National and International News Hi-Lights of the Week

The Civil Aeronautics Board opened the Northwest Pacific to commercial aviation August 1 and set up two new round the world services for U. S. airlines.

The assignment for flying the Great Circle route via Alaska to the Orient went to Northwest Airlines, which announced in Minneapolis that is probably will be ready to start thrice weekly operations before the end of the summer.

Through an extension of existing international routes, CAB provided for a round the world service by Pan American, and for similar global trips via Trans World and a line up with the new service in the Pacific.

President Truman has ordered Army and Navy to reduce expenditures substantially below their present programs despite protests from Gen. D. Eisenhower and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

Mr. Truman wrote the heads of all departments and agencies that "the present inflationary situation and the need for reducing the public debt make it imperative that expenditures be held at the lowest possible level."

On August 6, for the third straight day, earthquakes and tidal waves battered coastal towns of the Caribbean republic, causing many residents to flee in panic into forests in the interior. The known death toll reached twenty two.

The shocks which began Aug. 4 and caused 20 deaths in the adjoining communities of Baffo and Cobreira on Scotch Bay in the northeastern section of the country. Many persons were reported injured or missing in the region.

Food and clothing were dropped by government planes to the people who fled from Matanzas August 4 and took refuge in a nearby forest.

Great Britain has begun to spend part of the recently granted $3,750,000,000 American loan but only for limited purchases, embassy officials disclosed, August 4.

Officials have said the initial slice of the American credit would pay for essential "purchases" such as dried eggs, American cotton, motion picture films, wheat and other food items.

Rising prices for scarce American products, they reported, are causing some British economic experts to favor delaying large scale orders until the cost situation shows some signs of leveling off.

Orders for machinery, needed to modernize Britain's coal and other industries, may be postponed for this reason and also because the labor government has not yet determined which factories should get the largest shares.

The western allies won a victory over the Slavic bloc August 7 when the rules committee, after a head on clash of U. S. and Russia, decided that simple majority decisions of the peace conference would be referred to the foreign ministers council as recommendations.

During the bitter debate on the voting procedure, U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes charged that Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov was attempting to dictate to the peace conference. In reply, Molotov labeled Byrnes' speech as "violent and perhaps bellicose," denied the charge and declared that the delegation alone was defending the recent decisions of the Big Four foreign ministers.

Beauford Jester, candidate for governor, has said that his program will include a "people's production conference" to promote the smooth industrialization of Texas.

"I shall ask representative citizens from every section of the state to meet with me so that we may advise together on plans for keeping our factory wheels turning."

The Lions Roar

The regular meeting of the Lions Club was opened with the singing of two songs, followed by one verse of America and all members giving the Pledge to the flag.

Mr. A. D. Petit read the following letter of congratulations from Marlowe C. Fisher, state secretary of the Lions Club.

"It was certainly a thrill to read in the July issue of the Saturday Evening Post, the article entitled, 'Texas Cleans Up a Mess,' and to see what recognition was given to the Santa Anna Lions Club."

"May I take this opportunity of congratulating your fine Lions Club for the wonderful spirit shown in helping the itinerant workers of Latin American descent who are constantly working through the fields of Texas. I would like to know if your secretary made a note of this in his report to the International, and if not, will you please see that he does so so that they may know of the type of service the Lions Clubs of Texas are constantly rendering."

Following the reading of the letter, Thomas Marion Hays played a trumpet solo accompanied by Miss Elsie Lee Harper on the piano.

Quentin Burgett and Cleft Herndon were appointed to see the business men about closing on the August 14 V-J Day.

Bill McDavid had Bill Lynn of Brownwood as his guest, Earl Gill, Sr. of Brownwood was guest of Ford Barnes and Mrs. Neal Oakes, Miss Alma Lois Townsley and her mother, Mrs. D. N. Townsley were guests of Neal Oakes.

W. E. Gill Attends 'Flying Farmers' Meet In Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. Warren E. Gill flew in their new plane to Stillwater, Okla., last week to attend the National Flying Farmers Convention, to which Mr. Gill was the Texas delegate. Twenty one states were represented at the convention which met on the campus of the A. & M. College.

Mr. Gill states that the farmers in other states are apparently taking more interest in flying than they are in Texas. He adds, however, that in the future the farmers of Texas will probably take a greater interest and more farmers will buy planes to take their farm produce to market. Mr. Gill says that the weather in Texas is more favorable for flying than in the majority of the other states.

The War Department has declared the properties at Camp Bowie, Brownwood, consisting of innumerable personal properties and 118,000 acres of land surplus property as of September 1st and the entire properties will be disposed of by the RFC. Sunday, August 4th, Coleman was host to about 50 chiropractors from the West Texas District of the State Chiropractic Association. The meeting was held in the Coleman Hotel and began at 12:30 noon with a luncheon served in the hotel dining room. The principal speaker for the afternoon was Dr. Raymond Wray of Abilene. His subject was "Importance of X-Ray in the Science of Chiropractic Treatments." The guest speaker of the afternoon was Dr. T. O. Davis of Liberty, Texas. The highlight of his talk was the fact that people of today are lucky in that there are lots of things that now there are known cures for. He also stated that doctors have to have hope, faith and courage because they are servants of the people.

Dr. A. M. Fisher of Coleman was elected district director. Dr. Fisher is now serving in his third year in this capacity. Dr. Raymond Wray of Abilene was elected district president. Dr. J. C. Shipman of Abilene was elected vice president and Dr. J. Lester Ohlhausen of Ballinger was elected secretary treasurer.

This was a pre convention meeting. The main convention will be held in Dallas, August 19-31.

Miss Margie Brooks of Tyler is visiting Misses Nell and Zoll Bledsoe. They met and became friends while attending the Stamps school of music in Dallas earlier in the summer.

Regional Supplement

This week the supplement that we said we would carry all this month, for some reason failed to arrive. The supplement is edited in Amarillo and we have not been notified that it would not be here. So it is most likely on the way and is being delayed somewhere.

We have had very few comments on the supplement. We would like for you to come in and express your opinion whether you like it or not. And if you do like it and want it to keep coming there must be between 400 and 500 of you, the readers of the Santa Anna News, come by or drop us a card and let us know.

Due to extra work and the cost of handling, the supplement was not mailed to out of the county patrons last week. This will have to be the policy of handling the supplement until the labor shortage is helped some.

Other special features of the program included instrumental music by Max Eubanks and Mary Frances Williams, both of Santa Anna. The annual dues of the association was raised to $2.50 per year, and a large number of new members were secured.

Eubanks has served as county committeeman with FSA since 1935. He served as committee man for the AAA for several years and was chairman of the county war board.

Serving in his capacity as a public servant, Eubanks has helped many farmers and ranchers.

At the Dallas meeting the future and problems of farm security work were discussed.

Texas Tradition Seen As Biggest Issue By Jester

Buford Jester, opening his run off campaign for governor recently declared the principal issue is whether the government of Texas shall continue in the Texas tradition or according to tactics of outside forces.

Speaking over Radio Station WOAI, Jester described these outside forces as "unfamiliar with our heritage and ignorant of our belief and personal freedom."

He said the time has come when Texas must choose between democracy and left wing radicalism.

"My opponent who seeks to impose upon the people of Texas as new, radical and expensive theories of government, was able to rally less than 25 per cent of the voters to his cause despite the fact that he was, and still is actively supported by the PAC of the CIO which seeks to dominate the governor of Texas," declared Jester.

He said he would travel about the state in the next three weeks to carry his message personally to the people of Texas.

"I shall not be diverted by the pompous challenges to joint debate now being made by a candidate who refused any joint debate in the first primary. This is going to be my own clean cut campaign," Jester said.

Heart Of Texas Press Meet Planned In Brownwood

The Heart of Texas Press Association, which flourished prior to eight years ago, will be reorganized at a meeting tentatively being arranged to be held in Brownwood the middle of September, according to M. S. Sellers, Rising Star Record publisher and editor.

He said such notables as Walter Humphreys, Ft. Worth, president; and Deskin Wells, secretary of the Texas Press Association, and Wayne Sellers, Ft. Worth, former secretary of the Texas (daily) Newspaper Publishers Association, will be invited to the reorganization meeting.

Ward School, Lunch Room, Being Painted

This week the ward school building is receiving a new needed coat of paint on the inside. This is being done through the money made by the Parent-Teachers Association from the sale of cow tickets at the Lions Club Carnival last year and the cooperation of the new school board.

The school has been needing the paint and some inside repairs for quite some time. By the time school will open again the school will be in good condition and all the painting will be completed.

After the lunchroom was moved from the high school to the ward school it is getting a new inside coat of paint also. All new stoves are being added to the lunch room and plans are in the making for a much nicer and better lunch room than before.

Coleman Buys 11 Buildings From Army Air Field

Coleman city and school officials this week completed a transaction for the purchase of 11 buildings at Coleman Flying School from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The city paid $2,790 for two of the buildings and the school district $10,287 for the rest.

The city plans to use its buildings at the city airport in addition to five smaller units classified as essential for a municipal airfield but as yet not granted by RFC. The nine school buildings will house classroom, band, shop and lunch facilities.

Mrs. Tom Campbell of Lubbock, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. Frank Turner, has gone to Taipa for a visit with her son Knox Campbell and family.

Papers throughout the Heart of Texas and Hill Country area will be invited, Mr. Sellers said.

'Take It Easy'

The American Automobile Association has launched a nationwide campaign to convince every American car driver and every American pedestrian to "take it easy" in traffic.

We shouldn't need any great amount of convincing on this subject. There are few adult Americans who have not had a friend or relative killed or seriously hurt in traffic accidents. Most of us have had more than one. In spite of this, the toll continues, year after year, on highways and city streets.

It is well to remember that the cars that chugged along on wartime gasoline now are getting a much fancier grade of fodder. And it's fun to zip 'em up and feel the power that modern gasoline gives.

The trouble with this is the fact that the driver who does it is endangering not only his own life and those of his passengers, but the lives of people he has never seen and who do not know he is coming tearing around the corner in just a minute.

So, the next time you feel like

Coronet Tells Of Unsung Tex. Hero

One of the greatest heroes of Texas has probably never been heard of by more than a handful of people. He was George Arnold, modest young farmer of Hill county.

Arnold's act — one of singular courage — is described by Coronet Magazine in the August issue under the title "Greater Love Hath No Man". The incident occurred in 1880 — just five years before Louis Pasteur discovered the cure for hydrophobia.

George Arnold had been bitten by a mad dog. Saying nothing about it to his family, he waited several months until the hot summer came, studying meanwhile of the grim fate that was to befall him.

After writing a farewell note to his wife and children, Arnold chained himself to a tree in the woods, locked his ankle to the chain, and threw the key out of reach. He judged rightly the consequences, for when two days later his body was found, the ground had been torn up the full

'Flying Icebox' Makes First Flight

A unique "Flying Refrigerator" making the inaugural flight of Santa Fe Skyway, Inc., new contract air cargo affiliate of the Santa Fe Railway, took off from Los Angeles Municipal Airport at 11 a. m. Wednesday, July 31, with a cargo of perishables to arrive in Chicago at 3:10 a. m. Thursday according to H. R. Lake, president of the Skyway corporation.

Santa Fe Plane No. 1, a war surplus C-47, is equipped with a new refrigerator unit developed by Douglas Aircraft engineers which makes it the only self refrigerating transport plane of this type in commercial service. This plane is capable of carrying a 5,500 pound refrigerated payload of perishables, or a 6,500 non refrigerated load. It is insulated throughout with XAA fiberglass and the cabin is lined with white V-board, a fiberglass composition designed to protect fragile cargo.

Santa Fe Skyway, with headquarters at Chicago, will carry specialized types of cargo, including perishables and large loads of merchandise, into the territory served by the railroad between Chicago and the West Coast.

The Skyway will be manned largely by veterans of the military air forces, eleven of whom are now in service as pilots.

Mr. E. A. Parker made a business trip to Dallas Monday.

length of the chain, the nails of his fingers wrenched off, and all his front teeth out, in biting.

Arnold thus saved his family and neighbors the consequences of facing a mad man. The Texan's bitter courage made his ancestors' last stand at the Alamo look easy, declares the Coronet article.

Mrs. Frances Dieter and son, John of Austin, were week-end visitors of her brother, J. W. McClellan and family. John is remaining indefinitely awaiting sailing orders, when he and his mother will join his father, Lt. Col. H. B. Dieter in Germany. Other visitors in the McClellan home were Mr. and Mrs. Otis Miller and daughter, Elizabeth Ann of Hawley. Mrs. Francis and Joan McClellan returned home with the Millers for an indefinite visit.

To The Voters Of Coleman County

I wish to thank you from the bottom of my heart for the nice vote I received in the July primary for County Clerk. This vote enables me to enter the runoff with Geo. M. Smith, the present clerk. For the next four weeks I will again be asking that you consider my qualifications for this office and elect me as your next County Clerk.

I did not enter this race with the deliberate intention of taking another man's job away from him as many people seem to think but because I wanted to advance and take on more responsibilities. I promised you that I would keep the office of District Clerk only four years and now that that time is up I am trying to move forward rather than stand still. The office of County Clerk has more responsibilities and serves a greater number of people than the District Clerk's office, although they are both important to the county. My experience as District Clerk has qualified me for the office of County Clerk. There are four different courts — probate, civil, criminal and commissioners' courts, that the County Clerk has to deal with. My experience with the District Courts more than qualifies me for this type of work. I have been working with public records these last four years and know the importance of keeping them up-to-date and in good order. Although I have not been allowed a deputy in the District Clerk's office, I believe in maintaining a courteous, efficient office force that will have the interest of the public at heart and if elected I will hire the most courteous and efficient office help available.

It will be a physical impossibility for me to see each of you before August 24th to ask you for your vote so please accept this as my request for same and if elected to this office I pledge to you that I will maintain a courteous and efficient office that you can be proud of and enjoy doing business with.

Yours Very Truly,

Bob Pearce

Will there be any shortage... ten years from now?

It's very unlikely that there'll be a scarcity of things to buy in 1956.

But you might be faced with a much more distressing shortage—a shortage of MONEY TO BUY THINGS WITH!

Fortunately, this is a shortage that a persistent and foresighted man can avoid. It's one you, personally, can do something about.

How? By the simple and painless process of buying U. S. Savings Bonds regularly... through a Payroll Savings Plan.

If you've been buying bonds that way — KEEP IT UP. If you haven't, start buying them now and — KEEP IT UP. And, above all, hold on to the bonds you've bought.

Result: In 10 years, you'll get back $4 for every $3 you've invested. And you'll get it back in nice lump sums as your Bonds come due.

You're not short of cash now. Why take a chance on being short in the future? Keep buying Bonds.

Q. How long does it take 2-4D, the new selective hormone weed killer, to kill weeds?

A. Plants will die in two to four weeks after application, the first indication being a twisting of leaves and stems.

Q. Do hens laying at a high rate consume more feed than those laying at a lower rate?

A. Yes. 100 hens laying 70 eggs a day will take 29 to 32 lbs. of feed daily, 100 hens laying 40 eggs a day will take only 20 to 22 lbs.

Q. Should special attention be given to feeding and handling the herd boar?

A. Yes. Records at the Ralston Purina Company's Research Farm indicate that any improper feeding, mis-handling, or neglect of the most important single individual in the hog herd, the herd boar, will be reflected in smaller litters, lowered production, and less profit.

Q. Should tom turkeys be separated from females during the growing season?

A. It is probably not necessary until the last six weeks or two months of the growing period. Such a separation makes the birds more docile, they grow better, and there is less bruising or skin-tearing as the result of fighting.

Q. What was the change in the International Livestock Exposition recently announced?

A. Carol feeder cattle will be dropped this year from the International's competition. Carol feeder cattle will be featured at a special show to be held at the Chicago Stock Yards, October 28 and 29, under the sponsorship of the Union Stock Yard and Transit Company and the Angus, Hereford, and Shorthorn Breed Associations.

What's the cost of the electricity used by your radio for one evening? Well, for a single penny you can keep your many tube radio playing for three whole hours. That's a lot of entertainment for a penny.

And that's just one example of the bargain you get when you pay your electric bill. Yes, you're really getting twice as much electricity for your money as you did fifteen years ago, despite the fact that most other commodities cost much more than they used to. Business-managed, tax-paying electric companies are continually striving to keep on supplying the dependable electric service you now enjoy at such a low cost.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.,
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for August 11

JESUS AND HOME RELATIONSHIPS

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:12; Mark 7:9-13; Luke 2:51-52; Ephesians 6:1-4.
MEMORY VERSE—Honor thy father and thy mother; that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.—Exodus 20:12.

Home—that place so dear to the heart of each one of us—is even more precious in the sight of God. He is concerned about our homes and those who live in them.

Right relationship between children and parents have much to do with the peace and prosperity of a community and a nation. Experience has demonstrated that to be true, but even more basic is the fact that it is in accord with the promise of God.

One of the sad breakdowns in modern life is that of proper honor and obedience to parents by children. In all too many homes God's order has been reversed and instead of honoring and obeying their parents, children (both young and old) have taken the place of "boss," and mother and father must obey if they want peace and rest.

The problem of juvenile delinquency, or perhaps we should say more correctly, parental delinquency, is right on our doorsteps now. That means that the need for our lesson is both great and acute. The future happiness of hundreds of thousands of children and the present welfare of thousands of neglected and boss-ridden parents will depend on the intelligence and faithfulness with which this lesson is taught in our churches, and the honesty of heart with which we all receive its truth.

I. The Responsibility Stated (Exod. 20:12)

"Honor thy father and thy mother"—how good, and substantial, and right those words sound.

We are told by Paul that this is the "first commandment with promise" (Eph. 6:1-3). The Lord was not making a bargain with man, or seeking to draw out obedience by a prize, but there is obviously a great reward in the observing of this commandment.

Then too as the children of God (if we are such) through Jesus Christ, the first and most important consideration to come before us is, What is the mind and will of the Maker of us all regarding this matter of the relationship between parents and children? His words are plain: we are to "honor" our fathers and our mothers.

The word "honor" carries with it a great many things, but perhaps the three outstanding elements are respect, obedience and affection. But men do not wish to follow God's direction, so we see next.

II. The Responsibility Evaded (Mark 7:9-13)

Such an important commandment naturally held a high place in the thinking of the community. To violate it involved a measure of shame which men sought to avoid. So the Jews of Christ's day devised a scheme which made it possible for a man to appear to be very religious even as he deprived his parents of the honor and help to which they were entitled by the law of God.

The man who did not wish to support his aged and needy parents could entirely evade that God-given responsibility by declaring that his property was "Corban"; that is, dedicated by a vow to God. Thereafter no matter how great was the need of his parents they could receive nothing, and yet he could keep it and use it for himself.

Thus do men make "the word of God of none effect" (v. 13) through their traditions. The method differs, but the spirit persists even in our day.

Jesus made short work of such trickery and evasion. He declared their man-made creeds and traditions to be simply a means of making the command of God of none effect. Once more he condemns that formal religious observance which serves as a cloak for sin and selfishness.

III. The Responsibility Fulfilled (Luke 2:51-52; Eph. 6:1-4)

The manner in which children should be obedient to their parents and honor them in the home is beautifully exemplified in the life of our Lord, living as a boy in Nazareth.

In the home the growing youth finds the best place for normal, well-rounded development (v. 52). There is no substitute for the home.

The words of the Holy Spirit through Paul in Ephesians 6:1-4 humming and to bring about the establishment of more factories" Jester said in an address prepared for radio delivery.

Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt has announced that construction was started on 496,000 new dwelling in the first half of 1946 and to send the veterans emergency housing program speeding toward its goal to 2,700,000 new homes by 1948.

On the basis of construction undertaken in the first six months of the Wyatt declared that there is "strong likelihood" that the goal of 1,200,000 new homes and apartments to be begun this year will be reached.

The housing chief revealed that several large airplane companies have "definitely indicated" to me that they are going into the building of houses. He said there were at least a dozen other companies with advanced plans for the production of prefabricated houses.

Experience, to date indicates no reason to change the original 1946 target of 1,200,000 starts even though it represents the highest number of starts for any year in history.

William Heirens, 17 year old University of Chicago student, made a confession Tuesday, August 6, of the kidnapping and killing of 6 year old Suzanne Degnan last January 7.

In his confession, Heirens asserted that he strangled Suzanne as she lay in the bed. Then he carried her from the Degnan home to a nearby basement where he dissected her body with a hunting knife. In his story he said that he was sleep walking or in a trance when the horrible cold blooded murder of the child occurred.

Heirens also confessed the lipstick murder of Francis Brown.

stress the same truth and enlarge upon it.

This matter of honoring and obeying parents "is right," says Paul. It is the Lord's way, but it is also that which commends itself to every right-thinking person.

There is tremendously important truth on the other side of the picture. Parents are not to provoke their children to anger, to disrespect or disobedience.

May God help us who are parents that we may take to heart this part of our lesson. Our children are our most valuable possession.

A Dime For King Cotton

Oscar Johnston, president of the National Cotton Council, has just addressed a message to the cotton interests of Coleman county asking full cooperation in the cotton industry's program to increase the consumption of cotton and cottonseed products.

Under the program which Mr. Johnston outlines, every cotton farmer is asked to contribute 10 cents on each bale ginned. Other cotton interests, including merchants, warehousemen, spinners and cottonseed crushers are contributing proportionate sums.

The question immediately arises as to what will be done with the dimes. The work of the National Cotton Council on behalf of the cotton farmer during the past seven years provides a ready answer to that question.

Never before has cotton been so widely advertised and publicized. Never has such intensive work been done to develop new cotton products and to improve those already in existence.

The council is living up to its single goal of "increasing the consumption of American cotton former Wave and the fatal throat slashing of Mrs. Josephine Ross, 43 year old widow. The youth is also suspected in some 200 burglaries.

and cottonseed products through the world." It is doing a commendable job of protecting cotton's markets from the challenges of its numerous competitors.

Today when these challenges are becoming greater than ever before, it is essential that cotton be given full equality in research and sales promotion.

In this area where cotton means so much to our economic well being, it is only logical that every farmer and other member of the industry contribute the full share which is asked. Ten cents a bale is a low price to pay, but when gathered into a central fund, these dimes will do a tremendous job for cotton.

Dimes paid today are insurance for tomorrow.

State Health Letter

"From a health standpoint, children are not ready to enter school until they have been successfully vaccinated against smallpox," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, reminds parents who expect to enroll their youngsters in September. "Many school districts make vaccination an entrance requirement, and children who have never been vaccinated, and also those vaccinated in babyhood, should be taken to the physician for vaccination now, so that the scar will be well healed before school opens."

Immunization against diphtheria is also strongly recommended for further protection. Parents are urged to have their children protected from diphtheria by immunization with toxoid. Children who had this protection in infancy should receive a booster dose before entering school in order to maintain immunity at a high level.

"These two types of protection against disease should be considered 'musts' for preschool children," Dr. Cox declared. "Any other immunizations that the physician may recommend will, of course, provide additional health security."

In addition to this protection against specific communicable diseases each child getting ready to enter school should also receive a complete physical examination by his private physician or at the nearest clinic. Any treatment or correction of defects advised by the doctor should be undertaken immediately in order that the child may enter school in the best possible physical condition.

Notice Of Public Hearing On Pecan Bayou

Pursuant to the resolution of the Committee on Flood Control, the district engineer has been directed to submit a report on the review of survey of Pecan Bayou.

The existing project, consisting of the enlargement of Lake Brownwood reservoir, will provide more positive and effective protection than is provided by the existing reservoir to the town of Brownwood and to the agricultural lands along the lower Pecan Bayou and the Colorado River from floods originating on Pecan Bayou above Lake Brownwood. This project will make available additional water for conservation uses. The project is in the detailed planning stage.

In order that the required report may fully cover the matter, a public hearing will be held in the Roof Garden of Hotel Brownwood, on Wednesday, September 11, 1946, beginning at 10:00 a. m.

Oral statements will be heard but for accuracy of record all important facts and arguments should be submitted in writing, as the records of the hearing will be forwarded for consideration by the war department.

A group consisting of Floyd and Ruby Goodgion, Miss Louise Medley of Brooksmith, Mrs. Ralph Conley, Mrs. Claud Conley, C. W. Stephenson, Jr. and Mrs. George Cheney and son, George, Jr., of Houston had a picnic supper and outing at Lake Brownwood last Thursday night. All enjoyed a nice boat ride.

F. Z. Payne, Jr., is home from Flagstaff, Arizona, where the family formerly lived. He has been attending school there and will be here until the opening of the fall term.

Bowie Housing Sought By HPC

Howard Payne College is working through the Federal Public Housing Authority to obtain use of some Camp Bowie Civilian Housing Project units for ex-GI students of the college.

There are 214 such units at Camp Bowie, and Howard Payne has more than 200 GI Bill of Rights students, most of them men with families. A lot of these need housing and can not afford high rents, Dr. Thomas H. Taylor, president of the college, said.

Dr. Taylor conferred with Mayor Wendell Mayes Monday morning about the housing need, and went before a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Camp Bowie Planning Committee group.

The federal agency has the duty of providing housing for Bill of Rights students, and has provided some trailer houses moved here from Laredo for that purpose. Additional facilities in the form of two story apartments from Camp Berkeley have been tentatively in prospect, but the Camp Bowie housing could be used in place without being moved if made available for the students, Dr. Taylor pointed out.

Miss Louise Medley of Brownwood and Miss Minnie Lee Lincoln of Valera were guests of Mrs. Ralph Conley Sunday night.

To The Voters Of The 25th Senatorial District

I want to express the deep feeling of gratitude I have for the loyal support given me in the recent election for State Senator.

Lack of time prevented my seeing more than a relatively small number of the voters and, in the counties where I was virtually unknown, I did not, of course, expect to receive as many votes as I did in my home county of Tom Green and in the surrounding counties where I was best known.

It shall be my purpose to represent the best interests of the State and District at all times and I sincerely trust that I may have the benefit of your advice and ideas as to how this may best be done. I stand available to all of the people at all times for the good of Texas.

Non-Profit Organization May Buy WAA Goods

Veteran organizations, churches, religious institutions and certain other non profit civic organizations will be permitted where feasible to buy government surplus property at the same price as small retailers, the War Assets Administration announced today.

Because these organizations function generally in the public interest assisting with veterans' problems and community welfare, they will be afforded a reasonable opportunity to fulfill their needs from surplus at the commercial level, provided that their orders can be handled without interference with normal disposal practices, WAA said.

Heretofore, such organizations were not permitted to buy surplus property because they do not operate in "normal channels of trade" and are not included in the group of scientific, educational, public health, public welfare, charitable or eleemosynary institutions defined in SPA regulation 14. Under the new ruling, these buyers are held to be ultimate consumers as defined in special order 24.
