Record Sales Predicted By CRMWD

Although the area has been blessed with repeated showers during the past two months, the Colorado River Municipal Water District may be heading for a record in water production.

Deliveries of water increased in June in spite of an occasional dulling of demand by showers. This kept the year's total running well ahead of 1965 and close to the record level of 1964.

During June, CRMWD produced 1,217,744,968 gallons of water, up 72 million from the same month a year ago, or 6.28 per cent. For the first half of the year, production has reached 5,622,690,076 gallons, or 7.47 per cent more than for the same period last year.

Member cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder took 848,054,000 gallons of water in June, only 7,340,100 more than June 1965, or up .87 of one per cent. Odessa required 460,980,000 gallons, down 7.60 from June 1965; Big Spring 294,162,000, up 9.03 per cent; and Snyder 92,912,000, up 29.01 per cent.

Oil companies used 369,690,968 gallons, or 21 per cent more than for the same month last year.

The previous peak demand for water from the CRMWD came in 1964 when the district produced 11,544,510,382. That year, the first half total stood at 5,628,333,682 gallons.

Senator Byrd In A Coma

BERRYVILLE, Va. (AP) — Former Sen. Harry F. Byrd is suffering from a malignant brain tumor and has lapsed into a coma, a family member said today.

Richard E. Byrd, a son, said his father is not expected to come out of the coma.

The younger Byrd said the comatose condition "has not been consistent until recently." He said the elder Byrd had been slipping into and out of the coma for several weeks "and we did not want to say anything public about it when he might come out of it and hear it."

The existence of the brain tumor has been known to Byrd's family since tests were made at the University of Virginia Hospital in Charlottesville early in March.

Borger Mishap Fatal

BORGER, Tex. (AP)—Paul Edward McPhereson, 25, was killed by a car Tuesday in Borger in an odd sequel to a minor traffic accident.

Investigators said McPhereson had been in a minor traffic collision and was talking with the driver of the second car when the third car struck him.

Ball Claims Hanoi Grows War-Weary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Undersecretary of State George W. Ball said today diplomatic reports from Hanoi indicate development of war-weariness.

But the reports show no political decision yet to seek a peaceful settlement in South Viet Nam, he told a news conference.

"I don't want this morning to create an overly optimistic picture" of North Viet Nam's attitude change," Ball said.

"A prevailing attitude is one thing, and translation into political decisions is something else," he added. "I wouldn't read too much into this."

Ball was questioned at length about North Viet Nam's war intent in the light of President Johnson's statement Tuesday that the Reds no longer expect military victory.

Ball, who is acting secretary of state while Secretary Dean Rusk is on a Far Eastern trip, said the reports have come in over the past few days from "observers in Hanoi who are there in different capacities — impressions that they have from conversations with people in the regime."

Ball reported the Hanoi observers — who presumably include foreign diplomats stationed there—note "a greater war-weariness among the people" and a psychological change among government officials as well.

"Bright hopes that they had earlier," the undersecretary said, now appear 'frustrated" by (1) the reconciliation among feuding non-Communist groups in South Viet Nam; (2) heavy Communist military losses in the south; (3) the increased cost to North Viet Nam from waging the war, and (4) a strong U.S. showing of will to stay in the fight.

"Therefore why shouldn't there be a change in attitude" in Hanoi, Ball asked. He said it's perfectly normal for the North Vietnamese to be depressed under the circumstances and in fact it is 'rather extraordinary" that Hanoi has not come to this before.

Ball was careful to avoid any prediction as to when the North Vietnamese change of attitude might have an impact on the war, or in what form.

On other points Ball said:

—Blockading Haiphong harbor is one of the proposals advocated as a war of increasing the war cost to North Viet Nam. Such a move would raise big political questions. Ball made no prediction as to what will be done.

—Red China has shown no evidence of intervening in the war under present circumstances.

—French President Charles de Gaulle's trip to Russia apparently has not damaged the Western alliance.

—The United States still favors both an international agreement to ban the spread of nuclear weapons, and nuclear sharing among the allies, and the two proposals are not conflicting. Objections from Moscow appear to be based on other factors.

Harold Wilson Plans Visit To Washington

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson will fly to Washington July 28 to confer with President Johnson on Viet Nam and other world issues, officials reported today.

The British leader will have a one-day conference with Johnson July 29 and return home immediately.

Topping their program will be differences that have arisen over the new American bombing policy in North Viet Nam.

IN SACRAMENTO

Shotgun Blasts Kill 2 Negroes

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Shotgun blasts from a moving car killed two Negro transients Tuesday night in Sacramento's skid row area. Police arrested three white men.

The victims, shot in the neck and groin, fell in the Old Sacramento district made up of flop houses, abandoned buildings dating from the gold rush, saloons, a strip tease joint, cheap restaurants and small motion picture houses.

Arrested were three young men from towns across the Sacramento River, to the west.

Police, citing recent U. S. Supreme Court decisions concerning the rights of defendants, refused to give details. They said they had not established a motive.

The dead, one of whom fell on the south side of J Street and the other on the north side, were identified from Social Security cards found in their pockets as Harry Brown and Ernest Martin. Their ages and home towns were not available.

Police Chief Joseph Rooney declared: "As far as I'm concerned, there are no racial overtones" to the shooting.

His attitude was backed by Robert Puglia, Sacramento County chief deputy district attorney, who said: "There is no reason to believe on the evidence available that this incident was racially motivated."

He added: "I can't give any motive on the basis of the information we have."

"From all the recent court decisions, we have no information we can give you," Rooney told reporters.

Jack Kearns, a detective captain, said the arrested men had been booked for a murder investigation. He identified them as: Bill Howard Fallon, 23,. Broderick; Epifianio Gutierrez, 21, and Arnold Lynn Lachenauer, 17, both of Bryte.

The detective told reporters police had not asked the arrested men their occupations.

Broderick and Bryte are on the west side of the Sacramento River, directly across from the capital city.

There were at least five witnesses to the shootings. The arrests were made after police broadcast the car's description.

Sukarno Submits To Title Loss

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno today accepted the loss of his "president-for-life" title but said he would oppose any attempt by Lt. Gen. Suharto to form a Cabinet without his approval.

"I don't want to be president for life. I have no desire even to be elected president. I want to dedicate myself to the people, to the service of freedom," Sukarno told the closing session of the Provisional People's Consultative Congress.

He said he would carry out the resolutions passed by the Congress but declared that under the 1945 constitution only the president has the right to appoint a Cabinet.

The Congress ordered the president Tuesday to let Suharto choose the Cabinet. In an apparent last-minute compromise it later issued a call for the two men to work out the appointments together.

"This I accept," Sukarno said. "I don't want to be treated as a king of kings. I've been fighting for nearly 40 years — to be only a king? No, no."

The new Cabinet is to be chosen before Indonesia's National Day Aug. 17. It remains to be seen how much of a voice Suharto will let the president have in choosing the ministers.

Speaking after Sukarno, the army strongman said that anyone who opposed resolutions of the Congress also opposed the 1945 constitution. The resolutions are a manifestation of the Indonesian people's desires, he declared.

Missile Onslaught Meets US Planes

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American warplanes dodged a heavy onslaught of Soviet-made missiles over North Viet Nam's Red River Valley Tuesday during one of the heaviest raiding days of the war.

The U.S. military command announced at a briefing today that 27 to 29 surface-to-air missiles had been fired at U.S. planes. A few hours later, however, official spokesmen reported there may have been some duplicate sightings in the accounts from pilots.

The spokesmen said it probably would be at least 12 hours before intelligence reports could be sorted out and a definite figure established.

The original announcement said it had been the largest number of missiles fired in a single day since the beginning of the air war and despite the confusion later, it obviously represented a day of heavy missile activity. The largest number of missiles sighted previously was 12 one day last March and it was believed Tuesday's firings exceeded that total.

The missiles were fired from sites in the Red River Valley 50 to 115 miles north and northwest of Hanoi. U.S. Air Force pilots reported wrecking four of the depots within 33 miles of the North Vietnamese capital.

sites and also hitting two fuel

One of the oil storage areas was 28 miles north of Hanoi, the Air Force and carrier-based other 33 miles northwest.

Navy jets flew a total of 106 multiplane missions, a new high in the 16-month air war. But a spokesman said the missions did not involve a record number of planes.

A mission usually involves three or four planes which may make several sorties or single strikes against targets.

"It was a high day for sorties, but not a record day," the spokesman said.

The raiding fighter-bombers also hammered at bridges, barracks, storage areas, antiaircraft sites and other installations in the southern panhandle as well as the Red River Valley.

In the only major ground action reported, a government regiment of about 3,000 men clashed four times with Communist forces 62 miles southwest of Saigon Tuesday. A spokesman said the Vietnamese troops killed 83 Viet Cong and captured a 57mm recoilless rifle, four machine guns and 27 other weapons. He said government casualties were light.

But American pilots flew the unusually high number of 443 sorties in South Viet Nam Tuesday, claiming damage or destruction of about 500 Viet Cong huts and fortifications and causing 55 secondary explosions. They also reported possibly killing 28 Viet Cong.

U.S. B52 bombers hammered at two targets today: a Viet Cong base camp and training center near Cambodia 60 miles northwest of Saigon and a Viet Cong troop concentration 38 miles southwest of Tuy Hoa, on the central coast.

Downpours Soak Valley

By The Associated Press

Downpours of up to five inches soaked portions of South Texas during the night but most of the state continued to swelter today in typical hot and dry July weather.

Five inches oof rain fell on the community of Grulla, southeast of Rio Grande City, during a two-hour period Tuesday night.

Victoria had 3.78 inches for the 24 hour period ending at dawn, Robstown 2.37, Beeville 1.42, Refugio 1.20 and Beaumont 1.12, with lesser amounts at a number of other points. Falfurrias had 1.01 inches during an hour's time.

Most of the state simmered Tuesday under a bright sun.

Sales Tax Hike Studied

AUSTIN (AP)— The Texas Committee on State and Local Policy said today that the state's money needs could be satisfied by upping the sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent or eliminating the exemption on food—or both.

The report on possible sources of tax revenue to the governor and the 1967 Legislature made no specific recommendations although it discussed the amount of new revenue that sales tax changes would produce.

"This report makes no recommendations and the revenue proposals which are discussed are illustrative only," said Rep. Ben Atwell, Dallas, chairman of the committee.

The report said increasing the sales tax, with an accompanying increase in the motor vehicle tax which is levied under a different statute, to 2½ per cent would produce an additional $72.4 million a year and to 3 per cent would produce $144.8 million a year.

Removing food for off-premises consumption from the present list of exemptions would produce another $55 million annually.

There have been no official estimates of money needs facing the 60th Legislature but numerous demands for increased spending are expected. State employes and public school teachers have asked for substantial pay raises. Additional millions will be needed for other phases of government, including state colleges and universities, the water development program and water and air pollution problems.

Today's report said the committee concluded that:

"The Texas sales tax is relatively modest for all classes of consumers, but is especially so for agricultural and individual consumers.

"The sales tax stands out as far and away the most productive source of additional tax revenue within the confines of the existing state tax structure," the report said.

The committee said its figures show that the present Texas sales tax burden is less than half of the national average, whether computed for low income, middle income or high income families of five.

Area bank deposits of $29,103,977.73 show a slight decrease from the last quarter in statements compiled today as of close of business on June 30.

Revived Surveyer 1 Talks Back

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists, after days of trying, reestablished contact today with Surveyor 1, the photo-snapping spacecraft on the moon. It had been silent during the two-week frigid lunar night, and experts feared its battery might be dead.

Surveyor quickly began "talking back" this morning after the heat of lunar day revived it.

The Jet Propulsion Laboratory said the feat was established and a series of engineering questions was sent to the spacecraft concerning temperature and voltages aboard. Surveyor began answering, dutifully.

Late tonight or early Thursday, when the Goldstone, Calif., tracking station can take over communication, an attempt may be made to reactivate Surveyor's cameras, which sent thousands of pictures of the moon's surface back to earth.

The cameras went dead and communication ended about three weeks ago when the lunar night set in, bringing temperatures down to nearly 260 degrees below zero.

Leftist Demands Defeated By Wilson

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson beat back today a leftist block in his Labor party demanding Britain break away from backing U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

The rebels, who had claimed overwhelming support, were crushed by a vote of 214 to 46 at a closed-door meeting of Labor members of the House of Commons.

Councilmen Ok Highway Project

The City Council Tuesday night authorized Mayor M. L. Broman to execute a contract with the Texas Highway Department concerning the widening and reconstruction of State Highway 208.

Contract for the job is not expected to be let until the third week in July. Total cost is estimated at $204,000 with the City and County sharing costs of about $24,100.

Under the contract, North Avenue S would be widened and improved from the Old Lubbock Highway (Thirteenth Street) to Huffman at the north city limits.

Councilmen awarded a contract for a 100,000 square-yard street seal coating program to the W. D. Turner firm of Lubbock for a total amount of $10,200. The Turner Co. was apparent low bidder on the project. Abilene Paving Co. of Abilene submitted the second lowest bid with a figure of $10,500, and Price Construction Co. of Snyder offered to do the work for $11,237.

The seal coating program is the fifth consecutive one in a continuing program planned by the City, and it will cover 100 blocks. Affected areas are the Noble Heights Addition, an area near Stanfield Elementary School; Avenue M from Seventeenth Street to Twenty-third Street, Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Streets from Avenue A to Avenue E, and other streets in various sections of the city.

The City governing body also passed, on first reading, Ordinance No. 333 which will amend the taxicab franchise ordinance, as follows: (1) Require a fee of $100 per year for the operation of a taxicab business rather than two per cent of the gross receipts; (2) Require that operating taxicab models not be over four years old.

The speed limits on the Lamesa Highway (U.S. 180 west) were increased five miles per zone from the Courthouse to the city limits. This action resulted from a feasibility study requested by the City and approved by the state. The same study determined that existing speed limits on the Big Spring highway should be maintained.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a 33-year-old sister who has been under psychiatric care for nearly a year. I can't understand. She is a very smart person. She reads constantly and can discuss politics, religion, psychology, art, and current events with the most educated people, and everyone remarks on how brilliant she is.

She's even written poetry and short stories which have been published. Her mechanical aptitude amazes men. She can fix clocks, radios, and repair small motors. So will you please tell me why a person who is as smart as she is needs psychiatric treatment?

PUZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Emotional disorders have no more to do with intelligence, cultural interests, or motor skills than diabetes or arthritis have. If you knew precisely why your sister needed psychiatric treatment, you'd be a psychiatrist. Let it go at that.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My only child had a birthday yesterday. In about a month I will get a letter from my sister-law in which she will say, "Didn't Stevie have a birthday this month? Or was it last month? What can I send him?"

Abby, I have five nieces and nephews, all the children of my only brother and this sister-in-law, and I remember every one of their children on their birthdays, Christmas, and all special occasions.

If I can remember all of theirs, why can't they remember one of mine? My son is not greedy. He would appreciate being remembered with a card if it came on THE day. Please print this. A word to the wise, you know.

REMEMBERED

DEAR REMEMBERED: It will take more than "a word." The wise don't need it, and the otherwise won't heed it.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a professional man. He has a girl in his office who is a divorcee with young children to support, but that's HER problem. I stopped at my husband's office for a few minutes yesterday and first off, this girl calls me by my first name in front of a lot of people sitting in the waiting room. Then she said, "Want to hear a cute joke?" I said "All right." Then she told the dirtiest joke I had ever heard.

Abby, I've been married for over 20 years, and my husband would never tell me a joke like that. I left the office at once, not being able to look anyone in the face. Later, I told my husband what happened and demanded that he get rid of that girl.

He says he can't, she is the most efficient girl he has ever had and he "NEEDS" her. Abby, do you think a husband who really loved his wife would keep a girl like that in his office?

IRATE

DEAR IRATE: Possibly. Don't confuse how much your husband "loves" you with how important an employe may be to him. His professional image is likely to suffer if he keeps such a coarse and brazen girl in his office, but until he concludes that she's not worth it, it's HIS problem.

and Sig Line for connections on the Snyder to Rotan water line were approved. Under the agreement, the City of Rotan would purchase the water from Snyder and sell it to Line and Graham. Graham's request is for a farm located about one mile east of the city limits on the Roby Highway. Line's request covers property south of Highway 180 and east of Highway 84. Council action was necessary since the affected areas are within five miles of the city limits.

Councilmen also approved, on first reading, a proposed replat of a portion of the Highland Addition as submitted by J. L. Browning. At first, City approval was withheld, but subsequent approval was given when Browning had the replat drawn according to the City's requirements.

Objection to the proposed replat was voiced by Martin Brooks. He said that, in his opinion, the replat would tend to lower value of his property.

In other action the Council approved, on first reading, City Ordinance No. 334 which will close and abandon a portion of Avondale Drive immediately south of Forty-second Street. A homeowner in the area consented to the closing after Councilmen assured him that the City would take care of any "garbage can" problems in the area.

The Council gave its approval to send first notices of intention to demolish buildings declared hazardous under City ordinance. Affected are seven buildings. The City has been unable to contact owners of four of these buildings.

The minutes of the regular meeting, June 6, were approved. Presiding over Tuesday's regular session in the absence of Mayor Broman was Mayor Pro Tempore Bobby McCormick. Other councilmen present were R. C. Patton, Jack Lawrence, Rayburn Burgess, Marshall Erwin, and James L. Kincaid. Reds Remodel Berlin Wall

BERLIN (AP) — East German soldiers started tearing down the Berlin wall today where it runs behind the Reichstag building, apparently as a first step toward replacing it with a fence.

A detail of soldiers, guarded against escape to West Berlin by others who had submachine guns and dogs, started smashing a hole in the wall at 6:50 a.m.

An hour and a half later, portable barbed wire fences had been carried through the 10-foot gap and set up about four yards in front of the wall. The official border between East and West Berlin often is in front of the wall.

Weeks ago the East Germans threatened to move the wall forward so that it would be flush with the Emperor's Gate of the Reichstag, which is just inside West Berlin. But the fences were curved back from the gate once reserved for the emperor and his family.

President Voices New Optimism

By FRANK CORMIER

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) —President Johnson, declaring the Communists know they cannot win a military victory in Viet Nam, has voiced optimism that "we are on the way" to solving the Vietnamese problem.

Johnson planned a series of Viet Nam conferences at his ranch home near here tonight, summoning Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and other military and diplomatic advisers for an overnight business visit.

The President expressed an optimistic view of the war during a news conference Tuesday on the front lawn of his ranch — a session preceded by a barbecue buffet lunch served by Mrs. Johnson and daughter Luci.

Taking the wraps off a top secret message from the Pentagon, Johnson cited estimates that stepped-up bombing raids on the Hanoi-Haiphong area have wiped out 57 per cent of North Viet Nam's petroleum storage facilities. He said 87 per cent of all storage capacity has been hit during the raids that began last week.

Other conference highlights:

—Discussing racial problems, Johnson indirectly chided militant Negro leaders by asserting: "We are not interested in black power and we are not interested in white power, but we are interested in American democratic power, with a small 'd.'" Some militants have raised "black power" as a battle cry.

—Turning to politics, the President said "as time permits, I will be traveling throughout the country" in the four months between now and the November elections. He said that if he continues his recent travel rate, he could cover all 50 states by late October.

—The latest budget deficit, he reported, will be "far below" the $6.4-billion estimate he gave Congress in January. He said final figures for the fiscal year that ended June 30 aren't yet available, however.

In one of his opening announcements at the conference, the first since last August to be broadcast live by the television-radio networks, Johnson disclosed tentative plans to cut down planned purchases of bombs and ammunition for Viet Nam.

He said McNamara tells him substantial reductions in projected production rates may be desirable within three to six months, at a savings of several hundred million dollars.

Right now, Johnson said, ordnance inventories are ample and production exceeds usage in Viet Nam. He said he doesn't want to be stuck with $12 billion of worthless and obsolete military hardware when the war ends — which he said was the case after the Korean War.

WOMEN

Tent Coats In Fashion Limelight

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Are aisles wide enough for the glamorous sweep women will make in their tent coats and dresses next season?

Are their figures slim enough for slide-and-glide silhouettes, or so-called sweater dresses that do almost as much for a girl as Lana Turner's sweaters did for her?

Are masculine egos strong enough to tolerate the new "her" trouser suits that match his? Or are husbands' wallets fat enough to accommodate the glittering season of jewel-encrusted dresses coming up?

Whether yes or no, some of these styles are already in packing boxes destined for women's wardrobes across the nation. Examples have been saved out, however, to be previewed here this week by more than 200 newspaper, radio and television style reporters.

The first of two fashion press weeks, the New York Couture Group' 47th semiannual review of styles, opens with a sparkling diamond dinner Tuesday. Its Sunday closing date, July 10, overlaps with the beginning of a four-day program of style previews presented by the American Designers Group, and arranged by Eleanor Lambert.

For better or for worse, the fashion reporters will record these specific tends:

The tent — The capacious shape which promises to make a world of women look on the verge of a population explosin. Designers are pitching tents two ways: They are narrow at the shoulder and huge at the hemline, or they are turned upside down, beginning slim at the knees and arriving full blown at the shoulders and sleeves.

The coverup — This sounds paradoxical, too, considering the number of transparent dresses over form-fitting ones still on the scene. But this term refers to leather boots that fit like gloves and wild and woolly sockings under thigh-high shifts that mix or match the leggy jazz.

Pants suits — Yes, herringbone wool jackets complete with lapels have their own creased trousers to match, just like the costumes of the man of the house.

Evening wear — the spectacular floor length ball gown bouncing with feathers or glittering with jeweled embroidery still has its place.

The status symbol dress this year, however, is a short gown, saturated with gems from stem to stern, and seemingly weighing a ton.

If it appears to cost a fortune, it is only because it does.

Here's an attention - getting dessert that brightens any party: Flaming Ice Cream Sundae. Nohing could be easier. Scoop ice cream into chilled serving dishes and top with your favorite sundae sauce. Just before serving, saturate sugar cubes with fresh lemon extract and place one saturated cube on top each sundae. Set the cubes aflame and serve immediately.

Marat Sade Better On Record

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The most-discussed drama of the Broadway season is now on records, and better for the change.

It is, of course, that breathlessly entitled work by German playwright Peter Weiss: "The Persecution and Assassination of Jean-Paul Marat as Performed by the Inmates of the Asylum of Charenton Under the Direction of the Marquis de Sade."

The transcription is performed by the original cast of the Royal Shakespeare Company, again directed by Peter Brook (Caedmon, 3 disks). The English-language version is by Geoffrey Skelton, adapted into verse by Adrian Mitchell.

Just why "Marat-Sade" provides such enthralling listening isn't hard to fathom. Stripped of outrageous visual sensationalism, the text's provocatively poetic power becomes more apparent. The ear can be more perceptive than the eye.

More than on the stage the cogently clashing declarations of the fevered Marat (Ian Richardson) and sardonic Marquis (Patrick Magee) weave the dramatic tapestry into meaningful design.

Subordinate components flow together and the hearer's imagination sees more vividly what Weiss was driving at in his corrosive allegory about the beast in man, the clash of social classes and the 1966 immediacy of what may have happened in an 1808 lunatic asylum.

As Charlotte Corday, Glenda Jackson projects a remarkable word image, while Clifford Rose and Michael Williams are fine in other principal roles as Respectible Citizen and Herald.

The technical qualities, especially in stereo, do justice to the performance. A listening delight.

Bench, Plant-box Spruce Up Patio

Any patio can be lifted out of the ordinary with a few simple accessories. Add a low, backless garden bench along one edge of the patio, for example, and an amazing transformation takes place.

The bench can be built of 2x4 inch fir or cedar lumber, using either angle irons or pieces of fence post for the legs.

Even more interesting is to build the bench as a lip for a planter box which can be filled with easy-care greens. Select the plants to get a variety of leaf color and texture. A bristlecone pine, sedums, some hen-and-chicks, and a bronze-leaf Japanese maple combine well.

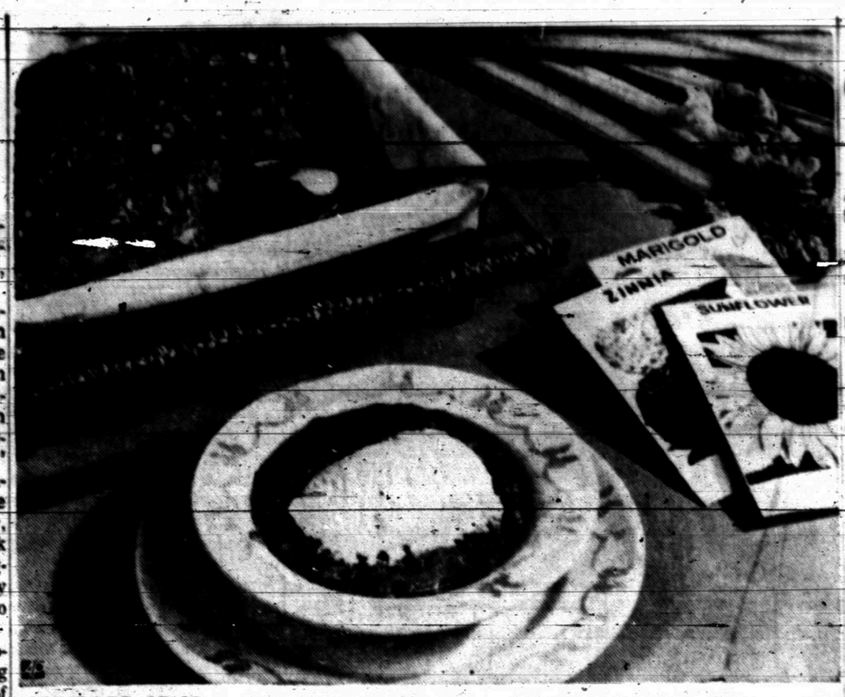
Sharper Home Buyers

According to a recent magazine survey, today's average home buyer is 33. He earns twice as much money — about $720 a month — as a man of his same age did 15 years ago. He's buying a larger house, with emphasis on at least three bedrooms. He's looking for the "extras" such as quarry - tiled patios and game rooms. Decorative ceramic tile bathrooms and kitchens are on his "must" list.

A la mode, our phrase for topping a dessert with ice cream literally means "following the fashion." So you're right in-style!



RHUBARB CRISP — A delightful springtime pudding made with pink or red rhubarb and a streusel-type topping that includes rolled oats.

Spring Calls For Rhubarb Crisp

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

ONE OF the delightful ways to use fresh pink or red rhubarb, when it is in the market, is in a pudding.

What sort of pudding? A Rhubarb, Crisp, of course. We say this with assurance for two reasons.

One, it is so simple to assemble and bake. Second, these Crisps are always welcomed. That's because they're the offspring of the popular German streusel - type offerings. Streusel, according to Webster, is "a crumbly mixture of fat, sugar and flour." American cooks, however, have made their own adaptation of streusel. They sometimes substitute rolled oats for the flour, as is done in the following recipe. Eager to feed their families well, they like to use nutritious rolled oats whenever they can.

Originally struesel was a topping for kuchen. Then cooks found it was an asset when used to make such desserts as this Rhubarb Crisp. Consequently nowadays streusel is used in various ways.

RHUBARB CRISP

¾ cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons regular unsifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
4 cups fresh pink or red rhubarb cut crosswise into 1 - inch pieces
1 cup quick - cooking rolled oats
½ cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted

In a large mixing bowl, thoroughly stir together the granulated sugar, flour and salt. Add rhubarb; toss lightly to mix. Turn into an ungreased cake pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches) or an oven - glass cake dish (8¼ by 8¼ by 1¾ inches).

In a medium mixing bowl, thoroughly toss together the rolled oats, brown sugar, cinnamon and melted butter. Sprinkle over the rhubarb. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until rhubarb is tender and topping is browned — 35 to 45 minutes. Serve warm with "pour" cream or vanilla ice cream. Makes 6 servings.

RECIPE NOTES

You'll need to buy 1¾ to 2 pounds of pink or red rhubarb in order to have the amount called for in the Rhubarb Crisp recipe.

Uncooked rolled oats are called for. In testing the recipe, we used the quick - cooking variety; but if you wish to do so, you may instead use the regular old - fashioned variety.

The amount of sugar given in the recipe is an average amount. You may want to use slightly more or less depending on the tartness of the rhubarb and your judgment of your family's tastes.

If your dark brown sugar is at all lumpy, please sift it before measuring and using as directed. Hard lumps of dark brown sugar will not mix evenly with the rolled oats, cinnamon and melted butter, and they may not melt during the baking.

Other Lands See Bigger Erosion Of Their Currency

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The dollar doesn't go as far as it used to. Even so, most other countries have more room for complaint.

Despite all the unpleasantness of the rising cost of living here, other lands have seen a bigger erosion of the market value of their currency in the last 12 or 18 months. And as here, higher food prices often have been the main culprit.

If you figure the market value of the local money as an even 100 in 1955 the U.S. dollar was worth 85 cents in 1965. Only three other countries beat that mark. In El Salvador and Guatemala the local currency still bought the same amount of goods and services 10 years later, as measured by cost of living index. In Venezuela the currency's index value is 89. And in Ecuador it's also 85, as in the United States.

Ever where else the drop has been pretty bad over the long stretch, right down to the example of Brazil where an index value of 100 in 1955 is a lowly 3 in 1966.

The performance of money in 1965, when the cost of living started climbing in the United States to everyone's discomfort, shows Americans ahead of the game by comparison. In a compilation of the depreciation of the value of money in 45 countries in the last 10 years, the First National City Bank, New York, reports that the decline in 1965 was steeper in 31 of the lands than had been the 10 year average.

The one-year drop was 1.7 per cent in the United States. In Canada the drop was 2.3 per cent. France saw a 2.4 per cent slide. But this bettered its previous experience. The annual rate over the 1955-65 period had been 4.6 per cent in France. Fiscal policies to fight rising inflation apparently were helping France at least slacken the upward pace of the cost of living.

Depreciation in the value of the local money in West Germany, Switzerland and Belgium was held for the 1965 period to 3.8 per cent in each instance. Norway saw a 3.9 per cent decline in the purchasing power of its money.

The United Kingdom and Sweden saw their money depreciate at the rate of 4.6 per cent in 1965. Italy and Ireland each reported a 4.8 per cent drop. In the Netherlands the decline was an even 5 per cent. Denmark's loss was 6.4 per cent.

But of all the industrialized nations Japan apparently was worst hit by the rising cost of living. There, last year's depreciation in the value of money was 7.1 per cent, compared with a 10-year average of 3.7.

So the United States, despite its prolonged economic boom, and its recent pinch on consumer pocketboks, still has been able to maintain a much lower rate of depreciation than other major industrial nations.

The rising cost of living has been a growing concern here, but a much more pressing one in other lands.

Junior Editors Quiz on GLUE

QUESTION: What makes glue stick things together?

ANSWER: Much ordinary glue comes from animal bones and scraps. These contain complicated substances called proteins, which are extracted by boiling and turning into gelatin, which is then refined into the sticky material we call glue. In recent years, many other types of glue are gaining in popularity, among them varieties of plastics.

When you take glue and spread it over a piece of wood, the minute molecules in the glue are attracted by a force called adhesion to the molecules in the wood. The adhesion binds glue and wood firmly together. Press another bit of wood against the other side of the glue, and the molecules will bind together on that side also. Glue and other adhesives work with many materials beside wood. A very strong glue, called epoxy, is made from the newer plastic materials. In our picture, a football player has coated the top of his helmet with epoxy and thuck this to a crossbar. With his head in the helmet he can swing in the air by hanging on to the straps. The epoxy molecules have firmly linked with those of the helmet and crossbar.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Get some glue and find something to mend, as Jane is doing in our picture. Many valuable things can be saved in this way. 7-6

It's Memories That Really Make A Man

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It is memory, not clothes, that makes the man.

Man is the sum of all he remembers, a reservoir of past times, vanished worlds. At his will he can make them live again.

What a magician memory truly is, almost Godlike in this power to ressurect and recreate. For nothing is truly dead until it is altogether forgotten.

Except for his memory man would be hardly more than ambulant vegetation — a weak-skinned oak, a long-lasting weed.

And you've probably been up and down life's garden path a few times yourself if you can look back and remember when —

The best way to cool off in summer was to go down and sit in a rocking chair in the cellar. Or did you call it the basement?

Up-to-date mothers quit using sulphur and molasses and started dosing their kids with codliver oil.

You could tell how many children in the family had taken their Saturday night baths before you by counting the rings they left in the bathtub.

People in small towns were awakened by the sound of roosters crowing, and those in big cities by the clop-clop-clop of horse-drawn delivery wagons.

A boy was as excited as Marco Polo when he got to take his first ride on an interurban trolley.

You could tell the difference between a girl and a boy by the lengths of their hair — only boys of prekindergarten age wore long curls.

Old-fashioned husbands still hated to see their wives using electric irons, fearing they would either electrocute themselves or set fire to the house.

One man and a mule could plow 40 acres.

A spendthrift was a fellow who spent more than $1 for a shirt or $5 for a new pair of shoes.

It was an expensive honeymoon if the hotel rate was more than $3 a night.

Bandleader Wayne King was known as "the Waltz King," and Lawrence Welk didn't have a bubble to his fame.

Most railroads prided themselves on their passenger service.

Most big league baseball players chewed tobacco.

Those were the days! Remember?

Question: Who's the greatest sport of all time?

Answer: Mae West.

• • •

This talk of further expansion in the major baseball leagues is, in our opinion, balderdash, stuff and nonsense and idiocy of the first water.

Already the two major leagues have 10 teams apiece. And who cares to shell out good green to see a clash between the 9th place and 10th place teams of either league? When you get below the first five teams, there just ain't much riding on the game.

The Mets, of course, are a special case. But just wait until they start winning—then they'll lose the backing of all the bearded beatniks, born losers, draft card burners and other assorted weirdos.

The average fan would be more likely to step up to the box office to see two first division clubs in action. Of course, individual stars, like Mickey Mantle, probably always would have a small following, even if they were on sixth rate teams.

We can think of no plan that would boost incentive more than say to have four major leagues with six teams or less in each loop. And they could have a playoff for the national championship. The pro football forces understand this better than their baseball counterparts. In pro football, they have a western and eastern division within the same league One league with 12 baseball teams is unthinkable. Two leagues with six in each league make better sense from a standpoint of incentive.

The idea of bringing major league baseball to new cities seems like a good one. The Astros, even without their domed stadium, probably would be able to operate in the black.

We feel that if you could put major league baseball within driving distance of every fan in the country, then interest in the national sport would increase greatly. If baseball buffs in Seattle, Denver, Phoenix, El Paso, Ft. Worth - Dallas or Miami, to suggest a few cities, could have their own team, then we think they would be more interested in what happens in Philadelphia, Chicago or San Fr...isco. Major league teams in each of these cities and possibly another one or two would make baseball a truly national sport. And baseball would gain thousands of potential fans.

There are drawbacks, of course, but we feel the boost in interest and incentive would more than offset any objections.

Opium, anyone?

Giants, Indians Win

The Giants beat the Braves 17-12 and the Indians downed the Yankees 10-7 in Farm League games played Tuesday night.

The Giants scored eight runs in the third inning to take the lead over the Braves and were never behind after that. Clay Hill and Rod Head both had a double and single in three trips to the plate. Hill scored four times in the contest. The Braves scored seven runs in the second inning to take an early lead, but couldn't hold on to it.

The Indians scored seven runs in the second inning in their win over the Yankees. The Yanks scored four runs in the first inning, but quickly lost the lead. Terry Vasquez, Mike Hopper and Mark Young put together three singles in the big second inning for the Indians.

Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax is halfway to a 30-game season, and Woody Fryman is just about halfway to Sandy Koufax.

Koufax gave up 10 hits Tuesday night but still won his 15th game as Los Angeles edged Cincinnati 1-0.

Koufax' victory gave him No. 15 earlier than ever before. En route to a 26-victory season last year, the 30-year-old left-hander posted his 15th on July 11.

The record of the Dodger ace now reads only three losses, 15 complete games in 20 starts, three shutouts and a 1.51 earned run average.

Fryman, meanwhile, has compiled a 7-3 mark and a 2.33 ERA while completing seven of 10 starts, the first of which he didn't make until May 13. By that time Koufax had started seven times.

And the 23-year-old left-hander actually gained his third shutout before Koufax, with all three coming in the last 10 days.

Fryman, playing in only his second year of professional ball, blanked Philadelphia on three hits, New York on one and Chicago on three. Following the one-hitter against the Mets, in which Fryman faced the minimum 27 batters, New York Manager Wes Westrum said:

"He's as fast as any left-hander I've seen in the league and faster than Sandy Koufax at a given time."

Fryman also has to be as stingy with walks as any left-hander in the league. He walked one batter Tuesday, which is the only base on balls he's allowed in three shutouts. Over-all, he's averaging one walk every 7.7 innings while Koufax is averaging one every 5.4

Although Koufax may reach 30 victories before Fryman gets 20, the Pirate youngster has one consolation. He's outhitting Koufax seven to two.

In other National League games, St. Louis stopped San Francisco 3-1, Philadelphia defeated New York 3-1 and Atlanta downed Houston 9-4.

In the American League, California edged Detroit 4-3, Minnesota nipped Cleveland 4-3 and Boston whipped New York 7-1. Rain washed out Chicago at Washington.

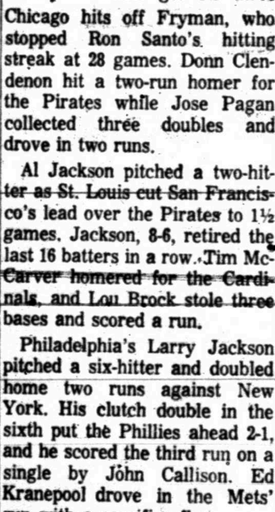
The Dodgers got Koufax a run in the second inning, and he protected it the rest of the way. Jim Lefebvre walked, raced to third on John Rosebboro's single and scored as John Kennedy singled. Jim Maloney suffered his fourth defeat against nine victories.

Billy Williams got all three Chicago hits off Fryman, who stopped Ron Santo's hitting streak at 28 games. Donn Clendenon hit a two-run homer for the Pirates while Jose Pagan collected three doubles and drove in two runs.

Al Jackson pitched a two-hitter as St. Louis cut San Francisco's lead over the Pirates to 1½ games. Jackson, 8-6, retired the last 16 batters in a row. Tim McCarver homered for the Cardinals, and Lou Brock stole three bases and scored a run.

Philadelphia's Larry Jackson pitched a six-hitter and doubled home two runs against New York. His clutch double in the sixth put the Phillies ahead 2-1, and he scored the third run on a single by John Callison. Ed Kranepool drove in the Mets' run with a sacrifice fly.

Joe Torre batted in two runs with a homer and scored three times as Atlanta won its fourth straight. Torre led the attack against Houston's Mike Cuellar, who suffered his first setback after winning six games. Dave Nicholson homered twice and Jim Wynn once for the Astros.



MAYS GETS DOUBLE HONORS—Veteran San Francisco centerfielder Willie Mays addresses the crowd at Candlestick Park between doubleheaders with the St. Louis Cardinals as he acknowledges the 1965 Most Valuable Player award and the Mel Ott award for leading the National League in homers last year with 52. City Tennis Champs Win Local Tourney

Snyder held its largest city tennis tournament Monday, and the winners will move to the regional Texas Amateur Athletic Federation Tournament in Amarillo July 26-31.

In the girls 14 and under division semifinals Linda Miller beat Jo Anne Braziel 6-3, 6-1 and Jane Wall defeated Linda Miller 4-6, 6-4, 6-2. In the finals Wall defeated Miller 4-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Emily Kincaid beat Diane Hargrove 6-1, 6-2 to win the women's division for the second straight year. Hargrove beat Patsy Miller 7-5, 6-4 to reach the finals while Kincaid drew a bye in the semifinals.

Kincaid and Hargrove defeated Renoka Hooker and Jan Williams 7-5, 6-3 to take the women's doubles title.

Ken McAllister defeated Ed Dickerson 6-3, 6-2 to win the men's singles. In the semifinals McAllister beat Bob Womack 6-1, 6-0 while Dickerson defeated David Midkiff 3-6, 7-5, 6-3. It was also the second straight time for McAllister to win the mens event.

Dickerson and McAllister teamed up to beat Womack and Midkiff 6-3, 3-6, 7-5 in the men's doubles, and proved to be the most exciting of the events.

Gordon Stokes won the boy's 18 and under division by defeating Jerry Bell 6-1, 6-4. In the semifinals Bell beat Stanley Allen 1-6, 6-1, 8-6 while Stokes beat Cecil Eager 6-4, 7-5.

Stokes and Bell beat Max Falls and Gary Gallman 8-6, 6-2 in the doubles event.

Gallman staged the biggest upset of the day by defeating Falls 6-4, 6-1 in the boys 14 and under division, and they teamed up to beat John Phillips and Ronnie Maddux 6-0, 6-2. Falls has been doing very well this season in all of the area tournaments.

Steven Hurst beat Sammy Byrom to win the 12 and under division Sunday.

All the winners of this tournament are eligible to go to the regional meet in Amarillo. If they win there, they will compete in the state meet at Austin.

The city tournament is sponsored by Bullard's Athletic Center and Ken McAllister is the coordinator.

Travelers Rally In Big Ninth

By The Associated Press

The league-leading Arkansas Travelers fattened their record at the expense of last-place Dallas - Fort Worth Tuesday night while their two nearest competitors in the Texas League race were losing by lopsided margins.

Trailing by two runs going into the bottom of the ninth, the Travelers rallied for a 5-4 victory over the Spurs. Meanwhile second place Amarillo was lashed 9-2 by Albuquerque and third place El Paso dropped a 7-3 decision to Austin.

The Spurs and Travelers battle to a 2-2 tie through eight innings before Dallas - Fort Worth moved ahead 4-2 in the top of the ninth on a single by John Upham and a home run by Clarence Jones.

Arkansas rebounded in the bottom of the ninth with help from two errors by the Spurs. The tying and winning runs scored on a single by Bobby Dews after Steve Huntz had opened the inning with a homer.

Albuquerque and Austin both jumped off to quick leads and made them stand up.

The Dodgers scored four runs in the second in their triumph in th esecon din their triumph over Amarillo. They blasted two all-star pitchers, Don Wilson and Ron Cayll, for 13 hits, including three homers, a triple and two doubles.

Austin collected five runs in the first three innings and coasted to victory over El Paso. Paso.

All three El Paso runs came on fourth-inning home runs by Charlie Dees and Don Furnald.

They change stands tonight, with Dallas-Fort Worth vs. Arkansas at Little Rock, Austin at El Paso and Amarillo at Albuquerque in a doubleheader.

Cubs Winner Of Pee Wee League

The Pee Wee League Cubs won first place honors in the four team circuit as the season officially closed.

The Cubs won five games while losing a lone contest over the other three clubs to easily take the championship.

The team is composed of Nelson Eckert, Kyle Sikes, Randy Gressett, Charles McCartney, Keith Brown, Gary Allen, Terry Hill, James Smylie, Larry Lavdreth, Mike Quiros, Phil Robinson, Phil Banks and Jimmy Callaway.

Ron Clarke Sets Record In 3-Mile

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Ron Clarke, the first runner to crack the 13-minute barrier for the three miles and the 28-minute barrier for 10,000 meters, again is exciting the track and field world.

The slim 29-year-old Australian regained the world mark in the 5,000 meters Tuesday with a blazing 13:16.6 and en route lowered the three-mile world record to 12:50.4.

An enthusiastic crowd of 10,000 stood on its seats and cheered Clarke as he far outdistanced the field for his two world records at an international track and field meet.

The 12:50.4 in the three-mile broke the world standard of 12:52.4 that Clarke set in London last July 10. The 13:16.6 for the 5,000 meters shattered the mark of 13:24.2. held by Kenya's Kipchoge Keino. The Kenya star had snatched the record from Clarke last Nov. 30 at Auckland, N.Z., when he bettered the 13:25.8 set by the Aussie in Los Angeles June 2, 1965.

Bodo Tuemmler of West Germany set a good pace before dropping out after several laps. Clarke took over and turned the race into a one-man affair with the field more than 100 yards back. His finishing kick was such that he lapped two competitors.

Lebch Boguszewics of Poland finished second in 13:51.8 followed by Tony Cook of Australia in 13:52.6, Bill Baillie of New Zealand in 13:56.2, Keisuke Sawaki of Japan in 13:58.2, Bengt Nadje of Sweden in 14:09.8 and Nedo Farcic of Sweden in 14:12.2.

Architect's Building Cracking, Creaking

TOKYO (AP) — The Tokyo Olympics most striking structure designed by Japan's world famed architect, Kenzo Tange, is cracking, creaking, leaking and sinking today, only two years after it was built.

It is the 15,000-seat swimming pool which has a scallop-shaped roof supported by huge cables suspended across two pillars.

The construction, costing $6,300,000, was rushed to meet the 1964 Olympics opening deadline.

Contractors say the ground on which the concrete building is built has been found to be weak and shaky.

Indians, Braves In LL Victories

The Indians shutout the Yankees 10-0 and the Braves got back on the winning path with a 6-2 victory over the Giants.

Jackie Murray homered, singled and pitched one hit ball in Indian's shortened four inning game against the Yankees. Murray fanned eight batters in four innings. His homer came in the second inning with the bases loaded. The Indians scored seven runs in the second inning with a single run in the first and two in the fourth.

Bobby Weaver hit two home runs for the Braves driving in five runs of the six runs they scored. Weaver hit a two run homer in the third and a three run blast in the fifth inning. N. C. Smith was the winning pitcher for the Braves as he allowed single runs in the third and sixth innings. Smith allowed only four hits.

On July 4, the Cubs beat the Cardinals 11-10 on the aid of three home runs by Steve Norred, Travis Bunch and Brett Bell, and the White Sox downed the Athletics 14-1 behind the two hit pitching of Scotty Sullivan. Jerry Hardin homered for the White Sox.

Dodgers Get Power To Close SF Lead

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The third-place Los Angeles Dodgers announced Tuesday a players' shuffle through which they hope to beef up their batting roster and close the four-game gap separating them from first-place San Francisco.

First baseman Dick Stuart, a .218 hitter with four home runs and 13 runs batted in this season with the Mets, was signed as a free-agent. Stuart, a right-handed hitter with 224 home runs during his major league span, will be utilized mostly for pinch hitting chores.

Also signed was Spokane outfielder Jim Barbieri, currently leading the Pacific Coast League with a .355 batting average.

Infielder Bart Shirley and outfielder Derrell Griffith were sent down to Spokane, an L.A. farm club, to make room. Shirley was hitting .200 and Griffith .067.

Sixteen Get Starting All-Stars Position

ATLANTA (AP) — Sixteen West All-Stars have earned starting assignments as the rival All-America squads continued drills for Saturday's Coaches' All-America football game.

Coach-of-the-Year Tommy Prothro said he had now seen enough to pick all but one of his defensive openers. Over on offense, five berths still are unsettled, including the quarterback job sought by $100,000 Atlanta Falcon bonus baby Randy Johnson and three-time All-Big Eight performer Gary Lane of Missouri.

Tommy Nobis, the only other future Falcon in the West cast, has wrapped up one linebacking job and teaming with him will be Carl McAdams from Oklahoma.

The rest of the way on defense, said Prothro, the West will field a starting group of ends Aaron Brown of Minnesota and Jeff Smith of Southern Cal; tackles Gale Gillingham of Minnesota and Charlie Harper of Oklahoma State and middle guard Walt Barnes of Nebraska.

Union Boss Hoffa Seeking To Quiet Voices Of Dissent

By NEIL GILBRIDE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Teamsters' Union President James R. Hoffa is trying to talk Vice President Harold Gibbons out of voicing any dissent to Hoffa's iron control.

Hoffa — facing no opposition for a new five-year term, a $25,000 pay raise and the right to appoint his own successor — reportedly told Gibbons it would be silly to rock the boat at the Teamsters convention.

"That isn't necessary," was one version of what Hoffa said when Gibbons told him he planned to tell some 2,200 delegates why he opposed naming Vice President Frank Fitzsimmons as Hoffa's heir-apparent.

According to some accounts of the conversation, Hoffa's attempt to dissuade him appeared to harden Gibbons' resolve to speak his piece before the convention ends Friday.

Gibbons earlier dropped plans to run against Fitzsimmons for the new post of general vice president with automatic succession to the presidency if Hoffa goes to jail. Hoffa's eight-year jury-tampering and five-year mail-fraud sentences are being appealed.

Fitzsimmons said he would follow Hoffa's policies in running the giant 1.7-million-member union if Hoffa is taken out of circulation for a while.

Fitzsimmons, a long-time friend of Hoffa, said a jail term would never bar Hoffa from later returning to head the Teamsters.

Fitzsimmons also made it clear that the Teamsters, expelled from the AFL-CIO on corruption charges in 1957, would have about as little likelihood under him as under Hoffa of returning to the 13-million-member confederation.

"We've had a hell of a lot more success out of the AFL-CIO than in it," Fitzsimmons said.

Asked why he thought Gibbons opposed his selection to succeed Hoffa, Fitzsimmons said: "We've never discussed it. I see no reason why he should oppose me."

Gibbons reportedly feels that Hoffa's hand-picking of his own successor without any opposition smacks of a lack of democracy in the union.

"I think it's an honor," Fitzsimmons said.

Hoffa — after lambasting what he called anti-union forces in Congress, the government, big business, and news media — predicted the unanimous re-election of himself, Secretary-Treasurer John F. English, and 13 vice presidents, who together make up the union's ruling executive board.

Hoffa also forecast that the delegates would unanimously approve all proposals, including a $1 dues increase to pay for higher salaries for himself and other top officials and to build "a large war chest."

Hoffa said the money was needed to fight a new upsurge of anti-union employers who use the law, police, and strike-breakers to fight unions.

Laborers Picket Houston Projects

HOUSTON (AP) — Union laborers set up pickets in the 22-county Houston area Tuesday, and there were some indications the strike would last as long as the 16-day cement masons strike that crippled construction last April.

An estimated 15,000 workmen and $300 million in projects was affected by Tuesday's strike. Members of other craft unions refused to cross picket lines.

Federal Mediator E. D. Kincaid met with union leaders and contractors' representatives as picketing got underway, but he reported after the two-hour session no substantial progress had been made.

No time was set for another meeting, Kincaid said.

One longtime observer of the Houston labor scene, who declined to be named, said it was possible the strike would last as long or longer than April's cement masons strike.

That work halt also affected $300 million in construction work in this area.

Houston union leaders had little comment on the negotiations. The laborers' contract expired Thursday night.

Negotiating since early June have been three locals of the Laborers International Union of North America, the Houston Chapter of the Associated General Contractors and The Construction Employers Association of Texas.

Among those affected by Tuesday's strike was Dow Chemical Co. at Freeport—where a six-day machinists strike idled some 3,750 members of 10 unions before it ended June 25.

Picket lines also went up at Monsanto Co., near Alvin, and Phillips Petroleum at Old Ocean.

One of the major points of disagreement is reported to be over the union's proposal for a union hiring hall.

Richard Lewis, spokesman for The Associated General Contractors here, said the contractors contend the proposal would concentrate all the hiring powers in the business agent of the union local.

The contractors have proposed an exclusive referral system that both employer and union would operate, Lewis said.

Lewis said the contractors have offered the laborers an across-the-board pay raise of 16 cents an hour for three years. A laborer's average hourly wage is $2.64.

Gale Van Hoy, business agent for the Freeport local, said the contractors "offered us 10 cents an hour in health and welfare benefits and a six-cent increase in wages. That is a ridiculous offer."

Lewis said employers also have not agreed to a union proposal that would add nine new wage classifications, each one of which would spell out jurisdictional rights.

The contractors have contended jurisdictional rights should be settled between the unions themselves, Lewis said.

Vacationers May Escape— But Not From Paying Taxes

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

CHICAGO (AP) — Motorists who take long vacation trips will get away from home, office and dull daily routine — but not from taxes.

Commerce Clearing House studied the nation's tax map and reported today:

Forty-two states and the District of Columbia levy general sales taxes.

Every state except North Carolina taxes cigarettes.

And all have state taxes on gasoline.

Commerce Clearing House, a private organization which does research on tax and business law for its clients, said sales tax rates range from 2 per cent in Indiana, Iowa, Nevada, New York, Oklahoma, Texas and Virginia to 5 per cent in Pennsylvania.

Virginia recently adopted a 2 per cent sales tax, but it won't go into effect until Sept. 1.

That will leave only Alaska, Delaware, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Oregon and Vermont without a general sales tax.

This tax on sales and services is popular with the collectors. It brings in about 26 per cent of the total state revenues.

Commerce Clearing House says state gasoline taxes range from 5 cents a gallon in Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, Texas and Wyoming to a combined Hawaii-Hawaii County tax of 11 cents a gallon.

New Jersey boosted its cigarette tax rate this year from 8 cents to 11 cents, joining Texas and Washington as the states with the highest rates on cigarettes.

"In the case of cigarette and gasoline taxes," Commerce Clearing House said, "the state rates are in addition to an 8-cent-a-pack federal cigarette tax and a 4-cent-a-gallon federal gasoline tax, as well as similar levies made by hundreds of cities and towns.

"For example, cigarette buyers in New York City pay 22 cents a pack in taxes consisting of 4 cents city tax, 10 cents state tax and 8 cents federal tax. And motorists to the caverns of Carlsbad, N.M., will pay a gasoline tax of 11 cents comprised of 4 cents federal 6 cents state and 1 cent city . . ."

As parting advice, the tax research organization said travelers may find local sales taxes in many communities.

Pair Jailed In Kidnaping Of Girl

CANTON, Tex. (AP) — Peace officers jailed two men on charges of kidnaping a farm girl Tuesday from her home near Grand Saline.

Lennie Mae Shrum told Van Zandt County Sheriff B. W. Ward the pair found she was alone at her parents' place 4 miles northeast of Grand Saline shortly before noon and forced her to leave with them.

State patrolman Robbie Poore arrested the prisoners about four hours later as they changed a flat tire on their car eight miles south of Mount Pleasant on U.S. 271.

Authorities identified the men, held in lieu of $5,000 bonds, as James K. Justice, 39, Dallas carpenter and ex-convict, and John Lewis, 17, a Creek Indian from Eufaula, Okla.

Ward said a search began after Lewis bought ammunition at a Mineola store an hour after the girl was seized and dropped a note there stating he and the girl both were captives of Justice.

Lewis subsequently changed his account and said he actually helped abduct the girl, Ward reported.

Poore took both men and the girl to Mount Pleasant. While Justice was being questioned, officers said, he seized his gun from a counter and dashed from the courthouse. City police and sheriff's deputies recaptured him in a garage four blocks away.

Johnson's Birthplace Ready For Tourists

STONEWALL, Tex. (AP) — Tourists will have an opportunity beginning July 13 to visit the restored stone and frame house where President Johnson was born 58 years ago, the Associated Press has learned.

The house, rebuilt after Johnson became President, will be opened on a daily basis for at least one month to see if it attracts enough visitors to justify keeping it open permanently, sources said Tuesday.

Mrs. Johnson has made restoration of the home one of her pet projects. She met Tuesday with about 30 women from the Stonewall area who will serve as guides.

Baby Cranes Are Sighted

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP) — Wildlife officials in Canada say they have sighted three baby whooping cranes at the breeding grounds along the Sass River in Wood Buffalo National Park.

Two of the baby birds were seen in one nest and the third in a separate nest in a survey made June 15, the Canadian Wildlife Service reported Tuesday.

A total of 44 adult birds, the only whooping cranes in the world, went north this spring from their winter home in Texas, but only five nesting pairs have been located so far.

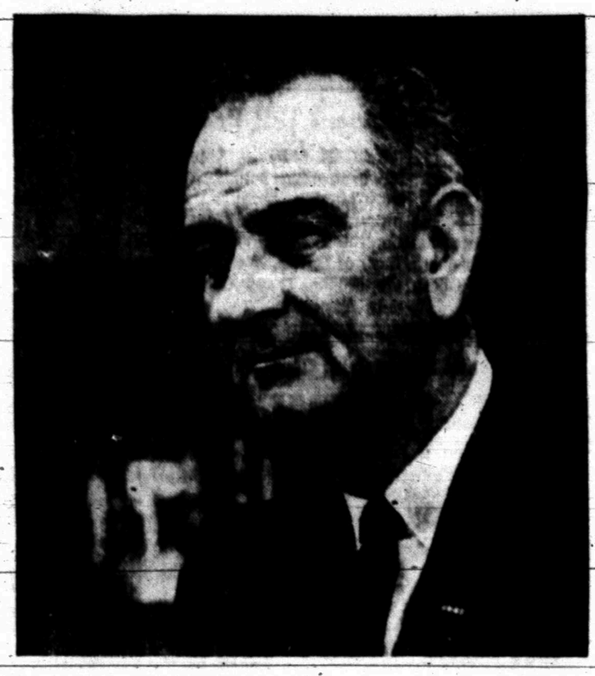
Wood Buffalo Park is located about 400 miles north of Edmonton on the boundary of Alberta and the Northwest Territories.

Family Burned Out For Second Time

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Four months ago, Virgil Roller made the final payment on furniture he bought after his home was destroyed by fire in 1963.

Fire struck again recently, destroying most of the family's clothing and furnishings. No one was injured.

"On this Independence Day pledge to do your share as an American"



A message from the President about how you can help build peace and preserve prosperity with U.S. Savings Bonds.

On this anniversary of our Nation's birth, most of us are enjoying a holiday from work and the cares of the world.

But even while we celebrate Independence Day there is no real holiday from responsibility. We must go on with the work of building peace, enlarging our prosperity, guarding against inflation and recession.

They are being carried on today by Americans just like you, all across this country and across the world.

I appeal to you today to join these guardians of democracy. I ask you to invest a few dollars each month in the front lines of battle for a stronger America and a safer world.

Put a small part of your prosperity into U.S. Savings Bonds. The $25 Bonds cost $18.75, but they are more than a bargain. They are a wise investment. The new higher interest rate means that the Bonds that you buy and own earn more money. They are easier to acquire and manage than most other investments you can have. You can buy them automatically just by signing up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Buy a Bond every month and help to guarantee your own future security. You will also help to guarantee the security of your country.

If only half of the 70 million employed Americans bought just one $25 Savings Bond a month for only one year or even an extra Bond a month they would meet most of the special costs of the struggle that we are making for peace in Vietnam this year.

So I ask you to think about that as you go about freely enjoying this holiday. Think about how much more meaningful your enjoyment would be if you could honestly say, "I have pledged to do my share as an American. I will buy U.S. Savings Bonds on a regular monthly basis."

Another Space Obstacle Cleared By New Launch

By HOWARD BENEDICT
Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla., (AP) —After years of engineering headaches, it appears that U.S. scientists have harnessed liquid hydrogen as a high-energy rocket fuel for man-to-the-moon and other space missions.

The breakthrough came Tuesday when America's heaviest satellite, a 29-ton rocket stage, hurtled around the globe for three orbits while ground stations monitored the behavior of 10 tons of hydrogen packed in the fuel tank.

Throughout this 4½-hour period, the hydrogen performed better than expected, thanks to a unique system of small rockets and gas vents that created a tiny thrust to keep the fuel positioned in the bottom of the 64,000-gallon tank, at the end of the engine.

Under weightless conditions on previous tests with smaller rockets, the fuel had a tendency to curl into a ball, climb the walls of the tank or vaporize.

When the thrust was removed on command for brief periods Tuesday, the hydrogen reacted to its weightless world, forming into small globules that floated in the empty portion at the top of the tank, at times obscuring the view of a television camera that relayed pictures to the ground.

Under great acceleration by larger rockets, the liquid bubbled in its frigid chamber, where temperatures of 423 degrees below zero were needed to keep the hydrogen in a liquid state.

But each time, when the gentle thrust was applied, the hydrogen settled to the bottom, with hardly a ripple on the surface, demonstrating that the engine could have been restarted—a must for manned lunar-landing flights.

A second start of the satellite engine was not attempted Tuesday because the rocket stage was fitted to handle an excess amount of hydrogen in order to give ground stations a greater opportunity to observe this vlatile fuel.

A saturn 1 rocket, most powerful yet launched by the United States, boosted its second stage into space as the test laboratory. This second stage, which fired its engine to attain orbital speed, is the same as the rocket which will form the third stage of the mammoth Saturn 5 rocket that will hurl Project Apollo astronauts on moon journeys.

On a moon shot, the Saturn 5 third stage will have to coast around the globe for up to three orbits—as the satellite did Tuesday—then restart its engine at the desired time and location to provide the final thrust for the astronauts.

Hydrogen is 40 per cent more powerful than conventional liquid fuels. Without it, the Saturn 5 would not have enough power to send the heavy 92,000-pound Apollo craft to the moon.

The success of the Saturn 1 also provided NASA with confidence to move ahead with two key shots later this year, both using this booster. An unmanned Apollo moonship is to be launched on a test flight in August. If that flight is okay, the first three-man Apollo crew may ride into earth orbit in November to check out all space craft systems for up to 14 days.

After three orbits Tuesday, ground stations concluded their major tests with the satellite. It is expected to re-enter the atmosphere and burn up Saturday.

CAR IMPALED ON GUARD RAIL — A man tentatively identified as Albert Arthur Ehrlich, 62, of Houston died and an unidentified 12-year-old boy was critically injured after this car veered into a guard rail on a slick Houston freeway. The guard rail pierced the car grill, scraping past the engine and through the fire wall, then shot up along the steering wheel shaft, over the seat and out through the back window. (AP Wirephoto)

Shriver Begins Tour

AUSTIN (AP)—Sargent Shriver began a four-day tour of Texas Tuesday to oversee this state's handling of the war on poverty.

He said he was looking for, among other things, "any signs of administrative bungling or waste."

Shriver gave a pep talk to the staff at the Office of Economic Opportunity regional headquarters for Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

At a news conference, he reminisced about what he called a torrent of criticism of the poverty war when it was first proposed.

"Some said it was a rehash of warmed over New Deal," Shriver said. "They could have been right—I lie awake nights worrying about things like this."

But they weren't right, he said, citing as an example the unexpected increase from $10 million to $100 million for the Head Start program in a matter of months.

Shriver said he was pleased with the operation of the OEO in this region.

Plains Farms Still Dry

AUSTIN (AP)—The extremes of Texas climate were illustrated in the U.S. Department of Agriculture report Tuesday on Texas crop conditions.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley grain sorghum crop harvest, which had been delayed by June rains, resumed last week.

But in the plains, farmers halted their grain sorghum planting because they haven't had enough rain. There isn't enough moisture in the ground to germinate seed.

In Central and East Texas many crops need rain, especially corn.

Oat harvest and cotton planting are now complete. Wheat harvest reached 93 per cent completion last week. Barley harvest and sorghum planting neared completion at 97 and 99 per cent respectively.

Aid Funds Reserved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development said Tuesday it is reserving a $462,500 grant for Sulphur Springs, Tex., to help finance a water and sewer project.

Dad, Son Return, One In Casket

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — Army Spec. 6 Gerald L. Smith, 48, a career soldier wounded twice in Viet Nam, has brought home the body of his soldier son, killed in combat in Viet Nam June 30.

Smith arrived Tuesday night with the body of Army Pfc. Danny L. Smith, 22. Meeting them were Mrs. Smith and her only other child, Darrell Smith, 20, who had completed his first week of Army basic training at Ft. Bliss, Tex., when he learned of his brother's death.

"I'll bring myself home," Danny had written to a friend in a letter dated the day before the young soldier was killed. "These people can't hurt me."

He would have been 23 today.

"I'll be an old gray man," he wrote.

Details of the action that killed him were not available.

Services were pending today at the nearby Holloman Air Force Base chapel with burial at the Ft. Bliss cemetery.

The elder Smith, nearing retirement from the Army, went to Viet Nam last December with an Army helicopter unit. His son left Ft. Bliss for Viet Nam in January. Danny was with a 1st Infantry unit.

The Smith family declined to speak to newsmen Tuesday night, but a family friend, Mrs. George Ingram, said the father was wounded twice in Viet Nam action. Danny was wounded last May but returned to his unit in June.

"My 13-year-old daughter, Belinda, was his pet," Mrs. Ingram said. "He called her 'Kitten.' He told her he was coming home, that, 'they can't keep me over here.'"

His letters to Belinda's mother took a slightly different tone:

"I sure hope I may get out of this place. I keep telling everyone I will."

The Smiths, father and son, met last May in Viet Nam. Danny's unit was moving along a road when he saw his father standing nearby. There was a brief reunion.
