Brass Pessimistic About Peace Talks

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—Top-level U. S. military and diplomatic leaders are watching the new Kaesong truce moves today with far less hope of a cease-fire agreement than held two months ago.

A cold appraisal of the Reds' stalling tactics in past weeks has just about smothered the optimism that crept into high places after Russia's Jacob Malik proposed the truce talks.

Early today, the Reds walked out on a meeting of U. N. and Communist liaison officers when the top U. N. officer suggested his Red counterpart lacked sufficient authority. The meeting was aimed at getting truce talks going again.

Hope for a settlement hasn't been snuffed out entirely. Some think there is still a chance. But this hope is only a flickering flame in both the Pentagon and the State Department.

This estimate is based on talks with persons close to the station in both departments who are in a position to gauge the reactions to the Communists' moves in Korea.

When the peace talks began at Kaesong, there was considerable belief in high quarters the Chinese were sincere in wanting to call a halt fo the shooting. Both Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, were reported to be optimistic.

During the past month, the initial optimism appears to have been replaced by a more cautious wait-and-see attitude. No one is certain just what the Reds are trying to do.

One general officer put it this way: "there certainly is no cause now for the optimism that existed when the talks began. The Reds have given us no indication of a real desire to call it quits.

"It looks like the word has come from Moscow to keep the talks going possibly as part of a new 'peace offensive' to throw us off guard."

Tax Reductions Before Senate Appear Doomed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—Senator O'Mahoney (D - Wyo.) claimed "a good chance" today to eliminate reductions in proposed excess profits taxes on corporations from the new tax bill being considered by the Senate.

The bill would boost federal taxes — largely personal and corporation income taxes — an estimated $5,506,000,000 a year. It was the sixth day of Senate debate over the big tax hike. Despite urgings of administration leaders for speed, a final vote was not yet in sight.

O'Mahoney told a reporter he would base his case against lightening corporation excess profits taxes voted by the House largely on his three claims that:

1. The excess profits tax is not yet a year old, and Congress should wait to find out what its effects have been before any changes such as those recommended by the finance committee are made.

2. "The taxpayers on whom it falls are amply able to pay the tax.

3. "The government, in a struggle for survival of the free world, needs the revenue."

The Senators got past one hurdle Monday, approving, 72 to 7, by a voice vote a provision which the Finance Committee estimated would add $10 million a year to federal taxes on cooperatives.

This section would impose the corporation income tax on earnings of cooperatives which have been neither distributed nor allocated to members.

Senator Williams (R-Del) led a three-hour floor fight against the provision. He urged fewer tax exemptions for certain cooperatives. He said they now get exemptions on earnings which may never be distributed to their members.

After a sharp exchange between Williams and his fellow Republican, top policy leader Taft of Ohio, the Senate smothered, 72 to 7, an amendment Williams sponsored to tighten the tax exemption rules for cooperatives.

Charles B. Moling, former $6,100-a-year publications employe with the Air Force, is shown above as he testified before a Senate Investigations subcommittee. Moling told of leaving his Air Force job last March to become $25,000-a-year Eastern division sales manager for American Lithofold Corp.

Communists Do Not Favor Site Change

TOKYO, Sept. 25. (AP)—Communist officers angrily stalked out of a meeting today at Kaesong but Gen. Ridgway asked them to return Wednesday for another try at reviving the stalled Korean truce talks.

The Reds walked out when Allied officers insisted on discussing conditions under which the truce talks could be resumed. The Allies earlier told the Reds Kaesong was not a satisfactory site.

The Communists wanted to get the truce talks going right away. They demanded that the first session be given over to plans for processing a string of charges that the Allies had violated the neutrality of Kaesong.

Eight and one-half hours after the Reds stalked out of the Tuesday morning meeting, an Allied officer left the advance camp at Munsan with a message for the Reds.

NIGHT 'COPTER FLIGHT

He made the extraordinary night flight to Panmunjom, near Kaesong, by helicopter.

The message, signed by Col. Andrew J. Kinney, under instructions from Ridgway, said:

"Despite your unilateral action in recessing the meeting today and your abrupt departure therefrom, I am prepared to meet with you tomorrow x x x at 10 a.m. (1 p.m. CST, Tuesday) to discuss conditions mutually satisfactory for resumption of the armistice talks."

The talks have been stalled 33 days.

The word "conditions" left the siutation just where it was when the Reds walked out of Tuesday's meeting.

The tense, 50-minute session ended with explosive suddenness.

Air Force Col. Andrew J. Kinney, senior Allied liaison officer, had proposed that both sides discuss conditions which would guarantee uninterrupted talks by the negotiators.

FLAT REJECTION

Chinese Red Col. Chang Chun-san flatly rejected the suggestion, said the meeting was ended, and headed for the door.

The Red high command had tried in vain to resume Tuesday the full-dress armistice discussions instead of the liaison talks.

But the move was saddled with a provision that the first session set up machinery to deal with a long list of Red charges, already denied by the Allies.

Ignoring the Red offer, the Allies sent Kinney, Marine Col. James C. Murray and South Korean Lt. Col. Lee Soo Young to Kaesong by helicopter to bring up the subject of conditions.

Before even entering the meeting, the Reds had notified the Allies that Red liaison officers could discuss only one thing — the time for resuming truce negotiations.

SECOND ATTEMPT

Tuesday's abbreviated meeting was the second in a row by liaison officers in attempts to get the negotiations going again.

Monday the Allies had told the Reds Kaesong was not a satisfactory site and had urged that another site be chosen.

AP Correspondent Robert Tuckman, who went to the meeting Tuesday, said unarmed Korean and Chinese Red soldiers lined the road from Panmunjom on the eastern fringe of the neutral zone to Kaesong.

The Allied motor convoy, carrying service personnel and newsmen, and the liaison officers, who landed near Kaesong in helicopters, proceeded past these soldiers to the stormy session.

Tuckman said Communists newsmen, who frequently tip off official Red thinking, indicated that the Communist high command would insist on a return to Kaesong for the truce conferences."

Hospital-Health Unit Appropriations Made

All federal aid for Scurry County's hospital and health unit now has been appropriated, Edgar Taylor, county judge, said today.

"If we're lucky, construction work may begin soon after the first of the year," he added.

APPROPRIATION

Taylor returned yesterday from Austin, where last week $50,000 in federal money was appropriated for one-half the cost of a building for the city - county health unit.

Appropriation of $350,000 in federal funds for aid in building the county hospital had been made earlier.

All federal funds are on hand and will be available as soon as plans are checked in Austin, Dallas, and Washington, Taylor said.

The State Hospital Board approves all rural hospital projects in Texas which are to receive federal aid, and appropriations are disbursed by the State Health Department.

Half the cost of the two buildings will be paid by the county, which in April, 1950, voted $400,000 in county bonds for the two projects. The other half will be paid by the federal government.

The hospital site, a large tract about two miles south of the square on the Big Spring highway, has been deeded to the county by D. M. Cogdell. The hospital will be called the Cogdell Memorial in honor of the donor of the land.

All that remains now before construction starts is to complete hospital plans and to find a site for the health unit building.

While Taylor was in Austin, the health department also accepted the latest plans drawn for the city-county health unit building and authorized drawing of final plans for the hospital.

Complete plans for the hospital will require four or five weeks work by Butler - Brasher Engineering Co. of Lubbock, which is designing both the buildings.

Several weeks of checking in Austin will also be necessary before bids can be asked and construction begun, Taylor said.

The county has two steel priorities, one issued Sept. 17, and the other last Thursday. Taylor said he believed they would be sufficient to procure steel for the new structures.

The hospital project will cost an estimated $720,000, and the health unit about $80,000.

To Take Away Restrictions For Italians

PARIS, Sept. 25. (AP) — The United States, Britain and France will publish a joint declaration Wednesday saying Italy "is no longer subject" to her peace treaty arms limitations.

Russia was the fourth major power involved in imposing the treaty terms on Italy.

Informants said the three Western powers would say in the declaration "changing circumstances" since the Italian treaty was written have made it no longer necessary to compel Italy to abide by certain treaty clauses.

These clauses mainly are those that restricted Italy to an army of 250,000, an air force of 350 planes and 250,000 men, and a navy of no more than 132 ships of all kinds.

Allies Win In Biggest Jet Battle of War

EIGHTH ARMY, Korea, Sept. 25. (AP)—American F-86 Sabres won the longest jet battle in history today. They shot down five Communist MIG-15s and damaged five in a 35-minute fight in MIG Alley over Northwest Korea.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said all the American planes returned safely.

The fight roared from 35,000 feet to ground level. It produced the biggest one-day bag of Russian-type MIG-15s since April 12 when U. S. pilots shot down four, probably destroyed two and damaged 14.

On the ground, United Nations troops Tuesday captured a commanding peak west of "Heartbreak Ridge" on the rugged Eastern Korea front.

The mountain, like the ridge the Allies want so badly, looks down on a Communist supply and assembly base.

A U. N. unit battled to the mountain top, northwest of Yanggu, through intense mortar and small arms fire. It kicked an estimated two North Korean battalions off the peak in nearly three hours of fierce fighting.

There was a comparative lull Tuesday around "Heartbreak Ridge," twice lost to counterattacking Reds in 14 days of bitter fighting.

Grenade - tossing Communists drove U. S. troops off the highest peak in the Ridge Monday for the second time in 10 days.

Weary American soldiers holed up on the steep slopes and repulsed three small Red probing attacks before dawn Tuesday. They reported that by Tuesday afternoon there had been no further contact with the Communists.

To the east, the 16-inch rifles of the Battleship New Jersey pounded Reds in the hills north of the Punchbowl, a one-time Communist assembly point.

The 1-¼-ton shells arched miles through the air. Dozens hit the heart of the Communist defenses on the Northeastern Front, the Navy said. Observers called the results excellent.

The South Korean frigate Apnok was hit three times Monday in a duel with Red shore batteries on the East Korean coast.

Judge Named For Trial Of La. Newsmen

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 25. (AP)—The New Orleans States said today the Louisiana Supreme Court has appointed Judge J. Bernard Cocke of New Orleans to conduct the trial of five Lake Charles newspapermen and three other persons charged with defaming three gamblers and 16 public officials.

The states said Judge Cocke will take over the docket of Calcasiu Parish Judge Mark C. Pickrel next Monday.

Pickrel, senior judge of the 14th Judicial District had requested appointment of a judge from outside the parish to try the cases.

Those indicted were:

Thomas B. Shearman, publisher of the Lake Charles American Press; William Hugh Shearman, managing editor; Carter George, court reporter and James Norton, city editor; and E. F. Brouse, Maurive Vincent and Ernest Miller, the latter three members of the Peoples Action Group from Sulphur, La.

The Peoples Action Group, with the support of the American Press, was waging an anti-gambling crusade in Calcasieu Parish.

Big Check On Meat Packers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—The government today threw all available price control personnel into a nation-wide, pre-dawn check of some 500 slaughter houses in a drive to stamp out illegal practices in the handling of beef.

Price Enforcement Director Edward P. Morgan said slaughtering operations in more than 50 cities were being checked. He expected hundreds of packers would come under inspection before nightfall.

Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle ordered all regional and district price stabilization offices to help special enforcement agents in the coast-to-coast crackdown.

OPS agents were ordered to inspect records of slaughterers, their cattle weights, scales and invoices.

The agency said the aim is to determine whether they are purchasing livestock in compliance with the control law, and whether anyone is selling beef at illegal prices.

Maximum of 96 Here

WHO WANTS TO SAVE PENNIES?

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (AP) — A toy manufacturer said today her firm would turn out no more penny banks — just those that take nickels, dimes and quarters.

Mrs. Ann Payson said the changeover was due to the copper shortage and the penny's lost appeal to children.

Pennies buy very little today, she said, "and most children do not show much appreciation for anything less than a dime."

King George VI Continues To Improve, But Still In Danger

LONDON, Sept. 25. (AP) — A medical bulletin from Buckingham Palace this morning said King George "continues to gain strength" after a restful night.

It was the fifth and most encouraging report from the king's doctors since they performed a major operation on one of his lungs Sunday morning.

The bulletin, signed by four doctors who spent the night at the palace and the surgeon who performed the operation, said:

"After another restful night the king continues to gain strength."

As soon as they agreed on the bulletin, the doctors telephoned the good news to members of the royal family staying outside the palace.

Princess Elizabeth, heiress presumptive to the throne and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, received it at Clarence House, their London residence.

The news also went to Marlborough House, home of Queen Mother Mary. With her were the Duke of Gloucester, youngest brother of the king, and Princess Mary, the princess royal, his sister.

The Duke of Windsor, the man who gave up the throne to George, was reached at the home of a friend where he is staying while in London.

Bulletin No. 5 was posted on a board attached to the palace fence. A crowd of nearly 1,000 lined up to read it.

The Scots Guards, en route to St. James' Palace marched by a few minutes later with their pipes and drums silent.

The pain-wracked king reached the second stage today of his fight for life.

While well-wishers prayed and hoped for him beyond Buckingham Palace's walls, the haggard monarch fought his recovery battle through the night watched only by a few of the nurses and doctors who helped operate on his ailing lung Sunday.

Medical circles believe dawn today marked the end of the first — and most crucial — post-operative phase.

"There are hazards and anxieties still ahead," one doctor observed, "but they are not as great or as grave as those of the operation itself and the (first) 48 hours which have now passed."

FEARS REDUCED

In the first crisis after the surgeon's knife finishes its work, the great danger is post-operative collapse.

Last night's Bulletin No. 4 — saying "the king has gained strength during the day" — reduced fears of such a collapse.

But the 55-year-old king is not yet on the straight and smooth road. Medical experts claim the next danger period starts approximately next Saturday and will last a day or two.

At that period, the risk of late complications — especially infection and what is called "secondary hemorrhage" — will once again make the going critical for George.

The guarded bulletins from the sickroom — they haven't yet indicated what disease attacked the monarch's lung — shed little light on his ailment.

More Federal Employes Shown On Printing Firm's Payroll

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP) — Senate investigators today brought two tax agents and a wage-hour investigator into their developing story of expensive gifts and big payments by American Lithofold Corp. to federal employes.

Trailing details of the St. Louis printing firm's relations with government workers, a Senate Investigations Subcommittee heard:

1. James B. E. Olson, former U. S. alcohol tax collector in New York, testify that he drew fees from Lithofold and used his influence to get profitable printing contracts for Lithofold from firms whose taxes he collected. Lithofold records showed $5,851 paid to Olson.

2. Testimony by Vonne V. Circele, Lithofold's New York representative, that he thought Olson was employed by the firm "solely because of his influence," and that he thought it was an improper arrangement.

3. Walter Doxon, an Internal Revenue agent at Atlantic City, N. J., testified that he and another government employe drew more than $7,000 each as commissions from American Lithofold while on the federal payrolls.

Doxon named the other man as John L. Kelly, former regional director of the Labor Department's wages and hours investigating unit.

Doxon also testified that the income tax reports of R. A. Blauner, son of Lithofold's president, passed through his office while he was receiving commissions from the firm. He said he referred one of Blauner's disputed tax returns to a subordinate, whose sister was a close friend of Blauner. He named the brother and sister as Jack O'Connor and Marian O'Connor, employed in the Newark office of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Besides his fees, Doxon said he had received such gifts as a camera and a turkey from Lithofold last winter.

Doxon told the senators he was suspended by the Internal Revenue Bureau without pay, "effective yesterday morning," for 30 days pending outcome of the present inquiry.

While Olson was in the witness chair, Senator Nixon (R-Calif) suggested at one point that it amounted to a "shakedown" for Olson, as alcohol tax collector, to solicit business from beer and liquor firms. Olson vigorously denied that.

Asked whether he thought it was "proper to engage in business" with firms who paid their alcohol taxes to him, Olson replied firmly:

"Yes, sir, I do."

Olson testified before a Senate Investigations Subcommittee which is looking into relations of American Lithofold with the government.

The St. Louis printing firm obtained $565,000 of government loans in 1949 after hiring William M. Boyle, Jr., as one of its lawyers. Boyle was then vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Now chairman of the Democratic committee, Boyle has said that he gave up his law practice on taking that post and had no part in seeking the RFC loan.

Republicans Doubt Power Of Labor Leaders to Defeat Them

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—Republicans placed on the American Federation of Labor's roll call of its enemies today challenged the ability of labor leaders to sway the union membership in 1952 elections.

Nineteen senators, five of them Southern Democrats, were labelled "short-sighted and anti-labor" by Joseph D. Keenan, retiring director of labor's League for Political Education, AFL's political arm.

Keenan told the AFL convention at San Francisco Monday that the 19 — all prospective candidates for re-election next year — are "the men who gave you the Taft-Hartley bill." He described that measure as a "time bomb" he said could "destroy the labor movement."

Democrats generally were silent and Republicans vocal about Keenans indictment.

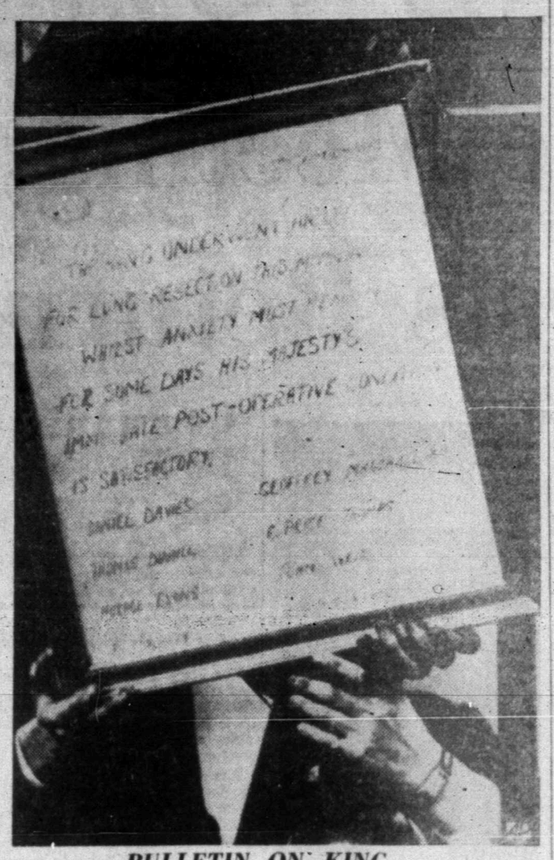

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), Taft-Hartley co-author and a probable candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, wasn't on the list. He is not a next-year candidate for re-election to the Senate. He snowed under labor's opposition in winning re-election in Ohio last year.

Senators Bricker (R-Ohio), Flanders (R-Vt), Cain (R-Wash) and McCarthy (R-Wis), all named on the AFL enemy list, told reporters they are certain the AFL national leaders are off the beam so far as their individual states are concerned.

Nation-Wide Film Promotion Begins with Texas Kick-Off

Joining with the more than 1,500 motion picture theaters in the state, the theatres of Snyder this week begin the celebration of "It's Movie Time in Texas," a period in which the management will feature a series of special events as well as presenting the year's outstanding pictures.

The entire movie industry is behind "It's Movie Time in Texas". These activities precede a similar nation - wide movie drive embracing as many as 16,000 additional theaters, which will not get under way until October.

To focus attention on the theaters for the next few weeks, Hollywood will send out many famous stars on personal visits to various states. Nation - wide broadcasts featuring well known entertainers and special short subjects will point up the merits of the screen and the importance of the movie theaters in community life.

The idea behind "It's Movie Time in Texas," originated with a well known Bonham, Tex., theater man. Col. H. A. Cole, chairman of the board of the Allied Theater Owners of Texas, conceived the thought of a project to marshal all theater men, their employees and their families, into a movement to offer the public the finest of entertainment and to bring about a closer and friendlier relationship for the theater with the community at large.

What was originally a Texas campaign exploded into national proportions. All of the big studios promptly revised their plans. The finest productions, many of them in color, were set for release during the celebration of "It's Movie Time in Texas".

Editors Meet In California

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25. (AP)—More than 250 managing editors of American and foreign newspapers are in San Francisco for discussions of the performance of the Associated Press.

They came for the annual meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association (APME).

At business sessions Wednesday through Friday they are to consider the findings of 12 editor groups that have spent the year studying all phases of AP operation.

The findings are the result of the fifth year of APME's continuing study of the AP. It is designed to help the wire service better meet the needs of the newspapers that own and operate it. And to improve newsgathering methods.

A 13th committee of managing editors is studying the case of William N. Oatis, AP correspondent in Czechoslovakia, and the outlook for freedom of information in general.

APME President L. R. Blanchard of the Rochester, N. Y. Democrat and Chronicle, is to open Wednesday's first business session. He will be followed by the report on news production of Committee Chairman V. M. Newton, Jr., of the Tampa (Fla) Tribune.

HE WANTS ALIMONY

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25. (AP) — A San Franciscan is suing his wife for separate maintenance because "she insisted upon living in a humble and miserly fashion on her $3,000 a month income."

The husband, Jacob Solomon, 67, asks $1,500 a month alimony, $25,000 attorney fees and $2,500 court costs.

The Czechs will be sponsored by the International Rescue Committee, a private American organization.

Congressmen Applaud Move To Raise Their Salaries $10,000

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—Members of the Senate and House get a salary of $12,500 a year, plus $2,500, tax-free, for expenses. But this doesn't seem enough for Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, Democratic leader of the House.

He got up in the House and suggested salaries of members of Congress ought to be $25,000 a year. He was widely applauded.

When he heard about McCormack's proposal an eager-beaver of my acquaintance, a serious young man who takes a great interest in government, raised a question.

He said: "If all Members of Congress got $25,000 I wonder if we'd have a better Congress, better men."

He remembered that a public opinion poll was taken a few years ago and it was discovered that out of every 100 American voters 62 could not remember the name of their own Congressman.

It wasn't hard to conclude from this that if a voter didn't know his Congressman's name he'd hardly know the Congressman's voting record of where he stood on any public issue.

And if he wasn't interested enough to know that, but still voted for the man then it couldn't have meant much to him what kind of man he sent to Congress anyway.

And if that's the way 62 oht of every 100 voters pick their Congressman the eager - beaver thought, salary wasn't going to make much difference in the kind of Congress the voters picked.

He was aware of one thing, of course: if Congressmen got no pay at all then only those with plenty of income could afford to serve in Congress and, being men of affluence, they might be very much out of touch with the needs and desires of people who had little income.

But, anyway, the second most important thing to the eager-beaver was this: he'd like to see a cross-section of American life in Congrses since whatever Congress did cut across all sections of American life.

And when he examined the record, he found that Members of Congress drawing the present $15,000 are a cross-section: doctors, lawyers, educators, tradesmen, businessmen, millionaires and men apparently without a dime.

By this time the eager-beaver was getting a headache.

And if he wasn't interested enough to know that, but still voted for the man, then it couldn't have meant much to him what kind of man he sent to Conyress anyway.

50,000 Oil Wells A Year To Be Necessary

FORT WORTH, Sept. 25. (AP)—The drilling of 50,000 oil wells a year will be necessary in a few years, A. W. Thompson of Houston, told the American Association of Oil Well Drilling Contractors.

Thompson, president of the association, said Monday that even larger quantities of oil well drilling may be needed in the not so distant future to fulfill the nation's oil requirements.

Thompson estimated 45,000 wells would be drilled this year.

Man Inherits Money, Goes To His Death

HUNTSVILLE, Sept. 25. (AP) — Steve Mitchell, 47, died in the electric chair early today, a few hours after being named heir to the $40,000 estate of the wife he murdered.

The condemned man, a prosperous drive-in operator, designated a woman of mystery, a Mrs. Katherine Pappas, his heir. Mitchell said she lived in Houston, but he didn't know her address.

Editor Don Reid, Jr., saw a woman with five other persons in the automobile at the prison. He asked the woman if she was Katherine Pappas. She said, "yes," but refused to answer further questions.

Mitchell made no statement before he walked into the death chamber at 12:02 a.m. (CST). Officials had difficulty adjusting the electric chair and he wasn't strapped in until 12:06. He was dead two minutes later.

After he was told that he was heir to the $40,000 estate of his wife, Mitchell wept in his cell. Later he told Chaplain B. C. Anderson, "money doesn't mean a thing to me now. I had hopes of receiving a commutation of sentence, but right now things don't look so good."

Mitchell denied his guilt Monday.

"I shot in self defense the same as you would do," he said.

His wife, Mildred Jean, was killed during a quarrel Dec. 16, 1948.

Mitchell's father-in-law, J. Jeff Bryant of Natchez, Miss., had asked that the death sentence be commuted to life.

Propose Paper Be Sent Abroad

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP) — A total of 15,800 metric tons of newsprint, to be diverted from this country and Canada, has been allocated to ten countries found by a 14-nation committee to be in special need.

Nearly one-third of the total — 5,000 metric tons — would go to Western Germany. France and Yugoslapia would get 2,000 tons each. Smaller amounts were allocated to Indonesia, Brazil, Uruguay, Spain, Chile, the Dominican Republic and Nicaragua.

A metric ton is 2,204.6 pounds.

The allocations were made by a special newsprint committee, representing 14 governments including the United States, which is part of the 28-nation International Raw Materials Conference.

The committee's allocations are only recommendations to member countries; voluntary cooperation is needed to carry them out.

Monday's allocations were the third set announced by the committee. Previous ones totaled 27,500 metric tons.

Russians Plan Huge Electric Power Project

MOSCOW, Sept. 25. (AP)—A Soviet scientist writing in a major Russian scientific publication describes how three rivers now flowing north into the Arctic Ocean will be turned southward in a huge power and desert irrigation project.

A. V. Vinter, a member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, also predicted that atomic energy will be used to build canals, tunnels and dams to produce cheap atomic electric power.

He also called on Soviet scientists to harness the immense power of cosmic rays.

(Russia's foreign minister Andrei Vishinsky told the United Nations in 1949 in one of his peace propaganda speeches that the Russians already were using atom power to cut canals and level mountains. Later the text of his speech was corrected to say that Russia intended to do it).

The hydro-electric plan was first described early in 1949 in a Soviet youth magazine. Now an academician has put his stamp on the project.

It calls for turning the Siberian rivers, the Ob, the Yenisei and the Lena southward, pouring them into an artificial lake in Central Siberia nearly as large as the Caspian Sea, and then distributing the water in irrigation canals over the North Kazakh Desert.

The waters finally would flow into the Caspian and Aral seas.

It was said that the size of the dams, power stations and canals involved has never been achieved before in the world.

Vinter also wrote that Russia soon will begin mass production of gas turbine installations for underground gasification of coal.

AFL Names 19 Senators For Defeat in '52

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25. (AP)—Nineteen U. S. Senators, "the men who gave you Taft-Hartley," are on the 1952 purge list of the American Federation of Labor.

The AFL's 70th national convention Monday named the 19 as chief targets for defeat in next year's elections. Of the 19, five are Democrats — all from the South.

The AFL plans an $8 million '52 campaign fund by assessing its 8 million members $1 each — and another $1 million with a penny a month from each.

Here are the 19 as listed by Joseph D. Keenan, retiring director of the AFL's Labor League for Political Education:

Brewster (R-Maine), Flanders (R-Vt), Martin (R-Pa), Smith (R-NJ), Williams (R-Del.) O'Conor (D-Md), Byrd (D-Va.), Connally (D-Tex.), Stennis (D-Miss.), Holland (D-Fla.).

Keenan called for special efforts to defeat the Senators he named from the South — which he described as an anti-labor "breeding ground."

Keenan advised — and the delegates agreed — that the convention keep a hands-off policy in the selection of presidential candidates.

Retaliate By Snoring Too

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (AP)—Sometime in the middle of the night I heard my wife call sharply from her twin bed:

"Turn over on your side, Rover."

I saluted drowsily in the darkness, and carried out her order.

Several times more before dawn came I heard her call across: "Turn on your left side. Turn on your right side." And once, I dimly recall, she said in utter exasperation:

"I give up. For heaven's sake, stand on your head."

At the breakfast table this morning, I asked Frances if she hadn't slept well.

"Sleep?" she said indignantly. "I didn't get a wink all night long. You snored so loud I couldn't."

"Probably because I was sleeping on my back," I mumbled. "Why didn't you turn me over?"

"Turn you over?" she demanded. "I had you spinning like a top—you, you human flopback. You flopped about like a fish—but you kept right on snoring. I didn't know what to do with you."

She looked so depressed that I didn't have the heart to tell her the full truth. She doesn't know yet what she's really up against.

For the terrible Boyle family curse has struck again! The curse that runs in our tribe is snoring. Sooner or later strikes us all — man woman or child. And there is no known cure.

Women who have married into our family have tried everything to break up this snoring. But in the end the only way they have found rest is to take up the habit themselves.

Poor Frances. She doesn't know yet what she's in for. I'm buying her a pair of earmuffs and a book on insomnia. But these are only stopgap measures. She needs a book on "How to Learn to Snore in Self-Defense."

It's the only way a girl can really protect herself, once her husband takes up snoring in earnest.

Intersectional Football In Southwest Could Mean Doom

(By The Associated Press)

Southwest Conference coaches prime their teams today for rugged outside competition Saturday.

Intersectional football opponents this week could strike down all the conference's teams, except possibly Arkansas. The Porkers take on a Border Conference club, Arizona State at Tempe to Fayetteville.

SMU charges into revengeful Ohio, State an upset victim to the Mustangs last year; TCU meets highpowered Nebraska at Lincoln; Texas plays dangerous Purdue at Lafayette, Ind.; Texas A&M clashes with highly-regarded Texas Tech, at Dallas, and Rice plays giant-killing Clemson at Houston. Baylor has an open date.

H. N. Russell of SMU was pessimistic about his team's chances.

"It looks like a rough afternoon for us," Russell said, "The Buckeyes were one of the top teams in the nation when we played them last year, and they've got nearly the same team back again this fall." The SMU squad watched movies of their 21-7 loss to Georgia Tech Monday and limbered up with calesthentics.

Dutch Meyer worked his TCU squad hard Monday. He said the Frogs' 27-13 loss to Kansas showed they need to improve.

Pete Gardere of Dallas, a reserve halfback for Texas, was lost for the season when X-rays showed he broke his neck in Saturday's 7-6 victory over Kentucky. Dr. Ben Primer, Jr., team physician said his neck was put in traction, and it will have to remain in a cast at least three months. Otherwise, the Longhorns came through the Kentucky tussle with only minor injuries.

Rain fell Monday on Rice and Texas A&M.

The Owls scrimmaged in the rain at Houston for more than an hour.

Texas A&M's 55-man squad drilled on their blocking assignments.

Players on the Baylor squad who saw little or no action against Houston Saturday night scrimmaged Monday against the Bear reserves.

After considering the case for more than a year, Judge Elmer D. Doyle ruled Monday he is without jurisdiction in Flynn's suit for modification of the alimony and support payments.

Few Bales Of Cotton Ginned

There has probably been less than 100 bales of cotton ginned in Scurry County so far this fall, a survey of the gins indicated this morning.

Contact was possible with only two of the County's 10 gins, but those had processed only a few bales.

About 25 bales of cotton have been turned out at the new Planter's Gin east of Snyder, but that figure is unofficial and the exact amount is not known.

The new Paymaster Gin located two miles west of Snyder has ginned one bale. They completed their new plant late last week.

The new Snyder Co-Op gin is not quite complete, Bill Davidson, manager, said. It will be ready to gin cotton in about two more days, he added.

The only other gin in the county contacted was the China Grove Co-Op Gin. It has ginned nine bales so far.

Gins at Hermleigh, Dunn, Ira, Fluvanna, and Inadale could not be reached by telephone. Other ginners over the county indicated that the harvest has just started over most of the county and it will be two to three weeks before it is well under way.

Anderson Gets Honorary L.Ld

FORT WORTH, Sept. 25. (AP) — Liberty is in danger if America drifts on toward collectivism, Robert B. Anderson warned today.

Anderson, manager of the W. T. Waggoner estate at Vernon, received an honorary degree of doctor of laws at TCU.

"Global rather than provincial thinking is necessary if we are to counteract the present political dilemma," Anderson declared.

TCU President M. E. Sadler presided. Deans A. T. DeGroot, Ellis M. Sowell and Cortell K. Holsapple invested Anderson with the hood of the L.Ld. degree.

Anderson taught law at the University of Texas, was in the legislature and was one time assistant attorney general, tax commissioner, racing commissioner and chairman of the Texas Employment Commission. He is chairman of the Texas Board of Education and a trustee of TWC and McMurry College.

Cool Front In Panhandle, But Doesn't Move

(By The Associated Press)

Thunderstorms played along the Texas Gulf Coast from Palacios to Galveston today.

In North Texas, a cool front stretched across the Panhandle and into Oklahoma. It was stationary.

Childress was on its fringes. It was at Hobart, Okla., but hadn't reached Wichita Falls across the Red River. At 9:30 a.m. Amarillo had a temperature of 65 degrees; Childress, 67; Hobart, 67, and Wichita Falls 78.

Skies were generally fair except in East Texas and along the coast. At 9:30 a.m. Beaumont, Palacios, Galveston and Lufkin reported thunderstorms.

Rainfall in the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a.m. included .79 at Austin, .07 at San Antonio, .25 at Beaumont, .49 at Galveston, .26 at Victoria, .68 at Texarkana, .33 at Alice, .03 at Lufkin and .05 at College Station.

High temperatures Monday were generally in the upper 80's and 90's, but Presidio had 101 degrees. Lows this morning ranged from 47 at Dalhart to 78 at Galveston.

Valley Growers Plan To Replant Orchards

DALLAS, Sept. 25. (AP) — Valley Citrus Producers, nearly wiped out by the January freeze, are planning to rebuild their orchards as soon as possible, Horace Etchison, chairman of the Texas Citrus Commission, said today.

Etchison, of McAllen, spoke to the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers. He described the freeze loss as "terrific," and said that several million trees were killed.

Texas' citrus industry had grown from 12,000 boxes in 1920 to 28 million boxes marketed in the late 1940's he said.

Producers are making plans now to re-enter the citrus picture," Etchison said. "They are planning to replant as rapidly as nursery stock becomes available."

Before the freeze a good citrus grove was priced as high as $2,500 per acre. Today the land is vegetable and cotton land and its price has dropped as low as $300, he said.

Some 800 shippers and growers are attending. Ways to substitute tomatoes temporarily as the valley's volume cash crop is a major topic.

Giants Won't Give Up In Flag Chase

(By The Associated Press)

Three teams today are waiting for a miracle to take place — for only by such a phenomenon can the New York Giants, Cleveland Indians or Boston Red Sox win a pennant.

Leo Durocher and his Giants apparently believe in miracles. They are staying stubbornly alive when they must know they should be dead.

Tuesday, while Brooklyn Manager Charlie Dressen was announcing Preacher Roe as his pitcher in the World Series opener, the relentless Giants chipped another half game off the Dodgers' National League lead with a 4-3 triumph over the Boston Braves. All other teams were idle.

Brooklyn now leads New York by two and a half games, its smallest margin since the opening week of the campaign. Since the Giants started their frantic and seemingly hopeless chase on Aug. 16, they have chopped 11 games from the Dodgers' once huge lead. The Giants have won 33 of 40 since then for an amazing .825 gait.

The Giants' victory left the clinching combination for the Dodgers at four. Brooklyn has seven more to play, four in Boston and three in Philadelphia. A two-night twin bill in Boston is on tap for tonight. The Giants' four remaining games are divided between Philadelphia and Boston. They face Robin Roberts (21-12), the Philly ace, tonight.

The New York Yankees can clinch their 18th flag Friday. A victory over the Philadelphia Athletics this afternoon and a sweep of Friday's doubleheader with the Red Sox, all at Yankee Stadium, would finish off the Indians and Red Sox with mathematical certainty.

The Yankees' clinching number is three. That means all they have to do is capture their third straight pennant is play .500 ball in their remaining six games.

Early Wynn, one of Cleveland's three 20-game winners, is slated to clash with Billy Pierce of the White Sox tonight in Chicago. In Washington, it will be Bob Porterfield of the Senators against rookie Leo Kiely of the Red Sox.

Five years ago — The Brooklyn Dodgers beat the Philadelphia Phils, 8-2, cutting the St. Louis Cards' first place advantage to ½ game.

Ten years ago — Bob Feller allowed only one hit in winning his 25th victory as the Cleveland Indians edged the St. Louis Browns, 3-2.

Twenty years ago — Helen Hicks won the U. S. Women's Golf Championship at Buffalo, N. Y.

Abilene Takes Championship

LAMESA, Sept. 25. (AP)—Abilene's Blue Sox trimmed Lamesa's Lobos 8-3 Monday night to win the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball League championship.

The Lobos led, 3-0, through the sixth inning. Abilene scored once in the seventh; got four unearned runs in the eighth, and added three more runs in the ninth as outfielder Walt Sessi homered.

Lamesa won the first game of the Class C League's playoff. Then Abilene took four straight.

Jim Melton, who was reliefed by Izzie Leon in the eighth, was the winning pitcher. The lower was Harry Pilarski, who gave way to Ted Wyberanec in the eighth.

Decision Coming Up

LONDON, Sept. 25. (AP) — Buckingham Palace official indicated today the final decision on whether Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip will carry out their Canadian tour will be made later this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gossett of Snyder are the parents of a son born early Tuesday morning at Snyder Hospital.

Ohio State Is HopingForBig Rain Saturday

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 25. (AP)—Ohio State's Gridders, who dropped the 1950 finale to Michigan in a blizzard, are hoping for rain for Saturday's opener with SMU.

Wayne Woodrow Hayes, making his debut at the Buckeye helm is convinced a steady downpour would be a pretty fair defense against the passing prowess of long Fred Benners, ace pitcher of the Mustangs.

The Lone Star thrower gave the greatest aerial exhibition in Ohio history in last year's inaugural. He connected for four touchdowns — three in the last 11 minutes — to overcome a 27-13 deficit and turn it into a 32-27 conquest.

Last Saturday, against Georgia Tech, rain balked Benners' attempt to turn the same trick as the Mustangs absorbed a 21-7 setback. But Hayes, looking at Benners' 1950 record of 190 completions in 108 minutes of play for 1,361 yards, realizes the danger on a dry track.

Ohio State picked for the Big Ten championship and third place in the national picture, is loaded with talent and intense speed.

The Bucks lost junior fullback John Hlay, 212-pound line crasher, in a bar-room brawl, but two others have stepped in to fill the gap. Hlay, who pleaded guilty to assault and battery and resisting an officer when arraigned in police court, gets a hearing before the Buckeye Athletic Board today which may result in lifting of his suspension, or erasing him for the season.

Hayes is depending on junior Bob Koepnick of Dayton, a 187-pound speed merchant, and Jack Wagner, a 189-pound senior from Troy.

Meanwhile the Bucks are taking it easy, with no more scrimmage before the game.

The big Buckeye horseshoe is sold out, assuring a crowd of 79,000 or more for Saturday's struggle.

Stan After 5th Batting Title

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (AP)—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals appeared a certainty today to capture his fifth National League batting championship.

He is far out in front with a .358 average. His closest pursuer, Richie Ashburn of the Philadephia Phillies, is 17 points away. Ashburn is hitting .341 through games of Sunday.

Jackie Robinson, 1949 bat champ is third with .334. Robby's teammate, Roy Campanella, is fourth with .328. Fifth is Johnny Wyrostek of the Cincinnati Reds at .313.

Rounding out the top ten are Monte Irvin, New York Giants, .312; Al Dark, Giant captain, and Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh slugger, .308; Carl Furillo, Dodgers, .307; and Peanuts Lowery, Cardinals, .301.

The Rev. and Mrs. Cone J. Merritt are the parents of a daughter born Monday in Snyder Hospital. The baby, weighed eight pounds, four ounces at birth, has been named Charlotte Jane. Mr. Merritt is pastor of the Avenue D Baptist Church.

INCENTIVE PLAN

TAIPEH, Formosa, Sept. 25. (AP) — Without setting any target date, the Chinese Nationalists today gave troops an incentive to recapture the mainland from the Communists.

They promised land grants in Red China for Nationalist soldiers.

A defense ministry spokesman enthused: "This is the first time in the whole long history of China that plans are being made to give land to soldiers."

AFL Will Try To Get CIO Back In Fold

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25. (AP)—The AFL was set today to elect 78-year-old Bill Green, one-time coal miner, to his 28th year in the presidency and to make a strong bid to the CIO to "come back home."

Delegates to the 70th convention sought to wind up by nightfall with a grand unity push and an invitation to the CIO to return to the federation it left in the big labor split of 1936.

The subject of relations between the CIO and AFL is of prime importance to the 700 local and national labor leaders at the convention — but until today there had been little official attention to that.

Because of the importance of these relations in almost every community, it was possible that a big debate might break out when unity resolutions — put off until last — were called up for action.

Woodruff Randolph, head of the International Typographical Union, was considering challenging the AFL executive council's sudden decision at Montreal last month to break up the United Labor Policy Committee (ULPC). In that committee the AFL and CIO had cooperated for nine months. Many top officials of the federation were surprised by the action.

It was freely admitted by delegates that if Randolph touched off a debate, it might develop into a free-swinging discussion of issues such as that Monday between the United Textile Workers' leaders and the top AFL orators.

That was the most dramatic incident of the 10-day convention and the delegates loved it. Before it was over, the big guns — President Green, Secretary-Treasurer George Meany and Vice President Matthew Woll — had to be brought into action to stem the sentiment toward the textile workers.

Debonair Anthony Valente, head of the textile workers, and his youthful secretary-treasurer, Lloyd Klenert, lost their fight to grab jurisdiction over the hosiery workers.

Baseball Prizes Will Be Awarded Tonight At Quarterback Club

Trophies will be presented to the Parker Drilling Co. softball team at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the high school cafeteria when the Quarterback Club meets for its second session.

A consolation prize also will be presented to Sunray's team, Eddie Hight, league chairman, is expected to make the presentations. Trophies are donated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion for the winner and by the softball league for the consolation prize.

Schoolboy Protests Neglect Of Other Sports For Football

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Sept. 25. (AP) — Football is the glamor boy of Texas high school sports. It makes money which is used for other sports like track, baseball, golf and tennis.

However, a town should not be so dominated by football that it is detrimental to other sports.

There comes a letter from a schoolboy. His name is not given here, neither is his school. He has to live there and he's finding the going hard enough as it is. But this is related to show what a town overbalanced on football can do to some students in other sports.

DRIBBLE BOYS

Let him tell it:

"I am one of the basketball boys. They make fun of us and hurl sarcastic remarks. They call us dribble, dribble boys and other names. The Quarterback Club even leads the boys into hurling remarks. This town is strictly football crazy. Well, even the coach tells the football boys if they don't do right they are going to have to go in the house and play the sissy game of basketball.

"These remarks hurt us basketball players and make us lose confidence. Even the theater man gives free passes when they win a game and the school feeds them steak after each game. We get nothing."

His basketball team always is up in the district race but the football team never amounts to much.

It requires as much or more stamina to play a basketball game. Basketball is one of the finest sports in the world. It is the largest drawing sport of them all.

The people in that town can't realize what they are doing to a boy who is participating in the sport in which he is physically equpped to participate. And they can't realize what they are doing to a grand game.

BRYANT TAKES IT

Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Kentucky got quite a bit of publicity in Dallas three years ago when he let out a loud bleat against the officiating in the Kentucky-SMU football game, which Kentucky lost.

Bryant said the referee was the best player SMU had. He insinuated he had been robbed but good.

It actually simmered down to a pass interference penalty that cost Kentucky five or six yards.

At Austin Saturday, Kentucky lost to Texas, 7-6. This time Bryant would have been foolish to complain about the officiating. Two pass-interference penalties were called, both against Texas. One gave Kentucky the ball on the Texas 24-yard line. Kentucky couldn't take advantage of it to score.

Those penalties possibly reminded Bryant of that day in Dallas.

POWELL PUFFS UP

Putt Powell, the golfing sports writer of the Amarillo Globe-News who once made a hole-in-nothing, is all puffed up over winning another championship. This time it is the Amarillo City Championship Putting Tournament.

Putt says he didn't get his nickname from his putting. It came because he talks so fast. In 1926, Nard Cazzell, an Amarillo friend, said Powell talked like a motor boat — putt-putt-putt-putt.

So he's been called Putt ever since.

About that hole in-nothing. He made it because he had a handicap of two on the hole and shot the hole in two.

'Traveling Pig' Taken By Snyder Kiwanians To Club in Lamesa

Members of the Kiwanis Club went to Lamesa today to deliver the Kiwanis "traveling pig" to the Lamesa club.

The trip and the "traveling pig" are part of the Kiwanis Club's underpriviledge benefit fund.

The pig is a piggy bank and the club which carries it to the next club with the greatest percentage of club attendance making the delivery wins the pig and its money for its individual club benefit fund.

Snyder won the pig last year, and hopes to repeat this year.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

Today's fast - moving world is as hard on children as it is on their parents, according to Dr. Ernest G. Osborne, author of "The Family Scrapbook," a new book to be released in early October.

"Modern tension and conflicts tend to make the old - fashioned home a fading memory," the author says. Yet, he points out, the nation's chief resources are united, happy families.

Raising children "by the book" has been in for its share of criticism, but Dr. Osborne writes from a background combining both the academic and personal aspects of family life. Instead of passing down information from a coldly impersonal white tower, this professional educator has combined his experience in rearing three children with his academic work as a professor of education at Teachers' College, Columbia University, to produce his articles and books.

Dr. Osborne is vice president of the Child Study Association of America, and in his new book he discusses the range of juvenile problems from the cradle through college.

Topics such as Family Beginnings; When They Are Very Young; The Lively Period; Boys and Girls Together; Dads Are Necessary, indicate the scope of "The Family Scrapbook."

When recently asked to suggest basic elements of a happy home life, Dr. Osborne mentioned the following points:

1. Children are individuals—not carbon copies.
2. Children "are different" and even children of the same parents differ from each other.
3. Enjoy your children. Happy children come from homes where they are "enjoyed."
4. Appreciation—not over-correction—makes for growth.
5. Honesty. Answer all questions simply and honestly.
6. Parents aren't perfect. Children should not be taught that parents never make mistakes.
7. Partnership is preferable to paternalism. Through joint sharing and planning, parents and children can establish a partnership that is rewarding to both.
8. Parents are also people. Parents owe it to their family to be people in their own right and not to limit their interests to children or the home alone.

Dr. Osborne, who has just completed a three - year term as president of the National Council on Family Relations, is field consultant in parent education for the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and writes a newspaper column.

The book will be published by Association Press for $3.95.

One ripe fig proved to be a delightful surprise for the O. J. WEBERS this week. The fruit grew on a tiny bush Mrs. Weber planted in February. That same month the roots of the bush endured the ice and snow which killed its stalk. Then when the drought came, the amateur gardener feared for the source of her fig preserves. But by favoring the bush "just a little" with what water was available, she now has the ripe fig and a promise of more, although the plant is only about three feet high.

The fig bush is just one of the many green things Mrs. Weber nurtures out at 3790 Dalton Drive. Fruit trees grow in her backyard, as do many varieties of flowers. Just yesterday she gathered a bouquet of slender - budded roses, combined them with blue ageratum and provided the centerpiece for a church luncheon.

Could you tell me when chrysanthemums should be pruned so as to make them branch out? Mrs. J. J. W.

Almost as soon as the plant shows signs of becoming established in the new position, the growing tips should be removed, to induce branching. Generally, it is advisable to pinch out the top of the shoot after three or four pairs of leaves have formed, but sometimes better results may be had by removing the tip after the second pair of leaves is mature. Three to five shoots will appear, which, in turn, should be stopped, to induce branching. A little experience will enable one to decide the best number of stoppings for each variety, as some branch freely with one or two stoppings, while others much be checked repeatedly. No pinching out should be done after the middle of July, as this might bring the bloom too far into autumn.

Could you tell me when I should take my gladioli out of the ground for the winter? Mrs. F.M.S.

Your plants can be dug for cleaning and storing when the foliage starts to turn yellow. With late-planted bulbs, lift them when frost threatens. Cut off the tops 1 to 3 inches above the tops of the bulbs. Spread your bulbs to dry in an airy, frost - free spot for about three weeks. Then pull off the old skins and spent bulbs from beneath the new bulbs. Store at temperature kept in the high 30's, if possible, until planting next year.

Is it worthwhile to freeze left-overs? K.R.

It is necessary to define "left overs." If you mean dibs of this and dabs of that, the answer is 'No.' It is better to utilize these small portions today or tomorrow than to clutter up the freezer with them for a number of weeks. On the other hand, some homemakers definitely plan to have some foods left over, "planned overs." For example, a homemaker may double the recipe for spaghetti sauce with the idea of serving half immediately and freezing the other half for future use.
