Dreary Weather Clears Out

Although only 1.49 inches of moisture was officially recorded in Muleshoe during the past week, starting out with nearly one-half inch last Sunday, the weather in the area remained damp, cloudy and dreary during the entire week, until residents saw bright sunshine on Saturday with no clouds in the sky.

Each day, fog, drizzle, and rain stayed in the weather picture throughout the area, bringing all farming operations and harvesting to a complete halt.

During most of the week, school buses for Muleshoe and Lazbuddie operated on 'pavement only' at least every morning, as soggy, water-logged roads kept the buses confined to the paved areas.

By Saturday morning, the National Weather Service predicted temperatures into the mid-70's by afternoon, followed by more warm temperatures on Sunday.

At the same time, they said cool, moist weather would move back into the state during the week.

Juniors Plan Annual Dinner For Thanksgiving

Friday night, preceding the final football game of the season for the Muleshoe Mules, the junior class will be serving their annual Thanksgiving dinner.

Turkey, dressing and all the trimmings will be on the menu at only $4 for adults, and $2.50 for children under the age of 10.

Serving will be in the Muleshoe High School cafeteria from 5-7 p.m. and take out orders will be available. Carry out orders may be called in from 2-6 p.m., by calling 272-4360. Orders will be delivered from 5-6:30 p.m.

Area Wheat Acreage Increasing For 1985

One of the crops appearing to be thriving on the recent cool, wet weather is wheat. Winter wheat is growing far above average throughout the entire area, and may prove to be a boon to producers who are watching the weather harm their other crops, such as cotton and corn.

Largely due to the PIK program of 1983, wheat acreage has grown in a three county area, which includes Bailey, Lamb and Cochran Counties.

Laverne Winn of the ASC office in Muleshoe said the base acreage for wheat in Bailey County had increased greatly, and a total of 90,498 acres are signed up in the 1985 wheat program.

Mrs. Winn said that originally, farmers had planted wheat for a cover crop in the PIK program, and after making a crop and harvested it, found they had a good crop. She said

NWS officials said several cool fronts are expected to pass through northern New Mexico early in the week, and will possibly bring additional moisture to the South Plains.

Newspaper's Subscription Sale Starts

For the past several years, members of the Muleshoe High School Mighty 'M' Marching Band has sold subscriptions to the Muleshoe and Bailey County Journals. However, this year, due to a conflict and new school regulations, the school organizations are only allowed to conduct two fund raising sales, so the band did not sell subscriptions.

Beginning this past Thursday, both the DECA and HECE Clubs from the high school are selling new subscriptions and renewals to the Journal. All proceeds from the sale by the two groups will be going into the HECE and DECA scholarship funds.

The organizations will receive percentages of both new subscriptions and renewals during the nine day sale, which will end on Friday, November 2.

If you are not contacted by a member of the DECA or HECE, you may place your order by calling Muleshoe High School at 272-3080, and ask for Linda Tanksley or Lola Pylant to return the call to you.

Your subscription will help further the education of a worthy student from Muleshoe High School.

the wheat crop will also provide a good 'crop history' for the farm.

At Farwell, Jo Schell of the ASC said the wheat has acreage for that county had increased from 146,000 acres in 1984 to the 149,075.2 signed up for the 1985 program.

Starla Brandon at the ASC office in Littlefield said 98,632.9 acres had been signed up for the 1985 wheat program, compared to the 92,827.7 signed up for 1983.

Early planted wheat is growing rapidly, and some five-six weeks after being planted was ready for grazing, providing much-needed feed for livestock.

Wheat may be coming into the crop production picture in a big way for this area in future years, but, at this time, the acreages continue to increase each year.

Muleshoe Mules Dumped By Wet Tulia Hornets

Mule Mistakes Costly In Football Game

Trophies Ready For Presentation To Two Winners

Spooks and goblins abound around Muleshoe right now, with several homes as well as businesses decorating for the Halloween season.

At this time, five persons have officially entered their homes in the decorating contest, according to Toni Eagle, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

Entries received for the decorating contest include Max and Marilyn Crittenden, one and one half miles east on Highway 84 next to Valley Grain; Roger and Dawn Williams, 507 West 5th St.; Mickey Merriott, 1932 West Birch, just behind Dr. G's; Danny and Ricki Kelley, 1733 West Ave. D, and Lyndon and Linda Huckaby, 902 West 7th St.

Also, you may vote for any other decorated home, even if they are not listed here by calling the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture at 272-4248.

Many local businesses have decorated for Halloween, and votes may be cast in the commercial division, also by calling the CofC.

Trophies will be presented to the winner in the home division, as well as the commercial division.

Friday night, it all started out at Tulia with a steady drizzle, along with a fairly stiff southwest wind, a wind that bore no good news for the Muleshoe Mules.

Mule mistakes may have cost them the 21-7 loss to the Tulia Hornets, who took advantage of penalties and a fumble to add to their victory.

Although the Mules and the Hornets battled to a 0-0 tie at the end of the first quarter, a second quarter 15 yard penalty helped put the Hornets on the board when Hornet quarterback Todd Lacey lobbed an aerial 15 yards to Dee Anderson in the end zone. Cy Allen booted through the PAT and the Hornets owned the lead, a lead they did not relinquish during the game.

Muleshoe speedster tailback Mark Moton scampered in from the seven yard line at 1:08 of the second quarter, but the TD was called back on a holding penalty.

With 54 seconds left in the first half, Ray Vinson attempted a 27 yard field goal, but the attempt failed as the stiff wind caused the ball to drift off to the right.

As the Mules continued to hold the ground game for the Hornets, QB Lacey again took to the air and at 7:30 of the third, connected with Steve Powell on a 56-yard pass/run play into the end zone. Allen again booted through the extra point.

Tulia Hornets again widened the score when Lacey found Ricky Rodriguez and lobbed a 51 yard TD pass at 4:28 of the third to end scoring for the Hornets for the game. Allen's toe was again true and the Hornets at that point were 21-0 over the Mules at the end of the third.

With 2:17 left to play in the game, Mark Moton slammed his way through heavy traffic on a two yard touchdown, with Vinson booting through the PAT.

With just 2:01 left in the game, Tulia's Tony Powell went into the end zone, but the ball was called back on a Tulia penalty.

Mistakes proved to be very costly for the Mules as they went up against the Hornets, who took to the field determined for a victory, which became their second win all season.

The loss Friday night, dropped the Mules to 3-5 and 2-3 for the season, with Littlefield at Muleshoe next Friday night to Con't Page 6, Col. 1

Richards, Hance Will Visit Here In Afternoon

Don Richards is bringing his candidacy for Congressman, Nineteenth District, back to Muleshoe on Sunday, October 28.

He will be accompanied by Congressman Kent Hance and they will be at the Bailey County Civic Center and Coliseum from 3-5 p.m.

The public has been invited to attend the reception and ask Richards (or Hance) any questions which are concerning them about the upcoming election or the Congressional office.

Service Stars And Pins Presented To Cub Scouts

"Wild and Woolly" was the October theme of the Muleshoe Scout Pack 620 meeting on Tuesday night, October 23. In keeping with the theme, many small cowboys attended the meeting.

A song was provided by Den Nine, and a vigorous audience participation skit by Den One. A marauding green stepladder was the object of a roping contest with Mark Hicks and Chad McCormick being declared the winners.

Neil Watson, Charles Villarreal, Jr., and Thomas Watson received one year service stars and perfect attendance pins. Brian Rasco, Gilrobert Rennels, David Serrano, Randy Singleterry, and David Ramirez received one year service stars.

Chance Bruns was presented a one year service star and a silver wolf arrowpoint. Scott Miramontes and Dustin Wilhite won their one year service stars and Bear badges. David Lutz and Steven Wauson received Bear badges, one year service stars, gold Bear arrowpoints, with Steven also earning three silver Bear arrowpoints.

Chris Wilson was given his silver Bear arrowpoint and Chad Freeman received two silver Bear arrowpoints. Chad McCormick received a one year service star and a silver Bear

Trick Or Treat Set Wednesday By Local CofC

As the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture determines each year what night will be designated for children as "Trick or Treat" night, CofC manager Toni Eagle has set aside Wednesday, October 31, as the night for the youngsters.

Mrs. Eagle commented, "That is the only night that will be authorized for Trick or Treaters this year. We would encourage all youngsters to take part in the other activities planned, like the Halloween Carnival on Saturday night preceding Halloween."

MEET ARCHIE, THE IN-HOUSE SCARECROW--Muleshoe Nursing Home residents welcomed a new member this week, when Archie, pictured here in his chair, came to live for awhile. He is being affectionately greeted by Lois Ethridge, who lives in the Nursing Home. The scarecrow is called the 'boyfriend' of the Nursing Home residents.

The Twenty-Five Percent Budget

Family budgeting might be easier if there were some simple guidelines for spending money.

Actually, it's very difficult to tell any family how much they should spend on food, clothing, shelter, transportation and other items, because all families are different, says family finance expert Nancy L. Granovsky.

But financial counselors at some of the non-profit consumer credit counseling services have developed a simple, easy to understand system called the 25 percent budget, says Granovsky, a home economist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

While using this set of budget guidelines may not be helpful to every family, it does provide a benchmark, especially for those who are not budgeting at all and may be experiencing some financial difficulty, she notes.

To make this budget work, you divide your monthly take home pay into four equal parts. Assign 25 percent for housing, 25 percent for food, 25 percent for monthly loan payments and 25 percent for everything else, explains Granovsky.

Allowing 25 percent for housing, including taxes and if possible, utilities, means you won't exceed one week's take home pay for housing costs.

Allow 25 percent for food, including groceries, children's lunches, and other meals away from home.

Allow 25 percent for monthly payments on everything you are buying on time, such as a car, furniture, television, appliances, home improvements or credit card charges.

The final 25 percent should cover everything else like savings, insurance, education, recreation, contributions, child care, personal expenses and emergencies.

The percentages in each budget category are flexible, she points out. For example, some families may spend 30-35 percent on housing. This means that each of the other parts on the budget will have to be reduced.

But no matter how you divide up your take-home income, says the home economist, your expenses will have to add up to 100 percent. If they don't, you'll have a personal case of deficit spending on your hands.

PARENT GUIDE

By Nancy Moore Thurmond

Children develop various and sundry fears about the dark. You can best alleviate them by reassurance, not by showing anxiety or being overly concerned. Any other reaction on your part accentuates the problem.

Nightmares usually can be traced to unusually exciting or frightening incidents that occurred during the day.

Listen to your child, comfort him, and put him back to bed. If he is afraid of the dark, you might try a small nightlight in his room until he outgrows the fear.

You might also reassuringly tell him that you love him, that God is watching over him, and that the two of you will protect him in every way.

Children need the security of having their bedtime routine follow the same sequence each night, no matter how dull this may be for you.

If you and your child get a good night's sleep, you will be better able to handle any daytime or nighttime problem that may arise with firmness, consistency, and patience, which all add up to love.

Differences In Dual Income Lifestyles

Having children, as well as having two pay checks, creates some major lifestyle differences among dual-income families, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

Researchers have now developed profiles of dual-income families with no children, those with young children, and those with older children, explains Diane T. Welch.

According to the profiles, families with no children have work and spousal relationships as top priorities, says Welch, who is a specialist in family life education. Their lives are busy by choice and they are still struggling with the question of when or whether to have children. They spend primarily on material goods and target most savings for short-term goals, she notes.

As might be expected, the research shows that children dominate the lifestyle of dual-income families with young children, the home economist reports. Women take the primary responsibility for home and children, and make the children their number one priority. Men at this stage still find their work a priority, but the family is important to them too.

For many families, these are the years of greatest financial strain, says the specialist. The profiles indicate that many women work outside the home to provide additional income, and that young families often have little discretionary income after maintaining their homes and spending for necessities.

A more manageable lifestyle characterizes dual-income families with older children, observes Welch. While family relationships are important at this stage, many men and women make personal time a high priority. Husbands and older children are also more likely to help out with household tasks.

The research also shows these older families concerned about college expenses and saving for retirement.

The research, sponsored by the Public Issues and Consumer Programs Department of J.C. Penney, Inc., is helpful in describing the needs and identifying some potential stresses for dual-income families, maintains the home economist.

"But having children is probably not the only factor that affects the life-style of these families," Welch says. Whatever the primary motivation for both spouses working -- whether financial need, career orientation or some other objective -- will also affect the family's lifestyle and attitudes, she says.

MISS JANET NIX

Large Crowd Attends Sudan Ex-students-Teachers Dinner

The Sudan Ex-students-Teachers enjoyed a turkey dinner served by the Band Parents Saturday, Oct. 13 at the school cafeteria with Jerry Ray, president, presiding over the business meeting. Some 165 ex-students, teachers and guests attended.

The F.T.A. held a reception for the guests with a tour of the new building prior to the banquet.

Phelps Blune gave the in-citation and Robin Davis, vice president, had the entertainment which consisted of a skit presented by Shawnda Masten, Sharla Harrison and Jeannie Nix.

Betty Masten presented gifts to Steve Fisher from Seattle, Wash. who traveled the most miles to attend Homecoming; to Wendy Wiseman Branson of Lubbock for being the youngest to attend and Sadie Wills, for being the oldest ex-student.

Each of the honored classes gave an account of their past experiences at Sudan, where they now live and where their classmates are.

Jane Netherland read the minutes of last year's meeting. Superintendent Willie McAlpin, welcomed the ex-students and Jerry Ray recognized the ones who had graduated from Sudan. Guests were welcomed and teachers recognized.

Officers for the coming year were elected, the include: Robin Davis, president; Phelps Blume, vice president; and Peggy Ray, secretary/treasurer.

Kevin Pickrell closed the meeting with the benediction.

Following the meeting, a reception was held in the cafeteria with coffee and cookies being served.

Rebekah Lodge

Members of the Rebekah Lodge met for their regular meeting Tuesday night, Oct. 23, with Sandy Ronison, Noble Grand, in charge. Juanita Snow, acting Chaplain, opened the meeting with a prayer.

Fern Davis, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting.

It was reported that the Rebekah's are going to have a Halloween party Tuesday night, Oct. 30th. Members are asked to attend "Tackie" in costume or what ever they want to wear. Those who do not attend as a "Spook" will be fined and the best "Spook" will be given a prize.

Following a short business meeting, Maude Young gave the closing prayer. Refreshment hostesses for the evening were Dimple Sims, Ruby Green and Maud Young. Fourteen members were present.

Pre-Nuptial Shower Fetes Miss Janet Nix

Miss Janet Nix, bride elect of Clifford Watson, was feted with a prenuptial shower Sunday, Oct. 21 from 2 until 3:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Wayland

TOPS CLUB

Muleshoe TOPS Club chapter No. 34 met at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 18 in the meeting room of Bailey County Electric.

Clara Lou Jones, leader, called the meeting to order. The TOPS pledge was recited and the fellowship song sung.

Laverne James, weight recorder, called the roll with 13 members present. Evelene Harris, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting and they were approved.

Evelene Harris was named best loser for the week. First runner up was Jewell Peeler and Clara Lou Jones was second runner up.

Hazel Nowell celebrated her birthday. The group sang happy birthday to her and she received a gift from the birthday box. Jewell received a gift from the white elephant box, for having lost weight following being best loser the previous week.

The meeting was closed with the singing of the goodnight song.

Sudan High School Class Of 1934 Holds Reunion

In conjunction with the annual Sudan School Homecoming, the 1934, graduating class celebrated a 50th reunion Saturday, Oct. 13.

A coffee was held from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Senior Citizens Center. The table was covered with a lace edged white linen cloth and coffee and hot spiced fruit juice were served from silver appointments.

The floral arrangements of gold mums accented with a large black 50 was given by Virginia Nichols, in memory of her late husband, Randney, who was a member of the class of '34. Name tags for class members were decorated with a small picture of each one, taken from the 1934 class picture. Guests name tags were decorated with small hornets.

At 1 p.m., the group gathered around a luncheon table, decorated in the school colors of black and gold. Black and gold streamers, hornets and pots of gold mums were used to complete the decorating. Also decorating the dining area were black and gold school blankets, pom poms and megaphones.

A meal prepared and served by Mary Powell was enjoyed by those present.

Clyde Robertson of Amarillo was master of ceremonies. The invocation was given by Hubert Dykes of Sudan. A brief account of what each class member had done the past 50 years was given by Robertson.

Each one present added interesting things they remembered. The group enjoyed talking and laughing over how things were done in the "Olden Days" 50 years ago. The class of 1934, has had eight grandchildren to graduate from Sudan High and at present has four grandchildren attending Sudan schools.

There were 27 members in the class of '34, of which seven are known deceased. The luncheon group stood for 30 seconds in loving memory of these classmates.

Members of the 50 year class who attended were Maxine Barnes Carter of Bagdad, Ariz., Pearl Carter Newbill of Brownfield, Ouida Doty Carruth of Andrews, Bill Liston of Lorenzo, Letha Belle Shafer of Goldwater and Nell Walker Tiner of Lubbock, Wilda Townsend Freeman of Pasadena, Calif., Angelee Foust Workman of Arlington, Lavelle White Hardwick of Amherst, Clyde Robertson of Amarillo and Ethridge. Guests were greeted by Kristi Ethridge, Janet Ethridge, Janet Nix, Shawni Nix and Pat Watson and registered by Melissa Nix.

Jan Kue and Jeannie Nix served thumbprint cookies, nuts and punch from brass and crystal appointments.

A silk floral arrangement, in autumn colors enhanced the serving table which was covered with an ecru linen, with lace edging, cloth. The honoree's corsage consisted of white carnations with apricot trim.

Special guests included: Mrs. Mike Nix, mother of the bride elect; Mrs. W.T. Watson, mother of the prospective groom, Dot Nix, grandmother; Jeannie and Melissa Nix, sisters; Pam Humphreys, aunt; Mary Watson, cousin; and Mindy Humphreys, cousin.

The hostesses gift was a Cuisinart Food Processor. Hostesses for the occasion included: Mrs. Ray Lynk, Mrs. John Gunter, Mrs. Clayton Myers, Mrs. Roy Whitt, Mrs. Barbara Milburn, Mrs. Phil Garrett, Mrs. Arnold Prather, Mrs. Bill Kinard, Mrs. Wayland Ethridge, Mrs. M. D. Gunstream, Mrs. Butch Cox, Mrs. Patsy Poyner, Mrs. Jim Pat Claunch, Mrs. Eugene Hawkins, Mrs. John Neil Agee, Mrs. Ray Precure, Mrs. George Wheeler, Mrs. Robert Hooten and Mrs. Harold Allison.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY--Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Wimberley celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Oct. 27th at Bell Avenue Baptist Church in Amarillo. They were married on Oct. 26 1934. They lived in Muleshoe until 1964, when they moved to Vega. They farmed there for several years, then moved to Amarillo in 1969. Wimberley is a construction contractor and Mrs. Wimberley is in home furnishings sales at Montgomery Ward. They are members of Bell Avenue Baptist Church. They have four children, Mrs. Mark Grisley of Soper, Okla., Lonell Wimberley of Ft. Worth, Marshall Wimberley of El Paso, and Gerald Wimberley of Lubbock, also 12 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Protect Household Electronic Equipment

Your house doesn't have to be hit by lightning, for your household electronic equipment to be affected in an electrical storm, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

You may have noticed during a thunderstorm that your lights flicker. That means there's been a power surge caused by lightning, says Bonnie L. Piernot. It lasts only an instant, but that surge can damage microchip circuitry in your home computer, telephone answering device, microwave oven or anything else that uses microchips, she says.

The surest way to minimize the threat is to disconnect or at least turn off anything with microchip circuitry during a severe thunderstorm, Piernot advises.

You can also buy a device that plugs into AC outlets and protects microchip circuitry. But operation of such a device may cause a circuit breaker to trip, so using it on a branch circuit with a freezer or refrigerator is inadvisable, says the home economist.

Although the answering device on your phone is vulnerable, the telephone itself has a reasonable level of protection due to a device on the side of your house, put there by the telephone company. There's less protection if you're using one of the new, inexpensive phones, notes Piernot.

Cable television, if not installed in accordance with the National Electrical Code, can present a major risk of set damage from lightning, she cautions.

The most common damage from a power surge is program upset. For example, your computer equipment may not be harmed but a computer program will do illogical things for no apparent reason, or your answering device will turn itself off.

Local Auxiliary Receives Memorial Gift

The Muleshoe Hospital and Nursing Home Auxiliary has a memorial fund which is a special fund set up to be used for something specific, either in the hospital or nursing home. Dorothy Green, an auxiliary member, said "It is a lovely way to memorialize a loved one deceased, or to honor one living. We accept memorial gifts to honor specific occasions such as birthdays, anniversaries and etc. as well as a memorial to one deceased. An appropriate card is always sent to whomever designated and your gift is tax deductible."

Recently the Auxiliary received a generous donation from Mrs. Millicent (Betty) Hale of Palm Springs, Calif. The memorial was in memory of Mrs. Hale's mother, Mrs. Birdie Paul. Mrs. Paul was a long time pioneer resident of Muleshoe and many local people still remember her. For a period of time in her later years, Mrs. Paul was a resident of the Muleshoe Nursing Home and died in the nursing home on June 10, 1970. Mrs. Hale wrote that she would always remember and be grateful for the kindness shown her mother while she was a resident of the home.

Mrs. Hale, herself, is a member of the Desert Hospital Auxiliary of Palm Springs, which has a membership of 1200--consisting of both volunteers and volunteers. She and her fellow Auxilians contribute an average of 6,000 hours of service to Desert Hospital each month, either in the form of patient or non patient duties, or fund raising endeavors. Two years ago Mrs. Hale was honored by her auxiliary, in naming their Gift Shop in her honor, The Betty Hale Gift Shop.

Mrs. Hale's memorial gift to the local Hospital Auxiliary has been directed to the nursing home as Mrs. Hale requested. A microwave oven and stand has been added to the dining room, a much needed pair of scales for weighing patients while they are still in their wheel chairs, and Halloween holiday decorations for the home--ghosts, goblins, and witches.

Mrs. Green continued "The residents thank you Mrs. Hale!"

NEWS OF PETS

Whether it's a show dog or a plain pooch, man's best friend can often be a carpet's worst enemy. Muddy paw prints, shedding or accidents can play havoc with your carpet.

Now there's a quick, easy, economical solution... and you can still keep the dog!

No need to use rental cleaners. A home carpet cleaner offers a convenient way to clean carpets and remove accidents before they stain with a hot water spray. It can be a perfect gift for pet owners.

Lightweight and portable, the new Regina Steamer™ Carpet Cleaner lifts ground-in dirt from carpet fibers. In addition to spots, it can be ideal for high traffic areas or full room cleaning. Considered better than aerosols, The Regina Steamer™ cleans like the professional services.

Miss Lord, Stanley United In Marriage

Kathryn Virginia Lord became the bride of Robert Stanley Sunday, Oct. 21 at the Anton Church of Christ. David H. Cox read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lord of Martinez, Ga. and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stanley of Lazbuddie. Grandparents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Kinnie of Sudan.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She carried a bouquet of white daisies and red roses. In keeping with tradition, the bride wore her mother's earrings for something old, something new was her dress, something borrowed was her bouquet and something blue was a handkerchief.

Matron of honor was Awyna Sanchez of Farwell. She carried a long stemmed red rose.

Apolonio Sanchez of Farwell served as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the groom's grandparents in Sudan. The serving table was covered with an old white lace on green tablecloth. A large sheet cake, lime punch, mints and nuts were served by Ann Cowan and Shelley Sutherland.

The bride is a 1980, graduate of Evans High School in Evans, Ga. and is employed at Lubbock

State School. Stanley is a 1980, graduate of Lazbuddie High School and is employed by Raymon Trider.

Those attending the wedding ceremony in addition to the parents and grandparents included: Ann Cowan, Shelly Sutherland, Nic Lacotheo, Paul Stanley, Douglas Stanley, Treica Joyce Mason, Mr. and Mrs. John Kinnie, Jeffery and Kassie, Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Otwell, Josh and Chris, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Goodwin, Jason and Jennifer, Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Sherley and Jerri Evon, Mr. and Mrs. Apolonio Sanchez and Brandon Lee, Omar Evaristo, Jr. and Ariel Sanchez, Chandra engleking and Albert Wolly.

At the same time, the win took the Hornets to 2-4-1 for the season and 1-3 in district action.

Penalties proved to be very costly for both teams, as Tulia took advantage of the 105 yards in penalties against the Mules while accumulating 65 yards in penalties on their own.

Muleshoe had 16 first downs to 11 for the Hornets; with 140 yards rushing and 73 yards in the air for the Mules, compared to 168 yards in the air and 73 on the ground for the Hornets.

Statistics showed the teams were nearly equal in total yardage, with Tulia racking up 236 yards to 213 for the Mules.

The Hornets completed six of 12 passes while the Mules completed eight of 15 passes.

Each team recovered one fumble during the game and Tulia intercepted a Mule pass one time during the game, while the Mules did not have any interceptions.

Next week, when the Mules wind up the 1984 football season at home against Littlefield, the coaches, players and Athletic Booster Club encourage everyone to be sure to come out and show support for the Muleshoe Mules. They said they appreciate the loyal support during this football season.

Sausage, Fruit Sale Underway

October 31 will be the cutoff date for ordering sausage or fruit from the Muleshoe High School FFA Chapter, in a sale that got underway on Friday, according to Sonny Dickerson, Vo-Ag instructor.

FFA's famous Blue and Gold sausage is being sold in the pan stick, two and one half pounds for $6; links for $8 and patties for $8. Delivery on the sausage will be prior to December 1.

In the fruit sale, to be delivered the first or second week, in December will be large grapefruit, 40 pound box, $12.50; small grapefruit, 20 pound box, $8; large oranges, 40 pound box, $15; small oranges, 20 pound box, $9.50.

Red apples will cost $10.50 for one-third bushel and a combination box of 12 each grapefruit, oranges and apples will cost $11.

Orders may be placed with any FFA member for future delivery, but be sure to place your order prior to the October 31. deadline.

of Friona.

According to Ms. Bruns, the service includes nursing care; medication supervision; health education; assessment and evaluation; physical therapy; speech therapy; occupational therapy and other services, such as bandage changing.

Medicare patients can be released from a hospital earlier by taking advantage of the program which also includes cancer chemotherapy treatments; Hospice, which is care of the terminally ill; Ostomies; intravenous therapy; psychiatric and personal care services.

Ms. Bruns said Visiting Nurse Service, Inc. for this area covers Muleshoe, Farwell, Bovina, Lazbuddie, Friona, Amherst, Sudan, Dimmitt and Bula.

Persons of all ages who have health problems requiring home care provided such care can be safely given in the home setting. Care must be ordered by a physician.

Visiting nurses encourage close patient/physician contact and will assist persons to find a source of appropriate medical care of the person requesting care has no physician. Although most referrals come from doctors, hospitals, and clinics, anyone may call for assistance.

Referrals may be made by self, doctors, hospitals, clinics, nurses, social workers, friends, families, and other means. Payment, too, can be by private insurance, Medicare, Medicaid, Veterans Administration, Champus of Private Pay, either full or partial.

Offices for the private non-profit Visiting Nursing Service, Inc. are located in Muleshoe and can be called at 272-5298 or 272-3150.

Longhorns Fall To Nazareth Friday Night

Lazbuddie came up with a blank when they visited the Nazareth Swifts Friday night.

The Longhorns failed to contain Chris Gerber who had 198 yards offensive rushing and two touchdowns to lead the 26-0 romp over the Longhorns.

Nazareth's scoring came in the second and third quarters as the Longhorns managed just 129 yards of total offense.

Gerber first booted through the extra point after quarterback

FFA Guests

For Dinner By Boosters

Members of the Muleshoe High School Future Farmers of America were honored by the Muleshoe FFA Booster Club last week with a calf fry.

At $3 per plate, on the menu were all the calf fries you could eat, along with potato salad, red beans, bread and a soft drink or tea.

Guests included Todd Bessire, Fred Clements, Lupe Rejino Jr., Casey Stewart, Doug Spradling, David Killough, Monty Black, Coach Turner, Ken and Phyllis Angeley, Ed Ziegenfuss, Jerry Berry, Joanie Branscum, Sawney Branscum, Sherman Inman and Karen Treider.

Also, Don McElroy, Leon and Judy Logsdon, Darrell, Billie, Sean, Shane and Sheldon Mason and Obie Kelley.

Immediately following the meal, the chapter officers performed the ceremony for accepting greenhand and chapter farmer degree members.

Receiving the greenhand degree were Shain Berry, Michael Lee, Andrew Ponder, Jedon Ruthardt, Scotty Spies, Richard Tillema, Sawnya Branscum, Shawn Wheeler, James Ziegenfuss, Dalyon Bratcher, Kasey Whatley, Robert Quintana and Steve Griswold.

Those receiving the chapter farmer degree included Darren Albertson, Brent Black, Scott Kline, Michael Angeley, Scott Bickel, Shawn Bussey, Lloyd McElroy, Greg Young and Russell Young.

TWENTY WORKS ON TWENTY-TWO--As Mark Moton, No. 22, for the Muleshoe Mules, tries to make it across for six points, Tulia Hornet Tony Powell climbs all over his back to stop him from scoring. The Mules lost to the Hornets by a score of 21-7 Friday night.

Ramm Elected To Conservation Board

Ernest Ramm of the West Camp community was recently elected to the Blackwater Valley Soil and Water Conservation District board of directors. Ramm represents Zone One of the district.

The purpose of the Blackwater Valley SWCD, with headquarters in Muleshoe, is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers and ranchers on conservation matters and other issues affecting private property rights of landowners, said Jim Lutz.

Lutz added, the board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purposes.

Rickey Backus put the Swifts on the board with a 6-yard TD.

In the third, Gerber blasted through from 35 yards out and kicked another PAT. After Backus scored from the 38, the PAT attempt failed. Gerber added another 42-yard TD run, and missed the PAT to end the scoring.

With the Friday night victory, the Nazareth Swifts are maintaining a perfect 8-0 record, as The Longhorns dropped to 2-6 for the season.

DANGER ! HIGH VOLTAGE

COTTON HARVEST IS HERE AGAIN and BAILEY COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE ASSN. urges extreme caution when operating farm equipment near electric lines!

In recent years, many tragic incidents have occurred involving cotton module builders and power lines. The extended portion of the cotton module builder can come into contact with overhead electric lines if the operator is not very careful. The same problem exists with overhead baskets on cotton strippers.

We urge farmers and their employees to be alert to these potential hazards and to take every possible precaution to avoid serious injury... or even death! When you are moving a module builder, be sure the packer arm is lowed as far as it will go. When using a stripper with an overhead basket, be sure to check for overhead lines before dumping.

If some piece of equipment DOES contact these 7200 volt lines, it is important that you or the operator not try to simply back away. The line could break, or if it's already broken, it could tangle in the equipment and break again, compounding the problem and increasing the danger. Jump clear of the machine, being sure NOT to touch the ground and the machine at the same time. Move quickly away at a right angle to the power line. Then call the Cooperative office whether or not the line is broken so they can help you.

REMEMBER -- a little precaution is ALWAYS worth the time it takes ! !

Harvest-Aid Chemicals Can Help Early Cotton

Some fields of High Plains cotton planted last May will be ready to harvest before the normal freeze date, and delay can cause loss of yield and reduced quality, cautions a cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Since fiber and seed quality are at their peak as the bolls first open, delaying cotton harvest after the crop is ready can cost the producer money," said Dr. James R. Supak, Extension cotton agronomist at Lubbock.

In the early maturing fields, harvest-aid chemicals can effectively prepare a crop for timely harvest, he advised.

"In areas such as this where cotton is harvested by mechanical strippers, desiccants are needed to kill plant tissue and cause rapid drying of foliage and other plant material," Supak said. Without treatment, that plant material is more apt to end up in the stripper basket, he explained.

Presently, Paraquat, arsenic acid, and Roundup are the only desiccants cleared for use on cotton, Supak noted. Paraquat and arsenic acid are also labelled for use as tank mixes with Accelerate, he said.

"The use of Roundup as a desiccant is expensive and recommended mainly for fields heavily infested with perennial weeds. Research studies have shown that fall applications of Roundup effectively control several perennial weed species including silverleaf nightshade," the Extension specialist said.

Defoliant such as DROPP, Harvade, Def, Foxex and sodium cholate are also cleared for use on cotton. In contrast to the desiccants which usually kill the plants and cause rapid drying, the defoliants induce gradual leaf shedding without killing the plant.

In tall, rank cotton, defoliants are occasionally used to induce leaf shed prior to the application of a desiccant. This "double treatment" is costly but may be warranted in fields with high yield potential, the agronomist said.

In fields where approximately 60 percent or more of the bolls are open and the remaining bolls are essentially mature but slow to open, the cotton can be treated with one to two quarts of PREP to hasten boll opening, Supak advised. PREP is a plant growth regulator which not only hastens boll opening but can also induce some shedding of immature bolls, squares and leaves. As with the defoliants, a desiccant has to be applied after the PREP treatment to prepare the cotton for stripper harvesting, Supak said.

The Extension agronomist said the following chemicals and rates are recommended and approved for cotton desiccation in this area:

One to 1.5 quarts arsenic acid per acre; 1 to 2 pints Paraquat per acre, and 4 to 5 quarts of Roundup per acre. Tank mixes of 0.5 to 2 pints Paraquat plus 1 to 2 pints Accelerate per acre and tank mix of 1.5 pints arsenic acid plus 1 to 2 Accelerate per acre are also approved.

Tests conducted in this area with the acid-Accelerate combination failed to adequately kill or control regrowth, the Extension specialist said. Proper desiccation of newly established leaves (regrowth) normally requires the higher rates of arsenic acid or Paraquat, he advised.

"Often, there is a mistaken notion that defoliants and desiccants somehow speed up crop maturity. In fact, just the opposite is true, as all fiber and seed development stops when plant growth stops or when leaves are removed."

"Premature termination of the crop can result in reduction in lint yield, grade and micronaire, lower seed grades, and reduced seed quality for planting purposes," Supak warned.

Only time and warm, sunny weather will promote the maturity of cotton, he said. The use of any harvest-aid chemicals should be delayed until the crop has matured naturally, he stressed.

"The percentage of open cotton is still the best guide to use in determining when to apply desiccants. This early in the season, application of desiccants should be delayed until 80 to 85 percent of the bolls are open." The remaining bolls on the plant should be too hard to dent by pressure exerted with the thumb and forefinger and too tough to cut with a sharp knife.

Later in the season (mid to late October) it may be possible to lower this criteria to 70 to 80 percent open bolls since the immature ("soft") bolls are not likely to produce additional fiber, Supak said. "In such instances it might be more profitable to desiccate the cotton and get it harvested before bad weather sets in."

Desiccants constitute a production expense that farmers could avoid by waiting for a freeze to kill and condition the crop for harvest. Often, however, delaying harvest after the crop is ready can prove to be quite costly. A multi-year study at the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center at Lubbock by Drs. L.L. Ray and E.B. Minton showed significant adverse effects of weathering on both lint and seed.

This study showed that 72 pounds of lint per acre was lost from an 11 week delay in harvesting cotton that was yielding 600 pounds per acre.

"It is important to note that the largest losses occurred during the first weeks of exposure. Their data indicates an 18 pound per acre (3 percent) yield loss could be expected in the first week and 48 pounds (8 percent) at the end of four weeks. An average delay of three to four weeks in getting the crop harvested and ginned is not that unusual, and the associated yield losses can be anticipated," Supak said.

Quality reductions also occur when lint is exposed to the elements. A loss of 1/32 of an inch in staple length after six to seven weeks of exposure and one grade in about five weeks of weathering was indicated in this study. However, if immature bolls are present, continued weathering may contribute to their drying and cracking, the Extension agronomist said. If these are included in the stripper basket, they may add to the total weight but may reduce micronaire values.

Seed quality is also adversely affected by weathering. Seed germination was reduced by extended field exposure. In one year of the study, germination was reduced by an average of 2.5 percent per week.

"Desiccants do constitute an additional production cost. However, when properly used, their chemicals can assure timely harvest which reduces even more costly yield and quality losses," Supak said.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I am deeply concerned about our country and the direction we are heading.

The other night on TV, President Reagan asked if our country was better off now than it was four years ago. I agree this country is better off in a lot of ways, but we have a long way to go.

The people of our nation are burdened with high taxes. The only way we can get some tax relief is to elect people that are concerned about cutting the budget instead increasing it. They also need to be as careful with our tax money as they would be with their own personal finances.

We must start at the grass roots in order to attain the type of government our nation was built on. All Americans need to seriously consider the candidates to each of these vital offices from county to state and federal. Exercise your American rights and vote Nov. 6.

Cotton Market Going Sour

What goes up usually comes down, but in the case of the cotton market, prices have dropped like a bombshell and will likely continue weak in the months ahead.

"Cotton farmers have already seen the price of their crop drop about $75 per bale in the past five months, and they will continue to see a weak market this fall and winter," says Dr. Carl Anderson, cotton marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Currently the average price is near the base 55-cent loan rate and may settle in around the 60-cent mark for the '84 crop year."

"The main forces putting downward pressure on cotton prices are a big increase in global production and increasing stocks in the U.S.," notes Anderson. "Just where prices end up will depend heavily on the export situation. Weak prices this fall should stimulate demand and curtail 1985 world production somewhat."

Global cotton production could reach a record 76 million bales this year, up 8 million from a year ago, notes the economist. This reflects a 70 percent recovery of the U.S. crop and about a 6 percent larger crop abroad. At the same time, world mill use is projected at a record 70 million bales, up 2 million from the past year.

China is having the biggest effect on the world cotton situation, Anderson says. That country produced 21 million bales last year and has gone from a cotton importer to an exporter in the past few years. This, coupled with the fact that the U.S. dollar remains strong abroad, will have an adverse effect on U.S. cotton exports. Weak credit conditions in developing countries also will continue to stymie exports.

"In the U.S. cotton farmers are in a stock rebuilding year after the government's PIK program reduce supplies sharply last year," says Anderson. "However, the reduction of domestic supplies had little effect on world stocks of cotton as other countries kept up their pace and, in some cases, even increased production. So, U.S. carryover next Aug. 1 could approach 5 million bales, up more than 2 million from this past August."

U.S. farmers planted about 11 million acres of cotton this spring, 40 percent more than the 1983 PIK-reduced crop, points out the economist. Acres abandoned due to weather problems, mainly the drought in Texas, are estimated at just under 6 percent. This year's crop should be good, says Anderson, because, with the 25 percent acreage reduction program, farmers have used their most productive land and have given the crop topnotch care.

Use of cotton continues to increase, notes Anderson, but this increase is mainly in foreign mills. And because of the strong U.S. dollar abroad, imports of foreign cotton textiles are pouring into the U.S. Thus, with textile exports decreasing and imports increasing, the textile trade deficit continues to widen.

Imported cotton textiles are currently about 37 percent of domestic consumption, which is estimated at 8.1 million bales. "Ironically, American cotton farmers who have worked hard to expand cotton usage in this country are losing out to foreign producers," notes Anderson.

Looking ahead to 1985, Anderson sees some stabilization in cotton production worldwide and increased consumption due to a weak market. But market prices will continue sluggish due to abundant supplies, and U.S. producers will have to continue to worry about high textile imports that are capturing part of their market.

"High interest rates and competition from synthetics and foreign cotton textiles will continue to weigh heavily on U.S. producers," emphasizes Anderson. "Our farmers must support new research to increase yields and lower production costs as well as new efforts to improve quality and expand markets at home and abroad if cotton is to remain a viable crop."

South Plains Cotton Harvest Underway

The 1984 cotton harvest on the Texas High Plains began in late September where harvest-aid chemicals had been used, according to Mack Bennett, Area Director for USDA's Marketing Services Office at Lubbock.

Earliest harvesting stalled when generally light showers fell across the High Plains last week. Machine harvesting resumed early this week as fields dried. The main surge of field activity should begin after a general killing freeze, Bennett continued.

The Marketing Services Office at Lubbock had classed 2,560 samples this season through Thursday. This compares with about 22,500 classed by the same date last year.

Predominant grades for the season to date were grade 31 at 18 percent, grade 41 accounted for 22 percent, grade 32 was 20 percent and grade 42 amounted to 23 percent. About 2 percent was reduced one grade because of bark.

Predominant staples were staple 31 at 20 percent, staple 32 amounted to 27 percent, staple 33 accounted for 23 percent and staple 34 was 15 percent. The staples averaged 32.5 thirty-seconds of an inch.

Micronaire 35-49 accounted for 53 percent, 33-34 was 17 percent, 30-32 amounted to 19 percent and 27-29 was 8 percent for an average of 35.

High Volume Instrument breaking strength at Lubbock averaged 23.6 grams per tex for the season.

Spot quotations at Lubbock moved up 75 to 150 points on Thursday. Grade 41, staple 34, mike 35-49 was quoted at 60.45 cents per pound or 525 points over 1984 Commodity Credit loan rates. Grade 32, staple 32 was quoted at 58.35 or 900 over. Grade 42, staple 32 was 56.70 or 900 over loan also.

Trading of new-crop so far this season has been slow to inactive.

Prices paid farmers for cottonseed at gins have not yet been established.

Red Cross Youth Training Is Available

The South Plains Regional Chapter of the American Red Cross is currently seeking school and church groups which wish to provide safety training to their young people.

There are more than a dozen Red Cross classes available for young people, including First Aid courses for all age groups. Fire and tornado safety courses have been designed for preschoolers and students in the primary grades.

There is a social awareness course for older elementary students, an introduction to work and money management for junior and senior high students, and an Alcohol Information Module for students 14-17 years of age. There is also a babysitting training course for youngsters 11 years of age or older.

Students over the age of 13 and youth leaders are eligible for Red Cross Multimedia First Aid and CPR training. These courses are regularly scheduled by the Red Cross as are a variety of Water Safety courses.

Schools, churches, and youth organizations interested in Red Cross youth courses may contact Jackie Davis, director, South Plains Red Cross youth services, 2201 Avenue X, Lubbock, 79411. The telephone number is 765-8534.

Edwin Meese, presidential counselor:

Bobcats Are Declawed By Mules' Seventh Grade

The seventh grade Mules had a comeback victory, Thursday, October 18, 1984. After losing to Idalou a week ago, the Mules showed the determination and ability to claim a 20-0 win over the Dimmitt Bobcats.

In the first quarter, the Mules won the toss and elected to receive. They returned the ball to the 35 yard line. On the first play called, Abel Leal ran on a sweep around the right end for a gain of 25 yards, putting the ball on the 40 yard line. The Mules then threw an incomplete pass and failed on the next three running plays, to pick up the first down. The Bobcats took over.

During the second quarter, the Mules' defense held the Bobcats for four plays. On the second drive of the Mule offense, the ball was moved down field and Andy Langfitt dove over the goal line from the 4 yard line. Abel Leal drove straight up the middle for the PAT and the Mules led 8-0.

The Bobcats were held deep in their own territory when they tried to return the Mules kick-off. Three plays later, defensive tackle Rocky Flores sacked a Bobcat behind the line for a safety. This put the Mules 10; Dimmitt, 0.

Shortly before the halftime intermission, Abel Leal ran into the end zone for a second TD for the Mules. The PAT was once again run by Leal off tackle to make the halftime score 18-0.

The Mules kicked off to the Bobcats to start the second half action. The Mules defense looked great as they repeatedly shut down each of the Bobcats offensive attacks. Midway through the 4th quarter, A.J.

Eighth Grade Mules Blast The Bobcats

Another Thursday and another game ending with a victory for the eighth grade Mules against the Dimmitt Bobcats. It was an excellent game with a wonderful score of 18-8 on the Mule plus end.

The Mules were ready to go and proved it as they received the opening kickoff and marched 77 yards in 10 plays to put the first points on the board. The TD was credited to David Wooten who was also the leading rusher for the Mules. The quarter ended with a score of 6-0.

In the second quarter, Wooten ran 79 yards for a touchdown. This put the Mules leading 12-0. The next outstanding run was on a reverse to Steven Sandoval for 55 yards which set the Mules up for another TD. The Mules took control 18-0.

In the third quarter, Dimmitt ran the kick-off in for a touchdown, after making the PAT, Dimmitt put themselves on the scoreboard with 8 points.

During the remaining part of the game, both teams held each other until the final buzzer ended the game with a victory for the Mules - 18-8.

Perfect Record Ruined

Mules traveled to Idalou Oct. 11 for their first defeat. With a score of 14-12, the Mules stilled played a good game. There was no score until the second quarter when Idalou ran a returned punt into the end zone for a 6 point lead.

In the third quarter, the Mules tied the score 6-6 after Steven Sandoval ran for a touchdown in the same manner that Idalou did, a punt return. Later in the third Mike Dunham broke through the line for a touchdown making the score 12-6. With 56 seconds left in the game, Idalou passed the ball into the end zone for a tie, 12-12. The PAT pass was good and Idalou walked away with a victory.

For this game, the offensive outstanding lineman was Steven Sandoval. The leading rusher, Mike Dunham, ran over 61 yards. The defensive player of the week was Salvador Olivarez. The team's total yardage was 210 yards.

Mules lost last year 22-16, losing by 6 points. This year the Mules lost 14-12. Idalou scored in the last 56 seconds 2 points with a pass after the touchdown.

Liles sacked the Bobcat quarterback behind the goal line for the second safety of the game. This final score gave the Mules a victory of 20-0 over the Dimmitt Bobcats.

Coach Donaldson had great praise for the 7th grade Mules: "In looking over the game, I decided to once again name A.J. Liles as outstanding defensive player. He made alot of tackles, but the impressive thing to me was that he was playing a new position and handled it successfully. The offensive lineman is a hard decision each week. This week we went with Jimmy Johnson, our quick tackle. This was Jimmy's first game to start & he played it like a season starter. He did all we asked of him & more. The running back of the week was a draw this time between Abel Leal & Andy Langfitt. Both had great runs & both scored TD's.

It was really great to be this team's coach because of the way these boys handled their defeat last week. Our season got off to a great start with 3 wins and no losses. Our first loss came from Floydada and it was a close game. Then came the SHOCKER! Idalou beat us 46-0. Sometimes it's easy to give up under these conditions, but our kids pulled themselves and their team together and came back to play real football. I'm proud to be part of a team that can do that."

Next week the Mules travel to Tulia. We'll see you there! (An added comment from the players: Coach, we're also proud to have you as part of our team. Only through your presevering can we keep on keeping on. Thanks!)

Farm Bureau Objects To New Pesticide Law

The president of the state's largest farm organization Friday called proposed state pesticide regulations "unnecessary, unreasonable, and unworkable."

S.M.True, a Plainview cotton and grain farmer, said existing state and federal regulations on pesticides give adequate protection.

Farm Bureau policy on the subject reads in part, "Regulations governing application of agricultural chemicals must be workable and effective, and should always be accompanied by an economic impact statement proving they will solve more problems than they create."

True said that the proposals announced Oct. 19 by the Texas Department of Agriculture are "ambiguous" and contain "a number of traps for the unwary farmer or rancher."

"They (the proposals) appear to have been drafted by individuals without a working knowledge of agriculture, or by someone intent on multiplying the problems of farmers and ranchers," True said. "Some one wishing to harrass a farmer will find happy hunting in the requirements of these regulations."

True discounted the claim by the TDA that farmers had input in the regulations which the Department has been developing for the past year.

True said that the Texas Farm Bureau, representing 313,000 member families, found out about the proposals "by accident" in August.

On Sept. 20 TFB met with leaders of 20 agricultural groups to discuss the proposals.

"Only three of these organizations knew that TDA was developing these regulations," True said.

"It is a fact that the Department did not make its plans known to agriculture until after we discovered what was being proposed, and only then because members of the Legislature requested that TDA talk to us," the Farm Bureau leader said.

True said a public statement by Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower concerning pesticides "raises the question of Mr. Hightower's motives for these regulations."

He said Hightower was quoted in The Dallas Morning News earlier this year as saying "the weaning of Texas Agriculture from chemicals" is a high priority of his administration.

"Careful use of pesticides keeps the consumer's food supply safe from rot, worms and rodents," True said. "Consumers demand high quality produce and farmers must have a means of protecting crops from devastation by insects and disease."

True said farmers do not use pesticides carelessly or unnecessarily.

Have a place for everything and everything in its place.

Texas A&M feeds over 50,000 meals daily to students

When Fred Dollar thinks about the start of a new school year he isn't concerned about teaching loads, classroom performance or even campus extracurricular activities. He thinks about food.

Every day this school year, Dollar will feed more than 50,000 meals to hungry students at Texas A&M University, where he is director of the Southwest's largest college or university food service operation. The more than 10 million meals Dollar and his staff will serve this school year also put the university among the 10 largest college food service operations in the U.S.

In a single year, that's millions of pounds of meat and potatoes, countless pieces of bread and pats of butter, gallon upon gallon of soft drinks and fruit juices, warehouses full of flour and sugar and salt and every kind of salad fixing imaginable, all of which have to be served rapidly, at the right temperature and prepared to perfection.

We are rational creatures: our virtue and perfection is to love reason, or rather to love order.

-Nicolas Malebranche.

Nursing Home News

by Joyce Stancell

Alva Shofner celebrated her 93rd birthday Wed. 24th. Her family and a host of friends from the Nursing Home, got to share her special day.

The New Covenant Academy, young people came Tues. morning to honor our residents with their talent of music, Readings, and puppeteers. We were all blessed by their being here.

I'm told that everyone attending the Bible Study Sun. morning are really being blessed. Mr. Peterson from the First Baptist Church is the teacher. Lois Ethridge is a great asset to the fellowship.

B.B. Street was visited by his granddaughter Ruth Locker & her children Wed. Also Freda Locker. Donald & Elizabeth visited him Tues.

Fri. afternoon Fred Peat, Arnold Morris, Mrs. Hallis, Cleo Bellar, Lois Ethridge went for a ride in the country on the Sr. Citizens Van. Our thanks to Homer Milsap for taking us.

Wed. morning the residents and visitors took a trip to Mexico V.I.A. by way, of film. This was educational as well as entertaining. A Mexican food tasting party, consisting of homemade hot tamales, sweet bread and Mexican cornbread, juice & coffee followed. We wish to thank Ruth Hall, Lena Rutherford & Rita for helping us. Also Conrad.

Mr. Fred Peat is keeping our clock wound for us. We are so glad his is doing this. It is so nice to be able to count on him.

We are really enjoying our fire place. We have been having "fire side" chats around the wood burning fire place in the Day Room. It gives us all a friendly, cozy warm feeling.

Mrs. Hollis was hospitalized Tues. Hurry and get well Mrs. Hollis, we miss you.

Blanche Cotton was hospitalized Monday. We miss her and pray for her.

Mrs. Josephine Wenner has been staying busy wrapping coat hangers, going for walks around the nursing home and visiting with her family and employees and residents of the Nursing Home. Her son Ralph Wenner is her visiting.

Bro. Barry Bradley, on very short notice brought us a Devotional on the 23rd Psalms Fri. morning. We really do appreciate him doing this for us.

Members of the Methodist church came Sunday to sing to the residents. This really does make Sunday special for our residents.

Mrs. Tipton was visited by her daughter Martha Stroud Tues. afternoon.

We would like to express our sincere sympathy to Cleo Bellar and family at the death of Cleo's brother-in-law. We will be close in thought through all the days that follow.

Thurs. afternoon Maud Kersey, J.E. Embry- Laverne James, Ruth Clements, Clara Crain (of the aux.) came to play dominoes and 42 with the residents.

Our thanks to Western Drug for having the Amarillo, Lubbock & Muleshoe papers sent to us. We look forward to them from day to day.

Lois Ethridge was visited by her grandson Stevie Wed. afternoon.

We are planning a trip Thurs. eve. to the Farwell Nursing Home, to hear the Kings Kid play.

Marine Recruiters Are Number 'One'

The U.S. Marine Corps recruiters of Lubbock are part of a "Number One" team.

Gunnery Sergeant Adrian Swafford, Sergeant Willie Nimer, Sergeant Jerry Thacker and Sergeant Armando Villaseñor are members of Recruiting Station, Albuquerque, New Mexico. They helped the Station earn the title of "Recruiting Station of the Year" for the 8th Marine Corps District for Fiscal Year 1985.

RS Albuquerque is one of ten recruiting stations belonging to the 8th Marine Corps District, headquartered in New Orleans. The 8th District covers the 13-state area of Arkansas, Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas and Wyoming.

The annual competition for top recruiting station runs by fiscal year, from October 1 to September 30. To win the competition, the Marines of RS Albuquerque performed better than the recruiters of the nine other stations of the District, signing up 796 young men and women during the year, equating to 110 percent of their yearly goal. More than 97 percent of the enlistees were high school graduates. The Station has already signed up 60 percent of its goal for fiscal year 1985, which began 1 October 1984.

With 220,467 square miles of New Mexico, Western Texas, the Oklahoma Panhandle and southern Colorado to cover, RS Albuquerque has the second largest geographic area of the 8th Marine Corps District, but only eight percent of the population.

Four officers, 46 enlisted Marines, one Navy Corpsman and two civilians are assigned to the Station. Three Military Enlistment Processing Stations are located within the RS area, being in Albuquerque, Amarillo and El Paso. Ten Recruiting Sub-Stations belong to RS Albuquerque, situated in Albuquerque, Gallup, Farmington, Las Cruces, Roswell and Santa Fe, New Mexico and Amarillo, El Paso, Lubbock and Odessa, Texas.

"Recruiting Station Albuquerque was successful in fiscal year 1984 because we've got outstanding non-commissioned officers, outstanding recruiters, outstanding support personnel, and a patriotic recruiting area," said Major W.P. Kyle, Commanding Officer, "and because the Lord answers my prayers and blesses my Marines in their work."

The Lubbock recruiters can be found at 4206B 50th Street. Their phone number is 743-7608.

The albatross drinks sea water. It has a special desalinization apparatus that strains out excess salt.

BIBLE VERSE

Rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is an iniquity and idolatry.

1. Who made the above statement?
2. To whom was he speaking?
3. Upon what occasion?

Answers to Bible Verse

1. The Prophet Samuel.
2. To King Saul, and through him to the Israelites.
3. Upon the occasion of Saul's sin in not destroying Agag, the king of the Amalekites.
