APPEALS MADE BY LONG FOR CROP BAN

SAYS DECISION WILL WRECK OR INJURE SOUTH'S HOPES

Texas' decision on the New Orleans cotton conference's recommendation for legislation prohibiting cotton planting in 1932 will insure or wreck the salvation of the South, Huey P. Long, governor and United States senator-elect of Louisiana, indicated in a telegram to The Daily Journal today. Long is chairman of the New Orleans conference.

Coincident with Long's message, James M. Thompson, publisher of the New Orleans Item and Morning Tribune, telegraphed that he is "confident that the Louisiana legislature will adopt the plan proposed by Governor Long to completely stop the raising of cotton in Louisiana for the year 1932."

Support Urged

Thompson urged Texas newspapers to support the proposal, which he said was "more important to Texas than any other southern state."

Governor Long said the question was whether the South wants 20 cents a pound for this year's cotton and no crop next year, or five cents for this year's cotton and "less than that" next year. The holiday plan for cotton raisers in 1932 was approved at a conference of representatives of cotton growing states last Friday at New Orleans.

Louisiana's chief executive continued: "Do the people of the cotton growing states want eight hundred million dollars or less for the combined cotton crops of 1931 and 1932? Or had we rather have nearly two billion dollars for the cotton crop of 1931 alone, and forget about the cotton crop for next year? That is the question confronting the people and public officials of the cotton growing states at this time. If the cotton states will heed the call of the New Orleans cotton conference of last Friday, We will have 20 cent cotton and prosperity in less than three weeks; but if the cotton states do not act, we will have 5-cent cotton and bankruptcy for every farmer and business man engaged in that industry.

"As the chairman of the New

SEVEN TEXANS ARE KILLED

WEEK-END SHOOTINGS TAKE THREE LIVES; MISHAPS FATAL

(By The Associated Press)

Seven persons met violent deaths in Texas during the week-end.

The dead: Philip Miller, 40, Baytown; William J. Magness, of Goose Creek; Weldon Massie, 19, of Austin; H. H. Joseph, 38, of Houston; Tom Maloney, 35, of Terrell; Mrs. A. E. Pawcett, 40, of Houston, and William R. Lindsay, 40, of Dallas.

Three of the seven were shot to death. Massie was struck by a charge from an accidentally discharged shotgun at his home in Austin yesterday. Mrs. Pawcett was struck by a charge from a shotgun. A coroner's verdict of suicide was rendered. Lindsay was found shot to death in Dallas. A pistol was found at his side.

Miller and Magness were fatally injured in an automobile wreck near Houston late yesterday. Maloney was struck and fatally injured by an automobile as he sat on a concrete railing near Terrell yesterday.

Joseph was drowned near Seabrook Saturday.

THREE PLACED ON SPOT BY GANGSTERS

ANOTHER OUTBREAK IN NEW YORK GANGLAND INTENSIFIES WAR

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 24—Another gangster outbreak caused city leaders, federal representatives and indignant citizens to intensify plans today to clamp the lid on crime.

In the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn last night, five gunmen lined three men against a lumber yard fence and peppered them with bullets. One dropped dead; the other two were critically wounded. The gunmen escaped.

Anthony Ferrari, 25, a paroled convict, was killed. Angelo Curianni, 23, and Murray Leonardi, 21, were wounded.

Curianni told detectives Le and his two companions were taken for a "ride" from a dance hall by five men. He would give no motive for the attack. The eight went to the lumber yard in an automobile.

Bury Policemen

Two policemen killed in a payroll robbery chase Friday were being buried today. Twelve persons wounded in the police and robber gunfire were in hospitals with one in a critical condition. Four others killed in the shooting.

Federal agents have been sent to New York to help stamp out the gang evil. Racketeers' income taxes will be scrutinized.

Thousands of citizens are expected to attend an anti-crime mass meeting tonight in Central park arranged by the New York American.

The board of aldermen is planning a special session to appropriate $100,000 to equip patrol squad cars with radios.

Offer Rewards In Newspaper Bombing

MANSFIELD, O., Aug. 24 (AP)—Rewards of $10,000 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who bombed the Mansfield Journal last week and attempted to bomb the Mansfield News last night were offered today by the Brush-Moore, Inc., publishers of the News.

The company offered $5,000 for the arrest and conviction of the vandals who tossed a gunpowder bomb into the News building and another $5,000 in the case of the Journal. The Journal building was damaged by a bomb thrown into a basement from a passing automobile.

The Journal editorially expressed the belief that the bomb was the answer of the underworld to its policy of upholding the law and advocating war on crime.

Mother Kills Two Children, Suicides

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 24. (AP)—Mrs. Charles H. Getchell, 34, shot and killed her eight-year-old son and six-year-old daughter in their home today, then killed herself after failing in an attempt to slay her husband, Sergeant Getchell in charge of traffic accidents on the Minneapolis police department.

Getchell said his wife apparently was temporarily deranged.

Amarillo Man Buys Pampa Newspaper

PAMPA, Aug. 24. (AP)—E. E. Manney of Amarillo announced today he had acquired a controlling interest in the Pampa Times publishing company.

Manney said the deal included transfer of the Manney Printing company of Amarillo to J. D. Sugg, the publisher, after completion of certain contracts. His plans were indefinite concerning future publication of the Pampa Times.

The Times, an afternoon and Sunday publication, did not print its regular Sunday edition yesterday.

FARMER IS KILLED

DIVORCED 34 YEARS, PAIR REUNITED

A love that has spanned 63 years and even withstood divorce has flowered again in the announcement of the wedding of Norville Williams, 86, of Niles, Ill., and Mrs. Emma Martin, 80, of Chicago, both of whom are shown below. They were married in 1868 and after their five children were grown were divorced in 1897. Their great-great grandchildren and grandchildren succeeded in getting them together, and Williams declares that he always wanted to go back anyway because Emma was his first love.

DENMAN RITES READ TODAY

WIFE OF LOCAL BANK OFFICIAL CLAIMED BY DEATH SUNDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. John M. Denman, 46, who died at five a. m. Sunday, are being held this afternoon at the First Baptist church with Rev. R. C. Campbell in charge of the services.

Burial is to be in the Lubbock cemetery. Rix funeral directors are in charge.

Ill About Week

Mrs. Denman had been ill for about a week, being stricken while she was visiting in Fort Worth. She returned to Lubbock Thursday and had been confined in a local hospital.

She is survived by her husband, assistant cashier of the First National bank, two children, Billie 12, and Marion, 16; her mother, Mrs. W. M. Moore of Floydada, a sister, Miss Annie Marie Moore also of Floydada and seven brothers, Louie P. Moore of this city, Frank L. Moore of Houston, Lemond Moore of Amarillo, Carlton F. Moore of Sweetwater, W. R. Moore of Waco, Hollis B. Moore of Bellevue and O. J. Moore of Floydada.

Active pallbearers for the funeral are: C. F. Litton, S. E. Cone, J. T. Trigg, Ross McWhorter, R. L. Douglas and Clarence Simms. Honorary pallbearers are: Walter Clark, R. E. Hardburger, B. L. Wright, Geo. W. Foster, O. L. Slaton, W. S. Posey, Paul Hardwick, Clayton Gammill and E. L. Pitts. Flower girls are: Mary Genice Hardberger, Nancy Ruth Leaverton, Katherine Weaver, Muffie Murray, Martha Dean Cosby and Pauline Edgett.

Mrs. Denman had been a resident of this section since 1908. She and her husband moved to Lubbock about fifteen years ago from Floydada.

Port Arthur Man Kills Wife, Self

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 24. (AP)—W. P. Cash, 25, shot and killed himself today fatally wounding his wife at their home here.

A note found in the man's pockets indicated poor health led to the killing. The note, dated yesterday, stated he intended to kill both himself and his wife and was signed by both. Police, however scouted the suicide pact theory and believed it a case of murder.

HUGE OVATION GIVEN FLIERS AFTER FOUR FORCED LANDINGS

(By The Associated Press)

NEMURO, Japan, Aug. 24—Reaching Nemuro safetly today after fighting fog and motor trouble in the Kurile islands for five days, Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh heard the banzais of a great crowd, thanked the Japanese for their welcome and disclaimed any intention of flying around the world "just now."

Soon after the formalities of their landing were over both Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh were talking shop, the colonel talking about gasoline supplies, ignition troubles and weather reports with various officials while Mrs. Lindbergh was discussing radio with Takeji Katahira, chief of the Ochiishi wireless station here.

It was the Ochiishi station with which Mrs. Lindbergh communicated regularly after reaching the Asiatic side of the Pacific.

Receives Reporters

Colonel Lindbergh received reporters, who asked him, among other things, about the previously published report that he would extend his present trip tour to a round the world journey.

Through an interpreter, the colonel said he had no idea of attempting a world flight just now." He said he would go to China but not to the Philippines, and stated he had no plans for a non-stop trans-Pacific flight.

The colonel apparently had not made up his mind where to go after visiting China. He said the "easy stages" flight had more meaning and more importance than a non-

NEW MINISTRY PLANNED IN ENGLAND

LABOR GOVERNMENT IS RESIGNED IN FACE OF MONEY CRISIS

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Aug. 24 — J. Ramsay MacDonald, faced with a split in the ranks of his own labor party, today handed King George his resignation as prime minister and accepted the king's mandate to form a new government in which all three major parties will be represented.

He stepped out as head of the labor government and in again as prime minister of the new national government in 20 minutes with the king during which he submitted to the monarch the personnel of his new cabinet.

Kisses King's Hand

Then he kissed the king's hand, an age-old ceremony, marking the beginning of his service as prime minister under the new regime.

An official statement issued later at Mr. MacDonald's office reported these facts, acknowledged that the new government was to be formed "for the purpose of meeting the present financial emergency," and added that Mr. MacDonald had gone into conference with Stanley Baldwin, the conservative leader, and Sir Herbert Samuel, David Lloyd George's lieutenant for the liberals.

These two, the statement said, are "cooperating with Mr. MacDonald in the constitution of the new administration."

Tomorrow or the next day King George will call a special meeting of the privy council at Buckingham palace to swear in members of the new government. The retiring labor ministers who will not be members of the new cabinet will hand over their seals of office to the king.

Liquor Distillery Confiscated Here

A twenty-gallon illicit liquor distillery confiscated Saturday night by the Lubbock county sheriff's department was one of the neatest found here recently, Sheriff Wade Hardy said.

Seven barrels of mash were found at the still, which was in an abandoned house on a farm about four miles southwest of Lubbock. No liquor was found and no arrests were made in connection with the distilling operations, the sheriff said. The mash had been in fermentation about two days, he estimated.

Evidently shop-made, the oblong copper cooker was neatly soldered. A gas burner, a cooler, a pressure tank, and coils were included in the contrivance, which was set up for operation when uncovered by raiders.

BOND IS SET

Bond was fixed at $250 for release of Jose Angel Madril, a Mexican, on his preliminary appearance in county court before Judge E. L. Pitts this morning for theft of a pistol. The case was transferred from justice of the peace to county court. Madril was returned to city jail in lieu of bail.

PLANS FOR JAIL BREAK ABANDONED WHEN GUARD WITH SHOTGUN SIGHTED

Re-enacting an episode of last May, a temporary guard armed with a shotgun Sunday night forced prisoners in city jail to abandon plans for an escape. The plotting inmates discovered the guard's presence at about 10 o'clock, after they had sawed out a bar in the west window of the jail, Sheriff Wade Hardy said.

The guard also had been posted outside the window, at the rear of the jail, Saturday night. He was placed there after officers suspected an attempt to break jail was under way, the sheriff said. Prisoners preparing to escape were surprised by threat of a shotgun in similar fashion in mid-May.

Nine felony prisoners succeeded in escaping from the jail in July. They were aided by a 14-hour start that period elapsing before the escape was discovered. Four subsequently were recaptured.

Some county prisoners at city jail probably will be taken to the Hale county jail at Plainview tonight and will be kept there until completion of the new Lubbock county jail, or time for trial, Sheriff Hardy said.

Augustus Anderson, 26-year-old negro facing a murder charge in the razor killing Saturday of a young negro woman, Violetta Whitfield, probably will be transferred to Plainview.

TOP PRICE OF ONE DOLLAR IS POSTED

CRUDE VALUES REACH HIGH LEVEL IN TWO STATES TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 24.—Crude oil prices have risen again to $1 a barrel in two states of the mid-continent area as the result of a gubernatorial campaign which included the establishment of martial law.

The Phillips Petroleum company, a major purchaser, announced the posting of top prices of $1 in Oklahoma and Kansas and 72 cents in Gray county, Texas, effective at 7 a. m. yesterday.

Follows Shutdown

The action came 19 days after Governor W. H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, expressing concern over the plight of small producers, called out Oklahoma national guardsmen to enforce a shutdown order in which he later was joined by Governor Ross S. Sterling of Texas. Prices at that time ranged as low as 10 cents a barrel.

Governor Harry H. Woodring of Kansas, who declared himself in "complete accord" with the program, reported that a major purchasing company, which he declined to identify, had offered to raise its price to $1 a barrel in Kansas.

As a result, he said, it was possible an order of the Kansas public service commission declaring a shutdown today of the Ritz-Canton pool wells might be withdrawn.

Supplies Diminish

The Phillips company, pointing out in a statement that supplies for its refineries in Kansas City, Okmulgee, Okla., and Borger, Tex., were diminishing, said it was increasing its rates "rather than take oil out of storage which cost us in excess of $1 a barrel."

Prices of 60 cents per barrel were announced for Hutchinson, Carson and Moore counties, in Texas, for 40 gravity and above, with a 2-cent differential for each degree below that grade.

The company expressed the belief production now held back would be

He did not disclose their names.

RATE GROUP TO MEET HERE

SEEK ADJUSTMENTS OF CARRIER RATES ON PLAINS COTTON

A meeting of the executive committee of the South Plains Freight Rate association has been called for 11 o'clock Wednesday morning at chamber of commerce offices here in connection with a fight to obtain adjustments of carrier rates o South Plains cotton, A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, announced this morning.

Arthur P. Duggan, former president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, of Littlefield, said he would arrive home Tuesday night in a telegram Sunday to Davis and suggested that the session be called. Davis and Duggan have figured in an inquiry intended to uncover means of obtaining relief for the South Plains from cotton freight rates authorized by the interstate commerce commission, effective June 15.

Estranged Husband Held For Shooting

SEMINOLE, Okla., Aug. 24 (AP)—Mrs. Alice Menick, 18, was shot to death and Andy Shores, 28, was critically wounded at midnight in an automobile in front of the home of Mrs. Mary Pemberton. Claud Menick, the young woman's estranged husband, was arrested and was taken to the county jail at Wewoka.

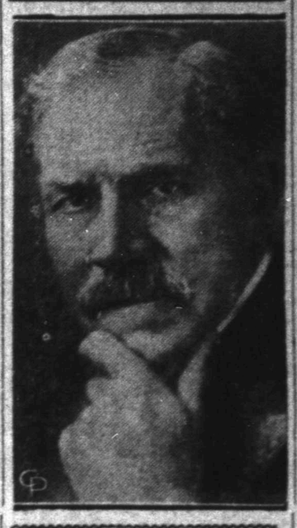

Mrs. Menick leaves two children, one 21 months, and another 3 years old. She had been living at the Pemberton home.

Shores was unconscious in a Seminole hospital with three bullets in his body.

The shooting occurred when Menick, who had waited in front of the Pemberton home, saw his wife and Shores together.

FOREIGN-BORN ABSOLVED OF U. S. CRIME

DISCRIMINATION OF OFFICERS AGAINST ALIENS CITED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 — Reports of police discrimination against foreigners—of third degree and "jail torture" methods—were pushed forward today by the Wickersham commission.

The commission itself, in a final major report on its two-year investigation into crime, attacked what was termed a popular belief that aliens are mainly responsible for the nation's more than billion dollar annual toll of criminality.

Reports Held False

All 11 members signed a statement that they were able "definitely to say that any such impression as to the foreign born is at variance with the facts."

Reports by half a dozen specialists on "crime and the foreign born," supervised by Dean Edith Abbott of the University of Chicago's graduate school of social service administration, maintained that despite prejudice against the alien, this class actually committed less crime than the native-born proportion to their number.

"It is easy," Dean Abbott said in summary, "to shift the responsibility for what is wrong by charging it upon the nationals of other countries. It is easier, for example, to charge our crime record against immigrants than against an inefficient and corrupt system of police and an outworn system of criminal justice."

A study of the Mexicans in California by Professor Paul F. Taylor of the University of California found that in some sections where crime among this class exceeded that of resident citizens police prejudice acted to increase arrests "quite independently of criminality."

Thirty American Missionaries Held

PEIPING, Aug. 24. (AP)—Dispatches to native newspapers from Tsinanfu today said 30 American missionaries were being held prisoners by bandits at Tamingfu, 250 miles south of Peiping.

The dispatches said Chinese government troops were besieging the gang, headed by the bandit leader Lusikwei Tang, in an effort to free the prisoners. The missionaries were described as belonging to the Nazerene, Mmonit and National Holiness chuches.

Demented Man Runs Amuck With An Axe

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 24 (AP)—Wielding an axe, a demented miner charged through "the patch," a settlement near Renton, yesterday, slashed two men and a small girl set fire to a house, wrecked furniture in a number of others and was captured after a fierce struggle with possemen.

The miner, John Kiski, 45, and his victims, Cathrine Zummmerling aged three; George Androws 45, and Joe Vomock, 30, were in a hospital at New Kensington today. All were critically hurt.

Kiski attacked his wife while she held her baby. She fled with the child and he set their home afire. Seizing an axe he rushed through the streets.

Co-Op Membership Meetings Planned

DALLAS, Aug. 24 (AP)—R. J. Murray, general manager of the Texas Cotton Co-operative association, announced today that 180 membership conferences would be held in the state this week and early in September. He expects over 20,000 cotton growers to attend.

TWO CHURCHES AT KILGORE ARE RAZED

FIVE OTHER ATTEMPTS AT INCENDIARISM ARE FRUSTRATED

(By The Associated Press)

KILGORE, Aug. 24.—Incendiarism in Kilgore, general headquarters for troops patrolling the East Texas oil field under martial law, apparently had been halted today.

There had been no new outbreaks today. Residents of Kilgore, aroused by the fire scenes of yesterday and last night, were calmly surveying the situation and wondering what motive was behind the disturbance.

Attempts Frustrated

The last alarm was sounded at 2 a. m. today when soldiers discovered gasoline-soaked rags in the old Baptist church building, which had been used variously as a dance hall, jail and more recently as a grocery store. It was the fifth unsuccessful attempt to start fires by arson.

Kilgore's two churches, the Presbyterian and Methodist, were the only buildings actually burned. They were razed yesterday.

Special military guards were posted to prevent any further attempts. Guards also were on duty at the military camp, a mile from town.

An unidentified man drove through the camp early this morning, ignoring the commands of guards to halt. He fired several shots wildly, one bullet narrowly missed striking Col. Lawrence McGee of Dallas, who was asleep.

Gunman Escapes

Guards captured the automobile in which the gunman was riding, but he escaped. It was believed he was wounded by shots fired at him.

Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, in command of the national guard troops in the East Texas field, said rags similar to those found in the building where arson was attempted, were found in the automobile.

Six men were held for investigation in connection with the fires.

SHOTGUNS ISSUED

KILGORE, Aug. 24. (AP)—Sentries at brigade headquarters of the East Texas oil field army of occupation were issued sawed-off shotguns today by command of Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters.

"If anybody else tries to run past the sentinels and enter this camp it is going to be too bad," the general said.

TURFMAN HELD FOR RANSOM

RICH CHICAGO MAN IS THREATENED UNLESS $250,000 PAID

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 24—Alarmed by threatening telephone calls, friends of John J. "Jack" Lynch, handbook operator and race track stockholder, said today they were trying to raise a purse by which to bring about his release from kidnapers.

The part owner of Arlington park race track and share-holder in the General News bureau which supplies racing information throughout the country, has been held by kidnapers since Thursday, his friends said, for $250,000 ransom.

Marty Guilfoyle, for years a leading gambler and handbook operator, and an associate of Lynch was reported to be raising $50,000 in hopes of effecting a compromise. The kidnapers, however, were quoted by the Hearid and Examiner as saying they want $250,000 or "we'll fill Lynch full of lead."

The pioneer handbook man disappeared between Chicago and his summer home in Lake Geneva, Wis. Several hours later a telephone call was received by his wife at Lake Geneva. She was told he had been kidnaped and held for $250,000.

Lynch, about 50, has been in ill health for some time, and has divided his time between his showplace residence in Lake Geneva and Miami, Fla.

All-Church Party Thursday For Methodists Will Be Large Event During Week

Whirl Of Social Events That Has Been Feature Of Summer Here, Will Continue

A summer that has been filled with parties and other socialities is drawing to a close in Lubbock, while the whirl of gay affairs continues.

Church people have joined with those who participate in the entirely social affairs in having their parties. Children, the adolescents—people of every age—have had a part in the summer entertaining.

During this week, parties are to continue for Miss Blanche Bacon, whose wedding is scheduled for September. Mrs. A. W. Evans and Miss Anna Cecil Evans are entertaining this afternoon in their home at 2309 16th street for Miss Bacon and there is to be a bridge-luncheon at 1 o'clock Wednesday in her honor. Mrs. J. O. Ballinger and Miss Sylva Wilson are to be hostesses at this latter event in the Ballinger home at 2113 9th street.

Fo Entire Church

An all-church party is to be given Thursday evening for members of First Methodist church, honoring the pastor, Rev. J. O. Haymes, and family.

Miss Grace Jennings is entertaining San Souci Alumnae club at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening in the studio of Mrs. Earl Hunt.

Several other church and club affairs are being arranged for the next six days.

All members of the First Methodist congregation are to attend the party Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock for the Haymes family, who will return from their vacation by that time. The church and parsonage lawns will be used for this affair and all members who have joined since Rev. Haymes came here last November will be considered special guests.

Committee Named

A committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Mesdames R. T. Campbell, J. B. McCauley, W. W. Royalty, Olive Fluke and Messrs. C. E. Maedgen, H. W. Stanton, Rufus Scarbrough, Fiske Miles, K. L. Riggs and Ethridge Eagan.

Poca-A-Poca club members were guests of the president, Miss Hilda Lawrence, for a dinner party Saturday evening at the Glorieta tea rooms, celebrating the first anniversary of the organization. The turtle is the emblem of the society and a turtle theme was employed for appointments.

Covers were laid for Misses Beatrice Welch, Mary Barnett, Pauline Trammel, Mercedes Lawrence, Wilma Brock and the hostess.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

COLLEGE EXPENSES

Most who enter or return to college this autumn are being sent. Perhaps a very few of them will be interested in what I have to say; nevertheless, most of their parents will be keenly interested.

"For most of these students, going to college is just the thing to do. They go in about the same matter-of-fact way they went to bed when they were only three years old. The wherewithal has been provided. Their tuition is paid as also is supplied the money for their books and clothes, traveling, incidentials and luxuries. They have little or no concern about how the money is to be supplied, so long as it is enough to meet their many wants.

For the parents of many college students the provision of money is no hardship; for some such a matter is a mere trifle. But there is also a large number of parents who pay their son's and daughter's way through college at a terrific sacrifice, even without that son or daughter knowing about the degree of sacrifice. For such children there inevitably is a loss in character through this ignorance. Among the greatest tragedies are those in which children sent to college at a great price to their parents fritter away their time and even degenerate into worthless citizens at college, to be social nuisances when they will have been "sent home" or "graduated."

On the other hand, those college students who at home had learned to make self-sacrifices for their family and with their family, and who in college are aware of the sacrifices which their family have made for them, are fairly sure to make good and to be an honor to themselves, to their family and home community.

You and I have a great esteem for that college student who, not having had the training which a very limited family purse may give, proves a successful student at college, and who acquires there wholesome attitudes and habits of work preparing himself to be a useful citizen.

Well we know it is hard for the student to make good at college who had not home habits of independence, hard work and responsibility. No matter what the economic status of his home, he cannot do nearly his best unless he had learned to make some self-denials. God pity the child or adult who has always had his wishes gratified and who never has learned the secret of self-abnegation. Just how much limitation by circumstances and by self-effort is essential to best character development we do not know; but one thing seems certain: character growth is hardly possible without some training in these directions. Best self-denials rarely or never come by accident. They grow out of wise denials by parents in the child's early years.

Parents of infants now are building foundations of the success or failure of these children in the years to come. The crib is the best place to prepare for college.

Mrs. J. E. Leigh Is Visitor In Lubbock

Mrs. J. E. Leigh, state secretary of the Baptist Women's Missionary union, left Sunday afternoon for Tahoka where she is to visit the Baptist missionary society. Mrs. Leigh will spend all of this week in the Lubbock territory meeting with missionary society officers and members.

She was in Lubbock over the week-end, following an associational W. M. U. meeting in Levelland on Friday, and spoke at the First Baptist church here on Sunday morning. While in Lubbock, Mrs. Leigh was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Scott, 2201 13th street.

FRESH OUTBREAKS IN CUBAN REVOLT

By The Associated Press

HAVANA, Aug. 24—Fresh outbreaks in the eastern province of Cuba last night caused the government today to hurry additional troops into Oriente in the belief rebels concentrated at a number of strategic points might attempt a surprise maneuver.

Three insurgents were killed and a number wounded and taken prisoners when one of the rebel groups was surprised. A considerable number of arms, a quantity of ammunition and other war material was seized. Three bombs exploded here but the damage was slight.

The government had issued a statement declaring its confidence in an immediate and successful termination of the uprising a few hours before the skirmishing was resumed. President Machado, back from Santa Clara since Saturday, was to confer with army heads in Oriente by telephone today.

She Thought It Was Love

His handsome face—his winning smile—how they had thrilled her once! But now all she could remember was his inexcusable carelessness about "B. O."

"The man of her dreams," he seemed—out there on the sun-lit beach. But the first time they danced together—romance fled!

A maid and a maid by the Summer sea. Long lazy hours on the beach together. "It's love," she told herself and thrilled with happiness . . . Then came the dance—the discovery that almost broke her heart. How could she ever have thought she cared for him—a man who could be guilty of "B.O." (body odor)!

Hot weather no excuse

It was breathlessly hot as they danced together. But that was no excuse in her eyes. The "B.O." offender is never forgiven, no matter what the weather may be.

Take no chances. Carelessness may cost success . . . popularity . . . even love itself. Make Lifebuoy your toilet soap—then you know you're safe from offending even on the hottest, stickiest day.

Lifebuoy's cooling, refreshing, penetrating lather purifies pores—removes all odor. Its pleasant, extra-clean scent—that vanishes as you rinse—tells you Lifebuoy is a real safeguard against "B.O."

New complexion beauty

What is your complexion worry? Dull, cloudy skin? Coarse pores? Try a daily Lifebuoy 'facial'. Massage the pure, bland lather well into the skin. Then rinse. Pores are gently freed of clogged impurities—dull skins toned to fresh, healthy radiance. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

REVOLUTIONARY WAY TO ROAST COFFEE USED BY HILLS BROS

Controlled Roasting Just the Opposite of Ordinary Method

By a radically different roasting process — Controlled Roasting — Hills Bros. give their rare blend a flavor no other coffee has!

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so the matchless, uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by Controlled Roasting — the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time. While the coffee passes through the roasters, the heat is automatically controlled. Any variation in the roast is thus absolutely prevented!

Such uniformity is not possible by bulk methods. In spite of watchful care, some of the coffee is roasted too much — some too little. Flavor variation is therefore inevitable.

As fast as Hills Bros. Coffee is roasted, it is ground and packed in vacuum. By this process air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken from the can, and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if "air-tight," will not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can. Hills Bros. Coffee, Inc., Kansas City, Missouri. © 1931

LUBBOCK HUBBERS SWEEP TWO-GAME VERNON SERIES

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

What a hectic series THAT was! We refer to the Vernon-Hubber baseball games played Saturday night and Sunday afternoon, and what transpired between the games. You had to be around the Avalanche-Journal office Sunday morning to appreciate the fun, or maybe you heard some of the Vernon lads discussing it.

One of Tom White's telephones woke us up in the middle of the night Sunday morning about 10 o'clock and it was Manager Quattlebaum of the Vernon Cardinals calling to comment upon our piece regarding Saturday night's game. Oh, he was quite complimentary over the telephone but the real fun did not begin until we came down town and found an army of enraged Vernon so-called ball players, mad as a flock of wet hens, who straightway began calling us names not at all complimentary. Sports writers are accustomed to taking verbal brickbats and bawlings out nearly every day but what we mean we never got such a panning in our young life as the one of yesterday. It seems that we made so many gross errors in our report of the game that the logical thing to do would have been to catch the next northbound train.

Never did a ball club know as little about the newspaper angle of baseball nor carried a manager who knew as little about sportsmanship than the Vernon Cardinals. That is, we've never heard of one quite as bad yet.

We do have an error to correct. In Saturday night's game it has been discovered that Blackie Hoyle, who went in to relieve Youngblood in the ninth inning after the Big Chief had already won the game as pretty as you please, allowed a tally to be made when he walked a man with the bases crowded. He walked them to fill the bases. So the total and final score should have been 10 to 4 favoring Lubbock, instead of 10 to 3 and the final run was the only earned run made by Vernon. Lubbock earned all of its runs.

But if we were in the apologizing business, the biggest mistake we would beg pardon for committing was the pre-series statement that Vernon was sending a first class ball club to Lubbock. Maybe it's first class in that section but we play a better brand of baseball on the Plains.

It might be interesting to Manager Quattlebaum and his hot-headed cohorts to know that shortly after he left the premises, which was not a minute too soon to suit us, two of his best men, one a regular player and the other the assistant manager, who should be manager, came in and paid us no slight tribute, at the same time condemning the actions of the Vernon players. According to these two, we should have made short work of the complaining ones.

And here's a bit of wordage clipped from a West Texas contemporary's column which we think of reprinting. It was originally written by Jinx Tucker, the sage of Central Texas sports writers, and deals further with sports writers. It tells of a man who seems to have turned on some of the best friends he ever had. It follows:

"Bochey Koch, the handsome Baylor athlete," says Jinx in his Waco paper, "has returned from the coaching school at Lubbock where he listened to Wallace Wade, the famed Alabama coach, tell of the exploits of the Alabama football team. One of the disgusted young coaches who paid his hard-earned money to attend the school stated that he had read all about Alabama's teams and that Wade could not tell him anything about the record of the team, that he really paid his money to learn something about the formations used, how Wade coached the men, and felt that he ought to have his money back.

"Bochey, however, said the trip was worth something to him. 'Wade referred to the sports writers as insects,' declared Koch, grinning, 'and I had never known that before. Of course, Mr. Wade is a smart coach and I guess he ought to know.'

"Still," continues Jinx, "the insects play an important part in the lives of the coaches. If it were not for the bees, there would be no honey, and if it were not for the sports writing insects, all that the fans would know about Wade was that is is something you do when crossing a stream of water not very deep.

"And if it had not been for the sports writing insects when Mr. Wade started his coaching school at Lubbock there would not have been enough coaches on hand to pay for Wade's pullman fare from Alabama."

We had been aware of the fact that Wallace Wade, and Jimmy Phelan, too, for that matter, had made light of the efforts of sports writers, and we marvelled at the fact that two men who had arisen to such heights and who were allegedly good enough to draw 300 supposedly intelligent coaches to Lubbock to listen to them could afford to say such harsh things about the typewriter toilers. The really great men of athletics, Rockne for instance, never fail to recognize the workings of the scribes who are partially responsible for their popularity. Would that the above were given nation-wide publicity. Many sports writers who have followed and praised the works of Wallace Wade would chuckle to read of his statements here before men of his profession.

BROWNS HALT GROVE STREAK

LOCAL SECOND STRING WINS OVER CARDS

"HUBLETS" SPANK OUT AN EASY 9 TO 2 VICTORY HERE

BY COLLIER PARRIS,
Journal Sports Editor

The Hubber regulars were in Brownfield yesterday afternoon playing in a tournament, so Manager Dirty Waller was forced to call upon his second string to keep an engagement with the Vernon Cardinals and send them back to Wilbarger county pouting and fuming over their second defeat of the two-game series. Waller's "Hublets" spanked out an easy 9 to 2 victory yesterday afternoon.

The only way in which the Vernon team resembled the fowls for which they are named was by flying off the handle and high into the clouds which shadowed the field all afternoon; too, they must have turned scarlet with ill-hidden shame under the unfriendly grilling of the handful of Lubbock fans.

Taken For Ride

Manager John Quattlebaum, a former West Texan and an alleged former ball player in these parts, sent in what he considered his second best hurler, but, like his ace Red Mints of the previous evening, Mr. Albert Arp was taken for several rides on the bats of Waller's rookies, and the six-error support tendered him must have been unlike the regular Cardinal form, for in their section the Cards have a reputation for winning ball games. Mr. Arp was combed for a dozen blows, four of them and three errors being used in the seventh inning for six juicy runs by the local boys.

Blackie Hoyle was Waller's chunker and the young man let the visitors down with five hits. The Hubbers, or what stood for them, committed enough errors to lose an ordinary ball game but yesterday's game was not ordinary. Hoyle hurled a capable game. A double in the fourth, followed by a single, brought in the only earned run and Crite's error at short, an attempted double play and a force-out let Ladd in for the other tally.

Big Herschel Galey batted in fourth position yesterday and played his usual fine game behind the plate. He singled in the first to drive in Allen who had singled to lead off. Curtis Allen, playing for the first time of the season, a Tech football guard, sacked his two chances in center field and hit twice, one of them a double, besides drawing a pass.

Lefty Bettes, the southpaw first-baseman, filled that position capably in Morgan's stead yesterday. Little Foxx started in right field but was replaced by Pipkin, a City League player. Youngblood, who pitched Lubbock to a big win over Vernon Saturday night, was in right field and Crites and Dirty Waller took third base and shortstop by turns, neither doing much of a job. Crites batted well, hitting three singles and sacrificing one. Pat Patterson, the Meadowbrook pro, played an errorless game at short, singled in one run, scored once himself and singled again.

Two Hubbers runs came in the third when Dirty walked, advanced on Crites' single and scored on a close play at the plate when Catcher Bailey failed to have his foot on the plate on the throw. Galey safe on an attempted double play, advanced on an error and came in on a Patterson's single.

It was a plucky band of understudies who stood by Waller in his crying hour and they deserve full credit for making their own breaks and taking advantage of them. They fielded well, getting two perfect double plays in the first and third innings to save possible scoring.

Rally In Seventh

In the big seventh, Allen led off with a double. Dirty Waller doubled to drive in the only earned run. Gotche Mints, Vernon's clean-up man, made three successive errors at third base there after and called it a day, throwing up the sponge in the middle of the inning. Bettes finally came along to get a single, though Bailey almost had a man out at the plate, would have forced Waller out had he kept his foot on the plate instead of moving. Umpire Joe Chism called him safe and there was a squabble, not an infrequent occurrence during the Vernon series.

There the Cardinal defense went to pieces. Mints made an error at third, his third of the inning, to let Youngblood go to second and score Galey, Patterson and Bettes. Youngblood came in on Hoyle's single, Crites and Pipkin, replacing Foxx, had whiffed and Allen, up for the second time, went out. Rainwater to Ladd.

Save for a dusting off in the sixth, a hit in the fifth and a single in the ninth, Hoyle shut the visitors out in order in the last five stanzas. Ladd got in the way of a fast one to lead the sixth and Logan Williams sacrificed but the next two went out, Hoyle to Bettes.

"QUEEN HELEN" WINS TITLE

MUST WIN HONOR ONE MORE TIME TO TIE MRS. MALLORY

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 24 (AP)—Only a matter of time and her willingness to compete apparently stands between Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and the one feminine tennis honor she has not been able to win.

"Queen Helen" assumed the throne of American tennis for the seventh time yesterday when she defeated Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whittingstall, British star, in the final of the women's national championship. She still has to win the title once more before she can equal the record of eight championships set by Mrs. Molla Mallory.

Yesterday it took her 24 minutes to play to win 6-4, 6-1. And not for a minute was the issue in doubt.

The doubles still remained to be decided today with three of the visiting stars among the quartet which reached the last round. The final match brings Mrs. Whittingstall and Miss Betty Nuthall against Miss Helen Jacobs, Berkeley, Calif., star, and her English partner, Miss Dorothy Round.

Lott And Doeg To Defend Their Title

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 24 (AP)—George Lott of Philadelphia and John Doeg of Newark set out today in an attempt to win their third successive national doubles tennis championship.

The defending champions faced formidable opposition from a field that included the first nine ranking players of the country and a potentially dangerous English team, George Hughes and Fred Perry.

The most serious threat against their attempt for a third straight victory was the California team of Ellsworth Vines and Keith Gledhill, who beat the Lott-Doeg combination in five sets at Newport last week.

Texas Golfers In Semi-Finals Today

CORSICANA, Aug. 23 (AP)—A fast field of Central Texas golfers—survivors of the opening rounds—was in the final rounds of the Central Texas golf league tournament today.

Opening rounds were played yesterday.

T. S. Moon, who eliminated Johnny Shive of Waxahachie, was booked to meet P. E. Kendall of Ennis in the semi-finals. Newton Burnett and J. M. Garrity of Ennis also are schdeuled to meet in the semi-finals.

SOUTHPAW ACE IS DEPRIVED OF RECORD

ATHLETIC STAR FAILS TO WIN SEVENTEEN STRAIGHT GAMES

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Browns, who have proved annoying opponent for Philadelphia's Athletics all season, have deprived Lefty Grove, the A's southpaw ace, of a chance to set a new American league record.

Grove won 16 successive games, tieing the mark set in 1912 by Smoky Joe Wood and Walter Johnson, before he ran into the Browns and Dick Coffman yesterday in the first game of a doubleheader. He pitched another good game, giving only seven hits and one run, the result of a misjudged ball which went for a double in the third inning, but Coffman was a little better. The St. Louis hurler held the champions to three hits and gave them their first shutout of the year. In the second game Hoyt held the Browns to four hits while the A's pounded out 17 to win 10 to 0.

New York Gains

New York made a slight gain by taking two games from the Chicago White Sox. The largest crowd that ever saw a ball game in Chicago, 52,000, turned out to see the Yanks with 10 to 4 and 9 to 1. The defeat dropped the White Sox into a tie for last place with Detroit and left the Yanks only two games behind Washington despite the Senator's 6 to 5 triumph over the Tigers.

Cleveland likewise had a close call from a lower ranking team when the Boston Red Sox fought them to a standstill for eight innings only to go down 4 to 3 as Danny MacFayden gave three hits and lost a duel with Sarge Connally.

Cincinnati finally was eliminated from the National league pennant race when St. Louis took two games from the Boston Braves. An 18-hit attack, led by Chick Hafey, who batted in eight runs with two homers, a double and two singles, won the first game for St. Louis 16 to 1. The second clash went eleven innings before Jim Bottomley dropped a home run into the bleachers to give St. Louis a 1 to 0 victory.

Brooklyn also won two games, staging two late rallies against Pittsburgh and winning by a 5-4 count each time.

Trapshooters Will Open Series Today

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 24 (AP)—Amateur and professional trapshooters of the United States opened their annual "world's series" here today.

It is the thirty-second grand American championship and handicap tournament, the classic of the target world, and the attraction of a predicted 1,000 trap shooters.

Today was scheduled the North American class championships, with C. L. Greer of Aberdeen, S. D., slated to fire the first shot of the week's tournament.

This year 15-year-old Rufus A. King of Wichita Falls, Texas, goes out in defense of his title won last year with a score of 97 out of 100 targets. Handicapped by a recently fractured leg, from which the cast will be taken in time for the main event Friday, he will compete against a predicted 1,000 contenders.

Dempsey To Start Fighting Tonight

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—Jack Dempsey is scheduled to display his sock in Portland, Ore., tonight and in Seattle Wednesday.

Big Bill Hartwell, Boston negro whose principal qualification is that he weighs 210 pounds, is scheduled to square off against Dempsey tonight with a few more heavyweights held in reserve if he does not last long enough. Wednesday's opponents have not been named.

Four Midshipmen May Be Dismissed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Unless four midshipmen can satisfactoryily explain misconduct on a recent European cruise they never will wear the gold braid of a naval officer.

Requests for explanations were addressed to them by Acting Secretary Jahncke of the navy department after Rear Admiral Thomas C. Hart, superintendent of the academy at Annapolis had recommended their dismissal.

Jahncke said he would take every precaution to see no injustice is done and would go over the papers personally if the case comes to him for final disposition.

The nature of the offenses was not made known and the names of the middies were withheld.

SEEK WOMEN'S TITLE

CHICAGO, Aug. 24 (AP)—Mrs. George W. Tyson of Kansas City, the defending champion, today headed a band of 160 or more women golfers over the Exmoor Country club course in quest of the women's western title. The field included the best in the middlewest and far west, along with a sizeable number from the east and south.

STARS OF GAMES YESTERDAY

(By The Associated Press)

Dick Coffman, Browns, and Waite Hoyt, Athletics—Former held A's to three hits to beat Grove, 1-0, in first game of double header; latter gave four hits to take second, 10-0.

Chick Hafey, and Paul Derringer, Cardinals—Hafey batted eight runs, hitting two homers, as Cards beat Braves 16-1 in first game. Derringer gave five hits in eleven innings as Jim Bottomley's homer won second, 1-0.

Dick Montague, Indians—Singled in ninth to drive in run that beat Red Sox, 4-3.

Babe Ruth, Yankees—Hit 36th home run of season as Yanks won two from White Sox.

Joe Shaute and Jack Quinn, Robins—Former pitched Robins to 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh in first game; latter's relief pitching checked Pirates and enabled Brooklyn to win again.

Joe Cronin, Senators—Hit homer in seventh to beat Tigers 6-5.

EVEN THE BEST MUST LOSE SOMETIME AND HOUSTON DEFEATED BY SPUDDERS

BY WILLIAM A. (BILL) PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Houston may be first half champions, and well on their way to the second half title, but even the best must lose sometime. Yesterday was the Buffaloes day to go down, and it was the three-hit pitching performance of Lester White, Wichita Falls right hander that beat Houston, 2 to 0. Stanton, Wichita Falls first baseman, clouted a double and two singles in three official times at bat.

Dallas completed a final southern road invasion by splitting a doubleheader with San Antonio. With George Murray pitching, the Steers won the first 9 to 4. The Steers blew a 5 to 1 lead in the second game which San Antonio won 7 to 6 in ten innings.

One of the clasics of the season was staged at Beaumont where Fort Worth and the Exporters split a doubleheader. The superb game was the first, in which Leon Chagnon held Beaumont to four hits for a 1 to 0 verdict. Whitlow Wyatt won the second victory in three days and his ninth in his last ten starts when he won 1 nthe second game 3 to 2. Wyatt limited the Cats to three hits.

Galveston and Shreveport contributed a mound duel between Miller and Cromer with Galveston a 2 to 1 winner.

SAVE THAT STATE TAX!

Roll your own, MEN! You don't pay state tax on TARGET cigarettes!

WHAT'S the use of paying BIG money for cigarettes when now it's such a cinch to roll your own with Target? No state tax on Target—that's a big break! And one thin dime buys 30 to 40 cigarettes! And what cigarettes! Real honest-to-gosh tobacco—Virginia, Burley and Turkish, put through exactly the same process as the tobacco in ready-mades, and kept fresh and fragrant with moisture-proof Cellophane.

Two neat packs of gummed-edge cigarette papers come with every package of Target, too. Try rolling a Target at your dealer's with the new inexpensive Target Roller; you get a perfect, round cigarette that looks like a ready-made, tastes like it, and you save at least half a buck a week. If that isn't a break, what is?

AND GET THIS!

The U. S. Government Tax on 20 cigarettes amounts to 6c. On 20 cigarettes you roll from Target tobacco the tax is just about 1c. No wonder you get such value for a dime!

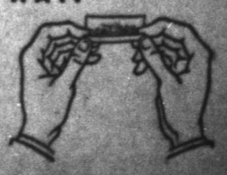

BROWN & WILLIAMSON TOBACCO CORPORATION, LOUISVILLE, KY.

HOW TO ROLL 'EM BETTER THAN READY-MADES!

Treat yourself to the inexpensive Target Roller. Your dealer will demonstrate one. It's the swellest little cigarette maker you ever saw. You can roll rounder and better cigarettes than ready-mades.

HOW TO ROLL 'EM BETTER THE GOOD OLD WAY!

Shake a little Target tobacco on a Target cigarette paper. Target's long cut. It rolls even the full length of the cigarette. Tuck in the paper and roll with both thumbs toward gummed edge.

Thought For Today

There is no speech nor language where the voice is not heard.—Psalms 19:3.

The voice of the people is the voice of God—Hesiod.

British Finances

Recent activity by American financiers to strengthen the English financial structure serves to emphasize the fact that a financial or industrial breakdown in England would have terrific repercussions in the United States.

An article in the current Magazine of Wall Street points out that England is now the United States' leading customer, having passed ahead even of Canada. Last year England bought more than $670,000,000 worth of goods from the United States exporters, and sold in the United States more than $200,000,000 in return.

In addition, United States investors have over $500,000,000 in British industries, while scores of American firms have extensive branches in the British Isles.

The readiness with which American bankers responded to recent English pleas for new accommodations is easily explained in the light of these facts. What helps British business will help American business also.

Wheat And Hunger

The price of wheat on the Liverpool market has fallen to within one-fourth of a cent of the price it commanded in the year 1591. This is not only a painful reminder that the price today is far too low; it also indicates that the price in Elizabethan days was far too high.

The wealthy class in England in those days was made up of the landed gentry, whose tidy, neatly-hedged farms produced wheat as a staple crop. The enormous wheat fields of the United States, Canada and the Argentine had not yet been tilled; as a result there was never quite enough of the grain to go around, and England held many very hungry people in consequence.

Today the American wheat belt holds plenty of hungry people too; but they are hungry because there is too much wheat. That fact underscores the difference between this depression and preceding ones—and it indicates that the solution, somehow, should be a little easier to find than it has been before.

Wheat Plans

Suggestions that long-term credits be arranged so that a part of the United States' vast wheat surplus can be used to relieve famine conditions in China have been advanced recently by men in charge of the famine relief work.

One authority has estimated that at least 5,000,000 bushels would be used each month for half a year under such an arrangement.

There is a good deal to recommend the plan. In the first place, severe floods have put 10,000,000 Chinese in danger of starvation. In the second place, the surplus wheat is doing no one any good as long as it lies in th elevators, and any long-term credit arrangement that could be devised to move part of it would help to relieve a bad situation. Last, but not least, the project might help to open up a new market for American wheat growers that would have a salutary effect on the export trade of the near future.

A Boy's Heart

There is something extremely appealing about that recent news dispatch which told how a boy in Orange, N. J., let all of the dogs out of the city pound.

The sponsor of this "jail delivery" was caught by the police and taken to court. There he explained why he had given the dogs their liberty, and the judge—who, one gathers, knows something about boys—let him go after a mild reprimand.

A dog pound, of course, is a necessary institution. Nevertheless, it is not hard to sympathize with this boy's attitude. No boy is ever able to understand why a dog must be kept locked up. Is it surprising that this one decided to take the law into his own hands?

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says a necessity is something a woman does without, so she can buy a luxury.

Four applicants for pharmacists licenses flunked their examinations recently. They didn't know how to make bacon and egg sandwiches.

APPOINTMENT of Walter Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, as head of President Hoover's unemployment committee, will be interesting to hundreds of former telephone operators, 'laid off' by Mr. Gifford's companies.

Since the company's earning of the first six months of 1931 are reported as ahead of earnings of the first six months of 1930, maybe he'll start off by putting the girls back to work.

Good? They've got to be good!

Consider your halitosis—and remember, 'home made' cigarets are always kind to your instep! (Even if they're not so kind to Friend Wife, who has to sweep up the remains!)

The Plainsman has started a one-man revolt against the tyranny of the three-cent cigaret tax. He's gone back to the old practice of wrapping a piece of brown paper around a helping of Bull Durham, just like he did back in '89 when riding a drift fence for the old "Figger 2's" over on the Mexico line.

He has decided to 'be nonchalant' when he drops his "makin's", and will start rollin' another one. Such popularity must be deserved—and what a whale of a difference a few cents make!

TIMES have forced various and sundry groups of people to cooperate in marketing, in gathering and in storing various products. Now it looks like cigaret smokers are going to have to co-operate in having their favorite brands shipped in from a neighboring state.

What they should do is buy their fags straight from the factory, from a dozen to 20 fellows chipping in on a case of cigarets, and thus escape the odious three-cent tax slapped on by the legislature. Something must be done to demonstrate to the legislators voting for the cigaret tax that "they may vote a tax on cigarets but they can't make us like it—or pay it!"

But all kidding to one side, this cigaret tax business is serious. The Plainsman can, and and probably will go ahead buying smokes over the counter, paying the distasteful tax. But the principle of the thing is bad. There's no telling where it will stop.

SUPPOSE the legislature in 1933 decides to pass another 'class tax'. Suppose it taxes ice cream. It will only be a step to tax candy, soda pop, beefsteak, castor oil, applesauce, licorice and what-have you.

A good, thoughtless legislature could pass taxes for a day or two and, by the time the governor had them all signed into laws, we couldn't draw a breath without paying for the privilege in some sort of a new-fangled tax.

The people must get into the habit of electing public officials—legislators, governors and every other kind—who not only know the wants and needs of their constituents, but who will vote that way when the question comes up in Austin.

Do you suppose the cigaret tax would have been applied if it had been left to the vote of the people?

Of course it wouldn't. And that's just another way of proving a saying that was mighty popular on this continent about 155 years ago—"Taxation Without Representation is Unjust!"

That Man on Avenue Q says an attack of appendicitis is nothing but an oldfashioned stomachache modernized to cost a thousand dollars.

A Plainview Scotchman, by the name of Sandy McGreggor, permitted his two children, Bruce and Alice, to hitch-hike to Oklahoma City to spend a free vacation with their uncle, Tavish McGreggor, there.

The youngsters had been gone about a week when the Plainview McGreggor received a collect telegram from his Oklahoma City kinsman, reading:

"Bruises hurt erased afford erector analysis hurt to infectious dead." (Ten words.)

The Plainviewman was very much puzzled and sought another countryman, one Campbell, to help him out. Between the two they finally effected a Scotch translation, which was:

"Bruce is hurt. He raced a Ford, he wrecked her, and Alice is hurt too, in fact, she's dead!" (19 words.)

IF there's anything to make a man look or feel any dumber than waiting for a traffic light to change to green—when there's no car or person in sight anywhere, The Plainsman would like to know what it is.

There is not as much traffic on the streets as there used to be. Students are gone and a lot of people are on vacation. But never-the-less we have the same traffic rules we have always had—those installed for a Saturday afternoon in busy autumn.

There should be a provision in the traffic laws permitting both motorists and pedestrians to go ahead, after stopping, when the light's against them, and making sure there is no one else near with the right-of-way.

It's silly for grown people to institute laws of this type—it's silly to have to pay any attention to them.

Time is still valuable, even if it is about all we have left.

How about showing some practicability in our traffic light regulations, number of lights, their locations and continuity?

Bankhead Family Has Represented Alabama In Congress Almost Continuously Since 1887; Daughter Is Actress

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24—Tom Heflin has made himself more famous than any other citizen of Alabama, but the Alabama Bankheads go on forever.

DUTCHER

Alabama has had a Bankhead in Congress almost without a break since 1887 and now for the second time has a Bankhead in the House and a Bankhead in the Senate.

William B. Bankhead is serving his eighth term in the House and his brother John H. Bankhead, is a senator because he defeated Heflin last November by 80,000 votes. They are both sons of the John H. Bankhead who was first a representative and then a senator from Alabama.

If a Bankhead-Bankhead bill appears in the next session that's the explanation.

The Bankheads are not exactly colorful figures, being more distinguished as solid, substantial, hard-working citizens, regular in their politics and conservative in viewpoint. For it was Captain Richard Pearson Hobson, hero of the Merrimac sinking in the Spanish war, who first defeated the elder John H. Bankhead for Congress and was later himself defeated by William Bankhead. And of course Senator Bankhead is known as the man who licked the famous Heflin.

Congressman Bankhead also is the father of Tallulah Bankhead, the actress, and of Eugenia Bankhead - Host - Butt - Lee - White, latest reported as about to tid her toil of her latest husband.

Senator Bankhead is 59 years old, and Congressman Bankhead is 57. Both took degrees at the University of Alabama and law degrees at Georgetown University in Washington. Each began law practice in Alabama at the age of 21.

Senator Bankhead is short, stout, studious and rather bald. He will never take Heflin's place as an object of anecdotes, a model for sensational southern dress or a sensational windbag. Nor as a flowery orator. He dresses, thinks and acts conservatively and has no great drawing power although he is said to be a good debater and has built up a large corporate and general law practice at home, where he was also successful in operating coal mines. His friends speak fondly of his common sense. He was chairman of the Red Cross drive in Walker County, Ala., during the World War and his previous political experience included election to the Alabama legislature. In 1926 he ran unsucessfully for the Democratic senatorial nomination against Hugo Black.

Congressman Bankhead is somewhat taller than his brother somewhat less dignified. The senator's friends, at least, say he is "not as solid." He is more pleasing to the popular taste, however, and well liked in his district. He puts on a better show, after years in politics, and is a better orator. In his youth he was clerk of a congressional committee here. The Bankheads were raised in an atmosphere of politics and William B. was almost a child when he served in the Alabama legislature. Later he was city attorney at Huntsville. He was elected to Congress in 1914 and once presided over the House on the same day his father held the gavel in the Senate.

The father of the Bankhead boys was serving in the Alabama legislature as early as 1865 and was elected to Congress in 1887. In 1906 he was defeated by Captain Hobson and the next year was elected to the Senate here by the Alabama legislature to fill a vacancy. There he sponsored a federal aid bill for highways and the "Bankhead Highway," running from Washington to San Diego, was named after him.

Heflin was elected to fill the unexpired term at the death of the elder Bankhead. Now the elder Bankhead's successors in both House and Senate have been succeeded by his two sons. Alabama Democrats last year booted Heflin out of the party and nominated the present John.

Heflin is fighting tooth and nail to keep Bankhead out of the Senate. Various things have been discovered about the election since the Senate started investigating Heflin's charges, but the Bankhead family, pointing to John's majority of 50,000, profess not to be worrying.

CAUSE OF HAY FEVER

August 15 to 20 is the time the goldenrod begins to bloom and many a person in our fair land rises and begins to wonder along about then whether that sneeze was accidental or whether it really is here again.

Dr. Clendening

It is when the eyes have it that they know the worst. Sneezing and itching eyes and running noses is their fate for about six weeks to two months. They are lucky if they do not have asthma also.

As in the case of rose fever, the flowers get the blame, but they do not deserve it. Contrary to much belief on the subject, goldenrod does not cause hay fever, except possibly in rare instances.

The plants which cause any of the form of hay fever—spring, summer and fall types—are those which fertilize each other by scattering their pollen on the air. They do not have conspicuous flowers like the plants which attract insects, including the goldenrod and fertilize each other by the insect scraping the pollen off one plant on its legs and then flying to another plant and depositing the pollen there. The pollen of flowering plants which are fertilized by insects is heavy and gummy so that it will stick to the insect's body and legs and cannot be blown about easily on the air.

The plants which fertilize by wind pollenation, on the other hand, have light, fine pollen. This is cast into the air in enormous quantities, although the particles are so fine they can not be seen except as fine dust. Filling the air as they do, they light on the eyes easily or are sucked into the nose of the hay fever victim and set up the irritation to which he is subject.

The plant most often responsible for hay fever of the late summer or fall type is ragweed. It is a tall, hardy plant with ragged, torn leaves from which it gets its name and a sheaf of inconspicuous flower pods at the top. It grows very abundantly in most parts of the United States. The desert regions grow a relative sage, which can also cause hay fever in susceptible persons.

North of the Great Lakes and in the mountains and along the seashore the plant does not grow and these are the favorite resorts for the hay feverite. But even in the upper Great Lakes region, when the wind is from the south and the day is warm, the patient with hay fever feels a little suggestion of how bad it would be for him to be at home. This prenomenon which I have seen many times shows how far the pollen will travel under favorable atmospheric conditions.

Three More Rural Schools Are Open

Three more rural schools in Lubbock county began their 1931-32 sessions this morning, it was announced by Miss Mae Murfee, county superintendent of schools. They are Foster, Woodrow and Carlisle.

Rural teachers probably will close schools for three days the first week in September to attend the seventh annual South Plains Teachers Institute at Texas Technological college. September 10 is the date for the opening of most of the schools of the county.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Manhattan's strangest mid-day spectacle may be observed in the heart of the famous cloak and suit belt.

During the noon lunch hours an entire block in 36th Street is roped off and turned over to the thousands of workers employed in the garment industry. No traffic is allowed to move through this block until a recreation period has ended. Both ends of the street are guarded by mounted policemen, and between them jam the thosands of humans who swarm from the dozens of skyscrapers in the neighborhood.

The street takes on the appearance of a subway at rush hour, or like a Coney Island beach on Sunday. They gather in vast groups or mill up and down through the jammed lanes, arguing, gossiping, haranguing and just chatting in half a dozen languages. Most of them are foreigners from the East Side or the upper Bronx. They are fitters and cutters and tailors and button-hole makers and clothes craftsmen of every description. They seem totally unaware of their congested areaway, accepting it as part of their lot in New York.

A stranger trying to make his way through the vast crowd, wonders why they choose to pack themselves thus, like cattle in a box car. The segregated zone was set aside by officials to keep them from packing the sidewalks and streets in front of the buildings where they are employed. Even with this gathering place dedicated to them, throngs still gather elsewhere and impede traffic for an hour or more.

Just up the street a few blocks, facing Broadway, the amusement-zone crowds are attracted these days by a doughnut-making machine. For a year or more the crowds watched, in the same window, a tricky machine that turned out cigarets.

And listening to the various couples who stop to watch the magic of machinery, you'll hear them remark on the changes that have come since grandma turned out crullers on the old wood range in the kitchen.

Talking about things that happened "back home" is, in fact, one of the most wistful phases of New York life. On the slightest provocation, two or three persons who came from the same neck of the woods will get together and stage an "old home" night.

Just the other night four of the old San Francisco delegation, of which I am a member, met by accident at a party. Within 10 minutes we had withdrawn from the others and were huddled in a corner recalling the grand old days when the Daily News, where we all had worked, was located in a grocery store and we had to get out a daily practically on no pair.

All four of us had gone different ways. And though we were once close as the Dumas musketeers—one for all and all for one—we meet in New York about once a year. Life in Manhattan drifts folk about like that and circumstances generally mitigate against frequent encounters.

I know scores of little groups like that. My wife attended art school in the west. Practically all the friends she made there in girlhood are now in New York, working as commercial artists. Some of them had courted her and taken her to dances. They are the oldest of friends. Yet just a few weeks ago, upon a trip to Woodstock, N. Y. over the week-end, three or four of them got together for the first time in several years.

I'm afraid we all get too self-centered and preoccupied with our own particular affairs. But get us together and—oh boy—listen to the chatter!

With these new Empress Eugenie hats cocked up on one side of women's heads it's getting so you can't tell unless you smell her breath.

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The hat shop was a busy place and when the owner showed his face Wee Scouty said, "How do you do! We'd like to look around. We're traveling 'round the world, you see." "You're just as welcome as can be," the man replied. "Just look about and see what can be found."

Then clowny glancing to a shelf, said, "Do you make those hats yourself?" "Of course," replied the shopman. "I am busy all day long. I make them large and also small so they will fit short folks and tall. I have so many sizes that nobody can go wrong."

"I'll bet you that you can't fit me," cried Carpy. "Try your luck and see. I have a funny shaped head, but it's full of brains, at that!" The hatman laughed and said, "Well, I will be real glad at least to try. Just follow me and I will shortly pick you out a hat."

He reached up to a real high shelf and said, "I like this hat, myself, and think it will look good on you. When it is on somebody's head real lovely it appears." Wee Carpy put it on real quick, just hoping that it would look slick. But all the bunch began to roar. It came down o'er his ears.

The shopman said, "Well, goodness me, I didn't think that that could be. It is the smallest hat I have. You're smaller than I guessed." And so they left the man behind to see what else they all could find. There were so many places it was hard to pick the best.

The Travel Man then said, "What fun 'twould be to watch the horses run. Let's go out to the race track. There's a dandy race today." This proved the very best of treats and they were soon in grandstand seats. While waiting for the race they listened to a big band play.

LUBBOCK HOME-MAKER ANSWERS STUDENT WHO WROTE ON LOW-HUNG TREES, WATER

Dear Plainsman: After reading your article from Letus Habit, I feel that I must say a few words in defense of home owners who want to beautify their premises and make pleasant places for themselves and the students they may keep.

I am afraid our boys do not appreciate our well kept lawns and trees as they should and I feel sure that if they came to our town and found our lawns bare and unkept they would not enjoy living in our homes.

If I were living away from home I would look for a well kept home in which to live for when you see a well kept yard you may feel sure that the house is well kept and that the environment is better. It is well for the students to learn civic pride as well as other things in college.

I feel the students are taking the wrong attitude toward the home owners. I am sure most of our students come from homes where they have beautiful, well kept trees and lawns and they would not appreciate some on injuring the trees, shrubs and flowers their parents have spent money and labor on to make beautiful.

Students should remember that the mothers in these homes spend most of their time there and they enjoy the beauty of flowers and trees. It would seem very dismal to them without such beauty.

As for their poor eyes getting scratched out, I do not feel that there is a great danger of that. Of course we should, and most of us do trim our trees high enough to walk under comfortably. As for the water getting on the walk, we do not put the water there on purpose and it does not often occur that way. But in case it should, it would not be very much trouble to step around it occasionally and it would be well worth the trouble for the nice, shady walk in the summer time.

If our college had dormitories and our students all were forced to stay in them, I am sure they would have well kept lawns and they would not be allowed to play ball over them at will.

Now students just think of yourselves in the Lubbock home-maker's place and follow the Golden Rule of "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." I feel sure you will not have to listen to that "profane vocabulary" you spoke of in your letter to The Plainsman and there will be no hard feelings between students and home-owners. Your stay in Lubbock, while attending college, will be much more pleasant if you do not feel toward home lovers as your recent letter indicates.

NNUAL PLANT MADE INTO PERENNIAL BY X-RAY EXPERIMENTS AT CORNELL

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

ITHACA, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—In xperiments to learn more about ffects of X-rays upon evolution, an nnual plant has been changed into perennial at Cornell university. he annual has to be raised from ed yearly, while the perennial mes up each spring from roots. Although no X-rays are known in e process of evolution in nature, ry similar short wave radiation ists in brooks all over the earth's rface, so that the X-ray both ve a picture of what is possly happening in nature, and also new tool for use of the scientist. ater it may become useful for the rticulturist and gardener.

The plant which changed its nare at Cornell is the euchlaena, e closest wild relative to corn. here are two species, mexicana, e annual, and perennis, the pennial.

Some of the seed was exposed to -ray for a few minutes and then erminated. The young stalk beran life as an annual, but later on, hile still young, it developed some f the appearances of a perennial. hen the annual portion dried up nd disappeared, and the remaining stalk developed into a true perennial.

It has been customary to classify this perennial as a distinct species. Therefore if the change at Cornell stands the rigid tests which will be made to find some error in this seeming miracle, a single shot of X-rays may be credited with creating a new species virtually overnight.

MANAGERS MEET

INDIANAPOLIS—Airport managers in the North Central states will meet here at a conference to be held Sept. 24-25. The meeting has been called to determine proper steps to be taken in developing landing facilities in the smaller communities throughout that section of the country. Managers of airports in Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Missouri will attend.

SEADROME UNDER WAY

BALTIMORE—It is reported the first seadrome for the proposed Atlantic air route is being constructed in Delaware Bay. This floating island for the landing of aircraft is being constructed by a company headed by Edward R. Armstrong. Eight of them are to be built and towed out to sea, where they will be anchored at intervals of about 250 miles.

"B-C" Will Stop Any Headache In 3 Minutes

Realizing that no one drug can conquer all headaches, as they come from so many causes, two North Carolina druggists developed a combination of several ingredients which function together giving three-minute, safe relief for any kind of headache, neuralgic, sciatic or rheumatic pain, quiets the nerves and leaves you normally buoyant, without depression or sad after effects.

This combination of pain relieving ingredients, so efficient for women also at special times, may be found at any drug store or soda fount under the name "B-C" (10c and 25c) ready for use in easing pains and quieting nerves in three minutes. "B-C" is the most amazing preparation of its kind ever discovered and is guaranteed harmless. (Adv.)

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 24 (AP)—The cotton market had a very active and strong opening this morning, owing to much higher Liverpool cables and a report that the British ministry had resigned.

First trades showed gains of 11 to 14 points. The market continued to advance after the start largely on shorts covering in advance of the census bureau's ginning report.

October traded up to 7.10, December to 7.32 and January to 7.44, or 24 to 25 points above Saturday's close.

Near the end of the first hour the market was still very firm and at the highs.

After the activity of the first hour of trading the market quieted down. The census bureau report of ginnings prior to August 16 showed only 90,414 bales, as compared with 572,810 bales for the corresponding date last year.

While this total of ginnings was even smaller than expected, it had been discounted by the advance in the early trading.

Shorts having apparently covered and the market lacking further support, prices gradually eased off until October traded down to 6.98 and December to 7.18, or 12 to 14 points down from the early highs.

Around noon the market was quiet, but steady and 3 to 4 points above the lows.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—Cotton opened firm today; 18 to 29 points lower in response to higher Liverpool cables and active covering which may have been promoted by the talk of acreage reduction or other relief measures in the south.

Wall Street and local interests were credited with buying in considerable volume at the opening and prices sold up to 7.35 for December and 7.64 for March on the early demand or about 25 to 29 points net higher on the active positions. Prices were holding within 3 or 4 points of the best at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables said the market there had been influenced by continental buying and covering on the political situation and reported a fair inquiry for cotton cloth.

The volume of business tapered off later in the morning and prices reacted 6 or 8 points from the best under realizing or reselling by some recent buyers.

The offerings were comparatively light, however, and the market was steady late in the morning with the active months ruling about 19 to 23 points net higher at 7.27 for December and 7.58 for March.

The report of the census bureau was without apparent effect on the market, although some traders regarded it as indicating such a late crop as would be subject to weevil damage or an early killing frost.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 24 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today. Oct. 7.00; Dec. 7.20; Jan. 7.30, March 7.50; May 7.65-bid; July 7.83-bid.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—Cotton futures opened firm today. Oct. 7.01; Dec. 7.27; Jan. 7.40; March 7.58; May 7.80; July 8.00.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 24 (AP)—Wheat showed a moderate response to firmness in Liverpool at the start today but weakened immediately afterwards because of pronounced weakness of corn and oats. All deliveries of corn and oats sold at new low prices for the season with liquidation and stop loss selling affecting the break.

Wheat opened 1-8 to 3-4 cent higher and reacted later. Corn started 1-8 to 1-2 off and continued downgrade.

Cattle: 27,000; calves: 5,000; choice fed steers and yearlings steady; other killing classes weak to 25 lower; stockers and feeders steady to 25 lower; early top yearling steers 10.25; steers, 600 to 1500 pounds, 7.75 to 10.35; heifers, 550 to 850 pounds, 7.25 to 9.75; cows 3.50 to 5.75; vealers (milk-fed) 4.50 to 8.00; stocker and feeder steers 5.25 to 7.25.

Sheep: 11,000; lambs 15 to 25 lower; sheep slow; top Colorado lambs 7.35; lambs, 90 pounds down, 6.50 to 7.35; ewes, 150 pounds down, 1.25 to 2.25.

LINDBERGHS

stop flight, which he classed as "usually in the nature of a stunt."

SUSPICION AROUSED BY LINDBERGHS

TOKYO, Aug. 24. (AP)—Rengo, semi-official Japanese news agency, said today "suspicions" had been aroused because of the course followed by Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh along a certain portion of the Kurile island route in their much interrupted flight from Petropaviovsk, Kamchatka, to Nemuro, Japan.

The news agency said Japanese authorities contended that the famous aviator and his wife had flown over prohibited areas and had descended twice on lakes where landings were prohibited.

Rengo said it understood authorities who had been watching Lindbergh's progress down the Kurile islands contended the fliers had landed not only on prohibited lakes, but also on other waters not specified by the aviation bureau in the emergency descent permit which it issued at the request of the American embassy prior to Lindbergh's departure from Petropaviovsk.

COTTON BAN

Orleans conference, composed of governors, United States senators, Congressmen, commissioners of agriculture and other representatives of the cotton growing states of America, and which conference unanimously went on record calling for legislation to prohibit the planting of any cotton in the year 1932 so as to provide a fair market for the cotton crop grown this year, I call upon the farmers, merchants, bankers and public officials to exert every influence at their command to bring about legislation in their respective states to prohibit the planting of cotton in 1932.

Quick Action Sought

"I call upon the people to meet at once so as to place their representatives in line. Only immediate and drastic action will save the day. Any modification at all will do no good. We must have 100 per cent prohibition against raising cotton for 1932. Nothing else will be effective or constitutional. This year's cotton crop amounts to 15,600,000 bales. We have on hand, carried over from last year, 9,000,000 bales more, being a total of 24,6000,000 bales of American cotton now on hand. The world only consumes 11,000,000 bales of American cotton per year.

"Therefore, this year's cotton crop is enough for the demand of this year and next year, and then some. If we raise a cotton crop in 1932, when we already have more cotton on hand than we can use for the two years, we may see cotton sell for two cents or three cents per pound next year, and it might have no market at all.

No Increase Seen

"There is no danger of any particular increase in foreign cotton, and further we propose to negotiate trade agreements, as was done in the sugar case, to restrict production abroad as well as at home. But even should we fail, increased production abroad could not be significant.

I urge that the farmers for the next few days leave their cotton in the seed and pay no attention to any slight advance in cotton price that this work may bring about. We want the farmer to have the benefit of whatever result is accomplished. The plan proposed is constitutional. The courts have uniformly upheld similar legislation. Every lawyer who has studied the question finds it constitutional to prevent the spreading of the boll weevil and other pests if for no other reason. "Texas means the success or failure of the plan."

McDONALD TO TOUR COTTON SECTIONS

AUSTIN, Aug. 24. (AP)—A personal tour of the cotton area of Texas to arouse the interest of farmers and business men in cotton acreage reduction will be made this week by J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture.

McDonald will urge those interested in cotton acreage control to make their wishes known to Governor R. S. Sterling who has announced he would call a special session of the legislature if it was demanded by the people and if assured a constructive law would be passed to aid the condition of the industry.

Governor Sterling sent a questionnaire to members of the legislature and to the public through the newspapers Saturday asking for expressions on the proposal to call a special session.

Governor Sterling pointed out that a cotton acreage control bill was killed in the senate at the recent special session. It would have prohibited the planting of the same land to cotton in successive years. Another bill aimed at the same purpose died on the house calendar in the regular session after being almost defeated when up for engrossment.

RATE MEETING

is traffic manager of the San Angelo chamber.

The investigation conducted last week led to conferences with traffic attorneys and experts of chambers of commerce, a railway company, the Texas Industrial Traffic league, and the state railway commission.

The new rate structure will cost South Plains cotton farmers more than $200,000 in additional freight charges, the executive committee estimated at a meeting here last Tuesday. Lubbock's shipping cost to gulf points was increased from 93 1-2 cents to 98 cents a hundred pounds.

Rearrangement of rates resulted from complaints by the Oklahoma corporation commission and the federal farm bureau, members of the association seeking an adjustment said. The Oklahoma commission's protest was based on alleged injustice of rates high because of inter-state classification, as compared to lower carrier charges from Texas points which, although farther from receiving points, profited under the status of intra-state shippers.

Legion's Strength Cited By Brennan

EL PASO Aug. 24 (AP)—Hal Brennan, commander of the American Legion in Texas, told legionnaires here yesterday the organization possessed the greatest numerical strength in its history. He said its membership aggregated 37,682.

The annual convention began yesterday with a meeting of the legion's executive committee. Brennan said the legion would complete the year with a surplus of approximately $15,000.

A committee was apointed to consider a uniform for members. It was suggested the uniforms, whether wool or cotton, be purchased in Texas.

Chip Off The Old Diamond

INCENDIARISM

Military authorities were making every effort to round up suspicious characters.

MASS MEETING TO BE HELD TONIGHT

AUSTIN, Aug. 24. (AP)—The first mass meeting protesting martial law in the East Texas oil fields will be held here tonight on the eve of a hearing before the railroad commission to issue new orders to govern production in the giant area.

The meeting will be addressed by Colonel Alvin M. Owsley of Dallas, representing the East Texas Refiners' association. Colonel Owsley's representative here said the meting would be the first of a series and that Colonel Owsley planned to make a speech in Tyler Wednesday or Thursday despite the orders of Brig. General Jacob F. Wolters, commander in the martial law zone. Wolters has issued an order banning mass meetings.

Laws Strengthened

The meeting of the railroad commission will be the first under the new conservation law passed at the recent special session of the legislature. It strengthened the conservation statutes and provided for speedier court procedure in cases involving the commission and its orders.

C. V. Terrell, chairman of the commission, said he expected the meeting to last two or three days and that the order would be issued as soon after the hearing as it could be drawn. It probably will be effective September 1, he said.

Testimony bearing only on physical waste of oil and gas will be admitted at the hearing, Terrell said. The law prohibits the commission from considering anything but physical waste.

The commission will act without the aid of the central proration advisory committee, its chief advisors in proration matters in the past. The advisory committee became obsolete with the enactment of the new law.

To Decide Plan

The plan to be followed in controlling production in the field will be decided after the hearing. One faction will urge the allowable production for the field be set on a well potential basis and another group will argue it should be on the acreage or unit plan. Captain J. F. Lucey, chairman of the East Texas arbitration committee, indicated he would recommend an allowable of 300,000 barrels for the field, based on a specified amount per well, regardless of potentials. Another group was expected to contend for a higher allowable.

It was believed likely the commission would set an allowable between 300,000 and 350,000 barrels daily.

Boardman, Polando Return To America

NEW YORK, Aug. 24. (AP)—Russell Boardman and John Polando, who flew non-stop from New York to Istanbul, Turkey, and so brought back to America the long distance flight record, returned today to receive an official welcome.

The city tug Macom went down the bay to meet the fliers with representatives of the mayor, the army and navy, and with the fliers' wives and relatives.

Two Prisoners Are Sought At Jasper

JASPER, Aug. 24 (AP)—A section-wide search for Wayne Cantor, charged in connection with the robbery of the Kirbyville State bank, was under way today.

Cantor and E. C. Elkins pried a bar from their cell in the county jail yesterday and escaped. Elkins, convicted and sentenced to two years on a charge of forgery, was awaiting transfer to the penitentiary.

Cantor's trial had been set for Thursday.

The oldest inhabitants of Holland of which there is record are Frisians, who lived on shores of the North Sea as early as 300 B. C.

released. Statisticians estimated approximately 1,000,000 barrels of oil daily was withheld from the market in the area.

The effect of the price increase on the reign of martial law in Oklahoma and Texas was not determined immediately.

Mistrial Results In Clark's Trial

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24 (AP)—The first trial of David H. Clark on a murder charge growing out of the killing of Herbert Spencer and Charles H. Crawford, local political figures, has resulted in a disagreement and discharge of the jury.

The panel was dismissed yesterday. W. J. Ford, special state prosecutor, branded its deadlock at 11 to 1 for acquittal as "ridiculous" and said plans were to be made immediately for a new trial of the former deputy district attorney."

The second trial, like the first, will be for the murder of Spencer, editor of a political magazine. In event the second trial should result in an acquital, a third will face Clark. This will be for the murder of Crawford, wealthy political boss.

Railroad Man Is Claimed By Death

Fred W. Saunders, 57, an employe of the Fort Worth & Denver City railroad more than 25 years, died at 9:30 o'clock this morning at a local hospital following a six days' illness. He lived with his wife and a daughter, Mrs. Christine Fanning, at 1704 Avenue O.

Bynum-Morgan Funeral home will send the body at 4:15 this afternoon to Amarillo, Saunders' home until about a month ago. Funeral services and burial probably will be conducted there Tuesday.

Saunders was a passenger conductor for the Fort Worth & Denver City railway. His widow and a daughter are the only immediate survivors.

GUNSHOT WOUND FATAL

ELECTRA, Aug. 24 (AP)—Gunshot wounds took the life of Clyde Crawford, 44, filling station operator, here last night. He was wounded accidentally Saturday while hunting. A small boy found Crawford after he had lain all day in the hot sun with an abdominal wound.

NEGRO STABBED

CORSICANA, Aug. 24. (AP)—Adolphus Benny, a negro, was stabbed and thrown from an automobile Saturday night on the highway near Corsicana. Passing motorists saw his body hurtle through the air. His wounds were found to be minor. He refused to talk about his experience.

KICKED BY MULE

Larue Edwards, 11-year-old son of Elmer Edwards, of near Lubbock, was treated at West Texas hospital this morning as a result of being kicked on the left foot by a mule, which he was driving while astride a pony. X-ray photographs showed no fractures. Stitches were taken in the wound.

JAMES O'NEIL DIES

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 24 (AP)—Word was received here today of the death of James E. O'Neil, 64, former president of the Prairie Oil and Gas company, at Cannes, France, where he had made his home in recent years.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

HUGE AIR BEACONS

WASHINGTON.—The U. S. Department of Commerce has ordered for government airways the most powerful airplane beacon lights ever built. They will be five feet high 36 inches in diameter, and when equipped with a 1,000-watt lamp will be able to throw a beam of light more than 35 miles. About 50 of these beacons will be installed on airways this year.

SUGGEST PLAN OF RELIEF

EMPLOYMENT OF SEVEN MILLION ON FEDERAL PROJECTS SOUGHT

NORFOLK, Neb., Aug. 24 (AP)—John A. Simpson, national president of the Farmers union, suggests 7,000,000 unemployed persons be put to work on federal projects and new money be issued by the federal government and not by national banks of the country, to pay them.

He made the suggestion in an address here to 500 persons during an intermission at a band concert at a park.

He said the plan would put the price of wheat up to $2 a bushel and eggs up to 50 cents a dozen.

This would hurt "Wall Street," he said, but "would help the other 120,000,000 citizens of the United States."

There now are too many "toll gates" between the producer and consumer, Simpson asserted, pointing out that a loaf of bread still costs the same with wheat at 50 cents a bushel as it did with wheat at $3, and a quart of motor oil costs the same with crude oil at 10 cents a barrel as it did in 1920 with crude oil at $2 a barrel.

Simpson predicted that in ten years, if conditions remain the same, 90 per cent of America's wealth will be in the hands of six families.

PACE MAINTAINED IN CONSTRUCTION

NEW YORK, Aug. 24. (AP)—Despite general declines, those cities which set the construction pace for the country in 1930 are showing in some instances even keels in stormy depression seas.

Some few are actually beyond 1930 records, L. Seth Schnitman, chief statistician of F. W. Dodge corporation finds.

"Of the 35 cities that have shown construction contracts in excess of $5,000,000 during the first seven months of 1931, eight reported go-aheads over the same seven-month period of 1930. These were Boston, Yonkers, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Washington, Houston and San Francisco," Mr. Schnitman states in a survey prepared for the Associated Press.

Boston nearly doubled its 1930 record this year with $44,272,200, he points out. Washington's total for this year was $40,354,700. Houston's was $11,888,800 against $10,955,900 in 1930.

Cities in the five million and over class for the first 7 months of 1931 include Dallas, El Paso and Fort Worth.

Furlough For Nash Will Be Opposed

CORSICANA, Aug. 24 (AP)—Navarro county officers were preparing today to oppose the granting of a furlough or parole to Jimmie Nash, now serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary for assault in conection with the kidnaing of Robert Cerf last December. He has been in the penitentiary but two months.

County Attorney Cleo G. Miller wrote a letter today to the pardon board protesting the granting of Nash's application for a parole. Miller asked to be allowed to appear before the parole board. Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse said he also intended to write a letter.

On the eve of her "peace mission" to Belgium, Miss Dumelow of Derby, known as the "railway queen," was feted at the House of Commons by members and presented with a gold watch by the Premier.

BROADWAY GAINS A DANCER, LURED BY MAYOR JIMMY WALKER'S "BEAUTY"

Mayor "Jimmy" Walker probably doesn't know it, but it was a desire to visit a city ruled by such a handsome man which lured Fraulein Margaret Haller from her home in Germany to a place in the chorus of the "Scandals of 1931."

NEW YORK—Because she thinks Mayor Walker is the handsomest man in the world, blonde and dimpled Margaret Haller deserted her home in Germany and came to New York.

Fraulein Haller became intrigued with "Jimmy" when she saw his picture in German newspapers. Determined to meet him in person, she began plans to make her way to this country.

Learning that George White was in Paris, she telephoned him for a job in his new show, but White could not understand her German speech. So 18-year-old Miss Haller came on to Paris to plead her case in person.

White signed her to dance in his new "Scandals" and she was soon rehearsing in a Broadway theater. Other chorus girls took her about town to show her the sights, but the only thing she was particularly desirous of seeing were Coney Island and His Honor.

She was denied this latter pleasure, for just as she arrived here, Walker was preparing to sail for a health resort near Miss Haller's home in Germany. Despite this ironic ending to her little argosy, the fraulein likes New York very much and has decided to stay here until the mayor returns.

MILLIONAIRE'S PLANE MAY COMPETE FOR TROPHY; SEEKING GOVERNORSHIP

HARRY P. WILLIAMS (AP)

PATTERSON, La. (AP)—Harry P. Williams, millionaire sportsman, loves a race.

He is already in the midst of one, running for the democratic nomination for governor to succeed Huey P. Long, but that is not enough.

He will probably be represented at the Cleveland races for the Thompson trophy, August 29 to September 7, by a plane built in his aircraft factory here and claimed to be one of the fastest commercial planes in the world. It was timed at 286 miles an hour in unofficial tests.

Williams, son of a lumberman who made a fortune from marketing cypress from Louisiana swamps, has been in the limelight a number of years. His wife is the former Marguerite Clark, famous movie actress.

In his early forties, Williams has been a worshipper of speed since youth. First it was fast horses, then fast automobiles and motor boats, and now fast airplanes.

His first airplane ride was in 1909 when he was in England. Blerio the Frenchman, had just astonish the world by his flight across t English channel.

Williams took a ride in a Curt pusher, a contraption in which pi and passenger sat in front w their feet dangling in space. Wh he climbed out he had conclud that the pleasures of aviation w exaggerated.

But in 1928 Williams purcha his first airplane. Now with an i vestment he estimates at $500,0 in airplanes, factory, airports a airlines, he is reported to be one the largest individual owners of a planes in the world.

DEMANDS MADE FOR RANSOM

ROSENTHAL HOME IS GUARDED; BROKER IS MISSING

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—Police guarded the Rosenthal home on Long Island today while detectives sought a mysterious woman who was the last known companion of Charles Rosenthal, wealthy young curb broker who disappeared Aug. 11 and for whom a $100,000 ransom has been asked.

Reporth that threats had been received by the family of the youthful heir to a share in an estate of approximately $5,000,000 were not officially confirmed, but all night long the house blazed with lights as though to prevent any approach under cover of darkness, and uniformed police did sentry duty in front.

First intimation of Rosenthal's disappearance came in a telephone call to Edward Nathan, who is Rosenthal's best friend and accompanied him to road houses and cabarets.

"Charlie's in trouble," a man's voice said over the wire to Nathan. "You want to help him, don't you?"

The man hung up then but shortly afterward a telegraph messenger boy delivered a letter in Rosenthal's hand asking that $100,000 be paid for his release. Later other letters from someone else repeated the demand.

CHARGE GIRL IN TORCH MURDERS

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 24 (AP)—Eleven days after the slaying and burning of two young couples on a county road near here, Catherine Keller, 25, friend of one of the confessed killers, was charged with being an accessory to the crime. She had been held in the county jail here since two days after the killings occurred.

A warrant issued at request of Prosecutor Albert J. Rapp accused Miss Keller of withholding knowledge of the slaying from officials. She was placed in jail in default of $10,000 bond, after she waived arraignment and examination was set for Sept. 2.

Miss Keller, an admitted friend of Fred Smith, who with David T. Blackstone, negro, and Frank Oliver received life sentences in Marquette branch prison for the slayings, was one of the heirs of the estate of her uncle, the late justice Darwin Z. Curtis, of Ypsilanti.
