Nixon Sends Ace Envoy To Talks

Diplomats Say Gap Narrows

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Diplomats at the United Nations say there are indications that the Soviet Union and the United States have moved closer together on how to settle the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Diplomatic sources said Wednesday that both countries recently made proposals indicating they had softened their requirements for a Middle East peace settlement.

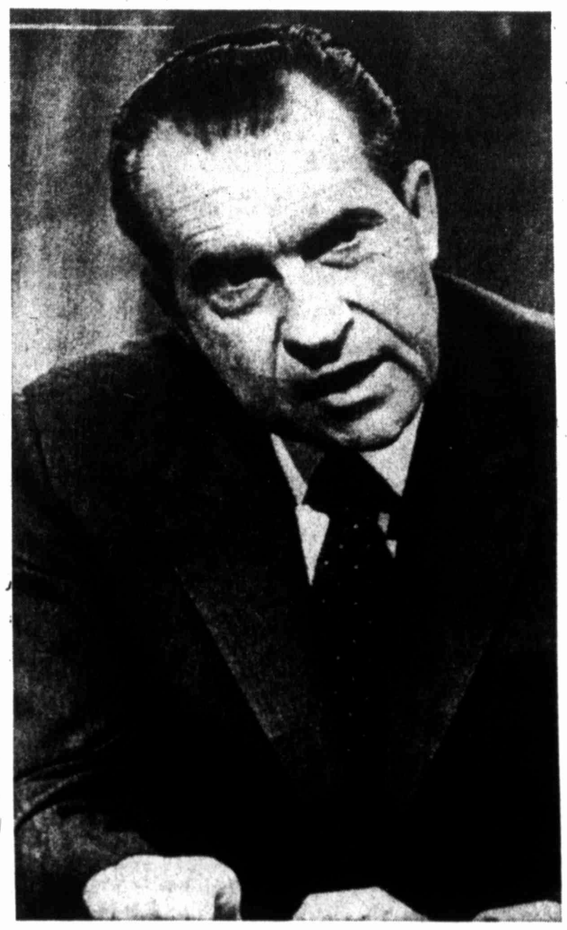

The sources said the Russians now propose formal Arab "commitments to peace" becoming effective following the first phase of Israeli withdrawal from the Arab territories occupied in the June 1967 war.

The U.S. proposal calls on Israel to settle for permanent boundaries that would be the same "in principle" as the prewar Arab-Israeli lines, the sources said.

The Arabs have been insisting on complete Israeli withdrawal from the occupied territories, and the Israelis have been demanding direct negotiations based on Arab recognition of Israel as a state.

Western and Soviet diplomats have been trying to reach an acceptable compromise at the Big Four talks in New York and at U.S.-Soviet talks in Washington.

Th talks in both cities center on the resolution approved by the U.N. Security Council on Nov. 22, 1967, which calls for settlement of the 1967 war with a "just and lasting peace" based on Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab territories and Arab acknowledgement of Israeli sovereignty within recognized boundaries.

PRESIDENT STRESSES POLICY
Nixon sees no signals from Hanoi

Devotes Time To Indochina

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Nixon has strongly defended the Cambodia operation while naming a new U.S. negotiator to the long-stalled Paris talks on ending the Vietnam war.

David K.E. Bruce—"one of America's most distinguished diplomats," Nixon said in an hour television-radio interview Wednesday night—will take over the post vacated by Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. last December.

Without disclosing any new peace formula, Nixon said Bruce "will be in a position with his new instructions to tell the opposition. . .that we are willing to see whether we can narrow the gap between their position and ours."

Bruce, 72, a Maryland native and lifelong Democrat, has served under five presidents including ambassadorships to France, Germany and Great Britain. He will go to Paris by the first of August.

PRIME TARGET

Indochina was the prime topic and the Mideast secondary as Nixon underwent a quizzing from three network panelists in his first public appearance since the June 30 pull-out of U.S. ground forces from Cambodia.

On the Mideast, Nixon portrayed the Arab-Israeli conflict as potentially more dangerous than Southeast Asia because it has the possibility of a big war with the Soviets and Americans on opposite sides. He said the United States would not allow the military balance to shift against Israel.

But it was on his controversial decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia April 30 that Nixon waged his most vigorous defense — and quickly started drawing a rebuttal from congressional critics.

With a swipe at the Senate's Tuesday vote to bar the President from sending U.S. forces back into Cambodia, he declared:

DO IT AGAIN

"As commander-in-chief, I had no choice but to act to defend those men (the Americans in neighboring South Vietnam).

"If I am faced with that decision again, I will exercise that power to defend those men. It will be done."

Nixon rated the two-month U.S. foray against enemy sanctuary areas inside the Cambodian border as "the most decisive action in terms of damaging the enemy's ability to wage effective warfare that has occurred in this war to date."

He also said "Cambodia's chances of surviving as a neutral country are infinitely better now than they were on April 30."

Nixon refused to say point-blank that he would never order GIs back into Cambodia—"when you say can I be pinned down to say that under no circumstances would the United States ever do anything, I would not say that," he told one questioner.

WON'T BE NECESSARY

But he stated "we do not plan on it, and under the circumstances, I believe that the success of the operation which we

MESSAGE AT GLANCE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The President's conversation with TV-Radio newsmen Wednesday night at a glance:

Paris peace talks—The President is naming veteran diplomat David K. E. Bruce as chief negotiator for the United States. Nixon said he will meet July 4 with Bruce and foreign policy adviser Henry A. Kissinger at the Western White House to discuss the talks.

Hanoi—Nixon has had no signals from Hanoi that "their position of intransigence has changed."

Cambodia — The President has no plans to send ground troops into Cambodia again. But he will not be "pinned down" to say that under no circumstances would the United States "ever do anything."

Air strikes — If American reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam are shot at, American air power will be used "against North Vietnam sites that attack our planes."

Undeclared war — The President is convinced he has the right, as commander-in-chief, to protect American men despite the absence of declared war.

Middle East — The conflict there is potentially more dangerous than the Indochina War because it involves risk of confrontation between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Offices Closing Friday For 4th

Fourth of July celebrations will begin Friday for many Howard County residents with the closing of most federal, state, county and city offices.

Offices in City Hall and the courthouse, except for the sheriff's office will be closed. Most Webb AFB personnel will observe a holiday Friday.

The banks will be open Friday, and the post office will provide window service from 8:30 a.m. to noon. Mail will be delivered Friday on city and rural routes; however, there will be no delivery Saturday except in lock boxes and special delivery service.

"We will be at full strength during the July 4th holiday, and as many men as possible will be out in the cars patrolling the highways," Sheriff A. N. Standard said. Office secretaries will be off Friday.

Chief Jay Banks said city police will be out in full force, but he does not anticipate the use of additional men. There will be special details organized for the Let Freedom Ring program and the fireworks display.

North Viets Are Pursued

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 104 Americans were killed in action in Indochina last week, eight more died in a North Vietnamese attack early today, four American aircraft were lost over Laos this week, and nine of their crewmen are missing.

The South Vietnamese command reported meanwhile that a large force of government regulars and militiamen chopped up a North Vietnamese battalion on the coast 25 miles southeast of the demilitarized zone and killed 58 of the enemy. It was the biggest battle in that sector in more than a year.

The weekly casualty summary said 802 Americans were wounded in the June 21-27 period, while South Vietnamese casualties were 307 killed, 1,607 wounded and six missing. The two allied commands reported 1,484 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed last week.

The American casualties included 34 killed in the last full week of U.S. ground operations in Cambodia. The totals were about 25 per cent above the previous week's, when 80 Americans were killed and 643 wounded.

CUMULATIVE FIGURES

The summary brought total U.S. combat casualties reported in the war to 42,858 killed and 281,503 wounded. Reported enemy casualties now total 653,675 killed.

The North Vietnamese attacked with satchel charges and small arms, and 15 of them were reported slain as artillery and helicopter gunships responded to the paratroopers' call for help.

A U.S. artillery base a mile and a half away was pounded repeatedly with mortar fire, but only light casualties resulted and three members of an enemy mortar crew were killed by the gunships, the command said.

The American aircraft lost in Laos included: —A Navy A7 Crusader jet crashed Monday in the Panhandle, cause not known, pilot missing.

—An Air Force F4 Phantom jet apparently crashed Tuesday on a mission over the Plain of Jars, in north central Laos, both crewmen missing.

—An Air Force OV10 Bronco spotter plane shot down over the Ho Chi Minh trail in the southern Panhandle, one crewman rescued, one missing.

McCormack Testifies

NEW YORK (AP) — House Speaker John W. McCormack took the stand today in the influence-peddling trial of his suspended chief aide and denied knowing that a lobbyist was using his office extensively for personal business.

McCormack, 78, was sworn as the government's last witness in the trial of Dr. Martin Sweig, his aide, who was charged with lawyer-lobbyist Nathan Voloshen of using the speaker's office to defraud the government and lying about their activities to a federal grand jury.

Voloshen, 72, pleaded guilty to the two counts before the start of trial in U.S. District Court.

The federal courtroom hushed as McCormack, D-Mass., who plans to retire after 42 years in the House, entered.

On the stand, McCormack described his acquaintance with Voloshen, dating their friendship 20 years.

"Did it come to your attention that he was using your district office extensively?" asked U.S Attorney Whitney North Seymour Jr.

"No," said McCormack.

Heath Outlines British Policies

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath's two-week-old Conservative government unveiled the broad outlines of its legislative program today, promising tax cuts and strike curbs at home and a vigorous foreign policy abroad.

Queen Elizabeth II outlined the Tory legislative package in her traditional speech from the throne at the glittering ceremonial opening of Britain's 47th Parliament. Most of it came out of the Conservative platform in the June 16 general election which returned them to office after six years in opposition.

Beginning with foreign affairs, the queen gave the government's usual pledge to strengthen the North Atlantic alliance, welcomed the talks that began Tuesday on Britain's latest bid to join the European Common Market and said Heath's government "will cooperate with our Commonwealth friends in measures aimed at maintaining peace and strengthen the North Atlantic stability in Commonwealth countries in Southeast Asia."

This referred to Heath's promise to reverse the Labor government's plans to withdraw British troops from east of Suez by the end of next year.

The queen also announced that the Tory government will make another attempt to reach a settlement with the white-minority government in the breakaway African colony of Rhodesia. But she said a settlement would have to be in accord with the "five principles" providing for progress toward majority rule in Rhodesia.

Turning to domestic affairs, the queen said the government's "first concern will be to strengthen the economy and curb inflation."

WATCH FOR PHONY COLLECTORS

Individuals representing themselves to be connected with the Salvation Army have been collecting money and gathering bags of clothing left out for SA trucks, Lt. Joseph Saint, in charge of the corps here, said today.

Lt. Saint said that the Salvation Army does not collect money from individuals except for War Cry sales. He asked people not to give unless the solicitor is in Salvation Army uniform and otherwise plainly identifiable, or to permit pickup of gifts of clothing unless the Salvation Army truck is present.

LOSES PIECE OF THE MOON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Nicholas M. Short of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has lost a piece of the moon.

Short discovered a week ago the tiny fragment, weighing one-fiftieth of an ounce, was missing from a safe at the Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, Md.

He said Wednesday it is only about two-thirds the size of a garden pea and was stored in a vial.

"With good luck, I still feel it will be discovered," Short said.

Short said the Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, sent the material from Apollo 11, the first manned mission to the moon, to Goddard last December.

Short's mission was to look for shock effects from meteorite impact. He found none. So far, he hasn't found the sample either.

Israelis Hit Suez Targets

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli planes attacked SAM2 antiaircraft missile batteries at the southern end of the Suez Canal today and other targets along the waterway, the Israeli military command announced.

A spokesman said the planes also raided "war targets" along the northern coasts of the Gulf of Suez.

All planes returned safely, he reported, but he gave no indication of what hits they scored.

One of the chief purposes of the daily Israeli raids across the canal has been to knock out the SAM2 launching sites which the Russians have been establishing along the canal for the Egyptians. The Israeli command admitted earlier this week that SAM2s brought down two Israeli planes on Tuesday.

On Israel's eastern frontier, Arab gunners in Jordan fired rockets at two settlements in th Jordan Valley but caused no casualties, the command in Tel Aviv said. A spokesman said the fire was returned.

HONOR AMERICA

Flags, Fireworks, Soul Food Are Holiday Ingredients

By The Associated Press

Flags, fireworks and soul food are some of the ingredients that will go into Honor America Day activities designed to show love of country on this July 4.

"There will be no banners, no signs, just flags," says Robert E. Cole Jr., Honor America Day parade chairman in Waikiki. He described this Saturday's parade as simply a "flag carrying" march.

Negro leaders in Milwaukee have planned three days of soul food picnics, gospel singing and dances to honor blacks who have died in war. The activities will end July 4 with a parade to honor Crispus Attucks, a black patriot killed in the Boston Massacre prior to the Revolutionary War.

In Virginia, nearly 400 Boy Scouts are participating in a four-day marathon to carry an American flag mounted on a baton from Williamsburg to Washington, where they will arrive for the Honor America observances.

July 4 marks the 194th anniversary of America's birth as a nation, celebrating that day in 1776 when the Continental Congress adopted the Declaration of Independence.

This year Honor America Day activities that are centered in the nation's capital will be added to traditional Independence Day events.

The demonstration designed to show love of country is led by evangelist Billy Graham and entertainer Bob Hope.

The Washington, D.C., project will feature memorial and patriotic services at the Lincoln Memorial and a stage show ending in a fireworks display.

In Perry, Iowa, Independence Day will be celebrated July 3 so the Honor America festivities won't conflict with them, a local civic leader says.

Actor Howard Keel will read from the Declaration of Independence in Philadelphia's Independence Hall, the nation's birthplace.

Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston has ordered the ringing of bells in Roman Catholic churches to coincide with the Washington activities.

And in the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif., wives and families of servicemen missing or captured in Vietnam will be honored prior to a fireworks display.

Russians See No New Approach

MOSCOW (AP) — The first Soviet report on President Nixon's television interview said today he failed to offer any new approach to the stalemated Vietnam peace talks in Paris.

The official Tass news agency reported the appointment of veteran diplomat David K. E. Bruce as chief U.S. negotiator in Paris but added that Nixon's television statements showed he maintained his old position on the talks.

Tass also showed Soviet dissatisfaction with Nixon's comments on the situation in the Middle East. It said he acknowledged a dangerous situation there "but on the pretext of observing the notorious balance of forces in the Middle East, he went on record for such a situation in which military superiority would be on the side of the Israeli aggressors."

Marijuana Charges Filed On Four Big Springers

DET. AVERY FALKNER displays a cache of what has been tentatively identified as marijuana allegedly recovered at the time of the arrests of four local young people this morning.

Patience paid off for local police this morning when officers arrested three young men and a young woman for possession of marijuana in a secluded area north of the juncture of Avondale and Chevy Chase.

Det. Avery Falkner and Patrolman Gerald Harrison arrested Donna Anderson, 19, 1211 Lloyd, Bruce Bright, 18, 1606 Scurry, Lloyd Nichols, 23, 431 Hillside, and Charles Thomas 18, 3301 Auburn at 9 a.m. as their car was parked on a dirt road leading from the Avondale-Chevy Chase intersection. One of the young men reportedly attempted to take the marijuana from a spot nearby.

The four were formally charged with possession of marijuana in 118th District Court. Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter set bond at $25,000 each for Nichols and Miss Anderson and $15,000 each for Bright and Thomas.

Falkner and Capt. Stanley Bogard said four paper sacks allegedly containing approximately four pounds of marijuana were recovered at the time of the arrests.

Chief of Police Jay Banks did not reveal the details of the case but said the arrests resulted from a week-long investigation employing surveillance. He called it "part of the continuing investigation to control narcotics in Big Spring."

The sacks will now be sent to Department of Public Safety laboratories for positive identification of their contents, Banks said. They will also be inspected for fingerprints.

CALL TO COLORS — John Green will provide the bugler's Call to Colors announcing the arrival of the Webb AFB color guard during the Let Freedom Ring pageant Saturday, July 4th, at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Plaza.

All Systems Are Go For Let Freedom Ring Program

Two days away from showtime, the Let Freedom Ring crew has things falling neatly into place.

Costumes are ready except for the buckskin outfit Sheriff A. N. Standard will wear. How do you dry-clean buckskin?

The Collegian Choir from College Baptist Church has been polishing up their songs, including "Let Freedom Ring" written by Mrs. Mamie Lee Dodds. They already have their red, white, and blue outfits.

The Gold Star Mothers will also take part in the program, wearing colorful variations of the cloth caps and full skirts of the Revolutionary era.

The bugler, fifers, and drummer have their parts worked out, and the Key Club members will wheel their bell into the proper position Saturday.

The members of the Noncommissioned Officers Association at Webb have built a scene to be occupied by Betsy Ross and her flag. The next problem is moving it from Webb to the War Memorial Plaza on the Courthouse grounds.

Big Spring High School band members will help provide the music, and a Webb Color Guard is to march to the courthouse with the flag.

The Declaration of Independence will be read by Jim Baum of KBYG, and everyone will join in singing the "Star Spangled Banner" at the close of the show, just before the bells start to ring all over the city.

The whole show will be from 8 to 8:30 Saturday evening.

A fireworks display is scheduled for 9:30 the same night, hopefully early enough that the younger kids will not have to be home in bed and late enough that a lingering sunset won't spoil the show.

have undertaken, as well as what the South Vietnamese will be able to do, will make it unnecessary."

The televised discussion hour was into its 53rd minute before it turned to the Middle East, at Nixon's initiative.

"I think the Middle East now is terribly dangerous, like the Balkans before World War I, where the two super powers, the United States and the Soviet Union, could be drawn into a confrontation that neither of them wants because of the differences there," he said.

He said this makes the Mideast situation more of a threat than Vietnam, because neither Red China nor the Soviet Union want the United States there.

Because the Arabs "want to drive Israel into the sea," Nixon said, once the balance of power shifts against Israel there will be a war. So it is in the American interest to maintain the power balance and he pledged a continued U.S. effort for peace there.

Nixon was questioned by network newsman Eric Sevareid of CBS, John Chancellor of NBC and Howard K. Smith of ABC in what was a first-of-its-kind performance.

President John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson held TV-radio panel interviews. But those were filmed in advance and edited for public consumption.

Flag-In-Ad Case Filed

DALLAS (AP) — After having filed a complaint against a major Dallas bank for using the American flag in its advertising, John Albach says the "conservative establishment" may be getting some of its own medicine.

"I would be lying if I didn't say that this action is in some respects a response to the Gary Allen Deeds conviction," said the 21-year-old Tufts University pre-law student.

Deeds was recently convicted by a Dallas jury for burning an American flag. He was given a four-year prison term.

Special Envoy Only Man To Serve Three Key Posts

NEW YORK (AP) — David K.E. Bruce, President Nixon's choice as the new chief negotiator at the Paris peace talks, is the only man ever to have served in this country's three leading embassies in Western Europe.

Bruce, 72, was America's senior ambassador when he retired in March, 1968, after eight years as U.S. ambassador to Great Britain — the longest anyone has held that post.

President Kennedy had named him to the London assignment and President Johnson kept him there. Before that he had served as ambassador to France under President Truman and ambassador to West Germany under President Eisenhower.

More than a year ago Nixon commented that he and his four immediate predecessors in the White House had disagreed on many things but "agreed that David Bruce was a giant."

Other admirers have termed him "the most professional of nonprofessional diplomats." And the London Sunday Times called him "a most skilled practitioner of diplomacy, a shrewd and intelligent observer of men and affairs."

UF Budget Group Preparing Report

The United Fund Budget Committee met Wednesday evening to prepare their annual report and recommendations.

A meeting of the UF Board of Trustees has been called for 5:15 p.m. Tuesday, July 14, when the report will be presented for the approval of the trustees.

The budget committee report will suggest allotments for each of the 14 agencies represented during the budget hearings and will project a goal for the funding drive.

The board of trustees is to make the final decision on the budgets for the community service agencies and then finalize the fund raising goal at the July 14 meeting.

"THE PERFECT AMBASSADOR" — When David K. E. Bruce, named by President Nixon Wednesday as peace negotiator with the North Vietnamese in Paris, was ambassador to the Court of St. James' from 1961 to 1968, London newspapers labeled him "the perfect ambassador." He is shown boarding a ceremonial coach for the trip to present his credentials to the Queen in March of 1961. At left is Sir Guy Salisbury-Jones, Marshal of the British diplomatic corps.

Sheriff's Posse Continues Winning Ways In Pecos

Twenty riders of the Howard County Sheriff's Posse rode in the Pecos-Reeves County Rodeo parade Wednesday bringing home a second place trophy.

Riders from Eddy County (Carlsbad, N.M.) edged out the Big Spring Sheriff's Posse to win first place.

Another area riding club, the Martin County Sheriff's Posse, took third place.

At least 20 floats, and two trail riding groups, one from Alpine and the other from Andrews took part.

The group from Alpine totalled 105 and rode four days arriving just in time for the parade. Some reportedly fell by the wayside, but most made it. Torrents of rain for two days hampered the trail ride. Andrews riders were on the trail for three days.

After a barbecue in the Reeves County Sheriff's Posse clubhouse, the Howard County riders returned home Wednesday night.

The Pecos prize gives the riders their 11th trophy in 11 showings this year. Five first place trophies top the list.

Schedule for the sheriff's posse include rides in Snyder, July 15, Lamesa, July 16, and a play day July 25 at the posse arena on the Andrews Highway.

Golden Tornado Jubilee Draws Lamesans Home

By GORDON ZEIGLER

LAMESA — Many left Lamesa and went on to claim success in other parts of the world.

Lots of folks stayed to see their future through in their home town.

But they will all be in Lamesa this weekend for the big Golden Tornado Jubilee for all former students of Lamesa High School.

One notable graduate gained Texas political acclaim above all the rest.

Texas Gov. Preston Smith, graduate of the class of 1930, is expected and will be an honored guest along with his wife at the Golden Tornado Extravaganza Saturday.

Some are coming from points across the globe.

Jackie Carrol for instance, student from 1946-48 is bringing his wife, Diana, and two children all the way from Kuwait where he works with an oil company.

Attempts to advertize the Jubilee began when bumper stickers were sent to exes throughout the nation.

Ray Renner, Jubilee chairman, said one of the tags was spotted on a car with California license plates last week.

Jubilee at Lamesa only happens once every five years. The 1965 event drew home 5,000 exes, according to Renner. This year's reunion may be even bigger.

Daylight hours Friday will be devoted to registering the exes in the new cafeteria at Lamesa High School.

A band concert comprised of current bandsmen and exes kicks off festivities at 7 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Sam Knepley directs the event.

Dancing fills first night activities. From 8 to 10:20 p.m free dances get underway at three locations. For teenagers a group called Pleasure plays at the First Presbyterian Church fellowship hall. Graduates of the last ten years meet in North Elementary Cafeteria to hear Fantasia. Older exes will hear a dance band led by Knepley in the student center and cafeteria at Lamesa High.

Registration again Saturday morning precedes individual class reunions beginning at 10:30 a.m.

In the afternoon several special reunions get underway including reunions of the former faculty, annual staffs, athletes, band exes, cheerleaders, choirs and agricultural students. These meeting are from 2:30-3:30 p.m.

One of the big events will be a reception Saturday from 3:30-5:30 p.m. in the student center. For supper Saturday, Lamesa Optimists will serve barbecue to the reunion members. The Golden Tornado Extravaganza, a musical program, gets underway from 8:30-10 p.m.

Gov. Preston Smith and his wife are honorees at the event. Jerry Teaff, television newsman for WFAA in Dallas, class of 1958, will emcee the Extravaganza.

Sunday morning at 8 a.m., reunion plans wind up with a memorial service in Tornado Stadium. T. Larry Marshall, class of '59, minister of the North 14th St. Church of Christ will lead the service.

Other activities built around the gathering include parties, receptions and dances. Tenagers will be treated to free swimming, free dancing, and a "Little Masters" tournament at the country club.

Lamesa High Student Council will supply concessions for the activities and entertainment for the young people.

Renner said guests had already started arriving. Most exes should be fairly recognizable with their bright bumper stickers.

City Crews Begin New Landfill Site

City crews have begun preparation of a new 30.65 acre sanitary landfill site a mile and a quarter east of FM 700 on the Eleventh Place extension, Acting Public Works Director Bo Anderson said this morning.

The site is leased from Mollie O. Crawford for $100 per year, Anderson said.

The old landfill was exhausted before the end of June and the city commission authorized Anderson to seek another site.

Plan Warehouse

Creative People Make Dandy Use Of Dreams

NEW YORK (AP) — Our dreams do not flash by in an instant—they can take as long to occur as the event would while awake.

A tired man does not sleep like a log—the brain can be as active during sleep as when we are awake.

Dreams reflect our personalities. And creative people can, and do, make actual use of their dreams.

These are some of the things behavioral scientists have learned lately in their research on dreams, research that counters old myths.

A review of the research is made in a June special issue of the social science magazine Psychology Today, which says more has been learned in the last 15 years about sleep and dreams than ever before.

SERVE AS MIRRORS

"Most researchers now agree that mental activity occurs continuously throughout sleep," the publication said. However, there are periods during sleep, four to six times a night for most people, when most dreaming takes place.

These periods, called "REM periods" for "rapid eye movements" occur at intervals of about 90 minutes, with the first one about an hour or so after going to sleep. It lasts from 5 to 10 minutes. Later periods last up to 25 minutes.

Dr. Robert L. Van de Castle, director of the Sleep and Dream Laboratory at the University of Virginia Medical School, said a study of 2,000 men and 2,000 women showed that dreams "serve as mirrors of the self, offering fascinatinv looks at the structure of the psyche."

FRIENDLY FEMS

"Women," he said, "frequently dream about being indoors and in familiar settings. People are more nervous in women's dreams. They are generally known to the dreamer, and their faces and clothing are carefully described.

"Women are more friendly toward men than toward other women in their dreams, but they report very few overt sex dreams. When a woman does acknowledge sexual involvement, it is almost always with a man she knows."

Men's dreams are more adventurous and feature more physical activities, the magazine reported. Half of all their aggressive encounters involve physical violence. The aggression is acted out most often on men the dreamer does not know.

"Men appear to be greatly preoccupied with other men," the journal said. "Male characters more than two to one in men's dreams. Vocational interests are more apparent, as other men are often identified by their occupational roles, and success-and-failure themes are more common."

MUSIC MAKERS

Dr. Stanley Krippner, director of the William C. Menniger Dream Laboratory of the Maimonides Medical Center in New York, said, "Recent studies indicate that dreaming and the creative processes are related."

Researchers, Krippner said, found a definite correlation between imagination in dreams and creativity test scores. One study of 105 college students, he said, showed that art students remembered their dreams more often than science and engineering students.

Krippner said Robert Louis Stevenson discovered he could dream complete stories and even go back to them on succeeding nights to change an unsatisfactory ending.

"Mozart, Schumann and Saint-Saens claimed they first heard some of their music in dreams," the journal said. "Writers Goethe, Blake, Cowper, Poe, Voltaire, Dante, Shelly, Heine, Tolstoy and Coleridge also used dream material in their poetry and prose."

Four 'Orphans' Up For Adoption

Mrs. L. E. Landrum, 242-B Langley, has four "babies" up for adoption.

In her case, the babies are tiny rabbits, which she is having to bottle feed.

While the Landrums were on vacation, a mama rabbit must have got into the back yard and used it as the birthplace for four tiny hares. Something happened to the mama or frightened her away, leaving the orphans on Mrs. Landrum's hands. That might be all right, but the Landrums have a couple of dogs — and dogs and hares don't exactly mix. Thus, anyone wanting a rabbit has only to call the Landrums.

Poverty War Organizer Cleared, Regains Her Job

DALLAS (AP) — Mrs. Ruth Jefferson, the controversial War on Poverty organizer accused of trying to get welfare food recipients to join a rent strike against the Dallas Housing Authority, has been cleared after investigation and is returning to her old job.

Mrs. Jefferson was transferred from West Dallas to the South Dallas center after being charged with intimidating and harassing recipients.

Attorney Phil Burleson, who made an investigation, found there was "no substantial and material evidence that Mrs. Ruth Jefferson intimidated or harassed any federal food recipient. . seeking to cause the participation of any such recipient in the so-called rent strike."

Upon receiving Burleson's report, Bennett I. Miller, acting director of Dallas Community Action, announced he was satisfied and was notifying Mrs. Jefferson's supervisor that she can return to her former job.

The investigation was less satisfying to County Judge Lew Sterrett, who has long been critical of both Dallas Community Action and Mrs. Jefferson. He said he would ask the DCA board to fire Mrs. Jefferson at its next meeting.

Mice Wanted

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (AP) — Auditions for potential circus performers are being organized by an entertainment agency manager here, but only mice need apply.

Manager Robert Frost is seeking 50 new players for his 30 sq. ft. mouse circus.

He has more than 40 troupers at the moment but has "more-the-merrier" policy.

"Some of them just hop around a bit, and there's the occasional loafer," he said. "So it pays to have a lot."

Woman, Son Found Shot

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Neighbors called police after failing to see Helen Tyson or her small son around their home for 24 hours.

Officers broke into the house Wednesday night and found Mrs. Tyson, 25, dead in a bedroom with a pistol at her side.

County medical examiner Reuben Santos discovered her son John, 3, at first believed dead from a bullet wound in the head, was still alive. He died before dawn, however, after being taken to Bexar County Hospital.

Santos said the double shooting apparently occurred about 15 hours before the two were found.

Prior to the child's death he entered a verdict of attempted murder and suicide.

Sharp-Tongued Redhead Is Mr. French's Thorn

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mr. French has had things too much his own way on "Family Affair" and this fall he is going to find a nettlesome redhaired cleaning woman in his beard.

Nancy Walker, who will play a rather messy, busybody housekeeper, describes her function as "a thorn in Mr. French's side."

Mr. French, of course, is the very proper English major domo played by Sebastian Cabot in the long-running comedy series on CBS.

Miss Walker, who was once described as the funniest actress on Broadway when she starred in such shows as "Best Foot Forward," "On the Town" and "Do-Re-Mi," was persuaded to move to California to take the role.

She said she and her husband, David Craig, are buying a house here and will sell their New York apartment.

She said, "I got a look at the next script and I nearly fainted. I figured I'd have a few lines and I'd learn them later, but in it I never shut my mouth. They said they were going to involve me and they meant it.

"It's the most relaxed show in the world and I go in all tensed up. If I blow a line I'm ready to —but Charlie Barton, the director, says, ah, ah, take it easy. I'm a natural born worrier, just like Bert Lahr. Even when I know the lines I think I don't know them and can't say them."

This is Miss Walker's second round in Hollywood. In the 1940s she was in the MGM stable of stars. "Unfortunately, they just weren't oriented toward comedi-ennes," she said. "No one was writing for us and we were relegated to the friend of the friend parts.

Museum Located On Site Of Big Meteor's Impact

ODESSA (AP) — Vacationers looking for something different need not travel to Arizona's Barringer Crater this summer to find it.

Odessa has a meteor crater of its own.

The Odessa Meteorite Museum is located about 10 miles south of Odessa off U.S. 80—next to the site where tons of meteoric material slammed explosively into the earth 20,000 years ago.

The crater is 600 feet in diameter and was originally about 100 feet deep. Sand has seeped into the crater, however, and nearly filled it.

In the past 30 years, several scientific studies have been conducted at the crater site.

SHOWER OF METEORS

Two years ago a 10-man team from the U.S. Geological Survey made detailed geophysical studies of the crater and the surrounding area.

Scientists say the shower which struck this area was composed of many thousands of individual meteorites of various sizes which fell over a two-mile area.

Located within the main crater are a number of exploratory trenches dug from 1939 to 1941 when earlier scientific studies were being conducted.

Unearthed during the project were the fossilized remains of a prehistoric elephant.

A smaller crater is 17 feet deep and about 70 feet in diameter. Sand had completely filled the crater and it was not discovered until scientists used a magnetometer.

FIND NO MASS

Investigators said the crater was formed by a small group of meteors which hit the earth at such slow speed they failed to vaporize. An estimated six tons of meteors were found in the earth under the smaller crater.

Although a deep shaft was dug under the crater, no large meteoric mass has been located beneath it.

The impact of the meteor which struck near Odessa was of such force that it caused a massive upheaval of the rock. The limestone formation at the site usually lies 22 feet below the level of the plain, but the meteors shoved the surrounding ground up 50 feet above the original position.

The Odessa crater compares with some of the world's largest but is not as large as the Barringer Crater at Flagstaff, Ariz.

Pickets Block Building Jobs

HOUSTON (AP) — More construction jobs in the nine-county Sabine area were due to shut down today as 2,500 workers honored picket lines of sheet metal workers.

On strike are the 250 members of Metal Workers Local 196. More pickets were expected, said Dick Sibley, president of the Sabine Area Sheet Metal Contractors Association.

Also striking were 1,000 members of Houston Sheet Metal Workers Local 54, which covers 21 counties. However, that union was only keeping its men off the job and not picketing.

Separate negotiations for both unions broke down after contracts expired Tuesday.

More money and better working conditions are demanded. There are predictions the Houston area strike may last three to six weeks and the Sabine area strike could go two to three months.

Absence of pickets in the 21 counties represented by Houston Local 54 will allow other crafts to continue working. However, a long strike could close down some jobs if they reach a point where nothing can be done until the sheet metal workers finish.

Cool Air In Midwest

By The Associated Press

Cool air trickling into the Midwest today blunted a persistent heat wave in some northern areas but also triggered violent thunderstorms.

Wind gusts up to 75 miles an hour at Rice Lake, Wis., 60 miles north of Eau Claire, ripped down trees and power lines. At Eau Claire, gusts nearly as strong were accompanied by hail.

Tornadoes were sighted in central and south central Minnesota late Wednesday night. A funnel cloud also was spotted northeast of La Crosse, Wis.

Nearly an inch of rain soaked the northeastern Iowa community of New Hampton during a thunderstorm that also brought hail and gusty winds.

Temperatures were slightly cooler in the northern Midwest and Plains, but regions as far north as Chicago sweltered in overnight lows in the 80s. The mercury bounded into the high 90s Wednesday from the Central Plains to the Great Lakes and into the Southeast.

Showers and thunderstorms ranged across the Northeast in the predawn hours and occasionally produced heavy rain. Nearly 1½ inches drenched Harrisburg, Pa.

Rioter Pleads Guilty, Sentenced

CHICAGO (AP) — Jerry C. Rubin, convicted in February on federal charges of crossing state lines to incite riot, has pleaded guilty to state charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest and been sentenced to jail.

Rubin was given a 60-day sentence and fined $2,000 Wednesday after he entered the plea in Circuit Court. Both the state and federal charges stemmed from disorders at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

Judge Minor K. Wilson ruled that Rubin could serve the first 30 days of the new sentence concurrently with a disorderly conduct sentence he began serving last week in Alexandria, Va.

Rubin and four others were sentenced to five years in prison and fined $5,000 each on the federal charges. They were freed on bond pending appeal.

Women Fliers Ready For Race

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — What prompts a woman to lock herself in the cockpit of a small plane and fly nearly 3,000 miles across country?

Whatever it is, over 100 women are responding to the lure of transcontinental flying in the 24th annual Powder Puff Derby, starting at 10 a.m. Friday from the Monterey Peninsula Airport.

The destination in the longest and oldest air race for women is Bristol, Pa.

The women have up to four days to complete the race, although some planes can make it in two days or less. They fly only in daylight, using no instruments.

The fliers are competing for a prize of $2,000 for first place, $1,500 for second, and $1,000 for third, plus a variety of other prizes including cash, flying equipment, jewelry and luggage.

Head-On Crash Kills Drivers

FORT WORTH (AP) — Both drivers were killed as two cars collided in suburban Benbrook shortly before 1 a.m. today.

Officers said the head-on crash killed Kenneth Edwards, 20, of Benbrook and another man who was not identified at once.

A Devotion For Today . . . .

"Be strong and of good courage." (Deuteronomy 31:6, RSV)

PRAYER: O God, we pray for the courage to face our hard places, believing that You will be with us to sustain us. Open to us new areas of experience and discovery. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Financing Hospital Needs

The program of federal grants to hospitals, known popularly as Hill-Burton funds, apparently will continue to be operative.

Both houses of Congress have voted to override President Nixon's veto of the measure (first such action in 10 years). The Senate even increased the authorization and then wrote in a requirement that the President spend the money.

Over the years, the Hill-Burton program has provided federal aid totaling $3.1 billion for 9,780 hospital projects in all parts of the nation. Texas has fared well in this program, and for each of the years prior to the 1970 fiscal year, had been allotted by over $17 million.

The State Department of Health, which administers the Hill-Burton program for Texas, had been expecting $11 or $12 million for each of the next two years.

Meanwhile it has right now applications for 60 hospital projects, totaling $143 million. Among these are a request for a million dollars from the Medical Center Memorial Hospital here, which wants to expand its facilities.

Even with all the money being made available by the congressional action, all hospital requests will not be met.

News dispatches assert that the Hill-Burton program is a popular one and advantageous politically, so that congressmen were ready to act on overriding the veto.

A simple fact is that the health facilities of the nation are not keeping up with the population's needs. It is a familiar story that small towns must have hospitals to keep doctors, that large towns need more bed space and more modern facilities. Providing all these has gone beyond local ability to pay.

Mr. Nixon had a different proposal than outright grants, but Congress was in no mood to make a change. Hospitals are a must, and they are expensive. These make up the heart of the proposition.

Every Little Bit Helps

Paychecks for wages and salaries beginning as of Wednesday should be a little fatter; well, at least the deducts won't be quite so large.

With out much fanfare and certainly with no mourning, the income tax surcharge expired as of Tuesday midnight.

In addition, personal income tax exemptions are now increased to $650 a year from $600, and the new low income allowance has gone into effect — all as a result of last year's Tax Reform Act.

Congress cut the surtax, imposed during the Johnson administration as war costs escalated, when it passed the Tax Reform Act last December. The charge originally was 10 per cent on top of other income tax but was reduced to the 5 per cent level in January.

Nationally, the tax changes mean another $9 billion in spending money for the public over the course of this year. Individually, it might not be much, but every little bits helps.

The Nixon administration apparently is of no mind to reinstate the surtax. In fact, the administration is part of an $18-billion loosening of the fiscal reins President Nixon and Congress have ordered in an effort to help the economy — various steps taken as unemployment has risen.

If the new tax-freed money contributes to more price rises, the average citizen may never know the difference. Hopefully, some economic brakes can be found to make the tax reduction realistic.

How To Run A Railroad

WASHINGTON — It's hard for the ordinary citizen to understand why a $7-billion corporation such as the Penn Central Railroad could declare bankruptcy.

But this isn't the first time it's happened. The Larchmont, Saginaw and Tallahassee Railroad had a similar experience, and perhaps people will be able to understand the Penn Central situation if I explain what happened to the LS&T.

As everyone knows, the Larchmont, Saginaw and Tallahassee railroad was one of the most profitable in the country. It specialized in bringing coals to New Castle, Penn.

IN EXCHANGE for this monopoly, the LS&T had agreed to haul commuters from the suburbs into the cities of Larchmont, Saginaw and Tallahassee. While this was not a lucrative business, it was the price LS&T had to pay for using government rights of way.

Some time back, an executive of LS&T suggested that the railroad get into another business just in case the day might come when nobody wanted coals in New Castle.

"What business?" the chairman of the board asked.

"Why don't we buy a chocolate cake mix company? It certainly complements the railroad business."

SO LS&T TOOK the profits from their railroad and, instead of investing in new equipment, bought a chocolate cake mix factory.

This was followed by the purchase of a latex bra company, which was followed by the takeover of a malpractice insurance company.

Every dollar the LS&T made from its railroading was poured into a new business venture. Before long LS&T was making greeting cards, building skyscrapers, drilling for oil and making a bid to buy the Panama Canal.

MEANWHILE, the LS&T's railroad was starting to suffer. Freight trains kept colliding with each other (the computers that used to keep them apart had been taken over by LS&T's book and magazine division), and cutbacks were made in passenger service.

When pressed by the passengers for better service, LS&T responded by raising commuter rates and locking all the washrooms on their passenger trains.

A CITIZEN'S committee called on the LS&T's offices which were now located in their 5,000-acre development known as Sky City. A vice president said! "I'll recommend we put lights back on the passenger trains during rush hour. It will be an expense, but it will show we have the public in mind."

Unfortunately, the vice president was overruled by the finance committee, and the passenger trains remained dark. Meanwhile, the major cash flow from bringing coals to New Castle started to dry up because so many customers were unhappy with LS&T's service. Without cash LS&T was in serious trouble.

SO THEY HIRED President Nixon's old law firm to get them a subsidy from the Defense Department. When the story broke, the Defense Department had to turn them down and LS&T Railroad is now in the hands of the receivers, but thanks to wise investments in other fields the LS&T Holding Co. (which had spun off the railroad when it realized it couldn't be drained any more) is now worth $25 billion.

Billy Graham

I am a teenager and I've heard you speak of prodigal sons and daughters. However, you don't mention prodigal mothers and fathers. My mother objects to my going to church, and would rather I learn to drink. How I wish I had good Christian parents! A.F.

Young people like you are the hope of our nation and the world. My parents were both devout Christians, and I don't know what I would have been if it hadn't been for their influence. But God has put His hand upon your for a purpose, and it is only by a miracle of His grace that you have found Him.

I predict that if you are true to your convictions that your parents will eventually come to Christ too. They may think that the start you have made is a youthful whim, and they may be testing you to see if your faith is real. But even so, you will not be parentless. The Bible says, "Come ye out from among them . . . saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing, and I will receive you, and will be a father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty." (II Cor. 6:17, 18).

Busy Mint

LONDON (AP) — The British mint produced 86,601 medals in 1969 along with its normal coinage.

Coinage was up, too, with the mint getting ready for the switch-over from old style coins to the new decimal system. The mint coined 164 million 50-pence coins 398 million 10-pence coins, 83 million five-pence coins, 83 million five-pence pieces, 394 million two-pence coins, 587 million one-pence coins and 391 half pence pieces.

In addition, it coined 92 million six-pence, 47 million three-pence and 219 million pennies under the current system.

The mint also produced 311 pieces for the Bahama Islands, British Honduras, Bahrain, Brunei, Ceylon, The Congo (Kinshasa), Gibraltar, Malawi, Switzerland and Vietnam.

'Over-The-Counter' Action

NEW YORK (AP) — Brokers who deal in over-the-counter securities have long felt that the establishment, meaning the big exchanges and their member firms, have disparaged them, if not openly then by suggestion.

Some even feel the very phrase "over-the-counter" can be interpreted as lowering the image of unlisted stocks. Others maintain that the term "penny stock," spoken in a certain way, is meant to suggest something worthless.

No doubt about it, there is a widely held popular image of the over-the-counter market, made up of securities listed on no exchange, as being a somewhat shoddy operation of peddlers and promoters, unsupervisited and just waiting for the next sucker.

Now comes one over-the-counter man who has had enough of the slurs, he says, and who maintains that the ordinary small investor is being done a great injustice by being led, almost automatically, to the big listed firms.

Says investment banker Milton Fisher, "Some of these stocks are dinosaurs. Their growth is all behind them."

Fisher has written a book, "How To Make Big Money In The Over-the-Counter Market," to promote his thesis and, he says, to help "the man or woman who is locked into a fairly rigid, unglamorous and predictable future." That is, the salaried man trying to outrace inflation.

"Any adult who has come from a family without independent wealth must be aware that it is necessary to accumulate some capital to live a life free of economic terror," he states.

Such people, he feels, are not interested in dividends or in making small percentage gains on small investments in big stocks. Instead, they want and need action—double, triple or more.

"I know of very few examples of where $10,000 invested in listed securities could have made anyone a millionaire, but there are dozens of over-the-counter companies where this could have happened," he says.

"I would be willing to wager that there are at least 100 companies now trading over-the-counter that will be selling for 1,000 per cent higher within the next five years."

Obviously, however, small investors aren't going to find it easy to discover such companies from the thousands to be studied. Fisher agrees that formal information on unlisted firms is not nearly as available as it is for companies listed on the New York or American Exchanges.

So where do you find them? "Under your nose," says Fisher. Put out your antenna, but stay close to home or to an area of endeavor with which you have some expertise. The company may be in your own home town.

Personal observation of one small operation makes you as much an expert as the professional who must study hundreds of listed companies. Get to know the manager of the company. Learn about the quality of the product.

What Her Husband Relishes

By JOY STILLEY
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Most hobbyists display their collections where others can see and admire. My husband keeps his in the refrigerator.

What he accumulates, with the dedication worthy of a confirmed philatelist, is relishes and condiments. Although his assemblage of sauces and savories is a constantly changing one, at any given time it would strike envy into the heart of the best-stocked supermarket manager.

No Saturday trip to the grocery is complete without the acquisition of at least one new bottle or jar of a gourmet goody. The success of a vacation trip is measured, not in terms of the sights seen, but on the basis of how many regional kinds of piccalilli we managed to pick up at shopping centers along the way. Mustard? Take your pick of flavors and colors: mustard with horseradish, hickory-smoke-flavored mustard, spicy mustard, brown mustard and bright yellow mustard.

There is one problem, though. The family larder is often so jammed with the accompaniments to go with food that there's no room left for food to go with the accompaniments.

Locked In

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — His parents told young Mark Echternach that in case they weren't around and he got into trouble, he should pick up one of several telephones in the house and dial "O."

They explained this would put him in touch with the operator who could help him.

Several days later, the telephone rang and the operator asked Mrs. Echternach, "Do you have a little boy named Mark?"

Mrs. Echternach hastened to assure her that she did.

"Well," the operator replied, "he's locked in the basement."

What If You Ate Some Mold On Bread?

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How dangerous is mold on food? What would happen, for example, if a member of my family ate a speck of mold on a piece of bread? Or is there more mold there than meets the eye?

Also what about the body's daily requirement for water? Do such beverages as tea and fruit-ades help satisfy this need? My sister says it must be "pure water," by which I think she means plain water. But that's why we don't drink much water at our house—it just doesn't taste very pure.—K.S.

So today we're on bread and water.

There are four or five principal kinds of mold found on foods. Eating a "speck" would not as a rule cause any trouble.

If a person just happened to be unduly sensitive to the mold, it might cause an allergic reaction. Some, you know, are sensitive to penicillin, and that's a form of mold.

For most of us, a little mold on bread wouldn't be harmful. Eating a lot of it could cause a gastritis (stomach irritation) and vomiting.

It's best, then, to trim off any moldy parts, but there's no reason to be worried. Some kinds of mold aren't harmful at all, such as those in cheeses like camembert and others.

Water: the average individual needs the equivalent of six glasses of water a day (more, of course, if one loses a lot from excessive perspiration, heat, dry air, hard exercise).

Wether it is plain, or flavored, or distilled, doesn't matter. Distilled would be the only "pure water." Ordinary tap water contains minerals in varying amounts.

Wether you flavor the water with tea, coffee, fruit flavorings, or what not, it's the amount of fluid that counts, not the flavor. You get water in your juice at breakfast when you eat an apple or other fruit, when you eat your salad or vegetables. You get a little in bread (unless it has all dried out) and in meat. The juices of the meat contain water. Soup is largely water.

Your sister is, in a word, mistaken.

* * *

Dear Dr. Thosteson: About six years ago I got syphilis from my husband. He drinks. I took treatment but my blood tests never went back to "negative." This year it was still "weak positive." Will it ever be negative again?—E.W.

In some cases, even after the disease itself is cured, certain types of tests continue to show "positive." Sometimes it never returns to "negative" again, but if the disease was adequately treated you needn't worry about the test result.

The Dilemma Of A Vacation

It's a good thing vacations come only once a year. Mine isn't due for another month or more, and already I'm exhausted.

THE MAJOR problem, of course, is where to go. Reared in true American fashion, I learned a long time ago that during one's vacation one must go somewhere — at least outside the county, and, if at all possible, outside the state.

Problem number two is how to get there. Every mode of travel seems to have disadvantages — from flying to hitchhiking. Planes crash, trains derail, buses break down, automobiles have a tendency to bump into each other and nobody picks up hitchhikers anymore.

PROBLEM NUMBER three is clothing. To go north one has to take heavier clothes. To go south one has to take lighter clothes. To go to a big city one has to take dressier clothes. And to go to a rural resort one has to take sportier clothes. My wardrobe contains a fair amount of all types, but not enough of any one kind.

Problem number four is visiting friends. One can get away with not visiting relatives — their invitations are almost always relatively insincere.

BUT WHAT DOES one do about visiting the other is certain to cut down on the number of Christmas cards one will receive — and the number of Christmas cards one receives is a true measure of something or other.

There's the old friend from summer camp who lives in New Mexico, the college chum who lives in Colorado, the high school pal who lives in Arkansas, the former next-door neighbor who lives in Louisiana and assorted buddies who live in Oklahoma, Nebraska, Maine and Florida.

VISITING ONLY one or two is certain to bring recriminations from the others — and to visit all would not only require a pocketbook so full I could quit work and stay home for the next 10 years but would also necessitate a chartered Lear jet.

I considered a Caribbean cruise, but according to a certain magazine: No one, but no one, goes on cruises any more. In today's high-powered, fast-moving world, they're considered just too passe. Besides, I couldn't afford one anyway.

I ALSO hesitated briefly over an advertisement for a dude ranch, but there they want you to do inhumane things like get up at the crack of dawn, take all-day hikes, go horseback riding for hours and swim the length of their Olympic-sized pool during 15-minute rest breaks twice daily.

As near as I can tell, there's only one thing left. I think I'm going to rent a local motel room under an assumed name, go into hibernation and write the Great American Novel. After all, who ever heard of great novelists taking vacations. They're too busy attending autograph parties, selling movie rights to their books and writing more great novels.

—JEAN FANNIN

A Flag And A Bang For The Republic

WASHINGTON — The Flag was up in the attic in the white house on South Street. Ma packed it away in lavender in Grandpa Tully's big leather-bound trunk after every holiday. But Pa left the flagpole in its holder outside the front attic window, in case — he explained mysteriously — of emergency.

Every holiday was fun for a boy living in a small Massachusetts town in a simpler day, but the Fourth of July was special. It was at once a day for celebrating independence and for giving royalty the back of one's hand.

FOURTH OF JULY started for the boy when he was shaken out of sleep by his father shortly after dawn. "Come on," Pa said. "Time to put out the Flag."

Rubbing his eyes, the boy followed his father downstairs to the kitchen. Pa was always shaved and dressed — white shirt, blue tie, gray suit; but the boy was barefoot and in pajamas. His father already had bacon and eggs sizzling on the old black gas stove.

Hunger satisfied, father and son climbed the narrow stairs to the attic. ("Got to get this junk off the stairs," Pa complained.) Then, while Pa fussed with the flagpole and cord, the boy opened the trunk and took out the neatly folded Flag. He passed it to his father, making sure it didn't drag on the floor, then held one length of the cord while Pa threaded the Flag through the other.

"ALL RIGHT, put it out there," Pa said. And the boy gave the cord a stiff yank to draw the Flag out into place on the staff, then held it there while his father knotted the cord to the pole.

They stepped back and stood there for a few seconds. "Looks fine, doesn't it?" Pa said, and the boy said, yes, it looked wonderful. "Then I guess we can wake up the neighborhood," Pa said.

THIS WAS the moment the boy had been waiting for. His father reached into his coat pocket and took out a red five-inch firecracker.

Pa struck a wooden match on the attic floor and lit the fuse. Then he tossed it out the window, high into the air, timing the action so the explosion would come just as the firecracker fell past the Flag.

THE BANG was always magnificently loud. Even firecrackers were made well in those simple days. Pa always boasted that the explosion "woke up every Protestant in the neighborhood." If the bang didn't Pa did when he bellowed for a whole town to hear: "CONSTERNATION TO THE ENEMIES OF THE REPUBLIC!"

They don't make fathers like that any more, either.

Leaders Look At Desegregation

WASHINGTON — Probably the most important development in the whole desegregation controversy took place a few days ago in Washington at the White House. To insure informality and frankness, the press was not asked to attend. The event, indeed, proved to be far more significant than was indicated by the formal statement issued afterwards.

FIRST OF ALL, the special cabinet committee on education met for nearly two hours with a 16-member group of prominent white and black persons from Mississippi. Then President Nixon addressed them for a half hour on the need for cooperation in bringing about desegregation while still maintaining quality education. The sessions were characterized by earnestness and a recognition of the need for reason and practicality.

Similar committees of prominent citizens in Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina now will be formed by the President's cabinet committee.

The objective is to develop workable plans in all the southern states which have serious problems in desegregating schools. The hope is that the kind of men chosen for the committees will have a major influence within the communities in their states and will work out solutions that will be satisfactory to the courts.

IT IS interesting to note the business and professional activities of the persons who were selected to serve on the Mississippi state advisory committee as described in the White House announcement:

"1. Warren A. Hood (Chairman). Past president, Mississippi Industries. Active civic leader and industrialist.

"2. Dr. Gilbert Mason (vice chairman). Howard University medical school graduate who practices in Biloxi. President, Biloxi Chapter NAACP, member State advisory commission of Civil Rights Commission.

"3. Paul McMullen. President, first Mississippi National Bank, Hattiesburg and Biloxi. Partner in McMullen Insurance & Real Estate.

"4. REVEREND T. B. BROWN. Pastor for Mt. Helm Baptist Church, Jackson; president, Mississippi Baptist Seminary, Phi Delta Kappa; Member Council of American Relations.

"5. Dr. Sylvester A. Moorhead. Dean of the School of Education at the University of Mississippi.

"6. Jack A. Young. Attorney and president of Jackson chapter, NAACP.

"7. Alvin Fielder Jr., Proprietor, Fielder & Brooks Pharmacy. Active young Meridian businessman.

"8. J. HERMAN HINES. Chairman of Executive committee of the Deposit Guaranty National Bank, Jackson. Also chairman of Bi-Racial committee appointed by the court in Jackson City school case.

"9. L. Owen Cooper. President, Mississippi Chemical Corporation of Yazoo City. President of Mississippi Industrial & Special Service, Inc., (Miss.) which is a non-profit organization concerned with state-wide development.

"10. Rowan Taylor. Vice president, Mississippi Valley Title Insurance Company and chairman of the education committee of the Jackson Chamber of Commerce. Also serves on bi-racial committee appointed by the court in the Jackson City schools desegregation case.

"11. HENRY SELF. President of the Citizens Bank and Trust, Marks; Tunica Bank, Tunica; Attela National Bank; member of board of directors, NBC, Memphis; Member advisory board, Baptist Hospital, Memphis.

"12. Leslie Lampton. Jackson businessman, primarily petroleum transporation and distribution.

"13. Walter Williams. President, the Security Life Insurance Co., Inc. Mr. Williams is a leader in civic and business affairs in Jackson.

"14. R. B. LAMPTON. President, First National Bank of Jackson.

"15. Dr. Douglas L. Conner. Physician who practices in Starkville. Serves on governor's emergency council for Camille Disaster.

"16. Gilbert Carmichael. Automobile Dealer in Meridian. Serves on Governor's emergency council for Camille disaster."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The old footsoldier, Orville Moody, has won close to $30,000 on the golf tour this year. He concedes 1970 would have been a heckuva year for him but for the fact that he embraced the National Open Trophy last year.

"It seems like I haven't done anything since," Moody lamented recently. The appearances he has had to make around the country since last June, no doubt, have taken their toll with his game.

It's quite unlikely Orville will ever win the Open again. His game isn't that good. He's joined an elite troup, however, and can live out his days in style because he caught the brass ring once in his lifetime.

Tom King, the former Big Spring football aide, is back in coaching. He's guided the Kilgore High School baseball team to two successive district championships.

* * * *

They're not exactly preaching from the housetops but some of the baseball brass are advocating a different work week for their minions.

They want to do away with wall-to-wall baseball and substitute a four-day week. They'd redo the schedule by booking doubleheaders on Wednesdays and Sundays and singletons on Fridays and Saturdays.

That means there would be no games on Monday, Tuesdays or Thursdays.

The players likely would applaud the change. They've been clamoring for more days off — to look after their business investments, no doubt.

The change could be a long time in coming, however. The game needs exposure in the papers daily to build up for the big series.

The baseball magnates may regard 10,000 on a Monday night as a poor turnout. The opera, on the other hand, would congratulate itself on such a gathering.

The game could get by on a lot less but it doesn't want to try. After all, its flacks have spent a hundred years convincing the citizenry it is as necessary as milk and motherhood.

* * * *

Harold Wilder, new basketball coach at Howard County JC, is high on all three of the new boys he has signed and none more so than Archie Myers of Cleveland, Miss.

Of the 6-2 whiz, Wilder said recently:

"He's very quick and will fit right into the Jayhawks' style of play. He has amazing basketball sense as he can take the ball to the basket and drop off a pass to the open man."

Wilder plans to use Archie either a point or a swing man.

Of 6-9 Dale Sensing, Wilder said:

"He will provide us with a big man under the basket. Dale is a real hard worker and has improved this spring. He will be hard to stop when he gets the ball close."

Wilder was told by responsible people that his third signee, 6-4 Harry Miller Jr., was the best basketball player in the state of Arkansas last year.

Of Miller, Wilder remarked:

"He has a great basketball background, having been coached by one of the outstanding basketball men in Arkansas. He can play outside, although he is a fine jumper and rebounder."

Perhaps you missed the results of a fight which occurred in Freeport, N.Y., last week.

Two overgrown middleweights, Bobby Cassidy and Sonny Floyd, were in against each other.

In the first round, Cassidy suffered the ignominy of a knockdown. As he was going down, however, he landed a punch and floored Floyd.

Cassidy got up. Floyd didn't.

This newspaper may reluctantly have to end an experiment it began several years ago — that of running Little League and Teen-Age League box scores.

Too many little boys and too many mothers, it seems, are expressing disappointment, even open hostility, over the manner in which the games are being reported. The Herald sends no reporters to the scene (it couldn't possibly provide such a service), instead relies upon the official scorer to submit a copy of the box score plus a brief report on what happened in the game.

In some instances, those scorers are being accused of incompetancy and/or bias in relaying information on the games. If some are prone to fault their ability, they certainly should not make light of their devotion to a cause.

Some patrons complain about the manner in which one story or another has been displayed in the paper. More often than not, that depends on how early a story is submitted and how complete the information is. To cite one fault, first names were never, never included in reports offered by one league.

The fact that production costs, the price of hurrying these reports into print, have gone through the ceiling will also serve to reduce future coverage.

If any league desires that I serve as an official scorer for their games, I shall be glad to accommodate them. I might add that my fee is $25 a game. That is approximately what a big league scorer earns but, as I understand it, the local scorer catches a great deal more flak.

I personally plead guilty to the charge of overplaying the games. Perhaps more good would be accomplished by keeping the news in the proper perspective.

Tommy Helms' Homer First In New Park

By The Associated Press

Years and years from now, when Tommy Helms gathers his grandchildren around him, he can tell them about the first homer his team, the Cincinnati Reds, hit in their new Riverfront Stadium way back in 1970.

He'll tell about the powerpacked Reds' line-up that moved into the new ballpark that year. Tony Perez had 27 homers when they made the move, Johnny Bench had 25 and Lee May 19. Homers were Cincinnati trademark that year.

"But the first one, grandpa, who hit the first one?" the kids will ask Helms. And a smile will crease his face when he reports, "Why it was me. Honest, I did it."

Helms will have to dig out his clippings to prove it because, frankly, homers are hardly his thing. But he did indeed slug the Reds' very first one in their new ballpark Wednesday night and it helped Cincinnati rip Atlanta 9-2.

WIDELY SPACED

The homer was Helms' first since the fourth game of the 1969 season and only the 15th of his big league career. And he was duly proud that it was the first one in the new stadium.

In other National League action Wednesday, Chicago ended its 12-game losing streak with a 5-0 victory over St. Louis, Montreal swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia 11-1 and 4-1, Pittsburgh topped New York 4-3, San Francisco battered San Diego 12-7 and Los Angeles dumped Houston 6-3.

In the American League, Detroit marked Denny McLain's reinstatement from a three-month suspension by beating New York 6-5 in 11 innings, Minnesota went 10 innings to nip Kansas City 2-1, California edged Milwaukee 4-3, Oakland blanked Chicago 3-0, Baltimore shut out Cleveland 3-0 and Boston nipped Washington 6-5.

Helms savored his glory after the game. "It's about time I hit a homer," he said. Asked how far he thought his shot traveled, Helms replied, "It's 330 feet down the left field line and I must have hit it 332."

Rookie Wayne Simpson fired a six-hitter and won his ninth straight, running his record to 12-1.

The Cubs finally won a game, ending their longest losing streak since 1944 on Ferguson Jenkins' four-hitter over the Cardinals. A four-run seventh inning with singles by Billy Williams, Jim Hickman and Ron Santo as the key hits, broke up a scoreless duel between Jenkins and St. Louis rookie Jerry Reuss.

"We finally had some hits at the right time," noted Manager Leo Durocher.

Rich Nye pitched a four-hitter and Bob Bailey and Adolfo Phillips each poled two-run homers as Montreal blitzed Philadelphia in the first game of their doubleheader. Coco Laboy drove in three runs with a double and triple.

Bailey homered again in the nightcap and Dan McGinn, with last-out help from Howie Reed, completed the sweep. The Expos have won four straight and seven of the last nine while the Phillies have dropped six of the last seven.

HEADY VICTORY — Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., puts her hands on her head as she wins a point in semi-finals match against France's Francoise Durr at the women's singles competition at Wimbledon, England, Wednesday. Billie Jean went ahead to the finals by defeating Francoise, 6-3, 7-5.

Pros Dominating Wimbledon Play

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — U.S. tennis officials made another attempt today to get the Davis Cup thrown open to contracted professionals—but with scant chance of success.

Delegates to the annual meeting of the Davis Cup nations, held in London this morning, were convinced that the proposals for an open tournament would be thrown out once more.

Lobbying has been going on at the Wimbledon championships, where the clear superiority of the promoter-controlled professionals has been underlined again. Four of them have reached the semi-finals, scheduled for today.

Ken Rosewall of Australia faced Roger Taylor of Britain. John Newcombe of Australia, the 1967 champion, had to play Andres Gimeno of Spain.

The United States, defending champion, has filed the resolution favoring an open Davis Cup.

Australia, now badly weakened as a Davis Cup power because so many of its stars have turned pro, is certain to support the American proposal. So is Britain, which pioneered open tennis.

But most of the European countries, which stand little chance of reaching the challenge round, are expected to vote against.

Basil Reay, secretary of the Davis Cup, said: "If the American proposal is voted down, it is possible that a new tournament for national teams will be started, open to the contracted pros."

Meanwhile, fans lined up all night for standing room on the center court for today's semifinals as Taylor hoped to become the first Briton to reach the men's finals since Bunny Austin in 1938. But many fans—even British fans—would like to see Rosewall win Wimbledon at last.

The 35-year-old Australian lost in the finals of 1954 and 1956. Then he turned professional and was lost to Wimbledon until open tennis was inaugurated two years ago.

Taylor has never yet beaten Rosewall, or even won a set against him.

Deadline for entry is 7 o'clock this evening. Pro Charley Brantley hopes to have the pairings and starting times completed in time for the morning papers.

Entry fee is $10. The field will be shooting for merchandise awards valued at more than $1,000.

Play in the 36-hole event continues through Sunday.

Brantley is harboring hopes that upwards to 90 teams will take part in the event. As many as 120 teams could be accepted, Brantly stated.

Fortuna Bids For Ruidoso

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Fortuna Corp., owner of Sunland Park race track, has signed a preliminary agreement to buy Ruidoso Downs, the New Mexico Racing Commission was informed Wednesday.

Paul Robison, attorney for the three court-appointed trustees for Ruidoso Racing Association, confirmed Wednesday that Fortina had signed an agreement with Newco Inc., owner of 87 per cent of RRA stock.

SAM SNEAD

Sam Says He Fails Up Close

LONDON, Ont. (AP) — Homero Blancas was the favorite and the legendary Sam Snead was the sentimental choice today in the first round of the $120,000 Canadian Open Golf Tournament.

"I just wish I had your nerves on the green," the 58-year-old Snead told Blancas over lunch before they set out.

"For just two seasons," the old West Virginia hillbilly said. "Just two seasons with your nerves. Man, with the money they're playing for now, I'd cut a path for 'em to follow."

"That would be it, wouldn't it, Sam?" Blancas replied. "Let's see if we can get 'em to let you hit it and me putt. We'd be unbeatable. Unbeatable."

Then the happy go lucky Blancas paused for a moment and asked:

"What about chipping? You want me to chip? Can you still chip?"

Snead grinned:

"Are you kidding?"

Snead, winner of more than 80 official tour events in a career that goes back to the 1930s, is only a part-time tourist now but still retains his dual trademark, the brightly-banded straw hat and the smooth, effortless swing, "the sweetest swing in the land."

He has had putting troubles in recent years and hasn't won in several seasons. His biggest challenge was in the Canadian Open last year when he took Tommy Aaron to an 18-hole playoff before losing.

Snead makes no bones about his putting woes.

"I was playing with (Ben) Hogan a few years ago in Miami. He was about six feet away on the left and I was five feet on the right. He gets over it and goes pfft," Snead said, making a jerky, sideways motion with his hands. "So I get up go pfft," he said making the same motion.

"Man, I told him, 'I'm not going to watch you putt. I'm going to look at the clouds or the birds or something else.'"

With most of the leading names in the game skipping this tournament, including all the top 10 money winners, Blancas ranked as the man to beat. He won the Colonial National Invitation, has one second, was ninth last week and has been in the top 10 eight times this year.

Other leading contenders included defending champion Tommy Aaron, George Archer, Dave Stockton, Bob Goalby and Larry Hinson.

RING RESULTS

WEDNESDAY NIGHT

LACROSSE, Wis. — Tony Doyle, 210, Minneapolis, stopped Lous Bailey, 197, Omaha, Neb. 7.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., — David Orapeza, 145, Phoenix, Ariz., outpointed Peter Cobblah, 145, Las Vegas, 10.

Eric Culver, Raton, is the president of Newco.

One of the trustees, Thomas Parteet of Ruidoso, said he and the other trustees would present any proposed purchase to State Appeals Court Judge Waldo Speiss before agreeing to it.

Parteet and Robinson said that a purchase agreement also would be submitted to the New Mexico Racing Commission for its approval. Although the racing commission doesn't have to approve sales, it must grant the licenses for racing dates.

A racing commission spokesman said that Art Johnson, president of Fortuna, had notified commission chairman Robert Lee Wednesday that the purchase agreement had been signed.

Speiss appointed the three trustees to manage Ruidoso Racing Association after the association had been denied racing dates by the racing commission.

The commission objected to agreements made by Newco with Sports Service Inc., a subsidiary of the controversial Emprises Corp., Buffalo, N.Y.

Emprises had loaned $600,000 to Newco, and was granted the concession at Ruidoso Downs.

Also at issue in the various court actions leading up to the appointment of the trustees was a $600,000 loan to Newco by Ruidoso State Bank and a $510,000 note to Eugene V. Hensley, formerly major stockholder in the association.

Huge Turnout Sees McLain

DETROIT (AP) — Denny McLain is not an emotional guy, but when he stepped onto the field at Tiger Stadium and back into baseball Wednesday night "I really thought I was going to cry for a minute," he said.

It was a moment of instant history.

The game wasn't a pennant clincher, or a World Series finale. Technically it was "just another game," — in that instance won by the Detroit Tigers 6-5 in 11 innings.

But it was more.

It was the game in which Dennis Dale McLain, Tiger bad boy superpitcher, set out to prove he was still one of the best pitchers in baseball despite the black mark of a 90-day suspension imposed by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Wednesday was McLain's first day off that punishment and he tried to make the best of it, although his only "spring training" was three months of pitching to college and high school batters.

More than 53,800 spectators jammed the stadium and their reaction to Denny's first appearance was a thunderous ovation, drowning out some boos.

He took the mound and the pressure was on as he faced first Yankee batter, Horace Clarke.

"Ball one," plate umpire Nestor Chylak shouted after the first pitch.

"Ball two."

The third pitch was a strike, McLain went on to get New York out 1-2-3 and the ice was broken.

ONE HIGHWAY DEATH

'Mom, Don't Let Me Die In Vain'

By EUGENIA FEFFER
Associated Press Writer

You don't think that I — the mother, a widow, died right with my daughter — the only child, 22½ years old, a graduate of the University of Houston with a degree in special education?

. . . I am grateful to you for bringing it to the attention of the public, but when you say 34 persons died, it's just a dry figure. And when you speak of dollars, what's money against life?

. . . My heart is bleeding. I myself survived miraculously the concentration camps, where I've lost all my dear people, including my husband and my child. I came here to the U. S. A. as a refugee to start a new life with Mr. Feffer, who passed away four years ago, who had also lost first his family in a camp.

I CAN HEAR HER SAY

Bebe, our daughter, was born in Dallas in 1947. She surely brought life to both of us and look how it ended, so prematurely, so sadly, so senselessly.

. . . In my heart I can hear her cry: "Mom, don't let me die in vain. Let my death save other people's lives."

I say this highway should be abandoned by the government.

. . . Yes, the highways America is so proud of are beautiful, but some should be comdemned by the federal or state government. Instead there are signs warning and predicting how many people will die this year on that spot. And that spot stands there, waiting, like a trap. to kill.

. . . People . . . get so used to the sirens of the ambulances that they don't even hear them anymore. We all are guilty of watching car accidents on TV right in our homes, sometimes while eating dinner and taking them as a matter of fact without voicing a word.

BEAUTIFUL BLUE EYES

. . . What's left when a precious life is gone? Just a feeling. A soft delicate feeling of a brilliant laughter-stilled, silenced, forever.

A soft warm feeling of the most beautiful deep blue eyes filled with expression of excitement, dreams, plans, vision. Filled with love, so much love and tenderness of a young woman who just begins to look straight into the face of the world. . . so sure of herself. Like the whole world would belong to her. So sure of herself. And then — bewilderment.

. . . Just a feeling. A feeling of a good, wholesome girl, with clean hands and a pure heart, who did not know deceit — and is gone.

DARK, DARK WORLD

A feeling of a classroom of retarded children around a very new teacher who knows "they cannot learn much, but at least I want to make them happy."

A feeling of so many books, all around books and books. She drew out all that was there. She had just learned how to give of herself, how to serve to the most needy. And in one second — a senseless death.

A feeling of a needed intelligence — cut down.

. . . If this is not enough, my diary could fill in. It's the diary that absorbs my tears. It's my diary that keeps me sane.

And when all is said, what is left? A bright light, a guiding star, in this dark, dark world.

Plane Maker Happy Over Prospect Of More F-111s

FORT WORTH (AP)—A General Dynamics spokesman applauded what was described as a step Wednesday by the government toward contracting for 40 more F111 tactical fighter-bomber planes.

Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., back home for the July 4 recess of Congress, said the Air Force advised him that $35 million of its 1970 budget would go into the F111 program.

"It is heartening to me, even if the face of unwarrantd criticism, that the Air Force fully realizes the worth and value of the F111," Wright said.

"This is further recognition. . . of the continuing need for more F111s to give adequacy to our defense posture."

The company spokesman called the step "a shot in the arm" for the embattled F111.

General Dynamics is under contract to provide 58 F111F's, representing one-half a wing of the Tactical Air Command (TAC). The 58 aircraft were a part of the original contract for 516 F111s, consisting of six versions of the plane.

With 40 additional F111s, the TAC wing that consists of that version would be at full complement.

Funding of the $35 million "is the original contracts," the company spokesman said.

He said the award will have no direct effect on a declining employment posture at General Dynamics which previously announced that one-half of its work force of 28,000 will be laid off by the end of 1971.

The Air Force move leaves the door open, however, for development of two more TAC wings—"something we've got to have," the spokesman said.

The original contracts provided for 3½ TAC wings. If Congress appropriates money in September for the 40 additional F111s, costing an estimated $283 million, a fourth wing can be completed.

TAC considers six wings necessary for full development.

The F111F is described by General Dynamics as possessing an engine with 25 per cent more power than the earlier versions and electronics "that are more advanced than the F111A or F111D."

Hickel Explores Grand Tetons

MOOSE, Wyo. AP — Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel and six other riders pointed their mounts up the steep Berry Creek Canyon today as part of an inspection tour deep in the wilderness of Grand Teton National Park.

The secretary, an accomplished horseman, explored the snow-dotted Cascade Canyon of the Grand Tetons Wednesday, the first of five days he is spending here and in Yellowstone National Park 42 miles to the north.

Storms In El Paso Area Yield Some Flash Floods

By The Associated Press

Wild weather concentrated on the El Paso area Wednesday night, giving some other sections of Texas a welcome rest from summer storms.

Heavy thunderstorms that fell in extreme western portions of El Paso County in Dona Ana and Luna counties of New Mexico, caused the Weather Bureau late in the night to issue a flash flood warning.

"Flooding of low-lying areas is likely," the Weather Bureau's bulletin said, "with considerable runoff from the Franklin and Organ Mountains filling normally dry arroyos."

There was still lightning in the sky near El Paso early this morning and a few clouds overhung the Panhandle, parts of Central Texas and the coastal plains. Skies were clear over the rest of the state.

No respite was in prospect from the heat which sent temperatures climbing as high Wednesday afternoon as 99 degrees at Mineral Wells. Top marks at other points included Wichita Falls, 98, Dallas, Fort Worth and Waco 97, Cotulla and Lufkin 96 and Abilene, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Texarkana and Tyler 95.

Except for a chance of a few showers west of the Pecos River and in South Central and Southeast Texas, forecasts made no mention of moisture.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1970 SEC. B

(AP WIREPHOTO)

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

In order to teach children to set the table, you can begin early by dividing your silverware drawer into thirds and placing the silver just as it would be on the table — forks on the left, then knives, and spoons on the right.

If you have room, you can even stack your napkins to the left of your forks.

As the children help put away silverware each day, it becomes a habit to place them in the right spot. Then when they begin setting the table, just tell them to put the silver on the table just like they did in the drawer. . . .Schoolgirl, Age 9

* * *

Dear Heloise:

In a recent hint on cleansing wicker baskets in detergent suds and ammonia and a brush, I go one step further.

When the baskets are thoroughly dry, I put them into a large cardboard box to keep the clear enamel from spreading all over the room, and spray away!

This is also perfect treatment for those extremely expensive new baskets we all do pick up now and then. . . . Fern B.

* * *

Dear Heloise:

Regardless of how neat I would keep my clothes arranged in my closets, I was constantly annoyed by the assortment of hat boxes, shoe boxes, purses, etc. that were visible on the upper shelves when the doors were opened.

So I bought spring-tension rods to fit the width of each closet, placed the rods a few inches above the tops of the doors (on the inside of the closet), and made short drapes that hang from these rods and extend down to the bottom of the shelves — or just above the rod on which I hang my clothes.

I used unbleached muslin and trimmed them with fringe, rick-rack or braid (depending on the room in which they were being used).

They would also be very attractive if made of fabric to match drapes, bedspreads, toss pillows, or some accent piece in the room into which the closet opened. . . . Mrs. D. S.

* * *

Dear Heloise:

I have my measuring cups hanging on the inside of my cupboard door. Every time I opened the door, one or two of the cups would fall off.

So to stop this, I stretched a rubber band from the first hook to the last across the top of the cup hooks.

Now they never fall when I open the cabinet doors. . . . Louise Herrmann

* * *

Dear Heloise:

I was driving the other day when I noticed a smear on my eye-glasses. Not a thing in my purse to wipe them with either.

I pulled over to the curb right away and looked in the glove compartment, only to find a piece of nylon net.

Well, I wiped them with it, and it works fine — no lint and no more smears!. . . . Mrs. E. J. R.

* * *

Dear Heloise:

When making marshmallow treats using cereal, and the mixture sticks all over the spoon:

I've discovered that if I butter the bottom of the spoon, it slides over the mixture very nicely and has great result-nicely and has great results. . . . Jean Dietaerich.

* * *

Dear Heloise:

Iced tea lovers might like to know that putting the tea in the freezer compartment for about two hours will hasten the chilling process and it will be cold enough to drink without ice cubes.

Also, you may leave it in the freezer long enough for it to freeze. Then remove it, chip it up and have tea slush.

I always use a plastic container for this as the glass ones may break. . . A Reader

Chandler Sees Texas As Major Market For News

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — When Otis Chandler, publisher of the Los Angeles Times, decided that television was sparking a mammonth, new interest in information and news, he began looking for a way to expand his already burgeoning empire.

Chandler says that in the 1960s those who predicted newspapers would become antiquated as television grew have proved themselves "far less than accurate."

"The spark provided by television," the tall Californian said Wednesday, "fed by higher literacy and educational levels, will further increase the demand for more information."

With this belief in mind, he said he began to consider extending his media holdings outside California.

WANT TO EXPAND

"I wanted to expand," he said, "and since Texas was one of the fastest growing areas in the nation, it was logical we should look at Dallas."

He had known James F. Chambers Jr., publisher of the Dallas Times Herald for a long time. He also knew the Times Herald position of prominence in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

It all seemed to fit together, he said, when you know that the Dallas-Fort Worth market is "one of the fastest growing and most exciting in the world."

So Otis Chandler's interests and beliefs in the future plus a lucrative offer to Times Herald stockholders brought on the merger culminated Tuesday in Dallas of the Times Herald and its television station, KRLD-TV, and the Times-Mirror Publishing Co.

The Times Morror issued a new series of 1.8 million shares of convertible preferred stock to the Times Herald Printing Co.'s shareholders in exchange for assets of the printing company. Each share will carry a 70-cent annual dividend and be convertible into 1.111 shares of Times Mirror common stock now listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

SELL STATION

The transaction further required that 1,999,800 shares Times Mirror shares be reserved for conversion.

Because Chandler's firm already owned so many radio stations, the Federal Communications Commission approved the merger only after the Times Herald divested itself of Radio Station KRLD. The Dallas firm sold that property to the family of Dallas Mayor Erik Jonnson for $6,750,000.

So what now for the Times Herald, for 93 years an institution in Northeast Texas? And what now for KRLD-TV, the CBS network outlet and a pioneer in the field?

"Both have an unlimited future," Chandler said.

He made it clear that both Dallas organizations will remain under the same management and the current policy-making executives, but Chandler, too, will have a hand.

Chambers, the Times Herald publisher who rose to his post from a job as reporter, was added to the board of directors of the Times-Mirror Co.

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day and evening to finish whatever has been pending. Also, be consistent in what you originally set out to do. You are able to gain a greater amount of security tonight and tomorrow. You need to get rid of whatever could possibly hold you back in the future.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Now is the time to settle those household and family problems so that you have peace of mind. Make your home more attractive and charming, too. Add the color it needs.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Avoid trouble today; be careful on the road, in speaking, walking, etc. Be sure that reports are accurate. Avoid being annoyed about them later.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Take care you do not invest beyond your means in the hope of making money fast, or you could regret it later. Don't rely on advice of business persons today. They are not thinking very clearly now.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) There is some important matter for you to handle today, so don't become so immersed in the personal you forget everything else that is vital. Do whatever will please social attachments. Keep busy.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You feel frustrated because you cannot act on some situation speedily, but if you get busy with other things while waiting, all will be fine. Be poised. Assist those who are in real need.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Take care you do not act sharply with friends who are doing things you do not approve of. Use that smile more and all will work out well. A scowl only ruins your chances of getting ahead faster.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Try not to take any chances where your good name is concerned, since this is a particularly difficult day. Be loyal to higher-ups who are doing a good job but not getting any credit for it. Be wise.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Study new ideas carefully. Wait for a better day before you put them in operation. Steer clear of one who does not agree with your ideas and who criticizes you often. Be well dressed today.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have to be most precise in keeping promises you have made and work you have agreed to do. Don't permit others to think you are superficial. Be happy at your work and all should go well with you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Try to please mate in whatever he or she expects you to do. Listen to what associates have to say and then you can get their approval for something you want to do. Stop being an instigator.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Although you want to run off for fun, it is best you stick to the work you have to do. Be conscientious and you gain respect of associates. Be happy with mate tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Although you want to enjoy yourself, be sure you don't take valuable time of others just to have company. Smile more and give a word of encouragement to others. Then you will get along just fine with everyone.

New Military Chief Fires Blast At Budget Milkers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, embarking today as the nation's top military chief, has fired a salvo at critics he said want to milk the defense budget to solve domestic problems.

"The defense budget is not a panacea to cure all domestic ills," said Moorer, whose term as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff started today.

The first Navy man to head the joint chiefs in 13 years, the 58-year-old Alabama-born Moorer takes over from Army Gen. Earl G. Wheeler, who is retiring after a record six years as head of the J.C.S.

Moorer spoke Wednesday at a change-of-command ceremony at the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., where he handed over the helm as chief of naval operations to Adm. Elmo R. Zumbwalt, Jr.

The new J.C.S. chairman acknowledged "the many things yet to be done" domestically. But he cautioned that "if we do not provide for the security of our country, all of the problems become moot."

Lawyers Honor Farwell Attorney

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The former mayor of Farwell, Tex., was honored by the Texas State Bar Association Wednesday as the General Practitioner of the year.

Sam L. Aldridge, 63, was cited for his achievements at the opening session of the association's 88th annual meeting.

Aldridge has practiced law in Farwell for 36 years, except for three years' service as a special agent for the FBI. He was graduated from New Mexico Military Institute and the University of Texas School of Law and was admitted to the Bar in 1933.

He has served as county attorney of Parmer County and as a member of the Texas Public Safety Commission.

House Burglary

Paul Silva, jailer at the city police department, reports that his house at 411 S. 5th, Coahoma, was broken into last week. Details on missing items were not available.

Airliner Hijacked To Cuba, Brazilians Foil Attempt

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazilian police foiled a hijack attempt with tear gas, fire foam and bullets Wednesday and took the four hijackers off. The government said one was wounded seriously, and the pilot was reported shot in the legs.

Meanwhile a U.S. airliner, a National Airlines DC8 with 39 persons aboard, was hijacked to Cuba while en route from San Francisco to Miami. It spent almost 10 hours in Havana, then was allowed to complete its flight.

The Brazilian jet, a Cruzeiro do Sul Caravelle with 34 passengers and seven crewmen aboard, was taken over by three men and a woman shortly after it took off from Rio de Janeiro for Buenos Aires.

Brazilian authorities said the pilot convinced the hijackers he would have to return to Rio for fuel before starting the long flight to Cuba. But Canadian diplomatic courier Leigh N. Shankland, one of the passengers, said the hijackers told him they wanted to return to Rio and exchange the passengers for 44 political prisoners.

When the plane landed back in Rio, police flattened its tires with machine-gun fire, surrounded it and warned the hijackers they would rush the plane unless the passengers were freed.

THREAT TO KILL

"We will kill the passengers one by one," the hijackers radioed back. But the police stormed the plane behind a cloud of tear gas, a hail of bullets, and billows of firefighting foam. Several passengers, including Shankland, jumped out an emergency exit during the melee.

Authorities said some persons were injured, but it could not be learned how many. Five ambulances were seen leaving the airport.

The National Airlines plane was diverted to Cuba as it neared Miami about noon and spent the rest of the day at the Havana airport, finally reaching Miami at 9:32 Wednesday night.

Air Force Sgt. Frederick Dube of Clearwater, Fla., told newsmen in Miami the Cubans kept him and three other passengers wearing military uniforms in an airport waiting room.

Solons Bristle At Nixon Jibe

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's criticism of the Senate's debate and subsequent passage of restrictions on futire U.S. operations in Cambodia has drawn a strong blast from a leading critic of his Southeast Asia policies.

Charging Nixon's reasoning "turns the Constitution upside down," Sen. George S. McGovern Wednesday night demanded equal television-radio time to answer presidential attacks on his antiwar proposal.

McGovern responded after Nixon's hour-long interview on the three national radio-television networks.

In criticizing the Senate, Nixon predicted House-Senate conferees "will be more responsible" and modify the Cooper-Church amendment that would curb the U.S. military role in Cambodia.

"Fortunately," he said, "our founding fathers had great wisdom when they set up two houses of Congress."

But Senate conferees, all but one of whom supported the Cooper-Church amendment, have pledged to stand firm against major modifications.

The South Dakota senator added: "the President clearly does not understand either the constitutional roll of the Congress or the specific provisions of the McGovern-Hatfield amendment for ending the war."

The President mentioned their proposal in replying to a question on whether setting a terminal rate for U.S. withdrawal would help speed Vietnam peace negotiations.

Flight Times Are Changed

Those accustomed to catching the one o'clock flight to Dallas aboard Texas International Airways had better shake it up a bit.

Effective Wednesday, Flight 692 was moved up to depart at 10:40 a.m. and arrive in Dallas at 11:48 a.m. This will permit noon and 1 p.m. connections with trunk lines to the East, Midwest and West, said Dean Berry, manager. The flight replaces 690 which formerly left at 1:10 p.m. and got to Dallas to 2:20 p.m.

A later return to Big Spring is now available. Flight 697 leaves Dallas at 7:25 p.m. and arrives here at 9:02 p.m. Formerly called 691, it left Dallas at 4:45 and arrived here at 5:55 p.m.

Only other two Texas International flights remain with minor changes.

Earliest flight into Big Spring No. 625 departs Dallas at 7:45 a.m. and arrives here at 9:23 a.m. unchanged, and makes good West Coast connections in Albuquerque, N.M.

Flight 666, leaving at 5:47 p.m. arrives in Dallas at 7:22 p.m. Formerly it arrived in Dallas at 6:55, but added stops have extended flight time by 27 minutes.

DEAR ABBY: I read your column and respect your advice. Now solve this for me. I am a widow. What do you do with a guy who says he loves you, and wants to marry you? He seldom spends any money one me (and he has plenty) and when we're out with people he hardly looks at me, but flirts openly with all the young, good-looking women, and afterwards he tells me how "gorgeous" they are, but never a word about me.

I have gotten mad at him and even told him to get lost several times, but I always forgive him and take him back. I need compliments, too. If I marry him I'm afraid I'll be miserable. He's a good catch, but I think he is a "shmo." What do you think? M.I.W.

DEAR M. I. W.: I think he's a "shmo," too. But if you think that after you marry him he will spend money on you, and quit flirting with other women, and give you the compliments you hunger for, then you're a bigger "shmo" than he is.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Our unmarried daughter is sharing an apartment with an older professional woman of domineering disposition. My husband has a responsible executive position with a large firm and we are both very well educated and have traveled all over the world.

We were invited to meet our daughter at her office, and tour the building. My husband wore an expensive suit and I wore my best looking slack suit with my prettiest accessories. We wanted our daughter to be proud of us. And we thought she was.

A few days later, my daughter's roommate told me in no uncertain terms that I had "humiliated" my daughter beyond words because I had worn slacks while visiting her office. This was said to me in the presence of my relatives at a luncheon. My daughter just sat there agreeing with the woman. Please tell me if I am wrong to be upset? BOTHERED

DEAR BOTHERED: Your daughter's failure to come to your defense probably bothered you more than the rudeness of her roommate. Leave them to each other and forget it. Slacks are now acceptable for afternoon wear almost everywhere and if that's the worst "humiliation" your daughter ever suffers, she'll be lucky.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with your answer to EARLY BIRD (the gal whose husband said she was "nuts" because she got up at 4:30 a.m. to do her housework. She said she couldn't sleep.)

I would say that "Early Bird" is basically selfish. I wonder if perhaps her reasoning is only an excuse.

In our marriage, some of our most meaningful experiences have occurred in the early hours of the morning. I value the closeness my husband and I have too much to deny him (and miss out myself) on such close communication.

Maybe the problem would be solved if "Early Bird" would climb back into bed about half an hour or so before she knew her husband had to get up.

I can't imagine any happily married man or woman enjoying waking up to an empty bed. HAPPILY MARRIED

Kin Of POWs Heading Home

HONOLULU (AP) — The mother and two wives of prisoners of war in North Vietnam are going home after a round-the-world trip they say was a success even though it did not help them learn any more of the prisoners.

Mrs. Harold C. Shiveley, Mrs. Galileo F. Bossio and Mrs. Wesley Duane Shierman, all of Spokane, Wash., said they made the trip to ask for humane treatment of all prisoners of war and to draw publicity to the number of American prisoners in North Vietnam.

"A few months ago we had a lot of people in Spokane who didn't even know what POW meant," said Mrs. Shierman, wife of an Air Force major in a Hanoi prison camp. "No one asks us now. They're all aware and concerned about the situation."

Mrs. Shiveley is the mother of Air Force Capt. James R. Shiveley who also is in a prison camp in Hanoi.

Mrs. Bissio is the wife of an Air Force officer who has been missing in action in North Vietnam since July 29, 1966. She was unable to learn any information about her husband on the trip.

Private Help Be Opposed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The resolution committee of the 108th annual National Education Association convention proposed today a hard-line position against use of federal funds in private or parochial schools.

A committee resolution asks that present federal programs be "modified so that all federal monies for elementary and secondary education, goods and services, either direct or indirect, shall be expended solely for the support of public schools."

This was a return to the NEA position prior to 1965 when Congress passed the Elementary-Secondary Education Act, which provided some federally-financed services and materials for private schools, including textbooks, library facilities, instructional matter and lunches.

The resolution states that legislation "should be consistent with the constitutional provisions respecting an establishment of religion and with the tradition of separation of church and state with no division of federal funds, goods or services to nonpublic elementary and secondary schools."

President Nixon earlier this year in a message to Congress suggested that ways should be found to lend financial assistance to private schools, which he said were closing at the rate of one a day.

Last April 21 Nixon announced creation of a panel on nonpublic education to "promote diversity within the Constitution."

At that time he said if "most or all private schools were to close or turn public the added burden on public funds by the end of the 1970s would exceed $4 billion per year in operations and an estimated $5 billion more needed for facilities."

Bankruptcy Cases Soar

DALLAS (AP) — Since Jan. 1, there have been 195 bankruptcy cases filed in Dallas, a rate of more than one per day.

Elmore Whitehurst, U.S. referee in bankruptcy, said he has observed no sign of a letup and the total for 1970 promises to go "way beyond anything before."

His records show the average over the past three years has been 250 such cases annually.

"In fact," Whitehurst said, "I expect it to be more severe in the next six months."

By way of explanation, he said, "Tight money affects companies and individuals both. When financial stringency is affecting big companies, it makes waves in all directions.

"Obviously it slows down the buying power of people when they are thrown out of employment, and those retained have a tendency to restrain their discretionary spending."

Area Students Distinguish Selves

COLLEGE STATION — Two area students have been named Distinguished Students at Texas A&M University.

The undergraduate honor is awarded students who have excelled academically at A&M. Recipients must earn at least a 3.25 grade point ratio (out of a possible 4.0) during the grade period.

Big Spring area students are Robert T. Winn, sophomore dairy science major, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Winn, and Marilee Frazier, junior education major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred I. Carr.

Participation, Example Seen As Nation's Need

Example and participation are two things which adults can do to preserve the nation with its heritage of freedom, Maj. Glenn Jones declared in an address to the Downtown Lions Club Wednesday at the Settles.

One reason for violence and unrest and the flaunting of law and order, he said, was because of careless examples of parents who talk one way and act another.

Standing up for what is right is one way to head off and negate influences being brought to bear today against American institutions, he said. Many of the riots and demonstrations are being organized by individuals in Communist-front groups, he said, but they can't succeed where others are willing to stand up against them.

"How of much of what we give to our country is lip service, and how much is real participation from the heart," he asked. "Our country is not invincible, and if the trends of the past 20 years continue for the next 20 years, we will lose the nation."

He scored dependence upon governmental programs, and particularly federal ones, contending that it takes 100 per cent overhead to get tax dollars back from whence they came. Worse, he said, recipients became dependent upon these funds rendering many institutions impotent to resist disruptive influences.

"We ought to keep ourselves in a position to be independent, to stand up for what is right," he said. "We must calculate the cost and be willing to pay it."

Wednesday's meeting was the first for Winston Wrinkle as president and Ernie Boyd as program chairman. Committee organization will be tackled at a directors meeting Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at Cosden Country Club.

East showed commendable restraint in remaining silent thruout the auction and not doubling his opponent's four heart contract. His caution merited a better fate—for his opponent, South, manipulated the cards with considerable skill to overcome the adverse trump break and bring the contract safely home.

South opened with a demand bid of two hearts and North dutifully kept the auction open until game was reached. When South rebid three spades, North took his partner back to hearts inasmuch as he held three cards in each suit.

West opened the six of clubs and East cashed the king and ace and then led a third round which South ruffed with the jack of hearts.

The ace of hearts revealed the bad news in trumps and it appeared that declarer must go down to defeat. The club force had reduced him to one less heart than held by his opponent, and the loss of a diamond trick appeared inevitable.

South's only chance was to find favorable distribution in the side suits. He played the king of spades and then crossed over to the ten of hearts by leading the three—to take a spade finesse. When the jack of spades held, he cashed his two high trumps and the ace of spades—and was gratified when the suit divided evenly.

South continued with the five of spades which was now established and East ruffed with the nine of hearts. The latter was left with the king-jack of diamonds and the forced diamond return enabled South to take the last two tricks with the queen and ace of that suit. He limited his losses to two clubs and one heart.

Traditional British Cook Will 'Bake And Boil Everything'

By MARILYN NEVELS

"I'm not one for measuring," said London-born Mrs. Herman Stanley," and nine times out of ten, things turn out a lot better."

(Photo by Danny Valdes)

SOUVENIRS of a tour of duty in the Philippines include the tiered, carved lazy susan and the wooden salad set Mrs. Herman Stanley is using.

Mrs. Stanley is the wife of M. Sgt. Herman Stanley, 136-A Dow, Webb Air Force Base, and they have three red-haired daughters, ages 14, 12 and four.

"I never studied cooking, I just picked it up from watching my mother" noted Mrs. Stanley. "Mother is a chef for London University College Hospital, one of London's largest hospitals. She never spent much time in the kitchen; she was very quick. Every Sunday we'd have roast. It is a tradition in England to have roast lamb or beef with Yorkshire Pudding, of course.

"We eat much more lamb and veal in England. We don't fry much, except for fish. My husband says we boil and bake everything, which is true. He is from the South and likes fried chicken and cornbread. He prepared fried chicken for my mother. The idea of fried chicken didn't sound good to us, but we enjoyed it.

"Everything is American is highly seasoned, I've noticed. In England, it is mostly oven cooking and stews. For desserts, we like stewed fruits with custard, rice pudding or fresh fruits. We have more fresh things. The British don't care for canned vegetables. When I was last home in 1960, they were just starting supermarkets, like you have here. When we'd go shopping in London, we'd stop at the butcher shop, the bakery and fruit and vegetable market. As far as I know, there is no barbecuing in England. I don't remember seeing any grills. Here, my husband does a lot of barbecuing at home and for the squadron. He has barbecued a couple of pigs for the squadron, and he learned to make a good sauce while we were in the Philippines.

The Stanleys spent a year in the Philippines and have many carved wood souvenirs such as a wooden salad set.

"They eat a lot of pork cooked in banana leaves like for Hawaiian luaus," recalled Mrs. Stanley. "We enjoyed their food. I have a fried rice dish I learned there."

Typical of an Air Force wife, Mrs. Stanley has lived a nomadic life and none of her children were born in the same state.

"Our eldest daughter, Debra, had traveled in nine countries before she was a year old," mused Mrs. Stanley. "Our second daughter, Cathy, was born in Casablanca, North Africa, and our youngest, Sheila, was born in Florida. We've been stationed in New York and Kansas, too. I enjoy traveling. Meeting different people and seeing the way they live make you appreciate what you have. Our first base was in North Africa, which used to be French Morocco. I loved it there. The people were friendly and the climate was nice and there were lots of beaches."

Mrs. Stanley has always enjoyed swimming and allows time every afternoon during the summer to go to the base pool with her daughters. She is vice-president of the British Wives Club, which meets twice a month, and plays on the Britania softball team.

"I didn't know what a softball was until we started playing last year," she said. "I had never dreamed of playing it. We played a game called Rounders in England and thought softball was similar. Rounders is played by girls only and we used a flat bat and very soft ball, like a tennis ball. We used four bases in rectangle shape and stood between two bases to bat."

Mrs. Stanley gardens and if she had the space, would like to grow vegetables in addition to flowers. She has learned her mother's speed and efficiency in the kitchen which leaves time for her other activities, such as making her daughters' clothes and keeping track of her lively four-year-old. Her tea pot is always ready for fellow British wives who frequently stop in. She serves true British tea sent to her by her mother with typical British biscuits. (cookies).

"In England, I guess you would say that we eat four meals a day," she explained. "We have breakfast, lunch, dinner and a nighttime snack of crackers and cheese with hot chocolate or "milky coffee" which is boiled milk poured together with instant coffee. We don't care how hot the day is, we want hot tea; it cools us off. We never drink with meals, but always have hot tea with milk and sugar afterwards."

Most measurements used in British recipes are in ounces, pounds, or pints for both liquid and dry ingredients.

RECOMMENDED RECIPES

Suggested By Mrs. Stanley

Pour mixture into bowl containing jam, and level top. Cover bowl tightly with foil and tie with string. Place bowl in roaster with simmering water, being sure water is not deep enough to spill over into bowl. Put lid on roaster and steam for two hours. Remove bowl, loosen edges of pudding with knife and turn onto serving dish.

1½ cups butter
1½ cups sugar
1 cup molasses
1 tsp. ginger
2 tbsps. brandy
3 cups sifted flour

Heat butter, sugar and molasses in saucepan. Add ginger. Remove from heat and stir in brandy. Gradually add flour. Beat briskly. Drop by half teaspoons on greased cookie sheet about two inches apart. Bake 10 minutes at 450 degrees. Remove and twist each warm wafer into cone around handle of wooden spoon. Cool and fill with whipped cream.

TOAD IN THE HOLE

1 cup batter mixture (Yorkshire Pudding)
1 lb. brown and serve sausages
Lard or drippings

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Heat small amount of lard and sausages in shallow pan in oven. Then cover with batter and bake in oven on upper rack for three-quarters to one hour.

(BATTER)

1 cup all-purpose flour
½ tsp. salt
2 eggs
2 cups milk

Sift flour and salt into a bowl. Make a well in the center. Add eggs and mix them in. Work dry ingredients into eggs gradually to avoid lumps, keeping mixture as smooth as possible. Add half of the milk. Beat mixture thoroughly for 5-10 minutes, then gradually stir in rest of milk. (Pudding can be used as batter for Toad In The Hole.) For Yorkshire Pudding put a little bit of meat drippings into a deep pan. Heat pan with drippings in hot, 425 degree oven, until it starts to smoke. Pour in batter and bake for 45 minutes to one hour. Cut in squares and serve pudding with roast and gravy.

LANCASHIRE HOT-POT

1 lb. chuck or shoulder steak
4 medium onions
1½ lbs. peeled potatoes
1½ cups beef stock
Butter or margarine
Seasoned flour
Salt and pepper

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Cut meat into one-inch cubes and toss in seasoned flour. Slice onions and potatoes. Place layer of meat in casserole, cover with layer of onions, potatoes and seasonings. Repeat layers, finishing with potatoes on top. Add stock, season well, dot with butter and cover. Bake 2½ to 3 hours. Remove lid a half hour before end of baking time to brown potatoes.

FISH IN BATTER

Oil for deep frying
4 pieces Cod or other fish
Seasoned flour
1 egg
½ cup flour
½ cup milk
Lemon wedges

Heat oil slowly in deep pan. Wipe fish and toss in seasoned flour. Mix together egg, flour, and ¼ cup of milk. Beat until smooth, then gradually add rest of milk, beating constantly. To test temperature of oil, put in one-inch bread cube, which should brown in 60 seconds. Coat fish with batter and gently lower into oil. Fry until golden brown. Drain on paper towel and serve with lemon wedges and chips (French fries.)

FRUIT TRIFLE

6 individual sponge cakes
Raspberry jam
1 cup sherry or fruit juice
2 bananas, sliced
2 peaches, sliced
1 pkg. vanilla pudding
½ cup cream, whipped
Chocolate shavings

Split the sponge cakes, spread with jam. Cut cakes into small pieces, and place in the bottom of a large bowl. Pour the sherry or fruit juice over the cake, then cover with the prepared pudding. Allow to set. Cover with whipped cream and sprinkle with chocolate shavings.

VICTORIA SANDWICH CAKE

½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
½ cup flour
½ tsp. baking powder
Milk
Strawberry preserves or jelly

Cream butter and sugar in large bowl. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Add sifted flour and baking powder. Mix with milk until of dropping consistency. Grease two cake pans and put cut round piece of wax paper in bottom of each. Divide batter into each pan. Bake in 375 degree oven for 25-30 minutes. Remove, and when cold, spread with preserves or jelly. Sandwich layers together and either top with powdered sugar or glaze with icing.

ENGLISH PANCAKES

½ cup flour
1 egg
Pinch of salt
1 cup milk and water, mixed
Shortening
Sugar
1 lemon cut in wedges

Sift flour and salt into mixing bowl and make a well in center. Pour the egg and two tablespoons of diluted milk into the well. Using wooden spoon and working from the center gradually mix some of the flour from edges into the egg and milk and beat well until smooth. Gradually add one-half cup of milk beating gently and drawing the rest of the flour until all is mixed in and batter is smooth and bubbly. Stir in the remaining liquid.

To prepare pancakes: Melt enough shortening in heavy frying pan to coat bottom and side. Pour off any surplus. When shortening is hot, pour in a little batter, just enough to cover the bottom of the pan. Cook pancake until it is golden brown on underside. Turn it over and cook on other side. Turn out onto plate and sprinkle with sugar. Cover with another plate and keep warm while rest of pancakes are being cooked. When all are cooked, roll up singly and serve with wedges of lemon.

JAM TARTS

For pastry:
1 cup flour
½ tsp. salt
2 ozs. margarine
2 ozs. shortening
Cold water to mix
Jam

Sift flour and salt into bowl. Cut margarine and shortening into flour and complete the mixing by rubbing in with fingertips, until no lumps of shortening remain. Add just enough water to bind mixture, mixing with round-bladed knife until it is evenly distributed. Draw the pastry together with fingertips to form a stiff dough. Knead lightly until smooth. Turn it on to a lightly-floured board and roll out fairly thin.

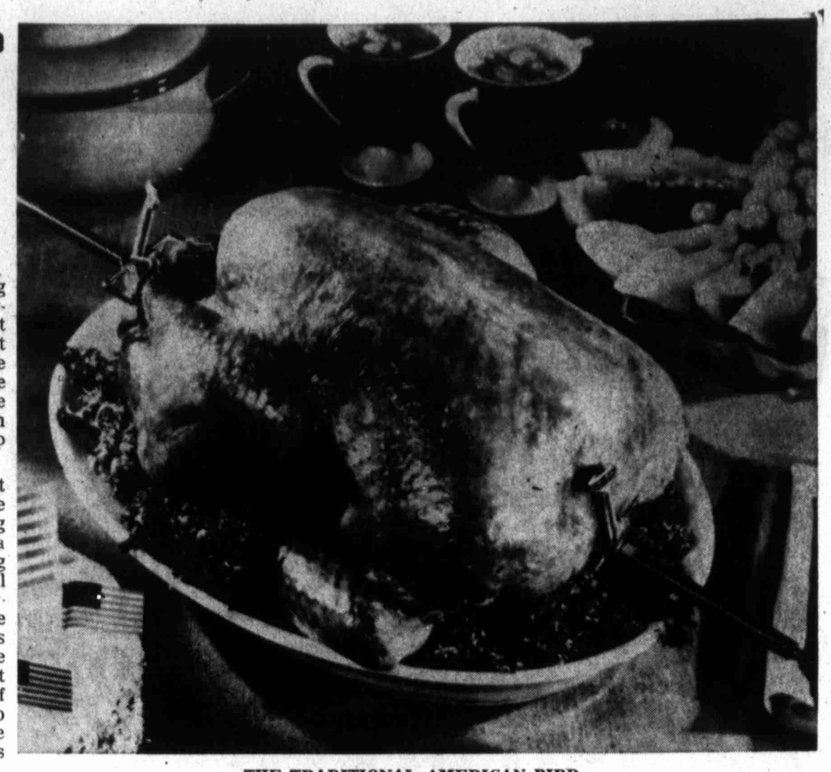

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Cut dough into rounds with 2½-inch fluted cutter. Ease the rounds into muffin tins and pierce the bottom with fork tines. Fill each shell one-third full with jam and bake on upper rack of oven for 10-15 minutes. Cool on rack. (Tartlets can also be filled with lemon curd, mincemeat, marmalade or other type filling.)

LEMON CURD

1 cup sugar
3 ozs. butter
2 lemons, (juice and grated rind)
3 eggs, beaten

Combine sugar and butter and beat well. Add lemon juice and rind. Add eggs. Place in top of double boiler and cook slowly, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Use as a filling, spread or custard.

Company? Barbecue The Bird

THE TRADITIONAL AMERICAN BIRD
Turkey flies its colors at July 4 barbecue

Celebrate that lively, long July 4th weekend with barbecued turkey — a turkey that is big enough to satisfy not just one meal but take care of the entire weekend. Otherwise, the Fourth of July holiday will be far too lively and seem much too long as you try to keep pace with holiday appetites.

To give your turkey that zesty holiday flavor, marinate it in a Firecracker Basting Sauce before mounting it on a spit for a succulent roasting over hot coals. By its wonderful cooking aroma, barbecued turkey proclaims itself to be the best of holiday fare. Add to this the fact that turkey has the highest protein and the lowest fat and cholesterol content of any red meat, and it's easy to see why turkey has earned the reputation for being America's best meat buy.

BARBECUED TURKEY

For using with a rotisserie, choose a turkey weighing from 12 to 14 pounds; larger turkeys may be barbecued in the oven. If turkey is fresh-frozen, thaw in plenty of time, rinse, pat dry, and marinate for several hours as follows:

Lay turkey on large sheet of wide, heavy-duty aluminum foil and form foil lightly around turkey. Pour marinade over turkey and completely wrap foil around turkey, sealing it securely so marinade will be held inside. Marinate in refrigerator for two to four hours, turning frequently so entire turkey is well flavored with marinade.

FIRECRACKER MARINADE

1 pint lemon-flavored carbonated drink
½ cup cooking oil
¾ cup soy sauce
1 tsp. lemon-pepper
¼ tsp. pepper sauce
Add garlic and spices to taste

When time to barbecue, drain turkey well (saving marinade for basting). Tie wings securely to turkey with twine, tie drumsticks together or tuck them under band of skin on tail.

Insert spit rod in front of tail; run diagonally through breast bone. Fasten tightly with spit forks at both ends. Test carefully for balance and readjust until satisfactory. Insert meat thermometer into thickest part of breast or thigh. Place drip pan made of foil in front of coals. Attach spit and occasionally baste with Firecracker Marinade.

OVEN BARBECUING

Turkey barbecuing doesn't take place only outdoors on the rotisserie. It also can be done in the oven. Better still, for oven barbecuing, any sized turkey may be used. Drain marinade from turkey. Truss wings akimbo style and tie legs or tuck under tail skin band. Place on a rack in a shallow pan and roast in 325 degree F. oven using oven roasting chart for time.

Scrambled Eggs Have Extra Touch

Delicious extra flavor for eggs that are scrambled.

SCRAMBLED EGGS PLUS

8 eggs
½ tsp. salt
½ cup diced cooked ham
½ cup grated cheddar cheese
¼ cup diced pimiento-stuffed green olives
Butter

In a mixing bowl beat the eggs and salt just enough to combine yolks and whites. Add ham, cheese and olives; stir well. In a large skillet heat one to two tablespoons butter; add egg mixture; cook gently, stirring occasionally, until eggs are set as much as you like. Serve at once. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

SELECTING CHAIRS FOR YOUR LIVING ROOM

Many people select chairs because they are lovely to look at. Others select chairs strictly for comfort. The smart buyer buys chairs that combine both beauty and comfort.

This is not always as simple as it sounds. Generally, the wife will select chairs for design, color and coordination with everything else in the room. The husband will want chairs that he can sink into, stretch his legs out on.

Fortunately, the average living room has room for several chairs that can please all parties concerned. Just like a suit of clothes or a dress, a chair can "fit" the person who is going to use it. That's a good thing to keep in mind when you buy chairs.

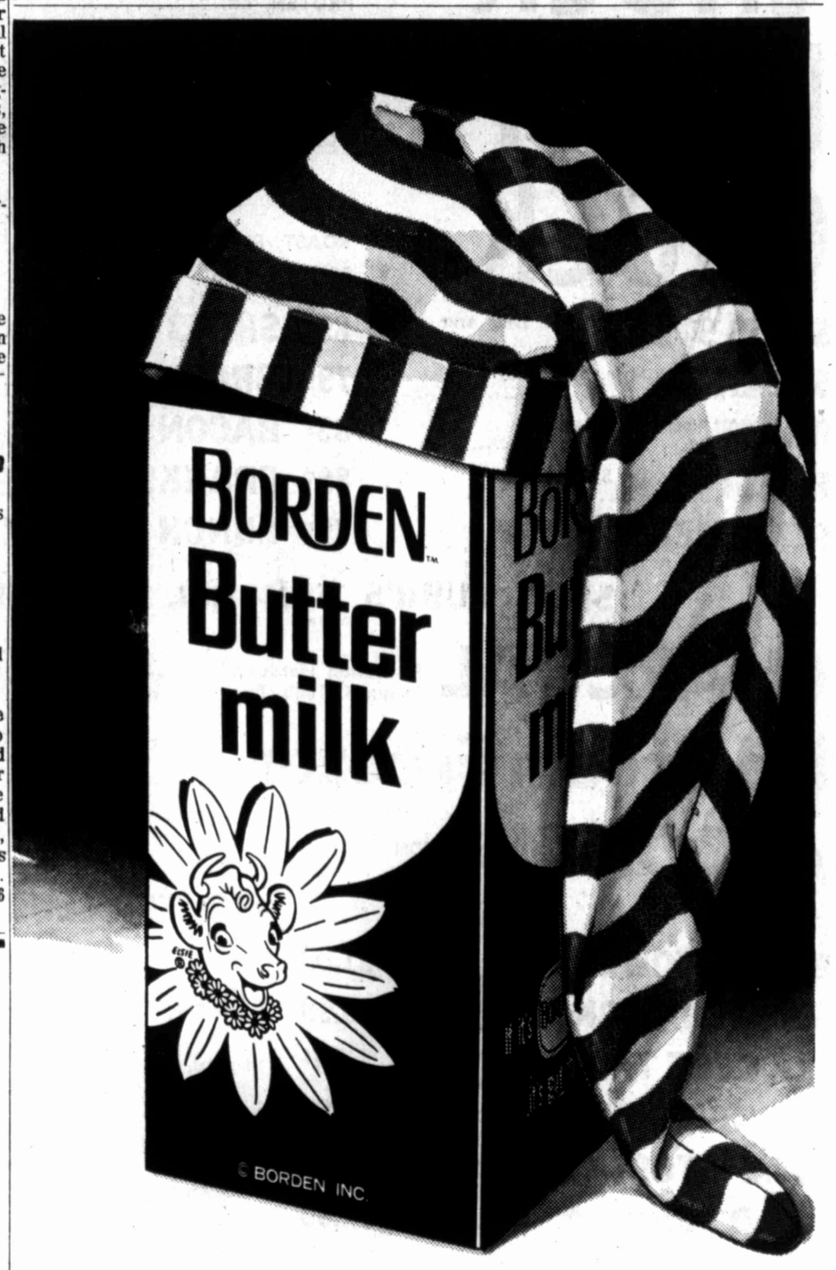

Very often chairs are nice when used in matching pairs. This is not only a matter of attractive decor, but has its practical side, too, in making conversation groups. Many people are more at ease talking to each other while sitting in separate chairs than they are when sitting together on a sofa.

One of the attractive ways to group a pair of chairs is to use a wedge or pie-shaped table between them. This makes for a curved grouping instead of lining up the two chairs and the table straight against the wall.

We invite you to see our latest selection of living room chairs, and talk over with us decorating ideas on using chairs in your living room to get both beauty and comfort.

Let us help you with your decorating problems.

Man Named In Slaying Count

RANGER, Tex. (AP)—James H. Bishop, 32, a construction worker, was held without bond today in the slaying of a farmer whose body was found in a cistern.

The murder charge was filed late Wednesday in the death of Travis Winsett, 52.

Bishop, also an antique collector, already was a prisoner in the Palo Pinto County jail. He was arrested June 23 on a burglary charge.

Officers searching for Winsett discovered the body Saturdav night in the cistern on the Hathcock farm, where a burned house was unoccupied. Winsett had been shot in the head.

Dist. Atty. Emory Walton said the murder complaint was based on information uncovered by Texas Ranger H. R. Block of Brownwood and Palo Pinto Sheriff L. E. Sublett. Walton gave these details:

Winsett disappeared after being seen June 22 in Ranger and apparently was killed that day. Letters delivered to his home June 23 were still in the mail box.

Officers searching his six-room frame house found a hole, believed to have been left by a small bullet, in a front window screen and blood stains near a chair.

Ranger police dispatcher Benny Mosely remembered a fire call the night of June 22 to the Hathcock farm, and the body then was found in the cistern there.

Investigators recovered a shotgun and a small caliber rifle identified as taken from the Winsett home.

Typhoid Cases Being Investigated

BLAND LAKE, Tex. (AP) — One person is reported dead from typhoid and several other suspected typhoid cases are under investigation here near the San Augustine - Shelby County line in East Texas.

Dr. Steve Oates, the Shelby County health officer, said the typhoid was traced to a polluted water supply. Oates said there was no danger of an epidemic.

TO SPEED MAIL

Abbreviated Addresses Part Of Experimentation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office, which brought you zip codes, is thinking about abbreviated addresses to speed the flow of mails.

Researchers probing "human problem areas in moving the mail" have found operators of letter-sorting machines—LSM's -help determine how fast mail flows.

The faster they read addresses and punch in 3-digit numeric codes that send letters into the proper receptacles, the faster the mail is delivered.

At the present rate of 60 letters a minute, the operator has one second to read an address, recall the proper code and punch it in before the next letter comes up.

"This constitutes a considerable memory task for the operator," National Bureau of Standards scientists said in a report for the Post Office.

To help lighten such mental burdens, the government is experimenting with shorter work cycles, variable sorting speeds and ways to cut address-reading time.

If things turn out well, the researchers said, "methods for encoding or abbreviating addresses can then be based on a good estimate of human ability to use the method quickly and accurately."

Other ideas under investigation include machines to sort the mail with voice commands instead of a keyboard, and using television viewing of the mail to allow the LSM operator to be removed from the noisy, dusty operating floor.

FTC Pops Big Name Bingo

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission today accused the Coca Cola Co. and a producer of promotional games of deceiving the public in claims that nearly everyone who correctly played "Big Name Bingo" would be a $100 winner.

Instead, the FTC said in a proposed complaint, the companies invoked an undisclosed rule of the game which prevented "many if not all" contestants from getting the promised prizes.

Named in the complaint in addition to Coca Cola, was Glendinning Companies, Inc., of Westport, Conn., the firm that developed the "Big Name Bingo" promotion for sales of Coca Cola and Tab, a diet drink.

Under published rules of the game, the FTC said, most people "of average sophistication and skill in semantics" were led to believe they would receive a $100 prize if their entries contained at least one correct answer to each question which could be correctly entered.

However, "many if not all contestants from this large segment of the public who submitted a correct answer to each question did not receive the $100," the FTC said.

"Contrary to the clear import of the directions and rules, the firms imposed a materially different rule not disclosed to these contestants. The undisclosed rule was to the effect that certain questions required more than one correct answer."

The game ran between March 9 and May 31, 1969.
