Mrs. Hall's Recital.

The music recital given at the court house last Friday evening by Mrs. Hall and her class was pronounced by all present to be one of the greatest treats ever afforded a Portales audience.

The evening was ideal and the spacious court room was packed until there was scarcely standing room. The large stage was very tastefully arranged and made an elegant setting for the various well rendered numbers. Mrs. Hall understands perfectly the demands of the non-professional audience and had interspersed her musical program with a variety of changes, so that the program, although rather long, was interesting to every one present from first to last.

The young ladies who rendered the music, the majority of whom have studied music for less than a year, and were appearing before an audience for the first time in their lives, interpreted their selections, most of which were classic, with that ease and brilliancy of execution and faultlessness of technique that one would expect only from well advanced musicians.

The little girls in their pantomime, "Nearer My God to Thee," won the hearts of the audience by their graceful posing to the sweet words and soft music of the grand old hymn.

"Hiawatha," as read by Mrs. Hall and acted in pantomime by the class of young ladies, was intensely interesting, while the graceful minuet brought to mind recollections of colonial days and the ways of "Auld Lang Syne."

The cornet solos by Will Breeding were well executed and recitations by the little tots were heartily applauded.

The male quartettes were very popular with the audience, the comic song, as usual, winning more applause than anything else during the evening. In fact, there was not a dry number on the program, which would have done credit to a city.

Mrs. Hall deserves great credit for the success of the recital. She is a musician of some note, having taught in some of the best schools of Texas, and Portales is fortunate in holding such a teacher and public entertainer.

In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. DOCTOR OSLER GIVES ADVICE.

His Theories Concerning Medicine and Physicians.

Dr. William Osler writes: "Man has an inborn craving for medicine. Heroic dosing for several generations has given his tissues a thirst for drugs. As I once before remarked, the desire to take medicine is one feature which distinguishes man, the animal, from his fellow creature. It is really one of the most serious difficulties with which we have to contend. Even in minor ailments, which would yield to dieting or to simple home remedies, the doctor's visit is not thought to be complete without the prescription."

Of the cultured physician he says: "In no profession does culture count for so much as in medicine, and no man needs it more than the general practitioner, working among all sorts and conditions of men, many of whom are influenced quite as much by his general ability, which they can appreciate, as by his learning, of which they have no measure."

Dr. Osler advises physicians to "walk with the young." "I would urge the clinical physician, as he travels farther from the east, to look well to his companions—to see that they are not of his own age and generation. He must walk with the 'boys.' He must travel with the men who are doing the work of the world, the men between the ages of 25 and 40."

ARMENIAN DIED HERO'S DEATH.

Made Splendid Defense of His Residence at Baku.

Adamoff was an Armenian hero of Baku. The author of a recent volume on that city has this to say of him: "Adamoff was the crack rifle shot in Baku, one of the wealthiest Armenians engaged in the oil business, and his residence in Armanianska street was one of the palaces of the city, so far as the magnificence of the oriental decoration was concerned. He stood a three days' siege and shot no fewer than forty Tartars, who, on the last day, formed a heap of dead at the corner of the street. Adamoff was supplied with cartridges by his young son, who got shot in that service. And then Adamoff himself was hit on the balcony of his house, whence he had so long defended it. Receiving a shot in the shoulder, the deadly marksman dropped his rifle on to the railing of a balcony, but, nerved with the courage of despair and determined to sell his life still more dearly, he continued shooting. His movements became slow, the Tartars became more aggressive, and the fatally received a fatal wound which laid him low on the balcony."

Duel by Proxy in France.

It is not often that one of the principals in a French duel backs out, but an incident of this kind happened yesterday, says a dispatch from Paris. An encounter had been arranged between M. Gomez Carrio and M. Austin de Croze, but the latter failed to appear at the appointed time, and half an hour later a telegram was received from him to the effect that he did not intend to fight. The disappointed principal was determined to have satisfaction from somebody, and he suggested to M. George Dubois, the well-known fencing master, who was one of the absent man's seconds that he would step into the breach. M. Dubois was agreeable, but owing to his superior skill with the sword he proposed that the duel be fought with pistols. No pistols being obtainable for the moment, the pair faced each other with swords. In the second round M. Dubois "pinned" his adversary in the arm and the outraged honor of the latter was declared to be satisfied—London Chronicle.

More Work for Wilson.

A servant girl in the household of a Pottsville, Pa., family was slicing potatoes for dinner the other day, when she found one that was particularly watery. She was about to throw it away when the knife struck something hard. She cut it out and showed it to her mistress. It proved to be a pearl, which jewelers value at $10. Now, then, here is an opportunity for Secretary of Agriculture Wilson. Let him take up immediately the investigation and propagation of the pearl-bearing potato. There is not a constituent of any congressman but would like to have sample and experimental packages of that vegetable. The seed of a potato that grows pearls would be much more highly appreciated than several packages of peas good only for a cheap porridge.—Savannah News.

Tobacco Injures Soldiers.

Britain wants better marksmen in its armies, but many people claim that the increasing use of cigarettes among the soldiers is defeating this ambition. The duke of Wellington would not allow smoking in any form. His famous order ran as follows: "The commander in chief has been informed that the practice of smoking pipes and cigars and cheroots has become prevalent among the army, which is not only in itself a species of intoxication occasioned by the fumes of tobacco, but undoubtedly occasions drinking and tipping by those who acquire the habit." The order went up to beg officers to prevent smoking among the officers of junior ranks in their regiments.

Helping Out.

With an exclamation of delight the hardened tourist rushed out on the baggage platform and started to smash his trunk with an ax.

"Hold on!" shouted the baggage man. "Are you crazy?"

"Not at all," replied the hardened tourist as he continued to smash. "I read that baggage-men were overworked at this season, so I thought I would smash my own trunk and save you the trouble."

Ignorant French Recruits.

Sixty-two French recruits were recently asked to name the present form of government in France and to tell how it was established. Thirty-four replied "The republic" only; one man said, "The French government has been established by all the other countries together"; another, "The French government was established by a general assembly of all the coups d'etat."

DAZED WITH PAIN.

The sufferings of a Citizen of Olympia, Wash.

L. S. Gorham, of 516 East 4th St., Olympia, Wash., says: "Six years ago I got wet and took cold, and was soon flat in bed, suffering tortures with my back. Every movement caused an agonizing pain, and the persistence of it exhausted me, so that for a time I was dazed and stupid. On the advice of a friend, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, and soon noticed a change for the better. The kidney secretion had been disordered and irregular and contained a heavy sediment, but in a week's time the urine was clear and natural again and the passage regular. Gradually the aching and soreness left my back and then the lameness. I used six boxes to make sure of a cure, and the trouble has never returned."

Winston Churchill's Egotism.

When Winston Churchill was at the battle of Spion Kop as correspondent of the London Morning Post, he was lurching with the general and his staff while the battle was raging above. One of the officers bantered the young correspondent on his assurance and success. "No doubt," he said, "you have got on surprisingly well, but you owe it all to the fact that you are Randy's son." "Sir," replied Winston, with his characteristic superb audacity, "the time is coming when Lord Randolph Churchill will be chiefly remembered as the father of Winston Churchill!"

DIED SUDDENLY

OF HEART DISEASE.

How frequently does a head line similar to the above greet us in the newspapers. The rash, proud and strenuousness of the American people has a strong tendency to lead up to vital and other affections of the heart, attended by irregular action, palpitation, dizziness, smothered sensations and other distressing symptoms.

Three of the prominent ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made are recommended by some of the leading writers on Materia Medica for the cure of just such cases. Golden Seal root, for instance, is said by the UNITED STATES DISPENSARY, a standard authority, "to impart tone and increased power to the heart's action." Numerous other leading authorities represent Golden Seal as an unsurpassed tonic for the muscular system in general, and as the heart is almost wholly composed of muscular tissue, it naturally follows that it must be greatly strengthened by this powerful general tonic. But probably the most important ingredient of "Golden Medical Discovery," so far as its marvelous cure of valvular and other affections of the heart are concerned, is Stone root, or Collinsonia Can., Prof. Wm. Patten, author of Pain's Eclectic Medical Journal, says of it: "I, not long since, had a patient who was so much oppressed with valvular disease of the heart that his friends were obliged to carry him up stairs. He, however, gradually recovered, and his recovery was due to the medicinal principle extracted from Stone root, and is now attending to his usual business. With them it was all guess-work, and it fearfully warned the afflicted that death was near at hand. Cold and rheumatism unquestionably afford relief in such cases, and in most instances effects a cure."

Stone root is also recommended by Drs. Hale and Ellingwood, of Chicago, for valvular and other diseases of the heart. The latter says: "It is a heart tonic of direct and permanent influence."

"Golden Medical Discovery" not only cures serious heart affections, but is a most efficient general tonic and invigorator, strengthening the stomach, enlarging and curing catarrhal affections in all parts of the system.

TWO OPEN

IMPORTANT TO MARRIAGE

Mrs. Mary

THE TIMES.
OTHER.
 The following communication was copied from the Goldthwaite Eagle:
 The Great Religious Weekly has just alighted in our home and such a scramble to see which one gets the pickings. The Eagle to us is like unto a love letter from our best "follow."
 Well, we are having some real nice farming weather, and the "nesters" are making good use of the time. There is more ground broke ready for planting than has been at this time of the year since I have lived here. The season so far has been quite favorable for the farmers. There has been a great deal of snow here this winter, therefore great anticipations are with us for a bumper corn crop. Let me tell you just now I have more corn in my crib than I raised in any one year while I resided in Mills county. We grow almost anything we plant and cultivate. Yet, for some time 'twas thought nothing would grow here save sorghum and kafir. Last year there was considerable acreage in cotton only in small patches, some that was properly worked and cultivated, proved to be a paying experiment. There were about fifty bales of seed cotton shipped from Portales to Hereford, Texas, to be ginned; therefore, we are satisfied of the experiment, and the talk now, is that Roosevelt county, New Mexico, will be classed among the fleecy staple counties. Bear in mind please, that we don't intend shipping our next crop to Texas to get it ginned, eh?
 While we have had some rain and lots of snow the stock have stood the winter remarkably well.
 While this part of New Mexico has never gone through but little excitement, nor ever had a boom it now looks like we are about to come to the front. Here is the way they come, listen:
 One hundred and ten homesteaders arrived on the southbound passenger train Thursday and are now busy at the land office making their filings. Part of this crowd have purchased deeded lands near town. If you want a home in Roosevelt county you will have to hurry.—Portales Times.
 A great many homesteads are being patented now since the five years residing thereon has expired.
 The new stone jail in Portales is about completed at a cost of thirty-five hundred dollars.
 Bonds were voted not long since in precinct one, for the erection of a public school building to cost $11,000.00. The present building being entirely too small, as there are over four hundred scholars enrolled in this district. I saw one living in my third school district and have not moved either. When I filed here I was in school district one; afterwards we built a school house and cut off Number seven. Still they come so we erected a neat frame house near the Portales Springs and called it 27. The good book says, "Be fruitful, multiply and replenish the earth."
 A FAIR TRADE—Well, I had about decided to show up in the Eagle office and close the deal, sign up and be happy when my better four-fifths touched hubby on the shoulder and declared her intention to go along too. With such unexpected declarations from deary I have decided to defer appearing in person, but if the editor will be kind enough to send me terms and plans I will accept as a favor.
 Mr. A. McPherson, one of the land marks of Mills county, is here and has filed near Red Lake in this county. Mr. McPherson contemplates building two stone buildings on his lots in Portales in the spring. One he intends for a land and loan office, the other will be used expressly for the Lime Kiln Club. He says that he will invite Judge Matt Roach, Hugh Carroll and some other old timers to be with him at the grand opening.
 Maid o' Washboard will please accept thanks for an invitation to write often. We read her letters with the greatest of pleasure.
 Mrs. J. C. (Belle) Wilsford has been very sick with fever. At one time not expected to survive, but we are glad that she is out of danger and will be up soon.
 Mrs. Harrison's health has greatly improved since we came here.
 "FAR AWAY MOSES."
