"Heart of the Gulf Southwest"

WATER CONSERVATION AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE FUTURE

Earlier this week I again had the opportunity to address the annual convention of the Red River Valley Association, an organization dedicated to developing the priceless water resources of the Red River Basin.

Recent flooding along the Mississippi clearly showed the tremendous value of flood control structures — without this protection, destruction to homes and communities and irreparable damage to farmland would have totaled in the billions of dollars. Phenomenal growth along the Arkansas River which was recently made navigable demonstrates the positive advantages that come with navigation. Water development and conservation — with proper attention to the environment — means a strong, bright future for America. I will continue to work for flood control, water conservation for community and industry, and new waterways for East Texas.

COPIES OF MY SPEECH TO THE RED RIVER VALLEY ASSOCIATION (11 pages) will be sent free to constituents upon request to my office.

VETERANS MEDICAL PROGRAMS. One reliable measure of a society is the responsible care and respect it gives to those who have risked their lives in defense of their country. With more World War II veterans reaching the age where they require more frequent medical attention and with hundreds of thousands of Vietnam veterans added to our veteran population, there is a clear need to expand and improve VA health facilities. It was, therefore, a great disappointment when the President vetoed the Veterans Medical Care Act of 1972. Similar legislation is again under consideration by the Congress. It has my strong support.

AN INDEPENDENT F. B. I. The Federal Bureau of Investigation under the leadership of J. Edgar Hoover was the most respected law enforcement organization in the world. One of Hoover's major strengths was his rugged independence which kept the Bureau out of politics. Recent developments have raised serious questions about the integrity of the Bureau and legislation is under active consideration in the Congress to remove the F.B.I. from the Department of Justice and re-establish it as an independent agency of government reporting directly to the President. The F.B.I. should be as independent and incorruptible as the man who shaped and led it for an amazing 48 years. I favor this proposal.

RIFLE 22 CALIBER AMMUNITION is still the most popular among sportsmen and it is a continuing source of annoyance that each sale of .22 caliber shells requires time-consuming record keeping. I supported a bill which passed the House in the 91st Congress to lift all record keeping requirements for .22 ammunition but that measure died in the Senate. It is hoped that the 93rd Congress will complete action on this simple measure. So far not one criminal has been apprehended as a result of the considerable records that must be maintained under present law.

"MNEMONICS." These are devices that help us remember, like "Spring forward, Fall back," which tells us to set the clock forward (instead of back) next Sunday when Daylight Saving Time takes effect. Another useful mnemonic device is "Leaflets three, let it be!" for warning us that a 3-leafed plant could be poison ivy. One further example: For remembering "Use ammonia for a bee sting; vinegar for a wasp sting," keep in mind that a is followed by b, v by w.

IT'S THAT TIME OF YEAR. Visitors are always welcome to Washington and there are many sights to see in addition to the much visited White House and Capitol. Less well-known but also interesting are the Folger Shakespeare Library, Pan American Union Building, Textile Museum (weaving and rug-making), Museum of African Art, Bible History Museum, the Trolley Museum (with trolley rides!), Navy Museum, Woodrow Wilson House, and many more. Chances are even one-time visitors haven't seen it all!

Austin. — "If we go through an intellectual debate on a new Constitution for Texas, and the Legislature turns down our recommendations, we will be trained as competent lecturers for high school civics classes."

That was the rationalization of Wales Madden, Amarillo attorney, and member of the new 37-member Constitution Revision Commission. He spoke before the Panhandle Press Association on the tedious chore before the Commission, and invited editors and publishers to attend the first public hearing of the Commission on April 25 in Amarillo.

"We will hold 18 public meetings throughout Texas," Madden told his Amarillo audience, "and we'll be hard pressed for time to get the new draft of the proposed constitution to the Texas Legislature by November 1, 1973."

The Texas Legislature becomes a ConCon in January, 1974, and has been charged by the voters to write a new constitution by May, 1974.

There will be no changes in the Texas "bill of rights" — Madden pointed out.

Texas Constitution is longest in the nation — five times longer than the U. S. Constitution. Voters have approved 200 amendments (out of 317 submitted) to the document since 1880.

"If the new constitution is not approved," he added, "we predict that we'll have 200 more amendments approved by the year 2,000."

Several Texas House members attending the Panhandle Press meeting said they believed that the voters would approve the constitution — as submitted by the Legislature.

Madden predicted that the Speaker of the House of Representatives would be the presiding officer of the ConCon in 1974 because: "the House has more votes than the Senate on the decision."

"It will be a 'peoples' document," he concluded, "a document of all seasons."

BUSY LEGISLATURE — Returning from a four-day Easter holiday this week, the Legislature is faced with a hurry-up schedule and a mountain of work before its late May adjournment deadline.

The House plodded for days through stacks of mainly-fore-doomed amendments before passing its $9.7 billion appropriations bill.

A $9.5 billion version of the state budget for 1974-75, meanwhile, zipped through the Senate finance committee and was expected to pass quickly and smoothly.

Since both houses were ready to bow to Gov. Dolph Briscoe's demand for a no-new-taxes appropriations bill, little hangup is seen for budget conferees in closing days of the session.

Main differences in the House and Senate spending bills lie in the area of public welfare, and that is a fast-changing field, considering federal funding laws are subject to Washington agency interpretation.

While the budget remains the principal job unfinished, there are numerous other major pieces of legislation awaiting action. They include:

- Code of ethics and lobby control strengthening.
- Election measures.
- A sweeping variety of environmental bills.
- A penal code revision.
- The newsmen's "shield law" to protect information sources, which is stalled in a conference committee, with conferees at odds over whether courts should be empowered to force disclosure.

Thompson Receives AF Commendation

Technical Sergeant Michael G. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thompson, Rt. 4, Mt. Pleasant, has received the U. S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Seymour Johnson AFB, N. C.

Sergeant Thompson was decorated for his meritorious achievement as a flight mechanic at Seymour Johnson. He is assigned to the 8th Airborne Command and Control Squadron, a unit of the Tactical Air Command which provides air support for U. S. ground forces.

The sergeant is a 1958 graduate of Talco High School. His wife, Bonnie, is the daughter of Overhaul of the school finance system to benefit poor districts — a job which almost certainly will be left to a later legislature.

ALLOWABLE HELD UP — Texas Railroad Commission for the 14th straight month set the May oil allowable at 100 per cent of potential.

Chairman Jim Langdon said gasoline stocks were down 10 per cent from last year — or at 189.5 million barrels as of April 13.

Ten of 14 major crude buyers requested the same output for May as in April. Three requested less and one, more.

Exceptions to the 100 per cent allowable are East Texas field (86 per cent); Tom O'Connor (70 per cent) and some small fields (80 per cent).

SCANDAL COMMITTEE REPORT — A House Investigating Committee named two years ago to investigate the scandal-marked Sharpstown banking bills of 1969 handed in a belated report and six recommendations, five of which already have been passed on by the House.

The Committee's new recommendation urged that speakers of the House not have personal legislative programs.

Other recommendations included an ethics code for public officials, a strong lobby control act, pre-filing of bills before sessions, making it a misdemeanor to divulge information on grand jury proceedings before official action is taken, and adequate advance posting of bills for hearings.

The five-member panel said it is regrettable "the big fish" in the Sharpstown case was granted immunity from prosecution and that the cloak of suspicion was improperly and unfairly thrown over the shoulders of several honorable and hardworking members of the House, resulting in their loss to the State of Texas."

MORE JOB INJURY BENEFITS — Workers injured in on-the-job accidents will collect more benefits under a bill passed by the Senate with only three dissenting votes.

The measure would raise weekly maximum compensation from $49-$63 September 1, to $70 September 1, 1974, and $7 a week thereafter for each $10 increase in the average weekly wage for manufacturing workers. Minimum benefits will also go up from $9 to $15 September 1 under the bill.

In addition, lifetime death benefits would be paid to surviving spouses and children up to 18 (or 25 if attending school.) More workers would also be included under workmen's compensation through SB 283.

HUNTING - FISHING FEES HIKE — Legislation boosting hunting and fishing licenses fees sharply is now near final passage.

The Senate approved with minor amendments the House bill raising hunting licenses from $3.25 to $5.25 a year and fishing licenses from $2.15 to $4.25. A combination license could be obtained under the bill for $8.75. The non-resident hunting license would go up from $25 to $50.25.

CONSUMER PROTECTION ACT ADVANCED — A comprehensive consumer protection, anti-deceptive practices bill passed by the Senate, and a tougher version earlier cleared the House.

The act would authorize private and class actions for damages resulting from 20 defined deceptive trade practices. Enforcement would be in the hands of the attorney general and local district attorneys. Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby termed the bill (SB 75) the most progressive consumer protection measure ever adopted by the Senate.

TEL Class Enjoys April Fool Frolic

The T. E. L. Class of the Calvary Baptist Church enjoyed an April Fool Frolic Monday evening in the home of Mrs. E. W. Smith, with Mrs. C. H. Dickinson as co-hostess.

Upon entering each guest had the name of a prominent man in the church pinned on her back without knowledge of the name. This created a lot of fun when each one had to guess the name of the man on her back by the unique things others said about him. Mrs. Jewel Butler voiced the opening prayer and Mrs. O. J. Holland presided over the business session. A most impressive devotional was given by Mrs. W. H. Cogburn on Easter. Mrs. Dickinson read "The Symbolic Easter Lilly."

The Easter season theme was carried on the lace covered table with a center piece of Easter lilies arranged in an oblong silver bowl of green grass in which nestled colored Easter eggs. Tall yellow candles in silver holders flanked the arrangement. At the base was a gold bound book of poems opened at the poem, "A Lilly White" which told us not to feel that life's in vain. He bore the stripes to save us pain.

Following the program, Mrs. Smith began her social hour entertainment by reading April's Burlesque Horoscope which ended up by saying the people born in April were at times a bit foolish, as this is the month of All Fool's Day and also some times the stories they tell may sound a bit fishy. So the group enjoyed a fish race and other foolish games in which goofy prizes were won by Mrs. J. H. Weatherall, Mrs. Jewel Butler, Mrs. R. L. Prestidge, Mrs. Cogburn, and Mrs. Dickinson. Others attending were Mrs. Edgar Easterling, Mrs. M. E. Jones, Mrs. J. L. Gandy, Mrs. Holland.

Mrs. Dickinson poured yellow punch from a crystal punch bowl and a variety of chips, dips, chocolate covered candy eggs and toasted nuts were served.

Holiday week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Teague were their daughter-in-law, Mrs. David Teague and her daughter, Nancy of Denton.

THE GRANDEUR OF GRAND BAHAMA ISLAND

International Hotel resembles a Moorish Palace.

When the English writer Hilaire Belloc said, "Hotels are the mirror and the flower of the people," he surely must have been thinking of the two members of the Princess Hotels International family, located in Freeport, Grand Bahama Island, just off the coast of Florida.

Resorts such as the Xanadu Princess and its sister, the International Hotel, reflect the excitement of the Bahama Islands while preserving the finest European traditions insisted on by their guests.

The International Hotel is modeled after a Moorish palace, complete with arabesque archways, hand-painted blue and caramel Portuguese tile flooring and a 28 foot high domed lobby area. It's adjacent to the famed International shopping bazaar and attached to El Casino, a gambling hall which itself is a replica of the Taj Mahal. It offers the largest swimming pool in the Bahamas in addition to a white silky sand beach and two championship golf courses for guests at both hotels.

What better way to sharpen

Mrs. Erma Blackwell and Mrs. Jocie Gann of Terrell and Mrs. Nancy Sanford of Mt. Pleasant visited over the holiday week end with Mrs. Blackwell's daughter, Mrs. Lyndon Horn and family.

Mrs. Walls and Mrs. Lowry were schoolmates in their younger days. This is the first time they had seen each other in 59 years.

one's skills at the net than to take lessons from Tony Moxham, a pro who has coached four Davis Cup and Wightman Cup teams. Tony is the pro for both Princess resorts and offers tennis and tennis instruction round the clock. In fact, many visitors prefer to spend their days on the beach, and evenings on the illuminated courts at the Xanadu and International hotels.

Guests at the International Hotel can take advantage of worldwide culinary delights as part of a new eight-day package called "International Holiday." Delectable dinners are served in any of seven different specialty restaurants, including the Cotillion Room of the International Hotel, Waterlot Inn of the Xanadu Princess, Mai Tai Polynesian Restaurant, Sir Winston Churchill, Japanese Steak House and Pub on The Mall.

For further information on Princess hotels in the Bahamas, it's best to consult your local travel agent or call the Princess toll free reservations line direct 800-327-1313. Florida residents call 800-432-1533 and Miami residents call 871-3311.
