Wheat and Grain Sorghum Price Support Announced

Farmers in Garza county will be able to obtain price-support protection for two important grains this year at the following rates: wheat $1.96 per bushel and grain sorghums $1.80 per hundred, Mike Custer, Production and Marketing secretary reports. As in 1949, loans and purchase agreements will be used in carrying out the 1950 program. Claude E. Spence, chairman of the county PMA committee, points out that the level at which support for these crops is set takes into consideration the feed value, price, demand, and other relationships among these grains and between them and corn, the major feed grain. For grain sorghums, the relationships are largely to corn produced outside the commercial corn area, since practically all grain sorghums are produced there. Corn acreage allotments do not apply in the non-commercial area, and corn price supports there are directed by law at 67.5 per cent of parity. Corn supports are at 90 per cent of parity with...

Hearing on Field Rules Here Postponed until August 24

Hearing on Dr. Sam G. Dunn's application for declaring field rules for the Garza field has been postponed to Aug. 24. Four wildcat locations have been staked in Garza county with one completion and a failure reported this week. James N. Cogdell, operator, is circulating a petition protesting application of field rules here. Cogdell said his petition was being signed by property owners and oil operators. A letter yesterday morning from Ernest O. Thompson, head of the Railroad Commission advised the Post Dispatch that the hearing on Dr. Sam G. Dunn's application for field rules here has been postponed to Aug. 24. It was originally scheduled for today. According to Thompson there are 398 producing wells in the county. May production was 365,455 barrels, as reported to the RR commission. The Garza field is the largest with 365 wells, and the Dorward and Buenos fields follow with 10 each. There are seven wells listed in the PHD field, five in the Rocker-A and one in Justiceburg. The No. 1 Doyle Justice, one mile west of the Dorward-San Andres pool, was abandoned at...

Votes Are 360 Con, 871 Pro

Garza county will have a hospital. The bond election voted on last Saturday carried by a two-thirds majority, 871 to 360, according to Judge Lee Bowen of the Commissioners court. Bonds were already sold, subject to the outcome of the election. Bids will be let on the actual construction right away—possibly in the next few weeks, Bowen said. Votes for by boxes were Post, 457; Southland, 41; Verbena, 11; Justiceburg, 49; Close City, 40; Graham, 4; Pleasant Valley, 27; South Post, 123 and Two Draw, 59. Against votes by boxes were Post, 94; Southland, 32; Verbena, 8; Justiceburg, 13; Close City, 32; Graham, 27; Pleasant Valley, 55; South Post, 50; and Two Draw, 10. The sum of $175,000 was voted in the bonds, to be matched by the federal government.

Chapel Services For H. Johnson Are Held Here

Funeral rites for Howard Johnson were conducted at 4 o'clock yesterday in Hudman Funeral Chapel with the Rev. J. T. Clinton of Lubbock, a Baptist minister, officiating. Burial was in Terrace cemetery under the direction of Hudman's. Mr. Johnson, died in a Lubbock hospital Tuesday. He had made his home with a niece, Mrs. Horace Felder, in Lubbock for the past 18 months. He moved to Garza county in 1918 and returned to his former home, Mississippi, in 1927, where he lived before moving to Lubbock. He was born March 6, 1878. He had been a member of the Baptist church for 58 years. Survivors include a sister, Mrs. W. I. Smith and two brothers, Cliff of Southland and C. K. of Wichita Falls. Pallbearers were Billy Johnson, Hinton Fluitt, Hardy Smith, Alva Robinson, Jack Meeks and Henry Edwards. Honorary pallbearers were Will Barton, Ben McGehee, Jim Hall, S. H. Webb, Boone Evans and Buddy Hall.

Billy Dixon's Car Is Demolished Here In Friday Wreck

A 1950 model car belonging to Billy Dixon was completely demolished Friday morning when it overturned and rolled on an oilfield road two miles south of town. Dixon received a head injury, Arlis George, a passenger in the car got out and returned to the rig for help. Dixon, the driver, was thrown out of the car, after it reportedly hit a soft shoulder. He was brought to the Post Clinic in a Mason ambulance. Only seven fines set in justice court. Only seven fines were assessed in justice court this week which included one of the quietest election nights in history, according to JP J. D. King. Two fines were highway violations, one for $50 and costs, one for $1 and costs. Five drunks were fined $1 each.

Bowen and Snowden, Rains and Mears Will Be in Runoff in Judge, Sheriff Races

Greenfield Hardware Loses $191 to Burglars Thursday

Burglars entered a back window of Greenfield's Hardware last Thursday night and took $191 from an unlocked safe. T. R. Greenfield, owner, discovered the theft when he opened up at 7:30 Friday morning. Sheriff E. M. Bass is being assisted by Lubbock City Detective Lee Rice, jr., in the investigation. Burglars removed the money from the safe but apparently did not take any merchandise. Two flashlights were used and left lying on the floor of the store. Earlier last week, some boys broke into Hamilton's Drug store coming in through the picture show. They took cigarettes, lighters, chewing gum and poker chips, which were all recovered. Reeves is a student in the Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth where he is preparing to enter the field of foreign missions. He also attended Baylor university and Louisiana State university. Mulkey, a senior student in Wayland Baptist college in Plainview, is training to be a director of music and religious education. The public is cordially invited to attend these services, the pastor, Rev. T. M. Gillham announced.

Youth Revival To Begin At Baptist Church Sunday

A youth revival will begin at the First Baptist church Sunday and will continue through Aug. 6. Services will be held daily at 7:30 o'clock in the morning and at 8 o'clock in the evening. Harold P. Reeves of Shreveport, La., 26, will do the preaching. Hoyt A. Mulkey of Amarillo, 23, will direct the music.

Story of Post In Book Set For October

"Post City, Texas," the story of a great western colonizing experiment, will be published by the Texas State Historical Association in October. Dr. H. Bailey Carroll, association director and University of Texas history professor, announced. The book, written by C. D. Eaves and Alan Hutchinson, tells of the town established in West Texas by C. W. Post, the cereal magnate. Post, opponent of socialism and the labor union movement, purchased territory in Garza and surrounding counties and built a town based on "his economic philosophy of individual enterprise."

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Johnson of Ralls are parents of a son born Sunday. Mrs. Johnson is the former Miss Joyce Timmons of Southland. Carolyn Jean is the name given the daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kuykendall July 18, in Slaton hospital. She weighed 6 pounds and 11 ounces. Terry Sue is the name given the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Justice of Lubbock, born last Thursday morning at 1:50 o'clock. She weighed 6 pounds and 14 ounces. The Justices have two other children, Don and Carolyn. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wood. Paternal grandfather is Dolph Justice.

Route Chosen For Post-to-Spur Road Wednesday

A delegation of 10 Postites attended a meeting in Spur yesterday when a route was chosen for the proposed Post-Spur highway to present at a hearing in Austin Aug. 22. The highway will be routed from here in a northeasterly direction over the star mall route to a point south of Calgary. It will probably proceed from Calgary over the shortest road on to Spur. Leon Huff, Spur chamber manager, was in charge. He stated that the highway department considered the proposed road an important segment of the Broadway to Big Bend highway. It will serve through traffic as well as local people. Kilmer Corbin is to appear with the delegation at Austin. N. C. Outlaw will be official spokesman for the Post group. A major landholder along the route is reported to have offered right of way free across his land. Attending from Post were Judge Lee Bowen, Commissioners Buck Gossett, Boone Evans and W. C. Quisenberry, George Tracy, C. J. Josey, Outlaw, F. H. Hodges, Jim Graves, and Pat Ryan, chamber of commerce manager.

Samson, Ryan Attend Fair Meet in Lubbock

George Samson, president, and Pat Ryan, manager, of the Post Chamber of Commerce attended a meeting in Lubbock Tuesday to discuss a South Plains exhibit for the State Fair in Dallas next year. Ray Wilson, agriculture manager for the fair, was in charge of the meeting. Chamber of Commerce officials, agriculture teachers, county agents and other members of the state extension service were present. Wilson discussed what the fair was seeking and asked for a representative regional exhibit. A committee was appointed to make preliminary plans. The entire group favored the idea, Ryan said. Post chamber of commerce will cooperate.

George Delce Dies in Lubbock Hospital, Officers Investigate

Investigations are underway concerning the death of George Delce, Negro, Delce was found about 8:30 Sunday night near the railroad track. He died later in a Lubbock hospital. Engineer on the passenger train from Lubbock reported seeing Delce with his head about 8 inches from the rail about 100 yards north of the Main street railway crossing. He was taken to Lubbock. The body was taken to Calvert for burial Tuesday. Delce is survived by his parents, one child, a brother and a sister. He was employed by Paul Hedrick. Sheriff E. M. Bass could not be reached for comment as he was reportedly in Austin in connection with the case. No details were known at press time.

Williams, Reed Top District

Both incumbents in opposed district races were victorious in Saturday's election. Louis B. Reed, judge for the 106th district, defeated Tom Garrard with 8900 votes against the Tahokan's 5508. N. C. Outlaw conceded victory yesterday to his opponent, Sterling Williams, in the race for state representative for the 118th district. Only votes in in the representative's race were Garza and Scurry counties. Outlaw led in Garza county, 781 to 686. His opponent got 2401 votes in Scurry compared to Outlaw's 341. Vote by counties for district judge were Dawson, Reed 2523; Garrard, 771; Gaines, Reed, 1384; Garrard, 839; Garza, Reed, 1026; Garrard, 473; Lynn, Reed, 1260; Garrard, 1585; Terry, 2005; Garrard, 1163; Yoakum, Reed, 702; Garrard 677.

3 Inches Rain Falls in Week

Rainfall for the past week amounted to more than three inches, as shown by the Double U gauge. Thursday's moisture measured .59 on the Double U recorder. Gauges at the C. B. Batchelor and J. B. Hudman residences registered .81 that day. Saturday's rain was .34 inch; Sunday, 1.08 inches; Monday, .11; Tuesday, .05; and yesterday morning, .06 inch. Total rainfall was 3.23 inches. Temperatures have been low all week because of the moisture.

Junior Rodeo Directors Vote Not To Have Booster Trips

Directors of the Southwestern Championship Junior rodeo met Tuesday night and decided to make individual trips over the South Plains putting out publicity for the rodeo Aug. 9-12. They decided not to make booster trips. Local merchants will be asked to advertise in the rodeo programs, rather than buy bus tickets for booster trips. All local merchants are asked to have a float in the opening parade of the show at 6 o'clock, Aug. 9. The first four floats will receive trophies. Top four junior riders who are not contestants in the show will receive prizes. First will be an original drawing of Red Ryder and Little Beaver by their creator, Fred Harmon. Others will be $7.50, $5 and $2.50. Awards of $4, $3, $2 and $1 will be given the top four bicycle riders. Trophies will be given the first four riding groups in the parade. Eight groups have already accepted invitations to ride, to date. They are Amarillo, Tahoka, Graham, Lubbock, Midland, Seminole, Littlefield and Post Stampede Cowboys. Gov. Allan Shivers and Bill Elliott of Hollywood will lead the parade. Elliott's latest picture, "Savage Horde," just released by Republic Studios, will be shown at the local treatise, Aug. 9 and 10. A free dance will be sponsored by the Junior Rodeo group on the concrete slab south of Connel Chevrolet company, Aug. 5. A Slaton band will play.

CARBON PLANT COMPLETED

The G-L Carbon Black plant here has been completed and dismantled according to R. P. Lynn. They are waiting on patents, Lynn said.

Allan Shivers, Preston Smith Lead in Garza County Voting

Garza county voters followed the statewide trend in the governor's race giving the incumbent, Allan Shivers a majority of 1159 over second-place contender, Caso March. March got 239 votes here. Preston Smith carried the county in the lieutenant governor's race with 616 votes. Pierce Brooks was second with 268, Reed third with 247. Brooks' runoff...

George W. Harwood, second in the state, 149.

Robert Nelson led the field in the Court of Criminal Appeals race with 739 votes here. His nearest opponent in Garza was W. A. Morrison with 180. William Murray got 1618 votes for railroad commissioner. R. S. Calvert got 930 votes for comptroller of public accounts against 309 for Clifford Butler.

Bascom Giles defeated James L. Allred for land commissioner with 940 votes against 367. Jesse James, lone candidate for treasurer, got 1622 votes.

J. E. McDonald, whom the Democratic party heads tried to deny a place on the ballot, led in the agriculture commissioner's race with 413; John C. White was second with 306. He is a West Texas man, Herbert C. Mar### tin got 843 votes to defeat W. N. Stokes with 372 for Place 7 for associate justice on the Supreme Court of Criminal Appeals.

George Mahon carried the county with 1160 votes for representative for the 19th Congressional district against 195 for A. M. Ripps. Incomplete returns gave Mahon a 9-1 lead.

More Inflation Is Ahead Regardless of Korean War's Outcome

NEW YORK CITY.—Every two months, at least, I come to New York to check over the outlook with a few very influential and well-informed people whose names readers would recognize. This is a review of their unanimous opinions at the moment.

Postponing War III
These men insist that neither the United States nor Russia can afford a World War III at the present time. It certainly would result in destroying some of the larger cities of both nations and millions of innocent people. To prevent this we must gradually by infiltration extend our influence by appeasing, compromising or scaring Southern Asia and Western Europe into stopping the Communists. Added to this we must keep our own people happy by providing full employment.

At first thought this seems a cowardly position for us to take, but it is believed that Russia also is anxious to prevent war and is willing to compromise to keep the peace. For instance, the United States might get out of Korea, while Russia might get out of Berlin and East Germany. A divided Korea or Germany would always be a tinder box for war.

Russia would not suffer from atomic bombing as much as the United States; but thought of the new H-Bombs which can be used by artillery against her armies if they attempt to overrun Europe, makes Stalin hesitate. Both sides may soon be looking for a "face-saving" way out.

More Inflation Inevitable
The high level of U. S. production should continue as long as the Cold War lasts. When this comes to an end, either by a hot war or by peace, then will be the time for an economic crash. Even then a period of unemployment could be postponed further. Assuming people then stopped buying autos and the employees of the automobile companies are thrown out of work, the New York guess is that the Government would lend people money to buy automobiles on ten year payments and at a low rate of interest! Even now congressmen are asking "Why is not the Government as justified in loaning money to buy furniture as to buy homes?" But, although the effects of Newton's Law of Action and Reaction may be postponed, the law cannot be repealed. Trouble is coming someday.

I asked if under these conditions the automobile companies would be allowed to make money for their stockholders? To this my friends answered, "Yes, because the taxes which the Federal Government collects are dependent upon these auto companies and, in fact, all other companies paying dividends".

Of course, such a "stop-gap" program requires continued high taxes, more borrowing and more inflation, war or no war. Such will then be all the more necessary because import duties will gradually decrease. World peace ultimately requires "free trade". Furthermore, the Government will someday not be collecting in part payment so much as it does now. When that happens mortgages and other debts of individuals will have to be extended and increased by the Government.

Russia Does Not Need War
To repeat: The Cold War will be continued until there either is a hot war or peace after which mass unemployment can be prevented only by the U. S. government adopting a more or less socialistic program. Hence, Stalin figures that if he is patient he is bound to reach his goal in the end, namely, the spread of Communism throughout the world.

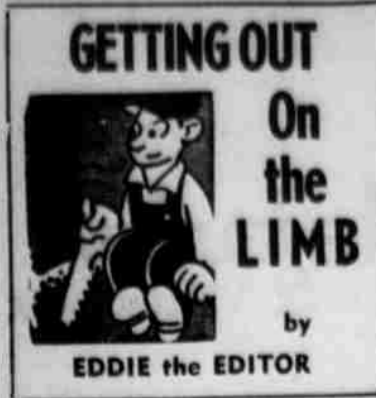

As one New York banker expressed it, "The market may have one more big whirl upward, but I fear that large investors are becoming like sheep being led to the slaughter through destruction of property, or high taxes or inflation."

In the meantime, the U. S. will require vast sums: (1) For defense and especially for the removal of basic industries from our big cities; (2) For subsidizing consumers purchasing power to prevent unemployment in the U. S.; (3) To bribe Europe and other nations to keep out Communism and (4) To help out domestic manufacturers facing destructive foreign competition due to the absolute necessity of reducing tariffs.

Suggestions to Investors
Stocks to avoid: Those of companies with most of their assets in big cities; those having a high proportion of labor expense and thus very subject to labor unrest; and those which will suffer from foreign competition and imported goods.

Stocks to buy: Those of companies which will profit from the great building program in moving industries out of the big cities; stocks of merchandising companies especially the chain stores; and serving small cities of the Central West and South.

On the LIMB by EDDIE the EDITOR

I've lived through the Roaring Twenties, the Thin Thirties and the Fighting Forties, but I'll be darned if I know from one day to the next what I'm supposed to be doing in the Fuddled Fifties.

Matter of fact, you can hardly make a decision from the day to day because of the present world situation.

President Truman spoke to the people the other night, but I don't know anybody that knows any more about the situation than they did before he started. I rather doubt that he knows.

I was sitting up here feeling like a citizen of the most powerful nation in the world, getting ready to watch Post finally get underway with her postwar expansion and now, I don't know whether to expect a C gasoline card again or to get my wife used to wearing lisle stockings.

I feel like we are in a war, but I can't rightly make out whether our national leaders think we are at war or just operating a riot squad. Every day we seem to be pushed farther back down the Korean peninsula and people are saying the "war" will last at least six months.

Another thing that gives me a laugh on the wrong side of my face is the fact that our weapons are so advanced, that air supremacy still is not everything. I'm no general, armchair or otherwise, and I see no point in secondguessing.

But I'll be glad when General Doug finishes with his war games and the whole world finds out what the score is.

Right here in Post, for instance, I think people learned during the late war that it had an effect on others than service men. As far as I know, only one or two people have been called to active duty from around here, but the international situation has already stalled some plans.

I know of one merchant who was planning improvements to his store running into several thousand dollars. He was already at the blue print stage. But what should he do now? Under shortages similar to those in the last war, he sold everything he could get hold of in his present plant. Would it pay him to go ahead? Would it be better to spend the money now while he has it or wait until things become more stable?

What are Post's younger business men to do? Some of them have plans for expansion and even desperately need to build something before being evicted from their present location. But what surety do these young men have that they will even be here by the time their building is finished? What are they to do?

Then the utilities — they are not yet out of the woods over the war shortages and they are already faced with twice as much expansion as they prepared for.

Not long ago the telephone company bought and built a lot and plant that they expected to take care of Post for the rest of time. Now they don't have enough phones, switchboards, circuits, operators or any thing except complaints. The uncertainty of the oil economy here plus the uncertainty brought about by the war situation really puts them in a bind.

More street lights are to be installed by the electric company when the material arrives. They've even been six months remodeling their office and wait-

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON By TEX EASLEY Associated Press Washington Service.

(Editor's Note: While Tex Easley is on vacation this space will be filled by other columns. This week we present a discussion of coverage of the war news by the Associated Press.)

It's a tougher campaign in Korea than any one dreamed, and the Associated Press is expanding its staff operations to insure intensive news and picture coverage of the biggest story since World War II—a story that is flaming in the western Pacific and echoing with repercussions 'round the world.

Reinforcements have been assigned to join the staff doing so nobly on the Korean front and in Tokyo, while other Associated Press men have been deployed in sensitive areas elsewhere in the world to be on the alert for all news developments.

Hal Boyle, Don Whitehead, Pat Morin . . . They're heading soon for the Korean scenes of action. You remember them: Three Musketeers of hot war coverage if ever there were. Boyle, the former Kansas City office boy whose stories of GI Joe in the African and European campaigns of the last war and peace-time daily columns won tremendous applause—and a Pulitzer Prize. Whitehead, his old World War II sidekick, who made more assault landings and saw perhaps more ugly front line combat than any other war correspondent—from North Africa, with Montgomery's "Desert Rats" to the Omaha beach landing in Normandy on "D" day, and on the surrender in Europe.

Wrote of Paris
It was Whitehead whose lightning 1600-word description of the liberation of Paris in 1944 was called one of the classics of the war's journalism . . . and Morin, the man who looks like like Eisenhower and writes with a gifted flair for descriptive touches that takes readers right to the scene.

One-time Tokyo Bureau Chief and Far Eastern correspondent, Morin was captured by the Japanese and interned in Indochina for the first year of World War II. Thereafter he joined the frontline staffs, in the Mediterranean and in Europe, became Paris Chief of Bureau after the war and returned to the United States for a similar assignment in Washington. He has been a writing and traveling General Executive for the past year.

Tom Lambert . . . What Boyle, Whitehead and Morin have done is what this tall, dark and handsome correspondent already is doing from the mountainous, treacherous battleground of Korea. His dispatches, written and filed under the toughest and most hazardous conditions, have won universal acclaim. Lambert sticks with the headline staff in Korea. The Musketeers are proud to join up with him, his frontline colleagues and . . .

Far East Reporter
Russell Brines, veteran Far Eastern reporter from the earliest days of World War II, and expert on Japanese affairs, and now directing the combined Korean coverage as Tokyo Chief of Bureau. Brines was in the Philippines with MacArthur when the Japanese attacked in 1941. Like Morin, he came back from internment to join the war staff in the field and then organize AP's operations in Japan during the postwar occupation.

Milton Marmor, William R. Moore, Donald E. Huth, William J. Jordan, Leif Erickson, O.H.P. (Okey) King, whose stories of the fighting already have splashed over front pages, are other AP stalwarts with long, conspicuous records ranging from posts in the United States to overseas assignments in wartime and the postwar periods.

AP pictures and war maps have been leading the Korean illustration parade but we are also adding great strength to that service. Joining Charles P. Gorry, staff photographer now telling the camera story of the Korean action, are these two veterans: (1) Frank Noel, who won a Pulitzer Prize for photography early in World War II and is just back from a European tour of duty, and (2) Max Desfor another seasoned hand with a camera who goes to Korea from assignments in India and Italy.

Coordinate Pictures
Desfor will help coordinate AP's picture relay to the United States by radio transmission and by fast plane connections from Tokyo to Seattle and San Francisco, the United States beachhead for incoming AP dispatches

Minute Editorial

Everyone hollers about spending so much money these days. Few people realize where it goes and fewer still keep any kind of record. A person's use of money is supposed to be an index to his character. In this case, we Americans do not rate especially high in a character test. In 1948, 29.6 cent of each dollar was spent by the average American (whoever he is) on food. Household operation took 13.6 per cent of his dollar. Clothing, accessories and jewelry amounted to 13.3 cents out of the 100. He spent 9.8 cents of every dollar for transportation. Housing, including rent, accounted for 9 cents of the average man's dollar. He spent 5.6 cents on recreation. Medical care and death expenses took care of 4.7 cents. Only one-tenth of a cent less went on Joe Doakes' alcohol bill, some 4.6. Personal business investments accounted for four cents out of the average dollar and tobacco products took 2.3 cents. This adds up to 96.5 cents, leaving three and a half cents to be spent on all other goods and services. This ignores the amount turned over to the government in the form of taxes. It appears to mean that we spend some 64.5 cents of every dollar we earn on food, clothing and shelter. Of course, statistics can be interpreted in any way and it might mean that the average American would just as soon be drunk as dead or healthy. According to these figures, life in America is so deadly, we have to spend seven per cent of our income on narcotics, alcohol and nicotine. On the whole, it isn't a bad accounting, but there is certainly room for improvement.

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

Slaton To Get New Gym
Plans and specifications are in the process of being completed and construction will start as soon as possible on the proposed new Gymnasium for the Slaton . . . that also has been strengthened by many of our finest writers and editors in the domestic service under the leadership of Chief of Bureau Harold Turnblad.

AP's experienced staff of map-makers, which turned out spot maps by the thousands during World War II, is back on the job in full momentum. A staff of veteran artists headed by John A. (Tex) Carlton, already has produced more than 60 spot maps on the Korean war for wirephoto transmission.

Day and night a coordinated team of editors and artists is translating the play-by-play moves in Korea onto fresh maps for fast transmission with spot news.

Just as every domestic bureau is geared to handle war news, be it a break on the Wall Street stock market or the home town story, New York and Washington are geared for the all-important happenings of the White House, congress, The Pentagon, the United Nations at Lake Success.

Daily interpretive columns on the political and economic significance of the war will continue to come from Dewitt MacKenzie and J. M. Roberts, Jr., with AP's distinguished diplomatic correspondent, John Hightower of the Washington staff, giving the dramatic interpretive and background from the Capitol.

It's bigger in Korea than any one dreamed.

Unusual Celebration

The Canyon News force is preparing for a celebration on August 5.

Anniversaries are seldom observed around newspaper plants. We take things too much for granted, and leave celebrations to other folks.

Here coming up on August 1st will be the 40th anniversary of the Newsman's arrival in Canyon! Not much of an event to celebrate, you may say, but considering that there is only one newspaper in all Northwest Texas which has been under the same management longer than The Canyon News, this is somewhat of a record.

We hope that you, all of you, will visit the News plant on that date, Saturday, August 5. Many of you have never visited the plant where your newspaper is published.

We are expecting you!

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Roberts, jr., Build Cream Siding House "From Outside In"

The cream siding, shingle-topped house out on the end of West 10th street was built by Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Roberts, jr., "from the outside in".

His father was the actual builder but the younger Roberts drew the plans. As a matter of fact, says Mrs. Roberts, their original plans were completely discarded before the house was finished and it turned out entirely different from their first ideas. They took the total floor space and then planned each floor.

A small porch is at the front of the house, which faces north. The Roberts will have lived in their new home two years in October. They have one daughter, Kathy Lynn, one year old.

The living room is 13x15 feet in dimension. Wallpaper is patterned beige tones. Woodwork is painted white. A ranch style sofa-bed and chair are upholstered in rose, in a floral print. A blue-upholstered occasional chair is after an 18th century style. Coffee table on the rug in front of the sofa is maple.

Natural Finish Table
A natural-finish tier table at one end of the sofa and a blue occasional table were both built by Roberts himself. Another tier table in a light finish is at the other end of the sofa. A smoking stand is by the blue chair.

Mrs. Roberts uses bird prints throughout the house. Two are on the living room walls, as well as a seascape which was a gift, and a blue octagonal mirror. Venetian blinds are at the windows throughout the house.

Walls and ceiling of the kitchen, which is south of the living room, are papered in a gray and yellow plaid. Mrs. Roberts likes this especially because she can put any other colors she chooses with it. White tile board wainscots the walls.

Black mottled rubber sheeting is on the floor and the cabinet tops. Appliances include an extra large refrigerator and a gas range as well as an electric mixer which was a gift last Mother's day.

Closet and Pantry
A closet in one corner of the room holds the hot water heater, brooms and shelves for storing canned goods. Most of the cabinets were bought as a unit, but he built a tall pantry at the end next the breakfast area.

A window is over the double sink on the cabinet wall and a south window gives light to the breakfast area. The cabinets contain a bread drawer and a silver drawer, as special features. A built-in ironing board is concealed by a small closet door on the south wall.

The dinette set is red plastic and chrome, with matching chairs. The baby's white high chair is in the dining area. Mrs. Roberts' love of plants is carried into the kitchen, with ivy growing here as well as in the living room.

Her husband is not the only clever member of the family—Mrs. Roberts made her own canlister set from three different size cans. She painted them white and applied Dutch boy and girl decals. Fruit plaques on the wall were given her by her mother.

Mrs. Roberts' mother had a wooden pail she used for a sewing basket when she was a child. She gave it to her daughter who painted it and uses it for a unique covered trash basket.

Triangular Hall
The hall is shaped like a triangle with sheared off corners at each door. Papered identically to the living room, it contains the telephone niche and a linen and quilt storage closet. Dimensions are 3x5 feet. It is in the center of the house.

The bathroom measures 5x8 feet. Ducks fly around the walls on a yellow paper background, accented with dark blue. White tile board is used again for wainscoting. Blue accents are picked up with the commode top and hamper top, as well as the towels and bathmat. This room is floored in dark blue linoleum. A light is above the medicine chest. All rooms have ceiling fixtures.

Paper in the master bedroom, which measures 10x12 feet, is a conventional pattern on a blue background with touches of pink. Mrs. Roberts selected it. Framed family snapshots are on the wall. The baby's white crib contrasts to the modern style bedroom suite. Furnishings include a dresser, chest of drawers and carved bed, as well as a small occasional table. Woodwork here is white.

The large closet contains storage shelves above the clothes rack.

Pink Ceramic Lamps
Pink ceramic lamps with colonial figures on the base were a second anniversary gift from Roberts to his wife. The scarves on the dresser were tied by Roberts' aunt.

The front bedroom is papered in a pale, sea green, selected by Roberts. Dimensions here are 10-11. The small, old-fashioned dresser in this room belonged to his mother. A library table belonged to Mrs. Roberts' mother when she was first married.

The green-painted bed is covered with a spread in bright green, yellow and red-orange. A double platform rocker completes the furnishings in here. The closet is identical to the one in the master bedroom.

When Kathy is larger, her parents plan to redecorate this room for her. Bird prints are on the walls in this room, too. A maple leaf protector in green plastic is at the light switch.

The front lawn is well underway. Two cedar trees have been planted in front of the house and rosebushes set out. Mrs. Roberts has chrysanthemums planted beneath the bedroom windows and also under the kitchen window. She plans to curb off a flower bed around the house when she has time.

They have a garden in the back yard.

Custer Says Half Cotton Is Measured

Mike C. Custer, secretary, Garza county Production and Marketing committee stated that approximately 50 per cent of the cotton acreage in the county has been measured by the performance reporters and notices have been mailed to the farmer operators.

Custer states that with favorable weather conditions cotton measurements should be completed in the month of August.

Those operators who have received notices that they have planted in excess of their cotton allotments and have destroyed this excess acreage should call at the county office and make the deposit of $1.00 per plot or $2.00 per farm, whichever is the greater, to have this acreage rechecked so their farms will be in compliance.

What a stepper!

Just hint to the gas pedal and she steps out like no other low-priced car. And that's true whether you're driving a Ford V-8 or "Six". But this high-stepper is a low spender when it comes to cost. You can own a V-8, for example, for hundreds less than most "Sixes"—and a Ford "Six" for even less.

What a stopper!

This '50 Ford actually helps you apply the brakes. They're 35% easier-acting King-Size Brakes that use car momentum to help you stop. Like Ford's extra-rugged "Lifeguard" Body, they give you the kind of protection you'd expect only of costliest cars. And for added safety and comfort, you ride low and level in the "Mid Ship" section of the car, between the wheels—not over them. You're cradled in comfort on "Hydra-Coil" front springs and "Para-Flex" rear springs that give a road-bugging smoothness truly amazing.

Mrs. Ann Poling, 609 Delaware St., Indianapolis, Indiana, who was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron, and Niacin, smiles as she pours herself another cup of coffee. Mrs. Poling says life lately is like it used to be years ago. . . "that is, of course, since I've been taking HADACOL." She can't get over what a difference HADACOL has made in her outlook on life.

Mrs. Poling says: "Three months ago a good friend of mine told me about HADACOL—she knew how much stomach distress I have had. Any type of food that was fried or that had acid in it I just couldn't eat. It affected my sleep, too. In fact, I couldn't have been in a worse condition. When I ate what I wanted to I felt miserable and when I didn't eat these things—I didn't have a proper diet and still felt bad. Then, when I started taking HADACOL, I felt better immediately. I've got a bottle in the house now—and will continue to keep HADACOL from now on. I have told many folks about HADACOL—and they all thank me for telling them about HADACOL. They all have gotten wonderful results from HADACOL like I have. Now I eat anything I want and get a good night's sleep. I can't praise HADACOL enough."

HADACOL Can Help You, Too! . . . as it has helped thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron and Niacin. Yes, even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomach distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, aches and pains of neuritis, and a general run-down condition caused by such deficiencies.

Make Up Your Mind . . . to give HADACOL a chance to help you, as it has helped countless thousands of others. Remember, there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL. No risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADACOL, either the trial size, $1.25, or the large family or hospital size, $3.50. And if HADACOL does not help you your money will be refunded.

FROM THE GRANDSTAND

by WILBUR MARTIN Associated Press Staff

Baseball boomed in Texas from 1946 until 1950. It's doubtful if the trend will continue through next year.

Wise guys thought economic conditions would burst Texas' baseball bubble. But it looks like the uncertain international situation will do it instead.

It's highly doubtful if the little leagues of Texas—and the nation can keep going if their prime source of material is cut off—the raw rookie.

Use of the draft to fill the ranks of the U. S.' armed forces may very well dry up this flow of material. If any goodly number of 19 to 26 are called into service, it's a good bet that some of the Class D and C clubs are going on the rocks.

Baseball law calls for a certain number of rookies, limited service men and veterans on leagues of Class C and D and these leagues are the bulk of U. S. baseball.

It is no secret that some clubs in Texas' eight baseball leagues have been having financial difficulty. And it is highly probable that these clubs will fold if it looks like the international situation is going to create a manpower problem.

It would take a general "draft" of manpower, probably, to force such leagues as the Class AA Texas to suspend operations. That's what it took during World War II.

Right now you'll find few baseball men willing to comment on prospects for a decrease in the number of Texas baseball leagues next year. Most prefer a "wait and see attitude."

But it is hard to believe that there won't be—if your high school and sandlot players go into service, instead of organized baseball.

Now that Marty Karow has been named head baseball coach at Ohio State university, don't be surprised if Elton "Toney" Burger shows up at Texas A&M College either as baseball coach or basketball coach.

Burger is the fellow who turned out such highly successful baseball and basketball teams at Austin high school. And he could have joined the staff of Texas A&M several years ago if he had waited to serve as an assistant.

Associated Press Presents Gridiron Picture for Biggest Season in Texas

By Harold V. Ratliff Associated Press Sports Editor

Texas football fans can start oiling up their tonsils for the biggest college campaign in history. There will be 57 schools putting teams in the field each Thursday, Friday or Saturday from mid-September until the first week in December.

Thirty senior colleges and 27 junior colleges will play the game. This is an increase of two over last year, the all-time high in Texas.

Football season starts early in Texas. While no games will be played until September except for the all-star or exhibition variety, the gridiron campaign actually gets its start the first week in August when the gigantic Texas coaching school is held.

This year it will be at Austin with some 1,500 coaches due to attend. It will be climaxed by the annual schoolboy all-star game.

The next football game in Texas comes Aug. 30 when the Detroit Lions, with Doak Walker, Gil Johnson and Bobby Layne, meet the Washington Redskins with Sammy Baugh, in a National Professional League exhibition in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

The high schools—and there will be about 850—start playing early in September. Most of the colleges swing into action the next to last week in September.

There are five senior college conferences in Texas—the Southwest, Border, Texas, Lone Star and Gulf Coast. These take in 25 schools. Then there are five independents. One of these—Lamar State of Beaumont—will be in the Lone Star Conference next year. It has been in the Southwestern Junior College Conference but this season plays an independent senior college schedule.

Sul Ross, which has been a member of the New Mexico Conference moves into the Lone Star Conference.

University of Houston will be playing its last season in the Gulf Coast Conference. The Cougars become members of the Missouri Valley Conference next year.

The Southwestern Junior College Conference is no more. Tyler, Paris and Kilgore left it to

Robertson Named Coach at O'Donnell

Ed Robertson, former Post resident, has been named coach at O'Donnell high school, according to the O'Donnell Index-Press.

He was a star player at Post high school and at North Texas State college in Denton. He also played on service teams while in the Army. Robertson has been coaching at Coahoma for the past two years.

He replaces Gano Tubbs who decided to stay at Levelland as O'Donnell coach.

Pro Grid Trio Trains at Tech

The annual professional football "training camp" at Texas Tech, Lubbock, has ended.

Fullback Walter Schlinkman and End Bill Kelley have gone to the Green Bay Packer camp and Quarterback Bobby Layne is off to join the Detroit Lions.

Every summer for the past four years Schlinkman, little all-American during his collegiate career at Tech, has been doing pre-camp training on the Tech gridiron. This year he was joined by Kelley, all-Border conference lineman at Tech, in twice-daily workouts. Layne, all-American at the University of Texas, joined them almost every day.

join the Big Six Conference with teams from Louisiana and Oklahoma.

The Pioneer Conference was formed by the other four members of the Southwestern Conference. They are San Angelo, Tarleton State, Schreiner Institute and Arlington State.

The South Texas Junior College Conference and the Texas Junior College Conference are the other circuits for the junior colleges in the State.

College football conferences of which Texas teams are members: Southwest Conference—Baylor, Rice, Texas, Texas A. & M., Texas Christian, Southern Methodist.

Border Conference—Texas Western, West Texas State, Texas Tech, Hardin-Simmons.

Texas Conference—Texas A. & I., Southern, Austin College, McMurry, Abilene Christian College, Howard-Payne.

Lone Star Conference—Sam Houston State, Southwest Texas State, Stephen F. Austin, East Texas State, Sul Ross.

Gulf Coast Conference—University of Houston, North Texas State, Trinity University, Midwestern university.

Independents—Lamar State (Beaumont), University of Corpus Christi, Daniel Baker, East Texas Baptist College, Texas Lutheran.

Junior college conference of which Texas schools are members:

Big Six Conference—Tyler, Paris, Kilgore.

Pioneer Conference—San Angelo, Tarleton State, Schreiner Institute, Arlington State.

South Texas Conference—Southwest Texas (Uvalde), Texas Southmost (Brownsville), Del Mar (Corpus Christi), Edinburg Regional, Victoria, Wharton, Laredo.

Weldon Mason To Appear On FFA Float August 9

Weldon Mason of Meadow, who was elected State FFA president at the convention in San Antonio last week will appear on the local FFA float in the parade preceding the opening performance of the Junior Rodeo here August 9.

Mason, 18, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen C. Mason of Meadow. He is a 1949 honor graduate of Meadow high school, where he was class president for four years, football and basketball captain for two years, most popular boy for two years and editor of senior publications.

Mason was elected to the honorable state office for outstanding farming program and leadership activities. In 1948 he received the Lone Star Farmer degree, the highest award given a boy of the state association and then began work toward the American Farmer degree which is the highest national award given a Future Farmer.

He served as treasurer of the Brownfield district one year. He has won several first and second places in Terry county stock shows and fairs. He began his vocational agriculture work in 1945.

Mason was accompanied to the convention in San Antonio by his brother, Wendell, Eddie Bingham and his agriculture teacher, Truett Babb, formerly of Post.

Meadow is a part of the Brownfield district, Area 1, of which Post is also a part.

Take Your Choice

Sitting around last Friday evening, the talk turned to the best way of getting to sleep when it seems you just can't. "The way I always do," says Sandy Johnson, "is to breathe deep and make believe I weigh a ton."

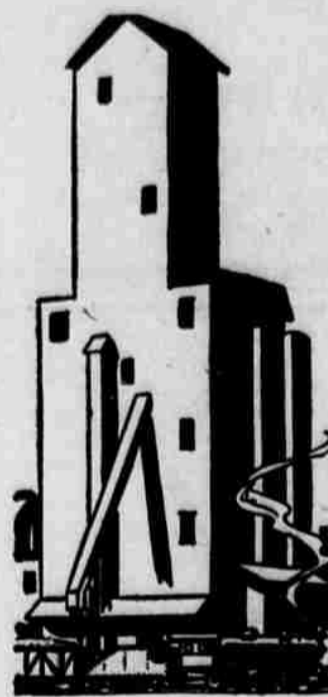

"Just throw away the pillow—it works every time," says Buzz Ellis. When counting sheep came up, right away was the question: What kind of sheep?

From where I sit, you could argue 'til Doomsday and never get complete agreement on a lot of things. Now, take me, I'm all for having a glass of beer or ale on occasion. Your "sociable beverage" may be a "Coke"—or buttermilk or maybe a cup of hot coffee. But enjoying our preferences is a right in this country and each of us is entitled to his own. The important thing is to respect that right in the true democratic spirit of understanding! As a matter of fact, what a tiresome old world this would be if we all did have the same likes and dislikes!

Mrs. J. R. Davis Came to Post in 1916 And Helped Put Church on South Side

Mrs. J. R. Davis moved to Post with her husband and children in 1916 and was instrumental in organizing a church on the south side of town. She and her husband were natives of Missouri. His sister and brother-in-law had lived in Texas for years so in 1899, they closed their house and stored their furniture upstairs, then left to spend two years in Texas.

"We would have gone back in two weeks if we could have afforded it," said Mrs. Davis. "That was one time poverty really was for the best. We had an upland farm in Missouri that was not very good and our children were better off here."

Mrs. Davis has a number of memories of her childhood in Missouri. She was born after the civil war. Her father had not had to serve in the army because of a broken leg that did not heal properly. The bone lapped and Mrs. Davis remembers that he could hardly walk to plow.

Children Worked
"Children had to work when I was growing up—I was one of nine," she recalls. "The first job I can remember was bringing in chips in a gallon bucket to burn in the cookstove. The next job I had was to carry water from a spring."

As she grew older, Mrs. Davis had to help with the milking. That was quite a job, she says, since there were from eight to 12 cows to be milked twice a day. Milk and butter was kept in a milk house with cold water running in it continuously.

"About the time I was eight years old, I was taught to spin," Mrs. Davis says. "We sat at the spinning wheel hour after hour, day after day. Women those days had to weave almost all of their clothing and sewing had to be done by hand. My mother would sit and sew all day long and until in the night by candlelight with my four brothers and my father to make clothes for."

Dyed With Indigo
"We all would think they looked so nice when she would get them done. I remember one piece of flannel that she wove to make suits. Every thread was wool and she dyed it with indigo. Part of it she died as dark as she could make it and the rest she made into a lighter shade so the suits wouldn't all be the same shade when she got the cloth woven. She took it to Lebanon and had it finished."

Mrs. Davis remembers having to make soap with lye run the ash hopper. The children carried buckets of water to get the lye started. Another pleasant memory, Mrs. Davis recalls, was going to the field to play around the haystacks and smell the new-mown hay.

"Our way of conveyance in those days was mostly horse-back riding," she remembers. "By the time I was about grown, our father had accumulated quite a bit of stock."

Schools Three Months
When she was a child, Mrs. Davis attended school three months out of a year. One teacher taught all grades, Mrs. Davis recalls that the standard salary was $20 monthly.

"We had free range and water in Missouri for our stock," she says. "Hogs would get fat on acorns. Everyone made their own molasses, ground on a cane mill drawn by a horse. Every family would give a candy-pulling for all of the young people in the neighborhood."

Mrs. Davis said her family never failed to go to church. Some of the neighbors got together and organized a Sunday school three miles from their house. "We children would go every Sunday. They had it in the afternoon. The preacher who preached at our school house often came to our house on Friday evening. They had church on Saturday morning in those days. Everyone called him "Uncle Dickey" Williams. He would preach and people would get happy and shout."

Mrs. Davis said the preacher lived some nine miles from their house and had to walk. Early Monday morning, she recalls, someone would take him halfway home, then he would walk the rest of the way.

Back to Visit
Mrs. Davis went back to Missouri three years ago on a visit. She says she is glad now they came to Texas because the land is so much better here than what they had.

They lived in Callahan county, at Cottonwood, 17 years before moving out to Garza. An infant daughter died there soon after the family came to Texas. Since she was buried in Texas, they really did not care much about moving back to Missouri, Mrs. Davis said. Her oldest son died in February. She has two children living, Guy of Post, and Mrs. J. V. Beauchamp of Roby. Her husband died six years ago.

"People in Callahan county were much friendlier than these people when I first came here," recalls Mrs. Davis. Her husband had farmed before coming here. Then he worked in the mill and ran a dairy. "The mill people were not too interested in Christianity," Mrs. Davis believes. "There were just two women in the neighborhood with whom I could talk about Christ. In about two years, a Mrs. Hartford came down from north Post and helped organize a Sunday school in a Double U dwelling house."

Preaching in House
Mrs. Davis recalls that most of the early preaching on the southside was done in private homes. "We held church many times right here in this house," she says of her home. The Sunday school grew too big for the house so Mrs. Hartford came to Mr. and Mrs. Davis and asked them about building a church. People on the southside met to see about building it. Mr. Davis was on the building committee and she was a member of the finance committee.

It was decided to buy an old building—the building now containing Raymond Young's grocery store. Five denominations attended union services in it for years. They were held at 3 o'clock on Sunday evenings. Revival services and prayer meetings were initiated. "The church did wonders in this part of town. Later we decided to build a Baptist church. At first we bought the old Post-Tex hotel. It wasn't satisfactory—it leaked and just wasn't a church building. Some years later, the congregation decided to build what is now the Calvary Baptist church," Mrs. Davis says.

12 Great-Grandchildren
She has nine grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. The oldest great-grandchild is in college and the youngest is a year old. Mrs. Davis still does her own housework and cares for her flowers. This year she did not have a garden. She does her own sewing and sews for others, making a wedding dress last week. Her granddaughter spends the nights with her. The sandstorms in Garza county didn't particularly bother Mrs. Davis since she was broken in to them at Cottonwood. "The first sandstorm I ever saw," says Mrs. Davis, "I went to bed. We never had anything like that in Missouri. My daughter would clean up every day. She couldn't stand the dirt. It made me so dissatisfied because we had come to Texas."

Miss Cecil Lynn Is Honored At Party

Miss Cecil Lynn was honored with a birthday party by co-workers of the Postex Mill in the home of Mrs. Charlie Kiker on Thursday evening. Gifts were presented the honoree. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served to 14 guests.

Scripture
God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea; Though the waters thereof roar and be troubled, though the mountains shake with the swelling thereof. Selah. There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the most High. God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved; God shall help her, and that right early. The heathen raged, the kingdoms were moved: he uttered his voice, the earth melted. The Lord of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah. Psalm 46.

Margery, Richard, Josephine, Robert and Weldon Becker of Southland recently attended the Louthan League convention in Wichita Falls. The Louise Chapman and Susan Fitkin chapters of the WFMS of the Church of the Nazarene met at the church Monday evening. They elected officers for the combined organization as follows: Mrs. W. B. Sanders, president; Miss Cecil Lynn, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. M. J. Malouf, superintendent of study; Mrs. Alton Warren, superintendent of publications and Mrs. Ada Lahue, delegate to the general convention. Several local Methodist youth are planning to attend a District Methodist Youth meeting at the new student center off Tech campus in Lubbock Saturday. All Baptists are urged to attend and others are extended a cordial invitation to attend the Youth revival at the First church July 30-August 6. The Rev. A. B. Cockrell will begin conducting a revival meeting at Canyon church, east of Lubbock, tonight. He will return here for Sunday morning's service and John Loft will show a movie "Beyond Our Own" for the evening service. Members of the Louise Chapman circle of the WFMS will be guests at a picnic Monday evening at the home of the Nazarene pastor and wife, the H. E. McClains. The Calvary Baptist RA's had their regular program at the church Monday afternoon which was followed by a social hour. Punch and cookies were served to 13 boys. Ten members of the GA's of the Calvary Baptist church met Tuesday at the church for a study of "Forward Steps."

Johnson-Atwell Vows Are Read In Albuquerque, N. M., Saturday Morning

Miss Lola Mae Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnson, became the bride of Kenneth Atwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cahsee, all of Albuquerque, N. M., Saturday.

Miss Johnson has visited here often in the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nichols and family. The single ring ceremony was read at 11 o'clock in the morning before an altar decorated with pink and white gladioli in the Albuquerque First Baptist church. The Rev. William D. Wyatt officiated.

The bride wore a pink embroidered organdy dress over pink satin with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Miss Billie Nichols of Post was her cousin's maid of honor. She wore a white organdy dress over green satin and white and green velvet accessories. She carried a bouquet of gardenias. Cadet Thomas Hill of West Point, cousin of the bride, attended the bridegroom as best man. Lester Nichols of Post was an usher.

A reception was given after the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents. Sandwiches, cake and punch were served from a table laid with a linen cloth brought for the bride from Japan by Cadet Hill. The centerpiece was pink and white gladioli. After a trip to Ruidoso and Alamogordo the couple is at home in Albuquerque where Mr. Atwell is employed by a building contractor.

Mrs. Lester Nichols and daughter, Leslie Anita, and Miss Henrietta Nichols were guests.

Henderson Home Will Be Scene of Meeting

Mrs. B. C. Henderson's home will be the scene of the Mystic Sewing club August 4. Mrs. H. F. Giles will assist as hostess. Mrs. Odean Cummings and Mrs. H. E. Butler were hostesses for a meeting of the club Friday afternoon in the Cummings home.

Members sewed and visited before business was transacted. Refreshments of cake with whipped cream and punch were served to: Mesdames Lowell Short, Giles, Elmer Teal, R. W. Babb, Jess Wright, Jim Powers, Cecil Osborn and Max Tucker.

Wedding vows for Miss Eleanor Emmett of Dallas and John B. Malouf of Lubbock will be read at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon in St. Austin's chapel in Austin.

The prospective bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Malouf of Post. He is a graduate of Post high school and received his bachelor of arts degree from Texas Tech this spring. Miss Emmett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Emmett of Dallas, has been attending the University of Texas at Austin.

A wedding supper will follow the ceremony at 1700 San Gabriel street in Austin. Mr. and Mrs. Malouf and sons, Mitchell, Jr., and Tommy, will attend from Post.

Crop Outlook in Garza County Remains Good with General Rain, Says Agent

Crop outlook in Garza county is good, says County Agent Lewis Herron, with recent rainfall being general.
Unless leafworms are in sufficient quantity to damage the cotton, Herron recommends holding off dusting until bollworm infestation warrants. Dusting or poisoning now will destroy all the beneficial bugs, Herron warned, who prey on the bollworms.
Bollworms are expected here the second week in August, he said. Dusting at that time will kill both pests at the same time. Herron recommends 20 per cent toxaphene and 40 per cent sulfur at 10 pounds to the acre or 3-5-40 mixture at 10 pounds to the acre.
According to the extension service report, fleahopper infestation has just about doubled in the South Plains area, with last week's average being 4 per 100 terminals against nine for this week. Two fields in Lynn averaged 25 per 100.

Welch Combines Conservation Farming, Other Activities

Ralph Welch has combined farming, ranching and outside business profitably — with the use of conservation practices. He and his brother, Rex, have farmed and ranched as partners.

Right now they have a 22-acre cotton allotment right here in Post, on a place farmed in conjunction with the Davies brothers.

Both Welch's have experimental streaks. In 1943, when Ralph moved here from San Angelo—he had owned a place in this area since 1936—he brought some sheep. Both brothers ran sheep until the coyotes made it unprofitable.

"If the coyotes ever get where they are not so bad," said Welch, "I might run a few sheep again—though not commercially. They are very good weed control, eating a number of weeds the cows won't eat."

19 Part-Brahmas
Welch is also running about 19 part-Brahma steers for beef production. They withstand flies better than Herefords, he says, and are better off in hot weather, never getting sore eyes. His are crossbreeds, part Jersey and part Hereford. For this country, Welch doubts the Brahma will ever replace the Hereford.

Conservation practices he employs include deferring pastures. He grazes one area in summer, another in winter, giving each a chance to rebuild. On his place at Crossroads, he has planted considerable rye and vetch. During dry years, he remarks, you don't make much out of these crops, but it is a chance you take with all crops.

He has rebuilt the tanks on his place. According to the work unit of the Soil Conservation Service here, one dam pond has been stocked with fish. Welch plans to do some mesquite eradication as soon as he can get government help.

First Contoured Furrows
The Welch brothers built some of the first contoured furrows on range land in the county, he says. This has stopped some erosion. A turf of mesquite grass planted here has really helped to hold the water during the dry years, Welch concluded.

He is still running a few Herefords. However, he sold off most of them a few years ago, when it was dry and hot.

One of Welch's sons, Bernie, took all three places in the fat lamb division in last spring's 4-H and FFA stock show. Now he is raising 50 hybrid chickens for fryers. Another son, Gary, is planning to start 4-H work. A daughter, Wilma Jean, also participates in 4-H work, appearing in the dress revue here and on a talent program.

Welch is a supporter of soil conservation. "In the dry weather, it doesn't show—growing rye and vetch doesn't particularly pay off then. But it is most helpful to hold water and prevent erosion when it does rain."

Both Brothers Sign
Both Welch brothers signed the conservation plans held by the local work unit. Total accomplishments listed by the SC workers include planning proper stocking of 2747 acres. In 1944,

SHIVERS TALKS WITH MEXICAN PRESIDENT—Texas Governor Allan Shivers (right) talks with the Mexican President Miguel Aleman at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, as they engaged in a 20-minute conversation. Shivers arrived late for his scheduled talk with Aleman and remained in this border city almost exactly one hour. Aleman, during the day, dedicated a bus terminal and a border station, took part in an afternoon banquet, and inspected irrigation facilities.

2197 acres were completed with 230 added in 1945 on this project. Together they planned to seed 320 acres of pasture and range, completing 100 acres this year. The plan called for 54 acres of cover crops and 54 acres of vetch and rye were planted last year. Sixty-seven acres were farmed on the contour in 1944. Crop residue management was planned on 127 acres. Sixty were completed in 1946, 50 in 1949, and 17 last year.

Four miles of terracing was called for in the work plan for both men. Eighteen hundred feet of field diversions were completed last year. The plan was on two farms, 320 acres and 2560 acres, a total of 2880 acres. It was initiated on one farm in April 1944 and on the other in August 1947. Since the plan was drawn up, the brothers have gone out of partnership, work unit technicians said.

THANKS TO GARZA COUNTY VOTERS:

Words cannot express my appreciation to the voters who voted for me for County Judge last Saturday. I want to say thank you, thank you, and ask that you please return the favor on August 26th. To Judge Moss' supporters I make a plea to you to please consider me for this important office.

Since we will have a County Hospital to look after it is going to increase the work in this office a great deal and should we have another war it will multiply the duties of this office for I held this office during World War II and know the tremendous amount of work and responsibility put on the County Judge during war. As you know the County Judge is County Coordinator, heading all local defense organizations, appointing Rationing Boards, assisting or helping appoint Draft Boards, War Boards, etc. I think my past experience qualifies me for this job and I am willing to serve my country in this capacity, if elected.

Jack Kuykendall, student at the local veterans vocational agriculture school, won first prize in a state-wide contest by writing an essay on the history of his poultry flock and why he used a certain feed.

The prize, awarded by the Ralston-Purina company, was a set of Rogers silverplate. According to Lewis Nance, instructor at the school, Kuykendall is an outstanding student and tenant farmer.

He finished his third year vocational agriculture program as a veteran and is now working on the fourth year program. A balanced farmer, he has done extra well with a poultry project, Nance reports.

Two years ago Kuykendall started thinking of a supplementary cash income besides his straight crops. He realized that controls were going to become more strict, says Nance, and chose poultry as an added income producer.

First he bought 300 day-old chicks from a Slaton poultryman. White leghorns, these chicks were highly pedigreed, foundation ROP (registered production) stock. They were from sires with an ROP of 240 to 275 egg-production yearly. From this flock, he has had more than 75 per cent production.

Kuykendall sells eggs from this flock and gets a 20-cent per dozen premium by selling to the hatchery. His first venture was so successful that this year he bought 600 of the same type chicks. Thus far he has had 97 per cent livability.

Kuykendall is careful to have his flock pullurum-tested regularly. This prevents the incidence of this common disease.

Mrs. Kuykendall has been an assistance and encouragement in the poultry project. Kuykendall has a good record of maintenance for his farm equipment. Much of this equipment he has made himself in the local farm shop.

A resident of the Pleasant Valley community, Kuykendall has served more than three years in the army during the last war.

Famous Last Words...

Nearly 18,000 people on farms will be accident victims this year—just because they didn't have time to be safe! Those are pretty good odds that an accident could happen to you... unless you're careful.

Every day... be careful. Be careful in the field while working with farm machinery. Take extra precautions while driving your car or tractor on highways. Remove all accident danger spots around your home and barns. Make safety first the watchword on your farm!

Six Garza Girls, Agent and Leader Are Attending District 4-H Camp in Lubbock

Six Garza county girls and their leaders and Mrs. Jewell Strasner are winding up their camping activities today at the District 2 4-H camp at Lubbock. Those attending are Sue Stephens, Glenda Grantham, Willa Faye Graves, Onelta Jones, Janey Morris, Eva Lou Key, Mrs. Jewell Strasner and Mrs. Jewell Strasner, county home demonstration agent.

Miss Kate Adele Hill, district agent, is in charge of the camp which began Tuesday morning. Mrs. Strasner is on the recreation committee which is headed by Miss Graham Hard, Lynn county agent.

Teachers included Miss Mildred Harris, assistant state 4-H club leader, Miss Frances Reasonover, assistant foods and nutrition specialist, Miss Gene Thames, acting assistant specialist in home management, all from the extension service; and Mrs. James Allen, assistant professor of journalism at Texas Technological college.

Mrs. Marie Davis, R. N., was camp nurse. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Pace were head cooks.

Tuesday morning with a recreation period until noon. Sack lunches were eaten then and an assembly was held, crafts, "Do It Better" and news writing sessions were held Tuesday afternoon. After supper, W. G. McMillan showed motion pictures, a nature party followed.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wade and family this week are Mrs. Wade's brother, Johnny Sutton of Dallas and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Daugherty and daughter, Barbara Kay, from Crandell.

Roy and Ruby Jewel Wade plan to go to Crandell and Dallas to spend two weeks with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Daugherty, and Johnny Sutton.

Commerce Chamber Is Procurement Unit

The local chamber of commerce has been named as an agent in the government procurement program, Pat Ryan, manager, announced this week. The chamber will list information from the department of commerce regarding the services, products and equipment needed. This is to be a service to local business men. Ryan said the only other such office he knew of in this area was in Plainview.
