American Youth Radical?---'It Just Ain't So' Says Jaycee Head

John Ben Shepperd

GLADEWATER — (AP) — With a pledge to accept "a challenge of leadership which points toward re-educating Americans with the gospel of democracy," 30-year-old John Ben Shepperd today prepared to take over as the new president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The Gladewater attorney, youngest man ever to head the national organization, spoke last night at a civic banquet honoring him on the eve of his taking office.

As part of the ceremonies, Seldon Waldo, Gainesville, Fla., retiring president, presented Shepperd with a gavel.

Shepperd told the group that "increasingly in the past few years, some people have sought to foster the impression that the youth of America is treading the path of radicalism." He said the answer of young business and professional men who are members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce is "It just ain't so."

He said, "It is a challenge to the Jaycees of the nation to fight back against the inroads foreign political ideologies are making. In this fight we fervently appeal to the established business leaders of the nation for help and guidance in firmly re-establishing the doctrine of free-enterprise which gives us young men our best and only opportunity to utilize our talents and abilities.

"In the coming year," he promised, "Jaycees will take an ever-increasing part in public affairs and will encourage every man, woman and child to examine closely and to absorb those principles of democracy under which we have lived and prospered so long."

Approximately 300 East Texans attended the banquet.

President's Plea For Investigation Meets Opposition

WASHINGTON—(AP) — President Truman's plea that Congress investigate what he called the "brazen operations" of real estate lobbyists today generated a broadside of clashing reaction with political overtones.

The Chief Executive made his appeal in assailing the rent control extension bill which he signed reluctantly because of provisions permitting 15 percent rent increases and junking nearly all construction controls.

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) denounced Mr. Truman's lobby inquiry proposal as "the cheapest kind of political demagoguery."

But Senator Taft, Bricker's Ohio colleague and—like Bricker—widely mentioned as an aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination, told reporters in commenting on the President's call for a full investigation:

"I wouldn't mind doing that myself."

Taft is one of the authors of pending legislation to set up a long range housing program which Mr. Truman commended and which Bricker condemns.

Walter W. Binns, head of the National Home and Property Owners Foundation, said his group would welcome an investigation.

"Nothing would please us more," Binns asserted, "than to have the facts spread upon the record and the American people realize the damage that has been by destructive legislation and administration and false economics."

However, Herbert U. Nelson, executive vice president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, declared in another statement that "it is nonsense to talk about investigating us" because Congress has "the complete records of our activities as required by law."

"We are just as legitimate a group as farm groups and labor groups and just as representative of our profession," Nelson said.

In that connection, Senator Sparkman (D-Ala) said he thinks there should be "a sweeping investigation of all lobbying for the good of the country."

Child Missing Since Sunday Found Alive

LASSEN NATIONAL PARK, Calif. (AP)—Little Greta Mary Gale, missing since Sunday, was found alive today in brush of the rugged park area, a searching group informed the family.

The two and a half year old Greta—"Toni" to her family—dropped from sight Sunday while on a vacation camping trip.

Her grandfather, former U. S. Congressman John H Tolan, 70, died from a heart attack last night, apparently induced by the shock and excitement. He had been ill.

The little girl was found by Jim Palther, the message to the family said. She was on a ridge, about a mile from the cabin.

General's Testimony Irks Solon

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's statement that the United States Army is a "poor second" to Russia's was labeled propaganda for universal military training" today by Rep. Short (R-Mo).

Short suggested a Congressional investigation of the Army's status among world powers.

Eisenhower made the statement last week to a Senate appropriations committee in support of a plea that House cuts in the War Department's military budget be restored.

Short, second-ranking member of the House Armed Services Committee and an announced foe of universal training, was joined in his suggestion for an investigation by Chairman Leo E. Allen (R-Ill) of the House Rules Committee.

Discussing Eisenhower's testimony with a reporter, Short declared:

"That is propaganda for universal military training intended to frighten and scare the American people.

"It is up to Congress to make an investigation to find out what has caused our Army to become a 'poor second' to Russia's in the face of huge appropriations and unheard-of surpluses of materials. Our Army leaders should be called upon to explain what they have done with the unprecedented peacetime military appropriations. There has been too much double talk."

Short said that if the War Department's budget estimates do not "exclude" the possibility of war in 1948, as Eisenhower testified, "then they aren't doing anything to get ready for it."

"Despite the fact that we passed a stockpiling bill last year," he said, "the Army hasn't done a thing to obtain a stockpile of strategic materials that would be needed in a war. We have appropriated the necessary money, but apparently all we have got for it is a lot of dreaming. What are they waiting for? Another Pearl Harbor?"

Senate Foreign Relations Group Favors Oil Pact

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee revised and approved today, over the objection of Senator Connally (D-Texas), the Anglo-American oil agreement.

Before it acted the committee approved three reservations offered by the American Petroleum Institute and added two amendments of its own.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) said the revisions were made to spell out the fact that the proposed International Petroleum Commission will have no power to interfere with either U. S. or British control of tariffs on imports.

The API reservations are designed to make it clear the International Commission shall have no authority over domestic petroleum controls, that Congress shall not encroach on the state's regulatory powers and that existing legal International contracts shall remain unchanged.

The commission would be directed to study International Petroleum trade problems, advise on the changing technology in the industry, estimate world petroleum demands and generally promote the orderly production and marketing of oil.

Vandenberg said the reservations and amendments will be made a part of the pending agreement and must be accepted by Great Britain if the treaty is to go into effect. He said he hoped for early Senate action on the agreement.

Furniture Dealers Will Attend Shows

General Manager Charles Cook and Mrs. J. E. Murfee of the Texas Furniture Company, and Frank and Don Foster of the Pampa Furniture Company, will leave here in the next few days to attend furniture shows in Chicago and Grand Rapids.

H. E. Hill, secretary of the Retail Furniture Dealers Association of Texas, has estimated that over 800 Texas dealers will attend the shows.

PEAR RIVER, N. Y.—(AP)—Chief Fred Kennedy of the Orangetown Police recently put up a scarecrow to keep birds out of his strawberry patch.

Paving to City Airport Sought

The City Commission this morning heard a request from Roy A. Webb Jr., manager of the Pampa Municipal Airport, for new paving on the road leading to the airport.

Webb summed up the various problems confronting the airport for the past year. He said a contract had been made with the city for a return of five percent of gross profits on flying which wound up in dissension among flyers leading to a change in the contract, verbal only, to two percent of the gross profits made at the airport. No records of this change are now on hand.

Webb said that in 1945 there was hangar space for only five planes, but that 33 are now hangared. At least 45 planes are operating from the field, not including those of nine major oil companies.

The airport hearing was being continued this afternoon.

No decision was made on a petition of several residents of The Flats for the city to grant a franchise to the proposed Bonner Taxi Cab Co. Representatives from The Flats testified that present cab facilities are inadequate, because the two cab companies now operating in The Flats have only one car each. Decision on this request was also being taken up this afternoon.

Bids for a tractor dirt loader were opened, but action was deferred.

Action of oiling and installation of curb and gutter for the 800 block S. Banks was also deferred for investigation by the city manager.

Rumors of Flying Disks Are Flying Around Just as Fast as the Disks

(By The Associated Press)

Eyewitnesses accounts of flying disks were circulating around Texas and the Southwest today about as frequently as the "saucers" reportedly were themselves.

One man, Troy Pendergrass of Hot Springs, N. M., said at El Paso he even chased one until it landed.

He said he followed the object and saw it come to earth in Ash Canyon. In the southwest corner of Elephant Butte Lake in New Mexico.

It was a five-by-eight-inch piece of tinfoil.

Pendergras ssaid he and friends were watching birds in the sky Sunday afternoon when they first saw the disk—"It was so bright we couldn't tell how big it was or how far away it was."

The tinfoil, Pendergrass said, was slightly heavier than that used for gum wrappers and was very crinkled.

He said it looked as if it had been wrapped around a circular object. It was partially burned and belted, he said.

A Biggs Field, Texas, officer said he saw a piece of silvery insulation material picked up by a gust of wind and carried 1,00 feet. He said that was a possible answer to the source of tinfoil and the reports of flying disks.

The Dallas Morning News had eyewitness reports from a woman in Alvaroda and another in Dallas. The Alvarado woman said she saw a bright moonlike disk in the sky late in the afternoon of June 25. The Dallas woman, Mrs. Ramsey C. Johnosn, said she saw something "large and white, shaped somewhat like an airplane and going very fast" late in the day last Saturday.

Similar Texas reports came from a trio of El Paso residents and two Lubbock residents.

Showdown Comes On Nomination Of Joe B. Dooley

WASHINGTON--(AP)—The nomination of Joe B. Dooley of Amarillo to be a federal district judge for North Texas, in controversy since President Truman sent it to the Senate Jan. 8, faced possible final approval or rejection today.

Senate leaders agreed to take up the matter during the afternoon, so that Texas Senators Connally and O'Daniel, Democrats, could state their opposing views. The leadership hoped for a final vote before night.

Whether or not the debate could be wound up today was questionable, however, for O'Daniel told reporters it might take him "hours" to present all the material he has compiled in opposition to the appointment.

While Connally prepared to review testimony taken before the Senate Judiciary Committee—which overwhelmingly recommended confirmation—O'Daniel said he planned to tell the Senate Dooley is "personally obnoxious" to him.

Although admitting before the Senate Judiciary Committee during its hearing that he had not met Dooley until they faced each other in the committee room, O'Daniel described the former Texas Bar Association president as a "stooge" selected by his political opponents to embarrass him. He said the nominee therefore was "both personally objectionable and personally obnoxious to me."

Connally planned to rely largely on the tributes paid to Dooley at the committee hearings by lawyers from all parts of the North Texas Judicial District.

Six weeks ago,after lengthy hearings, the committee by an 8 to 4 vote approved the nomination and sent it to the Senate.

The thirteenth committeeman, Senator Langer (R-ND) voted sim-

Carson Bringing In Biggest Crop

PANHANDLE (Special) With good harvest weather prevailing and 75 percent of the wheat ready to be cut, Carson County farmers are bringing in the greatest harvest in history

One hundred different farmers have ordered 129 combines, 146 workers, and 30 trucks to supplement their harvest equipment and labor needs, sixty combines are still needed.

Fires were prevalent over the weekend with major damage on the C A. Caldwell farm, east of Panhandle, where a fire started from a car, burned over 10 acres. Most of the fires reported were stubble.

With elevator facilities taxed to the limit, farmers are beginning to pile their wheat on the ground. At one time on Saturday, an eight-hour wait was required to unload wheat at the Farmer's Elevator here. Truck transports are being used to haul wheat to the Burrus Mills from the elevators here, because of lack of railroad cars.

United Nations Move Rejected By British

LONDON—(AP)—The British government rejected today a move by the United Nations Special Committee on Palestine to halt the execution of three Irgun Zvai Leumi members convicted of terrorism.

A foreign office announcement also said the government regarded the United Nations General Assembly resolution of May 15, calling for an end to all violence in Palestine, as having no bearing on "the normal processes of the administration of justice."

Both decisions, the foreign office said, were contained in a note handed to Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations, in New York yesterday.

Board Labels Cause In Flight of Death

WASHINGTON— (AP) —The Civil Aeronautics Board said today its investigation indicates "some unit or assembly" in the tail failed in flight of the Eastern Airlines plane which crashed near Bainbridge, Md., May 30, carrying 53 persons to death.

The board's preliminary report said, however, "the inference is that nothing fell from the aircraft until just before it crashed."

There were widespread reports originally that of the tail had fallen from the plane while it was in flight, or during its descent.

Extensive Loss To Ochiltree Co. Wheat Crop Seen

PERRYTON—An acute shortage of box cars and combines is threatening extensive loss to Ochiltree County's bumper wheat crop. Thousands of bushels of the golden grain estimated by some to already exceed 500,000—have been dumped on the ground and only 15 to 20 percent of the County's now dead-ripe crop has been harvested.

All of the town's grain elevators, with the exception of the huge Perryton Equity graineries have been filled. The Equity has reported that it has space to take 100,000 bushels.

Other grain companies in town are reportedly buying wheat and piling it on the ground with the hope that loss through sprouting and rotting will be negligable.

As has existed since the early days of harvest, there is an acute shortage of combines throughout the entire county, and surrounding counties.

Many owners have reportedly bypassed much of the wheat in this area due to the fact that advance publicity pictured fields of grain nearly shoulder high which most combine men hesitate to cut because it is a slow process and is thereby less profitable.

Farmers here are having difficulty employing machines owners although in most instances their wheat is not above normal height.

Air Reserve Members Will Meet Tonight

A meeting of the recently formed Pampa Chapter of the Air Reserve Association will be held at the City Commission Room in the City Hall, beginning at 7:30 tonight. It was announced this morning by Roger Townsend, president.

Purpose of the meeting tonight is to further organize the local chapter.

In the near future an air list will be available for obtaining 64's and flying time. Time spent at the meetings will be allowed as time on each member's commission.

Townsend urged that all members be present Meetings will be held the first and third Tuesday of each month.

PLENTY TO SAY

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester said today that he will have to "talk fast" if he says everything he intends to in his "report to the people" tonight over the two State networks.

The 10-page, 1,400 word address which the Governor was completing this morning is considerably more than he is accustomed to delivering in 15 minutes on the air. It will be carried from 8 until 8:15 p.m. over the Texas Quality and Texas State Networks.

More Rain Falls, Big River Brings New Valley Peril

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—New levee breaks along a 90-mile stretch of the Mississippi River forced evacuation of additional thousands today as the rampaging river, already at a 103-year peak, continued to rise from heavy overnight rains.

The town of Dupo, Ill., (pop. 2,600) eight miles south of here, was abandoned when the rising floodwaters breached a secondary levee on the Illinois Central Railroad tracks about a mile behind the first levee which was abandoned during the night.

The waters also bypassed the Missouri Pacific Railroad embankment which saved Dupo in the last big flood of 1944.

The 600 residents of nearby East Carondelet and 800 in the surrounding area also were evacuated.

Eighty miles to the south the river broke the Degognia-Fountain Bluff levee in two spots driving approximately 600 persons from the villages Gorham and Neunert, Ill.

As a result of this break, floodwaters pouring down an inland valley threatened to isolate the town of Grand Tower, Ill., (pop. 1043).

Mayor Jesse Grammer estimated about one-third of Grand Tower was in danger of being flooded, but said he expected residents in the higher part of the town would be able to care for those forced from their homes.

CIO Srikes in Yards Spreading

NEW YORK—(AP)—A strike of CIO shipyard workers — previously confined to 10 yards in four states—spread to additional East and Gulf Coast plants today as a walkout of 80,000 more unionists got underway —threatening a shutdown of virtually all major ship-building and repair work on the Atlantic Coast.

The new walkout—begun at 12:01 a.m. and announced in Camden, N. J., by an official of Local 1 of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers — brought to approximately 120,000 the number of men involved in the strike—some 42,000 having struck last Thursday in 10 plants in Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and New York.

"The strike is on," the union official who declined to be identified by name, said shortly after midnight. "The strike will affect at least 22 of the 30 shipyards on the East and Gulf Coasts."

The union seeks a 13-cent hourly wage increase, six paid holidays a year, and three-week paid vacations after 20 years' employment. Skilled workers receive $1.38 an hour and labor 94 cents under present contracts

PROSPECTUS ON DEATH—

Texas 4th of July Highway Accident Toll May Be Highest, It's Estimated

AUSTIN—(AP)—If drivers are as careless as stastics have proved them in past years, the 1947 Fourth of July accident toll will be the greatest in history.

That is the prediction of George Clarke, managing director of the Texas Safety Association.

"In addition to the jamboree of carelessness, speed too fast for the car and for conditions, drunken driving and faulty vehicles will cause the holiday accidents," Clarke warned.

He based his prediction on a comparison of accident trends and contributing accident factors for th s year with 1941, the last "normal" year, when the death rate was the highest in history.

Twenty-six persons were killed in Texas traffic accidents during the July Fourth holidays in 1941.

"The holidays in 1947 closely parallel those of 1941 in that the Fourth came on Friday, beginning a long weekend of celebration," Clarke pointed out.

"Both were peacetime years of relative prosperity, always a dangerous element in traffic. In both years international and domestic uncertainties gave rise to psychological unrest, even recklessness; and both years recorded biggest vehicle mileage in history."

Excessive speed will account for approximately 50 percent of the traffic deaths; drunken driving, 25 percent, Clarke said.

"It is estimated that Texas' two million vehicles will travel 266 million miles during the three day holiday," Clarke added.

"According to a vehicle inspection made last year, one out of three of those cars will have hazardous mechanical defects. Faulty headlights will cause many head-on collisions, and defective brakes will also carry a high accident frequency rate."

'Leader' Is Seen On Street

PARIS—(AP)—A self-described leader of the "Black Maquis" said today in a clandestine interview that 25,000 armed men were ready to lead "a march on Paris at the appropriate moment" to establish an "anti-communist" government.

Existence of the "Black Maquis" was disclosed yesterday by the interior ministry, which announced that it had arrested leaders of the movement for plotting to overthrow the republic and establish a "military dictatorship."

In today's interview the self-described "Black Maqui" boasted:

"For every one of us they arrest there are two to take his place."

The anonymous source talked with a reported for five minutes on a busy corner of the Champs Elysees before disappearing down a side street.

He claimed that arrests were continuing and that "the son of an important government official" had been taken into custody this morning.

The plotters, he said, had "no direct organizational continuity" known as the "Cagoulards" or "Hooded Ones," who were arrested on charges of plotting to overthrow the pre-war Popular Front government.

The self-described leader said his organization was "passionately anti-German" and was drawn "in large part from members of the resistance" during the Nazi occupation.

"Our sole object," he insisted, "is to prevent the possibility of a communist menace to French demo-

Molotov's View Darkens Picture At Paris Meeting

PARIS—(AP)—The Foreign Ministers of Russia, Britain and France discussed Secretary of State Marshall's proposal for American aid to Europe for an hour and a half today, and French sources said there would be another meeting tomorrow afternoon.

Earlier there was speculation that today's session—their fourth—might be the last, since Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov virtually has vetoed Marshall's suggestion.

MOLOTOV

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault were reported ready to proceed in continental economic planning without the Soviet Union if the conference does end in a deadlock.

Bidault, in an attempt to save the conference, will offer a compromise proposal, the French press agency said earlier. Terms of the proposal were not disclosed.

Both British and French circles said "only a miracle" could save the conference from failure.

One Man Is Believed Killed, Four Missing

SHREVEPORT, La.— (AP) —One man was believed killed and four others were reported missing today in a plane crash three miles south of Sibley, La.

Sheriff Oscar Haynes of Doyline, near the scene of the crash, said he was informed that one man was found in the plane but that there was no trace of the four others believed to have been aboard.

The sheriff said he did not know the identity of the plane.

Meanwhile, a crash crew from Barksdale Field left immediately for the scene ,but the field Public Relations Office said it was unable to contact the crew.

Threat of Coup in France Is Seen as Anti-Commie Trend

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

French Minister of the Interior, Eduard Depreux's announcement of a Black Maquis plot—to overthrow the republic and establish a military dictatorship—is couched in such guarded terms that it leaves much to the imagination, though the statement is in all conscience grave enough on the face of it.

I believe the most important aspect of the plot is that it's another of those phenomena which indicate France is swinging back toward the right after a steep leftist nose-dive.

M. Depreux tells us that the Black Maquis comprises right wing resistance leaders, monarchists and Vichy collaborationists. Why should they want to establish a dictatorship?

They have been dissatisfied with the country's leftist swing which for a time permitted the Communists to gain such power that the outside world wondered whether France was about to become a part of the Russian sphere of influence.

Another phenomenon has developed the past few weeks which has bid fair to take care of the communist threat without need of recourse to strong arm methods of revolutionaries. A couple of months ago France's mild-mannered Socialist Premier Ramadier surprised the world with a sensational revolt against the powerful Communist Party which held important ministries in the coalition government.

Early in May Ramadier laid down a policy of freezing wages in the interest of helping stabilize the French economic structure. The Communists opposed him, and when Ramadier called for a vote of confidence over this important issue in the General Assembly the Communists refused to join in granting it. They felt secure in their great strength and virtually invited Ramadier to challenge them further.

The Premier fired the five Communist ministers out of his cabinet, and his Socialist Party sustained him in this action.

However, that didn't worry the Reds—not right away. Actually it suited them perfectly, because they expected to be able to maneuver so that Ramadier would be compelled to recall them to the cabinet, thereby increasing their prestige.

It hasn't worked out that way thus far.

At the present writing the Red stock and strength is much lower, and the government's is much higher. Whether this trend will continue depends largely on the government's success in making economic repairs, and that in turn may depend on what economic aid France can secure through the Marshall program for European economic rehabilitation.

Physician Reports Otey Is Improved

AMARILLO—(Special)— Pampa Oiler baseball fans and the many other friends of R. C. Otey, diminutive Oiler second sacker, will appreciate the announcement of Dr. E. W. Cain, that Otey will soon be able to leave the Amarillo Osteopathic Hospital, where he has been confined since Sunday afternoon, following a fracture to his skull.

Otey was struck above the right ear by a throw by Catcher Joe Juliano, while attempting to steal second base in the opening inning of the Oiler-Gold Sox game.

Dr. Cain, who has attended Otey since his injury, indicated this morning that he believed the speedy little second baseman would be back in the Oiler lineup in three weeks.

He said that Otey had suffered a decompressed fracture of the right temporal bone, and to date has shown no signs of complications.

"If Otey's condition continues to to improve he will probably be able to return to the Oilers' keystone plot, but he will have to wear a steel helmet for protection against possible repeated injury," Dr. Cain explained.

"And," continued Dr. Cain, "Otey will be as good as new next season, unless something decidedly unforseen happens in the meantime."

Pampa Delights in State's Low Reading

(By The Associated Press)

A half-hearted cool front moved into Northwest Texas last night, dropping temperatures into the upper 50s in the Panhandle, but most of Texas may still expect sweltering summer heat, the Weather Bureau said.

Scattered rains fell in the Panhandle and Big Bend area, but elsewhere it was fair and dry.

Presidia received both the heaviest rain—1.95 inches—and the hottest temperature—106 degrees — yesterday. Coolest today was Pampa's 58.

Other rainfall yesterday included Plainview 1.12, Amarillo .59, Muleshoe .44, Pampa, .29, and Miami and Panhandle .17.

Dallas yesterday had 98 degrees, which equalled the year's highest temperature set May 4.

New Jewish Terror Activity Expected

Frank Shea's Pitching Challenges Feller, Newhouser and Other Greats

By the Associated Press

Rookie righthander Frank Shea of the New York Yankees, who not long ago was unofficially tabbed as the best freshman hurler of the major leagues, today challenged Bob Feller of Cleveland and Hal Newhouser of Detroit as well as his own teammate Spud Chandler for the designation as the number one pitcher of the American League.

Shea last night gained his 10th victory against only two defeats when he defeated the American League champion Red Sox in Boston 3-1.

Shea, whose three shutout victories rank him behind only Feller and Walter Masterson of Washington in that department, has allowed more than three runs in a game only once. That was a 9-6 victory over the same Red Sox. His two defeats were by the narrowest of margins, a 1-0 loss to the Red Sox in which he allowed only three hits and a 3-2 defeat by the Chicago White Sox in 10 innings. Three times he has topped Newhouser in pitching duels.

Joe Dobson, biggest winner on the Red Sox was Shea's opposing moundsman, but a two-run triple by Joe DiMaggio in the first inning got jughandle Joe off on the wrong foot. The victory enabled the League leading Yankees to open up a five and a half game bulge over the second place Sox.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, led by their new home run slugger Pee-wee Reese, their new outfielder Arky Vaughan and their new clean-up clouter Carl Furillo, downed the Phillies in Philadelphia 7-4 to move within two percentage points of the National League leading Boston Braves. With Reese, Vaughan and Furillo bagging three hits apiece, one of Reese's being his ninth home run, the Dodgers hammered Schoolboy Rowe for 14 hits to hand the big righthander his third setback of the season and his first at Shibe Park since April 21, 1946. Until beaten last night, Rowe had won 13 straight games at his home park.

Ewell (The Whip) Blackwell, Cincinnati's no-hit pitcher, recovered from a poor start to register his 11th straight and 13th victory of the season as his mates came from behind to defeat the Chicago Cubs in Cincinnati 6-4. Eddie Lukon hit his sixth home run for the Reds off Johnny Schmitz who went down to his 11th defeat.

The Cubs scored all their runs in the first inning on two hits, three bases on balls and shortstop Eddie Miller's two-run error, then got only two more hits off Blackwell the rest of the way.

The Chicago White Sox spotted Detroit a 5-0 lead in the second inning and then came on to defeat the Tigers 6-5 in Chicago on Luke Appling's eighth inning home run off Hal White. Only twice before, in 1933 and again in 1936, has Appling ever hit as many as six homers in one season.

Washington emerged the victor in a see-saw battle with the Philadelphia Athletics, winning 8-7 with a three-run cluster in the last of the ninth. The A's had taken a 7-5 lead in the top of the inning with three runs of their own. A single by Mickey Vernon, 1946 batting champion of the league, scored Buddy Lewis from second with the winning run. Lewis had singled in the tying runs a moment earlier. The victory was credited to Scott Cary, who pitched to one batter. It was the rookie's first decision of the campaign.

All games were played at night. The scheduled night game between Cleveland and the Browns at St. Louis was postponed by rain New York, Boston, St. Louis and Pittsburgh in the National League were not scheduled.

Many Top Pro Golfers Ignore Tam O'Shanter

CHICAGO—AP—Some of the better known pros now think there's not enough glitter in them thar hills, partner, and are giving up prospecting at golf's gold rush — the $36,000 Tam o'Shanter Tournament.

Maybe Promoter George S. May, frequently called the King Midas of golf, is losing his touch, for the best attraction he has to offer at the moment for his four-day jamboree starting Thursday is Bobby Locke.

The sensational South African was "guaranteed" $5,000 by May to make the Tam his first appearance in Chicago, thus skipping the British Open and the Chicago Victory National, whose proceeds went to benefit wounded U. S. veterans. If this move set golf circles buzzing in Britain, it blew the lid off among many of the pros in this country.

No such guarantees were offered Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret, the leading money winners. They insist the reason they are bypassing the Tam extravaganza—world's richest despite nearly a 50 percent reduction from the 1946 prize list—is May's two separate purses which award twice as much to leaders wearing identifying numbers than those who refused to enter the carnival spirit.

Lew Worsham, 1947 National Open Champion, is the latest to stray from May's fold. He bluntly admits he wants a substantial guarantee.

"He'll wait till the cows come home before he gets it," cracked May.

Today, May was trying to get in touch with Babe Didrickson Zaharias, reported enroute from New York to Denver to tend to her rose garden, apparently neglected while she was in Scotland winning the British Women's crown.

"I think Babe will forget about her gardening and show up at Tam, all right—she promised me," said May.

Despite these uncertainties, the entry lists promise to be attractive, for many pros cannot afford the luxury of such an expensive snub when a top prize of $7,000 waits the All-American Open winner.

Cabot's Smut Hounds Beat Challengers 17-3

The Cabot Smut Hounds beat the General-Atlas Challengers 17-3, recently. The game marked the Cabot baseball club's ninth win against three defeats.

The Smut Hounds have another game tomorrow night, when they are scheduled to meet the undefeated Pampa Black Oilers on the Black Oilers field.

Houston Is Being Eyed As Host Club For All-Star Tilt

By the Associated Press

Four days hence a host team will be decided for the Texas League's All-Star game and pace-setter Houston had a little better chance for the honor today.

The Buffs spanked Shreveport, 2-0, last night on Jack Creel's eight-hit pitching, with the tail-end San Antonio Missions coming up tonight for a three-game series.

Creel's shutout effort boosted the Buffs' margin two full games over second place Fort Worth, rained out of its scheduled tilt at Oklahoma City. The top team will act as host to the All-Stars.

Tulsa took a firmer grip on fourth with a 3-1 decision over Dallas and in the other league game, Beaumont defeated San Antonio, 8-2.

Houston could get but four hits, Billy Costa getting two of them. It managed to push over runs in the fourth and fifth innings.

Tulsa's paper record took on almost as impressive appearance as its standing. By defeating Dallas, the Oilers won their sixth straight series since returning home June 14. It was also their third win of the four-game stand.

Donnie Carlsen pitched six-hit ball in besting Joe Orrell, although the Dallas hurler gave up only three safeties. Two of the three were extra base hits—by Jack Cassini and Russell Burns.

Dallas went ahead in the first, then Tulsa tied the score the same inning. The Oilers put over runs in the fourth and fifth to make up their winning tallies.

Two San Antonio pitchers fared badly their first time out—Stan Ferens and Boyd Sorelle yielding 15 hits to the pounding Exporters. Southpaw Harry Grubb spaced nine Mission hits effectively.

A general shuffle takes place today. Dallas moves over to Oklahoma City and Fort Worth takes its place at Tulsa. San Antonio tries to hobble Houston, while Beaumont travels to Shreveport.

SPORTS SHOTS

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Daniel J. Ferris, a white-haired, chubby little man with a low, measured voice, looked back through the crowded years and picked a big, lazy Indian as the greatest athlete he ever knew.

Yes, Jim Thorpe, who carried little Carlisle to fame, gets the encomiums from "Mr. AAU"—the man who for four decades has been the heart and soul of the greatest amateur athletic body in history.

"I pick Thorpe," Ferris said as he watched the National AAU women's track and field meet in San Antonio with speculative eye, hoping to find some evidence that the United States could expect a high place from its feminine athletes in the 1948 Olympic games. "I take Thorpe because he could do so many things well."

Ferris chuckled over the story of how Thorpe used to train. Big Jim would go to the practice field, string himself a hammock, lie down for a while, go over to the board jump pit and measure off 23 or 24 feet, then return to the hammock and continue his siesta. But Thorpe didn't have to train; he had every physical quality of a champion at anything and he had a great competitive spirit.

Ferris sat in on the hearings of ineligibility charges against Thorpe after the Indian had been the main show of the Olympic games. They stripped Big Jim of his medals because he had played baseball for money. Thorpe admitted it; he didn't know it was wrong.

Dan Ferris saw the 1912 Olympics in which Thorpe starred. He hasn't missed one since. He has crossed the Atlantic Ocean 14 times as a delegate or official of some international sports body; he probably has traveled more in the interests of athletics than any man.

July 27 he will round out 40 years with the AAU. James E. Sullivan, one of the founders of this athletic union, hired Ferris as his stenographer. Sullivan died in 1914 and there was talk of making Ferris secretary-treasurer of the AAU to replace him but at that time they figured Daniel was too young, so he was made assistant to Frederick W. Rubien, who succeeded Sullivan as secretary-treasurer.

In 1927 Ferris had reached sufficient maturity to take over the job. He has been at it ever since, being elected each time without opposition. Sort of a successful "amateur" politician, you might say.

The round little man with the stiff neck (he got it from arthritis) once was a star sprinter for the old New York Irish-American A. C. He won 200 medals but never was good enough to win in the Nationals or to compete in the Olympics.

When Dan Ferris started with the AAU there were about 10,000 members. The number has gone as high as 70,000—that was before the war—and now is climbing back, having reached 50,000 registrants.

The AAU, of course, is not as large as was Hitler's youth movement or the mass athletics of Russian youth. But the AAU deals with 17 different sports. No other athletics organization ever was so thorough.

Ferris recalls the early, struggling days of the AAU when it all but expired. Sullivan once paid for the organization's stamps out of his own pocket. The AAU is not a rich outfit even today. But it is firmly planted and is the world's major amateur sports organization. Its income is about $30,000 a year. This comes partly from assessing each athlete five cents and each club $2.50 per year. The AAU also makes money from basketball, boxing, senior men's indoor track—the events it stages itself—and a guarantee from outdoor track.

I couldn't suppress a grin over this exchange with the personable Ferris:

"They tell me," I said, "that you have made more money out of amateur athletics than any other person; that you have made more out of amateur sports than many of the promoters of professional sports."

Ferris smiled. "I wouldn't say that," he came back. "My salary is only $9,000 a year. That's quite modest, don't you think?"

But a little later, when I asked him why he never had been president of the AAU, since he was the heart of the organization, he replied: "You can't make money out of being president; only the secretary-treasurer and assistant to the president (J. Lyman Bingham) are paid for their services." Then he grinned, too.

Ferris acknowledged that there was a lot of talk about ameteur athletes making a good living through the AAU. He also acknowledged that some of them had made money, but he explained that it was not with the sanction of the AAU.

"We allow legitimate expenses—transportation and hotel and meals not to exceed $8.50 per day," he said. "Any violation of our rule is through some club or organization. If a star athlete is paid in excess of the amount allowed it is on the side and by some person who does not report it. Much of this is not reported because the person allowing it is as much to blame as the athlete. We have kicked out many athletes when we have found such violations. You hear about only the prominent sports figures and they, of course, are few."

Gold Sox Shutout Oilers 8-0 Behind Spears' 7-Hit Hurling

AMARILLO — (Special) —The Pampa Oilers found Pitcher Tom Spears decidedly tough here tonight and the young Amarillo righthander heaved an 8-0 shutout.

Spears limited the visitors to seven singles, fanned nine and didn't issue a base on balls. Amarillo double plays erased Pampa scoring changes in each of the first three innings.

The Oilers led off four of the first five innings with hits but couldn't do anything thereafter.

Bailey, Oiler lefty, gave Spears superlative mound opposition until the Gold Sox, leading only 1-0, mashed him for eight hits and seven runs in the seventh and eighth stanzas.

Frank Okrie, Gold Sox shortstop, and Bob Crues, big rightfielder, particularly were damaging to the Oilers. Okrie had two singles and a double in five trips. Crues got a pair of singletons, swatting across four counters.

The Oilers were without their manager Grover Seitz who made a trip to Enid, Okla., in a quest for help to bolster the injury-crippled Oilers.

The condition of R. C. Otey, Pampa second baseman who was struck in the head by Joe Juliano's throw to second base in the first inning of Sunday's game, remains unchanged. He is in the Amarillo Osteopathic Hospital.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

EAST LANSING, MICH.—(AP)—One of Biggie Munn's first acts after coming to Michigan State as football coach was to get the squad together and elect a captain. It had been 15 years since the Spartans had chosen a captain, but Munn, a very serious gent about some things, explains it this way: "I'm a great believer in captains. A team without one is like a ship without a rudder; the boys need one and it's the greatest honor a player can get. Also a good captain can do a coach a lot of good." Biggie isn't boasting about his 1947 prospects, since he hasn't much new material coming along, but he's very proud of Michigan State's custom of never cutting a player from a squad. "We still had 125 at the end of spring practice," he boasts. "I think that any boy who comes to practice regularly should be kept. In later years he'll be able to say he was on the Michigan State football squad, even if he wasn't good enough to win a letter."

UNPLAYABLE LIE

John Penniman of Kalamazoo, an ardent week-end golfer, tells this one about his oddest golfing experience x x x as an unknown young business man, he entered a city bank to borrow some money. x x x the banker eyed him coldly and asked: "Do you play golf?" x x x John admitted it. "What kind of scores do you shoot?" Penniman modestly put himself in the 20-85 bracket. "All right," said the banker, "you get the loan. If you had told me you shot in the 70's, I would have turned you down because I would have known you were a liar."

First Baptist Senior Boys Out Slug First Presbyterians 21-12

Threatening with a desperate rally in the sixth inning, the First Baptist Senior Boys fell in defeat last night at the hands of the hard hitting First Presbyterians, 21-12. James Weatherall, Presbyterian pitcher, had little trouble with the Baptists until the sixth where they scored five runs and Weatherall went to right field and Donald Thut took the mound and quickly put out the fire. Bill McPherson was the losing Baptist pitcher as the Presbyterians scored in every inning. Emmett Forrester relieved McPherson in the fifth and stopped the Presbyterians for that frame and allowed only one run in the sixth.

In the Jr. Boys League, the Nazarene Boys had too much power for the hapless Calvary Baptists as they romped over them 20-12. The winners scored 7 times in the first frame to start their high scoring as the Baptists scored 1 in the first and 1 in the last for their only plate crossings.

With the score standing at 16-15 in favor of the Central Baptist Jr. Boys against the First Christian Jr. Boys, an argument began, and as both teams were involved in the fuss, umpires Buckingham and Lane called the game for unsportsmanlike conduct, and until the Kiwanis officials can decide what to do about it, the game will not be registered in the standings.

In the Senior Girls League, Betty Nelson pitched her McCullough Methodist Girls to a high scoring 27-12 victory over the First Christians. Both teams scored in each of the 7 innings. Jean Cornelius went the route on the mound for the losers.

Two games were forfeited last night as the Calvary Baptist Senior Boys forfeited to the First Methodist and the Presbyterian Jr. Girls did not show up to compete against the First Methodist Jr. Girls.

In last night's boys games, W. M. Lane, L. N. Atchinson, Howard Buckingham and R. W. Lane were the umpires, Joe Wells and Dr. Ballard called the girls games.

In tonight's games, beginning at 7, in the Senior Boys League, the Central Baptists will meet the First Methodists and the First Christians will play the Calvary Baptists. In the Jr. Boys League, the First Methodist will engage the First Presbyterians while the Calvary Baptist will meet the First Baptist.

In the girls League, the First Methodist Jr. girls will meet the First Baptist Jr. girls and the last game of the evening will match the First Presbyterian Senior garls against the undefeated First Baptist Senior Girls.

LONDON—(AP)—The United Kingdom broke through the U.S. domination in the All-England tennis championships today when Mrs. Sheila Summers, blonde racket swinger from South Africa, defeated Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd of Hidden Valley, Calif., 7-5, 6-4.

Mrs. Summers was seeded No. 7 in the women's division while Mrs. Todd was fourth. It was a quarter final round match.

The American team, however, sent Doris Hart of Miami, Fla. into the semifinal round. The Florida girl, seeded No. 3, came from behind to eliminate Mrs. Jean Bostock of England, 4-6, 6-1, 6-2.

The Todd defeat was the first break in the women's seeded list.

Despite last night's rains and two light showers early today the [illegible] again were filled. Weather conditions were such that heavy rains might start at anytime.

Bohous Cernik and Miss Straubeova of Czechoslovakia, moved into the third round of the mixed doubles when the Italian pair of Gianni Gucelli and Mrs. Analis Bossi defaulted. The Czech team led, 6-4, 5-4 when darkness halted the match last night and the Italians withdrew this morning.

With the top seeded American team of Jack Kramer and Bob Falkenburg leading Great Britain's Derek Barton and Geoff Paish, 6-2, at the end of the first set, a heavy rain drove all contestants off the courts.

AUSTIN—The Board of Nurse Examiners is not authorized to delegate to another its duties of examining applicants for registered nurse licenses, the attorney general held today.

Mrs. Eloween Mesch, secretary-treasurer of the State Board of Nurse Examiners, asked for the ruling. She said some directors of schools of nursing had been urging the board to use examination questions prepared by the National League of Nursing Education.

The League requires that all questions be used and the answers forwarded to the League for grading.

"Such duties are delegated by the legislature to the State Board of Nurse Examiners, and the Board is not authorized to re-delegate the duties to another agency," assistant attorney general J. A. Amis wrote.

Texans Are Attending Chautauqua Celebration

Among many Texans attending the 50th anniversary assembly of the Colorado Chautauqua opening today in Boulder, Colo., are Mrs. Alta Stanard, Pampa, her grandsons, Tom and Mike Gobble, and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gobble, Shamrock.

Celebrating half a century of service to the West, this year's program at Chautauqua will be highlighted by a week-long special ceremony.

The original assembly of what was then called the Texas-Colorado Chautauqua, was held in the summer of 1898 and was sponsored largely by Texans to provide a place with summer educational facilities for teachers to spend their vacations. Along with the religious and entertainment features, the first summer school in Colorado was maintained, and during the early years living quarters consisted mainly of tents. Buildings have been added until now there are 85 summer cottages, a large auditorium, dining hall, community house, two lodges and an administration building.

Statistics Show Marriage Increase

NEW YORK—The 1946 marriage rate in the United States rose to the highest point ever reached in the history of western civilization, according to statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. The rate in our country last year established what was, with one exception, an all-world record. The exception was Hungary in 1919, just after World War I, when the rate soared to 20.4 per 1,000.

The United States rate for 1946 was 16.4 per 1,000 population, which is about one quarter above the previous high for the country of 13.2 in 1942, our first year at war.

Two other countries, New Zealand and the Netherlands, set new marriage records for themselves in 1946. The rate in New Zealand was 12.3 per 1,000, and in the Netherlands 11.4.

CLINTON P. ANDERSON
Secretary of Agriculture Says:

American Women—
Your Used Fats Are Still Needed!
America's homemakers have saved and turned in over 600 million pounds of used cooking fats since 1942. This is an average of nearly 20 pounds for each family in the United States. It is a record of which every woman can be proud.
However, it is still necessary to conserve every pound of fat, since the over-all fat supply situation is little better now than it was last year when we were desperately short, particularly of industrial fats.
Manufacture of many of the things we all use and wear in our daily lives requires industrial fats or the products of industrial fats. Used cooking fats turned in by American women have been and continue to represent an important part of our total industrial fats supply. Every pound of salvaged fat helps meet the need.

Lawyer Accused Of Setting Up 'Big Business"

CHICAGO—(AP)—Allegations that a Chicago lawyer, Sol Andrews, made a "wholesale" business of soliciting personal injury suits against railroads were made in a master's report filed today in Cook County Superior Court.

Master-in-Chancery William J. McGah recommended in his report today that an injunction be issued to restrain Andrews from further prosecution of cases against the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Co., and the Southern Pacific Railroad, plaintiffs in the action.

Judge U. S. Schwartz set Sept. 22 for hearing objections to the master's report.

McGah, in his report, said that Andrews, his wife, Sylvia, and his brother, Noah, an insurance broker, had formed a partnership known as "Sylvan Associates," which was "organized ostensibly for the purpose of rendering investigational services to attorneys, but in reality for the purpose of soliciting cases for Sol Andrews."

The business solicited injured employes of the two roads to hire Andrews to represent them in their cla ms against the companies, the report said.

purpose of solociting injured employes of the two roads to hire Andrews to represent them in their claims against the companies, the report said.

Between Sept. 18, 1945, and Feb. 25, 1946, Andrews filed 47 suits in Chicago against the Santa Fe and 40 against the Southern Pacific, the report stated. In all cases the report said the injuries were received in Arizona, New Mexico and California.

The report said the solicitors represented to the injured employes that Sol Andrews would file their cases in Chicago instead of where the accident occurred because it would be convenient for the railroad to defend itself in Chicago due to the necessity of bringing witnesses long distances, and that larger verdicts could be obtained from Chicago juries.

Upward Trend in Prices Seen in Recent Surveys

CHICAGO—(AP)—A year after the end of federal price controls, pork on the dinner tables costs 78 percent more than it did a year ago, beef and veal 62 percent more.

Other food, clothing, and living costs in general also have undergone sharp rises, trade and government figures show. Within the year many prices zoomed to record peaks, topping the highs of the 1919-20 postwar period.

The market and retail supplies are higher in many lines, but farm supplies of livestock are lower than a year ago and cold storage stocks of many foods are lower. Such commodities as steel, oil, and lumber, still lag far behind demand requirements.

With 1926 prices as a base average of 100, the Associated Press wholesale prices index Friday was 175.64. A year ago the figure was 122.28. This represents an increase of 43.6 percent in the year. The highest was reached in March at 1884.32.

A compilation by the Federal Bureau of Labor statistics, shows that for May, the most recent calculation available, this index was at 155.8 on a 1935-39 base average of 100. Throughout the war period up to a year ago the index had advanced 33.3 points. In the ensuing year it went up 22.5 points.

All costs of living items included in the index averaged 16.9 percent above last June, with major items like food 28.8 percent higher, clothing 17.3, and household furnishings 16.3.

Specifically, meats in general are 52.2 percent more, fish 16.1, chicken 10.3, dairy products 16, eggs 221.6, fruits and vegetables 12.8, beverages 50.6, fats and oils 58.6, and sugar and sweets 31.6 higher.

Man, 80, Gives Wife, Daughter, Officers Fight

DALLAS—(AP) — An 80-year-old Dallas man gave his wife a thrashing, ran her and her 51-year-old daughter out of his home, then gave four policemen, a detective and two deputy sheriffs a two-and-a-half hour battle Friday night before they finally subdued him.

"Stand back off'n myk property, ya sneakin dawgs, or I'll drill ya," the oldster greeted two policemen who responded to the call of the man's wife and daughter for help. He waved a pistol menacingly.

The policemen stopped and called for more reinforcements. They also suggested to the women that they ask Justice of the Peace W. L. Sterrett for a warrant for the old gentleman's arrest.

The policemen, reinforced by two more patrolmen and a detective, decided to try to trap the man while they waited for deputy sheriffs to arrive with the warrant.

The policemen made a lot of noise in the front yard while Detective D. D. Dozier fastened a piece of clothesline shin-high across the back door.

Then the five officers went into the back yard and made more noise. They hoped that the old man would run out on the porch, trip over the wire and then they could overpower him.

The old fellow ran to the door, but stopped as his knees touched the rope.

"Ya yeller dawgs, thought ya had me, didn't ya?" he shouted.

About that time Deputy Sheriffs C. W. Grantham and J. W. Stacy arrived with the warrant, an armful of tear gas shells and new strategy.

By prearrangement a member of the sheriff's office called the man on the phone, hoping to keep him occupied so the officers could slip in the house and overpower him.

The two deputy sheriffs and Detective Dozier entered the house, but the old man heard them. Over the telephone he barked:

"It's no use, young feller, your not gonna talk me into nothing. Besides I'm busy."

He hung up, went to the back porch and fired several shots at the fleeing policemen.

The beseiging party reorganized and fired several rounds of tear gas into the house. The man burst from the house into the glare of a battery of police car spotlights. He fired again at the policemen and the lights, then ducked for cover. The policemen who had taken cover too, returned his fire. No one was hurt.

A few minutes later the man stepped into view, clutching his empty gun. A flying tackle by Detective Dozier floored him.

"All right, ya got me," the old man sputtered, "now durn it, lemme up."

At the county jail, his khaki trousers and blue shirt badly rumpled, the old man glowered at Patrolman J. A. Morrow, who had taken part in the seige, and muttered:

"You're pretty durn luck, young feller. Had my gun leveled on ya an' was about to shoot, an' happened to think of my son. Wish now I'd been thinking about my daughter—I'm mad at her."

Houston Builders Terminate Contract

HOUSTON—(AP)—The Houston chapter of the Associated General Contractors of America has notified the building and construction trades council, AFL, that the contract between the two groups will be terminated at midnight August 28.

E. A. Krause, chairman of the A. G. C. labor committee, said in a letter addressed to the 29 local unions that signed the agreement "it is our desire to negotiate certain changes and amendments in the terms and conditions set forth in the agreement" as signed Aug. 29, 1946.

Paul C Sparks, secretary of the trades council, said in Dallas, where he is attending a labor convention, that he would appoint a committee to meet with the A. G. C. and "find out what changes are wanted."

"At the moment, I don't know of any changes that the AFL will want," he said, "but this depends on what the A. G. C. wants. We may not be able to go along with them on some of the things they will want."

A labor dispute between the two groups led to a 77-day strike and tie-up of about $100,000,000 in Houston construction last year.

While in Fort Worth they visited their daughter and sister, Miss Orma Jean McCarty, who is a student nurse at St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing, and Rev. and Mrs. Robert Boshen, former pastor of the Presbyterian Church here. Miss Louise Shaddox returned home with them for the weekend.

ply to report the nomination to the Senate without recommendation.

This action precipitated a heated verbal tiff in a public foyer just off the Senate chamber between Connally and Langer, the Texan charging that the latter had promised to support Dooley. Connally accused Langer of "ingratitude" because he had helped the North Dakotan when the latter faced a fight over his seat in the Senate several years ago.

Langer told newsmen he will "speak briefly against confirmation" of Dooley solely because O'Daniel in opposing the nomination says Dooley is "personally obnoxious" to him.

Here to watch the debate is Dooley himself, who has spent considerable time in connection with the hearings.

By coincidence, another Texan who was involved in a heated judicial nomination fight, is in town on private business.

He is James V. Allred, former Texas governor, who was nominated by the late Franklin D. Roosevelt to the federal Circuit Court of Appeals.

His nomination was rejected after a Senate committee fight in which O'Daniel led the opposition, charging that the appointment was made as a result of an agreement under which Allred resigned from a federal district judgeship to make an unsuccessful campaign for the Senate against O'Daniel.

Good Will Trippers Appear at Pampa

An automobile caravan, headed by C. R. Higgins, president of the Canadian Rodeo Club, advertising the Canadian Rodeo and Celebration to be held July 4-6, visited Pampa yesterday afternoon.

The delegation was met at the city limits by city and Chamber of Commerce officials, headed by Jimmit McCune, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Good Will Committee. They presented a 15-minute program in front of the LaNora that was broadcast over radio station KPDN.

Members of the Canadian Rodeo Club were guests of the Chamber of Commerce Good Will Committee at a luncheon following the ceremonies.

TWO KINDS OF GOVERNMENT

There are two, and only two forms of government in the world. One is based on the proposition that the sole reason for any individual's existence is to serve the state. The other is based on the completely opposed philosphy that the purpose of government is to promote the rights, freedoms and liberties of the individual.

All governments, regardless of what they may call themselves, fall squarely into one of these two classifications. And the titantic struggle for power that is now engaging the entire civilized world is the result of the enormous difference between the two concepts.

It is not an exaggeration to say that the United States is the last powerful state which holds that the right of the individual to live his life as he chooses is the most basic and precious of all rights. This, essentially, is the principal which makes all our institutions—free enterprises, representative government, freedom of speech and press and religion—possible. History has proven a thousand times that the destruction of this right is followed by the destruction of all other rights. The totalitarian state—whether it calls itself socialist, fascist, communist, or anything else—invariably ends in oppression. The kind of government which controls the economic life of a country, sooner or later must control all other phases of life. If it tells a man what he must do, where he must work and who he must support, it will also tell him what he must say and think.

The American people must never forget that freedom must be eternally defended. If we are to maintain the individual's freedom to speak his conscience, without fear of the state police, we must maintain all the liberties upon which a free society depends. Those who temporize with freedom always lose it.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
(Johnson on KPDN Monday thru Friday, 2 p.m.)

HOLLYWOOD — Mike Mazurki, the wrestler turned actor, will have a beautifying operation on his cauliflower ear. The influence, no doubt, of his first romantic role in "Nightmare Alley." The censors, incidentally, objected to a scene in this film in which Coleen Gray and Ty Power run an "indecent show" in a carnival. It's okay now. They get arrested.

This is the film in which Power starts out as a carnival barker, becomes a famous mind reader in cafe society and then, double crossed by a gal, returns to the carnival as a geek.

A geek is a guy who bites the heads off chickens to entertain the customers. "Body of a man—soul of a beast," that's the way chicken-biter Ty is billed.

An old carnival man, Ed Mundy, is helping supervise the carnival stuff for the picture. There's a fire-eater, a thin man, and a fat lady. Jollie Nellie. Nellie weighs 614 pounds and has been in show business for 16 years.

Mundy gave a sigh of relief when he found the studio wouldn't need a bearded lady. His last experience with one, for an M-G-M film was disastrous. Ed located America's most famous bearded lady and brought her to Hollywood.

FAT BUT GLAMOROUS

"She was getting a little old," he said, "and her beard was greying around the edges But they gave her a screen test and the studio said she was just what they wanted. Then the dame double-crossed me. Darned if she didn't go to a beauty salon and have her beard dyed black and all curled up."

"I asked her why she did it, and she said that she wanted to 'look glamorous for my film debut.'"

Producer George Jessel figured it would help the picture if he could get a real geek for the carnival scenes. But the studio nixed the idea. "The trouble was," said Jessel, "that they were afraid he'd get out here in Hollywood and become a producer."

ORSON'S WALKING PAPERS

Rita Hayworth sails home from Europe after the London premiere of "Down to Earth" on July 26. The papers for divorcing Orson Welles are all typed up and in her attorney's office. She'll sign 'em the day she lands in Hollywood.

Now it's Rex Harrison who would like to do a western. Currently he's a Louisiana gambler in "The Foxes of Harrow."

They finally changed that title. "Scudda Hoo, Sudda Hay" will be released as "Summer Lightning"

Glenn Ford gets the lead opposite Ginger Rogers in "Wild Calendar."

Puzzle Department: Loretta Young and Cary Grant tiffing on the set of "The Bishop's Wife"?

After 20 years of getting his name via signs, in all of Sam Goldwyn's movies, Prop Man Irving Sindler gets himself in the new Danny Kaye flicker. "That's Life." He'll play a walk-on in a crowd scene.

So They Say

Somebody needs to make the world safe for democracy.—Henry J. Taylor, writer.

Watch the west! After traveling through California, Washington, Oregon, and Colorado I am certain that the next progressive movement in America is coming from this region.—Henry A. Wallace.

A lot of women don't care how they look after they get married and have children. Quite a few of them can't find anything to do but eat all day.—Dr. Edward H. Rynearson, Mayo Clinic consultant.

We should know that in Greece our money will be used, as our surplus war goods have been used, to kill of a large number, if not all, of those people whose only offense is that they have the classic Greek passion for democracy, the ancient Greek hatred for tyranny.—Sen. Claude Pepper (D) of Florida.

As for the charge that the Soviets were alone responsible for the defeat of the Germans, I was under the impression that Germany was defeated by the united efforts of all powers engaged in the fight against Germany. It is regrettable that they do not show the same unity of purpose now.—Gen. Lucius D. Clay, Commander U. S. forces in Europe

Group to Hunt Bones For W. Texas Museum

LUBBOCK—(AP)— Seeking bones or skeletons of dinosaurs for addition to the West Texas Museum and for research at Texas Technological College, a seven-week scientific expedition will enter Big Bend National Park July 18.

Wann Langston, geology instructor, will head the expedition, accompanied by H. C. Clarksville and Owen Jofacket of Levelland.

The Department of Interior recently issued the party a permit to excavate dinosaur remains in the park during 1947.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
news behind the news

WASHINGTON
By RAY TUCKER

MANEUVERING—The most intriguing, backstage, legislative maneuvering Washington has witnessed in years lies behind the unofficial, bipartisan agreement to repass a slightly modified tax reduction bill that leaders on both sides of the aisle expect to enact over a possible, presidential veto before the July 26th adjournment.

Hardly had the House refused to override Mr. Truman's veto by only two votes before Senate Democrats, fearful of the political consequences, approached Speaker Martin. They voiced their disagreement with the White House, although they admitted they might have had to uphold the veto of the House had not made a Senate test necessary.

Then they begged the Bay Stater and Representative Harold L. Knutson of Minnesota, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, to reintroduce the bill with only a single change—namely, to make it become effective as of January 1, 1948, instead of retroactive to January 1, 1947.

PLEDGED—"I'll do it only on one condition," replied the speaker. "You Democrats have got to prove to me that any veto will be overridden in both the House and the Senate. I know that we can override a modified bill in this chamber. But I have got to know your pledged word that there are enough Democratic Senators to stand with us in any showdown."

It was after this sharp message reached the Senate wing of the Capitol that three influencial Democrats—Senators Walter F. George of Georgia, Harry Byrd of Virginia and Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado—issued public statements to the effect that they would desert the White House if Mr. Truman again disapproved the proposed tax reduction proposal.

MORE—Although the attitude of this trio should be influential enough to assure Senate passage, Speaker Martin still demands more evidence. Mr. Knutson has introduced the altered measure, but the House leadership will not report it out of the Ways and Means Committee or press it on the floor until additional Democrats promise in advance to repudiate the White House in event of a second veto.

The mild Mr. Martin's snapping of the legislative whip marks a striking demonstration of the leadership qualities possessed by the Attleboro publisher and jewelry manufacturer.

Incidentally, there is a chance that the G. O. P. may add a community property provision to the measure, instead of waiting to make that change in a subsequent, overall revision of the revenue system.

SURPRISE — The "mystery" of the surprise appointment of Representative Robert F. Jones, anti-Administration; Ohio Republican, to the Federal Communications Commission disappears as a result of behind-the-scenes revelations that the White House simply tried to play smart politics in substituting his name for that of Commissioner Ray C. Wakefield of California even after the latter had been renominated.

Some commentators concluded erroneously that Mr. Jones was being "kicked upstairs" because, as chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee handling Interior Department funds, he had sponsored almost a $200,000,000 cut in that bureau's 1948 budget. This explanation does not hold up for the reason that Mr. Jones's successor, Representative Ben Franklin Jensen of Iowa, has sided with the Ohioan in all clashes with the White House.

Others maintain that Sam Rayburn wanted Mr. Wakefield's scalp because the Californian had denied a Houston radio license to the Texan's nephew, Robert T. Bartley. The facts are that, after a public hearing and an examiner's adverse report, the FCC voted four-to-one against Mr. Bartley's application. Lone Commissioner Wakefield could not have blocked issuance of the license to Mr. Rayburn's nephew.

Both of these shoot-from-the-hip theories fail to take into consideration the growing breach between White House and Capitol Hill, and President Truman's desperate appeal to Mr. Rayburn and other Democratic leaders for help in making more friends and fewer enemies at the other end of Pennsylvania Avenue.

JONES—Under the law the appointment had to go to a Republican. Mr. Truman reappointed Commissioner Wakefield on the recommendation of Senator Sheridan Downey of California, with Senator William F. Knowland simply acquiescing. G. O. P.-ers here feel that Mr. Wakefield is really a "Downey Democrat."

Representative Jones wanted to swap his harassing, political post for a seven-year tenure at $10,000, and consulted his Democratic and Republican friends. Despite his bitter, anti-White House attitude on Interior Department funds, he is extremely well liked on both sides of the aisle. Both Speaker Martin and Mr. Rayburn, as well as powerful bipartisan figures interceeded for him at the White House.

Although Mr. Wakefield has proved an excellent public servant, House Republicans do not know him. Speaker Martin has never seen him. Thus the Jones nomination was simply a case of helping out a political mate when he wanted help.

When the situation was explained to the President in that light, he called back the Wakefield appointment and sent up Mr. Jones's name. And there is no "mystery" in the fact that a vetoing President seeking re-election wants to make as many friends as he can on Capitol Hill.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

How Majority Rule "Education" Handicaps Education

I was recently talking to a man who thinks he believes in free enterprise and still believes in public education. Of course he does not really believe in free enterprise. He only thinks he does.

I explained to him that "free" education didn't reduce the cost of education for the poor; that there was no possible way of the state reducing the cost of any service to any group; that the poor had to pay more for what they bought and they had to get less wages because they had to work with poorer tools because public education wasted wealth by way of taxation.

The man I was talking to was wise enough to admit that this was true. His argument, however, was that the poor wouldn't have judgment enough to send their children to school to get an education if they knew they had to pay for it.

A Magical Wisdom

But the man seemed to overlook the fact that if the class of people who wouldn't pay for the training of their children were not wise enough to do that, they wouldn't be wise enough to vote for the men who would educate those children who were educable. He seemed to think that they would be magically wise in one act and stupid in another. That's an absurdity.

The result of public education is that it greatly handicaps and makes it almost impossible for those youths who are capable of getting an education to get one. This is true because they are sent to be educated or trained by people selected by the majority. The result is that we do not get teachers, principals, superintendents of schools that are themselves educated and by educated I mean men who believe in a rule of laws— in laws that no man made and no man can unmake. We get a class of educators who do not believe in the competitive system. We get a class of educators who usually select the teaching profession because they are too inert to really do anything. We get a class of people who want security instead of understanding.

And the result is that those youths who were originally capable of getting an education are so miseducated under this class of teachers that they have to unlearn most of the things they have learned in majority rule educational institutions. And it is hard to unlearn a thing—much harder than to learn something originally.

On the other hand, if there were no public compulsory educational institutions, those parents who had judgment would select teachers who could educate their children if they were capable of being educated. Then we would have enough leaders in our country to point the way to development of character and the moral laws.

Ernest Renan, the great French Biblical philosopher and student, who wrote the life of Jesus warned against doing exactly what we are doing in America. He explained that unless a country had a sufficient number of educated people to direct those people who were trained, that the training of people would do more harm than good. And that this training would destroy the very people it was intended to help.

And Ernest Renan's predictions seem to be coming true.

Yes, it is very difficult now under compulsory education for those people who have natural talents to get an education.

TWO PLANS . . . . . by Upton Close

The Marshall Plan is in direct conflict with the Stalin Plan. One aims to reconstruct; the other, to obstruct.

To understand the Marshall Plan it is necessary first to appraise the effect of what I have labeled the Stalin Plan.

Ever since the firing ceased, leaving Europe a mass of smoking ruins, it has been important to the men in the Kremlin that no active reconstructaion succeed under Western leadership, because it would largely along Western lines and would bring credit to Western powers.

Europe has always been a capitalist, Christian civilization. The deeper the post-war chaos and the longer the anguish from economic and political bungling, the better the chances of Red agents to discredit the old system.

Today, two years after the end of the war, Communists and their friends are saying to hungry Europeans, living in damp basements and half-roofed rubbleheaps, "This is what capitalism is doing for you. You've got to try something different."

The something different offered them is communism.

Two years after the shooting stopped whole families are starving. No tangible, succint plan had been held out to them to restore their living standards and their pride. The British, the French and our own officials have wasted precious time waiting for Soviet cooperation. We lost months trying to get the Reds to comply with their Potsdam agreement for a free exchange of goods among the four occupation zones of Germany.

Our dilly-dallying must have amused the men in the Kremlin.

U. S. Bread Lines

In the British, French and American zones we still rule the Germans, while ostensibly trying to teach them to rule themselves.

We still in varying degrees outline their recovery projects, and our program veers too closely to the Morgenthau Plan for reducing the German people to sheep herders. For this the Germans understandably are cursing us and listening more and more attentively to the Soviets -- whose agents are active in spreading hatred of us.

The British socialistic administration of their zone, supporting a minority German political clique, is extremely unwise and non-productive.

France contributes to the uncertainty of Europe's economic future by insisting on keeping the Saar basin, with special advantages to herself from its iron and coal, to the exclusion of Germany. France also has been urging that the big all-important mining and heavy industry section of Germany, the Ruhr, be paroled to some sort of trusteeship, inviting international exploitation at the expense of the German people, owners of the Ruhr.

Meanwhile, Europe languishes in U. S. breadlines--which are draining our own resources and dangerously threatening this last remaining stronghold of resistance to the Third International.

The Marshall Plan proposes positive action. Marshall wants to turn Europe back to the Europeans as fast as possible--a program as simple as ABC. He wants European spokesman to work out their own plans for rehabilitation and recovery. Specifically he urges the rapid increase in production of such factory goods as can be exchanged for farm produce.

We Take The Initiative

He wants European nations to facilitate the interchange of raw materials and finished goods among themselves. Apparently he wants to reduce our staffs in Europe to a minimum, reducing the cost to us in money and prestige.

This program is not entirely Marshall's. In recent speeches he began expressing a desire to see Europe progress along the lines indicated herein, and Bevin and certain other European leaders snatched up the suggestions, boosting them and labeling them the Marshall Plan.

While it is not clear that the program would require a separate peace with Germany if the peace conference next fall fails, the logic of the plan would of necessity demand recognition of some body representing the German people.

In support of the plan the United States is to go on helping Europeans in the absolute necessities as long as we have to.

In the Marshall Plan the United States will hold the initiative in European affairs. (Let us hope our aim will be to get out of Europe at the earliest possible date.) If the Soviets join in, they will be supporting our plan. If they obstruct it they are likely to incur the resentment of much of Europe with a corresponding loss of prestige.

It is not important for us to remember D-Day. It is the lesson of D-Day that we should retain.

Relapsing Fever Is Reported in State

AUSTIN—(AP)—The state health department has reported it has been officially informed of three cases of relapsing fever in Texas during the past week.

Two cases were reported in Haskell County and one in Callahan County. State health officer George W. Cox said he had also seen news dispatches reporting cases in Denton County.

The disease, transmitted to man by the bite of a tick, has as its chief symptom short periods of fever (2 and 3 days) followed by afebrile periods of 3 to 4 days. There are usually one to ten relapses, Dr. Cox said.

Prevention can best be effected by avoiding tick infested caves, camp sites, and ground areas. The fever-carrying ticks live in the soil and usually bite at night.

Exposed persons should use a tick repellant on socks and trousers, and the clothing and body should be carefully searched every morning and night.

Market Briefs

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, June 30—(AP)—Timid buying centered on oils and special issues in today's stock market, a number making new highs for the year, but the majority remained in a fractional range and many leaders did little or nothing.

Aside from a moderate upward flurry around midday, dealing slackened after a fairly active opening. While plus marks running to a point or so predominated at the close, numerous pivotals were unchanged or down a shade. Transfers for the full stretch held to the vicinity of 700,000 shares.

Growing full shortages buoyed the petroleum group with tops for 1947 reached by such favorites as Shamrock, Texas Co., Standard of Cal., and Shell Union.

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem retained modest advances despite the sharpest drop of the year in this week's ingot output. Ahead were Chrysler, General Motors, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, Joy Mfg., Du Pont, Shenley, U. S. Gypsum and Great Northern Railway.

Bonds were uneven.

ALL this while I had not seen Annabelle except at a distance. One hot July morning when Flora came running up our steps, she was obviously bursting with important news. It was Annabelle, she got out. Annabelle was going to be married that very night, to a man none of them had ever seen.

Annabelle herself had never laid eyes on him till yesterday. He was a widower with four children, a graduate of Harvard. Annabelle claimed he was very well off. It had all been arranged a month or six weeks ago, but Annabelle never said a single word about him until this morning.

"But I thought you said she met him just yesterday," I exclaimed.

"I did. She did. But she and this Frank have been corresponding for a long time. Some traveling man told Sister about Frank and that he was terribly lonely, but terribly shy, and the children running wild and needing a mother and looking after. And then he went back and told Frank he had met just the girl for him. He even had a snapshot of Sister. And then Frank sent Sister a little note, and Sister answered, and Frank sent back his picture and a picture of his house—it's a very nice house—and his children, and they went on writing, and finally they arranged for Frank to come on and see Sister and if they liked each other to get married immediately. And today is the day. He's in Binghamton at the moment on business. Imagine thinking of business on his wedding day! He's coming here at four o'clock."

"What does he look like?" I finally got in.

"Well, his picture—it's in a family group—is sort of blurred. He's tall and has a lot of hair, and the children are darlings, all boys. The youngest is five and the oldest thirteen. What do you suppose Sister will do with four lively boys? When I asked her, she just sort of smiled. She has all her trousseau, bought on the sly; so she must have made up her mind to marry him long before she saw him. Amy and Mother insisted the wedding should be at their house, at Sister's own home, but Sister said no, Sam was the older brother-in-law, and anyway she wanted Sam to give her away. You and your father are the only people invited to the wedding except the immediate family. Be at my house at a quarter to eight sharp."

I ASKED if I could help in any way. I could in every way. There were flowers to be picked and arranged, food to be ordered. Sam had yet to be told the news and persuaded to give the bride away.

"Nelson ought to do that," I said. "Considering that Annabelle and Sam fight like cats and dogs, you would think that Annabelle would prefer Nelson, if she has to be given away. Or your mother. Your mother gave you away, I remember."

"Well, that was my wedding. This is Sister's. Poor Sister ought to have what she wants at her own wedding. And you know as well as I . . ." Flora broke off, and her eyes filled with tears. "Oh, Louise, she doesn't know him at all! And she's going away with him tonight . . . alone. He may be a thief or a murderer or have half a dozen wives. I . . . I can't bear it!"

"Flora, dear, this Frank may be the very nicest man you've ever met. What does Annabelle say about him? Does she seem pleased? Happy? Excited?"

Flora shook her head.

"She just seems triumphant. She loved telling Mother and Amy. She got us all together this morning and told us just what I've told you. Mother began to cry, and Sister said: 'Please, no tears. This is an excellent arrangement I'm making.' Then she took us upstairs and showed us her trousseau and told me just what she wanted for her wedding—no supper, just sandwiches and champagne. But I'm having chicken and sweetbread salad and a wedding cake. It would be heathenish to be married without a wedding cake. . . ."

Flora and I spent a busy day, and Flora soon cheered up, as she always did when she was having a party.

I GOT home at five o'clock, too excited to be tired. Suddenly I remembered that I had no wedding present for Annabelle. Well, we could send something later. Father had gone to call on the bridegroom, and I could hardly wait for him to get home. I was on the front porch and Leah at the screen door as Father climbed the steps.

"What's he like" I called out.

"I swear I don't know," Father said, dropping heavily into a porch chair. "The man's a gentleman, I should say, about 40, not bad-looking, but there's something about him I don't like. His eyes are too close together, and his lips are too red. On the other hand he behaved very well. It was a trying situation. Sam and Nelson in loco parentis asked him a lot of very personal questions, and he answered them all very frankly and sensibly. He owns a small optical factory in Pittsfield, Massachusetts, and makes about ten thousand a year, good years, so that financially Annabelle is doing well for herself. He furnished Sam and Nelson with all sorts of bankers' references, the name of his family clergyman, and a list of his clubs. Of course they won't have time to investigate them, but they think and I think that Mr. Hartwell spoke the absolute truth and that all in all Annabelle is getting quite a catch."

"Well, that's gorgeous," I said, "but I still think there's something queer about a man who has to pick out a perfect stranger in order to get married."

Politics Charged In A & M Report

COLLEGE STATION —(AP)— New summer term officers of the Veterans Students Association of Texas A. & M. College were on record today as asserting that political expediency dictated the findings of the majority of the joint legislative committee which recently conducted an investigation of the school's affairs.

In a special statement the officers also renewed the group's criticism of A.&M. President Gibb Gilchrist

Gilchrist was recognized in the statement as qualified as "an engineer and politician" but the officers added they do not "accept his ability as an educator or leader."

"Unhealthy conditions which caused this legislative investigation," the statement said, "are still in existence on this campus."

These criticisms of the joint legislative committee were contained in the statement:

1. The committee called only eight of 60 witnesses the veterans claim could have collaborated their assertions.

2. Their lawyers were not allowed to cross-examine witnesses at the committee hearings.

3. Said that 12 hours spent on the A.&M. campus was not adequate to "analyze at first hand the disturbing conditions so long prevelant on this campus."

House Approves Old Vets' Pension Raise

WASHINGTON—(AP)— The House today voted 338-0 for a 20 percent increase in pension payments to Spanish-American, Civil War, Boxer Rebellion and Philippine Insurrection veterans and their widows and children. The Senate has not yet acted.

Present rates range from $40 to $100 monthly.

The Veterans Administration estimated the first-year cost of the increase at $28,938,000, and said it would decline thereafter.
