Winter Storm Brings Snow

The SDN Column

The Scurry County Junior College District is barely two weeks old and trustees are in the thick of two major tasks, those of selecting a site for the college and selecting a president.

The board is impressed with the credentials of applicants for the position of president. More applications are expected before Dec. 15, which is the cutoff date set by the board.

Selection of the president is highly important because the board will want his counsel and advice in taking other vital steps toward putting the college into operation.

Site proposals received so far also have been encouraging. No deadline has been set for these proposals and indications are that the board will have plenty of alternatives when it makes its decision. Many factors must be considered in the selection of the site, and the board undoubtedly will want the president's advice before making a firm commitment.

Meanwhile the college has fully established its identity with a temporary office to be opened Monday in the Snyder Savings and Loan Association building.

Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., has advised that 21 counties it serves fare well in allotments for the 1970 crop.

Despite a 26 pounds per acre cut in the state's yield, the 21 Rolling Plains Counties received increases ranging from two pounds to 51 pounds per acre. The 11 other Rolling Plains Counties received slight cuts, including Scurry County, whose projected yield declined from 449 to 420 pounds. However, Scurry County's 1970 acreage allotment has been pegged at 69,968 acres, compared to 65,777 for 1969.

The combined allotment for the 32 Rolling Plains counties is 1,360,000, compared to 1,280,870 in 1969. — WACIL McNAIR.

Local Ranch Headquarters Established

Ranch headquarters for the Texas Tech Foundation have been established at 2612 Avenue S and members of the nonprofit organization will hold an open house from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, and from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. Monday and Tuesday.

The purpose of the Foundation is to help preserve and restore ranch buildings and furnishings, equipment and other items as they were used on early day ranches in the state. Many of these early day ranch buildings are being moved to Texas Tech University where a historical museum of ranch life will be maintained.

Mrs. Wilson Connell, one of the organizers of the Foundation, said that films of ranches in the Corpus Christi area that will be moved to Tech will be shown during the open house. In addition, visitors will be given an opportunity to purchase memberships in the organization. The cost is $5 for adults, $1 for children, and $250 for a lifetime membership. Anyone can mail in his membership cost in care of the Texas Tech Foundation, Ranch Headquarters, Post Office Box 186, Snyder. The money will be used to assist Texas Tech University in developing and maintaining interest in ranching history by restoring and preserving ranch architecture, ranch furnishings, ranch operational equipment and other items associated with ranching.

Wildcat Wells Show Gain

AUSTIN (AP) — Wildcat oil and gas wells in Texas are running more than 100 each ahead of last year's drilling pace, the Railroad Commission reported Saturday.

The commmission said nine wildcat oil wells were drilled in the state during the past week, hiking the yearly total to 353, or 101 more than a year ago.

The new wildcats included three each in the Kilgore No. 6 and San Antonio No. 2 districts, and one each in the Houston, Corpus Christi and Wichita Falls districts.

Fourteen wildcat gas wells were drilled, including five in the Corpus Christi District, four in the San Antonio No. 2 District, two in the Kilgore No. 6 District and one each in the Houston, Kilgore No. 5 and Midland district. That raised the total for the year to 575, or 176 more than a year ago.

Mideast Prisoner Exchange Made

TEL AVIV (AP) — Climaxing one of the most elaborate, prisoner swaps in recent Middle East history, Israel today exchanged 58 Egyptians for two Israeli pilots held in Egypt.

The three-way exchange package, which also involved Syria, resulted from weeks of behind-the-scenes international activity. The International Red Cross handled final arrangements.

The first chapter in the deal unfolded Friday when the Israelis freed 13 Syrian prisoners—including two MIG pilots—in return for two Israeli passengers held captive in Damascus for 99 days after their TWA airliner was hijacked.

Only when the second exchange was made at El Qantara on the Suez Canal today, were correspondents given permission to tell about the whole trade.

In the Israeli-Egyptian exchange, Israel returned 52 civilians and 6 military men, including an airforce pilot, Maj. Nabil Said, 32, whose fighter-bomber was shot down in Sinai last July 24.

Cairo, in return, released Maj. Nissim Ashkenazi, 30, one of Israel's top combat pilots who was shot down over Egypt [illegible], 19, and Capt. Giora Horn, who parachuted into Egypt after his Mirage Jet was hit Sept. 11. Rom suffered multiple fractures and was hospitalized.

A military spokesman said the bodies of three Egyptian military men also were sent across the canal by boat.

The civilians included several groups of Egyptian boatmen and fishermen caught inside waters over which Israel claims jurisdiction. A group of six Egyptians trying to cross into Jordan, plus several others caught in an Israeli raid into upper Egypt in October 1969 also were included in the exchange.

The Egyptian pilot, Maj. Said, met Israeli and foreign newsmen the day after his capture. He talked freely, saying he had received some of his training in the Soviet Union. But no Russians were involved in combat in Egypt, he said.

Annual Choir Festival Set For Thursday

The Snyder Public Schools Annual Christmas Choral Festival, one of the feature events of the pre-Christmas holiday season, has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Scurry County Coliseum.

All public school choirs will combine with all of the fifth and sixth grade students to present the festival.

This year, special added features will include several extra ensembles and a pantomime by 25 students from the Snyder High School Speech and Drama Department.

The drama students will combine with the SHS Choir to present "'Twas the Night Before Christmas." This all-time favorite is calculated to delight both young and old and the public is invited to attend the free program.

New Equipment To Modernize Paper

Plans for installation of new equipment which will completely change the method of production of The Snyder Daily News have been announced by Herbert Feather, publisher.

When the new equipment, some of which already has been delivered, is put into operation, the newspaper will be produced by the offset printing process, employing the most up-to-date equipment.

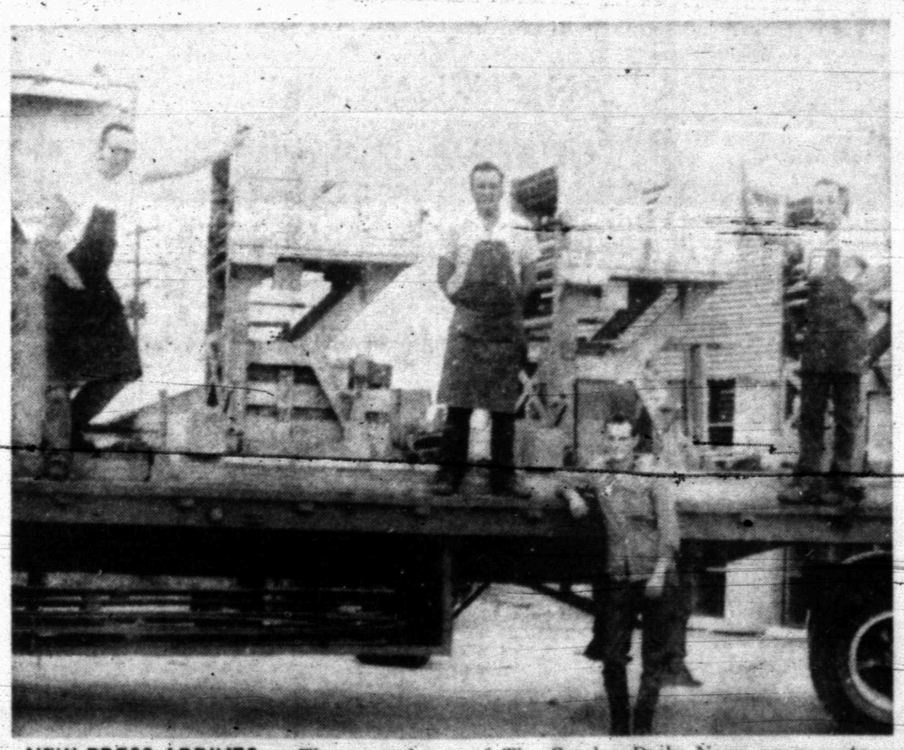

A new, 16-page offset web type press has arrived and is awaiting assembly by factory representatives expected here Monday. Other new equipment will include the camera and plate-making apparatus required for offset printing, a process which results in improved reproduction.

Also expected soon is equipment to produce "cold type" for the offset process which will take the place of metal type and also speed up production.

The new press is expected to be ready for operation soon, and other equipment which will completely change over the production procedures for the newspaper will be added.

Simultaneously, there will be changes and improvements made to the Daily News building. The news room, now on the second floor, will be moved to revamped quarters on the first floor and other alterations will be made to accommodate the new mechanical equipment.

Thus, for the next two or three months, The Snyder Daily News will be in a state of transition as the improvements are made gradually without interruption of the regular schedule of publication.

Area Travel Is Hazardous

Snowflakes floated down over the Snyder area Saturday as the first big winter storm swept into the state.

Travel grew steadily worse in much of West Texas, while rains were soaking Central and Eastern areas of the state.

Little of the snow around Snyder accumulated, as temperatures Saturday morning were just above the freezing mark at 33 degrees. However, the snow was falling thick enough to decrease visibility.

Snyder had logged .88 inch of moisture in the 24-hour period from 7 a.m. Friday to 7 a.m. Saturday from the snow and rains which proceded it.

Various types of severe weather threatened Texas today, with snow pelting parts of far West Texas and heavy rain and storms pounding the eastern part of the state.

As the heavy storms moved through, the Weather Bureau issued a tornado watch for part of extreme East Texas.

The watch included Sabine and Shelby counties in the northeast and Newton and Orange counties in the southeast.

The threat of tornadoes lingered through late afternoon.

Storms that prompted the tornado threat carried heavy winds.

Weather Bureau observers posted special warnings for motorists—against heavy snow with up to 4 inches expected in the mountains east of El Paso, and against flash floods along streams and in low areas of six Central Texas counties.

Auto accidents on wet roadways already had claimed at least seven lives.

Eleven other Texas residents perished in New Mexico, where a chartered plane trying to set down in snow on the north edge of Albuquerque crashed in flames.

Two and one-half inches of snow accumulated by dawn in the Guadalupe Mountains east of El Paso and the Highway Department reported U.S. 62 and 180 was icy in Guadalupe Pass. Ice forced the closing of a main traffic artery, the Transmountain Road, in El Paso.

Dalhart in the northwest corner of the Texas Panhandle measured an inch of snow, with the fall tapering off to traces farther south around Amarillo and Childress. Flurries fell around Lubbock. Icy winds gusted up to 45 miles per hour at Amarillo and Dalhart.

Showers and thunderstorms dotted most of the state from the Abilene vicinity toward the east and south, with rain descending at a rate of one inch per hour in places.

At the same time tides up to five feet above normal pounded the Upper Texas Coast in Galveston and Trinity Bays.

Near Galveston high winds and eight-foot waves hurled a shrimp boat against a fishing pier and wrecked the 55-foot craft. It knocked 100 feet of pier into the tossing water. A Coast Guard helicopter plucked the two crewmen of the shrimper from the water.

Rainfall measurements ranged up to 4.96 inches at Beaumont and Port Arthur.

Moisture amounts at other points included Galveston 2.96, College Station 2.79, Austin 2.34, Tyler 2.29, Houston 1.94, Wichita Falls 1.71, Victoria 1.46, Palacios 1.17 and Texarkana 1.10. Less than an inch fell at many places.

The rough weather stemmed from a new cold front, which early today curved across the state along a line from Wichita Falls near El Paso. Snow dotted much of the sector northwest of this line and rain or drizzle dampened most of the countryside toward the southeast.

Forecasters expected the snow in far West Texas to range southward from the Hueco, Guadalupe and Davis Mountains into Big Bend National Park and to taper off gradually.

Snow was in prospect until evening in the upper Panhandle, where the cover was expected to reach up to three inches, and some snow mixed with rain was promised the north central and northeast parts of the state.

Continuing showers or thundersorms were predicted into tonight for other sections.

Workers Injured In Construction

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Eighteen construction workers were injured Friday when the roof of a building collapsed on the University of Texas at Arlington campus.

"It was like the world caving in," said Herbert J. Chamberlain, 27, of Fort Worth, who was one of the 18, who were laying concrete on the roof.

Jack Reed, general superintendent of the construction, said that shoring wood apparently gave way and spilled 180,000 pounds of newly poured concrete.

"All of the concrete was in place except five or six yards," said Reed. "Fifteen minutes later there wouldn't have been a soul around."

An Arlington Memorial Hospital spokesman said four men were treated for fractured legs and five suffered severe face and head lacerations.

Reed said he saw the middle of the still soft concrete roof give way about 3:30 p.m. and men began sliding toward the center.

The workers were finishing the roof on the auditorium of a new science building, University Hall.

No estimate was made at once on the amount of damage.

Chamberlain said he and all but two of the other workers were standing on the roof.

"We were going along like usual when all of a sudden the world caved in," he said. "There were a lot of guys covered up. . . . I wasn't."

As construction employes worked feverishly to free the others, a fire rescue squad from Arlington arrived with acetylene torches to cut some of the beams.

Admitted to the hospital were Carlos Montero, 1110 W. Central St., Fort Worth; Jesus Torez, 1052 Rosedale, Fort Worth; Esteban Valadez, 716 Sycamore, Fort Worth; Frank Shearman, 6906 Hardesty, Fort Worth; Joseph Scott, 900 Westland, Arlington; Simon Portales, 2326 Prospect St., Fort Worth; J. R. McMoris, 1417 Wynn Terrace, Arlington; Raymond Tucker, 1229 California Parkway South, Fort Worth; Joe Martinez, 1425 North Jones, Fort Worth; Milton Lindsay, 1301 California Parkway, Way.

Pups Pay For Coed's Education

By PAT LEISNER
Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mary Leisner is working her way through college by growing pups. In a two-room apartment. Right now she has 12 Afghan hounds and an Irish Setter.

"Lots of students find classes and lectures a chore; I find them a welcome relief," says Mary, a slender blonde sophomore at the University of Pennsylvania.

She started breeding and selling Afghans in August 1968 and paid a semester's tuition with her first litter. The pups bring about $200 each.

"I didn't learn until mid-August that my tuition loan was phased out in the federal education cutback," Mary says, "and there weren't too many ways I could come up with $1,000 on short notice.

"They are work," she says. "Puppies need a lot of attention. My studies are suffering. So am I. It's costing about $50 a week to feed them."

The 10 pups are barricaded in the bathroom with a 3½-foot-tall street sign nailed to the doorway. Mary and her sister use a wooden milk carton to boost themselves in and out.

Some problems Mary didn't count on: One night the pups got into fabric dye and all turned green. Another time they closed the bathtub drain and flooded the place. And then there was the hamper raid . . .

"Guess I'm lucky the bathroom is large," Mary says. "It's what separates me from insanity."

Sometimes, the pups are allowed the freedom of the living room.

"They get exercise and learn to play and defend themselves romping around with the bigger dogs," she says, following them around with wads of tissue to clean up.

"I'm two years from my degree and how I hope a federal loan comes through next year."

Man Hurt In Mishap Here

John Norman, 3111 Beaumont, received minor injuries when his 1956 Model Chevrolet was involved in a collision with a 1967 Model Chevrolet pickup operated by James Beauford Lewis, P. O. Box 792, Snyder, at 8:10 a.m. Saturday at Thirty - second Street and Crockett.

Norman was taken to a physician by private vehicle, but his injuries were not believed to be serious.

City Police also investigated a two-car mishap on Twenty-fifth Street at Avenue R at 2:49 p.m. Friday. Damage to the 1967 Model Chevrolet of Ann Gilliland, 2313 Forty - first Street, was set at $15, and damage to the 1965 Model Chevrolet of Refugio Toro, Hermleigh, was negligible.

Big Four Meeting In New York

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Envoys of the Big Four met in New York today in another session aimed at working out a settlement for the Middle East.

Ambassadors Charles W. Yost of the United States, Lord Caradon of Britain and Jacob Malik of the Soviet Union assembled at the home of Ambassador Armand Berard of France.

Plane Crash Kills 11

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) —A converted World War II airplane, apparently groping for a safe landing amid snow flurries, crashed in flames Friday, killing the two-man crew and nine prominent West Texans.

The victims were returning from a holiday in Las Vegas, Nev. Strewn over the desert scant yards from a housing development was the airplane wreckage and what remained of the holiday: a sack from Las Vegas store, playing cards, a smartly polished shoe with a shoe tree still in it, and charred currency.

An investigation by the National Transportation Safety Board was to begin today. The bodies were locked in a nearby warehouse and the crash area was sealed off.

The Lockheed Lodestar, a transport converted to passenger use, was chartered from a service operated by the pilot, Carrol Thompson, and copilot, Ralph Dodkins Jr., both of Stratford, Tex.

Returning to their homes were Bill Allen, Perryton, partner in an oil company; Fred Adcock, Perryton, a petroleum engineer; Jack Hood of Borger; and three couples described as wealthy farmers and ranchers. They were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Buckles and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schertler, all of Stratford, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davis of Borger.

Federal Aviation Administration officials in Albuquerque said the plane was on a visual flight plan toward its Dalhart, Tex., destination until it reached western New Mexico, when the pilot radioed he was switching to instruments. They said the craft was not heard from again.

The crash was within sight of a small, private airport north of Albuquerque. An airport employe said the cloud ceiling was 500 to 1,000 feet.

"My God, it's going to hit the house," Carolyn Corley said she thought as the plane skimmed her rooftop.

"Then there was a loud boom and the plane exploded. It was like shrapnel exploding all over the place."

Mary Beaseley found "pieces of paper all over" her back yard.

"I found small piece of paper with a bunch of figures and toward the bottom of the paper the red pencil mark tapered off —just like he was writing when it happened," she said.

Computer Goofs On Grade

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — William Arthur, a senior honor pupil at Eastridge High School in suburban Irondequoit, was stunned when he received a failing grade in English.

A guidance counselor asked at the bottom of his report, "What happened?"

His mother wrote back, "Ask your computer."

School officials found that Arthur had scored a perfect 100, or "A plus," but the computer was programmed to read only two digits.

Logan Denies Suit Threat

FORT WORTH (AP)—The father of Susan Kay Logan, a former Miss Texas, denied Friday that he had threatened to sue for promised benefits for his daughter from sponsors of the pageant.

John D. Logan of San Angelo, father of the former Miss Texas, was quoted earlier this week by the president of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Frank Butterfield.

An article had quoted Butterfield as saying that the father of Miss Texas of 1966 threatened to sue before his daughter finally received her cash and scholarship benefits.

Butterfield also said that other Lubbock preliminary winners had difficulty in obtaining their prizes.

Logan, an attorney, said reporters contacted him Wednesday after the article quoting Butterfield appeared in apaper.

Logan said, "I told them I'd never heard of it. I'll repeat to you what I told them: I never threatened the Fort Worth Pageant people or anyone else to sue if they didn't give my daughter, Susan, her benefits."

When asked if payment of the benefits was slow, Logan answered, "There's no question about that."

He said benefits were delayed in reaching his daughter because "a bunch of lay people are running the thing and they're doing the work for nothing. I don't point the finger of blame at any person."

Would-Be Bank Robbers Fail

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) —Would - be robbers failed in two bank robbery attempts in Corpus Christi Friday because the robbers were more jittery than their intended victims.

A teller at a drive-in booth at the Texas State Bank told police two men drove up to her window at the bank, pulled a gun and demanded money.

The teller, Mrs. Peggy Roesch, said she hesitated, then stepped out of the booth. The men raced from the scene in their car.

MRS. JAMES FREDERICK PETERSON

Double Ring Marriage Vows Exchanged By Miss Linda Reon, J. F. Peterson

The First United Methodist Church of Snyder was the scene of the marriage of Miss Linda Carolyn Reon of Carmichael, Calif. and Mr. James Frederick Peterson of Fairfield, California on November 29th at 2 p.m. Glen L. Ward, pastor of Cherry Heights Baptist Church, Clyde, Texas officiated at the double ring service. Greenery and tapers in spirals and clusters bedecked the church setting.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Carolyn Dunn Reon of Snyder, Tex. and Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson, Jr. of Belvidere, Illinois.

The bride wore a floor-length princess style gown. Venetian lace accented the dress and train that was attached at the shoulders, and tulip sleeves. Self covered buttons adorned the full length of the dress front. Her shoulder length veil of silk organza was trimmed with Venetian lace.

Miss Barbara Downey of Carmichael, Calif. was maid of honor; and Mrs. Michael H. Holden of Midland, Tex. served her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Jan McLeod of El Paso, Tex. and Miss Judy Peterson of Belvidere, Illinois, sister of the groom. They were attired in long wheat empire jumpers with beige blouses. They carried shades of yellow topiary, pom-pom and spider mums.

The bride and groom left the altar under an arch of sabers formed by the groomsmen.

A reception was held at Wesley Hall. An arrangement of white carnations and baby's breath centered the bride's table. Mrs. Ronnie V. Goode and Mrs. Jerry Wyatt served cake and punch.

The couple will be at home at 4725 Marconi Avenue, Carmichael, Calif.

The bride attended Snyder High School and Texas Tech University. She is a hostess with Braniff International Airlines. The groom attended Sioux Falls, South Dakota and the United States Air Force Academy. He is an Air Force pilot (C-141) stationed at Travis AFB.

Out-of-town guests were from Belvidere, Ill., Sioux Falls and Sioux City, South Dakota, Nashville, Tenn., Del Rio, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Midland, El Paso and Abilene.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents.

Cherry Pork Chops

6 pork rib or loin chops, cut ¾ to 1 inch thick
1 tablespoon lard or drippings
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 can (16 ounces) tart red cherries
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ cup brown sugar

Brown chops in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Drain cherries, reserving juice. Add enough water to cherry juice to make 1 cup of liquid. Combine cornstarch and brown sugar in sauce pan. Add cherry juice. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Add cherries to sauce. Pour over pork chops. Cover tightly and cook slowly 45 minutes or until done. 6 servings.

Peach Cobbler

3 cans (each 1 pound) peach slices, thoroughly drained
2-3 cup plus ½ cup sugar
Salt
½ teaspoon nutmeg
2-3 cup sifted flour
½ cup enriched white cornmeal
¾ teaspoon baking powder
1 large egg, slightly beaten
2-3 cup milk
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted

Stir together the peaches, 2-3 cup sugar, pinch of salt and nutmeg; turn into ungreased 8 by 8 by 2 inch cake pan. Into a medium mixing bowl sift together the flour, pinch of salt, cornmeal, ½ cup sugar and baking powder; add egg and milk; stir in butter mixing only until dry ingredients are moistened. Pour batter, spreading evenly, over peach mixture in pan. Bake in preheated 375-degree oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out without batter sticking to it — 45 to 50 minutes. Serve warm with cream. Makes 6 servings.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED—Mrs. Pauline Drew, Cogdell Nurses Home, announces the engagement of her daughter, Diana Drew, to David Finis Bugg, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bugg of Odessa. The bride-elect is employed by the city of Brownwood and the prospective groom is pastor of Bethel Baptist Church in Zephyr. The couple plan a summer wedding.

Your family will thank you this Thanksgiving when you serve them a bountiful breakfast of Canadian-style bacon and link sausage with hot applesauce and grilled English muffins. It will help fortify them until the big meal often served mid-afternoon.

Carving meat is both an art and a science. Essential tools of this discipline include a cutting board, sharp knife blade and an anchoring fork. The rule is to cut across the grain of the meat. And as in most arts, practice makes perfect, slices that is.

Associated Press Writer

AUSTRALIAN ADVENTURE. By Anne Clark. University of Texas Press, Austin, $7.50.

Anne Clark is the wife of Ed Clark, the man-about-Texas who capped a busy career by being appointed ambassador to Australia.

When Anne Clark arrived in Australia she found it held nothing of the Austin, Tex., surroundings with which her life had been stabilized.

So a reader sees throughout her book her longing to return to Austin. To bridge the thousands of miles, she wrote letters back home.

This is all very well. But to publish these letters in a book? Amazing, to say the least.

The suicide rate in our State Department is not immediately available but it must be rising steadily since Mrs. Clark's "Australian Adventure" was published recently.

A few samples: "She says of an Australian that he paints "good, conventional landscapes" —something to turn the hair of an artist white.

At another point Mrs. Clark calls the continent an island, and she criticizes the dresses of her hostess while at another point calling her dinner companion "an arrogant old coot."

The book is one of the most charming seen in a long time. Mrs. Clark has an eye for detail and narrative.

As in this passage: "At Taronga Park Zoo we were conducted around by Sir Edward Hallstrom, a delightful gentleman in his seventies, dressed all in black and looking like a character out of Dickens, or perhaps off a toby jug. He told us he had a blind eye. He had lost the sight when he was kicked by a giraffe, but he said the giraffe had not meant to kick him, he was only awkward!"

If this reviewer recalls Ed Clark well, Clark probably is unconcerned about it all. He is a Democrat and any repairs necessary will be the problem of the Republicans.—The AP.

THE INTIMATE DESERT. By Walter Collins O'Kane. University of Arizona Press, Tucson. $2.95.

And like most persons who are transplanted, he finds things that the natives overlook.

What he finds is the vast array of life in a country that on the surface has less life than places better endowed with moisture.

He has produced a new book, "The Intimate Desert." It abounds with descriptions of what you can find in the desert, how to find it, and what you have found.

He describes plants, animals, birds and reptiles found in and sometimes under the desert.

Readers anywhere will find, strangely, that many of the animals are ones they know. They simply have adapted to a land with less than average moisture.

YOUR WORLD, Series 7. By Billy N. Pope and Ramona Ware Emmons. Taylor Publishing Dallas.

Taylor Publishing has just issued No. 7 in its series of "Your World," designed to open new vistas to students.

The new series, in a containing box, are Let's Choose a Pet, and four others, called Let's Visit—a furniture factory, bakery, flower shop and a silver company.

The value to a parent or teacher—those who try to tell their children of the world about them—must be great.

There is a current emphasis on allowing pupils to experience new things. Each week, for instance, a school with which this reviewer has a tenuous connection, carries pupils on a field trip—half a day to acquaint the youngsters with an industry or an art they may never have seen.

But how are you going to let a child in Dallas know about a ship? Even the ambitious Trinity canal program doesn't promise more than barges. And Albuquerque and Phoenix aren't even talking about ships.

But the pupil can see all these worlds in the series.

This is done with some of the most handsome pictures seen in any book with enough text to tell the story and with a list of terms in the back of the book to expand a pupil's vocabulary.

With these books, a parent or teacher can enrich a child's knowledge of the world around him immeasurably.

Billy N. Pope, one f the originators, is with the South Park Schools, Beaumont, Tex. Ramona Ware Emmons is a resident of Birmingham, Ala.—The AP.

DELINQUENCY IN THREE CULTURES. By Carl M. Rosenquist and Edwin I. Megargee, University of Texas Press, Austin. $10.

One of the great searches of the last few decades has been to find some key to the delinquency of children and youths. So far, no one has found a cheap, effective way of removing the causes of delinquency.

The causes are fairly well known, although no one has explained why youngsters of seemingly identical influences differ in their outlook on society.

Carl M. Rosenquist, a sociology professor at the University of Texas, and Edwin I. Megargee, associate professor of psychology at Florida State University, have taken a new approach seeking some new clue.

They tested and compared delinquents with a control group of non-delinquents among Anglos, what they call Latins—meaning Mexican-Americans, and Mexican citiens

The result is a deep, significant study which confirms a go many earlier findings about the causes of delinquency—or at least the environment and influences.

And it confirms—or discovers—that the delinquents in all three studies are pretty much alike.

The preponderance came from broken or contentious homes, they are not church goers, and they are hostile toward their mothers, although Mexicans were hostiel also to their fathers.

Anglo children's fathers had poor jobs, Mexican-American fathers had good jobs and Mexican fathers' jobs had no effect. So that wipes out any theories on employment status difference —at least for this sort of comparison.

The United States residents of both races had low verbal intelligence quotients and good performance I.Q. The Mexicans were the reverse.

The total, overall picture is that delinquents are delinquent for about the same reasons, no matter their racial or national environment.

The book is an imperative for anyone seeking to stop delinquency or to help delinquents. If nothing else, it dispels some myths.

One of the important outcomes of the study, the authors appear to say, is that further studies on this particular comparison will not be fruitful and energy can be centered on other studies. This is an important part of any research.

The study further points up the difficulties of curing delinquency. How can anyone change all the intangibles?

The work was a part of the Hogg Foundation series. The foundation has contributed greatly to understanding of some of the major social problems of Texas and elsewhere.—The AP.

CUMBOTO. By the late Ramon Diaz Sanchez. University of Texas Press, Austin. $6.50.

"Cumboto" was picked by the Ibero-American Novel Project of the William Faulkner Foundation as the most "notable" novel published in Ibero-America between 1945 and 1962.

The author, Ramon Diaz Sanchez, of Venezuela died in 1968 after writing several novels and other works.

The book seems to have a strong flavor of Faulkner. It tells of the young owner of a plantation employing a number of Negroes, his withdrawal from the world and a love affair with a black girl who flees in the face of condemnation by her own people. Their son appears 20 years later.—The AP.

HAWTHORNE'S IMAGERY. By Richard Harter Fogle. University of Oklahoma Press, Norman. $4.50.

And that is the core of the work of Richard Harter Fogle in his new book—the master's use of light and dark and shadow to create images.

lished by the University of Oklahoma Press. It is literary criticism of a deep type, excellent for the many Hawthorne fans and opening new considerations to the expert.

Fogle designed the book as a companion to his earlier "Hawthorne's Fiction: The Light and the Dark."

The author is a professor at the University of North Carolina and has written many other books on noted writers.—The AP.

MRS. MACKEY N. FRALEY

Morris, Fraley Marriage In First Baptist Church Rites

Miss Melinda Ann Morris of Colorado City and Mackey N. Fraley of Snyder exchanged double ring wedding vows November 28 in First Baptist Church of Snyder. Officiating in the 6 o'clock service was Rev. M. L. Reedy, interim church pastor.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Morris of Colorado City, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fraley of Snyder.

The church altar was centered with an arch covered with English ivy and white gladioli. The setting was completed by baskets of white roses and a background arrangement of ivy.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of bridal satin and Alencon lace made by her grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Morris of Coleman. Teardrop pearl clusters surrounded the standup collar and accented bodice and skirt hem.

Her shoulder length veil of tulle was appliqued with matching lace and pearl clusters. She carried a cascading bouquet of white chrysanthemums and English ivy.

Miss Melanie Erwin was maid of honor. Miss Leada Sanderson was bridesmaid. They wore floor - length gowns of mint green lace over white fashioned with baby doll sleeves and high necklines encircled with standup lace. Empire waistlines were defined by white satin ribbon bows. They wore yellow chrysanthemums in their hair and carried bouquets of yellow feathered mums and English ivy.

Danny Ward was best man. Jimmy Farmer and Floyd Dale White seated guests.

A reception was held in the home of the bridegroom's parents. The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth and complimented by an arrangement of yellow gladioli and English ivy. Members of the house party were Gail Burleson, sister of the groom, Mrs. Bill Erwin, and the bridal attendants.

For her going-away costume the bride chose a white lace dress over brown satin.

The bride is a graduate of Colorado City high School. Her husband is a graduate of Snyder High School, attended Howard County Junior College and is employed by Les Francis Chevrolet Co.

Canadian Style Bacon Graced With Oranges

You'll turn a colorless winter day into a bright occasion when mealtime reveals a brilliant orange sauce on Canadian style bacon.

The sauce is prepared with ened with cornstarch. It's served with cornstarch. It' sserved warm with orange sections and flecks of lemon rind.

As to the meat, that's an innovation, too. For each serving an orange slice and a thin onion slice are tucked between two Canadian style bacon slices. The stacks are baked and the orange sauce poured over for serving.

This dish is delicious at dinner or lunch. It's also a wonderful idea for a brunch. (Omit the onion at this meal, if desired.)

Canadian Style Bacon and Orange Sauce

12 slices Canadian style bacon, cut ¼ inch thick
6 thin onion slices
6 orange slices, rind removed
2 teaspoons sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 cup orange juice
1 orange, peeled and cut in sections
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind

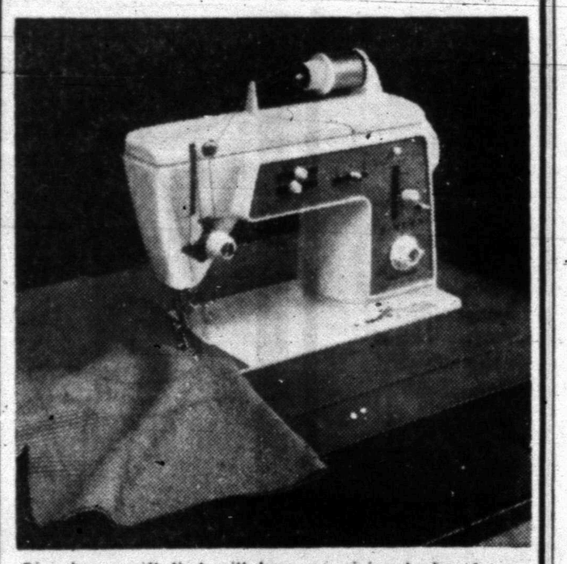

Arrange 6 slices Canadian style bacon in a greased shallow 1½-quart baking dish. Top each slice with an onion slice, an orange slice and another slice of Canadian style bacon. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Mix together sugar and cornstarch. Add orange juice and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Stir in orange sections and lemon rind. Serve sauce over meat. 6 servings.

Nothing finishes off a meal with fanfare on cold evenings like a warm pie. Tart apples for filling crusts are abundant. Featured too, are makings for the holiday favorites — pumpkin, pecan and mincemeat. Yet for pie perfection every filling demands a tender flaky crust. No problem — lard will make the crust tasty and tender every time.

Leaders training will be held at Scout Hut Tuesday Dec. 9 from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. All leaders urged to attend and bring a sack lunch.

MR. AND MRS. BARNEY STANSELL
December 1919

To Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Stansell will be honored with a reception at the Fluvanna community center on Sunday, December 21, from 2 to 5 p.m. in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Stansell was born at Senate, Tex. She is the former Mary Leatherwood, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Leatherwood.

Mr. Stansell, born at Landerville, Ala., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stansell, moved to Hamilton, Tex. at the age of four, and in 1907 moved to Scurry County and lived for three years, then moved to Jack County.

The couple were married at Senate, Tex. Dec. 21, 1919. They have lived most of their married life in Jack, Wheeler and Scurry Counties, moving to Fluvanna in 1945 where they still reside.

The reception will be hosted by the couple's four children, James of Fluvanna; Velda Padilla of Wichita Falls; Bill of Fluvanna, and Raymond of Snyder.

Friends and relatives are invited to call between the appointed hours.

Asimov's 100th

PLUS 100. By Isaac Asimov.

"Charming: Pleasing the mind or senses in a high degree." A perfect definition for this unique medley of a book, its prolific author's one hundredth.

Asimov, perhaps best known as a top science-fiction writer, reveals here in generous slices the other facets of his literary career: science people and encyclopedist, essayist. But best of all, neatly spliced in between selections from his many works, he tells of himself, especially of himself as writer.

In his introduction, Asimov notes the idea for this book came at a luncheon with his publisher. "As I began to tick them (his books off, we all realized that My Hundredth Book was upon me. Various suggestions were made and finally someone . . suggested that I make it a completely personal book in which I rattled on and on about myself and my writing, with selections from books, articles, and stories where those were appropriate. I thought about it briefly, and said, 'Any writer who is a monster of vanity and egocentricity — like myself, for instance — would love to write a book like that.' " This is the book and Asimov's paragraph pretty well sums it up.

The book is divided into 11 parts, covering such subjects as "Astronomy," "Roberts," "Words," "History," and "Humor." While each section is able to stand by itself, it also blends into the others to produce a well-balanced whole. What brings this about, of course, is the author's personal remarks between each segment of fiction or non-fiction.

Among these speeches:

"Well, the atomic bomb came, and it finally made science fiction 'respectable.' For the first time, science-fiction writers appeared to the world in general to be something more than a bunch of nuts, we were suddenly Cassandras whom the world ought to have believed. But I tell you, I would far rather have lived and died a nut in the eyes of all the world than to have been salvaged into respectability at the price of nuclear war hanging like a sword of Damocles over the world forever."

Into a 1-quart casserole turn the prunes; add the wine. Cover and let stand at room temperature for 48 hours; stir several times. Bake, covered, in a preheated 225-degree oven for 2 hours, stirring several times. Serve warm or hot. Makes 8 servings.

Small Town Expose: A Humdrum

THE DORP. By Frieda Arkin.

It's one more fictional small town, Kuyper's Dorp, hidden by trees in upstate New York. Frieda Arkin gently, deftly plucks aside the leaves and looks in.

Do some denizens of the dorp smack of stereotype? The town editor labors over his folksy editorials . . . a teen-ager gets pregnant in a convenient crypt. . . a lady has a change-of-life affair with her high school sweetheart. . . a batty old dame, dire foe of DDT, bugs fellow townsfolk.

But what other fictional editor nightwalks to stave off mind-busting metaphysical dreams? What teen-ager, riding trains, demurely confounds middle-aged men by poring over thick tomes in statistics — or Amazon dialects? That adulteress is no dumb little housewife, but an anthropology teacher. (And besides, she loves her husband.) That batty old lady, it becomes apparent, is the sanest person in Kuyper's Dorp — and the toughest.

Then there's the pig-raising hypochondriac who's writing a medical dictionary, the culinary genius of the corner lunch stand who serves up the most poisonous tongue in town, the Methodist minister who calls for mass confession, but can't turn up anybody who'll say "I'm a sinner."

All this and more Mrs. Arkin sees not as a beady-eyed Peeping Tom, but as a compassionate Recording Angel with a funny-bone.

If Mrs. Arkin's is slice-of-life writing, life gets sliced pretty thick a couple of times. A deer crashes the lover' car, which hits and kills the wronged husband, who's walking a lonely road. And a storm blocks a television channel just in time to save face for the town drunk. Still, such coincidence most readers can forgive.

The author is no unsung apparition from the kitchen table typewriter. Her short stories have made the literary quarterlies and "Best American Short Stories." Her first novel should seriously discomfit would - be writers about small towns for some time to come.

Beef Jardiniere Zestily Spices A Family Meal

About this time of year homemakers are looking for new ideas to add spice to family main entrees. The ideas you find may be completely new meat and vegetable combinations or old favorites served in slightly different ways.

Or the suggestion might come from a foreign land, like this zesty manner of featuring beef short ribs.

In French, "jardiniere" is a word meaning a dish of mixed vegetables. Thus when short ribs are cooked with vegetables, they might be called Beef Short Ribs Jardiniere. What a flavorful dish to present at a family meal!

Short ribs are usually economical and are full of appetizing beef flavor, which they lend generously to the vegetables braised with them.

Beef Short Ribs Jardiniere
3 pounds beef short ribs
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup water
¼ cup grated onion
2 large carrots, diced
1 green pepper, cut in ½-inch squares
4 celery stalks, cut in ½-inch slices
2 cups water
3 tablespoons flour

Brown short ribs in own fat. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add ½ cup water and onion. Cover tightly and cook slowly 1½ hours. Add carrots, green pepper and celery and continue cooking 30 minutes, or until meat is tender and vegetables are done. Remove short ribs to heated platter. Add 2 cups water and thicken cooking liquid with flour for gravy. Serve gravy over short ribs. 6 servings.

Western Tall Tale Is Zany Fun

THE SWIFT RUNNER. By Frank O'Rourke.

This is where the Old West meets its last days, but the tale is far more than an ordinary horse opera.

The time is the beginning of this century, and the hero is Doc Neely, the best horse thief in the whole West. His big coup was to steal a great racing stallion Gadalong, but his partner and front man, Avram Barker, gave him the double cross and Doc had to spend 10 years behind bars.

Doc's post - prison revenge is the theft, from Barker's stable, of Gadalong's son Boy, and the whole story is about the flight and chase as Doc and Boy escape through a network of lawmen and privately hired posses. Nip and tuck it is, with fast riding and cunning deception.

Doc has to have help, and his motley friends provide it for him. They include an ex-bum, a young orphan boy, a one-time actress, a former juggler and con man, and a retired madame. They relay supplies to him, confuse and outsmart his pursuers and help him through the ridges and plains.

There is comedy with a gusto, and a few touches of pathos. But the real appeal of this tall, wide and crazy yarn is the battle of wit and endurance on the long chase. Mark Twain would have admired it. It has a picaresque quality and the integrity of a folk tale. Besides that, it is fun to read.

"We are left desolate as the greatest opera house in the world stands as a bleak, cold mausoleum."—Lecntyne Price, soprano who was to have sung on opening night at the Metropolitan Opera, which has been closed because of a strike.

Lose 10 lbs. in 10 days on Grapefruit Diet

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF. (Special) — This is the revolutionary grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants and offices throughout the U.S.

Because this diet really works. We have testimonials reporting on its success. If you follow it exactly, you should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. No weight loss in the first four days but you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1½ pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weght. Best of all, there will be no hunger pangs. Revised and enlarged, this diet lets you stuff yourself with formerly "forbidden" foods, such as steaks trimmed with fat, roast or fried chicken, gravies, mayonnaise, lobster swimming in butter, bacon fats, sausages and scrambled eggs and still lose weight. The secret behind this "quick weight loss" diet is simple. Fat does not form fat. And the grapefruit juice in this diet acts as a catalyst (the "trigger"), to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted food listed in the diet plan and still lose unsightly fat and excess body fluids. A copy of this startling successful diet can be obtained by sending $2 to

Establishment Sons Still Find Way To Dad's School

By JURATE KAZICKAS
Associated Press Writer

They, wear long hair, seize dean's offices, march in peace demonstrations. Some smoke pot, prefer jail to the draft.

Anti-establishment.

Establishment.

They are both, the rather rebellious sons of rather noted fathers of the nation's elite.

"The implications of superiority denoted by the Establishment is pernicious and one should fight it." So spoke Rick Taft, a student at Yale where his family, including President William Howard Taft, his great-grandfather, have long attended.

"The Establishment is that group of people which holds the balance of power and unfortunately is more concerned with holding that power for themselves rather than using it to solve the problems of the country." That was Tom Saltonstall, latest of the endless line of Massachusetts Saltonstalls at Harvard.

As a bow to his father, however, Tom, son of John, cut his locks during his father's recent campaign for re-election to Boston's city council.

As a group, Establishment sons still find their way to Dad's old school. But, in interviews with a number of them, they emerged as iconoclastic, idealistic, not unaware of their illustrious surnames and not unaware that the Establishment might be due for an overhaul. But a peaceful one.

"You've got to work from within the system to change it," said Richard Rockefeller, Harvard, '71, son of David, Harvard, '36 and president of the Chase Manhattan Bank.

John Laird, a Wisconsin sophomore who marched in the October Vietnam moratorium and is the son of Defense Secretary Melvin Laird, agreed.

"I think the right way is to go through the system to change it, not around it or to blow it up."

Likewise Peer Galbraith, 20, Harvard '73, son of John Kenneth Galbraith, Harvard professor and former ambassador to India. "I believe in 100 per cent nonviolence and see myself working within the Establishment to effect change."

Doug Rogers, a more traditionally cropped Yale law student and son of the secretary of state, says he wants to be part of the Establishment "only in the sense that I can be in a position to change laws to help the people."

Henry Christopher "Kit" Luce, whose father, Henry Luce III, is the publisher of Time magazine, says he hopes to be better than the Establishment. "Those effete snobs (referred to publicly by Vice President Spiro Agnew) are so much more patriotic than those who sit around doing nothing for their country."

Morris Abrams, a junior at Harvard and son of the president of Brandeis University said: "That generation seemed more concerned with devotion to certain ideals and traditions rather than looking for solutions to all our urgent problems."

A fundamental disagreement with these traditional views has led some of these young men to demonstrate actively against the Establishment.

Joe Seamans, 21, son of the secretary of the Air Force, participated in the marches during the October moratorium.

Andy Schlesinger, William Randolph Hearst III and Seamans were involved in the takeover of the administration building at Harvard during the spring of 1969, narrowly escaping arrest by jumping out of a window.

It would be wrong to say that these men are in total revolt, or that they don't pay grateful homage to their fathers.

"My father has established in me an ideal of determining a commitment and of following it through," said Josh Javits, son of Jacob, New York senator.

Dick Rockefellar said his father's influence made him realize how crucial it was to spend his life constructively and make a contribution to society. "For me," said Dick, "the burden of success is not so heavy as the burden of service."

Tom Saltonstall, who would like to do volunteer work after graduation from Harvard said, "My father has inbred in me a social conscience, a genuine concern for the people."

Generation gaps?

"Doesn't everyone have a generation gap with his parents?" asked William Hearst.

Dick Rockefeller said, "I guess my father and I look at things in a very differnet way, like religion and those traditional American ideals like capitalism."

The war is a passionate concern. More than half interviewed said they would choose jail rather than fight. Michael McCarthy, despite his father's disagreement, said he has received conscientious objector status.

"I absolutely won't go if I'm drafted," declared Tom Saltonstall.

Dick Rockefeller said he would resist the draft even to the extent of going to jail for it. "I don't care about the publicity," he said. "Maybe it'd be a good thing to encourage others in protest in order to change the draft laws."

Although all the sons condemned the use of narcotics, more than half said they occasionally smoked marijuana, described by one as "the liquor of our generation."

"My father just assumes that everyone my age has tried pot and leaves it at that," said one.

"Sure I smoke pot and I'm sure my father knows, but he hasn't said much about it," said another.

And when these sons become fathers?

"I'll say to my kids as my father said to me," said Josh Javits, " 'You've been given a lot. What you do with it is your own business."

William Hearst agreed. "I'd give my children lots of freedom. I work on the theory that freedom will cure almost anything."

Businessman To Run For Governor

HOUSTON (AP) — George Littlefield, a Houston businessman, says he plans to run for governor and if he's elected the "working people of Texas will get a fair shake for the first time."

Littlefield, owner of the Trueman Labor Service, will need to get 21,966 signatures on a petition.

The petition is required by Texas law before an independent or a candidate of a new political party can appear on the ballot.

"I decided to run for governor after about two years of thinking about it because the working man in this state needs a fair shake and I can give it to him," Littlefield said Thursday.

He said he would file in January.

Junior Editors Quiz on CLEFS

QUESTION: Why is the clef of viola music different from that used by other music?

* * *

ANSWER: When, in the old days, composers were searching for a way to write down their music accurately, they hit on the idea of "staff lines" — lines on which one could put dots to represent particular notes. The great staff, with 11 such lines (top), contained the notes needed at that time; but all those lines were impossibly confusing. You couldn't read a melody written on such a staff. So the musicians divided it in three. The upper five lines they gave to the violins and singers, who play and sing high up on the scale. They called them the soprano or treble clef. They located the note G two lines up and put a clef sign around it, which was G in a modified form. The lower five lines they called the bass clef and gave it a modified letter, four lines up, for the note F, showing where it is located. In between these two staffs was an extra line. They took this and added two lines overlapping on each side. The middle line was C, so they gave this a different clef sign. This is called the tenor or alto clef, and it is used by the viola because the range of this instrument is in the middle of the many notes shown on the piano keyboard, and it makes viola music easier to read.

Santa And The Dumbbell

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: On their way to Santa Land Booby Bobby and the Ghost stop to see a puppet show. The Puppet Princess is in terrible danger. Booby Bobby wants to save her.

CHAPTER FIVE
THE CHASE

STANLEY the Ghost agreed that the Puppet Princess must be rescued from the wicked ogre who planned to wed her.

"Now is our chance," he whispered. "Before the curtain goes up for the last act."

They crept to the little stage and peered behind the curtain. The man who ran the show had gone off for a smoke. The audience, too, had turned away for the intermission. The Princess lay on the stage in a crumpled heap of strings and sticks. The ogre also lay in a heap and did not seem so dangerous anymore.

"Princess! Come with us," said Booby Bobby. "We will save you from the ogre."

The Princess opened sad dark eyes and gazed at Booby Bobby in wonder. He was the first person who had ever spoken to her as if she were real and not just a marionette on a string.

"I cannot move unless the puppeteer puls my strings," she murmured unhappily.

"I will break the strings," said Booby Bobby. "Then you can move by yourself."

"Do you really think so? Oh, how lovely that would be!"

Booby Bobby snapped the strings tied to the puppet's feet and hands and head.

"How good it feels," breathed the Princess as Booby Bobby helped her from the stage. "I've never before moved of my own free will!"

"You must move very fast," said the Ghost. He rushed out of the square with Booby Bobby and the Princess at his heels.

The puppeteer came from around the corner where he had been having his smoke. He stared in puzzlement when he saw the Puppet Princess was missing. Then he saw the Ghost and Booby Bobby running away.

"Thief! Thief!" he shouted. "Stop them! They've stolen my puppet!" He began to give chase and all the men and women and children in the square gave chase behind him.

Panting and wheezing, the Ghost led the way out of the village, across the fields and through the forest.

"I-I can't run anymore," gasped the Princess at last. "It is harder than I thought."

Booby Bobby knelt down and ordered her to climb on his back. Then with the Princess riding piggyback, he staggered after Stanley.

They came to a wide river. Stanley said, "I've heard that there is a ferry boat here run by an elf who will take us straight to Santa Land." They looked everywhere but the only boat in sight was a beat-up raft tied to a tree. A sign on the raft said, "The ferryman has retired. This ferry doesn't run anymore."

The Ghost and Booby Bobby and the Princess looked at each other in dismay. They heard a hallooing and thrashing in the woods behind. The puppeteer screaming, "We have them cornered! They'll never get away!"

"Oh, dear," moaned the Princess. "All my life that man has made me do things I didn't want to do. Now he'll put me back on strings and I'll be just a marionette again."

"He hasn't caught us yet," said the Ghost.

He pushed Booby Bobby and the Princess on to the rickety raft, untied the rope and leaped aboard. The craft lurched away from the bank just as the puppeteer reached the shore screeching, "Here they are! We have them!"

But he was too late. The raft was spinning down the river and was already nearly out of sight.

Prominent Kerrville Man Dies Friday

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A prominent Kerrville man, W. Scott Schreiner, 81, died Friday at his Kerrville home.

Relatives attributed the death to a long illness.

Schriener was president of the Charles Schreiner Co., the Kerrville Telephone Co., and the Peterson Foundation.

He had formerly served as chairman of the Texas Game and Fish Commission, as director of the National Bank of Commerce in San Antonio and had formerly been a member of the University of Texas board of regents.

He is survived by his widow, Josephine; a daughter, Mrs. Clyde Parker, and three grandchildren, all of Kerrville.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We recently moved to this town, bought a nice home in a good neighborhood and settled down to become a part of the community.

Now comes my problem: Last week, while shopping for the usual items one needs after a move, I foolishly laid my purse down on the counter to look at something, and in a matter of seconds, my purse was gone! The person who took it then hurried to another store where she was picked up for shoplifting. She refused to identify herself, so the police looked in the purse she was carrying and found MY identification. The next day the newspaper published the police report which stated that I had been arrested for shoplifting!

Abby, I told everyone I know how the mistake was made and thought they would surely believe me. I was wrong. Some of my neighbors are treating me very coldly and when I try to explain the circumstances to others, I get the impression they think I'm lying.

What can I do?

DISAPPOINTED IN PEOPLE

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: If your local newspaper has not published a CORRECTION of the error, they certainly should. And you have every right to insist upon it. In the meantime, hold your head high, and be aware that people are inclined to believe what they want to believe. And the "nice" people will give you the benefit of the doubt.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor who used to be a school teacher. Now she's married and has a four-year-old kid. She bought herself a paddle to hit the kid with whenever he says "Huh" instead of "I BEG YOUR PARDON." You can hear this kid yelling his head off about 30 times a day.

Personally, I don't approve of hitting kids with anything but the open hand and I wish you'd put this in the paper with your answer because she reads your column every day.

NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: Apparently your neighbor's method of "teaching" isn't very successful. If it were, she wouldn't have to paddle the kid 30 times a day.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my daughter-in-law. I thought we were close up until a few months ago. (I hope I don't sound "catty," but now I suspect Zelda was so sweet to me because she didn't have a washer-dryer then, and also she used to complain a lot about how she hated to cook, and I would invite her and my son for supper nearly every night.)

Well, Zelda had a baby a few months ago and now everything is changed. This is our first grandchild so need I tell you how thrilled we are.

In the first place I practically have to have an "appointment" to see the baby. I am told what "hours" I should come, and if I drop in unexpectedly she won't even let me in the baby's room to look at her! Also she even tells me how to hold the baby. (Abby, I've had seven of my own so I don't think I need any lessons.)

Don't tell me to wait until she brings the baby to ME. She brought her only once and she stayed exactly 21 minutes!

Please tell me what to do as I don't want to be a pushy mother-in-law, but I don't want my grandchild to grow up without being able to recognize me.

HURT IN BUFFALO

DEAR HURT: Don't DO anything. Be patient. Baby care is still a novelty to Zelda. In time the novelty will wear (and so will Zelda), and I'll bet you will see a good deal more of both of them.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MARTY": When your wife no longer cares how late you come home, it's later than you think.

* * *

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

* * *

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Socialists Announce Nominees

AUSTIN (AP) — A University of Texas student, a machinist and a woman psychiatric caseworker have announced they are the Socialist Workers party's nominees for governor, U. S. senator and congressman.

Howard Scoggins, 37, an Austin mechanic, said he is running for governor; Marianne Hernadez, psychiatric caseworkers at Austin State Hospital, for senator, and Travis Burgeson, University of Texas student, for congressman-at-large.

Informed that Texas has no congressman-at-large, Burgeson, a 23-year-old Nebraskan, said he probably would take on U.S. Rep. J.J. Pickle, Austin democrat.

Congressmen must be at least 25.

Miss Hernandez criticized U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., for not advocating an immediate troop withdrawal from Vietnam.

She also said he was too close to former President Lyndon Johnson — with whom he frequently feuded.

Scoggins said the party probably would seek write-in votes, but later said the possibility of getting on the official ballot for the 1970 general election is being investigated. In order to get on the ballot, the party would have to get 29,166 names on petitions or on the rolls of precinct conventions.

Scoggins said he, Miss Hernandez and Burgeson were selected by a state convention of his party "in Austin the first week in October."

He said the Socialists would ignore the requirement that convention results be filed with the Texas secretary of state, the chief election officer of Texas.

"If we win, I am sure the law will find some way to bend to the democratic demands of the masses," Scoggins said.

"I've got lots of new school dresses."
"Me too."
"And a pantsuit just like my mommy."
"Me too."
"And a Gypsy dress to go to Susies party in."
"Me too."
"And I got them all at my favorite store."
"Me too."
"Aw, shut up."

IN 29-23 THRILLER

Bronte Wins Regional

For sheer excitement, the Regional Class B football contest held in Tiger Stadium Friday night rivals anything the pros can come up with. Sundown's Roughnecks won the battle, but Bronte's Longhorns won the war, and the issue wasn't decided until the last play of the game when Bronte stopped the quick - striking Roughnecks on the 1 - yard line to preserve a 29-23 victory.

The last step on the path to the regional crown by the team that also won it two years ago was a perilous one, although at one time it looked like they had it sacked up with clear sailing ahead.

Going into the fourth quarter, Bronte was ahead 29-7, but the Roughnecks lived up to their name by crossing the goal twice on two long drives. Two successful 2 - point conversion plays helped cut the margin to 29-23 with 6:16 remaining.

Sundown tried two onside kicks in that wild fourth frame and both of them were successful. The second one occurred after they pulled within six points. The kick bounced off a Bronte lineman, and Jessie Perez recovered on the Sundown 49. From that point, the Roughnecks drove to the six, but a valiant defensive effort enabled Bronte to hold on with two minutes left.

Bronte gained only three yards and a third down pass that went awry stopped the clock. The 'Horns had to punt, and quarterback Robert Edwards, a 153-pound junior, fielded it at the 'Horn 35. He returned it up the middle, fighting his way through a cluster of defenders to the 20. With 39 seconds on the clock, Edwards rolled right on first down and went out of bounds at the 11. Perez was stopped for no gain, then the 165-pound senior charged over guard on the next effort to the five. With time running out, Edwards rolled right again and ran hard as he could towards the goal. But, he was knocked down on the one yard line after time expired as Bronte escaped with the championship.

Each team had an outstanding runner. Perez, who runs with driving determination, gained a fabulous 216 yards on 31 carries. Bronte's Nicky Arrott, a 150-pound senior, gained 193 yards on 17 carries. Each of them scored three touchdowns.

Sundown held a big edge in rushing yardage, gaining 430, compared with 244 by Bronte. But six long Roughneck drives came to grief, either through fumbles, penalties or a timely strong defensive effort by the 'Horns, or a combination of all three. And that was the difference in the ball game. When Bronte had to make the big defensive play, it did. On the other hand, the Longhorns got the most out of their yardage and two of their touchdowns resulted from long runs by Arrott, who surely lived up to his advance billing.

On the third play from scrimmage after the opening kickoff, Arrott took a pitchout and went 69 yards for the first touchdown. Willie Zuniga's kick put Bronte ahead 7-0 with only one minute and one second gone.

Sundown drove from its 34 to the Bronte 14 on its first possession, mainly on the hard running of senior halfback Eddie Eberhart, who collected 98 yards in 21 carries during the night. James Hays, a sophomore halfback, also contributed a nice gainer in this march.

But, the 'Horns held, and on the fourth play in the drive Arrott got loose again, this time going over left guard 73 yards for his second touchdown. Zuniga's kick put the Roughnecks on the rope 14-0 with 8:01 remaining in the period.

Late in the period, after an interception by Abel Davalos, Sundown drove 60 yards for its first touchdown with the TD coming on the second play of the second quarter on a 1-yard plunge by Perez. Vicci Bownds' kick cut the margin to 14-7.

Eberhart and Perez, operating as a solid 1-2 punch, got most of this yardage from a tandem pro set. After the touchdown, Bronte reached the Sundown 30 on a long pass from quarterback Keith McCutcheon to Zuniga, but a 5-yard penalty and a hard rush on the passer quashed the drive.

Sundown made three long drives in the second quarter that failed to produce any points. Perez was the work horse in each one of them, although Edwards also made valuable contributions with bootleg plays on key third down situations.

The first of these fruitless marches was stopped one yard shy of a first down at the 'Horn 11. The second one was halted at the Bronte 16. The Roughnecks were fighting the clock after reaching the 16 in the last drive, and Edwards was thrown behind the line attempting to pass as time run out.

Bronte crossed midfield earlier in the second quarter on some fine running by Arrott, but a fumble recovery by Randy Awbrey stopped the threat.

Displaying the power that makes them perennial contenders for area honors, Bronte drove 58 yards in 10 plays on its first possession in the second half. Arrott got the touchdown by sweeping right end from the two after taking a pitchout. Zuniga's kick gave the 'Horns a 21-7 advantage with seven minutes left in the period.

After the kickoff, Donnie Thompson intercepted a pass for Bronte at the Roughneck 33 and the 'Horns drove in from there in nine plays with McCutcheon hitting Randy Barbee in the end zone with a 6-yard toss. Barbee went over on a two - point bonus run to hike the count to 29-7, and it looked like the Sun had set on Sundown.

Then, came the furious rally that almost brought victory to the Roughnecks. They moved 81 yards for the first touchdown with Perez charging over the middle from the one for the six points. On the conversion play, Edwards carried across for two points. It was a magnificent drive, featuring quick openers by Eberhart and Perez with gains also contributed by Hays. It included one pass on fourth down for 6 yards, Edwards to Eberhart, that kept the drive alive.

Following the touchdown, Sundown tried its first onside kick and Awbrey made the recovery at the Bronte 43. On first down, Edwards rolled right for a first down at the 28. Then Eberhart went up the middle to the 14. Hays added three to the 11, then Perez went over right guard to pay dirt. He simply wouldn't be denied on this run. He hit the hole at full speed and ran over everyone in his path. Edwards again collected two points to shave the margin to six points.

Then came the next onside kick and Perez recovered at the Sundown 49. On first down, Perez gained two, then Edwards swept right end to the 37. Two carries by Perez and one by Eberhart set up fourth and one at the 28, and Perez got the first by plunging to the 24. Another sweep by Edwards set up first and 10 at the 11. Eberhart gained four to the seven on first down, but two successive losses set up fourth and 10 from the 11. Eberhart was stopped at the six on fourth down.

David Scott, a 187-pound senior, was outstanding for Bronte in this series, hauling Edwards down behind the line on third down.

Both teams hit hard throughout the contest. Sundown has nothing to be ashamed of in defeat. They fought the good fight, and their valiant rally fell short of victory by only inches.

NEW YORK TIGHTENS GRIP IN EAST LOOP

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York turned off a late Baltimore rally for a 116-107 National Basketball Association victory Friday night that continued a Knick-caused siege of frustration for the Bullets that dates all the way back to last spring.

It was the 25th victory in 27 games for the runaway leaders of the Eastern Division. Baltimore has a 17-9 mark—or about the same record it had a year ago at this time when it was the commanding East leader—but because of New York's amazing prosperity, the loss dropped the second-place Bullets 7½ games off the pace.

Meanwhile, Lew Alcindor scored 38 points as Milwaukee chopped down Seattle 131-98, Cincinnati routed Atlanta's Western Division leaders 156-127, Philadelphia escaped Boston 105-104, Phoenix beat Chicago 114-113, Los Angeles stopped Detroit 128-109 and San Francisco defeated San Diego 112-107.

In the American Basketball topped the New York Nets 107-102 and Dallas stopped Carolina 108-97.

The Bullets outscored New York 14-2 at the start of the final period—with Jack Marin and Earl Monroe each getting three baskets—to make it 97-88. But that was as close as the Bullets could get as New York picked up its sixth straight victory over the Bullets—including the four-game sweep in last spring's playoffs.

Alcindor not only went on a scoring spree, but also turned in a strong defensive performance, blocking numerous Seattle shots and intercepting several passes.

Fred Crawford added 18 points for the Bucks and Flynn Robinson had 16. Bob Boozer scored 19 for the SuperSonics.

Johnny Green drilled in 31 points and had 20 rebounds in guiding Cincinnati to a team-record scoring burst. The Royals' previous high was 153 points against Seattle two years ago.

Hal Greer polished off a 37-point effort with a driving layup at the buzzer to climax a big Philadelphia rally. The Celtics, who led by as many as 12 points in the final period, appeared to have it wrapped up when Henry Finkel hit two free throws with 10 seconds left for a 104-101 lead.

They let Greer score unmolested rather than risk fouling him with seven seconds to go to trim the margin to one. Then on the inbounds play, Larry Siegfried tossed the ball to Emmette Bryant and immediately took a return pass, but referee Jack Madden ruled that Siegfried was still out of bounds and gave the ball back to the 76ers—and Greer cashed in.

After that, dozens of angry fans stormed the court and rushed the referee, who needed a police escort to reach the dressing room.

Gail Goodrich's 20-foot jumper with 41 seconds left climaxed a come-from-behind rally that gave Phoenix its fourth straight victory.

Reliable Jerry West scored 26 points as Los Angeles coasted past the Pistons, who got 22 points each from Terry Dischinger, Howard Komives, Eddie Miles, and Jimmy Walker.

Jeff Mullins tossed in 31 points in guiding San Francisco past the Rockets. Don Kojis had 23 for San Diego.

MART, HEBERT UPSET SCHOOLBOY POWERS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Abilene Cooper and Lufkin Dunbar, the only top-ranked teams left in the Texas schoolboy football playoffs, hoped to avoid the upset bug Saturday as they took aim on state semifinal berths.

Upsets were recorded in every division except Class AA in Friday night's exciting quarterfinals, topped by Mart's 12-7 victory over White Oak, the Class A favorite, and Beaumont Hebert's 29-12 victory over Houston Kashmere, ranked No. 2 in Class AAAA.

Wilson will play the winner of the Cooper-Wichita Falls clash. Hebert will play the winner of the Lee-Seguin match.

The Class AAA semifinal bracket was completed Friday night.

Brownwood, which last week defeated defending champion Lubbock Estacado, downed Monahans 28-13 and will play Bonham in one semifinal match. Bonham whipped Ennis 20-6.

West Columbia and Belton collide in the other semifinal. West Columbia advanced on the narrowest of margins, defeating Brenham on first downs 12-10 after the game ended in a 6-6 tie. Belton defeated Kerrville Tivy 28-16.

In Class AA, second ranked Iowa Park moved a step closer to a showdown with Lufkin Dunbar with a 14-7 victory over Reagan County. Jeff McDonald ran 87 yards for a touchdown in the fourth quarter to highlight the defensive battle.

Iowa Park's semifinal foe will be Jacksboro, which nipped Gladewater 9-7. Klein advanced to the semifinals with a 35-14 victory over Hondo.

In Class A games Friday, Honey Grove whipped DeLeon 26-7 and second-ranked Poth used a bruising ground game to down Schulenburg 21-6.

White Oak, top-rated in Class A most of the season, lost the ball three times in the final six minutes to Mart, twice on fumbles and once on a pass interception, to erase hope of a comeback.

Louis Thornton and Calvin Jones scored Mart's touchdowns, each on a one-yard plunge Jones' dash was the clincher in the fourth quarter.

That's GREAT! A FORNEY for $90.00

and 225 amps! Just what I'm looking for.

CHECK THESE BENEFITS—

1. Easy "plug-in" type, exact amperage every time.
2. Calibrated voltage for each amperage.
3. 15 Heat stages, 30 to 225 amperes.
4. Weld any metal from sheet metal to motor blocks.
5. Can be used for soldering and brazing.
6. Low price without sacrifice of quality.
7. Good for hardfacing equipment subject to abrasion.
8. Will handle electrodes up to 3/16". Cuts and bores holes.
9. Easy striking arc for which all Forney units are known.

Kittens Advance In Local Tournament

The host Kittens of Snyder High School were involved in the highest scoring game of the evening as they advance in the annual Snyder B Team Basketball Tournament along with Lubbock, Plainview and Lubbock Monterey.

The locals made a comeback in the second half to decision Big Spring, 65-58, and continue in the championship bracket of the tournament.

Earlier, Lubbock had decisioned Abilene Cooper, 54 - 42 Plainview had ripped Seminole, 60-50; and Monterey ripped Midland Lee, 59-51.

Coach Bill Bundy's Kittens were the only first - round winners who had to come from behind to overcome a half-time deficit. Big Spring led at intermission, 32-25. However, the Kittens warmed to the task in the third period with Jackie Murray roping 10 points in that stanza to take a 46-42 lead at the end of three.

Murray finished the game with a total of 24 points. Also in double figures for the Kittens were Ronnie Morse with 11, David Thompson and Kent Horsely with 10 each.

Saturday morning play was delayed by weather conditions and by bus trouble which kept some of the teams from arriving on time.

Meeting that morning were Seminole and Copper; and Lee and Big Spring. In the winner's bracket Lubbock faced Plainview and the Kittens were to go against Monterey in second round games. Consolation finals were set for 5 p.m., the game to determine third place for 6:30 p.m. and the championship finals for 8 p.m.

Travis 9th Wins First Round 51-38

BIG SPRING — Travis broke even in the first round of the tournament here Friday night with the 9th graders turning back San Angelo Edison 51-38 and the 8th graders dropping a 34-26 decision to the same school.

Travis 9th was to meet Lamesa at 12 o'clock noon in the second round. A victory in this game would put them in the finals at 8 p.m. A loss would put them in the third place contest at 6:30 p.m. Travis 8th was to tangle with Runnels at 9 o'clock Saurday morning, and a victory would put them in the Consolation finals at 5 p.m. Saturday.

Travis 9th took a 17-13 lead in the first period, boosted it to 31-21 at halftime and maintained the margin in the second half. Tommy Washington and Gary Brooks were outstanding on offense, sinking 27 and 19 points respectively while Jackie Henderson captured scoring laurels for Edison with 17 points.

Travis 8th trailed 8-17 at halftime, but the young Blue Devils fought the Edison 8th grade on even terms in the last half and forced the San Angelo team to play well to claim the victory.

Mickey Gonzales led Travis 8th scorers with eight points and Robinson was high point man for Edison with nine.

Bengals Reach Consolation Finals After 84-69 Victory

IRVING — Hitting with deadly accuracy both from the field and at the free throw line, Snyder's Tigers thumped North Dallas 84-69 in the second round of the Irving Invitational Basketball Tournament Saturday morning to qualify for the Consolation finals.

The Bengals of Coach Ned Underwood were to meet the winner of the Denison - Paris contest in the Consolation finals at 5:30 p.m. Saturday. The Tigers dropped a 90-68 decision to powerful Richardson in the opening round Friday night.

Everyone on the Tiger roster saw action against the Dallas crew, and six of Underwood's boys hit in double figures. Wesley Bishop led the scoring with 16 points. Bruce Arnold and Ronald Ward put in 15, Bid Cooper made 11, and Danny Farmer and Jim Patrick each netted 10 points. Glen Rambin and Lee Patrick each contributed five points and McNair added two.

Snyder actually won the game at the free throw line, sinking 92 per cent of the gratis tosses in the first half and 84 per cent of them in the second half for an overall accuracy percentage of 88 per cent. Dallas hit only 38 per cent from the free throw line in the first half and 36 per cent in the second half for an overall 37 per cent.

The Tigers connected on 50 per cent from the field in the first half, compared with 28 per cent by Dallas. In the last two periods, Snyder found the range on 63 per cent from the floor, compared with 47 per cent by Dallas. Overall, the field shot accuracy average was 57 per cent for Snyder and 44 per cent for Dallas.

Snyder took a narrow 17-14 lead in the first quarter, but a strong pressing game in the second period enabled the Tigers to take a 42-21 advantage at halftime. Dallas was forced into numerous turnovers, as the Tigers took the commanding lead in the second period. Substitutes saw action in most of the second half, but the Tigers' lead was cut by only six points in the last two frames.

In other tilts, Irving MacArthur whipped North Dallas in the first round, Abilene Cooper toppled Paris, and Irving bested Denison.

In the first game Friday, the Tigers fell a 68-90 victim to undefeated Richardson, but they put up a good battle. Richardson led only 21-16 after one quarter and 42-36 at halftime, but a hot third period propelled Richardson into a 77-50 lead and Snyder's 18-13 advantage in the fourth quarter wasn't enough to close the gap.

Only two Tigers were in double figures, Wesley Bishop put in 14 points, and Danny Farmer notched 13. However, there was good team effort with six other lads getting in on the scoring act. Bruce Almond and Lee McNair each posted six points. Jim Richardson, getting 39 points, and his teammate, LaCroix, netted 23. Blakely barely missed twin figures with nine points. All of the Richardson players scored.

Bexar Felons To Hear Game

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) Football fans at the Bexar County jail will get to hear the radio broadcast of the Texas-Arkansas game Saturday.

Sheriff W. B. Hauck said the game will be broadcast through the jail's intercom system.

Jail policy normally prohibits television or radio in the jail.

"Because of the interest in the game, the whole game will be broadcast," Hauck said.

CAREER CORNER
By F. J. LAIN

Strange as it may seem, the best jobs do not automatically go to the best qualified people. They go to the best qualified applicants. How do you become a "hey - look - me - over" applicant?

START by recognizing that you are in a sales campaign! You are selling yourself. Because an employer's a whizz in his own field doesn't mean he's expert at matching your qualifications with the job he needs to fill. It's up to YOU to convince him that you're above the crowd.

Before you can sell the employer on the idea of buying, however, you first have to sell on the idea of listening. Here's where your resume comes in.

A RESUME (pronounced "ray-soo-may") is your factual sales promotion sheet. It is a brief description of your qualifications as a possible employee — a sort of written snapshot. It is your most important tool for lining up job interviews.

And — a major benefit — preparing your presentation, is a great way of zeroing yourself in on the right field, right from the start. As a beginner, you will find that working it up is less complicated if you take it one step at a time.

STEP 1: Collect your information. Write down everything you can think of about yourself — your experience, your education, your personality, your interests, your accomplishments, your abilities. Your weak points too.

STEP 2: Analyze it. Take a good hard look at the person this information describes. Is there really any sense in setting your heart on an executive secretary's job, if you're a poor speller with a "C-" in typing?

If you're stymied at this point, get the advice of your school counselor, teachers, friends, or go to a capable employment counselor. Often they can help you discover that you have far more to offer than you realized.

STEP 3: Write it. Rewrite it. And rewrite it again, until it makes you look job-worthy on paper. It should read like a dignified sales presentation, NOT a history of your life. Omit those bad points we covered in Step 1, of course; honesty is the best policy, but let's be practical. Include:

Identification — name, address, telephone number.

Job Objective — the kind of work you want, and any reasons you feel especially qualify you. Spell out what the employer has to gain — not you. Your desire to find "an opportunity to learn and "grow" is of little interest to him.

Skills and Assets —if you can type 80 words per minute, say so. Or perhaps you can work well under pressure, or are successful in relationships with others.

Education — highest grade level completed (with name of school and date you graduated or left), plus any technical schooling related to your job objective; any scholarships or honors you've received; any extracurricular achievement.

Work Experience — any part-time or summer jobs you've had, listing the most important first, and noting briefly what you learned from each job experience.

Personal Data — age, height, weight, general health, marital and (for young men) military status (unless you're 1-A). Omit ancestry, color, or religious creed.

THAT'S IT — the framework for your all purpose resume. But before starting, you should see what good resumes look like. The best I've seen for beginners — including released military personnel and housewives — are contained in a special report prepared by the job journal, "Who's Hiring Who." Send 25 cents to "Outstanding Resumes," WHW, Box 3651, Washington, D. C. 20007.

Part 3 — Ten ways to build a better resume.

Yonkers, N. Y., Raceway averaged 20,091 fans for its first 102 nights of harness racing this season.

Collision Near Waco Kills 1, Injures 8

WACO, Tex. (AP) — A Fort Worth woman died and eight persons were injured, five of them critically, in a two-car collision Friday night at a highway intersection on Waco's outskirts.

Killed was Cheryl A. Anderson, 21, of Fort Worth, a student at Tarleton State College in Stephenville.

Three other Tarleton co-eds—Anna Lynn Patterson of Brady, Leta Suggs of Brady and Cady Parker of Midland—were taken to a Waco hospital in critical condition.

Also in critical condition in a Waco hospital were Mrs. Edith Martin and her daughter, Barbara, 10.

Brenda Martin, 12, Mercy Martin, 9, and Mike Martin, 13, were listed in good condition.

Mrs. Martin had left two of her children at home.

Officers said the collision occurred when one of the automobiles spun out of control on the rain-slick highway and hit the other headon on Interstate 35 and Loop 340.

Farm Bureau To Open Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Farm Bureau Federation opens its 50th anniversary convention here Sunday with high hopes of being the belle of the Nixon administration's barnyard ball.

But so far the Farm Bureau has not gained the spotlight leaders have sought and has remained alone on the sidelines like a wallflower who used the wrong deodorant.

The Farm Bureau a year ago adopted a policy resolution calling for a phase—out of existing commodity programs specified by the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965 in favor of cropland retirement or some similar plan.

Though more than 40 members of the House and about 20 in the Senate have supported bills in Congress calling for "transitional programs" for wheat, feed grains and cotton, the Nixon administration has not given a helping hand officially.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin told Congress in September that "too rapid a rate of long-term land retirement would depopulate the rural areas" and recommended instead some alternatives which seem to add up to modifications of present programs.

Meantime, a so-called farm coalition of at least two dozen organizations, including the National Grange, National Farmers Union and the National Farmers Organization, has been drumming up congressional support for its own bill to improve and retain the present programs for major commodities.

Thus, the American Farm Bureau Federation stands alone among the big farm groups in asking the most drastic overhaul of government programs.

One of the major jobs confronting the 5,000 or more Farm Bureau members expected here this week will be to hammer out new national resolutions for 1970.

Whether the 1969 resolution calling for a farm program phase-out will be adopted again without an organizational fight may be open to question as delegates consider the limp hand extended them by the Nixon administration.

Another topic which could generate heat, but probably a more uniform type, is the International Grains Arrangement, the 1968 trade treaty which purported to set minimum prices for wheat in world trade.

The IGA has failed in this objective because of price-cutting by all major exporting countries, including the United States, in an effort to dispose of record stockpiles.

Farm Bureau opposed the IGA originally, claiming it would tax exporters, cut wheat export totals, decrease prices to farmers and weaken the U. S. export position.

Last year, delegates said "all this has happened" and urged the United States to withdraw from the agreement.

Charles B. Shuman, Farm Bureau president, is scheduled to present his annual address Monday morning and will be followed by Secretary Hardin.

Farm Bureau membership in 1969 totaled a record 1.85 million families, a gain of 50,000 from last year.

FTC Probes Enzymes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission wants to find out if housewives are encountering a health hazard through the prolonged use of detergents containing enzymes.

The FTC said Thursday it will investigate the effect on health of such detergents after citing studies showing that plant workers exposed to high concentrations of enzymes suffered illnesses such a dermatitis and asthmatic conditions.

The Proctor & Gamble Co., meantime, took issue with the commission's implication there is a health hazard connected with the use of enzyme detergents.

"There is no basis for such an implication," the firm said in a statement. "Exhaustive research and extensive use of enzyme detergents in million of homes have clearly shown that these products are perfectly safe for the consumer."

Two Big Issues On ICC Agenda

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Oil import controls and natural gas supply problems will be major discussion topics the next three days for petroleum conservationists from 33 states.

Five governors are expected to be among the 450 federal, state and industry officials participating in the annual meeting of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

The 34-year-old interstate agency holds no regulatory authority. It serves as a forum on oil and gas conservation matters and its recommendations may be accepted or rejected by the individual states.

There is indication the commission on Wednesday will issue its strongest plea in history for a stable import control program aimed at perpetuation of the nation's petroleum self-sufficiency.

A cabinet level task force that has been studying the Interior Department's mandatory oil import control program since June, is expected to submit its recommendations shortly to President Nixon. Opponents contend the controls are causing consumers to pay higher prices for petroleum products.

Most speculation has centered on the task force recommending retention of some form of controls but with substantial changes for the current system.

The oil compact said in June special treatments has led to preferential privileges under the current program. It asked the Presidential Task Force to restore the program's stability and integrity.

The June resolution said two world wars, the Korean Conflict, the Suez Crisis in 1956, the Arab-Israeli war of 1967, and the involvement in Vietnam have proved beyond question the vital importance of national petroleum self-sufficiency.

The conservationists also said the nation will be facing a critical gas supply shortage unless there is a sharp upward trend in explorations for new gas reserves. Last year's gas production exceeded additions to reserves the first time in history. The annual growth rate for natural gas demand the past 15 years has averaged about 5 per cent while the annual growth rate for new supply has averaged only 2 per cent.

Similar warnings by government and industry prompted the senate interior subcommittee on minerals to hold a Nov. 12-13 hearing on threatening gas supply shortages.

Linked with the Compact's June warning of a gas shortage was a plea for retention of the industry's full 27½ per cent depletion tax allowance. Since then, the House has called for a reduction to 20 per cent and the senate has called for 23 per cent.

The interstate agency contends adverse changes in the industry's existing tax structure could result in the premature abandonment of thousands of marginal producing wells and cause the permanent loss of billions of barrels of reserves. The nation has almost 300,000 wells that are considered economically marginal.

Gov. Robert B. Docking, D-Kan., is to submit his report as commission chairman at a Monday general session.

Other speakers will include Govs. Calvin L. Rampton, D-Utah, Preston Smith, D-Tex., Stanley K. Hathaway, R-Wyo., and Dewey F. Bartlett, R-Okla., and U. S. Senator Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, and Jack H. Abernathy, the National Petroleum Council chairman from Oklahoma City.

JFK's Estate Value Revealed

BOSTON (AP) — Former President John F. Kennedy's real and personal property was valued at $1,890,646.45 at the time of his death in 1963, an inventory on file at the Massachusetts Department of Corporations and Taxation shows.

The inventory, filed by the executor of the late president's estate, his brother, Sen. Edward M Kennedy, became available Thursday when Atty. Gen. Robert H. Quinn told Tax Commissioner Cleo F. Jaillet he could furnish copies to the press.

Quinn's opinion now opens all such inventories to the public.

Speed Reading Classes Set For Snyder Area

The famous Cutler Accelereading method of speed reading, created by Dr. Wade E. Cutler, who holds a doctorate in psychology, will be taught here in both day and evening classes.

This course has been approved for two Semester Hours Credit in the Snyder Public School District's Professional Growth Program.

A series of meetings has been scheduled for those in the Snyder area who desire to know how they too may learn to read with greater speed, power, and efficiency.

At these free one-hour orientations, full details about speed reading and the unique Cutler Accelereading Method will be given to those forward - looking persons attending.

Since there is no cost or obligation by attending, you owe it to yourself to attend the time most convenient for you.

Drop in and find out how you can make 1970 a more successful year.

All meetings are open to the public, and will be conducted as follows:

Thursday, December 4th. at 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Friday, December 5th. at 5:30 p.m.

Tuesday, December 9th. at 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Meetings will be held in the Community Room of Snyder Savings and Loan, 2605 Ave. S, Snyder, Texas.

The course boasts over 10,000 successful graduates due to its common sense approach to better and faster reading, and to its staff of professionally qualified master teachers.

This remarkable accelerated reading and study course is offered here exclusively by Accelerated Education Schools with locations in major cities in Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, and Oklahoma.

This professionally conducted course is guaranteed to increase reading speed from 200 words per minute with about 60 per cent comprehension - a rate inadequate to cope with today's reading demands in school, college, and business.

This widely acclaimed course guarantees its graduates will read at least 1,000 words per minute with a definite increase in comprehension.

Many graduates of the nine-week program far exceed the guarantee and complete with rates of 2,500 and more words per minute with far better comprehension.

Such achievement means that a person can read books of average length in 45 minutes or less, and understand, remember, and enjoy them better than ever.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A feather-stitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available
