Family Routed by Fire Unhurt As House Burns

Camps Lose Furnishings But Discover Friends

Fire discovered in their home, 865 East 9th St., at 12:30 a. m. Tuesday routed W. J. Camp, his wife and three children from their beds.

Camp, equipment operator for Dowell, Division of Dow Chemical Co. here, awoke to find the south bedroom wall of his home hot, smoking and smoldering. Smoke and heat caused him to awaken.

"It did not burst into flames until after my wife ran next door to turn in the fire alarm," Camp said today.

Camp grabbed a mattress on the bed next to the burning wall and started to remove it from the room. Before he could get the mattress out flames broke out and enveloped the room, apparently from inside the south wall.

Don Camp, 15-year-old son, was sleeping in the room where the fire started. He had awakened earlier because he was "getting hot," he told his parents. He opened both doors to his room and lay down again on a couch. He was asleep when his father roused him and told him to run.

3rd FLOOR CONTRACT

Lowest Bid Wins Court House Job

Local contractor Virgil Stone was awarded the contract for Court House third floor remodeling, Wednesday.

Stone's bid was lowest of three bids opened by County Commissioners Court for reading Tuesday. The local contractor offered a bid "not to exceed $31,252.25."

All contractors were asked to submit over-all bids plus alternate bids with clauses aimed at saving the county money on certain features: carpeting, ect. — without taking from the complete plan of interior renovation.

Bids studied this week were the second offered for the remodeling. Court had rejected all first bids submitted and asked for new bids on the project recently.

Abilene Construction Co. offered a bid of $38,259 and T. E. Shelbourne of Snyder bid $46,309 for the overall job in the second go-round for bidders.

County Commissioners Judge Elmer Martin, W. M. Vest, Drew Cawthron, J. C. Northcutt and Moody Richardson are to sign the contract with Stone Construction Co. Friday, the judge said.

Contract calls for starting work at once and completion within 60 calendar days.

First general improvement in the Court House since it was built and put into service in 1924 the third floor plan is the start of a "top-to-bottom" refurbishing and remodeling of the county structure.

"We have a good brick building," Judge Martin said "and when it is improved inside, the Court House should serve Mitchell County for another 40 to 50 years." Work is being done on a pay-as-you-go plan under the supervision of County Commissioners.

Specifications call for close refrigerated air and heating according to season. Acoustics in the district court will be complete system of.

ALLOTMENTS

Wheat Growers Get Quota Vote May 21

Notifies of 1964 crop wheat acreage allotments have been mailed to all wheat farm operators, says Leonard Long, Community Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

For most wheat farms, the Chairman explained, the allotment represents the farm's share of the 1964 national wheat allotment of 19.5 million acres. For small farms those with wheat allotments of less than 15 acres, the allotment represents the larger of (a) the farm's allotment based on the national allotment, or (b) 90 percent of the farm's average 1959-61 wheat acreage, but not more than 15 acres.

Long pointed out that all the wheat produced on a particular farm's wheat allotment acreage may be marketed free of penalty if marketing quotas are made effective for the 1964 wheat crop.

The question of whether to use marketing quotas for the 1964 wheat crop will be decided by wheat growers in a referendum on May 21. "Small Farm" operators will be eligible to cast ballots provided they register by May 13 their intention to participate in the 1964 program as an allotment grower. They will do this by signing in the space provided on the back of the regular allotment notice, MQ-24, and filing the notice at the ASCS County Office before the deadline.

Under quotas, a small farm operator who does not elect to participate in the wheat program as an allotment grower would be able to stay out of the program, and plant wheat up to the larger of his 1964 allotment or his 3-year base (but not more than 15 acres) without being subject to marketing quota penalties. Penalties would apply to wheat in excess of this limit. Such a grower will not be eligible for the 1964 program as an allotment grower.

Surviving are his wife; three sons: Cole L. Thrailkill of Stockton, Calif.; M. A. Thrailkill Jr. of Grapevine and Ira Joe Thrailkill of Modesto, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Wiman of Colorado City and Mrs. LeRoy Reagan of Lorraine; a sister, Mrs. S. L. Asbill of Modesto; 9 grandchildren including Thomas David Wiman of Colorado City, student in Hardin-Simmons; and 7 great-grandchildren.

Funeral service was in First Baptist Church at Roscoe Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Roscoe pastor the Rev. Raymond Harris and the Rev. Robert Brown of Oklahoma City were officiants and burial was in the cemetery at Champion.

ASCS OFFICE

Wool Applications Deadline April 30

Tuesday, April 30, is the last day for filing applications for payments for the 1962 marketing year under the wool payment program, Eddie R. Braswell, County Office Manager, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, reminded growers today.

The payments — to be made this summer — will cover shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed during the 12-month period, April 1, 1962 through March 31 of this year. Later marketings will be eligible for payments for the 1963 marketing year, which began April 1, 1963.

Office Manager Braswell stressed the fact that the program payments on wool and lambs will not be made unless the grower files an application which is supported with all the necessary sales records.

Sales records will be the basis for calculating the national average price received by farmers for wool during the entire 1962 marketing year. It is to the grower's advantage to file his application early. When the average price can be determined, payment rates for shorn wool and unshorn lambs sold during the 1962 marketing year will cover only a 9-month period — extending from April 1 of this year through Dec. 31, 1963. After 1963, the marketing year will be on a 12-month calendar.

The luncheon which signals formal opening of the festival will be attended by out-of-town guests from all West Texas and from as far away as Austin and Houston with local citizens playing host.

Chief address of the Dignitary luncheon is to be made by Robert W. Calvert, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas, Austin.

Two Houston attorneys James L. and Robert A. Shepherd, who grew up in Colorado City as sons of a one-time district judge, will also be special guests of honor and will deliver brief reminiscent addresses.

Charles C. Thompson, native Mitchell County, attorney and banker here, will preside as master of ceremonies. Special music will be presented by a group of college singers to be announced when invitation is accepted for certain. Garden Club members will again serve as decorators of luncheon tables and Chamber of Commerce office will be in charge of reservations and tickets for the affair.

Saturday night, May 11, will climax the two-day events with the selection of "Miss Tumbleweed" who will be winner of a scholarship at John Powers School for Models in Dallas and an all-expense trip to San Antonio for herself and her parents.

Both nights music by a Texas-top trio — the Brooks Trio of three sisters from Denton — will perform. They play the electric organ, the piano and drums. They sing. Both nights, too, a locally popular small orchestra will play as the contest is staged.

At 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, second day of Tumbleweed Festival, the annual parade will be staged with Bob Reilly as marshal. Reilly is general chairman of the Chamber of Commerce sponsored festival.

Bands from Coahoma, Lorraine and Colorado City, decorated the parade.

"Two Reasons For Flowers" Mrs. Ruth Airhart Says

"There are two reasons why we learn to arrange flowers," Mrs. Ruth Airhart told the members of the Plainview Home Demonstration Club at their recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Jesse Bohn.

Mrs. Airhart was guest speaker at the meeting.

"The first reason is to win blue ribbons," she said. "And the second reason is to beautify our homes."

"There are five elements and six principles in design. The elements are: form, line, pattern, color and texture. The principles are: balance, contrast, dominance, proportion, rhythm and scale. If you learn these and what they do in flower arrangements, you will know how to use all materials in arrangements," she said.

Mrs. Airhart told the group to first learn the basic rules of flower arranging, then make arrangements that are pleasing to themselves for home decoration. She said that in this way, an originality is achieved.

"The choice of the right container is very important," she said. "Usually a neutral tone is best. Be sure and start the line correctly by first placing the tall, light flowers and stems close together on the pin-point so they seem to all come from one place. But don't overcrowd or pick the flowers too tightly, giving them a bruised look.

"Let your flowers stand up, not seem to droop or look down. Make them have stability. Use restraint in your arrangements, especially the foliage," she said.

Mrs. Airhart told the members that materials should blend with the container. She said that after you have made the arrangement and it looks too solid, in foliage or flowers, take a pair of sharp scissors, do not pull any of the material out, but cut it out. She said that in this way, you do not loosen it in the pin-point and it will stand straight.

"If you remove one stem from the holder, you can cause the stems close to the one taken out to lean one way or the other and the arrangement will have a lop-sided effect. A good proportion to use in a flower arrangement is 2/3 solid or material and 1/3 void or open space," she said.

She advised strong against twisting, twisting or knotting flowers together compactly in arrangements so that they look like they have been knitted together.

She demonstrated the use of water-proof clay oasis or chicken wire to secure the arrangements.

Mrs. Airhart invited the members to the Colorado City Garden Club's Flower Show Saturday, April 27, from 3 to 6:30 p. m. She said that theme for this year's show was, "Salute to Spring."

Mrs. Swann Taylor opened the club's business session.

Guest, Miss Catherine Ann Smith, presented a prayer, followed by the opening song, "I WILL FOLLOW HIM." Now, this song, sung by Peggy March, tells how she's gonna follow this boy until she catches him.

The song in second spot is sung by Andy Williams, "CAN'T GET USED TO LOSING YOU." This song sung by a non-teen-ager, incidentally, tells the sad story of a young man who has lost his true love and just can't resign himself to the fact.

Bobby Vee, a clean-cut young American lad, sings the number three song, "CHARMS," that tells all about this 14-carat-gold charm bracelet that his girl is supposed to wear in the other fellow's face.

The number-four song is a surprise, indeed. It's "PUFF," sung by Peter Paul and Mary. It's a nursery-rhyme sort of tale about this magic dragon and a little boy who are the best of buddies and live in a land called Honatone.

"HE'S SO FINE," by the Chiffons, is the fifth most popular song. The entire record is devoted to the Chiffons extolling the fine points of their boyfriends.

A wild one is the number-six song, "BABY WORK OUT," by Jackie Wilson. The whole thing is a sort of jumbled-up affair with crazy music and those three words.

Seems that this was not meant to be a record in the first place. It was recorded at a practice session, and the words are ad-libs. But, guess that's the secret for a success.

The Shirelles tell the story on song number seven, "FOOLISH LITTLE GIRL." The heroine of the song had a boyfriend. But she didn't want him when she had him. Now he's getting married, and she's decided she wants back in the lineup. Hence the foolish little girl theme.

"PIPELINE," the number-eight song, is a strong instrumental type thing with heavy notes.

Texas-born Jill and Ray trill out the number-nine song, "YOUNG LOVERS." It's a sweet, slow ballad during which they wish each other good luck, along with all young lovers everywhere.

Bringing up the rear in Colorado City's top ten is Johnny Cymbal's "MISTER BASE MAN." This song concerns the adoration of a young fan of a singer who rings the base and the music is punctuated thoroughly with animal-like sounds that supposedly is what the base man sounds like.

You say these ten songs can't last long. No, they never do. But they are replaced by others, newer and wilder. And, after a length of time, even if you don't develop a taste for this type of music, at least you can learn to tolerate it.

But don't try to understand it.

Paragaphs By PEGGY BELVIN

NOWADAYS when your youngster locks himself in his room, turns on a radio or phonograph to blast-off volume, he's not just testing the breaking point of his eardrums.

He is listening to music.

And whether some consider these merry, mad-cap sounds as music or not, I do believe this type of melody-making is here to stay, at least as long as there is a younger generation.

And most of the songs that they listen to reveal their own emotions. Most of them tell of some sort of infatuation, maybe not so deep as love, but at least a going-steady-type of emotion.

FOR INSTANCE, look at the number one song in Colorado City, "I WILL FOLLOW HIM." Now, this tune, sung by Peggy March, tells how she's gonna follow this boy until she catches him.

The song in second spot is sung by Andy Williams, "CAN'T GET USED TO LOSING YOU." This song sung by a non-teen-ager, incidentally, tells the sad story of a young man who has lost his true love and just can't resign himself to the fact.

Bobby Vee, a clean-cut young American lad, sings the number three song, "CHARMS," that tells all about this 14-carat-gold charm bracelet that his girl is supposed to wear in the other fellow's face.

improved as another major feature.

Ceilings lowered from 15 feet to about 11.4 feet, acoustically insulated partitions are part of the acoustical improvement plan. New doors will be placed in the district court.

Judge's bench and witness stand will be raised to a new rostrum and refinished.

One of the most attractive features of the over-all plan is the moving of juror dormitories to third floor, adjacent to the district court room.

Two large rooms will be completely refinished as dormitories for women jurors. There will be a complete bathroom with tub and two built-in dressin tables complete with oval lavatories and mirrors with attractive tile tables for toiletries.

Men's dormitories for jury service will have shower facilities. Floors of entire third floor will be covered with vinyl asbestos tile.

Partitions will be moved to make the new floor plan take care of these newly-sized rooms; office of district judge, office of county reporter, an clerk, rest room, storage room extra office, office for district bar area (bar being that area where lawyers sit during court trials) spectator section for district court — to be made slightly smaller but still large enough to seat about 150 spectators.

There will be a new and larger jury deliberation room, the women's dormitory and bath, men's dormitory and bath utility room, men's hallway, public hallways.

Removal of juror rooms to third floor is expected to make more needed office space on second floor, the Court said.

Court House third floor is to have complete new lighting system.

"When we get third floor looking completely modern inside and out — a thing the newly bricked and paneled east and west windows will help to do — then Commissioners Court expects to start on second floor," said Judge Martin.

"In this case we're working our way down. First, top floor, then second floor, and finally the lower floor," he pointed out, "and we're holding to the money first, plans next, plans as we go along."

year basis, in line with recommendations by wool producers. Payments for 1963 and later marketing years therefore will be made beginning in April following the close of calendar year rather than beginning in July, as for 1962 and previous years.

Because of this future changeover, Braswell said there may be some confusion about just when applications for payment should be filed. He emphasized that applications are to be filed no later than April 30, 1963, for payments on marketings during the 1962 marketing year just ended. This includes sales made during January, February and March, 1963.

to vote in the referendum, however, and he would not be eligible for price support or diversion payments.

If at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum approve quotas for the 1964 wheat crop, price support will be available to participating growers who keep within their acreage allotment at (a) $2 a bushel, national average, on certificated wheat and (b) $1.30 a bushel, national average, on noncertificated wheat; and diversion payments will be made to growers on acreage diverted from wheat production into a conserving use (including the acreage reduction reflected in the farm allotment).

If more than a third of the growers voting in the referendum approve the 1964 crop support quotas, price support at 50 percent of parity (about $1.25 a bushel) will be available to participating growers who keep within their acreage allotments. Without quotas, no diversion program would be in effect. As in the past, the allotments will remain in effect, whether or not quotas are approved for the 1964 wheat crop.

FIRE—
Mrs. Camp awakened the two Camp daughters and 100 them hurriedly out of danger's way. The two little girls, Tonia, who is 5 and Bekie, 9, were sleeping in their bedroom alone.

Part of the living room and front bedroom furnishings were saved, some clothing for Mr. and Mrs. Camp was also removed in time. All clothing belongings of the Camp children were destroyed.

The Camp family carried no insurance for loss of personal property and furniture by fire. Camp estimated their loss at about $3,000.

"But you never saw a whole town come through to people in distress so fast," he said. "Colorado City people have been wonderful! Absolutely wonderful!"

"Calls and offers and gifts of necessities have come from everywhere—from church, friends, and perfect strangers," he said. "I have never seen anything like it in all my life," Camp said.

Mr. and Mrs. Camp are members of the Fifth and Elm St. Church of Christ. They moved here from Haskell five years ago.

The Camp family spent the rest of the night in the home of a neighbor Mrs. Bette Spragg, 945 Chestnut St. who turned her home over to them and went to stay with her parents Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Slagel, 845 Hickory, until the Camp family could relocate and get reorganized. For the time being Mr. and Mrs. Camp and their children are living in a furnished apartment, 865 East 9th St.

Fire Department and Colorado City Volunteer Firemen were praised by Camp for the efficient way they answered to the after-midnight fire alarm.

"Those boys moved with record speed," he said. "You've no idea until you have to have to see it how quick that group of men get to a fire, what team work they show. People just don't realize until they see it—at least I never saw a bunch of fellows get so much done so fast. Fire Department really deserves credit."

Flames had burst through the wall before firemen arrived. Fire may have been caused, firemen said, by wiring defects. Two wall plugs were part of the wiring in the south bedroom.

The fire was extinguished but had caused extensive damage to the house itself before the Camp family woke up and turned in the alarm.

Gus Chesney, owner of the house, gave no estimate of his loss. "I have some insurance on the house," he said "but until insurance adjusters get through figuring I just do not know whether or not the insurance will cover the full damage."

CONVERSATION CORNER

Oh what a monotonous world this would be if nobody ever dared disagree.

NOT OFTEN, as we go about our separate and mutual ways, do we find another fellow traveler whose ideas, beliefs, convictions and considered opinions coincide exactly with our own.

Disagreement on principle—preferably politely, of course—serves some of us like a whetting instrument. It sharpens the mind.

NOW here we are in sharp disagreement with one of our favorite gentlemen. Next to President John Fitzgerald Kennedy we like John Glenn the most.

Spaceman Glenn is witty, charming and vigorous. Smart, too. Stars in his eyes.

So now he goes and says right out loud on television that too many people are "fat, dumb and happy." It could have been just a speech-making attention-getter.

WHATEVER it was meant to be it did have a funny ring to scale-wachers, all us pre-space-age products, and anybody feeling fairly well satisfied with the world as is.

Who said you had to be fat to be dumb? Or dumb to be fat? And what has being happy to do with either one?

You simply can not generalize about things like the shape some people are in (avoidupois) or stupidity (inability to learn) or joie de vivre (sometimes called contentment).

SUCH THINGS—shape, state-of-mind and spirit—are kinda like blue eyes, curly hair and sex appeal. Either you've got 'em or you haven't got 'em.

Really fat people are almost never really dumb enough to be really happy about it, our articulate astronaut probably knows when he's not speaking tongue-in-cheek.

Personal observation is that being fat doesn't make you dumb. Nor does being dumb necessarily make you fat. Being fat comes from being hungry. Being dumb comes from being too lazy to seek improvement. Or count calories. Being happy comes. (Period.)

IT TAKES perception to be happy. You simply can't be very dumb and very happy at one and the same time, the way we see it. Cause if you're really dumb you're not smart enough to add all your little everyday joys to get the right answer.

The one thing it takes to be happy is the ability for weighing. Not weighing your spreading figure, either.

Weighing the things which you have against the things which you have not . . . and coming up with a fine, victorious feeling!

Let them vow contentment is rust
That eats into the mind.
Contentment, like unwavering trust,
Is for but the few to find.

LOCAL SCENE: It's the season now for some of our showiest spring flowers—irises everywhere, for instance. Have you seen the tall yellow ones and the bluish ones standing at attention in the yards of Ruth Airhart of 329 Pine St. . . . and those at the home of her sister Mabel Groves over on Chestnut?

Yellow roses are blooming like crazy on the T&P depot lawn . . . Roses of every color all over the Eastover addition . . . Fellow we know over on Dallas St. knows all of his by proper names and sometimes brings fistfuls of fine specimens to the office.

COFFEE BREAK brought out the Dale Warrens of long-time-no-see department . . . Luna and Henry Bilberry . . . A. L. (Mack) McSpadden . . . Gus Chesney . . . and Mae (Mrs. Glenn) Dunn . . . and Rush Barnett (The Rev.)

At First Baptist, Sunday morning saw attractive families including Margaret and Truman Bodine and their "chillen" and the Kay McCarleys with theirs . . . The Guy Bursons and pretty Virginia Turner (Mrs. John) sitting together . . . Juanita Schafer . . . Ethel Dawson.

HERE from Midland for a week-end celebration of several family birthdays were Bill and Sue Thompson Mathis, their son Kelly and daughter Lea, who were sitting with Sue's parents Linnie and Sam Thompson.

Saw Mrs. E. L. (Jack) Henderson, too . . . And pretty Theda Norman wife of our Hallie L. Norman of the Chamber office.

FROM the Bahamas came greetings from our Gillian McEntire who spent a recent holiday with a group of SMU girls at Paradise Island's Ocean Club. Gillian's a sorority house-mother at SMU this year, you'll remember.

The Les Bernards live in the leased McEntire home on Locust St. now.

PLEASANT faces making little office visits lately have been those of Alice (Mrs. Roy D.) Coles one of the Garden Club ladies getting ready for the annual Flower Show in Civic House, come Saturday.

Brother H. W. Bartlett of First Baptist which is having April revival services . . . George Womack of City National National Library Week-minded—no pun intended . . . And old friend Barney Wren.

GUESTS of the Rev. Claude and Mrs. Cogswell, during the recent Easter week-end, were their daughter and her husband Dr. R. W. Wheeler, plus the four Wheeler children from Commerce.

Dr. Wheeler, professor in East Texas State College, spoke to the Lions Club while here with the "Gifted Child" as his subject.

(Gifted child doesn't mean in this case one who has just had a birthday party.)

Lots of area

The curve ball, delivered much the same as a hook—lifted over the foul line while hand turns counter clockwise—covers considerably more alley than the hook.

A curve is delivered from a position just left of the 1-pin. It is lifted out toward the 6-pin with the hopes that it will slice into the pocket.

When properly delivered, it smashes between the 1 and 3-pins and chops into the 5-pin. It is this action which is required for a strike.

Unlike the straight ball, which is easily deflected by the pins, the curve ball blasts into the pins and mixes them up. (ADV.)

MOTHERS STATE OPINIONS

Should Teens Drive?

By PEGGY BELVIN
Record Women's Editor

Does owning or driving an automobile to school detract from a teen-ager's ability to attain a high scholastic average?

Should a teen-ager be allowed use of the family automobile?

Mothers of teen-agers in Colorado City interviewed for the Record's survey have varied opinions on these subjects

SEVEN OF THE MOTHERS interviewed approved of teen-ager's driving cars, while three of the mothers opposed it.

"I think that a teen-ager who is able to drive an automobile proficiently is a great help to himself and to his parents," said Mrs. Dean Washmon.

"The youngsters get a feeling of independence and the parents are freed from a 'taxi-cab' existence. At 16, when the teen-agers get their licenses, I think they should be allowed to drive, but with restrictions and with no passengers. At 17, or when the youngster has had experience, these restrictions can be lifted," she said.

"Teen-agers have never been allowed to drive automobiles in our family," said Mrs. James E. Payne.

"Boys should be allowed to drive only when they can afford to own a car of their own."

"I certainly do not think teen-aged boys or girls should be allowed use of the family car. In instances where transportation is essential, parents can drive them," she said.

"I THINK THIS IS A CASE that can only be determined by the individual teen-ager," said Mrs. Charles Summers.

"I think if they have had adequate instruction, such as Driver's Education in school, and have acquired a license, it is fine for them to drive."

"But I do not think they should be allowed to drive automobiles to school until they are senior students. By this time, I think they are older, more responsible and more settled down," she said.

"I agree that teen-agers should have experience in driving before being allowed the use of a car," said Mrs. Charles Root.

"I think they should learn by a school-taught course because a course such as this would be up-to-date on rules and driving standards."

"If teen-agers are experienced and are in high school, I see no reason why they should not be allowed to drive to school," she said.

MRS. CURTIS LATIMER said, "I do not think it is a good idea for teen-agers to be given use of an automobile, but so many times, it simply involves the parents having to take them when they have other responsibilities."

"The whole situation of school and social life requires their own transportation. I would like to do away with it, but I don't think it is possible," she said.

"I think it is fine for teen-agers to drive, after they get over the legal limit of 16, and of course, if they are licensed," said Mrs. Homer Hart.

"I too, think that 16 is a good age to allow teen-agers to drive," said Mrs. W. S. Rhode.

"I also think this includes driving to school as well as to other places. I do not think that they should be allowed under the steering wheel of a car until they are over the legal age limit for teaching them to drive," she said.

"I DON'T APPROVE of teen-agers having cars," said Mrs. J. L. Galey.

"I think age can mean some difference. I think older children have better reason to drive than younger ones. But when teen-agers begin driving, so do the parents' troubles begin. I certainly do think that having use of an automobile interferes with their school work. If they drive, they want to go somewhere constantly," she said.

Said Mrs. Fielding E. Lee, Jr., "I think it is fine for teen-agers to drive if they have a good driving background."

SAYS MRS. TAYLOR

"Five Principals In Costuming"

"There are five basic principals in putting a costume together," Mrs. Cricket B. Taylor, county home demonstration agent, told the members of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club at their recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Lon Strain.

Mrs. Taylor listed the principals as: harmony, the impression of unity through lines, shape, size, texture and color; proportion, pleasing space relationship; balance, restful effects obtained by grouping shapes and colors around a center in such a way that there will be equal attraction on each side of that center.

Rhythm, she told the members, is an easily-connected path along which the eye may travel; emphasis is dominance. The eye is carried first to the most important point, and from there to other details in order of their importance.

"An example of proportion in a costume is when an area that is divided into two or three equal parts is less pleasing than an area that has unequal division of space, such as two to three or three to five. The same principal of proportion also applies to the amount of color used," she said.

"A knowledge of these fine art principals eliminates guessing and frees us from indecision about clothing selections," she said.

She told the members that simplicity and common sense is the keynote to fashion. "Simplicity in fashion means well-constructed lines, beautiful materials, blended colors and skill and imagination in combining them."

She said that a good basic dress could be worn for any occasion by adding the right accessories.

"Accessories complete a costume and express the personality and taste of the wearer."

They can include hats, shoes, gloves, handbag, scarves, jewelry, belts, flowers and perfume. Choose accessories for the individual and occasion for which they are to be used. They should emphasize good features or minimize poor ones," she said.

Mrs. Virgil Moser modeled a black basic dress and by adding different accessories showed how it could be worn for travel, shopping, church, afternoon teas or parties and after-five occasions.

Refreshments were served to two visitors, Mrs. Virgil Moser and Mrs. Taylor and to the following members: Mmes. Sam Armstrong, Will Berry, C. C. Berry, Earl Hunter, R. E. McMillan, J. C. Womack, Ed. Strain, E. R. Uzzle and the hostess, Mrs. Strain.

Miss Wood Sings With NTSU Group

Miss Mildred Kathleen Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wood, 505 Oak St., performed Tuesday, April 16, in a joint concert by the North Texas State University Women's Chorus and the Percussion Ensemble.

The program included three sections of songs by the 35-voice chorus and six numbers by the 10-member ensemble. Dr. David C. McGuire of the NTSU music faculty directs both groups.

A member of the Women's Chorus, Miss Wood is a senior music education student at NTSU.

Mrs. W. C. Wood visited Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dufm and family of Loraine last week-end.

"I do not approve of teen-agers driving to school. I think many times this is just a way for parents to get out of having to take them themselves," she said.

Mrs. A. A. Free said, "I think this, too, depends on the age of the youngster in question. When they are old enough to drive and have their license, I think it is a good idea to allow them use of the family car on occasion.

"But I think that if a teen-ager wants a car bad enough he will be willing to go out and earn the money to buy one," she said.

Women who cook electrically know...

Electric cooking is COOLER because it's flameless

Flameless electric cooking units fit snugly against pan bottoms. They put their heat into the pans where it is needed, not into the kitchen air. With an electric range your kitchen stays degrees cooler when you cook. And there is less kitchen heat for your air conditioner to remove.

An electric range oven is insulated all around, including the bottom, to keep heat inside where it belongs. This is possible because the electric oven, being flameless, does not require a flow of air into and out of it to support combustion. Result: your kitchen stays cooler when you are baking or roasting.

Electric cooking also is clean, fast, accurate and economical. See your dealer soon for a flameless electric range and enjoy all these benefits. Electric cooking is one of the nicest things about living better... electrically.

BLE-RING RITES FRIDAY

Miss Linda Gay Sprott Wed To Jerry Loyal Cain

Linda Gay Sprott, bride of Jerry Loyal Cain, was married Friday night April 13, in the Street Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. James H. Sprott and Pecos Sts. and is the son of Mr. and Edward Cain, 21st and Sts.

Rites were read by Rev. Campbell before an arch of white greenery and on either side by basel with white gladioli. Wed. dills hung from the center arch and a candle stood on either side.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a 2-piece suit of bone-white rayon. Her jacket was styled with a ruffled collar with ties at the center bodice. She wore white accessories and carried a white Bible.

Ushers were Mrs. Ann Shoff, organist, and Mrs. Bill Drabble, sister of the groom. The wedding music was by Mrs. Ann Shoff.

Miss Barbara Ilene Kidd Bride Of Billy J. Long

Miss Barbara Ilene Kidd became the bride of Billy J. Long in a double-ring ceremony Saturday evening April 24 in the First Methodist Church to Loraine.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Kidd and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Jones, all of Loraine.

The Rev. Frank Story, pastor, read the vows before a large cathedral arch of green and white candles, flanked by two smaller cathedral arches. A tall basket of white gladiolus and lilies stood in the center of the arches, flanked by seven branched candelabra. Pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional white wedding gown of chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice was styled with a point in the center front waist. The scalloped sash and neckline was accented by sequins. The long, fitted sleeves tapered to points at the wrists. The bouffant skirt was fashioned with rows of lace down the sides.

Her fingertip veil of white silk illusion was attached to a crown of lace and seed pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of red roses atop a white Bible.

Mrs. K. L. Taylor played pre-nuptial wedding music, the wedding march and accompanied Vicki Baird of Sweetwater, who sang "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Miss Joyce Lynn Furlow of Loraine was maid of honor and Jean Kidd, sister of the bride and Sandra Cushing, both of Loraine, were bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of white organdy over white taffeta.

Their street-length dresses were fashioned with fitted bodices that tapered to points at the center front of the waists. They wore matching head pieces with tiered white veils.

Miss Furlow carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and Misses Kidd and Cushing carried single long-stemmed red roses.

Miss Tammy Hudson of Abilene, cousin of the bride was flower girl. She was attired in a bouffant skirted dress of aqua organdy.

Mrs. Royce Walker of Roscoe, cousin of the bride, and Miss Katrina Wells of Loraine, lighted candles. They wore aqua organdy dresses styled identical to those of the attendants. Their flower wristlets were of white carnations.

Groomsmen were Clovis Hale of Loraine and Neil Overstreet of Huntsville.

Gary Parnell of Loraine and Jerry Gage of Abilene, cousin of the groom, were ushers.

The reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the wedding ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of white gladiolus and lilies flanked by double candle holders with lighted candles.

The white wedding cake was served with punch from crystal and silver appointments.

Members of the houseparty were Misses Ann Dickenson, Beth Shepherd, Annette Browning, Dora Griffin, all of Loraine, Miss Linda Darden of Roscoe registered guests.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride chose a two-piece suit accented with a corsage from her wedding bouquet.

Wolf Tracks

by Bill and Larry

Wolves travel to Sweetwater Tuesday, May 1, to play their next to the last district ball game. Wolves defeated the Ponies 4:1 in their last meeting.

Brownfield comes to town Friday, May 4, in both teams; last district ball game of the season.

Some of the players who haven't seen much action this year have been a great asset to the team. Without these boys the team would be hurt. Most of these boys are sophomores and have two more years of high school left. When they are seniors, they will be fine baseball players.

Boys on the team would like to express their appreciation for the hard work Coach Walker has put out on their behalf.

Charles Houston is leading the Wolves in the batting department. Among his accomplishments are 18 runs, 18 RBIs, 5 home runs, and a .500 batting average. Behind Houston in the statistics are Mike Hart, Denzil Pender, and Sue Holman.

I have often regretted my speech, but never my silence.

Have you ever noticed that funny "gait" of Judy Rodgers?

During recent play practice, Miss Gladys Miller became quite alarmed at this "different" method of walking. Judy, who is supposed to be a "hard-boiled" police woman with a commanding stride, "bounces" across the stage with a gait that, according to Miss Miller, is neither human nor animal.

Since seniors in the pub room have been concentrating on ideas of possible future activities of all seniors, I feel that we juniors should be privileged to dream also. Although these ideas may be a little far-fetched, they are my visions of how certain juniors may be occupied in years to come.

Journalists Hear Program

"Improving the Climate for High School Journalism" was the program topic at a meeting of Quill and Scroll in the publication's room April 11.

Presented by Lana Shurtleff, the program concerned the decreasing quality of high school journalism, especially in northeastern states. Author of the program, Gertrude Kemp, Associate Professor of Journalism at Indiana University, believes that the subjects of English and journalism should be combined. She suggests that required subjects should be limited so that more students might take journalism.

Members present at the meeting were Lana Shurtleff, Judy Rodgers, Mary Smith, Lynne Witten, Gene Bates, and Larry Damborsky. Mrs. Gerald Gordon sponsors the organization.

Cheerleaders Accepted for SMU School

Myrna Feaster, senior head cheerleader, has informed the Howl that the 1963-64 pep leaders have been accepted for the SMU Summer Cheerleading School in Dallas.

Judges will be instructors of the school, college and university cheerleaders. Judging will be on personality, audience participation, and originality. See CHEERLEADERS Pg. 6

 The girls also plan to attend a cheerleading school in Snyder which will be held in June.

 Gene and Linda will leave Colorado City by bus or train on June 22 for their six weeks enrollment. Funds for their transportation to and from school will be provided by the National Science Foundation.
 Students will be housed in new air-conditioned dormitories. Meals will be served in the cafeteria on campus.
 Applications, letters of recommendation, transcripts, and national testing scores were mailed to the school for consideration in March. Letters of acceptance were received by the students in mid-April.
 Gene was also offered a scholarship to St. Cloud State College in Northridge, Minnesota, but he declined in order to attend the California institute. Neta Erwin, Gene, and Linda were chosen alternates to institutes hosted by the University of California.

A shopping trip to Juarez provided entertainment for members of the Wolf Band during a recent trip to El Paso. The visitors purchased everything from purses, pictures, and jewelry to knives, horns, and bongos, only to learn that the first price asked was not always correct.
 Problems occurred when time came to load the extra bundles on the home-bound bus. However, wizardry of the loading crew boys found places for everything, and souvenirs around CHS show evidence of a Mexico trip.
 On the return trip, passengers on one bus discovered a "stowaway." This "passenger" was greeted by screams from girls who discovered it.
 Near Midland, one band member felt that the little "guest" had reached its destination; so, with much haste, it was tossed out a window.
 Who would have ever thought a small, innocent roach could cause so much excitement?

Yes. The exact model Plymouth that beat Chevrolet and Ford can be in your driveway tomorrow.

A customer walked into a Plymouth dealership the other day and asked where he could get a Fury just like the one that beat Chevrolet and Ford in 8 out of 10 tests at Riverside. The Plymouth salesman grinned broadly and said, "Mister, you're leaning on one!" The point is, the exact model Plymouth that performed so well at Riverside—winning every acceleration test, the handling test, both passing-safety tests, and the gas economy test—is performing just as well for thousands of new Plymouth owners every day. (There's probably one sitting in your Plymouth Dealer's showroom this minute, with a 5-year/50,000-mile warranty* in the glove box.) See and drive the 1963 Plymouth!
