The building formerly occupied by the domino parlor, now in the Old City State Bank building, has been partitioned and remodeled and will be used jointly by Mr. Denley and the Abbott Cleaners.

"It may take us a little time to get used to our new home and it may take you a little time, but we know that all of us will like it fine, and we extend a cordial invitation to all our customers and friends to come by," Mr. Denley said.

Johnnie Lee Wills Plays April 8

Johnnie Lee Wills, who played for one of the popular VFW-sponsored dances here last year, is returning to Wellington with his orchestra Thursday night, April 8, to play before what is expected to be one of the largest crowds of the season, Russell Yates, entertainment chairman, said.

Wills is the brother of Bob Wills, and grew up in Hall County, near Memphis. Consequently, he will be playing to many of his "home folks."

"We are sending the word out to all surrounding towns, and we are assured that all the friends of Johnnie Lee Wills will be on hand, for they know the pleasure his orchestra can give," Mr. Yates said.

Abbott Cleaners Opens Monday

A. G. Abbott this week announced the opening of a new cleaning plant, the Abbott Cleaners, on Monday, April 6. The new business will be located on the north side of the square, just east of the Cochran Drug.

Pioneer Cowhand Escapes Injury When Horse Falls

J. H. White of the Seale community has had more than half a century of handling range cattle and horses, but it is doubtful if he wants to repeat a recent experience, although he came out of it without injury other than bruises.

Mr. White was driving calves near Salt Fork River when one got down in a deep, narrow gulley. He worked his horse down in the gulley after the calf. His horse became scared, tried to jump out of the gulley and fell backward on Mr. White, then ran off.

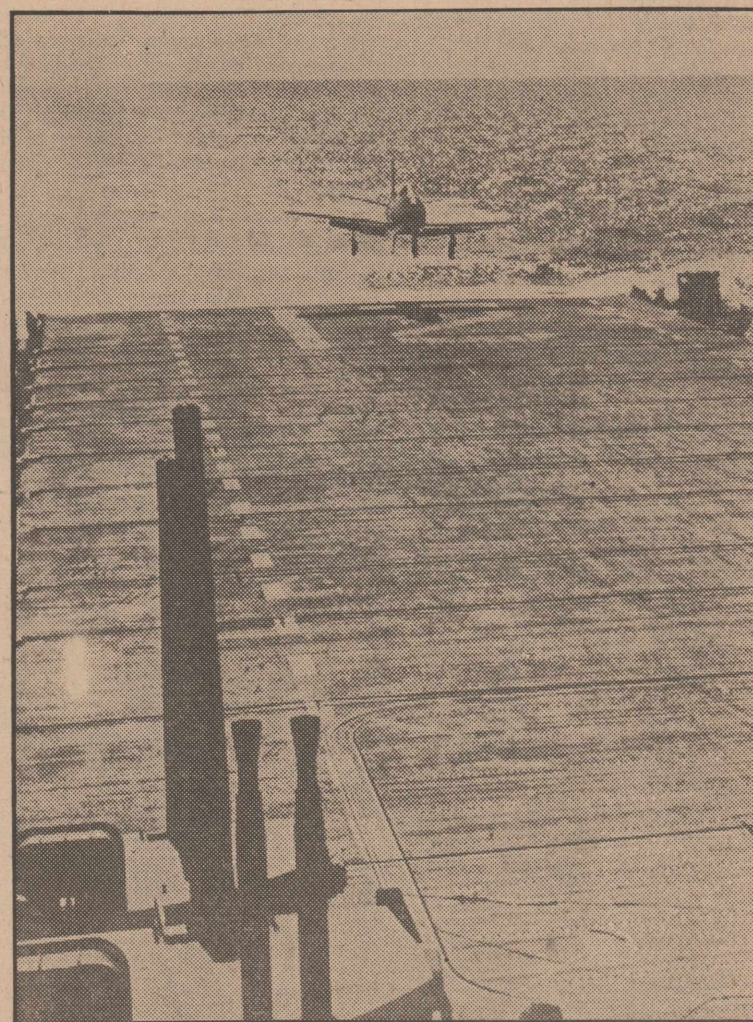

After picking himself up, Mr. White also climbed out of the gulley, caught the horse, mounted him and rode home.

Intensified Effort Urged to Raise Remainder of Red Cross Quota

JET MAKES FIRST CARRIER LANDING

Navy's newest and fastest plane, the jet-propelled North American FJ-1 Fury, comes in for a landing in the first trials of jet-propelled craft on an aircraft carrier, the Boxer, off the California coast.

Approximately $800 Reported in County Chairman States

Renewed effort on the part of all Red Cross workers in the county was urged this week by John Forbis, county chairman, in order that the county may raise the $2012 quota for this year.

To date, only approximately $800 has been reported. The drive officially should end March 31, but a short extension of time is being made in order to wind up the drive in Collingsworth County.

"No drive in recent years has been so hampered by weather conditions," Mr. Forbis remarked. "But that is behind us, and we are confident that one last effort on the part of all workers will put the drive over with the success we have always had in these Red Cross fund raising campaigns."

Workers were requested to make second calls on those persons who were not at home when the worker went around the first time.

"Contact every person in your community or on your street. Many people are waiting to be called on to make their contribution. They have the money ready, it's just a matter of seeing them," Mr. Forbis emphasized.

Any person who has been missed in the drive to date is also requested to take his money to the worker in his community or bring (Continued on Page Eight)

Rockets Play Dodson Thursday

The Rocket baseball team will meet the Dodson team Friday, April 2, at the old fair park diamond in Wellington. The game will begin at 4:00 p.m.

A game originally scheduled for Thursday with the Amarillo high school team was called off by that school.

Ted O'Neil on Marine Team

Ted O'Neil, who played his first basketball on the Wellington team, was one of the key men who made victory possible for the Seventh Marine team over the opposing Sixth Marines, 50-32.

O'Neil—who is Ernest O'Neil to the Marines—is stationed at Camp Joseph H. Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif. Concerning his part the camp newspaper said:

"Putting in a new team at the beginning of the third quarter, the Seventh's defense worked to perfection as they held the fast-fading Sixth to only three points while they were busy scoring 15. At this point the Seventh Marines led 30-23."

"The big gun in the assault for the winners in the third and final periods was Ernest O'Neil from H&S Co."

"Bob Jolley from H&S Co. helped O'Neil in the scoring. Zeiner and Jolley scored five and six respectively while O'Neil was Mr. Big with seven field goals and 14 points for the Seventh."

Commenting on the importance of the game to the team, the paper continued:

"Fifty points were at stake in this game as the winners will have these tacked on their year's total and will be considered when the time comes for the awarding of a trophy for the organization having the largest number of points."

Mrs. W. L. Langford Dies Thursday of Lengthy Illness

Mrs. Langford was before her marriage Miss Edith Loraine Roberts, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Roberts of the Fresno community. She was born October 18, 1911, near Waxahachie, and at the time of her death she was 36 years, five months, and seven days of age.

Her early childhood was spent near Waxahachie, where she attended school. She came to Childress County with her family, and three years later, they moved to Collingsworth County, where the remainder of her life was spent.

She and Mr. Langford were married January 28, 1928. For a number of years they lived on their farm near town, but several years ago they moved to Wellington to (Continued on Page Eight)

Farm and Ranch Chatter

With Layne Beaty, WBAP, Fort Worth

Comes now a warning from a Texas Tech scientist that farmers in the Pecos and Morton areas had better get their irrigation water analyzed before using it. Numerous wells have been drilled this year and irrigated acreage expanded, but Dr. A. W. Young, of the college at Lubbock says a large percentage of water samples from relatively deep wells around Morton and Pecos show high contents of salts, especially chlorides, carbonates, bicarbonates and sulphates of sodium. In two or three years, such chemicals would make soil non-productive. An analyses would, therefore, be a wise precaution.

The Jack county rural fire truck made its initial run one night last week, and confined a bad grass fire to 150 acres just below Perrin. Local folks say it's well worth the money and trouble.

A recent survey says 21 percent of farmers have secret ambitions to be big league baseball players—and earn $50,000 a year. We imagine a lot of players would like to be farmers—and earn $50,000 a year. At least, a lot of them are supporting farms.

Daylight saving time won't affect listening on WBAP (either frequency, 820 or 570) this summer. Heretofore some programs on the networks have been broadcast an hour earlier when eastern cities went on daylight saving time. President Truman says the way daylight saving has been practiced is a lot of "hokey," but he will support a national daylight saving time plan.

We hear from Britain that big sales of Shorthorn cattle are being held in Scotland with foreign buyers encouraged to participate, because of the need for currency on the isles. Pedigreed bulls are being shipped to the United States, Canada and Argentina.

British farmers are being urged to step up their grass drying and silage making so that imports of feed can be cut down. One fellow claims that the introduction of a dryer on his farm has given him the equivalent of an extra 100 acres of grain land. Silage is going into trenches and pits for the most part, what with the shortage of building materials.

The new British practice is well known here in the southwest with more and more trench-type silos being built every year. They cost little and preserve feed for years. The Bible reports that Moses and his people stored food in the ground for use in lean times.

Two registered Jersey cows owned by C. C. Norton of Weatherford have completed production records of merit, we hear from the American Jersey Cattle Club, Columbus, Ohio. One produced 13,052 pounds of milk and 626 pounds of butterfat at the age of ten years, based on a 305 day test. The other produced 11,956 pounds of milk, 642 pounds of butterfat on an equal test at the age of three years. Each tripled the average butterfat production of dairy cows in the United States.

Carol Jean Murry Bitten By Dog Near Childress Recently

Carol Jean Murry, 5-year-old granddaughter of Mrs. Bud Davidson, was painfully bitten on one hand by a dog at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kincaid near Childress Tuesday, March 16.

The dog, believed to be rabid, was killed, but as his head was injured, it was impossible to determine this definitely, and doctors advised that the little girl be given anti-rabies treatment.

She was brought to Wellington for treatment, which will be given every other day for a period of almost a month. Mrs. Davidson Carol Jean, and Carol's small brother will then move to Childress to make their home. Prior to Mr. Davidson's death a few weeks ago, they lived on the Crews Ranch in the Needwood community. The children are the son and daughter of Mrs. Willie Mae Murry of Shamrock.

Students in Tech at Lubbock who spent the Easter holidays here were, Tim Hatch, Mack Saied Jr. Charley Jones, Stewart Jones, Jack Covey, C. G. Gray and Billy Nelson.

DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

This is one of those weeks when I am having a hard time getting this column started—am not provoked at any civic condition and am not too enthusiastic over any news enterprises. Maybe it is spring fever. Wish Walter Franks or Misha Dukeminier would invite me to go fishing with them furnishing the equipment. I do not have so much as a cane pole.

W. H. Atkinson, son of the late W. I. Atkinson of Quail, was in the office last week to cut bait to the tune of $2.50 for a subscription. He runs a minnow plant at the Lugert Lake about eight miles from Mangum. He says that at times they open the sluice gates and that the fish are stunned when they come down the falls. Not too long ago he went out and picked up eighty, mostly crappie, with his bare hands. Won't somebody invite me to go over to Lugert?

My speech before the Rotary club is making no progress. Tom Campbell wants me to talk on what we can do as individuals to help the town. I asked for suggestions. Not a single suggestion has been received. Maybe all of us want somebody else to do it. Do you have an idea you would like to send in before next Saturday so that I can throw it at the Rotarians?

Here is one of my own. We can clean up our own premises even if we have to pay for hauling the trash away ourselves.

We can do this; but the town needs a general clean-up campaign. The City will have to take part in that.

Congratulations to Grif Finley on the selection of evergreens to landscape his new home. It will be beautiful in time.

What is the English name for the cradle, wooden board or leather bag that an Indian woman uses to carry her papoose on her back. A bunch of so-called business men have been running around town trying to find out. The female brain trust here at the Leader did not know either. S. R. Pinkston, the Leader's expert on Indian lore, says that every tribe had a different name for this Indian baby carriage. The Kiowa's called it Planty and the Comanches called it Wauk-Nauh. He was not sure of an English word for it; but he thought it was cradle and my mother thought it might be the same; but it seems to me there is a more expressive word. Can any of you help? Such a way for grown people to spend their time. I knew we had a Russian problem; but I thought we settled the Indian problem years ago.

I am out of soap still as far as any constructive thought is concerned. Here are some notes: Walter Johnson made the paper twice this week. See Bill Hughes column and baseball story. Ansel McDowell plans to attend the West Texas State College Variety Show No. 1, featuring students of the college and The Collegians, college dance band, gave a morning performance in the Wellington High School Auditorium last week. Other cities to be covered on the tour are Claude, Memphis, Wheeler, McLean, Shamrock and Childress. Variety shows from West Texas State have made a number of such tours in years past and have received enthusiastic response from the cities visited. The show performing in Wellington is a series of three to be sent out by the college this year.

WEST TEXAS STATE COLLEGE STUDENTS APPEAR HERE

University of Texas—good idea, if he went to SMU he might grow up to be like his Uncle Sandy. Sports story from Marine paper shows that Ted O'Neil is the same sort of a player in stiff competition that he was in high school. He delivers in the pinches. His marine experience in athletics ought to make a college berth a cinch for him. James Posey, son of Robert Posey, is getting out a church bulletin. He asked me about a problem in mimeographing and I had to tell him that I did not know the answer; but I referred him to Duard Scott who knows how to operate a mimeograph machine better than any secretary in Wellington. What on earth, I thought Duard lived in Dodson—maybe not.

Congratulations the second time to the people of the Baptist Church on their chimes. I love to hear them in the morning and the evening. Why can't the Methodists get some chimes or better still get a bell that could be heard for two miles. Why don't all the churches get bells or chimes. Chimes will take care of themselves; but the bells should be selected carefully. I've got to get the Baptists in a good humor; for Louise plans to join the Methodist Church before long.

Here is an item of which Jim Donaghy and Lefty Thomas should take note. Three Dalhart men have worked out a suspension mixture which enable a farmer to use an ordinary grain drill to seed love grass. The mixture is 74 per cent ground sorghum grain, 8 per cent cottonseed and 18 per cent love grass seed. The men are Ed Pritchard, O. V. Hartshorn and Dick Peck. The latter is in charge of Soil Conservation Service at Dalhart and is the one to contact.

T. A. Tomlinson is preparing an agricultural and industrial survey of Wellington to be used as promotional material to send out to people who want to know more of the Wellington area. This has been needed for years.

I guess that I am in the reporting mood and not in the editorial mood this week. But here

Maybe We've Been Too Modest

Maybe The Leader has been too modest about the number of readers it has.

Recently a letter from Floyd in Oxnard, Calif., told how four families read his copy of The Wellington Leader each week.

Then there came a letter from Mrs. C. W. Fritts of Samnorwood, who told how her paper gets around.

"I read in The Leader how many read each copy of The Leader," she wrote. "This is how many read my copy."

"My husband and I read it first. Then I send it to my daughter, Belva and her husband near Lubbock. She, in turn, gives it to my sister, Mrs. Ray Shirley of Lubbock. It is read in her home by her family of four."

"Then she gives it to my sister-in-law, Mrs. F. Eric Ming, also of Lubbock, who formerly taught at Quail. She and her two children read it."

"Then she sends it to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hamilton of Southland, who lived at Quail 20 years ago, but who still enjoys The Leader."

"So you see my copy also goes the rounds, and it is enjoyed by a number of people."

Mrs. Fritts has been the efficient correspondent for The Leader from the Samnorwood and old Plymouth areas for a number of years.

is one note I found in my own handwriting on my desk. "The Marshall plan is the first economic offensive that has been launched against the Soviets since Lenin founded Bolshevism—all other measures have been defensive. That is the reason the Russians fear ERP so much. If the Marshall plan succeeds the dictatorships Russia has forced on smaller nations may blow up. If that happens the regime of Stalin may blow up. It is said that Russia has twice as many imprisoned political dissenters as she has Communists."

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Harkleroad and children of Cotton Center spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. White.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Turpin and Mrs. Hyden of Quanah visited the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. Don Hyden and Mrs. Eva Fulcher Sunday.

"Zero-Zero" to "CAVU"

By BILL HUGHES

Flash! Jack Strong, Charlie Caldwell, William E. H. Lucas, Lee Hughey, Jr., Hiram L. Cudd, Weldon D. Cleveland and Louis Patterson have taken off with Tom Kane and Kane School of Aviation to learn to master the "Wild Blue Yonder." One of these gents was overheard to remark, "You know, I feel sorry for people who have to stay on the ground." Me, too, they are my sentiments exactly. Apparently, however, there is no monopoly on this.

A considerable crowd gathered at the airport section of Marian Airpark last Sunday week and a goodly number went aloft for a ride with Tom and got quite a kick out of a bird's eye view on the wing of home and town and county.

I asked Tom the other day how his students were coming along. I had been watching a number of them and they looked sharp to me. He said, "You know Texans take to the air just like ducks take to the water." I innocently asked him if he might be a Texan. "Sure," he said, "I'm a Texan;" and then the idea took root and he blushed like a rose that would make Deck Wells or Judge Cocke green with envy. Then he sputtered, "I know you think I'm prejudiced but nevertheless, that's my honest opinion." I guess after eighteen years experience and seven hundred students from all over the United States that this opinion will stand as reasonable proof of a brag that is true.

You know this flying business has a lot of practical angles. Ask Walt Johnson for instance. The other day he came to Tom and told him that someone had lost a rear wheel off of a dual wheel truck somewhere between Wellington and Lutie. He said they had searched the highway up and down and could not find a trace of that wheel, which with it's tire was worth better than a $100. So for $2.00 Walt took off with Tom and from 600 feet they scanned the right side of the highway to Lutie. On the way back they searched the other side. Sure enough, Tom spotted a solitary wheel track angling off the shoulder of the road into an adjacent field. They circled and there approximately 75 yards off the highway bedded in the weeds was the wheel. They flew immediately back to Marian Airpark having used up about ten minutes altogether. When they got out, Walt insisted on splitting a $10.00 award offered by the owner of the truck for the finding of the wheel. It was good business all the way around—except maybe for the guy who forgot to tighten the lugs on that prodigal wheel. At any rate, you can see that flying has many useful angles—even to ranchers and farmers. What is more, there is a mighty good and willing man to serve them at any time out at Marian Airpark.

Mrs. Minnie Gibbs and Misses Drucilla and Letha Mae Gibbs spent Sunday in Hedley visiting Mrs. D. D. Peters, and Mrs. Keith Bain.

Ward Motor Co. Adds to Staff

L. E. Ward owner of the L. E. Ward Motor Company, announced this week that Mrs. R. P. Cheatham is now bookkeeper and in charge of the office of that business. Mrs. Cheatham and her family returned here recently after living for two years at Bandon, Oregon.

Before moving from Wellington, Mrs. Cheatham, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace O'Rear of Rolla, was employed in the office of J. W. Holder, tax assessor and collector.

Two other recent employees at the Ward Motor Company are Dewey Barker and Ted Amburn.

Mr. Barker, who has lived here since 1939, is parts man. After serving in the armed forces 45 months, he returned to Wellington and operated his own service station for a year and a half, disposing of it December 15.

Mr. Amburn, also a veteran of World War II, is paint and body man for the shop. He has had a considerable amount of experience in this work, and formerly was with the Drummond Paint and Body Shop.

Get Ready for Spring Three Experienced Mechanics to Repair Your Truck Car or Tractor

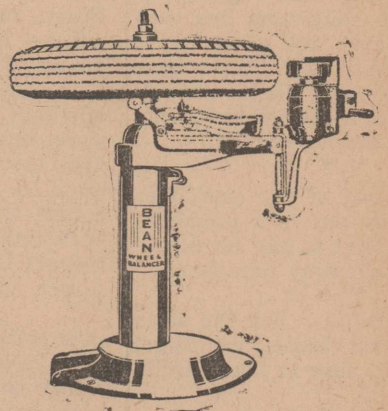

Now is the time to get your car, truck or tractor ready for the busy weeks ahead. By getting them in perfect shape now you can save time and money later.

Our three expert mechanics using the latest repair machinery will do a repair job that will put your machines in first class running condition.

The wheels of a car frequently "run around" at a speed of 1,000 revolutions per minute or more. At this speed, even slightly unbalanced or out-of-line wheels set up destructive vibrations that ruin a car's wheel and steering mechanisms. Shaky steering, uneven tire wear, body rattles and squeaks—all may be caused by out-of-balance or misaligned wheels.

Visit our service department today and let us check your steering system with our precision John Bean Wheel Balancing and Aligning Equipment. You can see for yourself just what is wrong. Savings in tire and chassis wear will more than pay for the job.

The Buck Creek Philosopher

J. A. Figures Theres a Bug Under The Atomic Research Chip

Editor's note: The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek probably is up to his usual standard, which is mis-interpreting what he reads, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

The birds was singing so and the water was boilin so in my wife's wash pot out here Monday mornin I couldn't help wanderin out in the woods out of sight on the banks of Buck Creek and was surprised to find a copy of a magazine floatin down the creek, as ordinarily magazines don't get this far down, just mostly copies of the Amarillo News or the Wichita Falls Record News, or the Wellington Leader, brush heaps, dead animals, fence posts, and odds and ends, but since it drifted over to a gravel bar where I was standin and appeared to be in pretty good condition I picked it up and sat down with it, which I am now sorry I did.

On the first page I opened it to was a article on how atomic scientists are workin on a by-product of the atomic bomb which will unlock new knowledge of plant growth, makin things grow twice as fast and twice as much as they do now.

"This is one of the glorious promises of atomic science," the article said, pointing out it would enable a farmer to increase his production tremendously and keep food production up with the increases in population.

Personally, I ain't taken in. In fact, I'm disturbed, if not outraged. Most people can't see but one side of a thing.

For example, if that atomic by-product them scientists is gonna feed into the soil to make cotton and corn shoot up, works, what in thunder do they figure is gonna happen at the same time to cockle-burs and Johnson grass? Who wants twice as much cotton if he's got to hoe twice as much Johnson grass? Scientists is smart up to a certain point, then they peter out.

All I can see to it is that they're

April 15 Deep Plowing Deadline

Deep plowing of sandy cropland must be completed by April 15, to qualify for payment under the Agricultural Conservation Program. April 1 has been set by the county committee as the deadline date for issuing approvals for this practice, Millard Brown of the ACA reports.

Deep breaking of sandy cropland has proved to be one of the most valuable practices for sandy land farms of Collingsworth County. It not only helps prevent wind erosion but increases the production from 50 to 100 percent in most cases.

Bob Bowen, who lives 4 miles east of Wellington on the Mangum Highway, gives the following report on his 1947 production.

"My cotton that was planted on land deep plowed, produced 254 pounds of lint cotton per acre, on land that was not plowed deep, only produced 117 pounds per acre. (These figures were taken from gin tickets). My maize produced 2860 pounds of threshed grain per acre on deep plowed land and only 800 pounds on land that was not plowed deep. On land that was deep plowed year before last, 1200 to 2000 pounds of threshed grain was produced per acre."

Many other similar reports have been made by sandyland farmers throughout the county.

gonna double the work of us farmers. It ain't no bait to me to lead me on by the promise of doublin my production if it's gonna double my labor to do it. Thunder, I already know I can produce more if I work harder, don't take no atomic scientist writin in a high-powered magazine to tell me that, what I'm lookin for, if the atomic age is gonna be a success as far as I'm concerned, is a method of producin more by workin less, or I'd even settle for producin just as much as I am by workin less. I ain't hard to please.

See if you can't get our Senator or Congressman to workin on this. Ain't no use spendin tax money on atomic research if it's gonna result in taller Johnson grass and thicker cockle-burs. More food ain't worth that price.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Gospel of Christ

(Rom. 1:16)

THE ANCIENT LANDMARKS "Remove not the ancient landmark, which thy fathers have set" (Prov. 22:28). Thus early it was recognized that innovations of man were nuisances to God's religious order. The urge to abandon the ancient landmarks and establish new is common today. But there is a realm in which we cannot capitulate with impunity. We do not need a twentieth century gospel today. There is rather a desperate need for the application of first century principles to the twentieth century. The New Testament "thoroughly furnishes unto all good works" (2 Tim. 3:17). and is therefore adaptable to all the needs that may arise in any century.

God affirmed unmistakable landmarks in the religion of the past. "Ye shall not add unto the word which I commanded you, neither shall ye diminish from it" (Deut. 4:2). God affirms unmistakable landmarks in religion today: "Whosoever goeth onward and abideth not in the teaching of Christ, hath not God" (2 Jno. 9). GOSPEL BROADCAST DAILY AT 10:00 A.M. Don't Throw Your Weight Around, Drivers Told AUSTIN — "Don't throw your weight around," advises George Clarke, managing director of the Texas Safety Association.

"Remember that when you are sitting behind the wheel, you are driving a car that weighs more than 2000 pounds, and the pedestrian crossing the street only weighs an average of 150 pounds. It isn't quite fair, is it?"

The Texas Safety Association is cooperating in a nationwide "Know and Obey Traffic Laws" program during February, and Clarke said that accidents involving pedestrians are one of the biggest killers. He pointed out National Safety Council statistics to back up this assertion.

Pedestrians at intersections account for 28 per cent of all urban fatal accidents, and 35 per cent of all fatal accidents are non-intersection pedestrian mishaps. In addition, 27 per cent of all pedestrians killed in cities were crossing at intersections without signals, and 38 per cent were crossing between intersections.

Clarke emphasized the following things to remember for the driver in giving pedestrians the right-of-way:

1. When pedestrians are crossing at unsignalized intersections, drivers must give them the right-of-way if they are walking in the crosswalk or where a crosswalk might be.
2. When pedestrians are crossing at signalized intersections they should obey the signals, but drivers turning right or left must yield the right-of-way to pedestrians crossing on the "green" or "walk" light.
3. Pedestrians do not have the right-of-way between intersections, and therefore, they should cross only at corners.

4. Drivers must be alert for pedestrians crossing between intersections, particularly at night, even though the walkers should look out for the cars.

5. Regulations vary from place to place. Pedestrians are sometimes prohibited from crossing between intersections in certain areas of the city. Sometimes they are allowed to cross if they can do so safely. Know your local rules!

GI Students to Experiment Sta.

Approximately 50 men, students of the agricultural classes of the Veterans Vocational School and their instructors, visited the farm experiment station at Spur Tuesday, March 23, John Coleman, school co-ordinator, reported.

The group inspected stock feeding and pasture management experiments.

Of particular interest were the soil conservation experiments which have been under way for a period of 20 years. One plot of ground, consisting of approximately 50 acres, has been worked so that there was no runoff of water during the entire period. Although that experiment field has been planted in cotton every year for 20 years and no commercial fertilizer has been added, production has doubled, Mr. Coleman reported.

The only additional fertility that was brought onto the land was from water that had run off other fields and pastures, Mr. Coleman explained.

Another experiment of interest to the county group was that for the eradication of mesquite. This work is being done at a cost of from $8.00 to $30 per acre, depending on the type of eradication and the density of the mesquite on a piece of land.

Farmers and Consumers Are Partners in Soil Saving

Both the farmers who carry out the conservation practices and the consumer who helps "foot the bill" can be proud of what they've done under the Agricultural Conservation Program, says J. A. Coleman, Chairman of the Collingsworth County Agricultural Conservation Committee.

This year about $150 million has been appropriated for conservation under ACP. Divided among the 145 million people in the country, that means a little over a dollar per person. But to the farmer it means that 10, 20 or maybe 200 or more persons are cooperating with him in getting the conservation job done on his farm. For farmers of Collingsworth County it means that an average of 130 persons cooperated with each farmer participating in the 1947 program.

"In actual practice, under this partnership program for soil and water conservation, the chairman explains, the farmer more than matches every dollar put up by consumers. In addition he usually does all the work. Often, encouraged by the limited help in getting started, he expands his conservation efforts far beyond the basic practices of the program," Mr. Coleman said.

"Dividends resulting from this public-farmers partnership are many and varied, says the chairman. The farmers has a better farm. Erosion and depletion are slowed down. The farm will last longer. Continued operation is assured and production is increased.

"The public benefits from continued abundant production of food and other essential agricultural commodities. The land is being held on the farm and improved. Essentially the program is an insurance policy which continues indefinitely into the future. Both farmer and consumer help pay the dividends and both are the continuing beneficiaries. This partnership is about the most effective way found of getting the job done," he continued.

Navy Couple Visit Here En Route From Panama-Washington

Lieut. and Mrs. C. J. Cerullo, who have been stationed at Upam Naval Air Station, Panama Canal Zone, visited here recently with her sister and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Yates. They were en route to Wibley Island, Washington, where he has been transferred.

Lieut. and Mrs. Cerullo were aboard the Army transport ship which was grounded on a sand bar in the Mississippi River for six days, during which time, in addition to the discomforts of the delay, they had to accustom themselves again to winter weather.

Nor was this the only bad luck of their trip. Their station wagon, packed with articles they were bringing back to the United States, was sent ahead on a ship preceding them, and when they picked it up again in New Orleans, they discovered several valuable items had been taken from it.

On top of this, they reached Wellington just in time for the coldest weather of the year.

Wibley Island, Lieut. Cerullo's new assignment, is located near the U. S.-Canadian border, where a large Naval Air Base is under construction. They had lived in the Panama Canal Zone for two years.

Mrs. Cerullo formerly lived in Wellington.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like aches and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try it!

HOW TEXAS INDUSTRIES PUT NATURE'S RESOURCES TO USE FOR THE BENEFIT OF MANKIND

MAKING HIS Mark IN THE WORLD

Texas is making its mark in the cement industry, converting limestone and clays into good roads, into concrete foundations for prospering new industries, and putting them to scores of other uses that help to serve the state.

But limestone and clay, in their natural state, are of little value. They must be gathered and processed into cement which is then taken to places and used where people need it.

Natural gas is another natural resource that is worthless while it is under the ground. It, too, must be gathered, processed and transported to cities and towns where it can be put to use before it gains value. This is the job being done by the United Gas companies... giving importance and value to an otherwise worthless product of the earth. This is practical conservation, for it stimulates industrial development, creates jobs and benefits all the families in Texas.

CEMENT INDUSTRY

The Free Enterprise system is well exemplified in the cement industry of Texas. Here is an increasingly important industry providing good jobs for Texas people... spending large sums of money with local suppliers of materials and equipment... paying important tax money for the support of state and local governments... providing a sound investment for private capital. It deserves your support in its efforts to build a greater Texas.

Joycerene Price Crowned Queen of Norwood School

The contest was sponsored by the senior class, and directed by the class sponsor, Mrs. Selba Rainey.

Candidates from the other high school classes, their escorts, and representatives of the grade school classes formed the queen's court.

Th junior representative, Fern Thompson, escorted by John Edd Roark, led the coronation procession, followed by Betty Bullock, sophomore, escorted by J. H. Oldham; Catherine Kirkin, freshman, escorted by Carl Weiss; Joy Martindale, eighth grade, escorted by Pennington; Shirley Todd, sixth grade, escorted by George Cunningham; Barbara Oldham, escorted by Charles Kidd from the fifth grade; Glenda Faye Cook, escorted by Bobbie Tippie from the fourth; Joyce Shields escorted by John Whitfield, third grade; Janice Jones, escorted by Pat Bradley from the second; and Alice Johnson escorted by Dennis Simpson from the first.

Rockets Take Practice Game

By ROBERT PERCIVAL
The Rocket baseball team won their opening game of the season Wednesday afternoon, March 24, downing the Dodson nine 11 to 7. The game was a practice, seven-inning affair with plenty of errors, and several home runs. Boone Eads, left field, hit the longest ball of the afternoon, and despite a turned ankle had no trouble making it a circuit blow.

Walter Johnson, first sacker, practically duplicated Ead's effort when, with two men on and the Rockets trailing 6 to 7, he lifted one of Pitcher Rippetoe's offers onto the top of the school house a good 300 feet from the home plate. After that blow the Rockets were never headed.

Fulton, third baseman, added a home run to the score with a line-drive to left center field, his second hit of the game.

Fine control by Pitcher Bobby McCutcheon kept the Dodson boys in check. An especially capable job was done by Catcher Lindell Norman, his first game at back stop, and he also got himself a home run with a fine drive over the right fielder.

Walt O'Neil, short stop, did a good job of fielding besides getting himself two safe blows, a single and a double and later backed the center fielder up against the school house to catch a long, hard-hit, fly ball.

The Dodson team will return the game here Thursday, April 1. Game time will be at 1:00 p.m.

Editorial

Every business man knows the wisdom of taking stock of what he possesses at intervals. Likewise, it is well for each of us to take stock of something in which we all have an interest and ownership—Collingsworth County itself.

So often the other fellow's pastures look greener; the money to be made in some other town looks bigger. At such times we need to ascertain what our own county has.

Especially, Collingsworth County is and so far as we can now determine, always will be an agricultural county. But we have only to look at our own records to find its value. Not often will there be the bumper wheat and cotton and feed crops of 1947, but production in those years that are "average" is sufficient that the thrifty, alert and progressive farmer can live well.

A large acreage in the county, rough and of thinner soil, seems fitted only for stock growing. Yet in livestock Collingsworth County has shown signal success. The Mill Iron Ranch is a leader in the development of fine registered Herefords, and its herd is not to be topped. In the opposite side of the county, it was steers from the Bar-Lo Ranch that one season topped the Chicago Market.

In between these two ranches are many others that are raising registered beef cattle on a smaller scale, but profitably. This is an important part of our county.

There other parts of the county that are as fine for growing alfalfa as any section in the southwest not using irrigation. Progress is being made in growing crops that are adapted to the sandy sections of the

• This Antique Business

The antique business sort of fascinates me. Quite a few men in Amarillo have "The Spinning Wheel" and "Hobby Magazine" sent to them air mail so they can look these magazines over quickly and order by air mail anything they may want. If the orders aren't rushed in, the articles may not be available on account of having been sold. Then comes the wait to determine whether the articles arrive or the check comes back with a note saying: "Sorry, but they were sold when your letter arrived." I understand that a person can get rid of quite a bit of money pretty quick by collecting things—Lewis Nordyke in The Amarillo News.

Maine is in a dither because its bears haven't hibernated. Let those who disclaim the housing shortage think that over.

county.

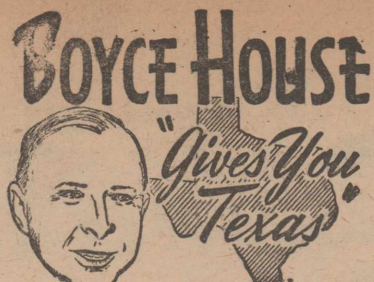

Wellington has long enjoyed the reputation of "a good county seat town." Its growth in the years since the war has not assumed boom proportions, and at times it has been slow; but it has been made on a sound basis, and all indications are that it will continue to be so.

It is flanked by three smaller trading centers each of which serves an essential section of the county—Dodson, Samnorwood and Quail.

There is a growing sense of civic responsibility in all of these, furthered by groups who represent the best interest of the area such as the Rotary Club, the Kiwanis Club, the Wellington Rodeo Association, the Lions Club at Quail, the Dodson Civic Club, and the Samnorwood Rodeo Association. In many of the smaller communities there are the invaluable Home Demonstration Clubs.

Finally, special recognition should be given to the new Chamber of Commerce, which is working not only for Wellington, but for the whole Wellington trade area, under the able direction of its efficient young manager, T. A. Tomlinson. Such an organization cannot launch a full-blown program all at once; but the Chamber of Commerce has already started to ground-work for a program which can mean better living and more money in the pockets of all concerned.

This is but a suggestion of the resources of Collingsworth County. A minute's thinking will bring to mind many others, some yet undeveloped. But even a complete list is no indication for self-satisfaction. It is rather the recognition of a sound basis on which to work for further progress—for an even better Collingsworth.

It has been said that there are only 14 people in the world who can understand Einstein's theory. Well, here is an explanation of that theory, in Einstein's own words:

"When you sit with your girl an hour, you think it's a minute. When you sit down on a red-hot stove for a minute, you think it's an hour."

"That's relativity."

A good many years ago, traveling with a candidate for governor was a group of newspapermen representing their respective papers and one of these newspapermen looked like the candidate. This reporter however was for the other candidate. So, after a speaking, he would go into a beer parlor, drink a schooner, then come out and stand right in front of the door for half a minute so that anybody on the street could see him.

Next day, it was all over town that Candidate Zilch had been seen coming out of a tavern and wiping his mouth on the back of his hand—and so all the "drys" voted for the other fellow.

Which was exactly what that newsman had wanted to happen, of course.

A friend was telling me about going to a city and the hotel room he got was so small that if you dreamed it would have had to be about midgets.

Some weeks back, this column made a favorable reference to that great guy, Jimmy Durante. Well, sir, soon afterward, here came a letter of thanks from Durante. Such appreciation is one of the reasons why he is where he is today, a top favorite of screen and radio.

BANKING IS A VERY PERSONAL BUSINESS

A man's hopes and ambitions, his plans for the future of the financial results of his past often depend on his dealings and deposits at his bank. This imposes an obligation on us . . .

... not merely to act as but to BE friends in our over-the-counter dealings:

... to keep the confidence revealed to us

... to consider our customers' personal plans from a personal point of view

... and above all, to maintain a deep sense of responsibility in handling other people's money, money that means so much to so many.

It's like this: When Nth Oil (Patented)* enters your engine, a special added ingredient fastens extra lubricant so closely to metal that cylinder walls

Because this extra OIL-PLATING stays up on cylinder walls... won't all drain down to your crankcase, even overnight... a Spring change to Conoco Nth Motor Oil extra-protects from "dry-friction" starts... from power-choking sludge and carbon due to wear!

Sixty Percent of Collingsworth Farmers Over 50 Years of Age

SIZE OF FARM FAMILY AND AGE OF FARMERS

The average size family on farms and ranches in Collingsworth today is four, and the trend is toward smaller families than those of former years.

Large families are capable of doing much more work, but it takes more to clothe and feed them. The man with the smaller family who has modern machinery at his disposal has more time and money to devote to soil conservation and to care for his farm than the man with a large family. The big problem is to convince the share croppers and renters than it is essential to care for and to rebuild the soil in order to maintain a decent standard of living. This may be accomplished through an educational program.

Of the farmers and ranchers, ten per cent are less than 30 years of age; thirty percent are 30 to 50 years of age; and sixty per cent are over 50 years of age.

Recommendations

Adjustments proposed are to educate the farmers that they are using methods of farming that do not pay and that there are ways to care for and improve the soil that will benefit them greatly.

A. This may be accomplished through schools of instructions and by getting information from experiment stations to the farmer or rancher and helping him to put the practical knowledge derived into practice.

SANITARY CONDITIONS IN RURAL AREAS

Present Conditions

The high, dry, climate is conducive to good health and the health through out the county is considered good.

The diet of most farm families is fair to good. Through 4-H clubs, Home Demonstration Clubs and Homemaking Classes the necessity for good diets and the food included in a balanced diet are being stressed.

The water supply in the county is one of the major problems of sanitation. Most farm families depend entirely on cisterns for their water supply; this makes it expensive and unsatisfactory in some cases to have running water and modern conveniences.

A large majority of the farm homes have sanitary toilets, a few have either cess pools or septic tanks to take care of water from sinks, drains and bathrooms. However, very few of the homes have ample sewage disposal.

The majority of the farm homes are well screened from flies and mosquitoes.

If young people are expected to stay on the farm, conditions must be such that they will enjoy farm life. If more homes had modern conveniences, electricity and good water supplies, they would be much more attractive to younger people. Such improvements could induce the young people to make the farm or ranch their home.

Rural electrification growth is one change that is rapidly taking place. Provisions for adequate farm water systems should be worked out. Encouragement should be given boys and girls in college and schools to use better farming methods and, also, to teach them that farming or ranching can be a paying business if soil conservation is practiced.

Recommendations

Teaching the farmers to conserve every acre of land that the highest rate of production will result over a period of years will go a long way toward solving the social problems. Improving sanitary conditions and providing for more modern conveniences on farms will induce more young people to make the farms their homes. If the soil is made more productive through soil conservation practices the economic condition of the farm families will be improved, making possible more conveniences and maintaining a higher standard of living.

ALL THEY ASKED WAS AN EVEN BREAK

BUILDING a new country was no easy job. But there were men and women willing to turn their backs on the comfortable way of life and their faces toward new frontiers. All they asked was an even break.

Free enterprise is another way of saying, "an even break." Free enterprise is the basic American principle of vision and personal initiative. Just give an American an even break—a chance to get ahead—and he'll go on from there.

In West Texas—where the "frontier" is a little more than one generation removed—the West Texas Utilities Company is recognized as a real pioneer. It opened up an "electric frontier" when in 1915 it constructed the first power transmission line in West Texas. This first transmission line, which helped pave the way for the economic growth of the area, was built by a farseeing group of business men who believed that a tax-paying, self-supporting company could best supply the enormous amounts of electric power that the development of this western empire depends on...at the lowest possible cost.

Today, that original transmission line has been expanded into a power system of 2,833 miles of high power transmission lines...more than any other company in the Southwest...serving 322,000 persons with dependable, low-cost electric service in a 45,000 square mile area.

The West Texas Utilities Company, in 1947, contributed more than $1,800,000 to local, state and federal governments...paid more than $2,800,000 in wages to employee citizens of West Texas.

There are still new frontiers in electric living to be opened...and businessmen can do the job better than bureaucrats. Believing in the soundness of the "free enterprise system," the Company will spend $18,000,000 during the next four years enlarging plants and existing facilities, and building transmission lines in an all-out effort to "open" those new frontiers.
