Powers Gets 10-Year 'Modified' Term

FIREMEN BATTLE FLAMES—Two of the city firemen man a hose as flames begin to subside in an unoccupied dwelling at Avenue K and Thirty-second Street early today. Top of the house was "pretty well burned out" and the remainder of the structure was water soaked. Although cause of the blaze had not been determined this morning, firemen believe it started near the roof. The alarm was turned in at 1 a. m.

Odessa Crash Is Fatal To Snyder Man

ODESSA—Luther Eldon McCollum, 44, of Snyder was killed and a Monahans family of four was injured in a grinding automobile crash at about 8 a. m. today seven miles east of Odessa.

Mr. McCollum was pronounced dead on arrival at Medical Center Hospital in Odessa. He suffered a crushed chest and internal injuries. He was the driver and lone occupant of one of the cars involved in the crash.

The four occupants of the other car were hospitalized. They are Bobby Byrd, 24; his wife, Joan Byrd, 20; and their two sons, Larry, 3, and Robert, one month.

Byrd suffered an injury to his left knee and underwent surgery. He also had a broken jaw and a mouth injury.

Mrs. Byrd was treated for cuts about the face and a broken jaw. She also lost several teeth in the mishap.

Highway patrolmen who went to the scene said Mr. McCollum was driving west on U. S. Highway 80 in a 1952 model automobile while the Byrd family was driving east in a 1956 model car.

Officers said Mr. McCollum lost control of his car after a tire blew out and the skidding vehicle crossed the dividing line into the path of the Byrd car.

Both cars were demolished.

Mr. McCollum made his home in Snyder with his mother, Mrs. Mary Bell McCollum at 1905 Nineteenth Street.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Lucille McDow of McKinney, Mrs. Georgia Ruth Boyd of Snyder, Mrs. Margie Nail of Dunn and Mrs. Gladys Skinner of Dallas; two brothers, Wallace McCollum of San Francisco and Elmer McCollum of Compton, Calif.

The body was to be returned to Snyder this afternoon and funeral arrangements will be made at Bolger Funeral Home.

POWERS ANSWERS QUESTIONS—Francis Gary Powers, U2 pilot on trial in Moscow on espionage charges, answers questions during the second day of his trial. He faces a battery of microphones in the prisoner's dock in the Hall of Columns. (AP Wirephoto via radio from London)

Flier Sees Tearful Wife

MOSCOW (AP—The Soviet Union tonight sentenced Francis Gary Powers to prison and then permitted him to see his tearful wife behind the scenes at the courtroom where he was tried for his U2 spy flight.

A military court gave the 31-year-old American pilot a 10-year sentence for espionage but modified that by specifying only three years are to be spent in prison.

The rest of the sentence is covered by "deprivation of liberty." That may mean assignment to a special colony with other prisoners, or posibly expulsion.

It is entirely conceivable that Powers may be sent out of the Soviet Union when his prison term is finished. There was nothing official on this, but the feeling among some diplomats and correspondents in Moscow is that the Soviet Union at this stage has no special desire to keep Powers after the excitement about him subsides.

The Soviet Union's top penalty for espionage is death by shooting. Prosecutor Roman A. Rudenko asked for a 15-year sentence. Powers' Soviet attorney, goateed Mikhail I. Griniov, asked for less, without specifying the years.

There is no appeal provided for in the Soviet law, but Powers' wife has indicated her intention to carry a personal plea to Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev if she can see him.

The handsome Virginian showed no emotion when he heard the sentence. He stood with arms folded as he heard an English translation of this outcome of his three-day trial, a trial in which the Russian, tried to condemn the whole foreign policy of the United States in the cold war.

Powers was downed on a May 1 flight which carried him into the Soviet Union at 68,000 feet. The incident led to wrecking of the summit conference and cancellation of the Soviet Union's invitation to President Eisenhower to visit the Soviet Union.

The presiding judge of the three-man court, Lt. Gen. Victor Borisoglebsky, read the verdict, reached in a conference of 4 hours 35 minutes, following summations. The sentence, he said, runs from May 1, the date of Powers' arrest.

A great burst of applause swept the crowded courtroom, the Soviet Trade Union Building's vast Hall of Columns. It lasted two minutes.

Powers's wife and mother, Mrs. Oliver Powers, collapsed briefly and wept.

His wife Barbara, 24, attired in navy blue, had fidgeted and twisted her gloves as the reading of the verdict went on for 30 minutes. Occasionally she sponged her forehead with a handkerchief she dipped in a glass of water.

Both the wife and mother quickly regained their composure and stood up holding hands.

Later Barbara and her husband, whom she had seen only at a distance since she came to Moscow Sunday, were reunited in a little room adjoining the court.

His mother, father, and a sister also were permitted to see the prisoner. They were allowed an hour with him.

The court said that in view of "mitigating circumstances in the case and considering the confession and repentence of the defendant, the Military Collegium (of the Soviet Supreme Court) has sentenced defendant Powers, Francis Gary, in accordance with Article II concerning a criminal act against the state, to 10 years of deprivation of liberty, with the first three years to be served in prison."

The judge said the evidence, plus Powers' testimony, "established that Powers carried out the criminal mission he received."

"Experts have established that the information gathered by Powers during his May 1 flight constituted state and military secrets of the U.S.S.R.," he said.

"He was a tool of the Central Intelligence Agency which carries out plans for the government of the United States.

"Powers knew he was violating international law when he violated the air space of the Soviet Union.

"That violation created a direct threat to world peace and security. The flight of a reconnaissance plane could immediately precede an air attack.

"Under these conditions the aggressive act of the United States perpetrated May 1 by Powers created a threat to world peace and security."

Powers had pleaded guilty at the outset of the hearing Wednesday—a dreary, rainy day. Over the first two days he testified directly for a total of nearly seven hours.

Presenting a penitent theme the defense was to stress throughout, Powers said "I am sincerely sorry I had anything to do with this."

Powers told the court he was nervous and scared during the flight that ended in his arrest near Sverdlovsk, 1,200 miles inside Soviet territory.

Powers pictured himself, however, not as a spy but as merely the civilian pilot who handled the controls and switches of a specially equipped espionage plane under a [illegible] Central Intelligence Agency.

Through military and medical experts the prosecution hammered on the idea that Powers knew in advance the full meaning of his flight.

President Regrets Sentence Severity

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today expressed "regrets" over "the severity of the sentence" against U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers. The White House said the President will not drop his interest in the case.

Powers was sentenced to 10 years loss of liberty but it was specified only the first three will be served in prison.

Eisenhower's feeling about the sentence, and the broad implication that the U.S. government will press Soviets for better treatment of Powers were contained in this statement issued by press secretary James C. Hagerty.

"The President has been informed of the sentence imposed on Mr. Powers by the Soviet court," it said.

"He deplores the Soviet propaganda activity in connection with the entire episode beginning last May and regrets the severity of the sentence.

"He extends his sincere sympathy to the members of the Powers family."

Hagerty told newsmen: "I think you could add to this that the President and the secretary of state as well as the State Department have been following the trial case very closely and do not intend to drop their continued interest."

U.S. authorities indicated a decision on just what further move the United States might make in Powers' behalf must await further information about the developments in Moscow.

But highly placed authorities made plain they fully intend to push further in the case.

Neither the State Department, which has discussed the Powers case in the past, nor the Central

Sunday Session Set For Security Council

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council will meet Sunday at 12:30 p.m. on the explosive Congo crisis. The call was made today as Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold warned the Congo government the Council might be asked to withdraw all U.N. forces if attacks continue on U.N. personnel in the Congo.

French Ambassador Armand Berard, this month's Council President, formally notified all 11 nations on the Council of the Sunday meeting.

A Congolese delegation is on its way to attend.

Hammarskjold's warning was contained in a note sent to the Congo government in advance of the Council meeting.

In the Congo capital, Premier Patrice Lumumba called the Hammarskjold note "blackmail" and said he was not impressed by it. The note was not addressed to Lumumba by name, but to "the government of the republic of the Congo." It referred to the manhandling of Canadian U.N. personnel by Congolese.

In a determined bid to keep the Congo situation from collapsing altogether, Hammarskjold called in the chief U.N. representatives of the four major world powers Thursday. He reportedly stressed to them that Big Four unanimity was vital to avert complete chaos in the New African republic.

Closeted with Hammarskjold for 45 minutes in the unusual joint session were U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov, British Minister Harold Beeley and French Ambassador Armand Berard.

The Soviet Union has sharply disputed Hammarskjold's interpretation of his powers under the council resolutions that created the U.N. force. It has called for complete withdrawal of all Belgian troops.

Scheduling of the council meeting awaited arrival of Lumumba's delegation, delayed in London overnight after their Soviet jetliner was denied permission to land at Idlewild Airport because it had not passed noise test requirements. The State Department finally persuaded the New York Port Authority to admit the plane, and it was expected today.

At Leopoldville's airport Thursday about 300 Congolese soldiers kicked and clubbed a Canadian unit of about a dozen men. Other U.N., forces moved in quickly to regain control of the field. They put up barbed wire around key points and limited Congolese troops at the field to six men.

Ralph J. Bunche, the U.N. undersecretary, declared in a radio speech at Leopoldville that the action of the Congolese soldiers was a "needless and senseless provocation."

"I want everyone to know that this was an affront to the United Nations," Bunche said.

The Canadian government fired off a strong protest to Lumumba's government. Prime Minister John Diefenbaker called the at-

New Push For Gas Bill Is Being Mapped

By CHARLES HASLET

WASHINGTON (AP) — A push for a natural gas bill in 1961 already is in the planning stage.

Rep. Frank Ikard (D-Tex), author of a pending gas bill that will die with adjournment of the present Congress, and Rep. Walter Rogers (D-Tex) said today they would offer new bills next year.

Neither predicts success but they and other congressmen hope to muster enough support to bring a bill before the House for action. Success in the House could be used as a wedge for seeking Senate consideration.

Even before the Supreme Court's 1954 decision charging the Federal Power Commission with responsibility for regulating the price of natural gas at the wellhead, efforts were made to have Congress specifically exempt independent gas producers from federal regulation.

One such bill cleared Congress in 1949 but was vetoed by President Truman. A few years later Congress passed a similar bill. This one was vetoed by President Eisenhower, although he said he favored it in principle.

Front Generates Storms In State

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold front that moved into West Texas Thursday accompanied by a dangerous looking tornado became stationary over much of the state early Friday.

A tornado played around on the ground near Marathon in the West Texas Big Bend country, but apparently caused no injuries or serious damage. Residents watched the twister with amazement because they are rare in that part of the state.

"Nearly everybody in Marathon turned out to watch," reported Guy Stillwell, who has a ranch to the south. "It stayed on the ground at least 30 minutes, moving slowly to the southwest, and was followed by hail and very heavy rain."

The front touched off rains of up to 3.5 inches in the Panhandle. And near Pecos, in far West Texas, the Texas Electric Service Co. reported a number of power poles knocked down by strong winds.

A tornado funnel was also reported near Beaumont in Southeast Texas but neither of the funnels caused any damage.

Early Friday the front was stationary along a line just north of Paris, Fort Worth and Abilene and just south of Big Spring, Wink and El Paso. A few scattered thunderstorms hit in the area north of Abilene between Lubbock and Wichita Falls.

Senate Okays Wage Bill, But House Prospects Uncertain

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed the Kennedy minimum wage bill 62-34 Thursday night with its major provisions largely intact, but the legislation faces uncertain House prospects.

Sen. John F. Kennedy told a reporter he was quite hopeful the House will agree to most of the Senate provisions. But experience on differences between the two branchs involving labor legislation in 1958 and 1959 cast doubt on this.

The Democratic presidential nominee was named to head the seven Senate conferees on the bill. He was chief sponsor of the Senate version.

The Senate bill would increase the present $1 wage floor to $1.25 an hour and would bring under the fair labor standards act about four million workers not now covered.

[illegible] House bill would fix a $1.15 minimum and cover about 1,400,000 additional employes.

Kennedy headed Senate conferees who dealt with House delegations on a pension and welfare control measure in 1958 and the broad labor regulation bill last year. In both cases it proved difficult for the senators to get the House to do any compromising.

Since then he has been chosen as the Democratic presidential nominee, a status which may or may not affect House members' attitude toward his requests.

The House Rules Committee also may be a hurdle to any conference on the wage bill this year. It has [illegible], for weeks efforts to get a conference on a school aid bill. In this case too the Senate passed a more far-reaching measure.

Two of the Republican Senate conferees on the wage bill will oppose the version passed by their branch.

One of these, Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz), said he doubted that any legislation on the subject would get through. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who also will represent the Senate, said that if he were president he would veto the Kennedy bill.

Kennedy and his supporters were able to beat back all amendments he opposed except one concerning a relatively minor provision.

But the Massachusetts senator did have to make an important concession to defeat the amendment he considered the most serious threat to his bill.

In order to get the votes needed to reject this amendment, sponsored by Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla), Kennedy agreed to elimination from the bill of coverage for about 300,000 workers. Originally his measure would have brought almost five million [illegible]

Ike Plans To Boost Party

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower promised today to make an election-eve TV appearance in behalf of the Republicans and to put in other political appearances where the party feels it would help.

This was reported by the Republican national chairman, Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, after a 45-minute White House call to report on GOP campaign progress.

Morton said he is satisfied with the President's announced program, as a questioner put it, of making mostly "nonpolitical" appearances during the campaign.

The GOP leader said the mere fact that the President goes to a city raises interest in him and [illegible]

Flying Boxcars To Attempt Recovery Of Space Capsule

The latest Discoverer satellite, launched Thursday is circling the globe every 94½ minutes, whirling toward what the Air Force hopes will be a new space-age first.

Last week the capsule of Discoverer XIII was plucked from the sea near Hawaii by the Navy for the first recovery of an item from orbit.

Today the Air Force hopes to make the first aerial recovery of such an object. The transports [illegible] and failed to [illegible] the capsule of Discoverer XIII.

They lost it, like baseball outfielders with the sun in their eyes, because they couldn't get a radio fix on the capsule's beeping transmitters.

As before, the capsule will pop loose from the orbiting rocket on its 17th pass across the North Pole. Forward-firing rockets will slow the falling capsule and then, once in the atmosphere, a parachute is to lower it toward the target area in Hawaiian waters.

There are only instruments in the capsule — nothing alive. Air Force officials have mentioned possibility of putting a monkey in an early Discoverer shot.

"We don't know if it will go in the next one or the next one after it or the next one after it," said an Air Force spokesman. "A lot depends on how this shot goes."

Some of the instruments aboard the new satellite are so secret the Air Force won't talk about them. Some, it said, are to provide information to help two upcoming series of surveillance satellites. Others are to gather data for the Navy's transit navigation satellite program.

It was fired here at 12:57 p.m. Thursday — 15 minutes behind schedule, because of a space traffic jam. The rocket from Discoverer XIII was overhead at about the same time, and the Air Force waited for it to hustle past so it wouldn't interfere with tracking of the newest Discoverer.

Soviet Satellite Carries Animals

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union announced the launching of a new space ship into orbit carrying two dogs and other animals whose life above the clouds will be reported back by television.

Moscow radio said the five-ton space ship is in orbit at an altitude of 320 kilometers—198.8 miles.

The dogs aboard are named Strelka and Belka, meaning pointer or arrow and squirrel.

The other animals were not immediately identified, but Moscow radio said these two dogs have flown before, accompanied by a big gray rabbit.

The broadcast said the purpose of the ship is to test how living creatures could exist in space—and also how they might be brought back to earth.

The broadcast did not state whether it was planned to bring these particular animals back to earth. The space ship they are in was described as large enough for a man.

Radio equipment will report back the condition of the animals and the functioning of the apparatus aboard and, said Moscow radio, television reports of their activities also will be sent back.

Correspondents covering the trial of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers speculated the dogs were orbited at this particular time to demonstrate that the Soviet Union could not only shoot down high flying American planes but could launch high flying dogs in the interest of science.

"The main purpose of the launching is the further development of a system to support man's life in space, security of his flight and return to earth," said the Soviet news agency Tass in an announcement of the launching.

The earth's first artificial satellite with a living thing aboard—the dog Laika—was fired into orbit by the U.S.S.R. in November 1957.

No attempt was made to bring Laika back through the atmosphere to a landing on the earth's surface. The dog whirled around the globe from Nov. 3 until Nov. 10, then died.

Intelligence Agency which had charge of the U2 reconnaissance flights, would comment on Powers' fate as his Moscow trial came to a close.

Privately officials appear relieved that the Soviet prosecution did not ask for a death sentence. They reasoned that the Communists have protested too long and too loudly against death penalties for Red spies in the West to take the life of Powers after his spectacular show trial.

The question of what should be done about Powers' case if and when he comes back to the United States is known to have received study.

Officials privately stressed two points:

1. From a political point of view, internal and international, it would be inadvisable for the United States to prosecute Powers. He apparently has won public symphaty both in this country and abroad for his plight. Also the United States has nothing to gain from keeping the Powers case alive as a propaganda issue.

2. The law on disclosure of information relating to secret operations is regarded within the government as applying only to violations within United States territory. In other words if Powers' disclosures about his U2 flights were violations of his agreement with CIA and the agreement provided penalties based on the present law, which is understood to be the case, then the U. S. government has no strong legal basis for prosecuting Powers anyway.

Hammarskjold made plain his concern over the attack on the Canadians by sending a letter on the incident to the ambassadors of all countries that have contributed U.N. forces to the Congo.

The Security Council was expected to meet Saturday on the Congo, but there was a chance the session might be delayed until Monday to permit private talks aimed at easing tensions in advance of the meeting.

Hammarskjold returned to New York Tuesday to ask the council to make clear the intent of its last resolution specifying that the U.N. force in the Congo would have no part of internal political quarrels.

That part of the council resolutin was designed to reassure Premier Moise Tshombe of Katanga Province, who has proclaimed his territory's independence of Lumumba's government. Tshombe subsequently admitted U.N. troops to Katanga, but Lumumba, counting on U.N. forces to help him regain control of Katanga, demanded that Hammarskjold be replaced by a 14-nation team of Asian-African observers in control of the U.N. Congo force.

Scientists Fear Echo Losing Shape

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The American satellite Echo I may be losing its shape and getting wobbly.

Observer teams at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Laboratory said they detected the wobble in the motion of the satellite Thursday night.

They said it could mean the 10-story high, paper-thin balloon communication satellite may have suffered a puncture or other mishap causing it to deflate or lose shape.

Aid Bill For Latins Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today urged passage of a 600 million dollar aid bill to meet demands from Latin Americans for an immediate start on "greater social progress and economic development."

"Continued frustration of such demands increasingly leads to acceptance of temptations offered by demagogues and blind destructiveness," said the committee's report.

It was made public just in advance of Senate debate on an administration-requested bill to provide 500 million dollars for a program of development in cooperation with Latin American countries plus 100 million to help Chile in its efforts to rebuild from earthquake and flood damage.

The report said the committee acceded "reluctantly" to President Eisenhower's request for action on the authorization without specific plans for use of the funds. It said the group relied on administration assurance that appropriations of actual money will not be sought "until firm programs are developed" at a meeting with Latin American economic ministers at Bogota Sept. 5.

Two Mishaps Are Reported In City

At 2:16 p.m. a 1959 Ford driven by Doris Welch, Route 2, was involved in a collision with a 1959 Ford Pickup driven by Carlos Don Keller and owned by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., at the intersection of Avenue S and Thirtieth Street.

Damage to the car was estimated by officers at $150, and to the pickup $100.

Suspect Is Returned

LAREDO (AP) — FBI agents turned Paul Franklin Cole, charged with the murder of a South Texas rancher, over to Texas authorities Thursday.

"I know I'm not going to get a fair deal," Cole, 24, told Medina County Sheriff Charles Hitzfelder.

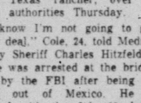

Cole was arrested at the bridge here by the FBI after being ordered out of Mexico. He is charged with the July 29 death of E. L. Gilliam, 52, of San Antonio, at a ranch near Castroville.

"I can say this—my story ain't going to be believed," Cole said.

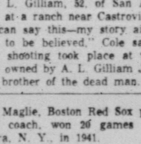

The shooting took place at the ranch owned by A. L. Gilliam Jr., 40, a brother of the dead man.

Ired Husband Shoots Self

FORT WORTH (AP)—An angry husband, caught in the gunsight of a veteran policeman, put a bullet into his brain Thursday night shortly after his wife said she was leaving him.

John Ray Smith, 35, died a few minutes later in a hospital emergency room. Peace Justice Jim Boorman ruled the death a suicide.

The dead man's 35-year-old wife, her brother, Guy Booth of Woodbridge, Va., and her mother, Mrs. Henrietta Ennis of Fort Worth, witnessed the shooting.

Booth said he called police headquarters to ask for help because he felt there would be trouble after his sister and mother agreed to return to Virginia with him. Smith and his wife had argued earlier in the day.

Policeman H. D. Edmondson was sent to aid Booth. The two men and women went to Mrs. Ennis' residence to get her belongings.

Edmondson said he parked his squad car behind an auto containing Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Booth.

The officer said Smith ran from the house and tried to grab his wife who jumped from the car and ran. He said he saw Smith reach into his shirt and take out a small pistol.

"He (Smith) pointed his pistol at me . . . but he saw I was in a position to take him.

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.* At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

AGAINST THE SALE OF . . Alcoholic Beverages In Snyder

This Is The Truth!

In reply to our anonymous friend writing in The Snyder Daily News of Aug. 12, 1960:

Your article headed "What Is Truth?" would lead one to believe you were anxious to know the truth. Men all through the ages have lost their lives advocating the truth: Socrates; because he knew a very little more truth than most of his day; Jesus Christ, whom you most carelessly misrepresent; St. Paul; St. Peter; hundreds of Christians during the time of the Roman Empire; Abraham Lincoln; Mahatma Gandhi; and a host of Christians in Germany during World War II. History should teach you that you cannot learn truth unless you are willing to sacrifice even your life to learn. And, if you do not have the courage to sign your name to something you profess to believe in, do not expect to go far in the pursuit of truth.

In your first paragraph you claim to believe what Christ said in John 15:12: "This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you." Is it a demonstration of love to make it easier for people to obtain something which you admit destroys men? In the 17th verse of the same chapter Christ says: "These things I command you, that you love one another."

You make a very strong point that Christ changed water into wine, yet you nor any other living man knows the nature of that wine. We realize that the meaning of words has changed through the ages, and we do not know the nature of that wine. Christ also talked to at least two women who evidently were prostitutes, one of them said to have been taken in the very act. Still, Jesus did not condemn either of them. On the basis of that fact would you recommend that prostitution be legalized by our government? We know prostitution goes on, just as you suggested drinking in dark alleys is allowed to happen.

You seem so concerned about the poor people both in heart and sometime spirit who Christ said: "we have with us always." I believe He taught that we should help them regardless of their condition physically, spiritually or just Christian charity. In fact, the Scripture recommends that we pay a minimum of ten percent (10%) of our income to His cause, and then make love offerings above besides this. Perhaps if you had paid that much last year there would be more money available in Snyder today to relieve human suffering.

I am sure that you took the 10% church contribution deduction from your income tax.

You quote portions of lots of Scripture, but none that states we should legalize liquor and other Alcoholic Beverages, so that children who will be in need would have to go to the dump ground to obtain clothing.

You also mentioned the display of wrecked cars in former parades. Suffice to say: these scenes were not over drawn. Why should you be ashamed of the results of drink, since you insinuate that Christ endorsed it. There are at least fifty five Bible references on the evils of drinking. You may find these in both the old and the new Testaments. Paul did tell Timothy to drink a "little" wine for his stomach's sake. Paul also said: "if eating meat causes my brother to offend, I will eat no meat while the world stands." Perhaps you should read that also. Bear in mind: "right is still right and wrong is still wrong." What is right about this figure? 5,015,000 U. S. Alcoholics, looks like something is wrong. I think you will have to admit that the church does not persecute, but any one who does not have courage enough to come out in the open and declare he believes to be right persecutes himself.

The Bible says: II Corinthians 6:17-18 Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you, And will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

Concerning "Snyder being as wet as Big Spring", statistics are that in a given period there were twice as many arrests for D.W.I. in Big Spring. Some of the arrests might have been Snyder residents, but at least they were driving on the streets of Big Spring. I have lived in Snyder for fifty five years and I have seen prosperity rise and fall, my opinion is that I can assure my friends that our fair city will continue to exist if kept legally dry. We have seen much worse times than these we are now witnessing.

Somehow because of the providence of God and the ingenuity of man we have managed to live and make contributions to our generation. We shall continue to do so "if we will begin to sing more praises of what a wonderful clean and legally dry little city that we now live in, and let's us fight and if compelled to vote our conviction as to whether we shall remain dry or vote wet, let it be said once again Snyder voted to continue clean, and we are not ashamed for people to inspect our fair city.

One final question. If you sincerely believe Alcoholic Beverages has a place in our Snyder society, and that the "stuff" is so good for men, why would you and the liquor crowd deny these beverages to our children?

Not boasting, but as an active church member and a follower of Jesus Christ for more than thirty years, may I suggest that you and your crowd try something worthwhile; set aside an hour a day for prayer and meditation if you believe in God, you surely would believe in prayer. Do this until election day, and then apologize to God and the good people of Snyder, go to the polls and vote dry.

Be assured, if Christ leads you or any one else you will never go wrong.

The Fluvanna Community center was the setting for a bridal shower honoring Miss Jacqueline Martin, bride-elect of Don Arnett Wills August 18, at 2:30 p.m.

The honoree's chosen colors of white and blue were beautifully carried out. The table was laid with an exquisite white linen cloth which was sent from Germany, by Don Jones. The centerpiece was an unusual blue bowl filled with white periwinkles over which an opened white satin umbrella protected them from receiving a spring shower of tiny raindrops slowly descending from a suspended white net cloud filled with blue ice cubes.

Presiding at the cake and ladeling punch were Betty Pylant and Carlyn Murphy. Mrs. Max Preston registered 76 guests.

Plate favors were tiny bride and groom figurines standing atop white marshmellows. Blue napkins were striking with names Jacqueline and Don in white.

Music was rendered by Nelda Evans, a reading "What Almost Every Woman Knows, Sooner or Later," was given by Mrs. Carlton Daugherty.

For the event the honoree wore a lovely blue eyelet embroidered dress with low cut fitted bodice and full skirt.

The couple will exchange vows in the Fluvanna Baptist Church on Sept. 3.

Hostesses were: Mrs. Mert Jones Mrs. Bill Herring, Mrs. Sam Martin, Mrs. Dee Pylant, Mrs. Ray Herring, Mrs. Bunion Evans, Mrs. I. N. Hataway, Mrs. Hurston Lemons, Mrs. L. Dawson, Mrs. Ray Fulford, and Mrs. Roy Reeder.

Plastic And Steel Join With Wood In New Bedroom

Steel and plastic are important wear-resistant materials in two new bedroom groups. An 11-piece group designed for children's rooms or week-end houses has walnut-grained Melamine on a lightweight steel chassis. Tops are white plastic. A more highly-styled adult bedroom group has cases of walnut (the wood) in cadmium-plated steel bases. Drawer pulls are extruded black plastic.

Date Set For TWU Enrolling

DENTON—The Texas Woman's University will enroll students for its 1960-61 long session Sept. 13 and 14, with classes beginning Sept. 15.

Students will enroll from most Texas counties, with a sprinkling of students from other states and foreign countries, according to Francis W. Emerson, registrar.

The TWU enrollment increase for the past year was 7.57 per cent and another substantial rise is expected for the semester which opens next month, Mr. Emerson said.

TWU is composed of six colleges, two professional schools and a graduate school. They are the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Education, Fine Arts, Household Arts, and Sciences, Nursing, and Health, Physical Education and Recreation; Schools of Library Science and Occupational Therapy and the Graduate School.

In addition to the usual bachelors and master's degrees, TWU offers advanced professional programs in several departments and the doctor of philosophy in all subject matter fields of home economics as well as in health, physical education and recreation.

Dr. John A. Guinn is president of TWU and Ed Gossett of Dallas is chairman of its nine-member board of regents.

Bernard Baruch Still Filled With Wisdom At Age Of 90

BY INEZ ROBB

Ninety candles on a birthday cake, even in this age of longevity, is no small achievement. But to arrive at those 90 candles in full possession of all of one's mental buttons and a rare amount of physical bounce, as in the case of Bernard Mannes Baruch, is cause for rejoicing for all those who love, know and admire this dedicated American.

Baruch, whose 90th birthday anniversary this is, will celebrate the event at his New York home today with as much peace and quiet as his family and friends will permit him.

Unless he changes his mind at the last minute, he has ruled out any birthday interviews.

"Everyone is going to be good, kind and generous to me on my birthday," he said recently. "And I don't want to be asked any controversial questions about inflation or anything else on that day. I want to be generous and happy, too.

"This is a great and wonderful country, and I want to let it go at that on my birthday. Besides, I hold no responsible public position and can make no statements. And there will be other opportune times when I can discuss public questions, if anyone is interested.

"I don't want people to say, 'Is that old feller talking again?'", he added with an amused smile. "And, besides, I don't have any more 'advice for young men.' I've been giving it in birthday interviews for years."

But two things are certain: There will be cablegrams and messages of congratulations from every part of the world, including one from his old friend, Winston Churchill, whom he recently visited in England, and (2) no matter who drops by his home to congratulate him, Baruch will still be the handsomest man in the assemblage.

At 90, Baruch still stands his full six feet four inches, his distinguished face topped by a thatch of silvery white hair. He still goes to his New York office daily. He always has a half-dozen projects on the fire, ranging from a private survey of farm surpluses to medical research and rehabilitation, in which he has been active for many years.

The man whose services to his government have been so many and varied still makes his annual trip to Europe. He still likes the ponies. He is still a Beau Brummel. He enjoys small dinner parties. He reads a great deal. He enjoys a cocktail before dinner. He still eats whatever he likes.

He is blessed with total recall, even about minutiae. Not long ago, it amused him to mix up a pre-dinner drink of applejack honey and goodness knows what else that he suddenly remembered as the Prohibition era.

During the past year, Baruch has worked hard on the second volume of his autobiography, now scheduled for publication in October. His drawing room is still the magnet for every official of either party who wants to talk out a problem. Members of United Nations delegations on both sides of the Iron Curtain beat a path to his door. In view of the present exodus of Russian technicians and engineers from Communist China, it is pertinent that he has repeatedly warned the Soviets that their enemy lies to the East, not the West.

As soon as the hunting season opens, Baruch will go to Little Hobcaw, S.C., where he spends the winter. He still hunts with keen pleasure and eyesight. In the South, he swims once or twice daily in the pool just beyond his bedroom.

The only faculty impaired by Baruch's 90 years is his hearing, and those who know him well are only too aware that Baruch seems to hear with ease anything that really interests him.

Elevator Operators Hate This

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Passenger remarks that elevator operators get tired of hearing:

"Well, I guess your life is full of ups and downs, isn't it?

"Personally, I prefer the new automatic elevators. All you have to do is push a button and—whoosh!—you're there."

"How does it feel to be a human yo-yo?"

"I don't care what floor I get off at, young man—just so there's a ladies' room on it."

"Somebody in this elevator has got cold hands and if he doesn't keep them to himself, I'm going to call a cop."

"Do you ever get a sudden wild yearning to travel sideways?

"Let's do something different today. How about steering toward Florida?"

"I took this picture myself. It shows my kid in swimming. And here's one showing her just back from a hike. And this one of my wife."

"Mind if I bum a cigarette off you? I left a full pack on my desk. Is it okay if I take two or three?"

"You think this one's nice looking, Josie? Honey, you really gotta do something about your glasses. You oughta seen the guy who held the job before him."

"Stopped at any interesting new floors lately, Buster?"

"If this elevator cable ever snaps, you'll sure wind up a fall guy, won't you?"

"You must know all the pretty girls in the building. How about introducing me to a few?"

"Oo-o-ops! Let's go back to that last floor, Jack. You left my stomach there."

"This idea could make us both rich, kid. You wait until the elevator is crowded, suddenly stop it between floors, then whip out copies of our fine new accident policy covering all emergencies. I tell you there's a mint in it for both of us."

"While I'm at the dentist's, would you mind showing my little boy how to run your elevator? He's bored with playing fireman."

"You've got a loose button on your uniform, colonel. If it happens again, we'll have to ground you."

Democrats Being Kept On Defensive

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — At this point in the presidential campaign, just a few weeks old, the Democrats are doing the catching. The Republicans have put them on the defensive, or tried to, in one way or another.

Just this week a Gallup Poll showed Vice President Richard M. Nixon leading Sen. John F. Kennedy in the presidential race by 50 to 44 per cent of the voters questioned, with 6 per cent undecided.

This preference may switch around once the present session of Congress ends—perhaps around Labor Day — and the campaign starts in earnest. But, coming so early, the poll gives the Democrats cause for concern.

This session of Congress, where Democrats overwhelmingly outnumber Republicans, was supposed to last three or four weeks. The Senate has been in session almost two weeks with little solid accomplishment except a minimum wage bill passed Thursday night.

But the Republicans have been working overtime to use this session to embarrass the Democrats. For instance: The Democratic platform promises big strides in civil rights. The Republicans have challenged the Democrats to make good now.

A civil rights fight by Southern Democrats could stretch this session well beyond Labor Day and even ruin chances for any other legislation. Kennedy and his running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, sidetracked the civil rights bills.

This gave the Republicans a chance to wrap the "look-who's-talking" complaint around the Democrats' necks. And they got another chance to do the same when President Eisenhower challenged the Democrats to pass a 22-point program he offered.

Burdette No-Hit Victor

Perfect Game Within Grasp

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Outside of the Brooklyn-Los Angeles Dodgers, no club has been tougher for Lew Burdette than the Philadelphia Phillies in his 10-year National League career.

Yet it was against the Phillies Thursday night, Milwaukee right-hander pitched his first no-hitter Thursday night, winning 1-0 and coming within one pitch—a fifth-inning slider that was just a little too close—of a perfect game.

It was Burdette, too, who scored the run, getting a double in the eighth inning and scoring on Billy Bruton's two-bagger that beat ex-brave Gene Conley.

Despite Burdette's near-perfect performance, the second place Braves remained 7½ games behind front-running Pittsburgh. The Pirates won their fourth in a row, a 3-2 decision at Cincinnati. Los Angeles moved past idle St. Louis into third place, nine games back, with a 13-inning, 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs on Wally Moon's home run.

In the American League, the New York Yankees gained a 2½ game lead, pairing an 11-7 victory at Boston with Cleveland's 8-6 decision over the Chicago White Sox. Baltimore tied the White Sox for second place by beating Washington 10-8. Detroit rapped Kansas City 11-6.

Burdette, 14-7 for the season, and Bruton each had two of Milwaukee's 10 hits off Conley, who like Burdette, didn't walk a man.

The Pirates, shut out on two hits for seven innings, broke Cal McLish's scoreless-inning streak at 16 in the eighth when Don Hoak doubled, Bill Mazeroski singled and Dick Stuart, batting for winner Vern Law, belted his 14th home run. It was McLish's eighth defeat against four victories.

Moon's 12th home run, his only hit in six trips, beat reliever Mark Freeman (3-2) after the Cubs had tied it 3-all in the ninth inning on Ron Santo's eighth home run, his second of the game. Frank Thomas hit his 18th home run in the sixth for the Cubs, who blew a 2-0 lead on shortstop Ernie Banks' two-run error in the seventh. Sandy Koufax (6-8) won his fifth in a row.

VICTORY SMILES—Manager Danny Murtaugh, left, of the Pittsburg Pirates and pitcher Clem Labine smile for photographers after Labine's fine relief performance preserved a 5-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies at Pittsburgh. It was the first appearance in a Pirate uniform for Labine, who was signed only the day before as a free agent. (AP Wirephoto)

Royal Desirous Of 'Getting Off Spot'

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—In the past three football seasons, Texas won 19 games by less than a touchdown. Coach Darrall Royal wonders just how long this is going to keep up.

"We've been winning a lot of football games and people have been thinking of us in a favorite's role," said Royal, a man who knows he's on the spot and there's not much to be done about it.

His coaching record here is 22-1. His only loss in the Southwest Conference of five points or less was a 14-9 decision to Texas Christian. The Longhorns' only regular season defeat in 1959.

But the Oklahoma quarterback star of a decade ago quickly recalls those 10 cliffhangers—"why that's one third of the games we've played."

A slick running game has been Royal's trump card and there's nothing in sight to indicate a change.

Asked if his team might pass more this season, Royal answered wryly: "We're constantly thinking about it — the alumni won't let us forget it." And he explained that actually Texas called for pass plays about 25 times a game but the backs most of the time just hung on to the ball on option plays.

Jack Collins, a pigeon-toed speedster who was the big offensive weapon as a sophomore last year, had the best passing average, 7 completions in 11 attempts from the run-or-pass option play. Royal said the pass play for Collins was called "at least 40 times last season."

Royal's two big problems apparently are in finding suitable replacements at fullback and at the linebacker posts.

To cement the interior line all-Southwest Conference end Monte Lee was moved to guard. Royal pulled the same shift with Maurice Doke a season earlier and Doke went on to win national acclaim for his work. Royal said "Lee is adjusting as rapidly as Doke and could be as good."

Mike Cotten, understudy to quarterback Bobby Lackey last year, will do most of the quarterbacking in contrast to the three-quarterback system used in 1959. He will be relieved by sophomores Johnny Genung and Roger Rienstra on offense and the "wild card" substitution role will permit a specialist to move in and out on defense.

Texas, with only five 2-year letternen returning as compared with 14 a year ago, will rely on sophomores more this year than in any since his initial season here in 1957.

BRUNDAGE AWAITS DRAFT

Olympic Bigwigs Now In Spotlight

By JERRY LISA
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP)—The brass hats of international amateur sports today will be the spotlight figures at the pending Olympic Games as they wrangle over a look-ahead program.

The International Olympic Committee's executive committee, in secret session, will decide whether to draft Chicago's Avery Brundage for another presidential term and also, work on an acceptable starting date for the 1964 games in Tokyo.

The full IOC committee goes into session Saturday.

Meanwhile, tension was building in the Olympic Village, swelled by more arrivals for the start of the games next Thursday. More than 500 athletes and officials from a dozen countries, including 146 from the Soviet Union and 120 from Australia, were due during the day.

Other arrivals included contingents from Bulgaria, Pakistan, India, Kenya, Uganda, Thailand, Cuba, Afghanistan, Iraq and Indonesia.

The question of whether Brundage, a diehard advocate of strict amateurism, should be named to a third four-year presidential term could stir up lively debate.

England's Marquess of Exeter, one-time Olympic hurdling champion as Lord Burghley, reportedly expects to get the nod. Another candidate is the Soviet Union's Constantine Andrianov.

The United States, closely backed by West Germany, is against Japan's proposed mid-May start of the 1964 games which already have been awarded to Tokyo. Weatherwise, this is an ideal time for Japan's hosting of the games, but it would cause classroom havoc for the many collegians who make up the American squad.

Another problem for the IOC is the designation of Nationalist China's team, currently called Taiwan. The Chinese Nationalists dislike this identification, but any retreat on their part would open the Olympic door for Red China.

Concurrent with Thursday's arrival of 45 members of the combined East and West German team was a hassle over a "spy scare" involving that divided nation.

West German officials fumed at a hint in the pro-Communist Italian newspaper, Il Paese, that Werne Klingenbach, embassy councilor and Olympic liaison man, intended to spy on East German athletes.

Fish Bustin' Rodeo Slated By Jaycees

The sprawling Towle Park "tank" will be the scene tomorrow of the Snyder Jaycee Fishing Rodeo, with all youngsters through 12 years of age encouraged to take part in the funfilled fishing fest.

There will be prizes aplenty offered in a wide variety of areas, such as largest fish caught, also smallest—widest, longest, etc.

The rodeo has been set up on an equitable basis, in that each youngster will be competing against those of his own approximate age. The age brackets as decided upon include: up to 6 years; 7-8; 9-10; and 11-12.

The annual get-together, which attracted over 200 young anglers last year, will begin at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning and last until 5 that evening.

Prizes of fishing equipment will be awarded winners in each bracket of competition, the awards having been donated by Snyder merchants. Businesses donating to the prize list include Canyon Drive-In Theater, Denson Gulf Service and Sporting Goods, Fish and Newton Hardware and Sporting Goods, Lake Thomas Marine Supply, Snyder Athletic Supply, Sportsman's Headquarters, Western Auto, White's Auto, Goodyear Service Store, and Phil's Auto.

Texas Solid TD Favorite In Oil Bowl

WICHITA FALLS (AP—A talent-laden Texas squad is a 7-point favorite to win the Oil Bowl football game tonight from Oklahoma.

It will be the 15th time for the two states to send their schoolboy stars against each other and Oklahoma has managed to win only one game—in 1956. There was also a 6-6 tie played in 1954.

Texas has more veteran strength and appears to show more polish than the Oklahoma squad that's been working out here all week.

All-state Jerry Gibson of Breckenridge, Dickie Turner of Wichita Falls and a newcomer to all-star play, big Johnny McElroy of Banquette, are the men already plotting the downfall of the Sooners. Gibson and McElroy are passing quarterbacks.

The most publicized player for Oklahoma is Jay Wilkinson, son of the coach of Oklahoma. Wilkinson will play quarterback for the Oklahoma team. Another adept passer is Mike Meek of Midwest City.

A crowd of 15,000 is expected to jam the Midwestern University Stadium with the kickoff scheduled for 8 p.m.

Hayes Out Of Oil Bowl Tilt

Dick Hayes, Snyder's backfield bone crusher, will not be in Wichita Falls tonight for the annual Oil Bowl game matching high school stars of Texas and Oklahoma.

He is appreciative of the honor of being named to the squad, but with college rapidly approaching made the decision to "sit out" the Oil Bowl contest. He had previously participated in the North-South all-star game played in Dallas in conjunction with the Texas Coaching School earlier in the month.

High individual game honors went to Joan Richardson (Squabblers), as she rolled a 183. Next in line were Lucille Wilson (King's Row), with 173, and Iva Martin (99ers), who had 169.

Iva Martin copped the top series of 462 followed by Martha Coffee (Squabblers) and Lucille Wilson with 445 and 440 respectively.

Split pickups registered included those of Martha Coffee (3-10); Doris Jackson (4-5); and Bessie Wilson of the Alleycats (5-10).

HIT 'EM LOW AND HARD—Fast, furious, and full of life have been the Snyder Tiger drills of the first week. Playing a big part in the development of the team are the tackling drills, demonstrated here by two unidentified Bengals. A pair of blocking dummies are placed approximately eight feet apart, through which the ball carrier is required to run. He's "fair game" through that stretch of territory, with the job of the tackler being to nail him without his getting past that "point of no return." (Photo by Jackson)

PROSPECTS DIMMER

Tigers Lose David Wiman

Still another dark and foreboding cloud has appeared on an already turbulent Snyder Tiger grid horizon, as it was learned yesterday that guard and linebacking stalwart David Wiman will be lost to the team permanently.

Wiman, a six-foot 161 pound letterman senior and all-district performer, was being counted on heavily by Coach John Conley to bolster the team through the coming campaign, his experience and all-around fine brand of play being a big contributory factor to the success of the season past.

Since prior to the beginning of workouts he has been plagued by a back ailment, however, and was sent to Lubbock yesterday for specialized treatment. It was there that he was told that he will be able to take part in no contact sports in the future, the ultimatum being another severe blow to an already well-riddled Tiger squad.

Wiman's disability is not due to an injury, but rather to a congenital deformity in the lower spine which was not detected until yesterday's observation.

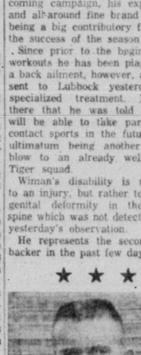

He represents the second linebacker in the past few days to be lost to the Tigers, as John Weaver was also given orders recently to refrain from taking part in the sport.

The team continues its two-a-day workouts daily, this morning's session being of the light variety, with little contact work being in evidence.

Coach Conley reported late this morning that as yet nothing if "for sure" on the proposed Tiger-Phillips game scrimmage which has tentatively been set for tomorrow night. He is awaiting a call from Phillips coach Joe Means on it, however, and should have something definite on it by this afternoon.

The scrimmage had originally been planned for Floydada, where a similar session transpired last year, but the field was in use and consequently other sites have been brought into consideration.

Childress is the front-running probability as a site for the contest, with official work on it expected later in the day.

Travis Ninth Grade Gridders To Report

A reminder goes out to all Travis Junior High School ninth grade grid aspirants that tomorrow morning has been designated as the time for the issuance of uniforms and equipment.

Workouts will begin at a later date, with tomorrow's reporting being only for the purpose of the handing out of gear.

Two Men Die As Plane Blows Apart

ITASCA, Tex. (AP) — Two men died as a small plane blew apart in flight near here during squally weather Thursday.

Killed were Charles D. Schmidt, 43, of Dallas and Ray Jalbert, 40, of Detroit, Mich.

A piece of a wing struck and killed a cow on the Carl Hilton farm 3 miles east of here in Central Texas. Itasca is 10 miles north of Hillsboro.

Mrs. Hilton told of hearing an explosion moments before pieces of the plane rained down on a broad area near her home.

Schmidt, president of Delta Metals, Inc., of Dallas, and Jalbert, representing McLouth Steel Co. of Detroit, took off from Addison Airport north of Dallas en route to San Antonio.

First Woman Pilot Passes Rugged Test For Astronauts

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Jerrie Cobb once said "I'd be standing in line" for a chance to probe outer space. She may get her wish.

The trim, blonde pilot was named Thursday as the first of 12 women volunteers to pass the rugged tests that America's seven male astronauts passed more than a year ago.

The announcement came in Stockholm, Sweden, from Dr. Randolph Lovelace, the top medical expert in Project Mercury, designed to send a pilot into outer space—and get him back again.

He said in a lecture to the Space and Naval Medicine Congress that the first female into space is still far away.

But he added: "We are convinced that at last women in due time will take part in space travels and we have already started to compare the test results of prospective feminine space pilots with those of the men.

"We are already in a position to say that certain qualities of the female space pilot are preferable to those of her male colleague.

"She weighs much less, consumes less oxygen, needs less food and has proved herself to be better capable of standing psychological strains in certain stress situations."

Miss Cobb, 29, executive pilot and sales manager for an Oklahoma City plane manufacturer could not be located for comment.

But recently she told a friend here, "This isn't negative thinking, but I'd want to do it even if I didn't come back. God has always been my pilot and I'm not at all afraid, just eager."

Dr. Lovelace said 20 women volunteered, 12 were examined, and Miss Cobb was first to pass the 87 different physiological and psychological tests.

Johnson, Yarborough Vote With Majority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough of Texas voted with the majority Thursday as the Senate approved and sent back to the House a bill to increase minimum wages and broaden coverage of the wage-hour law. The vote was 62-34.

The Texans also voted successfully to table an amendment by Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla) to limit retail and service coverage to firms operating in more than one state.

University In Baghdad Sanctioned

By WILTON WYNN

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — The honor guest at the graduation ceremony was Prime Minister Abdel Karim Kassem, the army general who two years ago led a violent revolution that threatened to wipe Western influence out of Iraq.

It was the first commencement of Al Hikma University, the American university in Baghdad.

Kassem's personal appearance at the graduation put the final stamp of approval on the university, which has blossomed into full four-year academic status during the two years following the revolution. In a country which veered close to the Communist bloc last year, this American institution is the only foreign university in Iraq.

The school is operated by Jesuit Fathers from New England, headed by the Rev. John Banks of Boston.

Al Hikma University was founded in 1956, under the old regime in Iraq. The upheaval of 1958 scarcely affected the progress of the school. By September 1959, the university had moved to its new campus, a dusty, windswept tract of land south of Baghdad.

Al Hikma is an outgrowth of another American Jesuit venture, Baghdad College, a high school on the north side of Baghdad with an enrollment of 748. It was founded in 1932.

Four cabinet ministers have sons enrolled in the school.

THE STANDOUT

When you pray do you position yourself as bold men of God have done through the centuries? Do you kneel, bow your head, close your eyes to the world, or, do you disregard these accepted conformities and bark your prayers erect? Do you pray with sincerity of soul or do you petition to be heard of men as did the Pharisees?

Are you a "Standout?"

If so, you may have spiritual paralysis. You may lack the sincerity-of-soul necessary to move mountains with your prayers. You may be a pauper in things religious. Jesus and the Prophets had ideals. They believed . . . they lived . . . they prayed so God would hear. They had religion with emotion. Do you feel God when you pray? Or, are you a Pharisaic Standout?

You In The Church
The Church In You

— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Ministers of all faiths and the community-minded firms below persuade you to read this Spiritual Values page and make it a part of your life . . . it is your heritage.
