'Take It Out—They're Running Me Wild'

"Take it out—they're running me wild," said J. R. Thomas of the McLain and Thomas Real Estate Co. Monday, referring to a classified advertisement he inserted in the Herald last week. His ad was for a furnished apartment and he had it rented shortly after the Herald came out. In addition, he said he had many telephone calls and visits regarding this apartment. So "take it out" he said, proving once again that Herald classifieds get results. What do YOU have to advertise?

Annual Red Cross Campaign To Open Monday In County

Goal Is Set At $3,000 Within Week

The annual Red Cross drive for Ochiltree county will open Monday, March 3, with a goal of $3,000 to be collected in the county. Gene Akers, chairman of the fund drive, said that the workers intend to complete the drive within a week. Of this $3,000 a total of $973 will go to the National Red Cross and the rest will stay here.

The drive this year will be made on the basis of personal contact, Akers said. There will be no mail solicitation, no coin containers in the business houses. Workers will canvass the business and residential districts for contributions.

Those who desire to contribute to the Red Cross may do so at either bank or at the Stewart Printing Co.

The recently named election judges in the ten voting precincts in the county have been named to canvass the rural areas, and there have been named captains for canvassing each residential street in Perryton.

Local Red Cross expenditures have been made during the past year for groceries, clothes, utilities and medicine for needy families; there have been a number of home nursing and first aid courses taught which require purchase of equipment; aid has been given to soldiers' families and veterans. Akers pointed out in stressing the need for local Red Cross funds.

Street captains for the drive are as follows:

Amherst, Mrs. Frank Moon; Baylor, Mrs. Mark Burton; Colgate, Mrs. R. T. Correll, Drake, Mrs. Gene Brillhart; Elton, Mrs. Max Boyer; Fordham, Mrs. J. F. Cox; Grinnell, Vance Apple; Harvard, G. T. Leatherman.

Ash, Mrs. Lonnie Sultor; Birch, Mrs. Don Boyle; Cedar, Mrs. Howard Slaughter; Date, Mrs. N. B. Griffith; Elm, Mrs. Alva Drake; Brillhart avenue, Alton Boxwell; Main street, Fred Huebner.

Any volunteers are welcome to assist any of these drive captains, Akers said.

No Physicals for Local Board During March

While Local Board No. 99, serving Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hansford and Hemphill counties, is to send six men for induction on March 21, there will be no March call for physical examination.

This local board is one of 47 in the state which will not get a call for March pre-induction physicals. Mrs. Norma G. Phelps clerk of the board, said these boards are those with no available men 21 years old or older for examination.

The March physical examination call in the state will include only those 21 or older. All of the men in this group have been examined and are waiting induction, Mrs. Phelps said.

Light Snow Visits Area

A light snow visited the Perryton area Sunday and Monday, bringing a taste of moisture to the dry fields, but the snow blew too much to be of very great benefit to the wheat.

A total of .15 inch of moisture was reported from the snow, which fell lightly Sunday afternoon and night, with continued flurries Monday morning.

The snow was measured at about two inches, but after it had melted under the balmy weather Monday afternoon, the ground was far from saturated.

The snow was general over the Panhandle, with some sections reporting considerably more moisture than was received in the Perryton area. Liberal, to the north, reported 25 inch of moisture from snow during the same period.

No Candidates Yet for County School Board

The terms of J. H. Kershaw, precinct 1; H. B. Urban, precinct 3; and L. R. Conner, member-at-large, expire this year. Holdover members are Virgil Olmstead, precinct 2, and J. H. Callahan, precinct 4.

Two Persons Are Slightly Injured In Saturday Wreck

Two persons were slightly injured and two automobiles were damaged in a collision Saturday afternoon at the intersection of S. Amherst and 13th avenue. Involved in the accident were Marvin Genuchi, driving a 1951 Studebaker, and Lindsay McWilliams, driving a 1950 Studebaker.

Injured in the wreck were Mrs. Lindsay McWilliams and Larry Genuchi, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Genuchi.

The accident occurred as the Genuchi car was traveling north on Amherst and the McWilliams car was going east on 13th avenue. They met in the center of the intersection, according to deputy sheriff Clyde Tarbox, who investigated the accident.

Mrs. McWilliams was thrown out of the car by the impact, and the McWilliams car skidded 33 feet after the collision, Tarbox said.

Both Mrs. McWilliams and the Genuchi youngsters were treated at local hospitals.

Damage to the Genuchi car was estimated at $400 and $150 was estimated to the McWilliams car.

A Tale of Two Cities

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Newsfeatures
FRANKFURT, West Germany—This is the tale of two cities sharing the same name but not one destiny.

The ruins of Frankfurt-on-Oder are still bleak after seven years of peace. It has lost nearly a third of its population. Two things are growing: the cemetery and the Communist party.

In the erstwhile ruined city of Frankfurt-on-Main, the skyline is pierced by towering new buildings. The traffic din in its streets is like Times Square. Its population is back to pre-war size. Trade booms.

Both Frankfurts are occupied by foreign troops. On the Main, young Americans from Syracuse, Des Moines, and Chattanooga squire local girls to movies and dances, and patronize the big gift shops with gusto. On the Oder, the icy suspicion of the Russian garrison is reinforced by barbed wire and armed sentries. Fraternization is punished by court martial.

As always, Frankfurt-on-Oder faces east. The muddy river flowing towards the Baltic sea is Germany's new frontier with Poland. Beyond it is a security zone 20 miles deep where a stranger is hunted down like an animal by Polish guards and Soviet troops.

Rumor claims that anti-Red partisans hide out there. If so, they are far outnumbered by common smugglers. In an economy of want, desperate men risk their lives for a contraband pound of pork fat. On the river bank, Frankfurt huddles in ragged apathy.

Faded red banners, hailing Stalin and the Communist version of peace, hang over dreary streets. The chronic shortage of electricity at night plunges the city into a darkness to match its spirit.

Westward 295 miles is another Frankfurt, traditionally larger and luckier.

Both cities were named for river fords which Frankish tribes discovered in ancient times. But Charlemagne, the greatest Frank, ignored the Oder and held a royal convocation on the Main. Here the poet Goethe was born and the Rothschilds amassed fabulous wealth.

The most notable German effort in history to achieve democracy—the 1848 national assembly—was initiated here. This prosperous city faces west.

Communist Banking Business

MOSCOW (AP)—Fifteen new savings banks are to be opened in Moscow in 1952 it has been announced here.

The newspaper Moscow Pravda said the number of depositors in savings banks in the capital has "greatly increased." The announcement said 150,000 more persons had savings accounts at the end of 1951 than at the end of the previous year.

Russia Cracks Austrian Whip

VIENNA (AP)—Soviet authorities recently inspected Austrian schools in their occupation zone to check the progress of Russian language courses, a spokesman of the Austrian Ministry for Education said recently.

In schools where but little interest was found on the part of the pupils to learn Russian or where records showed insufficient progress, the inspecting officers blamed the leader of the school and the respective teachers for sabotaging the education plans.

The Soviet officials also demanded the showing of Soviet films in the schools. Teachers were to be held responsible for a complete attendance at these performances.

Oldsters Keep Working

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A lot of oldsters here are convinced that retirement kills more persons than hard work.

Typical of those still on the job is P. M. Kokanour, 86, who runs a print shop which he opened 22 years ago. "It keeps me young in spirit," says Kokanour who has been a printer since he was 17.

Alfred Davies, 76, opened a clock repair shop here two years ago and says business is fine. Another 76-year-old man, Ralph L. Chapman, retired once and didn't like it. Now he has his own cigar stand and is already planning to expand the business.

Howard Carter had steers in both the heavy and light weight classes. He along with Kaye and Lynn will take part with their stock in the Junior Sale Tuesday evening.

V. V. Ratzlaff and Leon Morris have cattle in the Hereford Breeders Show and Sale to take place Tuesday.

Mrs. Leon Morris and Mrs. Carl Carter attended the meeting of the Iris Unit Garden Club at Beaver in the home of Mrs. Dean Calhoun, Monday evening.

Mrs. C. W. Foote attended a training program in Lubbock this week sponsored by the Methodist Church.

General Government 'Grants' Some of Our Money Back

WE, Tex., Feb. 25—With much of the federal government's "granted" Texas this year two-thirds of the road money paid in taxes to the treasury, according to an American Statesman produced in the last issue of West Texas Today, the Editor's Note Book" in a newspaper contained the following: "The Texas Highway Department announced that the federal government has "granted" Texas $26,681,000 for highway aid in the coming fiscal year.

"The state's program, including $15 million direct appropriation for lateral roads, regular state gasoline-tax supported work, and federal matching, runs a little over $100 million a year. "But the point is that the federal government takes a great deal more than any $26 million out of Texas in road-use and motor, vehicle taxes every year, and thus the state gets back a lot less than it contributes in taxes designed to support the highway program.

"Texans fared well in the generous federal "grants," with only New York getting more refunds of the money collected from citizens of a state.

"But the federal money comes back with a lot of strings. For one thing, no matter what the state's needs, nor its local road financing program, it is limited to $14,305,046 for construction of primary highways. It is required by a federal fiat to limit secondary and feeder roads to $9,577,321; and it is graciously permitted to ask the government to apply $2,799,612 to expressways and urban projects.

"To get any item of the federal grants Texas must prepare plans according to federal specifications, award contracts and supervise construction, all subject to federal approval.

"The allotment itself was made in proportion to area, population and mileage of postal roads, mileage and population of rural areas, population of urban areas and so on.

"Based on the state's collection of gasoline taxes, the federal government took more than $37 million out of the state in gasoline sales tax levies alone; besides which it collected a lot of taxes on motor vehicles, tires, tubes, automobile accessories and parts. Texas will get back probably two-thirds the amount it paid, and that with strings attached.

"This is a perfect example of the type of thing the voters of Texas and the United States ought to wipe out next year, and they ought to be mighty sure that the votes they cast will be effective in that direction.

"It is no generous boon and benevolent grant to give back to Texas half the money taken away from it in road-use taxes.

"It is no benefit to Texas to support a horde of federal bureaucrats out of the money taken away from motorists in the form

Scout Leaders School Tonight

A Scout leaders training course will be held Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock at the First Christian church for Scoutmasters and members of troop committees. Dave Agnew of Guymon field Scout executive, will be in charge.

Present will be Scoutmasters and troop committeemen from Scout Troop 57 at Booker; the new Scout troop sponsored by the Christian church; and leaders of Troop 55, sponsored by the American Legion.

Irvin Hergert is Scoutmaster of the new Christian Church and Dean McCutcheon is troop committeeman.

of federal taxes.

"It is no compliment to the intelligence of Texas road-builders, highway planners and construction supervisors to require them to come into some federal agency for approval on every phase of projects in which the state puts up money, in order to get federal matching from the money turned back to the state.

"Texas has a highway commission and department which have spent more than a billion dollars. Except for one politically-animated administration, this program has been administered without criticism or complaint, and the Texas highway program now for many years has been the emblem of efficient, honest administration and supervision.

"The point now is why should Texas be taxed $13 million to $15 million this year for the doubtful privilege of federal "approval" of its highway work. Why should a 50 per cent tribute in the name of bureaucracy be imposed, and then Texas be called upon to acknowledge in humble appreciation the generous "grant" by the federal government of only a part of the money taken away from its citizens for the ostensible purposes of highway construction?

"Federal grants" with similar strings attached, and in almost every instance with the same factor of giving back a whole lot less than taken away from Texas taxpayers, run into other phases of governmental projects and operation.

"No wonder state officials of Texas and many other states are vocal in their demands that the states be let alone to carry on their own improvement programs, and that their citizens be not penalized by the back-breaking load of federal taxes used in supporting hordes and hordes of non-productive federal red-tape drones."

IT'S DRY—Blowing, drifting sand has taken the place of water under the International Bridge at Brownsville as the long, disastrous Texas Drouth still plagues the state. The lower Rio Grande Valley one of the usually-lush spots in the nation, is especially hard hit for water. Virtually no water is available for irrigation—on which the valley's economy is dependent—and domestic use of water is rationed in some cities. The U. S. has asked Mexico to release some water from Mexican reservoirs upstream to help reduce the hard times expected because of the dry weather.

'Dam' Hungry Horse

HUNGRY HORSE, Mont. (AP)—Ever wonder how the Reclamation Bureau's big 564-foot high Hungry Horse Dam now rising in a deep Northwestern Montana canyon got its name?

Back in March, 1901, so the story goes, two horses strayed from a pack string while crossing the Flathead River's South Fork. The horses were found a month later in "belly deep" snow. Their starved look brought the comment: "That's an awful hungry horse country."

Then last October two rented horses got lost in an uninhabited region above Hungry Horse Dam. The animal's owner spent a week looking for them in snow two feet deep. The horses were "skin and bone" when found. They were trucked home to their first real meal in 44 days.

It's official now. That's an awful hungry horse country.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Schuster and Janice returned last Thursday from a two weeks vacation to San Antonio, Pharr and other points in the valley.

Refugees Get U. S. Aid

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—The refugees streaming into Hanoi from lands occupied by the Communist-led Vietnamese look for and find American aid here.

They're getting direct relief—such as food, blankets, clothing and medicines from the American Mutual Security Administration.

Its public health branch handles the medicines and medical treatment for the needy. The direct relief and rehabilitation unit is directed by Herman Joe Holiday, 36, of Indianapolis, one-time Tuskegee University football star.

The MSA estimates it has aided 300,000 people in North Vietnam since the American aid program was started less than two years ago.

HEALTH FOR ALL

The Nose Cavity

As an air scoop, the nose starts off a chain of respiratory reactions which get around to all parts of the body sooner or later. As an atomizer for odors, the nose turns on a sprinkling system of scents which starts in the brain and also reacts throughout the body. But that's not all the nose does.

The nose also has an effect upon your voice and upon your hearing. The main nerve of the eyes crosses over come of the nasal pathways and thus gets influenced by the doings of the nose.

The nerve in the head that is connected with the nose is the No. 1 cranial nerve, and as such it is possibly the first link-up between you and the outside world that comes to you in gusts of air. When you toss back some of that air in the form of speech, the nose and nasal cavity gets in on the deal, too.

Back behind and around your eyes is the nasal cavity, a cavern-type structure with several stalactites hanging down. The holes inside these hollow stalactites are the sinuses. If you've ever hit a stalactite in a cave, you know it gives off a ringing sound, shriller toward the loose end than toward the bigger attached end.

The sounds you make in your voice box come tooting up the throat and swat the different sinuses on their way out and you have speech of varying pitch. When those sinuses are chock-full of germs or congestion, they don't ring when hit.

RANGERS WIN TROPHY—These five members of the Ranger basketball team accepted the runner-up trophy in the district I-AA tournament from Miss Jackie Carter Saturday night. These five, all seniors, are B. R. Pletcher, Ronald Hilton, Bill Johnson, Gene Clack and Verle Downey. Pletcher and Laurel Lovett, a junior, made the all-district team.

other functions of the nose. It takes nose-breathing to keep the air circulating sufficiently past this hole to the ear to keep webs from closing it up. So here again, the nose plays a very important role.

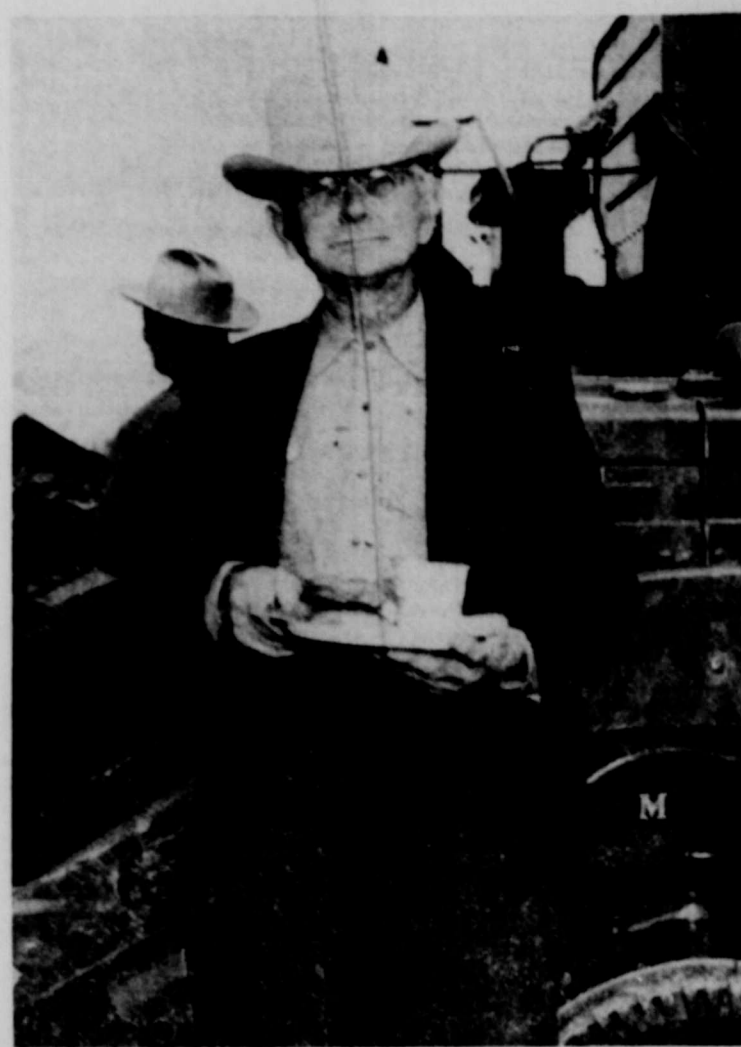

Then there's the involvement of the nose and the eyes. You know that when you cry, your nose runs. The ducts which channel your tears open not only into the eye, which makes them overflow, but there is also a "safety" valve that opens into your nose, too. So you have to blow your nose when you cry to get the tears out.

Then there's the problem of peeling onions. If you hold the onion under running water when you peel it, you don't weep; or if you keep your mouth open and close your nose when you peel onions, you don't weep. It is possible that the onion juice can sting your eyes if it gets in them, making you weep. It is also possible that the onion scent, when it hits the smelling bulbs in the nose, gets rejected and sets up a backward flow which results in tearing of the eyes and dripping of the nose; then, by keeping your mouth open and automatically closing off your nose, you can peel onions and smile.

Another connection between the nose and eyes exists in the pulley which works the eyelids up and down; this pulley in connection with the root of the nose, there between the eyes.

With so many different functions of the nose the parental warning of "Keep your nose clean" becomes a very good piece of advice.

AVIATION CADET REQUIREMENTS EASED—Civilians with two or more years of college credits may now enter Air Force pilot or observer training without taking the five-hour mental examination formerly required. Applicants need only to bring their credit transcripts and birth certificates to Army and Air Force Recruiting Stations and make application.

Those who meet other requirements as to age (20 to 26½), and are unmarried citizens, will be sent at government expense to a nearby air base for physical examination. The final processing consists only of the aptitude tests at the Lackland AFB training center. If accepted, early assignments to training will be made and they will become cadets with pay of $105 per month, uniforms, housing, food and medical care, plus uniforms. Graduates will be appointed Second Lieutenants in the Air Force and awarded silver pilot or observer wings.

Youngsters Show Off Pythons

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—You don't have to go to a zoo to see giant pythons and other reptiles in this "Paris of the East."

You practically stumble over them in the streets. For almost daily, some young Vietnamese can be found with a python or other kind of snake wrapped around his neck and shoulders, and proudly showing off to all passersby.

Sometimes the snake slithers off his caretaker's shoulders—and then there's a fast pedestrian movement in some other direction.

"We joined the Army last year," says Natalie—she said she was Natalie—"and finished our training at Camp Chafee, Ark. The Army has kept us together. We have the same duty hours and share a double room."

Airmen Start National Drive For Koreans

(UPI Newsfeatures)

OIL CITY, Pa. — Efforts of U. S. Airmen to brighten the lives of Korean orphans are mushrooming into a nation-wide drive.

It all began shortly before Christmas. Col. Francis S. Gabreski, of Oil City, commanding officer of the 51st U.S.A.F. Fighter Interceptor Wing and one of the nation's leading war aces, suggested the unit share its Christmas spirit with some young victims of Communist aggression—a group of Korean war orphans.

U.N. Lends a Hand
Gabreski, with the help of the United Nations Civil Assistance in Korea and two Army chaplains, found the Yeung Joo Chaihan orphanage, located in a decaying Buddhist monastery near the ancient walled city of Suwon. The chaplains are Capt. Edward J. Cleary of Memphis, Tenn., and Albert M. Mattheis of Panama City, Fla.

Among the orphans they found seven-year-old Kim, his face scarred by bombs; five-year-old Chung Un, whose bandage-swathed head still carries pieces of Communist mortar shrapnel; and Sun Ja, a four-year-old youngster whose bare feet and thin cotton rags tell of the hardships of the hard Korean winter.

Newspaper Pushes It
Remembering the generosity of his home town folk, Col. Gabreski wrote Oil City's mayor, William A. Morch, and Newspaperman Norman P. Blizzell, an appeal for aid.

They helped launch a newspaper campaign to accumulate funds for the orphanage. The response was quick. Food, clothing, medical supplies and money began to pour in.

Nearly $1,200 has been contributed to the Gabreski Fund sponsored by the Derrick Publishing Co. in Oil City. Contributions have arrived from Edinburg, Texas; New York City; Fort Worth, Tex.; Alexandria, La.; Kansas City, Mo.; Salisbury, N. C.; Fort Sil, Okla.; and various cities in Pennsylvania.

Since the drive opened, the Oil City Police Department has been diverting fines of overtime parking motorists to the fund. About $200 has been collected.

In Korea, the 51st has tabbed the drive "Operations Happiness." Despite their daily tasks of mounting combat sorties, men and officers of the fighter wing still have time to bring a little happiness to the empty stomachs of more than 200 orphans. They've begun to rehabilitate the Kim's, Sun Ja's and Chung Un's.

Radio Anniversary Is Marked

NEW YORK (AP)—The chairman of the Radio Corporation of America, David Sarnoff, recently saluted the 50th anniversary of the first radio signal sent across the Atlantic by sending the letter "S" around the world at a gathering of radio executives in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Dean Leighnor and family, Mrs. J. R. Stump and Sandra, Mrs. Philo Bulter and Jerry Ann, Tennis Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Manning and Mart Wagner.

KUANTAN, Pahang, Malaya (AP)—Rubber planters in this troubled area stand a good chance of getting shot—either by friend or foe.

Not long ago S. Peter James, a Ceylonese estate conductor, went out to chase off a herd of elephants. Sharpshooters of a Malay jungle squad, thinking that he might be a Red terrorist, shot him dead from ambush.

An investigation was ordered into this case, the latest in a series resulting from nervous security forces acting on the precept that in this kind of warfare it is better to shoot first and ask questions later.

Auto Inspection At Slow Pace

In keeping with the state-wide trend, inspections of automobiles under the new state law are not progressing very fast in Perryton at the two inspection stations now open.

While an inspection sticker is not necessary in order to secure 1952 license plates, the inspection is mandatory by Sept. 7, according to the law.

State highway patrolmen Jack Shields and Bob Loving said this week that under the present rate of inspection, only one-half of the automobiles will be inspected in Texas by the Sept. 7 deadline. This will mean that business will have to pick up or there will be some long last-minute inspection lines.

Services Held Thursday for 'Doc' Keim

Funeral services for Frank "Doc" Keim, age 59, were held last Thursday afternoon at the First Christian Church with Rev. J. W. McKinney officiating. Burial was in the Ochiltree cemetery beside his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Keim.

Active pallbearers were Guy Fuller, Herman Hargrove, Harris Russell, Frank Winn, Johnnie Apple and Allan Dennison. Honorary pallbearers were A. R. Hogland, Al Dutcher, R. L. Flowers, Fred Tarbox and Sid Talley.

The deceased was killed in an automobile accident on the night of February 18, near Woodward, Okla.

Frank Keim was born Nov. 11, 1892 at Kirksville, Mo. He attended public schools in Missouri. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Keim moved to this county in December 1915 and settled on a farm about 12 miles west of the present site of Perryton. Frank followed them to Ochiltree county early in 1916. The family later moved to the Wolf Creek country where they resided for a number of years before moving into Perryton. His parents died after they moved to town.

In the early days, Frank gained a considerable following in veterinary work. While he had never had a formal course in this work, he had made a deep study of veterinary procedure and was considered an expert on animal sickness. He also engaged in farming and general trading.

Survivors are a sister, Mrs. H. L. Bishop, Waka; two brothers: D. B. Keim, Ainsworth, Neb., and J. J. Keim, Perryton; 10 nieces and nephews and a host of friends.

World's Largest Coaching School Set In August

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

In August the twentieth annual Texas coaching school will be held in Fort Worth. This clinic is unique in several ways: It is the world's largest and it is the only one that deals with all the major sports—football, basketball, baseball and track.

The Texas High School Coaches Association was born in 1930 with 28 members. It held its first coaching school at San Antonio in 1933 and its first all-star football game in 1935 at Dallas. It added an all-star basketball game at Corpus Christi in 1946.

Today the association has 1,309 members. L. W. McConachie, the executive secretary, believes it will reach a new high by August when the coaching school comes up. The largest membership was in 1950 when there were 1387 and the coaching school was held at Austin.

The growth of junior high school football and basketball is the reason McConachie thinks the membership will go over 1387. More and more junior high coaches are entering the organization.

The reason for the fall-off in membership in 1951 was because many coaches went into the armed services.

The coaches association is a nonprofit organization although it usually nets something like $7,000 from its coaching school in tuition and from the all-star games. But there are administrative expenses for the year and the profit from the coaching school sometimes is taken up. Last year, the association actually lost about $2,000 in operation.

But the Association has a surplus built up over the years and can stand to lose once in a while. Its money is invested in United States bonds.

It has a policy of aiding boys who may be injured in sports if their school does not carry athletic insurance on them. If the injuries are permanent, the association helps the boy anyway because athletic insurance does not cover permanent injuries.

Attack Brings Plastic Surgery

SINGAPORE (AP)—A former headmistress of the Nanyang girls' school who was burned in an acid-throwing attack last year, left recently for Australia where she will undergo plastic surgery. Her expenses were to be paid in full by the Singapore government as it was presumed officially that the attack resulted from "her spontaneous outspokenness against Communism."

Motorists Saved From Train

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill. (AP)—With the emphasis on the millionth traffic fatality, these two didn't quite make the list. Mrs. Irene Prior, driver of a brand-new automobile, and her companion, Mrs. C. V. Nichols, were stalled on the Chicago, North Western Railroad tracks. As the speeding "400" approached, a motorist, J. Dwight Evans, and a gateman, John J. Janusik, tried to push the car off the tracks. They couldn't move the car. The tires were wedged in an icy rut. With the train a short distance away, both men pulled the women from the car to safety. The impact of the crash threw the car 300 feet against the depot platform.

Mrs. Dennison Is Demonstrator At Club Meeting

Jelly roll making, demonstrated by Mrs. Allan Dennison, held everyone's attention at the regular meeting of the Waka Home Demonstration Club on the afternoon of February 20th in the home of Mrs. Marvin Groves.

Thickened apple sauce was used as the filling of one and a pineapple orange filling in the other. Club members copied Mrs. Dennison's favorite jelly roll recipe.

Ringworm On Increase In South Texas

AUSTIN — Ringworm of the scalp appears to be increasing in some sections of Texas, and action is underway to contain it.

Known in medical circles as "tinea capitis," ringworm of the scalp is said to be prevalent in the Rio Grande Valley, Houston, San Antonio, and Dallas. Reports to the State Department of Health say skin specialists in those areas are seeing increasing numbers of infected children.

A preliminary study conducted by the state health agency among 891 children in two Rio Grande Valley schools shows 5.5 percent positive infections, in one group and 5.7 per cent in the other. Positively infected girls outnumbered the boys four to one, although there were more boy students, the study showed.

Ringworm is contagious. Children are most often afflicted, although adults, while less disposed to infection, often have more severe and longer lasting attacks.

Ringworm is marked by round scaly areas on the scalp, and patchy baldness or short, broken-off hairs. It is caused by a fungus—a vegetable-like growth caused by spores. Sources of infection, health officials and skin specialists say, are the scalp lesions, of infected persons, articles of clothing containing the spores, or the infected hairs or scales shed by an infected person.

State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox, in cooperation with the skin specialists society of the Texas Medical Association, and the State Board of Barbers and Cosmetologists, is rewriting the rules and regulations governing the sterilization of beauty and barber shop instruments after each use. They hope to get legislation enacted to provide penalties for non-compliance.

There is no immunization against ringworm. Recommended control measures are cleanliness of the hair and scalp, and provision for separate isolated classrooms for suspicious cases. Positively infected children should be excluded from school until the condition is cleared up, Dr. Cox believes.

Poems for Autographs

ROME (AP)—A valuable autograph collection has been built up by a village carpenter, Brunetto Rossi, who composes poems paying homage to the world's greats. The autographs come on the letters of thanks.

One of Rossi's prized autographs is on a letter prewar British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain. It came in reply to a poem lauding Chamberlain's efforts to maintain the peace in the dark days of early 1939. During the war the Chamberlain letter saved his home from search. British troops skipped his home when the letter was shown them.

Another prized autograph is from Princess Elizabeth of Britain. Rossi had written to congratulate her on the birth of her first child.

Rossi's only failure has been President Truman. The President never replied to his poem. "He has too many problems now," the 59-year-old carpenter philosophizes. "I am sure he will respond eventually."

Most Servicemen Barred

While it has been pointed out by the Attorney General that some servicemen can cast a ballot in Texas, under the present law most of our civilian servicemen are still barred from the polls.

Considerable indignation was aroused a couple of weeks ago when it was discovered that the 1952 issue of the Texas Election Laws specifically bars members of the Army, Navy or Marine Corps from voting in Texas. This classification placed the serviceman with minors, idiots and lunatics, paupers and convicts.

It was discovered, however, that the 1952 issue of the Texas Election Laws was printed without amendment 2a of the Texas constitution, adopted in 1945, which allows members of the armed forces to vote without paying a poll tax while the U.S. is engaged at war. The amendment specifically bars members of the "regular establishment" of all branches of the service, however.

This lets the drafted servicemen vote, but cuts out those who volunteered for the current "police action" in Korea.

Something needs to be changed. Why should the younger man who enlists in the Army, Navy, Air Force or Marines be deprived of his voting rights? At the present time, only the Army and the Marines take draftees, and the Marines take very few, which in effect bars all members of the Navy and Air Force from the polls, in addition to most Marines and a large percentage of the Army.

Why couldn't the law be amended to allow any serviceman to cast an absentee ballot at his home county? This certainly would get away from any threat of "mass voting" which is probably the only remote justification from keeping regulars from the polls.

Certainly no one could foresee a "police action" such as we have in Korea, where men are dying daily yet not at war, in setting up the law to allow civilian soldiers and not regulars to vote. But the situation has changed, and these are done differently now-days. Why can't we change our election laws?

Wolf Creek Philosopher

Shouldn't Rush In Testing Chairs

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher has his tongue in his cheek this week, we suspect, but here's his letter just like we received it.)

Dear editor:

I read in a paper the other day where a Congressman was denounced a government agency for spending 60 days testing a new type super deluxe upholstered typist chair for "safety and durability," since it was flurging on buying 20,000 of em to replace the chairs it had and didn't want to go wrong. He was pretty scathing about it, sayin it was the silliest thing he'd ever heard of that chairs already have been "researched" adequately and the government has no business wastin money in such a fashion.

I do not look at it that way. That is, I'm not in favor of wastin money, unless it's in the Wolf Creek area, but about chairs now, the way I look at it is, there is no time limit on how long a chair should be tested, sixty days seems to me like leadin over backwards to get on with the defense effort in a hurry. Why, I've been testin a chair of mine out here on my front porch for 35 years, and I ain't prepared to say wet whether it's gonna work out satisfactorily or not. So far it has proved durable and safe, but I ain't makin no snap judgment.

One thing wrong with this modern generation is its craze for speed, its inferable haste to get on with things. It would be just like this Congressman to throw any kind of a chair he could grab under 20,000 government typists and then have

SIDELINE

with HAROLD HUDSON

We have a lot of respect for Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. He supplies us with a news story each week dealing with disease in Texas, and we usually publish them. This past week, though, in came a story from Dr. Cox which stretches our credibility. He tells us about flies.

Dr. Cox says in case you've ever wondered how far a fly can fly, he has the answer. It's 15 miles. How does he know? "Experimenters trapped one, fed him radioactive phosphorus and set him loose. Retrapped, experimenters used a Geiger counter to make the identification. He was 15 miles from the starting point."

Oh, come, now Dr. Cox! You don't mean your men fed one fly radioactive phosphorus and turned him loose, then combed the countryside for 15 miles around until they re-trapped him? Then Geiger counted all the flies in traps for 15 miles around until the radioactive one gave off a radioactive buzz? If so, modern science has advanced faster than we ever believed possible.

We sat by Clarence "Puss" Lewis, the local basketball referee at one session of the district tournament last week and were distressed to hear him make disparaging remarks about the referees, just like non-referee spectators at basketball games generally do. "How come you're finding fault with the referee?" we asked. "Being a referee yourself, you ought to know better." Puss replied, with all seriousness, "Well, you know, it looks a little bit different from up here!"

You can hear political discussions right along here in Perryton, but strangely enough most discussions of politics on the national level deal with who will be the Republican presidential candidate. We haven't heard anyone else besides Truman mentioned for the Democrats. You can hear plenty of Taft and Eisenhower talk, however. This is strange, because voting Republicans here have been few and far between, with the exception of the Congressional race when Republican Ben Guill carried the county in 1950.

Our personal choice is Eisenhower, although we don't get much support around the Herald office. The main objections to Ike are (1) he's a military man (2) he won't come home and actively campaign for the nomination.

One thing wrong with this modern generation is its craze for speed, its inferable haste to get on with things. It would be just like this Congressman to throw any kind of a chair he could grab under 20,000 government typists and then have them break down right in the midst of a crisis. Legs fallin off all over the place, backs splittin in two, blisters showin up in the wrong place, errors in the typin, too much time out for coffee, I tell you this mad rush to sling things together, take things for granted, tear into a new program without adequate forethought, is one of the things that's makin taxes so high.

I may not know anything about being a Congressman, may not know anything about typin, may not know anything about the economic index and the far-flung complexities of the defense program, but if there's anything I know something about it's chairs and I'm here to tell you and the entire Congress that selectin a chair that'll bring the best out of a man's mind is a lifetime job. Washington ought to slow down.

Only 60 days to test out a chair? That ain't long enough to test out a new mayor. Why nearly any movie actor will take longer than that just to test out a wife.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

ation. These do not seem to be valid objections to us, because (1) he's holding down what should be about as important a job as the Presidency—that of unifying Europe against the threat of Communist Russia, and thus holding Russia off of us. The North Atlantic Treaty nations weren't doing anything toward unification and forming an allied defense until he went over there, and he's making quite a bit of progress. It doesn't seem logical to have him drop that important job right now and run home to campaign for political office.

Second, the tradition against a military man in the White House is not really a tradition, but an accident of 20th century U. S. history. Military men do not usually come to the fore in time of peace, and the U. S. fought no major war between 1865 and 1917. There have been only five veterans in history among the nine 20th century Presidents and their 11 defeated opponents.

U. S. Grant, the Civil War general, has pointed out as what happens when a military man gets into the White House. His troubles arose from trusting friends who turned out to be crooks—a situation which Harry Truman got himself into without benefit of professional military training.

As we say, we'd like to have a chance to vote for Eisenhower. However, this is merely wishful thinking, we're afraid. Ike is no politician and he apparently holds to the quaint idea that a qualified man can be chosen for the presidency by the will of the American people, and while he isn't running very hard for the office while presently occupied, he is available if the people want him. The American people, unfortunately, seem to have very little to say about their choice of a candidate and Taft has the professionals pretty well sewed up for the nomination.

Be that as it may, we don't have any more voice in selecting a Republican than the other talkers around here. Besides, what we want to do is keep Harry Truman from running as a Democrat. Anybody know how that can be accomplished?

A couple of local farmers were discussing the long drought. "It sure made the wheat crop short last year," said one. "I'll say it did," said the other. "I had to lather mine to cut it."

SPEAKING OF Furniture

By A. P. McELVEY

THEME and VARIATIONS

More and more we are coming to realize how tremendously our surroundings modify our responses and to recognize what an effect the kind of homes we live in has on our emotional security. This is particularly true of the children and teen-agers in the home. Wherever possible the child should have his (or her) own room—a private personal sanctuary planned around the child's interests.

Boys' rooms are, of course, quite different in type than those of girls. Their natural taste for simplicity combined with a universal love of adventure offers limitless possibilities for clever and interesting decorative themes.

A nautical theme was chosen for the boys room in the above sketch. Sea-blue background color in marine wallpaper on bed wall is repeated on three painted walls and Venetian blinds. White sail cloth draperies are simple, practical, and give room necessary contrast. Deep blue linoleum makes effective floor covering.

Maple furniture was chosen for its simplicity of line, sturdy construction and rich, glowing finish. Shelves piled ceiling high above desk add wall interest, conserve floor space.

Captain's chair, whale oil lamp and life-preserver mirror frame are variations of nautical theme.

If you'd like help in making your youngster's room more attractive, call on us. We have a lot of ideas to add zest and sparkle to the decorative theme of any room. And we're always glad to talk them over with you.

Earl Olmstead Elected to Two Honor Societies

BOONVILLE, Mo.—Cadet Earl M. Olmstead, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Olmstead, recently was elected to two honor societies at Kemper Military School.

Cadet Olmstead received appointment to the Athletic Honor Society for his football performance during the grid season. A popular cadet around Kemper, Olmstead was elected co-captain of the 1952 Junior College football squad along with John Ehl.

As a griddier, Olmstead played halfback, scoring half the cadet touchdowns over the season's play. At the annual football banquet he was awarded a "K" sweater and elected to the club that honors Kemper lettermen.

Since coming to Kemper Military School, Cadet Olmstead has piled up quite an academic record. Since the beginning of the school year his name has been high on the honor roll. For academic achievements, he received appointment to the Academic Honor Society for class work. Last month he, along with a number of other cadets, were honored with a special designation for academic achievements.

He is a Cadet Master Sergeant in "C" Company and performs duties of a platoon leader. He is a division chief and has charge of a group of cadets during activity or study periods.

Cadet Olmstead is in his last year as a Kemper cadet and will fulfill requirements for graduation in May. He will be further honored during Commencement exercises which recognize cadet achievements throughout the year. At commencement exercises he will receive recognition for both Athletic and Academic achievements.

Reserve Feed Supply Must Be Secured

COLLEGE STATION—Moisture conditions, mostly on the short side, in all sections of the state for the past two years have clearly pointed up the necessity for farmers and livestock producers to plan for a reserve supply of feed.

A. W. Crain, associate pasture specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, points out that little can be done about the weather but much can be done to prevent situations such as have faced livestock and dairy producers since the beginning of the present drought. He advises as a corrective measure, the planning of a "complete" forage program.

He says regardless of how good a permanent pasture may be supplemental pastures or stored forages are needed to provide adequate forage for farm and ranch livestock. By properly planning his supplemental pastures, a farmer can usually provide ample forage for the seasons when permanent pastures do not furnish adequate grazing. Crain classifies the present extended dry period as an example of the "unusual season" and adds that it is the sort of situation that livestock men must always be prepared to meet. Neither permanent nor supplemental pastures will furnish adequate weather conditions under very adverse weather conditions and here is where storage comes into the picture.

NEW LINE FOR BUILDING—Community Public Service workers are shown getting a new line ready to serve the Texas Highway Department warehouse on highway 117 just west of Perryton. The earth work is being done now for the new building, and when the structure is completed, the highway department will move from their site south of town near the city lake. Shown above, on the derrick is Mike Jackson, while like Kennedy and Short Symons are on the truck.

Crain suggests that farmers provide at least one ton of hay and three tons of silage for each cow on the farm. Without silage, at least two tons of hay are needed. He says that forage stored as silage retains more of its nutritive value than when stored as hay.

To up production during favorable growing seasons, Crain recommends the use of fertilizers on both permanent and supplemental pastures.

Forty-one years ago, Hedin, then an 18-year-old seaman, says he was aboard a barque which was buffeted by a hurricane in the same waters. The barque was the Yemer, a three-master three weeks out of Liverpool enroute to Mobile, Ala. The hurricane sheared off all her rigging, leaving only the

Amarillo Has To Back Down On Distances

AUSTIN, Texas (AP)—The University of Texas Department of Geography offered figures today to help settle the question over how many states have capitals closer to Amarillo than the Texas capital.

Dr. Donald Brand, geography professor, said the answer is three—no more.

With a big globe and calipers Dr. Brand's assistant measured these geographic airline distances:

Amarillo to Santa Fe, N. M.—230 miles.

Amarillo to Oklahoma City, Okla.—240 miles.

Amarillo to Denver, Colo.—355 miles.

Amarillo to Austin, Tex.—415 miles.

Amarillo to Little Rock, Ark.—535 miles.

All other capitals were farther away than Austin. Topeka, Kansas, however, ran a close race at 425 miles.

Dr. Brand said his figures were accurate within five airline miles. If he is a full five miles too low for Austin and five miles too high for Topeka, then the two capitals would tie for fourth place, but he doesn't see much likelihood in the possibility.

"The edge definitely favors Austin," he said.

Closest capital beyond Topeka was another 15 miles across the globe—Cheyenne, Wyo., at 440 miles. Lincoln, Neb., was farther—475 miles.

Recent claims had put the Texas panhandle city closer to all of the five state capitals than to Austin. The claims were apparently only three-fifths correct if you're a globe-and-caliper supporter.

Jesus came to show mankind the true meaning of Life, God. This is a point emphasized in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday. The Golden Text from Isaiah is this: "There shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots" (11:1).

The loving Father's purpose is given in these Biblical words from 1 John (4:9,14): "In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live thru him. And we have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world."

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer of Christian Science, says in her textbook about Jesus' unequalled demonstration of life: "Jesus could have withdrawn himself from his enemies. He had power to lay down a human sense of life for his spiritual identity in the likeness of the divine; but he allowed men to attempt the destruction of the mortal body in order that he might furnish the proof of immortal life. . . . His consummate example was for the salvation of us all, but only through doing the works which he did and taught others to do." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 51).

Veterans Forum

Q. I am planning to apply for a GI farm loan. Must I actually live on the farm that I buy with the guaranteed loan?

A. No. But you must, at least, supervise the farming operation.

Q. I am a blinded Korean veteran, and I understand I am entitled to a trained seeing-eye dog to help me get about. The nearest place to learn how to make use of such a dog is 100 miles away. Will VA pay my travel expenses?

A. Yes. Travel expenses for such a purpose may be paid both ways. In addition, if you are required to be away from home during the period of adjustment to use of the dog, VA also may pay for your meals and lodging during that time.

Q. What is the largest amount of money a veteran can borrow, and have the loan guaranteed under the GI Bill?

A. The size of the loan depends solely on the amount of money the lender is willing to lend. The only limitation is on the amount of VA guarantee.

Extra Service

OSHKOSH, Neb. (AP)—Lots of service and a big smile is gospel with John R. Grieve Jr., Oshkosh filling station operator.

When a couple drove in recently he polished their windshield, checked the tires and radiator, then asked, "Will that be all?" The customer turned to his wife.

"I want my girdle vulcanized," she told Grieve. He did the job.

'Return of the Texan' Tells Story of Man's Love for Soil

Dale Robertson and Joanne Dru share starring honors, and Walter Brennan is top-feature in "Return of the Texan," the new comedy-drama which comes to the Ellis Theatre on Tuesday-Thursday.

"Return of the Texan" tells of the homecoming of a capable, robust young man who finds city life unpalatable after the death of his young wife and decides to bring his two small children back to the land on which he was raised. Working again on the soil, under the sun, the widower finds his interest in life re-born and is again able to meet the challenges of nature as they confront him and are pointed out to him by his still agile grandfather.

In the leading role of the young Texas rancher Dale Robertson, observed as a rising star in "Take Care of My Little Girl" and "Golden Girl," sinks his teeth into the meatiest role of his career. Miss Dru is cast as a pretty neighbor who rouses Robertson's normal instincts and reclaims his life from the shadows. Brennan, redoubtable screen veteran, returns to the kind of role that won him fame—a lovable

Also featured in "Return of the Texan" are Richard Boone, who attracted attention in the recent "Red Skies of Montana" and is soon to be seen in the spectacular and important film, "Kanga-roo"; Tom Tully, Robert Horton, Helen Westcott, Lonnie Thomas and Dennis Ross.

HOW ABOUT A DIP?—This late picture of the Perryton swimming pool, taken during the snow storm Monday, may bring back memories to the Perryton small fry, but that's about all. While there is some ice, and some snow, in the pool, it's really just not swimming weather when you get right down to it. (Photo by Perry Studio)

Nine Songs In 'Disc Jockey'

"Disc Jockey," starring Ginny Simms, Tom Drake, Jane Nigh and Michael O'Shea, with a supporting cast which includes 25 real life disc jockeys, comes to the Pertex on Sunday-Tuesday.

Nine new songs and musical numbers are presented in the picture by some of the best-known artists in the entertainment field. They include Russ Morgan, who served as musical director of the production; Sarah Vaughan, Tommy Dorsey, Herb Jeffries, The Weavers, George Shearing, the phenomenal blind English pianist and his group; Nick Lucas, Foy Willing and His Riders of the Purple Sage, and seven stellar musicians in a "million dollar" jam session. This group, headed by Morgan and his trombone, includes Jack Fina, Vita Musso, Red Nichols, Red Norvo, Ben Pollack and Joe Venuti.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Powell, Jr., students at Oklahoma University at Norman, were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Powell, last week end.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY

(AP) Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Large shipments of fine Argentine wools into this country in recent months are causing concern among members of Congress from sheep raising districts.

Rep. O. C. Fisher of San Angelo, whose district is one of the nation's principal wool and mohair areas, has been in frequent conferences with Agriculture Department and other government officials about the virtually idle domestic wool market.

The current trouble, says Fisher, involves complicated international money exchange and Argentine President Peron's encouragement of exports to the U. S. of wool tops—the scoured, cleaned and combed lengthy fibers from the sheep's back.

As Fisher explains it, Peron caused accumulation of two years' production of wool tops. A few months ago he decided Argentina should get rid of this wool. American textile mills, which normally would buy large quantities of raw wool in the U. S., suddenly found they could purchase the choice wool tops for virtually the same price.

As a result, American buyers have turned to the Argentine tops and the domestic wool market has suffered. Western mem-

Caution Urged In Kite Flying

Kite flying season is here again and with it comes the power company's annual warning against flying kites near electric lines.

Each year throughout the U. S. accidents involving kites and wires take their toll in children's lives. To prevent similar tragedies from happening here, Community Public Service Company urges observance of four simple safety rules.

The rules are: Fly kites away from all electric lines; Don't use metal or wire on kites; Use DRY cotton kite string only; Don't climb poles to recover kites.

In case a kite becomes entangled in electric wires, youngsters should call a C. P. S. C. serviceman who will take it down safely and do his best not to damage it.

Claud Carmichael, power company manager, asks the cooperation of parents in seeing that their youngsters follow the above rules and in pointing out the safest place to fly kites—open fields, away from lines and busy highways.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kiser, Norman, Okla., visited daughter and family, Mrs. Clinton Hearn and other relatives last weekend.

Mrs. James Pitts and Jamie and David visited her, Mrs. Nora Huggins, Stephenville last week.

GAS SERVICE

Every hour during the day, throughout the entire year, a veritable army of men and women are working and vast sums of money are being spent in order to assure a steady and adequate flow of gas to homes and institutions. There can be no let-up for one moment because of the nature of the fuel, it must be taken from the ground, transported many miles to communities and then distributed through an underground network of pipe lines.

Despite the tremendous cost of transportation and distribution, gas is still delivered at a cost to the consumer which no other fuel can meet.

Bethel-Camrick By MRS. J. E. BURKHAM

Ronnie and Delores Leatherman attended the Canadian Baptist Association Workers' Meeting at the Perryton Baptist Church, last Monday evening.

Mrs. Len Karber fell and sprained her ankle a few days ago. Previous to this she had been limping for several days because of having hurt her other foot. Better "watch your step," Mrs. Karber.

Last week, while playing basketball, Barbara Gilbert fell and hurt her back. She was taken to a Guyton hospital where examination revealed her vertebrae had locked, thus pinching a nerve. She is now able to be home.

Sharon and Tommy Blair were ill with the flu last week.

Little Bobby Karber had a severe attack of asthma, last Monday.

During the illness of Mr. Woodcock, Mrs. Oscar Doshier has been substitute teacher at Hardesty school.

There were thirteen in the group which represented Bethel Baptist Church at the Sunday School Clinic held at Goodwell, last Tuesday night.
