Plumbers "Cash In" On Freeze

MORE THAN THOUSAND HOMES SUFFER FROM FROZEN PIPES

While transportation facilities and general business conditions have been suffering within the last two weeks in Lubbock, due to weather's frigid offering, one industry has been thriving materially.

Plumbing shops in the city report calls totalling from 100 to 200 daily, with men working from 50 to 75 calls behind. The water department of the city has received at least 1,000 complaints from residents who report frozen service lines.

Roy Houck, city water superintendent, and about 40 assistants have been working day and night in efforts to apply a styptic to bursted arteries.

The worst freeze in the history of Lubbock's water system has been turned into a veritable gold mine for plumbers, who say that repair bills range from $2 to $25 per job.

No city mains have been reported broken, the damage being confined to service lines.

Service lines have been laid too shallow for a freeze such as has been experienced during the last week. With normal winter weather in Lubbock, the water system would have escaped with negligible damage.

In an attempt to prevent further breaks during the winter, the following suggestions have been made by the waterworks men:

Cut off the water when freezing weather is anticipated or forecast.

Open all faucets to permit drainage of service lines.

If water freezes in pipes before cut off, open faucets to give room for expansion as freezing continues. Water freezes from the ground up.

Protect exposed pipes as much as possible.

HOUSTON HAS 25,000 BURSTED MAINS

HOUSTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Large sections of Houston were without water Tuesday night and today as the result of continued freezing weather which burst approximately 25,000 water mains. Pressure downtown was reduced to 38 pounds. Normal pressure is around 70. The mercury went to 15 above zero last night.

BEAN CONFERS ON HIGHWAY MATTERS

Robert H. Bean, Lubbock County Judge, left for Austin, where he will confer with the attorney general's department on details of transcript for the $991,000 bond issue voted here December 17, 1929, for paving of highways in this county.

Judge Bean will make arrangements to have $321,500 of the bonds printed, after preliminary approval of the attorney general, to finance an immediate paving project in this county and to liquidate a $21,500 indebtedness against road district No. 1.

The Lubbock County Commissioners ordered issuances of $321,000 of the bonds at a session last Saturday.

Blizzard Broken By Clear Weather

Clearing skies over Texas promised that the backbone of the third attack in one of Texas' worst blizzards had been broken today.

Although the cold over most of the state last night was intense, minimum temperatures did not equal the marks set last Saturday. The minimum officially reported to the U. S. weather bureau was zero at Amarillo, one degree warmer than that city experienced Tuesday morning.

BRADY TRIAL GETS NEW VENIRE

ONLY THREE JURORS ARE NAMED TODAY

NEW LIST GATHERED IN AUSTIN; 250 ARE ALREADY PASSED

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 22.—The first panel of 250 veniremen exhausted and only three jurors chosen in the John W. Brady murder trial, 200 additional talesmen were summoned to appear in court here today in the hope that the jury box would be filled soon.

Fixed opinions as to the guilt or innocence of the former Texas Judge in connection with the stabbing to death last November 9 of Miss Lehlia Highsmith, 28-year-old stenographer, and objections to the death penalty caused the state and defense attorneys to refuse a majority of veniremen interrogated.

AUSTIN, Jan. 22. (AP)—District Judge J. D. Moore said today that if the new venire of 200 ordered for the murder trial of John W. Brady is exhausted without a jury having been obtained "we'll keep on calling them."

Half-day Session Held

Only a half-day session of court was planned, a recess having been ordered until 2 p. m., to permit bailiffs time to subpoena additional talesmen. Judge J. D. Moore said witnesses ordered to appear today

STATE DEMO MEET CALLED

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE TO MEET IN AUSTIN FEBRUARY 1

(By Associated Press)

GEORGETOWN, Jan. 22 — A meeting of the state democratic executive committee has been called in Austin Feb. 1 to determine what action shall be taken in regard to placing on the party's primary ticket names of candidates who in 1928 supported republican presidential electors.

The meeting was called by D. W. Wilcox, chairman. A committee vacancy also will be filled at the conference.

Has Authority

"In my opinion," the chairman said, "the state executive committee has the legal authority, if it sees fit to do so, to refuse to place on the democratic primary ticket the name of any candidate who participated in the last primaries or conventions and then in the general election voted for the republican presidential electors."

Should the committe decide to bar such candidates from the ticket, the chairman believed it should announce its stand immediately so that if any candidate thought the committee had exceeded its authority he would have plenty of time to get a decision in court.

OPTIMISM IS PREVAILING IN SESSION

SUCCESS OF NAVAL PARLEY SEEN IN MOVEMENTS

BY BYRON PRICE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Pressing the advantage of the glow of conciliatory pronouncements at yesterday's opening plenary session, delegates to the naval conference today took in hand at private consultations some of the vital questions of the whole negotiations.

Only generally optimistic observations were made by the principal delegates, and no one gave any impression that actual conclusions had as yet been reached.

Meeting Watched

One meeting that held close attention was at No. 10 Downing Street where Secretary of State Stimson went for a short visit after the British and French had held lengthy conversations.

Both the Italians and the Japanese also were on Prime Minister MacDonald's calling list for the day while the Americans and others were equally busy. In fact, a diagram of the comings and going of individual delegates would present a crisscross as interwoven as the weblike street map of London.

The recent French memorandum asking a larger place among the naval powers was one of the outstanding subjects discussed. It was said at the American headquarters that real progress had been made in clarifying the French viewpoint. While the French appeared encouraged by the first detailed exchanges, the others merely said they were satisfied with the progress thus far.

LEGISLATORS TANGLE TODAY IN SQUABBLES

HIGHWAY BUILDING, PRISON QUESTION CONSIDERED

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 22.—While waiting on the weather before going on an inspection of the penitentiary properties, members of the legislature were in two sizeable squabbles today.

The house authorized a committee to investigate the construction of a building by the state highway department at Tyler, one of the division points of the department, and the senate argued whether it should create a special committee composed of its entire membership to consider penitentiary centralization legislation or permit the regular standing committee on penitentiaries to handle it.

Bond Has Resolution

The resolution for the investigation was introduced by Representative T. R. Bond of Kaufman.

Representative Leonard Tillotson of Sealy, member of the committee on highways and motor traffic, made an unsuccessful fight to have the resolution affecting the Tyler building referred to that body.

Opposition to his proposal was led by Representative A. P. C. Petsch, also a member of the committee on highways and motor traffic.

Meanwhile, ninety-six members of the house signified their intention of going on the peitentiary inspection trip which will, the committee reported to the house, leave Austin Thursday night, weather permitting.

COMMISSIONER DORAN'S RESIGNATION IS RUMORED IF PROHIBITION IS GIVEN TRANSFER TO JUSTICE DEPARTMENT

BY RICHARD L. TURNER,
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. (AP)—From the swirling cross-currents of the capital's dry law controversy there emerged today a report that Prohibition Commissioner James M. Doran would retire from the government service when the enforcement unit, of which he is the chief, was transferred from the treasury to the justice department.

J. M. Doran

Doran declined to discuss the rumor and Assistant Secretary Lowman, in charge of prohibition, said the commissioner's resignation had not been submitted, but he added he had been told that several large concerns dealing in industrial alcohol had made extremely attactive offers for Doran's services.

Meanwhile, congress went forward

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. (AP)—Andrew W. Mellon, who took over the treasury portfolio about the time the dry law was placed upon the statute books, recommended to a congressional committee today the transfer of the prohibition bureau from the treasury to the justice department, but refused to be drawn into a discussion of the prohibition question.

with its plans for enacting into law recommendations of President Hoover and the law enforcement commission for strengthening the administration of the anti-liquor statutes. A committee session today, with Secretary Mellon, Commissioner Doran and possibly Attorney General Mitchell as witnesses, is to be followed this week by several more, all dealing with the legislation requested by Mr. Hoover.

Wets Organize Bloc

Wets of the house, who have organized into a bloc, intend to keep the prohibition question constantly before the public by discussing it on the flo.. at every opportunity. They expect shortly to set up an executive committee to conduct extra-official hearings on measures designed to modify prohibition statutes.

The wet group read with interest today a letter from Deets Pickett, research secretary of the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, asking what sort of a system they proposed to substitute for prohibition. A series of questions was enumerated and the whole designated as a "challenge."

CLEVELAND, Jan. 22.—The worst railroad crossing accident in Ohio in a year today killed nine small children and the driver of the bus in which they were riding, at Sheldon Road, near Berea, Ohio, 15 miles from Cleveland. One other child was seriously injured.

Rushing toward Chicago at 45 miles an hour, a New York Central mail train struck the bus squarely in the middle. Wreckage and bodies were strewn along the tracks for 500 feet before the train could be stopped.

Halted At Crossing

The bus driver had halted at the edge of the crossing and waited for a freight train to pass. A moment later he drove into the path of the mail train. There was a crash, a grinding of ripping metal and wood and the screams of dying and injured children.

CHICAGO, "FLAT BROKE" AND IN DEBT, FACES CRISIS; SITUATION DESPERATE

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—The financial crisis of the city, county and school board was described today by Silas H. Strawn, chairman of the citizens' committee as "critically desperate."

The local governments, he said, following a three-day search by his committee for "a way out," are "flat broke," with no prospect of any aid from the banks. Efforts to induce substantial property owners to buy tax anticipation warrants which they could use later as payment of their 1928 tax bills, also have been unsuccessful.

"Complete collapse of the local governments" is only "a matter of days" unless some means of producing cash is found, Strawn warned. Even a special session of the legislature, he said, could not get under way quickly enough to forestall the crisis. Such a procedure has been suggested.

The local governments, Strawn said, are $290,000,000 in debt, and this is costing an estimated $50,000 a day in interest.

In the county no payrolls have been met for a month. Another payroll, due tomorrow, will not be met, officials said. In the city, the last payroll of

Evening Lectures Will Be Given Here

Arrangements have been made for two of the lectures by Eve VeVerka, authority on matters pertaining to feminine charm, to be made in the evening hours in order that business girls may have an opportunity to attend this school, which is to be conducted by the Avalanche-Journal.

The evening lectures will be given on Monday and Friday, February 3 and 7, while afternoon lectures will come on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The school will be held in the Uptown Dance Palace and will be free of charge to every woman and girl interested in learning more of health and beauty.

Eve VeVerka as a beauty lecturer is unusual. Unusual, because an addition to giving her expert advice in the care of the skin, hair nails and other attributes of charm she tells how to acquire that radiant personality so greatly admired by men and women alike. Her formula for the acquisition of real beauty is but the simple utilization of every capacity for higher living. It is the explanation for all unhappy conditions.

Winter Lubrication

MOTORS are worn out in winter. With less than half the mileage, you probably put twice the strain on your engine in cold weather.

Ordinary paraffine-base lubricating oil is like a jelly at freezing temperatures and is solid at zero. This means difficult starting that strains the starter and battery, and it means no bearing or cylinder lubrication until the heat of the engine reduces the solid mass of oil to a fluid. A few minutes turning over without lubrication will cause more wear on the engine than many miles of driving.

-TP- Oils are the latest development in scientific lubrication. They are produced from pure, paraffine-base crude by a process for which patents are pending.

WAX FREE 45c A QUART ZERO FLOW

This process has marked advantages over other methods. It preserves all the lubricating bodies of the crude oil just as they occur in nature. There is positively no blending of light and heavy oils to produce various grades. It removes all the paraffine wax.

In terms of performance this means perfect lubrication at all times, smoother, more efficient operation for your engine, longer life, reduced repair bills, and more mileage. It means easy starting in winter with the same grade of oil that you use in summer—the one best suited to lubricate your engine.

It is wise economy to pay 45c a quart for -TP- Oil.

NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK REPORT COMING SOON; ACCURACY IS FEATURE OF GROUP'S FORECASTINGS

BY FRANK I. WELLER
Farm Editor, Associated Press Feature Service

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Collaborators of the national agricultural outlook report, listed annually under auspices of the department of agriculture as a forecast of probable farm trend, began deliberations for 1930 today with a record of having been right nine times out of 10 since 1924, inclusive.

A survey of the last six outlook reports as checked against subsequent developments was presented to the opening session by department of agriculture officials.

Highest in 1926

The highest degree of accuracy, the survey showed, was reached in 1926 when the outlook conference made 34 definite forecasts, 32 of which were proved to be correct, making the report 94 per cent accurate.

Of seven forecasts in 1924, six were correct. Nineteen of 21 were correct in 1925; 31 of 37 in 1927; 47 of 56 in 1928, and 31 of 36 in 1929.

"Last February," the survey read, "the agricultural outlook for 1929 said that wheat probably would sell for more in 1929; that flax would be more profitable than wheat in certain areas; and that potatoes would pay better than in 1928. In each of these cases the situation developed just as the outlook report anticipated."

The outlook conferees, who expected to have their report ready by January 27 included representatives from the agricultural colleges of 45 states, crop experts and economists from the federal farm board, the bureau of agricultural economics and other bureaus of the department of agriculture.

It was their purpose to weigh all the information available on both domestic and foreign production, demand and current stocks of agricultural commodities and recommend to American farmers what products and in what quantities they might expect a profit this year.

While approximately 50 farm commodities, including the major field crops, were to be given special attention, it was believed that the conclusions on wheat and dairy products would be of greatest significance.

LUBBOCK MARINE AWARDED DIPLOMA ON BATTLESHIP; IS MAKING GOOD

(Special To The Journal)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—The life of a U. S. marine aboard a battleship did not prevent Sam William Fort, of Lubbock, Texas, from completing two courses, taught by the Marine Corps Institute here. Both diplomas have been forwarded to the U. S. S. Maryland recently reported at Bremerton, Wash.

Fort's first diploma was awarded for proficiency in the aeroplane engine's course, and the second for a series of selected subjects. While his course of studies lasted several weeks, he completed them both since the first of January, receiving each diploma within the period of two weeks.

Native of Silverton

Fort is a native of Silverton, Tex., and he formerly made his home with his father, on rural route "A", Lubbock. He has been aboard the Maryland as a member of the Marine detachment, for about two years, and took up his studies through correspondence with the institute, which gives free instruction to Marines in the arts, trades and sciences.

He is a member of the gun crew on the Maryland which won high praise from the Secretary of the Navy for its proficiency in gunnery in 1928. With his most recent diploma, he also received a letter from Major General Wendell C. Neville, commandant of the Marine Corps, who wrote in part: "I congratulate you upon your excellent work in completing this course."

TEXAS COMMERCIAL EXECUTIVES TO MEET IN JUNE

(Special To The Journal)

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 22.—Date for the twenty-third annual convention of the Texas Commercial Executives Association has been changed to June 5, 6 and 7th, according to the announcement made by J. E. Bell, president of the organization. Plainview will be the convention city.

This city was selected as the next convention city of the organization at a meeting of the directors in Dallas last October. At that time the committee named to select the dates for the convention decided on May 8, 9 and 10th, but due to fact that this date conflicted with the East Texas Chamber of Commerce convention the committee recently decided to change the dates. The committee is composed of Paul T. Vickers, Midland, secretary; J. E. Bell, San Benito, president, and Maury Hopkins, Plainview, who extended the invitation to the directors to meet in this city.

Oldest In U. S.

The Texas Association is the largest and oldest organization of its kind in the United States. The annual meetings are called conference-schools as the entire time is devoted to a study of problems confronting commercial organization secretaries. Fort Worth, Dallas, Sherman, Lubbock, Marlin, Corpus Christi and Mineral Wells have entertained the convention in the past seven years.

Invitations to attend the meeting here have been mailed to 450 chamber of commerce secretaries in Texas by Maury Hopkins. A record attendance is expected as an extensive publicity campaign will proceed the convention.

Officials Listed

Officials of the Texas Commercial Executives' Association are; J. E. Bell, San Benito, president; C. C. Patterson, Cleburne, vice-president; Paul T. Vickers, Midland, secretary-treasurer; Chas. Mumm, Laredo; Grady Shipp, Vernon; A. B. Davis, Lubbock; and B. Frank Johnson, Paris, directors.

A program committee for the meeting at Plainview has been named and is composed of; B. Frank Johnson, chairman; C. C Paterson, Cleburne; Grady Shipp, Vernon; Sidney Kring, Corpus Christi; and M. D. Abernathy, Longview. A committee to award a scholarship in the National School at Evanston is made up of: M. E. Melton, Texarkana, chairman; Ray Gill, Beaumont, and Grady Shipp, Vernon. John Boswell vice-president and general manager of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, is chairman of the attendance committee. Other members of this group are: M. E. Melton, Texarkana; J. W. TECH FIVE WINS 6TH STRAIGHT; MEET SOONERS AGAIN TONIGHT

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

The proposed East Texas or Lone Star Class D baseball loop is apparently being planned with a distinct idea of leaving West Texas out in the cold. Club owners of the Texas League are to sponsor the co-operative organization, according to advance notices, and the wobbling West Texas circuit is not even so much as mentioned.

Less than half the teams in the West Texas circuit came through the 1929 season without showing an actual financial loss. At a recent meeting of the Texas League moguls in Houson, President Dave Snodgrass of the West Texas League made it known to the higher-ups that his circuit could not continue through 1930 without assistance from the Texas League. Experience has taught the baseball men of this section of the state that gate receipts will not take care of a club, playing Class D baseball. Hope of furnishing Texas League clubs with "farm" sites was the only salvation of Abilene and the other cities in the circuit.

Northeast and East Texas cities are closer situated to the Texas League centers than are the Oil Belt cities of the West Texas loop, and the proposed new league will undoubtedly work out much better than did the farm system attempted in this part of the state last year. According to present plans, it is proposed to reorganize either the East Texas or Lone Star League with clubs in the Texas League working together with business men in the cities interested.

The loop is to be organized and operate on a cooperative bazis, with all funds, including salaries, passing through the president's office and with all profits or losses being pro-rated among the member clubs. It has been proposed that no club would take on option more than three players and the use of young talent would be stressed. The meeting will be held in Dallas Saturday.

As a training ground for ambitious baseball players, the cooperative league idea listens like a rousing good one. It may in time become a stepping stone for hundreds of youngsters who are blessed with baseball talent and need seasoning before entering the ranks of Class A baseball.

In the baseball fraternity, those who participate have a language all their own, but boxing has more slang than baseball. In baseball a "jockey" is one who rides or abuses an opposing player and a "barber" is a player who has no terminal facilities on his conversational tracks. Art Shires can qualify for both terms. "Two for two" is two hits in two times at bat and a horse collar is a day in which a big "0" is placed in the hit column. A pitcher "pulls the string" by throwing a half speed ball up to catch a batter off stride. Knocking a batter down or dusting one off does not consist of hitting him with the ball but throwing it so close to him that he must fall to get out of the way. "On a dime" means a runner is slow. There are dozens of expressions common to the diamond that are known to every follower of the game, but the majority of these cannot be classed with the printable.

Boxing slang is less commonly known by the layman of the street than is baseball slang. Here an interpreter comes in handy. Getting the "duke" is winning the decision, "coming in on a flat" is having a guarantee and "swinging on the gate", a percentage of the gate receipts. The "nut" is the expense of the bout. Hitting a boxer "on the whiskers" needs no explanation but at first glance a novice might not realize that the "potato" is the chin. We have found many fans who think that the "button" is the nose, but it means the point of the chin, a point much sought after by a pug who is seeking to land a knockout.

Dazzy Vance and Burleigh Grimes the two highest paid hurlers in the National League, have demanded a salary of $25,000 for next season and intend to stay with the price they believe they should be paid, reports from the north say. It was only through persuasion of Uncle Wilbert Robinson, the rotund Brooklyn manager, that the Dazzler was paid that salary last year, but his poor record for the 1929 season and the Robin powers have intimated in no uncertain terms that the speed ball artist "ain't what he used to be" and that he will be forced to take a cut if he stays on the Brooklyn payroll.

The ace of the Smokey City pitching staff argues that his record as equally as impressive as Dazzy's and that he too, must have $25,000 if he continues to do slab duty for the Pirates. Brooklyn officials would rather trade Vance off for several acceptable stars than to give him another salary like the one he received last season. This appears to suit the Dazzler since he has made it known before that he would prefer to close his major league career in New York or Chicago. Owner Wrigley of the Cubs has already made a nice cash offer for Vance. As to Grimes, two clubs are making attractive offers for his services—St. Louis and Cincinnati. Burley has not been on such good terms with Barney Dreyfus and Manager Jewel Ens and it would not be at all surprising to see the big spitballer toiling for another National League entry when the season gets under way.

VISITORS ARE STELLAR WITH PERFORMANCE

LOCAL COLLEGIANS ARE FORCED TO EXTEND THEMSELVES

Texas Tech's flying hardfloor artists were forced to extend themselves to the limit at the college gymnasium last night in turning back a scrappy aggregation of basket shooters from Oklahoma Christian college at Cordell, Oklahoma to hang up the sixth successive court victory of the year for the Scarlet and Black and keep their record clean for the season.

Only after staging a garrison finish were the Matador cagers of Vic Payne able to carry off a 37 to 31 decision from the Mustangs from Soonerland. Last night's skirmish was a fast, clean exhibition from the first whistle to the last, and the second game of the series tonight, starting at 8 o'clock, promises to be even more bitterly-fought than the opener.

Maxwell-Hodges Again

Bill Maxwell and Clarence Hodges, the Tech scoring aces, carried the offensive burden for the Tech machine last night and made possible the Matador triumph. This pair of sharpshooters, ably aided by Captain Leon Fisher and the floor work of Tech's sterling guards, Tadlock and Vinzant, enabled the homelings to snap out of a 16-16 tie at the half and forge ahead with a dazzling offensive that kept the Matador lead over the fast-stepping invaders.

A crowd of 1,000 customers were held until the last minute before victory for the Matadors was certain. Idalou Wildcats took a decisive victory from Lubbock High in a practice skirmish following the Tech-Christian game. Tonight's aftermath will be a combat between Wilson High school and Idalou.

Pyron Shows Well

It was a little fellow from the wind-swept plains of Western Oklahoma, Les Pyron aided and abetted by Captain French, who proved the principal fly in the locals' ointment. Scrapping like a wildcat, darting, dribbling and negotiating goals when live from cover, Pyron looked for all the world like "Rabbit" Hale, onetime star of the Canyon Buffs, as he kept his team in the running. Only a doggedly strong Matador defense, plus the Paynemen's advantage on the tip-off, held the visitors in their places as the game, fastest of the current season, kept the spectators on edge.

But while Pyron was carrying the Mustang threat practically alone the Tech veterans, all of whom went throughout the contest without a substitution were playing together, welding a court machine and leaving the scoring duties largely to Maxwell and Hodges. The former young man again a demon on turning backboarded bounds into field goals, piled up 18 points to lead the scoring, followed by Pyron with 13 and Hodges with 10. Sixteen of Maxwell's markers came via the field goal route, doubling the points negotiated by his diminutive rival. Floor work by Dennis Vinzant aided Maxwell largely in his tallying spree, with Fisher and Hodges carrying their share and Hershel Tadlock rescuing wide shots made by the visiting Soonerlanders.

Christians Score First

The Christians brought a murmur of surprise from the stands when a nifty piece of passing brought them first blood in the form of Maddox's field goal, a quarter of a second after the game started. Hodges however, put Tech in the lead with a field goal and a free throw immediately thereafter, and it was not until just before the first half ended that the Mustangs galloped to a 16-16 tie to end the session.

Coach Payne must have told his boys between halves they had a ball game on their hands for at the start of the second period the Scarlet flashed in one-two order, taking a lead which proved to be enough. Even in the face of crack work on the part of their adversaries, the Christians kept within distance and there was no letdown on the part of the Payne five.

Tadlock Takes Tip-Off

Coach Raymond Hazlet, visiting mentor, bemoaned the fact that Al Maddox, his big forward, was off color last night, believing had Maddox been in his usual form his team would have captured the laurels. Captain "Bud" Fisher, of the homelings, however, was also off his usual scoring form and when "iffing" is in order that also must be taken into consideration. Hazlet said his boys were plainly nonplussed in losing the tip-off. Tadlock, Tech pivoter, being the only man to take the jump advantage over the Christian centers this year.

The two teams clash again tonight in the last of the two-game series for the Mustangs return to their home stable for the first games of the Oklahoma Junior college conference this week-end. Hostilities will be called at even-up eight o'clock and Business Manager Marvin Warlick promises a warm gym for the occasion. Last night's crowd was the largest turnout of the season thus far with students and townspeople alike paying honor to what begins to look like a great Tech five.

Fouls Are Few

Few fouls were made during the scrap and nary an athlete was banned for unfair tactics. L. Mintz, visiting guard, was forced from the frame after two-thirds of the second half was played, when somebody's tooth or elbow lacerated his scalp in an under-the-goal scuffle. He will be ready to play again tonight, Coach Hazlet said.

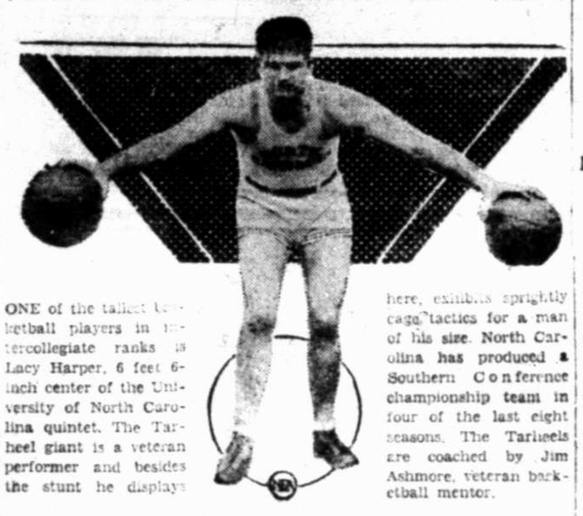

The box score follows:

ONE of the tallest basketball players in intercollegiate ranks is Lacy Harper, 6 feet 6-inch center of the University of North Carolina quintet. North Carolina has produced a Southern Conference championship team in four of the last eight seasons. The Tarheels are coached by Jim Ashmore, veteran basketball mentor.

DONIE BUSH AND "THE GREAT" SHIRES ARE ALL SMILES AFTER CONFERENCE; SUSPENSION EXPECTED TO BE LIFTED

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—The case of organized baseball, the White Sox in particular, against Charles Arthur "The Great" Shires neared conclusion today.

The punch throwing White Sox first baseman, who has already acceded to Commissioner K. M. Landis' demand that he quit the professional ring and get into shape for baseball, conferred secretly with Donie Bush, new White Sox manager, yesterday, and from the smiles that wreathed their faces it looked as if both had come to an agreement.

Shires is expected to have his suspension levied because of his fist fight with former Manager Russell "Lena" Blackburne last season lifted and receive his 1930 contract this week.

"Bush and I will get along one hundred per cent," Shires said after the conference.

"Shires is a fine boy and I'm sure we're going to get along famously and win some ball games this summer," Manager Bush said.

WALKER'S MONEY IN LEGAL CHANNEL

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 22 (AP)—William H. Hanlon, chairman of the California Boxing commission said today he could not obey an order of the Illinois State Athletic commission that a $10,000 forfeit posted by Mickey Walker, middleweight boxing champion, be given to the Shrine hospital.

Walker posted the money as a guarantee that he would risk his title by last September, when the Illinois commission permitted him to go out of his class to meet Tommy Loughran for the light heavyweight title here last March. Walker's manager, Jack Kearns, has a temporary injunction to prevent the money being paid.

Hanlon said the disposition of the money was solely up to the California Supreme court.

Dekuh outclassed Hartwell, cutting him badly about the face and partly closing both the negro's eyes. The referee stopped the fight in the ninth to save Hartwell from further punishment. Dekuh weighed 214; Hartwell 218 1-2.

Edwards Not To Run For New York Team

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—Authorities at New York university have revealed that Phil Edwards, negro middle distance runner, will not be eligible to compete for the university after Jan. 31 and therefore will not defend his half-mile crown at the Intercollegiate indoor track and field championships here in March.

Although he has had only two years of varsity competition, he completes three years of eligibility at the end of this month. During his sophomore year he competed as an unattached athlete, as scholastic difficulties prevented his competing for New York university.

Inability to compete makes it virtually impossible for the Violets successfully to defend the indoor title they captured last year. Edwards not only won the half mile championship, but ran anchor on the team that won the two-mile relay event.

CALIFORNIAN IS AHEAD OF GOLF TOURNEY

HORTON SMITH MAKING CLOSE SECOND; DUDLEY SLOWS UP

(By Associated Press)

AGUA CALIENTE, LOWER CALIFORNIA, Jan. 22.—Olin Dutra, Santa Monica, Calif., professional, entered the third round of the Agua Caliente $25,000 golf tournament today as leader of the 58 remaining entrants. He was one stroke ahead of Missouri's threat, Horton Smith, and Charles Guest, Los Angeles.

Dutra looked to the third eighteen holes today with a 146 score. Yesterday he shot 72, nearest approach of the day to the 71 which represents par. With him came his brother, Mortie of Tacoma, Wash., whose 72 placed him in a six-cornered tie for third position.

Tied with Mortie and his 146 card were MacDonald Smith, Long Island, N. Y., who won two consecutive victories in the Los Angeles $10,000 open, 1928-29, Gene Sarazen, former National Open champion from New York, Al Espinoza, veteran Chicago player; Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del., leader of the field during the opening day with a par 71, and Al Watrous, Detroit pro.

Chilean Fighter Outpoints Hart

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 22. (AP)—Ernie Saques, 150, Chilean schoolmaster, decisively outpointed Bobby Hart, 160, of Portland, Ore., here last night. Hart went down for counts of nine in the first and second, and the bell saved him in the third. He also was floored in the seventh and ninth.

ILLINOIS BODY BARS WRESTLERS

CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (AP)—Heavyweight wrestlers, split into warring factions over the championship, have been banned from Illinois rings until they can agree to settle their titular claims in an elimination tournament sponsored by the state athletic commission.

The commission ordered the ban, effective immediately, after it had failed to induce the wrestlers to meet in such a tournament here this month. The pre-arranged match between John Pesek, "Nebraska Tiger Man," and John Esko, ponderous Slav, was permitted to stand, however. It is to be held next Tuesday.

General John V. Clinnin, chairman of the Illinois commission, said the heavyweights agreed to enter an elimination tournament, but that Joe Sonnenberg, recognized generally as the champion, insisted he meet only the tournament survivor for the title, while others insisted Sonnenberg meet all challengers.

"There were so many disagreements that the commission was forced to give up the tournament," General Clinnin added, "and indefinitely suspend all heavyweight wrestlers until they can agree."

East Texans Win From Sam Houston

HUNTSVILLE, Jan. 22. (AP)—The East Texas Teachers made it two straight from Sam Houston Normal by winning last night's game, 32 to 29. The victory placed the teachers in a tie for the leadership of the T. I. A. A. basketball race. The Stringer brothers, Harold and Oliver, starred for the Teachers, accounting for 25 points between them. Coe scored 11 for the losers.

PLAINVIEW PLANS FOR DAIRY SHOW

ARRANGEMENTS MADE TO CARE FOR 50,000 VISITORS

(Special To The Journal)

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 22.—"More entries, and a larger attendance," is the word being received by officials of the Texas Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show from county agents, dairy farmers, vocational agricultural instructors, and chamber of commerce officials in each of the fifty-four counties comprising the Texas Panhandle, as preparations for the third annual show to be held in Plainview April 7, 8, 9 and 10th go forward. Citizens of Plainview are making arrangements to entertain 50,000 visitors this year compared to 35,000 last year.

"Much of the increased interest in pure bred dairy stock in the Panhandle can be attributed to the dairy show and while the interest as shown by attendance and the number of entries is more than we had hoped for it is a pleasant surprise to the officers and directors," Oscar Stansell, Floydada, president of the dairy association stated. "Every official is enthusiastic over the prospects for the show this year and from every county we have reports that there will be an increase of from fifteen to thirty percent in both attendance and entries."

To Enter More Animals

From Swisher, Potter, Collingsworth, Floyd, Carson, Randall, Lamb, Deaf Smith, and a number of other counties that led last year in entries and attendance representatives at a recent directors meeting in Plainview stated that there would be from ten to twenty percent increase in the number of animals entered and the attendance. Chambers of commerce in some of the cities in the Panhandle are making special arrangements for transportation for a number of farmers to show and in some instances are offering awards for attendance and premiums won.

Arrangements for the annual sale the production contest, boys 4-H judging contest, vocational agricultural boys judging contest, and the county herd department were made at the first directors meeting this year. Twenty three directors were present for this gathering despite very inclement weather.

Officers of Show

Officers of the 1930 show are O. L. Stansell, Floydada, president; S. J. Payne, Tulia, vice-president; Maury Hopkins, Plainview, secretary-manager; and D. F. Eaton, Lubbock, honorary vice president; directors: S. J. Underwood, Hale Center, W. C. Wilhite, Hale Center, H. B. Hales, Amarillo, C. C. Stewart, Amarillo, C. B. Martin, Tulia, J. W. EPISCOPAL CHURCH DENIES SUFFRAGE

BEAUMONT, Jan. 22 (AP)—Suffrage was denied women in the diocese of Texas of the Protestant Episcopal church at the final session here Friday of the 81st annual council of the diocese. The ballots cast showed the clergy voted 10 for suffrage and 19 against, while the laymen voted 7 for and 22 against. The chief argument against suffrage was that it would remove church responsibility from the men and put it on the women. Opponents contended that the women have enough to do already.

A budget of $50,000, including $30,000 for general expenses in the diocese and $20,000 for the national church organization, was adopted.

Thought For Today

Because you have seen vanity, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am, against you.—Ezekiel 13:9.

In condemning the vanity of women, men complain of the fire they themselves have kindled.—Lingree.

Our Fault

Nobody can be greatly surprised to learn that a District of Columbia grand jury, closing an investigation of liquor conditions in the national capital, has reported that it is chiefly the general public's fault that Washington is so wet.

Indeed, the thing is so self-evident that it hardly seems worth the trouble for a grand jury to put it in a formal report.

The general public is always responsible when any city is wet. That goes without saying.

What the grand jury might have added is that any defect in any city's life—booze, crime, graft, industries, housing or what-not—is always, the fault of the public at large.

The rewards of virtue and vice are a bit uneven in this world, in many ways, but where the field of civic affairs is concerned they work out very exactly. We get precisely what we deserve in our cities—no more and not less.

If a city is overrun with bootleggers and speakeasies it is due to the ordinary citizen. If there wasn't a big demand, there wouldn't be a big supply.

If a city's government is shot through with graft and corruption so that its police force is crooked, its public service departments are inefficient and its payrolls are padded from A to Z, that also is due to the ordinary citizen. If he'd be stir himself, use his noodle a little bit during the campaigns and insist on getting a better class of men into office he could change things overnight. If you don't believe it look at Cincinnati.

If a city has atrocious slums, soul-killing sweat-shops and starvation wage scales, the ordinary citizen again is responsible. If his conscience were not drowsy he could force a change. Things like that are not immutable. Public opinion can remedy them—always.

In private life things don't always work out that way. There are many four-flushers and hand-shakers enjoying the fruits of success, and many hard-working and capable men who are condemned by circumstance to remain near the bottom.

But in the field of public affairs we get exactly what we have coming to us—nothing more and nothing less.

We have deserved all of the blots on our national record—all of them, from Teapot Dome to the Vare-Grundy mess, from Chicago's gangland displays to Carolina's textile mill town difficulties.

The remedy in things like that is in our hands. If we don't bestir ourselves and use it we have no cause to complain.

Had A Hand In It

A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University, warns that college athletics, particularly football are being made too spectacular, so that the games are becoming spectacles rather than means of pleasant diversion.

Probably he's quite right. Yet President Lowell might remind himself of one of two pertinent facts before he continues.

To begin with, it was Harvard—unless our memory is all off—that led the way in building a large and costly stadium for its football games.

In the second place, it was a Harvard coach—Percy Haughton—who did as much as any other coach to shape college football in the mold to which it now conforms. Haughton, for instance, was a great one to train a man for one special function, send him into the game for just one play and promptly replace him—a thing that would hardly be done if football were simply a pleasant diversion.

THE PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says the wise girl chooses her enemies as carefully as she does her friends.

We take this opportunity of nominating as Ambassador to Mount Vesuvius none other than Dr. J. J. Taylor, probably better known as State Press of the Dallas News. The Plainsman makes this nomination not because he wants to see the learned doctor become any more successful or famous than he already is. As a matter of actual fact, as Dr. Paul W. Horn would say, we'd really like to see State Press do his Vesuvius ambassadoring while the well known volcano is in action—and here's why: He's the man who brought about the blizzards of this month. Already we hear cheers from the gallery as a result of our suggestion that he be added to the diplomatic corps.

Quoting John Denman, who confesses to being quite an addict of the News' State Press column, along about last July or August, when the sun was bearing down on Dear Old Texas, Doctor Taylor, via his column, requested Commander Byrd to trade some frigid weather, about eight or te nshares to one, for a portion of the then current torrid ozone. That Commander Byrd did the job up well, there is no denying now, and something ought to be done about it.

If Doctor Taylor can't get off to go to Vesuvius, we have a second recommendation. We want to see him spend a winter in Amarillo, chained on the corner of Sixth and Polk streets, attired only in his "undies," after such an experience you may be sure the Dallas gentleman won't offer to do any more weather trading for the state which has helped make him, at least in a measure, famous.

The Plainsman has always been of the opinion that something should be done to curb the activities of newspaper columnists, anyway. Making an example of the learned Doctor, from the banks of the Trinity, might be a good thing in more ways than one. No newspaperman—at least 'nary an editorial department worker—was ever accused of being a good business man so why does Doctor Taylor try to break all precedents by doing Texas' weather trading for her? It's awful—and when we say 'awful' we mean it in its three-dollar definition, 'full of awe'—and that's that.

But enough of Doctor Taylor and his bum trading—he's got a bigger audience to talk to than The Plainsman. Let us up and away, for a dissertation upon another subject, more or less serious than the preceding one. This, for instance, the combined financial statements of 43 South Plains banks, compiled at the close of business December 31, 1929, and appearing in another part of today's Journal. That ought to jar somebody's preserves.

If you'll drag out the old family pencil, and steal a sheet or two of mother's stationery, you'll discover that the assets of these 43 institutions total $24,655,849.43 and the 'quick assets', which means cash on hand, U. S. bonds and money owed by other banks, totals $12,300,624.00 or practically one half the 'total assets'. The figure is also more than half of the total deposits of $21,949,286.43. That part of the statement is little short of remarkable.

The laddy-bucks who would have you believe that the South Plains is eternally standing upon the brink of disaster will have a hard time laughing the above figures off. It may be gall and wormwood for them to swallow the fact but it's true, never-the-less.

That Man on Avenue Q says during this cold spell his son's nose reminded him of Jim Ferguson.—Yep, you guessed it—"running again!"

Most of us believe in trial by jury until it is time for us to sit on a jury.

Which turns thought to the state's present headliner in the way of murder trials, that which has as its principal character Judge John Brady, of Austin, who was considerably embarrassed to wake up in the hoosegow and learn that he was being held as the result of the fatal stabbing of Lehlia Highsmith.

Texans are going to watch the Brady case with interest. Texans are going to be almost as much interested in the legal gymnastics attendant upon the trial as in its outcome. It has become such a fine old Spanish custom to shoot first and escape punishment through legal loopholes that Texans have begun asking themselves just what it is all about. And despite a glittering array of defense talent, public opinion is going to have its effect in the trial of the formerly popular and prominent jurist.

Every day is pay for the man who likes his job.

Among the sadder things of life are those a radio can do while you're trying to show what it can do.

A traffic survey of a party given for members of the younger set shows eleven couples parked on a busy stairway.

London Naval Conference May Lead To Scrapping Of All Battleships But Reduction Of Cruisers Is Not Likely

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—It is so important to President Hoover, to Premier MacDonald and the world itself that something substantial be achieved at the London naval limitation conference that there is a good chance that the conference will administer a coup de grace to all big battleships.

In a few years the largest effective fighting ships afloat may be mere cruisers, limited to 10,000 tons, instead of the giant dreadnaughts which now eat up nearly half the tonnage and much of the expense of the British and American fleets.

Cruisers, destroyers and submarines may be limited. Maximum figures in these classes of ships may be agreed upon, more or less similar to existing building programs, beyond which none of the five principal naval powers may build.

No Cut in Cruisers

But because of individual national demands based on all sorts of complicated geographical and other factors there is not going to be any particular reduction and in the immediate future nations will continue to strengthen their fleets of cruisers, submarines or destroyers according to what they consider their needs.

Originally this meeting shaped up virtually as a cruiser conference, because cruisers figured in the British-American naval race. Then battleships were dragged into the agenda along with other classes. Under the Washington treaty a 10-year holiday on battleships is in effect, ending in 1931.

Our delegation at London will propose extension of the holiday for five more years and it may be that someone will propose abolishing capital ships altogether. Although this conference is not expected to effect any such abolition it may well reach an agreement which will lead to that. Once the chief naval powers have gone for 15 years without building any of the things it ought to be easy by 1936 to dissuade themselves from etering on most expansive programs of replacements.

Both the United States and Great Britain are stronger in capital ships than Japan, France and Italy combined. Britain has 20, we have 18, France has nine, Japan eight and Italy four, but the American and British navies have the newest and best types and neither France nor Italy has commissioned any since 1916.

There is plenty of argument as to the relative value of capital ships in naval warfare. Japan, France and Italy have all failed to build up to their quota in this class. For one thing those big battleships make beautiful targets for airplane attacks.

But a more modern thought is that they are so frightfully expensive, costing up to $35,000,000 apiece to build. It will undoubtedly be suggested at the conference that to get rid of all these ships eventually would save plenty of money, which all the conferring nations want to do, and still not hurt anybody's navy. If, in the future, fighting ships should be limited to 10,000 tons, the displacement of the present large cruisers, relative naval strengths could still be maintained by compensating with cruisers the nations which gave up the most capital ships.

Won't Last Much Longer

The capital ship's age of effectiveness is 20 years. The existing understanding assumes replacement programs beginning next year. If these programs are put off until 1936, by that year only 31 of the world's present 59 battleships will still be within the age of effectiveness as set by international agreement. The United States and Great Britain would each have 12, Japan five and France and Italy one apiece.

If, before 1936, the holiday were to be extended still another five years—or if the London conference were to make the extension 10 years—there would by 1941 be four American battleships, two British and no others within the age limit. Shortly afterward they would all be "dead"—the last to go being the British Nelson and Rodney in 1947.

Takes Plane Ride

ORMOND BEACH, Fla.—Another tip to duffers: John D. Rockefeller took a ride in an airplane. Then he shot his best golf of the season. The ride was the length of one fairway on the golf course and the plane taxied. It didn't fly at all; purposely so. The pilots, a Mr. and Mrs., received sundry shiny dimes.

Here's Golf Tip

AGUA CALIENTE—Here's an unguaranteed tip on the 50,000 pesos tournament: Harry Cooper, who has a fair score, got married yesterday about the same time that Marion Turpie Lake, on her honeymoon, was smashing records with a 77 at Edgewater Park, Miss. Bobby Jones did not win the National Amateur championship till he was a benedict. Shortly after his marriage Jess Sweetser won the British amateur championship.

Pounded It

MIAMI, Fla.—If home runs don't come fast enough when the season opens perhaps he should use his driver instead of a bat. In a tournament match Babe Ruth walloped a golf ball far enough to chase it far out of any baseball park—345 yeards.

NEW YORK—John Arthur Johnson, whose playing of the bull fiddle in time past has attracted some attention, now leads a jazz orchestra in a Broadway chop suey establishment. He's the fellow, you know, who once was recognized as able to lick anybody in the world He used to bull-fiddle in training camp for amusement.

As a memorial to the late Rev. Wilbur Fiske Glenn, Emory university at Atlanta is to have a $500,000 church on the campus.

Labor Troubles In Florida Are Ended

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 22. (AP)—There will be no more juridictional strife among building trades unions if an agreement drawn up today by the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor's building trades department is adopted, according to W. J. Mosorley, head of the division.

A national board or a series of regional boards would be set up under the agreement, to settle any disagreement over which set of craftsmen should do new types of construction work. Mr. Mosorley explained. If regional boards are selected, then a national board, or court of appeals, would be appointed to which any union might appeal if displeased with a decision.

Gilbert Swan

In New York With Swan

NEW YORK, Jan. 21—On a cold night, the line begins to form about sundown. But it is not a line in any orderly sense.

It is more a disorganized drifting of shambling humans.

The scene is a large, dreary-looking place over by the East river. It is called the Municipal Lodging House.

Its average capacity is some 1100 persons per night. But this is a particularly tough winter. When winds reach the freezing point, some 1400 or more humans may be expected to apply. Which means that 300 must shift through the night to some other harbor—if any.

To accommodate as many as possible involves the necessity of quick invention. Chairs are placed about tables and the penniless droop to sleep with faces buried in hands and arms flung across table tops.

The rest must crowd together in a chaos of stenching, filthy bodies.

It is not a pretty picture. It is one phase of the great city in its more hopeless and terrible aspects. Eleven hundred humans could make the population of a country town. Multiply this by three or four—thus including the population of the Salvation Army homes, the Y. M. C. A. flop houses and the many Bowery missions, and you approximate the size of a thriving little city.

A little city, then, which comes crawling from somewhere out in the night. A city of ragged dwellers. A city without a dime in its communal purse. A city without a place to sleep or keep warm.

The women and children always come last!

They fight harder against surrender to this sordid inevitability. Particularly when there are children.

Yet women and children do come. They make their way past those new sky-reaching places where the rents are $10,000 a year. They make their way through bright lanes and dark areaways under the elevateds. They make their way with children shivering in their arms and crying at their heels. They make their way in shoes that are all but falling from their feet. Hatless, and with ragged shawls tied about stinging ears!

The people of luxury-land sleep comfortably. Perhaps one complains that the steam heat isn't particularly good that night. Going to a brightly lighted window, the palace dwellers over by the East river may see a dark shadow hurry across the street.

The penniless bed-searchers travel alone—unless they are a diverse crew.

Many resemble the people of Gorky's "Lower Depths." Yet there is not even the depressing drama of the Gorky play. There is no sense of contact between them; no implication of any entanglement of lives. They drift in and they drift out. And some night they drift in again.

They travel alone. Tragically alone. Like cows breaking through brush after grazing on a woody hillside. In a few, there is a sense of cumulative despair; an anxious tendon which tells the story of the newcomer—the first timer. Most of the women are first timers. Hundreds of the men are just bums—ambitionless, shifting, without desires, seemingly without senses. They do not even communicate with one another. There is, rather, a stolid, individualistic desire to go there first and get a bed. Let the other fellow look after himself!

An so it goes until 1400 humans are packed like animals against the cold!

Local Men Attending Chevrolet Sessions

Headed by Manager G. P. Kuykendall, three members of the 100-car club of Texas will represent the local Chevrolet agency in Dallas today at the annual meeting of Chevrolet officials.

W. L. Price, A. H. Gearheart and N. H. McFarland are the local salesmen who are members of the club.

Manager Kuykendall and the three salesmen left last night for the meeting.

There are 5,281 churches in Oklahoma, representing 88 denominations.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

USE SPECIAL EXERCISE WITH REDUCTION DIET IF LIMBS ARE TOO FAT

Fat In Spots

"Dear Doctor: I have been wonderfully helped by your diet and exercise on reduction. Before following your instructions I was an invalid. I had heart trouble and couldn't go out alone on account of dizziness. I could not do my work and I had spent a small fortune trying to find a cure. I received more benefit from your information than from anything else.

"Can you prescribe an exercise to reduce the upper arm? Are the upper arms hard to reduce, and is it a slow process? I want so much to be able to wear sleeveless dress, but I can't on account of my fat, unsightly arms.

"What do you think of the no-dinner plan—"Slim While You Sleep"?

"MRS. W."

The only thing for fat in spots—arms, legs, hips, etc.—besides the general reduction, is special exercise applied to those parts, and they must be persistently kept up, sometimes for months, before any effects are noticed. For the arms, twisting them in and out, and tensing them at the same time, dumbbell and Indian club exercises, etc., should bring results.

I mention this "Slim While You Sleep" no-dinner plan in my book on reduction. Do you refer to that? I find that when I have my annual summer vacation excess to remove, I can do it most easily by having my chief meal in the middle of the day, taking fruits or skim milk and a few crackers—not more than 200 to 300 C. worth—for my evening meal. It means refusing practically all dinner engagements for a period (I usually accept one evening dinner a week. How I look forward to it!)

Someone has coined the couplet: "If you want to be slimmer, make your breakfast your dinner." I would change that to "If you want to be slimmer, make your luncheon your dinner."

However, it really doesn't matter when you get your calories during the day so long as you stay on a reducing number, and many of our followers write that they have a very light breakfast, light lunch and moderate sized dinner.

It is highly imperative in many disorders, and especially in those of the heart and kidneys, not to give the heart any excess work to do and to have the blood in a normal condition. The heart, of course, has much work when there is excess weight, and the blood certainly is not normal when it is super-saturated with food products from over-eating; therefore a reduction to normal weight is always greatly beneficial.

The Petersizing pamphlet, and the article on The Tummy Ten exercises, can be obtained by following column rules.

Mrs. H.—Until you can see your physician or an ear specialist, remove the crusts by swabbing the ear with pledgelet of cotton saturated with peroxide of hydrogen. Wipe it out, and then swab with one per cent yellow oxide of mercury. (This treatment is also good for itching ears.) (Drug stores carry this medication already prepared in little tubes. It is also recommended for styes and certain other inflammations of the eyes.)

Some cases of eczema of the ear are helped by frequent cleansing with absorbent cotton followed by powdered boric acid.

You can buy little cotton swabs already made up, in the drug store, and if you can't, you can make them yourself with a matchstick and a bit of cotton.

Editor's Notes: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column in their turn. Requests for articles or pamphlets on hand must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed stamped envelope, plus the following small charge to help cover cost of printing and handling: for each article wanted, 2 cents in coin; for each pamphlet, 10 cents in coin. The pamphlets are Reducing and Gaining, Hygiene of Women, Kidney and Bladder Disorders. Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper. Write legibly, and not over 200 words.

Who's Who and Timely Views

By ARTHUR M. HYDE
Secretary of Agriculture

(Arthur M. Hyde was born at Princeton, Mo., July 12, 1877. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and the State University of Iowa. From 1900 to 1915 he practiced law at Princeton, Mo. He was mayor of Princeton from 1908 to 1910. In 1915 he moved to Trenton. From 1921 to 1925 he was governor of Missouri. He was appointed secretary of agriculture by President Hoover.)

The department of agriculture, through its bureau of home economics during the last year continued and broadened its studies of practical everyday home problems important to health and satisfactory living.

Nutrition principles were expressed in daily menus, and recipes for the preparation of foods were tested. The food habits of children were studied and a bulletin prepared giving nutrition facts, menus and recipes.

Designs for children's clothing were published in department leaflets and popular articles. Cooperative relationships were maintained with manufacturers of patterns and ready-to-wear garments, so that mothers might purchase patterns or garments based on the designs.

The quality of family living depends almost as much on how the income is spent as on the amount of the income. Accordingly, studies were made to help the housewife in planning and recording family expenditures. A bulletin was prepared describing various methods and a supplementary, loose-leaf account book was issued to simplify the keeping of household records.

A bulletin in preparation discusses family expenditures and gives typical budgets at different income levels. Two preliminary reports were made on how time is spent in the home. These were based on the records of 1,000 rural home makers.

They will be followed by popular publications in the preparation of time schedules and the planning of household tasks. Some information on the equipment used in the home laundry and the preparation of food was assembled, but much more is needed as a basis for advice on the wise choice of such equipment.

Studies on home refrigeration compared the cost of operation and management of ice and mechanical refrigerators. Bacteriological studies showed the most desirable temperatures for the household refrigerator.

The relative utility and economy of agricultural products used in the home was studied. This work included palatability tests to determine the influence of methods of production and other factors on the palatability of foods.

STOCKS WORK HIGHER TODAY

NUMBER OF LEADING SHARES GO UP ON MARKET OPENING

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—Stocks worked higher at the opening of today's market, in continuation of the rally which set in yesterday. American Telephone mounted 1 3-4 points, General Electric 3-4, Montgomery Ward, Missouri-Kansas-Texas, Hudson Motor, Standard of N. J., United Union Carbide, Radio Keith, U. S. Steel and American Can, 3-8 to 5-8. American Smelting, however, sagged 3-8.

Speculators for the advance shifted their attention from the amusement shares to farm implement manufacturers. J. I. Case rose 4, and International Harvester and advance rumely preferred about 2.

A soft spot was U. S. Industrial Alcohol, which was driven down 7 points to about 25 points under its best level of the month. Air Reduction sagged 2 1-4 and A. M. Byers 1 1-2 points.

A wide assortment of industrials, utilities and specialties gained a point or more, including General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, Columbia Gas, Kroger Grocery, United Fruit, Endicott Johnson, Johns Manville, General American Tank, Newton Steel and Transue and Williams.

Foreign exchanges eased a little, sterling opening at $4.86 11-16, off 1-16.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (AP)—Fresh upturns in wheat here took place early today, owing to indications of large export buying of North American wheat overnight.

Opening unchanged to 1-2c higher, Chicago wheat afterward showed a rise all around, but then reacted somewhat. Corn and oats were likewise firmer, with corn starting unchanged to 1-4 up, and subsequently holding near to the initial figures. Provisions declined.

Don't neglect a COLD

DISTRESSING cold in chest or throat—that so often leads to something serious—generally responds to good old Musterole with the first application. Should be more effective if used once every hour for five hours.

Working like the trained hands of a masseur, this famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other helpful ingredients brings relief naturally. It penetrates and stimulates blood circulation, helps to draw out infection and pain. Used by millions for 20 years. Recommended by doctors and nurses.

BRADY TRIAL

would be dismissed for the time being.

Three jurors selected were picked from 75 veniremen. They were W. L. Wright, 27-year-old furniture repair man, J. R. Keltner, 58-year-old merchant, and A. A. Mobley, 51-year-old laborer. Wright and Keltner were questioned by counsel at great length, but Mobley was accepted after he was asked only a few questions.

New Element Enters

A new element in the line of questioning by the defense was injected when Dayton Moses, one of Brady's lawyers, asked J. R. Robinson, superannuated Methodist minister, whether the fact that Brady was reported to have been intoxicated at the time of the killing would influence him. The minister, however, was challenged peremptorily by the defense.

Brady during the second day of the trial looked tired and sometimes appeared nervous. He sat beside his wife, and at times held her hands in his. A number of times he was amused by answers veniremen gave attorneys.

CROSSING CRASH

and visibility was good. The scene of the accident was in a sparsely settled section, which, with a long, straight, level right of way, gives trains a chance to make high speed.

Twenty-three children were said to have been in the bus. Eight students at Berea high school had left the bus at their school just a few minutes before the vehicle was struck.

All of the children who were killed had been students in from the first to the sixth grades at the Brookpark school in a Cleveland suburb.

After the bodies of the dead and injured were picked up, the train crew, unable to do more, cleared the track of wreckage and resumed the trip. The train was number X-19, a mail run.

The engineer said he failed to see the bus until it was on the track before the engine.

The Berea crossing crash was the fourth big bus tragedy in Ohio within three weeks. Just 19 days ago, seven school children of Burbank, Ohio, were killed at Shreve, Ohio, near Wooster, when a school bus, returning from a basketball game at night, was struck by a Pennsylvania train there.

Pathos was added to tragedy when mothers and fathers of the dead and injured children commenced to arrive. Cries of anguish were heard as mothers found their loved ones dead or learned they had been taken to hospitals seriously injured. Many of the fathers also were unable to restrain their grief.

Many Cities Represented

Representatives of 24 chambers of commerce, from Galveston on the south to Denver on the north, were present for the hearing. All favor the lines. Only three opposing petitions were pending. GEORGETOWN, Jan. 22 (AP)—Corroborative stories of visits paid by Mrs. Rosa Waybourn, charged with her husband's murder, to the blacksmith shop of W. H. Middleton, admitted accomplice to the murder, were put into the record of Mrs. Waybourn's trial today by two state witnesses.

Joe Novosad, blacksmith, and Charles Vyzjola, wood workman, both employed by Middleton, told detailed stories of the visits. Mrs. Waybourn came to the shop, they said, nearly every day, and sometimes as often as eight times in a day. The visits lasted from one or two minutes to a half hour.

Wichita Man Says Didn't Feel Like Working But Orgatone Gives Him Strength And Energy

"I honestly never felt better in my life," said Marvin McClendon, of 311 Lee Street, Wichita Falls, Texas. Mr. McClendon is employed at the Albright Transfer Co.

"I've had stomach trouble for sometime," he continued, "and always felt tired and worn out and no account and never felt like doing my work. Some times when I had to make a long run, driving a truck, I would feel so bad, it would nearly kill me and I could hardly make it. I didn't have any appetite and what food I ate did not digest and I was awfully constipated. I was quite nervous and restless and never got a good nights sleep.

"I saw where Orgatone was advertised so highly for just such troubles as mine and began taking it. I haven't taken one bottle and certainly feel like a different person. I eat anything I want and it doesn't bother me at all. I'm not nervous and sleep fine at night. My constipation has been relieved and in fact I feel better and stronger in every way. Now, I can make a long drive and it doesn't even make me tired out as it used to. I am glad to recommend Orgatone for I know it is a good medicine."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Lubbock at Bowen's Drug Store. Adv.

Payment Of Taxes Urged By Collector

In the face of dilatory payment of dues, A. C. Jackson, collector of city school taxes, issued an urgent request today for prompt payment of school taxes.

The total tax roll is $200,000, said Mr. Jackson. Only nine more days remain in which to make payments in order to avoid a 10 per cent penalty.

"We would appreciate promptness in payment of the taxes so that the necessary funds for operation of schools may be available," he said.

R. A. Holland, city tax collector, announced today that $92,905.54 had been paid on an assessment of $270,000.

NEW HIGHWAY MAN COMING

GUY R. JOHNSON TO BE IN CHARGE HERE FOR CONSTRUCTION

Guy R. Johnson, recently appointed resident engineer for Lubbock during road construction in this county, will visit in this city next Monday to make arrangements and secure office space, according to a telephonic message received yesterday.

Judge Robert H. Bean announced that work probably would begin on the Lubbock-Slaton highway before on any others for the reason that the dump on this road has already been built and is ready for concrete to be poured. He also stated that the Abernathy-Lubbock road probably would be the first road to receive contract for grade and drainage structures.

The state highway department has expressed a desire to let contract for paving on Highway 7, between Lubbock and Slaton, some time in February.

The case will be tried Friday in the court of Justice of Peace W. S. Clark.

Blossoms Break Out In Valley District

LAREDO, Jan. 22, (AP)—The Laredo district's peach, pear, plum, apricot, almond and other trees are covered with blossoms.

The blossoms began to appear following the light rains and sunshine at the beginning of January.

None of the citrus fruit trees are in blossom but if warm weather and sunshine follows a good rain they, too, will be putting out blossoms.

Should a hard freeze come between now and the beginning of springtime the premature blossoms would succumb to the cold and prove detrimental to the production of the trees for the coming season.

ON THE LUBBOCK-SLATON HIGHWAY

PERPETUAL CARE

Provident men guarantee to their families a wise continuance of their estates by the creation of trust funds, wills and insurance.

Provident men likewise guarantee to their families a final resting place where, after the race of life is run, all may rest together in peace and beauty.

MAKE YOUR PROVISION NOW IN MEMORIAL PARK

The modern Burial Park, differing from the old-time cemetery, scientifically effects the greatest safeguards in perpetuating its care funds. Every foot of ground in Memorial Park will have definite care and attention, provided by earnings and income from its fund known as "The Perpetual Care Fund of Memorial Park." This fund has been established with the Trust Department of the First National Bank of Lubbock, as Trustee. In this way the greatest protection is assured each and every owner in Memorial Park.
