Ginnings In County For 1938 Reach A Total Of 39,788 Prior To Jan. 16

Question of Whether Total Will Be 40,000

39,788 bales of cotton had been ginned in Dawson County prior to Jan. 16th from the 1938 crop, according to latest figures released this week from the Bureau of Census in Washington. This figure compares with 106,324 bales ginned the same date last year. Estimators who have placed the yield at 40,000 bales all through the year are reluctant to admit that the figure may be high and will not concede the fact that they are wrong until the final report is in. As will be seen, only 212 bales are lacking to bring the total to the 40,000 bale mark.

While it is true that practically all the cotton in the county has been gathered and ginned, still, two and possibly three gins in Lamesa, ginned some cotton last Saturday. So regardless of the outcome, it is still a good argument both ways, and time alone will tell who is right.

Football Stadium At McCollum Field Finished Last Week

Seating Capacity To Be Nearly 5,000

The concrete and steel stadium at McCollum Field was completed last week and accepted by the school board.

Rising in the air twenty-two feet at the back, this new structure will have a seating capacity of some 2500 adults. Convenient aisles with steps have been placed at regular intervals which will make it easy to enter or leave, without the necessity of climbing over some one else. Finished in a brilliant orange color, it is a most impressive structure.

In addition to the new stadium, the old seats on the north side of the field and the ones on the west end, which formerly occupied the space along the south side, will give a total seating capacity of between four and five thousand.

With Lamesa entering her second year of higher competition, and a new district where the opposing teams are located much nearer here, it is expected that the seating arrangement will be packed for many of the home games.

HURT'S STORE COMPLETELY REMODELED

Hurt's Haberdashery, men's store in Lamesa, this week completed the remodeling program begun early this month.

The tailor shop which was formerly located in the rear of the main building, has been moved up to the front of the north building. The shoe department, which occupied the north building, has been moved to the rear of the main building. A balcony across the rear houses the business offices as well as allowing a great deal of storage room. Several new fixtures were added and the entire interior rearranged and remodeled, adding greatly to the appearance of the store.

Scott Buildings Going Up Rapidly

Work is progressing nicely on the Grady Scott buildings on South Dallas street. The frame work is completed and the sheeting is being put on this week preparatory to the stucco finish which will be used on the buildings. They will be finished in white stucco, and the modernistic design will be carried out.

These buildings will have a frontage on Dallas street of fifty feet.

Auto Is Stolen In Broad Daylight Off Streets On Tuesday

Car Is Recovered In Chillicothe, Texas This Week

Last Friday afternoon, Ed Stafford, whose home is in Martin County, parked his car in front of the Dr. Price Clinic on South First street, and entered the clinic. He left the keys in the car, and almost immediately upon his entering the building, a man got in his car and sped away. He was immediately pursued, but managed to elude his pursuers and escaped.

Sheriff Buck Bennett immediately broadcast a description of the car, a 1938 Ford V-8, and this week he was notified that the car had been abandoned in Chillicothe, Texas, none the worse for the trip. The car was returned to Lamesa and turned over to Mr. Stafford.

At this time no trace has been found of the thief.

ELECTRIC CO. CELEBRATING ANNIVERSARY

This year marks the first anniversary of Mangum Electric Company in Lamesa. Mr. Mangum, owner and manager, has been in this line of work for the past 22 years and is thoroughly familiar with all the duties pertaining to the work.

He is authorized by all the leading manufacturers of magnetos to service their products, and adjustments on all types and makes of magnetos are made right here in Lamesa by him, without the necessity of having to go to the manufacturer for adjustment.

Besides magneto work, they have the latest equipment for tuning and checking the electrical mechanism of all makes of automobiles.

Your attention is called to their ad in this issue of the paper. They are located the first door east of the old Day and Night Garage.

Local Youths Jailed For Petty Theft

Three local youths were caught by the sheriff's department early Tuesday morning in possession of an automobile wheel and tire and a woolen blanket. It is reported that the tire and wheel were stolen from a car parked at the President's Birthday Ball, while the blanket was taken from a car parked at the Palace Theatre.

Owners of the tire and wheel recovered their property, but according to Sheriff Buck Bennett, no one has claimed the blanket as yet. He said that if the owner would come to the sheriff's office in the court house and identify the blanket, it would be turned over to them.

The youths were lodged in jail and released the following morning, it is understood, on probation, as this was their first attempt at breaking the law, with the warning that if they should be caught again, they would also be charged with these thefts.

MISSIONARY SPEAKS HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Announcement is made this week that an Indian missionary, who has devoted the major portion of his life in missionary work, will lecture at the Church of Christ in Lamesa, Friday night at 7 p. m. He is well educated and has some of the most thrilling experiences which he relates in his lecture. The public is invited to attend.

Miss Lelker of Carlsbad, N. M., has accepted a position with the Loveless and Bennett Hospital.

JUD WATSON IS LAMESA AGENT SOUTHWESTERN

JUD WATSON

Jud Watson, local agent for Southwestern Life Insurance Company, has been with this company since 1920, engaging in the insurance business at Bowie, Texas. He moved with his family to Lamesa in 1924 and has represented the company here since that time.

With the exception of one year, Mr. Watson has made the club with his company, since 1924. That is, he has sold $100,000 or better in insurance each year. In 1929 he made the $200,000 club with the company and won many signal honors. The year he failed to make the club was 1931 when he was seriously ill for practically the entire year.

The company today has more than $800,000 of insurance in force in Dawson County, and Mr. Watson is well on his way towards another record for 1939.

An increase in assets of $5,777,727, the largest in its thirty-six years' history, was made by Southwestern Life Insurance Company during 1938, according to C. F. O'Donnell, president. The company's annual financial statement has been received by Mr. Jud Watson, local representative, who announced the total assets are now $61,200,299.

PRESIDENT'S BALL BRINGS TOTAL OF $43

The President's Birthday Ball which was held in Lamesa last Monday night, made a clear profit of $43.00, according to those in charge. It is understood that a part of this money will be sent in to the national foundation, while the rest of it will be retained at home to be used to assist victims of infantile paralysis in Dawson County. Each year since this movement was started, Lamesa and Dawson County have cooperated very enthusiastically.

Millions of dollars from over the nation have been added to the fund this year through the Parade of Dimes. President Roosevelt issued an appeal to the people of the nation to send a dime to him to be used in this worthy cause, and at last reports millions of them had been received.

WARNING TO PARKERS ON TIME LIMIT

Motorists are this week warned by Chief of Police Jack Phinizy relative to the practice of double parking in the business section of Lamesa. As has been pointed out, beginning February 1st, this ordinance would be strictly enforced.

Under the rules of the ordinance a limit of five minutes has been placed on double parking and violators will be fined, according to city officials.

Chief Phinizy expressed much pleasure at the cooperation his department had received on the new ruling, and further stated that it was not the desire of the city to work a hardship or cause inconveniences to any one, but rather to make it more convenient for motorists who desire to park in the downtown area, and asks the cooperation of all in the move for better parking and driving facilities.

Mr. and Mrs. George Norman and children spent the week end visiting with friends and relatives at Paducah.

Enthusiasm In Farm Prize Program Grows As Opening Date For Contest Nears; $1,000 Will Be Given Winners

Sheriff Bennett Offers $25 Reward For Maize Thieves Several Tons Stolen From Burton Farm

Reports of maize stealing has reached the sheriff's office during the past week, according to Sheriff Buck Bennett.

On last Tuesday night a large truck backed up to a rick on the C. M. Burton farm southwest of Lamesa and loaded some two or three tons of maize with which they escaped.

Mr. Bennett issued a statement this morning urging farmers of the county to be on their guard for thieves of this sort, asking every cooperation from the farmers of the territory to assist the department to break up this thievery. Mr. Bennett posted a reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any one guilty of stealing maize, cotton, corn, or other feed stuff, or cattle and hog thefts, where the amount stolen amounts to $10 or more.

Work Progressing On School Project

Brick Work Complete Joist High On One

The brick work is going forward rapidly on the buildings for the Lamesa school system which are being constructed on the southeast corner of the school campus.

Two of the buildings are practically joist high. Door and window frames have been set. A large crew of men are working on the projects, which are expected to be completed in May of this year.

It is understood that there is one more building to be started under the present building program. When these buildings are completed and the with the completed football stadium, the Lamesa school board will have added in the neighborhood of $166,000 to its Lamesa plant. The money was made available through a bond issue voted in the district and a WPA grant.

Although conditions in the schools are very crowded this year, satisfactory progress is being made by the student body. The completion of these new buildings before the beginning of another school term will relieve the congestion, it is pointed out.

FARMERS BUSY GETTING LAND IN READINESS

Farmers of the territory are busily engaged in putting up land for the new crop year, following the abundance of moisture which fell here in January. Tractors have been placed in condition, many new ones purchased, mules and horses being pressed into service, and the start of the 1939 crop gets underway.

Although the exact figure on the number of acres which will be allowed to be planted to cotton in this county are not as yet definitely known, it is a fact that it will be slightly more for Dawson County than was allowed last year, according to County farm leaders. Some of the counties neighboring Dawson will not be allowed as much cotton in 1939 as in 1938, they said.

Prospects for the crop this year are the brightest they have been in many years, as old timers here fail to recall when there was a finer season at this time of the year.

Selection of Judges Be Announced Soon

The Farm Prize Program in Dawson County is getting underway in good shape, as plans are being made to make this one of the biggest things of its kind yet attempted in this section.

More than one hundred farmers have entered the contest, to compete for $1,000 in cash prizes to be awarded the winners. The money was raised among the business firms of Lamesa to try to promote better living and working conditions on the farms of this territory. An additional $1,000 will be awarded to winners in 1940 it is announced.

At time of going to press no definite announcement has been made by those in charge as to who the judges will be. It is understood that leaders of the movement are in contact with several distinguished men, from whom the judges will be selected. A tour of the competing farms will be made by these judges upon their acceptance and the competition will be actually under way.

Complete judging rules will be announced later, enabling competing farmers to know just what he has to do to participate in these cash awards.

Announcement is made this week that another big Farm Auction Sale will be held next Tuesday afternoon at 1 p. m.

The site of the sale will be on the farm of Marcus Porterfield, located on the ground formerly occupied by the Ballard school building. It is exactly five miles west of the Barron Service Station, located two miles south of Lamesa on the Stanton road.

FEBRUARY 15 LAST DAY FOR APPLICATIONS

February 15, is the last day for filing application for a cotton allotment for a farm on which cotton will be planted in 1939 for the first time, or since 1935, according to Joe M. Peterson, chairman of the Dawson County Agricultural Conservation Association. This announcement does not apply to farms on which cotton was planted in 1932.

The cotton allotment for farms planting cotton for the first time in 1939 will be made from a State Reserve, therefore must be applied for at the local office on or before the above date or a penalty on all the cotton produced on such farms will be in effect.

All community committeemen have been asked to assist any producer in their neighborhood with a "New Farm" get his application in on time.

PAVING MOVES FORWARD HERE

The paving program in Lamesa is moving forward with speed. The caliche base is being put down on South Austin this week and will be ready for topping within the next few days.

When this stretch of street is finished, there will be approximately eight blocks of city streets ready for topping with asphalt. According to the contractors in charge, the shooting of asphalt is better accomplished in warm weather and that the longer the asphalt base has a chance to season the better it will be, therefore, there has been no rush to shoot the final topping on the streets.

There are rumors that there are still many more blocks of paving which it is expected will get under way very soon. Beginning in the early fall there has been a steady paving program being conducted in the city and many additional blocks of finished streets have been added since that time.

EMPLOYMENT UP IN DECEMBER REPORT SHOWS

Industrial employment in Texas during December increased 3.3 per cent over November, and total payrolls increased 2.1 per cent, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported. As compared with December, 1937, however, the number of employees decreased 4.2 per cent and payrolls were down 3.4 per cent. The decline from December, 1937, was considerably less than in preceding months, the report said.

In retail distribution, the number of employees increased from 176,566, with total average weekly payrolls of $3,038,000 in November to 212,090 with average weekly payrolls of $3,461,000 in December. These figures compared with 212,217 persons employed in December a year ago and a total average weekly payroll of $3,526,000.

The estimated total number of workers engaged in manufacturing in December was 113,710, virtually the same as the 113,290 during the preceding month but substantially below the 120,930 workers during December 1937. Total weekly payrolls in the manufacturing industries in December were $2,539,000, compared with $2,506,060 the month before, and $2,621,000 in December, 1937.

STUDENTS PUT APPROVAL ON DEFENSE PLANS

College students of America thoroughly approve President Roosevelt's plan to put wings on 20,000 collegiates as part of his $500,000,000 national defense program, the current poll of Student Opinion Surveys revealed this week.

Results from 82 colleges, measured from the University of Texas, showed that only three out of every ten college students opposed the program which would spend $10,000,000 for training young aviators at aerially-strategic campuses over the nation.

As a trial balloon, aviation would become a vital part of the training for 300 volunteers in the universities of Washington, Minnesota, and at Purdue University, Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, Georgia School of Technology and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. If successful, the program would be expanded to include other colleges and universities, it was pointed out.

The course would provide six months training in solo and dual flying calculated to build a reserve of 100,000 American pilots with fifty or more flying hours, the surveys stated.

Collegians voted 71.8 to 28.2 per cent to "approve President Roosevelt's plan to train an air corps reserve of 20,000 men now in college."

In an earlier poll, the college students voted 62 per cent to 33 per cent in favor of the President's huge rearmament program.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARY HAS SLOW GROWTH

During the last five years the University of Texas library has grown only 19 per cent, compared to gains of 36 per cent and 41 per cent in the libraries of its nearest competitors in the South, Donald Coney Librarian, revealed this week.

Despite this low rate of expansion, the University library still tops the Southern field by a bare margin.

The University's collection, fourteenth nationally in the large university field, counts 564,000 volumes, but is only 6 per cent larger than that of Duke University, its nearest Southern competitor in point of size. Duke has increased its book holdings, 36 per cent in the last five years.

The University of North Carolina, in third place with 360,000 volumes, is considerably behind the two leaders, but showed a 41 per cent gain over 1934, Mr. Coney said.

Other Southern universities in the order of their size, are Virginia, 304,000; Kentucky, 233,000; Tulane, 229,000; Louisiana State, 218,000; Oklahoma, 192,000; Emory, 159,000; Arkansas, 151,000; Florida, 141,000; Rice, 140,000; Maryland, 119,000; Mississippi, 65,000.

NYA WORKERS BUILD SCHOOL

Austin, Jan. 31.—"And all de swords and cannons gonna be beat down into plows", the colored deacon paraphrased in concluding his dedication of the new Slaughter Ward School for Negroes at Ranger, Texas, rebuilt from a night club under a National Youth Administration Work Project.

For years, Mayor Hall Walker, Dr. Ben Hodges, School Board President, J. C. Meroney, School Building Chairman, and the town people of Ranger had been searching for means to replace an inadequate Negro school. Adjoining one of the ward schools was City Nuisance Number One—a roadside tavern, right in front of the school bus stop.

Thirty NYA boys went to work. Under the supervision of a skilled carpenter, the roof was repaired and repainted, windows reframed, a concrete porch built. New paint covered the gaudy exterior. Flooring was replaced, a stage and dressing rooms recamped, and a library built. Modern sanitary facilities were installed—the first for Negro children in the community. Today, school officials estimate the value of the new plant at $5,000.

"I know of no other project which more clearly illustrates the services offered to communities by the NYA," Mayor Walker told J. C. Kellam, State Youth Director, on a recent visit to the project. "These boys learned to use their minds as well as their hands. In converting this building they have been afforded a lesson in the utilization of existing opportunities and they have truly learned while they earned."

EL PASO — Forty NYA workers at the Washington Park Woodworking Shop in El Paso are completing construction of furniture for the museum of the Texas College of Mines and Metallurgy. Youths have also helped build ten sets of hurdles for the College athletic field.

BAPTIST CHURCHES TAKE NOTICE

Our "Workers Meeting" convenes on the 9th of this month and our Association Board meets on the same day; and our Associational minutes are off the press and ready for delivery, and are to be paid for at once. Let all churches who have not as yet sent in their money for this matter, please do so at once and send it to Brother Taylor or bring it to the meeting above mentioned.

Then again, our Association is behind with our District Mission finances. Let's take care of this matter and be able to report our association as being up in this matter by the time the District Board meets on the 14th of this month. Do this without fail.

Yours truly,
R. R. Cumbie, Moderator.

Dr. Cox Says:

Austin, Texas, Jan. 24 — "A public health axiom, often proved, states that 'public health is purchasable and within natural limitations any community can determine its own death rate.' To no other serious communicable disease can we apply this axiom with more dramatic results than syphilis," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

In the first place no more serious disease is as widespread as syphilis. Annually we have twice as many cases of syphilis as tuberculosis, 13 times diphtheria, 20 times typhoid and 50 times infantile paralysis. Secondly the attack of syphilis is devastating. It is a killer and no part of the body is immune. Syphilis cuts off life in early adulthood at man's greatest period of productivity. Annually in America syphilis steals one million years of life from the normal life span of its victims, but before it kills, syphilis seriously wounds and tortures, bringing blindness, deafness, chronic illness, crippled minds and bodies to those it selects.

Approximately fifty million dollars in taxes are spent each year for the support of eleemosynary institutions of those blind and insane from syphilis. Fifteen per cent of all blindness and 12 per cent of all insanity are attributable to syphilis. A small portion of this considerable tax money spent annually for education and disease prevention would more than pay for itself through money saved in future years. This economie argument is less important when we consider that by the same efforts we simultaneously reduce the appalling total of misery and death resulting from syphilis.

"Public health is purchasable." Apply this to the syphilis problem. If we would appropriate adequate funds for syphilis control we would save not only the tax bill for institutional care but we would also save 168 million dollars in wages now lost to American male workers each year because of illness attributable to syphilis and other venereal diseases.

Funds for education and for finding and treating cases of syphilis are an insurance for future health security. Educating the public to the danger of syphilis and helping them to guard against it means fewer infections and exposures to syphilis.

Individual and family health depend upon public health at large and as can be proved public health can be purchased. Its cost is never too high. Whatever public health may cost per capita outlay dwarfs to insignificance when compared to the tremendous cost of supporting eleemosynary and correctional institutions, indigency caused by disease, misery and ill health.

Mrs. Beeman Fisher of Ft. Worth spent the week here visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Smart.

Miss Ruth Gravey who has been employed at the Loveless and Bennett Hospital, left Sunday for Corsicana, where she will be employed with the I. O. O. F. Orphans Home.

S.C.S. NOTES

In our search for a satisfactory means of protecting trees from rabbit damage, a new, simple and inexpensive means of protecting trees has been found. A cooperater on the Clovis project wrapped trees with newspaper in 1937 and found the method very successful. Mr. Bunger has tried the plan on some of the trees planted this spring and reports it successful so far.
The trees are wrapped from the ground up about 12 or 14 inches. Each paper is large enough to go around the tree two or three times, and is tied top and bottom with heavy cord. The paper lasts quite well according to Bunger's report, that used in 1937 being still effective but should be replaced before another season.
This is a plan that is readily available to farmers at no cash outlay. Labor is the only expense involved. It should appeal to cooperators and others interested.
Each project and camp where protection from rabbits is needed should try out the plan. Specially prepared paper can be purchased for this purpose. The special paper is put up in rolls to be wrapped around the tree in a spiral form.
It should be of special interest in the areas where the "wire baskets" have been objectionable because of accumulating weeds and blow soil.

An Erosion Man's Wife

It's easy to talk of the patience of Job, Humph; Job had nothing to try him; If he'd been married to my old man Folks wouldn't have dared go nigh him Trials indeed; Now I'll tell you what If you went to get sick of your life, Just come and change places with me for a spell.
For I'm an Erosion Man's wife.

And such a life; I never know When we've been asked out to eat That he won't build dams all over the place.
Or discuss a new way to save wheat. Oh, man! the time he up and forgot And never got home till to-late. And me that embarrassed with company of his Eating with his empty plate.
I'm thru making dams, and waiting in vain To take in some elegant tea. For what with meeting and field work and such It's sure he has no time for me. Why, didn't he get up one stormy night With water spouts shooting around. An' driving like mad to some phony creek. It's a wonder that he wasn't drowned.

Law; That doesn't worry him none; not a bit. He's the aggravatingest man. He'll sit on the edge of some muddy bank And whistle and think and plan. Thinking up some way to keep all the dirt. From washing from some farmer's far. That doesn't give a hang whether he does it or not And who watches from the back of his barn.
But then I can see it can't be so bad When farmers are signing up fast Maybe they're learning its not such a fake. And work can be done that will last. So maybe if 'tis doing some good that he is, I should help along with his plan. Or maybe somebody could help me find A good substitute for a man.
—Pullman, Washington, Erosion Bulletin.

CARS SMASHED

In an auto accident at the corner of South Fourth and Houston Streets, during the noon hour today, one car was practically demolished while the other suffered some damage. The worst damage was to the car belonging to J. D. Dyer, driven by Joe Batson, who works for the Dyer Hardware and Auto Supply Store. Young Mr. Batson received a blow on the head, which, while painful, was not serious. No one else was hurt.

TEXAS FARMERS RECEIVE $42,000,000 IN AAA MONEY

More than 300,000 Texas farmers and ranchmen, who adopted the AAA's Agricultural Conservation program in 1938 will receive approximately $42,000,000 in conservation payments, to be distributed for the most part in January, February and March of 1939 according to current AAA estimates.

George Slaughter, Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee chairman, said computation of payments is in full swing at AAA headquarters here and that checks will start going to producers about January 19.

He urged those eligible for payment to send in their applications for grant as early as possible, explaining that the state office cannot begin distribution of checks to a given county until at least 25 per cent of that county's applications for payment have been received.

Total 1938 payments will exceed the aggregate of 1937 checks by about $9,000,000; and the bulk of conservation grants will be issued considerably earlier this year, Slaughter predicted.

The money will go to cotton, wheat and peanut farmers who substituted soil conserving crops for some of their soil depleting (cash) crops, and for carrying out other soil-building practices, and to ranchmen who have sought to improve and protect grazing land according to AAA range program specification.

Slaughter represented these payments as "at least a step toward equalization of burdens imposed upon the man behind the plow by tariffs and freight rate differentials."

FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

Most ingenious small device heard of recently is the miniature "pants presser," a gadget which insures perfectly pressed pants for the man who likes good grooming even though he spends his time traveling and tailor shops are not always available.

The presser consists of a double blade, shaped something like a cleaver, and a six-foot cord to be plugged into a light socket. The blades are allowed to heat, the trousers are hung up by the cuffs, and the heated cleaver is run down the pants legs to make a sharply defined crease.

Sounds like something any bachelor would appreciate, especially the ones who like to cut down on tailor bills. Nor would the average man be averse to such a clever economy-quirk.

The gadget sells for less than two dollars.

For the bachelor girl who likes her morning coffee with dispatch and without fuss, there's a new little aluminum coffee-maker which fits snugly upon the top of a teacup and makes one cup of coffee at a time by the drip method.

The miniature dripiator has a handle, is light and is delightfully inexpensive. It's a must—for the live-aloner who likes her coffee.

This thing of making collections is reaching an ultimate high in something or other. Dallas has a high school freshman girl who collects eyelashes—real ones—from her friends.

Each single eyelash is tagged and put away in a scrapbook under a bit of cellophane.

Worse, much worse, than the collection of slightly off-rhythm verses which grandmother assembled in her day.

But there's one virtue which oldsters must admit that youngsters these days have—that is originality.

We never knew that that delight of childhood, peanut butter, lived such a useful existence until we received an advertising sheet recently containing 29 different recipes for using the tasty substance.

The recipes ranged from quick peanut butter frosting to peanut butter blanc mange—and not a sandwich in the group.

Dr. Cox Says:

Austin, Jan. 31 — Smallpox can be eliminated as a cause of illness and death if every person would be vaccinated against this disease at least every five years, declared Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. There were over 600 cases of smallpox reported to the State Health Department in 1938.

Smallpox occurs most frequently among young children under 14 years of age. The incubation period averages from 8 to 14 days, and the disease begins suddenly with a severe headache and a high fever. The severe headache and the intense pains in the loins, back and extremities are more characteristic of smallpox than of any other disease occurring in temperate climates. At the end of 3 or 4 days of these preliminary symptoms, an eruption appears which, within a few hours, becomes distinctly raised above the general level of the skin. With the appearance of the eruption the fever subsides and the patient becomes more comfortable. In contradistinction to chickenpox, the eruption does not occur in crops, but goes through its development in a characteristic fashion nearly simultaneously all over the body.

Every community is in a position to determine the amount of smallpox it wishes to have. Vaccination against the disease is economical, safe, and sure and brings complete protection. Smallpox stands as one disease which science has brought completely within human control, and the State Health Department's advice is to be vaccinated immediately if you have not been vaccinated within the last five years.

S.C.S. NOTES

Moisture in the ground at planting time usually means more crops on the field at harvest time, according to P. C. Bennett, manager of the Soil Conservation Service project at Vega.

Records kept on the project in 1937 and 1938 reveal that the depth of moisture at planting time had a direct bearing on the yield of wheat. On fields having moisture to a depth of 18 to 24 inches at seeding time, 55 per cent of the crops were a failure, and only 3.3 per cent produced from 10 to 15 bushels of wheat to the acre. In contrast, only 34 per cent of the fields having moist soil to a depth of 24 to 36 inches at planting time failed to produce a crop, while 12.5 per cent made 10 to 15 bushels to the acre, and 44 per cent produced more than 15 bushels to the acre.

Increased moisture penetration, the project manager points out, is being obtained by the use of terraces and contour tillage designed to hold practically all the water on the land where it falls.

After the heavy rains last October, terraced fields on the project showed 72 per cent greater moisture penetration than did unterraced fields in and near the demonstration area. Seventy-one terraced fields on the project had an average moisture depth of 31 inches while the penetration on 27 unterraced fields averaged only 18 inches.

The increase in soil moisture, the project manager points out, is due in part to the greater rainfall for the year, which included 42 inches in October. The heaviest January rains in many years have added to the stored moisture. Conservation practices being used in the demonstration area also have contributed materially to the amount of moisture now stored in the soil.

As a result of these improved conditions, good crops are expected and the area which may be affected by blowing this winter and spring has been greatly reduced, the project manager believes.

The need for soil and water conservation was definitely established in the mind of R. B. McMurry when he acquired a 440-acre farm two miles southwest of Memphis in 1926. One of his first acts was to construct graded terraces.

These structures served the purpose of checking the flow of water along the slopes and permitted more of the available moisture to soak into the soil. Years slipped by. Drought came and with it—wind erosion. In 1933, the Soil Conservation CCC camp was established at Memphis to demonstrate conservation practices suited to conditions in the semi-arid plains. Included was the use of level, wide-based terraces with closed ends, designed to hold practically all the water on the land where it falls.

McMurry became interested in the conservation practices being demonstrated. He observed that farms where complete erosion control programs were in effect were losing less soil and producing better crops than did his land where gullying threatened to become serious. In February, 1933, McMurry adopted a complete program of erosion control on his farm.

In the spring, the old graded terraces were leveled and replaced by structures capable of holding most of the water on the land. Sudan grass was broadcast on the newly-constructed terraces and also in the end closures. Border strips from 20 to 40 feet in width around each field also were planted to Sudan for the dual purpose of checking soil movement and to provide supplemental pasture. A portion of the field adjacent to the farmstead likewise was planted in rows of sudan for the same purpose. This was enclosed by a temporary fence to permit grazing by livestock.

A rotation strip-crop system of planting then was put into effect, cotton and maize being planted in alternate terrace intervals in strips of about 40 rows each.

The crops were planted in May, and rainfall from March to September totaled 14 inches with only 1.2 inches falling after June. Despite this lack of seasonal rainfall, McMurry produced a third of a bale of cotton and 1,400 pounds of headed maize to the acre. These yields were about 20 per cent more than those from nearby unterraced fields, McMurry reports.

The maize was hand headed and the stalks were left on the field to provide protection against soil blowing during the winter and spring. This residue will be turned into the soil next spring when the grain sorghum and cotton strips will be reversed in carrying out a crop rotation program.

A herd of 24 yearlings is being carried on the McMurry farm in connection with the diversified program. The cattle were allowed to graze the supplemental Sudan pasture. However, this grazing was restricted to the extent that sufficient cover was retained to provide protection against soil blowing.

The livestock now are on dry-lot feed consisting of ground maize and sorghums produced on the farm, and cottonseed meal. This plan of marketing his feed crop through livestock will provide a greater return McMurry believes.

"Cattle feeding is a new undertaking for me, but permits me to better utilize the feed crops grown in rotation strip cropping with cotton," he says. "Cotton provides a cash crop, and the grain sorghums check erosion. I intend to make cattle feeding a permanent practice, and also to continue the conservation methods now being used."

"I am confident that the stubble on my fields will provide ample protection against soil blowing this winter, and the control of water through terracing and contour farming has checked gullies which were cutting into my field."

METHODISTS TO HOLD MEETING OF EXECUTIVES

All district officers of the Methodist church are urged to be present at an executive meeting to be held in Lubbock Saturday of this week. Progress reports on district work will be heard at this time. Also, plans made for the district conference, which meets in Crosbyton, March 31 and April 1. The conference theme this year is "Parental Quest" and will be formed around the problems of the local Parent-Teachers organizations. Mrs. W. R. Weaver, District President, states:

"We are trying to make this program outstanding in its service to the local communities. Foremost educators will be asked to participate on this program."

(Continued from Front Page) ment shows that the Southwestern invested heavily during 1938 in United States government bonds and in bonds of Texas cities and counties. The increase in these items accounts for the greater part of the gain in assets.

With more than $29,000,000 now invested in bonds, Mr. Watson said that company had continued its record of never having had a default of either interest or principal on any bond. "The Company's bonds are worth at current market prices $2,226,519 more than their book value," he said.

During 1938 the Company gained insurance of $19,564,935, bringing the total to $342,617,326. "Southwestern Life is now the second largest company in the South writing ordinary insurance only," Mr. Watson said. "Measured by amount of capital, it is fifth in size in the United States."

"The substantial growth of the home insurance companies of Texas is significant in the light of remarks recently made by Chairman William O. Douglas of the Securities and Exchange Commission during his recent visit to Texas. He advised Texas investors to put their money in home enterprises. 'There is no reason,' said Mr. Douglas, 'why the high financial structure of the nation, now centering in the East, should not be decentralized, stopping the siphoning of income from producing regions to New York.'

"Texas life insurance companies are making a substantial contribution toward the financial independence of Texas."

JOE MEDLIN IS REMOVED FROM HOSPITAL HOME

Joe Medlin, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident in Lamesa before Christmas, was taken home from a local hospital last week. He is recovering nicely and it is thought that he will be able to be out of bed within the next few weeks.

Treat Promised Music Lovers Monday Night When Parent-Teachers Present Musical Art Program At High School

The second of a series of musical arts programs will be presented in the high school auditorium next Monday night, February 6, when the local Parent-Teachers Association presents Miss Alice Mock, coloratura soprano, with Shibley Boyes, pianist.

This program promises to be one of the best of the season. Miss Mock was formerly with the Chicago Civic Opera, is an important radio star, and she has been featured in many recent screen productions. Miss Mock and Miss Boyes were recently seen and heard to an excellent advantage in the ball room scene of the picture, "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse," this picture being shown in Lamesa a few weeks ago.

When Edgar A. Guest, America's popular poet, was asked by his radio sponsors who he would like as soloist on his NBC program, Mr. Guest unhesitatingly replied, "Alice Mock, of course." And so for three solid years, "Alice and Eddie" were co-starred on one of the most popular programs to originate in the Chicago NBS studios. Mr. Guest gave as his reason for choosing Miss Mock the heart-felt quality in her voice which blended so perfectly with his "hopespun" verse. Truly, Alice Mock's voice does possess a heart-felt warmth possessed by no other artist today.

In order that as many people as possible may take advantage of this splendid program, the Parent Teachers Association is designating this "Guest Night." Each person holding a season ticket to the programs may bring one adult guest on the ticket without additional cost. Season tickets for the remaining four programs will be on sale until the beginning of the Monday night program.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Walter Smith and son spent the week end at San Angelo visiting with relatives and friends.

FORMER LAMESA BOY WINS BASKETBALL TROPHY

Young People Of Methodist Church To Have Charge Of Evening Services In February

February has been set for the beginning of a four year, youth emphasis movement in the Southern Methodist church. It will be known as the Youth Crusade. The purpose and aim of this movement is to challenge the youth of the church to a courageous advance in the name of Christ. Youth rallies will be held in every district of the church during February. Ours comes the 24th at Lubbock. We are expecting a thousand young people, between the ages of 13 and 23, to be present. We have set our goal for fifty from our church.

We asked for the evening services for February and our pastor gladly consented. We will have charge of the program for each Sunday evening, the pastor bringing the sermon. His list of sermon subjects are

Feb. 5th, "Tumbleweeds."
Feb. 12th, "Bull Nettles."

Feb. 19th, "Sap Oaks."
Feb. 26th, "Cedars."

In addition to the sermon, there will be lots of music, congregation, vocal and instrumental. Every young person in the town, not otherwise engaged, have a special invitation to join us in this movement. You will find a warm welcome and a good time.

We will dedicate ourselves to this task, at a Holy Communion service next Sunday morning. It is expected that every young person of our church and others who care to, will have a part in this service. Let us start off with a bang.

BORDEN COUNTY TO HOLD SHOW FEBRUARY 25

Information concerning Borden county Boy's Livestock Show and Farmers and Ranchers Agricultural Field Day to be held at Gall on Saturday, February 25, 1939.

This Agricultural Field Day will be the first of its kind since the coming of Extension Work in the county in 1933, and will be the first county-wide gathering of old timers and residents of the county since 1927.

The major point of interest will center around Boys' Livestock Feeding Projects, but an interesting program is being worked out for the entire day.

Livestock Commission firms and others are cooperating in a demonstration involving "Market Classification" of beef cattle.

Cash prizes have been reserved for the Boys Show, but ribbons will be given to winning exhibits shown by adults in several open classes.

The Boys' Show premiums are the result of funds made through the sale of Extension Service Game Association signs, made and sold by Borden 4-H club boys under the direction of E. B. McLeroy, County Agent.

One of the major points of interest to Borden County ranchers and others of the area, will be an open class of herd bulls. Competent judges will make the placings in all classes.

Ralph Howe, first county agent of Borden county, will come from Crosbyton, where he is now agent, to judge the beef calves, sheep and hogs in the Boys' Show.

The Field Day and Boys' Show has been planned whereby participants in the boys' division may go direct to Big Spring on the following week to take part in a boys' show there.

An exhibit of range plants will be of special interest to ranchers of the area. Further details will be furnished in the near future as plans for the various items are completed.

Miss Jewell Lightfoot, who has been visiting in Wichita Falls for the past month, returned to her home here in Lamesa, Friday.

STOP Coughing and Stop It NOW

Enjoy A Good Night's Rest
BUCKETT'S MIXTURE certainly makes short work of relieving those stubborn old hang-on coughs and colds that other cough remedies fail to bridge, according to Mr. E. A. Allen says: "For years I suffered every winter with a terrible cough. I have had many sleepless nights and coughed until I was hoarse, and my stomach ached. I started again with the same old cough this year—but after a few doses of BUCKETT'S MIXTURE my cough was gone." You can't go wrong on BUCKETT'S—by far the largest-selling cough medicine in all cold Canada. One or two doses and stubborn tough hang-on coughs are often on their way. And it's only a few cents at druggists everywhere. Money back if not satisfied.

There is real economy, to say nothing of the wonderful convenience of this finer heating and cooking system for rural homes. You can enjoy all the convenience of having your own gas plant, which is equal in efficiency to any natural gas used today. The installation cost is small in comparison to what you get.

Of course there is plenty of blustery weather ahead when you'll want your home to be comfortable and warm — to say nothing of having this wonderful fuel available for cooking, operation of an automatic hot water heater, and many other uses

We will be glad to give you an estimate as to the cost of a plant specially suited to your individual requirements. There is no obligation on your part — a phone call will bring a salesman to your home, who will give complete details to you.

MAGIC CHEF AND ROPER RANGES

We carry a complete stock of the famous ranges for both Butane and natural gas. See them at our show-rooms. We also stock a complete showing of gas appliances, including hot water heaters, gas heaters, etc.
