Busy License Sale - But 1,500 To Go

Tax Assessor-Collector Monte Hardegree, at left, kept his Courthouse office open Saturday to speed purchase of motor vehicle license plates. The pace was busy, too, but he reported 1,500 plates for cars, trucks and trailers still must be obtained before the April 1 deadline. Hospital Data Group At Work

Plans for a community-wide education program concerning the proposed Colorado City Hospital District are being mapped by a citizens group.

J. S. (Jay) Craddock Jr. is chairman of the public education committee which is a part of the original citizens committee organized to assist the city and county in meeting community hospital needs.

Craddock's committee met this last week to begin developing plans to present data to groups and individuals after enabling legislation is approved in Austin for creation of the district.

In the meeting were G. D. Foster, Mrs. George Witten, Paul B. Hunter, Mrs. Harry Dockrey, Mrs. Bruce Byrne, J. W. (Bill) Randle, Bob Reily and Hartzell C. (Steve) Stephens.

This was the first meeting of the sub-committee, but other sessions are planned to prepare information that will be presented to clubs and organizations prior to the election which will decide whether the community organizes the hospital district.

The district has been proposed as the best means for permanent ownership and operation of Root Memorial Hospital and Valley Fair Lodge as an extended care hospital.

City of Colorado City has purchased the hospital facilities planning to operate the hospital on an interim basis until the district can be organized.

Legislation providing for creation of the hospital district — including all of the county except Loraine has been introduced in the legislature in Austin and expected to be passed by favorable vote within the next few weeks.

After the legislation is voted, then local election will be scheduled here. It is during the pre-election period that Craddock's sub-committee plans to disseminate information about the hospital district and its possibilities.

Trainee

Robert Truman Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Hendrson, 1141 Oak, is in basic training at Fort Bliss, El Paso, after enlisting last month in the Army. A 1966 graduate of Colorado High, he attended San Angelo State College in fall semesester.

Investigation Continues

Lake Burglaries Cause Jury To Miss Supper

Mitchell County's current grand jury — already tagged as one of the busiest in years — is continuing with investigations.

Jury members were so busy this week they worked into the night Thursday — ordering hamburgers into the jury room for supper.

District Attorney Weldon Kirk and County Attorney Frank Ginzel said the grand jury will be back in session again this coming Wednesday.

Speculation at the Courthouse is that the grand jury may have an additional report after the Wednesday meeting.

A main area of the investigation now in progress concerns burglaries of cabins and houses at Lake Colorado City. This is definite because the jury asked the district attorney to let the public know the burglaries have been investigated and are continuing to be investigated.

However, other cases may also be included in this new phase of grand jury investigation. Two men in jail in Benjamin are suspects in Feburary burglaries at Westbrook.

This grand jury returned 13 indictments against 12 men March 9. It was then the jury asked the district attorney to report that the grand jury was investigating Lake Colorado City burglaries and would continue this investigation at its next meeting — which, incidentally, was the one which moved right on through supper last Thursday.

The Lake Colorado City breakins totaled up to more than 20 in late February and included a variety of loot — fishing equipment, shotgun, radio and beverages.

Beverages included various types, but it is known that these included beer and whiskey.

Thursday at the Courthouse approximately a dozen names were on the list appearing before the jury as the investigation continued. Most of these were youths — in the age bracket between 17 and 20. However at least one was a legal minor under 17 years and one was a girl.

County Judge Elmer Martin and Justice of Peace Leonard Henderson were required to be at the Courthouse long after the usual closing hours and into the night to instruct persons appearing before the grand jury of their rights.

Although the grand jury went home before nine o' clock, District Attorney Kirk and County Attorney Ginzel conferred until approximately 11 o'clock with several of those youths who had appeared before the grand jury.

This additional activity by the two attorneys indicated that at least some of the youths were talking enough to interest the prosecutors.

The next day, some of the youths were reported with sheriff's officers in the Lake Colorado City area.

Whatever the outcome from the grand jury, however, will not be known at least until after the meeting upcoming this Wednesday.

Durham Funeral Rites Held

Mrs. Ed Durham died Tuesday in Santa Rosa, Calif., after having been ill since Thanksgiving.

The Durham family formerly lived in Colorado City, where he was custodian of the courthouse for a number of years, before moving to the West Coast.

Funeral was conducted in Santa Rosa First Christian Church Thursday afternoon at two o'clock with burial there.

Survivors are her husband one daughter, one son, Harvey Durham who lives in Ankorage, Alaska, three grandchildren; four sisters, Mrs. L. E. Jordan, 133 West 8th St., Colorado City, Mrs. Ema LaRue, Mrs. Dora Melear, and Mrs. Hattie Schackelford, all of Austin.

City Pulls Plug To Clean Basin

City crews will have poured out a million gallons of water before you awoke this Easter.

It is a have-to job, which assures you better tasting and cleaner water in your homes.

The drain-off is for the cleaning of the settling basin at municipal water plant west of Colorado City, according to J. A. (Junior) Sadler.

Sadler said the city water department has been waiting for cool weather for the cleaning job. That's because there are fewer complications when the demand for water is not high.

The settling basin is the No. 2 step in the city's water purification process. Water is pumped out of Lake Colorado City into the plant's mixing basin where aluminum sulphate and other chemicals are applied.

From the mixing basin, the water moves into the settling basin before going into the filters.

Drainage of the million gallons of water from the settling basin began at last midnight. Actual cleaning of the basin was to begin about 4 a.m., according to Sadler.

Five workers will be busy in the project. Cleaning will be completed this morning and the basin will be refilled by late afternoon.

The cleaning prevents an accumulation of aluminum sulphate and other settlings in the basin.

What happened to the million gallons of drained-off water? Well, it went onto acreage near the water plant.

3 Lodges to Get Awards In Loraine

Three Masonic lodges in this area will be honored during a workshop Monday, April 3, in Loraine's Masonic Hall.

Honor roll awards will be presented by The Grand Lodge of Texas to Scurry Lodge 706 of Snyder, Dunn Lodge 941 and Hermleigh Lodge 987 in recognition of outstanding attendance during fall series of Masonic workshop programs.

L. T. Harris of Clyde, chairman of the eight-county Area F-2 Masonic workshop program, will present awards and conduct the workshop.

The workshop is part of a semi-annual program for the quarter-million members of nearly 1,000 Texas Masonic lodges, according to Harris.

Masons from Colorado City, Ira and Loraine lodges are invited to attend the Loraine meeting, he said.

Study Grant Awarded to D. Redwine

David H. Redwine, Loraine High graduate and now biology teacher at Forsan High School, has received grant to study biology at Southern Methodist University.

The grant from National Science Foundation will begin July 3 in the summer term.

Redwine, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Redwine of Rt. 3, Colorado City, received one of 9 grants available at SMU this year.

The grant is of the sequential type which allows Redwine to continue study, supported by the foundation, during subsequent summer terms until he obtains the masters degree in biology.

Dr. William B. Stallcup, Chairman of SMU's biology department reported that universities participating in this type institute usually receive in excess of 500 applications from science instructors in the U. S. and foreign countries.

Redwine, now in his third year as a teacher in Forsan, finished Loraine High in 1959 and was graduated from Texas A&M in 1964 with a bachelor of science degree.

Accompanying him to the Dallas area this summer for the summer institute will be Mrs. Redwine and their daughter, Andrea Lynne.

Strike Here and Westbrook

Burglars Again!

Burglars hit again Thursday night in the Colorado City area.

They broke into Frank Fuller's new Skelly Service Station and Westward Ho Restaurant taking money and cigarettes.

Farther west on Interstate 20 a break-in at Green Top Cafe provided the same loot.

Police here believe the Mitchell County burglaries were by the same person or persons who broke into a highway business at Roscoe the same night.

A metal tool was used at the Colorado City burglary in an attempt to pry open a back door. But the tool was broken and entrance was made by breaking a glass.

After the glass was broken the burglar was able to reach inside and release a lock.

A large amount of cigarettes and $75 in money from the cash register were taken at Fuller's, according to police.

At the Green Top in Westbrook a door was broken open to gain entrance to the building and a cigarette machine.

Markings at the separate burglaries were similiar, indicating the same persons were involved.

The local break-ins came just as Sheriff Lewis Claxton's staff and District Attorney Weldon Kirk were investigating burglaries at Westbrook last February 4.

Two suspects in the Feb. burglaries — at Green Top and David Anderson's Standard Service Station — have been in jail in Benjamin. The pair are being held for dozens of burglaries through out West Texas.

He had left his tractor to adjust a plow when he succumbed. Mr. Gale lived on his farm in the Longfellow Community.

Surviving are his wife of Longfellow Community; two sons, Richard Lee Gale of the home, and James M. Gale of Fort Bragg, N.C., who was in Colorado City on furlough at the time of his father's death; his mother,

Pierce Dorn, 75, Pioneer, Subcumbs

Melvin Pierce Dorn, 75, died in Methodist Hospital at Houston at 2:30 Thursday afternoon after an illness of several months.

Member of one of Mitchell County's pioneer farming families, he was born at Dorn, the community named for his father, Feb. 26, 1892. He lived on his farm at Dorn all his life and was for many decades an active member of Dorn Chapel Methodist Church, also named for his family. He served the church as treasurer for years and was a leader in renovating the landmark in recent years.

He was married here in Mitchell County Oct. 15, 1911 to the former Miss Kathryn Witt.

Funeral rites were held in the Dorn Church Saturday afternoon at 4 O'clock with Rev. Ray Copeland of Loraine and Rev. Gene B. Louder, paster of both St. Luke and Dorn Methodist chur-

VOWS SAID FRIDAY

Miss Jeannie C. Wood Married To Bobby Lewis Montgomery

Wedding of Miss Jeannie Christine Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wood of 505 Oak St., and Bobby Lewis Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Lee Montgomery, 909 East 16th St., took place Friday afternoon at two o'clock in Calvary Baptist Church.

Hearing the couple's double ring vows was the Rev. Caddo Matthews, pastor of Plainview Baptist Church as the couple stood before an altar decorated with yellow daffodils and candles. Wedding music was played by Mrs. James E. Payne.

Candles were lighted by Richard and Hunter Wistrand who also doubled as wedding ushers. Terry Breeden was best man. Lawrence Hamrick of Ft. Worth was groomsman.

CONVERSATION CORNER

Ruth Coffey's

SOMETHING went out of the life of all our town's train-lovers, Wednesday.

Without fanfare the last Texas & Pacific passenger train came and went. And passenger train service for this little C-City is no more.

It was the passing of an era. The death of something romantic. No private car, no jet plane, no bus could ever offer the excitement that trains brought to us train-lovers.

A whole life long the sound of a train has meant magic. First remembered long ride was when I was seven. The family had driven to San Antonio where Daddy lectured about the Alamo and Mother admired Breckenridge Park.

It began raining the second day and rained for a solid week. So my parents and their four little youngans traveled home by train ... the old I&GN most of the way. We ate on the train! And that was pretty wonderful in the eyes of a little girl.

FIRST time at the Dallas Fair was accomplished after a ride on the H&TC from Mexia to Dallas. The little train serving Teague, then was called the T&BV (Trinity and Brazos Valley) lovingly known as the "Tater & Bean Vine."

Went to college via train, weeping with nostalgia all the way there.

Part of the honeymoon was spent traveling by train ... in a pullman, no less. Matter of fact the bride was in a fair state of panic when she forgot the berth number and wandered between those identical curtains up and down until her slippered feet found the patent leather hat box. That honeymoon special was the Ft. Worth & Denver.

FIRST time I took the first baby home it was by train. Would you believe that it took a trunk in the baggage coach to get me and one little boy baby, his bottles and other requirements to Dallas?

My mother still laughs every time she recalls seeing me at the Union Terminal followed by three red caps lugging diaper bag and suitcases.

When we first moved to Colorado City there were four trains, two daily passengers and two at night coming through and hooting right in the middle of Baptist Church services.

It gave one a very secure feeling to know that if the morning train was missed, the afternoon train would be along before too long headed for Dallas.

LAST long train trip was in 1961 when I rode from Tulsa to Chicago via Santa Fe (a lovely experience) and then took the Canadian International into Midland, Michigan.

Sat in the observation car all around and across the Mississippi.

Never had a happier day in this world.

Came home by jet plane and didn't see a single thing except clouds and harrassed business men hurrying across the sky.

An! Something very fine died when they took the train away from us train-lovers. Like the old prairie schooner and the stage coach it's gone. And I, for one, mourn because it's gone. It is the end of an era.

HEAR TELL that our Lois Prude Bennett fell on her newly waxed kitchen floor and fractured her leg, Tuesday.

She is now in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock, room 407 and doing well. Her friend Ruth Fortune went with her for the first day.

Hear, too, that Walter Hearing, son of Virginia Whipkey Neff (Mrs. Rush) will be reassigned by the Air Force to Korea when he finishes his visit here.

SEEN LATELYS were Judy Carter, cute little June bride-to-be, here for the Easter holidays with her parents Doris and Bill F. Carter ... Mrs. Adolph Wood headed homeward at the end of her work day ... Betty Tomb (Mrs. Dwight) on the downtown scene ... Dick Wistrand in the bank.

Spied Weems Dyke and his daughter Susan Jane at the postoffice ... Terry Keel (Mrs. Tex) too ... Juanice Bruce and Mary Post Hart (Mrs. Bruce) were a lunch-out duet.

Saw Peggy Ratliff (Mrs. Bob) in her husband's office ... Ditto Frances Chesney (Mrs. Gus) and Frances Myers (Mrs. Clem).

THE PETE WARRENS are on cloud nine. They have a little granddaughter, Jodie, born to their second daughter Charlotte and her husband Hunter Mann, Tuesday night.

The baby is third grandchild for Pete and Virginia. Their first daughter Carolyn Creager (Mrs. Jerry) and her husband have a son, Kelly Don, and a little girl named Connie Kay. They live in Pecos.

The Creagers are spending Easter holidays here ... So is the Warren son Skipper, student in Texas Tech at Lubbock.

FAMILIAR FACES, here and there places, belonged to Mrs. J. D. Gibson ... Janice Miller, the HD agent ... Max Berman was an office visitor ... So was Rheta Biggs Sanders, wife of Dave ... W. B. Crockett Jr. and Lewis Elliott were out at the Villa together at noon.

Mrs. R. J. Wood, was an office dropin ... So was Don Laing, pastor of Calvary Baptist ... and Bob Reily.

Did you know that Martin Weaver is administrator for Root Valley Fair Lodge, succeeding Harold Watson who moved away. Charles Root is again active administrator of Root Memorial Hospital.

Sunday Rites For Victim Of Wreck

Funeral service will be conducted here today (Sunday) for Elmer G. Rogers Jr. 48, former Colorado City resident killed in a truck wreck Friday near Christoval.

Rogers, an oil firm employe who lived at 3100 Sherry Lane in Abilene, was the son of Elmer G. Rogers of Colorado City and husband of the former Oleta Dockery, also formery of Colorado City.

Funeral will be at 4 p.m. in North Side Church of Christ with the minister, W. O. Patton, officiating. Interment will be in Colorado City Cemetery.

Rogers, who moved with his family from Colorado City several years ago, was killed when his truck-tractor trailer jackknifed, hit a tree and exploded after a wild turkey flew into the wind shield of the truck on the driver's side.

Highway patrol stated that Rogers apparently applied brakes and the truck jackknifed, hit a tree, then overturned and exploded.

Scene of the fatal mishap was 5 mile south of Christoval on U.S. 277 at 2:20 p. m.

While the Rogers family lived in Colorado City before their move, Mrs. Rogers was an employe at G. D. Foster Insurance.

Rogers was born Feb. 19, 1919 in Iowa Park. He and Dockery were married Dec. 20, 1940 in San Antonio, returning to Colorado City after World War 2 to make their home. He was a member of Church of Christ.

Survivors include the wife two sons — Michael V. Rogers of Cameron and Kenny Ross Rogers of the Abilene address; the father; three brothers — Nathan Rigers, of Colorado City, Vern R. Rogers of New York, N.Y., and Bruce L. Rogers of Houston; a sister, Mrs. Sally Ball of San Antonio.
