Police Hunting Trio In Brink Truck Holdup

CHICAGO (AP) — Police sought three men today who bound two priests in a church rectory, jumped a guard and escaped with what officials described as a "large haul" from a Brink's, Inc., armored truck.

The robbery was almost a duplicate of a church holdup in Paterson, N.J., Dec. 21.

Guilty Plea In Stab Death

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — Benjamin Tyree, 40, a construction worker, pleaded guilty Monday to voluntary manslaughter in the stabbing death of a Texas student.

The victim, Lee Roy Fitzgerald, 24, of Plainview, died Aug. 8 during a fight with Tyree outside the Lake Mary Lodge eight miles southeast of here.

A second-degree murder charge filed against Tyree was reduced at the request of Jerry Smith, deputy county attorney. Smith said Fitzgerald's wife and father living at Plainview, "wanted it that way."

Tyree will be sentenced Jan. 4. The charge carries a maximum prison sentence of one to 10 years.

Smith noted that a witness, Danny Harriman, 16, testified Tyree and Fitzgerald had argued at a bar at the lodge and that Fitzgerald "got the best" of Tyree in a fight outside.

When Fitzgerald let Tyree get to his feet, the Flagstaff man used a knife on the Arizona State College student, Smith said. The county attorney said Tyree was drunk at the time.

U.N. Skirts Big Showdown

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations General Assembly agreed today to a plan to wind up its year-end business without a showdown over the Soviet Union's voting rights.

Under the formula, announced to the 115-nation assembly, seats to become vacant on the U.N. Security Council Dec. 31 would be filled by a private poll of delegations, to be conducted by the assembly president, Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana.

The Security Council election and adoption of a resolution authorizing some spending after Jan. 1 were the main obstacles to recessing the assembly. It is expected to finish either later today or Wednesday morning and adjourn until Jan. 11.

Quaison-Sackey told the assembly he would conduct the proposed poll in his office, and announce the results during the afternoon.

The only contest was between Jordan and Mali for the seat being vacated by Morocco. The Netherlands, Uruguay and Malaysia were unopposed for the other seats to be filled.

Bus Victim Identified Wrong

CUERNAVACA, Mexico (AP) — A woman killed in a bus accident between Cuernavaca and Mexico City Sunday was not a San Benito, Tex., woman as first reported.

Public Ministry officials late Monday said the woman first identified as Mrs. Arnoldo Obolado-Cabaza of San Benito actually was Maria Magdalena Bolado, the San Benito woman's sister.

Shakeup Coming In 'Little Cabinet'

BULLETIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Brink's Inc. estimated today the company lost $223,000 to three robbers who overpowered two priests in a church rectory in a suburb here and fled in an armored truck, which they looted. Brink's said the amount was an estimate and a more accurate figure would be forthcoming.

Money Truck Abandoned

Brink's truck in which three masked gunmen escaped after robbing safe in rectory of Divine Savior Church in Norridge, Ill., suburb of Chicago, is found abandoned in a nearby cemetery. Empty money bag is in foreground. Gunmen bound two priests and a guard and took a "large haul" of cash from the armored truck in which they fled. The robbers were the object of a widening police hunt today. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Over 120 White Hostages Rescued; Ten Slaughtered

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — White mercenaries and Congolese troops today captured Wamba and rescued more than 120 white hostages. But they reported about 10 white hostages were slaughtered by Congolese rebels and parts of their flesh eaten during Christmas.

The mercenaries seized Wamba two hours after dawn this morning following a drive of more than 250 miles northeast from Stanleyville, former capital of the Communist-backed rebel Congolese People's Republic.

The column radioed back that between 120 and 150 European hostages of the rebels had been found alive. But the mercenaries said that they had discovered the rebels had butchered several whites on Christmas Day.

About 10 had been killed and parts of their flesh eaten in an act of ritual cannibalism, the radio message said.

The radio message gave few details. It did not say whether the rescue column had encountered any rebel resistance at Wamba or whether it had suffered any casualties. Reports from Stanleyville said about 70 mercenaries and a force of Congolese soldiers had taken part in the operation.

TO SAFETY
U.S. officials said it was hoped to bring the rescued hostages to safety by Wednesday.

The officials said they thought the hostages would be flown to Leopoldville in U.S. Air Force planes.

Among the hostages last reported at Wamba is William McClesney, an American Protestant missionary from Phoenix, Ariz. The radio message from Wamba did not mention whether he had been found. McClesney is the last American citizen known to be behind rebel lines in the northeastern Congo.

Leaders Review Key World Issues

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson meets today with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Presidential Assistant George B. Bundy to review world developments.

The three also were to discuss the State Department's budget for the next fiscal year and go over personnel matters.

Rusk and Bundy, presidential assistant for national security affairs, were to fly to the President's ranch from Washington during the morning.

GERMANY ENVOY

George McGhee, U.S. ambassador to Bonn, who is home for consultation, will fly to the ranch Wednesday to review developments in West Germany.

Johnson's statement that he would review with Rusk and Bundy "ambassadors throughout the world" appeared to be in line with reports he plans shifts in 15 to 20 ambassadorships.

Official sources in Washington denied that McGhee or David K. E. Bruce, ambassador to London, would be involved in the shifts.

START IN JANUARY

The shifting is expected to

LBJ Orders Talent Hunt For Positions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson had a lot of officials and their wives sitting on the edge of their chairs today — some with a sense of foreboding, some in hopeful expectation.

Much excitement was aroused by word that the President plans a shakeup in his "little Cabinet," that he will make many new appointments to such posts as undersecretary, assistant secretary and other administrators.

"TALENT HUNT"

The President has ordered a "talent hunt." He wants, so far as possible, to recruit his new administrators from men and women already in the government.

So the question arose: Who will get the ax, and who will be promoted to jobs paying as high as $30,000 a year?

It is one of the hardest secrets to crack, because the President is playing his cards so close to his chest.

Johnson dipped into government ranks in making two of his most recent appointments. Saturday he named William J. Driver to head the Veterans Administration. Monday night he selected Sheldon S. Cohen to be collector of internal revenue.

SUCCEEDS GLEASON

Driver, who had been deputy VA administrator, succeeds John S. Gleason Jr., who resigned. Cohen, chief counsel of the IRS, succeeds acting Commissioner Bertrand Harding, who had been serving since Mortimer Caplin resigned last July.

Some doubt is expressed as to how sweeping the "little Cabinet" shakeup will be. All such officials submit their resignations, as a matter of formality, when a president is newly inaugurated. The President can give a man the gate by merely accepting the resignations.

But will he do this, for example, to Charles S. Murphy, undersecretary of agriculture? Murphy was a top manager of Johnson's campaign for the presidential nomination in 1960.

SON OF IDOL

Or to Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of LBJ's idol?

Or to W. Averell Harriman, longtime Democratic stalwart and specialist in foreign affairs? He is an undersecretary of state. Insiders take into consideration talk that relations between him and Johnson are not close.

Without firing anybody, the President can put the LBJ brand on much of the government when he fills a long list of existing vacancies.

These include about 15 federal judgeships, nearly as many little Cabinet positions and seven ambassadorships.

His idea: Get the kids off the street — and let 'em talk. Young people seeking action on New Year's Eve can find it at five all-night coffee houses opened by the Pasadena area churches. Their main product will be talk. The topic? Any-

Being Called A Worm No Insult

MONTREAL (AP) — If your wife calls you a worm, she's closer to being scientifically accurate than if she calls you an insect," a U.S. government insect expert said today.

The reason, said entomologist Arthur M. Heimpel of Beltsville, Md., is that worms, like humans, have proteins in their tissues, but insects do not.

FIREMEN, ENGINEMEN

Railroad Mum As Strike Hits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen announced a system-wide strike against the Southern Railway today, effective this morning.

J. W. Jennings, vice president of the AFL-CIO union, said the walkout resulted from a company move to operate locomotives without firemen. He said both sides had agreed to meet Jan. 13, 1965, to negotiate the issue, and called the company move a breach of contract.

Headquarters of the 8,100-mile line declined immediate comment. A spokesman said there would be a statement as soon as information had been rounded up.

SEN. MONRONEY

Triumph Seen By Monroney

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma believes the race for the assistant Senate Democratic leadership will end with his own selection as a compromise.

Monroney said in an interview Monday the contest is a close one among three senators — John O. Pastore of Rhode Island, Russell B. Long, of Louisiana, and Monroney.

Quake Lifts Ocean Floor

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A geophysicist who spent six weeks in the Alaska area studying effects of the March 27 earthquake said Monday that in many places off the coast the ocean floor raised as much as 50 feet.

Richard J. Malloy said his findings were based on soundings made in 1927 and just after the quake.

PICKETS GO UP

Reports of picketing came in from various points along the 14-state Southern system, which services such cities as Washington, Atlanta, Birmingham, New Orleans, Memphis, St. Louis and Louisville.

"Although the carrier began violating our contract at 12:01 a.m. Dec. 26, the brotherhood refrained from strike action until today, so that holiday travelers would not be stranded," Jennings said in his statement.

He said the carrier could have precipitated the crisis as early as Nov. 13, 1964, when procedures of the Railway Labor Act would have permitted either side to move on its own on the issue.

PUSHES DEMANDS

In addition to the issue of operating locomotives without firemen — or helpers as they are frequently called since diesel units became common — the union is pushing demands for changes in rules on overtime pay, away-from-home expenses, wage and work guarantees, paid holidays and other matters. Jennings said the union would have been free to strike over those matters since Nov. 13 also.

Veep-Elect Goes Off Senate Payroll

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey formally resigned today as a Democratic senator from Minnesota.

The resignation clears the way for the appointment by Gov. Karl Rolvaag of Walter Frederick Mondale, 36, Minnesota attorney general, to serve during the remaining two years of Humphrey's term.

The governor announced Nov. 18 he had chosen Mondale, who has described himself as a liberal, with views that "closely coincide" with those of President Johnson and Humphrey.

Although Humphrey goes off the Senate payroll tonight, and will not begin drawing his vice-presidential salary until his inauguration Jan. 20, he quit the Senate early to give Mondale seniority over other new senators.

HUBERT HUMPHREY

Machine Responds Big To Alien Coin

LONDON (AP) — James McCall, 50, put an Italian coin into the shilling slot on a subway ticket-vending machine.

The coin set the machine into motion. It rained a torrent of tickets and six-pence coins, each coin worth seven pence.

As tickets and money piled up, a policeman summoned a cashier. The cashier opened the machine and extracted the Italian coin.

"That did it," he said. The machine had issued 50 tickets worth a total of $7 and 50 six-pence coins worth $3.50.

McCall went to court Monday on a charge of attempted theft. "I was flabbergasted when it happened," said McCall, an unemployed plumber. "All I wanted was to get to the other side of town."

But a subway official said foreign coins are often used to defraud the subway, and the magistrate fined McCall $28.

The bidding:

Opening lead: Jack of ♠
A hasty and perhaps thoughtless play at the opening gun provided South — the declarer at four hearts — with ample cause to repent at his leisure.

West opened the jack of spades which was covered in turn by the queen, king, and ace. Declarer led a diamond to North's ace in order to try the heart finesse, which lost to West's king.

There was a temptation to cash the ten of spades and then make a natural exit in the hope that he could subsequently score tricks with both the king and queen of clubs. A moment's reflection, however, convinced West that a passive course would not succeed even if South did have length in clubs. Declarer wouldn't have opened the diamond suit unless he had the king. It therefore becomes routine for him to strip out the spades and diamonds before making a club play. When West goes in with the queen of that suit, he will be forced to surrender a trick on the return.

West decided to risk a possible overtrick in an effort to get East in to make a play for him. At trick three he returned the three of spades. East covered dummy's seven with the nine and was somewhat surprised when he held the trick — not too surprised, however, to come back with a club. South played the seven and West won with the queen. The latter now exited with a trump and waited to score the setting trick later with the king of clubs.

Declarer was admittedly the victim of unfavorable distribution as well as some sparkling defense. He could have wrapped up the deal, however, by permitting West to hold the first trick with the jack of spades. The latter will presumably continue the suit; however, East never gets in. After trumps are drawn, South cashes three diamonds and then leads the jack of clubs. West is in with the queen and whatever he returns presents declarer with his 10th trick.

An examination of the combined holdings reveals that the contract is safe against any distribution as long as East is kept out of the lead. Declarer should have planned his campaign accordingly.

Conservation Contracts Keep Pace During Year

Operators in the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District kept pace last year in utilization of the Great Plains Conservation Program, according to Earl V. Hogan, range conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service.

Seven new contracts, covering 39,835 acres, were developed during the year. Included in this were 3,840 acres treated to brush control of mesquite and cactus. Other conservation measures provided were terraces, diversion terraces, farm ponds, seeding of cropland to grass, etc.

The 1964 additions brought to 41 the number of GPCP contracts in the district, covering 166,700 acres.

The GPCP is a federal program of cost-share assistance to farmers and ranchers in the Great Plains area to help stabilize both land and income. In Texas, there are 96 counties covered by the program. In all there are 5,813 plans over 8,936,511 acres. The cost-share obligation on this plan is $18,260,842.

Out of the nearly nine million acres committed to the program, 271,643 acres are in land formerly devoted to surplus crops but now converted to grassland.

Besides the contracts in force, there are 1,179 applications which have not been developed to the contract stage. One trend noted during the year was toward smaller units, indicating that operators of smaller farms and ranches are finding the GPCP useful.

Information on the program is available at the SCS office. Among those making use of the conservation program in the district are Douthitt Ranch, H. A. Hays, E. J. Roberts, Carroll Choate, Claude Nichols, Jim Hodnett, Kent Morgan, W. L. Wilson, Lorin McDowell.

Medic Says LBJ Bit Overweight But Healthy

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — John Willis Hurst of Atlanta, — The doctor who keeps daily watch over President Johnson predicts he will withstand the stresses and strains of the White House in outstanding fashion.

Rear Adm. George G. Burkley, personal physician to the President, describes Johnson's health as excellent.

But Burkley, who keeps in touch with the President's health through daily observation and a general check every 7 to 10 days, would like Johnson to take off a little weight.

He reports Johnson weighs 205 to 210 pounds. Burkley wishes it were nearer 200.

Johnson recently was examined by a heart specialist, Dr.

Johnson likes bourbon and water before dinner, hasn't smoked since his heart attack, gets seven or eight hours sleep, usually awakens between 7 and 8 a.m.

Furthermore, Burkley reported, Johnson sleeps well, is on no special diet, and takes daily supervised exercises, augmented by walking and sometimes by swimming.

Racial Bars Falling In Guard Ranks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief of the National Guard said today all 50 states — with Alabama and Mississippi falling into line last — have dropped bars against mixing Negroes and whites in their Guard units.

"The National Guard of all states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico is now integrated," Maj. Gen. Winston P. Wilson told The Associated Press.

"All restrictions, whether by law or administrative regulation, barring membership for race, religion or national origin have been eliminated in the National Guard," he added.

Wilson, chief of the National Guard Bureau, acknowledged that there had been "only token integration in some areas so far." But Wilson, an Air Guard general from Arkansas, contended that even token integration "represents a milestone in the history of the National Guard."

President Johnson and his Committee on Equal Opportunity in the Armed Forces said last Sunday they were encouraged at "definite and clear signs of progress" in desegregating the Guard.

They strongly indicated they were not satisfied with token integration in some states. Brig. Gen. Francis S. Greenleaf, deputy chief of the bureau, said, "We expect progress to continue."

IN EARNEST
The drive to persuade these states to integrate began in earnest when Wilson became Guard Bureau chief in the summer of 1963.

It was a slow job of missionary work, done through personal contact and conversation wherever possible. Wilson was something less than welcome in some of the governors' offices at first.

The last two states to fall in line were Alabama and Mississippi. Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama consented during the autumn, and Gov. Paul Johnson of Mississippi made it unanimous Dec. 1.

California Flood Cleanup Begun

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A mighty force of men and machines shouldered the task today of cleaning up after the West's Christmas week floods, called by the governor of California "a major American disaster."

A massive airlift hoisted food and emergency repair equipment into stricken northwestern California.

SNOW MISERY
Snow and falling temperatures added to the misery of refugees from high water and threatened again to block helicopter delivery of food bundles to hundreds marooned in the high California timber country for the ninth straight day.

Between 400 and 500 persons were isolated in vest-pocket lumbering and mining communities along the Klamath and Salmon rivers in extreme northern California. They have been cut off since Dec. 21. Civil Defense workers said they undoubtedly were getting desperate for food.

Dozens of helicopters were in Yreka, Calif., near the Oregon border loaded for mercy missions but unable to take off because of snow and icing conditions.

"We get a three-hour break in the weather," said Yreka Civil Defense chief Bill Sowle, "and you're going to see the dam."

Texas Railroads Have Top Year

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas railroads may put down 1964 as one of their best post-war years. The year included: Possibly the biggest post-war income, despite the biggest post-war spending on improvements. A victory in the long featherbedding struggle with establishment of new work rules in a nation-wide action effective May 7 under a federal arbitration board ruling. Railroads said less than 200 firemen in Texas were affected.

A court victory in the brotherhoods' attempts to invoke the state's 55-year-old full crew law to stop the firemen layoffs. Austin Dist. Judge Herman Jones upheld the railroads' contention that the law does not apply to diesel-powered locomotives.

NET INCOME
For nine months of 1964, net income for major roads totaled $141 million, more than the roads made during 12 months last year. The 9-month total was $64 million last year.

All but four of the 14 major lines reporting to the Railroad Commission showed an increase over 1963 income.

Texas and Pacific reported an 82 per cent increase over 1963, with $7.2 million in net for three quarters.

Southern Pacific reversed last year's revenue drop with a $3 million increase to $16.9 million for nine months.

The four exceptions were Missouri Pacific, with a $9.1 million deficit, almost $1 million more than last September; and deficit rose $3 million to $5.8 million.

Three more passenger trains were dropped. These were T&P's day trains between Fort Worth and El Paso; MKT's daily four San Antonio to Dallas trains; and the Rock Island and Pacific's Twin Star Rockets between Fort Worth and Houston.

A brief surprise walkout in June idled about 5,000 to 8,999 trainmen in 12 states south and west of St. Louis.

Texas railroads shared in the $1.46 billion spent in the nation for plant and equipment improvement, the largest investment since World War II.

NEW YARDS
Texas improvements include new freight yards in San Antonio and Corpus Christi, new freight houses at Houston and San Antonio and new icing facilities in San Antonio. A large classification yard at Houston was improved.

The increased use of piggybacking trucks, autos and other large equipment required new or enlarged piggyback ramps, docks and yards at El Paso, Dallas, Laredo, Beaumont, Lufkin, Del Rio, Fort Worth and Houston.

To allow faster trains, 345 miles of new main line rail were laid and 700 miles of roadbed was renovated. New industrial tracks were built at Dallas, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Houston, Sherman, Frisco, Irving

Saragat First Socialist To Be Italian President

ROME (AP) — Foreign Minister Giuseppe Saragat tonight was elected fifth president of

GIUSEPPE SARAGAT

Italy. He became the country's first Socialist chief of state, winning with crucial Communist backing on Parliament's 21st ballot in a marathon election.

The 66-year-old Saragat, founder of the Italian Democratic Socialist party, also had the official backing of the Christian Democrat party, the big losers in the unprecedented 13-day election.

Saragat, who had fought communism for years, accepted Red backing to break a deadlock that had paralyzed Parliament and strained the four-party center-left government coalition of Premier Aldo Moro.

Long before all the ballots were counted in the 21st voting session, it became clear that Saragat had won.

Saragat succeeds Antonio Segni who resigned after he became paralyzed from a stroke.

Offer To Aid Viet Stands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials conceded today that a program of new U.S. assistance to South Viet Nam is marking time as a result of political confusion in Saigon.

However, authoritative sources said the U.S. offer still stands to assist South Viet Nam's Premier Tran Van Huong's civilian government to make a more efficient total effort when it is able to do so.

Obviously, the Huong government is not in a position now to make such an effort, officials said.

Authorities denied any impli-

Half Of White Hostages Alive

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Mercenary soldiers on a rescue mission in the northern Congo today radioed that about half the 160 white hostages of the rebels in the region between Paulis and Wamba were still believed to be alive.

A column of Congolese Premier Moise Tshombe's Belgian and South African mercenary fighters is driving southeast from Paulis, capital of Uele Province, to Wamba, about 60 miles away.

TIVERTON, England (AP) — A pair of burglars raided the country home of Mrs. Denys Rhodes, a cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, and made off with money belonging to the Maharani of Sikkim.

A Devotional For The Day

Jesus said, "In very truth I tell you, before Abraham was born, I am." (John 8:58, NEB)
PRAYER: Dear Father, we thank Thee for Thy Word, so that we may know about Thy Son and have the assurance that He is the Lord and does not change. We praise Thy name and thank Thee for the help we find in Him amid this rapidly changing world. In His name we pray. Amen.

Gimlet Eye On Foundations

Tax-exempt foundations have long enjoyed a special and honored position in American life. Operating in such diverse fields as medicine and exploration, education and charity, they have added substantially to man's store of knowledge and done much to alleviate suffering and poverty.

Congress conferred tax exemption on foundations for a special and limited purpose, however. It recognized the need for special treatment for organizations devoted solely to research, philanthropy, education and the like. The status was never intended to serve as a shelter for those who flee from the tax-gatherer. Nor for those who have a special axe to grind in government, politics or other fields.

Abuse of the tax-exemption status may not be widespread. But the appearance of a number of questionable organizations has prompted the Internal Revenue Service to make a careful re-examination of the entire field.

Men and women are at perfect liberty to espouse any cause that enlists their interest. They can spend their own money and that of contributors to promote conservative or liberal causes, to take stands for or against any position in the political or economic spectrum. But they are not entitled to tax exemption in the process.

The crucial distinction between dedication to the public good and dedication to private interest must be preserved.

Attacking A Crucial Problem

The years since passage of the first Water Pollution Control Act in 1948 have seen a dramatic increase in awareness of this nation's water problem and in action to assure an abundant water supply in the future. This movement has come just when it was needed. Its impetus must be maintained and increased.

Water is something which most Americans tend to take for granted. In most parts of the country, realization that supplies are limited is hardly felt except perhaps in summer hot spells when lawn sprinkling is curbed. But the Southwest has had a foretaste of what it means to have supply not adequate to demand. Other parts of the country are in for this unless pollution can be controlled and better use can be made of the available water resources.

Happily, the 1948 act was only a start. That legislation was improved and extended in 1956 and 1961. Since then there has been much pertinent activity, including reports by the Senate Select Committee on National Resources and the Federal Council for Science and Technology. Only last summer Congress enacted a law to establish water resources institutes at land grant colleges and universities.

One important thing about this act is that it firmly establishes the intent of Congress "to assist in assuring the nation at all times of a supply of water sufficient in quantity and quality to meet the requirements of its expanding population." It would be hard to overestimate the importance of this.

Though the above may seem like a dull recital of response to a problem that is not yet keenly felt by most of us, the fact is that finding adequate solutions for the problem is basic to our continued national welfare. Water resources research and development merits vigorous public support.

Marquis Childs Egypt Moves Out Of West Orbit

CAIRO—How closely does the Nasser revolution parallel the revolutions that swept away the old order in Russia and China? Moscow frequently notes with an approving nod that Egypt is moving by the proper form sheet toward "scientific socialism."

But President Gamal Abdel Nasser, talking with this reporter in a prim, Louis - something - or - other reception room in his private villa at Heliopolis, offers another version. He uses the expression "scientific socialism" in his speeches, but he does not equate it with Marxism.

NASSER SAYS there will be no "dictatorship of the proletariat" as prescribed by Marxism in Egypt's revolution. All elements — cooperatives, farmers, workers, petit bourgeois — are included in the new society. He sounds now and then like an early New Dealer as he describes the way cooperatives apply a price yardstick to private groceries that will never be nationalized.

THE TIES between Moscow and, more recently, Peking, are, however, growing closer. When John Foster Dulles abruptly slammed the door on the Aswan Dam project and Russia picked up the tab of a billion dollars or more, that was bound to happen. Khrushchev made his last grand tour here, rather overstayng his welcome, in a visit of 21 days. When the Aswan project is completed — in 1967 or perhaps earlier, Nasser says — the nation's arable land will be increased by one-third. He readily admits with his effervescent laugh that Egypt's economic development is "a race with our births."

THE PRESIDENT, who rules with a strong hand under a theoretical system of parliamentary government, speaks happily of the interest-free loan of $50,000,000 just granted by Communist China. He has sent a delegation to Peking headed by a deputy prime minister to determine how the loan shall be spent. No payments will be due until 1970.

"They have many things we need," Nasser says. "We already have their textile machinery. Trucks, yes, we can get trucks and other transport from them."

SEVENTY PER CENT of all Egyptian children, boys and girls, are in 4,000 new schools. The West was sure before the Suez crisis that Egypt could never run the Suez Canal. Objective observers believe today it is probably being run better than ever before, earning $150,000,000 in foreign exchange and soon to be widened and deepened to take the biggest oil tankers.

A growing bureaucracy, wielding the lethal rubber stamp in a storm of musty documents, is an unhappy symbol of the newly developing nation. So is a corruption that creeps in at the lower levels, despite Nasser's own apparently austere conduct. But this is a new world and unless it is recognized as such, it will move wholly out of the orbit of the West.

Billy Graham

I have never been more unhappy in my life since I started going to church. Furthermore, my life hasn't changed. I still have the same desires: I still smoke, drink a little, steal, swear, and make out. How can God change someone else if He can't change me, and make me happy?

You are an honest, frustrated, unconverted church member, and there are many of them. There are thousands within the church and in religious groups, who have never experienced conversion. The only difference is: You admit it, and this is to your credit.

But just because you have never paid the price of real discipleship, you must not assume that others have been so weak. I know a great host who have passed from death unto life, and to whom Christ is more real than their own flesh and blood. The world, in the first century, was not changed by people who had a form of godliness, but on the "inside" were unchanged. It was turned upside down by people like Paul, who said, "I know whom I have believed." There are people today just as sure about their relationship to Christ, as was Paul. They once did the things you mention, but Christ came into their lives, gave them a new direction, a new purpose, and a new heart. And the good news is: If you receive Christ, your life can be changed too. But you must mean business, and stop walking on both sides of the street.

Trees Drink

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Orange trees love water as well as ducks do.

Plant physiologists at the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station found that a healthy 15-year-old orange tree weighs 1,000 pounds and half the weight is water.

A 15-year-old tree can produce 500 pounds of fruit a year — and the fruit is 80 per cent water.

The scientists reported each citrus tree "drinks" 30 to 50 gallons of water a day.

Johnson's News Conferences Different

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Constitution doesn't require presidents to hold news conferences, but President Johnson, like his predecessors, is holding them. His are different from theirs.

No one can say his way isn't working out well for him, 13 months after he took office, since at this point it isn't clear why Johnson thinks it's necessary for him to be different.

But there's a pretty good explanation for why his way hasn't caused him trouble. He hardly ever says anything that would. Conflicts set up roadblocks and so far Johnson seems to be making a career of not creating them.

In this sense he is up till now the most noncontroversial president since Calvin Coolidge. Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy all held so-called formal news conferences, Eisenhower less often than the others.

THE FORMAL kind is announced long enough before time for all the newsmen in Washington to go, if they want to. There the president is wide open to any kind of question and his answers become a matter of record.

This serves the double purpose of letting the president get his ideas out to the public while letting the public get a close-up look at him.

Kennedy, the first to hold news sessions on live television, did a brilliant job. This helped build up the popularity of a man who had won the presidency by a hair in 1960.

Roosevelt thought he got as much good from the newsmen's questions as they did from his answers. He used to hold two conferences a week.

Johnson has almost entirely eliminated the formal kind of meeting with the press.

IN WASHINGTON he usually, and suddenly, calls together the newsmen assigned to cover him and trots around the White House grounds with them, answering them as he goes.

The suddenness of this peripatetic conference leaves out scores of newsmen who would like to be present if they knew there was going to be a conference-on-the-trot. Their absence also limits the number of questions that are asked.

Or Johnson calls in reporters at the White House or his ranch, either individually or in selected groups or just those who happen to be around.

Hal Boyle Week Of The Letdown

NEW YORK (AP) — Every year has a lost week.

This is it — "The season of the great letdown."

It is doubtful that an examination of American history would disclose any great inventions were conceived, any great poems written, any inspiring songs created between Christmas and New Year's Day.

It is not a week for doing great things; it is a week for hanging on — and hoping for better days.

Everyone is gripped by a kind of spiritual numbness and physical lethargy that has turned us all into ambulant zombies, drained of all feeling.

THE SEASON of good will to all has passed, leaving us exhausted from Christmas satieties and excesses and mildly resentful of Santa Claus, whom we tend to blame for our blue and listless mood. Anyone who walks along the streets now absent-mindedly whistling "Jingle Bells" invites black looks.

What we all seem to need is a high-powered, double action, after-Christmas pep pill that will rescue us from the dumps and make us feel as good as we did just a week ago.

What happened anyway to that frolic sense of anticipation, that friendly sense of the joy of sharing, that pulse-throbbing thrill in the mere human ecstasy of being alive? They are gone, leaving a barren glumness in their place.

AT HOME the small boy sits listlessly staring at his broken drum. His older sister — on holiday from school — whines drearily, "What'll I do, Mama, there's no one to play with?" And Mama herself wonders wearily how she's going to summon the strength to get done all the things that cry for her to do.

One by one the browning needles drop from the Christmas tree upon the living room rug. Sensing the decline in family cheer, the dog snarls at the cat, and the cat arches her back and hisses back.

The deterioration in the jolly "Ho, Ho, Ho!" spirit is even more evident outside the home. The postman totes his load of belated Christmas cards with the self-pitying air of an Atlas carrying unnecessary burdens.

IN THE department stores, the clerks, still busy taking back or exchanging presents, are islands of industriousness in the general inertia, but their smiles are forced and they go about their chores reluctantly.

Yes, life is at a halt during the season of the great letdown.

But this too will pass. After the first of January, fired up with new resolutions, everyone will be back on the beam. Some of them will even begin to believe in Santa Claus again.

To Your Good Health Emphysema And Asthma Are Different Diseases

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Will bronchial asthma turn into emphysema? What are the types of asthma? — MRS. S. H. O. Emphysema and asthma are different diseases, even though the struggling for breath, the wheeze, cough and shortness of breath are very similar.

With asthma, the difficulty is getting enough air through the constricted airway to the lungs. With emphysema, the problem is that the lungs have lost their elasticity. Hence they cannot draw enough fresh air in or expel enough air even though the airways are not obstructed.

There are two kinds of asthma.

Of true asthma, the commonest is atopic — the constriction of the airway results from the action of something upon the mucous surfaces. This is allergy and may involve pollen, dust, food, molds, feathers, animal danders and many other things.

This type can be present at any age, and usually follows a family history of allergy, although not necessarily of the same type.

The other main kind is intrinsic. With it there may or may not be a family history of asthma. This type usually starts after the age of 30 and is more likely to be related to chronic infection, such as the sinuses and nasal area.

Cardiac asthma is not truly an asthmatic condition. The patient wheezes and coughs, but this is due not to asthma in the real sense, but to the fact that heart disease has resulted in congestion of the lungs, making breathing difficult.

It is possible, of course, that more than one of these conditions, including emphysema, may be present at the same time.

Since the symptoms are so similar, it is important that the physician differentiate, and determine what real trouble or troubles may be present.

Emphysema does not commonly appear before the age of 40 or thereabouts. Usually (but not always) sufferers of it have no particular allergy problem but they are or have been heavy smokers with a long history of coughing — the "cigarette cough." Exposure of air pollution may be part of their background, but cigarettes appear to be a major and more frequent culprit.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would eating only proteins give me many headaches on arising in the morning? Or could it be from arthritis, which I have? — B. D. S.

I question whether a diet high in protein would cause this problem although, of course, there are other good reasons for eating a balanced diet and not letting your meals become too heavy with one particular type of food.

Changes in the spinal joints of the neck (which could involve arthritis), combined with the position of your head on the pillow, could in certain cases cause headaches. High blood pressure is another possibility.

Emphysema can be controlled. To learn how to live with this serious lung disease, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, requesting a copy of the booklet, "How To Control Emphysema," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim It's The Spirit, Not The Selling

The season reminds me of a well-meaning but ungrammatical character in a town where I once lived.

This fellow went to a great deal of effort one year to prepare an elaborate Christmas display for his yard. It consisted of a neatly worded sign with the legend spelled out in blue bulbs.

The sign read: "They seen His star." The display attracted a lot of attention and some of the folk hooted at the misused verb.

Word of the mistake leaked down to the display builder. Somewhat hacked, he pulled down the sign.

A few nights later it was back in place again. This time it read in even brighter blue lights: "They had saw His star."

When I was a small boy and lived in a tiny house in the southeast part of this city (only it wasn't a city then), Christmas never really came to me until about this date.

My father worked for a hardware company. This store stocked what for those days was a large stock of toys. During the time that the Christmas buying was under way, many of these toys wound up just a little the worse for wear.

When the season has passed and the store was checking its unsold stock, these damaged articles were set aside. They were placed in a big box and my Dad would bring them out to me.

So it was my lot, several days after most kids had already received their playthings to get a king-sized shipment.

The fact that they were damaged didn't bother me. Indeed, it added to their interest in some instances.

Further, by the time I got my belated gifts, the other kids with whom I played had already damaged their own toys. So, all things considered, we started out even.

Christmas season always reminds me of an old man I once knew.

He had a sizeable office staff as well as a considerable number of workers whose jobs kept them out in the field.

All of the workers on his payroll shared one common and happy Christmas feature.

On Christmas Eve when they came to their desks or to their trucks, there would be envelopes bearing their names waiting for them. In each envelope would be a check. The check would be for the equivalent of whatever yearly salary the particular employee was paid.

I once asked this man if he had need for a good office boy.

He said he probably could use a good one. Did I have someone in mind?

"I sure have, Ed," I replied. "Me." He thought it was a good joke — couldn't imagine me as an office boy — and just laughed and laughed.

I didn't laugh. I wasn't kidding.

—SAM BLACKBURN

Holmes Alexander How To Win, Though Republican

TUES 13 am Alexander How to Win 18

HONOLULU, Hawaii—In the aftermath of political victories, most politicians congratulate themselves. They let you know how it was: Man of principle. Man of destiny. Man of superior sagacity.

Not Senator Hiram Fong (R., Hawaii). I asked him how he won when so many Republicans in similar circumstances were being pulled under by Goldwater, who had Fong's endorsement and got only 21 per cent of Hawaii's vote.

"I WON," says Fong, "by the fine, discerning intelligence and political sophistication of my electorate."

It wasn't a back-handed way of back-clapping himself, either. Fong is a full-blooded Chinese, but he doesn't try to be inscrutable. He is frank and gregarious, a man of easy humor and hard work. Politics comes easily to him. At 57 he has had five years in the Senate, 14 years in the Territorial House, and he has made a fortune, beginning as a shoeshine boy and caddy, rising as a businessman and Harvard-trained lawyer.

I WAS FIRST attracted to him in Washington because he gravitated toward the conservative wing of the GOP without seeming to be doctrinaire about it. He had opposed Medicare because he knew it to be a demagogic fraud. He supported Dirksen's amendment to slow down the Supreme Court's rush to reapportion the legislative districts.

Fong pitched his campaign to common sense and the enlightened self-interest of Hawaii. He agreed that the Democratic-dominated 88th Congress had done a lot of good work, and pointed to his attendance record. It was 95 per cent. His opponent, Congressman Tom Gill (D) had been running home to make campaign speeches, and had a record of only 63 per cent on roll calls. Fong has less than a full term of Senate seniority, but he owned a seat on Judiciary and he was second ranking Republican on Civil Service and Public Works. No Democratic freshman could hope to get that close to the top of committees important to a new State.

FONG DID SO. He had often supported Republican amendments to tone down Democratic legislation, but would vote for the final bill rather than obstruct it. His record often showed him to be registered for popular measures, while Gill's record showed no vote at all. Fong was able to make the electorate look at his performance instead of at the party label. This takes a rare kind of relationship between a politician and his constituency.

THE PRIMARY election, held in Hawaii just a month before the general election, showed that over 111,000 people had voted as Democrats and only about 33,000 as Republicans. It seemed mathematically impossible for a GOP candidate to win the State. But to overcome this psychological wet blanket, Fong dispatched campaign "captains" to ask for commitments in writing for his support. Before election day he had 71,000 pledges—enough to set his bandwagon rolling.

By all accounts it was the most remarkable Republican victory of late November. The man who couldn't win did it anyhow.

Richard Starnes The Hospitals In Appalachia

WASHINGTON — She was a mountain woman, and not even the approaching ordeal of childbirth could shake her stoical acceptance of a life that must have been intolerably harsh.

Floods had roared through Eastern Kentucky the day before. Communities were isolated, homes had been destroyed, and a countryside that seemed desolate and inhospitable at best had become a watery, muddy nightmare.

OTHER BUSINESS had brought me to Harlan — the infamous "bloody Harlan" of the Kentucky coal field wars—but now I was literally knee-deep in a flood story. I was at the United Mine Workers Hospital in Harlan trying to find a telephone circuit that still worked when the mountain woman crossed my path. She was alone, wet and mud bespattered her belongings contained in a paper poke that had been ruined by the rain.

IT WAS a passing vignette, quickly seen and as quickly gone, but the image of that eternally patient hill woman coming out of the darkness and deluge into the comfort of the hospital has remained. It brought home, as few other experiences could, what the UMW hospitals have meant to the people of the starved, despairing Appalachians. For most of the communities they serve, the 10 hospitals are the only islands of civilization in a pillaged, forgotten corner of our country.

For all the bountiful mercies they have brought to the depressed and depressing area they serve, the hospitals have not had an easy time of it. They narrowly avoided extinction once before, when declining employment in the coal fields forced the UMW Welfare and Retirement Fund to put them on the block.

LOSS OF the hospitals was barely averted when the United Presbyterian Church organized the Appalachian Regional Hospitals, Inc., a nonsectarian, non-profit corporation, to take over the hospitals. The 10 hospitals, which had cost the UMW upwards of $30 million, were purchased with loans totaling $8 million obtained from the Federal Area Redevelopment Administration. The UMW Welfare and Retirement Fund put up $700,000 in advance payments for miners still eligible for hospital care, and Kentucky contributed an equal sum.

KENTUCKY HAS since contributed $1.1 million to the hospitals' budget for care of indigent patients, and the UMW fund has advanced another $700,000. With sharp economies the hospital corporation has almost reached the break-even point, but in spite of this, disaster once again threatens the hospitals. At least $2 million is needed to keep the hospitals in operation, although indications are that they will ultimately become self-supporting if the present crisis can be survived.

THE FINAL IRONY in the hospitals' struggle for life is that the federal government, which is preparing to hammer a $1 billion-plus Appalachian aid program through Congress, is having trouble finding the $2 million which may spell survival for the 10 hospitals.

The money will probably be found eventually, but the threatened loss of the hospitals is another damaging blow to the morale of the Appalachian people.

Everyone get out the black-eye peas and all of us Texans work at helping the coming year to be a good one. To those of you from out of the state, if you don't know about the custom here in the Lone Star State, be advised about the eating of the blackeyes on New Year's Day. Some say the prosperity comes only when one partakes of the dried variety but personally I can't like them... which is probably one of the reasons I have not been particularly prosperous. Anyway, we always have peas on the first day of the year. In the latter ones which I think are more palatable.

Michigan's Larry Tregoning has the jump on Manhattan's Larry Lembo as he takes a rebound in the first half of Monday night's game in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Cazzie Russell Hot As Wolverines Win

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sensational performances by Michigan whiz Cazzie Russell and Wichita All-American Dave Stallworth have kept the holiday ball rolling for the nation's top two college basketball powers.

Russell rattled Madison Square Garden boards for 36 points, leading the No. 1 ranked Wolverines over stubborn Manhattan 90-77 in a first-round game of the ECAC Holiday Festival at New York Monday night.

Stallworth, meanwhile, scored 20 of his 29 points in a second-half rally that shot No. 2 Wichita past previously-unbeaten Villanova 86-74 and into the finals of the Quaker City Tournament at Philadelphia.

Nine of the top ten teams in The Associated Press ratings went to the post in tournaments that blanketed the country. The only losers were Illinois and St. Louis.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
GUS JOHNSON, cager for the pro Baltimore Bullets:
"On certain nights, when Wilt Chamberlain feels like putting out, he is the greatest thing going. He's just as tough on defense as he is on offense when the mood strikes him. That man is 7 feet, 2 inches tall, weighs 265 pounds. It is all bone and muscle, and that's an awful lot of body to move out of the way under the basket. The difference between Chamberlain and Bill Russell (Boston Celtics) under the basket is that Russell will get you here (pointing to his head). Chamberlain can go up in the sky and beat you physically, getting the ball, but Russell outsmarts you. Russell bats more balls away when they are in flight than any other two men in the league. If the ball comes off the board, he times it better and beats you to the jump. Russell feels like pouring himself into the game more often than Chamberlain and that is why Boston goes right on winning."

SHIRLEY POVICH, Washington, D.C., scribe:
"The Columbia Broadcasting System has been blitzed by the Professional Golfers Association, which is announcing its own World Series of Golf. This event, bringing together the four winners of the U.S. and British Opens, the Masters and the PGA tournaments, was originated and produced for two years by CBS, which now must bid against the other networks."

DAVE CAMPBELL, Waco scribe:
Those Texas Aggies who have wondered about Gene Stallings' recruiting abilities should have been reassured by the assignment Bear Bryant gave him this year. He took Stallings out of his specific recruiting area in Alabama and had him concentrating on all the blue-chippers in Alabama's reach. On the first day for SEC signings, Alabama got 31 signaturs. (The SEC has a yearly limit of 40)."

KEN ASPROMONTE, back in this country after having played baseball one season in Japan:
"It was a wonderful experience. The only bad feature was that my wife was lonely. I played for the Nagoya Dragons and couldn't hit my hat for the first few weeks. Then I caught on and had a pretty good year, hitting .282 with 12 homers. Japanese boys all throw like Dick Hyde, who tosses underhand and side-arm. Each of the 12 teams there can play three Americans. Most of us are in the $20,000 to $30,000 class but you have to produce or they'll drop you. They have asked me to come back and I will. They were wonderful to me. I'm also scouting."

JOHN PONT, comparing coaching pressures at Miami (Ohio) and Yale (he has coached at both schools):
"It's universal. I think a coach puts more pressure on himself than the alumni. I felt secure at Miami and I feel even better at Yale."

FRED HANEY, general manager of the Los Angeles Angels:
"Our pitcher, Dean Chance, needs a better sense of values. For instance, we signed him to an $18,000 contract last year with the stipulation of more money if he did some winning. He won his first start, and asked for more money."

PUTT POWELL, Amarillo scribe:
"In seven seasons of football, Amarillo Tascosa has a record of 54 wins, 18 losses and two ties. The Rebels have never had a losing season."

Michigan Has Key To Method For Winning

By The Associated Press
Today's seminar on how to stay on top of The Associated Press' weekly basketball poll will be taught by Michigan's Wolverines, who seem to have mastered the subject.

The Wolverines, ranked No. 1 for the second straight week, gave Manhattan a basketball lesson in the opening round of the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference's Holiday Festival at New York's Madison Square Garden Monday night.

Cazzie Russell's 36 points overcame some early Garden jitters suffered by Michigan and carried the Wolverines to a 90-77 victory.

Wichita, still second but closing the gap, kept pace with an 86-74 triumph over previously-unbeaten Villanova in the Quaker City Tournament. Dave Stallworth scored 29 to lead the Shockers.

Michigan polled 23 first-place votes and 350 points in the voting by 38 sports writers and broadcasters. Wichita, which was 70 points back a week ago, collected 322 points in the tight race for the top spot.

Third-ranked Minnesota had a scare Monday night but held on for a 77-76 victory over Washington in the Los Angeles Classic. In the same tournament, fourth-ranked UCLA ripped Arizona 99-79.

San Francisco, completing the top five, routed Pepperdine 103-64 in the Western College Athletic Conference tourney at San Jose, Calif.

Illinois, up to No. 6, lost to 10th-ranked St. Joseph's 75-71. The Hawks grabbed the final in the rankings, ousting Davidson. Sixth-ranked Indiana, down by two points at the half, came back to rout No. 9 St. Louis. The undefeated Hoosiers are 8-0.

The voting was based on games through Saturday and points were awarded on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc.

The top ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and points:

1. Michigan (23) 350
2. Wichita (22) 322
3. Minnesota (6) 296
4. UCLA (5) 276
5. San Francisco (1) 160
6. Illinois (1) 140
7. Indiana (1) 130
8. Duke (1) 120
9. St. Louis (1) 80
10. St. Joseph's (1) 80

Guerin Hired By St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ben Kerner, the St. Louis Hawks owner who changes coaches with the same ease that New Year's resolutions are broken, is ready to begin 1965 with a new one.

Kerner dropped the ax Monday on Harry Gallatin and named veteran Richie Guerin as player-coach of the National Basketball Association club.

Gallatin must have known his time was short, realizing he had been leading the Hawks for 2 1/2 seasons. Kerner has had nine coaches in the 10 seasons the club has been in St. Louis, and none has lasted that long.

Kerner explains it this way: "I'm at the point that if I do finish first I'd just as soon finish fourth (last). There's no glory in second to me."

Under Gallatin the Hawks finished second in the Western Division the last two years and are the runner-up now, 3 1/2 games behind Los Angeles.

Cotton Bowl Foes Have Comparable Navigators

DALLAS (AP)—There's a difference in their ages and experience but the quarterbacks of the Cotton Bowl game have a great deal in common when it comes to playing football.

It was the third game of the season before each took the chance to show what he could do.

Nebraska, under sophomore Bob Churchich, rolled to a 9-1 record.

Arkansas, under five-year senior Fred Marshall, never lost a game.

Churchich got to show his stuff when the regular quarterback, Fred Duda, went out with an injury.

Marshall, who had become the starting quarterback on the basis of what he did in spring training, was terrible in the first game against Oklahoma State.

He suffered a shoulder injury, to be sure, but that was part of the excuse to hold him out of the second game — against Tulsa. This and the fact that he had been too tight, had overshot his receivers and had gained only seven yards running with the ball.

Coach Frank Broyles wasn't going to put him back in because of the possibility of wrecking his football career. Two bad games in a row would have meant the finish.

Then Broyles tried him

Bears Reach Meet Finals

By The Associated Press
Baylor reached the finals of the Pointsettia Classic at Greenville, S.C. Monday night and the Bears also tied Texas A&M for the best season record in the Southwest Conference.

The Bruins beat Furman 89-78 with Winston Moore and Darrell Hardy pitching in 19 points apiece and will play Clemson tonight for the championship.

Baylor got 11 straight points to pull ahead early in the second half.

The Bears now have a 6-2 record, the same as Texas A&M, which plays only one game this week—a clash with Trinity Wednesday.

In two other tournaments the conference didn't do so well.

Oklahoma City crushed Rice 93-63 in the All-College tournament at Oklahoma City.

Southern Methodist took a 95-92 overtime licking from Memphis State in the Memphis State tournament.

Memphis State trailed SMU almost from start to finish and it was a set by John Hillman as time ran out that told the story.

Finley Drops His Lawsuit

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Charles O. Finley, who considers himself a good salesman, has sold season tickets to each of the 12 city councilmen and he calls it the opening of a new era for his Kansas City Athletics.

Hanging over the city now is a goal of 5,000 season tickets to be sold in the next few months.

The Chamber of Commerce and city officials pledged full cooperation in the campaign following an amicable meeting with Finley Monday.

Finley, who made his fortune selling insurance, hadn't gotten to first base with his ticket drive prior to the meeting. Civic leaders were aloof because Finley was pushing a lawsuit that would give him an escape clause to move the baseball club to another city.

At Monday's session Finley told the council he was dropping the lawsuit. He promised that the club would stay in Kansas City for the three-year duration of its stadium lease.

The Longhorns, who have lost seven times this year, thus earned the right to oppose Brownwood at 7:30 o'clock this evening. A win there would send the Steers into the 8 p.m. finals Wednesday.

Year Turbulent But Hollywood Seen Healthier

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This has been another turbulent year for the movie world.

Death, divorce, illness and a kidnap trial were among the top news stories of 1964. At year's end, more trouble appeared on the horizon. The film industry was faced with the possibility of a major strike, and clashes over the moral content of movies seemed imminent.

Despite these travails, Hollywood appears healthier at the end of 1964 than it has in recent years. The reason: business is good. Large numbers of Americans once more find excitement in going to the movies. In addition, most of the major studios are successful in their television operations.

With rare exceptions the film companies had good news for their stockholders this year. All this seemed to prove what some of us have suspected for a long time: that Hollywood thrives on trouble.

KIDNAP CASE

Here is how the top news stories of the movie world stacked up to this reporter:

1. The Sinatra kidnap trial. The bizarre kidnapping of Frank Sinatra Jr. at Lake Tahoe in December 1963 was followed by a trial that was equally bizarre. It ended in the conviction of the three men accused of the crime.

2. The Elizabeth Taylor-Richard Burton wedding. The event itself may have seemed anticlimactic, but nevertheless the highly headlined pair continued to make news.

3. The deaths of Gracie Allen, Harpo Marx and Eddie Cantor. Coming within a few weeks of each other, the loss of these great stars seemed to signal the sunset of a great era in entertainment.

4. Sidney Poitier's Oscar. Few Academy Awards have been as happily received by the film community as Poitier's for "Lilies of the Field." The award to the Negro actor was well-deserved, but it was especially significant in a time of racial unrest. Patricia Neal's Oscar for "Hud" was another popular choice.

5. The death of Alan Ladd. The sudden passing of the lachrymose, steel-eyed star was a shock to Hollywood. He had only recently made a comeback with "The Carpetbaggers."

6. George Murphy's election to the Senate. The former dancer was scarcely taken seriously when he announced he would run for the U.S. Senate. Even some Hollywood Democrats couldn't disguise their pride when Murphy won the election, achieving the highest elective post for any film figure.

7. Peter Sellers' heart attack. The youthful, newly married British comedy star was rescued from death by a hospital team after eight heart arrests.

8. Ethel Merman - Ernest Borgnine. Their much-publicized marriage lasted five weeks. At year's end "McHale's Navy" skipper was engaged again, to actress Donna Randall.

Allocation To Corpus Program

AUSTIN (AP)—A community action program grant of $295,200 to Corpus Christi to finance seven assistance programs to children and adults in poverty-stricken areas was announced Monday by Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Despite Blast At U. S., Nasser To Get Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only five days after Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser had told America in effect to take its aid and "go to hell," the United States is going through with plans to provide him with $16,994,000 worth of surplus wheat.

The Agriculture Department issued an authorization Monday for the purchase of that amount of wheat under the Food-for-Peace program.

PAY CASH
The department will pay cash for the wheat in the open market, and Egypt will pay for the grain in its own currency, a part of which will be spent in the United Arab Republic.

Although arrangements for the transaction had been made some time ago, the United States still could have stopped the deal after Nasser's speech of last week.

He accused U.S. Ambassador Lucius Battle of trying to put economic pressure on Egypt and told a cheering crowd in Port Said: "Anyone who does not like our attitude can drink from the sea. And if the Mediterranean is not big enough, we will give him the Red Sea to drink, too."

EGYPTIAN SLANG
In Egyptian slang, to "drink from the sea" is the equivalent of "to go to hell."

His outburst apparently was triggered by U.S. accusations that he is aiding Congolese rebels and intimations that future aid deals would be curtailed because of this.

Cake, Nog To LBJ Visitors

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is known to like a scotch and soda on occasion although his doctor says Johnson prefers a bit of bourbon and water before dinner.

Rear Adm. George G. Buckley, White House physician, named bourbon in answering a questionnaire from newsmen Monday. Maybe his information was based on yuletide observations around the LBJ Ranch.

Visitors there have been offered cake and egg nog, and the President's understanding is that egg nog is made mostly with bourbon around these parts.

Gang-Fashion Murders Hike

BOSTON (AP) — The newafter his release eight months in Boston: 11 men slain in a from a Rhode Island prison. He had served four years after unsolved gangland style murder in the Greater Boston area conviction for his part in the since March.

The latest was George E. Ash, 43, stabbed more than 50 times and shot in the head before his body was found in a parked car early Monday.

Ash had worked as a bartender in Boston's Brighton section.

Cotton Harvest Near Completion

AUSTIN (AP)—The U.S. Department of Agriculture says the Texas cotton harvest is well on its way to completion and the crop should be in—if mild weather continues—next month.

In its weekly crop-weather report, the department said Monday that last week's open weather enabled farmers on the low and high plains to push the cotton harvest. Statewide, the cotton crop is 91 per cent harvested, compared with 92 per cent completion a year ago.

"Harvest will be pushed to near completion by early January if open weather continues," the report said.

Wheat prospects continue good, the department said, with supplies of surface moisture ad-

Texas Beauties

These four lovely Texas girls in Memphis, Tenn., for the 27th Annual Maid of Cotton, pose with cotton bolls before the two-day judging begins. Finals in the Maid of Cotton will be held tonight and the winner will represent the Cotton Industry for the year.

The girls are, left to right, Miss Judy Hill, Fort Worth; Miss Lorrann Mays, El Paso; Miss Janet Kerr, Dallas; and Miss Rhea Britton, Lubbock. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Most Sedate U.S. Beauty Contest Is On In Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — It's the nation's most sedate beauty contest, the annual glitter that is the Maid of Cotton Pageant, where poise and pedigree are as important to a girl as face and figure.

In a gala contest finale at City Auditorium tonight the 1965 Maid of Cotton will be named to an invitation-only audience which will include the social register of the cotton industry.

The score of cotton cuties, representing a dozen cotton-producing states from Florida to California, all know their way around the social set.

The official contest specifications insist the maid "come from a home such that other members of her family can join her on any occasion without embarrassment or apology."

COTTON COUNCIL
The National Cotton Council, which sponsors the contest, is looking for a girl to tour the world as the industry's good-will ambassador to the public, and the winner is picked with this in mind.

Beauty is important, but other things count more.

The girls are put through two days of demanding activity, and the judges watch closely through it all for that social blunder or slip of etiquette which might disqualify an aspirant.

The judging starts when the contestants meet the press for photos and interviews. They also are interviewed before live television cameras to see how they react.

There are two luncheons and a dinner-dance where the sharp-eyed judges watch to see if the girls can use the right fork and keep up a delightful banter without ceasing to smile prettily.

PRIME POINT
Modeling ability is a prime consideration and short girls seldom win. A pretty girl who photographs poorly is out. A pleasing radio voice is necessary.

Despite emphasis on other things, the maid must have a good figure.

"We are not necessarily looking for Venus," the council states, "and the maid will not be photographed in bathing suits — but she will be photographed in play suits and sports clothes, and she needs a figure that will make such garments show off to best advantage."

"The maid must exemplify the young American woman at her best," the rules say, "culture and refinement that will earn respect in any company."

Mrs. Webber Dies Monday

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Mrs. Lucy Jane Webber, 69, died at 1:10 p.m. Monday in Root Memorial Hospital following an extended illness.

She was born May 27, 1895, in Kazi Mills, Mo., and moved to Colorado City in 1934. Her husband, the late Frank Webber, died several years ago. She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. M. A. Smith, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Jack Selcraig, former pastor. Burial will be in Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

The body will lie in state at the funeral home until service time.

Survivors include a stepdaughter, Mrs. Luther Swan, Arlington; a brother, Henry Bryant, Colorado City; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Loan Proposal To Malaysia Draws Rebuff

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Criticism of the United States welled up today over the terms of a military loan offer to aid Malaysia in its defense against Indonesia.

The government said Tuesday night it has rejected the offer because the United States wanted to charge 5 per cent interest. The loan, to run from five to seven years, was to be used for buying American planes and other military supplies.

"We have to reject this kind of assistance," Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak told the House of Representatives. "We thought our friends would look to us with sympathy in our time of difficulty."

U.S. officials said 5 per cent interest was normal for short-term credits for purchase of military equipment.

Viets Seek U.S. Accord

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, Viet Nam's military commander, and his general staff flew to the seaside resort of Cap St. Jacques today for conferences apparently aimed at ending the deadlock with the United States.

The United States has been holding back an estimated $600 million offer of expanded aid for Viet Nam since Khanh and his generals ousted the civilian High National Council on Dec. 20 and arrested a number of political leaders.

The United States has demanded that the council, which was South Viet Nam's provisional legislature, be reinstated in some form. It also wants the political prisoners released.

Khanh has hinted that he is ready to do without American aid rather than give in to Washington's demands.

Chief of State Phan Khanh Sui and Premier Tran Van Huong issued a communique Monday calling on Khanh and his followers to restore the national council.

Sui and Huong were not ousted in the military purge, but they said it had shaken the foundation of their government. Both were named by the High National Council.

Boy Deer Hunter Accidentally Shot

ATHENS (AP) — David Lindsey, 15, was accidentally shot and killed Monday while hunting deer on a lease 12 miles south of Athens.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Lindsey of Wills Point.

Strange Tragic Case Perplexes Gendarmes

LONDON (AP) — Shortly before dawn Monday, Charles Bailey, 43, roared down Britain's speedy motorway.

Near Friar's Wash, the car hit a concrete pillar of a bridge.

"I've seldom seen a car so damaged," said a policeman. "The length of the car was reduced from 14 feet to 8 feet."

Beneath the twisted steering wheel — with his safety belt still round him — was Charles Bailey, dead.

At Bailey's suburban London home — 60 miles from the crash — a policeman knocked at the door to inform the family of Bailey's death.

"Where are your parents?" the policeman asked 20-year-old Janice Bailey.

"Upstairs asleep," replied the girl. "Wait here and I'll get them."

A few minutes later she ran down the stairs and said, "Mother — I'm afraid mother's dead, and father's not here."

The policeman found Mrs. Bailey's fully clothed body in bed, beneath the covers. She appeared to have been suffocated.

Mrs. Oden was a former resident of Big Spring and operated a beauty shop here. Services will be held Wednesday in Houston with Forest Park Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

DEAR ABBY

Get Rid Of That Feeling

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 15. I love my parents but I hate my grandmother on my father's side, and I mean I really HATE her. She has lived with us ever since my grandfather died. This woman gets on my nerves so much that I could just scream. I try to ignore her as much as possible, but her slightest faults disturb the living daylights out of me. We aren't on speaking terms right now, but it's best this way because I despise the sound of her voice. I don't feel like being friends with her because that would be worse, believe me. What should I do?

BORN last March. My mother, who lives in another state, wrote and asked me if the baby had been baptized and I replied no. Then she suggested that I make arrangements to have the baby baptized in the city where she lives, which is my home town. The reason I'm writing you is because I'm sure the priest who will baptize our baby will want to have the birth certificate, which may put me in an embarrassing spot. You see, I told my mother the baby was born in June because I didn't want her to know that I was pregnant when I got married, and I'd rather she didn't find out the truth. Please tell me where I can get a birth certificate stating the baby was born in June.

DEAR TROUBLE: You "hate" too intensely for a 15-year-old. The chances are that you are taking out all your frustrations and hostilities on the one who is least able to fight back. Tone down, your bitterness, young lady, and get this out of your system by having a frank discussion with your parents.

ON THE SPOT
DEAR ON: Don't risk embarrassment by asking anyone to falsify a legal document. If you have the baby baptized in your home town, hope your mother doesn't notice the date on the birth certificate.

DEAR ABBY: Our baby was

Puzzle of Monday, December 28, Solved

SUPERMART WORKER

Store Man
Shot Dead

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Rudy Cortinas, 38, a supermarket employee, was found shot to death in a car Monday and police were told $5,000 the man had withdrawn from a bank was missing.

Cortinas was found shot in the head some time after his car was struck from behind by another car. Cortinas' employer, Eloy Centeno, told police that Cortinas, as was his daily custom, dropped by a bank to pick up $5,000 for the operation of the supermarket.

The accident occurred as Cortinas was driving to the store.

Investigators quoted a witness as saying that Cortinas got out of the car, and after noticing slight damage to his car, re-entered the vehicle.

The witness said a man in the second car ran up to Cortinas, and that Cortinas suddenly slumped in the seat as if struck or stabbed.

Police said the witness told them the man drove away with Cortinas still in the car.

LITTLETON, Colo. (AP) — Three Fort Worth persons were injured and two teenagers shaken up Monday when a light plane crashed soon after takeoff at Columbine Airport, southwest of Denver.

Injured were Douglas Lott, 40, Fort Worth; his wife, Nancy, 40, and her mother, Mrs. W. B. Bingham, 78, were taken to Fitzsimons General Hospital near Denver.

The children, George Lott, 17, and Pamela, 13, son and daughter of the pilot and his wife, were taken to an Evergreen, Colo., physician for a checkup and then to the home of a sister of Mrs. Lott.

Heart Association Makes
Plans For Campaign

The Howard County Heart Association named a new member to its board of directors and reviewed plans for the annual heart month in February at a meeting Monday night.

Donald D. Van Meter, director of the Veterans Administration Hospital here, was named to fill a vacant position on the board.

The association also named a series of committee chairmen for the coming year, with some additional chairmen to be named at the next meeting, planned for Jan. 25.

Named to direct committees for the association were Mrs. Tommy Hammond, coin collectors; Mrs. C. E. Williams, heart fund; Dr. C. L. Ainsworth, schools; Mrs. John Knox, special events; and Darrell Webb, business.

The annual Heart Month drive will begin Feb. 1, with Heart Sunday planned for Feb. 21.

The association discussed possible special activities for Heart Month in Howard County and other additions to the association program for the coming year. Mrs. Coy Nalley is chairman of a membership drive to extend through 1965.

A 22-minute color film, titled "Reprieve," was included in the session. The film included a demonstration of the recently-developed closed chest cardiac massage, used to sustain circulation during a heart attack. The meeting Monday was in the library of the Malone and Hogan Foundation Clinic.

Charles Bengé Wins Promotion

Charles E. Bengé has been notified of his promotion to the position of general agent for American National Insurance Company. He has been in Big Spring since June, 1960 as district manager.

Since that time, the local office has produced over five million dollars of life insurance. The office has grown from a one-agent office in 1960 to five agents at the present time.

Both men have enjoyed their stay in Big Spring and assured their policy holders that service will continue through personal and agency contacts.

Texas Violent
Deaths Mount

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Department of Public Safety reports 78 violent deaths in Texas since Christmas Eve. DPS statisticians predicted 190 persons would die violently in Texas during the Dec. 24-Jan. 3 period.

Latest reports showed a total of 44 traffic deaths, compared to the 11-day forecast of 105; 23 suicides and homicides, compared to the prediction of 40, and 11 non-traffic accidental deaths, compared to the estimate of 45.

Texan's Son
Air Victim

PHOENIX (AP) — Staff Sgt. Joseph A. Morten, 34, a crew chief, was one of four men killed when a C123 cargo plane crashed and burned in the desert. The crash Monday occurred about 40 miles southwest of Phoenix. The twin-engine plane was on a flight from Luke Air Force Base near Phoenix to an auxiliary field near Gila Bend in west central Arizona.

Morten's survivors included his widow, Betty, and two sons, all of Phoenix, and his mother, Mrs. Anna E. Jones of Marshall, Tex.

The plane burst into flame on impact and the fire spread into the desert brush.

Judge Okays
Firm's Sale

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The three creditors who filed an involuntary bankruptcy petition against IMC Industries, Inc., of Memphis have sought to block the sale of a Texas subsidiary of the firm.

Robert A. Udelsohn, attorney for the creditors, Monday filed a notice of his intention to ask the U. S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals to overrule Federal Dist. Judge Bailey Brown's approval of the sale.

After an informal hearing Monday, Brown approved the recommendation of bankruptcy referee David C. Doten to accept the $350,000 offer of Mid-States Steel & Wire Co. of Crawfordsville, Ind., to buy certain assets of Sherman Steel and Wire Co., of Sherman, Tex.

Udelsohn argued that Sherman Steel and Wire is worth about $500,000 instead of the $250,000 reported last Tuesday by an independent appraiser testifying before Judge Doten.

Katy Seeking To Drop Line

WASHINGTON (AP) — Authority to abandon 220 miles of branch line trackage between Bellmead and Stamford, Tex. was asked the Interstate Commerce Commission Monday by the Katy Railroad.

The Missouri-Kansas-Texas said the branch has been operating at a deficit and is in such condition that heavy expenditures would be required for rehabilitation.

Katy has leased the line since 1914 from the Texas Central Railroad Co. Texas Central joined with Katy in asking approval of the proposed abandonment.
