CHS Band to march on

ABILENE -- The Colorado High School Wolf Band gave its best performance of the season Saturday at the Region 2 UIL Marching Contest, earning a first division rating and advancing to the area round Oct. 27 in Haltom City.

With few quibbles, the three judges praised its musicality and precision of movement in the six minute "Music of the Civil War" program and gave unanimous "1" ratings.

Ten bands competed in the 2-A division, and only three go to area competition at Birdville Stadium in Haltom City, northeast of Fort Worth.

The others are Haskell and Jim Ned at Tuscola, south of Abilene.

"It was their best one yet," said Co-Director Jeremy Ross Monday.

"They have been a very diligent group. Every group has their moments, but overall they've been great."

Following Haskell, Albany, Hawley and Cisco, the 94 member band took the Shotwell Stadium field at 12:05 p.m., marching and playing confidently as the black and silver clad twirlers and flashy flag corps enhanced their visual appeal.

The twirlers launched their batons a number of times and didn't drop any.

Playing "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" and other music from the 1860's, the musicians were touchingly evocative of soldiers on a battlefield, particularly in light of

Amendment election to be held

Racing against time, county commissioners okayed moving the Pct. 1 polling place Tuesday from the CISD Administration Building north up Hickory Street to the Appraisal District building at 2112 Hickory.

They voted to seek Justice Department approval in time for the Nov. 6 state constitutional amendments election.

County Clerk Debby Carroll said that in recent elections, Pct. 1 voting has had to be moved to the old, unheated CISD gymnasium at 12th and Hickory.

and election judges have suffered.

Early voting in the county courthouse lobby will run from Monday, Oct. 22, to Friday, Nov. 2.

Balloting on the Tuesday of the election will move to the traditional polls in C-City, Loraine and Westbrook except for the Pct. 1 change.

Duncan visits C-City

Saying West Texas must keep control of its water, Mitchell County's new state senator said here last week that he would vote for the perpetuation of Lone Wolf Groundwater Conservation District Feb. 4 if he could.

Sen. Robert Duncan of Lubbock, to whose District 28 Mitchell County will apparently be added, said the last thing West Texas should want is for Austin to control its water.

"I strongly favor water districts," he said.

"If I were I voting here in this county, I'd be voting to support that."

Meeting with probable new constituents at 3 p.m. last Wednesday.

SONYA BARRERA, a sophomore, was escorted by her father, Jesse, after being named Loraine High School homecoming queen during halftime festivities Friday night in at Bulldog Stadium. Edward Lujan, a senior, was named homecoming king.

Apparent accidental shooting victim dies

A 35 year old Colorado City man died at 9:53 p.m. last Friday at Covenant Medical Center in Lubbock of an apparent accidental gunshot wound he suffered at his home 10 hours earlier.

Warren Stiles of 521 Cedar St. was shot under the chin by a .22 caliber semi-automatic Glenfield-Marlin rifle that city officers determined had a defective safety mechanism.

His former wife Rose, with whom he had recently reconciled, called 911 at 11:55 a.m.

Mitchell County EMS took Stiles to the county hospital, where he was picked up by a medical helicopter and taken to Lubbock.

He was a correctional officer 4 at the Wallace Unit, working the first shift from 5:45 a.m. to 2 p.m. He joined the TDCJ on Nov. 4, 1996.

"His ex-wife reported he had several guns out, showing her how to use them," said Chief of Police Pat Taylor and Investigator Charles Rice.

"Apparently, he was placing two loaded rifles and a loaded shotgun into a closet when the rifle fired.

"The Lubbock County medical examiner was to conduct an autopsy."

Stiles was a Brady native who was an Army veteran of the Desert Storm war in Iraq and a member of the Mitchell County Sheriff's Posse.

His funeral was to be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Heritage Funeral Home in his hometown.

Mitchell County Fair to be held next week

A new carnival, bingo, sand volleyball, a karaoke contest with cash prizes, team roping, a clown, a petting zoo, a dunking booth and other attractions are in the offering for the Mitchell County Fair Oct. 25-27.

Agricultural, culinary, horticultural, arts, crafts and textile exhibits were down last year, so Chamber of Commerce Manager Leigh Ann Erwin hopes for a revival of interest there.

"I want to encourage all ages to enter exhibits," she said Monday.

"Ribbons are awarded, and a complimentary ticket to enter the fairgrounds is given for all entries."

After some complaints about last year's carnival, Ms. Erwin has contracted with a new company, Starlite Amusements of Fair Acres, N. M., promising better rides and more of them.

Fair Acres is five miles north of Las Cruces in south central New Mexico.

Advance carnival ride tickets are $1 each, good for any ride, but more than one ticket will be needed for some rides if you wait to get them at the fair.

They're on sale now at the Chamber at 157 W. Second St., and tickets will be offered at local schools.

The north ag show barn in the fairgrounds off West Hwy. 80 will open exhibits Thursday night, when the award winning Greenie the Clown of Midland will perform.

"Greenie won first place in comedy white face makeup and costuming at the Clowns of America International Convention in San Francisco in April 2000," Ms. Erwin said.

"Her gentle, caring clown character charms even the youngest child, and her crazy pranks appeal to the older children and adults."

Exhibits will be accepted at the ag barn from 5 to 8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 24, and 7 to 10 a.m. the next day.

Chairmen are the Business & Professional Women for the "Grandparents' Brag" department, Karen Berber for preschool and elementary school children, Jeremy Strain for agriculture and Margaret Rees and the Colorado City Garden Club for horticulture.

Also, Roberta Fiscus for youth foods, Debbie Massengill and Ricky Womack for adult foods, Donna Boyd and Jan Lemons for youth and adult textiles, Royce Clay and Sue Lowrance for youth and adult crafts and Carolyn

SEN. ROBERT DUNCAN reviewed the legislative imperatives that he foresees for West Texas last Wednesday at the First National Bank for about 30 local leaders, saying the protection of the region's water is the No. 1 issue.

SENATOR

nesday at the First National Bank, Sen. Duncan said the Saturday, Feb. 4, election to ratify the district's existence, set a tax rate and choose its board is a crucial step toward protecting local underground water.

"We need regional management of regional water," he said.

Although a panel of federal judges in Tyler will make the final ruling on state House and Senate boundaries, he said, Mitchell County is unlikely to be moved out of the 28th because it's centrally located in it.

The county was previously in the east-west running 24th District of Sen. Troy Fraser of Marble Falls.

Now in the new 46 county, 28th, it runs more north and south -- from Carson and Wheeler Counties in the upper Panhandle to Lamb and Haskell on the west, Haskell and Jones on the east and Upson, Schleicher and Concho on the south.

It has Lubbock and San Angelo, which Duncan said depend on the prosperity of surrounding rural counties.

He first saw Colorado City in the early 1970's as a member of the Vernon High School track team, running against CHS track star Carl Devore, he said.

He earned bachelor's and law degrees from Texas Tech University in 1976 and '81, studying agricultural economics as an undergraduate.

Duncan is a partner in the Crenshaw, Dupree & Miller law firm.

The 48-year-old Republican is influential in Austin, serving on the Finance, Jurisprudence and Redistricting Committees and holding the vice chairmanship of the Senate Natural Resources Committee.

He appears to be a strong candidate for Natural Resources chairman -- a key post for protecting West Texas water -- now that headstrong Chairman Buster Brown of Lake Jackson is retiring.

He was a two-term House member from the 84th District before winning Senate election in '96.

He said he works well with Rep. Rob Junell of San Angelo, Democratic chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, and was in the same fraternity at Tech, Phi Delta Theta.

Sen. Duncan and his wife Lynne have two children.

In the wide-ranging introductory address and question and answer session at FNB, he said he does not expect President Bush's Texas background to cause the state to be specifically targeted by Arab terrorists.

He said there are things with "more national symbolism," from a terrorist's perspective, in other parts of the country and the disputes that led to the situation pre-date the Bush administration.

Duncan is more concerned with school finance, technological training at community colleges, the ag economy, rural health care and maintaining bipartisanship in the Austin Legislature.

He told the 30 people who attended that major computer companies will come into rural areas only if they offer a viable work force and West Texas' biggest challenge is getting its young people either to stay or return.

"That's our economic development challenge," he said. "Can we provide a quality work force?"

Farmers now compete in a global economy.

"I keep telling Bush that he needs to take a bell jar full of boll weevils to China," the witty Duncan joked.

He told hospital board member Larry Johnson that rural facilities like the new Mitchell County Hospital under construction should be re-compensated by Medicare as promptly as metropolitan hospitals.

He was asked if his party, expected to control the House in 2003, will share power with House Democrats as readily as the Democrats did.

"I think they will because I think they'll have to," he said. "You don't stay in power very well if you're not a good steward of that."

He said former Gov. Bush and House Speaker Pete Laney of Hale Center and the late Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock, both Democrats, all set politically indelible standards of bipartisanship that House Republicans will not be able to ignore.

District Judge Glen Harrison of Sweetwater asked if the Legislature will set fees for court appointed lawyers in '03 to go with the new state law that begins to reform the system.

Sen. Duncan said he supports the law's requirement to assign lawyers who have the necessary expertise, avoiding, for example, giving one who has only handled civil cases a capital murder defense.

But he said the state should assume enough of the cost to avoid putting "a heavy burden" on counties who can't afford it.

He said the cooling statewide economy should help the Texas Department of Criminal Justice recruit and retain correctional officers.

The TDCJ's improved career ladder will also help, he said, but it could be further enhanced by the next Legislature.

Ms. Carlock said there is a good chance that the new polling place will be quickly approved by the Justice Department.

Other business in the 9 a.m. called meeting included granting Tax Assessor Collector Faye Lee's request, in accordance with a new state law, to publish the interest earnings from vehicle inventory taxes.

Ms. Lee said the expected $225 in interest this year will be used to buy a filing cabinet in which vehicle registration information will be kept.

Commissioners accepted a proposal by the West Central Texas Council of Governments to Abilene to admit Comanche County to the Regional Housing Finance Corporation to help low income and first time home buyers.

FAIR

Walker for youth and adult art. Schools and nursing homes will see the exhibits from 10 a.m. to noon Friday, Oct. 26.

The fair will run from 6 to 10 p.m. Thursday and Friday and 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday.

Admission at the gate will be $1 per car on Thursday, "Family Night," and $2 per person Friday and Saturday.

Two of last year's most popular attractions were sand volleyball and bingo games.

Physical education teacher Susan Anderson will direct the sand volleyball each night, expecting more of the "challenges" that led to showdowns last year between First National and City National Banks and the Kelley and Hutchinson Elementary School faculties.

"Anyone who wants to pose a challenge is welcome," Ms. Erwin said.

There is no charge to play bingo from 6:30 to 8 and 8:30 to 10 p.m. Friday, Oct. 26, and you may win cash and merchandise donated by Mitchell County businesses.

For people who like to sing, cash prizes will be paid in the three age divisions of the 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 27, karaoke contest in the south ag barn.

Registrations are being taken at the Chamber, and you should register now because the number of contestants will be limited.

First, second and third place singers will earn $200, 120 and $80 in each of the three divisions -- 5 to 10 years old, 11 to 18 and adults.

Local entertainers will perform all day Saturday.

The Kiwanis Club will operate a petting zoo with various farm animals on the west side of the south barn throughout the fair.

Project Celebration seniors will run a dunking booth each day.

A team roping contest will begin at 7 p.m. on the fair's last night, and the Texas Mesquite band will play for a 7 to 11 dance.

CIA aps taken for repairs

Applications are now being accepted for the 2002 Christmas in Action to be held on April 27, 2002. Focus of this program is to help keep homes dry, safe, and warm; accordingly, priorities are plumbing, electrical, safety (railings) and roof repairs.

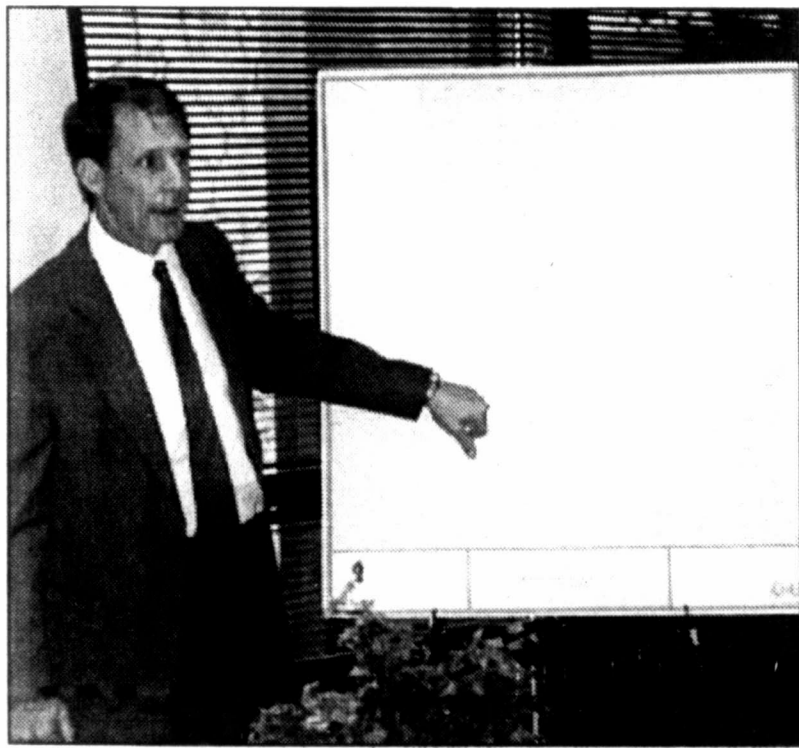

The following guidelines must be met when applying:

- Taxes must be paid in full and proof shown by receipts
- Must own and reside in home a minimum of three years
- Low income, elderly or disabled.

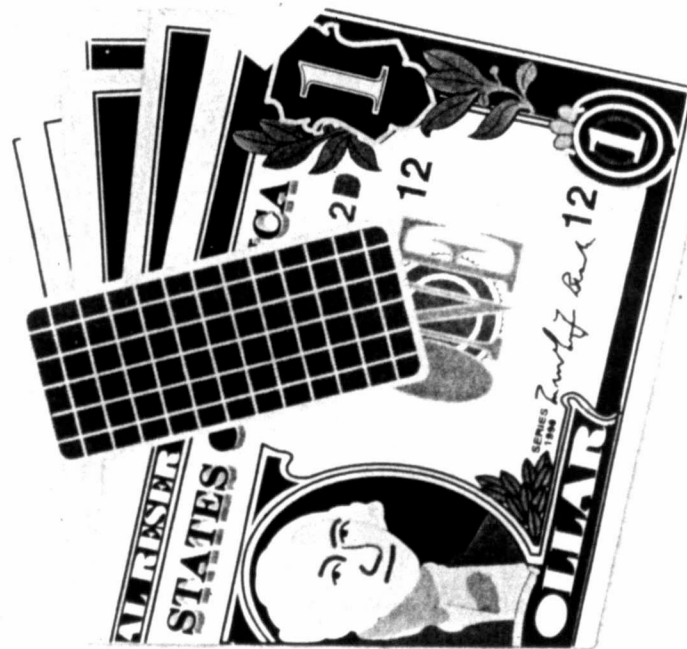

This is not a maintenance program and homes cannot be worked on in consecutive years. Homes are selected on the basis of greatest need with lowest income applicants given priority.

No home will be considered unless a written application is received on or before November 20, 2001 at the Chamber of Commerce. Applications can be picked up at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Red Raider Club upbraids Bin Laden

(Editor's note: The following open letter to Osama bin Laden was recently published in the official publication of the Red Raider Club of Texas Tech University alumni in Lubbock.)

Hi, Bin.
How are things going? There's a package coming your way. I see it hasn't been delivered yet, and I'm anxious for you and your friends to get it. It's something you really deserve.

The reason for the package is because you've been able to accomplish something that no one has been able to do since 1941, and it took two people, Emperor Hirohito and Adolf Hitler, to do it then. You've done it all by yourself. You've removed the words "Democrat," "Republican," "Liberal" and "Conservative" from our vocabulary.

Those words have all been replaced by one word, "American," which is what we all think of ourselves as now, and you're about to find out what they both found out 60 years ago. God help the ones that we unite against. Speaking of God, I think He wants to see you, but I hope he waits until we are able to show you and your cowardly cohorts what we have in store for you.

I thought I'd bring you up to date on things because you may not be able to get CNN from the rock you crawled back under. A few thousand people died from your cowardly sneak attack.

You and yours will be getting the bill for that very soon. I'm sorry, but the bill is non-negotiable, even though you will surely think you're being overcharged. You see, any one of those that perished is worth many times more than you and your entire organization. Multiply that by a few thousand, and I'm afraid this one is going to cost you and your pals big-time.

You may have made the mistake of looking at Korea and Vietnam, and thinking that we don't have the stomach for a fight. Oops, big mistake.

There are many in this country that refused to support either of those conflicts because they felt we had no business being there.

Well, Bin, that's not the case here. Every citizen of this great country of ours has one thought on their mind, and that is to teach you and yours that this type of wanton cowardice against the innocent will not be tolerated, and when we're done, that message will be heard loud and clear by those who danced in the streets on September 11th.

As for us, we're doing fine, thank you. We are united, we are determined, and as you'll soon find out, we are still the strongest nation this planet has ever known, and every ounce of that strength is about to be coming to a theater near you. Whether it takes weeks, months, or years Bin, your backside is ours, and when we're done, those who afforded you shelter will know the error of their ways.

We all watched in horror as the twin towers collapsed on those innocent men, women and children that your cowardice trapped inside of them, but the weight of what is about to fall on you will make that seem like a feather.

You destroyed a symbol of our economy, but you have actually strengthened our economy.

You damaged a symbol of our military, but you have actually strengthened our military.

You damaged our spirit, but you actually strengthened our sense of unity and national pride. The number of American Flags on display today is hundreds, if not thousands, of times what are on display on the 4th of July, and that is thanks to you.

In light of what your goals were, I'd have to say that your attack was a colossal failure... good riddance to you all.

Regards,
American and Red Raider fan!

MOVING FORMATIONS were executed with near military precision as the Wolf Band earned Division "1" ratings from all three judges last weekend. Two would have been sufficient to advance to the area contest.

the nation's military action in Afghanistan.

Drum Majors Chesna Riley and Shawna McGwire raced to their elevated stands and decisively ordered the band into action when the announcer said they could "begin your program."

Following the first song with "Shenandoah-Dixie Lament" and the somber "Battle Scene, Battle Hymn," the Wolves executed formations with near military exactitude while maximizing the effects of their musicianship, having scored concert and sightreading 1's in Abilene last spring.

Hamlin, Coahoma, Stamford, Jim Ned and Anson marched prior to the rapid fire but suspenseful 1:30 p.m. announcement of ratings to an estimated crowd of more than 1,000 people.

Albany scored a 3 and the rest 2's.

Ross, who directs the band with his wife Jincy and middle school director Linda Clay, said at least three schools will go to the state contest in Austin, depending on how many compete in Haltom City.

The Region 2 showdown of 1-A through 5-A bands was the first of seven contests being held in a week's time to qualify for area.

Judge Ed Lowes of La-Grange said the Wolves should concentrate on the length and spacing of their notes and "minor details of getting to sets early and late," meaning the set points of formations.

"Great auxiliary and colors," Lowes said, referring to the twirlers and flag corps.

"I enjoyed this performance -- very musical. Congratulations to you and your fine director."

"Great sounds and contrasts," wrote Pat Autrey of Whitesboro, west of Sherman in Northeast Texas.

"Beautiful! Your school and community should be very proud of your band's work and dedication."

Autrey rated the Wolves excellent on musical balance and blend, rhythmic precision, dynamic contrasts, musical style and keeping in step with good pivots, turns, pacing, continuity, flow and movement.

He said they need work on the effective use of woodwinds and percussion and their intervals, or spacing, when marching and stationary.

Butch Crudginton of Brady heard "a couple of places where individuals were sticking out of the overall band sound," or playing too loudly. "A nice sound that was well in tune and balanced," Crudginton said. "Great job of dynamic contrasts and style changes."

"A little work on uniformity in the glide step will help you. Nice drill design -- very appropriate for the music."

"I really enjoyed your performance. Keep up the excellent work."

Ross said the band will work on the flaws mentioned by the judges in the next two weeks.

One and 2-A schools performed Saturday morning and early afternoon, and 3, 4 and 5-A schools began after the lunch break at 2:30.

They were Breckenridge, Merkel, Eastland, Sweetwater, Clyde, Abilene Wylie, San Angelo Lakeview and Central, Abilene Cooper and Abilene High.

Survivor star presents program at Middle School

Dirk Been

A man who won national fame with his appearances on the CBS TV "Survivor" series told 700 Mitchell County public school students Tuesday that drugs, alcohol and pre-marital sex are "dream killers."

In a 1:30 p.m. appearance in the middle school auditorium, Dirk Been described growing up on a Wisconsin dairy farm and earning a basketball scholarship to Seattle Pacific University. "Spending some time dreaming of what you might want to do," he said. "It starts with a dream, and then you have to follow it up."

Been, 25, said his junior high coach discouraged his basketball dream, but he and his brother practiced in the school gymnasium every morning from 6:30 a.m. to 8:09 for four years to perfect their skills.

He said drugs and alcohol are bad for your health and get you involved in a dangerous life style.

Been said pre-marital sex exposes you to venereal diseases and the disturbance of breaking up with someone you thought you loved.

"You go out there and do it with more and more people, and it's like dividing up your soul," he said.

"These dream killers will cost you your dreams. They will cost you your life."

He said he has never had sex or used drugs or alcohol. Been recalled playing in two Division 2 "Sweet 16" tournament and beating the previous year's national champion by two points as a senior.

"There's nothing better than living a dream," he said. "But it wasn't a free gift. I had to work for it. I had to earn it."

Propositions to be decided next month

By Tony Garza, Texas Railroad Commissioner

It is not your usual election, but it's still a vote worth casting.

The Tuesday, Nov. 6, constitutional amendments election will not get the high profile attention that next year's statewide races are already receiving, but it will help set the course of state government for the next number of years.

Previous years' turnouts -- eight percent in 1999, for example -- are nothing to brag about.

Frankly, eight percent is pathetic.

These elections are important, and in 2001 Texans have 19 good reasons to show up.

The 19 propositions are far-reaching and stand to impact every citizen and future generations.

Whether it's roads or water, we will address issues tied to our short and long-term quality of life.

Propositions 2, 15 and 19 deserve special attention.

The Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) says 17 million vehicles travel 400 million miles a day over the state -- an average of 24 miles a day each.

As our population grows, so will the demand for new roads and routes.

Part of the challenge is finding new funding mechanisms because TxDOT only has the resources to perform 36 percent of the needed projects.

That's why the Texas Mobility Fund in Proposition No. 15 makes so much sense.

By voting "yes," we will set into motion a mechanism not only to help ensure improvements are finished sooner but also to keep locally generated road dollars in the community.

It would allow the Legislature to reserve specific sources of state revenues and the Texas Transportation Commission to guarantee payment of any obligations or credit agreements to create the fund.

Proposition 2 would help a great many Texans living in border colonies in low cost rural homes with sub-standard utilities and almost non-existent infrastructure.

It would authorize $175 million in bonds to build up to 2,000 miles of access roads.

Schoolbuses would be able to reach the children of the colonies.

Health and safety would be enhanced and economic development facilitated.

Long droughts and a growing population make it hard for aquifers and other water sources to satisfy the demand.

That's why Proposition 19 deserves support.

Saying "yes" to 19 would expand the bonding authority of the Texas Water Development Board, which is charged with managing regional and statewide water planning.

It would foment the issuance of up to $2 billion in general obligation bonds to help local entities with critical water projects.

Whether you are for or against these, there is one thing we should agree on -- the importance of voting.

Make sure your voice is heard!

(Editor's note: Commissioner Garza was Secretary of State under former Gov. Bush.)

The back forty

How should we spend our tax refund? That's the question of the day.

I don't know what other folks plan to do, but I sent mine back to the IRS. They needed it for estimated taxes for 2001.

The IRS got a lot more from me than I got from them. That's to be expected, I guess.

I know we were supposed to buy something with our tax refund: Go hog wild with $600. That's ok with me, but one $600 doesn't spend any different than another as far as I'm concerned.

Don't get me wrong. I was happy to get my check from the IRS. It's a lot better than the muffler the Democrats said I was going to get.

Everyone has something to say about taxes. Some believe a flat tax is the answer to our problems. Others think we should get rid of the IRS entirely -- making taxes pretty much voluntary.

One Senator told a group of wheat farmers, "I'd like to see a simple tax form. Put your name at the top, write down all the income you had -- perhaps with a few simple deductions. And at the end of the day send it off to the IRS."

How do you like that?! "All of the income you had, perhaps with a few simple deductions, and send it off to the IRS."

Do they think we're stupid or what?! Why not just come by and take a cow and a few chickens?

I can recall people complaining to our small town postmaster when they mailed their tax forms on April 15. "Just remember," the postmaster said. "There are millions of people in this world who would love to pay taxes in this country."

A lot of folks wanted to jump over the counter and get him for that, but he was right. We do get a little spoiled.

One way to deal with income taxes is to pay more than we owe throughout the year and count on our yearly refund for paying bills and funding vacations. This makes tax day a happy time -- when taxpayers learn how much they will be getting back.

I used to do the same thing when I raised a few pigs. I would go out in the spring and buy some pigs. Then I just kept buying feed and buying feed until the pigs got big enough to sell.

I always lost money on the deal. But I would take the money I got for the pigs and buy something I never could afford otherwise.

The whole thing worked out great. It's a good way to save money if you don't have good control over yourself during the rest of the year.

That's my approach to the IRS. I just toss them a check and say, "Here you go boys. And don't you go and die on me before I get that refund back."

A Shortcut from San Francisco?

By Tumbleweed Smith

My son, Kevin Lewis, is technical director for the television broadcasts of the Texas Rangers baseball games. He was in San Francisco with the team when the attack on America started on Tuesday morning, September eleventh.

He arrived there late Sunday night for a game with the Oakland A's on Monday. Kevin's brother, BZ, lives in San Francisco, so the two got to hang out together. They spent Sunday night in Kevin's hotel room downtown. The next morning they went to scout out some potential wedding sites. BZ is getting married next May.

After the game Monday night, BZ stayed with Kevin again. They left a wake-up call for 8 am Tuesday. The phone rang several times and they didn't bother to pick it up because they thought it was the hotel's wake-up call. They got up and looked at the clock. It was just 7 am. They wondered what was going on. The telephone rang again. It was Jill, Kevin's wife, with the news of the planes crashing into the World Trade Center. They called Margaret, BZ's fiancée, and went to her house. Later Tuesday, BZ went to his recording studio to do some work. Kevin walked around the streets of San Francisco. The stores were closed and he saw few people.

Tuesday, Kevin knew there would be no baseball for a while. The team was scheduled to go to Seattle on Wednesday for a four-game stay, but that was in limbo. The team was stranded. Kevin said he didn't know of a single team member who had family in the San Francisco area. Kevin was glad he did.

Early Thursday morning the Rangers assembled in the lobby of the hotel to take a fifteen hour bus ride to Seattle. They boarded the buses, but were told to wait and see what Major League Baseball was going to do with the schedule.

The team members got off the bus and just walked around. Some went to a nearby Jack-in-the-Box. At eleven-thirty they boarded the buses again, bound for Seattle. There was another call. Wait just a moment. All baseball games had been called off for the rest of the week. The team would take a bus back to Dallas. Thirty hours.

They headed south toward Los Angeles, traveling through San Jose and Fresno.

The team was riding on three buses. Two for the team, one for the rest of the people. Kevin was riding close to the traveling secretary. What a guy. Somewhere between San Jose and Fresno, he arranged for the team to get on a charter plane at Bakersfield.

The team was thrilled. Kevin expected to see some serious security precautions, but there were none. The buses drove right onto the runway, as they always do, stopped next to the plane and the team got on board.

It was luxurious. All the seats were first class seats, all leather. Two abreast on each side. Much better than a bus. The plane left Bakersfield at 8 pm Thursday. Kevin walked into his home at 11:45 pm.

Jill was glad to see him.

Family violence addressed

On a weekly basis, Colorado City continues to earn its reputation as a place where domestic violence flourishes.

City police filed charges in 48 cases last year and are ahead of that pace now -- 41 through September.

"We had a pretty bad month in May," said Department Secretary Martha Martinez. "We had 12."

Chief of Police Pat Taylor said assaults in which husbands or boyfriends usually, but not always, are the aggressors are a problem that never goes away.

Officers assess the situation with a visual inspection of the people and scene, interviews and a check of criminal records to determine if an arrest should be made.

State law allows them to take action whether or not the victim cooperates.

A family violence case with the specific charges of assault by contact -- bodily injury -- or felony allegations of aggravated assault, attempted murder or kidnapping is tried in Municipal Court or District Court, depending on the seriousness.

"You don't get used to it," said Chief Taylor. "It kind of wears you out when it ends up being the same old people time and time again."

"It gets to be a challenge to break that cycle." Beginning as the often ill funded Noah Project in Abilene in the early 1980's, the area women's shelter in Snyder has expanded into the five county Gateway Family Services with 10 employees and a $359,000 annual budget.

Executive Director Lyndia Allen said a man who beats his wife or girlfriend is too addicted to his behavior to change without decisive intervention.

Make no mistake, she said. That kind of anger is potentially murderous.

"All of them have the potential to turn into murder if it goes on," Ms. Allen said. "It goes on for 10-15 years and gets worse and worse."

"The potential is always there that in a moment of rage, they're going to do something. We've got to stop it and teach the children that it's not right."

"We think that probably no more than a tenth of abused women seek help."

Tragically, most spousal abusers learned it from watching their parents.

Gateway operates in Mitchell, Scurry, Nolan, Fisher and Kent Counties, depending on donations for 45 percent of its budget.

Its shelter is at an unpublished address on the Lamesa Highway in Snyder, providing refuge for up to six weeks in four apartments for up to 22 women and children at a time.

They take security seriously there. The doors are locked with 3,000 pound magnets, and Snyder police watch it closely when requested.

They help women find jobs and get grants to move into apartments, and they're investigating a program to get them cars.

They have a weekly public meeting at the shelter for an hour or 90 minutes each Monday at 6:30 p.m. and will have meetings in C-City if they can find a place.

Call 915-573-1822 for free transportation to Snyder.

Former pro football player speaks at Lions Club

E. J. Holub

Texas Tech's first All America football player Friday said his success stemmed from the discipline he had as a boy.

E. J. Holub of Greenwood, who runs the Red Raider Club in the Permian Basin, is the only Tech player whose number -- 55 -- has been retired.

The Lubbock native was All America in 1959 and '60 as an offensive and defensive player -- center and linebacker.

He was a No. 1 draft pick in the American Football League, playing 11 seasons for the Dallas Texans and Kansas City Chiefs and making All Pro on offense and defense.

He spoke to the Noon Lions Club at the Civic Center.

Holub played in the first Super Bowl in 1966, losing to the Green Bay Packers 35-13, and returned four years later as the Chiefs beat the Minnesota Vikings, 27-7.

He was asked after his talk about the Red Raider Club and events at Tech why he continued playing football through a dozen knee surgeries.

He joked that father had given him so many spankings "that at some point in time, you've got to take it out on somebody."

"I was whipped with a wet rope, green tree limbs. . . But I deserved every bit of it."

"I know it's not the popular thing these days, but kids need discipline. Before parents can get love, you have to have respect."

Holub said one of his boyhood memories is riding by Jones Stadium on his bicycle and fantasizing about playing there. He attended Lubbock High School.

He managed the Cross Bell Ranch near Bartlesville, Okla., for 25 years before taking regional leadership of the Red Raider Club six years ago.

"I live, eat and breathe red and black and don't like to lose," he said. "I'm just not a very good loser."

He was upset by Tech's loss to the University of Kansas the previous weekend.

He rode competition cutting horses until getting both knees replaced, and he has three horses that Mackie Hursh trains here.

He often visits Colorado City to check on the horses, and he has horses at Greenwood.

Holub holds his weight to 220 pounds to help with his knees.

He weighed 215 at Tech, 225 as a Kansas City linebacker and 235 as a center late in his career, also working as the "deep snapper" on field goals and punts.

He is about 6 foot 3.

Asked which opposing players he respected most, Holub said running backs Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns and Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung of the Packers.

But he said Packers quarterback Bart Starr surpassed even Hall of Famer Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts in some ways.

"Starr was not a big thrower like Unitas, he was a field general," he said. "He could read defenses and pick you apart."

Chiefs Coach Hank Stram was an offensive innovator with colorful methods who continues to show concern for his former players.

"He'd say, 'You guys are the ballclub, I'm not the ballclub,'" Holub said. "You made me."

"Before the first Super Bowl, Vince Lombardi called the AFL 'the Mickey Mouse League.' So Hank had us all wearing Mickey Mouse ears in the locker room before the game."

Johnson to preach at 22nd St Church of Christ

faithful Bible preaching," said church minister Kerry Cain.

"His preaching will fill you with God's word, and his style will not put you to sleep."

Services will be at 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 4, and 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Monday through Wednesday.

The songleader will be Tom Knight of El Paso.

A native of Neches, in East Texas near Palestine, Dr. Johnson was educated at Jarvis Christian College in Hawkins, Preston Road School of Preaching in Dallas, Abilene Christian University and other institutions.

He is minister of Hampton Road Church of Christ in DeSoto, south of Dallas, and a human services coordinator for TXU Electric Co. in Dallas.

He and his wife Marilyn have three children.

Knight is the former minister of education at Eastwood Church of Christ in El Paso, and he conducts a Sunday service at Sanchez State Jail there.

He and his wife Ilene have a daughter.

Dear Editor,

This is a letter of public information in response to radio announcements and newspaper articles concerning same.

Since the School Board President came on the radio and indicated that recent attempts to address the board caused the board to adopt a more formal policy, as recently as the last two weeks, I felt compelled to investigate the legal and local policies that have previously been adopted by the Board. First, the public is entitled to know that yes, there are certain rules that must be followed when addressing the Board, however, these apply only to those who wish to seek action, or voice a complaint about a district employee or student. These issues must adhere to the three-level process outlined by the Board President in the newspaper article last week.

Regardless of the board's decision to adopt a formal or informal setting, a round table or a square table, the Public Open Forum is alive and well. This open forum is guaranteed to all citizens, regardless of the formality of the Board by Gov. Code #551.001. Any citizen who wishes to address the Board concerning procedures, policies, or express a view or concern is entitled to do so without going through the three-level process. Also stated in Gov. Code #551.042 is the guarantee that as long as citizens' inquiries about issues are germane to that which he/she has applied to on the agenda, than "Deliberations and actions pertaining to the Superintendent and principals are of particular public interest, and notice of these subjects must be worded with such clarity that the public will understand what the Board proposes to discuss or accomplish" (H1045 1977). Thus any citizen is entitled to five minutes in the Open Forum Section of the Agenda. A citizen may include inquiries such as those mentioned above, and any others including those about budget procedures.

The guidelines stipulated by the Board President are nothing new. These were the exact guidelines given to me when I first asked permission to address the Board. Furthermore, this policy is a guideline given by TASB (Texas Association of School Boards), and was adopted by the CISD Board in 1998 (GF-Local). This information on Board Policies or other legal matters is available to the Public in the "Blue Book". It is located by law in the Superintendent's office, and all administrators' offices, including the counselors' offices in C.I.S.D. A copy may also be obtained from T.E.A.

I would like for the Public to know that I went to the Superintendent's office and filled out form #M-502 which follows:

COLORADO ISD
Form # M-502

BOARD AGENDA

REQUEST FOR PLACEMENT OF AN ITEM ON THE AGENDA

I wish to address the Board of Trustees at the next scheduled meeting of the Board and request that this presentation be placed on the agenda for that meeting.

Subject of presentation: give brief description.

I request that this be placed on the agenda as an action item Topic: T.A.A.S. and personnel.

The presentation will include discussion of specific District personnel. ☒ Yes ☐ No

The presentation will include discussion of discipline of a specific student. ☐ Yes ☐ No

I understand that the following rules apply:

- All appropriate administrative remedies must be exhausted before any complaint is brought before the Board; this is not the form to use when presenting a complaint unless the concern or complaint directly pertains to the Board's own actions or policy, for which there is no administrative remedy. (See DGBA, FNG, and GF, as appropriate)
- Only the items appearing on the posted agenda may be discussed with the Board
- All presentations will be limited to 30 minutes unless additional time is allotted by the presiding officer.
- Matters involving specific employees or discipline of a specific student will be discussed in closed meeting unless the right to a closed meeting is waived by the employee or by the student or his or her parent or guardian.
- The deadline for submitting items for inclusion on the agenda is noon of the seventh calendar day before regular meetings and noon of the third calendar day before special meetings, in accordance with policy BE (LOCAL).

Name(s) of person(s) making request Doris McClellan

Position of person making request (e.g. trustee, employee, citizen) Citizen, retired teacher, counselor.

Address 19257-3 Hwy. 163 Colorado City, Tx. 79512

Daytime telephone number (915) 728-2910

Signature Doris McClellan Date 8-23-01
12 school days

The Superintendent asked his secretary to call me and inform me that these were not action topics, but were information items only. In thinking about it, I agreed with the Superintendent's definition, as I was asking and giving information on the TAAS, and asking information on procedure or policy regarding teachers, personnel who have lost their certification or who are under investigation; I asked this question regarding any teacher, any year. Again, this was simply asking about a policy or procedure, nothing more. Since I did not have a complaint and was placed on the Board's agenda for September 10th, how could I have "blindsided" the Board?

NOTICE OF REGULAR MEETING - BOARD OF TRUSTEES COLORADO INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT SEPTEMBER 10, 2001

A regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Colorado Independent School District will be held on September 10, 2001, beginning at 7 p.m. in the Administration Building Board Room, 534 East 11th Street, Colorado City, Texas.

CONSENT AGENDA

All items listed below are considered to be routine by the Board of Trustees and will be enacted with one motion. There will be no separate discussion of items unless a Board member so requests, in which event the item will be removed from the consent agenda and considered as an item on the regular agenda.

- August 13, 20, 27, and 29, 2001 minutes
- Financial Report August 2001

REGULAR AGENDA

CITIZEN REQUEST

- Ms. Doris McClellan has requested to discuss with the Board the TAAS results and a personnel issue.

I knew prior to going before the Board, that by law I was not to mention any particular student's, district employee or officer's name. I did not use any names, and I have a tape of the meeting to prove this. T.E.A. also suggested the same guidelines as given to me by the Board, and I followed their (T.E.A.) suggestions to the letter.

At the September 10th board meeting, Mr. Compton did not elaborate on his statement made in the Colorado Record as to why he thought the TAAS test was harder this past (2000-2001) year. In Mr. Compton's radio address on the subject of the difficulty of the TAAS exam, he said, "The test was more difficult than it had been in the past, and he would stand by the Commissioner of Education's comments in the Abilene Reporter that some questions were more difficult." I feel I am entitled to respond to Mr. Compton. In speaking with Donna Chitwood, Program Specialist in the Student Assessment Division of TAAS at T.E.A., she said the explanation of the composition of the TAAS is very complicated. It would be very possible to take one phrase out of context and say the test was harder. Actually, some questions may have been harder, but the Texas Learning Index must retain the same level of difficulty for the students, as it has since the mid 1990's. When questions are more difficult, students have to have fewer questions answered correctly to have a passing score. The OVERALL DIFFICULTY MUST REMAIN THE SAME FOR THE STUDENT! There will be field questions in the 2002 TAAS exam that will be more difficult, yet the students will not be scored on these questions. In fact, a TAAS test cannot be made more difficult on a whim from year to year. It must first go through rigorous data collection, and development before the item or question can be made eligible for use on a future test. The next test will be harder in 2002-2003 and will be renamed TAKS.

Any parent or concerned citizen who would like to document these facts for themselves may call Donna Chitwood, TEA Program Specialist at (512)682-2225 or study the brochure that is sent out with your child's TAAS scores - "An Explanation of TAAS". This information may also be found on the internet at dchitwood@tea.state.tx.us.

In the September 10th board minutes it stated, "Ms. Doris McClellan, Concerned Citizen gave a report to the Board. No action taken." Yet, when the Superintendent and Board President took the action of going on the radio concerning these items, I felt I must respond. All of the above is INFORMATION to be utilized by the citizens of the district. Citizens must remember they have the legal right and civic duty to utilize both the Citizens' Open Forum and the information agenda to address the Board concerning budget, procedure, policies, views or concerns. Also, the Board must provide a recorded copy of the Open Session to any citizen who requests a copy. Furthermore, secured in legal Gov. Code #551.001 is our guaranteed freedom of expressing our views.

Respectfully submitted,
Mrs. Doris McClellan

Stewart presents program on horseback tour of Mongolia

The Beta Epsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma International met at Bama's House on October 1st with Caroline Witten and Vickie Weaver as hostesses.

Ann Nobles introduced Linda Stewart, the speaker for the evening.

Mrs. Stewart's subject was "Getting to Know Mongolia on Horseback". Last year she went on a horseback tour in Mongolia. To get there she flew from DFW to Los Angeles, to Sioul, Korea to Beijing, China to Ulaan Baatar, Mongolia.

In Ulaan Baatar, she joined her tour group for a fifteen day horseback expedition in the sparsely settled undeveloped country. She planned the tour because of her interest in horses. The horses of Mongolia are small and sturdily built. They are not pets nor really cared for and they have a short life span because they are literally worn out. The entire culture depends on horses.

for transportation, for moving their villages, for work and for food. Mare's milk in a variety of forms is the chief food supply.

For two weeks the very diverse tour group traveled horseback, camped at night and had only the most essential equipment. As they traveled they observed the nomadic life style of the Mongolian people.

Mrs. Stewart showed interesting souvenirs, all of which pertained to horses and answered questions by the members.

Members present were Betsy Aycock, Janie Lou Greenlee, Earline Sellier, Ann Nobles, Brenda Turnbow, Janet Mayo, Susan Anderson, Catherine Gainey, Tammy Johnson, Vicki Weaver, Frances Godwin, Margaret Sparks, Kelli Lancaster, Martha Anderson and Leslie Geiger.

The next meeting will be November 5th at Bama's House.

NATIONAL B&PW WEEK was proclaimed last Friday in the City National Bank board room by Mayor Bob Reilly. With him are local Business & Professional Women members Nancy Crow, left, Donna Barlow and Mildred Free.

Local B&PW Club to salute working women

National Business Women's week, October 21 through 27, is a salute to all working women, initiated by the Business and Professional Womens Club in 1927. Colorado City BPW joins in this effort to publicize the achievements of working women and the objectives and programs of BPW.

For more than 75 years, BPW has organized and promoted the interest of working women - all working women - by addressing the issues of women's health, equal pay, inequality in insurance benefits, credit reporting, property ownership and others.

Colorado City BPW sponsors two scholarships annually, one for a graduating senior and one for a woman who is re-entering the job market or upgrading skills for a better job.

The club sponsors an Individual Development Plan, which encourages development of leadership skills, teaches parliamentary procedure, and allows each participant to hone their speaking skills. The course is open to the public and will be held early in 2002. Programs on health issues, world affairs, money management, and career development, as well as fun and entertainment are included in monthly meetings.

Historical group views old cemetery

Members of the Mitchell County Historical Commission checked out the abandoned cemetery located on the East Hill to see what markers and/or graves are visible.

Their findings will be reported at the Tuesday, October 23, 2001, 7:00 p.m. meeting at the Heart of West Texas Museum.

The Commissioners meet every 4th Tuesday of the month at the Heart of West Texas Museum and the public is invited.

COOK'S CORNER

Halloween parties are a perfect time to make creative cookies and cakes for your guests. We have found a few recipes that sounded really fun.

Huge Scary Spiders

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup butter
1 cup white sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
40 cinnamon red hot candies

Preheat oven to 375°. Lightly grease baking sheet. In a saucepan, melt chocolate over low heat. Let cool. In a small bowl, mix flour, baking powder and salt. In a medium bowl beat margarine on low speed until smooth. Add sugar and beat until creamy. Stir in egg, vanilla and chocolate. Add flour mixture and mix well, forming a stiff dough.

To make spider, shape a 2" flat oval for the body. Make the spider's head by flattening a circle about 1/2" wide. Shape dough for legs. Attach the head and legs to body. Put two red candies into head for eyes. Bake for 5-8 minutes. Let spiders cool on baking sheet to avoid breaking when moving.

Cupcake Graveyard

1 package chocolate cake mix
2 packages vanilla frosting
3/4 cup chocolate sandwich cookie crumbs
24 chocolate covered graham cracker cookies

Prepare and bake cake mix according to package directions for cupcakes. In a medium bowl, stir 1 package of frosting with the cookie crumbs. Frost cooled cupcakes. Fill a pastry bag, fitted with plain tip, with remaining white frosting. Write R.I.P. on each chocolate covered graham cracker cookie. Stand a decorated cookie on top of each cupcake so that it looks like a tombstone. Place the cupcakes on a large cookie sheet that has been covered with green paper. Place paper ghosts and bats randomly through the graveyard. Serve.

Owl Cookies

1 1/4 cups candy-coated milk chocolate pieces
2 tablespoons milk
24 ounces dry sugar cookie mix
1 cup cashew halves

In a small saucepan, combine 3/4 cup of the candies and milk. Melt over low heat, stirring until smooth. Remove from heat. Prepare cookie mixes according to package directions. Stir melted chocolate into half the dough. Form chocolate dough into two 12" long rolls about 1" in diameter. Wrap in wax paper or foil. Chill until firm, about 2 hours.

Divide plain dough in half. On a well-floured surface, roll each plain half out to a 12x6" rectangle. Place a chocolate roll on long edge. Roll up, pressing doughs lightly together so plain dough encases chocolate roll. Repeat with remaining dough.

Wrap each roll in wax paper or foil. Chill about 2 hours until firm. Preheat oven to 375°. Cut each roll into 1/4" slices. Place 2 slices so they are touching on greased baking sheet. In the center of each chocolate circle, place one of the remaining candies for eye. Where the slices touch, place a cashew to form beak. Bake until the plain cookie is lightly browned, 8 to 10 minutes. Cool.

Wolves blast Seagraves in district opener

Sophomore tailback Jacobie Russell rushed for 224 yards on 26 carries Friday night as well as throwing a touchdown pass to teammate Tyson Zigler on a sweep pass to help propel the Wolves to a 21-6 district opener against the Seagraves Eagles.

The Wolves drew first blood in the contest with 1:24 left to go in the initial period when Russell climaxed an 87-yard drive with a 22 yard touchdown run.

Zigler would tack on the extra point attempt to give the Wolves an early 7-0 lead.

Seagraves moved the ball to inside the 20-yard line of the Wolves but a great defensive stand forced the Eagles to go for a field goal. Lewis Mijares would nail the 23 yard attempt to cut the Colorado City lead to 7-3 with 21 seconds left to play in the initial stanza.

In the second period the Wolves would add on another seven points when Russell pulled up on a sweep play and tossed a 36 yard touchdown pass to a wide open Zigler who left the defenders all behind. After Zigler booted the extra point attempt the Wolves were leading by a score of 14-3.

Seagraves, who was held to only 119 yards on the ground, could not unleash their offense and went into the locker room at halftime behind 14-3.

Seagraves cut the Wolves lead early in the third period when Mijares kicked a 29 yard field goal after the Wolf defense once again shut the offensive wheel of Seagraves down. With 7:59 left to go in the third period Seagraves was now down by only eight points at 14-6.

Mijares, last years leading rusher for Seagraves, was held to 23 yards on nine carries. Eagle quarterback Brandon Mohler carried the ball 18 times for a total of 29 yards.

Most of the second half was a defensive struggle with both teams having difficulty in getting a sustained drive.

That held true until Russell, with 1:13 left to go in the ballgame broke loose on a 62 yard touchdown run. Zigler booted the extra point attempt through the uprights and that busted the bubble on any comeback attempt by Seagraves.

Wolf head coach Gerald James was happy to get district play started off with a big win.

"I thought our defense played an extremely good game, especially our linebackers," said James. "The kids played smart by keeping the ball away from them when they had the wind to their backs. Jacobie stepped up his play and ran the ball well also picking up blocks from Jed (Anderson) and B.J. (Graham). It's always good to get that first district win behind you."

The Wolves go on the road again this week to take on the Stanton Buffaloes in a 7:30 pm kickoff.

BULLDOG DEFENDERS Edward Lujan (#13) and Junior Delgado (#82) attempt to put a stop on Borden County's Dale Grant (#31) during homecoming action last Friday night in Loraine. Grant scored four touchdowns to lead the Coyotes to a 49-0 win.

Coyotes spoil Loraine homecoming

It wasn't the rain that spoiled Loraine's homecoming last Friday night at Johnson Field, it was the grinding ground game of the Borden County Coyotes.

The Coyotes took advantage of several Bulldog turnovers enroute to a 48-0 whitewashing of the hapless "Dogs" that ended the game early in the third period of play.

The stands were full for the kickoff and about all of the first quarter, but old Mother Nature stepped in with a little West Texas thunderstorm that scattered fans and left a sparse crowd in the stands to view the halftime festivities.

It wasn't as if the Bulldogs didn't have ample opportunities to score in the game, they just didn't take advantage of them.

Borden County fumbled the football on their first play from scrimmage to set Loraine up in good field position. They managed to make a first down and move the ball to the Coyote five yard line before fumbling the ball and giving it back to Borden County.

Borden County would then move the ball for a first down before returning the favor on a fumble of their own to give the Bulldogs the ball again. This time the hosts would give the ball up on downs after attempting to convert on a fourth down and four yards to go situation.

Borden County Coach Bobby Avery would then get his troops moving in the right direction as they would take control of the ball and the football contest to score 48 unanswered points on the Bulldogs and force the game to a halt with 5:56 left to go in the third period of play due to the 45-point mercy rule in six-man football.

The workhorse for the Coyotes was running back Dale Grant who ran for four touchdowns while compiling 210 yards on his 16 carries. Borden County evened its record for the season at 3-3 while opening district play with a 1-0 record. Loraine, however, would go 0-6 on the season and 0-1 in district play.

Bulldog Head Coach Victor Garcia was disappointed in his team's play.

"I thought this was one of our worst played games this season," said Garcia. "We had our chances in the first quarter to really do something but kept shooting ourselves in the foot. We really need to have a good game this week against Hermleigh."

Hermleigh is also 0-6 this year and 0-1 in district after suffering a 59-0 defeat at the hands of Westbrook.

Wolves face Stanton in 3-2A battle

After coming away with a big district win last year against Stanton in which most called an upset, Colorado City will be seeking to add to the misery the Buffaloes have had thus far this season when they travel down Interstate 20 to tangle with the Buffs.

Head Stanton coach Mark Cotton's squad has only one win under his belt this year after making it all the way to the state semifinals last year bowing out to eventual state champion Celina by the score of 59-7.

Stanton only returns all-district lineman Lance Kargl, a 6-3, 270 pound junior, and Rushton Pardue who was a starting wide receiver on last years team.

Stanton's all-state selections Clay White, Jon Cotton, Jeremy Hull, Ace Keele and Matthew Tollison graduated last May and have moved on and coach Cotton has not been able to fill those shoes.

Head Wolf coach Gerald James said that despite the Buffs record, the ballclub has good talented athletes.

"We can't afford to overlook this bunch," said coach James. "They do have some talented kids on the team but have just made a lot of mistakes and turned the ball over quite a bit but anyone that knows coach Cotton knows that a win over Colorado City would make their year a lot easier to cope with."

Coach James said that what he has seen on film shows they run a lot of sweeps and run out of the shotgun and one-back offense most of the time.

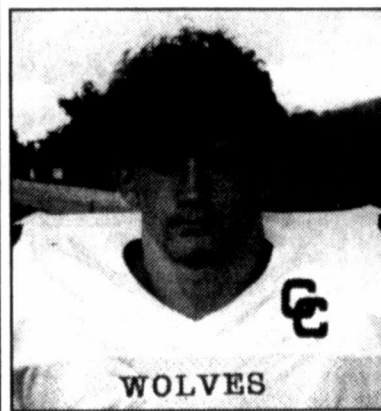

Defensively they show a split defense with man coverage which means Lenard and Zigler will probably be covered one on one.

Running the offense for the Buffs this year is Ryan Kelly, a 5-10, 170 pounder, who takes over for Keith Cook who led the team last year. Kelly got two senior in inexperienced at the varsity level.

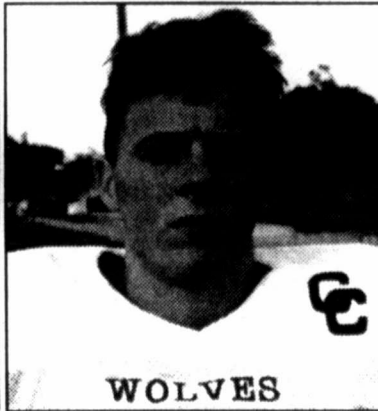

Kickoff for the Wolf-Buffer clash is scheduled for Friday night at 7:30 p.m. in Stanton.

Westbrook trounces winless Hermleigh

Senior Westbrook tailback Chris Matlock only touched the football on four carries but scored on each time while leading the Wildcats to a 59-0 shutout on the winless Hermleigh Cardinals in action at Westbrook last Friday night.

The Wildcats, now 6-0 on the season and 1-0 in district play, have now scored 108 points and not allowed any in the past two weeks of play.

Matlock opened the scoring with a 60-yard punt return after the Wildcat defense held Hermleigh intact. Cody Rich tacked on the extra two point conversion to give the Wildcats an early 8-0 lead with 7:48 left in the first quarter.

Hermleigh was stopped on their next possession and were forced to punt once again. This time however Rich blocked the punt for a safety and Westbrook extended their lead to 10-0 with 5:49 left in the first period.

Forty seconds later Matlock would score his first rushing touchdown when he scored on a 32-yard run. A pass from Rich to Sterling Burleson added the extra point.

Matlock would score two more times in the first quarter on runs of 36 and 13 yards before Landon Graham closed out the first quarter scoring on a 20-yard fumble return. Rich was true on the PAT to give the Wildcats an impressive 39-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The Wildcats began the second period off in the same fashion as they had in the first with quarterback Adam Roemisch tossing a touchdown to Cody Rich from 20 yards out.

The point after attempt failed but with 9:34 left to go in the first half the Wildcats had a 45-0 lead which would be enough for the win except for the fact they had to complete at least the first half of play.

Matlock would do the scoring on the final two Wildcat touchdowns with a 31-yard run with 7:06 left in the first half and the last score would come on a 55-yard punt return for the final score of 59-0 with over four minutes left in the half.

Head Westbrook coach Andrew Hannon was happy to get the first district win.

"Our boys were ready for district play," said Hannon. "Hermleigh wasn't that strong and we almost 45-point ruled them in the first quarter but we had to go out and perform because you never know when someone will come up and bite you from behind. We were well pleased with their efforts."

JV Wolves trip Seagraves

The Colorado City Wolf JV team is on a roll winning their last three games after an 0-3 start.

The Wolves put away the Seagraves JV in action at Wolf Stadium last Thursday by a score of 21-6.

Hann Ollison scored first for the Wolves on a 50-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Brian Proctor. The extra point attempt was made by Eric Martinez.

Running back Otis Johnson would also get in on the scoring action for the Wolves as well as Fidel Silva.

This Thursday, October 18, the Wolves will host the Stanton Buffalo JV with action to begin at 6 pm.

McGuffin wins football jackpot

Young Kandon McGuffin is this weeks winner in the Jackpot Football contest following in her dads footsteps who won the contest earlier this year. Her brother, eighth grade quarterback Brik McGuffin, has come close and lost out earlier on a tie-breaker so watch out folks.

Randy Anderson edged out two others in the Dallas-Washington tie-breaker missing five picks. He only missed the Dallas game by three points. He wins two chicken fried steak dinners at B&B One-Stop.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

By Carl Graham

It appears that all the Colorado City football teams won their games last week as well as the Lady Wolves volleyball teams.

We are proud to say that the 7th graders broke in the win column for the first time and the 8th grade team kept their record unblemished as well, all against the Seagraves Eagles.

Our varsity Wolves got district play off in great fashion with a convincing 21-6 win over Seagraves. The bone-crushing defense held the Eagles to two chip-shot field goals.

Hey, it wasn't all that pretty but the Dallas Cowboys put up their first win of the year by beating the Washington Redskins 9-7 in their Monday night encounter. Emmitt Smith rushed for over 100 yards for the first time in a while but all the Cowpoke points came by the way of the field goal.

Heading into this weeks action against Highland the Westbrook Wildcats are still undefeated at 6-0. They appear to be on a collision course with the Ira Bulldogs who are undefeated on the season. They will tangle on October 26.

Boy, did Dave Campbell's TEXAS FOOTBALL ever miss when they picked the Stanton Buffaloes to win again this year in district 3-2A. Head coach Mark Cotton is finding out what it is like to have a rebuilding year. In the last two weeks they have given up 96 points while scoring only seven. They missed out picking Plains to finish up in the cellar this year as well as they are looking like a contender for a playoff spot along with the Wolves and Coahoma. Only time will tell. Until next time, be a good sport.

Ladies prepare for playoffs

The Colorado City Lady Wolves volleyball team are on a roll and headed for a playoff spot.

In action on Tuesday, October 9, in San Angelo, the Lady Wolves made quick work of San Angelo Cornerstone in two matches winning by scores of 15-2, 15-4.

Last Saturday the Lady Wolves traveled to Tahoka and won in two matches by scores of 15-13, 15-11.

The ladies are in the drivers seat in the three-team district and were headed to Plains on Tuesday just before deadline and a win would clinch first place.

"We didn't play as well as we could have against Tahoka," said head coach Gail Keeton. "We just played well enough to win. We need to play better than that to continue playing through the playoffs."

Coach Keeton said that they would probably play either Anthony or Tornillo in the playoffs and the probable site would most likely be at Monahans. This will all be set up at a later date. The ladies will have an open date this Saturday before resuming district play on Tuesday, October 23.

Loraine Jr. High beats Borden County, 7-6

The Loraine Junior High School Bulldogs traveled to Borden County last Thursday night and came away with a hard fought 7-6 win over the junior Coyotes.

The Coyotes struck fast with a touchdown on the opening kickoff but the Bulldog defense would not give up another score the rest of the evening.

At the end of the first half Borden County was still clinging to a slim 6-0 lead.

Loraine was finally able to put up some points on the scoreboard when on the last play of the third period Pedro Pineda scooted in to score from 26 yards out. Pineda also added the extra point by running the ball in to give the Bulldogs a 7-6 lead, a lead that would hold up to be the final score.

The Junior High Bulldogs, now three wins and two losses, will travel to Hermleigh this Thursday for a 6 pm showdown.

Hermleigh shocked the Westbrook junior high team last week by a score of 31-14 so Loraine may have their hands full as they try to improve their record to 4-2 on the season.

loraine news

By Bessie Ann Vaughn

What a great attendance at Loraine High School Homecoming, the largest ever.

Tommy Palmer reports that Pat Hudgins won Top Dog award for her outstanding work toward the reunion.

Also, senior citizens of Loraine were awarded the super pups distinguished award for outstanding service and help in the reunion.

Kudos also go to Tommy Palmer, Geory Martin and the many others who helped make it such a success.

We are so pleased to have a working cafe in town again. Proprietors are Don and Susie Epperson. They have named the cafe "Bulldog Cafe".

Durwood and Ina Vay McAdams were in Irving,

Texas last week. Their son-in-law and daughter, Michal and Jalene Pointer needed help moving to a new home in McKinney. Saturday night they went on to Valley Mills, near Waco to visit their two sons, Jimmy and Gary and families and to attend part of a Bluegrass Festival. Their sons' homes were not damaged in the tornadoes that struck there Friday night.

We met the substitute school superintendent, James Logan, last week. He says he will be here until next June.

October 12 at the Senior Center prior to the noon meal, Doris asked a couple of newlyweds to please stand while we gave them an applause of best wishes and congratulations. Standing were Bob Motley and Mary Helen Price. They were married last week! We wish them every happiness.

Bill Long of Savannah, Georgia has been here since Friday to be with his mother as she has been hospitalized. He also visits Irene Kidd when in town.

The Hitching Post Number 11 will no longer be serving Sunday noon meals. Last week was their last day to serve and they went out with a bang serving rib-eye steak and many trimmings.

For the folks who have asked about Hal Haralson, former Lorainian, author of Gentle Mercies, Stories of Faith in Faded Blue Jeans, he is married with three children, lives in Austin and is now an attorney, a trial lawyer.

He is still very active in his lay-pastoring, helping where and whenever he finds the calling. If you need information about his book, I'll be glad to assist.

The community is proud of Hal and wish him the best.

Loraine Post Mistress, Linda

Kabala, and assistant Lisa Mitchell have the post office decorated in a ghost and goblin fashion for Halloween.

It is a fun and cheerful place.

We send condolences to the family and friends of Annie Mae Lee. She leaves many friends and loved ones in Loraine and Mitchell County.

Our friend, Anniebell Jones, is in Mitchell County Hospital at this time. She suffered a stroke last week. We send out love and wishes for a complete recovery.

Jackie (Richey) Holman visited with us at the center last Thursday. It was good to see her again. She and husband Bob now live in Conover, North Carolina.

We shall certainly miss Billie Schroeder as she moved to Nacogdoches last week. She has health problems and will now be near her children. We send our blessings and well wishes to her in her new home.

Family guests in the home of Iva and Gus Armstrong have been Helen Novis of California and Doris Peck who has been visiting in Midland. The ladies are Iva's sisters and they are having a wonderful time.

Visiting with Bob and Wanza Graham Saturday evening were Willie and Iva Mae Ross from Paris, Texas. They attended the school homecoming activities.

Visiting Sunday evening was Kim Hughes of Ft. Worth and her mother Dianne Hughes of Roscoe. Kim is in cosmetology school in Ft. Worth.

Visiting on Monday morning was the Grahams grandson, Jason Graham, from Friona. Jason is working for Excell Meats.

Senior Center
A fun time was had at the center last week.

Wednesday - Dexter and Dorothy Norwood, Charles Dunn, Laura Jones and Gus Armstrong made up a great sounding band.

Dorothy on piano, Dexter played trumpet and sang, Gus played drums, Laura's instrument was accordion and Charles played the electric bass guitar.

Friday was a day of fun and excitement visiting with old friends coming to town early for homecoming.

We welcomed Loree Music, Jimmy Hall, Maureen and Joe Coldewey, Tom and Anne Palmer, Kenneth Jackson, Peggy and Ray Harmon, Barbara and Deryl Bennett, Betty and Jimmy Pugh. Elba Mae Evans accompanied the Harmon's, Bennett's, and Pugh's. We were glad to have her back in town as well.

Senior Citizens who rode on a float during Friday's homecoming parade were Nell Doyle, Charlene Walker, Earlene Dunn, Shots Treadwell, Tommy Wright, Wanza Graham and Charles Dunn. The ladies wore long skirts and Shots Treadwell was dressed in a Daniel Boone looking attire.

Shots carried a handsome Tompson Center 50 caliber shotgun while sporting a ringed leather jacket and a black frontier looking hat. Tommy wore a small black bowler hat that once belonged to his father-in-law. Several participants wore school colors of black and gold.

Loraine cheerleaders came down to do some cheers and get everyone in a festive spirit.

The young ladies looked very cute in their cheerleading suits. Taking part were Heather Lucas, Tabatha Epperson, Chrystal Sanchez, Eliza Martine. Also cheerleaders were Stephanie Rich, Sabrina Neel and their sponsor Gloria Lucas. We wish we could harness some of their energy. They did a great job.

Loraine homecoming sets record

Saturday homecoming in Loraine set a record attendance with 276 registered. The event was held October 12 & 13 in the new gymnasium, which was decorated in school colors for the occasion. The oldest attendees were from the class of 1932 and the youngest from the 1995 class.

Becky Hudgins was recognized as "Coming Home Queen" at half time during the football game Friday night and was presented a bouquet of yellow roses. Becky, representing the class of 1971, also gave an inspiring talk at the reunion Saturday.

Traditionally, the fifty-year class receives special recognition each year and every member attending from the graduating class of 1951 recited a precious memory of their life in Loraine. Their stories were very moving and from the heart and reminded the ex-students that they were privileged to have a part in the Loraine school and community.

The festivities for the weekend included a reception Friday afternoon before the football game and the Saturday morning activity began with registration at nine and a catered lunch at noon.

On display for those attending were pictures from the past hung around the gymnasium walls, tables of trophies, and banners with the year and names of graduates for each of the 82 years of Loraine School.

Also, annuals from every year were displayed on easily accessible racks so ex-students could look through them and recall some wonderful memories.

As the reunion drew to a close, the ex-students were treated to a drawing for some very nice door prizes furnished by Mitchell County businesses and individuals.

LHS Constitution ok'ed

During the business and open forum session of the Loraine Homecoming, the ex-students were presented with a proposal for a permanent "Constitution of the Loraine Ex-Students Association". The proposal was accepted by a voice vote to approve the current committee to appoint the first directors and form the Constitution. This will be a step forward to become a cohesive and permanent organization to include all Lorainians.

Stated in Article II "The purpose of the Association shall be to perpetuate and strengthen ties of affection and esteem formed during Loraine school days, to further the interest and well being of Loraine Independent School District Ex-Students, and to further the cause of education in the community." Also Article III states "Membership in the Association shall be three (3) classes: Active, Associate, and Honorary."

All former students of the Loraine ISD, or past or present members of the faculty or staff of the Loraine ISD are eligible and qualified members of the Association.

Please note that a former student includes all former students from schools that may have consolidated with Loraine, including but not limited to Champion, Silver, Landers, Baumann, Lone Star, Valley View, and Looney.

An annual fee set by the Board of Directors shall be required for membership, with the exception of Honorary." The other articles further state the organizational setup, responsibilities, powers and duties, and terms of elected officers and directors.

If you have suggestions or comments please address them to the Association Committee, PO Box 43, Loraine, Texas 79532.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING CITY OF LORAIN, TEXAS

A hearing to provide an opportunity for public comment on the proposed Wastewater Treatment Plant Improvements will be sponsored by the City of Loraine on Thursday, November 8, 2001 at City Hall, Main Street, Loraine, Texas 79532 at 7:00 p.m. One of the purposes of hearing is to discuss the potential impacts of the project and alternatives to it. The City of Loraine is in need of a new wastewater treatment facility capable of treating the current volume of raw sewage produced by the Loraine community and maintain compliance with State wastewater treatment requirements.

The City of Loraine is currently exceeding the capacity of the existing wastewater treatment plant (WWTP) which was constructed around 1929. Enforcement action against the City by the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC) could result due to either poor treated water quality or exceeding the current permitted flow through the WWTP of 50,000 gallons per day (g.p.d.). Although no formal enforcement action has been taken against the City of Loraine by the TNRCC, the City's existing WWTP is in violation of a number of current TNRCC design criteria. It is not feasible to modify the existing WWTP to meet the TNRCC design criteria. Therefore, in response, the City of Loraine has developed an Engineering Feasibility Report and Environmental Information Document and has applied for financing through the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) Clear Water State Revolving Fund (CWSRF) Tier IV (wastewater) Loan Program for construction of a new WWTP.

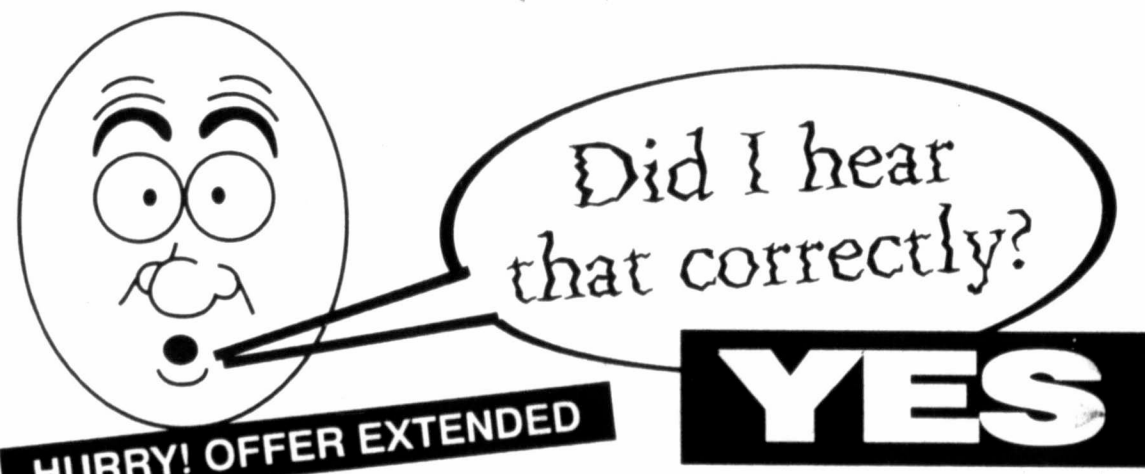

The proposed project will include a new wastewater treatment plant and location. The proposed improvements will enable the City of Loraine to meet current and anticipated future mandated wastewater treatment standards through an adequate wastewater treatment system.

The WWTP will be located on property acquired by the City of Loraine specifically for the WWTP, and is located adjacent to the west of the existing WWTP. No alternative locations were considered due to the availability of the preferred location and the suitability of the location for the WWTP.

For the proposed project, the City of Loraine seeks $665,600.00 in TWDB financial assistance. Existing monthly sewer rates for the City of Loraine are $15.00 for residential and business. It is likely that the net revenues available as the result of the existing sewer rates would be sufficient to cover the annual debt service necessary to fund the proposed improvements.

At least two weeks prior to the Public Hearing, the Environmental Information Document including project plans and maps, will be available for public review at City Hall on Main Street in Loraine, Texas.
