Nuclear Waste Site Protest Continues

There is a possibility that Jeff Neff, a key man in the Department of Energy's program of testing sites for potential nuclear waste disposal, may come to the Panhandle and that he may hold public hearings on the selection of the test sites, County Judge Bob Watson received this information from Swisher County Judge Leroy Saul Tuesday, Dec. 1.

Collingsworth is reported as one of the Texas Panhandle counties in which tests may be made.

The Panhandle County Judges and Commissioners Association is holding a called meeting in Amarillo Friday, Dec. 4, and Watson and Saul are attempting to place on the agenda a resolution similar to that passed by the Collingsworth Commissioners Court last week and by the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association earlier, condemning the

Moseley Named Wellington State Pres., Neeley Elected to Board

Wellington State Bank board of directors has named the bank's executive vice president, Billy Moseley, to succeed Bill Beall as bank president, board chairman James Sullivan said this week.

And the board elected vice president and cashier Jack Neeley to fill Beall's slot on the board of directors. Neeley was promoted to senior vice president and cashier, in addition to being named director.

Beall, resigned effective December 1, to become president of Western National Bank in Amarillo.

Both appointments at Wellington State are effective December 1.

Wheeler Oil Co. Opens New Office in Amarillo

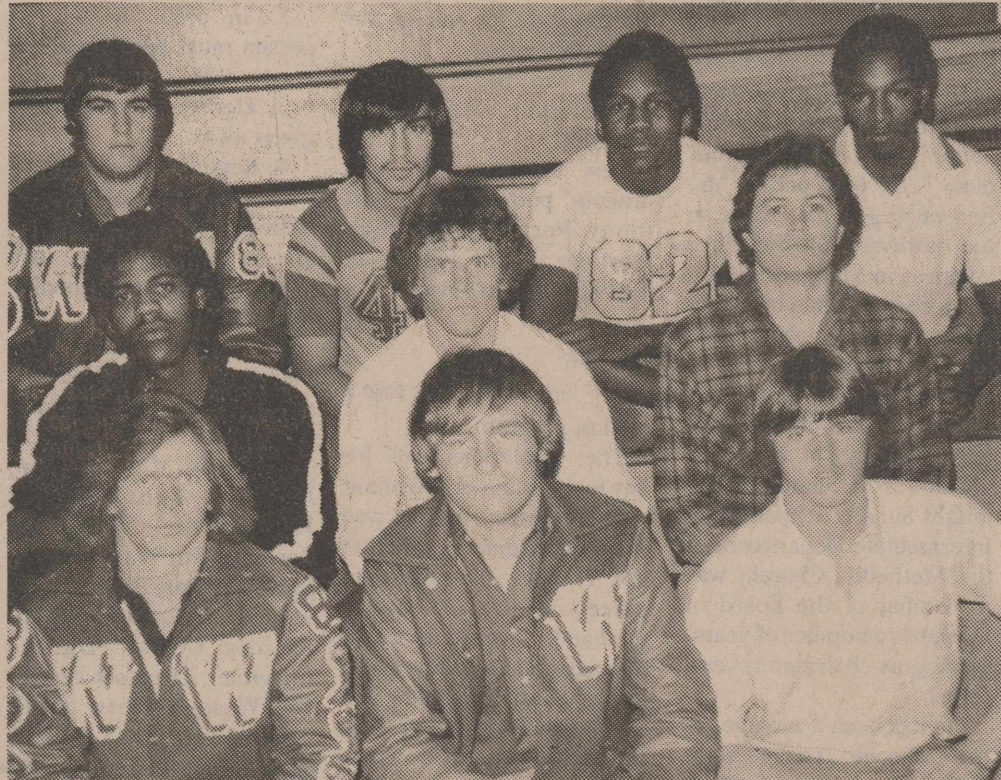

Wheeler Oil Company of Wellington has announced opening of its Amarillo Branch Office.

The company now has its main office in Wellington and a branch office in Wheeler, according to Bill Spillman president.

Wheeler Oil has expanded its staff and employees from two to 7 since it was established in 1978, and has concentrated its efforts in the East Panhandle field of Wheeler County, according to Spillman.

"We presently operate 36 gas and oil wells in the south part of Wheeler County and the north part of Collingsworth County.

Wheeler County earlier in 1981 purchased 15,000 acres from Texas Trust of San Antonio and assigned 10,000 acres to D&B Petroleum of Amarillo, who 1st Christmas Drawing Sat.

With Wellington's Christmas Star rotating atop the courthouse, as it has done for so many years, and with Santa Claus setting the stage for the holiday season with his visit here Saturday, Nov. 28, Wellington merchants will open with another traditional Christmas feature:

The first of the Christmas Trades Day drawings is slated for Saturday, Dec. 5, at 4 p.m. on the south side of the courthouse.

Altogether, 58 merchants are participating.

There will be 6 drawings altogether, one of them exclusively for children. The remainder of the drawings will be Saturday, Dec. 12 at 4 p.m.; Wednesday, Dec. 16 at 4 p.m.; Saturday, Dec. 19 at 4 p.m. and Thursday, Dec. 24. This starts at 2 p.m. and there will be a regular drawing, to be followed by a children's drawing.

$100 in script in 55 denominations will be drawn for each time to be redeemed at the participating merchants. A gift instead of script will be given at the children's drawing Christmas Eve.

Margaret Vines, Chamber of Commerce secretary, reminded that each person is responsible for placing his or her tickets in the hopper,

Methodist Dinner, Bazaar on Saturday

First United Methodist Church will hold its annual Christmas dinner and bazaar Saturday, Dec. 5, with the entire community participating.

Both the dinner and bazaar will be in Bura Handley Community Center. Serving hours will be from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. The bazaar will begin at 9 a.m. and continue until all items are sold.

A special feature will be the sale of the new book featuring paintings of Dr. Kenneth Wyatt and text by

More than 500 persons are expected to attend the dinner, according to Mrs. Gorman Owens, overall chairman.

It is a traditional turkey dinner, with all the foods that usually accompany this holiday bird.

Seven whole turkeys and 11 turkey breasts will be baked to form the basis of the dinner, said Mrs. Owens.

Dinners will be delivered only to those who cannot come after them due to illness, lack of transportation or for similar reasons, said Mrs. Owens and who for any reason cannot come to the community building should contact Vikki Saunders or Mrs. Glen Warrick, who are in charge of the take-out food.

Those wishing to come to the community building to pickup of their plates may do that, said Mrs. Owens.

Each MYF circle-Esther, Lydia, Pathfinders and Dorotheans-has an assigned part in the dinner. Junior and senior UMY, the youth group, are helping, as are the Methodist Men. Sunday School classes are furnishing some of the food.

"It is really a church-wide effort, something we look forward to each year.

Mrs. Rachel Campbell is bazaar chairman.

Unique and exquisite handmade gifts will be featured at the bazaar. There is unusual variety this year Mrs. Campbell pointed out, and baked foods, relishes and other delicacies

22nd Norwood Tourney Gets Under Way Dec. 10

The 22nd annual Samnorwood Invitational Basketball tournament gets under way Thursday, Dec. 10 at 9 a.m. and play will be continuous until the end of the 8:30 p.m. game on both Thursday and Friday. Saturday sessions will start at noon with three afternoon games. The two championship games will be played Saturday night, according to Kenneth Martindale, school principal.

Both the 1980 champions, Wellington girls and Hedley boys will be back to defend their titles, although teams were not to be seeded until Wednesday night.

Six or 7 new coaches will have teams in the tournament this year, and all the schools playing in the 1980 event will be back, Martindale said. These include boys and girls teams from Wellington, Hedley, Allison, Briscoe, Mobeetie, McLean, Estelline, and the hosts, Samnorwood Eagles and Eaglettes.

Second round games will continue through Friday, and the championship, consolation and third place winners in both boys and girls divisions will be determined Saturday.

Trophies will be awarded in both divisions to first, second, third and consolation winners.

A sportsmanship trophy will go to the boys team and girls team selected by the officials as showing the most sportsmanlike conduct throughout the tournament.

These two will be chosen by the tournament officials, who will begin their observations with the first game.

"We are not ruling out the possibility that a championship team may not also win the sportsmanship trophy. That sometimes happens," said Martindale.

The two Samnorwood teams will not be eligible for this honor.

Thursday and Friday games will be at 9 and 10:30 a.m., 12:30, 2, 3:30, 5:30, 7, and 8:30 p.m. Saturday games will be at 12, 1:30, 5:15, 7 and 8:30 p.m.

Game officials will include Joel Young, who attended both Samnorwood and Quail Schools, and one other official from the Amarillo Chapter of the Panhandle Officials Association, and two from the Borger chapter.

The concession stand will be operated by the junior and senior classes.

Pearl Harbor Recalled Here

The 40th anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor will be observed this year by the Glynn Moore Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

An open house will be held Sunday, December 6, from 2 to 4 p.m. in the VFW building, according to M.W. Paschall, who is helping with arrangements.

At 3 p.m., a ceremony will honor all Collingsworth County men who were in service on December 7, 1941.

"The public is urged to attend and show their appreciation of the service performed by these men who took first blows of the war," he declared.

Paschall also urged that the men who were in action on Pearl Harbor Day, and who are now living in Collingsworth County, attend the ceremony, regardless of whether they entered the armed services from this county.

There will be a memorial service for those who lost their lives in World War II.

Epifanio Castillo, Jr., VFW post commander, will be in charge of the afternoon's events, and participating with him will be other post officers.

It's Time to Write Santa

Santa has sent the word:

It's time for all children living in the Wellington area, or who ever lived here, to write the letters to Santa Claus to be printed in the Christmas issue of The Wellington Leader.

The deadline for mailing or bringing the letters to the newspapers is 5:00 p.m. Monday, December 14.

Children's letters to Santa Claus have been published every year at Christmas for more than 50 years, yet some of the toys requested are little changed...dolls, cars, airplanes, tractors, books are just a few.

Santa also sends word that he's finding toys galore to satisfy every child, right here in Wellington. Not only will he bring his sleigh loaded with goodies from the North Pole, he intends to make arrangements ahead of time to do a little Christmas shopping here. Santa urges the children to look in their home town for the toys and other goodies they want and let him know about them.

HYDRANT LOCATERS

The 1924 Study Club has presented the city of Wellington and Fire Department 39 blue night reflectors which will mark the location of each of the city's fire hydrants. Mrs. Boyd Derryberry, presented the markers Tuesday. Fire Chief Danny Gray, kneeling, holds one of the reflectors. Joining in the ceremony were City Manager Glen Taylor, standing at left, and Mayor Ralph Owens, kneeling.

Children's Play Set Dec. 9

"Cinderella," one of the most beloved of all fairy tales, will come to life on the Wellington High School Auditorium stage as the 1981 annual children's play presented by the Speech II class.

There will be two performances. The first, Wednesday, Dec. 9, at 1 p.m. will be for elementary school and pre-school children.

A date will be announced for the second performance, which will be for the public, said Gay McAlister, director.

It is basically the old fairy tale, with the addition of one or two delightful characters not in the fairy tale.

"Costumes are being made by the mothers or are adapted from other costumes in Speech II's trunks. They are especially pretty this year."

In the role of Cinderella is Lisa Hartman, while Hank Barnett plays Prince Adrian (Prince Charming).

Other familiar cast members are Mala, the wicked stepmother, Danna Jameson; Peonie and Hollyhawk, the equally wicked step-sisters, Melanie Pendleton and Lynette Spillman; Miss Friendly, the fairy god-mother, Camille Smith;

Also in the cast are Rollo, the Prince's attendant, Rodney Nash; King Leopold, the father, David Moore; Queen Elsa, the

J.R. Benson, Southeast Panhandle Pioneer, Healthy, Happy at 92 years

At 92, J.R. Benson still practices a philosophy that has kept him healthy and happy for a lifetime. He stays busy tending his flowers and tomato plants at his home, 421 East Second Street, and devotes lots of time to reading.

"I can't sit around doing nothing and be happy," he said. "I have to stay busy. I like people and I like to read, particularly newspapers and magazines of current events. I have read the old and new testaments of the Bible throughout."

Mr. Benson's business career in Shamrock began in December, 1923, when he and Fred LeDreer of Wellington rented a building from the late O.T. Glasscock and established Shamrock Hardware and Furniture Company in February, 1924.

In July of this year, he was honored by Wyeth and Company of St. Joseph Missouri with the presentation of an Estwing Golden Hammer denoting 50 years of service to the hardware industry.

Mr. Benson turned over the management and ownership of the firm to his son, Lyman Benson, in 1959, but still keeps an active interest in the business at 318 North Main, where he can often be seen visiting with old friends and customers of the store.

C.P. Hamilton, with whom J.R. had been in the hardware, furniture and undertaking business in Mangum in 1923, bought Mrs. LeDreer's interest in Shamrock Hardware and Furniture in 1926 and it became Benson-Hamilton Hardware and Furniture, with each principal owning a 50% interest. Mr. Hamilton died in 1934 and in 1937 Mr. Benson bought his interest from Mrs. Hamilton.

The store became Benson Hardware and Furniture in 1937, which it remained until Lyman changed the name to Benson Carpets and Hardware in the early 60's.

Mr. Benson gives credit for "whatever success I have had in life" to his wife, the late Eula Anderson Benson, to whom he was married at Wellington in September, 1914. Mrs. Benson died June 25 of this year.

"Whatever I decided to do or whenever I decided it was time to move, she backed me 100%. She believed in me and I couldn't let her down," he said with a twinkle in his eye.

He also expressed appreciation for the encouragement of his two children: Lyman Benson of Shamrock and Pauline Benson, who works in the loan department of Travelers Insurance in Dallas, a firm with which she has been associated since the early 60's.

Mr. Benson has two grandchildren: Gray Benson II, a granddaughter Sue Ann Taylor of San Antonio, and a great grandson, Gray Benson III of Wheeler.

Born June 21, 1889, in Sebastian County southeast of Ft. Smith, Ark., the son of John N. and Mattie B. Benson, J.R.'s early years were spent working in the cotton fields for his father.

"Until I was grown, I was never able to attend a full term of school in my life. I was the oldest boy and had to help dad in the fields."

The family moved to Bowie in 1898, "I suppose because Montague County in those days was known as the Cotton County of Texas," J.R. said. Before moving to Bowie, the family had lived in Tennessee for a short time and moved back to Ft. Smith, then moved to Lewisville north of Dallas.

In 1907, the family moved to Comanche, Okla. "I made one crop there, then left home and moved to Wellington in 1908, where my uncle, R.H. Templeton, a lawyer, wanted me to go to school," Mr. Benson said.

Asked about the modes of travel when he was a boy, Mr. Benson said: "I didn't go anywhere, maybe to Bowie two or three times a year to buy supplies. When the crops were laid by, I stayed busy cutting wood."

"When I entered school there in January, 1909, Supt. J.J. Calloway asked me what I wanted to take. I said: 'Seventh, eighth and ninth grade math, first year Algebra and first year Latin.'"

He said: "You can't. You don't have the background for all that." I replied: "I can get something out of each one of them. I am 20 years old and have got to get something in my head!"

"I attended school until April of that year, 1909, but I couldn't get credit for the school work I had done, so I quit to go to work for the Wellington Leader, then owned by my uncle. I set type and 'pulled' the old George Washington press."

"At that time, the newspaper was running an ad for a business college owned and managed by A.E. Hays in Bowie. My uncle had a scholarship available from the school, which he offered me.

"I had $75 in cash when I entered Bowie Business College and still had it when I finished four months later. I paid a Mr. and Mrs. Miller $12 a month for room and board and served as a babysitter for their kids. I took bookkeeping and math in the college."

After completing business school, Mr. Benson returned to Wellington where he went to work for his uncle, J.H. Templeton, in his abstract and insurance office.

"I read all the correspondence and every abstract in the office trying to learn something," J.R. said.

On July 11, 1910, the new City State Bank opened in Wellington and hired Mr. Benson as bookkeeper.

"Mr. Calloway, the school superintendent, came in and told me he would like to be the first depositor in the new bank...and his deposit was the first I had ever handled," J.R. said.

"I kept books, did janitor work and everything else that needed doing until about October, 1916, when they hired another boy."

"It was about this time that the bank president, J.C. Doneghy, came to me and asked me if I thought I could run a bank. 'I know I can,' was my reply."

"I will buy the First State Bank at Hedley if you think you can run it," he said. "Go buy it," I told him.

"The bank in Hedley had made no money in four or five years and Mr. Doneghy was able to buy it at book value. He sold me 40 shares of the stock for $4,000 and I went over to Hedley and ran the bank until 1920, when Mr. Doneghy offered me the job of cashier at the City State Bank in Wellington. He said for me to keep the Hedley stock. Things looked good, so I did."

"I bought 40 shares of stock in the City State, but in June 1921, things hit rock bottom and my stock wasn't worth anything. We charged off $137,000 and they put me to work securing the notes represented by this amount. In January, 1924, the directors said $118,000 of the $137,000 was well secured."

"It was then that Mr. Doneghy told me: 'The day those notes come due, to collect on them!' I told him I couldn't do that because I had assured our customers we'd stick by them. If I can't keep faith with them, you'd better get yourself another man."

At this point, Mr. Benson began his career in the hardware and furniture business in Mangum, which triggered the chain of events leading to the establishment of his store in Shamrock.

Mr. Benson has been active in his church and lodge throughout his years in business in Shamrock. He taught Sunday School in the Intermediate Department of the Methodist Church, was a member of the Board of Stewards a number of years, serving as chairman several terms.

He has been a member of the Masonic Lodge since 1910, belongs to the Scottish Rite, and holds the Knights of the York Cross of Honour, and is a Life Member of Texas Priory No. 23, having filled all the governing offices in the lodge.

Typically, J.R. says, when asked to recall the most interesting thing in his life: "The most interesting thing in my life has been my interest in young people and working with them in the church."

The largest recorded snowflakes fell on Montana in 1887. They were 15 inches in diameter.

The resolutions call for any test drilling or attendant activities now under way cease immediately and that nor further drilling take place in the 25-county Panhandle area until absolute assurances can be given in perpetuity that there will be no danger to the general population resulting from the transportation or storage of spent fissionable materials.

Meanwhile, Judge Watson strongly urges that Collingsworth people move into a letter writing campaign, not only to the Department of Energy, but to Governor Clements, and state and U.S. officials.

He described briefly STAND (Serious Texans Against Nuclear Dumping) which has a strong chapter at Tulsa, and he declared that anyone interested in forming a STAND group can contact him and he will get someone to come here to discuss the program and set up a meeting to organize.

Tax Board Keeps Appraiser's Pay at Current Level thru Dec.

Collingsworth County Tax Appraisal Board, in its final regular meeting of the year Tuesday, voted to continue to pay chief appraiser John Duncan a salary of $24,000 a year through December 31, 1981 and left up to an incoming board to decide what the chief appraiser's salary should be after the first of the year.

In a budget hearing and budget approval meeting on November 17, the board had budgeted only $15,000 for the chief appraiser's salary for the fiscal year beginning January 1.

Some board members thought that the salary reduction was to take effect on November 1 at which time Duncan had completed 1 year of service. But Duncan said that he had been hired at the $24,000 figure and until a change in salary was reflected in the minutes he should continue to be paid at the salary at which he was hired.

After considerable discussion, the board agreed and voted to continue with the present pay scale

Mr. and Mrs. Olan Farris are the landowners.

Section 34A, Block OS consisting of 99.04 acres, Mr. and Mrs. Newell McDaniel, landowners.

through the end of the year

The Tuesday meeting was the last for the original tax board which has served since the appraisal district was organized in January, 1980. The board now includes chairman Bill Lindsey, Margaret Coleman, Cary Don Neeley, Tommy Lewis and Doug Coleman. Paul Montgomery and Don Tarver both served on the board, but resigned before the end of their terms.

A new board, which was elected this fall by the various taxing entities involved, will take office in January. Lindsey and Neeley were returned to the board and they will be joined by Nita Brantley, Monte McCloy and Joe Frank Knoll.

22,334 Bales Ginned Dec. 1

Through Tuesday evening, Dec. 1, the 5 county gins had weighed in 22,334 bales of cotton, spokesmen for those plants reported.

This includes cotton that has been weighed in and is now waiting on the yards to be ginned.

Laverne Jones of the Farmers Co-op Gin Soc. No.

1 in Wellington estimated that the gin has between 2,500 and 3,000 bales on the yard waiting to be ginned. This includes both cotton standing in trailers and that in modules brought to the gin.

Ray Hightower of Farmers Co-op Enterprises, Dodson, estimated that the

Christmas Mail Dates Announced

The U.S. Postal Service urges customers to begin mailing Christmas holiday parcels and greetings destined to military personnel serving overseas and to civilian friends in foreign countries.

The following dates are recommended for holiday gifts and greetings going to foreign countries to be mailed no later than: Surface, regular postage, Dec. 1; air or priority mail, Dec. 10; SAM and PAL to members of the Armed Forces, Dec. 5.

In addition all Christmas mail, parcels and greeting cards destined for the continental USA should be mailed not later than: Surface, regular postage, Dec. 12; priority and special delivery, Dec. 19.

backlog of unginned cotton is between 500 and 700 bales.

Some customers still have cotton modules in the field.

Five thousand bales was ginned during the week of Nov. 24 - Dec. 1, and there is an even larger backlog on the gin yards than when the last report was taken.

An agreement was also conveyed by Panhandle Prospect Ltd. of Oklahoma City to Pennington on oil and gas leases and rights pertaining to gas units in existence on the same tracts of land. The purchase price of this latter instrument was given in the agreement recorded in the clerk's office was listed as $109,365.

Bingo Isn't Legal

AUSTIN—State Comptroller Bob Bullock's office has warned that it will be early 1982 before Texans can conduct and play legal bingo and cautioned against fraudulent claims that legal bingo has already arrived in Texas.

George Garland, director of the Bingo Regulation division, said the new bingo law also requires a local option election before games can be held.

He said because of the language in the law the earliest date a local option election can be scheduled would be January 16, 1982.

"Any game before that time and before the sponsor holds a license from the Comptroller's office is an illegal bingo game—just like it's always been," Garland said.

The Legislature this year legalized bingo games sponsored by charitable, educational, religious and civic organizations.

The law also provides that sponsoring organizations must be licensed by the Comptroller's office.

Garland said local option elections to play bingo can be called on a city-wide, county or justice of the peace precinct basis.

If approved locally, Garland said, the governing jurisdiction can also impose a two percent gross receipts tax on the games.

Garland said each applicant for a bingo license will be investigated to assure that the organization qualifies under the law.

"We are not going to permit any fly-by-night operations, and unauthorized games will be subject to the penal code concerning gambling," he said.

"Nothing's legal without a license from the state," he said.

He also said the new law will also limit bingo games to three a week and the amount of prizes in a single game to $500 and $2,500 for a series of games.

Garland said the comptroller's office would be ready to issue bingo licenses to authorized organizations as soon as local option elections are certified.

He said the agency would also be adopting rules and regulations in time for Texans to conduct legal bingo games.

Gas Pipeline Blows on Elm

A 16-inch El Paso Natural Gas Pipeline on Elm Creek blew out Wednesday night, Nov. 18, resulting in a fire lighting up the area with brilliant red and orange for about an hour and a half.

The explosion occurred about 7:30 p.m. and was located about one mile east of the Elm Creek Bridge on Highway US 83, on the George Davis Ranch. It was approximately a mile and a half from the Davis home.

About 5 acres of grassland was burned over, Mrs. Davis, returning home from prayer meeting, commented that "I thought the whole world was on fire."

John McFall of Houston, director of public relations for El Paso, said no one was injured, service was not interrupted and the fire was extinguished as soon as the line pressure was turned off.

"We don't know what caused it, but investigation is continuing," he was quoted as saying.

An unidentified truck driver crossing Elm Creek

Bridge when the explosion occurred said it almost blew him off the bridge. "I didn't know what was happening, but I knew something mighty mean was going on," he said.

Wellington, Samnorwood and Shamrock volunteer fire departments fought the blaze.

TIM PHILLIPS

Phillips Wins Monterey Band State Honors

Tim Phillips, senior drum major of Monterey High School band, Lubbock, led the 209 piece marching band, when it received a Division I rating, in State UIL competition a week ago.

The band placed in the top 10 in its class. It had earned the honor of representing the area when it earned a Division I rating at the UIL marching festival in Lubbock earlier in the school year. Directing the band are Jeff Daughton and Bill Surface.

Phillips, the 19 year old son, of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Phillips, is also a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Phillips.

He has been the band's drum major for the last two years, assisted by Greg Rice.

Phillips plays the trombone and has received Division I ratings in numerous solo and ensemble competitions. He was in the drum major competition at Big Spring, Oct. 31, in the state Auxiliary contest, where he again received a I rating and placed first with Rice in duet performances.

Phillips has arranged and written several pieces for the band in the last three years.

He will graduate from Monterey High School in May.

Free Vaccine Clinic Dec. 14

A clinic offering free vaccines that give protection against several childhood diseases is scheduled in Wellington, Monday, Dec. 14, from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

This will be in the Community Action center at 612 East Avenue.

Protection is against polio, diphtheria, lock jaw, whooping cough, measles, rubella and mumps.

Lazers and the Theatre Part of GATE Enrichment Program

Fifteen Wellington High School students are talking with Los Alamos scientists about lazer beams and working with the road show cast of a theatrical company. Others are visiting hospitals or looking at the judicial system.

They are participating in programs offered the members of GATE, the organization for gifted and talented students.

Joining them for the second semester will be 19 from junior high. These students will have their first field trip Friday, Dec. 11, when they visit the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum at Canyon and the Don Harrington Discovery Center and attend a performance of the Lone Star Ballet in the Christmas ballet, Nutcracker Suite, both in Amarillo.

Earlier this semester the high school group met with Pat Leadbeater, national consultant in gifted education, for an awareness seminar. Divided into groups, they planned seminars for the remainder of the year.

Working in four areas, one group discussed the lazer with a scientist from Los Alamos. The second group had its On and Off Broadway session with Lyle Talbot, who was starring in On Golden Pond at the Country Squire, said DeAnna Van Pelt.

Still another group visited Northwest Texas and St. Anthony's Hospitals for a study of medical trauma, and the "inhuman physician", which included the role of the laboratory and modern diagnostic and treatment techniques. Personnel members explained the various aspects.

The last group studied the judicial system, meeting at the Potter County Court House with a district judge, defense attorney, prosecutor, probation officer and a former convict. In the afternoon they toured jail facilities and were able to talk with prisoners.

Still another visit took them to Amarillo College for a career day, where they toured facilities and heard explanations from heads of departments of the education required for various careers.

On the fun side, High School GATE will hold its Christmas party Friday night.

Junior High members are Kim Castleberry, Mike Skelton, Kendall Harris and Tommy Cochran, 8th grade; Wesley Reeves, Mike Myrick, Brian Van Pelt, Kelly Goforth, Derek Seal, Kenny Peeks, Jeff Powell, Leslie Hammons, Margo Duncan and Heather Hendrix, 7th grade; and Denise Wilks, Kim Morris, Bradley Campbell, Britt Schmidt and Steven Owens, 6th grade.

Parents are closely identified with the GATE program, for their support is essential for the child's success in the program.

These parents met Tuesday, Nov. 24, for an explanation of the selection process for participation in GATE and to have their questions answered. The film, "It's Cool to be Smart" was shown.

Supt. Kenneth McKay; Bob Allen, junior high principal; Louis Graham, school counselor, and Mrs. Van Pelt, GATE director, answered questions.

"Students in the GATE program are in the upper 8 % of their classes overall," said Mrs. Van Pelt. Although the child must have mental ability, there must also be task commitment, leadership for carrying through, creativity.

Outside activities show the many facets of the student's life.

Final selection for GATE membership is made by a committee consisting of the student's building principal, the school counselor, and the gifted coordinator, and three classroom teachers who choose from selections made by room teachers and student peers.

On one hand, the boys and girls go to meet the outside world, but at the same time, much of the enrichment the program comes from people at home--in all walks of life.

Speakers this year have included District Attorney David McCoy of Childress, Bill Spillman, Jamie and Mary Johnson, Dickie Johnson, Bobo Castleberry, Mrs. Adolf Schmidt, Mrs. Dorothy Rose of Morton, Mrs. Lois Ratliff, Mrs. Elida Espanosa, Mrs. Rodney Myrick and Mrs. Kirby Campbell.

"These are people who have shared interesting experiences with us," said Mrs. Van Pelt.

Mrs. Guyon Norman was the speaker at the Christian Center Sunday. L.D. Stewart directed the music. Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Taylor of Arlington presented special music.

The Career Class, taught by Mrs. Dennis Hayes, presented a program Sunday at the Church of the Nazarene. A trio consisting of Glen Henry Lewis, Jack Lennon and Gaylon Cochran sang. They were accompanied by Renessa Cardwell.

Mrs. Hayes presented a reading. Kloeette Camp sang two songs, accompanying herself on the guitar.

Renessa and Roy Dean Cardwell, Jon Beanland and Mrs. Rodney Helfin played "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder," on the cornet, trombone, and piano for the worship service. The Career Class members ate lunch together at the Fellowship Hall.

Members and visitors of the class who were present Sunday were Kloeette Camp, Jeffery Camp, Stacy Urban, Jack Lennon, Gaylon and Matthew Moore. Visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Burl Nead of Hillsboro and Doug Testerman.

Rev. Dennis Hayes preached.

Mrs. Wilma Gibbs had as Thanksgiving dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Gibbs, Jill, Jana, Jane and Jenny, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Tony White, Kelly and Kent, Childress and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Morris, Kim and Karla of Wellington.

Humanism VS. Christianity

2nd of series

Humanism has been labelled as family enemy number one. It is the official philosophy of the public schools. A humanistic philosophy will color a person's entire thinking process. Humanists boast about being open-minded to all opinions. They say they believe in free expression from everybody. However, this does not include Christians. They claim that Christians are not objective because of their presuppositions, whereas they consider themselves to be objective and scientific. This is totally ridiculous; everybody is influenced by his presuppositions. A committed humanist thinks like a humanist, and a committed Christian thinks like a Christian.

(NOTE: Presuppositions are preconceived beliefs a person has that are a result of his training. In other words, the way a person has been programmed throughout life is his presuppositions.)

Other Editors Say . . .

Ways to Save

President Reagan has proposed a couple of ways to save major items in the federal budget, but of course faces a lot of opposition before this can be effected.

In keeping with his campaign promises, the President proposes doing away with the Department of Education and the Department of Energy.

Both bureaus came about in previous administrations and both have proved very expensive. Neither one will be missed if abolished.

We were in Washington a few years ago and heard the new Secretary of Education as she outlined the program for the department. About all she was excited about was the fact that she was able to provide 17,000 jobs for various levels in her department and she was elated over the fact that she had an annual budget of $11 billion to spend.

The Department of Energy was created during the Carter administration and has never quite gotten off the ground. The guidelines under which this department was created were odd, especially the provision that no person with any experience in the field of energy, either mining, petroleum or electrical, could become a member of the department.

The Department of Energy started out with an annual budget of $12 billion which is more than the combined profits of all of the oil companies in the United States.

To date the Department of Energy has not created a drop of energy and has done little except issue pamphlets on how to conserve.

The Department of Education was created as a sop to the National Education Association which supported President Carter. Its functions are not essential and could no doubt be handled as a smaller sub-department within one of the existing ones.

Whether we would save $20 billion or so by doing away with both of these is doubtful because bureaucrats have a habit of transferring instead of disappearing, but it ought to be worth a try.

—Harold Hudson in The Perryton Herald

Charge those who are rich in this world to not be highminded nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God who richly gives us all things to enjoy. Instruct them to do good, that they might be rich in good works, to be generous and ready to share, so that they might lay in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come and take hold of eternal life.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Gov. Bill Clements this week lost the latest round in his efforts not to make a deposition on his role in the redistricting process for plaintiffs challenging the state's congressional reapportionment plan in federal court.

The U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans cleared the way for a three-man panel of federal district judges in Austin to order Clements to submit to the deposition.

Plaintiffs in the case argued that Clements should give the deposition because he helped shape the plan by threatening to veto any proposal he didn't like. Clements contends the case could set a precedent that could result in the governor having to give depositions on every decision he makes in office.

Clements also has blasted Democratic gubernatorial hopeful Peyton McKnight of Tyler for saying that the governor should give the deposition. McKnight has said Clements is "eager" to tap telephones but unwilling to answer questions in "perfectly routine" lawsuits.

The three-judge panel still must make the final decision on whether to order the Republican governor to give the deposition, a decision that could come during a pre-trial hearing this weekend. The redistricting suit goes to trial Nov. 30.

Assistant Attorney General Rick Gray, who is representing Clements in the matter, says the appeals court decision will be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court if the lower court issues the order for the deposition.

Hobby Criticism

Meanwhile, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby has been criticizing Clements for his actions in the redistricting process this year.

Hobby, a Democrat, has labeled Clements as the "Redistricting Rapist" for vetoing the state Senate reapportionment plan adopted by the legislature.

Clements may be unhappy with the new plan drawn up by the Legislative Redistricting Board, Hobby says, but adds that the results were "perfectly predictable."

The Legislative Redistricting Board, chaired by Hobby, was made up of five Democrats.

Governor's Race

While redistricting litigation heated up, so did the governor's race.

Former Democratic Party National Chairman Robert Strauss announced his support for Tyler Sen. McKnight. McKnight is the only Democrat to formally announce his candidacy against Clements in next year's gubernatorial contest.

Strauss, a Texan, says he's supporting McKnight, a Tyler oilman, because he's an "old friend" and he's "what we need as governor."

Strauss called McKnight a moderate conservative who can unite the different factions within the Democratic Party.

Other potential Democratic candidates include Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong, Attorney General Mark White, former Gov. Dolph Briscoe and former Attorney General John Hill.

Whoever gets into the race, the contest is expected to be one of the most expensive in the state's history.

Some observers have estimated that up to $28 million could be spent in the governor's race in 1982, with McKnight already having estimated that it will take at least $5 million to beat Clements.

McKnight Fundraiser

With a price tag that large, fundraising will be an important element in the race, and McKnight is getting an early start. The Tyler Democrat has announced his first fundraiser to be held Dec. 7 at Billy Bob Barnett's "Billy Bob's Texas" club in Fort Worth.

McKnight is hoping the presence of such Texas celebrities as Willie Nelson and Houston Oiler Earl Campbell will help draw a crowd to the affair, which has ticket prices ranging from $100 for individuals up to $10,000 for "host" tickets.

Country singers Floyd Tillman, Moe Bandy, Steve Fromholz and others also are expected to appear at the event.

Those willing to pay the price of host tickets will get their names printed on the program and will get to attend a special "after hours pickin' party."

McKnight says the festivities, to be held in "the world's biggest dance hall," are going to be "a heck of a lot of fun."

Highway Bid-rigging

A federal grand jury meeting in Austin has handed down the first indictments resulting from a year-long investigation into bid-rigging on state highway department construction projects.

A dozen Texas companies and 10 individuals were named on numerous counts of antitrust violations, mail fraud and perjury for attempting to subvert the competitive bidding process.

The investigation has been conducted by the U.S. Justice Department's Antitrust Division and is continuing. Texas Attorney General White has indicated that his office also is looking into the possibility that state laws also have been violated.

The indictments handed down so far involve contractors in the seal coating business, with the indicted firms located as far north as Lubbock and Amarillo and as far south as San Antonio and Victoria. No state officials or employees have been indicted.

The grand jury alleges that the firms and individuals attempted to suppress or eliminate competition for highway contracts, allocated up-for-bid highway projects among themselves, submitted artificially high bids and divided up larger contracts into agreed-upon subcontracts.

Companies indicted face fines up to three times the amount of the contracts, while individuals face both fines and prison sentences.

More Water

State Sen. E. L. Short, D-Tahoka, has added his name to those pledging to present new water plans for legislative consideration in 1983—but Short says his plan won't cost state taxpayers "one red cent."

Short says his plan, which would be in the form of two constitutional amendments, would allow residents of east, central, south and west Texas to design their own solutions to their long- and short-term water problems.

The first part of the plan would allow the state to pay up to 12 percent interest on the bonds it sells.

Both of those proposals were part of House Speaker Bill Clayton's water trust fund proposal—Proposition 4—which was defeated by voters Nov. 3. However, Short says his plan would require each water project to be authorized locally, with sponsors of the project to pledge their own collateral for bond issues.

Gov. Clements also has pledged to present a new plan to solve the state's approaching water crisis to the Legislature in 1983, and the Texas Department of Water Resources has begun efforts to formally revise the Texas Water Plan, originally adopted in the 1960s at the direction of former Governor John Connally.

THOMAS' ROLL CALL REPORT

Your Congressman's Votes Reported Each Week

WASHINGTON—Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes before adjourning for Thanksgiving recess.

HOUSE

SPENDING The House passed, 205 for and 194

against, a stopgap FY 1982 budget measure (HJ Res 357) to fund the government until regular appropriations bills (already nearly two months overdue) are approved by Congress sometime next year. The vote was a triumph for the Democratic leadership, but victory proved shortlived when President Reagan vetoed the resolution and House Democrats abandoned what would have been a futile attempt to override the veto.

Reagan said in his veto message the $428 billion emergency spending bill was about $2 billion too expensive. As the House and Senate try to fashion a stopgap budget more to the president's liking, federal spending will be governed by yet another temporary plan (see vote below).

Members voting "yea" wanted to enact the stopgap budget despite likelihood of a veto.

Reps. Charles Wilson, D-2, Jack Brooks, D-9, James Wright, D-12, Jack Hightower, D-13, William Patman, D-14, Kika de la Garza, D-15, Richard White, D-16, Mickey Leland, D-18, Henry Gonzalez, D-20, Abraham Kazen, D-23, and Martin Frost, D-24, voted "yea."

Reps. Samuel Hall, D-1, James Collins, R-3, Ralph Hall, D-4, Phil Gramm, D-6, Bill Archer, R-7, Jack Fields, R-8, Jake Pickle, D-10, J. Marvin Leath, D-11, Charles Stenholm, D-17, Kent Hance, D-19, and Tom Loeffler, R-21, voted "nay."

Reps. Jim Mattox, D-5, and Ron Paul, R-22 did not vote.

BUDGET On a tally of 221 for and 176 against, the House voted to extend government funding at existing levels until Dec. 15. This was a victory for President Reagan over the Democratic leadership, which favored extending the stopgap FY 1982 budget until Feb. 3. The Democrats wanted to keep their spending priorities—carried over from FY 1981—in effect as long as possible.

Members voting "yea" wanted the stopgap 1982 budget, which reflects FY 1981 levels distasteful to the president, to last only until Dec. 1.

Sam Hall, Wilson, Collins, Ralph Hall, Gramm, Archer, Fields, Leath, Hightower, Patman, White, Stenholm, Loeffler and Paul voted "yea."

Brooks, Pickle, Wright, de la Garza, Leland, Hance, Gonzalez, Kazen and Frost voted "nay."

Mattox did not vote.

SENATE

'VETO BAIT' The Senate passed, 46 for and 39 against, the stopgap FY 1982 budget plan (HJ res 357) that later was vetoed by the president (see first House vote above).

Senators voting "yea" favored the budget plan in defiance of the White House.

Sens. Lloyd Bentsen, D, and John Tower, R, did not vote.

FEDERAL PAY The Senate adopted, 54 for and 41 against, an amendment providing top executive branch employees with pay hikes averaging 4.8 percent. The top salary for federal executives is now frozen at $50,112. The amendment was attached to HJ Res 357, a stopgap appropriation bill (see vote above), but was later dropped in a House Senate conference.

Senators voting "yea" wanted to raise the maximum salary that can be paid top federal executives.

Bentsen and Tower voted "yea."

Davenport Burial at Childress

Lyman Hugh Davenport, 19, the grandson of Mrs. Kenyard Poteet, was stabbed to death in Las Cruces, New Mexico, by a young man he did not know, as he and a friend were preparing to enter a car.

The incident occurred late Friday or early Saturday, Nov. 20 or 21.

Davenport's home was in Grants, New Mexico, and he was in his second year at New Mexico State University.

His assailant has been arrested, Kenyard Poteet said Tuesday.

The young man has spent a great deal of time in the Poteet home here while he was growing up.

He was born at Canyon, January 30, 1962, the son of Mrs. Carolyn Maynard of Thoreau, New Mexico, and of the late Hugh "Mike" Davenport, who died in 1964.

He was a member of First Baptist Church in Grants and Theta Epsilon Fraternity at NMSU.

Funeral services were conducted at First Baptist Church, Grants, Monday, Nov. 23, with Rev. Bryan Day, pastor, officiating.

Graveside rites and burial were in Childress Cemetery on Tuesday.

Survivors include his mother; a sister, Mrs. Shelly Benham of Thoreau, N.M.; grandparents, Mrs. Poteet, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Davenport of Burnet and Jess DeVoll of Dallas.

Secondary: Wade Willis,

Property Contributions Deductible?

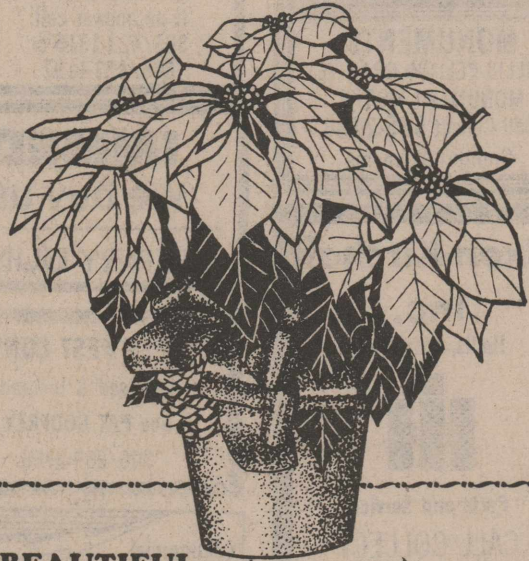

Taxpayers who itemize deductions may claim a deduction for either cash or property donated to a charity. If the contribution is in the form of property, documentation substantiating the gift must be filed with the tax return. The statement should include the dates and amounts of each contribution, the type of property donated and the method of determining the property's value.

In the case of used furniture, clothing, securities or other property donated, the taxpayer may generally deduct an amount equal to the fair market value of the property. The fair market value is the price the property would bring if a willing buyer purchased it from a willing seller.

If the piece of property is valued over $200, then the original cost, fair market value, appreciation, condition of the gift and valuation must be attached to the return. If the valuation was determined by appraisal, a copy of the gift appraisal report must also be included with the return, according to the IRS.

More detailed information is contained in two free IRS publications, 561, "Determining the Value of Donated Property," and 526, "Charitable Contributions." These pamphlets can be ordered by mail using the order form in the tax package, or by calling the IRS Tax Forms/Information number listed in the telephone directory.

Windbreak Seedlings Available

LUBBOCK--Applications are now being accepted for windbreak seedlings from the Texas Forest Service.

These seedlings, grown from seed collected in West Texas and eastern New Mexico, are produced in the Service's greenhouse in Lubbock and in a field nursery near Halfway.

Conifer species available this season included Arizona cypress, Eastern redcedar, Austrian pine and Ponderosa pine. These containerized seedlings cost $1 each and are sold only in multiples of 30 seedlings.

Hardwood species include bur oak, Shumard oak, Russian olive, native plum, hackberry, mulberry, honeylocust and green ash. These bare root seedlings are priced at $20 per hundred, minimum order. The price includes that state sales tax.

Seedlings ordered now will be ready for pickup and planting in March 1982. Trees sold by the Texas Forest Service may not be used for landscaping or ornamental purposes.

For applications and information on Windbreaks.

contact the Texas Forest Service, Route 3, Box 216, Lubbock, Texas 79401 (806) 746-5801. Applications are also available from county offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Soil Conservation Service and agricultural extension agents.

Researcher Studies Folk Medicine Cures

College Station--Old Indian cures used along the South Texas border are often European in origin rather than native, says a Texas A&M University researcher specializing in culture mixing.

Dr. Clarissa Kimber said many folk medicines used among South Texas Mexican-Americans are often referred to as Indian in nature--having been handed down from generation to generation--but usually can be traced back to Spanish or Portuguese explorers and settlers.

Many people have believed that cattle acquire the gift of speech on Christmas Eve.

Lonnie Hollingsworth Pharmacist of the Year

Austin...Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby, former UT Pharmacy Associate Dean Bill Sheffield and NARD Executive Committee Member Lonnie Hollingsworth were featured personalities at Fall Meetings of Texas Pharmaceutical Association, October 30- November 1 at Association headquarters in Austin.

Lonnie Hollingsworth of Lubbock is serving his second term as a member of the Executive Committee of the National Association of Retail Druggists and was president of Texas Pharmaceutical Association in 1975. He currently serves as treasurer of Texas Pharmaceutical Education and Research Foundation, the service corporation of Texas Pharmaceutical Association. He is the 1981 Texas Pharmacist of the Year. A special recognition indicative of the high esteem and warmth which Texas pharmacists feel for Lonnie has been arranged by his friends of the TPA Board of Directors--sentiment with a real West Texas sense of humor.

Educational programs on new laws will take place on Saturday and Sunday mornings during Fall Meetings--providing latest information on new rules under the Pharmacy Act, implementation of triplicate prescriptions and experience with the designated agent provision. Full schedule of meetings of Boards, councils and Committees will complete the weekend.
