Building Also Reaches New Pampa Peak

Construction Three Times As Big As In 1939

Pampa's postal receipts for 1940 reached an all-time high in the history of the local postoffice, Assistant Postmaster D. K. Gaylor revealed today. Building in Pampa also reached a new peak since boom days, according to Oran Payne, city building inspector.

Postal receipts for 1940 totaled $85,188.63, or an increase of $6,596.75 over the previous year. Building permits amounted to $718,376, which included $30,000 in moving permits. Building was nearly three times greater than in 1939.

Word of the excellent business was sent to Postmaster C. H. Walker who is at the bedside of a sister in Pulaski, Tenn.

Although not equalling business in December, 1937, and the final quarter of the same year, the postoffice showed large monthly and quarterly gains over the previous two years. Pampa merchants report business as being good during 1940, many revealing increases all the way from 10 to 20 percent over the previous year. "They are optimistic for 1941 also."

Postal receipts for the year ending Tuesday night totaled $85,188.63, compared with $78,591.88 in 1939, or an increase of $6,596.75.

Receipts for last December were $10,693.81, compared with $10,040.02 in the same month of 1939 or an increase of $653.79.

Receipts for the last quarter of 1940 were $24,397.37 compared with $23,336.70 for the same period of 1939, or an increase of $1,060.67.

All other post-office departments showed excellent increases in business, it was revealed today. Assistant Postmaster Gaylor, in the absence of Postmaster Walker, expressed gratification at the way Pampans mailed early and responded to the plea of putting stamps on cards and wrapping parcels sufficiently.

Majority of the permits issued last year were for new residences, more than 100 new homes being erected. Postal receipts since 1930 here follow:

They Caught Wrong Train For Pasadena

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 2 (AP)—Two men showed tickets at Police Clerk F. J. Aragon, on duty at the Sugar Bowl football game yesterday, and demanded to be seated. Aragon said he looked at the tickets in amazement—they were for the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif.

He pointed this out and the pair walked away one muttering: "I told you we caught the wrong train."

FDR Urges Federal Oil Legislation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—A statement from President Roosevelt speaking of the "urgent need" for federal oil legislation in the interest of national defense went to congress today in a report from the house petroleum committee.

Chairman Cole (D-Md.), in a 1940 report to the house, wrote public a letter to the President made a month ago. It said in part: "The vital need for petroleum in the national defense, the importance in commerce and industry and the critical conditions in Europe and Asia confirm my belief in the urgent need of federal legislation to safeguard our petroleum supplies through the prevention of waste and by the establishment and maintenance of sound economic conditions in the oil industry."

"I am sure that your committee has given this important matter careful consideration and I am hopeful that a satisfactory solution with appropriate recommendations will be reported in the near future."

Cole said that he would introduce a resolution tomorrow for continuation of the committee for at least four months, in order that it might continue investigations which have been under way for almost two years.

As soon as possible, Cole has announced, he will invite members of the defense commission to testify on the general need for petroleum legislation. They will appear at hearings on an administration-sponsored bill intended to prevent many forms of production waste as determined by the interior department.

Cole said in his report: "This letter (from the President) prompted the committee to decide that for the information of congress they should hear defense council witnesses in support of the statement that national defense is now an additional and apparently controlling reason for federal regulation of the petroleum industry."

The company is spending about $200,000, said an official, to restore three "blocks," each with a monthly capacity of 800 tons, which have been unused for years. At present, five "blocks" are in operation.

E. J. Bruderlin, plant superintendent, is directing the work, which is expected to be completed in March.

Amarillo Zinc Plant Being Enlarged

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—Addition of 2,400 tons a month to the nation's zinc melting capacity was forecast today by an announcement of restoration of the American Smelting & Refining Co. plant at Amarillo, Texas, to its pre-depression size.

The company is spending about $200,000, said an official, to restore three "blocks," each with a monthly capacity of 800 tons, which have been unused for years. At present, five "blocks" are in operation.

E. J. Bruderlin, plant superintendent, is directing the work, which is expected to be completed in March.

CORSICANA ORPHANS HERE XMAS

These youngsters proudly wearing Pampa jackets don't look like orphans do they? Well, they weren't Christmas, when they found homes, warm-hearted parents, and Santa Claus at the Texas Elf Carbon company camp. They were brought to Pampa by Albert Bearden, left rear, from the Corsicana orphans home and arrived here Christmas eve. They were returned by Mr. Bearden the following Monday after having spent a week here. Warren Marney who helped place the boys at the camp and took one himself, is standing right rear. Names and ages of the boys, Joe Stokes, 10; Dale Martin, 11; Phillip Newton, 12; Homer Lee Russ, 12; Arthur Ray Herring, 12; Raymond Moroney, another orphan from the home was sick the day this picture was made.

Garner Goes To See President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—John Garner, the retiring vice president, returned today to the capital minus his wide-brimmed sombrero and went almost immediately to see President Roosevelt.

The White House said that the meeting was arranged by request of both the President and Garner.

During their eight years in office together, the two men sometimes have been at odds over specific questions of policy. Garner sought the Democratic presidential nomination last summer against President Roosevelt's successful bid for a third term.

Ostensibly back from his Texas home to help close the seventy-sixth congress, Garner sought the Democratic presidential nomination last summer against President Roosevelt's successful bid for a third term.

He arrived at the White House wearing a grey fedora which he grudgingly transported to those who met him there as a "dude hat." The new hat so misled the officer on duty at the entrance to the President's offices, Garner said, that he was not recognized at first.

Casualties Sought In Utah Avalanche

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 2 (AP)—Workmen dug into a 50-foot deep snowpile in the rugged Wasatch mountains today in an effort to determine whether there was loss of life when an avalanche roared down steep Rustler's Peak.

One man, Kenneth O. Wright, Salt Lake City, was reported missing after being with a group of skiers in the region.

Witnesses said they saw four persons altogether caught in the slide as it started down the precipitous slope shortly after noon yesterday. An estimated 1,500 persons were at the ski area, but the slide did not cross usual ski runs.

Pieces of skis found in the debris were identified by companions as belonging to Wright.

Greater Social Security Benefits For Aged Advocated

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—Greater social security benefits for old people were advocated today by several legislators amid increasing congressional suggestions for changes in the act.

A flat federal monthly grant of $20 to $30 to persons over 60 or 65. A change in the present formula of equal federal and state contributions so that the government in the future would provide $2 to the state's $1 up to a designated maximum.

Senator Downey (D-Calif.) said he wanted the flat federal payment as a proposal which some legislators contended would meet with white house approval.

Under that program, aged persons would receive a monthly check from the federal government plus an additional sum provided by their states.

The proposal to change the existing matching requirements came from Senator Connally (D-Tex.), a member of the finance committee. Connally suggested that the government would match it on a 50-50 basis up to a total of individual benefit of $40 to $50.

Nine Men Fined For Intoxication

Fines totaling $90 were assessed by City Recorder C. E. McGrew this morning when nine men appeared before him, all charged with being intoxicated over the holiday.

The recorder returned to duty this morning after spending the Christmas holidays in Houston and Beaumont.

He said he was surprised when he was called at Beaumont and told that he was supposed to have been killed.

Six of the men fined by Judge McGrew this morning said they were employed on a railway section crew. None had any money. Judge McGrew told them that if they got their foreman or timekeeper to stand good for their fines they would be released.

One man who appeared before the judge had two black eyes. The judge asked him if he received them while in jail. The man said he had received the black eyes Tuesday.

"What's the other fellow look like?" queried the judge. "I don't know," said the man, "he's in a hospital in Clovis."

Bulgarian Premier Hastens To Vienna To Get His Orders

By J. REILLY O'SULLIVAN
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Jan. 2 (AP)—Bulgaria lay apparently asleep before a big German army massing along her Rumanian border today as her Premier hastened to Vienna for an expected conference with German leaders, leaving his pro-Nazi minister of the interior temporarily in control of the government.

Diplomatic circles expressed a belief that Premier Bogdan Philoff, whose train rolled through Belgrade during the night, would learn in Vienna just what Adolf Hitler plans to do with Nazi troops in the Balkans and what part Bulgaria will be asked to play.

Observers said the stage appeared to be set for a German drive through Bulgaria toward Greece or the Dardanelles if the Nazis desire to make such a move.

Friends of Bulgaria's King Boris III said he might permit passage of German troops through his little kingdom only under protest. They deemed it unlikely he could call upon his people to resist. His most earnest desire was said to be to keep his country from becoming a battleground.

With a German force in Rumania estimated to number five or six times as many men as Bulgaria's entire army of 100,000, it was generally believed that King Boris would regard resistance as futile.

The official announcement concerning Philoff's trip said merely that he was going to Vienna for "medical consultation" and made no mention of a meeting with German leaders. He has been in ill health for some time.

Meat Ruling Canceled

LONDON, Jan. 2 (AP)—Without explanation, the food ministry announced today the cancellation of a concession whereby purchasers were to be permitted to buy two weeks supply of meat at one time in 1941. The concession was announced in November, 1940.

Gene Worley To Take Seat In Congress Friday

Gene Worley will become a member of the United States congress tomorrow. The Shamrock man who came from behind to win a seat in congress, will succeed Marvin Jones who resigned to become judge of the federal court of claims.

He will be one of the youngest men sitting in congress. He will be sworn in tomorrow morning at a special session for that purpose.

On January 14, eight Panhandle men will go to Austin to be sworn in as state senators and representatives. For seven of the eight it will be their first trip to Austin to represent their districts. Only veteran will be Representative Jack Little of Amarillo who will begin his third term.

State senators who will be in Austin opening day will be Grady Hazewood of Amarillo, who will succeed Clint Small of Amarillo, and Marshall Formby of Dickens.

New representatives will be Emis Favors of Pampa, who replaces Gene Worley; Dick Craig of Miami, who succeeds Max Boyer; Hop Halsey of Lubbock; Paul Eubank of Matador; and Tom Deen of Floydada.

Thompson Outlines His Oil Policy

AUSTIN, Jan. 2 (AP)—Balanced oil production and consumption and non-duplication of bus and truck service were included in statements of policy of the Texas railroad commission for 1941 by Chairman Ernest O. Thompson on New Year's day.

Thompson, former chairman of the interstate oil compact commission, asserted Texas oil production the final two weeks of December was 43,000 barrels daily under the U. S. Bureau of Mines demand estimate of 1,277,000 and that the nation's production was 3,518,937 as compared to the federal bureau's forecast of 3,560,000.

Retracting the commission's policy of crude production within the bureau's estimates, the chairman declared:

"This is the better part of wisdom. In the winter, when demand is low, the nation should not overproduce. Texas' 43,000 barrels daily yield below the bureau's figures is a good example. No one can legitimately complain when production is thus regulated."

Regarding buses and trucks, Thompson asserted motor carrier franchises would receive full protection under the law and declared himself against "unnecessary duplication of service."

Mexicans Plan New 'Opposition' Party

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 2 (AP)—Political circles reported today that various independent political factions in Mexico planned to meet soon to organize a single "opposition" party, a new development in Mexican politics.

Both pro-government and anti-government sources said a vigorous opposition party could perform valuable public service and that President Avila Camacho would welcome such a movement.

Olin Culberson Will Take Office Today

AUSTIN, Jan. 2 (AP)—Light may be shed on future oil and gas regulation policies of the Texas Railroad Commission when Olin Culberson of Edna takes the oath of office as a member of the commission in the senate chamber today.

Preparing for the 2 p. m. ceremony over which Judge James W. McClenahan of the Austin court of civil appeals will preside, Culberson admitted he was drafting a brief address.

The new member of the three-man commission won the office from 17 other candidates last summer and succeeds Lon A. Smith who did not seek re-election after 45 years of public service. In retiring, the veteran official requested Culberson not to dismiss employees Smith had appointed.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—The stock market greeted 1941 today with a faint hangoverish appearance as trading resumed after the new year's celebration. Gains of fractions to a point or so were recorded for scattered favorites but numerous issues staggered along at lower levels and wide assortment held at Tuesday's final prices.

Transfers approximated 500,000 shares for the full pre-opening.

Speculative quarters apparently were unable to decide on just what the Federal Reserve Board's anti-inflation recommendations to congress would mean market-wise.

Support was accorded stock of Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, J. C. Penney, American Can, General Electric, Left, Electric Boat, Great Northern, N. Y. Central, Paramount Pictures, Phelps Dodge and American Telephone.

Chrysler was one of the soft spots, slipping around 2 points at the last. General Motors was a laggard, along with Kennecott, Montgomery Ward, Goodrich, Du Pont, Air Reduction and U. S. Steel. Corporation loans were uneven, as were commodities.

Bette Davis Weds

Boston Non-Pro

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 2 (AP)—Principal topic of filmland gossip today was the surprise New Year's Eve marriage of Actress Bette Davis to a non-professional, Arthur Farnsworth of Boston.

Few of Miss Davis' associates knew Farnsworth, although he visited the actress here a year ago. Her friends said she had known him since childhood days in Lowell, Mass., and that they renewed their friendship in 1939 when Miss Davis spent a vacation at Sugar-Hills, N. H., where Farnsworth was assistant manager of a hotel.

They were married Tuesday night at the Rimrock, Ariz., ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Dart of Chicago. Mrs. Dart is the former Bryan of the movies, a close friend of Miss Davis.

the night. A communiqué said a small number of persons was killed there and in other raided areas which included the northwest part of Liverpool.

Eyes of European diplomats, meanwhile, were focused on the troubled Balkans, where Premier Bogdan Philoff of Bulgaria was en route to Vienna presumably for talks with Nazi leaders.

Reports from the Yugoslav capital of Belgrade indicated the general belief in the Balkans was that, while in Vienna, Philoff would be advised of the purpose of the recent German troop concentrations in Rumania and of the part Adolf Hitler expects Bulgaria to play in his plans.

In Albania, the Greeks claimed new successes culminating in capture of strongly-fortified Italian positions in the mountains north of Kilsura, strategically important town on the central battlefield.

On the North African warfront, British land and naval artillery continued to hold in a state of siege the Libyan port of Bardia. Armored patrols were reported feeling out Italian defenses far to the west in the direction of Tobruk, 80 miles from the Egyptian frontier.

RAF fliers showered fire-bombs and high explosives on the big north German port of Bremen for three and a half hours, the London air ministry said, in an attack described as "highly successful" and leaving "very large fires." Flushing, Ostend and Brest were also attacked.

German acknowledgment that a Nazi warship has been preying on ships in the Pacific came in a Berlin communiqué, which said the sea raider had sunk 10 "enemy" merchantmen totalling 64,155 tons. The ships crews, it said, were taken to safety on a South Sea isle.

Air Offensive Foreseen
Foreign observers in Rome predicted that combined Nazi-Pasclit forces would launch a vigorous aerial offensive in the Mediterranean in the next few weeks, presumably to offset land reverses suffered by the Italians both in Albania and north Africa.

The Rome radio noted that newly-arrived German fliers had been stationed at several Italian bases to take part in the drive.

Axis planes, the radio declared, had been helping in the Nazi assault on Britain since Oct. 25, bombing more than a dozen British cities, sometimes in groups of more than 100. Dispatches have reported "many thousands of men" made up the Italian corps which flew from bases on the English channel coast.

Italian political circles, commenting on President Roosevelt's message to King Vittorio Emanuele Tuesday expressing hope that "during the year to come, the Italian people may be enabled to enjoy the blessing of a righteous peace," gave a 3-point definition of such a peace:

1. Freedom of the Italian empire.
2. Freedom of our sea—the Mediterranean.
3. Europe's freedom "from meddling by other powers."

Premier Mussolini's high command said British mechanized forces had been machine-gunned and bombed by Italian warplanes in north Africa and reported "artillery and patrol" activity at the besieged Fascist stronghold of Bardia, Libya.

Army To Ask Congress For 3 Billions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—The army got ready today to ask the new congress for an additional $3,000,000,000 to further its "all-out" armament program.

The sums to be asked after the new session opens tomorrow were reported approximately as follows:

$1,000,000,000 for the production of 3,000 more bombing planes from parts made largely in existing automobile factories and assembled in four mid-western plants operated by aircraft companies.

$1,000,000,000 for guns, tanks, planes, and other material to round out equipment for an army of 2,000,000 men.

$400,000,000 for the construction of additional munitions plants to give the country sufficient reserve capacity to supply land forces of 4,000,000 men in an emergency.

Plans call for maintenance of the munitions factories on a standby basis, similar to the role of Britain's "shadow plants" prior to the outbreak of war with Germany. These new plants would be in addition to the 84 factories or special facilities provided for under the $800,000,000 appropriation which congress voted for the purpose last summer.

Roughly 75 per cent of the total of $6,600,000,000 appropriated for the army last year has been obligated to date and, insofar as new munitions facilities are concerned, 95 per cent of available funds are obligated. The first of the new powder plants built under this program is scheduled to come into production in June, or possibly sooner.

The $3,000,000,000 to be requested of the new congress will push past

Verne Marshall, International Oil Merchant, Says Josh Lee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—Senator Lee (D-Okla.) said in a statement today that the "angel" of the foreign war committee headed by Verne Marshall, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, editor "is a rich, international oil merchant" with a great financial stake in a German victory.

Lee identified the man only as "this man Davis" who, he said, tried to promote a phony peace through the White House to pull Germany's chestnuts out of the fire.

Marshall told a press conference yesterday that W. R. Davis, New York oil operator, had brought a German peace offer to Washington a month after the war started in September, 1939. The offer, Marshall said, was pigeonholed at the state department. The department, in reply, said it had received no "feasible" peace proposal.

To inquire as to whether Davis was giving financial support to the no foreign war committee, Marshall said Davis had offered to assist. He also said Davis had sold expropriated Mexican oil to the Axis powers but only prior to the war.

Lee said that "much of the gasoline sending showers of fiery death into the defenseless heart of London was sold to the German government by this man Davis in the months before the war started, but his traffic in this German-bound oil happily has been interrupted by the British blockade."

"This is naturally inconvenient to Davis—who would like to go on

Traffic Deaths In Texas Increase

AUSTIN, Jan. 2 (AP)—Although a new year has begun state police are still in the midst of an unpleasant 1940 task—counting the traffic toll.

Statistics said the picture should be completed about Jan. 18 and there is sufficient evidence to prove the state's record of a gradual decrease in the ratio of deaths to miles traveled has been shattered.

Early last month a total of 1,583 fatalities broke the 1939 record. Additional deaths piled up last month, normally the most dangerous, and reports indicate an estimate of 150 fatalities for December will stand up, bringing the total up to 1,733.

If the estimate holds the number of deaths per 100,000,000 miles traveled will increase from the all-time low of 10.41 in 1939 to at least 10.83.

The incomplete figures indicate an increase of nine per cent in deaths and six per cent in vehicular miles traveled in 1940.

The Lottery Question Bobs Up Again

Every so often, usually when the tax burden grows heavy, somebody brings up the old, old question: "Wouldn't it be a good idea to raise some of this money painlessly, through lotteries?" The Massachusetts legislature soon votes on such a suggestion for raising money for old age pensions. It has also been proposed that a huge national lottery be established to raise part of the national defense funds.

It is really not very surprising that this lottery proposal keeps bobbing up, though the whole living generation of Americans have been reared in the belief that a lottery is OK if it's bingo or a turkey raffle in the church parlor, but immoral when given government sanction and run on a large scale. Americans did not feel so in their early days. Some of the colonies themselves were settled partly by money raised in English lotteries. Yale, Harvard, and other colleges raised money for buildings by lotteries in their early days, and many a road or bridge was built by lottery-raised funds. George Washington himself helped to organize the Mountain Road lottery in 1788.

But as the country grew up and set itself on a firmer financial foundation, lotteries gradually became undignified, distasteful, disreputable, and finally immoral in the public mind. Many believed that they simply drew money needed for shoes and clothing and milk from the pockets of those who could least afford it, and that therefore it was really a tax burden on those least able to pay.

So lotteries lost the official imprimatur of national and state governments.

It would not be accurate to say that they vanished from the national scene. Anyone who has bought Irish Sweepstakes tickets, pushed the name "Irma" out of a punchboard for a box of candy, or scribbled his name on a ticket on a new "Sizzling Six" for the local lodge or some war relief fund, knows that the lottery is not dead.

Thus lottery proponents argue that since people insist on playing lotteries anyway (frisking those who can't afford to) the state might as well run them, run them honestly, and profit thereby. It is an old argument, and has been heard before in relation to liquor and horse racing.

While it will be interesting to watch the outcome of the proposal in Massachusetts, it seems unlikely that lotteries will make any real comeback. The fact that they were once respectable is now regarded as a wild out of our national youth, and Cardinal O'Connell of Boston probably speaks for millions of Americans both inside and outside his church when he says that "it is a tremendous source of moral corruption." The proposal of government lotteries is sure to be heard from many sources, but, if we may descend to a dice-box phrase, "the odds are against them."

Behind The News

By BRUCE CATTON

The Pampa News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Your Uncle Sam's latest defense headache seems to be coming from 10,000 tenant farm families, kicked off grade A farm land by the army in acquiring huge tracts of land all over the country for artillery ranges, power factories, aerial bombing target areas, military airports and cantonments.

The problem of what to do with these unwilling "okies" has been dumped for the moment into the lap of the Farm Security Administration which, if it had the money, would probably spend about $30,000,000—or $30,000 a family—trying to relocate the displaced. Whatever FSA does spend must be added to the cost of the land, which comes out of the army's pocket and goes to the land owner, or the mortgage holder—not the tenant farmer.

As the United States government seldom lets the right hand know what the left is doing, the FSA crowd is usually called in after the damage is done, the land required and the tenants moved out. What gets the "SA" goat is that the army seems always to need the best land in sight, never the scrub land. Given a wide, level, well-drained, fertile plain, and the army is sure to want it for an airport. Or nice, rolling pasture land. That makes the best shooting range for the big guns.

DELAY IN PAYMENT

Two typical cases illustrate the problem the FSA boys are up against: Near Madison, Ind., in the Ohio River valley, the army is establishing a big new artillery range and proving ground. Five hundred farm families have had to pack up and get out.

A large number of these families are tenant farmers, who find themselves ousted on short notice and who have scant resources or none at all. In many other cases, displaced farmers who owned their own land are, for the moment, little better off.

Usual procedure in acquiring these tracts of land is for the government to file what is called a declaration of taking. This requires the owner to move quick. But because of the red tape involved, it sometimes means that the owner may not get paid for one or two years. Result often is that the farmer is made landless without having enough money to buy new land elsewhere.

Army authorities are, doing their best to get payments made quickly, but the process is slow.

Sometimes the problem works backward—as, for instance, in the four counties around Radford, Va., where one of the biggest powder factories in the world is being built. So many new jobs are being opened here that the population of the four counties is due to double. To meet this, FSA surveyed all the farms in

Common Ground By E. G. HOLES

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the share of each man by the common yardstick of the Golden Rule: each man has a right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

THE DEVILISH PRODUCTIVITY OF THE MACHINE

I have just been reading "The Protestant Churches and the Industrial Crisis"—a book recommended by a preacher who believes in the state doing all the planning. And yet, he claims to be a Christian.

On the causes of unemployment this book mentions, "the almost devilish productivity of the machine, a scarcity of gold and the unequal distribution of the fruits of the industrial system."

It is little wonder that many of the preachers are confused when they read authors who like-wise are so confused. Business simply is an exchange of services. The amount of wants are unlimited and, consequently, the amount of business is only limited by the productivity of men. To use the word "devilish" in connection with machines, shows that the author thinks that people want work rather than the fruits of labor.

Probably authors like this make the statement because it would be so easy and so agreeable and so simple to improve our lot by simply making another law that gives some magical man authority to think for us and tell each man at what he dare work and how the fruits of his labor shall be distributed. It would relieve us all of the effort to think.

What they forget is that when this thing is done, we are simply a totalitarian state and no man dare use his talent to create wealth without the consent of some bureaucrat or dictator. This is exactly the opposite to what Jesus was advocating. And yet we have many preachers who are so thoughtless as to advocate national planning, either by a dictator or by some majority, taking away entirely the right of choice from an individual.

THE STATUS QUO SLUR

One of the most common statements New Dealers make to anyone who opposes an impractical method of improving the lot of man is that the opposition is made because the individual wants to keep the status quo. Of course, the advocate of more and more government as the solution for eliminating poverty does not specify what he means by status quo. His aim, undoubtedly, is to change the subject and avoid explaining how his theories can be made to work.

I know of no individual who wants to keep the status quo in our economic and social problems. Every true liberal, one who believes in the greatest amount of equality of freedom, knows that our social organism is not finished; that we must constantly strive for more and more equality of freedom; that we have never had complete free enterprise or complete laissez faire, or equality of freedom. So, any contention that a man who opposes an impractical Utopia because he wants the status quo, is simply not based on fact. Any man who believes in status quo on everything is simply not even worth considering. He would not believe in any progress, in any improvement. He would, in reality, be dead.

So, the next time you hear a dreamer contending that the practical man wants a status quo, challenge him on the statement as to what he means by status quo and also challenge him to write a rule of conduct that is better than the rule of free competition, or the right of the individual to choose what exchanges he desires to make without the control and regulation of the government.

THE SAME ROOSEVELT

Of course, it was absurd to believe that Roosevelt would not veto the Walter Logan Bill. When a man is so obsessed with the idea that he or she has appointed him the wisdom to make all decisions, and that there are no eternal principles, no everlasting or impersonal rules or conditions that should be a guide to government, then it is only natural that he would veto any bill that would take away any of this power from him.

When a President becomes so much like a dictator that he will trade ships to England without legal sanction of Congress, when he will use every subterfuge to give himself more power and take the power from the representatives of the people, then it is only natural that he should veto this bill. With this determination to dominate the people of the United States, he is rapidly leading us into war.

And if there is anything in the world it seems foolish for us to do, it is to try to eliminate dictators in Europe when we are so rapidly having our own liberty taken away from us by Roosevelt's dictatorial actions.

BARBS

The living the world owes you is the one you have to get out and earn.

A good mixer has a lot of friends if they like what he mixes.

Detroit buses will deliver New Year's Eve celebrators right to their doors. Who's going to furnish the addresses?

Sale of new passenger cars in 1940 jumped far above 1939 and the people not in them are still jumping.

Dad won't know what his Christmas present cost until around the first of the month.

There isn't a man in a thousand who realizes he can be one man in a thousand.

the counties and made a list of 2000 which had sub-standard housing and were within 30 minutes travel of the different employment centers.

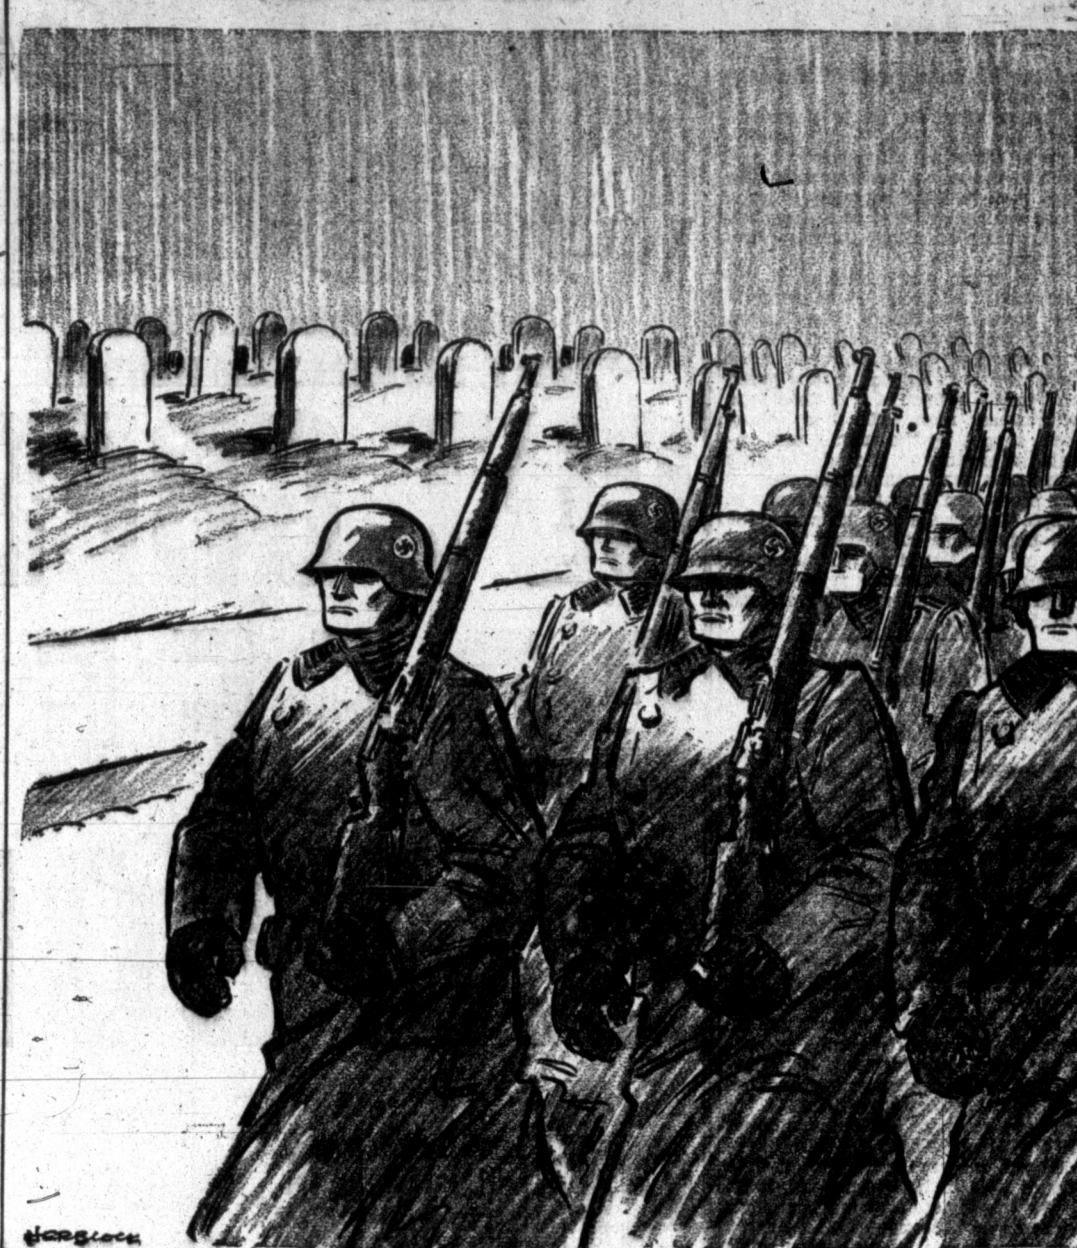

FSA has proposed that it build new homes on these farms. During the boom the homes would be rented to the workers. Afterward, they could be sold to the farmers. That way, the area would avoid both boom-time slums and subsequent "ghost towns."

FIGHT KILLING LAND PRICES

Farm Security Administration is trying various things to meet the whole situation.

Chief problem is finding new land in the displacement areas—and trying to keep the purchases from sending land prices sky high. Sometimes, where FSA can get the land, it simply re-leases tracts to the displaced farmers. In some areas of the south it can frequently get an entire plantation, on which a number of farmers can be established.

THE 'NEW ORDER' IN RUMANIA

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 2.—Man talking to himself:

Hey!—It's past time for you to be doing a piece about the Ten Best Pictures of the Year.

Aw, lay off me. I was sitting here figuring on a long narrative poem about the romantic adventures of a flu bug—a girl flu bug named Brenda Virus, and how she got around to meeting some—

But okay, we'll think about pictures. Start with "The Grapes of Wrath," that's No. 1, all right. I'm not so sure about the order of the others, but put down "Rebecca," "Foreign Correspondent," "Long Voyage Home," "Our Town," "Philadelphia Story," "Dr. Brich," "Magic Bullet," "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," "The Great McGinty," maybe "Edison the Man" or—

How about "The Great Dictator"? And the booming "Boom Town"? I was disappointed in the Chaplin picture, and I'm good and tired of all this "genius" and "great art" talk about both Chaplin and Disney. Let's honor them for the fine things they've done, but let's not assume that everything they do must be superb. For my dough, "The Dictator" began to droop about the time Jack Cagney came into the story, and died during that six-minute curtain speech.

As for "Boom Town," Clark Gable himself pegged it when he said it contained everything except the kidnapping of Charley Ross. That film also had a preachy, I didn't like it, but it had been written by the lawyers who are defending the movie industry against the government's anti-trust suits.

BIG BUSINESS—GOOD PICTURES?

For your own better judgment of pictures, you'd better check which ones actually have done the biggest business during 1940. Look at "North West Mounted Police," wise guy—and "Boom Town" and "Strike Up the Band," "Northwest Passage," "The Fighting 69th," "The Sea Hawk," "My Favorite Wife."

All right, but I still don't believe they're an index of public taste. Sure, the big box office pictures reflect moods. I guess I got more relaxation enjoyment from "Boom Town" than any other picture in 1940; it was a tonic for my mood that night.

The Mounty flicker is busting records all over the country, until you can't even hear the groans of the critics for the applause of the fans. It amuses Cecil De Mille, who isn't kidding himself about dramatic artistry. He said, "Every time I make a picture, the critics' opinion of the American public goes down another notch."

LINCOLN FILMS ALWAYS FLOP

"Grapes of Wrath" was an artistic picture and far from the popular pattern, but it has been doing a tremendous business.

Yes, and so has "Rebecca." But "Long Voyage Home" ranks about 130 per cent below "Boom Town" in the box office. "Our Town" is clear down in the cellar. "The Great McGinty" hasn't done well, nor has Ben Hecht's fine "Angels Over Broadway." "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" is in the sub-cellar.

Such things are hard to explain. But then, every Lincoln picture has been a flop.

Weak selling, poor titles and lack of big-star names have a lot to do with failures. I wish more people would be guided by directors' names when they shop for entertainment. Better assurances of quality than came, costs or ballyhoo are names of directors like John Ford, Alfred Hitchcock, Sam Wood, Ernst Lu-

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

The war between the radics and ASCAP is having its repercussions in Pampa, and song-writers who don't get a break when ASCAP ruled Tin Pan Alley with an iron hand, are tunesmithing again, in Pampa as well as every other community in the country. May Carr, who composes in the classical vein, has composed four new numbers and she certainly ought to send them to BMI because they have originality and they really sound good. Mr. Finley, who was formerly orchestra director at LeFors and lives here now is also composing again. . . . Bill Kenton, the smooth accordionist, who quit the radio and a teacher's studio to work for a local oil company, now plays with the Oklahoma Rangers at 6:30 p. m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The Rangers are a hillbilly band, and all hillbilly music fans will be glad to know that ASCAP was snooty about hillbilly music and never tried to get control of it, so virtually all hillbilly music will not be affected by the radio war. Bill Kenton has one of the best collections of hillbilly-songs in the business. . . . You won't be hearing New San Antonio Rose over the air soon. It's an ASCAP song, and even its author, Bob Willis, can't play it, but you can hear You Are My Sunshine and I'm Thinking Tonight of My Blue Eyes and Cowboy Jack.

The home-town composers all over the country got a break yesterday. On many stations one could hear such explanations as "This is an original composition by so and so, member of our orchestra."

On the heavier side is Franz Werfel's "Embezzled Heaven" (Viking; $2.50), in which this refugee author combines his own confession of faith with the life story of a Bohemian peasant woman, Teta Linck. And Werfel does more in pointing out the lack of faith in this modern age.

The story begins in Austria before the Anschluss, details a writer's happy life on the country estate of wealthy Viennese friends, and establishes the bond of faith between the writer and Teta.

Teta had planned to buy her way into heaven by educating her nephew to the priesthood. For 30 years she devoted her savings to this purpose, although she never saw the boy. He turns out a rascal, takes her money but has no intentions of fulfilling her wish.

Teta's realization that selfishness prompted her charity forces her to make the pilgrimage to Rome to seek forgiveness.

Werfel's writing is beautifully lyrical and none of it has been sacrificed in translation. This and the power of his theme make the book exceptional.

So They Say

GOODBY, thanks for everything. Last words of KYOSTI KALLIO, Finnish president who died recently.

By the way, how about making some New Year's resolutions? Maybe you could promise not to use the word "glamor" anymore. It's so over-worked.

It'll try; and I'll toss in "super-colossal." But right now I got to grab a handful of aspirin and get back to Brenda Virus, my flu bug.

TEX'S TOPICS

By—Tex DeWeese

HAVE a Happy New Year's? Did you use good sense and stay home to listen the old year out via radio, or did you wake up yesterday afternoon only to find that your hat was too small? . . . Well, that's none of our business. . . . We just have to think up things like that in order to fill up some space. . . . And speaking of filling up space—one of the toughest times to do it is right after a holiday. . . . So, we appreciate very much the letter we print today from a Canadian reader.

It came into being because of some recent comment we made about something. . . . We're going to let this reader finish the column today:

"You discussed, in your column last Friday, books or methods of getting one in the mood for sleep. The best thing of the kind I've found is a new book, 'A Black Velvet Story.' . . . Now there are plenty of stories in current fiction that are not sufficiently interesting to keep one awake."

"ABOUT a year ago, a friend of our local library who is an energetic business woman told me that she read murder mystery stories at night to clear her mind of the day's happenings and put her mentally in condition for a night's sleep. 'A Black Velvet Story,' written by Dee Smith, illustrated by Marjorie Black, and published by Stokes, is a beautiful book. It is the account of the adventures of the black kitten in the black velvet country and, while it is classed with the juveniles, it is esteemed equally beneficial to adults."

"We find a commendatory foreword by Neal Warren, A. M., Ph. D., Department of Psychology, University of Southern California. The black cat on the dust cover and the cover of the book itself, sketched in luxurious ripose, creates interest. There are a score or more of illustrations, all in black and white scattered through the pages."

"MOST stories are written with the intention of exciting interest and giving the reader a thrill, but 'A Black Velvet Story' has for its purpose putting both the reader and the listener into a dreamy, relaxed state of mind conducive to sleep. Not only that, but with anticipation of a pleasant adventure which they may explore while asleep. These were the motives of the author in writing the book. However, each reader who picks it up will find for himself, I'm probably not a competent judge, as I'm not troubled by insomnia. It is a beautiful book; you might enjoy reading it."

—MAY STEVENS ISAACS, Canadian, Tex.

Texas Pointer Wins Georgia Field Trial

ALBANY, Ga., Jan. 2 (AP)—A liver and white pointer from Texas—the Texas Ranger—turned wildcat plantation into a happy hunting ground and whisked his way to the $1,000 inaugural quail championship of the Southern Field Trial club.

Strengthening through a handpicked field of 16 winners from other trials, the Ranger had four clean finds yesterday, bringing him a total of 11 coveys. He had little trouble in shouldering aside such dogs as the national champion, Lester's Enjoy Wahoo owned by Dr. B. S. Lyle of Birmingham, Ala.

The Ranger, owned by B. B. McDaniel of Houston, Tex., clinched his title after the first brace.

The derby and all-age stakes were arranged for today.

46,000 Fans See Aggies Win Hollow Victory

Jarrin' John To Play For $37,500 Year

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
PAMPA, Jan. 2. (P)—Filled to the corners for the Texas Aggies' hollow, 13-12 triumph over Fordham's Rams yesterday the Cotton Bowl may, with normal breaks, grow larger within the next few seasons and eventually accommodate some 65,000 fans.

Officials of the game were reluctant to discuss possibilities immediately after the game that thrilled a sellout throng of 46,000, but it was learned that plans were being talked to enlarge the vast saucer unless general world and economic conditions break into the picture.

The Dallas city park board will gain control of the stadium within two or three years, and the unofficial talk was that plans to enlarge the stadium by some 15,000 to 20,000 would be urged as a civic enterprise.

Meanwhile, officials announced that the game, first held under joint sponsorship of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association and the Southwest Conference, was a tremendous success. President Dan D. Rogers of the Cotton Bowl group said both schools received approximately $52,700 with the Aggies pledged to give $5,000 to the Southwest Conference.

Out of the weird game that saw the Aggies take a terrific thrashing most of the way, but rally when the blue chips were stacked to win, came reports, confirmed by the big lead himself, that Jarrin' John Kimbrough, great Aggie All-American fullback, planned to turn professional for a fabulous sum of $37,500 for a year of play.

"That said Jarrin' John, was the first offer made him by Douglas Hertz, president of the New York Yankees of the American Professional football league. 'I told them I would take it if I didn't get a better one,'" he said.

He has signed no contract and "won't until I talk to some of the other pro clubs," John added.

Coach Homer Norton of the Aggies said after the game: "John has had many interesting propositions, which are still in the process of negotiation. I know John deserves to make something out of football and I want to see him get it."

Kimrough was effective, but not the star of the Cotton Bowl game. That honor belonged to husky Jim Blumentstock of the Rams—a team that had a game won and suddenly wilted.

Early in the game, before the mild Texas weather started melting their zip, the Fordhams wrecked the great Aggie line and had them reeling.

But once the Aggies held—held for four downs on their own four yard line after the Rams backfield had rattled the ends and shaken the tackles on blasts by Filipowicz, Eshmont and Blumentstock that started on the Cadet 39.

It was only a few minutes later that Fordham's line, charging as no team had charged the Aggies in two seasons, created the break for the first score. The whole bunch sifted in on Bill Conatser's attempted punt from his 20 and Charlie Pierce recovered the block.

Blumentstock, Eshmont and Filipowicz again went to work, but suddenly Quarterback Jim Noble popped up on an ancient Statue of Liberty play, snatched the ball from Filipowicz and got to the one. Filipowicz bucked the touchdown but Steve Hudacek's attempted kick was snared by Jim Sterling.

Things stood at 6-0 for two periods, and it was Fordham's game, by blocks.

But on the second play of the third period Earl ("Bama") Smith, a

LeFors Boxers Getting Ready For New Season

Coach Toby Waggoner's LeFors Pirates boxers didn't take the Christmas holidays out but practiced nearly every afternoon—that is, most of the time did. At least 20 boys of the squad of nearly 50 reported regularly during the holidays.

Latest type head gears, to protect the boys during workouts, have been ordered and will arrive soon after the first of the year, Coach Waggoner revealed while a Pampa visitor Tuesday afternoon. The headgears will cover even the chin, leaving only the mouth, eyes, and nose uncovered.

Coach Waggoner plans an intensive training campaign on defense as soon as the new headgears arrive. He's going to have his boys "slipping" punches like veterans by the time the season really gets under way, he said.

The Panhandle Plains High School Boxing league, of which Mr. Waggoner is president, has not been reorganized for the year, but a meeting will be called soon.

It has not been definitely determined whether boxing will be continued in Pampa high and junior high schools or not, Coach Waggoner said. The Harvester boxing team, coached by Oscar Hinger, won the Tournament of Champions here last year.

frisky sprinter from Frisco City, Ala. and third string back, broke down the sidelines, bagged a 30 yard pass from Marion Pugh and outran Len Eshmont the other 35 yards for a score. Pugh missed the kick.

Five minutes later and the Aggies won a Cotton Bowl game. Blumentstock, on a bold fake punt play, passed into the flat from behind his goal line and Noble raced 20 yards before lateraling to Jim Lansing, who went 15 more. The play was recalled, ruled illegal because of two forwards on the same play, and Blumentstock kicked out—50 yards to Derace Moser. The dancing back came back 25 yards, but officials called an unnecessary roughness penalty—illegal use of elbows—that pushed the ball on down to the Fordham one.

Kimrough, belted across and Pugh kicked the clinching point. Given new life by recovery of Joe Rothe's fumble of a long punt on the Aggie 44 just before the third period ended, Fordham quickly wracked up its second score. Filipowicz hurled 22 yards to Stan Rutinski on the 28, Eshmont chipped in eight with a sweep, Filipowicz added five more and then Blumentstock sneaked over tackle, cut back and out-manuevered the Aggie secondary 15 yards to a touchdown.

Reserve Tackle Martin Ruby reared up on Hudacek's second conversion attempt, deflected the ball high into the air and it came down smack on the cross bar. For a chilling second it dangled there, then lazily floated back into the field of play.

The New Year's day football frolics showed Stanford is just as good as everybody thought it was and that Boston College is a whole lot better than some people preferred to believe.

The miracle men from Stanford stopped Nebraska's big Cornhuskers 21-13, in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena while 90,000 spectators screamed and moaned as the tide of fortune ebbed and flowed.

In New Orleans, another vast turnout of 73,000 fans watched the favored Tennessee Volunteers turned back by the Boston Eagles in a stirring battle of two unbeaten and untied titans which finally was decided by a slender, 158-pound mauler named Charley O'Rourke.

Elsewhere the holiday produced equally sensational gridiron dramas as the Texas Aggies topped Fordham 13-12 in the Cotton Bowl, West wrecked the East 20-14 in the Shrine's Charity All-Star game, Mississippi State gouged Georgetown 14-7, and Western-Bessey routed Tempe (Ariz.) Teachers 26-13 in the Sun Bowl.

The weather man turned a warm, sunny smile on most of the games, and all drew capacity crowds in an outpouring of a third of a million fans for the first football show of 1941.

The ace attraction at the Rose Bowl was a test of strength against speed and smartness, and for once the race was not to the strong. The foes exchanged touchdowns in pairs in the first half, which ended with Stanford ahead 14-13 because a Nebraska placement try for an extra point was blocked by guard Charles Taylor. Then in the third period Nebraska proved its bruising strength by holding four downs on the one-foot line, and Stanford proved its smartness by breaking loose Pete Kintovich on the next play for a touchdown with a 40-yard return of the Huskers' punt.

Tennessee forced the play in the Sugar Bowl, but twice the Eagles tied the score and finally in the last period, O'Rourke sparked an 80-yard drive that ended with him circling an end 24 yards to the winning touchdown.

Mississippi State collected its points early at Miami, where 35,000 fans filled the Orange Bowl, by blocking a kick in the end zone for one touchdown and marching 60 yards for another in the first half. Georgetown couldn't catch up.

At Dallas, where 47,000 packed the Cotton Bowl, Fordham outplayed Texas A. & M. for the first half, but came apart in the third period when Marion Pugh and Earl ("Bama") Smith completed a 65-yard pass play for one touchdown and John Kimbrough blasted through the line one yard for a second after the Rams twice had been penalized in the shadow of their own goal.

Pugh's placekick was the deciding point. Tom Harmon of Michigan and Paul Christman of Missouri, a pair of famous passers, completed two apiece for the East and West, respectively, for a standoff at San Francisco, but Jimmy Johnson of Santa Clara brought the 62,000 fans springing to their feet with a 53-yard touchdown sprint that settled the outcome in the West's favor.

At El Paso, Tex., Tempe Teachers outwitted Western Reserve and provided the 14,000 spectators with their biggest thrill as Hassall Henshaw ran 102 yards on a fake punt for a touchdown, but the razzle-dazzle of the Redcats was too much for the Arizonians. Western Reserve scored in every period.

Fresno (Calif.) capped honors in the Pineapple Bowl at Honolulu, by beating Hawaii 3-0.

Schedule Of Basketball Games Listed

Coach Odus Mitchell today released the Harvester basketball schedule for January and February.

The first game on the schedule will be at Memphis next Tuesday night. The Cyclones gave the Harvesters a battle here when the Memphians played at the local gym a couple of weeks ago, and they are expecting a tussle on the floor of the new Memphis gym next week.

Memphis did better in the Children's tournament than Pampa did. The Cyclone won the consolation trophy, although they were beat by a few points by Kirkland who beat Casey 3-points to win first place. Memphis led Kirkland all through the game until the final minute. Carey beat Pampa one point.

52,000,000 Have Security Numbers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2. (P)—Arthur J. Altmeyer, chairman of the Social Security board, said in his annual report today that "more than 52,000,000 men and women" employed in industry and commerce now have social security accounts.

He said the board approved daily approximately 1,000 benefit claims by retired wage earners and their aged wives, widows, orphans and dependent parents of workers who have died.

It approved nearly 287,000 claims for the first 11 months of 1940, the first year they became effective, and benefit payments now total $4,250,000 each month.

Altmeyer said that "more than 28,000,000 workers" now have unemployment insurance. Benefits totalled almost $56,000,000 in July and approximately $29,600,000 in November, the last month for which figures are available.

In October, he said, the U. S. Employment service found jobs for more than 400,000 unemployed workers—an all time high. The number of placements dropped to 365,000 in November, reducing the registered active job seekers to 4,500,000 or less than one-half as many as once were registered. Placements during 1940 were well above 3,500,000 and the total for the last 7 years is close to $32,000,000, Altmeyer said.

The army recently revealed a purchase of eight million dollars' worth of modern "flying fortress bombers." Every four days the army receives one of these 22-ton planes.

HERE ARE 'OKIES' WHO BEAT HARVESTERS TWICE

The 1941 Harvester basketball schedule will include possibly 35 or 40 games, but none can be any closer than two defensive battles won from the Pampa boys last week by the Cooperston Lions, shown above. The Lions are coached by Clifford Solomon, former Pampa. The "Okies" won the first game 14 to 12, and the second 16 to 15. The Lions probably had one of the best teams the Harvesters will face all season. Members of the first string are on their knees, and are as follows, left to right: Dale Anderson, center; Buster Marsh, forward; Clarence Nash, forward; Don Gravelee and Roy Groth, guards. Standing, left to right are the reserves as follows: Eugene Hust, J. R. Glas, Wayne Mercer, Stanley Buchanan, Alred Liles, Tommy Davis, and Coach Solomon. The Lions and their coach came to Pampa for a percentage of the gate receipts. They knew they wouldn't make much money so they brought along their bedding, and eats, including sausage, bacon, ham, eggs. They figured they might stay at a tourist camp, but members of the Harvester team insisted that they stay in their homes. All except one member of the team live on farms. Cooperston has a population of 150.

The LeFors Pirates basketball team, coached by Francis Smith, will tangle with the always-strong Panhandle Panthers tomorrow night in the Panhandle High school gym.

The Pirates have lost three games, two to Groom by close scores, and one to Borger, 45 to 29. The starting lineup will include Earhart and Hamrick, guards; Bowman, center; Ammonds and Cole, forwards.

The Pirates schedule for January and February follows. It is subject to change, of course.

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, Jan. 2. (P)—Just pass those headache tablets, will you, pal? ... Picking only two of the four big bowl winners was bad enough, for crying out loud, but we'll skip that. ... Let's try to lift the misery off with a couple that just came in. ... For instance, Gonzaga University, out in Washington, began its football re-emphasizing program by canning its press agent. The poor guy immediately began to starve to death by selling two magazine articles for $500 each—and accepting orders for two more. ... And don't forget the editor of a well-known baseball book, who wrote of Jimmy Wilson, "He has no ambitions to become a manager." He ain't, eh?

In The Bowls
Now for a quick hop-around the bowls. ... Nebraska and Tennessee done us wrong. ... Biggest surprise: Fordham's fine showing vs. the mighty Aggies, including Kimbrough. ... Most thrilling moment: Nebraska's grand one-yard stand against the Stanford "T" party. ... Mayor Tobin of Boston, who stuck his neck out by predicting Boston College would win, 21-7, probably will not be re-called since the Eagles won, anyway. ... As we remarked the other day, it looks like Tennessee will have to play the rest of its bowl games with ten pins.

SERIAL STORY

CHRISTMAS RUSH

BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Dr. Connelly says Sheila's car, which the girls home, Maria promises they may go to the party late, if they will remain at home to watch the New Year Eve. The doctor is called. There's been an accident on the highway, one man killed, another seriously injured. After he leaves, the highway patrol calls again, reports one of the cars bears a university license. The car belongs to Valdez Park.

THREE HOURS OF 1941

CHAPTER X

ALL automobile accidents look alike, Hugh Connelly thought, as he left his car, pushed his way through the crowd of morbidly curious who jammed the scene. Traffic blocked for half a mile, flashlight-waving patrol officers, trying to keep cars moving. People jumping from their cars, running up for a close view. A white-faced woman hurrying back to her own sedan. Headlights concentrated on a single, small area. Automobiles twisted into weird, unreal shapes.

He saw the officer who had summoned him. "Hello, Harry. This looks like a bad one."

The patrolman took his arm. "It's bad, Doc. This fellow over here," he motioned with his flashlight. "Think he's gone. You'd better take a look, though." The light focused on a still form on the pavement. Dr. Connelly adjusted his stethoscope, knelt beside the still figure.

"Probably never knew what hit him," Hugh said. "How about the others?"

"There's another fellow in a bad way beside the car in the ditch. He was still breathing when I left him."

The flashlight beam flicked over the outlines of a long, expensive coupe. The car seemed strangely familiar. Hugh dismissed the thought as he slipped down the bank, hurried to the injured man. The patrolman's light shone full on a white, blood-smear face.

"This is my boy," Dr. Connelly said in a tight, strained voice. "This is my son, Jerry."

VALERIE saw the doctor at that same instant, rushed toward him, screaming: "It was all his fault! He wrecked my car—my new car! I'll be scared for life! He made me drive over here! I didn't want to! Now, he's wrecked my car!"

"Valerie, please," Hugh said quietly. "You're a bit hysterical. Try to calm down, girl."

"That's right!" her voice shrilled. "Look after your own boy, let me die. I could bleed to death, for all you care."

"Valerie, stop that screaming," Hugh Connelly's voice snapped the command. "Harry, let's have a light." His glance swept over the girl. "You have a scalp wound, but it's stopped bleeding already." The wail of a siren came from the highway. "I'll send you in to the hospital for a thorough check. Harry, take her up to the ambulance; send a stretcher here."

He did not see them go, did not hear Valerie's screamed accusations. He was on his knees in the snow, beside Jerry, listening for a heart beat.

"Jerry! Jerry!" he whispered. "My boy!"

THEY brought the stretcher, lifted Jerry carefully on to it, climbed back to the roadway.

"Is he hurt bad, Doc?" the patrolman asked.

"Concussion, possible skull fracture. Can't say for sure. His arm is broken, may have internal injuries. Pulse is strong. That's a good sign." He waited as a white-clad interne slid the stretcher into place. Valerie was moaning, more quietly now, in a seat near the front.

"I'll go on now, Harry," the doctor said. "Nothing I can do for that other fellow." He started into the ambulance. "Have someone drive my car in."

"But, Doc, there's a man and a woman pretty badly cut up in the farmhouse across the road."

Hugh turned to the interne. "Administer adrenalin if necessary. Get Johnson. Tell him to operate, whether I get there or not. He's in charge."

He did not look back as the ambulance carried Jerry away from him.

LATER, in the farmhouse, as he swabbed glass from cuts, he heard the story of the accident.

"We were coming down the road behind this big green coupe," the man told him. "The boy wasn't driving fast and he was on his own side of the road."

"Then this other fellow—the one that got killed—came toward us, fast, weaving from side to side. He must have been doing 80 or 90. The boy in the coupe swung off the pavement, but this fellow hit his left front fender."

"That's about all I remember. Next thing I knew this car was rolling over and over toward us and we crashed into it, or it crashed into us, before we could stop. The coupe went off into the ditch."

"That's what all the tracks show," Doc. Harry put in. "I checked them myself. It sure wasn't your boy's fault."

The injured man looked at Dr. Connelly in awe. "Is that your boy, Doc? What you doing here, working on us? That boy's bad hurt."

Hugh nodded as he applied a final strip of tape. "There's a surgeon at the hospital to look after Jerry. I wanted to be sure you two were all right. I'm going in now. You and your wife better come along. Give you a complete check, just to make sure we haven't missed any broken bones."

MARTHA CONNELLY stared at the blue-gray walls of the hospital waiting room, trying to keep from screaming. "Oh, Hugh. Why aren't you here? Why didn't you come with him?"

Beside her on the wicker divan, Sheila and Kathleen, still in party formal, clung to her hands. Mary Warder stood beside the door, twisting a handkerchief into a fimsy rag.

It seemed like hours before Martha heard Hugh's car stop outside, heard his footsteps in the hall. His arms enfolding all of them.

"It may not be as bad as you think," he said, but his words lacked conviction. "I was able to give him only a quick examination out there. Don't jump to conclusions. He's got a few broken bones, but he'll come out of this all right. He's got a stout heart, and that's half the battle."

"I'll be upstairs while Johnson operates. Let you know how he is just as soon as I can. Don't worry now, Jerry's going to make this."

He hurried up the stairs.

MARTHA glanced at the clock—3 a. m. A new year only three hours old. And so much had been crammed into that three hours.

It seemed like three years since Kathleen had turned from the phone, told her that Valerie's car was wrecked. Somehow she knew, by some intuition every mother possesses, that Jerry was hurt, even before the superintendent of the hospital called. But how seriously was he hurt? Even now she did not know.

She recalled now the bumps and falls Jerry had suffered learning to walk. "Hardhead," Hugh had called his son then, because a bump never seemed to bother him. Would he still be "Hardhead" tonight?

Her thoughts raced on, far outdistancing the crawling minute hand of the office clock.

Finally, as if from a great distance, she heard a nurse saying: "Will you come upstairs now, Mrs. Connelly. Doctor wants you and the girls to come up."

Plane Plant Will

Be Built At Tulsa

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 2 (AP)—Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce officials received word today that the army has decided definitely on Tulsa, Okla., as the site for a new $10,000,000 plant of the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation.

S. W. Hayes, chamber president, said he received a telegram from Sen. Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) saying that Tulsa had been selected for the plant only after a long study and that an official statement had been issued—thus closing the matter as far as the army is concerned.

Meanwhile, Rep. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) who conferred with Robert Patterson, under-secretary of war, said a caucus of Oklahoma congressmen would be called Friday "so we'll be united in getting the project thru two more possible hurdles."

Monroney said Patterson assured him that as far as the army is concerned the plant will go to Tulsa, but pointed out that the National Defense commission and President Roosevelt must approve the location.

Several Texas congressmen have been reported seeking the plant for Fort Worth.

Sen. Josh Lee (D-Okla.) said after a recent conference with President Roosevelt that the President assured him he would follow the war department's recommendation in the matter.

There were no fatalities but a dozen or more persons were injured.

School officials at Nat met yesterday to make plans to rebuild the gymnasium.

J. O. Fuller, Nacogdoches newspaper man, estimated damage to the thick pine timber in the storm area at $100,000.

FUNNY BUSINESS

Community Inherits Million-Dollar Gift

MOUNT JOY, Pa., Jan. 2 (AP)—This community became the amazed inheritor today of a thriving million-dollar oil company, the gift of owner Clarence Schick, who believes that "a man's estate should go to the general welfare."

The childless, 75-year-old executive announced last night he had created a community trust estate which now is the sole stockholder of the Schick Independent Oil company.

Except for a "limited part" to be reserved for the donor and his wife, all company earnings go to the community.

"The laws of our land which provide for the inheritance of property are unethical and un-Christian," he said.

"After reasonable provision for women and children, a man's estate should go to the general welfare in conformity with the Christian teaching that every man is his brother."

He also announced the initial distribution of $20,000 to the public school districts of Lancaster county, for use as the school directors deem best.

Fire Watchers On Every Roof Asked By London Press

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Jan. 2.—Demands for compulsory fire watchers on every London rooftop rose from many quarters today as this battered capital utilized an overnight lull in the aerial war to mobilize its resources against any repetition of Sunday night's devastating Nazi "fire raid."

The press roundly criticized "irresponsible property owners" for failing to take adequate precautions to meet the threat of incendiary bombs and expressed belief that many of the fires which did widespread damage could have been checked had they been spotted in time.

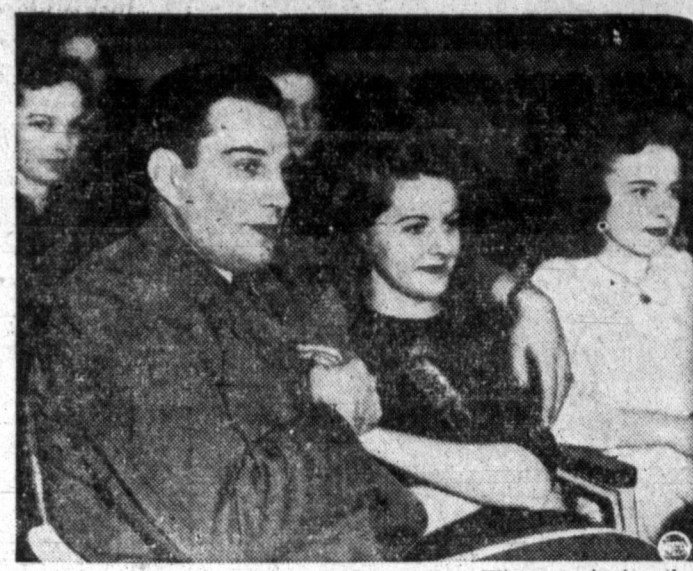

The Daily Mail declared the city's businessmen were "largely responsible for their own losses" in the Sunday night raid and demanded swift government action to compel employment of fire watchers on all buildings.

It was expected that the lesson taught by Sunday's raid, which left large areas in the heart of the old city a mass of fire blackened ruins, would be further driven home by Minister of Home Security Herbert Morrison in a radio address tonight.

Bad weather was believed responsible for the inactivity of the Nazi Luftwaffe last night. Not a single German raider was reported over Britain from dusk to dawn.

During the first 10 months of 1940, the motorists of the nation registered 2,779,586 new passenger cars. This figure represents a 28.76 per cent increase over the same period of 1939.

"Love Seat" at the Movies

Romancing young couples up in Wauwatosa, Wis., are singing the praises of a local motion picture theatre manager. Realizing that all the "close-ups" at the movies are not on the screen, he recently installed 15 seats built for two. Above, Nat Cohen, left, and Mickey Burns, both of Milwaukee, demonstrate the new "love seat."

New Yorker Gets Break In Carolina

SUMTER, S. C., Jan. 2 (AP)—A tourist getting gas and oil at a service station glanced casually across the street at a highway sign, then bounded to his car, pulled out a camera and began snapping pictures.

The service station attendant was puzzled. He looked across the street at the highway sign which gave the mileage and directions to the towns of Elliott, Lamar and Darlington, and saw nothing unusual.

The tourist explained: "My name is Elliott Lamar Darlington of New York."

The fuel burned in blast furnaces, coke, is the residue after gases have been distilled from bituminous coal.

County, State Have Dozen New Year's

There'll be a dozen New Year's in 1941, not just one. So you don't believe it? Well, listen, there's an odd mix-up in the way certain official records are kept, and only a few have January 1 as the starting date.

In Gray county the fiscal year runs from January 1 to December 31, as any normal, well-behaved year is supposed to do.

Those whose duties are connected with the keeping track of taxes and license fees of several kinds, can't depend on one calendar alone.

For example, County Auditor R. C. Wilson, in answer to a question on when in many "years" there are, listed these:

Current tax, October 1-June 30; delinquent tax, July 1-June 30; common schools, September 1-August 31; state fiscal, September 1-August 31; state board of county and district indebtedness, September 1-August 31.

For the Texas Liquor Control board, the year is from September 1 to August 31, but beer and wine permits are liable to end any old time, as they expire one year from date of issue.

The occupations tax is also for one year from date of issue. Then there's that strange device known as the "depository" year.

Following the last meeting in February of the county commissioners' court, the commission advertises for bids from firms that want to be bank for the county funds. This depository designation is good for two years.

Although automobile licenses can be purchased before April 1, the automobile registration year is commonly termed as from April 1 to March 31.

All of which makes it very legal—and very complicated.

With so many years to keep up with all at one time, it's no wonder some court house offices are plastered with sundry calendars.

So far, the 1941 calendar crop has been lighter than in years past. Those of 1940 issue were outstanding on account of their large size, while the 12-months-in-one-poster type seems to be the 1941 favorite.

Heavy New Income Taxes Put In 'Must' Class By Senator

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—Heavy new income taxes were put in the "must" class today by Senators Connally (D-Tex.) and Johnson (D-Colo.) who said higher taxes were needed to help finance defense.

Connally estimated that the new congress would have to raise at least $1,000,000,000 in additional revenue from all sources.

He listed personal and corporate incomes, electricity, cosmetics and luxury products generally as the probable fields.

Specifically, the Texas senator told reporters that substantially higher rates should be imposed in the tax brackets from $4,000 to $100,000 or $150,000.

"Persons with incomes of $10,000, $15,000 and $20,000 should make a very substantial additional contribution," he declared.

Both Connally and Johnson are members of the finance committee. Johnson expressed the belief that "there will have to be heavier taxes on everybody."

He said that the additional taxes should be earmarked for defense purposes and used over a period of years to retire obligations issued to finance the defense program.

In all, he said, it probably would be necessary to increase about $200,000,000 of such defense bonds.

Connally said he would re-introduce his war-profits tax legislation, providing for rates up to 88 per cent on profits in event of war. He disclaimed, however, the likelihood of a general sales tax at this time.

Lon Smith Retires, Asks Culberson To Retain Employees

AUSTIN, Jan. 2 (AP)—Genial Lon A. Smith, member of the Texas Railroad commission, has closed a career of 45 years in public service with a plea to his successor to retain his appointees among state workers.

Addressing Olin Culberson, former utilities division director, for the commission who won the six-year post from 17 other candidates last summer, Smith stated:

"I am now passing to you the keys of the office, which I am voluntarily vacating. There is no significance to this act. I am also handing you a list of the names of women and men, girls and boys now on the payroll of the railroad commission by my appointment. There is significance attached to this act."

"These people come from among the best families in Texas. Representing the entire state in general and 69 counties directly. (They) are capable, experienced, honest, dependable, courteous and loyal—true to their convictions and devoted to the state's service."

Smith asserted a number of the "girls and boys" would be unable to continue part-time attendance at the University of Texas if released.

The veteran official, who declared "I love Texas and am happy to have a part in a constructive program for her greatness and glory," wished Culberson "a successful tenure of office."

Daily Crude Oil Production Drops

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 2 (AP)—Daily crude oil production in the United States declined 33,425 barrels to 3,369,740 for the week ended Dec. 28, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

East Texas was down 73,755 to 301,350; all Texas, 206,750 to 1,136,600; California, 16,250 to 604,500; Illinois, 1,650 to 323,200; Kansas, 13,350 to 186,350; and Louisiana, 1,500 to 288,450.

Eastern states increased 70 to 106,120; Michigan, 360 to 42,145; Oklahoma, 5,225 to 397,100; and the Rocky mountain area, 750 to 94,430.

San Angelo Base Finished

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—The air corps said today it would take over tomorrow its new $1,600,000 basic training school at San Angelo, Texas, and begin the training of approximately 100 students there about February 15.

Howard Hopson Convicted

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—Howard C. Hopson, ex-utilities titan has been convicted in federal court of mail fraud in the alleged defrauding of the Associated Gas and Electric System of nearly $200,000.

The jury found him guilty on 18 mail fraud counts but acquitted him of the single conspiracy count in the indictment.
