MISSISSIPPI IS ROARING OVER ITS LEVEES

RANGER CUMMINGS ORDERED DISCHARGED BY THE GOVERNOR

ACTION RESULTS FROM ATTEMPTS TO CHECK NEWS

REPORTER AT BORGER ILLEGALLY JAILED WAS DECIDED

AFFAIR IS PROBED

HONORABLE DISCHARGE IS RECOMMENDED HOWEVER

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 14—Texas Ranger Private A. P. Cummings was discharged today at the order of Governor Dan Moody for Cummings' alleged illegal arrest recently of Vic Wagner, Borger newspaper reporter, and asserted attempts to suppress reports of the affair.

Cummings first was suspended pending investigation.

Cummings was called into conference with the governor late Saturday. An hour or so later announcement of the discharge was made. Cummings would not comment on the action, but Assistant Adjutant General Taylor Nichols, who received Cummings' commission and credentials, said an explanatory statement might be made later.

Illegal Arrest

The governor ordered suspension of Cummings after reports that officers had jailed Wagner at Borger without charges in connection with newspaper stories Wagner had written concerning ranger activities following threats of martial law for the oil boom town. T. U. Caufield, managing editor, claimed that Cummings prevented his sending a telegram to the Dallas bureau of the Associated Press. Telling of the arrest, Cummings has been in Austin since a short time after his suspension.

Nichols, acting adjutant general, was told by Governor Moody in a letter written later that a report from Ranger Captain Frank A. Hamer "very largely sustains the reports which previously have been brought to attention of the departments in Austin."

Hamer had been requested to investigate the affair.

"From the investigation and reports of the same," the governor said, "it is my recommendation that Mr. Cummings be permanently relieved from duty, effective this date.

"If you have different classes of discharge which are issued, I suggest that you give him an honorable discharge."

SHIP RELEASE DEMANDED

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—The release of the ship Hakadata, seized as a liquor smuggler by the coast guard off the Mexican coast on April 7, was demanded by Minister Alfaro of Panama, in a note delivered today to the state department.

EIGHT MINERS TRAPPED BY GAS EXPLOSION

WELSH, W. Va., May 14 (AP)—All hope for the rescue of eight men trapped by a gas explosion in the Shannon branch mine of the central Pocahontas Coal company, near here today was abandoned by rescue workers tonight.

West Texas: Sunday and Monday partly cloudy.

Oklahoma and East Texas: Sunday and Monday partly cloudy, probably showers Monday, light to fresh easterly to southerly winds on the coast.

Blast Heard After Passing Of Plane

ST. JOHN'S N. F.—May 14 (AP)—The New Foundland constabulary tonight began investigation of a report that a loud explosion was heard at Whitbourne, in the interior of New Foundland soon after the droning of an airplane engine had been noticed above the place last Monday morning.

At ten o'clock tonight, Inspector General Hutchings of the Colonial constabulary received a message from Sergeant Dwyer, stationed at Bay Roberts on Conception Bay, informing him of this latest development in the search for the missing French fliers, Captains Charles Nungesser and Francois Coli.

The message said that Dwyer had heard that a man who was at Whitbourne Monday morning heard a noise in the clouds like a passing plane and shortly afterward a heavy explosion. The name of the man was not stated in the telegram received here. Whitbourne is 20 miles inland from Bay Roberts.

The inspector general ordered Dwyer to proceed to Whitbourne and make a full investigation of the matter.

MRS. CROCKER IS GRANTED DIVORCE

WIFE OF MILLIONAIRE HEAD OF HISTORICAL GROUP GETS DECREE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14. (AP)—Mrs. Helen Irwin Crocker was granted a divorce here today from her husband, Charles Templeton Crocker, multi-millionaire president of the California Historical society, and a member of a California pioneer family. Crocker did not contest the suit.

Mrs. Crocker is the daughter of William Irwin, Hawaiian sugar baron.

Mrs. Crocker was granted her interlocutory decree of divorce within a few minutes of filing her complaint. The complaint was based on the grounds of cruelty. Mrs. Crocker, who took the witness stand briefly told the story of her 16 years of married life. She declared that her happiness had been wrecked by her husband's love for, and pursuit of drama.

This love of drama, she charged, forced her from society.

Crocker was associated with Joseph D. Redding in composing and producing the opera "Fay Yen Fah" which they first presented with success in Monte Carlo. He also has been associated in the production of other operas and plays by the Bohemian club of San Francisco.

Crocker is the son of the late Colonel Fred Crocker. He is also the brother of Mrs. Jennie Crocker, whose martial affairs received considerable publicity from time to time.

At the time of her marriage Mrs. Crocker received a wedding present from her father of $1,000,000 and in December, 1922, she received $6,000,000 in stocks from the estate of her mother.

PINEDO FORCED DOWN

Noted Italian Ace Lands for Fuel at Memphis After Bucking High Head Winds

ST. LOUIS, May 14 (AP)—Commander Francesco de Pinedo, Italian four continent flier, enroute from New Orleans to St. Louis, landed at Memphis at 1:55 p. m., today to refuel and planned to leave there at 4 p. m., for the last leg of his journey, according to a telegram received by the Italian consul.

A large crowd gathered at the Mississippi river levee, here awaiting the flier's arrival, which had been scheduled at 3 p. m.

The telegram said De Pinedo had been delayed by high winds, these caused greater gasoline consumption than expected and forced a landing.

Before leaving New Orleans, De Pinedo planned to stop at St. Louis only long enough to take on fuel, then jump on to Chicago. With winds against him, however, there would be little chance of his proceeding until Romorrow.

DAVIS WILL FLY TO WICHITA FALLS MEET

MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 14 (AP)—Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, will arrive in Muskogee by rail Monday and will be taken to Wichita Falls, Texas, by airplane by Lieutenant A. C. Strickland, Commander of Hat Box Field here, Strickland said today. Strickland declared he did not know the object of the secretary's visit.

TRANS-OCEANIC FLIGHT MAY BE TRI-PILOT RACE

WEATHERMAN REPORTS BETTER CONDITION IN SKIES

PLAN HOP-OFF SOON

SEARCH FOR MISSING FRENCHMEN STILL CONTINUES

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 14—There was no longer any obstacle tonight to the first American flight from New York to Paris being a three cornered race, but it was not likely that race would start until Monday any way and more probably Tuesday.

Unfavorable weather, which for several days has prevented the monoplanes "Spirit of St. Louis" and "Columbia" from hopping off, has continued so long that today factory tests were completed on the monoplane "America" and she was turned over to the pilots.

Weather Better

So now, as soon as the weather man decided conditions are good, and tonight he saw no immediate likelihood of clearing, all three planes will be ready to rumble down the long runway at Roosevelt field, climb into the air, and head eastward on the race for Paris.

The search continued for the two missing French fliers, Nungesser and Coli, centering along the Bays of New Foundlandland's wilderness where a plane was heard passing last Monday. No trace of the fliers was found, however, nor any indication at all of what has happened to them.

"America" Tested

The day's preparations on Long Island were featured by the turning over of the "America" to Commander Richard E. Byrd, and by a minor accident to the "Spirit of St. Louis" when Charles Lindbergh, its pilot, swerved in landing to avoid striking a group of photographers. The tail skid was broken but mechanisms were able to repair it quickly.

If Acosta does go up with Byrd and if the flight is a race two men who recently achieved fame together will be pitted against each other. It was Acosta who was with Clarence Chamberlin in the flight above Long Island which shattered all previous records for endurance flying. It was first announced that he would accompany Chamberlin in the "Columbia" but later Lloyd Bertaud's name was substituted.

SHUTDOWN OF DRILLING

Action of Majors in Seminole Area Affecting the Whole Oil Industry Now

TULSA, Ma y14 (AP)—Action tonight was following the decision of sixteen of the largest producing companies in the Seminole oil area to curb the lavish flow that has resulted in nation-wide unsettlement of the oil industry.

Several of the companies participating in the agreement began immediately to promulgate orders to shut down on the drilling of new wells in the Seminole field. The agreement was reached at a meeting of producers in Tulsa today, held at the suggestion of W C Teagle, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. Seven other companies represented at the meeting either refused to vote or left while voting was in progress.

Ray Collins, appointed umpire of the Seminole field, in a meeting of producers in New York earlier this week, does not believe that immediate results will crown the efforts of the co-operating operators, he said after the meeting, but he was hopeful that they would be perceptible enough at the end of the agreed 15-day period that it would be possible to extend restrictions on drilling to other fields in Oklahoma, and to Texas and California.

OIL FIELD POWER FIRM NOW BEING ORGANIZED

NEW YORK, May 14 (AP)—Organization of the Pecos Valley Power and Light company for electrifying the oil fields in western Texas was announced today by G. I. Rhodes, of Ford, Bacon and Davis, who will be president of the company. Construction of a large oil burning electric power plant will start shortly. Authorized capitalization will consist of $5,000,000 first mortgage bonds $1,000,000 seven percent debentures, 10,000 shares of preferred and 200,000 shares of common.

Willacy County Officers Are Indicted On Charges Of Witness Intimidation

(By Associated Press)

BROWNSVILLE, May 14.—County Judge A. B. Crane of Willacy county and three other men, including Jesse Rose, John Swanner and Archie Clark, were indicted by the federal grand jury here on charges of intimidation of witnesses in the Willacy county peonage cases, for which Raymond Teller, former sheriff of Willacy county, is now serving a term in Leavenworth prison.

The indictments were returned late Friday but were not made public until noon Saturday. Rose, Swanner and Clark are out on bond.

Bondsmen Asked

Deputy United States Marshal Harold Jefferds notified Crane Saturday afternoon by telephone of the indictment and instructed him to appear here Monday with bondsmen.

Court officials said it was not likely that the cases would come to trial at this term of court, which will end a week from Saturday.

Investigation of the alleged intimidation was begun by the grand jury Thursday, a score or more witnesses from Willacy county being summoned. H. J. Hart, Willacy county attorney, and J. P. Currie, a nurseryman, who were government witnesses in the peonage cases at Corpus Christi, and who are alleged to have been intimidated following the trial, were witnesses before the grand jury.

Two indictments each were returned against Crane, Swanner and Rose, and one against Clark.

REDS GUARD BRITISH

Demonstration Against British Made by Russians in Moscow Center

MOSCOW, May 14 (AP)—Russian political police, and red army troops, on foot and in motor lorries, guarded the streets leading to the British and Polish Missions this afternoon, while anti-British demonstrators, bearing denunciatory banners, paraded.

The demonstrators carried huge jointed caricatures of Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary.

The marchers were not permitted to approach the quarter containing the missions, before which special guards were posted.

Late in the afternoon a fleet of 20 planes swooped in formation and circled low over the routes of the mission building.

SAN ANGELO CHILD KILLED IN AUTO WRECK

SAN ANGELO, May 14 (AP)—Alice Beth Chapman, 5, daughter of Mrs. J. J. Chapman, of San Angelo, was killed instantly Saturday afternoon when the automobile in which she was riding overturned twelve miles north of Eden.

Miss Pauline Donald, 18, of Karnes City, driver of the car, suffered injuries to her back, while the third occupant of the car, Mrs. Robert Tewes, also of Karnes City, and sister of Mrs. Chapman, was uninjured except for the shock. The little girl's neck was broken.

AERIAL BATTLES HELD

Reds Win From Blues In Combats Staged Over City Of San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, May 14 (AP)—Red army planes won an appreciable advantage today as the air forces o fthe belligerent red and blue armies which will oppose each other in a "practice war" next week maneuvered over southwest Texas.

A bombing expedition launched by the blue army was discovered and barried by red pursuit and combat planes while an expedition of red combat planes succeeded in penetrating far into blue territory before it was discovered just as they were delivering an attack on Karnes City.

Officially no decision was given on the aerial battles today, as the maneuvers proper will not start until tomorrow afternoon, but army officers agreed that the blues were unsuccessful, for the most part, in their bombing expedition while the reds scored in their raid into blue territory by delivering their blow before they were attacked.

The bombing raid engineered by the blues ended in a spectacular aerial combat over San Antonio in which the red attackers dropped twenty strong out of a fleecy cloud, above the business district and flew circles around the blue bombers. The bombers had been discovered by the enemy before they had simulated bomb attacks on their objectives north of here. The bombers were sent out to destroy imaginary bridgeheads, railheads and supply depots.

HOOVER HEADQUARTERS ARE SET IN ALEXANDRIA

MANSURA, La., May 14. (AP)—Alexandria will become headquarters for all relief operations in the flood areas of Louisiana, east of the Mississippi river, Secretary Hoover announced here tonight. A conference will be held here tomorrow to work out all details of the relief plan.

Preparations will be made in Alexandria to receive between 25,000 and 30,000 refugees from the newly flooded areas.

HARLINGEN BONDS ARE APPROVED BY STATE

AUSTIN, May 14. (AP)—Bonds of the city of Harlingen, totalling $400,000, were approved by the attorney general's department today.

They are: For auditorium $100,000; parks $25,000; city hall, fire station and jail $15,000; street improvements $135,000; water and light $110,000; sewer $15,000.

Local Men Invited On Booster Trip

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce has been requested to send in the names of local business men who will be interested in making the trip to the North and East beginning June 19 on the All Texas Special that will visit Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and Pittsburgh.

The tour will be a business trip made by men from all parts of Texas, to advertise the state of Texas. Dan Moody will head the delegation and only men will make the trip.

One day will be spent in each city with the exception of New York and Boston where two days will be spent. The train will return to Texas July 4.

The cost of the trip is $250 and each delegate will be given an entire section in the pullman, thus eliminating the upper berth.

The request for names of Lubbock citizens interested in the trip was referred to the directors and the board voted to ask anyone who should be interested to notify the Chamber of Commerce.

ELKS HALL RAIDED BY SHERIFF FORCE

ANOTHER PERSON ALSO IS VISITED BY OFFICERS FOR BEER TRADE

One man was held for investigation and the Elks club rooms were ransacked by officers in a raid upon that place made late Saturday evening. A thorough probe of the activities alleged to have occurred there recently is to be made, Durwood H. Bradley, district attorney, stated. K. C. Aldridge was the man held.

The raid was the second in the officer's clean-up work Saturday, the place of W. M. Lightfoot, south west of the city, having been visited where three ten gallon kegs of what officers said was choc beer in process of fermentation and 150 bottles of home brew being kept on ice, were seized. W. M. Lightfoot and Mrs. Thelma Collins were placed under arrest for violating the liquor law.

In the second raid two ten gallon kegs which officers stated had contained liquor, three cases of empty bottles, a five gallon jar and capping outfit supposedly used for making beer, were taken in the living room adjoining the club rooms and held as evidence.

In addition there was a steel trash container filled with broken half gallon jars, a fruit box filled with broken bottles and jars, a large crock filled with broken fruit jars, and a number of unbroken bottles.

A large slot machine, operation of which officers state is contrary to law, was found in the second room. The machine requires a quarter to turn the lever, and the player when lucky may receive back anywhere from two quarters to 20, according to a sign on the front of it.

Officers taking part in the raid included Sheriff Johnston, District Attorney Durwood H. Bradley, and Ford, Williamson, Crump and Settle.

That the general membership of the club was entirely unaware liquor, if any, was being kept in Aldridge's room, was stated by officers of the lodge. Aldridge had been requested to find some other lodging place by the management of the club, and was to have moved within the next few days, the room to be occupied by the business college. No rent was received on the room as it was donated to help Aldridge in working his way through school.

TRIBUTE TO DAVIS

Formal Dedication Of Boulder Memorial To Confederate Leader Announced

WACO, May 14. (AP)—Formal dedication of a boulder, tribute to Jefferson Davis, will take place at Brownsville, June 3, anniversary of the birthday of the leader of the Southern Confederacy, it was announced here today. At the ceremonies the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which organization presents the boulder to Texas, will be represented by the state president, Mrs. Forest Farley of Austin. Governor Dan Moody or his personal appointee, will accept the boulder in behalf of the state. The marker, to be located on the most southern point of the Jefferson Davis highway, is of gray Texas granite, it is faced on one side with a bronze tablet, on which are narrated, in brief, some of the more notable achievements of Jefferson Davis.

SUGAR BOWL REGION IS GIVEN UP TO FLOODWATER

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, May 14—Mississippi flood waters with all the reinforcements of the Yazoo, the Black, the Red and other southern tributaries were assaulting five south central Louisiana parishes tonight, pouring through earthern embankments which crumbled before their onslaught.

Hope of saving the Bayou Des Glaises section, a part of the "Sugar Bowl" and the Evangeline country disappeared with the failing of the Kleinwood plantation levee before the attack of the waters. Other breaks at Moreauville, Bordelonville and Cottonport still had left levee board officials with the hope that they might be able to save a part of the rich district.

Abandon Work

With the breach at Kleinwood, in the middle of Big Bend, along Bayou Des Glaises, work was abandoned along the thirty mile stretch from Cottonport to the southernmost of the bend. Four crevasses occurred today in Bayou Des Glaises and another levee went out at Cotton port along Bayou Rouge. Three other breaks had occurred previously, one at Cottonport and two at Moreauville.

The affected district is approximately 160 miles northwest of New Orleans and on the other side of

OVERSTREET ON BOARD

Will Again Represent This Part on State Directors Board of Farm Association

R. C. Overstreet, local man, was re-nominated director of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association from this district, in a meeting of more than 100 representatives from South Plains towns at the court house yesterday afternoon. Overstreet has been with the Bureau for several years and was field man here for several terms. His nomination was unanimous. He will represent this district in the state meeting.

Preceding the meeting yesterday afternoon was a luncheon at the Lubbock Inn, given by the Lubbock county organization. Judge George R. Bean, local attorney, made the principal address to the farmers, laying stress on the importance of stronger co-operation in marketing. A short program was given preceding the afternoon business session.

The next meting of the association will be held June 11.

Man Trampled To Death As Grandstand Tumbles

(By Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—Frederich Haas, 50, was trampled to death and more than half a hundred were injured today when part of the flooring on the first base side of the lower grandstand of the Philadelphia National League baseball park collapsed.

The accident occurred in the first half of the seventh inning while St. Louis was at bat. The collapse threw the crowd into a panic and it swarmed on the field necessitating the umpires to end the game with the score 12 to 3 in favor of Philadelphia.

The collapse threw 500 persons from their seats into a huddle of struggling humanity. The floor did not fall to the ground, 10 to 15 feet below, but sagged, throwing the spectators into mass. Later it broke open and many fell through to the ground.

The man killed was at first believed to have died from heart disease as he showed no apparent injuries. An examination at a hospital, however, caused doctors to express the opinion that death was caused by being trampled upon.

Ambulances from half a dozen hospitals in north Philadelphia were instantly summoned and nearly 50 persons, were taken to the institutions.

The collapse is believed to have been due to the weakening of the supports when the crowd stamped their feet and jumped up an down in Philadelphia half of the sixth inning when the home team scored eight runs in a batting rally.

WHITNEY COLT RACES HOME JUST AHEAD OF OSMAND AS JOCK FINISHES FOR FIELD

TIME OF RACE IS 2.06 AND WINNING HORSE DRAWS $51,025; LAST MINUTE THRUST WITH McATEE UP, WINS FOR WHITNEY

(By The Associated Press)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 14—Whiskery, Harry Payne Whitney's chestnut son of Whiskbroom and Prudery, won the 53rd Kentucky Derby today. He won just as he had been expected to win, by beating Osmand and Jock in a sensational drive down the stretch.

His time for the mile and a quarter was 2:06, two and three fifths seconds slower than Old Rosebud's record of 2:03 2-5.

The pari-mutuels, in which the Whitney entry of Whiskery and Bostonian was the favorite, showed the surprisingly good odds of $6.80 on each $2.00 straight ticket. The entry paid $3.80 to place and $3.40 to show. Osmand paid $6.40 and $5.80 while Jock paid $14.20 to show.

The largest crowd that ever witnessed a turf event on American soil filled every available inch of the stands, the brick terrace in front of the grandstand and the greensward between the club house and the track, and packed the rail in the infield.

So much for the cold facts.

Real Derby Day

It was a typical Derby Day crowd that began with a yell as the bugle called the fifteen starters to the post. Jock, which was destined to set the pace and then falter in the stretch, pranced up on the track in front. Then came the others, each being accorded an ovation by those who were pulling for him to win.

They paraded past the club house and then back, down before the grandstands to the starting post, at the head of the stretch. Hydromel was a bit fractious and broke the barrier for a sprint down the track. Soon brought under control by Jockey W. Garner, and returned to the barrier jockeying for favorable positions occupied a minute more and at 5:10 o'clock they began the journey.

Jock Takes Jump

Jock, from the rail position, proved a "gun at the barrier" and was on top in ten jumps. Down the stretch the fifteen horses charged, each pursuing the flying leader and making for the rail. Past the quarter pole they fled, Jock increasing his lead with every jump. Earl Sande, on Osmand, was about his business in a hurry and moved into second position, with Scapa Flow third.

Around the first turn they tore, Jock in front and apparently going away. Behind Osmand and Scapa Flow the others were making their bids, but there wasn't a chance for any except one. Linus McAtee, wearing the light blue and white sashed blouse of the Whitney stable, his mount, Whiskery, moved to one side and bettered his position. Sande time his move with the first faltering step by Jock and on the back stretch began his drive.

Osmand the sprinter, they called him, was sprinting, sprinting as he never had before. Around the last turn and into the head of the stretch they came, their stout hearts willing but their bursting muscles weakening. All save one—Whiskery.

Whiskery End Strong

On the outside, while Jock and Osmand were setting for the present the question of supremacy, Whiskery came fast to finish ahead in front of Osmand. Jock was third, two lengths back.

Trailing in for an eighth of a mile down the track came Hydromel, Bostonian, winner of the Preakness last Monday; Buddy Bauer, Royal Julian, Fred. jr., Scapa Flow, Black Panther, Kiev, Rolled Stocking, Rip Rap, Be With Us and War Eagle, in the order named. Saxon, By Son and Mr. Kirkwood were scratched.

Ruth Lederer Is Winner Of Texas Women's Tourney

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, May 14—Mrs. S. R. (Ruth) Lederer of Rivercrest Country club, brought the women's state golf championship to Fort Worth Saturday when she defeated Mrs. A. M. Rhodes, of Caeder crest club, Dallas, 5 up and 3 to play in the finals of the Women's Texas Golf association's eleventh annual tournament at Glen Garden Country club. The match ended on the thirty third green when the young Fort Worth woman was conceded a four inch putt for a bogey four. Mrs. Rhodes had drawn a penalty when her drive went into a creek and she was six inches from the cup with her fifth shot when she conceded the hole and match to Mrs. Lederer.

Halve Would Win

The Dallas veteran was dormie after she lost the thirty-second hole so all Mrs. Lederer had to do to win the match was to halve the hole.

Spring Grid Work Of Westerners Is Finished by Frnka

Henry Frnka, newly appointed head coach of the Lubbock high school, who will succeed L. J. Von Tungeln, former coach of the Westerners, has concluded spring training among the Westerners and announces that he will resume fall training on September 1. Some forty local high school football recruits have worked daily under Frnka's direction for more than a month and Coach Frnka states that much will be gained from the spring workouts. "Interest shown by the boys in training makes me feel that we will have a scrappy eleven," Coach Frnka stated yesterday.

Vernon Tuck, a former team mate of Coach Frnka while at Austin College, will assist Mr. Frnka in athletics for the season. Mr. Tuck will handle the backfield and ends for the local school in football this fall.

To Go to Notre Dame

Coach Frnka plans to attend the summer school at Notre Dame and receiving coaching instructions under one of America's foremost mentors this summer. Mr. Frnka stated yesterday that would return to Lubbock about September 1 and establish football camp at one of the nearby resorts.

Prospects are very bright for an excellent football machine for the local school next season as several of the best players of the 1926 club will be back for action with the Westerners next season, including, Raymond "Red" Barton, Mark Cummings, "Tuffy" Wolffarth, "Pea-Patch" Gordon Dickinson, Curtis Allen, Smythe Reynolds, La Rue Dollihite, Leslie Smith, Eddie Adkinson, Bill Teal, and Parkinson. Among new recruits that showed well in the spring camp are: Luther Williams, at quarter-back; Mood Smith, quarter-back; "Speck" McElroy, end; John Ater, end; and "Big" Castleberry.

A hard schedule has been arranged for one of the best cards ever had for the high school. The schedule includes: Plainview, Vernon, Wichita Falls, Electra, Quanah, and Amarillo. Most of the names have been scheduled to be played at the Tech Park for next fall. Plans are being made to have Classen High school of Oklahoma City, here during the South Plains fair.

Wholesalers Will Defend City Today

The Wholesaler city league club will meet with the combined forces of Shallowater and Littlefield this afternoon at the Merrill park at 3:30 o'clock. Due to the strong wind that blew last Sunday this game was postponed until this afternoon. Terrible Terry, manager for the Wholesalers, will take the mound this afternoon for his club. The Shallowater and Littlefield forces have combined their teams and have one of the strongest amateur clubs in West Texas.

Among the players with the visiting aggregation included the Mueller brothers, who have had years of experience, and Barnie Blackmon, former member of the Lubbock Hubbers. The visitors were defeated Sunday before last by the Wholesalers in a fast game at Shallowater by a score of 9 to 1.

AVERAGE INCOME 11 CENTS A MINUTE

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — Every time the minute hand of the clock moves up a notch, the workers of the United States have pocketed $556,000, declares an enterprising statistician of a clock company here. The average income of the American citizen gainfully employed in a regular eight-hour day is 11½ cents a minute. He also figured that President Coolidge receives 50 cents a minute as chief executive, Will Hays gets a dollar a minute, and Judge Landis makes 43 cents. Douglas Fairbanks leads the list, with $5.67 a minute. A single second wasted by American workers would cost $9,980.

Lowers Record In Texas Meet

EDVIN WIDE

HOUSTON, May 14 (AP)—Edvin Wide, famous Swede runner, lowered the world's record for a mile and a quarter run here Saturday afternoon when he traveled the distance in 5 minutes, 31:1 seconds. He clipped 3:9 seconds off the former mark.

Wide raced against time, holding a perfect stride from the very start and although the mid-summer day handicapped the conqueror of Paavo Nurmi, he was comparatively fresh at the finish of the run.

His race was the feature event of the southwestern conference track and field meet which was won by Texas university with a total of 58½ points.

Southwest Texas Teachers Run Off With Track Crown

DENTON, May 14 (AP)—Southwest Texas Teachers college of San Marcos won the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic association track and field meet here closing Saturday, scoring a total of 57.5 points. West Texas State Teachers college was second with 36 points.

North Texas State Teachers college here made a clean sweep of the tennis, Myrack and Davidson taking first and second places in the singles. This team also won the association doubles championship.

Five new records were established on the track. Vaughn, Abilene Christian college, ran the mile in 4:33, a new mark. Nelson, of the same school, ran the two mile in 10:17. Dailey, San Marcos, ran the 220 yard low hurdles in 24.6. Rhegan of Canyon made a new record in the half mile at 2:1:3. Wright of San Marcos put the shot 42 feet for a record.

City To Dress Up Windows For Week

This week, May 16 to 22 inclusive is national window advertising week and cities over the nation will be observing the week by dressing up the windows, calling the public's attention to the displays and offering various prizes in judging the most attaractive windows, according to information in the office of the Lubbock Retail Merchants association.

The directors of the Lubbock Retail Merchants association voted recently to give particular attention to the American Legion and other ex-service men in their windows this week in cooperation with local legionaires who will be host to some 500 visiting legionaires Saturday and Sunday.

A special bargain day will also be observed Saturday to bring more people into Lubbock and to give visiting legionaires a chance to see what real bargains are.

The directors of the Lubbock Retail Merchants association have put their stamp of approval on the movement to make Saturday a real bargain day in Lubbock and it is expected that thousands of people will be attracted to Lubbock Saturday to take advantage of the bargains.

CORPUS CHRISTI HURLER SHUTS OUT ALL HITS

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 14 (AP)—The first no-hit no-run game of the Texas Valley league, and the first of the season in any league, was pitched by Lefty Holman of the Corpus Chrisiti club here today against Mission. Corpus Christi won, 5 to 0. Holman walked three men and hit one batter. Aside from those, no player reached first base. He fanned nine men and a pinch hitter put in in the ninth by Mission was fanned on the first three balls pitched.

LUBBOCK TO HAVE BASEBALL TEAM WITH HIGGINBOTHAM AT HELM; NO DONATIONS TO BE ASKED OF FANS

Lubbock will have baseball this summer!

And it will not cost any individual one dime—all the club wants is plenty of attendance. If that is not cheap enough for the fans of Lubbock—they will just have to read about baseball. Through the efforts of the Avalanche-Journal Publishing company and their publications many excellent performers of the National Pastime have been secured to represent the Hubbers in Lubbock this summer.

Among the players that have been secured to work with the Hubber aggregation are:

Coach Grady Higginbotham, of Texas Tech, who will manage the club, play the outfield and share partime on the mound. Coach Higginbotham has had considerable service in the game with the Texas Aggies, three years; with St. Louis Cards, part of two seasons; and managed the Sherman club through one season. Coach Higginbotham is a veteran of the game and his services as manager of the Hubbers will be one of the greatest assets of the club.

Shep Will Play

Chester "Tighten Up" Shepard, who is one of the most popular ball players in West Texas, and a former second sacker with the Hubbers of 1925 and 1926, will be seen at the keystone position on the Lubbock crew. Shepard is one of the most valuable players the Hubbers will have and fans of Lubbock and the South Plains are familiar with his work in the game. He hits and fields above the average. "Topper" Rigney, second baseman of the Matador crew, will also try his hand on the Hubber infield working alternately at short and second. Raymond Ater, flash of the local high school club, will serve part time on the mound and at short.

The outfield will be as good an outfield as will be found in West Texas with "Red" Dwain Gaither, former Hubber and recently a member of the Corpus Christi club of the Coast loop, "Chubby" DeWitt, centerfield for the Tech forces, Cecil Hardwick, who has been with the Copper League of Arizona, Jenkins Ater, fleety outfielder, of the city loop, and Raymond Marshall, heavy hitter of the Tech forces. Word was received here yesterday that Gilbert Jackson, left field of the 1925 and 1926 Hubber aggregation, will return to Lubbock this week. Just what Jacksons plans are have not been announced yet, however, the Amarillo Mets state that he will work with them there this season; but as his family is here it is likely that the Hubbers will have a chance for him. Should Jackson join the Hubber forces its outfield will be the strongest in West Texas.

Nichlaus Will Play

At third base "Tuba" Nichlaus, a former member of the Amarillo Metros, will fall in line and hold down the hot corner at third base. Buster Kaufman, Amarillo product, will sack matters at the initial sack. J. B. "Red" Hamilton and "Chink" Burnett will be on the rubber receiving line. Hamilton is acclaimed as one of the best catchers in West Texas and is a valuable man.

"Terrible" Terry, Taylor Ater and Higginbotham will be the moundsmen for the Hubber crew. Terry with his fast ball and fast breaking curve ball will be the main pillar of the mound attachment. Coach Higginbotham will take the hill after some time in limbering up.

Uniforms for the Hubbers are being donated by the Lubbock merchants with their advertisement on the back of the shirts. The uniforms will be ordered within a short time and will be issued by June 1.

Games are being arranged with Pampa, Childress, Clovis, Hereford, Midland, Lamesa, Amarillo Metros and Crane City. Something like forty games will be played here this summer by the Hubbers and a fast nine will represent this city in baseball—all the club asks for from the fans is attendance.

MARSHALL GRABS MATADORS BATTING HONORS; HAMILTON PACES FIELDERS

Coach Ewing Y. Freeland and his crew of Matadors wil leave Wednesday for Roswell, New Mexico, where they will meet with the Cadets of N. M. M. I. in the last game of the season for the Matadors. Last week the Hill Billies of Daniel Baker college, made it three in a row on the Matadors taking a clean sweep of the last home series from the Tech nine. Tech has not had as good a season as the team of last year. The Matadors have dropped eight games out of a total of eleven making them have a percentage of .273.

Marshall, left fielder for the homelings, is leading the hitters of Freeland's machine with an average of .347. "Chubby" DeWitt, who was leading the Matadors until the last series with the Hill Billies, got into a slump and got only one hit in 14 trips while Marshall counted 4 hits in 12 trips. J. B. Hamilton lifted his hitting average in the Billie series by 5 hits in 11 trips against the hurlers of the Daniel Baker nine. Four Matadors are hitting over the .300 mark including Marshall, DeWitt, Hamilton and Waller.

Hamilton Leads Fielders

Hamilton, read-headed receiver for the Freeland aggregation, stepped up in fielding averages to lead the nine with an average of .953.

Loses 18 Inning Hurlers' Battle

Charley Robertson, of the no-hit fame, hooked up in a pretty hurlers' duel yesterday with Guy Bush, of the Chicago Cubs but the Cubs, in the 18th frame drove Robertson off the hill and the Braves were beaten, 7 to 2. The Cubs made but ten hits off Robertson until the unlucky 18th. Bush, allowed 11 safeties during the game.

ROBERTSON

City Ball Players Hitting Fast Pace In Initial Games

Another week has passed in the Lubbock City League and all the clubs are rapidly whipping into shape for real baseball. The Po-Tailors and Auto-Barbers are in the lead with a perfect percentage, accredited to both clubs. The Bankers have a percentage of .667 with two wins in three games played. The money changers were defeated by the Auto-Barbers after two were out in the last inning and the shavers drove in six runs to win the game 8 to 3. The Laundry dropped a couple of more games to the Wholesalers and Auto Barbers; the Wholesalers and Tailors tied one game 7-7; and the Bankers won from Rix.

One game during the week was pitched by Raymond Ater, hurler for the Wholesalers in which he allowed no hits and no runs. Three men reached first on Ater, two walked and one was hit by pitched ball. Stairaker, pitcher for the Auto-Barbers, struck out seven Rix batters in the game he worked against the Undertakers; and Haskell Gayley, who tossed the game against the Bankers at the Merrill Park, whiffed out nine of the Bankers hitters.

The teams in general of settling down to better baseball, and are giving the public plenty of amusement and entertainment.

Games scheduled for this week are:

Tuesday—Bankers at Po-Tailors at Tech Park. Wholesalers at Auto-Barbers at Merrill Park.

Wednesday—Rix at City-Laundry at Tech Park. Po-Tailors at Bankers at Merrill Park.

Thursday — Auto-Barbers at Wholesalers at Tech Park. City Laundry at Rix at Merrill Park.

PITTSBURGH STOPS BROOKLYN BY 6 TO 1 TALLY WITH KREMER UP; CARDS-PHILLIE GAME IS CALLED IN 7TH DUE TO ACCIDENT

(By the Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—The Philadelphia Nationals today went on a batting rampage and defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 12 to 2, in a game which was interrupted in the seventh inning by the collapse of a lower grandstand tier. The game was called after the collapse with St. Louis at bat, and one man out in the first half of the seventh inning.

The Phillies amassed enough runs in the second and third innings to win but put the game beyond reach of the visitors, in the sixth when they scored eight runs, four of which were counted when Wrightstone poled a homer with the bases loaded.

Bush Wins Thriller

BOSTON, May 14 (AP)—Guy Bush of the Chicago Cubs pitched his team to an 18 inning victory over Boston today. The score, thanks to a final inning rally, was 7 to 2. Bush was opposed by Charley Robertson, former Chicago White Sox pitcher, with a no-hit game to his record. Robertson was knocked out of the box in the 18th.

Beck, Adams and Cooney singled and drove in a run. Then Webb doubled and another run came home. Robertson was relieved by Foster Edwards at this juncture and the Cubs made three more tallies on an intentional base on balls, a wild pitch and Stephenson's single. Score:

Pirates Scuttle Elliott

BROOKLYN, May 14 (AP)—Pittsburgh snapped the latest Brooklyn winning streak in the opener of a series here today with a 6 to 1 victory, Kremer stopping the Robins with five hits. The Pirates put the game away in the fourth inning when Traynor's sacrifice scored P. Waner with the winning run, Jim Elliott, the heavyweight southpaw, allowed seven scattered hits but was poorly supported. The score:

Contenders For Tunney's Title

WILL Jim Maloney or Jack Sharkey get a chance at Gene Tunney's crown?

These two Boston heavyweight are now rated among the leading contenders for the heavyweight championship.

They are to meet in New York on May 19 in one of the many heavy weight eliminations that Tex Rickard is staging. One of them is certain to go into the discard.

Jim Maloney, by his surprising victory over the colorful Jack Delaney, has won for himself a large following over the country. But what about the home-town folks and other opinion?

There is no place where one can get the low down on a sport celebrity as in his old home town.

Boston Famous In Ring Circles

UMPIRING in Boston while the national amateur ring championships were being staged, I made it a point to take in the battles between simon-pures and saw some great milling.

Around the ringside I bumped into many of the leading fistic characters in New England. This section, by the way, has always been noted for the classy ringmen it turns out.

At present Red Chapman, Honey-Boy Finnegan, Johnny Vacca and Al Mello are just a few of the prominent title contenders in the various classes.

It struck me that a canvas of the opinions of the fight experts who were famaliar with the ability of Maloney and Sharkey would be of more than passing interest.

I found the Sharkey supporters far outnumbered those who believed Maloney had a chance.

The impression seems to be that Sharkey has Maloney's number. In other words, Maloney is made to order for Sharkey for many reasons, one of which deals with psychology.

Like Sharkey's Chances Best

"SHARKEY is a cocky, aggressive fellow, while Maloney is just the opposite," was the way a well-known Boston manager put it.

"In two meetings between them Sharkey has had a decided edge. He recalls it with a boast, while Maloney also seems to remember it rather vividly.

"Sharkey thinks he is the greatest fighter in the world. Maloney is a much better fighter than he really thinks he is. It has taken much persuasive talk on the part of Maloney's manager to impress it on him."

On all sides I heard Sharkey's courage commended and while no one accused Maloney of lacking "guts," still the inference that one would naturally get from the conversation was that Sharkey would carry on farther than Maloney if hard pressed.

So if you are willing to take the opinion of the home town folks in Boston, Jim Maloney is in for a trimming when he clashes with Jack Sharkey.

Knockout of Roberts Unusual

ALSO got a new slant on the knockout of Eddie Roberts by Al Mello, which was one of the big surprises of the year.

Mello is one of those unorthodox fighters who sticks the right hand out instead of the left. He does most of his dangerous punching with a left hook or swing, while he jabs his opponent into position with a tantalizing right.

According to ringsiders, Roberts was the victim of a most peculiar punch. Meeting in the center of the ring, Mello cut loose with a left swing that landed high on the chest. Roberts turned in such a way that the punch instead of landing solidly slipped upward and the real contact was on Robert's throat. The impact cut off his power to breathe and I am told he fell forward on his face for one of the freakiest knockouts ever seen in this section.

Those not in a position to see where the full force of the blow landed thought Roberts was taking a dive, yet he was badly hurt.

Illini Relay Team Records Win In Every Race Of Year

READING LEFT TO RIGHT: McELWEE, CAPTAIN RUE, SETTIG AND FAIRFIELD

Credit the four-mile relay team with being the most consistent winner of the relay season. In fact, in their event, they stand heads and shoulders above all other four-mile outfits in the nation. This group won every event they entered—the Illinois indoor relay carnival, the Texas relays, the Rice relays, the Kansas relays and the Penn relays. At the Rice relays they came within five seconds of the American intercollegiate mark. The group is headed by Captain Rue and the other three members of the team are McElwee, Settig and Fairfield.

SPUDS BLANK CATS, STEERS BEAT SPORTS, WACO LOSES TO BEARS AND BEAUMONT DEFEATS HOUSTON BUFFS

(By the Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, May 14.—Behind the masterly pitching of Tom Estell, Wichita Falls took the opening game of the series with Fort Worth 7 to 0, here Saturday afternoon. It was the sixth consecutive win of the season for the Spudders over the Panthers.

Dallas Wins Close One

DALLAS, May 14.—One of those high blood pressure games unfolded at Steer park Saturday. The Steers won it, 4 to 2, but only after a ninth inning rally by the Shreveport Sports had thrown a great scare into the 3,500 fans and the 18 Dallas athletes.

Bears Take Early Lead

WACO, May 14.—The San Antonio Bears took the lead in the first inning today and the Cubs were never able to overcome the score and lost, 9 to 6. Pop flys which sailed over the fences for homers were the undoing of the boys from the Brazos. Waco used four pitchers in an endeavor to stop the Bears.

San Antonio ...200 340 000—9 14 0

Lindsey, Ward, Lee and Long; Elliott, Henson, Freeze, Cannon and Murphy.

Rally Is Failure

HOUSTON, May 14.—Houston's great ninth inning rally was ended Saturday when Tommy Taylor lined to Connolly who doubled Miller off first and the Beaumont Exporters won 6 to 5. Houston scored five runs in the ninth inning.

Gene Tunney Would Like One Battle Every Year; Needs Money, He Claims

By JIMMY POWERS

NEW YORK, May 14.—When someone writes a nice story about Gene Tunney—that's news, to reverse the gag anent the prince throwing a horse.

Gene arrived in New York, bag and baggage, fresh from a coast to coast vaudeville tour of varying success. His last stop was Cleveland where he boxed an exhibition and departed with the boos of some 6000 customers ringing in his sensitive eardrums.

His return to the home village was not exactly a panic and he ensconced himself at an uptown hotel where he is receiving all comers—barring only the clouting variety.

Here is his newest bid for the favor of the fans. It rings with evident sincerity:

"At least I'm not lining my pockets with easy money pushing over setups. There are any number of heavyweights extant who, while they might not draw million-dollar gates, nevertheless, would make it worth a champion's trouble entee the ring with them.

"I am not a "smart" business man in the sense that I could pick my foemen and amass a fortune much quicker than the tedious routine of vaudeville boookings.

"I am a fighter by profession and I would like to fight at least every six months, but I intend to limit myself to one big fight a year.

"Take the current heavyweight elimination tournament. Has it ever occurred to anybody that each time these heavyweights draw down big purses fighting each other, indoors or out, for selection as my opponent next September, that it means a 'business' loss to me?

"I know I can go out and pick a few of the setups in the crowd and make money for myself instead of standing idly by. I would not be risking my crown because of their patent mediocrity. Understand, there are some mighty good men there—but if I wanted to be cagey I could select the setups."

And Tunney is right.

Even the popular idol, Dempsey, was not above picking a chump now and then to fill his wallet with sucker dough. Remember the hysteria over Brennan, Miske and that gorgeous false alarm, Georges Carpentier?

By the time the current crop of contenders get through eliminating each other, at so many thousand dollars per elimination, there is no gainsaying the last man left will be the best heavyweight!

Gene isn't picking his stuffed shirts. And he's not exactly growing filthy with money in the meantime. He onught to get credit for that.

All the "high hat" hooey you hear is bologna soup. Gene is stationed at the Breslin hotel and he's easier to meet than even the genial Dempsey who had inner and outer guards.

"Whom do you rank as best contender?" I asked him.

"Mahoney, Sharkey, Dempsey and Delaney," he replied, grinning his even, white-toothed grin.

Students Plan a Summer Of Travel

CANYON, May 14.—Seven of the twelve members of Canyon high school will spend the summer in study or travel. Superintendent Jim Webb will attend the University of Chicago. Miss Evelyn Tanner will attend Peabody college at Nashville. Miss Jewell Cowan will travel in the west. Gordon Fuller and John Randolph will do graduate work at Ann Arbor, Michigan. Miss Alice Miller will spend the summer in the University at Boulder, Colorado.

Ten of Canyon's eleven high school teachers hold degrees. All those who are studying are working toward the Master's degree.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA WINS B YSETTING WORLD RECORD

LOS ANGELES, May 14 (AP)—The University of Southern California four man half mile relay team today clipped one and two fifths seconds of the world's record for the event at a dual track field meet with the Los Angeles Athletic club here today, setting a new mark of one minute, 26 seconds. The previous time was one minute, 27 and two fifths seconds set by the New York Athletic club team in 1921 at Pasodena.

The University of Southern California, won the meet, 74 to 56.

Marion Turple, South's Leader Of Women Golfers, Remains On Course

SHE WILL NOT QUIT TO GO TO COLLEGE BUT PREFERS LINKS

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 14.—"You play your game and I'll play mine!"

Tersely, this is the philosophy which guides Marion Turple, the South's feminine Bobby Jones, who at 17 holds the Southern women's golf title. Possibly it has something to do with the tenacious manner in which she clings to golf instead of alloting it secondary place while attending college.

"It's like this," she explains, "if I go to college I will sacrifice the best years of my golf career. It simply means I must choose between going to college and playing golf. I prefer to play golf."

She is a child of the links. True to her name, she is of Scotch extraction and was born at St. Andrews, Scotland, while her father, George Turpie, was a clubmaker at the famous old course.

From the time Marion could hold a club in her hand, golf was her game. When she was three years old she was the constant companion of her father in his golf shop.

Was she to be a pianist like her mother or a golfer like her father? She chose the gruelling lessons of the links. She also learned to play the piano. But golf is her name; music her diversion.

At seven, she defeated her father when he tried to give her two strokes a hole. She shot an 81 for nine holes. At 13, she won her first tournament, a handicap event, open to men and women. And then, at 17, she is the woman's champion in the South.

Twice she has knocked for entrance at the doors of the national women's tournament. Now she is putting in long hours daily, with her father, who is professional at the Audubon Park club, lengthening her drives and adding sureness to her putts, for the southern tourney early in May and for another try at the national women's championship.

Sons Of Nippon, Here For Series Of Ball Games, Are Diamond Stars

By NEA Service

PALO ALTO, Calif., May 14.—Quite interesting are these Japanese ball players from Waseda University.

They frown on football and liken it to war, they're shocked at professionalism in any sport, but how they do love to play baseball!

That's their national game—baseball! Even the tired business men have organized baseball clubs. But it is all as simon-pure as our most simon-pure exponents would have it.

The Waseda outfit, intercollegiate champions of Japan, are here for a two months' tour to meet several of the leading college teams of the country.

They got their first glimpse of American football when they watched "Pop" Warner put his grid outfit through spring practice a few days ago.

Their verdict practically amounted to this: It may be the great collegiate sport here, but it is a lot of pineapples to them!

"When we fight, we use bayonets!" exclaimed Captain T. Himuro, after watching the husky Cardinal squad in action. "Athletics to us are for play; that looks like war and war is business!"

So you can imagine what a shock the sons of Nippon received when they were informed that a lot of baseball players, tennis players, golfers and Red Granges made quite a handsome living following some sport as a business.

Football in Japan is English rugby. The open play, without so much bruising is more to the Japanese physique and temperament, says Professor Jun Ishii, manager of the team.

American football will never take a firm hold in Japan because the Nipponese like quickness and skill in their sports, he said.

The Waseda team, after meeting Stanford, will play in other California towns against leading college teams and will then trek across the continent for games with college teams in Salt Lake, Chicago and Toronto. They will also meet Yale, Harvard, West Virginia and the Marine Corps before they start their trip back.

On the return trip they'll meet Chicago, Butler, Indiana, and the Washington Huskies, the latter series concluding their trip and allowing them to sail for home late in June, via Hawaii.

Insurance Rate At Hereford Reduced

HEREFORD, May 14—Hereford's key rate for fire insurance has just been lowered thirteen cents, according to Ralph Barnett, local fire insurance representative. The rate was formerly fifty cents and is now thirty-seven.

An eight inch main was laid around the business section of Hereford last year, and more than 1,000 feet of extensions of water mains were put down over various parts of the city. This was largely responsible for the key rate reduction here, according to Mr. Barnett.

Canyon Students Awarded Diplomas

CANYON, May 14.—Last night forty-one boys and girls of the Canyon high school received diplomas won by four years of earnest and hard work. They were: Mary Louise Anderson, Bailey Bandy, Leau Ada Bowen, Lurline Bowman, Alton Cain, Myrtle Carter, Bessie Chambers, Terrill Christian, Sam Cleland, Marion Downing, Jewell Faulkner, Catherine Frank, Julian Glenn, Margaret Griffin, Louise Guthrie, Birda Ann Hastings, Otis Higdon, Ishmael Hill, Helen Howard, Madeline Kyle, Roy Matney, Joe McReynolds, Freda Menke, Lucille Middleton, Vira Norman, Ira Pearson, Murble Pearson, S. B. Penick, Spurgeon Reid, Frances Roberts, Theresa Robinson, Shirley Shook, Ella Steen, Charles Strain, Anna Totty, J. B. Watson Cornelia West, Otis Whitman, Alta Williams, Delpha Wood, and Hazel Woodruff.

Commencement exercises for the high school department of the Canyon Teachers college will be held the last week in May.

Auctioneer was arrested while disposing of some captured rum boats. Spectators said it took the wind out of his sales.

One reason why newspapers give so much space to affairs like the Snyder trial is that many readers are weepers.

Buffalo Band To Render Concerts

CANYON, May 14.—The thirty-piece band of the West Texas State Teachers college is giving a series of concerts this week-end, May 14, 15 and 16, at the following towns: Groom, McLean, Shamrock, Wellington, Clarendon and Claude. The party will return to Canyon Monday afternoon.

The college band is directed by Professor C. E. Strain. A special sacred concert will be played at one of the churches in Wellington.

Besides the band numbers, the programs will be given variety by a very short lecture at each place by a member of the college faculty, by violin solos, and by readings. Miss Dolphia Carmack, a member of the graduating class of the college, accompanies the band as reader. Herschel Coffee, well known violinist and member of the music department faculty, is violin soloist.

Fathers used to strap their children. Now children keep their fathers strapped.

Legal Notices

SHERIFF'S SALE
THE STATE OF TEXAS,
County of Lubbock.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable 74th District Court of McLennan county, of the 12th day of May, 1927, by the Clerk of said Court for the sum of Nineteen Thousand Seven Hundred Forty-six and 47-100 Dollars (19,746.47) and costs of suit, under a judgment, in favor of Amicable Life Insurance company in a certain cause in said Court, No. 8414 and styled Amicable Life Insurance company vs. O. E. Sears, et al, placed in my hands for service, I, H. L. Johston, as Sheriff of Lubbock County, Texas, did, on the 14 day of May, 1927, levy on certain Real Estate, situated in Lubbock Coutny, Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

All that certain land situated and described as follows; 640 acres of land more or less being all of Survey No. 50 Block P. Cert. No. 35-59 original grantee ACH & B Railway company and being the same land conveyed by T. H. Sears to O. E. Sears by deed recorded in the deed records of Lubbock County, Texas, to which deed and the record thereof of reference is here made for all legal purposes and particularly for description of this land, said land being located in Lubbock County, Texas, said tract of land being located about 5 miles Northwest of the City of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, and being known as the Sears Farm.

And levied upon as the property of O. E Sears and wife, Ribbon R. Sears, and that on the first Tuesday in June, 1927, the same being the 7th day of said month, at Court House door, of Lubbock County, in the city of Lubbock, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. by virtue of said levy and said Order of Sale I will sell above described Real Estate at public vendue for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said O. E Sears and wife, Ribbon R. Sears.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale in a newspaper published in Lubbock County.

Witness my hand, this 14 day of May, 1927.

H. L. JOHNSTON,
Sheriff Lubbock County, Texas.
BY VERNICE FORD, Deputy.

Robbed Elsewhere

BORGER, May 14. (AP)—After residing in Borger, reputed to be a wild town, for six months and living a peaceful life with the exception of being shot at by bootleggers and jailed by rangers, Vic Wagner, city editor of the Borger Daily Herald, was last night robbed of $20 in an Amarillo hotel, he reported on his return here tonight. Wagner says he forgot to lock the door of his room, and when he woke this morning, found his trousers rifled and his money gone.

That's my donation but its authentic.

FOR THE LATE BUYERS

We have a number of beautiful monuments finished, and carved, complete except the lettering, and can make prompt delivery of a limited number by Memorial Day. . . . Don't wait too long though, to place the order as it takes just so long to do this. Good work such as we do cannot be hurried.

You need have no hesitancy in trusting us with your order, we use only the best grades of material, employ highly skilled artisans, and have modern machinery for them to work with. The very finest memorials in the Lubbock Cemetery are products of our shop. And our prices are no higher than those of the itinerant peddler, usually less.

Airplane View Of Tornado

This remarkable airplane photo, rushed to the Avalanche-Journal by chartered airplane and telephoto wires, gives a comprehensive view of the devastated business distrct of Poplar Bluff, Mo., where more than 80 people lost their lives and 300 were hurt by a tornado. Note how some buildings were completely wrecked while adjacent ones were unharmed.

DAILY MARKETS

COTTON OIL SLOW

NEW YORK, May 14 (AP)—Cottonseed oil was inactive today and irregular over a narrow range with no particular feature. Commission houses sold July and bought December, with the close four points lower on July and 1 to 9 higher on later positions. Sales were only 3,100 barrels. Prime crude 7.37½; prime summer yellow spot 8.90; May closed 8.90; July 9.08; September 9.41; October 9.47; December 9.54.

COFFEE QUIET

NEW YORK, May 14 (AP)—Coffee futures were very quiet today with rather irregular and narrow fluctuations reflecting little more than the usual week-end evenings up of small accounts. The opening was 7 points highe to 5 points lower. September sold off from 11.90 to 11.87, the market closing net 5 points lower to 4 points higher. Sales 4,000 bags. Closing quotations May 13.47; July 12.50; September 11.87; December 11.48; January 11.40; March 11.31; May (1928) 11.15.

Spot coffee dull. Rio 7s 15 1-4 to 15 3-8; Santos 4s 16 3-4 to 16.

SHEEP LOWER

FORT WORTH, May 14. (AP)—A decline in prices of sheep of all grades marked the livestock market here today on which trading was nominal because of light receipts the. The decline was about fifty cents for all grades except shorn slaughter lambs and yearlings which lost fifty to 75 cents.

Receipts: Hogs 300; cattle 250; including 50 calves; sheep 2,300.

WOOL BETTER

BOSTON, May 14. (AP)—Trading in wool is showing further improvement. Although transactions are moderate in volume, they have been more frequent, and sales of sizeable quantities were consummated. Combing classes of domestic wools are the most active. Business is distributed a little more evenly from fine to 48-50's. Prices are fairly steady.

SUGAR STEADY

NEW YORK, May 14. (AP)—The raw sugar market was steady and unchanged today at 4.83 for spot Cuban duty paid. No sales were reported, but there was a buying interest at that level.

Raw sugar futures were firmer on covering for the week-end and buying by commission houses, promoted by the steadier tone to the spot market.

CORN ADVANCES

CHICAGO, May, 14. (AP)—Corn took the center of the stage today, and jumped to the top point reached yet this season both for July and September contracts. Decreasing stocks of corn here, together with adverse weather conditions and unusually lateness of planting, gave incentive for speculative buying.

Corn closed strong, 1 1-4 cent to 2 cent net higher, wheat unchanged to 1-8 cent up, oats showing 1-8 cent to 3-8 cent advance and provisions the same as yesterday finish to a rise of 35 cents.

Wheat trade failed to show snap today, traders flocking to the corn crowd.

Provisions were responsive to corn strength and to firmness of the hog market.

COTTON DECLINES

NEW YORK, May 14. (AP)—Prospects for good weather in the south over Sunday, and rather smaller domestic consumption figures for April than expected, were considered responsible for declines in the cotton market today. July contracts sold off to 15.50 and closed at 15.53, the general market closing steady at net declines of 10 to 13 points.

Relatively firm Liverpool cables evidently failed to make any impression of consequence on sentiment here and the market opened five points higher on May, but generally one to four points lower under realizing, together with some local and southern selling promoted by the better weather news.

Compartively light offerings were readily absorbed at initial prices. There seemed to be a little trade buying in addition to covering, but selling became more active after the publication of the census report. This placed domestic consumption for April at 619,140 bales, against 694,193 during March, and 577,678 during April last year. While the comparison with last year was bullish, the falling off as compared with March appeared to be a little greater than anticipated by local buyers. At any rate selling became a little more active after its publication even though it may have been based on the better weather outlook rather than on the consumption figures, and the lowest prices of the day were reached in late trading.

May sold off to 15.53, October to 15.83 and December to 16.04 or 11 to 16 points net lower. Last prices were a shade up from the lowest on covering.

Private cables said that some early hedge selling in Liverpool had been absorbed by trade calling, covering and Manchester buying and the market there was five to six points better than due on the New York close of Friday. Manchester advices reported a small cloth turnover and said that the new minimum prices for yarns made of American cotton were checking business. The amount of cotton remaining on shipboard at the close of the week, awaiting clearance was estimated 147,75 bales against 91,152 last year.

CLERK HALTS BOMB

Bomb Aimed for Governor Stopped By Postal Employe at Boston Depot

BOSTON, May 14 (AP)—The keen eyesight and quick thinking of a postal employee prevented delivery to Governor Alvan T. Fuller of a pound of dynamite from a Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizer, it became known today. The dynamite was contained in a small parcel to which was tied the following note: "Governor of Massachusetts: I have succeeded in getting 1:4 of a ton of this. If Sacco and Vanzetti are going to be murdered I am going to get more and use it. (Signed) A citizen of the world."

Although it was believed that the governor would not have been endangered by receipt of the parcel since it contained no detonating apparatus, officials here were quick to praise Clerk Frank W. Steele, who picked it out of the mail at the Burlington avenue post station and gave it to his superiors for examination.

The package was discovered on May 10, but it was only today after the explosive had been destroyed and efforts to find the mailer had failed that the governor was informed. Inspector Park D. Colvin of the postoffice said that there was no clue either to the mailer or to the point in the city where it was placed in the mail. It was apparently unnoticed until reached the central sorting room at the Burlington station.

Do you suppose that all the Chinese really want, after all, is a little Peking?

Some Butcher

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Harry Gordon, butcher on trial for killing a business rival, rates himself a super-champion in his "profession." On the stand he said he once killed and skinned a steer in seven minutes and it took a dozen other butchers over an hour to do such.

By The Mile

NEW YORK—The latest marathon craze is black bottoming by the mile. Margaret Miller, 18, has been awarded a silver cup at a dance hall. When she stopped a speedometer registered 39.5 miles.

Buys Land

TARRYTON, N. Y.—John D. Rockefeller now owns about five square miles in the Pocantico hills of Westchester county. He has just increased his holdings by paying $450,000 for 450,000 acres for which a real estate development was planned.

Smart Man

WEST POINT, N. Y.—Charles M. Schwab seems to have made a hit with the boys at the military academy. Heading a delegation of visiting engineers he spoke to the cadets in the mess hall and because they were hungry, cut the speech short, telling them to read it in the papers.

Parson Dead

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa.—The Rev. "Uncle Henry" DeLong, marrying parson, is dead at 92. He had united 2,900 couples at wedding in various places from theaters to airplanes. He came westward with Brigham Young, left him, worked in a gambling house and as a cowboy, then was converted by an evangelist.

Blonde Preferred

NEW YORK—Gobs' preferences are like other gentlemen. The Atlantic fleet voted and the following was given out as tpical of 2,500 ballots: "A girl with blonde hair, blue eyes, rolled stockings, short skirts, of medium height, with a boyish bob, with a talkative nature and with 20 summers behind her."

Rather Late

NEWARK, N. J.—Mrs. Theodore Hoffman was puzzled when she got a post card telling of the birth of a second granddaughter at Bound Brook, 25 miles away. "Why should they name the baby the same as their other daughter?" She asked. Then she looked at the card again. It was post marked December 25, 1915.

JUDGING CONTESTS ARE STAGED HERE

OLTON, LITTLEFIELD AND RALLS WIN TECH EVENTS

Presenting what officials termed as very representative judging, the teams of Olton, Littlefield and Ralls high schools won in the three divisions of the second annual vocational agriculture judging contest of the Texas Technological college yesterday afternoon. Littlefield was declared winner in the poultry judging contest, Olton in the livestock and Ralls in the plant production contest. Eight teams from schools of this section participated in the contest.

In the livestock judging contest, Olton high was winner with a total of 1618 points while Snyder followed closely with 1518 points. Francis Dill, of the Olton team was high point man of the division with 581 points and Boynton Martin, of Snyder was second man with 567 points.

Littlefield high, with 1522 points, won the poultry judging division with Jack Brannen, high point 536 and L. Harris, 504 points, leading the other teams. Sudan high's team won second with a total of 1462 points.

Ralls Wins Division

In the plant propogation contest, Ralls high school's team was winner of first placed with 1105 points while Sudan was second with 1069 points. Sam Bryan, of Ralls was high man with 399 points in the division while his brother Audry Bryan was second with 384 points as his total.

The Olton team, coached by Charles Bearfield, was also winner at the contest held at Canyon last week and showed superior work in the judging yesterday. The team hopes to make a good showing in the state meet at College Station soon. Dill was also high point man at the Canyon meet.

Loving Cups Given

The three teams, winners of the divisions will be presented with beautiful 18 inch silver loving cups by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. They are on display at the Anderson Brothers Jewelry store all this week. The three high point winners, Francis Dill, of Olton; Sam Bryan, of Ralls and Jack Brannen, of Littlefield, will be presented by scholarships from the college.

Coaches and members of the winning teams were: Littlefield; Freeman, coach, L. Harris, C. Harris, and J. Brannen; Olton, C. E. Bearfield, coach, Lee Kidd, Francis Dill and Otis Hively; Ralls, O. T. Williams, coach, Audry Bryan, Sam Bryan, and Ervin Gabert.

Members of the school of agriculture faculty of the college, headed by Roy C. Mowery, who had charge conducted the contests. Evans, a local poultry man, aided in the poultry judging contest.

Officials were well pleased with the judging of the students and stated that the work showed much improvement over last year.

FLOOD RELIEF LOAN

One Million to Be Lent to the Farmers in Devastated Areas of Mississippi

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—A plan for formation of a $1,000,000 finance corporation by Mississippi bankers for relief of farmers in that state was approved today by the federal farm loan board.

The board indicated that it would approve advances by the Intermediate Credit bank to the Mississippi rehabilitation corporation up to a total of $4,000,000 if necessary, on the basis of a paid in capital of $1,000,000.

When the committee of bankers which conferred with the board left Mississippi $361,000 had been subscribed. It was expected by members of the committee that a half million dollars would be obtained within the state. Outside capital also may be brought into the project.

The delegates will be able to secure the official regalia on the train. Those who plan to make the trip to Wichita Falls in cars can secure the official regalia at the chamber of commerce office this morning or can secure it at the Lubbock booth at Wichita Falls. All delegates who go to the convention in cars are asked to report at the Lubbock booth.

The annual parade which is expected to be five miles in length will form form at one o'clock and will get under way at one-thirty Monday afternoon. Lubbock will represent Spain in the procession which will be a congress of nations, each delegation representing some country.

Lubbock will receive first hand news from the convention through the services of Chas. A. Guy, staff correspondent for the Avalanche-Journal publications.

the river.

Fifteen Smaller Breaks

In addition to the five major breaks along Bayou Des Glaises, aviators flying over the district reported at least fifteen minor crevasses through which the water was tearing.

The airplane observation also revealed serious threats along the east bank of the Atchafalaya and weak spots at Morganza, 30 miles above Baton Rouge on the west side of the river. All appeared to be under control, the report said.

The escaping water tonight already had blanketed more than 250 square miles of fertile Avoyelles parrish farming lands and was spreading swiftly southward to cover the crops and thickly populated settlements in four other parishes, St. Landry, St. Martin, Idera and St. Mary.

200,000 Homeless

More than 200,000 persons will be affected by the flood and another million acres will be added to the other millions already covered by the Mississippi in the greatest flood in the history of the valley. MISS PIRTLE HONORED BY NATIONAL FRATERNITY

Miss Ruth Pirtle, director of public speaking and dramatics of the college, has been elected to membership in Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic fraternity, it was learned yesterday through college officials. The qualifications for membership in the organization are strict in their requirements and election indicates achievement in the study of dramatics.

Miss Pirtle has had several years experience in the study of the drama and speech. She has studied in the Curry school of Expression, The Hickman school of Speech Arts, Lyceum Arts conservatory, the University of Colorado and the University of California. She is to complete work in Columbia University in New York City this fall.

Miss Prtle's membership in the organization entitles the Tech to a chapter. It will be sometime yet before a strong chapter can be established here as there are not enough students to answer the requirements for membership at present.

SENIORS TO HAVE EXAMINATIONS EARLY

Because of the rush of the commencement program which will occupy most of their time, the seniors of the college will be given their examinations earlier than the remainder of the students. It was announced yesterday by officials. No definite date has been set for the senior examinations but they will likely be more than a week ahead of the regular schedule.

STUDENT COUNCIL TO MAKE ELECTION LIMITATIONS

At the suggestion of those who have been through numerous student elections at other institutions, the members of the student council will meet Monday night to consider making limitations on the students who are to be elected to the official positions in the students' association. Considering the fact that the Tech is a new school and that difficulties have arisen, the members of the student council will probably go on record favoring only the election of upper classmen to offical positions of the students' association.

The second annual election of the officers of the students association will be held, Monday 23 at a special convocation held in the Stock Judging pavilion of the college.

FACULTY MEMBERS MAKING COMMENCEMENT SPEECHES

Numerous visits are being made now by members of the faculty of the college as they go before the crop of South Plains high school graduates. Heading the list with the largest number of addresses is Dr. Paul W. Horn. His speaking engagements are practically complete and will cover the high schools of this section in a very able manner. More than 50 commencement addresses were made by President Horn last year as he made the rounds over the Plains.

This year his addresses were placed on other members of the faculty. Practically all the next two weeks will be spent by various members in making the addresses.

CANTATA TO OPEN COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM

Opening the commencement programs at the college will be the presentation of Sir Frederick Cowen's "Rose Maiden" cantata, one of the most popular cantatas ever written, which will be given at the college on the night of May 26. The production will be given under the direction of Prof. W. R. Waghorne, head of the music department of the college.

The Choral club of the college, which is composed of a splendid corps of soloists, the double quartette of the faculty, and a few members of the old local Choral club which was directed by A. G. Pfaff, will take part in the program.

The production will be given entirely free of charge and will begin at 8 o'clock. Prof. Waghorne is endeavoring to secure the services of a small orchestra to give local color to the accompaniments.

TWO PLAYS TO BE PRESENTED TO SOCK AND BUSKINS

Members of the class in dramatic technique of the college will entertain the Sock and Buskin club in their regular meeting, Tuesday night, with the presentation of two plays, "In the Darkness," and "The Prairie Doll." The first play will be directed by Miss Thelma Wiles and the latter one by Miss Ruth Forbes.

The night will be visitors night and every club member is urged to invite outsiders for the plays. Any one in the town or college is extended an open invitation to attend the productions.

According to Miss Ruth Pirtle, teacher of the technique class, the two plays are the best amateur productions ever staged at the college. The casts will be composed entirely of students of the technique study classes.

Radio Lecture To Tell Of Education

CANYON, May 14.—Frank R. Phillips, head of the department of agriculture at the West Texas State Teachers college, will broadcast a lecture on "The Dollars and Cents Value of an Education," from the radio station at Amarillo. Some weeks ago Mr. Phillips lectured on "Dairying."

The fact that on May 19, following the above lecture by radio, Mr. Phillips will give a commencement address before the graduating class of the Farwell, Texas, high school is an example of the diverse public service rendered by faculty members of the Teachers college.

SAN ENGELO, May 14. (AP)—Pitcher Ridley of Sonora high school struck out sixteen batsmen while holding San Angelo to six hits at Sonora today and polled a home run in the eighth that broke a tie existing for four innings and won for his club, 2 to 1. The strike outs ran Ridley's total in the last two games to thirty.

Chicago Scientist Discovers Miracle That Gives 334 Gallons of Gas at 1¢ a Gallon.

Try It Free

CHICAGO, ILL.—The automobile world is agog over the amazing results of the new gasoline discovery made by the Chicago scientist, L. Forgrave. It is an entirely different, new, scientific idea. Never before anything like it. It is not a mechanical contraption, carburetor device or dope to put in gasoline. Its action is astonishing. Here's its strange features—it is positively guaranteed to give 334 gallons of gas at only 1c a gallon every 10,000 miles. It is named Motor-Mystery and is also guaranteed to instantly eliminate carbon, increase speed, power and pep. One of its strongest features is that it is needed only every 10,000 miles. It costs practically nothing and saves $200.00 to $100.00 yearly.

A straight salary of $100.00 weekly with commission and Free Dodge car are guaranteed to producing agents everywhere to introduce this new marvel quickly. A Free Trial and agents' new plan will be sent without obligation to anyone who writes quickly to L. K. Forgrave, director, M-M Laboratories, 692-N, Clark St. Chicago, Ill.

VOL. 1. NO. 35. LUBBOCK, LUBBOCK COUNTY, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MAY 15, 1927 (AP) MEANS "BY ASSOCIATED PRESS"

HIGHWAY WORK WILL BEGIN MONDAY

REGRADING OF STATE ROADS TO BE DIVISION-WIDE; WORK WILL START IN SOUTH PART OF DAWSON COUNTY

The State Highway department, through Major Pettus Hemphill, division engineer of the fifth division here, will begin Monday morning on one of the largest concerted regrading programs ever undertaken in the history of the department in the state when twenty tractors and proportionate graders and other equipment will begin regrading of highways throughout this division following concentration of all available equipment at the south end of Dawson county on state highway No. 9.

Concentration of the equipment has been under way for two or three weeks, and the state department recently alloted ten additional tractors to the division, all of which, together with all available tractors on hand and what can be secured from counties affected by the program will be used in the project. Counties affected by the program are expected to co-operate in the movement by supplying all available tractors, it was said.

Tractor Men to Watch

Representatives of various tractor and grader companies will be on the scene at the opening of the campaign, and several of these will remain until completion of the work, which it is estimated will require about three months. Every state maintained highway in the division will be regraded under plans for the campaign, and it was explained that under the system adopted, the work can be carried with much more speed and economy.

Various types of graders, including the Russell, Austin and Adams will be tested out during the campaign, as will two or three makes of tractors and other equipment, much of which is being furnished to the department free for exhibition purposes.

No. 9 Is First

Highway No. 9, on which work will start, whill be regraded across the division from the south end of Dawson county to the north end of Hale as the first unit in the project. Work will then be taken up on No. 28, known as the Lee highway east and west across Hale county, with No. 7 from Garza county through Bailey next, and No. 53 from Terry county through Dickens. More than 600 miles of highway is involved in the program, and it is anticipated that highways over the division will be in the best shape in the history of the department.

Major Hemphill will personally be in general supervision of the work, and said that by the program much time will be saved. The work is a part of the state maintenance program. One tractor with graders and other equipment will follow directly behind each other, and the caravan will be sufficient in number to completely finish the highway from each side as it moves forward, doing away with the necessity of turning the large machines with much loss of time. It was said also that the picking up by each tractor of the part of the grade left by the one ahead will save moisture in the soil and allow it to be placed in position and packed before it dries out.

No. 53 Is Last

It was said that No. 53 is being left until the last to permit clearing up of the question that now exists over the route east from Lubbock. In a communication received Saturday by Major Hemphill from H. A. Thompson, state highway engineer, it was said that the question of the route of highway was discussed at a recent meeting of the state commission, but that no ac-

Baptists To Open 2-Weeks' Revival

A two weeks revival service, to be conducted by Rev. Marcellus Watkins, will get under way at the Avenue Q and 19th street Baptist church at 11 a. m. this morning, it was announced last night. Mr. Watkins was formerly pastor of the Baptist church at Lorenzo and prior to his calling there had considerable evangelistic experience.

Herbert Finly, of Lubbock, with seven years' experience in church choir and music work, will direct the singing. Mr. Watkins said. There will be two services daily, one each day and one each night, but the exact time for them has not yet been set. Rev. W. A. Todd is pastor of the church.

Jennings To Speak To Grads At Ralls

Rev. Walter P. Jennings, pastor of the First Christian church, of this city, will leave this morning for Ralls, where this morning he is to deliver a baccalaureate sermon to graduates of the senior class of the high school there, and tonight he will address the graduating class at Quitaque.

He plans to go from Quitaque Sunday night and join the Lubbock delegation to the West Texas chamber of commerce at Wichita Falls, when the party reaches Memphis, going from there to the convention. Rev. Jennings next Sunday will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of Lubbock high school.

TOURISTS ARRIVING IN THE ALPINE REGION

ALPINE, May 14.—Summer tourists are beginning to arrive in Alpine and "the Alps of Texas," a large number are here almost every night camped in the Alpine tourist park, and some are renting cottages and light housekeeping rooms and expect to spend the entire summer here in the highlands of Texas where they can keep cool and comfortable.

IT PAYS TO SAVE

KANSAS CITY — Two weary "knights of the road" trudged along toward Kansas City berating the unkind fates that had left them without a dime or a meal in two days. Then they saw two high school boys struggling in the waters of a flooded creek, jumped in, saved them. Kansas City, appreciative, said it with $300, watches, clothing, food and offers of good jobs. But the pair moved on, accepting free bus transportation to St. Louis.

PHARR IMPOSES MANY SENTENCES

FORMAL SENTENCES METED TO FIFTEEN CONVICTED IN RECENT TERM

Formal sentences were imposed Saturday by Judge Homer L. Pharr in 72nd criminal district court here on several prisoners following their conviction the past week on various charges, and the court adjourned for the term Saturday night after completion of the six weeks session. Fifteen cases were disposed of during the last two weeks of the term which was alloted for trial of criminal matters, and convictions were secured by District attorney Durwood H. Bradley in all except four of the cases.

Of these four two were instructed verdicts by the court, and one was a hung jury. One acquittal was returned by the jury on testimony.

Judge Pharr and Mr. Bradley, with Court Reporter Chas. Smith, will leave Monday for Morton, in Cochran county ,where they will open the regular spring term there, remaining for two weeks. In the meantime, 99th civil court under Judge Clark M. Mullican will continue to grind here for six more weeks, and the bar will meet when court opens Monday morning for resetting of all cases on the docket, and discussion of Bar Association rules.

CLUB WOMAN IS GUEST AT CHAMBER MEETING

ALPINE, May 14.—Mrs. J. W. Fields, of Haskell, president of the Federation of Women's clubs of Texas, will be the honor guest of a luncheon given Saturday by the Brewster county Chamber of Commerce at the Holland hotel here. Plates for eighty have been arranged for. The state president will be introduced by Mrs. W. Van Sickle, president of the Alpine Study club. A number of receptions and entertainments will be given for Mrs. Fields, who will arrive in Alpine late this afternoon. A drive over the city and to the nearby places of interest will be a feature of entertainment arranged for Mrs. Fields.

Simialr data will be collected in other countries to find which nation produces the best proportioned women.

Man Suspected Of Robbery Returned

A. F. Lemans, who was arrested two or three days ago in Jefferson, Texas, in connection with the robbery last month of the Elida, New Mexico bank, spent a few hours in the Lubbock county jail Friday night enroute in the custody of J. R. Poindexter ,sheriff of Roosevelt county, New Mexico, to Portales to face charges of bank robbery.

Lemans, who has been in the flooded districts of the Mississippi valley for some time after spending a short time in Texas immediately following the bank robbery, came back into Texas due to high waters, officers in charge of him said. Lemans is silent regarding the charges, refusing to say whether or not he was implicated in the robbery, it was said.

Two men, one of them arrested in Iowa Park, Texas, and the other near Amarillo, several days ago, are now held in Portales in connection with the robbery, and according to officers both have confessed participation. Three men are said to have staged the robbery, taking about $3,500.

Sheriff Poindexter left here Saturday morning for Portales with the prisoner.

Big Spring Is To Have A Warehouse

BIG SPRING, May 14.—H. O. Wooten, wholesale grocery man of Big Spring, is building at the corner of First and Johnson Streets a fire proof storage and warehouse fifty by one hundred feet. This will be the second fire proof wholesale grocery building. J. M. Radford recently having completed a two story structure at the corner of First and Runnels streets.

Another industry recently locating in Big Spring is the Winn Produce company whose business has grown so fast that they are clearing off a lot at the corner of First and Gregg streets and will begin work on a cold storage plant as soon as the house on the present location is taken off. The Texas and Pacific railway owns the location and will move the house to the southwestern corner of the same block and continue to use it for residence for their employees.

Sponsors From Lubbock In Regalia Of Spanish Senoritas, Will Attend C. of C. Convention Social Events

While Misses Ruth Dunn and Anna Bell Collins are representing Lubbock and Technological college as sponsors at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Wichita Falls this week, they are scheduled to attend many social functions that have been calendared for the days, attended by their escorts, Herbert Street and Ogden Horne.

The Court of Nations, in which Lubbock is Spain, is to be the most brilliant event of the entire convention, according to plans that have been made. This event falls at 8 o'clock on Monday evening and there is to be a formal presentation of Miss West Texas, Miss New Mexico, the sponsors and escorts from all West Texas towns at Spudder park. This colorful affair is to be illuminated with a pyrotechnic display. An official reception and ball honoring Miss West Texas and Miss New Mexico and all sponsors and escorts will be given at the Country club following the Court of Nations. Miss Wichita Falls will be the official hostess at this.

As Traditional Senorita

For the events of that evening, Miss Dunn, Lubbock's sponsor, is to appear as the traditional Spanish senorita is known. A sparkling brunette, she will be gowned in a rich black tightly fitting gown, a black lace mantilla will be held in place by a high comb and will trail almost to the floor. Red roses will furnish the only color note.

Miss Collins, Technological college representative, brunette also, is to wear a white mantilla which will fall about her shoulders. Her dress decollete of very pale flesh georgette, is trimmed only in rhinestones and with it she will wear a large Spanish shawl embroidered with red roses. With this costume her slippers will be silver.

Other Events

Other courtesies that have been scheduled for the sponsors will fill Monday and Tuesday.

At 9 o'clock Monday morning there is to be a rehearsal for the Court of Nations and this will be followed at 11:30 o'clock with a welcome fete and breakfast at the Country club honoring sponsors, wives of West Texas Chamber of Commerce officials and other distinguished guests.

At 1:30 o'clock the sponsors will march in parade with their own delegations. There is to be nothing else particularly until that evening.

Tea Dansant Tuesday

Following a ride over the city for the sponsors and escorts on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, there is to be a tea dansant, honoring Miss West Texas, Miss New Mexico, sponsors and escorts, given by the Wichita Falls club at the Country club. Young women of Wichita Falls will take the groups on the ride over the city.

The Woman's Forum, of Wichita Falls, is to have hostesses at all sessions of the convention. The mezzanine floor of Kemp Hotel is to be municipal headquarters for sponsors, chaperones and all visiting women.

Tech Sends Midland Sponsor

Miss Margaret Snodgrass, freshman student at the Technological college is to attend the convention as the sponsor from Midland, her home town. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Snodgrass, of Midland, and is a cousin of Mrs. Pebble Talley, 2415 13th Street, with whom she resides while attending college.

Miss Jonnie McCrery, member of the Technological college faculty, is chaperoning the two sponsors from the college.

The Woman's Day

By Allene Summer

All because a woman "blabbed," the million dollar Ford-Sapiro trial was called a mistrial and will have to be done all over again. Mrs. Cora Hoffman, jury woman, "cooked the goose" when she talked about the trial before the verdict was rendered. What a nice thing Mrs. Hoffman has done for other women! Can't you hear the male chorus begin—"What can you expect, anyway, with women on the jury? Nothing will make a woman keep her mouth shut and they might have known it when they gave 'em the right to serve on juries in the first place."

One wonders, however, how much to-do there would have been if a man had talked! Women, being fairly new at this jury game, are watched and rebuked for the very things that cause males little censure.

Child Slayers

Mrs. Christine Stoble, who slew her own child and that child's child, is said to be the only mother who ever killed her child and grandchild together. She is almost the only mother who ever slew her own child, although history contains names of many fathers who have slain their children. One does not need this evidence of the greater intensity of the maternal rather than the paternal emotion.

Age of Anaesthesia

I watch every day for the advertisement of a new wrestaurant which will guarantee not only to cook and serve our food, but will also feed us. Attractive minions will raise the food laden spoon or fork to our mouth, anxiously watch us chew and swallow, and proffer the next bite. This is only the next step in this "Age of Anaesthetics," to borrow my judge friend's phrase. The world of commerce, in its wild frenzy for the "something new" that will make us buy, gives us this convenience and that luxury until we grow soft and flabby.

The Outburst's Cause

What inspires this particular outburst is the avalanche of "vacation tour" literature, guaranteeing to give utterly carefree, painless, automatic vacations. "Vacations Without Cares," they shout. "You Buy the Ticket. We do the Rest." And as a result, because people are too sheerly lazy to ask train schedules of a ticket agent and do their own registering at a hotel desk, they will hive themselves up with a herd of fretful, carping, nervous, uncongenial people, also out for a "carefree" vacation, and kid themselves that they are having a good time, while seeing things in goose-step time with a herd using a mob mind. May "organized vacation parties" keep their distance from me! It's as bad as having other people choose your books and clothes for you.

Girls and Fags

Girls of Vassar college who go in for college sports must throw their fags into the campus waste paper baskets while training. The rule is only what is in force in all men's colleges and of course the girls won't kick. It's discrimination twixt the sexes that makes trouble.

IN THE SPRING THE SMART NEW YORKER'S FANCY TURNS TO MODE OF UNEXPECTED TAILLEUR; CLASSIC WOOL IS RULING SOCIETY

Mrs. J. Henry Alexandre

Mrs. Julia Hoyt

Margot Flick

By BETSY SCHUYLER
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, May 14.—Just as the sun shines with real summer warmth and birds carol forth with apparent assurance that winter has departed at last, fashionable women of New York do the unexpected thing:

For, when I stepped out to scan the printed summer frocks and big hats I felt sure warm weather would coax out, I discovered that the smart New Yorker chooses the classic tailleur for mid-season wear!

Woolen Suits

Woolen suits, usually the happy choice of very early spring or autumn, are established as perfectly good for warm days this season.

Of course the new blouses are at the bottom of this choice. Such blouses! Having been relegated to back shelves for a number of seasons, blouses have staged a comeback that must leave even their originators gasping. Creations are they! They take a place all their own in the sun of fashion.

Mrs. Hoyt

Delicate and dainty as a flower and fully as pleasing to the eye was the mauve and bluish-lavender over-blouse Mrs. Julia Hoyt sponsored for wear with her silver slate gray suit. The body of blouse and sleeves was of mauve chiffon with a rolling collar edged with the deep lavender that extended to the stripped border edging the blouse. This border contained a dozen different shades of grays and lavener. Thirteen little lavender chiffon buttons fastened the waist.

Gray Turban

All of her accessories were quite perfect too, fit companions for her lovely blouse. She wore a gray felt turban caught with purple ribbons, double pointed fox fur, and trim gray shoes with cut-out insteps.

Miss Margot Flick is sporting one of the new leather summer coats—of a rich hunter's green with a flare and a novelty gold buckle on its belt that gives it unique chic. At the races last week she wore a smart print frock, one of those vivacious patterns that suggest both spring and sports.

A shimmering white satin sports blouse was Mrs. J. Henry Alexandre's choice for wear with her O'Rossen tailored suit of navy blue worsted, fashioned with a wrap-around skirt and a slight nip-in at the waistline of her jacket.

Many Points

The blouse had a smart pointed collar, and cuffs with points down over the hand. The hip-line banding of the blouse ended in points also. Pearl buttons in groups of three marched up the front of the blouse.

Black fox fur, blue alligator bag and pumps and a blue felt hat that had a white horse appliqued on its tucked brim, seemed quite appropriate for smart race track wear.

I noted that Mrs. Leonard Thomas, lunching at the Ritz, also wore a gleaming white satin blouse with her blue suit. But it had the Vionnet neckline and a bunch of small white flowers on the coat lapel seemed a fortunate choice.

Miss Helen Caplon wore a stripe beige sweater blouse with a brown crepe suit at Pierres last week. But it was of such exquisitely fine material it looked like chiffon.

New Mint Green

There's a new shade of green for summer wear—mint green. Katherine Steeles gown for the Hasty Pudding Club dance was just one row of fringe after another of this delectable hue. Its girdle was of pearls.

Crystal fruit seems a likely rival for flowers as hat trimming this summer. Mrs. Chester Boynton's black felt took a crystal pear to give it chic.

Leather flowers for coat lapel wear and real jeweled ornaments for turban trimmings are also growing more popular.

Accessories the Thing

Accessories, it seems, and not sheer summer togs, are the order of the day for smart New Yorkers when days get long and warm.

But, of course, the real summery frocks will have plenty of time for display. And it is always satisfying to see a smart woman in a tailleur.

Wedding Of Miss Irma Dalrymple And Ross McWhorter On Tuesda At Peak Of Society's Inte

Their Nuptials Hold Spotlight

MISS IRMA DALRYMPLE

ROSS A McWHORTER

Climaxing the most brilliant era of the spring social season will be the marriage Tuesday morning of Miss Irma Dalrymple and Ross A. McWhorter. Dr. John C. Granbery will perform the ceremony in the First Methodist church at nine o'clock.

The marriage at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning of Miss Irma Dalrymple and Ross Allison McWhorter marks the peak of society interest here during the last few weeks. Both young people are popular members of the younger social set, a deluge of showers and parties having attested to the esteem with which the bride-elect is considered.

The wedding ceremony is to be read by Dr. John Cowper Granbery, of the Technological college faculty, at the First Methodist church and it is expected that there will be a large attendance of friends of the couple.

To Live Here

Following the ceremony, the bride and groom will leave for a brief honeymoon, although they have not announced their destination. They are to make their home in Lubbock. The bride's father, John Dalrymple, is planning to build a home for the young couple a home, although the site has not been definitely decided.

The wedding ceremony is to be simple. Miss Dalrymple and Ross McWhorter are planning to have no attendants. Miss Edith Cain is to sing preceding the ceremony.

Since Mrs. Homer Grant honored Miss Dalrymple an announce party the first of this month, parties have been given. Mrs. Gamble and Mrs. R. D. Moxley being Miss Dalrymple's hostesses each gave her a shower and the party week before last and the week her college friends, Misses Beth Bennett and Kathryn Brearly, were hostesses at a party the same week.

Five Parties This Week

During the week closing yesterday, Mrs. Dorrance D. Roberts and Mrs. Frank Jones were hostesses at a morning party Tuesday. Mrs. Carl Roberds was a luncheon hostess Wednesday, Misses Virginia Conley and Alma Spikes entertained with a theatre party Thursday afternoon. Miss Ruth Bean was hostess to a few friends honoring Miss Dalrymple yesterday with a luncheon.

Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth I. Kimbro entertained Miss Dalrymple and Mr. McWhorter with a pretty party.

Miss Dalrymple is a student of the Technological college this year and has been chosen as one of the college beauties. She completed her academy work at the Immaculate Seminary in Washington, D. C., in 1925 and attended St. Mary's in Dallas last year. Before that time she had attended school at the Hockaday's school in Dallas. This year Miss Dalrymple served as president of her class and while in Washington she received a cup for excelling in general athletics.

Business Transacted At Last Meeting Of Music Club

Committees for next year were announced, new members were recognized, all business was completed and a short program was given when the Music club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. D. Moxley, 1809 14th street, with Mrs. E. E. White as hostess.

This was the final meeting of the year and the lesson leader was Mrs. E. F. George with Miss Daisy Baskin and Mrs. R. F. Cook participating in the lesson on "American Music." Roll call was answered with American composers' names.

Mrs. Moxley President

Mrs. Moxley is the new president of the club, succeeding Mrs. E. L. Robertson, who yesterday made a talk thanking the members for their work this year, and, particularly, Mrs. Carl Scoggin for directing the chorus and Mrs. Jod A. Rix for accompanying the singers. Mrs. Scoggin is to direct the chorus again and Mrs. Rix is to accompany on the piano with Mrs. Mamie I. Neal as additional accompanist at the organ.

Mrs. Rix was appointed parliamentarian, Mrs. Atkinson, critic; Mrs. Elmer Stotts, reporter, and Miss Mary Dunn was appointed chairman of the junior work committee.

Name Delegates

Mrs. A. W. McKee was named delegate to the City Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. I. F. Holland is delegate to the County Federation, and Mrs. Ed O'Sullivan is the delegate to the State Federation of Music clubs.

The committees were named as follows — Promotion, Mrs. Sam Lightfoot, Mrs. Harry Blocker, and Miss Stella Thurman; Membership, Mrs. R. F. Cook, Mrs. Lawrence Bacon and Mrs. Carl Patton; social service, Mrs. Mamie I. Neal, Mrs. E. F. George, Mrs. Jack M. Lewis, and Mrs. L. A. Williams; social, Mrs. L. R. Gamble, Mrs. Raymond George and Mrs. R. A. Mills; program, Miss Daisy Baskin, Mrs. E. L. Robertson and Mrs. R. A. Trussell.

New members of the club are Mesdames T. A. White, Richard Douglas, Will Tucker, Graham Stinson and David S. Martin. Mrs. Homer Grant, who has been an associate member, was made an active member.

Mrs. E. M. Smith Is Chairman Juvenile Protection Work

Following the appointment of Mrs. E. M. Smith as chairman of juvenile protection in this district of the State Parent-Teacher association, she is making plans to advance this work. Mrs. Smith has jurisdiction over 150 associations in 42 counties and she plans to have a chairman in each society ready to start to work in September, she said yesterday.

The work of this department is cooperating with school authorities, churches, police departments and other organizations in the protection of the interests and activities of childhood, Mrs. Smith explained. Through this, it is hoped that children may be kept in school better, that amusements may be of the wholesome sort that children may attend, that the work of the truant officers may be lightened. Mrs. Smith has already discussed her work with members of the P. T. A. clubs in this city.

Methodist District W. M. S. Meets In Lamesa Soon

There are six zones in the district.

Meeting Of Endeavor Held On Friday

New officers assumed their duties when a business and social meeting of the Senior Christian Endeavor of the First Presbyterian church was held Friday evening at the home of Miss Elizabeth Crews. Plans were made for the next month's work and members of the executive board gave their reports. Several from this society plan to attend the State meeting in Fort Worth in June. It was announced following the meeting. Games were played and punch and cake served during the social hour.

Going-Away Picnic Is Given Men Who Are Leaving

A going-away party was given Friday evening for H. P. Teasley and Charles D. Cain by a group of Southwestern Telephone company employees. The entertainment took the form of a picnic at the Municipal Park where a long table was laden with food, around which the group, numbering about thirty, gathered. Each of the honor guests was presented with a gift and a short talk of appreciation for their services, was made by T. A. White, district manager. Mr. Teasley has been serving as the wire chief here and Mr. Cain has been the central office repairman.

WIRE THROUGH BODY

TORONTO—Thirty years after a wound in his foot was sewed up with silver wire, John Hyland has had the same piece of wire removed from his neck. Operetta, "Stolen Flower Queen" To Be Presented Next Friday Evening; Frances McKee Plays Role of Queen

An out-door operetta, "The Stolen Flower Queen," is to be staged at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the central ward school by children who attend there. Mrs. L. J. Von Tungeln and Miss Lula Mae Cravens are in charge of the production, which is to be participated in by about one hundred and fifty children.

Frances McKee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McKee, 1816 14th street, plays the part of the stolen queen while Charles Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Adams, 1317 15th street, plays the part of the prince. The Fairy Queen is Catherine Royalty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Royalty, 2011 Main street.

Flower Characters Lead

A merry Puck-like figure in the operetta is Mary Geniece Hardberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hardberger, who is a Johnny Jump-up. Other leading characters in the operetta are Dennis Holt, king of weeds, who steals the queen, hides her and threatens to come and rule over flower-land if the queen is not found within a day; Harry Blocker, jr., who as Jack Frost, leads a group of snowflakes into the kingdom of the flower queen; the four winds Frances Snyder, Priscilla Watson Mary Louise Shropshire and Orlou Brown; the heralds, Joab Alexander and Carl Maxey, and the scout leader, Duke Moreman. The fairy queen is attended by Helen Hale and Etolle McLeoid, train bearers.

This operetta is to be one of colorful costumes, singing, speaking and dancing, with stage setting in keeping with those of a fanstastic fairy land. The time of performance is about one hour, the story ending with the restoration of the queen to her throne and the decision of the Boy Scouts to send the weed king to the Wizard of the West, who will transform him into a useful plant.

Demonstration Club Meets With Mrs. V. Houston

The Women's Home Demonstration club of the southwest ward met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Vada Houston at her home for a lesson on magazines. The president, Mrs. A. R. Pendley, was absent and Mrs. J. C. Stanford, vice president, was in the chair. Roll call was answered with favorite magazine names and merits of these and the program was presented by Mesdames W. W. Moore, R. W. Robinson, M. C. Lumpkin, Vada Houston, J. C. Stanford, M. E. Wren and W. M. Ross. An exchange of favorite recipes was made by the members. The next meeting will be with Mrs. R. D. King.

DAILY INSPECTION BEING MADE HERE

HEALTH OFFICERS TO CLOSE ALL PLANTS NOT UP TO STANDARD

City health officers, led by Dr. Y. J. Aiken, inspector, are now engaged in grading all dairies that supply milk on the public market in this city, and it was announced Saturday that five of the 15 or 16 plants have been graded, in conformance with the standard milk ordinance passed by the city commission last year.

It will require about two weeks more to complete the grading, but all plants found not conforming to requirements under the ordinance are being asked to discontinue distribution until such time as they do meet requirements, Dr. Aiken said. He did not make known how many, if any, of the plants graded to date, have not been conforming to the ordinance.

Plants May Improve

All of the plants closed under the ordinance will be given a chance to bring their equipment up to standard as required, and another grading will be conducted in a certain length of time deemed necessary by officials for dairymen to make the necessary improvements. If requirements are met at this grading, distribution will be allowed again.

Health authorities have been working with dairymen since passage of the ordinance here to bring about required improvements at the various plants, and have been slow in demanding that all portions of the ordinance be complied with, making the more or less improvements as gradually as possible, but said Saturday that they feel sufficient time has been allowed for this, and that dairy plants now must comply with the ordinance.

HARVARD STILL RICHEST

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Assets of Harvard college, exclusive of land and buildings, are listed at $36,450,000. This makes it the richest educational institution in the world. The cost of running the various departments is $8,153,000. Salaries amount to $1,146,000 a year.

Psychology Brings Broadway A Bard —From The Chorus

Melancholy claimed Edith Sheldon, Broadway chorus girl. A Freudian "release" solved it—made her a poet, and a gay dancer once more

BY GENE COHN
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, May 14—Psychoanalysis, for many a month the plaything of the intellectuals, finally has come to Broadway. There it has found a close relation of the vastly popular "inferiority complex," bred among the more sensitive and ambitious of Broadway's youthful femininity by the time-honored indictment that chorus girls are "beautiful but dumb."

The truly dumb girls don't mind this indictment, but those who have taken to the theater to "express themselves" suffer severely. They get nerves."

Season upon season pretty maidens have been staging breakdowns at inconvenient moments. Being of Broadway, how were they to know about Freud?

Along Came Edith

Then along came Edith Sheldon, who at the giddy age of 19 found melancholy and depression dulling her big baby stare. Edith, in the vernacular of Broadway, was "getting blotto."

A Park Avenue consulting psychologist analyzed her case. Out of his analysis has come the creation of a great stream of verse which one day may be known as "Broadway Ballads" or perhaps, "The Odyssey of a Gold-digger."

Edith needed a pen, pencil or typewriter. That was her sole trouble, the psychologist found. Edith need ed to break into verse. She did. "Releases of this sort from a complex of one kind or another are not uncommon," observes the psychologist, very professionally. "Finding them, patients show rapid improvement."

In proof of which, Edith, between poems, once more dances as gayly as ever.

Much of the verse which Edith has done is "hard-boiled." But it is marked strikingly by the cynical, sentimental, self-conscious slant of the show girl. About some of it there is a wistfulness. Thus:

"God and the devil
Fighting for a soul.
The devil has so many ways
By which to reach his goal.
Shop windows lovely things,
Ermine wraps and pearls,
Orchids, gowns and diamonds
Worn by other girls."

Read on through Edith's manuscripts, and you come to this:

"This is what you ask of me; to leave the book half read;
To sacrifice what I love most.
What will you give instead?
Security and self-respect? A life that means content
Away from all the tiredness and tears the old life meant?
You say there is no price that is too great for this!
But how can I forget the sweet abandon of a kiss?
The lips that were so soft to mine; I'm thinking of them yet
You're right. I'll have to give them up! But how shall I forget?"

No Sympathy, Please!

There's a great deal to be read between the lines in this:

"I know they think I'm just as low
As any girl can be.
But don't start wasting
Your sympathy on me.
I'm not sorry for myself.
Just want to be alone
So you mind your business
And I'll mind my own
It doesn't matter any more,
I know there was a day
When I gave my kisses, too,
But now I make them pay."

London Woman Owner Of Theatres Retires

LONDON.—Mrs. Israel Davis, cinema magnate, will retire and turn her large interests over to her four sons. She had her first experience as an amusement house director when her husband, a builder, constructed a theatre at Highgate in 1909 and turned the management over to her. Since 1913 she has been an important figure in the British moving-picture world.

Marble Arch Pavilion, Shepherd's Bush Pavilion, Lavender Hill Pavilion and the Avenue Pavilion in Shaftsbury Avenue, London, all have been under her ownership-management. Mrs. Davis never permitted any picture to be shown in her houses which she had not seen personally, and she turned down many box-office successes because she disapproved the tone of the pictures.

Recently Mrs. Davis consummated a business deal which disposes of the family interest in these enterprises for 500,000 pounds to a new company already controlling 18 cinemas and negotiating for four other British distributing companies. Although she and her husband are retiring, Mrs. Davis' sons will be active in the new amalgamation.

Tech Is Different

FRIENDSHIP IS STRONG

From First Of Year

A few minutes until class time and the entrance to the administration building is cluttered up with students, both eds and co-eds, noisily chattering with each other regarding various phases of student life. An innocent co-ed stands slyly holding the hands of a big ed who seems ill at ease as to what to do. Friends are with friends.

Yes, friendships are being formed out at Texas Tech. Many friendships and of many varieties. But one can truthfully say that friendships which are to be everlasting are being formed.

Quite a contrast now, is a scene on the campus, as compared with one during the early part of the fall term. Students were shy and bashful then. But now each student as he comes upon the campus is greeted with a gay hello and he in turn greets everyone he sees. At the opening of the college the students went about barely speaking and thinking inwardly of their fellow-classmen.

'Twas Different Then

Thus began nine months of an interesting search for education. Education which was to be made up of, not books alone, but of companionship and association with youngsters from various points over the southwest.

Things do evolute. So does the spirit of association among students in the Tech.

As the strenuous weeks dragged on, or raced by, depending upon the attitude of the individual, the pseudo scholars gradually learned their Keats, their Shelly, their Browning, their Wordsworth, and finally that the source of knowledge is unlimited and they are merely wanderers upon a desert of infinite delvings.

Memories of long and arduous class hours, the harassing morning-long quizzes, and the sickening thoughts of "unsatisfactory" reports must perforce be dimmed by passing time, leaving more vivid and pleasurable recollections of the humor and pathos of their feeble efforts for an education.

Would Like Repetition

Many things suggest themselves, things they have liked, things they have wished to alter, but retrospect will bring back a multitude of reminiscences that they should gladly repeat.

Friendships will be one of their cherished memories of college life. The first parting of friends is soon to come on the campus. The first members of the graduating class are soon to depart. Friends will part as they now are enjoying the association with each other.

Verily, indeed, a college education warrants its hard earned reputation.

Fourteen Teachers In Carter Ward School Honor Guests At Annual Tea

The fourteen teachers in the K. Carter ward school were honor guests when the Parent-Teacher association of the institution entertained with an annual tea at the home of Mrs. G. M. Cosby, 902 Avenue L, yesterday afternoon.

Larkspur and calendulas in a riot of blue and gold set the color scheme for the tea and provided a colorful setting.

The teachers were in the receiving line with Mrs. E. W. Camp, president of the city council; Mrs. M. H. Duncan, wife of the superintendent of schools; Mrs. G. T. Scales, president of the Carter club; Mrs. Cosby and other officers of the club, Mrs. H. A. Davidson, W. E. Lyle, Charles Burns, E. B. Wheelock and M. C. Overton.

The teachers are Miss Stella Thurman, principal, and Mesdames C. D. Eaves, E. R. McClain, W. A. Bowen, D. J. Wilhelm, Josie Ballenger, Guy L. Trow, T. H. Arnold, and Misses Mary Louise Graham, Ruth Dunn, Beulah Starnes, Katie Bell Crump, Beulah Dixon and Novella Richmond.

Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Lyle poured tea one hour and Mrs. C. J. Wagner and Mrs. Gus Niblack poured tea the other hour. Others in the house party were Mrs. Ross Edwards, and Mrs. C. C. Lindsey.

Given Membership

Miss Thurman was formally presented with a life membership in the State association at this meeting, with Mrs. Davidson making the presentation. Mrs. Scales was presented with the guest book, the cover of which was painted in blue bonnets. Mrs. Wheelock made this presentation. There was a musical program given during the afternoon.

Guests who registered at the tea were Mesdames R. E. Williams, George C. Smith, Sid Clark, R. S. Trussell, L. A. Williams, F. E. McMillan, J. W. Hodges, T. S. Fuelow, George Duvall, John R. Hall, Guion Gregg, E. L. Banks, Phillip M. James, C. E. Callaway, J. H. McLeed, R. F. Bayless, E. C. Simmons, J. F. Hawthorne, R. A. Barclay, R. L. McKnight, E. L. Robertson, Mamie I. "Let's Talk about Your Home"

There No Place Like It, But Give It It's Due!

Home is nearest and dearest to our hearts—if we would stop in our life's mad rush and meditate about it. For home means joy and comfort and rest—a safe haven for our kiddies and a gathering place for friends—all the truly worthwhile things of life.

"The joys that are deeper, the joys that are true, are here in your home, always waiting for you"—as that apt poet, Douglas Malloch, says.

So why not give your home its due? Make it so charming, so interesting, so comfortable, that all the family will prefer it to every counter attraction. A place you will be proud to invite friends to—from which they will take a lasting impression of your good taste and prosperity.

THE BOY ASSET

That is a new policy which presents day good citizenship is pursuing with regard to the making of future good citizens. Time was, and not yet fully advanced, when boys were shoved aside to make room for established leaders from among the older men. The altruistic idea of training the boys to take men's places did not seem to be a part of wisdom. Nowadays, and led largely by the civic service organizations, nothing is too good for the boy. The biggest man in the circle is he who can most effectually train a boy into taking his place in service and efficiency. Rather than jealously guarding the higher seats in manhood's estate, the idea is to cultivate boys to the capabilities to better fill such honor positions. In thus doing the men with the vision of real serving are making higher seats for themselves and higher, nobler citizenship for the masses. Leadership, trained in heart as well as mind, is what the country needs and the present and coming generations of boys are to be trained in such efficiency, whereas the past generations have been suppressed in their ambitions and cut off from participation in public affairs. A "new set" of leaders is gradually being mixed in with the old bunch here as elsewhere and the neglected material or the raw materialterial with abilities, is taking its place in the high seats of council and doing of things. The boys are recognized as assets.

It used to be an idea with some folks that the boy could be shoved about most anyway, given the rough and tumble end of the deal all the way through, but it is not so now. The father wants his boy to have the best of everything, and there is to be no throwing off on the boy. This is clearly shown in the Chamber of Commerce meeting here yesterday. The question of sending the band to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was being discussed. Accommodations were being sougth for them, and quarters were offered in a down town store building where cots were mentioned as the means of entertaining the boys while there. Fathers in that organization immediately objected, and all members heartily endorsed the objection. Just anything is not good enough for the High School Band boys. They are the pick of the community. We are proud of them, and we do not propose to have them given anything but as good as can be had in the way of sleeping and eating quarters during their stay at the convention, and the secretary was instructed to wire the Wichita Falls people to that effect.

The High School band is going to the convention to represent Lubbock. It will be the outstanding representation of the city, and the Chamber of Commerce here proposes that they shall not be neglected. Additional funds were appropriated to defray the necessary expense of giving the boys a real bed and money enough to buy good food and plenty of it while on the trip. Money was not lavished upon them for extravagant entertainment, but it is the purpose of the Chamber of Commerce to let the boys know that we consider them a valuable asset, and that the money is well spent when spent upon them.

A CLEANER LUBBOCK

We see no real excuse for the streets of Lubbock being littered up with a deluge of handbills and big page advertisements. There is an ordinance against such practice and just why it is not enforced we do not know. There is a legitimate use for advertising circulars, etc. That is if they are placed where they will do some good, but the wholesale distribution of advertising literature like some that is out put is of little value to the advertiser, and it merely litters up the streets. Look at Lubbock Sunday morning after the flood of hand bills have struck it during Saturday and draw your own conclusion as to whether it is profitable to distribute a lot of hand bills and circulars to people on the sidewalks. They immediately toss them in the gutter, and within a few days' time people are wading half knee deep in a carpet of posters all sizes and colors, and they are left there for the wind to bank up against some building in the alley or in the street corners, making an unsightly appearance and making a fire hazzard that is unquestionably expensive to the business interests of the city.

We have heard much complaint of late about these circulars being put in the cars which is not appreciated by the owners, because of the messing up of the inside of the car, and they would greatly appreciate the enforcement of this ordinance.

HAS IT COME TO THIS

It seems that the United States is getting in rather a bad plight when it has come to the point the Republicans have only Cal Coolidge who might be able to be elected president, and the Democrats do not have anyone that they are willing to trot out as a possible winner. The Brownwood Bulletin in writing about presidental prospects in Texas says that a good deal is being said and written about the possibility that Mr. Coolidge may be a candidate for another term as president. One acquainted with the situation might get the idea, from a perusal of American newspapers, that the people are trying to decide for him whether he is to become a candidate, but if Mr. Coolidge should read all that is written upon the subject he would become so confused that he probably would resign before completing the term he is now serving. There are all manner of ideas, and most of them are conflicting ideas.

Most of those who are discussing the matter seem to think there are two major problems for the president to solve. The first is whether he could secure the nomination by the Republican party, and the second whether he would win the election, if nominated. Perhaps, if he finds a solution for the first he will leave the second problem to the test of the general election; but it may be that in Mr. Coolidge's own mind he is giving consideration to a problem that apparently does not often present itself to the modern politician, and that is whether the best interests of his country demand that he be retained for another four years in the White House. Whatever else may be said of him, and much has been said that has not been especially complimentary, nobody has undertaken to impeach Mr. Coolidge's honesty; and if he is honest, he does not want the presidency for another term unless he is convinced that it would be conducive to the welfare of the nation he serves.

Just now there seems to be a dearth of outstanding men in the Republican party to take Mr. Coolidge's place of leadership, just as there is an appalling lack of outstanding Democratic presidential possibilities. It may be that, no matter what his own decision may eventually be, the Republicans will have to renominate him; and in that event it might be better to reelect him than to elect a Democrat whose sole qualification appears to be an ability to get votes for his party.

We think in the history of the nation, there has never been such a confusion of opinion as to the presidential candidates, or at least the probable candidates. There is a peculiar condition in the United States just now. Coolidge is serving now on his fourth year with another year to come, having been willed the office by virtue of the death of President Harding, making it in a sense serving his second term. Precedents makes it doubtful whether he should offer for another term. The Democrats are up in the air. The Prohibition question is vexing them, and no one has been found that is bone dry that they think can be nominated or elected after nomination. Then comes the church side of the question. Al Smith, who is a Catholic and is wet as wet can be also, seems to be one of the leading prospects for the nomination, and still there is grave doubt as to whether he can be nominated and still more doubt whether he can be elected if nominated. Thousands of Democrats will not vote for him because of his wet politics and thousands of other will not vote for him because of his Catholicism, while many erstwhile Republicans would vote for him because he is a Catholic, so there it is.

It would seem that Coolidge is about the only way out to a great many people, and many Democrats will vote for him if Al Smith or some other wet candidate is nominated.

Little Avalanches

Don't worry about the continued dry weather at this time. There is plenty of time for rain. Most of the farmers have land in excellent condition for planting and with the modern farm machinery it can be planted and come up a fine stand in a very few days, which would insure a better crop possibly than if it was planted earlier.

We will change crowds pretty soon. The Tech College will close its regular term and the students will return to their homes in the many different States and counties in Texas, but they will be replaced by a large number of the teaching force of the land who will attend the summer school here. The Tech college is a great institution and it will be greater every year.

SO THINK WE

Making Lubbock the best market on the plains for the products of this country is a mighty good thing for the business firms of this city to look after. There is no other one thing that will bring more business to Lubbock from the producers of eggs and poultry of all kinds, cream and dairy products than this will.

—o—

Good roads are important, and people will travel a long way to a place to do their trading if the roads are good, but if they have things to sell, which every farmer should have, the prices paid for the produce has much to do with their coming.

—o—

Thousands of people cross the railroads in this town every day, and they have to cross on two of the busiest railroad crossings in the city. Under passes would eliminate a great deal of the danger, and we are of the opinion that many more people would come to Lubbock to do their trading if it were not for the fact that they have to cross the railroads twice to do so.

—o—

We note that the Fair Association is starting their organization off in good shape, by putting Dr. Barr at the head of the working the best leaders in the community organization. Dr. Barr is one of and while he is having to follow some real wheel horses no doubt the fair business will be put over in fine shape this year. Its a big job, though and who ever has it cannot put over a real program without the hearty cooperation of the people.

Some folks say that wheat and oats will not grow in this country, but we saw a sample of some of each yesterday that dispells this argument from the calendar. This wheat was of good height and the oats were the same, and both had good heads. This country will grow nearly anything that the people will plant and give the same attention to it that they would elsewhere.

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is called on to help finance many things. Most of them are worth causes and the board would be delighted to be able to assist them, but it is impossible with the limited amount of money that have to spend to render everyone the needed financial assistance. The Chamber of Commerce directors are men who want to be economical, and at all times have their eyes on the cash account, and hold the expenditures down to the minimum, in spite of this however there are some folks who look upon the organization as a group of squanderers.

The time for picnics is at hand and the school children are having a gay time, and coupled with the fact that there is now only about two more weeks of school, the average child is looking forward with a great deal of anticipation for the vacation period to begin.

—o—

It won't be long now till the College students will be bidding Lubbock goodbye for the return home where they will spend the vacation period. Many will return, others will not, but another year will bring many new and additional young men and young women to our community. Lubbock should strive to make the young people who come here from year to year appreciate her for the kindly interests that we show in them.

—o—

While there is not a rushing demand for rent houses just now, it would be a mighty good time to repair and paint up some of them. They will rent much better if they are made to look better, and made more comfortable, and it will improve the looks of the city, too.

—o—

While some of us are prone to complain of the weather in this country we cannot think of a climate that is dealing more kindly with the people than here.

—o—

There are some towns wheer there has been a mighty boom on for the past year or so because of oil, that are worse off today than the cities where a steady growth has continued, and where there has been conservative building programs carried out through the same period of time.

—o—

Some folks want to know what keeps Lubbock growing. The people is the answer. There is the livest bunch of folks here than can be found anywhere. They know that the agricultural possibilities of this section are as good as can be found anywhere? The college located here is one of the greatest assets to the community, the poultry raising industry, and the dairying. Then the oil developments are bring much activity to this section, and with the coming back of the oil prices which will be sure to happen soon, there will be greater activity along this line than ever before.

—o—

Some people are very unreasonable. The right-of-way committee has found some of this class in their task of getting the right-of-way for the Denver. They refuse to be reasonable, and have caused the committee much trouble. It is a lucky thing however in Texas that there is a law that makes it possible to handle such people by lawfully condemning property where the owners stand in the way of progress with an unreasonable demand.

—o—

The flood relief fund has passed the ten million dollar mark, but even with this tremendous amount of money there is going to be untold suffering, and many will still perish. The floods still continue and new territory is being taken by the attacks of the mighty waters, and there is no way of telling just now how much more money will be needed to take care of the financial features of the situation, to say nothing of the physical side of the situation.

Picking On the Boy

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that some folks do not like what we say in this column. Occasionally we do not like it either but just the same we are going to keep on writing this stuff and some day we may say something really worth while.

It is reported that there is greater need for the under passes on the Santa Fe now now than ever before. There is a reason. More people are crossing the tracks now than ever before.

It is reported that tourists have already commenced to hit the highways? Lubbock always has the glad hand extended, and we want every tourist to feel perfectly at ease in the city. If one happens to park wrong, we hope the traffic department will deal with them gently and courteously and send them along on their journey with a good taste in their mouth for Lubbock.

It is reported that one man says he is pretty sure that the present highway commission is doing good work, because Jim is giving the hail Columbia.

It is reported that skates are becoming quite a fad among the women. Cheap skates has been one of their weak points for a long time.

It is reported that the Indian along time ago called perfectly good whiskey fire water. Wonder what they would call bootleg whiskey.

It is reported that some people still like milk well enough to steal it off the porch as soon as it is left by the milk man.

It is reported that Sweetwater is facing a water shortage.

It is reported that many communities are now threatened with baccalaureate sermons. We hope it will not prove serious to anyone.

It is reported that chief of police of Cleveland, Ohio, says that the use of illuminated signs on church buildings has a wonderful influence for good in the community. He says that many men if they are not gone too far down into crime and sin can be lifted by the occasional signs and words standing out in bright letters reminding him that there is yet hope

It is reported that no town has ever survived and become outstanding in the state in which it was established that did not have a goodly number of boosters and good citizenship. These two will build any town.

It is reported that some one has said that when you trade away from home it is just the same as taking a shingle off the commercial roof of the town.

It is reported that some time in life one nearly always finds a time when they can use their neighbor to good advantage. Hence the importance of speaking kindly of them.

It is reported that there is need for considerable more funds for the flood and storm sufferers. If you have some spare cash that you would like to invest in a good cause you could not do better than to turn it over to the red cross for distribution among the needy of the communities where water and wind has played a serious part.

It is reported that a good many people have time to go fishing. Its fine sport so they say, but the busy man seldom has time.

It is reported that there are five thousand lots in Lubbock that have not had the weeds cut off of them this year, and some of them belong to men who have to "exercise" on the golf links every day.

It is reported that this is a good time to kill weeds. If you will cut them off just under the surface of the ground the hot sun will soon kill them and they can be plowed under and make good fertilizer.

It is reported that there is a question up now as to whether or not the whiskey bootlagger should or not pay income tax. We say no, not for bootlegging, but he should be promptly put out of business, and if the wise congressmen will get busy and place teiotlers in the enforcement offices and on the commission for the enforcement of the pro laws, there will not be a single bootlagger left to pay any kind of tax. The Eighteenth Amendment can be enforced, if the right men are given authority to do the enforcing.

It is reported that some folks are actually complaining about hard times, and dissatisfied with their station in life. We are all very fortunately situated in this country, and no one is going hungry and exposed to the weather, homeless and friendless, just what would you think if you were over in the Mississippi valley just at this time.

Excuses are possibly good some times, but they should not be made too often. They are liable to be worn threadbare.

PUBLIC OPINION

THE VALUE OF GOOD WILL

What is good will—in other words friendship—worth to a city?

It can be made a thing of great value. If you don't believe it, consider the case of Asheville, N. C.

The people of Asheville decided to send ambassadors outside of the state to acquaint the rest of the country with "The Land of the Sky."

Six railroad coaches made up the special train that toured New England, Canada and other localities. The men that rode on those cars openly stated that they were not out to impress strangers with the claims which they might present, but rather to learn the other fellow's angle, exchange points of view and build up good will on a permanent basis.

They succeeded. Everywhere they were entertained hospitably. They found that good will eliminates boundaries.

Asheville and the surrounding territory have discovered that that trip paid. The friendship that it built up has been reflected in increased business from the territories visited.—Don E. Mowery, secretary, the American Community Advertising Association.

IT BEGAN AS A NUISANCE

While in America "daylight saving" remains the subject of considerable controversy and the cause of not a little confusion, in England they are establishing a memorial to the man who "invented" what they call "Summer Time." Approximately enough, this memorial to William Willett is to be an 87-acre park, open to the public, the purchase fund being raised by private subscriptions. Mr. Willett began his movement in the closing years of the last century, but it met with the usual opposition and inertia until its economic value was recognized during the war. Summer Time was made awar measure, designed to effect saving in gas, electricity, oil and fuel. In other words, it was adopted as a nuisance dictated by the urgent necessity of the moment. Now the nuisance has been translated into a boon and the man who initiated it into a benefactor of humanity. — Philadelphia Public Ledger.

MADAM FARMER

Keeping women up-to-date as to the best small kitchen equipment is the object of some demonstrations recently given by Irma C. Ross to the club women of Ellis County. Two and three different kinds of articles, such as mixing bowls, egg beaters, can openers, potato mashers, food cumblers, baking pans and dishes, scrubbing mops, carpet sweepers, dust mops, dust, pans, dish strainers and scouring dish rags, have been furnished by local dealers. Each article was considered from the standpoint of time and labor saved, ease of operation, ease in cleaning and durability. Women have shown great interest in this work which supplements the kitchen improvement program.—Farm Extension News.

It is gratifying that the woman on the farm is going to receive some attention at the hands of the men and women who have been putting in the greater part of their time, seeing that the farmer has all of the modern equipment for making crops and gathering them, and has the automobile and the labor saving devices as soon as they are put on the market.

Madam farmer is entitled to all the labor saving devices that were ever made, and offered for sale. She has long hours of labor—hard work at that, yet she has to put up with the same methods used fifty years ago in many cases, which means continuous toil. The average farmer can supply his wife and his home with many of the modern labor saving devices at a small cost, if they only will, and we see no good reason why he does not. The wife is helping to produce most of the products of the farm, such as chickens, gardens, dairy products and in many cases even goes so far as to feed the hogs and keep up that end of the farm work. In addition to this the rearing of the family, seeing that the children get off to school, keep their clothes in good repair, seeing that "pa" takes a shaves once in a week, and tries to keep him looking decent when he goes to town to loaf on the street or goes to church occasionally. The women is entitled to every modern convenience in the farm home just the same as in the city home, and we glad to see that an effort is being made to divert much of the energy of the home demonstration agents and others to the co-operation of the home.

Avoid Disease

BY DR. MORRI SFISHBEIN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

It used to be thought that tetanus or lockjaw was caused by scratching the skin with a rusty nail.

Nowadays it is known that this is one in a small group of infections which comes to man and many animals, and that it is conveyed from one or the other through the passage of a germ that causes this disease. Some cases occur in which a wound is not visible, so that possibly the organism enters through a small wound in the membranes of the nose or of the lungs.

The germ of tetanus lives best in the absence of oxygen, and is commonly found in association with highly fertilized soil or street dirt. When it enters the body, it sets up inflamations of the nerve tissue, and having a special predilection for some nerves, it is likely to bring about the condition known as lockjaw.

The patient is not in danger of contaminating others, except through direct contact with discharges which are suspected that a wound may be contaminated by particles of clothing, or by street dust, or by manure, the wound must be thoroughly cleaned by removal of all material that may contain the spores of tetanus, of tissue already dead or likely to die. This should be removed by the surgeon's knife.

A dose of tetanus antitoxin may be given by a physician without harm to the patient and with a reasonable certainty that it will prevent the development of the disease. Instances in which a dose of antitoxin, repeated if necessary, has failed to prevent the development of tetanus are extremely rare.

Gunshot wounds or those produced by blank cartridges should always be regarded as especially suspicious in relation to the causing of tetanus. Ordinary experience shows that most wounds will heal without the development of this disease, but the physician is not warranted in taking chances in the care of wounds, since prevention is always better than attempts at cure, particularly in a disorder as serious as tetanus.

Today's Poem

LIVING
By Strickland Gillilan

We know one you loved is now raising;
We know you have sorrowed and wept.
We know you no longer are kissing
The lips of the one who has slept
Dear months in the earth. Are you giving
Too much to the soul that has fled?
Won't you give to the heart-hungry living
What you're trying to give to the dead?

You did all you could when you had him,
When you looked at him eye unto eye;
You staid till the end, and you bade him
A loving and tender goodby.
There ended the best of your giving—
Just there when the farewells were said.
You can do—O so much for the living,
But you can't do a thing for the dead!

In your heart keep the tenderness, dearie—
The living have need of it all.
They need you all blithesome and cherry—
Not reeking with wormwood and gall.
And I think He'll be slow in forgiving—
Aye, perhaps He may chide you instead!—
If neglecting the heart-hungry living,
You give all your love to the dead.

CHURCHES

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

You are cordially invited to attend the services which will be held in this church today.

Sunday school begins promptly at 9:45. The Sunday school of this church is making splendid progress at this time. You will be glad to be a member of this organization. Visit the school today.

At the eleven o'clock hour Dean J. M. Gordon of the Texas Technological college will deliver the address. Special music will be rendered by the choir. This will be a very fine service and all should attend.

The Endeavor societies will hold their usual services at the usual hours today. The young people of the college are especially invited.

There will be no evening service in the church. The choir of the church will hold a special service in Crosbyton and the pastor will be out of the city.

The league will have as its speaker tonight, Dr. J. C. Granbery who will talk on the religions of the world. The young people are all interested in this subject and it will prove more interesting when discussed by such an able speaker and authority. All the young people are invited to come.

PRACTICE ON ANNUAL PAGEANT NOW ON AT TEXAS TECH; 500 WILL TAKE PART IN PANTOMINE AT CLOISTERS

Under the cloisters of the administration building with the rays of the slowly sinking sun reflected in the west, more than 500 students of the Texas Technological college will pass in review on the evening of May 28th as they dipict the rise and struggle of education in Texas in the presentation of the second annual pageant of the college which will also usher in the first commencement program of the school. Preparations are being completed and rehearsals on the programs are to start this week.

"The Light in the Lone Star" pageant promises to excel the "Spirit of West Texas" pageant which was given before a crowd of more than 6000 people at the college last year.

Under the able direction of Misses Ruth Pirtle and Johnnie Gilkerson, the story of the rise of the great educational system of Texas has been written and will be presented by the students.

Depicts Early Schools

Beginning with the first schools in the state which were conducted under many difficulties, the story of the pageant tells of the strife suffered by the educators in making the schools and colleges what they are now. Each period which has been outstanding in the rise of education will be portrayed in the procession by students with the costumes of the times. Complete evolution of education and schools in the state is to be given and will be climaxed with the presentation of the first graduating class of the Tech, fully gowned. The entire story centers around the accomplishments of the state department in establishing the great school on the Plains.

Every college and university in the state is to be represented in the pageant and the procession of this division alone will contain more than 50 students. Leading the procession will be the first school established in the state and closing it will be the Tech, the youngest institution of the educational system.

Aiding in the presentation of the pageant will be a number of school children from the Lubbock public schools. Pupils in the George M. Hunt, K. Carter and the Central Ward schools will take part in the program as well as a troop of the Lubbock boy scouts.

Ruth Slaton Queen

Climaxing the evening will be the presentation of the First Senior class of the school which will be followed by the crowning of the queen, Miss Ruth Slaton, of Lubbock, who will represent the spirit of education which will govern in the future years. Her court will represent the various phases of the struggles in the great conflict for supremacy of higher education.

Indications point toward a better and larger production than the one presented last year, administrative officials of the college state as the students are taking more interest in the affair than of last year.

One of the features of the pageant will be the musical arrangement. This is being worked out by Prof. Harry Le Maire, director of the Tech band and one of the foremost musicians in this section of the country. Appropriate tunes and melodies are being prepared for each period in the depiction of the rise of the schools.

Last Year Big Success

The pageant which was given last year was praised highly by those who witnessesed it. The state papers gave much mention to the event also and pictures of various scenes in it appeared in various magazines. The Bill board considered the leading theatrical magazine in the United States, paid a high tribute to the work which was done here last year. An effort was made to have the pageant filmed by Pathe News or some other motion news service but through a mistake the cameraman was unable to "shoot" the program. Officials have intimated that there is a possibility of the pageant being filmed this year.

Following the pageant the members of the first graduating class will embark upon their commencement voyage which will take them through three or four days of activities. Sunday morning, following the pageant on Saturday, the seniors will hear their baccalaureate sermon. On Monday, May 30, they will hear the commencement address by President W. B. Bizzell, of Oklahoma University, and following they will receive sheep skins, which will entitle them to be known as "degree" men.

Watch the clock, it is due to select the lucky graduate Monday or Tuesday.

The newest Gruen Cartouche solid gold, $40. Others, $35 to $75

The eight day, giant clock in our window is due to stop sometime Monday or Tuesday. When it does the long hand will point out the name of the happy graduate who will win a Gruen watch.

Gruen OctaThin, $40
Other Gruen pocket watches, $25 to $75

Nothing serves so well as a watch to symbolize this day of days—Graduation. It marks the end of youthfulness and the fulfillment of school-day dreams. What more fitting companion to recall this day forever and to measure the golden days of the future, than a fine watch?

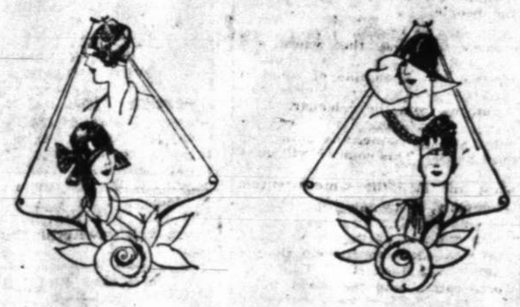

We congratulate the winner—and all our other graduates for the accomplishments graduation represents. With our best wishes for their future success, we express the hope that each one may be as fortunate as the lucky winner (whoever he or she may be) to some day own a watch as fine as the Gruen.

Come and be sure your name is there.

Newly Chosen Officials Of Fair Begin Planning Greatest Of All "Show-Window Of The South Plains"

The biggest Panhandle and South Plains fair in the history of the association is the motto of the newly elected fair officers, who have begun active steps toward staging this year's exhibitions and programs, running September 27 to October 2.

Premiums totaling over $15,000 are to be offered for various exhibits which will be larger this year according to preliminary reports than they have been at any time in the past.

Working on the basis that the public goes to a fair to be amused as well as to be instructed, newly elected officers are planning a complete program of attractions which will include football games, roping, fancy roping, expert horse showmanship, aerial performance and carnival attractions, with smaller attractions which will be arranged for later.

Review of the properties of the association shows that the buildings are in excellent shape for the coming year and that the finances of the company are in such condition as to allow for a flying start in all activities.

Prizes to Be Offered

Attractive prizes are to be offered by merchants of the city during the fair through arrangement with the managers, and it is expected that attendance will pass the 75,000 mark this year.

A mammoth fireworks display will be staged by the World Amusement Service association, Thearle-Duffield, fireworks division, which will include flag displays, cartoons of various persons in fire, and other features second to none at any fair in the state.

Contract has been signed with the Joe Hodgini troup of fancy riders, known as the Belgian Equestrian Sensations, as one of the major free attractions to include feats in horsemanship and stunt riding.

The Illatherwick Kiddies, who last year took the Fort Worth Fat Stock show exhibition by storm with their entertainment stunts including fancy roping, and exhibition roping by both the girl of 14 and the boy of 12, and dancing and contortionist acts by the young lady, have been secured.

The fair will assume the aspects of a gridiron duel ground with Tech Matadors meeting the squad from St. Edwards of Austin on Saturday of the fair and with high school games to be played other days.

Mme. Florence Coming

Mme. Florence, expert aerial and trapeze artist, will also be one of the major free attractions, and will open here with a number of new acts upon which she is now working and which will be shown here for the first time.

The Sunshine Shows Carnival company have arranged for the concessions, and will present a high class carnival consisting of a 16-car outfit that includes the whip, merry-go-around, swing, ferris wheel, and all the more favored type rides, as well as high class shows and games of skill.

Competition of all kinds in exhibits is expected to be keener this year than it has heretofore. In addition to the colleges and major livestock exhibitors, who yearly enter their livestock here and who own some of the best herds in the United States, a large number of farmers and small stock raisers along with club boys are planning to enter this year with Jerseys, hogs, and stock which they have raised especially for fair contests.

20 Counties to Enter

County and community exhibits will show considerable increase with approximately 20 counties from the South Plains and fifteen communities near Lubbock entering.

Many farmers, through co-operation with the experiment station, college authorities, farm agents and the farm associations of the district announce that they are going to plant crops especially to show in the fair this year, and are arranging for special seeds, and to take unusual care of their crop for this purpose.

In view of the increased interest being shown in poultry raising on the Plains, directors plan to give more attenton to the poultry department, and ncreased premums will be offered for the various winners. A registered poultry judge will be secured for the occasion, and points and ribbons won here will be official in all poultry shows.

The officer personnel of the fair this year includes I. E. Barr, president; E. L. Robertson and Norton Baker, vice-president, and M. B. Hilburn, treasurer, together with H. W. Stanton, A. W. May, Alex McDonald, W. T. Raybon and S. C. Wilson, who make up the balance of the director's board. A. B. Davis is manager of the fair.

VOL. 1, NO. 35. LUBBOCK, LUBBOCK COUNTY, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MAY 15, 1927 (AP) MEANS "BY ASSOCIATED PRESS"

COUNTY CROP PROSPECTS ARE NOW ON UP-GRADE

SCATTERED SHOWERS HAVE BEEN BIG HELP; COUNTY AGENT FEELS HIGHLY OPTIMISTIC AND SO DO THE FARMERS

With scattering showers having fallen over Lubbock county the past week, and with prospects for more rain in the next few days under promise of the weather man who cites records to bear out his prediction, prospects for crops in this county this year are much brighter, and farmers, who for a time showed a slight tendency toward the "blues" are now looking with renewed hope to a bumper crop this fall.

Some crops have been planted, including a little cotton, and a small acreage in cotton is now up in parts of the county, mostly in the northwest portion, according to David F. Eaton, county agent, who said that all farm land in the county not now seeded is awaiting light rainfall to be planted.

Urges Killing Blue Weeds

Mr. Eaton pointed this to time of year and the nature of weather that has prevailed as bringing about excellent conditions whereby blue weeds, the greatest enemy of the West Texas farmer, can be killed, and urged that steps be taken while waiting on planting season, to kill as many of the weeds as possible.

Practically all of the approximately 15,000 acres planted to spring wheat is in good shape, Mr. Eaton said, with spring oats beginning to need rain. The most of the wheat is in the north and northwest parts of the county, where light showers have fallen at intervals during the spring, and in this part of the county most of the planting to date has been done.

Planting generally is late due to dry weather, he said, but with thirty days yet remaining for this, he said farmers have expressed no anxiety over the situation, believing that sufficient rain will fall during this month. He also pointed to the delay in planting as a means of economy to the farmer, who he said, has saved the expense of listing his land probably the second time.

Rain Is All That Is Needed

With a rain in the next week or two farmers will be in position to go into their fields to plant without the worry of re-listing waiting time for planting, where if rain had fallen sooner, the re-listing would have been necessary to preserve the land in proper shape when time came to plant. He said also that if planting has been done before now, it might have been necessary to replant probably a large portion of the crop.

There is not sufficient moisture on the top soil now to germinate seed, he continued, but an excellent underground season prevails thruout the county, and only a light fall of rain would be necessary to moisten the top soil for planting, for which farmers are now waiting.

Rainfall records in the county over the 33 year period since 1894, show that the average fall during May over this period has been 2.24 inches, with the lightest fall on record during the 33 years shown at .24 of an inch in May 1913. The fall ranged from this to 5.26 in 1897, but last year was a near approach to this when 5.14 inches fell during May.

Records at the weather bureau here show that only 1.56 inches of rain has fallen since January 1, except the light shower of Thursday evening, while the normal fall over the four months period for a long number of years is 4.03, a difference from normal this year to date of 2.11 inches. Only four-tenths of an inch fell during April while the normal for April is 1.92. The normal fall in June over the 33 year period is 2.97 inches, while last year the fall was 1.10, and the year before that was .86.

On the basis of these figures the weather man is confident that plenty of rain will fall in the county to guarantee a crop, especially since the underground season is so good from heavy winter rains.

CHRYSLER SAVING MORE THAN SLOGAN

POPULARITY OF THIS CAR DUE TO LOW GASOLINE CONSUMPTION

Analysis of the causes which have made Chrysler automobiles in the three years of their manufacture among the most popular cars on the market reveals one—economy of operation—which has won favor with purchasers and has commended this make to buyers of every range of income.

Economy of operation has long been a leading requirement of automobile purchases, especially of those of average means; and statistics show that the most successful manufacturers are those who produce a good looking, roomy, dependable and durable car, which will give real performance, without sacrificing the principle of economy.

"To make the cost of maintenance and operation as small an item as possible has been the constant aim of Walter P. Crysler," said J. W. Frazer, Chrysler sales manager, in a discussion of this point," and those who have driven Chrysler cars under all sorts of conditions tell us that he and his associates have succeeded in their purpose.

Low Gasoline Needed

"If the economy slogan of an automobile is to mean more than a mere collection of words two things are essential. Low gasoline and oil consumption on the one hand, and few replacements on the other hand. Considering the first of these points, we have always been kept advised of the remarkable records Chryslers have achieved in low gasoline and oil use. Before the advent of Chrysler in the automobile manufacturing field, a six cylinder car running as many as 20 miles on a gallon of gasoline was unheard of. Yet the Chrysler "70" has been doing it ever since that model was put on the road. The Chrysler "60" has been delivering 22 miles and more to the gallon right along. The Chrysler "50" tests have shown it to be capable of more than 25 miles per gallon of gasoline.

"It is the general opinion of Chrysler users, as their opinions are reflected in reports to us, that the Chrysler car, because of its sturdy construction and the durability of its materials, is one of the most economical of all automobiles in upkeep, and in cost of gasoline and oil its unique engine design gave it from the outset a lead over rivals that even their strenuous efforts of three years have never been able to overcome."

NASH SALES SHOW DECIDED INCREASE

BIG CITIES SHOW HEAVY DEMAND FOR NASH AUTOMOBILES

Sweeping foward with the pressure of public demand, Nash has risen from fifth position among all cars in the metropolitan districts of New York, based on retail sales from January 1 to April 14. For 1926 Nash stood fifth in public favor in the metropolitan area and during the previous twelve months' period it was in seventh place.

Sales increases in the great New York retail market have been consistently made each year for the past three or four years so that today Nash acceptance by the New York buying public is outstanding.

Demand Is Great

The widespread favor with which the public has accepted the line of cars introduced by Nash at the shows this year is reflected in a strong demand throughout the country. Reports from Cleveland, for instance, show that when the books were closed for the month of April, it was shown that the only cars which exceeded Nash in volume of sales were three makes—all in the low price field. This included all of Guyahoga county. The Nash increase in Cleveland as compared with April a year ago was 19 per cent.

From the Nash factory comes word that export shipments of Nash cars for April showed an increase of 28.1 per cent over April, 1926, and that from January 1 to April 30 was the biggest four months' period of export saipments in the history of the Nash Motors Company, shipments exceeding the greatest similar four-months' period by 22 1-2 per cent.

The world-wide sweep of public favor, according to officials of the company, is due to the fact that never in the history of the company has it offered so splendid a line of cars as was introduced this year. There are twenty-six models in the Nash line, ranging in price from $865 to $2,090 and each of them equipped with the 7-bearing crankshaft motor.

HAHN'S RUNNING WAS BIG NOISE OF INDOOR MEETS

NEW YORK, May 14.—Lloyd Hahn goes down as the big noise of the indoor track and field season of 1927.

The cornhusker won every race he participated in—thirteen in all. In many of these new world records were established.

Hahn's greatest victory was gained at the expense of Edwin Wide, sensational Norwegian, in the mile race of the New York K. of C. games.

Huge Presses Shape Auto Bodies Like so Many Tin Toys!

This is the eighth of a series of articles on "How the Modern Automobile Is Made."

BY ISRAEL KLEIN
Science Editor, NEA Service

FROM thin sheets of steel come the parts that make up the enclosed bodies of today.

On man can handle each sheet, but huge overhead cranes and sturdy conveyors are required to transfer a batch of these from one department to another.

Once started in the process of manufacture, the body becomes one of the simplest operations in the entire automotive construction. Huge and powerful presses stamp out radiator shells, fenders, doors and windows from these sheets of steel, just as so many simple tin toys.

Each press has a set of die forms, one fitting nicely into the other, with only the thickness of the sheet steel separating them. These mighty dies, like jaws, come together against the sheet steel and produce the intricate fender, or the door or other part of the body, each with its peculair convolutions and designs.

Nearly All Steel

Every part of the body is pressed steel, the only exceptions being the wood frames of the seats and the wood floor of the car itself.

The top today is made of a fabric, sometimes rubber-coated to prevent the drumming noise that was formrely heard in enclosed cars.

Once the parts of the body are put together, and long before it is trimmed inside, it undergoes an extensive series of painting operations. The invention of quick drying lacquers has cut down this operation by many weeks. Yet it is still a long run of coatings and rubbings and polishings and dryings.

Buffed To Smoothness

The steel that first goes into the body is full of nicks, dents and other irregularities. These must be hammered out, the parts must be shaped smooth, they must be ground down and buffed to perfect form. Buffing is done with a fine hair brush and a soft rouge to bring out complete smoothness.

Parts like fenders and running boards, those taking black color, are still put through an enameling process, instead of being painted by the quick drying method. They are dipped into a large bath of hot enamel and hung up to dry. Before being dipped they must be washed in a bath of sulphuric acid, alcohol and water, and dried by passing through a hot oven, to keep all possible dust particles off.

Those parts like the radiator shell, door handles and inside metal trim, which get coatings of nickel, go through a copper electroplating process. They are buffed, polished down and then nickel plated, going through a second buffing operation before being finished.

Chromium Replaces Nickel

A new process of chromium plating is coming into use. Chromium is the next hardest metal on earth. It is rustless and extremely durable.

A chemical process has been found by which this metal can be used for coating parts like radiator shells, which are constantly exposed to the weather. It keeps polish indefinitely, besides preventing rust.

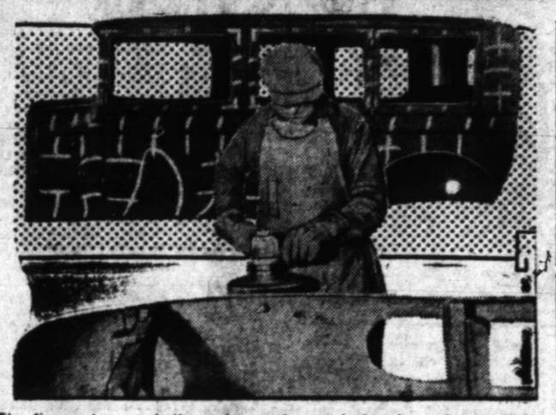

The rest of the body goes through a washing and drying process, similaro to that of the fenders, before even the first coat of primer is put on. This is a grey quick-drying paint, which is sprayed on and then baked itno the steel after three coats have been applied.

The primer acts as a filler, which smoothens the steel structure of the body. After it is applied, the body is rubbed down thoroughly with wet pumice and all the remaining irregularities, the cracks and crevices, are filled in by hand with a grey putty.

Before this primer coated body gets its first coat of color, it goes through rigid inspection. The body must be so smooth that chalk marks made on it will show even and fine, without a single gap to reveal an irregularity.

The body is then washed down and polished thoroughly, dred and prepared for the color process.

Today this is done in quick succession, one coat o fquick drying lacquer being sprayed almost immediately over the former, with the intervention only of a good rubbing. The paint dries almost under the spray gun.

The fine and even chalk marks on the car body, shown here, tell how perfectly smooth it must be before it gets its first coat of paint. Buffing, shown in the lower view, is part of smoothing the body to a glasslike surface.

Many Coats Applied

To prevent a color from covering any part of the body where it isn't wanted, that part is covered with paper. Even then a dash of wrong color doesn't hurt, because it can be polished off easily.

No coat of varnish is required under the new process, for buffing brings out the original color and the fine polish of the car.

The rest is left to hand painting of the body line along the moldings, and the final finishing touches of putting required to produce a good job.

The painted body is then put on a truck, brought into the upholstery department, finished internally with all its necessary equipment and bolted on the finished chassis.

NEXT WEEK—How finished cars are run through gruelling tests to improve future products.

TWELVE HUNDRED MILES OF HIGHWAY PUT OUT OF COMMISSION BY FLOODS IN WATER-COVERED AMERICAN VALLEY

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14.—Twelve hundred miles of main travelled highways have been put out of commission and rendered impassable in the area affected by the breaking of the levees and the overflowing of the Mississippi river.

The tremendous extent of the havoc that the flood has wrought on the roads of six states is disclosed in an exhaustive survey made by the National Touring Board of the American Automobile Association, on the basis of telegraphic reports from its road scouts, from A. A. A. clubs in the devastated area and from State Highway Departments.

Road Scouts Marooned

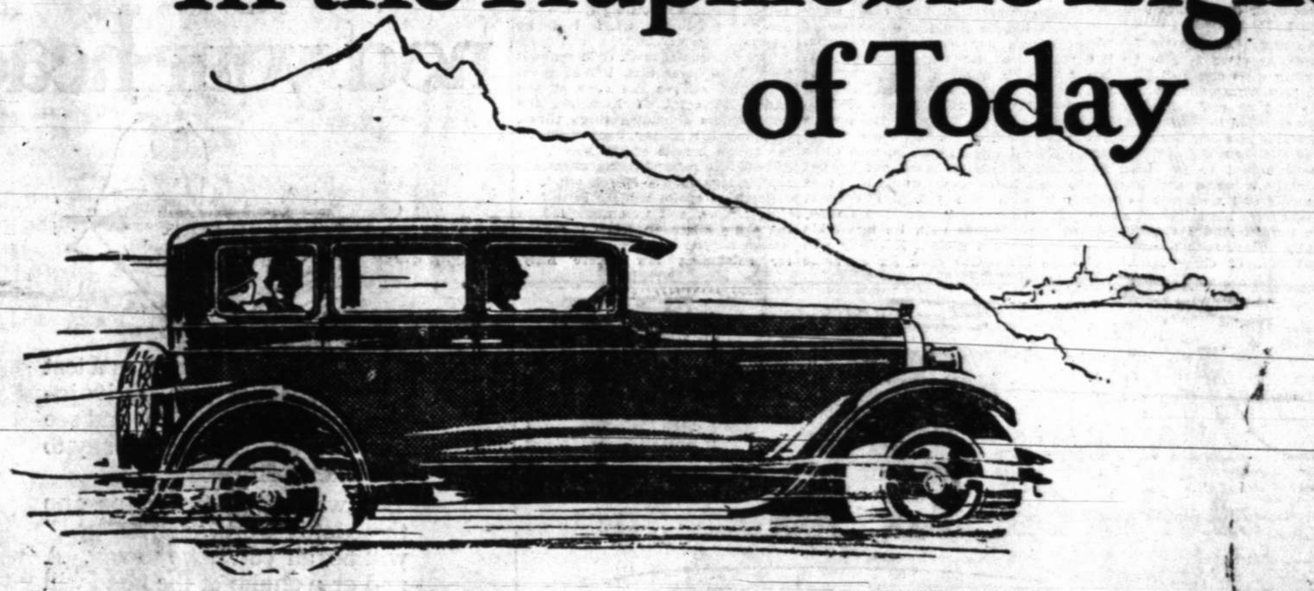

In several instances, the road scouts of the national motoring body found themselves marooned, with the highways they were logging caught in the path of roaring torrents. Cars had to be shipped, as for example, from Forest City to Little Rock, Ark., when a section of U. S. Highway No. 70 went under water west of Forest City.

In addition to the twelve hundred miles of primary highways that have gone under a blanket of mud and water, in Arkansas, Illinois, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri and Tennessee, there are many thousands of miles of connecting secondary roads completely unavailable, as far as highway transport is concerned.

There are eight main highways on which travel has wholly or partially ceased. These are: Sikeston, Mo., to Memphis, Tenn.; Memphis, Tenn. to Little Rock, Ark.; Little Rock to Texarkana; Clarksdale to Vicksburg, Miss.; Vicksburg to Monroe and Shreveport, La., Little Rock to Vicksburg, Vicksburg to

Buy Tomorrow's Refinements In the Hupmobile Eight of Today

WITH the swift progress that has recently taken place in eight-cylinder design, it was never so important to consider the engineering age of the eight you buy.

Product of the past two years, Hupmobile Eight is not merely abreast of the times, but actually ahead in many instances of current design in fine eight-cylinder cars.

You see the reasons for Hupmobile's undisputed leadership among straight-eights in slimly beautiful body lines, in absence of mere bulk formerly associated with high powered cars, in brilliantly smooth running qualities that spring from sane and simplified engineering.

As a single example, Hupmobile's eight-in-line motor is specially designed to take full advantage of the new anti-knock gasolines now sold everywhere and heralded as the greatest advance in fuels since the coming of the automobile. Faster pick-up, sustained smoothness, and more power from each ounce of fuel is obtained.

Modern design is likewise evidenced in such features as double plate dry disc clutch, thermostatic and manifold heat control, cam-and-lever steering gear, vibration damper, oil filter, air and gasoline cleaners—each engineered into the car as a contributory factor to smoothness, long life and economy.

Drive the new Hupmobile Eight after you have driven fine cars of equal or higher price. It will convincingly prove to you that more than $2500 for the finest eight performance and luxury is a needless expenditure—today or for years to come.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

Because he believes they have worthy ambitions which he wants to further, T. Q. CURTIS, millionaire department store owner, chooses three girls from his establishment to come into his home as his wards for one year, BILLY WELLS, who wants to become a concert violinist, is the only one of the three that is sincere. NYDA LOMAX and WINNIE SHELTON enjoy Curtis' generosity under false pretenses. Billy overhears old Curtis say he is going to adopt one of the girls as his daughter when the year is up and in order not to have unfair advantage of the girls, she tells them. She is unwillingly drawn into the battle which Nyda and Winnie wage for the old man's affection.

The strain of this, together with an infatuation for Dal ROMAINE nephew of MRS MEADOWS their chaperone, is causing her to lose interest in her violin. In spite of her obsession for the romantic Dal, she remembers tenderly CLAY CURTIS, son of her benefactor. Clay has disinherited himself and is boarding with Mrs. Wells in a poor section of the town, working in the Truman factory in daytime and writing music at night.

Winnie Shelton offers to do old Curtis' secretarial work in the evenings, so Billy, who often is asked to play for the old man, will not get the upper hand. Old T. Q. fits up a kindergarten room for Nyda and obtains two private pupils for her. Romaine asks Billy to allow him to accompany her on a shopping tour. He directs her to the exclusive shop of Madame Dubois, which she makes purchases to the amount of three hundred and ten dollars. As they leave the shop, she is surprised to hear the salesgirl mention to Romaine his previous visit there with Winnie Shelton. When they ride toward the country, they see Nyda Lomax with her head on EDDIE BANNING'S shoulder. Eddie was Nyda's chauffeur-sweetheart in her department store days.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXI

"TELL me about you and Nyda and Winnie before you came to live at Mr. Curtis' house," Dal Romaine suggested, as the roadster sped away from Colfax. "What sort of girls were they? Were the three of you friends, or enemies, as you now seem to be?"

"Nyda and Winnie were friends, or rather, as close friends as two such pretty girls can be," Billy answered. "Nyda was our store vamp, but she had no real harm in her. She was engaged to Eddie Banning, the chauffeur you saw her with just now, and she thought she was doing very well indeed to get him. He makes sixty a week, and has his room, meals and uniforms as well as fat tips from his millionaire employer's guests. And I think Nyda was really in love with him."

"What sort of chap—Banning?" Dal asked casually, his eyes on the road.

"Oh, a roughneck, I suppose you'd say, not too chivalrous toward women, but not even toward Nyda. But he suited Nyda—then, before she was thrown into luxury and a society for which she was not fitted. None of us was fitted for the life we've been thrown into—"

"Except you," Dal told her softly. "You're a lady born and a lady bred, regardless of the fact that you've had to work for your living."

"Thank you, but it's not true, just the same," Billy contradicted him.

"Tell me about Winnie." He smiled indulgently, as if she were a stubborn child.

"Winnie," and Billy's voice hardened slightly, "was the prettiest girl in the store, and the men spoiled her. She could always get any man she wanted, and no girl's best beau was safe if Winnie wanted him. If T. Q. hadn't taken her up, she would probably have married Clyde Stewart, or someone like him, and glad of the chance. Now—well, she's playing for bigger stakes, and if she has to go back to the store—of course she'll never be a private secretary; she hasn't that sort of brains—her whole life will be spoiled. So will Nyda's. I don't know what's holding her to Eddie Banning, for it's plain that she hates him now. And I don't believe either Winnie or Nyda will land a husband among the society men we've been thrown with as T. Q.'s wards. After all, we are Cinderella girls, shopgirls playing at society, and the agreement we signed prohibits us from marrying within the year. Of course a contract like that would not be binding in court, and if Winnie could grab off Ralph Truman or Bruce Krueger or—or you"—she forced herself to throw an impudent, challenging grin at him—"she'd kiss her contract and T. Q. goodbye without a qualm. I suppose Nyda would, too."

"And you?" Dal smiled.

"Oh, I'm afflicted with a conscience." She caught her lower lip between her teeth to keep it from trembling in the wave of feeling that swept over her. "I'll live up to my contract. Not that I expect to be seized with offers of marriage," and she flashed that impudent grin at him again.

"It may be harder to live up to that contract than you think," he said meaningfully, his eyes narrowing in brooding seriousness upon her.

She wrenched her eyes away from his, to avoid the disaster of exposing her very soul to him. "Nice weather we're having," she said with a short laugh. "By the way, where are we going? That was the Clifton turning back there."

"I forgot to tell you." Dal's voice was casual again. "I have a friend a chap I knew in India, who owns a small country place out here. I phoned him that we would take pot-luck with him today. I thought you'd like that better than an inn or a roadhouse with its inevitable fried chicken dinner. Kennedy will have his native cook fix up some real Indian food. You must be introduced to Indian chow. You're going to eat a lot of it before you're many years older."

"Am I?" Billy laughed shakily. "That's news. Is the gypsy blood in you telling fortunes now?"

"Yes." His voice was very low. India has marked you for her own, just as she marked me—before I was born."

"You give me the shivers," Billy protested.

"We turn here." Dal Romaine's manner was casual again. "The house is a quarter of a mile up this dirt road."

They said little more until the house, a low, rambling log cabin, came into view. A curl of blue smoke from the squat rock chimney promised warmth and hospitality. A thrill of adventure tingled through Billy's overwrought nerves. She might have known Dal Romaine would do nothing in the ordinary way—and what had he meant—India? India?

The raucous squawk of Romaine's horn brought a tiny bronze man, ugly and old, to the door of the cabin. At sight of Romaine, the East Indian salaamed three times, bumping his greasy back head on the rough boards of the porch, his dirty white robe flapping about his skinny legs in the March wind.

Romaine spoke rapidly in a foreign tongue, and was answered in the same language. Then the East Indian shuffled to the car, and after salaaming low before Billy, opened the door and stood back deferentially as she alighted.

"Sukha Singh says that Kennedy is out in his car. He dearly suspects misfortune, but I'm sure old Ken will turn up any minute. If he isn't here within half an hour, we'll have luncheon anyway. Ken probably has had a little car trouble. His old bus is a hundred years old, more or less, and he rarely takes it out without having to be hauled in."

His speech of explanation carried them into a big living room, furnished with an incongruous mixture of cheap American-made furniture and East Indian rugs, brasses, pottery and garishly colored printed muslin. She started about, her eyes in amazement, as she walked slowly to the fire blazing on the wide, deep hearth.

"A bit of India, to give you a taste for it," Dal Romaine told her softly, as he lifted her moleskin coat from her shoulders.

Billy stooped to warm her hands at the fire, while Dal Romaine leaned against the mantel, one brown hand stroking a cobra candlestick made of brass, its intricate carving painted with vivid green and red. Her gaze had not left his, and now it widened, became fixed in an unwinking stare, as the mysterious power of his black eyes, narrowed and burning, had its way with her.

Slowly his hand that was stroking the coiled cobra of the candlestick lifted, slipped along the mantelpiece, dropped to his side, clenched into a hard, brown fist. His whole body seemed to grow as rigid as a bronze statue. Only the eyes escaped rigidity. As she stared at him, spellbound, the lids lifted their long black fringes until the full size of the sooty black irises was revealed. Even the drooping lid of the right eye gave up its secret. When the irises were fully revealed, their dull blackness seemed to turn to glittering, polished jet.

Their bodies were less than three feet apart. Entirely without her own volition, Billy took a jerky mechanical step forward, raised her arms slowly as if they were controlled by marionette strings. He stood quite still, knowing that he did not have to raise a finger, drawing her, compelling her, by the hypnotism of his wide, unwinking eyes.

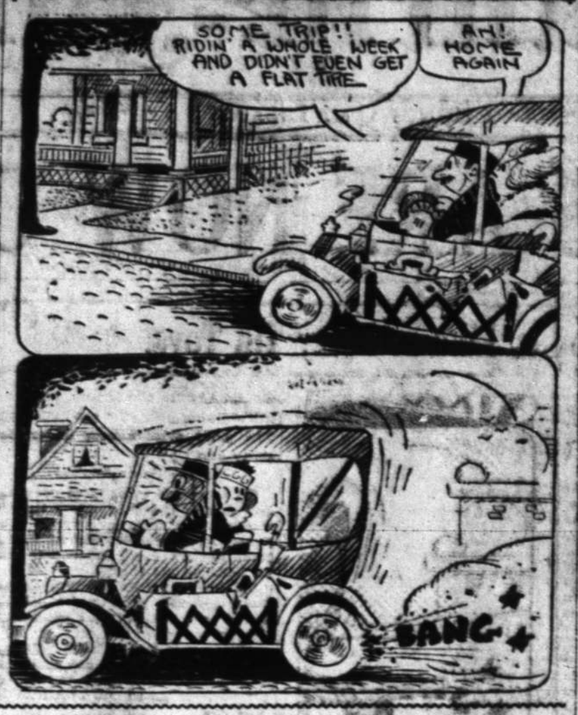

When her shaking hands touched his shoulders, she threw herself on his breast, her eyes released by contact with him. His arms went about her then, holding her close. It was then that she broke into a wild sob of relief and terror, but her fingers dug deeper into the smooth cloth of his coat, as if she were afraid that she would die if she loosened her hold.

"I want you to—kiss me," she panted, in a low, sob-shaken voice that was like nothing that had ever issued from her lips before. "I shall die if you don't kiss me."

EMPLOYEES WELL TRAINED IN SAFETY AND FIRST AID

FIRST AID

A Vail bronze medal was awarded Bert Arthur Storm, lineman, for quick action and application of First Aid training in restoring to consciousness a boy who had received a severe electric shock.

In May, 1926, Storm's attention was attracted by the screams of a group of women. He hurried to the scene and found the women trying to revive a boy who had been rendered unconscious through contact with a 2,300 volt light wire. Storm applied artificial respiration and revived the boy before a physician, who had to travel a distance of ten miles, arrived.

2 INCHES—100 MILES

When using the telephone, if you talk with your lips two inches from the mouthpiece of the transmitter, you add what is the equivalent of 100 miles of telephone wire to the distance over which your voice must travel.

The telephone current is designed to carry your voice satisfactorily when your lips are not more than one-half inch from the transmitter.

Company Automobiles Average 25,000 Miles Per Accident

First aid treatment and safety first principles are important features of the regular training of employees in the construction, maintenance, and installation forces of the telephone company. These employees are taught not only to follow the safety rules themselves, but to be constantly on the alert to prevent accidents to others and to render first aid treatment when necessary.

SAFETY MEETINGS

The foremen in charge get their men together at frequent intervals to give them safety instructions and to discuss any accidents which may have occurred during the interval between meetings, so as to prevent recurrence of similar accidents.

One result of this safety first practice is that last year the employees using automobiles in their work drove them a total of 8,700,000 miles, with but one accident for each 25,000 miles, approximately the distance around the world.

STOP ACCIDENTS

LOCAL CALLS

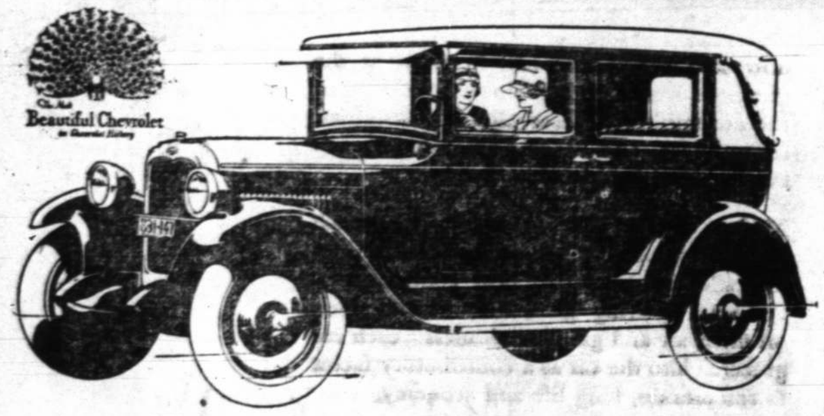

Approximately 8,500,000 local telephone calls are handled daily in the Southwestern territory. Fifteen thousand five hundred operators are required to handle these calls, which average 5,900 for each minute of the day.

Specially-Built Fisher Body — Strikingly Beautiful Duco Colors—Elegantly Appointed —The Aristocrat of All Chevrolets

Again Chevrolet revolutionizes every previous conception of quality and elegance in a low-priced automobile by presenting the Imperial Landau—a new model whose distinction and smartness entitle it to comparison with the costliest custom-built cars.

Its specially-built Fisher body reveals all the masterly craftsmanship for which the Fisher name is famous. The finish is lustrous black Duco, with embellishments of brilliant chasseur red.

With oblong windows—with nickeled windshield rim and landau bows—with vaulted roof, and with top and rear quarter in mouse gray textile leather, this aristocrat of all Chevrolets is one of the most strikingly beautiful cars to be seen on the streets and highways.

And, of course, it has all the power, speed and smoothness—all the flashing acceleration, finger-tip steering and unfailing dependability that have brought to Chevrolet such world-wide fame.

This beautiful car is now on display in our showroom. Come and see it. You will be delighted to learn that a car so low in price provides such commanding individuality and style!

RODUCTION HIKE MADE BY KNIGHT

CHEDULES INCREASED 50 PER CENT REPORT BY CHIEF INDICATE

"The original production schedule f 50 cars a day which was set for he Falcon-Knight when it was introduced about six weeks ago, has een stepped up to 90 cars a day," ays John A. Nichols, Jr., president f the organization building this Knight motored six.

"This is a 50 percent advance over ur original plans and present indications are that these new figres will have to be increased with n a short time. The manufacturing facilities of the plant at Elyria, Ohio, are being added to as fast as consistent with our policy of uality production."

Sales Are High

In his statement Mr. Nichols ommented on the fact that every ealer in the entire field organizaion handling the Falcon-Knight re orts sales well in excess of conract schedules with steadily inreasing interest on the part of otor car buyers all over the ountry.

The dealer organization handling he Falcon-Knight is conspicuous or the strength of individual ealer points with many of the best known motor car merchants in the country turning to this new product.

Present models include a sedan, brougham, coupe, and roadster, which are two more models than were originally contemplated for the first production schedules.

Tests Show Change Of Plugs Economy

Definite proof is now available through more than 2,000 tests by the Champion Spark Plug Company, that motor car owners will find it actual economy to install a complete set of new spark plugs every 10,000 miles, or at least once a year.

Automobile manufacturers, a few years ago, boasted of the long life of spark plugs. Today they are frankly recommending to the car owner, even though spark plugs have been vastly improved in recent years, that they should be replaced at regular intervals.

It was formerly believed that a spark plug was giving efficient service so long as it continued to fire regularly. The engineering tests furnished overwhelming evidence that this was incorrect.

Annual Caravan to Visit National Park Area

By NEA Service

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., May 14.—Again a caravan of tourists is preparing to line up at Battle Creek for its annual trip across America under the supervision of James H. Brown, the veteran motorist.

This is the annual caravan of the Michigan Automobile Tours confined to about fifty motorists and prepared well in advance for a successful outing. The tour this year will be started July 26. Another into the south may be taken in September.

This year Brown will lead a Month's journey straight west to Yellowstone Park, then south to Salt Lake City. It will be a leisurely, pleasant trip, with frequent day stops and night camps on the outskirts of towns. Participants in the tour take their own camping outfits, some even piling them into trailers for convenience and comfort.

Good Roads All Way

The route taken by Brown and his caravan, and the sights along the way, are so highly attractive that they are sought by many outside the chosen few and throughout the year. This year it follows improved pavement out of Battle Creek, all along the way to Salt Lake City. It passes along Lake Michigan and across Illinois to the great corn fields of Iowa and the even larger wheat areas of South Dakota, over the ranches of Wyoming into the area of national parks, monuments and reservations.

From Battle Creek the trail leads to St. Joseph on Lake Michigan and on around through Michigan City and Gary to Chicago. Thence it proceeds to Elgin and across through Rockford over wonderful roads to Dubuque. Here the route turns southwest to Cedar Rapids and on to Des Moines, where it again turns north and then west through Ft. Dodge, Storm Lake and Sioux Falls.

The Custer Battlefield Hiway is followed due west across southern South Dakota and past the Blacks Hills National Forest, where the monuments of pioneer days begin to reveal themselves.

Nature's Monuments

A little past Sundance, Wyoming, the tourist passes the famous and picturesque Devil's Tower, gigantically piercing the sky. The Custer Battlefield Hiway takes him on through Gillette and Sheridan to the battlefield itself, where the famous pioneer is said to have made his last stand.

As the caravan strikes Billings, it turns south and west again, passing Cody and entering Yellowstone park by the east gate. Four days will be spent in this scenic wonder, under the guidance of a national forester. Then the tour will be continued from the west gate of the park, southward to Salt Lake City by one of the finest roads in the west.

For the caravan this will be a month's journey. But any tourist can make the entire trip in three week's including the return home.

A caravan necessarily has to move as slow as the slowest machine in the group. With this handicap removed, there is greater opportunity for speeding up the journey, especially across Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, where the roads are fine.

Huge West Coast Bridge Open Soon

By NEA Service

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—One of the world's largest highway bridges, to span the northern end of San Francisco Bay across Carquinez straits, will be open to public travel after a formal dedication service May 21.

The bridge will form the final link in a Pacific Coast highway, joining Canada and Mexico.

Carquinez bridge is 5,350 feet long and has an approach span of 1,132 feet. It joins Vallejo on the north side with Crockett on the south shore.

More than 14,000 tons of steel have gone into the structure, which rises 350 feet above the surface and has a floor width of 42 feet, providing a 30-foot roadway and two four-foot sidewalks.

The piers on which the structure rests are 40 feet in diameter and the four center piers are about the size of a solid concrete building, 12 stories high and 40 feet square.

Work on the bridge started April, 1923. For three years the work was under water and was not visible to the onlooker.

The bridge was built by a private company at a cost of $8,000,000. At the end of 20 years it reverts to California, according to the building franchise.

LIMIT FINGER BOWLS

LONDON—When the king and queen of Great Britain dine at the homes of friends the royal couple are the only ones provided with finger bowls. The custom dates back to the time of King George II, when the guests passed their hands over their finger bowls when they drank to "the King," signifying that they drank to the Stuart "king over the water," and not to George. He decreed that no guests other than the king and queen might have finger bowls.

HUNG UP HIS WIFE

CHICAGO—Being hung up on the wall like an overcoat was too much for Eleanor Benafield, so she sought a divorce. Her husband, she said, had a playful habit of tieing her arms over a coat hanger and then hoisting her to an iron hook where he would let her hang until he decided to let her down. Eleanor got the divorce.

NASH (New Advanced Six Coupé $1775 f. o. b. factory)
Leads the World in Motor Car Value

NEW!
A Luxurious Nash Coupé
on the Long Advanced Six Chassis

To an already distinguished array of fine car offerings in the Advanced Six Series, Nash now adds a new and beautiful coupe.

Mounted long and low on the full 127-inch wheelbase, and featuring an alluring foreign conception in roof design, this new model is an undeniable masterstroke in the fine art of motor car craftsmanship.

All the same principles of symmetry and rhythm that contributed so richly to the success of the new Nash vogue in body design are deftly applied to this coupé—all the atmosphere of quiet elegance and luxury.

And the result is a model of striking impressiveness, that ranks well up with cars in the $3000 market.

The body is richly colored in two tones of green—a darker value on the upper structure and fenders, a lighter shade on the hood and upper body. Harmonizing with this in the interior is the dark green deeply tufted mohair upholstery, and the richly tailored side walls.

Four passengers are accommodated in this luxurious car, due to the comfortable rumble seat for two extra persons, which opens from the graceful rear deck.

Further luxury is evidenced in such features as the genuine inlaid walnut treatment throughout the interior, the walnut steering wheel, the long nickeled bars on the rear deck, the luggage compartment opening at the side for golf clubs and packages, the easily-lowered rear window overlooking the rear deck, the newly devised windshield, the exquisite hardware—as well as the Watson stabilators at front, Nash designed 4-wheel brakes and 5 disc wheels.

The Nash price range on 26 different models extends from $865 to $2090, f. o. b. factory

NEW DODGE GIVEN ROUSING WELCOME

PUBLIC PLEASED WITH NEW GROUP OF FOUR CYLINDER AUTOMOBILES

DETROIT, May 14.—Orders received by Dodge Brothers, Inc., from its dealers since announcement on May 1 of the new four cylinder motor have been in such volume that production has been increased for the second time in ten days, according to President E. G. Wilmer.

"The immediate response of the public and of our dealers has been very gratifying," Mr. Wilmer stated. "Orders received in the first three days following the announcement totaled approximately $4,000,000. This is in addition to ordinary contractual allotments.

Many Orders In

"The first day after the announcement dealers placed orders for 1080 cars and on the second day orders totaled 1742. Orders are continuing to pour into the factory in large volume.

"Over 600 telegrams from dealers in all sections of the country have been received telling of quickened demand and requesting advance shipment of their allotments.

"Stocks of cars in dealers' hands are low and current retail sales will be immediately reflected in factory operations. Since March 1 deliveries by dealers have been materially in excess of factory production.

"Output was stepped up May 9 to care for large orders. This was the second time our operations have been speeded up with 10 days."

ROAD DUST HAS EFFECT ON OIL

NEA Service

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Under severe operating conditions road dust in the lubricant of an automobile will considerably increase friction losses, while at light loads little difference will be noted.

These facts were discovered by the United States bureau of standards which has completed a series of laboratory experiments to determine the effects of road dust on lubricants of automobiles.

This accomplishment was the first journey by automobile between the Argentine capital and the remote inland capital of Paraguay.

New Chevrolet Model

Chevrolet today announces a new model, the Imperial Landau. It is a five passenger closed car of luxurious appointments and new design, listing at $780, f. o. b. Flint.

Heralded as the aristocrat of low priced cars, the new model is equipped with a specially designed Fisher body, marking a new creation by Fisher that provides the low priced field with a smart, rakish landau.

Contributing to the distinction of the Imperial Landau is the specially designed low-swung Fisher body with many advancements in design from vaulted roof and oblong plate glass windows to smoking set. Hardware is of special design throughout, with garnish rails in polychrome and door seals of beaded maroon leather—in pleasing contrast with the deep tufted taupe mohair upholstery.

Car Is Pretty

Emphasizing the exterior beauty of the car is the lustrous satin black duco finish with double bead stripes of Chasseur red. Window frames have a crimson trim on the outside and maroon within the car. The top rear quarter and the sun visor are of mouse gray textile leather. The Imperial Landau is fitted with a swingout type windshield of one-piece design on nickeled brackets, while narrow front pillars provide for increased driving vision.

Like other Chevrolet models this year the Imperial Landau is equipped with standard one-piece, full crown fenders, balloon tires, bullet type head lamps, oil filter, air cleaner, co-incidental steering wheel and ignition lock, remote control door handles, improved instrument panel, new gasoline gauge, disc wheels, new radiator and running board.

A factory statement points out that only the economies resulting from great quantity production have enabled the company to produce the new model at the price listed.

Introduction of the imperial provides the company with eight models, six closed and two open cars, comprising the most complete line of automobiles ever offered by a manufacturer of low priced cars. In addition to the passenger models, the company is also building commercial vehicles in both ton and half ton sizes.

Although factories have been in production on the imperial for several weeks, the formal showing of the new model throughout the country was withheld until today to permit dealers to obtain sufficient cars to cope with the expected initial demand.

HIGHWAY WORK

Natchez and Baton Rouge; New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Alexandria and Shreveport.

The more important centers of population in the flooded area, whose highway communications have been hard hit are as follows: Cairo, Ill.; Sikeston, Mo.; Blytheville, Ark.; Ripley, Tenn.; Memphis, Tenn.; Forest City, Ark.; Texarkana, Ark.; Clarksdale, Miss.; Greenville, Miss.; Vicksburg, Miss.; Natchez, Miss.; Monroe, La.; Alexandria, La.; Baton Rouge, La.; New Orleans, La.; Little Rock, Ark.; and Hot Springs, Ark.

Detailed information as to the condition of the roads throughout the entire flooded territory will be made available through the detour map issued regularly from A. A. A. National Headquarters and available at the Touring Bureaus of its 870 affiliated clubs throughout the country. Following is the summary of the report issued by the A. A. A. National Touring Board today.

"The Automobile club of Missouri report sthat U. S. Highway No. 61 running from St. Louis to Memphis is closed south of Sikeston, Mo., on account of high water.

"The water has dropped sufficiently to allow cars to cross the Mississippi river between Cairo, Ill., Wickliffe, Ky., and Birds Point, Mo. However, conditions are still bad and travel is not advised.

"The flooded territory in southwestern Missouri and northwestern Oklahoma caused by the Neosho and Verdigris Rivers is entirely cleared up and normal traffic has been resumed.

"A report received from the Louisville Automobile club advises that they are not recommending any travel into Cairo and that the road to Memphis is open by way of Nashville and U. S. Highway No. 70.

"The State Highway Department at Nashville advises that all roads are open except in the extreme northwestern part of Tennessee.

"Telegraphic reports from Memphis advise that U. S. Highway No. 70 is closed west of Forest City, Ark., and our official road scout car No. 7, which has been in this territory for some time had to be shipped from Forest City to Little Rock as the entire section was under water. A further wire advises that the road from Little Rock and Hot Springs to Texarkana is impassable on account of high water.

"U. S. Highway No. 61 is closed south of Clarksdale and traffic for Jackson and New Orleans is using U. S. Highway No. 51.

"The Shreveport Motor Club advises that the road from Vicksburg to Shreveport is out of commission because of the break in Louisiana levee above Vicksburg and the over flow from the Arkansas river.

"The Fort Smith-Texarkana road, which has been closed by the overflow of the Red river has just been opened and traffic from Kansas City and points south can now get through.

"The Motor League of Louisiana advises that the main road to Baton Rouge from Ory is closed but traffic is getting through by way of Hammond. The road is open from Baton Rouge to Alexandria but closed from Alexandria to Shreveport and traffic to Shreveport from Alexandria is moving by way of Winfield and Ruston.

"The Old Spanish Trail to Houston, Texas, is reported open but water is over the road for a distance of thirty-five miles west of New Orleans. A telegraphic report from the Louisiana State Highway Commission places the damage done to the state system at half a million dollars, adding that the road from Merrouge to the Arkansas line and from Oak Grove to the Arkansas line is submerged on account of high water and that all roads in and around Natchez, Miss., are impassable.

MAKES HOME RUNS

MANHATTAN, Kan.—A bee's stinger is only 1-32 of an inche in length, but it makes a strong impression when propertly applied, says a bulletin of the Kansas State Agricultural college.

Oakland Record Is Made During April

April set a new sales record for the Oakland Motor Car Company, Pontiac, Mich., 19,423 cars being sold during the month, it was announced by W. R. Tracy, vice-president in charge of sales. This exceeds the sales of last August, previous high mark of the company, when a total of 17,662 cars were sold.

May production schedules have been increased again and the Oakland factories now plan a combined output of 24,000 Oakland and Pontiac cars this month, an average of more than 1,000 cars each working day.

1,000 Goal Reached

The 1,000 cars a day goal was reached one day during the last week in April, but this month the production will have to average this record mark if the schedule is to be maintained.

Oakland is running far ahead of its 1926 sales; each month showing a big increase. During the first four months of 1927, Oakland-Pontiac sales totalled 53,618 cars as against 39,308 cars of the same period last year.

Attaining of the new production record was accomplished in April in spite of the fact that the new Pontiac Division factories were being occupied and new additional assembly lines and equipment utilized for the first time. With the added facilities working smoothly, no difficulty is anticipated in accomplishing the large schedule during May.

Production is still far behind orders, according to factory officials, and every effort is being made to increase production without interfering with careful inspection methods and the quality of cars built.

All motion picture records have been broken by "The Big Parade," now in its 66th consecutive week in New York and still running.

LOCAL PAPERS BEST FOR ADS KELSO ASSERTS

Says Utilities Companies Have Found Daily Is Most Valuable

CAPE GIVRARDEAU, May 14.—R. Kelso, director of the Community Power & Light Co., president of Texas Utilities Co., and of the new Mexico Utilities Co., who is in Cape Girardeau attending the meeting of the Missouri Association of Public Utilities in an interview here today said:

"The public utilities of Missouri, representing an aggregate investment of $520,983,242, after having experimented for years with every form of advertising, have found that the best advertising medium is the local newspaper.

"The fact is not subject to challenge. The reasons are clear. The daily or weekly newspaper is the greatest constructive force in any community. It is the foremost champion of our schools, our churches, our homes and sound community development. To justify its continued existence, it must be so conducted as to command the universal respect of the community which it serves. Its pronouncements must be accepted as accurate and trustworthy by friend and foe, or it cannot fulfill its mission. Its advertising copy must be censored with the same watchful care that keeps its news columns free from error and misrepresentation.

"These vital essentials to newspaper operation stamps it as an advertising medium without a rival, and we take pleasure in making this public acknowledgement of that fact."

Test Chrysler "60" Performance And You'll Know Its Value Is Unapproached

You've seen how every Chrysler "60" whips into action—is off and away like one-two-three, making all other cars seem sluggish in contrast.

Then think of its sustained speed capacity 60-and-more smooth miles an hour—effortless speed with velvety roadability—almost magical ease of handling—Chrysler beauty and comfort—and you'll realize why sweeping public preference for Chrysler "60" has played such an important part in raising Chrysler from 27th to 4th place in the industry.

No other six in its price field can approximate its combination of such important features as seven-bearing crankshaft, invar strut pistons, impulse neutralizer, manifold heat control, oil filter, air cleaner, full pressure lubrication, hydraulic four-wheel brakes and shock absorbers.

We are eager to show you the "60". Note its striking lines, coloring and appointment. Drive it yourself. You will at once realize that Chrysler "60" combines qualities which cannot be even remotely approached by any other car in its price class.

Chrysler "60" prices—Touring Car, $1075; Club Coupe, $1125; Coach, $1145; Roadster (with rumble seat), $1175; Coupe (with rumble seat), $1245; Sedan, $1245.

EGISTRATION OF EX-SERVICE MEN IN LUBBOCK TO BE DISCUSSED BY LEGIONNAIRES IN MONDAY SESSION

he local registrations campaign all veterans of the World War Lubbock and immediate vicinity preparation for the Fifth Divi- n convention of the American ion here next Saturday and Sun- , will come up for a great deal discussion at the regular meet- of the local Post of the Legion nday night in the Temple Ellis ilding here, and every ex-service n in the country, regardless of affiliation with the Legion, has urgent invitation from the com- ttee in charge of convention ar- ngements to attend the meeting. n fact, this invitation is almost the form of a general order from commanding officer in charge, d at least 150 ex-service men are pected at the meeting. Letters to ex-service men whose addresses re available to Legion officials re have gone out the past week ring attendance, when general ans for the convention proper ll also be discussed fully.

Other Posts Active

Other Posts in this section of the te are joining the local Post in eparations for the two-day con- ntion, and have promised every sistance possible. Members from rious posts other than the Lub- ck unit probably will attend Mon- y night meeting also.

Plans are going forward for the cal registrations campaign that ll be conducted during the com- g week, so that this will be out the way when visiting delega- ons begin to arrive here Friday ght and Saturday morning, and it the plan to register at least 200 en for the convention during the eek.

This, in the opinion of officials in harge of convention arrangements, very necessary, and complete co- eration is urged. The fee for reg- ration will be $1, and each reg- rant will be given a badge en- ling the holder to every privilege the convention, many of which ll be denied without the badge. ese include admission to two nquets, one Saturday night and Sunday at noon, reduced rates the dance to be held Saturday ght at the Lubbock Hotel, and e admission to all theaters of e city Saturday afternoon.

Fees To Help Pay

The registration fee is to be used ward expenses of the convention, nd these, according to officials of he Post will be heavy, and they still to one of the banquets alone e being well worth the fee. Not a full moment will be experienced uring the entire two days, and this especially true of Saturday af- ernoon and night. Entertainment eatures are many, and all will be ree to registrants with the excep- on of the dance, for which a small dmission will be charged wearers f the Legion badge.

Business men of Lubbock are co- perating in every way for the suc- ess of the convention, with each ne financing the decorations of his articular store or other place of business and paying a pro rata part of the expense of decorating down- town streets.

Plans for every phase of the conventi n will be given in detail at the Monday night meeting, begin- ning about 8 o'clock in the base- ment of the Temple Ellis building.

How's She Hittin'? Hints On Car Care

By ISRAEL KLEIN
Science Editor, NEA Service

The car is running along smooth- ly and picks up quickly, when there is a sudden series of backfires. It's especially when the engine is speed- ed up, or the car is climbing a hill with the accelerator down to the floor board, that this back firing occurs.

What's the trouble?

The fuel system, most likely, is clogged.

The line from the main tank to the vacuum tank may have some dirt or sediment in it, enough to stop the flow to the vacuum tank. The strainer at the top of the vacuum tank may be holding up the flow of fuel. The carburetor may be clogged with dirt.

The way to find the seat of such obstruction is to work backward from the carburetor to main tank.

First, the carburetor. If the car- buretor leaks badly, the float needle valve doesn't seat properly, due to sediment under it. The needle valve should be turned a few times, to clear this sediment.

If the carburetor is dry, however, the trouble is in the system ahead of it.

Next, the vacuum tank. Some- times fuel is drawn direct from this tank to the inlet manifold, due to a leaky valve in the tank. This can be ascertained by releasing the con nection to the manifold and noticing whether any fuel is dripping from it. This line should be dry, for if is used as a suction line to the vacuum tank.

To test the vacuum tank, re- move the lug at the top and pour in a small amount of gas. Start the engine and run with the throt- tle closed as near as possible to id- ling when suction is greatest.

While the engine is running put your finger at the plug opening and feel if there is any suction. If so, the vacuum tank is working prop- erly, and the trouble is somewhere ahead of this.

Of course, there must be gas in the main tank. If so, the vent in the cap must be open. If that's the case the trouble most likely lies in the line between the main tank and the vacuum tank. Probably a chunk of dirt lodged in a curve. To clear this release the line at the top of the vacuum tank, attach the hose of a tire pump and pump air through it a few times. This will force any obstruction back into the main tank and open the fuel system.

To avoid recurrence of the trouble the main tank should be drained and cleaned of sediment.

Dancing From One City to Another

Hundreds took part in Los Angeles' newest wrinkle—a 20-mile marathon dance from Venice to Los Angeles—until public health authorities de- cided the dance wasn't healthy and stopped it. Several of the couples succumbed and were taken to hospitals. The picture shows the dancers strung out over half a mile of road as they approached the outskirts of Los Angeles after nearly 20 hours of dancing.

INTOXICATION IS SHOWN BY TEST

CINCINNATI, Ohio—Cloves, pep- permint or any of the much adver- tised breath sweeteners will not dis- guise the presence of liquor from vigilant wives who use a chemical test invented by Dr. Emil Bogen of the University of Cincinnati. Nor can the husband "who carries his liquor like a gentleman" disguise the extent of his intoxication. The test consists of persuading the vic- tim to inflate a toy balloon or foot- ball bladder with his own breath, then pass the air through a solu- tion of potassium brichromate, which changes from yellow to green in proportion to the amount of al- cohol the breath contains.

BULLET PROOF COPS

BERLIN—Bullet proof vests are all right in their way, but they weigh too much, authorities have decided. Now they are considering the adoption of entire suits of a material which not only stops bul- lets but is impenetrable to knives and and daggers. A suit of this material weighs only seven pounds, while the steel vest alone weighs fifteen pounds.

C. I. A. GIRLS WINS

DENTON, Texas, May 14.—The first award in mid-summer dresses at the recent girls' state clothing contest held at Waco was given to a student in the Denton high school coached by Miss Lillian Schermer- horn, Shreveport, a sophomore in the College of Industrial Arts. Many students at C. I. A. take an active part in the work of Denton schools.

Carnival People Are Decidedly Clannish

They Even Speak A Different Tongue

It is a season of merrymaking. Dignity and reserve bow to merriment and laughter when the carnival comes to town.

In the inland cities of America the carnival is the undercurrent of Coney Island. Improvised amusement places become an amusement addition to the city for a brief whirl of life, the center of much joviality and noise.

Packed in 20 cars, the John Francis shows with 250 people, pulled out of Lubbock this morning at the break of day, amid much chatter over the prosperity or dullness of business. Carrying the wanderlust fevered, the carnival catches up a few drifters in each town, and on it goes through the towns and cities until it becomes colorfully cosmopolitan.

Dignity Frowned On

Dignity is unwelcomed in the carnival. The troupers are soon titled with characteristic names which apparently strengthen the ties of clannishness. "Babe," "Gabe," "Dago," "Lop Ear," "Dolly," "Crip," "Irish," "Smitty," "Perky," "Bozo," "Smoky" and "Pete" greet each other in the cook house at meal time.

Carnival parlance withholds secrets of the profession. The "grab jointer" tells the "juice stand" owner that he took in three "sawbucks" for the night's business, while the layman listens ignorantly. In the words of English devotees, the owner of the Hamburger inn confides with the proprietor of the drink counter that he did a business of $20. Carnivally speaking, a "fin" is $5, a "sawbuck" $10, a double "sawbuck" $20 and a half "century" $50, a "century" $100, a half "grand" $500, and a "grand" is $1,000. The "swing" is the merry-go-round, and the freak stands are the shows with unusual attractions.

Some of Them Marry

Occasionally the monotony of show life is broken when news of a marriage creeps through the camp, and then an unceremonious initiation into matrimoney starts. In Pampa two members of the John Francis shows, imbued with affectionate ideas, slipped away from the crews and were quietly married in a minister's home. When marriage was announced, the groom was locked in a lion's cake to remain several hours, while his bride was placed in a car, with many signs announcing the event, and paraded through the main streets of the town.

The "cook house" is a noisy tent where the show family discusses everything from "fins" to "grands" while eating. The sword eater, hypnotist, fortune teller, freaks, dancers, rack owners, spielers and day workers meet on common level.

W. F. Mealio, one of the cooks, has been on the "pad" three years. He cooked in the army 15 years before joining the carnival in Houston. "This gang," explained Mealio, "has the army beat when it comes to eatin." The show man eats breakfast from 8 o'clock to 11, eats dinner between 12 and 2 p. m., and comes back for supper at 5:30. Then, before going to bed he must have a little lunch.

Season 42 Weeks Long

Forty-two weeks of the year the carnival thrives. The real season is just now starting, and within a few more weeks county fairs will bring thousands of spenders before the racket. During the winter season the tented city finds quarters in resort places.

Five or six months is the average time a person spends with one carnival. There is much shifting from show to show. Rumors of the prosperity of certain parts of the country causes rack owners to try to get into certain circuits.

All like the game, so they say. "Once you get into it, you're hooked," is the reply to the question "Do you think you will ever go into some other work?"

COURSE A SUCCESS

DENTON, Texas, May 14. —The success of the first Short Course which was conducted by the College of Industrial Arts on May 5 insures its repetition for next year and probably every year in the future. It is estimated that 800 women representing practically all the counties the college had hoped to reach in the initial event, visited the campus. The course was planned by Fred W. Westcourt, director of the department of rural arts and carried out in cooperation with the extension service of A. and M. College. The course will be enlarged each year.

GOLFERS COMBINE GAME WITH BRIDGE

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Hard on the heels of contract bridge, which players found more exciting than the ordinary game, comes contract golf, the invention of several Kansas City fans. Here skill is scarcely less important than good judgment, for the player must contract to make a hole in a certain number and if he takes more than that number of stokes he is penalized two more than he actually took. If he makes it in less the contract goes down on the score card. This necessity of "calling your shots" really works toward the improvement of a player's game, enthusiasts say.

COLLIE BATTLES BULL

ALBERT LEA, Minn.—Seeing his master attacked by an enraged bull a Scotch collie seized the animal's tail, hung on so tenaciously that the bull turned and vent his fury on the dog. After a fifteen minute struggle in which the bull was driven off the collie, badly gored, crawled to where his master lay unconscious.

PARK IS PLANNED

DENTON, Texas, May 14—A college park is being made on ground back of Lowry hall at the College of Industrial Arts. A drinking fountain and comfortable park seats and other conveniences will be placed on the premises. The same ground has been under consideration for some time as a possible site for a golf course.

Famous Simmons Band To Go To Wichita Falls

ABILENE, May 14.—Visitors to the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, to be in Wichita Falls on May 16 and 17 will be given an opportunity to see and hear the Cowboy band from Simmons university at Abilene, recognized as the outstanding college band of the United States.

Very few, if any, college musical organizations have ever attained the national wide publicity and prominence and publicity which has been given the Cowboy band during recent years.

Went To Florida

At the recent annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans, held in Tampa, Florida, this Texas Musical organization was signally honored by being selected as the official band of that organization for life. The Cowboys made the trip from Abilene to Tampa with the Texas delegation and led all parades held in connection with the meeting of the gray clad warriors of the sixties.

Every member of the famed aggregation of collegians is either a son or a grandson of a Confederate veteran. At the same time the organization is a real western body for every member is from pioneer families of West Texas and the cowboy regalia worn by the musicians is not only their official uniform, but is a garb in which they feel perfectly at home, despite the fact that each of them are university students.

Demand is Great

Demands for the services of this band are increasing all the time, according to Gilbert R. Sandefer, business manager. The organization is now four years old and besides being a very unique and picturesque aggregation, the band makes real music.

The Cowboy band will contest for honors in the band contests held in connection with the Wichita Falls convention and at the same time will serve as Abilene's official b during the meeting.

In addition to the Cowboy Abilene will have two other co delegations at the convention. Murray college will have the b from that institution, and the club and orchestra from Ab Christian college will also be a The A. C. C. glee club will ha place on the official program the convention.

Abilene's delegation, including college organizations, will make trip to Wichita Falls on a spe train of ten cars. On the ret trip stops will be made at a num of towns on the Wichita Valley ra read between the convention c and Abilene.

MARRIAGE IN MARYLAND

BALTIMORE — Numerous Maryland couples who were married outside of the state suffered somewhat of a shock recently when they discovered that they were not legally married.

A law dating from revolutionary days, repealed in the assembly's recent onslaught on archaic legislation, recognized such marriages only when the license was issued in Maryland.

PENNY TO $3,250

NEW YORK—One of the first edition copies of Fitzgerald's "Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam," which sold for a penny apiece after their publication in London in 1859, brought $3,250 at a recent auction. The smallest copy of the book ever printed, five sixteenths of an inch square, brought $225.

WOMEN POOR TEACHERS

BRISTOL, Eng.—Women are poor teachers of boys in the opinion of R. J. Anderson, president of the National Association of Schoolmasters. Women who "manage boys as well as a man" might be "admirable proprietresses of wild west saloons" but aren't suitable for teaching, he says.

GOWNS WORN LONGER

PARIS—Gowns are being worn longer this year—in time.

Jean Patou, modiste, says the increased value of the franc is responsible for economy of his customers. At least half of them are Americans.

HAS 35,000,000 SHEEP

LONDON—Arthur Canham, secretary of the South African Union, says there are 35,000,000 sheep in the union, 20,000,000 of them pure merinos.

FLAPPERS UPSET CHINA

CHARLOTTE, N. C.—The new era in China, with its new system of education, flappers, jazz and slang, is responsible for present troubles, says James A. Thomas, recently returned from the country after 20 years there in business.

MOSQUITOES ON RUN

CHICAGO—Seventeen kinds of mosquitoes once fed upon the cultured folk who attended outdoor summer opera at Ravinia park, on Chicago's north shore.

Sixteen species have been exterminated, and now only the migratory "skeeter" remains. His breeding ground, health officials are sure, is within a few miles of Ravinia and a hunt is on.

Wesley (Grandpa) Harrison, 24, on trial for the murder of a night watchman at Okemah, Okla., told police he started "dodging the cops" when he was 9 years old. He is called "Grandpa" because he is alleged to have crowded so many criminal experiences into the short span of 15 years. Automobile stealing, hijacking and robbery are among the crimes listed to him.

GIRL "POSSESSED BY DEVIL"

BUCHAREST—Rumanian peasants in the vicinity of Talpa are convinced that 15-year-old Eleanora Zugun is possessed by a devil.

Two years ago Eleanora spent a silver coin she found for some candy after her mother told her if she did so the devil would get her. That night she informed her mother she felt a hand clutching her arm and finger nails scratching her. Her mother says she laughed until red "scratch marks" formed themselves into "dracu," the Rumanian word for devil.

MANY TO TEACH

DENTON, May 14.—Scores of seniors at the College of Industrial Arts, who will graduate in June, plan to bridge the gap between col- lege and matrimony by teaching. Many have not yet definitely been assigned positions. The chances at present, according to the concensus of opinion are that numbers will join the L. O. D. H. Society (Left On Dad's Hands). A few will continue their education in other colleges and universities. Others will go into business. Still others—well, their paths will lead the way trav- elled so frequently through the years in the past, straight into a cozy cottage with roses, vines, cana- ry birds 'neverything.

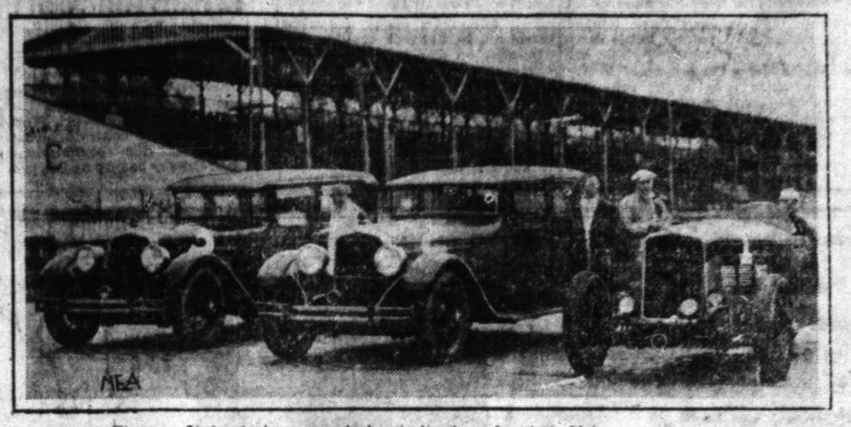

DANCING UPHELD

DENTON, Texas, May 14.—Danc- ing is as necessary as eating and a more perfect exercise than swim- ming. It is not a game for children but a natural way for old and young to express inward joy. At least that is the opinion of Miss Elizabeth Burchenal of New York City, who visited the campus of the College of Industrial Arts recently and con- ducted two recreational evenings at the gymnasium and illustrated folk dances of many lands. She is a recognized authority on the sub- ject. Miss Burchenal has collected material for her books from many lands, even living among the peas- ants in order to observe their danc- es.

Stock Cars Set 24-Hour Speed Mark

The two Stutz stock cars and chassis lined up for their 24-hour speed run.

By NEA Service

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 14.—For the first time in the history of automotive speed, two stock se- dans of the same make have set down a record above 60 miles an hour for a continuous stretch of 24 hours.

For this pioneer feat the Stutz Motor Car company, builders of these cars, wins the trophy set down by Sam Steveus, veteran racer, for such event.

There's nothing unusual in driv- ing cars beyond 60 miles an hour for stretches of a few miles. But this continuous grind of 24 hours, along the most exacting course ever laid down and for a stretch of more than 1600 miles, makes such speed a historic record.

The Stutz cars used in the long run ha dnothing on them that doesn't go with the car bought from the dealer. Yet they made the 24 hour run at an average of 68.44 miles an hour in the case of one, and 67.176 miles an hour for the other. A stripped chassis, in addi- tion, made the run at an average of 71.352 miles an hour.

Both stock cars were five passen- ger sedans, one having a standard steel body, the other a Weymann fabric body. They used regular gas for fuel.

The test was made through a stinging and blinding rain storm during the night, so that they had to be slowed down considerably.

The entire run included many stops for fuel and only on stop each for the tightening of a bolt.

FEW CARS SURVIVE

Of the 648 automobiles of differ- ent manufacture, brought out in the United States since the beginning of the industry, only 55 are now be- ing made. Of the 331 different makes of trucks brought out in 104 106 remain.

50 RESERVATIONS FOR TEXAS JAUNT

ALL-TEXAS SPECIAL WILL BE ROUSING SUCCESS, SAY THOSE IN CHARGE

DALLAS, May 14.—More than fifty reservations for the "All Texas Special" which, leaving Texas June 19, will carry a group of represen- tative Texas men on a tour of the North and East, have already been made by leading citizens in var- ious sections of the state.

With Governor Dan Moody a member of the party, the object of the tour is to demonstrate by per- sonal contact that the Texan of to- day is an up-to-date, farsighted, very much alive business man, and to call attention to Texas' resour- ces, industries, laws, labor condi- tions, climate, transportation facil- ities and other particulars, at the same time dispelling whatever er- roneous impression may prevail that the Lone Star State is still a frontier domain.

Greer Takes Reservations

Requests for reservations are be- ing received by J. L. Greer, Denison, Texas, chairman of the transporta- tion committee. There will be ac- commodations for 142 passengers aboard the de luxe special train. Because of this limit it is urged that reservations be made early. Each request should be accompan- ied by an initial check for $50, made to Col. C. C. Walsh, Treasurer. The cost of the round trip will be $250, with the balance payable prior to June 16.

Transportation has been arrang- ed so that tickets will apply from six concentration cities—Houston, San Antonio, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Fort Worth and Dallas. Full infor- mation may be had from Chambers of Commerce secretaries in various Texas cities.

The tour will take in fifteen points. Returning, the party will reach Texas on the night of July 4. With itinerary includes Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and Memphis. At Balti- more a special call will be made upon Col. Richard H. Edmonds, ed- itor of The Manufacturers' Record, in recognition of his service to Tex- as in exploiting its resources and possibilities.

Executives of the "All Texas Special" organization include Low- ry Martin, Corsicana, general chair- man; J. L. Greer, Denison, transpor- tation chairman; Cato Sells, Fort Worth, preparation and presenta- tion of resource statistics, and Sam P. Harben, Richardson, publicity and advertising.

To Brew Or Not To Brew Is Question

Major Hoople Writes On Amateur Beer

By MAJOR AMOS HOOPLE
Avalanche-Journal Philosopher

While the people of East Texas and in the Mississippi valley are being burdened with an over-supply of "dampness," it appears that South Plains citizens—especially those who reside in Lubbock county, are in for a real drouth. Now, some of you think we are talking about the weather, altogether, but if you have this opinion we suggest that you change it at once, for the weather is only a secondary matter.

It is the homebrew situation we wish to discuss, and knowing, as we do, that this subject is one of common interest we feel at liberty to discuss it fully.

There are very few things about homebrew we do not understand. In fact outside of naming the originator we likely know it all, for we can merely glance at a bottle and tell whether it is good or bad, how much authority it has, and whether it is "Bud," "Schlitz," "Pabst's" or just ordinary Bohemian brew. By tasting it we can tell where the maker bought the yeast, how much sugar he used and whether he used Comet Rice or new-crop spuds to clear it. If it is spiked with "Alchorub" we can also tell that, though we may have to sleep a few hours and use our headache as a thermometer, hydrometer, speedometer, or whatever kind of meter it takes to test beer. After drinking several bottles we can tell when it is going to rain, how much we owe, and why Coolidge should not be re-elected. In fact after a thorough charge we can tell almost anything—except the truth.

Inventor Is Unknown

The fellow who invented homebrew, in case his identity is made known, will go down in history as one of the greatest men of the century, but he is a fit subject for the "Hall of Fame."

A few years ago homebrew was a luxury, but that was before everybody began 'makin' their own." Last year it was as common as water and almost as free. But that was before the new edict. Today, so far as Lubbock county is concerned, homebrew may be prepared for a well attended funeral at which it will lead the procession.

The officers admit that it is against the law to make homebrew. They further agree that dealers who sell malt, caps, bottles, yeast, sugar, crocks, cappers and similar articles are violating the law. Maybe they are right—who knows? Still if a fellow needs a can of malt he needs it and will declare it is for cooking purposes if such a declaration is necessary. Some of us use yeast in our bread, sugar in our coffee, and bottles to put up our "hard apple" vinegar. If we need the bottles very likely we need the caps and cappers, so that's that. The yare bought for legitimate purposes, and no one has evaded the law. However, upon arriving at home we change our minds and decide to make homebrew instead of vinegar, biscuits and coffee no one is to blame. The goods were bought in good faith, and it is not against the law for one to change his or her mind. "Wise men change their minds—fools never."

99.44 Selling It

We have just taken an inventory of the city and find that 99 44-100 per cent of dealers are selling one or more of the products mentioned above. That's their business unless the grand jury decides to assume it. But after carefully compiling a long string of figures we find that the non-interested fraction of one per cent isn't "numerous" enough to constitute a jury—that's hard luck.

So the question now is this: Shall the homebrew brewers continue?

The officers say NO—the brewers haven't said. We have reason to think, however, that in one instance silence does not give consent. We do not think all the brewing will be stopped, and as long as Lubbock county is bounded on the north by Hale county, on the west by Hockley county, on the east by Crosby county and on the south by Lynn county, and in each of these counties homebrew products are being sold, we think that even though Lubbock county dealers have to junk their stocks very little change will be made in the supply. It will mean that people will go over in the next county and do their buying and come back in their home county and do their drinking. But as there is a law against drunkenness the county will profit from fines collected for this offense.

The Eighteenth Amendment is law, and so is the Dean act. In fact almost every state has a pet prohibition law of some kind, and Uncle Sam has another for good measure. They differ in many respects, but in one way they are all alike—none of them are as fully respected as they should be. And just as long as America has 57 varieties of prohibition enforcement, just that long will people attempt to ignore them.

Think He's Smart

Men—good men, who would not break any other law, drink liquor every day in the year and then laugh over how they "put it by" the law. This is not right, but it is a fact just the same.

Some authorities hold that homebrew is not liquor—others say it is. Some courts refuse to convict those guilty of manufacturing homebrew where same is not made for sale, while others would gladly send a man to the penitentiary if they found an yeast cake in his possession. Most dealers in America who care to do so sell malted hops, and malted hops were sold before homebrew was discovered, and before Mr. Volstead set America's drinking guage.

We do nota know whether it is unlawful to sell yeast, malt, bottles, etc., but we know it will be a mighty hard matter to enforce a law in Lubbock county that is not enforced in other Texas counties. When we say this we say it without prejudice toward the dry laws or officials charged with enforcement.

Used In Food

Every article used in the manufacture of homebrew is used in food or as containers for foods, and the sale of same for such is not unlawful. On the other hand we all know that at least three fourths of all the pint bottles, bottle caps, cappers, malted hops, etc., sold are used in the manufacture of homebrew. But here is the rub—who can distinguish legitimate from illegitimate sales? Who is even willing to try?

Four yeast buyers or sellers can not be punished simply because one or two of the four are guilty of violating the prohibition laws.

But we have said enough. We admit we know all about homebrew, admit that it is made, and even consumed in Lubbock county. We also have an idea that it is in violation of the law, in truth if not in statute, but we are not wise enough to give pointers on how the situation may be clarified. For there is a lot of difference between "clarifying," and one fellow can't hope to know it all.

Caprock Cut Near Crosbyton Starts

Work of cutting down the steep grade at the caprock on state highway No. 42 east of Crosbyton was started Friday by the Nile Construction company of Fort Worth, under terms of a contract recently awarded by the commissioners court of Crosby county and approved by the state highway department.

The state recently alloted aid for the project that will cost approximately $8,000. The grade, which is now very steep will be cut to conform to federal specifications, and will greatly facilitate use of the highway for traffic.

Patents have been issued for a new German process for photographing in natural colors on paper.
