Cash Bonus Issue Placed Squarely Before U.S. Senate

Debate Opens On Harrison Compromise

Senator Clark Offers Vinson Full Payment Measure

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The cash bonus issue was placed squarely before the senate Thursday, as debate opened on the Harrison compromise bill, when Senator Clark offered the Vinson full payment measure as a substitute.

Clark told newspapermen he believed it would get enough votes to take the place of the Harrison substitute.

Invitations Sent To Other Cities To Join Big Spring In Meeting

Invitations have been sent to neighboring cities to send representatives here to join with Big Spring citizens in a conference with John H. Jones, state director of the shelterbelt project, on May 8.

Jones is in charge of the shelterbelt work in Texas. The project anticipates a strip of timber about 100 miles wide, stretching from the Texas Panhandle to the Canadian border.

News Behind The News THE NATIONAL Whirligig

Written by a group of the best informed newspapermen of Washington and New York. Opinions expressed are those of the writers and should not be interpreted as reflecting the editorial policy of this newspaper.

WASHINGTON By Ira Bennett

Yes—President Roosevelt said very little in his radio talk that was not already anticipated by keenest observers among business men. They had already checked off the four billion spending account and hit upon the identity of most of the men upon whom President Roosevelt relies to do the job.

What interests industry most just now is the scope of the new NIRA. Will it give power to FDR to impose codes of fair competition? Will industry be compelled to concede more advantages to organized labor? Will the new act persist in trying to regulate business that is purely within a state?

The answer seems to be "Yes" to each question.

Subpoena—

Matters are shaping up for a stiff fight over the revamping of Section 7a. President Roosevelt has been very cautious in committing himself on labor questions recently, but it is learned that he feels anxious about threatened strikes and is disposed to ask Congress to embody in the new NIRA a distinct provision enabling workers to choose their own representatives for collective bargaining. In order to accomplish this an impartial body must have access to payrolls to determine who the workers are. In big factory towns it is impossible to hold elections of workers satisfactorily unless each man can be identified. The workers are as shrewd as the managers in electioneering methods.

In NIRA or in the Wagner bill, as Congress prefers, it is expected that the administration will ask that power be conferred upon a suitable authority to subpoena payrolls and conduct worker elections.

Blockers—

In spite of Donald Richberg's guarded language in which he intimated that the new NIRA should be confined to purely interstate business the new bill attempts to invade intrastate business. This is proposed on the grounds that some such businesses affect interstate commerce—and the decision is to be left to the new NIRA.

With these three great dangers hanging over them the spokesmen of big business are urging Senators to stall along on the new bill until the Supreme Court has passed upon the present act. An adverse decision would practically compel Congress to revise the new bill.

If the bill should reach the floor the debate could be carried on indefinitely by opponents of the provisions which are claimed to permit monopoly and restraint of trade. To these critics should be added political antagonists of President Roosevelt, who stand ready to block anything he wants to do.

New Deal's Legislation Is Attacked

CHAIN LETTERS BOOST HIS PAY

Loaded down with "send-a-dime" chain letters in addition to their regular mail, Denver letter carriers toiled along their routes with record cargoes as postal officials sought to stem the epidemic. Coalition Rejects NRA Amendments

WASHINGTON (AP)—A powerful bipartisan coalition in the senate finance committee Thursday rejected all amendments to the resolution extending NRA until next April 1st, and voted 13 to 4 to report it favorably to the senate.

Attempts to give the Blue Eagle another year of life, to extend its control further into intrastate commerce and to eliminate production control provisions were quickly rejected by an overwhelming majority determined to push the plan through in its agreed-upon form.

Chairman Harrison planned to submit the report to the senate in a day or two.

Strange Speaks To Kiwanians

"Tanlac" Strange spoke to the Kiwanis Club Thursday noon in the Crawford Hotel, on the Texas Centennial. He stated that legislation has already been passed for the appropriation of money for the celebration, and the bill is now ready for Governor Alford's signature.

He gave a short history of the State of Texas from the time of its exploration by the Spaniards down to the present time. He declared that Texas is made up of 60 different parts and compared its various parts with other states.

Frank Spaulding, who moved here recently from Breckenridge, favored the club with a group of three vocal selections which were very much enjoyed. He was accompanied on the piano by Miss Helen Duley.

It was voted by the members to accept the invitation of the Fort-San High School to attend its Junior-Senior banquet to be held in the Fort-San school Friday night, May 10th.

Guests other than those who appeared in the program were Rev. W. E. Hamilton of Lubbock, and John I. Moore.

State's Deficit Now Is Over $10,000,000

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Treasury Wednesday reported a general revenue deficit of $5,598,818.38 and a deficit in the Confederate pension fund of $4,637,001.73.

The announcement was in connection with a call of $1,700,528.51 in general revenue warrants. The call included warrants up to and including No. 78,382, or those issued to Jan. 22, 1935.

The Treasury also announced it was purchasing pension warrants up to and including the October, 1934, issue provided they had not been discounted, and was paying up to and including the October, 1933 issue, regardless of discount.

Resolutions Adopted By U.S.C. Of C.

tions strongly attacking virtually every phase of the new deal's legislative program were adopted Thursday by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber voted that holding company legislation should "superimpose no federal body over state commissions; that the proposed federal reserve legislation would give rise to political domination of the country's banking system; that NRA should be purely voluntary; and that the Wagner labor bill should be drastically changed.

April Shows Bright Spot In Building

Total Permits For Month $5741, Highest Figure Since Boom Days

Building permits furnished the bright spot for business here during April.

Twenty-two permits issued during the month totaled $5,741.50, one of the largest months since boom days. It showed a wider distribution among moderate-sized projects than did other months which have exceeded it within the past five years.

Largest single project was for $750.

Postal receipts gained, but failed to finish the month strong enough to gain as much over its month of a year ago as have preceding months of this year.

April receipts amounted to $4,496.28 as compared with $4,112.89 of a year ago. The figure compares with $4,447.71 for March which showed a gain of $500 over its month of the preceding year. Until the middle of the month, postal receipts had registered an approximate gain of 20 per cent.

New car registrations totaled 72 for April.

Worst slump was in the marriage market. Only 14 couples applied for licenses.

Tommy Ward, Under Indictment For Forgery Here, Is Alleged Leader Of A Forger Ring Operating In Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Ward is to go on trial here Wednesday for passing a forged instrument on the Sun Oil company to the Hollywood shop for $59.76.

According to an Associated Press dispatch Ward is the alleged head of a large ring of forgers which passed bogus checks on major oil companies.

Ward was brought to Odessa from Wichita, Kansas, and was indicted by a 70th district court grand jury in Ector county the first week of April. With him was his partner, F. A. Cowser.

The pair is alleged to have passed checks claiming they were new hands in the oil fields. Cowser is reported to be a former employee of the Sun Oil company and had a supply of printed checks on major oil companies. He is now serving a two years' sentence in the state prison on this bad check charge.

Ward is alleged to have passed a worthless Sun Oil check to Mrs. O. F. Weidenbach, Odessa, for the identical amount of $59.76, using the same alias, "Ted Ford."

Beyond denying he is the "Ted Ford" who passed the bogus checks, Ward has made no statement. He will be defended here by R. W. Hamilton, former district attorney.

District Attorney Cecil Collings said that following the trial here Wednesday, Ward will be returned to Odessa for trial on July 8.

Mrs. Weidenbach and employees of the Hollywood shop here have been positive in their identification of Ward as "Ted Ford."

Similar checks with other names used have been passed here and in neighboring cities. According to reports from South Texas, one check insurance company had to pay out more than two thousand dollars on bogus oil company checks.

Filipinos In Demonstration

MANILA (AP)—Philippine constabulary detachments were dispatched Thursday to points north and south of Manila, where communications wires were cut, asserted by opponents of ratification of constitution of the proposed commonwealth government.

Officials blamed Sakdalists, extremist group antagonistic to ratification.

Demonstrations were reported in five provinces around Manila.

MacDonald Says Will Maintain Powers' Parity

LONDON, (AP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald Thursday announced the British government "already was taking steps for further accelerated expansion of British air forces" in order to maintain parity with neighboring powers.

He told the House of Commons there would be an expansion of air strength "beyond those provided for in estimates this year."

MacDonald said Britain was determined to maintain a common front with France and Italy, stating "It would be a great calamity if there were any weakening or deterioration in confidence which exists between France, Italy and ourselves."

"We propose to put our power of defense into a state which will enable our people to feel they are protected."

BERLIN, (AP)—Hermann Wilhelm Goering, aviation minister, Thursday said the German air force, because of its "superior quality of men and material," would be more than a match for any assailant, even though the assailant were numerically stronger.

"Whoever dares attack us will have a bad time because we have absolutely the most modern machines and motors," Goering said at a foreign press association luncheon.

To Observe Cotton Week In B'Spring

Many Events Planned For City Between May 6 And 11

Events ranging from window unveilings to a novel golf tournament have been arranged to accentuate the observance of fifth National Cotton week here May 6-11.

Monday evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock the Big Spring high school band will be heard in a concert from the courthouse lawn while window unveilings are taking place.

The following evening women wearing new cotton dresses will be admitted free, if accompanied by an escort, to the wrestling matches.

Wednesday has been designated as special sales day for cotton goods with all stores cooperating. That evening the V.F.W. will give a dance, carrying out the cotton week observance idea.

One of the highlights of the week will be the Cotton Ball which is to be held from the Settles ballroom Thursday evening. Decorations will be of cotton and cotton material. Prizes will be given to the man and woman who are most attractively clad in cotton garments for the affair.

Friday, Ladies' Day at the Country club. Women golfers will tee off balls of cotton. The driving contest will also be staged with tees on cotton bales.

All merchants and dealers in cotton goods of any description are being urged to actively support the celebration here.

DUTCH MANTELL, AMARILLO—The ape-man, was a visitor here Monday. Mantell stopped in at a late hour to visit with Herman Fuhrer, manager for the Big Spring Athletic club. Mantell was on his way to Amarillo from El Paso.

THE APE-MAN LEFT WORD that Cal Farley was not to blame (so far as he knew) for sending out the money wedding invitations. That trick had all the earmarks of a publicity stunt.

CURTIS COOK, MIDLAND jockey, booted in three winners in three races at Ackerly last Saturday. He rode the Cook two-year-old filly, Little Nell, to win a 200 yard race from a five-year-old chestnut mare. He was up on Brown Jug, Fort Stockton horse, a 275 yard race which won over the fast Ackerly horse, Wetrop. Curtis then rode George Keith, former Bloss horse, to win a quarter mile race from another Howard county nag.

FLINT DUPRE OF THE DALLAS Journal writes that when Babe Didrikson met Mrs. Dan Chandler in the 36 hole finals of the women's golf tournament at Houston last week the gallery was the rudest that has ever witnessed a match in Texas. Spectators advised that the gallery acted like a gang of roughnecks. Especially, it seems, was the crowd impolite to Mrs. Chandler. The gallery was with Babe to a man, and there was shouting and carrying on every time Mrs. Chandler addressed her ball. This continued even on the green, but only when Mrs. Chandler was ready to putt.

TOURNAMENT OFFICIALS reported that they could find absolutely no fault with the Babe's conduct. It was on par with her golf—100 per cent.

FROM THE RECORD BOOK—Mark Koenig went to West Point, N. Y., May 23, 1934 and in making a speed test with a baseball, before Army officers, threw it at rate of 150 feet per second. Based on this, a pitcher can throw a ball from the mound to the plate (60 feet 6 inches) in about two-thirds of a second.

SOUTHWEST TEAMS IN TRACK AND FIELD MEET

CCC Foresters Win Over Cosden Lab

By HANK HART
The CCC Foresters pulled themselves back in to the "500" class Wednesday evening with a 14-10 win over Cosden Lab, while the Cosden Oilers clung desperately to third place with an 8-2 victory over the failing Carter Chevrolet.

The Bruccemen pounded Shettlesworth for a total of 22 base hits but did not go ahead until the fifth inning when they rallied for seven runs.
Seattle, Forester twirler, was hit hard during the early innings but survived. The CCC finger aided his victory along with four hits in four trips to the plate.
Diddle Young also came through with a sachel of safe blows, among them a circuit smash with two aboard in the fifth stanza.

All the Foresters were recorded with at least one bingle, while Baird and Gordon were the only Chemists who failed to reach first at least once.
Greenwood, Richardson mittman, led the Lab attack with three hits in four appearances.
Moxley, Whitt and Henninger were the big factors in the Cosden win over the Carterites, each coming through with two bingles.

The Oilers counted in the first inning when Moxley came home on a "hit by Whitt and killed" several Krausmen rallies to keep their lead throughout the game.
The Carterites' biggest uprising came in the third when Rowe and Jennings Ketner tallied on Hare's base hit.
Henninger, however, set the Krausmen down in order after that until the seventh when E. P. Ketner singled into the outfield.

Jennings Ketner collected two of the Kneecappers' five hits to lead the parade against Henninger.

LONGHORN CALENDAR JAM FULL

Brothers, Rice, Edwards, Of Texas In 440 Dash

AUSTIN (Sp.)—Longhorn sports followers will have a full program this week-end as both the University baseball and track teams, bound for conference championships, make their last home appearances of the spring season.

The triangular track and field classic between the Longhorns, Rice Owls and Texas Aggies is calculated to give track followers some of the best entertainment of the current season as several heated races are expected.

Brothers and Edwards, Brothers of Rice and Capt. Edwards of Texas will battle for honors in the 440-yard dash, and in the relay of the same distance the Longhorns and Aggies should run a close race. Despite the fact that the Steer baton-changers finished only several feet behind the world's record setting Iowa quartet at the Kansas relays several weeks ago in this event, the Aggie runners have improved steadily and Coach Littlefield expects his men to be pushed hard.

The 120-yard high hurdle race should be a toss-up. Wallace of Rice, Wilson of Texas and Randow of A & M have all defeated one another and promise a neck-and-neck race. Petty of Rice ought to cop the discus throw with ease, but in the high jump there is certain to be close competition. Vickery, Granger and Anderson of the Steers and Fairbridge and Brenzle of the Aggies are of about equal calibre.

All of the relay events should be interesting. The Longhorns hold several national high marks, while Rice boasts of fast teams. The University of Texas trackmen hold a dual meet victory over the Aggies and a triangular meet victory over the Steers and are favored to cop Friday's meet.

Conference Title
With the conference championship within reach, Coach Daeh's Longhorn baseball nine will tangle with the Baylor Bears Friday and Saturday afternoon here in their final home appearance. Both games of the double bill will start at 4 o'clock to allow the running of a triangular track meet on Friday and the Intercollegiate league finals on Saturday.

If the Steers can take both games from Baylor their right to the crown will be undisputed, and if they win one, they will have a cinch for a tie, even if the Horned Frogs should win their remaining games.

Trimmed Bears Early
Earlier in the season the University nine trimmed the Bears twice in their own back yard, and it is doubtful that the Waco nine can turn the tables on the flag-hungry Steers in this week's engagements. Longhorn pitchers held the Bears well in control several weeks ago and are due to repeat.

However, the Bears are no set-up. They have split even in four games with last year's championship Aggies, and have showed improvement from week to week. Led by Lloyd Russell, flashy sophomore short stop, they are apt to come from behind at any time, and only the superior brand of baseball which has taken the Longhorns through their schedule to date will be good enough to slide-track the Bruins.

Coach "Uncle Billy" Daeh will probably send his two ace mound-men, Branch and Midkiff against the Bears in an effort to sew up the championship before the final series with the Aggies at College Station. The Cadets are always hard to beat on their own field, and unless the Longhorns cinch the title this week they are apt to have plenty of trouble with the Aggies next week.

Regular, Heavy Hitting
The heavy hitting of every man in the regular Longhorn lineup has brought on most of their victories. Lloyd Rigby, sophomore short stop, Norman Branch, pitcher, and Aubrey Graham, sophomore third baseman are the three leading swarmsmen with an average above the 400 mark. The club averages follow:

Aggies Take Part Triangular Meet

COLLEGE STATION (Sp.)—As the last big preliminary to the annual Southwest conference meet here this week, the Texas Aggies, Rice Owls and University of Texas Longhorns, three perennial championship contenders, will stage their annual triangular meet Friday afternoon at Austin. Through the past few years this meet has become known as the "little co-ference meet," as its winner usually duplicates its victory and becomes champion the next week.

Injuries, ineligibility and graduation have riddled the ranks of the Aggies, who finished second the past year, and they are expected to drop to third place in both the triangular and conference meets. The University of Texas Longhorns, defending champions, are established favorites with the Owls being ranked second on the form charts.

Ags Fight For Second Place

COLLEGE STATION (Sp.)—Virtually out of the championship picture but with a good chance for second place, the Texas Aggies will play the Texas Christian Frogs on the Kyle Field diamond here Friday and Saturday. The Aggies are four games behind the leading University of Texas Longhorns, with only four games to play, but are only one game behind the second-place Frogs.

Capt. Jake Mooty, of Fort Worth, who has hurled forty-nine of the 70 1-3 innings the Aggies have been in conference play, probably will start Friday's game in the box. Saturday's Aggie hurler probably will be either "Doc" Pitner, Denton sophomore who blanked Baylor 9-0 the past week, or Homer Martinez, letterman from Hebbronville.

Although he is credited with four losses and two victories, Mooty has the low earned run average of only 1.479 for the 49 innings he has worked. He has won two and lost two of the four games he has started and has lost two in which he did relief hurling. Both his starting losses were by one run, the first a 1-0 defeat by the Longhorns and the second a 2-1 loss to Baylor the past Saturday through a single and homer after two were out in the ninth. In three of the games he started Mooty allowed only four hits and in the fourth, a 14-inning duel with Baylor, he allowed only six.

Pipeliners Take Ragged Contest, 9-4

FORSAN (Sp.)—Cosden Pipeliners took a 9-4 decision over Chalk here Wednesday in a ragged game. Batteries: Cosden—Dean, Cramer and Baker; Chalk—Moody and Hollis.

The Pipeliners journey to Midland Sunday for a game with the Colts.

Ackerly was scheduled to play here last week but failed to show up.

Athletics' Big Six Bombers In Action

(By The Associated Press)
Only the Athletics' two representatives on the Big Six, Jimmie Fox and Bob Johnson, saw action in the select hitting group yesterday and the results of their efforts was a "Mexican standoff." Fox got only one blow, his fifth homer of the season, in three times up. His average dropped three points to .388 and he yielded fourth place to the idle Rollie Hemsley. Johnson hit twice in four attempts, sending his last-place mark up nine points to .386.

To Close Series Of Dual Matches

COLLEGE STATION (Sp.)—Coach J. P. Abbott's Texas Aggie tennis team will close its annual series of dual matches this week-end as final preparation for the Southwest Conference tournament May 10 and 11 at Austin. The Cadets will play the Southern Methodist Mustangs Friday at Dallas and the Baylor Bears Saturday at Waco.

Aggie players for the matches will include Bob Early, Waco; Warren Sorrells, Houston; Jack Crichton, East Point, La.; Sigman Black, Clifton, Ariz.; and Irving White, Amarillo. The Cadets to date have won from Sam Houston and Trinity and lost to Rice and the University of Texas Longhorns.

COLLEGE STATION, (Sp.)—Stout-hearted competitors from the seven Southwest conference schools will vie for medals, points and records on the track and field, and faculty representatives will ponder their regulations Friday and Saturday, May 11 and 12, at Texas A&M college. In addition to the conference track meet and session of the governing body, athletic directors and business managers of member schools also will have their spring meeting here.

Form charts predict the University of Texas Longhorns will repeat as conference champions, with the Rice Owls a close second and the Texas Aggies third. The four other schools, Baylor, Arkansas, Texas Christian and Southern Methodist, are expected to send a number of outstanding performers, however.

A number of conference records seem in danger of being bettered, and the field for the meet can muster its full share of colorful performers. Among these will be "Chink" Wallender, Longhorns, in the sprints; Leo (Smoky) Brothers, Owls, in the quarter-mile; Bill Wallace, Owls, Forrest Wilson, Longhorns, and Capt. Wilbert Kardow, Aggie, in the hurdles; George Wilson, Longhorns in the two mile; Vickery, Granger and Anderson, Longhorns, and Taylor Wilson and Jimmy McFartridge, Aggies, in the high jump; Walter Skripka, Aggies and Maes and Letts, Owls, in the javelin; Vance, Texas, Welch, Owls, and Alexander, Aggie, in the pole vault, and the crack Steer 440-yard relay team of Pickett, Rockhold, Grunelson and Wallender.

Under The Dome

At Austin

By GORDON STRASBERG

AUSTIN, (UP)—hat becomes of the bills that fail to pass at a session of the state legislature is a mystery to many.

More than two thirds of the proposals are "born to blush unseen and waste their fragrance on the desert air."

The typed paper that forms the physical make-up of a "bill" is taken at the end of a session by the Chief Clerk of the house or the secretary of the senate, neatly labeled, indexed, and then delivered to the Secretary of State.

There is where the separation takes place between bills that have graduated into "Acts" and those that did not make the grade. The lost ones are stored in a dusty vault.

The "Acts" are carefully preserved in filing cases.

The occasions are few when either on act or a dead bill is taken physically from its abiding place in the office of the Secretary of State.

Printed copies of the acts are accepted and used in most court proceedings. Occasionally there is a call for a "certified" copy. Then the act is taken out, transcribed, the copy checked and a notation made under oath that the copy is true and correct.

Employees of the office do not recall any specific requests to produce unpassed bills. Such requests have been made however, usually by some one planning to draft a new bill.

Only the official bill goes to the office of the Secretary of State. Besides it there are 300 printed copies. If the bill has hurdled its first obstacle and won a favorable committee report. Some local bills escape printing and a few general bills get by with mimeographing to save time.

The usual bill is printed. It is printed on standard size paper. Each line numbers are for convenience in proposing changes. Rules require that the amendment specify the page, section and line.

The printed bills are junked at the end of a session.

The bills that finally pass are triple checked to secure accuracy. Sometimes a mistake occurs despite that precaution. The chances for error are numerous. Few go through the house and senate without any amendment. The amendments are designated by the Journal clerks.

Upon passage, the bill with the amendments is engrossed. Then, after it has passed both branches of the legislature, it is enrolled in the branch where it originated. A committee gives it the "OK."

Signatures of the lieutenant governor and speaker, certified by the chief clerk of the house and secretary of the senate, then are inscribed.

The signing must be done publicly while the house and senate are in session. The governor's signature, attested by the secretary of state, makes the bill finally a law.

Before a bill takes effect, it must wait 90 days after the close of the session at which it was enacted.

This wait can be avoided by an emergency clause citing the need of immediate action. The clause is valueless on the bill unless it receives two thirds of the house vote and two thirds of the senate vote.

"Personal privilege" is used as an excuse by many legislators to talk when rules would keep them silent otherwise. Sen. Welly (cq) K. Hopkins, Gonzales, used "personal privilege" in its true sense last Friday.

At 4:45 p. m. he had an amendment pending on a bill before the senate. Longwinded senators dropped on with no indication when they would vote of the amendment. Hopkins glanced anxiously at the clock.

"Mr. President," he said, "I want to speak on personal privilege. I have just fifteen minutes to get a bath, a shave, dress and get to my wedding rehearsal. I wish the senators would vote."

Sen. Clint Small of Amarillo, also asserted personal privilege to speed a vote on his bill to stop natural gas waste. He got the senators to hold a night session and vote upon it, so he could return home in time to appear in an important law suit.

To Compete In Lubbock Meet

LUBBOCK—Twenty-five high school bands from West Texas will be here Friday and Saturday for the West Texas High School Band contest, D. O. Wiley, Tech master, band director, chairman of the contest committee estimates.

This contest will bring in over a thousand playing musicians as well as several thousand visitors who will flock in from the territory to hear the contest and to witness a band parade here Saturday morning.

Beginning early Friday, the musicians will be busy until the parade is over Saturday morning.

Beginning early Friday, the musicians will be busy until the parade is over Saturday morning.

The Junior High bands, Class D and C bands will play their contest numbers Friday morning. The class B and A bands will play their numbers Saturday morning.

Friday afternoon, 9:30 of the best players from each band will rehearse for a massed band concert which will be played Friday evening.

At 6 p. m. Friday afternoon, the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce will be host to the band directors and their school superintendents at a banquet.

Fifty dollars in prizes will be awarded bands making the best showing in the parade Saturday and the musicians are expected to be on their best behavior during the parade.

Bands that will participate include the following: Wink, Midland, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Coleman, Monahans, Lorraine, Levelland, Fort Stockton, Odessa, Panhandle, Slaton, Foran, Abilene, Christian college academy, Lubbock high and Lubbock junior high, Amarillo junior high, Lamesa, Snyder, Crane, Bronte, Albany, Plainview, Hereford.

The Texas Tech band will be in the parade and a large number of solo players will be here from the Wichita Falls, Iowa Park, and Clarendon bands.

Other bands may enter before the opening of the contest, Wiley said today.

Judges for the contest follow: Richard J. Dunn, Texas A&M college; Earl D. Irons, North Texas Agricultural college; N. J. Whitehurst, State supervisor, instrumental music, state department of education; Ellis B. Hall, Amarillo Academy of Music; and Sanford Eklund, Clarendon.

The judges will each direct a number at the massed band contest and D. O. Wiley will likewise direct a number.

'My Home Town' Speaking Contest To Have Largest Number Entries At Plainview Convention, Reported

(Special to The Herald)
PLAINVIEW—The My Home Town Speaking contest at the seventeenth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, May 12-14-15, promises to be the largest and one of the most interesting contests in the several years that it has been sponsored by the organization, judging from reports received at convention headquarters.

Forty-one cities have notified convention headquarters that they would have entrants in this contest. Of this number, thirteen cities have already named their representatives. They are: Post, Lloyd Lavoite; Spur, Tommy Glasgow; Quitaque, F. M. Sachse, Jr.; Vernon, N. P. Craig, Jr.; Dallas, Truitt Mayer; Tahoka, James Minor; Farwell, Chester J. Park; Portales, N. M., Frank Craddock;

Van Horn, Mary Beth Clark; Stephenville, Phil Taylor; Crowell, J. C. Ross; Seagraves, Carey Roach; Dimmitt, Jack Boren. Young Boren was winner of second place in 1934.

Other cities that have indicated that they will have an entrant for this contest are: Pampa, El Paso, Amarillo, Dalhart, Floydada, Slaton, Memphis, Olney, Burk Burnett, Lubbock, Brownfield, Breckenridge, Artesia, New Mexico, Anton, Muleshoe, Channing, Midland, Ft. Davis, Haskell, Petersburg, Alpine, Electra, Dumas, Groom, Wichita Falls, Tulla, Abilene and Hamilton.

Each year the Thomas Etheridge loving cup is offered in this contest, as well as cash prizes offered by the region chamber. In addition, scholarships in a number of educational institutions will be given. C. M. Caldwell, Abilene, has conducted this contest for several years and has been active in its interests since its inception. He is chairman of this feature of the convention, and is particularly interested in having a large attendance on hand to hear the contest.

REFINED IN BIG SPRING

FLASH GASOLINE

A TRIAL WILL CONVINCE YOU

THE WORLD MOVES ON

The fact that an international equal-rights-for-women conference is being held in the former harem of the sultans of Turkey is the sort of thing that leads to wisecracks.

Women from 42 countries have convened at the Yildiz Palace in Istanbul, Istanbul used to be Constantinople and the Yildiz Palace used to be the seraglio in which the sultan's girl friends were kept under lock and key to locate a reminiscent conference there, of all places on earth, is about equal to conveying a disarmament conference in one of the Krupp factories.

But for that very reason, the incident deserves something more in the way of attention than a casual joke or two.

It symbolizes one way, at least, in which the world has managed to make some very definite progress during the last quarter century. It is probably true that modern civilization has declined somewhat since the pre-war decade; but in this one instance it has made a decided advance.

Suppose, for example, that we go back to 1906 or 1907. Nothing could have seemed less likely, then, than that the fight for feminine equality would sweep clear into the sultan's harem at any time in the near future. Even in England and America, the feminist was a person distrusted and ridiculed by ordinary folk, and her fight had barely begun.

Only the most light-headed of optimists would have predicted a victory in Turkey inside of one generation.

But the world does move, and it sometimes has a way of moving a great deal faster than anyone dares to predict. The fact is symbolized by this convention in Turkey's one-time harem and in it there is a spoonful or two of hope for a discouraged world.

Just now such things as democracy, liberty, and peace look to be in a very bad way. They have been taking their knocks ever since 1914, and it sometimes looks as if one more wallop would finish all three for keeps.

THREE HOSTESSES GIVE COFFEE ON MEZZANINE OF HOTEL HONORING BRIDE

Mmes. J. B. Young, Vern Van Gieson And Robert Currie Entertain For Friends Of Prospective Bride And Mrs. Wilke

Greetings May Day with a charming coffee planned in accordance with the day, three hostesses entertained at the Settles hotel Wednesday morning favoring Miss Mary Alice Wilke, bride-to-be of the week.

They were Mrs. Verd Van Gieson, Mrs. J. B. Young and Mrs. Robert Currie.

After the hostesses had greeted the guests in the order named, Miss Wilke, who was next in the receiving line, visited with them; also Miss Mary Vance Keneaster, who will be the bride's only attendant, and Mrs. George Wilke.

At the coffee table, Mrs. Wilburn Barcus and Mrs. Tom Helton poured coffee from beautiful silver services.

From the center of the table a May Pole wrapped with its streamers of pastel colors arose out of a silver bowl filled with pink roses, blue larkspur and sprays of white hollyhocks. A cupid with a drawn bow topped the May Pole. The table was spread with a cloth of Russian flax. Lavender candles in silver holders stood at the ends of the tables. On crystal plates were small cakes, wee doughnuts and buttered rolls.

During the morning, Miss Wilke was presented by the hostesses with a hat rack dressed as a doll in a bouffant frock of pastel colored ruffles.

Have a mind of your own—get a jar of Kruschen today (lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle). Take a half teaspoonful in a cup of hot water every morning—tastes fine with juice of half lemon added. If you don't lose 12 lbs. and feel years younger—money back. Collins Bros. drugs, Cunningham & Phillips sell lots of it—adv.

Ideal Bridge Club Members Meet At Mrs. R. H. McNew's

Mrs. R. Homer McNew was hostess to the Ideal Bridge club Wednesday afternoon at her home. An abundance of roses from the hostess' garden graced the living room. Three guests joined the club members in play. They were: Mmes. Shine Phillips, G. A. Woodward and Turner Wynn. Mrs. Phillips was the highest scorer.

Mrs. M. M. Edwards scored highest for members. Others of the club attending were: Mmes. A. E. Service, L. W. Croft, R. T. Piner and Fred Stephens.

Mrs. Piner will be the next hostess.

Mrs. Merrill Hostess To Bluebonnets

Mrs. E. D. Merrill gave the members of the Bluebonnet Bridge club a pretty May Day party Wednesday afternoon, carrying out a yellow and green color scheme.

Bingo prizes were presented each table. These were glass vases holding roses and were won by Mmes. Baker, Terry, Koberg and Boatler.

Many games were enjoyed, after the guests had viewed the many lovely gifts presented the honoree, Mrs. Kirkpatrick was given powder cake, fruit salad and tea were served.

The following guests: Fawn Buzbee, Bobby and Gerry Sanders, Jennetta and Bonnie Jean Byers, Bobby, Billy Sue and Jimmy Lou Dement, La Neil Robinson, Ronnie Knaus, Freda May King, Lily Bell Little, Dorothy Fay Knapp, Kenneth Jennings and Nancy Thompson.

Frankie Burch sent a gift but could not attend the party.

Pretty Stork Shower Is Given By Two Hostesses

Mrs. J. M. Simmons and Mrs. P. T. Redding entertained with a stork shower in honor of Mrs. Morris Redding Wednesday afternoon. Many enjoyable games were played.

A pretty refreshment plate carried out the party's colors of pink and blue.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Hull of the R-Bar community celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday by being host to 56 relatives and guests.

Nine of them were children of the couple. Of their eleven children, all are living, are married and have homes of their own, said Hull.

Hull, who passed his 72 birthday February 9, is still well preserved. For 29 years he and Mrs. Hull, who was 64 on February 20, have lived in the R-Bar community where he has farmed.

"And this year I seen something I never seen before," said Hull jerking his head toward the north. "It's these dust storms. It's going something to the front. I don't know what, but it looks bad. When a freeze or hail doesn't get it, something else does."

But the elements do not discourage Hull. "When it looks like you will make the most, you maybe don't make nothing. Then when it looks worst, maybe you will turn around and make the best crop you ever made."

Resides members of the family who were at their parents' home, these attended the celebration: Mr. and Mrs. Bligh, Mr. and Mrs. Will Robinson of Coahoma, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rogers, Rev. Brown of Fairview, L. C. McCarty of Coahoma, and Rev. J. L. Fields of Snyder.

Double Four Club Plays At Home Of Mrs. W. S. Wilson

Mrs. W. S. Wilson was hostess to the Double Four Bridge club Wednesday afternoon for a very pretty party. Five guests were club visitors.

High score for the members went to Mrs. Blue and for the guests to Mrs. Miller. Mrs. Hammond captured the bingo prize.

A pretty refreshment plate was served the following guests, Mmes. R. H. Miller, George Tate, C. C. Carter, R. F. Blum, and A. G. Schlegel, and the following members: Mmes. Ed Allen, J. N. Blue, William Dehlinger, Watson Hammond, Gene Wilson and W. H. Summerlin.

Presbyterian Young People To Meet Here

The young people of the First Presbyterian church will be hosts for a district young people's rally Friday evening at the church. Delegates from Midland, Coahoma and Colorado are expected.

The rally will begin with a dinner at 6:30 at the church followed by a program in which two synodical officers will speak. Mrs. L. C. Majors of Dallas, synodical director of young people's work, will be one of the speakers. John Mosley, synodical president, will be the other.

Local members who will take part will be: Lovella Bell, who will give a violin solo, Elizabeth Hanson who will speak on the worship program for young people, and Evelyn La Londe, who will talk on young people's work in general. The meeting will be opened with a sing-song.

Son Of Noted Actor Makes Hit On Screen

Born on Labor Day, Fred Kohler Jr. seemed destined for a life of toil. The son of a famous American screen actor, motion pictures would not let young Kohler live his life in peace, although he was determined at first to take up other activities rather than rise to fame on the reputation of his father.

Young Kohler started his vocational career as a garage mechanic and rancher, but was eventually prevailed upon to accept a role with Richard Dix in "Moran of the Marines" back in 1928, which launched him on a screen career.

Mrs. Summerlin will be the next hostess.

Even then he tried to evade the responsibilities of an actor and was working in a film laboratory when "Monogram executives persuaded him to accept the important role of 'Bud Larkh' in 'The Hoosier Schoolmaster,' the screen adaptation of the famous Edward Eggleston classic, which comes to the Ritz theater for a run of one day, starting Thursday. Kohler was typed both by physical qualifications and previous screen training for the role, and his characterization in this production is regarded as one of his finest presentations.

American Airlines Schedule Changed

A slight change in arrival and departure time of westbound and eastbound American Airlines ships in Big Spring has been announced by Glenn Golden, station manager here. Westbound plane, formerly arriving at 12:04 will arrive at 12:17, and depart at 12:03. Eastbound plane, formerly due at 8:24 a. m. will arrive at 8:24 and depart at 8:36. These changes were effective May 1, Golden said, and were made on account of prevailing westerly winds, which have been delaying ships slightly.

G-3 GIVES YOU MORE SAFETY

Here's why

SEE that "margin of safety" in the picture? That's a real difference in stopping ability—and only Goodyear Tires give it to you. They stop quicker than any tire ever tested against them!

Of course you want this extra protection from skidding—at no extra cost. And when you buy "G-3" All-Weathers you also get more miles of safety because these tires keep their grip 43% longer. Come in and let us show you why.

Let Us ELECTROLUX Your Car

Our new Electrolux air-cleaning machine gets ALL the dirt out of the cushions and inside of your car. When we wash your car we ELECTROLUX the interior! Bring us your car next time and let us prove to you that we can get it CLEANER!

HERE'S WHAT YOU GET GOODYEAR'S NEW G-3

- You get the broader road contact of a flatter, wider All-Weather Tread.
- You get quicker-stopping and the greater road grip of more non-skid blocks in the center.
- You get the easy steering and smooth travel of wider riding-ribs.
- You get the slow, even wear of closer-nested non-skid blocks and ribs.
- You get more rubber in the tread—an average of two pounds more per tire.

—all of which adds up to 43% MORE NON-SKID MILEAGE at no extra cost to you!

GREAT RICHES

Chapter 37 JANE'S DEMAND

But perhaps Jane understood his intentions only too well, thought James. It must be true that the Judge had been blinded from the very beginning by his loving fondness. Certainly no one but the Judge believed now that he still showed any promise of greatness. Jane and her father and mother made only the feeblest attempts to hide their disappointment and contempt.

The young people with whom he had grown up still liked him well enough, but they called him "poor James" behind his back. If he went to the grocery store to give an order for Jane, Mr. Perkins thought it a great joke to ask whether it should be charged to him or Mr. Northrup.

Even the Judge had begun to think that perhaps he had become over-sensitive and imaginative. That would be the last straw, the last straw, the last and final straw, if his old friend lost faith in him.

When James went home an hour later he found Jane still sitting on the porch rocking back and forth.

"Can't I get you a shawl? Aren't you cold?" he said quickly, hoping to placate her.

"No, thank you. It isn't cold. Where have you been?"

"Nowhere. Just walking around."

"James, I've been sitting here thinking things over and I've come to a decision. We've been married five years and in that time we've

"I think I have done something better than that, Jane."

"Well, yes, of course, but I'm speaking figuratively. But you aren't a money maker and you never will be. You aren't interested in making money. Now honestly, are you?"

"Well, yes, I want to make money. But I don't take a case just for the money in it, if that's what you mean."

"Exactly. So you may peg along here for a thousand years and never make as much as five thousand a year. But you are interested in politics and Father says the Judge still has enormous political influence. Now the Judge can't possibly live much longer and if he ever is going to put you in Congress now is the time."

"But Jane, I'm only twenty-nine. Naturally they wouldn't elect me. Besides, Daniels is a perfectly good man and has represented this district for years. He is sixty-one or two now and the Judge thinks he will drop out just about the time I am ready to run—in five or six years. But I'm only a kid in politics now."

"Then why doesn't the Judge at least send you to the state legislature?"

"He wants me to run next term, but McCullough is entitled to his two years. The Judge promised them to him."

"If it isn't one thing it's another. I suppose when you are fifty you will still be waiting for someone to die or for something to turn up."

"But you aren't a money maker and never will be."

HE ALMOST DIVED INTO NIAGARA

A clump of bushes was all that saved Douglas Dean, 8, (above) from a plunge into the torrent of Niagara gorge many feet below. As it was, his 50-foot fall rendered him unconscious, but playmates brought police who rescued him from his precarious position. (Associated Press Photo)

Oh, if I were a man I would not stay tied to an octogenarian's apron strings. I'd do what my father did, what all men who have amounted to anything did. I'd make up my mind what I wanted and go out and get it."

"Jane," said James after a little unhappy silence, "has it ever occurred to you that all our discussions end this way? And doesn't that seem a very terrible thing to you? It does to me."

"I suppose so," answered Jane fretfully, "but I dare say you'll be claiming next that it's all my fault. If you had my nerves or suffered with your back as I suffer with mine it seems to me that I would be a little considerate and go out of my way occasionally to try to please you."

"I'm not claiming anything or blaming anybody. I am trying to figure out just where the trouble lies. Nor is it just to say I have not tried to please you. Sometimes I think I try too hard. Sometimes I think you would like me better if I gave you real cause for disliking me."

"I don't dislike you. How silly! Let's go to bed or first thing you know you will be getting sentimental and I'm not in a sentimental mood tonight."

James sighed and the discussion ended. What James wanted to ask Jane and did not dare, was why she so often went out of her way and spent so much energy to hunt up old grievances against him. Not that it was really necessary to ask. James, unfortunately, knew the answer. He knew only too well that it was necessary for Jane's peace of mind that she stand well in her own eyes. Even she could not make herself believe that she created her husband fairly these days. James knew that Jane was ashamed of the scene before her father-ashamed in her heart of hearts of the attitude she had taken regarding Mrs. Preston. But he knew, too, that if she were ashamed tonight and somewhat repentant she would not or could not rest content until she had somehow found excuse for herself and was once more happily restored in her self-esteem.

And to do that it was unfortunately necessary that he should be sacrificed and his culpability magnified. Old offenses would be dug up and hashed and rehearsed—old quarrels re-lived; old grievances multiplied.

James went to sleep dreading the morrow. "I believe that Jane's conscience is to blame—that we both would be happier if she had no conscience" was his last waking thought.

Court Handles Cases Speedily

Nine Pleas of Guilty Heard By Body After Late Start Thursday

Seventieth district court handled criminal cases with the speed of a federal court Thursday morning, hearing nine pleas of guilty after a late start.

Suspended sentences were assessed in all cases by Judge Charles L. Klapproth. In rapid order, District Attorney Cecil C. Collings read indictments, opened and presented the state's case when pleas of guilty were entered. Judge Klapproth pronounced the sentences, sometimes pausing to warn or advise the defendants, and calling the next case.

Clara Ellen Miller, charged with hog theft, was the first to be tried. She received a two year suspended sentence.

Arthur Jason, charged with theft of a Ford car from R. W. Ogden, was assessed a 2 year suspended sentence.

B. J. Dornwell, indicted for theft, was given a 3 year suspended sentence. In his testimony he said he was an escapee from the state penitentiary. Judge Klapproth ordered him returned to the institution.

George Hanks and J. B. Castelnan received a 2 year suspended sentence for chicken theft from A. B. Shortes.

Ed Smith was given a 2 year suspended sentence for swindling W. O. Queen.

For theft of a sack of potatoes from the transient bureau, Fredrick Krohe and Frank Haley were assessed a two years' suspended sentence.

G. L. Bowen, last one to be tried during the morning, was given a two years' suspended sentence for disposing of mortgaged property.

Agreed judgment between Consolidated Underwriters and Gil Alfred "Kin" Barnett was entered Wednesday afternoon in the court.

Laymen's Brotherhood To Be Organized At East Fourth Church

Laymen of the East Fourth Baptist church will convene 7:30 p. m. today at the church to organize a laymen's brotherhood, the pastor, Rev. W. S. Garnett, said. He also called attention to the lay leader's meeting here Wednesday at the First Baptist church. Lyman Wren Snyder, is president of the association of laymen and John R. Hutto, Big Spring, is vice-president.

'DIME LETTERS' SWAMP CLERKS

Mad Hog Routed Workers

FAIRVIEW, Cal. (UP)—A $2 reward with no takers was offered for return of the maddest hog in the world. A crack from a slaughter-hammer only startled the 275-pound porker into a dive for a vat of boiling water. Slightly parboiled, it clambered out, chased the butcher and a half dozen spectators from the slaughter house, sudden explosion. Howard lost fence and escaped to freedom thru an orchard, leaving a trail of scared trees.

Wellesley Girl Bought Truck

WELLESLEY, Mass. (UP)—Wellesley College officials who passed a regulation permitting seniors to have automobiles during their last term at college didn't figure on Miss Antoinette (Texas) Sharp, Dallas, Tex., senior. Miss Sharp went out and got herself a truck large enough to carry six horses. She has four horses of her own and personally looks after them daily. "Texas" Sharp plans to drive the van to Dallas after commencement in June.

Nevada To Get Pheasants

RENO, Nev. (UP)—Plans to stock 1,000 pheasants in Nevada this fall are underway by the State Fish and Game Commission. The commission also plans to stock 200 chukar partridges, a species native to India, which have been introduced in Oregon and California and are reported to be thriving here.

Mid-west Cookery Rises To Claim Rightful Place In Hall Of Fame

The call is arms to all natives of the Middle West has sounded, and every son and daughter worthy of the name has risen in rightful wrath to demand a place in the gastronomic hall of fame. Southern cookery, Eastern and New England cookery, the joys of Western food have been touted far and wide, but few have come forth to proclaim the delights of the cooking that "grows" in the land of waving corn!

Middle Westerners, the reason is given, have been modest, have been silent. Middle Westerners, it is said, have served their foods so plain, so simply cooked, that they have become taken for granted, found too usual to become the subjects for song and story.

The Like Unequaled

Yet the like of these has seldom been equaled: fried chicken—fresh young "barred rocks" or "reds" dismembered and cooked to a crisp glory in honest flour and grease; lettuce grown in single leaves and "dressed" with bacon and redolent vinegar; catfish, with boiled potatoes and butter; corn bread; corn meal mush; pickled peaches and pears with cinnamon stick and cloves clinging to their goodness; spare ribs that are neither corned nor pallid, but baked to a crunchiness and served with "sass" from the best apples in the orchard; date pudding, rich and golden; gingerbread; home-made picailli; glorious and creamy banana pie!

These are but a few of the native dishes that are ripe along the banks of the Illinois, Missouri, Mississippi rivers and farther inland, where the land is flat and mountains are unknown. Recipes for a few of the best are given here today, each from an unassuming but "seasoned" cook!

Marjorie Wheeler's Date Pudding
1-1/2 cups flour, 1 tsp. baking powder, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 cup nutmeats, 1-4 cup milk, 1 pkg. pasteurized dates, 1 cup dried bread crumbs.

Mix flour, baking powder and sugar together. Add dates (cleared), bread crumbs and chopped nutmeats. Stir in beaten eggs and milk. Pour into buttered baking dish. Place in pan of hot water and bake one hour in moderate oven (350 F). Serve with whipped cream. 8-10 servings.

Glorious Banana Pie

6 bananas, 1 cup heavy cream, whipped, 1 tsp. powdered sugar, 1-2 tsp. vanilla, 1 baked 9-inch pie shell or 6 tart shells.

Slice bananas. Mix thoroughly whipped cream, powdered sugar, vanilla and add bananas. Fill baked pie or tart shells with this mixture. Sprinkle with grated, unsweetened chocolate if desired. Serves 6.

Irene Sanderson's Good Cake Filling

3-4 cup sugar, 3-4 cup irradiated evaporated milk, 1-2 cup water, 1-4 cup nutmeats, 1-4 cup scalded raisins, chopped; 1-3 tsp. salt, 1-2 cup pasteurized dates, 1 tsp. vanilla.

Place diluted milk and sugar in saucepan. Stir until the sugar is dissolved. Boil for about five minutes. Add the fruit, nuts and salt, and boil until the mixture will form a very soft ball in cold water. Cool, add vanilla, and beat until thick enough to spread between layers of cake. Sufficient filling for one three-layer cake.

Illinois Corn Bread

1-1/3 cups cornmeal, 3-4 cup bread flour, 1 tsp. salt, 1-2 tsp. soda, 2 tps. baking powder, 1 egg, 2 tps. butter, 3 tps. dark karo, 1 cup sour milk.

Sift together all dry ingredients. Add sugar, butter (melted), karo and milk. Stir until thoroughly mixed. Bake in hot oven (400-425 F.) about twenty-five minutes.

Grandma's Rice Pudding

1-2 cup rice, 1 qt. milk, 1-2 tsp. cinnamon or nutmeg, 4 tps. sugar (white or brown), 1-2 tsp. salt.

Wash the rice thoroughly, and other ingredients and pour into a greased baking-dish. Bake for 3 hours in a slow oven (285 F.), stirring several times during the first hour. The mixture should not boil. Serve either hot or cold. The long, slow cooking gives the delicious flavor of the old-fashioned creamy pudding. One-half cup of raisins may be added if desired, 6 servings.

Pepper Hash

Put 1 cup seeded and chopped green peppers and 1 cup seeded and chopped red peppers in bowl with 1 cup chopped onion. Mince finely and drain through colander. Put mixture in saucepan with 1-4 to 1-2 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons salt and 1 cup vinegar. Boil gently for 20 to 30 minutes. Store in glass jars. Makes about 4 cups of relish.

Rose Insects And Disease

Effective application of remedies for control of insects and diseases is best accomplished by use of a fine spray or a dusting appliance. For the rose garden of average size, containing up to 50 plants, a compressed-air type sprayer, holding three to five gallons of liquid is desirable. For only a few rose bushes, the plunger type hand sprayer represents the minimum investment. The best general-purpose dusts for the small flower garden, useful also in the vegetable garden, are of the crank or bellows types, holding about five pounds of dust.

Insects attack the rose in three different ways: feeding—externally on foliage, flowers or bark; boring in bark and stem; and sucking juices from bark, leaves and new growth. In the first instance, the damage generally is caused by sawfly larvae, caterpillars, or adult beetles. The remedy is a dust or spray mixture containing lead arsenate, which is a dangerous poison and should be handled carefully. The borers of roses are those which enter the pruned end of shoots (cut off and exposed end with a tack); and those which bore through the bark part. Sucking pests are numerous. Spider mites, thrips and aphids may be killed with a nicotine-sulphate spray. Scale insects usually may be controlled by a spring spraying with one of the lubricating oil emulsions, miscible oils, or lime-sulphur.

Mrs. S. R. Hagler of Coshoma has returned to her home after treatment at the hospital.

Mrs. R. L. Wright of Hobbs, N. M. returned to her home Thursday, after several days in the hospital for treatment and observation.

16 Children Perish In Turkey 'Quake'

ISTANBUL, Turkey. (UP)—Sixteen children are dead and twenty persons missing Thursday after a violent earthquake in the mountainous Kars district, near Soviet Armenia.

At least fifty were seriously injured.

Fire Exploded Dynamite

GOLDFIELD, Nev. (UP)—Geo. H. Howard and Noel Kitchen, prospectors, built a fire on a mining claim they had been working to warm themselves. When the flames burned low there was a crashed a door, ploughed through a the sight of both eyes. Kitchen suffered facial injuries. Investigation disclosed they had built the fire over an abandoned dynamite cache.

Old Indian Hatchet Found

YARMOUTH, Mass. (UP)—Perhaps an old Indian camping ground was uncovered when Carlton A. Farmworth discovered a well preserved Indian hatchet. Though the handle had rotted away, and the things that were once attached to the sharpened blade had gone, one could detect the grooved center in which the handle had fitted.

A Buying Guide

BEFORE you order dinner at a restaurant, you consult the bill-of-fare. Before you take a long trip by motor-car, you pore over road maps. Before you start out on a shopping trip, you should consult the advertisements in this paper. For the same reasons!

The advertising columns are a buying guide to you in the purchase of everything you need—including amusements! A guide that saves your time and conserves your energy; that saves useless steps and guards against false ones; that puts the s-t-r-e-t-c-h in family budgets.

The advertisements in this paper are so interesting, it is difficult to see how any one could overlook them and fail to profit by them. Just check with yourself and be sure that you are reading the advertisements regularly—the big ones and the little ones. It is time well spent at ways.

Weaner—

World War veterans are on the anxious seat. They see signs that they are to be sold down the river. The turn taken by the Senate finance committee causes veterans to believe that Senator Harrison has an understanding with President Roosevelt by which a bill unsatisfactory to veterans, but giving them "some cash," will be put through.

A significant feature of the newly revised bill is that it authorizes the President to pay veterans out of the work-relief fund. That sounds good, but veterans insist that the cash they would get is not as much as they are entitled to and that if they accepted it they would be stopped from claiming the balance.

The House proved its bonus position. It was ready to fight Roosevelt on the issue. Veterans now say they will ask the House to knock the stuffing out of the Harrison bill if it should pass the Senate. Their greatest fear is that the President will send for House members and wean them away from the Putnam bill.

Cash—

Another way of meeting the threat of the Harrison bill is to substitute the Vinson bill, which the House turned down in favor of the Putnam bill. Senate friends of veterans are planning to force the Vinson substitute to a vote. This bill proposes to pay veterans full cash claims, passing to the government the buck of finding the money.

"Passage of the Vinson bill by the Senate might induce the House to accept it, especially if a provision is inserted authorizing the President to use work-relief funds for bonus payments.

Effective—

Now that the anti-lynching bill is getting out of the way, it's dawned upon administration leaders that this bill ate up valuable time—and was meant to do so. One or two other bills are now being pushed forward as obstacles to too-hasty action on vit. 1 bills like NRA and AAA.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas sometimes has a hard time explaining to President Roosevelt just why administration bills are slowed up. FDR knows that underground opposition from Jeffersonian Democrats is queering his program, but it's another thing to bring this opposition out in the open and give it a fair hearing before the public gaze. Roosevelt doesn't want the country to get the idea that Democrats are fighting among themselves.

Republicans are doing what they can to block FDR, but they can't do much. Democrats can do more, and they are doing it.

Notes—

Road-building plans are the most advanced of all work-relief measures and can give relief work more extensively on short notice. Roosevelt is permitting some of his friends to test out public sentiment on a permanent public works program to follow work-relief. . . . Boss Ickes is enthusiastic over the plan. . . . House foes of Ickes are trying to find some way of getting rid of him—but they'll see more of him than ever. . . . Morgenthau's plan to pay the bonus by inheritance taxes gags bonuses in both houses—they want a bonus without a tax. . . . Union laborites all over the country are watching wage developments in work-relief operations.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

Bargain—

Consolidated Gas doesn't appear to be nearly as hard pressed as it was a couple of months ago. The threat of a competing municipal power plant has pretty well faded out. Legislative committees have been riding it and federal pressure has relaxed as a sequel to an understanding on rates to federal agencies in New York City. Yet now it suddenly retreats on all fronts—abandoning application for a rate increase, lowering gas rates in the city, applying for a cheaper electric schedule in Westchester and indicating that it seriously intends to give New York electric consumers a break.

How come this abrupt reversal? Insiders say it's because the company is playing for big stakes. With federal regulation in the offing—even if much milder than the Wheeler-Rayburn bill—it begins to look as if virtue will pay good dividends. Presumably those who practice voluntary virtue will be given more gracious consideration by the regulating authorities than those on whom reform is forced.

This might be quite important to a group which hopes not only to survive but to expand by the inexpensive acquisition of neighboring properties from concerns while may overlook the precaution of getting in right with the government. The little matter of the rate base—estimated as about 10% too high by the New York Power Commission—hasn't mentioned by Con Gas in connection with its proposed concessions. Shrewd observers remark that even drastic rate cuts would be a cheap price to pay to get the present base accepted without further argument.

Selective—

There are curious angles to the recent stock market rise. 25 stocks of outstanding companies account for about 80 per cent of the advance. A majority of listed industrial have moved very little if at all.

The point is that the favored 25 are nearly all corporations which have maintained a good earnings record all through the depression and are paying satisfactory dividends. Recent buying—except in the silver stocks—has been on the basis of investment yields, not on the chances of speculative appreciation.

The general impression that a broad bull movement has started isn't justified. It's rather a case where stocks of firmly established companies are being purchased in preference to bonds with shrinking yields. The market has seldom been so selective.

Offset—

Informed New Yorkers see a subtle motive behind the government's silver policy besides its political value in binding the silver Senators to FDR's chariot. They call it a timely shot in the arm to the stock market, which will help to keep recovery sentiment alive and kicking while the four billion dollar spending is getting under way.

A buoyant stock market has special psychological value at the moment. Governor Lehman's approval of the state unemployment insurance bill—which calls for heavy payroll taxes on New York employers—would be a serious de-pressant to New York business if it were allowed to brood about it undistracted. But market pep is an effective antidote for the gloom that would otherwise spread—and helps business to realize it has ample time to make needed adjustments before the tax goes into operation.

The silver stimulation gives the public a chance to see that things are really stirring. The market is still generally accepted as a reasonably accurate barometer of conditions. The resulting boost to public morale is rated a practical way of offsetting the psychological ravages of a summer slump.

Swell—

No one can accuse the Mexican government of being slow on the uptake. It lost no time spotting a bonanza in the rise of world silver prices. A law was speedily enacted imposing a 50 per cent tax on every penny above 65 cents an ounce for which silver mined in Mexico is sold. That means 5 cents an ounce when the price is 75 cents. The Mexicans have their eye on the future too. The tax jumps to 75 per cent on the excess price above a dollar an ounce.

This is a great help to Mexico's budget and should also bring relief to its other taxpayers when the metal price goes a bit higher. Small wonder that Mexicans think our silver policy is simply swell.

Joint—

Informed New Yorkers agree with Goldthwaite Dorr—head of the Cotton Textile Institute—when he says that textile over-production could be ended by scrapping antiquated factory equipment. Experts insist the New England mills are up against it chiefly because their machinery is prehistoric. The Japanese competition they dread so keenly is thoroughly modernized. The worst of it is that the New Englanders can't bring their factories up to date because they have nothing to use for money.

Many other industries besides textiles are operating under the handicap of obsolescence. A number of business leaders are trying to attract Washington's attention to this problem. Most companies which need to modernize can't command the necessary credit. Key officials are being told that joint action by the government and industry to finance factory renovation would be one of the most valuable contributions to recovery they could make.

Chief—

Harper Sibley will be the new chief of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce—succeeding Henry I. Harrison. It's understood that in general he will follow Harrison's policy of moderation and compromise. However, he has an agricultural as well as an industrial background and is more likely to register strenuous objections to the AAA than his predecessor.

Hire—

The wave of corporate re-financing is a godsend to lawyers, accountants and investment bankers—many of whom are busy for the first time in years. There's so much work to be done that a lot of them are burning the midnight oil.

So far they have preferred late hours to staff expansion. Comment runs that if this sort of thing keeps up they may have to weaken and hire a hand or two.

Black Tigers Lose To Vic's Angels

The Mellinger Angels scored an easy 10-3 victory over the Fievel Black Tigers Wednesday evening, counting the majority of their runs in the first four innings. The Tigers tallied their first two runs when Jones, Angel left fielder, relaxed to confer with centerfielder Moore. The Tiger gardener clouted one into Jones' position which went for a home run. During the last two stanzas, Hart, Angel manager, replaced Coburn and Leon Wilson as the bats, putting Freddy Coleman and "Schmozie" Madison in their places. The remaining Tigers runs were scored during Coleman's stay on the mound.

New Goodyear Tube Received By Troy Gifford, Dealer

Troy Gifford, local dealer for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., has received a shipment of the new automobile tubes now made by that company. It is a new development in tubes and is known as the Goodyear Guard. It eliminates the danger of serious accident following a blowout by changing the sudden blowout into a slow leak. It is really a "double tube," one inside the other and joined together at the base. The two air chambers are connected only by a single small vent hole which allows the air to pass from the inner to the outer chamber.

When a blowout occurs, air escapes from the outer chamber instantly but can escape from the inner carcass only through the single small hole, which allows it to seep out slowly and gives the driver time to pull over to the side of the road and stop with his car under perfect control. Hundreds of tests have demonstrated that it is one of the most important contributions to the safety of motoring that has been made in a decade.

BEAUMONT, (UP)—Hiccoughs needn't suffer long from violent, nerve-racking spasms, P. W. Gillespie, 75, who suffered them himself, advises. He was exhausted after four days of violent hiccoughing. Medical aid failed to give him relief and his family appealed to the public for home remedies. Responses came from Louisiana and Oklahoma by the hundreds. One person telephoned from Kansas City. The remedies included: Press ears against head for two minutes; hold tongue out for a minute; drink water through linen handkerchief; place brown paper bag over face for five minutes; drink pineapple juice; hold head back and swallow slowly; drink milk of magnesia; turn backward
