Water To Lake Champion

Lines To Be Completed In May

The Mitchell County Utility Co., announced Saturday plans to pipe treated water from Colorado City to Lake Champion.

The lack of availability of treated water at Lake Champion has been cited by many for the lack of development around Lake Champion.

Glenn Hemphill, owner of Mitchell County Utilities Co., said he has purchased 53,000 feet of 4-inch water line from Sun Oil Co.

The line purchased from Sun ran from Colorado City along Highway 208 to the Jameson Refinery. Sun Oil Co., made the pipeline available to Mitchell County Utilities because of their interest in helping the community.

In addition to the 53,000 feet of pipe purchased from Sun, an additional 30,000 feet of 2, 3 and 4-inch pipe will be installed to have a complete water service along the east and southeast shores of Lake Champion as well as a portion of the Northwest shore, Hemphill said.

Hemphill said the project, which could cost some $100,000 should be completed by late May. He anticipates that the line will serve some 200 residents along Highway 208 and in the Lake Champion area.

Mitchell County Utilities now serves residents throughout the Lake Colorado City area and the Spade community with water and gas.

The extension of the water line to Lake Champion is being done through the cooperation of Texas Electric Service Co., the city of Colorado City and Mitchell County Utilities.

City from Texas Electric, treats the water and then sells the water to Mitchell County Utilities.

Hemphill expressed his thanks to City Manager J. A. Sadler Jr., for his help in working out details of the project.

The extension of the project has been endorsed by Texas Electric which built Lake Champion and Lake Colorado City. The city of Colorado City buys water out of Lake Colorado

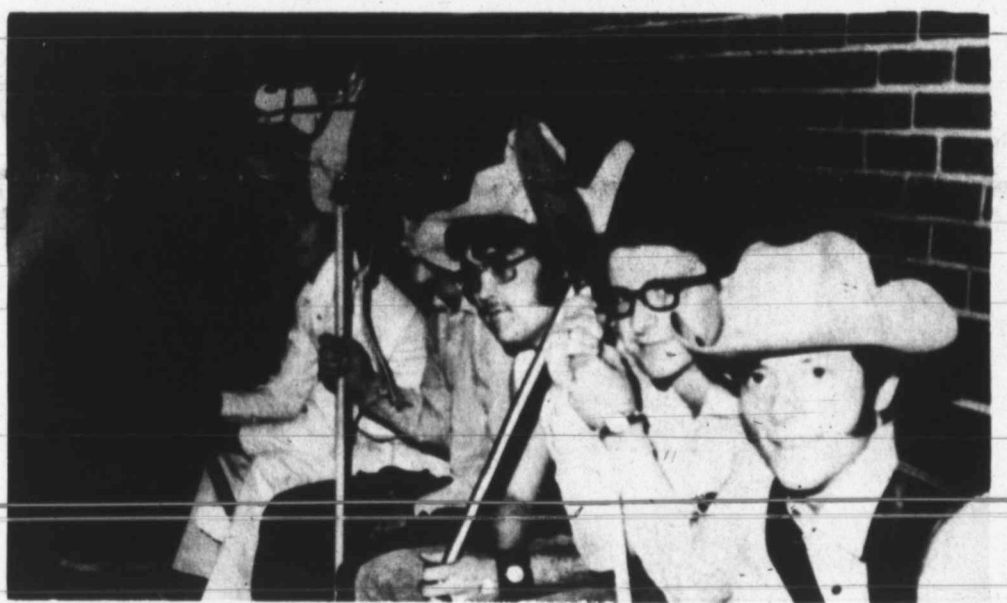

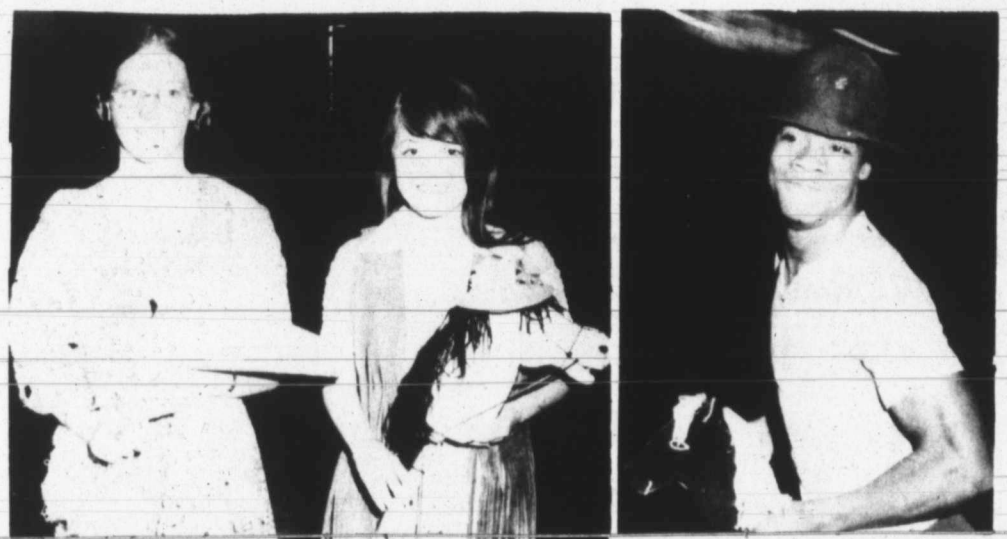

City from Texas Electric, treats the water and then sells the water to Mitchell County Utilities.

Hemphill, with the help of Sadler and others, has been working for two years to provide treated water to Lake Champion.

The lack of water has caused many who would like to have cabins and trailers at Champion to go to other lakes. The only source of water now at Lake Champion is the few wells that exist in that area or the lake water itself.

Jackson, top right, won the race over all the other classes. He was winner of the senior class race and raced against the winners of the other three classes. The winners of the other three classes who raced against Jackson for the finals were, Junior, Calvin Belvin; sophomore, Steve Bolin; and freshman, Kyle Moore. Town Talk

By Mac McKinnon

There are four elevators, to my knowledge, in Mitchell County.

And now, Mitchell County commissioners have budgeted some $25,000 to put one more elevator in the county, this one in the three-story courthouse.

The courthouse is the second tallest building in the county. But it has the widest stairs with the slightest slope of any in the county. The stairs in the courthouse are such that there is only a very small percentage of county residents who, because of health and/or age cannot climb the stairs.

Out of that small percentage who cannot climb stairs, there is only a very few who have any need to climb to the second or third floors of the courthouse.

On the third floor of the courthouse is the district courtroom, offices of the district clerk, reporter and judge and the driver's license office. The driver's license office should and could be moved to the ground floor.

On the second floor, is the county courtroom, veteran's service office, county school superintendent, justice of the peace, county attorney and district attorney.

Probably the most prevailing need for those few who cannot climb the stairs to get to the upper stories of the courthouse is to answer a summons for jury duty. However, they can be excused by presenting their health status to proper authorities on the ground floor.

Therefore, the conclusion seems obvious: The county courthouse does not need an elevator. To install an elevator would be an extravagant waste of precious money, money which could be better used on the many many needs of our county.

Ever since it was revealed that the county was considering the installation of an elevator, I have heard nothing but outrage and guffaws about how ridiculous the situation is.

An elevator in the courthouse is the least of our worries, the last of our needs.

In all fairness to County Commissioners, it must be said the remainder of the budget to spend revenue sharing funds was a good one, with many needed items being provided for.

But there are many other items that could have been included had not the elevator been included.

For some reason, it has become a tradition of counties See TALK Page 6

No CAP

County Courthouse To Have Elevator

Mitchell County Commissioners Thursday prepared a budget to spend the remaining portion of 1972 revenue sharing money and revenue sharing money to be received in 1973, money that amounted to almost $159,000.

In preparing the budget, the commissioners, on a motion by Paul Hunter, seconded by Marcus Vest, voted for the county not to assume the operations of the Community Action Program which would have cost about $21,000 to operate for a year.

The federal government is abolishing the Office of Economic Opportunity which is the parent organization of CAP. Mitchell County CAP executive director Mrs. Bob (Jon) Shamburger appeared before commissioners Tuesday and asked that they consider taking over the program.

Federal funding for CAP which, its proponents say, has helped take more than a 100 persons of welfare rolls and has aided some 2,700 individuals, will end April 30 and since the county has decided not to take on the project, CAP's activities will be disbanded.

However, commissioners did say that two of CAP's activities the well-baby clinic and planned parenthood clinics, should be continued and that the county should do all it could to continue these programs.

Commissioners decided to spend $23,269, the remaining amount of more than $130,000 revenue sharing money received in 1972, to repair and replace streets and roads damaged during inclement weather this winter.

The $135,675 which will be received in 1973 from the federal government in revenue sharing checks, was budgeted in the following manner:

--Elevator and courthouse renovation, $45,000.

--Mitchell County Cemeteries, $2,500.

--Widening county bridges, $16,000.

--Mitchell County Library $6,275.

--Aged-Medical programs $3,500.

--Sidewalk, paving Community Center, $4,000.

--Electrical repairs, painting county barn, $3,200.

Mrs. Dennis Wright and Mrs. Tom Neff were speakers for the meeting.

Mrs. S.A. Palmer introduced Mrs. Wright who spoke on "Re-creating Civic Beauty".

She spoke on the "Operation Pride" project, which "was set up in an open meeting with all townspeople invited."

"The purpose was to make people aware of the problems in the town."

"Some of the things accomplished was to get the city to pass an ordinance requiring the use of racks and covered cans for garbage; one building was condemned and removed and there are numerous other places needed to be removed for the safety of the people."

"After a few years 'Operation Pride' was turned into 'Community Development Project'. They have no funds and no authority, but are concerned with making the city more beautiful."

"We as citizens tend to blame our city council, when what we need to do is acquaint ourselves with the real facts in each problem," she continued.

"The public should look at the city ordinances to see how many were out-dated and need to be brought up to date," Mrs. Wright concluded.

Mrs. Tom Neff began by saying, "I am very optimistic about the things the Community Development would be able to do."

Members of the committee are Mac McKinnon, Mrs. Joe Weaver, Don Banta, Mrs. Danny Barber, Bob Reiley and Mrs. Neff.

"The aims of this committee is to renew the interest in the downtown area--look at the older buildings, many of them are really handsome. Some can be renovated using the original fram work."

"A pleasant colorful store is one a customer will want to come back to."

Mrs. Neff pointed out a number of areas in the town that could be made into rest areas and mini parks and stated that interest is growing in a plan to make a new mall in the city.

She concluded by saying "Bloom where you are planted."

Mrs. Mary Piller was guest for the meeting and members present were Mrs. Earl Brown, Mrs. S.A. Palmer, Mrs. A.H. Jackson, Mrs. George Willis, Mrs. Fielding Lee Sr.

Sound Advice
A new concept in helping the hard-of-hearing
By HOMER SCOTT

Up until the past few years, a lot of hearing aid dealers sold only one brand of hearing aids. Not that it mattered. The differences between brands were small, the technology was relatively unsophisticated, and the aid you bought was Mr. Homer Scott probably as good as any.

Today, this has changed. We are specially trained and qualified hearing aid specialists—not just dealers. We carry a wide variety of hearing aids. From different manufacturers. And more importantly, we don't rest until we fit you with an aid that answers your problem.

If you hear sounds but can't always understand the words—a classic symptom of nerve deafness, you owe it to yourself and those most dear to you to come in for a free hearing test to see if we can help you. I will hold my regular monthly center at:

Villa Inn Motel, Colorado City, Monday, March 19, 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

Perhaps I can help you HEAR YOUNG AGAIN. No obligation whatever.

Arnold Parker

Student Profile

By Cornelia Helm

Arnold Parker isn't given to words. Comment from him is rare, but, as peers and elders agree, well worth waiting for.

Classmates josh him about his reticence, affectionately nicknaming him "Mr. Excitement", but when he does give his opinion, everybody listens.

His football teammates listen perhaps most of all. During football season, the Wolves were playing exceptionally well in one game, so Arnold broke his habitual watchful silence to say quietly, "Now that's the way to block." As Buckets Hallford, another member of the team, put it: "Then we knew things were really going good!"

Sports are a year-round occupation for Arnold; football in the fall, basketball after that, track in the spring (he excels in throwing the discus), and baseball in the summer.

"He's played all sports every year since he was old enough to start," says his father, Arnold Parker, Sr., with more than a touch of pride. "He's quite, but he stays busy. And he's a pretty nice guy!"

"He's dependable," says his head coach, Weldon Brevard. "Ask him to do something, and he'll take care of it. He's an outstanding athlete--we're counting on him for next year."

Judging from Arnold's past, Coach Brevard's confidence is well-placed --- and shared by everyone who knows Arnold. It's nice to have someone like him to count on!

TALK

throughout Texas, and throughout the rest of the nation I suppose, to ignore the fact that people within the cities of that county also pay county taxes.

Now it is true that revenue sharing money isn't county tax money but it does come from income tax, which people in the cities of Mitchell County also pay.

There are obvious needs within the cities of Mitchell County. The county could and should help the cities. They have been doing so to some extent, but more help is needed.

The county could help the cities of Colorado City, Lorraine and Westbrook with paving and seal coating streets. The ice storms of this past winter damaged streets to such an extent that these cities are unable to make adequate repairs because of limited funds.

The commissioners made provisions for recreation in their budget but it amounted to only $6,000. That won't go very far, considering the recreation needs in the three cities of the county.

The list of pressing needs in the county could go on and on. The Commissioners have made their decision. Hopefully it isn't too late for them to correct this lavish waste of money on an elevator. They're reasonable men and will listen to the public. Tell them how you feel about an elevator.
