Business Sound, Hoover Reassures Nation After Stock Collapse

SENATE FAILS TO APPROVE CREDIT PROBE

President's Statement Points To Good Business Over Nation

MARKET STAGGERS UP

Bankers Stop Declines With Huge Buying Orders In Wall Street

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT
United Press Staff

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The fundamental business of the country is on a sound and profitable basis, President Hoover asserted today in a statement that bore out earlier declarations of treasury officials and industrial leaders that business declines were in no measure responsible for Thursday's collapse of stock values.

Simultaneously, the federal reserve board issued a detailed analysis of business conditions which pointed out that industrial productions far above the level of a year ago. Neither the president's statement nor the federal reserve board's analysis made any direct reference to the stock market break.

President Hoover referred to declines in the construction and building material industries and seasonal decreases in one or two other lines as "movement of secondary character when considered in the whole situation." The former, he said, has been affected by high interest rates induced by stock speculation.

Consumption at High Level

"The fundamental business of the country, that is the production and distribution of commodities, is on a sound and prosperous basis," the president said. "The best evidence is that although production and consumption are at high levels the average prices of commodities have not increased and there have been no appreciable increases in the stock of manufactured goods. Moreover there has been a tendency of wages to increase and the output of workers in many industries again shows an increase, all of which indicates a healthy condition.

"A temporary drop in grain prices sympathetically with stock exchange prices usually happens, but as the department of agriculture points out the overriding fact in grain is that this year's world wheat harvest is estimated to be 500,000,000 bushels less than that of last year, which will result in a very low carry-over at the end of the harvest year."

Credit Probe Doubtful

It appeared today that Senator King, Democrat, Utah, would be unsuccessful in forcing immediate senate action on his resolution calling for a federal investigation of the whole credit structure, in its relation to the movement of the market.

He carried the matter to the floor of the senate today, where he

Loses Fortune—Ends Life

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 25. (UP) The last remnants of a once comfortable fortune gone in the stock market crash, C. Fred Stewart, real estate man, committed suicide today.

His body was found in a gas-filled room by his wife.

Ruined Man Runs Amuck

TOLEDO, Ohio, Oct. 25. (UP) —Apparently deranged by the loss of a small fortune in the stock market crash of yesterday, Sidney Weinberg, owner of a downtown woman's apparel shop, ran wild with a pistol in a brokers' office here today.

"You've ruined me!" he screamed, waving the gun. "I'm going to kill all of you!" He was subdued by employes of the office and was in police custody tonight.

The Place For a Young Man

Charles I Francis Tells Junior C. C. Why Wichita Falls Is Still the City of Opportunity

By CHARLES I. FRANCIS
Part of an Address Delivered to the Junior Chamber of Commerce

The membership of the Junior chamber of commerce is the nucleus of a group of young business men here which can and will mean a lot in the onward progress of this city. Whether or not we like to admit it, and without any lack of respect or gratitude for the great things accomplished in the past, it is true today that among the older business men of Wichita Falls one hears too much pessimism and complaint.

Strategic Location in Vast Territory

We have seen such wonderful days, that when things get back to normal, we are inclined to regard them as sub-normal. We have lived so long on a financial and business plane so far ahead of those in all other municipalities in this state; rapid growth, development of industries, increasing population, and the like, that when things go back to normal, the oldtime business man here is apt to think that things are going to the bow-wows.

What we need today from this Junior chamber of commerce is a group of men to step into this breach that exists in this city, to sound a new note of optimism in business and enterprise, and push our city forward to where it has a just right to be placed in the foreground among the cities of the state.

Take a map of this city. Look at its strategic location for serving this vast territory of Western Oklahoma and Northwest Texas. Look at its railroad connections, its tremendous trade territory, its industrial possibilities. In doing that, I think you will become as thoroughly convinced today as I did when I came here 10 years ago that this is the place for a young man to live, to establish his business, and build his fortune. If you will take a trip about the state of Texas today, you will be confirmed that this is just as true now as it was 10 years ago.

Two Major Projects for Wichitans

Our chambers of commerce have before them this year two big and important problems which must be solved. The individual help of every man in these organizations can solve them. First, 125,000 acres of land, a bountiful supply of water, close markets and plenty of food products have led me to believe that the dairying business is one of the greatest coming industries in this large valley. I think you will find that in this valley there is going to develop a sentiment for the dairy business that will make here a dairying section such as you find in Iowa, or Wisconsin, or Ohio.

One handicap that we have had here is that our creameries were not paying the producer enough for his milk. That situation has improved materially during the past few weeks, and if our dairymen can get the price which they should get for their product, this industry unquestionably will continue to develop as one of the greatest enterprises in the Southwest.

The other major project which demands our attention and support is that of deep oil drilling. Three different persons remarked to me this morning in casual conversation their intention of investing in this movement. One was a stenographer, one a plumber, and one a carpenter. The community as a whole has the combined privilege and duty of putting through this significant undertaking.

I feel certain that in this new enterprise every person who puts a dollar into it will receive back many times his investment, besides the manifold benefits that will accrue to the community as a result.

FALL'S COUNSEL FILE MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

Argument on Plea Set for Hearing on Next Friday

DEAL WAS 'BRIBERY'

Former Interior Secretary Found Guilty of Old Charge

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—Two defiant white haired men—Albert B. Fall and Edward L. Doheny—whose youthful friendship of prospecting days in the West persisted after one had become a cabinet officer and the other a millionaire oil operator, heard a $100,000 transaction between them in 1921 branded bribery today by a federal jury.

First 'Oil' Conviction

Fall was convicted of accepting that sum as secretary of the interior in return for granting the Elk Hills oil lease to a Doheny company. It was the first conviction for felony by a cabinet officer in history, and likewise the first in any of the criminal cases growing out of the oil scandals of the Harding administration.

Owen J. Roberts, special government counsel, announced efforts would be made to try Doheny next January for giving a bribe.

A portentious stillness settled over the jammed courtroom as the jury filed in. This was soon broken by each of the eight men and four women jurors rising to say Fall had been adjudged a dishonest man, but to recommend that he be extended mercy by the court. Throughout the trial and previously he has been ill.

Mrs. Fall Weeps

The 68-year-old invalid from New Mexico, whom the supreme court denounced as a "faithless public officer" because of the oil transactions, slumped weakly in his tall chair with head bowed. If the verdict stands, he is liable to a fine up to $300,000 and to imprisonment up to three years. He was comforted immediately by the woman he married in 1883. Vigorously brushing those between them aside, Mrs. Fall then threw her arms

West Texas C-C Rededicated For Service of Section

$23,000 Deficit Wiped Out by Subscriptions in Rousing Session; Hamilton Gives $2,500 to Fund

By FRED DYE
Associated Press Staff Writer

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 25. (AP).—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce in a rousing session today wiped out its deficit of $23,332.57, and gained a rededication of those services to the vast area west of Fort Worth which it has served so well for 11 years.

Perilously near the rocks, after having slipped steadily for several months, the chamber met in Liberty hall today with a "do" spirit that never for an instant countenanced a "die" spirit.

After listening to a brief address by Gov. R. C. Dillon of New Mexico, many of whose Eastern businesses are represented in the West Texas chamber, the delegates and directors undertook the vast effort of canceling the heavy hanging budget and pointing the chamber towards another 10 years of effort.

Abilene Banker Presides

C. M. Caldwell, Abilene banker, grey-haired veteran of the money marts who himself alone once paid a bank deficit of $189,300, climbed upon the platform as chairman of the financial committee of five. In the style of the best type auctioneer he started selling the deficit.

The famous hired-hand of the Fort Worth Star Telegram's radio station WBAP, Harold Hough, took a big chunk out of the deficit with the first bid. He asserted he was empowered by Amon G. Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth newspaper, to pledge $5,000.

Caldwell pledged $2,000 for Abilene and other pledges were exhorted successfully until only about $7,500 was lacking. W. B. Hamilton of Wichita Falls gave $2,500.

At that stage pledges slackened and Van Zandt Jarvis of Fort Worth arose with a promise he would contribute the final $1,500 after the pledges had been brought that near the goal.

J. Pat Williams of Mineral Wells pledged $2,500; El Paso, $3,500; Stamford, $1,010; Vernon and Sweetwater, $500 each; Portales, N. M., $100; Spur, $325; Midland, $250; Haskell, $300; Clarendon, $356; Breckenridge, $400; Brownwood and Big Spring, $250 each; Coleman and Plainview $200 each and Van Horn $150.

Many Pledges

Hundred dollar pledges came from Snyder, Farwell, Post, Littlefield, Dalhart, Paducah, Seymour, Llano, Fredericksburg, Junction, Wellington, Menard, Mason and Baflinger.

Homer D. Wade, former manager of the West Texas chamber and now manager of the Dallas chamber, came in with $400. Clearing of the deficit was completed when 18 individuals agreed to underwrite $100 each.

The delegates gave a rousing ovation to a woman sheriff, Mrs. Joe Ray of Lamesa who gave $25 of her own funds and pledged $100 for her home town.

Previously in 11 years existence the West Texas chamber had collected and disbursed $662,000.

$6,000 FOUND ON ALLEGED TEXAS ROBBERS

Tow Sack of Money Found In Car of Three Men Arrested

ONE MAN WOUNDED

Former Borgerite Says He Received Treatment for Wound Here

Three men who gave their names as R. M. Blackman, T. E. Holt and D. L. Cage and who had in their possession approximately $6,000 in cash and bills, believed to be funds stolen in the robbery of the Brownwood State bank Thursday, were arrested by members of the constable's department on Lake street about midnight Friday and placed in the county jail.

Two Admit Robbery

Holt and Cage, officers said, admitted participating in the Brownwood robbery, which occurred Thursday but, according to the officers, Blackman denied actual participation, saying he was hired to drive a car for the others and did not know a robbery was going to take place.

The arrest was made when the three were seen on Lake street by Deputy Constables Elmer Thornton and Dan Ellis. At the time of the arrest, the officers said, they were picked up for alleged drunkenness and one of the three escaped from the car as the other two started to drive away. Later, when a sack of money was found in the car, the officers went back and searched for an hour before finding the third man.

Money Discovered

In the pocket of the third man arrested was found a package of bills amounting to $1,495. About $250 in cash was taken from the persons of the other two. When the officers made the arrest, the men offered to give them the $6,000 if they would release them, Deputy Ellis said.

In the bottom of the tow sack officers found $755.10 in small silver. The denominations of the bills, which were wrapped in neat packets, were all under $100, only one of that amount having been found. Three pistols, one a .38, another a .45 automatic and the third a "Saturday night special," a small .32 caliber gun, were taken from the men.

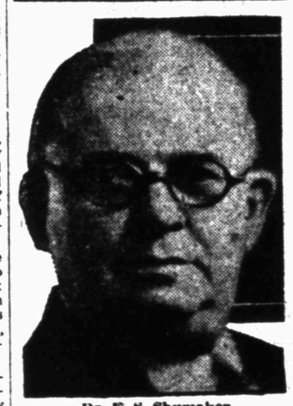

Holt told officers that he had received treatment here Friday for gunshot wounds in the leg. In the robbery one of the bandits was believed shot.

Took No Part

Blackman told officers he was only hired by the others to drive the car for them and that he had no part in the actual holdup. He said he was from Coleman, Texas, and was a service car driver. He admitted, however, to having been in the car into which the bandits leaped after the robbery of the bank. The three spent Thursday night in a deserted spot near Brownwood, they said, and proceeded to Wichita Falls Friday. Holt and Cage said they were from Borger.

Bill White, 17-year-old Brownwood youth, was arrested in Brownwood shortly after the holdup and charged with robbery with firearms. A total of $8,000 was taken from the bank. Assistant Cashier McClatchy was the only person in the bank when the bandits entered. He fired a parting shot from a porthole in the vault as the bandits were leaving.

Flier Wakens Sleepers To Save Burning Town

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 25. (UP)—A chance remark today by Robert W. Radoll, a night mail pilot of Chicago, to a flying companion here has made him a hero in the eyes of citizens of Unionville, Mo.

"I saw a good fire the other night," Radoll remarked casually. Questioning brought out he had seen the largest building in Unionville blazing while the town slept.

In Unionville, where the identity of the flier had been unknown previously, residents told how Radoll circled [illegible] with his throttle wide open, setting up a roar that brought citizens rushing from their homes. When the flier saw firemen go to the burning structure, which had threatened to spread its flames to the entire business section, he streaked away to the northeast, en route to Chicago with the mail.

House Will Question Expense of Carriers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—The house naval appropriations subcommittee is to inquire in January into the feasibility of keeping the huge airplane carriers, the Lexington and Saratoga, in commission, Representative French, Idaho, chairman of the sub-committee, said it cost almost as much to keep the two carriers operating as four first line battleships.

The combined cost of the 33,000-ton vessels in the past fiscal year was given by French as $8,407,571 while that for the first line battleship California, one of the largest in the fleet, was $2,219,052. French said it would be more economical for the government to build smaller carriers such as the 13,800 ton ship authorized with the 15-cruiser program.

Bridal Couples Lean Toward Civil Service

LONDON, Oct. 25. (US)—The modern bride and bridegroom are beginning to show a distaste for the church wedding and civil ceremonies are growing in popularity throughout Great Britain.

Each year shows a striking decline in the number of couples who march to the altar and a similar increase in the number who take a day off from business to appear at a register office and postpone their honeymoon indefinitely.

Clergymen attribute the growing movement to a shyness at the publicity a church wedding so often brings, and to the present lack of religious training in the education of young people.

Rangers Watch For Trouble In New Oil Town

VAN, Texas, Oct. 25. (UP)—The first official attempt on the part of the state to prevent the outbreak of a reign of lawlessness in Texas' newest oil town was evidenced here today with the arrival of three Texas rangers, headed by Ranger Captain Tom Hickman.

The rangers searched several automobiles this afternoon. Although they did not disclose the reason for their searches, it is believed that they were attempting to trace down rumored deliveries of narcotics being made here. No arrests were made.

It was Capt. Tom Hickman, long noted for his fearlessness as a law enforcing officer, who played such an important role in the recent cleanup of Borger, Texas. He has also figured in other "cleanups" of Texas oil boom towns in which martial law has been declared.

Jury Charges Harry K. Thaw $75,000 For Hairbrush Spanking He Gave Girl

NEW YORK, Oct. 25. (US)—It cost Harry Kendall Thaw exactly $75,000 today for the hairbrush spanking Mae G. O'Neill says he gave her.

This will probably go down as the highest priced spanking on record.

The white haired playboy gasped audibly when the supreme court jury returned with this verdict at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

He moved his mouth for a few seconds but nothing articulate issued. Finally Thaw recovered sufficiently from his shock to say:

"I am amazed by the action of the jury. I can't understand why these men decided the way they did.

"I am going to appeal."

Miss O'Neill, who calls herself Marcia Estardus, a night club hostess, had been weeping nearly all day but broke into fresh tears as the verdict was announced.

She said:

"I am happy because I am vindicated.

"It's good by Broadway for me. I've had enough of the so-called bright lights. I'm going away to the country, where hairbrushes are used for brushing hair."

She had sued for $100,000.

Dairymen Ask Aid In Missouri Price War

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 25. (UP)—Asserted threats against dirvers of Milk Producers association, an organization of dairy farmers in the Kansas City area, led to an appeal to the sheriff by plant owners today for the protection of officers for the drivers.

The farmers' association asked a higher price for raw milk and the distributing plants here, refusing the request, have sent to distant dairy farms, outside the association for milk. Several thousand gallons have been dumped by picketers.

Writer Defends Moral Fiber of Modern Youth

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. (US)—There is no decline in the moral fiber of modern youth.

This statement was made today by Montaville Flowers, author and educator, in flaying parents and the clergy for their refusal to understand youth.

"Scorn and laughter are youth's only weapons," Flowers said. "Youth is thinking rightly, for the most part. When youth goes to church today he has to park his intelligence outside with his umbrella —because youth is not understood in the church any more than it is in the home."

NEW TRIAL FOR FALL ASKED

Defense Files Plea After His Conviction

around him and wept while he embraced her silently.

Tears also rolled down the cheeks of Doheny, now 73. The California oil man clapped his hands to his ears while Justice William Hitz reviewed to the jury the facts of Fall's current illness, which had been kept from them while locked up during the trial. After the judge had left the bench, Doheny shook a clenched fist in that direction and cried:

"It's that damn court."

The jury, which first had voted seven to three for acquittal with two women not voting and took seven ballots in all, left the turbulent room in a group.

New Trial Sought

Defense counsel, who had contended the charge of Justice Hitz to the jury was tantamount to an invitation to convict Fall, filed a motion for a new trial four hours after the verdict had been rendered. This set forth 30 grounds, including the action of Justice Hitz in picking out portions of the testimony which the defense said he had stressed in his charge to the jury, and the admission of testimony during the trial of Fall's dealings with Harry F. Sinclair at the time of the notorious Teapot Dome oil lease.

Government counsel were notified the motion be set down for argument before Justice Hitz next Friday or as soon thereafter as feasible.

Fall's bond of $5,000 on the bribery was allowed to stand. After hearing each jury member reply "guilty with a recommendation for mercy" to inquiries by the court, he left the room in a wheel chair and was helped to his hotel room in faltering steps by Mrs. Fall. He refused to make any statement at that time.

Attorney Collapses

While defense counsel were busy tonight, one of them—Mark Thompson, long a friend of Fall—was on a sick bed. He collapsed in the courtroom while standing to don an overcoat to leave. His wife rushed to his side, and for 10 minutes onlookers formed around to stare at the prostrate body on the floor. He was attended by Fall's doctor, Dr. H. T. Safford, of El Paso, Texas. Friends said his heart was weak.

Standing above Thompson, Frank J. Hogan, chief defense counsel, shouted that the jury's finding was "a rape on the constitution."

Mrs. C. C. Chase and Mrs. Jouett Elliott, daughters of Fall, broke into tears on hearing the verdict and were separated from their parents in the crowd that was leaving the courtroom. They made their way immediately to join Fall at his hotel, both saying "the fight was only begun to clear his name."

STALWART LEADERS KEEP MARKET STEADY

NEW YORK, Oct. 25. (AP)—Wall street came groping out of the darkness today as stalwart leaders of finance and industry swept away the black cloud of impending disaster that struck terror to the hearts of speculators and investors yesterday.

Powerful support was thrown into the stock market and hundreds of issues closed the day $2 to $21 higher, having substantially reduced the losses suffered in yesterday's stampede of selling, the most violent ever experienced.

When the stock clearing corps announced that yesterday's myriad transactions had been completed, proof was provided that stock exchange member houses had been able to settle, and that none had been pushed to the wall. Market collapses in years past usually resulted in the failure of some brokerage houses.

Withstands Shock

That Wall street was able to stand such a shock as it received yesterday was generally regarded in banking circles as convincing evidence of the fundamental soundness of the financial structure.

Although no official confirmation was available, a report generally accredited in responsible circles, was to the effect that the conferences of bankers at the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co., yesterday resulted in the formation of a $1,000,000,000 pool to stabilize the stock market.

Sales on the stock exchange totaled 5,923,220 shares, in contrast to yesterday's total of 12,894,600. The stock exchange ticker printed the final quotation one hour and 32 minutes after the close, compared to more than four hours late yesterday.

Coming as a climax to the mass of reassuring statements appearing, President Hoover was quoted by financial news tickers directly after the close of the market as stating that fundamental business situation is on a sound basis, and that production and distribution are well maintained.

The stock market absorbed a huge backwash of selling from yesterday's crash, and prices sagged moderately around midday, but as soon as leading shares showed signs of going into any marked decline, huge buying orders appeared in the market.

Such leading shares as U. S. Steel common and American Telephone encountered selling orders as soon as they began to rise, and several market observers interpreted this as indicating that powerful interests were working to check a revival of any bullish activity as well as to prevent further declines, using advances to unload shares bought for support purposes.

BOY VICTIM OF YOUTHFUL PLOT

Houston Youth Wounded In 'Huck Finn' Cave

HOUSTON, Oct. 25. (UP)—"Tom Sawyer" and "Huck Finn" are torn with despair.

They admit they were "mighty bad boys."

"Tom" and "Huck," so named because their escapades surpass even the famed Mark Twain characters, and also because newspapers usually do not print the names of mischievious boys so young, 11 and 13—Tom and Huck have unraveled a tale of youthful adventure to probation officers here.

Lived in Cave

They were members of a "gang" of five lads. The "gang" built a cave close to Baytown. They erected a shack over the cave's entrance and they put a fence around it all.

But one of them moved to Houston, another quit and a third member was "kicked out."

Then trouble started. A .22 rifle disappeared from the cave. Their cave had been broken into several times. The two "surviving" members of the "gang" plotted.

A shotgun was obtained. Officers say it was stolen from a garage. The gun was placed in the crotch of a forked stick just inside the door of the shack.

Two strings were attached. One led to the door. When those not initiated into the "gang" tried to the trigger on the gun jerked and the trigger o nthe gun jerked and a load of shot hurled out through the open doorway.

If one of the "gang" wanted to enter, there was a secret string which led to the outside. If you pulled it the gun would swing around, the string on the trigger would fall off, and the gun would become harmless. Tom and Huck told officers.

Innocent Lad Shot

Then little Carroll Sheffield tried to explore the cave. Innocently, he pulled the string designed for nonmembers. The gun discharged, shattering Carroll's leg.

When they heard the noise of the explosion Tom and Huck ran excitedly to their cave. There they found their victim, weak and pale from loss of blood. They took him to a hospital.

Tom and Huck were shocked.

"Carroll was our pal. Why, we'd even asked him to join the "gang," they tearfully told the officers whose business it is to deal with boys and girls who do things they shouldn't do.

When Guy Bush of Cubs Played Only for Fame

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 25. (AP)—As recently as seven years ago Guy Bush, who helped the Chicago Cubs win the National league pennant, was satisfied with a "good writeup" for a diamond victory.

N. H. Crenshaw, Jackson banker, tells the story.

The Baldwin, Miss., club needed a pitcher for a game in a small town league and Bush consented to do the mound work if a substitute were hired to finish the plowing on his father's farm.

Bush won the game, Crenshaw relates, and was offered a $10 bonus. This he scorned, saying:

"I don't care about the money. All I want is a good writeup in the paper."

ASBESTOS BOYS DEFY INFERNOS

Oil Fire Quelching Becomes Real Business

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 25. (AP)—Into an inferno consuming enough fuel to heat a city, two nonchalant men drag a huge bomb.

It is a steel barrel containing a charge of high explosive.

They retire to shelter. An electric contact is made and—boom! A colossal candle that has lit the countryside for miles around is out.

Thus human ingenuity conquers oil field fires which defeat ordinary methods of fire-fighting.

Tulsa is the seat of a small closed corporation of these death-defying firemen whose business is to squelch unruly blazes in the mid-continent oil area of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Outstanding is the Kinley company, with M. M. and F. T. Kinley, brothers, as officers, directors and staff. Then there is Tex Thorton, who works alone.

Suggest to "Mack" that there is anything dramatic or heroic in his calling, and one receives a snort of disdain in reply.

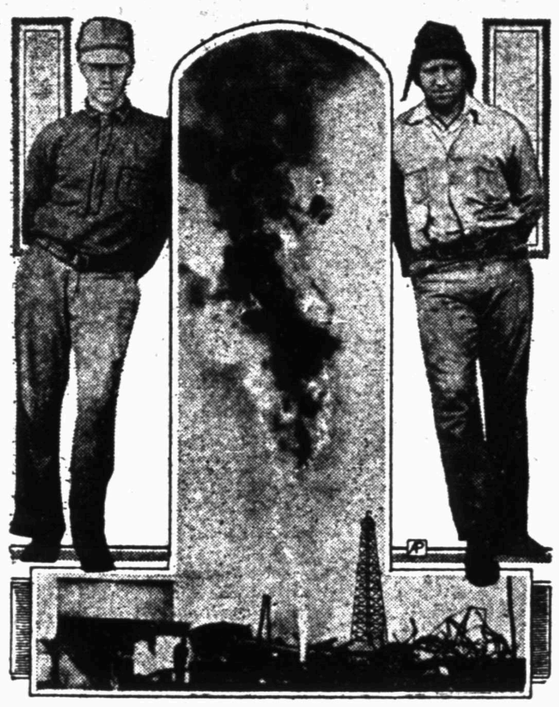

Asbestos suits for protection in approaching terrific heat of oil and gas fires have become standard equipment, but the Kinley brothers scorn the 60-pound suits as cumbersome. Instead they wear two or three pairs of khaki work trousers, as many shirts, and caps with ear muffs. They keep their clothing soaked with water.

Extinguishing fire from a gas well of 50,000,000 cubic feet in the Oklahoma City field was the Kinley brothers' most recent task. Its intense heat melted a 100-foot steel derrick over the well.

For more than a day, the Kinley brothers and aides cut away that steel so they might approach the well. Then, facing maddening heat, they rolled the bomb and fired it. The brothers left the field unconcernedly after they were satisfied the fire was out.

Their pay for those two days' work was reported as $10,000. And few envy them their job.

Bomb Goes Boom! Oil Blaze Gives Up

F. T. Kinley (left) and M. M. Kinley are Tulsa boys who made good by squelching oil field candles. Their latest feat was the dousing of this blaze from a 50,000,000 foot gas well in Oklahoma City.

This phase of the activities of women voters will be the subject of an address by Mrs. Harris Masterson of Houston, who will speak on "International Cooperation to Prevent War, and the Economic Causes of War."

Other subjects to come before the convention include: Women in political parties; women in office; the legal status of women; married women's property rights; efficiency in government; the duty of parents to support children; education; the relation between tariff legislation and living costs, and women in industry.

State officials, educators and state and national officials of the league of women voters are on the program.

Mrs. George H. Hoxie of Kansas City, regional director of the national league of women voters, will talk on the relations of local and national organizations.

Special interest attaches to the address of Mrs. Hal Sevier of Austin on "Women in Political Parties." Mrs. Sevier took a prominent part in the recent Democratic campaign in behalf of the candidacy of Alfred E. Smith for president.

Unusual interest also marks the address of Mrs. Helen E. Moore of Texas City, a representative in the state legislature. Mrs. Moore will speak on "Women in Elective Offices."

E. E. Oberholtzer, superintendent of education at Houston, will speak on education; Charles McKemy of Austin, state labor commissioner, "The Factory Situation in Texas," with reference to women; Brantly Harris, U. Quanah Road Work Progresses Rapidly

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Oct. 25.—Three of the eight miles north from Quanah to Red river on highway No. 51 have been graded, and the large grader and bigger crews are enabling the work to proceed at a much faster rate than heretofore. This road is being prepared for paving, the south end from Quanah to Pease river having already been graded and drainage structures completed. The bridge over Groesbeck on the north end is being rapidly completed, the foundation and footings and three sections of the nine bents across being finished.

The contractor on grade work expects to have all completed within the next 60 days, and the bridge contractor will probably complete the bridge about the same time, unless freezes prevent working with the concrete.

City Park Head Talks At Garden Club's Breakfast

All colors of garden flowers adorned the tables in the Woman's Forum clubhouse dining room when the Garden club held its breakfast Friday morning. Bowls of roses, zinnias, cosmos and chrysanthemums glowed along the shining tables and long sprays of queen's wreath lay in gracefully trailing beauty, the length of the table.

Mrs. Frank Timberlake, president of the Garden club, presided and C. C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent, made a timely talk on pruning trees and shrubs.

A real round table discussion followed Mr. Bunnenberg's address. Those who wished information on planting autumn seeds and the culture of plants, did not hesitate to ask them and the kinship of flower loving was shown in ready answers.

Mesdames Bert Bean, O. E. Maer, C. J. Barnard, C. E. McCutchen, J. J. Perkins, C. B. Haynie and P. P. Langford made short and timely talks. Mrs. Langford suggested starting a campaign for the planting of more crepe myrtle and red bud in the city.

Mrs. Bean announced the schedule for the flower exhibit which will be given publicity in time for the Spanish fiesta and Mrs. Holmes spoke of the departments in which prizes would be donated. Every flower lover was asked to protect exhibits for the flower show.

Among those present were Mesdames Walter K. Campbell, Ella Campbell, C. E. McCutchen, J. E. Childers, J. L. Maxwell, C. J. Barnard, O. E. Maer, Carrie Joline, W. J. Grisham, J. J. Perkins, R. O. Harvey, Hinton, Frank P. Timberlake, Bert Bean, C. B. Haynie, Charles Pogenpohl, J. L. Elkin, P. F. Gwynn, Ed Howard, Rhea Howard, R. D. Kennedy, A. G. Holmes, P. P. Langford, Orville Bullington and James P. Bowen.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

A clean and garnished lawn is as beautiful a thing in October as a woman in her new autumn coat.

We passed one Thursday morning just such a wide stretch of clean cut grass. A negro man was busy raking leaves out from under the borders of flowers, for the lawn had a trimming of color round the house and down the walks, just as the new coat is trimmed with fur.

Evergreens wore a brighter shade than the privet and shrubs around the house. They tossed their heads and turned their backs in disdain of yellowing leaves.

Salvia was a deeper red because it would soon be gone. Orange cosmos were brilliant rivals.

A tree at the back of the house we were passing had grown taller than the chimneys on the second floor. We asked one of the yard men (for three were working) what sort of tree it was. It still bore all its green leaves, so we could not believe it a sycamore when just next door all the sycamores had turned brown. He said it was "some kinda cypress." We knew better than that; the other boy standing beside him, said in scorn, "Lady that ain't nothin' but a cottonwood."

It is strange that living outdoors as they do, not many negroes know trees. But then, so many who profess to love them are not acquainted with their names.

Negroes do not fail to know a pecan or hickory nut tree. Anything that bears fruit or nut, they do not forget.

We wonder sometimes at the attitude of the negro toward the future. So long as they have enough for today, there are few who provide for tomorrow.

In Mississippi, the negro men farmed by shares on a white planter's wide acres; in town the women cooked or nursed or did chambermaid work and fed their husbands.

People used to laugh when Vardaman sang, in negro dialect:
"What's de use o' me a' wo'kin' so ha'd?
I got a 'ooman in de white fo'ks ya'd."
But nevertheless, it was true.

Speaking of negroes, we think with amusement of Mrs. Overton Abernathy's cook. She had been ill and when she came back, Mrs. Abernathy asked her how she felt. "I don' feel so very good," she said, and about that time, catching a glimpse of herself in the mirror, she ejaculated, "Laws Miz Abernathy, don' I look pale?"

We have seen them make themselves look pale with powder, then brighten themselves with rouge. And as to styles—well, they are quick to follow the latest as any fashionable woman.

We see them lifting the flaps over their ears to listen to the conversation around them. "As well be out of the world as out of style!"

Durland Grove No. 1487, Woodmen circle, met in regular session in Eagle hall Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and officers were seated by the team.

Final plans were made to send Mrs. Lucy Faubion to McKinney to the Big Four convention, or field day meet on Oct. 29.

The following committee was appointed to collect rummage for the sale: Vida Douglas, Louise Scott, Ida Roark, C. Revier, Mamie Thurman and Vera Walsh.

An all-day meeting will take place next Friday and all members are urged to bring generous donations. The grove closed in regular order with 21 members present.

Callous Youth Gives Temporary Marriage Plans

Callous Youth Who Plans a Temporary Marriage of Convenience —Will the Next Generation of Parents Surpass Present One? Part-Time Husband

Dear Miss Dix—I am a young man just 21. I am not earning enough to support a wife and will not be for some years to come, as I am going to work my way through college, but I am thinking of getting married, though I have not yet any particular girl in view. This is my plan. I intend marrying a nice-looking, healthy, tomboyish girl who can support herself. Probably the girl that I would marry now I will tire of later on, so I shall then divorce her and marry a nice, intelligent, educated woman who will be fitted to be my mate when I am a professional man, as I intended to be. With the first wife I shall have no children. With the second wife I shall have children, as I desire a family. I shall deal frankly with both girls, telling them why I want to marry them and what I expect of them and let them know exactly what they are getting, that is, myself. What do you think of this plan?
—R. P. F.

Answer—I think it is the most cold-bloodedly selfish one I have ever heard of and that you must have great faith in your personal charms if you think it will work.

What makes you think that any girl would be fool enough to marry you if she knew beforehand that you were offering her just a temporary job as wife, and that as soon as you were able to support a wife she would be fired? Certainly you would have to hypnotize one to make her do such a silly thing as that and that the only way to put the comether over a woman to such an extent that she takes leave of her senses is by making a few love passes at her, and, as I gather from your letter, you don't even propose to do that.

Nor do you intend to support your wife. She is to perform all the various duties and functions of a wife, to make you a home, keep your clothes in order, bear with your moods and tempers, make all the sacrifices that every woman has to make of her own tastes and inclinations to her husband, and then, on the side, she is to go out and earn her own bread and butter.

This basis of living is one put forward in the companionate marriage theory, but that presupposes that the man and woman are so much in love with each other that they cannot live apart, and that the man's devotion to the wife repays her for the hardships of her lot in doing double duty as wife and money-earner. Also the woman in such a case expects to get her reward in her husband loving and cherishing her more and more as time goes on.

But you don't pretend to love this woman you are proposing to marry. She is merely a temporary convenience and you are going to chuck her out of the door when you no longer need her and are able to better yourself.

Certainly you must consider that you have superlative charms if you think any woman is going to waste her youth and beauty on you on the principle that even five years of marriage with you is better than a lifetime with another man.

Of course, the thing that you are contemplaitng doing does happen, but when it does it is a tragedy and not a premeditated crime.

There are men who marry women in their early youth and who take the women's devotion and service, often their services that help them achieve fame and fortune, and then when these men have reached success they do divorce their wives and marry other women who are more congenial to them in their altered status. But they do not plan this wrong against their wives at the beginning as you are doing. It comes about through the accident of growth.

The man goes forward, the woman stays still. The man develops, the woman never changes. He reads, studies, educates himself, gets wider social contacts. She never learns anything and remains the dull little provincial with her narrow range of interest.

There are many such mismated marriages. Sometimes the man sacrifices himself and endures the old wife. Sometimes he trades the old wife off for the new one, but whether he does or not, it is always a sorry business full of heartaches and tears.

So if I were you I should not go into a temporary marriage. Divorces are messy affairs and it is harder to get rid of a wife than you think. —DOROTHY DIX.

"I SUFFERED dreadfully from pains in my sides," says Mrs. M. M. Bishop, 36 Fairview St., Greensboro, N. C., whose picture is printed above.

"My back would ache, and I had a dull, nauseated feeling. I had suffered this way for some time when I read about Cardui. I thought if it had helped other women, it probably would help me.

"I could not sleep, to do any good. Sometimes I would lie awake all night long.

"I began taking Cardui and found it helped me a lot. I got so I could sleep, and really felt rested, and my sides quit hurting. I took four bottles at that time. I have such faith in Cardui that I have taken it several times since then when I have felt run-down and needed a tonic.

"I have recommended Cardui to several of my friends who needed a medicine of that kind, and they have thanked me."

How to make canned vegetables even more appetizing

The taste of nearly all good foods is improved with sugar

SCIENCE now knows that the great majority of the canned fruits and vegetables on the market today are rich in vitamins.

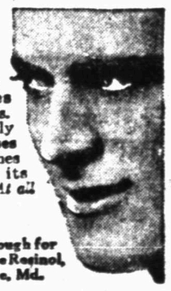

This is great news to all who wish to be well fed and healthy. In order that your family may relish these healthful foods, be sure that they are served in the most appetizing way possible. For example, add one level teaspoonful of sugar to one can of corn when heating it for serving. One rounded tablespoonful, at least, of sugar should be added to one can of tomatoes to develop the taste and make them palatable and delicious. The flavor of canned peas is improved by adding one-half to one teaspoonful of sugar to each can, and for string beans add one-fourth to one-half teaspoonful per can. The general rule is that all canned vegetables should be sweetened to taste so that they will be more enjoyable.

As a nationally recognized medical authority says, . . . "canned tomatoes after three years were as rich in vitamins as raw tomatoes . . . canned strawberries were also found to equal raw strawberries in vitamin content." He names numerous other canned fruits and vegetables and all were found rich in vitamins.

Welcome the canned foods to your table. To do so is to welcome health to your home. Eat plenty of varied, nourishing foods sweetened for taste and zest. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

JUNIOR C.-C. HEARS SOLON

Guinn Williams Speaks at Weekly Luncheon

Guinn Williams, congressman from the Thirteenth district, Texas, was guest of honor at the weekly meeting of the Junior chamber of Commerce Friday noon at the Kemp hotel, and spoke briefly on the opportunity for civic service afforded by membership in the organization.

"The individual who does not give the best he has to his community every day fails to attain the full measure of citizenship of which he is capable," said the speaker.

"Our greatest heritage from the pioneers who wrested this country from the coyote, the prairie dog and the rattlesnake is the ideal of sacrificing service which they personified. Our greatest fortune is the opportunity for helping the other fellow get through life without too much trouble, and with some pleasures."

Politicians Hide

Referring to his invasion of the field of politics some years ago, Mr. Williams said: "A man can render service of a peculiar type in political office; but you have to have a skin as thick as a walrus' hide to stay in politics. Be careful what you say, but let it stick; I've decided never to deny anything."

One of the greatest remunerations returned by his position, the speaker said, has been the privilege of aiding war veterans and their dependants in getting what was justly due them from the government.

"You young men in this Junior chamber of commerce," he said, "bear the burden of carrying on the development of your city so that it will continue to be one of the greatest municipalities in the state."

Mr. Williams was introduced by Charles I. Francis, who had spoken to the meeting on the subject of business and industrial conditions in the community. J. M. Gilliam, manager of station KGKO, was introduced by Jerry Vinson, and spoke briefly in commendation of the enterprising spirit prevalent among the business men of Wichita Falls and their ability to cooperate in civic and industrial undertakings.

Barry Holton, coach of the high school football team, discussed briefly the condition of Loyce Watson, member of the football squad, who was severely injured in a motorcycle crash recently, losing one leg. Mr. Holton indicated that when the injured boy is able to leave the hospital, a movement designed to provide means for the completion of his education will be inaugurated.

Dairy Expert Coming

T. P. Freeman, manager of the Southwest Dairy Products company was a guest of Jerry Vinson, and announced that Dr. H. A. Harding, nationally famous expert on dairying, will speak at the auditorium here early in November.

Upon the suggestion of J. W. Chatham, acting manager of the chamber of commerce, the Junior chamber of commerce voted to attend the quarterly membership meeting of the senior chamber on Friday, Nov. 8, at the Wichita club instead of holding the usual luncheon at the Kemp hotel. Preliminary steps toward the nomination of directors and selection of various committees for the coming year will be taken at that meeting, it was announced.

Walter Nelson Jr., president, reported briefly his attendance at the meeting of the Texas Junior chamber of commerce at Dallas on last Saturday and Sunday, and a meeting with the Lawton, Okla., Junior chamber of commerce last Monday noon. The latter session was held in the interest of obtaining hard-surfaced roads between Fort Sill and the free bridge at Burkburnett. It was announced that representatives of Lawton, and of other Oklahoma and Texas cities on the highway leading from Fort Sill through Wichita Falls and Eastland to El Paso will be called to a meeting here next Friday noon to further plans for providing unbroken paved highway facilities through this section.

Members of the Junior chamber of commerce were reminded of the golden jubilee celebration of Archer county, to be held at Archer City on Nov. 11 and 12, when a large delegation from the local organization is expected to attend. A visit to Dallas for a ladies' night program with the Dallas Junior chamber of commerce is being planned for the latter part of November, it was said.

Man, 73, Adds New Cause for Divorce in Talk to Judge

A 73-year-old man Friday morning called upon the annals of history and the wisdom of philosophy in support of his plea for a divorce from the 60-year-old wife he espoused less than a year ago.

Judge W. W. Cook, presiding in the 78th district court, looked doubtful after the list of incompatibilities had been exhausted.

"I am not sure," the magistrate began, "that you have made out a case."

"Your honor, I can make it all clear," the aged plaintiff explained, taking the case out of his attorney's hands. "Do you know what George Washington said about women?"

Judge Cook admitted that he hadn't read Washington on the feminine sex.

"Well, Judge, he said it all," went on the tremulous voice of the appellant. "When he said that when a woman doesn't get the man she wants, God pity the man she gets."

He got the divorce.

A beacon light for "ships that pass in the night" served its purpose Friday night at the Municipal airport when Pilot Bob Beuel, flying a Travelair J5-9 six-place cabin monoplane of the T. A. The Once Over
By H. I. PHILLIPS

Wall Street Mother Goose

To market, to market, to buy at the top
Home again, home again, just as they drop.
To market, to market, to play a tip hot;
Home again, home again, wishing I'd not.
To market, to market, to make a big haul;
Home just in time for the margin clerk's call.

Mary was a little lamb
Who never seemed to know
The stock she ought to put away
And which one to let go.
She went to see her broker and
Said "Help me, sir, I pray"
But everything that he advised
Worked out the other way.

Bye, Baby Bunting.
Daddy's gone a-hunting—
A-hunting for a pair of gyps
Who gave him all those market tips.

I had a little oil stock
No bigger than my thumb;
I bought it on a phone tip—
Oh Lord, but I am dumb!
There was an old woman who lived in a shoe;

She bought lots of issues untested and new;
She did everything that her broker said to—
Now gone is her money and also her shoe.

Jack Spocks would buy no stocks,
His wife no tips would play
And that explains just why they both
Got three square meals a day.

Who killed the bull market?
"I," said the Babson,
"With my little gab, son,
I killed the bull market."

Who saw it die?
"I," said the Livermore,
"It never will quiver more—
I saw it die."

Who'll make its shroud?
"I," said Colonel Ayres,
"With my creeping bears,
I'll make its shroud."

Who'll dig the grave?
"I," said the F. R. B.,
"With my brokers' loans, you see,
I'll dig the grave."

Who'll sing the dirge?
"I," said Durant,
"'Twill be quite a chant
I'll sing the dirge."

Who'll toll the bell?
"I," said the Bull,
"For the long pull—
I'll toll the bell."

Who'll carry the coffin?
"I," said the Small Fry,
("Is the carrying charge high?")
I'll carry the coffin."

Who'll be chief mourner?
"I," said the Lamb,
"I always am—
I'll be the chief mourner."

A Tale for Historians

ONE HUNDRED years from now historians will be eagerly digging back into the past, trying to find out just what sort of civilization existed in the United States in the year 1929.

When they do, it is to be hoped that there will be some newspapers of 1929 preserved for their inspection. An ordinary front page can sometimes tell more about the state of society than a whole volume of careful sociological treatises.

Take, for instance, the story concerning one of Chicago's recent murders.

Two young street corner loafers got two girls—soda fountain clerks, they happened to be—and went out for a joy-ride. They stopped at the girls' apartment and drank considerable gin; then they sallied forth.

Another automobile happened to pass them—an ordinary, peaceable citizen driving home from work. This driver cut in a little too close ahead of the joy-riders, and the young toughies got sore. They trailed the other car. Finally, when it stopped, they stopped too; and one of the young men got out, went over to the other car, and coolly shot the offending driver to death.

Then the joy-riders went on with their spree quite as if nothing had happened. They went to a friend's apartment, had a chicken dinner and indulged in more drinking, gay and unworried. At last it grew late. The girls went home, and the two young men went back to the streets to commit a few robberies.

The police got the story from one of the girls. She told it, the newspaper said, "between giggles." She happened, incidentally, to be the mother of three children. Where her husband was, and why, was not stated.

There you have the story. Historians of the future can make of it what they please.

Be assured that it will speak volumes to them. It will give them a very clear and graphic picture of certain phases of our city life in the year of prosperity and grace 1929. And that picture will not be a flattering one.

We are fond of saying that our up-to-the-minute society is going somewhere very fast. Undoubtedly it is. But a story like this one out of Chicago makes one stop and wonder if the ultimate destination is going to be as beatific and lovely as we like to think.

Make Your Gift Now

WICHITA FALLS RESIDENTS on the whole are fairly well convinced of the efficiency and value of the community chest idea of charity and welfare work. We usually subscribe our budgets, but each year there is a dragging toward the end of the campaign due to the fact that many persons are not reached by solicitors, or delay the filing of their contributions.

Saturday is the fifth day of the campaign, and it should mark the practical completion of the goal. It can be reached today if many Wichitans who intend to subscribe will voluntarily turn in their gifts, or get in touch with some campaign team. The real expense of the community chest campaign—the valuable time devoted to it by men and women of affairs here—could be greatly lessened by this voluntary cooperation on the part of the public. If you intend making a gift to the chest, and there are few who do not, get in touch with headquarters or some solicitor and help Wichita Falls really wear its "red feather" today. Your contribution will mean much to the city's welfare program during the coming year. It will mean more to the men and women who have voluntarily shouldered the responsibility of securing in one campaign all the money we must have for the care of our needy during a 12-month period.

Bus Franchise at Vernon

THE VERNON CITY COMMISSION has awarded a franchise to two citizens there for the operation of a street bus line system. The franchise grantees expect to have one or more lines in operation within a week or 10 days, it is reported.

The operation of a bus system of transportation does not involve the expenditure that a street railway does. Such a system can be started with the purchase of buses, whereas a street railway system requires the laying of tracks, erection of poles, stringing of wires, purchase of cars, erection of car barns and a whole system expensive in outlay.

Considering the comparative cheapness of the inauguration of bus service, the wonder is that it has not been attempted in a greater number of smaller cities than it has. The outlook for the success of such service in Vernon looks promising.

Ready to Build New Lines in Texas

E. G. ENGLE of Chicago is the vice president of the Santa Fe railroad. He is touring Texas. Anticipating rapid development in the Southwest, he has let it be known if the interstate commerce commission will grant permission the Santa Fe system is ready to spend about $5,000,000 on new lines in Texas, and this too without delay.

Why go to Washington to obtain permission for the construction of new rail lines in Texas?

Why should a federal government bureau be clothed with the authority to say the last word? Rapid development in the Southwest is now on the way. It is in evidence, and additional rail facilities one of the demands of the people concerned.

Finale

A summer far from sober, has gone its fleeting way,
And little of October—reminds a lad of May.
Your love for me once flaming,
Has left for fairer gaming,
There's no one to be blaming
That it has failed to stay.

Your lips that loved the capture,
are cold and sullen now;
I fail to rouse the rapture—that came to us somehow.
Another lad has power
To make you cringe and cower,
And I, who had my hour,
Must make a final bow.

So, taverns, tune your fiddles, for
I return again;
To try and solve youth's riddles,
and ease a bruising pain;
Perchance in song and drinking,
I'll put an end to thinking
Of arms and bodies linking
In some remembered lane.
—DON WAHN.

Overheard at 42nd St.

"What do you think of the reported engagement of Lita Grey Chaplin and Phil Baker?"

"It serves 'em both right!"

Always Belittlin'

J. P. McEvoy and Arthur Kober were congesting traffic at 46th street while talking about McEvoy's "Show Girl in Hollywood" book. When an actor he knew passed by Kober waved to him.

"What's that?" asked McEvoy.

"Oh, just a half-witted actor," said Kober.

"Why use unnecessary adjectives?" groaned J. P.

Quiteso, Quiteso

When a well known man of letters from Yurrup was on a New York newspaper a few months ago his manners around the ladies caused considerable comment. It is now revealed that even in the newspaper office he made himself obnoxious when his femme assistant was there.

"See here!" she finally exploded, "I can either do my work or defend my honor, but I'll be damned if I can do both at the same time!"

Summary

A verse or two—a kiss or two,
A little fling at cupid's pastime,
A summer storm that hid the blue,
A final spat that proved the last time.

We two would know young love's delight,
But learn instead how little wrecks it,
A tear, a sigh, a sad good night—
A last look back—and then an exit.

Gag

And Charles Ray offers the one about the Ziegfeld terpsichorine who Knows All the Answers. She was halted by an undressing roommate the other night. "I hear you fainted at the party last night," said the halter, "but that they brought you to."

"Yeah," was the reply between gum-chewing smacks, "and then I fainted again."

"Good gawd!" ejaculated the other, "and then what happened?"

"They brought me two more!"

It Worked!

J. A. Greenberg, who exploits Les Ambassadeurs cabaret, where there are less ambassadeurs than any other place in town, relates the one about the small town wife who was frightfully neglected. She saw one of those high pressure ads in a magazine which read: "Become a Vamp in Five Minutes!" She communicated with the firm and received a small bottle of alleged perfume.

A few days later she wrote the company: "I'm married woman but love young man so please help me to keep my husband and gain other man love. Listen, for gossakes, my husband has commenced to running around with other women so plizz help me out some more, inclose find 50 cents."

Retribution

He is one of our foremost playwrights. But he hasn't provided the town with a play in a few seasons because he will tell you that he hasn't an idea in his dome. "You know," he will say, "something different from the usual thing."

At any rate, he might get something for a play out of this. And he wouldn't be stealing the theme, considering that it is his own story. Two years ago when his beautiful wife (an actress of note) told him that she anticipated a blessed event he urged her not to go through with it. "I hate brats," he growled, "they annoy me and I couldn't work with one around."

So she left for Paris and while she waited for the baby to arrive she promoted a divorce. When she returned recently and he saw their baby (a boy) he went mad about it. He begs her almost daily to marry him again—but she won't.

He is permitted to see it for an hour each week, however.

'EASY' The Love Story of a Modern Girl

By BEATRICE BURTON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Ann Marie Macy is the "easy" type of girl who is continually imposed upon. Young and pretty, she dreams of a future as an artist, saving from her earnings by painting cards and working in her father's bookstore, but, as her selfish, flapper sisters, Alice and Jeanie, borrow her dresses for their own ends, so her brother, Howard, borrows her savings. The art course plan is shelved when Ann Marie uses the money in extricating Howard from an entangling alliance with Leota Ingram, the town's bad girl. Even her mother's pendant is pawned to pay Howard's fare to the West when he loses his bank job. Neal Forsythe, dashing Don Juan, visiting the wealthy Lawlers, wins Ann Marie's heart. Mrs. Lawler forbids her son to further accompany the Macy girls, calling them "night-time friends." Alice evens accounts by getting herself engaged to John Lawler. To celebrate, Johnny, Alice, Ann Marie, Neal, Jeanie and Brookie have a party at a roadhouse.

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER XXII

Ann Marie was so surprised that she let the coffee pot fall.

"You didn't—you didn't take this thing off the table?" she gasped when Neal put it back into her hands and started the car.

"You bet your life I did!" he said with a laugh, "You know now how much I love you, don't you?—when I steal for you!"

The car shot out of the courtyard, and on to the wide, wet road that led back to town.

"There! Now, if they miss it it won't do them any good!" Neal said, and laughed again, "because we're gone, Baby! We're gone!"

Ann Marie did not laugh. She didn't say a word.

She just sat and stared down at the little coffee pot gleaming very brightly in the glow from the dashlight . . . So he was a thief, this man who had seemed like a god to her almost! A petty thief, pilfering from a restaurant . . .

"I wish you hadn't taken it," she said at last. "It wasn't a—a very honest thing to do, was it?"

She was as honest as the day, herself. So honest that she couldn't help saying what she thought now.

"I don't believe I want it, Neal. Let's take it back."

He shook his head, laughing at her, and drew her close against him with his free arm.

"Don't be a little idiot, Ann Marie," he said to her, smoothing her arm as he talked. "It's not stealing to take a little cheap German silver thing like that out of a restaurant. Why, people who run places like that expect to lose a certain amount of the silver and napkins they put on the table . . . That's why they charge so much for their second-rate food. Don't you know that, honey? . . . People are always taking things like that little pot with them as souvenirs. It's not thieving."

Ann Marie said nothing.

"You make me feel pretty rotten, talking to me like that," he went on. "I took the thing for you, because you liked it . . . Men have always stolen, begged and borrowed things for the women they love—from the beginning of the world, honey. Don't strain away from me like that."

He stopped the car at the side of the dark road and pulled Ann Marie into his lap. And once more he kissed her as if he couldn't kiss her enough.

"Maybe I am a fool," sighed Ann Marie, "but it did shock me to know you'd taken that little pot—I didn't know it was all right to do it—"

"It's not all right," Neal murmured. "But it's not out-and-out stealing, Ann Marie. And everybody does it."

Ann Marie spent the next morning going from house to house, taking orders for hand-painted Valentines, hand-painted bridge tallies, hand-painted pin cushions, hand-painted anythings.

She got thirteen orders, and went back to the brown house full of hope and happiness and pep. "Every order I fill, every dollar I make, brings me nearer to Neal," she told herself as she went to work at the wobbly old card-table in her bedroom.

By Wednesday she had the thirteen orders filled and delivered. Everybody paid her—which was a miracle, nothing less.

On Thursday morning she put thirty dollars into the bank, paid her father the five she owed him and used the rest for a new box of paints.

The thought of Leota Ingram and the money she had promised to send her worried her a little.

"I'll send her some at the end of the week," she promised herself. "Enough to keep her quiet."

She looked at the address Leota had given her—Neal's address.

"If Leota calls there for her mail Neal's bound to see her as soon as he goes back to New York," she thought, and that worried her too.

For Neal was going home in a few days, he said.

"Why don't we announce our engagement in the paper before you go?" she asked him on Saturday night when they were sitting in front of the fire in the Front Parlor. "I'd feel more sure of you—I know I'll feel as if I've lost you as soon as you go away."

Neal shook his head, smiling. "No fear of you losing me, silly child," he said.

Then his face became solemn, and he started thoughtfully down at the red coals that glowed in the grate.

"Johnny's mother is taking it pretty hard because he's engaged to Alice. You know that yourself, or I wouldn't speak of it, of course," he said. "And it would make her awfully sore at me if she knew how things are between you and me . . . The name 'Macy' is poison to her since your brother and Florence split up."

Ann Marie nodded slowly. She knew that Mrs. Lawler's good will meant a great deal to Neal just then. For she had promised to lend him some money to keep him afloat for a few more months in New York. He had told her all about it a day or two before.

"I suppose you're right," she answered. But she couldn't keep her disappointment out of her voice. "It's too bad, though. I'd like to have everybody know that I belong to you. I'd shout it from the housetops if I had my way, I'm so proud of it."

"But we know that you belong to me, don't we?" Neal said, getting up from the sofa where they were sitting.

That was on Saturday night.

On Sunday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, the Lawler's big black town car drove up in front of the house and stopped.

Ann Marie saw it from the window of her bedroom where she was breaking the Sabbath by working on Mrs. Lawler's luncheon cards.

She jumped up from the table and rushed into Alice's room.

Alice was flat on her back on the bed, with her head hanging over the edge of it, doing her facial exercises.

"Get up and put on a dress!" Ann Marie told her in a breathless whisper. "The Lawler's car just drove up!"

"Who's in it?" asked Alice, sitting bolt upright.

She ran, in her princess slip and stockinged feet, to the window and looked out.

"Oh, my aunt Sarah! It's Johnny's mother!" she cried. "You go down and talk to her, Ann Marie, while I fix up!"

She flopped down at her dressing table and began to lather her face with cold cream.

Ann Marie took off her smock and went downstairs. She carried with her the cards that she had been painting for Mrs. Lawler . . . Mrs. Lawler had been so terribly business-like with her when she had ordered them that Ann Marie decided she would be business-like with her now.

"I think these are going to be pretty, don't you?" she asked, when she had seated her in the front room before the fire and called Alice.

But Mrs. Lawler scarcely noticed them. She just smiled at them and made a wide movement with her hand as if she were brushing them away.

"I want to give Alice and Johnny their first dinner since we've taken her into the family," she said, slipping out of her brown fur coat. "I came to talk to her about the date."

Then Mr. Macy came into the room, looking very shoddy and down-at-the-heel in his old Sunday trousers and threadbare smoking jacket.

She looked at the address Leota had given her—Neal's address.

"If Leota calls there for her mail Neal's bound to see her as soon as he goes back to New York," she thought, and that worried her too.

For Neal was going home in a few days, he said.

"Firms Helping Build Wichita Falls"

In presenting this page of firms who are helping build Wichita Falls, the Wichita Daily Times and Record News also give to the public the first of a series of articles in which it is proposed to deal with the industrial, educational and other advantages to be found here. Even in Wichita Falls there are hundreds of people who cannot realize and comprehend the possibilities and opportunities that exist here. Therefore in addition, something of an inspirational nature will also be supplied the home folks.

The primary proposition, it is hoped, will be conducive to better civic spirit and a closer feeling of community interest, not only among business concerns and industrial establishments but among individuals as well. Of course it is hoped that this undertaking will be especially valuable in giving desirable publicity to Wichita Falls and advertising the firms represented in this group who have allied themselves in the undertaking as builders of Wichita Falls.

Wichita Falls is on the threshold of still greater development, if we can but realize the wonderful opportunities that we have at hand. Hundreds of acres of desirable industrial sites are located here within easy reach of railroad, water supply, electricity, natural gas and other desirable facilities. Living conditions are ideal in Wichita Falls with mild climate, open winters, an unfailing supply of water, and an abundance of natural gas.

With cheap and convenient fuel, unlimited water, excellent railroad facilities and markets, splendid factory sites, the industrial development is of great importance.

Wichita Falls offers wonderful school advantages with a large enrollment annually. With its numerous and modern equipped hotels Wichita Falls is prepared to offer excellent service to conventions and out-of-town trade. We have well-equipped hospitals, parks, churches, amusements and a multitude of other public facilities. Since it is the center of a vast trade territory and center of the oil development of Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma, together with its many other public facilities, Wichita Falls possesses everything that any community might need in order to prosper.

The number of advertisements on these pages speak for the friendly feeling that exists among our business firms and professional men. We believe that Wichita Falls is due for an era of prosperity even greater than it has ever before experienced.

A Song for All Sinners

(Written during the late world series)

I think that in some country town,
When keen October breezes blow,
A tall man, silent, bearded, brown,
His hat above his eyes pulled low,
Reads the wild tale the score-boards show
Of giants battling for a crown,
Of Cub and Mackman, hit and run.
—Why should I shiver in the sun?
A touch of winter in the air
Prickles and tingles in my hair—
What has become of Shoeless Joe?

Shoeless Joe Jackson! How the mob
Rose up to cheer him, long ago!
Lajoie, Wagner, Speaker, Cobb,
Mathewson, Bender—one with these.
Oh, lost star of the Pleiades!
Hard is the heart that feels no pang
Of pity for his pride brought low.
Ho, the brave song his black bat sang!
What has become of Shoeless Joe?

Luckless and loved, immortal, lost,
Blackened and shamed forever . .
Yes,
A sinner, let him pay the cost.
His birthright bartered for a mess
Of poor red pottage? Even so
Let us forget his youth forlorn,
How much, how much his boyhood lacked;
Heap on his proven guilt your scorn,
A trickster taken in the fact.
—Let us write only, in our pact,
That our own deeds be judged but so . . .
Needing no mercy, merciless,
Come, let us judge him, Shoeless Joe!

Prince, if we all had our deserts,
"Who could 'scape hanging?" Well, I know
Not I: not you. . . . The question hurts.
Let us have done with puny lies;
Looking each other in the eyes,
Shall we not grieve for Shoeless Joe?

—EUGENE MANLOVE RHODES

The Decisive Tilt

The battle between Stanford and Southern California at Palo Alto on Saturday will be one of the most decisive contests in the football round-up of 1929. They are not only two of the strongest teams on the coast, but two of the strongest in America. The winner will have a great chance to finish in front of the Far West parade, although California still has something to say about this later on.

Stanford and Southern California have exceptional material that is well coached. The men and the plays are there on both sides.

Howard Jones won from Pop Warner a year ago, but the job of hooking Pop twice in a row is none too simple. At this next meeting he will give the Trojans everything he has, and if Southern California can win, Notre Dame and Carnegie Tech may as well look out for serious trouble.

Both teams are closely allied with Mid-Western and Eastern football this season, as Southern California tackles Notre Dame and Carnegie Tech, while Stanford meets the Army again.

Warner has most of his star backs on hand who ran wild against the Army last fall, although Biff Hofman is among the missing. Herb Fleischhacker is on hand again, and he is big enough and fast enough to fill two gaps. Southern California has a star back in Russ Saunders, while both lines are big and fast. If there was room enough for the crowd this game would draw 200,000 spectators, and that is breaking it gently.

A Tip From Texas

Dear Sir: While eastern and western teams are using the spotlight, let a Longhorn from the Southwest butt in. The Texas university Longhorns, winners of the Southwestern conference title, are putting a powerful team into the field this year. They will be good enough to be considered in the national ranking class, up with any of the leaders. These Texas Steers are headed by Dexter Shelley, the fast and versatile 195-pound back who can pass, kick, run, hit a line, receive and run interference. He is on a par with Cagle and Marsters, and you know where they stand. Watch the Longhorns and Shelley.

—TEXAS STEER.

It might be recalled in this connection that S. M. U. after almost nailing the Army last October, finished only third in the Southwest. And this fall, with a green outfit, S. M. U. tied Nebraska.

The quality of football played in the Southwest can match the best that any other cross-section of your Uncle Sam's reservation can now offer.

When Missouri meets Nebraska
You can hear the crash to be,
From the snow peaks of Alaska
To the knobs o' Tennessee.

As between them in the picking,
With their spirit and their pep,
The Mule will taking a licking
If it doesn't watch its step.

One of the best games in the South Finds Georgia in front of the Gator's mouth.
The margin here is much too thin
For me to pick one team to win.

Olustee and Duke High Schools Battle 12-12 Tie

Special to The Record News

OLUSTEE, Okla., Oct. 25.—Their heads still bearing the laurels of the undefeated, the Olustee and Duke football teams left the field exhausted late today after they had battled to a tie, 12 to 12.

The tie score came, however, as a near miracle. Until the last three minutes of play the score stood 12 to 6, in favor of Duke. Then Arthur Burch, star backfield for the Olustee team, received a pass and ran 45 yards for a touchdown.

Neither team has been defeated this season.

Ralls High Wins Game By 32 to 0 From Littlefield

Special to The Record News

LITTLEFIELD, Texas, Oct. 25.—Long passes proved effective for the Ralls high school gridsters today and when the battle with the local eleven ended the score stood 32 to 0 in their favor. It was the third conference victory for the Ralls team. The victors in today's battle will meet the Floydada team at Ralls Nov. 1.

PARKER RACES FOR TOUCHDOWN

Wichitans Threaten Once But Are Held

By HENRY R. LAMAR

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 25.—What was conceded to be one of the hardest games on the Terrill prep school schedule for the 1929 season turned out to be one of the dullest and slowest so far with the Tigers beating the Wichita Falls Junior college crew 6 to 0. The game was played on the Highland Park high school field before an unusually small crowd.

Throughout the game both teams fought hard but failed to show anything to arouse the spectators. The only score of the game was made by Frank Parker, Terrill right half, early in the second quarter. That boy Parker is all right when he gets loose and he made some pretty runs, chalking up about 40 yards for his touchdown.

Other than Parker there were no individual stars. Cox and Luttrell played well for Wichita Falls.

The score would have been more one-sided had two of the Terrill regulars, Eudy and Hinman, tackles, been in the game.

The boys on both teams seemed to be trying hard but neither team could get started. The tacklers missed their men more times than not and the holes were never opened up at the right time. Terrill should be rather proud of its victory for they made some terrible boners, and many times let the junior college fellows get away for no reason in the world. Terrill has the making of a good team, and they would really do something if the team would back up young Parker.

The kicking and punts were unusually bad considering the pleasant weather, very few of them making more than 35 yards.

The aerial game was tried by the teams but with little success, for both showed ability to bat down the passes, which was rather surprising considering the way the teams were playing. When the playing got too dull one could have the pleasure of watching Cox of Wichita Falls fight. Now that boy really fights. He doesn't always get where he starts, but it is fine to see him keep on trying. Starting lineups:

Wichita Falls—	Position	Terrill
Sebron	L. E. R. E.	Harrison
Hardman	L. T. R. T.	Hall
Parker	L. G. R. G.	Haley
Barton	Center	Ramsey
Hutchinson	R. G. L. G.	Young
Price	R. T. L. T.	B. Schley
Hurd	R. E. L. E.	Clemes
Luttrell	Q. B.	Fagan (C. L.)
Black	L. G. R. H.	Taylor
Cox	R. H. L. H.	Yager
Davis	F. B.	Key

Amarillo Swamps Quanah Hi 85 to 0

Special to The Record News.

AMARILLO, Texas, Oct. 25.—For the first time this season Coach Dutch Smith sent his Amarillo high school Golden Sandies into a game with orders to hold back nothing and the fighting Quanah Indians were smothered under 85 to 0 score.

The Sandy offense clicked with precision and the deceptive fake running plays were too much a puzzle for the Indians who fought hard but against hopeless odds. The Golden clad line had plenty of ginger and fire, lacking nothing but more time in which to give all the substitutes a chance.

Smith used practically his entire squad and even the third and fourth stringers were able to make long gains through the Indian defense. The Indians made one threat in the third quarter when they marched down the field following an intercepted pass to the Sandies' three-yard line where they were held for downs. Again in the fourth quarter a spurt netted them two first downs, but the end of the game came too soon and the spurt ended with the Indians trying desperately to score via the air.

Estelline Bears Fight Clarendon Scoreless Tie

Special to The Record News

ESTELLINE, Texas, Oct. 25.—The Estelline Bear Cub football team fought the Clarendon Bronchos to a scoreless tie at Lion field in Estelline this afternoon.

Football seldom seen in high school games was displayed by both teams and every foot of ground gained on either side was a battle royal. The Cubs penetrated the Bronchos' line for 10 first downs while the Bronchos gained seven first downs through the Estelline defense.

Captain Baccus, McCullum, J. McCullum and Curtis were the outstanding players for the Cubs. Noble, Broncho captain, and Dillard were the sensation Clarendon players. The official score stands a tie as the first downs were not officially tabulated. Estelline players play the Childress Bobcats next Friday on the Childress field.

Lamesa Tornado Sweeps Over Carlsbad by 77-12

LAMESA, Texas, Oct. 25.—In a sweeping victory for the Golden Tornadoes over the Cavemen of Carlsbad, N. M., in which they struck their stride today a score of 77 to 12 was chalked for the locals. The first half ended 40 and 6 and in the last half Carlsbad High school stiffened. Carlsbad team is considered a strong aggregation but could not hold the Tornadoes. For the most part it was a game in the air passes being completed and intercepted for long gains. Carlsbad made all scores by returning punts and completing passes. A large crowd watched the game. Next Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the Tahoka Bulldogs will invade the grid camp of the local high school.

Turkey High Wins 55-7 Game Off Roaring Springs

Special to The Record News.

TURKEY, Texas, Oct. 25.—The Turkey High school football eleven was very unimpressive in its sixth victory of the season this afternoon over the weak Roaring Springs team. The score was 55 to 7. Although able to score almost at will the Turks looked slovenly on offense and the defense permitted the visitors to tally in the first period. The Turks will meet Dimmitt here next Friday.

COYOTES AND TIGERS RENEW FEUD TODAY

Here's the Dope and Low Down Too On Saturday Games Over the Country

By CHICK MEEHAN
Head Football Coach, New York University

Football has reached its October crest and with the stage in the season's warfare, we get a pretty good line on Who's Who. There will be fewer upsets from now on and with the teams and troops settling down to football played in a more natural way. A good deal of the strain and stage fright is off. There will be less nervousness and more battling based on the merits of actual resources. The teams are striking their strides.

It looks to me as if the battling will bring in the following results:

Harvard-Dartmouth: Harvard. The tie with Army will help the Harvard team.

Yale-Army: Yale. Cagle won't do it all alone and Yale will stop Murrel.

Princeton-Navy: Navy. The midshipmen are starting to go fast.

N. Y. U.-Butler: N. Y. U. team has hit its stride.

Fordham-Davis: Fordham has the winning complex.

Brown-Syracuse: Syracuse. Improving and have a fine line.

Penn State-Lafayette: Penn State. Bezdek's best team in five years.

Columbia-Williams: Columbia.

Rutgers-Catholic U.: Rutgers.

W & J-Temple: W & J.

Georgia Tech-Tulane: Georgia Tech.

North Carolina-Michigan States: North Carolina. Have a fine team with a lot of good material.

Carnegie Tech-Notre Dame: Notre Dame. A real battle.

Illinois-Michigan: Illinois. One of the best battles in the West, with Michigan's back to the wall.

Ohio State-Indiana: Ohio State. This team is just getting by and improving fast.

Chicago-Purdue: Purdue.

Wisconsin-Iowa: Wisconsin.

Missouri-Nebraska: Missouri.

Stanford-U. S. C.: U. S. C. In the best game of the day.

Georgia-Florida: Georgia. Florida injuries from the Georgia Tech game will handicap the 'Gators.

Notre Dame Beat Carnegie Tech

Another big Saturday is just around the corner and the Notre-Dame-Carnegie Tech grapple in Pittsburgh is the big game in the East this week. Leland Stanford vs. Southern California, Pop Warner vs. Howard Jones, great football men and the big rivals of the west coast meet out there in one of the most important games of the year and here, among other leading eastern seaboard battles, are Harvard vs. Dartmouth at Cambridge; Yale vs. Army at New Haven, and Princeton vs. Navy at Princeton.

Notre Dame will beat Carnegie Tech, in my opinion, but it will be a gripping scrap all the way. It is a case of the power and brawn of Carnegie against speed and cleverness from the Notre Dame angle. It was tough for Carnegie last week considering that they scored and the ball was brought back for holding, and the Plaid, I'm sure, will be at their best for Rockne's men, headed though the latter appear to be for a national championship.

Pitt Has Good Team

But don't let us forget that Pittsburgh has shone brightly too at the top of the heap. They have a star in the backfield in Parkinson, just as Dartmouth has in Marsters. Dimeolo and Uansa are other big guns on the Pittsburgh side and the Panthers, as I see it, have shown thus far that they are the class of the East, even if Nebraska did give them a hard rub last week.

Notre Dame, with a speedy and productvie unit in Carrideo, Elder, Brill and Mullins, is by far the leading team in the Mid-West; Tennessee with two fast backs, McEver and Hackman, is the leader in the South just now, and Stanford and U. S. C. stand out on the Pacific coast. There you have the class of the various sections as they appear today.

Yale has gone back to some of its old stuff and I look for the Elis to give West Point a terrific battle and come out of the game the winners. The team showed valuable goods against Brown and is getting good. The Navy is coming ahead and has a drive and rip to its game that will beat Princeton, I believe.

N. Y. U. I pick to beat Butler in its first intersectional game and Fordham to cut the comb of Davis and Elkins. The latter though is going well and making them all step. Harvard is my choice to stop Dartmouth's rush. They have a hard fierce fight with the Army under their belts and Dartmouth has yet to experience that tonic.

As good a game as you wish to see will be played at Providence and between Brown and Syracuse. Both have been primed on hard fights and know the feel of such preparation. Syracuse is out to give Brown one more lacing. Penn State I pick to beat Lafayette. This is the best team Penn State has had in five years. Columbia is due to floor Williams.

Georgia Tech has got going and will be too much for Tulane; tidy team though Tulane is this year. Another big battle in the South brings Georgia, makers of the best comeback of the year, and Florida, who hopes to atone for the defeat by Georgia Tech. The scrappy Tar Heels should beat Michigan State.

One of the best battles in the West will be between Illinois and Michigan. The latter will assert itself and has the inspiration of a bitter rival on the field, but Illini is too strong for the Michiganders and I look for Missouri to beat the Nebraskans. They have the Indian sign on the Cornhuskers. Wisconsin has to take it out on somebody and the Iowans, notwithstanding their tie with Illinois last week, are the team they'll take it out on.

Lawton Tops Anadarko By 22-0 in Conference Game

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., Oct. 25.—Lawton high school eleven climbed a notch closer to the Southern conference championship here this afternoon by defeating Anadarko high 22 to 0.

Lawton gained twice as much ground as their opponents. But on two occasions was held for downs on the one-yard lines.

In the last quarter Anadarko threatened by making three forward passes for a total of 50 yards but lost the ball when Lawton intercepted a pass.

Butler's open field running was the feature of the game.

Gentry, Captain Wright and Valdes also played excellent ball for Lawton, while Harmon starred for the visitors.

HEAR COACH ROPER

Princeton Mentor to Broadcast on Oct. 27

Coach Bill Roper, famous Princeton football mentor, will be on the air via radio on Oct. 27 for a solid hour to tell football fans how to get the most out of a football game. The hour is from 9 to 10 p. m. eastern standard time.

Along with many others Coach Roper believes that many people attend football games because of the rivalry between the schools or for the joy of being in a crowd and witnessing the colorful spectacle of the vast throngs, but do not really enjoy the game for its own sake. He will take for his topic "How to Watch a Football Game to Enjoy It Most." The rest of the hour that is not taken up by the mentor will be filled with college and university news and goings-on.

The program will be through the Columbia Broadcasting system.

La. Fight Promoter May Face Charges

HOUSTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—After sparring for a time with Louisiana authorities, Frankie Edwards, exboxing promoter, went about his pursuits here late today with his projected return to face New Orleans authorities, who claimed $15,000 in fight receipts disappeared simultaneously with him, still indefinite.

Edwards wired the New Orleans district attorney that he considered nothing more serious than a civil action could be brought against him and stipulated no definite date for returning back to the scene of his last fight—the Wolfe-Canzoneri match. No charges had been lodged against him there.

Preliminary Hearing On

Meanwhile he faced preliminary hearing on a fugitive warrant here tomorrow afternoon.

Fairview Third Team Is Winner Over Zundy 6-0

The Fairview third team played its third game of the season Friday afternoon when they engaged the Zundelowitz Junior high school of Wichita Falls on the Zundy field and won by a single touchdown, the score being 6 to 0.

The lone touchdown of the contest came in the third quarter on a short lateral pass from Brantley to Bunstine who raced across the goal line. Hodges tried for extra point but the ball went to the side.

Henry Hodges was the outstanding player on the fast Fairview team and looked especially good on intercepted forward passes. Captain Hollis for Zundy was easily the most valuable performer for the Wichitans.

The Fairview first team has gone undefeated this season and will play the second string Coyotes at Fairview on Oct. 29. They defeated the second string Coyote eleven two weeks ago.

Memphis Cyclone Blows To 45-0 Over Wellington

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, Oct. 25.—The Memphis Cyclone swept with tremendous fury over the Wellington Skyrocket eleven here this afternoon and when the dust of battle had settled the score stood 45 to 0 in favor of the Memphis eleven.

The Memphisians were especially strong in their overhead attack and gained more ground by this weapon than on any other.

In the first quarter Wellington looked as if they might score when they had the ball near the Cyclone goal but fumbles cost them their only chance to shove across a marker.

Phillips, Dale, and Hammond were the shining stars for the Cyclone eleven. Dale made two touchdowns in the third quarter.

TIGERS LOOK FOR PACK MEAT

Big Trek Will Come Here From Electra

By W. G. CHAMBLESS

Get set all ye lovers of good, clean, hard fought football contests. The Tigers from Electra have come snorting into town, swishing their tails and are looking for Coyote meat. The ever hungry Tigers have been on a rather restricted diet this season and are anxious to taste the real thing in the form of a victory over the Coyote pack.

Will the Coyote snap back at the prowling Tiger who has invaded his haunts? And how like nobody's business, we say to you! These two representatives of the predatory species of the football jungle land of district 1 will renew their traditional feud Saturday afternoon out at Athletic part, 3 o'clock.

Tigers Have Fighting Spirit

Though the Tigers from Electra are not as well heeled in the way of football scrapping material as they have been in years past, they do have the old spirit of fight which has carried many a team a long, long way against supposedly stronger elevens.

The Pack drew their hard training program of the week to a conclusion Friday afternoon when they went through their final rehearsal of the plays which they intend to uncork against the invader Saturday. Though the Coyote machine has been partially wrecked in the last couple of weeks by the monkey wrench of meligibility and academic failures, Coach Barry Holton has done what he could to strengthen his outfit and bring it back into first class fighting trim. A partially rebuilt forward wall will be presented against the Electra onslaught. Chick Holton, hefty left tackle and punter extraordinary on the team, will not play in the game but will see the fracas from the sidelines. Holton was one of the players who brought down the wrath of faculty displeasure upon his neck when he failed to make the required grades on his report card. Earl Hutcheson, up and coming youngster on the squad, will probably fill the veteran shoes of Holton at left tackle. Beaty and the Carstarphen brothers are sure to start in their regular places at center and the ends, respectively. Captain Hodgkiss at his berth of right tackle and Dixon at right guard will take their usual places. Skeen is likely to hold down left guard.

Coyote "Four Horsemen"

In the backfield the "four horsemen," Dickey, quarterback; Elliott and Lee at halves, and J. R. Holton at full, will start the game.

Whether the Pack will cut loose with their whole assortment of tricks against the Tigers is still problematical and will not be known until the heat of the battle brings them out. It is certain that opposing scouts from Vernon, Amarillo and Lubbock will be on hand to see what they can of the Coyote machine, and Coach Holton may choose not to show all of his hand against Electra. An ace in the hole may be needed when the Pack meets the other strong teams in the circuit.

Excitement Over Contest

Excitement runs high Saturday morning in those who know something of the history of the Wichita Falls-Electra high school football feud. Electra would consider a victory over the Coyotes a successful season for their team and on the other hand Wichita Falls would consider the day a huge success if they could scalp the Tigers—such is the keen rivalry between the two schools.

The Big Parade

The big fracas of the contest will be preceded by a big parade and pep meeting Saturday morning starting at 9:30 from Scott avenue and Thirteenth street and perambulating through the main streets of the business section of the city. Between halves at the game the big pep squad in their scarlet coats and uniforms will hold forth in a big stunt demonstration out on the playing field.

Not to be outdone, Electra is also bringing a big crowd of Tiger boosters and well-wishers. According to reports reaching here late last night probably the biggest trek ever made to an out-of-town football game will come here for the game Saturday afternoon.

Officials for the game are Jim St. Clair, S. M. U., referee; A. R. Bateman, principal of the Quanah high school, umpire; Charles B. Braun, Sewanee, head linesman. The game today marks the third of the season which St. Clair has refereed here.

The probable lineup for both teams is given as follows:

WICHITA FALLS	Position	ELECTRA
J. Carstarphen	L. E.	Loftin
Hutcheson	L. T.	Koerth
Fowler	L. G.	Adams
Beaty	C.	McDannald
Dixon	R. G.	Curfman
Hodgkiss	R. T.	V. Hughes
R. Carstarphen	R. E.	Johnson
Dickey	Q.	Head
Lee	R. H.	A. Smith
Elliott	L. H.	H. White
J. R. Holton	F. B.	Crass

Texas A. & M., Baylor, Steers, S. M. U. In S. W. Grid Limelight

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 25. (AP)—Refusing to accept their defeat by T. C. U. last week as final, Coach Matty Bell's Texas Aggies hope to start beating back toward at least a tie for the Southwest conference grid crown when they encounter the air-minded Arkansas Razorbacks tomorrow at College Station.

The Cadets have taken hope from the fact that Texas university fought its way to the title last year after having dropped an early game to Southern Methodist. As they play all but one of their remaining contests at home, the Bellmen believe they have an excellent chance to finish on the summit, providing each of five now undefeated elevens loses at least once.

Both Have Been Defeated

Already downed both by Texas and Baylor, the Razorbacks will go into tomorrow's most important conference battle with nothing in particular to lose. They already are out of the running. They will have nothing on their minds except to trim the Aggies, and for that reason will be doubly dangerous. Their feat in scoring three touchdowns on Baylor last week imbued them with confidence.

Only one member of what now looks like the Southwest's "Big Three," Texas, Baylor and Texas Christian, will engage in a championship fray tomorrow. The Texas Longhorns, undefeated and unscored on in four starts, play host to the Rice Institute Owls at Austin. As the Owls in their early games have appeared somewhat short of conference caliber, the Longhorns are prohibitive favorites.

S. M. U. Mystery Team

The conference's "mystery" team, Southern Methodist, is expected to uncover its offense for the first time this season in its intersectional tilt with Mississippi university here. In view of an announcement two days ago that the Mustangs will go after the national championship next year, the showing of Ray Morrison's speedy sophomore backfield against "Ole Miss" will be watched with particular interest. The team is said to be 100 per cent stronger offensively than when it played Nebraska to a scoreless tie.

Baylor Favored

Baylor's mighty machine, although developing less horsepower than had been expected of it against Arkansas last week, will be favored to defeat the Centenary college Gentlemen at Shreveport. Coach Jennings has announced he will use a second team most of the way, unless the Gents prove more troublesome than anticipated. Several Bear stars, including Paradeaux, regular center, came out of the gruelling Arkansas battle in bad shape and will not be used against Centenary.

Grubbs, Leland, Brumbelow, et al, of the Texas Christian ensemble will show West Texas fans how they punctured the Aggie bubble last week, using the Texas Tech Matadors as sparring partners. The game will be played at Lubbock, and 8,000 persons are expected to see the powerful Christians do their tricks. In order not to disappoint the customers, as well as out of a deep respect for Tech, Coach Francis Schmidt promised to start his first team and leave it in there most of the way.

The Aggie-Arkansas conflict, even through bringing together the conference's two beaten elevens, promises to provide some rousing entertainment. Both essentially are passing teams, and the air over Kyle field is certain to be filled with flying footballs. Arkansas used its aerial attack to score its three touchdowns on Baylor last week, and three completed passes paved the way for the Aggies' score on T. C. U. As the Aggies are notoriously obstinate about losing on Kyle field, they generally are accorded the favorite's position.

The prospect of seeing Dexter Shelley, whose 190 pounds ripped the Oklahoma line to ribbons last week, carry the mail will attract many conference fans to the Texas-Rice game. It is doubtful the Longhorns' premier backfielder will be in the game long, however, as Coach Littlefield is looking forward to a brush with Southern Methodist next week.

WHITE DEER, Texas, Oct. 25.—The White Deer high school eleven administered a good trouncing to the Groom high team here today by defeating them 25 to 6. Olney Overwhelms Burk High by 37-0

Special to The Record News

OLNEY, Texas, Oct. 25.—The powerful Olney high school Cubs ran rough shod over the Burkburnett eleven here Friday afternoon and piled up a score of 37 to 0. The Cubs completely baffled the Burkburnett attack and they never made a serious thrust at the Olney goal line. The Burkburnett eleven put up a game fight but were unable to hold the line plunging backs on the Olney team.

Duckworth, Cub substitute halfback, was easily the star performer of the afternoon. He broke loose in the second quarter to run 23 yards for a touchdown and again in the third broke loose to race 65 yards for his second touchdown of the game. Patrick, another Cub substitute, played at full and made one touchdown for the Olney eleven. Patrick is a youngster, weighs only 125 pounds. He played a consistently good game throughout the fracas.

Olney was especially strong in the overhead attack and completed six out of 12 passes attempted for a total of 78 yards. Burkburnett completed three out of 10 passes for a total of 23 yards.

Wix scored two touchdowns, Duckworth two, Green one and Patrick one.

Lubbock Westerners Take 27 to 0 Game Off Olton

LUBBOCK, Texas, Oct. 25.—The Lubbock High school Westerners showed a powerful and aggressive team to the fighting Olton High school eleven that went down in defeat here this afternoon, 27 to 0.

Led by the fleet Hooper, Olton half, the visitors put up a grim fight and were still battling when game was over. Olton held the Westerners scoreless in the third period. Moody Smith and John R. Green, Lubbock backs, led an offensive attack that scored three touchdowns in the first two quarters and one in the final period. Almost a new team went in during the game, with Coaches Frnka and Morgan giving all the players chance to get in the final contest before the climax of the season when the Westerners will meet Amarillo next Saturday.

Jacksboro Chalks Up Win Over Graham High, 13-7

JACKSBORO, Texas, Oct. 25.—The Jacksboro High school chalked up another victory in its race for the title of district No. 4 today by defeating the Graham High school eleven by a score of 13 to 7 in a hard-fought game. The Jacksboro team scored its first tally in the opening quarter but the Graham boys followed it closely with their touchdown. During the remainder of the game the ball was in Graham territory most of the time. Graham threatened to score only one other time but the Jacksboro line held them on downs. Captain Myers, Martin, Black and Turner were outstanding in the Jacksboro offensive while Ringenberg starred for Graham. Both teams played splendid football but the Jacksboro eleven had the margin on both offensive and defensive.

BIG SIX TEAMS BATTLE TODAY

Inter-Conference Contest Featured

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 25. (UP)—Football in the Big Six becomes strictly an interconference squabble Saturday and when the last scar is spiked into gridiron turfs there probably will be only two undefeated teams on the circuit's official records.

Sports experts name four Big Six teams which may hold the advantage after the last gun tomorrow. They are Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas Aggies and Oklahoma.

Missouri Undefeated

Missouri is the only team in the list without a defeat in or out of conference but Missouri has not been meeting teams of the caliber of Syracuse and Pittsburgh as has Nebraska. The Cornhuskers will go to Columbia in the feature contest of the day and it is an even bet which team comes out unscathed. That team, in the opinion of Big Six experts, should win the conference title.

The Kansas Aggies will play Iowa State at Ames and the Oklahoma Sooners meet Kansas university.

Okla. Favored Over K. U.

Missouri already has defeated Iowa State and Kansas university has been beaten by the Kansas Aggies in the only conference games to date. Oklahoma, picked with Nebraska in early season forecasts to head the conference, is favored to beat K. U. and the Aggies have a wide edge over Iowa State.

It is generally agreed that the conference race will be accurately indexed and catalogued as to final results by the final scores in Saturday's schedules.

St. Edward's Teams Play Foreign Games

AUSTIN, Oct. 25.—Two St. Edward's university football teams will be in action on foreign soil Friday. While the first team is in Brownwood playing the Daniel Baker college team, the seconds will be in Bryan playing Allen academy.

Coach Sarafiny took 23 men with him to Brownwood Thursday noon. It is not at all unlikely that he will pull a Rockne and start a second string team, running in his first string as needs demand. Making the trip are: ends, Frisch, Vogt, Brotherman, McLaughlin and Vance; tackles, Munoz, Blackwell and A. Kivlin; guards, Hertenberger, Caplis, Quebedeaux, Rougeaux; centers, Farr and Estes; quarterbacks, Fanette and K. J. Kivlin; fullbacks Scott and Bomba; halfbacks, Jansing, Figari, Parma, Ransom and Sullivan.

Assistant Coach Curley James took the following men to Bryan: ends, Michael, Canion, Johnson and Loran; tackles, O'Hagan and Strauss; center, Sliva; guards, Wurtzinger, Take and Roberts; quarterbacks, Donohue and Gault; halfbacks, Finger, Fitzgibbon, O'Rourke and Busby; fullback, Talerico.

Childress Bobcats Sweep Over Quitaque Team, 37-9

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Oct. 25.—With the second stringers in the lineup during practically the entire game the Childress High school Bobcats swept through the Quitaque defense at will on the local field today to win an easy 37 to 9 victory. The Quitaque lads were able to register only two first downs. Line bucks, sweeping end runs and long forward passes featured the Childress attack. The Bobcats meet Estelline Friday in a game which will have strong bearing on the conference race.

Health and Diet Advice

BAKING POWDER

Baking powder is a compound used in place of yeast in which an acid acting upon an alkali generates carbon dioxide gas and thus causes the dough to rise. In most powders this action begins to take place as soon as the powder is moistened. For this reason any liquid added is generally added toward the last of the mixing process. It is for this reason also that the well known warning, "Never place a wet spoon in this powder," has been printed upon millions of cans.

All powders carry a starch filler which is necessary in order to absorb atmospheric moisture. Cornstarch is used most commonly. Without this addition of the starch filler it would be possible to use only newly manufactured baking powder. This is practically impossible from a commercial and distributing standpoint.

In America we use over 300 tons of baking powder each day. There are four different types of baking powder in common use. The most expensive powder is usually the one made from tartaric powder in which cream of tartar or tartaric acid is the acid used. Then there are the alum powders in which alum sulphate is the acid generally employed; the phosphate powders and those called alum phosphate powders. The latter baking powder is probably used more than any other, possibly because of its cheaper price.

There has been a good deal of bitter argument between the various baking powder manufacturers about the value of their products, one manufacturer claiming that other baking powders are more harmful than his own. For instance, the cream of tartar manufacturer holds that sodium aluminum sulphate is injurious, while the manufacturers of the alum and phosphate powders claim that the cream of tartar powders leave a residue of Rochelle salts.

It is undoubtedly true that the use of any of the present day powders introduces into the alimentary tract a residue of different kinds of saline cathartics. In my opinion, the use of a reasonable amount of baking powder of any make is not injurious to any great extent. So many palatable and nutritious foods can be prepared with the use of small amounts of baking powder that it keeps our diet far more interesting and in this way we use good foods which we otherwise might avoid.

The public is fairly well protected by the pure food laws against the manufacturers who for commercial reasons alone would use injurious ingredients in making baking powder.

Those who are following the advice in these articles know that I recommend the use of wholewheat flour in making bread, biscuits, muffins, waffles, pancakes, etc. It is very difficult to make any of these articles of food without using a small amount of baking powder to create a lightness which comes from the generation of the carbon dioxide gas. My readers will find that they can make a very tasty pancake or waffle through making a batter of wholewheat flour, eggs, and milk and adding a small amount of baking powder. The action of the baking powder and egg will be sufficient to puff up the wholewheat enough so that it can be thoroughly cooked through. Such pancakes or waffles should be made without grease being used. If the finely pulverized stone ground wholewheat flour is used, the waffle or pancake can be made just as light as made with white flour, but do not try to make them without using a little baking powder.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

St. Vitus Dance

Question—G. L. asks: "What am I to do for a stubborn case of St. Vitus dance for 10 years' standing? I am a young man in the twenties."

Answer—You should take a fruit juice fast for at least 10 days which should be followed by a carefully planned diet in order to cure yourself of any tendency to nervousness. Also, take systematic exercises, using only those exercises which require slow movements and where it is necessary to use increased strength each day.

Dried Beef

Question—Mrs. J. K. H. asks: "Is dried beef a wholesome food, that is to be substituted when fresh meat is not available?"

Answer—Yes, dried beef is a good food if prepared properly. It should be boiled in two or more waters, and seasoned only with a little butter as eaten. Never flavor it with a flavor sauce which is the customary way of spoiling it as a wholesome food.

Massage

Qustion—L. M. asks: "Will massaging the legs every night with hot olive oil tend to fatten them? Would the oil increase the growth of hair on the legs?"

Answer—Very little can be done to correct the shape of the body through massage. The thighs can be developed to some extent through exercise, but the calves of the legs do not respond as readily and usually become thinner and the muscles more bunchy through exercise. Very little oil is absorbed through the skin, and even when it is absorbed it does not remain in that one part, but is taken up by the blood or lymphatics. If the skin becomes healthier by massage there is more liability that the hair will grow longer. The oil has nothing to do with this.

South Texas Exposition Houston Oct. 30-Nov. 9

HOUSTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—The huge hall here where Alfred E. Smith was nominated for president will resound again to the tramp of many feet in its capacity as quarters for the third annual South Texas exposition Oct. 30 to Nov. 9.

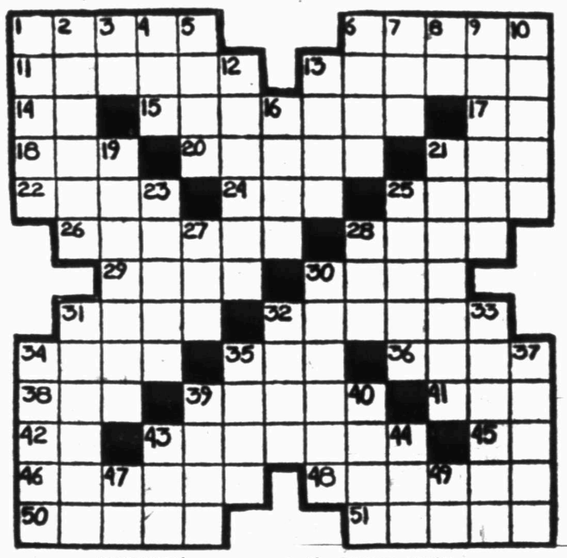

Harry S. Ford, general manager, said he expected more than half a million people would visit the huge chamber. All concession space he added, had been sold and practically all the display room reserved. One of the many agricultural exhibits will be that of Texas A. & M. college. The feature will be the presence of licensed pilots from a local aviation school. They will answer any questions asked about flying.

Mexico Seeks Recovery Of Island Territory

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 25. (AP)—A dispatch to El Universal from Tuxtla Gutterrez, capital of Chiapas says the governor has appealed to the federal government to start diplomatic proceedings for recovery of half of Suchiate island in the Suchiate river, transferred to the Guatemalan side of the boundary line when the river overflowed and changed its course.

The island formerly was divided, half belonging to Guatemala and half to Mexico, but now the river flows to one side and the entire island has passed to Guatemalan territory.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 25. (AP)—An early decline influenced by relatively easy cables and large ginnings figures was followed by rallies in cotton today on trade buying and covering. The advance was checked by a renewal of southern hedging and there were reactions in the late trading. December contracts after selling up from 18.07 to 18.39, or 18 points net higher closed at 18.22, with the general market closing barely steady, net unchanged to 1 point higher.

The opening was steady at a decline of 5 to 11 points, with December and later months soon showing net losses of 14 to 16 points under liquidation or reselling.

January sold off to 18.18 and March to 18.47, but offerings were absorbed by trade buying and covering at these figures and the market later firmed on a continuation of this demand.

The advance extended to 18.50 for January and 18.79 for March, or about 16 to 18 points above yesterday's closing quotations.

Closing prices showed reactions of 16 to 17 points from the best. Trading in current October contracts ended at noon.

A few additional notices were issued and caused liquidation which sent the price of new October off to 17.83 during the morning or 34 points net lower. The last sale showed a substantial recovery being at 18.12, or within 5 points of Thursday's closing price.

The census report showed ginnings of 9,099,082 bales prior to Oct. 18, which was somewhat above the forecasts but seemed without much effect on the market. The report of grade and staple of cotton ginned prior to Oct. 1, showed a smaller percentage of tenderable cotton than last year.

Exports today 54,310, making 1,855,885 so far this season. Port receipts 98,329. U. S. port stocks 2,145,644.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25. (AP)—Although cotton was less active than yesterday, the undertone was healthier today and prices moved moderately upward despite bearish ginnings figures.

December contracts traded up from 17.96 to 18.30 but reacted and closed at 18.19, or 8 points net higher. The general market closed steady at net advances of 4 to 9 points.

Liverpool cables were relatively easier and opening transactions showed declines of 2 to 7 points in sympathy. Some trade buying developed after the start. Prices rallied 5 to 6 points from the lows. The census bureau's ginning total of 9,099,082 was construed as rather bullish and resulted in a wave of selling which carried active positions 11 to 14 points down from the early highs. January traded at 18.09 and March 18.36.

Active positions recovered to levels practically $1.50 a bale over the lows. January rallied to 18.42 and March 18.68, or 33 to 34 points up.

The late profit taking caused a recession of 11 to 13 points from the top and January closed at 18.30 and March 18.68. The October option expired at noon at 17.99 and it was reported that notices for 4,500 bales on October contracts were issued during the morning.

Banking Supervision Results In Quieter Day on Stock Market

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 25. (US)—Banking supervision and direction of dealings resulted in a quieter and orderly stock market today. Belated distress selling and further frightened liquidation made its appearance but was taken in good manner while short selling was held off through fear of the resources of the support pool formed by the "Big Four" of the banking world. The close found most prices within a fraction of the level reached in the rally that took place in the first few minutes of tradings. Steel was 1⅞ lower for the day but General Motors gained fractionally, Texas Corporation advanced 1 point, American & Foreign Power 4½, Columbia Gas 4, Standard of New Jersey 3¼, Union Pacific 3, Canadian Pacific 8⅜ and Hudson Motors 3¼. Other price changes were limited to a point or so. Call money was held at 6 per cent all day but time money rates eased another half point. Turnover dropped to the 6,000,000-share level.

Advertising of the "bankers' pool" apparently has halted the decline. It's anyone's guess whether the halt is permanent. If the lows were witnessed Thursday there should be a gradual quieting down of trading. Apparently this is what the bankers desire. While the stock market quiets further improvement in the bonds market is looked for. Then, early next year, the reparations bonds should come along unless some politician or other throws a monkey-wrench in the very fine machinery built up by the international bankers. After their campaign to prepare the bond market for such flotation and the very narrow escape from disaster they had as a result it is unlikely that the banking powers will permit of any renewed big speculation in stocks, such as would be necessary for another board upward movement, until their plans for bond financing are carried out.

That "banking pool" simply had to let it be known that there were unlimited resources pledged to take care of the pivotal stocks to stop short selling. Most of the offerings, today, represented cleaning up of weak accounts but a good part of dealings was almost entirely professional. Most of the big bears have had plenty of time to cover. In fact it is known that several were whipsawed in Thursday's market, having reversed their position too soon. The fact that a "banking pool" had to be formed with public announcement, however, does not speak well for the immediate market outlook. Nor does the wiping out of the more important short account.

The day was not without its good news but with the trading community still staggering it had little influence. Hope was expressed that the Steel meeting Tuesday would result in additional favorable development to the record earnings report that has been expected. Those interested in Anaconda were forecasting a higher dividend if the price of the red metal were sustained at 18 cents a pound. Warner Brothers increased their dividend to a $4 annual rate indicating that if merger negotiations are resumed with Paramount they will have to be on a different basis than talked of heretofore. American International, it is claimed, has come through the market debacle with better results than any other investment trust.

Definite forecast is made that the local rediscount rate will be reduced next week. It would make no difference to the stock market if the rate were cut to 4 per cent now but it will make quite a difference to the bond market.

Reduction in time money rates to 6¼ to 6⅜ per cent put the rates to the lowest in more than a year and was regarded as the direct result in the change of policy of the administration told of here when the White House announced that Secretary Mellon would not resign. As pointed out at the time, that development indicated that "new era speculators" were to get their first experience of a bear market in a period of easy money.

MIDWESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 25. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Hog trade around the 11-market circuit was marked by a 10c to 25c decline. Packers on the close at several points enforced the full loss of 25c. The top of $9.90 was paid at Chicago and St. Louis. Total offerings, 74,800, an increase of 10,500 over a week ago, but 7,000 less than the corresponding day last year.

Fat lambs firm to slightly higher. Some markets reported strength on mature classes of sheep. Chicago realized $13.25 on choice natives, and $13.00 for rangers. The supply was 50,700 against 40,066 last Friday and 49,590 a year ago.

Aggregate receipts of cattle, 17,200, an increase of 4,000 over a week ago and 2,500 more than a year ago. Generally steady prices were maintained on killing classes of cattle with trade generally confined to the lower grades. Trade interests expect a liberal run of range cattle the forthcoming week.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. (AP)—To a considerable extent the wheat market today regained independence from stock market domination, and responded more freely to outstanding grain trade developments. Broad European demand for North American wheat, with export buying today estimated as much as 2,000,000 bushels went far to hoist wheat values at the last, notwithstanding that earlier the market had collapsed 6 cents a bushel.

Closing quotations on wheat here were unsettled but 1⅛ cents to 1⅝c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed at ⅛c to ⅝c advance, oats ⅜ to 1c up, and provisions varying from 20 cents setback to 10c gain.

The wheat trade nevertheless kept a sharp eye today on security values. During the earlier dealings in particular, wheat speculators rushed to buy or to sell wheat almost regardless of anything except that stock exchange shares were bulging or were breaking as the case might be. It was chiefly on account of one sudden tumble in stocks that wheat today underwent an extreme drop of 6 cents a bushel.

Wheat transactions were on a big scale, but fell below yesterday's activity which piled up a total volume of 156,186,000 bushels in future deliveries alone, the largest aggregate on record.

Helping to promote today's upturns in wheat values here was relative general firmness of the wheat market at Liverpool, although final quotations in Liverpool were at 2½ to 3⅞ pence net decline.

Brisk shipping demand here for corn aided price upturns that corn and oats scored owing to wheat market highs.

For the most part provisions ranged higher with grain despite downturns in the value of hogs.

TURKEY MART OPENS NOV. 8

Growers Urged to Feed Birds Well Before Selling

More and more pressure is now being brought to bear upon farmers and other raisers of turkeys in order to induce the penning and feeding of turkeys destined to be marketed during the coming month, according to produce dealers.

It was stated Friday that the market will open on Nov. 8 here instead of Nov. 4, as formerly intimated. If local dressing of turkeys begins on that date as scheduled, there will be allowed practically one week in which to get birds from this section on board cars for shipment to the eastern market. Nov. 14, it was said, will be the last day on which dressed poultry may be started by freight if it is to reach the centers of largest consumption in time for retail distribution to Thanksgiving day diners.

With most of the Texas crop admittedly underweight, with the exception of scattered flocks which have been kept in pens and fed systematically during the year, produce dealers pointed out that only great care and intensive feeding during the coming two weeks can prevent a serious prejudice to the market for turkeys from this area. Grading will depend in a large measure on weight, and prices vary materially with different grades.

Only a few turkeys have been brought in for sale thus far, it was reported. The movement of chickens and eggs from local producing areas is seasonably light.

Cotton ginning showed little signs of abating in reports received from gins in this county Friday evening. Friday's total was 418 bales, bringing the season's mark to 13,437. Burkburnett was high for the day with 111 bales.

On the estimates made by gin managers, their figures being based upon information supplied by cotton growers whom they serve, the county has a good chance to run considerably beyond the 1928 crop. Less than 2,000 bales remain to equal the reported ginnings of last year in Wichita county, and estimates made Friday would indicate that at least 5,000 more bales will go through the 13 gins now in operation within the coming 30 days.

U. T. Regents to Let Building Contract Nov. 8

AUSTIN, Oct. 25. (AP)—When University of Texas regents hold their next meeting here Nov. 8, their attention will be centered on the award of a contract for the new $900,000 chemistry building, further progress on plans for the erection of seven large self-financing dormitories for boys and renewal of discussion toward a loan for new buildings.

Negotiations have been practically completed for the construction of the dormitories and a central dining hall, costing approximately $1,500,000. Funds will be supplied by either banking or insurance interests and repayment made through revenue derived from room rental.

Representatives of investment companies are expected to attend the meeting to make proposals regarding loans to replace some of the unsightly shacks on the campus. The loans may total $3,000,000, it is said.

College and School News

By MARGARET FLEMING
The Record News Staff

Members of the Girl Reserves filled to capacity the seating space in the Junior college cafeteria Friday morning at the first party of the school year. Misses Dorothy Cline, Josephine Kelly, Marjorie Bash, Geneva Taylor and Marian Proctor acted as hostesses. Miss Kathleen Cason, chairman of the program committee, was in charge.

Little Miss Shirley Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jenkins, gave two readings. The Junior college boys quartet composed of Bob West, John Flynn, Orville Medford and Bob Murrell sang a negro spiritual selection with Mrs. Hermione Vaughn at the piano. A short skit, representing the Major Hoople household, was presented by Miss Lois Baber as Mrs. Hoople, Fritz McDonald, the major; Misses Margaret Bone, Olivert Castle, and Marie Maul as boarders at the house; and Miss Marguerite Sheldon representing the Girl Reserves.

Refreshments consisted of vanilla ice cream bricks with the blue triangle, the emblem of the Girl Reserves, in the center. Blue cardboard triangles were pinned on all the guests as favors.

College Honor Roll

Junior college honor roll was announced Friday morning as follows: Misses Mary Virginia Barron, Elizabeth Beumler, Francis Bone, Thelma Bridges, Ruth Bruce, Ruby Calloway, Jane Cameron, Edahjane Castner, Mary Louise Clark, Kathleen Colligan, Fanny Godfrey, Erma Lea Graham, Ruth Hager, Mary Katherine Hankerson, Gertrude Hieserman, Inez Holcomb, Dorothy Janeway, Aldis King, Gertrude Klass, Catherine McCarty, Margarette Newsom, Maurine Parnell, Nettie Mae Ross, Bertha Sax, Evelyn Slopanskey, Dorothy Smart, Lonela Smith, Louada Stearns, Wilma Thomas, Annie Wright and Aurie Belle Yeager; and Messrs. Wendell Bash, Louis Bond, O. H. Box Jr., Curtis Cook, Virgil Daniel, Gayle Dishongh, Oliver Fudge, Fred Husbands, Aaron Kruger, and Howard Martin.

Pep Rally and Parade

Frank Byrd's Bluebird orchestra played at the high school pep rally Friday evening at the Junior college at 7 o'clock. The parade which is to be Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock was discussed and planned. The parade will form at the Producers creamery and will march through the main business section of the city. Vernon Black, Homer Donahoo, Charlotte Joiner and Dorothy Hartman, high school cheer leaders, led the yells.

Prince Would End War by 'Allowing' High Officials to Pack Rifles

By SAM LOVE
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—An elaborate scheme to end war, a part of which involves the equipment of congressmen, kings and high army officers with hobnailed boots and rifles and allowing them to take a leading part in future sangine heroics, was advanced here today by Lieut. Gen. Fritz Wilhelm, who is also Duke of Kolaschine and is a Danish royal prince to boot.

Prince Holm—his shortest title—has been working on his plan for years. His aim was not only to produce a peace plan that would result in peace, but a peace plan that would be entertaining.

Other Plans Bore Him

A great drawback, he pointed out, to the other peace plans, is that they lack a certain liveliness. There is no gaiety in them. In fact, without exception they bore Prince Holm and depress him.

The prince's plan would go into effect 10 hours after any declaration of hostilities, and it would certainly cause some odd sights. The president, sovereign or regent of the bellicose state would be the first person rushed to the front. Prince Holm has a place for him there. He would be in the "infantry shock troops."

If the president felt lonely out there with the rough fellows who signed the payroll with an "X" he would soon have company. Special troop trains would follow with all the members of congress or parliament who voted for war and they would take to sidings only to get out of the way of the train bearing the prime minister or secretary of state and all the assistant secretaries of state. Transport airplanes would fly overhead bearing to the front all the bishops, prelates and clergymen who had openly opined that this was a righteous war and ought to be fought.

As fast as Prince Holm's sort of shock troops reached the firing line they would be equipped with nice gas masks, hobnailed boots, nine-pound rifles and about .50 pounds of other equipment and told to go to it.

"They would have a special incentive for fighting," pointed out the prince, "because they would be fighting solely for their country. I have taken special pains to make it plain that all these patriots shall be required to remain buck privates on active duty until the war is over."

Prince Holm first drafted his peace plan several years ago, but he kept on remembering personages who ought to be included in it and revised it seven times since. Once he had to revise because he had forgotten that, suppose the head of the state should be a woman, what would her consort be required to do? The answer to this was simple—"go to the trenches"—but such a neglected flaw as it threatened to be has ruined many a peace plan. The prince wrote it in.

Foresees Excuses

He has also provided in a generous way for all female relatives of officials involved in declaring a war. If more than 16 years old, they go to the front as nurses, or, if untrained, as servants. He has also attempted to foresee any excuses a congressman might offer to dodge the shock troops. Suppose the congressman says that he prefers sea service, having loved the sea since a boy.

"Very well," says Prince Holm, or his representative, "you will be given a post on a submarine, where you can be close to the war until the last shot is fired."

"Personally," he said, "I am no pacifist, but I know how to put a stop to war."

Hays County Wool Crop Will Approach $500,000

SAN MARCOS, Texas, Oct. 25. (AP)—Hays county's wool and mohair clip for 1929 will approach $500,000, it has been estimated. The fall clip of mohair alone was expected to approximate $75,000 in value.

The local company is incorporated for $20,000, according to the information received, with Ned Lydick of Fort Worth, J. M. Hooks of Abilene, and W. L. Roper of this city as incorporators. Mr. Lydick is the president of the concern, while Mr. Hooks is manager of the Abilene branch. Mr. Roper has been associated with the business here during the past two years, but heretofore has not been a stockholder.

All present shop and warehouse equipment is new, it was said. Mr. Roper is manager of the company's business here.

Quiet rumination on the hows and whys and wherefores of the passage of millions of persons every day through the doors of motion picture houses in this country inevitably makes one conscious of peculiar quirks of public behavior and the film industry's acceptance of the effects thereof.

During the silent film's infancy,—further than that, through its youth—people went to "the movies." The novelty of photographs which moved as living persons far outweighed any recognition given by the public generally to individual performers. Such stars as Mary Pickford and John Bunny and Mary Fuller became well known; but it was "the movies" which primarily drew customers to the box office.

There followed a rapid development of star-aggrandizement—in the period immediately after the war, when all classes lavished comparatively easy money to satisfy an abnormal appetite for entertainment. Film roles for established stars made those actors and actresses as prominent in the plays given as their salaries were above those of any other industry. A motion picture play became a solo proposition, attended by that small percentage of patrons who discriminate because of the star's appeal.

That condition changed a few years ago. Not one, but several stars, became required feature in casting film plays. Which had the tendency to minimize the identification of a production as the exhibition of some particular individual, and to draw more attention to the play itself. The latter process has been materially handicapped, incidentally by the practice of hanging "catchy" names on plays with the thought of baiting prospective patrons.

And then came the talkies—another innovation, and a renewal of the tendency to "go to the talkies" rather than going to see so and so in such-and-such. The public which has rushed in to see and hear a "talkie" and rushed out to complain loudly about the plot, subject matter, etc., has had quite as much as the producer to do with the very weedy crop of plays produced in the new field during its first two years of cultivation. Curiosity to catch this new type of film in action has overcome discrimination in the matter of plays. As a result of which, the film industry has rushed out a hodge-podge mass of productions at top speed, willing to see the huge investment in sound equipment returned in as short a time as possible through exhibitors' box-offices.

Not the whole crop has been grown hastily, nor has it all been weedy. Numerous choice productions given through the talking-films have been carefully prepared, painstakingly photographed and recorded, and commendably projected in the theater. Yet many of the patrons who recognized the excellence of such performances and the inferiority of others, march blandly down on Tuesdays and on Saturdays to see plays of the latter class, to go away bemoaning the shoddy story and general shabbiness of the productions—all-forgetful of their privilege of looking before leaping.

One of the questions which will never be settled this side of the river Styx is whether commercial entertainment creates predominating public taste or adapts itself to it. Regardless of which way that cycle revolves, the American public should be able to improve the situation in some measure by applying to theater programs something of the leave-or-take practice so well perfected in our patronage of cafeterias.

Which may be followed by stating boldly that Dick Barthelmess' "Drag" now at the Majestic, will be found as healthy and dependable as spinach, but much more appetizing. One may as well drop all pretenses and admit that Richard is downright appealing. Especially against the background of excellently portrayed "in-laws" of very sniffy natures. The theme song is heard only three times—and that in three different settings. It is strong enough to stand alone.

Special features of the day sessions included educational and inspirational talks by Miss Lela Taylor, secretary of the United Christian Missionary societies, who is specializing in the Foreign Missions department, and Charles M. Ross of Fort Worth, religious educational director of Christian churches there.

The feature of the banquet was the young people's program, which was presented by the delegates of the conference.

The principal speaker of the evening was Rev. Everiste Herbert of Jennings, La., who is a special worker among the French, American speaking people in that state. Other speakers on the program included T. T. Roberts, president of Randolph college at Cisco, and Mrs. Bertha McMaster of Fort Worth.

Bohmfalk, director of religious education, officiating. Interment was in Riverside under the direction of the Dalton-Powell Funeral home.

Clement, both of Pine Bluff, Ark.; one brother, Scott Winters of Pine Bluff, and three sisters-in-law, Mrs. E. G. Pease of Wichita Falls; Mrs. E. S. Foster of Dougherty, Texas, and Mrs. J. P. Attorney Asks New Trial After Jury Verdict Bars Dog Hospital

Describing the court's action in handling the jury Thursday as "astounding" and equivalent to an instructed verdict, B. Y. Cummins, defense attorney, Friday morning filed a motion for a new trial in an injunction proceeding brought against the operation of a veterinary hospital operated at 1405 Lamar street by Dr. Fred Gross.

The injunction was granted Friday afternoon by an order from Judge Vincent Stine, sitting for Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court, after a trial jury had held the hospital a nuisance. The petition was presented by Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Baulknight, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Cato, and Mrs. A. A. Thom, neighboring property owners.

The motion took especial exception to the court's alleged instructions to "answer every issue you can."

The filing of the motion temporarily stops the enforcement of the injunction. During the pendency of the appeal the law requires the posting of a bond by the defendants, attorneys explained. E. W. Napier, representing the plaintiffs, announced Friday afternoon that the motion would probably be argued Saturday morning and that the plaintiffs would ask for a $5,000 bond.

BAND PRAISED

Sheppard and Williams Commend Army Musicians

Commendation of the United States Army band which is to give two concerts here next Tuesday, Oct. 29, is contained in messages received by H. C. Cheshire, local booking agent, from Morris Sheppard and Guinn Williams, who represent this section of Texas in the senate and house of representatives, respectively, at Washington, D. C.

Aside from a short period allowed annually for a concert tour, the army band remains on duty regularly in the national capitol, where it is in almost constant use in connection with military maneuvers, state occasions, receptions for foreign delegations, and other events in Washington's crowded calendar of activities.

Eddie Nash, negro, indicted Wednesday on charges of child desertion, was arrested by members of the sheriff's department Friday and lodged in the Wichita county jail in lieu of $500 bond. I Am Just a Vagabond Dollar
I go bumming around from place to place. No ambitions, no aims. I earn nothing. I don't produce or accomplish anything worth while. When I am used, it is only for trifles that do not add anything to anybody's comfort or happiness. It is pretty much of a handout. Like other tramps, I only lead many well-meaning folks into careless, shiftless habits.
I am the dollar that could be, but isn't saved.
