

WALKING IN THE SNOW — Brenda Mize, 1902 Nolan, deputy county clerk, found walking in the snow could be just as wet as walking in the rain, so she broke out her umbrella for protection this morning. As of 8 a.m. the Big Spring Experiment Station had measured one-fourth inch of snow.

Spring Tra-La, Tra-La, Snow Covers Big Spring

By The Associated Press

Heavy snow forecasts went up unexpectedly today for much of Texas' South Plains, Northwest Texas, the area of the Guadalupe Pass, North Central Texas and the Panhandle with hazardous driving conditions predicted in many areas.

Snow accumulations of as much as 10 inches in parts of the Guadalupe Pass area were expected during the day.

Heavy snow predictions were issued by the Weather Bureau for West Central and Southwest portions of Northwest Texas with accumulations of six to eight inches by nightfall and colder temperatures.

The snow area was expected to include the Abilene area, all of the South Plains above the Caprock from Bailey to Floyd counties and south to Gaines and Dawson counties and a wide area west of the Pecos west to the Davis Mountains.

Snow was forecast for Dallas, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Amarillo, Childress, Midland, Wichita Falls, Odessa, Big Spring and as far west as El Paso.

The Weather Bureau said

snow accumulations of up to eight inches would occur in southwest counties of the South Plains today with accumulations of four to six inches in central counties and less than four inches elsewhere.

The unexpected snowstorm came just hours before the official arrival of spring.

Hazardous driving conditions with forecasts of ice, fog and poor visibility from occasional heavy snow were issued for higher elevations west of the Pecos and west portions of North Central Texas.

Motorists were advised to avoid less-traveled, unpaved roads and unsanded bridges and overpasses where ice may form.

Seminole had recorded three inches of snow by 8:30 a.m., Tahoka 3, Lubbock Airport 1, La-mesa 2, and Brownfield 1.

Occasional sleet and freezing rain fell in wide areas of Dallas and Fort Worth this morning and the Weather Bureau said it would turn to snow this afternoon and tonight, ending Saturday with decreasing cloudiness and warmer temperatures.

The low predicted for Friday night was near freezing with a high Saturday in the mid-40s.

Skies were to be clear and warmer Saturday in much of Northwest Texas.

At 7 a.m. overcast skies, rain, snow or drizzle was reported at virtually every Texas point with temperatures ranging from 31 at Lubbock with snow to 55 at Brownsville.

WHITE STUFF STILL FALLING

Somewhere in the world spring is beginning tonight, but it's not in West Texas. Old Man Weather is getting in his last licks before spring takes over — and what a lick!

The Big Spring Experiment Station had measured three inches of snow at noon today, and the fluffy white stuff was still falling.

Weathermen were forecasting more snow mixed with rain tonight and early tomorrow morning. Saturday is the first day of spring, but from the looks of things spring this year is going to dawn on an icy, if not snowy, landscape in West Texas.

Illegal Postal Strike Leaping Into Midwest

NEW YORK (AP) — The spreading postal strike leaped into the Midwest today as the court-defying walkout entered its third day with increasingly serious disruptions to the business and financial community.

Some Wall Street brokers feared a continued strike could shut down the entire securities industry by Monday. The garment industry faced the loss of Easter business because rush orders lay buried in the post office.

In Washington, congressional leaders said they would not be pressured into a pay raise sought by strikers while administration action focused on friendly persuasion and cooperation with union leaders trying to end the strike.

More than 17 million persons were without mail delivery Thursday and the number was growing as more branches of the AFL-CIO National Letter Carriers Union responded to the strike begun in New York.

Decisions Thursday night to go out in East Lansing, Mich., Akron, Ohio, and St. Paul, Minn., jumped the strike inland from the populous Eastern Seaboard states where postmen in Newark, N.J., Hartford, Conn., and Buffalo, N.Y., had decided earlier to join the walkout.

There were reports that the strike might spread to more of the nation's major cities despite pleas from the letter carriers' national president, James H. Rademacher, that the more than 60,000 already idle return to work.

The strike in defiance of federal court back-to-work orders already had paralyzed mail service in the New York City metropolitan area and northern New Jersey, affected Upstate New York and was spreading among major cities of Connecticut.

There appeared no end before Saturday when the New York letter carriers who began the walkout are to vote on ending the strike—the first of its magnitude in the 161-year history of the U.S. Post Office Department.

Mail Strike At-A-Glance

By The Associated Press

Parties: The Post Office Department of the U.S. government and striking members of the AFL-CIO National Letter Carriers Union, with other postal employees generally observing picket lines.

Issues: Money. Current annual salary for letter carriers ranges from $6,176 to $8,442 after 21 years. The strikers seek a salary schedule of $8,500 to $11,700.

Negotiations: There are no negotiations because the Post Office Department cannot grant a pay hike. Congress holds the purse strings.

Congress' Position: The House Post Office Committee in a statement said it could not work on a pay bill until the workers resume their duties. The Senate's counterpart committee took a similar position.

Administration position: "The essential thing is to get the employees back to work and then deal with the problems we face," according to Postmaster General Winton M. Blount.

Status of postal pay legislation: The House Post Office Committee has approved a 5.4 per cent postal pay increase in Nixon's postal corporation bill and the House has passed a separate federal pay bill including another 5.7 per cent increase. But the 5.7 per cent bill is deadlocked with a Senate-passed measure allocating a 4 per cent pay raise for all lower-ranking federal employees, including postal workers.

Sappers Hit Jungle Base, Kill 10 GIs

SAIGON (AP) — Ten American soldiers were killed and 31 wounded when North Vietnamese sappers tried to overrun a jungle firebase midway between Hue and the A Shau Valley before dawn today, the U.S. Command said.

At least 10 of the enemy also died in the two-hour fight. The North Vietnamese, screened by mortar fire and using small arms, rocket grenades and satchel charges, repeatedly assaulted the base in attempts to break through the perimeter.

Spokesmen at Da Nang said the enemy did not get into the base, known as Firebase Granite, but the Americans—fighting in thick jungle canopy and darkness without benefit of air support—lowered their artillery to fire directly at the attackers. They also called in artillery from a nearby firebase.

The U.S. casualties were the heaviest for American forces in any single ground action since Feb. 20 when 14 were killed and 29 wounded in an ambush south of Da Nang.

Thursday nine Americans were killed and one wounded when an enemy mine destroyed an American Division armored personnel carrier south of Da Nang.

In Saigon, terrorists bombed a house occupied by American civilians working under contract for the U.S. Navy. The explosion shattered windows but no casualties were reported. Earlier a terrorist bomb at another building injured five Vietnamese.

Two more American helicopters were shot down Thursday, but spokesmen said there were no casualties.

The crashes brought to 3,476 the number of helicopters reported lost in the Vietnam war since Jan. 1, 1961.

President Nguyen Van Thieu announced he would sign into law on March 26 the land reform bill providing free distribution of land to tenant farmers. The bill was approved by the national Assembly Monday after the Senate restored most of Thieu's original proposals which the House had amended.

TICKETS FOR FILM TONIGHT

A few tickets remain for this evening's presentation of the color film spectacular, "Traveling The Tokaido Road," to be shown at the municipal auditorium at 7:30. Tickets are requested at the door, but may be obtained free at The Herald office until 6:30 p.m.

A crowd of several hundred Thursday evening gave warm response to the Eastman Kodak production which portrays the contrast of old and new Japan. It is narrated by Bud Roth, with Bob Johnston as the projection technician.

AGED RESIDENTS At Least 18 Persons Die In Hotel Fire

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Fire officials said at least 18 persons died and an undetermined number were injured early today when fire swept the five-story Ozark Hotel near the downtown business district.

The King County medical examiner's office said the toll might go higher. An estimated 35 to 40 persons were in the hotel, one guest said.

Seattle Police Sgt. Jack Lawson, who witnessed the blaze, said some hotel residents leaped from windows to escape flames.

Eugene Fingarson, 42, a hotel guest said he sat on a fourth-floor window ledge for about 15 minutes until firemen put a ladder up to him.

"I heard a siren," said Fingarson, "and then I smelled smoke. I opened the door, but the fire came into the room, and I had to close it again."

"The hall was full of fire and smoke, I couldn't get out that way."

He said many of the residents were elderly persons.

"I know one man jumped from the second floor. He was pretty banged up, but he was OK."

Just No Comparison

"We know from experience that there is just no comparison between the way people maintain their home if they own the unit than if they are just renting" — Secretary of Housing and Urban Development George Romney speaking Thursday.

THEY WILL CARRY IDENTIFICATION

Census enumerators will have proper identification, Big Spring residents were reminded today, and will show it when they call. Crew chiefs will be calling on a score of residents between now and April 1, and after that, some 35 enumerators will be fanning out over the city, contacting each home. In all cases, according to Dr. Akin Simpson, they will carry identification.

Ready To Use Force If Prince Attempts Return

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian government warned today that it is prepared to use force if Prince Norodom Sihanouk tries to return to power.

"Our army has the right to turn to arms and actions in all forms" if the deposed chief of state "attempts to use the legal authority which he no longer has," said a communique broadcast by Radio Phnom Penh.

The government radio also announced declaration of a "state of danger" and suspension of all constitutional rights for six months, but Phnom Penh remained quiet. Radio Phnom Penh carried reports from half a dozen provinces saying the overthrow of Sihanouk had won the support of students, other youths, local officials, the clergy and the population in general.

Dangerous times were seen ahead as the Cambodians waited nervously for their former ruler's next move. Two possible courses of action were foreseen:

—He can accede gracefully and return to France with his wife, Princess Monique.

—He can return to Cambodia and try to rally support for his cause.

It was considered doubtful that Hanoi and Peking would do nothing while the men who ousted Sihanouk—Gen. Lon Nol, the premier, and Deputy Premier Sirik Matak—moved Cambodia to the right.

Sihanouk's overthrow was carried out so swiftly and smoothly that it took both Western and Communist diplomats by surprise.

First the government removed two men close to the 47-year-old prince, the chief of the Phnom Penh police and the minister for ground defense, who is Sihanouk's brother-in-law. Then upwards of 300 troops were concentrated around the National Assembly, backed by five tanks. More troops took position near the telephone and telegraph office and around the office of Radio Phnom Penh. Then came the announcement that the National Assembly had unanimously withdrawn its confidence from Sihanouk and named the assembly president, Cheng Heng, acting chief of state.

Deputy Premier Matak is considered the strong man now. He also is a brother-in-law of Sihanouk, the half-brother of his wife, but is considered far to the right of the prince.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reported from Peking that Sihanouk spent his second day in the Chinese capital conferring with members of the Cambodian embassy.

Snake Snatchers Gather For Hunt

The Jaycees began the Ninth Annual Rattlesnake Roundup in Highland Center this morning, only slightly perturbed that the snake hunters might have to use snow shoes to get to the rattlers' dens.

Everything was going as scheduled, Roundup coordinator Melvin Fryar said today, so, like the mailmen of old, the snow will not stay these snake snatchers from their appointed roundup.

The Jaycees had registered 10 hunters by noon today and Fryar is hoping for about a ton and a half of snakes before the hunt ends Sunday afternoon.

The hunter who survives catching the most pounds of snakes will get $50 and a trophy, plus the per pound rate for his catch. Second prize is $35 and a trophy and third prize is $25 plus a trophy. The fourth and fifth place winners will receive trophies.

The Jaycees may be trying to flatter the rattlers out of their holes with their per pound rate for the hunt. Today the snakes will bring 20 cents per pound, Saturday 12 cents, and Sunday, seven cents per pound. No money is given to the snake that brings in a hunter.

Pat Burchfield, of Columbus, Ohio, will give demonstrations of snake handling and milking at the center Saturday and Sunday and will discuss the history of snakes.

Several new areas have been added to the hunting grounds this year and late-coming hunters will be aided by maps drawn up by the Jaycees. Guided hunts for spectators will be given Saturday.

The legless monsters will be on display at the center throughout the hunt, and an antique car show and carnival have also been set up.

For the gourmet, the Jaycees are cooking a batch of tasty morsels called "snake snacks" for the hardy and hungry visitor.

Saturday night the Jaycees are holding a Rattlesnake Dance at the Settles Hotel, beginning at 9 p.m. Admission is $3 per couple, or one live rattlesnake per person.

Admission to hunt headquarters in the center is 50 cents per child, and $1 per adult.

A program on St. Patrick was brought by Mrs. Truman Pherigo who noted that the saint was born in Scotland, later going to Ireland as a missionary. He became the patron saint of Ireland, and was given credit for planting the shamrock, which now appears on the royal crest. In Irish folklore, the shamrock's petals represent the Holy Trinity. New officers will be installed April 7.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Folks:

I just discovered about the best "pickin's" ever while baking some of those absolutely lush patty shells—you know, the kind that you've gotta scoop out the soft pastry on the inside.

After removing some finished shells to a cake rack to cool, and taking out the goop from each of them, I was just about ready to throw this soft dough away when I stopped short and wondered if surely this wasn't good for something.

The oven was already hot, so I just stuck the soft dough scraps back on that cookie sheet sprinkled with salt and let them brown.

Talk about heavenly! They were absolutely out on clouds eight, nine and ten and went like hot dogs on the Fourth of July! Perfect for hors d'oeuvres and easily varied with garlic salt, cheese or what have you.

So next time you treat yourself to some of those fancy patty shells don't throw away the inside section (And gals, do treat yourselves once in a while — it boosts your morale and we ALL need that.)

Try my idea and see if I'm not right about it being truly dee-lush-ous!! Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Please, please warn your readers never to leave their car parked on an upgrade driveway without locking the doors.

My little 5-year-old boy got into my car yesterday while I had it parked in a friend's driveway, which is like a hill. In a few seconds he had released the emergency brake and the car rolled down the driveway, across the street and into a neighbor's yard, finally resting in the street.

Little Mike was in the car — more scared than anything.

If other little children had been playing behind the car, they probably would have been killed or severely injured.

So if you must park on a hill, remember to always lock your doors. You can bet that's what I'll do from now on... Judie Hensel

A LOVELIER YOU Cream And Exercise Correct Crepey Skin

By MARY SUE MILLER

A Lovely asks: How can crepey skin be controlled? What is the difference in the care of dry skin and of crepey skin? I have troubles. My face looks as crinkled as a burst balloon.

The Answer: Three basic cosmetic steps — cleansing, correction, protection — are necessary to the care of both dry and crepey skin. With a few exceptions the products used are the same in type. For instance, such products as dry-skin cleanser, super-fatted soap or dry-skin shampoo, oil and moisture-rich night care emollient, firming treatment masks, moisturized powder base and underbase suit crepey conditions. After all, crepey skin is plenty dry.

There are two valuable specialties for crepeiness — astringent lotions and "lifting" lotions. However, cosmetic methods are only part of an improvement program. The outcome is influenced by the tone of your facial muscles, the carriage of your head and your weight.

Sagging facial muscles require exercises with a tightening action. To see how it works, just try to touch your lower lip to your nose; you will feel strong muscle tugs. In the posture area, the rule is chin up and shoulders down. Look at work with your eyes, not your chin.

As for weight, your skin really comes to look like a prickled balloon if you reduce, gain, only to reduce again. Stable poundage contributes to smooth skin, along with all its other good works.

THROAT AND CHIN
To firm and uplift sagging facial muscles and flesh, use my four-way method. It works wonders through corrective exercise, posture, skin care and make up.

Procedures are detailed in the leaflet, "Banish Crepey Throat & Chin." For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 15 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Foe Slaps Sadler's 'Secrecy'

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Bob Armstrong said Thursday that Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has remained silent for five years about 50 reported oil pipeline leaks on state submerged lands.

Armstrong is one of Sadler's two opponents in the May 2 Democratic primary.

"I understand the standard land office contract for pipeline easements on state submerged lands contains a provision that requires the lessee to report oil leaks to the land commissioner," Armstrong told a news conference Thursday.

"I am told the Railroad Commission has recorded some 50 pipeline leaks on state submerged lands in the past five years. I think it is curious for the man who has monopolized the land office for nearly a decade not to have uttered a word on this subject when his own contracts apparently require disclosure of information. I suggest that there be at least adequate enforcement of existing rules as a positive effort against such disaster (oil spills) on the Texas coast," Armstrong said.

Enrollment Up

Enrollment in Big Spring schools last week rose slightly. There were 7,137 on the rolls, a gain of six for the week. Elementary totals were 3,745, an increase of nine, but the loss of eight in senior high pulled the secondary figure to 3,232, a decrease of five. Special education gained two to reach 160. A year ago there were 7,243 or 106 more than now.

Protesters Circle Draft Board Offices In Texas

By The Associated Press

Aside from a series of scuffles outside the federal office building in Houston, antidraft demonstrations in Texas were uneventful and appeared to attract only casual notice Thursday.

Opponents of the draft appeared also outside draft board offices in Dallas, Austin, San Antonio and Beaumont.

Light rain or drizzle dampened their efforts to draw attention.

At Houston, the scuffling occurred after a small group of hecklers stole a Viet Cong flag being waved by a member of a student group. Marshals for the rally plucked the hecklers out of the crowd and turned the flag grabber over to police for what was described as protective custody.

Despite frequent downpours, about 75 pickets paraded around the building occupied by draft board offices in Houston. FBI agents took pictures of some. The crowd grew to around 400 for a rally in late afternoon.

Prior to the rally, Federal Judge John W. Singleton Jr. held that Houston's policy on parades was unconstitutional and a permit must be issued the Houston Peace Coalition, which sponsored the demonstration.

About 25 fellow demonstrators watched in Dallas as an individual identifying himself as Dean DuMont, 20, burned his draft card in front of the Selective Service office. DuMont said he is a student and his father is an Army colonel.

James E. Bristol, national coordinator for the National Council to Repeal the Draft with headquarters in Washington, told Dallas listeners the draft amounted to "involuntary servitude." He added, "No draft can be fair and equitable. I'm not against anything. I'm for peace and for freedom."

About the time of the demonstration in Dallas, hospital workers at Carswell Air Force Base in Fort Worth moved patients from one area to another after receiving word of a bomb threat.

No bomb was found. In Austin, about 60 young people hummed "Taps" as their entry to the building.

A University of Texas student who identified himself as Michael Eakin of Wuanah read a statement branding the draft system "a public health hazard against the peace and dignity of human life" and handed it to Sinclair.

Asked to respond, the Air Force officer then spoke for several minutes, concluding, "When you get the idea the whole Selective Service system and the whole world stinks, why don't you examine your intellectual upper lip?"

Police guarded entrances to the draft headquarters in Austin to make sure no explosives were placed in the building.

Also in Austin, Texas Atty.

Gen. Crawford Martin recommended that "a conspiracy of silence" greet the antidraft displays.

Martin said, "I hope the people of Texas, especially the college and high school students, will show restraint and good sense during this potentially explosive period."

"One way we can avoid trouble is for the majority — the people who oppose the demonstrations — to engage in a conspiracy of silence when the protests occur."

Draft board offices in San Antonio were closed as 50 to 75 persons, mostly long-haired and wearing Army field jackets, appeared in front of the downtown building. Some carried pictures which they said gave proof of a massacre at My Lai in South Vietnam.

Opening lead: Queen of ♦. Alertness on the part of East uncovered a brilliant defensive play which led to the defeat of South's four-heart contract, that appeared to be ironclad.

West opened the queen of diamonds—the suit bid by his partner—and the king was played from dummy. The closed hand was entered with the ace of spades to permit declarer to lead the jack of hearts. When West played low, the dummy followed with the three and East was in with the ace.

East was looking at two club tricks in his own hand provided that he could obtain the lead thru North's holding. This plus the ace of trumps brought his total to three. From the appearance of the dummy it looked as if the only hope for a fourth trick was in finding his partner with a singleton diamond. East was all set to try for a ruff by returning a small diamond when he observed another prospect.

Declarer had not led trumps from the dummy, but had carefully entered his hand with a spade in order to make his heart play. This strongly suggested that West rather than South held the queen of hearts. With dummy's spade removed, declarer had no quick reentry to his hand, and East saw a way to establish a trump trick for his partner even if West had started with two diamonds.

Instead of returning a small diamond, East exited with the jack forcing North to win the trick with the ace. If declarer tried to get back to his hand by ruffing a diamond, West would overruff with the queen of hearts. Similarly, if he played a club, East would be in to make the diamond play for his partner.

Sensing what was taking place, South cashed dummy's king of trumps in an effort to drop the queen. West held out, however, and when he got in with the high heart, he shifted to a club which gave the defenders two more tricks.

Observe that, if East returns any diamond but the queen when he is in, South's nine of diamonds will hold the trick and permit him to draw the remaining trumps by taking another finesse thru West. By returning the jack of diamonds, East put the lethal touch to declarer's aspirations.

Texas Sentenced For Manslaughter

MANGUM, Okla. (AP) — A 23-year-old San Antonio, Tex., man pleaded guilty Thursday to a reduced charge of first-degree manslaughter in the death of Sydney Burleson, 46, of Quanah, Tex., and was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Sam Marsh had been charged earlier with murder in the incident.

Burleson's body was found Feb. 10 at the end of a dead-end road in Greer County, in southwestern Oklahoma. A car had run over him several times, authorities said.

Last Sunday, 14 members of Explorer Post 146 and prospective members, went on an airplane ride at Howard County Airport. Of the five who are considering joining the post, three were girls. If these young women chose to join, it would mark a first in the West Texas area.

The young people flew in an aircraft owned by Major James Hunley and Capt. Walt Kowalik.

HOME CURES OFFERED LBJ

'Take What The Doctor Prescribes—Plus Whisky'

AUSTIN (AP) — Know what it takes to cure a heart ailment?

"Drink salty lemonade to thin the blood."

That's one of the home cures offered former President Lyndon Johnson in the 13,227 "get well" telegrams, cards and letters received since his recent illness.

"Don't eat eggs, sugar and animal fats. Live on skim milk," was another fireside prescription.

Dr. Robert L. North, chief of cardiology at Brooke General Hospital, San Antonio, examined the former president Thursday at LBJ Ranch, 65 miles west of Austin.

"President Johnson is progressing quite satisfactorily," the heart specialist reported. "We plan to allow a somewhat broader spectrum of physical activity than he was allowed during the first week out of the hospital. However, President Johnson will not be back to a completely normal activity level for four to six more weeks."

Johnson returned to LBJ ranch a week ago after 12 days in Brooke General suffering chest pains that first were feared to be a heart attack. Doctors later decided the pain was caused by hardening of the heart arteries.

Johnson moves freely about the spacious LBJ Ranch house and during recent spring-like weather ventured outside several times. Much of his time is spent working on his memoirs and answering those who wrote during his illness.

"Drink cold milk," advised one concerned letter writer. "Drink hot water," advised another.

"Drink Coca-Cola," said another. "Breathe deeply," was the complete cure offered by one who had lived through several heart attacks.

"Eat wheat germ" and "take vitamin E" were others. One writer said "Walk one hour a day" and another "Walk five miles a day."

Still another advised: "Sleep propped up with three pillows."

Then there was the catch-all home cure:

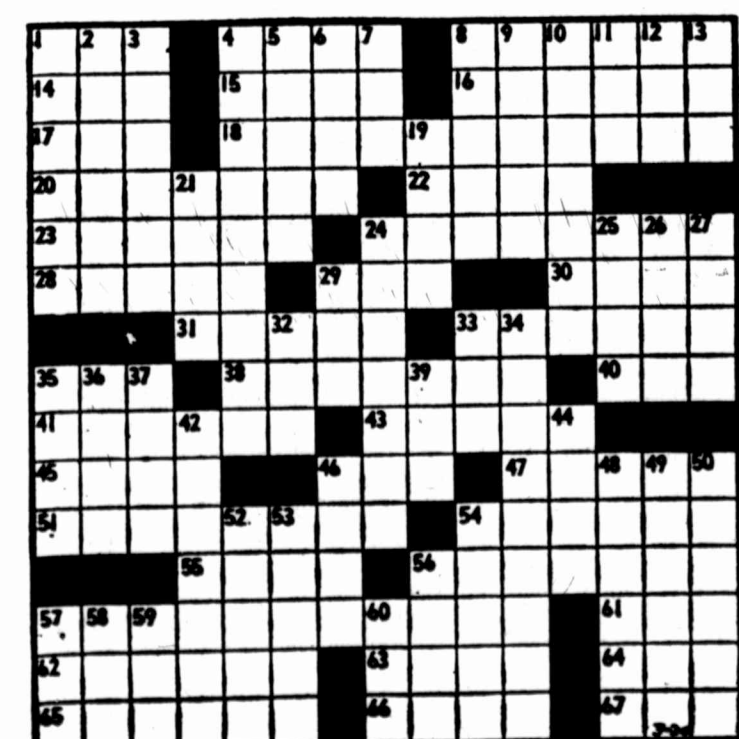

"Take what the doctor prescribes—plus whisky."

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Fear not, stand firm, and see the salvation of the Lord, which he will work for you today . . . The Lord will fight for you, and you have only to be still." (Exodus 14:13-14, RSV)

Prompt Decision Needed

The probe of charges that constitutional rights were abridged by pressure brought by W. S. Healy of Paducah to prevent opposition in his bid for re-election has been moved from San Antonio to Lubbock.

Probably the grand jury there will dispose of this soon — it is to be hoped that this is the case. None knows what the result will be, although some observers conjecture that removal of the case from San Antonio to Lubbock indicated that the transfer was to put it in a district where it would be legally proper to return indictments. At the same time, the conjecture was that if bills were returned, they might involve some of those close to Rep. Healy, but probably not the solon himself. But, conjecture is no substitute for fact, and therefore the jury should hasten to clear the air one way or another.

The probe is apt to have some effect on events even should the veteran chairman of the House appropriations be cleared and returned to office. An old pro at legislative in-fighting, Rep. Healy has yielded an amazing amount of power, often with unabashed directness. He already had about one-third of the House bristling in opposition, and now some of the other restless ones may be emboldened to the point that his grip or influence will be substantially lessened.

Good Choice

Some of President Nixon's appointments have generated historic political storms. But his nomination of Curtis W. Tarr as draft director to succeed Gen. Lewis B. Hershey is a happy choice.

For the past nine months Tarr has been assistant secretary of the Air Force for manpower and reserve affairs. For six years before joining the Nixon administration he was president of Lawrence University in Wisconsin. Before that he served briefly as director of Stanford University's summer session and assistant dean of its School of Humanities and Sciences. He is 45 years old. The fact that he is a Republican is largely irrelevant.

In agreeing to accept the assignment, if approved by the Senate, Tarr expressed the hope that he can "serve the young people of America." It is an attitude that may mitigate some of the alienation of youth produced by Hershey's insensitiveness and autocratic approach.

The Senate should approve this nomination expeditiously so that Tarr can take up his duties as head of one of the most thankless offices in the realm of government. His humble approach to the office and his wide experience with youth should serve him well.

Who Runs Foreign Policy?

WASHINGTON — The Department of State has presented a letter to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee containing a rather unusual set of comments. They relate to a delicate subject — namely, the power of the President to conduct foreign relations and the right of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to interfere with international operations by giving impressions abroad that could lead to misunderstandings of our policies among governments of other countries.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT was confronted with the problem of expressing its opinion on a repeal of a group of resolutions adopted by Congress in the last several years dealing with certain international emergencies. Most important of all is the one known as the "Tonkin Gulf resolution," which has been frequently cited as authority for use of military power by the United States in connection with the Vietnam war.

The administration points out that dependence is not being placed on any of the resolutions as "legal or constitutional authority for its present conduct of foreign relations, or its contingency plans." The State Department adds:

"EQUALLY IMPORTANT the administration does not consider the continued existence of these resolutions as evidence of congressional authorization for or acquiescence in any new military efforts or as a

My son has turned out to be a real rebel. He won't talk to me any more. He stays out all night, and uses his home just as a place to get ready to go out with his crowd again. This has broken my heart, and I don't know what to do. Can you give me any advice? N.B.

Yours is the heart-cry of thousands of parents who have lost their children, not in a war, but right in their own homes. One father said to me, "My son is killing me — not with poison or a gun, but by rebellion toward me and rebellion. It's a living death." Many modern parents are experiencing this anguish. The subject is so complicated that it is impossible to deal with it in this brief column. I know you will be tempted to rebel against his rebellion, but two wrongs never make a right. Many times these rebellious youth are crying for love from parents who have been too busy making money, and involved in social activities, to give them normal parental love. The Bible says, "Love never faileth," and this is true in dealing with children. If the father of the prodigal had been unloving, the story could never have ended so beautifully. The implication is that it was the father's persistent and patient love which brought about an awakening in the heart of his wandering and rebellious son. The Bible says that God has this kind of love for his rebel children. "God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." Romans 5:8.

IT'S NOT GOING IN ONE EAR AND OUT THE OTHER

John Cunniff

Here's Why The Rich Get Richer

NEW YORK (AP) — If you are rich, your money is worth more—at least in some investment markets, including the market for United States government securities.

Americans don't always like to admit this is so, but the facts bear it out. If you have only a few thousand dollars you may buy government bonds at 5 per cent. If you have $10,000 you can obtain 7 per cent.

This means, of course, that the rich man's money is worth 2 per cent more than the poor man's. It means one investor is paid $50 for his $1,000, the other $20 more, a sizable premium.

Although from time to time there are mutterings that such a situation is unjust and immoral, very little concerted effort has been launched against it by small investors.

Now, however, Sen. John Williams, a Delaware Republican, has accused the federal government of discrimination against the small investor and proposes to do something about it.

"This situation wherein the small investors are being paid a substantially lower rate on their savings accounts than are the large investors can no longer be tolerated or defended," Williams said.

He told the Senate he would propose a new U.S. Savings bond paying 6 per cent interest rather than the current 5 per cent. That would mean that a 10-year $100 bond would sell for $55, a 20-year bond for $31.

The discrimination against the small investor was sharply illustrated a few weeks ago when the Treasury Department raised the minimum purchase of Treasury Bills to $10,000.

For years such securities could be bought in units of $1,000, a sum that many ordinary Americans can muster. Attending to this was the sudden activity during the past year at Federal Reserve Banks.

It came about this way: Recognizing that Series E Savings Bonds were paying only 5 per cent—less than that until recently—while Treasury Bills were paying close to 8 per cent, many small investors naturally began buying the higher yield securities.

This presumably caused a lot of problems for the Federal Reserve Banks and the Treasury. Since anyone who put in a bid for Treasury Bills could obtain them, the Treasury felt the big institutional investors might be squeezed from the market.

Treasury Bills are issued in limited amounts. If the institutions, such as insurance companies, could not obtain enough to fill their needs, the entire market could be affected.

The government needs those huge amounts of money that institutions can invest. If only for reasons of efficiency, it needs and is willing to pay for large amounts.

Moreover, officials suspected that some of the money was coming from the Series E Savings Bond program. In fact, redemptions of Series E Bonds exceeded sales in every month for more than a year.

She's Hip To Teen Talk?

By JOY STILLEY
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—As a member of the over 30 set, I may not have bridged the generation gap, but I have at least broken the sound barrier.

Thanks to a careful study of the lexicon of youth, I am now able to converse intelligently, if not intelligently, with my youngsters.

First step in the process of learning their language was unlearning my own. My outdated ideas on word meanings had to go, and now I tell it like it wasn't when I was their age.

Thus I have discarded the old-fashioned notion that a bag is something to carry groceries home in. Now your bag is just doing your thing.

Cool no longer serves merely as an adjective, adverb and verb. It has taken on added duty as a noun, and keeping your cool is very much "in" these days.

Today's bread comes from a baker instead of a baker. Split has nothing to do with bananas—it's the modern way of indicating you're leaving for where the action is.

Hip is still a joint solely to a doctor and, speaking of joints, they've come a long way, baby, since they were only the place where the leg bone was connected to the thigh bone.

As for hash and pot, where once you turned on the stove to cook the former in the latter, now you turn on yourself. "Keep Off the Grass," in the past used exclusively in the landscaping field, is at present an unheeded admonition to the young from the old folks.

Straight and square have left the realm of geometry and embarked on a new career as descriptions of life styles. When someone says "it's a bad scene" he's not necessarily criticizing a play. And when a group gets together to rap, they're not pounding on each other's heads, they're simply talking.

Despite my constant effort to update my vocabulary, I still slip up on occasion, and then my years are as apparent as though I were wearing my birth certificate pinned to my dress.

During a recent shopping session the generation gap became a chasm when I walked into a store and asked to see a slack set. The mislabeled young salesgirl looked at me first with puzzlement, then with pity.

"Oh," she said gently, "what you mean is you want to see a pants suit."

Well, it's like obviously, man, I'm still not with it.

To Your Good Health

Easy Way Is Best Way Here

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been involved in a long argument with my mother about washing dishes and tableware with hot water and soap (detergent), rinsing thoroughly with water, then drying with a towel (no drying in a rack by evaporation).

I believe that you wrote a column pointing out the importance of rinsing and drying because detergent residue can cause diarrhea. There was also a reminder that hot water "at home" was never at the boiling point, 212 degrees.—G.M.L.

Your recollection is part right. Thorough washing with hot soap (or detergent) and water is important, and so is rinsing, because any residue (germs, decaying food, soap) can cause diarrhea, and sometimes other troubles.

But I did not recommend drying with a towel, because too many tests have shown that the germ count is lower when dishes are rinsed in hot water and allowed to dry by evaporation.

So at our house we rinse with water as hot as we can get it from the faucet. No, it isn't at 212 degrees. I hesitate to think how many people would be scalded if tap water was that hot. Scalding is possible 60 or 70 degrees below that temperature.

Just hot — not boiling — water will let dishes dry rapidly and well. The easy way is the best way.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My doctor told me I had a hiatal hernia, and the chiropractor who gave me an adjustment for my feet tried to push the hernia in. Isn't that dangerous?—O.B.

You can't "push a hiatal hernia in" because it just isn't that kind of hernia. I'd suggest that you send for my booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It." Send 25 cents in coin and long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for the booklet. After you've read it, you'll be much more comfortable in your mind.

Might not be a bad idea to pass the booklet along to that fellow who thought he could "push in" a hiatal hernia. Evidentially he doesn't know what a hiatal hernia is.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: If a person has high cholesterol, will he also have high blood pressure?—L.S.

Not necessarily. There is no direct relationship. The emphasis on cholesterol stems from the suspicion that a high cholesterol level is one factor (although not the only one) in hardening of the arteries.

As arteries harden, blood pressure can be expected to rise, but that is a secondary, not a primary result of cholesterol.

Although cholesterol has been implicated in heart attacks and other circulatory troubles, it is nevertheless vital to human life. For this reason, Dr. Thosteson has entitled his booklet, "Control Your Cholesterol Sensibly." For a copy write to him in care of The Herald, enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

'I Agree With You 100 Per Cent—Almost'

"I agree with you 100 per cent," is a popular phrase.

It's ridiculous. A man doesn't even agree with himself 100 per cent of the time. However, I realize it is hopeless to expect people to say: "I agree with you 100 per cent 67 per cent of the time."

This Is Little Old New York

NEW YORK — It is like this in Johnny Lindsay's Fun City: You can get a table at "21" without knowing anybody, and you can go to sleep to the thundering rhapsodies of bomb explosions a block or two from your hotel.

In a town whose mood is mostly gray, the New Yorker's hard-bitten sense of humor survives. The visitor who noted he had been awakened by a bomb blast in a midtown building at 1:30 in the morning was asked what he was doing in bed so early.

THE CRACK came under the heading of carrying on bravely. Most New Yorkers at least go home earlier these nights, which explains why "21" has tables even for the faceless. Only the rich, with limousines waiting outside, can tarry in the night clubs and boites with the assurance they'll get home safely. Most cab drivers knock off before midnight. ("I wanna wake up alive tomorrow.")

NEW YORK is a Balkan state, circa 1914, except that the bombs are planted rather than thrown. Everybody, it seems, is joining in the fun. During one 24-hour period, the city was coping with bomb threats at 13 on one every six minutes. Sirens wail in the nearby streets as Mayor Lindsay denounces the cowardice of the bombers and promises to use all the "law and order" he once politically despised to bring the miscreants to justice.

ALTHOUGH BLACK is still beautiful in the corridors of what passes for statesmanship here, Lindsay and Police Commissioner Howard Leary even admit there are grounds for suspecting that militant Negro groups such as the Black Panthers are involved in the violence. For such heresy, six months ago, they'd have been dropped from their club.

But Lindsay remains true to his whimping image in discussing how to combat this new menace. It's all the fault of the Federal and state governments, he tells reporters. He calls on the Justice Department forthwith to sponsor legislation regulating the manufacture and sale of explosives.

PERHAPS IT is unfair to speak harshly of the stylish mayor, New York is a dirty shirt town in which the citizen has a choice of being choked by a mugger or by smog. Its public transportation is in a state of chaos, and, underground, a jungle of violence. While officialdom stood smugly by, the telephone company put the suspense back into a call to a pal across the street.

KIDS DIE almost daily from drug overdoses. The "poor" live it up on the world's biggest dole. At City College of New York, 1,000 students cheered a speech by Mrs. Afeni Shakur, one of the Panther 21 on trial on charges of conspiracy to bomb public places here. Mrs. Shakur merely urged her listeners to "get a gun, get a bazooka — and do something about it" to further "the revolution."

Lindsay still says he can govern New York City. He's a dreamer. He should quit while he's behind and run for President, or something.

Further Inroads On Privacy

WASHINGTON — The citizen's right of privacy is steadily chipped away with the reason that the virulent tide of mounting violence and crime justifies any action from wire tapping to "no knock" police entry. The rise of violence and crime is undeniable. Yet, whether the cure is a cure and whether the remedy may not be more of a threat to free Americans than the disease is surely debatable.

THE LATEST CHIP to be knocked off is comparatively small and yet it is revealing of the steady trend toward a Big Brother-is-watching-your-way-of-life. A new regulation issued by the Post Office Department, which went virtually unnoticed when it was published in the Federal Register is a form of "no knock" applied to the mails.

Any postal clerk is given the authority to refer any piece of mail, whether a sealed first-class envelope or an unsealed envelope, arriving from overseas to the Treasury Department's Customs Bureau. The Treasury is drafting new rules to put envelopes in the same category with packages and parcels. Therefore, they must be opened and inspected.

MERCHANDISE entering the country has, of course, always been subject to customs inspection. But those with authoritative background who have studied the new ruling believe that this never applied to first-class mail containing nothing but correspondence.

The new regulation is a broad net capable of sweeping in the big fish that may be suspect and myriad little fish as well. The mail from Cosa Nostra agents operating abroad and helping to frame the syndicates that smuggle in heroin is a source of invaluable information except that these agents are not so naive as to write down their plans in a letter to be sent through the international mails. Letters from one's children traveling abroad or from relatives overseas fall into the same net and are just as likely to be ready by customs officials.

A DEPARTMENT spokesman gives as the reason for the new ruling the attempt to check what is described as a flood of pornography from abroad. Martin Wolf, with the Public Information Office working with the chief postal inspector, describes this flood in awesome terms. He says it comes from Denmark, Sweden, Ireland, the Middle East and South America. Mailing lists purchased by the purveyors of this hard-core pornography are used to distribute teasers in large numbers to addresses of individuals across the country. And the individuals, in turn, enter angry protests to the Post Office Department.

IF THE FLOOD is on this scale it will take the work of a number of customs officers to halt it and whether ever with a large force there can be any effective check is doubtful. Pornography wholesalers in this country flood the mails with teasers sent to indiscriminate mailing lists, according to the department. Curtailing the domestic operation of the merchants of smut has proved difficult to downright impossible.

ONLY A Congressional committee can put the searching questions as to the motivation and the consequences of the new ruling. What about the Universal Postal Union and our postal treaties — do they authorize this invasion or prohibit it? Who initiated the changes? Was there a rush order from above? An alert committee should get some revealing answers.

Decision May Come On City Computer

City officials are in hopes that Tuesday night's regular meeting of the city commission will mark the end of discussions on the city's accounting problem, after the commissioners hear the recommendation offered them on electronic data processing equipment.

City Manager Larry Crow, Finance Director Charles Smith and City Auditor Max Green have spent the better part of the last two weeks involved in discussions among themselves and with the representatives of five bidding firms while trying to find a system of machine best suited to fit the city's accounting needs. A final decision was set for noon today, Smith said this morning, to arrive at a firm recommendation.

The commission will also consider the Beals Creek flood control project again. Crow received a letter this week from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers saying that no additional city expenditures would be required to add fill areas along the excavation site. Commissioner George Zacharias asked for a cost estimate on the new disposal areas at the last regular meeting, after hearing that the engineers had determined that the original area was insufficient.

The total cost of renovating the creek along the T&P right of way from One-Mile Lake to near the end of Eleventh Place was put at about $2½ million of which the city's part would be $940,000.

Seize Narcotics Mailed From Viet

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Officers seized a sizeable amount of narcotics mailed from Vietnam and arrested four persons at an apartment on San Antonio's Northeast Side Thursday night.

Authorities said post office employees intercepted a package of what proved to be dried marijuana and delivered it to the addressee after notifying U.S. customs agents. The raid followed four customs agents joined city police in arresting three soldiers stationed at Ft. Sam Houston and the wife of one of the soldiers.

Officers said they found nine cultivated marijuana plants, each in a separate planter box, in the apartment. They also seized 200 amphetamine capsules, a glass container filled with purified opium, about 4½ pounds of marijuana and an unspecified amount of hashish.

Those taken into custody were held without immediate charge.

The ordinance is effective only "if a clear or present danger exists or the use of force or violence" is threatened, or if such conditions actually exist.

Two Thai Battalions Aid Laotian Troops

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Two Thai battalions have reinforced Laotian troops defending Long Cheng against a North Vietnamese force that has advanced to within a mile of that army base, informed sources reported tonight.

They said the battalions were flown from Thailand by Air America transports into Long Cheng. It was the first report of any sizable force of Thai troops entering the conflict in Laos although there have been reports of advisers from Thailand operating in small numbers.

The threat to Long Cheng, base of Gen. Vang Pao's Meo tribal army, was increased when the North Vietnamese overran three hilltop positions.

The development came as Col. Pradith Thientham, a Pathet Lao emissary, arrived in

Manson's Trial Date Is April 20

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charles M. Manson has a new lawyer and a new date for his joint trial with four of his co-defendants on murder charges in the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and six others.

The trial date is April 20. The new lawyer is blond, bearded Ronald Hughes, 35, and this is his first criminal case.

The trial was postponed from March 30 to give Hughes time for preparation.

Hughes, who passed the bar examination only last June, was appointed Thursday at Manson's request when the long-haired hippie-type clan leader objected to motions made by his court-appointed attorney, Charles Hollolpeter.

"I would like to change this counsel. I have not agreed to any of these motions," Manson told Superior Court Judge William B. Keene after Hollolpeter requested that Manson be given a psychiatric examination.

Manson chose to substitute Hughes, a stocky UCLA law school graduate who has attended most previous hearings in the case, sitting in the spectators' section with loyal young followers of Manson.

"I've been out to the Spahn Ranch a few times to investigate the case," Hughes said later, referring to the San Fernando Valley movie ranch where Manson's nomadic "family" lived.

"I've visited Mr. Manson in jail 70 or 80 times," said Hughes. "There is no question about his sanity." He withdrew the psychiatric examination motion.

Manson insisted angrily that he'd rather defend himself, but said if he was forced to have an attorney, it would be Hughes.

Keene reminded Manson that after several court performances he had been ruled incapable of defending himself.

"Is a mouse going to represent a lion?" asked Manson.

Some sources predicted the North Vietnamese would try to seize Long Cheng to reinforce the bargaining position of the Pathet Lao.

The annual All School Sing will be held at 7:30 p.m. today in the Big Spring High School Auditorium with 10 clubs competing for the trophy.

Court Jesters and Thespians won the trophy last year and will be defending their prize tonight. The club which wins the trophy three years in a row keeps it, Kenny Sheppard, choir director, said. The sing is sponsored by the a cappella choir, but the choir does not compete.

Prize money for the first place winner is $50; second, $25, and third, $15. The clubs are judged on a point system, with 60 points for singing; 20, ingenuity, and 20, staging.

The singers are allowed 12 minutes and usually perform a skit and sing several songs around a central theme or present an excerpt from a musical, Sheppard said.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am a man who has been divorced for several years. I am presently going with a woman who has also been divorced, and I am seriously considering marrying her. She told me that since her divorce she has had numerous men in her life, but I am her first "true love." (She says the others were "mistakes.") However, when she entertains, she always wants to include one or two of her former lovers in the guest list, but I do not care to have a circle of friends comprised of my wife's ex-lovers.

MR. ANONYMOUS: DEAR MR. A.: Her first mistake was telling you about her previous "mistakes." However, if you intend to marry this woman, let her know that after your marriage you will insist on having for friends, gentlemen with whom she hasn't been so friendly. And if she doesn't see it your way, lose her. She's trouble-deferred.

DEAR ABBY: I have been reading your column for a long time, but you finally printed a letter which touched me so much I had to write to you. It was from a woman who was "hopelessly in love" with her best friend's husband. It would seem the number of times this situation has appeared in your column, that it's a fairly common problem, and while I agree with your answer that this woman wasn't really looking for advice, but condoning of her activities, I have something to add, and hope that you see fit to print it.

A number of times I have found myself powerfully attracted to men who were considered "off limits," so to speak; one in particular. He was unhappily married with two children. I succumbed to it, feeling as the woman in the letter did, that our love was stronger than we were. The resulting affair was that bitter-sweet combination of stolen moments of bliss, followed by long hours of guilt.

I finally got a hold of myself and tried to analyze my feelings. I slowly came to realize that it wasn't the man himself that attracted me, but the fact that he was "forbidden." (I proved this to myself on another occasion when a "forbidden" man suddenly became available, and the "magic" quickly disappeared.)

School Sinking, Students Moved

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Harmony Grade School is sinking so the pupils were moved out this week.

The school, said to be located above an abandoned coal mine, has been sinking about one-quarter of an inch each week for the past several months.

"The engineers said we had better move out until we can find out more about what's going on," said Leonard Parrish, superintendent of the Harmony, Emge and Ellis schools. The Harmony students were being transferred to the other two schools.

WT Editor Wins Journalism Award

FORT WORTH (AP) — The veteran news editor of a weekly West Texas newspaper has been selected to receive the 10th Margaret Caskey journalism award. The Fort Worth Chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, woman's journalism society, said today the award will go to Miss Virginia Robey of the Wellington Leader in Wellington, Tex.

It will be presented to Miss Robey, a 31-year-old newspaper veteran, at the annual breakfast of the journalism organization here April 4.

"The Margaret Caskey award is intended to give recognition to women who have not received a great deal of public acclaim," said Mrs. Lester Benge, award chairman.

"Miss Robey has never pushed for public recognition. She seldom takes a byline and she is representative of the many women in small towns whose dedication makes their newspapers possible."

The award is named for a member of the chapter, Margaret Caskey, who as a high school journalism teacher here launched many professional journalists in their careers.

A pre-law graduate of West Texas State College, Miss Robey taught a year before joining the Leader staff. During her tenure, the newspaper has won numerous awards.

Revenuers Shut Down Brothel

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Revenuers shut down Nevada's biggest brothel because liquor was sold without payment of a $50 federal tax stamp, the government says.

Owner Joe Conforte called it "the most dastardly single act in the history of the Internal Revenue Service" and moved his girls from a trailer cluster at Mustang Ranch, 15 miles east of Reno, to a nearby location.

Brothels are legal in some parts of Nevada, although local authorities can close them if they are deemed a public nuisance.

Postal Employees Helping To Make Census Accurate

Postal employees will play an important role in obtaining the most accurate population count in history, the Commerce Department's Bureau of the Census and the Post Office Department report.

Postal employees at all levels, especially city letter carriers, will help the Census Bureau with the 1970 count by handling census questionnaires going to more than 40 million households in the major urban areas where a mail-out, mail-back census will be conducted, and conducting an exhaustive pre-census check of household addresses in these areas to provide the bureau with the most accurate and complete list of such addresses.

It will be the first time in U.S. history that the population count depended so heavily upon help from the Post Office.

The Post Office Department will deliver and return the questionnaires in most of the large urban areas in the April census. The mail-out, mail-back procedure will apply to 60-65 percent of the population. In mail-out, mail-back areas, people will receive census questionnaires late this month and will fill them out and return them to the Bureau in pre-addressed envelopes.

Tests have shown that the mail-out, mail-back census results in improved statistics, reduces the need for census takers when it is difficult to recruit them, and permits better placement of census takers in problem areas.

The remainder of the population, in smaller cities and rural areas such as in Big Spring, will receive the questionnaires by mail, but the completed forms will be picked up by census takers just as in 1960.

Summarized, here is how the check is being made:

1. A list of addresses (about 40 million, in all) covering areas served by city postal service was obtained by the bureau from a commercial source and put on computer tape. Each address identifies a place where someone lives (no names are included, however) by street and number, town or city, State, and zip code.

2. Each address was printed by computer on a label which was affixed to a card. The cards were sorted by letter carrier routes and packets were delivered to each city letter carrier last summer, for the addresses on his delivery route.

3. Carriers then matched the cards with actual addresses where people on their routes receive mail. This was done by casing the cards. Each carrier has a metal sorting case — with slots for current addresses on his route. In distributing the cards throughout his sorting case, the carrier noted either omissions or wrong addresses. Special care was taken to make out new cards for addresses not on the original list, addresses for which a housing unit actually did not exist or those with wrong street or zip numbers, and to list all households in multi-unit dwellings.

4. Corrected cards were then returned to the bureau, and corrections are being made on the computer address tapes.

5. About March 10, when mailing packets containing the questionnaires and return envelopes were delivered to post offices for distribution, a second check was made by each carrier, by casing the mailing packets. The carrier noted any address changes since last summer, or new units for which no census mailing piece is provided. These changes again were entered on correction cards and sent to the bureau.

6. Corrections from the second check were forwarded directly to 1970 census temporary district offices. Questionnaires to be sent as a result of this second check will be hand addressed in district offices and mailed directly to the households involved.

7. When the carrier delivers his questionnaires on March 28, he will make one last check by noting any changes in his route. Cards for these again will be sent directly to district offices, and questionnaires will be mailed out to households not previously identified.

A significant improvement over previous censuses is expected to result from this triple check of household addresses. Census officials believe that a major cause of persons being missed in past censuses has been that census takers, unfamiliar with the structures they canvassed, did not find all the places where people live. Letter carriers, on the other hand, are more likely to know every residence on their routes. By locating all the household units before the census is taken, bureau officials foresee the opportunity of obtaining the most accurate count of the population ever developed.

Texas Is No. 1 Nationally In Industrial Development

AUSTIN — The spiraling 1969 manufacturing growth across Texas has made the Lone Star state number one in the country in industrial development, according to a just-released report by a national publication.

Gov. Preston Smith announced the results of the Fortune Magazine survey in an appearance before the Salesmanship Club of Dallas, hatching it up with quotes from "U.S. News and World Report" calling Texas "an empire within a republic — the new Powerhouse of the United States."

Gov. Smith said the Dun and Bradstreet-supported findings were published by the Fortune Magazine marketing research staff, placing Texas as the leader for the first time in history.

Smith also noted that Texas' total of 901 new plants established in 1969 represents growth more than 42 percent greater than that of second place, California. Texas was the only Southwestern state to rank in the top 10 of new industrial locations.

Other states in the top 10 were Georgia with 609 new plants, Illinois with 290, Alabama with 289, Indiana with 240, Florida with 224, Minnesota with 224, Ohio with 212, and North Carolina with 189.

Only six other states exceed Texas' total of 15,576 manufacturing plants, and the 901 new plants established during the year constitute a six percent increase in the total number of manufacturing plants in the state.

Smith noted that while Texas attracted more industry during the year, it came at a minimum cost to the taxpayers.

"The top 10 states invested a total of $7,967,500 in programs to attract industrial growth," Gov. Smith said. "Texas' investment was $385,570, or less than five percent of the total."

"Altogether, these top 10 states accounted for 3,813 new plants, of which Texas received 901, or 24 percent. Thus, for an investment of one-half the average, Texas has been able to accomplish nearly three times the results."

Location of new plants and expansion of existing industry has been the leading factor in employment growth of nearly 30 percent in the past decade, he said. Manufacturing registered nearly a quarter-of-a-million new jobs, an increase of almost 50 percent, making manufacturing the fastest-growing employment sector in the state.

M. F. McKnight

Evangelist Was Once Farmer

A dedicated farmer who once won the "Outstanding Farmer" award is now a dedicated preacher who will be holding services Friday and Saturday in the Carl Street Church of Christ.

He will preach a special 10 a.m. service Saturday for women, entitled "God's Woman," and will give a sermon at 7 p.m. today on "Evangelism" and one at 7 p.m. Saturday on "Motivation." A 30-minute lesson on "Steps for Developing Courage" will follow tonight's sermon; and a presentation of IMPAC Soul Saving lessons after the Saturday night sermon.

McKnight majored in business in Abilene Christian College, and flew dive bombers for the Navy for three and a half years following his 1942 ACC graduation. He was discharged from the Navy in 1945 and moved to the family farm in Cotton Center.

He started teaching Bible classes in Cotton Center and, as word of his ability spread, he was asked to speak more and more — all over the South Plains. "In 1955, I was farming 1,900 acres and teaching 10 Bible classes a week," he said.

McKnight is the minister on the Journey to Eternity television program seen locally on cable channel 39 from 9:30 to 10:30 tonight.

Column Lampoons Oddities, Inanities

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A Jesuit priest said to his bishop: "Your Excellency, an official of your chancery office has informed my superior that I am not to take part in any more racial demonstrations. I would like to know whether this was done with your knowledge and approval."

The bishop: "Father, it was done without my knowledge but with my approval."

That's the sort of ecclesiastical ambiguity and absurdity collected mostly from church publications and parish bulletins and sent in by readers, which are the object of zesty, often peppy satire in a lighthearted column "Cry Pax!"

Subtitled "A Column Without Rules," it appears in the National Catholic Reporter, an independent weekly published in Kansas City, and it gleefully lampoons each week's accumulated accounts of oddities and inanities in the church.

A selection of the, "The Best of Cry Pax," has now been issued as a paper-bound book. As for the purpose behind such material, Editor Robert G. Hoyt says simply, "It is to make you laugh, an altogether sufficient function."

Some people feel it is irrelevant to laugh about the church, he says, but "our premise is that God must have a sense of humor."

Here are a few examples from the glimpses into the comic side of the religious enterprise, along with the editor's postscript comments in some cases:

—The Baltimore Catholic Review reports the wording of a sign on the wall of a local estate: "Trespassers will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Sisters of Mercy."

—Headline in the Michigan Catholic, Detroit archdiocesan newspaper:

"Minister Marries Son in Catholic Church." Comment: "Ecumenism gone wild."

Bovines, EP Austin Clash In 3 Games

Coaches Oakley Hagood of Big Spring and K. C. Brown of El Paso Austin watched weeping skies this morning and wondered if they were going to be able to get in any of their three-game baseball series scheduled this weekend.

The two teams were to have squared off for the first time at 4 o'clock this afternoon and then resumed play in a double header at 10 a.m. Saturday in Steer Park.

Austin, unbeaten power of the border city, is repaying a visit the Steers made to El Paso last year.

Austin won its first four starts this year, shelling out Roswell, N.M., twice and Las Cruces, N.M., and El Paso Jesuit once each.

Big Spring was poised to carry a 2-4 record onto the field. The Steers have beaten Odessa, Ector and Lubbock Monterey and lost to Monterey, twice to Odessa Permian and Lubbock Coronado.

The playing area at the Steer Park dries fast but would almost have to have some sunline on it to become playable.

Coach Hagood had his right-handed ace, Jimmy Farris, ready to hurl the opening game.

Dave Duncan will likely go in one of the games Saturday while David Englert and Moses Flores are also available for hill duty, although Englert is favoring a bad knee.

Fred Gary is the likely mound starter for Austin in the first game.

Other El Paso starters likely will be Joe Montes, left field; Pat Carden, center field; Hank Carden, catcher; Shible Simon, third base; Henry Bedanette, first base; Mike Gonzales, shortstop; Dale Robertson, right field; and Ricky Santrested, second base.

Brown is the dean of El Paso area baseball coaches. Several years back, he fielded a bi-district winner against Odessa High and won that series to qualify for state.

Big Spring likely will go with Joe Martinez behind the plate, Felix Martinez at first, Roddy Caffey at second, Rick Peurifoy at shortstop, Randy Womack at third and Roger Dixon, Andy Gamboa and David Hanson in the outfield.

Big Spring came back to get another run in the fourth when David Stanley tripled and sprinted home on a ground out by Grady Ray.

In Odessa's fifth, Wilkerson walked, stole second and came home on a ground ball hit by Blau.

Big Spring counted with two tallies in the fifth when Olague walked and pilfered second. Shaffer did the same. Brewer single to drive in Olague. Shaffer then got home on a wild pitch.

Big Spring loaded the bases in the sixth but failed to count.

David Newman went all the way on the hill for the Dogies, surrendering only three hits. He walked only two and fanned nine.

An erratic throw by Odessa's catcher, Pat Patterson, in the eighth enabled Jesse Olague to score from third base immediately after Olague and Pete Shaffer had pulled off a double steal. Tommy Fletcher was at bat at the time. The break came after two men had been retired.

Lee May Rips Sox Pitching But Reds Lose

By The Associated Press

Lee May won the battle of the brothers but Carlos didn't do too bad. His Chicago White Sox won the war.

Older brother Lee, who has slammed White Sox pitching for eight hits in nine trips this spring, lashed three hits, including two doubles and three runs batted in Thursday but his Cincinnati Reds lost to the White Sox 7-3 at Sarasota, Fla., in an exhibition contest.

However, Carlos, 21, who missed over sixty games last year when he lost part of his right thumb in a freak accident while serving a two-week military hitch last summer, belted a double and a single, driving in the first two Chicago runs.

Carlos, a left-handed hitter but righty thrower, is making a miraculous comeback after his career was believed ended. In 100 games last year he batted .281, crashing 18 homers and 62 RBI before the accident. Brother Lee, 27, had a .278 mark with 38 homers and 110 RBI last year.

HARRELSON OUT

At Mesa, Ariz., tragedy struck the Cleveland Indians when outfielder Ken Harrelson broke a bone in his lower right leg. An Indian spokesman said he would be out at least two months and possibly the entire season.

Harrelson's injury occurred while he was sliding into second base on a fourth inning force out against Oakland.

"I knew right away it was bad," said the 28-year-old Harrelson, who was obtained from Boston by Cleveland in April of last year. "I heard it snap and I saw my foot pointing in the opposite direction."

The A's won the game 9-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Juan Pizarro and Robert Rodriguez.

Ken McMullen cracked a three-run homer and started a triple play in Washington's 8-4 triumph over the New York Yankees, snapping the Yanks' six-game winning string. Frank Howard, the Senators' mammoth slugger, made his spring debut, slapping a single in three trips to the plate.

Hank Aaron blasted his sixth homer of the spring and Pat Jarvis scattered three hits over six innings in Atlanta's 2-0 decision over the New York Mets.

GIBSON ON BEAM

St. Louis Cardinals' ace right-hander Bob Gibson went seven innings, limiting the Minnesota Twins to three hits and Richie Allen cracked a homer—his second in two days—in the Cards' 3-1 triumph.

Willie Crawford's two-run 10th inning homer gave Los Angeles its 5-3 victory over Detroit. All the Tigers' runs came on solo homers by Willie Horton and rookies Elliott Maddox and Ken Sotkiewicz.

Another rookie, Greg Luzinski, slapped a run-scoring ninth-inning double, giving the Philadelphia Phillies a 6-5 victory over Houston. The Astros got homers from John Edwards and Joe Pepitone while Tony Taylor slammed one for the Phils.

Pittsburgh rode the longball slugging of Gene Clines, Ron Davis, Bob Robertson and Chuck Coggins—each belting homers—in a 10-4 beating of the Boston Red Sox. Carl Yastrzemski, Don Pavletich and Don Lock smacked homers for the Sox.

Al Ferrara boomed a two-run homer helping San Diego to a 5-1 triumph over California.

Jimmie Hall homered in the Chicago Cubs' 6-4 decision over Seattle as Cubs' ace Ferguson Jenkins went the first five innings, allowing one run.

ODESSA — Some of the state's finest high school athletes were on hand for the annual West Texas Relays but the weather gave the meet a dreary outlook.

No fewer than 15 boys who have posted the state's best times or distances this season are poised to take part in the two-day event.

Odessa Permian and Plainview, along with Amarillo Palo Duro, remained as the teams to beat in Class AAAA.

Most of the West Texas schools, including Big Spring, is entered in the cinder carnival.

Gary Kelley, now at HCJC, holds the quarter mile record. At the time he was representing Big Spring High School in 1968, he was clocked in 50.4 here.

Activities were to get under way at 1 p.m. today, at which time finals in some Class AAAA field events were scheduled.

Howard County JC is entered in the junior college division.

Phoenix, playing at home, exploded for 46 points in the first quarter to build a 13-point lead. The Suns led all the way with the Celtics narrowing the final score on three last minute baskets by Larry Siegfried.

Gail Goodrich led the Suns with 32 points. John Havlicek topped the Celtics with 29.

Torrid Marquette Decks LSU Tigers

NEW YORK (AP) — "We

come out smoking," said Coach Al McGuire of Marquette ... and that's how his Warriors kept the heat on Pistol Pete Maravich.

Marquette's fiery defense shot down Louisiana State's one-man basketball show and took a runaway 101-79 victory Thursday night to advance to the finals of the 33rd National Invitation Tournament.

St. John's of New York earlier advanced to the finals with a heart-thumping 60-59 victory over Army before 19,500 hysterical fans at Madison Square Garden.

"Any man can be stopped," said McGuire after Marquette used a variety of defenses to hold Maravich to only 20 points, almost 27 below his game average. "Where is he gonna go with men in front of him and behind him?"

"Teams know we're going to come out smoking," said McGuire. "They know we're going to be on their chest and belly to belly from the start."

There were times Marquette had three men draped over the Pistol ... and sometimes zone combinations ate him up. Maravich also admitted that a sore left ankle hindered his lateral movement and negated his feared outside jump shot.

"I come down on my left foot with the jump, and I wasn't able to get it off as often in the second half," said Maravich, who only took four shots in that stanza. "But don't get the idea I'm apologizing. I'm not."

"I don't feel bad for myself. I've had my share of good games. But ... I wanted to win the tourney championship for my father (LSU Coach Press Maravich). That's all down the drain now."

Maravich was held to 20 points only two other times this season—once during the regular season by Tennessee and last Sunday by Georgetown in their opening NIT game.

Press Maravich took the loss philosophically. "I'd rather lose playing our wide-open scoring style than playing ball control. Pete had a bad game, but I don't feel sorry for him. Not for all the great games he's played for me."

Dean Meminger, Marquette's fleet guard, scored a sub-par 16 points, but helped guard Maravich and kept the offense in high gear most of the night with his bullet passes.

Sophomore Rich Lyons dropped in two foul shots when one second left in the opener as St. John's stole the game from Army's game Cadets.

"What can you say about Lyons?" exulted St. John's Coach Lou Carnesecca. "Talk about pressure. It was all there. A sophomore with all the pressure in the world ... and he makes the big shots."

"He's been in situations like that before, blew them and went home and cried. But ... tonight he's a pretty happy kid."

LSU meets Army in a game for third place prior to the title game Saturday afternoon.

Cal Linksters Dominate Tour

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—

The young Californians are making hay on Florida golf courses, and Ron Cerrudo pointed it out after shooting 68 Thursday to share the first-round lead in the $100,000 Greater Jacksonville Open with veteran Don January.

"How about the Californians?" Cerrudo asked. "Three out of four; that's not bad."

He's from Napa, two other northern California golf products, Dick Lotz of Graeagle and Bob Lunn of Sacramento, won top prizes the past two weeks at Pensacola and Orlando.

Cerrudo, typical of the confident young man on his way to the top, won at San Antonio and could be predicting a double although he didn't go that far with three rounds yet to play on the tough 6,943-yard Hidden Hills course.

The 25-year-old in his mod striped slacks, conquered the twin hazards of wind and sand fleas as well as a high powered field of top pros through the first round.

"I'll take the wind over the bugs," Cerrudo said. "I scratched half the night from those bugs in Wednesday's pro-am."

Defending champion Ray Floyd is one of seven only a stroke behind the two leaders. Bobby Mitchell, Don Bies, Jack McGowan, Gardner Dickinson, Dale Douglass and R. H. Sikes also had 69's.

St. Louis Cardinals' ace right-hander Bob Gibson went seven innings, limiting the Minnesota Twins to three hits and Richie Allen cracked a homer—his second in two days—in the Cards' 3-1 triumph.

Willie Crawford's two-run 10th inning homer gave Los Angeles its 5-3 victory over Detroit. All the Tigers' runs came on solo homers by Willie Horton and rookies Elliott Maddox and Ken Sotkiewicz.

Another rookie, Greg Luzinski, slapped a run-scoring ninth-inning double, giving the Philadelphia Phillies a 6-5 victory over Houston. The Astros got homers from John Edwards and Joe Pepitone while Tony Taylor slammed one for the Phils.

Pittsburgh rode the longball slugging of Gene Clines, Ron Davis, Bob Robertson and Chuck Coggins—each belting homers—in a 10-4 beating of the Boston Red Sox. Carl Yastrzemski, Don Pavletich and Don Lock smacked homers for the Sox.

UCLA, Jacksonville Reach NCAA Finals

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Defending champion UCLA, seeking an unprecedented fourth consecutive title and sixth in seven years, will match its speed and balance Saturday against the height of tourney newcomer Jacksonville University in the finals of the NCAA basketball championship.

"They have such great balance," said Jacksonville Coach Joe Williams after UCLA demolished New Mexico State 93-77 in the semifinals Thursday night. "There isn't any one on their ball club that is weak, no one you can really play off of."

"We're going to try to make some kind of effort to get them out of their pattern," he said. "We can't make them play their game."

UCLA Coach John Wooden, not over-enthusiased with his club's offensive game against the Amazon Aggies, also had lots of praise for Jacksonville which squeezed past outmanned and foul-plagued St. Bonaventure 91-83 in the other semifinal.

"I would think it would be our speed against their height," Wooden said. "I think we're much quicker but they have those big boys."

One of those boys he was talking about is 7-foot-2 Artis Gilmore, who scored 29 points and grabbed 21 rebounds to lead the Dolphins over a charged-up St. Bonaventure club that played without injured All-American Bob Lanier.

John Vallely, Sidney Wicks and Henry Bibby led second-ranked UCLA with 22, 22 and 19 points, respectively. But the scoring star of the game was the Amazon Aggie's Jimmy Collins, who pumped in 28 points, most with his deadly jumper.

Wooden said he was pleased with UCLA's overall performance but "Our turnovers displeased me. We made some bad mistakes on defense, but overall we played pretty well on defense."

Coach Lou Henson of New Mexico State said fourth-ranked Jacksonville will have to play an outstanding game to beat the UCLA team.

Gilmore, 7-foot-10 Pembroke Burrows III and 6-foot-10 Rod McIntyre.

"This UCLA team is well balanced and we have faced them three years in a row now," said Henson. "And I think this team (UCLA) may be the equal if not better than the past."

UCLA knocked New Mexico State out of the Western quarter-finals in 1968 and 1969.

Williams said Jacksonville played very poorly against St. Bonaventure and "we all feel badly that we didn't play a better ball game."

"We are in the finals, though," he said, "and that's what counts. As long as we win by one point, I'm happy."

Coach Larry Weise said the Bonnies "played their hearts out."

"I'm very proud of them," he said. "Jacksonville is big and strong and their guards handle the ball very well and the team as a unit shoots well."

Yearlings Slam Lamesa In Pair

Big Spring Runners' eighth graders won their seventh girls' volleyball decisions in 11 starts by drubbing Lamesa, 15-8, 15-8, here Thursday.

Coach Jane Upton of the Yearlings said it was far and away her team's finest performance of the season.

Joyce Turner, Lisa Pipes, Cynthia Dennis and Vicki Patterson all were outstanding for Runners.

QUARTERBACK CLUB TO MEET AGAIN MONDAY, 7:30 P.M.

Co-Captain Paul Shaffer has announced that the Quarterback Club will meet again at 7:30 o'clock Monday in the high school cafeteria, at which time an important new phase of the booster club's program for the 1970-71 school year will be discussed.

"We are making telephone calls to some people but we want all who are interested to be on hand," Shaffer said. "No one is obligated to buy anything, but we do want them to listen to what we are planning."

Shaffer said the club had plans not only to give the Steer baseball park a coat of gold paint (provided school officials agree) but, in due time, to add a tinge of gold to Memorial Stadium.

It's all in keeping with the Gold Rush '70 campaign launched by Shaffer and his co-captain, Harrold Jones, when they assumed office several weeks ago.

LOOKING 'EM OVER
With Tommy Hart

Steve Oakley, the Abilene scribe, says he's not so sure Big Spring can live up to its role as the baseball favorite in the East Zone of District 3-AAAA. (A Lubbock paper, it developed, has pulled the coaches, who proceeded to put the monkey on Big Spring's back.)

Coach Oakley Hagood of Big Spring says he's not so sure, either, until he can come up with more solid pitching. Right now, James Harris looks like money in the bank but the other hurlers either haven't been able to find the plate or haven't been up to getting anyone out.

Farris, with a fine assortment of pitches, throws as hard as any Big Spring hurler has in years. He was blowing the ball by Lubbock Monterrey, the perennial 4-AAAA favorite, last week and seemed to be just as strong in the seventh inning as he was in the first.

Coach Bobby Maegle of Monterrey has said all along that his team hasn't shown any appetite for attacking the ball at the plate. Hagood knows, too, that he's going to have the same kind of problems. The Steers may have to make a little do in lot of most of their games.

San Angelo, which knocked off Midland Lee twice last week, may deserve the nod in the East Zone.

Incidentally, James Newman, the all-district lefthander who helped Big Spring post its finest record in 3-AAAA history last year, won his first two games for Odessa College.

His second success was a 15-0 job achieved over the University of New Mexico B team in Albuquerque. In six innings, Newman yielded only two hits, walked three and whiffed five. He also connected for a hit and scored two runs.

Thomas Ham, who went with Newman to Odessa intent on playing ball for Julian Pressley, had to quit because of physical miseries and is now in Howard County JC.

Bill Herron, who coached the Odessa Bronchos to a 3-AAAA baseball championship a few years ago, is finding out how the other half lives. He's now an umpire.

Kip Bass, who accompanied the Monterrey team and got in both the games as a pinch hitter, is the son of Bob Bass, the Texas Tech basketball coach. Kip feels a kinship to Big Spring, since his father was born here.

A few years ago, Weber State of Utah was fielding basketball teams against the likes of Howard County JC and other junior college powers.

Converted to a four-year school, Weber this year made the NCAA playoffs.

One of the Weber stars is Willie Sojourner, who waited until his senior in high school to report for basketball drills. Up until then, he had been a competitive swimmer.

He says he didn't play basketball for a unique reason, explaining:

"It was so big the neighborhood guys didn't want me to play — so I went swimming."

Beans Reardon, the former baseball umpire who recently received the Bill Klem Award in Houston, said he never had any use for the irascible Klem.

"He hated my guts and I hated his," Reardon recalled.

Golfers Seek To Play 4th 3-4A Round

ABILENE — Big Spring seeks to improve upon its third place standing in District 3-AAAA golf standings in 18 holes of play at the Maxwell Municipal Course here today — the fourth in a series of five rounds of competition.

The Steers advanced to third in the standings by playing their home course last week.

Odessa Permian leads runner-up San Angelo by 13 strokes with a 54-hole score of 934.

Big Spring is only five shots back of San Angelo and needs to gain that position in order to qualify for the Regional meet, which will be held at Andrews this year.

At 932, Big Spring is only two shots ahead of Odessa and seven ahead of Midland Lee. Midland High is next in the standings with a 960 while Abilene Cooper and Abilene High are far back.

Randy Smith of Permian is first in the race for medal honors with a 54-hole score of 226. Billy Carson of Odessa is in with a 229 while Scott Shaffer of Midland, the former leader, is third with a 230.

The final round of district play takes place in Midland April 10.

Bad weather in Abilene today could postpone the round of competition until some time next week.

Inspecting Rio Cattle

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Animal Health Commission is inspecting all cattle imported into the state as required by a district court order, the agency's director says.

Dist. Judge Herman Jones of Austin issued an order Wednesday requiring cattle tuberculosis tests mandatory for all cattle entering Texas from across the Rio Grande, including steers and spayed heifers.

Jones granted a request from the Associated Milk Producers of Texas, who said at least 100 cattle had crossed the Rio Grande without TB tests.

Commission Director Dr. James B. Henderson said the agency modified previous rules Feb. 23 to make TB tests mandatory only for female cattle, not steers and spayed heifers.

DEAR BOSS:

Spring Is Here; Yep, That's Snow

Dear Boss,

Your skeptical inquiry about spring focused my attention on the calendar, and you're right, today is the first day of spring, or rather tonight is the first night of spring.

Since Old Man Winter doesn't officially leave until 6:57 p.m. today exactly at sundown, doesn't that make tomorrow the first "day" of spring?

I checked with the weather bureau, and while they couldn't officially promise we won't have another cold spell, they were very optimistic that from here on out the weather is going to get warmer . . . and warmer . . . and finally downright hot.

In case you're interested, spring officially begins at the exact moment every March when the center of the sun passes exactly over the equator as the sun moves north, which scientists call the time of vernal equinox. This makes the day and night of equal length.

However, you're right, that was snow you found when you got up and looked out this morning, but after all, what's a little snow between friends. About mid-July or early August, I bet you will look back on this snowfall with a little nostalgia.

My friendly encyclopedia tells me the change in the sun's position produces such variations in the pattern of warm and cold air masses that violent storms are often caused.

I haven't noticed any mesquites blooming, which veteran West Texans know as a sure sign of spring. It's a cinch Ugly and Beautiful, the weather forecasting turtles of Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Mays, weren't exactly right this year about spring, so I'm going to keep my winter clothes available until I see a mesquite blooming.

But spring is here, by the calendar at least. And by the way, there was a time when this was the occasion of a new year's celebration. To those close to the land and the weather, such a system of accounting would still make more sense than having New Year's Day in January.

While it's not quite time to break out the suntan lotion, I think, after today, you can probably put away your snow shovel. Happy New Year, Boss.

Your weather-minded reporter,
Jean Fannin

Yarborough Blames Strike On Nixon Administration

HOUSTON (AP) — U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., has blamed the threatened national postal workers strike on the Nixon administration.

Yarborough said President Nixon has blocked a "long overdue pay raise" for postal employees.

Yarborough spoke at a dinner in his honor Thursday night at which three other United States senators paid tribute to him.

A crowd estimated by newsmen between 4,000 and 4,500 in the Albert Thomas center heard Sens. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, Harold Hughes, D-Iowa, and Alan Cranston, D-Calif., praise Yarborough.

Telegrams also were received from former President Harry Truman, former Vice President Hubert Humphrey and some 40 senators.

Yarborough, seeking re-election, obviously was pleased with the turnout on a cold, damp evening. He entered the convention center to a standing ovation and made a half-circle of the hall on his way to the podium.

Muskie, recognized as the Democratic Party's spokesman on pollution, praised Yarborough as a fighter for anti-pollution laws and asked the crowd "to send him back to us in November."

Hughes said Yarborough is leading the way "in the battle against drug and alcohol abuse."

Cranston praised Yarborough's record in passing education bills, saying that the senior senator's proposal to increase veterans' education benefits by 35 per cent will be passed by the Senate Monday.

Hughes called Yarborough "a rare combination—a humanitarian and a tough, tireless fighter."

He said Yarborough was "either a sponsor or co-sponsor of every major piece of education legislation passed into law in the past decade."
