Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

Saturday is the last day for candidates for county, precinct and districts of one county to file their applications to get on the ballot for the Democratic primary. The county committee will meet on Monday to adopt assessments against the candidates for the expenses of the primary and to make up the ticket.

As has been pointed out before the costs of the primary are assessed against the candidates for county and precinct offices, candidates for state and district offices paying only nominal assessments. And as there are comparatively few candidates for county office in Wichita county the assessments will be higher than is usually the case.

On the whole we would have a short ballot for the Democratic primary if it were not for the numerous candidates for governor. There are 14 candidates of record, although it is certain several will announce their withdrawal before time to print the ballots.

Think of the trouble and work these many candidates for governor will cause to county committees, printers, election officials and to newspapers.

Fire hydrants in Wichita Falls are being painted yellow so that they may be easily seen, more especially at night. Fences and buildings at the municipal airports are also to be painted in the same color, it is announced. There is no doubt that the yellow paint makes the fire hydrants stick out like a sore toe. But the effect is not so bad and if the paint is renewed occasionally we will get used to the color and come to like it.

Walter D. Cline is elected imperial outer guard at the Shrine at the imperial council at Toronto. Mr. Cline was put into the race by his friends in a number of temples in the United States and Canada. Usually candidates for this place have to offer several years before they are elected, but Mr. Cline's friends conducted his campaign with such zeal that he was not only elected the first year his candidacy was offered but his election was made unanimous on the first ballot.

Maskat temple's delegation at the Shrine council are doubtless having a big time. Although Toronto is not the largest city in Canada it is its financial capital being to Canada in the matter of finances somewhat like New York is to the United States. The financial district of Toronto is filled with great buildings occupied by banks and investment houses and on many a door and window is the name of a Scotsman.

A number of Wichita Falls Shriners attending the council will continue up the St. Lawrence to Montreal and Quebec and thence across to Boston and New York, and perhaps some of them will make an investigation of the workings of Canadian system of handling the liquor traffic. Of course such investigations will be made solely for the acquirement of knowledge.

This is the day of the double jinx Friday the 13th. There are a lot of folks who will do as little as they can today because they fear the day is ill omened. There are others who will defy superstitution and be unusually active and venturesome. Talker believes the day will be one of good luck to those who do and are venturesome and one of bad luck for these who are afraid to do anything. Most days are that way.

Now that the appropriation for Wichita Falls new federal building has been made, the selection of the site becomes a matter of immediate interest. As Talker understands it, three sites are offered, one at Seventh and Lamar, one at Seventh and Travis and one at Tenth and Lamar. The government ought to be and is interested in selecting the site that will best serve the purpose. Those who make the selection will doubtless be glad to learn what the people think and to hear the advantage and disadvantages of each site offered. The columns of this paper are open for the discussion of these proposed sites.

'BLACK UHLAN' TAKES CROWN BY ACCIDENT

Boston ex-Sailor Soundly Beats German Until Striking Low

REFEREE HESITANT

James Crowley Ends Mill While Gigantic Mob Howls 'Foul!'

By DAMON RUNYON

(Copyr., 1930, by Universal Service, Inc.)

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW York, June 12.—Max Schmeling, the German, called "The Black Uhlan of the Rhine," won the heavyweight championship of the world from Jack Sharkey, of Boston, Mass., in the great New York free milk spectacle at the Yankee stadium tonight in the fourth round on a foul.

It was a wild swinging left hook delivered by Sharkey within five seconds of the bell, and landed so far down on Schmeling's purple trunks that it was clearly visible to most of the crowd of 75,000 assembled in the stadium.

However, it was undoubtedly accidental. Sharkey was easily outboxing the German, and had won every round, though the flat-nosed, dark-browned German kept shuffling in awkwardly, but relentlessly at the ex-sailor. He took many a solid smack on the chin in the four rounds, and his return fire had scarcely ruffled the thinning hair of the burly man from Boston.

Crowley Sees Blow

James Crowley was the referee. He is one of the New York Athletic commission's veterans, a slight built, nimble man. Sharkey's back was turned to Crowley as the punch was delivered, but Crowley said he saw the blow and in his opinion it was a foul. Anyway, it happened directly in front of Harold Barnes, one of the judges, and he had no hesitancy in pronouncing it foul.

As Schmeling fell, clutching both hands to his groin, Sharkey quickly went to a neutral corner and stood glowering. Schmeling had been half leaping in the air when Sharkey let fly with the hook and that probably helped to make it fall low. Schmeling stood upright for a couple of seconds after receiving the punch, then slowly keeled over, his face drawn in apparent agony.

Referee Hesitates

Crowley stood hesitant an instant, then went over and consulted Barnes. Next he interviewed Charles S. Mathison, the other judge, who said he didn't see it. Then the bell rang, and the seconds of both fighters piled into the ring. Joe Jacobs, Max Machon and Doc Casey ran over and picked Schmeling up and carried him to his cor-

Alarm for Health Of Duchess of York Felt

LONDON, June 12. (US)—Grave alarm is felt today for the health of the Duchess of York, who is awaiting this week an event upon which all England hangs expectantly.

Britain's most famous gynecologists are attending her, and they fear the consequences of what is now recognized as a delayed birth.

Intimate Buckingham palace circles are worried lest, for the third time, Britain may be disappointed in having a "male heir presumptive."

Unless the Prince of Wales marries and has male issue, the Duke of York is now heir apparent to the throne, and his four-year-old daughter, baby Princess Elizabeth, is heir presumptive.

Texas Crop Conditions 'Spotted' During May

AUSTIN, June 12. (AP)—Texas crop conditions during May were spotted, according to the June 1 report of Carl H. Robinson, United States department of agriculture statistician, released today.

Rains over the western part of the state were favorable, but high drying winds in the Northwest rapidly depleted the moisture supply and more rain is needed, Robinson said.

Cattle Raisers Honor Founders of Association

Pioneers of the Texas ranges were honored at Graham Thursday when members of the executive committee of the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers' association dedicated a tablet to the founders of the organization beneath the same giant oak which sheltered their fathers of years ago. In the upper left corner of the group of pictures the tablet is shown. Beside it stand J. W. Loving, Jermyn; J. A. Matthews, Albany, and T. D. Hobart, president, of Pampa, all three old-timers and leaders in the organization. Sitting cowboy-wise over their barbecued beef, served after the dedication are R. T. Whitsitt, C. C. Hanna and Ed Smith, all of Jacksboro; W. M. Graham, Matador; A. B. Echols, Matador, and Dolph Briscoe, Uvalde. Groups of the committee members surrounding the tree and its marker are shown in the lower pictures.

T. R. Glass Files $58,200 Suit on Basis of Embezzlement Charges

Wichitan, Acquitted in Court, Asks Damages; Charges Price Of Ice Controlled Here by Agreement

The charge that the three ice companies in Wichita Falls have been operating under agreements by which they could control the price of ice in order to keep it at a high rate was made here Thursday in a suit filed in the 78th district court against the Louisiana Ice and Utilities, Inc., and Arthur C. Rayzor by T. R. Glass, on a claim to damages aggregating $58,200 growing out of charges of embezzlement brought against Glass by the Louisiana company.

Mr. Glass has been prominent in civic life of Wichita Falls, and in his trial on the embezzlement charge several months ago, was acquitted by an instructed verdict of the court. Two other charges against him were dismissed.

Employed as Auditor

In revealing the alleged activities of the ice companies, Mr. Glass in his petition explained that he had full knowledge of the companies' business dealings and claimed that the embezzlement charges were brought against him by officials of the Louisiana company in an effort to convict him and lead to discrediting of any testimony he might give to state officials concerning the alleged monopoly here.

The petition states the People's Ice company here is "controlled by the officials and agents" of the Louisiana company.

Glass was employed from 1926 until March, 1929, as district auditor for the Texas district of the corporation. His petition states that in 1929 he was informed his services would no longer be needed since the work done in his office was not sufficient to justify the salary he was receiving. At some later time another auditor came in and investigated the records, his audit re-

ICE COMPANIES DENY CHARGES

Company Heads Give Views on Glass' Claim

Charges of price fixing to maintain a high price for ice in Wichita Falls, made in a petition filed in the 78th district court Thursday by T. R. Glass, were flatly and emphatically denied Thursday night by the heads of two of the three ice companies involved.

T. C. Scott, manager of the Peoples Ice company, in a statement to The Record News said:

Prefers Court Trial

"The allegations made by Mr. Glass are ridiculous and absurd. We are not disposed to pay out money to prevent unwarranted charges, such as these, and we prefer to try this case in court where it is filed."

R. J. Irvine, vice president and general manager of the Wichita Ice company, said:

"The ice companies here have always worked together, of course; but only as competitors in any other business would and should do. Our tendency here, in fact, has been toward a reduction in price, rather than toward keeping the price high. The rate in Wichita Falls at the present time is lower than that of many other Texas cities, and in line with the rates of most cities in the state the size of Wichita Falls, and lower than a great number of Oklahoma cities.

Purchase Explained

"Concerning the allegation that the ice companies made an agreement to buy surplus ice from the New Ice company in order to prevent them from delivering, that agreement was nothing more than a purchase contract with Will McKemie by which he could dispose of the ice he had left over from sales and was not intended in any such light as that in which Mr. Glass' petition presents it."

Will McKemie, president of the New Ice company, was reported ill at his home Thursday night and could not be reached by The Record News for a statement.

Early Day Cowmen Paid Tribute In Dedication of Tablet at Graham

Executive Committee of Raisers Association Votes Support of Tariff Bill in Session

By MARJORIE MATHIS
The Record News Staff

GRAHAM, Texas, June 12.—Through the streets of Graham Thursday lounged tall, rangy men, weather-beaten in spite of their sombreros, assembled from the cattle lands of Texas and the Southwest to pay tribute to the pioneers of the ranges who 53 years ago first organized for the protection of their lands and their herds.

Members of the executive committee of the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers' association met first to vote their unanimous endorsement of the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill, then moved in a body to the foot of the old oak tree beneath which their fathers formed the nucleus of the organization on Feb. 15, 1877. There they dedicated a tablet which bears the names of the association's first officers, and heard again the story and the valor of the men who preceded them to the spot.

Temporary Tablet

The tablet, presented by the Graham Chamber of Commerce, is as yet only a temporary memorial, to be replaced later by a permanent monument in stone.

Their business done and the hour of their tribute passed, the group re-assembled at the old salt works on Salt creek, where presently their voices were raised in the same cowboy yells the pioneers bequeathed them as 400 pounds of barbecued beef and 200 gallons of black coffee went the rounds.

The quarterly meeting of the executive committee was called to order at 10 o'clock Thursday morning by President F. D. Hobart, of Pampa. The group of 139 cattlemen, representing ranches from the Gulf to the Panhandle, were welcomed in an address from Mayor A. B. Eddleman.

First Minutes Read

The minutes of the first meeting of the organization, held a few blocks away in 1877, were re-read and the purposes of the association pledged anew. James Callan, Menard, honorary vice president, delivered a memorial address honoring Ed C. Lassator, Falfurrias; Al McFadden, Corpus Christi, past presidents, and Louis Farr, San Angelo, claimed by death since the last meeting of the association.

TARIFF BILL SURE TO PASS

Senator Reed Assures Victory for Measure

BY FRASER EDWARDS

WASHINGTON, June 12. (US) — The Hawley-Smoot-Grundy billion dollar tariff bill will become a law by the end of next wek.

The senate will approve the measure a few minutes after 2 o'clock tomorrow, with 49 senators either voting for or "paired" for the bill and 47 senators voting against or "paired" against it.

The house will take the final legislative action on the bill Saturday by approving the conference reports by an overwhelming vote.

President Hoover will sign the measure sometime next week, after a careful study of the rates and administrative provisions.

All of the foregoing was conclusively forecast in the senate today when Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania, who held the deciding vote, took the floor and said:

"Mr. President, I expect to vote in favor of the conference report."

That statement not only removed all doubt about the result in the senate, but it was accepted as con-

MOTHER'S CAR CRUSHES LIFE FROM CHILD, 3

Infant Daughter of District Attorney Falls Under Machine

WOMAN IS STRICKEN

Mrs. Spence Collapses as Accident Takes Away Only Baby

Toy Spence, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam B. Spence, 2210 Taylor street, was instantly killed about 7 o'clock Thursday evening when she was crushed beneath the wheels of her mother's automobile after falling out of the back seat of the car as Mrs. Spence backed out of the drive at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Earle Kuntz, 1902 Tilden street. Mr. Spence is district attorney here.

Ambulances were called at once but the child was already dead. Mrs. Spence was taken to the Wichita General hospital where she was under the care of a physician Thursday night. Mrs. Kuntz, a close friend of the Spence family and the mother of a child about the same age as the dead child, was also reported in a highly nervous state following the tragedy.

The infant was said to have been standing up in the rear seat of the car as Mrs. Spence backed out of the drive. She is believed to have leaned too far out, lost her balance and fallen to the pavement before Mrs. Spence realized she had fallen. The front wheels of the machine passed over the child's body, crushing her before the mother could stop the car.

The body was taken in charge by the Hines mortuary shortly after the tragedy but was transferred to attendants from the Owens-Brumley Funeral home of Burkburnett, who took the body to that city Thursday night. Arrangements for funeral services and interment, which will be in that city, Mrs. Spence's home, will be made Friday. The baby was the Spence's only child.

Mr. Spence is serving his first term as district attorney for this district and is an unopposed candidate for a second term.

Mr. Kuntz, at whose home the tragedy took place, is a Wichita Falls attorney.

Last Rites Said for Head of Printing Firm

Last rites for Frank Humphrey, 40, native of England, who died in a local hospital Tuesday evening, were held from the First Presbyterian church Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock with Rev. N. F. Grafton, pastor, officiating.

The casket was draped with both the British Union Jack and Old Glory which remained there until time for the casket to be lowered. Interment was in Rosemont under the direction of the Merkle Undertaking company.

Mr. Humphrey, at the time of his death, was owner and manager of the Humphrey Printing company. At one time he was an employe of The Times Publishing company.

Active pallbearers were Roy B. Jones, J. H. Allison, Jim Hanks, L. O. Shudde, Voyle N. Armstrong and M. A. Chambers.

Mr. Humphrey is survived by his widow, two sons, Reginald and Bennie, and a daughter, Olive. All the printing firms in the city closed during the funeral services to pay tribute to Mr. Humphrey.

MRS. IDA BROWN

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida Brown, 58, a resident of this city for the past two years who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Perry Holt, 1809 Polk street, at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, were held from the home at 11 o'clock Thursday morning with Rev. E. F. Bohmfalk officiating. Following the services here, the body was taken to Newcastle by the Hines mortuary where services were held at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Brown is survived by her daughter here; two sons, Russell Brown of Newcastle and Walter Brown of Eastland, and a daughter Mrs. J. T. Boase of Burkburnett and 11 grandchildren.

member; J. W. Loving, Jermyn, son of the original secretary, were among the speakers.

A resolution favoring the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill as affording the best protection offered by and tariff proposal and as "more nearly approaching an adequate provision," presented by C. W. Johnson of Graham, was unanimously adopted without discussion. V. V. Parr, manager of the Pitchford ranch, in a brief address which immediately preceded the vote, had indicated opposition to the bill, asserting that the cattlemen would "feel its effect," but no other discussion was offered.

W. P. McFaddin, Beaumont, urged legislation for the eradication of ticks and the horned fly, and pleaded for a higher tariff on hides and beef, adding his endorsement to the Hawley-Smoot resolution.

68 New Members

The association accepted 68 applications for memberships on a rendering of 19,200 cattle, and members of the committee urged the enlistment of still other members for the moral and financial support of the association.

Immediately upon adjournment, the group assembled about the giant oak which stands before the Dolman house, haunt of the pioneer cattleman. There Dr. E. H. Griffen, president of the chamber of commerce, introduced Fred T. Arnold, Graham, son of one of the men who first gathered beneath the tree, who delivered the dedicatory address. J. A. Matthews, Albany, another old-timer, unveiled the tablet which bears the names of C. L. Carter, J. D. Smith, J. C. Loving and F. J. Conner, the original officers.

James Callan, Menard, responded for the association in an address rich with reminiscence and love for the traditions of the old range kings. Chips from the tree were distributed as souvenirs.

Historic Kettle Used

At the barbecue grounds, just west of town, the cowmen drank their coffee from a 200-gallon kettle used more than 50 years ago in the original salt works operated by the Graham family, founders of the city. Some of them stood about the tables, but on the outskirts groups squatted cowboy fashion on their heels, as about a chuck wagon, and it was from these groups that the occasional but lusty yells arose.

Among the leaders of the association in Graham Thursday were T. D. Hobart, Pampa, president; James Callan, Menard, honorary vice president; J. D. Jackson, Alpine; W. E. Connell, Fort Worth, treasurer; E. B. Spiller, Fort Worth, secretary and manager; Tad Moses, Fort Worth, assistant secretary; Dayton Moses, attorney; Dolph Briscoe, Uvalde; A. B. Echols, Matador; Bryant Edwards, Henrietta; A. E. Gates, Laredo; Claude K. McCan, McFaddin; W. P. H. McFaddin, Beaumont, and S. E. McKnight, Sonora.

TARIFF BILL SURE TO PASS

Senator Reed Assures Victory for Measure

clusive evidence that the president will approve the bill, since it represented a decision reached by Reed after conferences with Hoover and Secretary Mellon. Approval by the house is a foregone conclusion.

Immediately after Reed had concluded his speech, in which he denounced the agricultural rates as "unjustifiable" and some of the industrial rates as "unfairly low," Senator Joseph R. Grundy of Pennsylvania, whose position also had been in doubt, announced to newspapermen:

"I intend to vote for the conference report and, if I get an opportunity, I shall make a speech giving my reasons for supporting it."

While Grundy's announcement came as an anti-climax, it elated the Democrats and Progressives who have dubbed the measure the "Grundy bill." Strong pressure was brought to bear on Grundy to have him vote against the bill so as to remove the stigma, which will furnish opponents of the measure with campaign thunder.

So, despite the fact that Grundy's announcement came as an anti-climax, his decision came as more of a surprise than did Reed's and although the decision of the two Pennsylvania senators must have come as a relief to Senator Smoot, of Utah, the severe criticism heaped upon the bill by Reed was apparently displeasing to him.

For, immediately after Reed had finished assault upon the bill, Smoot took the floor and urged senators and the country "not to take too seriously what is being said about this bill." Reed declared the 1922 bill was far superior to the present measure and Smoot rejoined that "what is being said against this bill cannot be compared with what was said about the bill of 1922."

The rather dramatic announcement of Reed followed the attack of Senator George W. Norris, veteran insurgent leader, who characterized the bill as a "hideous monstrosity" which would increase the cost of living, lay heavy tax burdens upon the farmers, the poor and the weak, while fattening the pocket books of big business.

SEAMEN RECITE CRASH STORY

Mystery S. O. S. Call Center Of Questioning

BOSTON, June 12. (AP)—The circumstances surrounding the mystery call for help sent from the liner Fairfax immediately after its collision with the tanker Pinthis last Tuesday night but never received by any other station were explored today at the opening of the the federal inquiry into the disaster which to date has cost 47 lives.

Three Fairfax officers including Capt. Archibald Brooks testified concerning the S. O. S. The captain told of having ordered it sent. Eugene W. Neff, assistant radio operator, who rushed from his cabin to the bridge at the impact, swore he had received it from Brooks. J. W. Gewekin, chief operator, told Captain Charles M. Lyons and Inspector John Stewart, United States steamboat inspectors who are conducting the hearing, that he sent it. In addition, Neff said he heard Gewekin send the message.

Whether the radio antennae was actually in working order when the message was supposedly dispatched, neither Gewekin nor Neff could say.

Practically all of the Fairfax's officers were heard during the day. One by one they told what they knew of the events that succeeded the moment in which the Chesleabound tanker had loomed across the bows of the Fairfax in a fog which all agreed was "very dense."

Captain Brooks admitted the Fairfax was steaming at 11 knots. He estmated the tanker was then 300 feet distant. First Officer James Junseley thought the other vessel was 150 feet away while Joseph Brito, lookout, said it was between 70 and 90 feet distant. All swore that they had heard no whistles preceding the crash except that of a nearby whistling buoy and except a single blast of the tanker itself, a second before the impact.

They told of the ghastly explosion which followed as the tanker, laden with 12,000 barrels of gasoline, burst into flames from stem to stern before it plunged beneath the waves with every member of its crew of 19 men.

In describing the next half hour, every officer from captain down declared that contrary to published stories of panic and disorder, there had been nothing but calmness on the part of the passengers and strict discipline on that of the crew.

The bodies of only four of the Fairfax' passengers who lost their lives remained unrecovered. These were: Mrs. Lucille Mulvanity, wife of Lieut. Augusto O. Mulvanity, U. S. N., of 63 Bridge street, Howard, N. Rose, a Harvard law student of Cincinnati; Miss Catherine Gardner of Medford, formerly of Winston-Salem, N. C., and Dr. William J. Meagher of Milton.

Two cities and 27 municipalities go to make London, which stretches more than 15 miles in every direction. This city has an assessment value of more than $325,000,000, an area of 700 square miles and a population of more than 7,652,000.

Hoover Welcomes Brazil's President

WASHINGTON, June 12. (UP)—President Hoover and President-elect Julio Prestes of Brazil exchanged formal calls here today, opening a round of official functions for the Brazilian official, who is returning the visit President Hoover paid his country in December, 1928.

Dr. Prestes drove to the White House at 10 a. m. and was presented to President Hoover in the blue room of the executive mansion by Brazilian Ambassador Amaral. The president and Secretary of State Simson conversed with them for 10 minutes, after which Dr. Prestes returned to the home of Eugene Meyer Jr., where he is staying while here.

Hoover left the White House at 10:30 to return the call, riding out to the Meyer home in a White House automobile with his military and naval aides.

Dan Cupid Delights Society With Nuptial Announcement

June, the month of flowers and weddings, reached the height of beauty, Thursday morning when Mrs. W. H. Peckham entertained at breakfast at the country club honoring Miss Dorothy Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Reed, whose marriage to Robert W. Peckham, son of Mrs. G. W. Peckham, will be an event of June 25.

A bevy of beautifully gowned women had their places at the long table where a center basket filled with masses of rose gladioli, larkspur, shasta daisies and sprays of fern outlined the decorative motif. Sheafs of fern leaves, interspersed with Shasta daisies pointed to the ends of the tables and tall pink candles in creamy yellow holders tied with fluffy bows of green tulle, completed the lovely summer ensemble.

At each place were tiny golden bonbon boxes with silken tassels in different pastel shades and in the nest of varicolored candies, inside, lay tiny parchment rolls, tied with contrasting ribbons, bearing the names and date, "Dorothy and Hob, June 25, 1930."

A lovely white satin bride's book marked the honoree's place and the green crystal service used, completed the details of a perfect summer breakfast. The sun room where breakfast was served was like a June garden. The mantel was banked with spring flowers and pink tapers stood among them. At the entrance doors, enormous silver and blue baskets stood filled with gladioli and brown-eyed susans and summer flowers hid the logs in the great fireplace. Bowls of blossoms were on the tables and baskets of blossoms before the windows. Pretty faces and flower-like dresses were central decorations.

Beside the place laid for Miss Reed, who is one of the most popular girls in the city, places were marked for Misses Isabel Stone, Mary Peters, Dolores Peavy, Laura Lee Hampshire, Juanita Kinsey, Mary Tancred, Jane Moore, Ruth Moore, Beatrice Ramsdell, Mabelle Moore, Constance Temple, Reva Rae Brown; Mesdames Woodard Bass, M. Adams, G. W. Peckham, C. M. Reed and the hostess, Mrs. W. H. Peckham.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

An excerpt from a little New York town paper gave a professor's experience with economical progress. He told how when there were two telephone companies in the town and each barely subsisted, they decided to merge and save expense; they did so, and where he had been getting his phone for $1.50, he began to get it for $2.50. After awhile, the company decided to save money on girls and put on the dial system and he paid $3 per month. The rate had just been raised to $4.30 and he was wondering just what new economy the company had installed to raise the price of service.

And so it goes. With cotton in the raw product selling at a low price, cotton goods keep on rising. And you simply cannot find the pretty quality of cotton hose you could purchase 20 years ago. (Of course not many of our readers remember that far back.)

We understand hides do not bring an excessive price, but oh, the shoes! One nice thing about heaven is that women will not have to worry about shoes and stockings for the family.

Since grocery stores have spread into chains where people serve themselves—surely an economy—groceries have gone steadily up. Make no mistake about this; women are criticized for extravagance, but watch them when there are household bargains on sale. We have seen them standing before store doors crowded as far as the curb, waiting for those doors to open at 9 o'clock.

With bobbing, there was much less hair to take care of, yet it costs more than three times as much to take care of it. But the average shorthaired woman's profile demands a permanent.

Rambling round the streets of Wichita Falls is an old buggy; it has no rubber tires and the horse that draws it shows all his ribs. But we are willing to wager it costs more to keep that vehicle and horse going than it did in its palmy days.

Yes, it costs more to live. But there is so much more to life than there was in the old times.

Love and hate and happiness and sorrow are still the primeval feelings that even the seemingly cynical youngster of 1930 feels. We do not mean more in feeling. But science has each year, given the world something new. Discoveries have enriched life. Why should we complain at comparison? (Except that we want a new sort of hose discovered.)

We are not living a pioneer's existence now. The pioneer deserves and has his palm—and her palm.

To us is given the opportunity to squeeze all the pleasure from life; the pleasure of giving as much as of getting. And if we lost life's light in worrying over tomorrow or grieving over a comparison with yesterday, we are throwing away our own birthright.

Wise Wife Never Tells Hubby Other Women Love Him

Shall a Wife Tell Her Husband of Another Woman's Admiration for Him?—Shall the Battle-Scarred Soldier of Fortune Marry a Young Girl?

Dear Miss Dix—Last night I heard a woman say to her husband: "I do believe Mary is in love with you." Don't you think it a mistake for her to have said such a thing, even if it were true? Do you think a wife should pay compliments to her husband? I think men are vain enough as it is. I have often wanted to tell my husband something nice about himself, but I have kept silent for fear of making him conceited. —BUBBLES.

Answer: I agree with you that a woman is an utter idiot who tells her husband that some other woman is in love with him. Great is the power of suggestion, and there is no other way in which a man can so easily be turned into a philanderer as to be told that he has a fatal fascination for some woman.

He may never have noticed her before, but to find out that he has charmed her immediately rouses his interest in her, and he would be more than human if he didn't begin experimenting to find out how deep an impression he had made upon her. Also, it would create a sentimental interest in him for her, because we all just naturally admire the people who admire us and regard them as having superior intelligence and taste. Nothing is truer than the old saying that love begets love.

Part of the tragedy of the jealous wife is that she brings her misfortune down upon her own head by this power of suggestion. For in always accusing her husband of being unfaithful to her and having affairs with other women she makes him believe that he is such a sheik that no woman can resist him, and this sends him forth to try out his charms upon every female he meets.

A wise wife never tells her husband how much other women admire him, but she gets out the cymbals and beats upon them in celebrating her own good opinion of him. I want to warn you that if you refrain from praising your husband you are making a fatal mistake and opening the door for some lady with honey on her tongue. For men have an insatible sweet tooth, and if their wives will not feed them taffy they will find one who will.

Did you ever really ask yourself why your husband married you? Did you ever consider what one thing induced him to forfeit his personal liberty and assume your board bill and shopping ticket for life? It was because he thought he had found in you a perpetual claque. Some one who admired him above every other man in the world. Some one who thought that he was wise and witty and strong and virile and generous and kind and possessed of all the major and minor virtues.

Well, consider, then, what a blighting disappointment it must be to a man to find out after he has gotten married that instead of his wife giving him the glad hand she gives him nothing but knocks. Consider how let down he must feel when she just takes for granted all that he does for her and never so much as says "thank you." Think how sold out he must feel when she never even gives him a pat on the head when he does well.

Don't you suppose that your husband likes a compliment now just as much as he did before he was married? Don't you suppose that he wants to know that you still think he is handsome and that in any company you consider him the most distinguished-looking man present? Don't you suppose that he wants you to tell him every day, in every way, how you appreciate his generosity and that you go down on your knees thanking heaven for having sent you such a husband?

Believe me, my dear Bubbles, if wives weren't so stingy with their compliments there wouldn't be so many husbands running around looking for women who "understand" them. Why, one of the fundamental necessities of a man is to have some woman to whom he can brag as he could not to another man and who will hand him out fulsome praise by the bucketful. Perhaps men are vain. So are women, for that matter. And this being the case and all of us craving flattery, why not have enough sense to meet the home demand instead of letting it be supplied by a stranger?

The wife who keeps her husband is she who makes the home brew of flattery so strong and potent her husband never craves any other.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—I am an engineer 47 years old. Widower with one child crippled from birth. Have had a hard life. Twenty-five years of war with natives and disease, man and beast, have left their marks upon me. Carry marks of smallpox, love token of a grizzly bear, throat scars from a snow leopard, minus an ear from a poisoned arrow, a bad lip from a shell with the compliments of Von Hindenburg. No ladies' man, but loved and was loved by one woman only—my wife. Came to a small New England place on a job. Met a little girl young enough to be my daughter who has fallen in love with me and wants to marry me. Am fond of her, but not love; that comes to a man like me only once. She insists on marrying me. I need a wife, my child needs a mother, but I am going to South Africa on a job and what about her side of it? Can any love span the gap of a quarter of a century? What about taking her from her ordered, dignified, New England life to a rough mining camp? Is it playing the game to let her marry me? I would sooner try to finish a leopard barehanded than to hurt her even a little —W. B. G.

Answer: Like Desdemona, she loves you for the dangers you have known, and it is easy to see why you have captured her fancy and are the hero of her girlish dreams. Of course, whether you should marry her or not is something that you must settle for yourself, but if your heart is not too deeply buried in your first wife's grave, I should say that such a marriage was likely to bring great happiness to you both, and if it had not all the romance of spring in it for you, you would find that there is still fragrance in an autumnal blooming.

Nor is the marriage so unfair to the girl as you seem to think. To begin with, life in a little village is generally a pretty dull affair. Nor does it offer many sentimental romantic thrills to a girl. Neither does it afford her many opportunities of brilliant marriage. Generally most of the men who have enterprise and ability have left to seek their fortunes in other parts of the world. I have known of many such communities full of pretty and charming and desirable girls, but in which there was scarceely an eligible male.

Certainly men like you, who have been up and down the world and had all sorts of colorful adventures, men of your knowledge and outlook and background, seldom come her way, and so if you do not marry her it is not likely that she will ever have another chance to marry a man who is your equal. She will probably have to marry some stolid farmer or some clerk, whose most thrilling line of conversation will be the price of potatoes and canned goods.

Furthermore, you offer her a far more interesting life than the dull, ordered, drab one she will have if you leave her in her little village where nothing ever happens to a woman except washing on Monday and ironing on Tuesday and cleaning house on Wednesday and baking on Thursday and repeat. Perhaps life in a mining camp may be full of hardships, but it is also full of pep. And don't forget that many of these New England girls are the granddaughters of the old sea captains and have in their blood the love of adventure.

But there's wishing you luck whichever way you decide it.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I am a boy of 20. My girl wants to get married right away, and I think my salary is not big enough for us to live on. Also, I love another girl better than I do her. What should I do? Keep away from her or marry her to keep from breaking her heart?

—KIND-HEARTED BOY.

Answer: Don't be kind-hearted enough to let a girl rush you into marriage before you are ready for it or make you marry her when you love another girl. That is running amiability into the ground. Harden your heart and stiffen your spine and break off with the young lady whe is pursuing you.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Grant Street Class Elects New President

Members of the Grant Street D. O. D. class met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. G. Finger Jeter on the Iowa Park road, and after a business meeting enjoyed a delightful social hour.

Mrs. H. A. Baker was elected president of the class and plans were completed to hold an ice cream supper on the church lawn Friday evening June 20, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Following the social hour, a delicious refreshment plate was served to Mesdames G. N. Walker, Sam Beard, Y. C. Clark, J. S. Counts, O. F. Coleman, W. D. Smithson, S. Myers, Sam Barley, H. A. Baker, E. U. Smith, I. L. Sides, D. A. Janes, and the hostess, Mrs. Finger Jeter.

Grant Street Members To Present Play

Members of the W. M. S. and of the board of stewards of the Grant Street Methodist church are cooperating Friday evening in a play they will put on with talent from the church.

"Cabbage Hill School," is the name of the comedy and the main characters, the school superintendent and the teacher, will be taken by E. U. Smith and Mrs. M. J. Doke.

Mrs. C. N. Thomas is directing the cast and much enjoyment is anticipated. A small admission fee will be charged and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Texas Lutherans Name Missionaries

WACO, Texas, June 12. (AP)—The state board of missions and church extension of the Lutheran church of Texas, Missouri Synod, appointed new men in mission fields in Texas and several pastors for new churches, at a meeting here yesterday.

Pastors appointed to begin work with Texas churches this fall were Rev. T. Borneman, Columbus, Neb., to St. John's Mission church, Galveston; Rev. C. Lueckens, Cleveland, Ohio, to La Pryor church; Rev. E. Rathgaeber, Wichita Falls, to a new church at Corpus Christi; Rev. Andres Lelendez, of Porto Rico, to a new Corpus Christi Mexican mission field.

Teachers for church academies in Texas also were appointed.

New chapels for mission work were ordered built at Plainview and Lubbock.

Population of Delaware Registers Decrease

WILMINGTON, Del., June 12. (AP)—The total population for the state of Delaware anounced today is 236,858, compared with 223,003 in 1920. This is an increase of 13,855, or 6.21 per cent.

Revised figures for Wilmington showed a total of 105,191, compared with 104,941 announced several weeks ago. The 1920 population of Wilmington was 110,158. The loss was 4,967, or 4.5 per cent.

Costly Fish

REED CITY, Mich.—A. L. Wallick, of Columbus, Ohio, and two other fellows were fishing. They caught 101 trout between them, and then the game warden entered the scene. They were only allowed 15 fish each, so they had all the rest of their fish seized and paid fines totaling $202 for violating the fishing laws.

Dainty Frock for Summer
Pattern 1940
By ANNE ADAMS

The summer wardrobe needs frocks that will stand many tubbings. Today's model is just such a frock . . . simple, smart and becoming. The adorable neck with square lines repeated in the joining of the skirt flare and the slight drop of the shoulder replacing sleeves, are features to delight every woman.

Pattern 1940 is enchanting made of one of the season's colorful prints. Pique, dimity, shantung, percale, broadcloth or wash silk might be selected. I suggest the colored braid purchased ready to use, as a smart finish to neck, armholes and skirt joining, and two pert ribbon bows placed as shown in the sketch.

May be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 14 requires 2¾ yards of 39-inch fabric.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

C. E. DELEGATES HOLD CONTESTS

Six Participate in Oratory Preliminaries

the best and most original costume.

The judges for the affair included Harrold F. Lovitt of the Wichita district; W. Roy Breg, Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Hattie Mae Woods, president of the society of Amarillo; Harold Singer of Kansas City, Mo., and F. B. Porter of Fort Worth.

Oratorical Contest

An oratorical contest in which six Intermediate endeavorers participated featured the morning session which opened at 9 o'clock Thursday morning. Those giving orations included Cecil Nelin of Brady, Brownwood district; Franklin Morris, Sherman, Sherman district; Maurine Swinney of Fort Worth, Fort Worth district; Ruth Cox of Plainview, Panhandle district; Mildred Watson of Dallas, Dallas district; and L. D. Herbert of Wichita Falls, Wichita district. Two of this number are to be eliminated in the decision which will be announced Friday and the winning four will compete in a final hearing on Sunday afternoon.

One of the features of the morning session was the address on "Teach Us to Pray" by Rev. Everett B. King, pastor of the Hemphill Presbyterian church at Fort Worth in which Rev. King stressed the fact that "only through Jesus Christ, can God be visualized." He also pointed out that "we learn to pray by praying."

Following study conferences, presided over by Bertha Lee Wood, Mary Crawford, Delia Collins, Fort Worth; Melvin Rosendahl of Rio Hondo; Aldis King, Wichita Falls; Jettie Tadlock, Fort Worth; Mrs. T. Teal, Lubbock; Algene Bale, Alma Rohr, William A. Miller Jr., a luncheon for pastors and directos of religious education was held at the Highland Heights Christian church. Luncheon for the delegates was held at the First Presbyterian church.

Play Presented

The afternoon session was opened with a singsong led by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Shepherd after which a play "Q. E. D." under the direction of Miss Opal Gooden of Fort Worth was presented by members of the Fort Worth society. Those taking part included Miss Gooden, Delta Collins, Cindy Reseing, Philip Stovall, Francis Woolery and Otto Neilsen.

Following the play, the assembly broke up into special conferences which were presided over by Margaret Elise Crocker, Joe Loe, Annette Norma Jenkins of Dallas; Herschel Gipson, C. I. Reid, Jettie Tadlock and Miss Marguerite Hugman. Immediately preceeding the parade, the group assembled in front of the church for a convention picture.

The prizes offered for the various groups and features in the parade and convention were awarded by Mr. Creighton at the meeting Thursday evening.

The principal speaker on Thursday evening's program was Rev. Frank A. Lowe, pastor of the Central Christian church at Wichita, Kan., a recognized leader in Christian Endeavor work among the youth of the nation. The Rev. Mr. Lowe's address was on the subject "Youth's Responsibilities in Making Christ Known to the World."

Seven ways in which the responsibility rests upon youth were outlined in the address.

Responsibility of Youth

"The first is to learn Christ," the speaker said. "Before youth can start a crusade, they must sit at His feet and learn Him.

"Second, youth must love Him. He is the most lovable of all creatures. Before we can love the world, we must first love Christ and must give to Him the homage of our hearts.

"Third, youth must live Him. They must live Christ if they are to win the world to Him. There is no substitute for living Christ.

"Fourth, youth must lift Christ. They must lift Him onto their shoulders and carry Him. Lift Him to the highest place. Paul was right when he referred to Him as 'the highest calling.' Youth must not drag Christ in the dirt just as the flag of our nation must not be so treated.

"Fifth, youth must increasingly laud Him. We must laud Him aloud with our works.

"Sixth, there is the obligation of liberating Him. If you wish to know Jesus you must learn about Him my way. Christ is not tied down by man-made creeds. He is the most free and most fearless leader in the world. The responsibility of making Him known to the world must come through youth, which is unafraid.

"Seventh, youth must take this Christ and lead Him into the presence of men."

The opening singsong at the program Thursday evening was led by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Shepherd. Otto Nelson presided at the session. The Scripture lesson was led by Miss Inez Herring of the Central Christian church at Vernon. Prayer was offered by Rev. J. M. Perry, pastor of the Central Christian church at Vernon.

Presentation of banners to the churches with the largest quotas were made as follows: First, Ray Community; second, First Presbyterian church of Iowa Park; third, East Side Presbyterian church of Wichita Falls; fourth, First Christian church of Wichita Falls.

The pageant given throughout the nation in connection with Christian Endeavor work, "When Youth Crusades With Christ," was presented at Thursday evening's meeting with 35 Wichita Falls Endeavorers in the cast. The pageant was directed by Mrs. R. P. Willis.

Friday morning's session will be featured by a sharpshooting contest in which the Intermediates and Juniors will participate after which the denominational conferences will be held. Rev. Mr. King will talk on "Christian Endeavor's Allegiance to the Church" and at the Friday evening meeting, Mrs. Hugh Purnell will talk on "What the Crusade Means to the Juniors." Stops Pain Without Deadening Nerves

Of course you want immediate relief from pain, but why use strong drugs that deaden your nerves? Capudine relieves headaches, neuralgia, etc., just as quickly and soothes the nerves.

Capudine acts at once because it is liquid. Solid remedies are slower; your system must first dissolve before absorbing them.

When in pain take two teaspoonfuls of Capudine in water. You will be delighted with the speedy relief. Thousands keep a bottle of Capudine always handy at home and at their place of business. Why not follow this wise example and avoid suffering? All drug stores in single doses, and 10c, 30c and 60c bottles.—Adv.

BORGER TAKES MATURE WAYS

Erstwhile 'Bad Town' Now Industrial Center

BORGER, Texas, June 12. (UP)—Borger, the two-gun rough and tumble oil boom of West Texas whose lawless element was curbed by militiamen last fall following the assassination of a district attorney, now has become a peaceful city, the world's largest carbon black producing center.

Borger, the gateway to one of the largest oil fields in the country, was placed under martial law by Gov. Dan Moody after the bullet-riddled body of John A. Holmes, militant district attorney, was found near his home. He was killed, investigators said, to end his war against the bootleg and narcotic rings which operated throughout the southwestern petroleum belt.

Criminals, gunmen, gamblers and forty-niner dance hall girls who flocked here with the discovery of oil, were given "until sundown" to leave town. City civil officers, many of who were charged with complicity in liquor rings, were ousted and a force of Texas rangers and state troops took complete charge. Borger was purged.

More than 6,500 persons today live along Borger's main street. There are 10,000 more residing within a two-mile radius of here. W. A. Henderson, who sold the first townsite lot here in May, 1926, is mayor.

Eighteen carbon black plants near here produce 320,000,000 pounds of the substance yearly, all but 100,000,000 pounds of the world's total annual output. The prices range from seven to 30 cents a pound. One gas line into Denver is operated from near Borger while another, feeding fuel from Texas to Lincoln, Neb., has been planned. The Phillips Petroleum interests have announced they will lay another gas pipe line from here to Chicago, serving the entire midwest.

Borger, only four years old but over her "growing pains," has taken a place among the industrial cities of Texas.

Testimony Presented In Millsap's Trial

ORANGE, Texas, June 12. (AP)—Johnnie Clemons testified today he found $50, a size 6¾ black hat and a package of cigarets at the scene of the stabbing of Howard Booth, for whose killing Jack and James Millsaps, brothers, were on trial.

Clemons was a state witness as the prosecution sought to establish the theory that the hat belonged to Jack Millsaps. Booth was fatally stabbed on Thanksgiving day near a tourist camp three miles from Beaumont.

The figure was an increase of 32.5 per cent over 1920 when the population was 1,182,911.

Mrs Olhe Walker

Houston Lady's Skin Nice and Clear Now

"My complexion used to show how bad I felt. Now it shows that I am free from those depressing headaches and nervous spells," says Mrs. Ollie Walker, who lives at 2424 Morse St., in Houston.

"I suffered from constipation. I might say all my life. I couldn't throw off the wastes and they gave me headaches, and a very sallow complexion. Ever since I started taking Nature's Remedy, all that is gone. I reckon the real reason is that NR Tablets are so pleasant to take that I continued taking them long enough to get results."

NR Tablets are so effective because they soothe, sweeten and stimulate the stomach and bowels. Then the starch and sugar wastes from the food you eat can't remain in your system to form the acids which sour your stomach, bind your bowels and rob the blood of the red corpuscles it must have plenty of to keep you from losing weight and strength, and from becoming bilious, headachy, dyspeptic and rheumatic. Get a 25c box of NR Tablets at any drug store.—Adv.

'Junk' Paintings Turn Out Rare Dutch Works

KANSAS CITY, Kas., June 12. (AP)—When Mrs. Charles Drennon recently paid $7 express on a box of three old paintings sent her by a sister who was dividing their parents' home treasures, she expressed chagrin at spending so much money for "junk."

George Van Millett, an art expert, visited the Drennon home for dinner. He saw the pictures and decided to clean them up. Today he announced that one of them was a water color by Hermann F. C. Ten Kate, a 19th century Dutch artist, and "easily was worth $1,500."

HURLEY GREETS YOUNG 'LOOIES'

War Secretary Talks to West Pointers

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 12. (UP)—Secretary of War Hurley today welcomed the U. S. Military academy graduating class into commissioned ranks of the army with a speech which he emphasized to the young officers that the army's purpose is not to create militarists.

"It does aim," Hurley said, "to create leaders who will maintain the peace and safety of the nation. Under our national defense policy the leaders of our army are called upon to consider and solve social and economic problems in addition to providing for military defense of the nation and leading the army in time of national emergency.

"To become leaders, you must understand the fundamental principles of the nation to which you belong. The aim of our government is to establish social and economic justice and to maintain equality of opportunity, to promote education, tolerance and prosperity and to abolish poverty and crime, and advance the cause of peace and goodwill.

"The American who understands the aspirations of his country has always had an aversion to all attempts toward obtaining these ends by use of force."

IOWANS SPLIT ON M'NIDER

Brookhart and Steck in Disagreement

WASHINGTON, June 12. (INS)—The two Iowa senators are split over the nomination of Hanford MacNider, also of Iowa, to be minister to Canada. Senator Brookhart, Republican, succeeded in having the foreign relations committee report MacNider to the senate "without recommendation." He told the committee he opposes MacNider on "personal grounds."

Meanwhile Senator Steck, Democrat, announced today he will lend all his support to have the senate confirm the nominee. Some senators believe Brookhart's opposition and the committee's declination to recommend him, may prevent his nomination being called for a vote at this session.

The differences between Brookhart and MacNider date back to 1924 when the senator-claimed MacNider, although a Republican, headed the fight against him when Steck contested Brookhart's election and was seated. Brookhart was electde two years later.

Two-Story Homes Best in Wartime

LOS ANGELES, June 12. (US)—Build your home at least two stories in height and you'll stand a better chance of emerging a non-casualty from the next war.

Strange as that statement may seem, no less an authority than Maj. Gen. Harry L. Gilchrist, chief of the United States army chemical warfare service, will back it.

The statement was made, not in relation to the fighting man at the the front, but to the men, women and children at home in cities during war times.

"In the next war, cities doubtlessly will be the object of gas attacks from the air," said General Gilchrist, who arrived today from Washington. "If residents will go to the second floors of their homes, close the windows, gas, no matter how poisonous, will have no effect."

This, it was explained, is because no gas can reach a concentration point higher than 30 feet, and whereas it might be dangerous to remain on the lower floor, those who would simply walk up a flight of stairs would be safe.

A Million a Year England's Promises Sleeping Through Life Egotistical Sir James

By EMILE GAUVREAU

Stockholders of Bethlehem Steel are protesting because Mr. Eugene G. Grace receives more than $1,000,000 a year in salary. They say that no man, however efficient, can earn that amount. Mr. Adolph Zukor disagrees. So does Mr. Edward A. Filene. Both know what they are talking about and they are right. Even the late Nicholas F. Brady, one of the largest stockholders in the New York Edison company, who said that "no employe of a well-regulated corporation could possibly be worth more than $1,000,000 a year to his firm," changed his mind.

No man gets more than he earns. He might get it for a while, but it never lasts. The great army of workers get less than they earn. A genius like Edison is properly in the billionaire class, if he were paid what his inventions earned. Who, for instance, would deny that Henry Ford is worth a million dollars a year in salary?

A country like England cannot evade its promises or refuse to live up to its obligations. During the early part of the world war, Lord Balfour committed Great Britain to fostering the establishment of a Jewish homeland in Palestine. Now the British colonial office suspends Jewish immigration into the Holy Land. The Jews want to know whether England's promise is another scrap of paper. India wants to know what was meant by the promise of dominion government. England is having her troubles.

Some people have no curiosity about life. Miss Ellen Tully, living in New York for 48 years, says she has never seen the downtown skyscrapers. She has never ridden in the subways. She has never been to a theater or movie. For nearly half a century she has been a maid servant for the same family and she is mightily content. The thought never enters her mind that life might be different from what it is. All the wonders of this wonderful age do not touch her. Many sleep through life, untroubled even by a dream. They have eyes but they only see what they look at. They have ears but are more deaf than adders. They miss much.

In England, Sir James Parr, head of the British Empire Film Institute, attacks American movies as a "menace to British youth." He resents the fact that our films serve to expand our trade and inculcate Americanism. "Nothing," says Sir James, "has affected the whole empire as seriously as having our young people brought up with American ideas, with an attitude that isn't wholesome as regards our future."

Sir James lacks subtlety. Frankness is admirable, but here it reveals narrowness and envy. It betrays the fear of the weak. As his next step, if he is logical, Sir James should recommend the exclusion of American books, American newspapers, American products and achievements in arts and sciences. But, fortunately, this unprogressive, egotistical man does not represent the real British people, who appreciate American energy and imagination.

The life of Fireman Robert Grant is saved by his comrades, who donate 22 pints of their blood. They are preparing a banquet for him on his discharge from the hospital. The day's news of a hard-boiled world never lacks a rich item of nobility and self-sacrifice.

EXTRADITION DELAYED

MEXICO CITY, June 12. (UP)—Deputy Sheriff D. M. Kean left today for Oklahoma City after being informed that extradition of Joy Harper, wanted in Oklahoma, Philadelphia and elsewhere for forgery, will require probably a month. He will return when the legalities are completed.

Viewed From the Stop-Light

SINCE automobiles are apparently more numerous as family possessions in the United States than telephones, one who throws stones at the habits of motorists generally may be cautioned against striking glass walls. A phenomenal reversion to the primordial, however, on the part of far too many drivers raises a spacious target at which even a broadside might be hurled without fear of missing the mark.

Installation of stop lights and stop signs not only has had the effect of controlling motion of automobiles in a general way, but has served in a surprising degree to bring out details of instinctive selfishness and crude discourtesy which most of us would boast of having lost in the "refining fires." Complete disregard of the time-honored rule of "take your turn;" seizure of position by right of being behind the wheel instead of on foot; and brazen reprimand by raucous horn-tooting of those who offend in no way other than properly occupying a part of the right of way are but a few of the daily crop of discourtesies to be witnessed at any light-equipped intersection.

The white stop line on the pavement extends half-way across the street. Allowing room for one car to rank against the curb (where there is no safety zone or fire hydrant) there is still ample space for two—sometimes three—cars to stand abreast on the line awaiting the green light. Yet how many drivers apparently with malice aforethought draw to the line squarely in the middle of the available space, precluding their neighbor's drawing alongside for an equal start when the signal is given. Presumably, this country maintains a right-hand drive system of traffic, by which drivers habitually should keep to the right—but do they? If he intends taking a left turn, why not keep to the left at the line, allowing a straight-ahead or right-turn car also to come abreast, thus expediting rapid traffic movement?

In this same situation, many a driver who imagines a great need for haste comes abreast too far to the left, extending the front line of waiting cars beyond the middle of the street. Clearing of the resulting congestion, particularly if a similar bit of road-hogging had occurred on the opposite side of the intersection, can only impose retarded movement upon every driver near that corner.

Pedestrians often are en route across a street when the caution light comes on, and are still between curbs when the green signal follows. Some drivers are courteous enough to recognize the rights of those on foot to complete their crossing unmolestedly. But many others surge forward impetuously at the first flash of green, or before, forcing the pedestrians to broad-jump for the curb, or dodge backward among other cars which by that time are entitled to go forward.

Which is not all the fault of the front-rank driver who makes the dash. Should he hesitate, waiting for those on foot to reach the curb, he doubtless will be assailed from the rear with a strident chorus of horns, cursing him impatiently for momentarily delaying their advance.

These situations are so common as to require no further use of illustrations; but are so common from the standpoint of public courtesy which is generally practiced as to cause something akin to wonderment. Drivers who assert themselves by dint of powerful motors, loud horns, or thoughtlessness, with such displays of discourtesy would be ostracized at the golf club, in the Rotary club, at the postoffice, or in their places of business with one or two like offenses. As they enter the drug store with friends, they politely step back to accord priority. They plead for the privilege of paying for the drinks. They take pride in granting preferences to ladies. But many of them suffer an unexplainable transformation the moment they settle behind the wheel and step on the starter. Courtesy which has been centuries in the making disappears as he who wields the biggest club and runs on the strongest legs abuses his liberty, often with fiendish grins of unkind delight.

Romance of the Mail

ADVENTURE sometimes comes closer to you than you imagine. Recently, for example, Ray Long, editor of Cosmopolitan Magazine, opened a manila envelope mailed a few days previously in San Francisco by Peter B. Kyne, containing the manuscripts of two stories. When Long drew them out he found them slightly damaged by fire. Noticing that the envelope, also somewhat burned, bore an air mail stamp, he wired National Air Transport for information. Soon he got this reply:

"Accident occurred at 3 a. m. April 26 near Curwensville, Pa. Pilot Henry J. Brown carrying 1,421 pounds mail and express, leaving Cleveland 1:10 a. m. Motor failed to pick up quickly after switching from one gas tank to the other, causing descent into clouds and fog. Pilot jumped at altitude below 1,000 feet over Clearfield mountains, landing safely, but plane burned. Postal Inspector McWin, Williamsport, superintended removal of eight pounds of salvaged mail and ashes."

Those Depraved Chinese!

ANOTHER Chinese killing—the third in two days—marks New York's newest Tong war, and once again we are beginning to wonder if the Chinese are not a sinister, lawless and bloodthirsty race. These Tong wars are always disturbing, even if they are very picturesque.

But before we ascribe any unusual bloodthirstiness to the Chinese, let's consider the fact that their Tong conflicts aren't a tenth as violent or deadly as an ordinary trade disagreement between two 100 per cent American beer gangs. The Chinese underworld lays its victims out three and four at a time; the Tongs' killers can only manage three in two days.

A Tong war is a bad thing, of course, but there's no sense in pretending that it marks the Chinese as an inferior, undesirable race.

WALTER WINCHELL

On Broadway

(Copyright, 1930, Daily Mirror, Inc.)

Anything for a Laugh

"Dear Water Winchell," affectionately writes Retlaw Chellwyn, an admirer. "I just read Variety's final box-score on the New York dramatic critics, as it is laughingly called, and I hasten to say, sir, that I haven't laughed so much since I read your last column. But the theatrical rag's latest blunder, showing how fallible its box-score gag is, after all, amuses me, no end, and I dare you to print this letter! Even money, you don't.

"Of course you won't admit that all of you drama critics are to blame for encouraging the damb thing. Every time any of you happened to be the score's leader, you all immediately rushed into print to show off. This, of course gave Variety, an otherwise shrewd journal, the impression that you fellows took it seriously, so naturally they continued to publish it. How they must chuckle when you all let out a beef.

"But what I started out to inquire is why do you imagine they suddenly dropped you from the score, considering that in the previous three charts starting from the new season, you led it by a wide margin? Surely, Variety is clowning, Walter, when it says that the reason you were omitted from the final score is that you 'pick your spots' and because you review considerably fewer shows than the others. And that while you are barred from certain theaters, it only bars you from some premieres. Some, Welter? What does Variety mean by some?

"I read the names of the shows produced all year in the sheet and I find that you were barred from over 100 of them! What do they mean by some? Naturally you couldn't review plays in theaters from which you've been exiled for nearly two years. Go ahead, Walter, show Variety up, and how unreliable it can be at times. Don't forget, old man, Variety calls itself the 'Bible of the Profession.' I get it! I get it!

"Variety drops you from the final after you've led it all year, because you 'reviewed considerably fewer shows,' eh? According to my files, sir, you reviewed 62 of them, tagging 55 of them correctly, for a percentage of .887, which would have given you second place. How come, Walter, that after dropping you last year in the third-quarter score (after you led the second chart) Variety replaced you in the last year's final? Was it because you only covered 62 shows last year, too—and because you ran third? Take it from me, kid, if you ran last this year Variety certainly would not have omitted you. What's the 'inside'?

"Another few queries, Walter. If Variety dropped you because you only covered 62 shows this year, why does it include Mr. Ruhl, of the Herald Trib, who only covered 48 of them? Oop! Is Variety's face red?

"The paper announces that a show is an 'intermediate success' if a play runs 12 weeks. How come, then, it includes 'Top Speed' under the failures? 'Top Speed' ran for 13 weeks. Oop! again.

"I know that you didn't cover 'Michael and Mary,' but that was the night you got all that coin to broadcast for the Hudson-Essex car. You talked via the ether at 9.30 that night, didn't you, for a mess of jack? I don't blame you for dodging the play. And I know, too, kid, that you couldn't see 'The Last Mile' and other pieces that appeared in theaters controlled by the producers who bar you.

"At any rate, cheer up. From my finding I note that of the 135 failures listed by Variety you were right 35 times and wrong 5 times, and the other 95 shows either barred you or they opened against more important shows the same evening. Of the moderate successes listed in the rag, you were barred from eleven of them and the twelfth also barred you—an Aarons & Freedly piece, "Heads Up." Of the remaining 12 shows you were wrong four times.

"Of the so-called 'smash hits' as described by Variety, you tagged 13 of them on the nose, muffing 'Berkeley Square,' which you said you enjoyed and raved over, but you didn't believe that the mob would go for it. So that makes you a bum critic, see? The other two were produced by the producers who know that you know what you like.

"Another thing, Walter. Did you notice that the winner, Mr. Brown, of the Post, only reviewed 88 shows? Well, that's what Variety credits him with. But I also noticed that Mr. Garland, of the Telegram, reviewed 95. And Mr. Anderson, of the Journal, covered 103 of them and Mr. Mantle 110! ! !

"So considering that the winner, a dandy fellow, only covered 88 when Mr. Garland covered 95, and considering that the winner isn't barred from any shows in New York, which shows, then, did he duck, or what nights did he 'pick his spots'?

"And they bury hatchets, Walter! And they swat flies! And they hit nails on the head! And they beat rugs and whip cream! ! !

"Yes, indeedy, old boy, this is one time Variety made its box-score gag funnier than ever. It's been phoney right along, but now it is louder and phonier. You ought to be glad, though, that they omitted you. Because even if you had led it again, that mob of grumblers would have repeated the timeworn crack: 'Why shouldn't he lead Variety's score? Wasn't he once on their staff? They always get the old Vaudeville News and Sime's sheet a little mixed, you know.

"Keep this in mind, too, big boy. Your final score would have been .887, which is higher than the average combined total of Variety's entire staff, which only made .835. Haw!

"I'm sorry I took up all this space on you, Walter, but it is plenty hot, and I thought you'd welcome a holiday for a change. So thank me."

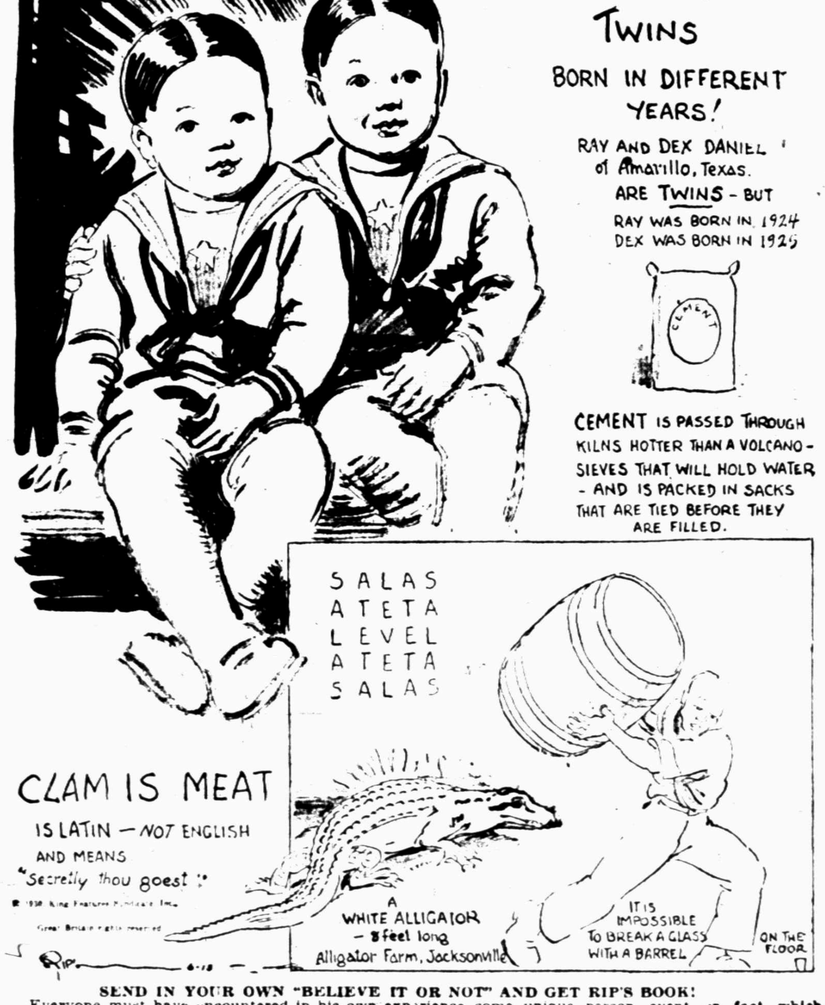

Variety, sir, is the spite of life.

"SHEILA"

Love and Mystery Humor and Tragedy

A Story of Wichita Falls By GORDON TURNER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Frank Sheridan, wealthy young lawyer, whose hobby is solving crime mysteries, is called in by his friend, Joseph Hedley, assistant prosecuting attorney, to find a burglar who has robbed a safe in the home of home of William Oliver Wilber. Hedley is engaged to marry Wilber's daughter, Sheila, whose cousin, Andrew Masters, is a frequent visitor at the Wilber home. A diary of Wilber's wife, now dead, was stolen from the safe. The diary holds a secret of Sheila's birth. Sheridan inserts a $500 reward want-ad in The Record-News for its return. Wilber sees another Record-News want-ad, seeking the whereabouts of a girl secretly adopted 22 years earlier. He reveals to Sheridan that Sheila is being sought by her real mother, of whom Sheila knows nothing. Andy Masters wants to marry Edna Rogers, Sheila's cousin, but is entangled in a love affair with Mercedes Riverton, a stenographer in the office of his friend, Homer Menton, an unprincipled criminal lawyer. Andy has run through much of his money and now, dabbling in the stock market, finds himself facing financial ruin. He appeals to Homer Menton for a $3,000 loan to tide him over. Menton demands security, and Andy turns over stock in his uncle's company. Menton reveals he is in possession of the diary stolen from Wilber's safe. He tells Andy that he, and not Sheila, is Wilber's legal heir. By playing cleverly upon Andy's resentment against his uncle, who once had been his stern guardian, Menton persuades Andy to join him in a conspiracy to blackmail Wilber.

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER XV

Andy was in a cheerful frame of mind when he drove out to the Wilber home that afternoon. He had delivered his Wilber Electric company stock to Menton, had received a receipt for it, signed a note payable after 90 days and had departed with $3,000 in cash. He had made momentary peace with his brokers and possessed enough ready money to carry on for several weeks at least. Untrained in business and possessing little knowledge of values, he did not realize that he had given as security to Menton stock worth at least 10 times the sum he had received as a loan. He had signed the stock certificates in blank, making them readily transferable on the company's books.

He was glowing with gratitude toward Menton and was resolved, despite occasional twinges of conscience, to carry through his compact to assist in the blackmail of his uncle. In the soaring of his spirits he was inclined to feel a bit sorry for the "old man," but Wilber had plenty of money and the loss of a slice of it wouldn't cripple him. A fellow had to look after his own interests in this world . . . His thoughts drifted to Sheila . . . What a queer, almost unbelievable story! And what a hole Wilber was in!

Sheila was a good sport, though inclined to be "uppity." Well, she wouldn't be so "uppity" when all this came out about her. And to think he had a good claim to all of Uncle Bill's money. The idea was almost enough to take one's breath! Oh, he'd be fair to Sheila, he'd see that she good a good share when the blow-off came. That little red book, now. He wished he had made Homer let him look at it. He'd been too excited to think of it at the time. It ought to make rich reading. How did it get into Homer's hands? That's the trouble with Homer, he never tells you all of anything. He always keeps something up his sleeve.

Oh, well, why worry about that, there were other things more pleasant to think about. Mercy, for instance, or Edna . . . Edna . . . he'd rather neglected Edna lately. That wouldn't do. Now, if he married Edna there would be her money, and if Raphana stock went up again he'd get most of his own back and then this wad he and Menton would squeeze out of Uncle Bill, to say nothing of what he had a chance of getting when Unk died! He could marry Edna and still be good friends with Mercy. It was going to be a pretty good old world after all!

Andy was whistling blithely, "I'm Sitting on Top of the World," when he arrived at the Wilber home, but his spirits were dampened by Sheila's greeting.

"Oh, Andy, how could you!" she exclaimed reproachfully.

"Oh, then, Andy, you aren't really going to marry her?" Sheila exclaimed.

"How could I what? Now what have I done?"

"Done! Done? Don't be stupid! Getting yourself engaged to that impossible Riverton girl, what else?"

"Jingling jewsharps!" exclaimed Andy, "your engine's knocking; grind your valves! You oughtn't to believe everything those car salesmen tell you."

"You can't pass it off with wisecracking," persisted Sheila. "Has Miss Riverton entered the automobile business?"

"Huh! What! Did she tell you we were engaged? The little devil!"

"That's the exact way I would describe her myself," retorted Sheila.

"Hold, on, Sheila, that isn't fair. Mercy's not such a bad lot; she just hasn't had advantages; mighty good company and square-shooter."

"Everybody to his taste," said Sheila, tossing her head, "but if I were a man I couldn't see myself marrying her."

"Who's going to marry her?" Andy replied truculently.

"She said you were."

"She was stringing you. Yes, I suppose I did wag a loose tongue when I was out with her the other night, but I don't remember much of what happened after the steenth drink. Mercy says I talked a-plenty about engagement rings and eternal bliss for two, but she's too smart to think she could make it stick even if she wanted to. We had that all out, and she's forgotten all about it. Mercy's a good little sport, but she didn't tell me she'd spilled anything to you. Oh, gabbling grasshoppers! That musta been a vaudeville headliner!"

"Oh, then Andy, you aren't really going to marry her?"

"Forget it! I like Mercy; she's got pep; she's a live baby, but I'm not marrying anybody today. By the way, do you know if Edna is home this afternoon?"

And would have been deeply interested in a conference that was being held that afternoon at Homer Menton's office. In the self-same chair which he had occupied a few hours previously sat the furtive little grey-haired man who had sidled out of the office while he had been talking to Mercy. Mrs. Wilber's little red diary again lay on the desk in front of Menton.

"I sent for you again, Riley," said Menton, "to tell you that I've figured out a way to get that $500 reward for you, but you've got to earn it before you get it."

Riley "Ratface" Morgan's sharp eyes darted quick glances about the room.

"What's the lay, boss?" he asked suspiciously.

"I want you to crack the Wilber crib again," Menton answered.

"Aw, there ain't nothin' there; I dealt meself a cold hand in the first deal. That moll had the wrong dope; she figgered 'cause a guy had a jug it was full o' diamonds."

"What moll?" asked Menton.

"A skirt by the name o' Lena what works at the Wilber joint. I was scoutin' 'round Country Club estates for a easy layout when I picks up this frail at a picture show. I hands her the blarney an' she fall like a flattie for a rumble. I was her peaches and cream. In less'n a week she has the skypilot picked out to hitch us. She cleans up that there nut-house where the coffin is, an' she leaves the window unlocked for me to get in without usin' a jimmy."

"Pretty soft," remarked Menton.

"Yeah, but what's it get me?" growled Riley. "The crib's one Noah had in the ark; yuh coulda sunk it with a can-opener. Yuh don't need no soup or no come-along. Jes' glue yer listener to the front an' get the count. Set the clock and yank the hook. She's as wide open as the big gate at stir ain't, an' no muss."

"An then what?" prodded Menton who had no difficulty in following Riley's underworld argot.

"Nawthin!" Riley spat on the floor in disgust. "Empty as a screw's head! Nothin' but a tin box what might have sparklers in it. I grabs it and lams. Hid it in my diggin's till I read that ad in The Record News an' then brought that there book to you. When do I get the 500 clinkers?"

"When you go back to the Wilber house and pull another job. Listen: You passed up the only valuable thing in the safe. I want you to get it this time and bring it to me."

"Oh, you couldn't cash in on it yourself," Menton added, noting a sudden gleam of greed in Riley's eyes. "It's only valuable to somebody who knows what to do with it. A fence wouldn't give you anything

Tragedies That Might Have Been Averted

The most tragic feature of many drowning accidents every summer is that the victim might have been saved. The presence among those on the scene of one or two persons instructed in how to effect a rescue or how to revive apparently drowned people would have done this.

Such instruction is but one of the sections in the First Aid booklet now available to readers of the Record News, which tells what to do in any accident emergency or case of sudden illness. No more valuable booklet on the subject has ever been issued, because it is authoritative, clear and concise.

A copy should be in every home and in every traveling kit. The need for it may not come often, but when it comes the need will be great.

BECKHAM ROAD IS COMPLETED

Big Celebration to Open Sayre Paving

Special to The Record News

SAYRE, Okla., June 12.—Paving of the last gap in the 31-mile strip of national highway 66 through Beckham county extending from Elk City, 16 miles east of Sayre, to Erick, 15 miles west of Sayre, has been completed, thus fulfilling the ambition of good roads enthusiasts of Sayre who have worked unceasingly for 15 years to secure the paving of this strip of road. The same enthusiasts are now cooperating with good roads enthusiasts from Oklahoma City west to the Texas line to secure the early paving of the remainder of the highway.

A number of the original backers of national highway 66, which was first designated as "Postal highway," still live in Sayre, including J. I. Lowry, present chairman of the good roads committee of the chamber of commerce, Judge J. A. Minton, E. F. Cornells, Guy Ford, O. M. Marsh, F. W. Holmes and others. These men played a large part in promoting Oilfield highway 41 from Oklahoma City through Sayre and across the Panhandle of Texas to Colorado, and state highway 24 running north and south across the western tier of Oklahoma counties which is soon to become a part of the Canada to Gulf highway. Sayre is the headquarters for the Canada to Gulf association. It is also the home of the vice president and secretary of the Oilfield Highway 41 association.

A mammoth celebration is being planned along state highway 24 to be held immediately following the completion of the $400,000 bridge at Pack Saddle crossing on the Canadian river on the line between Ellis and Roger Mills counties.

Staining of Washington Monument Bring Officials New Difficulties

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN
Director Record News Information Bureau

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The staining of the white marble walls of the Washington monument is a problem now closely occupying the attention of government officials charged with the care of this world-famous memorial. This structure, which is counted among the most notable memorial edifices in the entire world, and a triumph of architectural design and construction, is threatened by vertical markings caused by the draining of dust and soot-soaked water from gutters placed above the windows which look out on each of the four sides of the pyramid cap crowning the gigantic obelisk.

These gutters were placed above the windows some three years ago. Previously the windows had no protection and water drained into them, running over the sill and dripping down inside the structure. As there are no other openings in the mounment, save a single door at the base, this frequent draining of moisture through the windows kept the sunless interior damp.

Aluminum Gutters

The gutters are of aluminum, one-quarter of an inch in thickness. They were made at the Washington navy yard by government mechanics and fitted in place under the supervision of Colonel Grant's office. On each face of the monument are two windows. The gutters from a gable over each pair. This causes the water draining from the board roof-spread above to run off on either side instead of onto the sills. While this solved the problem of keeping rain water from running across the window sills and into the monument it has raised a new and and more important one. The rain water, thus concentrated by the gutters, pours down in heavy streams on either side of each pair of windows.

All air is permeated by dust. Although Washington is not an industrial Pittsburgh, still there is always dust in the air and even at the height of more than 500 feet, it collects in these aluminum gutters. Not far distant are a few industrial chimney stacks and when the wind is in the right direction, the soot from these is wafted through the air and some collects in the monument gutters. When rains come, this accumulation is washed down and, being concenrtated, leaves a stain. Although the gutters have been in place only some three years the stains already are between 10 and 15 feet long. Were nothing done to remove them or cure the ill at its source, these vertical lines in the course of years would extend from top to bottom of the monument, materially altering its appearance.

Stains Would Alter Appearance

Fundamental alteration in appearance would come from two causes. First the black lines themselves would make the structure look like a stick of candy or some sort of railroad crossing warning sign. Second the very shape and proportions of the monument would be given a altered appearance. The monument tapers from base to summit, the base being many feet broader than the top. The rain stains, however, run down the four faces of the obelisk in exactly vertical lines. This means that the vertical lines would clash with the converging lines of the walls of the structure, emphasizing the narrowness at the top and the breadth at the base and throwing the entire design out of sympathy with the eye.

No great damage has been done so far and Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant 3rd, director, and J. F. Gill, chief of the building section of the office of public buildings and parks, are alive to the situation and exploring every means of permament remedy. Considerable time would be required for the stain to sink into the stone and before that occurs it is believed that a solution will be found. Marble, although a hard stone, yet has a certain degree of porosity, and in time, would receive and retain carbon stains from the soot which could only be extracted by application of poultices and even this treatment might not prove wholly efficacious.

The discoloration has not yet sunk in and surface cleaning will remove the lines which already have started to be traced by the rain down the monument sides. This is to be undertaken in the not distant future. The real problem is that of removing the cause. The gutters could be removed and the water allowed to enter the windows as before. It might be caught by inside gutters and conducted through down-spouts in the interior of the shaft but such treatment is sought to be avoided as the amount of interior guttering and spouting necessary would be unsightly and leaks which might occur would be a continual source of dampness. Colonel Grant and Mr. Gill desire to keep the water outside but so distributed and disposed of that there would be no concentration resulting in vertical lines of stain.

Design Makes Task Difficult

There would be no difficulty in almost any other building. Outside spouts could be fitted to throw the water off in the usual manner. But any spouting on the exterior would destroy the simplicity of the monument's design, its chief characteristic. It has been said of the Washington monument that "it is at once so great and so simple that it seems to be almost a work of nature" and it has been called "one of the most beautiful of all human creations." To alter this simplicity of design by visible guttering and spouting would be almost as serious an attack upon its architectural integrity as the stains themselves.

Were the walls vertical and less lofty it would be possible to project spouts out from the walls and let the water drop free. But the base of the monument is 55 feet 1½ inches while the summit of the shaft proper is only 34 feet 5½ inches. This means that spouts more than 10 feet long would have to be projected in order to throw the water far enough out to drop clear of the structure at the base. Such long arms reaching out from the summit would be clearly visible from the ground and would themselves constitute a disfigurement. Nor would they solve the problem for, because of the great height of the monument, the streams would be thrown back on one or more sides by the lightest breeze, causing splotches of carbon stain to appear in the course of time.

The very inaccessibility of the exterior walls of the Washington monument accentuate the problem. The outer surface is entirely smooth, the joints fitting closely. The great height discourages erection of scaffolding from the ground and the only way of reaching the outer walls at the top is through the windows. This has been made more difficult than formerly because these windows now are fitted with bars. Although the monument was completed in 1888 and opened to the public on Oct. 9 of that year it was not until three years ago that steel bars were fitted across the eight windows to forestall would-be suicides from leaping to certain death some 500 feet below. These bars are kept painted to prevent them from rusting and themselves causing indelible rust stains to deface the walls. In order to reach the soot and dust stains causing the present trouble, these steel grilles must be removed and later replaced.

but a ha-ha for it. Did you notice a little metal cylinder in the safe?"

"Yeah, looked like a piece of gaspipe."

"That's it. Get it."

"I ain't got no yen to go on the same lay twicet. It's bad luck. That broad might split."

"Oh, jolly her up. Give her a phony sparkler and hand her a line. She'll come through again like a skeeter through a screen. You don't get the five hundred till you put that cylinder on this desk. Get me? And more than that, I've got enough on you to make this town hotter for you than the hinges of hell. Don't forget that!"

"Aw, boss," Riley whined, "who said I wouldn't?"

Riley Morgan would have left town on the next train had he known of an investigation being conducted at that very moment at police headquarters. Joseph Hedley, assistant county prosecutor, was in conference with Captain Hunting, chief of the bureau, in fulfillment of his promise to Frank Sheridan.

"A burglar about 50 years old who walks with a slight, stiff-legged limp?" said Hunting, repeating the description given by Hedley. "That's an easy one. Nobody else but Riley Morgan, alias 'Ratface' Morgan. That limp is a dead giveaway. What's he been doing? Want him brought in?"

"No, it's only information I'm after now," Hedley replied. "Give me a copy of his rogue's gallery picture if you have one and tell me where he hangs out."

"I don't know where he sleeps. The record here of his residence two years ago wouldn't do you any good. Those fellows change their hide-outs every few weeks. Wait a minute. Detective Frisbie is on the yegg detail. He's here; I'll ask him."

Hunting returned in a few minutes and said:

"Frisbie says Riley's daytime hangout is Pete the Greek's cafe on Sixth street. You'll find him there most any day late in the afternoon. Here's his picture. Anything else I can do?"

"No; this fixes me fine," said Hedley, rising to go. "Thanks."

The Rainbow's End is within Your reach

When S.S.S. is indicated in your case you owe it to yourself and friends to try it.

DID you ever feel so desperate you wanted to jump out of a window? That's the wrong end of the rainbow.

Ill health is a burden on body, mind and friends. But Nature never fails to signal her dangers. Lack of appetite, flabby flesh, loss of strength and skin troubles is a warning from Nature. This is her way of pleading for help.

The basic requirement for good health is rich, red blood—those vitalizing elements in the blood that build and sustain the body.

Thousands of people have a low blood count—to this may be attributed "run down" systems, skin troubles, and even more serious ailments.

It is dangerous to let the blood count remain below normal.

If you desire firm flesh, a glowing complexion, energy, vitality and the blessings of health you must keep your blood in good condition.

S.S.S. has been a blessing to millions of people who have taken advantage of its wonderful medicinal properties. It gives to Nature what it needs to build you up so that your system may throw off the cause.

With an increase in the red-blood-cells, you will be on the right road to Health. This is Nature's way to body power and to clear skin. Naturally, with your strength restored, it is easier to fight disease and infection; to enjoy your food and to sleep soundly. When firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby, you will feel strong—your nerves will become steady—more happiness and friends will follow.

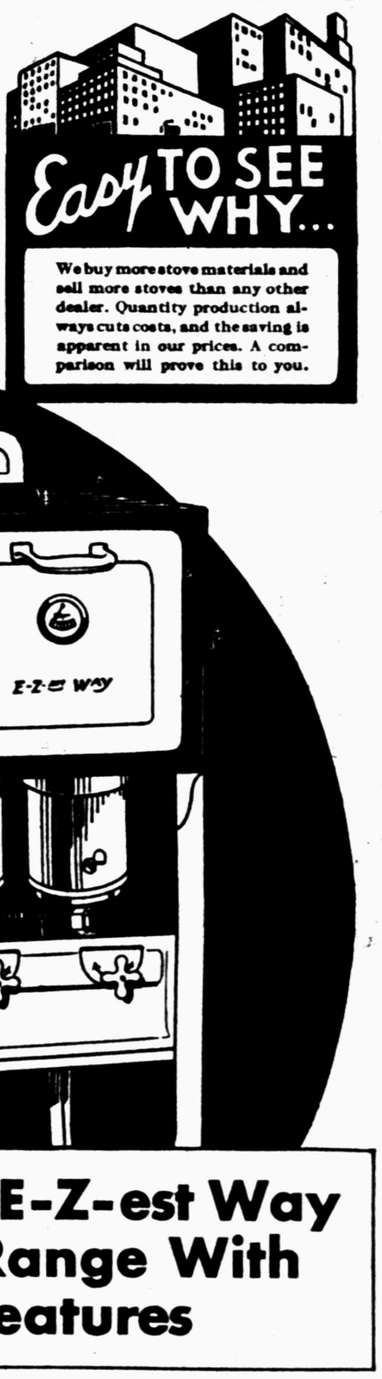

Take S.S.S. daily at mealtime. It helps Nature build rich, red-blood-cells. It is made from strictly fresh vegetable drugs and has stood the test for over 100 years. All good drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

HAVANA 'PHONE STRIKE ENDED

Cuban President Brings Strife to Close

HAVANA, June 12. (US)—President Gerardo Machado today, by presidential decree, brought to an end the bitter two months' strike of Cuban Telephone company subscribers against increased rates and the installation of "nickel-eaters" in all stores and shops.

After a torrid discussion rife with charges and recriminations, a committee of subscribers finally decided to accept the presidential decree requesting them to call a halt to their activity against the telephone company.

The strike, in progress since mid-April, cost the telephone company several hundreds of thousands of dollars in lost business, while subscribers banded together to do all business by messenger. Pay telephones installed by the company were ripped from the walls by indignant haxaneros.

Under the presidential terms which ended the strike, the subscribers are victorious in only one of their points: that merchants must not be forced to install pay telephones or "nickel-eaters" as they are called here.

The telephone company will not be forced to reduce its increased rate and the decree stipulates that merchants are not to permit the use of regular telephones to customers for "free calls."

Thousands of subscribers have in the meantime discontinued telephone service, and the telephone company is faced with re-installing regular phones in all stores where pay telephones had replaced them.

Charred Ruins Mark Site of Texas Refinery

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, June 12. (AP)—Still smouldering masses of twisted steel, yesterday valued at more than a million dollars, tonight marked the site of the disastrous fire in the Texas company refinery, in which one man lost his life and 35 were burned, eleven seriously.

Although the fire had nearly burned itself out, firemen guarded against a fresh outbreak. W. K. Holmes, superintendent of the plant, one of the largest in this country, started an investigation today. He said he would not make any further statements on his findings.

Wichitan Asks Damages For Court Charge

porting numerous shortages over a period of two or three years, the petition states. The shortage, it is said, amounted to about $12,000 or $15,000.

The petition alleges the corporation then took the case to the district attorney, accused Glass of embezzlement and caused his indictment.

When the Louisiana corporation commenced business here in 1926, the petition alleges, the company formed an agreement with the Wichita Ice company to maintain the price of ice at 60 cents per 100 pounds and it was agreed between them that at the end of each month a comparison of the tonnage of ice sold and delivered by each company would be made, with the agreement that 40 per cent of the excess sales by one competitor over the other should be paid for by the one making the excess sales at the rate of $3 per ton, thus equalizing the net profits to each company.

Cites Alleged Damage

Subsequently an agreement was made to embrace the New Ice company, the petition claims, in which the New Ice company agreed to sell ice only from its platforms, in return for which the other two companies would buy all ice it could not sell at the rate of $6 per ton.

Glass' petition asks for $25,000 for alleged damages to his reputation and for the humiliation of his arrest, for $7,200 for alleged loss of employment, $1,000 for expenses of the case against him, and $25,000 as punitive damages.

He is represented by the law firm of Carrigan, King & Surles.

PARTY WARNED TO BE READY

Meeting Today to Finish Wichita Slate

A tentative and partial G. O. P. ticket for district, county, and precinct offices in the coming July primaries was drafted Thursday evening in a meeting of Wichita county Republican leaders held in the county court room here.

The ticket is to be made complete by a nominating committee appointed to confer at 1:30 Friday afternoon in the office of Wayland H. Sanford, local attorney.

In framing the ticket, Republican leaders declared themselves preparing to take advantage of a predicted breach in the ranks of Texas Democrats.

Break "Inevitable"

"We must be prepared to take advantage of any bone-heads the Democrats pull," was the way Orville Bullington outlined the G. O. P. policy. "There is an irreconcilable break and the olive branch is not being passed around. Democrats who know the political situation believe that Ma Ferguson and Tom Love will be pitted against each other in the governor's runoff, and there lies our chance to consolidate the great gains we made in the elections two years ago."

The group stood unanimously in favor of backing a full county ticket, and with one exception, of staying entirely out of the Democratic primary.

The candidates whose names were tentatively placed on the ticket Thursday night were in almost every case drafted without consulting the nominees. Mr. Sanford has already been drafted on the state ticket in the attorney general's race, and the nominations at the Thursday meeting began with the suggested name of W. C. Witcher, once a Demaocrat, who has voted the Republican ticket for the past several years. O. R. Hartt, Republican county chairman, declined to allow his name to be used in the race.

Senatorial Candidates

For state senator from the 23rd district, the names of George S. Plants, Seymour, and Carl Worsham, Henrietta, were listed. Mrs. Mamie Dale, Iowa Park, was drafted for representative of the 112th district, place 1, and Hyatt Donald, for place 2.

The names of A. A. Spencer and H. T. Gilbert as candidates for county judge head the county ticket. Mrs. R. J. Goodale and Mrs. Mae Schleigh, Electra, were named for district clerk. Mrs. Fred Boden, Burkburnett, and Mrs. Joella Butler, were drafted as county clerk candidates. J. A. Patton and J. C. Terrill were listed for tax collector; Bob Collier and J. W. McQuire, Burkburnett, for tax assessor, and Tom L. Ball, for sheriff.

J. P. Ruff was put in the race for justice of the peace, precinct 1, place 1, and S. L. Bingham for place 2.

Further Selections Today

Candidates for the other offices will be chosen Friday after the Republican roster in adjoining towns and counties has ben studied. The leaders of the group indicated that the names of Hoovercrats of 1928 might be included in the list.

"We'll at least give them a chance to refuse our invitation to stay with us," Mr. Hartt said.

Members of the nominating committee include the chairman, L. H. Gould, T. L. Ball, Wayland H. Sanford, and Mr. Bullington.

Speakers at the meeting Thursday night included Mr. Bullington, Mr. Hartt, Mr. Ball, Mr. Gould, and Mr. Ruff.

Insurance Men and Bankers Meet Tonight

A. B. Culberson, trust officer of the First National bank of Fort Worth, will address the joint meeting with reference to the services of trust companies in connection with the life insurance business. J. T. Harrell, president of the City National bank here, will preside.

LONDON—Artists here are to have their own trade union. The purpose of the union, according to Sir John Lavery, is to raise the standard of applied art and secure for the poster artist and designer of textiles recognition to which they are entitled. Many well known English artists have joined the union.

Shriners Dedicate Memorial to Peace

TORONTO, June 12. (AP)—While airplanes hovered overhead, dropping bombs which unfurled tiny flags of the United States, Canada, Cuba and Mexico, a majestic monument to international accord among the four great nations of Nortn America was dedicated today by the ancient Arabic order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Crowds stretched for blocks along the shore where the memorial, an angel holding a laurel wreath aloft, stands looking out across Lake Ontario.

Statesman of all the nations, using the theme of international brotherhood and world peace, addressed the throngs. Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas and Gov. Louis L. Emerson, of Illinois attended the exercises from the United States and Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state, broadcast a talk from Washington.

The imperial council, by a unanimous vote, today elected Senator Robinson an honorary life member of the Shrine.

FREDERICK, Okla., June 12.—Friends of Harry B. Cordell at Frederick signed a petition Wednesday asking that the state election board refuse to place the name of Harry D. Correll on the ballot for the coming Democratic primary because it is frivolous. Grain Harvest Opens In Throckmorton County

THROCKMORTON, Texas, June 12.—The wheat and oat crop of Throckmorton county is about 15 per cent normal yield. There are a few combines running now and the harvest will be in full headway by the last of the week. Feed in some parts of the county is suffering for rain. The grasshoppers are damaging cotton in the low lands. The heavy rain together with hail and standstorms did considerable damage to cotton in some localities to such an extent that farmers are now planting for the third time.

Auditors Elect Graham Man as Vice President

FORT WORTH, June 12. (AP)—County auditors of Texas elected W. W. Preston, Lockhart, president today at conclusion of a one-day convention in which they drew campaign lines in a battle to obtain legislative sanction to an increase in auditors' salaries.

G. Earle Hutchings, Graham, was named vice president and John L. English, re-elected secretary.

Having failed in their attempt to obtain a raise in salary at the last session of the state legislature, the auditors will redouble their efforts in the next session.

Committee Votes Not To Force Cannon Testimony

WASHINGTON, June 12. (AP)—The dramatic controversy between Bishop James Cannon Jr., and the senate lobby committee was officially ended today when the investigators agreed they would not compel him to answer questions about his 1928 anti-Smith activities and voted to submit a report to the senate. OLD DOCTOR'S IDEA IS BIG HELP TO ELDERLY PEOPLE

In 1885, old Dr. Caldwell made a discovery for which elderly people the world over praise him today!

Years of practice convinced him that many people were endangering their health by a careless choice of laxatives. So he began a search for a harmless prescription which would be thoroughly effective, yet would neither gripe nor form any habit. At last he found it.

Over and over he wrote it, when he found people bilious, headachy, out of sorts, weak or feverish; with coated tongue, bad breath, no appetite or energy. It relieved the most obstinate cases, and yet was gentle with women, children and elderly people.

Today the same famous, effective prescription, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is the world's most popular laxative. It may be obtained from any drug store.—Adv.

THINKING MAN STATE'S NEED

Clint Small Addresses Greenville Crowd

GREENVILLE, Texas, June 12.—Texas needs as governor a man who will use his mind and not his spleen, Senator Clint C. Small, gubernatorial candidate, told an audience in the district courthouse here Wednesday night. He made one of the most forceful addresses of his campaign, following to this blackland city former Gov. J. E. Ferguson who spoke to a group here Tuesday.

The senator is on a speaking tour of North and east Texas and has been met with enthusiastic crowds in this and other portions of the state he has visited. His itinerary during the remainder of the week will take him to Commerce, Sulphur Springs, Cooper, Paris and Rockwall. Saturday afternoon he will speak to Dallas.

In his address the candidate said that he did not have possession of the magic wand to accomplish the fantastic things some of the other gubernatorial candidates have been offering in return for votes. He told his audience that he would continue to stay strictly with his campaign pledge that he would not make promises he knew no governor could fulfill.

"Designing politicians," he said, "have done enough to our state in their perennial turmoil over political spoils. Waving the flag of political hatred and whipping waves of prejudice should be stopped in the interest of an honest, progressive government at Austin.

"Fanning the flames of campaign hostilities is an old trick to create an emotional vote, but it is dangerous to stable government."

He again discussed removal of the prison system of the state and pointed out why he was against such a program. He charged that certain interests wanted the present prison site sold because an oil field is being developed close to the location at this time.

You can ideally modify the harsh "edge" of French dressing if you add

A dash of Sugar

THERE is no reason for French dressing making you wince when you eat it on your favorite salads. A dash of sugar added to the salt, pepper and vinegar or lemon juice, blends these ingredients with the oil into a dressing that is simply delicious.

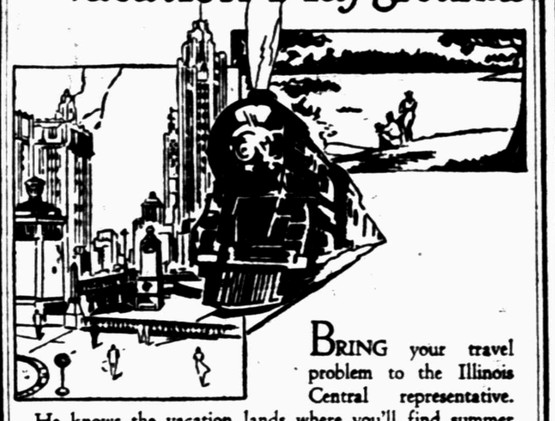

Try this dressing, flavored with sugar, on lettuce, cabbage, asparagus and tomato salads and see how much more you will enjoy these important foods. This dressing is also delicious on fruit salads or combinations of fish and vegetables.

In cooking vegetables, a dash of sugar to a pinch of salt improves their flavor in a most surprising manner. For example, try this seasoning on carrots, string beans, peas, spinach and tomatoes and you will take new pleasure in eating these foods which have vitamins, mineral salts and roughage. THE ROAD OF TRAVEL LUXURY

SERVING MANY BUSINESSES

Experience of large fleet owners reveals the unusual reliability and economy of the new Ford

A SIGNIFICANT TRIBUTE to the value of the new Ford is found in its increasing use by Federal, state and city governments and by large industrial companies which keep careful day-by-day cost records. In most instances, the Ford has been chosen only after exhaustive tests of every factor that contributes to good performance—speed, power, safety, comfort, low cost of operation and up-keep, reliability and long life.

Prominent among the companies using the Ford are the Associated Companies of the Bell System, Armour and Company, The Borden Company, Continental Baking Corporation, Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, General Electric Company, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Kellogg Company, Knickerbocker Ice Company, Morton Salt Company, Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, The Procter & Gamble Company, and Swift & Company.

Each of these companies uses a large number of Ford cars and trucks. The Associated Companies of the Bell System use more than eight thousand.

Modern business moves at a fast pace and it needs the Ford. Daily, in countless ways and places, it helps to speed the production and delivery of the world's goods and extend the useful service of men and companies.

Constant, steady operation over many thousands of miles emphasizes the advantages of the sound design of the Ford car, its high quality of materials, and accuracy in manufacturing. Beneath its graceful lines and beautiful colors there is a high degree of mechanical excellence.

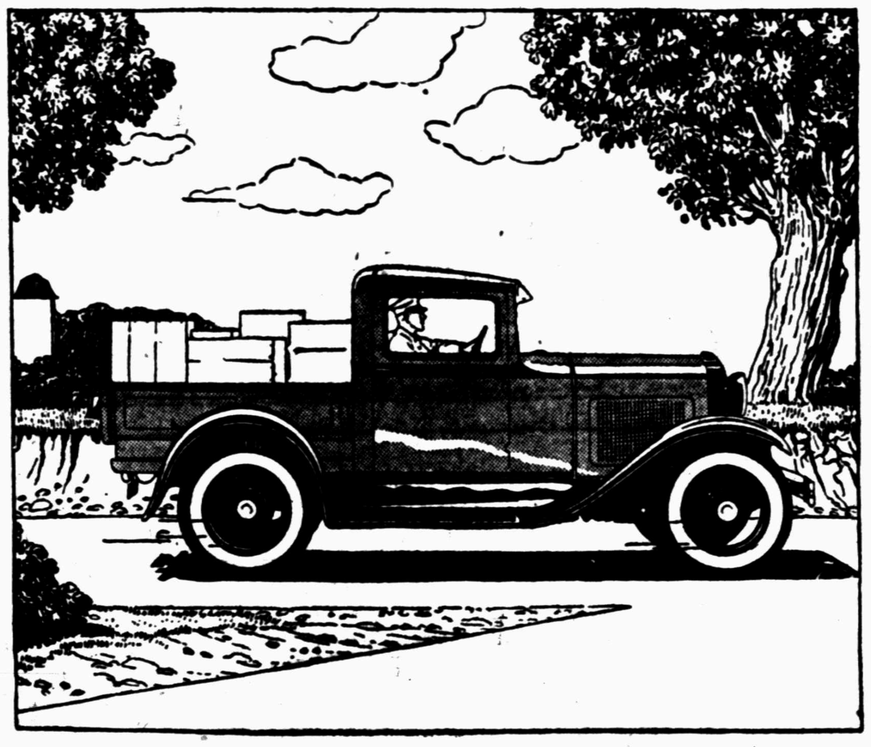

An example of the value built into the Ford is the use of more than twenty ball and roller bearings. They are hidden within the car and you may never see them. Yet they play an important part in satisfactory, economical performance. Their function is similar to the jewels of a fine watch.

Throughout the Ford chassis, a ball or roller bearing is used at every place where it is needed to reduce friction and wear and give smooth, reliable mechanical operation.

At many points, as on the transmission counter-shaft, clutch release, fan and pump shaft, and front drive shaft, these ball and roller bearings are used where less costly types of bearings might be considered adequate.

Additional instances of the high quality built into the Ford are the extensive use of steel forgings, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, Rustless Steel, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, and the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield.

The Ford policy has always been to use the best possible material for each part and then, through large production, give it to the public at low cost.

Dysentery and Diarrhea

Dysentery and diarrhea are both caused by some irritation of the intestinal tract. These diseases are most likely to occur during the summer in the cooler climates and at any time of the year in the torrid zone.

Bacillary dysentery principally involves the large bowel. The disease is severe, coming on suddenly, and may occur either singularly or in epidemic form. It is caused by a specific organism which can be recognized by microscopic examination of the stools. There is a catarrhal or fibrous inflammation of the lining of the colon, and as the disease progresses, the mucous membrane may be destroyed, leaving large irregular superficial ulcers. The disease may advance to such a state that the muscular lining of the colon is exposed. The period of incubation may be very short—from one to five after the beginning of the epidemic.

The first symptom of a sharp pain in the stomach is usually followed by a bowel movement. Another pain follows quickly. In the beginning, the discharges are watery, and are soon followed by a mixture of blood and mucus. The number of times each patient has to go to the stool may increase until this annoyance may occur with several evacuations every hour of the day and night.

The rectum frequently becomes distressingly prolapsed. Because of the large amount of water lost by the blood, the urine may be scanty and very acid in reaction. A severe toxic poison of the body usually develops in about the second week. The abdomen is distinctly sensitive. The temperature is not high, but the pulse is irregular and rapid. Some cases recover quickly, others develop into a chronic condition and are very obstinate to handle. The more severe cases result in toxic poisoning and death.

Patients afflicted with this disease should rest in bed and be given continued hot abdominal applications; heat applied over the middle of the back about level with the 12th dorsal or first lumbar vertebra are also helpful. Enemas of plain warm water should be given in spite of the fact that the bowels are moving frequently. The water helps to relieve the irritation.

Temporary diarrhea is not unusual, as it may be brought on by nervousness or by any agent which will disturb the balance between the secretions poured into the intestines and the absorption of the fluid contents of the bowels. Special types of diarrhea may be brought on by some kind of food which causes it in patients never otherwise troubled.

In children diarrhea is frequently caused by eating peaches and starchy food at the same time during an abundance of the peach crop. Inflammation of the stomach may also cause this disease. Hyperthyroidism may disturb the sympathetic nervous system and produce diarrhea. An under-secretion of the pancreatic juice may also bring about this condition. When the stools show a highly acid reaction from fermentation, the adoption of a lean meat diet and non-starchy vegetables often brings about a speedy relief. Fasting is very valuable in this disease, as it allows the intestines to rest.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Left-Handed

Question—Mrs. H. P. G. asks: "What advice would you give regarding a left-handed child? Should they be forced to use the right hand or not?

Answer—It is a good plan to teach the child to use his right equally as well as the left, providing he is not of a highly nervous temperament, in which case he may develop further nervous trouble such as stammering or stuttering. Such troubles are often thought to be caused by certain brain changes which take place when a naturally left-handed child is forced to become right-handed.

Milk of Magnesia

Question—Mrs. R. K. asks: "Is constant indigestion a cause of thinness? Will milk of magnesia after every meal correct this condition?"

Answer—Milk of magnesia will temporarily counteract over-acidity of the stomach. The real cure will only come from dietetic treatment or if the proper food combinations are used. Bad mixtures of food will produce indigestion which may keep a thin person from gaining weight.

Pyorrhea

Question—Mrs. F. D. asks: "Would pyorrhea cause redness and twitching of the eyes and numbness of the nose?" Is there any cure for pyorrhea without having the teeth extracted?"

Answer—Pyorrhea may cause the symptoms you write about, but such symptoms may also be caused by the same causes which are producing the pyorrhea. The primary cause of pyorrhea is a lowered alkalinity of the blood and resultant acid mouth is a good medium in which the pyorrhea germs multiply. Pyorrhea may be cured if treated before the disease has progressed too far. A proper diet is required, with certain treatments which the pyorrhea specialist uses.

McFadden Offers Plan Against German Bonds

WASHINGTON, June 12 (INS)—Carrying on his campaign against German reparation bonds, Representative McFadden, Republican, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the house banking committee today introduced a resolution prohibiting their purchase of national banks, federal reserve banks and member banks of the reserve system.

Forfeiture of rights and membership in the reserve system would be the penalty for violation.

McFadden charged that the proposed sale of upwards of $100,000,000 of German reparation bonds in this country amounts to intermingling of reparations and international debt questions.

INVENTOR OF 'RUN-OFF VOTES

J. A. Miller to Take Part in Holdenville Election

HOLDENVILLE, Okla., June 12. (AP)—The man who in 1894 is claimed to have formulated the plan of run-off primaries is a resident of Hughes county and will be a voter this year. He is J. A. Miller, who lives just outside of Holdenville.

Miller was a member of the Democratic executive committee in Chilton county, Alabama in 1894. By the system in use then, Chilton county had been selecting weak candidates and weak officials. The idea came to Miller that if they had an election in which the two men receiving the highest number of votes ran again, the candidate would be the selection of a majority of the people.

The idea was adopted and the first run-off primary in this country was held in Chilton county.

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 12. (UP)—A manufacturing firm lost a prospective sale today of new ballot boxes in Beaver county.

Spohn informed King that Beaver county commissioners were advised by a manufacturing firm that such a ruling had been handed down.

King told Spohn the court had given no such opinion.

Piles Go Quick

No Salves or Cutting

Thousands of Pile sufferers have not yet learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, after years of study discovered a real internal remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. He prescribed it for 1,000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided Pile sufferers everywhere should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Allison Drug store today. They always guarantee it to give you quick and lasting relief or money back.—Adv.

From the same territory, however, the decline in residential and business construction for the period as compared with last year was sufficient to bring the total of all classes of construction for the first five months of 1930 to $2,037,000,000 or about 19 per cent less than the total average construction let during the same period in each of the last five years.

Montana Woman Lost 19 Pounds of Fat in 4 Weeks

When stout women can lose fat and at the same time gain in energy and vigor.

Gain in charm and vivaciousness.

Gain a healthy complexion and have eyes that sparkle with buoyant health.

And at insignificant cost—isn't it time to use common sense?

Here's a letter written October 21, 1929, by Mrs. Fred Barringer of Lewiston, Montana, that ought to be read by every overweight woman in America.

"Gentlemen: I first saw your advertisement in a Billings, Montana, paper and decided to try Kruschen Salts.

"I started taking them every morning as directed as I was very much overweight and wanted to reduce.

"I had tried going on a diet but would get so hungry that my diet would not last long, so I decided to give 'Kruschen Salts' a fair trial. The day I started to take them I weighed 256 lbs. and at present, which has been just four weeks, I weigh 239 lbs. And I must say, I feel better in every way, besides looking much better. Kruschen Salts had a decided effect upon the quantity of food I took and stimulated my desire to greater activity.

"I have recommended Kruschen Salts to many of my friends, in fact, have a number of them taking Kruschen Salts.

"May all large people, both men and women, who want to reduce in an easy way, give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. I am sure it will convince any one."

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts four weeks costs but 85c at Allison Drug store or any drug store in America.—Adv.

3 THE AUTHORIZED NEW CAR DEALER is conscientious in the deal he makes with you because he is not only interested in your satisfaction but he is likewise seeking your good will as against the day you are a prospect for a new car.

4 THE AUTHORIZED NEW CAR DEALER never misleads you in his promises because one deception rumored around will discredit all his advertising and good reputation.

5 THE AUTHORIZED NEW CAR DEALER takes in only such cars as he can successfully recondition to give satisfaction on resale. Cars he rejects must necessarily find their way into the hands of the unreliable Used Car dealers.

6 THE AUTHORIZED NEW CAR DEALER is not dependent for profit upon his Used Car sales. His business is selling new cars and he is satisfied to find an outlet for the cars he has to take on "trade in" as close to cost as possible.

7 THE AUTHORIZED NEW CAR DEALER offers a fair and reasonable finance plan. He deals only with Finance Companies that are reliable, considerate and fair in their dealings and rates.

8 THE AUTHORIZED NEW CAR DEALER employs only salesmen who are honest and reliable. Men who sell only the merit and actual condition of what they have to sell. They do not employ high pressure methods or resort to misleading statements.

9 THE AUTHORIZED NEW CAR DEALER is interested in maintaining service on the Used Cars he sells the same as on New Cars and for the same reason. He is interested in the good performance of the car and he needs you as a booster for himself, his service and the car he sponsors.

SHARKEY LOSES ON ACCIDENTAL BLOW AFTER WHIPPING MAX

JACK WINNER IN EACH ROUND

Terrible Sailor Man Is Calm At Outcome

ner. Then Jacobs rushed at Crowley demanding that he call the foul while the crowd joined in the cry, "foul, foul."

Sharkey's manager, Johnny Buckley, was roaring at Crowley to count Schmeling out as he sat in his corner. Sharkey had remained quietly in his own domain for a few seconds, with some of his newspaper friends at the ringside counseling patience, but suddenly he rushed across to Schmeling's corner and began motioning Schmeling to get up. He was babbling at Schmeling, just as he did at Scott when Scott was claiming foul at Miami last winter.

Schmeling In Pain

Schmeling paid no attention to him. He was sitting bent over on his stool and he seemed to be in pain. Doc Casey, Max Machon and Mushky Jackson were ministering to him, leaving Jacobs to yell at Crowley. Finally Joe Humphreys, the official manager, was called into the ring by Crowley, and the decision anounced Schmeling winner on a foul.

Sharkey took it rather quietly. He had undergone a terrific booing when he was introduced. Possibly because he appeared wearing an American flag around his shoulder, which the crowd seemed to resent as a bid for kind applause. Now that the heavyweight championship has slipped away from him at a moment when he seemed to have it in his grasp, he didn't display any of his usual emotion.

He walked over and leaned over Schmeling and said something to him. His attitude wasn't that of anger.

Denies Low Blow

"I didn't hit him low," was his comment in his corner as he was waiting the decision. Afterwards the Sharkey following expressed the opinion that it was a plot to steal the decision by the Schmeling crowd, headed by Joe Jacobs. They said Schmeling kept pressing in constantly and every time he got hit with a body punch he raised his knee as if to make it appear low. Also that Schmeling complained about one punch that wasn't low at all.

None of these things were apparent to this observer. On the contrary, he thought Schmeling displayed considerable stoicism under a tough fire. He got a boxing lesson for four rounds, and once or twice Sharkey battered him so incessantly that the wonder is the German kept afoot.

A patient, plodding man is this Schmeling though he cannot box a lick.

His punches evidently carry respect, however, as Sharkey was almost unduly careful with him at times. It seemed to be the idea of the ex-sailor to cut him down at his leisure. He was stabbing the German's face to a red glow with a left jab. And was constantly trying to lure Max into a knockout from a right hand uppercut. Only in that one disastrous punch did Sharkey get careless. He started it low, and far back. It was a dangerous and useless punch under the circumstances. One thing Sharkey should have been particularly cautious about in view of the Scott fight was his accuracy.

Doctors Examine Max

Schmeling insisted that he had taken Sharkey's best punches in the third round, and was coming on steadily. He expressed the opinion, in his broken English, that he would have won but for the foul. He was examined in his dressing room after the fight by Dr. Walker, the boxing commission, who said he was still suffering from the effect of the punch. The German said he is willing to fight Sharkey again any time.

Despite the disappointing finish, this fight, grossing upwards of $700,000 was the greatest of all the boxing shows presented under the auspices of the milk fund, of which Mrs. William Randolph Hearst is chairman. It is the first time in history that a heavyweight championship bout was fought under the auspices of a charity. It brought together a remarkable assemblage from all over the United States. It was a sparkling social event for New York City. It seemed as if every person of any consequence in town was present at the ringside.

Mayor Walker had the German embassador there. All the political bigwigs were on hand. Gene Tunney, whose retirement from the pugilistic arena brought about this bout for his vacated title was there with his wife, and saw the first passing of his old crown on a foul in the history of the heavyweight division.

PHIL SNIFFS AT HEAVYWEIGHT BOUT

SANDERSTLAD, Surrey, England, June 12. (UP)—Phil Scott, England's foul-claiming heavyweight champion, attaches no importance to the result of the Jack Sharkey-Max Schmeling bout.

Phillip, resting at his home, "Peacehaven," before starting training for his socalled "world heavyweight championship bout" with Young Stribling, July 28, told the United Press:

"Nobody with any intelligence or boxing knowledge could take any interest in the fight as neither Sharkey nor Schmeling is of championship class.

"Sharkey was 'built up' for the bout by robbing me of a merited decision at Miami, and Schmeling, who 'ran out' of a bout against me won his place in what I believe was a prearranged bout with Paulino," said Scott. "It is my belief the Sharkey-Schmeling bout was 'in the bag' before the principals donned the gloves.

"Their alleged championship fight is of so little interest to me that I made no plans to learn the results, either by radio or through newspaper reports."

Sidelights of the Fight

By BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

RINGSIDE, YANKEE STADIUM, New York, June 12.—The customers were the first to get a "long count" at the Jack Sharkey-Max Schmeling bout. The first of the so-called "ringside seats" were exatly 14 rows from the ring.

Four rows were devoted to the "working press" and 10 other rows were given over to "patrons," including some of the best minds in attendance.

The "ringside seats" extended far into the outfield. Indeed there was a suspicion that fast running would give a home run inside the park on a ball hit to the spot occupied by the ringside seat farthest removed from the ring.

David Belasco, in his well-known sombre clothing suggesting the clergy rather than stage, was the first patron to take a seat in the select circle.

The ring was near second base between the pivot station and the pitchers' mound.

Most of the customers came in with coats on their arms. They were not needed and did double duty, serving as cushions.

Four referees came to the stadium, but none knew which would be called upon to act as the third man in the ring in the titular bout. The four were Jim Crowley, Patsy Haley, Jack Denning and Arthur Donovan. Six judges also appeared with the choice for the main bout to fall on two. James A. Farley, chairman of the New York State Athletic commission, addressed the officials in a body before the preliminaries started, stressing the importance of the championship battle and urging the unidentified man to be fully aware of his responsibilities.

Frederick von Prittwitz Und Gaffron, German ambassador to the United States and Charles Francis Adams, secretary of the navy, were present as guests of James J. Walker, mayor of New York.

James J. Corbett was the first former heavyweight champion to put in an appearance at the ringside.

The process of settling 70,000 persons around the ring where Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling fought under the protection of 200 policemen began before dusk tonight.

The right field bleachers, where Babe Ruth deposits most of his home runs, filled up before 7 o'clock with customers who had binoculars and a world of optimism. All the rain clouds that were hanging in the skies early in the afternoon blew away and the night was clear and cool.

Joe Humphreys, the announcer, appeared early with a green necktie and a pocket full of licorice drops to soothe his foghorn voice. He had a live tip on the figth. "The man who wins," says Joe, has a last name starting with 'S'."

This was the most international battle since the allies won the decision from the Germans in a four-year bout. Sharkey, a Lithuanian with an Irish name, fought a German on American soil.

The music that was broadcast before the preliminaries was chiefly the "Maine Stein Song." That seemed fair and impartial enough. Maine is up New England way where Sharkey lives and steins are an old German custom.

The ringside looked much like it did when the late Tex Rickard was luring society folk to prize fights. There were many women and a goodly supply of top hats.

ROBINS BEAT REDS AGAIN

Double With Packed Paths Brings Win, 3-2

BROOKLYN, June 12. (AP)—A double with the bases loaded by Pinch Hitter Jake Flowers gave the Brooklyn Robins their second straight over the Cincinnati Reds today. The score was 3 to 2.

Ray Moss and Bennie Frey started on the mound but although both were effective, neither was able to go the route. Frey was removed for a pinch hitter in the eighth after holding the Robins to five hits, while Moss was replaced by Clark, when a base on balls and an error set the stage for a rally in the same frame.

The Robins trailed one run going into the seventh but Flowers came through a two-base hit that scored what proved to be the tying and winning runs. Score:

PIGEON RACES PLANNED

TULSA, Okla., June 12. (AP)—Pigeon races from Tulsa to Denver, Kansas City, Wichita, Dallas and Memphis, will be a feature of a pigeon show at the Tulsa State fair next fall. Four hundred birds have been entered in the show, the first ever held in Oklahoma. The pigeons, some of them army birds, are to be released in groups to race homeward.

Staging one of the most exciting and up-hill battles of the year as well as the first extra inning ball game, the Texas Electric Service company baseball team kept up their league leadership pace in the Merchants league by defeating the Southwestern Glass and Paint company team, 5 to 4, on Wilson field Thursday to stay in a tie with the P. B. M. nine. Lefty Hovis and Glenn Coolidge were the big guns in the Kilowatts' attack with Blue taking a hand. Hovis tied the game up in the last of the fifth with a two-bagger with the bases full and Coolidge won the game in the sixth with a double with Reisen on second base. It was Hovis' second double. Hovis and Blue each hit home runs, the latter's coming with a man on, to account for the first three runs. Score:

HAL WILTSE BESTS STOUT AS SPUDDERS WIN OPENER, 13 TO 6

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

Today's Pome

To-whit, tu-whoo the birdie sings,
Or that's how Shakespeare wrote it.
But personally, 'tween you and me
I simply can't believe it.

Turn out to see the Spudders today, mates. It will be your last chance this month, and in addition, Houston closes its stand here today. The Spudders after today's battle will depart for San Antonio to open a road trip of exactly 20 scheduled games, a series of encounters that will end at Fort Worth on the day of the big fireworks, July 4. A double-header is scheduled with the Panthers on firecracker day. And then the Spudders come home to open a four-game series with the Shreveport Sports, starting July 5.

And in between Saturday and July 5 many things may happen. Three games are to be played with the Indians. Then come three with Waco, June 17, 18 and 19. Then the Williamsmen double back on Beaumont for games June 20, 21 and 22. On June 23 and 24 they will meet the Buffs on the latter's home orchard. A lone encounter is scheduled with the Panthers at Fort Worth, June 27. From there the Spudders jump to Shreveport for three games on June 28, 29 and 30. Then come three at Dallas on July 1, 2 and 3, and finally the double-header at Fort Worth, July 4.

Will the Spudders conduct themselves on this road trip as well as they did on the last? Everything seems to point out that they will. The club in its recent home stay has exhibited no decided slump in any respect, although for a few days the inability of the leading sluggers to get hits caused apprehension. But at no time were the Spudder bats impotent. Not by any means. The timely hitting for which the Spuds are becoming famous, has failed but few times.

Far from exhibiting glaring weaknesses in its home stay, the nimble legged shortfield has come across with a league record for double plays, and in other ways made its influence felt in baseball circles all over the state. The hitting is bound to improve and keep pace with such excellent fielding. There is no reason to believe that the coming road trip will not be as successful, if not more so, than the last. And yes, Carl, we might even have a brass band to welcome you home when you get back, just like we did last time.

What Others Think

There is nothing new in what follows, but Lloyd Gregory is supposed to be the most authoritative and best informed sports writer in the state, and hence what he has to say in his column in the Houston Post-Dispatch might please some of our fans. Here it is:

"Before the 1930 campaign opened one heard much wisecracking among Texas league fans regarding the Wichita Falls infield.

"The Spudders were to start the season with an infield combination that played in 1929 for Tulsa. In the past, so many Western league products had fizzled in the Texas league that there was much skepticism regarding the ability of the Spudder infield to stand the gaff.

"But Burns, Storti, Euller and Levey have come through in glorious fashion, and their great defensive play has been the backbone of the loop-leading Spudders. The other day this inner defense turned in seven double plays, to set a Texas league record.

"Although their swatting averages are not particularly impressive, each of the four appears to have the knack of hitting in the pinches."

Several of the leading tennis players in town are up in arms against persons who trod the Junior college and municipal tennis courts with their heavy shoes on. In fact there is even talk of a wholesale lynching of the leather-soled (souled?) ones who plough up the freshly prepared courts with their everyday shoes. The complaint seems a logical one. The players who do the damage usually are careless, or they would think beforehand to change into tennis shoes. A little precaution on their part would not only lengthen the life of the courts, but would keep everybody in a good humor. Playing tennis on a ploughed up court is like sleeping in red flannels in the summer time.

Pirates Break Giants' Long Winning Streak

Had Batter's Number

AUSTIN, June 12. (AP)—University of Texas pitchers have been the jinx of Brooks Conover, Texas A. & M. college athlete. Although Conover played in each of the 12 baseball games between the Aggies and Steers for three years, he failed to get a hit off Longhorn hurlers. Other Southwest conference pitchers, however, found the Aggie player troublesome and pitched to him cautiously.

BUFF ACE IS HAMMERED OUT

Home Runs Again Turn Trick for Leaders

BY FRED D. THOMPSON

Hal Wiltse limited the second place Houston Buffs to seven hits, while Allyn Stout, ace of the Houston pitching staff, was driven from the box in the fifth inning after two home run barrages in the third and fifth shoved the Spudders from behind, and the Williamsmen took the opener of the series from its most dreaded rivals down at the foot of Seventh street Thursday afternoon.

The score was 13 to 6. J. Brown relieved Stout, and the Spudders, holding a one-run advantage when he started the sixth, rubbed it in by banging him for six more runs, four of them being driven in by four-base swats.

Gains Full Game

The victory shoved the Spudders another game up the ladder and pushed them into a seven-game lead over the rest of the clubs.

The two foes meet today in the second and last game of the series. A crowd of some 2,000 turned out for Thursday afternoon's battle.

Each team scored in the opening frame. The Buffs got theirs on Mishkin's base on balls and singles by Kaufmann and Selph, and the Spudders managed theirs with a double by Storti and Kloza's single which drove Storti in.

Both went scoreless in the second, but the Buffs took the lead in the third when Hunt sailed a home run over the left field fence with Hock on first. The Spudders, however, returned in their half to forge from behind when Burns swatted a home run over the right field fence with Fitzgerald and Kloza, both of whom had been walked, on the paths.

Brown Hits Homer

The Buffs came up in the fourth to score a run and tie the count at four-all. Eddie Bown, the slugger who was not good enough for Dallas, turned the trick with a home run over the left field palisades. Incidentally, Brown was the star of the outfield Thursday, the lanky fielder making a spectacular one-handed catch of Storti's line drive to left right up against the palings.

The Spudders went scoreless in their half, and the Buffs took a two run lead in the fifth by making two more tallies, one of which was unearned. Hock, first up, singled to center. Mishkin sacrificed to the box, and when Burns, who recovered the ball, threw wild to Storti, who covered first, Hock scored and Mishkin proceeded to third. Hunt struck out. Kaufmann sacrificed to right, and Mishkin scored after the catch. Selph grounded out, Levey to Burns to close the inning.

The Spudders drove Stout from the box in the fifth with a three-run rally that put them into the lead they were destined to retain. Fitzgerald opened it by popping out to short. Kloza banged a homer over the left field wall. Burns doubled to right. Bettencourt struck out. Crouch walked. Euller singled to right, scoring Burns and advancing Crouch to second. Wiltse singled to left, scoring Crouch and advancing Euller to second, and Stout was then and there jerked. J. Brown strode to the box and Levey flied out to left to close the inning.

Fitz Gets One

Then in the sixth, Storti walked and Fitzgerald came up to swat a home run over the left field wall, scoring the runner and himself. The rest of the frame was uneventful and the seventh passed scoreless. The remaining four runs, however, were scored in the eighth. Storti opened it by flying out to left. Fitzgerald singled to center. Kloza doubled to left, scoring Fitzgerald. Burns doubled to left, scoring Kloza, and Bettencourt drove Burns and himself home with a home run over the usual left field wall.

Pike Record Increases Annually As the Fish Gets Matronly Plump

BEMIDJI, Minn., June 12. (AP)—As long as "Old Silvertip" lives and continues to put on weight, Sheridan Grieg of this place is likely t hold the world's record for catching the biggest wall-eyed pike.

Grieg, who is in charge of spawning operations near the head of the Mississippi here, first caught the fish six years ago and got a thrill out of landing its 11¼ pounds. He named the fish "Old Silvertip" and, after relieving her of her spawn, gave her back her freedom.

Year after year, Grieg has caught "Old Silvertip" during the spawning season and each year she turned up a bit heavier. He missed her in 1928 and 1929, but this year she fell into his net again and he was delighted when the scales tipped 17 pounds, giving him the credit of the world's record weight for a pike catch.

The old fish, incidentally, is responsible for quite a few of the fish hereabouts. This year she yielded over two quarts of spawn, which is 50,000 eggs, estimated conservatively.

Many anglers, inspired by the fish's reputation, have tried to hook her every summer, but she is beguiled by no bait. Grieg, working as a government operative, uses a net.

Phelan to Show Coast Notre Dame Technique

SEATTLE, June 12. (AP)—The first summer term coaching school at the University of Washington will be held this year with Jimmy Phelan, Washington's new football coach, teaching grid methods and technique, and "Hec" Edmundson instructing in basket ball and track.

Phelan, former Purdue university mentor and Notre Dame player, will give Pacific Northwest coaches their first glimpse into a modification of the famous Notre Dame method of football.

Forty candidates for the University of Texas basket ball team went through spring training in preparation for the 1930-31 campaign.

Crows Turn to Golf On Canberra Links

CANBERRA, June 12. (AP)—The crows of Canberra have become almost as great a nuisance to golfers as the many excellent hazards on the local courses. The crows apparently live on golf balls and swoop down the moment they see a little white pill dashing down the fairway.

Ex-prime Minister Hughes was recently seen running frantically after a flock of the birds shouting "Get to blithering blazes out of this," in an effort to keep them off his bounding ball.

WASHINGTON NINE STRONG

ST. LOUIS, June 12. (AP)—Displaying a powerful attack and good pitching, the Washington university baseball team has made an impressive showing in its first six games. Defeated only by the University of Wisconsin, the Bears have won the last five games, two of them from the University of Missouri.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—Cotton was nervous and unsettled today with a sharp decline under a renewal of trailing liquidation in July contracts, followed by rallies in the later trading.

Offerings of July were more active and urgent than previously this week with the decline extending to 14.21 or 79 points below yesterday's closing quotation. The decline was checked by covering, while the offerings tapered off the near month closed at 14.68, representing a recovery of about 47 points from the lowest.

New crop months broke early with new October selling off to 13.48, rallied to 13.75 for that position which closed at 13.66. The general market closed steady at a net decline of 32 points on July and of 2 to 9 points on later deliveries.

There was considerable covering which absorbed early offerings, but it was supplied on bulges of a few points, and the market soon weakened under more active liquidation of the July position which was supposed to include selling for both foreign and domestic account.

The near month weakness had an unsettling effect on the general list, but the offerings tapered off after the break of nearly $4 per bale from yesterday's closing quotation. New crop months sold about 23 to 27 points net lower while the July liquidation was in progress, with old October selling down to 13.77 and the new December to 13.65 but were steadied at these figures on covering and made new high prices for the day on some positions in the later trading.

The old October sold up to 14.08 or 5 points net higher and the new December rallied to 13.89 but closed several points off under realizing or liquidation. Closing quotation for July showed a premium of 102 points over new October compared with 125 points at the close of the previous day.

Exports today, 3,498 making 6,549,171 so far this season. Port receipts 5,096. U. S. port stocks 1,715,142.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 12. (AP)—The feature in cotton today was the sharp break in the July position due to heavy liquidation in that month which carried it down 79 points from the previous close, a break of practically $4 a bale.

Liverpool came in as due to 3 points worse than due and first trades here showed losses of 7 to 10 points. Prices rallied to 14.63 for July and 13.75 for October in the early trading, a recovery of 4 to 5 points, but soon turned weak on drastic liquidation in July and that month rapidly declined, reaching a low near mid-session of 13.90, down 79 points from the previous close. New crop months were steady on prospects for unsettled weather. October trading at the lowest at 13.52, down 26 points.

On the after mid-session rally July reached 14.32, up 42 points from the low and October reached 13.74, up 22 points. The close was a little off from these figures, July closing 39 points net lower for the day and October only 7 points net lower.

Erratic Price Fluctuations Fail To Establish Definite Trend

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, June 12. (US)—Another session of highly erratic and confusing price fluctuations on the stock exchange wound up today with a decided trend still absent, although the majority of stocks closed somewhat lower. At least half a dozen times during the day the trend of quotations changed and with an abruptness which discouraged many who were inclined to follow either side of the market. Sentiment was more confused than on any day this week. It was evident, however, that greater support was furnished pivotal stocks on setbacks, particularly Steel common. After early irregularity and weakness, announcement at noon that the reparations loan had been oversubscribed stimulated the entire list and a rally developed which prevailed until near the close. Senator Reed's decision to vote in favor of the tariff bill brought in additional selling which caused prices to recede from their day's highest level. Call money, which for weeks has been in an oversupply, was available at 2½ per cent, the lowest charge since March, and funds were obtainable as low as 2 per cent outside the exchange.

Tariff has succeeded reparations as the outstanding influence on the market. The selling following Reed's introductory remarks indicating he would favor the bill failed to await his complete statement. Emphasis was placed on his declaration that many objectionable features had been removed from the bill, of which the public, he said, was unaware. Importance was also placed on the fact Reed reached his decision after a conference with Secretary Mellon. The treasury secretary, it was pointed out, probably has as much at stake in the tariff as any industrialist and his approval of the bill was interpreted favorably. In any event, the approaching final decision on the bill will at least remove the element of uncertainty which to business and the market is almost as great a disturbing influence as the tariff itself.

Extent of liquidation which took place during the past week was reflected in the $103,000,000 reduction in brokerage loans, announced after the close, expectation of which probably encouraged considerable buying during the market. The volume of trading of late has been substantially in excess of the average which prevailed for several preceding weeks and undoubtedly this has reflected heavy liquidation.

Steel common again demonstrated that support is available on each setback in its price. Bear selling coupled with additional liquidation forced the stock down to within a fraction of its year's low reached on Thursday, but large-scale buying appeared and carried this stock up sharply and the entire market followed until the Reed announcement.

A sharp decline in cotton and general weakness in the grain markets failed to improve sentiment, but the stock market appeared to ignore these developments. Foreign exchange fluctuations were restricted to narrow range.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, June 12. (AP)—(USDA)—Practically all killing classes of cattle met a narrow demand again today and values ruled weak to 25c lower in most cases. Choice grades were very scarce and the day's top rested at $12.25 on best heavy steers at Chicago. Offerings at the 11 markets 22,300 as compared with 26,693 last Thursday and 23,674 a year ago.

Opening sales of hogs at some of the river markets were strong to 5c higher than Wednesday's best high, but considerable weakness developed later in the session and closing rates steady to 25c under yesterday's prices. Big packers were bearish and bought sparingly at most points. The top reached $10.25 at St. Louis. Receipts 67,200 against 86,356 a week ago and 87,236 a year ago.

Fat lambs and yearlings, although selling moderately active, were considered weak to 25c lower. Choice range lambs at Chicago steady with best Idaho's at $12.35 for the top. Western lambs at river markets $11.75 down. Ewes $3.00 to 3.50. Arrivals 33,300, which was 12,000 short of a week ago and 9,000 less than a year ago.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, June 12. (AP)—Still under pressure of the new crop which is not yet reaching market, wheat sold still lower on the cash grain market here today. Demand was poor despite the small offerings and dealers reported nominal bid of $1.04 to $1.06 for ordinary No. 1 hard winter wheat, according to quality and billing.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid.

Corn, No. 2 mixed 96@97c; No. 2 white $1.00½@1.01½; No. 2 yellow 99½c@$1.00½.

Oats—No. 2 red, old crop, nominally 52@53c.

Barley—No. 2 in fair demand at 63@64c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds, nominally $2.10@2.12; No. 2 kaffir $1.88@1.90.

Dealers also quoted as follows, basis delivery Texas group one points: No. 2 mixed corn 94@95c; No. 2 white corn 99c@$1.00; No. 2 yellow, 98@99c; No. 3 white oats 50@51c; to which add one cent for delivery Texas group three points.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 12. (AP)—Big selling and sharp breaks in prices for wheat today followed rains that assured better prospects for spring wheat growth, especially of the Canadian crop. Auspicious conditions for the harvest of domestic winter wheat also had a bearish influence, and North American export business was of only limited volume, most of it Canadian. Acute weakness of the rye market, with prices again outdoing the season's low record both here and at Winnipeg tended further to pull wheat values down.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 1¼@1⅜c lower than yesterday's finish, but ¾@1c up from today's bottom level. Corn closed ⅛@⅝c down, oats ⅛@⅜c off and provisions unchanged to 10@12c decline.

Although some liberal sized standing orders to purchase wheat on declines helped at times to rally the market, buying for the most part was confined to previous sellers who were able to collect a profit. In some quarters, special significance was attached to the fact that no brisk upturns in values were achieved, although prices today were below any point reached since the middle of May. Quotations on wheat at Liverpool, and of the fat that export demand was apparently not stimulated a great deal by price declines on this side of the Atlantic, late estimates putting today's European takings from North America at 600,000 bushels or less.

At today's bottom figures, wheat values here showed a maximum setback of 2⅝c a bushel compared with yesterday's close. This stage was reached simultaneously with receipt of a forecast of more showers for Canada and with reports of excellent rains in the American Northwest.

Corn and oats went lower, chiefly as a result of wheat weakness, but corn was steadied later by vessel charters taken out for shipment of 383,000 bushels of corn to Buffalo.

Despite firmness of the hog market, provisions were responsive to downturns in the value of grain.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, July $1.01⅝@⅛; Sept. $1.04⅛@⅝; Sept. $1.04½@⅝; $1.07⅛@⅝; Dec. $1.09⅝@½; $1.12⅛@⅝.

MILK GRADES RAISED HERE

Grade A Barns Show Huge Gain in Area

Much light on the remarkably rapid development of Grade A milk production in Wichita Falls and vicinity during the past 18 months may be gained from glancing at snapshots which almost fill a drawer in the desk of Dr. J. M. Farrell, chief sanitary inspector, at the Memorial auditorium.

These pictures which Dr. Farrell is accumulating comprise a fairly complete pictorial history of model dairy barn construction in this community. They are arranged in pairs. One picture shows the old shed in which milking was done, usually with a rank accumulation of barnyard refuse surrounding it. The other picture shows the new milking barn, with concrete floor, proper ventilation, and other modern features, with the surrounding ground clean and free from debris.

Among other requirements, the milking barn must have a concrete floor in order to qualify the output as Grade A milk. Of that type barn, there are now 110 in and near Wichita Falls, all fully up to standard requirements, according to Dr. Farrell. There are also 47 barns which lack the concrete floors and are therefore of Grade B classification, while other requirements are met, it was said. New milking barns, affording the guarantees of milk purity which science has provided, have developed by the score in recent months as an important factor in this county's extensive dairying industry.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—Cotton goods continued very quiet today with prices soft. Canton silk was bought quite freely for future delivery and prices were higher and firmer. Japan silk remained steady and unchanged here. It was understood that 90 per cent of the fine goods mills of the country will curtail production nine or ten weeks during the balance of this year, or until the demand for combed goods improves. Burlap remained quiet and weak. Wool goods were being bought very moderately for fall.

It's a Tough Job!

Being a newspaper reporter is sometimes a hard life, but there are times and places when the job is well worth having. If you doubt it consider these pictures of Dan Thomas, who is Hollywood correspondent for NEA Service. In the upper picture, Thomas is exchanging smiles with pretty Jean Harlow. In the center he and Billy Dove have found something to talk about—and below, in pursuit of his duties, Dan is admiring the fuzzy little dog displayed proudly by Loretta Young.

Last Rites Held For Gun Victim

Funeral services for Mrs. Dena Childress, 34, who was shot and fatally wounded here Tuesday, were held from the East Side Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon with Rev. E. F. McGaughey, pastor, and Rev. J. L. Walters, pastor of the Lory Memorial Baptist church, officiating. Interment was in Rosemont under the direction of the Hines mortuary.

Pallbearers were Fred Morgan, Bill Morgan, August Sorebeck, Ben Smith, Bernice W. Scruggs and A. L. Booth.

Mrs. Childress died Wednesday of a gunshot wound inflicted shortly before noon at the same time that Mrs. Joe Dyer, her sister, was almost instantly killed. Grain Elevator Fire Causes $250,000 Loss

OMAHA, June 12. (AP)—Fire, apparently resulting from spontaneous combustion in the grain bins, today destroyed a grain elevator operated by the Nebraska-Iowa Grain company near here. The loss is estimated at $250,000.

Ninety thousand bushels of wheat, 50,000 bushels of corn and 10,000 bushels of oats either were consumed by the flames or spoiled by water.

POISON FATAL TO ENGINEER

Man Who Eloped With Princess Dies

FAIR HAVEN, N. J., June 12. (AP)—Poison, apparently self-administered, today was declared to have caused the death of Donald Shields Andrews, wealthy chemical engineer, who in 1915 when a student at Yale eloped with a princess.

His partner in the sensational elopement, Mrs. Alma V. Hayne, also known as the Princess Vetsera of Austria, took her life by drinking poison at the second victory ball in London in 1919.

Andrews was found dead Thursday in the $200,000 laboratory he built on the banks of the Shrewsbury river and in which he recently spent much time endeavoring to make precious stones synthetically.

ROTARY TOLD OF BOYS WORK

Club Growing Rapidly, Says Harvey

Increasing attendance at Sunday meetings of the Wichita Boys' club was reported Thursday to members of the Rotary club, sponsoring organization, by Olin Harvey Jr., who is in charge of activities at the junior club rooms.

More than 60 boys have comprised the attendance at 10 o'clock meetings held on the past two Sunday mornings, Mr. Harvey said, and with each of the boys working to enroll one other, a total of 125 is anticipated for the session next Sunday morning. Rotarians who will assist in giving the boys a program at that time are J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas league, who will speak, and Dr. O. T. Kimbrough, past president of the Rotary club, who will lead a singsong.

"My Home Town," prize winning oration in recent West Texas competition, was given Thursday by Joe Witherspoon Jr., sophomore in the local high school. The speaker was introduced by John Boswell, general manager of the chamber of commerce.

Vocal numbers by Mrs. Nelle Lowery, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr., were included in the program.

Members of the Rotary club were asked by William B. Ward, founder of the boys' club, to give all possible aid in locating employment for about 40 boys now enrolled with him in search of work.

City Inspector To Attend Convention

Dr. J. M. Farrell, chief sanitary inspector for the city, will leave Saturday for College Station, where the Veterinary Medical association of Texas will hold a four-day convention and short course on June 16, 17, 18 and 19. Mrs. Farrell will accompany Dr. Farrell on the trip.

Garbo talks! And Langdon squeals!

Harry Langdon, whose face is about as full of expression as a custard pie, has a voice more like lemonade. The talkies don't cramp his style any more than the lovely Greta—in fact, the soprano quality rather adds to the general amusement. Heard here for the past week, he was as ludicrous as ever before, although his pantomiming still exceeds his speaking.

While comedies are being discussed, someone might whisper in Victor Lowrey's left ear that if he isn't about ready to put in his summer cooling system at the Majestic, it would be more considerate of him to keep Laurel and Hardy off the bill. When the two pie-throwers spent 30 minutes trying to climb into an upper berth in their last comedy shown here, the squirming, panting and puffing done by the audience in "helping" the comedians worked up a real heat. No prostrations were reported.

Just at dusk the youngsters, and oldsters, too, begin swarming over the incline on the west side of the Memorial auditorium and scrambling for good seats for the city's free movie. A stage permits amateur theatricals and programs, while a movie machine and screen brings western pictures and comedies to the throng. Removing a child or an old person from sickness or worry into a world of make-believe for a few moments is a mission too often underestimated by the thoughtless. No effort is being spared to make life more livable for Wichita Falls on the part of the park department and its director, C. C. Bunnenberg.

"The Letter," Jeanne Eagles production which is brought for a one-time return engagement Friday evening from 10:45 to 11:46 at the Majestic, should have the best attendance of any of the Friday night extra programs. "The Letter" is generally agreed to be one of the five best pictures of 1929.

There are those who have an aversion to seeing a star after his or her death, but the Jeanne Eagels fans seem to be exceptions to the rule, for Victor Lowrey received more requests for "The Letter" to be returned here than for any other recent movie.

There is a difference, moreover, in seeing Miss Eagles from trying to enjoy one of Valentino's old pictures. About once every six months, someone reminds us that Valentino is dead, some magazine publishes a picture of his coffin, and his widow emerges in mourning long enough to give a sobby interview.

It is hard to believe that Miss Eagles is dead, however. She will continue to live in the world of art, as have all other real artists of the world. Like the phonograph records which have preserved the voice of Caruso, the talking film has caught the spirit of one of the best actresses of the generation. "The Letter" should enjoy a much greater popularity than did the post-mortem silent pictures of Rudy Valentino and Wally Reid.

C.-C. COUNCIL MEETS TODAY

Members to Discuss Program of Work

Members of the reorganized business council of the chamber of commerce will hold a business session for effecting more complete organization, formulating of rules, and adoption of a program of work in its regular meeting Friday at 12:10 p. m. at the Kemp hotel, according to plans announced by Paul G. Putty, chairman.

In a letter addressed to each member of the council Wednesday, Mr. Putty emphasized his purpose of opening and closing bi-monthly sessions of the business council promptly on time, and urged the regular attendance of the entire membership as a prime requisite to successful functioning of the organization.

Friday's meeting will be the first official meeting of the business council. It was convened about two weeks ago for the purpose of perfecting preliminary organization. Mr. Putty was elected chairman, and Don Bowie vice chairman.

Federal Engineers Make Survey Here

H. D. Newell and F. E. Dubinson, engineers from the government offices at Pittsburgh, Pa., are spending several days in Wichita Falls and surrounding territory for the compilation of informative data relative to irrigation and drainage in this area.

Inspection is being made of the entire Wichita valley in this section of the state, and of the Pease river valley west of Vernon, in order that complete reports as to water sheds, natural drainage water courses, and artificial aids may be made to the federal government.

According to Mr. Newell, information being gathered now will serve as a guide to any plans which might be adopted eventually by the government for development of the Red river valley as part of the flood control program.

'Bad Weather' Horns of Jersey Cow Deciding Factor in Legal Tangle

List to the tale of a Jersey cow, which came very near proving to be two other cows and would have proven so if her horns not had the strange faculty of protruding in bad weather. The case was tried before Judge Irvin J. Vogel in the county court-at-law Thursday morning. Here's what the jury heard:

In September, 1927, V sold A a Jersey cow. In August, 1928, A moved and left the cow in a pasture. Two days later A came back and the cow was gone. In December, 1928, A located the cow in B's pasture. A went to B and told him it was A's cow. Meanwhile B called V at another town and V came here with B, the two stopping A's boy from leading the cow away. They took the cow back to B's home. A sued B for the cow. V was a witness, testifying he sold a cow to A and she had a white spot on her forehead, which cow was now in M's pasture. The cow he sold B, V testified, did not have a white spot and therefore he sold B another cow. M and Mrs. M testified they reared their cow from calfhood, which eliminated V's statement that he sold them the animal.

It resulted that the cow's identity was established by the size of its right front udder and the fact that its horns protruded in bad weather. The jury thereupon found in favor of the plaintiff A, who can now get his cow from B.

52 El Pasoans Born on Jinx Day to Hold Party Today

EL PASO, June 12. (AP)—Fifty-two El Pasoans born on Friday the thirteenth will defy generations of superstition Friday, June 13, when they will be guests of honor at a banquet given by Dorrance Roderick, publisher of the Herald-Times.

The guests will be seated at four tables, with 13 at each table. The youngest was born Dec. 13 last year and the oldest will be 79 Friday.

Hard luck stories will be taboo at the banquet and instead, guests will be asked to tell why they think persons born on Friday the thirteenth are lucky.

Temperance League to Hold National Session

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP)—A national convention will be held at St. Louis this fall, under the auspices of the National Temperance League of America, to consider repeal or "other lawful disposition" of the 18th amendment, Gen. John J. Bradley announced today.

The convention also will memoralize congress to submit the question of prohibition to popular vote. General Bradley is chairman of the league's board of directors and a retired army officer.

Heavy Rain Brings Fire Under Control

WINNIPEG, June 12. (AP)—Fires, believed to have been of incendiary origin did damage estimated at $500,000 before they were brought under control today with the assistance of a heavy rain.

The fires were in a warehouse, a lumber yard, and an oil refinery. The flames spread so rapidly that the northwest section of the city was threatened and soldiers and citizens were called out to aid the fireman.

Natives of the Landes, France, in going about through their swampy land, are forced to travel on stilts from house to house.
