Arle Man Dies Of Accident Injuries Nov. 13

John Joseph Pfister of the Arle community died in St. Joseph's Hospital Tuesday, November 13, at 2:30 p.m. of injuries received two days earlier when the truck he was driving overturned on the county road one mile west of Arle.

Mr. Pfister, 54 years of age, came to this area three months ago and was employed by W. P. Wyrick, who was also owner of the truck which the former was driving.

His home was at St. Louis, Mo., and his body was shipped there for burial.

The Ellis Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements.

Frank Lindsey of Levelland Buried Here Wednesday

Funeral services for Frank Lindsey of Levelland were held here Wednesday, November 21, at 3:00 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. L. A. Sartin of Clarendon officiating.

Mr. Lindsey died Monday, November 19, at 4:00 p.m. in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Amarillo. Burial was in the West Wellington Cemetery under the direction of the Kelso Funeral Home.

Mr. Lindsey, who was the brother of Mrs. Art Eads, Wellington, lived here for a time after he was released from service in World War II. At the time of his death he was in the construction business in Levelland.

Mr. Lindsey was born in Bonham September 12, 1901, and at the time of his death he was 50 years, 2 months and 7 days of age.

He is survived by two brothers and five sisters: Claude Lindsey of Pea Ridge, Ark.; Henry Lindsey of Rogers, Ark.; Mrs. J. F. Ogletree of Borger; Mrs. Anna Reeves of Albuquerque, N. M.; Mrs. Orville Housden of Clarendon; Mrs. W. P. Steen of Clarendon; and Mrs. Eads of Wellington.

Methodist Women Plan Bazaar

Ladies of the Methodist Church will hold a bazaar Saturday, November 24, at the community building. The sale will begin at 10:00 a.m. and continue until all items are sold.

"Everyone can buy gifts here. We will have handmade articles, aprons, pillow cases, handmade dolls, doll clothes, girls dresses, dish towels, towels, crochets and many other articles," Mrs. Pink Sullivan announced.

There will also be a booth of cakes, pies, dressed chickens, pickles, preserves, and another booth of home made candies, doughnuts and popcorn balls.

Annie Mae Souder FFA Sweetheart

Annie Mae Souder has been named Sweetheart of the Quail Future Farmer chapter. A junior in high school, she won over representatives of the other three classes in the contest which closed recently.

She will represent the chapter in the Greenbelt district Sweetheart contest to be held in Memphis.

Other candidates for the honor were Joan Lacy, freshman class; Fayteen Peoples, sophomore; and Jo Ann Blevins, senior.

Miss Souder is the daughter of Mrs. J. L. Souder Sr.

Potty's Cafe Moves to Square

Potty Sisk this week announced that he has bought the cafe operated by Mrs. S. N. Harrison near the southeast corner of the square, and is combining his own with it in the downtown location, which is between Ward Clothiers and Graves Jewelry.

Mexican dinners are being featured and will include the traditional enchiladas, hot tamales, and tacos with chili. Short orders and lunches will also be served, Mr. Sisk said.

The Cafe will be known as Potty's Cafe, and will be operated by Mr. and Mrs. Sisk.

Farm Bureau Hears Rogers Urge Economy in Nation's Spending

Approximately 1250 Farm Bureau members and their families heard Congressman Walter Rogers report on conditions from Washington and Jay Taylor of Amarillo discuss the livestock conditions, Wednesday night, November 14, then in the short business session following they named the officers to guide the county unit through the coming year.

This was the annual Farm Bureau Barbecue, thrown open to the public this year so that more people might hear the two speakers.

W. R. Breeding of Abilene was elected president of the Farm Bureau. He succeeds Alex Coleman, who has held that office for the past five years. Monty Mitchell of Quail was named vice-president, and Mrs. Eddie Smith was re-elected secretary-treasurer. New directors are Herbert Knoll, Riley Garner, Jim Jones, Alex Coleman, Frank Coleman Jr., Zook Thomas, Palo Cummings, Sam Thompson, Fred Boyd and John Robert Hendard.

Special recognition was given a group of youth leaders, Jimmy Breeding of Abilene and John Thomas of Wellington. 4-H Club boys, Jim Thompson of Wellington, Jasper Peepless of Quail and Billy Ray Alexander of Samnorwood. Leadership pens were presented each of these boys by their sponsors.

Post Office to Give Free Delivery When Patrons Put Up Mail Boxes

Wellington residents within a designated area will have free mail delivery as soon as they get their mail boxes up and their houses

VFW to Sell Mail Boxes

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post has adopted the project of selling mail boxes and house numbers to residents in the area designated for free mail delivery, Paul Spillman, chairman of the committee in charge, has announced.

"Some time in the immediate future, a member of the VFW will call on you to take your order for a mail box. These will be ordered, and when they arrive, the VFW will come back to your place and install your box," Mr. Spillman said.

He emphasized that the only thing holding up free city delivery now is lack of mail boxes and house numbers in the delivery district.

Talented Pianist Opens Season

Plans Complete For Masselos Concert

A "double enthusiasm" marks the unusual success of William Masselos, brilliant young pianist who will be heard in Wellington Monday night, November 26, at the high school auditorium at 8:00 p.m. The concert is brought here by the Wellington Concert Association.

Masselos, just out of his twenties, has been acclaimed as "a big talent" whose piano artistry "makes other pianists goggle-eyed."

That "double enthusiasm" is a delightful zest in living and a genuine love of music. Combined, they are bringing musical renown early in life to the Juilliard School graduate and student of Carl Friedberg.

Masselos, whose musical background is rooted in the Midwest, appeared at New York City's Town Hall at the age of 19. His amazing virtuosity then and in subsequent appearances at Town Hall, Carnegie Hall and on numerous other Eastern stages, has been hailed.

Masselos approaches the piano with an attitude of confidence that immediately wins his audience. His versatility with the works of both "old" and "new" composers has astounded critics.

Said The New York Sun after a Masselos Town Hall recital:

"It is an uncommon and stimulating experience to have such ability accompanied by his enthusi-sors, J. W. Thomas, Bennett Goodloe, O. L. Christie and Frank Kennedy.

"Since World War II, only three nations of the world have been able to increase their food production as rapidly as their populations have increased," Mr. Rogers told the crowd, to highlight the section of his talk pertaining to agriculture.

"I have heard the farmers criticized all I intend to," he pointed out relative to belief in certain circles that farmers are getting rich. "When they start to hunt two Cadillacs in a farmers garage, then it's time to stop. The American farmer has never asked to be given anything. He only wants an opportunity to make a living."

Quoting figures on world agriculture production, Mr. Rogers said that in the United States one man feeds and clothes seven others. In India, one family feeds and clothes one and one-half others, and not as well as in the United States. "That is why India had to ask for help. I felt my business to see where your money and mine was going in connection with this grain to India, and I found that, because nothing is done to curb the population of monkeys in India, they alone eat 10 cents worth of grain per day. What we need to do is help India help herself."

numbered, R. F. Curry, postmaster, reminded in a statement this week.

"I wish to emphasize that all we are now waiting on is for the houses to be numbered and mail receptacles, either boxes or mail slots, to be provided. As soon as this is done, equipment will be ordered and the delivery will begin.

"No boxes are necessary in the business district but houses must have them and be numbered.

"You are not waiting on the Post Office Department — the Post Office Department is waiting on you. As I must soon make my report, I shall be glad for each person that has his house numbered and box purchased to report that fact to someone at the Post Office, giving your street and house number. I shall report this immediately and your delivery will soon get going," Mr. Curry said.

The city delivery route as has been designated by the Department is bounded on the north by 7th Street; east by Dallas Street; on the South by 15th Street; and on the West by Graham Street, with the 700 and 800 blocks on Haskell Street to be included.

Rev. Squires Pastor of Quail Baptist Church

The Rev. Gerald Squires of Alfalfa, Oklahoma, has accepted the pastorate of the Baptist Church at Quail, and he and his family have moved here to take over the work.

Rev. Squires is a former Wellington resident. He is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Squires, now of Oklahoma City, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lowe. During the time his father was serving as an Army Chaplain during World War II, other members of the family returned here to live, and Rev. Squires graduated from Wellington high school.

Mrs. Squires is the former Miss Betty Jean Robertson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Robertson. She was born and reared here. Rev. and Mrs. Squires have two children, Weymon and Cheryl.

He served in the Army Air Force, and after receiving his discharge enrolled in Oklahoma Baptist University, Shawnee. He also served as pastor of a church near that town.

The Quail Baptist church, one of the finest rural churches in the lower Panhandle area, has been without a pastor since the resignation of the Rev. S. T. Greenwood of Alanreed a short time ago.

Partnership of Feed Store Formed

R. C. Stephenson and W. E. Brewster announced this week that they have formed a partnership to operate what was formerly the Stephenson Feed and Seed Store.

The business will be operated as Stephenson & Brewster Feed & Seed Store.

Both men are thoroughly familiar with the local needs in the way of feeds and seeds, for both have operated farms in the county for a number of years.

Mr. Stephenson has a farm south of Wellington, in the House- hold community, which he has operated in connection with his business.

Mr. Brewster farmed near Dodson. For the last few years, however, he has operated the Arle Store.

The store will carry complete lines of El Rancho and Shawnee Mill feeds for cattle, hogs and poultry. All feed seeds will be carried in season.

Mr. Rogers quoted figures to show how the farmers income has slipped backward in comparison to non-farm incomes, while farming expenses have increased in comparison to non-farm expenses.

Turning to crop harvesting problems, on which Mr. Rogers has done a great deal of work, he pointed out that in the past 20 years, there has been a gradual encroachment in all fields from the standpoint of interstate commerce — and farmers are engaged in interstate commerce.

There was a specific exemption of children doing farm work in the Fair Labor Standards Act, but through a change in language in 1949, the act was made to read that children should be exempted only outside school hours.

"Now that sounds innocent, but that language put you where you are," Mr. Rogers said, as he warned the farmers to watch for trick language in legislation affecting them.

The congressman, who voted against the tax bill to raise $16,000,000,000, expressed himself in favor of a lot of trimming down. If a 10 per cent saving could be effected on the $91,626,541,716 ap-

School Dismisses For Thanksgiving

The Wellington schools will dismiss Thursday and Friday, November 22 and 23, for the Thanksgiving holidays, and classes will be resumed Monday morning, November 26.

Booker T. Washington School will take up Monday after having been dismissed two months in order that the children may help with the cotton picking, C. T. Roberts, superintendent of the Wellington schools, announced.

The place of the social here has not been announced.

Representatives of the four schools gathered Monday night to work out plans. Don Shoff of Wellington was named president of the group and Mary Bogle of Dodson secretary-reporter.

Others on the planning committee were Sidney Guley, Wellington; Buddy Cornelius and Mrs. C. E. King, Dodson; Ike Smith, Juana Baker and Winston Connors, Samnorwood, Jo Blevins, Douglas Little, Bill Phillips and Mr. Bradley of Quail.

This type get-together for the students was one of the recommendations made by the teachers at the recent TSTA workshop to promote inter-school spirit, Mr. Bradley said.

Arts, Crafts Show Tickets on Sale

Tickets for the Arts and Crafts Show December 2 are now on sale and may be secured from students or from the Elementary School PTA members, Mrs. John Lee, who is in charge, has announced.

Family tickets sell for $1.00. Single tickets are 50c and student tickets 25 cents.

The show is for any person wishing to take part, and there will be divisions for students and an open division for non-students.

All-Girl Orchestra Here for Dance Sat.

America's foremost all-girl orchestra, under the expert leadership of charming Joy Cayler will unveil the brand of outstanding music and remarkable showmanship that has accorded them the unanimous acclaim of the music-lovers of America, when they take over the bandstand at the Community Building Saturday, Nov. 24, for a pleasure-packed engagement, Russell Yates, entertainment chairman of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, announced.

This dance is planned especially for Collingsworth County College students home from school.

Like many of the big-named, the group originally formed as a college band at the University of Denver. Their popularity mounted so rapidly however, that they decided to make a career in the music field.

Highly capable musicians, personable entertainers and always very "easy on the eyes," the group constantly strove to further develop their popularity by intensive observance of the desires of the American musical public.

From one coast to the other, the orchestra appeared in the leading showplaces, always adding new admirers. Their genuine enthusiasm coupled with a sincere desire to produce music, appealing to both dancers and listeners alike earned them distinctions never before accorded an all-girl orchestra.

An offer to tour the American military installations in the Far East met with the immediate approval of the entire band. They then proceeded to appear before more troops than any other band in the last war. Their tour was so successful that they later returned and broke their own record.

Farmers Name Committees For PMA Communities

Farm operators and owners Saturday named community committees for the ten communities under which the PMA farm program operates.

These men will administer the program at the grassroots level during the coming year. They will be responsible to the county committee, which will be selected within the next few days by delegates from the ten communities, Millard Brown, secretary of the PMA pointed out.

Committees named include: Midway: John R. Henard Jr., chairman; Wayne B. Yarbrough, vice-chairman; and Tom R. Caldwell, member; Osa E. Black, delegate to the county convention; James R. Bowen, alternate.

Dodson: Truett Holland, chairman; William O. Vaughan, vice-chairman; Walter Camp, member; Kelly White, delegate; and Ruel Alexander, alternate.

Rolla: Levi W. O'Rear, chairman; William R. Ward, vice-chairman; Mr. O'Rear, delegate; Robert M. Lacy, alternate.

Wellington: William R. Adams, chairman; John C. Harper, vice-chairman; Gilbert B. Hopper, member; Mr. Adams, delegate; and Cecil L. Shanks, alternate.

Crossroads: Charles A. Wright, chairman; Woodrow Wilson, vice-chairman; N. R. Davis, member; Gus Barton, delegate; and E. W. Anglin, alternate.

Quail: Ollie M. Hall, chairman; Jerry DePauw, vice-chairman; Chester L. White, regular member; Mr. White, delegate; Zeb J. Neeley, alternate.

Mr. Manzer, the only other speaker of the evening, last summer had approached the VFW asking that he be allowed to make this gift to them. He planned the hall and decorated it himself, with the results that the local post has a site for its recreational activities unmatched by any in the area.

In his talk, Mr. Manzer explained that his idea was to provide an attractive place for good, wholesome recreation. He explained the murals, representing four distinct civilizations, African, Chinese, Indian and Spanish-American.

He then conducted the short memorial service for the 22 men from the county who lost their lives in action in World War II. A candle for each of these men burns in a niche at the back of the bandstand, and with them a star, which Mr. Manzer placed there in memory of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Manzer, who died during the war.

His only request, in turning the room over to the VFW, was that this simple ceremony in honor of those who gave their lives for their country be observed by each group assembling in the hall.

County Gins 20,951 Bales Crops Three Fourths Out

The county has ginned 20,951 bales of cotton to date this season, and ginners in most sections estimated the crop at approximately 77 per cent out, a survey made by The Wellington Leader Wednesday morning showed.

Much of the cotton is now being gathered by mechanical pullers or sleds, and while Wellington ginners report that this is having a little effect on the grade of cotton, those in other sections of the county report that stripper harvested cotton is dropping one grade, and in some cases two grades.

A sharp drop has been experienced in the grade of cotton, but this is due to natural causes, including weather conditions. Much of the grade and staple now is strict middling spot, middling spot or middling light spot. Some grey cotton is showing up, due to its having been open so long.

In the Dodson area, Ruel Alexander, bookkeeper at the Dodson Co-op Gni, estimated the crop 75 per cent gathered, or possibly a little more. Another week or two of pretty weather will wind up the bulk of the pulling there, and most farmers expect to be through before Christmas, he said.

At Rolla, L. A. Davis said the crop was better than two thirds out, and at Quail, it was estimated that the crop is around two thirds gathered, with a large number of the farmers using strippers.

All Wellington ginners estimated the crop in this vicinity at about 75 per cent out. Dick Sweat of the Farmers Co-op Gin said that many of his customers were getting as much cotton the second going over as they did the first, although on the other hand, more and more fields in the area are looking black.

Cotton in the Lutie area is believed to be well over two-thirds. Here again, many of the growers are sledding their cotton, most of them making their own sleds. Most of the cotton in this area is classing middling spot seven-eighths.

Around Dozier the crop is believed about three fourths gathered according to W. E. Marchant of the Paymaster Gin.

The area south east of Wellington, where hail damage was heavy, is almost through with its crop, and Mrs. Durant McInnis, bookkeeper at the Fresno Gin, said farmers believed the crop was between 80 and 90 per cent out.

"EGGBEATER" SHUTTLE SERVICE—U. S. Marines move out to take up battle positions after being flown to the front lines by the Sikorsky helicopter rising into the air in background. Recently, 12 of the giant "copters, in a six-hour shuttle operation, moved a fully-equipped battalion, of which these men were part, 18 miles to a hot battle area on Korea's east-central front. Success of the mission may open the way for more extensive use of the "eggbeaters" in ground warfare.

The county's first all-senior social will be held Monday night, December 3, in Wellington, with senior class members from the four high schools attending.

This party is planned with the object of getting the boys and girls better acquainted and that they may know more of the activities of each school of the county, Ralph Bradley, Quail high school principal, said. Other socials later in the year will be held at the other schools.

The place of the social here has not been announced.

VFW Holds Open House In New Building Thursday

Area residents Thursday night saw what is one of the finest private recreation halls in the Panhandle area when the Veterans of Foreign Wars and their Auxiliary unit were hosts at an open house.

This event, as explained by Commander Russell Yates, was also to honor three couples who have been closely associated with the VFW. They are Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Moore, whose son, Lt. Glynn Moore, was killed in World War II, and it is for him that the Glynn Moore Post was named; Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Lowry, who gave the VFW hall post two acres of land, matching an equal acreage bought, for the location of the VFW hall, was joining Marian Airpark. This was in memory of their son, who died in World War II. Part of the land is to be planted as a grove in his memory. The third couple are Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Manzer, who gave the VFW its social hall.

Mr. Manzer, the only other speaker of the evening, last summer had approached the VFW asking that he be allowed to make this gift to them. He planned the hall and decorated it himself, with the results that the local post has a site for its recreational activities unmatched by any in the area.

Two from Four Leaves ?

In the United Nations, where men of many countries are hoping for a plan that would mean peace today and tomorrow, Russia has come up with a plan that would have us believe that two from four leaves, not two, but something else. Disarmament plans are not new, but seldom have they been proposed with the joker so apparent as in that which Mr. Vishinsky announced. Of it, The Dallas Morning News has this to say:

An analysis of Vishinsky's Friday plan for peace must come up sharply against the ancient and honorable science of arithmetic, a simple case of subtraction. The Soviet program includes a 33 1-3 per cent reduction in the armed forces of the five great powers. These, you know, are the United States, Great Britain, France, Russia, China.

The first three named demobilized with the cease-fire of 1945 and have never since brought their armed forces up anywhere close to the commanding war status position of that year. Russia has maintained a war footing Red army. The suggested reduction on an across-the-board percentage basis would leave Russia in a far more powerful position than it now maintains. If the proportions are today $10,000,000 to 4,000,000, after reduction the Reds would have about 6,667,000 to 1,333,000.

This is by no means considering the paradox of China in the Russian plan. There is only one China in the United Nations, Nationalist China on the Island of Formosa. Even if U. N. thoughtfully included Red China in an agenda of demobilization, there would be no reason for Mao Tze-tung to include himself. U. N. does not recognize him. Why should he recognize the U. N.? In conformity with the Russian plan, Chang Kai-shek would be expected to further emasculate his forces on Formosa. You can be sure Moscow figured all of this. But even assuming that the proposed and subsequent percentage demobilization took in all of China, the preponderance of Chinese Red forces would assure that the two Red powers would wind up with forces capable of mastering the world.

Remember, too, that the bulwark against the Chinese and Russian expansion in the Far East is largely the armed forces of the Western Powers. The percentage reduction would necessarily limit to incapacity their power to withstand aggression at the many points of Red threat.

If peace is to be achieved by armament reduction without the United Nations, common sense suggests that armed forces must be maintained at an approximate level. This is no guarantee of peace but it is a safeguard against disaster.

In a world that is to have real peace, there can be but one army, that of the United Nations, under such safeguards of command as to assure against seizure of power.

There is hope of course in the fair armament reduction and inspection program proffered by the West. The General Assembly sees that clearly in putting Vishinsky's proffer to a much later date.

Modern history warns unmistakably to fear Russians bearing gifts.

OTHER EDITORS SAY:—

Main Call is Important

On several occasions the Oxford Press has made a plea for more letters to the boys in the armed forces. The number of men in uniform from the Classic Village and surrounding area is increasing and the love of getting letters continues undiminished. Which leads us to reprint the following published as an advertisement in leading magazines by the Caterpillar Tractor Company of Peoria, Ill.

Mail call means so much to him. You can't know unless you've been there yourself. Back home, somebody sits down with a pen and begins, "Hi Kid"—or, "My Son"—or, "Dear Superman"—or, "My Very Own Darling." And then, not too much later, the guy with the big canvas pouch shows up, and Your man—if he's lucky—"goes home" for a while.

Do you know what it's like out there, with the familiar pattern of living broken, with friends and loved ones in another world? Whether he's in combat, sweating it out at the rear, or in training back home, he's been cut off. The monstrous monotony of fighting and waiting gives him the feel of having been forgotten. If you could watch his face some time when he doesn't hear . . . when mail call passes him by . . .

But when word from you makes him feel remembered and wanted, that's good. Maybe just the hometown paper, telling how Aunt Jenny took first prize with her strawberry jam. Or a box of something good to eat to share with a sidekick who wasn't so lucky this time. And best of all a letter—the closeness and reassurance and belonging that the right kind of letter brings that magic carpet trip back to Sheboygan, Brooklyn, Waterville, Four Corners.

Only you can put the magic in mail call. You mean to write often, but you're busy—busy?—and sometimes you forget, or put it off. Don't. And if you have no one in Service to write to, remember the men who have no one to hear from—and find out what you can do about it—Oxford (Ohio) Press.

Not Safe to Conclude Bomb Won't Harm Us

SHOULD AN ATTACK COME to this country from the air, Millard Caldwell, Civil Defense Administrator, says that "seventy out of every one hundred planes Russia would launch against us would get through to the target."

Notwithstanding this prediction, the cities of the United States in his opinion, have not approached the point where any one of them could withstand an atomic attack. Moreover, the armed forces would not be able to supply adequate protection to prevent such an attack and it is therefore necessary for volunteer workers throughout the country to re-prepare themselves for such an emergency.

While Mr. Caldwell was speaking in his fight to persuade the House Appropriations Committee to give him "adequate funds" for the program he directs, the statements he makes are to be relied upon. Obviously, despite the predictions of atomic warfare, the people of this country have the happy idea that they will not hurt much. Consequently, there is no use to appropriate a large amount of money for the preparation of a program.

The past history of this country inevitably leads to the conclusion that its people are always optimistic and, it must be admitted, have usually gotten by. This was true in connection with war losses in the first two world wars, but no one can assume that it will be the case of atomic warfare begins.

The Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note. The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek is off on a subject this week that everybody apparently knows as much about as everybody else.

Dear editor:

I'm always sort of neutral in politics, that is I like cigars from both sides, although naturally I make up my mind when I settle down with a ballot, consequently I can look at next year's Presidential race with considerable calmness and detachment. After looking at a field needn't plow in the same way for years, it's no trouble to do the same with a political race, from Precinct to Presidency.

In the first place, in regard to the Presidential race, since it's exactly a year before the vote takes place, it seems to me the boys are starting out too soon, just don't see how they can put on a show good enough to hold my attention twelve long months. A candidate who figures he's got it won now may find by next November he's run out of oil, burnt out a hearin'.

But the big problem of course is Eisenhower.

As I understand it, nearly everybody outside of Taft is on record as contending Eisenhower would make a fine President, and this includes Democrats, Republicans, big shots in both parties, and people who vote like they please. For example, Truman says he would make a fine President, Dewey says he would make a fine President, and lots of lesser lights in both parties say the same thing.

But a few minor points are missing. In the first place, nobody knows whether Eisenhower is a Democrat or a Republican or neither.

In the second place, nobody knows whether he ran which party it would be in.

Now this is something new and has thrown the politicians into more confusion than the time two loads of unbranded steers belonged to two separate owners got mixed up in my pasture. How can you line up votes for a man when it may turn out you've been lined up for the other side? And if you don't line up votes, how'll you ever get any patronage? The problem is too big for me, although sooner or later I guess Eisenhower will have to come around to recognize, if he's willin' to try for the job, that no President ain't never yet been elected by acclamation. Personally, I'm glad I don't have to make such a decision myself. Too hard on you. Reminds me of the hours I used to spend tryin' to decide which field I was gonna let lay out durin' the next year. Finally solved the worry by lettin' em all lay out.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Man Owes First Allegiance to God

We hear much these days of the principle of separation of church and state as it has been established in America. Nevertheless, the recognition of God by the individuals who make up the state is fundamental in America.

Our democracy works upon the principle of "the rule of the majority." At least, outwardly, that is the way we see it. Actually, there is something more, intangible and deep, and that is the rule of the individual citizen.

To illustrate where an individual's first allegiance belongs we have only to refer to the words of Jesus Who said, "Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's." At the time Jesus said these words Palestine was under Rome's power and Christ's enemies seized upon what they thought was a foolproof way of trapping Him into a dangerous or treasonable statement.

They asked Jesus whether it was lawful to pay tribute to Caesar, expecting either a yes or no answer.

Had Jesus answered in the negative, saying it was not lawful to pay tribute to Caesar, His enemies would immediately have reported Him to the Roman authorities. And if He had agreed that it was lawful, these same persons would then have seen that the Jewish authorities knew about it.

But Christ, in His all-wise answer, foiled his persecutors and pointed out for all time that the state is not the highest authority over the individual. We were told in unmistakable terms that there are certain things we owe and must render to God, greatest of all masters.

Governments have toppled before and will again which try to take from the people their religion and substitute an atheistic philosophy that the state is all—the state is god. But most governments of the world today acknowledge the

ENGLAND'S SORRY PLIGHT

There is an irony in the results of the British elections that should not be overlooked in America. Before the world, England has tried out Socialism for six years and now has stamped it a failure by electing a Conservative Party government. But England hasn't voted out Socialism. The irony is that England cannot rid herself of Socialism by the ballot. In six short years the decay has spread too far. And this is a fact upon which many nations—especially our own U. S. A.—should think long and seriously.

Once Socialism has been well established and permitted for a few years to take its toll in production and progress, once it has been allowed to eat away at the heart and body and moral fibre of a nation, it cannot then be suddenly replaced with private capitalism. You can't press a button or mark a ballot and transform a bankrupt Socialist nation into something better.

LIKE QUICKSAND

But there is more than irony in England's present predicament. The nation has come face to face with the truth about Socialism: it is like quicksand; once you put both feet in it you are caught fast. Evidently, the reason the English didn't vote the Conservatives in by a larger margin was that not even Churchill, who had opposed every step of the Socialist program, could promise to reverse it. Realizing this, England still registered a condemnation of Socialism as a mode of government and way of life.

England's Conservative Party

now falls heir to a nation strategically and critically weak. There is serious doubt that England's once fine spirit can ever again be aroused — even by such a heroic figure as Winston Churchill. In a recent READER'S DIGEST article, an Englishman is quoted as preferring to knuckle under to Communism rather than stand up against it. "I'll stand a better chance of surviving in a Siberian labor camp than in an atomic raid on London," this Englishman said. This kind of submissive attitude, created under Socialism, bodes no good, if widespread.

HUNGRY PEOPLE

Never in Britain's history have the people had to submit to rationing for six years in peace time as they have had to do under Socialism. At the end of the six years they find themselves everlastingly hungry; there isn't enough to eat, nor enough money to buy what foodstuff there is available. The government planners have bungled everywhere.

Churchill is pledged to return to private ownership the steel industry which was actually just in the process of being socialized. That may be possible. But he says government ownership will have to continue in the industries, long socialized, such as railways, coal, utilities, banks, the professions, and in fact through the whole commerce. And the costly "Welfare State" handout programs are to continue. The socialized industries couldn't be returned to private ownership now. Socialism has taxed out of existence the once considerable private wealth of Great Britain. There isn't sufficient pri-

Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Lehmberg of Cameron were here to visit their daughter, Mrs. Luther Gribble.

Plymouth: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Browning announced the birth of a daughter, Elta LaRue.

Alvin Horton became manager of the Phillips Station on Eighth Street that was operated by Bailey Gilmore, wholesale distributor.

Ten Years Ago 1941

M. P. Watkins leased the Simmons Gin for the remainder of the cotton season, after his own was destroyed by fire.

Dallas Alford, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Alford, was named to Who's Who Among College Students, from Howard Payne College, Brownwood.

Cliff Campbell was elected president of the Kiwanis Club; Jimmie Kelso, first vice president; Frank Pope, second vice president; Joe Terry, treasurer; and Morris Reed, secretary.

The county had ginned 10,642 bales of cotton.

Virginia Glenn was elected to teach English in Paducah high school.

Births reported for the week were Lanny Leon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lewis, Rita Glendon, daughter to Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Nipper, Nelma Elaine Childress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Childress, and William Wallace Breeding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Breeding.

H. L. Lynch, a Dallas Attorney, came up to visit Judge R. H. Cooke. They were roommates at Cumberland Law School, Lebanon, Tenn., but had not seen each other for 35 years.

John Coleman wrote home telling of Army life at Nichols Field, Rizal, Philippine Islands, where he had arrived a few days earlier.

There are also grave questions concerning England's political future. Clement Attlee's Labor-Socialist Party, as such, was defeated, but Aneurin Bevan, radical, anti-American Left-wing Socialist, gained political strength. Some observers expect the political struggle in the years immediately ahead to be dominated by a fading Churchill and a rising strong-man Bevan. Bevan's brand of Socialism is very much like that of Marx, Lenin and Stalin. In a chaotic Britain he might develop into a spellbinder with magnetic appeal to a weary, weakened people. That's one way despots have come to power.

If England's 50 million people would pitch in and go to work getting work-weeks, full employment, fair shares, free medicine, their doles and their phony "security," the nation could in time become strong again, master of its own destiny. But it is doubtful that the Conservative Party could survive such an exacting demand upon the people. Instead, the report is that Churchill soon will be journeying to America. His purpose: To obtain a new U. S. loan to keep weakened England alive. England's plight, brought on by the acceptance of the subsidy idea, should frighten Americans. We have already been taking small doses of the same poison.

Minstrel Show Plays to Capacity - Crowd Tuesday

The Minstrels of 1951 played to a standing room only crowd Tuesday night, November 13, when some of the town's top comedy talent donned blackface to toss about minstrel jokes, or demonstrate vocal or dancing talent.

While it was the grown-up that gave the old-time minstrel tone, it was the youthful dancers, like tiny Kay and Gale Peeples, and Bobby Soxers Mary and Ruth McCaskill and Andrea Leach who stole the show.

The entire company opened the show with the traditional Minstrel number, "Dixie." Specialties were given by the Jazz Band, composed of King Bowen, Bennett Goodloe, Lee White and Odus Killingsworth; vocal numbers, "A Good Man Is Hard to Find," Mrs. Pat Swift; "Alexander's Ragtime Band," John King; "Ole Man River," Mayor L. B. Bratten; "Can't Help Lovin' Dat Man," Peggy Riggs, and spirituals by the Four F's, Fred LeDerer, Phil Handley, Fred Alexander and Rufus Johnson.

Dance numbers were the "Chattanooga Shoeshine Boy," Andrea Leach, who came here this summer from Houston, where she had studied dancing; novelty dance by Kay and Gale Peeples; "Has Anybody Seen My Gal," by Mary and Ruth McCaskill, and the Mr. Bones Dance by Horace Small.

Other minstrel numbers by the entire company were "Ole Folks at Home," "Camp Town Races," and "Good Night Ladies."

Members of the Chorus were the 4-F's, Stanley Brooks, Neal Gray, Lefty Thomas, Bura Handley and S. R. Pinkston.

The script was directed by Mrs. John Lee and the music by Mrs. Lowell Wells. The Minstrel was sponsored by the Wellington Music Club.

Dear Deck:
Enclosed is a check for $1.62 for the advertising.

We arrived in Neosho just ahead of the 12 inch snow. We had no serious trouble on our trip, although the roads were slick and it snowed on us all the way.

We want to thank all of our friends who had part in preparing the nice farewell supper for us at the Baptist Church.

Please send The Wellington Leader to the above address. We are always looking forward to the home-town news.

Wishing you success in your business,

Yours truly,

City Sends 830 Pounds Clothing To Korean Relief

Approximately 830 pounds of clothing was collected in the local American Relief for Korea drive, Mrs. R. L. Sisk, chairman, reported. These have been sorted and sent to the national headquarters in St. Louis.

"All the clothes were in excellent condition, and most of them were garments that can be used this winter," Mrs. Sisk said. Dresses, sweaters, skirts and coats made up the bulk of the shipment.

The clothing was collected by Boy Scouts several weeks ago in a one-night porch light campaign. The Junior High School Parent-Teachers Association was in charge of sorting.

A few contributions of money were received.

"A number of people helped us in one way or another to get the clothing shipped. The response in every way was all we could wish for," Mrs. Sisk said.

There will be no other drive here sponsored by the American Relief for Korea, but individuals with clothing they wish to give may send individual bundles. These should be sent to American Relief for Korea, St. Louis, Mo. Each individual sending a package will pay the freight.

Legion Auxiliary Plans Box For Disabled Veterans

The American Legion Auxiliary is sponsoring a Christmas Box for disabled veterans now hospitalized, Mrs. George Clark, chairman of the committee in charge, has announced.

"We are asking the public to help us fill this box. Gifts of any kind are acceptable, for these are things that the veterans will send home to their families for Christmas. It is the only way that some of them will be able to provide a remembrance for wives and children at the holiday season," Mrs. Clark explained.

December 1 is the deadline for turning in gifts, and these may be left with Mrs. Clark at her home at 1108 Dalhart Street, or donors may phone Mrs. Clark at No. 325-M and the articles will be picked up.

Auxiliary members are especially urged to help in this project.

Benefit Boxing At Hollis Monday

The Hollis Navy Club, Hollis, Oklahoma, is sponsoring 12 boxing bouts with a big free-for-all, staged principally by inmates of the Granite Reformatory, Granite, Oklahoma, on Monday night, November 26, J. B. Fowler of the Navy Club has announced.

These fights will be held at the high school gymnasium, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Coach John Lee of Wellington will be the referee.

Quite a number of Wellington fans attended the bouts last week, Fowler reported.

This week's fight will feature two bouts with Hollis fighters. This is a benefit show.

There will be no reserved seats, but 600 good seats are available, Fowler said.

Jim Cook and daughters, Vada Cook and Zada McGill, went to Amarillo over the week end to get Mrs. Cook who has been in that city for the past week visiting with her sons, Louis Cook and family and Loyd Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Lucas and daughter, Ruby, went to Amarillo, to take their niece and children, Mrs. J. C. Dean, Penny and Pat, to meet some relatives. From Amarillo Mrs. Dean and children will return home to L. A., California.

Kennedy Speaks at Ag Teachers Meet

Frank Kennedy, Quail, was one of the speakers at the recent meetings of vocational ag teachers and school superintendents of the Greenbelt district, held in Memphis.

The entire program was devoted to in-service training, and discus-

County Voters Approve 2, Reject 3 Amendments

Collingsworth County voters approved two of the five constitutional amendments submitted in the election Tuesday, November 13, J. M. Moore, county clerk, reported after the votes had been counted Thursday.

By an almost two to one vote, the county approved the amendment to increase the Veterans Land Fund for the purchase of lands to be sold to Texas Veterans of World War II and veterans of service in the armed forces subsequent to 1945. The count was 267 for the proposed amendment and 135 against. This was the only amendment to carry in the state as a whole.

By a vote of 217 to 293, the Amendment to set up a system of payments of assistance to needy persons carried locally. Vote on the other three amendments was:

The retirement and disability pension for appointive county officials and employees: for, 93; against, 275.

The investment of permanent University Fund in additional securities: for, 114; against, 241.

The levy of an ad valorem tax not exceeding 50 cents per hundred dollar valuation for the creation and establishment of rural fire prevention districts: for, 1050 against, 263.

A total of 422 votes were polled in this election out of approximately 1,600 eligible voters, Mr. Moore said.

Tienda Child Dies Saturday

Apolonio Tienda, fourteen months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Faustino Tienda, who live north of Wellington, died in St. Joseph's Hospital Saturday, November 17, after a critical illness of several days.

Funeral services were held Sunday at the Catholic Church at Kyle, near Austin, and burial was in the Kyle Cemetery. The Kelso Funeral Home was in charge.

The child was born here September 15, 1950, and had lived near Wellington all his life.

Surviving are the parents and seven brothers and sisters.

E. W. Cocke and son, Sam Dick Cocke, of near Lake City, Colo., left recently for Carrizn Springs after a short visit here with Mr. Cocke's brothers and sister, A. V. Cocke, Judge R. H. Cocke and Mrs. W. O. Richards. They will spend the winter in South Texas. During the time they were here, Sam Dick Cocke and Frank Cocke of Mobeetie made a short business trip to South Dakota. The two Colorado men, who have made their home near Denver since leaving here, have under construction a new home near Lake City, to which they will return next spring.

Three Cars of Peanuts Shipped As Season Opens

Three cars of peanuts were shipped out of here Wednesday, November 14, Jones Singley of Singley Mill, the local buyer, reported.

The peanut harvest here is just getting under way, but yields are somewhat poorer than pre-season expectations, he added.

So far, peanut growers are getting yields of from 12 to 15 bushels per acre.

Quota peanuts, that is, those grown under the government program, are bringing $225 per ton, while peanuts grown on non-quota acreage are bringing 7.9c per pond. The local group is going to the Brady Mills at Brady.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dakil and son visited in Childress Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dakil.

Improvement Work On State Roads Here Explained

The Texas Highway Department announced that a program of highway work calls for the application of a seal coat on several highways in the vicinity of Wellington including State Highway No. 203 across Collingsworth County and the Farm to Market roads north and west of Dozier, east of Lutie and south from Samnorwood to Plymouth.

According to Clyde Drake, highway engineer in charge of the proposed improvement, the work will begin early next summer. Gravel and crushed rock for cover material is now being stock-piled so that it will be available when needed.

Mr. Drake pointed out that the State Highway Commission in authorizing the work indicated that much more extensive work should be done on parts of some of these highways, particularly on State Highway No. 203 but lack of adequate finance prohibits it. Chairman E. H. Thornton, Jr. of the Highway Commission stated, "The Department does not have finances available to do the real job that is necessary on these highways."

The Commission stated that accordingly, this work is part of a state-wide program to preserve the roads, save the remaining investment, and improve safety and travel conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Adado and son of Lansing, Mich., have returned home after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dakil. Mickey Adado is remaining here with her sister and brother-in-law until late December.

THE BEAUTIFUL WAY TO TELL TIME

To The Tax Payers of Wellington Independent School District

As there has been considerable discussion among the taxpayers of this district recently, we consider it our duty to offer this brief explanation of what has been done as your Board of Equalization.

We are aware of the ever increasing burden of taxation not only in our school but in every other branch of our Government. We are also mindful of the constant increase in the cost of operating our school and other tax supported institutions. We would like very much to see a reduction rather than an increase in the tax requirements yet we are faced with the necessity of increasing our tax if we are to maintain the high standard which the patrons of this school expect and are entitled to have.

We have worked almost constantly for over four weeks and have examined every rendition in the entire district, about 1700 separate renditions. No doubt there will be a few widely scattered inequalities on account of the lack of information on our part but we believe that in main, the burden will be fairly distributed.

We have met with the School Board and found them entirely in accord with us in all matters discussed, and with them have worked out the least possible amount that the school can operate on.

We have done our best and we respectfully urge that everyone rally to the support of our school and community in the same unselfish manner that we have done in the past.

EQUALIZATION BOARD FOR

Wellington Independent School District

P. E. Starr, Chairman
S. B. Owens
J. L. Warrick

Your School & Your Taxes

Taxpayers of this school district are now receiving revised valuation figures from the equalization board. These figures have been set by the board after carefully considering the inventory and tentative appraisal made by the appraising company, the representations of all taxpayers who appeared before them after the preliminary notices were sent out, and the board members' knowledge of property and values over the district.

It is the sincere belief of the school board and the equalization board that the valuations now set on all property in this district are fair and equal. In any instance where this is not true, the taxpayer has the right to appear on the date set and present his argument.

Upon recommendation of the board of equalization, the school board has restored the $1.50 tax rate for the year, which resulted in the lowest possible valuations to return funds enough to maintain our schools.

The school's budget for this year has been thoroughly examined by the school board, and no money will be spent which can be saved without lowering substantially the standards of our school system. This budget is open to inspection by any taxpayer at any time.

The school board wants to express thanks and appreciation for the conscientious work done by Mr. Starr, Mr. Warrick and Mr. Owens. They have worked almost constantly for the past four weeks, neglecting their own affairs during a very busy time to do a workmanlike job for the community.

The school board also wishes to express appreciation to the many taxpayers who took the trouble to find out the facts before criticizing its members and impugning their integrity. Board members are also taxpayers, as interested in operating the school economically as any other citizen of the community.

What Is Scouting?

ACHIEVEMENT OF BOYS DEFINITELY RECOGNIZED IN SCOUT PROGRAM

ACTIVITIES

The Scout Movement has a Program of activities in which achievement is definitely recognized. These activities, for the most part, provide ways to practice the Ideals of Scouting and the obligations of the boy as stated in the Cob Scout Promise and Scout Oath.

In Cub Scouting the activities are centered about the Home, the Den and the Pack. In the home, parents work with their boy on a program of achievement, instruction and advancement from one rank to the next, in order to help insure that the boy does his best. Parents certify that their own boy has met his advancement requirements.

The Den is made up of a small neighborhood group of Cub Scouts, and meets once a week in the afternoon with the Den Chief — a Scout from a nearby Troop as the boy leader, and a Den Mother who is the mother of one of the Cub Scouts, to supervise the activities, consisting of games, tricks, puzzles, service of handicraft projects and preparation for stunts to be put on at the next Pack meeting.

The Pack meeting of parents, Cub Scouts, Den Chiefs, other Pack officers, and friends, is held once a month. At this meeting Cub Scouts exhibit their work and receive recognition for their achievements, put on stunts and play games. Part of the meeting is devoted to special training for parents in preparation for the next month's Pack and Den Programs.

In Boy Scouting a boy participates with his Patrol and Troop in hiking and camping in the out-of-doors. The very word "Scouting" with the tang of out-of-doors suggests activities of hiking and camping. The term "Scouting" as explained by Baden-Powell, the founder, means the work and attributes of backwoodsmen, explorers, and frontiersmen. The Scout is taught to live "on his own" and care for his own needs and those of others. Requirements for the Ranks were developed with the idea that a boy who proves himself equipped to that extent, might reasonably be considered as grounded in the qualities which go

The purpose of the Explorer Program is to instill in young men a code of ethics for their use in life, through an organized program in which their previous Scout experiences are continued, deepened and polished. Activities of the Explorer Program are developed around the boy's special interest in a particular phase of the Program. Exploring helps to develop in the older Scouts the qualities of leadership, self-reliance, and good citizenship. Older Scouts also help the Troop's program, and make the Scoutmaster's leadership more effective.

Sea Exploring carries on the Ideals of Scouting as expressed in the Scout Oath and Law, and features the lore and tradition of the sea, and water activities.

Exploring offers an opportunity for the young man to participate in a program which, while closely akin to the Boy Scout Program in activities, such as camping, expeditions, and service, still offers an opportunity for him to explore almost any phase of activity in which he might be interested. The Explorer Program emphasizes the traditions and the skills of the pioneer and explorer.

Air Exploring grants the opportunity to learn essentials of aviation and take practice flights under qualified leaders. The program enables an Explorer to school himself in aerodynamics, airplane engines, instruments, navigation and other elements of flight, as well as the social, citizenship and character values of Scouting. The young man may follow any activities he chooses.

Scouting gives boys an opportunity to serve their community. Its activities not only give pleasure and knowledge, but they prepare the Scout to meet emergencies. The activities prepare Scouts and Explorers to save lives in case of emergencies brought on by tornadoes, fires, floods, etc. A Scout also learns to take care of himself. NEXT WEEK — The Organization of the Scout Program.

By MRS. E. L. RANKIN

Rev. Bean of Shamrock filled his regular second Sunday appointment at the Methodist Church Sunday morning and evening. His wife and daughter were with him and they were all guests in the James Murry home for lunch.

Loy Harvey and daughter, Barbara, and nephew, L. B. Cornell and Robert Harvey, made a trip recently to Callasham to visit relatives and old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody Adams and two of their children of Plainview were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davis. Mrs. Adams is a niece of Mr. Davis.

Rheumatic Heart Disease First in Children's Deaths

AUSTIN — Rheumatic heart disease is now the first cause of death among children aged ten to fourteen, and is second only to tuberculosis at ages 15 to 25. Despite the importance of this disease it's cause and spread is not completely established. No vaccine such as those that prevent typhoid fever, diphtheria, smallpox and whooping cough has yet been developed, for its prevention and control. We do know, however, some of the danger signals and with the physician's accurate diagnosis some of the damaging results of the disease may be prevented.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, points out that in general the danger signals of rheumatic fever are pain and swelling in the joints of the knees, ankles, elbows or wrists. The pain is usually felt in one of these centers and spreads to the others. Often times a child will get irritable and cross without any visible signs of a good reason for this attitude; he may cry easily or develop habits of nervousness. A physician should be consulted at once in such a situation, for these symptoms may be the beginning of rheumatic fever.

a patient in Shamrock General Hospital for some time, was moved to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Massey, last week.

John Morgan, who has been in poor health for several months, passed away Saturday night. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved ones. Mr. Morgan has been a member of the Samnorwood school board many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Ezzell and daughter, Connie made a trip to Arkansas the first of this week to return some people to their home who have been here several weeks pulling cotton for the Ezzells. The people wanted to stay here and work, in fact they felt that they need the money they could make from now until Christmas pulling bolls to buy food and clothing for this winter. However, the children were all school age and the farmers are not allowed, under federal law, to employ children under 16 years of age during school hours.

Samnorwood school re-opened Monday after a six-weeks vacation to gather cotton.

There is still lots of cotton in the fields and there are too many green bolls to run mechanical pullers successfully.

The new farm-to-market road No. 1443 is completed except for a few finishing touches perhaps. It is now a good hard-surfaced road and the people of the Lone Mound community and on to Lela who live in that area are justly proud of it. We all are, for many of us Dozier people have an occasion to travel that road frequently. We don't know of a place in the county that needed a good road more than that part from Lone Mound to Lela.

The completion of this piece of road makes a continuous hard surfaced road from highway 83 through Samnorwood, Dozier and on to join Highway 66 at Lela.

Exposure to frequent chilling, damp or overcrowded living quarters, a poor diet, an attack of scarlet fever, a bad cold or other infection caused by certain streptococcus germs are likely to be predisposing factors in the appearance of rheumatic fever.

According to Dr. Cox the best safeguards against this disease are to have each child and adult examined at least once a year by a physician, to have the right kind of foods for an adequate diet and to have plenty of rest, when the disease is suspected of being present, a doctor should be consulted at once.

For best results, winter legumes should be planted within the next few days.

Destructive Force of Worry Explained

Worry is a predominant emotion today. People worry about death, loneliness, poverty, war, inflation, disease ect. Disease is one worry that you can help dissipate. It has been said that when once the cause of a disease is known you are half way to the cure.

In conversation with a successful business executive several days ago, he suggested that we write an article on "worry" because of his own experience. For years he devoted himself so completely to his business that suddenly and without warning, his health began to break so fast that he began to worry constantly of a complete collapse. He spent several months at the beach, by orders of specialists, all of whom prescribed rest. But rest alone could not restore him and he returned home. Although he knew nothing of Chiropractor he decided to consult a Chiropractor through the insistence of a neighbor.

When thorough examination as completed, explanation of the cause of his breakdown so completely allayed his "worrying" that half of the battle for health was won. Following his first adjustment he felt a change taking place in his body. The tension in his previous system began to relax, his peace of mind was restored and he is gaining strength daily.

The modern Chiropractor finds that many patients are worried and nervous mainly because they have been unable to find anyone who can locate the cause of their sickness. Usually a simple explanation of the cause of their sickness and Scientific adjustments administered to correct the cause dissipated their fears and health returns in a natural manner.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

If you do not get very good service out of the front end personnel of this newspaper for the next few days, don't blame us. Put the blame on a Mame named flu. I came back from Galveston with a deep chest cold and aching all over, and Dorothy Robertson came back from the Texas-TCU game with the same illness. But the bad thing is that we came back and gave a double dose of our ailment to Virginia Robey and now she is as sick as both of us. We can limp along fairly well with any one of the three of us out of commission; but this is the first time that I can remember all three of us being sick at the same time.

Let people talk about the climate in the Panhandle. I think it is the most desirable on earth. You can be comfortable here in light clothing with the temperature ten degrees below freezing. In Galveston, my marrow bones were chilled by the harsh salt winds; but the thermometer said that it was only 40 degrees. Dorothy Robertson reported the same experience from Austin. Those dumb bells down state talk about the cold sweeping down on them from the Panhandle as if this were the gateway to the north pole and the cold came down in a direct line. Evidently they have never heard of high and low fronts. They know about hurricanes that sweep up slowly in a great circle from the Caribbean; but they don't know much about the inland weather that affects them just as it does us.

I went to Galveston primarily to see my daughter and son-in-law; but my excuse was to attend the meeting of the Texas Editorial Association. It was the first time I had ever attended this particular convention. Only newspaper people who have been in the business for at least 25 years are allowed to attend. Their slogan is that they have no dues, no registration fees and no program. This is only two-thirds true. There are no dues. You do not pay to register; but they did have one of the most hilarious and enlightening programs that I have ever attended. One editor was 84 years of age and another was 81. Franz Zeiske of Bellville and I were the youngest editors present and we are bordering on 50.

I learned about tea at the meeting. The Lipton Tea Company operates its most modern plant in Galveston. It is not the largest; but it is the most up to date tea processing and blending plant in the world. The City of Galveston gave them the site along the waterfront. The machinery amounts to over three-quarters of a million dollars in investment. They have to blend the tea according to its kind. For instance there are two varieties that have strong flavors that will not blend. Mix them together and you have no tea at all. But take either one of these two and mix with other proper varieties and you get tea that is good to drink.

Other interesting facts I learned: Texas is the largest consumer of tea in the United States.

Another fact I learned: Most of us do not make tea correctly. The water should be bubbling hot and it should stay in the pot from 3 to 5 minutes depending on how strong you want it. This may explain why you get such poor hot tea in Wellington restaurants. The water is never boiling when it is poured over the tea. Besides you should put your saucer over the top of the cup for at least three minutes to get the proper flavor.

LOCO

By MRS. GEORGE ADKINS

There was a large crowd at both of the churches Sunday. The Rev. Doyle Brown of Shamrock delivered two fine sermons. He brought two guests with him and we hope that they will visit our church again.

A conference will be held next Sunday, November 25, at Aberdeen. There will be preaching at 11 o'clock and a business meeting in the afternoon.

We had another cold wave Thursday and a sand storm stopping the cotton pulling for a day.

A large crowd from here attended the play in Wellington Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Crowley have a new car at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Baumgardner, Priscilla, George Durley, John Gardner and Ada Carol Thomas attended the M.Y.F. meet in Shamrock Saturday night. A nice time was reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown, Jonny and Jackie Lynn visited Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson and Juda at Buck Creek Tuesday.

The Loco Gin has been working over time due to the large amount of cotton. The farmers are bringing to the gin. This community does not have very many hands to pull cotton. They are using boll pullers and strippers are starting in several fields.

The highwaymen are burning weeds and cleaning away the trash in the bar ditches this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wolf gave a Thanksgiving dinner in their home Sunday evening in Wellington. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barnes and Dona of Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. George Adkins and Jo and Juanel Wolf of Pampa.

Mrs. O. E. Hilger returned to her home in Greenville after having spent the month with her sister, Mrs. O. E. Dodson.

Report From Europe

By WILLIAM B. DILLINGHAM
Special Correspondent For The Wellington Leader

STOCKHOLM — Looking for a bar in Sweden is like trying to find an Irishman who doesn't like beer — there just aren't any! To add to the thirsty man's strife, ration tickets are demanded even for the bottle one wants to take home. Sweden is the only country where rationing was prompted because the market had an over-supply; with a shortage, ironically enough, the ticket system would be abandoned.

The government here feels that a liquor restriction is necessary for the well-being of everybody. They say that a Swede with a drink to fortify his opinions is just a little bit rougher, tougher and crazier than the wildest foreigner. Social reformers claim that before whiskey rationing went into effect, Sweden was smothering in an alcoholic mist. The practice of driving on the left hand side of the road was supposed to have taken its origin from this very same mist. Personally, I don't believe it, but that's how the rumor goes. (Sweden is the only European country besides England, incidentally, that maintains a left hand traffic direction. Austria used to be the third but Hitler said he didn't like the idea because it reminded him of England. In those days, that was enough to change any traffic direction!)

The Swedes are an extremely practical people, which is one of the first things a visitor to this country realizes. Even in the simplest of chores like mailing a letter, life is made easy. Every bus and street-car has a post box attached to it to speed up and economize on mailing services. Post a letter with a bus going in the proper direction and the letter will reach its destination (provided it is within the city) in just a matter of hours. On the other hand, enter a Swedish store to order a dozen eggs and we would probably be accused of trying to confuse the grocer. Eggs are sold by the pound or kilo here so that just anybody would ask for a dozen potatoes, a customer mustn't order a dozen eggs. The idea is really a very good one. I'm merely surprised that the Scotch didn't think of it first.

Speaking of Scotch, the following conversation, which took place before a crowd of about one-hundred people, was translated for me by a friend in Stockholm.

"Open up a few saloons and let's be happy and human," complained an old Swedish sailor just back from a foreign cruise.

"A dignified, sober character has no desire for such unwholesome beverages," replied the soap-box orator. "Forget the base, material things of life and learn to appreciate the spiritual!"

"I have for forty years," yelled out the tattooed sailor. "That's what I want — some spirits!"

LETTER-GO-CART—Here's a new thing in the mailing service—the push cart. Irving R. Wonnacott, a mailman since 1918, is quite happy with the new vehicle that saves wear and tear on the carrier's back and clothes. Irving uses the cart on his route in Oak Park, Ill.

Turkey Hunters Spend $271 Av.

AUSTIN — Analyzing big game hunting costs, a Game and Fish Commission wildlife biologist reported the average hunter stalking deer and turkey spent $271.97 for the 1947 season.

He said the minimum expenditure per hunter that year was $2—the price of the old resident hunting license — and that the maximum individual expenditure was $3,618.50.

Broken down to the price of each prize bagged, he reported the cost of harvesting one wild turkey gobbler or one buck deer on the average was $186.98.

The study was made by Henry C. Hahn, Jr., of Kerrville, veteran Game and Fish Commission staffer. He was aided by 14 biologists and six game wardens.

The $271.97 spent by the average hunter included such items as the following:

Supplies and equipment, $107.48; transportation, $51.72; hunting lease, $37.34; food, $22.61; miscellaneous (camp cook, labor, insurance, etc.) $16.84; refreshments and amusements, $12.77; hunting dogs, $10.68; mounting and tanning, $3.88; game storage and processing, $2.66; hunting lease elsewhere in addition to the one on Edwards Plateau, $2.59; lodging, $1.91; telephone and telegraph, $1.49.

Another major item was hunting clothing. Transportation also was costly since the average hunter drove his automobile approximately 500 miles during the 1947 hunting season. Some of the mileage was made prior to the season in trips to hunting leases and on general reconnaissance.

Fruit salads that are fresh and colorful are popular with moth families. Therefore, they should be prepared just before they are used.

By using a budget plan, families can use the budget as a guide to help them keep expenses within the expected family income.

In The State of Texas*

HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE NEW TEXAS "SAFETY RESPONSIBILITY LAW"

- 1 Enforcement Begins January 1, 1952. On this date, the new Safety-Responsibility Law, as passed by the Legislature, goes into effect. This law was designed to protect you against financially irresponsible drivers and owners of motor vehicles involved in accidents. It affects all drivers and motor vehicle owners (except Federal, State, County and City-owned cars).
- 2 What Must You Do After An Accident? Under existing laws, you must file a written report to the Department of Public Safety if your car is involved in an accident where there is a death, an injury or property damage in excess of $25. Under the new law, a written report must be filed within ten days if your car is in an accident resulting in death, injury or property damage in excess of $100.
- 3 You Don't Have to Carry Liability Insurance, But . . . If you are not insured against bodily injury and property damage liability, you must be able to deposit with the Department of Public Safety security equal to the estimated damage, not exceeding $15,000.00, to cover all claims growing out of an accident anywhere in Texas in which you or your motor vehicle were involved. If you cannot establish financial responsibility for the future, your driver's license and your motor vehicle license plates are automatically suspended.
- 4 It's Easy to Establish Financial Responsibility with a motor vehicle liability insurance policy. If you do not now have such a policy, call your local insurance agent today. He is a qualified insurance counselor who will be happy to advise you concerning your needs.
- 5 What is the Minimum of Your Liability? The law permits each driver to establish the following minimum limits of liability: up to $5,000.00 for injuries sustained by one person; up to $10,000.00 for all personal injuries resulting from one accident, and up to $5,000.00 for property damage. You do not have to establish such liability but it is the easiest way.

Select an Established Insurance Agent. Beware of "90 day wonder" agents whom you couldn't find when you need service. Watch out for cut rate or bargain offers and for policies written for less than one year at excess rates. The agents listed below know the insurance business and represent well-known dependable capital stock insurance companies. These agents are not of the kind that are here today and gone tomorrow. Their names are listed in the telephone directory. A telephone call will find them ready to serve you—not only NOW—but YEARS from now. Call the one of your choice.

No Poison Will Kill It,

PINK BOLL WORM CAUSES DEEP CONCERN IN TEXAS COUNTIES

By JOHN C. WHITE

Tex. Commissioner of Agriculture

The general public should be deeply concerned about the spread of the pink bollworm in Texas. This perilous cotton insect has moved into 193 cotton counties in Texas. Most of these counties are lightly infested, but that is a big step toward a heavy infestation.

The pink bollworm is one insect that cannot be handled by any type or kind of poison. He makes his way into the cotton boll through a hole too small to see with the naked eye, eats out the seeds, and destroys the yield. When his population gets built up real high, he causes the squares and the small bolls to shed also. One female may lay as many as 200 eggs which become adults in about 30 days. Thus, during a long growing season of the cotton plant, there are from 4 to 6 generations of this vicious cotton pest.

The way to fight this dangerous cotton insect is to destroy his place for passing the winter; thereby, keeping him from multiplying. The cotton plant, cottonseed, old cotton bolls, cotton trash in fields or at the gin are places he passes the winter. Therefore, farming practices that will shorten his breeding season, such as, early planting and early destruction of stalks, leaving no stubs nor volunteer plants, and deep plowing to cover over wintering insects are effective ways to fight this insect. Our research and experimental institutions in agriculture have proved that these were effective and practical ways to fight not only pink bollworm, but other bad cotton insects as well.

When the pink bollworm shows up in a Texas county and the Governor issues an emergency proclamation, the state law requires the State Commissioner of Agriculture to set up a quarantine. This quarantine is for the purpose of regulating the movement of products likely to carry the pest to other cotton areas. Not only the movement of cotton is regulated, but the cottonseed is treated by a process of sterilization to destroy pink bollworms present in the seed, and gin trash is destroyed. In some of these quarantine zones, where the infestation is heavy, the regulations are more strict and the Commissioner requires an early planting date and an early plow-up date on cotton also. All of this is very expensive and very troublesome to growers and to everybody concerned. That is why the Commissioner is pleading, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Since the pink bollworm is no respecter of state lines, the Federal Government cooperates with the State Government in this control. In fact, the greatest problem with this insect in Texas is along the Mexican border. Here is an ever present source of pink bollworm from across the Rio Grande. As is well known, the Federal Government has the job of keeping this insect from crossing this international boundary line which is the Rio Grande River. In addition, two of our adjoining states, Oklahoma and New Mexico, have pink bollworm. The Federal Government is deeply concerned along these state lines, or any state line as for that matter.

The Texas Commissioner of Agriculture would like to stress and emphasize that public opinion and public sentiment, to the last individual in Texas, should be marshalled in the fight against this dangerous cotton pest. As every Texan knows, laws and regulations are what the general public makes up their mind for them to be. The various educational institutions in agriculture in this State have some essential ways worked out in a voluntary program to fight this pest. They tell us how and when to destroy the pink bollworm. In the interest of the cotton industry, which means so much to the whole economy of Texas, it behooves each person to do his share.

Five of the nineteen cotton growing states have the pink bollworm. There were six states that did have the pest, but Georgia has done away with their pink bollworms.

CHRYSLER DREAM CAR

Something new in passenger car design is Chrysler Corporation's K-310 European type sports sedan developed as an experimental companion to a powerful new Chrysler K-310 engine which produces 310 horsepower on ordinary premium grade gasoline without supercharging. Styled and designed by Chrysler engineers in the United States, the K-310 experimental car was built by Carrozzeria Ghia in Turin, Italy, on a chassis shipped to Europe by Chrysler. Built on a 125 1/2-inch wheelbase, the car is only 59 inches high, with low sweeping lines and full head-room, with a low flat hood and large wire wheels. K. T. Keller, Chairman of the Board of Chrysler Corporation, said the K-310 sets "entirely new objectives to reach for" in passenger car development. Whether it will be produced for sale has not yet been decided.

Norwood House Burns Wednesday

By MRS. C. W. FRITTS
The three-room farm house belonging to Theo Parker, two miles south of Samnorwood, was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon about 5:30 p. m. The house was occupied by a group of three families of Mexican boll pullers from Del Rio.

The house and contents were a complete loss. A kerosene cook stove explosion caused the fire.

A young married woman, a baby and two small children, were at the house while the group of 12 were pulling cotton for Wesley Terry north of Lutie.

One hundred and fifty dollars in a metal trunk was saved when the fire died down enough to get the truck out. Two men of the group lost $300 in money and $500 worth of winter clothing purchased last week, also their bedding and cooking utensils were lost. Six girls in this group lost watches and other jewelry in the fire valued at about $250.

The farm is farmed by Odus Bradley. This was one of the oldest houses on the Plymouth flat. It was built in 1911 by W. H. Riley, now of Dozier, who first settled the place. S. J. Carrell bought the farm in 1925 and owned it more than 20 years. He sold it to Theo Parker several years ago.

Jones in Annual SMU-TCU Game

DALLAS — The traditional Freshmen football game between the yearling Colts of Southern Methodist University and the Wogs of Texas Christian has this year been taken under the sponsorship of the Variety Club Boys Ranch and will be staged with spectacular showmanship.

Scheduled to be played at Ownby Stadium in Dallas on Friday, November 30 at 2:00 p.m. the occasion will be enlivened by the first annual crowning of a SMU Freshmen Queen, with all ballots to be cast by members of the grid squad.

All of the sororities and student organizations selected nominees to compete for the coronation honors.

Philip Earl Jones of Wellington, is one of the players on the S. M. U. squad who will play in the game.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Tompkins and children of Borger visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Curry and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tompkins, over the week end.

Thanksgiving 1951

The pilgrims who inaugurated Thanksgiving Day left their homes to make the perilous trip across the Atlantic for more than land. They risked lives and wealth to win the right to worship freely—to live democratically. It was on the basic principals of liberty that our great nation was founded. It was for these principles our forefathers fought so long and so valiantly.

We, who are the inheritors of this fine tradition, are faced with those who would hamper our liberty. So this Thanksgiving day, let us determine to rededicate ourselves to these Democratic principles. Let us resolve to preserve for our children the same freedom our forefathers fought to give us, freedom which has brought us such abundance.

World's Highest Priced Bale to Stay at Lubbock

LUBBOCK — The world's highest priced bale of cotton will not have to leave Lubbock County for processing, thanks to the Textile Engineering Department at Texas Tech.

The $1,850 bale of cotton, raised by Carter Caldwell of Slaton, has been given to Texas Tech by the buyer, Bob Womble of Womble Olds Co. in Lubbock. The textile engineering students will process the high-priced staple as laboratory material and make towels and washrags for charitable instructions in the county. A few yards of drapery will be made for Womble as a souvenir.

The Lubbock Jaycees auctioned off the bale at $3.70 a pound on a 500-pound basis. The bale weighed 650 pounds. The $1,850 Caldwell received is the highest price on record for a bale of cotton. The market price for seven-eighths, middling cotton is about 32 cents a pound.

Early Panhandle Settler Dies

Mrs. Ella Young, 84, died early Wednesday morning, November 14, at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Clara Rice at Arlington. She had been ill for several months.

Mrs. Young was born in Missouri and had lived in Texas 78 years.

She lived at Quail from 1918 to 1943, when she moved to Arlington. At Quail she made her home with another daughter, Mrs. Lee Minyard.

Mrs. Young's family pioneered in both West Texas and New Mexico. They lived first at Salisbury, then in 1889, her father, "Grandpa" Howe, moved his family to Raton, N. M., where they lived several years before moving back to Hall County in 1896. Some of the pioneer experiences of the Howe family and others like them, were the subject of a book by Mrs. Young's brother, Charlie Howe, a retired newspaperman now living at San Diego, Calif.

She was married to W. M. Young in Memphis in 1897. They lived at Estelline until after his death in 1911.

Mrs. Young is survived by four other daughters, Mrs. Mamie Painter of Wilburton, Okla.; Mrs. Pearl Cuthbert, Los Angeles; Mrs. Odie Isler of Roswell, N. M.; and Mrs. Lula Minyard of Quail; two sisters and two brothers: Mrs. Ed Reeves of Vinson, Okla., Charlie Howe and another sister of San Diego, and Walter Howe of Altus, Okla. Sixteen grandchildren and 28 great grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were held in the Wood Chapel Baptist Church Thursday at Arlington. Burial was in White Chapel Memorial Gar-

Social Security Man Here Nov. 28

Are you one of the self-employed people now covered under the Federal Old-Age and survivors insurance? If you are, you need a social security account-number card, according to John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo social security office.

"Self-employed people who were brought under the Social Security Act by last year's changes in the law will report their net income from self-employment at the same time they make their Federal income tax returns early next year," Sanderson said. At that time, they will enter their social security numbers on the tax form, together with other information.

Sanderson indicated that al-dens. Mr. and Mrs. Minyard went from here to the funeral.

under the new Texas Motor Vehicle

Safety Responsibility Law with AUTO LIABILITY INSURANCE!

Under this new law, your driver's license and registrations will be suspended following an accident in which persons are injured or killed, or property is damaged in excess of $100, if you fail to deposit security with the State as proof of your financial responsibility to satisfy any judgments that may result from the accident.

(*Security as proof of financial responsibility is an automobile liability insurance policy, or a bond, or up to $15,000 in cash or in securities.)

The least expensive and most practical way to avoid suspension of your driver's license under this law, is to have an Auto Liability Insurance policy to file as security to prove your financial responsibility.

Rockets Blank Paducah 18-0 to Close Season

The Wellington Skyrockets ended their season Friday night, November 16, with an 18-0 win over the Paducah Dragons. This gave the Rockets second place in four-team District 3-AA.

This was Paducah's homecoming game, played before a sparse crowd in freezing weather.

The teams appeared to be about even during the first quarter. Early in the game the Dragons pushed down to within Rocket goal territory, when the Wellington line stiffened and held them but a brief distance from scoring territory.

The Rockets first score came in the second quarter, when Clyde Ingram, in what was probably the high point of the game, carried the ball 58 yards to the Dragon one yard line. On the next play, he went through for the score.

Only a few minutes later, Tommy Wood, taking the ball on the Dragon 11, went the remaining distance for the second Rocket score.

In the fourth quarter, a second string Rocket, Harold Wayne Moore, scooted 24 yards to make a long Rocket drive pay off.

Paducah presented a fair line, and Green, in the backfield, was good until the Rockets pretty well got his number before the game ended.

Coaches Maxey McKnight and Donald Briggs played their second string during much of the second half, and these youngsters, turning in a creditable performance, outplayed the best that the Dragons had to offer at that stage of the game.

For ten Rockets, it was the final game, Farrell Kent, Hoot Gibson, co-captains, and Carroll Duncan, Tommy Wood, Seldon Wood, Dan Jameson, Ray Mitchell, Don Shoff, Kenneth Covey and Tommy Beam.

proportions bill passed by the 82nd Congress, that would be more than $9 billion dollars, amounting to almost as much as the increase over the 1950 appropriations.

Mr. Rogers explained that $1.9 per cent of the appropriations bill is for national defense and defense related activities. $56.9 billion is for the Department of Defense, with the Army getting $20 billion, Navy $16 billion and the Air Force $21 billion. He pointed out that approximately $15 billion of this is for tanks and other heavy arms that have been ordered but will not be delivered until 1953, and he questioned the wisdom of raising taxes now to pay for something two years from now, "for I never saw a taxing unit that didn't spend every cent it could get its hands on when it had it available."

Mr. Rogers declared his willingness to give every dollar necessary to defense, but he was equally firm that a blank check should not be given the spending agencies.

Mr. Taylor, a cattleman who has observed farming and stock raising conditions throughout the world, spoke of what the farmer contributes the world, then explained the famine conditions of India.

"I have never heard of a well fed nation losing a war," he commented.

"In England, I was appalled at conditions. Their meat ration is about 2 ounces of meat a week, and they have closed down most of the blood banks in the country, because you can't give your blood unless you have meat to eat," Mr. Taylor said.

A few minutes later, he pointed out that the wheat grower gets 22c out of every dollar and the marketing agencies keep the rest, the dairyman keeps 53 cents, but the hog or cattle raiser keeps 62 cents. "When you make up your program for the coming year, plan to have some hogs and cattle in it," he urged.

Turning to the increased cost of defense in recent years, Mr. Taylor said that the cost of the soldier's carbine has increased from $40 to $60; of an automatic rifle from $133 to $358; if a medium bomber from $185,000 to $2,500,000; of a jeep from $1,051 to $2,200.

Mr. Taylor reminded that Russia has taken other nations at the rate of 44 sections of land every hour for the last 11 years. "I have some pretty good friends who are Russians, and I feel that these people don't want what's going on in their country," he commented.

A distinguished church layman, Mr. Taylor closed his talk by emphasizing the need for a deep and continuing belief in God.

Can U. S. Be More Thrifty in Europe

CONGRESSMAN'S WIFE, OFTEN VISITOR HERE, TELLS OF LIFE IN EUR.

(Mrs. Wingate Lucas of Grapevine, a frequent Wellington visitor, is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baumgardner. Her last trip here was during the summer.)

By ELIZABETH CARPENTER

Times Washington Bureau
AMARILLO — Ah, modern woman! A Texas congressional wife with no less than five children has just toured 14 European countries, ranging from Turkey to Liechtenstein, and come home wondering if Uncle Sam isn't spending too much money abroad.

Mrs. Wingate Lucas, whose husband represents the Fort Worth district in congress, bowed to his insistence that she accompany him to the Interparliamentary Union meeting in Istanbul.

"I want you to have something to talk about besides the children," he told her when Vice President Alben Barkley named him a delegate, along with Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco.

So, Jerry Lucas prevailed upon an old friend and standby to come in and be a substitute "mama" for the five little Lucases whose ages are 10, 8, 6, 4, and 2, and away she went for a two months "wonderful" trip.

Being a generous husband, Lucas handed his wife $500 in travelers checks with orders to "spend every cent of it in Paris."

But, being an economical housewife, Jerry Lucas splurged on a $15 hat in Paris and the rest of it paid for the trip.

"I went on money which my husband was sweet enough to borrow so I could go along. And I just couldn't throw it around," confessed this economy-minded mother who has to do some sharp figuring to stretch a congressional salary to pay the high cost of living for a family of seven.

Her own code toward money explains her reaction to the European treatment of American dollars.

VACATIONING GERMANS.
"I'm sure that in many countries, like Greece, American dollars are its salvation," she said, "but speaking strictly as an amateur observer, the Germans certainly don't look like the conquered people."

The only people the Lucases found vacationing in Switzerland when they motored through were Germans.

The Germans are running all over Switzerland in new cars—small cars, yes, but cars!" she reports.

In comparison to the people of Holland, it is particularly shocking since the Dutch were allies and now their country is virtually destitute.

"It seems to me it's the Dutch people we ought to be helping," she said, adding that she considers her 165 West Fifth St.

November 13, 1951

Dear Mr. Wells,

Please send a one-year subscription of The Wellington Leader to my brother-in-law, who is stationed in Tokyo, Japan. He is training to be a guard for General Ridgeway's family and he gets awfully lonesome over there. He would enjoy hearing from any of his friends that would care to write.

Pfc. David Lee Roy Browning, 54065137, Honor Guard Co. A. U. 8233

GHQ-FEC APO 500
c-o Postmaster,
San Francisco, Calif.

We would also enjoy hearing from any of our friends there that want to write. We moved to Dumas, Texas, in March 1949 and lived there until August 1951, when, because of my husband's health, we moved to Oregon. This is a beautiful country here, and we like it fine. It rains a lot in the winter, but without thunder and lightning. They say it never rains in the summer. It never gets very hot here as in Texas. The temperature didn't get over 100 after we got here August 16. That didn't seem hot because there are so many trees.

A short time ago we received word that Pfc. Charles Fletcher Adams was on his way home so we're hoping he is home by now. His brother, Sam Adams, ADE 3/c, visited with my brother-in-law in Tokyo the first part of September.

Since Texans somehow attract other Texans, even in foreign countries, the Lucases were not surprised when they lunched near Paris and found 12 other Texans eating at the same place. But nearly bowled them over when the 12 other Texans all hailed from their hometown of Fort Worth, including Ruth Googins, Eidson, the former Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt. Other luncheon "neighbors" were Tallulah Bankhead and the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

In Paris, the Lucases ran into another Texas congressional couple, Rep. and Mrs. Lloyd Bentsen Jr. of McAllen. Together, Lucas and Bentsen had a lengthy luncheon at SHAPE headquarters with General "Ike."

GRAND RECEPTION
The other night when the Lucases arrived back in Washington after two months absence, the children had waited up for them.

"We never got such a welcome," Jerry Lucas said warmly.

Suitcases were immediately opened and five little Bavarian outfits were pulled out and tried on over pajamas.

"It really was a thrilling trip," summarizes the mother - traveler but, after being refreshed with a two months "honeymoon" away from five children, she's also thrilled to be back wiping noses, preparing school lunches, and vacuuming the floors.

The students of Junior High last week observed "good manners week" in along with American Education Week, Lee Plante, principal, announced.

"Good Manners Week" is an annual event with the students of the local school, and is an event started by the boys and girls in this system.

In addition to practicing good manners, the students also select the best mannered boy and girl.

Top honor for the girls went to Hannah Clark, with Janet Jones second, and Mary Parsons and Patricia Hughes tying for third.

Athen Lowry was voted the boy with the best manners. There was a four-way tie for second place, among Don Crawford, Jerry Don Crow, Maxey Tarver and Ray Henry; and a tie between two boys, Charles Terry and Garland Midgett, for third.

Hannah received a purse as her award and Athen a wallet.

Another feature of American Education Week was the assembly program, attended by the parents, with each room having a part on the program.
