Kennedy Hands Congress Tough New Farm Program

Choice: Tighter Controls Or Cut-Off Of Supports

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy sent a tough new farm program to Congress today which would give the nation's farmers this choice: accept much tighter production controls on surplus products or face a cut-off of most federal price supports and other aid.

Kennedy said in a special message that his proposals are designed to slice an estimated $5 billion off farm programs over the next four years. The programs otherwise would cost more than $12 billion during that period.

Additional aims are to boost farm income and reduce costly farm surpluses now in government hands, he said.

LOSE ALL

Farmers growing wheat, corn, oats, barley and sorghum grains would lose all price supports if they did not go along with acreage allotments and marketing quotas set under the new program. In addition, the government would reserve the right to dump huge amounts of these surplus grains on the markets. Under most conditions this would depress prices.

Marketing quotas would be set on all dairymen for the first time if the program is approved.

The new Kennedy program is the toughest proposed by a president since federal controls were introduced into agriculture in the 1930s.

In the past farmers were asked to cut production of surplus items or perhaps lose some of their price supports. Now it's a case of cut surplus production or get practically no aid.

"A B C D" PLAN

The more rigid controls highlighted what Kennedy described as his "A B C D" farm program for the 1960s — abundance, balance, conservation and development.

He said the program is built around maximum use of the nation's food abundance while balancing future production with needs, conserving farm resources and developing low-income rural areas.

The tigher controls would be applied, in the beginning, to the three big surplus products—wheat, feed grains and dairy products. They would require approval by at least two-thirds of the producers voting in three separate referendums.

Briefly, here are the programs proposed for these products:

Wheat—Reductions of possibly as much as 20 per cent in the years immediately ahead in acreage allotments and marketing quotas from the 1961 level. Growers will get a somewhat higher price support for grain used for food in the domestic market and a lower one for wheat sold for export. All wheat now is under the same support level.

SUPPORTS OUT

Should the program be rejected, the government would withdraw all supports and reserve the right to dump up to 200 million bushels of its surplus grain on markets. The government could, if it saw fit, make payments on land diverted from wheat. The present program provides for supports, but at a reduced level, if controls are turned down.

Feed grains — Acreage allotments and marketing quotas would be set for the four major feed grains—corn, oats, barley, and sorghum grain.

In the past, only corn has been grown under allotments and none of the four grains has ever been subjected to marketing quotas. Payments could be made on land diverted from these grains, as is being done now. But all supports would be withdrawn and the government would reserve the right to sell up to about 350 million bushels a year of its surpluses if controls were voted down.

ALL DAIRYMEN

Dairy products—for the first time, marketing allotments would be set on all dairymen. The government would attempt to support prices up to 90 per cent of the parity price, but not in excess of $300 million a year for supports, or about half this year's expected cost.

Should allotments be rejected, supports would be lowered and no matter how large surplus supplies became, the government would spend no more than $300 million a year on them.

The President also proposed production allotments for turkeys and turkey hatching eggs, but did not spell out details. He said a new cotton program will be proposed later. It would be designed to reduce cost of government subsidies required to make cotton competitive in lower-priced foreign markets.

In proposing the tighter controls Kennedy said: "Our two goals—improving income and reducing costs—can both be achieved only if farm output can be reduced below needs for several years and then be allowed to increase at a rate equal to the growth in demand."

FILLING THE GAP

The gap between production and needs during the adjustment period would be supplied from existing surpluses.

Kennedy told Congress his total farm program envisioned making maximum use of the nation's food abundance through such plans as the school lunch program, direct distribution of food to the needy, an expanded food stamp plan, the foreign food-for-peace program, including U.S. participation in a world food bank.

Under the conversation phase of his program, Kennedy proposed steps be taken to shift 50 million acres of cropland to other income-earning uses such as recreation, wildlife promotion, woodlots, forests and grazing. Federal financial aid would be offered. The government would look into the possibility of setting up greenbelts 10 miles or so in width around urban areas for recreational use.

NEWS BRIEFS

By The Associated Press

A blast of cold air enveloped most of the eastern half of the nation today, marking the end of a frigid month in many sections.

Below-zero weather stung wide areas in the Midwest and Northeast and freezing temperatures dipped into the Southland.

FOR MARCH OF DIMES

Mothers Net $2,796.90

The Mothers' March yielded $2,796.90 for the March of Dimes Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Buford Hull and Mrs. H. H. Stephens said there might be some other gifts trickle in, but the figure quoted was that reported Tuesday evening. It was little more than $200 under last year's collection, but workers reported an unusually large number of people not at home Tuesday evening.

Washington Place P-TA workers set the pace with $805.50 collected. Cedar Crest, with $212, showed about a $100 gain. Other school district P-TA workers reported: Airport $181.86, Bauer $82.46, Boydstun $458.80, College Heights $480.25, Kate Morrison $77.13, Lakeview $29.64, Marcy $134.08, Park Hill $334.51. Mrs. Hull and Mrs. Stephens expressed appreciation to all P-TA members who helped make the Mothers' March a success.

House Nears Vote On Tourism Bill

AUSTIN (AP—The House prepared for a final vote today on an oft amended appropriations bill providing up to $500,000 to advertise Texas tourist attractions.

Representatives approved the measure 105-41 on second reading Tuesday night. This was barely short of the four-fifths margin needed for final consideration.

Once through the House, the appropriations package must go back to the Senate for action on House amendments. If the Senate refuses to accept all the House changes, as appears almost certain, the measure probably will go to a conference committee.

As it went up for final vote today, the bill allows $300,000 to advertise for tourists and permits private industry to match funds in excess of $100,000.

Other major provisions authorize use of $156,500 in State Building Commission and general revenue funds to repair the San Jacinto Monument and appropriate $41,000 for Prairie View A&M, $15,000 for Southwest State College, $15,000 for initial study of a site for a school for the mentally retarded in the Gulf Coast area, $84,500 to raise district attorney's salaries, $73,500 to increase pay of county attorneys serving as district attorneys and $104,538 for the State Game and Fish Commission.

The Senate bill provided $200,000 for tourist advertising, a $4,000 a year raise for six department heads and their assistants and $75,000 to repair the San Jacinto monument, and permitted the Game and Fish Commission to use $70,000 of its money to repair a laboratory damaged by hurricane Carla.

While the House wrestled with the appropriations bill, a conference committee worked against the clock in an effort to write a compromise loan shark bill before the Legislature's special session ends at midnight Thursday.

The 10-man group met twice Tuesday and again at 8 a.m. today. Several conferees said they hoped to put a compromise bill on lawmakers' desks by late in the day or early Thursday.

As the measure went to the committee from the Senate, it allowed interest of 3 per cent a month or a $1.50 monthly charge on loans up to $200. The House version set interest on a sliding scale of 18 to 36 per cent a year on loans up to $1,500.

Other developments Tuesday:

The Senate adopted a resolution asking the State Board of Insurance to abolish or make drastic revisions in the merit rating insurance plan.

Gov. Price Daniel signed a bill calling for reorgnization of the State Water Board under the new name of the Texas Water Commission.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill forbidding persons to vote in one party's primary elections and then in another party's runoff primaries.

San Angelo College Bill In Critical Stage

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. Dorsey Hardeman said today if he fails to get a vote on his San Angelo College bill today, the measure is a "dead duck."

Hardeman said he will seek recognition during the day to ask that his measure be considered out of its regular order. The bill would make San Angelo College a four - year, state - supported institution.

Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville, sponsor of another college bill, also is expected to make one more stab at getting his bill to a vote. Hudson's measure would make Pan American College at Edinburg a state - supported school.

Hardeman said he feared he did not have the two - thirds vote necessary to get his measure to a vote. He failed once before 15-10 to bring up the bill.

Hardeman and Hudson have been blocked for the past four days in attempts to bring up their bills. Sen. W. T. Moore of Bryan, aided by several other opponents of the measures, has managed to hold the floor to talk on other bills.

Worker Killed Near Ackerly

LAMESA (SC) — Dennis Lee Osborn Jr., 42, Dallas, was killed at 4:20 p.m. Tuesday when oil field pipe rolled over him as he was unloading a truck near Ackerly.

Osborn had been employed by Walker Trucking Co. of Hobbs. The site was at the Pitts Well No. 1, which is being drilled by Parker Drilling Co., three miles northwest of Ackerly.

Witnesses told Dawson County Sheriff Henry Mayfield that Osborn had taken a short length of pipe from the truck, when the load slipped and broke the timber guards along the truck bed.

Nine joints of pipe fell on Osborn. Funeral arrangements are pending at the Higginbotham Funeral Home in Lamesa. Services and burial will probably take place in Dallas.

Bonds Rejected

TYLER (AP)— Voters rejected a $3.5 million bond proposal Tuesday, 2,013 to 1,852. The proposal was for a variety of street improvements.

Airline Merger Plans Fall Through

NEW YORK (AP)—Officials of National and Continental airlines say plans to merge have failed.

Robert Six, president of Continental, and G. T. Baker, chairman of National, said they had been unable to "finalize a definite merger agreement."

Boards of the two firms agreed Dec. 12 in principle to merge and said they expected to file a detailed plan within 60 days.

Six and Baker said their directors have since voted to withdraw the preliminary agreement and have asked the CAB to dismiss the proposal. A merger would have resulted in a 13,400 mile system.

Hitchhiker Slugs Dawson Farmer

O. A. Pounds, 44 - year - old Dawson County cotton farmer, said Tuesday night that he would never pick up another hitch-hiker. He has a big gash in his head to discourage it.

Pounds said he left Lamesa late Monday to go fishing at Del Rio and picked up a hitch-hiker about 15 miles south of Big Spring on US 87. A short time later, between Ozona and Eldorado, the stranger hit him alongside the head, about the right cheek bone.

"The next thing I knew, I was walking alongside the road," Pounds said. Bleeding badly, he walked 10 miles before a motorist passed and took him to an Eldorado hospital. He said he figured the hitch-hiker used a large pair of water pump pliers in the assault, as these are usually on the floor of his pickup.

The truck was found abandoned in Big Spring about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday with all his possessions, except a wrist watch and $250 in cash, still in the vehicle when police examined it. The hitch-hiker apparently took the cash from the billfold then left it. An electric shaver, a .22-caliber rifle, camera, and a suitcase containing his clothing were found intact.

Mrs. Charlie Forgus, mother-in-law of duputy sheriff D. R. Buzbee, reported a red pickup parked on old US 80 near the rodeo grounds about 3 p.m. Tuesday. She said it was there early Tuesday morning when she went to work and still there when she went home. Buzbee reported it to Big Spring police, who investigated the vehicle and picked up numerous fingerprints. The truck was impounded at Independent Wrecking yard until released to the owner.

Police Detective Aubrey Hurley said Wednesday morning that more information is expected in the case.

Bonds Approved

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Nueces County voters approved $450,000 in bonds Tuesday in a special election to pay for repairing a road and rebuilding two piers wrecked by Hurricane Carla. They voted down two other projects.

DEADLINE TONIGHT

No Grand Rush For Poll Taxes

No grand rush for poll tax payments developed Wednesday despite the fact it was the deadline for payment of such taxes and that the number of voters who are now eligible to ballot in 1962 elections is far below par.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax collector, said that her office will be kept open until midnight as a convenience to belated poll taxpayees.

Lewis Variety Stores, serving as substations for the tax office in the acceptance of applications for poll tax receipts, will operate to 7 p.m. This is the regular closing hour of the stores. The other substations where application blanks are available will be closed at their regular hours. They are Thixton Motorcycle Shop, Reeder-Huff-Estes Agency, Bowen Jewelry, the Coahoma Drugstore, and Gound Pharmacy.

Mrs. Jesse Hernandez, appointed as a special deputy to issue poll tax receipts, will be on the job at 510 NW 4th until 7 p.m. She is qualified to issue the poll tax receipts. The other stations accept applications and the fee of $1.75 and the poll tax receipts are written by the tax office deputies.

It was emphasized that it is not enough that an application be postmarked (if it should be mailed to the tax collector) earlier than midnight. The application must actually be in the hands of the tax collector on or before midnight Wednesday to be acceptable.

The deputies were on hand ready for work but there were few customers in the tax office Wednesday morning. There were a few fleeting moments when half a dozen or so taxpayers would be on hand but the bulk of the time the office lobby was empty.

At the close of business Tuesday, there had been only 5,353 poll tax receipts issued and 1,596 exemption certificates. This total of 6,949 is far behind the total of 9,760 poll tax receipts and exemption certificates issued at the same date in 1960.

Residents, otherwise eligible to vote in the numerous important elections on tap in 1962, cannot do so unless they have current year poll tax receipts or exemption certificates.

Civic leaders are gravely disturbed over the lack of interest in the right to vote. The Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce and other agencies have been waging an intensive campaign in an effort to stir up increased interest in voting.

DEAR ABBY

A Daughter Needs Help

DEAR ABBY: I feel that I'm a complete failure as a mother. We have a beautiful, vivacious, intelligent, 16-year-old daughter. We did all we could to guide her mentally, socially and morally. She developed physically much earlier than most girls. From the time she was in the 7th grade her teachers have written or called me concerning her conduct with boys. I refused to believe the things they told me because our daughter denied them and I wanted so much to believe her. Suddenly the truth was brought home to us. Our daughter had been lying to us and, without going into detail, we were completely fooled. She is not "in trouble," but she could have been. She is popular and goes with "nice" boys, but even nice boys slip occasionally. We live in fear of what could happen. What do you advise? EXTREMELY WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Every teenager should have someone with whom she can talk frankly, without fear of censure or punishment. That person, ideally, is her mother. If you cannot cultivate that relationship between you, send her to a psychiatrist, clergyman or guidance counselor. Your daughter needs deperately to learn much concerning sex, emotions and the maturing process.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a woman who keeps annoying a fellow who plainly does not want her?

She has been after me for 12 years. I am told she has the idea that one day I will break down and marry her. I have never been in her company except for occasions when we have been "paired" off by mutual friend who think we make "a nice couple." She keeps calling me and has even come to my apartment uninvited.

I am in my fifties and if she were the last female on earth I would sooner marry a man.

HOUNDED

DEAR HOUNDED: Why don't you put it to her just that way? If you did, I'm sure you would have no more trouble with her.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who has many good qualities, but he has one stubborn streak in him that drives me crazy. He refuses to let me drive the car while he is in it. He says a man looks like a pipsqueak sitting beside a woman while she drives the car. I have seen other men sit while their wives drove, and they looked happy enough to me. I can drive every bit as well as he can, but of course he would never admit it. I would like your opinion on this subject.

HURT FEELINGS

DEAR HURT: Let your husband drive or he'll drive you crazy.

Chinese Army Morale Low

HONG KONG (AP)—The morale of Red China's powerful 2½-million-man army is slipping, a Chinese Communist bank official in Hong Kong reported.

The official, who recently completed a four-month tour of Communist China, said: "Food shortages and living conditions in China have disillusioned most of the Chinese soldiers."

He described the "people's liberation army" as "a group of frustrated men, constantly worrying about their families and their own future."

The official, who was sent to Hong Kong by the Chinese Communists in 1951, asked not to be identified. He made a similar tour of Red China four years ago.

Fugitives from Communist China agreed with his report and said many of the border guards could be bribed. "Otherwise we would still be in China," one fugitive said.

Official Chinese Communist reports also indicate dissatisfaction among Chinese soldiers. Morale-boosting measures, according to the reports, have been taken.

Western observers in Hong Kong said low morale in the Red army could trigger off a sweeping economic reform, but they ruled out the possibility of an open revolt.

"YES OR NO"

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, 3000 West Highway 80 P.O Box 1285.

One of our readers has submitted a question along with the statement, "Now the only answer I want is a yes or no." This lady wanted to know if we believe a certain thing. She did not want to know if the Bible taught this. She made it clear that she did not want to know why we believe what we do. If she were interested in either of these matters, I could answer her question. But by refusing me the right to give a Bible answer, she has made it wrong for me to answer at all.

I am under charge to "preach the word" (II Tim. 4:2); but this friend would not allow me to do so. She asked me to simply state an opinion. I have no right to preach opinions. I am sure the lady can see this point. Now, if she will tell me she is interested in what the Bible says on the subject, I will attempt to accommodate her with the answer.

Welcome to our mid-week preaching service, tonight, 7:30.

Canadian Dam Bids Taken

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—H. B. Zachry of San Antonio was the apparent low bidder when the Bureau of Reclamation opened bids here Tuesday for construction of a dam across the Canadian River near Sanford.

His bid, lowest of the 9 submitted, was for $17,868,160, which was $1,579,622 below the Bureau of Reclamation estimate. The other bids ranged up to $26,032,054.

Several hundred persons, including officials of the Canadian River Water Authority, were present for the bid opening. Eventually the dam is to provide water for a number of Panhandle-Plains cities and towns.

A Bureau of Reclamation official said that the contract would probably be announced in about a month from the bureau's Denver office. He said that length of time would be required to study the bids.

Let's Send It To The Cape

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A water heater shot aloft Monday night, hitting a probable altitude of a hundred yards or so and traveling two blocks.

Officials said it was the longest heater flight of the year here.

The unguided missile was hurled, unintentionally, by an explosion in an apartment house. The blast was attributed to probable leaking gas.

There were no injuries, but Bennie Willis' car was a casualty. The car, parked two blocks from the launching pad, served as impact point for the wayward tank.

Graham Draws Cheers In Bogota

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — American evangelist Billy Graham in a surprise visit to Bogota drew 3,000 persons to a sermon at the American Presbyterian School Monday night. Bleachers in the school gymnasium were packed and an adjacent auditorium was filled.

At the end of the sermon scores of people, some in Indian robes, pushed through the aisles and prayed together. Applause and shouts of "amen" greeted Graham's declaration he would try to return to the capital of this predominantly Roman Catholic country for a major crusade.

MEN IN SERVICE

M. Sgt. C. V. (Shorty) Shelburne, Midland, has been awarded the first oak leaf cluster to the United States Air Force Commendation Medal. He received the award for distinguishing himself by meritorious service as noncommissioned officer in charge of the public information office at the NATO air headquarters in Izmir, Turkey.

Sgt. Shelburne was presented the award by Maj. Gen. Lewis L. Mundell, commander of the Oklahoma City Air Materiel Area, at a special ceremony attended by members of the general's staff.

The sergeant, son of Judge G. B. Shelburne, Stanton, returned last September from more than two years at the headquarters of NATO's Sixth Allied Tactical Air Force in Izmir. The citation accompanying the award commended him for his outstanding work with the Greek and Turkish press.

Sgt. Shelburne is a former sports editor of the Midland Reporter Telegram and was editor of the Monahans News prior to World War II. He has served as a staff correspondent for numerous West Texas newspapers in the past.

He is now the managing editor in the United States Air Force Home Town News Center at Tinker AFB.

His wife is the former Bessie Lou Oswalt, Lamesa. They and their three children now are residing in Midwest City, Okla.

Laredo Lawyer For Envoy Post?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D-Tex., said Tuesday he's "almost certain" Virgil Roel, a Laredo lawyer, will be named to a diplomatic post. Gonzalez said he had recommended Roel for assignment abroad but did not name the post.

Skies Clear Again Throughout Texas

By The Associated Press

Except for a few high, thin clouds near the coast, skies were clear again Wednesday throughout Texas.

There was ground fog at Brownsville.

Temperatures remained comparatively mild, ranging from 27 degrees at Junction up to 51 at Galveston in early morning.

Tuesday's highs varied from 63 at El Paso to 79 at Waco.

Continued fair weather and no major temperature changes were predicted for all parts of the state.

Aid For Dorm

Heroine Survives Heart Attack

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Georgia Hathaway, a deaf and blind woman whose fight to keep her child attracted widespread attention six years ago, is recovering from a heart attack in Akron General Hospital.

The hospital relaxed its rules on children's visiting rights to allow Mrs. Hathaway's son, Clarence, who will be 7 on Feb. 17, to visit her. Clarence is the eyes and ears of his mother, who is 43, and father, Harold Hathaway, 60, who also is deaf and blind. The couple in 1955 won a court fight to prevent a welfare agency from placing Clarence in a foster home.

Mrs. Hathaway need no longer stay in an oxygen tent and is able to sit in a chair three times a day and feed herself.

U.S. Milk Is Cleared In Deaths

NEW DELHI (AP)— A sample of American-donated milk has been found normal by a Madras state-government analyst.

Three students died last week and others became ill after eating a free lunch including curds made from the powder. The powder, from American surplus stocks, is supplied by the Cooperative for American Relief Everywhere (CARE).

Tests are continuing to determine the cause of the deaths.

Daniel: Will He Or Won't He?

AUSTIN (AP) — The most repeated question in Capitol corridors is: "What's Daniel going to do Friday?"

You can get all sorts of answers.

Gov. Price Daniel followed up a flurry of weekend rumors by announcing Tuesday he will make up his mind Friday about the governor's race and disclose his decision in a televised speech that night.

What Daniel said was:

"Friends are arranging the television broadcast with the complete understanding that it will be in the nature of a report to the people and that I will announce for re-election or that I shall not be a candidate, depending entirely upon what decision is made during the day Friday."

Some folks didn't take it that way.

There was speculation that a man making an expensive statewide television broadcast with lots of pre-speech publicity would be more likely to say he wants another term than to say he's retiring.

There were those who thought they detected a new spirit of gaiety around the governor's office —maybe because certain employes thought they would have their jobs for another two years.

And someone noticed Daniel had a sudden aversion to the term "fourth term" instead of "re-election"—a possible indication of campaign psychology.

Then there were those who think:

1. Daniel wants to go on TV to brag about his victory in the long battle to bring stubbornly fighting bankers under the state's abandoned property laws.

2. President Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon Johnson would not have invited Daniel to speak March 1 at the President's prayer breakfast if Daniel is a political candidate.

3. Mrs. Daniel has been successful in her reported pleas that the Daniels go back to private life on their Liberty County ranch.

And there are still other pro and con arguments.

One legislator thought he had a sure cue when Daniel clapped him on the shoulder Tuesday and said:

"Well, be seeing you at the beginning of the next regular session in January."

Then the lawmaker remembered that even if Daniel does not run for re-election, he will still be governor at the start of the 58th Legislature. The inauguration usually is about a week after the session opens.

'Dead' Man

Dr. Jerome A. Streem, 37-year-old Cleveland, Ohio, dentist, was believed to be dead at his home and taken to a funeral home. The owners of the funeral home discovered Streem breathing and administered oxygen and closed heart massage. Streem was taken to a hospital where he was reported in fair condition.

Ray Roberts Succeeds To Sam Rayburn's Seat

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — Ray Roberts, a merchant and president pro tem of the Texas Senate, has won the U.S. House seat of his political mentor, the late Sam Rayburn.

The 48-year-old Democrat, jubilant almost to the point of tears, said he was succeeding "the greatest man who ever lived." He promptly telephoned Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, long a political associate, and arranged a victory meeting in Washington Monday.

Roberts defeated Robert C. (Bob) Slagle in Tuesday's runoff election in Texas' 4th congressional district, represented by Rayburn for 48 years.

When the vote count ended Tuesday night Roberts held an insurmountable lead of 16,047 to 13,302 and Slagle had conceded.

Both Roberts and Slagle were proteges of Rayburn and both described themselves as supporters of the Kennedy administration, although Roberts was regarded as more conservative.

Roberts has expressed opposition to federal aid to education and to U.S. aid to any Communist country. But, he says, "I'm a lifelong Democrat without adjectives or apologies."

The new congressman worked for Johnson when the vice president was state director of the National Youth Administration during the Franklin D. Roosevelt era. Later, both went to Washington, Roberts as an aide to Rayburn and Johnson as a member of the House.

Roberts campaigned while serving in the state Senate at Austin, more than 200 miles from his Northeast Texas congressional district. Much of his campaigning was on weekends against a determined bid by Slagle, who never before had lost a political contest.

Slagle, 51, may try again. Asked if he would run in the Democratic primary this spring, when Roberts must seek renomination, the former district judge replied: "I don't know yet."

Negro Takes Executive Post

NEW YORK (AP) — Harvey Russell, a Negro, occupied today an office that few of his race have attained: vice president of an internationally known corporation.

"This is the most popular election of a vice president we've had in recent years," said an associate of his at the Pepsi-Cola Co.

Herbert Barnet, president, said Pepsi's board voted to make Russell vice president, special markets, strictly on merit. "It was in recognition of the great job Harvey has done," he said. Russell's salary is in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Estep Convicted Of Tax Evasion

AUSTIN (AP)—A federal court found William (Doc) Estep, 65, guilty of income tax evasion Tuesday and sentenced him to five years in prison.

He was charged with filing a fraudulent income tax return in 1951.

A onetime Texas resident, Estep was sentenced in 1954 to five years for mail fraud in the sale of a perpetual motion machine, which was supposed to run forever without fuel. He lived in San Antonio at the time.

He was freed in 1958 after his sentence was reduced for good behavior but went back to prison shortly. Internal Revenue Service agents in California said they found him dispensing "atomic holy water" and calling himself "Bishop John Smith, pastor of the Kingdom Church of Christ."

The income tax officers said the holy water was tap water colored with bluing.

Sunday School Convention To Open Here Thursday

Dr. E. G. Benson of Kansas City, Mo., assistant executive secretary for the Department of Church Schools of the Church of the Nazarene, will be the speaker for the Sunday School Convention at the local church, 14th and Lancaster, beginning Thursday at 7 p.m. and continuing through Saturday night.

Dr. Benson is editor of the "Church School Builder," a promotional magazine devoted to the interest of church schools in the Church of the Nazarene and is author of a number of books, the most recent being, "Quickie Answers to Sunday School Questions," "How to Plan Workers' Meetings," "How to Improve Your Sunday School," "Ideas for Sunday-School Growth."

Prior to entering the field of Sunday - school promotion, Dr. Benson served as executive field secretary of the Pasadena Nazarene College for 11 years and taught a number of courses in Christian Education.

In his present work, Dr. Benson is helping in the promotion of 4,650 Nazarene Sunday Schools which have an enrollment of over 700,000 pupils.

Marvin Wooldridge, 1709 Settles, is superintendent of the Big Spring Nazarene Sunday School which has an enrollment of 225.

DR. E. G. BENSON

Wooldridge also serves as chairman of the local church school board.

The convention is designed to aid the Sunday School officer, teachers and all interested in Sunday School work, according to Rev. W. M. Dorough, pastor. The theme of the convention is Improving The Sunday School. Christain service training credit will be awarded to those who attend

Gov. Nutter Buried Tuesday

SIDNEY, Mont. (AP) — The schools and virtually every business closed Tuesday as most of Sidney's 4,500 residents turned out to bury their best-known son, Gov. Donald G. Nutter of Montana.

More than 3,500 persons packed Sidney's High School gymnasium for the 40-minute funeral. Then they formed a procession more than two miles long to the cemetery.

Nutter, 46, and five others died in an airplane crash last Thursday.

Balky Teacher Loses Contract

UTICA, Mich. (AP)—A teacher who refused to direct his students to sing the national anthem or to pledge allegiance to the flag will not have his contract renewed.

The Utica Board of Education voted Monday night not to renew the contract of Charles McManigal, 27, a teacher at Sterling Junior High School.

McManigal said that as a Jehovah's Witness, he looked upon the flag as an idol and could not take part in the pledge or in singing the anthem.

A Devotional For Today

Jesus spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint. (Luke 18:1.)
PRAYER: O Lord, hear my prayer, and let my cry come unto Thee. Direct my life this day that I may not offend Thee in word or deed, but so labor and serve Thee that Thou will be honored and glorified. In Jesus' name and for His sake. Amen.

Community Building

Martin County's 10th annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Monday fit into the pattern of successful events, for it was well attended and reminded members anew of the importance of cooperative community enterprise.

The past decade, considering severe drought years, a sudden slackening of the Spraberry play and the oil industry in general, has not been all peaches and cream for Stanton and Martin County, yet we cannot remember a period in the community's history when such steady and significant progress has been made.

People are working together on projects to promote the growth and quality of their area. They are spotting opportunities and doing something about them.

We rejoice in this progress, as we do in that as evidenced in Coahoma, Ackerly and some other communities which have set up organizational and governmental machinery to cope with their problems. The more robust are all of our towns and cities, the better our entire area will be. No city can long be prosperous within itself. Thus, we hope that responsible people in all our communities will take renewed assurance in reinvesting effort and time and money with confidence that they will return more satisfying dividends.

Make Haste Slowly

Having been rebuffed when the House Rules Committee voted 9-6 against a bill to create a department of urban affairs, President Kennedy sent to Congress a reorganization plan which would accomplish the same thing by executive order. Unless either house vetoes the idea within 60 days, it will become a law.

Immediately there went up cries of politics in connection with the proposal, and certainly only the most naive would say there are not overtones here. Unfortunately, the racial issue also is wrapped up in it, for the President has indicated that he intends to appoint the HHFA's administrator, Robert C. Weaver, to the new post, and that would make him the first Negro Cabinet member. The NCAAP pounced upon this to interpret any opposition to the proposal as being racially motivated. The GOP is seeking to avoid this baited trap by proposing a commission to give the proposal the once-over twice before proceeding.

Of course there are merits and demerits of the plan. Few will argue that the nation is rapidly becoming urbanized, and the trend, if anything, will be accelerated. Thus, it might be argued that if the Agriculture Department theoretically serves but a portion of the population, that there is more justification for a department of urban affairs. But agriculture, for instance, serves a complex industry as well as a segment of the economy and population.

There is a feeling in some quarters that cities would find it easier to go direct to Washington for a panacea for their multiplicity of growth pains, thus ignoring local and state responsibility. Perhaps the adage of make haste slowly is wise.

Strike-Out By The President

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy held his 21st presidential news conference on last January 24th, and it was a so-so performance.

Not even a cub reporter would write such a lead as that—a stale, listless, so-what sentence—but I have a reason. A whole lot of daily reporters praised Mr. Kennedy's last performance (James Reston of the New York Times said JFK was "in his glory") so far beyond its merits that the bug of suspicion begins to bite.

WHAT GOES on here? A cult of the personality? A conspiracy of illusion about the Emperor's new clothes? Murray Marder of the Washington Post and Bill Knighton of the Baltimore Sun were among those who overpraised the handsome, articulate, popular, world-famous young man who is often brilliant but who, last week (and the week before), was in a conspicuous slump.

His most publicized rejoinder to Reporter Sarah McClendon was not the icy, sharp, shrewd riposte which some front page accounts made it appear. Mrs. McClendon got by far the better of the exchange. She mentioned "two well-known secruity risks" and instantly named them when the President challenged her. She was taloned and merciless for the kill. He was flustered and so much on the defensive that his grammar and sequence broke down, giving me a nostalgic sense of return to the Eisenhower era.

MOREOVER, for the first time in anybody's memory, the conference was abruptly terminated nearly five minutes ahead of the customary half-hour. To the astonishment of all around me, there came an abrupt, "Thank you, Mr. President," almost as if Press Secretary Salinger had signalled from the stage for somebody to get his man out of the ring.

And while the President quit early, Mrs. McClendon was quickly surrounded by a stellar group of reporters, led by Eddie Folliard of the Washington Post and Bob Donovan of the New York Herald Tribune, who drafted her for an impromptu press conference of her own.

MR. KENNEDY'S admirers in the press credited him with quick thinking in coming to the defense of William Arthur Wieland and J. Clayton Miller, whom Mrs. McClendon named as "security risks." My opinion is that Mr. Kennedy made one of the big blunders of his White House career. J. Clayton Miller is a new man in town, but William Arthur Wieland, whatever his official security rating is almost indefensible as a State Department public servant.

NO LESS than four former Ambassadors—Smith, Pawley, Gardiner and Hill—have denounced Wieland by name as instrumental in the fall of Cuba to communism. Both the Eisenhower and Kennedy Administrations have found Wieland to be an embarrassment and have tried to hide him in the State Department's organizational maze. Wieland is an ex-newspaperman who left journalism and entered diplomacy under circumstances that the President of the United States ought not to be defending. Had Mr. Kennedy, a former member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a former newsman, really been informed and quick-witted as ballyhooed in the press notices, he would have known enough about Wieland to play this one some other way.

WHEN MR. KENNEDY is good in a press conference, he is very, very good, and he is never really bad except by his own high standards. He pays the penalty extracted from all champions and artists of being under pressure to deliver a masterpiece at every attempt. Perhaps it is uncharitable to hold a top national leader up to tests that are not by any means the full measurement of his powers and performance.

But the point is that his strike-outs ought to be reported as faithfully as his home runs—for a very special reason. It is an open secret that Mr. Kennedy plays favorites, bringing writers and publishers as guests to the White House, thereby setting up a situation for reciprocal trade of favors. Already it is routine conversation at the National Press Club to speculate whether an extreme "snow job" column of flattery by a non-Kennedy columnist, or a cosy, "inside" think piece by an influential journalist, are bread-and-butter notes.

THERE IS NO harm, and a lot of good, in the President's consorting with newspaper friends. But let's not permit sweet friendship to cloy the acid of skepticism in which every political writer's pen should be dipped.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Troy Gatlin, who looks enough like Vice President Lyndon Johnson to be his twin, was dining with his wife in a swank restaurant.

Not far away a group of diners eyed him closely, whispering excitedly.

As the Gatlins were leaving, a woman member of the group rose, strode up and addressed him as the vice president.

"S-ssh," Gatlin said, nodding toward his wife. "The lady with me is NOT MRS. JOHNSON!"

Nothing New In Housing Stew

WASHINGTON (AP)—The sizzling bowl of soup President Kennedy has just dumped in Congress' lap is made up of politics, race, slums, cities, expanding population, efficiency and status.

Yet, there is nothing basically new in his message Tuesday telling Congress that, unless it disapproves in 60 days, he will create a new government department, the 11th, called urban affairs and housing.

He himself pointed out the idea has been kicking around 20 years.

THE PRESENT and future problems of housing and city planning are now handled by a group of government agencies huddled under the tent of one main unit, the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The head of it, an administrator, Robert C. Weaver, has nothing like the prestige or influence of the head of a department, a secretary, who sits in the President's Cabinet. Kennedy proposes to keep the same subordinate agencies but shove them under a new tent with the title of department, headed by a secretary. He said he would make Weaver, a Negro, the secretary.

This, Kennedy figures, would not only give the problems and planning better coordination and efficiency but a new influence through Cabinet status.

In short: Kennedy is saying the problems of cities, housing and city populations are now so big they require handling by a department.

TEN YEARS ago a national housing conference proposed this kind of idea. There have been bills in Congress calling for it every year since at least 1956.

Last year Kennedy first suggested it in a special message to Congress on housing. Last year both the Senate and House Committees on Government Operations approved bills to create the new department.

All that was lacking was a vote on the House or Senate floor. But the bills didn't get there before Congress quit for 1961. So they were still lying around when Congress returned in 1962.

Kennedy gave Congress another nudge on this subject in his State of the Union message on Jan. 11. But in the House, before a bill can get to the floor, the very powerful Rules Committee has to give a green light.

This committee, made up of 10 Democrats and five Republicans, blocked it instead by a vote of 9 to 6. All five Republicans and four Southern Democrats ganged up to block it. That was Jan. 24.

KENNEDY HELD a news conference that same day and started it off by neatly trying to put the Republicans on the defensive.

Skipping over the unpleasant fact that the five outnumbered Republicans could not have throttled the bill if four of Kennedy's Democrats hadn't joined them, the President said the Republicans astonished him.

This was good politics since this is a congressional election year and the Republicans will need the votes of a lot of city people.

Then he said he would by-pass the committee procedure altogether and send his proposal to Congress in the form of a reorganization plan.

THAT SIMPLY means that unless a majority in the House or Senate votes against it within 60 days, he'll create the new department. This is how President Eisenhower in 1953 created the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Memories At Middle Age

NEW YORK (AP)—Time is a march, not a waltz.

And you've marched into middle age—or, in some cases, old age—if you can look back in your lifetime and remember when:

The postman blew his whistle twice a day at your door, and you could send a letter across the country for a two-cent stamp.

You and your wife could stay at a good hotel for less than a pet hospital now charges to park your cat or dog overnight.

One of the functions of a rich man's poor relative was to break in his new shoes for him.

Women going on trips always toted along a jar of smelling salts as they never knew wher they might see some strange sight that could cause them to faint.

Nobody went on a 45-mile train journey without a basket of food big enough to feed half of starving China.

Muggers feared to attack lone ladies as they carried long hatpins sharp enough to skewer a man as neatly as if he were a piece of errant shish-kebab.

Trolley cars carried both a motorman and a conductor, as no one in his right senses could expect a man to collect fares and drive a dangerous vehicle at the same time.

Every home had two social centers—the kitchen and the front porch.

The national drink was near beer, and the national wisecrack was, "Whoever named it near beer was a poor judge of distance."

The height of sophisticated repartee was to shake your head and exclaim, "Boy, that's the cat's pajamas!"

The wealthiest man in town was the one who had a two-buggy stable—and a bathroom with a real tub.

Only young daredevils ventured out in cold weather without a pair of spats.

The greatest event of the winter social season in rural areas was the arrival of the mail order catalogues.

One of the great joys of childhood was to look at an eclipse through a smoked piece of broken window glass. If you looked at it with bare eyes, you were bound to go blind.

It was perfectly all right for a grandmother to puff her pipe at home, but any woman who smoked a cigarette in the presence of men was regarded as the devil's plaything.

During the depression you got a free piece of china everytime you bought a ticket to the movies.

The best-behaved kids in the neighborhood were those whose fathers had the biggest razor straps.

Bad Breath Comes From Many Sources

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a post nasal drip. The mucus I raise is brown and has an odor.

No one has ever told me I have bad breath but with this condition I feel it is very probable. I also have been told that as long as I live in northern New York I will have to contend with this. What's your opinion?—A. B. W.

In the various columns I've written on bad breath, I've always made it a point to mention nose or throat inflammation, "post nasal drip," "catarrh" or some similar expression.

Bad breath comes from many different sources — not just the teeth, or the mouth, or the stomach. It can be from the nose, throat, broncial passages or lungs.

I dare say, without any great emphasis, that climate may be a factor. We do have the so-called "sinus belt" in our geography.

But I also beg to point out that sinus trouble isn't limited to this area. Not by a wide margin. It would be an eye - opener if people in the "sinus belt" could see all the letters I get from people in the mild, warm of even subtropical areas, complaining about "sinus trouble."

The point I'm making is that chronic infections of the air passages can cause bad breath, and they aren't always sinus trouble. And they aren't just from climate. True sinus trouble, nasal disorders, infected tonsils, bronchiectasis, and excessive smoking all are common factors, and the last of these is one which is not taken seriously often enough. Some individuals are over - sensitive to smoke. The irritation causes persistent inflammation which may—or may not—cause bad breath.

Reduction of smoking, or complete abstinence, clears up many catarrhal conditions.

Dear Dr. Molner: A year and a half ago our son, now five, contracted rheumatic fever and has been receiving penicillin ever since to prevent recurrence. What are the chances of recurrence?—MRS. H. S.

So long as the penicillin is continued once every four to six weeks, the chance of recurrence is small. If the medication is stopped, nobody can say he WILL have another attack but even less can one say he won't. The American Heart Association recommends continuing this protection for life — and I thoroughly agree.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it always necessary to be in a hospital when passing a kidney stone? I'd rather not, but my doctor says the X-ray shows a stone has passed from the kidney to the bladder, and I will have to go the the hospital. —R. C.

It is not always essential to be in the hospital. But when the stone finally is passed it may be so very painful that you'd much prefer to be where someone can be on hand to give you some pain-relieving medicine at the critical time.

If, under the circumstances, your doctor agrees to leave a pain-reliever for use at home (depending on his judgment of your particular case, naturally) try to remember that all urine voided should be collected and strained through a cloth, to catch and identify the stone. It may be so small that you might easily miss seeing it, even though it may feel like a horse as it goes through.

* * *

What are ulcers? How should they be treated? What can you do to help rid yourself of ulcers and stay rid of them? For answers, read Dr. Molner's helpful booklet, "How to Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

* * *

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

The Staff Of Life

One would naturally expect that such a basic item as bread—the staff of life—would be highly competitive in the market place. Every family must reach for a loaf, but which?

Ah, but this is where the art of advertising comes in, the power of persuasion. Always, the better bread has something just a little bit more or newer than the competitor. Years ago some ingenious soul thought of fortifying the bread with vitamins, then an assortment of trace minerals or what have you. Of course no one wanted to fool around with that defenseless package unfortified by the fruits of modern research.

THEN CAME the special wrapping. Why buy bread in the old package so crudely done in wax paper? Why not take the bright new wrapper so perfectly tucked and sealed at the ends? Or better still, when the poly films came along, why not get bread in the wrapper that would withstand floods or droughts?

From this we advanced to the discovery that it isn't simply the ingredients that count, but the special way in which the dough is twisted. Not kneaded, mind you, or buffeted or punched or beaten, but how that last piece of meticulously measured dough was twisted before being consigned to the baking pan.

BUT PROGRESS is progressive. There came another revelation, that a secret ingredient would keep the bread as fresh and soft as a baby's cheek. You could practically put a blow torch to it and the texture was still smooth and moist.

Now we are full cycle back to the mixing. Modern breads each have a miracle process—unless they want to take a roost on the sales rack—which gives the end product a creamy, dreamy texture, utterly devoid of holes. And everyone knows that holes let flavor out and air in. (Besides, they leak jelly like nobody's business.) So no one wants to get a loaf of that spongy old stuff when they can have a loaf that is only little less than the prize-winning cake at the county fair.

A BY PRODUCT of this new search for the perfect bread is that it will tear evenly. Presumably no one uses a knife anymore, so bread is at its best when it can be taken between the fingers and ripped vertically without deviation.

This must be the Euclidean mix—"a straight line is the shortest distance between two points." But is this the ultimate? Indeed no! Already we have a bread now which not only will tear vertically, but horizontally. Before this year is out, surely (if it takes a crash program to do it) we will have a bread which we can rip apart on the bias. Eventually, we may be able to pull a red cellophane tab and peel back the crust as though it were the covering of a banana.

If we keep on with this amazing chain of giant steps forward, someday the copy writers are going to be so hard put that out of the depths of despair and from a paucity of promotion, one may be reduced to exclaiming: "Hey, this stuff is good to eat!" —JOE PICKLE

TV Ads Not Irritating? Ha!

It is probably naughty to shatter the airtight dream world that so many persons fashion for themselves, in order to make their lives more beautiful and bearable.

But here goes a rock right through the picture window of complacency built into his never-never homestead by James T. Aubrey, president of Columbia Broadcasting System's television network. Aubrey, who obviously lives in a vacuum-sealed tube, has just told a Federal Communications Commission inquiry (into network program practices) that teevee ads don't irritate viewers!

SO ADS don't irritate viewers, ah? Then why the wide sale of these "blab-off" gadgets that enable the viewer to shut out commercials without shifting from his chair? Why the rush to the icebox during ad intervals? Why the angry dial-twirling while the viewer tries—in vain—to find a station with only a modicum of ads, and the final impatient blackout of the home screen when he realizes this ambition is futile?

Television is capable of great and magic programs. It has the power to bring singular events, no matter where, into the home. It has the unique privilege of producing "instant history." It can bestow on its audience superb music and drama.

BUT IT ALSO has the power, which it exercises daily, to ruin all the above with innumerable commercials that goad an interested and intelligent viewer into planting his brogan in the picture tube.

During the New Year period the major networks—certainly at great expense—bring their news correspondents home from all over the world. These annual "roundup" programs by able newsmen are always disfigured by commercials that invariably interrupt the programs at their most crucial moments.

VIEWERS would be much more grateful to the networks and to the sponsors if some control were exercised over the latter, and if the pitchmen were not allowed to yak, yak, yak. Can't the networks and the sponsors get it through their skulls that the yakking irritates far more persons that it influences?

At our house, we have long since given up any attempt to watch movies on the home screen because for every 10 minutes of "The Perils of Pauline" we get 10 minutes of interminable commercials.

SO AUBREY doesn't believe that ads irritate viewers! Not even those ads where the stomach and the intestinal tract blaze away like a five-alarm fire? (Maybe firebuffs like 'em, but who else? Name one!) Or those advertisements for a certain bread in which athletes have been painfully—and with obvious difficulty—been taught to parrot a whole sentence such as, "I like Rock Bottom Bread because it builds bigger bodies better." (It surely proves that athletic "scholarships" are not wasted!)

It should be easy enough to gauge the irritation quotient of the average teevee viewer in re ads or anything else on the picture tube. Networks live and die by ratings, no matter how much they deny it. Often the rating is determined by a little gadget fixed to teevee boxes around the nation.

IT SHOULD be no trick at all for ingenious inventors to come up with an irritation index indicator that could be attached to teevee sets. It would give network officials and sponsors some idea of what they are doing to the nation's blood pressure.

Teevee must have advertising to live. But must that advertising be so blatant, irritating, repetitious, constant and vulgar as to drive all but the 10-year-old audience back to parchesi?

An Imaginary Exchange Of Letters

WASHINGTON — Somewhere around Gettysburg, Pa., in the office of a former President of the United States, they must be expecting a letter. Presumably they are already drafting a reply. The anticipated missive from a man named Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow might read as follows:

"DEAR IKE: Maybe you've noticed in the papers lately that a Bulgarian plane crashed in Italy. They are foolishly saying that we were engaged in a spy mission like the U-2. In the first place, as you know, we have absolutely no control over Bulgaria, even though it accepts our advice and our ideology and our troops. Besides, while we are interested in what goes on in any NATO military base, even in Italy, we wouldn't think of using espionage. We usually find out enough by reading the papers, as you Westerners tell everything anyway.

"But, as one member of the top executives' club to another, I call your attention to the fact that we didn't admit any responsibility for it and don't intend to do so, even if you extract a confession from the pilot. We admit nothing.

"NOW THAT it's all over, I don't mind telling you that I really knew long before the U-2 came down that you had been conducting these flights and seriously considered mentioning it when I was in Camp David with you in 1959, but I was sure then that you would accept the 'co-existence' idea so I didn't want to muddy the waters. I did say in my press conference in Paris on May 18, 1960, that we knew about the U-2 flights long before, but you folks didn't believe me. You must realize, however, that we couldn't let you get away with the story that you had been conducting these U-2 flights for four years without our knowing it.

"AS FOR 'summit meetings,' they're too important for propaganda purposes to be given up and, of course, when we want to break up an international conference — as we did the other day in Geneva — we don't really need any excuse at all. I expect we will have a lot of 'summit meetings' in the future.

"In closing, let me say I appreciate that your new President proceeded to forget about what I said about you and your country at Paris in 1960 and met with me in Vienna in 1961 anyway. I appreciate also that he has just invited my son - in - law, who edits 'Izvestia,' to lunch with him at the White House but I beg of you, confidentially, if you have any influence at all with your successor, don't let him serve milk. It may be your national drink, but ours is vodka."

TO THE FOREGOING, the chief composer of important missives for Mr. Eisenhower probably is preparing already the first draft of the reply as follows:

"Dear Nikita: I suppose I should begin by exclaiming: 'You, too!' I can't tell you how delighted I was to get your letter mentioning the Bulgarian spy plane that crashed in Italy. But do send me a copy of the letter of apology which I assume you soon will be sending to the Italian government. It seems to me I recall your asking me to apologize for the U-2 incident. I will, of course, keep it secret in the meantime as I know you admit nothing.

"NOR AM I going to rub it in by reminding you of all the things you said about the U-2 flights, for I know that to you spying is just a routine affair and is 'justified' by the dogma of Marx and Lenin and Stalin in which you believe so wholeheartedly — though lately I notice you seem to have weakened a little on Stalin. It's hard over here, you know, to get all the facts about these complicated dogmas so I still don't know why you should feel so badly about Stalin. He was, as I recall, for many years not only a war hero to your people but the high priest of the communist faith which you still embrace.

"It is a little puzzling to me, however, why you took the U-2 thing so seriously and why you cancelled your invitation to me to visit the Soviet Union. It hurts a little bit more now that I see by the papers you have invited Bobby Kennedy, who is only an attorney general. You never invited Herb Brownell or Bill Rogers, both good attorneys general and good fellows.

"BY THE WAY, is that job of director of a childrens' home in the Soviet Union that you promised me still open? I'd like to pass the job on to someone in our new Peace Corps that you doubtless have read about. This is very important to us because you said something once about our grandchildren living under communism if you don't 'bury us' before. I'd like, however, to see your grandchildren trained not to be harsh on us. As Bob Newhart would say, 'same to you, fellah!'"

Southern Born Charm Plus Is Acclaimed In 'Miss U. S. A.'

Never discount the charm of women born and reared in true Southern tradition. This along with other characteristics such as talent and beauty, is all wrapped up in a neat little package now touring the country as "Miss U.S.A." Sharon Rene' Brown is a young lady who hails from Minden, La., and is in Big Spring in connection with the opening of Coronada Hills subdivision.

As "Miss Louisiana" Sharon entered and won the "Miss U.S.A." Contest last July in Miami, Fla., where she also competed for the title of "Miss Universe." In the later contest she was fourth runner-up but she carried the "Miss Photogenic" title, a coveted award made by the press and press photographers.

The beautiful brown-eyed young lady is also the first non-professional miss to be chosen for "Ideal Figure" title, formerly held by Marilyn Monroe and Jane Mansfield. She is five feet seven inches and her measurements are 36 - 24 - 36.

Prior to the year's reign, Miss Brown was a student at Louisiana Tech at Ruston, where she majored in speech and drama. At home she has her mother and her father, who is in the construction business there, twin brothers or "Double Trouble," who bear a striking resemblance to their sister, and a smaller brother who is five.

When asked about her talents, Sharon said that she likes singing pop songs, playing the piano—by ear, and danching which she studied for a number of years and has recently resumed. Also she enjoys modeling "And you should have seen me wearing $75,000 worth of sapphires at Syracuse, N. Y., where I appeared in a show with Vaughn Monroe." This was the annual style show sponsored by the Post Standard News, she explained.

"Talents are not presented for judging in the Miss Universe contest; judges base their decision on beauty of face and figure, poise, personality and intelligence," Miss Brown pointed out.

Accompanied by Mrs. Eleanor A. Rogers of Shreveport, La., her business manager and chaperon, Miss Brown will leave Big Spring for her home state and the Mardi Gras festivities, after which she will attend the Mardi Gras Ball in Washington, D. C.

Completing her year's itinerary in June she travels to Nice, France, where she will appear at the Lions International Convention. ". . . and then Mrs. Rogers and I will go to Italy, Switzerland, Paris and we hope some other places before returning home," Miss Brown said, explaining "We have to be back in the States so that I can crown my successor."

While talking with "Miss U.S.A.," it is apparent that she aspires to a successful career on the stage or some related profession. "Plans are indefinite at the present," she said, "However I hope to go to New York or Hollywood and try my luck in musical comedy or in movies."

Publicity-wise Miss Brown has figured in press releases, magazine publications and television. She has appeared on TV with Bob Hope and on "Play Your Hunch"; featured in the November Modern Screen magazine; and among other appearances she took part on the recent Telethon at Midland.

"I had hoped to live in this part of the country a few years ago. My dad who suffers with asthma, was employed at that time with an oil company and the family came out to make their home at Crane but with the first dust storm the asthma returned so we went back to Louisiana," Miss Brown recalled. "I know that Crane had the best hamburgers I ever ate. They put some kind of delicious peppers on the hamburgers."

The lovely Miss Brown had several engagements for the day including a luncheon appointment with city officials who had they been aware of Miss Brown's taste for hamburgers, probably would have provided the same.

'Miss U.S.A.' A Visitor

Smartly attired in a black and white tweed suit, "Miss U.S.A.," Sharon Rene Brown, pays Big Spring a visit before returning to her home state and the Mardi Gras festival. "Please, no cheesecake," was the request of her manager and chaperon, Mrs. Eleanor Rogers, who refers to herself as "The Gestapo."

Westbrook Class Plan Box Supper

WESTBROOK (SC) — Members of the senior class are sponsoring a box supper and bingo party at the school cafetorium Thursday night. Girls are asked to bring boxes and the boys requested to buy them.

Prizes for the bingo games have been donated by merchants in Colorado City and Westbrook. Everyone is invited to attend. Class sponsors are Mrs. Charles Maughon and Supt. Herman Parsons. Starting time is 7 p.m.

Four Lodges Join In Rebekah Instruction

Four lodges of the Rebekah District 11 took part in a school of instruction held at the IOOF Hall Tuesday evening with Big Spring Lodge, No. 284, as hostess.

Mrs. J. R. Petty, district deputy president, conducted the school and Mrs. Henry Roger was mistress of ceremonies.

Mrs. Tom McAdams welcomed the lodges and Mrs. H. F. Jarratt of the John A. Lee lodge responded.

Each lodge in the district exemplified certain phases of the work of the order. John A. Kee presented the flag; Lamesa Berta H. Porter presented a candidate; Stanton gave instruction on examining a visitor; Big Spring, No. 284, under the direction of Mrs. C. D. Herring, presented the preamble to the constitution.

Mrs. Earl Wilson and Mrs. Petty were introduced as state officers.

Lodges outside of the district who visited were Lamesa, No. 90, and Tahoka.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. A. C. Wilkerson, Mrs. Jewel Fields, Mrs. L. A. Griffith, Mrs. Herring and Mrs. Travis Melton. One hundred and ten were present.

To feature the theme of the president which is "Anchor the Ship," hostesses used a large silvered anchor based in blue roses as the table centerpiece.

JOHN A. KEE

Forty-two members of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge attended a school of instruction conducted at the Big Spring Lodge, No. 284, Tuesday evening.

The Kee lodge conducted a short business session and a certificate for a perfect financial report was given Mrs. Pauline Petty from the Rebekah Assembly. Formal initiation ceremonies will be held next Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Laswell On WSCS Program

Mrs. W. A. Laswell spoke to members of the Mary Zinn Circle of the First Methodist WSCS, Tuesday at the church. The meeting was held for a study of "The Christian Mission in Latin-America."

Assisting in the program presentation were Mrs. Mary Guilliams whose topic was "Protestant Mission in Latin America Today"; Mrs. W. A. Miller, "Are Latin-American Countries Roman Catholic?"; Mrs. Tom Adams, "Are They Protestant?"; Mrs. Felton Smith, "Christians Must Be Missionaries."

A devotion was given by Mrs. Jakie Bishop and the meeting concluded with refreshments served to 14 members.

The next meeting is to be with Mrs. S. R. Nobles, 405 Washington, Feb. 6.

HD Agent Talks On Appliances

WESTBROOK (SC) — Members of the Carr Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Frank Neal in Colorado City. Mrs. Cricket Taylor, County Home Demonstration agent, presented the program on the care and use of small electrical appliances in the home. Mrs. Taylor emphasized the size of the appliance should be determined by where it is to be used or the size of the family that is to use it.

Roll call was answered by "My Personal Goal for This Year." A Bible quiz was conducted by Mrs. F. A. Langley.

The members voted to sponsor a contestant in the 1962 Tumbleweed Queen Contest, and to contribute to the March of Dimes.

Refreshments were served to 12 members and one guest, Mrs. Roy Messimer.

Next meeting will be Friday, Feb. 2 with Mrs. T. L. McKenney.

Committees Are Appointed For Church Class

WESTBROOK (SC) — Members of the Ruth Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Herman Parsons with Mrs. Kenneth Andress co-hostess.

Devotion was presented by Mrs. Andress from Second Kings and Proverbs speaking on the "Four Women Within Each of Us," and closing with the poem "If Jesus Came to Your House." Prayer was led by Mrs. Altis Clemmer.

During the business meeting plans were made to sponsor a Sweetheart Banquet for the Young People of the community to be held February 10.

Committees appointed by the president, Mrs. W. A. Bell included Mrs. Charles Ranne, program; Mrs. Parsons, decoration; Mrs. Clemmer, Mrs. W. E. Smith, Mrs. Troy Lankford, Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Ranne, invitation; Mrs. Ralph Bryant, food.

Get well cards were signed by members and sent to those ill. Secret pal gifts were exchanged.

Ten members were present with two visitors, Pandora and Rodney Moore.

Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Don Henderson.

WSCS Circles Study Beliefs Of Churches

Fannie Hodges and Sylvia Lamun WSCS circles of First Methodist Church met Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Hayes Stripling Jr. Mrs. Ben Day, program leader, presented the home mission study from "Churches For New Times."

Band Concert Adds $1,000 To Trip Fund

The school band concert conducted Tuesday night at the Municipal Auditorium added about $1,000 to funds available for a trip by the High School Band to the World's Fair in Seattle, Wash.

All receipts have not yet been totaled, but they should be slightly more than $1,000, according to Walter Stroup, president of the Band Booster's Club. Attendance at the concert was estimated at 1,200 persons.

On the program were Harold Brasch, baritone soloist, and bands from Runnels, Goliad and the Senior High School. Brasch, who was with the United States Navy Band and is touring the country since his retirement, presented three selections and an encore. He was accompanied on the piano by Sylvia Edwards.

The Senior High Band presented seven selections and Runnels and Goliad, four numbers each. About 250 band members from the schools participated in the program.

The two-hour concert was sponsored by the Band Boosters Club to raise funds for band activities. The main project now being undertaken by the club is to raise about $4,500 to pay for a trip to the World's Fair.

Pete Underwood Seeks Re-Election

GARDEN CITY—W. C. (Pete) Underwood has announced that he will seek re-election to the post of Justice of Peace Precinct No. 1, subject to action of the Democratic primary May 5.

Underwood is a long-time official and in announcing he said he would "like to take this opportunity to thank you for the honor of serving you as your Justice of Peace. I have done my best to serve you in a business-like way. I pledge to continue a policy of honesty and efficiency and to serve the people in a courteous manner as I have always tried to do in the past."

Red Cross Board Meets Thursday

A meeting of the board of directors of the Howard - Glasscock Red Cross chapter has been called for Thursday afternoon.

The session will be held in the commissioners court room of the courthouse, beginning at 5:15. A full attendance is urged.

New Auto Tags On Sale Thursday

Shiny new 1962 car license plates will go on sale at the offices of the county tax collector and at five sub-stations Thursday morning.

Fees for the plates are the same as in 1961. The tags this year are like the old tags with the exception that the background is white and the lettering black —reverse of the color pattern in 1961.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax collector, said that tags are to be on hand at her office on the first floor of the court house, at the automobile tax office adjacent to the main tax office; at the two Newsom Food Stores and at all three Lewis Variety stores.

She said the substations will be equipped to issue plates for passenger cars only. Mrs. LeFevre said that the shopper who wants to combine a visit to the food stores or to the variety stores with buying 1962 car plates needs only bring his car title and the receipt for his 1961 license. The stores have qualified assistants who will issue the licenses and hand out the plates.

The main tax office will handle passenger car licenses and the auto tax office will issue truck, tractor, trailer and other types of tags and serve as a clearing house where the motorist has problems relative to his new tag.

New plates must be on all cars by April.

Mrs. LeFevre said that the substations were a great convenience to motorists last year and that she is pleased they are to be back in service this year. She has stocked each location with tags, receipts and record forms and Hester's is supplying typewriters.

Many motorists display eagerness to buy new tags as soon as they are placed on sale. It is anticipated that a brisk business will be developed on the first day the 1962 tags are available.

Two More File For Public Office

Two new candidates have officially filed for public office since Tuesday with Frank Hardesty, county Democratic party chairman.

One is Dallas Perkins, Abilene, who identifies himself as president of Impact, Inc., the newly incorporated town adjacent to Abilene. He is filing as a candidate for senator from State Senatorial District 24.

The other candidate to file is Max Thomas, who identifies himself as an oil field pumper in the Otis Chalk area. He is seeking the post of County Commissioner, Precinct 2.

Hardesty said that the deadline for all candidates to file with him is midnight on Feb. 5. He said that he would be at his drugstore in the Crawford Hotel building until 11 p.m. Monday and then available at his home until midnight.

Any prospective candidate who has not filed his name with the county committee by that hour, will not be listed on the May 5 primary ballot.

Several other filings are expected before the deadline.

Scouting Units To Be Organized

A meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Trinity Lutheran Church, 1100 Wright, for boys interested in organizing a new Cub pack and Scout troop.

Parents of interested boys are urged to attend, with their sons, to help get the new groups started and organized.

Local Guard Unit May Be Home In July

DALLAS (AP — Big Spring's National Guardsmen may be home and back on the job sometime during the summer.

The 1st Armored Division is being activated at Ft. Hood and will replace the 49th Armored Divison, of which the local National Guardsmen are a part. The 49th is training at Ft. Polk, La. after being called to active duty last Oct. 12.

If the new division reaches combat strength rapidly enough, the 49th will probably start home by June 30.

For the first time in a dozen years, Texas' 36th Division may hold summer training outside the state.

Lt. Gen. Carl Phinney, who led the division eight years and now commands the Texas National Guard, said Tuesday its July 1-15 exercises may be staged at Ft. Chaffee, Ark., or Ft. Polk, La.

He said Ft. Hood in Central Texas, where the 36th Division has trained since 1951, probably will be unavailable to National Guardsmen or Army Reservists because the 2nd Armored Division is being activated.

No Decision On Davis Trial

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, had not ruled on the motion by Lewis Davis for a new trial at noon Wednesday.

Davis, under 25 year sentence for murder, had moved that he be granted a new trial, basing his contention on an allegation of improper conduct by the jury which found him guilty.

Judge Caton had taken the motion under advisement at the close of the hearing last week and Jan. 31, attorneys said, was deadline for the court to rule.

Roger Brown, court appointed attorney, and his associate, George Thomas, contend that the jury which found Davis guilty of murder and fixed his punishment at 25 years in prison, injected discussion of Davis' past criminal record into the deliberations.

The defense attorneys contended that the criminal record of their client was not in evidence before the jury. The jury also, it is alleged, evaluated the sentence assessed against the defendant by the number of probable years he might have to serve under what is known in prison parlance as "good time." This, the defense argued, was not in the province of the jurors.

Gil Jones, district attorney, opposed the motion.

Davis is charged with the slaying of Roy V. Brown last Oct. 23. Brown was beaten to death.

Advisory Group To Meet Thursday

New projects available for adoption during 1962 will be presented to members of the Veterans Administration Volunteer Service Advisory Committee at a meeting Thursday afternoon, according to Dr. H. C. Ernsting, chairman.

The meeting will be held at 3:30 p.m. at the hospital director's conference room.

Projects completed during 1961 will be reviewed at the regular meeting. Committee members will set a date for a recognition and appreciation program for volunteer services performed during that year. Awards will be presented at that time.

Other business will include announcing a date for a short orientation and training course for volunteers.

OAS Votes Cuban Ouster, But Go-Slow Bloc Abstains

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Inter-American foreign ministers formally adopted a final report today on their resolutions against Cuban communism, including a vote for ouster of Fidel Castro's Red regime by the Organization of American States.

Cubans were absent from the plenary meeting and the report was approved 20-0. President Osvaldo Dorticos and his aides were holding a news conference elsewhere as representatives of the rest of the nations in the OAS convened.

Though Secretary of State Dean Rusk's bid for unanimity on the ouster issue failed earlier today, the United States had mustered the necessary two-thirds majority for the vote directing the Castro regime's speedy expulsion from the councils of the inter-American family.

The biggest and most powerful nations in Latin America jarred the United States by refusing to vote for the expulsion "without delay" of the Castro government from the Organization of American States and its various agencies. The vote was 14-1, with Cuba voting no and the go-slow bloc of Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Mexico, Bolivia and Ecuador abstaining.

SEVERE BLOW

The consensus at this hemispheric foreign ministers' conference was that the six nations had given the Kennedy administration's Latin-American policy a severe blow. The six contended that there presently exists no legal basis for expulsion of an OAS member and wanted to delay until such a legal basis could be created by amendment of the OAS treaty.

The blow was softened somewhat when the United States' Latin-American allies solidly adopted a ringing declaration that Cuba's Marxist-Leninist government is incompatible with the inter-American system and Cuba's alignment with the Soviet bloc breaks hemispheric unity.

LINED UP

The foreign ministers, with the exception of Cuba, also lined up unanimously with the United States on three other resolutions that provided:

1. The most stinging denunciation of Communist intrusion in the Western world ever adopted by any inter-American body.

2. The expulsion of Cuba from the Inter-American Defense Board. This was little more than a formality since the Castro government has been barred from the board's sensitive deliberations for the last 10 months.

3. A ringing endorsement of President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress program. The Latin Americans called the program the foundation for their nations' economic and social development on a self-help basis and the best weapon with which to combat communism and Castroite influences.

EMBARGO ON ARMS

An embargo on arms trade between Cuba and the OAS members was carried 16-1, with Cuba voting no and Brazil, Chile, Ecuador and Bolivia abstaining. The resolution also directs the OAS Council to study the possibility of extending the embargo to other articles, especially those considered of strategic importance.

A resolution calling for defense against international communism was approved 19-1, with Cuba voting against and Bolivia abstaining. The resolution asks the OAS "to maintain all vigilance necessary" to prevent aggression, subversion or other dangers to peace and security and directs the OAS to create a special consultation committee to aid those nations which request assistance on security problems.

The foreign ministers set formal signing of the resolutions and conference declarations at a closing session tonight.

NOW TO COUNCIL

The resolution directing Cuba's expulsion now goes to the OAS Council in Washington and various Inter-American boards and agencies for action against Cuba.

Rusk said he expected the OAS Council to meet within 10 days to two weeks to begin implementing the resolution.

A spokesman for Brazil, leader of the go-slow bloc, said he believed the council by the same two-thirds vote would suspend Cuba from participation in OAS affairs until a special Inter-American conference can be held to decide a legal procedure for Cuba's expulsion.

Rusk hailed the unanimity of action on other resolutions before the conference and particularly on the condemnation of Cuban communism. But some observers felt that the failure of the 20 nations to agree on Cuba's ouster from the OAS revealed a deep rift in the hemisphere.

U.S. Debt Over $298 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The national debt has risen above $298 billion for the first time.

The Treasury said today that the debt, as of last Friday, amounted to $298,049,359,273. The temporary debt limit of $298 billion was not violated, however because some $438 million of the debt is not subject to the ceiling.

A year ago, the debt stood at $291 billion.

President Kennedy has proposed lifting the temporary debt limit to $308 billion.

JFK Reports Space Gains

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told Congress today the U.S. space program gained new impetus and breadth last year, but even greater strides must be made in the months and years ahead.

Reporting to Congress in accordance with the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958, Kennedy detailed activities of various government departments and agencies in the space field.

During the last year, he said, major attention was devoted to establishing this country's policy objective of space leadership and accelerating efforts toward achieving that objective.

Kennedy recalled that he told Congress in a message May 25, 1961, that a leading role in space achievement may well hold the key to this country's future.

"That I reaffirm," he said.

Broadly sketching what has been done since he took office, Kennedy said: "Foremost was the national decision to land a team of U.S. explorers on the moon during the present decade—a goal previously contemplated for the mid-1970s. This objective, moreover, became part of a national space program composed of many basic projects. To carry out this national program effectively and efficiently the nation began marshaling scientific, technical, and physical resources."

Primarily for the lunar project, but also for other space missions, Kennedy said, actions to achieve far greater rocket thrusts and to build larger space craft were undertaken.

Viet Cong Shows Red

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)-South Viet Nam's anti-Communist government has protested to the three-nation control commission against the recent formation by Communist North Viet Nam of a "Marxist-Leninist" party in South Viet Nam.

The new party is known as the Viet Nam People's Revolutionary party. Communist announcements indicate they plan to use the new party as the nucleus of a "neutralist" rebel government on South Viet Nam territory.

Formation of the new party marks the first time North Viet Nam's Communist government has publicly identified itself with the rebel movement in the south. Heretofore, the Viet Cong guerrillas operating in South Viet Nam have refrained from trying to sell communism. They have concentrated their propaganda fire on alleged corruption in South Viet Nam's government and interference in the internal affairs of South Viet Nam by "American imperialists."

The switch in tactics could pose a long-range political threat to the pro-Western government of President Ngo Dinh Diem by trying to attract discontented or dissident elements to a new "neutralist" rump government.

But many Westerners here say identification of the rebel movement in South Viet Nam as Communist could deprive it of much of its propaganda appeal.

The government claimed today its forces turned the tables on Communist Viet Cong guerrillas Sunday and captured 18 of them in a Viet Cong-type ambush.

OIL REPORT

Texaco Finals Fusselman Site

After more than a month of testing various zones which have indicated production, Texaco, Inc. No. 1 F. P. McDougal has been completed in the Fusselman as a discovery. All other zones have been shut in on this Dawson County well.

The wildcat flowed a calculated 347 barrels of oil on initial potential. It gauged 307 barrels on a 21-hour test. Production is from perforations between 11,574 - 642 feet.

Two other pay zones, the Montoya and the Mississippian, have also indicated discovery pay. It is 11 miles south of Lamesa.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Co. No. 1 A. D. Shive, in Howard County, is still tight, but unofficial sources report that casing has been set for a completion attempt in the pay zone which flowed twice on tests. The report is that the hole is bottomed at 5,430 feet. The rig is being torn down.

According to the information, an accurate estimate of flow on tests was in the neighborhood of 900-1,000 barrels a day. The zone is thought to be the Wichita-Albany.

In Sterling County, Roden Oil and Cosden No. 1 Reed has indicated discovery oil from the Fusselman. It returned 15 barrels of new oil along with load oil and water on a 24-hour test. The operator is still testing. This rank wildcat is about 14 miles northwest of Sterling City.

Dawson

Hamon No. 1 McDougal is drilling ahead below 10,079 feet after running drillstem tests on the Canyon lime between 10,027-79 feet. In one hour the project returned 70 feet of drilling mud with no shows. Location is C SW SW, section 23-36-4n, T&P survey.

Texaco, Inc. No. 1 F. P. McDougal was completed in the Fusselman for discovery pay. On a 21-hour gauge, the well flowed 307 barrels of 40.2 gravity oil through a 7-64 inch choke for an estimated 347 barrel a day on 24-hour potential. The well bottomed at 12,090 feet and was plugged back to 11,755 feet. No water was produced, the gas-oil ratio was 169-1, packer was used and perforations are between 11,574-594 feet, 11,599-611 feet and 11,622-42 feet.

The well has also returned new oil from the Montoya, between 11-675-710 feet, and the Mississippian, between 11,141-258 feet. It is about 7½ miles east southeast of the Patricia (Fusselman) field and 11 miles south of Lamesa. Location is C SE SW, section 23-36-4n, T&P survey.

Howard

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Co. No. 1 A. D. Shive is still tight. No official information is available, but unofficial sources report that after bottoming at 5,430 feet the project has been cased for completion and is waiting on cement. Tuesday afternoon the rig was being taken down.

On tests between 5,304-26 feet the project was said to have flowed oil twice at an estimated rate of 40-45 barrels of oil an hour. The hole was then deepened to 5,430 feet and casing was run. Unofficial sources indicate the pay zone was topped at about 5,110 feet and the decision to test was made when gas was encountered. At first the section, described as a dolomite, was thought to be the Spraberry, but now is believed to be the Wichita - Albany. Location is C SW SW, section 29-30-1n, T&P survey, about three miles northeast of Coahoma.

Martin

J. E. Jones Drilling Co. No. 2 Wilkinson is the fifth site staked in the Playa (Spraberry) field. The field has three wells. The project is to bottom at 7,600 feet and spots about seven-eighths mile northwest of field production. Location is C NW, section 2-34-1n, T&P survey, eight miles northeast of Stanton.

Baxter No. 1 Mills-Patton is still swabbing perforations between 7,754-88 feet. No gauges were reported. The site is C NE, section 7-34-2n, T&P survey.

Pan American No. 1 Breedlove Operating Area is still flowing load oil from the Spraberry, between 8,290-400 feet. In 24 hours, return was 60 barrels of load oil. There are still 769 barrels of load oil and 120 barrels of load water to recover. Location is C SE NW NW, labor 14-255, Briscoe CSL survey.

Sterling

Roden Oil and Cosden No. 1 Reed recovered 15 barrels of new oil, along with 25 barrels of load water and 24 barrels of load oil, on swabbing Fusselman perforations between 9,060-70 feet. The operator is still testing this rank wildcat. It is 2,040 feet from the north and 650 feet from the west lines of section 9-30-W&NW survey.

Survivors Being Moved From Plane Crash Site

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—American rescue teams today began transferring some of the survivors of a wrecked U.S. military plane that crashed on snow-covered Zardkuh Mountain in rugged southwest Iran Saturday with five persons aboard.

The teams also began rescue operations for one of their own number who parachuted into a difficult spot two miles from the scene.

U.S. military mission authorities here announced that the pilot of the crashed plane is dead. He was identified as Maj. Donald A. Carder of Rayville, Mo.

But it was not known whether Carder was among the four original survivors and died later, or was the fifth man aboard the plane mentioned as missing.

U.S. authorities named two of the survivors, Col. Walter M. Vann of Monroe, N.C., and Spec. 5 John E. Porter of Springfield, Ill.

Two other men aboard the plane were Lt. Col. Walter R. Johnson of Baldwin, N.Y., and Capt. Daniel Knotts of Atlanta, Ga.

There still was no indication of the condition of the survivors.

De Gaulle, FLN Are Reported In Agreement

PARIS (AP)— France's capital buzzed today with reports that President Charles de Gaulle's government and the Algerian rebels are near agreement — or have reached one—on a cease-fire and independence in the war-torn North African territory.

The Geneva correspondent of the Belgian radio, quoting an authoritative North African source, said complete agreement on an Algerian settlement had been reached at a secret meeting in Vevey, Switzerland.

Paris newspapers Tuesday night carried prominent stories that an agreement was near, and various sources in Paris had the impression crucial developments on Algeria would come this week.

There was no official confirmation of the various peace agreement reports, and none was expected from French officials before Monday night. If agreement has been reached, President De Gaulle presumably will announce it in a radio-TV speech scheduled then.

Several developments gave substance to the reports of an impending climax in the Algerian drama.

The French army rolled strong detachments of troops and armored cars into the center of Algiers Tuesday night "for any eventuality," army sources said. The troop reinforcements were withdrawn this morning, but the show of strength obviously was aimed at the right-wing European settlers in the city and their extremist Secret Army Organization waging a campaign of terrorism to keep Algeria French. Announcement of an accord with the rebel National Liberation Front (FLN) is certain to infuriate Algeria's European population, and a general uprising is a possibility.

To guard against any attempt at a putsch in Paris itself the government announced 30 squadrons of mobile gendarmes totaling more than 4,000 men had been placed in a police "strategic reserve" in the Paris region.

On the rebel side, Foreign Minister Saad Dalhab left Morocco four days ago and has not yet been reported in Tunis. This could mean that Dalhab, one of the FLN negotiators, had stopped in Switzerland for a decisive meeting with French representatives.

The Paris newspapers Le Monde, Paris-Presse and France-Soir published what they said were details of the French-Algerian negotiations. Paris-Presse said only one major point remained—the nationality status of Europeans in Algeria after independence. The stories all appeared to have come from the same source, apparently French official circles.

The Belgian radio's report also gave details of a purported settlement. It said the nationality problem had been solved by giving the Europeans dual nationality for a six-month transitional period after which they would choose French or Algerian nationality.

The Belgian radio and the papers said a provisional administration of French and Algerians would be installed for the transitional period and that the French army would remain on the scene, chiefly to prevent an uprising by the right-wing European extremists and their secret army.

The Belgian radio said France would retain the Mers-el-Kebir naval base at Oran for 30 years under a lease and that France would lend economic and cultural assistance to independent Algeria.

Chamber Committee To Stage A Slogan Contest

A contest to derive a slogan to use in promoting Big Spring will be one of the main activities of the advertising and promotion committee of the Chamber of Commerce during 1962.

A committee to handle the contest will be headed by Jerry Mancill. The slogan will be used on correspondence, posters and other advertising material. Assisting Mancill will be Russell Bennett and Winston Wrinkle.

No date has yet been established for the contest. Discussion included a suggestion that a cash prize be awarded for the winning slogan.

The slogan was proposed at a meeting Tuesday afternoon as a way to sell Big Spring not only to outsiders, but also to local residents. J. O. Dotson and Bob Bradbury, co-chairmen of the advertising and promotion committee, presided.

Two other committees were appointed at the meeting. One will work to keep traffic moving through the city instead of around it when the bypass route for IS 20 is completed. The other will work up a brochure of information to be handed out to tourists and visitors to the city.

Heading the committee to put signs and billboards on IS 20 will be Don Hitchcock. Others on the committee are Daryle Hohertz, A. K. Steinheimer, Maxwell Green and Anne Hardy.

Oliver Cofer is chairman of the committee to work up a brochure. Assisting him will be Jeff Brown, Patty Rogers, Jerry Caddell, George McAlister and Dr. F. W. Lurting.

Turner's Familiar Charge

Earnest Turner (14) of HCJC made a patented charge down court in the above picture, snapped during the Jayhawk-Amarillo Western Conference basketball game here Tuesday night. That's Pat McDaniel (43) of Amarillo, trying to stop him. Turner wound up with 25 points for the night as HCJC won its fifth straight league decision, 89-60.

Jayhawks Win Fifth Conference Verdict

The HCJC Jayhawks led from buzzer to buzzer in trouncing the Amarillo Badgers, 89-60, in a Western Conference basketball skirmish here Tuesday night.

Hawk reserves got a liberal workout in the encounter, which saw the locals win their fifth straight conference joust and their 17th in 20 season starts.

The smaller Badgers, now 3-5 in conference play, were no match for the Big Springers around the basket.

Walter Carter, the big freshman from Virginia, scored at a point-a-minute clip what time he was in action. He played less than 30 minutes and emerged with 29 points. He hit 21 of those the first half, an effort that almost matched the team output of the invaders. Amarillo left the court trailing by a 43-25 tab.

Earnest Turner also sizzled for HCJC. He banged in 25 points, connecting on 11 of 12 free shot attempts.

The Hawks' biggest lead of the night was 85-50, posted in the final three minutes of play.

Turner repaired to the sidelines with an injured knee hurt in a collision under the basket with 11 minutes to play in the first half but didn't remain idle long.

HCJC raced to a 29-10 lead early in the contest and Amarillo could never do much about reducing the deficit, although the Badgers gave it the good try. Too many bad passes and alert HCJC defensive work cost the Badgers dearly.

HCJC hit 17 of 38 shots from the field the first half for 44 per cent and 16 of 35 the final 20 minutes for 46 per cent.

Amarillo connected on 10 of 24 the first half for 41 per cent and 13 of 31 the last half, also for 41 per cent.

Carter pulled down 14 rebounds while Turner had 13 and Elvis Spradling 12.

Jackie Burns led the visitors in rebounding with eight while Victor Coats and Wilbur Johnson each had seven.

Chief Amarillo gunner was diminutive Bob Dibler, who wound up with 21 points. John Dickerson was the only other Badger to hit in double figures. He tallied 10 points.

The Hawks now turn their attentions to Saturday night, at which time they visit San Angelo to meet the SAC Rams.

Steers Give Odessa High A Scare But Lose, 84-74

ODESSA — Odessa High, fighting for sole possession of first place in District 2-AAAA basketball standings, had to go all out to defeat Big Spring, 84-74, here Tuesday night.

Big Spring jumped into a first period lead, 20-13, but the Bronchos steadied their game in Round Two and went ahead to stay, outscoring the Steers, 28-16.

Dick Ebling waxed warm for Big Spring, tossing in 26 points. The game's top scorer proved to be reliable Dubby Malaise of Odessa, who was held to 14 points the first half but who wound up with 36.

The official scorer gave Big Spring's Eddie Nelson 24 points and Richard Bethell only eight. However, the Big Spring book showed Nelson with 20 points and Bethell with 12.

Four bad passes in the second period cost Big Spring dearly, at a time the Steers were very much in contention. Odessa turned all four breaks into field goals.

Odessa went into a stall late in the game, with good results. Big Spring started fouling, trying to get the ball. Malaise made ten free shots, all as a direct result of the stall.

In the B game, Odessa won, 50-43, making splendid use of the free toss. Each team wound up with 18 field goals.

The Dogies made seven gratis pitches, missed 13 others. The Hosses made good on 14 free shot opportunities.

In that game, Jeff Brown counted 14 points for Big Spring while Charley West had nine.

Lamesa Is Upset By Snyder Five

SNYDER — Snyder's Tigers upset the mighty Lamesa Tornadoes, 46-44, here Tuesday night to snarl the District 3-AAA basketball race.

The loss was the first in conference play for Lamesa in 20 games played over a three-year period. The Tornadoes and Sweetwater are now tied for first place in the standings, with 3-1 records, and Sweetwater catches Lamesa at home.

Snyder won the game at the free throw line, hitting 16 of 22. Lamesa connected on 14 of 35.

Gene Westmoreland of Lamesa wound up with 26 points although he sat out the final seven minutes of play.

Sands Decisions Wildcats Twice

ACKERLY — Sands won both ends of a District 93-B basketball doubleheader from Water Valley here Tuesday night.

The boys finished in front, 60-27, after the girls had prevailed, 41-23.

In the boys' game, Sands led at the end of the first quarter, 10-6; at half time, 27-8; and after three periods, 43-16. Dan Shortes led Sands in scoring with 13 points. Parson had 12 for Water Valley.

In the girls' game, Zelda Bodine tallied 24 points for Sands while Helen Sisco wound up with 10 for Water Valley.

In that game, Sands led at the end of the first quarter, 13-6; at half time, 21-11; and at the termination of Round Three, 33-17.

The Sands' girls now have a conference record of 5-1.

Orioles Likely To Be Threats

By BILLY HITCHCOCK

OPELIKA, Ala. (AP)—Despite the loss of three players who figured prominently in our 1962 plans, the Orioles should be very much in the thick of the pennant race next season.

It will be difficult to replace men like Steve Barber, an 18-game winner last season; Ron Hansen, our regular shortstop, and standout rookie prospect Barry Shetrone, all of whom have been called into service.

However, we still have a solid crew of veterans and a group of youngsters just approaching their prime. If a number of rookies come through as we expect, and if we can plug a few holes on our roster between now and opening day, we will be in excellent shape for a run on the pennant. I feel sure the presence of Johnny Temple, Billy Short and John Powell will help.

The Orioles' biggest weakness was hitting and lack of consistent long ball, which naturally caused a shortage of runs. Powell, a left-handed hitting outfielder who has never failed to hit well over .300 in the minors, and Gus Triandos, who was hurt last year, could help this situation greatly. I'm also counting on Earl Robinson, who has speed, power and a strong arm.

Jackie Brandt is a fixture in center field. Russ Snyder and Whitey Herzog are good outfielders, and the latter, like Robinson, indicated he is ready for a big year by hitting .332 from July 5 to the end of the season.

The Oriole pitching was easily the best in the league last year. Barber's absence will hurt, but Billy Hoeft should be able to take up some of the slack. We are counting on Short and Joe Nuxhall, a couple of newcomers to help.

Milt Pappas, Chuck Estrada and Jack Fisher, with Dick Hall and Hal Brown as spot starters and relievers, give us a solid right-handed crew.

JONES SINKS HOLE-IN-ONE

Gil Jones received one of his big thrills in golf Tuesday when he aced the 190-yard No. 4 hole at the Big Spring Country Club. Par is three.

Using a No. 3 iron, Jones lifted his tee shot to within about 15 feet of the hole. It darted straight into the hole.

Gil was playing with Frog Koger, Lester Morton and R. H. Weaver at the time.

Baseball Is Fading Fast In The Minors

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

An oldtimer, back for a visit to Scranton, Pa., entered a sprawling supermarket in the Dunmore area. Something about the neighborhood looked familiar.

"Say, wasn't the old Scranton ball park somewhere around here?" he asked the man at the cash register.

"Mister, you are standing on third base."

When people say baseball is fading they point to places like Scranton where a booming minor league franchise declined and finally died several years ago.

In 1939, Scranton's team in the Class A Eastern League played before 317,000 fans at home. (Philadelphia drew only 590,000 in the National League in 1961). In 1953, local owners finally gave up the struggle. For nine years there has been no professional baseball in this anthracite area.

The stadium, gleaming pride of the coal regions when it was built, has disappeared. The last owner sold the steel stands, seats and even the scoreboard. They were moved to Richmond, Va., to become part of a new stadium in that city. Thus ended the dream park that drew 16,386 Scrantonians to its dedication in 1940.

Down the street there was a gas station where a visitor stopped to check directions. A middle-aged man, obviously the owner, greeted the customer. Soon the conversation switched to baseball.

"Do you miss baseball?" the visitor asked.

"Listen, I was one of the real fans," the attendant said. "Baseball was my recreation. Any time I could get away from work I went to the ball game. It was a shame they had to give it up."

Scranton may or may not be typical. Its population has shrunk in recent years, largely because of the decline of the coal business in an era of gas and oil. But its problems are the problems of many other areas where the minors are blighted and baseball survives only by remote control.

Joe Butler, sports editor of the Scranton Times, remembers the golden years of the Boston Red Sox's reign in Scranton. So Does Chic Feldman, sports editor of the Scranton Tribune.

"The Eastern League?" said Butler. "We used to get calls for a year or two. But no more. We use only the line scores. Nobody talks about the Eastern League around here.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

That first place trophy HCJC's mile relay team won at last weekend's indoor track meet in Lubbock was bigger than the locals won at Houston.

As it turned out, the Lubbock people probably could afford to spend more on awards than the Houston promoters, since the crowd at Lubbock was much larger.

Michael Hill, the Illinois youth attending HCJC, tossed the shot put 49 feet, 2 inches at Lubbock — good, but not good enough to place. He was competing unattached, since he won't become eligible to represent HCJC until 1963.

HCJC was clocked in 3:30.0, slower than they were timed in Houston a couple of weeks ago. However, they weren't pushed very hard in Lubbock. The ACC freshman quartet gave them a tussle for two quarters and then fell behind.

Herman Robinson of HCJC made it to the finals in the open 60 and ran fifth against the likes of Ralph Alspaugh and Dave Styron.

Coach Ted Lewis next sends his HCJC team in action in Odessa Feb. 17, but chances are Lewis won't escort the team personally. He's due in Dallas the previous night to receive his "coach of the year" award at a YMCA banquet and probably won't be back in time. Mrs. Lewis will also get to attend the banquet, by the way.

Harry Craft, field manager of the Houston Colts of the National (baseball) League, met his wife, Nell, through pitcher Bob Turley and his wife.

The two were married in Miami, Okla., on Mother's Day, 1960.

Mrs. Craft says Harry is an excellent cook and taught her how to bake her first pie.

In the off season, the Crafts live on Lake Tsala Apopka, Inverness, Fla., where they like to see the sun come up in the morning (across the lake).

Harry and his wife spend a part of every winter in his old home town, Throckmorton, Texas, however. His brother, Tom, still lives there. Like a lot of baseball players, Harry is a devout fisherman and hunter.

Delnor Poss, the local high school basketball mentor, fingers Odessa Permian as the team to beat in next year's District 2-AAAA race.

Poss reasons that most of the powers in this year's campaign will be gravely wounded by graduation. Permian, he says, has three regulars returning, one of whom is Charley Morton, second leading scorer in the conference.

Poss' own team figures to be better. He's starting with a senior, a junior and three sophomores.

Although the Steers were nosed out in Midland by Lee the other night, the team got a fine performance from DeeRoby Gartman, who took charge when three other regulars fouled out.

Boyd Buie Brings Harlem Stars Here Friday Night

The clowning Harlem Stars, masterminded by one - armed Boyd Buie, come to town Friday night to tangle with E. C. Smith's Construction Company basketball team in the HCJC Gym.

Admission prices have been pegged at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. Proceeds go into the Jayhawk fund. Sponsor of the game is the Jayhawk Club.

The Stars are a combination of Negro Stars who tour the World making fans laugh.

Fans will see a fancy exhibition—razzle dazzle ball handling, intricate routines, both planned and impromptu comedy and all sorts of 'shenanigans'.

The Harlem Stars are unique in the fact they never try to run up a huge score against opponents. It is their policy to keep the game close, devoting much time to comedy stuff.

Magicians are what owner Boid Buie calls them. Referring to his Harlem Stars when they begin their zany antics on the basketball court. Razzle dazzle ball handling, intricate pass patterns, trick shooting, marthon dribbling and impromptu comedy antics all so to make this the greatest show in the business. "Go Man Go" really describes the Harlem Stars when they are on the court.

Baker Speaks To Rotary

Don Baker, Arlington, field representative of the Association of Consumer Finance Agencies, showed a film to Rotarians Tuesday on the operation of the agencies. He was introduced by James Cape, manager of a Big Spring finance company.

Baker, who became affiliated with the association in Texas through the late Boyce House, started his present work in Big Spring last February when he met House at the Settles Hotel.

The film, entitled "The Little Giant," showed how consumer finance companies operated to help the average person take care of payments on accumulated bills in emergencies. It set out the difference between costs in processing large sums loaned at a lower rate of interest and the small sums on which higher rates were necessary to cover costs of bookkeeping and processing the accounts.

President Ralph McLaughlin announced that the club would hold the annual Ladies Night meeting at the Big Spring Country Club Feb. 13.

Dealers Elect San Angelo Man

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Hardware & Implement Association elected Porter Henderson of San Angelo president Tuesday. He succeeds Sam Seymour Jr. of Columbus. A trade show drawing 132 exhibitors was a highlight of the group's 64th annual convention.

Brownie Troop Elects Officers

The election of officers topped a week of activities for Webb AFB's Brownie Troop 422. Selected to the new posts were Katherine Ann Victor, chairman; Patsy McGill, co-chairman; Ann Heater, secretary; and Ginny Simms, treasurer.

Troop 422, sponsored by the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron, recently acquired a Troop flag. M. Sgt. Robert O'Leary, 3560th Air Base Group, made the flag staff and stand.

Last week the Brownies hiked around Webb. Before they began they were briefed on the natural surroundings by Jeanie Mix of Girl Scout Troop 299.

Other Brownies' activities included drafting a letter to Mrs. H. F. Heater, congratulating her on the completion of her citizenship test. The girls also finished ceramic pieces started the week before.

HCJC Board Election Set

Notices of election procedure have been posted by the Howard County Junior College board of trustees in the four independent school districts of the county.

Date for the election will be April 7 and applications for a place on the ballot must be filed at the college administrative offices not later than Feb. 15. Horace Garrett, president, and K. H. McGibbon, secretary, whose terms are expiring, have announced for re-election.

Boy Hanged

WACO (AP)—A swing rope tangled about the head of Ricky Breeding and hanged him as he fell from a broken tree limb in his yard Tuesday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Breeding and would have marked his fourth birthday today.

Rites Thursday For S. C. Dunn

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. in the First Methodist Church in Hamlin for Spurgeon C. Dunn, 52, who operated a used car agency here.

Mr. Dunn died at 7:45 p.m. Monday at the M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston after a long illness. He had been in ill health for six years and hospitalized for the last five weeks.

The Rev. Edmund W. Robb, pastor, will officiate at the funeral, assisted by the Rev. James Wood, Central Baptist minister in Aspermont, and the Rev. Frank Beauchamp, Shamrock Methodist minister. Burial will be in the Neinda Cemetery.

Mr. Dunn came here three years ago from Midland. He was born April 20, 1909 in Abilene and was the son of Mrs. Maggie Dunn and the late Tom Dunn. He was married Sept. 27, 1950 in Clayton, N. M., to Mary Bell Wood. Mr. Dunn was a member of the Kentwood Methodist Church.

Surviving him are his widow; a son, Charles Richards, Big Spring; two daughters, Mrs. Charles (Patsy) Currie, Abilene, and Mrs. Bennie (Joyce) Houghton, Odessa; his mother; two sisters, Mrs. Byron Maberry, Odessa, and Mrs. Rufus Fancher, Fort Worth; and six grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Raymond Hamby and Cliff Hale, Big Spring; Jackie Gaulding, Lubbock, Hollis, Malden, H. M. Marchman and Bill Dominey of Hamlin.

Propaganda Being Mailed

Communist propagandists are dispatching unsolicited material to residents of the United States from the U.S.S.R., Cuba and other places, the U.S. Post Office Department reports.

This propaganda, attempts to promote objectives of the International Communist Movement. It often appears, post office officials warn, to be innocent and unimportant.

"Communists, however, regard it as important and as a necessary means for the subversion of our nation and the free world," the Post Office Department points out. "In order to achieve the maximum impact, this propaganda often comes to unsuspecting addressees who are not associated with nor in sympathy with Communist activities."

There are no identifying labels on such material and its contents are not always easy to identify.

The post office points out that anyone receiving unsolicited mail from abroad may be receiving Communist propaganda. A postal patron, if he so desires, may mark such mail "refused" and return it to the post office.

Truman Sees Atomic 'Theft'

NEW YORK (AP) —Former President Harry S. Truman says interests which he accuses of trying to "steal" Tennessee Valley Authority power "will do best to steal the peaceful use of atomic energy from the public."

Truman did not identify the interests when he made the statement Monday night at a Democratic dinner.

He said in conclusion: "Don't let them steal it away. Don't elect any more Republicans."

Psychodrama An Effective Tool For Mental Therapy

By ANDREW MEISELS

NEW YORK (AP)—In a modest studio on Manhattan's upper West Side, a group of psychiatrists, psychologists and sociologists are reversing Shakespeare's idea that "all the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players."

Nightly, they make their little stage a world in hopes of helping the players to resolve their problems in the bigger world outside.

This therapy through make-believe is called "psychodrama." Demonstration sessions of it go on every night at 8:30 p.m. in the Moreno Institute on 78th Street a few steps east of Broadway. There, on a raised platform and with stage lighting to add to the effect, people act out a variety of problems ranging from getting along with one's boss to serious personal difficulties.

OPEN TO PUBLIC

While there are regular closed sessions for persons in intensive group therapy, the nightly demonstrations are open to the public. Most who attend are not patients. Anyone can come to watch, whether he takes part or not. The idea is that the audience represents society. Its reactions to what is happening on the stage are believed to aid in the therapy.

Psychodrama is the brainchild of Dr. Jacob L. Moreno, a psychiatrist who began using it while practicing in Vienna more than 40 years ago. He felt that orthodox psychoanalysis was limited in that the patient deals with abstractions—words, symbols, complexes, etc. In acting out his problem, Moreno found, the patient was actually living a real situation in concrete terms. The stage, for the moment, became his world.

A resident of this country since 1925, Moreno now uses psychodrama at his sanitarium in Beacon, N.Y., as well as in the institute here.

ON STAGE

A psychodrama usually begins with only one person on stage. He is the "principal protagonist" —the man or woman with the problem. As the situation develops, however, the director—a psychologist—calls others up to play various roles in the life of the main character.

So much for the theory of psychodrama. In practice, here is how it worked one night.

Director Richard Korn, a social psychologist and instructor at the City College of New York, was the director. He began with an informal discussion among a group of about 20 spectators.

A girl in the audience began talking about what kind of lives many people lead as against the kind of life they would like to lead. Korn asked the girl—a schoolteacher—to come up to the stage. He sketched three imaginary roads for her: the road representing what she should do, the road of what she must do and the road of what she would like to do.

INTO THE PLOT

The girl turned to the road she would like to be on, and Korn asked her to describe it as if it were an actual highway. She described a wooded path leading to the top of a mountain.

"Is there anyone with you?" Korn asked.

The girl said there wasn't. Korn asked if anyone else would like to go to the mountain. A young man got up from the audience and went onstage.

Korn: (to the girl) "Do you mind having him here on the mountain?"

Girl: "No, not at all."

Korn: (to the young man) "How about you?"

Young man: "Not really."

Korn: "What do you mean, 'not really'?"

Young man: "Well, after all, it's my mountain."

A SYMBOL

Suddenly, it became the young man's mountain. He said he considered the mountain a symbol of future business success. From this point on, he was the central figure.

Korn: "Is there anyone with you on this mountain?"

Young man: "Well, my family is here, but not at the top of the mountain. They're a little lower down."

Korn asked the young man's fiancee to sit on the mountain but farther down. It time other characters provided by Korn or by the young man came to various levels of the mountain—all below the protagonist.

A conflict developed. The young man's wife-to-be wanted to be at the top of the mountain with him, but he didn't want her there. "I'm the only one on top of this mountain," he exclaimed with some passion. "I built it, and I'm staying on top."

LIVING ROLES

By this time, the man and his fiancee were really living their roles. At one point, he literally pushed her from the top of his mountain.

The climax came when another character entered the picture. He was perched on another mountain and wanted to discuss business with the young man, who was then busily trying to iron out his difficulties with his wife.

Second mountain man: "Do you want to do business with me?"

Young man: "Yes, but can't you see I'm busy now?"

Second mountain man: "Are you in charge, or should I talk to the woman?"

Young man: (emphatically) "No!"

Second mountain man: "Well, you'd better talk to me, or I'll take my business elsewhere."

Young man: "All right, take your business elsewhere. I've got a family problem here, and that's more important to me."

Second mountain man: "But if I take my business elsewhere, other people will have higher mountains."

Young man: "I don't care. I want to talk to my wife."

With this, the drama ended—and drama it was, as dramatic as any stage play. Korn called it to a halt here because the central problem seemed to have been resolved. The young man had realized—at least onstage—that family was more important to him than business success.

Beats Odds

Spunky and lucky are the words to describe 19-year-old Nora Gunning who returned to her home in Columbus, Ohio, from Nashville, Tenn., where she spent four months in Vanderbilt Hospital recovering from auto crash injuries. Her injuries included 30 broken bones and doctors gave her one chance in 100 of surviving. Nora displays two souvenirs of her rocky experience—a black cat, named Vandy, and a necklace which her nurses gave her.

Maxwell Takes Sands Position

ACKERLY — M. B. Maxwell, formerly principal of the Vealmoor County Line School District, has accepted the position of principal of the Sands High School.

He accepted the post effective with the start of the spring semester.

Maxwell said on Nov. 21, the day after the Vealmoor board voted to pay off his contract as the aftermath of a consolidation election, that he would seek another school position.

Maxwell holds his bachelor of arts and his master of arts degrees from Abilene Christian College. He taught four years at Vealmoor before he went back to ACC to get his MA degree, then returned in 1957 to become principal of the school.

Since Dec. 1, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell and children have been making their home in Ackerly.

Steakley Seeks Office

AUSTIN — Judge Zollie Steakley of the Texas Supreme Court today announced his candidacy for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Place 3, in the Democratic primary.

Steakley will run to succeed himself and will be seeking his first full elective term as a member of the Supreme Court. He was named by Governor Price Daniel in January, 1961, to succeed Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert, when Calvert assumed the office of Chief Justice J. E. Hickman.

Steakley's work on the Court has drawn praise from his fellow judges and lawyers, as well as the press.

His opinions, as the newest member of the Supreme Court, have received unanimous concurrence by his associates, with the exception of a single dissent.

Steakley is a member of the executive committee of the judicial section of the State Bar of Texas. Recently he was selected to attend the appellate judges seminar, for members of State Supreme Courts and the United States Courts of Appeals, to be held in New York City during July.

Steakley engaged in the private practice of law in Sweetwater and Austin following his graduation from the Law School of the University of Texas in 1932. He served as an assistant attorney general for more than three years in the early 40's and as Secretary of State from 1957 to 1961. He is a veteran of World War II, having served in the U. S. Navy.

Jackson Heads Cotton Council

NEW ORLEANS (AP)— Texas cotton merchant Burris Jackson was elected president of the National Cotton Council as the group closed its annual meeting Tuesday.

Jackson is a resident of Hillsboro, Tex., where he has diversified business interests. He was one of the founders of the council.

The council's 1963 meeting will be held Jan. 22-29 in El Paso.

Sterling City Man Takes 2 Honors At Stock Show

FORT WORTH (AP)—Animals from Iowa, Nebraska and Texas vie for the title of grand champion steer at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show today.

Selection of the finalists shared interest Tuesday with an eight-hour Hereford auction and the judging of other livestock.

Still in the running for the coveted steer title were the 965-pound Hereford which won a junior show championship for Dan McBride, 11, of Llano and three open show champions — a Hereford named "Sheriff," entered by Father Flanagan's Boys Ranch in Nebraska; a 960-pound Shorthorn owned by Sherman Berg of Osage, Iowa, and a 1,025-pound Angus exhibited by James Mailander of Wiota, Iowa.

Entries of Orvil Kuhlmann of North Platte, Neb., won both the grand champion bull and female titles in the polled Hereford breeding class.

In open steer judging, Sherman Berg showed the champion Shorthorn and his brother Kendrick the reserve champion.

Selective buyers shelled out $124,050 for 135 bulls and heifers in a sale sponsored by the American Hereford Association of Kansas City. The top prices were $2,500 paid Hull-Dobbs Ranches of Fort Worth and Walls, Miss., by Jim Gilfoil of Tallulah, La., for a bull, HDR Real Ownard 294th, and $2,040 to Hull-Dobbs for Chris Shinkle of New York and Indiana for a heifer, HDR Royalett 066th.

Sixty-one bulls sold singly for $50,535, 61 bulls in the pen division for $26,865, seven heifer individuals for $6,410 and six heifers in pens for $3,240.

Clayton Hodges of Sterling City showed the champion Rambouillet ram and reserve champion ewe.

Ovey Taliaferro of Eden had the reserve champion ram and champion ewe.
