

Open the Door, Colorado City!

When you hear the door bell Friday, after 4 p. m., or when you hear a knock-knock any time soon, open the door. It's Girl Scout Cookie Sale time again beginning that day. Pictured here, getting ready for the cookie campaign, are Mrs. Jerry Kanevsky who is neighborhood cookie chairman, and two Girl Scouts, Connie Carter and Jerri Rhodes. The girls are in Troop 280 which has as Troop leader, Mrs. Bob Butler.

13th TIME AROUND

It's Girl Scout Cookie Time, Come Friday!

It's almost time for Girl Scouts for storing unit equipment in the past twelve years. The thirteenth annual sale of Girl Scout Cookies in the West Texas Council will begin at 4:00 p. m. on Friday, January 31. The sale will end on the evening of Saturday, February 8, and the salesladies again will be the registered members of the Junior, Cadette, and Senior Girl Scout troops here and throughout the sixteen counties of the West Texas Girl Scout Council.

For the first time since Girl Scouts in the West Texas Council have been selling cookies, the youngest members of the family—the Brownie Girl Scouts—will not participate in the sale. But all Girl Scouts from Juniors (who are in grades 4, 5, and 6 in school) through Seniors (high school-age Girl Scouts) will be actively engaged from January 31 until February 8 in the sale of two kinds of cookies—the sandwich cookies and the chocolate minis.

Main purpose of the 1964 sale—as for the twelve sales which preceded it—is to provide capital for developing and maintaining the West Texas Council's established campsite, Booth Oaks, which is eight miles southwest of Sweetwater in Nolan County. The Cookie Sales are strictly campaigns for capital funds; none of the proceeds are for council operational use.

Proceeds from the 1964 Cookie Sale will be used to build two Unit Shelters at Camp Booth Oaks. The Unit Shelters will be used at outdoor kitchens for the campers, and they will serve as shelters from rain for Girl Scouts who are Troop Camping during the school year. There will be a storage area on each of the shelters, which will be used

The income from Cookie Sales has enabled the West Texas Council to buy a forty-acre campsite, construct a swimming pool, tent platform, and five permanent buildings, purchase tentage for the four established units, build permanent latrines and shower houses, install a filter system to clear and purify the water for the swimming pool, and erect a suspension bridge over the creek which cuts through the campsite.

OPPOSING BURLESON

Carriker Will Seek Congressional Post

Announcement of Max Carriker, State Representative, that he will seek the post held by Omar Burleson in the National House of Representatives was made in Abilene Thursday night.

Carriker will be a candidate for the 17th Congressional District seat in the House opposing Burleson in the May 7 Democrat Primary election. Public announcement of his candidacy was made at a reception attended by 700 persons in the Windsor Hotel in Abilene. Carriker is completing his third term as Representative to the Texas House from State District 80. His home is Roby, Fisher County.

After Carriker made it known that he would not seek reelection to the State office, he holds, political observers and newspapers in the district began predicting that he would run against Burleson for the National Congress post.

Fisher County, unlike Mitchell County, is part of 17th Congressional District. Mitchell County's five districts vote in the 19th District and are represented in Washington, D. C., by George H. Mahon who has announced he will seek reelection according to an area daily newspaper.

Mitchell and Fisher Counties are in the same district as Texas is divided for State elections, and Carriker has been this county's representative in Austin.

Association To Honor Two Officers

A dinner party Monday evening at 7 p. m. in Terrace Room here will honor two Colorado Federal Savings and Loan Association officers.

Oren B. Trulock Sr., retiring director and outgoing president of the association, and Walter W. Whippley, newly-elected president will be honored guests for the banquet. Other guests will be directors of the association and their wives, office personnel and their husbands.

At the recent annual stockholders meeting, when Trulock announced his decision to retire from the board, Virgil Moser was elected a new Colorado Federal Savings and Loan Association director, and Whippley, former vice-president, was elected president.

Lewis B. Elliott is executive vice-president, J. S. Craddock is vice-president. Other directors are A. L. Maddin, R. F. Forster, John M. Worrell Sr., Moser and the new president, Whippley. Pearl Lindsey is assistant secretary.

Poll Tax a 'Must' In State Elections

Five days are left on the poll tax calendar in Texas—and here in Mitchell County. Thursday, the South Dakota Senate ratification of the 24th amendment (by a 30-0 vote) abolished the poll tax for voting in any election for federal offices. That 24th amendment could cloud the picture for voters who do not understand its limitations.

Thereby hangs a tale of some confusion on the local scene and throughout Texas, one of five states which still makes a poll tax receipt a requirement for voting. Others are Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi and Virginia.

The amendment to the Constitution provides that the right to vote in any primary or general election for president, Vice President, or Senator or Representative in the National Congress shall not be denied because of failure to pay a poll tax or any other tax.

Adoption of that amendment, however, has no effect whatsoever on Texas laws requiring voters to pay a poll tax before they can vote in state and local elections. The amendment applies to National elections only.

As it stands now, no voter in Texas—or in Colorado City—can vote in any election without a poll tax receipt or an exemption. Since primary elections are held on local and state levels no Texan can vote in his party's primary elections without a poll tax.

Administration of the new law, banning poll taxes for federal office elections, will bring two ballots for Texas voters, said Montie Hardegree, tax assessor-collector, Saturday.

For the general elections in November, there will be bal-lotaries bearing names of candidates for national offices, only. National candidates for the Senate and for the House will be chosen for the general election ballot by votes cast in primaries, which require a poll tax.

Some forms of voter's registration bearing the words "no poll tax paid" will be issued, Hardegree said when plans have been completed that will be acceptable in Texas for national office elections, only.

That makes the poll tax picture for now a bit confused and even more confusing. Clearly, if any Texas citizen wants to vote for local county, state, or national offices or for any primary election, he will need a poll tax. He will need one for any primary election of Democrat or Republican.

Five days are left on the calendar Saturday morning, a total of 4,150 poll tax receipts had been issued at the courthouse, said Hardegree with 32 exemptions is issued to first-time voters, new to legal voting age, 21. That's a total of 4,182.

Football & Baseball Fields Get Rest Room

Curlee Lumber Co.'s bid was low for a contract to build a new rest room at Wolf Stadium and Curlee won the contract.

Colorado Independent School Board plans the new comfort station at the north end of the stadium with separate accommodations and entrances for men and women.

Contract calls for completion in 60 days or less which should see the restroom ready by baseball season, plans call for entrances accessible from Wolf football stadium and also from the baseball field just north of the football field.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE

'We Have Retreated' Morris Warns Lions

BY RUTH COFFEY
Record News Editor

Robert Morris, Dallas attorney who has announced as a candidate for the United States Senate, spoke to Lions Club members here Friday at noon.

Except by inference, Morris' speech was not a political address. Introduced by Don Butler, Morris' confided himself to what he began by calling "looking under the surface." His speech here dealt chiefly with the "Extension of Communism throughout the world" with marked emphasis on historical events of the last five years.

"As one drives about your city," he began, "as one notices the tranquility, the trapings of prosperity in this peaceful city nestled in the sunshine, one may wonder why look beyond that? Why look under the surface? I'd like to come before you today seeking to look under the surface," he said.

"We have a magnificent heritage, a precious heritage here in America," Morris said, prefacing his summary of the worldwide spread of Communism.

"There is a spiritual and religious content in the fabric of our way of life," he said. "It is most important to remember that we are a religious nation, we are a religious people, firmly lauded, as such," Morris then quoted passages from the Declaration of Independence wherein the name of God is contained. "They (the Supreme Court) have ruled to stop prayer reading in schools... thus elevating atheism up to the national level." In seven states he added, an atheist attorney is suing to have the phrase "Under God" deleted from the Pledge of Allegiance.

"We are beginning to slip away... crime and juvenile delinquency have increased. The moral code is changing," Morris said.

Morris then added "the picture I see around the world is one that tends to undermine our security."

"Look back five years," he challenged. "In 1958, what was the state of the world? Then after mentioning Cuba and the Caribbean he said, "There was no threat from Cuba to the United States in 1958. Now we have a firm Soviet bastion right at our doorstep."

"Cuba is west of every country in South America," he said. "The Cold War has moved to the Florida straits."

Morris, who is a Republican, will seek to unseat United States Senator Ralph Yarborough, should he be nominated by the Republican Party in their primary election.

ROBERT MORRIS

Says "We must win" speaker took Lions around the world in thirty minutes. He called Brazil another "firm bastion for Communism," warned that Mexico is "flirting with Communism" during mutual trade missions with Red China.

"Africa, the vast continent, was western in 1958," he said. "It was the Communist plan to drive the West out of Asia and Africa, he warned as he included "little pockets of Communism" in Zanzibar, Algeria, Ghana, which he called "a soviet satellite, a full

Adds Cultural Activities To Standing Work Groups

Gus D. Chesney, 64 president of Colorado City Chamber of Commerce, has named all committees for this year.

Chesney, who officially assumed duties as Chamber president Tuesday evening at the annual banquet, added "a first" by naming a committee newly created. New committee is one called Cultural Activities. George Womack is chairman, Joe Bell will be Directors representative. Members are Mrs. Frank Deregisbus, Mrs. Bob Reily, Joe Earnest and the Rev. Alan Conley.

Highway committee chairman named by Chesney is J. Ralph Lee. Director representative is Arlene Morris. Members are Jeff Taylor, Judge Elmer Martin, Charles C. Thompson, Ben Wilkinson and Marshall Sherman.

ROOT GETS PLAQUE

Chamber Officers Assume '64 Posts

Gus D. Chesney took over the reins as 1964 president of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce Tuesday at the 55th Annual Chamber banquet.

A record crowd attended the affair. Charles Root, outgoing president, was presented the past president's plaque by Chesney.

Root, who addressed the crowd briefly, characterized his reports for the year just past by saying "We shot for the moon and missed and have floundered around in orbit all year." Root mentioned the fish rodeo as a '63 project which, with proper planning and more experience, could benefit town, community and county.

He then introduced retiring and hold-over directors of the Chamber of Commerce. They are Bob Carver, James Hull, Porter Richardson and George Womack, whose terms have now expired; Bill Carter, Dr. W. K. Cowan, Jay Craddock, R. J. Hoback, Arlene Morris, Bob Reily, L. J. Taylor and Root, hold-over directors.

Chesney, who called himself "an inarguable optimist," and who climaxed his short address as new president by saying "I will do the best I can, introduced the four new directors of the Chamber. They are Joe Bell, Henry Bilberry, Tandy Curlee and Chesney.

Chamber banquet, always one of Colorado City's biggest social and program events of the winter season, was a community project again this year.

Business and Professional men's Club dedicated the tables and served the dinner.

Dwight Tomp Trio furnished dinner music. Porter Richardson prepared the mural background.

Committee members from all civic clubs helped the Jaycees to choose their DSA winner. Jaycees were represented by Don Benson and Bob Radloff.

on the committee making this year's selections. Chamber of Commerce committee members for the DSA choice were Bill Carter and Porter Richardson. Joe Bell and Allen Sheppard represented Kiwanis Club; Jeff Taylor and Joe Earnest, Lions Club; T. J. Goss and Jack Strain took part representing the American Legion and the Revs. Dennis Egger and Russ Barnett represented Ministerial Alliance.

George Womack was program chairman for the banquet.

Wolf Record Sags After 87-50 Loss

C-City's Wolves were routed by Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes by a score of 87-50, in a basketball game played at Lamesa Friday night.

The defeat made the Wolf quiet District 3AAA record sag down to 0 wins, 4 losses. Season's record now reads: 2 Wins, 15 losses for the Wolf five. Lamesa has 3 wins, 1 loss, in District 3AAA play.

Half-time score read Lamesa 52, C-City, 24.

Pete Garrett was high scoring man for the Wolves with 16 points. Jim Anderson of Lamesa added 16 points to Lamesa's score. Freddie Fox and Ronnie Hillhouse managed 10 points each for the Wolf losers.

FURLOW NEW PRESIDENT

Country Club Holds Stockholders Meet

Colorado Country Club had the 1964 Annual Stockholders meet at the club house Tuesday evening.

A. G. Furlow Jr., of Lorraine, was elected new president of the Country Club. He succeeds Gerald Gordon.

Named to the post of vice president was Luther Coffman. New directors elected to the Club Board are Ben Sparks, Jim Maddox, Bill Craig, and Raymond Fuller.

Directors with terms yet to expire, the five who remain on the Board to serve with incoming directors, are Ray Preston, George W. Smith, and Jim Edison.

Gordon was elected secretary-treasurer of the Club.

King And Queen Howl Reign Thursday Night

Recognition of student royalty highlighted the sixteenth annual Howl Night in Colorado City High School auditorium Thursday night.

Their Royal Majesties King Howl, Terry Redwine, and Queen Howl, Myrna Feaster, were crowned by high school principal Floyd Morris in a court setting in "Pagoda Paradise." Favorites were introduced by master of ceremony Reggie Noble, and presented to the king and queen and the audience individually. Dale Bynum served as royal trumpeter.

Elected by popular vote of the student body, favorites named were Gene Bates and Neta Erwin, Best All Round Boy and Girl; Leon Swartz and Anne Rhode, Boy and Girl Most Likely to Succeed; Paul Yeager and Mary Ann Lipps, Most Dependable Boy and Girl; Raymond Kincaid and Myra Robinson, Most Courteous Boy and Girl; Larry Damborsky and Sharon Montgomery, Friendliest Boy and Girl.

Bill McGuire and Pam Pratt, Sincerest Boy and Girl; John Tiller and Jan Williams, Most Studious Boy and Girl; Cal Girvin and Arla Jo Payne, Most Talented Boy and Girl; Larry Blasingame and Sue Conline, Neatest Boy and Girl; Bonnie Crabtree and Reggie Noble, Most Cooperative Girl and Boy.

The program which followed was given as a command performance for the royal court and audience and featured top talent from the student body.

"Sukiyaki" was sung in Japanese and English by a girls' group dressed in colorful costumes of the orient. Friends were Martha Putnam, Judy Gooden and Brenda Way. They were accompanied by Lynn Witten at the piano.

A skit written and staged by Cal Girvin featured popular TV commercials with a comical ending. Cast of characters included Girvin, Sharon Montgomery, Judy Wood, Don Lattimer, Paul Yeager and Albert Janke.

A second musical number by the girls' trio, sung in close harmony, featured Johnny Baumann, guitarist.

CHS cheerleaders performed a jazz dance routine in oriental costumes. They were Myrna Feaster, Lana Shurtlett, Myra Robinson, Mary Ann Lipps, and Becky Pritchett. Miss Pritchett was choreographer for the number.

Arla Jo Payne presented a rendition of "Wooden Drummer" in which she played fourteen separate instruments some simultaneously. Following a minor technical problem, soon solved by stage manager Perry Millsap, Miss Payne further demonstrated her right to the title of Most Talented Girl by playing "Yellow Bird" on the vibraharp.

Pete Garrett climaxed the command performance with his version of "Hello, Young Lovers," accompanied by Miss Witten.

New members of Quill and Scroll, international honor society for high school journalism, were inducted into the local chapter in a candlelighting ceremony. Gene Bates, president, directed the initiation program.

Judy Kincaid lighted the center candle which she designated as "Love." Other members lighted their candles from this one and spoke on the eight ideals of Quill and Scroll. New Members, in addition to Miss Kincaid, and their subjects were Theresa Lee, learning; Mary Ann Lipps, integrity; Helen May, leadership; Bill McGuire, loyalty; Vicki Pender, judgement; Anne Rhode, initiative; and Myra Robinson, friendship.

The code of ethics was repeated in unison by the initiates.

Cheers for Howl Night were Sue Kennedy, Judy Kincaid.

Richard Smith and Dale Walker. Lamplighters were Helen May and Mary Smith.

Hosted By Mrs. Howell

The Busy Believers Sunday School Class of Plainview Baptist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Hubert Howell.

Each member reported on visits to shut-ins during the month of December. This is a yearly project. A note of thanks was read from Mr. Knight Hospital for the Christmas box sent by the class.

Class members voted to send a gift to small child of the church who is ill. A committee was appointed to purchase and deliver the gift.

Mrs. B.B. Howell presented the devotional on "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" which was followed by the exchange of secret pal gifts.

Attending were Mrs. Marcus Vest, Robert Bolin, B. B. Howell, H. H. Solley, J. E. Boyd, C. O. Santlett, G. M. Howell, E. A. Sample, T. C. Smith, J. C. Northcutt, B. R. Jackson, Grace Howell, Hubert Howell.

County Schools Finish Program

Completion of the State Testing Program has been made in the Loraine and Westbrook schools.

Grades seven, nine, ten and eleven have been participating in these tests since October 15.

Ability, aptitude, and achievement tests are the type that have been administered. The tests have been machine scored and the test results are being received by the school. The tests do not affect the student's grades in academic courses.

Individual charts, or profiles, as they are called, are being prepared for the test results by Preston C. Lightfoot, Supervisor-Counselor. These profiles show the student's strengths and weaknesses. After they have been discussed with the students, they are taken home for their parents to see. "Parents may desire to discuss with the school and the counselor the results of these tests which are profiles," said Preston Lightfoot, supervisor.

Especially in high school, the student's future career and educational plans on the basis of the results of the tests, can be discussed with the counselor. One of the objectives is to get the student to think, as early as possible, what his future career should be and to investigate the various job areas in which his abilities, interest, aptitudes, and achievements are comparable," Lightfoot added.

The ability tests are used for the purpose of estimating scholastic ability and providing a basis for judging the pupil's potential for success in his current school work, he explained.

The aptitude tests are not tests of what has been learned in school by the students. They do show how well the students can do different kinds of work.

The achievement tests are designed to measure the student's educational growth. Lightfoot went on to say: "Teachers and counselors can determine through these tests whether or not satisfactory progress and development are being made by individual students."

Trio Sings at Howl Night

VOCATIONAL INTERESTS

Westbrook-Loraine Freshmen Take Test

Freshmen Classes of Westbrook and Loraine High Schools this week were administered a vocational interest test by Preston C. Lightfoot, Supervisor-Counselor, and profiles which tell of the students' interest in ten important vocational areas are being drawn by the students.

"Purpose of the vocational preference inventory is to get high school students to begin thinking more effectively about a career," Lightfoot said. "People often choose occupations because of some chance influence rather than as a result of a careful review of the field. Supervisor-Counselor and surveying the whole range of occupations are likely to be discouraged by the immensity of the task; therefore, they need some way of narrowing the field so they can investigate occupations most likely to suit them."

Some forty thousand jobs are categorized in ten broad areas—outdoor, mechanical, computational, scientific, persuasive, artistic, literary, musical service, and clerical—and when the student's preferences are identified, he can investigate the occupations that involve these activities, Lightfoot noted.

"A personal inventory interest test is given students when they become juniors and this test is used in conjunction with the vocational interest test in narrowing the field of occupations for study. Personal interest activities are found in varying degrees in all occupations and are related to job satisfaction and success," the supervisor counselor said.

Attend Dallas Market

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Landau and Mr. and Mrs. Max Bergman buyers for Landau's and Max Bergman Dept. Store, will attend the annual January Fashion Market Sunday through Friday in Dallas.

They will select summer fashions for Colorado City women from over 700 lines of up-to-the-minute fashion right apparel. Market this year will follow the theme, "Summer Festival of Fashion," with emphasis on play and informal wear, as well as dressy summer ensembles.

In addition to many fine sportswear and high fashion women's wear—apparel, jewelry, accessories, and linens will be displayed during the week.

Ruth Class Has Meeting

Ruth Sunday School Class of Payne Baptist Church was hosted in the home of Mrs. C. N. Stubblefield recently. Mrs. Charles Williams presented a devotional on a speech by Dr. R. G. Lee. Opening prayer was spoken by Mrs. Grady Beach. Mrs. J. D. Gibson presided.

The class made plans to take a basket of food to a family in which the father has been ill and unable to work.

Mrs. Stubblefield led the recreation hour. Refreshments were served to Mrs. Williams, Beach, Gibson, T. L. Holman, Bill Harris, and Henry McGuire.

Mrs. McGuire will host the next meeting on Feb. 3.

CONVERSATION CORNER

THAT whimsical little rhyme that goes "My Gilt up and go has got up and went" is more truth than poetry. Farm Bureau of Texas is now distributing copies of the lines to all askers. Anybody, we hear tell, can write to Waco for a copy—provided you have the strength, energy, and price of a postage stamp.

Provided, too, that your gilt up and go hasn't got up and went so far that you've forgotten the fun of making fun out of changes the years make, with or without your consent.

CHANGES creep up on people: You're young and gay, dashing and daring one day.

Next day, you pass a mirror and glance up to think you look more like your own mother than you used to.

There comes, too, the sudden realization that you spend more time reminiscing, remembering when than you used to.

First thing you know you're riding the four blocks to the post office. Blocks you used to delight in walking with the wind.

COMES the time, if you last long enough, when you recognize as many names in the local cemetery as you do in the current phone book . . . which keeps on putting in littler and littler print every year, anyhow.

Before you know it, your belts have all shrunk up and won't buckle any more. And that snazzy pair of flannel slacks, your old standby for winter, decides not to zip even when you hold your breath.

As if that weren't disgusting enough, all the shoes in your closet start pinching the feet.

SOUND like a sad state of affairs? Not a bit of it. Those are minor inconveniences.

There are major compensations, changes you're learning to like. The old, wild fears for the future are quieted now. This IS the future, isn't it? And it's really rather satisfactory.

Your young yen to argue politics loud and long has subsided somewhat. You can even view with indulgence the outspoken and misguided disagreement of some very young Republican you've come to like.

EVEN the weather changes for the better. There's no more weeping for rain that spoils a picnic. No more frustration for sandstorms that change your Sunday plans. You just stay home in pajamas and robe, thinking "Goodie." Life in general is less tragic. Granted things, often most unpleasant things, happen to people. You've lived long enough now to know more about how to "accept what can not be changed."

SOMEHOW, too, you have come to know more about the presence of "the peace that passeth understanding."

And you find you wouldn't trade places with any tense twenty-year-old in this wide world . . . not for a million dollars, and for a million reasons.

Chiefest reason of all, of course, is that being perennially 39 is just naturally more comfortable . . . when your gilt up and go has got up and went, you can quit struggling and start enjoying. It's perfectly legal from then on.

Tempus fugit, but don't let it fret you. You started life young, and what did it get you? Worry and hurry and blues in the night. Are gone with the years. Well? Okay. And all right!

THRILL that comes all too rarely in a lifetime arrived this week air mail from Berlin, West Germany, from a faraway Record reader who signs herself Doris Roher. Want to share the lines?

"Dear Mrs. Coffey: I like to thank you in the name of all Berliners for your letter and for your very, very nice article in your newspaper (Colorado City Record) Conversation Corner, the 22 of December, 1963.

"My sister Mrs. Lora Wood, 728 E. 6th St., Colorado City, has sent it to me and I read it to my friends and people I work with."

BEFORE we go on with the charmingly sincere letter, let's pause to remember that the Dec. 22 column was the one about "Walls," with accent on the Berlin Wall and the Christmas visitors going through. Now to continue:

"We all were touched deeply in our hearts to know we have friends in the New World, who pray with and for us, and we can trust. We all hope that our prayers will bring true soon and the 'Wall of Shame' will break down or open forever so we can see our loved ones always."

"HOPE you can read my writing and understand what I want to say. I will send your article to one of our Berlin newspapers so that all believers can read how many friends we have."

"Let me thank you again for all the people from Berlin. God bless you. Sincerely yours truly, DORIS ROHER."

FROM searier home, Long Beach, California, came another letter from Mrs. A. W. La Rue (nee Bonnie Jackson). "I was real interested in your weather report for early December in C-City . . . On New Year's Day it was 80 degrees in the Rose Bowl, and on Sunday between Christmas and New Year's, our oldest son went swimming in the ocean. Mind you, it was not that warm for me but he's younger and has thicker blood or skin. I'm not sure which."

LIKE we were saying when this column began, Bonnie, the younger people are, the more they just MUST prove something or other—to themselves and to the world.

His blood and his skin are both thicker. Also, more than likely, so is his head . . . for the time being, anyhow.

Reason we know for sure is that there is a memory of a day . . . the second day of a raw and breezy March when a beautiful girl we used to know, took a deep freeze dip in Clear Lake to call a dare from a boy in a canoe. She didn't get warm again until along about the Fourth of July, well, no, she can't recall just now.

LETTER from Long Beach and Bonnie goes on to highly approve this column's recent (and somewhat facetious) stand on modern trends in magazine articles. Which naturally makes her mighty popular.

"I think I'll just cancel my subscription to the Journal," she writes firmly, "and tell them why."

Well, subscriptions have been cancelled, even to the Record, for less reason. Ever tell you about the time we lost a reader over that headline which called a birthday, honored "Ruth" instead of Patty? It was an accidental insult but it hurt the family's feelings some.
