Wilson & Co. Purchases Land Near Hereford

Wilson & Co., a subsidiary of Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc., Wednesday completed acquisition of land southwest of Hereford, containing all of Section 151, Block M7, Deaf Smith County, lying south of the railroad, 3.9 miles beyond the west city limits, running slightly more than 1 mile along the Santa Fe Railroad.

Company officials however, declined to make any statement other than the fact that they had finalized the land purchase agreement. Deeds were filed with the Deaf Smith County Clerk B. F. Cain Tuesday afternoon.

Negotiations with Wilson for a packing plant in the Hereford area started almost a year ago, according to Wayne E. Thomas, local attorney and head of the Chamber of Commerce Industrial Committee, and J. Henry Sears, president of the First National Bank of Hereford. The two local men have worked steadily with the company since that time. Earlier this year, the company announced they had taken option on a tract of land east of Hereford owned by the James Allan Packing Co. of San Francisco, California. The option on that tract of land was renewed May 1, however, this property was by-passed by the company.

L. O. Green, Chicago Public Relations representative for Wilson & Co. Wednesday declined comment on the Company's plan for the tract. The Chicago based firm, one of the largest in the meat packing industry, has recently announced plans to construct a plant in Logansport, Indiana, and it was assumed in Hereford that the land acquisition here was also for the purpose of building a packing plant.

Negotiations with the company were interrupted earlier this year when Ling-Temco-Vought, a Dallas based corporation, purchased controlling interest in Wilson & Co., Inc., meat and food processors; Wilson Sporting Goods Co.; and the Wilson Pharmaceutical & Chemical Corporation. In June, the announcement was made that Roscoe G. Haynie, Wilson's board chairman and president, and James D. Cooney, retired chairman and Wilson director, would take places on the LTV board which was being enlarged from 15 to 17 members. Negotiations resumed at that time.

Haynie would serve, according to the announcement, as chairman of the board and chief executive officer of each of the three Wilson companies, now a wholly owned subsidiary of Ling Temco-Vought.

Haynie has served as Wilson's president and chief executive officer since Nov. 1, 1963 and has been with the Wilson Company since 1938.

The purchase of the tract of land near Hereford by Wilson & Co. has renewed hope that the company will build a plant in the area, and business leaders around the city generally greeted the news enthusiastically, seeing a continuation of the city's long and steady growth through the addition of industry to the strong agricultural economy of the area.

The LTV-Wilson merger has made LTV one of America's 40 largest manufacturing corporations with consolidated annual sales for 1967 in excess of $1.5 billion. It is one of the strongest companies in business.

Methodist Home Eyes Expansion

Expansion of existing facilities at Westgate, the nursing unit of King's Manor, Methodist retirement home, hinge on the outcome of an application made in May to the Hill-Burton funds. The federal program to aid hospitals will give a decision on the King's Manor application early this September, predicts the Rev. Don Davidson of the home.

The application for the Hill-Burton grant is set at $50,000, which has to be matched by the Methodist group. The plans, already drawn by Oscar Schilling of Amarillo, would create space for 16 additional beds in two different wings, one to the east and another to the south. Westgate is located at 430 Ranger.

Westgate now has a capacity of 29; it has never experienced vacancies. The same holds true for the Manor itself, which usually has a waiting list of some 20 to 30 persons, Rev. Davidson said. There are no immediate plans for expansion of that part of the retirement home at the present time, however.

If the Hill-Burton funds are not approved by the federal government, the board of directors of King's Manor does not intend to let that deter expansion. Construction will, in all likelihood, still begin on at least one of the wings.

The wing to the east will be designed specifically for senile case care, Rev. Davidson said. It will have four rooms surrounding a protected courtyard, and is designed in such a way that one nurse will easily be able to keep watch over all the patients. Bids on this particular unit of construction were taken before, and all were rejected as too high.

The addition to the south would extend from the present lobby area, and would have rooms for 12 beds. The lobby and nurses station would be the central point in the building, Davidson pointed out.

The Hill-Burton funds have contributed some $107,000 of the $214,000 originally spent in the building, and directors are anticipating no problems in meeting the high construction standards demanded by the grant. The only difficulty they can foresee is the availability of the funds; the answer to their application is expected early this fall.

A "go ahead" on the plans for expansion was authorized by the Board of Directors early in the spring, pending the completion

Fatalities Mar Week

Two Hereford citizens were killed in motor vehicle accidents over the last weekend as soaring death figures mounted over the Panhandle aera. The dead are Richard Wayne Owens, 20, and Archie Joseph Love, 56. Owens was killed in a two-car collision near Canyon early Sunday afternoon (see story at right) and Love died in a tractor mishap near Hereford Monday morning.

The tractor accident occurred sometime between 8:50 a. m. and 9 a. m., as nearly as highway patrolmen could ascertain. There were no witnesses at the scene when the accident happened .8 mile south of the Holly Feed Yards on a county dirt road.

The tractor had evidently slipped from the edge of the right-of-way, adjacent to the Holly land, into the steep ditch, turning over sideways and pinning Love beneath the right rear wheel. Love had been shredding weeds along the Holly property, and had apparently driven too close to the bar ditch. The ditch was hidden by weeds standing over six feet high.

Dan Jones, farm operator for Holly, found Love at 9 a. m. when he went out to check on how the work was progressing. Love had been seen mowing about ten minutes before 9. Jones summoned an ambulance, but believed Love to have been dead when he found him. An ambulance arrived in about five minutes, followed by highway patrolmen.

Love had been a seasonal laborer for Holly. He is survived by his wife, Leona, of the home.

The Loves only son, Joe Dean, 16, died earlier this summer of injuries sustained in a motorcycle-automobile accident. The family resides at 522 Ave. I.

Funeral services were from First Christian Church in Hereford Wednesday morning at 10 a. m., conducted by the Rev. Eugene Brink, with burial by Gililland Funeral Home in Rest Lawn Cemetery.

Mr. Love was born May 11, 1911, in Tucumcari, N. M., the son of Richard and Kittie Mae Stocket Love. He came to Texas in 1935 from New Mexico, and married Leona Rogers October 21, 1939, in Canyon. The family came to Hereford from Amarillo in 1948.

Surviving, besides Mrs. Love, are Mrs. Kittie Mae Chatman of Mesa, Calif., his mother; Clifford Love of Liberal, Kans., Dempsy Love of Mojave, Calif., and Dewey Love of Tulsa, Okla., brothers; and Louise Sutton of

Services Held Tuesday For Richard Owens

Funeral services for Richard Wayne Owens, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Owens were conducted in First Baptist Church here Tuesday by the Rev. Ron Harpster, pastor of Avenue Baptist Church. The service was at 2 p. m., followed by burial in West Park Cemetery under direction of Gilland Funeral Home.

Owens was killed about 1 p. m. Sunday in a two-car collision approximately three miles east of Canyon at the intersection of State Hwy. 217 and F-M Road 1541. He was dead at the scene. Occupants of the other vehicle, which was traveling south on 1541, the Samuel Andrew Hale family of Floydada, were hospitalized in Canyon.

A sophomore student at Tech in Lubbock, Owens had been a member of National Honor Society while he attended Hereford High School. He graduated here in 1965 and had been a physics major at Tech. He had been working here with his father at Owens & Hollingsworth during the summer.

A life-long resident of Hereford, Owens was born here April 1, 1947. Surviving are his parents, Charlie and Helen Kelley Owens, and a brother, David Stanley all of the home; also his grandmothers, Mrs. Velera Kelley of Hereford and Mrs. Emma Owens of Portales, N. M.

Three Year Old Drowns Saturday

A three-year-old Latin American girl died Saturday night when she fell into an outdoor toilet east of Progressive Road.

Mary Helen Villarreal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lupe Villarreal of Route 3, Hereford, was believed to have been dead on arrival about 8:30 p. m. at Deaf Smith County Hospital.

City police were dispatched to the scene about 150 yards southeast of Swift & Co. Feed Mill at 8:25 when a relative reported that the girl had fallen into the toilet.

Officers found the girl and gave mouth to mouth resuscitation until the ambulance arrived Nurses at the hospital administered aid before the doctor took over, but it was believed the girl had been dead on arrival.

The Villarreal family had lived in Hereford only a short time, and the body was taken to Eden Saturday night for services and burial. Local arrangements were made by Gililland Funeral home.

Deadline Near For 1966 Crop Cotton

Farmers have until the close of business on Monday, July 31, to redeem their 1966 crop cotton which is under Commodity Credit Corporation loans, Frank J. Bezner, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said Wednesday.

Growers who have 1966-crop upland and extra long staple cotton under loan may redeem their crop at any time through July 31 by paying off the loan plus charges and interest. Any of the cotton on which loans have not been repaid by that time will be acquired by CCC.

Through July 1, a total of 1292 bales of 1966-crop cotton was reported pledged for loans in Deaf Smith County. As of the same date, 82 bales had been redeemed, leaving loans outstanding on 1210 bales.

Visitors Study Irrigation Methods Here

Six Turkish engineers will be in Hereford today as part of an extended program in which they are studying irrigation methods in the United States.

Wilton Green of the Soil Conservation Service, who will act as guide for the five men and one woman, said the tour will begin at the Big T Pump Co. about 9:30 a. m.

Weather permitting, the tour will continue in the field as the engineers watch installation of a pump by Big T Pump Co.

At noon, the visitors will be guests of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce at the Country Club. Following will be another trip to the field, weather permitting, as the group will be on hand for laying of a pipeline by Gifford-Hill Western.

Green said the engineers have been in the United States since March studying farm irrigation wells. They were at the Great Plains Research Center in Bushland Monday and Tuesday, in Dimmitt Wednesday with the SCS, and will go to Canyon Friday.

Hereford Police Investigating Four Incidents

The Hereford Police Department is investigating four incidents, three of them having been reported Saturday.

The Pacific Molasses Co. pump house on Progressive Road was entered sometime between 11:30 p. m. Monday and 6:10 a. m. Tuesday, but nothing was found missing.

Entry was made by breaking a window on the north side of the pump house and unlatching a hasp on the window.

Ray Pierce of Ray's Pawn Shop, 147 N. Main Street, told officers Saturday that three impact wrenches had been taken from the store sometime between July 13 and Saturday while he was in the hospital.

The wrenches, which were valued at $194.50, were taken from the shelf in the store.

Bruna's Department Store, 131 N. Main Street, was burglarized between midnight and 8 a. m. Saturday as someone entered

FIRST DAY IN HEREFORD

No Time For Coffee Break

Hereford's newest medical family — the Gerald G. Paynes — has already found its schedule to be a busy one in a typical town which typically can't get too many doctors.

Dr. Payne, associated with Dr. J. H. McCrary in the Family Medical Clinic at 907 East Park Avenue, began his general practice here Monday — and he didn't have time for coffee breaks on even his first day in town. The family arrived about 7 p. m. Sunday evening in Hereford, and are now residing at the Thunderbird apartments until their furniture arrives. They will then be at home at 220 Star St.

Just returned from Viet Nam, Dr. Payne was discharged from the navy last week at Corpus Christi. While serving overseas, he was battalion surgeon for the 1st Battalion of the Fifth Marines. Dr. Payne was awarded the Viet Nam Cross of Gallantry with the silver star for doing what he termed as "nothing out of the ordinary." The battalion had been caught in an ambush, and Dr. Payne along with some assistants had to take care of 76 wounded men in a matter of a few hours. Twenty others died in the attack.

Dr. Payne and his pretty wife Karen are both originally from Breckenridge. They have three children, Gerald G. Jr. (Bucky), 11 years, Frances Renee, 9, and James Daniel 2. The Paynes are members of the Episcopal church.

Following graduation from high school, Dr. Payne entered the University of Oklahoma at Norman, then went on to Southwestern Medical School in Dallas in 1960. He graduated there in 1964 and did a year's internship at John Peter Smith Hospital in Fort Worth before entering the service in 1965. Dr. Payne and Dr. McCrary were classmates at Southwestern. Another factor that brought Dr. Payne to Hereford was, as he said, a hospital that impressed him — as well as the town. After several years of transient conditions, he claims he is ready to settle a while.

Dr. Payne enjoys bridge and chess and water skiing occasionally.

Commissioners Have Light Session Monday

Deaf Smith County Commissioners voted Monday during a light business session to accept $29,000 from the Texas Highway Department for road work.

The money is paid into the lateral road fund and will be used for expenses incurred during the year.

In the only other action, commissioners agreed to pay prosecuting attorney Bill Hunter, 69th Judicial District, for his expenses in handling Deaf Smith County cases. The total was about $400.

Commissioners spent about an hour on the budget for next year before recessing. They met with the county's other taxing agencies during the afternoon for Tax Equalization hearings.

Commissioners reconvened briefly Wednesday afternoon and agreed to replace needed units in vehicles of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office.

Murder Charges Filed Wednesday

Frankie Wayne Wester, 24, of the Fullwood Apartments, was charged with murder Wednesday afternoon in connection with the July 16 death of his six-month old daughter.

Deaf Smith County Sheriff Ed Roberson filed the complaint against Wester after discussions with Justice of the Peace Cliff Roberts of Amarillo and a local physician.

Roberts, who had ordered an autopsy after the baby had died July 16 at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo, ruled Wednesday that the death was homicide.

Wester was arraigned before

NO RULES HERE — Kim Blackwell doesn't necessarily have to stay in that wagon to win the wagon race in the Hereford Riders Club rodeo. As a matter of fact, it's an impossibility if he wants to make it around a fast corner and end up with all four wheels on the ground. This race will stir up the dust all three nights. Blackwell is being pulled by Jay Crawford.

Induction law changes — According to Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, deferments for students at commercial colleges or vocational schools will not be mandatory under new draft laws.

Congress left this decision to local boards. They alone make the decision, based on the merits of each individual case.

Draft classifications will be changed to Class 2-A for those deferred because of civilian occupations other than agriculture jobs; and Class 2-S for students working toward a degree.

Schwartz says that local boards give serious consideration to students receiving at least 25 check hours of instruction a week.

Deferment of students enrolled in graduate schools of medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, osteopathy or optometry now is mandatory. However, they are subject to military service upon completion of schooling.

A student may be deferred as long as five years for a doctoral or professional degree or its equivalent.

Oil Allowable — Statewide oil allowable for August has been raised by the Railroad Commission to 54 per cent of potential.

This will permit an all-time-record production of 4,186 barrels a day.

That will be some 345,000 barrels more than the previous record set on July 15 of this year.

of financial arrangements. The Manor presently has intentions of borrowing some $35,000 to meet its share of the matched funds grant (if it is approved). It will have to contribute a total of $50,000.

Rev. Davidson said that King's Manor would like to be able to open bids on the project by the first part of November in order that construction could get off the ground as soon as possible.

A Founders' Day Dinner is set for October 2nd, when the Manor could raise money for new construction should the Hill-Burton grant not be approved.

When completed, the Westgate facility would have a value of some $340,000.

Rodeo festivities will get underway at the arena beginning Thursday evening at 9 p. m., and will continue for the three nights. Tommy Hancock of Lubbock will be playing for the rodeo dance Thursday and Friday evenings in the Little Bull Barn.

Trophies will be awarded Saturday evening for parade entries, and also to winners of the Pony Express events.

Featured attraction will be the wagon race, when youngsters will try making it once around the arena and ending up at the finish line — in the wagon. The only stipulation on this one is that the entrant be in the wagon when it leaves and in the wagon when it finishes. It's a wild ride as the horse pulls the red wagon around some pretty sharp turns.

Holly Feed Yards, Easley Feed Yards and Hereford Feed Yards have each donated a beeve to be given away, one each night.

Entry fees for this rodeo will be $16 for riding events, $20 for roping. Prizes will be from the jackpot. Chairman of the rodeo planning committee this year has been Spicer Gripp, assisted by John Powers and Corky Marsh.

A parade down Hereford's Main Street will precede the Pony Express race at the Bull Barn at 6 p. m. Saturday.

Events the three nights will include a wagon race (which has an entry fee of $10), calf roping, bareback riding, saddle bronc, bull riding, team roping and the girls' barrel race.

Detroit Woman Visits Hereford

Riots in Detroit streets have affected the travel plans of a Hereford visitor, Mrs. G. R. Jones, who is to leave today after a few days in the home of her sister, Mrs. Carl Mountz.

The two women, accompanied by a neice, Mrs. H. L. Reynolds of San Bernardino, Calif. arrived Saturday. Mrs. Reynolds joined them when they visited in her home after a two-month trip which took them into Canada to visit a brother, H. F. Lambert, in Kaslo, British Columbia.

Mrs. Jones' children in Detroit have informed her that curfews have been imposed in that city as a result of racial strife, that many streets are blocked and they cannot get to the downtown railroad station, so she will go to a suburban station instead.

She plans to stop in Kansas for a few days and hopes the unrest at Detroit will be ended by the time she goes home. She lives in a suburb.

She is the former Helen Lambert, known to Hereford oldtimers with whom she grew up and attended school. Other guests of Mrs. Mountz Wednesday were cousins, Mrs. Herman Haberer and Mrs. Roy Haberer of Muleshoe.

Rains Over Area Delay Harvest Temporarily

Rains over the county Tuesday night — with more predicted for Wednesday evening — delayed vegetable harvest operations only temporarily as crews waited for the sun to dry the fields just enough to get back in.

Potato prices are still strong, although they have dropped somewhat from their previous peak figures. Reds are marketing in the neighborhood of $3.25 with white Nargos selling for anywhere from $3.25 to $6.

The harvest had started about two weeks later than usual, and shed operators anticipate another 30 days of potato processing. Carrots have just started coming in.

Rain reports indicated the showers Tuesday to be quite widespread. Summerfield, to the Southwest, reported half an inch as well as the Wildorado area.

Phillip Miller, northwest, received .65. To the south of Dawn the J. E.McCabes had .2. Milo Center got .6, and Community Grain, south of Hereford, received .25. Hereford received .58 according too KPAN reports.

Public Relations Representative Speaks To Lions

Bigness is a characteristic of America so the nation needs business and government which are big, but not of monster proportions, Hereford Lions Club members were told at their Wednesday lunch by Ed Wimmer, director of public relations in the National Federation of Industry and Business.

The speaker, whose home is in Cincinnati, is also president of Forward America, Inc., which he founded, a newspaper columnist and radio commentator.

He urged the need to halt concentration of power into the hands of a few, both in industry and in labor organizations, as well as in government.

Noting that American youth today rejects independent business or farming operation as a goal in life, in favor of work for large corporations or the government, he said the nation needs a return to the conviction that spiritual and economic progress go together, that ethical business practices and fundamental principles of the U. S. constitution should be restored.

Lions were given a report on progress of their annual carnival, which continues the remainder of this week at the County Bull Barn with W. H. Gentry as general chairman.

Red Cross Executive Speaks To Paisano Lions Club Monday

Strayer and Lori Martin, blood consultant volunteer, explained that the American Red Cross is "the instrument chosen by the Congress to help carry out the obligations assumed by the United States under certain international treaties known as the Geneva or Red Cross Conventions."

The obligations include acting as a go-between for the American people and their armed forces, and to assist in times of disasters.

"Nationally and locally,' said Strayer, "the American Red Cross is governed by volunteers, most of its duties are performed by volunteers and it is financed by voluntary contributions."

Stressing the value of the American Red Cross Blood Program, Strayer said the program collects almost 3,000,000 units of blood each year from volunteer donors provides whole blood and blood components to 4,300 hospitals on a regular basis, and serves people through Red Cross chapters that reach a combined population of 112,000,000.

Also, the program makes available to physicians "serum albumin for emergency treatment of shock, gamma globulin for protection against hepatitis and other diseases, fibrinogen for control of hemorrhaging in childbirth, and vaccinia immune globulin, which is the only specific treatment for severe complications from smallpox vaccination."

The blood program, continued Strayer, is a service established through joint efforts of the Red Cross, the medical profession, the hospitals and the people they serve.

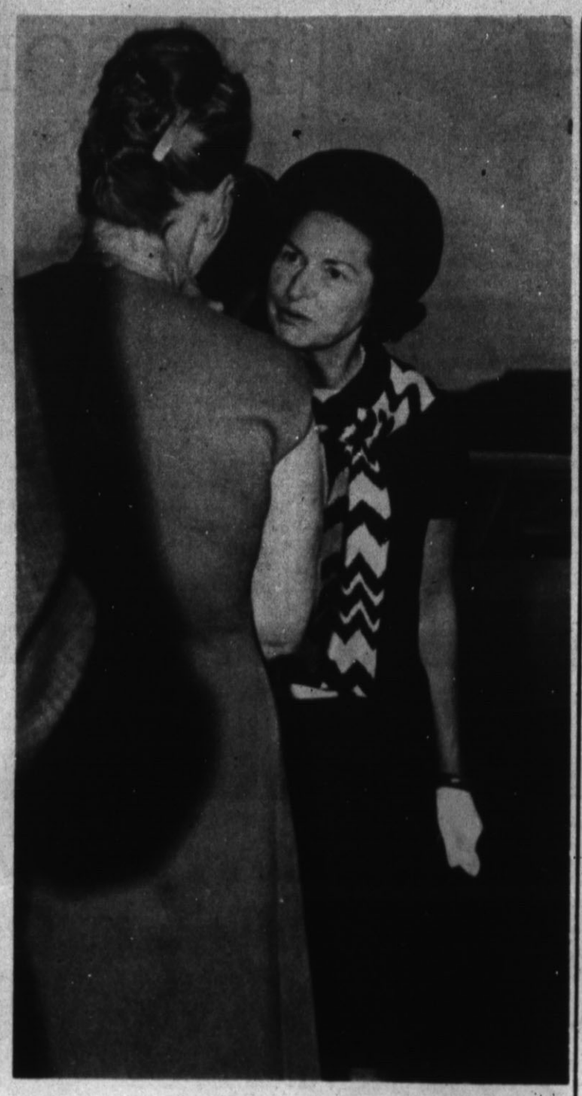

To keep the local chapters going, volunteer donors are recruited in sufficient numbers to meet assigned quotas, funds are solicited to pay proportionate share of center expenses, and volunteers needed to assist with blood collections are recruited and trained.

Financing is done with funds from the national organization, contributions raised during the annual fund campaign goal and with hospital participation fees which are paid by recipients of whole blood and blood products.

LADY BIRD ARRIVES — Lady Bird Johnson's visit to the Panhandle and a performance of "Texas" was a highlight Sunday evening in Palo Duro Canyon. Mrs. Pies Harper, founder of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, Inc., welcomes Mrs. Johnson to the theatre. Mrs. Johnson was presented a gold plated triangle during intermission recognitions; the triangle is presented to those who have worked to encourage outdoor beauty and appreciation.

Residents and staff members from Kings Manor Complex are enjoying visiting and visitors these vacation days.

MRS. BEULAH DOBBINS hop-skip-and jumped acorss a good deal of Texas, visiting families of her brothers and sisters, and finally her daughter, Mrs. Hamilton, at Hico.

Mrs. Bryant visited recently with her sister, Mrs. Joe C. Greer in Amarillo.

Miss Alta Campbell, R. N., of Westgate unit, had the Warren Hoffmans as guests from Plainview Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Manson Waits entertained his brother and family, the Nelson Waits, at their home at 414 Sunset last week.

RESIDENTS OF THE complex, and visitors as well, are enjoying the prettiest campus we have ever had. We thank the garden clubs of Hereford and the good work Mr. Teague is doing, along with the good rains for such splendid improvements in its appearance.

• • • •

TO REPRESENTATIVES of the Red Cross who spend many hours at the receptionist's desk, we are always grateful. They help keep the desk well manned at all times.

During July the Lay Circle of First Baptist Church, with Mrs. Louie Olson as leader, has supplied a receptionist for duty each Thursday. Thanks, friends.

WE ALSO GREATLY appreciate the ministers and members of their congregations in this community and surrounding area, who give their time and services to Westgate and Kings Manor.

Last week the Rev. Eugene Naugle's congregation from Bippus brought an inspirational service for all residents, as well as a gift to the minister in celebration of his birthday.

Speaking of birthdays, Brother Naugle's certainly overshadowed all others at the Manor in July. Not for a minute did anyone begrudge him his place in the spotlight. Fellow residents consider themselves lucky to have him here, with the good humor he's always dispensing.

WESTGATE IS HAPPY to have Mrs. Carrie W. Lillard of Friona as the latest resident.

A celebration of the July birthdays of Westgate residents was held with the assistance of Black Community Club. These special occasions are looked forward to with much pleasure by the honorees and their friends.

• • • •

THE COMPLEX welcomed a visit last week from the Rev. and Mrs. Marvin Menefee, who worked with us last year. As an expression of the Board's appreciation for their good work, Dr. D. R. Davidson presented a plaque to them at the noon dinner.

This year the Menefees still have the pastorate at Wildorado, and he is assistant pastor at San Jacinto Methodist Church in Amarillo also.

OSCAR SCHILLING, architect, is seen on the campus in recent days, measuring and figuring on a 16-bed expansion at Westgate, the nursing unit, which will be made at a cost of some $100,000.

• • • •

THE OFFICE FORCE is busy these days planning the annual Founders Dinner, which is scheduled for Nov. 2.

MRS. DON DAVIDSON is spending this week in Abilene attending the annual school of the Northwest Texas Woman's Society of Christian Service on McMurry College campus.

Mrs. Clara Shore attended a bridal shower for a niece in Amarillo Tuesday.

• • • •

SOUNDS SENSIBLE

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentuckian Henry Clay, who served 12 years as speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives and almost 20 years as senator, once asked an Irishman why he was going to vote for one-armed Sen. John Pope Clay's opponent in a congressional race.

"Mister Clay," was the reply, "I have concluded to vote for the man who has but one arm to thrust into the treasury."

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Stew Recipe Favorite

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

When she gets in the mood to work on a hobby or a household chore, she likes to go at it with gusto and concentrate on that one thing several days, Mrs. John N. Devin says.

DARK-EYED MRS. Devin is the wife of the new pastor of Temple Baptist Church. They are at home in the parsonage, 311 Star, since moving from Alamosa, Colo., last spring.

The pastor and his wife had lived in California as well as Colorado, but she is a native Texan and he, born in Oklahoma, claims Texas citizenship "by marriage."

Before her marriage Mrs. Devin was Heloise Godfrey of Dallas. She grew up and went to schools of that city. Her husband entered the Baptist ministry a year after they were married and her goal since then, she says, is to "be a good pastor's wife."

SHE PUTS HER husband's work first and assists him in ways ranging from active duties in the church program to relaying telephone messages.

Saying with a smile that the pastors wife should be ready to "fill in" wherever she is called upon, Mrs. Devin explains that she devotes herself to work with children in the church when she has her preference.

In the Hereford church she is director of the Sunbeams, the organization of smallest children sponsored by the Women's Missionary Society. In other churches she has also done that type of work and has been Sunbeam director in an associational Missionary Union.

AT HOME HER interest in small children is focused in her three-year-old son, Johnny, a lively and communicative youngster who is eager to show off his pet pup, a dachshund named Gretchen.

Her favorite hobby is plaster casting, and she has some handsome decorative pieces she has cast and painted.

As an example of her "mood work," she made numerous pairs of bookends, the design a replica of the famous painting, Praying Hands, in a rush session last winter and gave them as Christmas gifts. For herself she kept one pair — the one spoiled by painting flaws.

SHE LIKES TO SEW, cook or houseclean in the same way, concentrating on the one thing when she starts until the task is finished.

Among her favorite recipes she has a stew which she says makes a delicious one-dish meal from a less expensive cut of beef. She likes to serve it with hot cornbread, adding only a salad and a light dessert for a substantial meal.

BROWNED BEEF STEW

Cut a 3-pound roast into small pieces. Salt and pepper the meat, and roll in flour. Brown in oil, add 2 onions and water to cover, and simmer an hour.

Add 6 or 7 sliced potatoes and can of mushrooms. Simmer until potatoes are cooked.

ANOTHER FROM HER recipe file is for the universal favorite, pound cake, this one made with buttermilk. It is recommended as "excellent for freezing" and the recipe makes two cakes, so one can go in the freezer.

POUND CAKE

1 cup shortening
3 cups sugar
6 eggs, separated
2 tsp. lemon extract
3 cups flour
½ tsp. salt
2½ tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. soda.
1 cup buttermilk

Cream sugar and shortening, add egg yolks and beat. Add flavoring.

Sift together dry ingredients and add to mixture, then stir in the buttermilk. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold in. Bake 1 hour in 350-degree oven in two greased and floured loaf pans.

Parties Precede August Wedding

Compliments to Miss Sharon Lamm before her August 19 wedding were two pretty parties of this week, a tea-shower Tuesday afternoon and an informal party Monday for girls of her age group.

Miss Lamm and Byron E. Grover are to be married in Temple Baptist Church soon after his return from Germany where he is assigned on military duty.

The shower was in the home of Mrs. R. N. Yarbro, with Mmes. Don Waters, C. F. Newsom, Holland Cook, James Welch, Vernon Inman, Jack Allman, Sam Long, Leslie Betts and Frank Watson in the hostess party.

Receiving callers were the bride-to-be and her mother Mrs. Bill Lamm; her grandmother, Mrs. W. A. Lamm of Lubbock, and Miss Shirley Simpson.

Miss Becky Long and Miss Sheryl Hood of Amarillo served punch and petits fours. The table was covered with an airy net cloth over satin, all white, and centered with candelabra arranged with orchid and white mums.

The same colors, to be used in the wedding, were stressed at the Monday afternoon party at which Misses Long, Simpson, Hood, Sidnye Davis and Barbara Buck were hostesses in the Sam Long home.

The handmade lace cloth was laid over orchid. Punch and cookies were served to 25 guests

WHAT'S HAPPENING HERE — A small boy appears to be wondering how the family car got into this predicament when all they did was come to the ball park. The car, as evidenced, could not move in any direction from the deep hole and had to be pulled out with a wrecker. The hole was between the refreshments stands and the north bleachers at the high school playing field.

St. Anthony's got behind a two-run homer by Butch Walterscheid and the pitching of Ed Mims to beat Umbarger 2-1 Monday and take second place in the Irrigation League.

Walterscheid slammed his homer in the top of the eighth inning with Danny Loerwald on base to give the locals the victory. Mims struck out 19 and issued no walks in posting the win.

St. Anthony's next game will be on the field near the church Sunday against Graham-Hoehme Plow of Amarillo.

WATER WATER EVERYWHERE

NEW YORK (AP) — Summer bathers will be interested to learn that there are an estimated 100,000 lakes and ponds in the continental United States, according to the Hammond Map and Atlas Company. And, in addition to our thousands of miles of coastline, the firm reports that this country also harbors approximately 3 million miles of rivers and streams.

No figure is given for swimming pools.

Condemnation Proceeding In Bailey County

Deaf Smith and Castro County landowners have learned that the Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America, which is in the process of condemning lands across Bailey, Parmer, Castro and Deaf Smith counties, has begun condemnation proceedings in Bailey County. Proceedings were begun after the gas company had offered $1 a rod plus $5 a rod for damages, which was turned down by farmers.

The company requested the Bailey county judge to appoint three disinterested landowners to serve as commissioners to fix the damages.

Awards to owners and operators of irrigated lands will now exceed $100 per rod in some instances and many of the awards for dry land were in excess of $20 per rod, all well over the $6 set by the gas company.

Condemnation proceedings are also underway in Parmer County. No condemnation suits have been filed in Castro or Deaf Smith counties.

Richard Jagels Speaks To Rotarians Monday

The operation of Hereford Feed Yards was explained in detail to the Hereford Rotary Club Monday by Dick Jagels, manager.

Jagels, who has been manager of the feed yards since March, 1966, said the operation was founded by Paul Engler, who still is company president.

The capacity of Hereford Feed Yards, continued Jagels, is about 30,000 head of cattle "jammed pretty tight." Generally only about 10 per cent or less of the cattle are owned by the feed yards, while the rest belong to persons in the business.

The feed yards in the area, said Jagels, make it possible for the cattle to be kept and fed here rather than shipping them out to other states.

Main objective of the feed yards is to put weight on the cattle, Rotarians were told. The mill at the feed yards runs through about 300 tons of feed a day. Milo consists of about 60 to 80 per cent of the feed rationed to the cattle.

The milo is put in a steam boiler and rolled, an operation which aids in digestion of cattle and gives better results in adding weight to them.

Thirty-five to 40 persons are employed at the feed yards, tending cattle for people from all over the United States, continued Jagels. The majority of the people also have interests in the cattle industry other than feeding.

Last year, Hereford Feed Yards marketed about 47,000 steers, which showed an average gain of 2.81 pounds a day. The heifers gain 2.24 pounds a day average.

During the time they are in the feed yards, 20 to 30 per cent of the cattle get sick, with pneumonia probably being the main problem, said Jagels. The death loss is nine-tenths of 1 per cent.

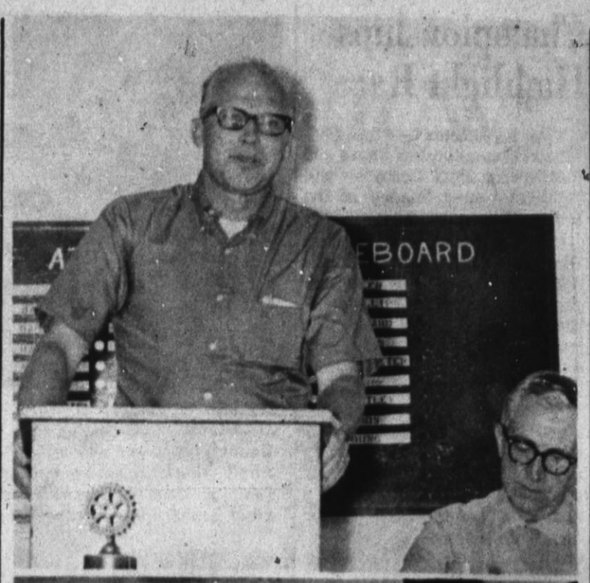

The average length of feeding period for the cattle is five months, although an effort is made to get them out in four months. "If the market is high and the cattle scarce,we can sell quicker. But usually we go longer."

Speaking of pollution, Jegels said construction of dikes, or settling ponds, had begun before Tierra Blanca Creek had been polluted last year. The dikes were built to keep runoff waters from reaching the creek.

Last year, Jagels continued, a letter was mailed out saying that if there was any possibility that wastes would run into the creek, a permit from the Water Pollution Control Board would be necessary.

"As far as I know, we still have the only one granted in the state," said Jagels. The permit makes a business liable for keeping water from the creek in as much as a two-inch rain during a 24-hour period.

Jagels said Hereford Feed Yards did contain all of its water during the fish kill at Buffalo Lake (June 17 and 18, but the creek got up into two or three pens a week later.

ROTARY SPEAKER AND SWEETHEART — Dick Jagels, manager of Hereford Feed Yards, was speaker during the noon meeting of the Hereford Rotary Club Monday. The meeting also was the first for the club's new sweetheart —Cathy Young—to attend. She furnished music as members of the organization sang. Rotary president Les Combs is seated beside Jagels.

Vicar Honored By Congregation Of St. Thomas'

The Rev. Staley Hackley, who has served as vicar of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church in Hereford since early 1966, and his family were honored at a farwell party at Hereford Country Club Friday evening.

The Hackleys have moved to Dallas. They have two sons, Charles and Steven.

Hosted by the parish families the party included a dinner and swimming. A gift of a water color painting was presented to the departing minister.

Another minister for the church has not yet been appointed, according to reports from the congregation and the bishop of the Diocese of Northwest Texas.

Attending the dinner Friday evening were Mrs. Sue Miller and girls of Dimmitt; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wright and daughters of Dimmitt; and Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Metz and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Carter, Rose Ann Fraser and Bill Smith, Mr. and Mrs Joe Smith and son, Mr. and Mrs. George Masso, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Rosenow and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Waldrep and daughters, all of Hereford. Waldrep is warden of the church here.

A derelict boathouse was the first home of the University of Miami's Marine Laboratory, founded in 1943. Today the lab has grown into the Institute of Marine Science. It ranks as one of the world's leading marine research centers.

ABC

What is the A.B.C.?

Chatting with a merchant the other day, we mentioned our "ABC figure."

"What," he asked, "is an ABC figure?"

Perhaps what we told him will also interest you.

This newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, an independent, nonprofit organization of nearly 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers.

Its purpose is to provide accurate and factual reports on the circulations of member publishers. In the advertising and publishing industry, the ABC insigne is often referred to as the "hallmark of circulation values."

At regular intervals, an ABC traveling auditor visits our office to check our records. The findings of this physical audit are embodied in an Audit Report published by ABC — the report literally tells us what our circulation is.

Virtually everything an advertiser should know about our circulation is found in this report, facts and figures without opinions.

Few retailers bother to ask to see a copy of our report, yet we want you to know one is available anytime you are interested in the quality and quantity of our circulation audience — the audience for your advertising messages.

What is an ABC figure?

It is our way of assuring you that you get full measure for your advertising dollar in this newspaper.

Rebels Win Again

The Hereford Rebels came up with two victories Sunday, the first being a 14-0 shellacking of Muleshoe and the second a 5-4 victory over an All-Star team.

Against the Muleshoe Scorpions, the Rebels banged out 13 hits, including doubles by Charlie Moreno, Rudy Martinez, Ray Martinez and Terry Hill. Moreno had three hits to lead the batters, while Hill and Ray Martinez had two hits each.

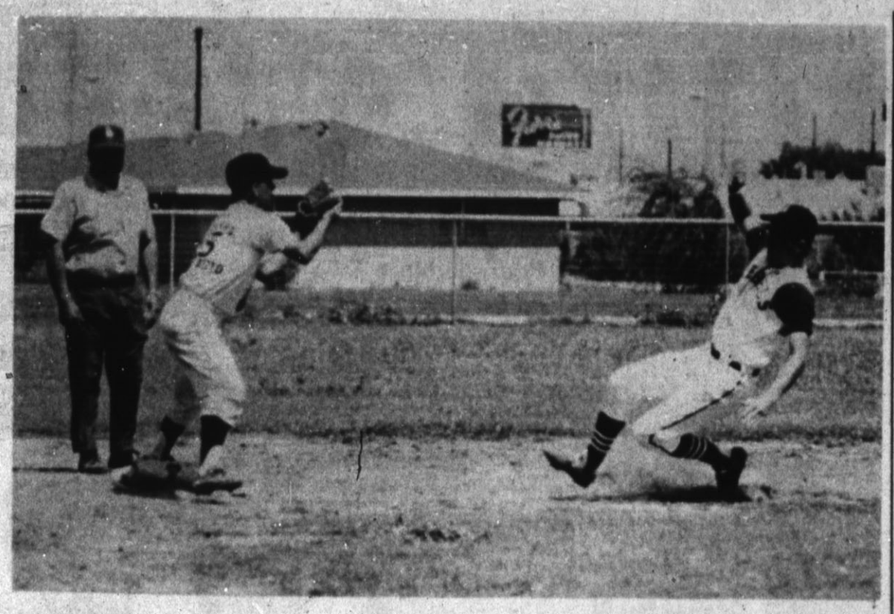

Nacho Gonzales allowed only six hits and struck out six Scorpions as he pitched his first shutout of the year.

The Rebels went up against a team of All-Stars from Amarillo and Muleshoe in the second game and came out with their fourth straight victory.

Connecting for 10 hits, the Rebels were led by Moreno, Jim Scott and Olie Lial. Scott tripled with the bases loaded in the second inning.

Ray Martinez started the game, was relieved by Moreno, who picked up the victory when Moreno was relieved by Alex Diaz in the fourth inning.

The Rebels currently have eight wins and three losses for the season.

BEGINNING OF SQUABBLE — Robbie Lemons, Hereford Rebels center fielder, begins a slide into second base during Sunday's game with Muleshoe which resulted in a loud and long protest by the Scorpions. The Muleshoe player argued that Lemons, who was called out, had grabbed his arm and the double play couldn't be completed.

JULY 4 RUNAWAYS

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Charles and Fred Bauer Jr., who work for the same company, are beginning to feel their homes have a magnetic attraction for runaway cars.

Once, a car came rolling down the street and crashed into Charles' porch.

It happened twice to Fred. Both cars were stolen and both incidents occurred on a July 4.

Championships Highlight Race

Two big events — the Mid-Season Championship Races and the Powder Puff Derby — will highlight racing Sunday at the Hereford Speedway.

Prior to Sunday's races, Jim Dawson was leading the Class A division followed by Jim Culpepper and C. B. Lunsford. In Class B, Frank Easton was leading, followed by Bill Byers and Coy House. Results of Sunday's races were not available at press time.

The Powder Puff Derby features races with women driving the cars. In the last race of this type, there was one complete turn-over. Trophies also will be awarded Sunday for "roll overs."

Races begin at 2 p. m., with warm-ups beginning earlier. Admission is $1 for adults and children under 12 admitted free when accompanied by parents.

Association members of the Hereford Speedway will have an important meeting at 8 p. m. today at Jones Restaurant. The Mid-Season Championship Races and other matters will be discussed.

DISEASED SORGHUM — A great portion of Deaf Smith County has been besieged by a disease which was identified Thursday as maize dwarf mosaic virus (MDMV). First symptom of the disease is a yellow, green mottling efect which deteriorates the plant.

TESTING

Extensive testing of the Hereford sewage plant was done this week in an effort to determine what is causing irregularities in its operation.

City Manager Dudley Bayne said the special testing period was advised by Millard Bruce, sanitarian for the Texas Health Department, after the inconsistencies showed up.

Bayne said tests taken for the city by an Amarillo chemist on successive Saturdays showed that 92 per cent of the sewage plant was in full operation on one of the testing days and only about 40 per cent during the next tests.

During a 24-hour period which began Monday, tests were taken from the sewage plant every two hours. The results are expected in about two weeks.

Tiefel Brothers Follow In Father's Footsteps

Although the work itself is not actually the same as their father did, it does deal with the same type of business.

George and Arthur Tiefel's father, Jake, came from Brazil, Indiana, in 1910 and lived in Friona until he moved to Hereford in 1914. He came from Indiana along with two brothers, Ed and Henry. Upon their arrival in this part of the country, Jake and Ed set up a business of general contracting and Henry started farming. Henry farmed in Friona for some time but later moved to Dawn. Jake and Ed moved to Hereford and continued their work here.

They were general contractors on all types of buildings — residential, commercial and industrial.

Jake's two boys, Arthur and George, started learning the business when they were old enough to lift a hammer.

The boys grew up working in this field of work and when their father died in 1939, they continued.

Ed died in 1961 and Henry in 1963.

George now deals mainly with floor coverings as he has established himself as one of the leaders in this field. He is the dealer of a seamless floor covering and has been for over a year. The floor which he specializes in now is composed of a liquid which is set on the floor. Particles which look like flakes are set in the liquid and when it hardens, it is as strong or stronger than linoleum. An example of his work can be seen in many places in town including City Hall.

George's business goes under the name of Floors-Creative, Inc. The corporation is family-held, with George being the president, his oldest son the vice-president and wife secretary-treasurer.

George recalls how he started in the floor covering business. He explained that "I had to learn pretty fast how to cover floors one morning some years back. At that particular time, we (Arthur and I) had been working building a house and when we needed a floor covering man, there was none available. The only business in town to do any floor covering at that time was E. B. Black Co. but they had too much to do. An experienced floor coverer came to show me how to cover a floor and from then on it was mine."

Arthur deals mostly with cabinet work. The brothers have two separate businesses, Arthur's known as Tiefel's Cabinet Shop. The shop is located on a little-known street named Floss and is at 224. The street runs north and south between Grand Ave. and Union and is close to Ave. D. Arthur does all cabinet work in his shop but he stated that he used to do it while on the job. He has all necessary tools and the know-how to do an any type of cabinet and general carpenter work.

The shop is leased by both brothers as George also uses it some. George's floor-covering business is located in the garage of his home, however.

Except for missing a few years in the business, both Tiefels have worked continuously in their work ever since they can remember. George missed working from 1940 to 1945 when he served with the Army Air Force. He recalls that at that time the Air Force was still a part of the Army. He worked with woodworking in aircrafts.

Arthur also served with the Army Air Force from 1942 to 1945. While in the service, he worked with sheetmetal of aircraft.

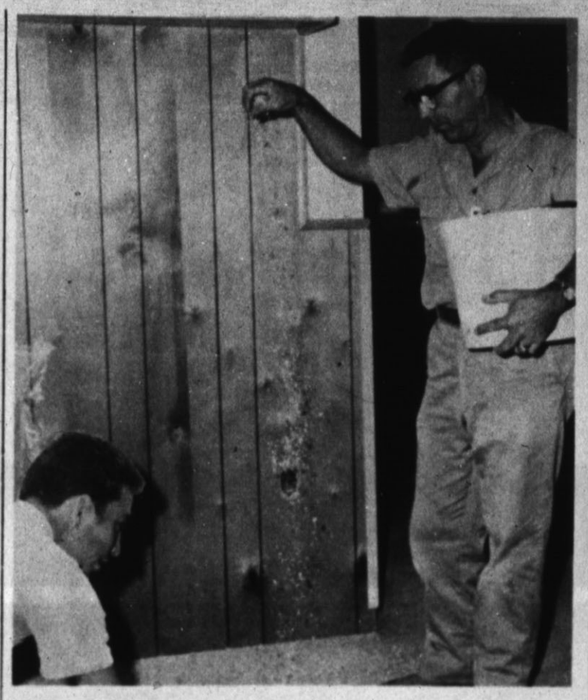

Arthur and his wife, Bertha, live at 231 Ave. C and have 2 children, a boy and a girl. The oldest is Mark, 18, and he is a 1967 graduate of Hereford High. He plans to attend West Texas State University this fall. Marcia, 13, is going to attend 8th grade at Stanton Junior High this year.

Arthur does not belong to any civic clubs here as his work keeps him occupied most of the time. He does, however, belong to the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department and Lutheran Men's Club.

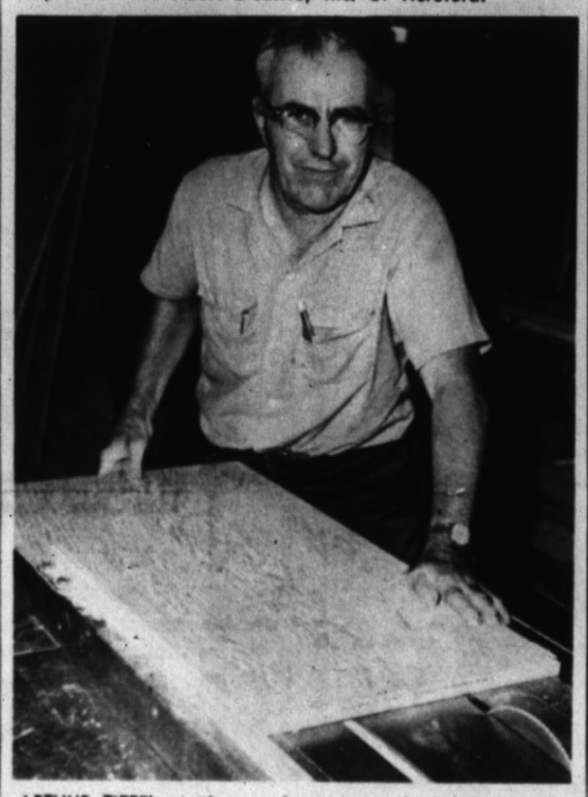

George and his wife, Coralie, live at 124 Ave. J and have 4 children. The oldest is Barbara at 24 years and she is married. She lives in Oregon and has two children. Jake is the second oldest at 20 and he is presently serving with the Navy. He is stationed in San Diego, Calif., aboard the U. S. S. Chicago. Cherylene, 18, is a telephone operator at the telephone office here. The youngest child of the Tiefel's is Ted, 10 years old and a 5th grader at Shirley Elementary School.

All three older children have graduated from Hereford High School.

George does not belong to any civic clubs here for the same reason his brother gives. He is a member of the Lutheran's Men's Club, however.

GEORGE TIEFEL, rgiht, sprinkles some of the particles that go in the making of a floor covering while fellow worker Arnulfo Lafuente levels it. The floor consists of a liquid material but when dried, it is almost like linoleum. Tiefel is president of Floors-Creative, Inc. of Hereford.

ARTHUR TIEFEL, getting ready to cut a board for use in making a cabinet. He is owner of Tiefel's Cabinet Shop in Hereford.

Local Fallout Shelter Analysis Completed

How good is fallout and windstorm protection in Hereford school buildings? What can be done to improve them for such emergencies?

A survey report recently completed by a team of architects-engineers for the National Commission on Safety Education and National Education Association answers these questions and more.

Compiled by Brasher, Goyette & Rapier, shelter analysts of Lubbock, the report was presented during the last regular meeting of the Board of Trustees for the local school district.

The report states that "fallout shelter protection factors are computed with the use of criteria recommended by the Department of Defense, Office of Civil Defense, and in general method using The Protection Factor Estimator, TM 64-1, May 1964."

"No spaces in the existing buildings have been designed or has consideration been given to either fallout shelter or windstorm protection," the report continued. Also, "spaces recommended for windstorm protection were selected as being those areas which would appear to offer some resistance to wind loads and to unbalanced pressures."

NORTHWEST ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

The school has a floor area of 27,449 square feet. Under a heading of "Fallout Protection," the protection factor of the multi-purpose room is 18 and the capacity 422. The library cores and interior corridors, which have a capacity of 38, have a protection factor of 6.

Under "Tornado Protection," the report states "the library areas and adjacent corridors would indicate to offer good protection against wind storms because of the structural steel frame. It is also recommended that doors and windows be opened but that the people be kept away from all glass openings."

SHIRLEY ELEMENTARY

Floor area is 20,578 feet. Under "Fallout Protection," the all purpose room has a protection factor of 7, with a capacity of 480. Capacity of the corridors is 456 and the protection factor there is 110.

In "Tornado Protection," the corridors would indicate to offer good protection against wind storms because of the structural steel frame."

CENTRAL ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Floor area is 26,971 square feet. With a capacity of 160, the corridors at the stairwells at the first floor have a protection factor of 25 in "Fallout Protection." The main corridors in the basement have a capacity of 128 and a prottection factor of 27.

For "Tornado Protection," the corridors around the stairwells and the toilets would possibly offer the best protection against wind storms because of the concrete floor system. The report also recommended that "the protection factor in the corridors could be increased to 40 if 37 pounds per square foot were added to the second floor corridors in the form of sand bags or text books."

AIKMAN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Floor area is 39,534 square feet. Under "Fallout Protection," the cafetorium is listed as having a capacity of 374 and a protection factor of 13. The corridors adjacent to the cafetorium have a capacity of 238 and a protection factor of 12.

In suggestions under "Tornado Protection," the corridor areas would possibly offer the best protection against wind storms because of the structural steel frame.

BLUEBONNET ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Floor area is 46,523 square feet. "Fallout Protection" for the multi-purpose room lists capacity as 388 and the protection factor as 14. The corridors have a capacity of 537 and the protection factor is 6.

For "Tornado Protection," the corridors with a structural frame in this area indicate that the protection in case of wind storms would be good. "It is recommended that doors and windows be opened in the academic wing, but that the people be kept away from all glass openings."

LA PLATA JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Floor area is 92,628 square feet. "Fallout Protection" in the boys' and girls' physical education dressing rooms has a capacity of 435 and a protection factor of 29. The boys' team dressing room has a capacity of 276 and a protection factor of 22. The mechanical room in the basement has a capacity of 150 and a protection factor of 98.

"Tornado Protection" information says that the dressing rooms and the mechanical rooms would all be good places of protection in case of windstorms.

Also included in the report is statements that the protection factor in the boys' and girls' physical education dressing rooms could be increased to 40 if 30 pounds per square foot were added to the play deck in the form of sand bags or textbooks. The protection factor in the boys' team dressing room could be increased to 40 if 45 pounds per square foot were added to the bleacher area in the form of sand bags or text books.

The protection factor in the basement could be increased still more if sand bags were stacked in front of the grille in the areaway.

STANTON JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Floor area of the old three-story building is 43,151 square feet. The 1959 one-story building has a floor area of 29,100 square feet.

In "Fallout Protection," the boys' gymnasium has a capacity of 530 and a protection factor of 18. The first floor corridor of the three-story building has a capacity of 137 and a protection factor of 20. The girls' gymnasium has a capacity of 600 and a protection factor of 11.

Under "Tornado Protection" the first floor corridors and stair halls and the second floor corridors of the three story building indicate a good structural frame for protection from a windstorm.

HEREFORD HIGH SCHOOL

Floor area of the two-story classroom area is 41,576 square feet, while there are 76,779 square feet in the one story shops, gymnasiums and auditorium.

Capacity of the first floor corridor is 494 and the protection factor is 20 under "Fallout Protection." The boys' gymnasium has a capacity of 904 and a protection factor of 10, while the auditorium has a capacity of 1,008 and a protection factor of 8.

For "Tornado Protection," the first floor corridors and stair halls of the two-story building indicate a good structural frame for protection from a wind storm. The boys' gymnasium, with windows opened, would indicate, also, good protection from windstorms.

Also, the protection factor in the first floor corridor of the two-story building could be increased to 40 if 45 pounds per square foot were added to the second floor corridor in the form of sand bags or text books.

HEREFORD CAFETERIA AND ADMINISTRATION

Floor area is 12,774 square feet. "Fallout Protection" for the vault lists a capacity of 14 and a protection factor of 44. The cafeteria has a capacity of 820 and a protection factor of 6.

Under "Tornado Protection," the survey says for protection of a small number of people, the vault would be the best protection from a wind storm. When there is a large number of people in this building, the safest places in the building would be corridors and rooms where there is no window exposure. The windows in the building should be opened.

The report states that "in new construction, in order that more adequate shelter space be provided for both fallout and windstorm, we suggest (1) that structural frames be made heavier (2) consideration given to reduction of the quantity of windows, and (3) a larger portion of the buildings be constructed multi-story and/or underground and with less exposed wall area.

"These suggestions could be incorporated in new constructions, without a great additional expense, and when incorporated, some saving would occur in a decreased maintenance," the shelter analysts stated.

All of the Hereford school buildings are licensed public shelters by the Hereford-Deaf Smith County Civil Defense.

Family Business Established At Turn Of Century

Having first started with a small blacksmith shop at the turn of the century when Hereford was being settled, John N. Jacobsen, Sr., was later joined by his three sons in what was to become one of Hereford's leading businesses.

Jacobsen, a native of Denmark, came to the U. S. in 1873 along with 5 brothers. Their father sent them here because at that time the Germans had taken over control and he didn't want his sons to be inducted into the German army.

He came to live in New Jersey and later moved to Lewisville, Texas, where he stayed with 2 brothers. It was at this time that he learned the English language.

In 1903, he came to Hereford and started working with Henry Stinson on the railroad. He worked during the winter cleaning snow off the tracks.

After the winter, he and a friend decided to form a blacksmith and woodwork shop at the corner of Miles and Second Streets. The business, although it has undergone several remodeling projects and has had more buildings added, is still operated at the same location.

Jacobsen was married to the former Vida Orr, a member of a pioneer family and early-day school teacher in the county. They reared their family at the home on West Second where Mrs. Jacobsen still lives.

The Jacobsen sons, John Jr., Chris and Berry, started helping with the business at an early age. John Jr. was only about 6 years of age. Their first job was to carry the heavy ledger which their father used in the business for bookkeeping. The boys had a small wagon and each day they would load the ledger in the wagon and carry it home where their father did his bookkeeping.

The boys took ownership of the business in 1932. Their father kept working at the shop off and on for several years up until he was some 75 years of age.

The original building was replaced with a new one in 1928. In 1941, an addition was added to the north side and in 1945, a shop behind the main building was constructed.

The business is now owned by a corporation. It is known as Jacobsen Bros. and is owned by Mrs. John (Ursalee) Jacobsen, Jr., (her husband having passed away over a year ago) Chris and Berry Jacobsen. Berry, sometimes known to Hereford people as Bud, is now working for another company close to Amarillo. He is head of a department which manufactures materials for the government for use in war.

The three boys had owned the business ever since their father passed it to them in 1932 and it has been held by the Jacobsen family since it's start.

The corporation's president is Chris. Serving as vice-president is Berry and as secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Jacobsen, Jr.

The business has done many types of work throughout the years. Well casing used to be their biggest business but it has gotten to where it is cheaper to buy them made by a factory than to manufacture them here. A machine shop is carried along with a welding shop, and a blacksmith. The blacksmith deals mainly with sharpening plows now.

Many of Hereford's leading welders, including Gene and Ed Loerwald of Loerwald Bros., C. D. Pinckert, V. H. "Hoot" and Earl Poarch of Poarch Bros. and Carl Mosely of Hereford learned their skills while working at Jacobsen Bros.

At one time, Jacobsen' Bros. were dealers for the J. I. Case tractors and equipment in the Hereford area.

Mrs. Jacobsen, Sr. is still living and resides at 643 W. 2nd in Hereford.

Chris and his wife, Winona, live at 903 Union. They have a nursery where up to about 20 children are kept for busy mothers. They have no children of their own but Chris states that "we have plenty to keep us busy most of the time."

Mrs. Jacobsen, Jr., lives at 209 6th and has two children. The oldest is Marcus, 23, a senior student at West Texas State University in Canyon and Linda, 17, a senior at Hereford High. Mrs. Jacobsen is very active in civic organizations. She is a member of the Hereford Garden Club, Lone Star Study Club, El Lano Study Club and of the Rebekahs Lodge.

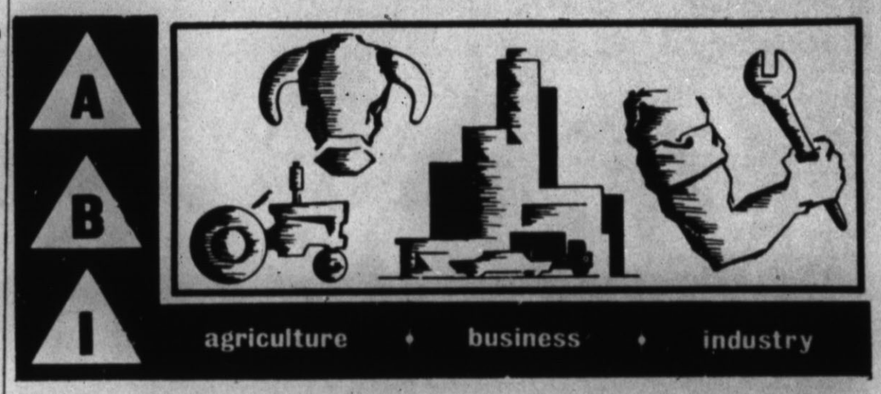

ORIGINAL BUILDING — Pictured above is the first building which John N. Jacobsen, Sr., used for his blacksmith shop back in 1903. A new one was constructed later and now it is known as Jacobsen Bros. Jacobsen is pictured wearing a leather apron as he stands in front of what is believed to have been the first auto in Hereford.

TWO-TIME NATIONAL CHAMPION

Karate Expert Demonstrates Skill

Many Hereford residents have recently been getting a close look at one of the fastest growing sports in the nation — Karate — from the two-time national champion himself.

David Moon of Lubbock, who has given Karate lessons here for the past several weeks, also exhibited his wares at the regular noon meeting of the Lions Club last week.

Born in Korea, Moon began taking lessons in the Moo-Duk-Kwan School of Karate when he was 15. He had been adopted by an uncle, Dr. John Moon, a history professor at East Texas State University in Commerce, when he was five and brought to this country in 1963. His father, mother, and five brothers and sisiters, also brought to the United States by Dr. Moon, now live in Fort Worth.

Moon attended ETSU for 1½ years, starting a Karate club there which is still going strong. He then transferred to Texas Tech in Lubbock and was classified as a senior when the last term ended. He is majoring in architecture.

Presently a 2nd degree Black Belt, Moon has a list of accomplishments several volumes thick. Included are the 1965 Oklahoma Championship, the 1965 Southwest Tournament championship and the 1966 National Championship. He successfully defended the national title in February.

Moon explained that each Karate student starts with a White belt. After about four months, he takes a rank test. If he passes, he receives a Green belt, later a Blue belt, then a Brown belt and finally, the coveted Black Belt.

There are 10 steps beginning with the White belt, to be exact. The 10th and 9th Kup are the White belts; the 8th and 7th Kups are the Green; 6th and 5th Kups are the Blue; 4th, 3rd, 2nd and 1st Kups are the Brown.

The Black Belt is just the opposite in rank, beginning with the 1st degree Dan and going up to the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, all the way up to the 10th degree Dan Black Belt.

Karate, Moon stresses, is not only a sport, but "an art for physical fitness." Self defense and the importance of self control are primary objectives.

Most of the students, says Moon, want first of all to learn the fighting techniques or the way to break boards and bricks with the hands. "The purpose of breaking bricks and boards is to show the effectiveness of Karate."

"If you condition your hand about four months," he added, "you should be able to break three or four boards."

Discussing the fighting techniques, Moon said there are 73 vital points on the body which the student learns. The points are where an oppoenent may be knocked down or injured.

These vital points become especially important in tournament competition. There are an average of eight matches in a tournament.

As the judges and referee watch, the competitors deliver power — without making actual contact. "This is even more difficult than hitting an opponent," laughs Moon.

In competition, Moon estimated that he has lost about five per cent of his matches. Some of them were recent, he says in destroying a myth that he is unbeatable.

Even tougher than facing an opponent on the mat is walking away from one on the street. As expected because of his reputation, Moon is frequently challenged by someone who wants to see if he (Moon) really is as tough as reported. "I always back down," said Moon, "and sometimes it's pretty hard to do."

Comparing Karate to Judo, Moon said "they are as different as boxing and wrestling. There is some grabbing and throwing in Karate, but mostly kicking and hand fighting."

Moon plans to stay out of school during the fall semester to work fulltime in giving lessons in Hereford, Amarillo and Lubbock.

The Hereford lessons are held at 7:30 p. m. every Tuesday at Northwest Elementary School. Included is a complete mastery of Karate, sport Karate, board and brick breaking techniques, pressure points, and principles of teaching Karate.

The classes are open to men and women of all ages, with three women currently taking lessons here. There are more in the Lubbock classes, Moon said.

Applications are still being taken for lessons, with 35 persons presently enrolled.

KARATE DEMONSTRATIONS — David Moon of Lubbock, demonstrates how he has twice won the national Karate championship. Moon presently is conducting Karate lessons in Hereford each Tuesday. Aiding him in the demonstrations were Steve Caviness and Gary Duggan.

AT HIGH SCHOOL — Ceilings are being installed this week at the vocational school as work on the high school complex nears completion. Classrooms should be completely finished out before the first of October.

—Hereford Brand Photo

TO BE COMPLETED SOON — School Business Manager Tom Harkey surveys floor plans for the area vocational school building, nearing completion at the high school campus. The building is scheduled to be 100 per cent complete by the first of October.

COMBATING WEEDS — A crop duster from Whiteface Aviation was busy Wednesday afternoon on the W. H. Andrews farm south of Hereford spraying weeds. Considered one of the most hazardous occupations in the world, crop dusting calls for flying under highline wires, landing on dirt roads or bumpy fields and skimming the top of the crops being sprayed.

Park Party Honors Girl In Farewell

Softball and other games entertained Karen Newsom and a group of her friends who gave her a going-away party in Dameron Park Saturday. Dana Maloney and Gina Hunter were hostesses.

With her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Newsom, Karen is moving to a new home at Fort Morgan, Colo.

Sandwiches and cold drinks were served the girls for lunch and the outdoor games followed. Mrs. Wendell Maloney and Mrs. Howard Hunter assisted their daughters with hostess duties.

NATION'S BIGGEST PIPELINE IS UNDER ONE MAN'S

HARRISON, N. J. (AP) — The country's biggest pipeline, stretching 1,531 miles from Houston to New York, is controlled by only one man, according to a recent study of transportation by Worthington Corporation.

The pipeline costs $360 million and is said to be the largest construction project in history financed by private capital.

Its network, which holds more than 14 million barrels of oil and can deliver 42 million gallons a day, is gauged, metered and monitored by an operator in Atlanta.

Washington Report

From Congressman

BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1323 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. • 225-3706

I had the honor, along with other freshman Republican Congressmen, of being a guest of President Eisenhower at his Gettysburg farm last week.

General Eisenhower had some very sound advice about some of the nation's problems and particularly about the war in Viet-Nam, a subject on which he should certainly be an expert.

Our former President believes it is high time that Congress takes a better look at the Viet-Nam war and decides whether it is a war or not and what, if any, additional authority President Johnson may need to bring this bloody, frustrating and constantly expanding conflict to an honorable end.

General Eisenhower believes that when a nation applies force as we have in Viet-Nam, then the force should be overwhelming. This nation has the capability of applying such force and should have done so two years ago rather than allowing the Communists to counter each move we have made by infiltrating more trooops into South Viet-Nam.

We have allowed them through the sanctuaries of their ports in North Viet-Nam to keep their ground forces supplied with all the essentials of warfare including the newest and most modern weapons. We have also allowed them to build up a deadly and effective concentration of anti-aircraft defenses around their military bases, airfields, Russian-built missile sites and other strategic points.

It is a sad commentary, as far as I am concerned, to learn from the Department of Defense that free world shipping, principally, British to North Viet-Nam during the first six months of this year has almost doubled over that carried during the previous six months. This seems utterly ridiculous in view of U. S. cooperation with Great Britain in her embargo against Rhodesia.

Of 28 free world ships arriving in North Viet-Nam during the first 5 months of this year, 23 flew the British flag and of 74 last year, 50 were British.

We now have a cargo ban on ships trading with Cuba and I fail to understand why we should not maintain a blacklist against ships aiding a Communist regime that is daily killing more and more American boys.

Saigon through which the bulk of U. S. supplies reach our forces in South Viet-Nam is no sanctuary as far as the Communists are concerned. Those waters have been mined and American merchant seamen killed. Yet we balk at using the economic weapons available to us to stop free world trade with North Viet-Nam. As long as Americans are fighting and dying in Viet-Nam, no nation of the free world should be permitted to send supplies to their killers.

The Congress has for too long allowed the Executive Branch to chip away at its rightful areas of authority set aside under the powers of the three branches — legislative, executive and judicial.

Under the guise of Presidential emergency powers, mandates contained in Congressional legislation have been ignored. The Secretary of Defense has refused to build the B-70 strategic bomber or to use funds appropriated for the Nike X antiballistic system.

The same controversy has occurred over Congressional urging of an all-nuclear powered Navy but the recently launched super-carrier Kennedy is conventionally powered and according to Naval experts, obsolete even before it is commissioned.

The President ruled the last Congress under its 2-1 Democratic majority with an iron hand and railroaded his Great Society programs through with ease.

But the new Congress, while still 3-2 Democratic, is beginning to conduct itself as a separate branch of the government and to reassert its rights.

Both House and Senate Committees are now questioning the growing authority of the President at the expense of Congressional power. The status of our involvement in Viet-Nam and the future course of action should now be thoroughly investigated by Congress.

"When a nation fights a war, it must take risks but this Administration has been unwilling to take the risks to win. I believe it is past time that Congress assert its rights to declare war or do whatever is necessary to win.

—Small Talk—

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

One nice thing about writing of old-timers, so often it brings a response from other old-timers, who are always interesting to hear from. The story last week about the unique Womble family cookbook resulted in a letter from Mrs. Fred T. Johnson of Oklahoma City.

SHE WAS FRENCH Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Davis who came to Hereford before 1900. Her father was county treasurer for two terms, 1902 and 1904.

"With my parents I went to Miss Joyce Womble's wedding," she writes after asking how she can get a copy of the cookbook. "How impressed I was! Mr. Meeks with his mustache and Miss Joyce with her hair high on the top of her head and a beautiful white dress with a train to it! I'm almost sure Miss Brucie Gass played the organ."

MRS. JOHNSON ADDS, "I count it a privilege and a pleasure to have known. . the men and women who chose Hereford to settle in and rear their families. . . certainly people of vision, stability and courage."

It's a privilege and a pleasure to have her note, and I'm sure a number of the early settlers here remember French Davis Johnson. Her address, by the way, is 6701 N. W. 12th, Oklahoma City.

ANOTHER TRAGIC death in this area, of a child who shut himself inside a refrigerator while at play, is a grim reminder of that danger and repeats the warning about never leaving an unused refrigerator where it is accessible to small children.

Some empty iceboxes, apparently consigned to the dumpground, which I've seen in alleys behind appliance stores have bothered me. Unless the doors are removed, they could be death traps.

Hey kids. Soon you'll be dancing to the music of the "Sounds of Tyme," They are Gary Fleming on the drums, Dennis Burton, bass guitar, Sammy Curtsinger, rythme, Phillip Sciumbato, lead guitar, and Albert Sciumbato on the organ.

The group was organized by Sammy Curtsinger and have already performed several times. An outstanding trait of the group's music, is their unusual sound effects on the lead guitar.

Family Attends Sikes Reunion In Sons' Home

Mr. and Mrs. Ulys Pierce and daughter, Laura, attended a reunion of the N. P. Sikes family at Monahans last weekend. Mrs. Pierce is the oldest of Mr. Sikes' 11 children, all of whom were present.

All were born in this community while the Sikes lived here. They were residents of the Westway neighborhood a number of years. With husbands or wives, they came to the reunion from Oklahoma, Nevada, California, Colorado and New Mexico as well as Texas.

The family gathering was in the home of Norbon Sikes Jr. and his wife, Dottie, at Monahans.

HER HOMETOWN — An aerial view of Savitaipale, Finland, indicates that Katie Lane will be in for quite a change when she arrives in Hereford about August 15. She will live with the Hap Cavness family, 129 N. Texas.

KAIJA LAINE

Katie Anxious To Begin Year With Cavnesses

Letters from Kaija Laine, who will arrive in Herefords sometime next month, indicate that she is anxious to board the S. S. Ryndam to begin her voyage to the United States. Katie, as she will be called here, departs from her homeland, Finland, on Aug. 4. She will arrive in New York on the 13th, and is expected in Hereford very soon thereafter — possibly as early as the 15th, since Katie will not be required to attend orientation sessions in New York City as will those foreign exchange students who are flying. She will attend orientation sessions with other students while making the voyage.

The American Field Service foreign exchange student will be a part of the Hap Cavness family, 129 N. Texas Ave., this coming school year. The Cavnesses have a daughter, Cindy, and a son, Steve. Not to be forgotten are the family's pet dogs, Lydia and Tiny.

The Cavnesses have received several letters from Katie. She writes about her own pet, 'Hector or Heku as we call him. He is not very beautiful or even clever, but he has got a friendly heart — or we believe he has, because we want to find something good about him."

Cindy Cavness will be Katie's first sister; at home Katie has three brothers younger than herself. Katie writes, "You can't imagine how happy I feel, because I'll get a sister. We'll certainly get along well together, because we like the same things. It is true that I have never done water skiing but, as you said, one can always try to learn. In Finland we can swim during three or four months in summer (that warm it is here) and some people swim also in winter — in a hole in the ice. But polar bears we don't have! Please, tell Steve that he is very much like my brothers, so I'm sure that will be friends."

Katie is a working girl, according to her correspondence. She has been working this summer in a bank there in her hometown of Savitaipale. She is anticipating a spending spree for clothing — all bought herself — prior to her departure for the United States.

Katie's parents have also written to the Cavness family: "The thought that our daughter will get the other parents seems somehow luxurious, because our own parents have died when we were still young (only the mother of father is still living). Already after an account of the way in which the parents are chosen was given to us, all new parents got our full confidence, and now, after reading your letter we all agree that our daughter has been especially lucky. We don't hesitate to give our daughter to you, we accept all you do and only hope that our daughter would cause you as much pleasure as possible." As to be expected, Mr. and Mrs. Laine are feeling a bit poignant over their daughter's year away from home. Mr. Laine is a police sergeant, Mrs. Laine is a housewife.

An unexpected letter recently came to Katie, when she heard from Mari Nunisto. Mari, another Finnish exchange student to Hereford, lived with the T. J. Parsons family here during the 1959-1960 school term.

Birthdays will be celebrated at the Cavness household when Katie arrives. Both Katie and Cindy have summer birthdays. Katie sent Cindy a card — printed in Finnish — and later translated apologetically: "I know it was a little rude to send you a Finnish card without translating the text, but because the text was not very clever I didn't do it. But please, allow me to translate it now. In the card it was said, 'I know that it is very rude to send money for a birthday present — and that's why I don't do it. In any case, Happy Birthday!' "

Katie closes with, "Now I have only two weeks in Finland before I'll leave for Hereford. I must say that I'm very excited for the whole journey and I'm also very, very anxiously looking forward to meeting my 'new family.' Though our summer has been 'abnormally' cold I want to send very warm regards to all of you."

Shower Honors Beverly Lemons

A color forecast of autumn, the gold and green to be used in her wedding Sept. 4, was seen in decorations for a shower honoring Miss Beverly Lemons Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. H. Gentry.

She is the prospective bride of Jerry Tisdale and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lemons.

Guests were greeted by the honoree and her mother; her fiance's mother, Mrs. Marvin Tisdale, and her cousin, Mrs. John Sooter, who will be her matron of honor also in the receiving line were the bride's maternal grandmother, J. J. Barlow, Earth and Miss Nancy Tisdale.

They were served party cookies and punch at a table where a bouquet of gold mums, bells-of-Ireland and stock set the color note. Misses Cheryl Solomon, Tina Simpson and Barbara Ranspot assisted at the table in turn.

Miss Alicia Galloway of Earth was at the guest book. Gold roses in a bud vase decorated the registry table.

MY FRIEND THE GARDEN

Do you have a pencil and paper near? If so make a list of things in which flowers or vegetables, or other plant life has had a part. For example, are the draperies floral, the dress you have on-does it have a print of flower, does the kitchen towels have fruits or vegetables printed on them? When you make such an inventory you will readily see how very much our gardens are a part of us.

Often we go traveling, and just go merrily on our way never thinking of how much we are indebted to the good earth, and those who till it. People are indifferent, they ride in their cars along the highways, and often never even cast a vague glance at the fields, the crops, the flowers, shrubs and all the beauty of nature. They are sheltered from the weather, are very comfortable in the car, if it is hot weather the air-conditioner is on, if cold then the heater.

When they return to their homes, there is warmth, and coolness as goes the season. In this way little by little they loose awareness of the rhythm of the seasons. All the year around vegetables, fruits, and flowers are available on the market. They are grown in other climates, without bothering to think about their production or even where they come from and how. Some believe progress has transformed the earth into a sort of machine, always ready to turn out what they expect to find, morning and evening, on their plates and as centerpieces for the dinner table.

Really when it is analyzed our gardens, and fields dominates our reality. When we deprive ourselves of the yielding of the good earth, and even having a part in its yield we are robbing ourselves of a very rich heritage. Parents and older people should teach children about the earth and its fruitation. The turning of the soil, the planting of the seeds, the growing of the plants, and their fruit bearing process, or perhaps root growths. It is a proven philosophy that in contact with nature man learns to think clearly, and will become a better man.

Fernand Leguenne a noted Frenchman, who suffered much during World War I, and did not have food to eat, and had to make believe that they had a garden, by drawing pictures of vegetables, and placing them in rows in the garden, has written a book, "My Friend The Garden." The book is most interesting and I want to share his description of vegetables with you. It follows:

"Look at those carrots, bunches of thick fingers, so orange red. And Oh! LOOK at the bourgeois pumpkin bursting with health, these turnips the Virtues, with white bellies like fat monks, and so white. The Marvelous tomatoes with sides bursting with laughter. And here they are the longed for egg-plant and the famous summer squash, yellow, saffron yellow glowing." His great love for gardening was started within him when just a small lad during World War I. At school there was no food so he chewed on a small piece of candle to mask the grumblings of his stomach.

An old man, who was a neighbor pushed aside the war's rubble, and spaded a small plot of ground and planted a garden. Soon there was food — yes only a little for each person as the seeds were so scarce for planting. Fernand never forgot this miracle of life in the midst of want and war in his loved country. The old man taught him how to spade and till the soil, and from that time he became an avid gardener, all of which increased his knowledge of nature and increased his yearning for poetic beauty and learning.

Think on these things. THINK as a person with responsibilities. Have you ever taught a child the wonders of the soil. What do you know about IT?

What can be done as a homeowner or a tenant?

1. Look with fresh eyes at your surroundings. Is it pleasingly attractive? Is it free of LITTER. Ask yourself this question, if every one's place was like mine what kind of town would we have?

2. Remove all unsightly litter and cut weeds not only from your own premises but also from the street and curb, in front of your home and business. Check the alley, cut weeds and grasses, rake and dispose of all trash in a proper recepetacle. If you are traveling use a LITTER BAG in your car or boat When you stop to eat at a drive in, or picnic area do NOT throw the waste paper and other waste on the ground. See that they are placed in a receptacle, which is provided at such places. (Some of the litter around out drive-ins here in Hereford is most unsightly and there is so much carelessness on the part of patrons.)

3. Keep grass out, feed and mulch, maintain your yard in top condition.

Grow a few vegetables. Tomatoes are pretty mixed in with the flowers.

Carrots also make good border plantings, also beets.

4. Share extra plants, cut flowers, and vegetables with your neighbors, perhaps next year they want to grow some too.

5. If you do not have a yard or plot to grow things in, then use window boxes or patio boxes. Large pots can also be used. Last week while in a neighboring city I noticed some potted ever-greens at a filling station, they move them from place to place and they add to the attractiveness of their business. Some of these times I will stop and buy some gas, and compliment them on the attractiveness and cleanliness of their business.

6. Involve your children, husband and neighbor's children in your gardening and cleaning activities. It is catching. Not only will they learn something, but it will keep them busy and out of mischief for a time.

7. Make a game of it, have fun, and surprises will be yours, when you really learn to Like Your Friend, Your Garden.

I couldn't begin to evaluate the good that Art and and I derive from our garden. Most of our evening meals are composed of vegetables from the vegetable garden, and homegrown ones are really delicious.

HINTS: Check roses for black spot and mildew. Remove diseased parts and spray or dust with a reputable insectcide.

Keep the flowers well groomed. Remove all old blossoms and unattractive stems or sprays.

Have you seen? The yellow chrysanthemums blooming at the Viegel home?

There is a very attractive planting of white dahlias at the home on the corner of Jackson St. and 7th.

The crepe myrtles are very pretty in town now. The fushia colored ones and the pinks are lovely together. There is a pretty bush at the New home on Miles and 9th.

Gardens: Mans Effort To Improve Himself.

Former Resident Killed In Crash

Bud W. Lambert of Wichita, Kan., former Hereford resident and nephew of Clay Angelo of this city, was one of 82 persons killed in the crash of a huge airliner July 19 near Hendersonville, N. C.

A vice president of the Seavey-Flarsheim Food Brokerage Co., a distributor for Stokely Van Camp products, Lambert was only one of three persons identified at the scene.

A resident of Hereford for about two years when he was very young, Lambert also is survived by his wife, two sons, a sister and his parents. He was 46.

Mr. and Mrs. Angelo returned home Monday after having gone to the scene of the crash last week and attending services.

PROUD OF PURE WILDNESS

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — West Kentucky's Land Between the Lakes Recreation Area boasts "the only remaining flock of true wild turkeys in the United States," claims Harry Towles of the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Resources Department.

These birds are direct descendents of the turkeys that were around at he time of the Pilgrims, he says.

All other so-called wild turkeys, while sharing a common ancestry with their West Kentucky cousins, Towles asserts, have crossed blood-lines with domesticated birds since the days of the Pilgrims.

Construction Up In Spring, State Report Indicates

A report issued by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas at Austin indicates that Texas construction in May of this year was at the Index level of 163.9, the third highest level on record for the index.

Figures for the City of Hereford indicates total May construction of $290,300, bringing the total up to May 31 to $1,439,400. Statistics indicated that 50 new dwelling units, valued at $878,600, were constructed during the first five months of the year. Permits for 13 homes were issued in May.

Only in December 1965 (167.5) and in August 1965 (183.6) did the index exceed the May 1967 value.

High interest rates on home loans have been the major contributing factor to the lag in new home construction in Texas and elsewhere, says the U. S. Department of Commerce. It is anticipated that rates will either remain steady or decline slightly.

Price Favors Retroactive Increase

Rep. Bob Price and thirty other first-term Republican Congressmen introduced legislation Thursday for a retroactive increase in Social Security benefits.

The Panhandle Congressman said that the retroactive payment and increased benefits can be made without increasing Social Security tax rates.

According to Price, the Social Security Trust Fund was large enough on January 1, 1967 to finance an across-the-board increase of 8%. He added that the fund has grown larger now and that an even bigger retroactive payment and increase in benefits may now be possible.

The freshmen House members declared that the retroactive increase is needed to offset the continuing rise in the cost of living.

Price said he believed it was the responsibility of Congress to act swiftly since the President has failed to assign a priority to legislation which would permanently raise Social Security benefits.

In a joint statement the freshmen Republicans said. "Twenty-two million Americans today depend upon their Social Security payments to provide for their daily needs. Each day continuing inflation and a lack of White House leadership combine to rob these Americans on fixed incomes of their purchasing power."

TALKED AWAY MILKMEN

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The milkman is slowly becoming a thing of the past in the Pittsburgh area.

Why? The Greater Pittsburgh Dairy Industry Association says more and more people are buying their milk from supermarkets and because milkmen must "take terrific ear beatings from housewives."
