'I NEVER SAW SO MANY HAPPY KIDS IN MY LIFE'

Orphans Arrive In America

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Their eyes wide with wonder and showing no ill effects from a 25-hour dash across the Pacific from endangered Saigon, 55 Vietnamese orphans played several hours before they were tucked away for their first night's sleep in their adoptive country.

GIANT PLAYGROUND

The orphans were given sponge baths, quick medical checkups, toys, and a snack of bananas, apples, rice and soy sauce when they arrived at the San Francisco Presidio, an Army facility near the Golden Gate Bridge.

"It was like a giant playground," Sgt. Ronald Renouf at the Presidio said. "I never saw so many happy kids in my life. Many were looking at and playing with toys they didn't even know existed. It was like out of a dream for them."

Renouf said the children were given "everything from rubber balls to tricycles."

A World Airways DC8 carrying the orphans touched down at Oakland International Airport at about 10:50 p.m. Wednesday. They were bundled aboard five buses and taken across San Francisco Bay to the Presidio.

A Presidio spokesman said the children probably would be there about 48 hours until they are picked up by their new parents. Most of them, including some fathered by American servicemen, have already been adopted.

LONG HOP

One of them, a pretty 11-year-old named Wendy Carol, will be the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Norberg of Los Angeles.

Also aboard the jet were a half-dozen Vietnamese adults who scrambled aboard the plane at the last moment without papers.

Two of the orphans were left at the U.S. Air Force base at Yokota, Japan, on the advice of one of the two doctors on board the plane, Gene Hilderbrand of the Seventh Day Adventist Hospital in Saigon.

"They were malnourished and dehydrated and I didn't want to risk them on the long hop across the Pacific to the States," Hilderbrand said. "We'll leave them in Japan a couple of days."

The youngsters brought on to Oakland are the first real refugees of the Vietnam war to arrive in the United States, and U.S. Immigration officials gave all of them 90-day parole visas. The few children not already adopted were given indefinite parole visas.

The plane's captain was Ken Healy of San Leandro, Calif., who flew refugees in collapsing cities in mainland China in the late 1940's and who says Vietnam today is worse.

Also aboard was an American contractor who heard the plane was leaving, packed and got aboard in only 15 minutes. He said he was convinced Saigon soon would fall into Communist hands.

DON'T CARE

World Airways also expected some problems from the Federal Aviation Administration because it broke a lot of federal regulations in carrying the orphans on a seatless cargo jet. Children and adult attendants sat on the floor for the 25-hour journey and it looked like the hold of a ship.

Healy said, "I don't care if I lose my license. It would be a cheap price to pay to bring these kids from danger to their American families."

Healy flew the last refugee flight out of Da Nang last Saturday, ignoring U.S. officials who warned him not to land there. His Boeing 727 was damaged during that rescue when South Vietnamese soldiers, angry because they couldn't get aboard, fired on the plane as it took off. But he managed to make it to Saigon. The plane also was hit by North Vietnamese fire.

Mary Fisher of Loma Linda, Calif., who was bringing back six of the orphans to their waiting adopted parents, told a Federal Aviation Administration official who inspected the plane at its first stop in Japan, "This is the most comfortable and friendly journey I have ever been on."

After the plane landed here, the youngsters were bundled aboard five buses and taken across San Francisco Bay to the Presidio.

Wholesale Prices Decline In March

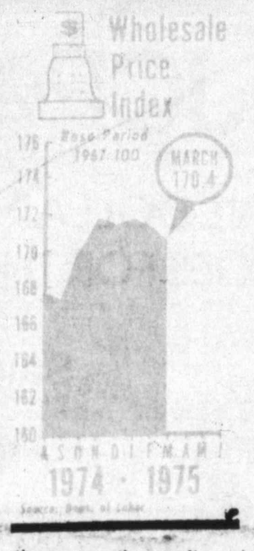

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices declined in March for the fourth consecutive month, dropping six-tenths of a percent as agricultural prices fell sharply while industrial goods rose only slightly, the government reported today.

The report from the Labor Department provided further indication of an easing in the nation's inflationary rate. Although the declines at wholesale have not been fully reflected at the retail level, administration economists predict consumers can expect further relief in the coming months.

The six-tenths of a per cent decline in wholesale prices last month followed a drop of eight-tenths in February and marked the first time since late 1963 that wholesale prices had fallen four months in a row. They were down five-tenths in December and three-tenths in January. In 1963, they fell a total of seven-tenths in January through April.

Prices of farm products, processed foods and feed declined 2.5 per cent last month. This also marked the fourth drop in a row in that category. Industrial goods rose two-tenths of a per cent in March, less than half the five-tenths of a per cent increase in each of the previous two months and the smallest rise since December when those prices did not increase at all.

Consumer prices in the three months ending in February have risen at an adjusted annual rate of 8.1 per cent, compared to an increase of 13 per cent during the previous three month period.

Wholesale prices in the first quarter of 1975 have now declined at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 6.7 per cent.

This contrasts with increases of 35.2 and 13.4 per cent in the third and fourth quarters of 1974, respectively.

Ford administration officials predict that inflation will taper off to a rate of about 6 or 7 per cent this year, down from the 12.2 per cent rate in 1974. The declining inflation rate has been due in part to the recession, which has sharply curbed consumer demand.

Declines at wholesale generally result in a falling or easing of consumer prices, but are not always fully passed on at retail as wholesalers and other middlemen try to maintain or widen their profit margins.

The Wholesale Price Index in March was 170.4, meaning that a statistical sample of goods which cost $100 in 1967 now cost $170.40.

Despite four straight months of decline, wholesale prices in March still were 12.5 per cent higher than a year earlier. Industrial goods were up 18.6 per cent over the 12 months; farm products were down 13.1 per cent, while processed foods and feeds were up 8.8 per cent.

In separate reports, the Labor Department also said that more than 6.5 million Americans received unemployment insurance benefits in the week ending March 15, an increase of 3,400 over the previous week. In addition 538,900 new claims were filed in the week ending March 22, an increase of 1,600 over the previous week.

The government also said that the factory layoff rate, at 35 per 1,000 workers, was unchanged in February.

Kurdish Rebels Give Up

HALABCHA, Iraq (AP) — Kurdish defectors guided Iraqi columns through their minefields as the Baghad government's troops took control of the last rebel enclaves adjoining Iran.

Field commanders said Wednesday the Iraqi army would withdraw in about two weeks when the Kurdish Autonomous Council establishes its civilian administration in the mountain towns and villages.

The fate of Mullah Mustafa Barzani, the leader of the Kurdish rebellion, remained a mystery. Iraqi officers said he had fled to Iran and that they had captured Haj Omran, his headquarters near the Iranian border.

It appeared that Barzani's 13-year-old war for autonomy had crumbled without a shot. Most of his Pesh Merga guerrillas were either exiles in Iran or had surrendered to Iraqi authorities during the three-week amnesty period that expired Monday night.

A new Iranian-Iraqi border pact March 6 ended Iran's support for the rebels and with it Kurdish dreams of an independent homeland.

Iraq committed more than 100,000 troops and an equal number of irregulars to what was touted as a final offensive, but tanks and armored cars moved unopposed without air support.

"There is no need for planes. There is no resistance," a British-trained colonel told newsmen on the front.

"Not a shot has been fired. Not one drop of blood has been shed. My mission to seize the borders was completely successful."

The colonel claimed his troops were given a warm welcome in Kurdish towns and villages vacated by the Pesh Merga. But the residents of this small community eight miles from the Iranian border displayed more indifference than enthusiasm.

It was not known how many of Iraq's 2 million Kurds had chosen exile in Iran rather than submit to Baghdad's rule. Diplomats estimated that 90,000 Kurds surrendered before the amnesty deadline.

VIETNAMESE BABY REFUGEE — Nurses Myrna Fisher, left, and cousin Mary Fisher hold six of 55 Vietnamese orphans who were flown into Oakland late Wednesday night. They are shown with the orphans at the home of Myrna Fisher's sister in Sacramento. Two of the babies will stay in Sacramento and the other four will be taken to the Los Angeles area.

Shoot-To-Kill Orders Aimed At Demonstrators

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Military officials today issued shoot-to-kill orders to prevent protests and disturbances in Saigon as up to 50,000 Communist-led forces massed 40 to 50 miles to the northwest and northeast of the capital. Saigon's 10 p.m.-5 a.m. curfew was extended to 9 p.m.-6 a.m.

Despite the orders, the Roman Catholic archbishop of Saigon, Nguyen Van Binh, called for the resignation of President Nguyen Van Thieu, joining growing demands that Thieu step down in the wake of battlefield losses that have cost South Vietnam three-quarters of its territory. Police broke up a demonstration of about 200 people demanding Thieu's resignation, but no shots were fired.

Opposition to Thieu is growing daily in Saigon, and law and order is threatened by armed military stragglers from the central and northern provinces who are slipping into the city without reporting to the army.

As a result, the local military commander today forbade mass assemblies, demonstrations and the carrying of weapons without a permit. "Local authorities have orders to shoot and kill on the spot those violators who try to resist or flee," a communique said.

No movement of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops toward the capital was immediately detected, but since Communist-led forces control many of the roads around Saigon, an assault on it could be mounted quickly once the Communist command decided to move.

The South Vietnamese army, which lost half of its 13 divisions in the debacle that cost it the northern and central parts of the country, concentrated forces in Tay Ninh Province to the northwest of Saigon and in Long Khanh Province to the northeast.

The government has about 50,000 men in the Saigon area, including three divisions and militia forces, and three more divisions southwest of the capital in the Mekong Delta.

There is fear that if North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces move to attack Saigon, panic will break out as it did in other fallen cities, where deserting soldiers trampled over refugees to flee. In some cases it was more panic and fear that lost the cities than a major attack.

Gen. Frederick Weyand, U.S. Army chief of staff, met again with Thieu and prepared to return Saturday to the United States to report to President Ford on his one-week fact-finding mission. No details were given.

The Viet Cong renewed its offer of peace negotiations if Saigon got rid of Thieu and formed a new government.

The World At-A-Glance

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Speaking of serious and dramatic setbacks in Southeast Asia, President Ford said today that despite events in Vietnam, "no allies or time-tested friends of the United States should worry or fear that our commitments to them will not be honored."

In an address prepared for a White House-sponsored conference here on energy and the economy, Ford said, "The current confusion and changing situation in Southeast Asia" should not undermine the faith of allies in the United States.

"We stand ready to defend ourselves and support our allies as surely as we always have," the President said.

In these "sad and troubled times," he said, "what is essential now is that we keep our nerve and our essential unity as a powerful but peace-loving nation."

Ford said he "would not be frank and honest with you if I were to ignore the serious setbacks we have suffered in recent weeks in our quest for peace in the Middle East and, more recently and more dramatically, in Southeast Asia."

The comment was his first publicly on the deteriorating South Vietnam situation since the Asian country began losing large land masses in the last two weeks.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has had a new ethical code drawn up for all White House employes and they have been asked to attend 90-minute briefing sessions to assure they understand it. The eight-page code spells out ethical concepts and legal restrictions in such areas as conflicts of interests, acceptance of gifts, political activities and contact with regulatory agencies.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ford administration decisions on the amount of additional military aid to South Vietnam probably will depend on how effectively the Saigon government establishes a new defense perimeter. Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger said, "Any question of the putting in of additional equipment into Vietnam would be based upon what we perceive to be the present needs of the situation, reflecting the possibility of a stabilizing of a defense perimeter north of Saigon."

●

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Army Corps of Engineers is hustling Mississippi River trappers and fishermen to higher ground as it prepares to meet river crests higher than 1973 flood levels. The crest is moving rapidly down the river toward New Orleans. Unless the corps opens one of its spillways to divert some of the water, the Mississippi will crest at 19.3 feet April 19, well above the 18.6 high water mark recorded in 1973 after the spillways were opened.

NEW YORK (AP) — The recession has come to roost in that last reflection of American society: the garbage dump. Cities across the country, contending in recent years with increasing mountains of trash, have suddenly found the amount of garbage they must collect is decreasing, and some officials blame the recession. "People are wasting less because they have less," was New York Environmental Protection Administor Robert Low's explanation.

WHITE HOUSE TAPE PLAYED

Connally Pushed Nixon To Raise Milk Supports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prosecutors in the John Connally bribery trial played White House tape today showing the former treasury secretary pushed hard to get President Nixon to raise milk price supports in 1971.

Connally is accused of illegally taking two gifts of $5,000 apiece from a big dairy cooperative, Associated Milk Producers Inc., in return for his help in getting milk prices increased.

LOOKING TO 1972

Connally's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, told the jury Wednesday that the government's star witness, Jake Jacobsen, is a liar and a thief who actually embezzled the $10,000 for himself and then falsely accused Connally of taking it.

The tape played by the prosecution today was released in transcript by the House Judiciary Committee last year during its impeachment inquiry. It records the voices of President Nixon, Connally and six other presidential advisers at an Oval Office meeting the afternoon of March 23, 1971, when Nixon decided to raise price supports for the coming year.

Connally dominated the early part of the meeting, telling Nixon he should overrule the Agriculture Department, which had announced that milk prices would be frozen. Connally said politics and pressure from Congress dictated a price hike.

"I'm not trying to talk about it or discuss at any great length the economics of it, but as far as politics is concerned — looking to 1972, it appears very clear to me that you're going to have to move strong in the Midwest," the tape shows Connally told the President.

"These dairymen are organized; they're adamant; they're militant," Connally said. "And they, they're amassing an enormous amount of money that they're going to put into political activities very frankly."

Not So Cold

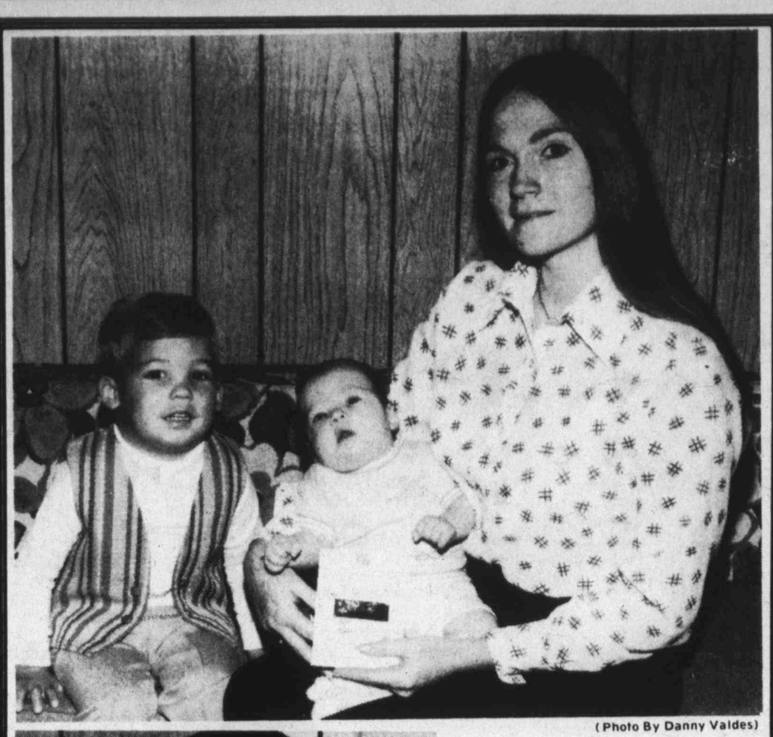

Not so cold and partly cloudy Friday. High today and Friday in the 70s. Low tonight, upper 30s. Southerly wind 10-20 miles per hour this afternoon becoming 5-10 m.p.h. tonight.

Connally urged Nixon to raise milk prices for 1971 and to get the dairymen not to press for any new increase in 1972. He told Nixon that his Democratic friends in Congress were about to pass a law that would raise milk prices anyway, and that the President could not risk vetoing it for fear of losing farm votes.

Assistan Special Prosecutor Jon Sale said he would show the jury a trail of bank records, hotel receipts, a chartered plane log and official appointment calendars that will prove Jacobsen is now telling the truth and that he was lying when he swore repeatedly in 1973 and 1974 that Connally took no money.

Jacobsen represented Associated Milk Producers, Inc. It is the nation's largest dairy co-op.

Green Thumb Garden Club Hears Review

Green Thumb Garden Club members and guests heard a program by Mrs. Clyde Angel, and elected officers Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Morris Patterson. Mrs. R.T. Piner and Mrs. R.P. Patterson were cohostesses.

Officers elected were Mrs. J.M. Woodall, president; Mrs. Dewey Ray, vice president; Mrs. Arch D. Carson, secretary-reporter; Mrs. Merle Stewart, treasurer; and Mrs. G.R. Robinson, parliamentarian.

Members were urged to support a request to enforce the anti-litter ordinance which will be presented to the Big Spring City Council at 9 a.m., Tuesday.

It was reported that 40 trees have been planted in Cottonwood Park, and more flowering shrubs are needed.

"The Secret Life of Plants" by Peter Tompkins and Christopher Bird, was reviewed by Mrs. Angel.

"It is a provocative, amazing and fascinating book; a book to be read for your personal enjoyment, your own personal opinion," said the speaker, "to some statements you agree — others are far out!", she added.

Mrs. Angel told of the writers' beliefs that plants have ESP, they can read one's mind, they have ability to sense criminal agitation and react to outer space.

The book also records the work with plants of such naturalists as Luther Burbank and George Washington Carver who believed plants responded to kindness and love. It was also noted that flowers respond to various types of music.

The book concludes by stressing the importance of using natural composts in feeding the soil from which food comes. The authors recommend natural foods with no organic additives.

The next meeting will be a salad luncheon at the home of Mrs. H.W. Smith.

'Sulfa Denial' May Be Answer To Older Brides

DEAR ABBY: My attention has been called to a recent inquiry in your column by a newly remarried lady in her 80s who wanted to know what the chances of her becoming pregnant were at this time in her life. Your answer, that the probability of conception was very remote, no doubt will ease her mind.

However, there are several cases in the medical records worthy of mention. One was reported by Ripley in BELIEVE IT OR NOT some time in 1945: "An American Indian woman, age 99, married a man, age 37. One year later, she gave birth to a son. She died at the age of 119, leaving a 19-year-old son and a 56-year-old husband."

The second case involved a woman reported to have been 65 years old who married a man about 80. A child was born to this couple.

It was reported in several leading American newspapers.

These are rare cases, but they did happen. All women should be made aware that where there is life, there is hope.

MASSACHUSETTS M.D.

DEAR M.D.: If one is to take these "reports" seriously, then the only contraceptive that is 100 percent reliable is "sulfa denial."

DEAR ABBY: Fifteen years ago, my father died. (Mother had died before him.) While he didn't leave a great fortune, everything of value was divided evenly among my two brothers, my sister and myself. The only thing we couldn't decide on was what to do with Dad's rare coin collection.

As time was limited for us all to be together (we live in different states) my oldest brother said, "If it's alright with the rest of you, I'll keep the coin collection until we reach a decision as to what should be done with it." The rest of us agreed, and nothing more was said or done about it.

Now, years later, my sister told me that she had once brought up the subject of the coin collection to the brother who had it, hinting that she would like to see it again, but he didn't offer to show it to her. We've always been on good terms with each other, but no one wanted to risk hurt feelings by bringing up the matter.

Now the brother who has the collection has a terminal illness. He has only one child — and he is adopted. Have we waited too long in this matter to do anything? What do you advise? The coin collection is worth several thousand dollars, but of course a good family relationship is priceless. What is your advice?

IN A QUANDRY

DEAR IN: Much depends upon your brother's condition. If he is at death's door, of course the matter of the coin collection should not be brought up. But if he's reasonably well, you might suggest either dividing the coins among the four of you, or having them evaluated, and then if one wanted to buy them all, he could pay the others for their share. (P.S. Some wise person once said, "You never really know a person until you have to share an inheritance with him."

Bell Argues Order Against Wiretaps Is Unwarranted

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Lawyers for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. say "exceedingly great harm has been done" through issuance of an injunction prohibiting them from tapping telephones and destroying certain records.

Hubert Green told the fourth court of civil appeals here Wednesday that Dist. Court Judge Peter Michael Curry had no basis for giving the order last Feburary.

Curry granted the temporary injunction on a request by plaintiffs in a $29.2 million damage suit against Bell and American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

DENIALS

Ousted Bell executive James H. Ashley and the family of T. O. Gravitt, plaintiffs in the suit, said that Bell in the past has destroyed records which could affect lawsuits.

They also claimed that Bell has wiretapped them.

Bell denied both allegations and told the appeals justices Wednesday that no evidence of such actions had been presented during the day-long hearing which resulted in the injunction.

"We jealously guard the right of privacy of communication," Green said.

But he told the appeals court that the injunction "certainly leaves an inference of guilt."

In granting the injunction, Curry had specified that his order did not reflect any guilt on the part of Bell concerning the allegations.

Green told appeals justices Charles W. Barrow and Carlos C. Cardena that the injunction itself was void because it failed to specity grounds.

Plaintiffs lawyer Pat Maloney told the justices that such specifics were unnecessary because of a public interest exception in the rules of procedure.

WONDERFULLY BROAD

However, Green said the suit was private litigation and that the public interest exception should not apply.

Maloney praised Curry's injunction as "wonderfully broad."

Justice Cardena said, "Sometimes wonderfully broad is unconstitutionally broad."

The appeals court gave Maloney until Friday to respond to a Bell motion to disallow an affidavit by Maloney's partner to be considered. So it would be at least next week before a decision could be reached.

Side issues in the suit include claims that bBell has engaged in illegal political activities, has been deceitful in its rate-setting methods and has used various financial irregularities to cover up what Maloney calls "corporate rapacities."

TI To Resume Flight Service

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas International Airlines, scheduled to resume flight service Friday after a four-month strike, announced today it has indefinitely suspended flight service to Dallas Love Field.

A TI spokesman said the decision was based on the financial impact of the strike and anticipated strike recovery expenses and the fact that there are a number of legal actions pending concerning the legality of Love Field's remaining open to commercial flights.

Flights are scheduled to resume at all but five airports served by TI prior to the lengthy strike. Other suspended service will be at Salt Lake City, Utah, Vera Cruz, Tampico, and Monterrey, Mexico.

Texas International officials also said they had been assured the union leadership expected no problems in ratifying the contract by midnight tonight.

An airline spokesman said within one week the airline will be operating at 80 per cent of its pre-strike capacity and whether or not it regains 100 per cent will depend on its ability to recover passenger business lost during the strike.

The airline is cutting back its pre-strike employe rolls from 2,400 to 2,000.

Storm Closing Roads, Airports

By the Associated Press

An April snowstorm dumped six to 11 inches of snow across the upper Midwest, while at the other end of the Mississippi Valley residents girded for massive flooding which could surpass that of 1973.

Winds howled at more than 35 miles an hour in some areas of Illinois and Wisconsin on Wedneday, making road clearing work virtually useless.

Roads and airports were closed throughout northern Indiana and Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan, leaving hundreds of travelers stranded.

In Chicago, at least seven weather-related deaths were reported — two from traffic accidents on icy highways. The other victims suffered heart attacks while shoveling snow or struggling through drifts.

Chicago reported 11 inches of snowfall, Grand Rapids, Mich., 8 and Milwaukee, Wis., 5.

The Mississippi River crest is moving rapidly toward New Orleans and water levels there could reach 19.3 feet April 19, well above the 18.6 high water mark recorded in 1973, when flood losses reached $1 billion.

Some six million acres of land, from Southern Illinois down to the river's mouth, are already under water.

The storm system creating snow in the upper Midwest caused thundershowers in the Appalachians and eastern Ohio Valley. Rain also fell from the Carolinas to the central and eastern Gulf coast.

Several tornadoes developed with the thundershowers. One caused minor damage to Benton Central High School near Lafayette, Ind.

Montgomery, Ala., received two and one-third inches of rain.

Skies were mostly clear from the plains to Southern California, but temperatures were chilly. Below zero readings were recorded across the northern plains, while sub-freezing temperatures reached into Arkansas, Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

Shortly before midnight Wednesday, a record low for April 2 of 9 degrees was set at Sioux City, Iowa. A reading of 19 at Kansas City also was a record.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 78 at Key West, Fla., to 3 below zero at Minot Air Force Base, N.D.

Briscoe Urges Safer Driving

AUSTIN — April 6-12 has been designated as Defensive Driving Week, announced the Texas Safety Association, and in the proclamation by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, individual drivers are urged to help make Texas a safer place to live and drive.

In proclaiming the special week for Texas to coincide with National Defensive Driving Week, Gov. Briscoe asked drivers for "maximum participation in driver improvement training."

"Traffic accidents take a terrible toll in human life, injury and property damage throughout Texas, resulting in over 3,000 lives and over 120,000 injuries this past year," said the Governor's proclamation.

Defensive Driving Week was originated by the National Safety Council in 1972 to call drivers' attention to the magnitude of the traffic accident problem and to induce motorists to help solve the problem by improving their own driving. NSC's defensive driving course has helped drivers better their performance behind the wheel, according to the Texas Safety Associaiton.

Standard Starts FBI Course This Weekend

Sheriff A.N. Standard will start classes at the Federal Bureau of Investigation Academy at Quantico, Va., April 6.

Standard hopes to "reinforce my knowledge of law enforcement" and "bring something back which might further enhance the department."

"I have no intention of moving or transferring to any other department," Standard explained.

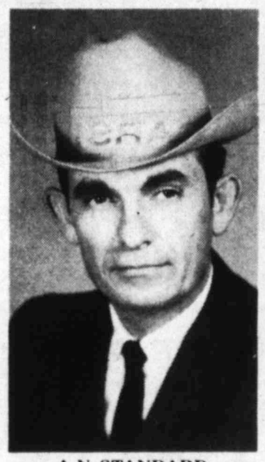

He will be undergoing the same training given prospective FBI agents.

Standard will be studying subjects ranging from fingerprinting, criminal identification, accounting, management and speech. Physical training and firearm practice are included in the program.

Some of the instruction is offered through the University of Virginia.

While the sheriff is away, Bill Whitton, chief deputy sheriff, will be the sheriff's office spokesman, Standard said.

The Texas Ranger, Police and district attorney's office have promised to cooperate, Standard said. County Commissioners Court approved Standard's request he be allowed to attend the school.

A.N. STANDARD

Singing Group Wows The Lions

The "Nuts and Bolts," a singing group from First United Methodist Church, knocked 'em out at the Downtown Lions Club Wednesday noon at the Settles.

Under the direction of Charles Parham, the colorfully costumed singers reeled off a continual parade of old-time melody, at times drawing Lions into the singsong. Women with their blue or red skirts, white blouses and red, white and blue neckerchiefs were complemented by the men in their white shirts, red, white and blue ties to lend a bicentennial flavor.

Joe Horton reminded Lions that dates for the annual light bulb sale will be April 21-22-23.

Salesman Sues For Alimony

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP)—An elderly salesman figures it will cost him at least $12,000 a year to maintain the lifestyle to which he became accustomed after marrying his wealthy wife in 1964.

In a superior court divorce action here, Clayton Dalton, 64, is asking $1,000 monthly in alimony from his wife, Ellaine W. Moseley Dalton.

The two were married in Gainesville, Tex., the court action said, and Mrs. Dalton has extensive property holdings in that state, including a medieval castle.

Welfare Frauds

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — State Department of Public Welfare Department investigators have caught 889 persons trying to obtain welfare benefits fraudently the last four months.

State Public Welfare Commissioner Raymond Vowell made the report Tuesday at the same time he said 24 Austin area residents had been indicted by the Travis County grand jury.

The indictments accused 21 persons of falsely obtaining Aid to Dependent Children (AFDC) fund and three with wrongly taking part in the Food Stamp program.

The department said the total amount of fraud was $34,846 with individual amounts ranging from $486 to $3,086.

Vowell said the indictments were based on evidence obtained by the investigation division of the department.

Vowell said a total of 889 fraud cases over the state have been turned over to local authorities for prosecution since the investigation unit began its work last November. Another 300 more cases are pending, he said.

Vowell said Harris County has a total of 245 cases involving $94,500, Dallas County with 185 cases for $57,000, Bexar 135 cases, Tarrant 70, Travis 58, and Nueces 55.

Vowell said other counties where fraud attempts have been made include the counties of Potter, Deaf Smith, Collingsworth, Wichita, Grayson, Denton, Smith, Gregg, Angelina, Matagorda, Taylor, Ector, Webb and Hidalgo.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — Two members of the Pawtucket Red Sox were injured in separate accidents Wednesday during an exhibition game with Iowa of the American Association.

Catcher Ernie Whitt, recently farmed to Pawtucket by the Boston Red Sox, suffered a left shoulder separation in a home plate collision. He will fly to Boston for surgery.

Dan Godby, a 28-year-old outfielder recently acquired in a deal which sent Danny Cater to the St. Louis Cardinals, suffered a possible fractured elbow when hit by a pitch thrown by Mike Nagy, once a Red Sox prospect.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo, N.Y., area has been granted a North American Hockey League franchise for the 1975-76 season, Commissioner Bob Dextrase announced Wednesday.

The franchise was awarded to two doctors, Dudley Turecki and Syde Taheri, and Dextrase said the team hopes to play in a new 6,500-seat arena presently under construction in the Buffalo suburb of North Tonawanda.

The addition gives the NAHL nine teams. Dextrase said the league "may be adding a 10th member in the very near future."

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — An 11-year-old boy died Wednesday after he collapsed while waiting to get autographs outside the Cincinnati Reds' clubhouse at spring training camp.

Reds' catcher Johnny Bench, who had just left the clubhouse after a game with the Montreal Expos, summoned help for Michael Henry of Deltona, Fla. As the Montreal Expos physician, Dr. A.D. Monaco, treated the boy, Bench comforted the child's mother, Eleanor Henry.

The boy died a few minutes later at a local hospital, where a spokesman said a history of heart trouble probably contributed to the death.

PERMIAN, SAN ANGELO DEADLOCKED

District Golf Stops In BS

The Big Spring Country Club will serve as the third stop on the 5-4A golf tour Friday. Tee-off is set for 9 a.m.

Rain forced the postponement of scheduled district round play last Friday in Abilene. Three more rounds are listed before S-4A action subsides.

Both San Angelo and Permian are tied for the lead with identical 618 scores. Midland Lee is third, carding a 639 total.

Randy Waterhouse of San Angelo has commanded the medalist chase from the start. He owns a 147 two-round total. Permians Vince Vines trails Waterhouse with a 150 score.

Lee's Chris Brown, who was just one-stroke off the medalist lead after the initial round, dropped to fifth two weeks ago. He is tied with Bill Dodd of San Angelo for fifth at 154.

Permian's Hilton Chancellor and Len Feemster share third with 153 each.

Big Spring's No. 2 and No.1 clubs are ranked 13th and 16th respectively in 5-4A.

The standings: San Angelo, No. 1; Permian, No. 1; tied, 618; Lee No. 1, 639; San Angelo, No. 2, 649; Midland No. 1., 650; Cooper No. 3. 663; Abeline No. 1, 665; Permian No. 2., 672; Odessa No. 1, 674; Abilene No. 2, 695; Lee No. 3, 701; Cooper No. 2, 704; Big Spring No. 2, 705; Odessa No. 2, 706; Midland No. 2, 715; and Big Spring No. 1, 723.

Tennis Squad On Road Trip

Twelve players from Big Spring High coached by Novice Knifien will be serving it up in the Wichita Falls Tournament, Friday and Saturday.

Action begins at 8 a.m. on both days. Forty teams are entered.

Following this meet, Big Spring heads for the district event, April 11-12, at Midland.

Two boys doubles teams are listed in Big Spring. The A squad is composed of Stephen Arnold and Bruce Christich. Hugh Porter and Ron Mercer and David Stull and Andre Couvillion make-up the B delegation.

Vicky Murphy and Debbie Watson are listed among singles girls contestants. Linda Little and Dori Crooker will be vying for honors in the A girls doubles bracket.

In the B classification, Carolyn McKee and Terri Gilliand's names have been submitted.

Coaches Resign

ODESSA — Odessa Permian head basketball coach Ron Mayberry and Odessa High football assistant Mike Sullivan have both resigned to accept positions on the Borger High School staff being assembled by head coach Jim Breckenridge, a former Permian aide.

Mayberry will concentrate on football rather than basketball at Borger. Sullivan will become head baseball coach and serve as an assistant in football at Borger.

Mayberry will be earning $13,350 annually on his new job. His pay was to have been boosted to $13,600 next year at Permian. Sullivan will make $11,700 annually at Borger, or $200 less than he was making at Odessa High.

Ali To Defend Crown In May

NEW YORK (AP) — Muhammad Ali will defend the heavyweight championship against Ron Lyle in May, The Associated Press learned today.

A reliable source said the fight was set for May 16 but that no site had been selected. One of the sites being mentioned is Las Vegas, Nev.

Ali just defended the title March 24 by stopping Chuck Wepner in the 15th round at Cleveland.

Lyle was supposed to fight Ali in Madison Square Garden in New York March 24 but that fight fell through. Lyle then lost a chance of a June title shot by dropping a 10-round decision to unheralded Jimmy Young in Hawaii.

Steers Bound For SA Relays

Rod Carter, Big Spring track coach, will divide his team come post time this week.

Ricky McCormick, Steers' Distance ace, is entered in the schoolboy open mile classic at the Texas Relays, Austin, Friday night at 9.

Remainder of the Steer delegation (28), will attend the San Angelo Relays, Friday and Saturday. Events are set from 1 to 6 p.m., the first day, and from 1 to 5:30 p.m., the second go-round.

Thirteen squads will match times and distances with Big Spring in Division I competition. The entire Steer squad rested from the track scene last week.

Ricky has established himself as a top flight miler. He finished ahead of the field in three meets, Andrews, West Texas Relays at Odessa and Canyon Reef Relays, Snyder.

Ricky ran the four-laps in Snyder two weeks ago in 4:23.9, snapping a 10-year-old record of 4:29.4 set in 1965 by Pampa's Westbrook.

The best mile effort for Ricky is 4:23.3 recorded in Andrews. He will be competing against some of the outstanding state runners in Austin.

In the weekly ratings regarding West Texas area high school track, McCormick holds the fastest time set in Andrews.

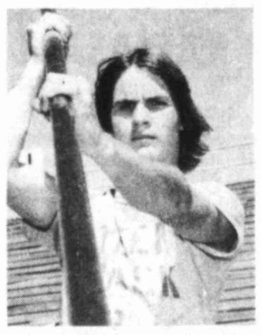

The Big Spring 440 relay foursome composed of John Finley, Bobby Huff, Danny Ferrell and Andre Hurrington are ranked No. 18 with a 44.4 time. They took fourth in Snyder.

Rangers Head For Houston

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Manager Billy Martin and his Texas Rangers headed back to Houston today for a final weekend exhibition baseball series with the Astros.

They wound up spring training in Florida by losing to the New York Yankees 6-2 Wednesday. It was only the first time the Yanks have beaten them in five games this year, and the Rangers still were happy over another standout performance by pitcher Jim Bibby.

Bibby worked five innings and he allowed just two New York hits and a single run, driven home on a double by Jim Mason. Shabby defensive play by Cesar Tovar and Bob Jones caused four more runs by the Yankees.

Cheered by what appears to be a sounder starting mound staff than last year's, Martin said Fergie Jenkins will go against Minnesota in the Texas home opener next Tuesday, Bibby will start Wednesday and Jackie Brown will face the Twins Thursday.

Hello, Detroit; Goodbye Bucks

By the Associated Press

Hello, Detroit; goodbye, Milwaukee.

That's the latest National Basketball Association playoff news following the Detroit Pistons' 97-89 victory over the Chicago Bulls Wednesday night. The triumph clinched a wildcard berth for Detroit in the Western Conference — they will meet Seattle in the first round — while eliminating the Milwaukee Bucks — finalists last season — from playoff contention.

Elsewhere, the Seattle Super-Sonics shaded the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 99-96, the Washington Bullets routed the Houston Rockets 112-85, the Boston Celtics edged the Buffalo Braves 95-92 and the Phoenix Suns nipped the Los Angeles Lakers 108-106.

Detroit used Bob Lanier's 26 points and a balanced attack to defeat Chicago. Curtis Rowe and Howard Porter added 18 points each, with Porter coming off the bench in the first quarter. Lanier grabbed seven rebounds to become Detroit's all-time leading rebounder, surpassing the 4,986 amassed by Walter Dukes in six seasons.

SuperSonics 99, Kings 96

Seattle's Spencer Haywood scored 25 points, including two clinching free throws with 1:13 left to play. The Kings' Nate Archibald also had 25 points. KC-Omaha thus remained two games behind Chicago in the Midwest Division.

Bullets 112, Rockets 85

Elvin Hayes scored 33 points and grabbed 14 rebounds as the Bullets boosted their record to 58-21 and maintained their half-game edge over Boston in the race for the best record in the NBA. The Celtics host the Bullets Friday night.

The Bullets also set a club record for victories in one season, surpassing their 57-25 mark in 1968-69. The loss dropped Houston's final record to 41-41 and the Rockets must wait until 39-40 New York and 39-41 Cleveland complete their seasons to see if they qualify for the playoffs.

Celtics 95, Braves 92

Dave Cowens' six-point burst in the last three minutes enabled Boston to turn back Buffalo. The Celtics were nursing an 87-86 lead with 2:57 remaining when Cowens hit a basket and then matched Jim McMillian's two free throws.

John Havlicek scored a basket and Lee Winfield hit two free throws for Buffalo, then Cowens came back with the basket that put the Celtics ahead by five points.

Bob McAdoo paced the Braves with 25 points while Cowens and Havlicek shared scoring honors for Boston with 23 points each.

Suns 108, Lakers 106

Gary Melchionni's 13-foot shot with four seconds remaining gave Phoenix its triumph. Each team has two games to play. Los Angeles is 30-50 while Phoenix is 32-48. The last-place finisher in the Pacific Division will take part in the coin flip against the Atlanta Hawks for the first draft choice.

Cazzie Russell of Los Angeles led all scorers with 27 points while Charlie Scott had 25 and Mike Bantom 24 for Phoenix.

Bartow Named Bruin Mentor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Chatting with reporters in a hotel room in 1973, UCLA Athletic Director J.D. Morgan calmly mentioned that he liked the way Memphis State's basketball team played.

He said Memphis players were disciplined and played good defense and he added that he liked the Memphis State coach ... but that his name had slipped Morgan's mind.

That name was Gene Bartow and Wednesday afternoon Morgan officially ended the John Wooden era of basketball by naming Bartow as the new Bruin coach. Morgan said the selection was approved by Chancellor Charles E. Young.

"I regard Gene Bartow as one of the nation's outstanding coaches who is a fine, proven teacher of the sport of basketball," said Morgan. "I am pleased to welcome him as our new basketball coach and look forward to him continuing the great heritage of UCLA basketball."

Thus the Bruins get a coach 20 years younger than the 64-year-old Wooden, a man who is reportedly just as conservative as was church deacon Wooden; a man who dresses in business suits, teaches the game from the ground up, stresses defense and likes to fast break.

The image is almost that of a younger Wooden, some say.

Gary Cunningham, Wooden's No. 1 assistant who took himself out of contention for the job some time ago, said, "Gene is an outstanding person and an outstanding coach and UCLA is a great place for him. I know he has impressed J.D. over the years with the type of person and the type of coach he is."

Wooden, contacted by telephone at his Los Angeles residence, said he also likes what he's seen of Bartow.

"The only time my team played his was for the NCAA championship in 1973. I thought he had a very well-coached team and I know he's very well thought of in the profession," Wooden said.

UCLA won the game 87-66 as Bill Walton made 21 of 22 field goal attempts.

Woode also said he would help Bartow any way he could, but only if he were asked.

Bartow was released from the last four years of his five-year contract at Illinois.

MULTI-SPORT FESTIVAL

BS Girls Go North To Amarillo Relays

Girl thinclads from Big Spring coached by Christy Price will travel north for the Amarillo Relays. Preliminaries start at 12 noon Friday with the finals set for 1 p.m. Saturday.

The meet was cancelled after four events because of imclement weather. At Snyder, Big Spr8ng scored four second-place finishes.

Linda Lister of Big Spring won the 880 vard dash at Snyder, Big Spring scored by the judges for breaking too quick on the inside final lane.

For the first time in Amarillo, there will be one division for both boys and girls. It is rated as the biggest multi-sport festival for girls ever staged in the Panhandle.

Track events will be held at Dick Bivins Stadium. A total of 88 varsity division girls teams in track, tennis and golf officially are entered for the Amarillo Relays.

Bass Tourney In Progress

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP) — Defending champion Tommy Martin of Hemphill, Tex., took the lead Wednesday in the first day of the $21,000 Arkansas Invitational Bass Tournament on Bull Shoals Lake.

Martin boated five bass weighing 13 pounds for a slim edge over Dee Thomas of Newark, Calif., who also tallied five bass at 12 pounds, 1 ounce.

Only 127 bass were scored in the chilly 35 degree weather and wind gusts of more than 30 miles per hour. Conditions were not expected to improve the last two days of the tournament.

Martin, who won last year on Beaver Lake, anchored his catch with a 5 pound, 3 ounce largemouth. He is the current Bass Master Classic world champion.

Stan Sloan of Nashville, Tenn., boated the largest fish at 7 pounds, 3 ounces. It helped him into third place with 9 pounds, 5 ounces. Elroy Kruger of Cibolo, Tex., was fourth with 9 pounds.

Top prize is $3,600. The tournament is the third of six qualifying t ournaments for the 1975 bass master classic in late October.

Bob's Final Year

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Bob Gibson says he is ready for his final season in a St. Louis Cardinals uniform.

The veteran righthander tuned up for next Monday night's opener with Montreal by spinning a six-hitter at Houston in an exhibition game Wednesday. But the Astros downed the Cardinals 2-1.

"Yeah, I'm ready for the season," said Gibson, who will leave Forida with a 2.81 earned run figure. "I'm always ready. Sometimes the hitting isn't quite sharp. And, when I lose a few close games, they say I'm not ready."

But the Cardinals' winningest pitcher said "you pitch differently" once the season begins. The 39-year-old Gibson, beginning his 16th full season, is the scheduled starter against the Expos next Monday in St. Louis' Busch Memorial Stadium.

The Astros got both of their runs in the third inning on Milt May's single which plated Gregg Gross and Rob Andrews.

St. Louis, 10-15, rapped five hits in the fifth frame but could manage only a run. Two runners, Ed Brinkman and Ted Sizemore, were cut down on the basepaths.

Wayland Marches On In National

GALLUP, N.M. (AP) — Topseeded Wayland Baptist College of Plainview, Tex., and No. 2-seeded Fullerton, Calif., will put their favored lives on the line tonight in quarterfinal games of the Women's National AAU Basketball Tournament.

Wayland and Fullerton each rolled to impressive victories Wednesday in second round action.

Tonight's compeititon should be tougher as Wayland faces eighth-seeded Ankeny, Iowa, and Fullerton takes on one of the tourney's two giant killers, New York City.

The Wayland-Ankeny tussle at 7 p.m. and the Fullerton-New York Clash at 9 p.m., will conclude the quarterfinals. Fifthseeded Allentown, Pa., challenged fourth-seeded Raytown, Mo., and the other giant killer and tourney host Gallup take on sixth-seeded Indianapolis in afternoon quarterfinal games.

The winners of the Wayland-Ankeny and Allentown-Raytown games will meet in one semifinal Friday, and the victors in the New York-Fullerton and Gallup-Indianapolis contests will tangle in the other.

The championship and consolation games will be played Saturday.

Wayland marche into the quarterfinals with an easy 98-55 romp over Seattle, Wash., while Fullerton showed its power by bombing Plainview, Tex., 74-55.

Allentown and Ankeny didn't have much trouble either as Allentown crushed Baltimore, Md., 103-47 and Ankeny bounced Detroit, Mich., 82-44. Indianapolis had to hold off upset-minded Shreveport, La., 68-65, while Raytown advanced on a bye.

Third-seeded John F. Kennedy College of Wahoo, Neb., and seventh-seeded Ouachita University of Arkansas were the two favored clubs which weren't able to avert upsets and were eliminated.

Gallup used a basket by Janie Fincher with two seconds remaining to upend JFK 45-44 and New York City employed a deadly fast break and Barbara Riccardi's 21 points to outgun Ouachita 67-52.

GLENN MARGOLIS
....studying spelling

Big Spring Champion In Regional Matchup

Big Spring's spelling whiz, Glen Margolis, is preparing for contest again.

He goes to Lubbock this weekend to compete in regional competition, which is sponsored by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

Last year he won both the county and regional bees and advanced to the national finals in Washington. The year prior to that, he won in the county and was second in the region.

His goal this year is to win the national, but to get there, he has to win in Lubbock Saturday.

Glenn is the second child in the family of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Margolis who went to the national spelling finals. Their daughter, Maridene, also advanced to nationals one year.

The only national winner from this region thus far was Robin Craal of Lamesa three years ago.

The first two years that Glenn won county competition, he was a student at Park Hill Elementary. This year, he represented Goliad Junior High. Glenn actually has one more year of eligibility after this year and is probably one of the few, if not the only student in West Texas to advance to regional competition three times.

Rebates Due Monthly Now

AUSTIN — Comptroller Bob Bullock announced Friday that montly rebates of city sales taxes will start April 15.

"Nothing stands in our way now but the U.S. Postal service," Bullock said.

This first-ever monthly payment will replace the old quarterly payment system with its 90-day lag time which had been in effect since the city sales tax was passed in 1967. Bullock said that junking the quarterly system "means we've quit burying the cities' money in the backyard in fruit jars for three months at a time."

The April 15 payments will cover taxes collected by the comptroller between Feb. 17, the cutoff date for the last payment, and April 4. Future monthly payments will be made at mid-month, Bullock said.

Orem Book For Those Who Love Rural Life

By TOMMY HART

COUNTRY LAND AND ITS USES. By Howard Orem & Suzen. Naturegraph Publishers. 310 pages. $4.95.

If you've ever dreamed of homesteading land, or have designs on owning some acreage in the country, this book (Country Land and its Uses) might be the best investment you could make.

Howard Orem and Suzen, the authors, experienced many of the pitfalls aspiring farmers and ranchers encounter, and decided all too few people know how to cope under such conditions. Out of their grand adventure came this book dedicated to land selection, land development, water development and organic gardening.

It's probably the most complete works of its kind ever put together. Stressed through the 310 pages is the importance of balance with nature and the flow of life, of giving back to the land as well as taking from it.

Texas-born Howard Orem is an inventor, builder, land developer, researcher and organic farmer. Fortunately, for those of us who appreciate the rural life, he is also a writer. At the age of eight, he started to work on a neighboring farm. By the time he was 15, he owned his first piece of land, having saved enough from his wages to make such an investment.

Now a resident of Orem's Organic Gardens in Petrolia, Cal., Mr. Orem must take great pleasure in the life he has led and must get a high degree of satisfaction from the fulfillment of his dream.

Like Howard, Suzen, who was born in Virginia, enjoys helping others develop their land. She is responsible for the art work in the book.

The authors say the seven deadly sins are polluting the air, water and soil; killing, except for food, shelter or protection; creating unhappiness; destroying natural resources; failing to live harmoniously with other life; judging others adversely; and living a non-beneficial life.

If you desire to learn which plants indicate sub-surface water, you'll find a list of them in County Land and Its Uses. The plants which require a moist, often boggy earth to flourish are given attention.

The authors remind us that "in soil we find the roots of life" and progress to soil compositions indicators of fertile soil, the soil with high acid content, and plants which thrive in various types of climate. They list plants which irritate the skin, which are poisonous to people and other animals, which irritate hay fever and similar allergies and flora which make land clearing and the cultivation of gardens difficult because they "tend to take over."

Legal terms for land transfers are explained. Not overlooked are the problems one encounters in the construction of homes and buildings, septic tanks, fences, waterwheels, solar heating systems, dams and etc.

Companion planting is discussed, as is planting by moon cycles and the zodiac signs. Other sections are devoted to the proper ways to water a garden, mulching, fertilizing, the treatment of plant diseases.

In short, this is an unvaluable reference book which the gardener, the professional farmer and the weekend rural types can ill afford to be without.

Says State Lacks Money To Raise Pay Of Teachers

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The co-sponsor of a Senate bill seeking to increase the salaries of Texas teachers says the money for the proposed pay raises does not exist.

The statement by Sen. A.R. Schwartz, D-Galveston, came Tuesday night at a hearing of the Senate Education Committee where 2,000 persons, mainly teachers, had come to hear testimony on two public education finance bills.

MAJOR ISSUE

Schwartz said it would take $979 million in state funds to finance his bill the first year and $1.3 billion the second.

"This bill represents what we believe Texas needs but I want you to know the money does not exist to fund that amount," said Schwartz, who is sponsoring one of the bills along with Sen. A.M. Aikin, D-Paris.

Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, sponsor of the other bill, said the question of public education financing is the most important one facing the legislature.

Callie Smith, executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association (TSTA), said increasing the salary of teachers is the most important part of either of the two bills.

$6,600 YEAR

"The current salary for a beginning teacher is $6,600 a year and that was set in 1969," said Smith, whose organization represents 159,000 teachers.

"To restore this teacher to the 1969 purchasing power would require increasing the salary to $10,375 a year," Smith said.

Smith said in February the $1,000 a month starting salary is not negotiable.

Mrs. Jewel Howard, president of TSTA, said a beginning teacher attempting to support a family on a $6,600 salary is operating below the poverty level.

"There is intense dedication to duty among our Texas teachers, but dedication cannot be served as food to sustain the body and provide the strength which the rigors of teaching today require," Mrs. Howard said.

IMPOSSIBLE

Mrs. Carolyn Harrell, chairman of the TSTA legislative committee, said Scwartz' bill "requires spending a great deal of money, but I cannot think of any purpose for which money should be spent than in the interest of the children of Texas."

"To fail to provide a solution to our public school problems in this session of the legislature would magnify them to a degree which would make future solutions almost impossible," Mrs. Harrell said.

Will Davis, president of the Texas Association of School Boards, said Schwartz' statement about a lack of funds was only a problem of priorities.

"For too many years the priority has been away from public education," Davis said.

Prolific Weed Treatment Due

LUBBOCK — A Texas Agricultural Experiment Station scientist here is using a microscopic, parasitic organism to kill a prolific weed pest that infests millions of acres in the Southwest.

Dr. Calvin C. Orr, nematologist based at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock, said the organism, a specific type of nematode, "appears to have possibilities as a biological control agent for silverleaf nightshade in semiarid West Texas."

Orr said he found severe, lethal, natural infestations of "Nothanguina phyllobia" on a silverleaf nightshade weed in 1974. Nematodes, he explained, are microscopic worms which live in the soil. Cotton producers view the silverleaf nightshade as an extremely troublesome weed, causing substantial economic loss by reducing cotton yields. Herbicides used in cotton production are largely ineffective in coltrolling the seeding and perennial stages of the weed.

BIG SPRING HERALD

SECTION B — BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, APRIL 3, 1975 — SECTION B

(AP WIREPHOTO)

Sherry Smith Lions' Queen

STANTON — Miss Sherry Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Smith of Stanton, was named 1975 Stanton Lions Club Queen Friday night.

She was selected from 16 candidates. Karen Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Anderson was runner-up. Other finalists were Jo Mims, Connie Christon and Stacy Payne.

Offices Will Be Renovated

STANTON — Cap Rock Electric Coop has announced plans to renovate its offices this spring at an expected cost of $88,000.

This will be the first major building renovation since 1961, according to James Eiland, Cap Rock Manager.

Russian Grandmaster Gains World Chess Crown

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) — The International Chess Federation stripped Bobby Fischer of his world chess crown today and gave it to Soviet grandmaster Anatoly Karpov by default after Fischer failed to send word he would play the Russian challenger under rules voted by the federation.

There was no immediate comment from Fischer, but in Moscow, the Soviet news agency Tass said "the proclamation of Karpov the new champion of the world is a natural outcome of his outstanding sports achievements."

It also said "the fact that Fischer has not been taking part in competitions since September 1972 and did not play a single tournament or match game, makes one draw the conclusion that he is simply not ready for the match and all his actions are aimed at frustrating competitions which chess enthusiasts the world over were looking forward to. Such conduct is not worthy of the holder of the top chess title."

The action by FIDE (Federation Internationale des Echecs) was expected. Fischer's acceptance or rejection of the rules was due in Amsterdam by midnight Tuesday, but FIDE president Max Euwe of the Netherlands extended the deadline for 24 hours on the slight chance that the eccentric American would not pass up his chance to win $3,175,000. However, Euwe announced Wednesday that if the second deadline passed and Fischer did not accept, the title would go to Karpov.

Fischer has kept himself away from newsmen for some time and his whereabouts are a mystery. But a chess expert close to him said on Tuesday that he felt his principles were at stake and he would not relent.

Fischer told FIDE last spring that he would not play Karpov and would resign his championship unless it met two rules demands for the match, which was to have opened in Manila in June.

One was that victory would go to the first player winning 10 games, that there would no limit on the number of games played, and that draws would not count.

Possible Crisis In Food Supplies

DALLAS (AP) — United Nations representatives and leaders of private industry met here today to discuss ways to avert a possible crisis created by an increasing world population and the imbalance in food supply and distribution.

Antonio Carrillo Flores of Mexico, former secretary general of the World Population Conference, told the one-day conference on World Food and population crisis that the solution lies in cooperation between developed and underdeveloped nations. Carrillo Flores said the World Population Conference at Bucharest last year, called on every country to define, according to its own interest, a population policy, whatever it might be, and to incorporate that policy within the framework of its economic and social policies.

"No country denies anymore that it is a fundamental right of every individual and couple to determine freely and responsibly the number and spacing of their children," said Carrillo who also serves as consultant for Mexico's National Population Council.

"Most important," he added, "the couple is entitled to get from the government adequate information, means and services for that purpose."

Carrillo Flores said that "the main responsibility lies with each nation. But no one can deny that there are many countries that have little hope, if any, of succeeding without the cooperation of the rest of the world. The United Nations is not the only channel for that cooperation, but it is the only one in which practically all the population of the world is represented."

Another morning session speaker, Edwin M. Martin, said in a prepared text that producing countries must agree on the establishment of grain reserves to avoid famine.

Martin, chairman of the Consultative Group on Food Production and Investment in Developing Countries, said that the absence of such grain reserves is already a food crisis.

"Reserves above working stocks will reach the lowest levels in 20 years by the tiime the 1975 crops begin to be harvested," he said.

Martin agreed that the formation of grain reserves will be hard to negotiate because "some consumers prefer to let prices fall further rather than diverting grain to reserves. Many farmers fear that the existence of reserves will depress prices, and governments are reluctant to accept the costs of holding reserves."

Martin stated that top priority should be given to increasing production in the less-developed countries.

"While we can produce enough through 1985, the net (food) deficit of the Third World may as much as triple to some 85 million tons a year, an amount impossible to finance or ship," Martin said.

Gratefully, I accept the challenge to serve another term on the Big Spring city council, made possible by the support I received from the voters in Tuesday's election. Versatility of Grapes Make Them Favorites

"The English have sixty different religions and only one sauce," a French wit once quipped. He had good reason to feel superior about it; sauces are what give French cuisine its incomparable reputation. A good sauce, as any chef knows, has the power to turn a plain dish into a mouth-watering work of art.

But there's one type of sauce in which we Americans traditionally outdo the French — sauce made with seedless grapes. It's no accident that a favorite French grape sauce is called "Sauce a la Americaine."

Besides their triple advantages of flavor, versatility and ease of use, seedless grapes also make a sauce look like something special. They confer a festive air to even the most ordinary dish; and it's a well-known axiom of cookery that the appearance of a dish goes a long way to convince the diner of the excellence of the cook.

5 EASY GRAPE SAUCES

A great sauce needn't be difficult to make. Some of the best sauces are made by stirring a few simple ingredients together. To begin your adventure in grape saucery, here are five easy things you can do with grapes and a few other common ingredients:

(1) For a quick sauce for cooked chicken, veal, shrimp, ham, tongue, crab meat or rock lobster — heat cream of mushroom soup with a little cream. Add Thompson Seedless grapes and heat for 5 minutes.

(2) For a flavor surprise to be spooned over ice cream or cake squares — fold halved Thompson Seedless grapes into fudge sauce.

(3) For a quick melba sauce combine equal parts stemmed seedless grapes and rasberry jam. Spoon over fruit, lady fingers or sherbet.

(4) Combine equal parts mayonnaise, sour cream and whipped cream. Fold in seedless grapes. Makes a creamy sauce that can be spooned over fruit cups, cupcakes or banana slices.

(5) Drain the juice from spiced crab apples or spiced apple slices. Add an equal amount of water. Thicken the mixture with cornstarch mixed with water. Cook until thickened and then chill. Fold in a generous handful of Thompson Seedless grapes. As a dessert sauce, you can spoon it over baked apples, cake squares or a home-made ice cream sundae. It can also be spooned over sweet potatoes and ham slices.

First, a chilled salmon dish, enhanced by a creamy, tart dressing:

COLD POACHED SALMON WITH GRAPE LEMON SAUCE

4 salmon steaks, about 1 inch thick
2 tsps. salt
8 peppercorns
Juice of 1 lemon
2 bay leaves
½ cup white wine
Water
1 cup (½ pint) sour cream
¼ cup prepared French dressing
1 cup Thompson Seedless grapes

Put salmon steaks into a large skillet. Sprinkle with salt and peppercorns, lemon juice, bay leaves and white wine. Add enough water to just cover fish. Cover and cook over low heat at a simmer until salmon turns pink throughout. Cool salmon in broth. Drain salmon. Place salmon on a platter and chill. Combine sour cream, French dressing and grapes, and spoon over salmon. Chill until ready to serve. Serve garnished with lemon and lime slices, and pieces of chicory or field lettuce. Serves 4.

Another cooly refreshing main course takes its character from a lemony, silky-smooth hollandaise sauce filled with sweet grapes. It's called:

ASPARAGUS AND HAM ROLLS WITH GRAPE HOLLANDAISE

2 packages (10 ozs. each) frozen asparagus spears
1-3rd cup bottled French dressing
12 large slices boiled ham
Lettuce leaves
½ cup mayonnaise
Juice of 1 small lemon
1 tbsp. frozen chopped chives
1 tbsp. chopped parsley
½ cup chopped Thompson Seedless grapes

Cook asparagus spears according to package directions until tender. Drain and pour French dressing over hot asparagus. Chill. Drain asparagus. Roll asparagus spears in ham slices. Place rolls on lettuce leaves. Combine remaining ingredients and stir until well-blended. Spoon over ham rolls. Serve with sliced tomatoes and toasted English muffins. Serves 6.

When it comes to dessert, grapes don't need much help. They make a perfect dessert served just by themselves. But grapes can help turn other ingredients into really exciting desserts. Think what they do as a refresher when served with a good dessert cheese, for example. And used in a sauce, they make it possible for any menu planner to finish off a meal in a flurry of creativity:

GRAPE ICE CREAM SAUCE

1 can (6 oz.) frozen concentrated pink lemonade, undiluted
1-3rd cup sugar
1 jar (7 ozs.) marshmallow creme
1 cup halved Thompson Seedless Grapes
Vanilla Ice Cream

Combine pink lemonade and sugar and stir until sugar is dissolved. Add marshmallow creme and beat until well blended and smooth. Fold in grapes. Spoon sauce over scoops of vanilla ice cream. Serve at once. If sauce is made ahead of time, stir sauce once again just before spooning over ice cream. Makes about 3 cups.

Perfect for lunch, or as a salad to serve with dinner, is avocado and grapefruit with grape honey sauce. Refreshing and satisfying, it makes a pretty dish — a study in cool colors of green and yellow:

AVOCADO AND GRAPEFRUIT WITH GRAPE HONEY SAUCE

2 small grapefruit
3 ripe avocados
Lettuce leaves
¼ cup honey
¼ cup lemon or lime juice
½ tsp. curry powder
1 cup halved Thompson Seedless grapes

Section grapefruit. Peel avocados and cut into halves lengthwise. Remove seed and cut avocados into ½ inch thick slices. Alternate grapefruit sections and avocado slices on a bed of lettuce leaves. Chill. Combine remaining ingredients and stir until blended. Spoon over avocado and grapefruit salad just before serving. Serves 6.

SEAGOING GRAPES: Grapes and fish have long been recognized as congenial companions. Here, Thompson Seedless grapes are used in a grape lemon sauce that provides a smooth accompaniment to cold poached salmon.

Meat Balls For Calorie Counters

A few miniature meat balls, round and plump, on a dieter's plate is likely to have more appeal than one large, lone patty. They look more filling.

Bran flakes are the binding agent for seasoned ground beef in these little meat balls. Oven baking the balls eliminates the need for extra fat for frying.

TINY MEAT BALLS

1½ pounds ground beef
2 cups bran flakes
1-3rd cup finely chopped onion
1 egg
2-3rd cup tomato juice
1½ tsps. salt
½ tsp. basil
⅛ tsp. pepper
1 tsp. Worchestershire sauce.

Combine ingredients; mix well. Shape into balls, using about a tablespoonful of mixture for each ball. Place in shallow baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) until done, 12 to 15 minutes. If desired, meat balls may be pan fried in a small amount of shortening over moderate heat until done and brown on all sides, about 10 minutes). Yield: About 5 dozen balls.

Ginger Pears With Lemon

A tasty dessert that's not too sweet.

GINGER PEARS

1-3rd cup sugar
¾ cup water
Grated rind of ½ lemon
Juice of 1 lemon
½ tsp. ground ginger
6 pears, pared and halved and cored

Over low heat stir together the sugar, water, lemon rind, lemon juice and ginger until sugar dissolves; boil for 5 minutes. Arrange pears in a shallow baking dish in one layer; pour syrup over them. Cover (with foil if necessary); bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until tender — 40 to 60 minutes. Serve hot with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

Properly Stored Food is Freshest

COLLEGE STATION — Freshness is the key to keeping fruits and vegetables good tasting and nutritious, one foods and nutrition specialist said this week.

"One way to hold them at their peak of freshness is to store them properly at home," Sally Springer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

"Except for onions, potatoes and bananas, produce can be refrigerated. Also, separate bruised or decayed produce before putting it up and use it as soon as possible to avoid loss of nutrients."

She reminded consumers that another way important vitamins and minerals are lost from fresh vegetables is by overcooking them in too much water.

Reviewing specific directions, the specialist said, "Bring about one-half cup of water in a saucepan to a full boil. Add the vegetable, cover and cook only until tender crisp.

"Since Vitamin C is especially water-soluble, it usually ends up in the cooking water. That's why using vegetable liquid in gravies, sauces and soups makes the most of the vitamins available," she said.

She noted that many nutrients in fruits and vegetables are found near the skin or peel. Whenever possible, serve or prepare them without peeling. But if peeling is necessary, try to make it as thin as possible, she advised.

Combination Is Different

A different way to serve sweet potatoes is to combine them with bananas.

SWEET POTATOES WITH BANANAS

1-3rd cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1½ tsps. cornstarch
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. cinnamon
¾ cup orange juice
1½ tbsps. butter or margarine
18-oz. can vacuum-packed sweet potatoes (whole and pieces)
3 bananas

In a 1-quart saucepan stir together the sugar, cornstarch salt and cinnamon; gradually stir in orange juice, keeping smooth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and boiling. Off heat, stir in butter. Lift potatoes from can and arrange in a single layer over bottom of a shallow 1½-quart baking dish, cutting large pieces in half if necessary. Pour sauce over potatoes. (If prepared ahead, cover with foil and set aside.) Bake, covered with foil, in a preheated 350-degree oven for 20 minutes. Peel bananas and cut into thick diagonal slices; arrange over potatoes; baste with sauce in bottom of dish; continue baking, uncovered, at 350-degrees about 10 minutes longer. Makes 6 servings.

Rice Salad Served Hot Delicious

Concocted by a friend who comes from Pennsylvania Dutch country, this salad is interesting and delicious.

HOT RICE SALAD

2 eggs
¼ cup cider vinegar
¾ cup water
¼ cup sugar
¾ tsp. salt
1 cup extra long-grain rice
3 slices bacon
1 cup cooked green peas at room temperature
½ cup diced canned pimiento

In a small mixing bowl beat the eggs with vinegar, water, sugar and salt just until blended; set aside. Cook the rice according to package directions — there should be about 3 cups. Meanwhile in a 10-inch skillet over low heat cook the bacon until crisp; remove bacon and dice; turn onto brown paper to drain. To bacon fat and drippings in skillet there should be about 2 tablespoons add the egg mixture; cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until just thickened — do not boil. Add hot rice, peas, pimiento and bacon; mix well, adding more salt if needed. Serve at once. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Fruit Balls With Cereal For Snacks

Children at home? Cereal Fruit Balls are needed. Because the no-bake sweets make up moist and soft, they are grand snacks to have on hand during humid weather. They keep well in a tightly covered container in a cool place. As mothers know, cereals and fruit are good for children. Oven-toasted rice cereal is the crunchy ingredient used in this recipe. It and other breakfast cereals are economical sources of food energy, protein, minerals, and the B vitamins.

CEREAL FRUIT BALLS

1 cup quartered dried apricots
½ cup water
½ cup thick applesauce
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
½ cup nonfat dry milk solids
½ cup finely chopped walnuts
1½ tsps. grated lemon rind
½ tsp. salt
3 cups oven-toasted rice cereal, crushed to make 1½ cups
Granulated sugar

Cook apricots in small amount of water until tender and water evaporates. Cool, mash and add remaining ingredients, except granulated sugar; mix well. Shape into balls, using a tablespoonful of mixture for each ball. Roll in granulated sugar. Chill. Roll in additional granulated sugar just before serving. Yield: 3 dozen balls.

New Topping

Try a snowy top for your next apple pie. Use tart and juicy apples for your favorite recipe. Sprinkle pie with orange juice and bake with one crust. When cooked, cover top with a combination of shredded coconut and powdered sugar, then brown ever so slightly.

Stretching Leftovers Is Thrifty

As many homemakers are finding out, it's not enough to save money on food when you buy it. In these times you have to save after you cook it too. You have to know how to handle leftovers!

A large cut of meat, for instance, can make three meals: a roast, a stew and hamburgers.

Leftover vegetables can be given a new lease on life when mixed together and covered with a tasty white sauce made from two tablespoons of butter, two tablespoons of flour, one-half teaspoon salt and two cups of milk for each cup of vegetables.

Cold fish can be turned into a delicious dish if you top it with a blend of dairy sour cream and pickle relish.

Bits of meat and vegetables too few to make a meal can be turned into a delicious casserole with noodles or rice and lots of cheese.

Treat your leftovers right the second time around, and there probably won't be any leftovers left over for a third time.

Add Apple

Add one cup of freshly pared and grated apples, tart and tangy, to each four cups of a bland seasonal vegetable, such as mashed squash, sweet potatoes, rutabagas, or parsnips, to impart flavor and flair.

Potato Chip Coating Is Good For Frying Fish

Fried fish is only as good as its coating, if breaded before it is fried. There are many bases for coating — flour, corn meal, bread crumbs and potato chip crumbs. Since the chips are already brown then we suggest you use thin fish fillets so extra long frying will not be necessary.

If frying is out for diet or health reasons, then just pop the coated fish fillets in a low-sided casserole or baking dish and bake in a preheated 375-degree oven for about 25 minutes or until fish flakes when tested with a fork.

Try the idea of coating with potato chip crumbs when frying other dishes. It's good with chicken and egg plant, too.

COUNTY FRIED FISH FILLETS

2 eggs
1 tsp. prepared mustard
½ tsp. seafood seasonings
1½ lbs. fish fillets (flounder, pike, or any other thin mild fish)
2½ cups potato chip crumbs
½ cup salad oil
½ cup vegetable shortening
Parsley flakes

Beat together eggs, mustard, and seafood seasoning. Dip fish in the mustard-egg mixture, then roll in potato chip crumbs. Combine salad oil and vegetable shortening in skillet and melt together. Heat the two until you can see them get hot enough. Fry until fish flakes easily and until golden brown. Garnish with parsley flakes or fresh parsley. Makes 4 servings.

Imperial Economy Recipe

English Breakfast Muffins

3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ cup Imperial Granulated Sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup raisins
2 eggs, beaten
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
1 cup milk

Sift the dry ingredients together and mix in the raisins. Mix beaten eggs, butter or margarine and milk together. Combine the two mixtures and stir gently—just enough to dampen the flour. Allow mixture to stand 15 to 30 minutes. Fill muffin tins ⅔ full and bake in preheated 350°F. oven for about 20 minutes. Makes 15 muffins 2½ inches in diameter.

NOTE: To save time, muffins can be baked without waiting time but product will not be as light.
If preferred, cardamom can be used instead of cinnamon. And 1 cup frozen or well-drained canned blueberries, 1 cup finely chopped dried apricots or 1 cup fresh chopped apples may be substituted for raisins.

39 Cases Probed

Ed Cherry, juvenile probation officer, counted 11 burglaries involving juveniles during March.

Theft under $5 was the most frequent cause of referrals. There were 12 for this reason.

Enforcement of the suspicious person ordinance accounted for 5 referrals; traffic violations, 1; running away from home, 3; vandalism, 3; truancy, 2; and forgery,2.

Altogether, Cherry reviewed 39 new juvenile cases during March.

District Judge Ralph W. Caton, presiding as juvenile court judge, presided at two hearings. Cherry placed 7 more youths under "informal adjustment," making a total of 34 being counseled without court action.

Sent to a state school was one youth.

At month's end, nine were under the care of the Texas Youth Council, and two were in private schools.

On parole from Texas Youth Council were four boys and two girls.

Final Vote Due In Senate On Texas Primary Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas senators take a final vote today on a bill that would let Texas voters have a more direct hand in selecting the presidential candidates.

After three hours of debate the Senate tentatively approved Wednesday the so-called "Bentsen bill" that would have 75 per cent of Texas' delegates to national political conventions selected by popular vote. The other 25 per cent would be selected at state political party conventions, according to the outcome of the statewide popular vote.

The measure, introduced and supported by backers of Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex, for the Democratic presidential nominee in 1976, returns to the House, which passed a different version. Concerns for the well being of Texas attorneys kept the House busy most of Wednesday. Tentatively approved bills at the end of the day would:

Establish uniform procedures for all state agencies by preserve present arules for appealing agency decisions to courts.

Permit a system of prepaid legal services, operated either by non-profit corporations or insurance companies.

Both bills need a final House vote then return to the Senate for approval of amendments.

Sen. Don Adams, D-Jaspar, Senate sponsor, said he was sure the final compromise on a presidential primary would be written by a 10-member conference committee.

Several efforts to make the public opinion poll directly on presidential candidates instead of electing delegates to national conventions failed.

However, the amendment by Sen. A.R. Schwartz, D-Galveston, to make the presidential primary "self-destruct" on March 1, 1977, passed 16-13.

Except for the "self-destruct" clause, the Senate version is close to the House-passed measure. Principal Senate changes would allow for selection of uncommitted national convention delegates and would not require presidential candidates to put up a slate of proposed delegates in each of the 31 senatorial districts of the state.

"The whole thrust of this bill is to give the citizens of the state a chance to participate in the nomination of presidential candidates," said Adams, repeating that the possible candidacy of Bentsen did not inspire his sponsorship of the bill. He said about 150,000 persons took part in 1972 in selecting party delegates to precinct, county, state and national conventions. "If we had had this bill, about 2 million people would have helped choose the presidential candidates," he said.

Sen. Ron Clower, D-Garland, successful in an amendment that would have the names of candidates for national conventions printed on the ballot in regular type while the presidential candidates they pledged to support would be in bold capital letters beside them.

An effort by Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, to require all who voted in the presidential primary to register their political party preference 30 days beforehand failed 15-14.

Senators approved 31 proposals on a "local and uncontested calendar" today including measures which would:

—Raise from $25,000 to $100,000 the amount of money available to pay prisoners when they are discharged, pardoned or paroled.

—Require persons hunting with a bow and arrow to obtain a $3.25 archery stamp, in addition to a regular hunting license. Violators could be fined up to $200.

—Provide that money from mineral leases on state game management areas go to a special game and fish fund, not the state park fund.

—Abolish the Compensation Claim Board, which was set up to handle claims of farmers who had their cotton destroyed because it was infested with pink bollworms.

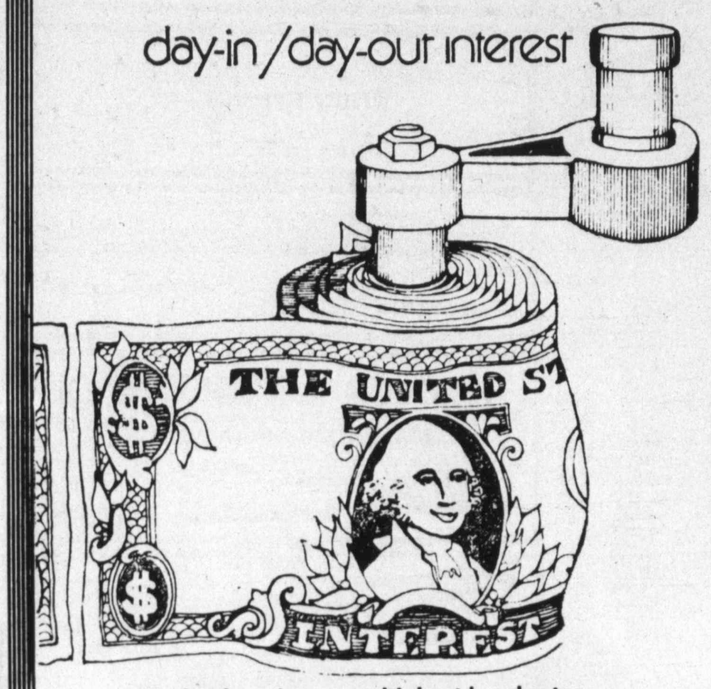

—Abolish the Judgement Board, which has the authority to sell the rights to judgments the state holds against insolvent persons.

CBS NEWS SPECIAL
Indochina 1975: The End Of The Road?'

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Last Thursday, as thousands of Hue refugees fled for what they thought was safety in Da Nang, Les Midgley got the go-ahead for an April 8 CBS News special on the conflict in Southeast Asia.

This week, as he talked about the special, Da Nang was in North Vietnamese hands, as well as the coastal cities of Qui Nhon and Nha Trang and two other cities within 100 miles east of Saigon were being abandoned.

Midgley, in charge of the CBS special, "Indochina 1975: The End of the Road?", would seem to have an impossible task of keeping the show updated amid fast-moving developments both in South Vietnam and Cambodia.

BUMPED

But he says if sudden events don't require a hurried special this week in addition to the one to be aired next Tuesday night, "then a week is a lot of time for me," even on such a complex story.

Midgley, who has produced CBS News specials for 20 years, says a Middle East news program originally was planned to air on CBS next Tuesday, but was bumped because of the worsening Vietnam situation.

He said the day he got the green light for the Indochina special, he ordered CBS newsman Bob Simon, two producers and a cameraman to immediately fly from their London base to Saigon.

They arrived there Sunday, and promptly began work along with newsman Murray Fromson, who already was in Saigon and was detached with a camera crew from his daily news chores to also work on the program.

In New York, veteran CBS correspondent Charles Collingwood, who has covered the Indochina story on and off since the mid-1950s, was assigned as anchorman of the one-hour special.

COVER STORY

"We have to do a program which in a way is like a magazine cover story," said Midgley, meaning the show will cover not only breaking news but also provide background and analysis of the war in Southeast Asia.

It means, he said, that the program's reporters "have to do more work, more interviews and provide more background than they ever possibly could get in the daily news shows" because of time limits.

He said while Collingwood is writing analyses of how the war began, how America became involved in it and the major turning points of the war, other CBS staffers are busy culling appropriate film clips taken in this and previous wars to illustrate points made in the show.

He said new film stories for the special — they'll be shipped by jet from Saigon to New York — will cover such topics as the massive refugee problem created by the latest North Vietnamese advances, the political situation in Vietnam, the mood of Saigon and the state of South Vietnam's remaining military forces.

Next Tuesday, if need be, last-minute film will be shipped from Saigon to Hong Kong for satellite transmission even after the usual late-afternoon satellite "feed" for scheduled evening news shows.

Qatar Ambassador Is Youngest In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tiny, oil-rich country of Qatar has spent almost $1 million to acquire and furnish a four-bedroom house for its ambassador to the United States, who at 28 is the youngest ambassador in the nation's capital.

Spanish antiques, a basement decorated like a German pub, a sunken marble tub for two and a telephone with a bank of blinking lights in the master bathroom are among the highlights of the tour the couple gives like proud real estate agents.

"Perhaps you won't like this," said Ambassador Abdullah Saleh Al-Mana, as he and his wife, Samira, 20, ushered a visitor into their luxurious bathroom. Mrs. Al-Mana, a shy, soft-spoken woman, smiled. "I could spend half my day here," she said. Instead, she said, their two-year-old son keeps her busy.

While showing the basement, the mustachioed Al-Mana took credit for pasting a bumper sticker to the stairs. It reads: "Fight Air Pollution: Gag a Politician."

Though he answered questions through an interpreter during an interview, he relaxed and joked in English during lunch, frowning only when his wife reminded him of his diet and suggested he not help himself to seconds of the minute steak. He did anyway.

Al-Mana was sent to Washington in 1972 after Qatar (pronounced like "Cutter") ended its status as a British protectorate. Qatar is about the size of Rhode Island and Connecticut combined and located on the Western shore of the Persian Gulf.

He is still a student and is working on a master's degree in political science at George Washington University. Asked whether his age is an advantage or a disadvantage, Al-Mana said:

"When you're moving in a diplomatic circle, an ambassador doesn't say, 'He's young,' or 'He's old,'" Al-Mana said. "You're judged on ability. Respect is mutual, regardless of age."

His interpreter added, "We are very lucky to have someone so young, so full of energy." Al-Mana smiled.

Even players who claim that they do not use any conventions should realize that there are some in their arsenal. In many cases, the artifical meaning of the bid has become so popular that we consider it natural, and don't realize that we are, in fact, employing a convention. For example, when an opponent opens the bidding and partner, in the next seat, doubles, we do not even think for a moment that he intends to double for penalties—its natural meaning; we know he is asking us for our best suit. Other conventions used by the vast majority of bridge players are Stayman and Blackwood.

Just how complex the game has become at its highest levels is vividly illustrated by a new book, "Bridge Conventions Complete", by Amalya Kearse, which runs to 624 pages (Hart Publishing, paperbound, $7.95). It is a mammoth task well done, with each convention, both bidding and play, clearly explained. However, its use for social bridge players is limited.

A convention that has fallen into disuse was employed by North on today's hand—the Baron Two No Trump response to an opening bid of one no trump. Invented by Leo Baron some forty years ago, a raise of one no trump to two no trump is not a request for opener to go on to game if he has a maximum. Rather, it shows a strong hand and asks opener to bid his four-card suits in ascending order, with the lowest ranking bid first.

North-South were employing this convention, and used it to good effect. South showed his diamond suit over his partner's forcing no trump raise, and North immediately launched into yet another convention, Blackwood. On finding his partner with two aces, he settled in six diamonds. This contract proved particularly easy. All declarer had to do was draw trumps, discard a spade from dummy on the fourth heart, force out the spade ace and ruff a spade in dummy. As the cards lie, six no trump could be made on a squeeze, but six diamonds is by far a superior contract.

'DON'T SEND THIS POOR, ILLITERATE MAN TO THE ELECTRIC CHAIR'

Trying To Break Deadlock On Penalty For Cuevas

HOUSTON (AP) — Jurors trying to decide between life or death as punishment for Huntsville prison shootout survivor Ignacio Cuevas deadlocked without decision Wednesday and will continue deliberations today.

The nine-man, three-woman, all-white panel deliberated more than 6½ hours Wednesday before District Court Judge Miron A. Love sent the jury to a hotel for the night.

Deliberations on the punishment phase of the trial began at noon Wednesday after closing arguments by Walker County District Attorney Jerry Sandel, the chief prosecutor, and by chief defense attorney Will Gray.

11-DAY SEIGE

Cuevas was convicted by the jury Tuesday of capital murder in the death of Mrs. Julia Standley, one of two hostages killed in the Aug. 3 shootout that ended an 11-day seige by Cuevas and two other inmates.

Judge Love instructed the jury to find either negative or positive answers to two questions: Did Cuevas deliberately commit acts which contributed to the death of Mrs. Standley, and does Cuevas pose a continuing threat to society because of probable future acts of violence.

The judge told the jurors an affirmative answer to both questions would result in a death sentence. A negative answer to either meant life in prison for Cuevas.

A courthouse source said the jury Wednesday voted affirmatively to the first question, but deadlocked 10-2 for a positive answer to the second question.

During Wednesday's deliberations, the jury asked to see several exhibits, including pictures of the bodies from the shootout; pistols used by Cuevas and another inmate, Rodolfo Dominguez, and the helmets worn by the inmates during their escape attempt.

The jury set directly to work, without lunch, after receiving the case, but as the long afternoon of indecision wore on they repeatedly sent out for coffee, cigarettes and sandwiches.

SEIZED CONTROL

Cuevas and two other convicts, Fred Gomez Carrasco and Dominguez, seized control of the Huntsville prison library last July 24. They held hostages at gunpoint until Aug. 3 when they attempted to escape to a waiting armored car. They used for protection a shield made of rolling chalkboards and lawbooks.

Officers intercepted the shield and in the shootout Mrs. Standley, Mrs. Elizabeth Beseda, another hostage, and Carrasco and Dominguez died.

In closing arguments to the punishment hearing Wednesday, district attorney Sandel told the jury they should give the death sentence because "the people in Texas are entitled to your protection."

"The guards, the teachers (at the prison) should not be confronted with a known, convicted killer back in their midst," he said. "He has shown he doesn't deserve another chance."

Defense attorney Gray described Cuevas as "a pawn" of Carrasco, lead of the trio of convicts, and pled with the jury: "Don't send this poor, illiterate man to the electric chair."

"The law says thou shalt not kill," he said. "I believe it's just as wrong for the state to take a person's life. I think it is morally wrong ..."

In the punishment hearing, Sandel presented only a single document in evidence and produced no testimony for the jury.

The document contained only Cuevas' fingerprints, picture and records of his conviction for a 1970 Reeves County murder and his judgment, 45 years in prison.

THREE TIMES

Earlier, with the jury out of the room, Sandel presented testimony from two witnesses, Reeves County Deputy Sheriff Gary Ingram, and Huntsville prison guard George Kibby.

Ingram testified that Cuevas was convicted of "slowly and deliberately" shooting a man three times. The deputy said Cuevas fled after the killing into neighboring Pecos County where he held a farm family hostage at gunpoint.

Cuevas forced the husband, said Ingram, to get provisions by threatening to kill the wife and children if the man didn't return.

After his conviction and while he was awaiting appeal, said Ingram, Cuevas escaped and was free for almost four months. The absence forced the appeal to be cancelled.

Kibby testified that during a search of Cuevas' Huntsville prison cell 2½ months ago he discovered a fake gun. He said the gun was made of the imitation leather cover of a Bible and stuffed with paper and cloth.

The fake gun was black and had the Spanish words for "Holy Bible" on the handle.

Gray objected to the testimony of both Ingram and Kibby and Judge Love sustained the objection. The testimony was not presented to the jury.

Boost Ahead In Gas Costs

SNYDER — Residents of Snyder have been told they can expect a substantial increase in the cost of natural gas.

The boost could come as early as Monday, when the city council meets with officials of the Lone Star Gas Company.

Lone Star officials have asked for a flow-through agreement that would pass increased fuel costs directly to the consumer retroactive to Jan. 28.

Lone Star purchases gas from Lo-Vaca Gathering Co., spokesmen for which say its costs have increased more than five-fold, from 23.5 cents per thousand cubic feet to $1.27 per mfc.

BEFORE EXPECTED RENEWAL OF POWER STRUGGLE

Pay Last Respects To 'Duke Of Duval'

BENAVIDES, Tex. (AP) — Thousands of South Texans gathered at the Benavides City Cemetery today to say farewell to South Texas political boss George B. Parr.

Parr, 74, was found in his automobile on his ranch Tuesday dead of a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head. The aging "Duke of Duval" faced a five-year prison term for federal income tax evasion and was engaged in a power struggle for political control of Duval County.

An estimated 2,000 persons gathered at Parr's palatial home on the outskirts of nearby San Diego for a rosary service Wednesday. They filed through the patio area of the large two-story Spanish architecture place into the den, where an open casket sat amidst relatives and flowers.

A mortuary spokesman said about 1,000 persons visited that establishment to pay final respects Wednesday morning. The body was moved to the Parr home in midafternoon and hundreds more filed past before the rosary service.

Prior to the religious service, friends were greeted by ousted Duval County Judge Archer Parr, the Duke's nephew and heir apparent, and Eva Perez Parr, Parr's widow, who has seldom been seen in public.

At the conclusion of Parr's funeral, the political situation in Duval County is expected to reach fever pitch again.

Before his sudden death and the resulting political truce, of sorts, the Parrs were engaaged in a power struggle for control of the county with the Carrillo family and South Texas millionaire rancher-banker Clinton Manges.

The struggle is expected to reach another climax Saturday with the election of trustees for the Benavides-Freer school district. In that election, Parr-backed candidates face opponents supported by the Carrillo-Manges faction for control of the school board. D.C. (Carrillo) Chapa, patriarch of the Carrillo family, is opposed by Hilda Parr, George's sister-in-law, for one of the school board seats.

In Duval County, school board posts are political plums because board members control the hiring of teachers and all other school employes, giving them political control of everyone who works for the school system.

BILL SNEED

Bill Sneed Is Named ABC Prexy

Bill Sneed is president-elect of the American Business Club.

Breaking with traditional schedules, the ABClub pushes ahead annual elections in order that officers-elect may participate and have the benefit of training at the ABClub Region 6 Conference and Training Session scheduled for here April 17-20.

Other officers-elect are Don Brooks, first vice president; Ralph Emerson, second vice president; Tommy Johnson, third vice president; Floyd Earls, Herb Johnson, Mike McKinney, Tom Verhon and James Worden, sergeants-at-arms; and Whitney Reynolds, secretary-treasurer.

The newly-elected slate of officers will take office July 1, said Wayne Rock, president. On the board of directors with the new officers will be Max Green, Wayne Rock, Morris Robertson, Tom Vernon, Bill Bradford and Earl Newell.

The meeting this Friday noon at the Settles will be a Ladies Day affair, and several of the auxiliary members will wear pioneer style dresses, with bonnets. Members also are encouraged to wear some garment or garments of the 1776-1886 vintage. This is in preparation for the regional convention here April 17-20. President Rock also hopes to get a head count at the meeting of those planning to ride a bus to Midland-Odessa airport April 18 to greet Chuck Blythe, national president elect, and Bill Pearson, national secretary.

Larger Estate Tax Exemption Being Sought

WACO — The president of the Texas Farm Bureau has asked Texas House members in the U. S. Congress to introduce identical bills increasing the federal estate tax exemption from $60,000 to $200,000.

Carrol Chaloupka of Dalhart, in a message to the Texas Congressmen, said the federal estate tax has become an "unreasonable burden" on those farmers and ranchers who wish to keep the family farm or ranch in the family.

A bill introduced by Rep. Omar Burleson increases the exemption from $60,000 to $200,000. It also raises the marital deduction from 50 percent of the adjusted gross estate to $100,000, plus 50 percent of the total value of the adjusted gross estate. Those provisions apply to all estates.

In addition, H.R. 1793 establishes a procedure permitting farm and ranch estates to be assessed at their value for agricultural purposes rather than at values for higher uses, provided that the land is devoted to farming and ranching for at least five years. Chaloupka said the bill takes into consideration the inflation that has taken place since 1942 when the $60,000 exemption was adopted.

Can And Must

In his newsletter this week, Cong. Omar Burleson notes the possibility of a move (in which he is sharing) to enact corrective welfare legislation.

The goal, as he points out, is to rid rolls of "professional recipients" without penalizing those with genuine needs for help. In fact, he predicts that those who really need help can get more of it, and the federal government save $1 billion in the process.

This is a lot easier said than done because of writing equitable legislation to accomplish what he and other colleagues have in mind. Partisans of those who may be shaken loose will exert great pressure, and tenacious resistance will come from bureaucrats whose administrative jobs may be threatened. But it can be done, and it should be done because, as the congressman pointed out, the welfare load has doubled within five years. Productive workers are getting restless and weary.

"Many federal social programs need corrective legislation to insure that aid is channeled exclusively to the legitimately needy," he writes. True; but the statement ought to be included to review most federal programs of all character. The times demand that the fat be cut off, and that unproductive bureaucracy be regarded as part of "welfare" that can be eliminated.

Looking At Franchisers

The Federal Trade Commission is investigating franchise restaurant operations to determine whether illegal methods have been used to pad prices in the $10 billion-a-year industry.

The FTC stressed that its probe does not imply that any violations of the law exist. The commission gave the restaurants six months to reconsider their policies before deciding whether to invite possible legal action.

The first stage of the investigation will require 75 restaurant chains to report whether they require individual operators to buy supplies from the parent company or from a specific supplier, the FTC said.

The first thought that occurs relative to this is that it seems reasonable that parent companies must impose some buying procedures on foods and their preparation to insure maintenance of quality and uniformity. A chain can hardly be expected to grant a franchise and then allow its holder to operate without some controls.

The proliferation of franchise restaurants and the competition this fosters should take care of the pricing factor. The real problem is to make certain that franchise holders get something besides a fleecing for their investment.

Looking Back

William F. Buckley, Jr.

Fred Friendly, professor at Columbia and mogul at the Ford Foundation, is, unhappily, a liberal of stubborn integrity which is in this case defined as someone who believes that even people who disagree with him have the right to be heard. This position is as widely proclaimed by American liberals, particularly those in university faculties, as it is violated. Mr. Friendly made his reputation as the theatrical genius behind Edward R. Murrow, whose highly tendentious, highly inflammatory, highly successful series, "Person to Person," Mr. Friendly wrote and produced during the fifties, initiating what we now accept as "television journalism."

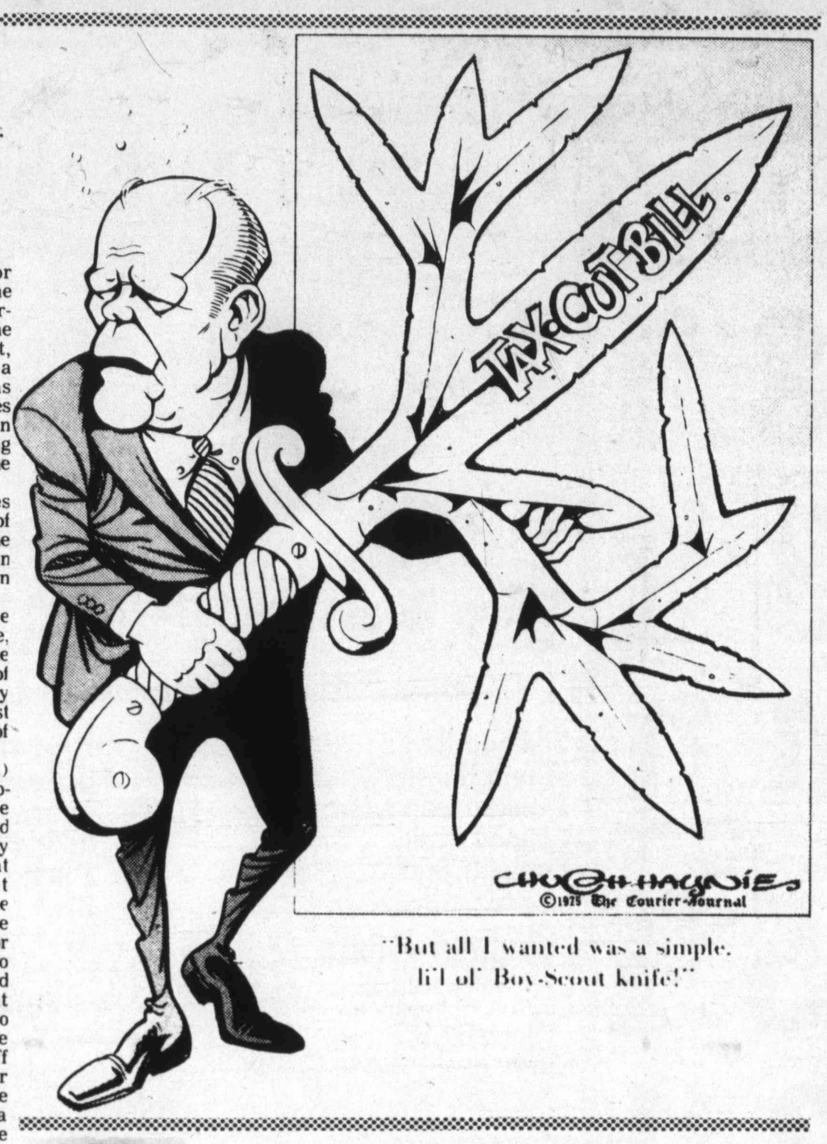

NOT UNEXPECTEDLY, Mr. Friendly has always been alarmed by the so-called Fairness Doctrine of the Federal Communications Commission, interpreting a Congressional statute of 1949. Drastically compressed, what you have floating about is a legislative-administrative-judicial thundercloud that now and then looses a bolt of lightning against this tiny little radio station, or that mastodonic television network, in punishment for inadequately complying with the inexactly articulated doctrine that the airwaves cannot be used either 1) to defame a particular person, without giving him the chance to reply; or 2) to represent a particular point of view so strenuously as directly, or indirectly, to suggest that alternative points of view either don't exist or are not worth the attention of serious people.

WHAT MR. FRIENDLY has always been afraid of is that the Federal Communications Commission, or the courts themselves, will actually reach down into the editor's desk and do the editing of a particular show, or series, to assure "fairness". He is absolutely correct that no single program on television (or article in a magazine) can be successfully edited by attorneys for both sides of any question. It is the historical application of the Fairness Doctrine, and the record of the FCC and the courts concerning it, that brought Mr. Friendly to write a book, an excerpt from which was featured in the "New York Times Magazine" of last Sunday, wherein Mr. Friendly reveals fascinating information he came upon in the course of his researches.

VERY SIMPLY, what he exposes is a huge Dirty Trick Enterprise of the Democratic Party under the leadership of Presidents John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson in 1963 and 1964.

What happened is that the Democratic National Committee, under the prodding of the White House, decided to take advantage of the Fairness Doctrine by stimulating complaints against hard-right radio commentators, of the stripe of Billy James Hargis.

TO ACCOMPLISH THIS, they 1) set up a phoney committee, apparently divorced from the Democratic Party but in fact funded by it; 2) laundered a pile of party money and slithered it into that committee; 3) appended that committee to a dormant tax-free committee, in order to lubricate the operation, make it less painful for the donor and less obvious to political sharp-shooters; 4) gulled Arthur Larson, a prominent Republican innocent close to Eisenhower, into heading the committee, without tipping him off to the fact that it was an undercover parapolitical operation of the Democratic Party; 5) subsidized a left-hack polemicist to originate the alleged complaints, which were then directed under the Fairness Doctrine to the FCC; and, while he was at it, to write a scurrilous book about Sen. Goldwater, which was subsidized in exactly the way that the book about Justice Goldberg was subsidized by one of the Rockefellers.

"But all I wanted was a simple, li'l ol' Boy-Scout knife!"

Dumb Things

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

April Fool's Day came and went this week with little excitement. I'm sure it's one of the dumbest of holidays and traditions, but actually one of my few claims to fame may be centered around April Fools' Day.

Back in 1945, Eleanor Mortensen, who works for the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, and I decided to put out an April Fools' Day issue of the newspaper at Texas A&I. Instead of calling it The South Texan, we made it tabloid size and called it The Souse Texan.

THERE HAS BEEN A SOUSE Texan edition every April Fools' Day since that one came out and this week marked the 30th anniversary of the occasion. I will say this. Ours was the biggest surprise. Eleanor and I got to discuss the issue in the Dean's office shortly after it hit the streets.

But dumb things happen on days other than April Fools' Day. I was talking the other day to Brew Dyer, who recently retired from T&P, about the dumbest train wreck I ever saw. A train used to go through Orla once a week on the Santa Fe and in spite of the scarcity of trains in that area, one woman managed to drive right into the side of a box car.

I called one of the area papers at the time and told them there had been a train wreck out there and I was leaving to go to the scene. "However," I said, "As far as it is from Pecos, I can't get there in time for your deadline."

They insisted that they needed information, so I suggested they call Mrs. Jimmy Cooksey, because I thought the train wreck was in back of her house. When I got to Orla, Mrs. Cooksey was at the scene and she said the reporters called her, woke her up and asked about the train wreck. She said, "What train wreck?"

THEY ANSWERED, "MARJ says to look out your back door." She looked and came back and said, "There really is a train wreck."

The dumbest "stabbing" I ever went to came about when somebody called in and reported "Man lying outside his motel door. There's blood everywhere. I think he is dying."

When we got to the scene, everybody was laughing. It seems the gentleman's wife stood right inside the door and hit him in the head with a bottle of ketchup as he came through the doorway. He had a headache.

Among the dumb things I have done when taking church youth groups and scout groups on outings was falling in the water at Six Flags, sliding down the mountain at Mitre Peak, and locking the car keys inside the trunk at the Monahans Sandhills. That's only a few examples.

I know the dumbest break-in story I ever worked was in Pecos when a man climbed up a tree and tried to break in the Pecos jail in the top of the courthouse and fell through the window of the deputy's living quarters.

I used to love the story over there about Bill Babb a dozen years ago. When Billie Sol put a neon sign in his yard with a little ewe lamb and the words, "Billie Sol Estes lives here," Bill put up a homemade sign in his yard that said, "Bill Babb lives here." He lived across the street.

THERE'S A SEQUEL to the Bill Babb story. This week's Pecos Enterprise tells that Bill has worked for his Dad, Bennie, for the past four years and resigned to work elsewhere. Bennie presented him an engraved watch which read "For 22 days of dedicated service."

But my own UT freshman son pulled a dumb one this last weekend. He got inside a room where there were three Mrs. Burrises. There was Mrs. Bob Burris, Mrs. Buddy Burris and Mrs. Lynn Burris. All three of their husbands and a couple more Burris brothers all played football at OU and won many all conference, All American and all everything else honors.

Jim Bob calmly announced, "I think Texas will beat Oklahoma this year." After the three women overcame their shock, they conferred in the kitchen, then stood in front of that TU freshman and sang a rendition of "Don't Send My Son to Texas, I's Rather He Be Dead" and three choruses of "Boomer sooner."

Oh, well — Hook 'Em Horns.

Big Firms Tarnished

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — "Among the Romans, the deity who presided over commerce and banking was Mercury, who, by a strange association, was also the god of thieves and of orators."

These were the words chosen by Harry O'Neill to begin an address a few days ago to a meeting of the Association of National Advertisers. In the world of big business, his remarks won't be forgotten for a long, long time.

O'Neill is executive vice president of Opinion Research Corp., a big polling organization based in Princeton, N.J., that documents the attitudes of people toward many things, business included.

"Big business, as reflected by the attitudes and opinions of the American public, has fallen on hard times," he said. Americans are beginning to think as the Romans thought, and a new holiday might result.

"The Romans, who looked upon merchants with contempt, fancied there was a resemblance between theft and merchandising and they easily found a figurative connection between theft and eloquence...

"On the 17th day of May, in each year, the merchants held a public festival, and walked in procession to the Temple of Mercury, for the purpose of begging pardon of that deity for all the lying and cheating they had found it convenient to practice, in the way of doing business..."

Today, said O'Neill, the reputation of business is badly tarnished, "its leaders are held in relatively low esteem, and the supposedly happy recipient of its products and services is becoming increasingly critical."

In 1965, about 67 per cent of Americans agreed that "profits of large companies help make things better for everyone." But the latest poll showed only 46 per cent agreed.

"This is the first time," said O'Neill, that agreement with this proposition has fallen below 50 per cent."

At the same time, a growing number of Americans support the proposition that "In many of our largest industries, one of two companies have too much control of the industry." Seventy-six per cent agreed, up from 59 in 1959.

Almost the same proportion of the public believes "There's too much power concentrated in the hands of a few large companies," O'Neill stated. And a similar percentage agreed, "as they grow bigger, companies usually get cold and impersonal.'

These opinions, said O'Neill, are the basis for the majority of the public "for the first time since we have been taking these measurements, supporting the notion that the best interests of the country would be served by breaking up some of our largest corporations."

Ford's Anger

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — Despite publicly refusing to assess blame for the collapse of mediation efforts in the Middle East, President Ford's private reaction of hurt and anger at Israel now threatens relations between the U.S. and Israel more seriously than at any time during 27 years of unique friendship.

THIS SPONTANEOUS response inside the Oval office to Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's failure may not last. But President Ford's private bitterness must now be reckoned a wholly new, wholly unexpected factor as Israel faces overwhelming world pressure (at the forthcoming Geneva conference) to get off conquered Arab lands.

Rightly or wrongly, Mr. Ford now feels that the government of Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin treated him, personally, "with contempt" at a time of American decline in the world by allowing Kissinger's mediation effort to collapse.

THAT EXPLAINS Mr. Ford's assertion, in his now celebrated letter to Rabin, that he is reassessing U.S. policy toward Israel, with obvious implications for Israel's requested $2.59 billion in new U.S. aid. The President's letter and anger could be contrived pressure to force greater Israeli concessions. But it also poses for Israel a dangerous new arm's-length relationship with its only ally while facing a hostile Geneva conference packed with enemies.

PRESIDENTIAL AIDES with precise knowledge of Oval Office thinking have sketched a scenario of Israel's political plans for the immediate future which deepens the American gloom of fallen world power in Vietnam, Cambodia, Turkey, Portugal and Cyprus.

This is the conjecture: Israel sees the American presidency in a state of decline and dares not risk its own security by withdrawing from Egypt's Sinai Peninsula, as President Ford wants, without commitments Egypt refuses to give. Hence, the Israeli government made a conscious decision to retain the Sinai passes and oil fields and instead make an end run: take its fight directly to the overwhelmingly Democratic Congress and American public opinion, thereby warding off White House pressure through reduced U.S. aid to Israel.

WHETHER KISSINGER himself subscribes to that scenario is not known today. What is known is that Gerald Ford believes in it, holding that view with tenacity. He feels, according to one close observer during the latest Kissinger shuttle diplomacy, that Israel treated him "with contempt" at a moment he could ill afford it.

"Jerry Ford is not one to get angry easily," one insider told us, "but he is angry now."

Looking For Patty

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — A few weeks ago heavily armed agents of the FBI broke into a young lady's apartment in Alexandria, Va., at 10:30 at night and said they were looking for Patty Hearst. They had no search warrant, and claimed they didn't need one because the warrants already out for Patty Hearst covered them.

I RECEIVED A CALL from the daughter of a friend of mine who lives on Capitol Hill. She wanted to know what she should do if someone knocks on her door late at night and says he's from the FBI.

"Well," I said, "the FBI has very clear guidelines on that. They've been warning women for years to bolt their doors at night and not open them to anyone."

"But if I don't open the door they'll break it down," she protested. "And then the landlady will make me pay for a new door."

"NOW WAIT A minute. The only reason the FBI broke into that lady's apartment in Alexandria is because her neighbors said she looked like Patty Hearst. You don't look like Patty Hearst, do you?"

"How do I know what Patty Hearst looks like?" she said.

"Everyone knows what Patty Hearst looks like. She has long hair, wears a black beret, an Army jacket and carries a submachine gun in her hand at all times."

"THAT'S THE PICTURE they print in papers," the young lady protested. "But she also wears wigs and dresses and high-heel shoes. Some people have even said she was seen in blackface."

"I agree you have a problem," I admitted, "Let's see, suppose when the person from the FBI knocks on the door you demand he shove his credentials under it?"

"The girl in Alexandria did that, and that's when they broke down her door. The FBI said they thought it was a trick."

"I CAN SEE IT from their point of view," I said. "After all, if you are from the FBI and someone demands your credentials you could indeed believe the person is Patty Hearst. If the girl had nothing to hide, she'd take the FBI's word for it."

"So you're suggesting I open the door if someone knocks on it and claims he's a G-man?"

"I'm not saying that exactly. Perhaps you could go to the phone and call the FBI and ask them if they had sent someone."

"The girl in Alexandria did that and the agents pulled their guns on her. I used to be afraid of just burglars and rapists. Now I'm afraid of the Justice Department."

"Why can't the FBI find another way of catching Patty Hearst without breaking into everyone's apartment because some kooky neighbor says she lives there?"

"In all due respect, I don't think it's your job or mine to tell the FBI how to catch Patty Hearst. After all, if they break down enough doors, they'll find her."

Detects Pot Smoking

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there a test that tells whether or not a person has been smoking marijuana? I heard that there is, but my girlfriend says no. — J.E.Y.

Yes, there is such a test. In fact, it is discussed in a recent report from the Journal of the American Medical Association. Researchers report on development of a test based on the presence of certain antibodies in the bodies of smokers. These antibodies are produced in response to cannabis metabolites.

The test was discovered quite by accident in treatment of a patient with a blood disease known as autoimmune hemolytic anemia. The patient had suffered a sudden and severe attack of this disease. Doctors asked him to list everything he had eaten, drunk, or smoked just prior to his attack. He admitted to smoking marijuana, and told the doctors that, come to think of it, he had had previous attacks when he smoked it.

He was given a blood test to see if he had developed antibodies to marijuana. He had. Tests were run on 17 volunteers who were also users. All had antibodies to the marijuana metabolites.

Researchers say the test is so sensitive that even a whiff of smoke breathed as one passes a room in which people are smoking marijuana can trigger a positive finding. As far as I know, the test is still only in experimental use.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 38 and just had a hysterectomy. I feel weak, get cold easily, and feel lazy lazy most of the time. The doctor told me that after my full recovery I would need hormones. Do I really need those shots? — Mrs. G.E.C.

Normally, a hysterectomy (removal of the uterus only) wouldn't cause more than the temporary weakness associated with any major abdominal surgery. But if the ovaries were removed at the same time, which seems to be the case with you, you would enter what is called "surgical menopause." Persistent symptoms of fatigue and changes in body temperature are common in this.

The hormones would make up for those formerly produced in the removed ovaries. The sudden loss of the natural hormone supply is what causes the symptoms you describe.

If these symptoms persist you should certainly take the hormones, either by injection or orally. My booklet, "Make Menopause Easier," includes a discussion of surgical menopause, which in some ways is quite similar to the naturally occurring type. My Answer

Billy Graham

I always read your column with profit. Something I've often wondered about is why, in the Lord's prayer, it says in Matthew 6:13, "Lead us not into temptation" because in a recent "My Answer" column, you said God would never lead us wrong.

R.E.M.

This part of the Lord's prayer reflects the deep sense of our personal weakness against the powers of evil. The subsequent phrase "deliver us" is not merely to be thought of as preserving or guarding, but the idea of actually rescuing us when temptation confronts us.

But you are right. God never leads us wrongly — certainly never into temptation. That's the work of Satan, the enemy of our souls. And he often finds us easy prey for the lures he provides because of the weakness of the flesh.

This prayer request can't always be granted — since in exceptional cases it may be part of the permission given Satan as prince of this world. So it was, you remember, with the Lord.

The Lord's business is to battle against the devil. That war has been won, of course, because of Calvary and the empty tomb, but skirmishes continue. This prayer solicits the Father's help in acquiring the victorious life. We should pray for it constantly.

A Devotion For Today . .

"I know that my redeemer liveth." (Job 19:25)

PRAYER: Our gracious Father, with joy we thank Thee for Christ's sacrifice and His glorious resurrection. Help us to live rejoicing in the Easter fact. Amen.

Welfare Reform Could Aid Needy, Save Money

OMAR BURLESON, M.C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A number of us in the U.S. House of Representatives recently introduced a welfare reform act that will save the taxpayers at least $1.5 billion. The legislation has more than 50 sponsors.

At a news conference held in the Capitol at the time the legislation was introduced, it was pointed out that, "It is time that we limited public welfare to its original purpose — helping those who are really incapable of helping themselves. We do not believe that able-bodied citizens, the welfare professionals, should be permitted to enjoy a relaxed lifestyle at the taxpayers' expense."

Every welfare reform proposal offered in recent years has promised nothing except an expansion of welfare at a cost of many billions of dollars.

HAS WORKED

Similar successful reforms in several major states prove that we can save enough money through this Welfare Reform Act to increase benefits to those who truly need them, while at the same time saving the taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars.

Both political parties should work together to restore fiscal sanity to this country, and this legislation is a step in the right direction. No program of government should escape pruning as we try to escape the growth of an inflationary budget deficit that could exceed $80 billion in the next fiscal year.

MOST ABUSED

The main purposes of the act are: To provide assistance only to those entitled by need to receive it; to provide sufficient aid to the truly needy; to operate the system within the limits of public resources; to prevent fraudulent abuse of the system; and to provide incentives for recipients to find employment and leave the system.

The principal focus of the Welfare Reform act is upon the program of Aid to Families with Dependent Children, the category of welfare which has been the most costly and subject to greatest abuse. The AFDC caseload which doubled in the decade ending in 1965 had doubled again by 1970.

Too many in the welfare bureaucracy and among legislators at all levels forget that the goal of a successful welfare program ought to be getting people off welfare and into productive employment again. Through this bill, we propose to give meaning to that goal. Welfare costs have doubled in five years; and it's time to call a halt. Many other federal programs need corrective legislation.

Wagon Boss Is Named Here

Dr. Hank Thompson, Big Spring has been named 1975 Wagon Boss for Howard County during the West Texas Boys Ranch annual Roundup. T. L. Griffin will head up activities in Borden County.

The annual Roundup is an organized effort to raise operating funds for the 72 boys at the Ranch near San Angelo.

Over 800 boys have been cared for at West Texas Boys Ranch since 1947, and all money raised is through donations and contributions of cash or livestock. Some special Roundup events this year include a match roping between the father-son teams of Jim Bob and Mac Altizer and Tuffy and Roy Cooper on May 17; several special auction sales in the area; and the big OS Ranch Steer Roping and Art Exhibit at Post on Oct. 4-5.

"This year's Roundup is especially important to the Ranch in view of rising prices and inflation," said Jim Prather, chairman. "We count heavily on the revenue from the Roundup to meet the bread and butter needs of the Ranch. All donations are tax deductible."

Bowers Judge

Jack Bowers, director of choral music for Big Spring High School, will be one of the judges for the 16th annual Cisco Junior Music Festival for bands, orchestras and choirs, this weekend. He and Wyley Peebles, Cisco Junior College, will judge concert singing.
