For This Our Bounty

Marian F. Farrington

Thank Thee for this smiling land
of ours,
For all the beauty and the grandeur here;
Thank Thee most for freedom, dearly bought
By Pilgrim band and sturdy pioneer.

Had they not bravely fought and so endured,
This priceless gift could never have been gained.
In thanks and solemn pride we raise our hearts
And vow to keep our honor still unstained.

For this our bounty, Lord, we give Thee thanks
With grateful hearts as brimming as our store.
Our flocks are fed, our fields have yielded well,
Dear Lord we could not rightly
ask for more.

Pray, make us humble for our harvest's yield
And mindful of our neighbor in distress;
Unless in our abundance he may share,
Then empty is our show of thankfulness.

Bale Count

In spite of the inclement weather that has virtually halted the cotton harvest on the South Plains, the Floyd County gins continued to roll, if only on limited basis, and grind out another 6,000 bales this past week, according to the Texas Employment Commission.

The total bales ginned (as of November 20) stands at 27,749 compared with 21,316 a week ago. This time last year the county had ginned a total of 34,562 of the white gold.

A year ago, Floyd County had ginned more than half of the 62,884 bales that had been processed in the four-county area. This year, the county's total is somewhat shy of that mark with the four-county total standing at 59,748. Hale County accounts for most of the remainder with 24,856.

Farmers Will Sell 1964 Crops For More Than $28 Million

Information gathered this past week from several sources indicate that the Floyd County farmers will have an income that will top $28.8 million for crops produced during 1964. Some of the crops figured are only estimations, but should be fairly accurate.

Although the past summer was one of the worse seen by the County farmers, and hurt the dryland producers considerably, the overall income will not be affected to a great extent.

This figure compares with a $29.6 million figure in 1962. The 1963 total was not available at this time. In 1962 the county ranked seventh in the state in total farm income, with around 950 farms.

The information used in this projection came from the ASCS office, the county agent's office, reports of receipts from the sale of the wheat and grain sorghum crops, and the expected cotton production of 100,000 bales to be sold at an estimated average price of $140.

The method used above sets the expected income from cotton to be the major source of income for Floyd County farmers by accounting for $14 million, almost half the total farm income.

Grid Banquet Set December 5

The annual Whirlwind Football Banquet for 1964 has been set for 7:30 p.m. December 5 in the high school cafeteria. To date there has been no outside speaker contacted about being on the program.

At the banquet, sponsored by the Pep Squad, aided by the Quarterback Club, those receiving letters will be recognized, and if the jackets have arrived, they will be presented to those earning them this year.

A football sweetheart will be crowned, next year's captains will be named, and a Fighting Whirlwind Award will be presented to some player who was outstanding during the 1964 season.

At last year's banquet Lana Davis was crowned as football sweetheart and Vernie Moore was named recipient of the Fighting Whirlwind Award.

THANKSGIVING 1964

Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands.
Serve the Lord with gladness; come before his presence with singing.
Know ye that the Lord He is God; it is He that made us, and not we ourselves;
We are His People, and the sheep of His pasture.
Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise; be thankful unto Him, and bless His name.
For the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting; and His truth endureth to all generations.

—Psalm 100

Thursday, November 12th, the Crosby County club women from Wake, Broadway, Mt. Blanco, and Big Four Clubs came to the Lighthouse for an all day meeting. This is a special day looked forward to each year and is known as "THANKSGIVING AT THE LIGHTHOUSE", this year the Wake Club served as the hostess club. A covered dish luncheon was served to approximately seventy at the noon hour. Barbecued ham, turkey and dressing and all the trimmins' anyone might wish for.

Just before the dinner was served, Mrs. Kinder Farris, of Floydada, brought a beautiful devotional.

After lunch each club brought a portion of the program.

The Mt. Blanco group brought a "style show" in which "Early Morning Originals" were modeled.

The Big Four Club gave a skit which provided "Food for Thought".

The Broadway Club brought back memories of the "Old School days and the Spelling Bee of long ago".

Group singing was led by Mrs. Dennis Taylor; and a special song was sung by Mrs. Taylor and her sister, Mrs. Brice Allen.

The Wake Club, for the serious part of the program, brought an interesting and informative discussion on "COTTON AND COTTON PRODUCTS" and why every farmer should be using cotton products.

This program was discussed by Mrs. Lawrence McDowell of McAdoo. She has made an extensive study of this subject and has lots of material, which she would be glad to share with any one interested. So, if you are interested in a good program on "Cotton, and its Uses Today" get in touch with Mrs. McDowell.

Beautiful cotton corsages had been made for those attending; and an interesting display of 100% cotton fabrics, garments, etc. were displayed.

It was a wonderful day for the club women and their guests —lots of fun and laughs for all, as well as information of vital interest to all.

Sherry Mullin, Floyd County Home Demonstration Agent, Murriel Bridge, Home Service Director, Southwestern Public Service Co., Amarillo, Mrs. Riley Teague, Mrs. Kinder Farris, Mrs. H. A. Powell, Genell Breed, Mrs. Joe Dunn and Mrs. Henry Brewer all of Floydada and Floyd County were among the guests attending.

Other club members and guests attending were:

Rachel Taylor, Bonnie Lee Flemins, Evelyn Latta, Melba Verett, Connye Allen, Dora Lee Ellison, Stella Fay Brints, Ruth Mize, Opal Fowler, May Mitchell, Lula Mathews, Gladys Wheeless, Mrs. C. A. McClure, Edith Moore, Elizabeth Wright, Mary Wright, Bernice Hill, Gladys Crawford, Ovie Poole, Iva McCurdy, Gertie Ratheal, Jeanie Moore, Ruth Griffin, Mrs. A. L. Winegar, Viola Brown, Mrs. Duffy Ratheal, Edith Moore, Mrs. S. G. Appling, Mrs. Glenfopd Fowler, Mrs. A. B. Exum, Mrs. Earl Edler, Mrs. T. R. Jones, Lottie Leatherwood, Alene Thornhill, Rubie Whalen, Rosa Thornhill, Mary Havens and La Dawn, Doris Marley, Bonita McDowell, Rena Barnett, Mary Hunsucker, Carolyn Hunsucker, Nelda Griffin, Pat Brown, Breed, Glenna Mayes, Sarah Sudduth, Era Mae Seigler, Dorothy McDougle, Lena Graham, Hazel Hinkle, Rella Ratheal, and others.

Friday, November 13th, a demonstration on "Christmas Baking" was given at the new community center in Petersburg, with Mrs. J. C. Alford as hostess.

Bright and early Monday morning, November 16th, a group of "Young Homemakers" from the Petersburg Chapter came to the Lighthouse Kitchen for a candy workshop.

The womans' Study Club of Happy and their guests came to the Lighthouse for an all-day meeting on Tuesday, November 17th.

An impressive Thanksgiving devotional was given by Mrs. Clayton Devin of Happy. Barbecued ham and a salad luncheon was served to the group, fifty or more, at the noon hour. "Festive Cookies and Candies", "Unusual Techniques for a Holiday Freezer" were discussed and demonstrated. In the afternoon Harry Morckel brought a display of candles and discussed candle making for the group.

Wednesday, the 18th, a program on "Candy Making" was given for the Snyder Home Demonstration Club of Hale County at the home of Mrs. S. M. True, Jr., in the Snyder community. Gene Brazeale and her assistant Home Demonstration Agent for Hale County brought some interesting Christmas ideas for the group. Each lady brought her favorite recipe of candy she had made. Recipes were exchanged—and of course lots of "tasting" took place, too. It was a beautiful display of homemade goodies—and most delicious!

Thursday afternoon the members of the Young Homemakers Chapter, Floydada, came to the Lighthouse Kitchen for "Candy Making". Their sponsor, Mrs. Baccus, accompanied them, too.

Friday some of the Young Homemakers from the Plainview Chapter spent the day in the Lighthouse Kitchen for a "Cookie Workshop". This group of Young Homemakers along with their husbands and families plan to take cookies for the holidays to Boys Ranch on a Sunday and attend church services with the boys.

Thursday evening at 7:00 p.m. the employees of the Lighthouse Electric entertained their husbands and wives and the directors and their wives with a turkey dinner at the Rogers Restaurant. They came for "42 and 84" to the Lighthouse Kitchen after the meal.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Tooley were guests for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Freeman spent Sunday in Muleshoe visiting their son, James and his wife.

Mrs. Irvin Newberry, of Montrose, Colorado, spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. Doyce Smalley and other relatives and friends.

Wiley Rogers, L. C. Ferguson, and A. W. James went to the Springlake-Petersburg bi-district football game Saturday night.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT:

"Long roads test the horse
Long dealings the friend."

During Fiscal Year 1964 the Veterans Administration through increased efficiency treated 25,646 more hospital patients than in the previous fiscal year without increasing the number of VA hospitals.

Norman Named To Texas AAA Committee Post

Weims Norman of Norman Spraying Service of Dougherty was elected over the week-end as Chairman of the Insurance Committee of the Texas Aerial Applicators Association. The convention was held at the Koko Inn, Lubbock.

During the meeting, which was attended by over 300 persons from across the state, plans were made to hold their annual agricultural conference at Texas A&M University in February. This will be the 14th agricultural conference sponsored by the Texas Aerial Applicators and has drawn attendees from well over half the United States and several foreign countries.

The Association has made great strides in the furthering of safety as it applies to the engineering, maintenance, and handling of aircraft and the careful application of the vitally needed fertilizers, insecticides, herbicides and seed, all of which are economically applied by means of agricultural aviation. The code of ethics and safety standards, which each member of the Texas Aerial applicators Association applies, has gone far toward making possible the abundance of food and fiber in this nation.

The officers are: chairman, Wayne Brown; vice chairman, Rev. Paul Link;; and secretary, Mrs. C. B. Lyles.

Chairman Brown asked that the directors and others meet at the clothing center Friday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. for a work meeting. The center is located in the basement of the County Courthouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Johnson of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Cull Bullock of Floydada visited in the home of the H. N. Powells at Doughtrty Sunday.

Football Game Gate Sales Up Almost $600

According to the Floydada School Business Manager, Dave Eaton, the school's receipts from the 1964 football games was up $590.22 over the 1963 season. The total amount received $8,571.25 does not include the bi-district clash at Denver City, of which the Floydada school will receive ½ after all bills are paid.

During the 1963 season a total of $7,981.63 was received for the 10-game season.

The least amount received for any one contest was from the game at Dimmitt where the school received only $465.07. Running next to that amount was the $493.75 received from Childress for that contest.

The best received during the season was here during homecoming when Olton played the Winds. The amount received from that contest was $1142.25. When the locals traveled to Lockney and played that game, the receipts for this school totaled $1,072.60.

The other contests brought in amounts varying between the figures listed here.

The amount to be received from the Denver City game is not known at this time because some of the expenses of that game are yet to be paid. However, the advance sales in Floydada to the game totaled $890.50. Although the largest crowd of the season attended this game, the net will probably be less than some of the regular season games.

Floydada Merchants Offer Over $500 Worth Of Gifts

MRS. KATE COLLIER BIRTHDAY HONOREE

Friday, November 13th was certainly not an unlucky day for Mrs. Kate Collier. Improved Programs Answer To Many School Dropouts

COLLEGE STATION — Reducing the number of school dropouts is a big job, yet it can be accomplished by adequate programs of guidance, training and placement, says Patsy Reynolds, Extension Service specialist in family life education.

Great Britain has only one-fifth the unemployment rate for 15 to 19-year-olds as the United States has. And in this nation, skilled, mobile, educated workers who are qualified for new fields of work are in demand, the specialist says.

Planners for rural youth must consider that occupations change as new jobs develop and old ones disappear. These resulting new occupations are more complex.

Three ways which might help change the levels achieved by young people, Miss Reynolds says, are:

1. Improved schools, particularly the guidance services, to help reduce the effects of geographic isolation.
2. Work to motivate able youth who hold low occupational and educational goals.
3. Help rural youth and their parents face the facts of farm and industrial opportunity.

New Pension Plan Available For Several Older Veterans

Older Veterans in the lower income bracket will be able to receive at least $100.00 a month through the new Law liberalizing Veterans Pensions and providing basic cost of living increase to most Pensioners, including widows and children, R. H. Todd Jr., Acting Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Lubbock, said today.

The new Law, signed by President Johnson October 13, becomes effective January 1, 1965.

The law provides basic cost of living increases of 6.4 per cent to most pensioners, higher increases for those with the greatest need, and the greatest increases, as well as medical benefits, to the most severely disabled Veterans.

This last category includes those who are permanently housebound and who are blind or need constant aid and attendance.

Mr. Todd pointed out that the new law also liberalizes the definition of "Income" which Veterans or their dependents may receive and still be eligible for Pension.

Those persons who were on the Pension Roll prior to July 1, 1960 and receive Pension payments under what is called the "Old System" are not eligible to benefits from the new Pension increases.

To become eligible for the new increases they can notify the Veterans Administration of their wish to elect Pension Benefits under the current Pension Law which went into effect July 1, 1960, as Public Law 86-211.

Mr. Todd said that many Pensioners are expected to make this election.

While the new Law does not change the monetary income limitations which were set up in 1960, it allows recipients to exclude certain monies when reporting annual income as required by law.

These new exclusions are:

(1) 10 per cent of the payments to an individual under any public or private annuity or retirement plan, including Social Security Pension.

(2) Amounts paid by a Veteran for the last illness and burial of his spouse or child.

(3) Profits realized from sale of real estate or personal property other than in the course of business.

(4) Payments received for jury duty.

(5) Payments under the War Orphans Education Assistance Act.

(6) State Bonuses paid to Veterans.

(7) Exclusion of all of a spouse's earned income, or $1200.00 of her income, whichever is most advantageous.

Under the new Law, permanently housebound veterans may receive an extra $35.00 a month.

Also under the new Law, Veterans who are blind or need constant aid and attendance of another person will receive an increase from $70.00 to $100.00 in their Monthly Allowance.

The new Law permits the Veterans Administration to furnish physician prescribed drugs and medicines to Veterans who receive the Aid and Attendance Allowance, and to increase from $35.00 to $38.00 per month the Death Pension paid a child where there is no widow.

The VA will automatically adjust payments to those now eligible and will notify others of their possible entitlement. Mr. Todd said that the increased amounts will be contained in checks received on or about February 1, 1965.

More Farming Efficiency Found Through Forage Test

COLLEGE STATION — Forage testing, an important management tool, allows today's progressive farm operator to become increasingly efficient. It helps him to achieve efficient utilization of forages, improve management practices and strengthen his feeding programs.

In Texas, forages are depended upon to supply large amounts of feed nutrients in dairy and beef cattle rations, says Albert C. Novosad, Extension pasture specialist, Texas A&M University.

These forages cannot be properly supplemented if their nutritive value is unknown, the specialist points out. If forage is improperly utilized and supplemented according to its feeding value, this will be quickly reflected in beef and milk production and in profits.

Although numerous methods are used to evaluate forages, the chemical evaluation method is the most common, says Novosad. This method, he explains, should be used in combination with a visual estimation because it will not reveal foreign material, mold, shattering and other conditions which may be present.

Through this evaluation method, determinations are made for percentage of crude protein and crude fiber, and calculated values are reported for digestible protein, total digestible nutrients and net energy. Moisture percentage, says Novosad, is usually reported for silage only.

Although chemical evaluation may not always reveal the true value of a forage, it can serve as a valuable guide as to its feeding value, the specialist adds.

The Texas A&M Forage Testing Service, initiated last March, is available to any one desiring to have hay or silage tested, Novosad points out. A two-part service is being offered in connection with the program. This includes the chemical forage analysis and a suggested feeding program based on the forage analyzed.

The Forage Testing Service, says Novosad, is operated somewhat similar to the Soil Testing Service. Forage sample mailing bags, instructions and all other forms are available from county Extension offices.

Your county agricultural agent will be glad to assist you in prepairing samples and in providing any additional information which you may desire, the specialist concludes.

Almost 35 million boys and adult volunteers have been registered in the Scouting program during the past fifty-four years.

A matter of principle is often a cloak to conceal an exhibition of selfishness.

Letter To The Editor

r Mr. Tooley,

e feel that the school tax ation is a matter of vital rn to the people in the ol district and also feel that e very important facts and ans have never been pubed. The most important of e facts being this: That the action taken against the ol officials was a result of unlawful plan of the school ials. The plaintiff group only asked the court to re- the school officials to obey laws of the State of Texas don't they obey the law stop spending the tax-pay- money for attorney fees?

e have the impression as a ult of reading your articles editorials (front page and erwise) that apparently you e a tendency to omit (intenally or otherwise) many of facts concerning the school situation. We feel that it t be time for some of the e facts and opinions to be ized in the form of a "letto the editor", paid for by e of the opponents to the ol boards plans. Some of e questions you might like answer. You might want to wer them all since you seem show no reluctance to take a active part in this controsy. But regardless of your ings, we feel that a lot of ple would like to know the wers and they might be inested in some facts and opinns by someone on the "other e of the fence". So here they e believe that opposition to rness, illegality, inequity, extravagance in a plan of tion and school administra- does not make the opponts of such plans enemies of school. Do you believe that ect for the property rights others and the obedience to rules of good business would included in a good education? think that these are things have a necessary and propplace in anyones education. knowledge of our State Conution is still considered by y people to be very import- part of an education. Of se you know, Mr. Tooley, this Constitution requires equal and uniform taxation all property. We understand you and some of the school ials don't agree with this al and uniform taxation reement but nevertheless, Mr. ley, it is the law. Do you gest we disobey it and make payers subject to the whims a few public officials? Unlawtaxation is a very serious er and it was never intendby the people who wrote the titution that tax-payers be ed to accept the despotic, dictatorial and arbitrary decisions of public officials who just decided that they don't agree with the law and don't choose to obey it.

It seems that this "legal talk" started over a year ago after the "so called" appraisers had done their work. About 400 tax-payers met with the school board and presented an informal petition protesting the new plan. They were confronted with words to this effect: "The wishes and desires of the tax-payers come second." We have a legal right to place market values on your property, employ an outside appraiser, allow the appraiser to sit with, or even be chairman of the Board of Equalization. You will have an opportunity to appear before the Board of Equalization, but whether you do or do not work out your problems with them, your property will be placed on the rolls and if legal action is necessary to collect the taxes, then the burden of proof will be on the tax-payer to prove that you are being taxed excessively! This is when the talk started about laws, law suits and lawyers. This spokesman for the school board didn't tell us about the apparent plan to ignore the legal responsibility placed on the school officials to render the unrendered property. It appears that they tried to select the part of law they wanted to obey. Next came a petition to the district court which asked for an injunction to prevent the officials from proceeding with this unlawful plan. This injunction was granted and the school board asked the court to appoint a master in chancery to render the personal property. The master was appointed as requested by the school board. Later the school board asked hte court to allow the provisional release of the tax roll for 1963. They were not ordered by the court to certify and approve the roll. They were ordered to place in a fund a certain percentage of collections for the purpose of refunding some of the tax-payers, whatever refund was due as a result of additional property being placed on the rolls.

Some other questions which remain unanswered — Why shouldn't the bond issue be reduced to the $400,000.00 or $500,000.00 figure that is about all the tax-payers can afford and believed by many to be more than sufficient? Why have the tax-payers not been informed that our present debt plus the interest involved makes our total debt about $1,400,000.00? If the proposed plan of the school board were adopted the debt of the district would be about $2,900,000. 00. This is a tremendous debt for a school district of this size.

Why did the school board proceed with the bond election before any of the tax-payers knew what their taxes would be. (They still do not know) People vote more judiciously when they know that they will be required to pay their fair and equal share.

Why is it that the school officials fail to realize that most tax-payers who pay on all of their taxable property are paying about all that they can pay and should be taxed only in accordance with a reasonable plan? Why does the Board of Equalization fail to equalize the values on the property in the district? (Cotton allotments, bindweeds, the amount of water available, the depth and thickness of the water bearing formations were not properly considered). We did not have a market value appraisal. Do you agree, Mr. Tooley?

Why have the residents of the district not been informed that the high assessed valuation was not necessary? (Some of the tax-payers have the impression that is was).

Do you really believe in equalization of taxes, Mr. Tooley? If I recall correctly you stated in your paper some time ago that you were in favor of equalization of taxes. You realize of course that this would require a list and description of all property being presented to the Board of Equalization. (They must have something to work with) Could it be that you are in favor of equalizing only part of the taxes? If so, which part, Mr. Tooley? Where do you draw the line?

We also have the impression that you disagree with the tax laws of the State of Texas and have plans to attempt to get it changed. We recognize your right to disagree with the laws, but until such time as it is changed don't you think the laws should be obeyed? Would you be in favor of allowing them to assume such legislative powers such as changing the laws? Do you have any recommendations as to what we should do until such time as the law is changed?

If our present laws are to be ignored by the school officials, then since that same law grants them the only legal powers they possess, then it appears that they would have no legal authority at all. Would that be in agreement wih your thinking? If so then what shall we do until the law is changed?

Are you in agreement with those who criticize the plaintiff group because they took legal action against an unlawful plan of taxation? These people are protecting their property rights, Mr. Tooley. They don't want a lien placed on their property by unlawful methods? Do you really blame them? They are also opposed to unnecessary expenditures of all of the tax-payers money. Has it been your observation that most of the criticism of he plaintiff has been rendered by people who enjoy a rather favored position as a result of this new proposed plan. Do you believe, Mr. Tooley, that if people rendered their property as generously as they render their criticism that the tax roll would be increased appreciably? We believe that it would be.

Apparently, Mr. Tooley, this is the general condition of the Floydada Independent School District. —

We have a lawsuit still in district court on the 1963 tax roll.

We have an admission by the school board that all the property was not on the roll. They asked the court to appoint a master in chancery to obtain a rendition of this property.

We have a conditional tax roll for 1963. We have a school board that is attempting to penalize people if they don't loan money to the school district on the basis of the conditional 1963 tax roll. Where do they think they get this authority, Mr. Tooley? We can find no authorization.

We have a court judgement in 1963 requiring the personal property to be placed on the rolls and also, requiring the Board of Equalization to remain open and functioning, and acting in good faith to rehear the complaints of tax-payers. The inequities have still not been disposed of. We have a judgement of the court that the tax-payers be refunded whatever they are due. —As a result of additional property being placed on the rolls. When do we get the refund? This court judgement is on file at the courthouse.

Why don't you ask the school board from whence came their authority to put a penalty on tax-payers when the final determination of their 1963 tax has never been made?

Do you know, Mr. Tooley, that renditions of hundreds of thousands of dollars have been made to the tax-assessor for 1963 and have never been placed on the 1963 tax rolls? We wonder why? What remarks do you have concerning this situation? Do you stand in support of such procedure? Now let us see if we agree on an analysis of the situation in 1964 concerning the 1964 tax roll.

It appears we have the approximate arbitrary values fixed on real property. We have about the same renditions of personal property.

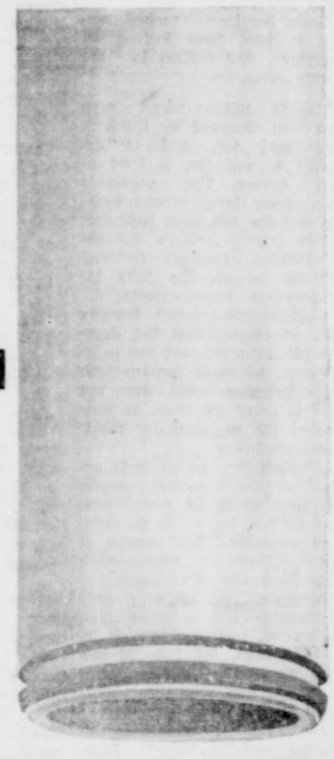

We have a group of plaintiffs that asked the court to restrain the school officials from proceeding with an illegal plan of taxation. This injunction was not granted. The school officials proceeded with this unlawful plan which they (in our opinion) certainly should not have done. Now we have a law suit that questions the validity of the 1964 tax rolls and asks that they be corrected to conform to the requirements of law or in the alternative that the plaintiffs be liable for only such taxes as they would be liable for as a result of a levy based on a lawful tax roll.

We have a proposed bond issue voted on by people who still don't know how much it will cost them as individuals. We have school officials who are apparently determined to force their plan on the tax-payers even though it would result in the unnecessary expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars of the tax-payers money. That their plans also include forcing unnecessary, high values on the real property of some tax-payers and fails to force the proper valuations on the property of personal property owners. This plan may be one way of obtaining votes for an excessive bond issue but, in our opinion it is an unfair way. Do you agree, Mr. Tooley?

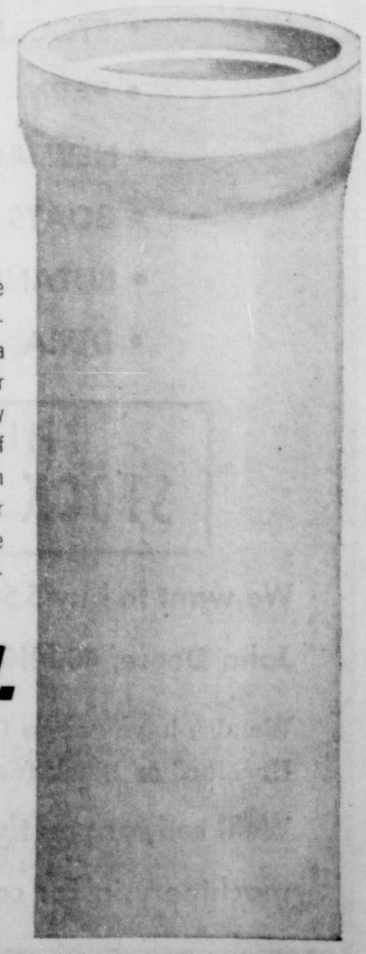

To sum it all up, we have in this school district a very serious problem, which is the result of a plan of the school board which is governed neither by the boundaries of reason nor the limits of the law. We have legal action in the courts, we have ill-will in the community, we have expenditure of the tax-payers money for temporary buildings, (which none of us are proud). A problem of such magnitude needs a solution. Do you agree? Discussions with some people who are familar with the feelings of individuals from each group seem to indicate that a possible solution might be reached with the acceptance of these important changes in he proposed plan.—A $400,000.00 bond issue wih a 20 year schedule (to save money on interest). An assessed valuation of $20,000,000.00 which is sufficient for the budget for 1964

No Injuries In Two City Wrecks

Chief of Police Bill Taylor reported two accidents this week, one Sunday morning and the other Tuesday morning which was a rear end collision.

Taylor said Sunday morning a 1962 Chevrolet being driven by Irvin Thirlkill, was in collision with a 1959 Chevrolet traveling east on Mississippi, driven by Lewis Ray Williams.

Taylor said Thirlkill failed to yield right of way to the William's car. Approximately $325 dollars damage resulted to the Thirlkill car and $200 to the William's vehicle. There were no injuries.

Tuesday morning at 8:15 near the intersection of 2nd and US Highway 70 two cars were involved in a rear end collision but no injuries were sustained by the drivers or passengers.

Taylor said a car parked at the curb forcing traffic into one lane, was the cause of the mishap. A State Highway Department truck driven by Oran Self was headed north, behind it was a Chevrolet Corvair driven by Ronnie Eubanks and behind it a 1956 Chevrolet driven by Earl Ray Rowan. Taylor said Eubanks slowed his car and the Rowan car struck the rear end knocking it into the rear of the maintenance truck.

Approximately $175 damages resulted to the Corvair and $75 to the 56 Chevy. The truck was not damaged.

Farmers

Grain Sorghum ranked second in total farm income by bringing $9.2 million to the county producers.

The $3 million wheat crop was next, followed by livestock that sold for, and is expected to sell for, a total of $1.5 million. The vegetable crop should bring around $500,000 and the soil bank payments to the county farmers was set at $300,000. Farmers received $186,000 through the SCD for conservation improvements.

Most of the county farmers feel, of course, that the drought last summer hurt the overall crop, for some farmers who have irrigation wells were not able to cover the crops as they needed the moisture for maximum production.

Although the rainfall is in accordance with a normal year, at the time when the wheat crop was hurting, there was no moisture available. The months of March, April and May yielded only 2.5 inches of moisture.

According to ASCS ,records the county has received 19.03 inches of moisture, which is about normal, but little of this was received at a time when it would have been most beneficial to the dryland crops.

The rainfall received by months was as follows: January - .30, February - .51, March - .60, April - 0, May - 1.59, June - 2.62, July - 5.76, August - 2.92, September - 3.69, October - .37 and so far in November 1.0 has been received.

with a high degree of pleasure that Camp Hale in Colorado will be closed. Now, most people won't care whether Camp Hale is closed or not, and likely most don't even know where Camp Hale is in Colorado.

I FIRST saw Camp Hale as a member of the 38th Regimental Combat team of the Second Infantry Division on a cold January day as the army decided that the Russians were becoming more warlike and perhaps the United States ought to be training some ski-troopers.

So they moved a regiment of us up to Camp Hale from Camp Carson in Colorado Springs. Camp Hale is on the Continental Divide about 12 miles from an old boom town known as Leadville.

The army trucked us in there in the peak of winter (temperature got down to 20 below many a night) and we set up our tents near the ski tow on the Tennessee Pass.

I couldn't complain about the instructors . . . they were the best . . . just brought in from Norway and Switzerland. I can tell you one thing, they had one old West Texas boy who was plenty scared when they took us up on the mountain and said, "just keep your skis parallel and if you see you're gonna hit a tree, fall over in the snow on your side." (They explained that you might break something if you fell forward).

Well, by March we all had developed into a pretty fair bunch of skiers. However, in between ski runs we had to take to our bear paw snow shoes, take the traditional Army cross country hikes and none of us were enjoying living in those tents.

I didn't like Camp Hale the first time I saw it, and surely didn't shed any tears when time came to get out of there . . . so you can understand why I couldn't care less that the government has decided to close her down!

THERE'S no doubt that Denver City has a fine football team and we'll just stick our neck out and pick them to beat Iowa Park. At Denver City the Whirlwinds did the best they could with what they had . . . and when the final whistle blew our boys were still in there . . . giving their best. Although we didn't win, we were proud of our team . . . and I think the team can be proud of its fans. Floydada certainly followed the team to Denver City . . . the fans were on the field to bring them on for the game . . . and they stayed until the last second of play.

Oh well, basketball is a good game . . . variety is the spice of life . . . and there's always a next year!

The man had just been pulled over to the curb for speeding. The officer approached the car, pad in hand.

"Okay you," he snapped, "what's your name?"

"Aloyicious Gloustershire Merkowitzskyvitch," the driver replied.

"Well," the cop said, pocketing his pad, "don't let me catch you again."

LAWRENCE STOVALL has an exciting "dead horse" story. It seems that he had this old horse that was real sick and couldn't be helped and he decided to shoot him and get him out of his misery. Well he shot him in the head a couple of times and left. Later on he was back by the pasture and discovered the horse up and grazing! Yep, horses have hard heads too!

nsumption Continues Rise er One-Price Cotton Law

K. Horne, Jr., Chief st of the National Cot- cil states that domes- consumption of cotton from an annual rate 00 bales in the first f 1964 to 9,205,000 bales ird quarter, and states that the new competitive price for raw cotton has played a big part in this rise.

The increased use of cotton was reported after an extensive mill survey, which showed shifts from rayon-cotton blends to all-cotton in woven apparel fabrics, tufting yarns, bed ticking, rug backing and sales yarns for knit wear and other uses. Dr. Horne states that: "Since the price of cotton to domestic mills was lowered on April 11 by enactment of new legislation, our long three year record of net competitive losses has been stopped. Checking the momentum of these losses had to be cotton's first objective. This has been done. It is a major accomplishment, and a start has been made toward regaining the two-million-bale market that had been lost to man-made fibers over the past three years."

The report also showed that a number of mill managements are now considering additional switches back to cotton on account of the reduced price. Dr. Horne stressed that the main effect of a fiber price change cannot be expected within a six-month period since most textile production is programmed far in advance. If present price relationships continue, the largest competitive gains for cotton will come over the next several years as the textile industry responds to lower cotton prices and stepped-up research and-promotion programs.

Commenting on cotton's competitive losses during the three years prior to enactment of the one-price cotton law, Dr. Horne said they would have continued at an even faster rate if the price had not been lowered. Numerous mill managements had well-advanced plans for further switches out of cotton early this year, but have put those plans on the shelf pending the fate of the new legislation after its expiration on July 31, 1966. Typical was the statement of one large company which had shifted more than 20 percent of its all-cotton cloth production to man-made fibers and blends the past three years. This firm had plans to shift another 30 percent of its production away from cotton in the next two years, but the plans were stopped by the lower price.

Honduras Missionaries To Be At Presbyterian Church

Rev. and Mrs. Paul W. Beals, missionaries in British Honduras Central America, are on furlough in the United States holding missionary services among Churches of the Nazarene.

This is their first furlough since being assigned to Barbadoes in 1959 by the Department of Foreign Missions, Church of the Nazarene.

After serving one year in Barbados Rev. Beals was reassigned to serve in British Honduras. During these past four years he has served as pastor, evangelist, and Director of Nazarene Day Schools throughout the country. Much of his ministry has been in remote areas which are accessible only on foot or by plane and boat. In 1963 he walked 140 miles through jungles to reach the Indians of the country.

The service will involve slides depicting the work of the Church of the Nazarene in British Honduras among the various Indian groups that have been the responsibility of Rev. Beals for these years. He will close with a message of missionary character.

Rev. Beals was born in India of missionary parents. He graduated from Northwest Nazarene College, Nampa, Idaho in 1951 and the Nazarene Theological Seminary, Kansas City, Missouri in 1955. Prior to his assignment overseas Rev. Beals pastored the Church of the Nazarene in Marietta, Georgia for four years.

Rev. and Mrs. Beals have three boys. They will be making their home in Georgia during this furlough year.

The Beals can be seen and heard Monday night, November 30 at 7 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church here in Floydada.

Lutrick Speaks To Lions Club

Rev. Charles Lutrick, pastor of the First Methodist Church spoke to the Lions Club at its regular luncheon meeting last Thursday, and reminded all the members of the coming Thanksgiving season.

In his talk, he read a proclamation signed by G. Washington October 5, 1789 designating one day a year to be set aside to stop and give thanks for all we have and have so abundantly.

As in the proclamation, Lutrick made three points, that God is the Father, and his power is over all people, that increased Stewardship is needed in this day, and that Christianity is a religion that requires all men to become involved because of their concern for the welfare of others.

The next meeting will be held December 3 and Claude Estes has the program.

The itch for publicity gets a lot of people sooner or later, but it usually gets them.

Recipe Given For Venison Sausage

With the deer hunting season just underway, fortunate homemakers may already have a supply of venison on hand. An excellent way to utilize a portion of this supply is to prepare venison sausage, says Richard Miller, county agricultural agent.

A suggested recipe for this delicacy includes the following:

30 pounds of cut venison
20 pounds of cut fat pork, about 50-60 percent lean
1 pound salt
3 ounces black pepper
2 ounces sage, optional
1 ounce red pepper, optional

Sprinkle the seasonings over the meat and then grind it through a coarse chile plate. Next, regrind the meat through a sausage plate. If the sausage is to be frozen, season only half the total amount, points out Miller.

Wrap the sausage, in sizes needed for a meal, in moisture-vapor-proof freezer paper.

Seasoned sausage can be thawed and cooked immediately, while the unseasoned portion should receive seasoning just before using.

Unseasoned sausage will keep fresh five or six months, while that with seasoning will turn flat and rancid after three months in storage.

Additional venison and other game recipes as well as numerous game dinner menus are found in the Extension Bulletin B-987, "Wild Game—Care and Cooking," available at the Extension office.

THANKSGIVING BLESSING

When you lay aside the material blessings of life which we here in this prosperous farming area of West Texas are so richly endowed . . . and simply look at the many other ways the good Lord has blessed us this year, you cannot but be overwhelmed.

It is easy to point out the "dollar blessings" we have received. This is evident in the story on page one of this issue of The Hesperian . . . and possibly we take these material blessings for granted. We tend to forget the Almighty creator and take credit for the good crops year after year. This is easy to do.

This Thanksgiving Day let us look about us and be thankful for the wonders of nature, for the gift of life, of health, of family and friends, of churches and the many other daily blessings that come our way.

There are so many things for which we can be thankful; we are a nation under God. Our leaders and our countrymen have shown patience and forbearance where other nations are concerned . . . and we have not broken our pledges.

The people of this land live in an abundance of the necessities of life, but, greatest of all we enjoy liberty and the precious gift of free speech.

Let us remember all these blessings, be humbly thankful to our Heavenly Father, strive to live by His wishes, and be worthy of His love and protection. Let us remember as did Ralph Waldo Emerson:

"For each new morning with its light,
Father, we thank Thee,
For rest and shelter of the night,
Father, we thank Thee,
For health and food, for love and friends,
For everything thy goodness sends,
Father, in heaven, we thank Thee."

POOR MAIL SERVICE

HOW TO HOLD UP THE MAIL

Our subscribers in neighboring communities . . . such as Alison, Briscoe, Higgins and Glazier, may expect to have their newspaper deliveries delayed a bit more . . . thanks to the newest stroke of genius on the part of the Post Office Department.

Effective this week, new zip code regulations are going into effect which require publications such as ours to route all newspapers going outside the local post office to "collection centers". In this case, the collection center is Amarillo . . . and mail for adjacent rural communities which has always moved directly from the Canadian post office to its destination will not be routed through the massive mess which is the Amarillo distribution center.

The Zip Code regulations already have mail deliveries in a gigantic snarl . . . if delivery times during the past few days are any indication. We hope for the best . . . that eventually, when this nationwide numbers game has settled into routine, the mail will once more get where it's intended to go with minimum delays.

But it's unreasonable to assume that mail for our neighbors in the county area is going to be speeded up, ever, by being routed through a collection center a hundred miles away.

Floyd County 25 Years Ago

(Nov. 23, 1939)

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Williamson barely escaped injury Sunday as they were enroute to Lubbock to visit a grandson who was ill. They became conscious of exhaust fumes in the car that were making them sick and they opened a window and finally made it to the hospital. By that time Mrs. Williamson was unconscious and Mr. Williamson barely able to stand on his feet. Both were treated for several hours then released.

L. D. Britton, formerly employed as lineman with the Floyd County Rural Electric Co-op, was employed by the Floydada City Council last week as lineman and contact man for the new City Electric system which is now under construction. Melvin Henry was named to replace Britton at the Co-op.

Funeral rites for Freda Dean Jackson, 26, of the McCoy Community, were held Friday afternoon at the First Baptist Church in Floydada. Miss Jackson died Thursday at her home after an illness of long duration. Survivors include her mother, Mrs. J. W. Jackson, seven sisters and six brothers.

The Lockney Longhorns downed the Spur Bulldogs 12-0 Friday night while the Floydada Whirlwinds had an open date. The Winds will go against Crosbyton next Friday night.

Edgar Jones and his son, Ralph, were dismissed from the hospital this week and are up and about. Both were injured in a car mishap near Muleshoe on Nov. 12 which took the life of Mrs. Jones.

MAIL SERVICE IS REDUCED

Postal service slid backwards at least 50 years this week when dispatch of outgoing parcel post and newspapers was reduced to one every 24 hours.

If a package or newspaper misses the 5 p.m. deadline, it will lay over in the Tulia post office until the same hour the next day.

Persons inconvenienced by this retrogression in mail service can only complain to their Senator or Congressman.

This new ruling is general, not local.

Management Gives Boost To Winter Pasture

Proper management can give a six-fold boost to winter temporary pastures. That is what the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has learned, reports Richard Miller, County Agent.

Overgrazing is the most common problem in temporary winter pasture management, he said.

Good stockmen are often tempted to overgraze in an effort to keep from feeding baled hay. This is particularly true in years when hay supplies are short. In the long run, overgrazing results in less total production; so more bales are used or livestock performance declines.

Extension Agronomist Neal Pratt says overgrazing hampers root growth. This limits the plants capacity to produce and lowers its resistance to dry weather and disease.

Temporary winter pastures should not be grazed until they are at least eight inches tall and preferably 10 to 12 inches tall. Livestock should be taken off the field when it is grazed down to a height of three inches.

Fertilizer top dressing should follow each grazing period if adequate soil moisture is available. If a soil test was taken before pasture establishment, it will indicate the fertilizer required for top dressing.

Regrowth takes at least four weeks. If weather is unfavorable the waiting period should be longer.

Proper management of winter temporary pastures has three benefits Miller said. It increases total production, gives better livestock performance and saves on supplement and hay.

Naval Reserve Test Scheduled Dec. 12

The Regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps Program presents to the young men of the United States the opportunity to embark on a rewarding career as an officer in the U. S. Navy. This program is designed to train a select group of high school graduates, and those who enter the program will start their naval careers as freshmen in fifty-two colleges and universities across the country in 1965.

The Regular NROTC Program is maintained for one purpose — to educate and train well-qualified young men for careers as commissioned officers in the Regular Navy and Marine Corps. This program and the Naval Academy are the two most highly competitive officer-candidate programs in the Navy.

The very nature of the program requires the highest physical standards, and, to be eligible for consideration for Regular NROTC status, young men must meet the following requirements:

(1) Be a male citizen of the United States.

(2) Have reached their 17th birthday by June 30, 1965.

(3) Have not reached their 21st birthday by June 30, 1965. Those contemplating a college course which takes five years to complete must have reached their 20th birthday by June 30, 1965.

(4) Be unmarried, and never have been married.

(5) Be physically qualified in accordance with standards prescribed for Midshipmen.

(6) Be a high school graduate or possess an equivalent certificate. High School students who will graduate by the end of the current academic year may apply. High School juniors and students who will not be ready in all respects to enter college in September 1965 are not eligible.

(7) Have no moral obligations or personal convictions that will prevent their conscientiously bearing arms and supporting and defending the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic.

(8) Be prepared to enter into an appropriate contract with the Secretary of the Navy providing for certain specified obligations.

The Naval College Aptitude Test will be given throughout the United States and its territories on DECEMBER 12, 1964. It is important that candidates for the test be sure that their applications are received by the Navy Examining Section in McHenry, Illinois, on or before the final deadline, NOVEMBER 20, 1964. Navy Recruiting personnel will be visiting high schools throughout the country to advertise this program. They will have with them the application forms for the forthcoming test. The applications may also be obtained at any Navy Recruiting Office.

Winterizing A Car Today Can Save Trouble Tomorrow

AUSTIN, TEX. — "Winterizing" your car now is an investment that will pay off in big dividends during the coming months of cold weather hazards, J. O. Musick, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association, said today.

"Today's inspection is tomorrow's protection," he said. "The car owner who neglects his preventive maintenance duties eventually finds himself in trouble—stranded far from a service station, stalled in heavy traffic, or involved in an accident."

The safety director made the following recommendations for getting cars ready for safe and convenient winter driving:

ANTI-FREEZE—Have it tested or put in before the first freeze. Check the cooling system for leaks, and follow manufacturer's recommendation for flushing.

TUNE-UP — Temperature and humidity changes alter engine performance. A winter tune-up will help starts and prevent stalls.

BATTERY — Cold weather greatly lowers battery power, so have it tested, and charged or replaced if necessary. A new battery is cheaper than frequent service calls.

BRAKES — Brakes should be checked and adjusted before the bad weather begins. Have them relined if necessary. They need all the help they can get in winter.

MUFFLER — Fumes from a faulty muffler or exhaust pipe can kill you, especially in "windows-up" weather. Have muffler and pipes checked for leaks.

WINDSHIELD — Make sure your defroster can clear away ice and fog. Wipers should work without streaking. Washers must have the proper anti-freeze or you can blind yourself with a sheet of ice.

LIGHTS — All lights, including brake and directional signals, should be in top condition for winter's long period of darkness. Clean your lights frequently.

SEAT BELTS — Winter or summer, seat belts in use are a sign of a smart driver. Research studies show the use of seat belts can save lives and prevent or minimize injuries in case of an accident.

TIRES—You need good tread to get a bite on snow and ice. Snow tires, unless they are too worn, grip better than regular tires.

TIRE CHAINS — Reinforced tire chains are your best bet for severe winter conditions. They give better control for turning, stopping or starting.

"The motorist who cares for his car is likely to be careful in his driving, too" Musick concluded.

Floyd Philosopher Solves The Big City Traffic Problem By Turning The Streets Up On Edge

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has an odd idea this week, which we publish for what it's worth.

Dear editar:

I had to make a trip to Lubbock a while back and ever since I've been calming my nerves and reflecting on the traffic and parking problem and have concluded that if it isn't solved cities are done for and I would hate to see this happen, because if the city people leave the city you know where they're coming—right out here in the country.

But I think there is a solution. I was reading in a newspaper last night which I'd found blowing along a street in the city and brought home with me, as a matter of fact, I discovered that at least for picking up papers the city beats the country ten to one, at any rate, I read that a man has invented a new parking system which he thinks will solve the parking problem. With it, you can park 20 cars in the space now occupied by two. All it is is a tower with an endless belt that stacks cars one on top of the other. When you want your car down, push a button and in 40 seconds it comes down to ground level, ready to drive if you can get it out without taking off a fender or door handle.

This is going at the problem the wrong way. It might solve the parking problem, but not the traffic problem. You don't want to stack the cars on top of each other. The answer is, stack the streets on top of each other. Turn those complicated highway approaches up on edge.

Say you're coming into a big city and need to get to the 16th floor of a building. Take the lane with the sign reading: All 16th floor traffic take this lane. Sure enough, before you get into the city proper you'll have gradually climbed to the street level for the 16th floor. Then serves the 16th floor. Wit... street levels for the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, etc., you can'd ... where you want with pl... parking room for ever... I can prove it.

Take any small town ... erica and if the stores d... above one story, there's ... plenty of parking room ... streets. What the small ... have discovered and the ... haven't is that it takes on... per floor in this moder... mobile age. Most ... thing I ever heard of, ... on more floors without ... on more streets. Wrecks Other Than Car Cause Forty Deaths

During 1963 in Texas there were 43 deaths and 10 injuries resulting from motorcycle, motorscooter, and go-cart accidents.

Motorcycle accidents resulted in 24 deaths and 18 injuries. Moterscooter accidents resulted in 15 deaths and no injuries. Go-Cart accidents resulted in only one death and no injuries. The greatest number of these deaths, five occurred in Harris County. Bexar and Tarrant Counties had four deaths each. Brown, Dallas, Hidalgo, Jefferson, and Wichita Counties had two deaths each. Seventeen counties had one death each.

Hutchinson and Swisher Counties of the Panhandle area had one death each. Lubbock County of the South Plains area had one death.

At the close of Fiscal Year 1964 the Veterans Administration reports 18,000 Spanish-American war veterans on its rolls. Their average age was 86.1 years.

Veterans Ask

Q—My husband died as a result of injuries received in World War II. He obtained a GI loan during his lifetime, which is now paid off. Am I, as his widow, also eligible for a loan?

A—Yes. Any widow of a World War II or Korean Conflict veteran may be eligible for a GI loan if the husband's death was service-connected. The fact that the veteran may have obtained a loan does not affect the widow's eligibility.

Q—I am a member of the police force, and I find that there are some restrictions in commercial life insurance policies because of this. Is this true also of my GI life insurance?

A—The restrictions you mention are those imposed because law enforcement is considered a hazardous occupation. There are no such restrictions on GI insurance. The veteran may engage in any occupation, no matter how hazardous, without effect on the terms of the policy.

Q—I pay premiums on my GI insurance quarterly, and I am concerned because I have not received any premium due notice. I feel uneasy about waiting any longer to make this payment. Should I wait until I receive this notice?

A—By all means pay your premiums when they become due, even if you do not receive the premium due notice. Remember you have a 31-day grace period from the due date. Be certain to include your policy number with your remittance.

Q—I was retired from service because of disability. Must I file a claim for compensation with the Veterans Administration in order to qualify for vocational rehabilitation?

A—No. A determination of your entitlement will be made if you apply for training.

Thanksgiving Prayer

Dear Lord, we give Thee thanks this day,
But not alone for daily bread—
For all Thy gifts which bless our lives.

We thank Thee for love, that makes life's burdens light,
For friendships shared, for hope and joy,
But mostly for the precious right

To think and speak as conscience leads,
To worship Thee, each in his way,
To walk in freedom where we will,
Lord, as we pause to praise and pray.

A pass from Bickley to Mike Sharp was complete and the Denver City crew led 15-0 midway in the second quarter.

The Whirlwinds received the kickoff on the 20 yard line and Lutrick, the man receiving the kick, moved up to the 37 before he was smothered by a host of white-shirted tacklers.

The locals were not able to move the ball, and a kick on fourth down moved the ball down to the Denver City 30 where Keith Hill fumbled and recovered the ball. Bill Potts of Floydada was an instant late in getting to the slippery pigskin but had he been quicker, the Winds would have been in business.

The tough Floydada defense held out for two plays but with the Mustangs facing a third-and-eight Young picked up 19 yards to midfield and gave Denver City a first-and-ten from that point.

The Mustangs did not need to put together a drive, however, for on the next play Mike Bickley went the distance to the goal. With two minutes left to play in the first half the score stood 21-0 Denver City. An attempted pass was incomplete for the PAT.

Jack Osborn took the Denver City kickoff on the 20 and moved the ball to the 37 to set the Winds up in business at that point.

The Winds were able to move up to the 49 and faced first-and ten at that point with only 24 seconds left in the half. A pass from Teague to Wylie went incomplete and a pass from Teague to Bearden also failed to reach the mark on about the five-yard line. A screen pass was tried, to Perez, but was unsuccessful, so with five seconds left in the first half, Teague kicked out of bounds on the Denver City 34.

One play later, an attempted reverse, the half ended with Denver City leading 21-0.

After the intermission, the Winds started off with a tough break that added to the momentum of the Mustangs and stymied the spirit the Winds might have gained during tne halftime.

Mike Noble's kickoff was fielded on the 10-yard line by Bearden, but the ball hit a little too high on his shoulder as he attempted to hold onto the ball in vain. The slippery pigskin rolled on back, and was finally picked up on the goal line by Bearden, but his momentum carried him into the end zone where he was tackled for a Safety. This made the score 23-0, Denver City.

Teague's punt was taken by Jerry Martin on his own 45, and he moved the ball across midfield to the Wind 45.

Three plays later, the Mus-

Della Plains Teams Continue On Victory Road With 4 Wins

The Hornets and Hornettes from Della Plains continue on their winning streaks by taking four games during last week's activities to aid their season's records.

Both the teams traveled to Olton last Tuesday to down the teams 46-31 and 74-31, in boys and girls games respectively. Thursday night the two teams hosted a Plainview girls team and an Amarillo boys team and the locals were victorious in both these encounters. The girls won 40-16 and the boys took their game 68-63.

Neither of the teams seems to show an outstanding player, but the team effort put forth is moving the teams in the right direction for real winners.

Olton Games

In the Hornettes game against Olton last week, Ruby Storey scored more than half the total points for the locals by racking up 24 of the 48 scored. Shirley Minner was next by dropping in 15 and Kathy Hearon added 7 to the team's effort.

The guards, Clarice Owens, Evon Carr, Louise Davis and Lillie Hearon were outstanding in allowing the Olton team only 31 points.

For the Olton team Mary Mack and Mary Nash had 12 points each and J. Springer accounted for 7 of the Olton team's 31 points.

Hozie Jackson led the team scoring in 74 - 31 team victory over their Olton counterparts by dropping 13 points into the basket for the Hornets. Robert Conte added 12, Jewell Storey 11, and Willie Richardson 10.

For the host team, Jerry Harris led the scoring with 11, L. D. Nunn was next with 9, and Thomas Mack added 6.

Plainview

The Hornettes walked all over the visiting Plainview team 40-16 last Thursday night in the Della Plains Gym.

The guards, Clarice Owens, Evon Carr, and Louise Davis were to be credited for an outstanding job by holding the visitors to a mere 16 points during the game.

For the locals Shirley Minner led in the scoring column with 18, followed by Kathy Hearon who sank 12, and Ruby Storey who added another 10 points to the total.

For Plainview, Delma Haley had 7, A. Nailes 6, and A. Pruitt 3 to account for the visitors 16 points.

Amarillo

Immediately following the girls game with Plainview, the Hornets were winning a squeaker over the visiting Amarillo boys team 68-63.

Once again the locals had four players listed in the double figures in the scoring column. Leading the pack was Jewell Storey who put in 20 points, followed by Hozie Jackson with 14, Wilmur Bonner who sank 11, and Robert Conte who had 14 also. Willie Simon added 9 points to help the locals get by.

For Amarillo, Otis Watson sank 17, Dan Harris and Alvin Smith each sank 16, M. Mitchess and Jerry Lewis added 6 points and Charles Cook added 2.

Standings

Presently the girls are sporting a 7-1 won-loss record and the boys stand at 5-3.

The girls only loss has come at the hands of Paducah, a team the locals have downed once and lost to once, by around a 16 point margin.

The Hornets have lost all three of their games by a total of six points. Twice they have lost in a three-minue overtime by only one point to Paducah and to Slaton. They lost another game by only two points to Paducah at another time. Paducah won the state championship last year.

FROM THE SPORTS DESK

by JEDD BLESSING

When you stop, look around, and see what the football team accomplished this year it makes you real proud that you're a Whirlwind or a Whirlwind fan, doesn't it?

Although the locals lost the bi-district crown to Denver City in a one-sided ball game, they came a long way compared with pre-season picks of the team. They were still fighting when the game ended.

ooo

When the season began Floydada was rated third in the district, and some surrounding towns-people said "sixth would be more like it." However, pre-season picks don't count, it's the standings when the district play is complete that counts. And the Winds were on top in that respect.

Considering the inexperience, the injuries, and a dozen other things that plagued the Winds this season, I think they and the coaches have done a remarkable job.

ooo

It has often been said that a team should lose one ball game for every sophomore that is playing. Floydada was playing with six, and ended the regular season with an 8-2, won-loss record. There is nothing for the Whirlwinds to feel bad about when you consider that conference and season record. They have a lot to be proud of, when you consider Denver City was the number 3 team in the state, and is probably higher than that now.

ooo

It was good to see that there were no new injuries, and no re-injuries in the game last Friday. Perhaps, if nothing happens during the basketball season and the baseball season, the Winds should start next year in good shape.

ooo

We read the account of the Denver City-Floydada game in a daily paper and were confused at first by the statement "A team dedicated to making millionaires out of Johnson and Johnson . . . " After much brain damage, from thinking, it came through. The writer was referring to the numerous injuries that had plagued the Winds all season and the money spent on Johnson and Johnson first aid equipment . . . tape, bandages, braces . . . would contribute greatly to that firm's income.

ooo

Now the sports interest in the town will turn to basketball.

Della Plains has been playing for about six weeks now, and is getting a lot of good experience prior to their conference play.

Twice the boys have lost by only one or two points to the team that won the state crown last year. That team is Paducah. The Hornets lost to that team in the first round of the playoffs, then saw their defeaters go on to win the championship.

The Whirlettes started their season about a week and a half ago with a demonstration game against Hale Center at the Wayland Flying Queen Basketball Clinic held each year in Plainview prior to the beginning of the season.

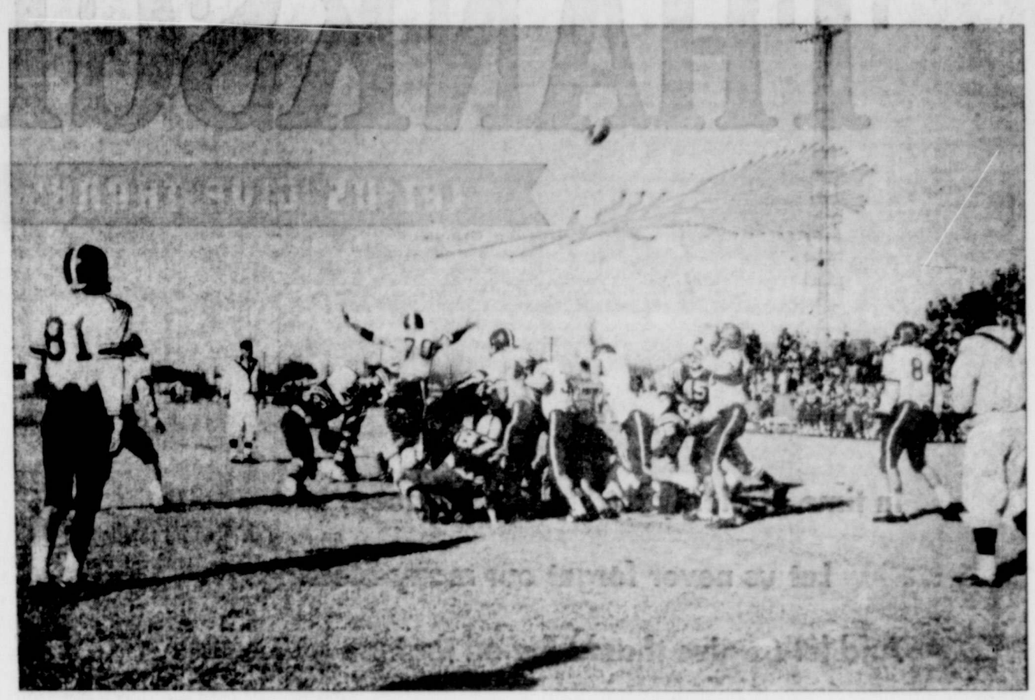

As soon as the shoulder pads are hung up, the Whirlwinds will take to the round-ball court and try their luck there.

The Winds were the only district team to defeat Conyon last year, and the Eagles went on to take the state crown. Here's hoping the team does that good, or better, in the rounds this year.

The Whirlettes lost only one player from last year's squad that ended the season in second place in the district. However, when one looks at what is ahead, there is some tough competition facing the team.

Friona girls went on to take the state crown. Olton defeated that team once. Abernathy won the district championship and lost in the regional playoffs to Dimmitt. All these teams mentioned here are in the same district as Floydada is this year.

The boys lost their toughest competition, however, in the form of Canyon, who moved up to AAA conference. But, the locals have their work cut out for them this year also.

Whirlwinds

tangs were facing a third-and-two but a personal foul penalty against Denver City gave them a third-and-seventeen on their own 48.

Facing such long yardage Bickley faded to pass, but his aerial was picked off by Derrl Munday at midfield, and he was finally hauled down on the Mustang 31, to put the Winds in business at that point.

In spite of the break, the Winds were unable to budge the solid Mustang defense and on fourth down, after gaining only four yards, an attempted pass from Teague to Marler fell incomplete and Denver City took over on downs on their own 27.

The stalwart line held the Mustang attack to one yard on the first down, but on second, Henson broke loose on a 33-yard scamper that moved the ball to the Floydada 39, where the Mustangs had first-and-ten.

It took only one play for Henson to again move the ball, this time for 16 yards to the Floydada 23, at which point the Wind defense stiffened. However, on third down, facing a needed four, Morgan hit the center of the line for seven, moving the ball to the Floydada 9.

Three plays and two penalties later, Morgan carried over the six-pointer from the six-yard line. A run for the two-pointer fell short of the goal line, so the score stood, Denver City 27, Floydada 0.

The Denver City kick was taken by Bearden and moved out to the 24. Two plays later, Teague found Waldo West on the midfield stripe and hit him with a pass that carried down to the Denver City 40.

A run by Watts gained nine and Marler picked up 3 to give the Winds a first on the Mustang 28. A pass from Teague to Bearden fell short on first down, but a second try using the same combination gained 26 yards and give the Winds a first and goal on the Denver City 2. Teague gained one, Watts moved the ball to the 1-foot line, but an attempted pass by Teague was hit before it left his hand and the fumble was recovered by Teague on the four. An end sweep lost two for the Winds and the almost sure score was lost with the Mustangs taking over on their own six.

It took Denver City only seven plays to move from their own six for another score, being climaxed by Morgans run from the Floydada four. The drive was aided greatly by David Laughlin's scamper of 62 yards on the second down of the drive. The kick for PAT was good and the scoreboard read Denver City 25, Floydada 0.

The Winds took the kickoff and moved the ball back to the Floydada 42 in eight plays before Teague kicked and gave the Mustangs possession on the Denver City 18.

Five plays later the Mustangs went in for another TD climaxed by Laughlin's sixty-one yard run. The kick was good and the Mustangs led 43-0.

This was to end the Mustang game and begin the Winds battle.

Two plays after the kickoff a Floydada aerial was picked off by Jimmy Young but four plays later Kerry Bearden returned the favor by picking off a Denver City pass on the 30 and going all the way for a Whirlwind TD to remove a goose-egg from the scoreboard. McNeill kicked the extra point and the score was 43-7 with 26 seconds remaining in the game.

Jimmy Barrow recovered Floydada's onside kick on the Denver City 48. A pass from Teague to Bob Murray went incomplete on first down but on second down Teague found Perez and the play was good for nine yards. On the final play of the game a pass from Teague to Watts on a safety-valve pass moved the ball to the Denver City 25 before Watts was brought down.

The game ended with Floydada having a first-and-ten on the Denver City 25 and the scoreboard reading 43-7.

The Floydada team came so close to a score so many times on passes that fell through the arms of receivers or get set back at the goal line that with a little more effort, or a litle less tenseness, the ball game could have been different.

However, the Mustangs amassed over 509 yards to only about 150 for the Winds to far outplay the ailing Winds.

Disabled Veterans Can Now Buy GI Insurance

President Johnson has signed into law an Act of Congress allowing disabled veterans to buy National Service Life Insurance. This general information is being furnished to you at this time because the law is not effective until May 1, 1965, and more specific information will not be available until a later date.

THE LAW PROVIDES

1. Opportunity to buy a new form of National Service Life Insurance.

2. Opportunity for present holders of National Service Life Insurance to change to a new plan — Modified Life.

BUYING NEW INSURANCE

WHO IS ELIGIBLE

If you were eligible to buy National Service Life Insurance after October 7, 1940 and before January 1, 1957, and

If you are a service-connected disabled veteran and have no uninsurable non-service disabilities, or

If you have a non-service disability which is uninsurable by commercial companies at the highest rates, and

You do not have Government Life Insurance or have less than $10,000 of such insurance. Persons on active duty with the Armed Forces and certain Philippine veterans are not eligible.

WHAT CAN YOU GET?

National Service Life Insurance on a permanent non-participating plan up to $10,000 including any Government Life Insurance you now have.

WHEN TO APPLY?

On or after May 1, 1965 and not later than May 2, 1966, the dates specified in the law.

HOW TO APPLY?

If you receive compensation payments, an application will be mailed to you before May 1, 1965.

If you do not receive compensation payments, ask any VA Office for an application and explanatory literature. These will be available in April 1965.

WHERE TO APPLY?

Mail or deliver your application to the VA Regional Office which has your claim file.

WHAT WILL IT COST?

The cost will be lowest for those service-connected veterans who meet VA's good health standards.

The cost will be higher for those who do not meet VA's good health standards solely because of their service-connected disabilities.

The cost will be very high for veterans unable to get commercial insurance, at the highest rates because of non-service-connected disabilities.

All premiums will be subject to adjustment as experience requires. Where required, medical examinations must be made by private physicians at the applicants' expense.

SAMPLE MONTHLY PREMIUMS RATES PER $1,000

Age	Modified Life	Ordinary Life	20 Payment Life	20-Year Endowment
30	$ .69	$ .95	$1.45	$2.99

Note: These rates are typical for Veterans who meet VA good health standards. Rates will be higher for those whose service - connected disabilities are uninsurable by VA's standards and those whose non-service incurred disabilities are uninsurable commercially.

MODIFIED LIFE

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

Veterans buying new insurance described above and all veterans having National Service Life Insurance.

WHAT IS IT?

A new plan of insurance providing a lifetime level premium lower than other permanent plans. It avoids the periodic premium increases of term insurance. The face amount is reduced by one half at age 65 when insurance needs usually decline. The amount reduced at that time can be replaced by the same amount of ordinary life insurance for an extra premium—no medical examination required.

WHEN TO APPLY?

If you are buying new insurance under the law, you may select this plan when applying. If you NOW have National Service Life Insurance, you may convert or exchange to the new plan effective in May 1965 or later; the May 2, 1966 deadline does not apply.

HOW TO APPLY?

If you are buying new insurance, follow the instructions above. If you now have National Service Life Insurance on the term plan, VA will send you an application shortly before your present term policy expires. If you wish to apply at an earlier date or if you have permanent plant insurance, write to your VA Insurance Office in April 1965 or later.

USDA Donated Foods Aid In Low-Cost School Meals

Can you serve your child a wholesome, delicious meal for around 27 cents day after day?

Food donations of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have helped make these low cost meats possible for the last 18 years. This year, 31 different foods are being distributed to schools in Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

This was announced recently by John J. Slaughter, southwest area food distribution director, USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, Dallas, who administers the National School Lunch program in these seven states.

School lunches today are better than ever. Such favorites as fried chicken and roast turkey are seen often on School lunch menus, Mr. Slaughter continued.

And for the first time, beef roasts have been purchased for distribution under the school lunch program.

"This donated beef together with local purchases enables schools to serve this appetizing meat more often," said Mr. Slaughter. "In addition, experience gained through preparation and serving of these roasts probably will result in additional purchases of this high-quality product through commercial channels."

Around 70,000 schools are operating cafeterias under the program, serving nearly 17 million school children.

In addition to the chicken, turkey and roast beef donated to the program, ground beef also is one of the major meat items supplied to schools.

Helping to meet the vegetable Type A school lunch are such requirements for the USDA donated items as canned beans, corn, sweetpotatoes, peas, tomatoes and tomato paste.

Fresh Bartlett pears are now being purchased for school lunch use, although canned fruits make up the biggest portion of fruit allotments. Canned fruits which have been donated for use during this school year are apples and applesauce, apricots, cherries, peaches, pineapple and plums.

Other foods donated by USDA include bulgur, butter, cheese, dried beans, rice, corn meal, flour, corn grits, lard or shortening, milk, peanut butter, rolled wheat and date pieces.

These USDA donated foods supplement local food purchases, which make up the bulk of school lunch supplies, to provide wholesome, delicious meals for school children.

Decline Seen In Surplus Of Feed Grains

WASHINGTON — Reserve and surplus stocks of feed grains are expected to decline 10.7 million tons during the marketing year that ends Oct. 1.

An Agriculture Department report on the feed grain situation said that, because of this year's smaller production, the extra supplies will total about 58 million tons next Oct. 1 compared with 68.7 million last Oct. 1.

Production is down largely because of farmer participation in a feed grain program offering price supports and payments to those who reduced plantings.

The report said feed grain prices during the current marketing years are expected to average a little above the past year.

Exports Mounting

U. S. exports of feed grains are more than keeping pace with a rising world demand for such grains.

American exports make up 509.1 per cent of the world total. This compares with 49.7 per cent last year, 477.6 per cent two years ago and only 38 per cent for the 1953-57 average.

Japan is the largest single importer of American grain.

Pheasants Are Released In Floyd Conuty

Several farmers in the community of Providence have released a total of 800 young pheasants in the northwestern parts of Floyd County.

The pheasants were 8 weeks old when released and have been growing rapidly, according to the farmers.

Hunters have been requested to not shoot the young pheasants this season so they may grow and multiply for better pheasant hunting in future years.

Ernest Sammann, who lives within the edge of Hale County, raised the birds which were purchased with private funds. Among those purchasing the game birds were Harold McLaughlin, Gene Morphis, Clyde Gallagher, Wyatt McLaughlin and Everett Crume.
