Highland Pays McLean Deficit

By ANNA BURCHELL
Pampa News Staff

The operation of McLean General Hospital, a 20 - bed facility owned by Gray County, has cost $32,868.65 — this year.

During April alone the deficit was $5,826.25 — and the hospital admitted 16 patients for a total of 180 patient days.

The deficit is paid monthly from the operating fund of Highland General Hospital in Pampa.

The Highland General Hospital Board of Managers expressed concern over the cost during its Thursday night meeting in the hospital conference room.

"That's something to think aobut seriously," said Fred Neslage, board chairman.

"The loss will be less next month," said Robert Monogue, administrator. "And that's the rosiest thing I'm going to commit myself to."

He explained that revenue from increased room rates will be reflected in next month's figures.

During the past 12 years, Highland General has subsidized McLean $234,445.70 "to keep it going."

At the same time, Highland General has undergone remodeling, financed two major additions to the hospital and purchased costly up - to - date equipment and still operated in the black.

In regard to operational costs for McLean, Dr. R.M. Bellamy of Pampa, board member, said "40 to 42 per cent of our patients are Medicare, and we know we are going in the hole."

Neslage told the board that the financial situation at the McLean hospital is a losing battle "and you can't do anything about it."

Highland General admitted 482 patients in April for a total of 2,544 patient days.

Despite opertional costs for McLean, and expenditures for capital improvements, the Pampa 126 - bed hospital shows a net gain of $11,195 during April.

Highland's only tax money originated when the hospital was built 25 years ago. Since that time, it has operated with funds from patient revenue and its total assets today are $3.3 million.

"To replace the hospital would cost much more than $3.3 million," said Neslage in commenting that Pampa doesn't have to take a back seat to any other city when it comes to medical care.

"We have a dedicated medical staff and the finest doctors anywhere," he said.

Monogue announced that a new piece of equipment was ordered this week for use in providing life support in extreme respiratory distress cases. The equipment, due to arrive within 90 days, cost $4,600.

Monogue briefly discussed the bed replacement status for Highland General which is scheduled for completion later this year.

The refurbishing of the hospital with new style beds with electric controls began three years ago. The cost was estimated at $150,000 — and no tax money was used for the project, Monogue said.

"This hospital has been self - supporting from the day it started," Neslage said.

It is one of the few Texas hospitals with such a record.

At the end of April Highland had admitted 1,949 patients in 1975, for a total of 10,867 patient days.

Other members of the hospital board include E. L. Henderson of Pampa, vice chairman; Aubrey Steele of Pampa, secretary; J. W. Meacham of McLean and Don Ritter of Groom.

Board members are appointed by the Gray County Commissioners Court for two - year terms.

The next Highland General Hospital board meeting will be June 16.

White Deer Land Museum Gets Money From Cabot

Boyd D. Taylor, vice president and general manager of the Oil and Gas Division of Cabot Corporation, presented a check for $2,000 from the Boston - based Cabot Foundation to Mrs. Clotille Thompson, curator of the White Deer Land Museum.

Mrs. Thompson said the money will be added to existing funds and will be used to finance the development of the upstairs area of the museum building at 116 S. Cuyler.

The curator said that the project is expected to cost about $15,000. The Cabot donation brings current funds to a total of about $9,000.

Taylor said that "the Cabot Foundation makes charitable grants throughout the United States and receives a large number of proposals each year. We're especially happy that the foundation chose to support the good work that the White Deer Land Museum does for the people of Pampa. All of us with Cabot here in Pampa are proud of the work the museum is doing."

Mrs. Thompson said that the museum has many items that cannot be displayed because of the lack of space.

Development of the upstairs area is a bicentennial project she said and "work will be started immediately."

Departments To Submit Budgets by Wednesday

By TEX DeWEESE
Pampa News Staff

Pampa municipal department heads were asked Thursday by City Manager Mack Wofford to submit annual budget requests for fiscal 1975 - 76 by Wednesday, June 11.

Wofford also gave heads of the 25 city departments a budget calendar that calls for a review of all departmental requests for operating funds with the city manager daily between June 23 and June 27.

The department heads received budget instructions requesting them to outline actual work accomplished in 1973 - 74, show actual figures based on work already completed and an estimate of the last few months of fiscal 1974 - 75 along with estimates based on anticipated and desired work programs for 1975 - 76.

The city manager asked that department chiefs prepare a program description for their respective departments in sufficient detail to "provide the commission and the public with information as to the significant activities of your department."

Approximately six department heads will meet one at a time with the city manager on each of four days starting June 23 to discuss needs and support requests for funds.

An information review on the proposed budget will be discussed with the mayor and city commission July 9 and July 16, Wofford stated.

Final revised data processing information and putting the budget together is scheduled for the period between July 17 and Aug. 5.

Wofford said he hoped to file the budget with the city secretary by Aug. 8 and formally submit it to the city commission Tuesday, Aug. 12.

The city commission will be asked to set a public hearing and review of the budget for Aug. 26.

Following the public hearing and any changes in the proposed budget, first reading of the budget and tax rate ordinances would be set for Sept. 9 with second and final readings Sept. 23.

The calendar then calls for filing the approved budget with the city secretary and county clerk Wednesday, Oct. 1, beginning date for the new fiscal year.

Pampa Man Charged Today

A Pampa man has been charged with intoxication, carrying a concealed weapon and attempting to escape from a Pampa Police Department officer early today.

Michael Leroy Jones, 21, appeared before Justice of Peace Nat Lunsford, where bonds totaling $1,500 were set.

Deborah Kay Hunt, 18, charged with possession of marijuana, is free under $1,000 bond set by Justice of Peace E. L. Anderson.

Pampans Plan Projects For Bicentennial Year

About 50 people representing many local clubs, churches, lodges, schools and other orgnaizations met at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Lovett Library to discuss bicentennial projects.

"The meeting was an exchange of ideas," said Kay Fancher, chairman of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Bicentennial Committee and chairman of the Gray County Festivals Committee.

"Here in Pampa our primary thrust is toward preserving our own heritage through some ongoing projects such as the White Deer Land Museum and as a permanent project, the development of the Oil and Gas Museum and Recreation Park."

Red Wedgeworth, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said, "We're trying to get every organization in town that want to do something on their own in addition to the community projects."

"The idea is to have local groups and organizations do whatever they want in commemoration of the bicentennial," Fancher said.

At the meeting Thursday night various projects were discussed. Fancher listed some of them.

The Key Club is going to stress the use of the American flag in Pampa. The club is ordering home kits and planning promotions.

Tru-teens, an organization of high school students, will decorate fire hydrants in the city as Revolutionary soldiers.

The Community Concert has scheduled the play, "1776," for their 1976 program.

The high school choir musical next year will be "Annie Get You Gun."

Girl Scouts are planning an American Hereitage Fair for March 1976, and are planning on having girls in costume serve as hostesses at Pioneer Cottage on weekends and holidays.

The Top of Texas Rodeo Association is planning to include original rodeo events in regular performances and will incorporate the bicentennial observance in rodeo ceremonies.

Funding has been doubled for the Independence Day fireworks display set for July 4 at the rodeo arena.

Fancher said that a big contribution to the local bicentennial observance will come on Oct. 30 when Paul Harvey will be in Pampa to speak at the annual Chamber of Commerce meeting in M.K. Brown Auditorum.

Pampa Seniors To Graduate

At 8 p.m. today 322 Pampa High School seniors will be awarded diplomas at Harvester Fieldhouse.

Presenting the diplomas at the ceremonies will be School Board members Curt Beck, Bill Arrington and Sam Anderson, Superintendent Dan F. Long, high school principal Paul Payne, vice principal Carl Dwyer and Mrs. Ramona Hite senior class sponsor.

Valedictorian Heidi Cash and salutatorian Roy Morris will deliver addresses. Members of the 1975 class will give the benediction and invocation.

The Harvester Band will provide music for the ceremonies. All present will join the 1975 graduating class in singing the school song.

Following graduating services, seniors are invited to attend an all - night party with the first stop at the Heritage Room of M.K. Brown auditorium for a four hour dance beginning at 10:30 p.m. Games will be available at the Green Room.

At 2:30 a.m. the party will be moved to the Capri Theater where a movie will be shown. The seniors will be served breakfast at the First Baptist Church at 5 a.m.

Tickets for the party cost $5 each and are available from Ms. Ray Hampton at 1824 Mary Ellen according to Ms. Lee Fraser, parent chairman.

Vesper services for the Class of '75 were conducted Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the fieldhouse with the Rev. Norman D. Dow Jr., minister of the Presbyterian Church, as the guest speaker.

A reception was given by the junior class in the Girl's Gym following the vesper services.

Mrs. Hite has requested the graduating seniors to congregate at the fieldhouse no later than 7:30 p.m.

All 7 Mobeetie Seniors Talk About School, Life

By JANE P. MARSHALL
Pampa News Staff

Mobeetie school principal W.F. Howard calls them typical. Perhaps they are in their good - natured rebellion, their pride in each other, their eagerness to graduate, their concern about the world into which they will step.

But the class of '75 at Mobeetie isn't typical for Mobeetie. More than 70 per cent of them are going on to college, a rare percentage for the small town East of Pampa, according to Howard.

One of the group is married, another rarity for the town and school.

And there are only seven of them.

They haven't let that bother them though. The seniors firmly believe there is strength in smaller numbers, too.

The group, which will be graduated Friday night from high school, talked with The News this week about their class and their feelings about attending a small school and graduating.

"One disadvantage is that I think you get a better education in a larger school," said Liz Ann Allen, president and valedictorian of the Class of '75.

"But I've gone to school for 12 years with some of these guys and I wouldn't trade that for anything."

Others agreed that the class is a close one. The only time they argue is when politics enters the conversation, they said, and especially during Watergate.

They claim they've made no enemies due to in - class romances. With the exception of the school - long courtship of Earl and Liz, the others say "we never date each other."

"And the girls always got the vote," bragged the four girls who could outvote their three male classmates.

"They got bigger mouths," the boys echoed.

They heartily agreed on going to Tennessee on their senior trip. The morning after graduation, the seniors with two sponsors, Coach Bill Beaty and ag teacher James Moffett and their wives, will load into cars and head East.

"None of us has seen that country and we all like country and western music," one said. They plan to highlight the week - long journey with a visit to the Grand Ole Opry.

They chose their destination during their junior year when they started their crash efforts to earn money. The group baked and sold cakes, sponsored dances and ballgames, sold magazines and soda pop, and put out a yearbook to earn the $2,400 they needed for their senior trip.

They think that will cover the trip and give each senior $100 for spending money, too, as they visit the Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City, the horse races in Little Rock and a river boat in Memphis.

Five of the class of seven plan to attend college. Steve Corse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Corse, and Earl Seitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Seitz, will go to Frank Phillips College in Borger to study agriculture. Bill Medley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Medley, will study accounting at South Plains Junior College in Levelland. Liz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Allen, and Glenda Sherrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sherrell and salutatorian of the senior class, look forward to college, too.

Sheila Barton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kesler, isn't sure of her plans and Debbie Anderson Seitz says she will probably stay home. Debbie is the only married member of the class. She married in September and stayed on to graduate.

Howard says that in his seven years at Mobeetie, he has only known of two students to marry while in high school.

Debbie chose not to go on to the vacation with her fellow seniors even though they wanted her to.

Although the group emits a family - like atmosphere in its camaraderie, the seniors are eager to site complaints with the school and with those who run it.

They are displeased that they have to share their graduation services with the eighth grade graduates, they are unhappy having to sing for their graduation.

But their complaints seem to get lost in their excitement about getting out of school. And Howard added that there is always room to improve attitudes of seniors.

What do Mobeetie seniors worry about as they reach a threshhold, what Liz called "the most important day of my life"?

They keep up a little on the world and politics though they admitted they do a better job when they are in a government class and forced to.

Earl said he worried some but "It's not so bad now since we got our boat back from Cambodia." Even without the draft, the young men think about military service and war.

Others voiced concern about how to pay bills, starting a home, money they'll earn, how long it takes to get through studying for a chosen career, where going to school, finding a place to live.

They have a few regrets. Steve wished he could have played football. Mobeetie, a class B school, didn't have a team. But he did get to play a lot of basketball.

"Yea, here you go out there and you get a suit," Earl said. His classmates laughed and started telling about the times the girls played basketball with half a team on the court.

"I did try out for more activities," Liz said about the smaller school.

"That's because you have more self confidence and less competition and more of a chance here," Glenda said.

Glenda has attended a school larger than Mobeetie and said she'd choose Mobeetie. She and Sheila agreed smaller schools offer more friends.

"I don't feel so lonely," added one of the girls.

But in a larger school, Debbie believes, "you would get a chance to meet more people and you would know more what the world is like after you get out of school."

Some of the seniors thought they would have better teachers in larger schools and that they would have a wider variety of classes.

Principal Howard conceded that often his curriculum was not broad enough but believes "larger schools are spread too thin. We might be better to go back to the three R's."

Howard added that he saw no immediate danger of consolidating the smaller schools in Texas. "Too many in the legislature went to these little schools," he said.

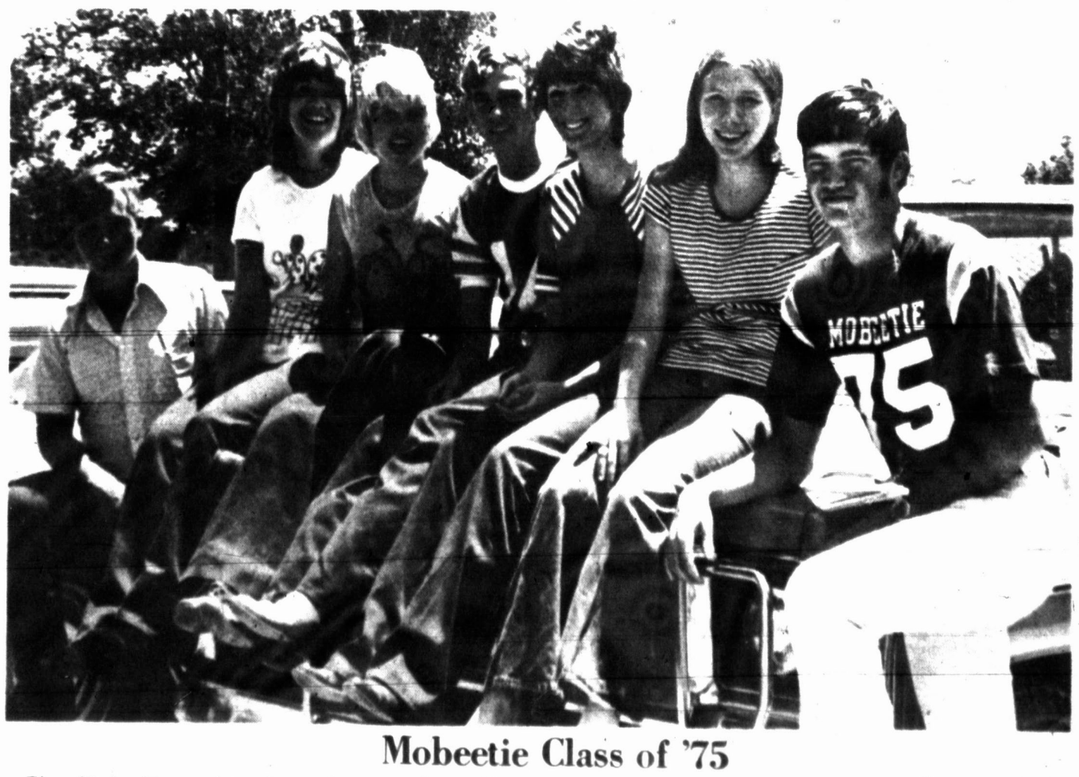

There are 99 students in the Mobeetie school which includes kindergarten through senior high school.

"This is a pretty close knit group," he said about the seniors.

"We can whip any class in school," Earl joked.

The seniors plan to keep in touch with each other as they go their separate ways next week.

"I'm going to miss everybody," Liz said. The others nodded.

Mobeetie Class of '75

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

About Commitments

It is right to save a life or to assist in preventing suffering. It is always wrong to assist in spreading murder and suffering. It was wrong for this nation to assist the Vietnamese people to maim and kill each other in their civil war.

We would not quibble about the evacuation of Vietnamese who were in danger as our officials corrected their position and got us out of South Vietnam. But going back to the first statement that it is right to save lives and help prevent suffering, there is a big qualification. Such humantarian endeavors should begin at home.

It is obviously impossible for the people of this nation to prevent death and suffering all over the world. On a voluntary basis, Americans have always come to the aid of people in dire need around the world. Voluntary direct aid, people to people, will not leave this nation destitute nor will it inhibit the economy.

Politician to politician aid is seldom humanitarian and can leave this country as destitute as an invading army. It doesn't happen near as fast. It is not as quickly discernable, but the end result can be the same.

If politicians could be forced out of the act, voluntary people to people aid could and would be increased. It was way too late, in the evacuation, for anything but political and military assistance. We will just have to write that one off as part of the whole sorry mess our politicians got us into years ago.

The big concern today is that our President and others keep referring to, "commitments that we will keep." No one seems to be asking the question. What exactly are these commitments, who made them and when were they made? Whose life has been put on the line?

If this be a nation of free people, who then can commit any one of us to lose our lives of our fortune without our knowledge and consent?

This nation was founded on the proposition that, "governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed." How can there be any consent if secret commitments can be made?

Our "leaders" can lose us our "lives and fortunes" by secret commitments but our "sacred honor" can only be lost by each of us. The failure of any one of us to go along with a secret commitment leaves no stigma.

Tax Dis-Incentive

One of the common expressions heard in business discussions is "tax incentive." The phrase is harmless enough as a shorthand way of saying that certain procedures are not taxed as heavily as others. But as a way of thinking, the two-word combination is a pitfall.

One businessman was heard to say, during a discussion of tax laws, "the government" provides us an incentive." Of course what the government actually does through taxation is supply dis-incentive.

A more vivid illustration of the point was offered some years ago by Robert LeFevre, then head of Rampart College. He told a parable about a mythical king who had decreed that each subject should have his right leg cut off above the ankle. Thus the population consisted of inhabitants who were hobbling around on one leg. At length one genius suggested to the crown that it would be in the interest of the kingdom if at least one subject should retain two fully able feet. The question that Mr. LeFevre would ask at this point was, has the king conferred any special favor about the petitioner who was allowed to keep his two legs intact?"

The point is that a man's earnings are his belongings in the same manner that his body is his own. For, as the English philosopher John Locke explained, it is by earnings that the body is sustained. If any force, unionized or otherwise, comes between a man and his capacity to pursue a livelihood, that person is a prisoner indeed.

No sane man would wish for himself or his neighbor a partial or total disability that would restrict his gainful employment. But what is the difference, other than the degree of mental distress or actual physical pain, that a worker is prevented from the enjoyment of his earnings one way or another? Though an individual be strong as an ox, alert as a deer, and productive as a honeybee, his work is in vain when a robber makes off with the proceeds of his labor.

Fortunately, even in these terroristic times, robbers are like lighting, they seldom hit the same person twice. But the tax collector — the disguise of lawful authority — hits him before he gets his paycheck and everytime he spends a dollar of it thereafter. If by chance, through the working of the tax laws, the earner gets to keep a little more than ordinary, some businessmen are so "washed" in their thought processes, they call the retention a "tax incentive." With such example before them, no wonder the younger generation is having problems.

McGovern To Try It Again?

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, May 23 — There will be more of those headline-making foreign junkets by Sen. George McGovern — all for the same purpose.

They are part of the South Dakota radical's canny maneuvering for another try for President.

Despite his hollow sounding and ambiguous disavowals, he is still fervently yearning and electioneering — a perfect personification of that old axiom, "once bitten, always smitten."

Reputedly next on McGovern's list of grandstanding junkets is Southeast Asia with hooplah appearances in Hanoi, Saigon and Cambodia — if they allow him in.

Presumably this sortie will be at public expense in his role as chairman of the Near Eastern and South Asian Affairs Subcommittee. McGovern is an accomplished hand at making the most of official positions for policital aims.

As a vociferous dove and strident opponent of the Vietnam conflict, he undoubtedly would be warmly welcomed in Hanoi and Saigon — as he was by Cuba's Communist dictator Castro, with plenty of accompanying TV and other widely fanfared media coverage.

Wherever possible, that's always carefully prearranged for McGovern's junkets.

Such trips paid off usefully in McGovern's power drive for the 1972 presidential nomination, and he now is obviously resorting to a tried and proven tactic.

It isn't the only string in his bow as a non-candidate candidate (the "little man on the stair who wasn't there").

But it's highly effective in keeping him in the public eye, and currently that is uppermost in his strategy of staying prominently in the limelight amid the swarm of avowed Democratic hopefuls.

Other Strings

Few are aware of it, but the artful South Dakota radical has at hand the key elements of a potent campaign organization — starting with a likely manager who is biding his time on the congressional payroll.

He is Alan Baron, short, beefy leftist drawing $36,000 a year as "press secretary and assistant in developing issues and legislation" — according to McGovern in announcing his appointment.

Baron has a different version. He labeled himself as "executive assistant to the the Senator, coordinating national press and scheduling and his political involvement in national affairs." Baron is a knowledgeable and experienced manipulator in all these spheres.

He is also (while on McGovern's senatorial payroll) the sole head and mastermind of the "Democratic Planning Group," launched by Baron in 1973 with $80,000 provided by a coterie of millionaire leftists for his agitational and propaganda operations — aimed largely at retaining the procedural gimmicks and contrivances that enabled McGovern to capture the 1972 nomination, although manifestly the minority candidate.

As right-hand lieutenant of Mrs. Jean Westwood, McGovernite national chairman, Baron labored strenuously to prevent her ouster. When that failed, he has sought ever since to keep in effect the McGovernite devices that put him over.

Actively working with him on that are Mrs. Westwood, now Utah national committeewoman; Richard Hatcher, militant black mayor of Gary, Ind.; Barbara Mikulski, leftist Baltimore city councilwoman; Phyllis Segal, ardent New York woman's libber and wife of Eli Segal, leading McGovernite supporter; Edward Donahue, official of a small leftist union.

This long-drawn-out inner party hassle is still going on. Every time it appears about to be concluded, the McGovernites and assorted militants pull another stalling rabbit out of their apparently inexhaustible hat and once again the fat is in the fire.

That happened only a few weeks ago when the new Compliance Review Commission, headed by former New York Mayor Robert Wagner, was about to make a significant ruling and was blocked by a delaying stratagem by Mrs. Westwood.

Lurking Around

That's why Democratic insiders are far from counting McGovern out of the presidential picture — despite his effusions to the contrary.

Among other bases for their skepticism and doubts are:

Reports that the $250,000 house he bought a few months in the swank embassy row area (the third valuable property he now owns in or near Washington) is in effect a campaign headquarters, where he has his 1972 campaign files and records, particularly of contributors, who are being circularized and reputedly solicited for funds.

As of last December, McGovern was credited as having more than $150,000 left over from his senatorial relection campaign. In that race, he spent well over $500,000, of which some $450,000 was apparently carried over from his disastrous 1972 presidential drive.

He is again trying to wangle another hefty "refresher" for that boondoggle he has been operating since 1968 — the so-called "Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs." A few weeks ago, McGovern asked for another $276,000. In the seven years this boondoggle has been functioning, it has cost taxpayers upwards of $1.5 million — with little more than personal publicity for McGovern to show for it.

Virtually every week the South Dakotan fills pages of the Congressional Record (at around $175 a page) with obviously ghosted articles, declamations and other propaganda on a wide range of domestic and foreign subjects and issues. Unmistakable purpose of these expensive insertions is to have them reprinted and widely distributed — possibly as franked mail.

Answer to yesterday's puzzle.

WATCH ON WASHINGTON

Corruption Evidence Mounts

By CLARK MOLLENHOFF

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A still secret report of the General Accounting Office (GAO) on mismanagement and corruption in the Pacific Island Trust Territory soon will create new pressure on the Ford administration to fire High Commissioner Edward E. Johnston.

Johnston, a former Republican state chairman in Hawaii, has been clinging to the $36,000-a-year job for years despite mounting evidence of corruption and mismanagement that has permeated public works programs, contracts, and the sale of surplus U.S. proterty in the hundreds of islands that make up Micronesia.

Although there has been no credible evidence directly linking Johnston to the millions of dollars in corruption and mismanagement, it has been charged before congressional committees that he has major responsibility for the loose administration of the island territory that permits sloppy and corrupt activities to persist.

Rogers Morton, when Secretary of Interior, was reported to have made at least one effort to fire Johnston before having his order countermanded by the White House after Senator Hiram Fong (Rep., Hawaii) protested.

Because of the political strength of Senator Fong at the Ford White House, Johnston was able to survive the impact of a devastating 340-page report by Senator Henry M. Jackson's Interior Committee earlier this year that pinpointed serious irregularities in nearly every aspect of the trust territory operations.

The GAO report will document the manner in which Commissioner Johnston has been shifting government funds from one account to another in disregard to of the laws and regulations that forbid such juggling.

In addition to the sordid picture of favoritism in contracting and in the disposal of U.S. surplus, the Senate Interior Committee report noted the absence of sufficient record keeping to establish any accountability on the part of officials of the trust territory.

It also noted that the records maintained by the trust territory government for the control of funds and property had been found to be deficient by the GAO in a 1970 report, and that although some additional records were established that "the existing systems remain inadequate."

Problems of investigation and prosecution are complicated by the fact that officials of the trust territory government, including U.S. federal employees, are acting as officials of a "foreign" government.

But the report stated that the high commissioner and other officials in the islands should not be permitted to use the lack of records and vague responsibility to avoid any accountability for the corruption and mismanagement that is now so well documented.

A major force in the exposure of the sloppy and crooked operations in the trust territories has been Richard Thorpe, a heavy equipment dealer from Carlsbad, N.M., who in the spring and summer of 1973 tried to buy some diesel generators in Palau.

Thorpe became infuriated when he found government officials steered him though a local scrap dealer to buy surplus property that was still held by the government. Thorpe found he was required to enter into a contract conditioned upon the scrap dealer later acquiring title to the diesel generators.

Thorpe started prying into the details of contracting and surplus sales, and tried to get some effective investigations and prosecutions by trust territory officials, many of them Americans.

Instead, Thorpe found himself the first person subjected to criminal prosecution under an obscure law that required the licensing of foreigners doing business in the islands.

Richard Miyamoto, attorney general of the trust territory, told the Senate Interior Committee that the criminal charges were not brought against Thorpe until after he had complained of corruption and favoritism in the management of the trust territories.

Senator J. Bennett Johnston (Dem., La.) accused the trust territory officials of trying to "intimidate" Thorpe because of his outspoken criticism of the manner in which business is conducted in the islands.

During the same hearing before the Senate Interior Committee in March, another witness, Lawrence Morderosian of Portland, Ore., told the committee he found a threatening note in his attache case when he returned to the hearing room after a noon recess. He said the note threatened him with dismissal from his present job in the Interior Department if he persisted in testifying.

The trust territory attorney general has tried to discredit the charges by Morderosian and Thorpe as unfounded.

But, the GAO and the Senate Interior Committee have documented and corroborated most of the leads given them by Morderosian and Thorpe from sketchy records available.

Among dozens of contracts in which there was inadequate performance of questionable procedures of unjustified payments, were two contracts of the Saipan awarded to Amelco Engineering Company for construction of the Saipan water and sewer system at a combined cost of $2.9 million.

Change orders, it was found, permitted Amelco to make markups as high as 61 per cent above cost, "and that cost bore no relationship to cost experienced on Saipan.

"An audit of Amelco's cost was not performed and cost data which was to be provided was refused on grounds that there was a controversy between Amelco and TTPI (Trust Territory, Pacific Islands) over the final payment claims submitted by Amelco," the committee report added.

"Amelco's manager had entertained or been entertained by the high commissioner, attorney general, deputy attorney general, director of public works, chief of construction and others," it was stated.

The committee also reviewed the experience of the Hanil Development Company, Ltd.

In June, 1974, just four days after the Hanil Company was terminated on one sewer treatment plant "because of grave doubts about the design of the system and basic ineptness," it was awarded a $4.1-million contract for construction of the Ponape Referral Hospital, the report said. That hospital contract has fallen behind schedule.

The Senate Interior Committee report commented on the disservice that such corrupt and sloppy administration is to the people of the northern Marianas, where in a June plebiscite the citizens will vote on whether to enter a commonwealth relationship with the United States.

He Wonders if Kindness is Worth A Buck

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: While standing in the checkout line in a high grade grocery store, I saw the woman directly ahead of me frantically rummaging around in her purse, looking embarrassed. It seems her groceries had already been checked, and she was a dollar short.

I felt sorry for her, so I handed her a dollar. She was very grateful, and insisted on writing my name and address on a loose piece of paper. She stuck it in her purse and said, "I promise I'll mail you the dollar tomorrow."

Well, that was three weeks ago, and I still hayen't heard from her!

Abby, I think I'm a fairly good judge of character, and I just didn't peg her as the kind who would beat me out of a dollar.

The small amount of money isn't important, but what it did to my faith in people is.

I'd like your opinion.

SHY ONE BUCK

DEAR SHY: Don't assume that she deliberately beat you out of a buck. There are other possibilities:

(1) She may have misaddressed the envelope, and the dollar went astray.

(2) She may have lost the paper with your name and address on it.

(3) The incident could have slipped her mind, and the piece of paper may not surface for years.

You bought a dollar's worth of good feeling, so don't feel cheated.

DEAR ABBY: I have been debating for months which of the following I should do regarding a neighbor who has seven children and an unbelievable amount of trash, which, for some strange reason, she doesn't seem able to control.

(1) Buy her seven jumbo cans with tight lids.

(2) Make a phone call requesting that she kindly bag her trash.

(3) Call the police and ask them to give her a ticket for littering.

We live in Pocatello, Idaho, which has the windy city of Chicago beat to pieces when it comes to breezes. This neighbor's trash blows onto my yard, and I am thoroughly sick of it. And if it isn't the wind, it's the stray dogs who drag it all over.

What should I do?

MRS. S. ON E. BONNEVILLE

DEAR MRS. S.: First call your neighbor and ask her if she read DEAR ABBY today. If that doesn't get results, write to me again.

DEAR ABBY: I am a fifth-grader teacher, and my class has just finished an extensive course on understanding handicaps. We had the good fortune to have as guests some extraordinary persons with physical disabilities. They gave their time to let my children listen, question and learn about deafness, blindness, amputation and mental retardation from first-hand sources.

The children were eager to learn about the capabilities of each of these guests as well as the problems they faced because of their handicaps. After the class spent two mornings "handicapped" themselves as part of the course, I'm convinced their understanding has grown at least three sizes.

True, those who are "sickened" by the sight of handicapped people need a lesson in tact, but they also need some correct information to overcome their prejudices.

There are hundreds of people like Diane, Ede, Steve, Charlotte and my father who are willing and eager to teach children about their handicaps. I urge schools and civic groups to seek them out and use their services. They are beautiful people.

FBI Questions Dallas Police Again on JFK Assasination

DALLAS (UPI) — The FBI has been questioning local police officers and friends of the late Jack Ruby in connection with the assasination of President John F. Kennedy.

Special agent in charge J. Gordon Shanklin said Thursday the Rockefeller Commission asked the FBI to help question local police officers about a picture of three "tramps" arrested on a railroad track near the place where Kennedy was assasinated.

Some observers think the men in the photograph resembled several of the participants in the Watergate conspiracy.

Shanklin, who retires next month, said an FBI photographic expert from Washington and a local agent questioned officers who were near the assassination scene.

"The Rockefeller Commission asked us to assist in this," he said. "If they reopen the investigation, I don't know who they'll have do it.

"As far as our office is concerned, there's nothing further planned now, but that could change overnight."

The Dallas Times Herald said FBI agents in Los Angeles questioned former strip tease performer Shari Angel, who once worked in a night club owned by Ruby.

She told the Times Herald she was interviewed Monday about her conversations with Ruby shortly before his death in 1967.

Ruby was the killer of Kennedy assassin Lee Harvey Oswald. He died in a Dallas hospital while awaiting retrial for the murder of Oswald, committed two days after the Nov. 22, 1963, slaying of Kennedy in a Dallas motorcade.

The Times Herald said the former stripper, now a 42-year-old grandmother living in suburban Dallas, reported she was questioned about her associations with Ruby and about reports Oswald visited Ruby's nightclub shortly before the assassination.

The official Warren Report version of the Kennedy killing said there was no evidence linking Ruby and Oswald prior to Oswald's murder.

Witness Points Out Cyanide In Halloween Candy Death

HOUSTON (UPI) — Ronald Clark O'Bryan, hunched over and scribbling on a legal pad with his back to the filled courtroom, studiously avoided making eye contact with the parade of prosecution witnesses with whom he once socialized and worked.

One by one prosecutor Michael Hinton brought the bank officials to the witness stand in O'Bryan's capital murder trial and asked them to describe how the Deer Park optician opened bank accounts and sought package deals providing easy life insurance programs.

O'Bryan is on trial for the Halloween cyanide poisoning of his only son, Timothy Mark O'Bryan, 8, who went into convulsions and died after eating a cyanide-laced soda straw filled with fruit-flavored sugar.

The state contends O'Bryan killed his son and attempted the murder of his daughter, Elizabeth, 5, as well as two childhood companions, to collect an estimated $63,000 in insurance. The prosecution is asking for the death penalty.

Eugene T. Shepard said the 30-year-old optician joined a bank club providing $10,000 policies for family members.

"Mr. O'Bryan asked me about the club and services provided by the club," Shepard said.

After O'Bryan joined the bank club in January 1974, his bank activity dropped off sharply and in a three month period prior to his son's death on Oct. 31, 1974, his account averaged only $12.

In an effort to point out premeditation in the murder conspiracy, the prosecution showed how O'Bryan's account reached a low of 12.28 two weeks prior to Timothy's death, but two days before the incident he deposited $10 to pay for the $6 insurance premium.

Another bank official, Melvin Sword, who was in the same Kiwanis chapter with O'Bryan, said the man called him early in the morning following his son's death asking how to collect on the insurance policies.

Chief Says FBI, Bell Aided Illegal Wiretaps

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Houston Police Chief Carrol M. Lynn told a congressional subcommittee Thursday his department illegally eavesdropped on private telephone conversations and the FBI, even though it knew about the wiretapping, did nothing to stop it.

Lynn, in sworn testimony before a House judiciary subcommittee, said one police officer told him about an incident in which two FBI agents were present during an illegal wiretapping operation.

"When I asked if those FBI agents weren't upset by the illegal wiretapping, he said: 'Didn't do a damned thing about it. Sat there and listened just like everybody else....'" Lynn said.

Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Wis., the chairman of the subcommittee, said the committee's own investigation of illegal wiretapping in Houston showed "widespread, systematic use" of electronic eavesdropping by the Houston police "with little serious effort" by the FBI to investigate.

Kastenmeier said the committee's investigation also indicated "a high degree of cooperation" by employes of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. with the illegal wiretapping operations.

Lynn, who said the illegal eavesdropping took place before he became chief on Jan. 4, 1974, told the subcommittee his investigation produced statements by police officers who said they obtained illegal wiretapping equipment from Southwestern Bell.

The chief said he secretly recorded a conversation with a Southwestern Bell security officer who said he never gave police illegal wiretap information, but knew it was being done. He said it was always his policy "to look the other way."

Summer Class Enrollment Set Tuesday

Enrollment for summer school at Pampa High School will be 9 a.m. Tuesday in the school library.

Classes will begin Wednesday and end July 12, and will meet six days a week.

Each of the following courses costs $25: English I, II, III, American history, world history, government, algebra I, algebra II, geometry, fundamentals of math, typing, health, physical education, tennis, general business, business math and driver education.

Homemaking will be offered at no cost.

Four Wheelers Begin To Form Local Group

The Canadian River 4 Wheeler's elected officers and laid groundwork to build a club during a recent meeting.

J.D. Peters of Pampa Motor Co Inc. was elected president.

Other officers are Bill Vandover, vice president; Fred Hughes, treasurer, and C.L. Farmer and Gene Gates, co-chairman of the planning committee.

Heading the by laws committee will be Bill Neslage and Johnny Mack.

Serving on the membership committee will be Joe Mihn and Gary Smith, both of Borger, and Sammy Morgan of Pampa.

Meetings are scheduled at 8 p.m. the second Tuesday of each month at the Pampa Motor Inn.

Club goals include promotion of 4-wheel drive activites, and conservation of outdoor areas the wheelers may frequent.

Farm Workers Begin New Member Campaign

ROMA, Tex. (UPI) — The United Farm Workers, whose last attempt at organizing field workers was crushed by clashes with the Texas Rangers, have started a new campaign to sign workers in the Rio Grande Valley.

UFW organizer Tony Orendain and 50 pickets made an unsuccessful attempt Thursday to block traffic at the international bridge to Miguel Aleman, Mexico.

"According to the information we had, they were going to take over the bridge," U.S. Customs Port Director M.R. Blackwell said. "They came down about 5:30 (a.m.) He (Orendain laid down and told them (motorists) to drive over his body."

Blackwell said traffic was light that time of morning and the Starr County Sheriff's Department allowed automobiles to pass unimpeded by the demonstration. No one was arrested.

In 1966-67 the UFW, headed by Cesar Chavez of California, led a strike marked by clashes between union members and the Texas Rangers. The Rangers arrested numerous unionists and there were several allegations of police brutality.

Orendain said a 1974 U.S. Supreme Court ruling declaring unconstitutional five Texas labor laws opened the way for renewed picketing and demonstrations by the UFW. The union was blocked from organizing activity at La Casita Farms, the largest farming operation in Starr County, by a state court injunction.

"Now that we don't have any more injunctions, I don't know how the law is going to react to it," Orendain said. "We're going to keep picketing until they stop our legal effort.

Vaccine Clinic To Be June 12

A clinic offering vaccines against several childhood diseases is scheduled from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Carver Center, 321 W. Albert, June 12.

The vaccines will provide protection against polio, diptheria, lock jaw, whooping cough, measles and rubella.

There will be charges for the services.

Senior Citizens Honored

Pampa's outstanding senior man and woman will be named and honored at a community-wide celebration honoring all Gray County senior citizens at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the M.K. Brown Auditorium.

Selection of the two older citizens to be recognized for continuous contributions, interest and unselfish services to the community will be made from a long list of nominations received by the board of directors of Pampa Senior Citizens Inc.

Nominations, according to officials of the group, have been submitted by various churches, schools and civic organizaitons.

Rex McAnelly, former chamber of commerce president, will be master of ceremonies at the Sunday afternoon celebration.

The program will open with the presentation of colors by Senior Troop 2 of the Girl Scouts.

Vicki Carter will lead the pledge of allegiance. Theresa Wallace will give a reading, "I Am Your Flag," and Sandra Vance will sing "The Star Spangled Banner."

The invocation will be by Dr. Ralph T. Palmer, minister of First Christian Church. Guests will be introduced by County Judge Don Cain.

The special address for the occasion, "Our Heritage and Horizons," will be give by Mrs. Paul Bowers.

The afternoon's celebration will close with the recital of Patrick Henry's famous speech, "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death," by the Rev. John Hansard, pastor of Hobart St. Baptist Church.

Thelma Bray To Head Beautification Group

Mrs. Thelma Bray was re-elected president of the Pampa Environmental Beautification Foundation at the recent annual meeting. Other officers elected for the 1975-76 term include W.L. Loving, first vice president; Kirk Duncan, second vice president; Mrs. Joe Curtis, secretary; Mrs. John Gattis, assistant secretary; R.H. Nenstiel, treasurer, and Mrs. Wallace Birkes, assistant treasurer.

Elected to serve on the Board of Trustees for three-year terms were E.L. Henderson, Johnny Watson, Tex DeWeese, Ken Plotner and W.A. Morgan.

Watson accepted the appointment to prepare a slide file of Pampa landscaping projects. Henderson, Plotenr and Birkes were appointed to study a revision of the by-laws.

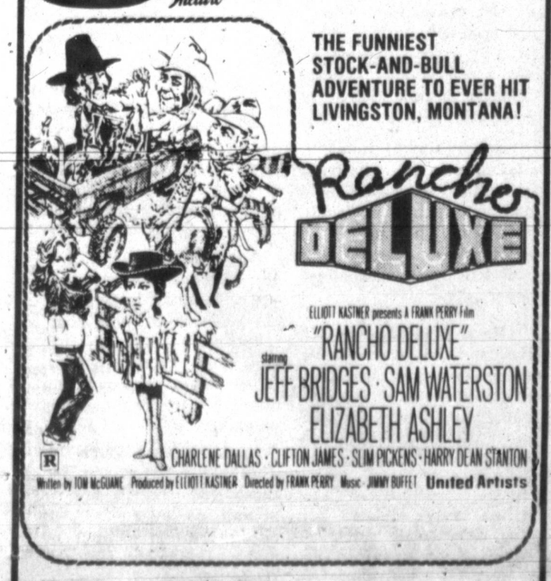

The board voted to give $200 to the Pampa Junior High School environmental lab. It was announced that the Pampa Garden Club had completed the planting of red, white and blue annuals and perennials in the city parks and at the Post Office.

Milton Saltzman showed slides of the Pampa Hike and Bike Trail and park landscaping projects.

The next meeting of the foundation was scheduled for Tuesday, Sep. 15.

Citizens May Collect Damages in Wire Taps

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The Senate has approved a bill to allow citizens who have their telephone tapped illegally to collect civil damages.

The bill, approved 25-5 Thursday, allows the damages to be collected from the persons who tap the phone or anyone who allows the illegal eavesdropping to take place.

Sen. Ron Clower, D-Garland, said exceptions are provided for wiretaps used by law enforcement officers in accordance with federal regulations, monitoring of lines by telephone company workers for maintenance activities and emergency interruptions of phone conversations by operators.

Clower said the bill is needed to enforce present law on illegal wiretapping.

"It's already a crime," Clower said. "It won't do us any good to make this a crime again. What we're trying to do is come up with a civil remedy to enforce this law."

The bill, which now goes to the House, makes anyone who taps or tries to tap a telephone or knowingly allows it to occur liable for $1,000 statutory damages to the person whose privacy is invaded.

In addition the wiretap subject can collect for actual and exemplary damages and attorney's fees.

In other action Tursday the Senate:

—Approved and sent to the governor a House-passed bill authorizing the Texas Education Agency to spend $823,000 for a demonstration program for gifted children during the next two years.

—Approved and sent to the governor a House-passed bill requiring prescriptions for any drug derived from codeine.

—Approved and sent to the governor a House-passed bill requiring construction of pump-out stations for disposal of sewage from boats to prevent dumping in water.

—Approved and sent back to the House for concurrence of Senate amendments a bill requiring public officials to disclose any interest owned in land bought by the state.

—Approved and sent back to the House for concurrence of Senate changes a bill allowing informal buying groups to incorporate as formal co-ops under the nonprofit corporation law.

Urban legislators hoping to take a measure of revenge against Speaker Bill Clayton apparently don't have the votes to block passage of a $400 million water development bond proposal backed by the speaker.

The proposed constitutional amendment, to be submitted to voters in 1976, was tentatively approved 93-42 Thursday, and the votes of nine persons who apparently support it were tossed out because those members were absent. The proposed amendment needs 100 votes to be submitted to the voters.

"They'll get the 100 votes, but we've slowed them down a little," said Rep. Jim Mattox, D-Dallas, one of two big city legislators who attempted to slow final action on the amendment. The proposal allows the Texas Water Development Board to issue the bonds to finance construction of reservoirs.

Mattox said Clayton has unfairly kept legislaion dealing with urban problems tied up in committee, while pushing for passage of the water bills which will help arid West Texas where Clayton lives and farms.

Mattox and Rep. Genie Jones, D-Houston, won approval for two amendments prohibiting use of the bond revenue to import water from the Mississippi, and limiting to $16 million the amount of tax money which can be spent each year to make payments on the bonds.

Jones also attempted to add an amendment requiring legislative approval before the Water Development Board could issue the bonds, and limiting the issuances to $100 million at a time.

"This is the only way to bring some fiscal sanity to this bill," he said. "This legislature doesn't have any control over the first $400 million spent, but we can have some control over this $400 million."

In other legislative action Thursday, Senators quickly rejected House changes in a proposed $11.9 billion state budget, and sent the measure to a conference committee.

The House bill is $200 million smaller than the Senate's version of the budget.

WESCO Blames FPC on Halt Of Gasification

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Western Gasification Co. (WESCO) said Thursday conditions imposed by the Federal Power Commission make it impossible to build an $850 million coal gasification plant in New Mexico.

A Wesco announcement said the firm is seeking a new hearing into the commission's rules on interstate sales of substitute natural gas because the present regulations made financing the project impossible.

Wesco, a joint venture of subsidiaries of Pacific Lighting Corp. of Los Angeles and Transwestern Pipeline Co. of Houston, wants to build the plant on Navajo land in northwestern New Mexico. The plant was planned to produce 250 million cubic feet of substitute natural gas per day.

A spokesman for Wesco said the FPC's decision failed to provide enough incentive to investors that they would get a reasonable and prompt return for their money, so it cannot get financing for the project.

Most of the gas produced would be used by Southern California Gas Co., Pacific Lighting's principal utility subsidiary.

Newspaper Asks Court To Lift Gag in Trial

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — An Austin newspaper has asked the Texas Supreme Court to lift a gag rule imposed on news media covering the capital murder trial of Robert Elmer Kleasen and allow the media to publish names of the jurors.

Kleasen is charged with the murder and butchering of two Mormon missionaries, and testimony in the case began today.

District Judge Tom Blackwell, who ordered the names not published to prevent harassment of jurors, has until noon Monday to respond to the newspapers petition to the supreme court.

The judge said he considered the suit a friendly one. "I'm glad we have a test case going up," he said.

Blackwell said any media who violated the order would be held in contempt of court.

The Austin American-Statesman said Thursday in an editorial Blackwell's order amounts to restriciting the freedoms of the press.

"We protest and will test in court this attempt to muzzle the press," the newspaper said. "We will not abdicate our rights under the Constitution of our responsibilities to the public and our fellow journalists by ignoring this encroachment on the freedom of the press."

The newspaper suggested Blackwell should sequester the jury if he wants to keep it away from external influences.

"Even if that may appear inconvenient, we feel these legal remedies are preferable to allowing judges and assorted court officials to dictate what shall or shall not be published or used by the news media," the newspaper said.

The final members of the jury were selected Thursday and both prosecution and defense attorneys appeared pleased with the panel.

"We're very definitely satisfied," said Roscoe Haley, the chief of Kleasen's battery of three attorneys. "The whole defense team is satisfied."

"The jury is a good cross section of the community," District Attorney Robert O. Smith said. Smith is expected to ask for the death penalty in the case.

Smith will prosecute Kleasen for the murders of Gary Smith Darley, 20, of Simi Valley, Calif., and Mark J. Fischer, 19, of Miwaukee, Wis. The prosecution claims Kleasen killed the two Mormon missionaries and then used a bandsaw in a taxidermist's shop to saw their bodies into pieces so small they couldn't be recognized.

Smith said he will call 40 witnesses to give "short, technical testimony" during the prosecution's phase of the trial, which the district attorney said should last five or six days. Haley said the defense should take seven days to presents its case.

Miss Mullinax Works at Lamar

Miss Lillian Mullinax, who retires this week after teaching 44 years in Pampa schools, teaches third grade at Lamar Elementary School, not at Travis as reported in Thursday's News. Miss Mullinax's teaching career has spanded 46 years; she has been at Lamar for two years.

Disaster Loan Office Of SBA To Close June 2

The Small Business Administration will close its disaster loan office here on June 2. Applications cannot be accepted after that date.

The office was opened at the First National Bank Building, 100 N. Cuyler St., after the tornado brought widespread damage to Lefors.

Gerald Fincher, who heads SBA's office here, said that loan applications had fallen off sharply in the last few days. Last week very few applications were filed, and only a small number of persons visited the office seeking information, he said.

"Any person who for one reason or another has been unable to complete his loan application, should make an effort to do so as quickly as possible," Fincher said. "Our office is now able to give better individual assistance where needed, and we will be glad to help with any unusual problems regarding preparation of an application."

Fincher said he was highly gratified by the response of local citizens, businessmen and bankers, and the city, State and local officials, all of whom have been very helpful and cooperative.

Survivors include the widow; three daughters, Mrs. E.N. Pierce and Mrs. Howard Sims, both of Pampa and Mrs. Dorothy Bryant, San Antonio; one sister, Mrs. Florence Broughton, Wynona, Okla.; and 10 grandchildren and five great - grandchildren.

School Board Claims Judge Ousted Them Unreasonably

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The former president of the Benavides School Board has testified he and other board members were ousted by District Judge O.P. Carrillo for unsubstantiated reasons and replaced by political allies of the judge and powerful Duval County rancher-banker Clinton Manges.

M.K. Bercaw also told the committee considering Carrillo's impeachment Thursday night the judge refused to disqualify himself from a judicial case in which he had substantial monetary interest.

Meanwhile, Carrillo's attorney said he plans to call deposed County Judge Archer Parr, Attorney General John L. Hill and 50 other witnesses for defense testimony before the Select House Committee on Impeachment.

Arthur Mitchell, Carrillo's attorney, refused to unconditionally provide the committee with records from the First State Bank of San Diego, Tex., detailing transactions made by Carrillo from 1964 to the present and the committee voted 7-1 to subpoena the documents from the bank.

Another witness in the five-hour hearing, assistant Duval County Auditor Octavio Hinojosa, testified employes of the county have not been paid since March 31 because of Carrillo's removal of the county commissioners.

Bercaw, who served on the Benavides school board for 19 years until Carrillo ordered him off April 20, testified he was replaced by Morris Ashby, a business partner of Manges, who was a business partner of Carrillo's. Bercaw said under such business arrangements, Carrillo should not have handled the case.

Manges and Carrillo are members of a faction in the politically tumultous South Texas county which has been feuding with an opposite faction inherited by Archer Parr from his late uncle George P. "Duke of Duval" Parr.

Rep. Dewitt Hale, D-Corpus Christi, asked Bercaw if he believed he was removed for just cause. Bercaw said Carrillo gave three reasons for the removals — destruction of school board records, payment of $60,000 in attorneys fees for defense of the incumbent board members in the action and payment of the Freer schools' superintendent while he was imprisoned on a tax evasion conviction.

Bercaw denied records were destroyed, said the attorneys fees were proper and said the superintendent —whom he described as having "tremendous abilities and knowledge" —was not paid while he was in prison.

Bercaw also read into the impeachment committee's record the May 21, 1973, order of Edinburg District Judge Magus Smith disqualifying Carrillo from sitting in judgment of a lawsuit in which Carrillo alledgdly had a substantial monetary interest.

"I don't see how he could possibly render an impartial ruling. I couldn't," Bercaw quoted Smith from the court records.

Under questioning about the bank documents by committee members, Mitchell revealed his plans to call Parr, whom Carrillo removed from office earlier this year; Hill, who is investigating alleged irregularities in the Duval County government; and "about 50 other witnesses."

"Before 50 supoenas are issued, the chair is going to expect full justification of why you need these witnesses," Hale said.

"I intend to prove that that cement belonged to my client," Mitchell replied, referring to the earlier allegations of a witness that Carrillo used county-owned cement in a construction project on his ranch.

"And I want to know why all those employes moved from one governmental entity to another and then came up here to testify," Mitchell said. "I want this committee to know if it is being used in a political fight."

The latter reference was to several witnesses who testified against Carrillo in the two previous hearings. All but one of the witnesses formerly worked for Duval County and now are employed by the Duval County Water District.

On April 23, 1775, the Provincial Congress of the Colonists authorized the raising of a force of 13,600 men.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

SATURDAY, MAY 24

Your birthday today: From a difficult, tedious beginning, you take on more and more activity this year, to the point where you're overextending yourself. Late in the year you get everything pulled together for a promising, reorganized enterprise that attracts attention. Relationships last through it all without much stress. Today's natives are generous, talented and individual. Many have been physicians.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Rather than start over, cheerfully write off any failing project as experience. Make lump-sum settlements or clean breaks late tonight. Don't force issues before then.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Be positive and optimistic. See each situation as it is without overdramatizing it. It's a day of very delicate balances at best. Strive for personal maturity.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Concentrate on clarifying individual situations, and take each item in its logical sequence. The future of relationships is within your conscious control and can go either way.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Besides being oversensitive, you're extremely impatient today. Pause to let intuition guide you. Find some business transaction that deserves your best efforts, then get busy!

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: You can't easily reach the source of current difficulties, so don't try. There's much to be learned in dealing with major institutions and a price to pay for carelessness.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Many personal matters arrive at some sort of turning point today. You won't have to impose your opinions on others since things come out your way, provided you're patient.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Planned amusements lack most of their usual sparkle. Romance encounters discouraging conditions. Keep your self-confidence and try to advance your career.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Be aware that great issues depend upon trivial details settled under pressure today. Apply your nervous energy to straightening up your household and work place.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: You've got more than enough to do to catch up with work left unfinished. Don't go around stirring up turmoil over new enterprises that should remain in the planning stages.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: An impulse of yours may clear up some doubts but is apt to cause unexpected repercussions. Tact becomes extremely important. Handle mechanisms with extra care.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Find out whether or not you can actually leave things alone now. Find some entertainment or excursion that will hold your attention. Later hours improve and offer you a chance for serious planning.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: The links between you and those you cherish are as strong as ever—perhaps enough to give you an unhappy moment and certainly enough to prove to you that others feel the way you do. You're in a better mood this evening.

Mission in Brussels

The Fisk family, Terry, Mackie and 16 - month - old Nathan, will return in August from Brussels, Belgium where they have spent almost two years with the International Correspondence Institute Division of Foreign Missions. Terry is an artist for the school and Mackie, daughter of Elmo and Meda Hudgins of Pampa, works there as secretary to the president.

Officer Installation Held At First Assembly

Official installation of the officers of First Assembly of God Church was held in the 6:30 p.m. services Sunday.

Some of the officers are serving terms they were elected to in recent years while some are serving terms they were recently elected to in the annual business meeting of the congregation on April 28th.

Serving as deacons and as members of the official board are T.A. Cook, G.N. Frost, Sherman Kitch, James McCoy, Don Thompson, Gary Jan Smith, and Bill Williamson.

Art Rohde Sr. was re - elected as secretary - treasurer of the congregation.

Officers were also installed for the "Women's Missionary Council." Mrs. Lila Kitch is president, Mrs. Louise Frost is vice - president, and Mrs. Sharon Finney is the secretary - treasurer. Mrs. Nelle Courtney, wife of the pastor, serves as advisor in the women's department.

Mrs. June Robbins was installed as the adult sponsor of the youth department.

Deacons of First Assembly are elected to serve a three - year term with the terms staggered.

Rev. Dow Selects Topic For Sunday

The Rev. Norman D. Dow Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, 525 N. Gray St., has chosen for his Sunday title. The text is taken from Hebrews. Assisting Rev. Dow in the Pulpit will be Don J. Losher, elder. Old Testament Reading will be from the Book of Isaiah and the Epistle will be from Hebrews.

This Sunday is Memorial Sunday and the names inscribed in the Book of Remembrance this past year will be read during the worship service.

Special music will be provided by the church choir. The choir anthem presented will be "Spirit of God, in the Clear Running Water," accompanied by Mrs. Carrol Goad, church organist.

The worship and sacrament committee will meet at 2 p.m. Sunday in the West Room. The deacons will have their regular monthly meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the West Room. Church school for all ages begins at 9:30 a.m. and worship services begin at 10:45 a.m.

Denver Man Will Speak At Hosanna

Guest speaker for a special meeting Saturday at the Hosanna House, 218 N. Cuyler, will be Vern M. Howell of Denver.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Howell is an international director for the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship International.

Officials here said that during the last six months of 1974, Howell traveled from Canada to Central America in his religious work.

The public is invited to attend the Saturday program in Pampa.

First Assembly Church Sets Special Program

The Rev. R.L. Courtney, pastor, announced special activities for Sunday at the First Assembly of God Church.

The Rev. and Mrs. Ron Witt of Idalou will be introduced to the congregation. The Rev. Witt presently is pastoring in Idalou, but consideration is being given to his joining the staff at First Assembly as minister of education.

The Sons of Putnam City, a quartet, will sing at the 6:30 p.m. Sunday rally meeting. The group includes Don Coyle, Bob Lane, Davie Brice, and John Cuzick.

Cuzick is a licensed minister who will also preach on Sunday evening. Pianist for the group is Carlene Coyle.

The First Assembly of God Church is located at the corner of South Cuyler and Brown Streets.

A SYMBOL OF SAFETY

When the ship is in danger, we can depend on the life-boats to take us over the seas to safety. It is comforting to glance at the life-boat when the seas are rough.

Our Armed Services are a symbol of safety when our country is in trouble, when war threatens to raise its ugly head. In the past, when war has come, our servicemen have not hesitated to give their lives to protect and defend us.

There is a special Day each year when we remember and honor our servicemen who have died in the defense of our blessed country. Let us not forget, as individuals, to honor these dead and give thanks to God for those who protect us even now. Remember them as you attend church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Detroit Recalls 105,000 Cars

DETROIT (UPI) — In the past two days, Detroit automakers began mailing letters to more than 105,000 Americans telling them their cars may be unsafe or pollution-prone.

Such letters follow a long line of recalls, that some industry officials say is inevitable in building a highly complex product.

Since 1966, the U.S. auto industry has sent out more than 20 million letters of recall.

In 1974, domestic and foreign automakers found defects serious enough to order the recall of nearly three million vehicles. The previous year the figure was seven million —5.8 million cars by General Motors Corp. alone.

Some automotive executives think the industry gets a bad rap for its recall campaigns, partly because it is one of the few industries that publicly announces each recall and because defects involved are actually found on only a small number of the cars.

"We're not actually as prone to defects as people are led to believe by all the publicity," says D.E. Smith, manager of service engineering at the Ford Motor Co. "We make the public disclosures even though the law doesn't require them because it helps to reinforce our attempt to get the cars brought in for service."

In 1974, Ford recalled $57,000 cars and trucks. Of those, an estimated 13.4 per cent actually had defects that needed correction.

"We recalled all those vehicles to find out just over 34,000 with defects," Smith said. "That's less than 1 per cent of the cars we sold in 1974."

GM announced three separate recall campaigns Wednesday involving 50,000 current-model cars. Of that number, about 3,100 Chevrolet Camaros and Novas, Pontiac Firebirds and Buick Apollos and Skylarks have a potential defect that could lead to a loss of steering control.

The problem was caused by an assembly line goof — insufficient tightening of the steering shaft clamp bolt. If the bolt loosened, the steering shaft could separate, leaving the driver unable to steer the car.

"We discovered that problem in the plant during a computerized audit that showed that the proper torque wasn't applied by machines in two plants," said John Bates, director of GM's Service Section. "By notifying the people before it actually becomes a problem.

The other two recalls announced Wednesday by GM involved 16,000 Pontiac Venturas, Oldsmobile Omegas and Buick Apollos and Skylarks with accelerator problems and 31,000 Camaros equipped with the 350 cubic-inch engine and air conditioning that need a new fan blade assembly.

But He Didn't Die

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Nobody came to visit Yehuda Schwartzman in the hospital because everybody thought he was dead.

His wife and family were in mourning when Swartzman's boss called to relay his concern —Swartzman had been in the hospital for a week without any visitors and was worried about his family.

It turned out the erstwhile widow had been summoned to the morgue after the report of her husband's traffic accident.

In fact he survived, but in her grief she picked out somebody else's corpse which was then buried.

Morgue officials said they were still trying to find out who got buried.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

FRIDAY, MAY 23

Your birthday today: Marks a year in which you will wind up at some destination you haven't yet thought of moving toward. Be ready to avail yourself of benefits whenever and wherever you can earn them. Try new and experimental work. Avocations can easily be turned into extra money-makers. Relationships require much from you and can't be casually dissolved. Today's natives have big ideas, are quite ingenious.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Regardless of minor disagreements, it's the kind of day for gains in almost any field. Wind up your work at the earliest reasonable moment; take off for an entirely different scene.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Older people and their problems aren't solely your responsibility. Let someone else help too, in both money and time. Expenses are running high enough in your own activities, anyway.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Overoptimism has a blurring effect today that generates errors. Earning improvements depend on continued attention to details despite the distraction created by associates.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: People and projects seem more interesting, and there's a special touch of glamour about everything today. Sentimental journeys are favored, although somewhat expensive.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Home and family have top priority, and problems of both promise to resolve themselves. News from distant places is incomplete. Wait for more information before responding.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: You learn more of your unsuspected talents as they're put to use in coping with other people, their difficulties and questions. Subtle meanings surface amid much talk.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: You can sell ideas to strangers quite easily. Those who know you disagree with what you're doing. Use common sense in reorganizing financial matters to aid your career.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Bring in expert opinions and get appraisals today. Tact is necessary in handling any situation to make sure those you cherish don't misunderstand what you are about.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Wherever feasible, work by yourself. Finish neglected chores, improve home or on-the-job facilities and bring in new, equipment. Purchases should be kept to a minimum or deferred.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: This is a good day for easing up on old conflicts or trying to get cooperation. Review and resettle family arrangements, then give everyone a break by retiring early.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: An emotional experience dominates your day and takes you far off your regular track. Stop and think and try to get a better perspective.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Romance thrives while most other aspects of your life seem to be in chaos. Be generous in many ways except when it comes right down to spending your hard-earned cash.

Inmates' Allowance Up

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Senators Wednesday approved an increase in the allowance inmates receive from the Texas Department of Corrections upon release to $200, twice as much as they now get.

The House-passed bill must now go back to the House for approval of an amendment attached by Sen. Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena. The original bill by Rep. Anthony Hall, D-Houston, gave inmates $250.

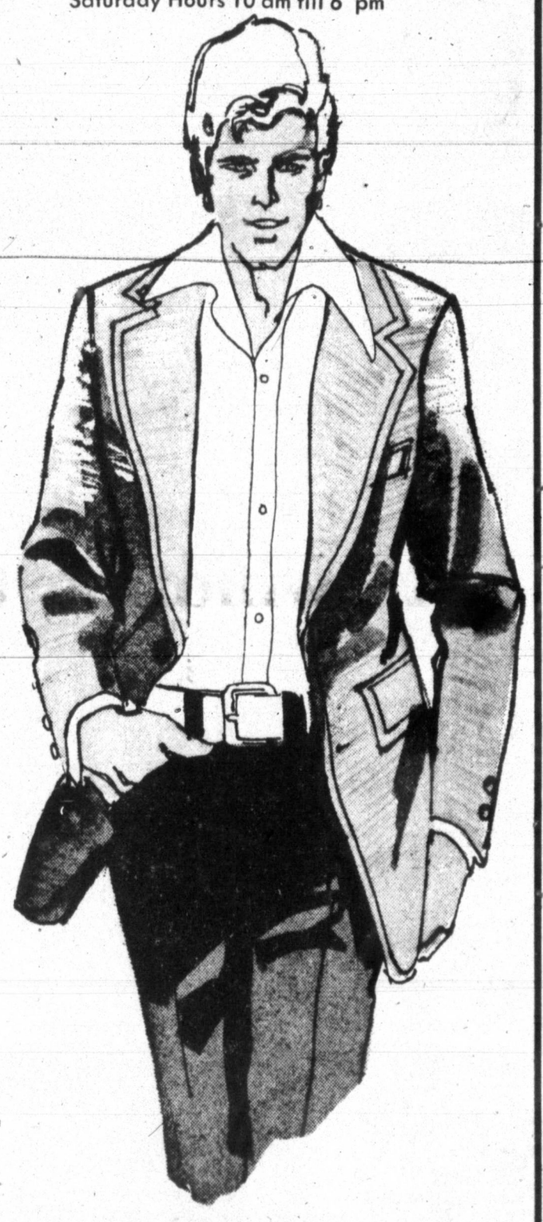

"They (inmates) used to get a suit and $5 when released. That was changed to $25 and now it's $100. Rep. Hall wants to give them $250, but I think that's too much," Brooks said.

In Texas Legislature

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Senators voted unanimously Tuesday to double state assistance to survivors of law enforcement personnel killed in the line of duty. Sen. Walter Mengden, R-Houston, said the additional payments to the surviving spouses and minor children of city policemen, firemen, state highway patrolmen, prison guards and other government security officers killed on the job will cost the state $400,000 a year.

Lump sum payments to the surviving spouse will increase from $10,000 to $20,000. Monthly payments for surviving minors will jump from $100 to $200 for one child, from $150 to $300 for two children, and from $800 to $400 for three children. Mengden's bill now goes to the House.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Senators voted 27-3 Tuesday to allow investigators for the state boards of medical, dental, verterinary and pharmacy examiners to carry guns as law enforcement officers.

"We've put guns on everybody else, why not as well arm the dentists," Lt. Gov. William P. Hobby said as Sen. John Traeger, D-Seguin, raised the issue.

"Their primary job is investigating narcotics offenders," Traeger said. "There's only 13 people involved."

DALLAS (UPI)—The Dallas Symphony Orchestra announced plans Tuesday for a series of 12 summer concerts to be held under a one-acre tent on a shopping center parking lot featuring guest artists ranging from Tony Bennett to Willie Nelson.

The concerts will be held cabaret style with beer, wine and snacks served at tables under the blue and white tent. Some tickets will sell for as low as $1 in the symphony's effort to provide "music for the masses."

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Home remodelers will have to put up a security bond to guarantee completion of their work if representatives go along with a bill approved by senators Tuesday.

Sen. Ron Clower, D-Garland, won 27-2 Senate approval for his bill to require minimun performance bonds on all home remodeling or improvement projects costing more than $750.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The Senate voted Tuesday to appropriate $15,000 for a life-size bronze statute of Fray Antonio Olivares to be erected in front of the Alamo.

Olivares, who settled in San Antonio in 1712, founded the mission that later became the site of Texas revolutionaries famous stand....against the Mexican Army led by Santa Anna.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The Railroad Commission set the statewide oil allowable at 100 per cent for June Tuesday, the 39th consecutive month of all-out producion in Texas.

The three-member commission exempted the East Texas Field and Kelly-Snyder Field from the 100 per cent allowable, setting each at 86 per cent. Also exempted were the Tyler, West, and Smith County Fields at 50 per cent and the Fort Trinidad, Dexter, Buda, Glen Rose and Louise Fields at 80 per cent.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — On a motion by Rep. Mickey Leland, D-Houston, the Texas House Tuesday adjourned in memory of Malcolm Little.

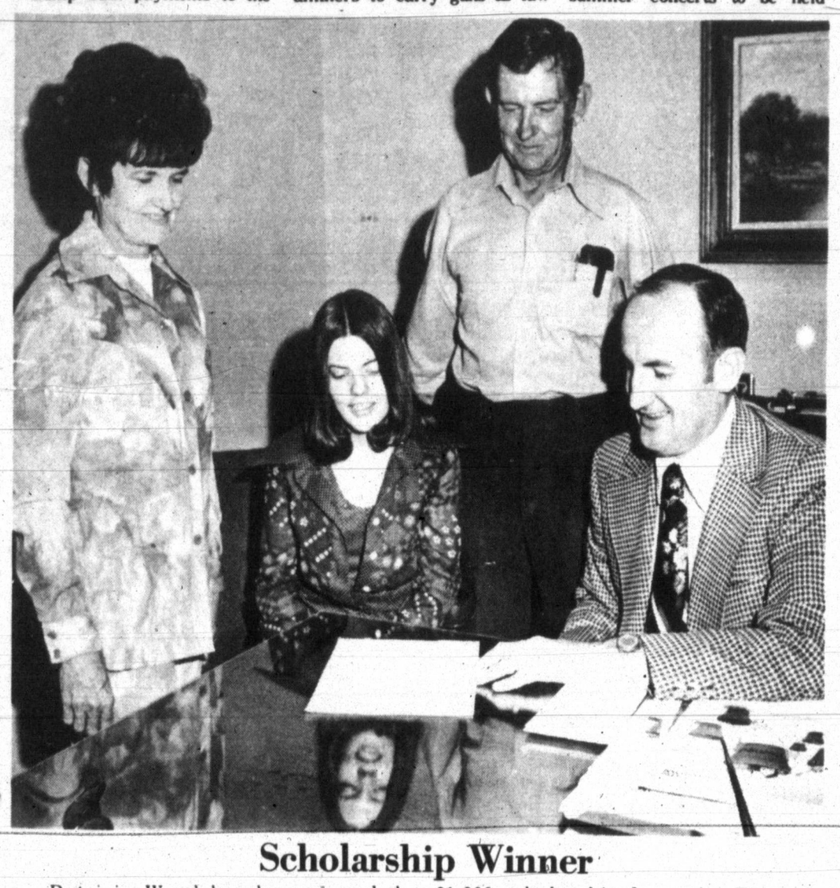

Malcolm Little was the given name of Malcolm X, the assassinated Black Muslim leader. Leland, bent over with laughter in the House foyer following the perfunctory adjournment vote, repeatedly said "Nobody caught it."

Senators voted 28-2 for Gov. Dolph Briscoe's plan to merge the Texas Highway Department and Mass Transportation Commission and allocate $31 million for financial aid to mass transit in urban areas.

The aid to cities was less than one third the $98 million Briscoe originally proposed the state provide during the next two years to help cities purchase buses and make other capital improvements on municipal transit operations.

Opponents of Gov. Dolph Briscoe's appointment of a millionaire Southeast Texas rancher to the State Welfare Board gave the governor's office 200 signatures gathered in a petition drive.

Briscoe's appointee, Hilmar G. Moore, is being considered for confirmation by the Senate Nominations committee. Sen. Bob ..... Gammage, D-Houston refused to say if he will support Moore. Gammage's opposition under traditional Senate procedure will block the appointment.

Man Get 10-year Term For Swindling POWs

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — A Florida man was given a maximum 10 year prison sentence and fined $10,000 Tuesday for cheating returning prisoners of war in a worthless securities swindle.

Thomas A. Preston, 42, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. was convicted earlier this month of defrauding Navy Lt. Cmdr. Davie Carey of $51,860 on worthless Tuskeggee, Ala. Industrial Development Board bonds.

At this appearance for sentencing Tuesday Preston entered a surprise plea of guilty to defrauding Navy Cmdr. Robert Woods of $115,000 in a similar securities deal.

State District Judge Vernon Harville gave Preston the maximum sentence of 10 years and a $5,000 fine on each of two counts of fraud.

The government contends Preston helped carry out an alleged $4.5 million nationwide scheme to defraud returning prisoners of war.

Testimony in the trial showed Preston contacted 60 to 90 POW's and sold $500,000 in worthless bonds to 30 of them.

Prosecutors depicted Preston as a "bald-faced liar" who posed as a former Korean POW to gain confidence of the Vietnam POW's.

Clarendon, Phillips Announce Registration

Clarendon College has announced that Summer School Registration will be Monday, at the college. Students may register for the summer term until Friday, May 30.

All classes will be taught at night only. Due to the fact that most of the students attending summer school at Clarendon College are from agriculture communities around Clarendon and are busy working, day time classes are not scheduled.

In addition to the classes taught at Clarendon, courses will be offered at Valley High School and Childress High School.

Classes start Tuesday and will meet from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

For additional information, contact the Office of Admissions at Clarendon College.

Registration for the first summer term at Frank Phillips College, Borger, has been announced for Monday, June 2, with classes held for the first time Monday through Thursday only. Schedules are available at the registrar's office. Recent high school graduates are encouraged to contact the college as soon as possible to begin their admission files.

First term classes will begin Tuesday, June 3 and end Wednesday, July 9. Second term registration will be Thursday, July 11 and the session will conclude Friday, August 15.

Also scheduled for the summer are classes in welding technology and cosmetology for both full - time and part - time students.

Course offerings for the first term include Business 113, Beginning Shorthand and Business 163, Business English; Biology 124, Zoology and Biology 224, Anatomy and Physiology; Chemistry 114, General Inorganic; English 113, Rhetoric and Composition and English 213, survey of English Literature; Government, etc.

Mayberry's Job At Borger Very Short-lived

By PAUL SIMS

Just what sport does Ron Mayberry want to coach?

That is a good question. Mayberry, who was lured away from Odessa Permian as head basketball coach to Borger as assistant football coach, is going to Midland Junior College as head golf coach.

And all of that has transpired in the last two months.

Mayberry recently accepted the position of head golf coach for both men and women's teams at Midland Junior College, which is in its fifth year as a school. Chances are he will assist with the basketball program, also.

Mayberry, who will likely leave in the early summer, must be an awfully talented individual to be able to coach three sports.

"Ron has coached golf at several West Texas schools," said Chester Story, athletic director and head basketball coach at Midland, Thursday in a telephone conversation with The News.

"His team won state at Albany (Tex.) a few years ago."

Story would not say outright that Mayberry was to become the assistant basketball coach. "That's not going to be part of his title but with our limited staff he'll be helping in several ways and that will probably be part of it."

Mayberry's salary will "probably be in the neighborhood of 13 - 10 ($13,100)," Story said.

Mayberry recently resigned as Permian's basketball coach after heading the Panthers to their winningest season in years. He accepted, the position of assistant football coach at Borger under Jim Breckenridge, who was an assistant at Permian.

"We had talked to him starting last fall."

Midland, although only five years old, is building new facilities to accomodate the expanded athletic program.

Tonight will mark the final time Borger will hold its annual Red - White spring football game.

The Bulldogs will likely compete in AAA next season because of the drop in enrollment. AAA schools have no spring - training periods. Thus — no spring game.

Tonight's contest will start at 7:30 in Bulldog Stadium. The game will give Pampa fans and idea of what kind of team their nearby rival will field in the fall. Borger will be in its first season under Breckenridge.

The new coach has instigated the Wing - T offense. Pampa, under second - year mentor John Welborn, will run the Houston Veer.

In May 20's It Sims to Me it was stated Max Hickey won last year's Celanese Pamcel Open Golf Tournament.

Fact is, Hickey did not play in last year's tourney. Actually, nobody did, as Celanese did not hold the affair, substituting the Men's City Golf Tournament in its place.

That was the tournament Hickey won. It is doubtful Celanese will sponsor that tournament this year. On June 14 - 15, Celanese will hold its open tournament after a one - year layoff.

The event will be 36 holes of medal play and have five flights. Entry fee is $20, and only the first 144 entrants will be accepted.

Best thing about the tourney is the prizes. Championship flight winner will receive a $150 gift certificate, runnerup $100 and third place $75. Flights A through D will pay $125 to the winner, $75 to runner - up and $50 to third place.

Maybe Max will "return" to defend his title.

The Men's West Texas Golf Tournament, played at Pampa Country Club a year ago, will be held at Lubbock Country Club June 19 - 22.

Entries are currently being received for the affair, which is limited to only players belonging to clubs with active memberships in the association (Men's West Texas Golf Association).

The Men's West Texas this year should have no trouble attracting a good field — the Coaches All - America Football Game is set for Saturday night in Lubbock's Jones Stadium at Texas Tech.

The Tournament of Champions, one of the area's few prestige tourneys, is scheduled for June 7 - 8 at the Dalhart Country Club.

The tournament will involve only invited players, who have either won first, second or third in the championship flight of a tournament during June 1 - 6. Also, past winners of the Tournament of Champions and the top 15 finishers in last year's tourney will be invited.

Any qualified golfer may request an invitation by writing Phil Holmes, Box 31, Dalhart, 79022.

Namath Rejects Wind, World Football League

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Joe Namath entered his new nightclub surrounded by autograph seekers and pretty girls, plopped down in a chair in front of newsmen and said, "I had a tough day today."

For Namath, Thursday was the day he had to make a "difficult decision," turning down a three-year, $4 million contract offer from the Chicago Wind of the World Football League for "private and personal reasons."

Namath would not elaborate on his decision to turn down the WFL offer other than to say he "felt bad."

"I really felt bad, and I felt bad about it because the guys who have been talking with us the past month felt bad," said Namath, dressed in a white suit and flowered shirt. "They were really excited and tied up in this thing."

Namath said he and his attorneys talked with WFL Commissioner Chris Hemmeter and Chicago owner Eugene Pullano in Tuscaloosa, Ala., until Wednesday night. He said no decision had been made at that time about the contract, which he said called for him to play two years with Chicago and one year with a New York franchise.

"Mr. Hemmeter and Mr. Pullano made an attractive offer to me," Namath said. "But at 2 p.m. today, I decided not to accept it for reasons that are personal and private.

"Maybe in the future, whenever I can think this thing out further and find out a way to express it and if anybody's interested, maybe I can elaborate on my personal feelings, but I don't want to go into it right now," Namath said.

Hemmeter, who was in Honolulu when Namath reached his decision, admitted he was disapppointed.

He said, however, "it may be a tremendous setback in TV negotiations for 1975, but on the other hand it may be a plus factor because we certainly have established in the sporting community that the league will not compromise its principles."

Namath, who became a free agent from the Jets May 1, said his attorneys are now takling with Jets' officials. He said, however, that if the Jets do not come up with the right offer, he would consider not playing.

"I want to play football and I'd love to play with the Jets," he said. "If things don't work out, I won't play...."

Broadway Joe then looked up, smiled and said, "They (the Jets) are in no hurry with negotiations, but I wish they were."

Jets President Phil Iselin, at his office at Monmouth Park race track in New Jersey, said he was "happy to hear Joe's still in action."

Colonels Win ABA

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Coach Hubie Brown says they can't call his Kentucky Colonels a "choke team" any more.

Instead, the Colonels should be addressed as the champions of the American Basketball Association—a title they won Thursday night by downing the Indiana Pacers 110-105 to capture the playoff finals, four games to one.

Their reputation for always losing the big games now has vanished like so many of their leads had in past games. Never in seven previous years had they won the ABA title, even though they had gone right down to the seventh game of the final series twice—including just two years ago against the team they beat Thursday night.

"These guys were really hungry because not one of them had ever played on a championship team either in college or pro ball," Brown said. "They were so hungry they won 22 of their last 25 games, including four out of five against Memphis, St. Louis and now Indiana in the playoffs."

"Maybe, we can shed this loser tag once and for all," said Kentucky forward Dan Issel, who said it may take a couple of days for the realization of winning the championship to sink into his consciousness.

'Horns Whip Tech 1st Game

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Rick Bradley highlighted a five-run Texas eighth inning Thursday night with a two-run double that helped carry the Longhorns to a 6-2 victory over Louisiana Tech in their opening round game of the NCAA South Central Regional baseball tournament.

Early in the evening, South Alabama had overcome a three-run deficit to whip Pan American on a two-out, ninth inning single by Mike Walker that drove in Pat Stapleton from second.

Texas and South Alabama will meet in the second game of Friday night's doubleheader, with Pan Am facing Louisiana Tech. The loser of the Pan American-Louisiana Tech affair will be knocked out of the double elimination tournament.

Longhorn Jim Gideon went the distance in collecting his 15th victory with a loss this season, striking out nine, and giving up five hits. But he and the Longhorns trailed, 2-1, going into the top of the eighth.

Mike Anderson walked to start the inning and Blair Stouffer also reached base when his sacrifice bunt was misplayed by second baseman Phil Willingham.

Both runners were moved up on a sacrifice by Keith Moreland and both scored on Bradley's double to the left centerfield wall.

Mickey Reichenbach was walked and Mark Griffin reached on a bloop single to load the bases. Charles Proske brought in two more Longhorn runs with a single and Garry Pyka singled in another.

Gossage Saves Chicago Win

UPI Sports Writer

If baseball folks thought Chuck Tanner had the patience of a saint with Dick Allen, look what the Chicago White Sox manager endured with Rich Gossage.

The hard-throwing 6-foot-3, 190 - pound righthander, got chance after chance from Tanner over the past three seasons, mostly as a starter but also as a long reliever and mop-up man. The result: An inflated 4.93 earned run average and two trips back to the minors.

Tanner's faith in Gossage's raw talent seems to finally be paying off, however, now that the 23-year-old fast-baller has found his niche as a bullpen ace.

Tanner summoned Gossage to relieve starter Jim Kaat against Baltimore with the bases loaded and one run already home in the sixth inning Thursday night and the youngster responded by preserving a 2-1 White Sox victory over the Orioles, extending his consecutive string of scoreless relief innings to 33 1-3.

"I'd still like to start," said Gossage, who later pitched out of a second bases-loaded jam in helping the veteran Kaat to his seventh win in eight decisions. "I think, though, I'm more important in the bullpen."

As for his still-evident ability to flirt with disaster (i.e. the bases-loaded jams), Gossage replied: "Maybe I don't bear down enough at the beginning of an inning.

"I wanted to throw my fastball for strikes and not walk anyone. That's the big secret of any pitcher's success—throwing strikes."

Gossage struck out four batters and retired eight of the last nine Orioles in order during his 3 1-3-inning stint. He gave up two hits, lowering his overall earned run average to 0.81—a far cry from the recent past.

Carlos May singled home both White Sox runs off loser Mike Cuellar in the third after Brian Downing walked. Bob Coluccio singled and Bucky Dent sacrificed. Kaat has now won 14 of his last 15 decisions.

In other major league games Thursday, Texas blanked Milwaukee, 6-0, and California upended Boston, 6-3, in the American League and Pittsburgh overhauled San Diego, 4-2, and Los Angeles cuffed the Chicago Cubs, 8-3, in National League action.

Angels 6, Red Sox 3:

Bill Singer scattered seven hits and California bunched five consecutive singles during a three-run fourth inning off Boston loser Rick Wise. Trailing 3-2 into the fourth, Dave Chalk singled to start the Angel rally and after Tom Egan singled him to third, Morris Nettles, Billy Smith and Jerry Remy followed with run-scoring hits. Singer, 4-5 gave up a three-run homer to rookie Fred Lynn in the third.

Rangers 6, Brewers 0:

Bill Hands hurled a five-hit shutout and Jeff Burroughs and Toby Harrah drove home a pair of runs each as Texas scored once in the first and then added four insurance runs in the eighth. Burroughs doubled home Cesar Tovar with the only run Hands needed in the first and the veteran right-hander struck out four Milwaukee batters in upping his record to 5-2.

Pirates 4, Padres 2:

Willie Stargell broke up a 2-2 fifth-inning tie with a two-run homer, while Jim Rooker (3-2) and Dave Giusti combined on a five-hitter to help Pittsburgh snap a three-game losing streak.

Dodgers 8, Cubs 3:

Ron Cey ignited a four-run, sixth-inning rally with a two-run double and Los Angeles went on to bang out 12 hits—six during a four-run seventh—and help ex-Cub Burt Hooton register his second victory as a Dodger.

Monterey Rips Burges

LUBBOCK — Rocky Alburtis tossed a no hitter and struck out 13 to pitch defending state champion Lubbock Monterey to a 4 - 0 win over El Paso Burges as the Plainsmen wrapped up the series in two games Thursday here.

Monterey, 28 - 6, will play the winner of the Duncanville - Midland Lee series for the regional title. Duncanville won the first of the two - game set. The series winds up Saturday in Duncanville.

Lefty Grove Dies At Age 75

NORWALK, Ohio (UPI) — Robert Moses "Lefty" Grove, generally considered the greatest left-handed pitcher in baseball history, is dead.

The 75-year-old Grove, a native of Lanaconing, Md., died Thursday while watching television at the home of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert G. Grove, where he had lived for 14 years. The funeral service and burial will take place at the Frostburg, Md., Memorial Cemetery on Monday.

One of the giants of an era that also included Babe Ruth, Rogers Hornsby and Jimmy Foxx, Grove, a member of baseball's Hall of Fame, led the American League in victories and won-lost percentage four times each, in strikeouts seven times and in earned-run average nine times. He was the star pitcher for Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics' teams, which broke the dynasty of the Ruth-led Yankees in the late 1920s.....and won successive pennants in 1929-30-31. He prided himself on the fact that he yielded only nine homers to Babe Ruth in 10 seasons.

Grove had a 4-2 record in World Series competition but is best remembered for his smoking fast ball—with temper to match—and his remarkable consistency. He won 20 or more games in eight seasons, had successive 28-5 and 31-4 records in 1930 and 1931 for a composite 59-9 for the two seasons and finished his career with a lifetime 300-140 mark good for a .682 percentage. He was elected to the Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y., in 1947

Warren Spahn and Eddie Plank are the only other left-handers in the game's history who won 300 or more games.

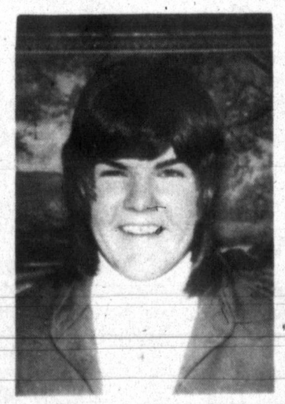

Grove, a star for Baltimore of the International League for five seasons during a period when the Orioles' famous clubowner, Jack Dunn, paid major league salaries, was purchased by the Athletics for $100,600 in 1925.

One of four sons of a coal miner, Lefty entered organized baseball with Martinsburg in the Blue Ridge League in 1920 and went to Baltimore in the International League the next season.

Friends may call Saturday afternoon and evening at the Kubach-Smith funeral home in Norwalk. The body will be transferred to the Eichhorn Funeral home in Lonaconing on Saturday.

Debbie Gray Receives Scholarship From Club

A former Pampa High star volleyball player has been awarded a $300 academic scholarship by the Pampa Opti - Mrs. Club.

DEBBIE GRAY

Debbie Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gray and a 1974 Pampa High graduate, is a freshman physical education major at West Texas State.

Miss Gray was a member of the 3-AAAA champion girls volleyball team at Pampa in 1974. She was also a regional qualifier in girls track.

The ex - Harvester is active in both volleyball and paddleball at WTSU.

As a young girl in Pampa, Miss Gray played softball for four years in the Opti - Mrs. program and then coached in the program for two years. She has played ladies softball in Amarillo on the Levi Strauss team for the past two years.

In 1974, Levi Strauss won the Amarillo championship and placed third in the state tournament. Miss Gray pitches and plays centerfield.

Little things are important

Small in size, but performing an important function when needed . . . what would we do without nuts and bolts?

Classified Ads are like that too! In fact, they do more things for more people at lower cost than any other form of advertising!

Buying . . . selling . . . hiring . . . finding . . . rentin . . . or just telling, a small, low-cost Classified Ad will do a big, important job for you.

It's easy to place your ad . . . just dial 669-2525

State Lung Association Report TB Decrease

The American Lung Association of Texas today released tuberculosis figures for the first four months of 1975, showing an accumulation of 771 reported cases as compared to 831 cases for the same period in 1974.

"This moderate decrease in reported cases is encouraging," said Miss Vermell Meador, R.N., Gray County director of the Christmas Seal group. "However, Texas probably can expect well over two thousand cases for the year, and that's still a lot of TB."

Quoting State Health Department reports, Miss Meador said that in the week of April 26 through May 2, a total of 60 TB cases were reported, though the five - year median was 51 cases weekly.

"There is still far too much tuberculosis," she pointed out. "TB still kills, cripples, and spreads from the sick to the well. It is far from being whipped. If we had as much typhoid, diphtheria or polio reported, we might consider that we had an epidemic."

She added that an area - wide program for parents of asthmatic children is scheduled for the fall in Amarillo's Villa Inn Motel, details of which will be publicized at a later date.

Miss Meador serves on the lung association's area program board with Mrs. W.D. Utzman of Lefors.

Ford Says He'll Run, Win in '76

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford, riding the political crest of the Mayaguez incident, says he will formally announce his candidacy for the presidency within a month and he expects to win the election.

Ford has been putting his ducks in a row with Republican party national, state and county leaders in hopes of gaining broad support when he seeks the GOP nomination.

M.E. Moses

M. E. Moses began business in Paducah, Tex. in 1924 in a 12½ x 40 foot store with $1,500 in merchandise and two employes. There are now 53 Moses stores located throughout Texas, and headquartered in Dallas.

The Pampa store was number 12 in the chain. Moses bought the present building, which at that time housed five businesses, in the early 1950s. The businesses has expanded to fill the entire building itself.

Gary Baker, manager, began working for Moses as a stock boy while he attended Pampa High School. He worked for the company for 11 years in Dallas, Borger and Mangum, Ok. — the only store located outside of Texas — and then returned to Pampa.

"Each year is better than the year before us", said Baker. "In turn Moses has tried to offer bigger and better facilities to serve the community."

"Mr. Moses has always felt that you need to reinvest in the community. If business is bad then maybe you aren't keeping up with the times."

Baker went on to say that there was a different attitude in Pampa than other places. "I don't know if it's pride in the community or what, but there is a different attitude in the buying public."

He also believes that the businesses in Pampa were broad minded enough to see that the competition here isn't each other," but we are competing against Amarillo and Oklahoma City and Lubbock."

"We'll put our store up against any store in Amarillo in our class as far as merchandise, and we'll have a better choice. We stock the same items that our Dallas store stocks," Baker said.

Baker said that many men have got their start in the business for Moses in Pampa and now manage stores of their own. The store is now in the process of training assistant manager Mickey Lee. Lee began at Moses as a stock boy in the Distributative Education Clubs of America program at the Pampa High School.

Baker explained that the motto of the store is "Moses serves you better, save you more." He added that the store tries to go out of its way to have what the people want and to keep them happy all the time.
