacher. The ladies of Fort Worth have had little encouragement in their work, they have had little assistance, but they are persevering, and in course of time they will have much to show for their efforts. The ladies of the Third ward are now asking for two of the rooms of the temporary building erected by the city in the Fifth ward. The council does not appear disposed to give these rooms, the contention being that they are to be sold that more money may be had to apply on the Fifth ward building. The ladies may be ignored in their request this year, and possibly next, but sooner or later the city will come to the kindergarten habit, and there will be assistance to that organization which is now providing free tuition and you might say free attention to children.

The story tellers relate that back in the seventies when Dewey was in command of a battleship of the Hartford type he was lying in the harbor off Genoa. Visitors were allowed on board at all times, except Sunday morning, when inspection took place. One Sunday a well known American millionaire steamed out with a party of friends in his private yacht and succeeded in getting on deck, where he was met by Captain Dewey, who asked him to leave. Mr. Money remonstrated, and finally, exasperated by the cool firmness of the officer, he burst out: "No, sir; I won't leave. I am an American citizen and have a perfect right on this vessel. I pay taxes in America. I am on my own property. Part of this ship belong to me!" Calmly Dewey opened his penknife, stooped down and split off a piece of the deck flooring. Handing it to the incensed American citizen, he replied: "There's about what you own, and there's the ladder. Now git!" And he got.

You may talk about Czar Reed and his exercise of power as speaker, but he is not one, two, six with the presiding officer of a meeting of Federated clubs to which women belong. When the Texas federation met in Fort Worth the state president was law and her gavel was the enforcement thereof. At the meeting of the national body in St. Louis Mrs. President Denison took things in her own hand. She came to the conclusion one evening that she did not want to hear the singing by Miss Ringen of St. Louis and she at once cut that part of the program out. It is a good thing we have no woman suffrage in this country. The Roosevelt pension order is not a circumstance.

There is a record of one convert to the republican party who was made by Roosevelt. Paul Morton, second vice president of the Santa Fe, a life long democrat and son of a former member of the cabinet under the Cleveland administration, says he has joined the republicans and that Teddy is responsible for the change of heart.

Colonel Watterson says the pert paragraph on the editorial page should be allowed to die a natural death. If he would cut up those long-winded editorials which are the product of his brain and pen into about fifty pert paragraphs of three lines each he would find that readers would take more interest in the reading.

It appears rather funny for New Orleans papers to accuse the St. Louis hotels of extortion. Any man who has ever attended a Mardi Gras celebration in New Orleans knows that the people in that city are past masters in the matter of charging.

Good Stories of The Day

THE WESTERN UNION AND DEVERY

"Touchin' on and appertainin' to this here poolroom business," said the former chief of police, "Big Bill" Devery, the other day, "the game of talk that these Western Union people are putting up reminds me of a feller we got once who was makin' very superior sectional jimmies," says the New York Times. "All the crooks had them, and they were dandies. For a long time we couldn't find out who was makin' 'em, but when we did light on him we found him to be a church member and all the rest of it. He had a big tool factory, and when we talked about pinchin' him he didn't quit the business, he was real sad. Said it was a [illegible] [illegible]

SENATOR HILL'S STORY

While on a visit to New York the other day, says the New York Times, ex-Senator David B. Hill met an old-time acquaintance and asked him how he was "getting along." The [illegible] complained that he was in "hard luck," and said:

"Things have been going very badly with me lately. The fact is, if I were Lazarus and the Lord said, 'Come forth,' I would come fifth."

MRS. STANLEY'S REBUFF

The death of Stanley recalls many anecdotes, not only of the great explorer, but of his beautiful widow, who was Miss Dorothy Tennant. She and her sister were brought into some unenviable notoriety by E. F. Benson's "Dodo," which one of them is said to have inspired. While the novel was the rage the author wrote to Miss Tennant:

"Dear Miss Tennant—The whole world is talking about you and about my book. When may I call?"

For reply he was told: "Dear Mr. Benson—Have you really written a book? How sweet of you! Call any time."

But she was never at home.

MISCHIEF CAUSED BY STATISTICS

(Harper's Bazar.)

The announcement that the director of the Yale "commons" has been obliged to put up the price of meals to $4.50 a week henceforth and that at the old price of a dollar or so less the college has lost $20,000 a year, will doubtless fill the hearts of many patient housekeepers with unspoken gratitude. For years the American housewife has been suffering from the baleful activity of the man of statistics, who proves conclusively in the columns of endless periodicals that $3 a week will feed anybody royally, and that a delightful dinner may be given for $2.50, including flowers. A periodical ostensibly devoted to the interests of the American home once published statistics showing how a man and wife and two children had lived comfortably on $200 a year. The misery caused by those statistics, over the whole broad land, was beyond computation.

GENERAL WITH A MAJOR'S COMMAND

(Cleevland Plain Dealer.)

General Leonard Wood, at the head of 450 men, is marching to avenge the massacre of a detachment of United States troops by the Moros of Mindanao. The spectacle of a major general with a major's command is something new in American military history and indicates that the general is desperately in earnest about gaining that military experience which an unkind fate has hitherto denied him. Operations against these same tribesmen have been carried on heretofore with perfect success by captains and by field officers. It is not easy to see why General Wood should feel moved to take the field in person on such a petty expedition unless he realizes that he needs the experience, a sufficiently humiliating ad-

FIRST TEST OF DOGS FOR RED CROSS SERVICE

LONDON, May 28.—The efficiency of dogs on the battlefield, a favorite idea of the German army, is about to have its first real test in the Manchurian campaign. Not What We Are Going to Do or Can Do, but What We Have Done for Others

IF WE CAN BE OF SERVICE TO OTHERS, AS THEY TESTIFY FROM TIME TO TIME, WHY CANNOT WE DO AS MUCH FOR YOU?

You notice the claims of so-called specialists from time to time from other towns and cities, but few are able to give statements of cures they have made, depending on their statements of what they can do to attract the sufferer to them. We show you proof of what we do, and are right at your homes, and if we cannot be of service or cure you, how can you expect some one away to do it?

We have offices right at your doors and you don't have to take our word for our ability [illegible] as those who advertise away from home, because you can go to our patients who have already received results and talk to them in the privacy of their homes. Read the evidence below, and if you prefer to go to some distant specialist, then you ought to, and the chances will be that you will regret it.

We make a specialty of all chronic, special and private diseases of men, women and children; have all the special paraphernalia necessary to handle this class of work and our terms are in reach of all. We [illegible] under the proposition extended a few days since for free treatment, and if you will come at once, you may be able to save yourself several dollars on this proposition.

Mr. W. C. Iverson, 217 Main street, says: "I am entirely satisfied with results received from the New York Specialists, and advise all chronic sufferers to call on them for treatment."

Miss L. A. Lyle, Rural Route No. 2, says: "I am gradually improving since beginning treatment a few days since, and believe it only a matter of time until I am well. I recommend these doctors as the best I have been able to find in this section, to all chronic sufferers."

Mrs. J. M. Echord, wife of one of the best known business men of this city, says: "I have been under treatment of the New York Doctors several weeks, and have been gradually improving since I started. They have done all that was promised me and I am entirely satisfied with results. I had my daughter begin their external treatment a few days since, and would advise all who suffer to visit them and see their diagnosis and treatment."

Mrs. R. B. Malory, of South Main street, says: "I placed my little boy under treatment a few weeks since with the New York Doctors, who has been suffering with a discharge of pus from his right side for a long time as a result of an operation for pleurisy. The doctor who operated on him it seemed could not stop the discharge, and it has kept him under a strain and weakened him so that I have been uneasy that we would never raise him. He is steadily improving and the bloom of youth is gradually coming back into his face. It will be but a short while until he is entirely cured and restored to the condition he had a long time ago. I have found these doctors reliable, and do not hesitate in saying, if you are a chronic sufferer, to go and place yourself at once under their treatment."

Mr. John Stanley, Fort Worth, says: "New York Doc[tors have cured me of a case of facial paralysis. The elec]trical and other treatment they use certainly does the wor[k and give again life to the paralyzed parts. They certainly] are doing a great work in this city, as I note from time t[o time many wonderful cures they have made, and their re]ception room is nearly always crowded."

Prof. W. W. Witt, principal of one of the ward schools, [says: "I have been under treatment several weeks, of the] New York Specialists and they are giving me entire satis[faction. I recommend them to chronic sufferers."]

Dr. J. T. Arnold, who lives at 904 East Third street, sa[ys: "I had been down with rheumatism for two weeks, suf]fering the agonies of excruciating pain, and though I had t[he assistance of doctors, I was not relieved, and having heard] of the great work of the New York Doctors, I sent my da[ughter and a friend to see them, as I could not move in my] bed. I accepted the advice given and placed myself unde[r them, and within three hours after I started the treatment] I was relieved of all pain and have been since perfectly fr[ee of pain. They gave me no opiates and, knowing the rep]utation these specialists have, I deem it a duty as well a[s a pleasure to indorse them as able specialists. No one,] except they suffered as I, or had at some time known th[e horrible pains accompanying this condition, can think for] a moment what it is to suffer for days and weeks withou[t even necessary sleep. I have but the best of feelings to] the medical profession in giving this statement, and will s[ay these doctors are true to their statements, that they] make no visits. The relief I have received has been given [through a history from members of my family, and a sample] of the excrements necessary to determine the real condition. [They have never visited me, and yet were able to give me] immediate relief. It has been lasting, and I am gradually improving. I will be able to resume my duties in a day or two, and will say to all similarly affected, and to chronic sufferers, to go and consult these doctors."

Chief Surgeon New York Doctors.

The above is from a veterinary physician, and a man of reputation wherever he has been, a man of mature years, and if for a moment you should doubt it, go in person and make him a visit.

Mr. J. Smith, 1303 Layton street, North Fort Worth, says: "I have been a sufferer a long time and have not been able to work. My head almost killed me, and I suffered from a variety of complications. After calling on these doctors and stating my trouble, I will say that in ten days' time I am perfectly easy and am now able to go to work. I could not say too much for the great good they have done for me, and advise all to go to them, as I believe them the best doctors in Texas."

Mr. F. W. Page, one of the oldest and best known residents of this city, says: "I am entirely satisfied with results given me by the New York specialists. I had suffered for a long time and they have given me more than was promised for the time, and I cheerfully say to all chronic sufferers, go to them and if they tell you they will cure you, they will do it."

YOU ASK, WILL IT LAST? IS IT A PERMANENT CURE?

Well, read the following cures made years ago, and decide for yourself:

Mr. S. H. McGary, proprietor Beaumont Journal, says: "The work you did for my wife two years ago was satisfactory, and I can recommend you to the public as expert business doctors. I know of many personal cures you made here, and your business standing is second to none in this community."

Mrs. W. J. Conklin, Pine Island, Texas, says: "The cure you made for chronic stomach troubles and general debility two years ago is a permanent cure. I had been to all the doctors in this section of the country and they had told me I had cancer of the stomach and would never get well. I am happy today, since you restored me to health and usefulness to my family."

Mr. W. A. Coward, an old cattleman of South Texas, says: "My little girl, six years of age, was suffering with paralysis of the throat, and cross eyes. I had been advised that she would never get well, and was getting ready to carry her to New York when I was referred to these doctors by a friend who had been cured, and I am glad to say that in three months' time my child could talk and her eyes were straight, without an operation. She could not and had not spoken above a whisper for a long time. The work these doctors did in this section is lasting and I hereby heartily recommend them as the best specialists in the South today."

Asa Thomas, 617 East Second street, Pueblo, Colo., says: "Commenced treatment the 24th of August with New York Doctors for lung trouble, pronounced tuberculosis or consumption by my doctors, after an examination of my sputum; was poor in flesh, could not eat and had a bad cough. At once on commencing treatment with New York Doctors, conditions changed, commenced to eat and grow fat, cough stopped. Have been working steadily now for three weeks and am as well as I ever was. I say, go to New York Doctors if you want to get well. Other doctors failed to cure me."

Homer Sinclair, Pueblo, Colo., engaged in the dairy business, says: "Commenced treatment with New York Doctors August 18 for severe case of granulated eyelids. My improvement has been gradual and continuous, until at the present time my eyes are not inflamed and give me no trouble. I can say I am well, and New York Doctors did it."

Mr. J. J. McAdams, Kountze, Texas, says: "These doctors cured my boy of stricture of the bowel, four years since. He had not worked a day in over a year when they took charge of him. He has been all right and as well and happy as ever. They cured me of a chronic bowel trouble two years ago. I believe them to be the best doctors in Texas."

Mr. D. W. Lewis, one of the oil magnates of South Texas, says: "These doctors cured my little daughter of a so-called case of epilepsy without a dose of medicine. It was found to be her eyes, and when the proper refraction was made she never had another spell. I started her to school and she is well and happy. I know they did a great work in this section of the country, and though it has been a long time ago, their work stands today."

Thousands of similar statements could be given like the above, but this evidently is sufficient to convince any reasonable, or even prejudiced mind that these doctors are reliable, and can cure you. If you prefer to continue to suffer instead of making a personal investigation for yourself which will not cost anybody a cent, then it is your fault if you suffer, and you have nobody to blame but yourself.

These doctors have been here for months and have met every promise made. They have demonstrated that they are resident specialists, and as much a part of Fort Worth as any other business located here, and they have had the very best success and have references to convince any reasonable mind that they are responsible as well as reliable.

Fort Worth Shut Out by Corsicana, Score 1 to 0—Winners Play Errorless Game

The latest system of umpiring is to make a decision and then ask the other side if they like it. If not, change the decision.

Boles struck out seven, Huddleston one.

Poindexter's two-bagger in the second was the only one of the game.

Sullivan got the applause for his running catch of Longley's "Limited Express" in the second.

Seevral of the Corsicana hits were Texas leaguers.

The ladies overflowed the grand stand. It was the first week-day game with Corsicana.

POLICE NEWS

A highly enjoyable smoker with Recorder Prewett as master of ceremonies was held in the basement of the city hall this morning, the meeting being called to order by Assistant Chief of Police Allen at 9 o'clock promptly. Mr. Allen also delivered the benediction at the close.

The necessary smoke producers were furnished for the occasion by an enterprising book agent and as soon as all were supplied the vaudeville performance was begun.

The performance, however, proved a disappointment to the large audience, most of the performers set down upon the program either submitting to fine to avoid doing their turns or failing to appear.

The first number on the program was to have been amonologue, entitled, "The Day After, or Such a Headache," but the artist failed to make his appearance, and after Stage Manager Ab Speight had called him thrice in stentorian tones his bond giving faithful performance of his contract was declared forfeited.

A substitute engaged to present the skit suffered from stage fright and submitted to a fine rather than go through with the show.

An infantile dialogue, entitled, "Trespassing, or Caught in the Act," was also postponed because the mothers of the prodigies failed to get their faces washed in time for the ante-matinee performance. The master of ceremonies and Director Roy are determined that the public shall not be deprived of this bit of acting and the youngsters will be forced to appear at a subsequent performance.

A two-act melodrama, entitled, "A Family Spat, or "Disturbing the Peace," was also held over for another performance, owing to the leading man sending word by proxy that he had a nail in his foot. From this it was deducted that the leading lady had similar articles in her shoes and as her part would have been incomplete without her vis-a-vis the performance was passed.

"Coalhole Johnnie, or Communicating with Prisoners," also went by the boards for a later date.

Prior to the calling of the program a number of tuneful choruses were rendered by the Rea Club, who are announced to appear at the entertainments shortly in new blue summer suits.

DEPUTY RETURNS FROM CENTRAL CITY

Hamill Scott Was a Witness in a Horse Theft Case at the City of Waco

Hamill Scott, deputy sheriff, returned this morning from Waco, where he has been as a state witness in the case against Will Glass, who was arrested in Fort Worth about two weeks ago on a charge of horse theft.

Glass was tried some time ago and convicted and given two years in the penitentiary. Judge Scott granted a new trial, which was to have come up Friday, but was postponed until the next term of district court of McLennan county.

Glass is the young man who was married while in jail at Waco. He is charged with the theft of two horses and a buggy from a Waco party.

Officer Scott said this morning that the country around Italy on the International Railroad was visited by a veritable waterspout Friday afternoon and for a mile the tracks of the International were under six inches of water. Crops, he says, are looking fine all along the International, particularly cotton and oats.

DUNKARDS TO PUT COLONY IN TEXAS

Members of a Religious Sect Visit This State Seeking a Location

Sixty members of the Dunkard church from Carthage, Mo., arrived on the Rock Island last night and spent the night in the city. The party is in charge of Howard Miller of Elgin, Ill. This morning they left for Dallas, but returned to Fort Worth this afternoon.

Although undecided as to their plans, it is the purpose of these Dunkards to establish a colony in Texas and another party of thirty-five members passed through the city today en route to Brady.

The Dunkards are a sect very much like the Puritans, living a life of self-denial and shunning all worldly pleasures. The church was formed in Schwartzanau, Germany, in 1707, and the first AAmerican church was established in Germantown, Pa. At present there are about 100,000 members of the Dunkard church in America. The church supports a number of schools, colleges and benevolent institutions.

The Dunkard can be likened to the Puritan and his taciturn manner and peculiar dress are marked. Their clothes are black and of a clerical cut; nearly all male members of the sect wear long beards and have their upper lips shaven. The women wear peculiar bonnets, similar to the poke bonnets of long ago.

Farming is the main industry of the Dunkard, though some are engaged in commercial and mercantile pursuits.

PUTTING GOLF LINKS INTO GOOD CONDITION

The Country Club has inaugurated a plan to serve table d'hote dinners on Sundays from 4 to 8 o'clock p. m., the first of which will be given tomorrow. Price of meal has been fixed at 75 cents. It is hoped that members will respond to this plan and bring their friends with them.

Work on the golf links has been in progress during the past week. The greens have been cleaned up and put into shape and Monday a force of men will put the course into better condition, mowing the grass and clearing up the rocks near No. 1, No. 2 and No. 4. The tennis court has been put into shape for play

MAGNATE TWICE FACED GALLOWS

Remarkable History of "Diamondfield" Jack Davis, Now a Prosperous Mine Owner

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, May 28.—Twice within the shadow of the gallows, then a prospector and now a mining magnate, "Diamondfield Jack" Davis now has taken unto himself a bride, according to advices received from Tonopah. Mrs. Minnie Williams of that city has become his wife.

Davis was convicted of the murder of a sheep herder in the Snake river region of Idaho in the latter '90s. The tragedy was the outcome of a bitter range quarrel. The state was backed by the big sheep owners of Idaho, Nevada and Utah, F. J. Hagenbarth, president of the National Live Stock Association, being among those who assisted financially in the prosecution.

The Sparks-Harrel Cattle Company of which John Sparks, now governor of Nevada, was senior partner, spent thousands of dollars on the defense. Davis was in their employ at the time of the murder. The cattlemen lined up solidly behind the accused man. The jury sentenced him to be hanged. An appeal was taken, and Davis was again sentenced to die. Then came intercessions in his behalf. Finally Davis was pardoned by Governor Hunt.

After Davis had been freed he located a claim in Goldfield. It was the first great mine of Goldfield, and the discovery was one of the causes of the rush to that camp.

RAILROAD NEWS

General Passenger Agent Glisson of the Denver Road state yesterday that both his road and the Pecos Valley lines were doing a great business in locating new-comers along the lines, and that the development of the country contiguous to both roads was going steadily ahead. Many people from Central and Southern Texas, from Colorado and the northwest are finding their way to these sections of the state. There is also quite a movement of people from the central and southeastern states coming to Texas, and in most instances are settling along the Denver Road and the Pecos Valley line in New Mexico. From what can be learned here the majority of these new-comers prefer the country contiguous to Wichita Falls and that part of New Mexico which is receiving benefits from irrigating plants.

Conditions are looking up in the Panhandle country as a result of recent rains. During the past few days refreshing showers have fallen between Texline and Quanah.

General Passenger Agent Glisson reports that the passenger department of the Denver is constantly receiving letters of inquiry regarding transportation to the many summer resorts in Colorado with the privilege of visiting the World's Fair. The Denver, in order to accommodate this class of travelers, has arranged to care for "all comers," either visiting St. Louis going or coming. From present indications it is evident that this kind of travel will be very heavy from Texas and the southwest.

The Texas-Colorado chautauqua, which opens July 4, also bids fair to be an attraction for summer tourists to Colorado, and many people are already preparing to attend the sessions which will be very much better than those held in past years. The Denver Road is now mailing out large numbers of official programs of the chautauqua to parties interested and who intend taking in that event.

With additional passenger service after the first of June, the Denver Road will be in first class shape to expeditiously handle large crowds who will go to the summer retreats in the mountains of cool Colorado.

STILWELL EN ROUTE

A. E. Stilwell, president of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad company, left New York city for Mexico May 23 and is due to reach the City of Mexico in five or six days. He is accompanied by several officials of the company and a party of well known newspaper and magazine writers who are to be taken over the entire system so far completed in a special train. With him, also, is a party of English capitalists who are already interested in the company.

In the party are capitalists who contemplate making investments in the Orient road.

The Orient has 250 miles of track already laid in the republic and the work of extension is being carried on without a halt, as enough money has been secured to complete the entire construction.

[illegible] ROAD

Uriah Lott, president of the St. Lou[illegible] railroad, reports that the line will be ready for operation July 1. He denies that an agreement has been made between his road and the International regarding traffic. It is understood that an agreement will be made soon with the Gould lines whereby the Lott road will go into San Antonio.

NEW NARROW GAUGE

The new narrow gauge railroad built by the Tiro Mining Company running from the company's mines to Los Charcos, a station on the National, has been completed and is open for freight and passenger traffic.

MOST POWERFUL LOCOMOTIVE BUILT

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., May 28.—Engine No. 2400, built by the Schenectady plant of the American Locomotive Company, for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, will be taken next week to St. Louis, where it will be exhibited as the most prominent feature in the transportation building at the World's Fair.

The locomotive is the most powerful ever built. The design follows that of the Mallet compound used for heavy hauling. There are six pairs of driving wheels. Three pairs are under the forward end of the boiler and the remaining three beneath the firebox. The driving wheels are quite small, being but fifty-six inches in diameter. The weight is 360,000 pounds. Preliminary tests conducted here go to show that the locomotive is one and one-half times more powerful than any other locomotive ever constructed.

"INSIDE INN" ADVANTAGES

Why the Only Hotel in the World's Fair Enclosure Promises to Be a Popular Hostelry

COMFORT AT MODEST PRICES

There is one large hotel on the grounds of the World's Fair at St. Louis called "The Inside Inn." It has a capacity of accommodating with comfort and safety, 6,000 guests. It is located near the southeastern corner of the grounds and convenient to two of the entrances. In its immediate vicinity are many of the beautiful buildings erected by the states and territories.

The Inside Inn is embowered in natural forest trees. It is in fact a bit—a big bit—of suburban enterprise set in the edge of a great city. From the doors and windows of the Inside Inn one is not compelled to look upon sunbaked stone streets, sweltering alleys and dead walls. On the contrary, the guest has an outlook upon a primeval forest in which appear here and there the inviting outlines of new houses built without qualms as to cost and embellished with all the artistic adornments that architecture can supply. Looking farther, the guest may behold the graceful towers and the stately domes of the most wonderful city on earth—the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

In short, the guest at the Inside Inn will be practically a summer resorter, away from the din and clamor and dust and heat of the busy city, and yet near enough to the World's Fair glories to behold some of them from his window and to reach any of them in a few minutes. If perchance he shall become a-weary of the wondrous wealth of things to see and hear, for the time being, he may hie him back to the Inside Inn, where in his own apartments or in the cozy lounging rooms or parlors of the Inn he may enjoy a delightful rest, fitting him for a return to the heart of the World's Fair, refreshed and revivified.

The guests at the Inside Inn will be the only visitors who can see the World's Fair from their own front door, so to speak; for at the Inn they will be at home, and while viewing any part of the great exposition they will have the satisfaction of knowing that a short walk or a brief ride on the Intramural cars will take them home with[illegible] outside the grounds.

NEITHER HEARST NOR JUDGE PARKER

Probable Now That Indian Territory Democratic Convention Will Not Instruct

MUSKOGEE, I. T., May 28.—A consultation of democratic leaders from the various sections of Indian Territory has ended in the conclusion that neither Hearst nor Parker is a suitable man for the party's nominee for president. It looks now as though the Durant convention will not instruct its delegates at all. However, a change in sentiment may, in some way, be brought about before the convention meets. There are some Hearst workers still in the field, and Parker has some ardent supporters, but nothing short of revolutionary methods will change the resolution of the leading democrats not to instruct.

Should Grover Cleveland be an avowed candidate by the time the convention meets, the situation might experience a change, or even if David B. Francis were to come in with anything like a show, Indian Territory democrats might indorse him. But Hearst, although it is claimed by his supporters that sentiment here is in favor of his nomination, apparently has no chance at all. Even Parker would be preferable to the convention.

The differences over the statehood proposition are widening daily, and the peacemakers are becoming alarmed lest it will be impossible to keep a resolution out of the convention declaring for single statehood. That a majority of the democrats of the territory prefer single statehood is so evident that even the double statehooders are falling in line with those who oppose making the convention responsible for an expression.

Those who, when the proposition of passing resolutions on the matter was first started, entered objections, were largely single statehooders. They opposed resolutions simply because they thought it would be poor policy to do anything which might hamper the democrats in congress when the statehood bill comes up next fall. If the alarm of the double statehooders is sufficient to keep them quiet, it is very possible that no resolution will come to life.

The division in the democratic party of the Indian Territory this year is a little bit different from any former controversy. Heretofore those members of the party in the Creek and Cherokee nations have almost to a man opposed those of the Chickasaw and Choctaw nations. The present divisional split on the statehood question has worked to the favor of the southern division by reason of the fact that the Choctaw and Chickasaw democrats have all along been in favor of single statehood. Thus this faction has gained strength in the split, while the northern faction has lost some of its most ardent workers.

THE TIME WILL COME

When the Advice of This Fort Worth Resident Will Help You

Very few people are entirely free from backache. It does not take much to derange the kidneys. A little cold, strain, stooping positions or hard work overtaxes those delicate organs and many aches and pains promptly follow. A Fort Worth citizen tells you here how every kidney ill can be relieved and cured. Read about it:

S. J. Huff, carpenter, of 210 Pine street, says: "If I stooped over at my work or lifted any heavy weight it started an aching in my back and in spite of numerous plasters and different remedies I used nothing seemed to do me any real good. I was in this condition off and on for more than three years. The kidney secretions were irregular and distressing. I also suffered from headaches and spells of dizziness. A friend finally recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me, stating that he had used them with good results, and I procured a box. They acted quickly and permanently and soon relieved me of the backache, as well as the kidney difficulty. I am pleased to recommend them to others."

MUSKOGEE DISTRICT HAS ELEVEN WELLS

MUSKOGEE, I. T., May 28.—The oil proposition in this city is no longer mere boom and excitement, but real profits are already coming in. There are eleven wells in this field producing oil and gas, and six new ones are being sunk. So far but one "dry hole" has been drilled.

The average combined output of the wells already producing oil is about 350 barrels a day. The greatest producers are the Pioneer No. 2 and the Eureka. The others are all paying investments, but these two are exceptional wells. The wells already producing are: Pioneer wells Nos. 1, 2 and 3, the Eureka, Enterprise, Muskogee, Needmore and Success. The gas wells are Great Chief No. 2 and the United.

Some of the wells being drilled are due to "come in" within the next few days. The Pioneer company will begin drilling its fourth well some time this week.

BITTER CONTEST FOR THE GOVERNORSHIP

MUSKOGEE, I. T., May 28.—Thomas W. Hunter of Caddo, Choctaw nation, says he is getting ready for his second campaign against Green McCurtain for governor of his nation. McCurtain is the nominee of the Tuskahoma party, by which he was carried to victory two years ago during one of the most bitter contests ever seen in an Indian Territory election.

It was during the contests following this election that Indian Agent Shoenfelt was compelled to call for United States troops to keep down an impending riot, while the returns were being canvassed at Tuskahoma. The party which supported Hunter has always claimed that its candidate was elected, and counted out by the judges. Bitterness still exists between the two factions, and, the coming election being the last of the nation, it is very probable that a bitter contest will be waged.

HOTEL FIRE RESULTS IN DEATH OF TWO

LAWTON, Okla., May 28.—Two men, unable to escape from the flames and suffocating smoke of a fire in the Farmers' hotel here, were burned to death. Their names are John Brennon and Hal McCabe, one a section foreman and the other a section hand.

Frank Moore received injuries by jumping from the second story window and John Kelley by falling down a flight of stairs in attempting to save one of the men first being suffocated by the smoke. The landlady and her two children and Billy Morgan, the proprietor of the building, escaped in their night clothes with slight injury. The fire began shortly after 1 o'clock, and nearly the entire house was in flames before the occupants were aware that it was burning. Alarms from the outside and the suffocating smoke awoke them.

Brennon, who was sleeping in an upstairs room near the kitchen, alarmed the occupants, but in his efforts to save their lives, lost his own. He rushed wildly through the hallway in the blinding smoke, returned to his room presumably for some of his belongings, and there became suffocated. He lay down again upon is bed. Firemen dug his charred remains from the debris an hour later, and found him with his arms folded lying stretched upon the bed springs.

Kelly and McCabe, in attempting to save Brennon, both fell headlong down the steps, where, enveloped in flames and suffocated with smoke, McCabe died in screams of great agony, while Kelly, becoming unconscious, knows not how he made his escape.

HOW CHICAGO PUTS END TO "POLICY"

Business of $10,000,000 a Year Has Been About Knocked Out by New Line of Attack

CHICAGO, May 28.—Policy gambling in Chicago with a profit estimated at $10,000,000 is declared by Assistant Chief of Police Schuettler practically to have been obliterated by a new line of attack against the policy men. As a result of a conference between Schuettler and Assistant State's Attorney Blair, the grand jury today will begin voting indictments against policy men already arrested, numbering 174, and all that may be captured hereafter.

Cases now pending in the Harrison street police court against the keepers of policy shops and the policy writers are to be dismissed at the request of the corporation counsel's office, it is announced that full attention may be given by county and city officials to preparing evidence for the grand jury.

The decision to transfer the scene of court action against the policy men from the police court to the criminal court was reached after such a step had been considered for several days at the state's attorneys office. It is now agreed that all keepers of policy shops are to be indicted on the charge of conducting a lottery business and the policy writers for "selling lottery tickets" or having lottery tickets in their possession.

The maximum fine that may be imposed on a violation of any of these charges is $2,000.

Evidence is not wanting, say the police, that the policy men already are "on the run" as a result of the activity of the gambling detail. Instead of being thronged with patrons, as was the case a week ago, the shops are generally deserted, save for their keepers. In nine raids yesterday only one shop was discovered to have more than 2 inmates.

WENT TO PENITENTIARY INSTEAD OF A FRIEND

HOUSTON, Texas, May 28.—The body of William Cramer lies in the morgue of Charles J. Wright awaiting burial. The evidence in the inquest hearing has been received and the verdict has been rendered.

Death from an overdose of morphine is declared by Justice of the Peace McDonald to have been the cause of dissolution. The drug is said to have been self-administered.

Cramer died night before last at the home of a friend on the San Felipe road. For years he had been known as a character of the city. Arrested on the charge of passing a counterfeit bill, he pleaded guilty and was sent to a government prison. But a short time before his death he was pardoned. According to his own story of the affair he took the punishment to save a friend. The evidence of the case tended to show that a $10 bill had been raised to $100 and passed by Cramer.

The man who altered the bill was not arrested.

STRATTON EXECUTORS TO SELL MINE HOLDINGS

COLORADO SPRINGS, May 28.—One of the greatest financial transactions in the history of the state is about to be carried through by the executors of the will of the late Winfield Scott Stratton.

It includes the sale of all of Mr. Stratton's mining claim holdings in the Cripple Creek district and the construction of a huge office building in Denver as a revenue producing investment. It is stated that $1,000,000 is likely to be put into the building.

The price to be paid for the Cripple Creek property is $4,500,000 and the purchasers are Boston men of means, who have interested European capitalists with them.

FARMERS ARE BUSY CUTTING THEIR OATS

DECATUR, Texas, May 28.—The farmers in this section are now very busy cutting their wheat and oats. Conservative farmers estimate that wheat through this section will average between ten and fifteen bushels per acre, and that oats will average about twenty-five bushels per acre.

Dr. R. L. Miller of Wichita Falls was here this week on business.

Be it known that in the name of Justice

The unwarrantable attack of some editor upon the good name of a medicine which has been recommended by mothers and women in all stations of life, claiming that it contains 17% alcohol and other injurious ingredients, will be answered, for Dr. R. V. Pierce, the widely-known physician and founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., has brought suit against the publication making this unfounded attack, claiming $200,000 damages. The sworn complaint shows that the statements concerning our remedy made by this publication are wholly and absolutely false in every particular, and that the medicine contains no deleterious ingredients whatever, and none of the ingredients stated in the article so published. If you question the purity of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, send a bottle to the health department of your city for analysis. Dr. R. V. Pierce is a specialist in the diseases of women, and employed this Prescription in a large practice, and finding that it cured the diseases and weaknesses of women in almost every case, he put it up in a form that could be easily procured at any drug store. It has enjoyed the confidence of the public for the past thirty-eight years, and during that time has had a larger sale than any other woman's tonic, for almost every woman who has tried it recommends it to her friends. Dr. R. V. Pierce is willing to offer $1,000 reward to any one proving that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription does or ever did contain any alcohol or harmful drugs. This Prescription is nature's cure, because it is a pure compound of medicinal plants and roots, scientifically extracted and combined, intended for the one single purpose of curing female weakness and the pains and drains incident to that distressing complaint. One of the largest wholesale drug houses in this country, writing from Philadelphia, stated, that after their attention was called to the article in the publication mentioned, they asked the most prominent chemist in Philadelphia, Dr. Leffmann, to procure a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and report concerning the analysis. They say: "We received the following report:

"In response to a request from you we have tested a sample of the article sold as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and have not been able to find either alcohol or opium in the same."

Yours,
(Signed) HENRY LEFFMANN,
CHARLES H. LAWALL.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is so well and favorably known and has such a wide sale that its makers could not afford to allow such a charge to pass unanswered, consequently they have brought suit against the publication and will dis-prove the charges by competent chemists. Here is the result of another prominent chemist's analysis:

CHEMICAL LABORATORY
UNIVERSITY OF BUFFALO,
HERBERT M. HILL, PH. D.,
Chemist to the City of Buffalo.
BUFFALO, N. Y., May 2d, 1904.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, City:

Gentlemen—Three original sealed bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription were purchased by me at different stores in this city. These samples have been carefully examined with the following results:

Each sample was tested separately for alcohol (ethyl alcohol) and each was found to be free from that substance. A sample, consisting of a portion of each bottle, was examined for the alkaloids of opium and for digitalis, and well-known and very sensitive tests show the absence of these substances.

The work mentioned has been thorough and I am certain that common alcohol, opium and digitalis are not present in the samples examined.

Respectfully,
HERBERT M. HILL,
Professor of Chemistry University of Buffalo.

Many women certify to the value of "Favorite Prescription," as well as some physicians:

Yorktown, Ark., July 30, 1903.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—I am not giving to writing very much, but after using a remedy for years with uniform success I think it not out of place to write a few lines regarding same.

After finishing my education at the old Missouri Medical College (the oldest college of any kind west of Mississippi River), in 1883, I commenced practicing medicine in this country. For a number of years I was very reluctant about using anything not strictly ethical, but for several years I have been using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription with much success in treatment of the various female complaints. For young girls just changing to womanhood it is an excellent medicine to tide them through that change, and for all irregularities of the monthly period I find it the remedy. For pregnant women I use it to tone up and strengthen the delicate organs of generation. For ladies suffering about the change of life it is also a splendid remedy. I know there exists a prejudice with some doctors regarding the use of proprietary remedies, but after twenty years' experience, I have learned to use any remedy that will benefit my patients, which I consider the logical view a doctor should take on the subject.

Very respectfully,
LELAND WILLIAMSON, M. D.

We guarantee that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription does not contain alcohol, opium, or any harmful drug. It is a pure compound of medicinal plants scientifically combined. Persons making false statements concerning its ingredients will be prosecuted.

World's Dispensary Medical Association,
R. V. Pierce
PRESIDENT.

LOCAL OPTION CASE TO THE SUPREME COURT

Question Regarding Validity of an Election in Nolan County Is Certified to the Highest Tribunal

The court of civil appeals today certified an important question affecting the status of local option elections to the supreme court for its decision. The matter certified arose in the case of the commissioners court of Nolan county against J. H. Beall and others, on appeal from the district court of Nolan county. The question as to the validity of the election is identical with the Cooke county case, styled Ex Parte Heyman, recently decided by the court of criminal appeals against the legality of the election and denying the right of the commissioners court to create a subdivision of two or more precincts into a local option district.

This recent decision by the court of criminal appeals is in direct conflict with the decision of the court of civil appeals at Dallas in the case of Kidd vs. Truett, and the mooted question is now submitted to the supreme court of the state for its decision, which will control civil cases, although criminal cases may not be affected until the court of criminal appeals recedes from its heretofore announced position, wherein Associated Justice Brooks dissented.

The facts of the Nolan county case which give rise to the certified question are in substance as follows:

On October 3, 1903, a local option election was ordered for a subdivision of Nolan county, including commissioners precincts Nos. 1 and 2. The election was held, precinct No. 1 voting again prohibition, while No. 2 voted for prohibition. The sum total of the vote showed a majority of 6 for prohibition. The commissioners' court refused to declare the above result and was mandamused by the district judge; the result, as announced by the commissioners court, was that prohibition was defeated in precinct No. 1, but had carried in No. 2.

The material questions as stated by the appellate court are these:

1. Whether under section 20 of article 16 of the constitution of 1876, as amended in 1891, and amended article 3384 of the revised civil statutes of Texas, the commissioners court of Nolan county, under the circumstances stated, were authorized to order an election as was done on October 31, 1903, for a subdivision of Nolan county composed of commissioners' precincts Nos. 1 and 2; and, if so, whether the fact that justices' precinct No. 5, situated within commissioners' precinct No. 1, and having the prohibitory law in force, as stated, nullifies said election of October 31, 1903?

The court says:

"In view of the decision of our court of criminal appeals in Ex Parte Heyman, 78 S. W. Rep., p. 349, and Ex Parte Mills, 10 Texas Court Reporter, p. 23, and of the decision of the court of civil appeals for the Fifth district, in the case of Kidd vs. Truett, 5 Texas Court Reporter, p. 79, and of other cases cited in the decisions named, and in the briefs of the parties herein, we deem it advisable to certify to your honors the questions above indicated for determination."

CASES ACTED ON

The following cases were acted on this morning by the court of civil appeals:

Reversed and remanded—W. K. Bell et al vs. Wilson Bates et al; F. O. McKensie vs. Walter Watson.

On motion for rehearing—R. P. Gouhenour vs. A. L. Anderson et al.

Affirmed—Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company et al vs. W. L. Swinney.

SAN ANGELO, Texas, May 28.—A grand military drill, trades display and concert was given at the opera house last night by 110 ladies of San Angelo for the benefit of the Baptist church. The entertainment was a unique one and was under the direction of Miss Mollie E. Jackson.

DALLAS BOY HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Officers of Traders' National Bank Here Prefer Charges Against W. A. Hassell, Jr.

Will A. Hassell, Jr., arrested on charges of passing forged instruments, attempting to pass forged instruments and for swindling, was brought into Justice of the Peace Rowland's court this morning and waived preliminary trial. The case was set down for hearing Tuesday morning next.

The above charges are preferred by the officers of the Traders National bank, which cashed a check purporting to have been drawn by P. L. Downs of a Galveston bank for $209.97. Later in the day yesterday Hassell appeared again at the bank and presented another check for $375, also signed by P. L. Downs, upon the back of which appeared the indorsement, "Pay Will A. Hassell, Jr." This check was not cashed. Young Hassell lives in Dallas and is prominently connected.

GOOD RAINS FALL ABOUT THE STATE

Heaviest Reported Was at San Antonio, Where the Precipitation was Three Inches

Good rains fell in a number of places throughout the state yesterday and last night, the heaviest fall occurring at San Antonio, where the precipitation reached almost 3 inches. Reports from Amarillo state that a good rain fell yesterday evening throughout the Panhandle country, being of inestimable value.

At San Antonio the official figures show the precipitation to have been 2.86 inches, the greater part of which fell within a few hours, resulting in the flooding of the streets and the inundating of the low ground. Considerable damage occurred as a result of the rain filling cellars. The Alamo plaza in the center of the city was under water for several hours before the sewers were able to carry off the rain.

A good rain, beneficial to crops, occurred at Grandview last night, although more rain is said to be needed to insure a good season.

Light rains fell at Corpus Christi yesterday morning, the precipitation, however, being only .04 inches. At Lampasas a heavy down pour began about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and continued until the total rainfall reached 2.10 inches. The rain which was reported as general through that section filled the streams and a large part of the flat country was inundated.

San Angelo reports the best rain for several years as falling in that portion of the stock country being received at that place from Ozona, Sonora, Edith, Eldorado and Eola.

At Hearne a good soaking rain of 1.44 inches occurred; Waco reported a fall of .84 inches; Kerrville .32 inches, and Palestine .22 inches. Lighter rains also fell at Corsicana, Greenville, Waxahachie, Temple and Hillsboro.

On the day preceding a good rain fell at McKinney, Robert Lee, Joshua and Barstow.

A two hours' rain is also reported as falling early yesterday morning at Roswell, N. M.

Locally the humidity of the past few days continued this morning, after a more comfortable day yesterday, and the promised probable showers for tonight or tomorrow are expected to clear the atmosphere.

"LIKE RICHES"

Same in California as Elsewhere

An entertaining Californian writes of his coffee experience as follows: "Seems to me biliousness is a good deal like riches, some men are born with it, some acquire it, some have it thrust upon them. In a way I might be included in all three classes.

"I was born with a physical make-up naturally prone to biliousness, for both father and mother were coffee drinkers and bilious; sick headaches are among my earliest memories and clung to me long after I reached manhood. My parents drank coffee and allowed me to drink it as soon as I could sit at the table. I never knew what morning I should get up sick and miserable with a bilious headache and never made an appointment to attend a banquet, picnic or other festive occasion without adding, 'If I don't have a bilious spell.'

"The headaches became more frequent, I was nervous, irritable and sick half the time. Finally it became plain that I was fast fitting myself out as a complete wreck.

"One day, while at the grocery, seeing an array of Postum packages on the shelves, I asked the grocer what it was like. He replied that after using it for a while one would prefer it even to coffee, and added that he had used it on account of sleeplessness and unsteadiness of his nerves and that it had cured him; I concluded to take a package home and behold we have used Postum ever since.

"Almost at once after beginning Postum my bilious attacks ceased and I commenced to feel better; at the end of a year I began to grow heavier and now weigh about twenty pounds more than I did before using Postum; my liver is right, biliousness all gone, digestion good, not irritable, my temper is serene and I get much more out of life than I did when a coffee drinker. No case could speak more eloquently for the merits of Postum than my own, for it has given me better health, more vim and energy—in short made a new man of me." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Look in each package for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

BEGIN WORK ON BOYS' DORMITORY

George Mulkey said this morning that it was the intention of the management of Polytechnic college to begin work on the boy's new dormitory, which is to be built at once. The contract calls for the completion of the building within ninety-five days, during the coming week. It will be three stories high and will contain fifty-six rooms. There is to be a dining room thirty-eight by fifty-eight feet.

Two friends of the college who reside outside of Fort Worth have agreed to erect for the institution a dining room for the girls of the college, to take the place of the frame building now being used.

Mr. Mulkey stated that the college has just closed one of the most successful terms in its history, the attendance reaching during the scholastic term about 300. He says that the coming year will see one of the largest enrollments made in many years, and confidently believes that the number will reach the 400 mark.

There is a move on foot to have the rooms of the boy's dormitory furnished by individuals. Already five or six persons have agreed to fix up rooms.

ENGINEER OF S. P. RY. COMING TO FORT WORTH

AUSTIN, Texas, May 28.—Captain W. S. Mabry of San Antonio, engineer of the Southern Pacific Railway Company, called at the capital this morning. Captain Mabry is a warm personal friend of Acting Governor Neal and spent some time with him in the executive office. He is on his way to Fort Worth, from which city he will go to Borden county.

He is one of the old surveyors in the state, and between the years 1880 and 1885 surveyed and located numerous tracts, embracing thousands of acres in the Panhandle, both for the railroads and individuals.
