SOLONS FEAR SMOOT CASE

Many Important Bills Let Slide This Session

CONGRESS BUSY

Adjournment of National Legislature May Be Put Off Until July

Special to The Telegram.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—If the senate is "good" from now on, if it doesn't get into any more long debates, if it doesn't stir up party strife and executive wrath again; in a word, if the senate sticks close to its knitting and will content itself to passing the big supply bills and do nothing else, then it is not improbable for congress to adjourn about June 20. Of course, however, if the senate insists upon working over-time on the Panama canal and other like things, then the session may be stretched out beyond July 1.

Mr. Aldrich was in his seat yesterday for the first time in several days, and during the day was consulted by many senators as to what time he thought adjournment might be looked for. The Rhode Islander was unable to make a positive prediction, though he told a number of inquirers that he was looking into the question and thought he would know something definite about it in a day or two.

Many Bills Up

Subjects that are fraught with the danger of prolonging the session beyond June 20 are the Panama canal, the Philippines tariff bill, the Santo Domingo treaty, and the Reed Smoot case. Final consideration of the last named subject by the committee on privileges and elections again was postponed yesterday on account of the temporary indisposition of Senator Burrows, the chairman. While it is still generally believed that the committee will report adversely to the Mormon senator, it is beginning to appear not improbable that the case will not be pressed upon the senate for a vote at this session. All interests seem willing that the matter should go over to the next session, mainly because of the doubtful effect its settlement one way or the other at this time might have upon the campaign for congress, particularly in the northwestern states.

Philippine Bill

Senator Lodge seems anxious to force the Philippine question forward to some form for further consideration. The bill, it will be recalled, was tabled in the Philippine committee several weeks ago, and it was then thought that nothing more would be heard of it at this session. The President, however, appears to have persuaded Senator Lodge of the advisability of attempting to force action before the session ends, and as it is understood that the President would accept a compromise on the sugar feature of the bill it is not altogether unlikely that Mr. Lodge may move that the committee be discharged from further consideration of the measure with the view of getting it before the senate in the hope of securing enough votes to effect a compromise favorable to the President.

ROADS REFUSE LEASES

Grain Elevators Will Be Managed in Future by Owners

Special to The Telegram.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 26.—It was stated by a prominent New Orleans grain man that the Texas and Pacific, Illinois Central, Santa Fe, Frisco and other railroad systems owning grain elevators at Gulfport would, after the expiration of existing leases, refuse to re-lease their elevators and manage them themselves as formerly. This action is said to have been taken because of the agitation against the railroads giving an elevator charge to the lessees, a custom which local grain men declare has driven them from participating in export business.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—California delegates to congress have practically abandoned the effort to secure legislation allowing building material for San Francisco to enter the country free of duty. Fear that republicans would open the tariff question caused the failure of the plan.

CANADIANS PLAN BIG STEEL PLANT

Montreal May Manufacture 150,000 Tons Annually

By Associated Press.

LONDON, May 26.—The Canadians are making inquiries into the possibility of securing in Great Britain supplies of basic pig iron for steel work to be erected at Montreal, having a capacity of 150,000 tons of finished steel yearly.

The Iron Monger says it understands the shipping arrangements can be made, but that there seems to be difficulty in finding British works that are prepared to enter into a contract for the quantity of iron required, especially as the promoters wish to make it a condition of the contract that it is for a fixed quantity yearly for a number of years, and at a uni-

$1 HEALS HER WOUNDED LOVE

Widow Compromises Breach of Promise Suit

By Associated Press.

COATESVILLE, Pa., May 26.—It cost just $1 for Joseph L. Gallup to settle the breach of promise suit which Mrs. Frances S. Piersol had brought against him. He struck a good bargain, for the woman had demanded $49,999 more than she received.

In addition to saving his money, Gallup is in a position to marry Miss Anna E. Bickel, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Schrack Bickel, prominent church people, announced the engagement of their daughter to Gallup yesterday. The prospective bride is 21 years old, and was until a few days ago cashier in a Coatesville department store.

The end of Gallup's troubles with Mrs. Piersol came yesterday in the office of a magistrate. In the presence of several of his fellow-townsmen Gallup handed a $1 note to the pretty Modena widow, and she acknowledged that it was in settlement of her suit.

"Frances," said Gallup to the widow Piersol, "I have been the best friend you ever had."

She nodded, sniffled a little, wiped her eyes, and left the court room with the ex-defendant.

There are signs that Mrs. Piersol's attorneys may cause Gallup trouble. They refused to withdraw the case, and it is possible that they contemplate bringing action for their fees, in which event the facts in the case of Piersol vs. Gallup, which have been suppressed, may reach the public knowledge.

Mrs. Piersol commenced her suit last December. She alleged that in 1904, after six months' courtship, Gallup proposed marriage and was accepted. The engagement, she said, continued until the month in which action was brought, at which time Gallup suddenly discontinued his attentions. Mrs. Piersol alleged that Gallup receives a salary of $8,000 a year from Worth Brothers as superintendent of their steel plant at Coatesville, that he has real estate in Pittsburg valued at $10,000, and is owner of much valuable personal property. Gallup is 48 years old and Mrs. Piersol about 35.

The wedding of Gallup and Miss Bickel will be solemnized about the end of June. They met for the first time at a social function two months ago.

YACHTS COMPETE IN DARING RACE

Small Craft Sail From New York to Bermuda

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 26.—One of the most daring ocean yacht races ever sailed off the Atlantic coast started at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Brooklyn Yacht Club's station in Gravesend bay, when a little fleet of fast and agile craft sailed on a 650 mile race from New York to Bermuda.

The trophy is a $5,000 cup offered by Sir Thomas Lipton to become the property of the winner of this race.

Four boats started. They were the Bonnie Kate, a sloop forty-four feet long; Tamerlane, a yawl, forty feet; Lila, a yawl, thirty-eight feet, and Gauntlet, a sloop, twenty-eight feet.

The race was open to boats under fifty feet long of any club, but all entries were from the Brooklyn club.

The boats are of a seaworthy type, suitable for deep water racing, but no race so venturesome as this has yet been attempted by craft of their sizes from this port.

It is expected that with fair conditions they will reach Bermuda in seven or eight days. They are handled exclusively by amateur yachtmen.

TWO FATALITIES IN EXPLOSION

Shot Explodes 400 Pounds of Dynamite

Special to The Telegram.

BEAUMONT, Texas, May 26.—An explosion of 400 pounds of dynamite occurred at the Jasper and Eastern front, three miles from Merryville, La., yesterday afternoon at 3:30. A. B. Keating and J. B. Johnson were killed and the commissary and all stores belonging to the Lantry Sharpe Construction Company were destroyed by fire, including the surveyor's camp.

Johnson and Keating were standing in the commissary door practicing with a target rifle at a tree near the house in which the dynamite was stored. A bullet missed the tree and struck the dynamite house, causing instant explosion. The dynamite was about ninety feet from the tree. The explosion ignited the commissary, in which was stored fifteen barrels of oil of various kinds, and the entire building and contents were practically destroyed in a flash. The loss is about $1,000.

Keating's home is in Little Rock, Ark. He was in charge of the work of the construction company. Johnson was only a short while ago initiated into the Beaumont Lodge, B. P. O. E., and is quite well known here. He was timekeeper, and his home is in Topeka, Kan. He leaves a mother and relatives.

EXPRESS TRAIN BADLY WRECKED

Engine Plows Across Two Tracks and Topples Over

By Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 26.—Train No. 34, a through express on the New York Central railroad, was wrecked just east of Hoffmans early today. The locomotive and two cars containing mail and express matter left the rails, the engine ploughing across the two intervening tracks and toppling over on the westbound track No. 4.

No one was seriously injured.

The express was made up of a locomotive, seven express cars, two horse cars and three empty drawing room cars and carried no passengers. It was eastbound and should have passed Hoffmans about 12:40 o'clock.

The four tracks were strewn with wreckage and passenger No. 36, which followed the mail train, was held up several hours.

Later trains over the Mohawk division were transferred by detour to the West Shore tracks.

SPLIT AMONG JEWS

Zionist Jeaborinsk Causes Trouble in Russian Congress

By Associated Press.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 26.—The Jewish congress has resulted in a split over the attempt of the small majority under the leadership of a Zionist Jeaborinsk to compel the Jewish members of the lower house of parliament, twelve in number, to act independently under the direction of the executive committee of the Jewish League.

Forty-three out of the fifty-four delegates headed by M. Vinaver, and five members of the lower house of parliament, who were elected as constitutional democrats, decided on general principles that to act independently would be a mistake, as they would be sure to arouse race prejudice.

CANAL TYPE HANGS FIRE

Question Comes Before Congress Next Week

DISCUSS TARIFF

Senate May Vote for Sea Level in Spite of Opposition of Administration

Special to The Telegram.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26.—The appropriation bill and determination of the type of the Panama canal are features of the congressional program next week. Purchase of materials for the canal will give the democrats opportunity to discuss tariff. There is no expectation the canal type can be settled at this session. The bill for the sea-level canal may pass the senate despite the opposition of the administration, but notice has already been served that the house will not consider it this session. Senator Kittridge, in charge of the bill, knows the situation, but in view of the canal commission's demand for a decision at once as to the type, will try to force the matter through the senate so as to free it from blame in the future. Congress will probably adjourn by June 25.

President Favors Locks

It cannot be stated positively whether action on the report of the interoceanic canals committee favorable to a sea-level canal will be demanded before the close of the session. The administration is committed to a lock canal, and its friends would undoubtedly make a strong fight against the committee's report should the advocates of the sea-level type insist upon precipitating that question upon congress at this time.

The President can proceed under existing law to make all necessary preparations for the final work to be done on the canal, irrespective of the type of waterway that eventually will be decided upon. What may be accomplished on the Isthmus between the present time and the date of the meeting of the next session of congress could in no way have a decided bearing on either type of canal to be constructed, and so, it is argued, that no harm to either cause could be done by postponing to the next session the type of canal to be ordered by congress. Then again, even if it were practicable for the senate to pass without a long struggle a bill for a sea-level canal the house might not concur, and thus the question would be no nearer settlement at the close of this session, if prolonged, than it would be should no attempt be made to amend the Spooner law so as to take from the President the discretion as to the type of the canal.

TRADING STAMP FRAUD CHARGED

Merchants' Association Said to Be Back of Prosecution

Special to The Telegram.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 26.—Upon charges that three of the big trading stamp companies doing business here have obtained $1,000,000 from certain merchants by fraud and false pretenses, representatives of the companies have been arrested by Detectives Sell and Duey and arraigned before Magistrate Kochersperger.

The defendants are Louis Belmont of Mt. Vernon street near Broad, proprietor of the Yellow Stamp company of 907 Market street; H. E. Winslow, manager for Sperry & Hutchinson, owners of the green trading stamps, whose local branch is at 734 Market street, and William Glenn, president of the Crown Trading Stamp company, of 1008 Market street.

Warrants for the defendants were based on affidavits made by James E. Ward, who, Winslow said, was formerly in the employ of the Yellow Trading Stamp company. It is understood that he has the support of the Merchants' Defensive association, which is opposed to the use of trading stamps.

Ward charges that by misrepresenting the value of their premiums the defendants obtained the enormous sum of money from the merchants and that of the total amount the Crown Stamp company got $400,000; the Sperry & Hutchison company $500,000, and the Yellow Stamp company, $100,000.

In an additional affidavit which Ward filed against the Crown Stamp company, he charges it with having refused to redeem stamps collected by several persons and in this way obtained $6,000 more by false pretenses.

All the defendants were released in $1,000 bail each for a further hearing.

SANTO DOMINGO IS AT PEACE

Consul of Little Republic Denies Revolution Exists

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The Herald today says:

Alhio Dialto, consul of Santo Domingo in this city, last night denied the existence of a revolution in his country as reported, and said that none was likely. He says the only military officials who are opposed to President Caceres are in prison. He said the men who would like to depose Caceres are adventurers, who would like to get their hands on the $1,500,000 now deposited in bank for payment of the Dominican foreign department, and which will be returned to that government if the United States senate does not pass the Santo Domingo treaty. It was learned yesterday that General Jiminez, ex-president of San Domingo, whose name also figures in the reported revolutionary plans, was recently in this country, and filed a communication with the state department of this country, asking the intervention of the United States by supervising the elections in the republic.

CABINET ASKED TO STEP OUT

Resolutions Drafted Showing Distrust in Government

GOREMYKIN FIRM

Premier's Reply Creates Impression Conflict Is Inevitable and Near

By Associated Press.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 26.—The expectation that Premier Goremykin's statement of the government's program will be utterly unfavorable caused great excitement at the opening of the lower house of parliament this afternoon. Both constitutional democrats and labor groups in anticipation of its unsatisfactory tenor, drafted resolutions expressing lack of confidence in the government, which they prepared to move as soon as the reading is finished. The resolution of the constitutional democrats which was adopted at the caucus this morning is as follows:

"Inasmuch as the answer of the government contradicts the demands expressed in the address of the lower house of parliament, the party of the people's liberty (constitutional democrats) expresses complete distrust in the cabinet, desires its immediate resignation and proceeds with order of the day."

The labor party resolution is of similar purport but it is couched in stronger terms, demanding instant dismissal of the cabinet and formation of a responsible ministry from the parliamentary majority.

Conflict Inevitable

Premier Goremykin's speech and unexpectedly firm tone produced such vivid impression that a conflict is now considered inevitable. To the demands made in the address of the lower house in reply to the speech from the throne it is almost a complete nonpossumus. It reiterated that a general amnesty was impossible but promises release as rapidly as possible of those who have been arrested by administrative order. There could be no question, it was pointed out, of abolition of the council of the empire or upper house, as that is an institution covered by fundamental law and is beyond competence of parliament. Most important of all, the premier declared, was the basis for solution of the Agrarian problem, pressed by the lower house was completely impossible. There could be no forced appropriation of land. He promised, however, distribution of some of the appanages of state domains and outlined a broad program for popular education, the revision of tax laws and institution of political liberty.

Grave news comes from the provinces. Instead of acting as sedative, the assembling of parliament has been marked by an alarming increase in revolutionady agitation and the terroristic activity on one hand and the Black Hundred activity on the other. Extremists on both sides are thus divided into two hostile camps and both are arming as if preparing for inevitable civil war.

Sanguinary conflicts continue to be reported. A sequal of the clash on Archangel Square here May 24, when the Black Hundred fired fifty revolver shots, killing one man and seriously wounding three, came last night, when one of the Black Hundred who participated in the affair was waylaid and murdered by social revolutionists.

The social democrats are working with might and main to cast discredit on parliament, and to produce an uprising of the elemental forces. They have already precipitated an incipient strike in the industrial quarters of Moscow and at Odessa the longshoremen have struck. Not a single vessel left that harber yesterday.

The government's refusal to grant amnesty to political prisoners furnished the proletariat organizations with a powerful argument, and they threaten unless tomorrow, the anniversary of the emperor's coronation seems amnesty proclaimed, to call a general strike as preliminary to armed uprising.

Constant rumors of a reactionary coup detat, disposal of parliament and establishment of a dictatorship under General Trepoff, add to the general excitement.

Fresh agrarian disorders are reported from Oral, Kazan and Simbirsk provinces. The Figner estate in Kazan province, where Vera Figner has been living under surveillance of police since her release from the Schlusselburg fortress, where she was confined for twenty years as a result of participation in a plot against the life of Alexander II, has been completely destroyed and the Cossacks with difficulty saved the estate of Prince Gallitzin.

It is rumored in the corridors of the lower house of parliament that Premier Goremykin has in his pocket a mandate for the dissolution of parliament.

Architect Says the City Will Be Rebuilt in Year

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 26.—"Within six months the new San Francisco with its wide driveways and handsome buildings will be well advanced," said Architect Daniel H. Burnham last night. "In a year's time it will not be easy to find a trace of the devastation left by the earthquake."

Mr. Burnham has just returned from San Francisco. He had been called there by a committee of citizens that had been instrumental in inducing him two years before to prepare plans for a model system of driveways, parks and public places. Former Mayor Phelan was chairman of the committee.

"The San Francisco of the future will be the most beautiful city on the continent with the exception of Washington."

REV. I. Z. T. MORRIS DESCRIBES PEST HOUSE

Charity Worker Says Conditions Should Be Improved

LACKS ACCOMMODATIONS

Declares Attendants Are Overworked in Caring for Patients—Suggestion for Churches

The following communication has been received by The Telegram from Rev. I. Z. T. Morris, a minister whose unselfish work for unfortunate children of Texas has made him known and respected all over the southwest. Recently while investigating the case of some orphan children at Houston, Mr. Morris contracted smallpox, became ill after reaching Fort Worth and was taken to the pest house or smallpox hospital. He is now recovered at his home and the letter he writes is, he says, done in a friendly spirit for the information of the public. For the attendants at the smallpox hospital and his treatment there Mr. Morris has warm words of commendation, but he declares provisions made for the care of patients and hospital equipment for treatment of cases is entirely inadequate.

The communication follows:

"Well, I have been at home for a few days from the 'Tarrant County Smallpox Hospital.' I believe they call it, commonly known as the 'pest house.' I have it in mind to give you a few items in reference to my going, and my treatment while in this place. First of all, let me say that the kind of smallpox with which we are inflicted at present, from what I have seen and read about the disease, is nothing like what you might term the 'winter smallpox,' but I am free to say, while it is not as severe, there is no fun in having it, and I am not around advising my friends to hunt up cases in order that they may have the disease. Just where I got it I know nothing about, but the old theory of the state of the case when a person can catch it it was certainly a failure, that is, that you had to be broken out and in scabs before it was contagious. I am sure that was not the case in mine, nor was it the case in any of the subjects whom I met in the 'hospital.' None of them knew where they got the disease, so it must have been when we were associated in some way, either on the train or in passing with persons who had the fever on them, but after all I think there is too much fear about the disease. As to the danger, there seems to be but little, for I have been told that over twelve hundred cases, first and last, have passed through the officials of this county and not a death has occurred.

Management of Cases

"But the principal thing about which I want to talk is the management of the cases. I am sure that no one intends to mislead anybody in representing the conditions and conveniences at the 'hospital,' for I was sure from the representation made to me that the place was equipped with every necessity and every convenience which I would have at my own home or I would not have gone, and that I would not lack for attention and comforts of that kind, but I presume that depends upon what some people call comforts. Now, I want to say that I do not reflect upon any personal employe by the county in this work, for I am sure that all of them are doing the best they can with what they have, and I am sure that I deserved no better than anyone else, and it is not from a personal standpoint I say these things, but I do believe that there should be a change or improvement for the benefit of the suffering humanity. And in order for the people to see, I can give only my experience.

"I expected a comfortable room, with nurses, furniture sufficient to make a sick person comfortable. I was placed in a room with two other men with the same disease, upon a bed that was not all lumps, but some holes. But it was the best the boys who are employed could do.

"I stood it for a few days until friends from the city made me more comfortable. This room was about 14 feet square. It had no screens when we first went there and we had flies in abundance. It is true we had nothing to do but to fight them—and we were kept employed from early morn until late at night. They were very kind, they only came 500 at a time. Perhaps this was best for us, it gave us something to do. This is the size of all the rooms and they were full and overflowing.

Only One Wash Basin

"We had one wash pan for the whole hospital; that was in the kitchen. I do not believe that as many as fifteen or twenty people ought to use the same wash pan, but still we did it and got along, and all used the same towel. Then I do not believe that the ladies ought to be forced to stay in the same building where the men stay, especially when the walls are just simply planks set up endways, without strips on them. Neither do I believe that the colored people ought to be under the same roof with the whites. Then I don't think that the two men who have all the cooking, washing of dishes, cleaning up and nursing to do, ought to be forced to do the work day and night of about six men; neither do I believe these young men, white men, ought to be forced to wait upon the colored people. There ought to be a man and his wife to look after the ladies and men who go there. There ought to be a colored nurse to look after the colored people.

"There ought to be bathing equipments and toilet equipments, sufficient to meet the demands. It may be we who go to such places don't deserve any better. I do not know who is responsible for these things. I was told while there that the commissioners had been out a few weeks before that, but of course they could not go inside and only saw from about a thirty-step distance, I presume. The boys said they were afraid they would scatter the disease.

"I am not complaining. I am very grateful that the county so generously gave me what it did, but I do believe that if such an institution must be carried on, there ought to be some improvements in the management of it.

"And while I am talking on this line, I will say that I believe that it was a great reflection on the Methodist church for one of her ministers or even a member of that church or any other church to be forced to go to a county institution for care in case of sickness or any other misfortune. I have no objection to any church equipping itself with the very finest building, best organ, most comfortable pews if it has the means to do so, but I do believe that it would be a great work for every denomination in a city like Fort Worth to put some money into a neat, comfortable home where their worthy poor, especially of their own church, could be cared for temporarily in case of distress. If there is such a place in Texas I know nothing of it; that is, where people who have no friends to pay physicians' fee, board and the comforts while they are in that condition. I visit, wherever I go, the poor farm and charity hospitals and I am sorry to say that almost in all of these I find some worthy people who are members of some of the leading churches. I believe that Christian people are better able to do this work than county officials. They do it from a sense of the duty and what they do is a great blessing. In fact, there would be a great suffering if the counties didn't do what they do.

"Now as to whether or not people should go to this hospital. I was asked while there and have been asked frequently that question. I say "no." I am a Methodist, and if I had known before I went out there what I do now, I would have called for help from the Methodists. If they had not responded I would have called on the Baptists, Christians, Catholics, Presbyterians, the Episcopalians, the Jews, and if none of them had responded, I would have called on the colored brethren. If they had not responded, I would have gotten the grand jury to hunt 'a beef trust' and ask them to help me, before I would have gone to that place.

"Now, as I have said before, this is not to reflect on any individual physician, nurse or any one else, but I know the facts.

"I was there twelve days, the physician came out twice during the twelve days, then once to see a lady who had gone there with her children and had a malarial attack. I don't know that it is any physician's place to go, but I was told that a physician would come and see me every day. I thought that if I had had a physician to advise me as to diet and other things I would have improved some, but may be not. At any rate, I, like all the others, have pulled through and am in a good humor with everybody and don't state these facts to reflect on any one, but just to let the people know.

"I am improving and hope soon to be able to do full work in rescuing the children and in helping all people whom I can in this life.

"Many thanks to all friends for their expressions of sympathy. The boys out there whom I met, who, if they were laboring men, were very good to me. In fact, we had a good time socially. They keep calling me up and seem to be interested in my case. They told me to tell everybody it was no longer a pest house now, but a regular smallpox hospital, and everybody must call it that. That suits my children exactly."

PASTOR LEAVES BAPTIST CHURCH

Resignation of Rev. C. A. Stewart Given Congregation

Rev. C. A. Stewart, pastor of the Broadway Baptist church, filed his resignation Wednesday night and the pulpit will be supplied Sunday morning and evening by Rev. O. L. Hailey of Texarkana, Texas. No action has been taken on the resignation of Dr. Stewart, but it is supposed that it will be accepted.

It is announced at the home of Dr. Stewart that he will enter evangelical work.

Action will be taken upon the resignation at the meeting of the congregation next Wednesday night.

Dr. Stewart preached his first sermon to the Broadway Baptist congregation Oct. 8, 1905. He came to the Broadway Baptist church after a year of evangelistic work in the states of Illinois, Missouri and Texas. He had been the past five months working throughout Texas. Previously he had been pastor of churches in South Omaha, Carthage, Mo., and elsewhere for eleven years. He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska; also taking his master's degree there. He is married and has four children.

Only last Sunday the new Broadway Baptist church, at St. Louis avenue and Broadway, was dedicated, the structure, one of the finest church edifices in the city, having been completed during his pastorate.

Announcement of his resignation comes as a surprise.

DeBeque Wins Case

In the case of city of Fort Worth vs. Frank DeBeque, appealed from the city court to the county court, Judge Robert F. Milam decided Friday afternoon that the city ordinance enacted to prevent the sale of intoxicants in theaters did not meet the requirements in DeBeque's case and he ordered a nolle pros to be entered. DeBeque was discharged.

DeBeque was convicted in the city court, it being testified that a door from the theater opened onto a garden that was between the theater and a bar where intoxicants were sold, and that if any patron of the theater wanted to buy a drink he would have to leave the theater building and pass through the garden outside in order to do so. The city court held that the theater, garden and bar being under the control of DeBeque and all connecting that fact made the three features on establishment, each being a part of the other. Judge Milam did not agree with this view of the city court and discharged DeBeque.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Officer T. J. Maben, affectionately known as "Uncle Tom," was Saturday morning the recipient of many promises of support in his race for justice of the peace in Precinct No. 1, place No. 1, that which is now held by John L. Terrell, who is making the race for the nomination for the position of Tarrant county judge. Officer Maben's announcement was made late Friday afternoon and came as a surprise to many, although he has been urged to offer for the position for some time. He is the dean of the police department of Fort Worth and held the office of constable in Precinct No. 1 for four years.

Police Officer Allgood, at the Fort Worth Texas and Pacific station, between 1 and 2 o'clock Saturday morning had his attention called to a young stranger in the station who was vigorously shaking the radiators of that building in evident vexation, saying:

"Make music; why don't you play? Get busy; smoke up; come across; we want to hear some tunes and, if we can't get it, we can do fighting!"

Approaching the young countryman, the officer asked: "What in the world is the matter with you, friend?" to which the man replied: "These phonographs around here stopped playing music 'bout midnight and I've been shaking them up to make the suckers begin again."

The stranger was escorted to police headquarters and detained until 8 o'clock, when, seeing that the man had regained his wonted strength of mind and soberness of purpose, the officer released him, for all of which the young fellow expressed gratitude and went his way in peace.

MAY CLOSE EARLIER

Barber Shops Consider Request of the Union Employes

It was stated Saturday that all but two of the barber shops of the city have agreed to the earlier closing hours proposed by the union barbers.

The organization asks that the time be made 7 o'clock, while it is said opposition is based on the belief that customers will require later hours.

Final action will likely be taken at the meeting of the Barbers' Union to be held Tuesday night. It is unlikely, however, that any strong action will be taken, as even should the shops still refusing remain firm, but a percentage of the men would be affected.

ELECTRIC STORM VISITS CITY

Heavy Lightning But No Rainfall Experienced

About 2 o'clock Saturday morning a remarkable electrical display and thunderstorm passed over Fort Worth, the strange feature of the disturbance being the absence of rainfall and the peculiar warmth of the atmosphere, with the deadly calm following the burst of thunder and lightning. No damage was reported from the wind here.

The thermometer went to 89 degrees at 2 o'clock Saturday morning, that point being the highest temperature registered here during the official weather day, while the lowest was 69 degrees.

Report of weather conditions along railway lines Saturday morning was as follows: East, clear to Marshall; west, clear to Big Springs; north, clear to Whitesboro.

Along the track of the Denver Road the weather was reported to be generally clear and calm. At 7 o'clock Saturday morning temperature at Texline and Amarillo was reported to be 53 degrees, while at Childress the temperature was 50 degrees, and at Wichita Falls 62 degrees.

Regulation "dope sheet" for this part of the state for Sunday indicates partly cloudy weather (the weather man has the "nerve" to announce probable showers, also; and the Panthers play Greenville here Sunday), but rain is not announced for the vicinity of Fort Worth.

Official report of the general weather conditions follows:

"The low barometer area is over the middle Mississippi valley this morning; also another 'low' is in the northwest. The combined disturbances resulting in rain over the valleys of both the Mississippi and the Missouri, and in the northwest, especially Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Nevada, Montana and Utah. Snow is falling this morning at Bismark and Havre.

"High barometer prevails in the upper Missouri, freezing weather being present on the Canadian border.

"The cotton states are partly cloudy to cloudy, and showers have been noted in all the cotton states. Rain is falling at San Antonio this morning, and showers in the state have been numerous since last report."

COLOR LINE IS DRAWN

Presbyterian Assembly Would Divide Negro and White

By Associated Press.

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 26.—The color line was sharply drawn and the negro question came squarely to the surface in the Presbyterian general assembly here for the first time today. The committee on church policy submitted a report recommending the erection of a synod in Alabama to include the Presbyteries of Birmingham, Levere and Rogersville, to be known as the synod of Chattanooga.

These Presbyteries are now included in the synod of Tennessee. Other Presbyteries in the synod are French-Broad, Holston, Kingston and Union. The Presbyteries of Birmingham, Levere and Rogersville are composed of negro churches. The others are composed of white churches.

The purpose of the committee was to divide the races. No sooner had the report been submitted than Russell Taylor, a negro minister of Levere, and one of the commissioners to the assembly from that Presbytery took the floor. He violently opposed the proposed synod, on the ground that the three Presbyteries specified were not numerically strong enough or well enough versed in church law to assume the functions and duty of a synod.

The members of the committee spoke for the erection of the synod, carefully avoiding the race question and emphasizing the claim that each of the three Presbyteries had asked such action.

After a spirited discussion, in which the negro commissioner received the majority of applause, it was unanimously voted to refer the whole subject to the assembly of 1907.

NEGRO KILLS WHITE

Employer Shot Down in Cold Blood by Farm Hand

By Associated Press.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 26.—In Tipton county, Tenn., ten miles south of Covington, yesterday afternoon Jack Biddle, a young white man was shot to death by Bob Williams, colored. Biddle was manager of the farm and the negro worked for him. He went to the negro's house to remonstrate with him for not working, when he was attacked by Williams and his brothers. The negroes made their escape and if caught will probably be summarily dealt with, as the feeling is strong against them.

He states that a woman about two miles south of Italy was attacked by a negro, who sprang at her while in the back yard and caught her by the arms. She struggled and screamed, arousing her husband, who came to the door. The negro then threw a stone at her and made his escape.

HOW TO FIND OUT

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains the linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it, or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, and a book that tells all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing be sure to mention that you read this generous offer in The Fort Worth Daily Telegram. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

TALIAFERRO CASE WITH GRAND JURY

Woman Arraigned on Murder Charge Friday

EXAMINATION IS WAIVED

Bond of $2500 With Consent of Assistant County Attorney in Proceedings Before Justice Rowland

Mrs. Aelo Taliaferro, charged with the murder of J. S. Cree, her brother-in-law at 829 Humboldt street Saturday night, May 19, was officially arraigned Friday afternoon, the examining trial being held by Justice C. T. Rowland. Those expecting to hear testimony at the hearing were disappointed, a waiver being entered.

Mrs. Taliaferro appeared in court accompanied by her attorney, Tom M. Hamilton of Waco, the state being represented by R. E. L. Roy, first assistant county attorney. A short consultation was held by the defendant and state's attorney as to the amount of bond which was agreed upon and a waiver of examining trial was entered, the bond being set at $2,500.

The papers in the case were sent to the grand jury Saturday morning.

Atorney Hamilton for the defense stated to a Telegram reporter that Mrs. Taliaferro will be able to make bond as required by Justice Rowland.

LOCAL LIVE STOCK NEWS

CATTLE NOT FAT

Grass Too Soft in South Texas, Following Heavy Rains

R. A. Serna of San Antonio, commonly called Bob Serna by his friends and to which name he will answer most readily, came in with a train of cattle from south Texas.

"I never saw grass any finer than it is now down in that section," he said, "and there has been a lot of rain all out west. Catttle are not fat, however, owing to the drouth we had in the early spring and now to the green grass which is not strengthening. I am sure that one thing is causing the market to decline, and that is that there is no fat cattle being marketed. I know fat cattle and while those sent to market are in pretty fair condition, yet they are not fat in the market sense of the word. The trouble with my steers is that water gave out in one of my tanks and the stock had to walk five miles to grass each day and five miles back, and no cattle can take on fat who have to do this much walking. Cotton is looking well and corn is fine and the recent rains have made things hustle. There is no sickness of any kind among cattle that I have heard of, and the crop of calves will be good. Father is well, has given up his ranch to us boys and now lives in town. He is an old-timer; was captured by the Comanches when he was only 8 years old, where Waco now stands, in 1841, and was held for seven months. He escaped finally while he was horse herding and made his way to the settlements."

TERRITORY GRASS SAPPY

Rain Has Made Growth in Kiowa Country Rapid

Will Corn passed through Fort Worth this week from his ranch in the territory to his home in Tarrant. "We have had a lot of rain up around Kiowa, not too much exactly, but enough to stop work a little while. Grass is exceedingly fine and although a little sappy, still it puts fat on the stock. I have a lot of cattle that I bought down here and shipped up to the territory to grass and they gained 2¼ pounds every day they staid, some twenty-five days. I shipped the steers to St. Louis and sold them and they were in good fix. I have some 4,000 acres of pasture, about enough to carry 1,200 head of stock. The grass is making good hay this year and there is thousands of tons of it to be had just for the trouble of cutting it. The whole country looks good and no doubt it will prove a banner year. I am going down to the ranch to see father and look around a little. The stock in the territory are in good shape, with no diseases among them that have developed as yet, and on the whole the crop of calves ought to be a good one."

RAIN IN WEST TEXAS

Weather Has Been Too Cold to Fatten Cattle

Odessa was represented on the exchange this week by W. N. Waddell, who is a live cowman and does not think the Live Stock Exchange and the commission houses are quite so very terrible as the lawyers seem to make them out.

"When I left home a few days ago we had had rains off and on every two or three days and things were all right. I boarded the train this time at Colorado City, having been up above Snyder, receiving some stuff that I had bought from Johnson. It rained a hard rain at Colorado and the whole country above there was wet. We will have a good strong average calf crop this year. Never saw better calves as to quality and quantity. Grass is extra fine, but it is a little too sappy and the weather has been too cold for the cattle, and in consequence the stock are not fattenin as fast as they would on the same grass under different conditions. There is nothing troubling us now particularly and we can give a hand to help our friends, the commission men, in their trouble. There is nothing of the disease kind troubling our stock that I have heard of, and I would have been sure to hear bad news if there was any traveling around the range. Bad news always gets around away ahead of good, as all stockmen can verify."

WHITE FARMERS SELLING

Negroes Buying Small Tracts in Harrison County

D. W. Dupree, a former resident of Marshall, Harrison county, but now of Fort Worth, arrived in the city and will assume the cashier's duties in the North Fort Worth National Bank as soon as it is ready to open.

"Harrison county," he said, "has had her quota of rain, and probably more than her share. You can always tell how we are affected in that line from the amount of rain that falls here in Fort Worth. The more you have the more falls upon us. The prospects for the crops are good at this time, but as there are very few white farmers left in the county there is no telling what may turn up before the season is over. A large majority of our white farmers have sold out their lands and other holdings and gone west. They cut their holdings up into small lots of about 40 acres and sold it to negroes on long time, and left, as they say, for a 'white man's country.' Those who have staid are those who like the association in work that the negroes give and having been ued to it all their lives they don't mind some of the inconveniences of the system. Yes, there is a good bit of bermuda grass planted in our county and it is a kind of salvation grass for the stock farmer. It would be a great thing if all stock farmers could be induced to give this southern grass a fair trial, for it would help solve the problem of stock farming in Texas."

CHINCH BUGS IN GRAIN

Chickasha Feeder Says Insects Are Reported

C. E. Atkinson, the Chickasha feeder, was around the stock yards and exchange looking over things with a very attentive eye to anything good in the shape of steers. He reported enough rain for all purposes, both as respected stock and crops, and that grass was fine and small grain never better, although there was some talk of smut and rust together with chinch bugs. Too much rain just now would be damaging to most everything except probably corn. Chickasha has not had as much rain as north Texas has had by a good deal, but it has had a plenty. Cattle are doing amazingly and are fattening fast. Altogether there is nothing wrong to report."

RAIN AT MONAHANS

West Texas Country Gets Good Season

C. D. Lewis, a Monahans stockman, had no bad news to report, but said that matters out his way were as good as could be.

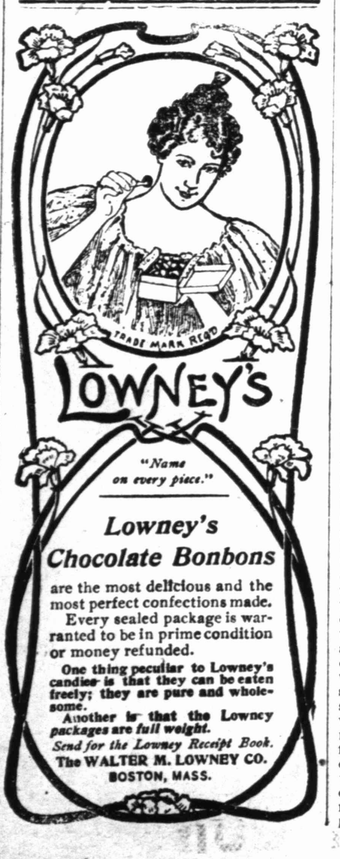

"We have had a lot of rain," said he, "and it has fallen just right, and it looks like it would keep the lick up all summer. Grass is just as fine as a cowman could wish and one would be hard to satisfy if he kicked. Cattle are getting fat, although so much moisture has made the grass a little sappy and then the cold chilly weather which people down in Fort Worth do not feel as distinctly as we do at out altitude, makes the cattle slow to take fat. Take it all together, though, this season is about as good as we have had for some years. There are no diseases at all reported among cattle and the calf crop will be a good one, and the young ones be a fine healthy lot."

FRIDAY IN CONGRESS

The senate passed the agricultural appropriation bill, carrying $78,800,000, and added to it as an amendment the bill providing for inspection of fresh meats intended for domestic consumption.

It requires that acceptable meats shall be labeled and authorizes the destruction of condemned products. It also authorizes inspection of all animals before they enter the packing houses, and requires that those establishments shall be maintained in a saritary condition, gives the inspectors access to all departments of them, and forbids interstate commerce in fresh meats which are not marked by the inspector. The expense of the inspection is to be borne by the owners and a fine of $10,000 and imprisonment for two years are fixed as penalties for violation. The bill authorizing the government of the Philippine islands to change the weight and fineness of silver in the Philippine peso to correspond with the rise of silver was passed. Other bills passed were: Opening for settlement 505,000 acres of land in Kiowa, Comanche and Apache reservations in Oklahoma. Authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Tallahatchie river in Tallahatchie county, Mississippi. The sea level Panama canal bill was made the unfinished business. The message of the house declining to accept the senate amendments to the railroad rate bill was received, but the senate conferees were not named.

House—A question of veracity was raised between Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin and Mr. Hepburn of Iowa over a conversation in which the latter is said to have participated with a senator and in which Mr. Cooper asserted Mr. Hepburn and the senator agreed that the so-called "express company amendment" to the railroad rate bill should be set aside. Mr. Hepburn and Mr. Cooper became angry and glared at each other fiercely. The house was turbulent during the consideration of the rule sending the rate bill to conference, as many of the members feared the rule to disagree to the senate amendments en bloc might give the conferees an opportunity to vote out the express company, pipe line and sleeping car amendments. With the assurance that the wishes of the house would be considered in all the amendments, the rule was adopted, twenty-five republicans voting with the democrats, taking the position that they would like to vote in favor of concurring in senate amendments. The remainder of the day was devoted to pension legislation.

MAN ABOUT TOWN.

Gordon S. Bowdish of Wichita, Kan., connected with the Southwestern Flour and Grain Journal, which is published at Wichita, was among the visitors brought together through the meeting of the Grain Dealers' Association in Fort Worth. "We are having a fine time and shall return home delighted with our trip," said he. "There was a big meeting at Oklahoma City Wednesday night. Kansas conditions are not of the very best at this time; I mean from a stock and grain dealer's point of view. There has been too much rain with us and the farmers have not been able to do that justice to their crops that a good stock farmer always tries to do. It is getting so late that there is very little time for planting corn now, and the wheat and oats are not nearly so good as they ought to be. Cattle are in very good condition as grass is good, but unless there is a good crop of corn made the chances for sucessful cattle season will be much below par. This is my first trip to Texas, and it seems to me that everything here is better than with us. Oklahoma seems to be in the best condition of any, for it has not for some reason rained as much within her borders as it has either in Texas or Kansas. Fort Worth is a good town sure and will no doubt continue to grow, as it is the center of the stock interests, the grain interests and is a railroad center besides. There is a good country around the city that will no doubt support a large urban population in time and that always makes for the betterment of the conditions of a city.

ORIGIN OF THE TERM MAVERICK

The expression "maverick" is a Texas phrase, and from continued use among cattlemen has come into quite general use. It is a most expressive phrase and usually fits the occasion to a nicety. A group of Texas cattlemen had met in the cafe of a downtown hotel after having disposed of their cattle at a profitable figure out at the stock yards, and the conversation gradually drifted to topics connected with the range. The cowmen were in royal good humor and some of the stories they told of incidents along the border of the Llano Estacado were of a really startling nature. "I will bet there is not one in this bunch that knows how the term 'maverick' originated," spoke up one of the group from out on the Pecos, laying his broad-brimmed white hat down in an argumentative manner. Some of them offered on explanation and others another, but they did not satisfy the man who laid down the original challenge.

"You are all wrong," he said, "and if you will listen a minute I will tell you. You know that the term is applied where cattle of various owners promiscuously mingle on the common range; that is to say, where fencing is not the common rule. The cows bear the brand of the owner and the calves are known by the brands of the cows. Calves are branded as soon as found, but invariably some are not found and branded in time. The calf, becoming independent, soon leaves the cows and sets up in business for himself. If unbranded, who is the owner? Who can tell? It becomes impossible to determine the ownership. But right here one thing does happen—the unbranded calf adopts a name and is known as 'a maverick,' meaning 'nobody's calf.' Now, how did—how could this term originate? Why, simply enough—through the inattention of a cattle owner by the name of Maverick, who was known in a wide region of Southwest Texas for not branding more than one-third of his calves and leaving the other two-thirds to become the common property of the range.

"The Hon. Samuel A. Maverick, a citizen of San Antonio, Texas, was during 1845 temporarily residing at Decrow's Point, on Matagorda bay. During that year a neighbor, being indebted to Mr. Maverick in the sum of $1,200, paid the debt in cattle, transferring 400 animals at $3 per head. Cattle were cheap in those days, the hides only being cashable in foreign markets. Mr. Maverick did not want the cattle, but saw it was a case of cattle or nothing, and he passively received them and left them in charge of a colored family, nominally slave but essentially free, while he and his family returned to San Antonio. Here, as before, under the distinguished management of the colored family, who really were not to blame, as they had no interest in the outcome, the cattle were left to graze, to fatten, to multiply and to wander away.

"Mr. Maverick was absorbed in real estate, and no doubt enjoyed the reflection that he was not incumbered by either the cattle or their managers. About one-third of the calves were branded, and the branding iron was kept so cold and rusty that in 1856 the entire Planter brand was estimated at only 400 head, the original number. To the ingenious-minded the explanation will occur when it is stated that the branding of the 'mavericks' was perfectly square in those days, although the occupation had not been distinctively named. To restate it, the cows wore brand ornaments, the calves were unadorned. Becoming independent and straying off, the calves soon found the requisite ornamentation.

"Now, the neighbors shrewdly surmised those calves to be Maverick's, and so they called them 'mavericks'—but did they continue to recognize them as such? Ah, no; they hastened to burn into their tender hides their own brands, and the beasts were Maverick's (mavericks) no longer. No owner could know his own cattle on the range except by the brand, and so the first brand settled the question of ownership. Thus the unbranded stray calves in those days were dubbed 'mavericks,' for they were most likely Maverick's, at least in that neck of the woods.

"About the year 1856, after eleven years of experience in the cattle business, Mr. Maverick sold the entire brand, 400 head, to A. Teutant Beauregard, a brother of the distinguished general. Mr. Beauregard, however, paid him $6 per head, and Mr. Maverick retired from the venture, thoroughly experienced against similar investments, but with an apparent profit of 100 per cent, and the unique distinction of having his name bestowed upon a very dear friend of the human race. Mr. Maverick had a distinguished record in Texas. He was a member of General Sam Houston's army, and was elected a member from San Antonio of the first congress of the republic and was captured by the Mexican army. He died in 1870."

THE MAN BEHIND THE SIX-SHOOTER

The cheerful six-shooter and the death inspiring shotgun are still doing business down in South Texas, and Waller county is to the front again with another fusillade of the usual character.—Fort Worth Telegram.

Texas is making such rapid business strides and is attracting so much attention by her progress in many ways that it is a pity she cannot make those "men behind the guns" feel less cheerful over their "fusillades of the usual character." Meanwhile it is only fair to say that New York might witness less of that sort of thing with advantage.—New York Herald.

There is one peculiarity about these tragic incidents that happen so frequently in Texas, and that is they are usually located in the very heart of the oldest settled portion of the state. There was a time when West Texas was regarded as the frontier and the natural habitat of bad men with a propensity for dying with their boots on, but that time has passed. A new epoch has dawned for that section, and it is probably due largely to its cosmopolitan population. Men of thrift and enterprise have been attracted to that portion of Texas and have carried with them a cool and level headedness that has worked a wonderful transformation. It is no longer regarded as just the proper thing to shoot up a town or make an addition to one's private graveyard before breakfast out in what was once the most turbulent portion of the state.

The hot blood in Texas that is so quick to get into action behind a gun appears from this fact to be largely confined to the native element. And this native element comes from fighting stock. They are nine times out of ten direct descendants of men who were at Goliad, Bexar, San Jacinto and other bloody fields of carnage. These native born Texans are the ones who the most often convert themselves into walking arsenals and go around with a chip on their shoulders. Perhaps they are not to blame so much after all, for they come from a fighting line, are quick to resent an insult and belong to the old regime who have always considered it eminently proper to bring their shooting irons into action on the very slightest provocation.

Still, there is too much of this kind of business going on all the time in Texas. There are too many men going about continually with a hog-leg stuck under the tails of their coats, or in the waistband of their trousers. These six-shooter devotees are a constant menace in the communities in which they reside and are continually provoking trouble. If the only harm they did was confined to themselves it would not be so bad, for in that event the race would soon be exterminated. But every one of these unfortunate instances are eagerly seized upon by sensational newspapers throughout the country and paraded as evidence of the desperate lawlessness that prevails in Texas. And as the Herald suggests, Texas is growing so fast as to be an object of envy in states less fortunately situated. There is a general desire in the older states to stem the tide of immigration that is constantly pouring into the state, and these six-shooter incidents are quickly paraded for all they are worth in that direction.

What is best to do with the man so quick to get behind the gun is a problem in New York as well as in Texas. Down here we are trying to solve it by giving each man caught with one of these things in his possession the full limit of the law, and the limit of the law as it is now administered in Texas usually includes both fines and imprisonment. It is believed the new law now in effect and being so impartially administered in nearly every portion of the state will exert a very salutary influence in that direction, and under existing circumstances the only thing that can be done is to make an object lesson out of every offender.

Texas millers estimate the wheat crop now in sight in Texas at about 15,000,000 bushels, and $15,000,000 added to the excellent figures realized from the late cotton crop ought to put the farmers of Texas in position to keep the wolf from baying about the door. And the oat crop this year is also unusually good. Reports from every section of the state indicate a very large yield.

The alacrity with which the Waters-Pierce Oil Company moved its Texas offices from Marshall to Shreveport, La., immediately following the assurance from Attorney General Davidson that he had what he went east after, may be simply a matter of coincidence, but it looks very much like somebody is getting scared.

Fort Worth may make an effort to secure another packing house. Another enterprise of this nature would not only be a benefit to the Panther City, but to the stock raisers of the surrounding country as well.—Alvarado Bulletin.

Fort Worth will secure several additional packing houses in the near future. The success of the two great plants already in operation here is ample guaranty in that direction.

The state democratic executive committee will meet in Austin June 11, to determine, among other things, the place to hold the next state convention. Austin, Waco, Mineral Wells and Dallas are contesting with Fort Worth for the honor of being the place. It will be a good big company of men and it may need a city as large as Fort Worth to care for them. If Waco can do it, we would be glad to see it go there.—Gilmer Mirror.

Fort Worth is better prepared than any other city in Texas to properly provide for the big state convention, and is the most accessible of all Texas cities. The convention should come here.

Bread from cotton seed hulls was served at a dinner given the Cotton Seed Crushers at Atlanta a few days ago. Bread from the hulls, oil and butter from the kernels, clothing from the lint and paper from the stalks makes the cotton plant one to stick to.—Austin Tribune.

There are a great many things that bread can be made of, but it isn't. But perhaps the new idea will find favor in another direction. There is no reason on earth why cotton seed hulls with the lint on them for a whiskery adornment, should not be served up as a new and palatable breakfast food.

The candidates are shelling the woods six months in advance of the election, and this six months will be a period of unrest and disturbance and interruption of business and all that makes the election year one to be dreaded by the business elements of the country. Oh, that the day were come in which national elections happened only once in six years and state elections once in four years, and no man in state or county office eligible to re-election. Then would the land laugh and grow fat, and the politicians grow lean in purse and peter out.—San Antonio Light.

Some of the candidates have been shelling the woods for more than a year, and that is probably the reason they are now unable to provoke any enthusiasm. The people have grown nauseated with the constant political turmoil and are turning to their own peaceful pursuits, leaving the candidates to wonder what is really going to happen.

Ask your candidate for county judge or county commissioner if he is going to accept free transportation over the railroads, should he be elected to office. Now is your only opportunity to put them on record, and on record they should go; and if they refuse, mark them "dangerous," and leave them at home.—Tyler Courier.

There are numbers of men serving as county commissioners in Texas for no other purpose than to secure advantage of the free transportation furnished them by the railways. It is a pity, but it is nevertheless a cold-blooded fact.

All of the Fort Worth papers are favoring Judge C. K. Bell's candidacy for governor. That speaks well for Judge Bell, but it would be a poor candidate the majority of whose neighbors would not support him for an office if he was worthy and competent.—Denton News.

And the candidate is both worthy and competent. The Telegram was the first daily paper in Texas to espouse Judge Bell's cause, and The Telegram is supporting him from the fact it realizes he is the best qualified man in the fight that is being made before the people.

A young lady of Robert Lee, tired of home and parents, decided last Sunday to go out in the world for herself. She is but 17 years of age and had but scant acquaintance with the cold, outside world. She left Robert Lee and came to San Angelo on the stage. Here she was found Tuesday by city officers and sent back to her home. She claimed that her mother had spanked and ill-treated her.—San Angelo Standard.

A young lady 17 years of age that is spanked by her mother must be very naughty or have a very unnatural mother. But home is the best place for the unprotected girls, and none of them should yield to an inclination to get out and buffet with the waves of the outside world. That proceeding is too dangerous.

"CONSUMPTION IS CURABLE" U. S.

New Federal Order Makes Assertion

CAMPAIGN IS OUTLINED

Rules for Employes and Home Advice for Use of All Issued in Official Communication

"Prevention of Tuberculosis Among Government Employes" is the title of a pamphlet received at the Fort Worth federal building.

This publication contains a set of regulations to prevent the spread of the great white plague in the offices and workshops of Uncle Sam; advice to be of use in the homes of people afflicted with consumption and a short essay under the caption "Consumption Is Curable."

Here are some of the rules to be observed by federal employes, the nonobservance of which, it is set forth, will be considered by the heads of departments as sufficient cause for summary removal:

Rules for Employes

No spitting on floors.

Entire building cleaned once every day.

No cleaning during working hours.

Cuspidors cleaned with hot water.

Cuspidors must contain water.

Clean with duster instead of brooms.

Scour tiled floors with soap and water.

Arrange for fresh air in all rooms.

Allow God's sunshine to shine into buildings.

Use individual drinking glasses.

Separate consumptives from other employes.

Consumptives must use individual cuspidors, drinking glasses, soap and towels.

Rule No. 11 of this code, in full, is as follows:

"Plainly printed notices, reading as follows: 'Do not spit on the floor; to do so may spread disease,' shall be prominently posted in rooms, hallways, corridors and lavatories of public buildings."

Home Advice

In the home advice for consumptives, Uncle Sam very nearly approaches the method adopted by faith healing in the treatment of all diseases in that the pamphlet directly proposes the self-treatment, the last of the fifteen directions being, "Be hopeful and expect a cure."

This home-self-administered treatment, as stated, admonishes all who are stricken with the dread lung trouble, be they "rich or poor." The patient is informed that "there is no known ingredient that can cure consumption." Fresh air in the sleeping room, day and night, is strongly recommended as imperative not only to the weak and the afflicted, but also to those who expect to remain strong and well. The advice is proffered that the sufferer "lead a temperate life in all things."

One of the most striking rules recommended to be observed by those troubled with a weakness of the pulmonary organs is as follows:

"Scrupulously avoid dust, disorder, dampness, darkness and bad air in your home."

Consumption Curable

In thus promulgating a set of ironclad rules for the observance of government employes, as well as giving expert advice for the use of consumptives in their homes, the United States government says:

"To stamp out tuberculosis it is necessary for every one to participate in the recognized sanitary rules for preventing this deadly disease."

Probably a more complete statement covering the ground occupied by consumption than this publication issued by the authority and at the direct orders of President Roosevelt cannot be found, yet the entire publication covers only twelve small sheets.

Dallas Merchant Comes to Fort Worth to Catch Train

Edward Armentrout, a Dallas business man, was in Fort Worth Saturday morning, en route from Dallas to Hebron, a small town on the Santa Fe, sixteen miles north of Dallas. When asked why he came to Fort Worth to go to Hebron he said:

"There is no other way to go. There is no railroad from Dallas to Hebron on which I could ride, so I had to come to Fort Worth and get a train here, traveling about seventy miles in order to get to a town sixteen miles from Dallas. Fact of the matter is, a man can get a train at Fort Worth for any place on earth."

STREET PAVING GENERAL DEMAND

Citizens Express Preference for Asphalt in Work

Additional expressions of street paving opinions of residents along Hemphill street, proposition for the paving of which from Magnolia avenue to the south city limits has been made, bear out the statement that the desire for the improvement meets with the approval of all, with few exceptions.

Statements made to The Telegram are:

J. O. Wright, 2100 Hemphill street—I am in favor of brick pavement. Anyone can see why we want paving.

B. Baumgartner, 2024 Hemphill street—I am in favor of asphalt pavement. Paving would make Hemphill street the finest boulevard of Fort Worth.

H. P. Scott, 2016 Hemphill street—I am in favor of the asphalt. Think of how much more our property would be worth with paving.

C. M. Brown, 2012 Hemphill street—Increase property values. I believe that asphalt is the best material for a residence street.

R. E. Nethery, 1924 Hemphill street—Asphalt. We need the improvements, street paving and sidewalks.

Professor W. D. Williams, 1912 Hemphill street—We need a good street, which will enhance our property values. Asphalt.

W. F. Randall, 1900 Hemphill street—We have to have our street paved to keep abreast with the growth of Fort Worth. Asphalt.

J. C. Jahns, 1824 Hemphill street—Asphalt. I am democratic on the question of improvements.

S. E. Jackson, 1804 Hemphill street—I have 150 feet here that I want paved with asphalt.

A. E. Newell, 1626 Hemphill street—I am in favor of asphalt. I believe the street car company should build concrete walls to support their rails instead of wood ties.

Hugh H. Lewis, 1608 Hemphill street—I want asphalt. There is a great need for paving Hemphill street, especially in wet weather.

William A. Cobb, 1602 Hemphill street—I am in favor of paving with asphalt.

F. E. Dycus, 1604 Hemphill street—Asphalt.

OIL MILLS PROSPER

Fort Worth Capital in South Texas Institutions

Announcement has been made that the annual meeting of the Brownwood, Dublin, Stephenville and Hico oil mills was held at Brownwood, Wednesday, May 23, with the attendance of Winfield Scott, E. B. Harrold and C. H. Bencini.

Election of officers was held, old officers being elected, excepting that C. H. Bencini was elected vice president, treasurer and general manager. Mr. Bencini takes stock in the mills to the amount of $49,000. The mills are in good condition and statement was made that they paid a dividend of 10 per cent last year.

Reported sale of the stock of Mrs. Winfield Scott to the amount of $16,800 to Mr. Bencini is declared incorrect by Mrs. Scott.

Arlington Heights Line Circulates Petition

ROSEN LINE INTERESTED

Extension by That Company Will Not Be Made if Other Franchise Is Granted and Road Built

A street railway war on the south side may be in full action within a short time. As previously announced in The Telegram, the Rosen Heights Company has under consideration a line through that part of the city and petitions now being circulated show designs upon the same territory by the Arlington Heights Traction Company.

Petition now being circulated by the Arlington Heights Company shows that they desire a belt in the southwestern part of the city, connection being made with the present line at Texas and Burnett streets.

This will give the company the line as now operated to the city hall and two loops. One loop for which franchise is already held will go down Throckmorton street to Fifteenth, crossing to the Santa Fe and Houston and Texas Central station, running north on Jones street to Ninth and back to a city hall connection over Ninth street and past Carnegie library.

The route of the south side line for which a franchise referendum will be asked is given as follows:

Commencing on Texas street at the intersection of Burnett street, thence to run south on Burnett street to North street, thence west on North street to Huffman street; thence south on Huffman street to Jarvis street, thence east on Jarvis street to Wheeler street, thence south on Wheeler street to Pennsylvania avenue, thence west on Pennsylvania avenue to College avenue, thence south on College avenue to Laurel street, near the Chase property; thence east on Laurel street to St. Louis avenue, then north on St. Louis avenue to Tucker street, thence west on Tucker street to Jennings avenue, north on Jennings avenue to Peter Smith street, thence west on Peter Smith street to Wheeler street and to form a junction at Wheeler street.

Sam Rosen of the Rosen Heights Traction Company, when informed of the Arlington Heights petition Saturday morning, said if the Arlington Heights Company built the line as proposed the Rosen Heights Company will not build as contemplated.

The official proposed route of the Rosen Heights Company has not been issued, but it is understood to cover much of the territory included in that sought by the Arlington Heights line.

It is also known that definite action was in contemplation by the Rosen Heights Company within two weeks at the outside.

W. C. T. U. PLANS AN INSTITUTE

County Gathering to Be Held at Rosen Heights

Friday, June 8, will witness the opening of the W. C. T. U. county institute at Rosen Heights. The state president, Mrs. Ellen Stoddard, will be in Fort Worth to participate in the opening ceremonies of the institute and also to take an interest in mission day work.

The Central Woman's Christian Temperance Union met Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, when arrangements for the institute and the yearly mission day, to be held this year June 9, were made.

The W. C. T. U. will hold services at all jails and will also distribute scripture texts for hospitals, homes and other benevolent institutions.

LONGWORTHS TO SAIL

Representative and Bride Will Leave June 2 for England

Special to The Telegram.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth have decided upon details of their forthcoming European trip only to the extent that they will visit Whitelaw Reid, ambassador to Great Britain, and Mrs. Reid in England, and will later pay a visit to Mr. Longworth's sister, the Viscountess re Chambrun, in Paris.

They will sail on June 2, and, returning, will sail about the first week in August. This will bring Mr. Longworth home in plenty of time to look after his political fences in Cincinnati, where he is a candidate for re-election to congress.

In every country which they visit, and this will include most of the important nations of Northern Europe, Mr. and Mrs. Longworth will be entertained by royalty, and it is thought inevitable that diplomatic significance will be attached to their doings. Although in the United States Mrs. Longworth is simply the wife of an Ohio congressman, and holds no official position by virtue of being the daughter of the President, it has already been found vain to try to divest the minds of European diplomats of the thought that in a sense she represents the United States government.

Throughout her trip to the Orient with the Taft party last year, when she was Miss Roosevelt, she was accorded all the honors due a visiting princess.

Emperor William will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Longworth in Germany. The year she made her debut in society Miss Roosevelt christened the emperor's yacht Meteor at New York. The hospitality of the German imperial court will be doubly hers on this account.

POST OFFICE TO EXTEND SERVICE

Letter Carriers to Handle Registered Mail

Postmaster L. M. Barkley of this city Saturday morning made the announcement that the postoffice department will soon have the arrangements complete for the taking up by mail carriers of registered parcels and letters from all parts of the city, instead of only in the residence section, as heretofore has been the rule. Mr. Barkley said:

"According to a general order issued from the department at Washington, we will soon be in a position to have mail carriers handle registered matter in every part of the city. Heretofore the carriers have only registered packages and letters from the residence parts of the city, but the arrangement now is to have this kind of mail matter taken up from all parts of the city alike, to assist people who desire to register matter, but who often do not do so because they cannot spare the time to come, or send an employe to the postoffice."

Safe of the bank was blown to small pieces and the fixtures were practically demolished. A part of the safe door was hurled clear across the street by the force of the explosion. M. H. THOMAS PRESIDENT

Elected by Dallas Commercial Club Succeeding Alex Sanger

Special to The Telegram.

DALLAS, Texas, May 26.—Alex Sanger, who was elected president of the Dallas Commercial Club at the last meeting, offered his resignation Thursday at a meeting of the directors. It was accepted with regret.

Mr. Sanger said the press of private business made it impossible for him to accept the presidency of the Commercial Club, as he feared any added work might serve to impair his health.

Mike H. Thomas, the first vice president, was chosen to be president of the club. F. F. Sliney was suggested for the first vice presidency to succeed Mr. Thomas, but declined. The name was withdrawn and, by acclamation, J. Howard Ardrey was named. Fred Fleming was then chosen to succeed Mr. Ardrey on the directory.

A DIFFERENCE IN LUNGS.

In the Edinburgh University three human lungs lie side by side. One is of an Eskimo and is snow white. In life, this would be ruddy with rich blood. Another is that of a coal-miner and is black. The other is of a town dweller and is a dirty slate gray, as are the lungs of most city residents. That's why consumption thrives in cities.

One reason why Scott's Emulsion does so much to keep down consumption is because it helps to keep the lungs clean and supplies them with rich, red blood. It makes the lungs germ-resisting. If the body is run down and health is at a low ebb Scott's Emulsion will build it up quickly and permanently.

AMUSEMENTS

"Fra Diavolo" was sung before a well-satisfied audience at the White Rose Theater in the White City at Rosen Heights Friday night by the Beggar Prince Opera Company. The company, headed by F. A. Wade, is one of the best light opera organizations which ever visited Fort Worth, and most of its members have been heard here one time or another as principals in light or comic opera productions. At last night's production Miss Gertrude Hutcheson, soprano, pleased especially well. The Beggar Prince Opera Company has a well balanced chorus, a good orchestra, and its performances have been characterized by a faithful adherence to all details necessary for a standard performance. On two evenings this week no performances were given on account of rain, but it is hoped that the full bill can be given next week, which will be the last of the company's stay in Fort Worth.

For the benefit of those who are unfamiliar with the company's work, it can be said that as a singing organization it is superior to most of the light opera companies which visited Fort Worth during all last winter, ranking in the class of the familiar Savage light opera organizations. F. A. Wade is one of the best singing comedians ever heard on a Fort Worth stage.

Tonight the bill will be the ever-popular "Olivette."

Skating Track Ready

A feature of tonight's attractions at the White City will be the opening of the new open-air skating track. This is a circular floor of maple wood surrounding the base of the band stand in the center of the White City concessions. The floor is enclosed by only a railing, and has no roof, permitting skaters to enjoy genuine open-air sport. The big figure-eight at the White City will be ready for use in a few days and the immense lake is nearing completion.

STUDENTS SHOW PRACTICAL WORK

Nature Course and Manual Training Exhibit Held

A flower show was held at the high school building from 4 to 5 o'clock Friday afternoon the purpose being to cultivate a love for flowers and their culture. Early in the spring the children of all schools up to the seventh grade were provided with seeds and instructed how to plant and care for flowers. The result has been the exhibit of the flowers grown by them, brought to the high school building for general competition.

Judge of the exhibits was R. Drumm, who also kindly offered the prizes, handsome plants of asparagus formosa.

Lara Mae Jahns of the Eighth ward school, fifth grade, won the first prize for the best single plant, and Ross Norton of the Seventh ward school, fifth grade, won the prize for the best group of plants.

The exhibit was in charge of Miss Gibbon of the Van Zandt school.

The high school was also the scene of the manual training exhibit that was held Friday from 9 o'clock in the morning to 3 o'clock in the afternoon. This exhibit consisted of woodwork done by the students of the manual training department and attracted much attention. There were about four hundred visitors to the exhibit during the day.

About fifty students had work in this exhibit. J. E. Guisinger, principal of the manual training department, was in charge.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

WATERS-PIERCE STAYS IN TEXAS

Marshall Branch Only to Be Removed From State

Special to The Telegram.

ST. LOUIS, May 26.—At the home offices of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company in the Bank of Commerce building here Andrew M. Finlay, vice president of the company and the secretary to Clay Arthur Pierce, president of the company, said in reference to the change of headquarters of the company for Eastern Texas from Marshall to Shreveport:

"It is true that the headquarters of the Eastern Texas and Louisiana division have been ordered moved from Marshall, Texas, to Shreveport, La., but no special significance can be attached to that, as this change has been contemplated for five years."

"Will the offices of the company at Dallas and Houston be moved?" was asked.

"They will not."

"Is it the intention of the Waters-Pierce Company to withdraw from Texas?"

"It is not."

"Has the recent visit of Attorney General Davidson of Texas and his assistant to Jefferson City, Mo., to confer with Attorney General Hadley anything to do with removal of the Marshall office to Shreveport?"

"It has not."

"Does the Waters-Pierce Oil Company fear proceedings against it in Texas as the result of admissions made in the Missouri ouster suit against Standard, Republic and Waters-Pierce Oil Companies?"

"It does not."

President Pierce, who is credited with having ordered the change in the Marshall headquarters, declined to be seen. H. Clay Pierce, chairman of the board of directors of the company and father of the company's president, departed for New York yesterday.

STANDARD OIL CO. GIVEN WARNING

Ohio Atorney General Says Trust Must Be Broken

Special to The Telegram.

CLEVELAND, May 26.—Acting upon testimony which has been brought out by the interstate commerce commission, Attorney General Wade Ellis of Ohio has served notice upon the Standard Oil Company that it must abrogate its trust agreement and disband its constituent companies in this state.

With the backing of the National Petroleum Association and the agencies of the state, he also is preparing to bring criminal proceedings and civil suits, by which, it is expected, Standard Oil will be driven from Ohio.

The evidence which the secret agents of the government have unearthed is said to show, among other things, that through an agreement with one of the largest telegraph companies, Standard Oil is able to receive information regarding every matter which can in any way affect its business interests.

Other witnesses have been subpenaed to tell how the Standard Oil is said to have bribed hundreds of newspapers to publish alleged news at $1.50 per line in order to defeat the attacks which were being made upon its methods. In this undertaking hundreds of thousands of dollars are said to have been spent, a large part of it being disbursed in Ohio, where the assault upon Standard Oil has been bitter.

NOBLE TITLE OFFERED MIZNER

Mrs. Yerkes' Second Husband May Become Marquis

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, May 26.—As soon as Wilson Mizner, the whilom husband of Mrs. C. T. Yerkes, completes his pugilistic training in the Britt camp, he will find awaiting him a proposition of far more interest than uppercuts and counters. Alfred DeMarz of this city is on his trail as the most probably purchaser of a noble French title, which DeMarz has at his disposal.

The title is that of the Marquis Folleville, Comte de Sense, Viscomte De Lyons, and is one of the oldest and most respected of the French nobility. The present marquis is an old man, the last of his line, and being anxious to have the title perpetuated—and being slightly down and out—has commissioned his friend, DeMarz, to search out some rich American on whom he can bestow the title for a consideration sufficient to keep him in his remaining years.

The conditions of the transfer are few. The purchaser must become a citizen of France and must write a check for "at least six figures," said DeMarz. "The most promising candidate I can think of," he added, "is the husband of Mrs. Yerkes-Mizner. I have read all about Mrs. Yerkes-Mizner and her marriage in the papers, and I believe she would be only too glad to pay out the money sufficient to make her husband a g-r-and man and a noble of ye highest rank."

DeMarz has negotiated with several men, but has thrown them all down because of their birth and manner.

"I do not wish," says he, "to present the marquis for a prospective adopted son, a common merchant—a peasant."

TRAINMASTER FINED

Is Found Guilty of Causing Fatal Wreck

Special to The Telegram.

CARLISLE, Pa., May 26.—Crippled and suffering physically and mentally, George O. Sarvis, former trainmaster of the Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburg division of the Philadelphia and Reading railway, who last week entered a plea of guilty to the charge of being responsible for the wreck near Roush's Curve, last fall, in which five persons were killed and a number injured, appeared before the court yesterday for sentence.

His counsel, ex-District Attorney J. E. Barnitz, made a plea for clemency, because of his mental and physical sufferings. Judge Sadler replied that he was well satisfied that there was no criminal intent upon the part of Sarvis, but the act of the assembly fixed a punishment for negligence by a railway employe, and it was the duty of the court to impose such punishment as would make an impression on Sarvis of the gravity of the offense, and prevent, if possible, another.

He then sentenced him to pay a fine of $1,500 and costs, amounting to $250, and to remain in the custody of the sheriff until the sentence is complied with. The sentence as to imprisonment was suspended owing to his physical condition.

GROCERS TO MEET

Paul Waples and Harry Adams to Address State Gathering

The sixth annual convention of the Retail Grocers' Association of Texas will be held at Denison, June 12 and 13, 1906. A special rate has been secured on all railroads of one and one-third fares and a large attendance is expected, as some very important business will be transacted. It is also intended to inaugurate a campaign to push the passage of bills that will be presented at the next legislature.

The president of the Denison Board of Trade, J. B. Poston, will deliver the address of welcome, and H. J. Adams of Fort Worth will respond to the address of welcome.

Paul Waples of this city will address the convention Wednesday morning, June 13, on "How Do Railroad Freight Rates Affect Retail Merchants?"

Fort Worth will be represented by five delegates, as follows: J. C. Martin, M. Bergman, H. J. Adams, W. H. Tanner, Henry Hamman and Harry Palmer.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Profit-Taking Increased by Unfavorable Bank Statement—Prices Ease Off Some

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The stock market was quiet and featureless today. The trading was of the usual week-end variety, but owing to the rather sharp advance attained yesterday, there was some increase in the profit-taking transactions, and although the volume of business was small, it was mostly against the market and prices pursued a downward course during the greater part of the session. The feature of the day's news was the bank statement, which was a distinct disappointment, inasmuch as the general trade had expected a favorable showing, instead of which the statement was unfavorable and served to increase the selling pressure. However, the market was not entirely without support and losses were confined to small proportions for the active issues. Anaconda and Reading, the issues most affected, showing net losses of 2 and 1½ points respectively, while the balance of the list sustained only fractional losses. The market closed easy.

NEW YORK COTTON

Trade Awaiting Census Report—Manifest No Interest in the Market. Values Trifle Lower

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The cotton market was very dull today.

Favorable foreign advices and a better week-end statement than anticipated had some influence at the start, and the opening was steady with prices 1 to 2 points above yesterday's finals. This advance, however, was less than due in response to the course of the foreign market.

Another private report on acreage and condition was issued by a local firm, in which the increase in acreage was estimated at 4.05 per cent, and the condition on May 21 at 83 per cent. This report may have exerted some influence on sentiment, but did not attract any attention to the market, as the trade are in a waiting attitude and will probably do nothing until after the official report is issued.

Initial prices were not maintained for any length of time and although the market was very narrow, the trading was almost entirely for evening up purposes, and the trend of prices was toward a lower level at all times. The close was quiet and steady with prices at the lowest of the day, showing a net loss of 3 points.

Spot cotton market was quiet, prices being unchanged at 11.90c for middling.

NEW ORLEANS, May 26.—The cotton market was unusually dull, even for a week-end session, fluctuations being confined to a range of 4 points. Despite a favorable Liverpool statement and a firm market with higher prices than expected there, the local market opened easy with prices 2 points below yesterday's finals.

Both bulls and bears claimed that the week-end statistics favored their side of the question, but outside of the local crowd the figures were construed as bullish. Weather conditions were very favorable to the crop. The little trading noted was in the shape of liquidation by tired longs, under which prices eased 4 points. The close was steady with prices near the lowest.

Spot cotton ruled steady, prices being unchanged at 11 5-16c for middling. Sales, 525 bales, including 150 bales f. o. b.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Wheat Market Has Good Undertone, but Price Gain Small—Corn and Oats Are Firm

Special to The Telegram.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 26.—The wheat market was fairly active during the brief session today and exhibited a good undertone throughout. The foreign news was unfavorable, but the local market opened firm with prices ⅛c above yesterday's finals. There was some liquidation during the initial trading and prices eased off ⅜c for July. The weather map reported more rains throughout the belt and by some this was considered as favorable to the long side, inasmuch as it is feared that the rainfall has been excessive. Predictions of colder weather and snow in some sections also helped the bulls, and caused short covering, under which prices worked up ¾c from the low point. The market closed steady with prices at a net gain of ¼c to ⅜c. Local receipts 5 cars vs. 13 this day last year.

Corn

Corn cables were also of a disappointing character, but the local market derived strength from covering of shorts and the advance in wheat prices and although rather dull, ruled firm throughout, closing prices being near the best at a net gain of ½c. Local receipts 538 cars vs. 857 cars this day last year.

Oats

Oats were in fair demand, principally by shorts and prices advanced gradually throughout the session, touching net gains of ⅝c to ¾c. Final figures were near the best. Local receipts 187 cars vs. 118 cars this day last year.

Provisions

Provisions opened decidedly weak, prices being 2c to 20c lower on the first call. The greater portion of the loss was recovered during the session, and closing prices showed a loss of 5c for pork and 1½c to 2c for lard, while ribs were unchanged to a shade higher.

CATTLE AND HOGS

Usual Light Saturday Cattle Supply. Market About Steady—Hogs Sell Higher

The cattle supply today was small, about as expected, six cars of steers, two of cows, and the equivalent of two of calves, around 400 head in all, with two loads on through billing.

Steers

The market on steers was about steady and about half of the supply sold early. The other half dragged, buyers saying that sellers were asking better than steady figures.

Sales of steers:

No.	Ave.	Price.	No.	Ave.	Price.
19	1,115	$4.20	1	1,290	$4.20
1	1,310	4.20	23	969	3.75
22	1,009	4.05

Butcher Stuff

The butcher cow supply consisted of two cars and a few odd head. Packers were willing to take all the supply, even if it was Saturday, and an early clearance was made at steady prices.

Sales of cows:

No.	Ave.	Price.	No.	Ave.	Price.
8	927	$2.65	10	638	$1.50

1	640	2.15	29	844	2.70
8	581	2.65

Bulls

The bull trade remained on a basis steady with yesterday on a few head of a common class. One bull weighing 1,770 pounds sold at $3.50.

Calves

No calves figure in the car lot receipts, but quite a bunch of good vealers came in with mixed loads. A good outlet was found for all the supply, choice veals bringing $4.60. The market ruled steady on the general supply of calves. Sales:

No.	Ave.	Price.	No.	Ave.	Price.
44	388	$1.75	17	352	$1.75

4	480	3.00	4	412	1.75

Hogs

56	199	4.65

The hog supply ran close to 800 head and was of very good quality on the heavy end. The market opened fully steady with Friday's close, making the end of the week agree with the best opening prices, or at the worst a trifle easier. Tops for the day were $6.40, a smooth even load of seventy-seeven Oklahoma corn fattened hogs. The bulk sold at $6.30@6.32½. Pigs were steady at $5.

Sales of hogs:

CAN YOU ENJOY A SQUARE MEAL?

Do you sit down at the table with a fine appetite intending to enjoy your meal immensly and after a few mouthfuls give up in despair? That's a typical "well along" case of indigestion or dyspepsia. Hundreds, yes, thousands are in the same boat and are willing to do almost anything to be as they used to—healthy, well and strong with a good sound stomach.

The best and quickest cure offered to that big army of sufferers is

DR. SPENCER'S ENGLISH DYSPEPSIA WAFERS.

TRAINMEN LOOK FOR BIG CROWD

Annual Picnic to Bell Branch Sunday

Final preparations were being made Saturday for the annual picnic of Evergreen Division, Railway Trainmen, and the auxiliary of that organization, to be held at Bell Branch, on the International and Great Northern railroad Sunday

Under the schedule, first section of the excursion will leave the Texas and Pacific passenger station at 7:45 o'clock Sunday morning, other sections as needed for ample accommodation of the crowds expected leaving at intervals of ten minutes.

The outing will be held at a picturesque spot, which is being arranged by the railroad for one of the leading pleasure resorts of the state. A lake covering sixty acres, good fishing, boating and beautiful scenery are natural attractions, while amusements of various sorts have been provided.

Dee Estes, Charles Moore and J. W. Jennings, the committee in charge of arrangements, have announced that to prevent confusion and loss of time, all baskets should be tagged with the owner's name and placed in the baggage car, so they may be readily identified on reaching the picnic grounds.

Red tickets secured from the committee must be exchanged for railroad tickets at the union station.

TO MOVE WATER TANK

Texas and Pacific Begins Improvements at Abilene

Special to The Telegram.

ABILENE, Tex., May 26.—Two cars of mules and implements were unloaded Friday morning by the Texas and Pacific for work on their grading at this place. The watering place is to be changed and it cannot be definitely learned whether the tank is to be moved to the Lytle creek east of town and a pumping station installed or moved only far enough that the long trains can be watered without blocking Pine, the principal business street. Most likely it is the former and the bridge and grade will have to be raised and strengthened to allow the heavy trains running over the road to stop for water.

The company has established a Harvey dining station for the employes of the railroad in that country.

HOME FROM ASSEMBLY

Rev. J. W. Caldwell Will Discuss Church Union

Rev. J. W. Caldwell, pastor of the Taylor street Presbyterian church, returned home Friday from Decatur, Ill., where he attended the general assembly. The conference adjourned on Friday.

Rev. Caldwell expresses himself as being greatly pleased with the action of the Presbytery in effecting the union of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and the Presbyterian church U. S. A. He said:

"I am glad to see this action taken. It is a long step toward marking out the many unnecessary lines in our denomination. I mean by unnecessary, that in creed they are the same, the difference being in the hymns used and in the services. I feel quite sure that this action will prompt similar actions in other denominations."

Rev. Caldwell will take as his subject on Sunday morning the "Church Union" and will then discuss the action taken.

CITY FIREMAN HAVE BIG DAY

Many Blazes Keep Horses on the Run

Several fire alarms disturbed the tranquility of the fire department Friday night and Saturday morning. The first was shortly before 11 o'clock Friday night, at the residence of Mrs. C. Anderson, 1200 Washington avenue, the fire catching from charcoal in a box on the floor. The fire was extinguished with probably not more than $100 damage.

The next occurred about 8 o'clock Saturday morning, when Mrs. Pat Carpenter was engaged in cleaning a bed with gasoline. Igniting in some mysterious way, the flames enveloped the room in a cloud of smoke, from which Mrs. Carpenter ran, after saving two small children asleep in an adjacent bed. The damage was nominal.

The next was about 8:20 o'clock when the boiling over of grease in the kitchen of the residence of Dr. W. J. Duringer, 812 Galveston avenue, started a small blaze, which was put out without serious damage.

An ashpan in the range at a restaurant owned by Oscar Clem, 109 North Houston street, later burned a hole in the floor, but the fire was extinguished after causing slight damage.

RUSH FOR SUMMER RATES

Hot Days Start Inquiries at Railroad Office

Special to The Telegram.

WACO, Texas, May 26.—There has been much inquiry within the past week at the railroad offices regarding summer rates. Several hot days preceded the rains of Wednesday night and this probably caused the rush at railroad offices to find out what rates would be. From all indications there will be a good summer travel, though there seems to be some disposition here to patronize Texas resorts as far as possible. The rates go on June 1, and there will be some leaving at that time.
