ZAMORA GIVES UP PLACE IN REPUBLIC

DECISION WILL NOT BE RECONSIDERED, EXECUTIVE SAYS

(By The Associated Press)

MADRID, Oct. 14. — Niceto Alcala Zamora resigned today as president of the Spanish republic, six months to the day after he was first provisionally elected to that office.

The president offered his resignation once before recently but withdrew it when members of his cabinet persuaded him to remain in office. This time, however, he said it would be impossible to reconsider his decision.

SPAIN REPUDIATES CATHOLIC RELIGION

MADRID, Oct. 14. (AP)—Repudiation of catholicism as the state religion of Spain was followed today by the incorporation of an article in the new constitution which threatens church orders with extinction.

The national assembly, after a stormy 15-hour session, adopted by a vote of 259 to 178 a compromise amendment to article 24 providing for the dissolution of those orders recognizing a higher authority than the state and those considered dangerous to the state. It also stipulates that property may be nationalized where it is deemed beneficial.

Fist Fights Follow

The vote was preceded by a long drawn-out debate in which Catholic deputies proposed 20 other amendments one by one in order to defend the interests of the church and was followed by an outbreak of fist-fighting between Catholics and socialists on the chamber floor.

Article 26 providing for the immediate dissolution of all church orders and the nationalization of their property previously was rejected 184 to 36. It was sponsored by the radical socialists and opposed

THOMAS AMLIE IS ELECTED

ANTI-HOOVER MAN IS WINNER TO GIVE GOP MAJORITY

(By The Associated Press)

RACINE, Wis., Oct. 14.—An anti-Hoover progressive Republican, Thomas R. Amlie, was elected by first Wisconsin district voters yesterday to fill the unexpired term of the late representative Henry Allen Cooper, "dean of the house."

With all but two of the 200 precincts reporting, unofficial returns gave Amlie 14,295 votes. His closest rival, A. J. Bouma, Racine, upset political forecasts to get 7,241 ballots, the largest number ever given a socialist candidate in the normally conservative Republican district.

Amlie, supported by the progressive Republicans, Gov. Philip F. La Follette, his brother, Senator Robert M. La Follette, and Senator John J. Blaine, in his campaign, made attacks against the 18th amendment, the Republican tariff and the administration's handling of the unemployment problem.

Amlie's election gave the Republicans unofficially 215 members in congress to 214 Democrats, one Farmer-Labor and five seats yet to be filled.

AUSTIN, Oct. 14 (AP)—District Judge J. B. Price of Bastrop was exonerated yesterday of negligence charges contained in articles of impeachment sent to the senate by the house for trial.

NO VERDICT IS REACHED FOR YARBERRY

JURY IS HOPELESSLY DEADLOCKED TODAY IN MURDER CASE

(By The Associated Press)

SINTON, Oct. 14—The jury deliberating the case of Newton Yarberry, on trial for the alleged murder of Dorothy Dorcas Symons, 18-year-old choir singer, informed Judge T. M. Cox today it was hopelessly deadlocked.

The foreman said the jury, after over 20 hours consideration of evidence, was deadlocked in a vote of eleven to one.

Judge Cox ordered the jury to return and continue its study of the case.

The state constructed a case against Yarberry based purely on circumstantial evidence. Witnesses claimed Yarberry was the last person seen with the girl the night of July 30 when she was last seen alive.

Other prosecution evidence tended to show footprints on the Aransas Pass beach, near where her body was recovered Aug. 1, compared in size with the defendant's shoes.

Defense testimony denied every material allegation made by the state. Yarberry claimed he was at home the night of Dorothy's disappearance.

Yarberry remained in a cell atop the county court house last night, one floor above the room where the jurymen slept.

SLASH IN COTTON RATES IS SOUGHT

AUSTIN, Oct. 14 (AP)—Texas railroads went before the state railroad commission today with an application proposing reduction in rates for transporting cotton to Texas ports.

The rail lines were asking the reduction to meet competition of motor trucks. The new figures would be the same as those charged by trucks for carting cotton over the highways to seaports.

The new rates would apply to baled cotton in any quantity. Rates on compressed cotton would be the prevailing general truck rates (rates now being assessed by trucks) from origin in Houston, such rates to be applied to Houston, Galveston and Texas City for domestic delivery. No transit privileges would be allowed in the interior or at the destination and no allowances of any character would be absorbed.

Colleges Asked To Play Charity Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP)—Owen D. Young, member of the president's committee on unemployment relief, today asked every college and school to play at least one football game for charity.

In a special call from the committee on mobilization of relief sources, of which he is chairman, Mr. Young urged that colleges unable to set a fall game aside for relief funds, should try to play a post season game.

Mr. Young asked that gross receipts, less actual expenses, be turned over to locally appointed relief committees, cooperating with the national and state organizations.

Torrential rains, accompanied by high winds, swept western and central Japan yesterday, leaving floods and devastation in their wake in many districts. In the Tokyo-Yokohama district a slight earthquake occurred at the height of the storm, adding to the anxiety of the populace.

SCRIVENOR IS RETURNED

GANGSTER DENIES HE MURDERED JONES AND HIS WIFE

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 14—W. S. "Shilo" Scrivenor, who police say has boasted he doesn't "use a gun," returned to Houston today in the custody of officers and disclaimed responsibility for the murders of C. A. "Keggy" Jones and his wife.

Scrivenor, who was captured in a Des Moines, Iowa, hotel after his companion, Del McCabe, was killed as he "shot it out" with a detective, was brought back to Houston by Sheriff T. A. Binford and Police Chief P. F. Heard.

Reporters asked if he would pose for a picture.

"Why not?" Scrivenor queried. "I don't look presentable but I guess that doesn't matter." The flashlight boomed. "I haven't shaved in six days," he remarked apologetically. He protested he was innocent of the Jones killings.

Houston police claimed to have obtained confessions from Jack Jones, brother of Keggy, and Barney McGanegal, naming Scrivenor, McCabe and Mrs. John Cherris as the trio they saw flee from the Houston apartment where Keggy Jones and his wife were slain. The officers said Jack Jones and McGanegal intimated dissension had arisen in the "gang" over division of $27,000 obtained in a Memphis, Tenn., bank robbery last May. They said the two men admitted they assisted Keggy Jones in the slaying of John Cherris, and that Keggy Jones and his wife were killed by other gang members in reprisal for the Cherris death.

CAPONE OPENS HIS DEFENSE

JURY IS TOLD GANG CHIEF POOR JUDGE OF RACE HORSES

(By The Associated Press)

FEDERAL BUILDING, Chicago, Oct. 14 — Alphonse Capone today opened his fight for acquittal on charges of evading income taxes with an account of his gambling losses.

The husky gang leader is a poor judge of race horses, the jury in United States circuit court was told today. "He won some bets, but not very many," Milton Held, a bookmaker testified.

Held, although he had no records to prove it and could remember no individual transactions, estimated Capone lost between $8,000 and $10,000 during the summer meeting at the Hawthorne race track in 1924 and about $12,000 in the fall of 1925 at the same track.

"Al would make bets ranging from $200 to $500 on a race," Held testified, "and he bet on four or five races a day. He usually paid his losses with $100 bills, but sometimes he gave me a $500 bill."

Held admitted under cross examination that his bookmaking was in violation of the law and said he had followed the business for 20 years or more. He said he made only about $2,000 at the track in 1924, "and about that much more at my office down town."

Oscar Gutter, a hunchback bookie who described himself as a "commission broker who handled sporting events, mostly horses," said Capone lost about $60,000 betting on races at the various tracks near Chicago in 1927.

EARL EARP SAYS LEGION'S STAND ON PROHIBITION LAWS MISREPRESENTED

LAMESA, Oct. 14 (Special)—The press of the nation misrepresented the American Legion's stand on the prohibition question in national convention at Detroit, Earl Earp, Texas commander, of Sweetwater, said Tuesday evening at installation of new officers of Allen Houston post of Lamesa.

The Legion did not vote in favor of repeal or light wines and beer, but did ask for a referendum, Earp said. Earp led the Texas vote in convention for continuance of prohibition.

Describing the United States as the least prepared, for war, of all nations, the Texas commander attributed the loss of thousands of lives and millions of dollars in the World war to the condition. He quoted figures to show that the legion was seeking money from the United States government only to aid in relieving unemployment. The Legion's work for the unemployed this year was greater than that of any other American organization, Earp asserted.

Louis B. Reed, Lamesa attorney, was installed as new commander of the post here. H. Richardson is retiring commander.

Earp spoke after an airplane trip from Oklahoma City to Sweetwater and an automobile dash over muddy roads from Sweetwater to Lamesa in a single day.

Governorship At Stake In Battle On Huey P. Long

PAUL CYR SEEKING TO OUST GOVERNOR OF LOUISIANA TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 14—Surrounded by state highway policemen, Huey P. Long held the governor's fort today against the challenge of Paul N. Cyr, his lieutenant-governor who has moved to unseat Long on the contention he is a United States senator.

All night a score of state policemen stood guard around the capitol and the governor's mansion to thwart any attempt by Cyr to take over the state government.

Each Camp Silent

Each camp was silent today. Senator Alvin O. King, president pro tempore of the senate, was due here at noon to take the oath as lieutenant-governor, which both Long and Cyr agreed is now vacant.

Cyr retired to his home in Jeanerette last night and from there prepared his line of attack to seize the governorship. He said he would await an answer from Long on his formal demand to peacefully vacate the governorship and if he refused he would file an ouster suit against him in the court at Shreveport, where yesterday Cyr took the governor's oath.

The present encounter between the political and personal rivals, will be fought without quarter and probably will extend over several months. If Cyr is to accomplish his purpose he must do it before next May when Long automatically retires as governor and goes to the United States senate.

Each has rallied his friends and politically the state was split. These two public officials have fought many skirmishes since the Long impeachment proceedings back in the spring of 1929, but this represents the second major engagement, the first being when Cyr led the forces seeking to convict Long on the impeachment charges voted by the house.

(By The Associated Press)

SNOW HILL, Md., Oct. 14—Orphan Jones, 60-year-old negro, confessed slayer of a Taylorsville family of four, was held at Baltimore today for safekeeping as State's Attorney Godfrey Child marshalled his case against the farm hand for presentation to the grand jury Monday.

There had been no demonstration against the negro but authorities deemed it best to remove him.

Jones' confession was obtained late yesterday after 16 hours of grilling. Police said he admitted robbery was his motive when he slew Green Davis, 55, his 38-year-old wife, Eva, and their two daughters, Elizabeth, 15, and Mary Lee, 13, with a shotgun and a pistol before dawn Sunday.

Bruening Expected To Get A Majority

BERLIN, Oct. 14. (AP)—Chancellor Bruening had in prospect today a one-vote margin with which to save his internationally-minded government from defeat at the hands of the nationalist opposition and to push his legislative program through the reichstag.

Political observers predicted he would be able to control 289 deputies or one more than a majority. The Social Democrat, Centrist and Bavarian parties would give him 243 votes, it was believed, and he would be able to pick up at least 46 more from three other parties commanding 67 votes.

HEARING WILL BE HELD AT BEAUMONT

FEDERAL JUDGE SAYS CLOSING OF WELLS JUDICIAL MATTER

(By The Associated Press)

TYLER, Oct. 14.—Federal Judge Randolph Bryant said today Governor Ross S. Sterling's action ordering five oil wells in the East Texas field to remain closed, in defiance of a temporary injunction granted by the court permitting them to open, was "simply a judicial matter" to be settled at a hearing Oct. 29 in Beaumont.

Judge Bryant said no further action would be taken by the federal court until the three-judge hearing at Beaumont. The temporary injunction would restrain the state railroad commission, the militia or the attorney general from interfering with opening of five wells owned by the Brock-Lee Oil company, a Delaware corporation.

Governor Sterling at Austin had issued an executive order embodying the railroad commission's latest proration order reducing the per well allowable from 185 to 165 barrels daily. He instructed Brig. Gen. Jacob Wolters, military commandant in the oil field martial law area, not to permit the five wells to open under orders from anyone excepting the governor.

WELLS CLOSED TO DEFY COURT ORDER

HENDERSON, Oct. 14 (AP) — Militiamen acting under orders from Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, commandant in the East Texas oil field martial law area, today closed down five wells of the Brock-Lee Oil company. The wells had been allowed to run more than 400 barrels of oil after a temporary injunction was granted the oil company yesterday by the federal court at Tyler.

General Wolters refused to make a statement but kept the wells closed as Governor R. S. Sterling had instructed him to in defiance of the federal court order. The temporary injunction, set for hearing before a three-judge federal court at Beaumont Oct. 29, ordered the state railroad commission, the militia or the attorney general not to interfere with operation of the Brock-Lee company's wells.

DEMO LEADERS SEEK FUND

$1,500,000 SOUGHT TO CONDUCT NEXT VOTE CAMPAIGN

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—Democratic leaders hope to start their quadrennial quest for the presidency bulwarked by a $1,500,000 "victory fund."

Jouett Shouse, chairman of the party's national executive committee, estimates $600,000 will be needed to keep the political wheels turning until the next convention, $500,000 to inaugurate the actual campaign, and $400,000 to pay off the 1928 deficit.

The fund campaign will be led by John W. Davis, 1924 presidential nominee of the party, with John H. Fahey, of Worcester, Mass., as executive chairman, and James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, treasurer.

A committee of more than 500 national and state party stalwarts already has been mobilized, the announcement said, to carry on the subscription campaign. It was authorized last March by the Democratic national committee.

While details for raising the fund were being formulated, the party resorted to further loans from its chairman, John W. Raskob. It now owes him $325,000.

As the announcement went forth, Mr. Davis, in a statement issued through the executive chairman, said "the political position of the party is impregnable" at this time and "its prospects of victory were never brighter."

Blames Politics For His Downfall

CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (AP)—Before he was elected mayor of Hazelcrest, Ill., Edward Soderberg, his wife said, came home nights, put out the cat, never swore, drank or smoked big black stogies.

"Politics," Mrs. Soderberg told Judge Daniel P. Tryude yesterday, "made a bum out of my husband.

"He began to smoke big black stogies and to drink and to swear. He refused to put the cat out, and the dinner got cold waiting for him to come home."

Judge Tryude gave her a divorce.

Cooperation Asked By Police Chiefs

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Oct. 14 (AP) — Closer cooperation between law enforcement officers and the department of justice was stressed at the annual convention of the International Association of Police Chiefs as a necessity of curbing crime.

Lack of such cooperation, speakers declared, would be so great a handicap to all branches of law enforcement that none could operate with the highest degree of efficiency. They urged officers to compile more accurate data on crime and forward it to Washington to be used in a nationwide drive against criminals.

No such executive as "president" as the head of a nation has ever existed until the United States proposed and adopted the idea.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carlock left today for their home in Ardmore, Okla., after a visit here.

PASSAGE SEEN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—The prediction that all nationally vital legislation would be passed by the house in the coming session despite close division of party strength was made today by Representative Snell of New York, Republican, chairman of the last house rules committee, said he believed President Hoover's economic program would be approved in principle.

ROASTING CONTROL COMPLETES WORK THAT NATURE BEGINS

Full Charm of Coffee Blend Developed by Hills Bros.' Patented Process

Coffee, as it comes from the plantations, is not a finished product. Man must develop the flavor by roasting. Yet very often, man spoils the work that Nature began. For roasting is a delicate task. But there is one method that always roasts to perfection — Controlled Roasting, invented and patented by Hills Bros.

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so a perfect, uniform roast is produced by Controlled Roasting — the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time. This is directly opposite to ordinary methods of roasting in bulk. The advantages are seen, when you drink Hills Bros. Coffee. It has a flavor no other coffee has. For no others are roasted the same way. And the flavor never varies, either!

Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum cans. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of these cans. Ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. But Hills Bros. Coffee can't go stale! Always fresh wherever and whenever you buy it. Order some today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

FAMILY INSTITUTE

LAST SUMMER I had the honor to lunch with the celebrated biologist, Dr. Paul Popenoe, research director of the Home Betterment Foundation, Pasadena, Calif., and director of the Institute of Family Relations of Los Angeles.

I had read a number of his books, among which are "Modern Marriage," "The Conservation of the Family" and "Applied Eugenics," and had read and heard so much about his pioneer work in regard to family relations that I met him with great eagerness. It was a rare treat to hear him talk. He is a dynamo of energy and enthusiasm. What may surprise most is that he cherished those basic family ideals which have been dear to many of us and it not in sympathy with the Bertrand Russell kind of marriage theories, and he arrives at his conclusions as a biologist rather than as an idealist.

* * *

Following the luncheon, Dr. Popenoe handed me a reprint from the Journal of Juvenile Research, April issue, entitled, "The Institute of Family Relations." From him personally and from the pamphlet I learned the following:

The department of health, in Vienna, Austria, established in 1922, a clinic for advice on marriage. So successful did this prove that there are now more than 200 such clinics on the European continent, nearly all of which are supported by public taxation.

In our country the first attempt in this direction resulted in the establishment at Los Angeles, on Feb. 3, 1930, of a similar institution, though much broader in character and service, incorporated as a non-profit making philanthropic foundation, under the name, Institute of Family Relations."

As judged by the reception it has had from the public, from the press, and from other social agencies, it has from the start been a great success. Through the educational program of the institute, many junior and senior high schools of southern California have established courses in education for family life not merely for girls but for boys as well.

The premarital conference available to those planning to marry, with a course of reading and physical examination, has been worked out in detail and is gradually widening its usefulness.

One eminent clergyman of Los Angeles advises all couples he marries to go to the institute for advice on how to stay married happily. "So far, however, the greatest demand for help has come from those already married, perhaps for many years, who find some problems that they cannot solve without help," says Dr. Popenoe. "In half of these cases it is the wife who first applies for help, in one-fourth the husband, while in the remaining quarter, some third party enlists the aid of the institute on behalf of relatives or friends."

* * *

Dr. Popenoe is director of the institute. Everything related to the medical profession is handled by a medical director and staff of assistants and consultants. The institute co-operates closely with the Southern California Society for Mental Hygiene. Problems of home management are handled in co-operation with the State Home Economics association, and legal problems are referred to the University of Southern California.

Already half a dozen other American cities are planning to establish clinics for marriage and family problems after the pattern of the Los Angeles institute. Certainly we parents are exceedingly interested in this promising type of human service.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Garry C. Myers, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1433 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Punishments and Rewards" and "Fear."

Homes Sought For U.D.C. Delegates

Several delegates who are to attend the state convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy here next week have already written to the local chapter for reservations, according to Mrs. J. S. Johnson, chairman of the homes committee. Others probably will send in reservations or will attend without sending word in, Mrs. Johnson believes.

Those who attend the meeting are to be entertained in the homes of Lubbock people, Mrs. Johnson said, and if there are any here who have friends in the list of delegates whom they wish to have as guests during the week, this can be arranged with the homes committee. Chapters that have made reservations and the delegates that are being sent are as follows:

Austin—Mesdames Walter Eikel, Joseph E. Howze, P. W. McFadden, Milton Morris, E. E. Krueger, Joe Rowe, Jamie Harris, Forrest Farley and Miss Annie Smith; Abilene—Mrs. S. T. Dowda and Mrs. R. L. Young; Colorado—Mrs. J. G. Merritt and Mrs. J. G. Smith; El Paso—Mrs. W. N. Carre, Miss Willie Maude Carre and Mrs. A. D. Hudson; Temple—Mrs. J. C. Harris; Fort Worth—Mesdames P. L. Martin, C. C. French, E. T. Goodwin, Rosa Pulliam, Alice Binyon and Young Yates; Memphis—Mrs. W. T. Wheat; Gainesville—Mrs. A. F. Jones, Mrs. J. C. Cox; Greenville—Mrs. B. F. Arnold, Mrs. J. T. Ellis, Mrs. R. L. Bendal and Mrs. Ed Jones.

Jacksons Are To Be Hosts To Club

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Jackson are to entertain members of the Hi Lo Bridge club in their home at 2115 22nd street tonight at 8 o'clock.

GOOD NEWS FOR THOSE WHO LIKE COFFEE

"I like a good cup of coffee with every meal but I used to suffer when I drank it," says Edward J. Owens, well-known salesman of 86 Falmouth Street, Boston, Mass.

"I would have sick headaches; would belch, leaving a sour taste in my mouth, gas on my stomach, and terrible indigestion.

"I tried many things before my druggist persuaded me to take some Pape's Diapepsin.

"I have a better appetite. Now, I can drink coffee even late at night, eat lobsters, pork or anything I want and sleep like a baby."

Get a package of these candy-like tablets from your druggist. They stop heartburn, gas on stomach, belching, nausea, headaches or any other symptom of indigestion soon as the trouble starts.

PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

WOMEN: watch your BOWELS

What should women do to keep their bowels moving freely? A doctor should know the answer. That is why pure Syrup Pepsin is so good for women. It just suits their delicate organism. It is the prescription of an old family doctor who has treated thousands of women patients, and who made a special study of bowel troubles.

It is fine for children, too. They love its taste. Let them have it every time their tongues are coated or their skin is sallow. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients.

When you've a sick headache, can't eat, are bilious or sluggish; and at the times when you are most apt to be constipated, take a little of this famous prescription (all drug stores keep it ready in big bottles), and you'll know why Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the favorite laxative of over a million women!

"More genuine satisfaction than any car I ever owned"

THE FORD is good-looking. It is safe. Comfortable. Speedy. Reliable. Long-lived. Economical. Everything a good car should be.

There is, too, an added something about it that brings enthusiastic comments from every one who has ever driven a Ford . . . the joy it puts in motoring.

"I have been a car owner continuously for nearly 20 years," writes a motorist connected with a leading university. "During this period I have bought eleven new automobiles. Eight of the eleven were in the middle-price field, one cost three thousand dollars, and the last is a Ford I purchased thirteen months ago.

"In the light of this experience I can say in all sincerity that I have derived more genuine satisfaction from the Ford than any car I ever owned. In saying this, I am thinking in terms of comfort, safety, driving pleasure, ease of control and economy. My next car will also be a Ford because it will give me what I want at a price I can afford to pay."

When you get behind the wheel of the Ford and drive it yourself you will know it is a truly remarkable car at a low price. You will like it when you first buy it. You will become more and more enthusiastic the longer you drive it.

After thousands of miles of driving you will say "it's a great car." Its economy will save you many dollars.

INDIANS DOWN TECH MATADORS

SNYDER MEETS WESTERNERS

WELLER LEADS HASKELL TO VICTORY

RED SKINS SCORE A TOUCHDOWN AND A SAFETY TO WIN

DALLAS, Oct. 14—Texas Tech's Matadors departed for Lubbock this morning, leaving behind one of their number and an 8 to 0 football victory, both due to the superior showing of the Haskell Institute Indians of Lawrence, Kansas, here yesterday.

The Indians, led by their sensational captan, 142-pound Louis (Little Rabbit) Weller, first tackled a Matador back behind the Tech goal line for a safety and later in the game put over a touchdown to ice the old victory away. The latter was made possible by a sixty-five-yard return of a matador punt by the Rabbit and a six-yard dash around end by Halfback Edge.

The game was played on a slick field with a steady downpour of rain throughout. Although the field was not muddy, it having been built for quick drainage and covered with heavy canvas before the game started, the constant rainfall caused the ball and the grass to be extraordinarily hard to handle. There were frequent fumbles on either side, the breaks being about even in this department.

Th first and second quarters were played almost entirely on Indian territory. The third was evenly divided as to the territory and the last was on Tech's grounds. Both teams showed a world of stamina and fight and each side knew that it faced unusually tough opposition.

Bill Teal, Tech's star end, probably played his last football yesterday. He was blocked out by a pair of Indians when Rabbit Weller took the long run up the field which resulted in the lone touchdown, and never got up. He was carried from the field to a Dallas clinic where it was discovered that a leg has suffered a compound break, both bones being shattered by the heavy impact. Teal will remain in the hospital here several days for treatment. It was the hard luck play of the day for the West Texans.

The playing of Captain Jack Durham, who went in at center in the second quarter for the Matadors, was outstanding in the Tech lineup. Tech's backfield was smothered by a powerful Indian line and except for the exchange of fumbles and punts, the Tech offense was limited to almost nothing. Crites, Price and France, Coach Cawthon's leading ball carriers were held tightly. Little Slick Close, the former Wayland college star, was Tech's ground gainer on straight plays.

Coach Cawthon started his "shock troops" or second team in the game yesterday but the first string backfield went in before the quarter ended. The shockers had held the Indians for most of the period but after a 35-yard end run by Duffina which carried the ball to midfield, a 20-yard plunge by Fullback Walter Johnson, and another end run by Duffina which carried the oval to Tech's 8-yard line, Cawthon slipped in a new backfield. Speed Moffett stopped Duffina on his last run in a beautiful play. The Tech line and secondary tightened then and the ball went over on downs on the 3-yard line. France dropped back to punt and failed to handle the slick ball, falling on it as a bunch of Indians fell on him for a safety.

The Indians never threatened again except when they made the touchdown. Once Tech was on the Haskell goal line, or within inches of it, but failed to make a first down on the fourth play after bringing it 9 yards on three previous attempts. A first down at that point probably would have meant a touch down. France and Price were doing the ball toting at that point.

SECRECY SHROUDS KANSAS AG DRILL

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 14 (AP)—Coach A. N. McMillin, whose grid strategy has kept other Big Six coaches on their toes the past three years apparently is busy packing an extra large bag of tricks for the Kansas game Saturday.

Complete secrecy was the rule in the Aggie camp yesterday. Even persons with passes were refused admittance. The action along with word from the field that the team worked on new offensive plays was taken to mean that "Bo" would unloose a flock of surprise plays against the Jayhawkers.

Coach Ad Lindsey, who is grooming his Okahomans for the Texas fray, tested the mettle of his regulars against Longhorn plays as presented by the first year men. All injured men were back in uniform, although Capt. Guy Warren and "Big Swede" Ellstrom, halfbacks, still were limping.

TO MEET HASKELL

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 14 (AP)—Oklahoma A. & M.'s Cowboys toiled through a long line scrimmage today on a gridiron softened by rain, working against Haskell Indian formations. Although he has a leg injury, Hubert Erstin, big fullback, probably will start in Friday night's game against the Kansans.

Teams Grind For Saturday Games

It was a sleepy bunch that detrained at the local Denver station this morning, and this column has every promise of being in accordance with the times. There was not much sleep on the big special train last night, but we have been advised by numerous passengers to report that a hot time was experienced by everybody.

* * *

The State Fair, or what we saw of it, was more than fair. We even heard of a certain bunch of Lubbock delegates who didn't even get to the football game, and maybe the fair had something to do with that. The Lubbock fans who did get to the big bowl, however, were a plenty boisterous crew, and they yelled like anything in support of the scrapping Matadors. Dallas knew that something special was happening when the Lubbock delegation paraded from Union Station to the Baker Hotel headquarters, and as the day progressed so did the spirits of us fans.

* * *

Dallas proved a cheerful host. We were all treated swell and invited back next fall to the game between the same clubs. And we accepted the invitation.

* * *

Now to settle down to the business at hand. The Matador schedule does not call for a game until Friday week. At that time, however, a good game is in prospect with the Colorado School of Mines eleven furnishing the opposition. The Miners lost to the University of Colorado last week-end, but even the best of teams sometimes lose. The local collegians, for once, are favorites in their next game, which may or may not be played at night. It will soon be too cold for night games on the South Plains, at least too cold for comfort.

* * *

To that silly willy-nilly who darkens Tech's doors but who appreciates his own intelligence to the extent of writing unsigned notes: And where did you flunk journalism? You're not required, nor even welcome, to read this column but since you do, get on to yourself before diving into something of which your knowledge is absolutely nil. You're the goat, kid.

* * *

To the gentle reader, the above results from an anonymous communication calling us everything nasty because we criticized the poor demonstration of one of Lubbock High's gridsters in last Friday night's contest. And if the Westerner end won't admit he had a sack over his head we'll rue the day we undertook to follow the lives and actions of athletes for a living.

There's oil in them thar fairways, says one California golfer to another. A country club in the orange state, we are informed, added $2,000 to its treasury last month from a producing well on its property and is now about to start a second well. If enough oil can be found under the fairways the problem of keeping them in condition will no longer be serious. The members probably will insist that the drilling be done through the fairways and not on the greens. Getting putts down is hard enough now without any oil well hazards.

Which recalls an announcement made by Bill McMillan, owner and operator of the Meadowbrook Golf club here, that the annual Texas Tech tournament will be held during the fading days of October and the first three of November. The last college tourney was held in the spring, but the golfing leaders at Tech and Mr. McMillan believe that the tournament now will cause an increase in college golfers. Qualifying will be held on the last two days of October, the tournament proper beginning November 1.

Billy Holmes of Shamrock will be the defending champion in the Tech joust. Billy laid himself open to statewide comment last spring and through the summer in college and sectional tournaments. His ability to crush old man par is not to be questioned. Weighing in the neighborhood of 185 pounds now, Billy should be quite a golfer when he gets grown. In a tournament at Shamrock this summer the Holmes family swept away all the honors, Lyle, a younger brother, winning the championship by defeating his dad. Billy placed high as did a younger sister who played in the tournament.

* * *

Lyle Holmes, by the way, is sports editor of the Toreador student paper at Tech. So far he has done right well, and we rise to commend him for his column of personal jabber last week. We hope he doesn't let literary genius interfere with his good golfing qualities, however.

RAIN FAILS TO HALT SOUTHWEST LOOP GRID WORKOUTS

(By The Associated Press)

A general rain yesterday failed to dampen Southwest conference football enthusiasm but it hampered to a certain extent the practice of Arkansas, Southern Methodist and Texas Christian. All, however, managed to get in enough work to keep them on edge for important games Saturday.

With Bob Gilbert certain to remain at home with an infected heel, and Red Jackson under a doctor's care, the Southern Methodist Mustangs held a brief workout. A scrimmage and formation of a defense to stop Rice institute plays is Southern Methodist's program.

Owls Look Good

Realizing they must play the same superb football against Southern Methodist they played against Texas, the Rice Owls scrimmaged yesterday. They revealed terrific tackling and blocking which pleased Coach Meagher. Rice regulars are in good condition.

Encouraged by Coach Schmidt's frank admission that he believes his cohorts will win, the Texas Christian Frogs, who had an easy game against Austin college last week, are set for the invasion of Texas A. and M. Schmidt predicted Saturday's game will be a terrific battle, but with an even break in luck, believes his boys will finish in front.

Hogs Face Bears

Rain interferred with the University of Arkansas practice yesterday. The Razorbacks scampered through rain and mud on line plays in preparation for their games Saturday at Waco against Baylor. Kyle, hard running back who has been of little service to Arkansas so far, is expected to start against Baylor.

For the Baylor Bruins and the University of Texas, yesterday was just another day of football practice. Both are in good condition for their combats this week. The University of Texas will have Stafford, Koy and Burr in her backfield against the University of Oklahoma Saturday at Dallas.

MANAGERS ARE DISMISSED

OPEN SEASON STARTED AS TWO MAJOR LOOP LEADERS DROPPED

BY HERBERT W. BARKER,
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP)—The open season on major league managers already has netted two victims and the baseball world will be mildly astonished if one or two more do not fall.

Donie Bush, fiery veteran, has been cut loose from the Chicago Whitesox and succeeded by Lew Fonseca, an active player still in his early thirties. The Pittsburgh Pirates, after casting Jewel Ens adrift, are looking about for a new pilot.

Dopesters, after a careful survey of the situation, look for the next managerial shifts to come from Detroit and possibly Brooklyn.

Stanley (Bucky) Harris, who piloted the Washington Senators to American league pennants in 1924 and 1925, has just finished his most disappointing season with the Detroit Tigers. Starting out the season with bright prospects, the Tigers, crippled for months by injuries to Charlie Behringer and Dale Alexander, finished the season in seventh place.

Owners Want Results

Club owners, in the main, ask for results and if they don't get them with one manager they try another. No definite word has come from Detroit in regard to Harris' present status but it is understood here that Frank Navin, the owner, has notified Coaches Jean Dubuc and Roger Bresnahan they will not be retained in 1932. Some experts professed to see in this a direct hint that Harris also will go.

The Brooklyn situation is a bit more involved. Baseball writers have been hiring a new manager for the Robins for years but Wilbert Robinson always turns up at the helm when the season starts.

FATAL SHOCKS

The American Medical Association reports that electricity under the pressure of a very low potential effects the heart, causing a tremor or wavering. This is why shocks of even such low voltage as that found in house circuits are sometimes fatal.

GAME WILL BE HERE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

CLASS "B" TEAM WILL INVADE LUBBOCK HI CAMP FOR TILT

The Lubbock High school Westerners will meet the Snyder High school eleven here Friday afternoon in a non-district game, according to arrangements made between the schools early this week.

The date was originally open, and Coach Chapman has been dickering with several teams for a game this week. It was thought at first that the Westerners would journey to Cisco to meet Coach Chapman's former charges, but failure to reach a financial agreement resulted in no game being posted.

Friday's game is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock, in order that the Snyder team may return home on the same day.

The Snyder club has been the Class B champion of its district for the last two years and has played several closely contested games with Class A football squads.

BADGERS FACE PICADORS

TECH FRESHMAN TEAM TO PLAY AMARILLO ELEVEN FRIDAY

Coaches Del Morgan and Weir Washam are drillings their Texas Tech freshman gridsters on offensive plays this week in preparation for their game Friday afternoon with the Amarillo Junior college Badgers. The game will be played at Amarillo.

Heretofore the Picadors have practiced defensive tactics almost wholly. The leaders of the freshman gridsters have been called upon to withstand the attacks of the varsity Matadors as the latter practiced for important games, and the Picador coaches have little fear as to the defensive qualities of their charges.

At a meeting of the freshman squad early this week Blackie Reynolds of Beaumont and Milton McGehee of Lubbock were elected co-captains of the fish squad.

Starting out with about a hundred candidates, the first year bunch has been trimmed to less than fifty. Of this number, two teams, one designated as the "holding," or defensive team, the other the offensive lineup, will bear the brunt of the games this season. The coaches plan to use both clubs against the strong Badgers this week. The junior college team is coached by Al Baggett.

Army-Navy Game To Remain Colorful

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—As details for the 1931 charity game between Army and Navy are being settled, the new order of the service football classic promises to become almost as permanent as the old one.

Although the two institutions still disagree on eligibility requirements, they have decided to bring back all the colorful details of the old Army-Navy games and are, perhaps, in a more receptive frame of mind concerning the suggestion they play next year in Chicago in connection with the centennial exposition.

A meeting of officials at Philadelphia yesterday settled on the Yankee stadium, New York, the scene of last year's renewal of hostilities, as the place where this year's game will be played on Dec. 12; set the admission prices at $10 for box seats and $5 for stand seats and, what is perhaps more important, agreed that "all the glamour and color of the earlier Army-Navy games will be present."

BASKETBALL LOOP HEADS WILL MEET

Officials and delegates of the recently organized South Plains Semi-Pro Basketball league will meet tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the chamber of commerce rooms at the City hall here to draw up a schedule for the season and to make a final count of the number of teams forming the league.

Superintendent Martin of Meadow was elected president of the league last Thursday night at the organization meeting here. He will be in charge of the meeting tomorrow night.

Approximately twelve teams are expected to join the league, and play will begin about October 26, according to an announcement this morning.

All surrounding towns and communities seeking entrance to the league are requested by President Martin to have representatives at the meeting tomorrow night.

As the result of road transport development 99 stations of one railway in England have been closed.

Thought For Today

By faith the walls of Jericho fell down, after they were compassed about seven days.—Hebrews 11:30.

* * *

The highest order that was ever instituted on earth is the order of faith.—Henry Ward Beecher.

A Good Loser

The things that will occupy a warm spot in one's memory in the years to come are not always easily recognized when they happen. It happens now and then that a man will come to look back fondly on what once looked like a real catastrophe, while the events of which much was expected will lose their glow and merge with the featureless background of dead years.

The other day, for example, Haverford College sent out questionnaires to its alumni asking them this and that about their college experiences; and one former student contributed the following:

"I was kicked out after one year for being a fool, but I hope Haverford feels as kindly toward me as I do toward her. I derived a great deal of help and inspiration from her."

Quite obviously, this man does not feel the same now about his expulsion from college as he felt at the time it happened; and that, perhaps, is very often the case, not only with expulsions from college but with other things. We get, since life is fairly hard—a thorough sock on the nose, now and then, and it isn't fun; but later on, when we look back, we can see that we had it coming, and we can also see that it was rather good for us.

One of the things that keeps this world from getting too monotonous is the fact that most of us can learn only by being kicked. The Haverford man is only one among many. He had a very common human experience. He was given a great privilege—how many people, by the way, realize just what a tremendous privilege a college education can be?—and he failed to recognize it. Failing, he was thrown out. But, though he was thrown out for being a fool, he was not as big a fool as he might have been. He was able to profit by his misfortune. Today he can look back with real affection to the college that refused to put up with him.

Not all of us, of course, are able to do that. When we get our bumps we indulge the natural tendency to cry out that some malignant power in the world has it in for us unjustly. We sulk, in plain English, like so many three-year-olds—and so, by and by, it is necessary for us to get bumped again.

But there is another way of meeting those things; and as we grow older we come to understand it better. Any simpleton can look back fondly to the halcyon days. The man who is moving forward is the one who can look back with real satisfaction to the times when he took it on the chin.

Watching The Road

The newspapers recently published an extremely instructive picture of an automobile accident—or, rather, of two accidents.

One car had gone into a ditch. Another car passed by. The driver through some luckless skid or other, caused his nose to see the first accident, forgot to keep both eyes on the road ahead, and presently his car wrecked too.

This sort of thing happens rather often, and it ought to be an object lesson to all motorists. Looking at the sights along the way is all very well, but the driver's first job is to watch where he is going. He lets other things distract his attention at his peril.

If you see a car in the ditch, and feel the need of inspecting it closely, park your own car first—or you may land in the ditch yourself and take some unoffending fellow-motorist with you.

Now that Wang has been superseded as foreign minister, it behooves Japan to know its China from A to Sze.

Al Capone attended a football game with his bodyguard recently. He certainly likes to be around when somebody "kicks off."

That Girl on Broadway says the sexes will not be equal until the bride is asked if she can support the groom as well as his dad has been doing it.

Young men of a generation ago had less money to spend but all of them had hats.

* * *

IF Jim Ferguson runs for Congress next summer, seeking one of the three new seats gained by Texas' population count of 1930, he's going to be elected. With the famed "standing Ferguson vote" of nigh onto 200,000 he's going to waltz into Washington as a candidate-at-large and don't ever kid yourself that he won't.

It's just in the cards, that's all—after a senseless wrangle in the legislature which put a crimp into a fair, square Congressional re-Districting.

* * *

Last Saturday Jim addressed 5,000 people at the Coleman county fair and already the old war cry of "Pour It On 'Em Jim" is echoing through the land. Don't kid yourself a minute—that Coleman speech was a sure indicator that Farmer Jim is still on deck—the crowd, according to the anti-Ferguson San Angelo Standard, cheering him time and time again.

* * *

THE Plainsman has never voted for Jim Ferguson. He has opposed him with every effort, both personally and through newspapers he has operated. But Jim's going to get elected to Congress if he runs—and The Plainsman may vote for him! Read it over again if it's a shock to you—The Plainsman may cast a vote for Jim Ferguson for Congress.

* * *

Here's why:

According to the distribution of Texas' new population, two of the state's three new Congressional districts should be given to West Texas. One of those two should be given to what is generally called "the Lubbock territory".

But did we—did West Texas—get what is coming to us?

We did not—because the Texas Senate, by a one vote margin, voted for politically ambitious Senators instead of for right and West Texas!

* * *

ON Saturday, May 23, the Re-Districting bill was killed by a 13 to 12 vote and a number of the 13 Senators who thus discriminated against West Texas are ambitious to go to Congress themselves and none of them live in sections entitled to a new Congressman.

Practically every one lives in East Texas, or in some sleepy part of Central Texas, where 1930 population figures showed little, if any gain over 1920. They didn't have a chance to get elected to Congress from their home districts, so they threw a monkey wrench into the machinery—hoping to get to Congress running as a candidate-at-large.

* * *

Here's the "honor roll" of discriminating Senators—a list which is going to be printed at intervals in Lubbock papers and whenever a one of those fellows comes out here asking for something. Look it over:

Beck, of Dekalb; Deberry, of Bogota; Greer, of Athens; Holbrook, of Galveston; Hornsby, of Austin; Loy, of Sherman; New, of Carthage; Parr, of Benavides; Patton, of Crockett; Poage, of Waco; Pollard, of Tyler; Purl, of Dallas; Thomason, of Nacogdoches.

* * *

NOW here's where The Plainsman may vote for Jim Ferguson.

If there are three candidates who are not included in the above list, The Plainsman is going to vote for each of the three. If one of them is Jim Ferguson—Jim will get this writer's vote.

The Plainsman would rather vote for Jim Ferguson any day, than for a man who discriminates against West Texas. As a matter of fact, Jim has always been pretty good to this part of the state—which is something in his favor.

* * *

Frankly, this writer thinks Jim Ferguson has many a good point, although he has always been at variance with the basic principles and with the campaign thunder called Fergusonism. But laying everything else aside, The Plainsman will be proud of a vote cast for Farmer Jim, if the only other alternate is some bird who would discriminate against the greatest part of this state, merely to satisfy a personal political ambition or to help some other selfish politician try to sneek into Congress by the back door.

* * *

GOVERNOR Sterling credits his general granting of paroles to the fact that not nearly so many convicts are fleeing the penitentiary and state prison farms this year as there was last.

He points proudly to the fact that where 360 escaped in 1930, only 60 have taken French leave in 1931 to date—but he loses sight of the fact that there are many men who think they're better off in jail than out in these parlous times!

Prohibition Continues To Be Vigorous Issue, Bobbing Up On The Front Page With Almost Uniform Regularity

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The fact that in politics which rises oftener than any other to impress everyone concerned is the astonishing vitality of the prohibition issue.

DUTCHER

Voters are thought usually to be dumb, but not always. Politicians are generally hypocritical, but not always. Presidents can ordinarily encompass their own renominations, but not invariably.

The one safe year-in-year-out bet is that prohibition, no matter how deep it may appear to have been buried, is sure to arise next week, grab the headlines away from all the other issues and get everybody all upset again. If you are an office-holder you sometimes find yourself breathing freely and thinking this most embarrassing public question is going to stop plaguing you for awhile. If you are a Washington correspondent you get fed up writing prohibition stories and frequently swear off. And if you are an average newspaper reader you probably often anticipate a nice long spell in which you won't hear any more about it. But, whatever you are, you always get fooled.

* * *

If there was ever a time since the original funeral of John Barleycorn when the other really pressing issues might be expected to push prohibition out of the picture, as so many politicians want them to do, this would certainly seem to be it. Very few persons would seriously suggest that the battle between the wets and drys is now a matter of actual towering importance.

Business limps, millions of unemployed face a winter of privation, agriculture sinks deeper into the mire, the protective tariff theory takes on unprecedented importance as an issue, the capitalistic system is considered by many to be wobbling, the treasury deficit shoots up well over a billion, international debts face possible revision and the world writhes with a sad variety of ailments.

* * *

But this is the very time that prohibition once more jumps up from the bottom of the heap and perches; for the time being at least, on top. A cry for beer is made with unprecedented vigor and persistence. The wets and drys charge forward with whoops which seem louder and more feverish. The powerful American Legion after keeping the issue off its convention floor since the war and continually demanding federal appropriations, now at a time when other issues are supposed to be paramount completely reverses the procedure, votes down the cash bonus demand, attacks prohibition and votes 2½ to 1 for a referendum. The Rev. Clarence True Wilson, official Methodist dry leaders, blows up and calls the Legionnaires in convention a bunch of drunks.

The allied dry organizations announce a great counter-attack among labor, veteran, medical and other groups, thereby widening the battle field and promising increased furore along the whole front. Even the administration, unable to ignore a situation which gives it the willies, gets in on the play by investigating possibilities of beer as a prosperity stimulant.

All this is no less than heart-breaking to the element which wants to keep prohibition subordinated in the next election campaign. The net political result at this writing has been to stiffen the backs of Democrats who hope to get an anti-prohibition plank as well as a wet candidate out of their next national convention, to augment the anguished squawks of eastern Republican leaders who say the G. O. P. can't afford to be dry in their states and to make life a little more miserable for the many officeholders who have striven valiantly to please everybody by walking the fence. Once more they are convinced that the issue can't be eclipsed by anything short of another war.

Mr. Retailer, maybe the following story could be applied to your business. Maybe it indicates a reason why your goods are not moving as rapidly as they could and should move. (This is a true story, too.)

A young clerk in a Lubbock store was engaged in attempting to sell a farmer a jacket for the latter's son. The cost of the article was something over four dollars but the farmer was not questioning the price.

When the sale was half made the clerk remarked:

"Say, do you know that a lot of farmers are leaving their cotton lie in the fields? The price is so low some of 'em aren't even going to pick it!"

Is that the kind of conversation likely to stimulate sales?

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1438 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene," "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

EFFECTS OF FREAK DIET

"ONLY A SHORT time ago I had the pleasure of hearing an address by Dr. E. V. McCollum, who has done such notable work in investigating foods," an editor of Hygeia writes. "The audience was composed largely of laymen, and Dr. McCollum talked in plain, simple terms that one could understand, even though he were not a scientist. He told how perfectly healthy animals might be fed on a diet that is perfect in every detail except for an almost infinitesimal speck of some mineral or vitamin. If one particular mineral is lacking, the animals would, in a few days' time, actually turn a blood red color. If another mineral were not present they would completely lose their reproductive powers. If one vitamin were lacking, their mentality would be severely injured."

Dr. Clendening

That such experiments have a practical application is seen by the following report of a case in a medical journal:

A woman aged twenty-two, in an attempt to reduce her weight, placed herself on a restricted diet for about a year. This resulted in a marked loss of weight and a nervous breakdown, which compelled her to rest in bed for seven weeks. Her diet had consisted mainly of vegetables and oranges.

When she consulted the doctor she had a yellowish discoloration of the entire skin, which had been gradually increasing.

After careful study it was decided that the yellowish discoloration was due to carotene. Carotene is a substance found in vegetables, notably carrots, from which it derives its name. But it is also found in golden corn, pumpkins, squash, yellow turnips, parsnips, spinach, lettuce, oranges and the yolk of eggs.

When the diet is badly balanced with an oversupply of these substances, the yellowish color of the skin is apt to result. The condition, called carotinemia, was first observed in children who had been put on a high carrot diet.

In the care of the particular patient whose story is told above, the yellowish discoloration of the skin cleared up when the diet was enlarged to include meat and milk and bread and sugar and potatoes—articles of food not exclusively of the green or pigmented vegetable type.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

L. P.: "Is there any substitute for liver extract for a patient with pernicious anemia who grows tired of it?"

Answer: A preparation called ventriculin is on the market and seems to be equally as effective as liver extract.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. — One of syncopation-land's golden phenoms is Meyer Davis, the "ork pilot"—or orchestra leader, if you prefer.

At 37, Davis is something of a J. P. Morgan of jazz. He has made his fiddle and a little sound business sense pile him up about $3,000,000 or more. And growing every minute.

Rudy Vallee, to be sure, has a million or so tucked away. And Paul Whiteman need not worry about the mortgage, if any, on the old Colorado rancho.

But Davis has a little story all his own. While others were building their reputations in night resorts, concert halls and such, he got the notion that there would be "big money" in catering to the swanky and exclusive social set. After all, they had plenty of money! And he was right. Within the past few years he has played for the Goulds, the Whitneys, the Mackays, the Otto Kahns, the DuPonts, the Dukes, the Rockefellers and most of the Who's Who. He got the notion that if there could be chain stores, there could also be "chain bands." At the moment he has something like 115 bands playing in all parts of the universe.

Just a few months ago he appeared at a party given by Ralph Strassburger, Philadelphia publisher, and is said to have received a check for $10,000—just for a few hours.

* * *

But that's getting a bit ahead of the story! There's an interesting beginning:

At 20, Meyer Davis was a student at George Washington University. He was working his way through college after the best traditions of the Alger stories. His first job consisted of typing sermons for one of the town clergymen. Then he got $2 a performance, fiddling in a town orchestra.

At that time the official Washington set was dancing to the music of the Santley Marine Band. Marches and two-steps were being done. But out San Francisco way some rougher dance vogues were being conceived — the grizzly bear, the Texas Tommy and the bunny hug!

During a summer vacation, Davis bummed his way westward. When he got back, he gathered some of his musically inclined college pals and showed them how they were playing out in 'Frisco. And did the capital folk arch their eyebrows!

The Willard was quite the swankiest hotel there. The management wanted novelty. Davis was hired to play the rough-and-ready rhythms for $90 a week. He deserted law school. Four years later he introduced a unit in Philadelphia's Bellevue-Stratford. He became a musical pet of the society folk. From Palm Beach to Bar Harbor his bands began to follow the social seasons. He went in for "party bookings," where the fees were from $5000 up—and usually up.

* * *

One day a young fiddler named Leo Reisman came looking for a job. Davis let Reisman run his Boston unit. Today Reisman is another society band leader. Rudy Vallee also came in looking for work. Davis turned him down because "he looked too listless." Harry Rosenthal, the pianist who created a furor in "June Moon", Nat Brusiloff, of radio broadcast fame; Jasques Renard and dozens of others were in Davis' groups.

Kate Smith took a job at $7.50 a night singing in the Chevy Chase. She was so good they transferred her to the La Paradis at $15. Eddie Dowling noticed her and started her on the way to her present fame and fortune.

As a business man, Davis annexed himself a "piece" in amusement parks and hotels; in dance pavilions and swanky resorts. Half a dozen such he now owns. He is reported to have a "slice" of the new Waldorf. One of his properties is the Chantecler Club in Washington.

Today he's considered the wealthiest orchestra man in the world.

"SOTTO VOCE"

CLEVELAND—Hattie A. Rupert, according to her husband, Henry, repudiated her marriage vows on the very moment when the tie was bound. Henry, in suing for divorce, said that his wife, in answer to the minister's "Do you—," replied, "I will," but muttered "not" under her breath.

American college students are indifferent to politics, says a professor. Considering what Chinese students did to their foreign minister for some alleged negligence in administration, it is perhaps well for our politicians that college boys don't know too much about politics.

BOY SCOUT'S MOTHER GIVES HER VIEWS ON BENEFITS DERIVED FROM ACTIVITIES

Dear Plainsman: I disagree with your philosopher friend and with you for your suggestion that there might be too much of scouting, Epworth Leaguing, etc., for the best interest of the youth of today.

Youth, and especially boys, must have some outlet for their nervous energy. If this is not wholesome it certainly will be detrimental. In this machine age, boys do not have the "chores" to do that perhaps you and your philosopher friend had and this is where scouting plays so important a part with its construction work and play.

We have a boy who is a scout, who plays in the high school band and who is active in church work and we feel that these three agencies are doing much toward making him a useful citizen.

Sincerely yours,
A Boy Scout's Mother.

(Thank you for your note. Certainly we are all entitled to our opinions and I wish we could publish a page of letters from readers, expressing all manner of thoughtful opinion, such as yours, every day. In forming my opinion along the above line I drew the following comparison: A certain amount of pie is fine—too much pie might be, and probably is harmful. I used to be a Boy scout in an area which was highly organized, but I am frank to admit that from personal contact I know little about actual workings of the organization in Lubbock. For that reason I am glad to get the slant of those who have had an opportunity to make personal observations. The Plainsman.)

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (AP)—Fresh firms in Chicago wheat prices y today reflected Liverpool quo- ons higher than looked for. Ber- advices said Russia had 100,- troops massed along the Man- rian front. Argentine wheat age was reported 20 per cent than last year. Opening at 1-8 1-4 cent advance, wheat after- d held near the initial figures. started unchanged to 3-8 and and continued to point higher.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP)—Cotton opened steady today, unchanged to 4 points lower on overnight selling orders, but showed a generally steadier tone on steady cables and reports that unfavorable weather in the southwest was delaying ginning.

The selling continued, however, and increased somewhat after the call with some local and wall street selling on the easier ruling of the stock market and prices eased off to 6.16 for December and 6.47 for March or about 9 to 11 points net lower.

There was a little buying early on the steadiness of Liverpool and reports of unfavorable weather in the western belt but these features evidently failed to stimulate any aggressive demand, while trades paid little attention to the weekly report of the weather bureau and the report of the census bureau showing domestic consumption of 463,704 bales for September against 393,390 last year had no appreciable effect on the market.

Liverpool cables attributed the steadiness in that market to local and continental buying together with trade calling and houses with both Liverpool and continental connections were said to be among buyers here during the early trading.

This helped to absorb the early offerings and after showing net declines of about 5 to 9 points, December rallied from 6.16 to 6.31 and March from 6.47 to 6.61 on covering and trade buying. Reports of further rains in the southwest seemed to encourage this demand. The market reacted a few points later in the morning.

At midday December was selling around 6.23, with active months showing net losses of 2 or 3 points.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 14 (AP) — The cotton market opened quietly and about steady although Liverpool was better than due. First trades here showed no change to one point down. The market eased off after the start on considerable hedge selling and realizing. December trading down to 6.17, January to 6.27 and March to 6.48, or 9 to 10 points below yesterday's close. The market latter rallied somewhat on the favorable domestic consumption during September, the census bureau reporting 463,704 bales, which was larger than the August consumption and considerably larger than September last year. Prices near the end of the first hour rallied 4 to 6 points from the early lows.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today. Oct. 6.15; Dec. 6.25; Jan. 6.38; March 6.56; May 6.72; July 6.90.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—The stock market developed a better tone today.

The rapid decline of the previous session was checked after the first few minutes but the market remained somewhat uncertain of itself and a mid-morning rally failed to hold.

Early losses were cancelled, and gains of 2 points or so appeared in such stocks as American Telephone, American Gas, Consolidated Gas, Allied Chemical, Santa Fe, New York Central, and Baltimore and Ohio, but roughly half this upturn was lost by midday. U. S. Steel gained a point, then reacted. Woolworth shot up more than 3 points on announcement of the $2 extra dividend, then lost about half its upturn.

"People of no understanding, however, tell me that I am primarily an actress. Time—and the screen test—will tell."

TEXAS MAN IS CONVICTED

FIVE YEARS GIVEN TO CALVIN BURKE WHO WED FIVE TIMES

ATLANTA, Oct. 14 (AP)—Calvin H. Burke, 54-year-old Texan, who the government charged married five women in 12 months and swindled them out of money, bonds and jewelry, was sentenced to five years in Atlanta penitentiary on a mail fraud charge Tuesday.

The five women came to court to testify against him.

Burke, described by the prosecutor as a man who was respected in his home town near Dallas, but who "went gallivanting around the country marrying unsuspecting women and stealing their savings," threw himself on the mercy of the court.

The five wives met before the trial in the office of Postal Inspector R. A. Ward.

The women were Mrs. E. J. Perryman, formerly of Vinings, Fla., but now a resident of Morrow Bay, Cal.; Mrs. L. E. Remington, Fort Worth, Tex.; Mrs. Emma M. Drake, Stahl, Mo.; Mrs. Maude Hurdle, Dover, Kas., and Mrs. Estelle Wilcox, Hudson, Iowa.

SETTLEMENT FAILS

TOKYO, Oct. 14. (AP)—Preliminary conversations designed to open the way for direct negotiations between Japan and China for settlement of the controversy over Manchuria resulted in failure today.

For the time being at least, there will be no further private conversations between Baron Shidehara, Japanese foreign minister, and Chiang Tso-Pin, Chinese minister to Japan. The Nanking government was represented as having taken the view that any further such talks might be misconstrued as indicating China's willingness to enter into direct negotiations with Japan before the latter evacuated the occupied districts.

Denton City Dads Ask Gas Rate Cut

DENTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Denton's city commission last night sanctioned adoption of an ordinance lowering the municipal gas rate from 75 cents to 50 cents.

Its attorney was instructed to prepare the ordinance for presentation to the commission Oct. 19.

The commission also ruled against the collection by the gas company of a 50 cent "ready-for-service" charge.

Gas company officials argued such a decrease would not give them necessary returns on their investments. They promised to carry the matter to the courts.

Dr. J. M. Lewis Is Rotarian Speaker

Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and president of the Lubbock Kiwanis club, addressed members of the Lubbock Rotary club in Hotel Lubbock today. Neil Wright was chairman of the day.

Dr. Lewis, commenting on the present times, declared that the people of today are experiencing something unusual for their generation but that it is a time when real men should rise in their might and cope with the problems of the day.

"It is simply a call to arms," he said. "Our country needs the loyal undivided and cooperative support of its citizens. It's mighty easy for us to turn around and face this glorious flag and sing 'My Country 'Tis of Thee' when things are running along smoothly but the real test comes when times are difficult."

W. T. Strange, Big Spring; Dick O'Brien, Floydada; J. S. Hilliard, Littlefield; Tom Overby, and John Frye of Slaton were out-of-town Rotarians present. E. V. Spence, city manager of Big Spring, was also a visitor.

The City of Brotherly Love

No, this is not the aftermath of a Chinese famine. It's just the nightly scene on the broad steps of Philadelphia's City Hall, where hard and cold stone steps are forced to serve as rude beds for some of the army of unemployed in the City of Brotherly Love. Not only men are there—with hunger-pinched faces—but young boys into whose youthful faces has come maturity while facing privation. The steps and balcony of City Hall have been set aside for these victims of the depression.

"SOLDIER'S HEART," BAFFLING MALADY OF HIGH-PRESSURE LIFE, IS CURABLE

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—"Soldier's heart," a baffling malady of modern high-pressure life, is reported cured by a recently perfected operation described to the American college of surgeons last night.

Twenty of these new operations were discussed in a paper by their discoverer, George W. Crile, M. D., head of the Cleveland clinic. Seventeen resulted in apparent cures.

Soldier's heart was noticed, Dr. Crile said, during the World war. Its symptoms are rapid heart beat, nervousness and fatigue. "In the stress of civilian life," the paper stated, "many cases of this same disease are seen. Heretofore there has been no effective treatment."

The operation is an almost bloodless and shock-free severing of the sympathetic nerves at their connection with the adrenal glands, a pair of diminutive, pancake-shaped, golden-colored endocrines near the kidneys.

These two endocrine glands, Dr. Crile described as "the power stations or brain of the sympathetic nervous system." Then they deliver an oversupply of energy to the sympathetic nerves, soldier's heart results.

The experiment which developed into a successful operation began 19 years ago and covered 126 cases.

RITES SET TODAY FOR WITHERSPOON

Texas Technological college students and other friends went to Strawn today to attend funeral services for Mose Witherspoon, 21, prominent in student circles the two years he attended the Matador school. After an illness of several months, Witherspoon died of Brights disease and an accompanying ailment at 10 o'clock Tuesday night in a Mineral Wells hospital.

Several students who had gone to Dallas to attend the Tech Matador-Haskell Indian football game learned of Witherspoon's death there and went from Dallas to Strawn, the young man's home, instead of boarding a special train for Lubbock.

Hazel Gruver, Kathleen Harmon, Virgil Rowland, Harold Busby, Jesse Rogers and Clayton Reed, left to attend the funeral rites. Burial was to be at Strawn.

Last spring, Witherspoon was elected vice president of the student council at the college here but did not return. Two weeks ago, attending physicians said his condition was critical and possibility of recovery remote. He virtually lost his sight before death came.

CANNON MAKES A DENIAL

ACCUSATION MADE BY SENATOR GLASS IS GIVEN ANSWER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Bishop James Cannon, jr., last night issued a vigorous denial of an accusation by Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, that the churchman's stock broker, serving a prison term for fraud was paroled recently as part of an agreement intended to spare the bishop unfavorable publicity.

He described the Glass charge as "absolutely false" and said it was the strength "of a cowardly politician trying to save himself from a libel suit."

Early in the week, Glass wrote to Attorney General Mitchell asking if the parole granted Harry L. Goldhurst, who handled some of the bishop's stock market transactions was "in pursuance of a blameworthy agreement made by department of justice officials in New York and elsewhere."

Probe Ordered

Mitchell ordered an investigation.

Glass' letter said it was reported Goldhurst changed his plea from not guilty to guilty to avert the necessity of calling Bishop Cannon, "thus revealing the prelate's gambling transactions."

Bishop Cannon said "it has never been proved that Kable & Co., conducted a bucket-shop." Glass had referred to Goldhurst, partner in this firm, as a "bucket-shop adventurer."

Messers Goldhurst and Kable and certain employees were charged not of conducting a bucket-shop but of using the mail with intent to defraud," he said.

Until Glass, he said, assumes "unquestioned legal responsibility for his statements he deserves the contempt of all honorable men as attemping the assassination of the character of one whom he hates because he opposed Senator Glass' political ambitions and defeated him in an open, fair, fight on the question of whether Virginia would cast her electoral votes for the wet Tammany candidate, Alfred Emanual Smith."

JOHNSTON PLANS SERIES OF BOUTS

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Jimmy Johnston, who will become vice president and general manager of Madison Square Garden tomorrow, already has laid plans for a series of top-flight heavyweight bouts this winter but he may have to get along without the services of Jack Sharkey.

There were strong indications Sharkey and his handlers were preparing to go into partial retirement until next summer on the theory the Boston sailor's exciting victory over huge Primo Carnera entitles Sharkey to a "shot" at Max Schmeling's title next summer.

Johnston's plans for the next few months included a return match, indoors, between Sharkey and Carnera, and another return battle between Sharkey and Tommy Loughran.

But now it develops that Sharkey's famous left thumb, cause of a 12-day postponement of the Carnera match, was hurt again Monday night and that Sharkey will be unable to fight for an indefinite period.

If Jack persists in his winter hibernation plans, Johnston will have to look elsewhere for his talent. It was understood that Ernie Schaaf, clouting Bostonian who is owned jointly by Sharkey and Sharkey's manager, Johnny Buckley, was prepared to step in and substitute for the sailor.

RAIL STATION DEDICATED

SANTA FE OFFICIALS HONOR GUESTS AT LITTLEFIELD

LITTLEFIELD, Oct. 14. (Special)—Ways in which a railway company and a chamber of commerce dovetail their activities in development of a territory in which they have mutual interest were reflected at an annual dinner of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, expressing appreciation of a new $60,000 Santa Fe station just completed here, last night in the First Baptist church basement. Railway officials and residents of other South Plains towns were guests.

Twenty-two Santa Fe officials, representing every branch of the company's lines from the vice-president and general manager on down to office girl, and about 150 Littlefield citizens and visitors were present. Arthur P. Duggan, president of the chamber of commerce, presided as toastmaster.

Officials present were: J. R. Hitchcock, vice president and general manager of the western lines; T. B. Gallaher, general freight and passenger agent; "Uncle" Avery Turner, general agent; J. N. Freeman, secretary-treasurer; W. W. Kelly, chief engineer; Bowman Jarrott, general claim agent; H. C. Pipkin, general attorney; Charles P. Walsh, general baggage agent; G. A. McCullough, car accountant; W. R. Irwin, claim adjustor; Ted Keine, building inspector; all of Amarillo; J. A. Gilles, division superintendent and his secretary, O. H. Osborne of Slaton; H. A. Tice, assistant to the general manager, of Pueblo, Colo.; R. F. Bayless, Lubbock, general freight and passenger agent; E. Kancher, Lubbock, division freight and passenger agent; E. A. Tusha, Lubbock, traveling freight and passenger agent; I. M. Robinson, chief clerk, Lubbock; and H. C. Pumphreys, general agent, W. N. Busey, cashier and Miss Pauline Bruce, office girl, of the Littlefield station.

Only One Built This Year

Following the singing of "The Eyes of Texas" and invocation by Rev. Bruce Meador, Mr. Duggan welcomed the guests and expressed his appreciation in behalf of the chamber of commerce and the town for the construction of the depot, the only one built on the western lines of the railroad this year. Mr. Duggan related incidents surrounding the arrival of the first train in Littlefield, July 2, 1913. Mr. Duggan's remarks were closed by quartet singing, Herbert Brown, Arthur Miller and Pryor joining him in a novelty number which received much applause.

T. B. Gallaher responded in behalf of the company officials urging a better understanding and cooperation between the community and the railroad, declaring that the railroads are now facing greater problems than have ever confronted them and citing what he said was discrimination against railroads in regulating their operations while other forces continued unshackled in competition.

Officials Introduced

Mr. Gallaher was followed by Mr. Pipkin who introduced each member of the rail "family," paying special tribute to "Uncle" Avery Turner, 84, dean of the Santa Fe men of this territory. He has been with the company for more than fifty years.

Mr. Hitchcock was then introduced and spoke briefly, thanking the people of Littlefield for their gracious hospitality, paying special tribute to the church women who prepared the meals.

One of the attractions of the evening came when Ranger Bob Miller entered the banquet room and arrested Chas. Walsh for "flirting with another man's wife and carryin' a pistol." He was handcuffed to Max Touchon, a truck line operator, which caused much laughter.

Following Mr. Hitchcock's talk, Mr. Tice made a few remarks in which he pointed out that the railroad company was not made up of a group of men who controlled its affairs entirely but that 60,000 stockholders over the nation were responsible along with the officials talk in which he thanked those in and employes.

Mr. Pumphreys, the local agent, closed the addresses with a short charge for the celebration.

Visitors from over the South Plains who were introduced included: Supt. Heatley of Hart's Camp schools; Ed Hart, Anton; H. P. Webb, C. C. Richards, and J. W. Hulsey of Olton; Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Adam and Miss Ruby Mashburn and Mr. and Mrs. LeGrange of Amherst; County Judge and Mrs. Simeon D. Hay; Maury Hopkins, of Plainview; H. D. Woods, H. L. Allen, C. W. Ratliff and A. B. Davis, of Lubbock; Henry Ansley of Amarillo and Fred Mangelsdorf of Atchison, Kas.

A song by Rainbow Girls, Olga Henson, Prudence Courtney, Onita Love, Virginia Mae Smith, Ellen Crockett, Esta Mae Connell and Halen Rowbeck, was given at the close of the program.

CHEST DELAYS DRIVE HERE

DIRECTORS TO MEET TUESDAY NIGHT TO SETTLE DATES

Completion of plans for an annual financial drive by the Lubbock Community Chest was delayed again Tuesday night at a meeting of the Chest board of directors. The directorate will assemble next Tuesday night to fix definitely the dates of the campaign.

The 1931-32 budget of the organization was set at $9,012 at a meeting of the directors on September 17 after the five member agencies had submitted estimates of the annual expenses. Directors at that time were unable to agree upon a date and the matter was deferred until this month.

The Chest's fiscal year ended October 1. About 87 per cent of the pledges for 1930-31 were collected, the secretary of the Chest reported. The secretary's annual report was submitted to the directors Tuesday night.

Directors present were: A. H. Leidigh, president, W. G. McMillan, W. B. Atkins, George W. Dupree, A. M. Scott, K. N. Clapp, Mrs. J. T. Krueger, and J. M. Gordon.

ADMITS GAMBLING WAS CARRIED ON

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Peter J. McGuinness, deputy commissioner of public works in Brooklyn, admitted to the legislative committee investigating city affairs today that gambling had been carried on in his Democratic clubhouse, but denied it was of a professional nature.

He said he repeatedly had tried to stop the gambling after a warning from John H. McCooey, Brooklyn Democratic leader.

Two Republican leaders also were questioned about gambling in political clubs. Deputy Sheriff Jacob Rosenberg testified the same conditions exist today in the Lincoln League Republican club as were found in 1926 and 1927 when police raided it. There is no professional gambling, though, he said.

John R. Crews, Republican leader of a Brooklyn assembly district, whose club also had been raided, said that Stewart had admitted to him that "there was a game, but it wasn't what you would call commercialized."

As purported evidence that gambling on a large scale had gone on in the McGuinness club, Samuel Seabury, committee counsel, produced papers from the clubhouse safe, obtained in a police raid nearly five years ago.

A tabulation of mathematical calculations, which police said referred to gambling profits, was read. It showed a total of $114,109 was "played" between January, 1927, and March 11, of that year, the day before the place was raided. An alleged profit of $14,713 was shown.

WARNS ON GAS APPLIANCES

FIRE MARSHAL URGES USE OF PRECAUTION TO AVOID FIRES

Inspection of heating equipment to determine whether connections and fittings are correct was urged by City Fire Marshal Wiley Metcalfe, who advised persons using movable gas heaters in homes and shops to exercise precaution.

"Rubber tubing, which is used as connections on many stoves, deteriorates with use and often develops cracks which allows gas to escape before it reaches the burners. Likewise, connections on metal tubing become worn and often allow the gas to escape at fittings. Where such conditions prevail explosions and asphyxiation of persons living in the buildings become imminent.

"Where properly handled gas heating plants are most satisfactory," he continued. "A little effort on the part of users of gas will eliminate these hazards."

City officials called attention to a section of an ordinance regarding the installation of gas appliances. Under the city law passed in 1929, all gas stoves in use within the fire zone must be connected solidly with regulation gas pipe. Rubber and metal tubings are not permitted within the zone, which includes the downtown business district. In the residential districts the tubings may be used on gas heaters, but all cook stoves and hot water heaters must be connected with pipe.

Fire department officials making inspections have been instructed to see that ordinance is followed, it was said.

NINE TOWNS SEND STUDENTS TO TECH CLASSES FROM THEIR HOMES EACH DAY

Wood is the only Shallowater resident who commutes to classes. Three come from Wilson to school. They are Elna Mueller, C. N. Roth, and Alfred Schaffner. Lorenzo representatives are: Bruce Bozeman, Eloise Bridges, Gerald Lokey, Eldon E. Lokey, and Orris Seale.

McKay Lauds U. S. Constitution Here

Dr. S. S. McKay, past president of the Lions club, Tuesday told Lubbock Lions the United States constitution was this nation's greatest contribution to the world field of political science. He spoke at a Columbus day luncheon of the club.

The speaker outlined the reasons for Columbus' trip to the New World, stating that the desire for a new trade route to India was perhaps the foremost reason.

"Our constitution is by far the greatest contribution of any nation leading to the development of culture and better living," he said. "The United States document has been copied more widely than any other similar document in the history of the world.

The 20 Latin American countries throughout their existence, have leaned heavily on the American constitution, as well as copying a great part of it. Several European countries have adopted similar ones since the World war."

E. L. Pitts, president of the club, presided. Fred Litton was in charge of the program. A women's quartet sang.
