Suspect Arrested

Accused Of Taking Woman's Car

Eighteen hours after a Colorado City woman leaped from her moving auto, officers Tuesday had in custody of a 21-year-old father suspected of hiding in her car and taking the vehicle from her.

Concern of a relative for the suspect's family led city police and sheriff officers to the suspect.

Mrs. George Fugate, 129 West 11th, jumped from her car Monday night when she said a man climbed from the back into the front seat.

He had been hiding on the rear floor of her Comet auto and surprised her after she had entered the car parked at Root Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Fugate, clerk for Texas Highway Department auto license office here, was starting home at about 9 p. m. after visiting her husband, a patient in the hospital.

"He told me he had to get to Snyder," she told officers.

"He was behind me and I couldn't see him very good.

"He said he would not harm me."

But when Mrs. Fugate started driving toward her home, the man told her to turn back and drive toward Snyder.

"I was so frightened," she told officers, "I almost ran into a couple of cars.

"When we were between the hospital and E-Z Way Superette (located at 17th and Hickory) he started climbing over the seat to take control of the driving . . . and I jumped out."

She said the man attempted to grab her, but she got out the car and started running back to the hospital. He drove away in her car.

Local police were not notified immediately of the incident. They received a radio report about 9:20 p.m. from George Lee, State Highway Department weights and license division, who had been called by Mrs. Fugate.

Officers had only meager information concerning the man's appearance.

However, Tuesday morning the Fugate car was discovered parked in front of R. F. (Bob) Fee residence, 604 E. 13th St. with the motor running.

A few hours later at noon Tuesday a relative of the suspect contacted police to report concern for the family of Jimmy Hernandez, who lives at 640 E. 13th St. and whose family was in Midland.

The relative said the Hernandez residence was in disarray.

Police Chief Jesse Browning and Sheriff Lewis Claxton obtained a Warrant for the arrest of Hernandez and entered the residence, but the young father was not there.

They went to Snyder and arrested Hernandez there in mid-afternoon at home of relatives.

Immediatly upon return to Colorado City, the case was presented to Mitchell County grand jury which returned an indictment charging Hernandez with driving and operating Mrs. Fugate's car without her consent.

Cowans Back In Texas

After 13 Years In Foreign Posts

Mr. and Mrs. Joe W: Cowan and their two younger children have returned to Texas after a two-year stay in Seoul, Korea, and visited friends in Colorado City, Tuesday.

Cowan was Mitchell County Agricultural Agent from 1947 until 1953. He then worked a while at Longview for Le Tournau before entering private business at Anson.

In 1955 he was named district agent for the Trust Territory and sent to the mandate island Palou, in the South Pacific, where he was agricultural consultant for the United State Department of the Interior. He and his family also lived a while on the island of Majuro.

After four years in the South Pacific, Cowan went to work under the State Department as regional Extension advisor in Ghana, country in Western Africa on the Gulf of Guinea.

In Ghana he helped to set up an Extension Service similar to that available to American farmers and their families.

From Ghana he was sent to Nigeria, in west central Africa. There he served as livestock specialist and taught agriculture in a college. The Zebu cattle of Nigeria are, Cowan said, similar to the Brahma cattle of this country.

Final foreign home for the Cowans was Seoul, South Korea, where for the past two years he has been rural development advisor.

Industry, friendliness, spirit, and intelligence of the South Korean people were highly praised by Cowan.

"They rae wonderful people," he said, "hard-working people."

Ross, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Cowan, attended kindergarten with about 30 Korean children, one other American child, and a teacher who spoke no English. He therefore speaks fluent Korean, considered on of the most difficult of all foreign language.

It was during their 13-year stay overseas that the Cowan family added Ross, now six, and his baby sister, Sara Beth, 19-months-old.

They are also parents of Joe B. Cowan, now back in San Diego after service as a Marine in Vietnam. When his military stint is complete, 10 months from now, Joe B. will return to University of Texas a junior student.

Second Cowan son, Dale, has been attending the University of Maryland. He, too, will enroll in University of Texas in Austin, in September as a junior student.

Joe W. Cowan was retired by Extension Service April 30, after 24 years.

Currently he, and his wife Eunice and the younger children are making their headquarters at the home of Mrs. Cowan's father, M. L. Montgomery at Seguin.

Cowan expects to enter private business or seek employment, possibly in the banking field, after a short rest and vacation.

In Colorado City the family were guests in the home of Mrs. Herman Becker, 1021 Chestnut St.

CONVERSATION CORNER

Ruth Coffey's

EVER WONDER why it is that we hear so much about the square, the triangle, the circle, the angle and the line than about the numerous other figures in geometry?

Gal called square the other day for saying out loud how much fun the Ed Sullivan special featuring Irving Berlin's music was. Funny thing. Nobody calls anybody rectangle or hexagon for listening to Harry James or for laughing at Bob Hope and tingling over Robert Goulet.

But you're called a square sure as shootin' if you listen to Lawrence Welk or even to Liberace.

TIME WAS when to call man square was equivalent to calling him honorable, just as calling a woman nice was to admire her virtue.

Square isn't a compliment any more, though it's still a popular adjective when used to modify as in square deal, square meal, square dance, and so on.

Standing alone, just plain square, means now old-fashioned, unsophisticated, "not hip."

Why not sphere, cone, cylinder?

THE TRIANGLE, usually referred to as the eternal triangle and known as early as King Arthur and even ages earlier, became popular in America about the time Scott Fitzgerald did. It's still going strong in literature, movies, on TV, and via gossip.

Circle is another geometric term that gets into ordinary conversation frequently.

Even circle the block? Catch yourself running around in circles? Speak of social circles or church circles?

Everybody has got to have an angle these days, too. "What's your angle?" we ask each other or "His angle isn't clear", we say.

Line, too, has been popular since Heaven knows when! Romeo had quite a line. So did Juliet. Ever hear "Don't give me that line," or "Man, has he ever got a line?"

FUNNY, isn't it, how we take terms from geometry and adapt them to the slanguage?

Algebra gets in on the act with formula. Chemistry, too. Even arithmetic. Well now you know you may have heard, "That story just doesn't add up!"

Sub-divisions are very strong in this age, too.

Wonder what Rip Van Winkle would think should he wake up today after that 20 years of sleep?

How so you suppose he'd ever be able to translate if somebody asked him "What's your angle? Is this a line? Here we've been going in circle like crazy, man, while you snoozed like a square. Or is this caper on the level?"

"It's just a small part," writes Betty, "but I'm so excited." She is also to appear in the A.C.T. style show today in Abilene wearing "A yellow straight dress with little jacket and hat."

Betty's mother Rubilee will play the role of Frau Schmidt in "Sound of Music." Our gal and her daughter were among more than 200 who tried out for parts in the musical.

More Than Spectators —

It always is amusing to me when I hear a person from a large city criticise small towns for lack of cultural assets.

Here in Colorado City, cultural programs — just the opposite from some of those large city observations — have impressed me year-in- and year-out.

Just for instance, how about those paintings and drawings exhibited during the last couple of weeks by the Colorado High art classes of Mrs. Charles Walker, the Brush and Palette Club and the students of Mrs. Frank Wilson.

These many persons with their artistic endeavor help provide a special cultural flavor to our community and they do it with actual participation not spectatorship.

The large number of citizens who visited the exhibits emphazise the fact, also, that the whole community recognizes this contribution and appreciates all its worth.

New Handbook

About Medicare Benefits

Within coming weeks, older people in Mitchell County will be receiving a new copy of "Your Medicare," a new up-to-date guidebook on their Medicare benefits, how the program works and how payments are made.

Erven Fisher, social security district manager, said the new handbook highlight the changes enacted in the 1967 social security amendments, improving protection and simplifying Medicare procedures. It has also been made easier for older people to read and understand.

In developing the new edition of "Your Medicare Handbook," Fisher said, the Social Security Administration sought the suggestions of elderly readers as well as experts in the field of communications and representatives of professional organizations.

Delivery of the new red, white and blue edition to the 19.6 million Americans 65 and over will be cycled over the next six weeks, Fisher said.

In an introductory letter on the inside front cover of the new hand book, Robert M. Ball, commissioner of Social Security, reminds older people: "If you need further information or want help concerning your Medicare protection or any other social security matters, please get in touch with your social security office. The people there are always glad to help you.

Third Acreage Diverted

Rolling Plains Cotton Farmer Report

Rolling Plains cotton farmers have signed up to divert 331,167 of the 1,181,552 acres alloted to them for planting in 1968, a survey by the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers Inc. disclosed this week.

This is 28% of the acreage alloted to area farmers and compares with 24.6 per cent diverted by producers throughout the state.

Of the state's total allotment of 6,091,717 acres, producers signed up to divert 1,497,908 acres during the March sign-up period.

Maximum total acreage in the Rolling Plains that may be planted in 1968 under diversion program is 820,382 acres. Based on projected yields determined for the 32 counties in RPCG, the estimated potential production for the area is 418,102 bales.

The survey shows that farmers in Fisher County signed up to divert 26,965 of their 78,458-acre allotment (34.4 per cent) for the highest percentage of diversion in the RPCG.

Second highest diversion percentage (33.7) was recorded by farmers in Mitchell County. Of their 64,190-acre allotment, they put 21,632 acres into diversion program.

Taylor County farmers, with a total of 31,825-acre allotment, were third with 10,286 acres, 32 per cent.

Lowest percentage of diversion; 15.3 per cent, was registered by producers in Tom Green County. They placed only 7,980 acres of their 52,243-acre allotment into the program. Second lowest was registered by farmers in Concho County, who agreed to divert 3,939 of their 23,738-acre allotment, or 16.8 per cent.

Haskell County farmers, with an allotment of 112,276 acres, the highest of 32 counties in RPCG, placed 30,648 acres into the diversion program for a 27.3 percentage figure. The county's projected yield is placed at 324 pounds to the acre, giving the county a potential of 55,098 bales, the highest bale volume in the area for 1968.

Jones County, with an estimated potential of 44,789 bales (318 pounds to the acre) off of its 32,127 acres, has the second highest possible total output of the 32 county area.

Knox County, which takes in the high-yielding irrigated acreage around Munday, has a county-wide projected yield of only 295 pounds, which gives it a potential of 27,212 bales from the 57,770-acre maximum that may be planted. Knox farmers signed up to divert 13,799 of their 51,569, acre allotment, or 26.8 per cent of eligible acreage.

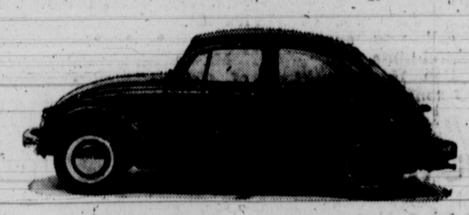

Scurry County cotton farmers own the highest projected yield figure, 449 pounds to the acre, in the RPCG.

Mitchell County, with 412 pounds, is the second and Fisher County, with 407 pounds, is third.

McCulloch County, with 161 pounds, is the lowest and Coleman County, with 168 pounds, is second.

Tom Green, Jones and Runnels counties each still had some 1967 cotton in the fields 10 days ago. Elsewhere farmers in the Rolling Plains were experiencing difficulty getting land ready to plant to the 1968 crop, due to excessive moisture in their fields. There were no rumors even of anyone planting cotton yet in area.

If you're counting on a new VW, you can stop at $X,XXX.

In fact, when it comes to money, a VW will save you a lot of counting after you buy it, too.
On gas bills. (It gets about 27 mpg.)
On tires. (They average 40,000 miles.)
It hardly ever needs oil between changes.
And, since the engine is air-cooled you never have to dish out for anti-freeze.
So if you don't like to count, buy a Volkswagen.
It figures.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Then you will visit a travel agency, study maps, read travel books, and talk with those who have already made the journey.

And what about that far more important (and uncertain) journey . . . the journey of life?

The Church offers wise counseling from those who have studied life.

The Church presents you with a map formed from the fundamental truths of God and his directives for living.

The Church interprets for you the greatest of all travel books, the Bible.

The Church gives you the companionship of the all-wise Guide, who made this journey without a mistake, the Lord Jesus Christ.

Agency, map, travel book and Guide for life's journey. Come to Church and find them all.
