United States Brands Japan As Violator

Further American Action Is Looming; Great Powers Are Expected To Hold Parley

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—The United States government, branding Japan a treaty violator, ranged itself solidly alongside the League of Nations today in its effort to stop hostilities in the far east.

Further American action appeared imminent in consequence of a normal state department pronouncement last night condemning the imperial Japanese government for its undeclared war in China.

To Aid Conference

This is expected to take the form of immediate consent to participate in a nine-power conference to consider possible new steps in the crisis.

The state department acted swiftly to give practical force to President Roosevelt's pledge of cooperation with all peace-loving nations to end what he described as the prevailing reign of international lawlessness.

Its stinging indictment of Japanese aggression was timed to coincide with similar action by the League of Nations assembly.

Action Is Inconsistent

"In light of the unfolding developments in the far east," the state department said, "the government of the United States has been forced to the conclusion that the action of Japan in China is inconsistent with the principles which should govern the relationships between [illegible] and is contrary to the provisions of the nine-power treaty of [illegible] 1922, regarding principles and policies to be followed in matters concerning China, and to those of the Kellogg-Briand pact of Aug. 27, 1928."

It marked the second time in a little more than five years that the United States has resorted to this extreme in its far eastern policy. Similar action was taken in 1932 by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson when he sought to call Japan to account for its invasion of Man-

Clark Chosen As Foreman

Billy Clark, employe of Panhandle Construction company for about 15 years and a resident of Lubbock most of his life, has been appointed a new foreman of the city engineering department, according to announcement at the city hall this morning.

Clark probably will be assigned to the foremanship of water and sewer work, in which he has had many years experience, the announcement added. He will work under the supervision of City Engineer Marlin R. (Red) Smith, jr.

Roy Houk Resigns

Vacancy in the department was caused by the resignation Saturday of Roy Houk as street and water superintendent. Under the new setup, Smith assumes personally, in addition to duties as engineer, those formerly discharged by Houk.

Uncertainty remained as to how the vacancy caused by the resignation of D. J. Schlag as building, plumbing, electrical and gas inspector will be filled. Because of the great increase of work in that department during recent months, it was said at the city hall, it may be necessary to divide the work, one official being assigned to building and perhaps electrical inspection work and the other to plumbing and gas wivisions.

If that is done, J. E. Reid, present acting inspector as successor to Schlag, in all probability will become building and electrical inspector, in which he has had extensive experience, and someone to be named will be assigned to plumbing and gas inspections. That plan, officials explained, would mean no increase in the personnel, as Reid was employed as assistant inspector for more than a year prior to Schlag's resignation.

BATTLE ON TAXES NEARS

Omnibus Bill Outlined By House Group

Senate Remains Firm In Its Demand That Allred Submit Question To Find Economy

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 7—Battle lines in the new taxes versus economy issue drew tighter in the legislature today.

The house, where tax measures must originate, neared consideration of an omnibus bill raising levies on natural resources and utilities and taxing higher theater admissions.

Senate Wants Economy

The senate, however, was on record favoring submission of economies instead of new revenue.

By a spanking majority, the upper legislative chamber voted, 22 to 6, to request that Governor James V. Allred submit the subject of revising departmental appropriations made last spring.

The governor, ho called the special session for the sole purpose of providing new revenue to finance social security programs and reduce the general fund deficit, has resisted efforts of the economy bloc to reopen appropriations.

Few thought he would agree to the senate's request but the top-heavy vote for reconsidering appropriations signaled, others said, a refusal to approve any levies unless departmental costs could be slashed.

Real Test To Come

The real test of senate policy likely will come when the house sends it revenue raising measures.

There was some belief the test would be soon in view of approval by the house revenue and taxation committee of the omnibus measure.

The liquor traffic committee had reported favorably a bill legalizing and taxing liquor sales by the drink where approved in local option election and the state affairs group was ready to conduct hearings on a measure relegalizing certificate wagering on horse race betting.

Find Warmth In Jail Cell

Three men who sought to warm themselves by a fire in a Santa Fe freight car found themselves in a "warm" cell this morning.

Cleve Cobb, special officer for the Santa Fe, arrested the three men and took them to county jail about 4 o'clock. Charges of destroying property are to be filed today, said officials.

The sheriff's department today will send for a man arrested in Big Spring and who is wanted here on a charge of child desertion, filed in the court of Walter Davies, said Sheriff Tom Abel.

Boy To Be Charged

A 12-year-old boy was to be charged with theft of a wheel and tire from a used car lot. He was arrested Wednesday night by Bill Mabray of the police department, transferred to custody of county officials and released to his mother for the night.

A man who had not been reported arrested late this morning was charged Wednesday in S. E. McMillan's justice court with theft of a cotton sack valued at $1.50. The complaint was sworn to by T. O. Downey.

Theft of a trailer valued at $75, a felony, was charged in a complaint sworn to by R. R. Bullock before Walter Davies, justice of peace. The man had not been reported arrested.

One Man Burned To Death, Two Others Injured In Explosion

TYLER., Oct. 7 (AP)—Pat Ferguson, 24, was burned to death and two other men were burned seriously in an explosion of gas at a well location six miles north of Gladewater.

L. C. Hatcher was near death in a Gladewater hospital and V. L. Griffin's injury was serious.

It was believed the gas collected in a low spot and was set off by fire from a boiler.

Chinese Civilians Slaughtered As Jap Bombers Roar Across Skies; Eight Ships Downed

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Oct. 7—More than 500 Chinese civilians were reported today to have been killed by mass bombing raids of Japanese warplanes on the rich southern province of Kwantung.

The Chinese central news agency reported that eight Japanese planes, including two huge bombers, were shot down by a surprise Chinese defense of the strategic military railway linking Canton on the south coast and the Yangtze river port of Hankow.

Rail Centers Bombed

A dozen railway centers were bombed along the route from Canton to Hankow, Chinese dispatches said, killing and wounding more than 300 non-combatants in those towns alone.

In northern Kwantung province the raiding planes were said to have caused several hundred more casualties. Twenty bombs fell on the departmental capital city of Shiuchow alone, demolishing some 30 dwellings.

While the massed flight of 36 Japanese planes followed the railroad to the north, dropping bombs on each village as they came to it, Chinese said a spirited attack by 70 Chinese planes kept the line from being more than slightly damaged.

Desperate Battle Rages

At Shanghai, where a desperate battle was raging through the rice paddies northwest of the city, the Japanese flagship Idzumo sent countless shells screaming over the international settlement in an effort to blast the Chinese out of stubbornly defended positions on the Chapei and North Station battle fronts.

Shells fell in steady succession near the sector guarded by the United States marines on the northern boundary of the settlement. The American troops were forced to be constantly on the alert to avoid the hail of lead.

Locked In Struggle

Ten miles northwest of Shanghai the opposed armies were locked in a fierce struggle for possession of the Shanghai-Liuhong motor road.

Canton was raided three times again this morning.

At Nanking, Chinese governmental officials expressed the utmost satisfaction at the American state department's condemnation of Japan for her undeclared war against China.

At Peiping unofficial Chinese and Japanese sources reported today Japan was sponsoring a northern Chinese army to "carry out a revolution against Nanking's tyranny."

Special Session Plans To Get Speedy Action

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. — Administration supporters in congress said today they are prepared to push President Roosevelt's legislative program to quick enactment at either a special session or the regular meeting in January.

Senator Thomas (D-Utah), among others, indicated they would advise Mr. Roosevelt to call a special session. The president said yesterday at Hyde Park he would reach a decision within a week.

Begin New Attack

Such a session would begin a new attack on prime administration objectives, among them crop control, wage-hour and child labor laws, government reorganization and creation of regional planning boards. It would begin between Nov. 8 and Nov. 16.

Senator Thomas, who is slated to head the senate labor committee, said he would seek enactment of wage and hour legislation in the form it passed the senate during the last session.

Senator Minton urged senate and house agriculture committees to get crop control legislation in shape for quick action whether congress reconvenes in November or January.

Work On Program

Senate and house agriculture committees, however, were at work on a program that might delay submission of new farm legislation. The group will begin a tour of the south Oct. 15. These hearings, designed to collect data on which to base the new crop control bill, will not end until Nov. 1.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex) of the house agriculture committee is working on a crop control bill at his home.

Resolution To Probe Lobbying Is Passed

AUSTIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—Activities of the "third house"—the lobbyists—will become public information under a resolution adopted by the house of representatives today.

The house approved, 95 to 22, a resolution creating a standing committee of five empowered to inquire into their pay, their employers and such other matters as the lawmakers saw fit to investigate. Registration would be required.

Rep. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene, the author, hailed the move as "the first concerted thing done in the direction of regulating lobbyists since the anti-lobbying agitation a year ago."

A similar resolution died on the calendar of a special session.

SLATON GINS 2,278 BALES

SLATON, Oct. 7, (Special) — A check Tuesday night showed that 2,278 bales of cotton had been ginned by Slaton gins from the 1937 crop, according to authorities. This shows an increase of 1,228 bales over the corresponding period for last year, it was reported.

Mrs. Hopkins Death Victim

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 — Mrs. Harry L. Hopkins, 37-year-old wife of Works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, died today in Garfield hospital. She had been in ill health for the past year.

Born and reared in Menton Harbor, Mich., Mrs. Hopkins, formerly Miss Barbara Duncan, attended the University of Michigan two years. She was married to Hopkins when he was director of the New Tuberculosis and Health association of New York in 1931.

Husband At Bedside

Hopkins was with her at the time of her death. Their one daughter, Diane, 5 years old, was at their Georgetown home. Hopkins also has one son, David, by his first wife.

Mrs. Hopkins was an attractive and popular member of the Washington official set. She was fond of outdoor activities. Another interest was the collecting of etchings.

Besides her husband and daughter, Mrs. Hopkins is survived by one brother, Commander Donald Duncan, U. S. N., stationed at San Diego, Calif., and one sister, Mrs. Richard Stephens of Hawthorne, New Jersey.

Blondes Are Taking Place In Fashion Spotlight Again; Tipoff Is Given Today

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (AP) — Blondes this fall are back in the fashion spotlight.

The tipoff came today from hairdressers at the annual fall and winter coiffure revue put on by the Chicago and Illinois Hairdressers association.

The reason, they said, was because golden glitter is the keynote of the fall color picture.

One Man Is Killed And Two Injured In Oil Explosion

TYLER, Oct. 7. (AP)—One oil field worker remained in critical condition today and another was expected to recover from injuries and burns received in an explosion that killed Pat Ferguson, 24. Ferguson was burned to death at a well location six miles north of Gladewater where an accumulation of gas was ignited.

L. C. Hatcher was reported near death. V. L. Griffin suffered minor injuries.

Duke And Duchess Will Spend Christmas In United States

PARIS, Oct. 7. (AP)—The Duchess of Windsor made known today that she was planning to spend her first Christmas with her husband, the abdicated King Edward of England, "at home" in the United States.

Friends of the couple said they planned to sail from Europe the first week in November.

Scientists Construct Weird Prehistoric 'Ship-Lizard'

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 7 (AP)—Harvard scientists working with fossil bones today finished reconstructing one of the weirdest of the world's ancient inhabitants, a "ship-lizard" which lived in Texas 225,000,000 years ago.

Fossilized remains of the animal were discovered in the Red river beds of northwest Texas by Professor Alfred S. Romer.

This eight-foot predecessor of the massive dinosaurs gained its name from a sail-like fin about two feet high, rising from the backbone. Scientists can find no explanation for the fin

Ruffing Is To Serve 'Em Up For Yanks; Cliff Determined

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 — Bruised by Yankee bats but defiant still, the jittery Giants pinned their faith on Cliff Melton, the gawky freshman from the mountains, to square accounts today and keep them in the running for the winner's share of the World series swag.

After yesterday's opening exhibition, when 60,000 fans saw the Giants' pitching and defense fall apart at once, it looked a forlorn hope. Yet the Giasts and their followers were sure that Melton, who looks like Ichabod Crane come to life and can pitch like all get-out, would put them even up again.

Be In There Trying

Melton, skinning off his uniform in the Giant dressing room after yesterday's 8 to 1 rout, said: "I'll sure be in there trying."

Granted that he would do his very best and grit his teeth on every throw, the fact remained that the Yankees had obtained an important jump by shelling Carl Hubbell from the premises in the opener, and promised to be hard to head off.

If Lefty Gomez throttled the Giant bats yesterday, holding them to a single run on three bunched hits in the fifth inning, there was little reason to suspect that his big, right-handed teammate, Rufus (The Red) Ruffinf, might not do the same today. Things, in other words, looked gloomy for the "Jints." Unless Melton comes through, it may be all over in a hurry.

A GRANDSTAND SEAT

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—The World series struck a humorous note today when Anthony Albano, 32-year-old father of six children was discovered ensconced in a "boatswain's seat" on the flagpole in the Yankee stadium.

First man to pass through the bleacher gates for the opening game yesterday, Albano clambered up the pole during the night. His presence there was not noticed by stadium employes until 8:30 this morning. Then all was confusion.

Sergeant Charles Miehle and a police emergency squad were summoned. Albano was established 100 feet in the air. Finally Miehle's threats of dire consequences had their effect and Albano reluctantly came down.

Lineups Today

Probable starting lineups for the second game today, with first game batting averages and pitchers' season won-and-lost records:

Boycott Urged On Jap Goods

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Oct. 7.—American Federation of Labor leaders called for a boycott today on goods labeled "made in Japan."

"I am confident the American people will not want to assist Japan indirectly in its campaign of violent aggression and exploitation of Chinese resources by purchasing Japanese products in this country," said Matthew Woll, a federation vice-president.

Favors Jail Term

"I'm not only in favor of a boycott but I'm for putting anyone who bought Japanese goods in jail for 30 days," said Charles P. Howard, president of the International Typographical Union and C. I. O. secretary.

I. M. Ornburn, secretary of the federation's union lable department, said "we buy Japanese goods and it is our money that permits the war lords over there to wage war."

All three said they personally favored adoption of a boycott resolution at the federation's convention, although Woll added that a boycott should be handled carefully.

Couple Ends 2,400-Mile Canoe Honeymoon; At Home In Tent

GALVESTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—A 2,400-mile honeymoon trip in a canoe had been completed here today by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Callaway of St. Paul, Minn., who announced they were now at home in Galveston—in a pup tent on the beach.

They left St. Paul last July 6, on the Mississippi river to Piaquemine, La., then on Bayou Piaquemine to Morgan City, La., and the intracoastal canal to Galveston.

They pitched tent here and Callaway started looking for work.

New Mexico Must Pass Law To Get More REA Allotments

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP) — A Rural Electrification administration official said today "no more REA funds will be available to New Mexico applicants until that state's legislature passes a law under which our program can be carried out properly."

The official, who could not be quoted by name, said Senator Dennis Chavez and Representative John J. Dempsey of New Mexico, "have been in correspondence with us about a model law that could be offered for action of the New Mexico legislature at a special or regular session."

Statesmen Of Nation Called Into Session

Officials Say They Will Be Able To Meet Any Action Taken By Entire World

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Oct. 7 — Japanese statesmen were called into emergency session at the foreign office today immediately on receipt of news from Washington that the United States had condemned Japan's invasion of China as a violation of her treaty obligations.

No immediate reply was expected to the formal statement of the American state department, accusing Japan of violation of the nine-power pact guaranteeing China's territorial integrity.

Equal To Contingency

The Domei (Japanese) news agency quoted unnamed foreign office officials as saying "Japan is confident she will prove equal to the contingency" even in the face of any concrete measures the powers might take.

The foreign office felt certain, in the light of the state department statement, Domei said, that the Washington powers would meet in answer to a call from the League of Nations but "in the event of such convocation Japan will not participate." Japan is a signatory of the nine-power treaty.

Policy To Be Unchanged

"No matter what decision such a conference should take," Domei quoted the foreign office officials, "whether moral pressure, concrete measures or material sanctions against Japan, the empire's fundamental policy will remain unchanged."

The Japanese government was taken completely off guard by the American condemnation, one of the highest government officials said.

"We are badly surprised and completely bewildered," he declared. "We had been certain prior to this that the United States understood the situation better than any other country in the world."

Spread Over Newspapers

The condemnation, coupled with President Roosevelt's Chicago speech urging "concerted action" against aggressor nations, monopolized newspapers and both official and unofficial discussion throughout the empire.

Foreign diplomatic circles in Tokyo described the American action as a "bombshell."

The first editorial comment, in the Japan Times this afternoon, described the American action as "too idealistic and based primarily on sympathy for a weaker nation."

Cold Vaccines Prove Aid In Recent Tests

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 — Vaccines against the common cold, tried on 20,000 persons, helped 80 per cent of them — were useless for the others.

This verdict, the result of the largest, longest and most complete tests of common cold vaccination yet reported, was announced to the American Public Health association today.

All Known Kinds Used

All known kinds of cold vaccines were tried. All helped in the same way: they shortened the duration of common colds, kept people from feeling very sick, averted after-effects.

But none of them reduced the number of colds.

The report was made by Leverett D. Bristol, M. D., health director of the American Telephone and telegraph company, New York City. With these human tests he explained there could be no "guinea pigs," such as some persons left unprotected to learn how much worse off they might be.

Five Different Companies

But the lack of this scientific verification was partly made up by the fact that the tests were made in five different companies, independently.

The vaccines are made from bacteria found in the nose and throat durings colds.

The still unidentified primary cause of colds is a virus. Its existence has been proven by isolation in laboratory experiments, but no one has been able to "cultivate" this virus to the extent that it can be used to make a vaccine.

Advocated Repeal Of Wagner Act Favored

DENVER, Oct. 7 (AP) — American Federation of Labor convention delegates mildly applauded a suggestion today that the federation might well advocate repeal of the Wagner labor disputes act.

Joseph Padway, Milwaukee labor lawyer, made the suggestion with two strings attached.

The law that William Green once called "labor's Magna Carta" should be repealed, he said, if the labor relations board attempted to freeze craft unions out of mass production industries and if congress refused to amend the act to protect craft unions.

Despite the statement of Chairman J. Warren Madden that the labor board was strictly impartial in the A. F. O. L.-C. I. O. fight, criticism of the board continued at today's convention sessions.

Three Convicts Slug Guard To Make Escape From Cells

JOLIET, Ill., Oct. 7. (AP)—Three convicts slugged a guard into unconsciousness and temporarily used another for a hostage in making an escape from the Stateville prison on honor farm early today.

The felons, all serving terms for robbery, waylaid J. W. Black during the change of shifts, and then forced Albert Drungen, another guard, to accompany them.

Treated Seeds Help Farmer

BY PAUL D. SHOEMAKER
Associated Press Farm Editor

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—A revolutionary change in agricultural practices through use of chemically treated seeds was forecast today by Howard D. Salins, Chicago, after harvesting of test fields of fiber flax and corn in Illinois and Wisconsin.

Salins, inventor of the process, said it is applicable to all forms of plant life.

Profitable Returns

Results of this year's tests proved to his satisfaction, Salins said, that fiber of quality equal to that of the best grown in Europe can be produced in this country from treated seed and that it afforded a highly profitable return to farmers. Little or no domestic fiber flax is grown now, although there is considerable seed flax.

Yields of corn from treated seed, he said, were 25 per cent greater than yields from various kinds of untreated seed planted in adjacent fields in Illinois this year.

The reaction of the seed germ to the chemical, Salins said, gives the soil opportunity to facilitate fecundity. At the same time the treatment promotes growth of certain bacteria which replenishes the soil with those elements used as food by the growing plant, he said. Consequently, he added, use of fertilizer is unnecessary.

Verdict Of Double Suicide Given In Death Of Couple

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 7. (AP)—Justice of the Peace W. G. Lawliss said he would enter a verdict of double suicide today in the deaths yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Lindsey. Sheriff C. L. Mitchell told the coroner the couple drank a mixture of soda pop and poison and that Lindsey, after drinking the poison, shot himself through the heart.

City Officer F. C. Crittenden, driver of an automobile in which Mrs. Lindsey died as she was being taken to a hospital, said she told him they had made a suicide pact.

Marriage Of Another Du Pont Is Made Public Last Night

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 7 (AP)—The marriage of another Du Pont, that of Miss Aimee Du Pont to Mr. Walter F. Wickes, jr., was announced last night by the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Du Pont, of "Owls Nest," Greenville, Del.

The wedding ceremony was performed Wednesday at the Mt. Vernon church in Baltimore by the Rev. Dr. Albert Edward Day.

Mrs. Wickes attended the Miss Shipley school at Bryn Mawr, Pa. Mr. Wickes, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Walter F. Wickes, of "Wickcliffe," Erooklandville, Md., attended Hotchkiss school, Nun school, and the University of Virginia.

Accompanied By Brother

The couple, accompanied by the bride's brother, Mr. Eugene Du Pont, 3rd, motored from Mrs. Du Pont's home in Richmond, Va., where they had been house guests, for the ceremony. Immediately afterward they telephoned their parents who extended their heartiest congratulations.

The families had known of the engagement for several months.

Mrs. Wickes is a sister of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., whose wedding to the son of the president took place last June 30.

Baptist Student Nurses Are Organized In Auxiliary

Grace McBride was chosen as the name for a young woman's auxiliary, sponsored by the First Baptist church, organized Tuesday night at the Lubbock sanitarium nurses' home. Miss Clara Pratt is counselor. Only student nurses will be members. Miss McBride was a nurse in China. Officers are:

President, Miss Mildred McDaniel; vice-president, Miss Edith Thames; secretary-treasurer, Miss Ruby Inez Hite, and committee chairman, Miss Margaret East.

Millions Of Years Have Gone By Since First Beginning Of Great Oil Field

BY WILLIAM F. TANNER

Two hundred million years have passed since the first beginnings of the present Permian basin oil fields were laid down.

In those remote times, known to geologists and paleontologists as very, very late Paleozoic or, more definitely, Permian, the earth had a surface almost unrecognizable if compared with the globe of today. A vast inland sea stretched from the Atlantic up into the Arctic areas, passing across Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, and Canada. To the west was a mammoth mountain range, and to the east an area of decided although more general uplift.

Low Rainfall Prevailed

Low rainfall prevailed in those ancient days, and sandstorms must not have been uncommon.

In order to understand just how this sea bottom was later elevated to its present height (at Lubbock) of 3,250 feet, it must be explained that this particular arm of the ocean was what is known as an epeiric sea, or epi-continental sea. In other words, oceans are divided into two classes: those which are always oceans, and maintain a maximum depth, and those which were land in the past and will be land in the future, but at present are shallow seas, or overflows, from the main bodies of marine water.

Some geologists explain these recurring overflows or inundations with a theory that has to do with abrupt increases and decreases in the rotational speed of the earth. Inasmuch as water is a fluid substance, it would react quickly to changes in centrifugal force set up by the spinning of the planet, and flow over onto new areas, leaving old shallow beds high and dry. Other geologists prefer to continue explaining these periodic continental floodings according to the older theory, which states that actual uplift or down-movement of great blocks of the earth's crust either forced epeiric sea bottoms above sea level, or dropped land masses so low that marine water could flood them, forming epi-continental seas.

Broken Into Areas

The theory, generally used to explain the Midland or Permian basin as it is known on the South Plains, assumes that this particular arm of the great Permian ocean was broken into areas by barrier reefs such as are forming off the coast of Australia today. Marine animals, dying by the millions, and dropping to the bottom of the comparatively still water behind these barrier reefs, were covered by other sediments, and the whole compacted into rock. This latter process, of course, took millions of years, and was carried on before and during the crustal movements which caused the recession of the Permian sea.

The formation of oil occurred at a later date. The organic oozes deposited behind the barrier reefs, preserved by sedimentation, gradually changed into the liquid hydro-carbon known as oil. Dating from Permian time, it antidates by a hundred million years the days of the dinosaurs, popularized by one major oil company as a trade mark for really "ripe" oil. According to the history of animal life as outlined by the paleontologists, amphibians, rather than the giant saurian lizards, were the rulers of the earth; and geologists today exult upon finding even as much as a foot-print dating from late Paleozoic times, indicating that certain types of animal life had learned to locomote on land.

Club Tea Is Honor For Newcomers

The first social of the current season was given for the Texas Technological college Faculty Women's club Wednesday afternoon in the lounge of the women's dormitory on the campus. Sixty-five women were present.

Mrs. Bradford Knapp, wife of the college president, received guests with wives of new faculty members, Mesdames W. W. Yocum, Ewell V. Middleton, Willard E. Gray, William Condray, Carl E. Ashburn, Culver Hill and Casius M. Stanley, jr.

The tea table was covered with a brightly appliqued organdy cloth. Four small bowls of pom-pom dahlias were arranged around the refreshment tray which centered the table. Mrs. Knapp, who presided at the table, was assisted by Mesdames J. N. Michie and A. B. Cunningham.

Hostesses were Mrs. R. C. Goodwin, chairman, and Mesdames Cunningham, V. L. Doughtie, W. P. Clement, Charles Bullen, W. F. Helwig, Michie, C. C. Perryman, W. F. Fry, Knapp, J. H. Murdough and Mart G. Pederson.

Local Women Are Guests At Lamesa Bridge-Luncheon

Three Lubbock women, Mesdames Fred W. Standefer, J. H. Stiles and W. F. Schenck, were guests when Mrs. Louis B. Reed of Lamesa entertained Tuesday afternoon at the Lamesa Country club with a five-table bridge-luncheon. Mrs. Reed is the wife of the 106th district judge.

The club will meet next with Mrs. Potts, 1622 Ninth street.

Tech Club Conducts Pledge Ceremony

A formal pledge service was conducted by Las Vivarachas club, women's social organization of Texas Technological college, Wednesday night at the home of the club sponsor, Miss Ruth Pirtle, 2413 Broadway.

Miss Marian Hurmence, club president, administered the pledge to fourteen girls: Misses Inez Davis, Doris Anderson, Esta Fay Dean, Marjorie Burrow, Betty Lawrence, Christine Birdwell, Frances McCargo, Sue McAdoo, Beryl Duff, Billie Fisher, Annie Rooney, Nancy Phillips, Ernesteen Johnson, and Ina Leach.

Punch and cookies were served after the service.

Miss Pirtle will be hostess to club members, pledges, and their escorts next Wednesday night with a weiner roast.

Hayride Is Planned When Sew-On Club Meets

Mrs. M. S. Craig was hostess to the Sew-On club Wednesday afternoon. A hayride, at which husbands will be guests, was planned for October 18.

The hostess served refreshments to Mesdames R. D. Hopson, W. E. Morris, J. V. Jones, L. O. White, Ben Jenkins, L. M. DeGarmo, Grady Davis and W. I. Pittman.

The next regular meeting will be at 3 p. m. October 20 in the home of Mrs. Pittman, 2011-A Tenth street.

Freight Rates Are Lowered

Lubbock has been placed on the same basis as Amarillo, Midland, Sweetwater and other West Texas points in the matter of freight rates on pipe from St. Louis and defined territories, according to E. C. Kuykendall, general agent of the Fort Worth and Denver.

The new rates go into effect as soon as publication of a tariff can be had. It covers rates on all rail shipment of both iron and cast iron pipe.

Rate Agreed Upon

For some months the Denver has been working on the proposition to place Plainview and Lubbock and intervening points, on the same basis as other points. Some months ago the water-rail rate was agreed upon, in conjunction with certain eastern and southeastern freight groups.

C. S. Edmonds, general freight agent of the railroad, continued his efforts taking the matter up with Southern association lines, Western Trunk lines and other groups.

Last week F. A. Swenson, assistant general freight agent, attended a meeting in Cincinnati, Ohio, at which the matter was brought up and threshed out. He was successful in his efforts and the new rate will become effective as soon as publication is had. No date is indicated as to when this will be, but the general agent said it would be as soon as possible.

To Mean Savings

Reduction of the rate will mean considerable to wholesale houses of this territory handling pipe, as well as to oil companies. It is thought that by reduction of the rates, pipe for oil fields to the west and southwest may be shipped here instead of through towns west of Big Spring, mostly Midland and Odessa.

The telegram of Swenson, addressed to General Agent Kuykendall is as follows:

"Have arranged publication soon as possible reduced pipe rates from St. Louis and defined territories to Lubbock and Plainview on common point basis effective date later. As information proposal was disapproved, but I announced we would not entertain further delay and insisted Southwestern Bureau provide with publication from such territory from which we could get concurrence. Southern association lines concurred from Birmingham and Western Trunk lines from Milwaukee. Official lines finally broke down and if publication made as indicated, they wanted representation from their origins. Had difficult fight but maneuvered negotiations so as to get reductions from all jurisdictions our friends your territory have waited for and am happy that our promise made good."

Among the "defined territories" involved are: Pittsburgh, Pa.; Youngstown, Ohio, Etna and Allentown, Pa.

As 'Whiskey Island' Became Model Housing Area

Until the PWA went to work on it, the neat, trim federal slum elimination project in Cleveland, O., center foreground above, with its tidy buildings and planning, was nothing more than an area of shacks and dilapidated warehouses known as "Whiskey Island." Shown dwarfed against the downtown skyline of the city, the development cost $3,800,000, and is one of three such projects in Cleveland. It will be opened in the fall, providing homes for 620 low-income families.

Texas And Pacific Railroad Contracts For Equipment

DALLAS, Oct. 7. (AP)—President J. L. Lancaster of the Texas and Pacific railroad today announced the company has contracted for new freight equipment to cost $1,275,000.

Construction of 500 50-ton steel box cars and 100 50-ton hopper cars is underway, he said, and Interstate Commerce commission approval is expected in a few days.

Free Treatment For Defects In Speech Being Offered

Free treatment for persons with speech defects is offered in the clinic which was reopened at 1 o'clock this afternoon at Lubbock sanitarium by the speech department of Texas Technological college. It will be open Thursday afternoon each week.

Miss Ruth Pirtle, head of the department, and Miss Annah Jo Pendleton and Richard Flowers of that department conduct the clinic, with medical assistance when necessary.

Persons with any impediment or defect in their speech have been invited to make appointments by calling the department.

The clinic was closed at end of the Tech spring semester.

Haven Is Offered To Pickers Here

Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds have been designated as a concentration point for itinerant cotton pickers who come to Lubbock seeking jobs on the South Plains, according to announcement late Wednesday by officials of the fair association.

Through arrangements with the fair association and the farm labor division of the U. S. Department of Labor the grounds were made available beginning last Sunday. Many are there now, many more are coming in and will continue to come in, for some time.

Department of labor agents in cities and towns down state, such as San Antonio, San Angelo, Abilene, Big Spring, Sweetwater and other centers, are advising pickers headed this way to go to the fair grounds in Lubbock.

The pickers were told that there was plenty of room at the grounds for camping, with water and other facilities. They were also advised that farmers would come there for help.

Already a large number of workers have been sent out to jobs, or have been taken from the grounds to cotton farms, from the new location.

More than 8700 books were published in England during the first half of 1936, nearly 3000 of them being works of fiction.

Legion Plans Organization

Invitation to members of Allen Bros. post of the American Legion to bring their sons to the semi-monthly meeting at the hall Monday night to discuss the organization of a squadron of the Sons of the Legion was extended today by A. C. (Jack) Jackson, post commander.

Kelley Nall, who is chairman of a committee to investigate and report on the need of such an auxiliary unit to the Legion post here, will recommend that it be organized with as little delay as possible, he told the commander.

First On South Plains

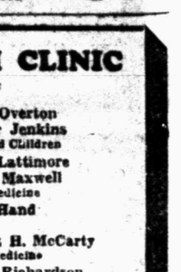

So far as local Legionnaires were informed, it would be the first such unit to be formed on the South Plains region, although the organization movement is spreading rapidly and several hundred of the squadrons already have been formed in various parts of the country.

While details of the organization remain for discussion, Nall expressed the belief that all sons from six years of age of Legionnaires should be qualified for the sons' organization. Preliminary inquiries, he said, reveal that there are fully as many sons eligible in Lubbock as their are members of Allen Bros. post, which has a roll call of approximately 250.

The sons organization, Nall was advised, already has become an important part of the Legion posts in cities where they have been organized. It is their chief function to foster principles of patriotism among those of their own generation, to prepare themselves for the part they are to take in public affairs, and in time to come, to step into the position now held by the Legion itself.

The matter, Jackson said, will be one of several of importance to come before the regular meeting of the post.

Making the grade

GROWING children with an abundance of energy usually do make the grade . . . and with ease.

Every thoughtful mother recognizes this fact . . . mothers know too that children need help to build and maintain blood strength.

Particularly is this true with those who have suffered some illness or who look pale . . . tire easily . . . are underweight or have lost their zest for food.

S.S.S. Tonic is especially designed to build-up children's health through the red-blood-cells, thus putting them in better condition to enjoy the food they eat and to regain lost weight . . . all which make for strength and vitality.

Help your child to "make the grade" by starting him or her on a course of S.S.S. Tonic now. There is no substitute for this time-tested remedy and no ethical druggist will suggest something "just as good." © S.S.S. Co.

The most modern manufacturing processes and the finest materials are employed in the making of Chambly Toiletries. For example, Chambly Face Powder is floated on satin to achieve its fine texture. From the standpoint of purity, Chambly Toiletries are as fine as any you can buy. You may use any and all of them, with complete confidence.

Note to Young Girls
Because of the high quality and purity of Chambly Toiletries, the Personality Ensemble is a perfect "first set" for any who are just beginning to use creams, lotions perfumes and other cosmetics. You will appreciate the convenience of a matched lustrous ensemble. And after you will want all of these ten Chambly toiletries, it is only reasonable for you to buy them all at one time. Especially when a sensational offer such as this saves you more than two-thirds of the regular price.

—And to Mothers
When your daughter buys her first creams, powders and other toiletries, you want her to use only those which will aid her to keep her teen-age complexion. Suggest Chambly Toiletries to her. They are made of fine, pure ingredients, and easily pass the strict quality and purity standards of both the manufacturers and the Walgreen Analytical Laboratory. And the Chambly Personality Ensemble is so complete, so modern, and in such good taste that she's sure to adore it.

Offer Strictly Limited! Act Now! Stock Experts Are Puzzled

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP) — The staggering shrinkage of some ten billion dollars in the total quoted value of securities listed in the stock exchange since August has set Wall street and Washington experts feverishly to re-examining the course of recovery.

It was no secret the curve of business volumes, after ending pretty steadily upward for some time, had leveled off since spring. The well-known fact that periods of leveling off, and even temporary setbacks, normally mark the course of recovery, had left business analysts fairly complacent.

Then Comes Slump

Then came the drastic slump in Wall street. Paper profits were glimmering as stocks like U. S. Steel tumbled $3 or $4 day after day. Mystification and consternation spread. War scares, European selling, and bear raids were discussed.

The selling appeared stemmed, at least for the time being, by the end of September, and business barometers well above a year ago were read and re-read hopefully.

It was noted that at the end of September the volume of freight rumbling over the nation's railways was the largest in seven years. Could business be bad? Obviously it was big.

The Associated Press weekly index of industrial activity stood at 102 per cent of the average for 1929 and 1930. This was well above the 96.4 per cent at the end of September last year, although it was off a good bit from the recovery peak of 108.6 per cent touches last May.

Stock Prices Tumble

But stock prices had tumbled to the lowest since 1935. In the short period between Aug. 14 and Sept. 15, the Associated Press average of 60 shares dropped from $70.60 to $53.70, or 24 per cent.

Explanations are still various and complex. Many economists and experts say to get anything like a clear picture, it is necessary to go back a year and view the problem in perspective.

In late 1936 and early 1937, prices generally were rising rapidly. There was talk of boom and inflation. The federal reserve board had moved to curtail potential credit supply. Chairman Landis of the SEC and President Gay of the stock exchange warned against a repetition of the excesses of 1929. Last spring President Roosevelt publicly expressed the opinion price increases in some products had been excessive.

Washington economists point out there has been a change in the character of government spending, that pump priming is no longer stressed, that the emphasis is now on necessary relief and long-lived projects. Only last week, President Roosevelt spoke of a balanced budget for the 1938-39 fiscal year.

Borrowing Curtailed

Particularly significant, as some see it, is the fact the treasury has been curtailing borrowing from banks for several months. When the treasury borrows from banks and spends, the money comes back to the banks as deposits. Since 90 per cent of our business is done by bank checks, the money supply is in effect increased.

Thus, the New Deal's program of managing recovery appears to have shifted from the potent stimulants of its earlier years. Credit has been left cheap but money is being pushed out by Washington more sparingly and in a different manner.

The stock market reached peaks earlier this year pretty much in a boomtime state of mind. Perhaps it went too high. At least it has had a sharp setback.

Last March 15, when prices and wages had been advancing and there was uneasiness in some quarters as to what was happening to the national economy, Chairman Eccles of the federal reserve board warned, "the upward spiral of wages and prices into inflationary price levels can be as disastrous as the downward spiral of deflation." He said wage increases should be of a nature to increase production and consumption through increased purchasing power, and the cure for increased prices is increased production.

Since May there has been a decrease in production. Some say this was to have been expected. Many business men complain government interference is hampering natural expansion, while government spokesmen insist activities against monopolistic controls practices and other evils are necessary and are hastening sound recovery.

'Home Sweet Home' For Mountain Family Of Nine

The plank roof of this open, one-room lean-to is home for nine members of the mountaineer Higgins family of Randolph county, W. Va. Gathered about their ancient cookstove and one sagging bed, the Higginses were discovered by Representative John W. Bosworth of Elkins, who has asked the State Department of Public Assistance to find better living quarters for them.

SMOKES THROUGH EYES

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., (AP) — When Charles Sisk of Council Bluffs huffs and puffs on a cigaret, smoke comes out of his eyes.

He holds his nose and exhales, making the smoke come out of the inside corners of his eyes. He doesn't like to do it very often because it makes his eyes water.

Officers For Group Named

Officers were elected at an organization meeting of dentists of the 19th congressional district at a dinner at Hilton hotel here Wednesday night.

Dr. J. B. McCorkle of Lubbock, chairman of the district organization, was elected president. Other officers selected were: Dr. Lee O. Rogers of Big Spring, president-elect; and Dr. K. R. Durham of Tahoka, secretary-treasurer. Dr. G. C. Turner of Lubbock previously had been chosen to represent the district at the meeting of the Texas State Dental society at Austin, Oct. 23.

Lubbock Is Headquarters

Lubbock was chosen as premanent headquarters. Meetings will be held every three months with the next one scheduled for Jan. 5. The meeting Wednesday night was in compliance with demands of the state association that the various districts organize into units which will facilitate choosing of delegates and solicitation of membership. Each dentist who is a member of the component group is eligible for membership in the state organization; but a member of the state organization automatically becomes affiliated with the component unit.

Drs. McCorkle, Rogers, Durham and Turner will attend the meeting at Austin, where an officers' organization of state and component groups will be formed.

Attending last night's meeting were: Drs. R. B. Hutchinson, Clyde C. Craig, Walter J Howard, Turner, C. M. Ballenger, and McCorkle, all of Lubbock; Drs. C. W. Deats, Rogers, and E. O. Ellington, all of Big Spring; Drs. W. J. Lloyd and T. P. Taylor, both of Plainview; Drs. M. G. Wood and William M. Orr, both of Littlefield; Dr. D. E. Young of Post; Dr. H. E. Grupe of Sudan; Dr. P. A. Green of Crosbyton; Dr. Ray Ross of Levelland; Dr. Durham of Tahoka; Dr. T. G. McCorkle of Ralls; and Dr. I. W. Hicks of Floydada.

Last Rites For Mrs. J. E. Gragg Will Be Held Today

ABERNATHY, Oct. 7, (Special)—Last rites for Mrs. J. E. Gragg, 44, will be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Abernathy First Baptist church. Mrs. Gragg died at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at her home four miles southeast of Abernathy.

Rev. C. C. Griffin of Olton, former pastor of the First church here, and Rev. W. H. Jackson of Abernathy will officiate. Burial will be in Abernathy cemetery, under direction of Sanders Funeral home of Lubbock.

Mrs. Gragg died after several weeks' illness. The family had lived in this vicinity eight years.

She is survived by her husband; one son, Jim Ned; a daughter, Ethel; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown of Abernathy; and two sisters, Mrs. Bob Beard of Beaumont and Mrs. Bud Goldston of Abernathy.

Hammett Funeral Services Are Held At Slaton Wednesday

SLATON, Oct. 7, (Special)—After services at the First Baptist church Wednesday morning, body of J. W. Hammett, 78, was buried in Englewood cemetery. Rev. W. F. Ferguson officiated at the church, of which he is pastor.

Hammett was born in Macon county, Ala., in September, 1859.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. W. O. Kinnison of Sweetwater, Mrs. T. J. Cox of Carbon, Mrs. Bertha Hastings of Slaton, and Mrs. V. S. Ford of Afton; and three sons, W. R. Hammett of Long Beach, Calif., S. G. Hammett of Stephenville, and J. E. Hammett of Slaton.

New Speedway Along Lake Shore

Stretching for miles along the lake front in the shadow of the city's skyscrapers, Chicago's new Lake Shore drive speedway is pictured above. Just inside the new roadway is the old drive, now relegated to slower and heavier vehicles. Along the new road will go the fast, through traffic north and south.

Former Fort Sumner Man Is Found Shot To Death

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 7 (AP) —Elmer E. Hamm, about 55, of Albuquerque and formerly of Fort Sumner, was found shot to death in a hotel room here last night.

A coroner's jury found death was the result of a "self-inflicted gunshot wound" near the heart.

Police said Hamm left an unsigned note saying: "The cause of this is sickness and booze and the law which has been the worst part of all."

Survivors include Hamm's widow, Mrs. Grace Hamm of Fort Sumner.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Funeral Rites For Mrs. Susan P. Cantrell Held At Slaton

SLATON, Oct. 7, (Special)—Body of Mrs. Susan P. Cantrell, 72, former resident of Slaton, was buried in Englewood cemetery Wednesday afternoon after services at the First Baptist church, at which Rev. W. F. Ferguson officiated.

Mrs. Cantrell was killed in an automobile mishap near Texarkana Sunday when en route to Washington, D. C. to visit a son. She was traveling with another son, Dr. W. C. Cantrell, who was seriously injured in the accident and who this afternoon remained in a critical condition.

Mrs. Cantrell moved to Texas from Tennessee at the age of 3. She moved to Slaton in 1916 and lived here until 1932 when she moved to San Angelo to live with Norman Cantrell, a son.

She is survived by seven sons, Newt Cantrell of Amherst, R. M. Cantrell of El Paso, Dr. Cantrell of Clifton, N. J., L. J. Cantrell of Washington, D. C., J. R. Cantrell of Hawthorne, Calif., Norman Cantrell of San Angelo, and Arthur Cantrell of Amarillo; and a daughter, Mrs. W. F. (Pearl) Bennett of Amherst.

EQUAL RIGHTS FOR WOMEN of China apparently means voluntary duty for many on the battle fronts. Here is a young Oriental girl performing the task of sentry. Others are reported manning rifles and larger guns in the front liner and sharpshooting at Japs from obscure places.

THINGS LOOK HAZY to these comely newcomers to Beaver College in Jenkintown, Pa. Upperclassmen had the "frosh" don rompers and bows as part of initiation to campus life. Left to right, Ellen Rafferty of Philadelphia, Mary Putnam of Syracuse, N. Y., and Gladys Rees of Pass-A-Grille, Fla.

'JOHNNY BEAU' is what marines call courtly, but iron-willed Brig. Gen. John C. Beaumont, commander of U. S. land forces in the Shanghai area. Only recently he landed there on the transport Chaumont with fresh forces to bolster U. S. marines already on guard.

AN UNEXPECTED SPECTACLE shortly after the close of Vienna's semi-annual trade fair was fire which swept through the Rotunda which housed the exposition, leaving twisted metal and ashes in its wake. Firemen are shown above, striving in vain to quench the blaze while a portion of the roof totters, ready to fall to the street. Police officials, estimating the loss at $3,200,000, investigated possible incendiarism.

HE'S THE RINGMASTER of Coach Ray Morrison's "Flying Circus" at Vanderbilt. Only senior in the backfield, Jimmy Huggins of Nashville, Tenn., can punt, pass and carry the pigskin. The Commodores' "mighty mite" plays quarterback, weighs 143 pounds, is a great open-field runner. This triple-threat back may be a potent factor in making Vanderbilt the leading Southern eleven.

Tech's Matadors Are Taking To Air

Perfect Slate For Several To Be Ruined

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 7.—The Texas Interscholastic league football parade rolled toward the halfway mark today, looking to a busy week-end to establish definite championship favorites, and at the same time thin out appreciably the teams boasting perfect records.

Twenty-two conference games, involving eleven districts, should furnish a fair index as to relative strength, but chief interest in most areas will rest on contests in which undefeated and untied teams figure as principals.

Four Games Stand Out

Four games stand out. One matches Highland Park of Dallas, and Sherman, a couple of powerhouse outfits that carry unsullied records. Another feature sends Paris against Sulphur Springs in a clash between unbeaten, untied teams, and in the same category is the battle between Bryan and Temple, whose joust headlines Central Texas football for the week.

Down in South Texas Robstown and San Benito risk their perfect records against each other.

District 2 has two conference games, with Graham playing at Electra and Childress at Vernon, and the slate is full in the turbulent oil belt, all ten teams seeing championship action, with the Sweetwater-San Angelo and Stephenville-Breckenridge tilts as standouts.

Two In Fort Worth Area

Ysleta and Fabens clash in a conference game in district 4 and two are on the schedule in the Fort Worth district, North Side meeting Masonic Home and Paschal battling Mineral Wells.

The fireworks start with a vim in the Dallas sector, Adamson clashing with Tech and Forest battling the district favorites, Woodrow Wilson.

Kilgore and Tyler clash in district 9 and three conference games are scheduled in district 10 with Athens at Jacksonville, Nacogdoches at Mexia and Henderson at Gaston.

In addition to the Bryan-Temple tilt, the Waco Tigers, boasting one of the state's best records, battle Waxahachie in a game counting in the standing; while Hillsboro plays at Corsicana.

Harlandale plays at Austin in the San Antonio district and Conroe at Milby in the Houston sector, while in the Rio Grande valley circuit Pharr-San Juan-Alamo and Donna blast off the conference lid in a battle at Donna.

There are ten inter-district tilts on the card and three of intersectional nature, Amarillo, looming dangerously in the state race once more, meeting Norman, Okla., at Amarillo in the feature.

Two teams play Shreveport elevens, Port Arthur's Yellow Jackets tangling with Byrd High and Marshall entertaining Fair Park.

The week's schedule in district one includes:

Friday: Matador at Plainview, Quanah at Borger, Greenville at Pampa, Thomas A. Edison (San Antonio) at Lubbock; Saturday: Norman, Okla., at Amarillo.

Cowboys And Rooters Leave For Loyola Affray Friday

ABILENE, Oct. 7 (AP) — Hardin-Simmons university football players and fans last night entrained for Los Angeles, where Friday night the Cowboys will play the top game on their 1937 schedule, with the Loyola university Lions.

The party numbered 61 persons, including 29 players and Coach Frank Kimbrough and Athletic Manager Gib Sandefer. The squad was virtually free of injuries.

Kimbrough predicted his team will make a good showing if the first string can make it through the game without casualties.

The Cowboys are shorter on high class reserves than last season.

Hardin-Simmons will carry a record of ten straight victories into the game, its last defeat having been administered by Texas A. & M., 3-0, last October.

Mississippi State Will Be Primed, Says Aggie Coach

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 7 (AP) —Coach Homer Norton, predicting a Mississippi state team "primed" for his Texas Aggies, at Tyler Saturday, pushed his Cadets through scrimmage today.

Freshmen provided the attack against the Aggies, and were defense buffers when the varsity took the ball.

Fullback Jim Shockey participated in the scrimmage but two others injured in the Manhattan game, quarterback Dick Vitek and End Rankin Britt, remained inactive.

Pass Offense Stressed By Red Raiders

The Red Raiders can hardly be more air-minded after their plane ride to Detroit than they were after their drill yesterday, with a trio of hurlers throwing the ball to all nooks and crannies, said passers being Barnett, Holmes and Smith.

Maybe it was Coach Pete Cawthon's idea of getting his Red Raiders air-conscious before the aerial raid on University of Detroit. At any rate, the boys went through a very neat-looking pass offense and defense drill.

They've heard that Gus Dorais, coach at Detroit and forever put down as one of the game's greatest passers—he used to throw 'em to Knute Rockne at Notre Dame—also encourages a lot of forward heaving among his Titans, and the Techs aim to fight passes with passes.

Captain Red Ramsey was turning in the most finished job of catching Gene Barnett's bullet slants yesterday. But the other ends, and halfbacks, were catching 'em too. At the same time, the Tech lads looked quite good on the defensive end of forward passing. Particularly did Miles Chapman, Bobby Holmes, Elmer Tarbox, Frank Guzick, Rex Williams and Ed Smith look good on defense.

Holmes and Smith divided time with Barnett on the passing end, but there is little comparison between the "pitching" of the trio. Barnett, in case you hadn't heard, is about the snappiest thing in the way of a passer that has come Tech's way in many a moon. In fact, you will hear on all sides that Barnett's passing is the best in Tech's history. They are rating him above Jim Neill, who was quite a chunker himself. Barnett throws a pass to suit the occasion. He can throw a light, feathery pass that is like catching a basketball lob when the coast is clear. He can pull the trigger and shoot a bullet pass to the button of his receiver when speed is necessary.

As a rule, there are two kinds of passers—one who "floats" the ball through the air, very straight but easy to snag, and (2) one who bears down and rifles it to the exact target. Barnett is a combination of the two types of passers. Furthermore, he places his shot where the offense IS and where the defense AIN'T! Catch on?

There was considerable other work yesterday. Berl Huffman brought over his freshman players, who had been coached according to University of Detroit ways, so far as scout reports permitted, and they, the freshman, ran a bunch of Titan plays at the Red Raiders. Some of the plays were stopped, some weren't. There are a few on that fish team that Dorais would like to have Saturday afternoon, to say nothing of Cawthon's likes and dislikes.

To top off the afternoon's work, the Raiders ran a few ground plays, adding a couple or three new ones to the repertoire.

Cawthon said all his regulars and first string replacements were in good physical condition, and capable of playing 60 minutes of football. He'll take only 25 on the trip, but they'll be able bodied men.

The squad leaves by train tonight, will change to airplanes Friday morning for the rest of the jaunt to Detroit. They'll return to Fort Worth by plane Sunday, and arrive home by train early Monday morning.

Cliff Melton Has Big Job Facing Him

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—When the Yankees go out, they go "all out" as the boys say at the tracks . . . Young Mister Melton has his work cut out for him if he wants to rub out the memory of that sixth inning yesterday . . . Giant fans are still shuddering . . . And why not? . . . After Bartell's miscue on Mancuso's throw it sounded like the Fourth of July . . . You can have Gomez and DiMaggio . . . We liked Lazzeri's execution of the hit and run in the sixth . . . He picked off a high, inside ball and hit past the runner . . . The perfect hit and run . . . And he added a homer and a swell play on a ground ball in the fourth . . . The Yanks will miss him (any team would.)

Time changes everything as Eddie Windsor has been heard to remark . . . It was back of the batting cage during Yankee practice. . . . A candid camera bug ran up and asked Earle Combs, Yank coach, to watch the birdie . . . "You don't want me," said Earle, "you want the ballplayers" . . . A decade ago Earle was the beau ideal of outfielders . . . No gardener could make the hard ones look easier than the Kentucky colonel . . . Today he's the grey-haired gent that hits fungoes to the outfielders . . .

Gomez got a terrific bang out of hitting a ball into the right field stands in practice . . . None of the Yanks could remember him doing it before . . . As he stepped up to the plate to take another cut, a wag said the Giants would play for him on the running track . . . "Ah," said El Goofy, "I'll fool 'em. I'll bunt." The boy can pitch . . . When he uncoils that high hard one it looks like a string stretched between the mound and the plate. . . . But all he talks about is his hitting.

Cubs Win Opening Game In City Series; Win Streak Ended

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Cubs lashed Ted Lyons and Bill Dietrich for 15 hits yesterday to win the opening game of the Chicago City series, 7 to 3, behind the five-hit hurling of Tex Carleton, accounting for their first victory in the event since 1931.

The Cubs spotted the Sox a two-run lead in the second inning, then opened up with an attack that drove 37-year-old Lyons out of action in the sixth inning, and did Dietrich no favors the rest of the way.

A crowd of 14,589 in Comiskey Park, home of the Sox, saw the South Siders vanquished.

The triumph ended the Sox series winning streak at nine straight.

CAPTAIN IS CHOSEN

DALLAS, Oct. 7. (AP)—The Southern Methodist university Mustangs will be captained by Keith Ranspot in their game against the Washington university Bears in St. Louis Saturday, it was announced today by Coach Matty Bell. Ranspot is a senior wingman from Weatherford.

Lubbock High Taking Turns Under Lights

Lubbock High school took a turn of practice under the lights at Texas Tech field last night to accustom their eyes to play under the arcs.

Running through plays, passing and scrimmaging, Coach Weldon Chapman's charges showed improvement over workout held earlier this week. What minor bruises that cropped up against Capitol Hill Saturday night were noticeably lacking.

Injuries incurred previous to the Sooner game, however, have not responded so readily to treatment and are hampering some of the boys. Herb Leaverton, big, as Westerners go, played in the contest at Oklahoma City, but his fractured hand bothers nim.

Injuries No Better

Harold Parsons and Dutchy Cawthon, listed among scrimmage injuries two weeks ago, have not completely recovered. Cawthon's trouble is worse than first expected to the extent of a misplaced rib.

The Thomas A. Edison High school eleven, Lubbock's foe under the arcs at Tech field Friday night, probably will arrive here late today.

In three games the Westerners have accounted well for themselves, although Coach Chapman is constantly harrowed with thoughts of lack of weight and reserve material, and, now, with injuries.

Only at guard is the squad sufficiently blessed with plenty of men to raise much of a row for places. Lubbock has spotted opponents from 3 to 12 pounds to the man in each of its three encounters to date. Physical condition of the boys has gone far in their success in those games.

New York Dutchman Is Victor In Mad Scramb'e Staged At Auditorium Last Night

Emerging as survivors from the mad scramble of a six-man "rassle royal," Vic Weber and Bill Cazzell went to it in a three-fall main event at the Auditorium last night that had both principals, as well as a hall full of fans, gasping before the New York Dutchman finally put over the winning punch.

Sled Allen's show last night was a riot of color, a medley of action, including five wrestling events and a "big time" acrobatic show. At any rate, the Edwards kids, boy and girl, ought to be in the big time. They, particularly the little girl, staged an acrobatic, or contortionist act the like of which hasn't been equalled here. It drew thundering applause from the crowd, which marveled at the apparent lack of bones in the child's body.

As a surprise prelude to his wrestling show, Allen presented a ten-minute teaser between Don Rainer and Bob Cummings. It was ten minutes of fast wrestling, clever wrestling, with no blows struck.

Then the battle royal, with Dutch Mantell as master of ceremonies.

Substituting for Tetsure Higammi, veteran Japanese mat artist who was scheduled to make his debut, was Bill Cazzell. With him in the ring were the two sailors, Watkins and Moran, with Buck Lipscomb, Frank Wolfe and Vic Weber in other corners.

Lipscomb and Moran came back out for the regulation preliminary, and it was some battle. Buck had the best of it for the first five minutes, then Moran unhooked his right fist and it landed, as expected, in the region of Lipscomb's heart. Buck was almost knocked out on several occasions, but managed to stay, and pay some of it back. It ended in a wild slugging melee, a draw, setting the stage for a main event that ought to be good when and if it is scheduled.

Watkins, Wolfe Draw

Watkins and Wolfe provided the comedy act in their 20-minute semi-final draw, but it was something to see, the way they maneuvered and made faces.

Mrs. Opal Hill Is Convinced That She Will Capture Title

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 7. (AP)—After 12 years of fruitless sniping at the Women's National golf championship, Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City entered the quarter-finals today, convinced that "this is my year."

In advancing to the quarter-finals, the Kansas City star ousted a former champion, Marion Hollins of California, and Marion Miley of Cincinnati, a pre-tournament favorite.

Opposes Mrs. Lifur

Her opponent today was Mrs. Gregg Lifur of Pacific Palisades, Cal.

Mrs. Lifur, victor yesterday over Barbara Ransom of Stockton, Cal., 2 and 1, defeated Mrs. Hill in the Western Amateur in 1933.

In other matches today, Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page of Greensboro, N. C., medalist, engaged Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, Texas; Kathryn Hemphill, from Columbia, S. C., played Mrs. Charles Newbold of Wichita, Kan., and Patty Berg of Minneapolis met Mrs. Willard E. Shepherd, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Shepherd erased lanky Clara Callendar of Del Monte, Cal., yesterday, 2 up. Miss Berg trimmed Hilda Urbantke of Austin, Texas, 3 and 1, and Mrs. Newbold erased Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, Philadelphia, 2 and 1.

Mrs. Dan Chandler, five down at the turn, overcame the deficit to defeat Mrs. R. M. Torgerson of Queens Valley, N. Y., 1 up in 21 holes, and Mrs. Page won an impressive 5 and 3 victory over Jean Bauer of East Providence, R. I.

Miss Hemphill squeezed out a 2 up decision over Mrs. Jane Cothran Jameson, Greenville, S. C.

Five Class B Teams Scrap

District 4, Class B takes it easy Friday with only five of its teams seeing action in three games, while District 5 gets all its members into swing for the first time this season.

District 5 powerhouses and weak sisters will attempt to jumble an otherwise peaceable and uncomplicated situation. Two affrays bring together squads with unblemished records, while Ralls and Olton are fighting to climb out of the cellar.

Probable feature attraction will take place Friday night at Slaton, with last year's champs from Littlefield seeking the Tiger pelt. Both have a brace of wins to their credit. Coach Bill Sanders's Wildcats looked impressive in their slaughter of the Lubbock Cowhands last week. The Hamilton clan has looked good in all its games.

Tahoka Meets Littlefield

Rivalling the Slaton-Littlefield tiff is that between Brownfield and Crosbyton on the latter's grid. The Cublets and Coach M. G. Cottingham's boys likewise have won their first two starts.

Coach Harlow takes his proteges to Levelland to tangle with the district leading Lobo eleven under the arcs. The Bulldogs, although definitely out of the race, are making it hot for the favorites along the line.

The Jackrabbit-Longhorn tussle will be played at Olton Friday afternoon.

Paducah Opens Race

Other two teams engage intersectional foes to complete the card. Bowie High school of El Paso will be guests of Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes. Coach Walker Nichols' Cowhands go to Post for the afternoon.

Paducah opens its conference schedule at home against Silverton, who has one title game to its credit, in District 4. Quitaque, beaten in one start, helps Lockney inaugurate championship on Lockney's field.

Matador steps into the Class A Plainview on Bulldog sod.

Newark Bears Are Victors In Little World Series

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 7. (AP)—If the New York Yankees don't win that big World series they can't blame it on their International league farm hands, the Newark Bears, for the bushers showed 'em how by wrapping up and tucking away the little World series championship.

While the "Papa" Yanks are out in front by winning the first game from the Giants, the "Baby" Yanks won their laurels the hard way — and proved their claims to the title of the "wonder club of the minors."

They clinched the championship on a muddy diamond here last night by romping over the Columbus Red Birds, American association champs, by 10 to 4, for their fourth straight victory. The Red Birds had won the first three at Newark, but the Bears had the punch in the pinch after the trek west and Columbus didn't have a chance.

Tech Opponents Prosper

By Collier Parris

Nerts to you, Elmer, and your World Series dope. We've been your "cousin" long enough, because you've cleaned up betting on the teams we picked to lose. If it hadn't been for your curiosity, we wouldn't have attempted to pick a winner. Shoo, get, scram! We've more important things to do than worry about New York's intramural baseball series.

FOR A NEW experience and to a strange city the Texas Tech Red Raiders embark tonight, with a hard football game at the other end. They go by plane to Detroit, where they've never been before. Flying will be a new experience, too, for about three-fourths of the squad.

But, after all, there should be some fun, sport and adventure in football.

Football's founders and early proponents would turn over in their graves if they could hear the thundering of the multitudes, the clinking of silver, the commerce, the big business that now attends a game they invented as a sport for boys attending school. It wasn't so long ago that President White of Cornell, hearing about a proposed football combat between University of Michigan and Cornell, to be played at Ann Arbor, issued his famous edict: "I will not permit 30 men to travel 400 miles merely to agitate a bag of wind!" But from that proposed combat emerged intersectional football, a sample of which is in the immediate offing.

Tech's team leaves tonight for Detroit, 1325 miles by train, well more than 1,000 miles as the planes fly, to agitate a bag of wind with University of Detroit.

In view of the final scores of their last two games, the Red Raiders do not exactly rank as favorites, especially on a strange field and in view of Detroit's record so far this season.

CAMERA FOR GUN

If you're a lover of nature and sports, don't miss the opportunity to see Bill McMillan's moving pictures, most of them in color, recording his recent month's trip to the Canadian wild game country. McMillan will show his pictures tonight at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the engineering building at Texas Tech. All of his friends, all sportsmen and nature lovers are invited, and it's a treat, sure enough. We saw a preview of the show the other night, and we're still gasping. He has nearly a thousand feet of very fine film.

Coach Gus Dorais' Titans have played and won two games this season, both by quite decisive scores. They opened against the Hillsdale Teachers, who probably rank in Michigan as any of the various Teachers College teams rank in Texas. The final score was 60-0, and Dorais used his regulars less than half the time. Last week Detroit bumped off Western State Teachers, who rank considerably higher than Hillsdale, 20 to 7, and from the reports we have seen the score could have been considerably larger.

So it would appear that Dorais, who is down in history as one of football's greatest strategists, has a pretty fair ball club this season. He has, for instance, seven of the lads who played in the Detroit lineup which beat Tech 12-7 here in 1935. Of these, Andy Farkas, great running and kicking halfback, and Fullback Piper, are senior regulars this year, and this boy Farkas, if you remember, was somebody come even as a sophomore. Scouting reports say he's one of the best in the country, and advise Tech to "look out for him." Piper and a halfback named Palumbo, are regarded as first class college players. In the line are five seniors who have been in Lubbock, and who have played against the Red Raiders.

Dorais, you know, was selected coach of the national All-Stars who turned back the national professional champions, the Green Bay Packers, in the Chicago classic on the first of last month. Dorais, who quarterbacked on Notre Dame's great teams back in the 'teens of the century, is down in everybody's book as one of the smartest coaches in the racket. A great passer then — Knute Rockne was his receiver—Dorais, small, dark, gentle and modest, still believes in the aerial game. Scouting reports say that the Titans may pass "at any time and from any place, even from their own goal line on first, second or third downs, or all three."

Texas Tech is up against a big job in Detroit Saturday. If the Raiders win, it'll be a fine feather in their caps, you may be sure.

HOW ABOUT TECH'S other opponents and their records so far this season? It was a tough schedule in the beginning; it's filled with tough games from now on. With but one exception, Tech's opponents this year are faring better so far than Tech in the matter of games won and lost.

Arizona State of Flagstaff, for instance, Tech's first foe, after losing in Lubbock, played Whittier college of California to a 9-9 deadlock. Whittier is considered rather good. California Tech bowed to the Lumberjacks under a 33-7 shelling. So the 'Jacks have won two, lost one.

University of Texas, opening with a 25-12 win from Tech, fell before Louisiana State last week, so the Longhorns have a .500 standing.

University of Montana, before defeating Tech here last Saturday night, had won from Whitman college of Washington, 20 to 7, so the Grizzlies are undefeated so far.

After the game with Detroit comes one of the season's toughest—University of Arizona. The Wildcats have played but one game, defeating the Tempe

Teachers, 20 to 6 last week. Reports say the score should have been greater. Arizona plays Oklahoma A. & M., another of Tech's opponents, Saturday.

University of New Mexico is the only club which hasn't won. The Lobos played a fine game but lost to Denver university, 0-12 last week. Ted Shipkey, installing a new system at Albuquerque, has lots of fine material. It'll be here on Oct. 23 for Tech's third and last Border conference game.

Oklahoma A. & M., whom Tech meets at Stillwater Oct. 30, has started out streng, winning from Wichita university, a team that drubbed Tech last year, 14-6, and defeating Creighton, another of Tech's 1937 opponents, 16-13 last week. The Aggies, under Ted Cox, with 19 lettermen back in harness, promise considerable trouble.

Loyola of New Orleans, winner from Tech last year and the Raiders' Nov. 5 enemy, has won one and lost one. The victory was over Spring Hill, 19-0, and the loss to Catholic university, 0-14.

Duquesne university, coming here for the Armistice Day celebration, is undefeated in two games, having wop from Waynesburg 33-7 and from West Virginia Wesleyan, a power in its sector, 39-0.

The Centenary Gentlemen have played four games, and have not been defeated. They got an early start, winning from Louisiana college 6-0 in their Sept. 16 opener, then two days later played Louisiana Normal, the game resulting in a "major upset," a scoreless tie. Oklahoma City university fell to Centenary in a 33-0 game, and you know what happened when the Gents played S. M. U. last week. In case you've forgotten, the score was 6-0, Gents.

That leaves Creighton, Tech's Thanksgiving Day opponents here. Creighton, undefeated until it met Hardin-Simmons late last season, had another good club, although it lost its second start to Oklahoma A. & M. by the margin of a field goal, 13-16. It had won its opener, 6-0, from St. Benedicts.

The Classic Coat
as worn by the popular Columbia Artist
. . . Frances Drake

You can see for yourself that Miss Drake is justifiably happy about her favorite casual coat. She chose it for its simplicity of line—achieved by intricate back seaming. Her slim waistline is defined with a double row of buttons, while the notched fur collar emphasizes the trend for Tailored Youth! There's a vestee inside the collar that promises warmth on brisk days. Knowing that it's a popular screen favorite's choice, Wards bring to you copies of this Frances Drake original, which was designed for her by one of the country's leading fashion stylists. You may wear it in wool and Camels hair, nub or boucle fabrics in any of these colors: Black, brown, green, tan or rust. Collared with Caracul, French Beaver* or Sealine*. Sizes 12 to 20. $24.75

BROWNSVILLE, Oct. 7—If it is true today, as it was when Grandpap smoked Sweet Caps at Manila Bay with Dewey, that transportation makes a city, then look out, New York, Houston and Los Angeles, for Brownsville!

For when it comes to transportation, Brownsville, capital of Cameron county and the Rio Grande Valley's largest city, is plumb broke out with it.

Always an important border point with Southern-Pacific lines running in and out of it like a family of prairie dogs run in and out of their holes, Brownsville today, amigos, is a shipping port and the most important air center in Texas.

Further than that, Cameron county, with only some 900 square miles within its borders, has well over 200 miles of paved roads and all of them, some way, somehow, connect with Brownsville!

These guys down here have got all the transportation facilities known to man—including shank's mare, hossback and roller skates.

LET'S forget about the multiple rail and highway facilities. Let's admit that they're here in a big way. Neither is unusual and many cities have both in fullness comparable to that of Brownsville's.

But we can't forget the great, sprawling, expensive airport, or the equally as great and more expensive—if not as sprawling—turning basin.

There's not another city in the land of Brownsville's 24,000 population which can match the two together!

LOCATED roughly speaking, about seven miles north of this Tip o' Texas metropolis is the Brownsville Municipal airport.

It cost in the neighborhood of $1,500,000 and Brownsville taxpayers paid the bill without squawking, even though they knew in advance that the port and many of its handsome hangars and its administration building were to be leased to Pan-American Airways for $10 per year.

But before you wince, look at this:

Pan-American located its Western headquarters at the Brownsville Municipal airport.

It added to the physical properties.

It dumped into Brownsville a highly paid personnel of experts of all kinds who, in turn, spend a payroll of $426,000 per annum right where they get their paychecks.

And on top of that, it made Brownsville the clearing point for all Mexican and most of its South and Central American business. Folks flying to and from our neighboring Latin-American countries and the north and east have to make Brownsville.

And so does the mail!

Did Brownsville make a good deal on its million and a half dollar airport?

Any kid in the sixth grade can figure that out.

Now let's take the Port of Brownsville.

Located a couple of miles from that platinum set diamond-studded airport is the turning basin, connecting Brownsville with the Gulf of Mexico.

It wasn't there five years ago. It was only a dream.

But it's there now. 26 feet deep, 1,200 feet long and more than half that wide and today big boats can and do dock, discharge and take on valuable cargo and give Brownsville, the Rio Grande Valley and northeastern Mexico those cheap freight rates which come only with the water.

PORTS used to happen, but now, like cities, they are built. And the Brownsville port was built first by the vision of some of the city's leaders, next by their courage and perseverance and lastly with the aid of that rich guy, Uncle Sam'l.

Less than five years ago, Brownsville voted bonds in the sum of something like four million dollars to get started on the port deal.

All but $2,000,000 of the total amount of bonds was cancelled and the aid of the government, via PWA, WPA or XYZ, was secured.

The $6,000,000 Brownsville port with a vast warehouse 800-plus feet long and twice as wide as Martha Raye's grin, is the result.

And it's lined with a couple of good sized compresses already, too, although it has been open only about a year!

Brownsville is, as everyone knows, a border town.

A lot of its buildings testify to the fact—as do the features and complexions of a lot of its citizens.

But it is different from many other border towns in that its citizens have refused to let well enough alone; have refused to sit back and wait for improvements to come tomorrow.

As a result it is the most stable of all the Mexican border towns outside of El Paso and, in the last few years, it has shown more progress than any of them—including El Paso.

Among other things, it is a singularly clean—physically and morally—border town and its Mexican neighbor across the bridge—Matamoros—is likewise. As Brownsville has little crime, so does Matamoros, although there are 10,000 people living in it and 16,000 others in its immediate district. Americans—tourists included—can and do go to Matamoros without fear of being robbed or even gypped anywhere save at the toll bridge which, like all toll bridges on the border, is American owned. And that's something which cannot be said of any other border hookup. The Plainsman knows about and he's seen 'em all outside of Tia Juana and Agua Caliente!

On top of all these virtues, Brownsville is a city of beautifully appointed and meticulously kept homes—and you can't charge all of that up to the climate and an abundance of water for irrigation purposes!

OF course, Brownsville has its drawbacks. It's no Utopia and the business of making ends meet is quite as tricky here as it is elsewhere.

The Plainsman not only wouldn't take all its stately palms and all its varied agricultural surroundings if he could get, instead, about 160 acres of good cateclaw loam out where the wind blows free.

But since the citizenship of Brownsville started less than a score of years ago with little and has made much of it, we say as Texans, let's give the boys credit!

After all, Brownsville is in our great state and whatever successes it has are ours, too!

PICKUPS. A couple of Lubbock boys are playing a part in the advancement of the Valley . . . They are Bob Austin and Jim Barrow, who in addition to their citrus holdings are building a swellelegant tourist courts between here and Harlingen . . . The Plainsman saw it today and, named the Rose Mary Courts, it's nearing completion . . . The average yearly rainfall here is 28 inches but you can find citizens a-plenty who'll tell you they've seen it rain as much as 14 inches in 24 hours . . . There has been only one costly hurricane in Brownsville in more than 60 years . . . Those killed were further on up the Valley and "asked for it" when they got outside during the heavy blow.

Note to Ellsworth J. Parsons: Mister Penney has two daughters living here and both of them have right tidy looking shacks in which to lay their weary heads . . . One of them lives neighbors to R. B. Creager, longtime GOP boss of Texas, who has a house that looks like a Carnegie library. . . . Note to Dick Mims: The Plainsman went through your old home town of Pharr today but couldn't tell it from Donna or San Juan. . . . Ain't it remarkable the way these Valley towns look alike? . . . Note to Don Mitchell: I'm not ready to pass judgment yet, but so far I am inclined to agree with your statement that the Rio Grande Valley is considerably this side of heaven!

THIS is the only section in the world The Plainsman has ever seen which boasts rural and small town schools more attractive and ambitious appearing than those on the Plains. . . . There must be millions of dollars invested in education plants hereabouts. . . . There's a raft of Oklahoma people living in the Valley, which statement will be Owen McWhorter's cue to remark that this ought to be a lucrative field for a criminal defense lawyer! . . . The Missouri-Pacific railroad splits most important lower Valley towns, just as the T&P divides Abilene. . . . The government still maintains Ft. Ringgold, at Rio Grande City, as a cavalry outfit, but has thoughtfully added an airport and some planes. . . . Our next peeks at Valley shenanigans will be through keyholes at Harlingen and McAllen . . . Adios!

CAST OF CHARACTERS

KATHLEEN O'SHAN—heroine, writer of greeting card verse.

BOB McTAVISH—hero, detective story writer.

PAT—the janitor who played Cupid.

The DUCHESS—patron of surrealist art.

PROFESSOR BRACEY—Egyptologist.

Yesterday: While Bob endeavors to evade the attentions of the Duchess he ponders the question whether Professor Bracey is really an Egyptologist.

CHAPTER VI

Bob had occasion to ask himself this question about the professor more than once during the afternoon. The tall Egyptologist had immediately sought out Kathleen, and the rest of the time he proceeded to monopolize her so that no one else had a chance to say anything to her.

Several times Bob saw her glance his way as though she hoped he would rescue her, but there was no way for him to escape the Duchess, who kept him persistently at her side, hanging on his arm and laughing up at him in the most provocative manner. She lavished caresses on the unresponsive Schmatz and chattered about art and Bob's writing and how much she was going to enjoy having him for a neighbor, until his head swam trying to keep up with her.

"I can see how you can write red-blooded he-man tales," she said, dropping down on the couch Pat had moved so regularly. "You're so virile and so romantic-looking yourself. Do sit down and tell me about yourself."

Bob looked down at her hair with a little laugh, smothering a desire to tweak the straying locks. "It's because I like to eat, lady," he told her, edging away a little. "There isn't anything but the desire to live that would make me slay as many men as I do—if you get what I mean." He tried to turn it off jestingly, but found it hard to disregard the look in the woman's long-lashed eyes. A dangerous woman, he decided. One he'd hate to have on his trail.

But if the Duchess was conscious of his uneasiness, the Duchess did not show it. She only took his hand in both her slender ones and sighed. "You can't think how lonely I really am. That's why I'm always reaching out for friendship, for someone I can trust and in whom I can confide. That's why I liked you the minute I saw you. You seemed so honest and different somehow."

"Chatter!" thought Bob as he looked at her. "This is getting too much. I'd better beat it while I can."

"I'm all of that, lady," he laughed. "And now I must be taking my pup out for his afternoon run. If I don't he'll be tearing around so, the janitor'll probably request us to move. Thanks for asking us to your party."

He put the dog down and started for the door. Then he paused. He'd hunt up Kathleen first and tell her he would see her later, and make his escape. He wouldn't be snagged into such a mess again. If necessary he'd hang out a smallpox sign to warn off the Duchess. The less he saw of her the better. Pat had had her number all right when he said such a frowsy head likely topped a lot of mischief.

But it was one thing to wish to talk to Kathleen and another to do it. The professor had her shut off in a small corner that was intended for only two. She, too, had been having rather a difficult time of it. At first she was flattered by the preference of the older man, especially as she was still feeling squelched by the calm way the Duchess had captured Bob and borne him off, and irritated at Bob for letting her do it. But there was something about the smoothspoken professor with his flashing black eyes and insinuating smile that sent a little ripple of fear across her mind. Who was this mysterious person who talked so glibly of famous people and places, who seemed to have crowded so much into his lifetime?

"Are you pleased to make my acquaintance or not, my dear?" the professor was asking her, leaning closer.

"Well—oh, yes, of course." She smiled up at him. "You see that's partly why I wanted to come to the city. In Gloversville we didn't have a chance to meet many interesting people. It was all very narrow and conventional, you know." Her eyes strayed to where the Duchess and Bob had been sitting.

The professor's eyes followed her glance and he asked, "You know the young man the Duchess seems so interested in? Perhaps he came from your home town, too?"

"Oh no," answered Kathleen. "I never saw Mr. McTavish until he rented a studio here. He's very nice and his dog has such a cute, yearning look."

"Yes, yearning is the word." The professor's tone was sarcastic. "The pooch yearns for nothing so much as to take a slice out of me, for some unknown reason. That's what makes me question the niceness of his master. Dogs often reflect their owners, you know. But then the Duchess seems to like him well enough already."

"What do you mean?" Kathleen's expression frankly showed her concern.

"Women like the Duchess, my dear, collect men just as they add jewels to their collections. She's still young, interesting looking and has plenty of money. Enough said. Has she told you about her emerald yet? No! It ranks up with the Hope diamond and some of the crown jewels of Europe. You'll hear of it in time. At the present she's more interested in the young man, and when the Duchess sets her mind on acquiring anything, she gets it."

Kathleen straightened up. "I don't know why you're telling me all this," she said coldly. "I hardly know either our hostess or Mr. McTavish, and of course it wouldn't mean a thing to me if they did become interested in each other." In spite of herself her lips quivered a little as she said it, and the lonely feeling came back with a rush.

It had been so different since that day Bob's battered desk had been carried up the stairs, and she had grown to listen for Schmatz's scampering feet. But of course this rich, fascinating woman would be more interesting than herself. At any rate the worldly wise professor didn't seem to mind it. She turned to him with her best smile.

"At least, Professor Bracey, I feel you're my friend, aren't you?"

"Yes." He lifted her hand and touched his lips to the soft palm.

MUSSOLINI'S DEMOCRACY

If you can make your own definitions, you can make any statement in the world and get away with it. So when Mussolini declares in Germany that Italy and Germany are "the soundest democracies that exist," it is necessary to look at his definition of the word democracy.

"Elsewhere," he says, "politics are dominated by the great powers of capitalism, by secret societies and political groups which work against each other under the pretext of the so-called inalienable rights of humanity."

If you accept that statement, and accept the corollary that Hitler and Mussolini really embody, in all unselfishness, the hidden will of the masses, you may be able to accept the statement. Most Americans, however, will continue to define democracy, and to practice it, in the traditional manner.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 7 — Highbrows are always going around sneering about the obviousness of the cinema, and its threadbare situations, its cliches and stereotyped plots. I am getting pretty tired of all such carping and cavil, and I say that if the highbrows don't like the familiar devices of our movies let them go to see only German and Russian films, which nobody can make head or tail of.

Movie producers found out long ago that the public wants dependable pictures. Victor McLaglen must be a diamond-in-the-rough. Fans would be bewildered if Eleanor Powell were not a small-town gal who dances her way to big-time stardom on Broadway. In westerns the most daring innovation any director dares introduce is NOT to have the hero's father get killed. And so on and on.

Musicals are all pretty much alike. Football pictures are practically identical. Comedies are stuffed with fine old gags. But so far as audiences are concerned, familiarity breeds content. We moviegoers like to start laughing early when we sense a favorite joke coming up. And it's always comforting to know that the big game will be won thrillingly in the last minute of the last quarter.

A Nice Nap

One reason I like double features is that I can go to sleep in the middle of the first one, wake up in the middle of the second, make some mental adjustments for the change of locale and the substitution of a few players—and still see a show that is par in entertainment. If you don't snore, try this fascinating game some time. The least you'll gain will be 90 minutes of shut-eye.

There is much to be said for the cliche in flickers. For one thing, it saves us a lot of thinking, and who goes to the movies to think? Also it saves time. A villain can be introduced in three seconds by showing a man kicking at a dog. When you see a woman sewing tiny garments you know right away that she has been reading about herself in the gossip columns.

To denote the passage of time, leaves fall from a calendar. Or maybe they fall from a tree, and snow falls, and rain falls, and birds twitter in the tree again—and a year has gone. Well, it has to be done somehow, and surely that is no less artful a device than the brief lowering of a curtain on a stage.

For endings these days, couples seldom clinch in silhouette against a setting sun. I always liked the sunset clinch; it had finality. Directors are getting so worried about hackneyed sequences that they're concluding pictures by showing blissful lovers reading books or playing cribbage. An ending like that is very unsatisfactory because it leaves you with the hunch that there was a clinch finish and the censors chopped it out.

There still is plenty of familiar dialog in use, however, and it permits one to pick up the thread of the situation as soon as he enters a theater. For example, you know exactly how far the romance has progressed when the man says, "You're afraid?—afraid of me?" And the girl answers, "No—afraid of myself."

Old Movie Customs

George Jean Nathan, jeering at the movies some time ago, named some of his pet cliches. He said, "No country girl ever wears shoes and stockings. Wall Street men always receive news that they have lost their fortunes while their wives are giving balls.

"No man ever appears in his club save in evening clothes. In all card games, someone cheats. In all fights in western dance halls, the lamp is broken. All evil plots in Russia are hatched by the Grand Duke Boris (assisted by an adventuress named Olga) and are ultimately set at naught by an artist named Serge.

"All women powdering their faces before boudoir mirrors suddenly behold in the mirrors, to their wide-eyed horror, the villain entering the room.

"All hallways contain grandfathers' clocks. The only periodical ever to be found on the library tables in fashionable English country houses is Photoplay Magazine."

Question Of Popular Referendum To Take This Country Into War Certain To Be Big Issue

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. — The question whether a popular referendum shall be required to take this country into war will almost certainly be a major issue on the floors of Congress within the next few months.

Last May, as reported in these dispatches, Congressman Louis Ludlow of Indiana had gathered 100 signatures for a petition to discharge from the House Judiciary Committee his resolution for a constitutional amendment which would require that the people vote on any proposed declaration of war.

Today he has 185 such signatures. This means that the proposed amendment, assuming Ludlow is correct in his assurance that he has enough additional signatures in sight to make up the necessary 218, will come before the House by February or March.

Subsequent processes of adding it to the Constitution would include passage by two-thirds vote in Senate and House and ratification by three-fourths of the states. House passage would require 290 votes if all members were on hand.

Heavy drive will be placed behind the proposal. A national committee of veteran, church, farmer, labor, war mother and other leaders is being formed to lend weight. Proponents think they can mow down opposition by insisting that America mustn't be asked to "save the world for democracy" again without some democratic process for deciding whether the American section of democracy is interested.

Ludlow's amendment wouldn't apply in case the United States or its territory were invaded and any of its citizens killed. But otherwise, in case of threatened trouble, no war could be declared unless a majority of citizens voted aye on the question: "Shall the United States declare war on—?"

WPA Lists Increasing

WPA rolls have hit bottom for the current year and are now expected to increase from month to month.

Number of persons employed shrank from this year's peak of 2,145,000 in February to 1,455,000 in mid-September. There were still 2,000,000 WPA workers at the end of May and most of those dropped after that date were taken off because Congress limited WPA appropriations to $1,500,000,000.

The extent to which persons will be added to the rolls as cold weather goes on is uncertain and depends, according to unofficial advices, largely on the extent to which business continues to recover and expand private employment.

Congress provided that the appropriation be divided in twelve parts but gave no directions as to how much money should be spent in any given month. The drastic summer slash in the rolls was meant to assure enough funds for winter and spring, assuming business continued to improve. WPA may or may not be back at Capitol Hill for more before the fiscal year is out.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE
Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills. Used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

k Tracks

FLORENCE, Ariz.—For two years Frank Gonzales, 24-year-old convicted forger, paced daily for miles around the state prison here as "trail-setter" for prison bloodhounds.

Yesterday he escaped, and prison officials saw some difficulty in trailing him.

"His tracks are all over the desert," Warden A. J. Barnes explained.

ITTLEFIELD DAY AT FAIR

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 7 (AP) — Lower foreign markets and liquidation in advance of the government's crop estimate brought a quiet but slightly lower opening in cotton here today.

First transactions were made at new seasonal lows. Oct. sold at 8.14 bid, Dec. 8.06. Jan. 8.01, March 8.02, May 8.06 and July 8.12, or 1 to 4 points below the previous close.

Prices slipped a few points additional and towards the end of the first half hour active positions were 3 to 7 points net lower.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, down 3 to 5 points on lower Liverpool cables and increasing private crop estimates, Oct. 8.17; Dec. 7.96; Jan. 7.91; March 7.95; May 8.02; July 8.06.

Junior High School Annual Is Given First Place Rating

In competition with junior high school annuals from 30 states and Hawaii, The Cowboy Round-up, 48-page annual of Junior High school, received first place rating by the Columbia Scholastic Press association, it was learned yesterday. Bernice Keeton was editor in chief and Orville Alderson the business manager.

The theme of the Junior High annual was western, developed through a modern art treatment. The book was complimented on its special feature of extra curricula activities of the Junior High school as a help to the adolescent child in adjusting himself through participation in worthwhile activities other than the regular curriculum.

Betty Jo Rice designed and executed the black and gold cover page of the book which silhouetted a cowboy with a lariat.

Work has already begun on a similar book for this year, with changes being made as suggested by the critics in the Columbia association.

Sponsors for the book were: editorial, Miss Mancie Edwards and John A. Walter; business, Jay Gordon; art, Mrs. Bruce Bryan, supervisor, Mrs. Ross Ayers.

Presiding Elders Of District In Meeting At Clarendon

The nine presiding elders of Northwest Texas conference of the Methodist church, including Rev. W. M. Pearce of Lubbock, are to be in Clarendon today for a meeting of the district cabinet before the annual conference at Quanah Nov. 17.

It will be an executive meeting, with Bishop H. A. Boaz presiding. Rev. Thomas S. Barcus, presiding elder of the Clarendon district, and Mrs. Barcus, will be hosts at a noon luncheon for the visitors. Only the presiding elders are to attend.

Plans for the annual conference, for closing up of district aims and objectives and other matters will be discussed.

Collaboration Limited

Authoritative persons professed to see in the state department's denunciation of Japan an indication of the extent the United States may be prepared to go in cooperating with the league.

This collaboration, they contend, is to be limited strictly for the moment at least to application of the utmost moral pressure, parallel to but completely independent of league action.

This course would be calculated to keep the United States rigidly aloof from assumption of responsibilities which go with membership in the league.

Ector County Wildcat Well Is Said To Have Been Abandoned

A full hole of water at the total depth of 4,430, caused Fuhrman Petroleum Corporation and Colton Brothers to plug to abandon their No. 1 E. F. Cowden well, Ector wildcat between the Harper and Addis pools. Several shows of oil were logged, but none of importance. Located 330 feet from the north and east lines of section 41, block 43, township 2 south, T. & P. Survey, the well had been carrying about a half-bailer of water hourly from 4,305-10.

In Gaines county, Amerada No. 1 Matthews, southwest extension to the Wasson area, is attempting to shut off water by driving lead wool at 4,997. The company's No. 1 Brand crew is fishing for drill pipe stuck at 4,440, in a well of 4,484 total depth.

Southeast Cochran county saw Devonian No. 1 Duggan, test a mile east of the Honolulu-Cascade discovery in the Duggan pool, drilling in lime below 4,310 feet. Location is 660 feet from the north and west lines of labour 11, league 55, Oldham county school land.

Four miles to the northwest, Wiggins, Lawson, and Hyde No. 1, Dean recovered 100 barrels of oil after being swabbed ten times. The well made one three-minute head and one 30-minute flow following swabout during the period.

Former Bank President Will Be Institution's Cashier

W. L. Bradley, former president of the First National bank of Odessa, who recently sold his interests to President C. E. Maedgen and Vice-President John D. Mitchell of the Lubbock National bank, will be the cashier of the Odessa institution, Mitchell announced.

Bradley will begin his work October 15, Mitchell said. He was formerly president of the old Idalou State bank and is a banker with years of experience.

Leland D. Payne, former Lubbock National teller, who has been in Odessa for more than a month, is remaining as assistant cashier. Edgar Meaders and Mrs. Lois Bell are to be assistant cashiers also.

Elmer East, an employe of the Lubbock bank, who was in temporary charge of the institution after Mitchell and Maedgen took it over, is returning here soon, Mitchell added.

West Texas Traveling Men To Be Guests At Abilene Fair

Traveling men of West Texas, as well as those who live in other areas but travel in the West Texas section, will be guests Saturday in Abilene of the Abilene Traveling Men's association at the West Texas fair, said C. B. Hampton, an official of the Abilene group and who was in Lubbock today.

A special day has been designated. One of the biggest parades in Abilene history will honor the visitors, who will participate in it, said L. B. Jackson, in charge of arrangements.

A full program of entertainment has been arranged. A dance will be given at night.

Traveling men of Lubbock and the entire area are invited to register with their wives at any of the Abilene hotels and to be guests of the Abilene organization, said Hampton.

Texas Farmers, Livestock Growers Declared In Better Shape Than In Past 7 Years

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 — The Farm Credit administration said today Virgil P. Lee, president of the Production Credit corporation of Houston, had reported that "Texas Farmers and livestock men are in better shape this year than they have been since 1930."

The administration said Lee's report, made at a conference here of the 12 Production Credit corporations under the F.C.A. estimated the Texas cotton crop this year greater by 1,500,000 bales than last year's crop and expressed belief that despite current price factors all short-term loans made on cotton will be fully liquidated.

The administration said Lee reported livestock operators in the state are continuing to profit by high livestock prices and that wheat growers in the dust bowl area harvested a good crop this year. Lee is quoted as reporting the records of 37 cooperative production credit associations in Texas, owing 11,240 shares of voting stock, as showing $14,771,000 in loans closed on August 31, as compared with $11,323,000 for a comparable 1936 period.

Russians Buying War Supplies

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 — The United States government has sanctioned the purchase by Soviet Russia in this country of materials and guns for the construction of one or more modern battleships.

This was disclosed today in state department statistics showing that licenses were issued in September permitting the export to Russia of war supplies valued at $10,000,000.

Other Purchases Exepected

More than half of this sum represented purchases of armor plate, which will go into the construction of the floating fortresses in the Soviet Union. Since the $5,275,100 thus allocated is only a small part of the total cost of a 35,000-ton super-deadnaught, it is expected that other purchases of a similar nature will follow.

Officials disclosed that earlier objections raised by the state department to Soviet orders in this country for 16-inch guns to be mounted on the battleships have been lifted. This clears the way for the purchase of such weapons here if arrangements can be made with private manufacturers to turn them out.

Subject To License

Armor plate, guns and other equipment necessary in the construction of war vessels are listed officially as "arms, ammunition and implements of war," the export of which is subject to license by the state department's munitions control board.

The heavy Russian purchases boosted the total expenditures by all nations for war supplies in this country during September to $18,089,537—the largest since the government assumed control of such exports.

Contributing substantially to this total were China, with purchases of $2,809,099, chiefly bombs and other large missiles; Argentina, with purchases of $1,492,391, mainly military aircraft; and Rumania, with $1,216,100, most of which also was for bombs.

Young Girl Is Death Victim

EMMETT, Idaho, Oct. 7. (AP) — A lovers' quarrel was blamed by Gem county officials last night for a double shooting 35 miles north of here which brought death to a 15-year-old girl and chest wounds to her 21-year-old suitor.

Gem County Sheriff Boise Riggs, jr., was investigating the shooting.

The girl, Anna Jean Phipps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Phipps of Emmett, died instantly, a bullet from a .25-calibre pistol through her heart. Audie James Robnett, of Kansas City, Kan., was recovering at a Boise, Idaho hospital from a shot which passed through his back and chest.

Find Unclothed Body

Riggs said the girl's unclothed body was found in Robnett's car after the man—also unclothed—had driven four miles with the girl's body to a ranch near Ola, a tiny village in southwestern Idaho, and reported the shooting. The sheriff reported finding a bottle of gin in the automobile.

Riggs said the couple went for a ride last night, and during the evening. Miss Phipps and Robnett quarreled. The altercation culminated in the shooting, he said.

Man Who Told Story Of Slaying Turned Over To Federal Men

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7 (AP)—Layton Mosley who Acting Chief of Police Thomas J. Higgins said told a story of killing a man named Tom Deal near Eunice, N. M. was turned over to the federal government today and arraigned under the Dyer act for interstate transportation of a stolen automobile.

Mosley was handed over because New Mexico authorities refused to finance a trip by Mosley to point out the spot where he told Higgins he buried Deal.

Mosley pleaded guilty at his arraignment and was held on a $10,000 bond.

PROSPERITY BY QUARTS

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The annual report of the liquor monopoly indicates that Sweden is in a period of rare prosperity. Last year the net income of the monopoly was $3,787,500 against $3,575,000 in 1935. In spite of this increase drunkenness continues to decline.

TIMELY TIPS ON How to be Charming

"IF YOU have it, you don't need anything else," says Sir James Barrie, speaking of that evanescent thing we call charm.

This Summer let's all be charming! Good taste in dress, perfect grooming, poise . . . these any woman may acquire at the cost of a little time and determination. And in planning our campaign let's not forget some of the surest aids of all—the advertisements in this newspaper.

For advertisers are in the conspiracy too! Never have they been so lavish with hints and helps to charm and beauty: style news and fashion firsts . . . excitingly different "hair-dos" and make-ups . . . ideas for summer entertaining . . . short-cuts to leisure hours for the cultivation of mind and manner.

Read the advertisements, diligently, often. Make them your charts to charm. Set your course by them, and sail happily into your port of dreams. Bon voyage, madam!

Oil Activity Being Noted In Yoakum

Activity centered in Yoakum county Wednesday as one well was shot and drilling continued in three others. Texas No. 1, Walker, three miles west of the Denver area, shot the lower pay Tuesday night with 180 quarts from 5,100 to 5,162 feet, the plugged-back total depth. The shot was tamped with 25 feet of gravel. Wednesday witnessed cleaning out following bridging.

Standard of Texas No. 1, M. B. Sawyer, prospective three-quarter miles northwest extension of the Bohago area in Yoakum, is testing 7-inch casing preparatory to drilling beyond present depth of 5,214.

Skelly and Sun No. 1 Kiser, 600 feet out of the Northwest corner of section 640, block D, is drilling at 1,100 feet in red rock.

Test well a mile and a half northeast of the Denver discovery, American Liberty No. 1 Clawater, is drilling at 4,410 feet in lime and anhydrite. Murchison & Fikes No. 1 Elliott, is drilling at 3,660 in anhydrite. Latter is west offset to the discovery in Yoakum.

Pipe is being pulled preliminary to abandonment of Moore Brothers Corporation No. 1 Cleveland, Yoakum failure. After drilling into sulphur water at 5,506 and testing only a slight show of oil, it was plugged back to 5,328.

Time For School Broadcast Over KFYO Said Changed

First school program of the new term was scheduled to be broadcast from Senior High school auditorium over station KFYO at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon, the time having been changed from 3:30 as a convenience to mothers.

Mothers and friends who wish may witness this first program broadcast if they choose to be in the auditorium by 3:30. The purpose of the program is to introduce the schools to the radio programs to be given every other week this year.

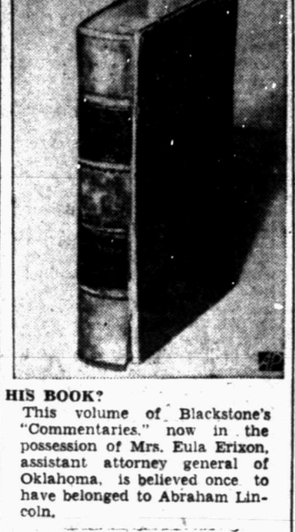

Eighty children and teachers representing nine schools will take part.

Lincoln A 'Doodler'?

HIS BOOK?
This volume of Blackstone's "Commentaries," now in the possession of Mrs. Eula Erixon, assistant attorney general of Oklahoma, is believed once to have belonged to Abraham Lincoln.

HIS SIGNATURE?
Evidence that it was his is this signature on the fly-leaf. Attendants at the library of congress have said that it apparently is genuine.

HIS DOODLES?
And on a slip of paper found in the book appear these pencil scribblings, as aimless as any doodle on the wall of a 1937 telephone booth.

Millions Of Dollars Will Be Required For The Aged

AUSTIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—The board of control informed Rep. Harry N. Graves of Georgetown today that "at least" 3,500,000 additional was necessary for old age pensions until Aug. 31, 1938.

The board, which supervises old age assistance, compared an income of 700,000 to an outgo of $781,000 if the present number on the rolls is maintained.

"We have $850,000 which must be retained as a revolving fund because federal authorities require the state treasurer to certify each month that we have an amount equal to the federal funds," the board informed the chairman of the appropriations committee. "In two or three months this amount will be below that required."

The board said it would need more money to provide for needs of the aged during winter months since it believed the $14 average per person would be insufficient.

Love Gets A Lift

Just then Bob came upon them.

"Say, I'm sorry," he said in some embarrassment. "I—I seem to be making it a crowd. I just wanted to say goodby, Kathleen. I've been trying to get a word with you—"

"We noticed how hard you were trying, McTavish," Professor Bracey turned and looked at him with a sarcastic smile. "We were just remarking on it in fact, you and the Duchess—"

A snarl from Schmatz interrupted him. Before Bob could prevent it the dog snapped at Bracey.

"Damned cur!" A well-placed kick from the professor threw the little terrier hard against a tall brass vase that stood on the floor. There was a crash and the dog rushed across the room, dashing straight through the Duchess' painting that was leaning against the wall. He left a gaping, jagged hole in the "Dream of Youth."
